Scott Indicates Hopes In Dreams Of Superhighway

Governor Says 'Something Might Come' From Study Of N. C. Turnpike

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 28 (AP)—Governor Scott said today he thought "something might come" from a study being made of the feasibility of building a superhighway across North Carolina similar to the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

The governor revealed at his news conference that he had named a committee to study the proposal and report to the next legislature.

A Durham firm, the First Securities Corporation, has agreed to underwrite the cost of employing engineers to study the project, the governor said.

The proposed highway would be built by a turnpike authority to be set up by the legislature and the road would be financed through tolls, Scott added.

The Durham firm also has agreed to finance the cost of construction by selling bonds of the authority, he said.

The governor said that Orten Born of Greensboro is serving as chairman of the study committee and that the group held a preliminary meeting here several days ago.

At that meeting, the governor continued, a tentative route for the proposed highway was discussed. It would enter the state near Gastonia, pass in the vicinity of Charlotte, Kannapolis, Salisbury, High Point, Greensboro, Burlington, Durham, Chapel Hill, and then head north to the Virginia line. A branch at Salisbury would head north through Mt. Airy to the Virginia line.

The governor said that other states are discussing the superhighway question, including Virginia, South Carolina, Georgia and West Virginia.

The branch north from Salisbury, he added, might ultimately extend all the way to Cincinnati and open up markets of the midwest to North Carolina industry.

Asked if he thought the proposal was "all a pipe dream," the governor said:

"I rather think something will come of it. I'm not going to push it beyond what the survey shows. I would not be interested in pledging the credit of the state in any way for it."

ECTC Trustee's Daughter Killed In Car Accident

Hammond, Ind., Feb. 28 (AP)—Mrs. Marie Belk Lipton, 25, of Chicago, was injured fatally today in an automobile accident in nearby Lansing, Ill.

Mrs. Lipton was the daughter of Henry Belk, editor of the Goldsboro (N.C.) News-Argus and trustee of East Carolina Teachers College in Greenville. Her husband is a doctor at a Veterans Administration hospital at Downey, Ill.

The Dutch Renegade

A Thumbnail Sketch Of Capt. 'Turk' Westerling, One-Time Dutch Army Officer Who Led An Indonesian Rebel Raid; His Weapon Was Terror; Death Awaits

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

Captain Raymond Paul Rocco ("Turk") Westerling, Dutch Indonesian revolutionist who is now under British arrest in Singapore, is one of the Orient's most colorful (and toughest) personalities.

He is the chap who on January 23 led a force of native deserters from the Dutch army in the surprise capture of Bandoeng, capital of west Java from the other 15 states of the Indonesian Republic.

Having achieved this astonishing feat, Westerling slipped over into Singapore, reportedly to get arms and ammunition for his rebel movement. He was arrested on a charge of entering the colony without a permit.

Indonesia promptly requested the captain's extradition as leader of a revolt, a request which still is under advisement. It is said he will face the death penalty if the British surrender him.

Although only 31 years old, "Turk" Westerling, through whose veins courses both Dutch and Turkish blood, is a dynamic figure. He is a born military leader and exercises a hypnotic influence over his followers, many of whom all but worship

Question Acheson On Dept. Security

Called For Testimony At Closed Hearing Of Senate Group; Republican Solons Concerned Over State Dept. Loopholes

Washington, Feb. 28 (AP)—Secretary of State Acheson faced questions by Republican Senators today about possible security loopholes in the state department.

Acheson was called for testimony at a closed hearing of a senate appropriations subcommittee studying department requests for operating money.

In advance, Senators Bridges (R-NH) and Knowland (R-Calif.) framed a series of questions as to whether there are some poor security risks among the workers on the department payroll.

Without detailing their nature, Bridges told a reporter the questions will avoid covering the same ground that a senate foreign relations subcommittee will enter next week. The subcommittee is to make an investigation of charges that some Communists are, or have been, on the department rolls.

"We are interested in the Secretary's ideas about who is, and who is not, a good security risk," Bridges said.

In this connection, committee members forecast discussion of Acheson's statement that he will not turn his back on Alger Hiss former department official convicted of having lied about making contracts with a Communist courier. Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) will get a chance next Wednesday to repeat his charges of Communists being in the state department. The occasion is the opening of the inquiry by a five-man foreign relations subcommittee headed by Senator Tydings, into McCarthy's statements.

Without naming names in the public session, McCarthy is expected to present a series of cases taken from the 81 he listed to the senate — also without names. He already has promised to supply the names in a later closed meeting of the committee.

Republicans won an expansion of the investigation yesterday. Tydings first was given approval by the full foreign relations group to proceed on an inquiry which would have limited the field to persons now in government employ.

Ferguson, not a member of the committee, demanded that persons charged with disloyalty who might have left the government be investigated, too.

Tydings said, all right, if that was the way the senate wanted it. That was the way the investigation would be held.

Principals From 10 Pitt Schools Gather

Review NCEA Problems To Be Met At Raleigh Meet And Coming Athletic Event; Other School Staffs Meet

Principals from the ten Pitt County schools who met yesterday afternoon at the courthouse discussed plans for the coming county basketball tournament to be held here next week, and reviewed NCEA problems which will come up at the state meeting in Raleigh next week.

The county basketball tournament which begins at the Wright gymnasium on the East Carolina campus March 6 will continue through Thursday 11 with the exception of Thursday night when no games will be played. Superintendent of Schools D. H. Conley said in the past it has been the policy to play some of the tournament games during the afternoon, but this year all the games will be played at night in an effort to minimize the interference the tournament will have with the school work.

Also discussed at the principals meeting was the incident at Belvoir last week when 14 elementary school children were overcome with carbon monoxide gas from the exhaust of the bus. Conley said the incident was discussed and analyzed for the principals so they can avoid a similar happening in the county in the future.

End of the year examinations for the children of the Pitt school system also came in for the attention of the principals. Conley said the policy of the county system in giving

Husband Relates Care By Doctor Says Dying Wife Treated 'Like A Mother' By Sander

Manchester, N.H., Feb. 28 (AP)—The husband of Mrs. Abbie Borroto said today his dying wife was treated "like a mother" by Dr. Hermann N. Sander.

The 41-year-old Dr. Sander is on trial on a first degree murder charge — accused of ending the woman's cancer-tortured life with an air injection into her veins.

Reginald Borroto, the 65-year-old husband, testified as to his wife's last illness:

"If Mrs. Borroto had been Dr. Sander's mother or sister he couldn't have done more to minister to her," Borroto, a retired oil salesman, said Dr. Sander came often to his home during the last months of his wife's life.

Borroto added that the doctor often appeared voluntarily, bringing such gifts to the ailing woman as a canary, complete with cage, and other little offerings to take her mind off her misery.

Dr. Sander called at all hours of the day, Borroto said, and sometimes as late as 10 o'clock at night.

Under cross-examination, Borroto said:

"On various occasions, Dr. Sander appeared very tired. In fact, on one occasion I told him he was a fool spending so much time working on committees outside of his office hours."

Attlee To Reveal New Laborite Cabinet Soon

London, Feb. 28 (AP)—Prime Minister Attlee, who won a shaky victory in Britain's national elections, has revamped his Laborite cabinet. He is expected to announce its makeup soon.

Attlee had an hour's audience with King George VI last night after spending the day forming his new cabinet and conferring with leaders of his Socialist-minded Labor party.

Just what changes Attlee would make in his cabinet were kept secret. But chief post to be filled was that of colonial secretary, which became vacant because of the defeat of Arthur Creech Jones in his race for re-election to Parliament.

Names Chairmen For Red Cross Drive In County

Turnage Announces Community Chairmen And Goals; Meeting Sunday

Chairman Lester Turnage who will head the Red Cross fund drive in Pitt county during the week of March 13, today announced the names of community chairmen who will spearhead the drive in the various communities of Pitt.

Turnage said the $11,280 goal which is set for Pitt county has been prepared on a community basis according to the population of the communities of the county. The community chairmen, he said, will appoint their assistants to aid in raising the funds to finance the Red Cross during the coming year.

There will be a meeting of all committee chairmen Sunday afternoon, March 5, at 3 o'clock in the Red Cross office in the Greenville municipal building, and the chairmen at that time will be given material and information for the drive.

Turnage this morning stressed the importance of the Red Cross, and urged the cooperation of the people of the county in raising the money to reach the goal assigned the county.

"Pitt county has been very lucky in not needing the Red Cross aid except once in recent years when a small tornado struck in the Grifton area," Turnage pointed out, "but the Red Cross did a good job of helping the people who suffered in the tornado, and they stand ready to help the people of the county any time a disaster strikes."

The community chairmen and the goal set for each community as released by Turnage are: Bethel, Tom Andrews, $450; Fountain, J. L. Peck, $300; Ayden, The Eastern Star, Mrs. O. G. Stroud, chairman, $800; Bell Arthur, Herschel Tyson, $130; Belvoir, Jack Warren, $130; Chocod, Marvin Smith and Mrs. W. C. Spencer, $265.

Falkland, T. K. Fountain, $200; Grimesland, Jennie Outlaw, $200; Grifton, W. I. Bissette, $300; Pactolus, George Perry, $170; Greenville, R. O. Everett, $6,000; Farmville, Bob Rouse, Jr. and Mrs. Ruth Gibbs, $1,800; Stokes, Charles Alfred Forbes, $263; and Winterville, Ronald Carroll, $400.

Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 28 (AP)—A 25-year-old coal miner has given up his work in the pits to join the Army because:

"I'm just sick and tired of John L. Lewis and the coal strikes and what I've seen since I've traveled the coal fields since Dec. 28."

Ray Allen of Mohawk, W. Va., a miner for nine years, told reporters when he enlisted here yesterday that he had traveled in a "dozen coal-mining states from West Virginia to Colorado just to see what was going on."

"I've seen children hungry, miners idle and grumpy and their wives despairing. They are fed up with John L. and hundreds of miners have told me they're not going back to the pits."

Allen said he had worked in the soft coal mines of the Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp. before the stoppage. He was carrying a United Mine Workers of America union card and a West Virginia permit to work in a mine.

He said his tour showed him that "the miners are satisfied with the contract they had. It was the best we've ever had, and as far as I can find out they don't want any more, no matter what Mr. Lewis thinks."

Warn Shipping

Taipei, Formosa, Feb. 28 (AP)—In the wake of new attacks on two American merchantmen, Nationalist China warned today that all ships trading with the Chinese Communists are subject to air assault.

The Pioneer Dale of the United States Lines and the Flying Clipper of the Isbrandtsen Line were bombed and strafed by unidentified planes yesterday off Taingiao in Communist North China. The bombs missed. But both ships were peppered by machinegun fire. One sailor was injured.

Escaped Leopard Felled By Mickey

Oklahoma City, Feb. 28 (AP)—Oklahoma City's escaped leopard was captured alive at its pit today—felled by a Mickey.

Knockout drops placed in chunks of horse meat subdued the ferocious jungle cat long enough for him to be captured.

Zoo keeper Julian Frazier slipped a noose around the drugged animal's neck and held him while he was caged.

Hunger finally drove the beast back to Lincoln Park Zoo, the only home he had known since being brought here a week ago from the jungles of India.

He had been free since 1 p. m. Saturday when he leaped from a barbed pit, 18 feet deep, and scampered away while onlookers stood frozen with terror.

Thousands of hunters had stalked the cat since his escape. Airplanes, helicopters and specially trained dogs were employed in the search.

But an empty stomach and perhaps a yearning for the mate he left behind prompted the fugitive to return the same way he left—of his own accord.

The leopard was found groggy by park employees and a game ranger as he was slinking sleepily toward the bait placed near his pit.

Frazier had given up all hope of capturing the animal shortly after it escaped.

Chiang Kai-Shek Plans To Resume Presidency

Taipei, Feb. 28 (AP)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek announced today he would resume the presidency of Nationalist China tomorrow. The Chinese leader said he also would assume the post of commander-in-chief of all Nationalist forces.

He "retired" from both jobs in January of last year, just before the fall of Nanking.

Vice President Li Tsung-ten became acting president. Li is recuperating in a New York hospital from a surgical operation.

Chiang's message today made no mention of whether Li has given his concurrence to the generalissimo's action.

In a brief statement circulated through the official news agency, Chiang said:

"I have decided to return to the post of president from March 1. "Since Li Tsung-ten's departure (for the U. S.) in November last year the state has been without a president and the armed forces without a commander in chief.

Still Assessing Cold Wave Cost

Raleigh, Feb. 28 (AP)—Agricultural officials today still were trying to assess crop damage caused by cold weather of the past few days.

One official said it was "obvious there had been some damage."

Frank Parker, head of the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service, was making a trip today through the Sandhills commercial peach area to see if the peach crop had suffered any extensive damage.

Reports from the commercial peach area yesterday were contradictory. One grower said he did not think the crop was far enough advanced for the cold to harm it. Another said he thought there was some damage.

The U. S. Weather Bureau at Raleigh, meanwhile, held out a note of hope for farmers. Garrett Demos, head of the bureau, said the outlook for tonight was for above-freezing temperatures generally throughout the state.

Reports from a number of areas indicated that crops had come through the cold snap of Sunday and Monday without extensive damage.

Farmers in the truck farming section of New Hanover County said apparently little damage to lettuce, radishes and beets was caused by a 23-degree temperature Sunday night.

One grower said that several days of chilly weather had "toughened up" the crops and helped prevent damage.

In Pasquotank and Currituck counties, reports from growers generally were that no permanent harm was done to potato and cabbage crops.

A Lot Of People Would Like To Live As Long As Possible; Atomic War Could Change A Lot Of Things; Where To Hide? The 'Little People' Are Worried

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Feb. 28 (AP)—I know a woman who wants to live as long as possible, which seems natural enough.

She works here in Washington. She's middle-aged. She saved her pennies. Several years ago she bought a house.

This was when people still were talking about the atomic bombs which the U. S. dropped on Japan. Terrific as they were, those bombs were able to wipe out an area only about one mile square.

Since the woman bought her house two miles from here, that seemed safe enough if an enemy dropped such a bomb on the capital.

In fact, at that time experts were saying the Russians, the only possible enemy, couldn't make a bomb before 1953 at the earliest.

Then, somehow, we began to hear talk that the bombs of the future, no matter who made them, could knock out an area three miles square.

The woman told me this disturbed her. But she became really disturbed last September.

That's when President Truman, to the surprise of everyone, announced the Russians had achieved an atomic explosion. This was quite a bit sooner than the experts had figured on.

The woman told me: "I think I ought to get rid of my place and buy a house 12 miles or so from Washington. I'd feel safer."

A little while after that, a few months or so, we began work on a hydrogen bomb.

This sounded much more impressive than any previous bombs. Experts said such a bomb could lay waste an area 100 miles square. If the Russians made a bomb like that, and some one guessed they were working on it, and then some day dropped one here, the woman's house 12 miles from here wouldn't last very long.

So I thought about it. I thought: Maybe if she had a house 60 miles from here she'd feel better.

That would give her a margin of safety of about 10 miles if a Russian dropped a hydrogen bomb dead center on Washington, since then it would only wipe out an area 30 miles on each side of the city.

But suppose in the darkness the Russians bomber lost his way and let go a few miles to one side of

Contempt Trial Of ILMW Enters 2nd Day

More Talk Of Possible Seizure; Continuing Spread Of Coal Famine

Washington, Feb. 28 (AP)—The government went ahead today with the contempt trial of John L. Lewis' miners union, amid (1) still more talk of possible government seizure of the mines and (2) a continuing spread-of troubles from the coal shortage.

One government official offered the personal view that government seizure would appear inevitable if there is not real progress toward a strike settlement.

However, all contract talks were off for the present. Negotiations were suspended yesterday after getting nowhere. They still are subject to re-opening on short notice.

Moreover, there was no sign from the White House that President Truman is changing tactics and planning to ask for a law that would permit the government to seize the mines.

Union leader Lewis, away from the capital since last Friday, was due back today from the funeral of a brother at Springfield, Ill. A decision by Lewis to scale down union contract demands, could get bargaining started again.

The chances of getting the miners back to work seemed as bleak as ever. Cold was gripping a large part of the country made the fuel shortage felt even more acutely.

More and more industries complained they had not enough fuel to keep plants warm.

It is against the background of this picture that government attorneys presented their contempt case in federal court here to Judge Richmond B. Keach.

The government contends the United Mine Workers Union is guilty of both civil and criminal contempt because the miners have disobeyed the court's Feb. 11 back-to-work order. The strike has continued in defiance of the order.

A possible multi-million dollar fine against the UMW whose treasury is estimated at between $13,000,000 and $20,000,000 is the only weapon the government has at the moment to try to get the miners back.

But will they return even after a fine? Their mood, as reflected in comments from the coal fields, is they won't go back until they get a new work contract. They may be ready to forfeit their whole union treasury.

Challenge Soviet To Stage Free German Election

Frankfurt, Germany, Feb. 28 (AP)—The United States challenged Russia today to hold elections throughout all Germany, possibly Oct. 15, on the basis of free balloting.

Oct. 15 is the date the Russians have set for an election in the Soviet-sponsored East German Peoples Republic.

The proposal was made by the U. S. high commissioner, John J. McCloy. But he indicated the United States will take no initiative in organizing such an election.

McCloy's statement was interpreted here as a counter to Soviet propaganda statements that the Communists are the only ones who can reunite Germany.

Friends Honor Mrs. Betty Clark On 91st Birthday

Happy Birthday! Happy Birthday! is a greeting that brings joy. Particularly was this true on Monday evening when members of the T. E. L. class of Memorial Baptist church and other friends gathered to greet Mrs. Betty Clark on her ninety-first birthday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. W. Hodnett, on Billmore street.

Before the fireplace with its golden glow Mrs. Clark sat in an easy chair to greet her friends, who came with gifts expressing their love and appreciation. The living room and dining room were lovely with a profusion of cut flowers and potted plants sent by loving friends and truly made a fitting setting for the birthday party given by Mrs. Clark's two daughters, Mrs. A. W. Hodnett and Miss Louise Clark.

The large two-tiered birthday cake was a gift of Mrs. J. C. Duval of Richmond, formerly of Greenville, and a member of the T. E. L. class. Another gift that was both unique and attractive was a doll whose arms and sun bonnet were paper bills, while silver money made ears, feet, nose and mouth and the full skirt of green and yellow crepe paper was elaborately decorated with gold (new copper). This was also a gift of a former Greenville lady, Mrs. Vernon Parrish, of Richmond.

The Rev. Mr. R. E. Hardaway, pastor of the group, read the 103rd Psalm and two poems, "Ninety," by Edgar Guest, and "Dear Old Mother," by Charles Ross, followed by prayer. The group sang "Happy Birthday" and other loved songs of long ago.

Mrs. Hodnett and Miss Clark served refreshments consisting of ice cream, fruit cake, birthday cake and salted nuts. This brought to conclusion the happy event and as the guests left, the wish of each must have been that I too may grow old gracefully and full of charm with a deep abiding faith in God through the years even as our dear friend, Mrs. Clark.

Come, grow old along with me, The best is yet to be. Those present for the happy occasion were Mrs. Betty Clark, Mrs. A. W. Hodnett, Miss Louise Clark, Rev. and Mrs. R. E. Hardaway, Mrs. Irma Dunn, Mrs. R. E. Pittman, Mrs. R. T. Burnette, Mrs. W. C. T. Briggs, Mrs. N. C. Brooks, Mrs. A. E. Hobgood, Mrs. Nan Moore, Mrs. W. J. Clark, Mrs. J. B. Johnston, Mrs. Irene Stroud, Mrs. E. S. Hamric, Mrs. W. L. Hall, Mrs. J. P. Moss and Miss Annie Lawrence.

Newsman Gather For Trial Of Atom Scientist

London, Feb. 28—(AP)—A group of about 70 reporters, representing the world's press from both sides of the iron curtain, was allotted seats today for the trial of the brilliant German born physicist who is accused of relaying precious atomic secrets to Russia.

There was no indication how the scientist, Dr. Klaus Emil Julius Fuchs, would plead to the two counts of violating the official secrets act. If he should plead guilty and call no defense witnesses, the proceedings might take only a few words. British authorities have announced he confessed. A plea of innocence, however, might cause the trial to continue for some time.

The government confirmed that Attorney General Sir Hartley Shawcross will lead the crown's prosecution.

National Anthem Soothes Ruffled U.S. Ambassador

Guatemala, Guatemala, Feb. 28—(AP)—The strains of the Star Spangled Banner have soothed diplomatic tempers. U. S. Ambassador Richard C. Patterson said he is willing to forget what he called an insult to the American flag at the Central American and Caribbean Olympic games Saturday.

Patterson protested to Foreign Minister Simeon Gonzalez Arevalo because the Guatemalan band played a Puerto Rican folk song instead of the U.S. national anthem Saturday when Puerto Rican athletes presented the American flag. Puerto Rico is a U.S. territory.

Yesterday a Puerto Rican athlete won first prize in the broad jump at the games and the band made amends by playing the Star Spangled Banner. Patterson stood smilingly at attention.

Takes Blame For Grounding Ship

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 28—(AP)—Capt. William D. Brown, commanding officer of the battleship Missouri, said today "I and I alone bear the sole responsibility" for her grounding last month.

"As captain of the ship, it was my duty to keep her safe and secure. I didn't do it," the 47-year-old officer told a naval court of inquiry.

This dramatic reversal of Brown's previous defense tactics came as the court opened its 18th day of sessions designed to fix responsibility for the grounding which occurred in Chesapeake Bay, January 17.

When Brown took the stand in his own defense February 18 and February 20 he testified his "team of officers" fell down when he "needed it most" January 17, and he felt "utterly alone as far as assistance from my team of officers was concerned."

Today, he stood tall and straight before the court and reading from a prepared statement said:

"I feel, and I feel it strongly, that despite all of the numerous shortcomings of others which have been revealed in this courtroom, I could have, and should have, kept the ship in deep water."

Truman's Cousin Fears Harry Is 'Kidnap' Victim

Long Beach, Calif., Feb. 22—(AP)—Rolland Truman, attorney, a third cousin of President Truman, said he believes "cousin Harry has been kidded by leftwingers."

To remedy the situation, he's decided to run for Congress, he says. "When elected I shall utilize all my efforts to rescue the President from his abductors," he said. "I feel that cousin Harry is being held prisoner by advisers who lean to Socialistic philosophies of government."

Truman, 37, is a Democrat but will run on both Democratic and Republican tickets against the Democratic incumbent, Clyde Doyle.

Liberty Bell Chosen as Savings Bonds Drive Symbol

Washington, D. C.—Secretary of the Treasury John W. Snyder, right, looks very pleased as Sales Director Leon J. Markham of the United States Savings Division shows him the symbol for the Independence Drive, which will open May 15, and run through July 4, to stimulate the sale of savings bonds.

The Liberty Bell symbolizes not only our political independence but also all these characteristics of Americanism which serve to sustain our independence," Secretary Snyder said. "Of these characteristics, thrift, of course, is one of the most outstanding. Thus in the Independence Drive, the Liberty Bell will be an especially suitable reminder of the importance of savings and Savings Bonds to our economic life and to the financial independence of the individual," he asserted.

Urges Settling Russian Issues

Raleigh, N.C., Feb. 23—(AP)—The immediate aim of America's foreign policy, according to Dr. Robert Hutchins, "must be a general settlement with Russia."

The chancellor of the University of Chicago said "our policy is to scare Russia—and wait for the revolution. That policy has failed."

Hutchins spoke before the Institute of Religion last night. He was the last speaker on this year's Institute series, held for six successive Monday nights. The Institute is sponsored by Raleigh's United Church.

"The doctrine of preponderant power has turned against the authors of it," Hutchins declared. "We have sowed the wind of the atomic bomb and now we are reaping the whirlwind of the hydrogen bomb."

Hutchins pointed out that during the time when we possessed the atom bomb and the Russian's didn't, they put on their greatest show of effectiveness.

"It is perfectly plain," declared Hutchins, whose talk was entitled "World Government," "that unless relations among nations are changed, the catastrophe is not far off. . . . The question is whether this can be done in a way that is acceptable both to the Russians and ourselves."

Apartment For Hens Popular

New York—(AP)—A method of poultry raising often known as "apartment house" has become rather widespread in the eastern section of the country. Basically, the method comprises poultry houses of two or more floors, with chickens housed in pens on each one. Normally such chickens never touch the ground, unless in their middle growing months they are put temporarily on "range."

Campaign Speech By Sen. Graham

Raleigh, N.C., Feb. 23—(AP)—Senator Frank P. Graham is scheduled to make a campaign speech at Debon tonight in his fight for reelection.

Graham has three other speeches on tap this week. His campaign schedule also calls for him to appear at North Wilkesboro Thursday, at Concord Friday, and at Rocky Mount Saturday.

Michigan State footballers Everett Grandelius, halfback, and Bob Ciesek, quarterback, also are members of the Spartan baseball team.

Police Inspect Overtime Work

London—(AP)—Police cars roared up to a suburban northwest London movie theater in the early morning darkness. Officers cautiously surrounded the building. Cleaning workers had reported hearing suspicious noise inside the theater.

When the police finally opened the door they found a workman busy on a remodeling job. He explained he wanted to get it over so he could take in a football game in the afternoon.

'Curb Market' For Humans Who Want Some Work

Jacksonville, Fla.—(AP)—There is an unusual "curb market" here for humans. No one seems to know how it got started but each morning, at one street corner, a large number of workmen assemble, carrying their lunch boxes. They seem all ready for a day's work, but they just stand, waiting.

Then a truck will pull up, the driver will shout a couple words and a number, and some of the waiting men will scramble aboard the vehicle. This is repeated by other trucks until perhaps a major portion of the men is gone. The corner is the market for a fair amount of Jacksonville's unskilled labor.

If construction business is not so good, there may be a few trucks of a morning. The men usually hang around the corner until about mid-morning. If no job shows up, they go home.

SETS ALUMINUM GOAL
New Delhi, India—(AP)—The target committee for the aluminum industry has set 3,550 tons as the production goal for this year. Committee members observed, however, that the industry is hampered by inadequate supplies of electric power, petroleum coke and gasoline for trucks transporting bauxite.

Tonight's Games
 7:30—Farmville vs. Robersonville (Girls)
 9:00—Ayden vs. Robersonville (Boys)

By BERT MOYE
 Ayden, Feb. 28.—The Vanceboro sextette defeated the South Edgecombe girls, 38-28, and the Red Devils of Farmville high school defeated the South Edgecombe quint, 52-36, in the boys' division, to advance to the semi-finals play-offs in the annual Coastal Athletic tournament here last night in the Ayden high school gymnasium in the opening rounds of play.

The second round of play will be staged tonight when Farmville and the Robersonville girls meet at 7:30 o'clock and Ayden and Robersonville boys' teams meet at 9:00 o'clock.

Vanceboro 38, S. Edgecombe 28. The Vanceboro sextette, who had defeated the South Edgecombe quint on two previous meetings, rallied in the final two quarters last night to defeat their court rivals, the South Edgecombe girls. Trailing at the half by a 16-13 count, the Vanceboro lassies came through in the third quarter to pile up a total of 13 points while holding their opponents to four lone points and take the lead at 38-20 as the third period ended.

During the first half the Edgecombe girls led all the way and at the end of the first period were out from 12-9, and as the half ended had a 16-13 advantage.

The Craven County lassies put up a strong defense in the third period and after about three minutes of play forged ahead when Joyce Wilson dropped in a field goal after the score had been tied at 18-18. The Vanceboro sextette held the lead the rest of the way and were never threatened from then on.

Lois Jean Forrest set the pace for the winners, accounting for a total of 16 points. Joyce Wilson was second high with 13 points, followed by Beverly Wetherington with nine points.

Mavourreen Whaley led the losers' attack, scoring 14 of the total points made by her team. Ann Webb and Sue Lilly, with eight and six points respectively, accounted for the balance of the scoring.

Farmville 52, S. Edgecombe 36. Coach Elbert Moyer's Red Devils of Farmville had little trouble with the South Edgecombe quint in the second game of the opening round here last night as they swamped the Edgecombe County lads by a score of 52-36.

During the first quarter the Farmville lads piled up a total of 17 points while holding the South Edgecombe lads to three lone field goals. After the first four minutes of play it was Farmville the rest of the game. At this stage of the game the South Edgecombe boys had come from behind to knot the count at 6-6 but the Farmville hoopsters began to hit the basket regularly from then on.

During the second quarter the South Edgecombe boys outscored the Farmville boys and had narrowed the lead to a seven point margin—25-18 when the half ended.

The Red Devils came back in the third period to add 17 more points while limiting the Edgecombe lads to only six to take a 42-23 lead at this point.

Albert Cannon, the Red Devils' center, took high honors in the scoring division for the winners, piling up a total of 22 points. Carl King and Harry Albritton got 10 apiece for second high scorers.

Mark Stancill with 16 points was the big gun for the losers while his teammate, Doug Eason, collected a total of 12 points.

Walker To Head Football Clinic

Cedarville, O., Feb. 28.—(AP)—D. C. (Peashead) Walker will head the football section of Cedarville College's fourth annual clinic Aug. 1-5. Louis Has Easy Decision In Bout

Albany, Ga., Feb. 28.—(AP)—Joe Louis took an easy decision from Willie Johnson of Charlotte, N.C., in a four-round exhibition bout here last night.

The former heavyweight champion floored Johnson for counts of eight in the second and last rounds. The North Carolinian was game, but never landed a solid blow.

Weights were not announced. About 2,000 spectators saw the fight.

Bold Billy..... by Pap

Billy Graham has had close to 100 ring battles and he figures it is about time he got a shot at the welterweight crown worn by Ray Robinson. Graham won a decision over Robinson when they met years ago in the Greenwich House tournament as an amateur in the 80-pound class and won titles in the 90 and 105-pound divisions.

Graham did considerable boxing in a C.C.C. camp in Idaho, and decided that he would turn professional when he returned to his home in New York's Eastside. Under the guidance of Jack Reilly and Irving Cohen, Graham developed into a boxing master. He learned to use his left to jab with perfection from Popeye Woods, a welterweight in the same stable. His right inside to the heart is an effective punch that has served Billy well. Billy has patterned his ring style after his idol, Billy Conn.

Aside from dreaming of wearing the welterweight crown, Billy's chief ambition is to open a mid-town steak house with his father, a West Side tavern owner for many years. Now that he expects to become a father shortly, Graham feels that he'd like to set up a business and the role of host to his friends appeals to him. His hobby, photography, keeps him busy between bouts and he has quite a collection of prints which he hopes one day will decorate his dream restaurant.

Bethel Tourney Set March 3, 4

The Intermediate and Elementary basketball tournament of the Pitt County Intercollegiate Athletic Association gets under way this coming Friday and Saturday in Bethel. Teams from Bethel, Farmville, Falkland, Ayden, Grimesland, Post Oak, Chicod, Cherry Lane and Nicholas will compete in the two-day tourney.

First games between the elementary boys and girls get underway Friday and pit the Post Oak boys against the Bethel boys and the Grimesland girls against the Bethel team.

Other games Friday are Nicholas boys vs. Cherry Lane in the third game, Grimesland boys vs. Chicod in the fifth, Falkland girls vs. Cherry Lane in the fourth, Post Oak girls vs. Farmville, and Farmville boys vs. Falkland.

All intermediate games will be played Saturday. First games match Bethel boys against Ayden and Bethel girls against Farmville.

Two other games on tap Saturday are Winterville girls against Ayden and Farmville boys against Winterville.

The single elimination or sudden death tourney will have the finals on Saturday. Trophies will be awarded after the championship games in both elementary and intermediate divisions.

Admission to the games Friday is 15 and 25 cents, and 25 and 35 cents Friday night. The latter prices are in effect for Saturday's games.

Chicod's Cagers Take Twin Bill

Chicod, Feb. 28.—Both Chicod high school teams won last Friday night, the girls beating Bridgeton, 44-11, and the boys winning by the same total, 44-35.

Selma Shirley and Shirley Gaskins led the victorious girls with 15 and 10 points apiece in a game that saw Bridgeton scoring only one point during the first half.

Hargett was high for the losers with six points. The boys won behind the shooting of Max Lewis with 22 points. Run-rup in scoring was William Mills with nine. Lee, for Bridgeton, collected 16 points for second-high for the evening.

Bethel's Indians Take Double Bill Over Bath Clubs

Bethel, Feb. 28.—The boys' and girls' basketball teams last night took the measure of the Bath clubs in the next-to-the-last game played here for the season.

The girls avenged a one-point defeat in the last outing with Bath as they won last night, 43-32. The boys again won handily, 67-43.

The revenge factor had a lot to do with the girls' win because they allowed the Bath girls only 32 points—the exact amount they themselves collected in bowing in the game played in Bath. The Beaufort sextette took that one, 33-32.

The Indian girls took a quick lead, resting at the quarter on the strength of a 12-6 margin. The reserves played the major part of the second quarter, sporting a slim lead at the break, 19-17.

The regulars entered the game after the half and ran up a 32-24 score at the third. The reserves were worked intermittently through the second half.

Toddy Smith and Mary Ella Moore led their Pitt County mates with 16 and 14 points respectively. Angellin Hyman and Daphne Bowers were the defensive stars for the Bethel team.

For Bath, Ola Lee got 12 points to lead her team, with Tillie Waters sparking the defense.

The boys nearly doubled their first-game score last night, missing by five points the 72 needed to add insult to injury.

The game was tight through the first half, Bethel leading at the quarter 10-9 and 28-24 at the intermission. But in the last two stanzas, they took things into their own hands and dashed to one of their highest scoring totals of the season.

John Nelson sparked the Indians' scoring with 19 points. The center racked up one of his highest totals to date in coping offensively honors for the Indians. Mac Hemingway was next high with 14.

Earl Johnson and Hilton Tetterton led the defense.

Tonight Walter Latham's quintets take on Williamson there in two games which should be harder than the two wins they copped here last week.

The last home game of the campaign will be played in the high school gymnasium Friday night when the Indians wind up their schedule with Morehead City.

Chapman Enters Scottish Event

New York, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Richard D. Chapman of Pinehurst, N.C., has filed an entry for the 1950 British amateur golf championship at St. Andrews, Scotland, May 22-27.

His entry was reprieved yesterday by the United States Golf Association Offices. Also filing yesterday was Bing Crosby.

Chapman is a former U.S. amateur champion and runner-up for the British title in 1947. He reached the fifth round in 1948 but did not enter last year.

Mikan's Scoring Dominates NBA

New York, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Geo. Mikan, voted the greatest basketball player in the first half of the century, today continued to dominate the National Basketball Association scoring parade.

The giant Minneapolis center has boosted his point output to 1,611, almost 400 more than runner-up Alex Groza of Indianapolis has rimmed. Groza has shoved in 1,280.

The Evereadys illustrated their name last night as they took over second place in the Carbon Company bowling league, defeating the Nine Lives three games.

The latter team dropped from their last week's standings to third place by virtue of the three-game blow. The Penites still maintain two games on the field, remaining in first place for the past six games.

The Evereadys had a hot night. Ann Turnage did the trick as mainstay for the team by bowling a high 202 game to take over in single-game high standings. Her last night's figure raced far afield from the previous high of 183 pins held by Frances Carawan for a week.

Ken Whitely aided and abetted the Evereadys' cause as he notched five pins on his average, bowling last night a high of 175.

The women on the four teams were the outstanding bowlers last night as the league finished the second round. All three leaders in high single and three game high totals remained in one-two-three order but their totals were higher than the 15-game standings.

Besides Ann Turnage's high of 202, Frances Carawan felt the heat of contention by increasing her total of last week from 155 to 182 pins. And Ila Gay maintained her 155 pin average for a single game.

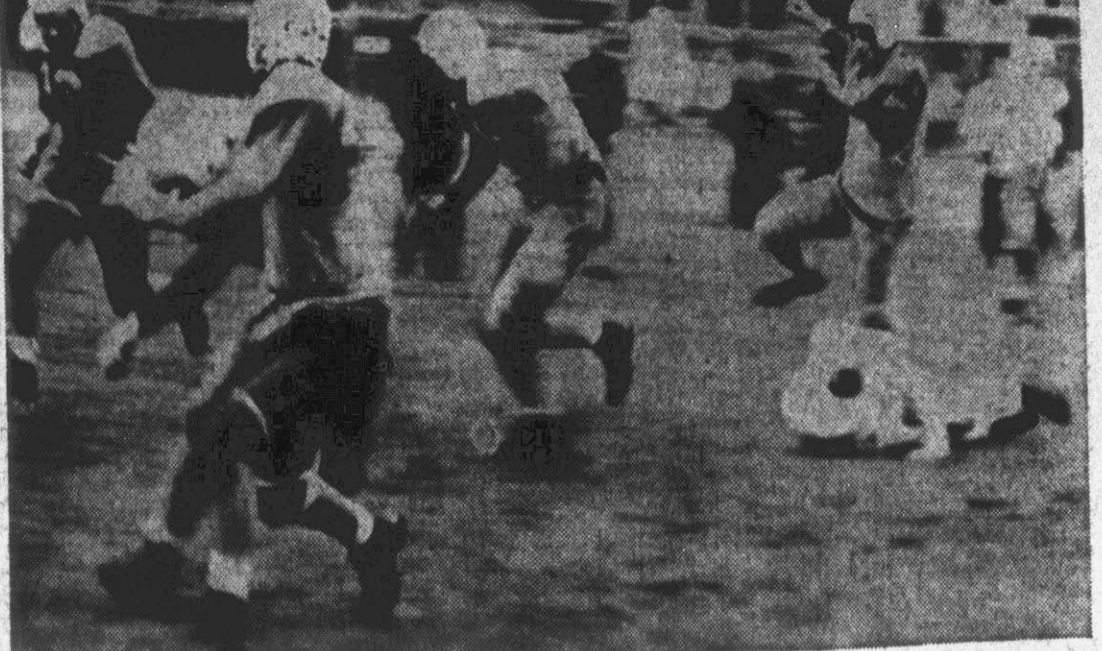

For the women in three games, Carawan remained in first place with a stagnant 448 high which she posted last week. But Turnage and Gay came up considerably. The former bowled 427 last night to best her 361 average of last week. Gay came up from 329 to 361.

As the competition gets hotter at the end of 18 games, the men's averages are the same. W. Bryan remains atop the heap for a single game with a high of 210, the same as last week. The same is true of his three-game-high with 552 which is still intact. The other two leaders are Bill Wells and Rommie Mallison with 489 and 457 respectively in three game averages. Sam Brooks brings up third place in one game with 185.

Individual averages remain substantially the same, the only change over last week is Mallison dropping a pin to 132 this week. Bryan and Wells remain in one-two order with 168 and 143 averages.

Carbon League standings through 18 games:
 Team Won Lost Pct.
 Penites 11 7 .611
 Evereadys 10 8 .556
 Nine Lives 9 9 .500
 Black Cats 6 12 .333

Program Of Operettas To Be Presented This Week

American folk music and the sparkling melodies of Gilbert and Sullivan will be sung by student musicians Thursday and Friday of this week, when the Department of Music at East Carolina Teachers College will present a program of two operettas. Under the direction of Dan E. Vornholt of the faculty, "Trial by Jury," by Gilbert and Sullivan and Kurt Weill's powerful modern opera "Down in the Valley" will be given each evening at 8:00 o'clock in the Wright auditorium.

Two Greenville singers will be among principals in the casts. Allison Hearne, soprano, will have the role of Jenny Parsons, heroine of Weill's folk drama, and will play opposite Robert Mays of Hopewell, Va., baritone. Rodney Roberts, baritone, will be the judge in the gay satire on court procedures with which Gilbert and Sullivan have delighted audiences for years.

Others who will appear include Mary Wallace Foy of Pollockville, Alexander Livesey of Rocky Mount, and Alfred Krekler of Gothenburg, Nebraska. A chorus made up of members of the College Choir and the Women's Chorus of the college will sing; and the East Carolina orchestra, directed by Mr. Vornholt, will play.

"Trial by Jury" will be presented in modern costumes, and simple sets will be used as background for the rollicking court scene. "Down in the Valley" offers something new in the operatic drama. First produced at Indiana University in 1948 and highly praised in the nation's press, the one-act production has as its musical motif the popular American folk song about a lover who begs his sweetheart to "write him a letter and send it by mail, send it in care of Birmingham Jail." The mournful and hauntingly beautiful melody echoes through the score of the operetta.

Other folk melodies which are used in the score by Kurt Weill, noted composer, are "Sourwood Mountain," "The Lonesome Dove," "Hop Up My Ladies," and "The Little Black Train."

The story of "Down in the Valley" concerns Brack Weaver, played by Mr. Mays, and his sweetheart Jenny, played by Miss Hearne. As the operetta opens, Brack is in jail for killing an unwanted suitor of Jenny's, and events leading up to the murder are told in a series of flashbacks.

Scenery designed by the Department of Art at the college, lighting effects used to create the illusion of shifts in time, and a large chorus, sometimes singing in the ballad manner and sometimes serving as something like a Greek chorus prophesying doom, will add interest to the performances Thursday and Friday. The Department of Music has the assistance of members of various other departments at the college in staging the two operettas this week. Cooperative effort on the part of a number of individuals and groups on the campus promises to make the programs well worth seeing and hearing.

Cherry To Vote For Willis Smith

Gastonia, N.C., Feb. 28—(AP)—Former Gov. R. Gregg Cherry says he'll vote for Willis Smith in the May primary race for U.S. senator.

Four others, including Sen. Frank P. Graham and former Sen. Robert Rice Reynolds, are entered.

"Mr. Graham is my friend, but Mr. Smith got me into politics 20 odd years ago and I'll have to stick by him," Cherry said from his home here last night.

Asked if he planned to participate actively in the campaign, Cherry indicated that he did not, but added, "Of course that depends on what develops."

Cherry returned to law practice here after retiring as governor in January, 1949.

The two other candidates are Olla Ray Boyd of Pinetown and Menley R. Dunnaway of Charlotte.

Industrialist To Support Graham

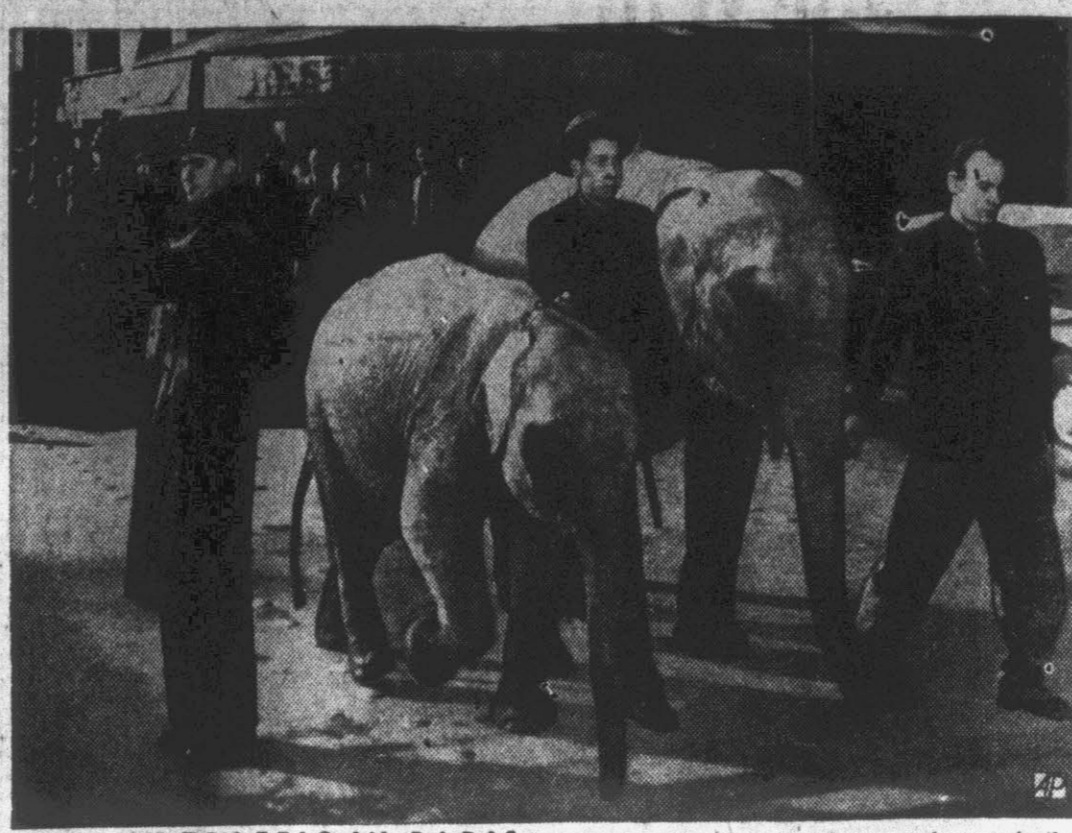

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 28—(AP)—One of the state's leading industrialists, J. Spencer Love, has come out in support of Senator Frank P. Graham in his fight for reelection.

Love, chairman of the board of Burlington Mills, declared yesterday "we need many more such men in Washington" as Graham "rather than less." Love's statement was released here by Graham's campaign headquarters.

Because of the anti-clogging property of FOA-5X, Shell Fuel Oil for home heating cleans as it heats.

FOA-5X helps keep your Fuel Tank from Rusting

More news too: new Shell Fuel Oil with FOA-5X has a powerful anti-rust action... which retards the formation of rust and scale inside your storage tank.

Shell Scientists worked for 15 years

12 years of Shell research have gone into the development of FOA-5X. And 3 additional years were spent testing FOA-5X in thousands of homes with burner units of all types and with only normal summer maintenance. In every test the result was the same: not a single case of burner failure due to a clogged filter screen was reported!

Wild Animal Population Holding Its Own In Parks

Washington, Feb. 26—(AP)—The life populations of the national parks fluctuate somewhat from year to year but in general the wild animals are holding their own.

500 reports by Victor H. Cahalane, chief of the Biology Division of the National Park Service, on the basis of this agency's annual game summary.

Among the most plentiful large animals are the wapiti or elk, now totaling some 23,500, about 1,000 more than were estimated a year ago, Cahalane said.

Deer have decreased slightly, to about 2,800 white-tails, 17,000 mule deer and 2,200 black-tail deer.

Other slight declines are reported for mountain goats, now numbering about 1,100, moose, 1,550, and black bears, 1,500.

Moderate increases are reported for bison, to 1,700; for bighorns, to 2,800, and for grizzly bears, to 425.

The reports by species included: White-tail deer, in the western and southwestern parts of Great Smoky Mountains National Park, N. C.-Tenn., increased to about 50; elsewhere in the park scarce to absent.

Elk—Blue Ridge Parkway, Va.-N. C., herd of three or four has increased within 10 years to about 35. Black bears—Great Smoky Mountain, 250.

The Great Smoky bear population has been considerably reduced by legal hunting in North Carolina, and the toll by poachers and landowners catching animals molesting livestock equalled the legal kill.

Life Expectation At All-Time High Of 67.8 in 1949

New York, N.Y.—The expectation of life at birth among American wage-earners and their families reached an all-time high of 67.8 years in 1949, an increase of about .6 of a year from 1948, according to the statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. It was the sixth year in succession to show a gain.

This is based upon the company's experience with its millions of industrial policyholders who are a large sample of the wage-earner population. Because of the marked improvement in mortality, these wage-earners now enjoy a life expectancy equal to that of the nation as a whole, whereas in 1911 their expectancy was six years less than that of the general population.

The 1949 death rate of 6.4 per 1,000 for the insured group was the lowest on record, 14 percent lower than it was 10 years ago, and only about one half of the death rate recorded for 1911.

"Health conditions in 1949 were generally favorable," the statisticians report. "Neither the heat wave in mid-summer nor the epidemic of acute poliomyelitis materially affected the mortality as a whole."

Important factors in the improved mortality have been the sharp drop in pneumonia deaths in recent years and the long-term decline in tuberculosis deaths. New low death rates were registered in 1949 for these diseases, and also for the principal communicable diseases of childhood, diarrhea and enteritis, appendicitis, typhoid fever, syphilis, and the diseases of childbearing.

The cancer rate was about the same as for 1948, and the diseases of the heart, arteries, and kidneys showed a somewhat more favorable rate than in 1948—the lowest, in fact, since 1934.

The death rate from accidents of all kinds established a new low in 1949, with motor vehicle fatalities declining for the third year in a row. Suicide and homicide death rates were each lower than for any year since the war.

Accomplice Gets One Year Term

Windsboro, S.C., Feb. 27—(AP)—Peggy King, 21, Charlotte, N. C. waitress, will not have to serve more than one year imprisonment for complicity in a $41,350 robbery. She will be released immediately if she pays a $3,000 fine, and will be put on probation for five years.

Judge T. B. Grenaker, who sentenced her after a jury convicted her Saturday as an accessory before the fact in the robbery of J. Wash Ladd at Salem Crossroads last Aug. 13, made that clear.

Your Estate - Your Government - Your Family

Your government takes, as a tax, a sizeable part of large estates with every change in ownership made by gifts or by inheritance.

The amount of the tax is a first charge which must be paid in cash before the family can benefit from the estate.

Have you foreseen the need of leaving sufficient cash or liquid property in your estate to provide for taxes — or will your executor be forced to convert some of your assets into cash at a possible loss to your estate?

Undoubtedly, you know of the far-reaching effect that these taxes may have upon your family and estate. Having had much experience along these lines, our Trust Department is keenly aware of the value of careful Estate and Will planning in solving many of these difficulties.

Your lawyer will supply you with necessary legal assistance, and we are glad to offer a helping hand from the financial standpoint.

More and more people are using our Trust Department. We hope that you, too, may discover the value to your family of our services as executor and trustee under your Will.

Home Girl

Chapter 20
Anne went walking the next day instead of getting married. She could smile faintly to herself even while doing it. She went by subway to Coney Island and walked on the long boardwalk. Anne could smile as she walked briskly along. She was certainly not wretched as a jilted bride was supposed to be. She walked with a swinging stride and took deep breaths of the good ocean air. She certainly didn't intend playing sick or being odd. Whatever the newspapers said, they could not say the bride was prostrated by the shock of the news. She appreciated the sudden kindness of both Adele and David, but she had laughed at their eagerness to help her. Adele had wanted her to take sanctuary at their house. Sanctuary from what? she had asked. Adele had promised that Don Carey would not be allowed to come near her to annoy her. She had laughed at that too and said, "Don doesn't annoy me. I am not sure I would have done just the same under the same circumstances. I dare say I really ought to be grateful to him."

She walked the full length of the boardwalk twice before going out on the pier to sit on the narrow seat and watch the fishermen. Now that Tony was out of her life she could think of him more clearly. She didn't hate Tony—or Celis. She wasn't even angry at them. It was merely something that had happened. It was a fact. Thinking, worrying, crying couldn't change it. She was enjoying the sun and at Coney Island today instead of marrying. It was as simple as that.

She chuckled. An old woman sitting near her, well wrapped up in a warm coat, smiled and spoke in a friendly way.

"You look so happy I can't help watching you. You don't come here often?"

"Very seldom. I'm afraid. But it is lovely today. I have been walking."

"I know. I saw you." The old woman nodded. "I said to myself: There goes a very happy girl. I wish I knew her. And now here I am talking to you. Sometimes life is very wonderful. I try to tell my daughters that, but all they can see is wanting more and more. Why should I make myself miserable now wanting a milk coat for the winter? Now it would be too hot. When snow comes my old muskrat will keep me just so warm."

Anne laughed. "You remind me of my father. He sees life that way too."

She was quite ready to go straight home now but she knew she would be in the way there. She walked a little more and then took the subway back to downtown Brooklyn and ate her first oysters of the new season at Sage and Tolner's famous restaurant.

After lunch she walked past Borough Hall and over the old Brooklyn Bridge. She was tired on reaching the Manhattan side and sat peacefully in City Hall Park. She glanced at the clock and got up, smiling. It was time to go home and take up the unspectacular but pleasant routine of her life. She stopped to get a box of sandy for the twins before starting uptown. They would be home already and waiting for her, and she felt a little leap to kiss her hair. And Mary. And Roger. It would be just as if it had been today. Very had caught her up in his arms and made her say "yes" before she had time to give him the "no" that was on her lips.

She got home to find the twins waiting for her, one at each iron-barred living room window, but with tear-stained faces. She waved to them but had to let herself in, as they didn't come leaping to meet her and shouting welcome to match the barking of the dogs. And there were no dogs either. The twins just stood by the windows waiting. She drew them into her arms and kissed them. Not only were their faces really tear-stained but they seemed on the point of tears even now that she was home. It was not only unusual but unique.

She scurried to put her coat away and were gone. She wanted to follow them or at least call them back and find out what it was but she really was tired.

"I'll have a good bath and change my clothes. Has Adele called, Mary?"

"Twice. And Mr. David."

"No reporters?" Anne grinned. "I'm not as important as we all thought."

"Would you like some tea?"

That was a vast concession from Mary, who willingly prepared the largest meals but was unconvinced of the importance of odd-hour drinks and snacks. Anne patted her arm.

"Nothing, thank you, Mary. I spurged on lunch in Brooklyn. I

Trial This Week For Six Escapees

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 28—(AP)—The six prisoners who escaped from a Northampton County road gang last November probably will go on trial this week for assault, escape and larceny.

The prisoners, according to prison department officials, are slated to appear in Hertford Superior Court at Winton.

With the aid of a pistol, the six overpowered a road gang foreman and a guard, handcuffed the two, and then fled in a prison truck.

keeps your Buick livelier longer

JUST realize one thing, good madam, good sir—as you pilot your Buick down the highway past the parade of lesser cars, you're the secret envy of most other drivers.

So you owe it to this admiring audience to keep that wonderful Buick of yours purring at its proudest—gliding over the roughest roads like a car on a cloud, with never a squeak—lively, long-striding, and staying that way longer!

And one of the easiest ways to do that is to wheel into our shop once a month—ask the man for our LUBRICARE—and here's what will happen:

- 1 One of our trained Buick mechanics will lubricate your car at the factory engineers specify—covering many points never touched elsewhere.
- 2 While he goes over your Buick, he gives you an extra service only a Buick man can render. He inspects the entire car with a trained Buick eye—making sure you get lubrication plus Buick care.
- 3 When you get your bill, you'll find a wonderful surprise—our LUBRICARE costs no more than a routine "grease job" but, man alive, what a difference it makes!
