Contracts Let On New Building For E.C.T.C.

Messick Says Undecided As To When Work On Structure Will Begin; State May Save $57,000 Under Estimates

Contracts have been let for a new health and physical education building at East Carolina Teachers College. It has not yet been decided, President John D. Messick of the college stated this morning, when work on the new structure will begin.

Bids on the new building were received in Greenville on Tuesday of this week. The State Budget Bureau has announced that the state may save as much as $57,000 below estimates on the new building. Assistant Budget Director D. S. Coltrane said that the low base offers, plus five percent architect's fees, came to a total of $665,288.40. The appropriation for the building amounted to $722,550.

He also said the Budget Bureau is considering alternate bids which, if accepted, would run the total costs to $683,736.90, for a total saving below the appropriation amounting to $38,600.

Crane and Denbo of Durham were awarded the general contract for the new health and physical education building at an estimated cost of $512,680. Other contracts are as follows: plumbing, High's, Inc., of Wilson, $40,900; heating, Dens and Baker Heating Company, $64,580; electrical work, Electrical Contracting and Engineering Co. of Charlotte, $15,448.

The new health and physical education building, according to plans, will be one of the largest on the campus. It will be located facing Tenth Street and east of the campus outdoor fireplace and picnic grounds, and will be well equipped for the work of the health and physical education department at the college.

In addition to classroom and office space, the new building will provide accommodations for basketball and other indoor sports. Seating for approximately 2000 spectators will be available when the building is completed.

A swimming pool located in the basement of the new building will be a special attraction to students. Measurements of the pool will be 75' by 35'.

Big Mo Skipper Pleads Guilty In Courts Martial

Capt. Brown Pleads Guilty To Charge Of Negligence, Neglect Of Duty

Norfolk, Va., March 30—(AP)—Capt. William D. Brown pleaded guilty today to charges of negligence and neglect of duty in the grounding of the battleship Missouri.

Brown, who commanded the Big Mo when she ran aground on a Chesapeake Bay shoal January 17, pleaded guilty to each of three charges and four specifications.

The action of the former skipper of the 450,000-ton battleship came shortly after he was arraigned before a general court martial convened to try him on the charges.

Several minutes earlier he had stood before the court, composed of four rear admirals and three captains, and heard the judge advocate read these charges:

(1) "Through negligence suffering a vessel of the Navy to be stranded."
(2) "Through negligence suffering a vessel of the Navy to be hazarded."
(3) "Neglect of duty."

The 47-year-old officer, who was relieved as commanding officer of the Missouri shortly after the vessel was refloated Feb. 1, had told a naval court of inquiry which investigated the grounding that "I and I alone bear the sole responsibility" for the accident.

Brown had become skipper of the nation's only active battleship last December. The Missouri was the first capital ship he had commanded and the first ship of any type he had skippered since 1943.

The charges against Brown were drawn by Rear Adm. Allan E. Smith, who had convened the court of inquiry and who ordered Brown and two other officers of the Missouri to stand trial by general courts martial. Smith is commander of the Atlantic Fleet cruiser force.

The other court martial defendants are Cmdr. John R. Millett, the Big Mo's former operations officer, and Lt. Cmdr. Frank G. Morris, former navigator. Millett is charged with neglect of duty and through negligence suffering a vessel of the Navy to be hazarded. Morris is charged with neglect of duty and culpable inefficiency in the performance of duty.

Washington, March 30—(AP)—Reports that President Truman has decided to veto the controversial farm price support measure affecting cotton, peanuts and potatoes today spread rapidly through the capitol.

Many senators and representatives told reporters they understood Mr. Truman had decided to disapprove the legislation.

The bill was sent to the White House last week. It was a hard-fought Senate-House compromise aimed at tightening price props under surplus Irish potatoes and allowing a 1/3 increase acreage for this year's crop of cotton and peanuts.

Chinese Enforce Their Blockade
Taiping, Formosa, March 30—(AP)—Pressing their blockade of Red China ports, the Chinese Nationalists have seized at least four and possibly five foreign ships.

The latest seizure occurred about March 23 close to Communist-held Amoy. The steamer Tai Chung Shan, flying the British flag, was forced into Quemoy, nearby Nationalist island.

Opening Program Of Festival Held

London, March 30—(AP)—Prime Minister Attlee's Labor government, smarting under a sleeper defeat in the House of Commons on a minor issue, was reported today aiming for a confidence vote to patch up the hole in its prestige.

Winston Churchill's Conservatives pulled a surprise victory in Commons last night in a vote on a parliamentary technicality. The vote was on whether to adjourn, not an issue upon which the government might fail. The maneuver, however, gave the Laborites a taste of the battle in store for them at every turn.

Attlee's cabinet met for more than two hours this morning in a post-mortem on the 283-257 vote. A government informant reported the cabinet agreed to look on the defeat as a technical one. To assuage the pain of the defeat, the government is expected to ask for a new vote of confidence, possible in a week or ten days. Defeat on a confidence vote would require the government to resign.

Dr. Robert Lee Humber introduced the speaker. George E. Perry of East Carolina Teachers College presented a brief program of piano music by Chopin at the opening program of the arts festival last night, and a group of Greenville ladies appeared in costumes of foreign lands.

Visiting artists from other towns recognized at the opening of the festival were Mrs. Ethel Hughes of Kingston, Mrs. J. C. Hood of Kinston, Mrs. Edwin Davis of Seven Springs, Mr. W. Prith Winslow of Plymouth, Mrs. Mary Duffy Hughes of New Bern, and Mrs. Hughes' mother, Mrs. Duffy.

Architecture, he said, is an art which is not very well understood, and a change in architecture usually follows a change in taste in some other form of art. Modern architecture, he added, was influenced by painting.

As for the architecture of the United Nations headquarters, for which he is one of the consultants, Nowicki said it is significant that modern architecture was chosen for the buildings. The architecture chosen for the headquarters, he said, was chosen for its functional purpose, but also it is a symbol of life in the present day.

More Russians Seen In Shanghai
Hong Kong, March 30—(AP)—The China Mail said today Russian troops—men and women—are beginning to appear in Shanghai. The newspaper credited these reports to recent arrivals from the Red City. There have been numerous reports that Russian military personnel have come into the lower Yangtze area. Some have said the Soviets are manning anti-aircraft guns directing coastal defense and advising the Chinese Communist army. None of these reports can be confirmed here.

Nine Patients In Sanatorium Fire Trapped, Perish

Blaze May Have Been Started, Possibly By Patient, Says Policeman

Philadelphia, March 30—(AP)—Nine male patients—some strapped to concrete bunks and others trapped in barred and bolted rooms—perished last night in a fire which raged through one wing of a suburban private sanatorium.

Two firemen, a nurse and at least 80 other patients, men and women, were injured or overcome by smoke as flames swept from basement to upper rooms of a section of the 47-year-old Belle Vista Sanatorium.

The sanatorium is given over to treatment of convalescent, senile, nervous and mental cases. Rescuers ripped thick wire mesh from windows in order to lead scores of patients—some uncomprehending and hysterical—to safety.

Walter Rohrbach, one of the firemen, said he rescued 12 women patients, carrying them down ladders one at a time.

"It was sickening," he said. "Some were screaming. Some were standing around with passive, blank looks—no understanding what was going on—or so scared they had no emotions."

Authorities said some of the male patients who died were fastened to bunks upon which they had lain without mattresses and only a few blankets. A few wore strait-jackets.

Lt. John Jellison, of the Springfield fire department, expressed belief the fire might have been incendiary. "It looks as if it might have been started by someone, probably by a patient," he said.

A joint investigation was begun immediately by state police, local police and the fire marshal's department.

Last night's fire at Belle Vista, which lies on the northwestern edge of Philadelphia, in Springfield township, Montgomery County, was the third at the sanatorium in 14 months.

It broke out shortly after 1 p.m. (EST) yesterday at the basement of the two-story part, wooden all-part, one being, within a matter of moments after its discovery, confusion was rampant inside. Only the swift action of rescuers and the resourcefulness of nurses and other members of the staff prevented a sheer panic.

As it was, patients, choking and groping for air as smoke filled the rooms and corridors, shouted and screamed for help while they sought to throw off their shackles. Some raced to windows only to find them heavily screened. Others thumped on massive doors—locked on the outside.

A number of these terrified patients injured themselves in their efforts to be free.

Police have been able to trace the girl's movements for only two hours after the time she left classrooms last Friday. She told them she planned to return to her Harrisburg home for the 10-day spring vacation.

Immunity Tradition

Today's Congressional Immunity Had Its Start Several Hundred Years Ago In Britain's Parliament; Written Into U. S. Law; One Case In Supreme Court

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, March 30—(AP)—Several hundred years ago the British Parliament was having a tough time with the king.

So there was spelled out congressional immunity: A member of Congress could not be jailed or sued for damages for anything he said about anyone, so long as it was on the floor of either House or Senate in debate.

Clio Club Hears Discussion On Nursing Plan

Tuesday evening Mrs. James Moyer was hostess to the Clio Book Club at her home on Ninth Street. On arrival the hostess served a dessert course with coffee. After a short business meeting, presided over by the president, Miss Elizabeth Norman, the meeting was turned over to Miss Grace Outland. Miss Outland's talk for the evening was on the Brown Nursing Plan. Last fall the Russell Sage Foundation published a book, "Nursing for the Future," by Esther Lucile Brown Ph.D. This plan has been adopted by the American Nursing Association of New York City. It includes the following points:

- 1. Hospital nursing schools, where most of our nurses now receive their training, should be abolished.
- 2. Nurses training should be on the college level, leading to a degree, and students would do bedside nursing only as laboratory work.
- 3. These graduates would be chiefly supervisors, teachers, and the like; the familiar "R.N." with three years of training, her functions presumably outmoded, passing into oblivion.

4. Her place would be taken by practical nurses, with from 8 to 12 months training sufficient, the author thinks, for routine nursing duty.
5. Realizing that most nurse candidates lack funds for a college course, Dr. Brown suggests federal subsidy of such schools.
6. Authority for accredited nurses' training schools would pass from state board of examiners, where it resided, into the hands of a national board in New York.

Miss Outland said if this plan was put in practice it would be the first step toward Socialized Medicine. The advocates of Socialized Medicine being defeated in all other attempts, have used this as a back door to obtain their goal. She urged all who are interested in progressive nursing and medicine to use their influence to defeat the two bills which support this plan that are now in Congress.

After Miss Outland's talk the books were distributed and the meeting adjourned. Guests for the evening were Miss Grace Outland, Dr. Malene Irons, and Mrs. Phillip Coleman.

Fleming-Harrell Vows Spoken In Wilson On Saturday

Wilson.—Miss Sarah Norfleet Harrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Norfleet Harrell, became the bride of Hunter Lee Fleming, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Hunter Lee Fleming, in a formal ceremony Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in the First Methodist church. The Rev. Dr. A. J. Hobbs of Rocky Mount officiated at the double ring marriage service. The church was decorated with a background of palms and ferns and all white cathedral candles burned in ascending candelabra all the way across the front of the church. In the center was a large arrangement of Easter lilies, gladioli, snapdragons and fern with floor baskets of the same flowers on either side. The entire chancel was decorated with Oregon fern and huckleberry. Smilax entwined the chancel rail ending in two plaques of white carnations above the white satin kneeling pillow, which was flanked by Easter lilies and fern. The columns of the church were decorated with smilax, and Easter lilies and fern tied with white satin ribbon marked the reserved pews.

Prior to the ceremony a program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. E. T. Stallings, organist, and Mrs. Jack Stallard of Lexington, Ky., soloist. Mrs. Stallings played "Love Theme" from "Romeo and Juliet" by Tchaikovsky; "Canzone Amoroosa" by Nevins; "Berceuse" from "Jocelyn" by Godard; "Chant de bonheur" by Lemare; and "Romance" by Rubenstein. During the ceremony "Claire de Lune" by Debussy was played softly, and the traditional wedding marches were used for the processional and recessional.

Mrs. Stallard's solos were "Calm As the Night" by Bohm, "I Love Thee" by Grieg and "Call Me Thine Own." She sang "O Perfect Love" as the benediction. The bride entered with her father, by whom she was given in marriage. She wore a regal gown of white satin, an original peacock model by Madam Barnes. It was designed with off-shoulder neckline edged with rosepoint lace and embroidered with seeded pearls which extended down the front of the bodice to a point at the waistline. The sleeves were long and fitted, and the long peacock train was edged with rosepoint lace. Her long formal veil of imported French illusion fell from a tiara embroidered with seeded pearls. She carried an heirloom lace handkerchief and a cascading bouquet of white lilies, gardenias and lilies of the valley.

Miss Mary Hunter Hackney was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Harriett Fleming, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Jean Moss, Miss Winifred Petty and Miss Caroline Sykes, of Washington. D. C. Miss Hackney's gown was of daffodil yellow net, fashioned with off-shoulder neckline, tight basque and very bouffant skirt ending in a train.

The skirt was over very full hoops and crinoline. The waistline was accented with a wide girdle of daffodil yellow taffeta, which swept down the sides of the skirt in front and ended in a large bow with fringed edges in the back. Her headress was a yellow tiara encrusted with dual sequins, and she wore long white kid gloves. She carried an arm bouquet of white sweet peas, yellow roses and carnations with ropes of jonquils streaming down from the bouquet.

The bridesmaids' gowns and headresses were identical to the honor attendant except that they were of white net with yellow girdles. Their arm bouquets were of yellow roses, snapdragons and carnations with the cascading ropes of yellow jonquils.

Lawrence Patrick Fleming attended his brother as best man, and groomsmen were W. W. Kimball, Harry W. Severance, T. S. Hall, Charles M. Fleming, Wade H. Anderson, Jr., and T. L. Watson, Jr. Mrs. Harrell wore for her daughter's wedding a dinner gown of pink lace over taffeta designed with rounded neckline embroidered with sequins and seed pearls. Her corsage was of purple orchids.

The bridegroom's mother wore a cinnamon crepe dinner gown with corsage of yellow cymbidium orchids. Immediately following the ceremony the bride's parents entertained at a wedding reception at the Wilson Country Club.

Mr. Fleming was graduated from the Kinston high school and holds a position as buyer for Imperial Tobacco Company here. The bride is a graduate of Charles L. Coon high school and attended Duke University and Leland Powers School of Radio and Dramatics in Boston, Mass.

Miss Rouse Reviews Book Before Club

The members of the Sans Souci Book club were guests of Mrs. W. L. Hall at her home on W. Fourth street, Tuesday afternoon. The arrangements of jonquils and tulips created an atmosphere of spring throughout the house.

The president, Mrs. H. S. Ragsdale, presiding, extended an invitation from the Garden club to attend the Fine Arts Festival. The nominating committee presented the following slate for next year: Mrs. H. S. Ragsdale, president; Mrs. F. J. Forbes, first vice president; Mrs. L. W. Gaylord, second vice president; Mrs. E. B. Sugg, secretary; Mrs. W. M. Scales, treasurer; Mrs. J. T. Cheatham, librarian.

The program chairman, Mrs. W. L. Best, presented Miss Ramona Rouse, director of Christian education, who most capably reviewed the book, "The Chain," by Paul I. Wellman. Miss Rouse gave a delightful resume of a powerful and beautiful novel of a man of God and of the indomitable faith through which he inspired the regeneration of a decadent community and achieved his own redemption.

The members were so highly entertained with her dramatic ability to depict each character so perfectly, she was asked during refreshments to complete the story. The delicious salad course with coffee was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. J. T. Cheatham and Mrs. E. W. Hellen.

Mrs. J. N. Hart, Miss Ramona Rouse and Mrs. E. W. Hellen were guests.

Mrs. Underwood Gives Club Program

Speaking on the life of Saint Francis of Assisi, Mrs. Sam B. Underwood, Jr. presented the program at the Inter Se Book Club on Tuesday, March 28, at the home of Mrs. Burke Stancill.

Following a brief business meeting conducted by Mrs. Wendell Smiley, Mrs. Underwood told something about the life of Saint Francis and the important role he played in helping to keep Christianity alive in the Dark Ages. His love for all men, his love and tenderness for the lower animals and for nature were characteristic of this happy man who was the pre-eminent saint of the Middle Ages. Saint Francis did all he could, by example and teaching, to liberate men from the bondage of false values and to ally their feverish thirst for material possessions. He deservedly ranks among the great men of religion of all times.

At the conclusion of the program the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Madge Stancill, served a delicious salad course.

Mrs. Whichard Is Hostess To Club

The members of the Athenium Book club were guests for a luncheon meeting at the new home of Mrs. David J. Whichard, Jr., Tuesday noon.

Beautiful spring flowers artistically arranged throughout the house added to its attractiveness.

Concluding the two-course luncheon the hostess read a paper on the history of the Associated Press, which was most interesting and instructive.

Each member contributed an interesting current event.

Horsemen will vie for $210,000 in 15 stake races at Delaware Park from May 29 to July 4.

Strength FOR THE DAY

THE LURE OF GAMBLING
Why is gambling wrong? Many people have the feeling that gambling must be wrong, but they are not sure why it is wrong.

Gambling is wrong primarily because it commits one, temporarily at least, to a policy of getting something for nothing. This is dishonest and devastating to character. Judges are practically unanimous in declaring that gambling is the greatest cause of embezzlement.

There are two vices which seem invariably to ruin character — drug addiction and gambling. When a person gets into the toils of gambling, he is almost morally hopeless. Thousands of men are redeemed from alcoholism, but gamblers almost never reform. Once a man becomes a gambler, he is so devoted to this one thing that family, personal honor, and reputation mean nothing to him. No other vice seems so hard to shake off—save only drug addiction—and with this one exception no other vice more completely destroys character, than does gambling.

Big gambling begins with petty gambling, and petty gambling is a sure sign of poor sportsmanship. If a game cannot be played for the interest and thrill inherent in the game itself, then that person is a poor sport who has to stimulate his interest with stakes, either great or small.

RETALIATION AND POLITICS IN INCIDENT?

Tony Tolar is having a rough time keeping his name out of the headlines of North Carolina newspapers these days.

First, he was accused of disturbing a funeral with a siren and reckless driving and makes the headlines. Next he went back to apologize to the widow whose husband he allegedly disturbed, and on the same trip issued an order limiting the Chocowinity patrol station service, and made the headlines again.

We are of the opinion that Tolar is not seeking all the publicity and attention he is receiving from editors and other citizens of North Carolina at the present time. However, the case, as time passes, has more and more ramifications.

Tolar ordered the Chocowinity patrol station closed last Friday and open only on a part-day basis (from 9 a. m. to 2 p. m.). By Monday Tolar countermanded the order, and left the Chocowinity station on its former 24-hour schedule. Just what prompted the diverging orders is being pondered by a lot of people both in this area and all over the state.
The people in Beaufort county took the command to close the station as an act of retaliation for Tolar's indictment in Beaufort County Superior court. And the folks now are considering the order for the station to resume its 24-hour schedule as a "political" move.

The Reflector is of the opinion that both retaliation and politics may be playing a part in the actions surrounding the patrol station incidents.

The affairs of a division of the state government are in a bad state when one man is allowed to open or close an office merely to satisfy his inflated ego through an act of retaliation. And the affairs of the state government also are not as they should be when an office or station is kept open if it is not needed, merely to garner votes to be cast the way the state administration would like to see them cast in May.

It is difficult to separate the smoke from the fire in the situation which Tolar has created in eastern North Carolina during the past few weeks. But the Reflector would like to reiterate its opinion that a man whose ac-

Three Guesses, What's He Thinking Today?

Somebody Told Me . .

By L. J. (JACK) EDWARDS, JR.

If you read this thing regularly,
you might wonder why I write so much about Alcoholics Anonymous. The answer is very simple.
Through this column an unknown number of people (somewhere between two and 23) have discovered that there exists right here in Greenville an organization which functions for two purposes:
(1) to keep dry its members, all ex-alcoholics, and (2) to help any chronic drinker who has an honest desire to stop drinking.

Knowing that someone has been led to AA by this column, I jump at every opportunity to report progress of the Pitt County group.
Besides, it's news.

Tuesday night was family night for AA, and the inauguration of the new Club Room over Drum's Hatchery. The program featured three speakers: Marguerite and Bebe (both members) from New Bern and Dr. Glen Haney (a non-member) of Greenville.

Bebe discussed the subject, "Alcoholic Women." And who could be better qualified to speak on the subject? For years Bebe was as bad as they come. One drink was too much for her and a barrel wasn't enough. She says she used to hide her whiskey in a flower vase to keep her husband from finding it.

April 28 will mark the end of Bebe's first year of sobriety. "One thing that makes it tougher for an alcoholic woman is that her husband will not stand by her like a woman will stand by an alcoholic husband. I know. My husband bought a brand new saddle leather bag, and before I stopped drinking he had worn it out by packing and unpacking it so many times." Bebe cited the fact that more and more women are becoming chronic drinkers as time progresses.

Marguerite, mother of four daughters, talked about the parent's problem in educating their children about alcohol. She emphasized the fact that children should be properly informed about what whiskey is and what it is not. It should not be presented to children as a harmless drink, nor should it be described as horrible poison. The important thing, Marguerite said, is to tell the complete story of alcohol to children, pulling no punches, just as young as they are able to understand. Because before they are old enough to understand they have already seen cowboys in movies swagger up to the bar, toss down a couple of shots, and shudder.

Dr. Haney immediately laid his cards on the table. "I'm not preaching tonight," he said. He expressed his delight that finally the human race is trying to find out what makes us tick. "In the last 20 or 30 years," he said, "great gains have been made in this respect." After conquering the universe, we have stopped to consider our behavior and its importance.

"If life's activities could be expressed by a circle," he said, "with various slices representing different phases, those phases might be called social, educational, physical, assessments at almost $137 million for advalorem taxes, and owned largely by North Carolinians. Railroad and bus lines stock owned in this state runs into millions, and it is widely diffused among thousands of small stockholders.

INDIRECT—Besides the direct owners of stock practically every policy-holder in an insurance company has indirect interest in the corporations, which are sometimes sought to be arrayed against the "peep". In most instances the corporations and the people are identical.

BUILDING—Seventy-four cities and towns in this state authorized ten and a quarter million dollars worth of building construction during the month of February, according to the state labor department. This was more than three million above the amount for which permits were issued in February of last year. Substantially more than half the total went into 1,061 new family dwellings units with nearly a million dollars more for additions and repairs.

COSTS—There was probab-ly more increase in building than was indicated by the cost reported, since there has been some decline in prices during the past year. This "leveling off" trend is noted in road building as well as other types of construction, and is not confined to North Carolina. The American Public Works Association reports decline in highway costs ranging up to ten per cent. Reasons assigned for the lower costs are keener codification, increasing availability of materials, supplies, equipment and labor.

HIGHWAYS—In some places the decline in cost of grading and paving has been more noticeable than for bridges and culverts. One or two examples have been cited in North Carolina where paving prices fell below expectations, bids on structures were above estimates.
Upon the whole, there has been decline in costs of all types of road work during the past year.

INSTITUTIONS—In numerous instances contracts have been let for buildings at state institutions under permanent improvement program at prices lower than contemplated at time appropriations were made. These reductions will be reflected in savings for the general fund account, but the savings cannot be credited or applied to any other purpose until the whole program has been completed. Regardless of how or when the book credits are made, truth of the matter is both public and private building costs less than it did a year or so ago.

STOCKHOLDERS—There is also disposition in some quarters to sneer at "stockholders" in corporations and being plutocrats or filthy rich and having designs to impose upon the state's fifteen thousand or more corporations include something more than one hundred thousand people, more of them "little people"
—wage-earners, small farmers, etc.
Even the so-called big corporations,
the outfits like telephone and power companies, are not owned by a few rich people. The Carolina Power and Light Company has between eight and nine thousand stockholders in this state. The Bell Telephone system has around six thousand Tar Heel stockholders. In addition to Bell there are seventy other telephone companies operating in the state with thousands of stockholders.
There were last year twenty-seven electric power and gas companies

sessment.

Wm. Simpson To Speak On Friday

One of the outstanding features of the Fine Arts Festival will be the program on Friday afternoon at 3:30 at the Woman's Club under the auspices of the Greenville Garden Club. The speaker will be Mr. William Mark Simpson of Norfolk, Va., and he has chosen for his topic "The Value of an Appreciation of the Fine Arts in the Community."

Mr. Simpson graduated from the Rinehart School of Sculpture and continued his studies at the American Academy in Rome. He was a visiting sculptor at the Foundation for Architecture and Landscape Architecture in Lake Forest, Ill., and also was director of the Rinehart School of Sculpture for several years. ECTC Debaters 'Broke Even' In Wilson Meeting

East Carolina Teachers College and Atlantic Christian College staged a program of intercollegiate debates in Wilson Tuesday evening, March 28, and broke even on decisions. The query was the national debate topic for 1950 "Resolved, that the United States should nationalize basic non-agricultural industries."

A negative team representing the Jarvis Forensic Club of East Carolina and composed of Robert W. Wechter of Stumpy Point and Billy Tucker of Grimesland won over the ACC affirmative and an affirmative team from East Carolina made up of Evelyn Lutetion of Jacksonville and Charles Fountain of Tarboro lost to the ACC negative. Dr. Meredith N. Posey, faculty adviser of the Jarvis Forensic Club, went to Wilson for the debates.

Arrangements were begun Tuesday evening to make the forensic meet between East Carolina and Atlantic Christian an annual event.

SUPPORTS GRAHAM

Raleigh, March 30.—Dr. James W. Vernon of Morganton, a past president of the North Carolina Medical Society, today declared his support of Senator Frank Graham's candidacy for the U. S. Senate.

High wind blew down this 320-foot radio transmitting tower used by the Mississippi Highway Patrol at Jackson during the storm that killed one person and injured 43 in southern states. About 200 buildings in Alabama, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi and Kentucky were wrecked by the wind that blew hard for nearly 48 hours. (AP Wirephoto).

French Gratitude Train In Pitt

The "gratitude train" was France's way of saying "thank you" for the gifts of food sent after World War II by the American people on the "friendship trains," an idea originated by Drew Pearson, nationally known radio news commentator of Washington, D.C.

The motor trailer, sponsored by Burlington Mills, Inc., Burlington, N.C., containing messages and gifts and expressions of appreciation for the food sent to the French people after the last war, was visited by hundreds while it was in Greenville near the Daily Reflector office yesterday.

Funeral Friday For Ben F. Manning Sr.

Funeral services will be conducted from the residence Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock for Ben F. Manning Sr., 57, who died suddenly at his home Wednesday night at 7:15. Burial will follow in the family cemetery.

Mr. Manning was the son of the late Talbert M. and Maniza James Manning.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Annie R. Manning, one son, B. F. Manning Jr. of Bethel; three daughters, Mrs. Jim Sivills of Hilton Village, Va., Mrs. Allen Weeks Jr. of Speed and Mrs. Linwood Heath of Greenville; two brothers, W. O. Manning of Bethel and Louis Manning of Laurel, Md.; two sisters, Mrs. J. R. Jenkins Sr. of Robersonville and Mrs. O. A. Daniels Sr. of Oxford; and four grandchildren.

The French "thank you" display in the motor trailer touring the state is in charge of Charles L. Jones, curator, Department of Archives and History, Raleigh, N.C.

The "good will" motor trailer, conveying the thanks of the French people for Americans' generosity, left Greenville yesterday afternoon.

The display was in Farmville during the forenoon today and at Falkland during the afternoon.

On Friday the French "thank you" motor van will be in Stokes during the morning and at Bethel during the afternoon.

Curator Jones said the display will be in Beaufort County the week of April 3-7. The "good will" trailer spends one week in each of the 100 counties of North Carolina.

Rushing Baby's First Steps Can Cause Flat Feet

By FRANK CAREY
WASHINGTON — Overeager grandparents who want to see children walk for the first time may give the toddlers flat feet. Dr. Frank J. Carleton of West Chester, Pa., writing in the Journal of the National Association of Chiropractors, says:

"Indictment of the parent for prematurely fostering the walking of the child must here be mentioned, and, perhaps with more emphasis, may the charge be brought against the fond grandparents, who can hardly wait to see their progeny rise in the world of their making and assume the burden of their hardy inheritance.

"Nature, if left alone, will dictate the physics of weight bearing and propulsion better than grandpa, who, though he may teach the dynamics of force and gravitation in the local high school, has failed to apply them to his own faltering steps, as well as to those of his 'pride and joy.'"

In the same publication, Dr. John T. Sharp of Temple University School of Chiropraxy said the first five or six years of a child's life are a critical period in which doctors should watch for signs of a serious condition of flat-footedness.

Almost all children are flat-footed to some extent during these first years of life, he said, but it is sometimes hard to determine whether this is a normal result of bearing weight for the first time or due to an abnormal condition. Where the foot is basically normal, he said, flatness usually is overcome by the fifth or sixth birthday.

But he advised doctors to watch for evidence of a truly abnormal condition and take corrective measures at once. Such evidence, he said, includes fatigue, pain in foot or leg, frequent removal of shoes and abnormal shoe wear.

BLENN, Swift's specialized crop maker, is helping tobacco growers produce that bright, smooth leaf that brings top bid. By actual test, it does help produce much higher dollar returns per acre.

E. G. Flinchum, Greensboro, N. C., fertilized one acre of tobacco with 1,100 lbs. of BLENN. Another acre in the same field got a similar amount of another plant food of the same analysis.

The results as reported by Mr. Flinchum were: "242 lbs. more leaf from the BLENN-fed acre" — "Average price almost 2 cents per pound higher from the BLENN acre" — "$164.06 more money from the acre grown with BLENN." "The acre with BLENN under it produced 2018 lbs. of fine leaf."

ABC Chairman Leads Fight On Smuggled Liquor

Atlanta, March 30—(AP)—Chairman R. W. Winston of the North Carolina board of alcohol will spearhead a fight of Southern states against a flood of smuggled liquor.

Officials from 12 states met here yesterday and elected Winston chairman of their conference.

They charge that a flood of liquor is being brought into the states without state taxes.

In a resolution the conference threatened "drastic" steps if the distillers don't police their own industry. The resolution didn't specify what the action would be, but officials said they could ban the sale of products by liquor manufacturers who refuse to cooperate.

Winston will forward the warning to all distillers.

Meanwhile, at Atlanta representatives of the National Distilled Spirits Institute, Inc., passed the suggestion off lightly. The spokesman, declining use of his name, said the idea is illegal, impractical and unfair. Responsibility for law enforcement lies with governments and cannot be shifted to the distilling industry which has no police force, he said.

He said the federal government proposed a similar move during the war but abandoned it.

Officials from Illinois and Missouri attended the meeting.

Walked Out On Japanese Diet

Tokyo, March 30—(AP)—A Diet (Parliament) committee plans to cite President Yukio Kagayama of the National Railway Corp. for "ignoring the prestige of the national Parliament."

County Home Is Bone Dry After Cocktail Party

Clinton, N. C., March 30—(AP)—The Sampson County home was bone dry today—the law has stopped its cocktail hour.

Paul Jones, county home manager returned from a weekend business trip and found the usually calm atmosphere of the county home displaced by a wild drinking party.

Yesterday, Recorder Samuel A. Howell slapped sentences in several persons for their part in the county home partying. One inmate was guilty of hauling illegal liquor for other inmates. Three other persons were convicted of selling booze to the inmates.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

New York—(AP)—How do you turn off a milkman?

There must be a way, but in 13 days, two hours and 12 minutes I haven't figured out how to do it. It has been exactly that long since my wife left me on a three-week visit to relatives in Texas.

"It's the first time you've had the apartment all to yourself in ten years," said Frances. "Have fun, you poor thing."

The last thing I remember her saying was, "You don't have to worry about the milkman. Just tell him to stop delivery."

I have—about 12 times, including once when I took some checkers and spelled out in the doorway: "NO MILK." It hasn't worked. Nothing worked. I even started delivering it back to him each night, but each morning there were just two bottles instead of one.

I suppose he finds it impossible to turn off his cows and is just passing his problem on to me. I've been relaying it to the refrigerator, but it's full now. So am I—grade A and pasteurized up to my ears.

It's a funny thing about milk. You can't even give it away. If you go up to a strange mother with two "Please, lady, take this milk," she starts backing off. She thinks you have a delusion you're Napoleon playing supermarket.

The worst thing about my ever-flowing milkman is that when Frances comes home and looks in the refrigerator, she'll say, "Well, Rover, couldn't you at least tell the man to stop delivering milk?"

And she'll tell him once to stop, and he'll stop. He'll probably even settle by taking four bottles back.

Such is the authority of wives, and the futility of husbands. As a matter of fact everything about my period of enforced bachelorhood has convinced me that a man can't really run a home by himself. He can only run it down. The man-about-the-house is just a myth.

As soon as a wife leaves, the place starts falling apart at the seams. Pants get out of press, shirts won't go to the laundry, light bulbs go out while you're reading the evening newspaper, rain comes in the window and runs onto the rug, you run out of razor blades, your shoestrings break and suspender buttons pop off like mad.

and of 14,000,000 men in the last war I suppose I was the only one who never learned to sew on a button. I always thought that was for first lieutenants.

The most shattering blow to my pride has been my experience in the kitchen. If there was one thing I could do as a Boy Scout it was to whip up a batch of bacon and eggs.

But what has happened to eggs over the years? They cook up sentimental on one side now and cynical on the other. Everyone I put in the pan ended up looking like an oyster on top and a mess of cinders on the bottom.

Of course, I could hard boil them but there's a water shortage on, and I don't want neighbors going around whispering I'm unpatriotic.

The dish I've had the best luck with so far is raw marshmallows. You eat all you want, and then spend an hour brushing the powdered sugar off your vest. But after three evenings a diet of straight marshmallows begins to lose some of its glamor.

Wives are habit forming, but there's no better habit for a fellow with ten thumbs. I'll be glad when mine gets back.

Fountain's Jimmy Bryant Helped By Polio Campaign

(Editor's Note: Jimmie Bryant of Fountain is a happy, healthy looking youngster, but there is a story behind that youthful smile that has to do with the brace on his leg. The following is the story as told the Reflector by Mrs. Edna Earle Baker, principal of Fountain school.)

"Jimmie Bryant, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Bryant, Jr., of Fountain, was stricken with polio at the age of 6 months.

"For two weeks the doctors treated him for a bad cold and at the end of two weeks he had lost use of his right leg. He was carried to Tarboro and his case diagnosed as the dread disease of polio.

"Then became the long and tedious work of trying to treat the leg and restore its use. Under the supervision of the doctor at Duke Hospital his mother administered the daily exercises. He was taken back to Duke for check-ups at certain intervals.

"Finally, they put a brace on him as soon as he was able to pull up but somehow or other he never could use it to much advantage. Finally, one day he found that he could take a step and he said, 'Mama, I can walk.'

"Well, he did walk in his way but as he began to walk his foot turned out and this necessitated an operation and the hospitalization of Jimmy for a month and then the long tedious spell of wearing a cast from his neck to his toes. The little fellow had the patience of 'Job.'

"Finally, the cast came off—braces were put on and the little fellow spent another week in the hospital trying to learn how to walk. After many weeks of trying to learn how—you should see the little fellow walk now.

"The March of Dimes has helped another little fellow to walk. This year Jimmie collected $37.00 for the Polio Fund when we conducted our drive. The Fountain people wish to express our appreciation for the benefits that this little boy has received. We as a little community strive very hard to do our part in obtaining our quota.

"We have 250 children in our school and we turned in $474.63 in the drive for this year. May the good work go on and in behalf of 'Jimmie,' 'his parents' and 'our little community' I wish to thank the March of Dimes Fund for the $515.52 that has been spent in 'Jimmie's' behalf that he might walk."

Hoey Gratified By Withdrawal

Washington, March 30 — (AP) — Senator Clyde R. Hoey (D-N.C.) is "gratified" that Mayor Marshall Kurpees of Winston-Salem will not oppose his candidacy for re-election.

Withdrawal of Kurpees from the state's Democratic primary race means the State Board of Elections will certify Hoey for the Democratic nomination. Nomination in the primary is tantamount to election in North Carolina.

Halsey Leavitt of Asheville is the Republican candidate against Hoey.

In a statement, Hoey said: "I welcome the opportunity for continued service to the people of North Carolina."

"This (the withdrawal of Kurpees) will enable me to devote my time and energy more completely to my work in Washington where so many vital measures are pending in the Senate and before committees on which I am serving."

Income to Indians and the federal government from oil wells and mines leased on federal property in 1948 totaled $34,250,000.

Mines and oil wells on federally owned land produced $363,000,000 worth of products in 1948, four times the value in 1940.

Another Step In Pushing N. C. Hunt For Oil

Washington, March 30 — (AP) — Norlina Oil Development Company, Inc., has taken another step in its search for oil and mineral deposits in southeastern North Carolina.

The Washington company yesterday filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission a registration covering plans to sell 600 shares of no par capital stock.

The company told SEC the securities are "offered as a speculation."

Under terms for the offering, proceeds from the stock sale will be used to pay off current liabilities and for general corporate purposes.

Acheson Argues For Foreign Aid

Washington, March 30—(AP)—Secretary of State Acheson told Congress today that any cut in the $45,000,000 asked for President Truman's "point four" program would have unfortunate results on efforts to check Communism in Asia. "It would undoubtedly be interpreted by the peoples of the free countries of Asia, the middle east and other underdeveloped areas as indicating a lack of interest in a program upon which they have been putting very great hopes," he said. Acheson went before the senate foreign relations committee to argue for the proposed program of American technical aid to raise production methods and living standards in backward areas of the world. The plan got the name "point four" from President Truman's listing of it in his inaugural address last year.

The senate group is considering the proposal at a time when Acheson is reported to be trying to draw Great Britain and France into a United front against the spread of Communism in Asia.

Acheson told the senators that the $45,000,000 figure is a careful estimate of what is needed for the 12 months beginning July 1. He said any cut would "seriously handicap the undertaking of specific activities which can be effectively organized during the coming year."

The Japanese . . .

Naturally the question of security is a paramount issue. In this connection it must be kept in mind that potentially Japan is one of the world's great powers. In days to come she will play a leading part in the affairs of the Far East.

Leon Blum Dies

Paris, March 30—(AP)—Leon Blum, 77, three times Premier of France, died unexpectedly today. He had long been a leader of the socialist party in France and was recognized in recent years as its elder statesman.

Blum, veteran of France's Turbulent between-war politics, would have been 78 April 9. He was active in France's government to the end. He was vice Premier under Andre Marie in 1948 and was a leader in the European unity movement.

A bitter foe of the Nazis before and during the war, Blum was just as vehemently an enemy of the Communists who made him a constant target of their attacks.

Immunity . . .

(Continued from Page 1) the U. S. Supreme Court. That was in 1880 and then the court said: "It would be a narrow view of the constitutional privilege to limit it to words spoken in debate. The reason of the rule is as forcible in its application to written reports presented in that body by its committees, to resolutions offered which, though in writing, must be reproduced in speech, and to the act of voting . . . in short, to things generally done in a session of the House by one of its members in relations to the business before it."

So up to this time in American history a member of Congress has been free to say anything he pleases about you—even ruin your name—and you have been unable to sue him, provided—

That what he said was said in Congress, on the floors of either house or before a congressional committee. If the same congressman slandered you outside Congress, say on the radio, you could sue him.

So far, therefore, congressmen have had in effect an absolute immunity for anything said about anyone in Congress. Some time someone may try in court to test this immunity again.

U. S. Ambassador Laurence A. Steinhardt and four other persons perished in this wreckage of an American embassy plane which exploded and crashed near Ottawa, Ontario, Tuesday. Bodies of the victims have been recovered from the wreckage and lie under blankets at right. A few minutes before the mid-air explosion "like dynamite," the U. S. Air Force C-47 had taken off from the Ottawa airport en route to the United States. The plane was piloted by Capt. Thomas G. Archibald of Union Springs, Ala., assistant air attaché at the U. S. embassy in Ottawa. He was one of the five killed. Standing beside the wreckage are members of a Royal Canadian Air Force rescue crew. (AP Wirephoto).

Forest Warden Gives Advice On Timber In Pitt

Pitt County Forest Warden N. S. (Kid) Tyson today passed along some useful information to farmers and other landowners about forestry. He said although 438 farmers and other landowners throughout North Carolina during the past six months took advantage of the "in the woods" help offered by foresters of the Department of Conservation and Development, many farmers of Pitt county are not aware of this free service of this free service," said Pitt County Forest Warden Tyson said.

Local and district foresters marked 14,548,305 board feet of timber for cutting on 55,217 acres in this period, Tyson said. "But only 123 acres of this timber marked was in Pitt county. Farmers who have their timber marked when for sale always receive better money, the forester stated.

Tyson urged owners of timber land to participate in the forestry management program. He said his services are always available and the service is free. Farmers and other land owners are invited to contact Pitt County Forest Warden Tyson for further information about making timber land more profitable.

Leon Tripp is the assistant county forest warden.

Bonner Voted To Curtail Future Aid To Europe

Washington, March 30—Congressman Herbert C. Bonner yesterday voted to reduce foreign economic assistance by one-quarter billion dollars.

The bill passed the House by a two-vote margin.

Mr. Bonner's action in voting for reduced expenditures abroad was in accord with statements he made in public speeches and in letters to constituents following his return from Europe last year.

"While in Europe we saw the opportunity to reduce appropriations for Marshall Plan assistance," Mr. Bonner explained. "I am convinced," he declared, "that the countries of Europe are in a position now to help themselves more than they are doing."

He said the action of the House yesterday was in keeping with "curtailments in domestic appropriations."

Planning Review Of NCEA Issue

Raleigh, March 30—(AP)—It will be tomorrow before the North Carolina Education Association's directors review the organization's presidential row again.

Mrs. Ethel Perkins Edwards, NCEA executive secretary, said a directors' meeting scheduled for today had been postponed until tomorrow. It was postponed, she said, at the request of two members who said they could not be here today.

Two Pre-School Clinics Staged

Pitt County's Health Department held pre-school clinics at two schools in the county this week as an adjunct to its regular school-health program.

The schools in which the clinics were held were Bell-Arthur yesterday and Falkland Monday. In addition to the school children examined, 78 4-H club members were examined as an aid to the county clubs in selecting a 4-H king and queen of health.

Seventeen children were examined at Bell-Arthur with dental defects and malnutrition being the predominant bad-health findings.

At the Falkland school, seven dental defects were discovered and treatment recommended by the department. Three cases of malnutrition were discovered. Two cases of poor posture were credited to the cases of undernourishment.

Conducting the examinations were Dr. T. G. Basnight, Health officer for Pitt, Mrs. W. M. Johnston, Mrs. M. J. Evans, and Mrs. J. B. Hemingway, nurses. The clinic at Grifton is being conducted today under the direction of Dr. E. V. Tucker.

Clinic schedule for next week is: Monday, Falkland Negro; Tuesday, Chocod; Wednesday, Farmville; Thursday, Stokes; and Friday, Pactolus.

President Calls Rare Vacation News Conference

Key West, Fla., March 30—(AP)—President Truman summed correspondents to one of his rare vacation news conferences today to discuss major shifts in his administration and voice anew his support of Secretary of State Acheson.

His grave concern over Republican senatorial attacks on the state department and its chief spokesman already had been reflected in a series of Presidential actions at this winter vacation retreat.

Mr. Truman suffered a new setback yesterday when the house voted to earmark a billion dollars in European recovery funds for the purchase of domestic farm surpluses.

The President asked the newsmen over to the lawn of the winter White House for a conference at 4:30 p. m. (EST)

Building Outlays Rise Above 1949

Raleigh, March 30—(AP)—North Carolina cities and towns authorized $10,241,767 in new building construction last month, the State Labor Department reported today. The February total for the 74 cities and towns making reports was more than $3,000,000 above that of February, 1949.

Fifteen students at East Carolina Teachers College have received invitations to become members of the Beta Kappa Chapter of Pi Omega Pi, national honorary business education fraternity. Berman, Portsmouth, Va.; Mary Edna Brisson, Fayetteville; Mattie Faye Brown, Williamston; Emma Dean Calfee, Belhaven; Robert L. Mumford, Grifton; Shirley Pilkinton, Smithfield; Patricia Sutton, Kinston; and Ronald C. Underwood, Carolina Beach.

Dr. Howard J. McGinnis, director of the Bureau of Field Services at East Carolina, was invited to become an honorary member of the fraternity.

Wanted: Cowboy Bandit, Age 8

Atlanta, March 30—(AP)—Wanted by the police: a two-gun cowboy bandit, who robbed a laundry office in the heart of the city.

The bandit, wearing full cowboy regalia, walked into the office last night and pulled two shiny guns on the woman clerk.

"Stick 'em up," he demanded. Then he grabbed a collection box belonging to the Crippled Children's League of Georgia and escaped. The box held about $5 in small change.

Detectives called in a juvenile court officer. The bad man was a youngster about eight years old. His weapons were cap pistols.

term of court. In April 1949, a two-week term, 10 cases were docketed for trial in last November's two-week term, 17 cases were scheduled. Many of these were heard and judged, sentences being handed down, and the rest continued until the next term.

On the heels of the predominating "D.D." connotation on the calendar, three charges of manslaughter were returned by the grand jury as true bills this term. All are charges arising from death on the highways, continuing Pitt's reign over the 100 counties in its red-circled highways.

Other cases judged yesterday were: Robert McLawhorn, drunken driving; $250 and costs, sci fa entered at the January term discharged upon payment of present sci fa. Cecil E. Barber, drunken and reckless driving; 60 days in jail, sci fa entered at the January term discharged upon payment of present sci fa.

East Carolina Nine Opens North State Schedule Today

Basketball Star Sonny Russell Is Only Newcomer To Starting Lineup As Pirates Meet Guilford This Afternoon

East Carolina opens its 1950 North State conference schedule this afternoon against the Guilford College Quakers.

Came time is set for 2:30 p.m. and will be played at the Pirates' newly-turfed baseball diamond.

Coach Jack Boone plans to start eight of his returning lettermen from last year's squad in this afternoon's hit.

Making up the infield will be Fred Soles at third, Jack Wallace at shortstop, Billy Smith at second, with George Woods doing the catching.

Three regulars from last year make up the outfield. They are Vernon Jones in left, Lou Collier in center and Stan Terrill in right.

Sonny Russell, ace basketballer for the Pirates, will hold down the initial sack duties. Russell is the only newcomer to the starting lineup.

Veteran Bob McCotter, ace moundman for the Boonemen, is slated to start on the hill in today's opener. Southpaw McCotter has been the mainstay for the Buc hurriers during the past three years, and is well-known in the semi-pro baseball circles in the eastern part of the state.

Bob Bailey, rookie infielder and terrific swatter at the plate during early practice for the Pirate nine, has not received final word on his eligibility this year.

East Carolina plays the Lenoir-Rhyne Bears here tomorrow afternoon, with right-hander Hal Whitehurst starting on the mound. This will be the second conference game in as many days for Coach Boone's baseballers.

In addition to the baseball game, East Carolina also engages Guilford in scheduled tennis and golf matches.

Seventh In Row For Cincinnati

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 30—(AP)—The Cincinnati Reds, jubilant over their seventh straight victory in the Grapefruit League, came here today to take on the world champion New York Yankees.

The Reds collected their No. 7 in a row from the Boston Braves, 3-1, yesterday at Bradenton.

Manager Luke Sewell was happy, too, over the pitching of his two young lefthanders—Kent Peterson and Harry Perkowski. The Braves got two hits off Peterson and an unearned run in five innings. Perkowski yielded one hit.

Back Injury Forces Snead To Withdraw

Wilmington, March 30—(AP)—A back injury eliminated Sam Snead from the second annual Azalea Golf tournament opening here today.

He was the favorite to win. But an old injury flared up yesterday and treatment during the night failed to cure it. In withdrawing, he said he couldn't take any chance of furthering the injury. He wants to be ready for the Masters which opens in Augusta, Ga., April 6. The old master is anxious to defend the title he won there last year.

The ex-hillbilly from Virginia, playing out of White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., has won a path to the playoff window since last March.

He won more than $31,000 last year, nailing down the PGA and Masters' titles in the process. His record on the winter tour has been sensational.

He was the logical choice to lead the field of 125, which faces a four-day grind of 18 holes in quest of $2,000 top money in this $10,000 test over a rugged 6,900-yard course.

Also a threat is a native North Carolinian, Johnny Palmer of Bardin. Palmer has been playing in a manner befitting a golfer selected by his fellow pros as the No. 1 choice for next month's Augusta Masters.

In his last two rounds Johnny has scored 65, each over a tough golf course. He closed with 65 Sunday at Greensboro for a fourth place finish. Two days later, playing with Clayton Heasler of Charlotte against Snead and National Open champion Cary Middlecott, Palmer fired another hot 65, this one over the rugged Pinehurst No. 2 course.

Henry Ransom, Illinois veteran, was defending the title he won a year ago with a 276 score.

Greenville Golfers Defeat Smithfield By Big Score

Greenville's golfers demonstrated their mastery over the six-team field in the Coastal Golf Association yesterday afternoon as they bested Smithfield, reportedly the second-best team in the Association, 52-17.

Although local golfers were not medalists, they made up the points in the higher score bracket to bring home the win on a wet course.

Bo Welch, of Smithfield, was medalist for the two teams scoring a one-over 73 for the two-round play. Reynolds May for the local shaded Welch's score, coming home with a two-over 74.

Welch, a teenager who is currently leading the Smithfield crew, came in five strokes over his closest teammate's score. McCormick was runner-up to Welch with 78 for the Johnston Country Club.

The teenaged brother of Smithfield's pro pulled in three birdies for the afternoon, one going out and two coming in on the nine-hole course. His card for the front nine was 37, including two bogeys. The back nine he carded two bogeys along with the birdies for an even par 38.

May ran about the same, carding a par 38 going out on one birdie and one bogey. On the back nine he shot a two-over 38, running into trouble on the third, fourth and eighth holes which he bogied.

Black Cats' Rise Beaten Down With Triple Killing

The late season surge made by the Black Cats of the Carbon bowling league was nipped in the bud this week and they sank back into the cellar via the quickest route—a three game killing.

The Evereadys administered the triple shelling, which was fitting since they were the ones the Cats had shoved into fourth place. Now everything is as it was three weeks ago when the Cats began to wax mightily—the Penlites still leading well ahead of the Nine Lives in second and the other two in third and fourth.

However, the Penlites, leaders for the past 30 games, succumbed to a double loss at the hands of the Lives, salvaging only one game and dropping to a 667 percentage. Still well ahead of the other three with six more games to go in the fourth round, the Penlites are odds-on favorites to continue in first place through 36 games. They can lose every one from here on out and still remain the leaders.

Sport Slants By Pap

The important moves made by Manager Red Rolfe to strengthen his Detroit Tigers have a definite "Yankee" look. A former Yankee great himself, it is quite natural that he would lean to players who have worn the New York uniforms.

The Tigers had to go high to get Gerry Priddy from the St. Louis Browns but Rolfe simply had to have a top-flight second baseman and Priddy, who began his big league career in a "Yankee uniform, was the best available. Rolfe's second move was to obtain Dick Kryhoski, an up and coming young first baseman, in exchange for Dick Wakefield. Kryhoski is certain to get a more thorough test with the Tigers than he got with the Yankees last season. After helping the Yanks get off to a flying start year and batting a respectable .294 in 54 games, Kryhoski was shipped to Oakland for additional seasoning. With Oakland, Dick hit .328 in 66 games and batted in 50 runs.

To give the Tigers additional Yankee flavors, Rolfe signed his old teammate, Charlie Keller, who was made a free agent when he declined to return to the minors. Keller could give the Tigers some timely help with his long drives if needed only as a pinch-hitter. The right field fence in Briggs Stadium should offer an inviting target.

Bill Wells carried the Evereadys to the three-game win over the Cats. By bowling lines of 166, 126 and 173 he raised his average one pin to 145, to continue six pins ahead of his nearest competitor, Sam Brooks, in the individual totals.

Bill Bryan and Francis Whelihan were the big guns in the Nine Lives' two-game attack. Both bowled considerably better than in the past few games, Whelihan increasing his average two pins and Bryan maintaining his top priority at 156. He bowled lines of 158, 161 and 150 to lead the six while Whelihan was lining games of 154, 193 and 115. His second game of 193 established a new third-place high game. His teammate Bryan still holds the top position in the single game high with 210 pins.

The biggest improvement among the 24 leggers was shown by Mavis Porter as she raised her average four pins from 88 to 92.

Newhouser And Hudson Already Having Trouble

By the ASSOCIATED PRESS
Sore pitching arms are pretty commonplace in major league spring training camps, but considerable importance was attached today to the cases of Detroit's Hal Newhouser and Washington's Sid Hudson.

Newhouser, the high-salaried southpaw, has seen mound duty for only two innings during the citrus circuit campaign. Manager Red Rolfe is at a loss to understand what is causing the trouble. And Hudson's pitching future is in jeopardy.

Just last Tuesday, Newhouser had to give up hurling batting practice for a game with the Washington Senators. The ace lefthander, after tossing a dozen balls, retired with the remark, "My arm hurts."

Jack Homel, Detroit's trainer, can't find any muscular trouble. As if Washington's Senators, last in the 1949 American League race, didn't have enough problems, it now looks as if Hudson's pitching days may be over.

The trouble dates back to a shoulder injury Sid suffered early in 1947. A recurrence of it bobbed up two days ago when he had to give up during a game lost to Birmingham, 12-11.

Hudson, a righthander, is deeply concerned and so is the club. And just to add to Washington's woes, its star pitcher, Rae Scarborough, took another pasting yesterday as the Senators lost to Detroit, 9-3.

Annual spring training tours for Michigan baseball teams have been made since 1926, except for the war years.

Only One Rookie Likely To Be In Dodgers' Opener

Vero Beach, Fla., March 30—(AP)—The 1950 Brooklyn Dodgers are a stand pat ball club. Rookie third baseman Bob Morgan probably will be the only newcomer in the opening day lineup.

It's an unusual situation for a Branch Rickey team, Morgan excepted, there are no wing-footed rookies with "steel springs" in their legs crowding the regulars. The young club that just made it last year is expected to do it again.

Brooklyn will be favored to repeat as national league champs. That's a feat these days. The 1944 St. Louis Cardinals were the last repeaters in either league.

Manager Burt Shotton thinks his Dodgers can win again. So does Rickey, Dodger president. BR's first 1950 plans were directed toward beating the Yankees in the next world series.

Bruises of the humiliating series defeat by the Yanks have healed. There even is fear of overconfidence. Rickey knows the dangers of regulars to sure of their jobs. Shotton has preached steadily against the evils of complacency.

Gene Hermanski, Duke Snider and Carl Furillo will play the outfield. Gil Hodges at first, Jackie Robinson at second, Pee Wee Reese at short and Morgan at third make up the infield. Roy Campanella will catch. Add the starting pitcher and you're ready to go.

Don Newcombe, the jumbo-sized Negro righthander, is the No. 1 boy. Newcombe didn't move up from Montreal until late May last year. Even so he won 17 games. He had arm trouble in early spring but reports all right now.

Preacher Roe, lone series winner, is No. 2. Then comes lefty Joe Hatten. After that it's up for Grabs, with Ralph Branca and Rex Barney in the front line. Both Branca and Barney have disappointed this spring. Promising Jack Banta has been troubled by a sore shoulder.

Tougher Penalties For Fouls Talked

Basketball May Resurrect Center Jump After Successful Free Throws; Committee Finds 2-Minute Rule Disliked

New York, March 30—(AP)—Basketball may resurrect the center jump after all successful free throws in a move to impose more severe penalties for fouls.

This was indicated today in a preliminary report by the National basketball committee of the United States and Canada, the supreme governing body of the amateur sport.

The committee, meeting here to study proposed changes, said after a lengthy session last night that most of its some 4,000 groups are in favor of discarding the two-minute rule.

But in doing so, the committee reported, the membership is anxious to try to discourage fouling by installing stricter penalties.

Foremost of these proposals are: (1) avoid giving the ball to the offending team after a successful free throw, (2) use the center jump to decide possession on these occasions.

The body, made up of representatives from the NCAA, AAU, YMCA, National Federation of High Schools and Canadian Amateur Groups, continued deliberations today.

The committee's report said a survey of its membership showed sentiment in favor of keeping most of the present rules intact. An exception is the two-minute rule, now widely scored.

Under the rule, the team which fouled in the last two minutes of the game retains possession of the ball after a free throw.

The national association of coaches recommended yesterday that the two-minute rule be repealed and that the game be returned to the 1944-45 style with uniform regulations and timing for the entire game.

This plan, however, would not impose a sterner penalty on fouling teams since it would enable the offender to get the ball after free throws that drop into the hoop.

Forrest (Phog) Allen, veteran Kansas coach, is sponsor of a movement to have the two-minute rule provisions prevail for the entire game, thus penalizing a team guilty of fouls.

By winning the 1950 eastern intercollegiate league swimming championship, Yale captured its fourth consecutive title.

Three records—one world, one intercollegiate and one league—were set during the 1950 eastern intercollegiate league swimming season.

Circus Elephant Turns Killer

Dolly (foreground), 27-year-old elephant of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey circus, suddenly became vicious and killed five-year-old Edward Schooley at Sarasota, Fla. The little boy from Las Vegas, N.M., was visiting the show's winter quarters with his parents. Like other visitors, he was feeding peanuts to the elephants. Dolly had always been a gentle elephant, but something changed her in a moment. Without warning, she grabbed Edward with her trunk, threw him to the ground, put one huge foot on his head—and stood there quietly. A circus man came running and made Dolly move her foot. But by that time, Edward was dead. (AP Wirephoto)

Cubs Rejected Cavaretta Offer

Phoenix, Ariz., March 30—(AP)—The Chicago Cubs have rejected the New York Giants' bid for Phil Cavaretta, veteran first baseman.

Managers Frankie Frisch and Leo Durocher conferred yesterday after which Frisch said nothing doing. Cavaretta, who has played 17 years with the Cubs, starred in yesterday's 5-3 triumph over the Giants. He smashed a ninth inning homer, and also had a single and double and registered 15 putouts.

Tommy Henrich May Miss Start

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 30—(AP)—It is becoming doubtful whether old reliable Tommy Henrich will be at first base for the New York Yankees when the season opens.

The rugged veteran proved last season that he recuperates quickly from ailments, but many of his teammates are wondering how long Henrich will be out this time with a bad left knee. It is taking plenty of time to respond to treatment.

Wants It Wider

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 29 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals' ace relief hurler, Ted Wilks, advocates a wider home plate.

He would increase the plate three inches from its present 17-inch width.

"What happens now? We come up with curves, sliders, knucklers and floaters, and sometimes we miss the mark by an inch or two," he said. "When the count goes to three balls and two strikes a pitcher must cut the next one pretty thin. He can't miss the plate, or it means a walk for the batter, and at the same time he's leveling for those short home run fences."

For the 12th consecutive year, Delaware Park has increased the added money offered in state races at the track.

Forty-four of the 134 horses eligible for the Kentucky Derby this year were sold at auction at yearlings in 1949 for almost a half-million dollars.

Early Warnings Best Security In Atomic Attack

Washington, March 30—(AP)—Your chances of living through an atomic bomb attack could be a lot better than you think.

You might come through it alive and unharmed—if there are shelters and if you get a warning in time to dive into one.

The Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) says this:

"Safety will, in large measure, depend upon adequate warning of an attack, warning which it must be assumed will come from the radar system of the national military establishment. Such warning when combined with shelters for those who must stay in threatened areas, will minimize, or even eliminate casualties."

But before you start bubbling with optimism, there is this to consider:

The Defense Department is working on that radar network, plus a system of volunteer spotters to fill in the gaps. But only a start has been made. Furthermore, nobody has done much about shelters.

And there is no use trying to hide the fact that if you are caught in an unprotected spot anywhere near an atomic explosion your chances of surviving are few about zero. You would be killed by the blast, terrible heat, collapsing buildings, or maybe radiation.

Yet any sort of protection, even clothing, is better than none. The best spot is an airtight shelter covered by plenty of earth, steel or concrete.

If you came through an atomic explosion and survived the radiation, government doctors say you would have a good chance of returning to a normal life. There probably wouldn't be any peculiar lasting, after-effects as a result of exposure to radiation.

Perhaps you've seen pictures of Japanese who lived through atomic explosions but were horribly scarred or crippled. The doctors say this was a result of infection and slow-healing bomb raids caused about the same sort of scars.

The AEC says even loose clothing provided some protection against flash burns from the radiant heat of atom bombs. White clothing was more protective than dark because it tended to reflect rather than absorb the heat.

New President Of ACC Making One-Week Visit

Wilson, March 30—Dr. D. Ray Lindley, new president of Atlantic Christian College and retiring Dean of Brite College of the Bible at Texas Christian University, will arrive here Saturday.

Dr. Lindley is coming to Wilson for a one-week visit. He will assume his official duties here July 1st.

During his visit to Wilson Dr. Lindley will address students of Atlantic Christian College Thursday morning, April 6, in Howard chapel.

Civic Leader Is Facing Trial In Abortion Case

Sanford, N. C. March 30—(AP)—A prominent Sanford civic leader was scheduled to go on trial today as a charge of attempted abortion.

He is Dr. R. O. Humphrey, a Chiropractor. Facing trial in the same case is Delma Pullin of Staunton, Va. She is charged with aiding and assisting Dr. Humphrey.

Miss Pullin collapsed in the Sanford bus station March, 1949. Police said she told hospital attaches that she was treated by Dr. Humphrey that morning.

Dr. Humphrey is a member of the Lee county board of education and is chairman of the Sanford municipal zoning board of adjustment.

Detachments of U.S. Marines formed part of Commodore Perry's expedition to Japan which opened the doors of the Mikado's realm in 1853-54 to commerce.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

As we get older, stress and strain, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent urination may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, hypnosis or dietary indiscretions. If your discomforts fit in to these causes, don't wait. Try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief—helps the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

IT'S HARD TO BELIEVE—BUT TRUE!

IT'S ANOTHER TIDE MIRACLE!

IT CUTS WASHDAY WORK IN HALF!

A DAZZLING CLEAN WASH WITHOUT RINSING

...THERE'S NOTHING LIKE TIDE!

Just wash—wring out—hang up!

WOMEN EVERYWHERE say it's the best washday news ever! They love the time and trouble and water they save by skipping the rinsing! But most of all they love the way their clothes come dazling clean. You already know how clean Tide gets clothes with rinsing—cleaner than any other washing product known. Now try the same wonderful Tide without rinsing, and compare the results. You'll be amazed to see how bright and clean your wash comes right from the wringer. Get Procter & Gamble's Tide today. Every package of Tide on your dealer's shelf right now will give you a dazling clean wash without rinsing!

HERE ARE THE FACTS ABOUT WASHING WITHOUT RINSING

1. How can Tide get clothes clean without rinsing? Tide keeps the dirt suspended in the sudsy water. When you wring out the clothes, the dirt runs out with the washwater—clothes come from the wringer CLEAN, and dry as bacteria-free as rinsed clothes.
2. Will clothes come white? Yes, clothes come dazling white! Just see if you can possibly tell the difference between a rinsed, and an unrinsed Tide-washed shirt!
3. How about ironing unrinsed clothes? When you use Tide without rinsing, clothes dry soft and fluffy... iron easily.
4. Is this method safe for fabrics? Yes, it is safe... skipping the rinsing and extra wringings actually saves wear and tear on clothes.

"I'M THROUGH WITH RINSING—THANKS TO TIDE!" SAYS MRS. GLORIA GUY, DETROIT, MICH.

"The grandest thing that ever happened to washday is Tide—without rinsing! The time it saves! Best of all—washes come out clean and dazling white!"

When you wash without rinsing—NO OTHER WASHING PRODUCT KNOWN WILL GET CLOTHES CLEANER THAN TIDE

SAME TIDE! SAME PACKAGE! NEW MIRACLE!

World War II Is Banned In School

ROME—(AP)—World War II? What's that? Officially, Italy's postwar high school graduates have never heard of it. Nor, in the classroom, have they ever heard of Benito Mussolini.

For the past five years, in Italy's grammar schools and high schools, history has stopped in 1918. Allied Military Government first placed a ban on secondary school teaching of Fascist history and the events leading up to the war.

The occupation authorities wanted to avoid "classroom controversies." They ordered references to Mussolini and Fascism edited out of textbooks, sometimes with the rough expedient of paper and paste. The ban has never been revoked, although Allied military rule ended with the Peace Treaty in 1947. An Education Ministry commission has been studying the problem of objective presentation in the classroom of the controversial Fascist era, but a spokesman said he does not know when they will finish the job.

Add More Years To Mexico's Age

Berkeley, Calif.—(AP)—Intensive cultivation of Mexican soil was started 3,000 to 5,000 years ago, says Dr. Sherburne F. Cook of the University of California. Most experts have placed the time at about 2,000 years ago.

Basing his estimates on soil conditions, he says Mexico's ancient population was so big and the soil so cultivated that much of the land was near ruin long before the white man arrived.

Twenty-six crew members from the U. S. navy tender Ender are rescued from life rafts in mid-Pacific after an explosion and fire aboard the vessel. They are being taken aboard the U. S. S. Comstock. The men abandoned ship in a small skiff and two rafts. Three other rafts were dropped by search planes which sighted the castaways a few hours before they were rescued. Zebras Are Lazy And Won't Work Nairobi, Kenya Colony—(AP)—You can tell a zebra by his stripes—and they mean he's lazy. Wild game authorities here say that though the zebra in many physical ways resembles a horse or mule, he has proven worthless as a domestic beast.

A zebra can be harnessed, they say, but just can't be induced to pull a load. He has no heart for the task and gives up without trying. Thousands of zebras are running around free in the African wilds, unwanted by humans because of this lazy streak.

Girl Undergoes Operation For Blood Pressure

Durham, March 30—(AP)—A 15-month-old girl is recovering at Duke Hospital here from a successful operation for high blood pressure.

Dorothy Merritt is the youngest person to receive this type of operation in the hospital's history. It is usually performed on children between 10 and 12.

Technically, Dorothy's condition is termed "coarctation of the aorta." This means that poor development of the large artery coming from the heart, the aorta, partially blocked the flow of blood to the lower part of the body, resulting in high blood pressure.

Duke surgeons clipped the blocked part of the vessel and sewed it back, relieving the condition. Her blood pressure is returning to normal.

East Carolina Scouts Are Preparing For Camporee

Five thousand Boy Scouts of the East Carolina Council are making preparations to participate in the 1950 Patrol Camporee which will be held at the Municipal Airport in Kinston.

It is anticipated that 2000 of these Scouts will actually participate in the Kinston event on April 23, 29, and 30, however nearly 217 troops are using camporee preparations as a troop program theme during the months of February, March and April. Approximately 800 Negro Scouts will stage a similar camporee in Nashville at the Nash Training School on April 21, 22, and 23.

The annual Spring Patrol Camporee is a gigantic demonstration of camping on a patrol basis under boy leadership. Each patrol, of about eight Scouts, develops its own menu, provisions list, equipment, decides upon the arrangement of the Patrol camp site of 40 x 40 feet, furnishes its own tentage, sets its own organization into operation, competes in eight Scout field events, and is judged on all phases of camping and the various activities.

All Scouts go to the Camporee, not just the selected few who might excel. Tenderfoot Scouts as well as veteran Scouts can go to the Camporee and participate.

The field events this year will be: Knot-tying rescue, in which Scout teams, representing a patrol, race to tie four ropes together forming a forty-foot line which is thrown to a "victim" who is supposedly in need of aid; Silent Hand signals event, in which a whole Patrol runs through 14 different field formations, commands quietly done by hand signals by the Patrol leader; Morse Code signaling event in which Scouts receive a message sent at night by blinker light; Heliograph Signaling or flag, sound or light, in which it is anticipated that most Patrols will construct a heliograph, an instrument used for sending dot and dash Morse code with the sun rays; the flag pole raising event in which the patrol will lash together five six-foot poles and hoist with guy lines a twenty-foot high pole with a flag attached; the compass event in which simple compass directions will be followed; a first aid event in which Scouts show their ability in emergency first aid; and lastly, for the third year in a row, the pioneer event in which Scouts make fire without matches and boil water over the edge of a one quart can in a thrilling speed event.

Troops all over East Carolina are staging pre-Camporee training camps as a method of getting the Scouts well prepared for the annual Council Camporee.

There will be a possible 1900 points that may be earned by outstanding patrols. Those earning 1600 points and above will receive blue ribbons. Last year at Washington, of the participating 197 patrols, 27 percent won blue ribbons. Patrols winning 1300 points and above will receive red ribbons, while patrol winning 1000 points or over will receive a white ribbon.

Of the money received by the federal government from leased oil wells and mines, 37 1/2 per cent goes to the states where they are located.

Special Service On April 2, To Dedicate Chapel

The Otter Creek Presbyterian Chapel, located on N.C. Route 43 between Falkland and Pinetops, will be dedicated in a special service on April 2 at 3 p.m. Dr. E. E. Gillespie, Dr. J. W. Hassell, and the Rev. Philip M. Cory will have part in this service.

The dedication of the chapel will climax seventeen months of intensive out-post Sunday School evangelism. Visits in these rural homes revealed that less than five per cent of the residents had any definite connection with any Christian church, so an outpost Sunday School was started in a little two room tenant house, October 31, 1948. As it grew more adequate quarters had to be provided. A lot was secured, and funds were raised for the concrete block building which is adequate for the present enrollment of over 60. A revival was held during January in which 30 made their profession of faith and became full-fledged members. In the weeks since then the finishing touches have been made to the building to get it in readiness for the dedication service.

Dr. E. E. Gillespie, the executive secretary of Synod's Home Mission Committee, will preach the sermon. He also plans to have his movie camera to take pictures of various parts of the service. Dr. J. W. Hassell, executive secretary of Albemarle Presbytery, will conduct the "Dedicatory Litany." Mrs. Jonas Beal, superintendent of the Sunday School, will deliver the keys to Dr. Hassell and make the request for the dedication. The Rev. Philip M. Cory, pastor of the sponsoring churches (Fountain, Falkland and Boyd Memorial) under whose guidance the spiritual and material work has been done, will preside at the service. It is hoped that some of the other Presbyterian ministers of the Presbytery can attend, and they will be assigned parts in the service. The choir of the Fountain Presbyterian Church will sing a special number.

Invitations have been sent to all donors to attend the service. And the members of the chapel extend a cordial invitation to all of its friends to attend this service, which is a red letter day in its life.

Plan New Name For Kill Devil Hill In Measure

Washington, March 30.—The Kill Devil Hill Monument National Memorial, marking the site where the Wright Brothers flew the first heavier-than-air machine, will probably have its name changed.

Department of Interior officials say the monument will be designated "Wright Brothers National Memorial" or some similar name in a bill which will codify laws relating to the National Park Service.

Congressman Herbert C. Bonner explained today that the move to have the name changed began with a resolution by the Dare Beaches Chamber of Commerce early this month.

Investigation disclosed that the National Park Service also favored the change.

Broken Fish Line Is Nearly Fatal

Compton, Calif. (AP)—Ernest Loscar nearly lost his life in a freak accident that occurred while he was fishing in a fish line. He had cast his line with a lead sinker on the end into the ocean. The sinker caught on some rocks. Loscar pulled hard—then harder. Suddenly the sinker let go, snapped back and hit him in the thigh, severing an artery.

A friend took him by auto to a hospital 25 miles away. Loscar was in serious condition from loss of blood on arrival, but responded to treatment.

Black Ian Walks Again

AP Newsfeatures
By Florence Kerrigan

Chapter 10
We went down to the laboratory. Steve McCarty and I, while Greg was away, and easily opened the door by Ian's crypt. Behind it was a room which had one time been a dungeon, and a narrow, twisting passage led from it. The floor was uneven so that our going was naturally slow and careful, and the walls glistened with moisture where my flashlight beam fell on them. Slipping and stumbling, we came at last to a cavern of natural rock. It was lighted with a dull, greenish glow, almost like an underwater light, and it puzzled me. Then I looked up and understood the reason for the peculiar light. Above us was an opening, screened by pale leaves stirring in the breeze and producing the movement which had suggested underwater waviness. "Here," said Steve. "Move your flash over this way. I think there are steps."

Plug Was Loose

Syracuse, N.Y., March 30—(AP)—Two Indian youths were saved from the backwaters of Onondaga Dam as melted snow and rain sent upstate waterways on spring runways. The Indians had climbed a tree when a bath tub in which they were floating sank. The plug came loose.

RETURNS ON CAR THEFT
Chicago — (AP) — If somebody takes your car here, the chances are about 5 to 1 that you will get it back. The police department says 4,300 motor vehicles were stolen in Chicago in 1949 but all but 801 of them were recovered.

pull the boy off me.

Malcolm was strangely subdued when Steve swung him around. He let the knife fall from his fingers. "Malcolm!" Steve said sternly, to get his attention, then with a note of sadness in his voice, "Sir Gregor can't let you come here if you're going to act this way. What were you doing?"

The boy made grunts and gestures toward the boat. We followed the direction of his hand and saw what I at first glance took to be the body of a man, but found on second glance to be only a log of drift wood. Part way down, about where a man's heart would be, there were hundreds of jabs from the knife, which had splintered and roughened the tough wood.

Steve looked at me. We both thought the same thing at the same moment. The man whose body I had found!

Steve, still holding the boy's arms, forced him to look at him, and then the shifting, haunted glance steadied.

"Go home," said Steve, sternly. "Understand? Go home, quietly." Malcolm turned and left the cave and we heard him scrambling up the cliff.

"You think he—?" I whispered. Steve nodded. "Afraid so. Poor devil. Not responsible, of course." My old friend might be unbalanced mentally, but at least it was something to believe that he hadn't murdered a man. That had been a torturing thought to me.

"Suppose you go down to the village and see what you can learn about the man with the scar," suggested Steve.

I agreed and went to the village that afternoon. The first man I ran into was Andy MacTavish. I bought him a drink at the bar of the inn and he opened up.

"They tell me you're a writin' mon veeatin' the castle to write the story of the MacIvors," he said. "That's true," I assented.

"Ye'll find much to write about," he said. "I'm particularly interested in Black Ian," I threw out as a feeler. He nodded. "He's walkin' again," he said, matter of factly.

"Do you believe in ghosts?" I asked him. "Believe in them?" He seemed surprised that I should ask such a foolish question. "Mon, do ye no believe in the sea on a misty morn? Ye no can see it, but ye ken 'tis there. Aye, I believe in ghosts, lad, an' they still roam the castle too— they still hurt nobody—"

The man's eyes were fixed on me. "Black Ian—yon's a de'il!" I nodded. "Tell me," I said after a pause. "Did you ever see a man around town—a tall, dark man with a jagged scar on his left cheek?" "Aye. He stayed at the inn. He asked questions about the castle too. Malcolm Feir, the fey laddie ye ken, said that stabbing me with the knife. Steve was in the cave then and

BUICK PRICES BEGIN AT $1908.00 DELIVERED

Optional equipment, state and local taxes, if any, additional. Prices may vary slightly in adjoining communities due to shipping charges.

LET'S be completely down-to-earth on the matter.

If you're thinking about a new car this year, you probably have a certain make in mind.

You may have an idea of its price which seems to fit your budget—and the easy way is to stop right there.

Now we don't want to put you to extra bother, sir—but have you got Buick's delivered prices too?

Did you know they start just above the very lowest, run under those on many sizes?

Did you know that every Buick power plant is a valve-in-head straight-eight (which makes it 10% more efficient to start with)—and a high-compression Fireball engine to boot?

Have you figured that every Buick rides on four soft coil springs where most other cars use only two?

That each has a ride-steadying torque-tube drive, where common practice is to drive through the springs, which means they have to be stiffer?

Have you looked at the room in a Buick—have you tried out the easier parking and handling of its tidy over-all size—have you figured that its bold front end is a protection against high repair costs as well as the most visible style on the highway?

Are you remembering that there are three Buick series—SPECIAL, SUPER and ROADMASTER—each with its own price bracket, and each with its own power plant tailored especially for that series?

Have you sampled Buick's very special ride, compared it with others? Tried out the liquid smoothness of Dynaflow Drive? Checked the actual records this beauty is piling up on such things as gas and oil economy?

We're well aware that just learning about such things—and more that are equally interesting—may not put you in a Buick.

We do think it's a shame to pay the price of a Buick and not get all it offers.

If you'll just drop in to see us, we'll show you what a glittering array of values that is.

Whatever your price range

Cameron Alimony Hearing In Recess Until Tuesday

Clinton, March 30 —(AP)—The Cameron alimony hearing was in recess today after a session that produced a four-hour recital of affidavits assailing and defending Mary Vail Cameron.

After the lengthy presentation of affidavits in Sampson Superior Court yesterday, Judge R. Hunt Parker recessed the hearing until Tuesday. At the time, he said, he will reopen the case for more affidavits. He will begin hearing arguments the following day, he added.

While the affidavits were being presented, the two principals—blonde Mrs. Cameron and 32-year-old Bruce B. Cameron, heir to a Wilmington oil and garage fortune—sat in widely separated chairs behind their lawyers.

Mrs. Cameron's attorneys presented affidavits taken in Greensboro, where she lives with her mother, Mrs. Mary Vail, saying that the two are "ladies of refinement and culture."

Among affidavits offered by Cameron's attorneys were two signed by Alice Wright Williams and Lula Bryant, identified as servants in the Cameron home. They alleged Mrs. Cameron neglected her two small daughters and entertained other men in her home while her husband was away.

Mrs. Cameron is seeking $800 a month alimony, $8,000 in attorneys' fees, and custody of the children pending trial of her suit for divorce from bed and board.

Cameron has filed a cross-suit for absolute divorce on the ground of adultery.
