Commissioners Approve Request For Special Term

Court Docket Again Laden; Road Petitions Accepted In Monday Meeting

In an effort to clear as many cases from the Superior Court docket as is possible this year the Board of County Commissioners yesterday approved a request from Solicitor W. J. Bundy to hold a special term of court in July.

The docket is currently heavy-laden with cases which were continued from the past two weeks of court because of a mistrial during the first week and slow proceedings during the second.

The commissioners ordered the clerk of the board to request the special term from Governor Ector.

In its regular monthly meeting the commissioners approved petitions for paving of 25.3 miles of county roads, subject to approval of the Highway Commission of this district. Roads approved include portions of the Old Pactolus Road, Hardee, Greenville-Robersonville, Mill Hill, Old Mountain, Greenville-Red Banks, Oak Grove, Herring, Harper and Tar. The Greenville-Red Banks Road includes straightening of the cemetery road which by-passes the cemetery.

J. N. Harrison, chairman of Tar River Ports Commission, submitted for the board's approval a resolution passed by the commission relative to a lease of port property for six months. Harrison thereby submitted his resignation as chairman because he was instrumental in forming the corporation which is asking for the lease. The commissioners deferred action on the matter until it meets with the Greenville Board of Aldermen Friday morning. Both county and city groups own the land jointly.

T. I. Wagner, chairman of the library commission, with Miss Irene Hester, librarian, submitted a request for an operating budget of $19,780 for the fiscal year, 1950-51. The request was taken under advisement by the commissioners until a later date. The budget request calls for $9,300 to be paid by the county, the remainder to be paid from city and state funds.

Stuart Carr, chairman of board of trustees of Pitt Memorial Hospital, requested that the hospital executive board be allowed to have present Pitt General Hospital equipment appraised for disposal of it. Carr stated that beds, chairs, medical machinery and other room furnishings to be appraised would not be transferred to the new hospital. The commissioners instructed the executive committee to have the equipment appraised by two representatives of hospital sales firms.

In the event of unidentical appraisals, the committee is authorized to make adjustments between the two as to a final price on each article. The commissioners approved a request of citizens from all sections of Pitt for the purchase of more forest fire-fighting equipment to supplement present equipment owned by Pitt and Graven counties and the state. The commissioners will contact the Department of Conservation for such purchase.

Pitt's health officer was instructed to investigate the disposal of sewage in Winterville Township. A request by Winterville citizens had stated the present system of disposal empties into an open ditch behind several rural residences. The health officer was instructed to report to the commissioners with recommendations at the June meeting.

M. W. Smith, chairman of the County Home Commission, reported he had insured the property up to $50,000 under instructions given him at the April meeting.

On the request of J. H. Harrell, chairman of the Pitt Board of Elections, the county will buy six new voting booths to supplement the present number throughout the county. Under state election laws, there are not enough booths in the voting places now in order to conduct an election properly.

Bradley Calls For U. S. Retain Draft

Chairman Of Joint Chiefs Of Staff Asks Congress To Keep Draft Law Alive Because No Letup Seen By Soviet Russia

Washington, May 2—(AP)—Gen. Omar N. Bradley today asked Congress to keep the draft law alive because, as far as he can see, "there has been no letup in the aggressive extension of Communism toward its goal of world domination."

The chairman of the joint chiefs of staff was the first witness as the house armed services reopened hearings on proposals to extend the draft. It is due to expire June 24.

Speaking of recent events such as the Baltic plane incident, Bradley said the situation "frankly gives us little cause for comfort and little excuse for delay."

"Certainly it does not support discontinuing the selective service act."

At the outset, chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) recommended that the committee approve a two year extension of the draft but leave to Congress the power to say when anybody would be inducted or any industry seized under the law.

Greater Effort For Atlantic Pact Body

Officials Predict Nations Will Agree To Spend More Money And Effort On Defense Program

Washington, May 2—(AP)—Informed officials predicted today that the North Atlantic nations will agree to spend more money and effort on their defenses.

They said a close-up look at the price tags on the master defense plan drafted earlier shows higher spending is needed.

Secretary of State Acheson is reported ready to urge quick action on an intensified defense program at the 12-nation Atlantic Council meeting in London May 15—even if it means Europeans must increase their defense budgets.

Acheson believes, these officials said, that a stepped-up effort in the military field is absolutely necessary to put into effect the integrated defense plan worked out April 1 by the 12 defense ministers at the Hague.

The 12 treaty nations spent a total of $20,147,000,000 last year in their collective defense effort. The United States carried about 72 per cent of this financial load.

American officials are convinced that the Europeans must bear a greater share of the cost of any proposed increase in effort next year.

President Truman already has announced he will ask Congress for a total of $14,700,000,000 for a second year of military aid. Officials said it is unlikely the President will increase this amount during the next fiscal year.

Japanese Urged Defend Liberty

Tokyo, May 2—(AP)—General MacArthur today urged the Japanese to defend their new constitution liberties against the "international political periphery" of Communism. For the second time in 10 months he suggested the possibility of outlawing Japanese Communist party.

The allied occupation commander took the third anniversary of January's "no war" constitution as the occasion for a statement denouncing new Communism here and abroad.

Lattimore Again Assails Charges In Senate Probe

Slashing Attack On Budenz And McCarthy In Denying Communist In Denying Communist Accusation

Washington, May 2—(AP)—Owen Lattimore denounced as "hogwash" today Louis Budenz's testimony connecting him with the Communist party and called it "the product of a twisted and malignant personality."

He said no "honest man" could believe Budenz.

Under oath before a Senate committee, Lattimore swore again that he is not a Communist, nor a Soviet spy, and said such accusations against him "are not supported by a shred of evidence, perjured or otherwise."

Lattimore made a slashing attack on Budenz as well as on Sen. McCarthy, his chief accuser.

He said that "unlike Budenz, I have never been engaged in a conspiracy to commit murder or espionage," and added:

"The history of this man's participation in questionable ventures did not begin—and certainly it did not end—with his party membership."

Before he joined the party in 1935, he was a radical, left-wing agitator. He has been arrested 21 times. I assume that he was not guilty, but he was most certainly remarkably active."

Lattimore said Budenz has admitted working for three years with the Soviet secret police to help bring about the assassination of Leon Trotsky.

Lattimore said that no where in Budenz's testimony did he directly accuse Lattimore of being a Communist.

"When he was asked the direct question, he sidled off into a general discussion of the different kinds of Communists, but he no where states on his own responsibility that I was or am any one of the 57 varieties."

Lattimore called Senator McCarthy, his chief accuser, "clearly a had policy risk" and tore into Wisconsin Republican's background. He alluded to official criticism of McCarthy's conduct as a state judge and alleged difficulties over wartime income tax returns.

As for ex-Communist Louis Budenz—who swore high Communist officials regarded Lattimore as a Communist—Lattimore termed him a liar—"either a plain old-fashioned liar or a pathological liar."

Of Freda Utley, who said yesterday that if Lattimore isn't a Communist, he acts like one, the witness said: "An equally strong case can be made that Utley herself for a time followed the Communist line long after she says that she ceased to be a Communist and that she subsequently followed the Nazi line."

Parliamentary observers said an adverse vote on such an issue—a Conservative proposal for a 1,000 lb. ($2,800) appropriation cut—probably would not have forced the government to resign.

The House, sitting as a committee of the whole, cast a tie vote of 278-278 over the Conservative proposal to reduce the salaries of Transport Minister Alfred Barnes and his assistants. The Laborite committee chairman, James Milner, broke the tie with a vote in the government's favor.

Prime Minister Attlee's cabinet already has lost one such vote on a minor motion since the February general elections gave it a majority of fewer than 10 votes over the combined Conservative and Liberal opposition. The Laborites have won nine test votes, most of them on major "issues of confidence," since the new Parliament met March 8.

Alger Hiss Is Disbarred By New York State

New York, May 2—(AP)—Alger Hiss, former high State Department official convicted of perjury, was disbarred today from practicing law in New York state.

The Appellate division of the Supreme Court formally struck Hiss' name from the roll of attorneys.

It ruled that his two-count perjury conviction in Federal court here constituted commission of felonies and that Hiss therefore ceased to be a qualified attorney.

Hiss was convicted by a federal court jury January 21, 1950, and four days later was sentenced to a term of five years in prison. The case is being appealed.

New Patrol Head Revokes Directives In Early Move

Raleigh, May 2—(AP)—The practice of painting red circles on the state's highways to denote fatality points has been discontinued.

The decision was made yesterday by the highway patrol's new top officers shortly after they were sworn in.

The officers also decided to abandon a directive that every patrolman would be expected to make at least one arrest a day.

Both these practices were instituted recently by C. R. Tolar, who resigned as patrol commander.

The red circles were designed to make motorists more safety conscious. They were painted on both sides of the road at the sites of fatal accidents, with the number of persons dying in the accident being drawn in the center.

Col. James R. Smith, who took over the commander post yesterday, asserted that he and other patrol leaders were "not convinced that the markers served any useful purpose."

"Paint or other slick surfaces on the highway, when it becomes wet, might be an additional hazard," he said.

In regard to the arrest a day order, Smith declared that "from now on out" the number of arrests will be left to the patrolmen on the scene. He said that the men should enforce the highway laws and make arrests when they feel such action is necessary.

Counting The Votes In Greenville Election

One New Alderman Elected; Three Retain Seats In Vote

Car Is Destroyed As No Help Given

No Fire Extinguisher Or Fire Truck Available For Blaze

The Greenville State Highway Patrol Office reported today that a 1946 automobile burned up yesterday about four miles from Greenville, in what the Patrol office termed a "useless waste—because the Greenville fire department refused to send a fire truck to the burning car."

A patrolman on the highway leading from Greenville in the direction of New Bern, spotted a man leaping from his car, and saw a large cloud of smoke arising from a car which was in front of him.

The patrolman rushed to the assistance of the man, and found that his car was on fire. Since the Patrol car did not have a fire extinguisher as part of its equipment, a radio call was sent to the Greenville police station asking for help from the city fire truck.

Several minutes later, the Patrol car received a message stating that the city truck could not leave the city at the time.

By this time a large crowd had gathered to watch the car burn.

Fire department officials explained the situation as this: The two trucks which are used for out-of-town service, are in need of repair, and certain parts for them can not be obtained at the present time.

The Mayor has ordered that the trucks not leave the town until they are properly repaired, and can carry the make the trip when they are called.

The Patrolman estimated the loss at around $1,000, which was partly covered by insurance.

In the fourth ward race Alderman J. E. Collins received 145 votes and his opponent Walter Lewis received 105 votes. In the fifth ward race Alderman J. E. Waldrop received 173 votes and L. F. Johnson received 143 votes.

The board of Aldermen met in a special session this morning to canvass the ballots of yesterday's election. The board voted to accept the reports of the registrars and the poll holders. The aldermen also voted to pay the registrars $10 for their work on election day, and $5 per day for the days the registration books were open. They voted to pay the poll holders $10 for their work on election day.

Mayor W. S. Stafford told the members of the board of aldermen this morning a special joint meeting of the aldermen and the county commissioners has been set for 3 o'clock Friday night at which time the city and county officials will discuss the matter of leasing property at the port terminal which has been pending for some months.

The Greenville aldermen will meet in their regular monthly session at the city hall at 8 o'clock Thursday night.

Falkland Elects Town Officers

A mayor and three town commissioners were elected without opposition yesterday as the citizens of Falkland went to the polls to elect their officials.

J. Frank Parker, Jr. was elected mayor of Falkland for a two-year term, and Commissioners Woodrow Wooten, W. J. Little and J. E. Watson were elected to the town board for two-year terms.

Bids For Nurses Home Found Less Than Anticipated

Aggregate Of Low Bids Was $18,000 Less Than $153,000 Board Expected

Low bids received Friday for the construction of a 59-bed nurses home to be built in connection with the Pitt County Memorial Hospital totaled $135,000.

The aggregate of the low bids was $18,000 less than the $153,000 the members of the board of trustees and the officials of the State Medical Care commission had estimated for the nurses home.

The McKoy-Helgeson construction company of Greenville, S.C. was low bidder for the general contract with a bid of $85,590. C. L. Russ of Greenville was low bidder for the heating contract with a bid of $7,418, and also low bidder for the plumbing contract with a bid of $9,968. Thompson Electric company of Raleigh was low bidder for the electric contract with a bid of $4,691.

The building contracts for the 39-bed nurses home totaled $107,867 with $17,700 ear-marked for equipment, $6,460.02 for architect's fees and $3,172.98 for contingencies.

C. Stuart Carr, chairman of the board of trustees of the hospital, said this morning, "It is expected work will commence on the nurses home within a few days. One of the principals from the McKoy-Helgeson company is here today to make preparations for beginning immediately. We have received reasonable assurance that the nurses home will definitely be completed by the time the hospital building is finished and the hospital equipment is moved in."

Carr attributed the unexpected low bids on the building to the relatively large number of bids which were received for the various contracts, and the keen competition between the contractors bidding on the jobs. There were six bids submitted for the general contract, four bids for the plumbing contract, three bids for the heating contract and four bids for the electrical contract.

Before the bids had been called for, the board of commissioners of Pitt county has appropriated $60,000 as the county's portion for the construction of the nurses home which is to be done with federal and state aid. The aggregate of appropriations from the three governmental divisions had made $153,000 available for the construction of the nurses home.

Since the bids were under the anticipated amount, Carr said, "We will request the county to supply approximately $54,000 which is $6,000 less than the amount anticipated to provide an adequate nurses home and building in keeping with the fine hospital which we will have."

The $135,000 which the nurses home will cost will include construction, equipment, architect's fees and other incidentals.

"Since no bids on larger nurses homes to be built in the state had been opened to this time," Carr explained, "it was not known exactly what the approximate cost might be per occupant. In order to be on the safe side, the Medical Care people insisted the application be based on a rate of $3,000 per bed, and under this arrangement we would have a nurses home to accommodate 51 people."

"However, our board felt the total cost for the building, equipment and architect fees would not average $3,000 per occupant, and we asked the Medical Care commission for permission to request bids not only for the 51-bed plan, but also for 59."

The nurses home is to be constructed on the hospital property near the hospital building.

Failure of Congress to vote the money also would tie up supports for this year's crops of cotton, corn, tobacco, rice, peanuts, cottonseed, dry beans and fescues.

Administration leaders are confident that Congress will vote the money, but action may not come until after most of the crops have been planted. The delayed approval would keep the department from carrying out one of the provisions of farm law—that it announce price supports well ahead of the production season so that farmers would be in a better position to do their planning.

LUMBER FIRM FIRE
Lincolnton, N.C., May 2—(AP)—Fire of unknown origin today destroyed the main building of the Star Lumber Company here.

Fire Chief B. J. Ramsaur said the damage was estimated at $35,000.

Denise wanted to state a note for the Communists.

They were two things about this hearing. Denise's real name was Francis Xavier Waldron. He has changed it to Denise in 1948. J. Farrell Thomas was not the real name of the committee chairman. His name had been J. Farrell Penney but had been changed to Thomas years ago.

Denise knew that he also must have realized—since he had been investigated up and down by the FBI—that his own real name, Waldron, was known to Thomas, who used to be Penney.

As usual with all witnesses, Denise was asked to state his name. He said it was Eugene Dennis. Thomas asked him his real name. Denise said it was Denise Thomas.

Future scholars will be better able to answer that when they come to write the history of our times.

But if Eugene Dennis is an example of the party's top leadership

Keep It From Reds?

John Foster Dulles' View Of Formosa; It's Value, Both Strategic And In Natural Resources; The Chances Nationalist Government Has To Regain Former Position

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

John Foster Dulles, Republican adviser to the state department, says the capture of Hainan Island by the Chinese Communists calls for American action to keep the strategic island of Formosa out of Red hands.

Why? Mr. Dulles doesn't amplify that but leaves us to figure it out. One very obvious answer is that Formosa not only is Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's headquarters but is the seat of what is left of the Nationalist government—a castle with a ghost. It's about the last bit of Chinese soil China has for refuge.

But supposing Uncle Sam maintains the Nationalists on the island, what practical purpose will it serve? Does Chiang have a chance of retrieving his position and reconquering China?

Well, a horse-racing addlet perhaps would figure Chiang's chances as a long shot. However, the Generalissimo maintains that he still can turn the trick if he gets support. Here are some of his reasons: While the Communists ostensibly have "conquered" the vast mainland, the Nationalists claim that actually there are many areas which still are in the hands of guerrillas who have no use for the Reds and are prepared to cast their lot with Chiang.

For instance, take the great province of Szechwan, seat of the old Chinese capital of Chungking. In this province, through which runs the mighty Yangtze river, there are 140 counties and the Nationalists report that more than 70 of them are in the hands of guerrillas.

One estimate places the old Nationalist troops still in the Yangtze valley at 200,000.

And why haven't the Chinese Communists liquidated all these pockets of guerrillas? Probably for the same reason that the Japs were unable to mop them up in all the years of the Sino-Japanese fighting.

Two one-act plays will be presented by the Dramateers of Greenville high school in the school auditorium Friday night at 8 o'clock.

The presentation of "The Enchanted Rose" and the presentation of "Quiet Please" will be the final performances staged by the local high school dramatics group during this school year.

"The Enchanted Rose" is a moral, probing story which is played by a strong cast including Ann McCrary, Bynum Whitehurst, and Betty Jean Allen as young people of today. Peggy Barrow, Peggy Bland and Betty Sue Harris portray the parts of their three ancestral grandmothers who step out of their full portraits to influence their descendants.

The play "Quiet Please" is a comedy starring Billy Woolfolk, Bobby Lee, Charlie Ann Sutton, Virginia Haynes, Janet Waters, Terry Flanagan and Elizabeth Ann Hardee.

The adult admission to the two performances will be 40 cents and the student admission will be 25 cents.

May Day Events Like 'Fairyland'

(Editor's Note: The following is a description of the May Day celebration in the Grifton school lunchroom yesterday by Maxine Haynes, a member of the senior class of the school.)

"I began believing in fairies when I lost my first tooth and found a dime under my pillow in exchange for it. Today, twelve years later, in the Grifton school cafeteria, I have seen what I think fairyland must look like.

"A myriad of pastel colors greeted my eyes as I went into the building. All of my school mates and I felt as if we were suddenly in a world where dreams come true, everything was so beautiful. We saw on each table a miniature May pole with pink, blue and silver ribbons extended to gum drop dancers at each blue plastic plate upon which was food, that I am sure could never have been equal anywhere. Pineapple and peach congealed salad on lettuce, with a luscious cherry on top, cold sliced ham, cheese balls, dainty, pink, home made rolls dusted with powdered sugar and cinnamon, crackers and milk. Just as good to us as the traditional ambrosia must have been to the gods.

"All at once I was consumed with Nostalgia, as I realized that I am a senior and would soon be denied the privilege of enjoying the pretty and delicious things that I have had in our cafeteria in the past two years. A happy thought, to ease the ache, is that the children who will follow me at Grifton high school when I graduate, may still enjoy the same pleasures that I have had there."

Keep It From . . .

Formosa for economic reasons.

A Chinese Nationalist official tells me that it takes the tax on thirty peasants to keep one soldier going. He estimates that the Communists have over 7,000,000 troops under arms. If Formosa can be knocked out, and the Generalissimo can be rendered helpless, the Reds can demobilize and thereby cut the taxation which is so irksome to the Chinese.

In this connection the terrible famine which has been sweeping the Yangtze valley is harrasing the Red regime. Reports have it that millions are facing death by starvation.

And finally we have to note that Formosa is a highly strategic stronghold lying 100 miles off the Chinese coast on traffic lanes between Japan, the Philippines and Indonesia. This "picture book" island is about twice the size of New Jersey and has a population of some 6,000,000. The island is a treasure house of coal, oil and other essentials.

More to the point, it is an admirable airplane base, and has been called an anchored airplane carrier.

Less than 1,000 people now live in Virginia City, Nev. which in the gold rush days of the 1870s had a population of 30,000.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. J. Ed Nelson of Greenville announce the engagement of Mr. Nelson's daughter, Helen Joyce, to Mr. Ellsworth Matthew Dorecky, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Dorecky, of Milton, Pennsylvania. The wedding will take place June 11.

Music Clubs Will Hear Original Compositions

A group of students and faculty members of the department of music at East Carolina Teachers College will participate in a program of music by North Carolina composers to be given at the State Federation of Music Clubs in Elizabeth City Wednesday evening, May 3. The program will be the opening event of the convention of the State Federation in Elizabeth City.

Composers from East Carolina who will be represented by original works on the program will be Dr. R. R. Willmann, director of the department of music; George E. Perry of the faculty; and Donald Adcock, graduate student.

Dr. Willmann's "Sonatina for Trumpet and Piano" will be played by Spencer Rollins Mims of Henderson, student at the college, and Mr. Perry.

Mr. Perry will play a group of his own compositions for the piano, including "Sarabande" and excerpts from a ballet, "The Green Question." The latter was written in 1940 for the Pine Arts Festival in Madison, Wis., and was taken on tour by Minna Craig, who is a pupil of Mar-

New Playground Is Opened Friday

Dedication of the Cotton Mill Hill Park, donated by M. R. Long, for use of the children in that section was held Friday afternoon.

A crowd of over 127 children from three to 15 years old were on hand for the official opening.

Chairman of the city recreation committee Heber B. Tripp stated that the children made every use possible of the limited playground equipment which was on hand. Tripp also pointed out that "there is a great need for more equipment for this playground and the other playgrounds in the city."

The chairman expressed the opinion that "this need offered a good opportunity for the local civic clubs to help the recreation committee, as the funds of that organization are too limited to purchase the needed equipment."

Refreshments were served by Mrs. John Vaughns of the Curb Market Sunday school, aided by her co-workers. The Rev. Leonard Topping also was present for the dedication.

Columbia, Calif., a gold-rush city with a population of 35,000 in the 1850, now has only about 350 people.

Oscar O. Efrid Was Among YDC Guests

Oscar O. Efrid, former law professor at the University and for many years judge of Forsyth County Recorder's Court, was among the out-of-town guests in Greenville for the Young Democrats Roosevelt Dinner last Friday night.

At the present time Efrid is a practicing attorney in Winston-Salem and is being considered for a position as State Supreme Court Justice. Efrid was the guest of friends in Greenville whom he formerly taught at Carolina.

by only the foolhardy it follows that costs for domestic government must be pared to the bone. We cannot afford the luxury of appropriating a million dollars here, a million dollars there, for the sake of pork-barrelling.

It might be argued that lower taxation would spur business to the extent of obtaining greater governmental revenue through the increased turnover which should result. However, this principal could apply in only isolated fields, and reliance on a general application would be a poor gamble.

We are not too optimistic about the final outcome on those excise tax reductions. There is probably a certain amount of backtracking in store; and hopes raised in certain business quarters will be dashed. The committee was slowing down as it approached the end of the excise list and reappraisal of the earlier recommendations is in order.

At the time President Truman suggested a $655 million limit on excise tax cuts, he proposed congress might make up the loss of revenue, and add a billion to the federal coffers besides, by imposing higher taxes on corporation income, inheritances and big gifts, and by closing tax law loopholes.

This being an election year, some of the tax writers are taking a dim view of being able to balance the reduction with greater levies on other fields. It looks dim from here, too.

News Behind The News
By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, May 3—The Truman Administration's partiality toward vast foreign and domestic petroleum interests threatens to jeopardize national security in event of another war. Unless revised on a sounder basis, it may drive civilian passenger cars off the road entirely when and if the United States faces another world crisis.

That is the conclusion of numerous members of the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee, which has been holding hearings in an attempt to formulate a permanent petroleum program for peace and war time.

Although it is one of the least partisan bodies on Capitol Hill, tentative findings indicate that the Administration prefers to buy abroad instead of developing resources nearer home, although sea lanes from the Middle East, the Dutch East Indies and even Venezuela would be vulnerable to submarine attack in a conflict with Russia and her satellites.

ANNEX—A famous New York law firm frequently described as an "annex of the State Department" is deeply involved in the controversy, according to evidence before the House group.

It is Sullivan & Cromwell, which has exerted tremendous influence at Washington ever since its experts advised Theodore Roosevelt on how he could create the Panama Republic and build the Isthmian Canal under a guise of legality.

John Foster Dulles was a Sullivan & Cromwell member for years. His brother, Allen W. Dulles, who served in State from 1916 to 1926, is now an active member. Until he became Assistant Secretary of State for Inter-American Affairs a few months ago, Edward G. Miller Jr. was an associate of the firm and represented it in numerous oil cases.

Mr. Miller has not been handling petroleum matters at State because of his former connections. In dealing with the House committee, Allen W. Dulles has taken his place.

HOSTILITY—Immediate occasion for committee concern over recent oil deals is the State Department's hostility toward Mexico's application for a loan for development of wells below the border. State's attitude happens to coincide with that of American and British firms, which want no competition from this source.

When Mexico applied for American financial assistance a year ago, President Truman indicated that he favored the transaction. One of the men personally interested in the matter was Edward W. Pauley of California, who had obtained a concession from the Mexican Government. It was because of Harold L. Tokes' attacks on Mr. Pauley that the former Secretary of Interior was fired by Mr. Truman.

CLAIM—While the House Committee was framing a report after a visit to Mexico, Mr. Miller appeared before it as a Sullivan & Cromwell representative. He asked the legislators to include in their report a provision that Mexico must pay the so-called "Sabalo claim" as a prerequisite to an American loan.

The "Sabalo claim" against Mexico is said to range from 20 to 200 million dollars, although the exact amount is indeterminate. Prominent petroleum spokesmen here say that they have never heard of the individuals or interests behind this "claim," although they are understood to be a New York group.

The committee denied Mr. Miller's request on the ground that it would not let itself become a "collection agency." Sullivan & Cromwell, according to a committee member, then made the same application to the State Department.

CONDITIONS—After the committee's rejection of the Miller request, he was named Assistant Secretary of State. Within ten days after his confirmation, Secretary Acheson forwarded an aide-memoire to Mexico City in which he set forth conditions under which the loan might be granted.

One requirement was that Mexico "must give attention" to the "Sabalo claim." Mexico indignantly refused, and negotiations were broken off.

In his appearance before the committee, Assistant Secretary Willard L. Thorp did not deny this statement of fact.

DOUBLE-TALK—Referring to the wartime advantage in obtaining Mexican oil by pipelines or by tanks hugging our own shores, Rep. Charles A. Wolbert of New Jersey, ranking Republican member and former chairman, reflects the viewpoint of members who question State's petroleum policy in this and other ways.

"It seems to me," he says, "from an economic and military standpoint, that favorable consideration should be given to a country which makes application for a loan, not a gift, but a loan where any businessmen would be willing to recognize its value."

"I am just unable to understand anything other than that the State Department is using double-talk."

Somebody Told Me

By I. J. (Jack) EDWARDS, JR.

Ordinarily, I do not concern myself with the worries of the world, but these days it's impossible to keep from giving them some consideration. The war of nerves is red hot.

The Voice of America is pouring radio broadcasts into Russia daily, telling the truth about life in a democracy. At the same time, Russia is pouring in "the truth" about life under communism, only their "truth" is a lie. And, of course, they claim our truth is a lie.

After careful reading, I have found that the Voice of America has told the real truth, with one exception: reports are that few American couples ever get divorced. Otherwise, the Voice says that America is a vast land, resourceful and technically more advanced than any other country, and the richest—though the people are rarely over-rich. The average American owns a one-family house (probably with a mortgage on it, but at a very low rate of interest), and owns a car. The women like careers, but they are good mothers and wives, too.

and work fairly hard around the house, although they have all kinds of gadgets, frozen foods, and husbands who help with the dishes.

The Russian broadcasts, which can be picked up easily in Greenville with a short-wave set, are rich. Take a look at some of their claims and be your own judge about their "truth":

They say that Russia is making every effort to keep the peace, while American "war mongers" are preparing for battle. The voices bringing this sort of thing into America are speaking the English language, almost without accent. The comments are divided between a man and a woman. During one particular broadcast, a Russian scientist was quoted as saying, "Anglo-American imperialists would like to interrupt peace efforts with a threat of the atomic bomb."

The Russian radio voices make constant attacks on Acheson, Marshall, Churchill, and other "war mongers." It is interesting to note that they pronounce Stalin to rhyme with Allen.

The mechanization of Russia is constantly plugged on the broadcasts. They say, "Russia in the last year has increased its mechanization by fifty per cent. What was the increase in America?" Of course they didn't mention the comparison before the increase, or what Russia increased from.

Other claims: The mechanization in America puts people out of work, which is impossible in Russia since everybody works for the government. Ten years ago there were ten million communists, compared to 18 million now.

Joe Stalin would probably be tickled pink if he knew I was writing this column about his broadcasts. In a manner of speaking, I'm playing right into their hands by recognizing their broadcasts. But I'm doing it for one reason: We should know that such a thing exists, so we know how to accept it. Also, we should uphold the Voice of America so it can continue to tell people behind the Iron Curtain the real truth.

And I thank you.

Raleigh, N. C.

QUESTIONED—It depends upon who does the talking whether the Young Democratic Club's state rally and Roosevelt Dinner at Greenville Friday night is rated a success. Vice President Alben Barkley made just about the speech expected of him. That means it was a fine, old time religion, Democratic party speech. In some other respects the occasion did not come to expectations. Attendance was light; fewer people attended than had been at previous YDC rallies in Greensboro and Asheville. Places had been prepared for around 700 eaters and about 600 showed up with the five bucks for barbecue and YDC war chest.

BACKFIRE—Unavowed but generally accepted as one objective of the affair was to boost the interests of Senator Frank Graham in the current primary campaign. That effort might have backfired. Senator Graham was on hand and made a major campaign speech of some 20 minutes, to the displeasure of many in the audience who had come to hear Vice President Barkley. Some of the senator's staunchest friends doubt he did himself any good with on-the-fence voters, and they fear he stimulated activity among Smith supporters.

PROTEST—Public protest was registered by Judge J.W.H. Roberts, Pitt County manager for Willis Smith, that the date and program for the rally were arranged without regard to convenience of candidates except Graham. Within a few hours after the rally Olla Ray Boyd, unpublished but formally entered candidate for the Senate, was telling business men in Washington that he had been "barred" from the rally and that he would demand resignation of President J. D. Messick and ECTC trustees for permitting use of state-owned college property for a biased political rally. The Boyd protest was laughed off, but there was expressed belief that other incidents might have aroused enough resentment against Graham to make total value of the rally extremely doubtful.

UNJUSTIFIED—There is no evidence that anybody was "barred" although YDC President Terry Sanford confessed he had not invited Boyd. Other protests are of doubtful propriety. The rally was tentatively set weeks ago for "the last of April." Exact date was fixed for convenience of Mr. Barkley, and YDC leadership has been widely commended for obtaining a speaker of such caliber under any circumstances. Meantime, Candidates Reynolds and Smith had made other definite engagements for the 28th. Governor Scott, who certainly cannot be accused of unfriendliness to the Graham candidacy, also had another engagement from which he had hoped to move on and arrive late at Greenville. An attack of laryngitis prevented his appearance at the rally. However, experience of politicians realize that resentment and ill-will, whatever the background cause, has the same effect.

TRUMAN—Another item which has occasioned interest was Vice President Barkley's omission of any but casual mention of President Truman. Cleveland, Wilson and Roosevelt, the other Democrats who have filled the presidency since the Civil War, were accorded more praise than the incumbent—who may be the Democratic candidate again. Some who noticed this wonder if it indicates a break between Truman and Barkley. If so, where will National Committee man Jonathan Daniels and Senator Frank Graham be found? The Greenville Daily Reflector editorially asks if it meant that Barkley had been requested to attend by Truman, here in the heart of Eastern Carolina where Graham needs votes?

ABSENTEES—Absence of Senator Clyde Hoy and all senatorial candidates except Graham; relatively small attendance at the barbecue dinner and the speaking; inability of Governor Scott to be on hand, an slight mention of President Truman, turned the affair into a local rather than statewide rally. Even on local level there is question whether it attained major objectives, and whether the returns justified the effort made by the vice president of the United States to come to North Carolina.

NON-POLITICAL—Kerr Scott stepped out of his role as governor of North Carolina and assumed that of a ruling elder in the Presbyterian church Sunday. He delivered the charge to the congregation at the installation of Rev. J. T. Donnell as pastor of Cross Roads church in upper Alamance County. Although he is one of the few laymen who ever presided as moderator of the general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, commonly known as Southern Presbyterian, he had never before told a congregation what his duties were in relation to the pastor.

What Other Papers Are Thinking

BLABBER-MOUTHS (Rocky Mount Telegram)

Remember the war-time warning, "A slip of the lip can sing a ship" and such similar cautions against divulging information which might endanger national security?

We, we are in favor of a move to dig up all those placards and post them again in a number of places where there is evidence of need for them.

Billy Rose has focused some attention on the gross neglect being given some information Uncle Sam has every intention of keeping confidential. Rose tells the story of a drinky talker, a talky drinker, who divulged top secret data at a dull session during a Washington dinner party.

There is no way of knowing just how much information of a highly confidential nature our potential enemies are draining from this country merely by lending the ears of a few agents to dinner parties. The spying profession in the United States will be, or is, one of the most sought after professions if it is to require nothing more than attendance at social affairs. We maintain that a drinky talker, or even a drinkless talker, who divulges secret information during the course of casual conversation is as guilty of treason as the top foreign agent operating in this country and he should be dealt with harshly.

Rather than wait for a secret to be lost we suggest that a closer watch be kept on persons who are exposed to important information. Better yet, let undue talkativeness be a black mark against candidates for important posi-

Business Today

By ELMER ROESSNER
So much has been said about the enormous number of housing starts this year that there is a tendency to ignore the fact that construction of new industrial plants has passed its peak and is expected to decline further in the second half of the year.

Total expenditures for new plants and equipment during this year are estimated at $16,000,000 in a joint study by the Office of Business Economics and the Securities Exchange Commission. Of this, $4 billion is being spent in the first half and 7.7 billion is expected to be spent in the second half. That $700,000,000 drop will have quite an impact on employment and sales of building materials, machinery and other goods.

Plant and equipment spending reached its peak in 1948, when it totaled $19,200,000,000. It dropped to $18,120,000,000 in 1949. There are a number of reasons for the decline. Many corporations have completed their post-war expansion projects. Because of the high demands for manufactured goods, many companies accelerated construction work, building plans in 1947 to 1949 which, under more normal conditions, would not have been constructed until 1950 or 1951.

The rate of formation of new businesses has fallen off. As Lawrence Bridge and Bernard Becker of the O.B.E. point out in the Survey of Current Business, the peak number of new businesses in 1946 contributed to peak construction in 1948.

There are factors which may slow the predicted decline and which may mitigate the economic effects. Stepping up of the defense program may require more plants and machinery. The high demand for consumer durables, not fully anticipated when 1950 construction was planned, may also require plant expansion. Even "unfreezing" applications for new television stations would help a little.

Housing construction may absorb some of the unemployment resulting from a drop in plant construction. Housing may keep up demand for many building materials. It will not, however, do much to keep up the demand for heavy machinery.

Tilly decline in expenditures, if it fully materializes, will not be a catastrophe. While the forecast $16,000,000,000 represents an 11 per cent decline from last year, it is still $9,460,000,000 more than outlays in 1945.

NOT ALL HEADACHES COME FROM INBIBING
One of the most complicated jobs in national advertising is the preparation of liquor ads for local use. Each state has different laws and regulations. Some prohibit pictures of people enjoying the stuff, some prohibit certain expressions, and so on. Sometimes as many as 20 versions of the same ad are necessary. Tax rates differ, making prices different from state to state. Because of this, most agencies send out ads with dummy figures, with prices to be put in locally. Some body in Indianapolis forgot to put in the local price on one of those ads the other day and the headlines read: "Everybody can afford Kentucky's favorite straight bourbon at the new low price of $0.99 a fifth."

NEW WEEKLY WAGE RECORD MAY BE SET
Average wages of production workers in manufacturing reached a new high of $56.57 in mid-March, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reports.

Still another high may be reported in the April figures, due late this month. The religious holidays may have reduced some earnings, but overtime working from the demand for durable may more than make up for that.

REMEDIES SUGGESTED FOR LABEL TROUBLES
Canners having trouble in labeling cans—and there's a lot these days with so many changes in labels—can obtain a copy of a revised edition of "Successful Can Labeling," free by writing to National Adhesives, 270 Madison Ave., New York 16. It tabulates labeling difficulties and recommends remedies.

UNCUT STONES HELD FASHION IN JEWELRY
Uncut unpolished gems set in white palladium or gold is the newest jewelry vogue, Norman Shaw, New York designer, says. Jewels in their natural form often have interesting and unusual shapes which can be heightened by polishing, producing surrealistic effects.

NEW AND HOT DISPENSER: Don't hold your breath, but a Newark, N.J., firm (the F. A. Whitney Carriage Co.) says it is working on a built-in cooking dispenser for baby buggies. It will have a crumb-catching attachment.

POLISH: Silicones, the chemicals impregnated in those papers for cleaning eye-glasses, is now being used in an auto polish (by Boyle-Midway Inc., 22 East 40th St., New York 17). The shine is claimed to last six months.

WADERS: Waist-high wading boots for fishermen are now being made of vinylite plastic (by U.S. Fiber and Plastics Corp., Stirling, N.J.). They have only a fraction of the bulk and weight of conventional waders.

Hal Boyle's Column

Baskets, Ore.—(AP)—It is a sad and stirring sight to see a great tree die.

It gives you a lonely feeling as if you were watching God or your father or something else you revered go down in solitary protest.

On a high hill here in the coastal mountain range I watched two sky-reaching Douglas firs sawed down within a half hour, and it was like seeing the death of old heroes.

Each had stood for a century or so before the white man came to blight these eternally rain-wet mountains with his wish for wood, his desire for shelter.

These tremendous fir trees (and they are tremendous) are strangely like American people. They are great advocates of free enterprise, they reach for the life giving security of the sun.

They will fight like unholy devils for sunshine, which to them is wealth and prosperity. They will grow like mad to get it. But if they lose it they sicken and give up. They simply won't live in another tree shade as the hyena hemlock is glad to do.

But the ones that win out in this competitive grasp for solar prosperity, the ones that crowd out the weaker trees, are more beautiful than fair women, more towering than strong men.

Some have grown for 400 years or more and shoot 250 to 300 feet into the air in green needed splendor, proof that standing still can be as heightening sometimes as travel is supposed to be broadening.

Well, there they stood the two trees I am talking about, two trees wet at the foot and dry at the top, two trees in a virgin forest, and both as old as Shakespeare, and both still living. And three men came and assaulted them as I watched, a guest in the lumber camp. The men who cut down the two trees were paid $25 to $30 a day to do so. They wore metal helmets like nature was at war with them, as it was.

Two men carrying a portable power saw approached the trees and made incisions as precise as a surgeon performing an appendectomy. The third man had to get down to the decisive muscle, the thing man always has to return to.

He took an ax and made a deep niche in the saw scar behind the way they wanted the tree to fall. That is, he was the west wind, they wanted the tree to fall east. He put a wedge in the west wound, and by the force of pointed steel and flexing flesh.

This tiny 6-foot figure at the base told the great tree the direction in which it must die.

There was a sudden crack, a shudder clear through the tall stem, and then it began to fall. It went down with a whispering surprise, a shower of broken greenery, and came to earth with a great and final groan. It shook any listening heart. Loggers ran for shelter. The flying branches thrown off by a falling tree are known to them as "widow makers."

They can telescope wind and axe into a single blow. These men who make their living out of killing trees—their defense is that one slain Douglas fir can make a six room house—is the feeling they have for what they destroy. They get a kind of forest gull complex. "I guess nothing in the world that has lived so long is killed so quick," a lumber camp superintendent said. He knew that with all his weapons for survival he wouldn't live as long as the thing his men cut down.

But there is one difference between the death of men and trees. A big tree dies with more dignity, sighing in a forest, than men do gasping in a hospital.

Washington Letter

By JANE EADS
WASHINGTON—If you want to know what makes your children "lick" watch, listen and learn from them. Children are our best teachers, says Mrs. Marion L. Feagre, child training and adult education specialist of the U.S. Children's Bureau. Mrs. Feagre, who wrote the Bureau's popular new pamphlet, "Your Child from Six to Twelve," has received many requests from parents on how best to use the helpful little booklet, which has become a government best seller.

To meet these requests she has written another pamphlet called "Christians Are Our Best Teachers," suggesting discussion topics for parent study groups, educators, doctors, social workers. This serves as an easy guide to the original booklet. It may be purchased for 15 cents from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington 25, D.C. (Please do not write this newspaper.)

Mother of two sons and three a grandmother, Mrs. Feagre has been advising adults for many years. A handsome, gray-haired woman, with a gentle smile and soft musical voice, she is the wife of a retired advertising man and has been with the Children's Bureau seven years.

"Did you ever have any problems raising your own family, or with the grandsons?" I asked. After a moment's thought, she smiled, and slowly shook her head: "No, I can't say that I did, except for the usual minor ones. I guess the boys sort of seeped what I was learning and talking about through their pores."

Then she laughed, recalling what her younger son, Christopher had said when he reached 18: "Now mother, you won't have to worry any more about me becoming a juvenile delinquent."

Christopher, now 26, is a teacher at Washington's Georgetown Day School. The elder son, David, 31, is head of the Art Department at Chicago's Roosevelt College. He is the father of Aaron, 1, Tor, 8, and Dirk, 5. Mrs. Feagre is convinced that an important step in helping individuals grow up to understand each other as adults is to help them first understand each other as children.

"One way is through play. It brings about understanding, warmth and sympathy for others," she said. "Play is the stuff of which a child's life is made. But its far-reaching significance has only lately been understood. Unless the deep-lying impulses satisfied by play are allowed to express themselves in childhood, adult life suffers."

Chapter 22
An increased activity along the platform warned them that the train was about to leave. Andrew saw Mr. Hamlyn aboard, and shook hands with Magda, who smiled an absent good-bye. She was watching William, still standing outside on the step, with a curiously absorbed expression. Never in her whole life had she met anyone who could keep her on tenterhooks before. For the first time in her whole existence she had found someone wholly absorbing, and desirable. William charming or ardent, could send one's veins singing, and one's heart rocking heavenwards; but William indifferent as it was possible for a human being to be. He succumbed neither to threats nor to blandishments. She was happy only in his company, interested only when he was talking, amused only when he was gay, and desperately miserable when he was indifferent.

Her father came into the little private drawing room at the rear of the big Pullman. He ordered some coffee and spread his newspapers out on the table.

"What would you say, Daddy, if I wanted to marry William?" she asked.

"I doubt it," he said. The bantering, half serious smile vanished.

"What do you mean?" He patted her gloved hand. "I mean that that's something," he jerked his thumb vaguely in William's direction, "that you haven't met before. That boy isn't in love with you, Magda. He's handsome enough and selfish enough to marry you if it will help him any. But you know this expression they have over here—'He couldn't care less.' Well, that sums it up."

"Don't be grumpy, darling," she said pleadingly. He smiled and gave her hand a little forgiving squeeze. "You try not to be foolish, this once. That's my girl."

The whistle shripped and among waves and smiles and tears and farewells, the train slowly pulled out.

Andrew turned slowly to join Sydney, his hands in his raincoat pockets, his shoulders hunched against rain that was beginning to fall.

Andrew, following him back to the sleek car standing at the station entrance said, "The time has come, the Walrus said, to talk of many things."

"Eh?" "Well, I think you should know—I want to go back to the States."

"You want to what?" exploded Sydney.

"Hamlyn's offered me a job."

"Why, you double-crossing young—"

"No, no," Andrew shook his head gently. "No need to use script language. There's no double-cross, I'm giving you a long term notice, but I want to go home."

He did not go down to Broadwell again that summer and heard little about it, for he and Morton never wrote to one another. Occasionally at the production of a new play there was a paragraph in the Sunday papers, and it gave him a warm feeling to find Katherine so regularly mentioned, and an absurd feeling of unjustified wrath if the criticism was not complimentary, or merely lightly unconstructive. It was all he wanted to know—that she was working, and that apparently Morton was giving her increasingly important parts. But, when he opened his morning newspaper one day in September and read that William Brody and Magda Hamlyn had been married the day before in Eberly Hills he felt rather like a man who, after living all his life beside a dike, comes home to find his house washed away.

Even before the fact of what had happened had sunk into his mind, his hand was already reaching out to the telephone, and he had said, "Get me Morton at Broadwell—try the house, and if he isn't there, try the theater."

He did not know quite what he meant to do, nor what he thought he was doing. He only knew he was frightened. He could see Katherine opening that paper.

The telephone rang and he heard Morton's irritated voice. He said rather lamely, "Have you seen the morning papers?"

Morton, who never read anything but theater notices, bellowed back, "No. Why should I?"

"William Brody married the Hamlyn girl yesterday."

"Well, what's it got to do with me? He can marry the president so far as I'm concerned."

"Listen, L. M. I'm a bit worried. Does Katherine know?"

"How do I know?"

"Is she there?"

"She's rehearsing now, and I'm busy."

"Can I speak with her?"

"Oh, yes," Morton said sweetly. "I'll go and get her. I'll keep the rehearsal waiting while you chat to her. Don't bother about me at all. Andrew heard him bawl, "Katherine! You're wanted on the phone!"

There was a silence, and then Katherine's soft, deep voice. "Hello?" He hesitated. "I was phoning L. M. and I just wanted to know how you are."

"I'm fine, thanks. I can't stop. We're rehearsing now, and L. M.'s walking up and down like a mad bull."

Her little laugh reassured him. "I think I'll come up this week-end to see you."

There was a pause, and she said quickly, "If it's because of William, please don't worry. I'm quite all right, really."

He felt an overwhelming relief. "Stupid of me, but I thought perhaps you didn't know."

"Oh, yes, I saw the paper."

"Well, when you come back to town, will you phone me? I'd like to have you come out with me some evening."

"Yes, perhaps I will. Thank you for telephoning. Good-bye."

That was all. She had made it quite plain that she did not want him or anyone.

Road Surfacing Hits 1330 Miles

Raleigh, May 2—(AP)—The state has hard-surfaced 11 per cent of the 12,000 miles of secondary roads Governor Scott wants paved, says the Highway Commission.

A report for the first 15 months of the Scott administration put secondary road surfacing at 1,330.8 miles, Highway Commission Chairman Henry W. Jordan reported yesterday.

In the period, highway forces stabilized 4,296.2 miles of roads—about 12 per cent of the 35,000-mile goal—Dr. Jordan added.

He said that if good weather keeps up, the commission this year will complete more roads than in any previous year.

The 15-month report showed this work done:
First Division—183.9 miles hard-surfaced and 307.7 miles stabilized; Second—95.9 and 278.8; Third—224.9 and 216.1; Fourth—1882.8 and 614.8; Fifth—126.8 and 266.8; Sixth—204.1 and 501; Seventh—79.8 and 442.5; Eighth—87.5 and 644.4; Ninth—100.6 and 550.7; and 10th—44.6 and 473.6.

Barkley Back In Ancestral Home

Salisbury, May 2—(AP)—Vice President Barkley returned to the Rowan county home of his ancestors yesterday with the message that America needs the courage of its pioneers to preserve democracy in the world.

The Veep addressed a crowd of 3,500 here during a Barkley-Daniel Boone celebration. He said the United States had joined the free nations of Europe twice this century to battle against totalitarianism, and was prepared to do it again.

The celebration honored the memories of Barkley's ancestors, and of Daniel Boone who set out from Salisbury 181 years ago to explore the Kentucky wilderness.

Barkley and his wife visited the old Thyatira church near where many of his ancestors lie buried.

The crowd in Catawba College stadium which heard Barkley included Governor Scott, Senators Graham and Hoey, Senatorial Candidate Willis Smith, Rep. Robert L. Doughton, and Daniel Boone VI and his son, Daniel Boone VII, of Washington.

Sees Tourist As Cold War Weapon

PASADENA, Calif.—(AP)—Harold Jones, a member of the Civil Aeronautics Board, believes that "if passenger air travel were possible today between Russia and the United States, Stalin would not have much of a chance with his dictatorship."

"With 100,000 Americans touring Russia, Stalin would have a hard time convincing people that the FBI was shooting victims on the streets of New York," Jones said in an interview.

China Buddhists Go Into Decline

HONG KONG—(AP)—At least 400,000 Buddhist monks in Communist China have shed their religious garments to become laymen again, according to a Buddhist priest interviewed by the "Hong-Kong Standard." He said that of the 400,000, more than 200,000 young monks have been drafted into the Communist armed forces.

The remaining 200,000, the monk said, all "resigned" due to economic reasons. Since the "liberation" of the Chinese mainland, Communist authorities have pulled down most of the Buddhist monasteries and temples and confiscated their land, thus depriving them of means of making a living.

Reynolds Claims Race Is 'Hotter'

Washington, May 2—(AP)—Former Senator Robert R. Reynolds carried his campaign back to North Carolina today. And he said it was getting "hotter and hotter."

Reynolds, who said his throat was sore from campaign talk and a chest cold, is scheduled to speak at Charlotte's courthouse Friday night.

He spent yesterday here on personal business and plans to return May 15 to address a Reynolds-for-Senate club.

Episcopalians Convening Today

Winston-Salem, N.C., May 2—(AP)—Hundreds of Episcopalians gathered here today for the 13th annual convention of the North Carolina diocese.

Bishop Edwin A. Penick presided at a business session this afternoon, and Dr. Borlston Green, vice chancellor of the University of the South at Sewanee, Tenn., will speak tonight.

Three hundred voting delegates and 600 others are attending the two-day meeting.

Minister Talks At Lions Club

The Rev. T. Curtis Jones was the guest speaker at the Greenville Lions Club meeting held in the Woman's Club building last night at seven o'clock.

The speaker, who is currently conducting a revival at the Eighth Street Christian Church, was introduced by Rev. H. G. Haney. Vice President Larry Averett presided in the absence of President Ernul Willis.

season with a batting average of .363 percent. He made seven sacrifice hits, stole 13 bases, 2 walks, batted in 72 runs, and struck out 74 times. His fielding record was as follows: 166 putouts, 224 assists, 8 errors, 21 doubleplays for a percentage of .890.

Scarpa hails from Brooklyn, N. Y., and comes to the club highly recommended, having played in strong semi-pro clubs in New York. He is an outfielder.

From Carl Churchill's column in the Roanoke Rapids Herald I quote the following for your consideration:

"There isn't any question but that attendance would be greater all over the circuit if the eight clubs were more evenly matched. Past experience indicates that those clubs depending on material from farm systems of major league outfits are at a greater disadvantage than those operating independently. Major league outfits, it appears, are unable to digest the fact that play in the Coastal Plains is faster than is usually exhibited in class D hoops. As a result, these farm clubs are often snowed under during the early season and in many instances never are given enough material to bring them near the forefront."

Game Cancelled

The Greenville-Roanoke Rapids game, originally scheduled for this afternoon at Guy Smith Stadium, has been cancelled because of wet grounds. In notifying the Yellow Jackets' coach, Bo Farley, high school coach here, said the game will be played here tomorrow afternoon, provided there is no more rain today.

In their last meeting, the Phantoms beat the Jackets in the game there by the score of 10-5.

Should the Phantoms play and win tomorrow, they will then sport a three-win-six-loss record in Northeastern Conference play. In addition to the win over the Jackets, they held one win over Edenton and losses to Kinston, twice, and singles to Edenton, New Bern, Washington and Elizabeth City.

Frenchman Stops Belloise, Earns Shot At Crown

Montreal, May 2—(AP)—Flashy Laurent Dauthuille of France earned the right to take a crack at Jake Lamotta's middleweight crown here last night as he swept aside New York's Steve Belloise with a seventh-round technical knockout in a scheduled 10-round main bout.

Once the pride of New York's Distic Lanes, Belloise gave a disappointing show before 11,593 fans who contributed a gross gate of $4,353.

Referee Tommy Sullivan halted the one-sided affair just after the seventh round started when Belloise, a 31-year-old veteran, was incapable of offering any more resistance to his 26-year-old ring-wise opponent.

Sport Slants

"Sophomore Star" The old sophomore "jinx" which very often overtakes outstanding freshman performers doesn't seem to be bothering Jerry Coleman, the Yankees' spirited second baseman. Named the outstanding rookie of the American League last year, Coleman has picked up where he left off last fall and is a more poised performer because of his 1949 experience.

Coleman's improvement last season with the Yankees was amazing. There was nothing in his minor league record to indicate that he was ready to step into a starting role for any major club, much less a pennant contender like the Yankees. He had batted a mere .250 for the Yankees' Newark farm club but decided he could do better if he spent the winter trying to improve himself when his big chance came along. Jerry trained for the day when he was scheduled to report to the Yankees at St. Petersburg. He used a full length mirror to correct faults in his batting stance. He built up his arms and shoulders by daily push-up exercises and strengthened his grip with an exercise.

Once Coleman was installed in the Yankee infield, the veteran George Stinnett could not displace him. His .275 batting average hardly indicates his true value at the plate for many of the 42 runs he drove over the plate were key runs in winning efforts. Jerry gives the appearance of being a slim youngster as he moves around second base with the easy grace that marked Frank Crosetti's style, but he is solid enough with 170 pounds over his six-foot frame.

Kinston Golfers To Play Greenville Club Wednesday

Kinston's golf team comes to town tomorrow afternoon to play Dave Mosier's twice-beaten Greenville team on the Coastal Club course. Sporting five wins in seven outings the local shot makers will be gunning for a win over the Kinston team which beat them in the match played there April 5.

Besides the loss at Kinston the club golfers also lost to New Bern last Wednesday on another rain and wind-swept course. That has been the program for at least five of the afternoon matches this year in Coastal Golf Association competition.

But despite the rain the teams have played through it, returning complete cards in all matches except the one last week. During that outing only half the Greenville participants finished 18 holes. Kinston comes to town sporting a

Middleground To Show Prospects In Trial Run

Louisville, Ky., May 2—(AP)—Texas-bred Middleground will show his stuff to the Blue Grass boys today in the $10,000-added Derby Trial Stakes at Churchill Downs. If he wins, don't be surprised if King Ranch pops up as the post-time betting favorite in the $100,000 Kentucky Derby Saturday.

Eleven three-year-old colts were entered for the one mile test, set for 4:23 p.m. (EST). Middleground, who was rated the top sophomore runner in the Experimental Handicap estimation of handicapper John Campbell, is expected to be favored for this 13th Derby trial. The thing that thickens the plot for King Ranch is another one—On the Mark.

It will mark the first meeting between the sturdy Middleground and several other prime Derby candidates, including Calumet Farm's Theory and the Brookmeade Stable entry of Sunglow and Greek Ship. Such big Derby names as Your Host, Hill Prince, Oil Capitol and Mr. Trouble are passing up the Derby Trial. They are fit and ready to roll Saturday, their trainers declare.

Women Golfers Tee Off Today At Wilson Club

Approximately 75 golfers of the Women's Eastern Carolina Golf Association will tee off this morning in Wilson for the third meeting of the five town circuit.

Competing for low gross scores, on the basis of handicaps established after the first nine-hole round, and low putting scores, the women will begin the matches this morning with nine holes. Following lunch, weather permitting, they will finish the afternoon with the final round.

Competing from Greenville will be Mrs. Larry James, Mrs. Carolyn Thomas, Mrs. Graham Flanagan, Mrs. Matt Long, Mrs. Tom Smoot, Mrs. Billy Morton, and Mrs. James Smith.

Cardinals Up To Old Tricks; Win Despite Failings

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

The St. Louis Cardinals are up to their old tricks again. Next to beating the Dodgers, the Redbirds get the greatest delight out of making the experts look foolish.

Remember those pre-season reports on the Cards? Too old. No reserves. A one-man ball club. Tsk. Tsk. Is our face red.

With a lineup shot as full of holes as a slab of Swiss cheese, the scrappy St. Louis gang has managed to win five of its last six games. They capped it off last night with a thrilling victory over their hated rivals, the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The score was 3-2. Until the last half of the ninth, Brooklyn was in front, 2-0. Starter Joe Hatten had held the Redbirds to three-hits up to that point.

Hatten began the last inning by walking Chuck Diering. Enos Slaughter singled Diering to second. Marty Marion, making his first appearance of the season, batted for Steve Bilko and fanned.

Eddie Kazak, another pinch hitter, lined out. One more out to go and the Dodger lefthander would own two straight shutouts. But it never came.

Red Schoendienst singled, scoring Diering. That was all for Hatten. Another pinch hitter, Bill Howerton, faced Willard Ramsdell. Howerton singled to right scoring Slaughter with the tying run as Schoendienst raced to third.

A wild pitch by Ramsdell allowed Schoendienst to cross the plate with the winning run. Hatten was charged with the loss.

Cloyd Boyer, who has taken over the ailing Ted Wilks' relief chores, was the winning pitcher. He relieved Starter Max Lanier in the ninth and kept the Dodgers away from the plate in the one inning he worked.

The victory moved the Cards into a virtual tie for second place, a game and a half behind the front-running Dodgers.

Musial And Mitchell Rate Tops In Major League Batting Race

New York, May 2—(AP)—Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals and Cleveland's sharp-hitting Dale Mitchell top the major leagues in batting.

Musial, who once led a minor league in pitching, has shaken the enigma of a slow start, and is a lusty first in the National League with a .448 batting average.

Mitchell, a six-foot-one O-lahoma, is the No. 1 man in the American League with a .406 mark. Figures, based on 25 times at bat, include games of Sunday, April 30.

Plan Bouts For LaMotta's Title

New York, May 2—(AP)—Boxing circles buzzed with new activity today, most of it centering around middleweight champion Jake LaMotta's rusting crown.

Al Well, matchmaker of the International Boxing Club, said he planned a series of conferences in his lush quarters that may set up a 160-pound title fight for late May or early June.

He said the talks would deal mainly with matchmaker LaMotta against lighter Laurent Dauthuille, the new pride of France, or Sugar Ray Robinson, the welterweight king who wants to move up a notch.

Both Dauthuille and Robinson made menacing gestures last night in the direction of the Bronx belt, who hasn't defended his title since he won it from the late Marcel Cerdan last June.

Dauthuille battered Steve Belloise, veteran New York contender, into submission in the seventh round of a scheduled 10-rounder at Montreal.

He smashed Belloise to the canvas three times in the first two rounds and won an impressive victory. "After Dauthuille hit me and knocked me down in the first round, I don't know what happened to me," the dazed New Yorker explained later.

Rained Out

Greensboro, May 2—(AP)—Rained out here yesterday, North State Conference college golfers hoped to make a belated start today of the conference's second annual tournament.

Action in the 36-hole, medal play is scheduled to be completed tomorrow. The tourney is being held at the Starmount Country Club.

Six colleges are represented—Eion, East Carolina Teachers College, Guilford, High Point, Lenoir Rhyne and Catawba.

Davy Mondy of Eion is the defending champion.

Walcott Signs To Fight German

Camden, N. J., May 2—(AP)—After several months of trans-Atlantic negotiations, Jersey Joe Walcott and Hein Ten Hoff finally have agreed on terms for a 12-round fight at Mannheim, Germany, May 28.

The match was set yesterday when the contract was signed by Felix Bochnich, manager of Walcott, and James Friedman of Beyonne, N. J., representing the C'y of Mannheim and promoter Leo Koenig. Friedman has been practicing law with American occupation personnel in Germany.

Four French kings were born in the old Chateau of Fontainebleau, still standing near Paris.

Wille (Puddin' Head) Jones is fourth with 365 and Pittsburgh's Johnny Hopp fifth with 351.

Jones is the power man. He leads, with most hits, 19, runs batted in 14, and is tied with Roy Campanella of Brooklyn and Wally Westlake of Pittsburgh with four home runs.

Eddie Waitkus, Philadelphia's comeback kid, is tops in runs scored 12. Jackie Robinson of Brooklyn's defending batting champ, is tied with four players for the most doubles, four. Buddy Kerr of Boston and Philadelphia's Del Ennis have two triples each.

Plan Bouts For LaMotta's Title

New York, May 2—(AP)—Boxing circles buzzed with new activity today, most of it centering around middleweight champion Jake LaMotta's rusting crown.

Al Well, matchmaker of the International Boxing Club, said he planned a series of conferences in his lush quarters that may set up a 160-pound title fight for late May or early June.

He said the talks would deal mainly with matchmaker LaMotta against lighter Laurent Dauthuille, the new pride of France, or Sugar Ray Robinson, the welterweight king who wants to move up a notch.

Both Dauthuille and Robinson made menacing gestures last night in the direction of the Bronx belt, who hasn't defended his title since he won it from the late Marcel Cerdan last June.

Dauthuille battered Steve Belloise, veteran New York contender, into submission in the seventh round of a scheduled 10-rounder at Montreal.

He smashed Belloise to the canvas three times in the first two rounds and won an impressive victory. "After Dauthuille hit me and knocked me down in the first round, I don't know what happened to me," the dazed New Yorker explained later.

'South Pacific' And Guthrie Win Pulitzer Prizes

New York, May 2—(AP)—"South Pacific," the smash hit Broadway musical, won the 1950 Pulitzer prize yesterday as the best original American play of the past year.

The drama award was one of 13 similar honors handed down by the prize committee for achievement in newspaper work, letters and music.

The prizes were announced by President Dwight D. Eisenhower of Columbia University.

"South Pacific," the latest success of composer Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein, II, is an adaptation of James A. Michener's book "Tales of the South Pacific," which won a Pulitzer prize of its own for fiction in 1948.

The Rodgers and Hammerstein team received a special Pulitzer award, but no prize, for their earlier musical hit, "Oklahoma," in 1944.

The prizes, which carry grants of $500 each to the individual winners, have been given for the last 33 years under the will of the late newspaper publisher Joseph Pulitzer.

The 1950 prize for fiction went to A. B. Guthrie for his best-selling historical novel, "The Way West."

The prize for meritorious public service by a newspaper was split this year between the Chicago Daily News and the St. Louis Post-Dispatch for their joint stories revealing the presence of 51 Illinois newspapermen on the state payroll.

The articles were written by George Thiem and Roy J. Harris. The prize for the newspapers is a gold medal instead of cash.

Stages Primary Campaign In Jail

Bloomington, Ind., May 2—(AP)—Iron bars won't let Claude Strange, 58, vote today, but he made sure Monroe County voters knew his name remained on the ballot for the Republican nomination for sheriff.

His recorded broadcast to voters last night failed to mention that he's serving 30 days in the jail because he wants to supervise. The charge is public intoxication.

Claims Credit For Bank Holdup

Charlotte, N.C., May 2—(AP)—Charlotte police said today that a young white man had told them he and an accomplice robbed the Northwestern Bank at Maiden April 24. Both Police Chief Frank Littlejohn and FBI Agent Charles W. Brown said they doubted the story. The man was detained without charge while his story was investigated.

An unmasked, armed man robbed the bank of about $1,800 and escaped in an automobile. Only two employees and no customers were in the bank.

National Census Nearly Complete

Washington, May 2—(AP)—The national 1950 population count is about 90 per cent complete and census officials figure about three weeks more will wind up the job.

Before the nose-counting started April 1, they estimated the total will be around 151,000,000 persons, up nearly 20,000,000 from 1940.

A tentative national figure will be put out the end of September. This month and next, tentative figures will be announced for counties and for cities over 10,000.

Mrs. Francis Curry Dies In Norfolk, Va.

Mrs. Dorothy Merritt Curry, 31, died at her home in Norfolk, Va., early Monday morning. Funeral services will be conducted at the Chapel of the S. G. Wilkerson & Sons Funeral Home Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock by the Rev. Leon Russell, pastor of the Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church, and burial will be in Greenwood Cemetery.

Mrs. Curry, a native of Sampson County, came to Greenville when a small child and attended the Greenville city schools. She was married to Francis H. Curry May 5, 1938 and had lived in Norfolk for the past nine years. She was a member of Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church.

Surviving are her husband; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Veteran A. Merritt, Sr.; two brothers, V. A. Jr. and Norris Merritt; and two sisters, Mrs. R. C. Pierce and Mrs. Stephen Waters, all of Greenville.

Stokes Juniors Host To Seniors

The Junior Class of Stokes High school gave the Senior class its annual Junior-Senior banquet Friday night, April 21.

The banquet got underway with a welcome address to the seniors by the president of the junior class, Katherine Taylor, and then a response to the welcome by the president of the senior class, Dennis Williamson. Immediately after the welcome addresses were made, invocation was given by Mr. John I. Gray, chairman of the school board.

The waiters were chosen from the freshman class and they were as follows: Fletcher Wilson, Warren Whitehurst, Mac James, and one sophomore, Marshall Whitehurst.

After everyone was through eating the guest speaker, Mr. Sam Bundy of Farmville gave a talk and entertained those present.

After Mr. Bundy was through speaking, Helen Futrell, entertainment chairman, started the entertainment with a leg show. "Four couples" were chosen and the men had to take their shoes off and roll up their pants legs and get behind a sheet, then the ladies had to come by and pick out their husbands or boy friend.

Afterwards, dancing was enjoyed. Guests of honor were Mr. and Mrs. John I. Gray, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Conley, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Perkins, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Nobles, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Toothman, Mr. and Mrs. William Stokes, Mr. J. B. Congleton, Jr., Mrs. J. B. Congleton, Sr. Mr. and Mrs. June Tripp, and Mr. Truman Cherry and Miss Marie Smith.

Mr. Truman Cherry, the junior class sponsor, and the junior class decorated the gymnasium with white and blue crepe paper, the school colors.

Mr. J. D. Whitford, principal of Stokes high, and Mrs. Whitford could not attend because of illness.

arms for tools." That's what Edward A. Wayne, vice president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond, declared here today in an address prepared for delivery before the 10th annual meeting of the Southern Association of Science and Industry. Wayne cited a 1946 survey which showed that the South had 10 industrial research scientists for each 10,000 wage earners, as compared with a national average of 52. This means, Wayne said, that the South has been losing economic opportunities for lack of ideas producible in research laboratories. A 1946 survey showed that the South is improving its research position, Wayne said, but facilities still are woefully inadequate.

As examples of Southern progress he pointed out several industrial research institutes which the SASI has been instrumental in establishing. He pointed also to the rapid spread of research activity within Southern industrial firms. "All of this is fine," Wayne asserted, "for its effect is cumulative and assures us of a bright future." But, he went on, we are not yet doing the job we need to do. The Association which is composed largely of business leaders interested in development of the South opened its two-day meeting yesterday. Delegates elected Paul W. Chapman, associate dean of the College of Agriculture, University of Georgia, as president.

Florida Primary Results Seen Affecting N. C. Vote

By LYNN NISBET
Raleigh, May 2—There has been considerable speculation among the politically minded as to what influence, if any, result of the primary elections this week in Alabama and Florida will have on the North Carolina senatorial contest. Special attention is accorded Florida, because the issues in the contest between Senator Claude Pepper and Challenger George Smathers are so similar to those involved in the race between Senator Frank Graham and Willis Smith in this state.

A few Tar Heels express the view that a Pepper victory will mean big help to Senator Graham. That a Smathers victory will indicate a trend toward conservatism that will react in favor of Smith.

Majority opinion around capitol square seems to be that the result of the Florida contest will be unimportant in affecting North Carolina votes, but that getting the Florida election out of the way will substantially help Senator Graham.

Reasoning behind this conclusion is that national administration and labor union forces have concentrated on re-nomination of Senator Pepper. Not so much because they regard Senator Pepper a more valuable asset to their cause than Senator Graham, but because the Florida decision had to be made first. Theory is that, win or lose in Florida, the administration forces will be free to put all they've got behind Senator Graham. The situation has been compared to that prevailing in this state with respect to fillings for local county and legislative offices. Both Graham and Smith managers have named campaign leaders since April 15 they would not have dared name before the lists for county and legislative candidates were completed.

Experienced political observers expect the North Carolina senatorial campaign to move faster now. There will be more enthusiasm and more determination, and which side manifests which attitude will depend upon confirmed results of the Florida voting.

New Minimum Wage Level Approved By Textile Union

Boston, May 2—(AP)—A proposal that the national minimum wage be increased to $1 an hour today had the approval of the 400,000-member CIO Textile Workers Union holding a week-long convention here.

The resolution, the first of about 40 to be discussed by the nearly 2,000 delegates, was passed unanimously at the opening session yesterday without a dissenting vote.

The resolution said: "We never considered the 75-cent minimum wage adequate. The increase over the old 40-cent rate was not equivalent to the rise in the cost of living or to the rise in general wages won by organized workers in industry."

"Nor does 75 cents an hour yield an income enough for even a subsistence budget. It was a rate designed to facilitate the adjustment of substandard industries to a more adequate wage level."

Still to come before the convention is a resolution calling for passage of a federal law which would boost unemployment payments up to a maximum of 50 percent of weekly wages and for extension of benefits up to a full year.

The resolve says "unemployment has fallen like a blight upon many textile areas, bringing hardships upon thousands of workers and their families through no fault of their own."

It continued that "we recognize that the only sound, long-range solution to the unemployed problem is an economy which provides jobs for all — but pending the achievement of this end, the workers who are victims of economic changes must be given far better protection than they get today."

Solve Problems Of New Airlift

Fort Bragg, N. C., May 2—(AP)—Exercise swarmer's varied problems are being ironed out faster than expected. As a result, army officials say, the mock war may be called to halt before the middle of next week.

Ordinary the operation was scheduled to end then.

Since last Friday, D-day, when troops were parachuted behind enemy lines to set up a pocket, they have been entirely supplied by air.

That air support problem, which closely resembles the Berlin airlift. In the crux of the operation which involves about 60,000 air force and army men.

That seems to be going better than expected. As of yesterday 10,332 air-lifted tons had been brought in for the troops since D-Day. The target was 8,310 tons.

And ground troops have been steadily expanding their pocket behind the mythical enemy lines.

Boost In Freight Rate Is Refused

Raleigh, N. C., May 2—(AP)—A proposed boost in truck freight rates has been denied by the utilities commission. It ordered the present rate schedule continued until Oct. 25.

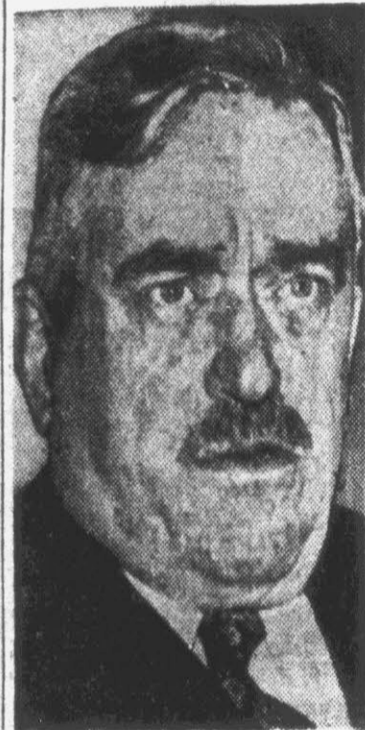

The commission said yesterday that a proposal to increase the minimum charge for cargoes from $1.25 to $1.50 seemed injurious to public interest. The increase, proposed about a month ago, would have become effective tomorrow.

The truckers themselves deferred for 30 days plans to change rates in cigarette paper. The proposal would amount to a rate cut.

The truck-line operators had planned to reduce the minimum weight required for truck-load rates on cigarette paper from 36,000 to 25,000 pounds. The change would apply to shipments from the Ecusta Paper Company plant near Brevard to tobacco manufacturing centers. Railroads, opposing the proposal, protested that truckers planned to carry equipment used in handling the paper free on return trips to the Ecusta plant.

Another resolution scheduled for action calls for a federal 30-hour work week if no other solution can be found for full employment.

Nearly $6 Million Loss In Wrecks During March

Raleigh, May 2— Highway accidents cost citizens of North Carolina nearly six million dollars in March, the North Carolina Department of Motor Vehicles reported today.

In estimating the loss, the Department used a National Safety Council formula, which takes into account the cost of medical and funeral expenses, insurance payments, the time lost from work, and property damage.

Eighty-eight persons were killed during the month, the highest death toll for March since 1941, when 96 persons were killed. In addition 906 persons were injured and 2,130 accidents were reported.

The March fatality figure represented an increase of 33 over the previous month and 34, or 63 per cent, over March of 1949. Injuries were up 291 or 7 per cent, while reported accidents increased 651 or 44 per cent.

East Germany's Trains Slowing

BERLIN —(AP)— East-German Communists have reached the nail-biting stage over the way the railway system stumbles along. A report says that bureaucracy and red tape are the major stumbling blocks.

An example is a railway station in Halle which stands exactly astride two "administrative districts." On one side of the office clerk and other employees dispatch trains and do the work for one district. Across the floor is another batch. To get a train to move the length of the station, across the line separating the districts, requires hours of paper work.

Howled Down

Tokyo, May 2—(AP)—Kyodo news agency said today Tohoku University students at Sendai howled down an occupation educator who attempted to lecture against Communism.

Dr. W. C. Eels of General MacArthur's civil information and education section was forced to stop after 90 minutes of heckling.

The newspaper Asahi identified the students as members of a Communist cell.

Lumber Orders Boom As Building Maintains Rate

Portland, Ore.—(AP)—The size of this spring's home building boom throughout the United States is indicated by lumber orders pouring in to 103 mills checked by the Western Pine Association.

Orders up to April 15 showed an increase of 24 per cent over the similar period a year ago. Shipments for the same period were up 29 per cent and production increased 16 per cent.

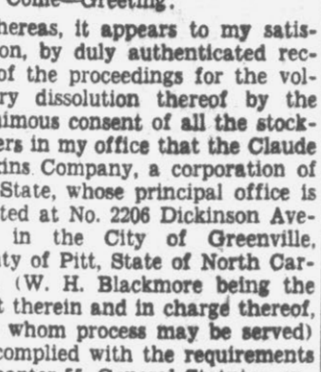

Lumber orders received at the 103 mills up to April 15 totalled 1,023,362,000 board feet compared with 825,084,000 board feet up to April 15, 1949.

Wanted: Young Men Over Sixty

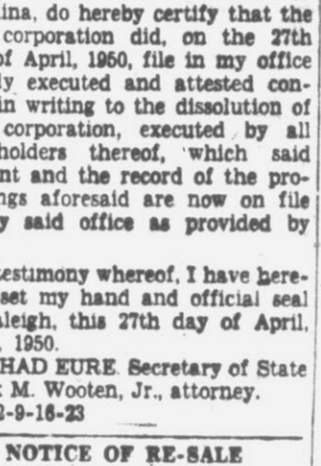

Seaham, England.—(AP)—A druggist here became tired of hiring girl clerks who quit to take other jobs as soon as they learned the work. He decided, as he told reporters later, to "get more dependable assistants." So he advertised for "two young men over 60."

Now he has 32 applications to choose from—all received the first day and a half.

Nursery, Kindergarten Applications Received

Dr. Leo Jenkins, dean of East Carolina Teachers College, yesterday began receiving applications of children for admission to the fall term of the nursery school and kindergarten at ECTC.

Dr. Jenkins said applications for entrance to the nursery school and the kindergarten may be obtained from his office in the college administration building. Applications will be received through May 15, he stated.

Jenkins explained that the enrollment in the nursery school is limited to sixteen children, preferably eight girls and eight boys. In order to be eligible to enter the school next fall, a child must have reached his third birthday and must not have passed his fifth birthday on September 15. Children who are admitted to the nursery school in September will be permitted to continue their work until the school closes in June. The tuition for the school is $24 per quarter, and the school year from September until June is divided into three quarters.

In order to be eligible for entrance to the kindergarten, Jenkins said, children must have reached their fifth birthday and have not passed their sixth birthday on October 1 of the year they plan to enter the school.

The kindergarten enrollment is limited to 20 children—ten boys and ten girls. The tuition to the kindergarten also is $24 per quarter and the school year from September to June is divided into three quarters. The dean of the college pointed out that attendance at the nursery school is no guarantee of admission in the kindergarten. Children are admitted to the kindergarten, he said, on the basis of their applications, with the children being chosen on the basis of the date of their applications.

Bethel Entries Sweep Livestock Contest

Arrests Put Halt To Swine Thefts

A series of hog thefts were terminated last week by the arrests of four Pitt and Martin County Negroes after the sheriff's departments of both counties located hog markets at which the swine were sold.

Arrested were Van R. Page and Erwin Brady, both of the Robertsonville community, and Jim Jenkins, Bethel, and William Andrews of Leans. They appeared before Justice of the Peace H. L. Jenkins in Greenville for a hearing in the larceny of five hogs belonging to Will Manning of the Bethel community and two hogs belonging to Clerk of Superior Court D. T. House of Bethel.

All four were bound over to Superior Court on $750 bond each. Page posted bond and the other three are at present in Martin.

The sheriffs learned last week the Manning hogs were sold on the Rocky Mount market and House's were sold in Greenville.

Andrew and Jenkins are presently serving 60 and 30 days respectively for larceny earlier in the year in Martin County.

Assisting Tyson and Manning were Sheriff Buck Holland and deputies Reebuck and Rawls of Williamson.

Manning's hogs were valued at $175 and House's at $75.

Both sheriff's departments have been working on the thefts for the past 30 days.

Minimum Term

Washington, May 2—(AP)—John Maragon, a one-time hanger-on around the White House, was sentenced today to serve eight months to two years in jail for lying criminally to senate investigators.

Maragon was convicted last Wednesday on two charges of perjury himself about his bank accounts and former job.

Federal Judge Jennings Bailey gave him the minimum sentence of eight months to two years on each count. The judge said he could serve the two sentences at the same time.

The maximum penalty Maragon could have received would have been 40 months to 10 years on each count—but the maximum is seldom imposed.

FFA Contest Is Staged Monday

The second part of the Pitt County Future Farmers of America livestock contest was held at Green Hill Dairy yesterday afternoon with a large number of F. F. A. members in attendance.

The Griffon club won the Best cattle and swine contest, held the latter part of last week, with the contest yesterday afternoon winding up the program.

Nine schools from all over the county were represented at the contest by F. F. A. members.

The winners in the contest yesterday will go to the district contest to be held in Tarboro on May 13. The winner of this contest will go to the state contest, and the winner there moving to the national contest.

The members of the winning team were all from Bethel. They were: Ralph Ford, James Knox, LeRoy White, and S. D. Demar, group advisor. They were presented with a banner.

Negotiators For Chrysler Strike Go Into Recess

Detroit, May 2—(AP)—Negotiators in the stubborn Chrysler strike, now at the start of its 98th day, gave in to exhaustion early today.

But it was only for the time being in the marathon drive to write a full agreement and send 89,000 strikers back to work.

At 4 a. m. (EST) the spent negotiators called a five-hour recess.

Bargainers for management and the CIO United Auto Workers at that time had been in almost constant session for 62 hours.

Neither side had anything to say at the recess as when an agreement might be hammered out. In around-the-clock sessions they had been trying since 2 p. m. Saturday.

The only comment was from Federal Mediator E. Marvin Sconyers who, without elaboration, said "it doesn't look any better."

Issue Chauffers Driving License

Harry Martin, local driver license examiner, announced today that the time to have chauffeur's license renewed is now.

The license examiner stated that the chauffeur's licenses are being issued now in an effort to avoid the deadline of June first. If the people obtain their license now, they will not have to take a road test, but one will be required after the license expires.

Currently the local driving license office is giving driving tests to persons whose last name begin with N, O, P and Q.

Officers Arrest Man and Wife And Confiscate Liquor

ABC Officers J. M. Ward and Claude Manning and Greenville officers Lieut. M. E. Corbett and S. Bowen Dorsey early Sunday arrested Windsor Taft and Julia Taft, colored, at their home, and charged them with possessing for sale a quantity of moonshine whiskey and 16 pints of ABC store liquor.

The case will be tried before Judge J. W. H. Roberts in Police Court next Friday morning.

Police Hold Woman For Postal Inspector

Greenville police are holding in jail Louise Reid, 23, colored, 121-A Railroad street, on the charge of "tampering with United States mail."

A postoffice inspector was expected here this afternoon to take charge of the case. Postmaster J. Knott Proctor stated.

Police said they "had evidence that Louise Reid signed for a registration letter containing $50 and addressed to another person, and spent the money." She was arrested at her home yesterday.

Relieve Monthly Distress

Before Pain Starts

Sounds almost impossible, doesn't it. Yet tests prove that many women who take Cardui a few days before painful periods get happy relief and sometimes suffer no cramps at all. You see, monthly distress is commonly due to spasms of the uterus. By helping control these spasms Cardui has aided thousands of joyful women escape this monthly ordeal. See if Cardui doesn't surprise you, maybe get you by those awful days in wonderful style. It's certainly worth trying! Ask your doctor.

Ladies Night For Local Rotarians

Rotarians and their Rotary Annex held their annual ladies night last night in the North dining hall at East Carolina Teachers College with J. B. Kittrell, Jr. serving as master of ceremonies. Presentation of guests was about the only sane thing that occurred during the evening—unless favors for the ladies might qualify as sanity.

Leon Roebuck, James Keel, Floyd Hendrix and Sherman Parks were called upon for speeches on the subject of "Why Rotarians Make the Best Husbands." In the interest of time—or pandemonium—the four addresses were delivered simultaneously.

Expliciting puns, quips and repartee Jay Kittrell offered toasts in rhymed verse for the wives present and then Leon Roebuck, Russell Herbert Waldrop, Erskine Duff, Lyman Ormond, and Bancroft Moseley.

Next came a learned address on Love by Professor M. T. Nutt of Cuckoo College (Alton Johnston), dressed in professorial robes and cap. To climax his speech he found a man in the audience who claimed to know women. To that man was given the highest honors of Cuckoo College—a dubiously inscribed medal. The man who knew women was Leon Roebuck—he said his wife was not there; so, he could claim he knew women.

Ernell Webb perpetrated an experiment in "psychometry" calculated to discover or prove something—maybe that all men are liars but some tell 'em bigger.

Harold Thomas carried on a quiz program for a few of the ladies present resulting in a remarkable locuity indicating an apophoristic trend in the participants wording.

In conclusion Bancroft Moseley led the group in the singing of some old familiar songs bringing to the spotlight for one brief number a quartet composed of J. H. Rose, J. H. Blount, Ollie VanNortwick, Jr. and J. W. Overton.

Guests of the club last night were Kiwanis President and Mrs. Tige Gardner, Exchange Club President S. O. Worthington and Miss Lina Worthington, Lions President and Mrs. Ernie Willis. Also presented to the Rotarians, wives and guests were Dr. Howard McGinnis who the Greenville Club is promoting for the honor of District Governor of the 279th District of Rotary International, and Floyd F. Hendrix who is taking over as president of the Rotary Club in July. Bob Thompson managed the drawing for prizes and he found P. A. Toll and Mrs. Lindsey Wilkerson winners.

Marriage Licenses

Pitt County Register of Deeds Charles P. Gaskins issued marriage licenses to the following couples during the past week:

White—J. Z. Garris and Elsie Ruth Stocks of Greenville; Donald B. Briley and Julie H. Griffin; James R. Stocks of Greenville and Alice Jean McLawhorn of Ayden.

Colored—Herbert Corey and Annie Belle Esau of Greenville; Floyd Wilson and Bernice Latham of Greenville; Robert Lee Jones and Bessie Harris of Fountain; Joseph Wilks and Elnora Dixon of Greenville.

Cases Heard In Police Court

In Police Court Monday, Judge J.W.H. Roberts disposed of the following cases:

Henry Lee Gray, colored, convicted of assault on a female, Bertha Gray, colored, was fined $15 and ordered to move from the premises of the prosecuting witness. He was forbidden to go on the prosecuting witness' premises for one year.

David H. House, colored, improper brakes, paid $10 and costs and hospital bill.

Drunk: Willie J. Johnson, colored, 30 days or $15; George Brown, colored, $15; Heber C. Sutton, $15; James M. Keyes, colored, $15.

Speeding: Willie J. Brown, colored, prayer for judgment continued; Edmond L. Smith, $20; Moses Moore, $20.

Otis Lee Adams, driving drunk, $100 and costs and his driver's license was ordered revoked for a year. Adams was placed on probation for two years.

Tom McLawhorn, colored, was not guilty of forcible trespass or damaging personal property.

Thomas Barnhill, colored, no operator's license, $50.

We'll Tell You The Story See Friday's Issue

He refused to appear, was cited for contempt, was found guilty in federal court, and got the maximum sentence: one year in jail and a fine of $1,000. He appealed but was turned down yesterday by the Supreme court.

So he'll have to serve his sentence. Meanwhile, since 1947 he and 10 other party leaders were found guilty in federal court of conspiracy to teach overthrow of the government. Each got five years.

And, meanwhile, Thomas-Feeney himself was shown to be a fraud. He was found guilty in federal court of defrauding the government on his payrolls and now is serving a sentence of six to 18 months.

American . . .

(Continued from page one) said he wanted the real name. It was a beautiful chance to Dennis to spring a sensation and take the play away from Thomas by saying something like: "I'll tell r. real name. It is Francis Xavier Waldron. Now you tell the people Mr. Thomas, that your real name is J. Parnell Feeney."

Instead, Dennis shouted his name was Dennis, Thomas shouted he wanted Dennis' real name, and the hearing broke up without Dennis having a chance to read his statement, which was why he had come here in the first place.

So the stories went out and, instead of sharing the headlines with Thomas-Feeney, Dennis and his party looked silly. Immediately, Dennis called a news conference and there related that Thomas' name was Feeney.

Remember, Dennis asked to testify before the committee. But when he balked on his name, the committee ordered him to return on April 9 and answer questions. The committee was telling him now. He wasn't asking.
