Demo Leaders Say Rally Big Success

Delegates From All 16 Southern States Except Louisiana Present For Raleigh Harmony Meeting; Record Sum Raised For Party Chest

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 30.—(AP)—Democratic leaders were on record today as terming Saturday's south-wide party conference a big success.

William M. Boyle, Jr., chairman of the party's national committee, said the regional confab was as good or better than similar regional meetings in Des Moines and San Francisco.

The conference, designed to promote harmony in the party's ranks, preceded a state-wide Jefferson-Jackson day dinner which raised $32,700 for the Democratic party's campaign chest.

Vice President Alben Barkley was the featured speaker at the 450-people fund-raising affair. He declared it looks as though the Republican party is "on its way out forever."

The regional conference had party delegates from all 16 Southern states except Louisiana present. Louisiana's representative was ill.

Secretary of the army Gordon Gray said "unification of the armed forces is a sound and just thing to work for."

Budget director Frank Pace asserted "I am old fashioned enough to believe that a balanced budget is a prudent financial goal for which we should continually strive."

Jonathan Daniels, North Carolina's Democratic National committeeman, was general chairman of the conference and master of ceremonies at the dinner.

Governor James Pollock of Alabama and Sid McMath of Arkansas took turns presiding at the conference. They were the only out-of-state governors present.

Pollock said it was the best convention he had ever attended. Both he and McMath predicted its results would be beneficial to the south.

The biggest fuss during the entire day's proceeding was observed at the dinner. Perhaps as many as 60 persons who had bought tickets said they couldn't get into the dining hall in the Sir Walter Hotel because of the large crowd.

Tax Hearings

Washington, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Chairman Doughton (D-NC) said today the House Ways and Means Committee will start hearings Friday on President Truman's new tax program.

That is a day later than originally planned. The postponement was decided upon when Secretary of the Treasury Snyder, the first witness, reported he could not appear until Friday.

Rocks Will Be Valuable

Ordinary Rocks Contain Minute Quantities Of Uranium And Thorium, Sources Of Nuclear Energy; Someday, Extracting The Elements Will Be Profitable

By FRANK CAREY

Washington, Jan. 30.—(AP)—You might leave a note in a time capsule for your descendants 2,000 years hence advising them to save all the rocks in their backyards.

The rocks might bring them some spending money—and help the nation maintain its atomic energy program as well by furnishing new sources of uranium and thorium.

Step Up Search

White Horse, Y. T., Jan. 30.—(AP)—More men and machines were poured today into the search for a missing U. S. air force transport and its 44 occupants.

Face of the two-nation hunt, already ranking as the largest in the history of the frozen north, was stepped up as it entered its fourth day.

Reports of sub-zero temperatures brought new fears for the survival of any of the plane's occupants.

Temperature at Snag, a tiny weather station 20 miles inside the Yukon territory from Alaska over which the huge transport made its last contact with the outside, was 10 below zero last night. Even colder readings were in prospect before morning.

The big, four-engine C-54 radioed its position from Snag last Thursday afternoon, about two hours after leaving Anchorage, Alaska, on a non-stop flight to Great Falls, Mont.

Little Blockade Of Berlin Ends

Soviet Guards Pass All Trucks Through Frontier Posts

Berlin, Jan. 30.—(AP)—The Russians dropped their "little blockade" of the city today and allowed road traffic to flow normally from the West to Berlin for the first time in ten days.

Soviet guards, obviously acting on higher orders, passed all trucks through the frontier posts at a Berlin and Helmstedt, 100 miles to the west, with only perfunctory checks.

The Soviets did not give any reason for the armistice, just as they never gave any official reason for starting their highway blocking. It was assumed, however, the slowdown began in retaliation for the seizure of the Berlin railway headquarters building by West Berlin police acting on orders from the U. S. commandant in Berlin.

The railroads and the building are administered by the Soviet-backed east zone government. U. S. officials later ordered the West Berliners to evacuate the building, which is in the American zone of the city.

The slowdown, which reached recognizable proportions eight days ago, cut highway traffic almost to a standstill and cost West Berlin about 10,000 tons of supplies, American officials estimated.

This was a drop in the bucket, however, since the railroad system was undisturbed and poured more than that into the city in one day. Allied officials concluded that the Soviet objective, therefore, was more psychological than anything else.

SCOTT IN RICHMOND Raleigh, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Governor Scott was scheduled to make an address at Richmond, Va., today before the Town and Country Pastors' Institute at the Presbyterian Union Theological Seminary.

Predicts Smaller Crops Due To Less Fertilizer

Carlsbad, N.M., Jan. 30.—(AP)—A spokesman for three firms which turned out 85 per cent of the nation's potash predicted today a fertilizer shortage will result in smaller crops this year.

He said farmers in the south and midwest will be especially hard-hit. Those who will feel the shortage most are growers of citrus fruits, sugar, tobacco, cotton and small-grain farmers.

That prediction was made by Rufus Poole, spokesman for the United States Potash Company, Potash Company of America and International Minerals and Chemical Corp.

Poole said a high official of the National Labor Relations Board told him recently he considers the potash shortage potentially more serious to the nation than either the coal dispute or a steel shutdown because it threatens to reduce the nation's food supply within a few months.

Potash is a vital ingredient of fertilizer. Poole estimated that up to 25 per cent of agricultural production is based on use of fertilizer. He said Department of Agriculture figures show about 600,000 tons of potash are needed for fertilizer before April 1. Half that much is on hand.

He sees a shortage of roughly 150,000 tons. The shortage results from a strike since Nov. 19 of some 1,500 workers in the three Carlsbad potash mines. The workers—members of the CIO International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers—demand a 25-cent an hour pay increase and improved working conditions.

"At first glance," he writes, "it looks like very little, but let us perform the following calculation: 'We know that one kilogram (1,000 grams) of fissionable natural uranium contains an amount of nuclear energy equivalent to 20,000 tons of gasoline if used as a fuel.' 'Thus the 16 grams of uranium and thorium contained in one ton of granite rock, if turned into fissionable materials, would be equivalent to 320 tons of ordinary fuel.' 'That is enough to repay us for all the complicated trouble of separation—especially if we found that we were nearing the end of our supply.'"

Hannibal, Mo., Jan. 30.—(AP)—"I'm going to get my babies or die with them." With these words, a 29-year-old father plunged into the flames consuming his tiny two-room house yesterday on the bank of the Mississippi river.

The father, Thomas Woodward Armstrong, and three of his children died in the fire. The dead children were Barbara Ann, 3, Thomas Woodward, Jr., 2, and Pearl, 11 months.

Pitt Polio Drive Closes Tuesday With Annual Ball

Chairman Marshall Says Success Of Campaign May Rest On Big Dance

Pitt county's 1950 March of Dimes campaign will be concluded tomorrow night with the ninth annual President's Ball which will be held from 9 till 1 in Wright gymnasium on the East Carolina Teachers College campus.

Dr. W. E. Marshall, chairman of the county March of Dimes drive, said estimates from various parts of the county indicate approximately 1,500 tickets already have been sold for the dance.

Larry Averette, chairman of the dance ticket sales, said a record crowd is expected to be present for the dance. He pointed out that tickets will be on sale at the door for $1 per person for those who have not secured advance tickets for the President's Ball.

Music for the dance will be furnished by Bob Lee and his Colleagues. Dr. Marshall said today reports from the county show the March of Dimes campaign in Pitt is going well, but he added the success of the President's ball tomorrow night will have a great deal to do with determining whether Pitt reaches the $12,500 goal set for it in the current campaign. He said a final check with the community chairman from all parts of the county will be made tomorrow.

"I would like for everyone who believes in the March of Dimes to come to the dance tomorrow night," Dr. Marshall stated. "If they will come to the dance, it will be one of the major ways for the people of Pitt county to make it possible for boys and girls crippled by infantile paralysis to walk again."

Consolidate For Attack On Reds

New York, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Representatives of 60 National organizations, claiming a combined membership of 50,000,000 have laid the groundwork for a permanent organization to combat Communism in the United States.

The action was taken on the closing session yesterday of a two-day "all-American conference" sponsored by the American Legion.

Rush Relief To Disaster Area

Tehran, Iran, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Government officials rushed relief supplies today to the Persian Gulf area of Bushire, struck by a recent series of sharp earthquakes.

First unofficial reports on the toll had said that more than 1,500 persons were killed but the government said it believed these figures were greatly exaggerated. The government, however, gave no figure of its own on the possible total of dead. Rescue and relief workers in Bushire thus far have recovered only 30 bodies.

After that, Chairman Wee (D-W Va) ordered the committee into executive session for a closed-door discussion of the more touchy questions of U. S. foreign policy throughout all of Asia. This policy is now under fire from Acheson's Republican critics.

Acheson's brief public testimony failed to produce anything but the mildest questionings by committee members. The Secretary urged reversal of the House defeat last Monday of the $60,000,000 Korean assistance bill. Speaking without notes or a prepared statement, he called for approval of a substitute proposal which ties Korean economic aid to extension of the China Aid Act of 1948.

Both aid programs expire Feb. 15, and would be extended until June 30 by the proposed legislation. Acheson told the committee that the United States, as the principal sponsor of Korea's postwar government, has responsibilities to see Korea through its present difficult financial troubles.

"To stop aid now," he said, "would be a most unfortunate thing to do and would undo all that has been done. There are unexpended funds of about $108,000,000 for China aid which he said could be used to some extent. But the entire amount, he added, "could not be spent" by June 30 for economic assistance.

Notice To City Subscribers

In order to assure our subscribers against missing a single issue of the paper our circulation department will be open each evening from 6 to 6:30 to receive complaints and make deliveries of any missed issues. Except on rare occasions when there may be a delay at our office, all city subscribers should receive their deliveries by six o'clock.

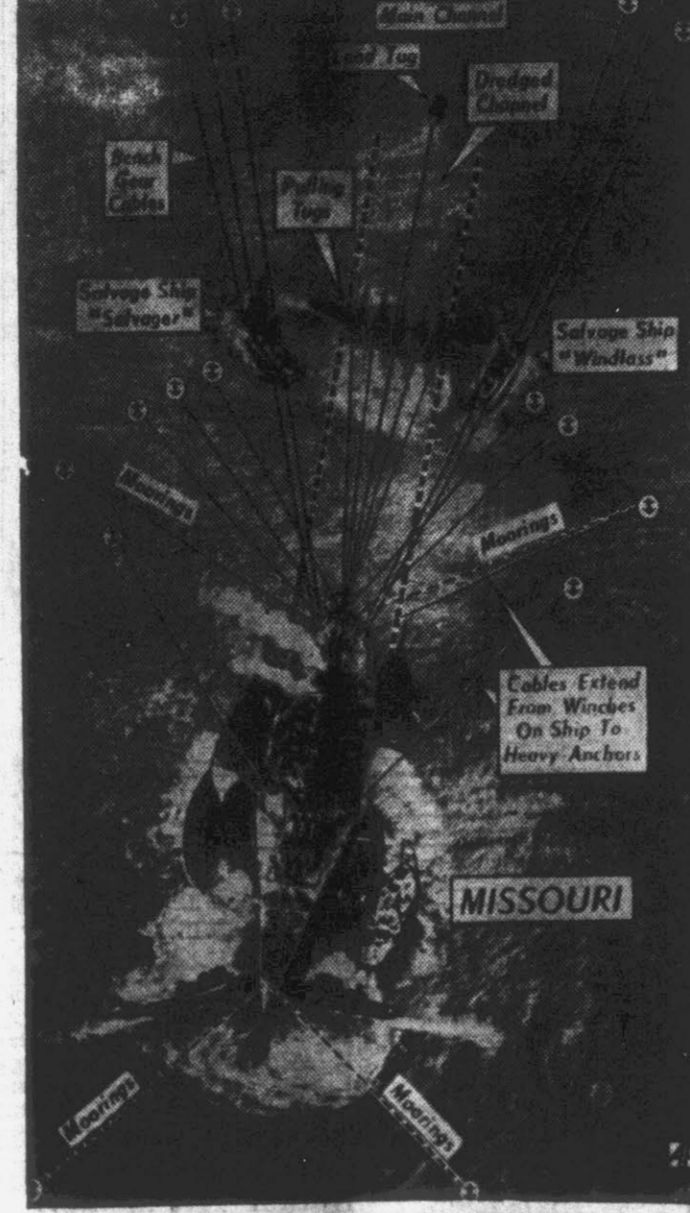

If you have not received your paper by six o'clock or a few minutes thereafter please call 3356 giving your name and address and if more than one subscriber lives at the address, whether one or more papers were missed. Complaints will be received until 6:30, after which deliveries will be made by special messenger. After that hour the department will be closed for the day and no further complaints will be received or deliveries made.

We are setting up this complaint bureau in an effort to assure the best possible service to our subscribers and your cooperation by calling during the prescribed period will be appreciated.

Dies In Attempt To Save Babies

Plans To Free 'Big Mo'

This photo diagram, based on the Navy's maneuver chart, details the projected plan for "Operation Pull-Off," an all-out attempt to free the US Missouri from the Chesapeake Bay mudbank near Norfolk, Va. The operation is scheduled for February 2. Part of the effort will be by the Missouri herself. Powerful winches on the battleship's deck will haul on nine cables (black lines fanning out from Missouri) to four-ton anchors imbedded in the bottom of the bay. Two Windlass-type beach salvage ships, the "Windlass" and the "Salvager," will be linked to the Missouri by tow cables and will haul against beach gear cables anchored far astern. Five sea-going tugs, held together by a lead tug and two harbor tugs pressing in from opposite sides, will work in a surging or rocking pull. Heavy broken lines outline channel dredged from Missouri's stern to main ship channel, a half-mile away. Other tugs will work alongside the Missouri with two harbor tugs alternating in pushing against the bow of the ship in a "whiplash" motion to help break the suction grip of the mud. Mooring lines (light broken lines) from bow to stern are intended to keep the big ship from turning out of the dredged channel. (AP Wirephoto).

Acheson Warns Result Of Stopping Korean Aid

Secretary Of State Says All Southeast Asia Would Be Affected; Outlines U. S. Responsibilities At Hearing

Washington, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Secretary of State Acheson told Congress today that to stop economic aid to Korea now would be "most unfortunate." He said it would affect not only that young postwar republic but all of southeast Asia.

It is "a safe bet," the Secretary added, that democratic South Korea can resist anything short of a "major attack" from the Russian-dominated northern half of the Korean peninsula.

Acheson outlined American responsibilities in Korea at an amicable session of the House Foreign Affairs Committee. After that, Chairman Wee (D-W Va) ordered the committee into executive session for a closed-door discussion of the more touchy questions of U. S. foreign policy throughout all of Asia. This policy is now under fire from Acheson's Republican critics.

Acheson's brief public testimony failed to produce anything but the mildest questionings by committee members. The Secretary urged reversal of the House defeat last Monday of the $60,000,000 Korean assistance bill. Democrats May Arrange Further Southern Meets

Washington, Jan. 30.—(AP)—The Democratic National committee may next arrange a series of state meetings in the South, accenting "harmony" and omitting talk of the touchy civil rights issue. The Southern regional Democratic convention at Raleigh, N. C., Saturday, established the pattern which some of President Truman's Dixie supporters want to pursue on a state by state basis.

Unemployment In County Slightly Higher Than '49

Situation Easing For Common Labor; Dillingham Sees Turning Point

Officials of the Pitt office of the State Employment Security commission said today the employment situation for common labor is easing somewhat in the county although the local unemployment is slightly higher than a year ago.

W. B. Dillingham, supervisor of the Pitt office of the Employment Security commission, commented this morning, "The employment situation is a little worse than a year ago, but it is not alarming. Except for the seasonal lag I don't see that the unemployment situation in this area is bad at all."

He said there has been little indication that the new 75 cents an hour minimum wage which went into effect last week will have an appreciable effect on the local employment situation.

Dillingham said the unemployment situation for common labor in this area is easing because of an increase in farm work at the present time. He said the general employment outlook for Pitt was expected to brighten immediately following the first of the year, but so far there has been little change.

"I don't think it's going to get any worse," Dillingham remarked. "In fact I think we've reached the point now where it is going to improve." He said the local employment office has been contacted by a number of tenant farmers who are seeking crops to tend for the coming year, and added that there has been slight increase in the number of tenant farmers and farm laborers who have sought employment through the office this year as compared with 1949.

He pointed out that records of the local office indicate there has been an increase in the number of Pitt county natives formerly working in other areas who have now returned to this county and are seeking employment here.

Car Overtakes In Avoiding Cyclist

A car operated by Eimer S. Payne, a Marine from Cherry Point, turned over yesterday afternoon on the Grimesland highway about one and one-half miles from Grimesland.

Payne told investigating officer Paul C. Whitley that a bicycle rider cut across from the side of the road directly in the path of his car, and that he turned over as he attempted to avoid striking the rider.

Damage, confined to the top part of the car, was estimated at around $300. The driver was not injured.

Prison Term For Former Pastor

Benton, Ill., Jan. 30.—(AP)—A circuit court jury has convicted a former Baptist pastor of statutory rape of a 14-year-old member of his congregation. The jury, which returned its verdict Saturday, fixed James L. Pettit's punishment at two years in prison.

Sawmill Entered, But Nothing Taken Say Investigating Police

Ayden, Jan. 30.—A sawmill owned by J. B. Dennis, local man, was broken into last night around 9:30 but investigating officers found nothing missing.

Chief of Police J. M. Whitehurst reported this morning that when he was called to the mill he found the lights on and the gasoline pump on, indicating that the motive for the break-in was probably theft of gas. As yet the intruder has not been caught.

Gilmore Craft, a neighbor who lives adjacent to the mill, called the police when he saw the lights in the mill turned on. He told Whitehurst that a bus was found near the gas pump that ordinarily was not there. The police are still investigating the incident.

Coal Strike Goes Into Fourth Week

Secret Session

Washington, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Behind a tight secrecy curtain drawn by the state department, representatives of the United States, Belgium and Britain meet here today to talk about atomic energy.

Apparently authoritative information is that they want to discuss: 1 A possible increase in the $200 to $300 per ton price which the United States pays Belgium for the bulk of uranium produced in the Belgium Congo. 2 Detailed arrangements for division of the Congo's uranium output between the United States and Britain, with virtually all of it going to this country.

Since the talks deal with uranium—used in making present day A-bombs—there is no apparent connection with a possible superbomb powered with hydrogen.

Jury Finds Ten Grocers Innocent

Washington, N.C., Jan. 30.—(AP)—A jury today acquitted 10 grocers accused of a $100,000 theft conspiracy.

The jury reported its verdict of "not guilty" shortly after 9 a.m. The case went to the jury early last night as Beaufort County Superior Court held its first Sunday session. Judge John J. Burney ordered them locked up for the night after 3 1/2 hours deliberation.

The grocers were accused of buying at cut-rates merchandise stolen from Thomas and Howard Wholesale Grocery Company here. Last year 15 former company employees were fined and given suspended sentences in a series of thefts which the court maintained had run from the fall of 1946 to November, 1948. The grocers were accused of buying goods allegedly stolen during this period.

The defendants were Grover Boyd, D. A. Campen, Braxton Potter, Bill Wollard, Frank Jones, Wade Lilly, James Griffin, Worth Ross, Daniel Sawyer and Carl Wollard. The state dropped, with leave to reopen its prosecution of two others—Avis Green and Ivory Keys.

AFL Chieftains In Winter Meet

Miami Beach, Fla., Jan. 30.—(AP)—Top chiefs of the American Federation of Labor today charted an early start on plans to make 1950 the labor organization's biggest political year.

Strategy in next year's primary was reported due for early attention as the AFL's executive council opened its winter meeting.

No Easy Time Ahead

Resigning U. S. Deputy On United Nations Atomic Commission Believes Atomic Control Secondary To Soviet Aims; A 'Friendly And Cooperative World'

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

Major General Frederick H. Osborn, who has resigned (effective tomorrow) as U. S. deputy on the United Nations atomic energy commission, says he believes the world is still in for a period of trial and Americans will be deluding themselves if they feel an easy time is ahead.

The General has been trying for three years to find the basis for an agreement with Russia on world atomic control. Never having got close to a solution he now declares: "I do not think the Soviet Union will come to agreement on the control of atomic energy until they (the leaders) reassess their relations with the world as a whole and decide that they want to live in a cooperative and friendly world."

"This means, I take it, that atomic control isn't the primary consideration. World relations come first in importance, and atomic control depends on them—the thesis with which most observers are likely to agree. That brings us bang up against the troublesome question of what can produce 'a cooperative and friendly world.'"

Most people know the answer to that, but it is so disconcerting that they try to evade it. The answer is that we can't have friendship and cooperation until our world-wide politico-social upheaval has run its course.

That isn't confined to the cold war between Communism and Democracy. In one form or another this politico-social readjustment is going on in every thinking country. As a matter of fact you find it beginning to show itself even among the primitive peoples.

This struggle for the ironing out of inequalities is taking so many forms that it can't be pinned down with one characterization. The most clean-cut division, of course, is the political and economic strife between Communism and Democracy—the cold war which now reaches around the world and is swelling daily. The cold war is the chief barrier to world peace. This is true by Communism and Democracy utterly irreconcilable. That reason General Osborn was resigning.

Miners Continue To Stay Out Despite Hint From White House For More Coal Production; President Said Contemplating Action

Pittsburgh, Jan. 30.—(AP)—The nation's "no contract no work" soft coal strike surged into its fourth week with undiminished vigor today despite a hint from the White House for more production.

In western Pennsylvania, heart of the miners' refusal to work until they get a contract, no larger United Mine Worker operation was working.

Best estimates are that practically all the 50,000 diggers in that area are staying at home while the shrill "come to work" whistles blare in vain.

Some mines are reported working in central Pennsylvania where the 1950 work stoppage was hit only lightly and sporadically.

Among the large pits which failed to re-open were those owned by a half dozen big steel companies, the Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal companies and two large utilities supplying the metropolitan Pittsburgh area with electrical power.

The number of striking miners in Virginia, the country's biggest producing state, jumped 1,000 last week to 20,000 in the northern section of the state. The remainder of the state's 110,000 diggers, largely in the southern area, have not been affected by the walkout. Some West Virginia UMW district officials had predicted a growing return to work movement.

Continued idleness also was reported in Ohio. Last week one-fifth of the country's 400,000 coal diggers were idle in six states in the latest walkout.

The United Mine Workers chose to brush off a suggestion from John L. Lewis, their president, that they go back to work on a three-day week while he tries to get a new contract.

Lewis' negotiations with a big bloc of northern and western operators resumed Wednesday in Washington.

As the nation's coal stocks steadily dwindled, there were indications from Washington that Mr. Truman may step into the situation within 48 hours.

A top adviser to Mr. Truman said the chief executive's possible decision to step in would be influenced by the extent to which striking miners abandon their walkout.

It is speculation that if the President does take hand, he'll use the same procedure he followed in last year's steel strike. That would set up an independent board with instructions to make recommendations to him.

If Mr. Truman followed this plan, it would involve both a request to the UMW and the operators to resume production of coal pending hearings by the board.

Another course open to the President is declaring a national emergency exists. Then he could use the Taft-Hartley Act's injunctive powers and bring about full-scale coal production for 90 days. Mr. Truman doesn't like the Taft-Hartley Act, although he says he would not hesitate to use its emergency provisions if he thinks it necessary.

THE DAILY REFLECTOR January 30, 1918

Just before 1 o'clock this afternoon fire started in the tobacco stemmery building on South Pitt street, the tobacco section of the town, and completely destroyed the building with a quantity of loose leaf tobacco and a few hogheads. The building was owned by R. O. Jeffress and was occupied by T. W. Skinner and Co. as a storage and leaf house. When the alarm was first given the fire department started out promptly, but someone met the hose wagon on hook and ladder truck on Dickinson avenue and told the drivers the fire was all out. They returned to the station and put the wagons away when another alarm was given. By the misinformation much time was lost in getting to the fire. Cause of the fire is believed to be sparks from a passing engine on the Norfolk and Southern railroad.

Golden Text: Jeremiah 31:3. "The Lord hath appeared of old unto me, saying, Yes I have loved thee with an everlasting love: therefore with lovingkindness have I drawn thee." Among the citations comprising the lesson-sermon are the following from the Bible: "And he answering said, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbor as thyself." (Luke 10: 27).

And from the Christian Science textbook by Mary Baker Eddy: "Love for God and man is the true incentive in both healing and teaching. Love inspires, designates and leads the way." Page 454.

V. F. W. Auxiliary Plans Supper Meet

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars held its regular monthly meeting Thursday night, January 28, at the club house. The business meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. Margaret Brown. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. Two petitions for membership were presented to the auxiliary. Mrs. Betsy West was initiated. The Rehabilitation chairman, Mrs. Madeline Vincent, reported on a speedy family helped at Christmas time. Hospital chairman, Mrs. Carrie West, gave a report on flowers sent to sick members and 22 gifts sent to Veterans hospital for Christmas.

The ladies voted to entertain their husbands at a supper on Friday night, February 3, at the armory. All members are urged to be present as plans were made for a good time for all.

Delegates to the district meeting to be held in Kinston on Sunday, February 19, were elected. They were as follows: Mesdames Lillie Parks, Lottie Lewis, Lillie Pearl Joyner, Jeanette Waters and Anabelle Averte.

Mrs. Madeline Vincent, hostess, served refreshments during the social hour.

Mrs. Taft Hostess To Inter Se Club

Dostoyevsky, the Russian novelist, was the subject of a talk made to the Inter Se Club by Mrs. Burke Standall at the home of Mrs. Joe Taft on January 17.

The great Russian writer was sentenced to death because of alleged disloyalty to the Orthodox church and to the Czar, but banishment to Siberia was his substitute punishment. His life was a series of harrowing experiences not excluding poverty and a constant fear of debtors.

"Crime and Punishment," considered by many to be his supreme novel, is an excellent detective story, and helped to place him indisputably as first among Russian writers. His "Brothers Karamasov" has been said by some critics to be the world's best written novel. It was written just before his death in 1880, and was never actually completed.

Mrs. Taft had as her guest Mrs. Hoover Taft, who assisted her in serving a delicious salad plate with coffee and sweets.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has found benzene hexachloride may be used to control chicken lice without making meat or eggs taste "musty."

Davis-Corbett Vows Spoken At Grindle Creek Church

On Tuesday, January 17, Miss Iris Pauline Corbett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Corbett, became the bride of Mr. Chester B. Davis, son of Rev. and Mrs. Chester Davis, in a candlelight ceremony beautiful in its simplicity.

The father of the groom performed the ceremony. C. D. Corbett and Vernon Davis lighted the candles. Ushers were Cpl. R. C. Davis of Washington, D. C., and Cecil Corbett of near Greenville. Curtis Paul of Greenville, pianist, furnished a program of wedding music.

The bride wore a street length suit of light blue gabardine and used black accessories. Her shoulder corsage was of red roses. The bride and groom entered the church unattended. Immediately after the ceremony, the couple left for a wedding trip to unannounced points.

The bride is a graduate of Pictolus high school. The groom is a graduate of Tri-State college for three years. In March the couple will return to Angola, Indiana where Mr. Davis will complete his studies in Chemical Engineering.

Greenville Woman Honored In National Contest Hollywood

Mrs. Chester Walsh received the following letter today from Radio Station WGTM, Wilson, N. C.:

"Dear Mrs. Walsh:
"During the recent 'Queen of America' contest which was broadcast on Mutual, you were nominated as one of the Queens in Eastern North Carolina representing the Business and Professional Women's club. We would like to congratulate you on the position of esteem which you occupy and thank you for taking part in the 'Queen of America' contest. The scroll, which is emblematic of the honor accorded you is being mailed to your club and we are sending you personally a Coro bracelet with the best wishes of Miles Laboratories, sponsors of 'Queen for a Day.' Please be assured of our best regards.

"Yours truly,
"RADIO STATION WGTM
"Clint Farris,
"Assistant Manager."

In this contest, open to all club women of the United States to select a "Club Queen for a Day," the Greenville Business and Professional Women's club nominated four members: Mrs. J. B. Spilman and Mrs. Clem Garner, the two chosen as club "Women of the Year" and the president, Mrs. Ruth Meeks, and Mrs. Walsh. The Woman's Club named Mrs. J. H. B. Moore and Mrs. Vance Perkins. Names of fifty club women were to be selected and clubs given honorable mention, with five chosen women to make the trip to participate on the national program at Hollywood recently.

Scouts' Banquet Plans Nearing Final Stages

Plans are being completed this week for the annual Father-Son banquet of the Pitt Boy Scout district which is to be held at East Carolina Teachers College February 9.

Banquet Chairman Lester Turnage said the program is being arranged at the present time, and the principal speaker of the annual meeting will be announced within a few days.

Members of the Greenville Lions club, he said, have underwritten a portion of the expenses of the banquet and will attend the banquet in lieu of their regular meeting during the week of February 5.

Boy Scouts and their fathers representing the 13 troops of the Pitt district are expected to be present at the meeting.

A cup will be presented to the troop which has the largest percentage of its members and their fathers present at the meeting, and prizes will be presented to troops taking part in the skits which will be staged at the banquet. The skits, the scout leaders said, will deal with the various phases of scout craft, and will give the troop members an opportunity to exhibit the skills they have acquired.

Turnage said all money for the banquet tickets must be turned in to the banquet committee not later than February 7.

Mrs. N. H. Whitehurst Died Here Yesterday

Mrs. Mary Thigpen Whitehurst, 62, widow of N. H. Whitehurst, died at her home in Greenville at 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon. She died suddenly after apparently suffering a severe stroke. Funeral services will be conducted at St. Paul's Episcopal Church Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock by Rector Ernest H. Williams. Burial will follow in Greenwood cemetery.

Mrs. Whitehurst, daughter of the late Edgar Kenneth and Mollie Virginia Hodges Thigpen, was born in Edgecombe County and spent all her early life in eastern North Carolina. She attended Woman's College in Greensboro, and in 1908, she was married to N. H. Whitehurst. He died in 1945. She was a member of Saint Paul's Episcopal Church.

Surviving are three sons, N. H. Whitehurst of Houston, Texas, E. T. Whitehurst of Waco, Texas, and W. S. Whitehurst of Greenville; two daughters, Mrs. B. F. Lewis of

School Children's Annual Art Exhibit In Local Gallery

Opening today in the local art gallery is the annual exhibit of selected works from the N. C. School Children's annual art exhibition.

Each spring the art departments of the University of North Carolina, the Women's College, the North Carolina Federation of Women's Clubs and the North Carolina chapter of A. A. U. W. sponsor an exhibition of art work done in the elementary schools of the state. Works are sent to Person Hall Art Gallery in Chapel Hill one year and the next year to the Witherington Art Gallery in Greensboro. Eminent work serves as jurors to select the best from works submitted. The selected works are made up into exhibits which are scheduled throughout the state the following year. The exhibit now showing in Greenville is section 2 of the annual exhibition of last spring.

Mr. Walker, art teacher in the Greenville schools has made plans for all elementary school children with their teachers to visit the gallery this week. The sponsors of the local gallery cordially invite the public to visit the show. Parents and educators are particularly invited. The exhibit will close February 7.

Luther C. McLawhorn Funeral Held Today

Mr. Luther C. McLawhorn, 56, died at Tayloe Hospital at 5:40 o'clock Saturday morning after being critically ill for two weeks. Funeral services were conducted from the home near Dudley's Crossroads this afternoon at three o'clock by the Rev. Walter B. Nobles, Free Will Baptist minister of Winterville, and burial was in the Mack Smith cemetery near Cox's Mill.

Mr. McLawhorn, son of the late Jerry and Virginia Cox McLawhorn, was born in Pitt County and spent all his life in Pitt and Craven Counties. He was a veteran of World War I and saw action in England, Belgium and France. He was married to Lillie Mae Hudson in 1923 and

Girl Scout Council Will Meet Tonight

The Greenville Girl Scout Council will hold an important meeting at the Rotary building tonight at 7:45. Mrs. J. Knott Proctor, Greenville commissioner, will preside.

Plans will be formulated at tonight's meeting for the year's activities. A definite program for the summer camp, Camp Hardee, on Pamlico River, below Chocowinity, also will be arranged. Mrs. E. Henderson, executive secretary, stated.

More Needed To Modernize Roads

Washington, Jan. 30—(AP)—It would take $332,000,000 to bring North Carolina's roads up-to-date, according to a congressional committee.

The congressional joint committee on the economic report took notice of the recent $200,000,000 bond issue for stabilization and construction of county roads. However, it said an additional $132,000,000 is needed to bring the state highway system "up to acceptable standards."

The estimates are included in the committee's report on "highways and the nation's economy."

The committee pointed out that no estimate has been made of the needs in cities and villages in North Carolina.

Present highway construction under contract in the state totals $17,894,880 and contracts of $6,000,000 are expected to be awarded this year. Funds authorized for expenditure for the rest of this fiscal year amount to $42,698,893 with an additional $50,000,000 from the $200,000,000 bond issue available immediately, the report said.

Romeo Beaten, But Chivalrous

Charlotte, N.C., Jan. 30—(AP)—The course of true love ran roughly over the weekend for Romeo Ferguson.

In a domestic dispute, Romeo took a beating about the head with a poker.

But Romeo was chivalrous. He refused to sign a warrant.

Davie Farmer Is Cotton-Growing Champ of State

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 30—(AP)—A Davie County farmer who produced 6,200 pounds of lint on five acres was named today as North Carolina's 1949 cotton growing champion.

First prize of $800 in the state's five-acre cotton contest was awarded here to J. G. Crawford at a meeting here. He will share the money with Alex Cuthrell, Negro tenant.

Runner-up and winner of $400 was C. B. Stevenoy of Iredell county, whose yield was 5,935 pounds on five acres.

The contest was conducted under supervision of the N. C. State Seed Crushers Association.

Baby Is Found In Shallow Grave

Henderson, N.C., Jan. 30—(AP)—Six hours in a shallow grave apparently did a six-week-old Negro girl little harm.

Officers dug the baby, Clarice White, from the grave Saturday night. Sunday she was reported in good condition.

Sheriff A. E. Cottrell said the unmarried mother, Gracie Lee White, admitted burying the child. She is being held on an open charge. The sheriff said he will confer today with County Attorney Ervin B. Watkins.

Clarice's twin brother died in bed about four weeks ago, the sheriff reported, and the coroner ruled then the death was from natural causes. Cottrell indicated that the death may be investigated further.

Plans Taking No Chances Again

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 30—(AP)—The schooner Gee Gee III, towed off a sandbar after being caught nine days with three aboard, was being repaired here today before completing her trip to Georgetown, S.C.

Phil Hunn, master of the 109-foot vessel, said damage was minor. "When we go south," he added, "we'll pass Cape Hatteras at least 100 miles at sea. The Gee Gee is too big to go through the inland waterway and we're taking no chances."

Hunn, owner John Hazard of Chapel Hill, N.C., and a crewman were aboard.

Big Jim Okays Raleigh Meeting

Shelby, N. C., Jan. 30—(AP)—"Shut up talking about it" and move on to "more important things."

That's Alabama Governor James Folsom's advice to proponents of civil rights.

In an interview here yesterday Folsom said he believes the American people "are sick and tired of all this fulmination about civil rights."

Folsom and his wife were in Shelby to visit Mrs. Folsom's aunt, Mrs. Mall A. Spangler, and Mr. Spangler at their home north of here. They are enroute to Montgomery, Ala., after attending the conference of Southern Democrats in Raleigh Saturday.

He termed the Raleigh session "the best Democratic meeting I ever attended outside a courthouse." He explained that he thought "courthouse meetings" constituted the best brand of Democracy.

He insisted that the Raleigh conference should not be taken as an endorsement of civil rights or other phases of Truman's FEPC program. Civil rights issues were avoided at the Raleigh session.

Bunche Speaks In Raleigh Tonight

Raleigh, N.C., Jan. 30—(AP)—Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, director of the United Nations, will speak here tonight on "the United Nations peace effort."

Bunche, a Negro, will speak before an unsegregated audience at Raleigh's Memorial Auditorium. He is being brought here by the Institute of Religion, which is sponsored by the Raleigh United Church.

Girls And Boys Capture Finals In Annual Event

By BERT MOYE

Farmville, Jan. 30.—The Farmville girls' and boys' teams walked away with the championships in the second annual Coastal Gold Medal Basketball tournament in the finals played Saturday night in the Farmville High School gymnasium before a capacity crowd. The Farmville girls defeated the Snow Hill sextette, 35-24, to win the girls' division and the Farmville boys downed the Bethel quint, 44-31, to capture honors in the boys' division.

The three-day event was sponsored by the local Junior Chamber of Commerce, who at the conclusion of the final games, presented handsome trophies to the winners in each division and awards to individual players. Hon. Walter Jones, mayor of Farmville, presented the awards.

Farmville 35, Snow Hill 24

Coach Red Dunn's Farmville girls, who had advanced to the finals by defeating the Snow Hill sextette in the preliminary round, had little trouble in winning the championship in the girls' division as his proteges turned in a neat 35-24 win.

At the end of the first quarter the Farmville girls were out front by a 12-4 lead, holding the Greene county sextette to one lone field goal and two free throws. During the second period the Farmville girls continued their strong defensive play, featuring the work of Grace Brock, and held the Snow Hill girls to one field goal and one free throw while they piled up a total of 10 points to take the lead at the halfway mark 22-7.

The third quarter the Snow Hill sextette tightened their defense and held the Farmville club to one lone field goal, while they ran up seven points, to narrow the Farmville lead at the end of the third quarter 24-14.

The Farmville girls found their shooting eye in the fourth quarter and came back with eleven points, but the Snow Hill aggregation also put on a scoring spree, but it was too late in the game.

Dot Hathaway led the scoring for the Farmville sextette, scoring a total of 19 points for the night. The other two forwards, Rave Hathaway and Voncell Moringo collected seven points each to help out in the cause. Playing a bang-up game at defense for the winners were guards Grace Brock and Mittie Rouse.

Dirie Walters led the attack for the losers with 9 points, while Nancy Moore and Ella Mewborn collected six points each to take top hon-

The lineups:—
 Farmville: Forwards—Dirie Walters 9, Nancy Moore 6, Ella Mewborn 6, Jane Warren 3, Lois Dobson; Guards—Evelyn Perry, Linda Jones, Margie Sutton, Helen Carraway, Lorraine Murphy.
 Farmville: Forwards—Rave Hathaway 7, Dot Hathaway 19, Voncell Moringo 7, Jean Bynum 2; Guards—Jennie Murphy, Mittie Rouse, Grace Brock, Dot Johnson, Joyce Morgan.

Farmville 44, Bethel 31

Coach Elbert Moyer's Farmville quint, playing the Bethel outfit for the second time this season, made it two straight over Coach Walter Latham's Bethel Indians, with a 44-31 win.

The game was hard fought throughout the entire contest, despite the difference indicated in the final result. Faring the first quarter Bethel jumped into a 2-0 lead in the opening seconds of play but a field goal by Frank Dupree second later knotted the count at two-all in the opening minute of play. A field goal by Carl King put the Farmville Red Devils out front, and as the first quarter ended they were leading by a 12-7 score.

The second quarter was even closer than the first with the teams running nip and tuck throughout the entire period. After four and a half minutes of play the score became tied up at 16-all, but on a free throw by Harry Albritton in the next 30 seconds put the Red Devils out front and when the whistle blew for the half the Farmville boys were leading by a 21-18 margin.

During the third quarter the Farmville quint came back to rack up a total of 13 points, while the Bethel lads were able to get only 6 more. This gave the Farmville boys a 34-24 lead at the end of the third period.

In the fourth quarter the Bethel quint were held three lone field goals while the Farmville boys scored ten more points.

Carl King, Farmville forward, was the big gun in the scoring column for the winners, accounting for a total of 16 points. Harry Albritton, a guard, scored 9 points to take second place honors.

Frank Hemingway, Bethel forward, led the losers with 11 points, and Edgar Barnhill followed closely with 7 points.

The lineups:—
 Bethel: Forwards—Fred Keel 3, Frank Hemingway 11, Edgar Barnhill 7; Centers—John Nelson 6, W. R. Bullock, Jr.; Guards—Bobby Manning 1, Hilton Tetterton, Earl

Johnson 3.
 Farmville: Forwards—Frank Dupree 3, Carl King 16, Wilbert Morris 2; Center—Albert Cannon; Guards—Harry Albritton 9, Johnny Barrett 3, Randolph Allen 5.

Tournament Honors
 The following were named by a committee appointed by the Jaycees as members of the all-tournament girls' team: Forwards—Dirie Walters, Snow Hill; Dot Hathaway, Farmville; Nancy Moore, Snow Hill; Guards—Geraldine White, Bethel, Mittie Rouse, Farmville, Grace Brock, Farmville.

The best sportsmanship award in the girls' division was given to Lillie Sprull of the Vanceboro team. High scoring award was given Dot Hathaway of Farmville; and the best foul shot award was given to Rave Hathaway of the Farmville team.

The all-tournament team in the boys' division was chosen as follows: Forwards—Carl King, Farmville and Bob Norman of Vanceboro; Center—John Nelson of Bethel; Guards—Bobby Manning, Bethel and Harry Albritton, Farmville.

For the best sportsmanship in the boys' division Bob Moyer of Snow Hill was presented this award. Carl King, forward of the Farmville quint, received the double award of high scorer and free-throw during the three-day event.

Buc Boxers Near Top Conditioning For 10-Bout Card

Only three more days remain for Coach Johnny Long's East Carolina boxing team to round into shape for their scheduled ten-bout return ring card here Wednesday night against the strong University of South Carolina Gamecocks.

After working hard and long all through the past week with much emphasis put on roadwork, callisthenics, sparring, and general conditioning the Pirate pugils mostly stress tapering off exercises and brush-up of ring fundamentals this week in readying themselves for Wednesday night's fight card in Wright auditorium.

A slight worry came to Coach Long at the end of last week's workouts, as one of East Carolina's most promising boxers, Bill "Punchy" Cole, 130 pound southpaw from Goldsboro, N.C., developed a slight cold and sore throat. Coach Long stated last night that barring further irritations, Cole will be ready for his Wednesday evening bout.

Other than Cole, the Buccaneer beltlers show signs of being in top-notch shape for the Gamecock match.

Crowell Williamson, 150 pound freshman sensation from Whiteville, N.C., has been reported as being in top form for his revenge scrap with Southern Conference's defending middleweight champion, Jim Briggman, who won a close, loudly-booded decision over Williamson in their last meet. The Briggman-Williamson fight is expected to be the feature attraction in Wednesday night's bouts.

Good word came from the Pirate training camp that Big Bill Torrann, terrific 165 pound battler, will be in top condition for his Palmetto opponent. Torrann won his previous match against South Carolina, and will be out to defend his laurels Wednesday night.

Coach Long's two outstanding heavyweights, hammering Henry Fordham and beller Bill Hunter, are both looking good in the pre-match training, and the two are still contending for their division bout. Fordham, in his first for the Bucs against The Citadel, looked very impressive before losing a booted decision to Bupper Ferdon of the Cadets. Hunter, a letterman holdover from last year's fine squad, missed the Citadel bouts because of a severe cold, but has since been declared ready to go. Hunter defeated his earlier South Carolina opponent by a wide margin.

Other fighters who are set to go Wednesday night against the out-of-state boxers are Captain Cleon Smith, 15 lb.2 class, Homer Thomas, 135 lb. class, Cecil Phillips, 140 lb. class, Charlie Edwards, 145 lb. class, Ken Stargardt, 155 lb. class, and H. A. Creel, 160 lb. class.

Scoring Race Is Led By Tilwon

By The Associated Press

Sumner (Tex) Tilwon, Virginia Tech center, today moved into the lead in the sizzling Southern Conference basketball scoring race.

Tilwon has 157 points. A point behind in second place is Sherman (Memo) Nearman, North Carolina center. Sammy Ranzino, North Carolina State forward, is third with 149. And Jay Hand, Washington and Lee forward, ranks fourth with 148.

Team Captain

East Carolina's boxing team captain this year is Cleon Smith, 125 pounder, who is a holdover from last year's Pirate team. Smith will lead the Bucs in their return revenge scrap with the strong University of South Carolina Gamecocks here Wednesday evening in a slated ten-bout boxing card feature.

Transfer Site For Big Game

Raleigh, N.C., Jan. 30.—(AP)—The N.C. State-Wake Forest basketball game originally scheduled for Wake Forest Feb. 2 has been transferred to State's Coliseum.

The announcement was made over the weekend by Wake Forest Athletic Director Jim Weaver. He said he made the request to transfer the game because of the heavy demand for tickets.

Lenoir-Rhyne Tops Pirates By 49-48 In See-Saw North State Loop Battle

By BILL LLOYD

Inaccuracy from the free throw line, hitting on only six of 21 charity chances, and unusually off with their shots from the floor, East Carolina's cagers lost a basketball breath-taker to Lenoir-Rhyne here Saturday, 49-48.

Getting off to a very slow start, the Pirates trailed by a 22-10 margin in the closing minutes of the first half.

Finally hitting their stride with five minutes remaining in the first period, the Bucs made a sensational comeback, with Forwards Jack Everton and Sonny Russell hitting on three baskets apiece and Guard Toddy Fennell adding two, giving the locals a two-point edge at half-time, 27-25.

In the second half, the scoring became a see-saw battle that brought the capacity crowd that filled Wright auditorium to their feet.

After seven minutes of play, the Pirates clung to a 33 to 31 lead. Three minutes later, the aggressive Bears knotted the count, 35-all, and gradually pulled away to a 46-40 lead with four minutes remaining. At this point, the resurgent Pirates took on steam by virtue of two buckets by Everton and one by sub Jim Blake, to trail only 47-46. In the last minute, Forward Tony Sellari of the Bears hit on a two-pointer to ice the game for the Hickory lads. Jack Everton's final field goal proved to be of no avail as the clock ran out.

Jack Everton, East Carolina's scoring ace, again gained individual scoring honors with sixteen points. Freshman Sonny Russell was second with 14 points. High scorer for Lenoir-Rhyne was Forward Tony Sellari with eleven points.

In a preliminary game, the Baby Buccaneers, paced by Richard Blake with 21 points, defeated Camp Lejeune high school, 46 to 28.

Winterville Tops Stokes Cagers In Doubleheader

Winterville, Jan. 30.—Both boys' and girls' teams of Winterville high school won their basketball games last Friday night as they swamped the two Stokes teams. The score of the girls' game was 61-33 and the boys, 66-41.

As a result of their decisive win, the Winterville boys are now residing in fourth place in the Pitt basketball race.

Using a zone defense all the way the boys racked up 26-19 halftime lead, stretching this to 39-30 at the third quarter. The game was close at only one point—the first period—when the score stood at 12-11 with the eventual victors sporting a one-point lead.

High scorer for the locals was Thomas Nobles with 16 points. Two points behind him was J. N. Riggs with 14. For Stokes two high scorers were tied in the double-figure bracket with 11 points. They were Jack and N. Cherry. The former was the defensive standout for the losing Pitt team.

In the preliminary, the local girls also pushed their total into the sixties, leading their total into the quarter, 28-4, at the half, 38-11, and the third quarter, 43-19.

Etheridge of the losers was high scorer for the night with 18 points. For the victors three girls had two-figure totals—Anne Spear with 17, Betsy Castelleo with 15, and Jean Liverman with 14.

The next game for Winterville will be Belvoir tomorrow and will be played in the new Belvoir gym instead of here as was originally scheduled.

Rhubarb Ruling On Winner Of Wanamaker Mile

New York, Jan. 30.—(AP)—Who won the Wanamaker mile in the Millrose Games Saturday night—Don Gehrman or Fred Witt?

By a three-two margin, the judges at the finish line decided on the bespectacled Gehrman after some 15 minutes of wrangling. It was that close.

But today, the two officials who picked G-Man Witt as the winner in the thrilling dash to the tape spoke of protesting the decision.

All that the five officials can agree on is the time: 4:09.3. For each runner, it was the fastest eight-furlong of his career.

There is talk of a rematch but it appears unlikely at this stage. Witt is available but Gehrman will compete for Wisconsin in midwest indoor meets the rest of this winter.

Walter Hagen won five Western Open golf tournaments during his career, more than any other player.

To Play Kinston

Bo Farley's Phantoms take on Kinston tomorrow night in what should be a big drawing card in Northeastern Conference basketball play. On the face of things, it will be the Phantoms' turn to draw blood from the visitors, having lost an 11-point decision in Kinston three weeks ago.

Farley said this morning that his boys played a good game, even in defeat earlier in January, and the boys will be out to better that 11-point margin. He said that Kinston "has the best team in the eastern part of the state, having beaten class AA clubs. Their commanding height was the deciding factor in the first game and tomorrow we'll have to play our best ball to beat 'em."

Game time is 8 p.m. in the high school gym.

UNC Schedules Nine Grid Games

Chapel Hill, N.C., Jan. 30.—(AP)—A nine-game football schedule for 1950 has been announced by the University of North Carolina.

Two of last season's foes, William and Mary and Louisiana State, have been dropped, and Maryland added. The schedule includes a game against Notre Dame in South Bend, Ind., Sept. 30.

Chapter 25

Far Runner had told the truth, then. And here was doom for the country for a hundred miles around. If once this wave erupted redly across it. The settlers could have dealt with the Wazasai. But such a war party as this would be too much for their combined resources, and no outside help could reach them in time.

Judging by the sounds, the chiefs must already have concluded their council, have voted for war. Now the big dance which usually preceded war was in progress, and it would continue until the dawn—a wild orgy in which every brave and would-be warrior would take part.

By daylight, everyone in it would have worked himself up to the proper pitch of savagery. Then they would strike out, swooping in bands across the country, attacking the ranches and any lone stragglers they might find, burning, pillaging.

That would go on for a day or so, and by then they would have ravaged the country, have closed in around Lundeen's. Finding it occupied by a bigger force than usual, and defended, they would probably take their time. But with Zachary to urge them on, and pressing them to make a clean sweep, the town would not be able to hold out for long against the overwhelming force which they could hurl against it.

Now they could look down and see the gleam of big bonfires with dancing figures around them, looking, Valse reflected, like a picture out of the lower regions. This was a big canyon, well hidden back here in the mountains. And in it was a big camp, one of the biggest that he had ever seen. No doubt of that remained now.

If not all the main tribe had joined them, certainly a good portion of it was here.

It was unlikely that much of a watch was being kept. As they pushed closer, not bothering to dismount, Valse's anxious gaze swept around. Little could be seen, save in the glow of the big fires, but that showed row on row of lodges beyond the fires. The women and the children were here, too, since they would be considered perfectly safe while the warriors raided.

Now they could see the faces of the dancers clearly, visages hideously bedaubed with paint in varied colors and designs. Most of the men were in war-paint already. The women and some of the children, while keeping in the excitement, helping to feed the fires, taking some part, but that was only to be expected. If Saralee was here, she would probably be held in special custody, on account of Zachary. He would at least see to that.

It would be hopeless to try to search for her, to do anything for her alone. There was only one way, one chance, as Valse had realized from the start. One throw of the dice; win all or lose all.

Rain was beginning to fall—a slow, cold drizzle, which so far had had no effect on the spirits of the dancers. Valse noted that most of them carried rifles in one hand and raised these high, gesturing with them. Cartridge belts were about their waists, and these were well studied. There were few bows and arrows.

"Army rifles, some of them," he commented. "And all of them look like good ones."

"Good as anything Lundeen has in stock," de Polo agreed. "They can cut a plenty wide swath with those. Look!" he pointed suddenly. "Isn't that Zachary?"

Valse made him out, then. Zachary had gotten here all right, and there was no question but that his story of how things had happened had been accepted. The slaying of Far Runner would have assured that.

He had shed most of his white man's clothing, and presented a vastly changed appearance from the man in sober and rather rusty black of the day before, the man who had been attired for his wedding. He was clad and bedaubed like any of the other warriors, a smear of vermilion across his nose and cheeks, a yellowish-white daub below each eye.

For the moment, he was a little apart from the main throng, taking no active part in the dance. A few other impressive figures with him Valse took for chiefs. They were apparently discussing plans for the foray.

"That's White Bear beside him," de Polo commented. "I know him, a little. Let's see if we can get close enough to where words were distinguishable. White Bear, he noted, was a tall, grave-faced man who had the look of a chief. He and Zachary seemed to be arguing about something.

"What's it about?" Valse whispered.

"He's telling the chief that he was aimin' to marry Saralee yesterday, and that he wants to take her for his squad now, before they start out on the raid," de Polo interpreted. "That means they've picked her up, all right. White Bear don't like the idea, but Zachary's insisting."

Rage and disgust filled Valse.

"The chief's agreeing," de Polo added. "He says she can decide for herself. If she's willing, all right. They'll bring her out here."

"And what if she isn't willing?" Valse asked though he knew the answer pretty well.

De Polo shrugged.

"Might be up to us," he said. "If she refuses, considerin' the temper that Zachary's in, to say nothing of the rest of them—she'll be runnin' a big risk. Which," he added, "if I know her, is just what she'll do!"

We take the Woes and Worries out of Weather

ONE of the grandest things about your Buick is the way you can ignore the season—chew your way through gravel and dust alike, splash through the wet stretches, snug and secure even on slippery pavements.

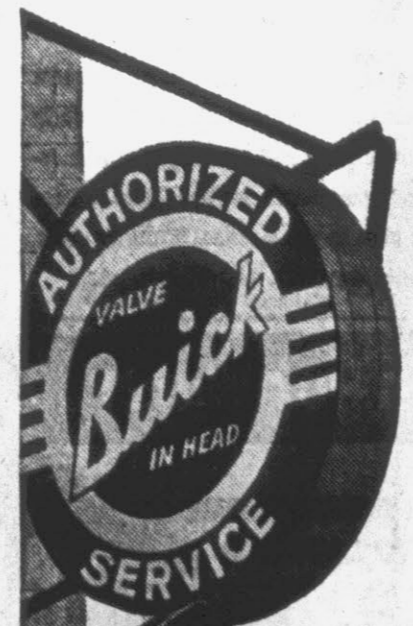

But bear this one thought in mind . . .

Rough road conditions call for special attention to your lubricants. Tires should be checked for correct inflation—for deep, clean tread that bites on a slick surface. Brakes won't stop you with a sure and gentle touch if the master cylinder needs more fluid, or if an air-bubble has worked itself into the line. These things, and more, should be checked to keep your Buick at its best.

If that sounds like more than one thought to bear in mind—just drive into our shop and tell the man, "LUBRICARE, please."

Our winter Lubricare treatment covers all these points—with specially trained mechanics following factory specifications as they go over your car from end to end.

Drive in this week, why don't you? The price is surprisingly low. The peace of mind is priceless.

On request from the North Carolina college to the University of North Carolina, he has been recommended to assist in organizing a summer conference for the Negro principals of the state. Recently he was appointed by the educational department of the University of North Carolina to serve on the State Planning Commission for the summer conference of the elementary principals which will be held in Chapel Hill in June. The North Carolina Education Association has placed him on the State Planning Commission, the State Legislative Committee and the State Resolution Committee. Mr. Edwards is a native of Pitt County.

Funeral Sunday For Mrs. Luther J. Lane

Mrs. Essie Knox Lane, 47, wife of Luther J. Lane of near Askins in Craven County, died at her home at 1:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. She had suffered a stroke Thursday night and had been critically ill since that time. Funeral services were conducted at New Haven Free Will Baptist Church near Askins, Sunday afternoon at three o'clock by Rev. W. H. Willis. Free Will Baptist minister of Kingston, and burial was in High Bridge cemetery nearby.

Mrs. Lane, daughter of the late Charlie and Armenta Tolar Knox of Craven County, was born, reared, and spent all her life in Craven County. She was married to Luther Lane in 1920, and was a member of New Haven Free Will Baptist Church.

Surviving are her husband; two sons, Austin G. Lane of the home and L. J. Lane, Jr. of Askins; two daughters, Mrs. C. N. Lee of Norfolk, Va. and Miss Essie Mae Lane of the home; five grandchildren: a brother, J. B. Knox of Askins; six sisters, Mrs. M. A. Wetherington and Mrs. J. P. Morris of Askins, Mrs. T. R. Morris of Washington, Mrs. W. F. Walker of Newport News, Va., Mrs. Earl Allgood of Greenville, and Mrs. A. M. Edwards of Washington.

The United States produced approximately 60 per cent of the world's corn in 1948 and 1949.

North American corn production in 1949 was 46 per cent larger than the 1935-39 average.

Refrigerating machinery was invented in 1880.

Ingrid's Husband To Ask Diverce

Los Angeles, Jan. 30—(AP)—Ingrid Bergman's husband will not fight her Mexican divorce action, says his spokesman. But the spokesman implied that the husband, Dr. Peter Lindstrom, instead will file suit for divorce in California.

In a statement, John Vernon, physician's personal representative, said Lindstrom "has no intention of appearing in the Mexico proceedings but will leave all issues to the California courts."

In Juarez, Mex. A. Cocke, said that just because a suit might be filed in the United States, her suit in Mexico will not be dismissed. Miss Bergman filed suit in Mexico last week. She reportedly plans to wed Roberto Rossellini, Italian director for whom she recently made a picture on the Mediterranean island of Stromboli.

Belvoir Magistrate Decees Road Term And Fine For Pair

Marcus Heath and David (Daddy Rabbit) Harris, both colored, ran afoul of the law in the Belvoir section on Saturday January 21 and a week later one faced 30 days on the roads and the other a fine of $10 and costs.

The two were tried Saturday on charges of the display of fire arms, blocking traffic on a public road and drunk and disorderly conduct. Magistrate W. C. Heath, of Belvoir, before whom the case was heard, sentenced Heath to 30 days on the roads and costs and Harris was fined $10 and costs.

The pair had been free on $100 bond each during the week between the offenses and the hearing.

Over 100 Attended Ladies Aid Dinner

Grimesland—More than 100 people attended the turkey supper given Friday night by the Ladies Aid Society of the Christian Church.

The supper was given in the school lunchroom, and was staged by the ladies of the church to raise money for church work.

Series Of Tobacco Meetings In Townships Said Successful

Sam Weeks, assistant County Farm Agent, stated today that tobacco meetings held in the county townships during the past two weeks have been "successful" and the attendance has been "up to expectations."

The meetings, begun January 18 and running through tomorrow night's final meeting in the Pitt County Court House, have been held to give the tobacco farmers of the county the newest methods of economical tobacco production.

Last Friday's meeting in the Chilo high school was attended by the largest number of farmers of any meeting to date, Weeks said. 60-were present. The over-all program, set out in each meeting, has been a three-point lecture illustrated with the use of colored slides showing the different steps in production.

Weeks' program consists of (1) better plant bed management, (2) new ideas in bed fertilization, and (3) new curing techniques.

Under point one Weeks points out the features of economical production of the better quality leaf by the rotation of plant beds each two years and the proper chemical weed control.

Point two shows how too much nitrogen in the soil produces a poorer quality tobacco. He also explains new methods of fertilization, not recommended as yet by experiment stations, but which will eventually be used after further experimentation.

Point three is a study of curing methods as set forth by experimentation at the Oxford Experiment Station, headquarters for study of tobacco.

Weeks stated he hoped the Court House will be full tomorrow night. He said last year's final meeting was held in City Hall and the room was overcrowded, causing the transfer to the larger building. The meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

Plan Second Attempt To Complete Religious Survey Conducted Sunday

A city-wide canvass of Greenville was made by the local churches yesterday.

The purpose of the survey was to find the names of all persons who are not at the present time members of any church in Greenville or who have not been attending a church, though they belong to a certain church. In addition to the information about the non-church members, the interviews also offered a means of each church obtaining a complete card of information about each of their members. It was stated by a church official.

Reports from the churches stated that the entire town was covered in the survey yesterday, with some of the people being away from home at the time the survey was conducted. Another drive will be made this week in an effort to get the names of everyone in the city who were missed during the first drive.

Each church which took part in the survey was assigned a certain part of the city and groups from the church visited the houses in their area. The groups taking part in the canvass met at the churches at 1:30 to be briefed on how to conduct the survey and then began to make the rounds of the city at 2 o'clock. The survey lasted from 2 until 6 o'clock, it was stated by workers.

A complete report on the number of people who were interviewed will not be known until the final canvass is completed.

Woman Injured; Driver Arrested In Auto Accident

One person was injured as the result of a two-car accident at the intersection of Fifth and Green streets, shortly after 7 o'clock Saturday night, the Greenville Police Department reported today.

Mamie Lee Little, of Route 1, Bethel was taken to Pitt General Hospital with lacerations of the leg, by the Greenville Fire Department's rescue truck.

George Lee Little, operator of one car, was arrested by police on the charge of driving in a careless and reckless manner, resulting in property damage.

The other car in the accident was driven by Connie Baxter Singleton, 16, of 806 Washington Street, who was not injured.

Damage to the two cars was estimated to be $425.

Report Invasion Junks Are Sunk

Taipei, Formosa, Jan. 30—(AP)—Chinese Nationalist airforce headquarters today said new onslaughts by warplanes Sunday sank 50 Red Junks preparing for the invasion of Nainan Island, off the South China coast.

Headquarters said bombers demolished many gun emplacements in raids on Liumhow peninsula, which juts out to within ten miles of Nainan.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Jan. 30—(AP)—A burst of activity in radio-television issues sparked a general advance today in the stock market. Gains were from fractions to more than a point with a bare handful of stocks lagging behind.

Right at the opening the radio group started higher and gained steadily with only minor setbacks. A number established new 1949-50 high marks enroute. They have been advancing for several weeks under the impetus of investment and speculative demand.

Hog Market

Raleigh, Jan. 30—(AP)—(NCDA)—Hog prices steady to slightly stronger. Tops of $16 at Washington, Wilson, Goldsboro, Tarboro, Greenville, Kingston and Rocky Mount; $16.50 at Richmond.

Poultry and Eggs

Raleigh, Jan. 30—(AP)—(NCDA)—Eggs steady at 34; fryers and broilers, slightly weaker at 23-24.

Traffic accidents at night are twice as likely to be fatal as accidents occurring in daylight hours.

Stenographer Turns Ditch Digger

Mrs. Margaret Pallas, 22, divorcee and former office worker, swings a mattock in digging a ditch on a construction job in Chicago. She works an eight-hour day, digging, mixing cement and carrying pipe, and receives a daily wage of $10. Behind Margaret is her boss, Donald Buss, 31, a contractor, who says they plan to get married. While she toils, relatives care for her two-year-old daughter. (AP Wirephoto).

Speech Contest Plans Near End.

Plans for the fifth annual speech contest sponsored by the Greenville Lions Club and staged by the Greenville chapter of the National Forensic League are nearly completed. It was announced today by Coach R. B. Starling, faculty advisor for the group.

At the present time, 18 schools have notified the Greenville sponsors that students from their schools will be on hand for the opening of the fifth annual speech event on February 18th.

The contest this year is expected to draw the largest crowd ever to attend the events. Starling said that there are indications at the present time that over 100 students will take part in the speaking.

Invitations have been sent to 14 schools in the Appalachian District of the National Forensic League which is composed of schools in Virginia, West Virginia, Tennessee and North Carolina.

The local high school will have three entries in each of the divisions. The Greenville Lions Club first sponsored the contest in 1946 when eleven students attended.

Students Stage House-To-House Solicitations

Around 40 members of the Greenville high school student body, under the direction of the Student Council, will stage a house-to-house canvass of Greenville this afternoon, in behalf of the March of Dimes drive. It was announced today by Principal O. E. Dowd.

The student body has been conducting a drive in the high school among the clubs and students. No report on the total collections will be made until all of the clubs have made reports, it was stated by Dowd.

In addition to sponsoring the drive in the school, the students have kept the wish list, well located at Five Points, for the past weeks. Dowd said that proceeds from the well have been "fairly good."

QUICKLY EVACUATED

Boston, Jan. 30—(AP)—More than 30 passengers were hastily evacuated from an Eastern Airlines Constellation today when fire broke out in the landing gear as the plane was about to take off.

No Easy Time . . .

(Continued from page one) In three years to find a basis for agreement. It's the reason the United Nations haven't been able to get together, and aren't likely to do so. So the conflict between Communism and other ideologies will continue indefinitely. General Osborn puts it mildly when he says Ameri-

icans will be deluding themselves if they feel any easy time is ahead. Most observers feel that the warfare is bound to extend far beyond the present generation. There has been a slackening off of the cold war in Europe. The Communist offensive across Europe has been halted, at least for the time being. However, simultaneously the conflict in the great Asiatic theater has swollen to startling dimensions. Having overrun China with its vast population, Communism is now using this as a base from which to strike in many directions. Asia may well be the decisive battle ground in this war of the isms, but obviously it will take many years to reach the decision. There is small prospect that the world will have "peace in our time." "One world" is a long way off.

Rocks Will Be . . .

ply of richer deposits of ore. Here's Gamow's version of how known deposits of uranium and thorium might be made to last at least 1,000 or 2,000 years:

Estimates have been made, he says, that the total amount of fissionable uranium-235 in deposits of uranium ores known as of 1947 could supply the nuclear energy needs of world industry for "several years."

But uranium-235 is found in nature, is 140 times more plentiful than U-238. This U-238 is not of itself an atomic material but it can be converted into another material, called plutonium, which is.

If all of this U-238 could be converted in a practical way (presumably by the still-theoretical process of "breeding") the time estimate of supplying world needs would be extended to "several centuries."

Also, the element thorium—four times as plentiful as uranium ore in nature—can theoretically be converted to another fissionable material.

If all the thorium deposits in the earth could be so utilized, says Gamow, "we bring our estimate further up to at least one or two thousand years."
