Early Electoral System Change Seen For House

Senate Stamps Okay; Amendment Expected To Be Sent States Within Month

Washington, Feb. 2—(AP)—One of its backers predicted today that a Senate-passed proposal to change the system of electing Presidents will be approved by the house and sent to the states within a month.

By a three-vote margin, the Senate yesterday stamped its Okay on a suggested constitutional amendment to overhaul the nation's 163-year old Presidential election machinery. With a two-thirds majority required, the vote was 64 to 37.

The proposed amendment must summon the same margin in the house, then get the approval of three-fourths of the state legislatures, before it becomes the law of the land.

The amendment, sponsored in the Senate by Senator Lodge (R-Mass) would give each Presidential candidate electoral votes in proportion to the number of popular votes he gets in a state. Thus, if a candidate got two-thirds of a state's popular vote he would get two thirds of its electoral vote as well.

At present, the candidate getting the most popular votes generally gets all the electoral votes in a state.

Rep. Priest (D-Tenn) assistant Democratic floor leader in the house, told a reporter who asked about the amendment's chances there:

"I would say the prospects were fair for a two-thirds vote."

Rep. Gossett was more optimistic. He said in a separate interview that he thought the house would approve the Lodge amendment before the end of the month.

The House Judiciary committee last April approved an amendment offered by Gossett identical with the one originally introduced in the Senate by Lodge.

Before adopting Lodge's proposal yesterday, the Senate approved an amendment offered by Senate Democratic leader Lucas (Ill)

It would require that a winning Presidential candidate get at least 40 per cent—or a total of 212 1/2—of the nation's 531 electoral votes.

Each state now has an electoral vote equal to the total of its U. S. Senators and representatives. That would not be changed by the Lodge amendment.

If no candidate got 40 per cent of the states' electoral votes, then under the Lucas provision the 531 members of the Senate and House, voting as individuals, would elect the President from the two highest candidates by a majority vote.

As originally introduced, the Lodge amendment would have eliminated any possibility of a Presidential election being left up to Congress.

The constitution now provides that if any Presidential candidate fails to get a majority—currently 266 of the 531 electoral votes the House—with each state getting one vote—shall name a President. The Senate would elect a vice President in the same manner.

Death Blow For S. C. Sales Tax

Columbia, S. C., Feb. 2—(AP)—The State House of Representatives killed a proposed three per cent general sales tax today.

Representatives voted down a bill proposing the sales tax by adopting its ways and means committee's unanimously unfavorable report on the measure.

COUNTER MEASURES

Washington, Feb. 2—(AP)—The United States is considering "counter measures" against new Russian transport restrictions between Western Germany and Berlin, the State Department said today.

And we know what happened to the New York Sun. (Ed's note: This is not and never was intended to be a ground-hog story.)

Romance Is Measured

Census Bureau Finds Romance More Popular Than 1940, At Least There Are Fewer Unmarried Men; A Lot Of Marriages; Surplus Of Boys In One Group

By ROBERT E. GEIGER

Washington, Feb. 2—(AP)—In a roundabout way the Census Bureau has been measuring the amount of romance in the U. S. A.

It finds romance is popular, more so than in 1940. There are fewer unmarried men at large than there have been for years and years.

This might indicate the chances for a lady to find a husband are getting thinner and thinner—but the number of unmarried females also is at low ebb.

The really big news for old maids is contained in statistics that show that although there now are more than 5,000,000 women in the United States than in 1940, there are fewer unmarried ones. More women have been married, 14 to 65, have husbands.

When the census bureau uses a phrase like "striking decrease in the single population took place," it means there were a lot of marriages. And that's what the experts found occurred among the younger women, 20 to 24 years old.

In 1940 almost one-half of all the women from 20 to 24 were single. Now fewer than one-third of these younger women are unmarried.

Actually, as everyone has been

Spectacular Fire Rages In Oil Refining Plant

Flames and smoke burst from the oil processing plant of the U. B. Bray company at Los Angeles. They were visible 50 miles away. Explosion of a 2,000-gallon tank of solvent touched off the fire which raged for four hours. The blast blew the heavy top of the tank 300 feet into the air and it crashed down through the roof of a nearby iron foundry plant. Nobody was injured. (AP Wirephoto).

President Says Atomic Policies Are Unchanged

By JOHN SPINKS, JR.

This is not a ground-hog story. Mainly because the story hasn't been written yet that any self-respecting ground-hog would subscribe to. Every newspaper in the United States is bound by some unwritten law that says come February 2 there has to be a story about the much-sought-after-but seldom seen Ground Hog. It's a journalistic tradition.

Every year as January blusters out, blowing February in, the editors begin tearing their hair, wondering if some reporter will write the little fellow's story. They wait. They sweat. And some reporter does. The editor cringes, but carries on the tradition for yet another year of waiting, sweating and cringing.

But this isn't a ground-hog story. Mainly because he should write it himself. But today he can't write it because—and this is where the editors begin cringing—"Mr. Ground Hog Saw His Shadow Today." There it is, that same traditional headline year in, year out.

Can one get away from it? Can you simply say, "Well, well, February 2 is here again" and let it go at that? You can not. You can't think of that date without coupling it with that poor old abused ground-hog anymore than you can think of March 15 without complementing it with the Ides of March.

There was a man whose wife's birthday came on February 2. And do you know what he thought on waking that morning? "Well, well, ground-hog day. And I haven't bought a thing for the wife." You can't get away from it.

So the ground-hog takes a walk in the sun. So what? So he sees his shadow. So what, again? He goes in his hole, does he? Ha. That's an old fancy that some news-hungry reporter, probably on the New York Sun, wrote one day for lack of something to write about. He was the patriarch who inspired the Sun's editor to write, "Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus."

And we know what happened to the New York Sun. (Ed's note: This is not and never was intended to be a ground-hog story.)

Future Shortage Of Fertilizer In County Foreseen

Farm Agent Says Scarcity Will Be Felt Locally With Spring Planting

There is a shortage of fertilizer in Pitt County but one can't put his finger on it.

That was the opinion of Farm Agent Sam Winchester this morning as he commented on the news this week that the New Mexico potash strike had been called off.

Winchester said the farmers hereabouts had either bought their fertilizer, containing potash from present stocks, for immediate use, or had made arrangements for storing the materials on their farms for future consumption.

"But unless the potash comes across the country faster than I think it will, there definitely will be a shortage when farmers begin planting tobacco and corn in the spring," the agent said. He suggested that farmers who can not get their materials for planting in the spring to fertilize with a low-potash type or none at all for the time being. Then when the supply increases, later in the season, to topdress the soil with the potash when it comes in.

Meanwhile, tobacco farmers using 6 percent potash goods have been getting enough for the spring planting as have those wanting 9 percent for sweet potatoes. Winchester said the fertilizer companies usually supply the individual dealers with demand in the fall, expecting them to replenish their on-hand supply twice during the intervening months. As of January 8, the agent reported, the companies had a hand about 30 per cent of the expected spring demand of potash goods.

Just after the first news of the New Mexico strike in the potash mines three weeks ago was released, local dealers of fertilizer reported an increasing activity in potash goods sales. Now, things have about leveled off, leading them to believe most farmers have all they need at present, with the others depending on the late-increasing supplies to furnish them with the goods.

Washington, Feb. 2—(AP)—Un-ion-operator negotiations for a settlement of the coal dispute collapsed today.

Less than an hour after their second session began, George Love, chief negotiator for northern mine owners, walked from the conference room with this announcement: "Negotiations with the miners have been terminated."

Washington, Feb. 2—(AP)—Northern and western coal operators today accepted President Truman's proposal for a 70-day strike truce while fact-finders investigate the coal dispute.

He said the operators would have a "full statement" later. Shortly before the crack-up of the negotiations, President Truman had urged both sides, in effect, to get on toward an agreement or look to the White House to make every possible move to get full coal production.

He said his request for a 70-day strike truce did not rule out possible action under the Taft-Hartley law. Whenever an emergency develops he will invoke the T-H Act, he told a news conference.

Washington, Feb. 2—(AP)—President Truman made plain today the U. S. stands by its demand for tight international control inspections before outlawing atomic weapons, including the projected new hydrogen bomb.

Mr. Truman also told a news conference he sees no reason for formal notification to the United Nations on his order for the atomic energy commission to continue its work on atomic weapons, including the hydrogen bomb.

Senator Vandenberg, the Republican Foreign Policy leader, has suggested that the President let the world know this country is ready to stop work on the H-bomb if all such weapons can be outlawed definitely. Vandenberg said the President could act through the United Nations.

A reporter asked Mr. Truman about that suggestion.

Mr. Truman said he does not believe a separate notification to the U. N. is necessary.

Also, he said, he does not propose to use the hydrogen bomb order as a basis for a new move on the international control front.

The President said this government has repeatedly and continuously made its position clear to the United Nations, that it favors international controls with rigid inspections.

He said hardly a week goes by but that such assurance is given.

Soviet Russia differs with the United States on the matter of inspections safeguards as a preliminary to international control.

Washington, Feb. 2—(AP)—President Truman said today that he is doing everything he can to get congressional action on fair employment practices legislation.

That was his reply when a reporter asked at his news conference if he had any plans to get House speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) to recognize Chairman Lesinski (D-Mich) of the labor committee to bring up the FEPC bill.

Then he hinted that he has been putting some pressure on Rayburn. He said that if reporters could sit in on his weekly meeting with congressional leaders they would know how hard he is working to get FEPC action.

But diplomatic authorities said there is little doubt that this country's answer will be an emphatic "No." They look for most of the other former foes of Japan to follow suit.

To accept the Russian proposal would mean (1) reversing a 1949 decision by the 13-nation Far Eastern commission to wind up all the war crimes trials and (2) upsetting the American policy of controlling Japan during the occupation through the Emperor.

Responsible officials made plain they suspect a Moscow propaganda maneuver. The U. S. has been pressing Russia to return 376,000 war prisoners the Japanese contend are still being held by the Soviets.

The reaction in Tokyo was much the same. Alva C. Carpenter, head of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's legal section, said the Russian demand "certainly will be turned down."

William J. Sebald, chief of MacArthur's diplomatic section, commented: "It looks as though the Russians have tipped over another smoke pot."

Officials in Washington speculated the move was designed to serve two Communist propaganda purposes: To distract attention in Japan from the war prisoner dispute and lay the basis for further attacks on U. S. policy in Communist China and elsewhere.

Tokyo, Feb. 2—(AP)—The joint chiefs of staff today urged a plump for long time retention by American naval forces of the big Japanese naval base of Yokosuka on Tokyo Bay.

The $500,000,000 base was inspected by three of the chiefs, Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman; Army Gen. J. Lawton Collins, and Adm. Forrest P. Sherman.

They expressed much interest in Yokosuka, which is the only U. S. naval base west of Hawaii capable of handling and repairing major warships.

Rear Adm. Benton W. Decker, who had a big hand in the rebuilding of Yokosuka after the war, pointed out the base was desirable not only as

The president, Mrs. E. R. Browning, conducted a short session of routine business. Books were exchanged. Mrs. Walter Taylor, leader for the afternoon, presented Dr. E. C. Hollar who gave a most interesting and instructive talk on "Judaism." Describing Judaism as one of the world's great religions, the forerunner of Mohammedanism and Christianity, he traced its history from its birth in the Arabian desert through the varied tribal experiences to the present time. He also said that the Jews, while divided in many matters, are united in faith and blood as few people are. They have made great contributions in many areas. They edited and published their Scripture—the Old Testament—and gave to the world the doctrine of "brotherly kindness." It has been said that

Instead of giving the usual current events, Miss Lelia Higga told of the rare privilege she has recently enjoyed in seeing the collection of art treasures of Vienna now on display in the National Museum in Washington. Her descriptions were so delightfully vivid as to almost bring the treasures in view.

A report, including a "bit of spice," was given by the pronunciation referee, Mrs. Milton White. During the social hour, Mrs. Julian White presided at the beautifully appointed dining table from which was served dainty party sandwiches, sweets, salted nuts and refreshing iced drinks.

Battleship Facing Fight Against Being Mothballed

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 2—(AP)—The Big Mo faced a fight against another shelving today as she rested in drydock after a 15-day tussle with Thimble Shoal.

Salvage men crawled around the historic battleship in Navy Yard drydock looking for damage from the hard sand. They expected to find little and perhaps be able to refloat the Missouri in less than a week.

A possible more serious threat was a proposal by Rep. Vinson (D-Ga.), chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, to put the Missouri in mothballs.

The idea got immediate backing from Admiral W. H. P. Blandy, who retired as commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet two hours after the battleship was freed from the shoal yesterday.

Blandy told a press conference later in the day that it is difficult to justify use of the Missouri for training that can be done in less expensive ships. He said he favors replacing it with a carrier now in mothballs, or better yet, two carriers.

Rear Admiral Allan E. Smith announced that a formal board of inquiry into the Missouri grounding will meet Saturday at the naval base. He had not decided whether it would be a public hearing.

Central figure in the inquiry will be Captain William D. Brown, commander of the battleship. He was taking it out for the first time as skipper when it hit the shoal Jan. 17.

Oil consumption in the United States has increased about 28 times since 1900.

Benefit For Child Welfare Work

In the above photo, Mrs. E. J. Dees is shown selling Mayor W. S. Stafford the first two tickets to the Valentine review, to be sponsored by the Greenville Junior Woman's club on February 14th at the Pitt Theatre. The review will be presented for the benefit of the child welfare work in Pitt County. (Staff Photo by Roy Hardee).

Plans are nearing completion for a talent show to be presented on Tuesday, February 14th, at 11:30 p.m. on the stage of the Pitt Theatre to benefit the Dr. T. M. Watson Memorial Fund for the advancement of child welfare work in Pitt County.

This Valentine Review will be the first of its kind to be held in Greenville, and it is hoped that its success may warrant its becoming an annual event. Talent has been carefully selected from Greenville and the surrounding area and offers a variety of song, dance, comedy and entertainment.

Elly Bloom will preside as master of ceremonies. All participants are donating their time and services so that proceeds will go to the Watson Memorial Fund.

This memorial to the Pitt County pediatrician who died in March 1945 was begun in the spring of 1945 by the Junior Club Women of Greenville, February 14th, at 11:30 p.m. on the stage of the Pitt Theatre to benefit the Dr. T. M. Watson Memorial Fund for the advancement of child welfare work in Pitt County.

The fund started with $1,249.65 and by sponsoring dance reviews, bazaars and "Tag Days," it has been able to give more than $4,000 in child welfare work in the county.

The Watson Memorial Committee, headed by Mrs. Carrie Oakley, has as its advisors Dr. M. G. Irons and Dr. F. B. Hazzard, pediatricians. This group decides how the funds are to be spent, sometimes for needed hospital equipment, but usually for emergency operations and treatments, medicinals, tonsilectomies, hospitalization, milk and food for the underprivileged children.

Tickets, priced at forty-five cents each, are now on sale by Junior Club members and full proceeds will go to the Watson Memorial Fund.

Mr. Carter and his band will give at that time a concert of eight numbers. Among selections will be several marches, suitable for band performance, Cesar Franck's "Pavane Angelicus," "Caribbean Fantasy" by John J. Morrissey, and other popular numbers.

The concert will be open to the public. A cordial invitation is extended by Mr. Carter and his group of student musicians to be present for the program.

Strength FOR THE DAY

COULDN'T GIVE UP
Forty years ago in a prominent American college, the students made the life of a certain professor so miserable that he fled the college in disgrace. His personal appearance and his inept way of presenting his material called forth only the derision of the students until they delighted every day in making the poor fellow's life miserable. But that teacher is now approaching the end of his career and he has the satisfaction of looking back upon one of the most distinguished records of any man in his field in this country. After leaving the scene of his first failure and having had time to think things over, he decided that he would make another try at it and keep on until he had succeeded. Within a few years he had sufficiently mastered the art of presenting his material that he was everywhere looked upon as a good teacher. He will be ready for a pension in a year or two, and he will go into retirement with every one genuinely sorry that his distinguished career has come to an end.

Men are never defeated until they are defeated in their hearts. Almost any handicap can be overcome if a man has courage and persistence. Nature never endowed a man with fewer outstanding characteristics than this poor teacher seemed to have had in the beginning, but he supported what little he had with courage and faith, and the result was real distinction.

THE POTATO

The senators refused to handle a hot potato yesterday and plopped it right back into the lap of Secretary of Agriculture Brannan. Brannan has proposed the dumping of 50 million bushels of the country's Irish potatoes in the areas where they were grown. According to Brannan the United States treasury will be approximately $15,000,000 better off by dumping the spuds where they are than trying to transport them to industrial alcohol companies or other consumer outlets.

If the potatoes are dumped, it will mean the government is taking a loss of between $80,000,000 and $100,000,000 on last year's potato crop.

Republican Senator Aiken, a congressional agricultural leader, and Democratic Senator Anderson, the former Secretary of Agriculture, have refused to have the Senate committee touch the ticklish situation of what should be done with the potatoes.

Even though Pitt county is a highly agricultural county and raises a fair amount, if not an abundance, of commercial potatoes, the far-reaching government subsidies on agricultural produce mean a great deal to everyone in this section.

Nevertheless, the sooner the farmers, workers, merchants, industrialists and the other people in the United States awake to the realization that all the losses the government takes actually come from their pockets as well as the pockets of other tax payers, the better off the economic situation of the United States will be.

When the government takes a $100,000,000 loss, it means that an extra 100 million dollars must come from the individual tax payers' earnings to offset the deficit. Even though individual groups may be receiving benefits from the vast subsidization program of the federal government, the members of each group in turn must pay in taxes for the government subsidization program.

Around Capitol Square

By LYNN NISBET
HORTON—Capitol square took time out Wednesday from discussion of current and future politics to pay tribute to Wilkins P. Horton. The superior court judge, former lieutenant-governor and runner-up for the governorship in 1940, following many years in the state senate, died early that morning. State flags on public buildings were lowered to half mast in his honor, and all around little groups of people were expressing regret.

CAREER—He began his public service as senator from Oncham county in 1919 at 30 years of age. He came back in 1927, but first attracted statewide attention in 1931 when he resisted demands of the News and Observer and other anti-administration forces to resign his senate seat because he would not vote for a proposed partial sales tax. In the 1936 primary he came from a bad second place to win the nomination for lieutenant-governor in a run-off primary with Paul Grady. In 1940 he declined to call for a run-off against J. M. Broughton for governor. Subsequently he served as national committeeman and state chairman of the Democratic party, and early last summer was appointed by Governor Scott to the superior court bench as a special judge. His health handicapped his activities as a judge and he died seven months to the day after he was sworn in on July 1.

REVIEW—The sketchy review of his career indulged in by capitol square folks emphasized the change

Somebody Told Me...

Last night on the radio Bing Crosby and Ken Carpenter were talking about the various national recognition weeks. They mentioned "National Ice Tea Week," "National Hot Tea Week," followed by "National Wring out the Tea Bags Week." They even suggested a "Play the other side of Mule Train Week."

This mess made me think of the week that could have been observed in Greenville recently, like "Appreciation to Chief Page Week," and the one I'm observing this week "Ask People what Grits are Week."

The grits deal started last week, when Howard Smith (the bus station) saw me and said, "Jack, I've got a lulu for you, a real looo looo!"

"There's nothing I like better than lulu's," I said. "Let's have it."

Howard said, "Well to illustrate the point, I'll ask you a question: What are grits?"

"To me," I answered, "grits are something that you put either butter or ham gravy on and eat in the morning."

"Go on from there," he said.

In North Carolina politics during the 30 years he was active. He had a lot of influence on these changes, although fate decreed that he must too often be in the middle to get credit for accomplishments or be charged with failures. Possessing many, but lacking some, of the qualities of leadership he represented with high degree of accuracy the stable middle group which has been more largely responsible than most people realize for North Carolina's position in the front ranks of all the states.

COMPROMISE—The realists and the idealists, the practical business men and promoters and the scholars have reached a compromise on a name for the Cherokee pageant, scheduled to open in July. The realists wanted to call the thing just the Cherokee Pageant. The idealists wanted to name it "Unto These Hills." Now it appears they have agreed to put both ideas into the official title. It will be "Unto These Hills—A Drama of the Cherokees."

BALANCE—The performance will be given for the first time early in July in an outdoor mountaineer amphitheatre near the Cherokee village in Swain county, and will portray the story of the Cherokee Indians. It is anticipated that this drama will be for the west what the two areas of first ventures of Sir Walter Raleigh on the coast and De Soto in the mountains, will serve to emphasize North Carolina's wide divergent appeals with extremes represented by the waterside theatre at Manteo and the mountaineer theatre at Cherokee. The State, through legislative appropriations, has underwritten both projects in the tune of some $30,000 each in cash contributions, plus a lot of special services from various state departments. Precedent established in these contributions has brought demand, which may increase, for state aid to Fayetteville's "Highland Cave" and Mecklenburg's "Shout for Freedom."

housekeeping firm that says it manages most of the mansions listed in the social register—although I thought the people rather than homes. The firm said it chose the top ten living rooms from some 500 nominees. And it estimated the value of the furnishings in the lucky winners at about $500,000—or $50,000 a room.

There must be some error here. Could any living room actually cost $500,000? What would they paper it with—mink?

Who were the winners? Well, 960 Fifth Avenue (Mrs. John Reed Topping) placed first. The second place living room declined to give its address, but admitted it was owned by Elizabeth Arden, a lady who has notions about lotions.

Then, third, came 550 Park Avenue, lived in by Mrs. Danny Kaye; fourth, 20 East 60th Street, inhabited by Mrs. Deems Taylor, and fifth, 630 Park Avenue, where Mrs. Mary Roberts Rinehart dwells. All the other prize-winning living rooms were from the Tony Upper East Side except 25 Central Park West, a dark horse entry from the other side of town, in which Ethel Merman sings after supper. It placed eighth.

What worries me is what happens when I go home to 541 East 20th Street, Apartment 8-F. That is where my living room hangs out. How can I face it?

The first thing it will say is, "Don't try to hold the news back from me. Why didn't I win?"

And the more I try to console it, the more unhappy it will get. (Of course, I wouldn't dare tell it that it didn't even make the original list of 500.)

"What's the matter, do I need my rug lifted?" it will plead. Or—

"Tell me the truth, is my radiator showing?"

This will go on for days and days, with my living room developing more and more of an inferiority complex.

"Oh, you don't have to tell me—I know I'm hopelessly out-of-date," it will sigh. "Just mahogany and old lace—that's me. I've had my day. You should have gotten yourself a younger living room."

Then my living room will begin to brood—and blame me.

"Look, big boy," it will sniff, "if you'd spend a little money on me I might all the other parlors in town wouldn't be laughing at me. I'm just as good as any other living room at heart."

And it will go on:

"I found out that those prize-winning living rooms had $50,000 worth of frou-frou in them. You know $50,337. No wonder I look like I don't have anything to wear."

Believe it or not, I'll then have to start borrowing from the bank to pep my old living room up.

"Enough of this mongrel Victorian scrap," it will say. "I'm going futuristic even if you have to henna my sofa."

And by the time we win a prize, well, I'll be living over the hill in the poorhouse. And the neighborhood hookshop owner will be sitting in my living room waiting to accept its medal.

Isn't there already enough trouble in the world caused by giving prizes to people? Why start making parlors ambitious?

Washington—The typical American baby born since January 1 has something his ancestors lack — a permanent number in a nationally-organized file. If he lives long enough he may see that number used for his social security card, driver's license, marriage license (and, if married falls, his divorce decree) for selective service and finally for his death certificate. As of today, however, the number is used only on birth certificates.

In the interests of simplicity and economy, the states for many years have been trying to standardize and coordinate the keeping of birth records and other basic data. Out of their efforts and those of the National Office of Vital Statistics grew the birth numbering system which went into effect formally at the start of 1949.

Under the uniform system the number is in three sections. The three-digit first section designates the country and state of birth. The United States is No. 1, Canada No. 2. Other countries, particularly in Latin America, have expressed interest, but as yet no other international numbers have been assigned.

The states are numbered in alphabetical sequence—Alabama 01, Arizona 02 and so on, except that the District of Columbia is 08, between Delaware and Florida. Thus the area code for Arkansas is 103, for Wyoming 149.

The second section consists of two digits showing the year of birth. The third, of six digits, indicates the sequence of birth in each state. Thus the first child born in Iowa in 1950 for example, would be No. 114-50-000001. The 1 is for United States 14 for Iowa 50 for 1950.

The area code designates Alaska as 150, Hawaii 151, Puerto Rico 152 and the Virgin Island 153. Four cities which have separate birth registration systems also are recognized. They are Baltimore 154, Boston 155, New York City 156 and New Orleans 157.

Two other area code numbers have been reserved for immigrants or for U. S. citizens born in foreign countries. They are No. 156 for the use of the Justice Department's Immigration and Nationalization Service, and 159 for the State Department's Passport division.

The only area not yet using the new numbering system are California No. 104, Maryland 119, Massachusetts 120, New York 131, Pennsylvania 137, Vermont 144 and Boston 155.

The office of Vital Statistics explains that those six states and Boston were using filing systems that did not really lend themselves to the new method. They are expected to change over eventually, after they have had time to revise their procedure.

Reports East Carolina's Need In Elementary School Teachers

That the greatest opportunities in the field of public school teaching in the service area of East Carolina Teachers' College exist at the elementary school level is revealed by a recent report made by Dr. J. L. Oppelt, director of the Placement Office of the college. The shortage of elementary school teachers is recognized throughout the nation as one of the major educational problems in this country at the present time.

Dr. Oppelt's study is entitled "Placement Data for Advisers, Fall 1948-Summer 1949." Prepared for

Bremen's Debate Over Gables Is Found Hopeful

BREMEN Germany — (AP) — Every once in a while the Germans show signs of rebelling against the bureaucracy that has plagued them since long before Adolf Hitler's days. This makes American occupation officials happy.

A case that encouraged the Americans was Bremen's "battle of the gables." The Bremen Board for Control of Building Affairs decided that new buildings in the business district should not have gabled roofs. A lively public discussion followed, with Bremen's architects, art experts and ordinary citizens protesting.

Carl Honning, a coffee merchant, defied orders and built a gabled roof. Authorities ordered him to tear it down. That really stirred up public reaction. And the ban on gables was rescinded.

faculty advisers of students at their minor fields. During the period covered by Dr. Oppelt's report, the most acute shortage of secondary majors existed in library science, music, and the combination of science and coaching. No graduates were placed in these fields.

Employment opportunities in other secondary areas continue to be good, the study indicates.

Light Can Save Many Early Pigs

Des Moines — (AP) — Researcher of the Iowa Agriculture Experiment Station at Iowa State College says an ordinary 100-watt light bulb can prevent the loss of many early pigs during the critical first two weeks.

The light bulb in a corner brooder, or an infra-red heat lamp, will help provide a warm, dry area for the litter to lie down and sleep. These lamps also will keep pigs from crowding the sow too close for heat.

Electric Tube Has A 'Memory'

NEW YORK — (AP) — A new type oscilloscope, which is similar to a television tube, has been developed. It has a visual "memory" lasting a full minute. Used in laboratory and testing work, it holds on the screen traces of electrical current occurring in a billionth of a second.

The oscilloscope is a device which turns electrical current into a visual pattern so that its functioning can be observed.

Greek Town Ends Long Mourning After Assault

SALONIKA — (AP) — The people of battered Naoussa, a small textile town bordering on the Macedonian plain west of here, have marked the end of a year of mourning. It was last year that Naoussa was sacked by three Communist brigades. During the three days the guerrillas remained in the town, they set out on a systematic plan of murdering, burning and looting. Eighty citizens were killed and more than 600 men, women and children dragged off in freezing cold into the mountains.

Naoussa depended mostly on its textile industry. Now the first pieces of new textile machinery have begun to arrive, part of ECA's program to provide a half-million dollar cotton spinning plant to replace the one destroyed by the Communists.

Saarbruecken Rebuilds Houses

SAARBRUECKEN — (AP) — The city of Saarbruecken, which found itself almost in the front line at the outbreak of war in 1914 and was later heavily bombed in Allied raids, starts 1950 with about 30,000 of its 36,500 houses reconstructed and in use again. About 100 offices and stores have also been rebuilt. Saarbruecken had less than 20,000 houses still habitable when the war ended, according to the "Saarbruecker Zeitung."

Express Alarm Over Increased Number Dangerous Drugs Sold

Washington, Feb. 2.—(AP)—The food and drug administration expressed alarm today over an increase in the number of dangerous drugs it has found on the market.

It also noted a rise in the careless use of the deadly rat poison 1080.

At the same time, however, the agency pointed out that "to the credit of the American food, drug and cosmetic industries as a whole, better supplies of these products are available than ever before."

In his annual report, commissioner Paul B. Dunbar listed these as some of the difficulties he has run into in the past fiscal year:

1 The increase in coffee prices led to attempts to salvage coffee "to the last bean." The administration seized five large lots of sweepings—beans spilled from broken bags in ship holds and on docks—some of them containing "half weight in inspeakable filth."

2 DDT is still found in dairy barns. The agency reaffirmed its position of last fall that there will be "no tolerance for DDT in milk, because it is a poison that is not required in good dairy farm practice."

3 Shipment of short-weight products such as gift packages little more than half full, and honey-rum brandy cakes with little honey and no rum and brandy, (but the agency reported that although 14 shipments of candy were seized as short weight, "in general the proportion of the candy to the package in candy is improving.")

4 The use of "naked" raspberry seeds in pie filling to give the false impression that it contained raspberries—a fraud, the agency said, which recalled practices before the passage of the food and drug act in 1906.

5 Deodorants that proved irritating to laboratory animals (70,000 such jars later were mixed with cement to form part of an excavation fill) egg shampoos short on eggs, olive dressings consisting chiefly of mineral oil, and an explosion—while the shipment was being seized—of quart jar samples of a "no-bloat" mixture for cattle and sheep.

6 Various phony medical devices were found on sale—including such items as copper and zinc shoe plates to help walking and "carry off static deposits that cause pain due to rheumatism, arthritis and back-ache."

7 Polluted baby foods. The agency seized more than $100,000 worth of a mixture of pureed apricots and insect-infested farina, and removed from the market 45,000 cases of an under-processed infant food which caused gastric disturbances.

Water Is Scarce But Fish Saved

SANTA ANA, Calif. — (AP) — Members of the Inak Walton League have worked out a check dam project which permits year-around living conditions for stream fish in this water-scarce area.

Using funds from Santa Ana county's share of fish and game law fines, the group built 27 small dams, in series of three and four, to back up water into pools.

Hair, 24, of Fayetteville, will face the Wake County grand jury during the criminal court term of Wake Superior court the week of March 6.

Big Problem Of Revenue Loss Is Up For Action

By CHARLES MOLONY
Washington—President Truman has tackled an increasingly great revenue loss problem in proposing to Congress that tax exemptions on certain operations of schools and charities be narrowed. The President was specific—although not detailed—about only two cases where he wants to remove the tax exemptions such organizations usually enjoy:

1. Where business and industrial operations "entirely unrelated to educational activities" have been operated under a school's tax-exempt wings and thus given "competitive advantage" over fully taxable enterprises in the same line of business.

2. "Where the exemption accorded charitable trust funds has been used as a cloak for speculative business ventures, and funds intended for charitable purposes, buttressed by tax exemption, have been used to acquire or retain control over a wide variety of industrial enterprises."

The Treasury has shown concern over the revenue lost through these channels and now has two cases in court in which it is attempting to subject college-owned businesses to regular corporate taxes. One deals with an important spaghetti-macaroni firm, C. F. Mueller Co. of New York, which is owned by a trust of which the beneficiary is New York University. The other case involves a plant of the Century Electric Co. of St. Louis and William Jewell College of Missouri.

While these cases remain unsettled, there have been other instances of colleges acquiring business interests by investment of their endowment funds as well as under the wills of alumni who die.

The Treasury established through a questionnaire published recently that $8,175,832,000 in receipts from "business" operations were taken in during 1946 by tax exempt organizations which answered the questionnaire. And, the Treasury said, only a minority of the tax exempt organizations sent it data.

Rep. Mason (R-Ill.), a member of the House Ways and Means (taxation) Committee, estimated that the total volume of these receipts approximates $80,000,000,000 annually and that the government loses about $1,000,000,000 a year in taxes as a result of exemptions.

Crippled Deer Survives Wilds

MISSOULA, Mont.—(AP)—Wildlife oddity in the Blackfoot Valley near here is "Limpy," a buck deer with a crippled hind leg.

Ranchers say he was shot as a yearling six years ago. Despite the adage that only the fit survive in the wild, he has been seen each year since. Although he still has a pronounced limp, he's reported hale and hearty despite efforts of hunters, wolves and other predators.

SAMURAI SWORDS ON SALE
TOKYO.—(AP)—The Japanese samurai sword, once a trophy which could be won only in combat, is now a souvenir item. The U.S. Eighth Army Central Exchange is putting 6,000 of them on sale for occupation personnel. They'll sell for $10 on down, depending on size.

Not His Dish

CHICAGO—(AP)—John Rammone, who likes to juggle in his spare time, tossed three dinner plates into the air.

He deftly caught No. 1 in one hand and No. 2 in the other. The No. 3 dish landed on his forehead. After the wound was closed with three stitches, he commented:

"Well, it always worked with rubber balls."

Telephone Delay Proved Costly

RUSH, N.Y.—(AP)—"Please let me use the phone so I can report a fire," farmer William Yahn shouted to users of his party line.

"We're talking and you'll just have to wait, Yahn," said one of the women on the line told him. Yahn said his alarm was delayed five minutes. Flames had all but levelled both his barns when firemen arrived.

Can Now Take Over U. S. Plants Making Hydrogen

New York, Feb. 2—(AP)—The making of hydrogen, one of the nation's fair-size industries, can be taken over by the federal government under the Atomic Energy Act. The possibility comes from President Truman's decision to make hydrogen bombs, far more powerful than present A-bombs.
 Furthermore, the Atomic Energy Commission's report today reveals experiments on three kinds of hydrogen, enough to suggest to scientists how to make a hydrogen bomb.

The suggestion is using the heavier forms of that gas.
 The Atomic Energy Act gives to the commission control over all "fissionable material." Bombs made of any of the three forms of hydrogen, as described to date are not fissionable, for the atoms do not split but fuse.
 But Section 5 of the act in defining "fissionable material" after enumerating plutonium and uranium, goes on to say that "fissionable material" also is "any other material which the commission determines to be capable of releasing substantial quantities of energy through nuclear chain reaction of the material."
 This by definition includes all the currently mentioned processes of using hydrogen for bombs.

Art, Rats, Cat Figure In Mixup

Johannesburg—(AP)—On the eve of his departure for London to take up the deputy-directorship of the Tate Gallery, le Roux Smith le Roux has been presented with an official bill for $8.05—for cat's meat.
 When le Roux was director of the Pretoria Art Center in 1944, rats began destroying valuable supplies of war-scarce art paper. A cat was appointed guardian, and waged such an efficient campaign against the rats that within six months the survivors had departed. As a reward for services rendered and as insurance against further attacks, Tatiana was granted an allowance of meat by the center.
 The Art Center's accountant was satisfied, but on the day Mr. le Roux's resignation became effective he received a letter from the Transvaal Education Department which disallowed the claim. le Roux declares that he will fight the claim.

 Speller, a Bertie County Negro, was charged with raping Mrs. Aubrey Davis of Windsor in July, 1947.

David Lives Up To Reputation

East Chicago, Ind.—(AP)—David Olah, a skinny kid of 13, looked like easy pickings. As he crossed a dark alley a deep voice commanded: "Come here or I'll cut you into little pieces."
 "I'll give you the money I have mister," David said meekly. But as soon as David got within range he lashed out—and hard—with right and left hand punches. The tough guy got away from there fast—possibly recalling the fate that befell Goliath.

FOR FLAVOR AND ECONOMY, TEAM KRAUT AND FRANKS

Sauer Kraut and WILSON'S CERTIFIED FRANKFURTERS blend to perfection whether you serve them as a platter combination or sandwich team. Thrifty food, yes, but fine, tasty fare and here is a gourmet version of this fine food pair.

Buy dinner-sized WILSON'S CERTIFIED FRANKS. They come about 8 to a pound. Cook minced onion and chopped green pepper in fat or drippings until sautéed but not browned. Then add kraut, water and B-V to finish the cooking broth. Simmer 8 to 20 minutes, depending on whether you like kraut flavor, stout or mild. The longer kraut cooks, the milder the flavor. Top with franks (cut in half or left whole), cover, heat to simmering, put out heat and let puff deliciously until franks are heated through. Since frankfurters are already cooked before you buy them, they merely need warming. You never tasted better franks than these.

KRAUT AND FRANKFURTERS

Into the bottom of a kettle place:
 2 tablespoons drippings or fat, when hot add:
 1 1/2 cups minced onion (3 medium or 1 large sweet onion, cut fine)
 1/4 cup cut-up green pepper
 When cooked sauté but not browned add:
 1 lb. sauer kraut (or 1 can, if tinned)
 1 1/2 cups water and
 2 teaspoons WILSON'S B-V
 Simmer 8 to 20 minutes. (The longer the cooking, the more mild the kraut flavor.) Over hot kraut put:
 1 lb. WILSON'S CERTIFIED FRANKFURTERS left whole or cut in half lengths. Cover, heat to simmering, turn out fire and let stand 7 or 8 minutes, until deliciously puffed and hot.
VARIATION: Just before serving you may like to fold in 1/4 to 1 cup sour cream to your taste. This gives a certain richness and intriguing flavor but is not necessary. Everyone who tasted these franks and kraut loved them plain as well as sour creamed.

Boxing Bucs Lose To South Carolina

Locals Fight Southern Conference Champs On Even Terms Down To The Last Match, Dropping Meet By 4-3 Decision Before Large Crowd

Probably the largest crowd of boxing fans ever to witness an intercollegiate ring card at East Carolina jam-packed Wright auditorium last night to watch Coach Johnny Long's Pirate pups battle the Southern conference's University of South Carolina team down to the final bout before losing by a 4-3 score in a hard-fought seven-card bout card.

In the opener of the leather-slinging fireworks, South Carolina's aggressive Allan George, outreaching East Carolina's Cleon Smith, decided the little 125-pounder in a close scrap. Unable to get in close for his usual style of boxing, Smith fought gamely and brilliantly, but the arm reach of George proved to be too much for the small East Carolina ring captain.

Continuing their aggressiveness in the 140 lb. division, the Gamecocks' Chuck Davis came out strong in the first round to stun Buccaneer Charlie Edwards. Using jarring inside punches to the head and continuous blows to the body, Davis gained a decisive victory over Edwards as he gained momentum in the final round.

One of the most outstanding fights of the night saw East Carolina's Cecil Phillips successfully defend his unbeaten collegiate record of four wins with no losses, as he battered South Carolina's Emmitt Gurney in the 145 lb. class. Phillips brought the crowd to a tremendous roar as he fought like a demon in the first round to completely master the South Carolina's stunned Gurney. Never fully recovered from the first round onslaught of Phillips, Gurney returned in the second round with hope of a comeback, but Phillips went into a deep crunch to make the Palmetto better mix with consistency. The third round saw both fighters tire considerably, but Phillips kept up his pounding of the head and body of Gurney, and Referee Elder Craft signaled Phillips the winner.

In the evening's feature bout, Crowell Williamson, East Carolina's heralded frosh sensation, kept in complete control over Earl Chapman, in the 150 pound attraction.

Gaining great ovations from the crowd with his three boxing brothers and Dad looking on, Williamson had little trouble in winning as the Gamecocks' Chapman hit the mat early and went down for a count of seven in the third round. Using a steady left jab, and a hard right across to the body very effectively, Williamson brought a flow of crimson to the Gamecocks' nose early in the fight. At the end of the bout, Coach Jess Alderman of South Carolina personally came over to congratulate Williamson on his fine form and classy exhibition of boxing.

Unsung contender, H. A. Creel, came into his own in the heavier division, as he outslugged South Carolina's Ed Hunt in the 160 pound division. Creel, starting slow in the first round, gained momentum as the second round rolled around, using inside punches to the body effectively, combined with a jarring right to gain Referee Elder's decision.

Bill Torrans, exploding Pirate pumper, spotted South Carolina's Stan Hamilton eight pounds in the 185 lb. class, and found it in his disadvantage, as the USC boxer outpointed Torrans in a slightly bood decision.

Only TKO of the night came as Bruce Currington landed a hard left to the temple of heavyweight Henry Fordham that stunned the Pirate pug and the East Carolina fighter was unable to continue after 30 seconds had elapsed in the first round.

Once Again

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 2—(AP)—Former heavyweight boxing champion Joe Louis will decide next month whether to attempt a comeback or stay retired.

Louis, who boxed an eight-round exhibition with Tiger Gene Jones of Camden, N.J., here last night, said after the bout he would announce a decision in March.

Asked if he intended to remain retired or try a comeback to regain the title he gave up last year, Louis replied: "Nethin's impossible."

'Torchers' Lead Bowling Rivals

The night shift bowlers of the National Carbon Company bowled for the second time yesterday afternoon in the new league's competition.

Of the four teams from the night shift, the Torchers are now leading their division with six games won against no losses. Yesterday, the Torchers totaled a high of 482 for one game to lead their nearest rival, the Tamperers, by 40 points. The latter team bowled a high of 442.

Letha Smith, one of the Torchers' four bowlers, copped scoring honors as she knocked down a neat 155 for one game, complementing that score with a 386 for three games. She leads her nearest competitor in single games by two pins but is way out in front in three games by 29.

In top positions with six games gone by are: Letha Smith, with a 121 average; Taylor of the Torchers with 117; Harris of the Tamperers with 115 (four games); Eastwood of Labelers with 114; and McGowan of the Torchers with 111.

Here are the night shift's standings through six games:

Team	Won	Lost	Pct.
Torchers	6	0	1.000
Labelers	3	3	.500
Tamperers	2	4	.333
Cappers	1	5	.167

Playing State Deacons To Try Two Platoons In

Raleigh, Feb. 2—(AP)—Wake Forest will use a two-platoon basketball system tonight in an effort to upset N.C. State.

The inconsistent Deacons got back on the win trail Tuesday night by drubbing the Citadel, 82-43. It was the highest score racked up by the Deacs so far this season—and it was made with the two-platoon system. It was the third time Coach Murray Greason had used it this year. He said yesterday he would use it against State.

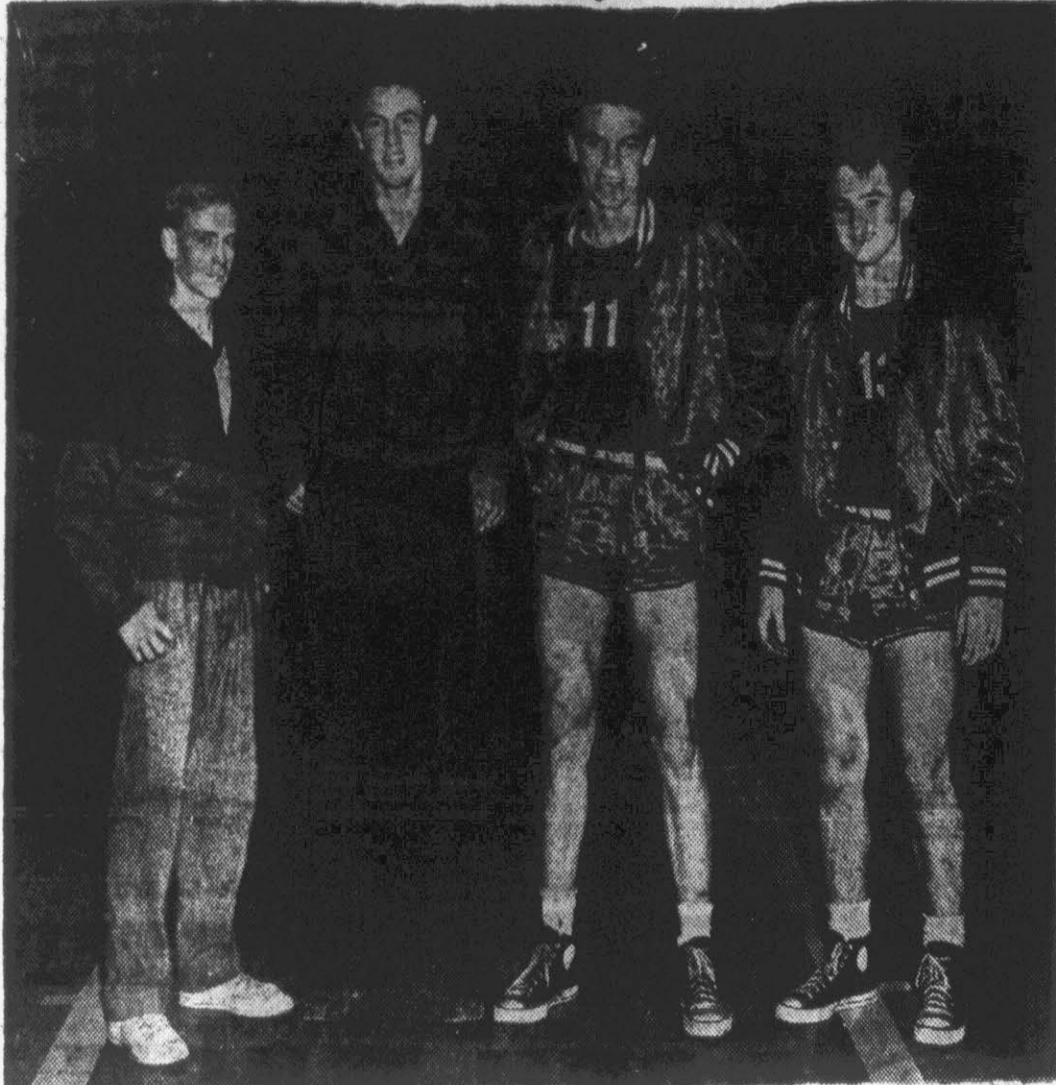

Coach Everett Case's defending Southern Conference champions from State will be heavily favored, however. The Wolfpack has lost but four Southern Conference games in four years. Two of these were to Wake Forest, a county neighbor only 17 miles away.

Stokes' Ruritan Quint In Victory

Belvoir, Feb. 2—Stokes Ruritan basketball team defeated the Falkland's Ruritan five Monday night by a score of 26-17 in a game played in the new Belvoir-Falkland gymnasium.

The game was marked by a tight defense thrown up by Stokes throughout the match which kept the local quint away from the basket. Arthur Moore of Falkland was high scorer for his club, competing with the visitors' Roebuck. Frank Corbett was the standout defensively for Falkland.

Bethel Quint Eliminated As Top County Contender

Bethel, Feb. 2—Farmville knocked Bethel out of contention for top honors in the Pitt County race Tuesday night as they put on a terrific scoring drive in the last three minutes to come from behind and win 41-31.

With four minutes to go, the Walter Latham boys held a slight two-point edge, 29-27, which was narrowed during the next minute to one point. Then Farmville went to town via the fastest route. Carl King, forward for Elbert Moye's visitors, got two buckets to put his team ahead. His four points, plus seven foul shots on the strength of the two-minute rule's double-foul procedure, added that many more points for the victors.

King, with 21 points, led both teams. He was also the defensive standout, getting most of the rebounds. Edgar Barnhill scored eight points for the Indians completing John Nelson's floor game.

The Bethel girls lost to the visiting Farmville team, 30-22, in the preliminary. The Farmville offense was spread out among Raye Hathaway with 10 points, her sister Dot Hathaway with 9, and Middle Rouse leading them both with 12.

High scorer for the locals was Peggy Batchelor with 12.

Greenies Are Now The 'Robins' But Little Else Made Known

By BERT MOYE
With the opening of the Coastal Plain League only eleven weeks away, and especially with this spring-like weather which is also now enjoying in this community, the writer is asked time and time again as he walks around town such questions as: "What kind of team are we going to have this year?" and "What members of last year's team are going to return this year?"

As yet no word has come from Business Manager Dallas Blackiston, who is located here, any information concerning the status of the Greenville club this year with the exception of a remark made when the new owners took over the club that "Greenville would have a winning team in there fighting from the start."

In answer to the second question listed above this information is also lacking. A talk with Junior Yohn, who at present is working with the State Highway Commission and was the Greenies' leading pitcher last season, told the writer a day or so ago that his status with the Greenville club for the coming season was as yet uncertain.

However, maybe these questions can be answered within the near future and then we can all draw our own conclusions as to just what kind of team to expect this year. It is almost a certainty that Pappy Williams will not return to the Greenville lineup this coming season to round out the number two veteran for the club, even though his present contract is owned by the local owners of the club. Incidentally, Junior Yohn rates a veteran this coming season.

There is one thing certain though for this coming season and that is the fans will have to stop going to the games and hollering for the Greenies. The new owners of the club have changed the nickname to "Robins." It will certainly be hard to acquaint ourselves with this new monicker at first, but maybe we can learn to say Robins as well as we did Greenies.

With the announcement coming from Tarboro last week that Joe Antolick would return to the help of the Tarboro Athletics this coming season, that just about rounded out the list of managers in the Coastal Plain for the coming season. Other managers who will guide this club for the second season include Glenn Lockamy at Roanoke Rapids and Red Benton at Rocky Mount. Bill Herring, who has seen plenty of action in Coastal Plain, has decided to return this season and will take over the reins of the Wilson club. Other managers are as follows: Harry Land at New Bern, Walter Millies at Kinston and Randy Heflin at Greenville. The name of the Goldsboro manager has not yet been announced.

The Roanoke Rapids Jays, who in a recent drive raised $16,223.29 to pay off a three year operating deficit, has been busy for the past several weeks signing new players as spring training for the Jays will start on March 15 down in Bartow, Florida. Among the former Jays who have signed their 1950 contracts are Alton Brown, leading hurler for the Jays last season; Larry Quarararo, outfielder with the Jays the past season. In addition the Jays have signed Bobby Nelson, 21, rookie infielder from Kernersville, who holds down third base; Jim Mooney, catcher, who played with the Raleigh Capitals and the Reidsville Luckies in the Carolina League during 1948. In 1949 he played with Fayetteville in the Tobacco State League. The Jays have also purchased outfielder Walt McJunkin from the Rocky Mount Leafs for an undisclosed amount of cash and Harold Sargent, pitcher, who was purchased from the Raleigh Capitals. They have also signed a rookie catcher, Johnny Price, who played for two years in the Johnson County League.

Harry Land of the New Bern club has announced the signing of four players thus far. They are Bo Stevens, left-handed hurler, who played in the Norfolk City League last season. In addition to Stevens, Manager Land has acquired outfielders Johnny Britt and Collins Askew of Portsmouth, Va., and pitcher Buster Mathews of Craddock, Virginia.

The Rocky Mount Leafs may present a brother act this season, if Joe Martin, younger brother of the club's hard-hitting outfielder-catcher, Pepper Martin, makes the grade. Joe, a rookie, was voted the outstanding shortstop in the National Baseball Congress tournament at Wichita, Kansas, last summer. Another newcomer signed by the Leafs is Smith Tweed, outfielder who played with the strong Acosta paper mill team at Asheville last summer.

The Goldsboro Cardinals will start spring training at Albany, Ga. on March 20, it has been announced by Nick Gear, business manager of the club.

Also included in the mass scale pre-season conditioning program at Albany will be 14 other clubs in the St. Louis Cardinal organization, ranging from Class A through Class D. Approximately 450 players are scheduled to report.

Vince Gohl, who topped the Coastal Plain league individual pitching records last season, while with the Tarboro Athletics, is to pitch to Lincoln, Neb., Class A team this season, according to word coming from Tarboro.

Although this item is not connected with the doings in the Coastal Plain League it will bring back memories of several years ago. Les Bell, former major league infielder, signed for his seventh season as manager of the Harrisburg (Inter-State) club. Dean of pilots in the league, Bell has directed every Harrisburg club in the Inter-State except one. Bell and his Harrisburg boys held their spring training in Greenville several years ago and will be remembered here by the followers of the sport.

Steve Collins, who has been manager of the Kinston Eagles for the past three seasons, has signed to manage the Moultrie, Ga., team in the Class D Georgia-Florida League.

Blocking Back Ruled Ineligible

Chapel Hill, Feb. 2—(AP)—The first string blocking back of the University of North Carolina has been ruled ineligible.

Eddie Knox said yesterday it had been ruled that he would have to quit after three years of varsity competition.

Vanceboro Divides Pair With Beaufort Cagers

Vanceboro, Feb. 2—Coach D. D. Drew's basketball teams split a double-header with Beaufort last night, the boys winning 26-20 and the girls losing, 42-27.

The games were the first in a home-and-home series begun this year.

Robert Norman led the Vanceboro club with 11 points, high for the night. Bill Sammons pushed in 7 to lead the losers. For Drew's boys, Claude Wilson and Wesley Gladson led the defensive play while high-scorer Sammons was outstanding for Beaufort.

The girls' game was marked by the height of the visiting girls who averaged between 5'10" and 6 feet even. The locals led at the first quarters, 8-5, but the Beaufort team came on strong for the next three to wrap up the game going away.

Carol Willis led her victorious team with 26 points, leading her closest competitor, Iris Davis of Beaufort with eight, by 20 points in the scoring. For Vanceboro, the high scorers were Lois Forrest with nine and Joyce Wilson with eight. The locals' defensive attack was spread out among Ann Peterson, Lillie Sprull and Ramona Sprull. For the visitors, Mary Lynch and Peggy O'Neal paced the floor game.

Coach Drew's teams play their next game tomorrow night here, taking on South Edgecombe.

North State Has 4 Games On Tap

By The Associated Press
There's plenty of action in the North State League tonight. Four Games are on tap.

High Point's Panthers will seek to keep their loop record of no defeats intact when they play at Elon. Runnerup Appalachian meets East Carolina Teachers College at Boone. Guilford is at Catawba and Atlantic Christian at Lenoir-Rhyne.

Elon easily defeated Western Carolina last night, 72-50. The big game in the Southern conference and big four will be played at State College where Wake Forest seeks to repeat upsets it gained in 1947 and last year over the Wolfpack.

A State win would give the Wolfpack possession of first place in the conference. Duke and State are tied for first place with seven wins and one loss each.

Abe Lower of Albany, N.Y., laid off bowling for six years and on his recent return to the alleys he hit 196, then 146 and finished with 300.

TWO-WAY STRETCH

that's strictly inside stuff!

HERE'S THE NEW 1950 BUICK SUPER 126, companion body-type to the equally new ROADMASTER 130. Both are shorter than last year's 4-door Sedans — yet 4 inches longer in wheelbase. In both, the difference is used to give you real stretch-out room in the rear seat.

What the boys did here really calls for some medals. We gave them the job of coming up with something that was bigger inside—for room and comfort—longer in wheelbase—always important to good riding qualities—yet unbulky and easy-handling in over-all dimensions. Just look how well this tidy number meets these "impossible" specifications!

Item one—rear-seat cushions are a full foot wider than last year's SUPERS and ROADMASTERS.

Item two—in every dimension—leg-room, head-room, hip-room, shoulder-room—this rear-seat compartment is bigger than previous models—and nearly four inches longer, fore and aft, than other 1950 Buick interiors.

Item three—wheelbases are the longest of our 1950 line. On the SUPER, it is 125½" instead of 121½"—on the ROADMASTER 130, it's 126½".

Yet—and here's where the magic comes in—the whole car is shorter over-all. Actually less from bumper to bumper than previous Buicks in these series.

That means easier parking, easier tucking away in family garages, easier maneuvering in crowded traffic.

There are some other things too. An extra rear-quarter window not found in standard 4-door Sedans. A different upperstructure styling that makes this body-type stand out as something pretty special.

Even special names that let you say, "I drive a SUPER 126" or "Mine's a ROADMASTER 130," just by way of being different.

Yes, we think we hit on a happy idea in the "Longfellows," as they're coming to be known. They are not longer, on the outside, but there's a two-way stretch—in width and length—in the rear compartment.

You're going to like that—as you'll see by calling on your own Buick dealer. If he doesn't have one on hand, he can get it pretty promptly—and at a price and on a deal you'll have trouble matching, much less beating, anywhere else.

See him now, will you—about placing an order?

HOME RANGE

Chapter 28

White Bear turned and looked at him. There were, Valse knew, probably other chiefs of equal rank here, but White Bear was easily the senior chief among the Wazzazi, and they, in a sense, were the host tribe at this gathering. In addition, it was White Bear's sons who had died, and that gave him a position of leadership which no other chief thought of disputing. His voice was sharp.

"They have made a fair offer," he said. "We will hear what they have to say."

"It's a trick," Zachary persisted. "They have come here to try and rescue the woman!" He swept his arm in a gesture toward Saralee.

It was not an impressive argument. Amusement showed in White Bear's eyes for a moment.

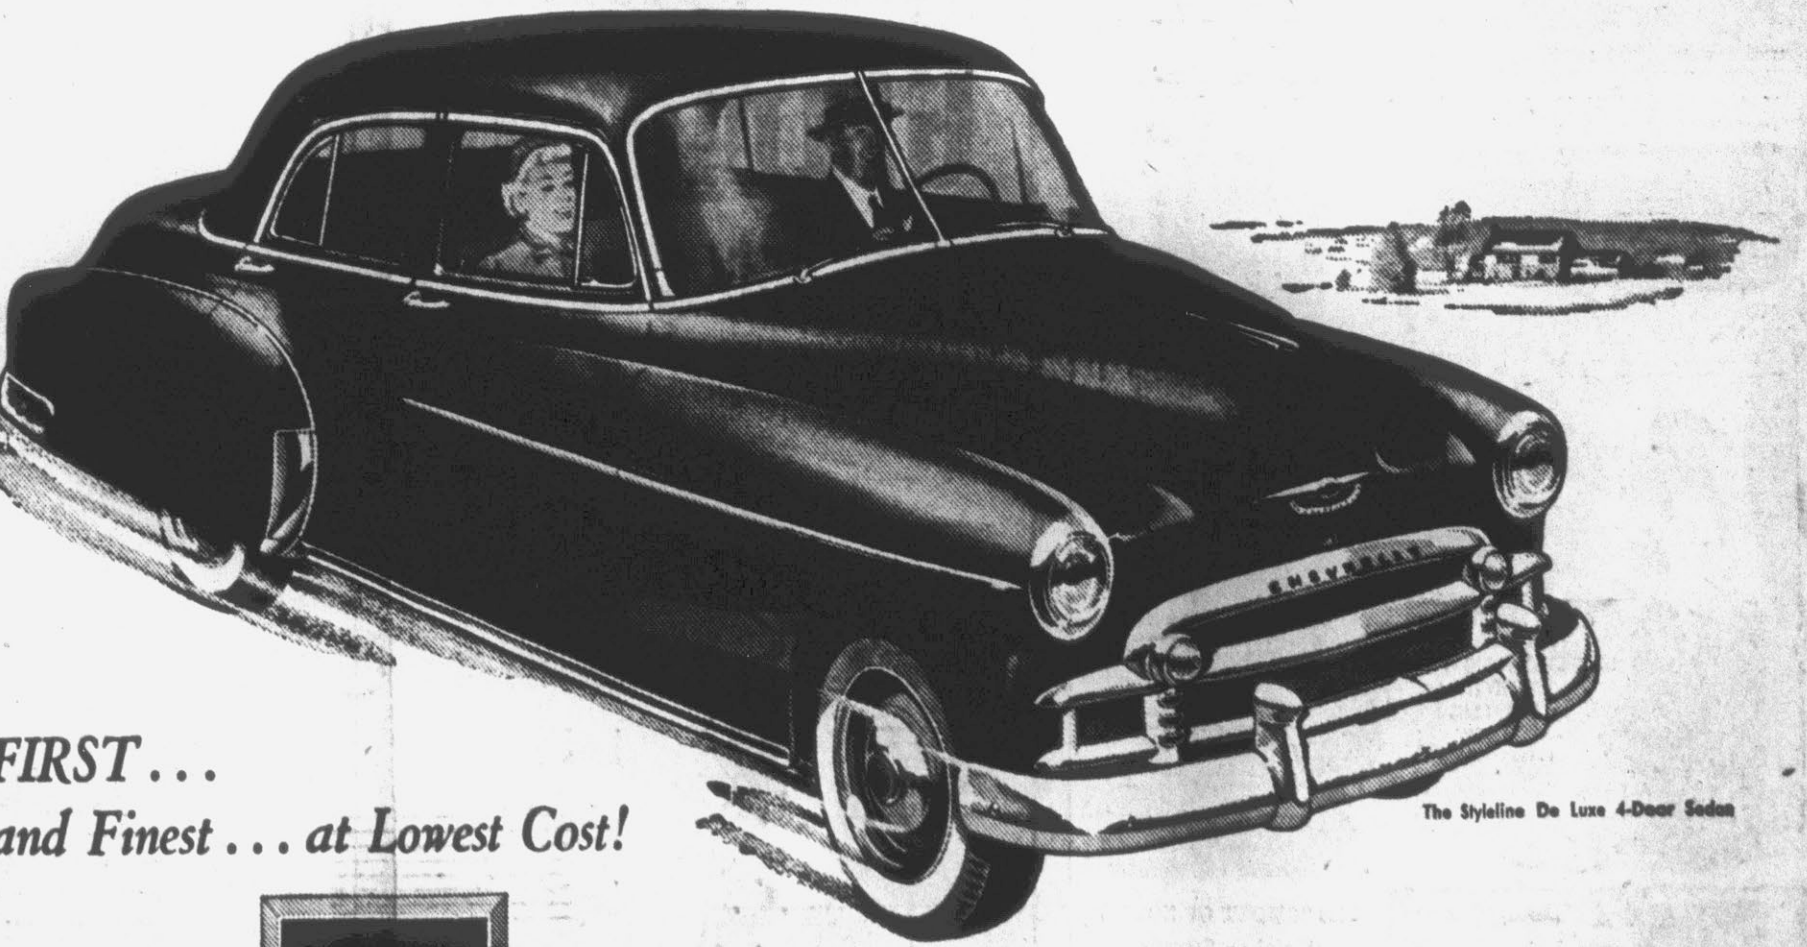

"With you here to guard her?" he asked. "Not to mention the rest of us?"

Zachary colored, biting his lips.

"But it is a ruse," he insisted. "While they engage us in palaver, others will creep up to attack us!"

Again, a sardonic smile relaxed White Bear's close-set mouth for just an instant. It would require a formidable force to do anything like that, and plainly he placed no credence in the possibility of such a thing. His answer was a gesture.

"Our guards will watch for them," he instructed. "If there is any such attack, these two die instantly. But now we will hear them. In my lodge," he added ceremoniously, and bowed to Valse and de Polo with a slight inclination of the head. Plainly, Zachary's nervousness at the sight of them had made him more determined to know what they had to say.

When the war drums had ceased their muttering, the dancing had stopped as well. De Polo promptly dismounted, and Valse followed his example. De Polo spoke warningly.

"It will be well to keep a watch on him," he said, indicating Zachary. "Yesterday, many of us were trying him in town, and he shot one man and escaped. He might try it again."

"He will have a hard time here," White Bear grunted, but there was a warning in the words, and Valse saw Zachary's face go a little pale, so that the vermilion paint which had been daubed across it showed garish by contrast. Certain of the more seasoned warriors moved up a little closer, and now they were watchful of Zachary as of these other white men.

Valse could find it in his heart to feel a little sorry for Zachary in that moment. He was thinking again of the days when they had played together as boys, and of how widely their trails had forked. This was a tight spot for a man to be in, and there was little likelihood of Zachary's escaping it. Moreover, White Bear and the others were ready enough to listen to accusations against Zachary, remembering that he had made promises which had proved false in the case of Lone Buffalo.

They filed into White Bear's big lodge, along with about a dozen of the chiefs, and took their places in the circle. No attempts had been made to disarm them, and that was a favorable sign. The light in here was doubly murky. White Bear spoke sharply.

"What is it that you have to tell us?"

"It is a long story," de Polo explained, and he was the cool, suave gambler again, perfectly collected and at ease. "I must tell you first of this man and how he is concerned in it, so that you can understand." He nodded toward Valse.

"They're stalling for time," Zachary cut in. "I tell you, it's a trick."

"None the less, we shall hear of a friend?" White Bear demanded. And he dismissed this, at least for the time. "Tell on," he said. (To be continued)

Scout And Cub Banquets Combined In Single Event

Scout officials of the Pitt district announced today the Boy Scout Father-Son banquet and the Cub Scout-Parent banquet will be combined into a single gala event this year in the celebration of Boy Scout Week February 6 to February 11.

Lester Turnage, chairman of the banquet committee, said this morning approximately 250 scouts, cubs and their parents are expected to attend the banquet which will be held in the dining hall at East Carolina Teachers College Thursday night, February 9 at 7 o'clock.

"We urge everyone who is going to the banquet to have his money in by Tuesday, February 7," Turnage said. "If you don't have your name and money turned in to a member of the banquet committee or a scoutmaster by Tuesday at noon, you won't be able to get a ticket to the banquet."

Wyatt Brown, chairman of the Pitt district, will preside at the annual meeting.

Although the complete program has not yet been announced for the banquet, Turnage said most of the program will be conducted by boys of the scout troops of the district. Even of the 13 troops in the districts have indicated they will present skits dealing with the history of the scouting movement and scout skills, Turnage said.

The Boy Scout week activities will officially begin in Pitt County Sunday when the Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts of the district attend the

Hold Negro Man On Rape Charge

Police are holding in jail Willie June Clark, 29-year-old Negro, on the charge of assaulting with a deadly weapon (a knife) Eddie Mae Station, 22-year-old Negro woman, and attempting to rape her at her home, 1500 Pitt Street, yesterday afternoon.

Police quoted the woman as saying that Clark and another man, whose name she did not know, visited at her home yesterday; that after some of the company left, Clark threatened to rape her and attacked her with a knife. She said she repelled Clark's attack and struck him with a stove poker.

Her assailant, she told police, cut her on a hand and hip. A police officer who investigated the case said the woman had been handled "roughly." She was treated at a Negro physician's office for her wounds.

Police are continuing their investigation.

Clark will be given a hearing in Police Court Friday morning.

Little Variation

The high temperature reading in Greenville yesterday was 67 degrees, with a low of 57 reported. A year ago yesterday, the highest temperature was 45 degrees and a low of 25.

Official cross country weather records for the past 24 hours:

Station	High	Low
Wilmington	52	61
New York	38	33
San Antonio	48	45
Detroit	30	23
Denver	32	10
Evanville	34	33
Memphis	40	38

January Losses To Fire Reduced

Fire Chief George Gardner released his monthly building and fire reports this morning.

During the month of January, the Greenville Fire Department answered a total of six box alarms in the city, two false alarms and eleven telephone calls. In December the firemen answered nearly 20 box calls in addition to numerous telephone calls.

One out of town call was made by the Greenville Fire Department during January, that being to Ayrden when the Princess theatre burned.

Firemen burned off 26 lots in the city during January, the Chief stated.

Fire losses in Greenville for January were low, as compared with the loss in December which went over the $100,000 mark as the result of a fire that destroyed the McGowan warehouse and damaged another building.

Only $3,046.92 of damages were filed with the department for the entire month of January, the Chief's report stated.

Twenty-five dwelling permits, valued at $183,700, were issued for the past month.

Only one commercial permit which was valued at $4,000, was issued, and four repair permits were handled through the local department.

World Scared . . .

(Continued from page one) and repeated it yesterday, that from our viewpoint a major shooting war between the blocs isn't likely in the near future, although anything could happen in these perilous days. However, that doesn't take care of the distant future.

Will there come a time when Communism and Democracy must line up on the battlefields of an armed aggression?

Let's look at the thing squarely. Bolshevism long ago announced that it was out to Communize the world by revolution. It has gone far towards achieving its ambition, with the result that the Democracies have organized against it. The world is divided into two camps.

Now the bulk of the strength in all categories—including economic and industrial power—at present lies with the western nations. There has been no indication that they have any intention of declaring a shoot-headed by Russia. And the Soviet Union would look twice before launching a shooting war with the balance of power against war.

So we must conclude that, barring some unforeseen development, a hot strength of the two blocs has been at least equalized, that is, before Russia has made her strength equal to that of the "capitalistic" nations. In this connection we shouldn't overlook the statement yesterday by Secretary of the Air Force Stuart Symington in a speech at Baylor University, Waco, Texas. He said Communist dictators have "the world's largest ground army, air force and undersea fleet," and warned that Russia is capable of launching a surprise atomic attack on any part of the United States.

Moonshining Is Economic Factor

Washington, Feb. 2—(AP)—Most Georgia moonshiners are church men—a lot of them are landowners. That's what Rep. Preston (D-Ga.) told a House appropriations subcommittee in testimony made public today.

Preston testified there is no need for more probation officers in Georgia.

He said he knew that liquor violators "are not in the main criminals." Henry P. Chandler, director of the administrative office of United States Courts, who was before the committee at the same time, agreed.

Preston added: "They are people who for economic reasons usually resort to that proposition to get ready cash when adversity overtakes them that is what they resort to."

"If he goes before the judge and pleads guilty—he knows he is guilty and enters a plea of nolo contendere and in almost every case, unless he is a repeater, he is given a sentence which is suspended and a stiff fine."

"There is little that the probation officer could do there. That fellow does not need to be rehabilitated in that respect. Most of them are church men. A lot of them are landowners. There is little that can be done for them because they do not need special help."

Truman Names NLRB Member

Washington, Feb. 2—(AP)—President Truman today announced he is appointing Paul L. Styles as a member of the National Relations board.

Styles, now a regional director at Atlanta, succeeds J. Copeland Gray, whom Mr. Truman would not reappoint.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Feb. 2—(AP)—A mid-morning burst of demand for automobile and radio-television issues strengthened the whole stock market today. Gains for favored shares ran to around 2 points. Run-of-the-mill issues improved fractionally but a handful were unable to pull out of a mild early decline.

Hog Market

Raleigh, Feb. 2—(AP)—(NCDA)—Hog prices steady today; $16.00 at Kinston, Rocky Mount, Washington, Wilson, Goldsboro, Greenville and Tarboro. Richmond steady at $16.50.

Poultry and Eggs

Raleigh, Feb. 2—(AP)—(NCDA)—Fryers and broilers steady today at 2; eggs steady, a large 34.

Men and Planes . . .

(Continued From Page One) dian search now in its seventh day, said that because of weather conditions only 10 planes would take off here today.

Pilots practiced GCA (Ground Controlled Approach) landings yesterday.

Costello said the signal was heard about 7:30 p.m. Yukon time (11:30 p.m. EST). It consisted of a series of vvv's and was picked up on the 500 kilocycle distress band.

A similar signal reported last night resulted in a concentration of planes in the Smith River area, about 300 miles southeast of Whitehorse. Returning pilots reported no success.

Students, Parents And Teachers Meet At School Tonight

The Student-Parent-Teacher council of Greenville high school will meet tonight at 8 o'clock in the high school library.

The program will feature a movie, "You and Your Family," and will be followed by a discussion on family relationships, led by the Rev. Leonard W. Topping.

At the business session to be conducted after the showing of the movie, a nominating committee will be appointed to select candidates for officers of the group next year.

The group meets four times a year, with the last meeting coming in March.

The Rev. J. A. Neilson, president, will preside over the meeting.

Police Arrest Two On Liquor Charges

Greenville police yesterday arrested James Edward Whitaker, 41-year-old white man, on the charge of possession of non-tax paid whiskey. Police also arrested Jasper Lee Taylor, 32, and charged him with illegal possession of non-tax paid whiskey and transporting.

They will be given a hearing in Police Court Friday morning.

WELL DEVELOPED TOBACCO PLANT FROM FALKLAND

Frank Parker, farmer of the Falkland community, brought into the Daily Reflector office today a well grown tobacco plant found by a Negro tenant on the Hugh Smith farm. The plant was found near one of last year's plant beds. Some of the leaves were more than five inches long.

WALLACES ADOPT DAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Wallace have adopted a little girl, three and a half years old, Marie Anne Wallace. The Wallaces live at 918 14th Street Extension. Mrs. Wallace is well known in Eastern Carolina as Marie Smith, talented dancer and director of Marie's School of the Dance.

Commissioners Ask Increased Road Bond Issue

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 2—(AP)—The Highway Commission today asked that the state's next sale of rural road bonds be $75,000,000 instead of $50,000,000.

The commission decided to ask the Governor and council of state to approve the $75,000,000 sale at the request of State Treasurer.

Dr. Henry W. Jordan, commission chairman, told the commission today that he would not be wise for the state to hold bond sales too often.

Jordan said he thought the $75,000,000 sale would provide sufficient funds to carry on the $200,000,000 rural road program for the remainder of 1950.
