Grand Master Is Honored In Visit

Every Masonic Lodge in the Fifth Masonic district and several outside the district were represented at an emergent communication held Tuesday night at the Masonic Temple in honor of Dr. Wallace E. Caldwell of Chapel Hill, grand master of Masons in North Carolina. After opening the lodge, Master Rufus H. Harrell requested Past Master W. Herman Hardee to introduce the District Deputy Grand Master of the Fifth Masonic district, Charlie R. Gray, of Robersonville, who then introduced the guest of honor. The visitors were welcomed on behalf of the lodge by Junior Warden Earl E. Alder.

In a very informative and enjoyable speech, the Grand Master first called attention to the awards now given to the best lodge in each district in the state. The lodges and district earning the most points are eligible for these prizes. Points are given for Masonic educational and related activities among the officers and members. The speaker reminded his audience of the obligations incumbent upon them as Master Masons to educate and instruct newly made Masons in the ideals of Masonry. He also called attention to the privileges and pleasures of being members of so ancient and honorable fraternity. He told of visiting, years ago, lodges in Alexandria and Cairo, Egypt, and other places and being impressed with the universality of Masonry as exemplified by those lodges whose membership was composed of several different nationalities.

The officers of Greenville Lodge 264, A. F. and A. M., are Rufus H. Harrell, Master; W. G. Garner, Senior Warden; Past Master H. J. Sawyer, acting Senior Warden for W. G. Garner who was absent; Earl E. Alder, Junior Warden; Past Master W. Herman Hardee, treasurer; Past Master A. R. House, secretary; W. E. Boswell, Senior Deacon; Geo. W. Smith, Junior Deacon; Raymond Smith, Senior Steward; Carey Joyner, Junior Steward; Edward Austin, Tiler; and Jesse W. Brown, chaplain.

Refreshments were served after the meeting by some of the ladies of the White Shrine: Mrs. F. L. Whitehurst, chairman, Miss Alya Ray Taylor, Mrs. Alfred Kennedy and Mrs. Percy Wells.

Potato Chips To Be Tested For Adding Weight

Asheville, N. C., June 30—(AP)—Are potato chips fattening?
That was the question before the house today as the National Potato Chip Institute opened its annual convention here. It was also the number one issue in the mind of "Miss Tennessee of 1949."
To help prove the potato chip industry's claim its product does not help put on weight, she has agreed to eat her weight in chips during the coming year.
Miss Tennessee—Adelyn Louise Summer of Knoxville—weighs slightly more than 100 pounds, which means she will be eating about five ounces of chips a day for the next 365 days. The result of the test on her weight and figure will be reported to the Institute's 1951 convention.

Cherokee Drama Opens Saturday

Cherokee, N. C., June 30—(AP)—"Unto These Hills"—a drama depicting the history of the Cherokee Indians in the Mountainside Theatre here tomorrow night. But thanks to a persistent whippoorwill, the script had to be changed at the last minute.

During a scene where one of the leading characters would emote, "All day the birds have not been singing" in a tree overlooking the outdoor theater—would let forth what ordinarily would be a beautiful song. When it seemed assured the bird was there to stay, Playwright Kermit Hunter revised the script, rather than risk laughter in the midst of a serious scene.

Talmadge Gains Vote Majority

Atlanta, June 30—(AP)—Georgia remained firmly today under the banner of its second-generation Talmadge political dynasty. Young Gov. Herman Talmadge, who once said he was through with politics, had smashed to a second straight Democratic primary triumph.

He thus became the first governor in modern Georgia history elected to serve six successive years. Victory... the primary is equivalent to election in one-party Georgia. Talmadge, 36, a homespun "Southern Tradition" champion, whipped former Gov. M. E. Thompson, in both popular and county unit votes. Until yesterday afternoon, Thompson's Wednesday's voting had put Thompson ahead in popular votes.

But the rural precincts which bulwark the Talmadge political organization came through in the final stages to give their champion a clear-cut decision. Returns from 1,000 of 1,704 precincts gave Talmadge 124 counties and 308 unit votes. Thompson 94 counties and 118 units. Talmadge led in popular votes, 266,354 to 258,010. One county reported a tie.

Mildred Glynn Jones Becomes Bride Of Plummer Alston Daniel

The wedding of Miss Mildred Glynn Jones, daughter of Mrs. Eugene G. Jones and the late Mr. Jones of Greenville, and Plummer Alston Daniel, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Daniel of Washington, was solemnized in a lovely ceremony Saturday, June 24, at the Jarvis Memorial Methodist church. Rev. Leon R. Russell, pastor of the church performed the double ring ceremony at 5:30 o'clock.

Greens and ferns made a background for white cathedral tapers in branched candelabras arranged amid baskets of gladioli. White satin ribbons marked the pews for the two families.

Mrs. Paul A. Toll, the church organist and Miss Allison Hearne, soloist, rendered the musical program. Prior to the ceremony Mrs. Toll played a program of nuptial music after which Miss Hearne sang "I Love Thee" by Greg and "Because" by D'Hardelot. The traditional wedding marches were used for the processional and recessional.

The bride entered the church accompanied by her brother, Mr. Andrew J. Jones, of New Bern, who gave her in marriage. She wore a floor length dress of white organdy featuring a portrait neckline, yoke of imported silk illusion and a tiny lace Johnny collar. The fitted bodice was of chantilly lace over taffeta. The sleeves of imported illusion extended into a point over the hand. The full skirt unfolding from a beautiful waist line consisted of three tunics of white organdy bordered with chantilly lace, fell to a brief sweep of trim. The fingertip veil of imported silk illusion fell from a bonnet of hand-rolled organdy petals. She carried a spray of white carnations centered with a white orchid.

The bride chose Miss Mary Emma Hudson for her maid of honor. Her gown of orchid organdy over taffeta was designed with a low neckline trimmed with a ruffle and a three-tiered skirt that fell to her ankles. A picture hat, mitts and ballerina shoes to match the dress completed her outfit. She carried a bouquet of carnations.

Bridesmaids were Miss Mary Dawn Drum of Greenville and Miss Isabelle Daniel of Middleton, niece of the bridegroom. They wore gowns, mitts, hats and shoes of light yellow and styled identical to the maid of honor's and also carried a bouquet of carnations.

The junior bridesmaids were Miss Janice Taylor of Greenville, niece of the bride, and Miss Norfleet Pike of Washington, niece of the bridegroom. Their outfits of light green and flowers were also identical to the maid of honor's.

Preceding the maid of honor were the two flower girls, little Misses Elizabeth and Patricia McCracken of Red Banks, N. J., nieces of the bride. They wore dresses of pink organdy similar to the other attendants. Their hats, shoes, and mitts were styled identical to the rest of the attendants. They carried white baskets decorated with pink carnations and tied with matching ribbons.

Ennis P. Blanchard attended the groom as best man. Ushers were Walter Bowen, Lewton Smith, W. B. Scott of Washington and J. Hassell James of Greenville.

Mrs. Jones chose for her daughters wedding a dress of powder blue crepe with white accessories.

Mrs. Irving Hodges, sister of the groom, wore a toast lace dress with matching accessories. Both wore corsages of red roses.

Mrs. James Lindsay Savage was Mistress of ceremonies.

Mrs. Daniel received her education in the Greenville schools and at East Carolina Teachers college and has been employed by the State Bank and Trust Company for the past two years.

Mr. Daniel was educated at the Washington schools. After finishing high school he entered the service and served three years. His education was completed at East Carolina Teachers College. Then he entered the air B. O. T. C. and became a Lt. Colonel. He has accepted a regular commission as Second Lieutenant with the air force.

Following the wedding ceremony the brides mother entertained at a reception at her home on West 5th street. The home was decorated throughout with carnations, feverfew and gladioli.

Guests were greeted by Mr. and Mrs. Burke Stancil who directed them into the living room where they were introduced to the receiving line. The dining room table from which wedding cake, nuts, mints and lime ice punch were served was covered with a white cutwork table cloth of Irish linen, centered with ivy and white tapers. Mrs. James W. Stocks of Richmond, Va., served lime ice punch while the wedding cake was served by Mrs. E. A. Daniel of Middleton. They were assisted in serving by Mrs. Ennis Blanchard and Mrs. Jasper L. Taylor. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Allen of Raleigh presided at the register and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Walsh said the goodbyes.

After the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel left for a wedding trip to unannounced points. For traveling Mrs. Daniel chose a pink silk dress with white accessories. Her corsage was the orchid lifted from her wedding bouquet.

On Friday night, June 23, Mrs. J. W. Stocks of Richmond, Va., entertained the wedding party at an after rehearsal party at which the attendants were remembered with gifts chosen for them by the bride and bridegroom.

Prior to her marriage the bride was extended many social courtesies. Luncheons — Mr. and Mrs. Bill Drum and Mary Dawn Drum, Mrs. E. A. Daniel of Middleton and Mrs. Irving Hodges of Washington, N. C. Coca-Cola parties—Miss Mary La Abee and Mrs. James Lindsey Savage. Bridge party—Misses Helen Joyce Nelson and Mary Emma Hudson. Buffet supper—Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Taylor and Catherine Taylor. Miscellaneous showers—Mrs. Jimmy Tripp, Mrs. Hazel Cherry and Mrs. Faye Harris of Greenville and Mrs. Andrew J. Jones of New Bern.

Confesses Arson

Columbus, O., June 30—(AP) Ohio Fire Marshal Harry J. Callan today said Robert Dale Segee, 21, Circleville, O., has signed statements admitting he set the Ringling Bros. circus fire in Hartford, Conn., that killed 168 persons and injured 412 others in 1944.

Callan said Segee also admitted setting between 25 and 30 major fires in Portland, Me., between 1939 and 1946, other fires in New Hampshire and Ohio and that he is personally responsible for the slaying of four persons.

Callan said all of Segee's statements have been carefully checked by his investigators since Segee was taken into custody last May 17 on the farm of a relative near East St. Louis, Ill.

Evacuees Need Extra Diapers

Tokyo, June 30—(AP)—Diapers were in big demand today among American mothers evacuated from war-torn Korea.

Their hurried departure prevented them from bringing enough with them and the Red Cross does not carry diapers in its usual overseas stocks.

Vince Magi, captain-elect of the Michigan State baseball team, compiled a .348 batting mark for the 1950 season, with seven homers.

Employment For N. C. Shows Gain

Raleigh, N. C., June 30—(AP) North Carolina's non-agricultural employment climbed last month to a total of 849,200—up 1,500 from the April figure.

The State Department of Labor reported this today in the first of a new and expanded series of monthly statistical reports. These reports will show the state's total employment except in agriculture.

Last month's total was 2.7 per cent higher than the May, 1949, employment level, said Labor Department statistician C. H. Pritchard.

Pritchard said a lengthened work week was reported by most of the state's industries. In factories, the workweek averaged 41.8 hours, an increase of 2.7 per cent over April. Also up were factory earnings, which averaged $40.79 per week during May. This boost of 2.5 per cent, due to the longer work week, came despite a fractional drop in hourly earnings which averaged nearly $1.08.

In employment, the major drop came in textile mills which laid off some 2,300 workers last month. Biggest losses were 1,200 in seamless hosiery mills and 900 in yard and thread mills.

Pritchard said nearly all other manufacturing industries reported either "no change" or modest employment gains during May.

Police Continue Robbery Inquiry

Greenville police are continuing their investigation of the alleged armed holdup of James Briley, AA taxicab driver, by a Negro passenger in his car across Tar River early last Sunday.

Police quoted Briley as saying he was called to Second and Evans street just before dawn last Sunday morning; that he transported an unknown Negro man across the river and to a lonely spot west of the railroad, and that when he stopped his passenger held him up with a pistol and stole between $20 and $25 from him.

Detective Lieut. M. E. Corbett and Fingerprint Specialist S. Bower Dorey also quoted the taxicab driver as saying that the Negro forced him at gunpoint to drive him back over the river to a residential section of Greenville, and then permitted him to depart.

News Behind The News By RAY TUCKER... WASHINGTON, June 30—The politico-petroleum bloc's resentment against the Administration's on-and-off attitude toward their industry has steamed to the high-pressure point as a result of their discovery of the inside activities of William M. Boyle Jr., former Kansas City policeman, who now heads the Democratic National Committee by personal appointment of President Truman.

It was Mr. Boyle, looking ahead to Mr. Truman's renomination and reelection in 1952, who advised the President to veto the Kerr Natural Gas Bill in spite of the fact that the man in the White House had previously promised Capitol Hill friends that he would approve it.

This measure would have removed producers and gatherers of this commodity in the South and Southwest from jurisdiction of the Federal Power Commission. It was sponsored by such party leaders as Speaker Rayburn, Senator "Bob" Kerr of Oklahoma, Senators Connally and Johnson of Texas, and many other loyal Administration men.

FORMULA—Although a virtual neophyte in national politics, Chairman Boyle has framed his own formula for keeping Mr. Truman in office for at least another term. Incidentally, he has sold the scheme to the White House.

The basic requirement is for the Truman faction to retain the support of organized labor, especially the CIO, the liberal fringe as represented by the Americans for Democratic Action, and all racial groups.

This explains why the President has gone through the motions of demanding repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act, enactment of FEPC legislation and passage of other social welfare measures.

MASS—The second Boyle promise is that Mr. Truman must appeal to the vast mass vote of independents and consumer groups in northern cities. Mr. Boyle's underlying plan is to be able to renominate and elect his Missouri friend with a minimum of political help from southern politicians and states.

It was for these reasons that he headed the "palace guard" which urged Mr. Truman to break his promise to the politicians by vetoing the Kerr Bill. When eighteen mayors from northern and midwestern cities laid their protests before Mr. Boyle, he persuaded the President to repudiate his pledge.

HIRED—Now it develops that Mr. Boyle was on the payroll of the Independent Natural Gas Association until a short time before he was named by President Truman as chairman of the Democratic National Committee. Although he may deny the connection, it is understood that the organization's books will show it, if the House Committee investigating lobbyists will demand their production.

Mr. Boyle is said to have received $10,000 annually from the independent gas crowd. Although he was paid for his "legal services," it is doubtful if this group of men, who know their Washington, would have hired an obscure Kansas City lawyer had it not been for his known friendship with Mr. Truman. And during the period of his employment, his client's principal objective was passage and presidential approval of the Kerr Bill.

Thus, according to the oleaginous politicians, the Democratic National Chairman turned his back on his former employers just as President Truman refused to keep his promises to the Kerr-Rayburn-Connally bloc.

SLOGAN—President Truman vetoed the Kerr Bill because he listened to the Boyle contention that the measure would mean a "billion dollars rape of the consumers." That was the slogan raised by the leftist ADA-ers on and off Capitol Hill.

Petroleum experts declared that a veto would actually result in an increase of natural gas prices at retail. For one thing, they warned that they would store rather than sell their product pending another attempt at passage of the measure.

Fearing federal regulation from the wells to heating units in homes and factories, they forecast a lag in expansion for lack of incentive.

Their predictions are coming true. Applications before the Federal Power Commission by natural gas companies now ask for rate increases totalling almost $2 billion dollars. Unless granted, there may be serious shortages next winter.

APPLICATION—Although the natural gas industry is enjoying an unprecedented boom, with cities from New England to California demanding this relatively inexpensive source of heat and energy, only one application for construction of a transmission line has been filed with the FPC since Mr. Truman vetoed the Kerr Bill.

Oddly, it was filed by Curtis B. Dall of Houston, former son-in-law of President Roosevelt, who has been dabbling in this field for some years. Just before World War II, he was able to obtain favors for a well-known natural gas company, and was promised a heavy load of stock. He now has a suit before the Supreme Court to collect on those promises.

Mr. Dall wants an FPC license for a line from the East Texas fields to as far north as Kalamazoo, Mich. It is a $14,500,000 project, to be constructed by the Valley Gas Pipe Line Company, of which he is president. The names of his financial backers are not listed in his application.

All other natural gas applications before the FPC are from communities and industries demanding new or additional service. But their needs cannot be met because of the presidential veto that was supposed to protect the consumers.

ORATORY—Louis Johnson's boastful analysis of the Korean military situation has pained the real Pentagon experts more deeply than his hollow declaration that a Russian invasion of Western Europe could be stopped between midnight and four o'clock of the same morning. It has also irritated President Truman and Secretary Acheson, in view of the gravity of this situation.

U.S.-backed Southern Korea has only a constabulary force since we withdrew our 50,000 troops. They have only light weapons which we handed over to them. No tanks, few planes, no warships at all. Since the southern section has been the breadbasket of the peninsula, there are no industries, no utilities, no transportation facilities. Those are possessed by Communist-dominated Northern Korea, which also has a well-trained and equipped fighting force.

ARTESIA, N.M., ADVOCATE: "A total of 19 states in the nation have adopted resolutions calling for the limiting of Federal spending to 25 per cent of income and efforts are being made to obtain approval of 13 more states to give the necessary three-fourths to make it mandatory for Congress to submit a constitutional amendment."

ASTORIA, OREGON, BUDGET: "There is a tendency for the Federal government to step in and take over functions which local taxing bodies cannot perform because the voters won't give them the necessary money."

MORGAN CITY, LA., REVIEW: "While basic material prices are rising and advances are being announced for numerous finished products at the manufacturer and distributor levels, the retail merchant generally is doing business at the old prices. Spending has not been carefree along Main Street. Plenty of goods are moving, but the customer is choosy."

KNOXVILLE, IOWA, EXPRESS: "If the government places shackles on the three largest meat packing companies it would not be long before shackles would be placed on the next ten or twenty meat packing companies and so on down the line. It would be next to impossible to socialize an industry like the meat packing business without placing the source of the raw materials under socialistic control. You farmers in... the entire nation better think about this and think hard before it is too late and not let socialism in this country go to such an extent that it cannot be stopped."

"The fact that the voters have indicated they would just as soon do without such functions by voting down the taxes for them is no deterrent to the Federal government."

Somebody Told Me

By I. J. (Jack) EDWARDS, JR.

While everybody else is talking about the war scare I have another topic for your attention: a blue house. Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Lewis, 211 Raleigh Avenue, always have liked blue. One of their bedrooms and their living room were already painted blue when Mrs. Lewis decided she wanted a blue kitchen.

Daily Reflector Bureau By LYNN NISBET Raleigh, N. C.

BUDGET—"Mr. Chairman, I move adoption of the proposed budget," said Sol Brower at the state board of education meeting Thursday. "Second the motion," said another member. In less than two minutes the board, all members present except Treasurer Brandon Hodges, unanimously approved the distribution of $84,516,933 for the nine months school term of 1950-51.

PRO-TEM—As contrasted with a hard fought contest shaping up between Fred Royter of Vance and Frank Taylor of Wayne for speaker of the next house of representatives, there seems to be high degree of unanimity among prospective senators for their president pro tem. In keeping with the rotation agreement it is conceded this post will go to a westerner in 1951. Of the 21 Democratic senators from west of Alamance, only seven have had previous service in the senate. Only four—Grady Rankin of Gaston, L. E. Barnhardt of Cabarrus, Nelson Woodson of Rowan and R. E. Little of Anson were members of the last session. To date the only prospective candidate for president pro tem is Rankin. He will be in his third consecutive term, following two others in the early thirties. In 1933 and 1949 he was chairman of the finance committee, and by virtue of that assignment a member of the advisory budget commission.

DUTIES—The president pro tem normally has light duties. He convenes the senate and presides in absence of the lieutenant governor. Traditionally he is chairman of the committee on rules and a sort of ex-officio member of all committees. Importance of the post is its residual responsibility of the governor and lieutenant governor, whereupon the president pro tem assumes the states chief executive position. During sessions of the senate and in committee debates the president pro tem wields considerable influence, although lacking actual authority. Whether in the second official position or not, Senator Rankin will exert a lot of influence.

What Other Papers Are Thinking

"BARDEN GOES UP" (The Sun-Journal, New Bern) "Graham A. Barden of New Bern the other day was elevated to the chairmanship of the powerful education and labor committee of the House," says the Wilson Daily Times. "That puts him on a level with Robert L. Doughton who heads the tax-writing ways and means committee, and Harold D. Cooley, the chairman of the agricultural committee. Thus the state has three men in important positions. In that way only can it influence legislation. If that legislation isn't in keeping with what the President and the CIO want, it'll be because the South still believes in what might be called pure democracy."

Business Today

By ELMER ROESSNER The vacation season that gets under way today now looks as if it will involve more people and more spending than any other. It was only a few months ago that the resort and tourist industry was willing to settle for the second largest season, a little below 1949.

The biggest reason for the change in outlook has been the boom since May, with its high employment and income. More people than ever can finance a few weeks at the shore or in the mountains.

The fear of war is also another factor. Travel agencies report a sharp rise in inquiries since the Korean trouble broke out, with many making last minute plans for vacations or extending previously planned short vacations. A common remark, "There's not going to be a war, but we'd better take a real vacation just in case." This attitude is improving both domestic and European vacation prospects.

Another factor is that there are more cars on the road than ever before, and more new cars. Even though the monthly payments cut into spending money, a new car creates a strong temptation to go touring.

A fourth factor is that a number of new labor contracts provide for longer vacations. The upsurge in vacationing suggests two cautions: Vacationers should get confirmed reservations from the resorts they intend to visit. There will be less room for last-minute vacationers. And firms with traveling salesmen and technicians should book-train and hotel reservations as far in advance as possible. Otherwise, these may be sold out to happy holiday-makers.

COFFEE RISING IN SECOND ROUND Talk of dollar-a-pound coffee has reappeared in the New York market, although so far there seems no real expectation of such a high price. However, after the recent decline, coffee prices appear to be in a second round of advances.

BRAZIL AND CASHEW NUT CROPS SHORT Cashews and Brazil nuts may be scarcer and higher. The Indian cashew nut crop is estimated to be 17 per cent below the 10-year average and the Amazon basin crop of Brazil nuts is estimated to be 13 per cent below the 10-year average. In addition, British importers are now allowed to buy Brazil nuts for the first time since the war.

Hal Boyle's Column

Valley Forge, Pa.—(AP)—The American manhood of tomorrow is proudly here today, camped in a vale of the past that may also point to bivouacs in the future. You can look as far as your eyes can grasp across these reaching hills and break your heart with terror and hope for what you see.

What lies in sight? Tents and tepees holding some 47,000 American Boy Scouts and comrades from 20 foreign countries. And the youngsters have lived completely up to the 40-year-old Scout motto: "Be prepared." In a few days they have built up a camp base so neat and well-polished it would win praise from even the most brass-happy army commander. West Point cadets could hardly better—and even they wouldn't have the same quick enthusiasm that goes beyond discipline.

But it is an odd and sudden irony of history that has overtaken the Boy Scouts gathered for their second great national jamboree at this spot where George Washington and the country he founded went through a wintry agony of doubt before the ragged continental army took up the march toward eventual victory.

For now, 172 years later to the month from the time Washington's soldiers trooped from here into battle, the nation has taken action after another long Valley Forge of the spirit. This time it is toward a summer decision in cold war before has suddenly become a military heat wave now.

America has had to adopt that Scout motto: "Be prepared." It has also forcibly started to carry out international pledges consistent with its own national safety which are in keeping with the Scout oath: "To help other people at all times; to keep myself physically strong, mentally awake, and morally straight."

And that is the substance of the message Scout leaders expect President Truman will deliver at the opening of the week-long jamboree tonight. The Scouts have been too busy exploring the Valley Forge area to pay much heed to the battle developments in the Far East. A jamboree is an exciting thing, and after all they are boys not men. It is the first trip away from home for many.

But the Korean war has many a Scoutmaster worried. They ask newsmen repeatedly: "What's happened? What's behind it all?" And so a visitor who has seen war there is a kind of shadow over this encampment of youth, you'd so innocent it should never be bruised but should go on having this way forever.

That shadow is what the future may hold, not so much for them alone but for all boys everywhere who must grow into men and perhaps dare what men have so often been called upon to face. But tomorrow is another time. Now is the time of happy jamboree. And the Scouts trail each other skillfully through the forest, cheerful as bear cubs at play,

Washington Letter

By JANE EADS WASHINGTON—Some folks think Percy Maxim Lee is a man. But Percy Maxim Lee is very much a woman, says Percy is a family name. "I was always being taken for a boy when I was young," she told me. "Once I was asked to join the Y.M.C.A. Percy Maxim Lee—Mrs. John G. Lee of Farmington, Conn., is the new president of the League of Women Voters of the U. S."

She practices what she preaches—international cooperation and understanding. Although she's the wife of a busy aeronautical engineer, mother of four children and has a granddaughter, her home has taken on the atmosphere of a small United Nations. Scarcely a week passes without a guest from some other country.

In the midst of preparations for the league's recent national convention, Mrs. Lee was hostess to four women from Japan who were in the U. S. to study the participation of women in democratic government. The family is continually entertaining people from the United Nations and foreign visitors on special missions to this country.

"During the war the house was stretched to take in two children from Oxford, England, who lived with us for five years," she told me. "In addition we had a family of three who had escaped from Danzig, a young Hollander and an Irish maid and her family. The Lee children are Hamilton, Nancy, Percy (nicknamed "Puss") and John Maxim, who is married and the father of infant Virginia. The whole family is now engaged in gathering and packing food and used clothing to send to 15 different places in England, Wales, Italy, Germany, France and Holland.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee ride horseback together. Vacations are spent at a cottage at Mystic, Conn., and on two sail boats the family owns. The elder Lees have founded a co-operative school at West Hartford, Conn., and all along Mrs. Lee has worked for the league. She served eight years as president of the Farmington league, then six years as president of the Connecticut league.

How does she do all these things and remain so serene and pleasant? "I'm only following the precedent in my family and perhaps using some of the energy I inherited," she says. Her grandfather, Sir Hiram Stephens Maxim, invented the Maxim gun and was knighted by Queen Victoria. Her father, the late Hiram Percy Maxim, invented the Maxim gun silencer. Her mother, an early suffragist, helped organize the League of Women Voters in Connecticut.

Population Trends Reveal Tarheels Like Their H. C.

By LYNN NISBET
 Raleigh, June 30—Preliminary census reports indicate that 22 counties lost population since the 1940 count, while 78 gained and the state at large added about a half million people or 13 percent.

The counties which show declining population are Alleghany, Anson, Ashe, Avery, Camden, Cherokee, Clay, Currituck, Dare, Gates, Greene, Hyde, Jackson, Madison, Mitchell, Perquimans, Person, Polk, Stokes, Swain, Tyrrell and Yancey.

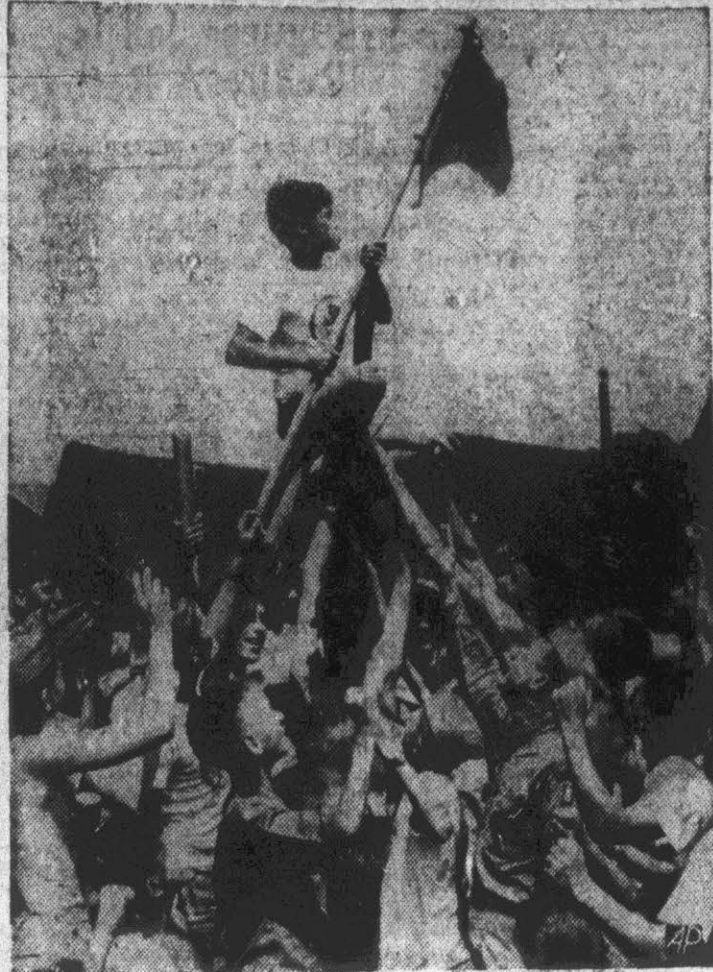

It is noted at first glance that nearly all these counties are in the extreme east or the extreme west. Anson, Greene, Person, Polk and Stokes might not be classed in either extreme.

More significant, though not so readily noticed, is the fact only one of the counties losing population—Greene—is completely surrounded by North Carolina land. Perquimans and Tyrrell border the Alabar sound, which lies entirely within the territorial limits of this state. Dare and Hyde face the open Atlantic ocean beyond the outer banks.

All of the other seventeen declining counties border adjoining states, two of them with double jeopardy. Ashe borders on both Tennessee and Virginia; Cherokee touches both Georgia and Tennessee. Clay is bounded on the south by Georgia. Anson is on the South Carolina line. So is Jackson and Polk.

Avery, Madison, Mitchell, Swain and Yancey have Tennessee as their western boundary. Alleghany, Camden, Currituck, Gates, Person and Stokes face Virginia on the north.

Maybe all of this doesn't mean anything, but a good propagandist for North Carolina might make something out of the fact that folks who come to North Carolina by birth or immigration, apparently want to get deep into the state. Let the other side argue that the greatest percentage occurred in Onslow, an ocean front county, and that many border counties showed large increases. Fact remains, the inside counties generally gained, while losses occurred on the border.

Engine Trouble Blamed In Crash

Smyrna, Tenn., June 30—(AP)—Engine trouble is blamed for the crash of two big C-119 troop transport planes based at Stewart Air base here in two days.

One C-119 Packet carrying a five man crew crashed near Decatur, Ala., yesterday injuring two crewmen.

The Sewart information office said the craft's right engine failed causing the plane, loaded with 3,000 gallons of high-octane gasoline to crash, the gas did not ignite.

Yesterday's mishap, one just 19 hours after another C-119, successor to the flying boxcar, exploded and burned near Nashville, Tenn. killing all four crewmen.

Twenty-six paratroopers from Fort Campbell, Ky., on a night drop mission, took to their chutes and escaped injury. Failure of the left engine preceded the Nashville crash.

A board of investigators headed by Capt. Vernon J. Bower of Corsicana, Tex., began probing the accidents yesterday.

Injured in the Alabama crash were Sgt. John W. Kestner, of Saltville, Va., and Sgt. William R. Saewart, 26, of Route two, Mt. Pleasant, Tenn. Neither was termed seriously injured.

Georgia's Gov. Herman Talmadge and his wife Betty are jubilant over his nomination for re-election in Wednesday's Democratic primary. They wave to well-wishers in his campaign headquarters in an Atlanta hotel. A rival candidate, former Gov. M. E. Thompson, got more popular votes but Talmadge won the nomination because of Georgia's unique county unit election system. (AP Photo).

Mishap On Bike Wasn't Enough

New Haven, Conn., June 30—(AP)—The misfortunes of Steven Jones, 37, only started when he fell off his bicycle yesterday while riding along a downtown street.

Police found an eyewitness who told them that while Jones lay stunned on the pavement, a woman came along, took Jones' eyeglasses and wallet, and rode off on the bicycle.

Jones couldn't confirm the story. He said he knew nothing of what happened until he regained consciousness in New Haven Hospital. But he did know he had had $27 in his wallet.

Record For Playground Attendance Is Set For Week, Announces Director

A record for playground attendance was set last week by the playgrounds under the direction of the Greenville Recreation commission, Bill Kittrell, playground director, announced today.

More than 5,000 visits were made to the playgrounds operated and supervised by the city in the past week, the report revealed. This does not mean that 5,000 children visited the playgrounds, Kittrell pointed out, but that the number of visits were recorded by the directors at the park and playgrounds.

In addition to this number at the playgrounds, over 2,100 persons used the city municipal swimming pool which is a part of the summer recreation program. Director Kittrell said that many free passes have been given to deserving children in the town in order that they may use the pool. The tickets will continue to be distributed, Kittrell said.

This year the improved city-wide recreation program seems to have swung into full swing in the early days of the summer vacation with better attendance being reported than in past years. This year a paid director is directing the entire city program and additional workers who have been badly needed have been hired in order that the program could operate efficiently.

The summer baseball leagues under the direction of Bo Farley which play regular games daily have brought large crowds of boys out for the sports.

Not a part of the playground program but still under the city-wide recreation program is the Civic and Industrial league softball teams currently playing in the afternoons. Director Kittrell told of the program in this manner, "We have a program which fits the needs of each and everyone in the city who wants recreation. From the smallest tots to the older adults the program covers them." Any suggestions which anyone would like to make will be greatly appreciated, the director said. "We strive to sponsor what the public wants in the way of recreation in order to have a better coverage, Kittrell said.

Free Swimming

Free swimming will be sponsored by the Greenville Elks Club starting July 3. On each Monday from eleven to twelve o'clock all swimmers will be admitted free of charge. The Elks Club is maintaining its policy of offering free swimming to the children of the city one day a week.

The regular hours of the pool, however, will be observed. Free swimming lessons will also be given at the pool beginning Monday. Chairman of the City Recreation Commission Heber B. Tripp reported today. "We will have competent instructors with Red Cross certification to teach and serve as Life Guards while the children are in the pool," he said. "All children who wish to take advantage of the free swimming lessons must register with David Jones at the Greenville swimming pool or they will not be allowed to swim or to take part in the free swimming lessons. The classes will be made up according to ages in order to give each child every chance to learn to swim.

Tripp urged all interested to register early in order that the number of instructors needed can be obtained in time for the opening day Monday. If the registration is large enough both the main pool and the baby pool will be turned over for swimming lessons, Tripp said.

David Jones at the swimming pool today said that the number of children who have registered for the free swimming lessons has been small compared to the crowd which is expected to sign up.

New Equipment Given

Several civic clubs and other organizations have given playground equipment for use on the city playgrounds. "The equipment was sorely needed," Tripp said. "The gift of the equipment is not only appreciated by the City Recreation Commission but also by the children who have the chance to use it. The clubs gave the equipment and in so doing helped to equip the playgrounds which could not have been equipped otherwise, because of the limited budget which the City Recreation Commission has to operate the city recreation program."

The Business and Professional Women's Club gave a slide which was installed at Long Acres and the Greenville Post of the V.F.W. presented the city with a double seesaw, also installed at Long Acres. The Long Acres playground was the newest development to be taken in under the expanded playground program being carried out this year. The Greenville Lions Club, under the leadership of Frank Brown, installed water and toilet units at the Charles and 14th Street playground.

"Parts are not being received for seesaws to be placed in Hillsdale and 3rd Street, West Greenville and Fleming Street schools.

At the swimming pool new diving boards have been installed and placed in operation, Cashier Dave Jones stated. Recently the pool was closed for its regular cleanup and the repairs were made during that time. At the other playgrounds new equipment and games are being added as they are obtained and the present equipment and grounds are being worked on and kept in good shape.

Art Program

One of the programs being conducted by the playgrounds this year which is receiving good attendance is the newly installed art program, Director Kittrell said. The program is under the direction of Martha Gilbert, talented art student. The teacher travels from the various playgrounds giving art instructions to any children, who want them. Miss Gilbert has reported good response to the program and the attendance at the classes has been very good. "Some of the children have shown quite a talent for painting and drawing in their work," Miss Gilbert said.

Each of the playgrounds, both white and colored, are visited on a regular schedule. The schedule for today included morning art classes at Cotton Mill Hill and afternoon classes at Meadowbrook Park. A complete listing of the parks to be visited next week will be published in the Daily Reflector.

The regular playground activities of ball, games and contests continue to be well attended at all the parks, the directors report.

Three of the white playgrounds held their first competitive meetings at the Cotanche playgrounds Wednesday with contests in horseshoe, badminton and softball being conducted.

West Greenville and Cotanche Street Park tied for first place with 12 points each. Charles Street failed to score a point but put up a good showing. The games Wednesday were the first in a series of many to be held in a series of days.

In addition to the regular programs at the parks contests are held with special prizes awarded the winners. Several free swim tickets are presented to the winners and a ticket given to the losers. This is just part of the many ways in which the recreation commission is striving to make the playgrounds the place for the children to spend their spare hours in a safe and wholesome place.

Director Kittrell urged all parents to bring their children to the parks where they can take part in the program. "While the attendance of more than 5,000 last week was very good there are still many persons who should visit the parks," Kittrell said.

For any information regarding the recreation program or the swimming pool a special phone has been installed at the hut in the Cotanche street park. The number of the phone is 4061.

The third part of the city-wide program of recreation is the Teen Age Club located at the old NYA site on Elm Street. Also at the Teen Age Club attendance has been reported as good with large crowds of teen agers in attendance on week end nights. The club offers supervised recreation for the teen agers in both games, dancing and fellowship.

Ninety percent of those who hold secretarial positions, said Dr. Tarkington, lose their jobs because of personality difficulties; only 10 percent are dismissed because of lack of skill. This fact does not indicate, however, he stated, that skill is a negligible factor. Without it, he told his audience, the secretary cannot succeed, even though possessed of the most pleasing personality traits. Answering the question "What's Wrong with the Secretary?" Dr. Tarkington gave practical suggestions for improving service on the job.

Mrs. Thadys Dewar of Bethel, graduate student at East Carolina, led a round-table discussion after Dr. Tarkington's talk. At a luncheon meeting in the college dining hall, Supt. J. H. Ross of the Greenville city schools, was principal

Truman Endorses Willis Smith As Demo. Candidate

Senator Frank P. Graham, for the Democratic Senatorial nomination. Smith, a strong opponent of the President's Civil Rights program, also spoke vigorously against Mr. Truman's proposal for compulsory health insurance.

Although Graham opposed those parts of the "fair deal" program, he was regarded as much more friendly to many of the President's proposals than Smith is likely to be.

Mr. Truman was asked whether he would vote the straight Democratic ticket in North Carolina in view of the results there. He said that he would, that he always votes the Democratic ticket.

Also in response to questions, Mr. Truman said he is going to do everything he can to help get James Roosevelt elected governor of California.

Washington, June 30—(AP)—President Truman kept party regularity to the fore with his statement that he supports the entire Democratic ticket in North Carolina.

That statement at his news conference yesterday included the candidacy of Willis Smith, who defeated the President's good friend

Hail In Eastern N. C. Hit Crops

Raleigh, N. C., June 30—(AP)—Pelting hail caused considerable crop damage in some sections of eastern North Carolina yesterday. The hail fell during heavy rains that were beaten along by high winds.

First reports were that the heaviest hail damage occurred in Wake and Edgecombe counties. Light damage was reported in the Winterville and Pictolus sections of Pitt county.

A section 10 miles long and two miles wide in Eastern Wake county was spotted with hail damage. Walter Trevathan, farmer of near Zebulon, lost his 112-acre tobacco crop, two-acre cotton crop, and his garden. Damage was reported near Cary, in western Wake.

Edgecombe county reported three acres suffered heavy hail damage, with losses estimated to range from 75 to 100 per cent.

County agent Joe Powell said it was hard to estimate losses because of previous hail losses 10 days ago.

Memphis, Tenn., June 30—(AP)—The Armed Forces said NO for the twentieth time yesterday to join Patrick Laxton.

California. Roosevelt is opposing Republican Gov. Earl Warren.

Roosevelt's friends want the President to speak in California for the Governor nominee, as well as for Rep. Helen Gahagan Douglas. As the Democratic Senatorial nominee, she is opposed by Republican Rep. Richard M. Nixon.

Under the newly extended controls, major provisions of the existing act are continued until December 31, 1956. Those localities which want to keep controls until June 30, 1951, can do so.

While House aides have indicated that it can be arranged, Mr. Truman may make several whistle stop tours this fall. The outbreak of fighting in Korea has cast some recent doubt on the plans.

Mr. Truman's endorsement of Smith and Roosevelt emphasized again the President's feeling for party regularity.

Roosevelt was no favorite of the president in 1948 when he opposed Mr. Truman's nomination at that year's Democratic convention. However, his support of the ticket after the nomination apparently will spare him any White House retaliation.

Supporting Smith, Mr. Truman will be backing a man who is regarded as certain to join the southern Democratic bloc in the Senate which opposes much of the President's program and often goes along with Republicans to defeat specific measures.

Will Emphasize Farm Importance

The company wants to show how agriculture helps the local economy. Citizens and businessmen will recognize the cartwheels as farm workers' dollars as they roll through shops.

Proposes Law Banning Payment To Congressmen

Washington, June 30—(AP)—Rep. O'Sullivan (D-Nebr.) wants a law to fine and jail members of Congress who accept money for making speeches or writing articles.

O'Sullivan put his idea into a bill which he introduced in the House yesterday. He wants a penalty of $10,000 and ten years in prison for violators.

The Nebraskan said in a statement that his bill "followed disclosures that Senator Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.) has been paid $10,000 for writing an article for the Lustron (prefab housing) Corporation."

How To Help Exceptional Child To A Happier Life Discussed At Meet

How to enable the exceptional child to lead a happier life through the use of his assets to the best advantage was considered at a three-day institute staged this week at East Carolina Teachers College. Approximately 150 people, largely teachers in the public schools, attended Tuesday through Thursday a series of meetings in the Flanagan auditorium.

Problems presented in training children with deficiencies of vision and losses of hearing, slow-learning children, the cerebral palsied, and crippled children were discussed by specialists in education and medicine.

Mrs. Dorothy W. Perkins, speech and hearing consultant in the department of education at East Carolina, acted as director of the Institute. In the opening address of the session, she talked on "Who Are Our Exceptional Children?" Today she conducted a final meeting at which various participants summarized and evaluated the work of the Institute.

Dr. Herbert Koepf Baker of the University of Illinois College of Medicine, principal speaker at the Institute, discussed the topic "Straightening Talk" at a luncheon in the college dining hall Wednesday afternoon. He emphasized the idea that in the education of exceptional children capitalization of their assets is the important factor. "Do not," he advised, "work merely on defects. Develop the assets remaining to the child, he urged, and try to aid him in using them to the greatest possible advantage.

Job 'Interviews' Were Expensive

Baltimore, June 30—(AP)—A group of construction workers were caught with their UH-guard down yesterday.

The victims told police they answered an ad for out-of-town jobs at a suite at a downtown hotel. A ruddy faced "interviewer" accepted all 18 and told them to go into the next room to disrobe for medical inspection.

He would keep their valuables, if they liked. Nine handed over their wallets, with cash amounting to $175.

Stripped to their shorts, the 18 waited. And waited. And waited. But no doctor came in to look at them.

Finally, after about an hour, one of them peeked into the main room. The interviewer is gone. So were the wallets. And the hotel found the room had been cleaned out completely.

Colorful Red Sox Of 1950 To Be Remembered By Fans

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Nobody ever will forget the 1950 Boston Red Sox. That's for sure. How Ted Williams and Co. ground the record book to bits. How the Sox raced up and down the scale from heroes to bums and back in the glorious month of June. Losing a manager in the process.

How they hit the 20-run mark three times in June and reached the last day of the month struggling in fourth place, seven games off the pace.

Maybe they have found themselves under Steve O'Neill, successor to Joe McCarthy. Maybe not. But their June records will stand for years to come.

Take yesterday's 22-14 wrestle with the Philadelphia A's. Never before in the American League did two clubs run up 36 runs in a nine-inning game. The old high of 35 also was set by the Red Sox and A's in 1901.

Then there was the 29-4 slaughter of the St. Louis Browns, June 2—highest score by a major league club since 1867. The day before that it was 20-4.

You'd think a club capable of such muscle flexing would be leading the league. But even now, with a seven-game win streak going, the Sox are fourth behind Detroit, New York and Cleveland. In the weird adventure in Shibe Park yesterday, Boston scored six in the first, the A's four. At the end of two innings it was 14-7. And no home runs until the seventh when Williams hit his 24th with a man on. That was the only homer.

Detroit maintained its 4½ game lead over New York as both lost. Young Bob Cain of the Chicago White Sox survived a shaky first inning to trim the Tigers, 7-3. Sid Hudson also weathered a first-inning blast to give Washington a 12-7 verdict over the Yankees.

Cliff Mape's three-run homer was the big blow in the Yanks' first-inning attack on Hudson. But Joe Ostrowski couldn't protect a 5-1 lead. The Senators knocked him out in the second and hung the loss on reliever Tom Ferrick in the fourth. Steve Gromek set down St. Louis with six hits while Cleveland rapped Duane Pillette for a 4-1 night game victory. It was the Tribe's 13th win in their last 16 starts.

Brooklyn retained its half game lead in the National while losing to New York, 11-5. Vern Bickford helped the Dodgers by pitching Boston to a 3-2 night decision over the Phillies. The Dodgers and Phils open an important series tonight.

Sam Jethroe put on quite a show in the sixth. He reached first on an error, stole second for his 18th theft, then scored from second when Earl Torgeson grounded out, first baseman to the pitcher.

Chicago hung another loss on the St. Louis Cardinals, 6-1, behind Bob Rush's five-hitter. It was the Cards' tenth loss in their last 14 games and rush's 10th complete game for his ninth win.

Pittsburgh and Cincinnati were not scheduled.

Tonight's Games
Greenville at Wilson
Goldboro at Tarboro
Rocky Mount at Kinston
New Bern at Roanoke Rapids

The Robins' inability to play the Kinston Eagles last night cost them a half game in league standings as the Wilson Tobs defeated the Rocky Mount Leafs, 5-1, over in Wilson last night to move a half game ahead of the Robins. The rained out contest last night will be played as the first game of a double-header here on Monday, July 24, which is the next scheduled meeting between the two clubs at Greenville. With last night's rained out game the Robins now face three doubleheaders, not including the regular scheduled July 4 twin bills. The first of these doubleheaders will be played with Rocky Mount here on next Saturday night, July 8, a game that has to be replayed when the two teams played to a 5-5 tie on last Tuesday night. The second doubleheader follows on Sunday when the Robins play down in New Bern in a game that was rained out down there on June 22nd. In fact that was a scheduled doubleheader which was rained out and brings another twin bill with the Bears down there again on July 21st. . . . And speaking of doubleheaders, the Roanoke Rapids Jays are the only club at the present time that are up-to-date on their schedule and have no doubleheaders facing them with the exception of the July 4th scheduled games. That should be a big help to the Jays as they continue their fight for top position in the Coastal Plain. . . . The Robins really have a crucial series coming up in the next two days when they meet Manager Bill Herring and his Wilson Tobs in a two-game series. Quite a lot will depend on the outcome of these two contests and should the Robins take both of them it will certainly be a big help to them in their fight for fourth position. Should they lose these two games—well, that would be just too bad and would really hurt.

Be sure and make your plans to be out to the game early Saturday night and enjoy the antics of Max Patkin. They say he is a real comedian and really can put on a show. He will start his clowning at about 7:30 o'clock, so you had better be early and assure yourself of a seat. There will be no advance in admission prices for this extra-added attraction, so don't let that keep you away. Your help will also be needed out there to help the Robins defeat their strong contenders for fourth spot—a race which is really hot at the present time. And to you parents who bring your children with you, how about having them sit with you for a change. After all, Gay Smith Stadium is not a nursery and the children are seen running around and yelling all during the contest which is a great annoyance to a baseball fan. Your cooperation in this matter will be more than appreciated by the management.

The Kinston Eagles have sent Catcher Allan Baker to the Opelika, Fla. club of the Georgia-Alabama League, Kinston Business Manager Norman McCaskill announced yesterday, and an outfielder-catcher named Borger has been secured from the Marion, O., Red Sox farm club. Borger is expected to report soon. Also on the fire in an attempt to get a veteran outfielder and a veteran pitcher for Kinston. . . . Julian Kittrell, first baseman for the Roanoke Rapids Jays, has been given his release by that club.

Williams Supplies Answer To Query

Philadelphia, June 30—(AP)—Ted Williams supplied the answer today to the popular question: What makes a baseball player worth $125,000 a year?

In a three game series against the Philadelphia Athletics, here is what the often-boomed Williams did: Hit three home runs and two doubles, scored four runs and batted in 10.

By going six for 14, Williams boosted his batting average to a respectable .324 and set his sights on all kinds of records.

Williams' three homers gave him 24 for the season, in 62 games. Babe Ruth, in his 60-homer year, hit his 24th in his 60th game.

By hitting in 10 runs, Williams hoisted his league leading total to 80. Lou Gehrig holds the American League record of 184, set in 1931. Stan Hack of the Chicago Cubs owns the major league mark, 190, driven in 1930.

Baseball Comedian Here Saturday

Max Patkin, above, baseball's "greatest comedian," will appear here tomorrow (Saturday) night when the Greenville Robins play the Wilson Tobs. In order to see all the fun, you had better make your plans to be out at the park not later than 7:00 o'clock.

Billed as the funniest man in the game, Patkin makes a tremendous hit with the fans as he goes through his laugh provoking antics. A double-jointed character with a sure gift for clowning, Patkin required an act of fate to present baseball with its brightest comedy star as he turned to tomfoolery when he threw his arm "out" while pitching for Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

Patkin's act was caught by Manager Lou Boudreau when the latter's

Designer Of Fastest Speedboat Is Planning Another Record-Breaker

Seattle, June 30—(AP)—The man who designed the "Slo-mo-shun IV" has another world beating speedboat on the drawing board, one that "will do well over 200 miles per hour."

"I'm sure she'll do that once I get her built and in the water," said Ted O. Jones today.

That would be nearly 40 miles an hour faster than the record hung up only Monday by the Slo-mo-shun IV, with owner Stan Sayres as pilot and Jones, a Boeing Airplane Company assistant foreman, as passenger.

But the designer disclosed that the water-spurning hydro had moved much faster and once came close to disaster by striking a board.

The first run down the measured course was missed by the official timing device, Jones said, revealing

Enos Slaughter Leads Outfield In Vote-Getting

Chicago, June 30—(AP)—Enos Slaughter, veteran St. Louis Cardinal outfielder, today continued to lead National League outfielders in vote-getting as the 20-day National all star poll of the National baseball fans neared its finish.

Slaughter has 784,116 ballots. Runner up is Ralph Kiner, Pittsburgh, with 703,827 votes. Hank Sauer of the Chicago Cubs, is third with 681,708.

The poll will decide the starting American and National League lineups for the 17th annual all star game in Chicago's Comiskey Park, July 11. It will end at midnight tomorrow. Final returns will be announced Monday.

George Kell, Detroit, third baseman still leads as the highest individual vote getter with 889,423 ballots.

Albans Leads In Decathlon Test Against Mathias

Tulare, Calif., June 30—(AP)—The national decathlon championship moves into the show-down stage tonight, with North Carolina's Bill Albans setting the pace ahead of the defending champion and pride of this bustling central California city, Bob Mathias.

Albans was hotter than the climate as he whizzed through the opening five events and posted a halfway total score of 4323 last night.

Mathias, however, showed improvement in each of the events over his score last year and finished with 4230 points, 93 behind Albans, and remained the favorite to wind up as the winner in a probable close finish.

Both 19-year-old Bob, America's 1948 Olympic champion, and two-time winner of this national AAU crown, and Albans, third last year, are gunning for the world record of 7900 points scored by Glenn Morris in 1936.

At the halfway point, both were ahead of the Morris mark of 4192. Mathias scored the best mark in only one event, the shotput, at 47 feet, 6 1-4 inches. But he improved in each event over his last year's efforts by 290 points. Albans, showing amazing gains all along the line, was 457 points ahead of himself. He scored the best marks in the 100 meter dash, 10.6, the 400 meter, 49.5; and broadjump, 24 feet, 6 and 7-8 inches.

Tonight's final five events, the 110-meter high hurdles, the discus, the javelin, the pole vault, and the 100 meter final, may find Mathias hard pressed to win the title for the third straight year.

The two dominated the field completely. Trailing in order behind were Otey Scruggs of Santa Barbara College with 3896 points, Wilford White, Arizona State College at Tempe, 3879; John Cooke, Lincoln College, Pennsylvania, 3850; and Floyd Simmons, Los Angeles A.C., formerly of Charlotte, N.C., 3786.

Last Britisher Is Eliminated At Wimbledon

Wimbledon, June 30—(AP)—The only sure bet on the men's singles competition in the all-England lawn tennis championship is that the winner won't be a homebred boy.

The last glimmering British hope went out the window yesterday with the defeat of Tony Mottram, Britain's No. 1 player, by Australia's Geoff Brown in five sets.

Two other British players who never had a player also were erased from the rolls.

An Englishman hasn't won the main event at Wimbledon since Fred Perry turned the trick in 1934-35-36.

Afternoon Games For Farmville; Lights Fail

Farmville, June 30—Farmville's 11-9 loss to Stantonsburg Wednesday night was just another headache for Willie Mauney's team.

Besides having to vacate top spot in the Bright Belt circuit and go a half game behind Macclesfield, which beat Walstonburg to move into first place, the club is faced with a breakdown of facilities at the ball park which promise to make things tougher on the slumping semi-pro outfit.

As things stand now, the team can't play night games at the park because of a faulty wiring system which won't furnish enough power to burn the lights. Thus, the team is forced either to play afternoon games or travel away from home for a "home" game. Both work a hardship on the box office so far as attendance is concerned.

However, one problem may be eliminated during games this weekend. The locals play two games with Fremont, currently in fifth position with a record of 10 wins and 15 losses.

Macclesfield, on the other hand, stands a better chance of taking two wins tomorrow and Sunday. They play last-place Saratoga which has won only seven games out of 25. If both the one-two teams in the loop win their split doubleheaders, though, the standings will remain the same.

On Tuesday, the Fourth, all teams in the league will play rather than on Wednesday night. Farmville plays seventh-place Walstonburg.

In tomorrow afternoon's game with Fremont, two new players will be on hand to enhance Mauney's pitching and fielding staff. Paul Gay, late of Walstonburg, will enter the lineup at short, a position which needs attention of late.

Also, the pitching assignments will be relieved somewhat with the addition of Bill Pittman, a former Saratoga product. Pittman is a utility man and will see most of his action on the mound. Whether or not he'll be a starter is not known at the present time.

"THE PHILLIES" SENSATIONAL ROOKIE HOUND AGE MADE THE STEP FROM CLASS 'B' TO THE BIG LEAGUES WITH EASE!!
"I'M SURE THEY DEVELOPED ME IN TERRE HAUTE"
"THAT BALL IS ALIVE!!"
"HE PITCHES HARD AND STINKS ON THE WAY TO THE PLATE"
"A BONUS PLAYER THE PHILLIES COULD EASILY HAVE LOST HIM IN THE 1948 DRAFT"

The Phillies have come up with a real surprise package in Bob Miller, their talented rookie right-hander. Miller appears to have made the step from Class "B" competition (Terre Haute) with the greatest of ease. The Phillies are lucky to have him, and in more ways than one.

Miller was signed by the Phillies while he was attending the University of Detroit. The Cardinals, Reds, White Sox, Tigers and Phillies were bidding for his services but the Philadelphia club won out when they paid him something over the limit of $6,000 for free agents, making him a bonus player. After two years in college, Miller was sent to Terre Haute. He wasn't very impressive his first season, 1948, so it is easily understood why other big league clubs failed to draft him when he was vulnerable. It was a different story last season when Bob found himself and won 19 games while losing only nine. He led the Three-I League.

Manager Eddie Sawyer liked the way the 23-year-old hurler handled himself in camp and decided he could help the Phillies. Miller has an odd overhand pitching motion that sends the ball to the plate shooting and sinking. Oddly enough, Bob is one pitcher who actually shows more stuff during a game than he does in practice. He has the poise of a veteran, and National Leaguers are finding it extremely difficult to score on him. He went 12 innings this spring before parting with an earned run.

Home That Built Babe Ruth Closes

Baltimore, June 30—(AP)—The house that built Babe Ruth and turned many an orphan and toughie into a good, solid American passed out of existence today. St. Mary's Industrial school is closing its doors.

For 84 years since 1866—the Catholic-sponsored school had taken into its gray walls boys who were homeless or tabbed as potential lawbreakers.

But because the state has made other arrangements for its juvenile problems, financial aid was withdrawn.

Two of its more noted products blazed their names across the nation and became figures of speech in the sports and entertainment world.

George Harman Ruth entered the school when he was 5 because his father, a saloonkeeper, thought his environment around his place wasn't too good. Young Ruth was listed as an incorrigible, but in later years you could never get the fathers at the school to agree that he was.

He stayed there until he was 18 and his baseball was in full bloom.

And there's Al Jolson. He visited the school last September for the first time in about 50 years.

"That's the yard where I used to play," Jolson told his wife then. "When was that? About the time of the Spanish-American War."

"I was a bad boy, then, but not too bad. I had run away from home. I gave my brother's name, because he was supposed to be the black sheep of the family. After a few months, my parents came from Washington and took me home."

For A Cool And Glorious 4th.

IT'S DEATH, MY DARLING! By Amelia Reynolds Long

Chapter 3
I turned to discover Lewis Hays just entering from the gallery. "It was about to offer my services," he said, advancing into the hall, but I see it wasn't necessary. In a way, I'm almost sorry; for it would have been a genuine pleasure to take a swing at that over-stuffed animal. But if I'm not being too curious, Miss Piper?" he asked after a fraction of a second's hesitation. "would you mind telling me exactly what did happen?"

The seven scouts from troop 195 who attended Camp Carver were Herbert Harper, James W. Brewington, Jimmy Johnson, James E. Lee, John L. Harris and Wallace Whitehurst.

Tolar Disclaims Speeding In Car

Washington, N. C., (F-C. R.) (Tony) Tolar, former head of the State Highway patrol, said he was not speeding shortly before he was indicted on charges of reckless driving and illegal use of a siren.

An Associated Press story last Tuesday erroneously quoted Tolar as saying he was speeding to a reported wreck when he passed through a funeral last Feb. 28. Tolar testified that he was en route to the dedication of a new Red Cross station at Williamston, but didn't know he had passed a funeral.

Tolar was acquitted on the reckless driving charge and the state announced it would not continue to prosecute the improper use of siren charge.

Olla Ray Boyd Claims Campaign Was A Success

Raleigh, N. C. June 30—(F)—Olla Ray Boyd, Pinetown pig breeder, said today his campaign for the Democratic senatorial nomination was "a political success."

Boyd reported to Secretary of State Thad Eure that his first primary campaign in which he received 5,900 votes had cost him $135.

In a section of the report for listing of expenditures by others in a candidate's behalf, Boyd wrote: "None to my knowledge, but from the criticism I read in the papers there must have been some my campaign was a political success."

For the $135 dollars paid by myself I put the state in a second primary with a one political machine."

Fell 8,000 Feet Out Of Airliner

Miami, Fla., June 30—(AP)—An airplane pilot, traveling as a passenger lost his life today by a fall from an airliner flying at 8,000 feet over Accomac, Va.

James Trotter, 32, was sucked through the rear cargo door of an Argonaut Air Lines charter plane.

The plane's steward, Carl F. Knight, of Miami, said he, too, was nearly blown through the door which flew open as Trotter stooped beside it.

Knight said he was returning from the rear of the plane and saw Trotter squatting beside the door.

"I was just about to ask him why he had left his seat when the door flew open and he was gone," Knight told Civil Aeronautics Board inspectors.

"I almost went through the door behind him. I grabbed a ladder and held on. The suction was plenty strong."

Trotter, a pilot for Connor Airlines, was one of 21 passengers on the charter plane which was en route from Newark Airport to San Juan, Puerto Rico, via Miami.

Chiang . . .

On the other hand, Mr. Truman's order to the Seventh Fleet to protect Formosa was welcomed by Nationalist Foreign Minister George Yeh as "a most welcome sign of comradeship in the fight against Communism."

However, observers took it for granted that Chiang would find it difficult to bind himself not to invade China. I turned to Dr. T. F.

Tsiang, Nationalist China's chief delegate to the United Nations, for light on this point. As usual he was succinct and to the point. "China can agree to a temporary cessation of military operations against the mainland but cannot give up the struggle to recover territorial integrity and political freedom," he declared. "To expect China to do otherwise is to expect China to commit suicide. To force China to do otherwise would reduce President Truman's statement to much ado about nothing."

So what? Long range predictions would be futile and might be injurious. One can well believe, though, that Nationalist headquarters are deeply concerned about the future. Chiang can't even say that the final settlement of Formosa's status will leave him a place in the sun.

Teachers Attended School Arts Forum

Approximately 100 public school teachers now enrolled for the summer session at East Carolina Teachers College have attended this week a school-arts forum conducted by the college department of art.

The purpose of the forum, Miss Circlot states, is to bring teachers together "to pool ideas on teaching public school arts." A series of evening meetings has included talks, demonstrations, work by students in the arts and crafts, and displays of materials useful to both teacher and pupil.

Scout Jamboree . . .

Mostly the jamboree will be fun, sightseeing and camping practice for the boys and their leaders who have come from all 48 states, the territories and 17 foreign countries.

Symbolizing the scout ideal of brotherhood, a United Nation troop equipped near general headquarters of the 625-acre campsite is made up of boys from eight nations, including three "Iron Curtain" countries.

But there was no talk of Iron Curtains or of war, cold or hot, when Poland's Andrew Woljicki pumped hands with fellow scout and scouts from Hungary and Czechoslovakia got similar back-slapping welcomes.

Last Day For N.O.P. And Q Drivers To Obtain Licenses

Today was the last day for drivers whose names begin with N, O, P and Q to obtain new licenses, Driving License Examiner Harry Martin stated today.

Martin said that the crowds of people rushing to beat the deadline were not anything to compare with the crowds of people who have shown up in the past on the last days.

The number of applicants for licenses were reported by Martin as being above the average with a steady flow of people. There have been no lines at any time this month, Martin said.

In December long lines crowded in on the closing days of the month as many people attempted to get licenses before their expired.

Starting Monday new licenses will be issued to all drivers whose last names start with R, S, T.

No Great Losses . . .

(Continued from page one) all, though, no serious threats of crop losses have been reported. Near Winterville several persons stated a light hail storm accompanied the rain doing slight damage.

One report from Grimesland stated the hail "showered down" along with rain. In Pactolus and Black Jack some hail fell, also.

Generally speaking, damage to the tobacco crop was negligible. One spokesman in the county PMA office said he thought the rain he had seen yesterday "would make the crop" all over the county. Very few fields were inundated by rain, the opposite of present conditions in counties west of Pitt.

Closer home, rainfall yesterday in Greenville totaled 1.54 inches as reported by Mrs. Carl Maiden, U. S. Weather Bureau observer here. However, the fall in the last 24 hours was less than the same day's fall last year. On June 29, 1949, the precipitation was 2.31 inches.

Highest temperature in town yesterday was 85 degrees, the lowest 67. At eight o'clock this morning the mercury stood at 72 degrees.

The rainfall throughout the county came at about the opportune time for most tobacco farmers. Frank Parker, PMA compliance supervisor, who lives in Falkland, stated today many of the plants in his section of the county would lose their bottom leaves.

The lugs are yellow at the present time, he said, due to hot weather and soil causing them to turn before the rest of the leaves are ready for curing.

City Will . . .

Three other members of the board of aldermen also are serving terms which expire today. All three, however, were re-elected for new terms in the city election last month. Alderman J. Edmund Waldrop of the fifth ward and Alderman J. E. Collins of the fourth ward were re-elected for two year terms. Alderman James S. Jenkins of the fifth ward was elected for a one year term which is the unexpired portion of the term of Dal Cox who resigned from the board several months ago. Jenkins was appointed by the board to fill the interim period between the time of Cox's resignation and the city election.

The first meeting of the new fiscal year for the board of aldermen will be held at noon tomorrow at the city hall. At the meeting the aldermen elected for new terms will take their oaths of office, and department heads of the city government for the 1950-51 fiscal year will be appointed.

Just Five . . .

(Continued From Page One) whelming the southerners so quickly that, if the U. S. hadn't stepped in, the fight would be over before the U. N. itself could do anything about it.

But the U. N. security council backed the U. S. and called on its members to give help to the south Koreans to restore peace, thus living up to the opening paragraph of the charter, mentioned above.

The Russians didn't take any part in this vote. And, since no one can read Stalin's mind from here, a couple of guesses could be made about the future:

The non-Communist western countries are standing together against Communism in this struggle as they've stood together in others. So while this crisis is greater, the situation is essentially not new.

Therefore, Russia, which has rocked along in the divided U. N. so far—with the Russians and their satellites on one side and the Western world on the other—may decide to stick along for a while, if Russia can see any benefit from doing so.

Truman . . .

(Continued from Page One) nouncement, an army spokesman said that all of the army troops in the far east command have been alerted. He said he did not know what units or what types of troops would move to Korea.

The army also has an additional 8,000 men in Hawaii.

Mr. Truman's decisions presumably were taken on recommendation of Gen. MacArthur. The defense department had disclosed that a report had been received from
