Industry Prepares To Tighten Belts

Railroads And Steel Companies Rush To Realign Plans As Coal Peace Talks Collapse; Small Schools Begin To Feel Coal Scarcity

Pittsburgh, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Industry tightened its belt today as soft coal peace talks collapsed in Washington.

More steel companies announced cutbacks.

The nation's railroads rushed to juggle train schedules. Hundreds of runs must be cancelled under an Interstate Commerce Commission ruling before 11:59 p.m. (local time) Friday.

These were some of the developments:

1. Inland Steel Company at Chicago said its coal supplies "have dwindled to the critical point." It announced the shutdown of a second blast furnace.

2. Republic Steel Corporation said it will close one of its Youngstown (Ohio) district blast furnaces immediately. The firm previously had announced shutting down two furnaces in Cleveland.

3. The coal shortage started to hit small schools. At Delphi, Ind., which has a population of about 2,500, schools were closed.

Industries which use coal kept a close watch on developments. In Detroit, General Motors Corporation cancelled all plans for Saturday work and any scheduled overtime because of what it called "the emergency in the coal situation."

Ford Motor Company reported no change in its overtime plans but a spokesman said "we are keeping a day to day watch on the situation."

The railroad industry didn't have to watch the situation. It knew it faced a crisis. A Pennsylvania Railway spokesman said his road had "about 11 days' supply of coal on hand."

The Interstate Commerce Commission ordered that railroads make 25 per cent cut in their coal-burning freight services. And they were told to cut coal-burning passenger services to 75 per cent.

A coal operator who asked that his name not be used said he believed further cuts in industry-stocked coal would materialize almost immediately because there's no sign of immediate peace in the drawn-out dispute.

Miners in the fields were generally quiet. Last night rumors circulated early in the evening that peace was imminent. Some newspaper offices reported many calls from Washington for hours, the calls slacked off.

The miners read of the collapse of negotiations in their morning newspapers or heard the news over their radios. They had no immediate comment.

Although it was generally quiet in the coal fields, upwards of 100 pickets were reported last night to have swept down on the Holden, W. Va., operation of the Island Creek Coal Company and attacked a division superintendent.

A company spokesman said Nick Camica, 40, was slugged by several men as he stood outside the company's office door. He was released from a hospital after treatment for cuts and abrasions.

FBI Joins Hunt For Two Robbers

Phoenix, Ariz., Feb. 9.—(AP)—Police stepped up their search today for two men who robbed the Bank of Douglas and escaped with $11,250 yesterday.

Every available law enforcement officer in the state, including agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, has been marshalled for the hunt.

Taxing Big Fortunes

What's Behind The Administration's New Estate And Gift Tax Proposal; Trust Systems; Fairness; Estate Tax Rates; Putting Burden On Other Taxpayers

By CHARLES MOLONY

Washington, Feb. 9.—(AP)—The government collects less tax money from large fortunes which are given away than it does from fortunes which are inherited.

So a man with a lot of money can save his heirs tax payments by giving them the money before he dies.

The Truman administration wants to make it cost about the same in taxes, no matter which way you do it.

It also wants to break up a system by which taxes on large estates are saved for a generation or two by setting up "trusts" to pass the estates along.

That's what is behind the administration's new estate and gift tax proposal, and the desire to get an extra $400,000,000 in taxes out of the transfers of wealth.

Under the trust system, a man may leave his estate "in trust" to his wife for her life (which means she gets the income while she lives) and then have the estate divided among their children.

Or he can stretch it out another generation—by leaving the property "in trust" to the wife and then the children for their respective life-

Republicans Talk Forcing Test On Civil Right Bills

Taft Says If Demos Fail Bring Up FEPC Bill, GOP Will Take Action

Washington, Feb. 9.—(AP)—Prodded from within their own ranks, Republican leaders laid plans today to force a Senate showdown on civil rights bills.

Senator Taft of Ohio, chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee, told a reporter that if the Democrats don't move to bring up a Fair Employment Practices Commission (FEPC) bill within two weeks "Republicans will press for it."

Taft's statement came after Senators Lodge (R-Mass.) and Ives (R-N.Y.) said in separate interviews they will demand action by their party to bolster what both have labeled as a weak-kneed endorsement of civil rights bills in this week's GOP policy declaration.

"We will get a chance to vote on this question and I'm hoping that the Republicans will show they are for action, not just talk, about civil rights," Ives said.

The question probably will come before the Senate on a motion to take up the FEPC bill, which would ban job discrimination on grounds of race or religion. Any move to take up FEPC is certain to touch off a filibuster by Southern Democrats.

The quickest way to break this filibuster would be for at least 64 senators to vote to curb debate. Otherwise, the score of Dixie opponents could keep the Senate tied up until the filibusters wear themselves out.

Democratic lieutenants said their checks indicate they probably can rally only from 55 to 60 votes for the debate curb. If they get as many as 60, they may order continuing Senate sessions in an effort to break a filibuster.

But the Democrats want to rely on a House-approved displaced persons bill before they plunge into the civil rights matter. That could delay the civil rights showdown until next month. There is a gentlemen's agreement not to take up controversial bills in the Senate for a while because so many members of both parties had scheduled Lincoln Day and Jefferson-Jackson Day speeches.

Find No Trace Of Missing Man

Smithfield, N. C. Feb. 9.—(AP)—No trace has been found of 69-year-old Adam Whitley, missing since Tuesday afternoon.

The aged man, father of State Senator Adam Whitley, Jr., was last seen when he left his home to take a customary walk. His wife notified authorities when he failed to return for dinner.

More than 40 searchers have combed the woods and dragged waters near his house in an effort to find him.

Asserts Russia Leading U. S. In Aircraft Output

Washington, Feb. 9.—(AP)—An American Aviation expert said today Russia is ahead of the United States both in aircraft production and in the number of military planes it has in service.

However, said John F. Victory, executive secretary of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics (NACA), this country isn't disturbed by the situation because it tells that it has the better planes.

"We think we still have supremacy in the air," he said, "because of the superior performance and military effectiveness of our aircraft."

Victory said in a prepared speech that neither the United States nor Russia has a practical military plane of super-sonic speed. U. S. planes can go faster than sound now only when unarmed, he said, adding:

"We see ourselves in the position of a runner in a race who knows he is being hand pressed."

Victory, first employee of the NACA when it was founded in 1915 as the nation's chief agency for basic air research, addressed the Cosmopolitan club.

He said the atomic bomb "is solely an offensive weapon—of no value without a means of delivering it to its target."

"So," he added, "air power becomes the key to the problem of preserving our own security as well as preserving world peace."

White Tape

New Delhi, India, Feb. 9.—(AP)—There will be no more red tape in the government of India.

Red tape—of the variety used to tie up letter files—is being replaced with white tape. Officials explain red is a British imperial color and has no place here now that India is a republic.

Shopping Eve A Success; Big Crowd In Stores

More Dollar Day Buyers In Greenville Than Anticipated; Heavy Shopping

Greenville maintained its prestige as the shopping center of Eastern North Carolina today—Dollar Day—sponsored by the Merchants Association.

Cars were here from scores of Eastern Carolina towns. Shoppers were here from numerous counties.

The one-day retail merchandising event was the best held here since the war, a Merchants Association official declared.

City officials discontinued use of the parking meters for Dollar Day for the benefit of shoppers. From all directions a steady procession of cars headed toward Greenville where the stores opened at 9 a.m. Police kept traffic lanes open.

Dollar Day in Greenville today had many features of a holiday event. The crowds swarming into stores when they opened at 9 o'clock were good natured and friendly.

Many stores had employed extra clerks to wait on the trade. Merchandise featured as bargains had price tags on it and shoppers were thus enabled to help to wait on themselves.

Observing newspapermen agreed that today's Dollar Day was one of the best held in Greenville in a long time. It was a typical holiday event.

This was particularly evident as noon approached and shoppers took time out to each lunch. They crowded the eating places. The crowds here for Dollar Day were very much larger than expected, but the restaurants and cafes and other places had provided for the occasion with extra food supplies and extra help.

Dollar Day bargains were here in plenty today, if the emerging from stores of hundreds of shoppers laden with packages is a reliable criterion, a banker who did not want his name used stated.

Weatherman Did His Part, Too

The weatherman had Greenville's Dollar Day in mind when he made last night's prediction from Raleigh. "Cloudy and fairly mild in Eastern North Carolina tomorrow" was the forecast and that was enough to allow the merchants to sit back and relax. And with this morning's crowds queuing up outside each store in town, that prediction seemed to be enough to bring a large portion of the buying public downtown.

Two years ago the event was snowed out the day the original schedule called for. Spokesmen for the Merchants Association said the snow was hip deep on the scheduled day but a postponement brought the crowds into town on the appointed day.

The sky was still overcast at noon today but an hour later the sun came out, bidding fair to compete with the beaming faces of the shop owners as they handled the largest Dollar Day crowds on record.

Takes New Post

Pictured above is Miss Verna Belle Lowery, Pitt County's assistant home demonstration agent, who is leaving March 1 to become Home Demonstration agent for New Hanover County. Earlier this week the county commissioners expressed "deep regret" over her resignation.

These reports, although based on unofficial information, appear to be consistent with the theory that Russia secretly acquired North Korea leases similar to the Port Arthur lease in Manchuria when North Korean premier Kim Il Sung visited Moscow last March.

Moscow newspapers reported three parts of that agreement. One provided barrier trade, another provided that Russia would send technicians to North Korea and the third provided that Russia would lend the North Koreans 210,000,000 rubles (about $40,000,000).

South Koreans assume the agreement also contained a military section. It is known here that Russia has provided North Korea with some military equipment, including tanks and a few airplanes for the army and that Russian officers help train and advise it.

She accepted the position as Assistant Home Agent in Pitt County July 1946, and has worked with the Home Demonstration club program since that time. She received her A.B. degree from East Carolina Teachers College and after graduation taught Vocational Home Economics in Craven county 5 years and in Martin county 2 years. While teaching in Williamson High School she served as critic teacher for East Carolina Teachers College having under her supervision Home Economics student teachers.

During the time Miss Lowery has been in Pitt County as Assistant Agent she has assisted Home Demonstration clubs and civic clubs of the county with their recreational programs at various and special meetings; she is an active member of the Greenville chapter of East Carolina Teachers College Alumni Association; and an active member of the Greenville Business and Professional Woman's Club.

She is the daughter of Mrs. J. R. Lowery and the late Mr. Lowery of Trenton, North Carolina.

Miss Langley said Miss Lowery's successor had not been named but was in hopes this information could be released very soon.

Bound Over For April Term By Coroner's Jury

George C. Dunn, Greene county native, was bound over to the April term of Superior court by a Pitt county coroner's jury last night in the death of Lewis Driver, who died as a result of a head injury alleged to have been inflicted by Dunn.

Dunn was placed under $1,000 bond, which he posted and was released.

According to the testimony brought out in the inquest, the two men were fighting when Driver fell, and struck his head on the pavement. He was taken to his home Saturday afternoon and was brought to Pitt General Hospital Sunday where he died later.

Dunn was taken into custody Monday night by members of the Greene county sheriff's department and transferred to Greenville law officers.

Pitt county coroner Griffin H. Rouse presided over the inquest.

Pledges Balance Of Money Needed

Winston-Salem, N. C., Feb. 9.—(AP) Charles H. Babcock, Winston-Salem businessman and philanthropist, said this morning the proposal to move Wake Forest College to Winston-Salem now hinges entirely on the success of the state-wide $2,300,000 campaign.

Babcock confirmed the statement made at Wake Forest yesterday by Federal Judge Johnson J. Hayes that "if Judge (Humbert) Olive and his committee will raise the rest of that $2,300,000, I (Babcock) and my associates will raise the balance of the money, if necessary, to build that campus."

Being Urged To Run For Senate

Winston-Salem, N.C., Feb. 9.—(AP)—Mayor Marshall Kurfess says he is being urged to enter the May 27 primary against Clyde R. Hoy.

Kurfess said last night that he had been "getting telegrams and wires from people all over the state" commenting favorably on the possibility of his running in the race for U. S. Senate.

"I will have no definite announcement to make before the Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner in Washington, Feb. 18," the mayor asserted. He plans to attend the dinner.

Triplets Start New House Hunt

Burlington, Vt., Feb. 9.—(AP)—The second set of triplets born in less than four years to Mrs. George Hutchby, 33, wife of a planning engineer, created a family housing problem today.

The new arrivals—two girls and a boy—increased to eight the number of children in the family.

The multiple births sent the father house hunting. The family now lives in a four room apartment.

Red North Korea Said Leasing Its Ports To Russia

Large Scale Harbor Construction Reported; Former Jap Base Occupied

Soul, Feb. 9.—(AP)—A Korean government spokesman asserted today that Russia has leased port areas on the east coast of Communist North Korea.

The office of public information said large scale harbor construction was in progress at Wonsan, Chungjin and Sungjin.

The statement added "Many Soviet naval officers and soldiers are stationed at these harbors."

The announcement recalled that Russia claimed she had withdrawn her occupation forces from North Korea by Christmas of 1948.

Unofficial reports, some from confidential sources, have reached South Korea that the Russian navy has taken over a former Japanese naval air base near Wonsan. Ship repair facilities are said to be under construction there. A nearby oil refinery may be processing crude oil from Russian controlled Sakhalin island for the Soviet navy.

Koreans are said to be barred from both Wonsan and Chungjin. Heavy shipping activity was reported at Najin and Ungjin, both well up the coast on the Japan sea and not far from Russia's Siberian port of Vladivostok.

These reports, although based on unofficial information, appear to be consistent with the theory that Russia secretly acquired North Korea leases similar to the Port Arthur lease in Manchuria when North Korean premier Kim Il Sung visited Moscow last March.

Moscow newspapers reported three parts of that agreement. One provided barrier trade, another provided that Russia would send technicians to North Korea and the third provided that Russia would lend the North Koreans 210,000,000 rubles (about $40,000,000).

South Koreans assume the agreement also contained a military section. It is known here that Russia has provided North Korea with some military equipment, including tanks and a few airplanes for the army and that Russian officers help train and advise it.

Hitler's Jugend, Gestapo Return

Berlin, Feb. 9.—(AP)—East Germany is to have its regimented youth and all-hooverful gestapo, just like in the days of Hitler.

With an unquestioning raise of hands the Communist-controlled Volkskammer (people chamber) yesterday passed two laws which appear to roll the calendar back to 1933.

One bill creates a new Ministry of State Security to direct a special secret police force outside the Ministry of Interior. This political force is to have unlimited authority to arrest and imprison any suspected "enemy agents, spies and saboteurs."

The other law virtually forces some 3,000,000 youth in the Soviet zone of Germany to become members of the FDJ—the Free German Youth. They must join if they want to participate in even the most ordinary every-day activities, including sports, certain school work and the choice of profession.

By the language of the law the Free German Youth becomes a potential gigantic home spying ring much like the Hitler Jugend in which boys and girls were encouraged to betray even their parents if they were anti-Nazi.

There was nothing but acclaim and approval in the rubber stamp People's Chamber, the legislative body for the Russian-backed regime, after Deputy Prime Minister Walter Ulbricht said the Youth organization would have as its "sacred duty" the "deepening of Soviet-German friendship and anti-Americanism."

Appointments Revealed To C-Of-C Committees

Members of the finance committee and program and public relations committee of the Greenville chamber of commerce appointed this week were announced today by officials of the organization.

The appointments were made at a meeting of the executive committee called by president Van C. Fleming, Jr. Other members of the executive committee are Joe M. Taft, Tom Webb, J. W. Overton, J. B. Webb, C. E. Bissette, and F. Badger Johnson.

Appointed to the finance committee were Chairman J. W. Overton, A. R. Barrett, Larry Brown L. S. Ficklen and Ercel Webb. Appointed to the program and public relations committee were Chairman F. Badger Johnson, G. E. Blair, A. Harter Campbell, C. W. Howard, Jr., Dr. C. F. Irons, James T. Keel, C. McBrayer, E. E. Rawl, R. Harold Staston, F. Harding Sugg, and David J. Whitchard.

Manager W. T. Kyser said other standing committees of the chamber of commerce will be appointed at the board of directors meeting which is scheduled for February 22. He said the finance committee is working out a budget for the fiscal year to be presented to the directors at their next meeting, and the program and public relations committee is outlining the program for the year for the approval of the board. Efforts already are being made, Kyser said, to secure a speaker for the annual meeting of the Greenville chamber of commerce which is to be held later in the year.

Blanket Of Snow In Northern Area

A fresh blanket of snow covered area in the northern Great Lakes region today but there was no severe wintry weather in that section or in other parts of the country.

The mercury was above the seasonal normal over most of the nation, the Weather Bureau reported. Temperatures over the northeastern states moderated after yesterday's sub-zero readings and there were no severe cold spots.

Fact-Finders End Hearing In Coal Dispute; Start Report

Washington, Feb. 9.—(AP)—President Truman's fact-finding board ended its hearing on the coal dispute today and went to work on a report to the White House.

Once the President gets the report he can ask Attorney General McGrath to seek a court order for the 370,000 striking miners to go back to work.

The board cut off its hearings with an announcement by chairman David L. Cole that the board's observations during fruitless direct bargaining negotiations yesterday had given it needed information on the issues.

John L. Lewis, leader of the miners, and the coal operators talked issues for nearly eight hours yesterday under prodding from the board. But they couldn't get to an agreement.

The board is under instructions to report to Mr. Truman by Monday at the latest.

Cole said he thought the board-sponsored bargaining sessions would be helpful to the union and the operators in eventually reaching a contract.

"The general atmosphere is considerably cleared," he said.

He said that the board had "learned many interesting and cogent facts and circumstances about the dispute." He added:

"The issues on which the parties are deadlocked now are crystallized and the present positions on these issues are considerably clarified."

Cole said "the posture" in which the negotiations left the dispute was "not too unfavorable."

"We prefer to leave them in that position," he said.

He never did say just what were the points of difference or what seemed to be the big snag in reaching an agreement.

The parties "approached agreement" on several issues in yesterday's talks, he said. But he would not indicate which issues these were or which ones caused the final collapse.

With almost no coal being produced, the pinch was tightening over the country.

Lewis, during yesterday's stormy session of the inquiry board, had declared a settlement "possible" in a few hours if genuine bargaining were undertaken. But coal operators were not hopeful that agreement could be reached in "the few hours that we have." The operators declared Lewis has refused to specify his demands and has been adamant on the clause by which miners are bound to work only when "willing and able."

This, they told the board of inquiry, amounts to a refusal by UMW to guarantee performance of any contract it may sign.

County's NCEA Stages Meeting

Approximately 175 Pitt Teachers At Quarterly Event

Approximately 175 teachers of the Pitt county school system gathered last night at the Flanagan building on the East Carolina campus for the quarterly meeting of the county chapter of the North Carolina Educational Association.

President Fodie H. Hodges, principal of the Belvoir school, presided at the meeting.

Following the general session of the meeting, Miss Anne Schoenher, remedial reading teacher of the Greenville schools, spoke to the elementary teachers, and Professor Frank G. Fuller, guidance counselor and member of the East Carolina faculty, addressed the high school teachers.

Miss Schoenher, in her talk on "Ways of Preventing and Correcting Reading Difficulties," told the elementary teachers, "Reading is reading only so long as we obtain meaning from the printed page."

She cited specific cases and general problems encountered by elementary teachers in teaching reading, and offered corrective measures that teachers may use in classrooms. Miss Schoenher pointed out that reading is an individual situation with each child, and must be handled as such by the teachers.

Professor Fuller, speaking on "The Role of the High School Teacher in Guidance," stressed the importance of child security in the classroom and declared the subject matter and pattern of work of the classroom must be suited to the child's ability. He said it is the teacher's responsibility to recognize, analyze and discuss the student's problems, and seek to develop each student.

Commenting on the meeting, County Superintendent D. H. Conroy said "All the teachers seemed very much interested in the topics discussed, and seemed to enjoy it very much."

Miss Schoenher was introduced at the meeting by Miss Anne Lee Jones, elementary school supervisor of the county schools, and Professor Fuller was introduced by L. V. Goddard.

Anti-Trust Suit Results In Order Of Separation

New York, Feb. 9.—(AP)—A 12-year-old anti-trust suit resulted in a federal court final decree ordering major film companies to discontinue their theaters from movie-distribution operations.

The first were given three years to comply with the order, which also prohibits distributors from trying to fix theater admission prices.

The order, handed down yesterday, said plans for the operation of theaters and distribution facilities must be submitted within six months.

The Justice Department was authorized to look into the companies' books at any time to make sure they comply with the decree.

Distributors named in the order were Loew's Inc. (MG-M), Warner Brothers Pictures, Inc., Warner Brothers Pictures Distributing Corp., and 20th Century Fox Film Corporation.

Exhibitors named were Loew's, Warner Brothers Pictures, 20th Century and Warner Brothers Circuit Management Corp., and the National Theaters Corp.

General Clay's Book

Some Of The Highlights In An Account Of America's Post-War Decisions In Germany And Berlin; Clay Says U. S. Almost Withdrew From Berlin

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

General Lucius D. Clay, former military governor of the American zone in Germany, discloses in his book "Decision in Germany" (Doubleday) that there was a time during the Russian blockade of Berlin when serious consideration was given in Washington to withdrawal in face of the Soviet pressure.

My colleague Wes Gallagher, chief of bureau for the AP in Berlin and one of the best informed observers I know, in commenting on this revelation points out that "western resistance to the Soviet blockade of Berlin turned out to be one of the chief victories in the east-west cold war." Of the book as a whole Gallagher gives this expert opinion:

"The General's account of his four years as deputy and then military governor of Germany is a behind-the-scenes picture of four years of international negotiation. It is by far the most authoritative book on post-war Germany yet published, if for

Girl Scout News

Dear Scouts: We have been visiting around recently and have found some very interesting things that we think you will enjoy hearing.

Eleven girls from the senior troop spent January 28 at Camp Hardee. The day was rather chilly, so the first thing on the program was to build a big fire in the lodge. Then everybody went for a long hike down the river and back by the Scout mail box. Then the girls ate their "nose bag" lunches around the open fire and everything tasted so good.

The afternoon was spent exploring the camp site and enjoying a lively game of softball. The girls really used resourcefulness when they started to come back to Greenville. The truck was made very comfortable by improvising a top and sides for the body of the truck from army blankets. The trip back was very comfortable, despite the cold wind.

We looked in on troop 8 the other afternoon. They had a very knotty problem to solve, but everything seemed to straighten out beautifully when Bill Powell from E. C. T. C. arrived to teach them how to whip the ends of their ropes and tie knots that stay. When the meeting was over each Scout seemed to have learned how to tackle the knotty problem alone.

This same troop 8 spent one afternoon recently skating at Guy Smith stadium. They had a good time and lots of exercise before being served cold drinks. It would be fun for other troops to go skating.

Troops 1 and 3 are having a mighty good time working on their gait bags. Some of them have visited the local churches to see the beautiful stained glass windows in them. They are also doing some reading about how the windows are made, and the artists who do the work. Our guess is that they will have a much keener appreciation of stained glass windows after they finish their bags.

Valentine is just around the corner and we have heard that some troops have happy times in store for them.

Scoutingly, Susie Scout and Katie Kamper

expects of the entire membership. Reports from all committees revealed interesting and varied amounts of progress being made each month.

Upon adjournment a cake and pie sale was conducted making it possible for members to attend the morning meeting and yet have a delicious luncheon upon reaching home.

Takes Time For 'Fence-Mending'

Washington, Feb. 9—Although Senator Frank P. Graham is making no fuss about the opposition of former Senator Robert R. Reynolds, in the Democratic primary, Graham is doing a little fence mending this week anyhow.

The junior North Carolina senator is spending the entire week in the state on a series of speaking engagements.

Wednesday he will be in Wake Forest to speak before the Young Democratic Club. Thursday he will address the YDC in Wilmington. Friday Graham will address the joint meeting of Rotary and Kiwanis at St. Pauls and Saturday he will again appear before a YDC group in Greensboro.

Senator Graham's office in Washington said the junior senator would be back in Washington about the first of next week.

Won Their Point But Not Certain

Singapore — (AP)—St. Margaret school girls won a debate by insisting honesty is not the best policy—but they are not sure they were right.

While they were arguing the point with the boys from St. Andrew's school, thieves sneaked into a nearby room where their belongings were hanging and made off with $180 in cash and much personal property.

The boys, who didn't debate as well, perhaps, didn't lose a thing.

Aged 69, Boasts 2 Sets Of Twins

Evington, Va., Feb. 9—(AP)—It really is something to have four children in two years. Especially, I suppose, for a man of my age.

That was 69-year-old Luther R. Moses speaking. And the retired local merchant beamed proudly.

Then he pointed to two sets of twins — Lawrence Randolph and Luther Robert, Jr., one year old, and Linda Nell and Grenda Gayle, two weeks old.

"Why, it was only a little more than two years ago that I went visiting with friends down in Blanche N. C. There I met Odell."

He pointed again to Odell, his attractive 35-year old wife. January sure has been our big month," he mused. "Just look."

He began to count off the events: January, 1915—Odell was born. January 1948—he and Odell were married.

January, 1949—the boy twins arrived. January 1950—the girl twins were born.

"I suppose it is somewhat of a rarity," Moses observed. "I suppose a person could almost call it a curiosity."

Blaze Virtually Destroys Girls' Living Quarters

Burlington, N. C., Feb. 9—(AP)—A $150,000 fire virtually destroyed a girls' dormitory yesterday at Falmers Memorial Institute at Sedalia.

All 210 students and the faculty of the Negro institution had gone to Greensboro to view the movie "Pinksie." The dormitory contained 50 rooms and housed 100 girls. The laundry and infirmary also were quartered in the structure.

Firemen from four towns battled the blaze more than two hours. No one was injured.

Officials of the school, between Burlington and Greensboro, said burned-out students would be accommodated in campus buildings and that there would be no interruption of school routine.

Six-Man Rescue Team Goes North

Whitehorse, Y.T., Feb. 9.—(AP)—A six-man Canadian army rescue team planned a trip up a treeless Yukon mountain today to rescue 10 occupants of a crashed C-47 search plane.

The Canadians spent the night beside two snow wreaths several thousand feet below the stranded crash victims.

Three of the five U.S. Air Force men aboard the plane suffered leg and arm fractures when the C-47 crashed Tuesday during its search for a C-54 which vanished Jan. 26 with 44 persons aboard. None of the five Canadian soldiers aboard was injured.

Another American search plane spotted the C-47 yesterday on the snow-covered mountainside 84 miles northwest of here.

U.S. airmen aboard the crashed plane included Lt. D. J. King, 2nd Lt. H. L. Zachise, M-Sgt. C. R. Dunna, Sgt. E. J. Wesloski and Pvt. R. L. Toth (hometowns unavailable). It was not known which of the five were injured.

The C-47 was the second plane to crack up during the search for the missing C-54. Another C-47 packed into a mountainside last week. All six occupants of that plane also were rescued safely.

Strength FOR THE DAY

SPIRITUAL POTENCY
A missionary speaking in this country some years ago said that the words "God" and "love" found in the Christian gospel were the Japanese Christians like the great mountain Fujiyama. This noble peak with a perfect volcanic cone at the top can be seen for hundreds of miles, and so greatly do the Japanese admire it that it often forms the background of scenes in no way connected with the mountain.
General MacArthur sent out a call some months ago for more Bibles for the Japanese. This hard-headed military man is a realist. He is entirely too shrewd to be deceived into believing that Japan or any other country can progress materially without progressing spiritually. As a result of his appeal, millions of Bibles have gone to the Japanese.
Even those of us who deal with the Word of God every day have to stop once in a while and reflect in order to appreciate the fact that in the Bible we have a spiritual potency inconceivably greater than anything man knows or has created or can measure. This marvelous Book is waiting to transform the life of anyone who will read it under the power of the Holy Spirit. In this Book is life, if we will only seek it.

THE PEOPLE AND THE PARTY

For a period of time there has been a great deal of unrest among the Democrats who do not approve of the policies and tactics of President Truman.
Such talk has not been confined to the newspaper columns and radio broadcasts, but has been the topic of conversation on the street corners in the towns, and around the pot-bellied stoves in the country stores. And oddly enough, especially in the South where people are given credit for their prejudice, Truman's civil rights program has not been receiving the major portion of attention. But rather the criticism stems principally from his programs of spending, taxes and the attitude the administration has taken in seeking to solidify its alliance with labor.

Just a few days ago we were talking with a staunch member of the Democratic party who has voted the straight party ticket for close to a half century. He, too, expressed concern and disagreement with the administration policies, and said he could not further support President Truman or his policies. For that reason, he continued, he would take a holiday from the polls in the next presidential election, because just as he could not bring himself to vote for Truman if he chooses to run again, neither could he bring himself to vote against the Democratic candidate.

The same attitude is prevalent among a large number of voters in the "Solid South" who are beginning to realize that the administration policies are drifting farther and farther from the pattern of government this nation has known. If the people, however, will not go to the polls and support the changes they feel should be made

In the government, they may look forward to a continuation down the road of Socialism which the present Democratic administration of Harry Truman has led the nation.
If the people stay away from the polls to keep from voting against the party's name, even though the party leaders no longer advocate the principals upon which the party was founded, it will be only a brief matter of time until the government of the United States will become a government of and by the party leaders rather than of and by the people of the country.

Around Capitol Square

TRAFFIC COURTS—The committee named some time ago by Governor Scott to study and recommend changes in traffic court procedure has come through with a caustic indictment of justice of peace and other local law enforcement policies. The committee, composed of Attorney General Harry McMullan, Motor Vehicles Commissioner Landon Rosser and Advertising Director Charles Parker, says "the present justice of the peace system is the real root of the traffic court problem."
The study disclosed that many out-of-state motorists feel aggrieved when they are put to unnecessary delay and expense by reason of activities of constables and justices of the peace—who do not have final jurisdiction in traffic cases. It was found that little complaint has been registered against highway patrolmen, a great deal against small town and rural constables with their "speed traps" and excessive costs.
RECOMMENDATIONS—The committee recommends complete revision of the justice of peace system

Somebody Told Me...

Ten minutes before opening time every morning at J. C. Penney Co., the employees have a business meeting. Several weeks ago C. R. McBrayer, the manager of the Greenville store, made an important announcement concerning "Miss Brentwood" dresses. Penney stores all over the country are featuring "Miss Brentwood" cotton dresses ($2.79), named in honor of one of the Penney Company New York buyers. In order to give the dress a big sendoff, Mr. McBrayer announced, the Penney Company was sending Miss Brentwood herself all over the country to introduce the dress named in her honor. Mac announced that the Greenville store would be honored with a visit on February 7, which was Tuesday.
The employees were looking forward to meeting the young lady that the company had honored so highly. Some dressed in their Sunday best for the occasion.
At the regular store meeting Tuesday morning the staff at Penney's was eager for news of Miss Brentwood's arrival. Mr. McBrayer had good news: "I received a phone call early this morning from Miss Brentwood. She has arrived by train in Rocky Mount and is scheduled to arrive here on the bus any minute now. Mr. Langley (Reid) is waiting at the bus station to bring her down when she comes. I hope that she'll be here before the meeting breaks up."
Sure enough, Miss Brentwood made it. Reid walked in with the best looking, most shapely blonde you ever saw. As she came in the door all of the male employees sat up to take notice.
However, when Miss Brentwood was in closer view the employees or department of government. Justices of the peace may be elected by the people on basis of three for each township and one additional for every thousand population of incorporated towns; they may be named by the general assembly almost without limit; the governor may appoint justices of the peace; and, in event of vacancy, the governor has authority to fill some and the clerk of court to fill others. The governor has power to revoke commissions of his own or his predecessors' appointees for cause. The statutes are vague about how other justices may be removed. These various provisions mean there is no effective limitation on number of justices of the peace and very little supervision over their activities. Yet a J.P. can send a citizen to jail for thirty days.

PROPOSAL—The McMullan bill, which the traffic court committee recommends for statewide application, puts definite limitation upon number of justices of the peace, provides for salary instead of fees—the salary to be determined by amount of work required, and places responsibility for their appointment in the resident judge of the district. In the resident judge of the district, with county commissioners having some control over the whole set-up. In order to get that mild reform bill through Representative McMullan had to include provision that it would not apply to any county unless the county commissioners before March fifteenth of each even numbered year voted to accept it for their county. So far as could be learned no county has yet adopted the plan, but some of the 26 to which it could apply may come under the provisions before March 15. Representatives of 14 counties in the 1949 legislature asked to have their counties exempted, preferring to continue the present hodge-podge system.
CONTINUING—Governor Scott, like Governors Hoy, Broughton and Cherry—to go back no more than fifteen years, is still trying and hoping to get some reform in the justice of peace set-up. So are leaders in the state bar, the press, the tourist industry, and others interested in state progress.

noticed a strange familiarity about her. They also noticed that she wouldn't say a word, but would simply nod in response to everything that was said to her.
In a few minutes the Penney staff realized the joke that had been played on them. Miss Brentwood was actually a male member of the staff. Wyatt Meckl, made up like a woman. Everybody who saw "her" said that Wyatt is a handsome man, but makes a prettier woman. And what a figure! With the help of a little padding here and there, Wyatt had a 36 inch bust, a 27 inch waist, and 36 inch hips. Naturally he was sporting a Miss Brentwood dress, waffle pique. His wig was from a store-window dummy, and the seams on his nylon hoses were straight as an arrow.
Wyatt made no effort to disguise his voice. So during the act he couldn't say a word. All he did

Mr. McBrayer said the joke was pulled simply for the enjoyment of the store personnel, and not as a publicity stunt. The Third Time The Anti-Trust Lawyers Were Wrong!

What Has Gone Before

Today's ad is the third in a series telling about times the anti-trust lawyers made serious and damaging charges against A&P that the courts decided were not true.

In the first ad in this series we told you about the time the anti-trust lawyers charged that A&P, and other good American citizens, conspired to fix the price of bread in Washington.

These charges were false.

That was the time Federal Judge T. Alan Goldborough instructed the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty".

It was the time he said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"If you were to show this record to any experienced trial lawyer in the world, he would tell you that there was not any evidence at all."

"Honestly, I have never in my over forty years' experience seen tried a case that was as absolutely devoid of evidence as this. That is the honest truth. I have never seen one like it."

But that was not the only time the anti-trust lawyers made such serious "allegations" against A&P which were false.

In our second ad we told you about the time in Wilson, North Carolina, they charged A&P's fresh fruit and vegetable buying subsidiary, and other good American citizens, with conspiring to fix and depress prices paid farmers for potatoes in North Carolina, Virginia and Maryland.

Here again, as in the Washington bread case, the charges were false.

This was the time Federal Judge C. C. Wyche directed the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty".

It was the time he said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"I have studied this case from the very outset. In my opinion there is no testimony produced from which it can reasonably be inferred that the defendants entered into a combination to depress or lower the price of potatoes."

"I might say that I never tried a case in my life where a greater effort, more work, more investigation had been done, combing almost with a fine-tooth comb to gather evidence, as was done in this case."

"But, as was said a long time ago, you can't make brick without straw, and you can't make a case without facts."

So here were two cases in which the anti-trust lawyers made seriously damaging charges against A&P, in which the judge decided that there were no facts to support those charges.

Today, we want to tell you about the third time—this time in Dallas, Texas—the court decided against the anti-trust lawyers.

Is it a crime to give people more good food for their money?

For 90 years A&P has devoted all its energies to this end.

For many months now the anti-trust lawyers from Washington have been giving stories to the newspapers, making speeches and talking over the radio about this company.

They have been making serious and damaging allegations about the methods that enable A&P to give its customers better food values.

We have already told you about other times the anti-trust lawyers made charges against us that were proved utterly false in court.

In the left-hand column on this page you can read what the federal judges had to say about those two cases.

Now we are going to tell you about the third time a federal judge decided against the anti-trust lawyers.

The Dallas Anti-Trust Suit

In 1942 the anti-trust lawyers went out to Dallas, Texas, 1,400 miles from the homes of most of the defendants, and instigated criminal charges against A&P.

About this case one thing was sure.

Their previous experience did not deter the anti-trust lawyers from making more inflammatory and damaging allegations, just as they had done before.

They made practically the same allegations they are making today.

Federal Judge W. H. Atwell ruled that the case should not even be tried. He said that the indictment contained inflammatory statements that he would not permit to be presented to a jury.

Judge Atwell said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"If I thought I was presiding over a court and that I might have to sentence some person because he was a great big fellow, or because he was a Lilliputian, I would feel like resigning. God knows we don't want it ever to occur in America that the size is going to determine whether a man is guilty or innocent."

Everything that has happened since this suit was filed proves that the American people don't want A&P destroyed. A deluge of letters from people in all walks of life and thousands of editorials in newspapers and magazines convince us that the public has faith in A&P.

The housewives of this nation, whose patronage has made this company big, are buying from us in increasing numbers and increasing volume.

Our suppliers, whom the anti-trust lawyers allege we have exploited, are rushing to our support.

Labor leaders, mindful of the fact that A&P employees enjoy the best wages, hours and working conditions, are taking a stand against the suit.

Even many of our good competitors, who the anti-trust lawyers allege are hurt by our competition, have taken ads to tell the public that they don't like this attack on A&P.

All this indicates that the American people realize that the suit to destroy A&P is really a suit against efficiency, against low prices and against real competition.

Apparently most Americans do not want to let the anti-trust lawyers in Washington blow the whistle on any businessman who does a better and more efficient job and grows big in the process.

No one can make them believe it is a crime to try to sell the best quality food at the lowest possible price.

Judge Atwell also said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"If the indictment is not good then it is better to find out before an expensive trial than it is after an expensive trial. I do not think it is good, and thinking that, it is my duty to sustain the demurrers and motion to quash."

In short, Federal Judge Atwell threw the anti-trust lawyers and their case right out of his court.

So that makes three times that the anti-trust lawyers made damaging allegations against A&P. In two of these cases federal judges said they were all wrong. In the third case a federal judge said the indictment was inflammatory and he would not even permit the case to be tried.

The anti-trust lawyers were not satisfied with the Dallas decision. Neither were they satisfied with the two other decisions in which federal courts administered stinging rebukes to them.

They were still determined to destroy A&P.

In our next ad we will tell you how they continued their campaign in this case in the Circuit Court of Appeals and subsequent proceedings.

We will show you how, once again, they disagreed with the courts.

Phantoms Take Fast Start; Defeat Roanoke Rapids By Margin Of 41-37

Greenville Cagers Take Commanding Lead In Second Half After Fairly Close Opening Two Periods; Junior Jackets Take 24-19 Victory

Roanoke Rapids, Feb. 9 — The Greenville high school Phantoms swept the two-game series with the Roanoke Rapids Yellow Jackets last night as they trounced away a neat 41-37 victory in the National Guard Armory.

Before the feature attraction, the Junior Yellow Jackets whipped Greenville 24-19.

Prior to last night's varsity game, the locals had dropped a close five-point decision to the Phantoms in Greenville, 35-30, and were expected to win the return game. But such was not the case as Coach Bo Farley's boys in green started fast and continued strong throughout the affair.

The Phantoms scored in 35 seconds of the opening gun on a set shot by forward Dillingham. That basket was quickly matched by Wheeler, center for the locals. However, Greenville went ahead right after that on a bucket by John Aman, a guard, and were never headed after the two-minute mark.

The Jackets' Wheeler was the game's high scorer but his other teammates couldn't back him up with accurate shots. And that is what won the game for Greenville. Behind their center, Briley, who scored only 10 points, three other Phants enhanced their scoring cause by pushing in 25 points, evenly distributed among them.

The game was fairly close all the way. Only at the seven-minute mark of the second half did the visitors pull away for a commanding lead, the score reading 35-28. Prior to that time the game was played in spurts with Greenville ever in the lead but the Jackets pulling up within two or three points.

Foul shots played a major part in the victory for Greenville. Although they committed three more felonies than did the Jackets, the Phantoms were able to connect on more than half their chances from the free circle, an ability they have lacked in recent games.

Wheeler was easily the best man on the floor for the Jackets, from a high-scoring point-of-view, and also defensively. What rebounded were left to his team, he got them.

For Greenville, Sid Briley and John Aman were the defensive standouts, pulling down rebounds and starting the ball back up the court. Aman and Joe Sawyer, the other guard, figured in the scoring from their back court positions, the former collecting three goals while missing two foul shots.

The Junior game, played before the varsity scrap, was much like the previous game played in Greenville—like it in every respect except the winning team.

The game was another low-scoring affair in the two-game series with the Greenville Juniors unable to find the range scored with any degree of accuracy. They scored only six field goals, while the locals were getting 22. The Junior Phantoms were fouled 22 times but were able to connect on only seven. The game would have been theirs had they been more accurate from the foul lane.

As a result of the win last night, the Roanoke Rapids Juniors gained a split with Greenville, having lost the game there, January 13, 19-21.

She is by the virtually unknown sire, Crowfoot, and out of a mare, Sea Elk, which was bought for a song by owner Jim Norris, the boxing czar.

Trio Bowling Standouts Set Pace For 'Torchers'

The Torchers of the Carbon Company's second shift bowling league continued to set a hot pace in the four-team competition as they won their 7th, 8th and 9th games yesterday afternoon without a loss.

They are currently bowling 1,000 percent and are leading the other three competitors by six games. The Labelers, Tampers and Cappers all stand at 3-6 games.

Solely responsible for the Torchers' hot pace are three teammates who lead the league in every goal set out for them. Two women and one man—Letha Smith, Nan Carson and P. Taylor—lead in single games and three-game high scores in varying one, two, three order. Taylor holds the over-all high average with 131 for nine games. He also has the highest score to date in three games with 483. For a single game high score, Nan Carson leads the circuit with 177.

The Torchers also set a high score for a team's high total in a single game yesterday when they knocked down 508 pins, beating their last week's total of 482 by a wide margin.

However, the competition in team high scores is getting keener with the other three teams bettering their last week's scores. The Labelers bowled 460 in this bracket yesterday, the Cappers 444, and Tampers 442. All scores are much higher than the total at the end of six games.

The same is true of three-game-high scores. In the same order the four teams pushed over the six-game's total, the Torchers bettering by 213 pins their score of last Wednesday.

Leading the league in individual average scores for nine games is Taylor with 131 pins. In second spot is Eastwood, captain of the Labelers, with 122. In third and fourth places are Letha Smith with 118 and Harris of the Tampers with a seven-game average of 111.

The second shift standings:

Torchers	9	0	1.000
Labelers	3	6	.333
Tampers	3	6	.333
Cappers	3	6	.333

Plenty Of Pros

San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 9 (AP)—Swollen by the largest brigade of touring professionals in golf history, the Texas Open's 213-man field moved out today in the first 18-hole round of the oldest tournament along the winter trail.

Starting at 8 a.m., the seekers of $10,000 in prize money will be due to wind up the opening round about midnight, playing on two courses.

Spine-Tingling Four-Way Race

By the Associated Press

A spine-tingling battle was developing today for the final three positions in the Southern Conference Basketball Tournament next month.

Barring catastrophe in the stretch, Duke, North Carolina State, William and Mary, George Washington and North Carolina will nail down five of the eight berths.

And almost certainly, the rest of the field will be chosen from among South Carolina, Virginia Tech, Clemson and Wake Forest. The problem is, which team will be left out in the cold.

Here's the way the four-way tussle shapes up at present:

W	L	Pct.
South Carolina	8	4	.667
Virginia Tech	6	4	.600
Wake Forest	7	5	.583
Clemson	5	5	.500

An aggravating factor is that Clemson's situation isn't nearly so bad as it would seem. The Tigers have six conference tilts left on their schedule—of which five are against teams currently wrangling over possession of last place in the standings.

South Carolina, with seven games to go, meets six of the tailenders.

Plan To Curtail Railway Service

Charlotte, Feb. 9 (AP)—Four Southern Railway trains serving North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia will be discontinued Friday at midnight.

The curtailment is the result of an Interstate Commerce Commission order made because of the coal emergency.

To be discontinued are trains 23 and 24 between Charlotte and Jessup, Ga., and trains 135 and 136 between Salisbury and Atlanta, Ga.

Old Goalies

New York (AP)—Bill Burnan, Montreal goaltender who five times has won the Vezina Trophy for compiling the best goaltending mark in the National Hockey League, is the second oldest player in the major ice loop. Another goalie, Turk Broda of Toronto, is the oldest. Both players are 35, but Broda is eight months older than Durnan.

Everton Is Still Pacing Pirates In Scoring Dept.

East Carolina's scoring leaders after seventeen games still remain the same, with towering Jack Everton leading the way with a total of 24 points for a very high percentage of 13.8 points per game. Everton has been on a torrid scoring streak in the Pirates past five games. The lanky forward was averaging almost 20 points per game in his last five outings, before dropping last night in the game against West Carolina, when he was held to four points before fouling out during the early part of the contest.

Trailing Everton by twelve points, is East Carolina's star freshman forward, Warren "Sonny" Russell, who has gathered in a total of 22 points in seventeen tilts. Russell plays the opposite forward position from Everton, and has an average of 13 points per game. Russell increased his margin last night as he gathered in eighteen points to lead the Bucs to a 53-45 win over West Carolina.

Two other Pirate starters have passed the 100 mark in scoring at this point in the season. They are Sophomores Lou Collie and Toddy Pennell. Collie has the better average of the two Wilmington lads with 136 points while Pennell has dropped in 19 points.

Scoring of the Pirates:

Bauer Sisters Still Pace Field

Palm Beach, Fla., Feb. 9 (AP)—The Bauer sisters—Alice and Marlene—from Midland, Texas, continued to pace the field in the 40th annual Palm Beach Women's Golf Championship today.

The Bauer girls, who led qualifiers Tuesday with par 72 over the Palm Beach Golf Club course, won their first round matches yesterday by convincing margins.

Alice, who is 22, defeated Betty Bush of Hammond, Ind., 4 and 3, and her 15-year-old sister, Marlene, beat Mary Ann Downey of Baltimore, 3 and 2.

Greenville Robins To Begin Exhibition Series On April 9

By JOHN SPINKS JR.

Dallas Blackiston, new business manager for the Greenville Robins, announced earlier this week spring training for the team will begin March 20 at Melbourne, Florida.

During the three-week training period all four teams owned or controlled by Roy Dissinger, new owner of the Robins, will workout at Melbourne in order that working rosters for the four can be drawn up.

Prior to the spring training, Dissinger will conduct a training school at Melbourne, Blackiston said. The school will run for approximately a month, starting February 20, its purpose being to size up the talent that will be present at the school and tentatively to farm it out to Dissinger's four clubs. (The Baltimorean owns the controlling interest in the Robins and in the Lumberton club, and also Anderson, Louisiana clubs.)

Call Hearing In Boxer's Collapse

Philadelphia, Feb. 9 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Athletic Commission called a hearing today in the sudden collapse of Harold Johnson during last night's fight with Jersey Joe Walcott.

The 22-year-old Philadelphia Negro heavyweight dropped to the canvas in the third round of a scheduled 10-round at the Arena—unable to continue because of a back injury.

Walcott, the Camden, N.J., Negro veteran who tried unsuccessfully three times to grab the world's heavyweight crown, was awarded a knockout victory.

John (Ox) Da Grossa, state athletic commissioner, said after examining Johnson in the ring and later at Presbyterian Hospital he was convinced "the boy was in too much pain to go on fighting."

"I am sure that there was nothing irregular in the fight," Da Grossa said, "but just to be on the safe side, I'll talk it over with all concerned today."

The purses of both fighters were held up pending results of the hearing.

Da Grossa said Walcott told him he believed Johnson twisted his back as he fell under a left hook in the second round.

single games. This sells for $36.50 and together with the reserved ticket can be obtained for $54.

Blackiston has initiated the Greenville chapter of the Grandstand Managers Association, membership of which can be obtained by being present at every home game the Robins play. He has had membership cards printed, to be distributed to eligible receivers at the first game. The card furnishes the holder the privilege of second-guessing the manager and players and two used second-guesses allow the member a third guess. Also, the holder is given two minutes' discussion each week with the managers as to how past games should have been played.

Blackiston stated, without a trace of tongue-in-cheek, that "one would be surprised how many pointers a manager can get from loyal supporters in the stands."

The Pittsburgh Pirate spring roster includes five infielders formerly included with Brooklyn—Romanus Basgall, Johnny Hopp, Stan Rojek, Henry Schens and Ed Stevens.

And as Blackiston says, "Robins, Greenies, it doesn't make any difference what the team is called so long as they win."

The ball park now is being renovated beginning with plans for re-sodding of the infield in the next few days pending warmer weather. Bids are now being considered for painting the grandstand. New dressing-room facilities are being planned and also another concession stand near grandstand gate number two.

An innovation in seating the patrons, that of having ushers, is being considered. As yet no other baseball club in this section has gone that extensively into making the game more attractive for the fans.

For the first time in Greenville baseball history the fan who eats late, or who can't get to the game in time to get a good seat, can buy a reserved seat ticket for the entire season. This entitles him to a seat anywhere in the first five rows of the grandstand; his name printed on the back, and sells for $17.50. And if the fan wishes to buy a straight season ticket he can do so at a saving over paying the cost of

Eppes Wins Two Basketball Tilts Against Ayden

The Eppes High School boys' team continued its winning ways Tuesday night by trouncing the Ayden high school club, 39-17.

In the preliminary to the boys' scrap, the Eppes girls copped a low-scoring win over the Ayden girls, 19-12.

High scorers for the boys were Hubert Walten and Clayton Howard with 13 and 8 points apiece. For the girls, the offensive guns were Billie Jenkins with 10 points and Margaret Ward with five.

Next games for Eppes will be with the strong Washington club there Friday night.

Rogers Hornsby Back In Baseball

Dallas, Tex., Feb. 9 (AP)—Rogers Hornsby is coming back to where you remember him best—to a baseball diamond.

The graying, husky Hornsby last night signed a one-year contract to manage Beaumont of the Class A Texas league.

Invitation Mile Won By Wilt

Baltimore, Feb. 9 (AP)—G-Man Fred Wilt started dead last in the national invitation mile of the fourth annual 175th regiment-South Atlantic Association track meet here last night.

But at the end of the eight laps the New York Athletic Club's distance ace was out in front by ten yards. His time of 4 minutes, 32.3 seconds equalled the meet record set by Tommy Quinn on the Baltimore 8th Regiment armory's flat oval in 1947.

Calumet Farm's hope for a third straight Kentucky Derby victory, Theory, is going along steadily in training at Hialeah.

Home Girl

Chapter 4
The two boys came shouting into the kitchen to find themselves at Anne and then with renewed shouts at Tony.

"It's Sir Gallygad. He's our knight. He goes out to fight for us."

Mary added her voice to the clamor, trying to draw the twins' attention to herself. But her cookie offer went unheeded in the demand for Sir Gallygad to play with them. Anne hugged herself with laughter. Tony groaned his appeal for rescue.

"Can't you call off the wolves?" The twins caught at the word enthusiastically. Their shrill voices were now supposedly lupine howls. They clung to him.

"We are wolves going to eat up Sir Gallygad."

Mary banged two pans, one in each hand. Anne raised a hand to command silence. The twins hushed instantly without releasing their grips on their hero's hands.

"I am the queen," announced Anne. "I am about to knight this brave young man. Kneel, Tony Raymond."

Tony groaned. "What is this, anyway?"

The twins fairly dragged him down, and they knelt on the floor in a row. Anne pulled the big carving knife from his drawer and waved it over her head.

"Bow your head, oh youth at my feet," she commanded.

Tony bowed his head. Anne slapped him on the back with the flat of the knife three times.

"Rise, Sir Tony. Rise and go forth to do noble deeds."

The boys leaped to hug him, shouting, "Rise, Sir Tony." A sharp laugh from the doorway froze them all.

"Well, this beats everything. It looks like a nut house."

The boys shouted at her. "Help us make Sir Tony rise, Mama. He's Sir Gallygad, and Sir Tony, and..."

"And a fool," she finished curly. "Children, look at your hands. Go outside this instant or I'll make you wash and stay upstairs in your room."

Anne touched her arm. "Don't blame them. We're only playing. We are knighting Sir Tony so he can be our knight and fight for us in a world where heroes are always needed."

"Heroes! He'd be more of a hero if he was out trying to earn some money instead of making my children kneel on the dirty floor."

Mary shouted, "This is the cleanest floor around here. You couldn't keep it half as clean yourself."

"I'm not a scrub-woman."

Mary yanked off her apron and flung it down. It landed on Tony's head as that ruffled young man was getting up. The twins clapped hands and shouted their delight.

"Sir Tony has a veil. We're wolves again and we'll eat him because he can't see."

They caught his hands and pretended to chew them, but only for a moment. Celia smacked them both and jerked them away, whereat their walls rose in much more realistic fashion. Anne, blocking Mary's exit, was no longer needed as the old cook turned on Celia.

"Don't you dare whip those angel children. I won't let you."

"They are my children, Mary. You forget yourself!"

"They ain't yours unless you love 'em and care for 'em."

"They're mine to beat all day if I want to."

She shook them roughly to prove it. Instead of wailing louder, they suddenly stopped as children they when really frightened. Anne jumped in front of Mary. But a still more powerful force intervened. The telephone rang sharply. Celia fairly thrust the children away from her so she could answer it. Anne caught them up, one in each arm, and carried them lightly out into the yard.

Mary mumbled a prayer asking forgiveness for having lost her temper again. Tony handed her the apron. She took it and glared at him.

"You should be proud to think little boys run to you."

He smiled slowly. "I don't care much for children."

"Suppose Anne said that. Look at her out there with them now. A real born mother. It should make your heart leap to see that, it should."

He ran a hand over his smooth dark hair. "A man has practical things to think of. Celia's right. I should be working, not playing here."

"And just when, Mr. Raymond, did I give you permission to call me Celia?"

The voice from the doorway was mocking rather than angry. It was obvious the telephone call had been worth dashing for. Tony looked at her steadily.

"You are Celia, aren't you?"

"To my friends, Mr. Raymond."

"That's all I needed to know. Good-bye, Celia. Thanks for the advice about not wasting time."

He bowed and was gone.

"We won't be in to dinner, Mary."

"We're havin' a grand dinner to-night, Celia. Look at the strawberries."

"I've seen strawberries before, Mary. And I shall have a grand dinner myself. I am meeting a producer from Hollywood. Anything can happen now."

"I'm sure can and the sprints preserve us." Mary put her knuckles on her hips boldly. "Sure I'd like to see you play the part of a young mother with two angel boys."

She half expected a slap for her audacity. Instead she got a laugh and a flash of the girl's big dark eyes.

"If I was paid a good salary I'd show you what a mother I could be. If I can interest this man and get to Hollywood-well, you'll see."

"If I live to be old enough," muttered Mary.

Rat Control Demonstration In City Slated To Begin Feb. 15

A rat control demonstration will be initiated in Greenville February 15, to run through June 30, a program designed to make the public conscious of the rat menace and the disease they carry—typhus.

With the local and state boards of health cooperating with each other, the demonstration will inaugurate a mass rat-killing program involving every eating-place, feed store, soda fountain, and any other place in town which attract rats.

Charles V. Morgan, Pitt County sanitarian, said this morning the city is paying a professional exterminator, sent out by the state board, to carry out the program here. All his equipment will be furnished and financed by the state board, including a truck and its maintenance, and chemicals enough to do the job. Morgan said the professional rat control supervisor will work under the auspices of the local department, his demonstration ending June 30. At that time, he said, the city officials will determine whether or not his services and the extermination program will be continued.

Beginning tonight at nine o'clock over Station WQTC, the first step in the publicity program will be initiated when Miss Ruth Thompson, health education supervisor from the Raleigh office, presents a 15-minute program designed to publicize the coming demonstration. Miss Thompson said this morning, in elaborating on the content of her talk tonight, several types of poison will be used in the demonstration, "generally those types which will not be harmful to persons or pets." However, she said, "where there is serious infestation (in homes, places of business, out-buildings) more potent drugs will be used to curb the menace."

Rats, she stated, eat about $2 worth of food each year, but destroy 10 times that much by infesting it with typhus and bubonic plague germs. It is estimated, she said, the rat population throughout the nation is equal to the number of persons living in any particular locale, constituting a damage to food which, in turn, affects the population.

Local health department figures show there were no cases of typhus in Pitt County in 1947, one case in 1948, and two last year. Last year's figure compares favorably with the cases in 1944—a war year in which four were recorded in the county. There are no cases hereabouts reported this year. (Other figures estimate there is an 8 percent fatality rate of all typhus cases reported in the state, in 1948 there being 47.)

Miss Thompson made very plain that the program as to be conducted here is not a campaign, but only a demonstration to show how rats can be exterminated. Then at a later date, if the demonstration proves successful, the towns in the county can combine to carry on the control. This could be carried on concurrently with an insect control campaign which would have permanent status, department spokesmen said.

An effort to get representatives from all local civic clubs, schools, city administration, medical society, farm agent's office, and the Boy Scouts interested in the program is now underway. Tentatively, these representatives will meet before the demonstration begins next Thursday with Pitt health department officials to spread interest in the overall program.

As the program for Greenville is set up, the rats must be starved before the poisons are set out. The starvation program can best be accomplished, Morgan said, by the use of all-metal garbage cans with close fitting metal tops for the disposal of refuse. He urged everyone to make necessary changes in their garbage disposal facilities in order to effect the program's success.

The Beaver Dam Grange, No. 868, held its regular monthly meeting in the Grange Hall at Ballard's Crossroads Feb. 7. Worthy Master Herschel M. Tyson presided. Discussion for the meeting centered around how the Grange could more effectively carry on the better roads program and better communication for rural people.

A report was given by the Master on the State Deputy meeting, held in the Schley Grange Hall near Hillsboro.

It was decided that the Grange will meet twice a month with meetings on Wednesday nights every other week.

The Sunrise Usher Board club of Cornerstone Baptist church will meet Sunday at 4 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Thelma Lee Ebron, 206 W. 14th street. All members are asked to be present.

There are an estimated 435,000 oil wells in the United States.

Revenue Offices To Get Together

Raleigh, N. C. Feb. 9.—(AP)—The revenue department and the U. S. Treasury department are cooperating in a guinea pig plan to double-check on income tax payers.

Revenue commissioner Eugene Shaw said yesterday North Carolina and Wisconsin are the two experimental states in the new plan.

Under the plan, the state will give the collector of Internal Revenue at Greensboro weekly reports on its audit findings. The Internal Revenue collector, in turn, will provide the state department of revenue with weekly reports on its audits.

It is planned to extend the system if it works, to the 30 other states which levy income taxes. The system will be in effect for the remainder of the year.

Shaw said that previous information exchanged between the federal and state agencies was scanty and often several years behind. The information will be exchanged by making an additional copy of each audit, he explained.

He stated it is anticipated that only audits on income tax returns which have to be adjusted, either in favor of or against the taxpayer, will be exchanged.

Negro Home Demonstration News

County Council

The county council of Negro Home Demonstration Clubs held Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in the Agricultural Building, with council members from sixteen of the seventeen clubs in Pitt County.

Mrs. Maggie Strong, president of the council, presided over the meeting. The meeting was opened by singing "Brighten the Corner Where You Are," the adopted State Club Song of Home Demonstration Clubs. The Club Collect was repeated together.

The minutes of the previous meetings were read, approved by the members.

Council members from sixteen clubs answered to the roll call and paid their council fee. Simpson club officers were the only ones not represented at the meeting. The council voted to give their full cooperation in helping to put over a good home demonstration program in 1950.

Raleigh, Feb. 9.—(AP)—(NCDA)—Fryers and broilers steady to slightly stronger at 23; eggs steady, A large 33.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Feb. 9.—(AP)—The stock market ignored the latest hitch to full coal production and cautiously felt 1 1/2 way ahead today. Radio-television and aircraft issues dominated trading and sold at higher prices than most other groups.

Traders at this stage don't seem to be too worried about the prospects of a prolonged coal walkout but nevertheless are planning their activities with care.

Boxing one-time great, Al Ketchell, is the owner-trainer of a three-horse racing stable this winter at Hialeah.

Defense Advice

Washington, Feb.—(AP)—The federal government today handed the nation a grim primer in construction problems of the atomic age.

An issued report entitled "Damage from atomic explosion and design of protective structures," dealing in matter-of-fact language with requirements for buildings which might have to undergo the tremendous force of a nearby A-bomb blast.

The best advice it could offer builders was to erect important structures as far from strategic areas, or put them underground. It called for dispersal of potential war plants, and said the most vital industries might have to bury themselves deep in caves and mines.

Buying Canadian Spuds For Less

New Orleans, Feb. 8.—(AP)—While the government offers surplus potatoes to farmers at one cent a hundred pounds, American food brokers are buying Canadian spuds because they find the American crop too costly.

The situation came to light here yesterday when a million pounds of potatoes from Canada were unloaded from a boat.

J. Segari, New Orleans food broker and consignee of the Canadian potatoes, told newsmen:

"I don't know why I can buy choice potatoes from Canada and have them shipped down here cheaper than I can buy them from Maine or Idaho—but I know I can do it."

"I'm not alone in importing the less expensive Canadian potatoes. Why a boatload comes into Savannah, Ga., Tampa, Fla., Jacksonville, Fla., and other places about every two weeks."

Segari said Idaho potatoes would cost him $4.40 a 100 pounds delivered to New Orleans. He would not divulge what the Canadian potatoes of equal grade cost him but said he was selling them at $4 a 100 pounds in job lots after paying an import duty of 75 cents a 100 pounds. Water-freight charges from Canadian ports to New Orleans run 60 cents a 100 pounds.

County's NCEA . . .

During the executive council session of the county NCEA organization the group discussed the coming elections of state officers for the NCEA, and the possibility of sending delegates from Pitt county to the International Council for Childhood and Motherhood which will convene in Asheville on April 10.

The next quarterly meeting of the county organization was set for April 4 at which time a dinner meeting is scheduled.

Shopping Event . . .

(Continued from page one) had prepared for overflow crowds here on Dollar Day, said shortly before noon. "The town's crowded. No accidents have been reported and this is a bigger affair than the Merchants Association expected."

Willard T. Kzyer, manager of the Greenville Chamber of Commerce, observing the heavy traffic and crowds of people, said, "The crowds are here. Looks to me like it pays to advertise."

Businessmen generally commented on the success of Dollar Day and expressed appreciation of the Merchants Association's good work in promoting the event.

Taxing Big . . .

(Continued from Page One) 000 has risen from four per cent to 16 per cent. Tax on an estate of $250,000 has fallen from 11 per cent to four per cent.

The estate tax hits few persons because any estate is tax-exempt on the first $60,000—or $120,000 if that much passes from husband to wife or wife to husband.

Estate tax rates on amounts left after exemptions range now from 3 per cent up to 77 per cent when there is $10,000,000 or more left after exemptions.

People having that much money or property can save taxes by giving at least part of it away before their death because the gift rates are 25 per cent less, and there are additional exemptions.

General Clay's . . .

(Continued from page one) left Germany divided if the French hadn't consistently opposed creation of four-power agencies in 1945 and 1946 as provided by the Potsdam conference. The General says France opposed practically every American move towards getting Germany back on its feet either as a political entity or economically.

At one point early in the Berlin blockade Clay thought he detected apprehension on the part of Secretary of the Army Royall that a firm stand in Berlin might lead to war. At that time the General stated:

"I do not believe this means war x x x please understand we are not carrying a chip on our shoulders and will shoot only for self-protection. I do not believe we will have to do so."

A little later Royall said he would hold Europe against Communism, like Clay's views again, although we must not budge. We can take there was no change in the Army's view that America should stay in Berlin. Here was General Clay's reply: "We have lost Czechoslovakia, Norway, and Denmark. If America does not understand this now, does not know that the issue is cast, then it never will, and Germany will be next. If we mean Communism will run rampant."

CHOWDER DAYS ARE HERE!

Among the many fine chowders, there is nothing better than Bacon-Corn Chowder. It's an all-American favorite. This fine, whole meal soup had its origin in the Mayflower days when the Puritans learned from the Indians to concoct this satisfying dish. You'll LOVE our modern version of this delicious corn chowder, particularly the Wilson's Certified Bacon flavor-lift!

Fried Bacon Chips add "Umph" to Chowders

Of course many refinements have come to corn chowder since those early beginnings but none have added more to the quality and flavor of this hearty soup than the addition of WILSON'S CERTIFIED BACON. Its sweet 'n' smoky savoriness is the perfect flavor accent with corn.

When serving hearty chowders, try always to brighten the menu by including a promise of spring—say toasted bacon-fresh tomato-lettuce sandwiches. If the family is especially hungry, add WILSON'S CERTIFIED CHEESE either to the sandwich or melt it right into the soup.

Chowder and Sandwiches with a Bacon flavor lift.

BACON-CORN CHOWDER

Saute together until savory but not really browned:

- 3 ozs. Wilson's Certified Bacon, cut up
- 1/4 cup minced green pepper and 2 onion slices

Add:

- 2 cups water
- 1 1/2 cups cubed potatoes 3/4 to 1/2 in. size

Cover and simmer until potatoes are tender, 12 to 15 minutes. Add:

- 2 cups rich milk (or 1/4 and 3/4)
- 2 cups canned or fresh corn, cream style
- 2 tablespoons chopped parsley, optional

Heat and serve with bacon-tomato-lettuce sandwiches.

VARIATIONS: Stirring in 2 ozs. shredded cheese just before serving or adding 1/2 teaspoon sweet basil, paprika or 2 tablespoons chopped celery leaves affords these tasty flavor changes.
