Chinese Assert Russian Airmen Downed Planes

Soviet-Built Planes Said Manned By Russians; Shot Down Two Aircraft

Taipei, Formosa, April 4—(AP)—An air headquarters spokesman today said Russian-built planes which downed two Chinese Nationalist fighters undoubtedly were operated by Russians.

The spokesman said the planes "definitely were of Russian manufacture." And, he added: Judging from their technique, "they most certainly were manned by Russians."

The Nationalist fighters were shot down Sunday during a raid on Red shipping in Hangchow Bay south of Shanghai.

That opposition, the first the Nationalists have encountered in the air in four years of civil war, was seen by many today as an ominous forerunner of Communist air attacks on Formosa.

It also led to belief the Reds will have air cover if they attempt an invasion of this Nationalist island.

The air headquarters communicate said: "Two Chinese air force Mustangs were surprised attacked by four to five Russian planes on the morning of April 2."

The Nationalist fighters, it said, were making low-level strafing runs on Communist junks concentrated near Chapu on Hangchow Bay for an amphibious assault on the Chusan Islands. This island group, about 100 miles southeast of Shanghai, is used by the Nationalists for air and naval bases.

The communicate said one of the Nationalist pilots bailed out and returned safely to base.

Taipei newspapers splashed the communicate. One carried the headline: "Russian Planes Openly Attack Ours."

The communicate added: "According to an accurate intelligence report from the mainland, a large number of Russian planes had arrived at Hsuehchow (Suchow), 180 miles north of Nanking."

The planes were reported to have come from the air base at Dairen, south Manchurian port.

The Russians have controlled Dairen since the end of World War II. The Soviet Union and Communist China signed an agreement at Moscow Feb. 14 providing that all properties controlled or leased by the Soviets at Dairen would be turned over to the Chinese this year.

"At Hsuehchow their Russian insignia was repainted into Chinese Red insignia with red and white stripes on the tail fins," the communicate continued.

"They are participating in combat flights disguised as Chinese Communist airplanes."

"Aside from the main base at Hsuehchow, Russian technicians are operating radar stations as well as anti-aircraft replacements in the Shanghai and Hangchow areas."

30-Year Search For Missing Son Ends In Success

Denver, April 4—(AP)—A Denver couple's 30-year search for their missing son has ended in success.

Mr. and Mrs. George G. Hill said last night they located their 35-year-old son, James Curtis Hill, in Reno, Nev., through the Veterans Administration.

Mrs. Hill said her mother left with the boy when he was five after an argument in Macomb, Ill., where they lived in 1920. Ever since then, she said, she has been searching for him without success.

The son wrote his parents that he left his grandparents and struck out on his own shortly after graduating from high school in 1933. He plans to rejoin his parents here.

New Delhi Meeting

Conference Over Bitter Differences Between India And Pakistan Of Great Import To Those Peoples And To Us; Two States On Verge Of Hostilities; Nehru

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The conference in New Delhi between the prime ministers of India and Pakistan, over the bitter differences between these new states, is a matter of moment not only to them, but to you and me.

The one bright spot in this meeting is that it seeks to bring peace out of embittered relations which have forced the two states to the verge of hostilities.

War involving the more than 400,000,000 people of the Indian peninsula (over one-sixth of the world's population) might precipitate another global upheaval. Certainly it would have a tremendous effect on the outcome of the swelling conflict between communism and democracy in Southeast Asia.

So this meeting between Prime Ministers Nehru of India and All Khan of Pakistan is close to all of us. The differences between the two nations are deep-seated—religious (Hindu versus Moslem) and economic. The separation of the subcontinent into two rival nations has made an unequal division of economic resources.

This would have been bad enough under all circumstances, but unfortunately when the separation was

This is Jimmy Dixon for whom the farmers in the opposite picture planted thirty acres of corn yesterday. Dixon is not being prepared for "planting" with the corn—he just had his eyes closed when the picture was snapped. (Reflector staff photo.)

"When a fellow needs a friend" might well be caption for this story. Because the well-published-but-seldom-seen helping hand was aptly extended to a Black Jack farmer yesterday afternoon when he needed it most.

Twelve neighboring farmers combined their efforts to give Jimmy Dixon, Black Jack farmer, their help in getting his corn crop planted. Dixon couldn't get the job done himself—he was pretty much under the weather with some sort of a virus infection.

During the past two weeks that he has been ill, Dixon came pretty close to developing pneumonia and couldn't move about the house, much less think of getting his crop in the ground.

So under the direction of Hughie Mills, one of Dixon's neighbors, the farmers all pitched in, after learning of the sick man's plight at church Sunday, and beginning yesterday at noon, planted 30 acres of corn before sundown.

Using one of Dixon's tractors to plant the corn, another tractor came along behind to fertilize the rows. The farmers used five mules, in the grand-scale operation, work in the respective families involved in the good neighbor operation shuttled back and forth to the store with cold drinks for their men.

And Dixon didn't know what was going on until mid-afternoon when Mills came in to see how he was getting along. Just out of bed this week, Dixon was probably one of the most surprised men when he looked out the window to see what was going on.

With his corn worries gone for the present, at least until the crop shows above ground, Dixon expected to be up and around the farm sometime this week.

"But there won't be much to do," he said, "with all my corn in the ground. And they didn't even tell me they were doing it."

Royster Urges Realism In Farm Price Program

Reminds Listeners That Principles Of Supply And Demand Must Be Observed; Points To Successes In Tobacco

Farmville, April 4—Fred S. Royster, president of the Bright Leaf Warehouse Association, last night called for a federal farm support program based on sound business and "the fundamental principle of supply and demand."

Royster made his appeal for what he termed "realism" in the farm support program at a joint meeting of the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs here. Frank Allen presided at the meeting, and Royster was introduced by Ben Lewis.

The president of the Bright Leaf Warehouse Association told the gathering of farmers and businessmen, "To say that agriculture was the basic industry in our country is to utter an unchallengeable statement," he warned the agricultural situation "must be dealt with in a delicate way if depression is to be avoided. Maintaining supply in range with demand is fundamental if a depression is to be avoided."

The heavy surpluses in farm commodities which are threatening the stability of the market have come about by the increased agricultural production during and since the war, he said.

"We have a successful program in flue cured tobacco because we, the growers, could see the handwriting on the wall and we reduced production 20 per cent in 1948 to control surpluses." Because of the surpluses in other farm products, Royster asserted, there is a movement under way to destroy the farm program.

"We are being portrayed to the general public as gluttons of privilege who are getting fat and getting wealthy at the expense of the taxpayer." He pointed out, however, there has been a 20 per cent decline in farm income since 1948, and added, "It seems to me unless something is done to stop the trend and head it up we are heading for depression in this country."

As for the present farm support program, Royster declared, "Those who are concerned with prosperous agriculture must awake and awake quickly to correct the program. We might as well recognize the fundamental principle of supply and demand."

He said that the program in flue cured tobacco because we, the growers, could see the handwriting on the wall and we reduced production 20 per cent in 1948 to control surpluses.

There has been no indication as yet that incumbent constables of Carolina and Chitwood will file at a later date. They are Tom Perkins of Carolina and Elmer Haddock of Chitwood.

Pitt Red Cross Quota Still Not Met For 1950

John G. Fleming, chairman of the Pitt County chapter of the Red Cross, said yesterday that Pitt County so far has failed to reach its Red Cross quota for 1950.

Fleming pointed out that should the quota not be reached this year it will be the first time in the history of the county that the Red Cross solicitations have not come up to expectations.

He said the drive for funds in the county has ended, but any persons in the county who have not been contacted by a Red Cross worker and would like to make a contribution to the organization should mail their contribution to the Red Cross office in Greenville.

A final report on the 1950 Red Cross campaign in Pitt County will be made in the near future, he said.

Columbia, S. C., April 4—(AP)—Gov. J. Strom Thurmond said today he will "give consideration" to a resolution of the Edgecombe county Democratic convention urging him to be a U. S. Senate candidate this summer.

Senate Red Hunt Near Stalemate

McCarthy's Wide Charges Seem Balked At Every Turn

Washington, April 4—(AP)—The senate Communist investigation headed for a possible stalemate today. Senator Connally (D-Tex) predicted the Senate won't vote contempt citations for officials refusing access to secret loyalty files.

A senate foreign relations subcommittee investigating charges by senator McCarthy that the state department is harboring Communists and is being influenced by Soviet spies, seemed balked at every turn.

It faced the necessity of obtaining a contempt citation—which Connally told Republicans it stands little chance of getting—to reverse President Truman's decision against opening the confidential files.

Without much hope of success it sought means of forcing McCarthy to make available six documents he turned over to the FBI in connection with his charges that Owen Lattimore, writer on Far Eastern affairs, is a Soviet agent in the state department.

The subcommittee will give Lattimore, who already has called McCarthy's charges an "unmitigated lie" a chance to answer them formally in a hearing Thursday.

Navy Says Foreign Subs 'Very Probably' Off Coast

San Francisco, April 4—(AP)—The navy says foreign submarines "very probably" have been operating off the California coast.

A four-day search by surface and aircraft produced only "inconclusive" results. But there wasn't much that could have been done about it since the strange submarines were in international waters.

Capt. J. A. Holbrook, commander of the destroyer Colahan, returned yesterday from the search and reported having made contact twice through radar and sonar with objects he believed were submarines. Captain Holbrook is a former submarine officer.

After evaluating the captain's report, Rear Admiral R. I. Entwistle, vice commander of the Western Sea Frontier, said the contacts made "very probably" were one or more foreign submarines on routine peace-time patrols.

At no time during the search was any submarine sighted, either by surface craft or from the air.

Although investigation of several reports of submarines having been sighted is continuing, the WSP said search was being suspended "pending further developments."

With possibly one exception, all the submarines reported sighted have been well beyond the three-mile limit. Ships of any nationality—warships as well as merchantmen—may operate freely beyond territorial waters.

Federal Payroll Apparently Next Economy Target

Approximately $7 Billion In Omnibus Bill Faces Republican Attack

Washington, April 4—(AP)—The government payroll, carrying an estimated 2,000,000 names, snapped up today as the main target of a Republican budget-cutting drive in the House.

Approximately $7,000,000,000 in an omnibus $29,045,030,164 appropriation bill now before the House represents payroll costs, according to Republicans. They say it can be cut about $1,000,000,000.

Rep. Taber of New York, leader of the House Republican "economy bloc," disclosed the GOP goal yesterday as the House opened debate on the big bill financing more than 40 federal agencies for the fiscal year 1951, which begins July 1.

Reductions in personnel are only one of his objectives, Taber said, for he argued the bill is "too liberal" and can stand cuts throughout.

Some Republicans are backing an amendment that would order a 10 per cent reduction in planned government personnel strength for the new fiscal year.

Although the House Appropriations Committee already has lopped $1,567,000,000 from the totals requested by the President, Taber said committee reductions "have not been as deep as I'd like to see and they haven't been as general as I'd like to see."

Republicans applauded as Chairman Cannon (D-Mo) of the Appropriations Committee offered to go along on any reductions "where it can be consistently shown that it can be cut."

But Cannon held out against "blind, blanket" cuts and said Congress would abdicate its responsibilities if it followed suggestions that it direct the President to withhold 10 per cent of the funds finally provided.

He urged Republicans and Democrats alike to "close ranks and oppose any increases in any items anywhere in this bill."

Pointing to a mounting national debt, Cannon said "the best defense against war is solvency."

His plea for a united front against increases was obviously directed at a gathering drive by Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) of the Armed Services Committee for appropriating more than the $13,911,127,300 the bill provides for the Defense Department.

Stands Trial For 'Mercy Slaying'

Death Penalty Will Not Be Sought In Fratricide Case

Allentown, Pa., April 4—(AP)—Harold Mohr was summoned to stand trial today in the mercy slaying of his blind, cancer-ravaged brother—assured the Commonwealth will not seek the death penalty.

Shortly after the 36-year-old tannery worker was indicted yesterday on murder and voluntary manslaughter charges in the slaying of his brother, Walter, 55, District Attorney Kenneth H. Koch of Lehigh County announced:

"I do not feel the facts warrant pressing for the death penalty."

Although he entered a "not guilty" plea before the grand jury, Harold Mohr has signed a statement he shot his brother through the head with a deer rifle in their home at nearby Coplay on March 8.

Dr. George S. Boyer, Lehigh County coroner, said Walter Mohr was hopelessly blind and that cancer had wasted away his face until "only the man's lips remained."

Defense Attorney Harry Creveling said he would base his case on the mercy aspects of the killing. In his statement, Harold Mohr said he shot Walter after the brother repeatedly had begged for death.

On the night of the shooting Harold told authorities, Walter stretched out on his bed.

"Are you ready?" Harold said he asked Walter.

"Go ahead," Walter replied.

The bullet struck Walter in the head. He died instantly.

Eleventh Auto Accident In Pitt In Eight Days

The eleventh highway accident to occur in Pitt County in the last eight days was reported this morning by the Greenville Patrol office.

Patrolman Paul C. Whitley, investigating officer, said that a car operated by James A. Battle, colored, of 809 Walnut Street, Farmville, ran off the Washington highway, cut back too quickly and ran across the road striking another car.

The second car was being driven by Nathaniel Peterson, of Route 1, Washington.

Commission OK's 2 Road Petitions

J. Vance Perkins Appointed To County Welfare Board; Receive Ruling On Refund Of Beer, Wine Licenses

Approval of two road petitions, the appointment of a new member to the county welfare board, and a report on a ruling by the attorney general concerning refund of beer and wine licenses highlighted the regular meeting of the Pitt county commissioners yesterday.

The commissioners approved and forwarded to the state highway commission petitions for work on two roads in Swift Creek township.

One petition requested the hard-surfacing of five and one half miles of road from St. John's Church to Hanrahan, and the other requested the grading and maintenance of 700 yards of road from Stokesstown to the New Bern highway at the Eben Moore place in a southerly direction through "the Major Smith farm ending there."

Vice-chairman J. Vance Perkins of the board of commissioners was appointed to the county welfare board for a three year term to succeed J. N. Williams whose term of office expired April 1.

County Attorney S. B. Underwood, Jr. reported to the commissioners that under the existing statutes the board of commissioners can not make refunds on beer and wine licenses in cases where the license has been revoked by inspectors of the malt division of the state ABC board due to conditions under which the beer and wine are sold.

Charles P. Gaskins, secretary to the board of commissioners, said the board has had three such requests.

The commissioners ordered Gordon Owens of the Farmville-Pound community paid $137.50 for damages he suffered when stray dogs destroyed some turkeys in his flock. A committee of three freeholders was appointed by the commissioners to investigate the incident and set the amount of property damage and report to the board. The awarding of damages by the commissioners was in accord with the report of the committee. The commissioners ordered Owens paid from funds collected through dog taxes.

At the request of Sheriff Buel W. Tyson, the commissioners authorized the purchase of burglar insurance on the vault in the sheriff's office up to $5,000. The board also authorized the insurance on the county home increased to $50,000 and the insurance on the fixtures at the home increased to $5,000.

John Carrington of the county health department discussed with the commissioners the details of the insect control program which is to be conducted in the county.

The board authorized the erection of concrete markers at the corners of the Pitt County Memorial hospital property. They also approved a refund on taxes paid for the year 1948 by Curtis Perkins. The refund was made on the grounds that the property taxed was destroyed by fire during the early part of the year.

County welfare officer K. T. Futrell presented for the approval of the board a tentative department budget for the coming year.

The commissioners authorized the purchase of registration books for the county, drew three tickets for the May term of Superior Court, signed warrants and heard reports from the heads of the various departments of the county government.

Satisfied With Census Progress

Crew Leader For City Says Cooperation Is Evident

Dallas Peel, crew leader for the Greenville area in the federal census which is now being taken in Pitt county, late yesterday expressed satisfaction with the progress the enumerators made during their first two days of counting the city's population.

"The people in town are very cooperative and I hope they continue that way," Peel stated. He said reports from the other crew leaders in Pitt county, T. K. Fountain of Falkland, Curtis Flanagan of Farmville and G. L. Tucker of Grifton, indicated the enumerators are being well received by people in all parts of the county.

"The enumerators were a little slow the first day, but now that they're two days on it, they are finding the job much easier," Peel commented. He said the enumerators probably would increase their efficiency as they gained more experience in filling out the questionnaires required by the census.

Futrell explained that the programs are paid for from federal, state and county funds. The federal government pays 75 per cent of the total amount, Futrell said, and the state and county governments together supply the remaining 25 per cent.

Pitt County's portion of the old age assistance program as proposed for the coming year will amount to $34,000, and the program is based

Showdown Is Unlikely

Congress Probably Will Not Force Test With President On Demands To See Secret Files; Three Branches Of Government Have Separate Powers; Court Case?

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, April 4—(AP)—Congress doesn't seem likely to force a showdown with President Truman on its demands to see certain secret loyalty files of the government.

The demands were made by a senate subcommittee which is investigating charges by Senator McCarthy, Wisconsin Republican, that there are Communists or pro-Communists in the state department.

The prof against the people he has accused, McCarthy says, is in the loyalty files of the state department, the FBI, and the Civil Service commission.

The subcommittee asked President Truman for permission to see the files. He has declined. Why did it have to ask permission? Why couldn't the subcommittee just walk in and help itself to the secret files in the FBI, Civil Service commission and the State department?

Because those three agencies are part of the executive branch of the government, headed by President Truman, while the subcommittee, being a part of Congress, is in the legislative branch.

Under the U. S. constitution the three branches of government—legislative, executive and judiciary—the courts—have powers separate from, and independent of, one another. One won't let the others intrude on its constitutional rights and authority.

Having been turned down by the President, the subcommittee then took this step:

It issued a subpoena—formal demand—upon the secretary of state, Dean Acheson, the head of the Civil Service commission, Harry Mitchell, and the Attorney General, J. E. McGrath, to turn over the secret files.

Their boss, the President, has now formally ordered them to ignore the subpoena.

What then could the committee do to force the issue and settle once for all this question: can the Congress force the executive branch to let Congress have any secret papers it wishes to see?

The subcommittee could decide Acheson, Mitchell and McGrath should be cited for contempt of Congress. Then, if the full senate approved, this would be the next step.

The senate's sergeant-at-arms would be sent to arrest the three men. The Senate then, because it

Dr. Keuzenkamp Is Lion Speaker

Dr. C. F. Keuzenkamp was the guest speaker at the weekly meeting of the Greenville Lions Club held last night at the Woman's Club. Keuzenkamp made the comment that in his belief no nation so controlled and operated as Russia can ever make a successful attack on a nation such as the United States. "Russia is divided among itself and is only held together by the secret police," Keuzenkamp stated.

In closing the speaker said that there is a party of Russian supporters at work in our country at this time.

Following the supper, a report was made by Godfrey Oakley, head of the Pitt County Easter Seal Drive, stating that the drive is now well under way, with nearly one-third of the goal raised so far.

The drive will last through Easter Monday, Oakley reported. Lyman Ormond, a member of the Greenville High School Key Club, was a guest of the club.

George Heath, new manager of the Greenville bowling alley and a Lion from Florida, was present for the club meeting last night. President Ernie Willis read a letter from the district governor which told of the plans being made for the state convention to be held in June.

Visitor Praises Teachers College

By WYATT BROWN

"I speak in praise of state teachers' colleges. You have one of the best in your midst," declared Dr. A. L. Crabbe, professor emeritus of education in Peabody College and internationally famous historical novelist, when he spoke briefly to the Rotary Club last night. His chief eulogy was for the role of the teachers' college in the preservation of democracy.

Before Dr. Crabbe got far he spoke of the fine character and qualities of Robert H. Wright, deceased president of ECTC and former Greenville Rotarian.

With the statement that teaching has never been fully respected even today Dr. Crabbe pointed out that training of teachers came in for consideration eight or nine centuries after the training of doctors was started at Salerno, Italy, in about the 8th century.

Bringing the story of teachers on down, Dr. Crabbe told how the states became interested in teacher training as its mission about one hundred years ago. Out of this state effort has come the fructage of nursery, kindergarten and primary teachers who are the ones doing the best job in the teaching profession today. "I give the normal school credit," Dr. Crabbe stated in speaking of the status of the primary teachers.

Speaking of schools in connection with democracy Dr. Crabbe indicated the normal school as the only one that takes all students as being the same. This has carried over into the public grade schools. "The normal schools are the best safeguard that modern democracy has," he declared in conclusion.

Howard McGinnis for District Governor of Rotary is proceeding in an encouraging fashion. Additional clubs in the district have written to the Greenville club giving their endorsement of Howard. Ercell Webb, Greenville Rotary president, said he felt sure of Dr. McGinnis' election at Wrightsville Beach in May.

Guests were James Rogers and Major Phil Coleman. Leo Grutch of Graham was a visiting Rotarian. Dr. Carl Adams presented the speaker of the evening. Ercell Webb presided.

of thousands of Moslems have fled India into Pakistan.

Apart from the bloodshed, such a great dislocation of populations, involving the loss of homes and means of livelihood, has created untold hardships. Not only must the fighting be stopped but the host of hungry and impoverished refugees must be taken care of.

One can't help recalling what happened in Bengal in 1947 when the Indian peninsula was being partitioned in preparation for the establishment of the two nations. At that time there were terrible racial clashes, but Bengal—one of the chief hotbeds of the strife—was mainly tranquil under the steady hand of the saintly little Mahatma Gandhi.

The then British Viceroy, Lord Louis Mountbatten, wrote to Gandhi in effect: I have military forces in the Punjab (a great northern province with mixed population) and there is rioting. I have a one-man peace force (Gandhi) in Bengal and there is peace.

At that time the Moslem leader in Bengal, former Prime Minister H. S. Suhrawardy, made his quarters with Gandhi. Young extremist Hindus stoned the Mahatma because of this, and his answer was to begin a fast. With that the extremists came weeping to him and laid down their arms.

Gandhi, the peace maker, no longer lives to exercise his almost hypnotic influence over the Indian masses. Still, one of his closest followers was Nehru, and the fact that All Khan has journeyed into the camp of his friend the enemy shows a desire for peace on both sides. More power to them!

Bacon Budget Strip Teaser

MADE a pet yet of meat patties? Did you ever wrap 'em snugly in bacon strips to bake in the broiler 'til golden brown? Do you hose for hominy? Crave carrots? If you're interested you'll find answers all four questions. Thrifty meat cuts are perfect for patties that are perfect with bacon bindings—bacon is today's best meat buy at prices 20% less than six months ago—so don't lose a second trying this recipe:
Broiled Meat Patties With Bacon
1 1/2 pounds ground beef 1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper 6 slices bacon
Season meat with salt and pepper, and form into 2-inch patties. Wrap a strip of bacon around each patty and fasten with toothpicks. Have regulator set for broiling. Place the patties so that there is a distance of about three inches between top of patties and source of heat. If the distance must be less, reduce the temperature accordingly so that patties will broil at a moderate temperature. When patties are browned on one side, turn and finish cooking on the second side. Patties 1-inch thick will require 10 to 12 minutes for broiling. YIELD: 6 patties.

Kite Safety...

THIS IS A KITE
Kite-flying is fun... but it's an extremely dangerous sport near power lines. If your kite string touches the line, it may kill you.

THIS IS A POWER LINE
Most neighborhood lines carry 4,000 volts of electricity to do the lighting, cooking, washing, etc., in dozens of homes.

Have Fun With Your Kites, But Please . . .

1. Fly them only in open spaces, away from wires, poles, and trees.
2. Use only dry cord or twine for your kite string. NEVER USE A WIRE, WET CORD, OR CORD WITH WIRE THREADS IN IT.
3. If your kite falls across wires, let go of the string. It is better to lose a kite than a life.

the case of sentence by the senate he might not have that power. Authorities on the constitution do not agree on what he could do in such a case.
But—the President undoubtedly wouldn't let the situation go that far before he stepped in. Once the sergeant-at-arms arrested the three men, the President undoubtedly would appeal to the third branch of the government, the federal courts, to free them, before the senate could sentence them or do anything else.

Then the whole problem would be thrown into the courts. Almost surely then it would be fought all the way up to the U. S. Supreme Court for a final decision.
If the court decided against the President and he still refused to yield, we'd have a grand and glorious mess.
No Congress has ever tried to force a showdown with the executive branch on this question. Many Congresses in the past have demanded secret files and records from the executive branch.

But, once they were turned down and 17 Presidents altogether have turned down such Congressional demands, Congress let the matter drop.
This Congress is likely to do the same. Senator Connally (D-Tex.) said he doesn't believe the senate foreign relations subcommittee, the full committee (which he heads) or the senate would vote to cite the officials for contempt. Anyway, a court fight might take a couple of years.

Balked Bixbys To Continue Flight

Calcutta, India, April 4—(AP)—The globe-circling Bixbys — stopped by engine trouble in their attempt to beat the round-the-world flight record held by the late Bill Odom—are going to fly on to San Francisco anyhow.

The aerial husband-and-wife team Bob and Dianna, hid their disappointment behind philosophic smiles today as they were told it would be several days before spare parts could be flown here for the needed repairs on their twin-engine mosquito, the Huntress II.

They were well over half their journey—11,836 miles—when they were forced to turn back to Calcutta's Dum Dum Air field yesterday morning. And they were right on the schedule they had set for topping Odom's 1947 speed record of 73 hours.

The engine trouble began, Bob said, when their converted British bomber was up 4,000 feet. Gaskets in the cooling system of the left engine burst and the plane was showered with anti-freeze fluid.

"We knew we had to turn back," Bob said, adding that their first reaction was to "get out of there as fast as possible and back to good earth."

Dianna was near tears when the plane landed back at Dum Dum. But Bob comforted her with the promise that "we can try again."

See Suicide In Disappearance

Los Angeles, April 4—(AP)—The sheriff's office today listed the puzzling disappearance of a convicted wartime traitor as a possible suicide.

Theodore Donay, 51, a Detroit importer who served more than six years in prison for failing to reveal the whereabouts of an escaped Nazi flier, vanished Saturday from Catalina Island.

His disappearance took a dramatic twist as it coincided with the sighting of a mysterious submarine in southern California coastal waters.

However, authorities said they had no concrete evidence by which to tie the two events together. Found at sea Sunday was the 18-foot motorboat the German-born Donay had rented from an Avalon dock. The boat was empty save for a suitcase full of clothing.

Sheriff's Capt. Garner Brown yesterday released a note found in Donay's Avalon hotel room. Brown said it indicated suicide. It read in part:

"I am living under the constant fear of deportation through the Detroit immigration authorities. x x x the outlook for my future is a very dark one. x x x goodbye my good friends and thank you so very much for all the good things you did to me. Theodore Donay."

Warnings Flown On East Coast

Miami, Fla., April 4—(AP)—Small craft warnings were ordered up at 6 a. m. today along the Atlantic coast from Cape Hatteras to Charleston.

The Miami Weather Bureau said winds would be fresh to moderately strong southerly from 20 to 30 miles per hour over the area.

That Campaign By A Conscienceless Few

A news item in Saturday's Reflector noted a move by some Gaston County veterans for a war bonus from the State.

The Reflector's attitude need hardly be repeated. We have been long opposed to any consideration of a veterans' bonus by either state or national governments for the time being.

It can be only the greed of a few conscienceless agitators that is responsible for the occasional flurry for fresh handouts. It is highly doubtful whether the majority of veterans are seriously in favor of such a bonus at the present. The silent majority is too busy studying, earning a living, providing a home for their families and working to make up for time lost in their war years.

Sure, they'd like some extra money. Who wouldn't?

But facts are facts... and among them is the indisputable fact that state and federal budgets are already strained to the "red ink" stage. And while we are living in an era of comparative prosperity, no handouts are essential now.

Above and beyond this, is the question of a "giveaway for the performance of a duty which was occasioned by self interest.

We can't buy it.

News Behind The News

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, April 4—The present and prospective exodus of high officials from the Truman Administration stems from their complete disagreement with the White House practice of spurning their more conservative advice for the councils of the more radical and politically minded members of the Cabinet and the Democratic National Committee. Off the record, most of them admit their dissatisfaction with the leftist trend at Washington.

President Truman complains periodically that he cannot obtain topnotch industrialists and business men for responsible federal posts. He first attributed their refusal to serve to the low salaries paid, and persuaded Congress to increase them until they are comparable to all but the highest incomes in private fields. But the resignations have become more numerous since the boosts.

The reasons for their departure vary. But the basic explanation is that they regard Mr. Truman's complicity toward politico-economic spending, excessively high taxes, continued deficits and a steadily mounting public debt as dangerous and destructive. They do not care to be associated with such a regime or to assume any responsibility for possible consequences.

RESIGNEES—Recent resignees include Edwin G. Norton, former chairman of the President's Economic Advisory Council; Tracy S. Voorhees, Under Secretary of the Army; Cornelius V. Whitney, Under Secretary of Commerce; Prospective walk-outs are Marrison S. Eccles, Federal Reserve Board Governor, and Stephen T. Early, Deputy Secretary of National Defense.

In quitting, Dr. Norton openly expressed criticism of waste and extravagance which, in his opinion, will lead to "disaster." Secretary Whitney has written such a scorching letter to the White House that it is doubtful if it will ever be published, not if it reflects his private views on the anti-business complex of the White House and the Department of Justice.

It is no accident that one of the resignations occurred in the Defense Department. Messrs. Voorhees and Early have found that Secretary Johnson will not listen to their advice. They also resent military economies like those assailed by General "Ike" Eisenhower. "Steve" has agreed to hang on until August for fear his leaving now would embarrass Mr. Johnson.

DEMOTED—Governor Eccles has not concealed his utter disgust with the Administration's financial and monetary policies. For his boldness in expressing them, he was demoted as Reserve Chairman in favor of a Union League Republican from Chester, Pa., Thomas B. McCabe. He seems willing to go along with the President, however.

Mr. Voorhees has clashed with Secretary Acheson, who sits on the presidential lap these days, over our policy in the Far East. He has agreed with General Douglas A. MacArthur on the need of a more aggressive anti-Communist program.

He opposes immediate negotiation of a Japanese peace treaty so that the U.S. can maintain air and naval bases for an indefinite period. Mr. Acheson insists on a speedy settlement, even though a freed Japan may, naturally enough, resent even partial military occupation.

Mr. Whitney has vast mining interests. Almost every expert in this field testifies that Mr. Truman's demand for reduction of depletion allowances on minerals will harm that industry and block necessary development of natural resources. He has also found that official professions of friendship for business and industry are not supported by official policies.

SQUIRM—Three other Cabinet members squirm over White House policies which the GOP opposition brands as "socialistic." They are Treasury Secretary Snyder, Defense Secretary Johnson and Commerce Secretary Sawyer. None of the trio is a radical or even a liberal. They trail along, however, for their own good reasons.

Mr. Snyder cannot quit because of a friendship with Mr. Truman dating from their "buddy days" in World War I. Mr. Johnson's flaming ambition to become President would be doused if he should walk out now.

Mr. Sawyer stays on in the hope that his conservative, pro-business views may counteract the hostility shown in other quarters, especially the Department of Justice and Federal Trade Commission. He admits that his promises of cooperation to business do not square with the Administration's program. But when a friend asked why he remained under such circumstances, he smiled a bit wearily and philosophically.

He explained that, even though a Cabinet member does not agree with all of a President's theories, it was his duty to try to narrow the area of disagreement. Mr. Whitney has apparently abandoned that attempt.

"LIGHTWEIGHTS"—As against the deaf ear President Truman turns to this group, he is only too eager to accept and act on the advice of a "kitchen cabinet," whose principal ambition is to keep the Democratic Party in power after 1952 through the reelection of the present occupant of the White House. The four are Attorney General J. Howard McGrath, former senator and chairman of the Democratic National Committee; Interior Secretary Oscar Chapman, the advance agent in the West in the 1948 campaign and inspiration of the "give 'em hell" strategy; Agriculture Secretary Charles F. Brannan, whose two-price farm formula is designed to win votes among farmers and urban consumers; and Labor Secretary Maurice J. Tobin, who spends more time in addressing union labor conventions than he does at Washington. A fifth is Federal Administrator Oscar R. Ewing, promoter of national health insurance.

Although generally regarded as the "lightweights" of the presidential family, even by their Cabinet colleagues, this politically conscious faction carries more weight around the White House than any other clique because they tell Mr. Truman what he likes to hear. That is a failing of most Chief Executives, Republicans or Democrats.

Pulled Out A Plum

REG-MANNING

Somebody Told Me

By I. J. (Jack) EDWARDS, JR.

Consider yourselves notified: television is here. Sunday night at 6:15 WTAR, NBC television in Norfolk, went on the air. At 7:30 Wife Rachel and I arrived at Carlton Joyner's house on East Third Street. At that time things looked bad. Sound was coming in almost constantly, but the picture was audible only a small fraction of the time.

We struggled through the Henry Aldrich show without being able to follow the story. Then at eight o'clock the Chesterfield Supper Club, starring Perry Como, came on. From that time on we enjoyed clear television, with a constant picture and almost no fade. Marsha Hunt was Perry's guest, and the show included comic skits as well as good music.

Following the Supper Club was The Colgate Theater, a half-hour show, and then the hour-long Philco Playhouse. To be brutally frank, the shows were hardly worth seeing, which proves that just like radio, the movies, or this column, some of the time TV isn't worth while. But the main consideration is that the plays came in almost as clear as a movie. Carlton has a filter that covers the television tube which clears up the picture by cutting out the snowy effect.

Greenville's TV set owners, probably 12 strong, have been watching WTAR's test pattern for a month now, anxiously waiting to see the station's first TV. Most of the time the pattern has shown clear as a bell. Sunday night the weather was bad, TVly speaking. Low, overhanging clouds help to deflect the TV waves, but Sunday the sky was completely clear. The weather was so "bad" that Carlton's set wouldn't pick up Richmond at all. Greenville's TV owners are all set up to receive the Richmond station, which makes the TV set-up for Greenville look good. By that I mean that last night the local TV sets wouldn't pick up Richmond at all, but Norfolk was clear after eight o'clock. In other words, the nearness of the Norfolk station puts TV within reach for Greenville.

The next question is: how much does it cost to get set-up in TV? The answer: from $225 to $400. And the local TV owners wouldn't recommend the inexpensive installation.

At one time 15 TV fans were in Carlton's living room Shelton Cannon walked in and said, "Any seats in the balcony?" At first things looked bad, but by eight o'clock all of us were enthusiastic about reception of the Norfolk station. Last night's weather was bad for TV, and the pictures were clear. And I thank Carlton.

Daily Reflector Bureau

By LYNN NISBET

Raleigh, N. C.

CORRECTION—In noting the number of persons on public payrolls who are devoting major time to the interests of favored candidates in the current primary campaign, your reporter perhaps erred in not making a second check of the lists. It was stated that Miss Kate Humphrey of Senator Graham's Washington office staff was devoting full time to his campaign headquarters in Raleigh. A letter from Judge Jeff Johnson, Jr., Graham manager, advises that at Senator Graham's request Miss Humphrey was taken off the public payroll on February 28.

CHECKS—The inquiry upon which the recent statement was based was made on February 27, the week following opening of Graham headquarters in the Sir Walter Hotel. At that time Miss Humphrey was listed on the senate payroll. Manager Johnson also says so far as he knows Bill Stator has never been on the federal payroll, and is not now. News stories of general circulation a few weeks ago said that Senator Graham had added Stator to his staff to look after his interest in the state. Whatever apologies are due Senator Graham, Miss Humphrey and Mr. Stator are herewith proffered, in behalf of your reporter and the newspapers which carried the former item.

USUAL—It is still true that John McConnell and Richard Queen, admittedly on the senate office payroll, have spent a good deal of time in behalf of the Graham campaign in North Carolina. That is usual procedure, and in the original item it was stated that activities of Senator Graham's staff follow custom. In fact most people think it would be a sorry employee who wouldn't help his boss in time of need. It is of common knowledge that many state employees are going out of their way to aid Senator Graham because they believe such action will please Governor Scott, who is chief boss of all state workers. On the other hand, a good many state employees make no secret of their allegiance to Bob Reynolds, the Willis Smith. In each instance they are exercising their inherent rights and obligations as citizens.

SWAP—The test farm division in the department of agriculture has been trading with itself and swapping land. On face of things it looks like a good trade. The Mountain test farm at Waynesville needed more land and set a chance to buy 72 acres adjoining present holdings. The Upper Mountain farm in Ashe county bought eight acres. Meantime, the department sold twelve acres off the edge of the Piedmont farm at Statesville, for an industrial site. The twelve acres sold brought $200,000—which was sold to the state, eighty acres bought cost the state $100,000.

FINANCING—The test farm folks and the council of state did a bit of high financing in connection with this deal. Last week it looked like the money would have to be paid for the land bought, before it could be collected for the land sold. So a "borrow" was negotiated and last week the council of state authorized paying the $200,000 if and when needed, to be replaced when deed for the Statesville acreage was delivered and purchase money collected. Whether the council of state "liability" will be used depends entirely upon which deeds are processed first. Net result of the manipulation is that the state got 72 acres in Haywood county and eight acres in Ashe county for twelve acres in Iredell county.

VEGETABLE CHITLINS—Governor Scott's press conference Monday provided a new name for the ramps which thrive on the southeastern slopes of the Great Smoky Mountains. A reporter asked the governor if he expected to attend the "ramp convention" next month. He wasn't sure he could make it. Then the usual question came up: "What is a ramp?" Somebody said "It is the chitterling of the vegetable family." The governor said he would like for somebody to work an experiment and eat chitlin' and ramps together, just to see what would happen. He admitted he'd rather not try it out himself.

BUDGET CUT—South Carolina is having state finance troubles, too. The budget commission has ordered a straight across-the-board cut of six percent on all appropriations for the last three months of the current fiscal year. Budget action was made necessary by failure of the legislature to recognize the need for reduction in appropriations or increase in taxes. News stories about the situation say the assembly was notified early in February that drastic action would be necessary, but the legislators did nothing about it.

SURPLUS—South Carolina started the current year with a treasury surplus of nearly four million dollars. That compares with North Carolina's surplus of around fourteen millions. But in our sister state as well as in our own, the "surplus" was expected to do too much. In both states the situation was much like the man who married a widow with a thousand dollars. Thereafter, everything he did—including building a new home for $10,000, buying a new car for $3,000, and purchasing some additional land for $15,000 was done "on his wife's money." The surplus just could not stand all the drains put upon it.

What Other Papers Are Thinking

DUKE CHARITIES
(Henderson Daily Dispatch)

Local hospitals which have just been given their allotments from free cash contributions from the Duke Endowment did not receive enough to put them on easy street, but most such institutions are grateful for these and other gifts which come to them from time to time. The same is true of the orphanages. Both groups in the Carolinas receive a sum close to a million dollars in the aggregate, and which makes possible a good deal more that can be done for needy individuals than otherwise would be achieved. These donations do not solve all the problems of the beneficiary institutions, but they do make substantial contribution to the sum total of revenues necessary annually to continue them in the services which they render. Money received from the Duke Endowment comes with no strings attached, except that certain standards in beneficent work shall be maintained in proportion to the aid sent. The hospitals, for instance, are compensated at the rate of a dollar a day for charity patients cared for. A somewhat similar basis is set up for the orphanages, although all of their work is on that plane. Government contributions are followed by dictatorial policies, and institutions are required to operate to the satisfaction of a group of bureaucrats who more or less arbitrarily chart the course that must be followed. That is the government method not only in its welfare aid but also in roads, in agricultural subsidies and otherwise, and will be when Washington begins to pour out its billions to the educational system of the nation. No one ever will be able to measure the pain that has been caused or the contribution to the building of moral character and good citizenship that has been possible through the Duke Endowment benefactions. These gifts do too much. In both states the situation was much like the man who married a widow with a thousand dollars. Thereafter, everything he did—including building a new home for $10,000, buying a new car for $3,000, and purchasing some additional land for $15,000 was done "on his wife's money." The surplus just could not stand all the drains put upon it.

Business Today

By ELMER ROESSNER
Some Prices Moving Up Again Even Though Soft Goods Weaken
Prices of a number of durable goods and materials are noticeably firming up again. Price boosts on tires and cutting tools have already gone into effect this month. Building materials, which moved up steadily last winter at a time when their price tags normally recede, are expected to go even higher under the impact of accelerated construction during the warm months. One report cites that plywood which sold for $64 a thousand feet last summer is already bringing $80. Prices of steel, zinc and copper are still strong. So far manufacturers of cars, appliances and other consumer goods using metals, have absorbed increased costs to hold their markets.

Prices of textiles, however, are weakening again after last autumn's mild jump. While firming up in some world markets, and their bulging quotations have largely erased the effects of last year's devaluation of foreign currencies; slackening demand is holding down quotations in the U.S. Supplies of both raw end cotton textiles are expanding faster than demand. Merchandisers will find underwear and other cotton items for fall delivery priced a little lower than now, and will also see both manufacturers and stores sharply reducing profit margins on many apparel items right after Easter to clear present stocks.

On balance, the net trend of wholesale prices is a little on the up side, but no noticeable impact on the cost of living itself is in sight. Food costs are as low as they've been since the peak reached in August 1948. They'll continue comparatively reasonable with continued bumper supplies in view for such staples as eggs and pork.

Promoting The Business Girl's Business
Downtown stores are finding it pays to make shopping as easy as possible for the business girl. She buys more clothes than the housewife, but generally she has to do it in fast time. She's a value conscious shopper too. One Los Angeles store, Milliron's, has scored a success with a new self-service, first-floor Career Girl Center. It features sportswear, dresses and lingerie in one spot instead of scattering them through the floor. The new department plans to set up a telephone service so the hurried career gal can arrange beforehand for try-ons during her lunch hour. One of the soundest ideas in the new layout is a nearby snack bar. The department also has fitting rooms on the spot.

Tying Up A Customer With Coupon Books

At least two types of retailers are now using coupon books to hold customers. Coupon books have become well established in department stores. The customer buys a $25 or $50 book on the installment plan and spends the coupons like cash, as and when she wants to. The coupons are not only a convenient method of extending credit for soft goods and other small items, but they keep the customer coming back to use up the book. Service stations too have found coupon books for lubrication and inspection service a good way to tie up a customer. Some auto dealers give a book calling for a few lubrication jobs free with the purchase of a new car, so the customer will become acquainted with the dealer's service facilities and get acquainted with the service personnel. In other cases, dealers sell books calling for a complete 10,000 mile lube oil change and inspection service. The customer gets a lower price per job by buying a book. The discount is worth it to the station operator because he not only expands his volume, but guarantees it for a period ahead. Can you apply the coupon-book idea to your business?

Seek To Revive Fur Sales With New Colors

How do you think your wife—or more important your customers—would look in a blue Persian lamb coat? That's the newest idea inaugurated by one of the largest dyers (Hollander) to revive lagging fur sales. Black Persian lamb has been one of the main props in the fur business for some years now. But it may have passed the peak of its popularity, some trade experts believe. A venture into new colors seems to be one chance of keeping Persian lamb selling, but some furriers are approaching the idea with caution. "Try out the color on your friends. The new color is really a midnight blue that is lustrous blue by day, and black by night.

Hal Boyle's Column

New York—(AP)—Families and houses are getting smaller today. Drive through the suburbs of any city and you can see many 8-to-12 room homes of 50 to 75 years ago standing boarded up and empty. Some have been turned into duplexes or triplexes. And still others are being torn down to make way for new real estate developments with names like Quagmire Heights or Far Flung Hills.

I hate to see these fine old houses die. It is like watching a kindly elephant go down. Architecturally, with their sprawling porches and gingerbread wooden trim, they may have been monstrous. But they had a virtue above ordinary art—they were lived in, and well-lived in, by sprawling happy families. Whatever they lacked in beauty as houses, they made up for in the love they held as homes.

The smaller, close-packed dwellings that are replacing them have many more conveniences. They do look neater, too, and they have gadgets in them no one even dreamed of in 1900. But they also often have the monotonous look of a row of cells in a beehive.

The idea used to be to build houses far enough apart so that each family would have some privacy, a lawn and a backyard with space to raise a few chickens in. Now a lot of folks appear to be uneasy unless their houses are close enough for them to hear what the neighbors are calling each other—or listening to on the radio.

And without getting maudlin about it, I sometimes feel sorry for these small families living in their small and sanitary houses. I guess this is progress, and you can't fight progress; but I can't, for the life of me, see just what the progress amounts to.

The two-kid families in their better-built mousetrap of today have no idea what fun it was to be one of half a dozen to a dozen children in one of those big old rambling barns people used to call homes.

There was plenty of room to play, indoors and out. The two rooms where the family gathered most often were the kitchen and the dining room. The dining room also was where Dad held court. During the evening meal he would rule on all the day's infractions of tribal laws, with mother acting alternately as plaintiff and attorney for the defense, and decide on punishment. If it was a good meal, however, he tended to be lenient.

I those old houses there was always a room in which a heartbroken culprit could go and cry by himself. But in large families, no matter how mean a thing you'd done, you were never completely alone. There was always a sister or brother to take your side.

There were plenty of feuds during the day, but generally they were all settled by bedtime. It wasn't often anyone went to sleep mad. That was one of the best things about large families—the people learned to get along, to sacrifice for each other, to recognize one another's rights.

In big homes and big families there was no room for real selfishness. But there was endless room for loyalty and love and the development of understanding. There were unpleasant duties—I don't think anyone ever wrote a poem on the pleasures of carrying out ashes from a coal furnace—but the duties were shared; everybody felt necessary. I was brought up in a large house as one of a large family. Perhaps it is because of this that, living in a city apartment as I do now and having no children, looking back makes the other way of life seem better. It never was lonely.

Washington Letter

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—We went to Denmark that where the Danes are. The food was delicious, but they're still on rations." The food on Sally Baker's plate got cold as she talked. It was a long time before Mrs. Baker gets "all talked out," but she was giving ECA Director Paul Hoffman the best of unbiased first-hand report he wanted to hear on things she saw on her first trip to Europe.

A nurse in the Lonesome Pone country of Pike County, Ky., she had won a six weeks' trip to nine European countries when she was chosen "Queen of America" on a radio program. With her husband, Floyd, she was guest at a small luncheon here with Mr. Hoffman en route back to his home in Pomona, Calif. The wine colored dress and little black hat she had purchased in Paris, talked about her experiences as freely as if she were talking to neighbors in her kitchen at home.

"I'm glad to get to talk with you both," Mr. Hoffman told them. "Our reports, lots of them, come from night club experts. Everybody is working so hard to get the Marshall Plan working over there that I like to hear the average tax-paying American's point of view and his impression of Mr. and Mrs. Average Family in other lands." Mr. Hoffman explained that although he himself had made four trips to Marshall Plan countries, and had traveled around the world in 14 days he still hadn't spent as much time abroad as the Bakers.

"The Danes are very grateful, very proud," Mrs. Baker went on. "They won't ask for anything longer than they need it. They don't want charity, just a chance. It was like that most places." Mr. Baker interjected his own observations. "In Sweden they're doing fine, but the need's still there," Mrs. Baker said. "They have to have something to do with. In Holland we visited a farm with checkered curtains at the window. The old home had been destroyed, and most of the cows."

"At the International Relief Organization camp in Italy, they even saw 10 nationalities in the gans," waiting for immigration to Canada and Australia. "It was sad when they just want a place to call home," said Mrs. Baker.

"Greece is going to be so much better than it ever was," Mr. Baker told Mr. Hoffman, then laughed. "In Greece the men have got the women trained right. They stay home and smoke and let the women do the work." Mrs. Baker was presented to Crown Princess Louise in Stockholm. "Have you ever been presented to royalty?" She said she practiced curtsying all morning, got out her white gloves and tried to remember "never to let the princess see my back."

Navy Denies Credit For Flying Saucers Described By Magazine

Washington, April 4—(AP)—The Navy says in comment on the latest flying saucer report: (1) it has not developed any pancake-shaped jet planes and (2) it is not experimenting with any saucer-shaped missile.

In fact, the department reported through a spokesman, the nearest thing to a flying saucer it ever developed has not flown since 1947.

The spokesman was commenting last night on an article in U.S. News and World Report which said engineers have concluded that the off-reported saucers are jet-powered planes of a new design developed by the Navy. The magazine said the saucers may have sprung from experiments by Charles H. Zimmerman for the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics (NACA).

At Langley Air Force base in Virginia, Zimmerman said he worked on an experimental pancake-shaped model plane during the war—this was the one the Navy said flew last in 1947—but he didn't regard it as a forerunner to the flying saucer. To conclude that it was, he said, was "obviously the wrong conclusion."

NACA officials said the model Zimmerman developed later be-

S. C. Demos Vote State's Rights

By the ASSOCIATED PRESS
The South Carolina Democratic party will adhere to the strong State's Rights stand it took in 1948 if it follows its county units.

A majority—30 of 46—of yesterday's county party conventions took action against the national party's civil rights platform.

At least 19 clearly endorsed the state party's 1948 stand that cast South Carolina's eight electoral college votes for Gov. J. Strom Thurmond, State's Rights presidential candidate.

The biennial party reorganization conventions found several Negro delegates on hand. Darlington County sent two as delegates to the state convention at Columbia April 19.

It is there that state party policies for the next two years will be determined. State executive committees—one from each county—elected yesterday will carry out those policies.

Federal District Judge J. Waties Waring was condemned by several county meetings. It was his rulings in 1948 that opened the party and its primaries to Negroes, precipitating the States' Rights issue.

Marion County Democrats shouted down former Gov. Ransome J. Williams, a pro-Truman leader in the state, when he tried to address their meeting.

Bamberg proposed a 'constitutional Democratic party' be formed if no civil rights agreements could be reached with the national Democratic or Republican parties.

Thurmond and U.S. Senator Olin D. Johnston, expected to meet in the U.S. Senate nomination race, were among delegates named to the state convention. So was gubernatorial candidate James F. Byrnes.

'World Citizen' Returns To U. S.

New York, April 4—(AP)—After a four-day detention on Ellis Island, "world citizen" Garry Davis was back on his native soil today, pleading for rest and privacy.

The 28-year-old Air Force veteran, who spent the last two years in France crusading for world government, told newsmen on his release by immigration authorities yesterday:

"Let me slip into oblivion. I really do not have anything to say. I'm here as a private person. I'm not seeking publicity. In fact, I think there has been entirely too much publicity."

As he stepped ashore, Davis was met by his father, Bandleader Meyer Davis, and his 19-year-old sister, Marjorie.

Young Davis gave up his U.S. citizenship in Paris two years ago to become what he called "World Citizen No. 1."

He returned to the U. S. last Thursday on an immigrant's visa that would permit him to apply for citizenship after meeting the usual residential requirements. However, he says he intends to remain stateless.

Immigration authorities held him four days for medical tests—which are given some stateless immigrants. No results of the tests were announced.

Phantoms Shut Out By 11-0 In Rocky Mount Yesterday

Effective Pitching For Blackbirds; Errors By Greenville Team Play Part In Setback; Locals Accounted For Two Hits

Rocky Mount, April 4—Effective pitching enabled the Rocky Mount high school baseball team to shut out Greenville yesterday afternoon as the locals won their second straight of the season, 11-0.

The loss was Greenville's second of the campaign but only one in their Northeastern Conference competition since the game yesterday was a seven inning non-conference affair.

Going the route for the Birds was Thompson who, in addition to shutting out the Greenville team, let them down with only two hits. His mates were romping on everything Greenville pitching offered up, collecting 12 hits and six bases on balls.

The game was loosely played on Greenville's part, the visitors committing six errors to the locals' two.

Starting on the mound for Greenville was Joe Clark, a newcomer in a starting role. Clark pitched four and a half innings, gave up seven hits before he was lifted and struck out four. Two of the hits he allowed were successive home runs by the Birds' team, the first coming in the first inning and the next in the second.

Clark gave way to Julian Vainright in the last of the fifth. Usually a starter, Vainright was nicknamed for five more hits before the game was called, struck out four but walked as many.

Spain's four-base blows were the deciding factor early in the game. Although he connected with no one aboard, they tended to break the back of the Greenville nine.

The Birds batted around in the second frame, scoring two runs on two singles by Calhoun and Anderson and free passes issued to Parker and Herring.

Spain and Anderson were the big guns for the Rocky Mount team, both accounting for three hits each. Spain got three for four times at bat, two on his circuit blows, and scored three runs himself. Anderson got three for five and scored two runs.

Greenville's two hits were scattered. Perry got a single in the fourth with two out but wasn't helped by any as Briley, Greenville's first sacker, struck out. The other lone hit came in the fifth when Jody Taylor led off the inning with a single but was stranded when the next three batters were retired in order.

Summaries for both teams:
Scoring for Rocky Mount—Spain 3, Britt, Anderson 2, and Calhoun, Laughridge, Parker, Thompson. Winning pitcher: Thompson; losing pitcher: Clark.

Newhouser May Miss On Opener

Lakeland, Fla., April 4—(AP)—It looks now as though Hal Newhouser's mysterious arm trouble may prevent him from pitching the Detroit Tigers' American League opener.

The opener—against Cleveland April 18 this year—has been Hal's private property in the past.

However, Manager Red Rolfe is figuring on Freddie Hutchinson or Art Houtteman. He says "it looks like one or the other."

Beshore Is Given A $10,000 Offer

New York, April 4—(AP)—Fredie Beshore, who had two bouts with NBA Heavyweight Champion Ezzard Charles postponed, has an offer of $10,000 to go against John Holman in the Chicago Stadium, April 14.

Beshore's manager, Ralph Gold, said that "Truman Bison of the International Boxing Club in Chicago offered us the guarantee. We're out $3,000 for training expenses for Charles and I'm willing to take that offer."

Spanking Breeze . . . . . by Pap

Little Johnny Breeze enhanced his reputation and gained considerable value as a fistic attraction by knocking out Jimmy Rooney in a couple of rounds. However, his popularity with the fans who watched the contest in Madison Square Garden was in no way increased. Most of the ring enthusiasts appeared to resent the manner in which Breeze unceremoniously dumped their little idol on the canvas. The fans had taken the little orphan from Bridgeport to their hearts when they watched him get off the floor to knock out Eddie Murotta and George LaFalgic. Many were talking about a title match for Rooney with Willie Pep. The sudden upset at the hands of Breeze was a shock, and it would take a bit of time before they could appreciate that Breeze is a fine featherweight and, quite possibly, the master of Rooney.

Pirates Meet High Point In Third Conference Tilt

Coach Jack Boone's Pirate nine play their third North State conference game this afternoon against the High Point College Panthers. Game time is scheduled for 2:30 p. m. at the Pirate baseball field. East Carolina has broken even in the first two starts against North State opposition, losing to Guilford, and winning over Lenoir-Rhyne last Friday, 3-2.

Hal Whitehurst, returning right-hander from last year's squad, is expected to start on the mound in this afternoon's tilt. It will be the first start for the brilliant Buc twirler this year.

Showing much improvement in its last game, a rejuvenated lineup will start this afternoon's contest.

Newcomer Bob Bailey, who was declared eligible for this season's play just before the Guilford game, will hold down the third base assignment for the Pirate infield forces, with lettermen Jack Wallace at shortstop, Billy Smith at second, and freshman Sonny Russell at first.

In the outer pastures, newly converted Veteran George Woods will do field position, with Lou Collie at center, and Stan Terrill at right.

Young Infield Is Slated For Cubs

Phoenix, Ariz., April 4—(AP)—Frankie Frisch refuses to weaken in his determination to start his Chicago Cubs off with a juvenile infield in this year's National League scramble.

"Those guys we had last year couldn't win," he says, reasonably. "You can't finish any worse than last. I'm going to go with the kids until they show me they can't do any better."

The old Fordham flash is a hard loser, and it has pained him every time his lads have gotten their lumps in exhibition games this spring. But nothing he has seen has tempted him to fall back on such veterans as he commands.

The Cubs housecleaning has been most thorough. Only two men remain of the 1945 team which won the pennant and lost to Detroit in the World Series—Andy Pafka and Phil Cavarretta.

Pafka is set to start in center-field again, but Cavarretta, at 33, will find himself reduced to utility duty in the outfield and at first base if Frisch's brave new infield holds up. Recent talk about Cavarretta being traded to the Giants should be treated with great reserve.

Schneider Fired By PGA Heads; Revolt Is Seen

Chicago, April 4—(AP)—The Professionals Golf Association awaited today the aftermath of its firing of George Schneider as tournament bureau manager. Open revolt of headline golfers from the parent organization may follow in the wake.

Schneider came to Chicago yesterday as a player-representative to meet with PGA officials including Joe Novak, president; Horton Smith, secretary; Harry Moffitt, of Toledo, treasurer; and several members of the advisory tournament sponsors' group.

Yanks Watching Jackie Jensen

St. Petersburg, Fla., April 4—(AP)—Jackie Jensen, bonus beauty from the University of California, has begun to make the New York Yankees' brain trust sit up and take notice.

A mediocre .196 hitter in 10 previous contests, Jensen cracked out a single, triple and home run yesterday against the Cincinnati Reds. He scored three times.

In addition, the home run gave Jackie the club lead with four. Cincinnati won the game, 6 to 4.

Villemain Takes Easy Decision; Aims For Crown

Philadelphia, April 4—(AP)—Jake La Motta better dust off his French dictionary—the boys from Paris are gunning for his middle weight crown.

The boys—better known as Robert Villemain and Laurent Dauthuille—registered impressive wins last night, one in Philadelphia and the other in Pittsburgh.

Villemain, who has made it known—in French, of course—that he intends to carry La Motta's title back to Paris, took a unanimous 10-round decision from Philadelphia's Otis Graham.

Dauthuille, blond puncher who has been working out of Montreal since he came to this side of the Atlantic last year, kayoed Pittsburgh's Charley (vivo) Affit in the ninth round of their scheduled 10-rounder.

Villemain, who weighed 158 1-2 to Graham's 156, gave the Philadelphia Negro a boxing lesson with his weaving, bobbing style.

Only Villemain's lack of punching power kept the fight going the distance.

At the start, the Frenchman jabbed Graham all over the ring. Then Villemain changed his attack, feinting Graham out of position time and again before pounding him with both hands as he tried to recover.

Dauthuille showed the same sort of mastery over Affit, although the Pittsburgh middleweight displayed some form in rocking the Frenchman with a sharp left in the fourth round.

Dauthuille came back stronger than ever, however, and dropped Affit just before the bell. In the seventh and eighth Affit exploded with a flurry of punches, but Dauthuille fought off the attack.

In the ninth, the Parisian dropped Affit for a nine count and then scored the knockout with a left and right.

Dauthuille weighed 157 1-2 and Affit 160.

Ups Creel Limit For Rock Fish

Raleigh, N. C., April 4—(AP) The Wildlife Resources commission has boosted the creel limit on rock fish taken in inland waters from eight to 15.

Alaskan Pitcher Is Sent To Tobs

Atlanta, April 4—(AP)—Bill Tompkins, 18-year-old southpaw pitcher from Anchorage, Alaska, has been farmed by Atlanta to Wilson, N.C.

Tompkins joined the Atlanta Southern Association club for spring training, after controversy because his high school class had not graduated at that time.

Blackiston Says Broadcast Of Games Formerly Slated

In answer to allegations made by representatives of station WGTC concerning the station's inability to broadcast the Robins' baseball games this season, Dallas Blackiston, business manager of the club, yesterday said he had had until March 23 a verbal agreement with the station to broadcast out-of-town games. He said the station had cancelled their tentative broadcasts because of commitments with the Mutual Broadcasting System of which they became an affiliate April 1.

On March 23, Blackiston said, a representative of the station informed him the games would not be aired because of previous network commitments. At that time, he said, sponsors for the air time had been contacted and signed and were ready to go along with the broadcasts.

This morning A. Hartwell Campbell, manager of WGTC, denied any arrangement with the ball club as to away-from-home broadcasting. He said he thought it was "in the public interest to join Mutual" and any attempt thereby to broadcast the Robins' games would not be "satisfactory to our interest or to the public's."

Yesterday Campbell reported he had thought about broadcasting the games but realized only a few innings of each could be handled before having to cut into the game in order to carry programs from the network.

Blackiston said later yesterday he had asked a station representative "about March 20" if the station would be interested in broadcasting home games. The representative said the $20 price for individual games was too high and that the station would not be interested, he stated.

However, Blackiston said, the representative asked if he would sell air time for $5, to which he answered "no," he said.

"I think broadcasting home games will cut our attendance," the business manager said yesterday, "but I'm definitely interested in broadcasting the out-of-town games since it will draw the fans to the park when the Robins play here."

He stated if the station could not broadcast road games, he didn't see "how they could air home games, either."

"If I had not had an arrangement, have mutually enjoyed the great triumphs and smarted under the same disappointments, that they are blended into a unit.

There isn't another clubhouse quite like theirs, with its modified bedlam of noise and confusion. Half-dressed athletes may be grouped about a trunk in an impromptu card game. The omnipresent phonograph will be scratchily yowling a hillbilly tune. There are shouts and loud banter and noisy laughter.

The setting is a carryover from the "Gas-house Gang" days, the new players taking their cue from the veterans to perpetuate the spirit of freedom and abandon and unity which makes itself so evident when the team goes on the field. They'll tear your legs off to score a run, but that's the way they play the game, up to the hilt.

Phantoms Travel Today To Play Edenton Nine

Greenville's high school baseballers, losers in their two games to date, travel to Edenton this afternoon for the second engagement with Northeastern Conference competition.

Having lost yesterday to Rocky Mount in a non-conference game played there, Bo Farley's local charges will make a valiant effort to cop their first won of the young 1950 season.

To date Greenville has scored only one run and collected only three hits in its two games. Against Kingston, their first conference outing, last Friday, the locals got a single in a seven inning game and yesterday could get only two off Rocky Mount pitching.

Today's game however, Farley says is a new ball game, one in which he expects to see just what his boys can do against more-or-less equal opponents. Having practiced in cold and rainy weather before the first game last week the grey-haired coach hasn't had much chance to see just what the team can do.

Bobby Flye will take his second turn on the mound today, having rested since the Kingston game in which he gave up one hit during his stay. Farley will start what has by this time become his usual lineup. Leon Moore will work behind the plate, Sid Briley at first, Billy Jordan at second, Larry Flye at short and Gene Ayers at third.

In the outfield the Greenville team will have Hilton Quinn, Jody Taylor and Bobby Perry.

Leo Unconcerned Over Pitchers

San Antonio, Tex., April 4—(AP)—Leo Durocher, manager of the New York Giants, says he isn't worried about the performances turned in by his pitchers. Not yet, anyway.

"But if it keeps up, then I will worry," he said after three pitchers were bombed for 31 runs in three games.

"The fellows are throwing hard and their arms are loose. That's all I'm interested in."

Durocher's hurlers lost a 5-3 decision to Cleveland yesterday.

When Wisconsin's boxing team lost to Michigan State recently, it was the first home defeat for the Badgers since 1933.

When Princeton won the Eastern International Basketball league championship this year it was its first such victory since 1932.

Washington Club Is Given A Rest

Orlando, Fla., April 4—(AP)—With time getting short to get in shape for big league play, the Washington Nationals were ordered to take a rest today.

Manager Bucky Harris figured they need it after watching what he thought was his best pitcher, Ray Scarborough, get walloped for 17 hits by a team of minor leaguers yesterday. The Springfield, Mass., club of the International League humiliated the Nats, 7-4.

Young Gangster To Die; Capone Was His Ideal

Berlin, April 3—(AP)—A teenage gang leader and three of his comrades were sentenced to death today for a reign of terror they said was copied from the movies and crime books.

A court in the Soviet sector of Berlin imposed the death sentence on Werner Gladow, 18, who said he used Al Capone as his model in directing a band of 68 thugs.

The prosecution traced two murders, 10 attempted slayings and 21 major armed robberies to the gang. The Communist press seized on the trial to emphasize Gladow's testimony that his ambitions were aroused by reading American crime books and seeing American crime movies.

Goering's Buried Wealth Didn't Amount To Much

Munich, Germany, Apr. 4—(AP)—Hermann Goering's buried treasure, on : reported to be worth a million dollars, turned out to be worth less than 10,000 deutsche-marks (about $2,500).

The "treasure" was found last Friday buried in Veidenstein Castle, near Nuerberg. The castle was once the home of Goering, Adolf Hitler's No. 2 Nazi, who committed suicide to avoid hanging as a war criminal.

First reports from German sources said the hoard included a silver bathtub, gold candle holders and other rare objects. Reports of their value ranged from one to several million dollars.

Today, however, U. S. authorities made an inventory and officially announced:

"A preliminary estimate of the items found indicated their value does not exceed 10,000 deutsche-marks."

Workers still were digging under the castle in search of "more treasure.

This was the list unannounced by Clarence M. Bolds, U. S. state commissioner for Bavaria, of the items found Friday.

Six brass candelabra, 23 brass candle sticks, two tin candle sticks, four gilded candle sticks, 52 inscribed as gifts to Goering by the city of Aschen, one ebony vase, one silver bowl and 345 assorted bottles of champagne, wine and liquor, some of which were marked as German Army property.

There was no silver bath tub.

Loch Lomond Banks To Be Big Parkland

LONDON—(AP)—The "bonnie, bonnie banks of Loch Lomond" are to be a national park. Britain's secretary of state for Scotland announced the government had bought a 12,370 acre estate which includes the mountain Ben Lomond and a 13-mile stretch of the banks of the storied lake.

Senate Planning Probe Gambling

Washington, April 4—(AP)—Two senate committees made separate plans today for investigating organized gambling throughout the nation.

One inquiry is backed by the senate judicial committee and the other is being considered by the senate commerce committee.

This possibility of a two-barreled investigation developed when attorney general McGrath sent Congress two bills aimed against slot machines and interstate gambling on sports events.

These measures in the senate were placed in the hands of the commerce group headed by Senator Johnson (D-Colo).

The judiciary committee already has asked senate action on a resolution by Senator Kefauver (D-Tenn) calling for a $50,000 spending authorization to launch its check on gambling and organized crime.

Johnson said he was particularly interested in the measure which would ban interstate communication of gambling information on horse races and other sports.

"That gets into the ticklish situation involving the freedom of information guaranteed by the constitution," Johnson said. He added he expected no trouble with the bill which prohibit shipment of slot machines into states where they are illegal.

Special Venire Of 150 Called In Ray Hair Trial

Raleigh, N. C., April 4—(AP)— A special venire of 150 Wake county jurors has been summoned for the murder trial of Raymond D. Hair starting tomorrow.

Hair, 23-year-old pre-medical student at Wake Forest College, is charged with the pistol slaying on Roy W. Coble, 20, on the college campus last Dec. 15.

Hair was in the Wake Superior court room yesterday when the special venire was drawn. It was his second public appearance since his arrest in Los Angeles, Calif., last January. He was in the court on March 7 when the indictment charging him with murder was read.

Farm Aid Is Now Israeli Problem

Tiberias, Israel—(AP)—The Israeli is being asked to loan $500,000 to owners of banana plantations and vegetable growers in the Galilee district. The growers were hard-hit by the record-breaking snowstorms and cold wave which affected the Tiberias area and all of Israel early in February.

The banana plantation owners estimated their losses alone at over $1,000,000. Many banana trees generally were wiped out, causing a severe shortage of such commodities in the Israeli market.

Tattoos Proved Very Unreliable

Rangoon—(AP)—Police in the rice-growing district of Myaungmya arrested four members of the Burma Communist party while they were being tattooed for "invulnerability" in anti-government battles.

The Burmese believe that the tattooing of certain parts of the body with the Burmese alphabet safeguards its wearers from injury. According to the design and color of ink used, protection is supposed to be given against wild animals and knife and bullet wounds. The custom is widely adopted by bandits.

ROBBERS GET THE BOOT

Chicago—(AP)—Two robbers took $300 from a men's furnishings store on the west side, and presumably split it on a share-and-share-alike basis. One of them also got a pair of shoes to boot.

Silent Census

Rockville Centre, N. Y., April 4 (AP)—Mrs. Marian Atfield, the first census taker to complete her rounds in Nassau County, returned to headquarters here yesterday and told officials:

"No one would talk."

She explained that she found the Long Island area assigned to her contained nothing but a cemetery and an abandoned house.

New Frosty Belt Over Wide Area

By the ASSOCIATED PRESS

A fresh batch of cold air spread over a wide area of the country from the Rockies into central Texas today. There was snow and rain in many parts of the frosty belt.

Temperatures fell far below freezing over most of the Rocky Mountain region and in parts of the northern plains. The cool air also extended over the central and southern plains states, the upper Great Lakes region and the upper Mississippi valley. Lows of 16 above were reported at Cheyenne and Rock Springs, Wyo.

Mild weather continued in the eastern and most of the southern states but the cool air was moving eastward and southward from the Ohio valley.

Light snow fell in parts of Minnesota, Wisconsin, Montana and southeastern Colorado. There were some flurries in western Illinois and northern Missouri. There were several rainy areas—the middle Mississippi valley, Indiana, lower Michigan, the lower Lakes region and southern New England.

Tornadoes struck over eastern Oklahoma and western Arkansas yesterday. Hail and wind storms were reported in parts of Missouri and western Illinois. The weather was blamed for a tragic fatality in Kansas. A car smashed into the rear of a truck near McPherson during a snowstorm, killing one person and injuring another.

Baby Victim Of Blazing House

Mount Holly, April 4—(AP)— A six-month-old baby died yesterday in a fire which swept a mill village home here.

The mother was seriously injured when she attempted to save the child.

Isaac McGill and his wife, Kathleen, were working in their garden when an oil stove in their home exploded. Two of their children ran to safety, but Mrs. McGill was badly burned when she tried to enter the flaming home to save her youngest child.

National forests cover about seven and a half million acres in Utah.

"Mo's" Ex-Skipper Pleads Guilty Of Negligence

Olla Ray Boyd Brings Campaign Here April 14

Olla Ray Boyd, candidate for the Democratic nomination in the North Carolina primaries to the U. S. Senate seat now held by Senator Frank Graham, will speak in the Pitt county Court house on the evening of April 14.

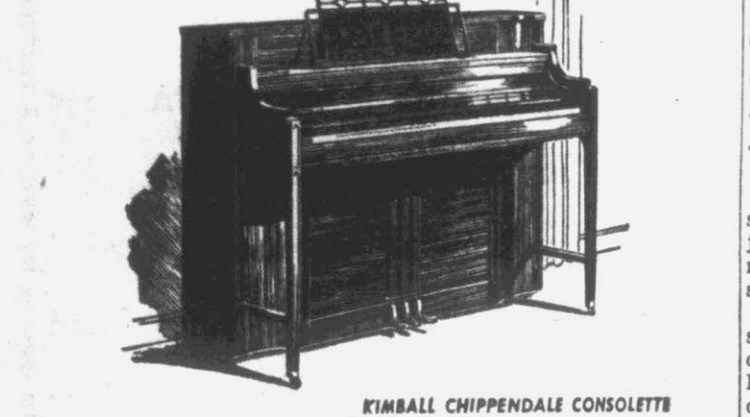

The occasion will mark the first political speech in his current campaign, to be made in Pitt county, and his first outside of Beaufort.

Boyd said his talk will deal with agricultural topics as well as a declaration on foreign policy issues.

Tel Aviv Expects To Have 500,000 People

Black Jan Walks Again

AP Newsfeature
By Florence Kerrigan

Chapter 14
This way," said Greg, and I followed him, my hand still on my gun. As long as he was before me in the passageway, I felt safe. He stopped before a great oaken doorway. Greg opened it and we passed through. I found myself in a square room, around the walls of which my flash picked out strange articles of furniture which I could not at once recognize, and which, in fact seemed of doubtful utility. Then the significance of the room burst upon me. It was a typical medieval torture chamber with rack and thumbcrews and all the rest of the devilish paraphernalia.

To add to my horror, in a corner of the room lay Iris asleep. As the light fell across her face she stirred. "Turn the light off," whispered Greg. "She's waking up. Feeling better, Iris?" I heard her voice like that of someone half awake. "That you, Greg? What happened to me?" "Why, nothing darling. You went to sleep in the library. Remember?"

"And I'm still there?" "Where else would you be?" "Of course," she sighed. "I'm so tired, Greg. So terribly tired Greg! What are you trying to do to Hugh? He is going to leave tomorrow with his friend, and now they tell me you practically accused him of killing Malcolm. You know he didn't!" "I don't know any such thing, my sweet."

"He was your friend at school, Greg, remember? We've known him for years and years. He wants to help you." "Help me?" "You know what's happening to you, don't you? You're giving too much time to those stories of the castle, Greg. You're letting Ian become an obsession."

"I've voluntarily put myself into the hands of an extremely powerful man whose experiments were limited by the end of his life, but whose power still lives and works through me." "Of course, darling. I understand. But if you'd talk it over with Hugh and Mr. McCarty, they'd help you out of this mess."

Greg was silent a moment, and then he said, "Mees? I'm not in any mess, Iris. I'm taking advantage of the chance to make my way to the most powerful man in the world. Iris—how would you like to be Queen of England? It's not impossible. How would you like to be Empress of the combined countries of the whole world? That's not impossible either."

"I'd rather be just the wife of the old Gregor MacIvor." "Or Hugh Montgomery? You can't deceive me, Iris. You've been in love with him all your life. You welcome this chance to have him at the castle with you. You can't hide it from me."

"I'm not trying to hide anything from you. But I've asked him to leave tomorrow, Greg." "And he's going?" Greg laughed incredulously. "Thanks to your efforts—yes!" He was silent a moment. "Yes," he said, slowly. "I really believe Hugh and Steve McCarty will leave in the morning. You don't think I'd let them leave alive, though, do you? With McCarty knowing the secrets of the castle, and Hugh free to make a secret rendezvous with you every little while?"

"Listen, Greg, if it's jealousy that has turned you against Hugh there's no cause. Please listen to me and believe me. You're Ian most of the time now, so I don't mean so much to you. But I do to Greg—to the old Greg. He needs me and I'm going to stick by him."

Greg turned on a wall switch—a strangeness in a "newly discovered" part of the castle, I realized. Iris blinked in the light, blinded for an instant, and then she saw the room and me, and she screamed.

Greg muttered something under his breath, and turned out the light again. "Someone is coming," he whispered. "McCarty, of course. I knew he'd follow us—and he saw the light and heard Iris scream. I don't want him in here."

He picked Iris up in his arms. I think she must have fainted. He started out into the passage again. "Call to him," he ordered me over his shoulder. "I want him to follow us."

"That you?" I called. I heard McCarty's voice replying and echoing in the corridor. "Tell him you're all right," Greg whispered, "and give him a flash."

"We're all right," I shouted and flashed my light back at him. "OK," he called. "Wait for me." "All right," said Greg, then to me in a whisper, "keep the flash turned off." We waited as Steve's footsteps drew nearer. "Now," said Greg softly, "back here with me."

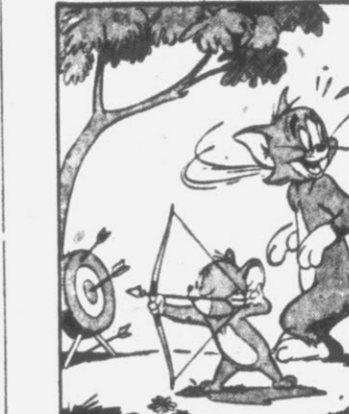

Steve approached it without either of us realizing that it really was. "Come ahead" called Greg and Steve went forward, threw up his hands with a shout, and disappeared. The band of shadow, I realized too late to warn him, was a crevasse in the rock. I heard a tumbling, rolling sound—and then a splash. (To be continued)

Redwoods Grow Well In East

Berkeley, Calif.—(AP)—American redwoods are found mostly on the west coast. But there is no reason they should not do well in the east, says Prof. Woodbridge Metcalf, extension forester of the University of California.

Many redwoods have been transplanted in eastern states, he says. Most northerly is found at Lima, Penna. At least four are growing in South Carolina.

Another Enemy For Pitt Tobacco Plants Is Here

As if Pitt tobacco farmers don't have enough to worry about with blue mold striking their plants, another plant disease is becoming widespread throughout the beds. It is vegetable weevil which eats the leaves of the tiny plants. Its appearance was announced by Tobacco Agent Sam Weeks this morning. Weeks said he had had several reports of the presence of the weevil and had seen it himself. He said the attack is about 10 days to two weeks earlier this year than was reported in 1949. It struck the tobacco plants of the county for the first time last year during the latter part of the growing period. For treatment Weeks advised farmers to mix one pound of 50 percent wettable DDT in with their fumigant solutions when spraying for blue mold. The DDT will poison the weevil at the same time the fumigant is doing its job on the mold, Weeks said. For farmers who are dusting their beds this year, the agent advised them to use five percent DDT dust which should be applied separately with blue mold dustings. He stated if the plants are not treated for the weevil, considerable damage will result.

Plot To Murder Prime Minister Nehru Smashed

Bombay, India, April 4—(AP)—government officials indicated today they had smashed a plot to assassinate Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru with the arrest of 14 leaders of Hindu extremist organizations. Some of them arrested had been held in the investigation of the slaying in 1948 of Mohandas Gandhi, India's man of peace and close associate of Nehru.

Among those taken into custody under the government's public security measures act were an official ration inspector and several others reported to have been collecting arms to carry out the plot. Also jailed was V. D. Savarkar, Hindu leader who was once acquitted of charges of conspiracy to murder Gandhi. Police also nabbed editors of two newspapers in Poona charged with inciting anti-Muslim hatred.

Local Clubs Plan Buy Baby Steers

The Greenville Rotary Club and the Greenville Kiwanis Club recently voted to buy Pitt County baby beef steers at the annual Fat Stock Show auction sale at the Farmers' Warehouse in Rocky Mount next Thursday.

Rotary and Kiwanis officials indicated that they are going to bid high on baby beef steers raised by Pitt County 4-H Club boys to encourage them to take more interest in the production of pure bred animals.

The Fat Stock Show is sponsored by the Rocky Mount Chamber of Commerce.

Robert Thomas, Belvoir high school student and member of the Belvoir 4-H Club, will offer for sale in Rocky Mount Thursday two baby Hereford bulls he raised in Pitt County.

The Fat Stock Show at Rocky Mount is designed to promote production of high quality dairy stock in various Eastern Carolina counties. Civic clubs in many of the state's 100 counties are sponsoring similar shows.

Police Benefit Ball In Kinston Night April 12

Detective Wheeler Kennedy of Kinston was in Greenville yesterday in the interest of the annual police ball to be held at Knott's old tobacco warehouse in Kinston Thursday night, April 12. Proceeds of the dance will go to the Kinston Police Benefit Association.

Blue Barron's famous orchestra, with featured vocalists and instrumentalists, will play for the dance from 9 to 1. Kinston Police Chief Marion Haskins said prominent officials from various Eastern Carolina cities are expected to attend.

Coroner Rouse Investigates Death Infants

Pitt County Coroner Griffin H. Rouse said today he is continuing his investigation into the death of 13-day-old Linda Lou Nickerson, colored, who died without the services of a physician March 31. The infant's parents, John D. and Anna Belle Nickerson, told the coroner they found the baby dead in bed. The couple live on the John Wiggins farm, near Shelmerdine.

Coroner Rouse said Mary Yoonie Higgs, colored, two-month-old daughter of W. H. and Addie Lee Higgs, who died during last night, was a victim of pneumonia. The family live on the Jasper James farm, several miles beyond Stokes.

Budget Review

Washington, April 4—(AP)—The defense department today ordered new studies of its $13,911,127,000 budget to determine whether more money should be asked for Air Force and Naval planes.

Secretary Johnson said he has asked the joint chiefs of staff to reexamine the question.

He told a news conference he believes all of the military forces and equipment recommended by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower can be obtained within the present budget.

Nearly Third Of Goal Is Attained

Nearly one-third of the Pitt County goal in the Easter Seal Drive has been raised, Godfrey Oakley, chairman for the drive, announced today.

More than $600 of the $2,000 goal has been turned in, according to reports received up to noon yesterday, he said.

Oakley said he believed the drive will go over the top as the $600 turned in so far is from only a small portion of the county.

All of the mailing lists have been filed and the seals mailed out.

Oakley pointed out that in making out the lists some persons could have been left out and if any one wants seals to call the Oakley Insurance office.

Reports from the drive in the city schools are showing up good, the chairman stated.

Around 100 coin collection boxes have been distributed over the city, but the results from these will not be known until they are taken up on Easter Monday.

On Saturday the Girl Scouts will conduct a drive in the city, under the direction of Mrs. E. L. Henderson, to sell seals on the street.

Federal Jury In Its Fifth Day Of Deliberation

San Francisco, April 4—(AP)—A federal court jury today went into its fifth day of deliberations on whether CIO Longshore leader Harry Bridges and two aides lied to conceal his membership in the Communist party.

Wary, grim, with some angry faces among their number, the eight men and four women recessed at 10:15 p. m. (PST) last night until 9 a. m. this morning. They had deliberated then approximately 28 hours since receiving the case at 12:43 p. m. last Friday.

The 48-year-old Bridges, a native of Australia, was accused of committing perjury when he claimed, at his naturalization hearing in 1945, that he never was a Communist.

First Sermon Of Holy Week By Rev. Russell

By WYATT BROWN

The unyielding righteousness and the unremitting love of Christ in conflict with the evil and indifference of the world of the 20th Century leads to His crucifixion anew today, Rev. Leon Russell, pastor of Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church, said last night in the first of his talks to be delivered each night of this week through Friday. "There was not a chance for a man of the character of Jesus to miss the cross," he declared.

Mr. Russell brought out how evil hates goodness whether the goodness be in government, business, or church leadership. "Twenty-fifth Century followers of Christ do not have the courage to take up His cross and follow Him uncompromisingly." They lack his stalwart courage and immortal love. His love led to the most unselfish death found in the record of man. When we know love, we shall take up the cross, Mr. Russell concluded.

Tonight Rev. Russell will preach on the subject "The Burden of God." The Methodist choir will sing Stainer's "God So Loved the World."

Somebody Stole Page Of Bible

Philadelphia, April 4—(AP)—Somebody has stolen a page from Betsy Ross' Bible.

Vexil D. Weisgerber, curator of the Betsy Ross House, reported to police yesterday the page bearing original records of the Betsy Ross family, was torn from the Bible, apparently during Sunday afternoon visiting hours.

It is the second time this particular page has been missing. The curator said records show that the same page was "lost" from 1853 to 1887.

on an estimate of 1,150 old people to be paid. The county's portion of the aid to dependent children program is estimated at $19,200 with plans being made to aid 800 dependent children with payments. Futrell acknowledged the increase in the figures over those of the current fiscal year in an interview this morning, but explained, "A lot of people are eligible for public assistance now who were not two years ago." The increased number of people who are eligible for the assistance is the cause for the higher figures, he said.
