

U. S. Asks Thirty Nations To Act In Behalf Consul

State Dept. Appeals For Intervention In Arrest Of Ward By China Reds

Washington, Nov. 21—(AP)—The United States has appealed to 30 nations including Russia, to intervene with the Chinese Communists in behalf of the imprisoned American Consul General, Angus Ward.

The state department announced that Secretary Acheson sent out messages Friday night asking the other governments "as a matter of urgency" to express to the Communist authorities at Peiping their "concern" over the jailing of Ward and four members of his staff.

Ward and the others were jailed Oct. 24. The State Department said that ever today other American staff members at Mukder are still unable to get permission to visit Ward.

Acheson made his appeal after the repeated protests to the top Chinese Communist officials, through American consular representatives at Peiping, had been ignored.

There has been a mounting cry in this country for some action—including demands that the United States use force against the Communists.

Yesterday, Senator Knowland (R-Calif.) said in a Formosa news conference that he had radioed President Truman, demanding a blockade of the Chinese Communist coast.

There was no official comment here in reply. Last week State Department officials indicated informally that they doubted a U. S. blockade would bring the Communist to terms.

Eisler appealed to the Supreme Court from a contempt of Congress conviction. He sat in the court chamber while lawyers debated his case earlier this year.

The Greenville Post Office will close Thursday, Nov. 24, in observance of Thanksgiving.

There will be no window service nor any rural or city delivery service on that day. Parcel Post will be delivered as usual in the residential sections as well as Special Delivery mail.

For the convenience of the public there is located in the lobby of the Post Office a non-profit stamp vending machine.

CRIME ON INCREASE
Los Angeles, Nov. 21—(AP)—Some 25 cases of sexual molestation of children—way more than usual—have been reported in Los Angeles in the week since six-year-old Linda Joyce Glucoft was slain sadistically.

Church Is 'First Stop' For 18 Survivors Of Ditched Bomber

Hamilton, Bermuda, Nov. 21—(AP)—Beefsteak, families, insurance and "move over and give me a little room"—That's what survivors of the ditched B-29 said they thought about during 79 "miserable" hours on two six-man life rafts in heavy Atlantic swells north of Bermuda.

The 18 survivors—four of them on stretchers—arrived here yesterday afternoon aboard the Canadian destroyer Haida. The ship picked them up Saturday afternoon after a U. S. Air Force B-17 sighted them about 400 miles northeast of Bermuda.

Two of the 29-man crew drowned before they could get through the heavy swells to the two life rafts. One of the 18 survivors was suffering considerably from shock.

But 14 of the bruised and salt-soaked airman walked unaided from the crashboats that brought them to the shore from the destroyer.

Most of the men were considered in good condition. Some had suffered sprains. Some had salt water sores. But the majority seemed fairly fit.

The plane's commander and pilot, Lt. Col John Grable of March Field Air Base, Calif., said that the Church was to be a first stop ashore for most of the rescued airman.

"Then maybe we will celebrate a bit," Grable added.

Grable said "No one turned evangelist" during the long, wet wait, "but we all thought a lot and prayed we would be picked up."

The pilot said after the plane's radio navigation equipment failed Wednesday morning, "we hunted for the island (Bermuda) under very difficult conditions, but had no luck. It was pretty overcast."

With their fuel almost out, "we jettisoned everything we could and prepared for ditching."

When the big bomber hit the water, the tail broke off, taking one of the three life rafts aboard down with it. The fuselage turned nose down in less than a minute.

The men on the rafts lived on emergency rations, mostly hard candy. When they were picked up, they had one day's supply left. Thirst was no problem because they drank rain water from frequent showers.

They also had equipment to purify the salty sea water.

Grable said he caught one fish, a two-foot yellow tail. But it got away when he tried to land it. It was the nearest the group came to getting their food from the sea.

Montgomery Due Arrive In U.S. Today For Talks

Head Of Western Union Defense Alliance To Meet Top U. S. Military Men

Washington, Nov. 21—(AP)—Britain's Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery of Alamein arrives in the United States today for an unofficial but highly important round of meetings with America's top-ranking military men.

On the record, the little British warrior with the famous black beret comes to this country as the guest speaker on Nov. 29 before the English-speaking Union in New York.

But during his 12-day trip he will visit with General Eisenhower, his boss in World War II, General Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, General Joseph L. Collins, Army chief of staff, and other military and diplomatic leaders.

Monty already has announced he will "talk defense with anyone who will listen." There is no doubt the military men will be ready to listen. Montgomery is now chairman of the Western Union Defense Alliance.

He has been working for months on plans for Europe's defense.

The plans for England, Belgium, France, Holland and Luxembourg will form the hard core of the basic defense plans for the North Atlantic defense for which Congress has voted $1,000,000,000.

And it is on these plans the Western Allies will gamble in their fight to hold Europe against any attack from Russia and her satellites.

Many military men believe the Western Union couldn't have chosen a better man for the job than the Spartan, precise little son of Britain. His campaigns in World War II were studies in painfully detailed planning—first as commander of the famed British Eighth Army and later as commander of the 15th Army group under Eisenhower.

In all of them, Monty never had his defense broken by the Germans.

Montgomery visited the United States in 1946 as chief of the British Imperial General Staff. That was a formal military visit and his hosts put him through a stiff nine-day workout of inspecting military installations. Some days he made two or more speeches.

Wait All Night For Met Ticket
New York, Nov. 21—(AP)—All through the chilly night and this morning, a line of early-birds stood outside the Metropolitan Opera House to buy standing room tickets for tonight's opening of the Met's 65th season.

All seats for the performance were sold in advance, and those in line sought standee tickets which go on sale a half-hour before curtain time.

May Drop Plans To Nationalize
London, Nov. 21—(AP)—Labor party leaders may decide Wednesday to drop the proposed nationalization of insurance from their program for the 1950 elections.

Another plank which may go by the board is state ownership of the cement industry.

The decision will be reached at a meeting of the party's national executive—including Prime Minister Attlee—which will talk over the election manifesto.

Charge Theft Of Showroom Model
Gastonia, N.C., Nov. 21—(AP)—Two teen-aged Gastonia boys are in jail charged with stealing a 1950 model automobile from a dealer's showroom.

Detective Lon G. Haskett identified the two as Charles Haas, 17, and Bob Perry, 16. He said Kings Mountain police arrested them yesterday when they noticed the automobile in which the two were heading to California had no license plates.

Higher Standards Set By Greenville

Survey Shows Expenditures Well Above National Average; Per Capita Income Over State Level; Major Trading Center

(Special to the Reflector)
New York, Nov. 16—How much does the average Greenville resident spend each year? Where does he spend it—and for what?

Answers to these questions, contained in the current copyrighted Sales Management survey, point to a higher standard of living in Greenville than in most of the cities of the nation.

Expenditures in the local retail stores totaled $22,433,000 in 1948. This is equivalent to spending at the rate of $1,245 per person, as compared with the United States average of $891.

In the South Atlantic States per capita spending was $720 and in North Carolina, $609.

Food purchases, a principal index of living standards, accounted for the largest part of each dollar spent in Greenville. The food bill was $3,675,000, amounting to $204 per person compared with the food bill in the South Atlantic States of $160 per capita and $121 in North Carolina.

One of every dollar spent, 16 cents were for food.

Greenville residents were able to indulge more amply in food because of the larger incomes received by them. Their average earnings, determined by dividing their total net income of $17,143,000 by the population, came to $952 per person last year, comparing favorably with the $927 per capita income in North Carolina.

The fact that retail sales were greater than total income indicates that Greenville is the center of a large trading area.

An examination of other significant business factors bears out the indication that Greenville is a quality market. Local sales of general merchandise reached $3,755,000 taking 17 cents of each retail dollar spent. Drug store sales amounted to $411,000 or two cents per dollar spent. Sales of furniture, household equipment and radios were $1,522,000, accounting for another seven cents.

The cost of providing two buses and other facilities for the band to attend the game will cost about $250 or more. The Lions Club and Rotary Club, at their meetings to-night, are expected to raise the balance of the money.

Twelve Arrests Over Weekend In Bootleg Roundup

Pitt Authorities Confiscate Quantity Of Liquor; Map Enforcement Drive

By CHESTER WALSH
Pitt County ABC and other officers during the weekend arrested 12 alleged violators of the state liquor laws and confiscated as "evidence" a considerable quantity of moonshine whiskey.

ABC Officer J. M. Ward said these arrests were in line with a campaign the department plans to enforce the liquor laws.

"We are going to 'turn on the heat' for the liquor law violators," Ward added.

ABC, sheriff's and police officers and a township constable participated in the roundups that netted the 12 offenders.

Late Friday night, ABC officers Ward, J. L. Taylor and Claude Manning and Deputy Sheriff Duke Andrews stopped a car driven by Robert Williams of the North Side and found bootleg whiskey in it.

None of the occupants admitted ownership of the fiery fluid. The officers arrested Williams, the driver; Robert Moore, Frank Coward, Olivia Wooten, Nathan Staton and Lenoria Watson. They will face charges of possession of illegal whiskey. They will ask for jury trial, it is understood.

Saturday afternoon, officers arrested John Williams, Negro, of near Bethel, when they found one gallon of bootleg liquor on his premises. Williams gave bond and was released. He will be tried in County Court in December.

Saturday night, the officers arrested Greenville dealer J. E. Corbett and S. B. ... arrested William Mercer, ... Lilly May Mercer, Negro, ... when they found bootleg liquor in their home on Main Street. They were released under bond in Police Court today, Judge J. W. H. Roberts sentenced William Mercer to two years on the roads and his wife to 12 months in jail. They gave notice of appeal to Superior Court.

Late Saturday night, ABC officers and Constable Tom Perkins of Stokes arrested Julius Smith, Jim Taylor, ... when they found bootleg whiskey. Occupants of the car denied ownership of the liquor. They are in the county jail awaiting trial in County Court in December.

Couple's Death Ruled Accident
North Wilkesboro, Nov. 21—(AP)—Wilkes County Coroner I. M. Myers ruled today that accidental carbon monoxide poisoning caused the death of a couple found in a parked car in Edward township yesterday.

The victims were William McCoy Billings, 39, a Traphill farmer, and Ruth Oaugus, 24, of Thurmond.

The double tragedy was discovered by two Negroes on a country road north of Ronda 8:30 a. m. yesterday. They immediately reported the case to Deputy Sheriff Jack Hoots, who notified the coroner.

Fraud Trial Is Again Delayed
Washington, Nov. 21—(AP)—The trial of Rep. J. Parnell Thomas (R-N.J.) on fraud charges was delayed again today.

Federal Judge Alexander Holtzoff reset the trial for next Monday at the request of Thomas' attorney who is engaged in another trial.

The other trial, a gambling conspiracy case, is expected to end this week.

In that event, it appears certain that Thomas will go on trial next Monday.

Conductor Shot His Passengers
Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 21—(AP)—A streetcar conductor shot three Negro passengers last night after one of them took a seat in the section reserved for whites, police reported.

Detective R. A. MacMurdo said two of the men were wounded accidentally. The third, Sammy Lee Williams, 34, suffered a serious wound of the abdomen.

Third Party For China In Offing

Will Oppose Both Chiang And Reds; New Policy Planned

Hong Kong, Nov. 21—(AP)—A new party hostile not only to the Communists and Chiang Kai-Shek may be in the offing in China.

Acting President Li Tsung-Jen is expected to take the lead in it. He is now in a hospital in this British colony. He arrived Sunday.

Chiang still is awaiting Li in Chungking. The Generalissimo went there from Formosa, last week at Li's invitation.

Foreigners from inland China, who arrived over the weekend, said the new party, which would expect United States help in stemming the Communists, likely would shape up this way:

Li and his old friend, Gen. Pai Chung-Hsi, strongest Nationalist military man left on the mainland would join forces with three other important Chinese, Gen. Chai Chai-Tong, administrator of nations Island, and Generals Hu Sen-Tieh and Yu Han-Mow in Southern Kwangtung province.

These observers said, the new party would adopt a more vigorous policy against the Communists while stalling for time and for the present avoiding major battle with the Reds.

Such a policy, the observers said, might gain the support of people dissatisfied with the Communist administration and might win sympathy in the United States and substantial material aid.

The British-owned China mail said Li and Pai would organize a new anti-Chiang government.

Monte Carlo, Monaco, Nov. 19—(AP)—Prince Rainier III ascended today the throne of this tiny principality, the second smallest independent state in Europe. It covers only 370 acres.

Busy Fisherman

Wilne, Eng., Nov. 21—(AP)—Samuel William Rose, 25, saw an airplane crash on the opposite side of the river while he was fishing. This is what he did:

Stripped and swam 100 yards across the flooded river; Ripped off a wing of the wrecked plane to release the pilot and a passenger.

Made first-aid splints from pieces of a fence; Trotted one and a half miles in his underwear to get an ambulance;

Helped the ambulance men get the injured men Geoffrey Smith and Gerald Barnes off to a hospital.

Then he went back to his fishing and caught three perch.

Truman Aide To Quit Next Year

$20,000-A-Year Job Not Enough For Clark M. Clifford

Washington, Nov. 21—(AP)—Close associates said today that Clark M. Clifford plans to leave his $20,000-a-year post as special counsel to President Truman early next year.

The tall, handsome former St. Louis lawyer helps write the President's speeches and advises him on legal matters. Only recently, Mr. Truman gave him an $8,000-a-year boost in pay.

Persons acquainted with Clifford's plans said Mr. Truman is fully aware of Clifford's intention to return to the private practice of law.

These sources, unquoteable by name, said Clifford has been planning to move for some time.

The President, they added, "will not insist upon his remaining in the post in view of the financial difficulties he is having."

Clifford's salary was raised from $12,000 to $20,000 a year after congress authorized Mr. Truman to increase the pay of his top aides.

However, even with this increase, Clifford is said to feel that he cannot remain at his post indefinitely. He is reported to believe he can make nearly five times as much as a private lawyer—either here or in St. Louis or perhaps both cities.

Blame Owners In Noronic Tragedy

Cruise Ship Master Likewise At Fault; License Taken

Ottawa, Nov. 21—(AP)—The owners and master of the cruise ship Noronic were blamed by a supreme court of Canada judge today for the Sept. 17 flash fire that took 118 lives as the luxury vessel lay at a Toronto dock.

Justice R. L. Kellock, reporting as commissioner in the transport department's inquiry, ordered the master's certificate of Capt. William C. Taylor of Sarnia, Ont., suspended for a year.

He also recommended a series of measures designed to lighten safety regulations for vessels like the Noronic.

A 30,000 word report was presented to the House of Commons following the reading by Justice Kellock of a brief court judgment suspending the Captain. In the report, Justice Kellock found the loss of life and the loss of the ship were caused by a "failure of the Canada Steamship Lines, Ltd., the Noronic's owners, and Capt. Taylor to take adequate precautions against fire."

The justice censured the owners and the master, saying they failed to provide proper means of detecting and fighting fires while in dock and for getting passengers off the ship in the event of fire in port.

Four Yearlings Killed In Crash

Cumberland, Md., Nov. 21—(AP)—Four thoroughbred yearling horses were killed and four others injured yesterday when a freight train crashed into the van in which they were riding.

The animals were to be trained as race horses at the Fairgo track here. The accident happened near the track at a Baltimore and Ohio railroad crossing. The driver and two other persons in the van escaped injury.

Great Grandchildren Attend Her Wedding

Pittsburgh, Nov. 21—(AP)—If the eight attendants at Mrs. Catherine Gintner's wedding today bear a family resemblance to the bride, that's all right. They're her great grandchildren.

The eight volunteered after Mrs. Gintner, who is 67, announced she would wed Charles Ward, 82, of Wisconsin Dells, Wis., in the climax of a romance that started on a California-bound train last September.

Panamanian Revolt Places New President In Office

Panama, Panama, Nov. 21—(AP)—This little Central American country, site of the Panama Canal, changed presidents over the weekend in a bloodless night-time revolt staged by police force leaders.

President Daniel Chamis, surgeon-president who has been president less than four months, resigned after helmeted police surrounded his palace. Vice President Robert F. Chirari, 44, was sworn in as president at 6 a. m. Sunday.

No Pessimism By Veep Over State Of Nation

Atlanta, Nov. 21—(AP)—Take it from the Vice President of the United States—the state of the nation is good.

"You wouldn't expect me under the circumstances to be pessimistic, would you?" honeymooning Alben Barkley queried.

The Veep and Mrs. Barkley drove into Atlanta last night on their way to "Shangri-La."

He wouldn't say where that is but remarked, "We're getting closer all the time."

Barkley pronounced his bride "such a good driver that I glide along without nerves" and added, "Things have been so peaceful that I'm getting suspicious. We don't even argue about what route to take."

Mrs. Barkley murmured, "You sound like you're on a honeymoon." They drove down from Nashville yesterday, stopping near Chattanooga to eat a box lunch.

So many people recognized them and shouted congratulations that the Vice President commented:

"You might say we had a continuous lovey visit all the way."

They tried to slip quietly into Atlanta's downtown Hotel Ansley last night but were met by so many reporters and photographers they agreed to receive the press.

Social Security Tax

Tax Goes Up To One And One-Half Percent on January First; Who Will Be Affected; How The Tax Works And How It Will Work Next Year; Some Examples

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, Nov. 21—(AP)—On Jan. 1 the Social Security tax is going up from the present 1 per cent each to 1 1/2 percent each on all employees and employers covered by the law.

This increase will affect about 2,700,000 employers and about 50,000,000 employees. Congress voted for this increase in 1947.

This is the way the tax works and how it will work after Jan. 1. The employee—You're a covered employee. Now you pay a yearly tax of 1 per cent on whatever salary you make up to $3,000. There's no tax on anything you make over $3,000.

So the highest tax such an employee has to pay now is 1 per cent of $3,000, or $30 a year, earned from any one employer. When the 1 1/2 per cent tax goes into effect, the highest tax is $45 a year.

What happens in the case of an employee who changes jobs during the year? Suppose he earned as much as $3,000 from one employer and paid the maximum tax on that—$30—and then went to work for another employer during the year.

Is he all finished paying his Social Security tax for the year? No. He has to pay 1 per cent of his pay up to the first $3,000 of it earned from the second employer.

But isn't $30 the most an employee has to pay in any one year now? Yes. But when he pays more than that, he can get a refund by asking the Internal Revenue Bureau for it at the end of the year. The Bureau collects the tax.

The employee—You have to match, out of your own pocket, whatever tax your covered employer has to pay: 1 per cent of his salary up to the first $3,000 of it.

So the most an employer has to pay on any employee's salary is $30 now, or 1 per cent of $3,000. Suppose the employee's total salary is $5,000 or $10,000.

No matter. The employer pays only 1 per cent—$50 on the first $5,000. Suppose the employee's salary is $1,000. The boss pays only 1 per cent of $1,000, or $10.

When the tax goes up to 1 1/2 per cent Jan. 1, the employer and the employee each will have to pay 1 1/2 per cent of the employee's salary up to the first $3,000, or a maximum of $45 each.

Golden Text: Psalms 84:2. "My soul longeth, yes, even fainteth for the courts of the Lord; my heart and my flesh crieth out for the living God."

Among the citations comprising the lesson-sermon are the following from the Bible: "This I say then, walk in the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfill the lust of the flesh." (Gal. 5:16). And from the Christian Science textbook by Mary Baker Eddy: "The science of being shows it to be impossible for infinite spirit or soul to be in a finite body or for man to have an intelligence separate from his Maker." Mary Eileen Bowles Weds Wm. F. Johnson

Miss Mary Eileen Bowles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Hughes Bowles, became the bride of William Franklin Johnson of Norfolk, Virginia, son of Mrs. Ruffin Fenner Johnson of Raleigh, North Carolina, on Saturday, November 19, at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon in the Memorial Baptist church with the Reverend Richard E. Hardaway officiating.

The church was decorated with huckleberry, plumosa and oregon ferns, large white chrysanthemums and small pompoms. Tall cathedral candles were lighted in seven, nine and twelve branched candelabra with single candle stands by the kneeling bench. The pews reserved for the two families and closest friends were marked with white satin bows and single chrysanthemums.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Karl V. Gilbert, organist, gave a program of nuptial music. Mrs. Daniel Wilson Lindsey, Jr., soloist of Norfolk, Virginia, sang "Ich Liebe Dich" by Grieg, "Because" by de Hardelet, and "Beloved, It Is Morn." As the benediction the guests and the bridal party prayed "The Lord's Prayer" and Mrs. Lindsey sang the "Seven-fold Amen."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory satin fashioned with a cowl neckline which was outlined with soft folds of satin and a fitted shirred bodice with long tight sleeves tapering to points over the wrists. Her full gathered skirt worn over a hoop formed a sweeping train. Her chapel length veil of imported illusion fell from a small period bonnet of satin and shirred illusion with a cluster of pearlized orange blossoms on each side. The bride carried a formal bouquet of three white orchids with purple throats and showered with staphenotis and valley lilies.

Miss Edith Merricks Bowles, sister of the bride as the maid of honor, wore a gown of gold satin with off-shoulder effect and the fitted bodice was outlined with satin folds. The full skirt with pannered hip-line and folds of satin was worn over er hoops. Her hat of matching satin was trimmed with ostrich curls. She carried an arm bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums tied with tulleman satin ribbon. Miss Margaret Lee Duke of Greenville, and Miss Ruby Lucille Steffey, of Norfolk, Virginia, wore tiger lily satin gowns and hats identical to that of the maid of honor and carried an arm bouquet of orchid chrysanthemums tied with wide green satin ribbon.

Miss Marjorie Anne Calvert and Mrs. Elton Satterfield of Danville, Virginia, wore green satin gowns and carried arm bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums tied with wide orchid satin ribbon.

Mr. Emerson Kempshall Land of Norfolk, Va., attended Mr. Johnson as best man. The ushers were Daniel Wilson Lindsey, Jr., Norfolk, Virginia, Paul Hughes Jones, Lynnhaven, Virginia, Thurston Ervin Smith and Charles Herbert Wallace of Raleigh, North Carolina.

Mrs. Bowles, mother of the bride, chose a dinner gown of grey crepe with a black velvet hat and a natural orchid. Mrs. Johnson, mother of the groom, was attired in an ankle length plum crepe dress with a small feathered hat and a natural orchid corsage.

The bride was educated in the public schools in Danville, Virginia, and was graduated from Averett College and Longwood College in Virginia. She is now a member of the faculty of the South Norfolk High School. Mr. Johnson was educated in Raleigh and now holds a responsible position with the government in Norfolk.

For traveling the bride changed to a blue Handmacher suit with black velvet accessories and the or-white satin. Silver holders with long white tapers tied with orange blossoms and silver wedding bells and bonbon dishes filled with decorated mints and salted nuts were placed at intervals. Mrs. Frank Bendall, assisted by Misses Margaret Johnston and Carrie Joyner, served lime ice punch and bridal cakes.

Mrs. Herman Jardee invited the guests to the gift room where Miss Ann Duke presided at the register. The "goodbyes" were said to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Forbes.

After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Bowles had a buffet supper for the wedding party and out-of-town guests.

Out-of-town guests here for the wedding were Mrs. Ruffin Fenner Johnson, Thurston Smith and Charles Wallace, Raleigh, North Carolina; Mr. and Mrs. John R. Bowles, Walkertown, North Carolina; Mrs. Elton Satterfield, Miss Marjorie Calvert and Mr. H. H. Callvert, Danville, Virginia; Mrs. William T. Seale, Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Land, Mr. and Mrs. John Green, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Green, Mrs. A. M. Nickols, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel W. Lindsey, Jr., Mrs. Harold Waters and Misses Myrtle Smith, Lucile Scaff, Edith Bowles and Ruby Steffey of Norfolk, Virginia; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Jones, Lynnhaven, Virginia, and Miss Virginia Hicks of Norfolk.

Oppelt greeted the guests at the door and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Coburn introduced them to the receiving line composed of Mrs. Irvin Hughes Bowles, Mr. and Mrs. Ruffin Fenner Johnson, the bridal couple, Misses Edith Merricks Bowles, Margaret Lee Duke, Ruby Lucille Steffey and Marjorie Anne Calvert, Mrs. Elton Satterfield and Mrs. Daniel Wilson Lindsey, Jr. Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Stark acted the guests to the dining room. Strength FOR THE DAY

HOW MUCH ARE YOU WORTH?
 Albert Schweitzer, the great German doctor, theologian, and world-famous organist who thirty years ago buried himself in the jungles of Africa that he might help pay the debt which he believes the white race owes the black, is one of the great figures both of this day and of all time.

One evening in a mood of weariness and despair Schweitzer threw himself into a chair in his consulting room and cried out bitterly, "What a blooming mess is this!" His negro orderly was silent for a moment and then replied, "Yes, Doctor, here on earth you are a great blockhead, but not in heaven."

A prominent man of letters made the statement recently that the natural world is that part of the spiritual world which is visible, and that the spiritual world is that part of the natural world which is invisible. Complicated? Not at all. It is only another way of saying that the visible and invisible worlds are so closely related that each is but an aspect of the other. Heaven is all about us. A spiritual universe with which we do not collide because it is not of the same substance as ours, moves to and fro amid the events of our daily life.

THE OTHER CANDIDATE

While Democratic leaders throughout the nation are cheering their party's victories and the Republicans are bemoaning their setbacks at the polls on that November election day a couple of weeks ago, one significant factor in the New York election has gone almost unnoticed by most people of the country.

There was a man on the ballot in New York who has received a great deal of publicity, engaged in some noisy campaigning, and received a few votes. He is Communist Benjamin J. Davis, Jr., who was convicted by the courts of conspiring to teach the overthrow of the government of the United States by force.

Davis the voter, however, was barred from the polls of New York because he had been convicted as a criminal for his past activities with the Communists, but Davis the candidate was allowed to keep his name on the ballot of the state. And from the people of the state he drew some votes by which his followers would have made him, through the democratic process, an official in a portion of the free government he has sought to overthrow.

It is difficult, in our nation of political freedom and uninhibited expression of convictions, to understand how a portion of the citizens allow their minds, in the midst of such freedom to become enslaved by a doctrine which would deny them the freedoms which they have enjoyed and abused.

The freedom of speech and the freedom of the press which have long been bulwarks of this nation's political philosophy, can continue to serve the interest of the people only as long as the people themselves exercise their freedom of thought with which they have been endowed.

Around Capitol Square

By LYNN NISBET
CONTINUITY—Governor Scott's report to the people over statewide broadcast last Friday night, like recent speeches of former Governor Cherry, re-emphasize the continuity of progress in North Carolina. In dedicating a new building at State Hospital and a few days later at dedication of the memorial tower at State College, ex-Governor Cherry stressed progress during the four years of his administration. In his state-wide broadcast Governor Scott picked up with January 1 of this year. Only by indirect inference did either speaker suggest that the things which made possible the progress of which they boasted were all started years before.

DEFICITS—A great deal was said about the deficit in public services which had accumulated during the war. Even casual perusal of the record will show that despite handicaps of war, very considerable advancement was made in public education, public health, hospitalization and similar governmental services during the years from 1940 to 1947. Progress has been faster during the past two years, especially in physical construction of much needed roads, buildings and power lines. The deficit in services, like the much discussed approaching deficit in dollars, was not so serious as some pessimists sought to picture it.

SCRIPT—Governor Scott surprised those who had advance copies of his speech by sticking closely to the script, instead of ad libbing some wisecracks with barbs for some persons or groups. He didn't adhere so closely to the script of a short speech of acceptance earlier Friday afternoon when he received on behalf of the state the gifts from the "Thank You" train sent over by French people last year. His departure, however, was humorous and pleased the small audience gathered by the ceremonies on north side of capitol square. When Col. Wiley Pickens, in behalf of the committee, delivered the trailer load of gifts to the state, he said it was the first time any European country had given the United States anything.

Somebody Told Me...

By L. J. (JACK) EDWARDS, JR.

If you have read many movie reviews perhaps you have wondered what full-time reviewers and he was especially caustic about Russia. The governor reminded him that Russia had sent us a lot of communistic trouble.

NEGROES—Almost half the group gathered for the trailer museum exercises was composed of Negroes. This led one observer to comment upon the fact, becoming more obvious every year, that Negroes are taking fuller advantage of educational and cultural opportunities offered the public than are whites. Attendance of white school children was negligible, but some two dozen colored high school or young college students were among the first to enter the trailer after it was opened. In that connection, it was noted on the recent tours of the state municipal road commission that at no point on the itinerary was any provision made for Negro residents of cities and towns to present information about conditions prevailing in their sections.

TRADERS—The owners of Battleboro and Whitakers lie on the Edgecombe-Nash county border, about half of each town in each county. Edgecombe is in the first highway division, Nash in the fourth. Here, therefore the highway engineers have divided responsibility for state work on the streets. Engineer Tom McKim of the fourth division has proposed to Engineer Bill Spruill of the first that they trade responsibility—one engineer assuming full responsibility for one town. "You take Whitakers, and I'll take Battleboro," said McKim. "Sounds all right to me," said Bill. Then a bystander quipped that Spruill had been cheated. The fellow didn't know about conditions in either town, but was sure that any proposition made by the little Scotchman McKim would be to his advantage. Anyway, it sounds sensible not to split duties in the small towns. Rocky Mount, also lying in both counties had provided precedent. The entire city of Rocky Mount is regarded as within jurisdiction of the fourth division, although approximately half its area is in the first. It is understood there are other instances in the state where for sake of convenience and economy division lines are not rigidly observed.

look like. You might think they are shriveled-up characters with thick glasses that come out of their cages occasionally to see a movie, afterwards tear it to pieces and declare that it's the worst they ever saw.

Last week in New York Wife Rachel and I met one of the pack, who happens to be contrary to all the weird ideas you could have. He's a two-eyed handsome, healthy man with a typical movie fan's outlook. And he's a member of the screen staff of one of the world's most outstanding newspapers, The New York Times. By name he's Howard Thompson, the brother of one of my fraternity brothers.

One of the first questions I asked Howard as we lunched at the Times building was, "Ever seen a movie you thought was good?" Howard knew immediately that I'd read quite a few reviews. "Yes," he said, "I quite frequently see good ones." Strangely enough, Howard happens to be a movie fan. He goes to movies in his spare time, which would occur to the average movie reviewer.

By now rabid movie fans have already learned that Montgomery Clift is "it" among Hollywood's new stars. Naturally Howard was considerably ahead of us. Several months ago he interviewed Clift for a Times feature story. Between pictures Clift lives in New York City, east side. Agents jump to the aid of movie reviewers, particularly when they learn that it's a Times writer, so Howard had no trouble getting an interview. In fact, agents quite often arrange dates for stars with reviewers at some place like the Stork Club. Naturally the studio foots the bill. Also, they usually have a representative along to see that the star keeps his foot out of his big mouth.

But Howard's interview with Clift was scheduled (without the studio representative) for Clift's apartment, a scantily-furnished two-roomer. Howard was greeted at the door by Clift, who was plainly dressed and sporting a three-day growth of beard.

The two talked until eating time and Clift asked Howard where he wanted to eat. When Howard said it didn't matter Clift took him around the corner to a greasy cafe, where the interview continued over a delicious sirlion steak. One of the toughest jobs of a movie star is to stay out of the clouds. Clift is down to earth if a star ever was. A few weeks ago he had to rent a tuxedo in order to go to a formal dinner. When asked about the matter he said, "I never bothered to buy one."

Howard has recently interviewed Janet Blair, Marlene Dietrich and Betty Field. The Field interview was one of those Stork Club deals. It was a pretty stiff interview, he said, until a June bug flew into his coat. Betty almost yelled instructions for helping him get rid of the bug. After the incident, the ice was broken and the interview smooth.

It's certainly gratifying to know that there is a movie reviewer who is also a fan. Howard tells the Times that he's good for them for that reason. Don't you agree? And I thank you.

Washington Letter

Washington—The national capital is "settling down a bit" — at least from a social arbiter's long-range view. Mrs. Carolyn Hagner Shaw, publisher of the "social list of Washington," says this is indicated in the fact that fewer names were dropped from the 1950 edition of the snooty green volume than from any edition since the end of World War II. Among those missing from the list, just off the press, are Mrs. Perle Mesta, now U.S. minister to Luxembourg, and the former Assistant Secretary of Navy for Air and Mrs. John Nicholas Brown, who no longer reside here. Also missing from the list are the names of two associate justices of the Supreme Court, Frank Murphy and Wiley Rutledge, and former Secretary of Defense James Forrestal, who died within the year. Altogether 600 names were dropped because of deaths, marriages, change of address, or change of official position, among other things. Sometimes, Mrs. Shaw points out, a person is kicked out because of a "hasty divorce" or simply because he isn't "terrifically important." A thousand new names were added. Mrs. Shaw says an indication of the growth of the capital can be gathered from the fact that this year's social list weighed one and three quarters pounds, whereas the first edition 19 years ago weighed less than three quarters of a pound. "Interesting people" added this year include the new Treasurer of the United States, Mrs. Georgia Nease Clark, and the President of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, Herman W. Steinkrous. Others Mrs. Shaw deems "interesting" are Emil Gutt, chairman of the International Monetary Fund; Eugene Black, president of the International Bank; Sen. John Foster Dulles (R-N.Y.); Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr. (D-N.Y.) and Col. Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, former U.S. amassador to Poland. "The Social List," Mrs. Shaw points out, "does not limit itself to names, addresses and telephone numbers of so-called blue bloods alone. It includes a complete coverage of the Congress, the ever-growing diplomatic corps, and the ever-changing group of officials who make the wheels of government turn." Even then, all names included in the book are passed on by a board of governors set up by Mrs. Shaw herself seven years ago. "The social climber who labors under the delusion that by subscribing to the book he will accomplish the goal of being listed therein, is sadly misinformed," she says. "The board of governors, names kept se-ret for obvious reasons, has the last word."

Aside from listing the big wigs the book tells people how to address a letter to the President, on whom to leave calling cards and who outranks whom at formal dinners—in other words, who stands above whom in the receiving line and sits nearer the head of the table at dinner.

Died Of Hunger Despite Wealth

Greensboro, N. C. Nov. 21—(P)—The mystery of how much money is in a pocketbook an old woman hid in her squalid but puzzled Guilford county residence today. Guesses ran as high as $25,000. The woman, Mrs. Luella Ione Ellington, 69, died in a hospital here yesterday. A day before she was found in her littered hut by Mrs. Blanche C. Sterne, county welfare superintendent. "Mrs. Ellington probably died from improper diet because she refused to spend the money in a pocketbook an old woman with which she was provided for food," Mrs. Sterne said. Mrs. Ellington was a retired textile mill worker, had been receiving aid from the welfare department. The pocketbook is in a hospital safe and won't be opened until the woman's relatives give the word. The relatives live in Guilford county, Washington, D. C., and Cleveland, Ohio. Authorities searched the cluttered shack last night and uncovered only $30 in different hiding places. There were rumors that more might be secured in the hunt.

Asking Hungary About Fate Of U. S. Citizen

Budapest, Hungary, Nov. 21—(AP)—The U. S. legation said today it was asking the Hungarian government about the fate of an American telephone company executive reported arrested Friday by Hungarian police. The legation confirmed that Robert A. Vogler, Jr., 38, assistant vice president of the International Telephone and Telegraph Company, left Budapest by automobile Friday for Vienna and had not been heard from since. In Vienna, Vogler's wife said she believed her husband was being held incommunicado by the Hungarians. She said she had no idea why he might be under arrest.

(Dear Judy)

A Thanksgiving party offers fine possibilities for the imagination. Make it a costume party, serve traditional food and play games appropriate to the day. You'll probably plan your party for the night before Thanksgiving. If you plan a costume party guests do not have to wear elaborate get-ups. The boys could wear black hats with buckles and the girls paper bonnets to carry out the Pilgrim idea. Some might like to wear Indian headaddresses. If you crowd does not go for costume parties, don't attempt one. It will make everybody unhappy because only half will show up in costume. As an ice-breaker, you can try the tried-and-true party quiz, "Roberto giving it a new twist. This always is a good game, especially when many of the guests are comparative strangers. Make up little slips of paper with names pertinent to Thanksgiving such as Priscilla, John Alden, Miles Standish, Samoset, Governor Bradford and Carver, the Mayflower, Plymouth Rock, Southampton, Cape Cod turkey, pumpkin etc. You will think of others if you are up on your history. Pin one of these names to the back of each guest when they arrive. Another guest will look at the name and let the pin-up ask questions. Leading questions are: "Am I dead or am I alive?" "Am I animate or inanimate?" "Am I green or yellow?" etc. The purpose, of course, is to guess who you are as quickly as possible, but even if it drags out it can be fun. As usual you'll want to pick a good hearty buffet. Serve turkey curry with rice and chutney (mix it with chicken to spare the turkey) a big tray of glass baking dish of mashed sweet potatoes and a bowl of succotash is yummy and stick-to-the-ribs. If you want to budget your menu don't forget that most people like chili con carne. You can serve it by itself with chopped onions and little saltine crackers. "Mixer" parties are quite the thing in Kansas City, Mo. Mary Ritter tells us. It is a wonderful substitute where the teen town idea doesn't go over so big. The "mixer" is a welcome substitute. The party is held at the school house, financed by a 25 cent admission fee, runs from 7:30 to 10:30. There are dancing and games (table tennis, darts and volley ball) for those who do not like to dance. There is a movie after which the gang goes back for more dancing and refreshments. The kids get plenty to eat with sandwiches, pop, apples and about anything else they might fancy available. A mixer band is chosen from the regular school orchestra and at Paseo High School, Kansas City, is paid $50 a performance. Three out of the six payments go to the students themselves, the other three to the band fund for uniforms. The mixer committee consists of students council representatives and faculty. They decide on dates for the mixers, arrange them so they do not conflict with other school events, pick the movies from a downtown exchange. Members of the Parent Teachers Association serve as hat-checkers, run the sandwich stand and have other tasks. Girls and boys may come alone to the mixer or bring dates. Usually about 600 show up—wearing school clothes. There is nothing formal about a "mixer" party.

States Righters Look To Byrnes

Biloxi, Miss., Nov. 21—(AP)—States Righters hoped today that James F. Byrnes would add spark to their cause in a speech before the Southern governors' conference here. The former secretary of state who indicated recently he might be a gubernatorial candidate in his home state of South Carolina, will deliver the main address at a dinner tonight. Byrnes arrived for the conference last night and immediately began renewing acquaintances. He declined to discuss politics with newsmen. In his recent statement saying he might run for governor, Byrnes declared he "would like to help bring back to the states the rights that belong to the states." States Righters at once seized upon that statement as an announcement that Byrnes subscribed to their cause. Some even visioned him as a 1952 presidential standard bearer for the States Rights ticket. Officially, politics isn't on the agenda at the Southern governors' conference which opened today in the state where the States Rights movement was born. But States Righters who gathered in informal caucuses around the convention hotel had plenty to say on the subject.

Make up little slips of paper with names pertinent to Thanksgiving such as Priscilla, John Alden, Miles Standish, Samoset, Governor Bradford and Carver, the Mayflower, Plymouth Rock, Southampton, Cape Cod turkey, pumpkin etc. You will think of others if you are up on your history. Pin one of these names to the back of each guest when they arrive. Another guest will look at the name and let the pin-up ask questions. Leading questions are: "Am I dead or am I alive?" "Am I animate or inanimate?" "Am I green or yellow?" etc. The purpose, of course, is to guess who you are as quickly as possible, but even if it drags out it can be fun. As usual you'll want to pick a good hearty buffet. Serve turkey curry with rice and chutney (mix it with chicken to spare the turkey) a big tray of glass baking dish of mashed sweet potatoes and a bowl of succotash is yummy and stick-to-the-ribs. If you want to budget your menu don't forget that most people like chili con carne. You can serve it by itself with chopped onions and little saltine crackers. "Mixer" parties are quite the thing in Kansas City, Mo. Mary Ritter tells us. It is a wonderful substitute where the teen town idea doesn't go over so big. The "mixer" is a welcome substitute. The party is held at the school house, financed by a 25 cent admission fee, runs from 7:30 to 10:30. There are dancing and games (table tennis, darts and volley ball) for those who do not like to dance. There is a movie after which the gang goes back for more dancing and refreshments. The kids get plenty to eat with sandwiches, pop, apples and about anything else they might fancy available. A mixer band is chosen from the regular school orchestra and at Paseo High School, Kansas City, is paid $50 a performance. Three out of the six payments go to the students themselves, the other three to the band fund for uniforms. The mixer committee consists of students council representatives and faculty. They decide on dates for the mixers, arrange them so they do not conflict with other school events, pick the movies from a downtown exchange. Members of the Parent Teachers Association serve as hat-checkers, run the sandwich stand and have other tasks. Girls and boys may come alone to the mixer or bring dates. Usually about 600 show up—wearing school clothes. There is nothing formal about a "mixer" party.

Cheering Factors Seen In Future Coffee Harvests

Washington, Nov. 21—(AP)—Reduced Brazilian cultivation and higher U. S. consumption aren't the only reasons for record-high coffee prices in this country.

Fact is, the comm. rec. department reports, South Americans themselves are drinking more coffee than they used to.

An analysis by the department said that "no immediate shortage" of coffee is foreseen in this country and listed some cheerful signs in recent development:

1. Fresh reports from Brazil, it said, "indicate that a two months drought there has ended, and that the next harvest of coffee may be as large as the current crop."
2. "Present high coffee prices may encourage additional planting, as well as land fertilization and more careful cultivation of Brazilian coffee trees."
3. Colombia, which ranks next to Brazil as a coffee producing country, has upped production almost one-third since prewar and is expected to keep up the present pace.

One factor pushing up prices here doesn't seem likely to let up, that's U. S. coffee drinking.

Americans now drink, on the average, (which means including a theoretical share for the big crop of war babies who are still milk drinkers), over 16 pounds a year each—a third more than pre-war.

And the U. S. essay the leading coffee drinking country in the world, takes two-thirds to three-fourths of the entire world's exportable production.

Filmland 'Award' For Lady Astor

Hollywood, Nov. 21—(AP)—Lady Nancy Astor, who recently described film actresses as "wretched glamor girls," is the motion picture industry council's first candidate for its new "flagpole of the month" award.

The U. S. born Notswoman, in an appeal in London for funds to help pay for study in Britain by University women of other countries, aroused the ire of the film capital by declaring:

"I feel the world is being swept off its feet by Hollywood. We hear nothing but talks of these wretched glamor girls."

As individuals, movie folk were quick to reply. Britishborn Charles Laughton was probably the most outspoken.

"Who in hell cares what Lady Astor thinks about women in Hollywood so long as men in this country (the United States) are satisfied with them," he declared.

Last night the council, representing 35,000 people in the film industry, announced its award. A spokesman stated that by virtue of their public reply to her, the "wretched glamor girls" have nominated Lady Astor.

"We are awfully tired of people who use attacks on Hollywood . . . as a convenient device for getting their names in the paper," the spokesman explained. "Flagpole sitting has been the most obvious resort of the space hunter and we can think of no better reward for pure publicity seekers like Nancy Astor than to give them their own flagpole to go sit on."

Smuggling and black-marketing are the main industries of Andorra, between France and Spain, says the National Geographic Society.

London, Nov. 21—(AP)—A Communist inventor has devised an acorn-planter which makes a squirrel look like a fool.

Junior Woman's Club Addressed By Mrs. T. C. Carroll

Mrs. T. C. Carroll of Shepherdsville, Kentucky, who is Dean of Department Chairmen and Citizenship Chairman of General Federation of Women's Clubs, spoke on "Citizenship Responsibility" at the dinner meeting of the Junior Woman's Club Wednesday evening at 7:00 o'clock.

The program opened by everyone singing the "Club Woman's Hymn" with Mrs. Larry Averette as song leader and Mrs. Kenneth Hite as accompanist.

The invocation was given by Mrs. J. Vance Perkins, first vice president of the Senior Woman's Club, after which Mrs. R. C. Pearce, vice president of the Junior Woman's Club, welcomed honored guests, guests and clubwomen.

A delicious turkey dinner was served with individual cornucopia salads to carry out the Thanksgiving motif and ice cream topped with chocolate sauce and cherries. Hostesses were Mrs. Sam Weeks, Mrs. Jimmy Smith, Mrs. Charles Horne and Mrs. Norris Merritt.

Mrs. Kenneth Hite, program chairman, introduced Miss Madeline Hodges, pianist, and Mr. Alfred Krekler, soloist, both of the East Carolina Teachers College music department. Miss Hodges accompanied Mr. Krekler as he sang two selections, "Give A Man A Horse He Can Ride" and "Smiling Through."

Mrs. R. R. Willmann, president of the Senior Woman's Club, introduced officers of the Junior Woman's Club and Senior Woman's Club.

Mrs. Jesse W. Moye, Citizenship Chairman of the North Carolina Federation, introduced Mrs. Carroll.

and stated her outstanding record of personal citizenship makes her particularly competent to direct the active program of citizenship both on General Federation of Women's Clubs.

In her talk Mrs. Carroll stressed the importance of citizenship beginning in the home and stated that each home of today is a workshop for building citizens of tomorrow. She also pointed out that the cornerstone of citizenship building is obedience to law, a lesson which is first learned in the home. She stressed the fact that we enjoy the privilege of being an American citizen, but also should realize our individual responsibility in earning that privilege. One of our greatest responsibilities is the election of good officials in our government. This can only be brought about by our thorough study of each candidate and the vote and support of each eligible citizen. She brought out that there is no longer a foreign country, and it is our duty, as a world citizen, to support the United Nations which at present is our only hope for world peace. She closed her talk by saying that a country is somewhat like a clock. It runs the way it is wound. The future of our country is in the hands of the people. It is up to us to determine the way it is run.

Buccaneers' Eleven Triumphs 6-2; Cagers Win 60-58

Locals Click In Rugged Contest Against Bulldogs

Wilson, Nov. 21—(AP)—East Carolina Teachers College drove to a third period touchdown here Saturday night to edge Atlantic Christian's Bulldogs 6-2 and retain possession of the Bonk Trophy.

It was the first North State conference football victory for the East Carolina aggregation in two years and gave them revenge for a 6-0 defeat handed them by AC in Greenville last year.

They had to come from behind with a 32 yard drive in the second half to win. Frank Maenne bulldozed his way through the AC line to score the winning touchdown and climax a drive which started when ECTC recovered a fumble.

The win gave East Carolina a season record of four wins, five losses and a tie. It put them above two teams in the North State conference, High Point and Atlantic Christian.

AC took an early lead when the Bulldogs lined up to spill Jack Benz. ECTC halfback behind the goal for a safety.

The Bulldogs threatened to score a touchdown in the same first period when they recovered a fumble on the Buccaneer 30 yard line and drove to the one where they were held on downs.

Twice the boys from ACC got within the Buccaneer five only to be thrown back by the East Carolina defense.

East Carolina's passing attack, its most potent weapon in most games this season, fell apart against its traditional rival. Six aerials were attempted, none completed.

But the Buccaneer ground attack sparked by driving fullback Frank Maenne, rolled up 207 yards and 15 first downs to overshadow the Bulldogs' 119 yards rushing and 12 first downs.

The Bulldogs beat the Bucs at their own game in the air. They completed nine of their 18 pass attempts as Harry Helmer repeatedly found receivers in the open.

Fumbles stymied numerous East Carolina would-be touchdowns. They fumbled six times, losing the ball to AC on five of the occasions.

Plan Clarifying Bowl Selections

Miami, Fla., Nov. 21—(AP)—The Orange Bowl picture may be clarified today when football scouts report to the 15-man committee in charge of picking teams to meet here Jan. 2.

Van C. Kussrow, schedule chairman, said he will recommend an invitation to Tulane but emphasized it was only his personal idea.

Kussrow and W. G. Ward will tell the committee that either Oklahoma or Saint Clara would be acceptable.

Physician Believes Lauder Will Recover

Strathaven, Scotland, Nov. 21—(AP)—Sir Harry Lauder's physician is confident the 79-year-old comedian will recover from the blood clot and kidney ailment that made him critically ill three months ago.

The physician, Dr. John Stewart, said Lauder sat up in his bedroom yesterday, cracks jokes and is enjoying his pipe again.

Selling 'Tribe'?

Cleveland, Nov. 21—(AP)—Restless Bill Veck is expected to sell his Cleveland Indians today after building them into one of the best money-making clubs in baseball.

The fuzzy-haired promoter, who brought Cleveland its first American League pennant in 28 years and piled fans into the stadium with a circus-type ballyhoo, summoned reporters to a news conference.

And qualified observers were confident he would turn his title as president of the Indians over to Ellis Ryan, 45-year-old Cleveland insurance man and head of a buying syndicate.

Farmville Trims Zebulon By 33-0

Farmville—Halfback Claude Tyson scoring two touchdowns and averaging 15 yards a try on 10 carries, led the Farmville Red Devils to a 33-0 rout over Zebulon here Friday night.

Coach Elbert Moye's Devils chalked up two tallies in each of the first and second periods and another in the final quarter to score their fifth win of the season.

The Red Devils close their schedule Wednesday night when they play host to Scotland Neck.

Farmville drove 65 yards in 10 plays after the opening kickoff to score against Zebulon. Tyson went off tackle from the five to score the initial touchdown. Smith passed to King for the point.

In the same quarter Johnny Barrett blocked a Zebulon punt which bounced from the 30 back into the end zone where Carl King recovered it for a second Farmville touchdown. The extra point attempt was no good.

Tyson, breaking off tackle for 55 yards, scored again for Farmville early in the second quarter. Wooten's attempted kick for the conversion was wide.

Farmville came back to count again in the second when Randolph Allen passed 35 yards to Cannon who ran 15 yards to score. Tyson backed over for the extra point.

Clarence Joyner ran 40 yards on a handoff from King to score Farmville's final touchdown. Harry Albritton plunged over for the point.

Zebulon's lone threat came in the first quarter when they drove to the Farmville 20 before they were held on downs.

Sparking Farmville's forward wall were Roy Flora, Bobby Fulford, Henry Tyson and Johnny Barrett who did a bang-up job of line backing along with Harry Albritton.

Tyson and Albritton paced the running attack for Farmville while Allen connected with all five of his pass attempts. Coach Moye was high in his praise of Joe Smith for "his excellent ball handling."

North State To Wind Up Season On Thanksgiving

By the Associated Press
Two Thanksgiving Day league games wind up the North State Conference regular football season.

Guilford plays Elon at Greensboro and Catawba meets Lenoir-Rhyne at Hickory.

Western Carolina Teachers, who have clinched the title, have a pair of bowl games. The Catamounts play Liberty (W.Va.) College in the Smoky Mountain Bowl at Bristol, Va., Thanksgiving Day. On Dec. 10 they will play in the Pythian Bowl game at Salisbury. The opponent has not yet been chosen.

Lenoir-Rhyne needs a victory to the Appalachian for second place. Elon, Catawba and Guilford can advance with triumphs.

Kinston Mentor 'Coach Of Year'

Wilson, Nov. 21—A veteran eastern North Carolina High School coach who piloted his team to its best season during 1945 will be honored here November 29, by the Wilson Touchdown club.

Frank Mock, for 14 years the grid mentor of the Kinston High school eleven, has been named Eastern Carolina's High School Coach of the Year. Littlejohn Faulkner, mayor of Wilson and president of the Wilson Touchdown club, said here today.

Faulkner revealed that Mock was selected by a poll of 28 high school coaches in Eastern North Carolina.

The Kinston coach will be given the honor at the annual All-Eastern banquet of the Touchdown club here Nov. 29, when the club will also honor an All-Eastern high school team of 22 players.

D. C. "Peahead" Walker, coach of the Wake Forest college football team, will be the speaker at the banquet.

Mock earned the acclaim by trouncing 10 of 12 opponents during the campaign. Highlight of the season for Mock's class "A" team was two victories over Wilson and Goldsboro, two class "A" teams.

Locals Raise Curtain On Cage Season In Free-Scoring Game

Washington, D.C.—A free-scoring basketball team from East Carolina Teachers College in Greenville N.C., posted a 60-58 win over Wilson T.C. here Saturday night in a cage season curtain raiser which produced what the winning coach called "the poorest officiating I have ever seen."

The losers whittled down a 20 point East Carolina lead to make the boys from Greenville have to fight desperately to preserve their victory in the last minutes of the game.

The game was very rough and the officiating drew a verbal blast from Coach Howard Porter of East Carolina, who labelled it the poorest he had ever seen.

East Carolina held a 27-26 half-time advantage and stretched the lead in the last half, only to have the Wilson squad close the gap late in the game.

Big Jack Everton, high scorer for the Buccaneers last season, led the East Carolina attack with 17 points. It was made in the last half. He was followed by Lou Collier, last year's freshman sensation, who accounted for 13 points, and Freshman Warren Russell who contributed 12 points to the ECTC cause.

Guiffreda and Burns paced the Wilson offensive attack with 12 points each.

Slim Pickings For Bowl Events

New York, Nov. 21—(AP)—California and Ohio State are expected to be tapped formally today for the Rose Bowl—but sponsors of the other big post-season football shows still are shipping around.

Pickings are mighty slim for the Sugar, Cotton and Orange extravaganzas, which, like the Pasadena game, will be shoved up to Jan. 2 to avoid conflict with the Sabbath.

Short of Murder

By Tom T. Ness

Chapter 2
 Larry timed his stride to hers and followed her along the streets of Little Italy. She proceeded rapidly in the general direction of the Battery subway station, never looking back. Hackett easily kept his quarry in sight.
 At length, in a more inviting neighborhood, she slowed down somewhat. Several minutes later, she lagged visibly in the light from a corner drug store, as though wary of some nameless danger in the immediate vicinity.
 She continued warily on her way and presently paused to peer into the dimly lighted shop. Hackett halted in unison with her, then resumed his pursuit as she suddenly ran on. In the shadows of buildings he had almost reached the window at which she had stopped momentarily when a man darted out of the shop and, unrecognizable in the darkness, sped across the street to a parked sedan. The car leaped forward, its head and tail lights extinguished. Hackett stared hard at the rear license plate but could not make out the number on it. For several seconds he stood stock-still, undecided whether to pursue the sedan or the woman.
 "The license number!" he muttered, and dashed after the speeding car.
 A missile of some sort whizzed dangerously close to his head, crashed against the rear window of the sedan and fell with a rain of glass to the pavement.
 Light from the corner drug store shone for a split-second on the speeding sedan and revealed a spare-tire cover bearing an advertisement white-lettered on a field of black. But now the car was too far away for him to make out the name of the advertiser. The name was long and closely lettered around the entire edge of the tire cover. His burst of speed was not entirely unrewarded, however, for he had made out the word "Garage" and, below it, the word "Plymouth," stenciled large and horizontal within the circular name.
 Quickly outdistanced by the car, Hackett gave up the pursuit within a few yards of the corner drug store. That some kind of weapon had been hurled at him, and not at the fleeing car, he had no doubt. Wary of his would-be assailant, he decided to go around the block and stealthily approach the shop from the opposite direction. He started toward the corner of the street, a half-dozen paces taking him to the drug store door. Then he halted abruptly as though transfixed by the stare of the dark and luminous eyes of a young woman standing on the threshold and holding a small parcel under her arm. He was vaguely aware that she wore beneath a midnight-blue coat a nurse's uniform of some sort—a neat but plainly tailored blue denum pinafore over a white poplin blouse, with an enameled emblem of the Red Cross pinned at the center of the square-neckline of the blue garment. A blue and white cap not unlike a nurse's straddled the crown of her wavy, lustrous black hair.

 "Pardon me," he said, and tipped his hat, "but did you see that big black sedan that just whizzed by here?"
 "Yes, I did see it," she admitted in a tone of mingled apprehension and reluctance.
 "Did you by any chance read the license plate number?"
 She shook her head, moistened her lips as if to speak, but made no verbal reply.
 "Did the fracas scare you?" he smiled.
 An engaging smile chased across her face, too, and disappeared. "Naturally I am a bit excited," she said in an uneven tone, "what with the

"Oh!" she exclaimed, gazing intently into his eyes. "Do you think it is so serious a matter?"
 He smiled at her and drew a deep breath. "Little lady, I don't know anything about it. But I assure you that nothing short of murder would prevent my returning to you—uh, I mean, to this store before your taxi arrives."
 She smiled a wan smile, and said in an uncertain tone: "Very well, I'll do as you say. But"—she hesitated—"who shall I tell the police I'm speaking for, if you don't return?"
 "Hackett, of the News-Dispatch. And if later on I should need a nurse, or, better still, a nurse's aide, there's only one for whom I would ask, if I knew her name."
 She shook her head, looked away, then gave him the tall end of an understanding smile, a very faint smile. "I must phone for a taxi now," she told him gently, and walked toward the drug store telephone booth.

Woman Wounded In Gun Accident

A twenty-one-year-old Negro woman was shot yesterday afternoon when a loaded shotgun was reported to have been accidentally fired by a three-year-old baby.

The woman, Agnes Pervis, was shot in the right leg at her home on the J. S. Credle farm near the Martin County line.

The woman was taken to Pitt General Hospital for treatment. She was reported to be suffering from loss of blood. Her leg was possibly broken by the blast which struck her below the knee.

According to investigating officer Lloyd Manning, the loaded gun (a 12-gauge shotgun) was propped up by the wall in the room and was knocked over by the small child, causing the gun to fire.

The sheriff's department is continuing its investigation of the shooting.

Church Of . . .

fact that occasionally one encounters a "liberal" like the very Rev. Hewlett Johnson, dean of Canterbury Cathedral, who is known as the "Red Dean" because of his extreme left views and his great friendship for Soviet Russia. The good Dean visited the United States a year ago and reported us for our aversion to Communism. He did a lot of talking here, and later the Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, who is head of the Church of England, sharply disowned the sentiments expressed by the Dean in America and Canada.

Those who oppose the church of England taking active part in politics do say that the clergy are qualified to pass judgment on events from the spiritual and moral standpoints, and should be allowed to speak in these fields. As the public conscience, assert the opposition, they are all right.

Social Security . . .

(So, while the combined tax on employer and employe now is only 2 per cent, after Jan. 1 it will be 3 per cent.)

This is an explanation of how the tax increase on Jan. 1 came about. When the Social Security Act was passed in 1935, Congress said the tax should start in 1937 and would run this way:

1937-8-9—1 per cent each on employes and employers; 1940-2—1 1/2 per cent; 1943-4-5—2 per cent; 1946-7-8—2 1/2 per cent; and starting Jan. 1, 1949—3 per cent.

But as 1940 began to roll around—with the tax due to go up from 1 to 1 1/2 per cent—Congress voted to keep it at 1 per cent. Year after year it voted to freeze the tax at 1 per cent to prevent an increase.

But—in 1947 Congress voted to keep the tax at 1 per cent on employers and employes through 1949 and then let it go up to 1 1/2 per cent on each, starting Jan. 1, 1950.

Since Congress hasn't changed what it agreed to in 1947, the tax rise of one-half of one per cent starts Jan. 1.
