

Report Progress On Enlarging Of Power Stations

Two Uptown Transformer Sub-Stations Will Give Better Service In Area

Progress on enlargement of two power plant sub-stations in the heart of the Greenville business district is coming along very well, Marvin Swartz at the Greenville Water and Light office reported today.

The two transformer sub-stations are located on Fourth Street, by Rose's store and Bloun-Harvey's. Swartz stated that the present sub-stations were equipped with three 100 KVA power transformers which were unable to properly handle the load of the up-town business district, and are being replaced.

When the sub-stations are finished they will be fitted with a new 400 KVA transformer which will be able to better take care of the needs of the business section, Swartz said. Temporary units are set up by the transformer stations at the present time, while the underground stations are enlarged. Work crews from Charlotte are handling the local construction and will install the equipment.

The new transformers are being water-proofed in order that they may withstand any flood conditions which might arise in the underground units, keeping them in service at all times.

The job is expected to be completed by the first of June. The enlargement of the two units is the first step in a proposed expansion program in the up-town section to provide better service for the business houses.

Proposed underground sub-stations will be built at a future date in several sections of the city. The underground sub-stations offer the most modern equipment in power distribution such as is found only in the larger cities, Swartz stated.

Gastins said this morning his office, the sheriff's office, auditor's office and the Pitt Board of Education office will be closed all day. All ABC stores will be closed, too.

However, the county agent's home demonstration and Health Department offices will remain open, Gastins said.

All city of Greenville offices will be closed all day Saturday.

Letting A Crisis Rest

Big Three Foreign Ministers' Decision Not To Press Action On Situation Involving China; Possible Interpretation; Hope To Bring Russia Back Into UN

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER

Lake Success—The decision of the Big Three foreign ministers in London against acting now in the China crisis in the United Nations is said by a United Nations diplomat to mean three things: 1. The West in effect is telling Nationalist China to take it easy and not press in the U.N. Little Assembly its charges that the Soviet Union is a threat to the peace of the Far East. The West is opposed to antagonizing Russia further at his time. 2. In return for letting the Nationalist China charges against the Soviet Union rest quietly in a U.N. pigeonhole, the West will not support at present any move by any source to oust Nationalist China from the U.N. This interpretation was voiced as the Soviet Union ran to 28 the number of U.N. bodies hit by the Russian walkout strike against Nationalist China.

Russian Delegate Pavel Charyshev walked out of the U.N. Population Commission yesterday while the Soviet Ukraine, which does not have a delegate in New York anyway, sent a message saying it would not attend the meeting. The China case in the U.N. involves the question of which regime shall represent the Chinese here. The Nationalist government of Chiang Kai-shek, whose delegate, T. F. Tsiang sits here, claims it is the only elected government of China. The Chinese Communist regime of Peiping has demanded the expulsion of Tsiang and a seat in the U.N. for its delegates, who so far have not attempted to enter the United States and come to the U.N. headquarters. Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Jakob A. Malik walked out of the Security Council in January because the council would not expel Tsiang. In dreary succession the Russians and their followers have walked out of or boycotted other U.N. organs as they met. Sixteen of the 59 U.N. members have recognized the Peiping regime. They are: the Soviet Union, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia, India, Burma, Pakistan, Britain, Denmark, Norway, Israel, Sweden, Afghanistan, White Russia, the Soviet Ukraine and the Netherlands. The United States has announced it will not vote to seat a Red delegate but it will accept the de-

Explosions Continue In South Amboy Dock Area

A new fire blazes up Sunday in 20 tons of phosphorus near the plant of the American Agricultural Chemical Company which was shattered in the deadly explosion at South Amboy, N. J., Friday night. The blaze set off scores of land mines in the South Amboy dock area. Army demolition officers, combing the area with mine detectors, said blasts would continue for another day or so before the waterfront is safe. Twenty-seven persons perished and hundreds were injured in Friday night's explosion of 600 tons of ammunition loaded aboard barges. (AP Wirephoto).

Pitt Schools Graduate 224 Seniors On Closing

No Summer School In Rural Areas, Making It A Real Vacation; Building Plans Progressing Says Conley

Summer vacation officially begins today for all school children of Pitt County schools. Last night wound up the 1949-50 school year for all schools when 10 held graduation exercises for a combined total of 224 seniors. That is 36 more graduates ready for college or work than the number graduated last year—188. Farmville high school led the rest of the county schools with 43 seniors receiving diplomas last night. Last year Farmville graduated 25. Ayden on the other hand graduated 16 last night, the smallest class in the history of the school, Principal E. F. Johnson reported today. Last year the class numbered 36, highest in the county.

So, scholastically speaking, education will take a general holiday throughout the county from now until the first of September. There will be no summer school for students in the rural areas. Thus, there will be nothing for a student delinquent in his work during the past year to worry about so far as making it up over the summer months is concerned. Meanwhile, building plans for the county school buildings are progressing as rapidly as can be expected, Superintendent D. H. Conley said today. Plans for the construction of an elementary school at Fountain and a new high school at Ayden have been approved by the director of school house planning in Raleigh. The plans will have to be approved by the North Carolina Board of Education, which will be done June 1. Bids will be let after that, Conley said.

Aside from those two building projects, nothing new in construction will be undertaken this summer except general renovations in several schools. Grimesland white high school will have an over-all face lifting this summer. Conley said, with this summer, Conley said, along with Farmville white school which will have new lighting facilities installed. Renovations began at Winterville white high school yesterday. Other renovations will concern only minor repairs, such as plastering, painting and new furniture in the classroom. Additions to the present 110 buses in the county have been requested by the county school board of the County Commissioners. Plans now call for five more to add to the present 25 for colored school use next fall.

There will be headaches next fall caused by vacancies in teaching positions, Conley said. Right now the number of expected vacancies is the lowest since 1940 with only five fall positions unfilled. However, he said, those will be filled in the next week or ten days. During one of the war years there were 75 vacancies among the schools of the county which was an all-time high. School bus safety enjoyed one of its better years, Conley stated, with one accident this year. The only other occurrence to mar the safety record was the near-asphyxiation of 14 passengers riding to school in Bevoir earlier this year. However, none contracted the gases and none was treated for internal poisoning.

Sec. Acheson Will Give Lawmakers Secret Report

Washington, May 23—(AP)—Secretary of State Acheson will give Congress a secret report next week on the work of the Atlantic Pact conference in London. Senate Democratic Leader Lucas, announcing this today, said the entire membership of both houses will be invited to hear Acheson at a closed meeting May 31 (11:30 a.m. EST) in the auditorium of the Library of Congress.

Lucas made the announcement after a White House conference of congressional leaders with President Truman. He said the President told them that Acheson would like to make a report to Congress members and answer questions. Acheson is en route home by boat from London where he has been conferring with foreign ministers of the Atlantic treaty nations on ways to make the pact more effective. Lucas said the secretary will return this weekend and report to Mr. Truman before appearing at the congressional meeting.

War And Politics Blamed For U.S. Water Shortage

No Long Range Shortage; Troubles Lie In Means For Bringing In Water

Philadelphia, May 23—(AP)—The war and politics were blamed today for the nation's widespread water shortages.

Such was the view expressed by several experts attending the American Water Works Association convention which is trying to help American cities get all the pure water they need.

Summing up a widely held opinion midway of the five-day meeting, Harry E. Jordan of New York, association secretary, put it this way in an interview: "Actually, as will be explained many times at the convention, there is intrinsically no long range water shortage. The real shortage is in the facilities for bringing water to the people."

"The major cause of this situation was the war," he said "Water works projects during the war years, because required materials were hard to get or could not be obtained at all. The country's whole effort naturally was directed toward production and uses of material demanded for victory in the field."

"But another factor in our failure to keep water supply abreast the growth of population lies in administrative faults and neglect at local levels. Here we find that administrative officials all too often do not press for the development of water works programs which have been recommended by engineers. Why is that so? Well, no doubt because the programs aren't considered politically expedient."

"So far as the war-imposed curtailments are concerned," he went on, "We can only work hard to make up lost ground as fast as possible."

"Last year $207,000,000 was spent on new construction. It is not enough. We need to increase that figure by another $100,000,000 a year for the next ten years."

"The urgency of the problem is indicated by the fact that more and more Americans are moving to the cities. This accelerating transition from rural to urban living makes it increasingly necessary for us to put our national water systems in proper order—and that means looking carefully to the future."

"Too many people seem to overlook the obvious—that water is not like coal or like a commodity turned out of a factory. You don't dig it, and you don't make it. You get it in God's good time. And if you are smart you take care of it when it comes. You develop supplies beyond normal requirements against the seasons when rainfall and snow are skimpy."

New Ministry In Czech Cabinet

Prague, Czechoslovakia, May 23—(AP)—The Communist-controlled Czechoslovak cabinet decided today to set up a new ministry—the Ministry of National Security—with Ladislav Koppitz as the Minister.

The setting up of the new Ministry by the Czechoslovak government probably is a phase of the recent government shakup in which defences. Minister Ludvik Svoboda was replaced by the Ardent Communist Alexei Cepicka, son-in-law of President Klement Gottwald.

Reorganization Plan Wins Test

Washington, May 23—(AP)—The House today upheld President Truman's plan for the reorganization of the Commerce Department. A vote of 43 to 29 defeated a resolution by Senator Wiley (R-Wis) to kill the plan. Votes were slated later in the day on two other plans, both dealing with the general services administration.

The Senate is up against a midnight deadline for action on the 21 plans that President Truman sent to Capitol Hill last March 13. Mr. Truman submitted the 21 plans in the aftermath of a long study by a bi-partisan commission headed by former President Hoover. Opponents of some of the Truman plans said they went beyond the Hoover committee backing the Hoover reorganization ideas endorsed 20 of the 21, taking no stand on one to reorganize the National Labor Relations board. This plan has been rejected.

The first five plans to come before the senate were killed off in the space of two weeks. Then, in an about face, senators last Friday endorsed the plan to abolish the Independent Maritime Commission. They followed the new trend yesterday by endorsing, in effect, plans for the Federal Trade and Power Commissions.

Trygve Lie Carries His Peace Mission To Paris

London, May 23—(AP)—Trygve Lie arrived from Paris today to continue the second round of his "Save-the-UN" talks with British government leaders, including Prime Minister Attlee and Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin. Commenting on speculation about Lie's talks with French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman, the French foreign office said it knew nothing about published reports that Lie had submitted memoranda to the Big Four powers calling for a 20-year peace program.

Reports on both sides of the Atlantic had said the secretary general suggested a meeting of the U.S., Britain, France and Russia as a prelude to a special Security Council session to handle the question of China's representation in the U.N. Soviet delegates have been boycotting U.N. bodies because of the presence of Communist Chinese representatives. Lie proposed the 20-year peace program in March, in a speech before the National B.N.I. British convention in Washington. In that speech he suggested that top diplomats meet within the framework of the U.N. Security Council with such a peace program in mind, in attendance.

Mail Order To Stand

Despite Congressional Sputtering And Sparks Over Post Office Rule Cutting Down Mail Service, They've Done Nothing To Block It; Review Of Events

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, May 23—(AP)—Some Congressmen still splutter over the new post office rule cutting down mail service. But they have done nothing effective to stop it. Chances are they won't. This is a fill-in for anyone lost in the cries of pain and purple protests. This year Jesse M. Donaldson, Postmaster General, told the house appropriations committee how much money the P. O. needed. The committee said he could do with less. But it gave him free advice. Economize, it said. How? By cutting down the number of daily deliveries to homes in cities and residential areas. (It's the committee's job to tell the full house, which has final say, how much the P. O. needs. Donaldson asked $2,235,607,000 for another year. The committee cut this $28,107,000 to $2,207,500,000. (Even what Donaldson asked wouldn't cover P. O. expenses. It runs in the red every year. That's taken for granted. Every year it's just a question of how much it will run in the red.) So Donaldson took the committee's advice. On April 18 he issued an order. It was to start immediately in full force by June 30. It affects city home-dwellers most. The purpose of the order: To save on manpower, thus save on pay. The new order won't change the present one-a-day delivery to farm homes. The P. O. has about 500,000 employees, divided this way: 1. About 350,000 full time regular employees. They've passed civil service examinations. The remaining 150,000 include: 2. Classified employees. That is those who work part time, have passed their exams, are awaiting regular P. O. jobs. 3. Substitutes. Those who work part time as needed but have not passed an exam to become regulars. P. O. officials say the order will affect groups No. 2 and 3 but not No. 1. But what will this do to the letter carrier who, if you live in a residential area, used to deliver your mail twice a day? Donaldson says it will mean less walking for him, explaining: The average city mail carrier walking his route twice a day covered nine miles. Now, walking only (Continued on page eight)

Accuse Russia Of Creating German Military Force; Protests Charge Violation Of Postwar Pledges With Action; Express 'Grave Concern'

Washington, May 23—(AP)—The United States, Britain and France accused Russia today of creating a 50,000-man German military force and called on the Soviets to disband it.

The three Western powers sent separate protests to Moscow saying Russia had broken its postwar pledges by establishing a police force in Eastern Germany with—as the American note phrased it—"the character of an army."

The United States note called on Russia to prove its "pacific intentions" by dissolving the "militarized units" immediately.

In making it public, the State Department said British and French notes took the same general line.

Expressing "grave concern" at Russia's action, the American note said the Soviets have "destroyed world confidence in the sincerity" of their repeated protestations of peaceful intentions.

It cited five specific Soviet written agreements against militarizing Germany, including the promises made at Yalta February 11, 1945.

The three-power decision to send protests to Moscow was reached at the London conference of the Big Three foreign ministers—Secretary of State Acheson, British Foreign Minister Bevin and French Foreign Minister Schuman.

The notes went to Moscow at a time when a week-end of possible crisis in East-West relations in Germany is approaching.

Communist youths from the Soviet zone have laid plans for a march and demonstration in Berlin next Sunday. West Berlin's Mayor Ernst Reuter has warned Russia his sector will "defend its freedom" against any effort to "suddenly overrun Berlin."

The United States note said the German force: "It is not an ordinary police force, and it does not have ordinary police duties."

"It receives basic infantry, artillery, and armored training, and is equipped with military weapons including machine guns, howitzers, anti-aircraft cannon, mortars, and tanks."

"It must be regarded, therefore, as a military force."

The American note also said that by creating the force Russia has "destroyed world confidence in the sincerity of its promises" and aroused world-wide doubt "as to its pacific intentions."

"In releasing the note, the State Department made available to reporters additional data on the East German police force. This said the force was created in August, 1949 under General Inspector Wilhelm Zaisser.

It said this "military force" was made up of 39 beretschhaften (alert units) to train enlisted personnel and at least 11 officer training schools.

"The force is armed with standard German infantry weapons, but its military capabilities are at present negligible," the memorandum said.

"However, in the future it could form the nucleus of a new German army or an internal security force to maintain Communist control."

These statements also were made: There is a direct chain of command from General Zaisser to General-Major Petrakovsky of the Soviet control commission in Germany. Russian supervision of the units is carried out by assigning a Russian field officer to each beretschhaft and officer's school.

Mr. Harrington, son of the late Job and Priscilla Flake Harrington, spent all his life in Pitt county. He was a farmer until about 10 years ago when declining health forced his retirement. His wife, the former Alice Moye, died in 1944, and he had made his home since then with his son. He was the oldest surviving member of Piney Grove Free Will Baptist Church.

Surviving are a son; three daughters, Mrs. J. E. Brewer of Greenville; Mrs. Willie E. Bell of Belvoir; and Mrs. W. R. Baker of Bethel; 15 grandchildren and 8 great-grandchildren and a sister, Mrs. Wyatt Meeks of Greenville.

The British have abstained in votes on ousting the Chinese "here, contending the time has not come for a decision in the U.N. The French hold a key vote, but informed sources here say the French have not definitely decided what to do. The French were said to be "paralyzed" because the Reds recognized the Moscow puppet Ho Chi Minh's regime in Indochina, thus making it impossible for the French to give diplomatic recognition to the Chinese Reds.
The London conference of foreign ministers was awaited here as some indication of a break. The decision against acting dashed those hopes.

Explorer Scouts Special Guests Of Camp LeJeune

The Explorers of the East Carolina Boy Scout Council were special guests of Camp LeJeune, May 19 and 20. Two hundred and eighteen Explorers and their advisors came from thirteen of the fifteen districts in the Council.

Major General Franklin A. Hart, Commanding General of the 2nd Marine Division and Marine Barracks, officially invited the Explorers from Boy Scout Troops, Explorer Posts, Ships and Squadrons. In General Hart's absence the Explorers were welcomed by Deputy Chief of Staff Brig. General Seldon. The program was developed and led by Scout Project Officer Chaplain Sassaman and Lt. Commander William Perry, who is the Active Scoutmaster of Camp LeJeune's own Boy Scout Troop No. 90 aided by representatives of the Executive Staff of the East Carolina Council, including the new Council Executive, Ralph Mozo, William Wall, Jack Hogarth and H. L. Owen, Jr. The Explorers were met at the main gate of Camp LeJeune by Marine buses at 10:00 a.m. They went to the Rifle range where the Southeastern Pistol matches for 1950 were just being completed and the marines were firing for qualification. Lt. S. H. Jarnigan and his staff did a fine job of explaining all the different types of personnel arms used by the marines and answering the many questions asked by the Explorers. Lunch was furnished by the Mess Hall at the Rifle range. The group then went to Onslow Beach where Col. Brown gave a demonstration of artillery and rocket fire power. One of the high points for many of the Explorers was the full hour swim at Onslow's Beach. The training film "Survival in the Jungle" vividly demonstrated many of the skills learned by Explorers. After barracks were cleaned the Explorers and leaders planned their Council Wide Explorer events for 1950-51 to supplement their own

Unit and District programs. Three outstanding events were selected for recommendation to the Council Activities Committee. They were a swimming meet at the Council Camp, Camp Charles; a cruise from Washington on Pamlico Sound to Roanoke Island with an overnight camp and an opportunity to study the Lost Colony and visit Kitty Hawk and Kill Devil Hill. The third which was voted for unanimously was a five or seven day encampment at Cherry Point with an opportunity to study Air Explorer and Aviation Skills. The huge Armed Forces Day parade of the 2nd Marine Division was a high point of the final day in spite of the drizzling rain. As a fitting close all the Explorers visited the beautiful chapel on the base on their way out. Explorers and leaders from Greenville and Winterville coming from the Pitt District, included: Bill Drum, scoutmaster; J. B. Newman, assistant scoutmaster; and scouts Jimmy Pleasant, Ronald Duffin, John Russell, Ray Evans, Dicky Newell, Cleith Oakley, Robert E. Cole and Johnnie Stox. Unions Combine For Negotiations Boston, May 23—(AP)—Labor history was made today as AFL, CIO and Independent locals of newspaper unions banded together to demand city-wide agreements on pensions, health and welfare. Representatives of eleven editorial, mechanical, mailers and teamster unions formed a joint council to negotiate with publishers of the city's eight daily papers. Council chairman John Thompson said the move marked the first time that various newspaper workers' unions had combined for negotiations. The council, he said, speaks for 4,200 of the city's approximately 5,000 employed in all departments of local papers. The council demanded: 1 Monthly pensions of $175, exclusive of social security, at the age of 65. 2 Sick and disability payments. 3 $4,000 life insurance. 4 Accidental death and dismemberment insurance up to $8,000. 5 Hospital insurance.

Inductions Soon?

Indianapolis, May 23—(AP)—Draft inductions may be necessary soon, says the nation's selective service director, because military enlistments have been slumping. Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey said yesterday that manpower experts in Washington are worrying about the recruiting slump. He was here inspecting the selective service organization. However, Gen. Hershey said no inductions will be ordered until after Congress has taken action on extending the peacetime draft law beyond June 24.

Nobody Knows Just Who Brought New York's Rain

New York, May 23—(AP)—Who's making New York City's rain these days—a Harvard professor or old Mother Nature? They tried to thrash that question out last night for the umpteenth time and got the same old answer—nobody knows. But it has been raining a lot lately, slowly filling the big city's long-parched reservoirs and making the city fathers dance for joy. Maybe it's just a coincidence, but during most of that time the city's $100-a-day official rainmaker Dr. Wallace E. Howell of Harvard, has been attacking the local rain clouds with scientific wizardry from above and below. But if the city fathers are dancing, a lot of other folk are plain hopping mad. Some of them are worried farmers in the watershed area. Some believe in civic groups worrying about possible floods. Others are resort owners whose crowds have turned sour during the long wet spring. One New Jersey amusement park on the Hudson river pallsades has even gone so far as to hire two "anti-rainmakers" at a (reported) salary of $500 a day to keep Howell's flood away from their door. Their success so far is open to question, but it hasn't hurt the park's publicity any. Dr. Howell himself was put on the griddle last night at a meeting of the Hudson valley division of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers. The Engineers threw the meeting open to farm groups and local mayors. They all asked the same question "I wish I knew the answer," the modest professor told them. All along, Howell has held to a strict "maybe" on the success of his efforts in seeding the clouds with dry ice from airplanes or silver iodide smoke from the ground. But he did deny altering the weather as far away as New Jersey and Pennsylvania—which also have had several wet weeks. He also denied causing any flood risk.

An Open Suggestion To The Police Department

We have a suggestion to make to the Greenville police department. It is not in the form of criticism, but a proposal which we feel may help the congested traffic situation in the city.

Saturdays in downtown Greenville almost without exception find cars moving with difficulty between the stop lights on our principal streets.

These traffic lights are timed to take a certain flow of traffic, and apparently have not been adapted to the heavy traffic along Greenville's streets on Saturday.

We would like to see the police department take its three best traffic policemen on a Saturday afternoon and place one of them at Five Points, one at the intersection of Evans and Fourth Streets and one at the intersection of Evans and Third Streets. Turn off the traffic lights on Evans Street, and let these policemen keep the traffic flowing as it should be.

The traffic lights have shown that they are inadequate for handling the Saturday traffic in an efficient manner. We believe these policemen could do a much better job, and have much less congestion.

News Behind The News

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, May 23—President Truman has broken his self-imposed rule of non-interference in local party politics to swing White House influence behind Senator Frank P. Graham in the distinguished educator's May 27th primary fight in North Carolina. That will be the next serious test of Truman strength below the Mason and Dixon Line.

President Truman and Democratic National Chairman William Boyle Jr. are especially anxious to avoid another debacle like that they suffered when Fair Dealer Claude Pepper was defeated in the Florida primary a few weeks ago.

Although a far more respected and admired figure on Capitol Hill, the former president of North Carolina University has been a devoted supporter of Roosevelt-Truman "liberalism."

OPPOSITION—He faces powerful opposition in Willis Smith, a Raleigh lawyer, who has denounced "Truman socialism" in his speeches. Mr. Smith has been a former Speaker of the North Carolina House of Representatives, former president of the American Bar Association and an observer at the Nuremberg trials. He has numerous legal, insurance and industrial connections, as well as a World War I association with the American Legion.

As in Florida where most of the press backed victorious Representative George A. Smathers, the state's leading newspapers favor Mr. Graham's opponent. It is distinctly a liberal versus conservative lineup, which is the principal reason why the White House has intervened in numerous ways.

PLUM—President Truman has also seized on the Graham-Smith struggle to show by actions rather than words his bitter dislike of such southern "obstructionists" as former Secretary of State James F. Byrnes of South Carolina, Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia and Senator Walter F. George of Georgia, three of the nation's most prominent anti-Truman Democrats.

In his effort to renominate and reelect Senator Graham, Mr. Truman has tossed many politically important favors in the North Carolinian's direction. The most recent and controversial prize was the award of a surplus Navy floating drydock to Wilmington, N.C., as a source of employment and revenue to that port.

The fight to obtain this facility for the repair of ships had embroiled several states. Now located in California waters, it was wanted by several coastal cities in that area.

The ports of Norfolk, Va., and Charleston, S.C., also coveted the plum, and Savannah, Ga., could have used it. However, it was given to Senator Graham for reasons recently set forth by Governor Kerr Scott, who appointed the educator to the Senate.

LIBERAL—"Frank Graham," said the Governor, "has just got that drydock for Wilmington. Why did he?"

"Well, the President doesn't think so much of Senator Byrd, and he wouldn't be likely to help him get much for Norfolk. And you don't think he'd do much for South Carolina's Charleston, when that state went against him in the last election, do you?"

"So, Frank Graham comes right in between Virginia and South Carolina, and lands it. It's the same way about this park development over in western North Carolina. Being a liberal, Frank Graham has been able to do a lot of things for this state. And if we send him back to Washington, he will do much more."

CAPITALIZE—Senator Graham stands in particular need of the many bread-and-butter favors Mr. Truman has thrown him because of charges that he exhibits more concern over world affairs than over the state's everyday problems. In fact, his enemies refer to him slightly as "the Senator from Indonesia."

Another factor that has aroused the President is the attempt of the Senator's foes to link him with numerous subversive organizations. He admittedly was a member of three groups listed on former Attorney General Clark's list, but he says that he quit them as soon as he learned of their real purpose, and that he never took an active part in their operations. Nevertheless, "McCarthyism" has become an issue in the enemy's camp.

Mr. Graham's friends are worried because he refuses to capitalize politically on the benefits he has obtained for North Carolina through Mr. Truman's generosity. He will not permit his staff to give them any publicity, which is why Governor Kerr Scott decided to speak out, although his interjection of such States Rights figures as Messrs. Byrnes and Byrd pained the mild-mannered Senator.

SHOWDOWN—Principal significance of Mr. Truman's intervention is that his party faction will have no ally if the Senator is defeated or wins by only a narrow margin. After the Pepper-Smathers outcome, White House spokesmen contended that the Chief Executive had been strictly neutral, and that the result was not a rebuke.

Because there can be no such political demerit after the North Carolina affair, it has become an extremely crucial showdown in the eyes of both Democratic and Republican leaders at Washington.

Beware Of These Two, Comrades

Somebody Told Me

By I. J. (Jack) EDWARDS, JR.

Usually I try to print news about what's going on in Greenville, but now I have an opportunity to find out what's going on in Europe, through Greenville people. For a small city, Greenville will have excellent representation abroad during the next few months.

Charlie Howard, Jr., is in Europe transacting business for the Greenville Tobacco Company, and has promised to bring back column material to me. The Ralph Garretts, Jr. and Sr., are also in Europe, representing the Person-Garrett Tobacco Company.

Greenville is not only represented in Europe by tobacco merchants, but also by tourists. Kathryn VanNortwick, Lillian Wooten, Mrs. Frank Wooten, and Mrs. W. I. Wooten, sailed from New York Tuesday, May 11, on the Queen Mary. They arrived six days later at Southampton, England.

If you don't think the world is getting smaller by the day, heed this: Last Tuesday night at midnight Kathryn wrote an airmail letter to her family. She probably mailed it Wednesday morning, and Friday afternoon the letter was received at the Greenville post office. It takes much longer than that to get a letter from Detroit, Mich.

Kathryn's sister-in-law, Ramona VanNortwick, has a cousin, Nina Bradley, who is vice consul at the American embassy. Nina spent two years in diplomatic service in Greece, and while there developed an index system for the State Department in her spare time. The system was such an asset to the department that it has been installed in embassies all over the world. As a reward for the invention, Nina was made a vice consul and sent to England. She is one of the few women vice consuls in the State Department. Kathryn, Lillian, and the Mrs. Wootens will have a rare opportunity to see the British government in operation through Nina. Also, they have been invited to a formal dinner party at a small cottage in London — just twenty rooms.

The Greenville party arrived in London ahead of the tour they plan to join. When the tour gets underway, it will consist of four days in London, followed by a trip that will be highlighted by stops in Scotland, Holland, Germany, Italy, Capri, Switzerland, and France.

In her letter Kathryn said there are still many evidences of the war in London, but the city is being restored rapidly. The shopping centers are large and elegant, but Britons are still heavily rationed. Purchase taxes on some items are 100 per cent.

Kathryn says that the flowers in London are "impossible to imagine." Rhododendron is a fiery red; men are sending flowers on almost every street corner.

The hotels are comfortable but not luxurious. Kathryn has hot water, but the bath is next door. The tub is six and a half feet long, and is so deep that you can hardly see over the sides. Lore Bradshaw, Mary Rose Crisp, and Eleanor James are planning trips to Europe in the near future. If this keeps up, Greenville will be full of well-traveled citizens. And I thank you.

Around Capitol Square

Daily Reflector Bureau

By LYNN NISBET

Raleigh, N. C.

MUSIC—While the rest of the state is bothering about mud-slinging and liquor money, reprimandations and communistic tendencies, the eighth congressional district is having a musical campaign. Bill Horner, Sanford newspaper publisher challenging for the second time Charles B. Deane's tenure in congress, has featured a hill-billy band at many of his speech making gatherings. The Richmond county incumbent congressman is now following suit. A full-page advertisement in a Moore county newspaper of a Deane rally at Carthage Wednesday night says there will be a "musical parade by Cliff Barnes and his orchestra." The voters in the eighth district are getting both hill-billy and swing-band orchestra music along with their congressional campaigning.

INNOVATION—In this respect the eighth district may be setting a pattern for North Carolina. Former Governor and Senator (Pass the Biscuits Pappy) O'Daniel in Texas proved a few years ago that music was a great aid in political campaigns. Long before O'Daniel popularized the hill-billy type of music for campaign advantage brass bands had been a necessary adjunct of political rallies. Folks don't have to vote like they listen to music. So in the eighth district, whether the individual favors Deane or Horner he can go to a "big speaking" and get the type music he likes best. Then next Saturday he can go to the polls and vote for the congressman he likes best. Seems like that ought to please everybody.

CLOSE — Reports from the eighth district up to now indicate a close race between Deane and Horner. That is probably the only real contest remaining in the congressional districts. Thursday Chatham seems to be way in front in the fifth. Carl Durham is apparently assured of nomination in the sixth, as is Eitel Carlyle in the seventh. Hamilton Jones is having no serious trouble in the tenth and in the eleventh with four candidates Woodrow Jones is apparently far out in front.

SCENERY—"Along about this season of the year," so the old almanacs used to say, the scenery in the mountains is gorgeous and the lure of beaches attracts a lot of folks. For some unknown reason the publicists largely ignore the rolling hills of the Piedmont when they rave about North Carolina scenic attractions. There is awe-inspiring beauty in the Majestic Black and Balsam and Smoky mountains. There is charm in the quiet waters and bright colored flowers of eastern rivers and along the beaches. But right now during late May and early June, the most beautiful scenery in North Carolina is to be found in the middle part of the state. Dogwood and redbud have faded, summer flowers have not come to full color; but the wooded hills have variegated shades of green ranging from almost yellow to vibrant black; the pastures are verdant and the small grain crop is at its most attractive stage.

CHALLENGE — Here's a challenge for anybody who wants to accept it: Find more beautiful scenery anywhere in the world than can be found between Kings Mountain and Shelby, between Walnut Cove and Madison, between Asheboro and Lexington or Albemarle, between Sanford and Siler City, between Lenoir and Taylorsville, or anywhere else in the Piedmont area at this time of year. The colorful azaleas of the coastal section are gone; the rhododendron and laurel of the mountains is just coming into flower. The restful Piedmont maintains its perennial and continuing appeal to homefolks and visitors alike.

Washington Letter

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—Clare Boothe Luce had them standing in the aisles just as she did when her plays "The Women" and "Kiss the Boys Goodbye" were sell-outs on Broadway in the 30's. This time the blond, bauteous, brilliant and wise-cracking Clare was starring in the production—a serious speech before the Congressional Club, made up of wives of senators and congressmen.

It was one of the few times Mrs. Luce has appeared in public in the capital since her rather spectacular service as Republican congressman from Connecticut in the 78th and 79th congresses. In those days her caustic wit won her headlines. This time she limited what she called the "chaff" in favor of a preponderance of "wheat." Looking at least 10 years younger than the 47 years she chalked up this April, the author, playwright and politician drew a more-than-capacity crowd in the club's headquarters. Slender, smartly dressed in a black and white-checked two-piece costume of taffeta, with an immense ruby-studded ring on the third finger of her left hand, and wafting out an expensive floral perfume, she entranced the ladies.

She seemed tense nevertheless and toyed with her pink-rimmed spectacles as the program chairman described her as "one of the greatest wits of our generation" and said she distinguished herself in the 78th and 79th congresses as "one of the greatest of liberal Republicans." Mrs. Luce praised the "idealism, integrity and zeal" of the wives of the members of the 81st congress and said she knew what the program chairman had said of her was "flattery." She could always tell flattery because "it exhausts me to try to believe what's being said."

First, she wanted to dispel rumors that she intended going back into politics. She had gotten a letter from a man who said "politics is no place for women and women no place for politics." This caused her to smile. Seriously, she said: "women have a great deal to contribute. Women's mentality and way of looking at things enable them to carry the ball farther than men. Women will not compromise." Mrs. Luce talked at length about the nation's founding fathers. At one point she removed the little black pillbox hat from her head and threw it on a nearby chair. She scolded and scoffed and smoothly smiled. The timing was good.

Business Today

By ELMER ROESSNER

This Summer your cost of living—and that of your customers—will be higher than it's been for the past year. The significant fact about the new upsurge in prices is that it's powered by the most basic, and demanding items: food and shelter.

Meat prices are moving up with a bang. Marketings of both hogs and cattle are smaller now, and prices have been jumping as much as 50 cents a dollar a hundredweight on some days, with the wholesale increase not yet fully reflected in retail markets. Don't be surprised when you see meat going up a nickel a pound every few days at your butcher's the next several weeks. Of course, meat always costs more during the Summer, but this year it's costing more than last.

Not only is meat the largest cost in a family's food bill, but when it's high, it forces up prices of other foods too.

Prices of building materials and homes are pointed upward too, as reported here yesterday. Even those who continue to rent face higher shelter costs as remaining rent controls are eased out of the picture.

Clothing prices are fairly stable. Wool clothing is definitely going higher, particularly the desirable worsteds, as the world's mills compete for slump supplies. Fine Australian wool required for worsteds has already leaped about 60 per cent in price from the $1.40 a pound tag it carried last Autumn. Only continued moderate prices for cotton and rayon garments still stabilize the bill for apparel. And trade experts aren't too certain how long cotton and rayon will remain at present levels. A gray market has already developed in certain types of rayon, the National Association of Purchasing Agents reports.

Prices of metal goods are firm too, and the non-ferrous markets continue to move up, especially zinc and lead.

Is this a new inflation? As reported here recently, some experts don't think so, because they feel competition is too keen at this time to permit any runaway markets. They consider the present trend only a bulge. But the movement is something to watch both generally and for its special impact on your business.

DEALER STRIKES OUT AT TELEVISION "SHARPIES"

A Los Angeles retailer has launched his own campaign against exaggerated television ads and is getting support from other dealers throughout the country. His campaign takes the form of a fictitious reader, "Slippery Sam." The copy goes like this: "36-inch television with built-in ROOF aerial and NO controls! . . . the only television set with the built-in pop-corn machines. . . . What's especially significant is that the ad demonstrates how careless or unscrupulous dealers sometimes show a small and large set together, with the type set so that the low price of the small set, may seem to be the price of the large set.

CITIES MAY ADOPT EXCISE TAXES U. S. MAY DROP

Amusement seekers and operators may merely step from the frying pan into the fire, as far as taxes on admissions are concerned. If the federal government drops them, city and state authorities may seek to add to their revenues by this means, reports the Public Administration Clearing House. About half the states already tax general admissions at small rates (generally 3 per cent or less). The Clearing House says they've just been waiting for the federal taxers to give up some of their hold on this field, to move in further.

YOU CAN BUY SUN-TAN FROM COIN MACHINE

A cabinet that will give you a sun-tan when you drop a coin in the slot will soon be marketed

(by General Electric). This machines will be placed in doctor's offices, hotel rooms and lounges, bus and railroad stations,—anywhere people wait, reports the National Patent Council. CAN YOU ARRANGE DISPLAY A-TOP CASH REGISTERS? One of the most compelling places for display of impulse merchandise items, and one that's not always used, is the space on top of cash registers. At least one manufacturer (American Safety Razor Corp., Brooklyn, N.Y.) is going after that space with a rack for displaying all brands of blades.

RED—Some folks are jittery about use of the word "red" or display of the vivid color in the current political campaign. W. E. (Bill) Horner, challenging Charles B. Deane in the eighth district congressional race, isn't among that group. He sent out a publicity blurb the other day about a friend giving him a red necktie with his name cleverly woven into the fabric. Being a newspaper man as well as a candidate, Bill probably figured a necktie was worth accepting, regardless of color. It saved him a couple of bucks.

WAGON—There's also a lot of talk about "band wagons" as a stage of the campaign. The Smith publicity staff put out a good one on that the other day. They meant to write that the Smith campaign is definitely "now in the bandwagon stage." The typewriter slipped or the typist hit the wrong key or something. Anyway, the thing came out to read that the campaign is definitely NOT in the bandwagon stage. That little error was corrected pronto, and newspaper offices got it reading NOW.

SENSITIVE—Then there's the story from the mountains about two elderly men, almost lifelong friends, falling out about mention of a red wagon. From time immemorial a "little red wagon" has typified play-toys of all kinds. These two old friends were talking about the Graham-Smith scrap. They decided they couldn't get together on it, so the Smith advocate said to the Graham supporter, "You go play with your little red wagon, and I'll play with mine." Then the lid blew off. The Grahamite angrily retorted, "Frank Graham is no more of a communist than you are." The Smith man in surprise responded he hadn't intimated anything about communism. "But," said the Graham supporter, "you told me to go play with my little red wagon." Maybe that's why the Smith folks adopted green and the Graham people adopted blue for their distinctive color schemes. No red, nowhere.

Hal Boyle's Column

New York —(AP)— One of the world's most durable punching bags is the American husband.

He is particularly the target of imported intellectuals, and practically any visiting foreigner can make a fast buck here by getting up on a lecture platform and saying a few unkind words about the typical American husband.

It's been that way for 100 years. And gradually a stock figure has emerged—a wonderful cartoon that represents the average European lecturer's idea of the average American married man.

This mythical fellow is a paunchy, walrus-necked tycoon who spends his mornings in an air-cooled office scanning the stock market ticker and roaring at underlings. Afternoon finds him belting a golf ball around a remodeled ome pasture. And at night he comes reluctantly home to his wife, a henna-haired vixen in an ermine wrap who dices him up a cold meal out of cans and wears his ears raw with her strident wail: "You gotta earn more sugar for mama, big boy—I dropped another hundred at bridge today!"

He's an ulcer-riddled, money-grubbing success in business, this American husband—but a bum bet in the boudoir. "He mak the monee, yes, but at lamour he ees no good. In love he ees a school-boy, ne?" No, he isn't. This whole picture of the American husband is an outworn fantasy, an illusion dreamed up by foreigners as a result, perhaps, of seeing too many 25-year-old Hollywood movies—and taking them seriously.

It might be a good idea for the State Department to hire a few really American families and send them on tour to other countries, just to bring them up-to-date on what kind of people live here. It would be the best kind of propaganda. Too many common folk abroad still believe Americans carry gold around in buckets and sleep on bedsheets woven from 1000 bills.

And of course, the truth about the American husband today is that he is the world's best matrimonial buy. He doesn't have the idea that marriage is just something for women and children. He works at it. And it's a pretty healthy life. Some time ago the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company figured out there were some 35,500,000 husbands in the United States, so they're hardly dying out.

They're good providers, too. Most of them bring their paychecks home in their mouths. Or at least the lady of the house and the kids get a fair share of the take; not just whatever crumbs are left over. Mama isn't a vasaal—the's a partner.

Foreign men often jeer at American husbands as being hen-pecked prisoners of their womenfolk. But this is like one jailbird screaming "convict" at the fellow in the next cell.

Hen-pecked husbands aren't native to the North American climate: they are found in equal ratios, so far as I can tell, in every country in the world. A domineering wife doesn't require an equal rights statute to have her way.

One of the proofs of the intelligence of the American husband is that he doesn't try to continue the impossible task of keeping his wife subservient to him. In this respect many husbands abroad are still sticking their heads, ostrich-like, in the sands of a dead past.

Wild Life Group Stocks Streams

Raleigh, N.C., May 23.—Over four million wall-eyed pike, or pike-perch, have been stocked in North Carolina waters, Clyde P. Patton, executive director of the North Carolina Wildlife Resources Commission, announced today.

The pike fry were hatched from over 5,000,000 eggs received by the Wildlife Resources Commission from the New York State Conservation Department. The eggs were flown to Raleigh from Albany, New York, and transported directly to the Table Rock Hatchery, Morganton. Despite a short delay in transport which caused some egg mortality, George Scruggs, superintendent of the Table Rock Hatchery, brought off an 80 per cent hatch.

Rock Lake, Lake James and Lake Chatuge to determine whether these waters are suitable wall-eyed pike habitat. Technicians of the Wildlife Resources Commission's Fish Division will make observations to determine the success of pike stocking, and future introductions will be made accordingly.

Wall-eyes are native to the French Broad, Little Tennessee and Hiwassee Rivers in North Carolina, but catches from these streams have been rare. Wherever found, the wall-eyed pike is a favorite of fishermen, being an excellent game fish and of fine texture and flavor.

According to J. H. Cornell, chief of the Wildlife Commission's Fish Division, "the wall-eye is a fish of large waters, and shows a definite preference for low temperatures. For this reason it is not expected to compete seriously with the bass population, but rather serve as a valuable adjunct to it."

The National AAU trout and field championships will be held in Washington D. C. June 23-24.

Outstanding Seniors Congratulated

Two outstanding members of the senior class which graduated from Farmville high school last night receive personal congratulations from important people. Congressman Herbert Bonner (right) congratulates Jean Bynum, class valedictorian, and Principal Sam B. Bundy congratulates Zeb Whitehurst, III, president of the senior class. Congressman Bonner Addresses Graduating Class At Farmville

Congressman Herbert Bonner delivered the commencement address last night to the largest graduating class in the history of Farmville high school, as approximately 1,000 people gathered in the high school gymnasium for the exercises.

The 42 members of the graduating class, dressed in their white caps and gowns, listened as the representative of North Carolina's first congressional district emphasized the importance of character, integrity and service to one's community in the lives of individuals after they leave high school.

Congressman Bonner told the seniors it is service, not personal gain, which makes a great man or woman. The graduation exercises opened with the processional of the seniors, the singing of one verse of America, and the invocation by the Rev. Thad Cox. The Salutatory was given by Nancy Kittrell, and the songs "I Heard A Forest Praying" and "Ours Is the World" were sung by the high school glee club.

Los Angeles, May 23—(AP)—Browbeaten American husbands, arise!

Millie Stella Danfray speaks: "Do not be slaves any longer. If it is necessary, do not be afraid to slap your wives when they need it. No woman minds one little slap, eh?"

Millie Danfray, 24, recently voted "the most sultry Parisian," delivered this homily yesterday as she arrived on a goodwill mission for French fashion and perfume industries. She softened it a bit with:

"Of course, the American men make very good husbands, that is true. But the French men make better lovers."

Which do French women prefer? "Well, I think maybe the husband," she said, hesitating. "But it is much better if the husband is also a lover."

Three Students Waste No Time Seeking Office

Wake Forest, N. C. May 23—(AP)—Three Wake Forest College students are wasting no time in seeking political office in North Carolina. The trio are all seniors in the college's law school.

Earle Purser of Raleigh Route 3, is seeking election to one of the three seats from Wake county in the State House of Representatives.

Robert Morgar of Lillington is unopposed for the post of clerk of court in Harnett county.

Hiram Warw of Denton will run on the Republican ticket in the general election this fall for the house of Representatives from Davidson county.

Jolson's Son At The Curious Age

Van Nuys, Calif. May 23—(AP)—Al Jolson's son, Asa, is at that curious age, two.

He climbed onto the wash basin reached into the medicine cabinet and gulped the contents of two small bottles yesterday.

He was hustled to an emergency hospital where a stomach pump brought back most of the twenty aspirin tablets he swallowed.

Warming Up

The Greenville Weather Bureau reported the high temperature here yesterday as 76 degrees. Lowest last night was 57 degrees, and at 8 a.m. today the mercury stood at 68 and it was rising.

Stan Musial Has Big Bulge Over League Batters

New York, May 23—(AP)—Stan Musial, the St. Louis Cardinals' one-man gang, holds a 62-point bulge over teammate Joe Garagiola in the race for individual batting honors in the National League.

Musial's average dipped 28 points during the week, but, including games of last Sunday, he still sported a robust 439 figure. Garagiola, who wasn't listed among the top 10 batsmen last week, is hitting 377.

Musial, in 25 games, has 43 hits in 98 at bats. The hits are the most in the league. He also has the most doubles, 13, and is tied with three players for the most triples, three.

Behind the two St. Louis players come the ex-Cardinals—Dick Sisler of Philadelphia, with 371, and Johnny Hopp of Pittsburgh, with 369.

Colorado has 11 national forests and one state forest. Fees from grazing of cattle and sheep on their ranges comprise the largest item in national forest receipts.

The trading deadline for major league teams is June 15.

Columnist Offers Evidence Backing Story Of Liquor Solicitation Hunt

By LYNN NISBET
 Raleigh, May 23—Ample evidence supports the story released by this writer last Friday stating that John Marshall, private secretary to Governor Kerr Scott, and Carl Williamson, former State ABC chairman who was ousted by Governor Scott about a year ago, had called upon representatives of distillers in Philadelphia, New York and Washington soliciting contributions for the senatorial campaign.

When queried by the Associated Press over long distance telephone Marshall is quoted by that news agency as saying: "I have not approached or talked with any distillers, and I have not asked any distillers for funds."

Williamson denied soliciting funds, but declined comment on other phases of the trip. He said where he goes and who he talks to since he left state employ is his own business. Marshall was quoted as saying in Washington Friday that Williamson was not with him.

Here are some of the facts. Others as to what hotels they stopped in or what entertainment they sought are not germane to the issue.

Marshall and Williamson left Raleigh last Tuesday night on the same plane with tickets for Philadelphia.

Next day, Wednesday, they went together to a Walnut street address where the Publicker Alcohol and Chemical Sales Corporation has offices. They talked with two officials of that company.

Thursday in New York they visited offices of American Distilling Company on Park avenue and had a conference with officials of that firm.

Friday in Washington a call was made upon the Distilled Spirits Institute in the National Press Building. DSI is a sort of chamber of commerce for the entire whiskey industry in the United States.

Williamson came home from Washington Friday, but Marshall stayed over for a day or two.

The original story and the repeated denials of its validity served to put more interest in the senatorial campaign than anything which has happened before.

Senator Graham said the whole story was fantastic. It was not necessary for the senator to say he didn't know anything about it, because nobody ever thought he did.

Governor Scott said at his press conference that all he knew was that Marshall had asked for a few days off. The governor said Marshall had talked to him by phone Friday but he did not know where he was talking from.

Just a few hours before catching the plane Tuesday night, Marshall told your reporter he was going fishing, wasn't sure where he would land but thought he would go to Tennessee. Next day his associates in the governor's office said John didn't tell them where he was going, but said wherever he was he would be fishing.

What effect these developments will have upon the current campaign is problematical. So far the only noticeable result has been accelerated interest on part of many people who had been apathetic.

The state ABC system is not involved or affected by events of the past week. News of the Marshall-Williamson trip came back to North Carolina through channels remote from state or county ABC sources. Speculative newspaper stories implying that first intimation came from Frank Sims, Jr., chairman of the Mecklenburg county ABC board, who was in New York at the same time, are not justified by the facts. Marshall and Williamson left Raleigh Tuesday night. Sims did not reach New York until Thursday morning, after the story of the solicitation trip had become matter of common gossip in North Carolina. When contacted by newsmen later Sims said that he was in the big city on other business and did not see his fellow Tarheels but knew they were there.

Two Fugitives Caught In Chase

Elizabethtown, May 23—(AP)—Two fugitives roaring at 90 miles an hour along back roads escaped numerous bursts of gunfire and finally were only lightly scratched when their automobile crashed into a road block last night at Bladenboro.

Bladen County Sheriff John B. Allen identified the men as Donald J. Abrachski, 23, of New Britain, Conn., and Isiah L. Russ, Jr., 43, of Bladenboro. They were charged with assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill, speeding, and reckless driving. The sheriff said they were in a car stolen in Columbia, S.C.

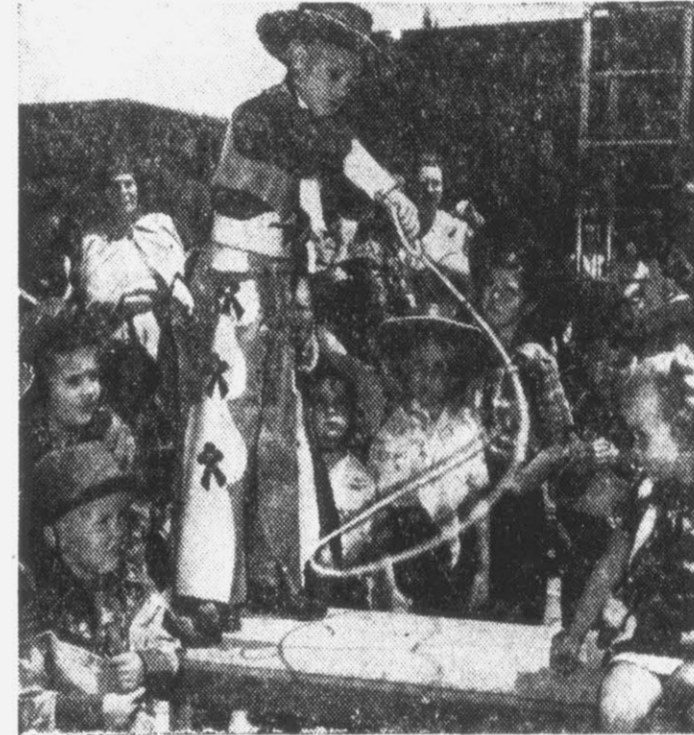

The chase started when officers went to Russ' home near Bladenboro to serve a warrant charging forgery in Fayetteville. Bullets shattered the officers' car windshield. As the race whipped along county roads, another motoring officer joined in. State Highway patrolmen radioed ahead for a road block to be set at Bladenboro. A highway patrol car was set across a Bladenboro street. When the racers reached Bladenboro, the front car smashed into the block. The two men climbed out, one bearing a rifle. State Highway Patrolman J. R. Pridden said he was unable to understand how the men survived. He said the car was riddled with 15 bullet holes. The crash demolished the car.

Rocky Mount Downs Robins By 9-2 In First Of Series

Fifteen-Hit Attack By Visitors; Locals Held Scoreless Until The Ninth; Robbins, Guidice And Tepedino Account For Two Hits Apiece

By BERT MOYE
Manager Red Benton's league-leading Rocky Mount Leafs pounded two Greenville hurriers for a total of 15 hits in gaining a 9-2 decision over the Robins here last night.

The Leafs scored in all but four of the nine frames in the contest, scoring two runs in the fourth on Bill Stanton's homer over the left field fence, followed by Jim Reges' triple and a single by Babe Johnson. What proved to be their winning margin came in the fifth inning. Walt Cleply was hit by Pitcher Jones and then stole second. Frank Gardner hit a double into short left center field and then Wade Martin singled to bring home Cleply and Gardner.

Two were added in the seventh on three singles, two walks an error and wild pitch. Three successive singles gave them a run in the eighth and Pepper Martin's homer over the left field wall with a mate aboard in the ninth gave them their final two runs of the game.

Greenville was held scoreless until the ninth inning, despite the fact that they had nine men stranded on bases, with three being left on in the third and two in the fourth. There were three men left stranded when the ninth inning was over.

In the ninth Guidice and Robbins singled, then Scarpa hit to shortstop and when second sacker Gardner dropped the ball Guidice was safe at second. Gardner then heaved the ball to third and threw wild with Guidice scoring. Strausser was walked, loading the bases, and then Vince Lautato was walked, forcing in Robbins for the second run.

Vince Jones, pitching his first game against the Leafs, was charged with the loss, his fifth of the season as against three wins. The Leafs pounded 11 hits off Jones in the seven full frames that he worked and connected with six runs. Frank Stephens, who pitched the final two frames, gave up four hits and three more runs.

Frank Gardner with a double and three singles in five trips to the plate and Jim Reges with a triple and two singles in four trips to the plate paced the 15-hit attack off the two Robin hurriers.

Lefty Bill Anders went the route for the Leafs and notched his second win against the Robins this season as he scattered 10 hits, all of which were limited to singles. Johnny Tepedino, Joe Guidice and Bruce Robbins each got two hits to lead the Robins' attack.

The Robins travel to Rocky Mount tonight to meet the Leafs in a return game and then on Wednesday night go over to Wilson, returning home on Thursday night for a twin bill with the Tobs here.

In the second game, which started off like a very tight affair, turned into a rout for the Cards in the fifth, when they chased across five runs. Six more runs in the final inning completed the rout, and the Deacons who before game time were conceded to have the leading team in the league went down to a humiliating defeat. John Aman with two doubles and a single and Billy Brady, Bill Kittrell and Wiley Gardner with two hits each were the leaders for the Cards. Richard Joyner with a triple, double and two singles was the only Deacon to manage more than one hit.

Chicago, May 23—(AP)—Cleveland's Larry Doby, slamming six for his sixth time at bat in a four game spree, soared into the American League hitting lead last week with 415.

In averages compiled through Sunday's games, Doby had collected 34 blows in 82 trips to be four points ahead of Philadelphia's Paul Lehner with 411.

Doby was not among the leaders a week ago. He replaced Walter Dropp of Boston on top as the Red Sox rookie dived to 346 and ninth place.

Rounding out the top ten were Sam Mele, Washington, 389; Phil Rizzuto, New York, 368; Tommy Henrich, New York, 364; Johnny Pesky, Boston, and Ed Stewart, Washington, 342.

for Trainer Hirsch some five years before he was given a mount in an actual race. Even before Boland had booted home his first winner, Trainer Hirsch predicted that he would one day be an outstanding rider. Boland had only to ride a race in the same manner in which he handled his mounts in training to become a steady winner, Hirsch insisted.

On May 13 1949, Boland booted home his first winner at Belmont Park. He rode his first stake winner, Better Self, only a week before his Kentucky Derby triumph. Boland celebrated his 18th birthday in April so he can look forward to a bright future. Especially, with the experienced hand of Trainer Hirsch to guide him.

Intramural Play Gets Under Way

In the inaugural games of the High School Intramural League games, played yesterday in the School Yarnie, Jim Cox's Tigers took a close 6 to 4 game over Joe Sawyer's winners. In the second game of the afternoon, John Aman's Cards overpowered the Deacons of Billy Jordan by the score of 14 to 4.

In the first game, the Tigers took a four run lead in the second inning after both teams had scored singles in the first and managed to cling to the lead until the end. The winners put on a strong rally in the final inning but fell short of winning the game. Billy Wooten, with two doubles and a single and Jimmy Dillingham with two singles and a double led the Tigers attack. Eddie Farley got a triple and single, and Bobby Lee a double and single to lead the losers.

In the second game, which started off like a very tight affair, turned into a rout for the Cards in the fifth, when they chased across five runs. Six more runs in the final inning completed the rout, and the Deacons who before game time were conceded to have the leading team in the league went down to a humiliating defeat. John Aman with two doubles and a single and Billy Brady, Bill Kittrell and Wiley Gardner with two hits each were the leaders for the Cards. Richard Joyner with a triple, double and two singles was the only Deacon to manage more than one hit.

Newhouser Back In Winning Form

Detroit, May 23—(AP)—Hal Newhouser has got it again. That was the word passed around in American League circles today after the lean Detroit Tiger southpaw tossed an eight hitter against the Washington Senators to beat them 5-1 yesterday.

It was welcome to Tiger fans, for the hitherto ailing Newhouser looked mighty impressive as he went the distance against the surprisingly good Washington club. The good news for Detroit was marred, however, by a setback elsewhere: fireballer Virgil Trucks came up with a sore arm. He faces an indefinite layoff.

Newhouser showed no signs of the shoulder injury that cropped up during spring training and sidelined him for nearly a full month of the league race. It was only his second pitching appearance of the season, and he looked far different from the fellow who lasted only three innings while taking a 7-3 beating from the St. Louis Browns on May 14.

When Chuck Rayner of the New York Rangers was voted the Hart Trophy for the 1949-50 season it was the second time the honor had gone to a goaltender.

Next Outing For Hill Prince Will Be At Belmont

New York, May 23—(AP)—The next outing for Hill Prince, the Preakness winner and three-time conqueror of Middleground, probably will be Belmont's $50,000 Suburban Handicap on Memorial Day.

Trainer J. H. (Casey) Hayes announced the C. T. Chenery colt, being pointed for the Belmont stakes June 10, definitely will be sent out May 30.

If he doesn't go in the fast Suburban, in which he'd meet older horses, he will be entered in the Jersey stakes at Garden State, the trainer said. The Jersey race is for three-year-olds.

Both races are over a mile and a quarter, the Derby distance.

If Newcombe, Newhouser Are Ailing, It Doesn't Show

By JOE REICHEL
Associated Press Sports Writer
If Hal Newhouser and Don Newcombe have sore shoulders, there are a flock of strong-armed, healthy looking hurriers who would like to have some of the same.

Nothing appeared to be wrong with either of the pitching aces yesterday as each turned in a fine performance in a winning effort.

Newhouser, the veteran Detroit southpaw, stopped the surprisingly potent Washington Senators with eight hits in pitching the Tigers to a 5-1 triumph. Newcombe gave a similar eight-hit exhibition against the Cincinnati Reds as the Brooklyn Dodgers won by the identical 5-1 score.

Both hurriers were plagued by ailing arms all spring. Each traced his misfortune to an aching shoulder muscle. Newhouser lasted only three innings against the St. Louis Browns in his only other appearance of the season.

Newcombe was knocked out of the box in his first three starts before Manager Burt Shotton decided to give his Negro righthander a 10-day rest. Don came back to pitch a strong game against the St. Louis Cardinals last week, but the jury was still out. The critics wanted to see how he fared in his next outing. They saw plenty last night. Newcombe struck out seven batters, four of the strikeouts coming after the Reds had scored their lone run in the eighth. The tally was unseasoned, Peanuts Lowrey scoring from second base as Eddie Miksa threw wild in an attempt to complete a double play.

The Dodgers bunched five of their eight hits off Howie Fox and Harry Perkowski in the first and fourth. Singles by Jackie Robinson, Carl Furillo and Gil Hodges and an error by Fox gave Brooklyn four runs in the fourth.

The victory increased the Dodgers' first place lead over Philadelphia in the National League pennant race to a full game. The Phils were one of the six clubs in the loop to enjoy an off day.

Newhouser had a six-hit shutout going into the ninth. He made Merrill Combs his second strikeout, victim to open the last inning. Sherry Robertson beat out an infield hit, muffed to second on a groundout by Eddie Yost and scored Washington's lone run when Sam Dente singled to right.

Pro-Am Event To Precede Coastal Golf Tournament

2c 24 reg.—PRO-AM EVENT
A pro-am tournament Friday will precede the annual Coastal Golf Association tourney Saturday and Sunday at Smithfield, adding one more day to the wind-up proceedings in the six-town loop after the spring matchplay.

The professional at each club will accompany three of the leading amateurs to Smithfield Friday for the 18-hole exhibition matches. The six foursomes will compete for the pro-am championship club among the six towns.

Playing out of Greenville will be pro Harold Thomas along with Ernie Webb, Reynolds and W. L. Allen. The three simon-pure have led the 30-odd Greenville golfers in the ten matches this year with other towns in the circuit. May has been medalist three times in recent weeks and is also defending champion among the golfers after the tournament last year played here.

Dave Mosier announced yesterday that 25 or 30 Greenville golfers will play in the tournament Saturday and Sunday. He urged all local links-men who plan to compete in the two-day affair to contact either H. McCormick or Agree Welsh in Smithfield for reservations. McCormick is president of the Coastal loop and Welsh is pro at the Smithfield club.

Mosier pointed out that players are required to play an 18-hole qualifying round either Friday or Saturday, and the final 18 holes of the tournament Sunday. He said golfers would not be permitted to play the entire 36 holes on Sunday.

Dance Review Scheduled For Friday And Saturday

On Friday and Saturday evenings of this week at 8:15, Maries School of Dance will present their annual spring dance review in the Austin Auditorium.

The Review this year is being staged for the benefit of the Greenville High School band, by the Charles Gray Morgan Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The theme to be used by the group is entitled "Past, Present, and Future."

The cast of the review is made up entirely of students of the dance school and numbers around 150 boys and girls.

The Review will include all types of tap, toe, ballet, acrobatic, and adagio dances. Each of the numbers were specially arranged and directed by Marie Wallace, the director of the local dance school.

Reports coming out from the practice sessions being conducted daily at the Austin Auditorium, indicate that the costumes this year are believed to be the most unusual and elaborate ever used in a local dance review.

All told, there will be over 45 different dance numbers, for which over four hundred separate costumes have been designed.

The costumes are all new and specially made for the review this year.

Scenery and scenic effects for the production are more elaborate than ever according to current reports. For the first time special lighting effects including the use of Drobeltite will add much to the appearance of the show.

District Meeting Is Rotary Topic

By WYATT BROWN

The report of the unanimous choice of the Rotarians of the 279th District of Dr. Howard McGinnis for District Governor of Rotary International was made last night by the local Rotarians who attended the conference at Wrightsville Beach the first of last week when the election occurred. He was elected by acclamation on the motion of the Fayetteville club.

Greenville nominated Dr. McGinnis; Washington and Ayden each seconded the nomination. President Erzell Webb of the Greenville club said he considered Dr. McGinnis' election was a tribute to both Howard and the club.

All those reporting on the recent conference said Robert Humber's address was the outstanding one of the meeting. John Mackey of Great Britain was the representative of Rotary International at the conference.

Dr. McGinnis took occasion last night to thank the Greenville club for their support in his election but he said he was proudest of the fact that the local club got the long deserved recognition. From what he had learned so far, Howard said he found it was a job and not a position as District Governor.

Those reporting last night from the conference were, besides Dr. McGinnis and President Webb: Sam B. Underwood, Jr., Bob Thompson, Robert Humber, Floyd Hendrix, B. C. Satterfield of New York City was a guest of the club last night. R. E. Phillips and Caleb Bell of Washington were visiting Rotarians. Hugh Winslow was selected to serve for the Rotary club on the Farmers Day Steering Committee. Erzell Webb, club president, presided.

The morale of the German officers appears to be as low; "undoubtedly a high degree of attrition" is expected.

one route a day, although it will be longer, he'll walk 20 to 33 per cent less a day.

Won't he have to carry more mail on this one trip; not at any one time, says Donaldson, because: under standing rules, unchanged, no carrier has to tote more than 35 pounds at any one time.

If the mail for his route runs over that, a truck will deposit it in a box where he can pick it up on his route, - but never more than 35 from the counties east of Raleigh for the purpose of frozen food demonstrations and lectures. The program is being conducted by Miss Nita Orr, food specialist of the Extension Department of State College.

Donaldson says 75 to 80 per cent of the mail delivered to homes is delivered on the first trip anyway. So, he argues, no great volume of mail to homes is delayed by the new one-a-day delivery.

One of the biggest protests against all this came from William C. Doherty, president of the National Association of Letter Carriers.

Said Doherty: "The one-a-day trip will become 'inhumane' and 'to keep a letter carrier on his route six hours or more without an opportunity to eat or relax—even slightly . . . belongs to the dark ages.'"

Admitting his order has drawn many complaints, Donaldson says most of them originated with Doherty's union. The Postmaster says: "Every mail man gets 30 minutes for lunch and can take three times as much, if necessary."

To The Voters Of Pitt County:

I am a candidate for renomination to the office of Sheriff of Pitt County in the Democratic Primary to be held May 27.

I am making every effort to see as many voters as possible in person before the Primary. However, as you know, Court is in session, and that, with my other official duties, leaves me only so much time for contact work. Should I miss seeing any of you, I use this means of explaining why I could not call personally on every voter. I would appreciate your vote and support.

If I am re-nominated and elected as your Sheriff, I will continue to discharge the responsibilities of the office in a fair and impartial manner.

I sincerely appreciate the confidence and trust placed in me by the people of Pitt County for the past six and a half years during which time I have served as Sheriff. I assure all citizens that in seeking re-nomination is to serve all citizens of Pitt County to the best of my ability.

Weed Killer Expected To Be Boon In Greece

Athens—(AP)—Increased use of 2,4-D weed killer, is expected to give Greek agriculture an additional 30-000 metric ton yield of wheat this year. The wheat, which otherwise would have been at a cost of $90 a ton, represents a saving in foreign exchange of 2,700,000, ECA agricultural officials stated.

Surf Casts Up Gold On Beaches

Manila—(AP)—Thar's gold in their breakers. Whole families of Philippine coastal folk in the region or Agoo, north of Manila, make their living by "mining" the surf-tossed sands. The gold-seekers have a legend that what they find in part of the loot of a Chinese pirate, Limshong, whose ship went down in Lingayen gulf in the 18th century.

A more prosaic explanation is that the Agoo river brings gold down from the mountains, but the river is so swift that no gold remains in its bed. It is all washed out to sea and then cast back by the surf.

Expecting Large Graduation Crop

Raleigh, N.C., May 23—(AP)—The graduation crop of Tar Heel high schools this year will number close to that of the 1939-40, pre-war level.

That's the word from A. B. Combs, assistant director of the N.C. Education Department's Division of Instructional Services.

Combs estimated yesterday that between 30,000 and 31,000 high school seniors will get North Carolina diplomas this year. Last year the high school output numbered 28,686.

In the spring of 1940, before the wartime declines set in, a total of 30,000 students were graduated in this state.

From now on, predicted Combs, the number of graduates will be on the increase and no decline is likely for 10 more years.

He said the trend is for students to stay in school longer. He also pointed to the moving up of swelled grammar school enrollments—which means more high school material.

Combs declared more of the current graduates are going to college. The last survey showed that about 25 per cent of high school graduates went into higher education. Combs estimated today's figure at about 30 per cent.

The path of true love is running pretty rough for Egyptian Princess Fathia (extreme right), 19, but she's determined to hold her husband, Riad Ghali (left), 31, a Coptic Christian commoner. Fathia poses in San Francisco with her mother, Queen Mother Nazli (center), and sister, Princess Faika (left). The queen mother came there for surgical treatment. Her property back in Egypt has been impounded by the king's royal decree. She blames the family upheaval on court intrigue. Terms Britons Lawless On Road on the highways this country "is one of the most lawless in the world because its traffic laws are inadequate. He told the Pedestrians Association at the annual meeting here, "If deaths per 100,000 vehicles are compared, America's ratio is 71 to Britain's 163 a year."

Flood Crest Now Steadily Falling From High Mark

Winnipeg, Man., May 23—(AP)—The raging Red River dropped steadily from its flood crest today, and Winnipeg, catching its breath, braced itself for its task of relief and rehabilitation. Public and official attention was focussed on a gigantic job:

The homes of 80,000 persons have been damaged or destroyed by the floods, worst in more than 100 years for the Red River valley.

About 100,000 refugees have fled the flood zones. The Canadian army still is calling upon others to leave, but the outward stream of refugees is about ended now. Harried refugees are returning to assess the wreckage of their homes.

The army has warned of a grave risk of epidemic disease if flooded homes are occupied before decontamination. Some of the homes have been under muddy water for a month.

All major dikes in the flood areas of greater Winnipeg are reported holding well now. The problem before the authorities is to maintain the metropolitan area dikes while flood waters covering hundreds of square miles are funneled off into Lake Winnipeg.

The river was dropping at the rate of one and a half to two inches a day. At 29.9 feet it was at its lowest point since May 12. At the flood crest, five inches higher than at present, it had threatened to force out most of greater Winnipeg's 350,000 people.

It may be 10 days before all possibility of power and water failure is removed from the city. City and province authorities, meanwhile, are attempting to plan for a controlled return of the refugees. Thus far the return has been haphazard and the authorities have been meeting with little success in this respect.

Mrs. Margaret Hildebrand and her four-year-old daughter Joan sit in a rescue boat and gaze sadly back across flood water toward their home near Morris, Minn. They lost all their possessions in the flood. Cradled in the mother's arms is her 14-month-old daughter Gladys. (AP Wirephoto).

Royal Canadian Mounted Policeman B. M. Anderson, on duty in the Wildwood area of flooded Winnipeg, gets a cup of tea from a Red Cross relief worker cruising in a rowboat. Overflow from the Red river surrounds the homes in the background. (AP Wirephoto)

Young Victim Of Russian Roulette

Westminster, Md., May 23—(P)—George William Martin, 17 found a pistol in a drawer at Carol Miller's home last night. So he was showing his date how "Russian roulette" was played.

Carol wanted him to put the gun down, and stop "showing off." "I thought he would stop that foolishness if I walked out of the room," the 15-year-old girl told state police Cpl. James Simmons later.

As she went out the door, she heard a report.

Martin died on the way to a Baltimore hospital, a bullet wound in his temple.

Police listed it as suicide.

"Russian roulette" is played by inserting one cartridge into an empty revolver, spinning the chamber, and pulling the trigger with the gun pointed toward your head, taking a chance the hammer will strike an empty chamber.

By Their Fruits You Shall Know Them

"What we have been makes us what we are" ... George Eliot."

Willis Smith in 1947 said that a minimum wage of 40 cents an hour or $16 a week for the working men and women of North Carolina "WOULD BE HARSH AND UNREASONABLE."

Willis Smith in 1949 drew a fee, at the rate of $219.28 a day, plus expenses, for 98 days, out of the assets of the bankrupt Madix Asphalt Roofing Corporation. Willis Smith collected $23,516.72 in wages and expenses ... the unsecured creditors with claims amounting to $172,377.77 got nothing! ... the stockholders lost all the $193,221.51 they had invested. Willis Smith got his!

Willis Smith in 1949 publicly urged the General Assembly to pass a law making it a crime for a grocer store to sell food items at less than cost, plus an eight per cent profit ... his proposal was termed by members of the General Assembly as "UNFAIR, UNJUST, AND UNDEMOCRATIC" and as "DESIGNED TO SOAK THE POOR."

"... as the twig is bent so grows the tree"

The thoughtful voter can't help but ask himself or herself how much Mr. Smith has been bent by his fee-paying special interests clients who hired him to oppose a decent wage scale for working men and women, and to soak the poor with a law that would "force price increases and send up the cost of living."

Paid For By Pitt County Committee for Frank Graham

Willis Smith in 1950, in the heat of a political campaign, said that in 1947 his heart was not really against the 40 cents an hour minimum wage law, that he had been paid a fee and was merely representing a client when he said it would be HARSH AND UNREASONABLE to pay the working men and women of North Carolina 40 cents an hour.

Willis Smith in 1950, in the heat of a political campaign, found it very difficult to find any kind of an answer for what happened in the Madix case except that he got a whopping big fee out of it.

Willis Smith in 1950, in the heat of a political campaign, was face to face with the fact that he, for a fee, had just 14 months before fought for a "SOAK THE POOR" law described by legislators as "UNFAIR, UNJUST AND UNDEMOCRATIC" and designed to "force price increases and send up the cost of living."

New Vein May Be Tapped For UNC Escheats Fund

Raleigh, N.C., May 23—(AP)—A new vein may be tapped to obtain funds for the University of North Carolina's escheats fund.

The funds involved, according to L. P. McLendon of Greensboro, chairman of the escheats fund (unclaimed funds) committee of the university board of trustees, may amount to several hundred thousand dollars.

The new source considered by the committee is unused and unclaimed transportation tickets and unused and unclaimed pre-paid freight charges. Transportation companies involved, McLendon said after the committee met yesterday, include bus companies, railroads, airlines, and motor freight lines.

Under state law, all unclaimed property—known as escheats—such as bank deposits, belongs to the Greater University of North Carolina. The university uses the funds from escheats to make loans to students.

But she clings to the ancient tribal custom of carrying her "papoose" strapped to her back. She is talking with Chief Carl Standingdeer. Fourth Hand In Game Of Hearts

New York, May 23—(AP)—A new front opened up today in the Frank Sinatra-Ava Garden-Mario Cabre game of hearts.

This one involved bullfighter Cabre's Spanish sweetheart, 22-year-old Pepita Marco, who is dancing in a Greenwich Village nightclub. The word, in English, was slow to reach the Spanish-speaking senorita. But it didn't lack for impact.

When the dark-haired beauty finally comprehended her Mario's passionate outpourings to Aia the press, she tore up his picture and stamped on the pieces.

"He's a hypocrite, and I do not want to see him again ever," she declared. "I am through with him."

Replata said they were engaged 18 months ago, and when she left for America they made an agreement to let the other know if they had a change of heart.

"If he had declared a change in his letters I would have respect for him," she said. "As it is..." And she pointed to the newspapers.

In his last letter to her, Pepita said, "he only casually mentioned the picture he was making with Ava."

"He said nothing about love interest. He called me funny face, an endearing term he reserved for me alone."

Sinatra, temporarily tired from the list, was back in Hollywood after a flying trip to Spain where Ava and Marion are making a picture.

Wallacites Plan Stage Marathon Demonstration

New York, May 23—(AP)—Henry A. Wallace's Progressive party plans to stage a marathon demonstration outside the U. S. Senate office building for a fair employment practices commission.

The demonstration—called a "people's vigil for FEPC"—will start tomorrow, the party's executive committee said yesterday.

It will continue "until the Senate has acted to break the filibuster and pass the FEPC bill," the statement added.

The Progressives urged members of church, labor, civic and professional groups, "regardless of political affiliations," to join the demonstration.

won a settlement of about $250,000 in a suit against railroads of the state in an escheats case. This resulted from an increase in passenger fares the railroads put into effect during the war but which the State Utilities Commission refused to approve.

The commission ordered the railroads to refund the amount of the increase to those who bought tickets during the period. Money left over by ticket holders who did not claim their refunds was claimed by the escheats committee.

McLendon appointed a committee, composed of Edwin Pate of Laurinburg, Victor Bryant of Durham and McLendon to confer with Attorney General Harry McMillan. The group will study the possibility of asserting the university's claim on the potential new source of transportation revenue for the escheats fund.

"BIRDS OF A FEATHER"

HENRY WALLACE

FRANK GRAHAM

CLAUDE PEPPER

On June 4, 1947, Frank Graham introduced Henry Wallace at Chapel Hill and praised him as a "champion of justice, freedom, and peace among all nations of the world."

On June 5, 1947, the Southern Conference for Human Welfare, with Frank Graham as its Honorary President, sponsored a Henry Wallace speech in Raleigh.

At this speech a mixed audience of white and Negroes was demanded.

Before the Wallace speech began Clark Foreman, President of the Southern Conference for Human Welfare, asked for money contributions to help defeat all North Carolina Congressmen and Senators.

The Southerners who were praised by Henry Wallace were Frank Graham and Claude Pepper.

(Is this any surprise?)

In 1948 Frank Graham's Southern Conference for Human Welfare merged into Henry Wallace's Progressive Party.

SMOKY JOE

By W. F. BRAGG

Chapter 8
They stood eye to eye, two hard rough men. They were well armed. It would be an even fight. Jane broke it up. She pushed Joe toward the doorway. "Get out of here!" she panted. "Don't come back! Trying to shove Pack into a shooting scrape! You're on the kill the same as Monty McDevitt."

Pack put his right arm familiarly around the girl's shoulders and drew her close to his face. He showed his teeth in a grin as Joe backed toward the doorway. "Cool off, Janey," he begged. "I wouldn't mess up your joint with a gun fight!"

Joe went on down to the feed corral. All his clean shirts were in the war sack tied to his saddle. He hoped that Shorty Dike had brought his pony to the barn. Shorty had stabled his horse.

"He left orders for you to show up at Bulvane's office soon as you could," said the fat hostler. "Bulvane?"

"The sheriff. You know him. Hard Hat Bulvane."

"Why," said Joe, "have they put in that one-horse politician as sheriff?"

"This is a boom town, buddy. Ripe for buzzards like Hard Hat Bulvane. You better get around and see him pronto or he'll send a dozen shoulder strikers down to get you."

"Well, I got to clean up, and then I need some sleep."

"Middle of the day?"

"Well, I got up early. I'll get out my razor and put on a clean shirt and then head for the hotel."

"Boom town, buddy. They got 'em packed in like sardines Sleepin' four in a bed, I hear. Got to speak for a room days ahead." The hostler

Home Donated To Damon Runyon Cancer Research

New York, May 23—(AP)—Singer Esio Pinza and his wife have donated their 18-room home in suburban Rye, N. Y., to the Damon Runyon Memorial fund for cancer research.

The co-star of "South Pacific" values the property at $50,000, subject to a $14,000 mortgage.

The Runyon fund announced the gift last night. It said the property will be offered for sale after June 2. Profits above the mortgage will go to the cancer research program.

Pinza will leave the "South Pacific" cast May 31 for a motion picture career in Hollywood.

Art Mahan, baseball coach at Villanova College, starred with the Philadelphia Phillies before entering the service in 1941.

Fear Of Ghosts Seen As Danger

Boston, May 23—(AP)—A Baptist leader says that "democracy is being beaten down x x x by fear and uncertainty."

Speaking at a Communion service yesterday at the 43rd annual meeting of the northern Baptist convention, the Rev. Dr. Theron Chastain of Phoenix, Ariz., said: "The fear of ghosts is destroying us. The Russians see all kinds of fearful ghosts when they look across at us and we see ghosts behind the iron curtain."

"In our mad hunt for communists let us beware that we do not destroy our own freedoms and crucify Christ in our efforts to silence any who would disturb the peace."

Some 2,500 delegates, representing 2,000,000 Baptists in 36 northern states and Puerto Rico, attended the Communion service.

"The sad truth is that the church has excelled in finding ghosts instead of Christ," Dr. Chastain said. "To some of us, every new thing has a fearful evil to avoid and destroy."

"In view of our present day ecclesiastical fears, let us look a little more carefully at the ghosts that cause us such concern lest we find ourselves fighting God."

Insane, Innocent

Detroit, May 23—(AP)—A jury of nine women and three men yesterday acquitted Eugene Braunsdorf of murder in the "mercy killing" of his crippled daughter.

The jurors found the 52-year-old former symphony musician innocent by reason of insanity.

Braunsdorf shot and killed his daughter Virginia, 29, a year ago. Court testimony indicated that Virginia, a spastic, was hopelessly crippled and could never enjoy normal life.

Prepare Berlin For Red Putsch

Berlin, May 23—(AP)—A vanguard of militant communist youth arrived here today in preparation for Whiteside demonstrations the Reds are organizing for the coming weekend.

As they assembled, West Berlin's Mayor Ernst Reuter, in a broadcast to the Russian occupation zone, warned that his sector would "defend its freedom" against any "putsch attempt x x x to conquer and suddenly overrun free Berlin."

Meanwhile the Soviet sector was festooned with flags and numerous reviewing stands were under construction. The communists have advertised that 500,000 members of their Free German Youth (FDJ) would assemble in the city for a weekend of demonstrations.

The Reds first said their marchers would storm all Berlin including the Allied-occupied zones, but extensive Western preparations to meet any such attack were followed by a soft pedaling of communist threats.

Last fall, Syracuse University's Bob Koleser added the point after touchdown 22 times in 23 trials.

Railroad Yards Wrecked By South Amboy Blast

Here is what is left of the Pennsylvania Railroad yards in the dock area at South Amboy, N. J., in the wake of the terrific explosion Friday night. Six hundred tons of ammunition blew up on barges moored on the waterfront. Four persons were killed, 25 were missing and about 300 were injured. The Pennsylvania railroad said damage to its dock area amounted to $5,000,000. (AP Wirephoto).

Propose Mission To Middle East

Washington, May 23—(AP)—The United States is reported ready to send a "point four" survey mission to the strategic middle east as soon as countries there agree to receive it.

Government officials said today that economic aid to these countries hinges on an on-the-spot study of proposed projects. The study will be made, they added, as soon as the middle eastern governments agree to accept it.

Mission acceptance of proposed projects would put the countries in line for money and technical guidance under President Truman's so-called point 4 program for aiding economically underdeveloped areas of the world. Congress has authorized $35,000,000 for the program.

Arab governments in the middle east, angered by U. S. support of Israel, up to now have supplied very little information on ways in which they can be helped, the officials said.

Effort To Save Car Cost A Life

Rock Hill S. C., May 23—(AP)—An effort to save his automobile apparently cost a 50-year-old York fisherman his life.

The body of Elzie Lynn was found last night a few feet from the bank of the Catawba river backwater. His car had rolled into the river about 20 feet. Police theorized that Lynn's auto had rolled into the water and that he was injured trying to save it. He fell and was drowned in about three feet of water.
