Truman 'Assured' As 5th Year Ends

Fresh From Vacation, Is Apparently Ready To Carry Counter-Offensive To The People Against Republican Attacks; Said In Vigorous Health

Washington, April 12 (AP)—President Truman ends his fifth year in office today in what his friends describe as a confident, happy-warrior mood.

The sun-tanned President, fresh from a vacation in Florida, apparently is ready to carry to the people a counter-offensive against Republican attacks on his secretary of state and other GOP assaults.

Picturing the President as in vigorous health, Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader, gave a reporter this description of Mr. Truman:

"He is confident and in a happy frame of mind. He thinks conditions throughout the country are good. He thinks world problems are not insoluble. He is ready to fight for his program."

A Republican reaction to Mr. Truman was expressed by Senator Brewster of Maine, chairman of his party's senatorial campaign committee.

"We wish Mr. Truman—but not his program—a long life," Brewster said. "We still consider him the Republicans' best asset."

"We think it is obvious that he is going to campaign for a Truman Congress, since the Democratic 81st Congress has been no better, from his standpoint, than the Republican 80th. We welcome him into the battle on those terms."

Just about the time he is celebrating his 66th birthday next May Mr. Truman will be heading westward for the first political stumping of a campaign patterned after his surprisingly successful drive for the presidency in 1948.

The President's friends and foes agree generally that this tour into the Middle and Far West—ending with a party rally in Chicago May 15—will give the country some idea what to expect from this year's campaign.

Again it will be Harry S. Truman talking to the people—but there may be a difference.

"This time he isn't the underdog in a political campaign. He has an election victory over the Republicans hanging from his belt.

The President can't go all out in his attacks on Congress as he did against the Republican-controlled 80th. This time it is a Democratic Congress—even though it is at times dominated by Republicans and Southern Democrats who oppose much of his program.

Mr. Truman apparently will make a vigorous defense of Secretary of State Acheson and the State Department, now under hot fire from the Republicans. In this, however, he will be on the defensive and not on the offensive as he was in 1948.

Tolar Pays Fine And Costs In Speeding Case

Fayetteville, April 12 (AP)—North Carolina's Highway Patrol commander pleaded guilty today to a charge of speeding and paid a $10 fine and court costs.

Patrol Commander C. R. Tolar was arrested Sunday morning on Bragg Boulevard, a four-lane highway connecting Fayetteville with nearby Fort Bragg.

City Patrolman R. E. Evans testified in Recorder's Court today that he clocked Tolar's car at 60 miles an hour in a 35-mile an hour zone. The fine was assessed by Recorder H. C. Blackwell.

Tolar testified he knew he was going at not more than 50 miles an hour. He said he saw the police car behind him.

No Time To Rock Boat

Until We Know Just What Happened In That Mysterious Soviet-American Air Incident, There's No Reason To Lose Tempers; We Are Capable Of Handling Issue

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

This is no time for Uncle Sam's restraint to lose tempers and refrain in connection with the mysterious Soviet-American air incident over the Latvian coast.

True, there are highly aggravating elements in the situation. But this is a bad moment to rock the boat. The matter should be pursued with dignified restraint until we know just what has happened.

We can proceed with confidence that we are capable of handling anything we may be called upon to deal with.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky, pursuing his usual strong-arm method, has used harsh language in charging a "gross violation of the Soviet frontier plane" by an American military plane. "He declares this," "constitutes an unheard-of violation of the elementary rules of international law."

The tale as Vishinsky unfolds it is that last Saturday "a four-engine military plane of the B-29 type, a Flying Fortress, bearing American identification marks was sighted" south of Libau (LePaya), Latvia. When the plane penetrated what Russia claims is Soviet territory, a flight of Soviet fighter planes demanded that the American plane

Admits Setting Of Two Fires

Lancaster, Pa., April 12 (AP)—Police said today a 23-year-old hospital attendant admitted setting two fires because he "was mad at everybody and disgusted with the world."

The fires, which swept a warehouse and service station, caused damage estimated at $15,000 Easter Sunday morning.

Cpl. James J. Haggerty of state police identified the man held on arson charges as Willoughby Litzinger of nearby Manheim.

Arranges Plans For Speech Here

By Bob Reynolds

W. E. McDonald, former secretary to Senator Robert Reynolds, was in Greenville yesterday making arrangements for the senatorial candidate to speak at the county courthouse next Tuesday night.

Donald insisted he was not Reynolds' campaign manager because the former senator could not afford one for lack of funds. "I'm just interested," McDonald commented. "He wants to go back to the senate. God only knows why, I don't."

McDonald said he was in Elizabeth City on Monday and visited Williamston and Greenville yesterday and went to Kinston last night. McDonald lists his legal address as Morehead City.

B-29 Carries All Aboard To Death In Sandia Crash

Believe Thirteen Men Aboard Bomber; Tight Secrecy Curtain At Big Base

Albuquerque, N. M., April 12 (AP)—A B-29 bomber carried all airmen aboard—believed to be 13—to fiery deaths in a crash last night into Sandia secret weapons base.

Thirteen crew members were listed on the loading report. An Air Force official said however the death toll cannot be determined with absolute accuracy until an actual count of bodies is made.

The air force drew a tight secrecy curtain on the tragedy in a remote area of the atomic bomb assembly installation.

Newsmen were barred from entering the area, a spot 7,000 feet high in the Manzano mountains. The scene is some five miles east of Sandia headquarters and 17 miles east of downtown Albuquerque.

A road block was thrown across the only trail leading into the area, just off transcontinental U. S. highway 66.

The giant strategic air command plane from Walker Base at Roswell, N. M., plunged to the ground and burned three minutes after it took off from nearby Kirtland field.

Emphasizing secrecy cloaking the locale, one officer observed:

"Not even the President of the United States could get into the plane."

The strategic Air Command said no one above a junior officer was aboard.

The Superfortress burned for more than two hours. Flames shooting high in the air were visible from a distance of 15 miles.

The Air Force said no buildings were involved in the crash. Officials declined to say, however, whether the plane fell in an area about which there have been guarded reports in the past hinting at underground atomic installations.

Officials at both Walker base, the bomber's home field, and Air Force headquarters in Washington referred all queries to Brig. Gen. Howard G. Bunker, commanding officer of the Air Force special weapons command. Kirtland is a special weapons command base.

Trio Say Saucer Flew Over Area

Mystery Object 'Very High' Moving Out Of Northeast

By CHESTER WALSH

Three persons today declared they saw a "flying saucer" over Greenville yesterday afternoon just before sunset. One of them said the mysterious missile passed over, very high, from the northeast, toward the west, and that its edges, or sides, were plainly visible during yesterday's heavy dust storm.

Quentin P. Jones, attendant at the Texaco Service Station, next to the postoffice, on Evans street, told a Daily Reflector reporter today he first saw the strange disc while putting water in a car and that two other persons who saw it—Ralph Heidenreich, post office employee, and J. P. Moss, manager of the Texaco station, he added.

Jones said the "flying saucer," or whatever it was, did not move so fast, and that as it approached the sun—a red ball of fire as a result of the dust-laden air—the "flying saucer" hovered in the upper right hand corner of the sun and disappeared.

Jones told the reporter the flying "saucer" appeared to be 12 or 14 inches in diameter, and was so thick its edges or rim, was visible. He said as it approached the sun it appeared to partly separate at frequent intervals.

Local REA Loan Request Is Still Awaiting Action

The request for a Rural Electrification Administration loan by the Greenville Utilities Commission is still pending action in Washington.

Larry Brown, general manager of the commission, stated this morning.

The requested loan, amounting to $910,000, was asked for early in the year and the commission was told about a month ago for approval had been made by REA loan authorities. The Washington office at the same time informed the local office the money would be forthcoming within 30 days.

Brown told the members of the commission last night, at its regular monthly meeting, there was nothing to indicate just when the commission could begin its program of extending electrification into the rural area. However, he said there has been no word from Washington to the contrary that Greenville will not get the grant.

Ban Use Of Demo Party Name By Truman Group

Jackson, Miss., April 12 (AP)—Mississippi supporters of President Truman are officially banned from using the Democratic party name.

Acting Attorney General George Ethridge advised Secretary of State Hober Lader yesterday that only one party is entitled to use the word "Democrat" in its title, and because the States' Rights Democrats registered first, he said, pro-Truman Democrats cannot use the title of "Democrat."

The controversy began when the Legislature enacted a law requiring all political parties in the state to register with the secretary of state, no more to register.

Vandenberg Said Making Recovery

Washington, April 12 (AP)—The condition of Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.), who underwent a tumor operation yesterday, today was reported "satisfactory" by his physicians.

Preliminary laboratory findings showed no evidence of cancer.

The Michigan senator is in Georgetown hospital.

Small Field Into Which Jet Plane Plunged Today

Jet Fighter Plunges 15,000 Feet In Crash Near Griffon

A plane identified by Cherry Point air base as an F2H Banshee jet attached to the Marine Air Corps crashed and exploded this morning about one and one-half miles southwest of Griffon, killing the pilot whose name was not released by the Marine Corps pending notification of the next of kin.

The plane crashed at the edge of a patch of woods in a small field. The statement from Cherry Point on the crash said the plane was on a division tactics flight and failed to pull out of a dive. It crashed going straight down from 15,000 feet.

Bits of the wreckage of the plane were scattered over the one and one-half acre field, and witnesses at the scene of the accident said only small parts of the pilot's body had been found.

C. B. Brooks of Kinston, owner of the field in which the crash occurred, said he was standing near a lumber pile about 65 yards from where the plane crashed.

Brooks told a Reflector reporter, "The plane was coming straight down. All I could see was the nose of it. It was under power when it hit. It scattered dirt, fire and oil all over us." Brooks said the small patch of woods between where he and his companions were loading lumber on a trailer and where the plane hit saved them from the full force of the blast.

The crash and explosion caused a crater in the earth about 15 by 15 feet in which water rose following the crash.

Brooks said fire from the explosion set fire to about 25 or 30 acres of woodland near the scene of the crash.

Crack Red Unit Said Wiped Out

Chinese Nationalists Tell Story Of Invasion Setback

Taipei, Formosa, April 12 (AP)—Nationalist China today announced it had wiped out ace Red Gen. Lin Pao's 258th Regiment in the old climax.

Three junk-loads of crack troops were the only survivors of the 258th's quickly smashed attempt to invade Hainan. The Nationalists said earlier they killed the other 1,000 Reds.

The survivors were afraid of stern punishment, for failure, if they returned to their Luichow peninsula base point only 10 miles away. So they cruised in the Gulf of Tonkin until yesterday.

Then they tried again to land on Hainan—presumably to operate as guerrillas.

Nationalist warships sank two junks. Seventeen men were picked out of the sea. The others drowned.

Belated Story

Philadelphia, April 12 (AP)—Here's one of those belated Easter message stories. It was told today by Henry Ridewood, manager of a Western Union office here.

It seems that an eight-year-old who identified herself as Patricia Giano stopped off to send her mother an Easter card. It took her 10 minutes to compose the message: "Just want to tell you a happy Easter, your loving daughter."

The address didn't take so long: "Mrs. Sal Giano, home, Philadelphia."

Budenz Says He Could Name Reds

Midland, Mich., April 12 (AP)—Ex-Communist Louis Budenz, who may have an answer to the Sen. McCarthy-Owen Lattimore dispute, says that he could name 400 "concealed" Communists in the United States.

"But I won't do it," he declared here last night. "I can't afford libel suits."

Army Secretary Frank Pace Is Sworn In Today

Washington, April 12 (AP)—Frank Pace, Jr., became secretary of the army today. He succeeded Gordon Gray.

Pace, who has been director of the budget, was sworn in by chief justice Fred Vinson in the presence of the cabinet and high defense officials.

Defense secretary Johnson presented the commission to Pace, new civilian head of the army. He also read a telegram from former President Herbert Hoover congratulating the defense department on obtaining the services of "so extraordinarily able" a man.

President Truman was represented by his military aide, Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughan.

Johnson told Pace that he was following one of the "most distinguished" of army secretaries, Gordon Gray.

Scouts Schedule Camp Event Here

Boys From 12 Troops Of District Expected To Participate

Boy Scouts from 12 troops of the Pitt district are expected to take part in the district camp which is to be held at the West Greenville school in Greenville Friday and Saturday.

District Commissioner Jack Dowdy said the district camp is a preparatory event to give the scout experience in patrol camping before going to the council camporee in Kinston April 28, 29, and 30.

The scouts will camp by patrols at the two day outing, with each patrol participating as a unit for the points which will be awarded the most efficient patrols at the camp.

The district officials said the scouts are to register by patrols at the camp headquarters near the curb market between 4 and 5 o'clock Friday afternoon. Each patrol will be assigned a camp site where it will pitch its tent.

Friday night's activities will be highlighted by a campfire which will begin at 7:30 and last until 9:15. Commissioner Dowdy said the arrangements for the outing has asked that each patrol participating in the camp prepare a short skit to be presented at the campfire.

Saturday's activities will consist mostly of competitive events in which each of the 12 patrols will participate. Eight scoutcraft events have been placed on the schedule for the camp, and will be the same events the scouts will participate in at the council camporee.

Following the afternoon events Saturday, the scouts will break camp, and the points accumulated by each patrol during the two day outing will be announced at a mass meeting of the scouts.

A complete schedule of the camp activities is as follows:

Friday:
4:00 to 6:00—Report to Camp Headquarters, obtain camp site and set up camp.
6:00 to 7:00—Supper and clean

No 'Hot' War Over Incident Expected

No Confirmation Wreckage Found Of Naval Plane

Rescue Pilot Reports Sighting What Appears To Be Traces Of Possible Clue

Weisbaden, Germany, April 12 (AP)—The search for a missing U.S. Navy patrol plane concentrated today off the Danish island of Bornholm after a rescue pilot reported he had sighted what appeared to be either traces of survivors or wreckage from the plane.

But three hours after receipt of the first report there was no confirmation at U.S. Air Force headquarters in Weisbaden that this was a positive clue to the plane, a four-engine Privateer which disappeared Saturday on a flight from Weisbaden to Copenhagen.

Russia protested yesterday that an American plane of the B-29 type had fired on a Soviet fighter over Latvia on the Baltic coast Saturday and disappeared after the Red plane returned the fire. American officials expressed belief the Soviet protest might have referred to the missing Navy plane—a four engine single tail version of the B-24 bomber. The American plane was unarmed and had instructions not to fly over Soviet territory, U.S. officials said.

A Danish pilot who circled the area off Bornholm said the American search pilot might have mistaken a Russian buoy for a life raft.

Weather over the Baltic was favorable and all planes were ordered to concentrate their efforts on the area near the Baltic island. Danish naval craft also sped to the scene.

Capt. B. M. York, the pilot who spotted what appeared to be a raft, said it resembled "a yellow rubber dinghy." He dropped smoke flares to mark the spot, 40 to 50 miles northeast of Bornholm Island. York said an object which seemed to be wearing an "exposure suit," protective garb for aviators, was lying in the raft.

Subsequently a B-17 over the search area said the floating object may have been an overturned life boat.

The B-17 which spotted what appeared to be a life raft continued to circle the area. But it radioed that it was running low on fuel and would have to return soon to Copenhagen.

That raised the danger that contact with the reported raft might be lost since no other plane had seen anything like it.

If the U.S. plane fell into the sea after being fired upon by the Russians the crew could possibly escape in rubber life rafts which the plane carried. The rafts contain provisions to maintain survivors for nearly two weeks.

U.S. Officials Not Inclined To Take Russian Protest Lightly, But Neither Is There A Suggestion Of Anyone Looking For Further Trouble

Washington, April 12 (AP)—A hot war with Russia as a result of an airplane shooting scrape or any other single incident is regarded by American diplomatic and military authorities as highly unlikely.

At the State Department and Pentagon there was no inclination for an official protest against the American B-29 shot down by a Russian plane, fired on and then seen by a Russian plane.

But neither was there much as a suggestion that there to knock chips off the table. U.S. officials indicated yesterday that the truth of the matter may be that an "armed American Navy" missing since Saturday, won by Russian fighters, step appears to be: ordered rejection of the st. A complaint of our Soviets evidently shot down American plane.

A sharpening of tension and a further deterioration of relations, just as there were when Russia blockaded Berlin. Additional exchanges of angry notes.

Yet officials here say we certainly don't want to pick a fight with anyone and they have an idea the Russians want to avoid one within the foreseeable future.

The reason that since World War II the Reds have pushed the frontiers of communism forward here and there without using military force and probably will want to see how far they can go with the process. So they look for continued Russian probing for weak spots, continued pressure short of the use of arms.

If the Russians did knock down the missing U.S. patrol plane, the Moscow protest could be viewed as an application of theory that a good offense is the best defense.

The Soviet protest rests on the fact that an American four engine military plane of the B-29 type flew over Latvian territory last Saturday, shot at a flight of Soviet fighter planes and "disappeared" after being fired upon by a Russian fighter.

Foreign Minister Vishinsky called U.S. Ambassador Kirk to the Foreign Office in Moscow and personally read him the stiffly worded note. It said:

"The Soviet government announces its resolute protest to the government of the United States against this gross violation of the Soviet frontier by an American military plane, which at the same time constitutes an unheard-of violation of the elementary rules of international law."

From the U.S. Air Force and Navy came official denials that any American plane could have made such an attack.

Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, chief of staff of the U.S. Air Force, said the Air Force had no four engine bombers in the Baltic area on Saturday, and none are missing.

Adm. Forrest P. Sherman, chief of naval operations, said the Navy patrol plane has been missing since Saturday—that had been announced previously—that it was unarmed, and "therefore, could not have fired on any other aircraft or returned the fire of any aircraft." The plane was a four engine Privateer.

Gov't Medical Costs

What The Billion-Dollar Outlay Covers; Making It Less Costly And More Efficient Was Hoover Commission's Aim; Core Of Dispute With Veterans' Group

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, April 12 (AP)—The federal government is spending about $1,000,000,000 a year on its various medical programs and hospitals.

That includes the army and navy hospitals in this country, the public health service, and the hospitals and medical care provided for veterans by the veterans administration (VA).

The Hoover commission, headed by former President Hoover, recommended that all the hospitals be placed under the single control of a new agency to be called the United Medical Administration.

The idea behind this recommendation—since the commission's job was to suggest ways of running the government better and cheaper—was that it would make the government's medical program more efficient and less costly.

There is sharp dispute over both points: More efficiency, at least cost. But on the subject of cost both the friends and foes of the recommendation are pretty vague.

The Hoover commission itself did not attempt to say how much the one-agency-for-all-hospitals would save the government.

On the other hand the American Legion, which says the plan would cost more than the government is spending now, can't say how much more. The Legion, which wants VA to keep all its own hospitals independent, is leading the fight against the plan.

But as for efficiency, the Hoover commission says the plan would improve the general standard of medical care; provide central control over the government's various programs for medical care; health, and medical research; standardize the costs of building hospitals, get the most use of federal hospitals by wiping out the present distinctions as to the types of beneficiaries for which each can care now; and let the government make better use of its medical manpower.

But it's right on that point — would the Hoover commission plan better the way hospitals are run separately now? Now—that the dispute begins.

Some of the statements of the plan's friends and foes will be given in a later story. But—

W.S.C.S. Holds Monthly Meeting

The Women's Society of Christian Service of Jarvis Memorial Methodist church held its regular monthly meeting on April 10. An inspiring devotional, centered around the theme, "Training Youth for Christian Service," was given by Mrs. Ed. Batchelor. As a part of the program, a little playlet was presented by Mrs. C. E. Oakley, assisted by Miss Anne Oakley and Miss Carolyn Clapp.

Following the program a brief business session was presided over by the president, Mrs. S. B. Underwood, Jr. After the reading of the minutes and the treasurer's report the circles gave their reports individually. Splendid attendance was recorded for the April meetings, and all circles had almost concluded their collection of pledges.

An exceptionally fine report of the quarter's work by the Methodist Youth fellowship was given by Miss Ramona Rouse and Mrs. J. H. Waldrop. Eighty-two of the M. Y. F. members had enjoyed a trip to the Morehead Planetarium to witness the Easter show. They had cooperated with young people of other churches in sponsoring early morning services, at the Episcopal church during Holy Week. They had held a sacrificial service at noon on Good

Urge More Industries To Solve Economic Problem

Representatives of the Economic and Welfare committee of the Negro Civic League appeared before Mayor W. S. Stafford and representatives of the Chamber of Commerce and Merchants Association yesterday morning to discuss the economic condition of the Negro population of the city and urge that efforts be increased toward getting more industries that would give regular employment to the Negroes.

In presenting their problems the League representatives pointed out that only about one fourth of the Negro population had regular employment with the heads approximately of 800 families being without employment except for the fall tobacco season.

Mayor Stafford assured the group that the city officially was sympathetic to their problems and that every effort in their behalf was being, and would be made.

W. T. Kyzer, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, stated that there was a continuing effort on the part of his organization at all times to get more industries for Greenville and that the efforts included such industries as would give employment to the Negroes as well as to whites. He pointed out the many obstacles in the path of procuring new industries and stated that the percentage of success was very small in comparison to the number of prospective industries contacted.

D. J. Whichard, president of the Greenville Merchants Association, assured the league representatives that the merchants of the city were also interested in the progress and welfare of the Negro population and that the association offered its full cooperation in any movement toward a more sound economy and better living standards for the entire city and section.

Representatives of the Civic League were Dr. H. B. Kelly, Dr. O. R. Stovall, Elizabeth Kearney and Annie Streeter.

Negro Policeman Sees Advantages Greensboro Post

By CHESTER WALSH
Joe Rendy Massey, Negro police officer on the Greensboro force, who came to Greenville today to return a defendant in an abandonment-non-support action, met some friends of the long ago, including Dr. M. B. Massey, and made some new ones. The Massey family in Princeton, Johnston County, reared him.

The Greensboro police officer brought back on a capias Juke Jones, 21, Negro, who is charged with abandonment and non-support. Samuel Thomas, of Greensboro, the youth's bondsman, accompanied them here, Police Chief Lester D. Page said.

Joe Rendy Massey is a graduate of A. and T. College, Greensboro. He taught high school at LaGrange, in Lenoir County, one year, and taught chemistry at A. and T. College in Greensboro.

Later he worked on the Southern Railway, making regular runs. Charles Brown of the Southern Railway asked him during a conversation if he would like to be a policeman and Massey answered in the affirmative. Some time afterwards when Massey returned from a run on the railroad he heard police were looking for him.

"I was worried," he told a Daily Reflector reporter, "and wondered what I had done wrong. Finally I learned that they were looking for me to tell me that there was a job on the Greensboro police force if I could pass the examination," Massey said.

"I have been on the Greensboro police force four years and it has been a wonderful experience — an opportunity to render community service. There are four other Negro police officers there."

Replying to the reporter's question as to whether he had any trouble as a result of his race, Massey smilingly said, "No. My contacts with the public as an officer have been fruitful of good results and very pleasant. The feeling between the races in Greensboro is more cordial and understanding, and where there is understanding there is no turmoil."

Incidentally, Massey, a former college professor, wears Greensboro police badge No. 41 and he now is doing some research work in chemistry in connection with illicit liquor for the Greensboro police department.

While in Greenville today, he visited Dr. Massey in the State Bank Building. Dr. Massey's sister, Mrs. Louise Sugg of Princeton, reared John Rendy. He has a brother in the U. S. Air Force.

Reports Another Auto Accident For Pitt County

Patrolman Dick Chadwick reported today that a wreck occurred on the Gum Swamp road about eight o'clock yesterday morning, resulting in damage to two vehicles.

A pick-up truck driven by William H. Skinner, 68 years old, was making a left turn when a dump truck driven by Clifford Jones, 21, of Pink Hill, Route 1, struck it.

The dump truck hit the truck on the left side causing damage estimated at about $200. Neither of the two drivers were injured.

Chadwick stated that the investigation is not complete as yet.

CORRECTION
In yesterday's Reflector it was stated that Buck Ebram, colored, of Bethel, was charged with driving on the wrong side of the highway resulting in an accident. The statement should have read, Kantz Highsmith was arrested by Patrolman D. E. Perry, instead of Ebram.

Chapter 5
Magda was extraordinarily beautiful in her white tennis dress. She had a tawny tigerish beauty, incongruous with her slow voice and mild manner. Andrew played up gallantly, simulating an interest he did not feel. He realized that Mr. Hamlyn looked at his daughter with the purling self-satisfaction of a very wealthy man who has one supremely desirable possession. He realized that never since she could walk and talk had she been refused anything she wanted, that she was interested in nothing that did not in some way reflect her own physical perfection.

Katherine realize how Shakespeare, bred and reared in the green fields, could lie among the meadow-sweet, dreaming of Venice and Genoa and the hot southern countries he would never see.

There was work to do—a play every fortnight, and rehearsals every day—and Katherine, not being a principal, was in every play. She was working all the time, carrying a banner, saying, "Did you ring, madame?" in cap and apron, shouting among the rebellious populace, intruding with a Greek chorus, carrying the gold and silver and leaden caskets as Portia's little page.

Katherine worked and lived in an unimaginable dream of happiness. Her skin became golden with the sun, and touched with little brown freckles, and her pallor colored like the heavy roses and the apples ripened against the south walls. She did not know whether she was in love with the countryside, or the work, or with Morton's brilliant teaching, and it was not until June was blazing through the green valleys that she knew she was in love with William. That knowledge brought on an unknown ecstasy, and for the first time since she had left home, pain.

William had learned a lot from Morton. He had gained in range and stature as an actor as the season had gone forward. The admiring, interested, and curious glances of passer-by no longer consciously pleased him; he barely noticed them now, accepting them as his right.

Standing at the door of the Red Lion, waiting for the doors to open and let them into the cool, stone-paved interior, were Morton and Andrew. Andrew, comfortable and correct in a light gray flannel suit, his lean, bony face already reddening a little in the sun, propped his broad shoulders against the ancient oak door of the inn while Morton, an enormous and picturesque figure, paced impatiently before the door, his black slung at his heels. Morton saw the meeting and watched it, and Andrew, watching him with amused affection, followed his gaze and watched too.

As they looked, both men lost their awareness of themselves and each other, like people caught up, and enthralled in the action of a play.

Katherine stood on the edge of the pavement, her reddish-brown hair, burning brightly in the sun, she wore a cheap little wash dress belted round her thin waist, and sandals on her bare brown feet. There was something extraordinary arily childish and hesitant about her as she stood there.

"So you engaged her," said Andrew deviously. "That's the girl I told to read poetry to you. She looked like a cute kid."

Morton frowned disapprovingly at the expression. "Katherine Best," he said. "She's in love with him. 'Look at her,'" he said. (To be continued)

Strachey Claims Smear Campaign

Dundee, Scotland, April 12 (AP)—Britain's War Minister John Strachey says he is the victim of an international smear campaign directed by "rich, powerful and influential individuals" trying to discredit the Labor government.

Speaking last night to a gathering celebrating his recent election to Parliament, Strachey said the campaign against him is going on in both Britain and "on the other side of the Atlantic."

Strachey has been charged by Lord Beaverbrook's right-wing press of never having renounced a sympathy for Communist principles. More recently there have been reports that Atlantic pact defense officials would bypass Strachey in their exchange of military secrets.

Strachey has said he has renounced his prewar Communist sympathies, and he has been defended by Prime Minister Clement Attlee. Defense Minister Emanuel Shinwell has denied the report that Strachey is to be bypassed on the secrets.

Andrew looked at her apprehensively. Why did she want to go to Broadway? He was certain that she was not in the least attracted to him. He said evasively, "Well, I'm staying with Lawrence Morton, who lives there, so I doubt whether I'd have time."

"Oh, not this week-end. I'd like to see the first night of this 'Prunella' they're doing. We wouldn't bother you at all. We'd stay at a hotel, and just mooch around, so long as you saw we had the theater seats, and all that."

"I think it's a very good idea, Andy," said Mr. Blount heartily, and there was a ring of command in his heartiness.

"Of course," he said, summoning every vestige of his considerable charm. "I'll be very happy to show you around. I'll get seats for the first night of 'Prunella' and fix you up at a hotel. Broadmeir's lovely, and Morton's a wonderful guy. One of the most original men in the English theater."

"Magda wants me to see this William Brody," said Mr. Hamlyn thawing slightly. "He's just a young fellow, but she seems to think he has something."

Whatever gods governed the English, summer had gone a little crazy that year. The sun shone, the plums ripened to purple clusters along the valleys, and the heat glowed from the yellow Cotswold walls with a glowing warmth that brought an Italian atmosphere to the prim, sleepy village, and made

ORC Strength Not Affected By Reorganization

Reorganization of the organized reserve corps as announced by Secretary of the Army Gordon Gray on April 7 is designed to increase the efficiency and readiness of the reserve, Lt. Col. Warren G. Davis, unit instructor of the Greenville area ORC, said today.

"Under the new plan," he declared, "the ORC will be made up of an active reserve, an inactive reserve, and an honorary reserve.

"The active reserve will be composed of the organized reserve, personnel in units needed for mobilization and individuals needed upon mobilization to augment the regular army units; and the volunteer reserve which will consist of individual officers and enlisted men needed for expansion of the army of the United States in event of emergency.

"Personnel who are unable to participate in the active reserve but who will be subject to call in case of emergency despite their inactive status will comprise the inactive reserve," Col. Davis explained, "and the honorary reserve will be made up of personnel of long service who request such assignment."

The colonel added that "although the number of reserve units is to be reduced the overall strength of the ORC will not be cut. Membership in the organized reserve corps is open to all qualified persons."

Timid Lion Just Has To Have A Doggy Companion

MOSCOW —(AP)— The Moscow zoo possess a timid lion which cannot get along without protection and companionship. The lion to be sure is just a cub. But he let himself get so down and out with just plain loneliness that attendants put a dog in the cage with him.

On one occasion the two were strolling in the open under the supervision of their trainer. The lion managed to endanger a young rooster belonging to the zoo. The rooster attacked the young king of beasts who fled. But the dog was after the rooster and drove him away from the lion thus saving his pal from a severe pecking.

If, by any chance, at bed time the dog is not in the cage the lion cub sets up such a howl that no one has any peace until the dog is found and put in with his lion friend.

Homes For Negroes: Costing $1 A Day, In Alabama Project

THE NEW SOUTH, as typified in Montgomery's homes for Negroes sold for nothing down and $1-a-day.

By REX THOMAS
Montgomery, Ala. — (AP) — If you'd lived in a back-alley shack all your life, how would you like to buy a new two-bedroom house for nothing down and $1 a day?

That's the deal offered to 451 Negro families in this birthplace of the Confederacy. The builders say it's merely a symbol of the racial outlook of the "New South." The all-Negro housing project, one of the biggest ever developed this side of the Mason-Dixon line, is the work of two ex-GI contractors, 33-year-old Jimmy Folmar and Henry I. Flinn, Jr., 31.

Their $3,000,000 subdivision near the outskirts of Montgomery is the newest venture in an amazing business career that began three years ago when Folmar and Flinn borrowed $5,000,000 and started building homes.

The Negro project will enable the 451 buyers to live in comfort on a par with the white population of a proud city where orders were given to start the Civil War. It will partly erase the blight of the filthy, half-fallen-down shanties that have been the Negro's lot.

What's more, the new houses are financed so the Negroes who need them most can afford them. The gleaming white dwellings, on landscaped lots complete with shrubbery, sell for $5,200, and payments include everything—taxes, insurance, handling costs.

Negroes in even the lowest income brackets can get in on the bargain, too, because it's strictly a nothing-down-dollar-a-day proposition. Payments can be made monthly, weekly, even daily if need be.

The low price is made possible by the mass-producing operations of the Folmar-Flinn team, which is completing the new homes at the

Actually, the houses themselves cost only $3,800. The rest of the sale price takes in $1,000 for a lot plus $400 for taxes, insurance and handling fees.

There's one restriction: The dwellings must be occupied by the buyers. Otherwise one man could gobble up several and make a fat profit.

Folmar and Flinn are proud of the new development, but "mainly because it shows to the world that the South is taking care of its own."

"Many outsiders have a funny idea about the way the South is handling what they call its Negro problem," the Alabama-born builders continued. "Actually, living conditions are being bettered at an almost incredible rate throughout the South."

They pointed across the street to a new $1,000,000 Negro high school and a Negro hospital nearby which will cost more than that when completed.

"The New South is not something in the future," they observed. "It is already a reality."

"Flormat and Flinn"—that's what they call themselves — were flat broke when they got out of the Air Force after World War II and decided to go into the building business.

They'd never even put up as much as a doll house before, but that didn't bother them. They went to an insurance company and asked to borrow $5,000,000. They got the money and paid it back in two years.

Since they started, the young contractors have built homes for themselves and 1,497 other families at a cost of $10,500,000. They hire 400 to 500 workmen and the payroll tops $50,000 a month.

Ayden Lions To Select A Queen

Ayden, April 12—Again this year the Ayden Lions club will stage a Queen Mother program on May 12 in the Ayden high school auditorium.

Each year an outstanding mother is crowned queen. She is selected for all the attributes which go into making a successful mother: the rearing of children, making a home, and helping others in the community.

Numerous prizes will be presented to the Queen Mother on May 12 when she is crowned, and also an outstanding entertainment program is being prepared for the occasion. There is no admission to the coronation, but an offering will be taken during the program, and proceeds from the offering will be used by the Lions club for the aid to the blind program or some other worthwhile project.

Bennett Phillips, former president of the club and founder of the annual Queen Mother selection, has been named chairman of the project for this year. He has appointed various committees which are working on the affair.

Awaiting Action On 7 Executions

Martinsville, Va., April 12—(AP)—Barring U. S. Supreme Court intervention, seven Martinsville Negroes will die in Virginia's state penitentiary in May and June for the rape of a white woman.

The executions officially were set for last summer but stays were granted while the seven appealed their convictions to the Virginia Supreme court of Appeals.

The state's high tribunal last month upheld the convictions. Yesterday, Circuit Judge Kennon C. Whittle set new execution dates while council for the seven men planned an appeal to the U. S. High court.

Joe Henry Hampton, Frank Hairston, Jr., Booker T. Millner and Howard Lee Hairston are to be electrocuted on May 26. Francis Desales Grayson, John Clabon Taylor and James Luther Hairston will go to the chair on June 2.

The seven men were convicted a year ago this month of the rape of Mrs. Ruby Stroud Floyd, 32-year-old wife of a local merchant.

Chinese Junk Is Near Unsinkable Finds Newsman

HONG KONG —(AP)— Take it from a correspondent of the Hong Kong "Standard," the Chinese junk is the world's most unsinkable vessel. The correspondent was aboard a Nationalist warship when it captured a Communist junk bound for Shanghai. Crew and cargo were removed. The Nationalists then undertook to sink the junk.

Large holes were hacked in the junk's bottom, it listed slightly. Oil was poured over it and lit. It burned awhile. Several shells were pumped into it. Nothing happened.

The Nationalist warship steamed past the junk trying to swamp it. It rode the swell. The warship then rammed the junk squarely. The whole stern of the junk buckled and big chunks broke off," the correspondent wrote. "The last we saw of it, the junk was still smoldering."

Cunning And Cruel New Beast Of Prey In Adirondack Area

Washington, April 12—(AP)—A new beast of prey, cunning and cruel, has appeared in the Adirondack mountains and in some other widely-scattered areas of the United States.

A coyote-dog hybrid, it is swifter than one of its forebears, the dog, a 100 per cent wily than the other, the keenly intelligent coyote, says the Fish and Wildlife Service.

And it's more vicious than either, the agency adds. "We've run into the coyote-dog hybrid before," said Clifford C. Pressall, assistant chief of the service's predator control division. "A few years ago it became a menace in Kentucky but we put on a control campaign and cleaned it out."

"But now, in the Adirondacks it seems for the first time to have become a fairly stabilized type—a type that has been breeding for several generations. Hunting techniques used against coyotes in the thinly-populated west cannot safely be used in the more heavily settled east."

In the west, the prolific coyote is kept in check by hard-riding ranchers and forest rangers who hunt him down from the air in small planes, chase him to earth with greyhounds and fast horses or plant poison pellets in the carcasses of dead animals on which he might feed.

But even if these methods could be used in the Adirondacks, government experts are not sure they would work with the coydog, doycog, coyog or whatever you want to call the cross-breed.

In recent years the animal has been attacking deer, livestock and poultry in increasing numbers in Lewis, Franklin, Essex and St. Lawrence Counties, N. Y.

At the request of New York authorities, the service sent a hunter into the Adirondacks to train employees in coping with the new menace. Some of the beasts were killed.

They vary in color from red to brown to white. Some betray a chow ancestry. Others have strong hints of the shepherd or hound. All resemble the coyote more strongly than the dog.

No Dollar Talks In London Meet

Washington, April 11—(AP)—The United States has ruled against any detailed preview of Britain's dollar crisis when the big three foreign ministers meet in London next month.

Informed government officials said today that Secretary Acheson has notified the British he considers any such talks to be "inappropriate" at that time.

Offer Reward To 'Waab' Catchers

Khartoum, Sudan—(P)—The Fuzzy Wuzzies of the Red Sea hills in the Sudan can win a reward of $287 for capture of a live waab. The waab is a legendary creature of Fuzzy-Wuzzie folklore.

They say it is an enormous creature in the shape of a man, living in the hills. It is supposed to be covered with thick red hair and possess the ability to speak all known languages. The waab, the Fuzzy-Wuzzies say, has no joints so it cannot lie down. So it goes to sleep leaning against a tree. It can't scratch itself since its arms have no joints, so it rubs itself against a tree.

E. J. N. Wallis, governor of Khartoum, told a recent luncheon club group that many of the wilder Fuzzy-Wuzzies still believe in the waab. He said that a government offer of 100 Egyptian pounds posted years still unclaimed. Nor has anyone attempted to claim the 50 pound reward offered at the same time for a dead waab.

Making Rooster Crow On Time Is A Film Problem

Hollywood—(AP)—Did you ever have to make a rooster crow? That task confronted Director Frank Capra during the production of the new Bing Crosby film, "Riding High." In the film Bing owns a racehorse which won't run unless his mascot rooster crows. Skeeter, a good-looking bantam rooster, entered the scene. All Director Capra had to do was make Skeeter crow on cue.

Capra produced a mirror—hoping to get Skeeter to open up by letting him fight his image. Skeeter ran to a dark corner. Capra said, "Let's get him a hen. He's got to be jealous." The hen chased Skeeter all over the stage.

Then a record-player on the set played rooster crows. Skeeter appeared bored. An "animal-man" covered Skeeter's cage with a black cloth. Then he played a record of rooster crowing in the distance. Off came the black cover—and Skeeter greeted "the dawn" with a crow!

Big Tax Lien For Woman Who Carries Money

Atlanta, April 12—(AP)—The federal government tossed a $50,587 tax lien at a 50-year-old woman who went to jail carrying $65,000 in a flour sack after she was arrested on a liquor charge.

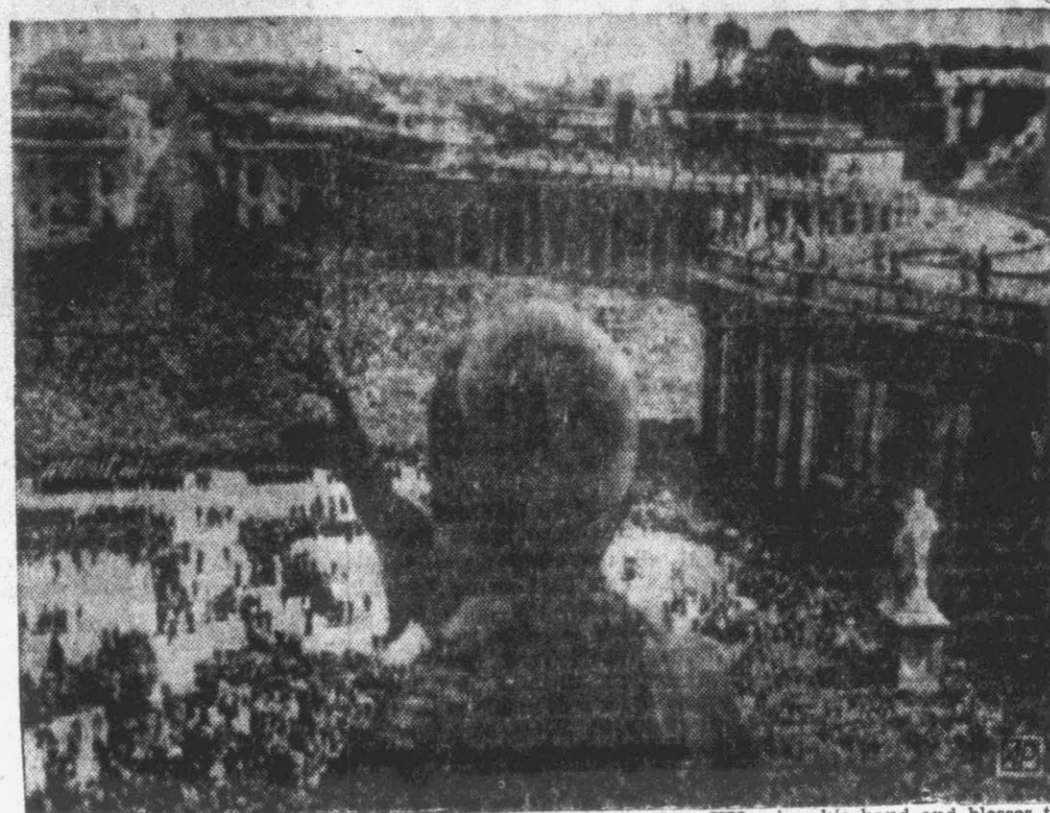

The tax lien was filed against Mrs. Elizabeth Spears yesterday just before she waived a hearing on a charge of possessing non-tax paid whisky.

"A person works hard all their life and then when you get old they try to take it away from you," commented Mrs. Spears, who also faces a state charge of selling liquor without a license.

She had come by the money honestly, she said—"mostly through pinball and juke box machines."

She kept the money with her because she didn't trust banks, she added.

Bainbridge Colby Died Last Night

Bemus Point, N. C. April 12—(AP)—Bainbridge Colby, last secretary of state under President Woodrow Wilson, died last night. He was 80.

Colby, a political individualist throughout his career, suffered a heart attack two weeks ago.

His wife, Mrs. Anne Ahlstrom Colby, was with him when he died at his home in this western New York village.

While secretary of state, Colby wrote an historical note refusing recognition to the Soviet government of Russia.

The recognition was granted 13 years later, but Colby contended there had been nothing to justify a change.

Colby never did change his opinion about Russia. Until recently, he gave lectures against Communism.

Colby's affiliations with political parties were many and various. He switched party lines possibly more than any other national figure. As Secretary of State from March 22, 1920 to March 4, 1921, he held the highest cabinet post under a Democratic President. But he had been a Republican at the start of his political career. In 1902, he was elected to the New York legislature on the GOP ticket. In 1912, Colby joined Bull Moose bolters in nominating Theodore Roosevelt for President and in helping form the Progressive party. Four years later, however, he broke with Roosevelt and campaigned with Wilson. For a decade, Colby remained a Democrat. He made a nation-wide speaking tour in support of Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1932. That association was short-lived. Within a year, Colby was criticizing the New Deal Administration. He termed the New Dealers "betrayers of the country," and called for an anti-New Deal coalition.

Boston Red Sox Look Like Class Of American League

Awesome Power And Plenty Of Pitching Strength; All They Need Is Fast Start; McCarthy Knows He Can't Afford Another Slow Beginning

St. Petersburg, Fla., April 12—(AP)—The Boston Red Sox look like the class team of the American League with awesome power and enough pitching to win the pennant after two close misses.

All they need is a swift boot out of the starting gate.

Joe McCarthy, away from the World Series since 1943, figures to get the Sox off to a fast start.

Just as a warning, he handed out the same Red Sox pennant pick the last two years. Look what happened. Cleveland in '48 and the Yankees last summer didn't pay any attention.

New York and Detroit probably will make the most trouble with their fine pitching staffs. The Yanks also have that "strong bench" to help in case of emergencies.

Cleveland has too many infield "ifs" despite prospects of great seasons by Pitches Bob Lemon and Mike Garcia.

Philadelphia's sore arm epidemic cooled off the A's as a flag hope. Joe Coleman and Dick Fowler are in serious trouble.

Here's the way it looks from here: 1. Boston 2. New York 3. Detroit 4. Cleveland 5. Philadelphia 6. Chicago 7. St. Louis 8. Washington

As for Boston, the Sox wound up last season with 21 straight at Fenway Park. They start the new campaign with 22 of their first 30 games at the same park with its friendly left field wall.

There is no reason to believe that Ted Williams and Vern Stephens, each of whom drove in 159 runs last year, will not have good seasons.

Second baseman Bobby Doerr, at 32, is in his best spring shape in years. Dom DiMaggio looks fine.

As does Johnny Pesky since his return to the lineup. Birdie Tebbetts will have catching help from Veteran Buddy Rosar.

Nobody expects Ellis Kinder to repeat his 23-6 record. Still he should be a consistent winner.

Manager Lou Boudreau conferred with Keltner last night in his hotel room and broke the news.

Keltner now may negotiate for himself with any team as a free agent. He was released after Boudreau conferred with Hank Greenberg, general manager of the Indians.

Bucs Play Host

East Carolina's baseball nine entertain Wilson Teachers of Washington, D.C., this afternoon at 3 p.m.

Coach Jack Boone will more than likely start Vernon Jones on the mound. He is the only pitcher credited with a win this season.

The probable lineup today: George Wooten, catcher; Sonny Russell, first base; Billy Smith, second base; Bob Bailey, third base; Stan Terrill, rightfield; Lou Collier, centerfield; Fred Soles, leftfield; Jack Wallace, shortstop; and Jones, pitching.

Double Setback Given Davidson

That unhappy man you hear comes from over Davidson College way.

The wildcats took a 17-4 baseball shellacking at the hands of the semi-pro McCray Eagles yesterday.

Numerous others with stiff arms and what-not just failed to qualify. Dr. Bennett examined Henrich's left knee yesterday and told Mr. Reliable to take it easy.

Meanwhile, an important big four game was reeled off today at Wake Forest. The Deacons, currently leading the big four, took on the University of North Carolina.

In the North State Conference a night game was scheduled at Salisbury between Appalachian and Catawba.

In other baseball games yesterday Wake Forest defeated Reidsville of the Carolina League, 8-1.

Mize can't throw properly because of a shoulder ailment dating back to August. Reynolds is getting over an aching arch in his left foot.

Robert J. Kieberg's Texas-bred-and-owned colt made his three-year-old bow yesterday at Jamaica in the Count Fleet purse.

Middleground was a 2 to 5 favorite. While his defeat was a big disappointment to his admirers, the son of Derby-winning Bold Venture was not disgraced.

Perd, a non-eligible for the Derby, led all the way under Eddie Ararco. Perd carried 118 pounds.

The others failed to threaten. Lights Up was third, four lengths away, with Erosion and Miss Degree fourth and last, respectively.

Bill Voiselle is Still Overweight

Houston, Tex., April 12—(AP)—The return to winning form of pitcher Bill Voiselle would lift considerable weight from the shoulders of manager Frankie Frison of the Chicago Cubs.

Big Bill, obtained by the Cubs from the Boston Braves for a reported $50,000 and infielder Gene Mauth, has reduced from 240 to 225.

Ailing Players Make Long List Of Top Athletes

By FRED HAYDEN Associated Press Sports Writer

If all the ailing major league players were lined up together for a game today, you could field a fair country ball club.

They wouldn't all have to be wheeled out on the field, but each qualifies for membership in the injured league.

At least 15 athletes are on the current roster. Since seven are pitchers, a few would have to be shifted to other positions.

Philadelphia, April 12—(AP)—Andrew Poni, three-time winner of the world's pocket billiards title and one of the game's most popular players, died yesterday in Hahnemann hospital.

Poni was stricken with a heart attack two weeks ago. His death came less than a month after that of another famed cue artist—in the same hospital.

Poni's sister, Mrs. Teresa Scioscia, of Lansdowne, Pa., said the billiardist suffered a heart attack while playing in a tournament at Chicago last February.

Poni's wife, the former Madeline Bowles of the Ziegfeld Follies, and their three children, Della, 15, Louise, 7, and Madeline, one, were notified of his death at their home in Salem, Va.

Earlier in the season he had been quoted as saying in this, his 50th year, that he hoped to win the pennant.

Midgets Take 4-2 Decision While Intermediates Drop Hectic 4-3 Battle; Riddick Pitches Two-Hit Contest

Greenville's midget and intermediate baseball teams divided a twin-bill with Kinston Monday as the midgets, champions in football and basketball, won the nightcap, 4-2.

The intermediate midgets displayed a kind of baseball that has marked their ability to win the championships in the fall and winter sports.

Johnston led off the inning for Greenville by striking out. Then Edgar Moore got a single and stole second while Daniel was pitching to pinch-hitter Harris Northrup.

Johnston followed, getting on when the shortstop fumbled the ball and threw wild to first. Moore scored the tying run at that time. Pitcher Riddick walked and Pat Sawyer tripled the runners home.

British Scientists Oppose Extension Of Red Purge

London, April 12—(AP)—Britain's atomic scientists today urged "strong opposition" to any extension of this country's purge of Communists.

The Council of the Atomic Scientists Association said it would "view an extension of the civil service purge to other institutions with grave concern x x x."

Prime Minister Attlee announced 13 months ago that Communists would be removed from government jobs, which gave them access to important secret information. Several persons have been fired or transferred since then.

The Council of the Association, distributing its views to newsmen in a 600-word statement, said members of the Council were divided in their views on this part of the purge.

"Some members regard it as an unpleasant necessity forced on the authorities by a situation which could not have been dealt with in any other way," the statement said.

This group called for "additional safeguards" against political persecution and a "clearer delimitation between establishments conducting secret and non-secret work."

At present, ministers in charge of departments are given wide discretion over transfers of firings for Communist associations.

Another group said it believed the purge powers were unnecessary, but that betrayal of secrets could be dealt with adequately under the Official Secrets Act. This law prohibits the disclosure of state secrets under a maximum penalty of 14 years in prison.

County Agent Is Speaker At Ayden Lions Meeting

Ayden, April 12 — Pitt County Agent Sam Winchester was the principal speaker at the Ayden Lions meeting Friday night as he reviewed for the members of the club present farm conditions in the county, and especially in North Carolina.

Winchester told the group farmers have taken what has amounted to a 20 per cent salary cut. Purchases are about four per cent cheaper and products sold bring about 20 per cent less.

The county agent recommended the farmers use efficiency in production to overcome the cut they have taken in income. He urged farmers of the county to take advantage of the free services available, increase unit production, use pastures, care for farm machinery and keep it in good repair.

He also told the members of the club farmers can cut their costs by reducing the board bill of rats, using skill in buying, practicing better labor management, and getting quality production in crops.

Winchester stated that on eastern markets last year 58 per cent of the tobacco offered by farmers was not the kind the buyers wanted. Citing figures for other crops, Winchester said last year North Carolina produced 75 million bushels of corn of which 25 per cent went into commercial production. If farmers had been able to retail all the crop, he said, it would have meant a difference in income of 27 million dollars.

The speaker highly recommended extensive use of gardens. He said one tenth of an acre of good garden will net $50 while a half acre will net $250.

Winchester asserted the farmers are plagued with over 6,000 insects which are detrimental to growers. The boll weevil alone cost North Carolina farmers about 25 million dollars while the total insect bill for the nation is about four billion dollars. Soil erosion cost the farmers of the state a billion dollars a year, the agent said.

Winchester was introduced by Dalton Sumrell. President Jamie Ross presided at the meeting.

Navy Develops Small Submarine To Fight Subs

Springfield, Mass., April 12—(AP)—If war should come, the U.S. Navy is counting heavily on enemy submarines being ambushed by a new type of American submarine small enough for mass production.

Rear Admiral C. B. Momsen, assistant chief of naval operations in charge of undersea warfare, discussed this today in a speech prepared for delivery at a businessmen's luncheon here.

Momsen said the Navy proposes to build its submarine defense against enemy submarines around the small new type now under construction. Three of these submarine killers are being built at present; the first is due for delivery next year. Each will displace 750 tons, about half as much as the Navy's current fleet type subs, and be 195 feet long compared with 311 feet for the long-range type.

Winchester asserted the farmers are plagued with over 6,000 insects which are detrimental to growers. The boll weevil alone cost North Carolina farmers about 25 million dollars while the total insect bill for the nation is about four billion dollars. Soil erosion cost the farmers of the state a billion dollars a year, the agent said.

Winchester was introduced by Dalton Sumrell. President Jamie Ross presided at the meeting.

U.S. Submarine Submerged 3 Weeks, Runs 5,200 Miles

This is the U. S. submarine Pickrel which remained under water 21 days on a 5,200-mile cruise from Hong Kong, China, to Pearl Harbor. Naval officers said it is the longest under-sea run they had ever heard of, but they didn't claim a record. The Pickrel was commanded on the cruise by Commander Paul R. Schratz (right) of Pittsburgh. The long stay under water was made possible by a "Snorkel" device. (AP Wirephotos).

Protest Strike Called In Naples Over U. S. Arms

Naples, Italy, April 12—(AP)—Communist-led trade unionists, prevented by a heavy guard of police and soldiers from hampering the unloading of Italy's first shipment of American arms, called a general strike here today in protest.

But the scheduled 8-hour walk-out appeared this morning to have had little effect on the normal life of this historic port in the shadow of Mt. Vesuvius.

The freighter Exlona, which brought some 300 tons of American-donated Atlantic pact defense arms to Italy yesterday, sailed at dawn for the Allied-controlled port of Trieste.

Screened off by a strong cordon of troops, riot police and carabinieri, non-Communist dockhands unloaded the arms—mostly Howitzers and other mountain equipment.

Chairmen Named In Cancer Drive

Township chairmen for the 1950 Cancer Society campaign for funds were named yesterday by County Chairman James Jenkins of Greenville.

In announcing the names of the individuals who will assist him in the county-wide drive, Jenkins urged everyone in the several communities to give generously to the canvassers on their visits for solicitations.

He said the campaign this year which requests $5,000, is the highest in the county's history, necessarily so due to the increasing number of cancer victims in the county.

With the information that 60 cents out of each dollar donated will be spent in Pitt for treatment of cancer victims and education of the dangers of the disease, Jenkins was optimistic that the drive would reach its quota. The current campaign gets underway here April 24, running through the rest of the month and part of May.

The chairmen for the townships, as named yesterday, are: Ayden, Mrs. Benjamin Demain; Grifton, Mrs. Thurman Williams; Bethel, Mrs. D. T. House; Fountain, Mrs. Robert Speight; Winterville, Mr. Woodrow W. Whiting; Stokes, Mr. Harold L. Watson; Falkland, Mrs. Woodrow Wooten; Grimesland, Mrs. Joe Caswell; Belvoir, Mr. J. T. Dupree and Elmore Dupree; and Calico Crossroads, Mrs. Uran Cox.

TEEN TALK

Dear Judy,

We look around at our school-mates and most of them seem to have everything we lack. Fate might have saddled us with bow-legs or protruding teeth or acne or made us a just plain-skinny-Jane or a just-too-fat-Nancy. We never have any money in our jeans, never seem to have any dates, and our clothes look as if we'd purchased them at a rummage sale.

To make matters worse, thoughtful students tag us with nicknames in vulgar vernacular and such greetings as "Hi Skinny" or "Hi Fatty" just add to our miseries.

Are you going to take it sitting down or do you plan to do something about it? You can weather these thrusts while you go quietly along doing a repair job on yourself.

A skin doctor can prescribe for your acne. Sometimes all that is necessary to chase these blemishes is a new diet and a clean washcloth. When powdering your face, use clean cotton squares that can be thrown away after each powdering.

If your legs are a little bowed wear skirts at a length that will best conceal that unwanted oval. Practice pressing your inner calf against a chair when you sit down. That way you might encourage flesh and muscle toward that inner leg that emphasizes the bowed look.

An orthodontist can start you on the road to straight teeth. Most dentists will give students a break in price, and if you start the job now, it will cost a "t" less than if you let it go too long.

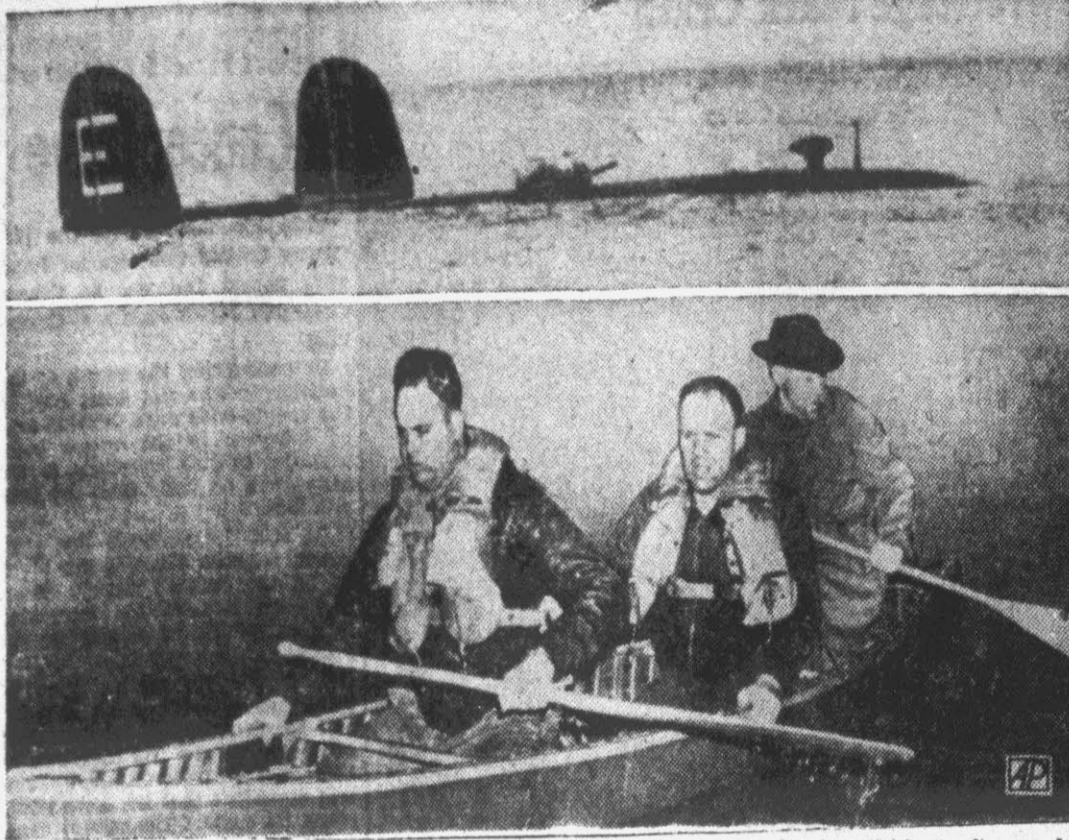

All you need is will power to lose weight. A good diet can help you gain.

Get an after-school job to help pay the expenses of your make-the-most-of-me program. Patience and perseverance will see you through your problems.

Don't cry in your soda pop at the jibes of your school mates. Life can be pleasant in spite of adversity. This doesn't mean that we're to act like delighted idiots and never do anything about our shortcomings or "fortunes. Make the most of body and brains and you will secure a more healthful attitude toward life.

Protestant churches are engaged in a joint effort to produce films for teen-agers. Three motion pictures made in cooperation with the International Council on Religious Education (which represents 40 denominations) by the Protestant Film Commission in Hollywood now are being shown in churches and Sunday schools. If these first few are any indication of movies to come, the movement should be a huge success.

There is, for instance, the story of JoJo, a high school teen-ager who just couldn't understand life on the other side of the tracks. JoJo learns a lot from a church youth counsellor and a boy who lives on the other side of the tracks who is trying to improve conditions there.

She learns that a whole community is responsible for every other part of its community, that bad conditions cannot be ignored, and that young people "across the tracks" can be just as nice as her own group when put to the test.

"Birthday Party" is another engaging film about Evelyn, who goes to school with Janie who is having a birthday party. Evelyn saves to buy a birthday present for Janie and prevails upon her mother to make a party dress—but she doesn't get an invitation to the party.

Evelyn's mother, visiting some neighbors, unaware that her daughter hasn't been invited, telephones Janie to see how Evelyn is enjoying the party. Janie awakes to the Golden Rule and learns what it means to be aware of the feelings of others.

In "A Job for Bob" a young man who desires to get married is turned down when he seeks work with an atomic laboratory—his big ambition. He tries job after job in hit and miss fashion, quits or is fired because he is angered and hurt. Unenthusiastically he takes a job in a tool factory and finally through a kindly employer begins to appreciate his work, and manages to figure out a method to improve the product manufactured by his company.

Mrs. Roosevelt In Auto Accident

Hyde Park, N.Y., April 12—(AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, driving to Hyde Park to observe the fifth anniversary of her husband's death today, was shaken last night in a three-car accident.

Mrs. Roosevelt was being driven home from a session at the United Nations at Lake Success, where she is a U.S. delegate. She was riding in the front seat of her sedan with her chauffeur, Russell W. Linka.

"We saw a car coming toward us swerve out of its path," she said later.

Linka shouted a warning, "Brace yourself. . . We're going to be hit!" and Mrs. Roosevelt jammed her feet against the floorboards.

The oncoming machine struck another car immediately ahead of the sedan, and then sideswiped the rear to the Roosevelt auto.

"The driver ahead of us swung to the right to avoid it, but the other car struck him, glanced off, and then hit the rear of our car. Nobody was hurt," the former First Lady said.

Linka drove the sedan to a garage, and Mrs. Roosevelt took a taxi for the five-mile ride to her Val Kill cottage on the Hyde Park estate.

Asked if she was frightened, she replied,

Why, no. . . I never yell."

Rumor Spreading Tolar Will Resign

Raleigh, N. C., April 12—(AP)—Reports that highway patrol commander C. R. Tolar will submit his resignation to Governor Scott continued to circulate here today.

But Tolar was not available for comment.

Tolar, a supporter of Scott in the 1948 gubernatorial campaign, was appointed patrol commander by the Governor last May.

The reports that he may resign followed the bringing of a second traffic charge against Tolar in recent weeks.

Motor Vehicle commissioner Land-on C. Rosser said yesterday he plans to talk with Governor Scott about the patrol commander at the earliest opportunity. The Governor is in New York and is not expected back in his office before Friday.

Tolar was cited at Fayetteville on Sunday on a charge of driving 60 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone. Rosser said Tolar has admitted he was speeding and that he was driving a state-owned vehicle.

Walter Wilson One Of ROTC Students On Air Station Tour

Durham — Walter Q. Wilson, Greenville, was one of 63 Naval ROTC students who made a special field trip recently to the Naval Air Station at Norfolk, Va.

The trip featured an observation tour of the U.S.S. Coral Sea, one of the world's largest aircraft carriers, and the Fleet Air Electronics Training Unit. This unit is designed to acquaint Naval pilots with the latest aircraft instruments and electronic equipment.

Portions of the field trip were filmed for a later broadcast over the Norfolk television station.

The students made the trip by plane and were accompanied by Capt. J. C. Peters, Lt. R. A. Brackett, Lt. R. B. Gustafson, and Lt. R. P. Brewer of the Duke NROTC Unit.

Wilson is the son of Mr. W. G. Ward, 302 W. Third St.

RESINOL OINTMENT

YDC President Will Speak Here

Terry Sanford of Fayetteville, State President of the Young Democratic Clubs, will be guest speaker at the ECTC Young Democratic Club tomorrow night at 7:30 in the Flanagan Hall auditorium. The Young Democrats of Pitt County and the public is cordially invited to attend and hear Mr. Sanford.

The College Y.D.C. was recently organized with a large group of interested students. This is the first visit of the State President to the campus club.

Terry Sanford is an alumnus of the University of North Carolina where he received both liberal arts and law degrees and was an outstanding leader in student activities there. A native of Laurinburg, he is now practicing law in Fayetteville. After serving in the armed forces of World War II, he resumed active membership in the Young Democratic Clubs of the State, an organization in which he participated for many years.

Miss Ada Jones, Y.D.C. chairman of First Congressional District, today extended an invitation to all members and the general public to attend.

Pets Grew Up; Who Wants Two Big Alligators

Reading, Pa., April 12—(AP)—They were only 28 inches long when they were eight years old, but now that they're six-footers and simply too big for the water tank in Edward Weinhold's cellar.

The babies grown up are alligators. Weinhold, a Reading Brewery worker, brought them home as pets from Jacksonville, Fla., 28 years ago.

He admitted ruefully today that one of these bright spring days he plans to crate the gators and drive them to the zoo at Philadelphia where they'll have larger quarters.

The gators, dubbed Joe and Josie, are "as gentle as lambs," Weinhold said—except when they're hungry. They eat three to four pounds of steak-fish a day.

Sam Bundy Accepts 2 New Engagements

Farmville, April 12 — Sam D. Bundy, principal of the Farmville High School, has accepted two more speaking engagements during the month of April. On Monday night, April 17, Mr. Bundy will be guest speaker at the Belvoir Ruritan Ladies and Teachers Night Banquet to be held in the Belvoir School lunchroom.

On Thursday night, April 20, Mr. Bundy will speak to the regular weekly meeting of the Washington Rotary Club at the Knotty Pine Inn.

Quarrel Delayed; Another Opened

Washington, April 12—(AP)—The decision to put a foreign aid bill ahead of a civil rights measure in the senate may have delayed one quarrel, but it opened another.

Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader, announced yesterday that President Truman regarded Marshall plan legislation as "more important at this time than any other." He said the $3,372,450,000 aid bill therefore would get priority over an FEPC measure.

Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the Republican leader, protested that this was a purely political move to stall action on FEPC (fair employment practices commission) legislation at a time of Democratic primaries in Florida and Alabama.

Wherry said the Democrats were trying to avoid party strife, knowing that a filibuster would be promptly started by southerners if the FEPC legislation were brought up. Lucas flatly denied this was the purpose.

'Wrong Idea'

Ipswich, England, April 12—(AP)—An English clergyman says the Ten Commandments should not be shown to children because they might get the wrong idea about God.

The East Suffolk Education Committee was considering a proposal to post the Commandments in nearby Wickham Market School to fight a "decline in moral standards" among the pupils.

The Rev. W. G. Hargrave Thomas, Church of England Vicar of Needham Market, objected that this would be "misleading and wrong."

He quoted the Second Commandment about a "jealous God" who visits the fathers' sins upon their children. "No decent father," he said, "would do such a thing." The committee voted down the proposal.

CROP OF SARCASM

Grief - Stricken Parents Arrange Rites For Boys

Cleveland, April 12—(AP)—Grief-stricken parents arranged funerals today for four boys who died in a raft on Lake Erie.

And a Coast Guard Captain warned other youngsters who live near the shore: "For God's sake have respect for water and wind."

Captain James A. Hirschfield, Great Lakes Coast Guard chief, made the fervent plea for care after his men concluded tragically one of the best rescue attempt operations ever made on Lake Erie.

A 16-hour search, started at dusk Monday, ended yesterday when the thinly clad bodies of four Euclid Boy Scouts, blue from cold, were found huddled together in a war-surplus raft.

The victims were William J. Von Hof, 14, Richard Bauer, 14, David Lee Hahn, 13, and Roland Relmer, 13.

The raft was found about 25 miles northeast of where the boys took off in pursuit of a drifting canoe. With two small paddles—one broken—they were unable to get back to shore against the wind.

W. R. Carle, Lake county coroner, estimated the boys died around 4 a. m. from exposure. The Lake water temperature was about 36 degrees, and meteorologist C. George Andrus agreed with Carle that water that cold could kill quickly. All the boys were barefoot and they wore only cotton T-shirts and jeans.

Gov. W. Kerr Scott (seated) signs a proclamation strongly urging liberal support by all North Carolina citizens of the annual cancer campaign which closes April 30. Looking on is Joseph T. Martin, prominent Greensboro department store executive, who is president of the North Carolina Division of the American Cancer Society. This year's goal is $200,000.

Olla Ray Boyd Has New Plank In Farm Program

Raleigh, N. C., April 12—(AP)—Olla Ray Boyd of Pinetown, a candidate for the U. S. Senate, announced today he will speak at the courthouse in Greenville Friday night.

Boyd is seeking the seat now held by Senator Frank Graham. Other candidates in the race are Willis Smith of Raleigh and former Senator Robert R. Reynolds of Asheville.

Boyd also announced a new plank in his agricultural platform. He declared that "all farmers growing tobacco should be allowed one-fourth an acre per child attending school, and full government support price for these special allotments and the cost of maintaining children while receiving an education."

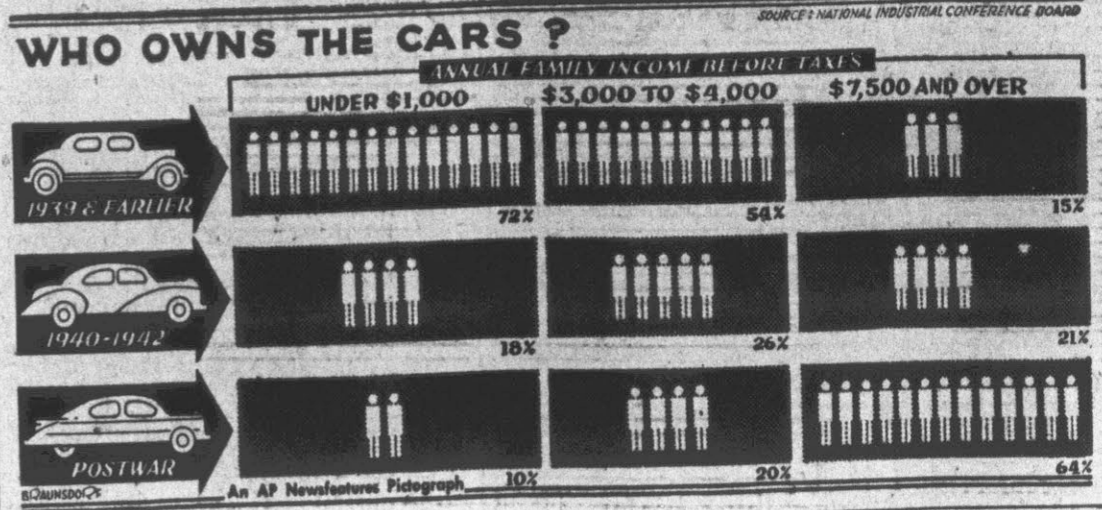

Car In Accident With Motorboat

Washington, Ind., April 12—(AP)—There didn't seem to be any traffic worries when Earl Kern, a telephone company worker, parked his car 20 feet from the White River bank near Maysville. He didn't reckon with Emmett Holsapple's motorboat.

Holsapple, heading for shore, failed to close the throttle soon enough. The boat shot up the bank and hit the car.

The damage: a dented hull; a dented fender.

Rep. Dirksen Is GOP Choice For Lucas' Opponent

Chicago, April 12—(AP)—Former Rep. Everett M. Dirksen, who retired last year after serving 16 years, won the Republican nomination for U. S. Senator in yesterday's Illinois primary election.

Dirksen, who piled up a big lead over two Chicago candidates, will oppose Scott W. Lucas, President Truman's majority leader in the senate, in the November election. Lucas, now serving his second term, was renominated without opposition.

Raleigh, April 12—(AP)—I strongly urge every man, woman and child in North Carolina to give freely of his time, talents and money to conquer dreaded cancer through support of the program of the American Cancer Society," Governor W. Kerr Scott said in an appeal issued today in connection with the annual cancer campaign, which closes April 30.

North Carolina's goal this year is $200,000. Joseph T. Martin, Greensboro department store executive, is president of the North Carolina Division. Mrs. George E. Marshall, Mt. Airy, is state commander and executive vice-president, and Kerr Craige Ramsey, Salisbury, is state campaign chairman.

Pointing out that cancer is "a ruthless killer," Governor Scott said that "last year it killed more than 200,000 Americans, more than 3,000 in the state of North Carolina."

"This disease affects all plant and animal life; its lethal touch is felt in one of every two American homes. It haunts and menaces every individual."

"Nevertheless, in recent years our laboratories have developed several leads to the secrets of cancer. They have shown that a measure of control can be exercised over this cruel killer, and they give hope and promise that some day cancer will be conquered completely."

The governor said the program of research, education and service sponsored by the American Cancer Society "is today influential in saving many lives. Deaths from cancer can be lessened and some day obliterated through the expansion of the Society's services."

about the plan can be boiled down to three questions. He'll get opposite answers. The thing to remember is that at this point the whole business is a matter of opinion, and conflicting opinion at that.

Q Does it make sense to handle veterans, soldiers, sailors, dependents of men in the armed forces and patients of the public health service all in the same hospital?

A Friends of the plan: Sure, a patient is a patient no matter who or where he is. Foes of the plan: No, for admission to such a hospital would depend on the availability of beds not occupied by non-veterans.

Q Mightn't this all-patient-in-one hospital plan mean a veteran might find himself crowded out?

A Foes of the plan: Sure it might in spite of the fact that the government has a special obligation to the veterans particularly the one with a service-connected disability. Friends of the plan: No, there'd be plenty of beds to go around, if the hospitals were merged.

Q Would the plan mean more red tape for the veterans?

A Friend of the plan: No. He'd still go to VA to get an Okay if he wanted to get into a government hospital; VA would still be responsible for getting him in. Foes of the plan: Sure, more red tape. Instead of dealing with the familiar VA alone, the veteran would have to deal with VA and then with the new, independent hospital.

at had waited to see what action America might take. Then, sensing that the U. S. plane might be lost, the Soviet decided to take time by the forelock and beat Washington to the punch.

The idea would be to put Uncle Sam on the defensive. The charge now against him is that he has been scouting Soviet territory. For what purpose? Why, to prepare for war against the Soviet Union, of course.

Fitting into this picture was the suggestion Monday in two Copenhagen newspapers that the United States was taking advantage of the search for the missing plane in the Baltic in order to reconnoiter Soviet territory. The source of this suggestion wasn't given by the papers.

The idea that America would be scouting Soviet Baltic territory with a bomber seems to border on the absurd. Such an operation would be inviting trouble.
