

John L. Lewis Reinstates 3-Day Work Week In Mines

Action Effective December 5; Authorizes Making Separate Contracts With Each Coal Company; Averts Possible Government Intervention

New York, Dec. 1—(AP)—John L. Lewis today reinstated the three day work week in hard and soft coal mines across the country beginning Monday, December 5.

The work-week will be Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, as it was all summer.

Lewis authorized the making of separate contracts with each coal company, abandoning the recent policy of striving for nationwide contracts.

The policy was approved by the 300-man United Mine Workers committee which has been standing by here all week and which allowed a truce to expire at midnight without moving to stop a new walk-out.

Following is the resolution adopted by the policy committee:

"1—Effective Monday, December 5, and continuing thereafter until further notice all mine workers will work only the first three days of each week, namely, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Only the irreducible minimum of maintenance work will be permitted on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. This applies to all bituminous coal mines in the United States and all anthracite mines within the jurisdiction of Districts 1, 7, 9 and 26.

"2—The executive officers and scale representatives are authorized to make wage contracts with any or all individual coal companies. When such contracts are negotiated the three day work operating limitation becomes non-effective.

"3—The president of the International Union and his official associates are hereby instructed to administer effectively this policy and are given discretionary authority to meet any requirement of principle or detail presented in the course of its administration.

"4—The resolution speaks for itself and there will be no amplification.

Lewis first mentioned the possibility of invoking a three-day work week at the UMW convention a year ago. He said then that employment in the industry should be stabilized "and if there is three days' work, we'll all work three days."

"If we are going to starve, we'll all starve together," he told 3,000 delegates to that convention in Cincinnati.

Last July 1, Lewis scrapped his "no-contract, no-work" policy by putting the three-day week into operation and extended the old agreement.

On September 19 the miners walked out saying they were starting a "no-day work week." Lewis authorized anthracite miners, chiefly in eastern Pennsylvania, and soft coal miners west of the Mississippi, to return to work but the 380,000 other soft coal miners stayed on strike until Lewis and his policy committee called a truce November 9.

Lewis' strategy is in the form of a compromise because it keeps the coal miners at work before Christmas, reducing the threat of a revolt among the coal diggers who have been reported in several states to be grumbling about meager earnings this year.

Lewis also staved off government intervention, which he has professed to dislike, because as long as the mines can produce coal for three days each week the chance of creating an emergency is remote.

Jolt To World Peace

Cominform's Scheme To Unhinge Tito And Reverberations; Explosive Situation If Troops Cross Yugoslav Border; Announcement Similar To War Manifesto

World peace has received another jolt as the result of the Soviet Cominform's call to Communists in all countries to join in a wholesale effort to unseat rebellious Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia.

The Cominform—successor to the Comintern, or General Staff for World Revolution—has disclosed details of its program. However, foreign diplomatic quarters in New York say they have received reports that an anti-Tito coup is planned for sometime between Christmas and Easter.

This scheme is said to call for a revolt in Yugoslavia. That would be followed up by a call from the leaders of the rebellion for help from orthodox Communists in neighboring Hungary and Romania.

The crossing of guerrilla troops from a foreign country into Yugoslavia obviously would create a terribly explosive situation.

British Minister of State Hector McNeill gave the Cominform move a hot shot in the United Nations assembly yesterday—the first time, by the way, the subject has been brought up in that body. He was discussing the recent Soviet peace-speeches and, remarked that the Cominform attack was "most remarkable" for a peace campaign, adding: "It is more like a war manifesto than a peace manifesto."

Be that as it may, Moscow's anxiety over Titoism is understandable. It is a great threat against orthodox Communism, which provides that all Red countries surrender their sovereignty to Moscow. Tito, of course while subscribing to Marxist Communism, is a red-hot nationalist who refuses to surrender Yugoslavia's sovereignty to anybody.

The Cominform charges that the capital of Belgrade has become the nerve center of a counter-revolutionary movement against Red countries, as well as a center of American espionage and anti-Communist propaganda. In short Russia claims that Tito is trying to destroy the Soviet conception and substitute his new brand of Nationalist Communism in the satellite countries.

Whether the two-listed marshal has any such sweeping project in mind remains to be seen. He certainly has not.

German-Russian Peace Treaty Seen Next Year

State Dept. Says Russia May Make German Pact, Withdraw Troops; Treaty Would Be With With New Satellite Republic

Washington, Dec. 1—(AP)—The State Department Bulletin said today Russia may make a German peace treaty and withdraw its occupation troops from Germany sometime next year.

The treaty would be made with Russia's new satellite "German Democratic Republic." The Soviets sponsored this set-up in October, paralleling the creation of the new Western German state under American-British-French sponsorship.

The Bulletin is an official publication of the State Department. This is the first time that speculation on dramatic new moves by the Russians in their play for Germany has gained such official recognition.

The speculation was set forth in an article by Henry B. Cox, a State Department expert on German political affairs. The article reviewed the establishment of the Soviet-supported East German state.

"Soviet authorities have announced the transfer of administrative functions heretofore handled by the Soviet military administration to the newly created people's chamber," it said. "The 'Soviet control commission' now replaces the Soviet military administration.

"Indications also point to the Soviets concluding possibly a separate peace treaty with their newest satellite and withdrawing Soviet occupation troops within a year."

Actually State Department officials have expected a Russian move on the occupation issue in Germany—for many months.

Chiang Resumes Command In War On Communists

Chiang Kai-shek was back today in command of Nationalist China's fight against the Communists. He took over shortly after arriving in this new refugee capital from fallen Chungking.

The confused, travel-weary Nationalist government still was trying to set up shop in its fourth capital this year when the Communists announced he was resuming direction of operations against the Reds.

Chiang made the move, his office said in a statement, as head of the Nationalist Emergency Council. The statement said he had no intention—at the moment—of resuming the presidency he gave up last January.

But high sources predicted he would do that, too, before long.

One of the generalissimo's first moves was to call in other Nationalist leaders to discuss measures for checking the Red tide flooding into southwestern China.

The Communists took Chungking yesterday. The takeover apparently was swift. The signal that the Reds had completely occupied the city of 1,000,000 persons came at 8:30 last night.

This was a formal announcement by the Telecommunications Bureau that service to Chungking was suspended.

(Hong Kong newspapers gave the picture of Chungking's transfer to Communist rule. It was in the classic pattern of many a Nationalist city, including the former capitals of Nanking and Canton.)

(The Nationalists pulled out. A local committee was set up. It met the Reds when all was clear and welcomed them to the city.)

German Nationalism Rising Say Officials

High Commission Survey Group Finds They Are Becoming More Vocal With Lessening Of Allied Military Controls

Frankfurt, Germany, Dec. 1—(AP)—American officials showed increasing concern today over the question of rising German nationalism.

U. S. high commissioner John J. McCloy said last night there has been "some rise" in Nationalistic tendencies in western Germany. But he declared he was not certain whether the increase was more than could be expected.

A high commission survey group basing its report on a poll of 3,800 Germans, found today that Nationalists are becoming more vocal with the lessening of allied military controls.

The group reported some politicians were "beating drums" to gather Nationalist sympathy but that there was no evidence of any general upsurge of the Nazi-type thinking among the rank and file.

Earlier McCloy had said he assumed there were "areas and groups still motivated by Nationalism in its sinister sense"—meaning Nazism—as distinguished from healthy patriotism.

Some American officials have privately expressed concern at the increase of Nazi-type publications, particularly in Bavaria, throughout Germany.

There also has been increased stirrings by such groups as the Nazi party who is now in exile in Canada. Strasser's appeal for return to Germany has been rejected by the British.

A so-called "neutral movement," including a mixture of right and left wingers from both east and west Germany, is also appealing to German Nationalism in a campaign for unification of Germany.

Germany Nationalists and neo-Nazi elements have moved more brazenly into the open.

Five-State Body To Take Up Leaf Marketing Issue

Will Study Marketing Problems That Stumped Warehouse Association

Raleigh, N. C., Dec. 1—(AP)—A five-state committee to study the problems of marketing fine-cured tobacco was set up at a meeting here today.

Those attending the session, called to study the tobacco marketing situation, unanimously adopted a resolution calling for a committee to give the problem further study and prepared recommendations for solving it.

The committee would be composed of one representative of the Grange and the farm bureau in each of the five states that grow fine-cured tobacco, one representative of the leaf tobacco export dealers association, and one from the bright belt warehouse association.

The five states are Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia and Florida.

Problems to be studied by the committee would include: Opening of new tobacco markets, addition of sales to existing markets, opening of new markets and regulations on price of sales, hours of sales, and weights of piles sold.

Recommendations of the committee would be submitted to each of the groups represented on the committee for action.

During the current marketing season the bright belt warehouse association attempted to regulate the auction markets, however it met failure when it attempted to handle the rump sale situation.

This problem arose when several North Carolina markets attempted to increase their number of sales.

The association's board of governors ruled that no warehouse could conduct a sale unless an adequate number of buyers was present.

The U. S. Supreme Court, however, ruled the association's membership had not given the board power to ban these so-called rump sales.

Jaycees To Give Award Of Honor

To Select 'Young Man Of The Year' For Civic Service

President Louis W. Gaylord, Jr. of the Greenville Junior Chamber of Commerce announced today the local Jaycees will present the Man of the Year award to the person chosen by Greenville civic organizations for the most distinguished service to the community during 1949.

Allan Powell, chairman of the Jaycees distinguished service award committee, said all Greenville civic clubs will be contacted next week and asked to submit the name of an outstanding young man for the award, and list the qualifications of their candidate.

To be eligible for the award, the man must be at least 21 years old, and not over 35.

The award will be presented at the Junior Chamber of Commerce meeting on February 12.

The award was last made in Greenville year before last, but the selection of the Young Man of the Year was not undertaken by the organization as one of its projects last year.

Serving on the Jaycees distinguished service award committee this year are Chairman Allan Powell, J. B. Kittrell, Jr., George Shoe, Ralph Garrett, Jr., John Lautares and Ford McGowan.

"The people are so aware of the nation's progress both at home and abroad under Democratic leadership that I think they will give it their approval in the 1950 elections," Kerr said.

"At the same time, they are so unaware of any constructive effort by the opposition as to be even less impressed than usual with that opposition."

Kerr didn't put it into words but there was evidence that he believes along with some other Democrats that things look a little too good politically for their party.

Some of them frankly, if privately, are afraid the Democrats may fall into the over-confidence trap they say was sprung on Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York and the Republicans in the 1948 presidential election.

Some Now Fear Over-Confidence

Demo Chances In Next Year's Vote Look 'Too Good'

Washington, Dec. 1—(AP)—Democratic chances in next year's congressional elections look so good to some party members they are worrying about over-confidence.

That was the plain implication today in a sum-up of the political situation given a reporter by Senator Kerr (D-Okla.). Kerr is a former governor and national convention keynoter who keeps his eye on the national barometer.

"The people are so aware of the nation's progress both at home and abroad under Democratic leadership that I think they will give it their approval in the 1950 elections," Kerr said.

40 Years Ago Today

THE DAILY REFLECTOR

December 1, 1909

It has been a remarkably dry fall, and if the old saying that it must even up before winter is through holds good, there will likely be much rain after Christmas.

From present indications, when Greenville finishes the work on Evans street from Five Points southward it is going to be another good object lesson of proper grading and sand-clay road building.

Some other markets may get ahead of Greenville in the number of pounds of tobacco sold, but we have yet to see a report of one that comes up to the average price paid here.

The receipts of the Greenville Post Office for the month of November were $596.41.

Work with china in her chosen pattern. Miss Reagan received many lovely gifts.

Mrs. B. M. Reagan, Mrs. R. C. Abee, Sr., Mrs. Tracy Jordan, Miss Jane Broadwell and Mrs. R. W. Drawdy joined the guests for refreshments.

Mrs. Spilman Speaks Before Chatham Club

The Chatham Book club met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. A. Bendall on Biltmore street. Artistic arrangements of flowers were used throughout the house.

Mrs. Bryan Brown, president of the club, presided over a short business session. The members were invited to attend the business to be held at the Episcopal church Thursday, December 1.

At the conclusion of the business, Mrs. Brown turned the meeting over to the chairman of the program committee, Mrs. Carl Adams, who introduced Mrs. J. B. Spilman, recently returned from a six weeks tour of Europe. Mrs. Spilman gave a very interesting and educational talk on conditions and places seen on her tour.

After the program the hostess assisted by Mrs. Con Lanier and Mrs. Durwood Tucker, served a delicious salad course with coffee. The guests for the afternoon were Mrs. J. B. Spilman and Mrs. J. E. Long.

Ballard's X Roads News

Rev. L. W. Topping of the First Presbyterian church in Greenville closed a most successful revival meeting in the Ballard church last Friday evening. The sermons were inspirational, informative and evangelistic.

The song services, led by C. F. Baucum of Farmville, were fine and an asset to the church services.

During these services James R. Crawford, Eva Lee Dunn, Carol Lloyd, Mrs. Dalton Williams, Ethel Sugg, and Dupree Toier came into the church on profession of faith and by baptism; John Flanagan, Mrs. Ethel Sugg and Mrs. Annie O'Neal on restatement of their faith and by a church letter; Mrs. William Crawford, Mrs. A. L. Hudson, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Lloyd and Mrs. Preston Lloyd.

Dedication Program of Ballard's Presbyterian Church The Rev. D. D. Gillespie, D. D., of Greensboro will preach the dedicatory sermon at 11:30.

Sunday school will meet at 10:30. Worship service begins at 11 o'clock.

A picnic lunch will be served at the church at 1 o'clock. The afternoon service will begin at 2:15.

Rev. H. M. Wilson and Rev. Howard J. Dudley, D. D., and others will be on the program. Everybody is invited to come and bring lunch, and have a day of fellowship together.

Funeral Friday For Mrs. Geo. Robinson

Mrs. Queenie Robinson, 72, widow of George W. Robinson, died at her home in Winterville at 7:15 o'clock Wednesday night after having been critically ill for several days. Grave services will be held in the Winterville cemetery at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon by the Rev. Walter B. Nobles, Free Will Baptist minister of Winterville, assisted by the Rev. D. W. Alexander of near Bethel.

Mrs. Robinson was born in Ayden and spent nearly all her life in Pitt County. She was married to George W. Robinson in 1896, and he died on March 8, 1948. She was a member of the Winterville Free Will Baptist church.

Surviving are two sons: Floyd G. Robinson of the home and William Arthur Robinson of near Winterville; two half-brothers: Jesse Harris of Norfolk and Albert Harris of Greenville; a half-sister, Mrs. Effie Tripp of near Winterville; ten grandchildren, and one great grandchild.

Plan 'Sitdown' At Washington To Get Action

Long Beach, Calif., Dec. 1—(AP)—The wives of two servicemen held by the Chinese Communists since October of 1948 plan to stage a "sitdown" in Washington until something is done about their release.

So declared one of the wives, Mrs. Ruby Smith, yesterday. She said she and the other wife, Mrs. Elmer C. Bender, who is in Chicago, are keeping in touch by telephone and letters.

"We are going to Washington together the first of the year," said Mrs. Smith. "I don't know who we will see, but we're going to sit there until they do something."

The husbands, Navy Chief Electrician William C. Smith of Long Beach and Marine Master Sgt. Elmer C. Bender of Cincinnati, have been held by the Communists since the forced landing of their planes in Red territory.

Mrs. Bender told the Los Angeles Mirror by telephone that the only word she has received about her husband was from marine buddies who said he was unharmed and from Nationalist undercover agents who reported that both men were alive and well cared for.

Mrs. Bender said she has written President Truman, senators, congressmen, the marines, State Department, missionaries and even the Communists and Mme. Sun Yat-sen in Peiping.

Mrs. Bender has received many replies, she added, "all very nice, but they don't say anything." Mrs. Smith has two young sons and Mrs. Bender a daughter, Kathy, four.

Preferred Trial To Blackmiling

San Francisco, Dec. 1—(AP)—A former Detroit man's dislike of blackmailers and faith in American court justice has paid off.

Wanted for a 1916 slaying in Detroit, Thomas Karakatsanis came here 33 years ago. He changed his name, married, raised a family, and started what proved to be a successful business.

Everything went well with him—until a stranger came and demanded $1,500 to keep quiet about the 33 year old killing.

Karakatsanis decided he would rather face trial than submit to a blackmailer.

He turned himself over to local police. They checked with Detroit. Karakatsanis was wanted all right—for shooting and killing one Mike Hadjopoulos in a brawl in February of 1916.

But Detroit police reported everybody connected with the case—detectives, witnesses and other officials—are all dead. Even the scene of the crime has been rebuilt.

Consequently the officials declined to bring Karakatsanis back for trial.

In telling the story Police Inspector Tom Cahill declined to reveal Karakatsanis' present name.

Economy Call

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 1—(AP)—Secretary of the Navy Matthews thinks government expenses, including military items, must be pared because the taxpayer is "burdened beyond endurance."

"The taxpayer cannot be further squeezed for revenue without dangerously impairing his productive capacity and gravely threatening extinguishment of the nation's life," Matthews said last night at closing sessions of the annual meeting of the Navy League.

Despite cutbacks in the Navy program, Matthews said this country is still "much stronger than all the rest of the world in its seapower." He added, however, that the Navy could use more aircraft carriers "in the opinion of many of us."

Strength FOR THE DAY

A FALSE IDOL Francis Bacon, who was born in the year 1561 and died in the year 1626, possessed one of the most influential intellects in human history.

Yet he was one of the greatest rogues that ever lived. He was both treacherous and dishonest. Lord Bacon gave him his start in life, yet when Essex fell from favor, Bacon pounced upon him and conducted the prosecution which sent Essex to the block.

Two lessons seem to be taught by his distinguished but inglorious life. The first is that thieves, no matter how much they steal, usually die poor. The second is that brains are never enough to make a man successful.

Our own generation, which tends to worship intellect — even more than it worships wealth — should ponder the career of Francis Bacon.

PUBLIC FORUM

Discussing problems of interest to this community. In all cases names must accompany any communication.

A few days ago there appeared in our local paper an article concerning time for closing the stores at Christmas. It is very gratifying to note that our Merchants' Association is more concerned with their employees' keeping Christmas at home rather than keeping their stores open for such late hours that their clerks will be too exhausted to feel in their hearts the true meaning of Christmas.

About a year ago a committee from the Greenville Council of Church Women appeared before the Board of Directors of the Merchants' Association and made the request that our stores close earlier on Christmas Eve, thus giving all people a like opportunity to be at home with their families and getting ready to celebrate Christ's birthday.

We as church women are very grateful that this forward step has been taken in our community and not knowing what other communities are doing about it we hope that the Greenville Merchants' Association is setting an example that they might follow, and that Christian people may realize more fully that Christmas is a time for families to be together at home and worship together in the church of their choice.

PROBATION — The North Carolina probation system ended its eleventh year of probation on October 31. The system was authorized by the general assembly of 1927 to go into effect July 1 of that year. The bill provided that no judge should place a convicted person on probation prior to October 1, and actually none were placed until November 1. Since that time a total of 19,876 persons have been placed on probation, of whom 14,868 have been removed from rolls because of expiration, revocation, termination or death.

RACE AND SEX — The active probationers are distributed as to race and sex as follows: 4,524 men of whom 2,774 are white, 1,704 Negro and 46 Indian; 483 women of whom 212 are white, 268 Negro and 3 Indian. More than half (2,858) are first offenders and eighty percent are under 25 years of age. Forty-two men and five women are above 60 years old. Fifty-three probationers have been convicted more than ten times.

OCCUPATIONS — Occupations listed by the offenders run the whole gamut of possible jobs, but more than one-third said they were unemployed at time of conviction. The one preacher included said he was not employed at the time. Leading occupations listed were common labor (1265) and farmer (1155).

OFFENSES — Offenses for which convictions were obtained included almost everything in the law books, from second degree murder down to simple trespass and vagrancy. Larceny led in number of violation with 1108. Assault came next with 872, while breaking and entering accounted for 732. When all the varying degrees of theft — including burglary, robbery, larceny, embezzlement, receiving stolen goods, etc. — are combined they account for more than half the total number of offenses charged against probationers.

EDUCATION — The list includes 30 men and 3 women with college degrees, but a average education level is low. No schooling at all was reported by 174 men and 13 women, while 3,583 men and 355 women said they had not progressed as far as high school.

MARRITAL STATUS — Because of youthful age it is not surprising to find that almost exactly half the probationers have never been married. Almost one third of those who had married are divorced, separated or widowed.

EARNINGS — The brighter side of the picture is found in tabulation of jobs secured and earnings by probationers. Total earnings over the eleven year period amounted to $36,370,395.71, of which $406,792.81 is credited to last month. During this time the probationers have spent $21,444,740.12 for personal living expenses and contributed $623,597.00 to support of dependents. In addition they have paid $502,236.84 in court costs, $298,856.06 in fines, and made restitution in the amount of $653,683.06.

GROWING — Probation was accepted by North Carolina judges with reluctance, but each year adds to its popularity as a method of dealing with persons convicted of crime, but who show prospect of complete rehabilitation as good citizens. Every superior court judge and many county and record-keeping courts have used probation in dealing with offenders in their courts. From a beginning personnel of two or three, including present Director Harris Sample, in 1927 the office has grown into a unit with forty-four employees and an annual appropriation of about $175,000 for its maintenance. Besides the central office staff in Raleigh, occupying the entire first floor east wing of the justice building, there are 13 district supervisors with assistants throughout the state, who keep in constant touch with probationers by means of personal interviews and inspection of living conditions.

When Street told me this paying schedule I thought to myself, "That's a big deal." Ever since I have been paying my bills monthly as usual, but throwing the bank statements in a box and taking them out every six months. This is known as a cheap imitation of a big deal.

Last night was take-out time, so I looked over the old goat feed. Last summer I gave out of pocket-size notebooks and ran into a few column ideas during the time I was out. At the same time I happened to be carrying a check book, so I used it for notes.

In light pencil on the back of a July check that paid my water and light bill is a note: "Check on Dave Whitchard's drawers with ants on them." Just to think that I would have forgotten all about that if I hadn't been looking through those old checks is alarming.

Wife Rachel and I were chaperoning a house party at Morehead and D. J. III walked out with these ants pants on. At first I thought they were drawers, but they turned out to be swimming trunks. Giant red ants seemed to be crawling all over the trunks. I wrote the note to myself for two reasons: (1) column material, and (2) to get some of the things for myself. They are what you might call sharp as a tack. "Where in the world did you get those things?" I asked Dave. "Somebody sent them to me in the mail," he replied.

About that time about forty people from a neighboring cottage came in and I never remembered to ask Dave again. Maybe by next summer I'll find some.

The same checkbook must have been handy when I wrote a note on the radio comedian, Phil Harris. It seems that Phil's brother-in-law walked in the studio and said, "Good morning, Philip." "My name ain't Philip," he replied. "It's Phil, f-i-l."

"How can you be so stupid?" the b-l-i asked. To have the last word Phil said, "I take pills."

As I look back on this experience with checkbooks I wonder why I ever started buying notebooks again. It would be a simple matter to make a trip to the bank every time I need a book for notes. Granted, the bank would begin to wonder what I was doing with so many checkbooks, but I could write many a note while they were wondering. And I thank you.

Somebody Told Me...

By L. J. (JACK) EDWARDS, JR.

James Street, the famous author who now lives in Chapel Hill, has a cedar box on his desk that he calls his worrier. Every time he gets a bill he throws it in the box and leaves it until June or January, whichever comes first. He pays his bills only twice a year, simply because that's how often his agent pays him.

Celebrities can get by with that sort of thing; in fact, having a fellow like James Street for a customer is good advertisement for Chapel Hill firms, even if he is slow pay.

When Street told me this paying schedule I thought to myself, "That's a big deal." Ever since I have been paying my bills monthly as usual, but throwing the bank statements in a box and taking them out every six months. This is known as a cheap imitation of a big deal.

Not them. Granny isn't letting those silver threads flower amon the gold, 'cause grandpappy don't like 'em. They make him feel too old. So off she hikes to the beauty shop and buys herself a Henna Tint.

There are more people in their forties and fifties taking rumba lessons than youngsters in their twenties or thirties. And who keeps the night clubs going well, it isn't the young men with apples in their hands. They haven't the time or money to afford it.

It's the oldtimers, too, who buy the most lotions and war paint and keep the barbers and dentists in clover. They're going to look their best if it busts an artery.

All these antics of the elderly stir a major grade in the hearts of the minors. "Why don't those old fools act their age," they grumble. But this can be put down as plain juvenile resentment. Let 'em wait. They'll have their turn.

Meanwhile, the pasture beyond 60 is greener than it ever was. For the first time in history a real meaning has come to that old saw, "grow old along with me, the best is yet to be."

For grandpa and grandma are having fun—and the time of their lives, and it's a good thing all around. It is the glory of our civilization that the old folks won't be crowded off the scene until they are ready to go.

Washington Letter

Washington—We sat on a bench in the Folger Shakespearean library, while she talked about her career in the theater, the roles she liked to play, her impressions of America. While tourists poked around looking at the rare treasures of the theatre of Shakespeare's time, she treated me unselfishly to one of her unique monologues—dramatic interpretations—"The turn of the screw," by Henry James. It was fascinating.

New Regulations In Effect Today

Raleigh, Dec. 1—(AP)—The Prison Department's new rules and regulations went into effect today. Their major change removes handcuffing from punishments permitted for minor offenses against prison discipline, and limits to 24 hours the time a prisoner may be handcuffed. The old limit was 50 hours.

The new rules were adopted by the commission Monday. Governor Scott, whose approval was necessary, gave his approval to the modified prison code yesterday.

A "dead spot" is an area in which reception of a radio signal is extremely poor or absent.

Comet Without Tail Or Timing Proves Puzzler

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor
Denver.—A tailless comet is puzzling astronomers. Not because it has no tail, but because it doesn't run on time. These celestial expressoes usually arrive on time almost to the second each time they return for a whirl around the sun.

The tailless comet is D'Arrest, named after a French astronomer who discovered it in 1851. It returns each six-and-two-thirds years, but each time a few hours late.

Dr. W. A. Recht, professor of mathematics and astronomy, and director of the Chamberlin Observatory, University of Denver, is watching for D'Arrest's next return, in June 1950, to study the mystery of the little fellow's timing.

D'Arrest is one of a whole family of tailless comets, about 40 in number, all known as Jupiter's family, because this giant planet's gravitational pull is believed to have captured them and made them part of the solar system. There are a number of other families of tailless comets.

How they lost their tails is not certain. But the cause is probably visiting the sun too often. Comets, in elliptical orbits, fly close to the sun once each time around.

A comet's tail appears only when it is close to the sun. The tail is dust and probably gases, forced out of the comet's head by the pressure of sunlight. Presumably some of the dust and gas gets lost, every time a comet sticks out its tail.

This loss is easy to realize when you remember that the lengths of comets' tails are enormous. In one of its visits to the sun the tail of the famous Halley's comet was estimated at 100,000,000 miles. That is farther than from earth to sun.

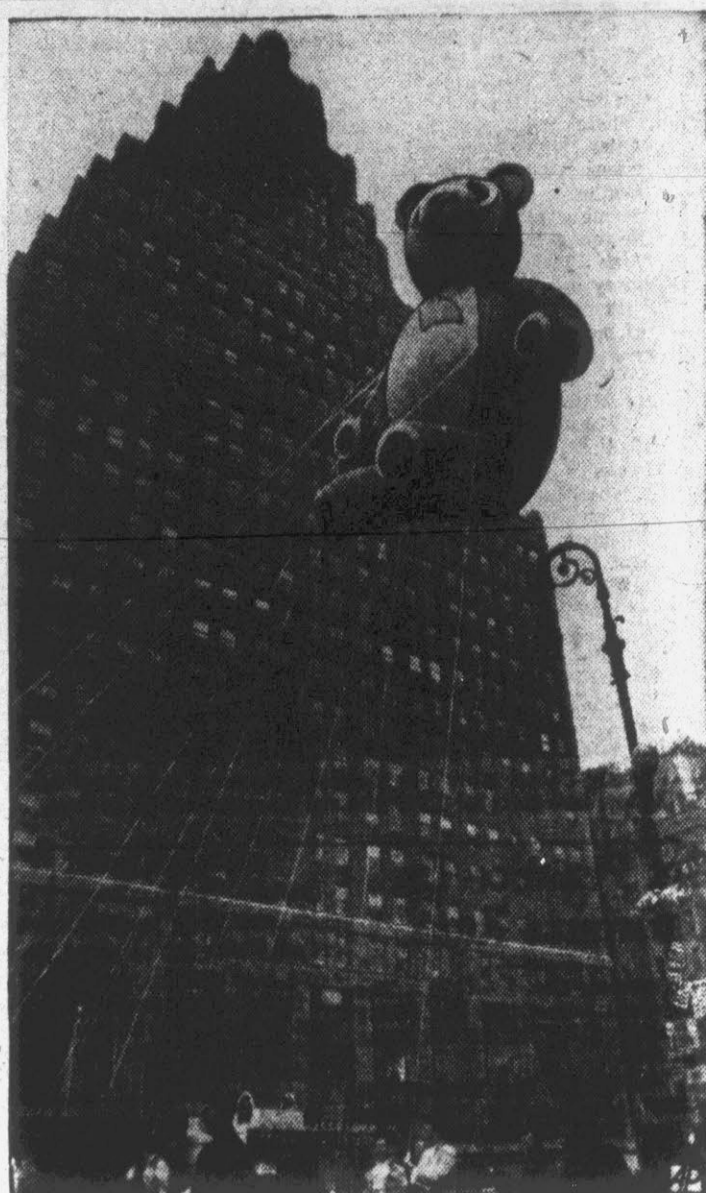

Comets' heads appear to be made of gravel and small stones, so widely separated that if the stones were marbles there would be about a dozen to a cubic mile. The heads may be thousands of miles in diameter.

D'Arrest's irregularity should be due to the gravitational pulls of the planets. But all the known pulls fail to explain.

If it proves that none of the ordinary forces can account for D'Arrest's tardiness, that will be a clue to something new and mysterious. There are, for example, theories that our solar system is expanding. Expansion might explain D'Arrest's delays. Should that be proven, then it would follow that this expansion is having some sort of effect on the earth too.

Revenuers Begin Income Tax Drive On '46 Returns

Raleigh, N. C., Dec. 1.—(AP)—The State Revenue Department is cracking down on persons who did not pay their 1946 income taxes—or who didn't pay enough.

Revenue Commissioner Eugene Shaw said the department's income tax division began its latest drive about a month ago. That's when the 1946 returns were finally processed by the manually operated department.

Shaw said the department found in auditing the 1946 returns "thousands who should have" but who didn't file that year.

"I believe our agents are investigating around 3,000 or 4,000 persons in Winston-Salem," he said in answer to a question. "The same figures told true for Greensboro, Charlotte, and other comparable areas."

Shaw said much of the department's information comes from employers, who must fill out a form telling how much they paid their employees and then send the form to the Revenue Department. However he added, much information also comes from and is obtainable from other sources.

The Revenue Commissioner said the department's agents are contacting those whom the department believes remiss in their 1946 returns. They will be asked to get in touch with the department "and we will assist them in making out their returns," said Shaw. "Where we have to contact a taxpayer—that is, where he doesn't voluntarily file his return—the law automatically exacts a 25 per cent penalty." Other penalties may be added.

Shaw stated, however, his department will be more lenient otherwise for those who file voluntarily before they are contacted.

The income tax division has been in the process of becoming mechanized during the past several months. Shaw said that "where it now takes two or three years to process returns, when we get the mechanized system down pat it will take months."

Hart Mill Hearing Is Rescheduled

Winston-Salem, Dec. 1.—(AP)—A hearing into charges of unfair labor practices against Hart Cotton Mills of Tarboro has been rescheduled for Jan. 4, the NLRB regional office announced here yesterday.

The charges were brought by the CIO - Textile Workers Union of America which called off a six and a half month strike at the mills only last Sunday. The hearing originally was set for Jan. 17.

Funeral Services For Ayden Woman

Funeral services for Mrs. Robert Worthington, 72, who died suddenly of heart trouble at her home in Ayden November 23, were held at the Ayden Christian Church last Friday afternoon. Rev. W. H. Brunson officiated. Burial was in the Ayden cemetery. Pallbearers were C. M. Holton and Herbert Robinson of New Bern, Robert McKinney of Burlington, Monrague McKinney of Greensboro, John Casey of Cherry Point and James Gatlin of Bayboro.

Mrs. Worthington was the daughter of the late John Stanley Rice and Sidney Elizabeth Hudnell Rice. She was first married to Seth Harvey Muse, who died in 1915; she later married Robert Worthington, a surveyor. He died in 1943. One son, Seth Harlan Muse of Ayden and Washington, D.C., survives the first marriage.

Surviving are three sisters Mrs. Emmett English of Stonewall, Mrs. C. O. Armstrong of Norfolk, Va., and Mrs. H. B. Ives of Bayboro; two brothers, Joseph B. Rice of Wilmington and E. Mack Rice of Jackson, Miss.; one stepdaughter, Mrs. W. M. McKinney of Rockville, Md.; three grandchildren, Mrs. W. H. Adams and Mrs. W. H. Shields of Winston-Salem and George Muse of Washington, D.C., and two great-grandchildren.

World's Oldest City Is Dug Up At Desolate Site In Iraq

By FRED J. ZUSY
AP Newsfeatures

Baghdad—Scientists delving into the hidden past of mankind will set to work anew this fall at a desolate site in Iraq reputed to be the oldest city in the world.

The city is Eridu—a temple site said to have been dedicated about 5300 years ago to the worship of the water god, Enki, also known as the god of wisdom.

Dr. Najj Al-Asil, director general of Iraq's antiquities department, says that Enki is believed to have been the first god worshipped by primitive man; at least the first god to whom a temple was dedicated.

The antiquities department began excavating at Eridu two years ago.

Work continued last year, and this season Dr. Al-Asil expects to finish the work.

Eridu investigation has produced several notable finds thus far. Traces have been found of what is believed to be the earliest known building in the world; and a model boat, shaped of clay, has been discovered which is described as the oldest representation of a water craft in the history of man.

The Eridu site is an unusual one. All that was visible when excavation work started was a mass of crude brick work—the ruins of a giant Ziggurat or temple tower, erected during the third dynasty of Ur, about 3000 BC.

But careful investigation revealed that beneath these ruins were the remains of 14 earlier temples—each built on top of the ruins of the one preceding it.

Archaeologists have concluded by pottery and other finds that the buried temples represent a period of 1500 years—with the earliest one probably dating from about 4500 BC.

This detective work into the past of a primitive marsh-dwelling community was a difficult job because the temples to Enki existed before mankind discovered the art of writing. The earliest literary reference to Eridu dates back only to 2900 BC. Even then it was reputed to be the oldest city in the world. In the literature of the Sumerians—whose civilization preceded those of Babylon and Nineveh—the creation of Eridu takes precedence over all other places.

The Sumerian legend of creation, carried on into later millenniums, observed that "all lands were sea, then Eridu was made."

When Eridu was founded the Persian Gulf was believed to have extended as far inland as Eridu. Excavations beneath the 14th and earliest temple have revealed virgin-green sea sand. Today the ruins are in a desolate desert waste with the sea 100 miles or more away.

Traces of fish offerings to Enki were numerous. Beside the earliest temple was found remains of a round oven—similar to ovens used today to bake bread in primitive Iraq communities—believed to have been used for burnt offerings.

Tewkesbury Will Honor Its GIs

Tewkesbury, England—(AP)—The ancient town of Tewkesbury on Shakespeare's Avon, plan half a mile of riverside gardens to be dedicated to the United States.

The project is "in gratitude for the great generosity of the American nation and in remembrance of all those brave men and women who passed through the town to the beaches of France."

The site, selected by a town meeting, will be cleared by townspeople in their spare time. Most of the land and buildings have been donated by the owners. The memorial will be dedicated in 1951.

Explains Desire For DDT Spray

San Francisco—(AP)—When city health director Dr. J. C. Geiger ordered the janitor at the city health center to spray the balconies every month with DDT, he posted this explanation:

"We have pigeons. The pigeons sometimes carry psittacosis. They also carry mites, and I regret to say, lice. Once in a while I have an itch. Then I have to scratch. The spray, therefore, is for everybody's protection around here, but mostly for my own."

Hart Unanimous Choice; Justice Again On Squad

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor
New York, Dec. 1.—(AP)—The nation's top four football juggernauts—Notre Dame, Oklahoma, California and Army—appropriately enough gained six places on the 25th Associated Press All-America team.

Notre Dame, the No. 1 team by the widest of margins, dominates the 1949 team with three men. They are the Irish co-captains, End Leon Hart and Tackle Jim Martin, and their rugged bull-necked fullback, Emil Sitko.

Oklahoma's representative is Wade Walker, a 205-pound tackle from Gastonia, N.C. California's Bears, the Rose Bowl hosts, have Rod Franz at guard for the second straight year and Army made the mythical array with its brilliant all-around athlete, Quarterback Arnold Galiffa.

Two repeaters in the backfield are the prize triple threat men from the southwest and south, Doak Walker of Southern Methodist and Charlie (Choo Choo) Justice of North Carolina, respectively. This is the third straight All-America for Walker and the second for Justice.

The other three places went to Clayton Tonnemaker, Minnesota's 245-pound center; Guard John (Bull) Schweder of Pennsylvania; and End Jim (Froggy) Williams of Rice.

With Notre Dame gaining three places the team strength lies in the midwest, the others from that section being Tonnemaker of Minnesota and Walker of Oklahoma. The east and southwest each placed two players on the first team with the south and west coast getting one spot apiece.

It marks the first time since pre-war football that the entire team is made up of seniors which is significant in that future All-Americans, barring unforeseen conflicts, will include down to earth collegians instead of players who have performed all over the gridiron map with Army and Navy service teams before concluding their collegiate careers.

The 1949 team, chosen after recommendations by more than 260 sports editors, AP staff writers, college coaches and radio broadcasters, is a truly veteran group. The team age is 22.8 years and the weight average 194.4 pounds.

The youngest player chosen is Leon Hart, also the heaviest. Yet the 21-year-old 248-pound giant—he's six-four—from Turtle Creek, Pa., is the one unanimous selection in that not one dissenter could be found.

Touchdown Club Enjoys Movies Two Noted Games

The Touchdown Club members, at a regular meeting at the Country Club last night, enjoyed an excellent program provided by Dick Peacock, freshman coach at N.C. State College. He showed motion pictures of the recent N.C. State-Wake Forest football game. As an added attraction he showed pictures of the N.C. State-San Francisco basketball game played in Cow Palace, San Francisco, Calif., on Dec. 3, 1948.

It will be remembered that the San Francisco quintet won the National Intercollegiate Tournament (NIT) championship after the close of the 1948-49 basketball season.

Erskine Duff, club referee, presided. The guests enjoyed a "smoker" and a period of fellowship after the pictures were shown. Attendance was smaller than usual, Duff said, due to a mix-up in the date of the meeting.

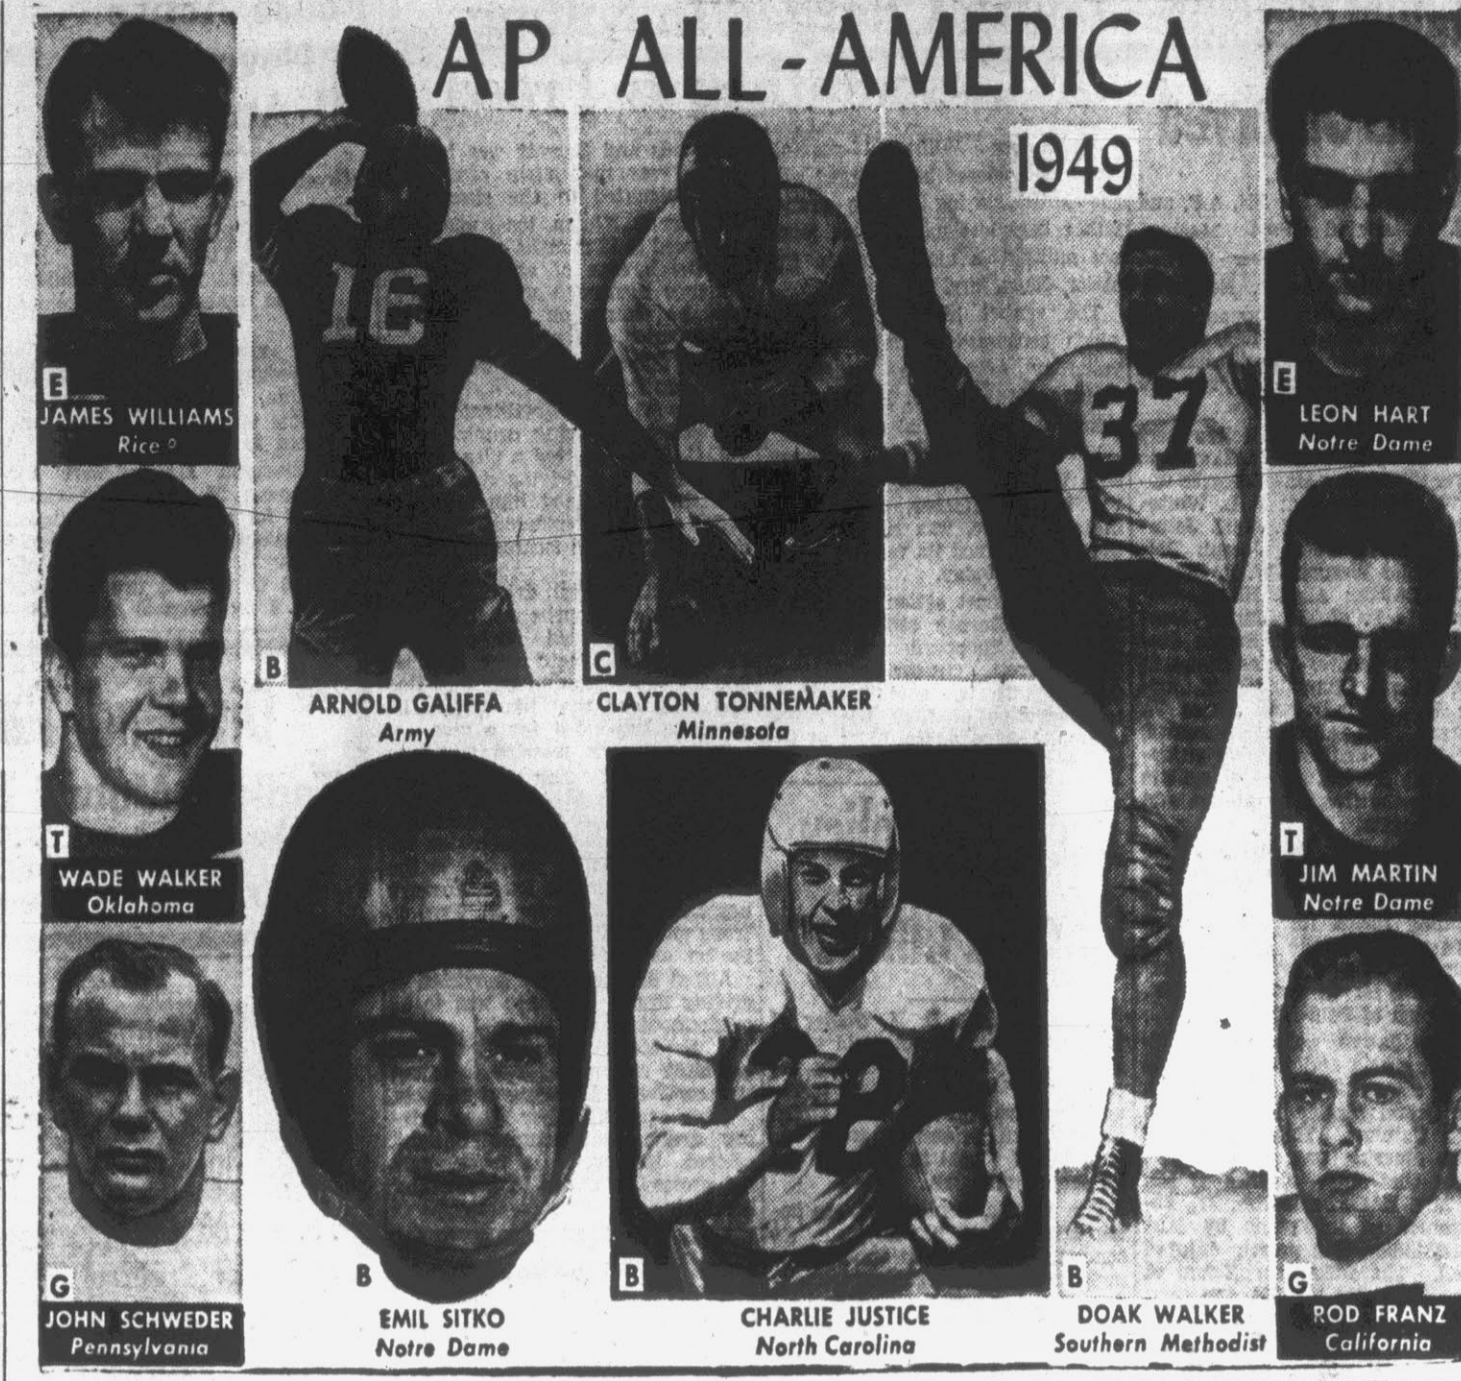

The Touchdown Club's next meeting will be held at the Country Club Wednesday night, December 14, at 7:30. An interesting program is being arranged.

Two Outstanding Rookies Named

New York, Dec. 1.—(AP)—Roy Sievers, slugger outfielder of the St. Louis Browns, and Don Newcombe, fireballing ace of the Brooklyn pitching staff, have been named the outstanding baseball rookies of the major leagues for 1949.

Sievers was chosen the top freshman in the American League and Newcombe headed the newcomers in the National in the annual poll of the Baseball Writers Association of America.

This is the first year the writers chose rookie standouts for the two leagues. In the past they have picked one for the entire majors, shortstop Alvin Dark of the Boston Braves winning last year and second baseman Jackie Robinson of Brooklyn the year before.

Newcombe, who won 17 and lost eight for the National League champion Dodgers, was an almost unanimous pick of the 24-man senior league panel.

The 28-year-old Negro star received 31 votes. The other three went to Del Crandall, 19-year-old catcher of the Boston Braves.

The honor was more closely contested in the American League where six players received nominations. Sievers, however, got ten votes to double that of his closest challenger, pitcher Alex Kellner of the Philadelphia Athletics.

Top Scorers To Meet Tonight In Basketball Game

New York, Dec. 1.—(AP)—George Mikan and Alex Groza come face-to-face tonight in renewal of their private point-making war in the National Basketball Association.

It's last year's scoring champion against the freshman aspirant from Kentucky when the Minneapolis Lakers and the Indianapolis Olympians clash at Indianapolis.

Minneapolis' big, bespectacled Mikan was pro basketball's champion marksman with 1,698 points last year. But today he is running second to Groza, the rebound specialist of the Olympians.

10 Years Longer

Trall, B. C., Dec. 1.—(AP)—Arnold Laurie is looking for the fountain of youth.

He has to live 10 years longer than a life-time or be fipped. Laurie, an engineer, won a life-time seat in the new Trall Ice arena at its opening.

A few minutes later, in another draw, he won a 10-year seat in the arena.

"Frankly," said Laurie, "I don't think I can make it."

First Event For State's Coliseum

Raleigh, N.C., Dec. 1.—(AP)—North Carolina State College's 12,000-seat Coliseum will have its first public showing and first athletic event tomorrow night.

A near capacity crowd of 10,000 is expected to be on hand when State's defending Southern Conference basketball champions play host to Washington and Lee. The present conference basketball attendance mark is 9,000, set in Duke's indoor gym in March, 1948.

The $2,500,000 Coliseum, still not completed, is modern in every respect. It has a 90- by 200-foot rink which sets on 12 miles of pipe laid beneath a 312- by 106-foot arena. Its portable basketball floor is the last word. All its seats are foam cushion topped with red leather.

The air in the building is completely changed every 15 minutes. Temperatures are automatically controlled.

The building, measuring 371 by 180 feet, has a special chute for covering and clearing its arena with six inches of dirt for cattle and horse shows.

It will be known as the William Neal Reynolds Coliseum.

Curly Lambeau To Retain Post

Green Bay, Wis., Dec. 1.—(AP)—Earl L. (Curly) Lambeau, who founded the Green Bay Packers on a city sandlot, will remain at the National Football League team's helm another two years.

Lambeau's contract was renewed at a long board of directors meeting last night. The board also authorized issuance of another $200,000 worth of stock.

Directors declined to comment on terms of the contract, but indicated it was similar to his current one which expires Dec. 31. This one called for $25,000 a year for serving as head coach and general manager.

Snavely Says Team Must Overhaul Offense Plans

Chapel Hill, N.C., Dec. 1.—(AP)—Coach Carl Snavely says North Carolina will have to overhaul its offense for the Cotton Bowl game against Rice in Dallas Jan. 2.

He also announced yesterday that he and Coach Jess Neely of Rice had arrived at a scouting agreement consisting of the exchange of two game movies. The choice of which pictures are wanted will be left up to the schools. Neither scouted the other during the regular season.

Snavely said he planned to call a meeting of the squad in the next day or so to work out a training plan.

Grifton Scores Double Victory Over Bell Arthur

Grifton High School opened its 1949-50 cage season by winning a double victory from the Bell Arthur team.

The girls took a 47-30 win. Nell Mumford with 19, Edna Earl Braxton with 14, and Kit McLawhorn with 10 led the scoring for Grifton while V. Crawford with 19 was high for the losers. Half-time score was Grifton 19, Arthur 18.

V. Stancil played very outstandingly for Grifton.

The Grifton boys took a one-sided 39 to 14 win with every man of the 15 man squad playing at least five minutes. Ray Mumford with 14, Ruben Ewell with 11, and Rex Lewis with 8 led the scoring for the winners while McLawhorn with five led the losers.

End Heavy Drill For Shrine Tilt

Charlotte, N.C., Dec. 1.—(AP)—Most of the rough scrimmages work is over for the North Carolina and South Carolina high school football squads practicing for the Shrine Bowl game here Saturday.

Head Coaches Pinky Babb of South Carolina and Tony Simeon of North Carolina plan to concentrate today and tomorrow on timing, pass patterns, defensive setups, and kicking.

Keeps Him Busy

East Lansing, Mich.—(AP)—Bob Carey, Michigan State's highly-touted sophomore end, finds no rest during the off-season. Basketball during the winter and track in the spring keep the six foot, four inch, 210-pounder occupied.

Bucs Invade Guilford Home Hardwood In Circuit Game

With three non-conference contests under their belts the Buccaneers of East Carolina Teachers College invaded the home hardwood of the Guilford Quakers tonight in the opening family scrap of the fast North-State basketball conference.

The Buccaneers, who broke one game better than even in the North State last year, will make their conference debut this season without the services of 1948-1949 All-Conference Forward Charlie Bill Moye.

Spearheading the hopes of a successful season this year for East Carolina are 1949 All-Tournament first and second team selections Louis Collie and Jack Everton, who led the Bucs into the conference tourney semi-finals last season.

Strengthening the East Carolina attack will be freshman sensation Sonny Russell, a six foot, four inch lad who will be playing his first game against a North State conference team. Russell, who hails from New Bern, has shared high scoring honors for the Bucs in games this season.

In its non-conference games to date East Carolina has chalked up two wins and a single loss, defeating Wilson Teachers of Washington and Apprentice School of Newport News, and losing to the fast Camp Lejeune Marine squad.

Guilford, from all available reports, has not played as yet. They will make their debut labelled a team which is expected to make a good conference showing this year. They scored two upsets over highly favored teams to go into the tournament semi-finals last season.

The Quakers will be playing against a team bucking a conference jinx which haunted them in early loop games last year. The Bucs were unable to win a conference game on an opponent's home court until the season was well underway.

Throughout the year they were tagged a team which was almost indomitable on their home court, but a luckless outfit away from home.

The Bucs scored wins in their first two games to post an early season notice that they were defying the jinx this year. Their sole loss was a 61-57 defeat to Camp Lejeune in a game which saw the locals outscore the Marines in the last half, holding them scoreless for the last four minutes.

Defends Giving Athletes 'Help'

Durham, Feb. 1.—(AP)—The Jacobs football blocking trophies were awarded here last night during a banquet at which financial aid to college athletes was defended.

Commissioner Bernie Moore of the Southeastern Conference, the dinner speaker, reaffirmed the SEC stand on the sanity code. "No critic or group of critics will ever convince me that there is any harm in granting financial aid to worthy athletes so long as the amount of aid does not exceed that boy's actual college expenses," he said.

Earl Blaik Says Football Has Now Reached Stage Of Near-Perfection

New York, Dec. 1.—(AP)—After half a century of rules juggling, has college football reached a state of near perfection?

Earl (Red) Blaik, the army coach, joins Columbia's Lou Little in saying that it has.

"We have the greatest football right now the country can possibly have," West Point's head tactician declared yesterday in leveling a blast at foes of the two-platoon system.

"We would be down-right nuts to go back to thinking in terms of 1934 and 1935. Only in the old guard is against the two-platoon."

Blaik's remarks came at a luncheon meeting at which he was presented the Lambert trophy, honoring his unbeaten team as the outstanding college eleven in the East.

"The two-platoon game as we play it has much more speed than the old game, and it's safer," he declared. "We had only five timeouts due to injury all this season and only one man did not return to the game."

That would have been impossible in the days of "iron man" football, the Army mentor said. Yesterday's iron men wouldn't have stood a chance against today's constantly refreshed specialists, he added.

Arrangements Completed For Annual Student Congress Here

Final arrangements for the Third Annual Student Congress scheduled to be held here Friday and Saturday have been completed. Greenville High school National Forensic League Advisor R. B. Starling reported today and announced that some 15 high schools from North Carolina, Tennessee and Virginia are expected to send representatives to the two-day meeting.

The session, sponsored by the Greenville Forensic Club, will officially get underway at 1:30 Friday when the Senate convenes in Room 31 of Greenville high school. The Senate will be presided over by Greenville NFL President Augusta Green and Winterville NFL President Doty Castello.

The representatives will meet in Room 31 of the high school at 1:30 with Rodney Pulcher of Greenville as speaker of the house.

Greenville high school was the first to send in registration arrangements for the congress. The Stokes school will have five students participating in the event, including Willis Wilson, Carolyn Everette, Jimmy Hawkins, Betsy Stokes and Marshall Whitehurst.

The Johnson City, Tenn., club, annual participant in the congress, will have five students present for the meeting along with their advisor, Miss Lucy Ethel Price. The Tennessee aggregation is sponsored by the Civitan Club of Johnson City.

Asheville has registered two senators and two house members for the session. They include Dan Reid, Carl Edwards, Gene Cooke and John Friedman.

Hazel Garris, Grace Block, Miriam Sutton, Mittie Rouse, Joyce Morgan and Dot Johnson constitute the Farmville high school congressmen scheduled to participate.

Winterville will place Betsy Castello and Barbara Worthington in the Senate and Marilyn McArthur, Bobby McGlohon, Denyse McLawhorn, Anne Spiers, Becky McGlohon and Katherine Ann Moyle in the

Annual Masonic Events Observed

Geenville Lodge No. 264, A.F. and A.M. celebrated Past Masters' Night, Friday, November 25 and Ladies Night, Tuesday, November 29. These two events, honoring the Past Masters and the wives, daughters, widows and sweethearts of Masons are held annually and are largely attended.

The following Past Masters were requested by Master H. J. Sawyer to confer the Master Mason degree upon W. C. Taylor, Jr.; F. L. Whitehurst, Master; Dr. B. McK. Johnson, Senior Warden; Joseph Palmer, Junior Warden; W. F. Owens, Senior Deacon; A. R. House, Secretary; L. F. Stokes, Junior Deacon; H. P. Markham, Senior Steward; T. I. Moore, Junior Steward; J. S. Willard, Chaplain; N. R. Joyner; W. J. Bundy, and James W. Brewer. The efficient ritualistic degree work was thoroughly enjoyed by all present. Several visitors were present from the Aurora and Bethel Lodges.

Tuesday night, the large dining room of the Greenville Lodge Hall was filled and tables were placed in adjoining rooms for the overflow crowd attending the Ladies Night ceremony. A well prepared turkey supper was served under the expert supervision of Paul Nixon.

Master Sawyer welcomed the assembled guests and introduced the master of ceremonies, W. J. Bundy, Past Grand Master of Masons in North Carolina. He, in his well known amusing way, capably performed that duty. A duet by Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Parkinson, Jr., accompanied by the piano by Miss Ona Shindler, was greatly enjoyed by all. The following officers of Greenville Lodge No. 264, and their wives were asked to stand, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Sawyer, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus H. Harrell, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Garner, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hart, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. House, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Alder, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Boswell, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond L. Smith, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Carey Joyner, and Mr. Jesse W. Brown. Also recognized were Miss Alya Ray Taylor, Matron of the Order of Eastern Star; Mrs. Blanche Jackson, Worthy High Priestess of the Order of White Shrine of Jerusalem; F. L. Whitehurst, Eminent Commander of Bethlehem Commandery No. 29; Illustrious Master of Hiram Council No. 18; and High Priest of Greenville Chapter No. 50, R.A.M.; James W. Brewer, Provost Marshal of Sudan Temple; and C. D. Ward, President of the Greenville Shrine Club. Judge John B. Burney spoke briefly.

James W. Brewer, introducing the principal speaker of the evening, Rev. A. D. Leon Gray, superintendent of the Oxford Orphanage, called attention to the magnificent job he is doing at that institution.

Rev. Gray speaking on the subject, "What Is a Mason?" evaluated the spiritual realm of Masonry and how a real Mason may contribute to the stabilization of mankind. He made a profound impression upon his audience, as evidenced by the rapt attention he was given.

F. L. Whitehurst was chairman of the Ladies Night program committee.

Youth Charged In Killing Of Grandfather Is Freed

Jesse Lee Willis, 16-year-old Greenville colored boy charged with the knife slaying of his grandfather here last month, was found not guilty this morning by a Superior Court jury.

The verdict highlighted a case which consumed a major part of yesterday afternoon's proceedings under Judge John J. Burney, presiding at Pitt's special session.

Willis, who through his attorney, Sam Worthington, claimed he stabbed his grandfather, John Willis, in self defense, was released after the jury returned its verdict shortly before noon today.

In other court action this morning Judge Burney sentenced William Earl Sheppard and Marvin Earl Barrett, Greenville Negroes charged with the assault and attempted rape of Nina Lee Jones, colored, Sheppard, the older of the two boys, was given two years on the roads and Barrett was handed a one-year road term after they both submitted to the charges.

Walter B. Kinion, local man, was sentenced to 18 months on the roads for the larceny of an automobile, sentence suspended upon condition that he remain on good behavior for a period of five years.

The following cases were tried earlier in the week:

Bryan Grimes Worthington was not guilty of driving drunk.

J. C. Pitt submitted a plea of nolo contendere in a driving drunk case and the court fined him $100 and costs and recommended that his driver's license be suspended for a year.

James D. Jones, driving drunk, was given six months on the roads, sentence suspended on condition that he not violate any criminal law for two years and pay $150 fine and costs and that his driver's license be suspended for a year.

Milton Morris pleaded guilty to seduction. Judge Burney gave him three years in State Prison. Sentence was suspended on condition that he be placed on probation for five years; that he pay $200 to the clerk of the court for Ester Wooten's hospital bill; $51.50 for Dr. Fred C. Irons and a bill from Flanagan and Parker and pay court costs.

Alfred Anderson was convicted of driving drunk. Sentence was to be pronounced later.

J. R. Medlin pleaded guilty of gambling and prayer for judgment was continued on payment of costs.

Cases against Luther White, driving drunk, and Andrew Speight, colored, larceny of a truck, were not prosed. White is in a veterans' hospital.

Police Active In November; 131 Arrested

Greenville police made 131 arrests during November, Chief Lester D. Page's report to the Board of Aldermen states. The arrests included 55 white males, two white females; 62 colored males and 12 colored females.

Police answered 342 calls; made 296 investigations; answered 291 complaints; found 11 store and office doors open at night, and investigated 23 accidents.

Twenty-seven arrests were for drunkenness; 26 for traffic violations; 12 for assaults; 11 for liquor law violations; 11 for motor vehicle violations; 11 for miscellaneous offenses; 6 for driving drunk; 5 for larceny; 5 for offenses against fe-

Declare Courts Hamper Union

Philadelphia, Dec. 1—(AP)—The CIO's new Electrical Workers Union today backed a policy declaration aimed at court actions which the union said "harrassed" its membership drive.

Some 400 delegates to the week-long convention unanimously approved the declaration, first presented yesterday by a special statement by James B. Carey, acting leader of the union.

males or children; 4 for disorderly conduct; 4 for forgery and bad checks; 2 for burglary; 2 for sex offenses; 2 for suspicion; 1 for aggravated assault; 1 for auto theft; 1 for embezzlement and fraud.

Total revenue for November from the Police Court was $2,425.45, out of which the city receives $1,237.05.

New Grants For Britain, France

Washington, Dec. 1—(AP)—The Economic Co-operation Administration today approved the purchase by France and Great Britain of $70,000,000 worth of cotton from American supplies.

The shipments will be made during the first quarter of next year, ECA said.

The new recovery grants were contained in additional Marshall plan aid totaling nearly $100,000,000 earmarked for use by four European countries, western Germany and Trieste.

Operatic Singer Fills Night Club

Nashville, Tenn., Dec. 1—(AP)—Dark-eyed Mona Bradford, the operatic beauty who came here to sing the lead in "Carmen" and stayed to warble torch songs in a night club, packed the house last night.

One of the largest crowds in the history of the Swank Plantation singer's night spot debut.

The raven-haired Mona says she wants to make enough money to ride back to New York in style.

Income Tax . . .

This booklet, as a result of suggestions and comments on the previous year's booklet, has been improved and enlarged.

In his preface, the commissioner of Internal Revenue, George J. Schoenman, says:

"The average taxpayer can hardly expect that the reading of this booklet will make him a qualified tax expert, but it is believed that a careful person will result in a better understanding of the tax laws, and will, in most cases, provide the information desired."

Ancestry Of Termites Dates Back Long Time

Washington, Dec. 1—(AP)—Proud people who trace their ancestry to the Mayflower got a rude jolt today. A termite, who rarely gives himself airs, can trace his ancestry back 250,000,000 years.

This tidbit comes from the Smithsonian Institution, which has just completed cataloging 1,932 different species of termites.

When it turned out that the cataloging chore had been done by a Department of Agriculture man who has been studying the termite—and ways to control it—for 40 years, I promptly called Dr. Thomas E. Snyder to find out what's new in the termite world.

The answer is, nothing much.

Termites have been calmly chomping wood and developing a complex social organization for 30,000,000 years. And their ancestors, Dr. Snyder said, go back 250,000,000 years.

"Somewhere along the line," he said, "the family split, and one group became the cockroach."

Dr. Snyder has a certain admiration for the cockroach. ("He's very adaptable. He was on earth long before man, and I suspect he'll be here long after we're gone.") but his real love is the termite.

Dr. Snyder met up with the termite quite by accident. Some telephone

Accident Policy Offered Children

Superintendent D. H. Conley of the Pitt county schools said today school children of the county recently were offered accident insurance policies which would afford the children protection from one hour before school to one hour after school each day.

The policies, Conley said, are being written by a private insurance company and have an annual premium of 75 cents. The superintendent said the policy covers medical and dental bills which may be incurred through accidents the child suffers during the school day. Exceptions are made, Conley said, for accidents suffered in football and basketball games.

Although the board of education office has not received official reports from the various county schools on the number of students who are buying the insurance policy, Conley said unofficial reports indicate that a large number of students and teachers are purchasing the insurance. An official report will be released by the school board as soon as the individual schools advise the central office as to the number of children in each school who have purchased the insurance.

UN Lays Down Peace Standard

New York, Dec. 1—(AP)—The United Nations assembly swamped Soviet opposition today and adopted a 12-point Western power declaration laying down essentials for world peace.

The vote followed a shouted Russian denial that the Soviet Union is interfering with the affairs of Yugoslavia.

One point in the assembly declaration calls on all nations to refrain from any intervention in the affairs of other countries.

Big Bear Bagged

Elizabeth City, Dec. 1—(AP)—A 500 pound bear, reported to be one of the largest ever seen in northeastern North Carolina, was killed by a party of ten men in Washington County yesterday.

Nearly Half-Million Vets Get Chance At Education

Nearly half a million World War II veterans who did not complete grade school before the war have been given the chance to further their education through the GI Bill, the veterans Administration said today.

The figure is based on a VA sampling which disclosed that eight per cent of the 6,000,000 veterans who so far have taken GI Bill training did not have an eighth grade education at the time they started their GI course.

The sampling was made as of June 1, 1949.

The 6,000,000 total includes 8,300,000 veterans who were in training on June 1, and 3,000,000 who had previously been enrolled but who were not taking training on that date.

Of the veterans enrolled under the GI Bill at that time, 10.8 per cent, or 240,000, had not finished elementary school when they started.

Of those not then in training, 6.6 per cent, or 264,000 veterans, had had seven years or less of schooling.

Nearly one-third of the 264,000 veterans taking institutional on-farm training on June 1, or 30.9 per cent had not completed the eighth grade when they entered their courses.

On the same date, 15.9 per cent of the 447,000 on-the-job trainees and 7.7 per cent of the 1,371,000 veterans in educational institutions had gone no further than the seventh grade at the time they began GI Bill training.

Thousands of veterans are attending grade school under the GI Bill as a stepping-stone to further education and training, the VA said. Some of these plan to go on to high school, which others hope to take training on-the-farm-on-the-job or in trade and vocational schools.

North Carolina and a number of other states have established programs of adult elementary education for veterans under the GI Bill.

The program—generally accelerated to permit a veteran to complete an entire grade school education in a matter of months—are conducted through the State public school system.

Courses are open to all eligible veterans without an eighth grade education—even those who never have been to school one day in their lives. Accelerated high school courses also are open to veterans.

Composer Will Address Club

Geoffrey O'Hara, famous American composer, will speak at a meeting of the Pitt County Executives Club this evening at 7:00 o'clock in the North Dining Hall of East Carolina Teachers College.

According to O'Hara, everybody desires to express himself through music and can do so even without formal music training. The members and guests of the local Executives Club will have an opportunity to see how it is done at this evening's meeting.

Mr. O'Hara will demonstrate the simple rules which must be followed by every composer to bring melody into expression. His performances have been hailed as not only inspirational and educational, but as full of fun.

For more than a quarter of a century, the American public has been singing the melodic creations of Mr. O'Hara, such as "Your Eyes Have Told Me," "K-K-K-Katy," "Give a Man a Horse He Can Ride," "There Is No Death," and "I Love a Little Cottage." Many of his compositions have been introduced by famous concert artists.

In 1913 the famous Caruso sang "Your Eyes Have Told Me," which started O'Hara on the road to success. Al Jolson simultaneously featured his "Tennessee," and his song "Give a Man a Horse He Can Ride" was a favorite of Nelson Eddy.

Believing there is a great need for more music in the schools, O'Hara has contributed his talent by composing and publishing twelve operettas for school use. He has been an instructor in community music and song writing at Teachers College, Columbia University.

Campus Theater Is Reviving Art

Santa Barbara, Calif. (AP)—The campus theater may be the most promising answer to the decline of the professional stage, says a California critic.

The college and university playhouse offers a chance for new plays and writers because it has less box office pressure to think about, says Theodore Hatlen, chairman of the Department of Speech at Santa Barbara College.

Don Otten and Mac Otten of the Tri-City Blackhawks are the only brother teammates in the National Basketball Association.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 60 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Couldn't Qualify As Court Expert

Washington —(AP)—Policeman Bernard W. Best was testifying in a bootlegging case. Defense counsel challenged his ability to recognize whisky. He asked Best to take a drink out of a bottle of evidence and tell him whether it was bourbon or rye.

"I can't," replied Best. "I'm on duty and regulations prohibit a policeman from drinking on duty."

"That's right," chimed in Judge Nadine Gallagher. "and besides, I don't want anyone drinking in my court."

Don't Let Anybody Fool You!

These Things Will Happen If The Anti-Trust Lawyers Have Their Way

When the anti-trust lawyers from Washington filed their suit against A&P, we told the American people, our customers, our suppliers and our employees how this attack would affect them.

We said that this attack, if successful, would mean the end of A&P as you know it.

We said that it would mean higher food prices for American consumers.

We said that if they succeed in destroying A&P the way would be cleared for the destruction of other efficient large-scale retailers.

We thought the American people were entitled to know about this threat to their welfare and standard of living.

Since that time, however, the anti-trust lawyers have been making speeches, talking over the radio, writing letters and giving stories to the newspapers, in which they say we are all wrong.

They say that this suit will not close a single A&P store; and that instead of raising food prices it will lower them.

And they have tried to give the impression that nobody will be hurt by this decision except the present owners of A&P.

We don't think that the American people want to be confused by these statements. We know that when they have the facts, they will understand that this case can affect the living standards and the way of life of every American citizen.

Here are the facts:

It Will Destroy A&P

The anti-trust lawyers have repeatedly stated that "the suit will not result in the closing of a single A&P store", and that "the purpose of the suit is to enjoin A&P from continuing activity which has been held to violate the law."

The fact is that the suit is designed not only to "enjoin" A&P from alleged illegal activities, but actually to destroy the company.

Here is what they have asked the court to do:

Break up A&P's retail stores into seven groups, each of which must be sold to different owners, and operated under new management.

Order us to sell A&P's factories, which produce many of the fine foods you find in our stores, to still other new owners.

Prevent any of the seven groups of stores from operating any of the factories.

None of the present owners, who have made A&P what it is today, can have anything to do with either the stores or the factories.

The first A&P store was opened 90 years ago. For the past 50 years the company has been managed by George L. Hartford and John A. Hartford.

These are the men who have pioneered the policy of low-cost, low-profit, low-price food retailing which has won A&P the patronage of millions of American families and given them more good food for their money.

If the anti-trust lawyers have their way, these men and other company executives will be completely out of the picture. No one can predict what the policies of the new owners of the various parts of A&P will be.

No one can predict that they will sell the same quality food at the same low prices, or that they will keep the same employees, or give them the same high wages, short hours, pensions and security.

Nor, despite the anti-trust lawyers' statement, can anyone tell how many A&P stores will remain open or will be closed.

So, while there may be a food store where your A&P is now located, it won't be your A&P store.

Make no mistake about it. If the anti-trust lawyers win their suit it will mean the end of A&P as you know it.

Your Food Will Cost More

But, the anti-trust lawyers have asked the court to order us to get rid of our manufacturing facilities, which would put an end to all these savings.

This means that if these A&P brands continued to be manufactured, you would have to pay higher prices for them wherever you found them.

The anti-trust lawyers say that food prices would go down in other stores. They claim that food manufacturers would be able to sell cheaper to other grocers because they would not have to make up alleged losses they now incur in selling to A&P.

This, of course, is pure nonsense. The suppliers who voluntarily seek our business and are now rushing to our defense obviously find it profitable to deal with A&P. Actually, their sales to this company enable them to build up their volume, reduce their costs, and sell more cheaply to all grocers.

The elimination of A&P from the picture would tend to increase, rather than decrease, the wholesale cost of food; and this, in turn, will be reflected in increases in retail prices.

Make no mistake about it. If the anti-trust lawyers succeed in putting A&P out of business you will find your food bill is higher.

Others Will Be Hurt

The anti-trust lawyers have insisted that this suit will not affect other distributors, "nor will it destroy any efficiencies of mass distribution."

The fact is that the anti-trust lawyers ask the court to break up the company, make it get rid of its admittedly legal manufacturing operations and in general destroy many of the efficiencies which have enabled it to sell food cheaper.

If such an attack is successful, it immediately raises the likelihood of similar attacks on other chain stores.

The anti-trust lawyers are saying that they "do not contemplate any other suits of this nature at this time."

But that does not mean that they cannot undertake such suits at any future time if they win this case.

As a matter of fact, the anti-trust lawyers made practically the same allegations against two of our largest competitors that they are making against us. And it can also be used as the basis for an attack against other grocers and merchants in other lines.

There are today literally thousands of chain stores, voluntary groups and individual merchants operating with the same methods and in the same pattern here under attack.

If A&P is destroyed, no businessman could safely pursue an aggressive sales policy designed to lower prices and give his customers a better deal if by so doing he takes business away from any competitor.

Even if the anti-trust lawyers have no intention now of prosecuting other suits, a decision against A&P will establish a precedent that could be used by the present anti-trust lawyers, or any future anti-trust lawyers, to destroy any efficient business that buys cheaply, sells cheaply, and grows big in the process.

Such a decision would mean the end of the vigorous, healthy price competition which has given this country the highest standard of living ever enjoyed by any people anywhere in the history of the world.

The anti-trust lawyers are trying to give a new interpretation to the anti-trust laws that, instead of preserving competition, will reduce competition.

They are trying, by court decision, to impose a new kind of economic policy on the people of this country.

Make no mistake about it. If they succeed in destroying A&P they will be destroying the method of distribution that has helped make the American standard of living the envy of the world.

Grandma Moses Has Runner-Up In Art Painting

Santa Monica, Calif. —(AP)—Move over Grandma Moses. This seashore city has a painting Granary, too. Mrs. Alice Robbins, 90, who "never even thought of going in for art until a few weeks ago," has finished two canvases. And they aren't bad, say admiring local art fanciers.

The nonagenarian's first effort was a landscape copied from a post card; her second a hunting dog.

"I remember so well," she says, "how the dogs used to stand just like that when they pointed to prairie chickens in Minnesota."

Italian Grapes Sent Rhineland

Rome —(AP)—Shipment of $400,000 worth of grapes to Western Germany is under way as a part of Italian foodstuffs valued at $11,000,000 scheduled to help replenish the cupboards of the Allied occupied zones.

Official announcements said a recent commercial agreement provides for the following shipments:

Fresh fruits, vegetables and new potatoes $4,000,000; tomatoes and tomato products, $600,000; dried fruits and nuts $2,000,000; milk and meat products $800,000; olive oil $500,000; and various other foods $400,000.

Put Restriction On Air Displays

Washington, Dec. 1 — (AP) — The Defense Department has clamped down on participation of Air Force, Navy and Marine planes in public air shows, races and civic celebrations.

Under a new order, specific permission must be obtained from the Defense secretary before any service can participate in such events. Certain exceptions are made for national holidays.

Officers said the order will automatically end visits of service planes to many small demonstrations throughout the country. Literally hundreds of requests for military plane demonstrations are received each month.

What effect it may have on such larger events as the annual Cleveland air races will depend on the attitude of Secretary of Defense Johnson toward the particular event.

The formal announcement of the order spoke of the "high cost" to the government of sending military planes to air shows. It also said: "The demands which have been made upon the military services to provide feature attractions in local dedications, ceremonies and celebrations have slowed the pace of the training program."

While it was not mentioned in the order, another obvious effect of the directive will be to prevent the Air Force and Navy from competing for opportunity to demonstrate their planes and flying skill at shows.

Doctors' Center Is Saving Lives

Denver—(AP)—"My wife is running a fever and I want a doctor. Can you help me?" The caller was a man from Texas. Mrs. Lorene Davoren thumbed through the files at the Denver Medical Society's referral center and gave him the name of a doctor.

The doctor went to the house and found the woman had polio. She was rushed to a hospital. Another day or two and she might have died.

The incident is typical of the 40 calls the center averages each day. Set up by the doctors a year ago, the center receive 300 calls the first month. Now about 1,200 persons call each month.

Boosts 4-H Idea On British Farm

Reading, Eng.—(AP)—Pretty 4-H girl, Margaret Slate, is telling British farmers that talk of push-button farming in America is all nonsense. "People must have gotten such ideas from the movies," she says. "Too many think America is a push-button country where everything is done by machine."

Margaret, 22-year-old daughter of a Barnardston, Mass., farmer, is visiting British farms on a 4-H club sponsored tour. She's not just looking—she's pitching in and learning what makes British fields and barnyards tick. When she returns home she's going to be a 4-H organizer.

Peppy Margaret, in her dungarees and embroidered lumber jacket, is making a big hit with British country folk. They like her common sense and get-up-and-go.

Volunteered Farmer R. Hodge, of Berkshire: "She doesn't just watch us work—she rolls up her sleeves and joins in. She says that's the American way."

LONDON SEES HAT TRICK—Steeplejack Sydney Larkin climbs 210-foot spire of St. Stephen's on London's House of Parliament, to remove police helmet discovered at top.

Cactus Is Stuck By Custom Laws

Sydney—(AP)—Mrs. Mabel Whitney kept a cactus growing at her Wembley, London, house all through World War II. Bombs blew tiles off the roof, and made a mess of the garden. But the cactus survived.

Mrs. Whitney, her husband N. J. Whitney, and their daughter Joyce decided to move to Palmerston North, New Zealand. They left London by plane and took a cutting of their pet cactus with them. But they had to say goodbye to their cactus in Sydney. Customs men destroyed the cutting as a noxious plant.

Cactus—prickly pear here—caused big damage to Australian farming and grazing land by its rapid spread.

TOWED TO PORT
Norfolk, Va., Nov. 30—(AP)—The fishing vessel Dusky was towed into Morehead City, N.C., by the Coast Guard cutter Agassiz today after being adrift for five days because of engine trouble.

Americans use about a dozen electric light bulbs per capita every year.

California Okay Claim Tourists

Los Angeles — (AP) — Despite smog, tangled traffic and Mickey Cohen, the tourists who spend some $4,000,000 annually in Southern California are going home happy, says Don Thomas, director of the All-Year Club.

He learned this by mailing tourists questionnaires after they returned home. The replies showed, he said, that the attractions offset any minor irritations.

"Southern California has drawn an average of 3,000,000 visitors a year since the war," Thomas said. "This is nearly twice the prewar figure."

THE BURGLARS' CHORUS
Hamburg, Germany—(AP)—In a northern German town a shopkeeper caught three burglars. He kept them covered with a toy pistol and made them call in chorus: "Police." They were heard by some policemen on patrol and were arrested, reported the "Schwaebische Illustrierte."

More and more "video" is becoming the accepted short term for television just like radio developed from wireless.

Dr. Browning Heads Southern Group

Dr. Elmer R. Browning, director of the department of business education at East Carolina Teachers College, has been chosen as president of the college and university section of the Southern Business Education Association.

Dr. Browning's appointment to the office was made during the Thanksgiving holidays, when he attended the annual meeting of the association in Miami, Florida. The membership of the organization is composed of teachers of business in private schools, high schools, and colleges in the Southern states.

Louisiana is represented by Huey Long, and Oklahoma by Will Rogers.

Naval Museum's Plans Delayed

Washington—(AP)—The nation will have to wait a while for its naval museum.

Mrs. Truxton Beale, who owns Decatur House, one-time residence of Commodore Stephen Decatur, last year leased the coach house to the Naval Historical Foundation for 50 years at $1 a year. It was to be remodelled and opened early next year as a museum.

But when work got under way it was discovered that the coach house was slightly less safe than the White House. It needed steel columns and beams. The steel strike stalled that, however, and now no one knows when the museum will open.

Tangerines are early varieties of the orange.

Afghan Nomads On Move Again

Kabul, Afghanistan—(AP)—One of the world's few remaining nomadic movements is taking place in Afghanistan, where long camel caravans are leaving the cold grasslands of central Asia for the warm plains of Pakistan. The migrants are the Kuchis, who travel thousands of miles each year accompanied by ill-tempered bactrian camels and patient donkeys.

At the head of each caravan strides the patriarch, with lengthy beard, loose turban, and flowing robes. Only a modern rifle shows the influence of a newer world. At his back follow camels, fastened nose to tail and piled high with goods, chickens, and children. In the rear come the women, tall, hawk-faced, with flashing eyes and ready tongues. Around the caravan, the youngsters play, accompanied by ferocious crop-eared dogs.

At night, the caravans cluster in tiny camps under the peaks of the Hindu Kush. Black felt tents arise.

The smoke of camel thorn fires mingles with the smell of roasting mutton. From the nearby highway may come the hum of a passing car but to the Kuchis life goes on in its placid and ancient way.

Wholesale Food Index Hits Low

New York, Dec. 1—(AP)—The Dun and Bradstreet wholesale food price index this week declined to $5.69 from $5.74 the previous week, and was 10.5 per cent below the year ago level of $6.36.

Lawmakers Have Their Work Ahead Of Them In Bust-Placing

Washington, Dec. 1—(AP)—Congress has its work cut out for it when it returns in January: It has to find some place for the busts of Henry A. Wallace and Harry S. Truman.

Paul Jones and Brigham Young. Capitol Architect David Lynn admitted today that Congress is falling behind at its bust-placing. But there's a reason for this. Statuary Hall is being redecorated, and it was thought best to wait until this job was completed.

But now Congress can daily no longer.

Maybe you wonder, how does a man become a bust?

Well, the ways are various. One of the simplest ways is to get yourself a job as vice-president of the U. S.

Then the bust goes into the Capitol automatically.

Or you can be a big shot in your home state. Every state is entitled to two busts. That's how Brigham Young got in. Utah wanted to honor the man who had led the Mormon exodus into the wilderness.

Or you can be a miscellaneous hero, which seems like a tougher way.

After all these years, the Navy is sponsoring John Paul Jones.

As for the Messrs. Wallace and Truman, their busts are ready and waiting. Charles Keck did on of Mr. Truman in 1947. Wallace's bust, by Jo Davidson, was completed last year.

In case your history is hazy: Mr. Truman hasn't been a vice-president since April, 1945. Wallace gave up vice-presiding on Jan. 20, 1945.

Finding a spot for the new busts won't be at all easy. For this nation always has turned out a plentiful supply of heroes.

The memory of some of these have faded with the passing years.

Why did Arkansas honor Uriah M. Rose with a bust in the nation's capitol? Why was John Campbell Greenway similarly honored by Arizona? Or Miguel Jose Serra Junipere by California?

The answers: Rose was a famed international lawyer in the early 1900's; Greenway was an outstanding soldier, a member of the fam-

3 TASTY MEALS All from "One Buy" and Only one cooking spree!

To carry out this time and money-saving plan, buy a thick slice of Wilson's Certified Round-Bone Pot Roast. Cut it up at home (see diagram) and prepare the three suggested meat dishes all in one afternoon: Best of Beef Stews, Chunky Pot Roast and Delicious Swiss Steak.

Serve one and store other two

Enjoy Beef Stew the first night and store the other two in tightly covered containers in the refrigerator. Dinners for the next two days will be ready in a jiffy—really fine meals with plenty of appetite appeal and good eating for the whole family.

Yes, by planning ahead you can win two FREE afternoons for Christmas shopping or sewing with a tempting dinner all ready and waiting.

- 1. Beef Stew
2. Chunky Pot Roast
3. Swiss Steak

THE BEST OF BEEF STEWS

Choose a heavy pan with a tight-fitting cover. Heat it up slowly over medium heat until pan is thoroughly hot. Then add:

- 3 tablespoons drippings or Bake-Rite or Laurel Leaf Brand Lard
2 pounds Wilson's beef (Round-Chuck-Brisket or Shank Meat) floured in 1/4 cup flour, with
1/4 cup salt and 1/4 teaspoon pepper, added
1 clove garlic, cut up and 1 stalk minced celery

Turn heat medium and brown well on all sides, taking time for a thorough deep browning. When nicely browned add:

- 4 teaspoons Wilson's B-V
2 cups hot water
1/4 teaspoon thyme, optional
1 1/2 teaspoons chopped parsley and 1/4 bay leaf, optional
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

Cover and cook gently, just below simmering. For the last hour of the cooking add: Any 3 cup assortment of vegetables such as: 6 whole small onions, 4 carrots, and 1/2 cup peas. Total cooking time for stew is 2 to 3 hours or to fork tenderness.

DUMPLINGS: To 1 cup of biscuit mix, add about 3 lbs. chopped parsley and/or finely shredded carrots. Stir in 1/2 c. milk. Drop by teaspoonfuls on stew. Cover tightly and simmer 12 to 15 minutes.

The Wilson label protects your table.

Jeremiah Denounces False Prophets

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Jeremiah 2:8-13; 23: 26-28.

False prophets stilled the fears of the people with comforting words, and thought they were wise, but Jeremiah told them that they said, "Peace, peace, but there is no peace."

The Lord said, "Woe be unto the pastors that destroy and scatter the sheep of My pasture," and promised that He would gather the remnant and bring them again to the folds.

Jeremiah warned priests, princes and people of disaster if they did not repent their evil ways. Angered, they would have killed him, but decided he was uttering Jehovah's words.

One, Hananiah, broke the wooden yoke Jeremiah wore, but the prophet said an iron one would replace it, and that Hananiah would die. MEMORY VERSE—Jeremiah 23:28.

The Golden Text

Lamentation of Jeremiah.

"He that hath My word, let him speak My word faithfully."—Jeremiah 23:28.

Jeremiah Denounces False Prophets

Tell Them They Lull People With Their Promises

Scripture—Jeremiah 8:8-13; 23; 26-28.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

HOW HISTORY repeats itself. More than 2,500 years ago, in a crucial time in Hebrew history, false prophets were cheering the people with promises of peace.

Now, after two dreadful wars, we continue to hope for peace, but still there is no peace. Petty bickering between nations; quarrels, fault-finding, interference in one another's affairs; clashing ideologies, make, all the world fear other conflicts. In fact, there is constant fighting in some parts of the world, and threats of violence in others.

As we approach the Christmas season, we remember sadly that Jesus' birth brought the promise of peace on earth—but it comes not.

With his sure knowledge that Jehovah was angry with his people for their backslidings, Jeremiah sought to arouse them from their lethargy.

Prophets (so-called) were lulling them with cheerful words.

He, reproved, them, saying, "How do ye say, We are wise and the law of the Lord is with us? Lo, certainly in vain made he it; the pen of the scribes is in vain.

"For they have healed the hurt of the daughter of my people

If they would not hearken, Jeremiah told them, "Then will I make this house like Shiloh, and will make this city (Jerusalem) a curse to all the nations of the earth."

Jeremiah was talking to the priests, princes, people and so-called prophets in the temple, and when he had ceased speaking, there was much talk of putting him to death. Jeremiah answered them:

"As for me, behold, I am in your hand: do with me as seemeth good and meet unto you.

"But know ye for certain, that if ye put me to death, ye shall surely bring innocent blood upon yourselves, and upon this city, and upon the inhabitants thereof: for of a truth the Lord hath sent me unto you to speak all these words in your ears."

Then all began to remember other great prophets who had been sent to them and whom they had put to death. Their feelings changed and they decided not to harm him, for, said they, "This man is not worthy to die: for he hath spoken to us in the name of the Lord our God."

In the 27th and 28th chapters of the Book of Jeremiah, the people were advised to submit to Nebuchadnezzar in all things.

MEMORY VERSE

"He that hath My word, let him speak My word faithfully."—Jeremiah 23:28

slightly, saying, Peace, peace; when there is no peace."

This is the first time the scribes as a professional class are mentioned in the Bible. They were the first copyers of the law, and came to be interpreters of the law. They played a large part in the opposition to Jesus.

Chapter 23 begins: "Woe unto the pastors that destroy and scatter the sheep of My pasture! saith the Lord."

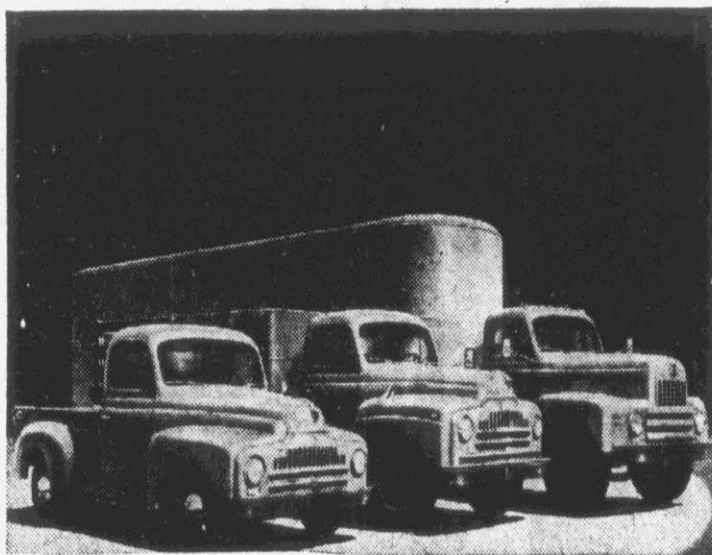

Some day, He promises, "I will gather the remnant of My flock out of all countries whither I have driven them, and will bring them again to their folds; and they shall be fruitful and increase."

Is this prophecy being fulfilled in the establishment of Israel, where thousands of homeless people of the Jewish race are seeking sanctuary?

The Lord commanded Jeremiah to try again to bring the people to a sense of their sins and the punishment that surely would come because of them.

Science 'Reads' Orange Leaves

Riverside, Calif.—(AP)—They are "reading" orange leaves here, but not the way a fortune teller scans tea leaves. University of California chemists grind up orange leaves and analyze them to see what the plant needs in the way of food. "You are about to meet a tall, handsome bag of fertilizer," is the forecast for an orange tree that shows it's hungry by what is lacking in its leaves.

Apple Juice Now Frozen Product

Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 1—(AP)—A brand new product may soon be on the market that will make every day Thanksgiving Day for both the housewife and the apple grower.

The National Research Corporation has announced formation of a company to manufacture frozen apple juice concentrate at a pilot plant now under construction in West Concord.

National Research is the outfit that put a frozen orange juice concentrate on the market in 1946. The new company is called Apple Concentrates, Inc., of Sterling Junction.

Freezing and concentrating apple juice is a new idea, according to Richard S. Morse, National Research head. It is hoped the new plant will begin operations this season, he said, with the new product—in six-ounce cans—available for sale early next year.

Art Exhibition At The College

An exhibition of work done by a group of art students at East Carolina Teachers College is now on display in the Alumni office in the Austin building. The public is invited to see the exhibition, which will be open each day through Friday of this week. The hours are from 8:30 to 12:30 and from 2:00 to 4:00.

The students whose work is exhibited studied color design, crafts, and primary grade art last quarter under Francis Lee Neel, faculty member of the college department of art. Examples of block printing, tie dyeing, chip carving, glass etching, and other arts and crafts are included. Of particular interest at this season is a collection of Christmas cards made by students.

Says Red Autos Speed Traffic

New York—(AP)—Do you dislike having other motorists jockey past you while trying to drive at a safe and steady pace?

If so, don't buy a red car, advises Howard Katcham, color and design engineer. A test of motorists' reactions showed that drivers are more impatient when trailing a red car because red is the most stimulating color—hence the greater urge to pass. Cream and yellow colors are also stimulating, while black, blues and greens without yellow undertones are the colors less inciting to the driver in the following car, Mr. Ketcham reports.

In the radio broadcasting trade any daytime dramatic story in serial form is labeled a "soap opera" largely because the original sponsors were soap companies and some still are.

Short of Murder

By Tom T. Ness AP Newsfeatures

Chapter 11
 Edward Bender had the advantage, the end-table being at one side of his chair and Hackett at the other side. His fingers closed on the medicine bottle.

"Pardon me," murmured Hackett politely, withdrawing his outstretched hand.

"Certainly," said the other with like urbanity, his hold on the bottle seemingly giving him a better grip on his emotion. "It's quite a coincidence, your recommending tincture of arnica. Look!"

He held the bottle up to Hackett's eyes, and with the forefinger of his free hand pointed to the name of the medicine written in ink on the gummed label.

"Tincture of Arnica. Well!" exclaimed the newsman. "Great minds run to the same bottles, eh?"

Bender gave a clipped laugh, then stood the phial on the end-table, its label side against the gauze curtain. "I always keep arnica in my medicine chest."

"Lari!" Hackett said to himself. A nettled expression on his weather-bronzed face. Inspector Lavin was slumping in his chair, awaiting the outcome of the curious dialogue.

Hackett glanced at his wrist-watch and then raised himself off the edge of the bed. "In another five minutes another day starts."

"I'll be glad of it," Bender said, "Friday the soggy towel to my cheek. 'Friday always was my unlucky day.'"

The newsman put his hand in his coat pocket, dimly conscious of its contents—a package of cigarettes and a rabbit's foot. "Julius Caesar feared the Ides of March," he said. "You're not superstitious, are you?"

"No," denied Bender. "But all my bad luck seems to come on Fridays. Today, for instance, it's Uncle's death and my bungled face. Saturday usually brings me my good breaks." He knocked on wood, on the top of the end-table.

Hackett smiled at him. Oh, no, Bender wasn't superstitious, he told himself ironically. "I'm going home to hit the hay," he said to Lavin. "Mr. Bender, having been in Lexington at the time of his uncle's death, can't help us. Unless—the turned to the dead man's nephew—" you could give us some clue to the burglar's identity."

"I don't know a thing," replied Bender, dipping the folded towel into the pitcher. "If it wasn't for my swollen mug, which needed immediate attention, I'd have shown up at the shop myself as soon as my cousin broke the sad news to me. Anyhow, poor Uncle is beyond my help now."

"I guess we'd better be going and let you take care of your face," he said to Bender. "I've put an officer on duty at the antique shop. In our investigation we found some money. Tomorrow I'll get a court order to attach the money and will deposit it in a bank to the credit of the Eben Daniels estate. It'll be pretty late in the morning before court is open and the details arranged, so you and Mr. Scott had better be at the shop say right after lunch, so's the money can be counted in your presence. Good night, Mr. Bender."

Not until he had reached the street did Lavin and Hackett again speak to one another. Lavin halted.

NOTICE
 Order and Notice of Election of a Drainage Commissioner
 North Carolina.
 In The Superior Court Before the Clerk.
 In the Matter of—
 Edgecombe County Drainage District No. 2.

Having been informed by the Board of Drainage Commissioners of the Edgecombe County Drainage District No. 2 that the term of office of one of its members, viz: Commissioner Paul E. Warren, expired on the 30th day of September 1949, or as soon thereafter as his successor can be elected and qualified, and the law providing that the clerk provide for an election of his successor.

It is hereby ordered that an election be held at the court room of the Edgecombe County Courthouse in Tarboro, North Carolina, at 11 o'clock, A. M., on Saturday, the 10th day of December, 1949, to vote for a drainage commissioner to succeed Commissioner Warren. Each individual landowner within said District will be qualified to vote at this election and shall be entitled to cast the number of votes equalling the number of acres of land owned by him included in the boundaries of the said District. The court will appoint as the drainage commissioner to succeed Commissioner Warren the one receiving a majority of votes cast at said election, or, if no one receives the vote of a majority of such landowners, the court will appoint said commissioner from those receiving the highest number of votes cast.

It is further ordered that a copy of this notice be posted at the court house door of the Edgecombe County Courthouse in Tarboro, at the court house door of the Pitt County Courthouse in Greenville, and at five conspicuous public places within the said Edgecombe County Drainage District No. 2, and that it be published in The Tarboro Southerner, a newspaper of general circulation within Edgecombe County, and in The Daily Reflector, a newspaper of general circulation within Pitt County, for two publications prior to the date of said election.

This the 29th day of November, 1949.

W. S. BABCOCK, Clerk Superior Court of Edgecombe County. Dec. 1-8.

ALCOA To Open Negotiations In New York Friday

Pittsburgh, Dec. 1.—(AP)—The Aluminum Company of America strikebound since October 17, will resume contract negotiations with the CIO United Steelworkers in New York City Friday.

The exact time and place of the meeting has not been set, a company spokesman said.

Company and union have been meeting in Pittsburgh. A brief meeting was held here Wednesday.

The strike affects 16,000 CIO workers in nine Aluminum Company of America plants. The union wants pensions, insurance and wage adjustments. The company has offered to sign an agreement with the Steelworkers similar to the one Alcoa recently signed with the AFL International Council of Aluminum Workers.

250-Pound Hog Is Grand Champion

Chicago, Dec. 1.—(AP)—A 250-pound Berkshire hog shown by Ohio State University has been acclaimed grand champion barrow of the 50th annual International Livestock Exposition.

The reserve grand champion, a Hampshire weighing around 280 pounds, was brought to the show by Willard Guckian and Son of Camden, O.

The two swine judges who made the selection had difficulty picking the grand champion, and had to consult with a third swine expert before making up their minds.

Study Slime Of Ocean's Floor

San Francisco — (AP) — Green slime from the ocean floor is being sampled to see what went into the rocks on dry land. A scientific survey of the Pacific continental shelf is being carried out by the California Academy of Science in cooperation with the Navy.

The green mud will be analyzed by experts trying to see how sedimentary rocks like limestone were formed ages ago. Samples from 420 feet down to 12,000 were taken.
