No Campaign For Graham Unless Opposition Is Seen

Bill Stator, Senator Frank Graham's secretary in North Carolina, spent today in Greenville and Pitt county talking with individual citizens to determine "how people feel about Senator Graham's candidacy."

Stator, who recently was appointed to Graham's staff, said he was not in Pitt county today in an effort to effect any county organization for a political campaign. He stated, however, "If anyone announces we will probably have to do some organizing."

Graham in the May primary. As for Senator Graham's political strength in North Carolina since being appointed to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator J. Melville Broughton, Stator said, "I think it has increased, and I think it will continue to increase as more people understand what he stands for. I believe he has been misunderstood on some of the issues."

Crop Liens In January Reported Nearing 1,600

Number Of Liens Against 1950 Pitt Farm Production Indicates Farmers Have Less Money Than Last Year

Almost 1,600 liens against the 1950 production on Pitt county farms were filed with the county register of deeds during the first 11 days of January.

Pitt County Register of Deeds Charles P. Gaskins said the number of liens filed during the first 11 days of this month is larger than the number filed during the corresponding period last year, and is larger than the number filed during the months of June, July, August and September of 1949.

Gaskins said the crop liens are being obtained by local fertilizer firms, banks merchants and government agencies which are lending farmers money with which to supply themselves during the growing season.

The Greenville Production Credit Association is filing more liens than any other single firm, Gaskins stated, and added that the Farm Security Administration is second in the number of liens filed in the county office, although most of the liens filed by the latter agency are for small amounts.

How much money is involved in the liens, Gaskins said, "would be hard to determine because crop liens are made for advances up to a stated amount."

As for the significance of the increased filing of the papers with the county office, Gaskins commented, "It indicated the farmers do not have as much money as last year, and that the merchants and agencies are trying to protect themselves more fully against the possibilities of a bad crop year. They are getting everything on paper."

Suspect Fire Is Used To Conceal Slaying Of Six

Hammond, Ind., Jan. 12 (AP)—Six persons were found dead today in a fire-damaged home on the southeast side of Hammond.

Police found blood in the bedrooms where the bodies were found as well as several butcher knives and discharged .22 caliber rifle shells.

Officers said there was blood all over the place. They suspected the fire might have been set to cover up a multiple slaying.

Four bodies were identified as those of Felix Samas, a machinist, his wife, Katherine, their son Felix Jr., 4, and their daughter, Phyllis Elaine, 18 months. They were found in one of the two bedrooms damaged by the fire.

The bodies of a man and a woman were found in the other bedroom of the bungalow. They were not identified immediately.

Education Programs Two Programs Of Federal Aid To Education Proposed By President Truman; Their Goals; Not All Agree; Arguments Pro And Con; It's Up To Congress

Washington, Jan. 12 (AP)—President Truman has proposed two programs for helping education with government money. Neither can start unless Congress approves.

Under plan no. 1 the government would give the states about $300,000,000 a year to help them provide more and better education in the grammar and high schools.

With this money—which would go to the states—more teachers could be hired or teachers could be paid better to keep them teaching, or more and better school houses could be built.

This is the well-known federal aid to education plan. The Senate approved it in 1949, but not the House. This year the House also may approve. If so, plan no. 1 will begin.

Jaycee Project Near Completion

Selection Young Man Of Year Plans Near End

Plans for the selection of Greenville's Young Man of the Year are nearing completion, Committee Chairman Allan Powell said today, and the award will be presented at the Junior Chamber of Commerce meeting February 18.

Powell said each of the civic organizations in the city, with the exception of the Kiwanis Club, has appointed a committee of three members to select and recommend to the "individual club nominees for the award. The Kiwanis committee is to be appointed Friday night, he said.

A meeting of the committee chairmen from each of the clubs has been set for next week at which time the club nominations will be discussed and the details of the selection will be worked out.

A group of five businessmen of Greenville will be appointed, Powell said, to make the selection of the Young Man of the Year. Although the members of the selection committee have not yet been announced, he said they would be men who are over 35 years old, and who are not members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

All men in Greenville who had not reached their 36th birthday by January 1 are eligible for the award. The selection Powell said is to be made on the basis of the man's contribution to community welfare during the year, participation in community activities, evidence of a lasting contribution to community activities, evidence of personal or business progress, and cooperation with individuals and civic organizations.

Want State To Be Responsible

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 12 (AP)—North Carolina citizens and towns want the state to assume responsibility for construction and maintenance of all their streets.

This was proposed today by the North Carolina League of Municipalities to the State Municipal Roads Commission as a long range solution to the problems of cities sharing in state highway revenues.

May Ask Investigation Of Congressional Tours

Washington, Jan. 12 (AP)—Congress may be asked soon to investigate its own overseas travelers.

Several members of the House disclosed informally today that they are preparing legislation to bring this about.

A Customs Bureau spokesman for action.

Would that $100,000,000 provide scholarships for every student who had the ability and desire to go to college but couldn't afford it? No.

The specialists say it would give scholarships to perhaps 175,000 students. Does that cover all who might need such help? No, again say the specialists. Just a small percentage.

This year Congress will be asked to vote $1,000,000 to lay the foundations for the plan. Once that's done, if it's done, then Congress will be asked to put it into operation with perhaps $100,000,000 a year.

This federal scholarship idea isn't new. Educators have discussed it for years. It was recommended in 1947 by the President's commission on higher education, a group of educators and distinguished citizens appointed by Mr. Truman to study college needs.

Not all educators agree it's a good thing. Some of the opponents argue this way: Ambitious and needy students can't afford it.

Deacons Oppose Aid Acceptance

Members of the Memorial Baptist Church Board of Deacons have adopted a resolution deploring action by the General Board of the State Baptist Convention to accept a grant of state and federal funds to build a new wing for the Baptist Hospital at Winston-Salem.

The action of the deacons taken at this week's regular session also endorses the stand of the president of the Baptist State Convention, Dr. F. O. Mixon, for "complete separation of church and state."

The resolution unanimously adopted by the board and signed by Dr. B. McKay Johnson, chairman, and Ercell S. Webb, secretary, follows:

"We, the Board of Deacons of the Memorial Baptist Church of Greenville, N.C., go on record as deploring the action of the Baptist General Board of North Carolina in agreeing to accept Federal and State aid in either loans or grants or otherwise for the use of the North Carolina Baptist Hospital."

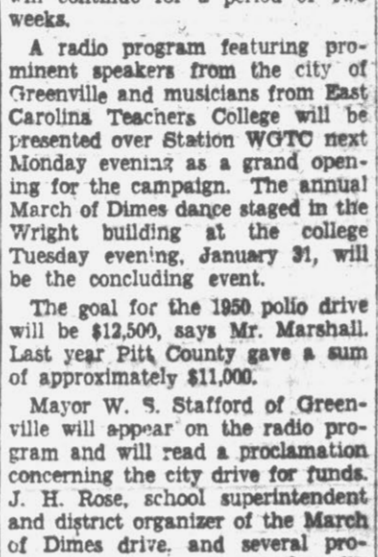

"And that this Board of Deacons endorses the stand taken by the President of the Baptist State Convention, Dr. F. O. Mixon, in favor of complete separation of church and state."

De Gasperi And Cabinet Resign

Rome, Jan. 12 (AP)—Premier Alcide De Gasperi and his anti-Communist coalition cabinet resigned today in a move that may give Italy its first one-party government since the war.

The cabinet resigned after a cabinet session last night was promised two months ago. De Gasperi, whose Christian Democrat party controls Parliament, was expected again to be President Luigi Einaudi's choice to form a new government.

The outgoing cabinet meanwhile remained in office temporarily. A strong faction of De Gasperi's party favors a government made up entirely of Christian Democrats. The premier himself has said often Italy should have a coalition government because many voters, not actually Christian Democrats, vote for his strongly Catholic party as an anti-Communist gesture.

The outgoing cabinet, the fifth coalition lineup De Gasperi has headed since 1945, included a New Liberal (actually conservative in policy), moderate to left Republicans and Independents.

The cabinet reorganization was promised last October when three anti-Communist Labor Socialist ministers resigned because of trouble within their own party. The cabinet had been in office since the landslide Christian Democrat victory in the April, 1948, elections.

Pitt Democrats Appear Cool To Rally In Raleigh

Only One Definite Request For Ticket Received; County Quota Is Ten

The Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner in Raleigh January 28 will be a gala affair for the Democrats of the state but apparently not from a Pitt County point of view.

This politically gloomy situation was described yesterday afternoon by head of the ticket drive, John Clark.

Clark said that Pitt's quota was $600-10 tickets—and that he had had only one definite request for a ticket so far. He reported that the quota must be reached by the first of next week and that the way sales were going to date the Democratic Party was going to lose money in this area.

Reason for the slight enthusiasm in the county is that there are so many big names on the program that there isn't much room left over for the little members of the party.

Clark stated that this opinion was expressed by a party member in this section—one who has gone to the dinner in years past but who had cancelled his ticket for this year.

With the ticket the buyer is entitled to a seat in the Sir Walter Hotel's ballroom, a plate of Democratic fare, and a listening and seeing acquaintance with such big names of the Democratic roster as Vice President Barkley, Secretary of Agriculture Brannan, Secretary of Interior Chapman, Secretary of State James Webb, Secretary of the Army Gordon Gray, and Democratic Party Chairman William Boyls.

Report European Union Practicable

To Tsingtao

Aboard the Flying Arrow, Jan. 12 (AP)—This American freighter, her No. 5 hold about to explode, weighed anchor this afternoon for Tsingtao, Chinese Communist port on Shantung peninsula.

Water used to extinguish a fire in the hold caused expansion of the cargo of Jute, baled cotton and caustic soda. Her master said the danger of an explosion was so pressing he considered it dangerous to wait and try to get into Chinese Nationalist blockade and mined Red Shanghai.

The ship's owners the Lebransden Line of New York, also ordered the vessel to Tsingtao. The Flying Arrow was hit by some 40 Nationalist gumbat shells Monday on the high seas off Shanghai her destination Hong Kong. She is carrying a cargo valued at $10,000,000 for the Communists.

N. C. Seeks Slum Clearance Funds

Raleigh, Jan. 12 (AP)—North Carolina is working to become eligible for slum clearance funds under the federal housing program.

A committee to study the problem was named yesterday by the executive committee of the North Carolina League of Municipalities.

These mayors were named to the committee: Ben Cone of Greensboro, chairman, P. D. Snipes of Raleigh, Marshall Kurtes of Winston-Salem, Victor Shaw of Charlotte, and Dan Edwards of Durham.

The committee will draft and sponsor legislation to be presented to the 1951 legislature.

Asheville was selected for the league's 1950 convention. Tentative dates were set as October 29-31.

Recommendations also were drawn up at the meeting for attacking the problem of state aid in building and maintaining city streets.

These recommendations were not made public. They were scheduled to be presented to the State Municipal Road Commission today for study.

President Submits ECA Progress Report Urging Marshall Plan Nations To Weld Economies Into Single Producing And Trading Area

Washington, Jan. 12 (AP)—President Truman submitted a report to Congress today urging Europe's Marshall Plan countries to weld their economies into a "single producing and trading area" of 270,000,000 people.

The report, prepared by the Economic Cooperation Administration (ECA), says American dollars have strengthened Europe's economy to the point where the 16 nations can take this "radical" step without risk. "Although economic integration is obviously a long-term objective, the present time is favorable for initiating this program," it said.

It predicted such a move would bring a boom in manufacturing and trading throughout all of Western Europe. This would "immeasurably improve" the sale of European goods in dollar markets and "more nearly satisfy" the expectations and needs of the European people, ECA said.

The President made no comment of his own on the need for integration. But by submitting it to Congress as his sixth report on ECA operations, he gave added weight to Administrator Paul Hoffman's repeated pleas for action on such a step.

The ECA report said that the recent devaluation of European currencies will not by itself solve Europe's basic economic problems. "Nor remove the shackles that are holding back international trade."

The 140-page ECA quarterly review gave this picture of what it had in mind by integration: "A single market within which quantitative restrictions on the movement of goods, monetary barriers to the flow of trade, and eventually all tariffs are eliminated."

During the first 18 months of the Marshall Plan, it noted that the United States, poured a total of $7,000,000,000 into Western Europe through direct grants and loans.

As a result, industrial production now stands at 112 per cent of pre-war; and agricultural output, despite a severe drought, was at least equal to last year.

In addition, Europe has absorbed the shock of devaluation without regarding it as the beginning of a new cycle of inflation.

Momentous Election

Britain's General Election Set For February 23 Is No Ordinary Election; An Accounting For The Socialist Government; Will Set Course Of History

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The general election which finally has been set by the British Socialist government for February 23 is one of the most momentous in the long history of that country.

It is no ordinary election. It is a pause for an accounting of the stewardship of the country's first completely socialist regime. And upon the outcome of that accounting hinges the far-reaching decision of whether England shall continue as a socialist state or shall scrap socialism and return to "capitalism."

If the decision is to continue, rather than take a chance on highly paid work which isn't certain to last, it's on that basis that he is going to weigh the respective merits of the major parties in the election.

Perhaps the greatest strength of the Socialists lies in the fact that the rank and file of workers have had a rather tough time during the past generation. This has been due to a lot of elements, including two world wars which have raised taxes with the economy of the country.

However, the winning side is likely to be the one which the rank and file think will do most for the welfare of the home and family.

The average Briton thinks in terms of security of the family. That feeling is so pronounced that he will cling to a job which pays a small wage but is lasting, rather than take a chance on highly paid work which isn't certain to last.

That is to say, if the conservatives under leadership of Winston Churchill are to regain power, they will have to turn the trick next month. Five years hence will be too late. Socialism will be rooted.

In 1950, the reasons for moving up to Cadillac will become so great, that if you contemplate the purchase of any car outside the lowest-price field—you should see the new Cadillacs first!

Here are some of the things you may look forward to seeing when America's most renowned motor car builder unveils its offerings for the ensuing year.

You will see four wholly new series of cars—all with entirely new bodies—gorgeously restyled.

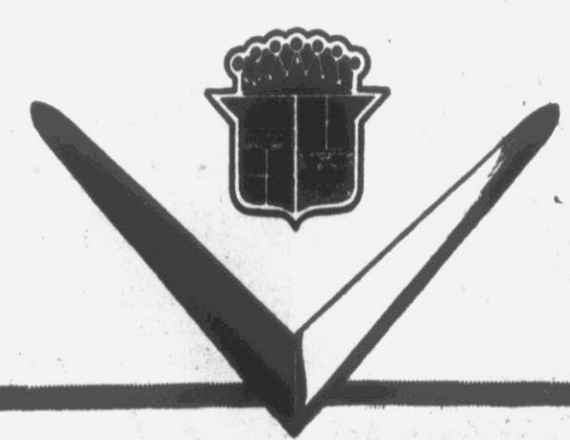

You will see cars whose performance is so outstanding that to drive one of them for a single hour is to want it forever.

You will see scores of advancements and improvements which add to quality, endurance, economy and dependability.

And, finally, you will see all this in a car whose lowest-priced model will actually cost less than certain models of numerous other makes!

By all means, see the new Cadillacs before you act in 1950. They will give you the new yardstick for motor car quality—and value.

It won't be long! So please stand by for the presentation date for this community.

Probable U. S. Military Help For Tito If Needed

Washington, Jan. 12—(AP)—The United States probably will give limited military assistance to Marshal Tito if the Soviet-Communist bloc begins using armed force to try to crush Yugoslavia's independence.

While officials hope this won't be necessary the National Security Council is reported to have cleared a stand-by program of measures the United States might take. These aim at the military field, supplementing aid already being given Tito in the economic and political phases of his struggle.

In the light of the council's action, the State Department has determined what specific steps it would recommend to President Truman if an emergency arose.

The Security Council, headed by the President, is the nation's top policy-making body in foreign policy. Its members include Secretary of State Acheson and Secretary of Defense Johnson.

To date American aid to Yugoslavia has been limited to economic and political assistance.

American limitations on exporting industrial equipment to Communist Eastern Europe have been relaxed for Yugoslavia. An air transport agreement has been signed with Tito's government and American influence has been used with Western European countries to ease economic pressures on the Yugoslavs.

For example, it was learned today that Washington encouraged the British government to make its recent trade agreement with Tito and has also urged the Belgian government not to press for payment now

Elizabeth Drake And Geo. Perry To Give Program

Elizabeth Drake and George E. Perry, faculty members of the department of music at East Carolina Teachers College, will be presented in a program of music for two pianos by the Greenville Music Club Tuesday evening, January 17. Early in February the two East Carolina pianists will repeat their recital in Raleigh at a meeting of the city music club there.

The concert in Greenville next Tuesday will take place in the Wright auditorium at 8:00 o'clock. An invitation to attend is extended to people in Greenville and other towns in eastern North Carolina by members of the music club here.

The program for the evening will include works by classical, romantic,

Londoners Are Travelling More

LONDON—(AP)—Eight million Londoners now travel half again as much as they did in 1939. Each now averages 339 miles a year on 479 subway and suburban train rides. Lord Latham, chairman of the transport executives that runs London trains for the nationalized railroads, gave these estimates in a speech.

He said there's more traveling now because people live farther from their work, go to more sports events and have more money to spend.

Citation Safely Past Comeback After Layoff

Arcadia, Calif., Jan. 12—(AP)—Citation is safely past his initial come-back race and, barring mishap, will be the big factor in the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap February 25.

The big chief of the Calumet Stable swung back into action yesterday after a 13-month layoff and traveled six muddy furlongs in triumphant fashion, heralding a return to the greatness he knew as the triple crown champion in 1948.

The caliber of his opposition wasn't much, but the fact that he handled himself well, running the distance in the fair time of 1:11 2-5, and more important, came out of the tune-up in good condition, brought delight to his handlers.

Trio Face Trial Next Week For Theft Of Lead

Warrenton, N.C., Jan. 12—(AP)—Three men are slated to go on trial in Warren Superior Court next week in connection with the theft of 1,213 pounds of lead.

The last of three men suspected in the case was arrested yesterday by Sheriff R. J. Shearin. The sheriff identified his prisoner as Grady King, 22, of Roanoke Rapids, King, along with William Story 22, also of Roanoke Rapids, is charged with the theft.

Sheriff Shearin said a third man, Charles Crappel, 40, a Tarboro plumber, is being held on a charge of receiving stolen goods in the case.

The lead, racked in 50-pound containers, was stolen Dec. 13 from a plumbing contractor who was working on the erection of a Warren County hospital, Shearin said. Story, a former employe of Chappel's, sold the lead to Chappel for 10 cents a pound, according to the sheriff.

Recreation Body To Solicit Funds For New Center

H. B. Tripp, recently elected chairman of the City Recreation Commission, announced yesterday that the main feature of its program would be to solicit funds for a recreation center in the downtown area.

Tripp said that a committee had been appointed to work jointly with local civic clubs and other organizations to put on drives whereby the financial goals of such a project could be realized.

In addition to the proposed center downtown the chairman said that further expansion of the commission's facilities must be made in the College View section and also in South Greenville where a new Negro school is being erected. The commission plans to build a swimming pool for use by Negroes in that section.

Also on the program for this year is the repair of the high school cinder track, tentatively to be ready for use by the spring track season. Tripp said that flood lights are planned for the tennis courts at the baseball park site. He added that these courts will be put in shape by the time warmer, tennis weather comes.

The commission's chief aim for this year is the appointment of a director for its summer program and possibly a full-time director. Tripp said that a more definite announcement on a directorship would be forthcoming after the February meeting.

He stated that Dallas Blackiston, new business manager of the Greenville baseball team, would aid in the recreation program in the ball park area. Blackiston is now building an office at the park and will be there or will be represented there at all times.

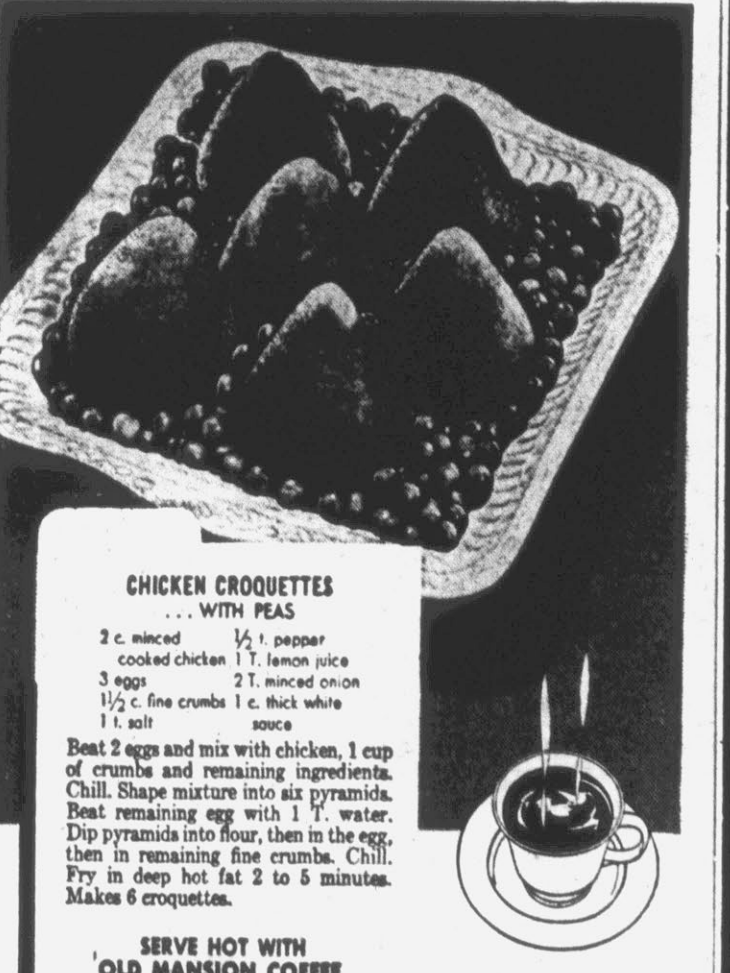

"Blackiston is not only a baseball man but has had years of experience in general recreation," Tripp said. "He has already volunteered to help us with the tennis courts and skating rink and soon we hope to have our ball park action a live place for recreation."

Serving with Tripp will be Dr. J. H. Jorgensen who was recently elected secretary and Roy Haidee who will handle the publicity for the commission.

Strength FOR THE DAY

GOD CARES

Does God have any real concern for our needs? Men have asked this question with bated breath from the beginning of time.

The Bible's answer to this question is always positive and unwavering. Yes, God does care. He is for us. He is always against our sin, but He is never against us.

BACK TO THE BOOKS

All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy, and the same formula may make Jill an even duller girl.

The school officials themselves admit although the teachers who now are conducting classes in the county schools have a better educational background than those who taught before the war.

During the war years the unsettled conditions were reflected in the classrooms where students' attention was distracted from studies by bond drives, scrap drives, and other measures in behalf of the war effort.

The effect of the distractions are showing up too in the records the high school students of recent years are making in the colleges throughout the state.

Businessmen too are finding it more difficult to obtain a person with a high school diploma who is proficient in spelling, English and simple arithmetic.

Just as sports have moved to the fore in colleges, they have climbed into the front seat in high schools.

Somebody Told Me...

Tuesday night Johnny Lautares and I went on the air over WGTC in support of the Hoover Commission. We were scheduled to go on at nine, so at eight I decided it was time to find out what the Hoover Commission is all about.

First appointed to the board by Governor Max Gardner in 1929, and has been successively reappointed by the succeeding governors until now. He has served with numerous Republicans and Democrats, under a half dozen chairmen.

Herbert Hoover heads a commission which made an analysis of the operation of our federal government. He discovered that the number of agencies now responsible to President Truman, 65, could be cut to 23.

By the time you hear all of these facts, the JC's think you will be anxious for the Congress to accept the recommendations of the Hoover Commission. To express this desire, the JC's will urge you to write a letter to your congressmen.

The first thing for you to do is to lend an ear to the facts the JC's will report. Then, if you are convinced that the recommendations should be followed, let a JC know it. He will suggest that you write a letter, but if you desire you may sign a form letter supplied by the JC's that urges acceptance of the report.

And Herbert Hoover and I thank you. ury 28, Governor Scott said he had not as yet, and wanted to discuss the matter with Jonathan Daniels, national committeeman and promoter of the conference, before taking any action.

He thought it had been handled all right up to now, he said he didn't know just what had been done.

SPEAKERSHIP—Efforts of reporters to draw out the governor on the upcoming speakership race produced little results. He said he naturally wanted a speaker who is in sympathy with his program, but who had a mind of his own and wasn't just a yes man.

One one-hundredth pound per acre of parashion was found effective against arctic mosquitoes when sprayed from a plane.

journalism, student government, public speaking and numerous other extra curricula activities.

All these things add greatly to a student's background and give him a broader scope of experience, but at the same time they command the attention which in many cases should be given to grasping the rudiments of the fundamental courses of education.

To eliminate entirely extra curricula activities from the lives of the school children would be a grave mistake, but it would be an even greater mistake not to return practical studies to their rightful place as the most important thing in the educational program.

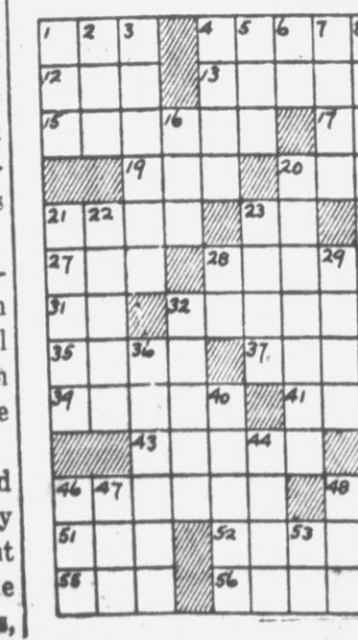

Around Capitol Square

ELECTIONS—For the first time in many years the state board of elections has entirely new membership. Governor Scott has announced appointment of four new men and reappointment for the term of C. M. Britt of Asheville, whom he named last fall to succeed Judge Hubert Olive of Lexington.

REPLACEMENTS—The Democratic members replace Ray Morgan of Haywood and Walter Woodson of Rowan; the Republicans take place of Adrian Mitchell of Hertford and Tom Carter of Alamance.

Tradition Plays Big Part In Capitol Building Work

BY CLARKE BEACH
WASHINGTON — The capitol building isn't just another government office building. It's an institution. The way it is run is year-old and wonderfully complicated. Duties and customs are all rooted in tradition, and nobody knows how all the traditions got started.

Everybody on Capitol Hill is a stickler for that part of the Constitution which makes the House and Senate completely independent of each other. Old timers on one side of the capitol know almost nothing about how the other side runs its affairs. And they don't want to know, because they realize it is none of their business.

Janitor service on the Senate side of the capitol comes under the sergeant-at-arms of the Senate. On the House side it is under the door-keeper of the House. But the dividing line between the areas they have to sweep and swab never becomes a constitutional issue because the center chamber of the capitol, the rotunda, is kept clean by the architect of the capitol.

If you are a representative and are having trouble with the telephone service, it depends on whether you are a Democrat or Republican whom you call. The House has a majority manager of telephones and a minority manager of telephones. There are also assistant majority and minority telephone managers.

If you don't like the Senate's famous bean soup, you take it up with the Senate Committee on Rules and Administration. It's in charge of restaurants and cafeterias on the Senate side. The House, however, has given the architect of the capitol the job of running its eating facilities.

If you have a suggestion to improve the barber and beauty shops on the Senate side, you just call up the sergeant-at-arms. Representatives have to remember that the doorkeeper runs those shops on the House side of the capitol and in the old House office building but that the barber shop in the new House office building is run by the architect.

Incidentally, if you are a senator you can save yourself a dime by getting your hair cut on the House side. It costs only 50 cents there, and on the Senate side it's 60 cents. The reason the price is relatively cheap on both sides is that the barbers get free rent and furniture in return for maintaining strict price control.

When you want to get fixed up with office space on the Senate side, you just call the Rules and Administration committee. For space in the House Office Building you get in touch with the House Office Building commission. But if you or your committee want to be allotted a room on the House side of the capitol, you have to get it through the speaker of the house.

When pay day comes, if you are a representative you get your check from the sergeant-at-arms, but your clerks and secretaries get theirs from the House disbursing clerk. If you are a senator you get paid by the same man who pays your employees—the financial clerk of the Senate. Everybody gets paid by check except employees on the Senate side. They get cash in an envelope.

Members of the House have to keep one other little tradition in mind—the mace. If they make a fuss on the floor the sergeant-at-arms carries the mace over to the scene, and that's supposed to quiet them down. He doesn't hit them with it. It's just a symbol of authority. If you are a senator you don't have to worry about this. The Senate doesn't have any mace.

Must Have Lead In Buying Hose

Berlin—(AP)—You have to have a lump of lead if you want to buy stockings in some East German cities.

Custe Zoerner, an East Berlin housewife, complained to the Communist newspaper, Neues Deutschland, that she couldn't get stockings with delivering some non-ferrous metals, of which the Soviet zone economy is critically short. Even textile coupons and money didn't help her. This thing should be abolished, she demanded, because otherwise workers might be tempted to steal the metal from their factories and trade it for badly needed articles of clothing.

Check Flasher In Tarboro Jail Was Wanted Greenville

J. M. Garrett, 60-year-old white man from Virginia, whom Greenville police were seeking for passing an allegedly bad check on a Greenville merchant, was located in the Tarboro jail for passing bad checks there during the Christmas holidays. Local police have a warrant for Garrett, charging him with passing a $35.60 check at Hill's Store, on Evans street, December 17. The police report states that Garrett bought a $20 overcoat and received $15.60 in change and that the check was returned marked "no funds from the National Bank of Yorktown, Va."

Boxing Bucs Meet Virginia A. C. Here Saturday Evening

East Carolina's boxing team will meet the star-studded Virginia A. C. at Greenville on Saturday night, Jan. 14. Coach Johnny Long announced that nine fights would be staged, plus an exhibition bout.

The main feature bout will give local fans their first look at East Carolina's sensational 18-year-old Willie Williamson, who last year won the 147-pound title of the Southern Conference middleweight champion of South Carolina University. Facing Williamson in the feature will be Tommy (Kiki) Soboleski, a baby-faced clever glove man, who despite his youth has engaged in 40 fights against the better boxers of Virginia and the Navy and has won 33 fights.

The semi-feature bout will place East Carolina's Bill Torrans winner of his last bout against South Carolina University against Sailor Carl Kriston of the aircraft carrier USS Palau.

The bouts are as follows:

Battling Nelson Faced With Loss Of Job; Unable To Press Pension Claim

Chicago, Jan. 12—(AP)—Battling Nelson, former lightweight boxing champion, is faced with losing his postoffice clerking job, leaving him with a monthly pension income of only $22 on which to live.

The 67-year-old fighter, who held the lightweight crown from 1908 when he beat Joe Gans until 1910 when he lost to Ad Wolgast by a 40th round knockout, contends he had a monthly pension of $90 coming as a Spanish-American war veteran.

Nelson, however, has been unable so far to prove he is entitled to that pension because he has lost all of his army papers.

The once wealthy fighter—said to have earned $300,000 during his 22 year ring career—now is virtually penniless. He has been notified that loss of his postal job is imminent under terms of a blanket order from Washington covering temporary appointments during the last year.

Nelson contends that he enlisted during the Spanish-American war in either North or South Dakota at the age of 16. He is hopeful that some one who served with him will be willing to make an affidavit to that effect.

Damage Suit By Speedway Champ

Philadelphia, Jan. 12—(AP)—A $250,000 damage suit against the producers of the motion picture, "The Big Wheel," has been filed by Bill Holland, winner of the Indianapolis 500-mile automobile race last year.

In the complaint filed in U. S. District Court yesterday Holland claimed the film is based on the actual 1949 Memorial Day race. He claims he did not give the producers permission either to use his name or have any one impersonate him in the film.

Phantoms Meet Roanoke Rapids Here Tomorrow

Sporting a one-and-one conference so far this season, the Greenville Phantoms take on Roanoke Rapids tomorrow night in the high school gymnasium. Game time is slated for eight o'clock.

Playing their second straight home game in conference competition, Coach Bo Farley's boys are out for another win like the one Tuesday night in which they whipped a greatly outclassed Edenton five 67-20.

Farley said this morning that Roanoke Rapids had a taller team than his boys, but if the Phantoms can keep up their scoring accuracy from outside the height shouldn't make too much difference.

The local last year split two games with tomorrow night's opponents, winning the game there and losing the one on the home court. Roanoke Rapids last year went to the semi-finals of most of that team is gone, Farley said.

The locals coach announced that Jimmy Cox, usual starting guard, won't be able to play for at least another month, due to an arm injury which has been irritated in recent games. Cox didn't start Tuesday night. In his place, Farley used John Aman at guard and he accounted for himself well in defensive play.

A Junior game is slated to precede the varsity encounter and should get underway at 6:45. The Juniors from the local high school soundly thrashed the younger Edenton team prior to Tuesday night's varsity affair. Farley will start his regular five, now that Cox is out of action. At forward will be Dillingham and Haynes, Sid Briley at center and Aman and Sawyer at the guards.

Slated to see plenty of action, provided the going isn't too rough for the starters, will be the rest of Farley's bench—Flye, Conway, Pace, Clark, Edwards and Woolfolk.

change of scenery." He made it clear that he has been treated "very well" at Wake Forest.

As a 150-pounder, he was a backfield star at Tulane's nationally ranked 1938-39 elevens and played pro ball with the Chicago Cardinals. His home is Monroe, La.

Hogan And Snead Meet Wednesday

Los Angeles, Jan. 12—(AP)—Banham Ben Hogan, Mr. Comeback of golf, and Stemmie Sammy Snead must wait a week for their Los Angeles Open title playoff.

They were set to clash it out yesterday over the rain-drenched Riviera Country Club course. But 10 minutes before tea off time, the Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the $15,000 tourney, decided to call it off "in the interests of good golf."

Hogan, happy at the opportunity to rest his weary legs, and Snead both smiled in agreement. The 18-hole replay is set for next Wednesday.

Dolphins Facing Great Ohio Team

Chapel Hill, Jan. 12—North Carolina's Blue Dolphin swimmers face their sternest test of the year Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock when they meet Ohio State's great team in Bowman Gray Memorial pool here.

Carolina will rely upon Norm Sper and Jimmy Thomas, two All-Americans, to carry the load against a team which boasts of such national stars as Bruce Harlan, Bob deGroot, Jack Calhoun and others.

Harlan holds several national diving records and is considered to be the top diver in the country today, while Calhoun, another great diver, has been over-shadowed only by Harlan.

Bob deGroot broke the pool record at Chapel Hill last year as he won the backstroke event in the National Collegiate. With him will be Jack Taylor and Jose Balmores, two of the nation's top sprinters.

Ohio State landed North Carolina their only dual meet defeat last year at Columbus. This will be the second meeting between the two teams. Ohio State dominates Big Ten swimming and is the national collegiate champion while Carolina has held the Southern Conference crown for many years.

A real duel is shaping up between Thomas and deGroot for backstroke honors. Both are great swimmers. All America, and Thomas was the individual high scorer in the National Collegiate.

Carolina will have to rely on Thomas and Sper, for the rest of the team is without great experience. Jack Winchard will do the giving, while Sam McCaulay, Ronnie Basescu and a handful of sophomores will add depth where needed.

Grifton, Ayden Divide Contest

Grifton, Jan. 12—The Grifton boys lost their fourth game last night and in so doing presented Ayden with its ninth straight win in a low scoring game that saw both teams way off the accuracy mark. The score was 26-23 in favor of Ayden.

The girls did better than their male counterparts in the preliminary game with Ayden, taking it 36-26. High scorer for the winners was Edna Earl Braxton with 15 points. Runner-up to her was Kit McLawhorn with 8 points.

The girls' accuracy percentages were better than the boys'. For Grifton they reaped up a 28 percent accuracy mark which was shaded by Ayden with 31 percent.

In the boys' game the issue wasn't decided until the final minutes. With a one-point difference at halftime, 11-10 in favor of the visitors, Grifton's Ray Mumford set the scoring pace during the last half finishing with 12 points for high scorer for the evening.

However, his efforts weren't enough to stave off defeat. Jim McCormick and Mac Whitehurst teamed up for Ayden to put their club ahead at the final gun, the former with eight points and the latter with six.

Girls Are After 71st Win In Row

Benhaven, N.C., Jan. 12—(AP)—Benhaven high school's girls' basketball team will be after its 71st straight win when it takes on Broadway High tonight.

The Benhaven squad last lost to Angier, 41-40, in a thriller way back in 1947. The record is all the more remarkable in that most of the games were played away from home. Until January of last year the players had to practice on an outdoor court.

Principal J. Knox Harrington coached the girls through most of the season, but had to stop his tutoring seven games ago because of the press of administrative duties.

Wake Forest To Lose Backfield Coach Kellogg

Wake Forest, N.C., Jan. 12—(AP)—Wake Forest's erstwhile Backfield Coach Robert (Bob) Kellogg has resigned from the college's football staff effective Feb. 1. He joined the staff in the spring of 1946 following his discharge from the armed forces.

Kellogg gave no reason for his action which he announced yesterday other than that he wanted "a

Pirates Defeat Elon Quint To Take Conference Lead

Locals Easily Down Christians By 56-44 As Everton Finds Range, Leads Scoring

By BILL LLOYD
East Carolina's Pirates had easy sailing in defeating Elon's fighting Christians 56-44 last night for their fourth straight North State Conference victory against no losses.

In defeating the visitors Coach Zoward Porter's quint became leaders in the current campaign. Ranga Jack Everton, Pirate forward, topped the night's scoring with ten field goals and two free throws for a high score of 22 points.

The locals took a commanding lead midway of the first half, 16-8, paced by Everton, Louis Collie and Sonny Russell. The latter was held to eight points during the game but displayed brilliant ball handling and excellent passing along with Len Bauer and Toddy Fennell.

At halftime the Teachers held a 29-22 lead.

The game was marked by the fact that only one referee worked the second half. Lou Bello, popular Southern Conference referee from Lurham, had to take over the officiating in the second period after Marion Bird, Bello's running mate, had torn a ligament in his right arm after a scramble in the opening minutes of the game.

Early in the second half the Pirates increased their lead to 42-26 on a series of buckets by Everton, Collie, Russell and Bauer. However, at that point Elon whittled the lead down to a four point difference, 46-42, as guard Cooper and forward Galtner began to hit with consistency.

Porter's boys called time out at that point, talked the growingly tense situation over with the coach, and went back into the races to begin their sharp-shooting game again. Until the timeout period it looked as though the Teachers were resting on their previous scoring laurels but they proved they still had the scoring punch and ran the score to a 12 point lead before Elon could get back on the pace.

The outstanding performer for the Christians was Cooper. Although he was second best in scoring for the visitors, his fast floor game, particularly in hawking the ball out of scrambles, set him above his mates defensively.

Subs from Coach Porter's Pirates' bench saw plenty of action in the tilt with guard Doug Guthrie gathering six points.

Sammy Baugh Hints Ready To Go Coaching At Baylor

Rotan, Tex., Jan. 12—(AP)—Old of—such as getting a definite offer from Baylor and a release from the Redskins.
But if the deal goes through, it couldn't be a lot worse—for Washington fans—if the other 10 men on the Redskins' first string all broke their legs. Sam has been around Washington longer than a lot of Democrats.

Bauch said at his ranch near here that officials from the Baptist school at Waco have asked him if he's interested in a job as head coach. They need a replacement for Bob Wooduff, who quit last week to go to the University of Florida.

"I'd be interested in the job all right if I could get things fixed up with the Redskins," the stringbean passing wizard said.

That meant he'd have to fix up with George Preston Marshall, laundryman owner of the Washington National Football league club, to get out of his contract to play next season. Baugh said he didn't know whether that could be done.

(In Washington, Marshall couldn't be reached for comment, but associates said he hadn't heard of Baylor's advances.)
Anyhow, said Sam, "I figure they have talked to about a dozen other guys, too."
He's right. But the word from Waco was that the men Baylor would like most to get are Baugh, backfield coach H. N. Russell of Southern Methodist and head coach Don Faurot of Missouri—with Baugh in the lead.

Charlie Fusari Bows to Janiro

Detroit, Jan. 12—(AP)—Charlie Fusari's hopes of a title fight with Welterweight champion Ray Robinson were mended last night by a newly two-fisted Tony Janiro of Youngstown, O.

Janiro, a 3-10 underdog at ring time, surged back into the top ranks of the Welterweight division by thrashing the Irvington, N. J., favorite.

A crowd of 12,283 paid a gross gate of $30,425.62 to see Janiro, a reformed playboy, pound out his surprising victory. Janiro came in at 151 3/4 and had a three and a quarter edge on Fusari.

The bout was to have been Fusari's last tuneup for a possible title bout with Robinson. In fact, President James D. Norris of the International Boxing club had indicated the Robinson bout would have been held in New York, perhaps on March 31, at Madison Square Garden.

Janiro changed all that, at least for the time being, as he out-slugged Fusari during the last half of their 10-rounder.

The Ohio battler got a 54-46 vote from Referee Lou Handler and a 52-48 margin from Judge Joe Lenahan. Judge Pete Miller called it even.

New Bern Quint Tops Vanceboro

Vanceboro, Jan. 12—The local Red Raiders were edged out last night by a highly touted New Bern team that scored the winning field goal in the last 20 seconds.

The locals were ahead after the first quarter by at least four points until the fourth period when New Bern narrowed the gap and sank the desperado goal.

The loss marked Vanceboro's second defeat against 10 wins of the current season, losing to Alliance at the first of the season.

Fred Taylor of the visitors was high scorer for the night with 11 points. Close on his shooting heels was Robert Newman of the Raiders with 10, followed by Billy Whitford of the locals with 7 points.

In the preliminary to the boys game, the New Bern girls beat the Vanceboro team to the tune of 43-36. Jean Forest of the locals was high scorer in this game with 15 points followed by New Bern's Shirley Salters with 14. Outstanding defensively for the victors were Ruth Murray and Frances Rudolph.

Rounding out the night's contests was a Junior Varsity game in which Vanceboro suffered its first loss. The score was New Bern 30 the locals 10. They have two games so far.

Missionary Reports Historical Source

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Missionary reports make good history, says Dr. Frank J. Klingberg of the University of California. He and his staff have been working 19 years on reports from 1700 to 1949 of the British missionary societies.

Some of the early reports deal with colonial America and give detailed data about communities, Klingberg says.

Lots Of Progress, Without Much Real Change For State

By LYNN NISBET
 Raleigh, Jan. 12—North Carolina has made phenomenal progress in many respects during the past half century. In some other ways there hasn't been much change in more than fifty years.

Fifty-five years ago a new company had revived operations in the Deep River coal fields of Chatham and Moore counties, and prospects were bright for real development of a coal mining industry in this state.

At the same time, just before turn of the century, efforts were being made to save and develop the commercial fishing industry, with special emphasis on oyster culture. There was a lot of interest in mineral resources, especially the general metallic kind. A new company had bought Stone Mountain on the line of the Blue Ridge in Wilkes county, and planned to build a railroad to enable quarrying of stone on extensive scale.

These and other facts are gleaned from a 411 page book published in 1896 by the state department of agriculture. The book was a highly valued Christmas present to your reporter from his daughter, who picked it up on a bargain counter in a Wilmington, Delaware, shop for twenty cents.

An accompanying map shows only 96 counties—Scotland, Lee, Avery and Hoke had not been constituted as counties then. The map shows no highways, but does show almost as many miles of railroad as the state can now boast. There was then as now, strong sentiment for developing deep sea ports on the coast, and river shipping was more important than it is today.

Comparison of other items shows many surface changes and almost unbelievable progress in many phases of development, without much change in the hopes and aspirations of the people who make up North Carolina. Population of the state then was 1,617,947, about 64 percent white. Now it is nearly four million, about 71 percent white. Total taxable valuation of property then was $289,564,450, and the total state debt was $6,077,750—of which $2,720,000 was represented by self-liquidating bonds for construction of railroads. Total spending for public schools by state and counties then was $765,000 a year. That would run the present school system less than three weeks.

There were 10 automobiles then, no paved highways; no airplanes or landing fields; no radio or moving pictures; very few telephones and electric lights. Now all these are considered common necessities. The $289 million property valuation has increased tenfold. The general assembly and the people by popular vote last year nonchalantly incurred a bonded debt of almost as much as the total valuation listed 55 years ago, and the new debt did not impair overall state credit.

North Carolina has moved a long way forward since 1896 but there has been no basic change in outlook. The state was looking forward then, and it still is looking forward. The 184 separate minerals listed then are still here waiting to be used. The coal and iron and copper is still here and prospects are still bright for their utilization. The state is still concerned about developing a shell-fish business of major proportions through scientific oyster culture.

It was stated then and is true now that North Carolina's chief asset is the character and will of her people.

Lambs Flown To Chicago Exhibit

Dixon, Calif.—(AP)—Flying 67 lambs to Chicago for show purposes cost money and brought special problems to Howard Vaughn, a local sheepgrower. But the chartered plane delivered them in such good condition that they won the reserve champion award at the international livestock exposition.

Air freight wouldn't pay off on ordinary commercial lamb shipments, Vaughn points out. He had to wrap each lamb in burlap to protect its fleece and had to cool the plane off gradually as it left warm California and headed eastward into colder weather.

Big Yield From Old Pasturage

FRESNO, Calif.—(AP)—Way down South in the land of cotton they usually settle for one bale to the acre. Henry Reitz has grown more than four bales to the acre near Fresno. In fact he got 21 bales off five acres.

It was a special case where the land had been in pasture continuously for 7 years and had been liberally fertilized. Reitz has another 150 acres that yield about 2 bales per acre.

Protamine sulfate, used to stop bleeding, is obtained from salmon eggs.

A DAZZLING CLEAN WASH WITHOUT RINSING!

TIDE cuts washday work in half!
 No more rinsing!
 Just wash... wring out... hang up!

"NO MORE RINSING FOR ME!"
 says Mrs. Elizabeth Davis OF PORTSMOUTH, OHIO

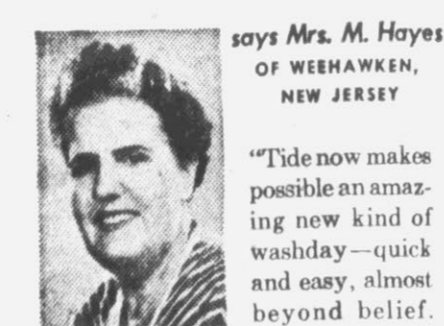

"I didn't believe Tide could do it... till I tried it! But it's true! I took the clothes right out of those wonderful Tide suds and put them through the wringer and onto the line. And, believe me, they looked so bright and clean—I was proud to hang them up!"

YES, another Tide miracle has been discovered—and it's the washday news of the mid-century! With Tide in your washing machine—you can take your clothes right out of the suds... put them through the wringer and hang them on the line dazzling clean! Without rinsing! Hard to believe? Yes, but when you use Procter & Gamble's Tide, it's a fact—and women all over America are proving it today.

YES, CLEAN! You all know how clean Tide has always washed your clothes with rinsing. Actually cleaner than any other washing product you can buy. Now we'd like you to try Tide without rinsing and compare the results. It's simply unbelievable how bright, fresh and clean you can get your wash with Tide, without rinsing. And think of the time and work you save! So try Tide without rinsing! If you do, you'll never use anything but Tide again!

HERE'S WHY! Tide, with its miracle suds, gets the dirt out of your clothes and keeps it suspended in the sudsy water. When you wring out the clothes, the dirt runs out with the washwater... and the clothes come from the wringer white... fresh... CLEAN!

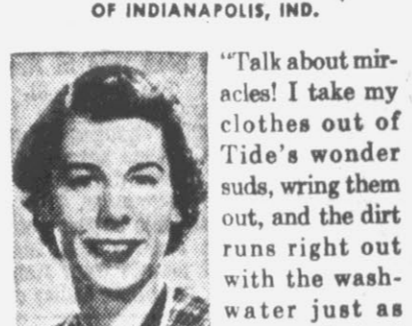

"I took my wash out of the Tide suds—wring it out—and hung it up CLEAN! I'll never rinse again!"

says Mrs. M. Hayes OF WEHAWKEN, NEW JERSEY

"Tide now makes possible an amazing new kind of washday—quick and easy, almost beyond belief. Just think of all the time I'm going to save... without rinsing! And think of the wear and tear it saves on my clothes as well as on me! Thank you, Tide, for the biggest washday miracle of all!"

"My clothes dried so soft and fluffy—ironed so easily—without rinsing at all!"

says Margaret Lockwood OF INDIANAPOLIS, IND.

"Talk about miracles! I take my clothes out of Tide's wonder suds, wring them out, and the dirt runs right out with the washwater just as they say it does! And what a beautiful wash... fresh, clean, and sweet-smelling without rinsing at all! It dries soft, fluffy, easy to iron. From now on, it's Tide—and only Tide—for me!"

No other washing product known can match TIDE for getting out dirt and soap film, too

Chapter 10

Sudden sweat broke out on Marsh's face. He read no mercy in the eyes which smiled with such a chill.

"I'll tell you all I know, Cap'n," he chattered. "So help me, I—"

His words faltered, broke off. Valse saw his eyes trow to something behind him, saw him go tense and start to jump aside.

His own training stood Valse in good stead now. He jumped, grabbing the gunman by an arm, twisting him around in front of him. In that same instant, a gun was coughing hoarsely.

Huff was there, and that bullet had been meant for Valse. The bullet went into Marsh, and it made a wet of hollow sound promptly smothered by the sound of the gun, by the echo of the gun in Valse's other hand.

It was over then, as abruptly as it had begun. He and Huff had each fired one shot. Huff's had found the wrong target. His own had made it such error.

With some difficulty, tying Huff's horse fast to a tree, Valse loaded both bodies into it and tied them fast. The horse would make its way back to the Gun, of course, and when Zachary and his crew viewed those who made their last

The words broke off as his eyes focused more sharply on the horse. Valse was doing, recognized it. He looked startled for just a moment.

"Where'd you get that horse?" he demanded.

"Marsh tried to drygalch me," Valse said flatly. "Then Huff turned up. Huff's bullet downed Marsh, as I was us'n' him for a sort of shield. I downed Huff. Since Marsh had killed my horse, I traded. They'll reach home on Huff's horse."

Rudd snook his head.

"That was't none of my doings," he said. "They must have been doing it on their own. . . . But that's all the more reason why you better move on up the trail fast."

"Hell! I freeze over here I move on," Valse retorted thinly.

"That's your lookout," Rudd said. "One thing sure, you'll find no grass hereabouts," Rudd added. "Come on boys. We've got work to do."

It was a retreat, but in good order. In another sense it was a victory. They had turned the big herd out, and there was nothing that Valse could do about it, short of giving battle.

"Had it hinged only on that one angle, however, Valse would not have hesitated. But so long as public opinion was against him, there could be no real gain in such a move.

There were other ranches hereabouts, and that was the trouble. There was no longer any free grass anywhere near. But some of these outfits must have plenty of extra grass. Well, there was nothing like finding out.

Later afternoon found him not so sure. He had encountered several of the landowners in Lunden's. All had been polite enough. And all had been wary.

Rudd with a good part of his crew behind him, and the bawling of disturbed cattle a steady cadence on the air, like the endless chirping of crickets at night. The sound, Valse saw with tightening mouth, came from his own herd which had been pushed off the Gun range again, and now were milling restlessly.

Off in the distance, other horsemen were just coming into sight, and Valse saw without surprise that they were his own crew. Rudd, as he came up, gestured toward them. "I set word that they'd better come," he said. "To keep yore herd from strayin'. Better get on up the trail till you find—" or conventions when they interfered with what had to be done.

"Valse?" he repeated with the lift of an eyebrow. "Most folks won't admit to that."

"Are you willing to ride where we can talk?"

Valse's answer was to untie his horse and swing to the saddle. They rode out of town and into the afterglow side by side.

"As for your name—I have to call you something, and that's what you call yourself. Besides, you really are Trib Valse. I'm sure of that."

"Nobdy else thinks so."

"Saralce does," she assured him. "I know she does. She wouldn't be so upset, otherwise."

"Maybe we can help each other out," she went on directly. "I've been trying to run the 64, and it's a tough job. One reason being that I've no cattle. But I've got the 64. You've got the herd. My proposition is a simple one. Half and half on everything—partners. If you get the Gun back, of course, that wouldn't be included in the deal."

He looked at her with sharpened interest. "I might not be a good partner for anybody—you know why?"

"I know," she agreed. "But that's what makes you desirable in my eyes. You've got to fight, and you're a fighter. I'm in the same boat."

"If that's the way you feel about it, I'll go with you," he agreed.

She was holding out her hand to him. Valse gripped it warmly, noting how hard and competent it was.

He said, "I'll tell the boys to get the herd on the move."

Chief Discusses Safety At School

Police Chief Lester D. Page, in a talk to the students at West Greenville School today, asked the boys and girls to cooperate with the police in the city's safety regulations. He promised the youngsters that the city administration is planning to rope off different blocks in the city for them to roller skate. The chief plans to make a similar talk at other city schools shortly, he said.

to observe safety regulations on their bicycles. He reminded that it is important that everybody observe the traffic lights. He read a report of the fatalities in the state and nation resulting from carelessness in traffic.

Miss Agnes Pulllove, principal of the school, said Chief Page "talked heart-to-heart with the school children," gave them some valuable advice about safety rules in traffic, and made a favorable impression on the youngsters.

The police chief said it is against the law to shoot air rifles in the city limits and reminded about the danger of a stray shot damaging property or injuring some person.

Page said parents of children shooting air rifles in the city and damaging property (breaking glass at business and residential places) will be held responsible for the damage.

New 4-H Club In Pactolus Formed

A new 4-H club was organized in Pactolus high school Thursday, January 5, bringing the total of Pitt County clubs to 19.

Miss Marjorie Shearin, director of Pitt girls' clubs, announced this morning that the new club has a membership of 30 boys and girls at present and will become a Junior club. The old Junior club has now become the intermediate group.

Officers of the new group will be elected at the February 2 meeting. Miss Shearin said that the club will not specialize in any one field but will work in conjunction with the two other groups now organized at the Pactolus high school.

Momentous . . .

in the street is that capital and labor weren't able to get together, and both suffered.

A typical example was the national crisis of 1926 in the all-important coal mining industry. The mine owners called for wage reductions, claiming that the mines weren't paying their way because of increased cost of production and loss of markets in the world war. The miners were against cuts and maintained among other things that the trouble was the wastefulness of piece-meal ownership. The workers called for nationalization of the mines to overcome this.

Education . . .

still find ways of going through college. If the government pays the freight for them, they will get the notion we have a "welfare state." There's no reason why ordinary people should be taxed to give an education to those brighter than the rest of us. It might lead to federal control of schools.

Supporters of the plan put their views this way, in part: Government scholarships are necessary to equalize educational opportunities. There's little or no danger of federal control in such a program. The government right now is helping 67 land-grant colleges — state-supported schools — with more than $170,000,000 a year. The government has spent more than $3,500,000,000 on education for war veterans.

To the argument — "Ambitious and needy students can still find ways of going through college"—the U.S. commissioner of education says: "This is a myth. Some do get through. But among the highly gifted graduates of high schools . . . as we are now doing, by . . . falling there are at least as many who never get to college as there are those who do." You'll hear more of this when the plan, in detail, goes to Congress.
