Declines Confirm Or Deny Greenville Plant To Close

Rumors Spread American Lady Corset Company To Cease Operations Here; Amberg Says Definite Announcement Soon; Worker-Production Said A Factor

President Robert S. Amberg of American Lady Inc. today declined either to confirm or deny rumors that the company is planning to cease operations in its Greenville plant in the near future.

Amberg said in an interview this morning, "I'd rather not be quoted on anything," but added that some definite announcement will be made by the company by the end of March.

Rumors of the company's planning to cease operations here began to spread Wednesday of last week after letters had been received by employees of the Greenville plant from the regional office of the International Ladies Garment Workers union which stated the company is contemplating closing the local plant.

The letter said in part, "The American Lady Inc. will close its plant in Greenville on April 1st 1950, unless something most unexpected turns up to permit the shop to continue operations."

The letter also stated that in a meeting of the labor board with company officials in Greenville on March 1, Amberg told the union group "the company has been losing money consistently in the Greenville plant." The letter continued, "That is not such a shock to us, as Mr. Kramer had told your committee the same thing when it visited New York last December."

President Amberg was in New York Friday for a conference with reference to the situation in the Greenville plant, and although he had no public statement today, a reliable source reported the rumored company plans to cease operations here hinges on the relation of the productivity of the plant workers to the minimum hourly wage of 75 cents which is being paid under the new federal regulations that became effective January 26. The source said it is not the wage itself which has caused the company to consider moving its plant to another location, but the fact that it is not keeping pace with the increase in minimum pay required by law; and also that the increased minimum wage is disrupting the incentive system in the plant.

The American Lady Inc. began production in its plant in Greenville in September 1948. The company plant in Detroit was gradually moved to Greenville from then until June 1949 when the entire operations of the company were located at the Greenville plant.

The company produces corsets, brassieres and other ladies' foundation garments.

The plant, which employs principally women to sew the garments, paid a minimum wage of 50 cents an hour from the time the Green-

Chinese Bombers Attack Invaders

Taipei, Formosa, March 13—(AP)—Nationalist bombers today walloped communist invasion forces on the mainland as a new cabinet prepared to begin functioning on Formosa.

Main target was a potential invasion force of 4,000 communist troops off Chusan Island, Nationalist blockade base 100 miles southeast of Shanghai. Air headquarters claimed a third of the Red forces was wiped out, along with food stored at Ningpo, 75 miles south of Shanghai and a warehouse at Ninghai, 55 miles from there.

Simultaneous Appeals

United States And Australia Came Up With Calls For Concerted Efforts In Cold War At Almost The Same Time; Working Together; Armageddon In Asia

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

It's of more than passing interest that the U.S. secretary of state and the Australian minister of external affairs—laboring a world apart—should simultaneously call for concerted and intensified effort by democracy to meet the challenge of Russian communism.

These statements apparently are coincidental, yet both recognize the fundamental fact that Moscow is out for world domination. In effect they are a warning to folks who continue to dally with the thought that the cold war can be halted at this juncture by compromise.

There isn't anything which can halt communism, except something that is better and stronger than communism.

Secretary of State Acheson flung a new banner into the wind—"total diplomacy"—as an inspiration for an all out fight to prevent Red domination. He laid down two lines of foreign policy for this drive:

1. "To meet wherever possible all threats of the Soviet Union"—as in the cases of Turkey and Greece.
2. "To create those economic, political, social and psychological conditions that strengthen and create confidence in the democratic way of life." Illustration: the European Recovery Program, and the American aid in helping Indonesia to independence. The secretary summed up:

"When we have reached unity and determination on the part of the free nations—when we have eliminated all of the areas of weakness—we will be able to evolve working agreements with the Russians."

Meantime "down under" in Canberra, Australia's new minister of external affairs, Percy C. Spender, proposed a Pacific military and economic pact "between countries that have a vital interest in the stability of Asia and the Pacific, and which are at the same time capable of undertaking military commitments." This alliance would be headed by the United States and would include Australia, the United Kingdom, and other British Commonwealth countries, together with any other nations which might wish to join. He added:

"Defensive pacts are in many ways negative. We look toward a pact that has also positive aims—the promotion of democratic political insti-

Winston-Salem Mayor Will Oppose Sen. Hoey

Marshall Kurfees Announces Candidacy For U.S. Senate; Opens Campaign With Blast At Machine Politics

Winston-Salem, March 13—(AP)—Mayor Marshall C. Kurfees announced his candidacy today for the U. S. Senate against Clyde R. Hoey, opening his campaign with a blast against machine politics.

But he assured his Winston-Salem supporters that he wouldn't desert the office of mayor until or unless he had to give it up to take the oath in the U. S. Senate next January.

"Machine rule in North Carolina politics is on the way out," Mayor Kurfees predicted. "This has been evidenced in recent elections all the way from the local to the national level."

"After carefully surveying the situation over the state, I have come to the conclusion that the great majority of North Carolinians desire

'Stand Pat' On Housing Measure

Washington, March 13—(AP)—Supporters of a middle-income housing program declared today they are "standing pat" in the face of mounting Senate onslaught against the bill.

Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.), leading the fight for approval of the controversial administration-backed measure, observed that "many senators are still on the fence," adding:

"We are standing pat because I think we can pick some votes when the bill is better understood."

Files Appeal On Conviction Of 'Stealing' Car

Gastonia, March 13—(AP)—An insurance man who reports he was fined for "stealing" his own automobile appealed his conviction to the Gaston Superior Court today.

The appeal was made by E. C. Edwards, a traveling representative of an insurance company. Edwards lives in Lexington but has his office in Raleigh.

Edwards based his appeal on a $25 fine which was given him in Cherryville's Recorder's Court. He told newsmen that the case, in which he was charged with larceny, grew out of his taking his wrecked automobile from a Cherryville garage to another shop at Lincolnton.

Yearly 'Flood' In Revenue Dept.

Raleigh, N.C., March 13—(AP)—The annual flood of income tax returns was flowing into the State Department of Revenue today.

The mail man today delivered 25 bulging sacks of mail, most of it income tax returns, to the revenue department.

The flood of returns is expected to grow heavier as the Wednesday deadline for income taxes approaches.

Revenue Commissioner Eugene Shaw said it would be several days before the flood of returns is processed and tabulated.

CROWD AT REVIVAL

Columbia, S.C., March 13—(AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham closed his dynamic religious revival here yesterday before a 40,000 crowd.

He preached in the 34,000-seat University of South Carolina football stadium, which was filled to the last cranny.

Wreckage Of Crashed Transport Plane Where 80 Died

Wreckage of the chartered Avro Tudor transport plane lies in a field near Cardiff, Wales, Sunday, where it crashed while coming in for a landing. Early reports placed the death toll at 80 in the worst air disaster in commercial aviation history. The plane was returning from Dublin, Ireland, with 78 Welsh football fans and a crew of five aboard. The tail section of the plane is virtually intact, but the fuselage is badly smashed. Pitt Red Cross Drive Under Way Aviation's Worst Disaster Probed; Eighty Die In Wales

W. C. Reed, Of Kinston, Speaks At Breakfast Meeting

Approximately 35 people this morning attended the kick-off breakfast of the special gifts committee at the Proctor Hotel which marked the beginning of the 1950 Red Cross fund drive in Pitt county.

W. C. Reed, superintendent of the Kennedy Home of Kinston, was principal speaker of the breakfast meeting as he related a brief history of the American Red Cross and pointed out specific examples of Red Cross aid to individuals and groups.

Reed said one of the more far-reaching projects of the Red Cross is the system of blood banks which was begun two years ago and now extends to 35 states. He said the Red Cross now has available to hospitals throughout the country 30,000 gallons of blood which is valued at $6,000,000, but which is given to patients who are in need of blood.

President J. G. Fleming of the Pitt county chapter of the organization presided at the meeting, and urged the members of the Greenville special gifts committee to get the fund-raising campaign started in a big way by having their reports completed as soon as possible.

Henry L. Brown, chairman of the special gifts committee, urged the committee members to see their lists of contacts as quickly as possible and report not later than tomorrow afternoon.

County drive chairman Lester Turnage said the Red Cross campaign began in other parts of Pitt county as well as in Greenville this morning as the individual communities set about the task of raising their portion of the $1,280 goal which has been set for the county.

In addition to the volunteer workers of the special gifts committee and officials of the local Red Cross chapter, Mrs. Marion Everett, Red Cross field representative for 25 chapters in Southeastern North Carolina was also present at the meeting this morning.

Blue Mold Reported Now Definitely Found In Pitt

Blue mold, the scourge of tobacco plants and the farmers' nemesis, has settled in Pitt County.

This was the report from Sam Weeks, Tobacco Agent for the county, this morning as he returned from visits to farms in Falkland and Winterville.

Weeks reported the mold had definitely been found in those vicinities but had not heard of any reports from other areas of Pitt.

The affected plants were the size of a half-dollar and were completely dead, he said. The beds in which they were planted were attacked in spots and most of the plants were a total loss.

Weeks again urged farmers not to put off until too late the dusting and spraying of their tobacco beds.

McCarthy Begins His Recitation Of Accused Reds

Washington, March 13—(AP)—Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) told senators today he has heard reports that a former Navy scientist familiar with the country's "topmost defense secrets" is an admitted Communist. He proposed an investigation.

McCarthy named the man as Stephen Brunauer, a former Navy commander.

He tossed this out while ticking off to a Senate Foreign Relations Committee the names of State Department employees he says have displayed Communist sympathies.

McCarthy has charged the State Department and sympathizers. State Dept. officials have denied that. The Senate group is giving McCarthy an opportunity to produce what proof he has.

Second Big Test For Laborites

London, March 13—(AP)—Britain's Labor government today faces its second major parliamentary test in five days.

The House of Commons votes on a Conservative motion criticizing the government's housing program. Tomorrow a vote is scheduled on a motion rapping government spending.

Local Tobacconists To Push European Market

Trio Depart For Europe Wednesday To Promote Export Sales In All Countries Outside The Iron Curtain

Three representatives of the E. B. Ficklen Tobacco Company will journey to Europe this spring for the purpose of pushing the sale of their company's export tobacco in all countries outside the Iron Curtain.

Leaving from New York on Wednesday this week is Jim Ficklen Jr., who will work southern Europe, including Italy, France, Portugal and Egypt and other parts of Africa.

L. S. Ficklen, secretary-treasurer of the company, will leave New York April 14, followed by James Ficklen, president, on May 9.

As reported by L. S. Ficklen during the weekend, the trips this year are routine for the company, the purpose being to push the sale of their tobacco to customers in all the countries of Europe.

The elder Ficklen will make his 28th trip abroad this year, representing his own export tobacco company. He began his crossings in 1926 and has been each year since, with the exception of the war years, to Europe and China.

The trip this week will mark Jim Ficklen Jr.'s fourth trip, having been to Europe twice before and the China market once.

The European trips were halted, necessarily during the war and began again in 1946. The express purpose that year was to round up the company's prewar buyers on the continent in an effort to start their former sales going again.

This year the company has preceded its personal visits to buyers with samples of its tobacco which have already arrived at strategic spots on the continent. Most of Sprays and dustings of dithane Z-78, ferimate and parzate are recommended for use in combating the mold. And the faster they are applied, the better, the agent said.

Regardless of whether mold has hit a farmer's beds, they should be treated with either of the three products quickly, Weeks stated.

There has been considerable cold injury to beds hereabouts due to the week-long cold spell last week. However, the main injury to the beds, Weeks said, was blue mold which has been approaching the county for the past few weeks from the south.

Medical Group Refuses To Act Against Doctor

Manchester, N. H., March 13—(AP)—Dr. Herman N. Sander has crossed another hurdle today in his fight to return to his country doctor practice.

The New Hampshire Medical Society refused yesterday to take disciplinary action against the young physician and left any such action to the Hillsborough County Medical Society.

A spokesman also reported that the state society did not plan to make any recommendations to the state board of registration in medicine, which alone has the right to revoke or suspend a medical license.

The board planned to meet today to set a date for a formal hearing for the 41-year-old Candia doctor acquitted last week of murder in

Aviation's Worst Disaster Probed; Eighty Die In Wales

Cardiff, Wales, March 13—(AP)—Eighty persons died here yesterday in the crash of a chartered Tudor airliner packed with Welsh football fans celebrating a victory over the Irish. It was aviation's worst commercial plane disaster.

British aviation experts, headed personally by Minister of Civil Aviation Lord Pakenham, began an inquiry here today into the latest accident involving the unlucky Tudor ships. The crash came as the giant plane was landing on a return flight from Dublin.

Of the 78 passengers and five crewmen aboard, only three survived. It was the world's worst commercial air tragedy and brought the toll of deaths in Tudor planes—Britain's first postwar four-engine commercial aircraft—to 144.

The chartered plane, biggest in active service in Britain, was preparing to land in sunny weather. Tired but happy Rugby football enthusiasts aboard had gone wild with joy a few hours earlier at Wales' 6-3 victory over Ireland in the United Kingdom Championships at Dublin.

The big four-engine plane appeared to be touching down at Llandow airport near here for a normal landing when, without warning, it roared back into a climb. It smashed to earth in a field after making a right-hand turn and sidestepping.

The huge plane crashed 15 yards from a house. It did not explode or burn.

Two of the three survivors, brothers-in-law, walked out of the wreckage unaided and virtually unscathed. They had been sitting side by side in the tail of the plane.

The third survivor was critically hurt.

Most of the dead were coal miners, scheduled to return to the pits last night. They had scraped and saved for months to get the money for the trip.

Two Candidates For Pitt Posts Pay Filing Fees

M. F. Clark To Run For Coroner; R. L. Tripp In Ayden Constable Race

County election committee chairman J. Henry Harrell reported two new candidates for Pitt county offices posted their filing fees before 11:15 today.

Marshall F. Clark, manager of the Greenville Funeral Home, filed as a candidate for county coroner, and Robert Lee Tripp of Ayden filed as a candidate for constable of Ayden township.

Clark in the coming Democratic primary will seek the post which at present is held by Coroner Griffin H. Rouse, and Tripp will seek the post which at present is held by Constable Alton Suggs.

He is a member of Charles Gray Morgan Post of Veterans of Foreign Wars, having served in the Marine corps from 1928 to 1938. During his tours of duty in the Marine corps he served on detached duty in Nicaragua for several months in 1928, and later served in the Philippines and China during the Sino-Japanese incident from 1931 to 1933.

Harrell said the two candidates who filed this morning brought to a total of five the candidates who have actually filed for the May primary. In addition to Clark and Tripp those who have officially filed for the primary are county commissioners M. Brown Hodges, J. Dupree and G. H. Pittman. He announced last week they will be candidates for reelection.

Other office-holders who have officially announced their candidacies in the primary, but have not yet posted their filing fees are State Senator Dr. Paul Jones of Farmville, Representative Frank Kilpatrick of Ayden and Clerk of the Court D. T. House of Bethel.

Tax Evasion To Be Riskier Than Ever This Year

Washington, March 13—(AP)—Attempting to evade federal income tax will be riskier than ever this year.

The deadline for 1949 income tax returns and payments comes Wednesday midnight, and the Internal Revenue Bureau is set to give the $4,000,000 expected returns closer scrutiny than in the past.

Officials said today some 3,500 investigators have been added to the bureau's check-up forces in the last year. Congress has been asked to provide funds to add about 3,000 more.

Meanwhile, the bureau has been shifting more of its personnel to investigate work as machines are installed to take over more and more of the routine clerical duties.

Slim Majority Favor Return Of Belgian Monarch

Brussels, March 13—(AP)—Belgians voted by a narrow majority yesterday in favor of restoring King Leopold to the throne from which he has been barred for surrendering to the Germans in World War II.

But the slim margin of approval—57 per cent—threatened to touch off a political crisis if pro-Leopoldists actually tried to bring the handsome monarch back from exile.

A key question was whether the Liberals would join the pro-Leopoldist Social Christian (Catholics) in asking Parliament to rescind its ban on the king's return from exile in Switzerland.

The referendum yesterday was only an advisory vote. Parliament still must decide if Leopold may come back.

Near-Hysterical Hunt

Routing Out The Communists In Government Can Be A Dangerous Game; Name-Calling And Innuendo; Accusation Not Proof; Values We Must Safeguard

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, March 13—(AP)—The words "communist" and "fellow traveler" and "sympathizer" have been flung around Washington plenty.

Communists have been found in the government, and rooted out. No doubt others still are there, unfound.

To dig them out will require constant vigilance by the President and Congress, and on down the government line.

But there is a big difference between putting a communist tag on a man and proving it.

The feeling against communism in this country has run so high that at times it has almost approached hysteria.

Credit Women Hold Meeting

The Greenville Credit Women's Breakfast Club held its regular meeting at the Old Towne Inn Saturday morning, March 11. During the regular business meeting it was noted that a delegation comprised of Mrs. Dorothy Copeland, Mrs. Lettie Elbro, Mrs. Eleanor Norris, Mrs. Ruby Lumm, and Mrs. Cora Powell were leaving for the spring Executive board meeting in Burlington this afternoon.

After a short business discussion the credit course instructor, Dr. E. R. Browning gave a most interesting review of the lesson on the handling of checks.

Entertain Sons And Daughters Of Alumni In Friday Reception

Members of the organization of Sons and Daughters of Alumni of East Carolina Teachers College were entertained by the Greenville Chapter of the college Alumni Association Friday evening, March 10. Approximately 50 students, one or both of whose parents attended East Carolina, attended the informal reception given in the Alumni Office on the campus.

Among special guests who were present for the occasion were alumni of the college in Pitt County whose children are now students at the college. Those who welcomed guests for the Greenville Chapter included Mrs. Ruth Garner, alumni secretary; Mrs. Dorothy W. Johnson, acting president of the local chapter; Miss Ruth White, assistant dean of women at the college; and Mrs. A. D. Frank.

Carl Anderson of Elizabeth City, sophomore student of music at East Carolina, gave a program of music for the piano during the evening.

Red Oak News

Wednesday, March 15, beginning early and lasting until the job is finished has been set aside as "spring cleaning and spring planting" day at Red Oak. The church interior, the log kitchen, the community building will all be cleaned by a corps of workers who were given a "spring tonic" recently. Another group of workers will be there to prepare a good dinner for all who attend. Everybody is invited. Bring something to work with, something already cooked or something to be cooked, some shrubs, trees (dogwood, crab apple, crepe myrtle, etc.) flower plants, iris etc. There will be workers to plant these for you. Let's make this a day long to be remembered at Red Oak. Come early. Enjoy this wonderful fellowship!

Plans Refinery For Wilmington

Wilmington, N.C., March 13—(AP)—The manager of the Mexican Petroleum Corporation has announced his organization plans to build a $3,500,000 oil refinery in Wilmington.

Forrest G. Heath, Tar Heel manager of the firm, declared yesterday that he hopes to have the plant in operation by June 15. It previously had been reported from the governor's office in Raleigh that the corporation would erect a $1,000,000 asphalt plant with a capacity of 100,000 tons a year.

During World I, Marine Corps aviation consisted of 282 officers and 2,180 enlisted men.

Girl Scout News

Dear Scouts:
Once before we told you about the girls from troop 4 that were having such a good time at the golf course every Saturday morning. Saturday was a lovely day and seven girls went out. We were invited to go along, so we accepted the invitation to go with them.

We just sat on the sideline to watch. We drew some conclusions about the difficulty the girls were having in teeing off. They were just practicing, of course. First, the balls were entirely too small for the Scouts to hit. Evidently Mr. Thompson does not buy sanitized balls, for these had shrunk until they were entirely too small. The girls seemed to have a lot of fun trying just the same. They sometimes made the turf fly instead of the little ball.

The last half of their time was spent in practicing putting. Again we discovered that the holes were too small. The Scouts seemed to have to do a great deal of striking, and sometimes it appeared as if they had to push a little, to get balls in the holes. Anyway they had wonderful time and we hope they will invite us to go with them again.

Scoutingly,
Suzette C. and Katie Kamper

SYMPATHETIC BANDIT
Detroit, March 13—(AP)—The young bandit who held up Gus Lakas' little grocery store last night found just $3 in the cash register. He took the money out, then handed a dollar bill back to Lakas. "You're about as poor as I am," the youth said, and fled.

Badly stained lumber should not be used in building, since it may contain wood rot in early stages.

They are saying in Berg and in Fairbanks, Alaska, that Mrs. Fred Pete had "her baby by telegraph." Nurse Dorothy Vinson, of St. Mark's Episcopal Mission in Nenana is responsible that Mrs. Pete is alive, and that her baby is thriving. Mrs. Pete was ill in Berg with a throat infection when the birth of her baby neared prematurely. Word was wired the hospital, and Nurse Vinson made the 50-mile trip to Berg along the railroad on a flange-wheeled "gas-mobile." Meanwhile the railroad agent kept the telegraph line open to Drs. Cranmer and Smith, at Fairbanks, and they passed along instructions to the nurse, saving the lives of both mother and child.

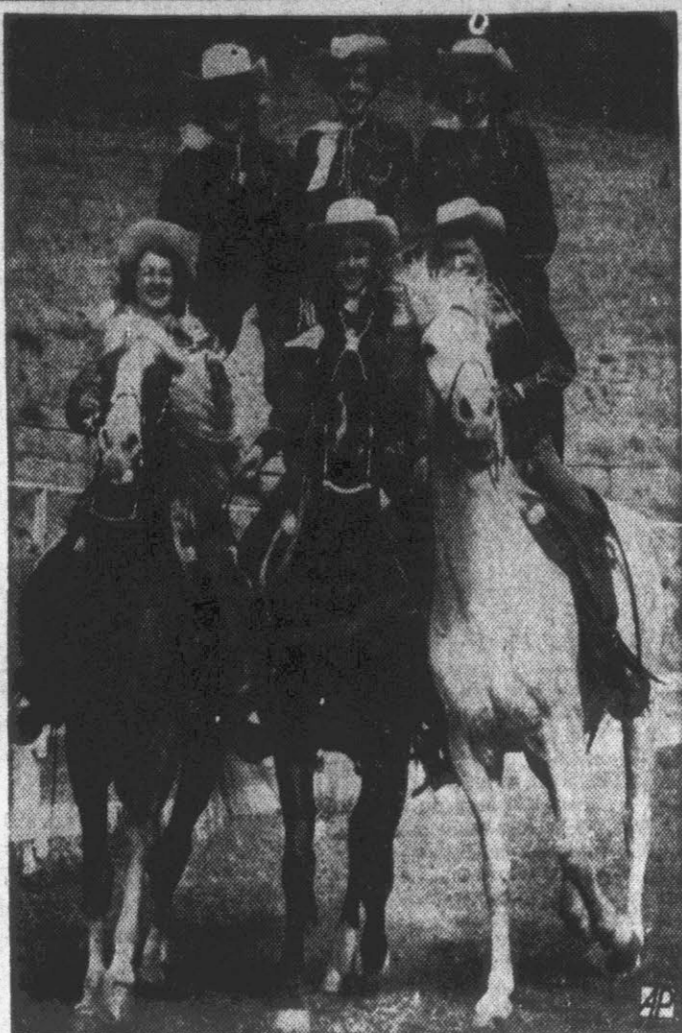

Elected "Queen of America," on nomination of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church in Kentucky, and by the votes of several million listeners to the stations of the Mutual Broadcasting Company Mrs. Sallie Baker, of Pikeville, Kentucky, is now on a network-sponsored trip which includes Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Holland, France, Italy, Greece, and England. Daily she broadcasts from Europe to America over Mutual stations. In each country she visits and speaks in churches representing the W.S.C.S., and in each she represents the American Nurses Association in studying the effects of the Marshall Plan on health rehabilitation. A native of South Georgia, Mrs. Baker has served as nurse in the Methodist Hospital in Pikeville for 20 years.

So difficult is the Navajo Indian language to learn and to understand the Navajo signal men were in great demand in the South Pacific during World War II because their speech was on code that completely baffled Japanese linguistic experts. But an Iowa-born Quaker missionary, Miss Irene Hoskins, is teaching the Navajos of the southwestern states to read their own language through the so-called Laubach Method of phonetic picture charts—a preliminary step toward teaching them to read English. Miss Hoskins, a former schoolteacher who has specialized in anthropology and linguistics, is carrying her one-woman educational program to some 2,000 illiterate reservation Navajos on behalf of the Home Missions Council. Recently she found a Navajo Christian assistant, Mrs. Edna Maloney, translator and teacher.

Strength FOR THE DAY
HOW TO GET A JOB AND HOLD IT
Why are some men successful and others not?
There is of course a vast difference in people and in the quality of their personalities. Any number of reasons might be given why some men go quickly to the top and others never seem to get started. But in the careers of almost all successful men this circumstance seems to be present: That the successful are always those who are willing to do a bit more than the job requires.

The clock-watcher came to the end of his life a poorly paid clerk. The chap who has his overalls off before the quitting whistle stops blowing can be expected to stay in overalls the whole of his career. But the young fellow who is so interested in his job that he is devising ways and means all the time to get the top with a swiftness which will leave the less energetic brethren blinking. An employer likes to pay out money to an employee who is personally loyal in every attitude and champing at the bit to improve himself and what he does.

Some men are never satisfied with their jobs. Others are never satisfied with the way they do their jobs. That latter get the big positions and the high salaries.

THE CAMPAIGN LEVEL
Developments in the major political camps during the past few days have brought indications that a stormy campaign is in the making between now and May for the much sought-after seat which Frank P. Graham now occupies in the Senate.

Although Bob Reynolds has not yet filed for the senate race, he says he will do so within a few days, and will be in the field against Graham. Also reports from Washington have said North Carolina's "Our Bob" of two decades ago will use the same "poor boy" technique in his attempt to unseat Graham as he used to defeat Senator Cam Morrison in 1932.

Rumor has it that Reynolds, like some other southern political demagogues will adopt the color red for his campaign. In his rise to political power, the rich color was used by Reynolds to mimic Morrison's plush life. This time it probably will be used to attack Senator Graham's liberal views. Reliable sources already say Reynolds has a red suit and a red convertible selected for the campaign. Although he probably will not directly accuse Senator Graham of being affiliated with the Communist movement, we may rest assured he will imply as much at every opportunity.

On the other side of the fence, the pro-Graham forces have sensed their strongest opposition from the plush carpet and fish-egg candidate, and already have tilted their hand with press releases which will picture Reynolds as a ner'-do-well living on the income of his seven year old daughter. The opening rounds of the fight for the votes are on the verge of beginning, and already both training camps are dusting off their best resources of ridicule and scandal in readiness for consumption by the people of North Carolina. Many people are of the opinion Graham is a statesman rather than a vote-getting politician, and will find difficulty in coping with the level of the campaign Reynolds is likely to stage. However, there are in the Graham quarters some of the state's ablest vote getters who know the main thing is to get the votes—how they are won is secondary.

From the appearance of the present circumstances, North Carolinians will hear plenty of debating of personalities and background in the coming months, but the concrete political issues which should be considered in the selection of a Senatorial candidate probably will be difficult to resolve amid the name-calling which apparently is to come.

Around Capitol Square

By LYN NNISBET
BLOC—Republicans from the eastern part of the state will have large influence in the state Republican convention at Charlotte Tuesday, if plans are carried out. Leaders have been quietly working for the past week or two to form a strong bloc of convention votes, numbering 200 or more from 30-odd counties east of Raleigh. Information in this bloc includes majority of Republican votes in the first, second, third and seventh congressional districts, with some affiliation from the fourth district.

CHAIRMAN—Primary objective of the bloc is to influence, perhaps control, selection of a state party chairman to succeed Sim DeLapp of Lexington, who is retiring after eight years. A spokesman for the easterners said it would not be decided until the delegates get together at Charlotte for whom the bloc vote will be cast. There are three avowed candidates for the post—Clyde Greene of Boone, Buford Henderson of Winston-Salem, and J. M. Baley of Marshall. The eastern vote may go to one of the three, or may result in a dark horse entry winning.

PLATFORM—Another point upon which the easterners demand to be heard is the party platform. The first district convention at Plymouth Friday adopted a resolution calling upon the state meeting to promulgate a platform vigorously opposing the Truman civil rights program and advocating a strong state sovereignty policy. The easterners expect cooperation on the platform issue, if not the chairmanship vote, from the 12th district members. The spokesman declared there is no purpose of organic union with the State's Rights (Dixiecrat) Democrats, but they hope to capitalize on sentiment created in the southwestern corner of the state by the State's Righters two years ago.

EXPENSIVE—The "penny pinching" attitude of the state toward mental institutions in the past has been an expensive policy, according to John W. Umstead, member of the state hospitals board of control and for many years Orange county representative in the general assembly. Umstead told the Raleigh Kiwanis Club that by conservative estimate the state has spent $47,000,000 in custodial care of senile and patients who could have been released if there had been adequate facilities for treatment. In support of this claim he cited records to show that there are now in the hospitals 23 patients who have been there longer than 50 years; 125 with more than 40 years; 481 for 30 years; 1,383 for 20 years, and 3,209 with tenure of 10 years or more. He said many of these patients could have been released long ago, if they had been given proper treatment. Records of discharge now are much faster, and with anticipated boost in funds to employ doctors and nurses, the situation is expected to further improve.

ORGANIZING—Inability to vote absentee ballots in the primary cuts down effectiveness of the Reynolds for Senator club organized in Washington last week. A goodly part of the 200 members will not be able to come home to vote. They can, as one leader pointed out, do a lot of letter writing and put pressure on their families in the state. Something of the same sort of handicap will prevent Senator Frank Graham from realizing full benefit of the school teacher vote. Many teachers will be on the job away from home during the last week in May. Those who live close enough to make a weekend trip and who are willing to pay cost of the travel, may get to cast their votes. Only absentee ballots permitted in the primary are for persons in active military service. Suggestion has been made that since residents of the District of Columbia cannot vote there under any circumstances, the absentee provision should be extended to cover them.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE
New York—(AP)—The fat man clumped heavily along the silent street, feeling sorry for all people who have to go to work by the dawn's early light.

The traffic light turned red. Though no car was in sight, the fat man paused cautiously on the curb for force of habit. Before him in the street he saw a flock of pigeons, holding morning carnival. They seemed to be playing ring-around-a-rosy. The larger pigeons strutted importantly, ruffling their neck feathers and making big pigeon talk—"Coo, coo, coo." The smaller pigeons flitted just ahead of them, coy as debutantes, in narrowing circles.

"Romance before breakfast—ugh!" grunted the fat man. Then the traffic light changed to green. He stepped into the street and waved both hands.

"Shoo! Off with you, you pavement Casanovas," he said. "It's time to start panhandling—you bums. The pigeons flew off with an annoyed look, and the fat man walked on, wondering why he felt guilty. He reached the next street and turned. And there—just around the corner—he saw the girl. She was young and pretty... She was leaning on a stop-bus sign... She was doing something with her long blonde hair... And she didn't have anything on but a trailing white filmy nightgown.

"What next?" muttered the fat man, and lowering his eyes he started to walk hurriedly on. "Hi, big boy!" the girl called. "Come here and help me."

The fat man looked up and down the street. No one else in sight. He walked over to her hesitantly. "What do you want, miss?" he asked. "Help me tie this daffodil in my hair, silly," she said. He helped her fix the flower in her hair with trembling fingers. And then she lifted her head and he looked into her blue, blue eyes—and he felt like he was floating in the Mediterranean Sea off Tripoli.

"Don't you recognize me, big boy?" she asked. And then he knew her, and his heart felt an old knock. "Sure. Sure, I know you," he said shakily. "Aren't you glad to see me?" "Not particularly," he lied. "Why?" she said coquettishly. "Because you're too much trouble," he said soberly. "You've hurt me too often. Every time I fall in love with you, you pack up and I—ve." "Well, big boy, that's the truth," she smiled. "Love 'em and leave 'em—that's my motto. It keeps me young." "Yes, but it makes me old," said the fat man. "Where've you been this time?" "Down south as usual, you all," she mocked. She shivered a little in her thin garb. "Cold—eh?" he said, maliciously. "Not very," she laughed. "I bring my own weather with me. Can't you feel it?" the fat man lifted his hand. And sure enough, a warm wind was blowing in, fresh from distant meadows. And the flock of pigeons flew down at their feet and started cooing. "I'll bet you don't even remember

Washington Letter

WASHINGTON—Instead of making the speech children usually do at graduation exercises, young Hirst Milhollen gave a chalk talk, drawing caricatures of his teachers at Philomont, Va., high school. H. O. Bishop, Washington newspaperman vacationing at Philomont, told him he ought to study cartooning, he urged him to come to the capital and helped him get a job at the Library of Congress.

Mr. Milhollen who has been with the library nearly 25 years, is now curator of the photograph division. With Milton Kaplan, also of the library staff, he got out the "Presidents on Parade" book in 1948. More than 12,000 copies have been sold. Mr. Milhollen did study cartooning for a while. Then he got acquainted with two great artists, Joseph Pennell and James McNeil Whistler, and began to study etching. In 1919 he spent his vacation pursuing his studies in Paris. Etching has been an all-consuming hobby until recently, when he took up photography. In his home, in nearby Alexandria, Va., he has his own etching press, which one time was used to print money in the Bureau of Engraving and Printing. He bought the press at a government auction when the bureau changed from large one-dollar bills to smaller ones. In his basement studio Mr. Milhollen pulls his own prints on the hand press. Added to his hobby equipment is a dark room where he develops his photographs. With his wife Sidney, he spends his vacation traveling about this country and Mexico etching and photographing.

Mr. Milhollen is interested in making historical documentary photographs. He has photographed the graves of many famous people; visiting hundreds of graveyards from Maine to Mexico. These include the graves of 52 of the 56 signers of the Declaration of Independence. "Once I got locked up in a graveyard in Philadelphia," he told me. "I got the key from Christ Church and was told to lock the gate when I got inside so the public wouldn't crowd in with me. This I did, then promptly mislaid the key." He made a photograph of Benjamin Franklin's grave in the cemetery, which is right in the heart of town. People saw him inside and called: "How do you get in?" "How do you get in?" he repeated. "How do you get out?" It was getting dark, but after a long search he finally found the key, got out and breathed normally again.

If he is declared sane, he will face execution for slaying his wife. If the court decides he is insane, he will be sent to a hospital instead of the chair. He confers with his attorney, Nicholas Pecora, during a recess in court. Convicted of first degree murder for the death of his wife in 1944, Wolfe was committed at that time to an asylum for the criminally insane. Recently he was declared sane and was brought into court to be sentenced. The court will decide the sanity issue for itself before determining Wolfe's fate. (AP Wirephoto.)

Highway Death Numerals System Will Begin Today

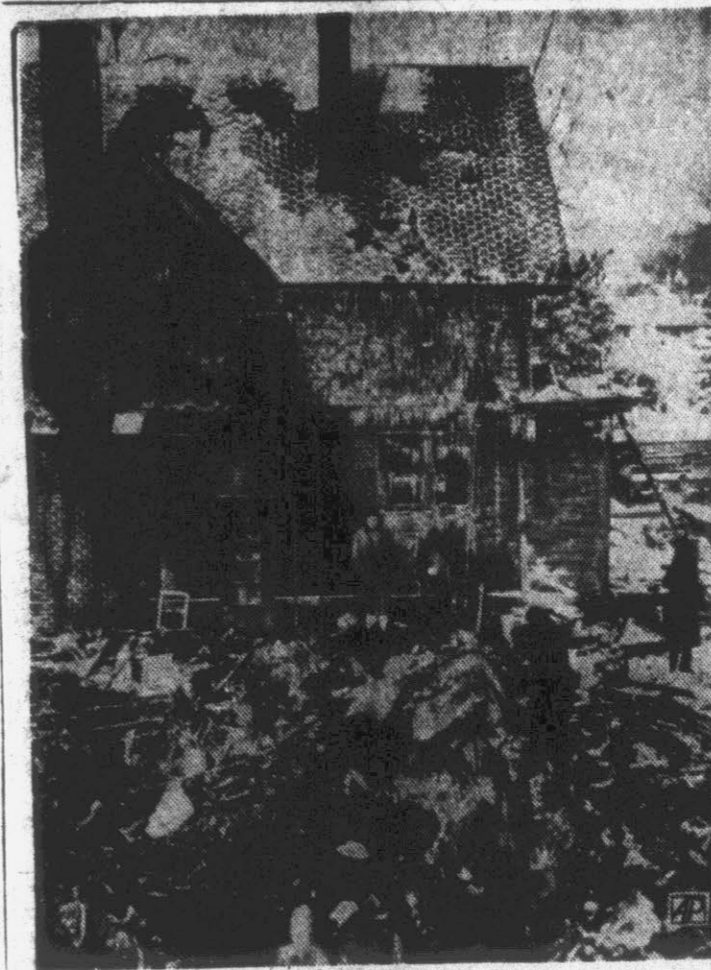

Raleigh—"Keep the red off the road" became the slogan of the State Highway Patrol today, as tins of red paint became standard equipment for non-commissioned officers' patrol cars.

Beginning today, three-foot high red numerals in red circles will be stenciled on the highways of the State at the scene of each fatal accident. The circled numerals will indicate the number of persons killed in the accident. If another fatal accident occurs at the same spot the numeral will be changed to include the total fatalities at that point.

Where a fatal accident occurs on a curve, the red numeral will be placed on the approach to the curve with an arrow pointing to the accident site.

The plan, which has the approval of Dr. Henry W. Jordan, chairman of the Highway and Public Works Commission, was devised in line with the continuing program of the Department of Motor Vehicles to cut down on highway accidents.

"Too often, after the remains of a highway mishap are cleared away, the tragedy is forgotten by the motoring public," Col. C. R. Toler, commander of the Patrol, stated. "This out-of-sight, out-of-mind attitude is what we must combat. We hope that the red numerals and circles will serve as a reminder to careless motorists that blood is being spilled daily on our highways and that it's up to them to help us 'keep the red off the road.'"

Under this pile of debris are the bodies of 15 persons who perished in flames that broke out a moment after a Northwest Airlines plane crashed into a home at Minneapolis Tuesday night. Firemen are digging into the wreckage of the house and the plane in search for the victims who met death in the basement choked with the ruins. In the rear is one of the adjoining homes damaged by the fire. (AP Wirephoto.)

Union Director Dies After Fight

Huntington, W.Va., March 13—(AP)—B. T. (Hank) Wolford, 45, regional director and staff representative of the CIO, died last night after a fight at the Moose Lodge. Coroner F. X. Schuller said.

Dr. Schuller said he found the body of the well-known labor leader on the floor of a rest room at the lodge.

He returned a temporary finding of death from "unknown injuries" resulting from a fight. The altercation, the coroner said he was told, followed a heated argument.

Police immediately took into custody for questioning six members of the lodge. No arrests had been made early today.

Authorities also sought one lodge member who disappeared after the fight.

The names of the members allegedly involved were not disclosed.

Wolford had served as regional director since 1943. His duties included supervision of union activities covering most CIO groups in the Huntington area.

Virginian-Pilot Editor Is Dead

Norfolk, Va., March 13—(AP)—Louis I. Jaffe, 62, editor of the Norfolk Virginian-Pilot, died yesterday in a Norfolk hospital of a heart ailment.

Jaffe began his newspaper career in 1911 on the Durham, N.C. Sun. He graduated from Durham high school and Trinity College (now Duke University).

In 1929 he won the Pulitzer prize for the best newspaper editorial.

Arrest Four In Brief Gun Fight

Wilmington, N.C., March 13—(AP)—Four men were arrested yesterday on charges growing out of a gun battle in Brunswick County in which a state highway patrolman and another man were injured.

Patrolman J. C. Pierce of Shalotte was shot in the leg after he and another patrolman stopped an automobile Saturday night carrying four men. Patrolman J. C. Roupe who was riding with Pierce said one of the men slipped up behind Pierce, snatched the patrolman's pistol and started firing.

Roupe said he opened fire after Pierce was struck and wounded the man who grabbed Pierce's gun. The four men fled while Roupe carried Pierce to a Southport hospital.

Gilbert Faulk, 19, of Nakina, was apprehended several hours later at a Whiteville hospital where he was being treated for a bullet wound in the chest. The other three men were identified as Dayton Rhodes of Nakina, and Grover Faulk and Willie E. Jacobs, both paratroopers at Fort Bragg. Grover is Gilbert's brother.

those used in producing peanut oil. If the measure is passed, Graham said, "it will mean that the growers of each type peanut will be allotted sufficient amounts to supply the trade for their particular type of peanut, which means that the growers of Virginia-Carolina type peanuts should not be cut, but in all probability would have a small increase."

Measure Blocks Cut For Peanuts

Raleigh, N.C., March 13—(AP)—Senator Frank Graham says he has introduced a bill which would protect Tar Heel peanut growers from an acreage cut next year.

The state's junior senator explained yesterday that his measure would set up separate control programs for edible peanuts and for other types.

Graham declared there is no surplus of the edible-type nut grown in North Carolina or in neighboring states. However, he added, there is a surplus of other types, such as

Bethel And Ayden Again Capture County Championships

Indians Top Farmville, And Ayden Girls Eke Out Win

Farmville Sextet Bows In Final Four Seconds Of Overtime Period Against Ayden; Bethel Boys Stage 31-27 Upset

A clear-cut upset and another near miss marked the finals of the Pitt County basketball tournament Saturday night as Bethel's unholly Indians played havoc with Farmville's Red Devils, pioneering unsuccessfully for a boys' championship, and won going away, 31-27, in the nightcap.

In the finals of the girls' division, a fighting Farmville sextet, which sneered at press notices concerning the Ayden team, bowed in the last four seconds of an overtime period to lose by one point, 27-26.

Both winning teams finished in the money Saturday for the second straight year.

Both games were thrillers for the fans who had witnessed a week of basketball and a week which had provided them with just so-so basketball. The finals, however, were worth the waiting for everything that makes the hardwood game interesting was embodied in both.

Ayden Girls 27, Farmville 26
Alice Jean Cox, the Tornado forward who this year has been the mainstay in placing Ayden at the top of the heap in the county, was the heroine of the game Saturday night as she clinched victory for the girls on a free throw in the last four seconds. It was the only overtime period of the week.

It was only natural for this game to have an extra period because of the even-even playing of both teams. And it was natural that Cox should clinch the win.

She led her team in points during the game, as she has adeptly done all season long, collecting 22, and bringing her season total to 160.

Illustrating the closeness of the contest, the lead swapped hands twice at the end of the respective quarters. Ayden held a one-point lead at the first, 7-6, and then went two under at the half, 16-14.

They came back for nine points in the third stanza, their highest total of the game, for a 23-22 lead. That one-point shade was the marginal difference at the end and plainly the difference in each team's ability for this particular game.

Leading the Red Devil girls were Vencell Moringo and Dot Hathaway with 11 and 10 points each. Backing them up in the back court were Grace Brock and Mittle Rouse, two cooly stellar guards who were the workhorses for the Farmville team throughout the tournament.

Leading the Ayden defense were the usual bullhorns, Dot Jackson and Anne Mae Cox. No one came close to Alice Jean Cox in scoring, the remaining five points being spread out among the other offensive players.

Bethel Boys 31, Farmville 27
There was derring-do afoot the last 1950 game for both teams.

The Indians took charge of things at the outset and never let go. They went about the business of wrapping up a championship in the spirit of champions, disregarding the fact that this same Farmville team had beaten them three times during the regular season.

For the Walter Latham-coached Indians, it was a team victory, one which climaxed an excellent season, except the three losses at the hands of the Red Devils.

Except for a first quarter tie of 4-4 after four minutes had elapsed, the Indians were ahead all the way. They sported leads of 11-7 at the quarter and 17-15 at the half.

The gap had closed somewhat during the second quarter and as a result of the intermission talking, the Indians almost closed the door on the Devils during the third. They were able to get only four points during the tight-minute period and only five for the remainder of the game.

The philosophy expressed at the end of the game by Latham that "if you play a team long enough, the law of averages will catch up with you" was shown on the court. The Indians dominated the floor play, breaking up many of Farmville's setup plays for attempted scores.

Hilton Tetterton and Edgar Barnhill demonstrated their hardwood know-how by their rebound game, controlling their own backboard and many of those from off the Devils.

Fred Keel and John Nelson led the winners' offense, collecting 10 and 9 points respectively, carrying out the team victory aspect.

ECTC Baseball 'Regulars' Trim Newcomers, 6-1

East Carolina's "Regulars" defeated the "Rookies," 6-1, last Saturday afternoon as Coach Jack Boone's baseballers ended their first week of diamond drills, with a seven-inning intrasquad game.

Hit by Shortstop Fred Soles and Third Baseman Jack Wallace paced the "Regulars" over the newcomers to the Pirate nine.

Only score for the "Rookies" came in the second inning, as Right-fielder Buddy Holcomb led off with a clean single, and scored on another long single by Centerfielder Bob Cook.

The Pirate pitching staff looked far ahead of the Buccaners batters in the Saturday afternoon tilt, with hurlers Bob McCotter, Vernon Jones, Dick Hobbs, and Hal Whitehurst setting the pace. Newcomer to this year's mound corps, Martin Byrd, a righthanded fast baller, also looked impressive in his turn of duty for the "Rookies."

Lineup for the "Regulars" in the Saturday afternoon tussle had Wallace, Soles, Cerruzzi, and basket-ball player Sonny Russell making up the infield, with Belzoni Corbett, Jim Corbin, and Stan Terrill, rounding out the team in the outfield. Letterman George Woods did the catching.

Making up the "Rookie" starters were Infielders Hugh Hardy, Bob Bailey, Bill Price, and George Sauls; outfield consisted of Harris, Cook, and Holcomb, with Morris doing the plater chores.

Opening game for this year's Pirates comes March 30, against the Guilford college Quakers.

Heel Trouble Is Joe's Specialty
St. Petersburg, Fla., March 13—(AP)—Joe DiMaggio has heel trouble—Joe DiMaggio has heel trouble—but it's not serious this time.

The slugging New York Yankees' outfielder came up with a blistered right heel—the same one which gave him so much trouble last spring—and was excused from the world champions' exhibition game with the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday.

Doctors said DiMaggio would be back in action within two days. The Yanks won, 7-1.

Tigers Get Hits But Fail To Win
Lakeland, Fla., March 13—(AP)—Despite plenty of hitting power displayed by the Detroit Tigers in their first two exhibition games, they still were looking for win number one in a match with Cincinnati here today.

The Bengals ran into a pair of clubs just as strong on slugging during the weekend and lost 9 to 8 to the Philadelphia Phillies Saturday and 10 to 8 to the Reds at Tampa on Sunday.

Corum Predicts Kentucky Derby Is 'Wide Open'
Nashville, Tenn., March 13—(AP)—Bill Corum, new master of the Kentucky Derby, predicted today a "wide open race" and named these seven horses as best choices of the moment in this year's event:

Your Host, Oil Capitol, Hill Prince, Middle Ground, Guillotine, Theory, and Mr. Trouble.

There is no "Citiation" to dominate the field and take away the suspense. Corum, emphasizing that the next two months can change the picture materially, said if advance odds were being quoted the seven horses should rate favorites at about 6 or 7 to 1.

Corum, the new president of Churchill Downs, succeeding the late Col. Matt Winn, who died in 1949, full of years and honor, declared the big race May 6 "has the most diversified field in 40 years."

Suggests Alumni Work For Yale
New Haven, Conn., March 13—(AP)—A noted old Blue today suggested that Yale alumni go out and recruit athletes for the university.

Edwin (Ted) Foster Blair, chairman of the Yale graduate football advisory committee, cautioned against offering "financial inducements of any kind," however.

"I take it," he wrote in the Yale alumni magazine, "that we are all against proselyting or recruiting football players or other athletes on any bargaining basis."

Midgets Tangle With New Bern

Tonight the Greenville Midgets take on the New Bern team in an effort to avenge a defeat by them earlier in the season, the locals' only loss of the basketball campaign.

Game time is slated for eight o'clock in East Carolina's Wright gym.

With a season record of five wins and one loss, the Greenville team is paced by Smith Worthington in scoring. Worthington plays center and will start tonight.

Other starters will be Tommy Saied and Harry Scott at the forwards, and George Siders and Pat Sawyer at guards.

The game, sponsored by the Greenville Exchange Club, is a sequel to the midget football game between the locals and Selma. All proceeds from the game tonight will go to promote midget athletics in Greenville.

Substitutes which Coach Bill Kittrell will draw from are Sam Winchester Jr., Bobby Conway, Gene Hudson, John Brooks, Dickie Manning, Walter Lee Allen, Pee Wee Jorgensen and Billy Willis.

Took Up Special Collections For Relief Abroad

New York, March 13—(AP)—More than 100,000 Protestant and Orthodox congregations throughout the United States took up special collections yesterday to support church relief work abroad.

Congregations joining in the special offering—called the "one great hour of sharing"—have a total of nearly 25,000,000 members.

A two-month planning drive preceded yesterday's nationwide appeal. No reports on the amounts donated were available immediately.

A sermon in connection with the offering was carried yesterday over 680 radio stations of the NBC and MBS networks to 7,000 parishes in all sections of the United States, Hawaii, Alaska and the Panama Canal Zone.

Pennsylvania's basketball team recently set a high-scoring Ivy League record with 95 points against Harvard.

Friday Grid Game To End Winter Drills For Pirates

Winter drills for East Carolina's gridgers will end here Friday night, with the staging of the first annual Purple and Gold intra-squad game.

The game will be played under the lights of the newly turfed college stadium, and will be sponsored by the East Carolina Varsity Club.

Admission to the first annual intra-squad game will be made by the Educational Foundation Fund. Membership cards have already been placed on sale at various business establishments in Greenville, including Biggs Drug Store, Bissette's, Flanagan Buggy Co., Kares Restaurant and Hill's Clothing Store.

Anyone may purchase membership cards from these establishments, or from any member of the college Varsity Club. Proceeds from the annual tilt will go toward football scholarships for the oncoming 1950 East Carolina football season.

The Purple and Gold scrap is expected to draw much interest from local football fans, and will give the spectators a preview of Coach Bill Dole's footballers for the 1950 gridiron season.

East Carolina's football forces concluded their seventh week of winter practice last Saturday afternoon with a closely fought regulation intra-squad game that ended in a 20-20 tie.

Featured in the afternoon tussle was the passing of the Pirates' two star quarterbacks, Roger Thrift and Sandy Siler. Both standouts from last year's team were hitting with deadly accuracy with Ends Dwight Dole and Tanner, Ott Alford and Denny Smith doing the receiving.

In the offensive running attack, newcomer Tom Swain got off on several spectacular runs from the fullback slot, along with Halfbacks Jack Benzie, Billy Smith, John Daugtry and Jim Cushing.

Scoring for the Purple team came on a brilliant broken field run by converted halfback John Daugtry which was good for 48 yards. Second score for the Purple squad came on a pass from Siler to Shoe that was good for 38 yards. The last score for the Purples came with Halfback Jack Benzie scoring from the ten-yard stripe after Swain had scampered 55 yards to set up the score.

For the Gold team, big Frank Maennie plunged over from the 3-yard line after a 20-yard pass from Thrift to Tanner had set up the score. The second Gold score was made by Bill Darby from the 3-yard line after Thrift had hit End Ott Alford with a pass good for 27 yards. Halfback Jim Cushing rounded out the afternoon scoring with a plunge through the line after two consecutive pass plays by Thrift to Tanner and Thrift to Smith had set up the score.

Defensive standouts in the Saturday afternoon scrap were Ken Booth and Reggie Byrd, tackle and guard respectively for the Purple team, along with two newcomers, Wally Robinson and Buck Hardy, both tackle.

Coach Dole stated after the spirit-wednesday and Thursday nights with the semifinals Fridays and finals Saturday night. All games are to be played in the new Southern Pines gymnasium.

Sixteen high schools of the state, chosen by sports writers of those teams' respective vicinities, will compete for the finals with the first round getting underway tonight at 6:30.

Little information has trickled into the county concerning the Robeson sextet. However, it is known they have a high-scoring team, else they would not have been recommended by the sports writers of that section of the state.

The tournament and championship will not be official so far as a girl's champ is concerned. The tourney is being staged this year to ascertain the interest in such an affair with an eye toward staging it each year.

Midget Tourney Opens March 15 At High School

Something new to this neck of the woods, a Midget Tournament is being sponsored by Greenville High School. Nine teams have entered and play will begin Wednesday night at 7:30 p.m.

Some of the strongest teams in the state will be competing for trophies and individual awards. Raleigh, Goldsboro, New Bern, Greenville, Kinston, Ayden, Farmville, Winterville and Scotland Neck will all be competing for championship and runner-up awards.

Farmville and Winterville will open play the first night and the winner of this game will go into the second night game with Kinston. Farmville, coached by Frank Cerruzzi, will be the favored team. The Farmville team is undefeated and holds two wins over Ayden and two over Kinston. They also won the Pitt County Graded School Tournament at Fountain. They have one high scoring guard, Bobby Hathaway, who has scored an average of twelve points a game.

The Winterville team, coached by Rommie Mallison, has just been organized this year but the members have been playing together for a number of years. This team will average about 5' 6". They are led by Ed Evans, a guard, and Dean Wingate, a center.

Thursday night there will be four games, the first starting at 6:30 p.m. Raleigh and New Bern lock horns, Greenville meets Scotland Neck, Goldsboro takes on Ayden and Kinston will tangle with the winner of the Farmville-Winterville game.

All games will be played in the high school gym.

offers a strong argument to those who feel that the usefulness of a small player in this day of towering court giants is definitely limited. Melchiorre is a little man who plays a big man's game.

The post, or bucket, is generally reserved for tall men, but Melchiorre takes over that spot to permit Paul Unruh, the Braves' big man, to lure the opposing team's giant away from the backboards. In this manner, Melchiorre is the team's second highest scorer, averaging well up in double figures.

Negro Schools Of Pitt Decide Cage Crowns

The elementary and high school Negro basketball teams of Pitt County clashed for championship games in Bethel Saturday, March 4. Grimesland (elementary girls) defeated Post-Oak and Post-Oak (elementary boys) and Grimesland. Each of the winning teams received a trophy for 1950.

In high school finals (girls) the spotlight was thrown on Ayden and Bethel. Ayden won the 1950 championship trophy.

Bethel and Farmville (boys), two of Pitt County's rivals, found themselves in the role of finalists in championship playoff. It was the third championship meet. The Bethel Bears have won the championship in each meet, which gave Coach Albert Williams the honor of accepting the trophy as a permanent school souvenir.

Dodgers Add 3 To Injury List

Vero Beach, Fla., March 13—(AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers' injury list—already bulging—had three new members today.

Infielders Eddie Miksis and Eddie Hicks and pitcher Morrie Martin were injured over the weekend to make a total of eight injured Dodgers.

Miksis suffered a bruised left chin; Hicks a bruised nose, and Martin a sprained left ankle. The Dodgers took an 16-11 decision from the Boston Braves yesterday.

Lightning did some strange things at the home of Everett Parker near Shelby, N. C. Five persons miraculously escaped death, but two cows were killed. These scenes re-enact what happened. Top: Mrs. J. E. Parker, daughter-in-law of Everett Parker, sits in the damaged living room, holding her daughter, Jolena. Parker was knocked to the floor. Jolena was hurled nine feet across the room. A hole was knocked in the head of the bed. Bed springs melted and the mattress caught fire. Holes were knocked in opposite ends of home. Then the bolt followed electric wires to the barn. Two cows under drop light. He and this cow the barn were killed. In between, J. E. Parker was milking another cow under a drop light. He and this cow escaped injury. Bottom: Parker demonstrates where he was when the bolt struck. On either side of him are the dead cows. Mrs. Parker and her baby and two others in the house escaped with superficial injuries. Prison Inmates Object To Radio 'Crime' Programs

Wethers, Md., Conn., March 13—(AP)—A group of inmates of the Annapolis State Prison at Whettersfield, in the prison magazine Monthly Record, have turned thumbs down on "crime" radio programs. The crime programs operate as debasing schools for criminals," an inmate-writer says in an article in the March issue entitled "15,000 Murders A Month." The unsigned article declares the radio "gets glassy-eyed with anger and my trigger finger jerks spasmodically every time I think how the radio crime presentation industry operates its debasing crime schools."

Late Samaritan

Cochran, Ga., March 13—(AP)—Their car broke down last night as they were speeding to a hospital with their ailing baby. Car after car passed, ignoring the frantic signals of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Hawkins as they stood on the highway about 30 miles from here. Finally, said Hawkins, a farmer, an unidentified Negro and his wife picked them up and drove them four miles where they transferred to the car of Bibb County Deputy Sheriff R. E. Jones. They sped to a Macon hospital with the two-month-old baby, who had pneumonia. But it was too late. The infant was pronounced dead on arrival.

NCEA Election Battle Looming Over Close Vote

Raleigh, March 13.—(AP)—A battle loomed today over the presidency of the North Carolina Education Association.

C. M. Abernethy of Lenoir was declared winner over Mrs. Margaret McDermott of Winston-Salem by 18 votes last night by the official NCEA canvassing committee.

However, a dissenting member of the canvassing group, Miss Sara Olive Smith of Winston-Salem, declared the ballots were impounded and that the matter probably would be carried to the association's board of directors.

Abernethy was declared winner by a vote of 8,830 to 8,812 after the committee had recounted about 18,000 ballots.

Miss Smith said the original count, which never was officially announced, had shown Mrs. McDermott winner by 14 votes.

The deciding issue, she said, was the method of counting. The recount, she said, was made on the basis of allowing the validity of erased mailed-in ballots.

When the five member canvassing committee ended two days of counting and recounting, it issued the results in a statement which read: "We the undersigned members of the NCEA canvassing committee have canvassed the elections returns and report the following of-

Official result: Abernethy, 8,830; McDermott, 8,812."

Only the presidency, it was stated, is involved in the dispute. Miss Smith said she did not intend to sign any report which would state she admitted the results to be conclusive. She understood, she said, that the report as issued to the public would make it clear the results stated represented the recount and would not necessarily declare the leaders the winners.

Abernethy broke precedent that it is traditional for the president to be elevated to the presidency without opposition. McDermott is outgoing vice-president of the NCEA. Mrs. Lulu Allen of Hendersonville is the outgoing president.

Two proposed amendments to the association's constitution were defeated. One called for a change in the system of dues payment; the other for a change in the term when district officers would assume office.

Chinese Emperor Provided Start Of Library Unit

WASHINGTON — The Emperor Tung-Chih in 1869 presented the Library of Congress with a group of works on the Chinese classics. It has formed the nucleus of the largest collection of Chinese literature outside the Far East. Today the library's Division of Orientalia, formed as a separate unit in 1928, and including books in Japanese and other east Asiatic languages, is becoming of increasing importance.

Members of Congress constantly call upon the division for translations. Other customers include scholars throughout the country, the Army Map Service, universities, schools and scores of other organizations and individuals. Dr. Arthur W. Hummel, chief of the division, is encouraged by the increasing desire of Americans to become acquainted with the culture of this part of the world.

"We Americans are very provincial in many respects," he says. "We have too long been tied to our Atlantic or Greco-Roman traditions in law, literature, and everything. Educated Far Easterners know more about us than the same class here know about them. We have the key for unlocking only our own culture. The Chinese have been studying English and teaching English in their schools for at least two generations and have the key for unlocking our culture as well as theirs."

Dr. Hummel points out that when the war broke out only a handful of Americans were able to read Japanese, putting this nation at a tremendous initial disadvantage. "We are now trying to undo our cultural isolation of hundreds of years, which the Chinese began to undo when, after losing the war with England in 1842, they realized they had to know the west to survive," he says.

World War II brought to the library one of its most valuable collections. These included some 200 packing cases of books sent here from the great library at Peking for safekeeping. Some 1,070 rolls of microfilms, each about 100 feet long, have been made of these books. Of four sets made, three are to go to China along with the original books, when they are returned.

Though the collections in the Division of Orientalia have grown by gifts and purchase, Dr. Hummel says the greatest impetus has come from requests on the part of the U.S. Department of Agriculture for botanical and other works showing the history, distribution and methods of cultivating plants, fruits and vegetables suitable for introduction into this country.

Approximately 60 Music Students Attend Session

Approximately 60 music students from the elementary grades through high school gathered on the campus of East Carolina Teachers' College Saturday for the annual Northeastern District Contest sponsored by the N. C. Federation of Music Clubs.

Those present represented eight clubs located in Washington, Windsor, Edenton, Whitakers, and Williamston. Both morning and afternoon sessions, held in the music studios of the Austin building, were devoted to performances by the young musicians and the rating of students by judges.

Mrs. J. Allen Easley of Wake Forest, contest chairman for the N. C. Federation of Music Clubs, and Mrs. J. H. Thigpen of Edenton, district chairman, were in charge of arrangements for the day and were present at the college for the contests. Dr. Rudolph R. Williams, director of the department of music at ECTC, and other members of the college music faculty assisted with local plants for the events of the day.

Judges who rated the young musicians were Robert Carter of the music department at East Carolina and Stuart Pratt, head of the piano department at Meredith College. Contest material included works for the piano and other instruments.

Those who received superior ratings in piano and the classifications in which they were contestants are as follows:

- Difficult: Margery Thigpen, Edenton;
- Moderate Difficult: Sue Byrd, Windsor;
- Junior A group in hymn playing: Becky Cutchin, Margaret L. Hamilton and Sadie Carol Etheridge, all of Whitakers;
- Moderate Elementary: Margaret Louise Hamilton, Becky Cutchin

The Ptomaine Canary By Helen Traubel

Chapter 1 On the stage of the Metropolitan Opera House, Brunhilde Wagner, the celebrated dramatic soprano, was a stately figure commanding the rapt attention of an audience that literally bulged the walls of that magnificent structure. From the orchestra pit the music of "Die Walkure" rose in wild and savage splendor as Otto Furst's baton quivered in the air. Tonight's performance was one that would find the critics tossing their hats into the air. Even the musicians and the super backstage were enthralled. Never before had they heard Madame Wagner sing so magnificently. From that golden throat poured notes of such voluptuous beauty as to make the senses reel. High in the galleries vocal students felt like tearing up their voice teachers.

And yet no one, not one single person in that vast auditorium, so much as suspected that a great frustration burned like an unholy fire in the breast of the famous prima donna. It was a frustration of long standing, and one to be carefully considered in the light of subsequent events. At her side the bearded Wotan briefed her with orders for the day. Brunhilde cut loose with her battle cry, "Ho, yo, to ho!" The orchestral accompaniment swelled with the turbulence of a storm tossed sea and she galloped off to the fray.

Two people were waiting for her in the wing. Her husband, Bill Wagner, and her friend, Lily Furst, the conductor's ex-wife. "You were wonderful, darling," breathed Lily. Others closed in for congratulations, but Bill shooed them off. "You have a few minutes for your next cue," he said. "You need some relaxation. Here—" and he thrust a book into her hands. Brunhilde lowered herself into a chair. At once her interest was captured by the title of the book, "EM-BALMER'S HOLIDAY. The jacket design showed a female sitting on a gravestone combing her hair.

Avidly Brunhilde turned to page one, hoping that this book would be as good as the last which she had finished just before tonight's performance. For Brunhilde belonged to that vast army of fans who find escape and intellectual exercise in the reading of mysteries. Her yearly expenditures were said to keep a number of authors in a state of economic solvency. As the opera proceeded, Madame Wagner became immersed in blood, mayhem and detection, oblivious to her surroundings until the director called, "Ready, Mme. Wagner, your cue."

From the stage, Fricka's summons shook the rafters. Handing the book back to her husband, Brunhilde opened her mouth, got wired for sound, turned up the volume, and strode back on to the stage. She took her cue from the music, trying to avoid the conductor's eyes. They were not on good terms. Otto Furst, a tall, not unhandsome man, with half eyes and a disordered crop of hair, had many female admirers. Only a few days ago a wealthy old widow in White Plains had died, willing him her fortune. And then, while she sang, something else swam into the line of Brunhilde's vision. Faces in the front row—familiar faces—she had seen them before. But where? And then she remembered. They were faces she had seen on the backs of many book jackets. Brunhilde blinked, unable to believe her own eyes. It couldn't be possible. It must be some trick of lighting, or wishful thinking, or something conjured by her imagination. And yet—there they sat, smiling up at her, a galaxy of her favorite authors.

Agatha Christie, John Dickson Carr, Rex Stout, Erle Stanley Gardner, A. Patrick, Ellery Queen, and many others she instantly identified. People who had entertained her and chilled and thrilled her, made her laugh and kept her awake through many a night. Her gaze veered into the wings. Bill Wagner stood there, smiling. Then she knew. It was true. This was no figment of her imagination. They were all there, out front. She and Bill had often discussed inviting these virtuosos of gore and extinction to her her sing and later to meet her personally. She was a fan of theirs and she wanted them to be fans of hers.

Her pleasure was communicated to her voice, and it soared now with new glory.

Struck Airline Back To Normal

New York, March 13 — (AP) — Full-scale operations were due today on American Airlines, the nation's largest domestic air carrier, following settlement of an eleven-day nationwide strike of ground crewmen. The strike, which was settled Saturday, had cut down the company's operations greatly. The ground crews started streaming back to work yesterday, and the company said operations would be normal today on 189 flights serving 68 cities.

The strike was waged by 4,800 members of the CIO Transport Workers Union. It ended with a compromise worked out with the help of the National Mediation Board. The union obtained job security and severance pay provisions, but dropped its demands for a pay increase of 20 cents an hour.

Announces Goal On Easter Seals

Chapel Hill, N.C., March 13—(AP) The Easter seal campaign goal of the North Carolina League for Crippled Children is $100,000. Philip S. Randolph, executive director of the league, said the drive for funds will begin March 25 and continue through Easter Sunday, April 9.

Re-Hearings On 'Right To Cuss'

Washington, March 13 — (AP) — The case of a lady's right to cuss on the job was handed back today for a new hearing. The National Labor Relations Board set aside earlier findings on Mrs. Edna Ruggles, who was fired by the Indianapolis Glove Co., Marion, Ind., last year for persistent swearing.

The AFL International Glove Workers Union appealed her case, and in September an NLRB trial examiner recommended she be rehired. At that point Mrs. Ruggles remarked: "I'm pretty damn tired of the whole thing." But today the board, by a 3 to 1 vote, wiped out the examiner's report and ordered a rehearing of such other disposition of the case as the regional NLRB director finds advisable.

The company had appealed, charging the trial examiner, Louis Ploot, with "bias and prejudice." The board said it would not partially but felt it best to do the job over "to avoid even the appearance of a partisan tribunal."

Tobacco Growers Urged To Spray

"Don't put it off, put it on" was the warning issued this morning by County Tobacco Agent Sam Weeks in commenting on sprays to be used in combating blue mold on tobacco plants. With reports entering Pitt from surrounding counties to the south and east that the mold has hit those areas, Weeks was most urgent that farmers take the necessary precautions here before the first report of it is made.

He stated there is "no reported mold in the county as yet" but thought it would strike this weekend or the early part of next week. Farmers are urged to combat the advancing tobacco marauder with dithane Z-75, ferimate or parzate, chemicals which, in the past, have been very effective in protecting the plants. Weeks urged the extensive use of sprays or dust of the mixtures on the beds, and he emphasized "before it strikes."

Crash Landing

Tampa, Fla., March 13—(AP) — A big B-29 bomber, hurtling down through overcast, burst into flames as it crash-landed at MacDill Field yesterday, but all 15 men aboard escaped. Only man seriously injured was Capt. Charles L. Erickson of Shreveport, La., who fractured a vertebra. Several were cut and bruised.

The plane was on a 36-hour training mission from Barksdale Air Force base in Louisiana. It was scheduled to land at Maxwell Field, Ala., but came to Tampa because of bad weather there.

President Truman Begins His Three-Weeks Holiday

Aboard Presidential Escort U.S.S. William Lawe, March 13—(AP)—President Truman is on his way to Key West, Fla., for a vacation he hopes will last the full three weeks scheduled.

Mr. Truman is aboard the presidential yacht Williamsburg, which he boarded in Washington Sunday morning.

The Williamsburg, skippered by Commander Donald MacDonald, and the escorting destroyer, the William C. Lawe, commanded by Commander Thomas H. Suddath, passed through the Virginia Capes and into the Atlantic shortly after midnight after a rendezvous a few hours earlier near Smith Point Light at the mouth of the Potomac. The ships encountered such a heavy fog for a short while later that they slowed speed to five knots, navigating by radar, but the fog lifted completely less than 30 minutes later.

In advance of a four-hour passage off Cape Hatteras, some times a rough stretch of water, the forecast was for cloudy weather with a few light sprinkles, ten-mile visibility, slight to moderate sea swells.

Enough of the White House staff will be on hand at Key West to help the President on his continuing duties. Among his present unfinished business are three appointments, of heads for the Atomic Energy Commission and the National Security Resources Board, and a new member of the Economic Advisory Council.

Prime Minister Again Rules Out Atomic Parley

London, March 13—(AP)—Prime Minister Attlee ruled out once more today any new approach to the Soviet Union for outlawing the atomic and hydrogen bombs.

"I do not think a new approach would get over the difficulty, which is the unwillingness of Russia to cooperate," Attlee told the House of Commons.

The suggestion of a new top level approach to Joseph Stalin was made by Conservative Leader Winston Churchill during the recent election campaign. Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin waved it away as a "stunt" to get votes.

Conservative Sir Waldron Smithers asked Attlee whether, in view of the betrayal of the West's atomic secrets by Communist Dr. Klaus Fuchs, the Labor government will introduce a bill to outlaw Britain's Communist party.

"No sir," Attlee said.

Reorganization Plans Sent To Congress; Squabble Expected

Washington, March 13—(AP)—President Truman today sent Congress a sheaf of plans to reorganize a long list of federal agencies and abolish one—the Maritime Commission.

Seaboard congressmen and shipping interests were expected to fight the proposal to shift control of the merchant fleet over to Secretary of Commerce Sawyer.

In another of his 21 proposals, Mr. Truman lit the fuse for a second major explosion in Congress by calling for abolition of the almost-independent office of the general counsel of the National Labor Relations board. The post is held by Robert N. Denham. Denham, prosecutor and policeman of the Taft-Hartley law, is at odds with the NLRB majority. He calls it "pro-labor." Labor unions in turn have demanded Denham's removal.

The White House plans take effect automatically in 60 days, unless vetoed by either the House or Senate.

In 23 accompanying messages to Congress, Mr. Truman said the plans will save "modest" to "substantial" sums. All are based on proposals of the reorganization commission headed by former President Herbert Hoover, he said, adding:

"These plans will take us well along the road toward more effective, economical and responsible government."

The Commerce Department would take over all activities of the five-member Maritime Commission, which has regulated American shipping for 14 years.

A new three-man "Federal Maritime Board" would be set up in Commerce to regulate rates and grant ship subsidies, under broad policies fixed by Sawyer. A "Maritime Administration" would be created, also in Commerce, to take over the jobs of building, selling and chartering vessels.

Represents Pitt In Speech Event

Alfred Moore, of the Belvoir 4-H club, was declared the first place winner in the Soil Conservation contest held on Friday, using as the topic for his winning oration, "The Social Aspect of Soil Wastage."

The soil conservation contest was sponsored by the North Carolina Bankers' Association.

Moore received a $25 savings bond which was presented to him by J. S. Moye, trust officer of the Guaranty Bank and Trust Company.

Harvey Bradshaw of Greenville High School won second place award of $10.

Moore will represent Pitt county in the ten county finals contest to be held this week in Bethel, from which the winner of the contest will go into the state finals against winners from ten other groups to compete for the state championship.

The winner of the state contest will receive a $400 award.

The local contest was under the supervision of the North Carolina Extension Service with C. J. Goodman, assistant county agent acting as master of ceremonies.

The elimination contest for the section of the state entry will be held on Friday, March 17 at 1:30 in the Bethel High School, Goodman said.

Some 16 counties will make up the entries.

Moore, 17 year old tenth grader, is the son of Mrs. L. C. Turnage of Greenville Route 4. He is a senior member of the Belvoir 4-H club.

Elect President Brevard College

Charlotte, March 13—(AP)—The new president of Brevard Junior College is the Rev. George Brinkman Ehrhardt, registrar and librarian at Duke Divinity School.

His election was announced this weekend by Edwin L. Jones of Charlotte, chairman of the Brevard board of trustees.

Dr. Ehrhardt will succeed Eugene J. Coltrane, who has resigned effective June 1. Coltrane has been president since the Methodist school was founded in 1934.

Trouble Started When Curls Cut

Pleasantville, N.J., March 13—(AP)—A barber snipped off little Helen Marie's waist-long golden curls and then the trouble started.

Magistrate A. H. Keller freed Barber Edward Anzalone, 57, on $500 bond Saturday, pending grand jury action on a charge of malicious injury to personal property, brought by her father.

Alfred Wilkins of Northfield said his daughter's hair "was our pride and joy."

Mrs. Wilkins testified that six-year-old Helen Marie accompanied her older brother, James, when he went to get a haircut at Anzalone's shop.

Anzalone testified that he "felt sorry for her and thought she must get headaches with all that hair hanging down. Besides, it is more sanitary cut short. I thought maybe the family could not afford to have it cut. I was doing it out of the goodness of my heart."

Later Dates For Easter Holidays

Easter holidays for Greenville school children will start Easter Monday, April 10, rather than on Good Friday as has been the custom in years past.

The purpose of the postponement, as voiced by J. H. Rose, superintendent of City Schools, is in order that teachers may attend the International meeting of Associated Childhood Education in Asheville that week.

The holidays, as announced this morning by Rose, will be Easter Monday and Tuesday and Wednesday, April 11 and 12.

The three-day vacation will entail an extra day at the end of the semester, Rose said.

Among Negro school children, Easter holidays will be Monday and Tuesday of that week. An extra holiday will come to them later when the state Association of Negro Teachers meets.

Attending the Asheville meeting Rose said, will be large group from this city. The Greenville elementary teachers, which he estimated at having one of the best chapters in the state, will attend in a majority.

Party Line Vote On Tax Measure

Washington, March 13—(AP)—The House Ways and Means Committee rejected today a new Republican effort to ram through a "quickie" bill slashing excise taxes immediately by about $1,000,000,000.

The rigid party line vote was 15 to 10.

The team finishing first in the National Hockey League standings has gone on to win the Stanley Cup six times in the last 11 seasons.

N. Y. Stock Market

New York, March 13—(AP)—There was a spark of life in radio and steel shares today but otherwise the stock market ambled along with very little action.

Gains throughout the list generally were less than a point and losses were confined to a similarly narrow range.

Lots Of Shoes

Salisbury, March 13—(AP)—A Salisbury cobbler was faced today with furnishing shoes, free of charge, to his 39th and 40th feet.

A daughter was born yesterday to Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Edwards of Granite Falls. That was Edward's 20th child, 10 by each of his two wives. The score now is tied: 10 boys, 10 girls—the oldest now 37.

Edwards is employed by a Salisbury shoe shop.

Tobacco Leaders Decide Against Acreage Increase

Raleigh, March 13—(AP)—Flue-cured tobacco leaders from five states have decided not to seek an increase in the 1950 crop allotment.

A closed conference, called by Tobacco Associates, Inc., announced after its meeting:

"... it was generally agreed at the meeting that no effort should be made to change the 1950 allotments."

The differential between the actual average production rate and the minimum wage rate left the company to absorb a loss of approximately 14 cents an hour per worker until January, after which it had to absorb a loss of approximately 39 cents per hour per worker.

The source said the seriousness of the condition became apparent last October when the 75 cent minimum wage bill was passed by Congress. Efforts to alleviate the differential through increased production per worker have not shown satisfactory results.

Mr. Spender then made a statement which in time might produce far-reaching results in the relationship between Australia and America. He declared that Australia's aim is "to build up with the United States somewhat the same relationship as exists within the British commonwealth." That means, I take it, a close but non-political brotherhood.

The Australian minister called attention to the fact that the center of gravity of world affairs now lies in the Pacific and Asia areas. That is a true bill. Near-Hysterical

(Continued from page one) slip over into the Russian view—accepting a mere accusation as proof of guilt—we are doing what we condemn the Russians for.

And in this way the thing we're fighting against and the values we are fighting to protect are the very values we sacrifice or disregard.

It's an easy trap to fall into. But every time it happens—every time an innocent person is judged guilty in the public mind when he's merely been accused—a piece of the democratic foundation has been chipped.

At this time in our history a man who recklessly accuses another of communism may protest his motives are the noblest—and he may believe they are—but he winds up using the same tactics as the communism he condemns.

With all the charges that have been flung around here in the past few years, the reader of a newspaper or the listener to the radio, may ask: What am I to believe? Where there's smoke there's fire, isn't there?

Not all the time. It sometimes depends on who's making the charge. In reading about charges of communism in the newspapers or hearing it over the radio, there's one good rule for keeping a level head.

It's this: Read carefully and listen well to see where the evidence is to back up an accuser's charges. If the evidence isn't there, if what you read or hear are only accusations, keep an open mind until there is evidence or proof.
