

West Germany's Parliament Ok's Occupation Pact

Tumultuous All-Night Session In Assembly; Agreement Relaxes Controls

Bonn, Germany, Nov. 25.—(AP)—West Germany's Parliament today approved the new Allied-German agreement relaxing occupation controls.

But opposition during the tumultuous, all-night session was so bitter that Socialist leader Kurt Schumacher was barred from the assembly's next 20 sessions for insulting Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

"Chancellor of the allies" was the taunt hurled by Schumacher at Adenauer that brought the opposition leader's suspension. It came after the Socialist bitterly objected to west Germany's promise to participate in the international control authority for Germany's rich industrial Ruhr, which the Germans previously have boycotted.

In the agreement signed by Adenauer and the high commissioners of the United States, Britain and France, west Germany agreed also to maintain demilitarization, to continue to eradicate Nazism, and to support controls against German cartels and monopolies.

In return the allies ended dismantling in at least 18 German steel, rubber and chemical plants. They also agreed to German consular and commercial relations abroad, rebuilding of a limited German merchant marine for foreign trade and allied sponsorship of German membership in international organizations.

While Socialist deputies were out of the chamber of caucus, the rest of the assembly overwhelmingly rejected Schumacher's proposal on which the opposition made its fight against the agreement. It was a motion challenging Adenauer's constitutional right to negotiate and sign the agreement with the allies without parliamentary approval.

In the hot debate which preceded the vote, Schumacher criticized the international authority to control the industrial Ruhr. To his "Chancellor of the allies" taunt, conservative deputies replied with shouts of "insolence," cat-calls and boos.

They banged their desk lids, some rushed for the restroom to grab the microphone. Deputies leaped to their feet, shouted and screamed.

When order was restored, the session recessed for the council of elders to consider action against Schumacher.

Report Average Income Nearly Triple Pre-War

People As A Whole Are Found Spending Larger Share Of Income Than In 1939; Income Slightly Under Last Year

Washington, Nov. 25.—(AP)—The average American is taking in almost three times the money he did in prewar 1939 and he's spending it a little more freely than he did even three months ago.

The Federal Reserve Board reported last night that consumer income is 190 per cent higher than 1939, just three per cent under the peak reached last year.

And the board noted that people as a whole are spending an increasing proportion of their income—$93.10 per $100 of income after taxes in the third quarter of this year as compared with $91.60 in the first quarter and $92.50 in the third quarter of last year.

The continued high level of consumer income—and willingness to spend it—helped markedly in cushioning the economic downturn earlier this year, the board said.

The agency's November bulletin showed consumer income flows at the rate of $210,600,000,000 a week in the third quarter (July through September). That's roughly $1,900 for every man, woman and child in the country and reflects a 19 per cent increase for the postwar period.

Wage and salary income, which accounts for $144,400,000,000 of the total, was up 198 per cent from 1948 (the number of workers also had increased) and 23 per cent from 1946. It was off only two per cent from the peak reached in the fourth quarter of 1948.

Total wage and salary income in goods-producing industries was up 234 per cent over 1939 and 27 per cent over 1946. In stores the increase was 206 per cent from 1939, 31 per cent for the early post-war period and one per cent above last year's high mark.

Sacramento, Nov. 25.—(AP)—The Grange agricultural committee was ready today to submit to the National Grange convention here a resolution opposing the Brannan farm price support program.

National Master Albert S. Goss said he was confident Grange representatives from 37 states in this final day of the convention would support the committee's stand.

A Story Of An Exile

Ivan Mestrovic, Famed Yugoslav Sculptor, Loves Liberty And Refuses To Go Back Home Despite Urgings By Tito; His Life And Background; Now In U. S.

By DEWITT MacKENZIE

Ivan Mestrovic, the famous Yugoslav sculptor who is in voluntary exile in America, tells me Marshal Tito has urged him not once but many times during the past three years to return to his native land—but Mestrovic is sitting tight for the present, at least.

This great artist, whose work aroused the enthusiasm of the immortal Rodin, is teaching sculpture at Syracuse University Fine Arts School. He says he likes S. U. and its friendly atmosphere.

There undoubtedly is a stirring story back of Mestrovic's repeated refusal to return to the land he loves. However, he chooses to preserve the Mestrovic-Tito mystery. I had a long chat with him a couple of days ago and he epitomized the reason for his decision thus:

"I am not in sympathy with the regime."

For brevity that's rather reminiscent of Cal Coolidge's famous "I do not choose to run." Still, if you know the Yugoslavs, and if you know the story of Mestrovic's life, it's rather easy to add a good deal to his statement. We might well begin with these key facts.

Mestrovic is rated as one of Yugoslavia's great patriots; he is a red-hot nationalist and dislikes dictators of all sorts; he is strongly religious and has been a staunch supporter of the Catholic Church, one of his close friends being Archbishop Stejovic. The archbishop is now in a Yugoslav prison under a sixteen year sentence on a charge of collaboration with the Axis powers.

Ivan's father was a stone mason who, among other things, carved ornaments, such as crosses, from stone. It was from the father that the small boy got his first lessons in "sculpture." The lad also started his education in books at home, with the encouragement of his father and mother. His mother was very religious, and passed this on to her son.

His eager pursuit of art was mixed with farm work. When he was fifteen he was apprenticed to a stone cutter in Split, and there he added to his knowledge of rudimentary sculpture. His unusual skill finally was recognized, and he was accepted by the Art Academy in Vienna. He went through many hard times before he began to sell his works.

Reinforcements Sent To Oppose Oncoming Reds

Chungking, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Nationalist reinforcements were rushed to the front today to try to halt a three-prong drive on Chungking by an estimated 130,000 Communists.

Ninety-five thousand Reds were centered at Foying, 55 miles north-east of the Yangtze river, and Nanchuan, highway town 50 miles south-east. Thirty-five thousand were moving up from Kweichow Province.

The Red troops were identified as belonging to Gen. Liu Pan, considered the Chinese Communist's best general, and Gen. Liu Po Cheng, who moved in from Kweichow.

The long feared Red drive on Szechwan province from Shensi province has been halted by deep snows in the Chingling mountains.

'Townsend Plan' Given Support

Washington, Nov. 25.—(AP)—The Townsend old age pension plan is being maneuvered into a position to stir up some excitement in the next congressional session and the 1950 elections.

Backers reported today they have 179 names on a petition to force the plan onto the House floor for a vote. It takes only 218 signatures to do it.

Fate Of Formosa Now Is Concern Of U. S. Experts

Fear Possibility Strategic Island May Wind Up In Communist Hands

Washington, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Top United States officials are becoming increasingly concerned over the fate of strategic Formosa as Chinese Communists extended their iron grip on the mainland of Asia.

The island, which thrusts into the American defense chain between Japan and the Philippines, was returned to China under a wartime agreement. Nationalist forces still control it, but their prospects of continuing to do so appear slimmer every day.

The possibility that a future war with Russia might find Formosa in Communist hands has military and diplomatic authorities here deeply worried—and groping for a solution.

Formosa is a highly productive land of 13,000 square miles and somewhat more than 5,000,000 native people which lies close by Okinawa—a key spot in this country's Pacific defense plans.

During the last war, believing that China would remain in the hands of Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek or some other friendly ruler, the United States agreed to take Formosa away from Japan—which got it by conquest in 1895—and return it to China.

That agreement was subject to final confirmation in a Japanese peace treaty, which still has to be written.

At the end of the war Chiang took over the strategic island and has now converted it into a redoubt against the onrushing Communists.

Since Formosa is separated from the Chinese mainland by 80 miles of open water, it is not a Communist invasion of the island which causes most concern among top officials here, but rather the possibility of internal revolution.

The state department believes that on the whole the Chinese Nationalists have made a shocking failure of their administration of Formosa and have thus created conditions that are dangerous to U. S. interests.

American officials who have seen this problem developing for many months have considered a wide variety of actions, but thus far without a final decision.

Rejected By UN

Lake Success, Nov. 25.—(AP)—The United Nations today rejected Russia's big five peace proposal that incidentally accused the United States and Britain of plotting a new war. The Soviet measure was defeated by lopsided votes in paragraph-by-paragraph balloting of the general assembly's 59-nation political committee.

The so-called peace move from Moscow was the keynote of Russian policy at the current assembly. It was submitted Sept. 23 by Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky, who remained in New York more than two months to prosecute Prime Minister Stalin's Soviet version of how peace and atomic energy control could be achieved.

The United States, Britain and other western powers denounced the Russian resolution as a phony peace propaganda effort.

Third President For Panamanians

Congress Approves New Coup By Nation's Police Chief

Panama, Panama, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Arnulfo Arias, a fiery 48-year-old surgeon, today became Panama's third president in six days by proclamation of congress.

The congressional approval apparently put the stamp of legality on the latest coup by Panama's president-making police chief, Col. Jose Remon.

Remon, who forced the ouster of President Daniel Chavis Jr. on Sunday, late last night defied a ruling of the Supreme Court and announced that Arias was the new president. A few minutes before the court had ruled Chavis was still the constitutional president of this Central American country.

The congressional endorsement of Arias this morning ended a week of turmoil over the presidency which produced riots and tangled political situations unusual even for Latin America.

Strangely enough, it was Remon who ousted Arias in 1941 after he had served as the republic's president for a year. Until yesterday they were bitter political enemies.

Arias is an ardent nationalist and in his past hectic career often attacked U. S. influence in this country bisected by the Panama canal.

The apparent end of the political crisis found the country peaceful, people demonstrating in the streets and shouting "Viva Arias."

Nationalization Of Steel Now Law Of Britain

London, Nov. 25.—(AP)—State ownership of Britain's huge steel industry became law yesterday, but the Labor government will have to win the next general election to take over the key plants in the nation's economic structure.

The House of Lords put its seal on the disputed bill and the king signed it a few minutes later.

Thus the government of Prime Minister Clement Attlee had fulfilled the last of the campaign promises it made in the 1945 elections. But through a compromise with the strongly-conservative House of Lords the government cannot take over the industry until long after next year's general elections. The date for the take-over is Jan. 1, 1951, and the elections must come not later than next June.

ALCOA And CIO Leaders Confer

Pittsburgh, Nov. 25.—(AP)—The Aluminum Company of America today met with the CIO United Steelworkers for what a spokesman called "preparatory talks looking toward resumption of negotiations."

About 16,000 USWA employees of the company in nine states have been on strike since October 17 in support of demands for free pensions and insurance and elimination of what the union calls "wage inequities."

Final Honor For Last Streetcar

Richmond, Va., Nov. 25.—(AP)—Old 408, the last streetcar in this city where the nation's first electric streetcar service was inaugurated in 1888—today rolled down main street headed for the scrap heap.

Bands played and dignitaries stood in review as a parade of ten streetcars moved past.

Bumping up the rear of the procession was 408—at her controls a veteran of 43 years in the city's streetcar service, Charles Phaup.

The award, to be granted from time to time as the trustees of the mayors' conference determine, was authorized by the trustees last January.

France Quiet As General Strike Goes Into Effect

Demonstration Fails To Shut Down Economic Life; Strike Called Fiasco

Paris, Nov. 25.—(AP)—France's two biggest labor unions called a 24-hour general strike today but the demonstration for higher wages failed to shut down French economic life.

Transportation was disrupted. Mines and most big industries were closed.

But reports from throughout the country showed that large groups of workers insisted on staying on the job. Hundreds of thousands of Frenchmen walked or rode bicycles in a determined effort to get to work.

Effects of the strike on normal life were not very noticeable.

Socialist cabinet Minister Eugene Thomas, who heads the post office, called the strike a "fiasco."

A report from Lille said that in the heavily industrial north the strike was 20 per cent effective among chemical factory workers, 70 per cent among textile workers, 80 per cent among metal workers and 10 per cent among workers at the Lille railroad station.

The only incident reported so far was from Bordeaux where 300 strikers prevented the departure of a train to Spain.

The ports of Cherbourg and Dunkerque, where the Communist Union is very strong, were almost completely idle.

At Marseille, two cargo ships sailed out of port, although the dockers were in a total strike. Ships also entered the harbor with no trouble. Dockers refused to unload cargo, but let passengers get off.

Interior Ministry sources in Paris said 40 per cent of the railroad workers and six per cent of the city's water department workers were on strike. The ministry hoped to have several Paris subway lines operating later in the day.

Two deputies termed the strike a failure and claimed it showed the weakness of the union's hold on their followers.

Jean Moreau, Independent, said the "failure proves once more that the workers are more reasonable than their labor bosses."

Hospital Inquiry Starts In Death Of Cab Driver

Detroit, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Prosecutor Gerald K. O'Brien today ordered an investigation of the death of a cab driver who was reported to have been turned away without treatment from a municipal hospital.

Witnesses who told newsmen of the driver's death agencies were called to make formal statements. They declared the driver, Louis Schwartz, 35, sat screaming in the hallway of the hospital but received no attention.

The prosecutor said the investigation would determine whether warrants for criminal neglect should be issued.

At the same time, Dr. Ralph R. Piper, superintendent of receiving hospital, announced the suspension of a physician and a supervisor of nurses.

Fourteen Die As Twister Strikes In East Alabama

Forty-Four Injured In Thanksgiving Day Tornadoes; Family Wiped Out

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 25.—(AP)—Thanksgiving Day tornadoes roared down at four points in east Alabama yesterday and killed 14 persons. Forty-four persons were injured.

The vicious, out-of-season storms left several other persons missing and destroyed more than a score of buildings as they leap-frogged in three counties about dusk.

An entire family of 10 Negroes was wiped out near Hackneyville in Tallapoosa County, 60 miles southeast of Birmingham. The mammoth wind picked up their weatherbeaten little home and hurled it 300 yards across the road into another house.

The second house was occupied by another large family of Negroes, but none was reported hurt. Both houses were demolished—witnesses said they appeared to explode after the smashing impact.

Near Oneonta, in Blount County, two members of a white family were killed at the Easley community. The same twister hopped a small mountain and struck again on the northern outskirts of Oneonta, where 34 persons were hurt. Property damage was heavy.

Another person was killed and five injured by the tornado's fury on Sand Mountain, near Valley Head in DeKalb County. Valley Head is 90 miles northeast of here.

Sheriff W. F. Maynor of Blount County reported that an unidentified body was taken from the ruins of a burned home near Oneonta.

A Red Cross disaster crew was sent to the Hackneyville storm area to aid other Negro families whose houses were damaged by the twister.

Gov. James E. Folsom called on National Guardsmen at Oneonta to aid in the search for the missing blood plasma, hospital supplies and nurses were sent to the Oneonta area by highway patrolmen.

Maynor said damage in Easley was "widespread" and that many persons there were injured.

Gov't Officials And Mine Owners Look For Peace Talks To Be Announced By Monday; Swift Action By Lewis Seen To Avert Injunction

Gov't Officials And Mine Owners Look For Peace Talks To Be Announced By Monday; Swift Action By Lewis Seen To Avert Injunction

Washington, Nov. 25.—(AP)—Government officials and mine owners looked today for new coal peace talks to be announced by Monday.

They said they were expecting swift action by United Mine Workers President John L. Lewis who appears threatened with a possible Taft-Hartley Act injunction if his 380,000 soft coal miners east of the Mississippi walk off the job December 1.

The miners after a 52-day strike, are at work now during a three-week truce called by Lewis November 9. The truce ends November 30 and there have been reports that President Truman is prepared to halt a new walkout by using his Taft-Hartley injunction power.

Officials predicted Lewis would try to forestall that by making a new bid for a contract with the operators.

The miners are working under an indefinite extension of the old contract which expired last June 30.

The mine owners were due to decide today or tomorrow whether to meet Lewis in New York or elsewhere by early next week.

Lewis has called his 200-man policy committee to New York on Monday to discuss the new contract. It appeared Lewis might be able to induce some leading Illinois and Indiana operators to break the solid line of mine owners and make a separate contract.

But the line held, and Lewis was forced to send his men back to the pits, temporarily at least, without a new contract.

There were many signs of activity in the industry.

A group of leading northern and steel company operators was reported to have held a private huddle in Pittsburgh on Wednesday, and another was considered possible today, to decide whether renewal of negotiations with Lewis would be worthwhile.

The operators broke off negotiations with Lewis after the strike began on September 19.

Lewis has not openly altered his stand, but he never has made his contract demands very specific. That leaves plenty of room for negotiations.

The mine owners are demanding that he change the clause which provides that miners will work only when "able and willing" so that it cannot be used for nation-wide strikes. They also want Lewis to put some definite limits on the spending of the miners' welfare fund.

In the opinion of some federal advisors, Lewis might win some increase in the present 20-cent-a-ton royalty on coal, which finances the miners' welfare and pension fund, if he agreed to those things.

All In All, It Was A Pretty Good Thanksgiving Day For Most Americans; Lots Of Good News, But Here And There We Read Dire Portents For The Future

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Nov. 25.—(AP)—The little man opened his belt a notch, pushed away his plate full of bare turkey bones, said "AAAAHHH" in a satisfied way, and sat down by a radio.

There was good Thanksgiving Day news for him. The announcer was just telling about a government report from the federal reserve board about the money Americans were making.

The board said total consumer income in this country is 90 per cent higher than in pre-war 1939, although just a little lower than last year.

Americans not only were making good money, the board said, they were also willing to spend it, and they were spending it. The little man was pleased and contented. Why not?

Things were pretty peaceful and going pretty smoothly. He remembered this time last year. There was pretty tight tension between this country and Russia. Was it last year? Or the year before anyway, that seemed a bit improved today? Peacefulness was pretty general.

Well, not quite. The announcer was talking about the war in China where the Communists were still pushing ahead, gobbling up the country.

But to the little man in the big chair by the radio China seemed far away. And there had been fighting in China for years anyway.

It was easy to let China melt out of his mind. He rolled his tongue around, still tasting the gravy and the wonderful cranberry sauce.

But the announcer was saying France was shutting down for 24 hours. Organized workers were striking for a day because they wanted more money.

They wanted a bonus and they wanted the government to take the freeze off wages so they could meet rising living costs. A whole nation was being brought to a standstill.

The little man shut off the radio. He could begin to feel that slight uneasiness that crept through him every once in a while when he heard of strife, conflict, unrest, insecurity.

His daughter, who had been looking through the papers, said "you know anything about the arms pact?"

"Oh, not much," the little man said. "All I know is we're going to"

Christian Science Service
"Thanksgiving" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches and societies on Thanksgiving Day.
Golden Text: I Thessalonians 5:18: "In everything give thanks. For this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you." Among the citations comprising the lesson-sermon are the following from the Bible: "Enter into his gates with thanksgiving and into his courts with praise; be thankful unto him, and bless his name." (Psalm 100:4)

And from the Christian Science textbook by Mary Baker Eddy: "Are we really grateful for the good already received? Then we shall avail ourselves of the blessings we have, and thus be fitted to receive more."

The mid-week Bible study will resume on Wednesday night at 7:30 and all those interested are urged to bring their Bibles and let us read together some of its great passages.

Sunday, December 4, will be observed by Christian Churches everywhere as Woman's Day.

Sans Souci Club
Mrs. W. E. Hooker was gracious hostess to the Sans Souci club at her home on Fifth street, Tuesday afternoon.

On arrival the guests were given a cordial welcome by the hostess and were invited into the dining room which was lovely with decorations of fruit and red berries, carrying out the Thanksgiving motif. Mrs. J. B. James and Mrs. W. I. Wooten presided at the table and served a delicious lunch.

After lunch the president, Mrs. Hugh Rasdale called the meeting to order and graciously welcomed the guests of the afternoon, Mrs. Leon Russell, Mrs. M. L. Wright, Mrs. McLean, Mrs. H. L. Rivers and Mrs. Russell.

Routine business was transacted. The club voted to be responsible for the decorating of 12 tables at the Christmas festival to be held at the Woman's Club December 9.

The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. Hooker, the program leader. She introduced Mrs. Leon Russell, who gave a most interesting and inspiring paper on Thanksgiving. She traced the custom of Thanksgiving and the manner in which it was observed for centuries by people of different nations of the world up to our present observance of the day which was established by the Pilgrims. She closed with a lovely and appropriate poem, which made each listener realize more fully the many blessings for which they have to be thankful.

Prague, Czechoslovakia, Nov. 25.—AP.—Communist-led search committees spread out through the Czech countryside today in an apparent drive to liquidate larger farmers.

The committees, backed by self-styled "persuading groups" operated through a wide section of the country seeking out and rounding up "economic saboteurs," the controlled press revealed.

Prison sentences, confiscations and stiff fines were being imposed by district national committees (local governing bodies) against the Kulaks (village rich) on charges of sabotaging the nation's five-year plan.

The agrarian campaign appeared to be a counterpart of the wave of arrests last month in cities which rounded up thousands of independent businessmen and other middle class elements.

Diplomatic quarters interpreted the new drive as part of the Communist class warfare plan and a prelude to collectivization of the land along the Soviet pattern.

Statistics figure that an automobile radio set is used on the average by 12 percent of the U.S. population 50 minutes a day.

Of the estimated 20,000,000 radio receivers outside the home, figures indicate a large part are installed in automobiles.

Thanksgiving Day Quietly Observed

By CHESTER WALSH

Thanksgiving Day was quietly observed here yesterday. The day, traditionally celebrated in homes, was featured by union religious services at 8th Street Christian Church. Rev. Leonard Topping, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, delivered the Thanksgiving sermon. The choir presented special Thanksgiving music.

No serious accidents were reported. Police checked a collision of two cars on the college campus shortly after noon. A car driven by Bill Kittrell backed into the side of a car driven by Miss Catherine Spearman, damaging both vehicles. The police report stated that the drivers agreed to settle the damages. No arrest was made.

The police made one arrest and several investigations. That was Stephen Joyner, colored, 1114-A Clark street, who is charged with the larceny of $30 from the person of Theodore Wilson, colored, 507 Pitt street.

The sheriff's office had only one call and that was at Grimsland last night. Nothing serious had occurred and no arrest was made.

Independent Market, Dickinson Avenue, reported to police that a box of dressed chickens, packed in ice, was stolen last night from in front of the store after a truck had delivered it.

J. B. Creech, Dickinson avenue fruit and vegetable dealer, reported to police that a somebody broke into his place and carried away 87 pounds of pecans and a box of raisins valued at $18.55.

J. M. Hill, 209 Warren Street, Wilson, reported to police that his car collided with an unlighted closed street barricade on Watauga avenue, near Chestnut street, last night, and was damaged.

Bittern Outflashes Flash

WHAT'S QUICKER than a flash? It could be a little bird called a bittern, smallest member of the heron family. Here is one held by Mrs. Peter H. Snyder, amateur ornithologist and member of the Audubon Society, who rescued it from a San Diego, Calif., lawyer's office. It was terrorizing the lawyer and his staff. They were afraid of its knitting-needle beak lunging quicker than a flash. A stenographer called Mrs. Snyder, who now feeds it small frogs and minnows. It snatches its food so fast that a camera set at 1-400 of a second can't quite catch the action without a blur. It lunges nine inches. Bitterns usually are so tricky about concealing themselves that they are seldom seen, says Mrs. Snyder.

Urge President To Name Only Top-Notch Man

Washington, Nov. 25 — (AP) — President Truman was urged by lawmakers today to choose no one but a top-notch executive as a successor to David E. Lilienthal as the national's atomic chief. A high official of the Atomic Energy Commission said he understood that Mr. Truman had not yet picked a new AEC chairman to replace Lilienthal, whose resignation was announced Wednesday.

Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) and Rep. Kilday (D-Tex.) — both members of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee — called on the President to exercise careful judgment in making the choice for one of the most important jobs in the world.

Johnson has been highly critical of many of Lilienthal's policies in the past; Kilday has been a strong defender of the controversial atomic official.

There Is A BETTER WAY To Handle Estate Problems Today!

Do you remember when we used carriages to take us from place to place? Then you will remember that when something better—automobiles—came along, we discarded carriages. So it is with any idea, whether it concerns travel or the protection of your material possessions. Today, the idea of appointing the Guaranty Bank and Trust Company as executor and trustee in your will to protect your estate is practical and of great value to your beneficiaries.

This is so for many reasons. For example, this bank provides the combined judgment of capable men—it maintains highly developed physical safeguards—it is backed by financial resources, and is always at hand to attend to your business immediately.

However, the above qualifications of this bank as executor are only a few, of many. The important facts are that we are thoroughly equipped to handle your estate as executor, and YOUR ESTATE deserves this protection.

Have your lawyer draw your will today. Name this bank executor and trustee.

Strength FOR THE DAY

AN EVENT OF REAL SIGNIFICANCE

We are celebrating this year the 200th anniversary of the birth of Goethe. Regardless of how much one may criticize certain aspects of his life, the fact remains that Goethe was one of the greatest figures of modern time. He was a lyric poet of the highest order. His masterpiece, "Faust," deals with the greatest issues of life and has kept the interest of men pondering in astonishment since Goethe completed it a few months before his death.

This remarkable German man of letters was a practical statesman holding high governmental positions. He made important scientific discoveries, although science was not his field. He anticipated by more than fifty years the conclusion arrived at by Darwin regarding evolution. He understood the 19th century and what it would bring forth as no other man of his day understood it. On the last day of his life he was a generation, or perhaps a century, ahead of his contemporaries in sound thinking. The greatest thing about Goethe, however, was that he had a way of inspiring greatness in others. Some of the greatest men of modern times have regarded him as the source of their inspiration.

He lived in an era of great men and held up his head with the best of them.

THE FIRE HAZARD

For years Greenville has been fortunate in having one of the most efficient fire departments of any town of comparable size in the state. Only this week, however, Chief George Gardner, after repeated interference with the fire department's operations by careless motorists, was forced to tell the people of the city frankly that the efficiency of the local fire fighting facilities is being seriously handicapped.

The serious problem which the department is now facing is how to get its men and equipment through the city streets without becoming enmeshed in the traffic, and without being delayed by motorists who apparently think the right of way of their automobile is more important than that of a fire truck answering an emergency call.

In fighting almost any fire, time is the all important factor, and when the firemen lose five to ten minutes in reaching the scene of a fire, the loss of time may be magnified in a tremendous property loss.

For the protection of the people and the property in the city, if the automobile drivers continue to force the local fire trucks to travel at a snail's pace, it is the duty of the fire department and the police department to bring into the city court the offending motorists, and impose upon them the punishment they deserve for putting in jeopardy the safety of the citizens of Greenville.

BONDS—At least one and a third billion dollars in bond issues for state and local governments throughout the country were approved by popular vote in elections held this month, according to report of the municipal finance officers association. Most states and counties held elections on Tuesday after, the first Monday in November, traditional date for general elections, like the $225,000,000 voted by North Carolinians in June, are added total bonds authorized this year will approach two billion dollars.

TREND—Bonds for school improvement fared generally better than those for other purposes, with hospitals, mental and welfare institutions, roads and streets, slum clearance and public housing accounting for large issues. That people are less fearful of debt or more concerned about funding the "deficit in public services" is indicated by the fact that 90 per cent of all proposed bond issues were authorized, whereas last year only 70 per cent of total proposals were approved by the people.

PARKING—A study just completed by agencies of the National Research Council shows that parking meters have failed to create additional parking space in downtown areas. Cities surveyed reported and were mostly in the middle west. The parking meter idea originated in Oklahoma City. One reason for failure of meters to accomplish their avowed purpose is that by marking off uniform space few cars can be parked in a block.

REVENUE—Principal cause for failure to improve traffic conditions was found to be emphasis on revenue rather than regulation. It was found that traffic cops were concerned with checking meters to see that paid for time had not run out, rather than checking cars to see if one vehicle had parked longer than permitted. The practice of feeding coins into the meters every hour converted the device into paid parking rather than traffic moving.

VISITORS—The Swiss tourist promotion officials who spent Tuesday in North Carolina were effusive in compliments for this state. One member of the party confessed that they did not want to "waste" a day in North Carolina, since time in the United States was so short and the entire continent was to be covered. They wanted to spend the time at such places as Atlantic City, Miami and Southern California. When they got here they didn't want to leave. Larry Nixon of New York and New Bern, who is managing the entire tour, and John Hemmer, special conductor of the Tar Heel visit, had difficulty getting them away from the Carolina Hotel at Pinehurst and Sedgewick Inn in Guilford county.

Somebody Told Me...

By I. J. (JACK) EDWARDS, JR.

During this football season Wife Rachel and I have seen Carolina play Tennessee, Wake Forest, Notre Dame and Duke. We saw all of ETC's home games and most of Greenville High School. And yesterday afternoon we saw a game that measures up to any of the others in entertainment value: the Greenville midlets trounced Selma 33-7 in the Exchange Midget Bowl game at East Carolina stadium.

The Exchange Club, which is the youngest of Greenville's civic organizations, hit the nail on the head by sponsoring a project that they plan to make an annual affair. The money raised will be used to provide athletic equipment for the midlets, Greenville High School, and Eppes High School.

Next year the club should provide a mimeographed program showing the names and numbers of the players. Yesterday the fans were anxious to know which players were making the outstanding plays, but were unable to find out.

Coach Bill Kittrell's Greenville team, (average age, 13 1/2), operated as smoothly as the nation's top grid powers. From a "T" formation, the midlets combined passing and running plays effectively, and lateraled like Notre Dame.

Kittrell's side-line technique was interesting to watch. When a player performed a notable feat Kittrell embraced him when he came out of the game. One of the Greenville players needed a belt to hold his pants up, so Bill whipped his off and gave it to him.

When the game was over the midlets picked up Kittrell, who must weigh 190 pounds, and carried him off the field. Naturally they didn't ride him on their shoulders, but he was suspended in the air. If you are a football fan and missed yesterday's game, heed this advice: don't miss next year.

Let me bend your ear with one more football story: Back in 1934 Badger Johnson, who is now manager of John Flanagan Buggy Company was coaching football at his home town, Clinton. It was the revival of football in Clinton, the first time they had had a team in five years.

Badger took his team to Mount Olive for a game, and en route the car carrying most of his linemen broke down. Badger emphasizes the fact that it wasn't a Ford.

The game had to start on schedule, line or no line, so Badger filled in wherever he could in order to get underway. After scrambling around he ended up with everything but a center, so Mount Olive's Coach (former Carolina star Red Lipscomb) consented to lend Badger his second-string center.

The center had been sitting on the bench so long that the excitement of playing made him lose his senses, in a manner of speaking. He naturally knew all of his team's plays, so he tipped the Clinton players off as soon as he could see which play Mount Olive was using. Consequently Clinton pushed the superior Mount Olive team all over the field.

Just as Red demanded his center back the Clinton linemen arrived, unfortunately for Clinton. With the first-string line in and Mount Olive's center out Mount Olive went on for an easy victory. Olive went on for the disloyal center. We know that he sat on the bench the rest of that game, anyway.

And I thank you.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

New York - (P) To the Hon. Maurice Tobin, Secretary of Labor, Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Secretary:

I can't let this day pass out of my life without telling you what an interesting Thanksgiving we had this year as a result of the U. S. Department of Labor. My intent had been to make a holiday of it—dinner out and then a show. But yesterday my husband, Willur, said: "Boy, let's have a real old-fashioned meal at home—read in the newspaper that the department of Labor figures a family of four can have a Thanksgiving dinner—turkey and all the trimmings—for $5.07. We can have our cousin Abner and his wife Veronica and look at the money we'll save. Well, Mr. Tobin, I'm a game girl. I agreed. And the first thing I found out was that your $5.07 covered half the turkey. The bird I bought came to $9.25, and I carried it home from the butcher in the palm of one hand. "Don't forget cousin Abner drinks Scotch, but cousin Veronica prefers bonded bourbon." Willur reminded me. "And they both like wine at dinner. They're used to good things." They are indeed. Cousin Abner used to be a county clerk in Oklahoma. But since he struck oil on his farm he has spent his spare time lecturing to Rotary Clubs on his favorite topic: "Back to McKinley or bust!" The Scotch cost $5.85, the Bourbon $6.87, and two bottles of French wine came to $4.76. Total for the liquor—$17.45. "But that was only the beginning of it," Tobin. Cousin Abner waded through most of the Scotch before dinner. He is an amateur magician, and nothing would do but he must show us a few card tricks. Somehow he lost the ace of spades, and we will have to buy a new deck. When I brought in the turkey, bought at your department of Labor's specifications, Abner asked: "What is it—quail?" He then sat down on a fine old English chair. Aunt Effie left us, rocked back and forth laughing—and the chair collapsed in a shower of fine old mahogany. The turkey that was supposed to last two meals disappeared in 15 minutes. When I brought on the pumpkin pie, Cousin Veronica sighed: "I can't eat that, it's much too fattening. Couldn't we have something simple—like breaded cherries and ice cream." We had to send out for the ice cream. Cousin Abner insisted on fixing the cherries. He poured three fourths of a bottle of brandy over them, then said: "Turn out all the lights. I'll show you something dramatic." He lit a match and touched it to the cherry dish. The bran flared up and burned his hand; he upset the dish and the tablecloth caught fire. Naturally we had to call our doctor to fix up Abner's hand. The doctor was quite grumpy at having to make a home call on Thanksgiving—and I know he'll send us a bill for $25. All this excitement made Cousin Veronica sick at her stomach. And where did she pick to get sick? On our new sofa. When they left, cousin Abner suddenly found he had no change in his pockets—and him with four oil wells. We paid their taxi fare home. Well, Mr. Tobin, I have just figured ed Friday, your department of Labor meal for four actually cost us. It came to exactly $184.33. Willur is so mad he wants to sue you for the difference. All I can say is—don't you ever dare try to run for president on a platform promising a Thanksgiving family dinner for $5.07. If you do, I'll turn these figures over to the Republican party.

The Lord told Jeremiah to stand up to the princes of Judah and tell them of their wickedness, and not to be afraid of them for He, the Lord, "am with thee, to deliver thee."

For their sins, the Lord caused drouth in the land of Judah, and the people prayed to Him to send rain—"O Lord our God, we wait upon Thee; for Thou hast made all these things."

Because Jeremiah prophesied the destruction of Judah and exile for its people, the priest, Pashur, struck Jeremiah and put him in the stocks that were in the high gate of Benjamin.

All happened as Jeremiah prophesied. The Chaldeans came, took the king prisoner, put his sons and the princes of the kingdom to death, and put out his eyes. MEMORY VERSE—Jeremiah 17:7.

Hollywood, Nov. 25—(AP)—Hopalong Cassidy usually handles the oddest of varmint cases with ease. But two boys with slingshots—that's different. The screen and television star (real name and television star Bill Boyd) had to call on two policemen to round up two teen-agers before a parade last night. They were peppering Hoppy's horse with tapoca pellets from atop an ice cream shop. "It made the horse awfully nervous," the officers reported, "and Hopalong awfully mad."

"Blessed is the man that trusteth in Jehovah."—Jeremiah 17:7.

RELEASE SATURDAY, NOV. 26, OR SUNDAY, NOV. 27, 1949

JEREMIAH---SPOKESMAN OF GOD

HE BROUGHT JEHOVAH'S WORDS TO THE PEOPLE

Scripture—Jeremiah 1: 14:7-22; 20: 22:1-23; 32:6-10; 37-39.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL IT IS a far cry from the time of the Prophet Jeremiah to our own time. The people of that day were wicked—self-seeking; enjoying luxuries and idleness when they could afford it; oppressing the poor; worshipping false gods; ignoring the Lord who had brought them safely out of captivity into their own fruitful land. Fear of war—for they were a small, weak people; anxiety that they might be taken away into exile from their homeland, oppressed the common people. Fear of war and conquest still hangs over the peoples of the world, although the time we are studying was more than 2,500 years ago. The tiny town of Anathoth, about two and one-half miles north of Jerusalem, was the birthplace of the courageous prophet known to us as Jeremiah. The word of the Lord came to him when he was yet a child, telling him that He, Jehovah, had set him aside to be His mouthpiece to the people. Jeremiah protested that he was only a child and couldn't speak. Jehovah assured him, however, that even before he was born He was a great drouth in the land, and they were afraid. Famine and the sword of the enemy threatened them. They prayed to God, for "Art Thou not He, O Lord, our God? therefore we will wait upon Thee; for Thou hast made all these things." Jeremiah had many enemies among the wicked priests and the princes of the court. One of the priests, Pashur, hearing Jeremiah's dire prophecies, struck him and threw him in the stocks. He released him, however, and Jeremiah foretold an awful fate for him—such faith had the prophet in the word of the Lord for his defense. Jeremiah certainly minced no words in translating the Lord's messages to the people—kings, princes and priests. Righteousness was what God required of them: "Execute ye judgment and righteousness, and deliver the spoiled out of the hand of the oppressor; and do no wrong, do no violence to the stranger, the fatherless, nor the widow, neither shed innocent blood in this place." Troubles thickened in Judah when Zedekiah, son of Josiah, reigned. He was rather a weak character. Fundamentally he seems to have had a great respect for Jeremiah, but he never had set the child aside "to go to all that I shall send thee, and whatsoever I command thee thou shalt speak." "Be not afraid of their faces," said the Lord, "for I am with thee to deliver thee." The Lord then "put forth His hand, and touched my mouth," says Jeremiah, "and the Lord said unto me, Behold, I have put My words in thy mouth." We do not know how Jehovah touched Jeremiah's mouth, but we do know that for 40 years of ministry he never feared to tell the people what the Lord told him to say, whether the messages were of impending disaster or of comfort. He was fearless, for the Lord had said: "They (his enemies) shall fight against thee, but they shall not prevail against thee, for I am with thee, saith the Lord, to deliver thee." In the 14th chapter of Jeremiah we read how the people repented of their sins, for there was strong enough to stand against the princes of his court. When they became enraged at Jeremiah for his dismal warnings, the king meekly told them to do with him what they would. They wanted to put him to death, and they let him down into an abandoned well with deep mud at the bottom—hoping, supposedly, that he would either starve or sink into the mire. However, at that time, as we learned in a previous lesson, he was rescued by the Enoch Ebedmelech. Secretly the king sought Jeremiah's advice, but he never had quite the courage to take it literally. So Judah fell; the king was taken captive and blinded. He also saw his children and princes slain before his eyes. But Jeremiah, the prophet, was well treated in captivity by command of Nebuchadnezzar himself. He is called a prophet of calamity, but at the same time it is said that he was also a builder and planter.

Former Oklahoma Governor Dies

Oklahoma City, Nov. 25—(AP)—Former Oklahoma Governor J. C. (Jack) Walton died here today. He had been in failing health in recent years after a tempestuous political career which saw him ousted from his gubernatorial post during a bitter Ku Klux Klan fight.

Walton, 68, was impeached and ousted in 1923 but the next year entered the senatorial campaign and won the Democratic nomination. American Indians used to build totem poles as high as 60 feet. The University of Chicago roundtable has been on the air since February, 1931.

Dairy Barn Fire Loss Is $50,000

Raleigh, Nov. 25—(AP)—Fire of undetermined origin swept through a N. C. State College dairy barn yesterday and caused damage estimated at more than $40,000.

No livestock was injured, however, as the cows had been turned out to pasture when the fire broke out.

According to dairy farm employees, the fire originated in the hay loft of the barn, where the top and wooden walls of the second story caught fire quickly from burning hay.

Employees using water from a recently constructed pond nearby—battled the blaze for four hours and succeeded in keeping the flames from spreading to an adjacent barn and other building.

State College Chancellor J. W. Harrison, who estimated the damage at between $46,000 and $50,000, said he believed it was unlikely the fire had any connection with what is thought to have been attempts to burn college property twice during the past 30 days.

No Sales Tax On Movie Popcorn; Bingo 'Gambling'

Raleigh, Nov. 25—(AP)—Peanuts and popcorn sold in stores and theaters are not subject to state sales tax, Attorney General Harry McMullan says.

In a list of opinions released today, McMullan held that neither is classed as a "confectionery" since they are not prepared with fruits or sugar, and therefore are not subject to the tax.

In another opinion, the attorney general said that "under our laws, the game of bingo is considered a gambling game and is unlawful when any money is involved or at stake."

McMullan also said we have no law which requires the embalming of the dead, and this is true whether the body is cremated or buried.

L And M Drivers Warned Time Is Running Short

Although only six more weeks remain for re-issuance of driver's licenses to persons whose last names begin with L and M, Drivers License Examiner Harry L. Martin reported today that drivers in this category have been slow in reporting for their tests.

Recalling the long lines when previous deadlines approached, Martin urged all persons whose surnames begin with the letters L and M and who have not had their licenses renewed to report immediately to the examining station at the Greenville city hall and avoid the last-minute rush.

Any driver whose name begins with L or M who is found without a renewed license after the deadline, December 31, will be subject to prosecution.

Fighting started in the area six days ago.

President Elpidio Quirino said the rebels were dissatisfied with the Nov. 8 election in which he defeated Dr. Jose P. Laurel, whose home Province is Batangas. Some Hukbala-haps, or armed peasants, are believed to be aiding the rebels.

Casualty figures have been withheld.

Police Thwarted Rescue Attempt

Chicago, Nov. 23—(AP)— Police patrolled around the Cook County jail today after thwarting an attempt by two young men to free James Morelli, the "mad dog" killer, who is scheduled to die in the electric chair Saturday.

They said the two men seized near the jail last night admitted that they had been trying since last Monday to aid the doomed Morelli in escaping from the jail.

Morelli already has been granted five stays since he first was sentenced to death last March 19. He was convicted of killing Emil Schmeichel on Dec. 12, 1947, in a shooting orgy in which two other men were killed and two wounded.

Morelli's attorney was seeking a sixth stay at a hearing in federal court on a petition for a writ of habeas corpus filed by his wife, Genevieve.

Officers identified the two men seized last night as Dominic J. Demaria, 20, and Erville Leroy Burdick, 22, friends of Morelli for seven or eight years.

Triplets, Twins In Some Plants

Berkeley, Calif.—(AP)— Tobacco plants have twins and triplets, and at about the same rate as people. A seed that will produce two or three seedlings usually happens about once in every thousand, says Dr. D. R. Cameron, University of California geneticist. Checking some 100,000 seedlings since 1938, Cameron has found 120 twins and 16 triplets.

The rate can be increased, he reports, by selection.

New Population Count For Yemen

Cairo—(AP)— The population of the Kingdom of Yemen in southwest Arabia has reached 4,500,000, a high Yemen official said here.

The isolated Kingdom is one of the least known areas in the world. Most standard reference books had calculated the population at 1,000,000 less than the correct figure, the official said.

'Frogskins' For Quail Hunter

Los Angeles, Nov. 23—(AP)— Cecil E. Travis quail hunt was mighty successful. He not only got his quail, but a handful of frogskins as well.

Travis, an executive of the City Bureau of Power and Light, said he shot a quail back of Ventura, south of Conejo Pass. Then he shot another. When he went to pick it up, he found its head pillowed on a roll of greenbacks—two 20s, a five and a one.

"They had weathered so long that they felt like parchment," he said.

Razor Blades Part Of Elephant's Meal

Hamburg—(AP)— A circus elephant overturned a sweet hawker's stand here, and ate about ten pounds of sweets. The elephant followed this up by eating a travelling kit, stolen from a reporter watching the scene. The kit contained razor blades, a nail file, brushes, soap and a towel, the Hamburg paper "Abendblatt" reported.

Less to the rats— More to help Feed the Nation

with CONCRETE FARM BUILDINGS

With need for every pound of food produced, the nation cannot afford the loss of millions of dollars in feed, chicks and eggs destroyed each year by rats.

Rats can be controlled—with the aid of concrete. Ratproof and sanitary, fireproof and thrifty... concrete is particularly well suited for granaries, poultry and hog houses, barn and feeding floors, milk houses and cooling tanks, manure pits and other structures needed for increased food production.

There is no shortage of concrete materials for farm construction, repairs and improvements.

Concrete farm buildings are moderate in first cost. They offer sanitation, fireproof and life-time service at low annual cost.

What a whale of a difference when Oil does it all!

WHAT DO WE MEAN when we say that in Dynaflo Drive* "oil does it all"?

Simply that in Dynaflo Drive, the spinning of oil in the Dynaflo unit does what you have long needed shifting gears to accomplish. For instance—

Here you are starting out. In most cars, you have to throw out a clutch and shift into low gear to get starting power. In Dynaflo, you simply set your lever in Driving position—and nudge the gas treadle.

Does that mean you never shift at all? Not quite.

For emergency braking power, for starts on very steep hills with heavy loads, for rocking out of sand or snow, you may occasionally change to Emergency Low range. This simply puts the entire Dynaflo operation into an extra powerful range.

Oil spins in a sealed drum to give you all the power needed for starting—but there's no transmission gear-whine whatever.

Now you are beginning to move. In most cars, you shift manually—into second, then third—each time repeating that press-the-pedal-move-the-lever routine.

With Dynaflo, oil simply spins in a different path within the Dynaflo unit and you move into cruising pace easy as a bird taking off.

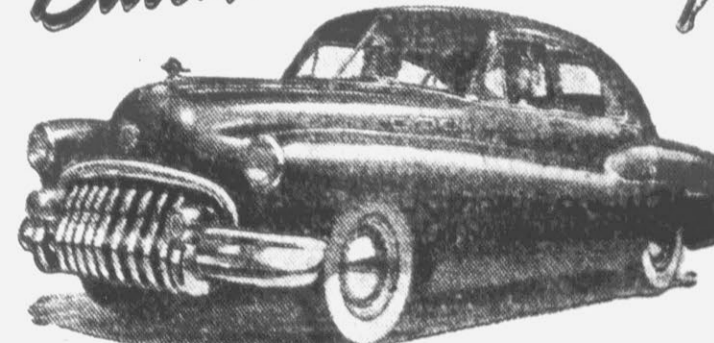

Here's a slow-moving vehicle you want to pass. In other cars you may have to shift again—with a definite loss of forward motion. That means a lag before you get action—and maybe another shift back into high after you have passed.

Not so with Dynaflo. Just step on the throttle, and spinning oil takes the path to give you extra power for passing. Response is as fast as engine response—practically instantaneous.

Vanceboro Team Takes 6-0 Win Over Swansboro

Vanceboro, Nov. 24—Vanceboro's Farm Life High football team defeated Swansboro, 6-0, here Wednesday afternoon. It was the final game of the season for Coach Daniel Drew's charges. The club ended with a 5-5 mark and nailed down third place in the new Coastal Conference.

Joe Lewis climaxed a 55-yard drive by plunging off tackle for four yards and the game's only score in the second period. A pass for the extra point failed. The winners had touchdowns in the third and fourth quarters called back because of rules infractions.

Fullback Ernest Boyd and Quarterback Oliver Arthur were outstanding for the winners. Tackle McRoy Whitford and Guard Bill Wetherington played good games in the line. For Swansboro, Quarterback Webb, Halfback Dunn, and End Phillips were outstanding.

Most Valuable

New York, Nov. 25—(AP)—The Boston Red Sox may have failed to win the American League pennant but they possess the circuit's most valuable player in Ted Williams.

The brilliant batting star, whose team lost the flag to the New York Yankees on the final day of the season, gained some measure of revenge when he defeated the world champions' Phil Rizzuto and Joe Page for the coveted prize.

Spirits High For Army-Navy Game

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 25—(AP)—Three thousand midshipmen, burning up with "beat Army" fever, exploded over the grip, gray walls of the naval Academy last night and jolted the townspeople with navy fight songs, yells and cheer.

Up to the pep rally last night, the usual navy enthusiasm hadn't been too obvious. But by the time the town had quieted down, there wasn't an Annapolitan who didn't have the word.

The rally at Hubbard Hall wasn't enough. They had a lot more steam to blow off. So on they marched to the home of the Academy Superintendent, Rear Arm. James L. Holloway, Jr.

The Admiral had noble words. Beat Army? "It can and shall be done," he ordered. Then he told the midshipmen they could "tell it to the town."

They did.

A solid stream of blue and gold poured out the Academy's three gates. Many scaled the 12-foot high walls.

Down the "main stem" of this usually quiet community they marched.

"Anchors Aweigh," "Navy Blue and Gold" and numerous cheers echoed among the buildings that General Washington used to ride by.

Farmville Squad Concluded Grid Season With Win

Farmville—Coach Elbert Moye's Farmville high school football charges closed out their 1949 campaign with a 19-7 victory over Scotland Neck here Wednesday night.

The win was number six for Farmville against three losses.

Halfback Claude Tyson, playing his last game with Farmville, scored one touchdown and passed to Karl King for another. Tyson had a 70-yard touchdown run nullified by a penalty.

The opening score came when Tyson rifled a 35 yard aerial to King which connected for a touchdown. Randolph Allen hit King with another pass for the extra point to give Farmville a second quarter 7-0 lead.

Fullback Harry Albritton, who bore the brunt of Farmville's offensive bulled his way over from the two yard line to climax a 45-yard touchdown march in the third period.

In the last quarter Tyson rammed over from the two to score Farmville's last touchdown of the year and end a 75 yard march to paydirt.

With time running out, Scotland Neck wingback Walston slipped through from the four on a neat reverse. Fullback Wilkinson went over for the extra point.

Farmville put on one of its greatest aerial exhibitions of the year by completing 10 of 13 pass attempts.

Guards Henry Tyson and Ray Flora and Tackle George Wooten paced the Farmville forward wall.

MIDGETS COMPETE

Easton, Pa., Nov. 25—(AP)—Five midget football teams are on hand today for a round-robin competition leading up to the Piggy Bank Bowl game.

Coach Bill Dole is mighty proud of his East Carolina Pirates, and so are Pirate fans. With their 6-2 victory over their arch-rival, ACC, the Pirates ended the season with a record of four victories, five defeats, and one tie. Their record for the North State Conference was one victory, four defeats, and one tie.

Under the guiding hands of Coach Bill Dole, the Pirates opened their season by winning their first game in two years by beating Cherry Point Marines 24-0.

On the following week the Pirates surprised the Conference by losing a 21-20 battle to four-touchdown favorite Lenoir-Rhyne. Following a 20-7 defeat by Hampden-Sydney and a 33-7 loss to Elon, the Pirates lost a hard fought game to Conference Champion WCTC 19-6.

Dole's squad bounced back to win their next two games. They beat Newport News Apprentices 26-21, and swamped the Edenboro Flyers 67-0. Then they lost a see-saw battle to Appalachian 35-18. The Pirates rounded out their season by a 26-26 tie with High Point and a 6-2 victory over ACC.

The Pirates scored 207 points via 32 touchdowns and 15 conversions. Jack Benzie, right halfback, led the scoring with seven touchdowns. Bill Darby, left halfback, scored five touchdowns; Dwight Shoe, right end, and Ed Tanner, left end, each scored four touchdowns. Mike Kovach, right halfback, scored three times; and Frank Maennie and Johnny Smith, fullbacks, and Doug Bryant and Billy Smith, right halfbacks, each scored twice. Bobby Grady, fullback, scored once for the Pirates and Jim Danks, righthalf converted 15 times.

Roger Thrift, All-Conference quarterback, completed 77 passes out of 182 attempts for 1308 yards and 13 touchdowns. Richard Siler, quarterback, completed four passes out of four attempts for 64 yards and one touchdown. Thus the Pirates ended their season with a passing record of 81 completion of 186 attempts for 1372 yards and 16 touchdowns, and a net yardage gained on the ground of 1493 yards.

Bauer hit on all six of as many attempted field goals. Guthrie hit on four for four.

Chapel Hill, Nov. 25—(AP)—The University of North Carolina's second annual Thanksgiving Invitational swimming meet continued here today.

Preliminaries were slated through the day with the finals in six events scheduled to be run off tonight.

The one opening event run off last night was won by Bob Caffrey, Miami (Fla) University star, who set a new record time of 20.20.8 for the 1,500-meter race.

Sonny Russell, a freshman forward from New Bern, scored 15 points to take high scoring laurels for the Buccaneers. But the scoring was equally divided as it was in the Pirates' first game. Bauer had 13 points and Big Jack Everton contributed 11.

It was Cooper, the Apprentices' center who kept the Buccaneers in constant danger. He tossed in six field goals and as many free shots to score 18 points and lead the night's point making.

Hopkins, a guard, made 16 points for Newport News.

5 Extra Periods And 123 Fouls In Cage Contest

New York, Nov. 25—(AP)—How's this for a basketball game? Five extra periods. A final score of 125-123. A total of 123 fouls.

It happened last night at Syracuse in the National Basketball Association where the Syracuse Nationals finally downed the Anderson Packers after nearly four hours of exhaustive effort.

You could hardly shake a drum stick at the new NBA records. All but one of the Packers were charged with the legal limit of six fouls. Minneapolis' high scoring mark of 121 last Sunday was wiped out. The league records for scoring by two teams was topped. A crowd of 6,821 sitting-stuffed fans worked it off, sitting and standing—sitting and standing.

THERE OUGHTA BE A LAW!

Chapter 5
 The partition doorway framed the figure of a heavy-set man clad in a suit-and-pepper-worsted suit. Bunking square behind him and peering over his shoulder behind a man with a brick-colored, smooth-shaven countenance.

"Howdy, Larry!" he greeted Hackett. "So the wren who phoned headquarters was right."

"Hello, Lavin!" Hackett returned, then said to the other: "How are you, Sarge?"

Detective Inspector John Lavin, the wheel-horse of the homicide squad, was in his middle fifties. Shrewd, intelligent, possessing a profound knowledge of Boston's seamy side, he commanded the respect of the police force, the press, and the populace, including the predatory citizens themselves.

"I suppose everything here is just as you found it, Larry," he said now, gazing at the body.

Not to be disregarded the watchman chimed in. "I'm the one who found it, and I'm the one who phoned you. My name is Cahill—Francis X."

Lavin nodded at him. "Your call came in right after the woman," he said, then faced the newsmen. "How come, Larry, you're in on this?"

Hackett was reluctant to speak freely in the night watchman's presence. "Oh, I was out for an airing," he began.

"He was traipsing after a dame," Lavin nodded.

Standing at the front door, Hackett peered intently down the dark street. "Cahill phoned Scott, who I think is now passing the lighted drug store at the corner and coming this way."

"Douse the light up in front here," Lavin instructed. "We'll see what kind of approach Scott makes."

Hackett pushed an electric-light button in the door-jamb, extinguishing all the shop lights save the one in the back room. Then he concealed himself behind the Victorian highboy. Lavin hid himself behind a nearby canopy chair.

Holy City Slowly Returns To Peace And Prosperity

Jerusalem, Nov. 25—(AP)—After years of terror, rebellion and war, the city of peace is teeming with life again.

Although the Arab-Jewish war literally cut it into halves—the modern Jewish section and the smaller Arab held old city—Jerusalem is flourishing.

The fact that the postwar future of Jerusalem as a whole has not yet been discussed by the U. N. General Assembly has not prevented Jerusalem from starting to rebuild what has been destroyed.

Dr. Daniel Auster, Mayor of the Jewish part of the city, estimates the population of that section at 100,000. He said that a post-siege decrease of 20,000 last year has been made up by returnees (including about 3,000 Israeli government officials and their families and new immigrants).

There are no exact figures available on the number of civilian inhabitants in the Arab-held old city. Estimates by foreign consuls who are permitted to cross the Armistice Demarcation lines vary from 20,000 to 40,000.

Nearly all the Jews agree that the Palestine conciliation commission (PCC) proposal for an international regime in Jerusalem as a still-born child.

Dr. Auster is sure the U. N. will confirm the present De Facto inclusion of the modern part of Jerusalem in the Jewish state. He believes the U. N. will recognize that leaves the U. N. will recognize that the PCC proposal "is not only historically unjust and unrealistic, but also unworkable."

Once the "no internationalism" green light is flashed by the UN Mayor Auster expects the Israel government will move from Tel Aviv to Jerusalem.

A Story Of . . .

He always remained a man of the people. He even refused a commission to execute figures to decorate one of the royal palaces in Vienna, although greatly to his reputation as an artist. Political and artistic freedom were his by-words.

Just before the first world war he went to Paris to study, and there became a friend of Rodin, who was loud in his praise. From then on his name increasingly ran around the world.

He returned to Yugoslavia and did many public monuments for his country. He became rector of the Academy of Art at Zareb. Then came the second world war. He was imprisoned, but finally with the help of the Vatican he got away to Switzerland.

When the war was over Yugoslavia had lost her freedom to communism. So he felt that he couldn't return home, instead he came to America and undertook work at Syracuse University.

That brings us up to the very natural question of just why Tito keeps pressing for Mestrovic to return to Yugoslavia. Has the Marshal anything up his sleeve? It strikes me personally that it's a fair guess. Tito wants Mestrovic back because he is the outstanding figure in the country's field of art. The sculptor is a Yugoslav institution in himself. The nation can't spare him.

I have no idea how Mestrovic himself feels about Tito. I do know that the sculptor is smart and knows his way about. In due course he presumably will decide whether he will return to his beloved home.

give arms to our friends in Europe to stop the Communists."

"That's what it says here the publisher says. 'It says we're going to start giving them pretty soon'."

"Oh, I'd like to see it," the little man said, forgetting that he didn't want to see it but only wanted to sit still, feeling warm and fine and rested.

He read the story and read to the story about the war in China. Away down in that story—somehow it didn't make the headlines—the little man read twice, for the story said:

"An indication came from the Communists in Peiping that Red fighting would be intensified in surrounding nations as their control over China is broadened and tightened."

"Liu-Shao-Chi, one of the three most powerful men in the Red Regime, declared in a broadcast speech that 'national liberation armies

Six Grass Fires Here Yesterday

The Greenville Fire Department spent a busy Thanksgiving Day yesterday, as the department answered six calls for fires in the city.

Greenville firemen stated this morning that they were in and out of the station answering call to fires in different parts of the city from 10 o'clock yesterday morning until late in the evening.

The first in a series of fires firemen were called to, was a grass fire in front of Brady's Double N near the railroad tracks. Firemen said that a passing train probably was the cause of the fire. At the time that one truck was fighting the blaze across the river, another grass fire along the railroad tracks was reported near the water and light plant.

Returning from the two calls, the firemen received telephone calls from W. C. Paul, Norris Street, Greenville, stating that a grass fire was getting away from him and that he wanted the fire department to put it out. A lot on 1504 Pitt Street was also burned off by the firemen during the evening.

Shortly after 2:30 the fire department was again called to fight a fire in the grass and woods, this time across from Respass barbecue place. The fire had gained such headway that an alarm had to be pulled calling in the volunteer firemen. The fire which did considerable damage to the woods and the railroad cross ties was brought under control about four o'clock.

100-Day Fast Is Fatal For Percy

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 25—Percy Coplon, who started on a 100-day fast Aug. 25, died today.

A jocular five-by-five at the start, Percy had gone 92 days without food, his weight had dropped to 245 pounds.

He was 53.

Coplon spent most of the fast in a small house on top of a 30-foot pole at his home. Last Sunday he came down because of dizziness, saying he would finish his 100-day fast in his home.

His dizziness diminished and Percy was in good spirits yesterday. He lapsed into unconsciousness just before midnight, however, and fell to the floor in his bathroom.

Two physicians worked over him but he died during the night.

Percy told reporters at the start of his fast that he hoped to prove that the human body can heal itself without medicine if it is given the chance. He said he was not undertaking the long fast to gain publicity.

As his waistline receded, Percy joked with reporters. He had announced he would begin taking food next week, starting with a spoon of orange juice.
