

Crack Streamliners Collide Killing 10, Injuring Over 50

Trains Running Side By Side When Mail Coach Left Track, Swerving Into Kansas City Chief: About 15 Cars Of Both Trains Jammed Together

Galesburg Ill. July 6—(AP)—Ten passengers were crushed and twisted to death today in a freak collision of two sleek Santa Fe Railway streamliners running side by side.

Coroner Chauncey Wood of Peoria county announced the toll of ten. The number of injured ranged between 50 and 75, some critically.

The wreck occurred early this morning at Monica, Ill. 148 miles southwest of Chicago. Monica is 30 miles from Galesburg.

A mail coach of the El Capitan, extra fare all coach train running between Los Angeles and Chicago, suddenly left the rails and swerved into the Kansas City Chief, a combined pullman and coach express. This train operates between Kansas City and Chicago.

Both trains were running east-bound, toward Chicago. The Kansas City Chief was on the normally west bound track, under automatic train control.

Bill Carithers, photographer for the Galesburg Register-Mail, said he went through the wrecked coaches and counted eight dead, four of them in a washroom.

Other checks placed the number of known dead at seven. One was an unidentified woman in a Peoria hospital; four were in the washroom. Otto Bainkman, Peoria Journal reporter, said he counted bodies of two women in the wreckage. One was badly mangled.

The list of injured ranged between 50 and 75 persons. Some were in critical condition; others were treated for minor hurts and released from hospitals immediately.

The injured were taken to three hospitals in Peoria and two at Galesburg.

About 15 coaches of both streamliners were jammed together in the wreckage. Four or five were derailed and badly wrecked. Some slipped into the soft earth along the right-of-way.

Because of the early hour it was some time before help could reach the wreck scene. Farmers carrying axes came from the neighborhood to chop paths to those trapped in the debris.

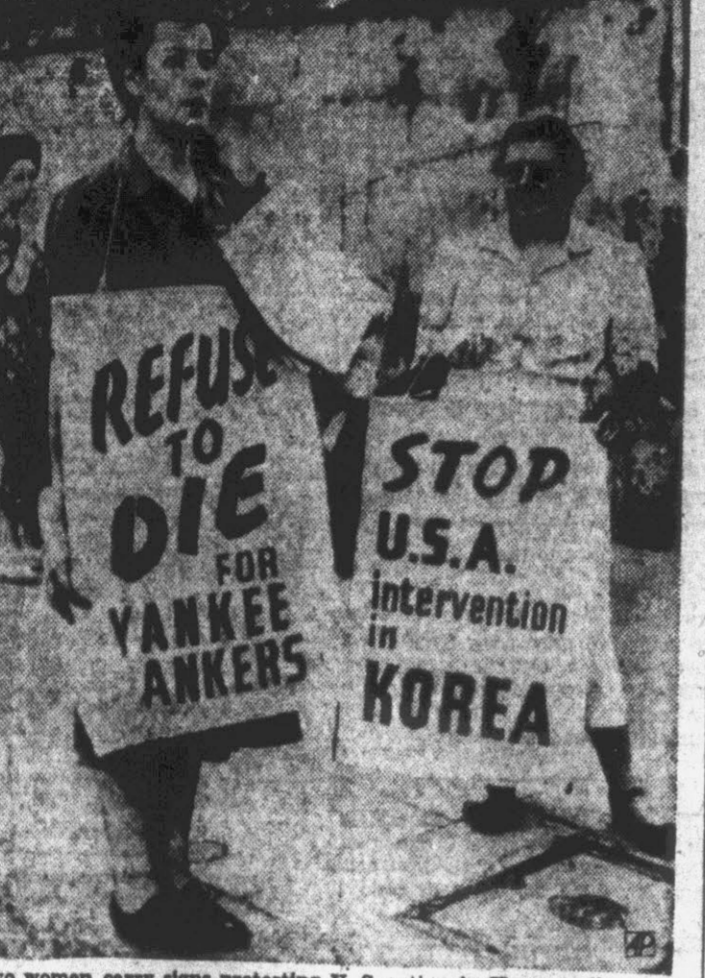

The mail coach that led the chain of derailed cars was four or five cars behind the diesel locomotive. Frank Pries of Chillicothe, Ill., who was in charge of the El Capitan - all coach, said the train was traveling normally when "apparently something went wrong under the mail car."

"We swerved and seemed to sail through the air to the left. We hit the locomotive and the first car of the Chief."

The cars ahead of the wreck—the locomotive and lead coaches of the El Capitan—rolled ahead on the tracks for about a half mile.

Brinkman, the Peoria reporter, said he was told the El Capitan was traveling about 90 miles an hour at the time and that the Chief was doing 70.

Truman Talks Of Drastic Action In Rail Strike

Calls It Unjustifiable; Blames Handful; Threatens Early Intervention

Washington, July 6—(AP)—President Truman threatened today to take drastic action unless switchmen abandon their strike on five major railroads.

He called it an unjustified strike and blamed it upon a small minority of the switchmen.

He said the switchmen declined to abide by the recommendations of a very able Presidential fact-finding board.

Mr. Truman told his news conference he hopes drastic action will not be necessary to force the strikers back to their jobs.

But he said he would act if it became necessary. He declined, however, to say what steps might be taken.

The men ought to be back to work at once, the President said vigorously.

He said the strike is tying up five main line railroads at a time when the rail services is needed especially for the movement of cattle and wheat from the west.

That is reason enough to take drastic action unless the strike ends, he said.

He wouldn't say, when asked whether he felt the strike was enough for him to go before Congress or to seek seizure of the strike bound lines.

About 4,000 members of the AFL switchmen's union are on strike against the Rock Island, the Chicago Great Western, the Denver and Rio Grande Western, the Western Pacific and the Great Northern Railroads. They are demanding a 40-hour week with 48 hours pay. A Presidential board proposed, instead, giving them the 40-hour week, with an 18 cent an hour pay increase.

Government mediators are working in Chicago in an effort to end the walkout.

UN Officials See Long, Hard Campaign To Stop Aggressors

Lake Success, July 6—(AP)—Veteran U.N. people feel that the United Nations is in for a long hard campaign to turn back Communist aggression in Asia. They are for setting up as strong a U.N. police force as they can get.

Secretary-General Trygve Lie and his top aides would like to see the Korea fighting ended immediately with the North Koreans pulling back beyond the 38th parallel, boundary between North and South Korea.

But persons familiar with their views say that the U.N. executives have just about concluded it will not be a short-term campaign unless there should be some entirely unexpected shift.

Even after the war in Korea is over UN observers say, there is no guarantee that Communists will not break out somewhere else in Asia and the whole police action will have to start again.

In the belief that the war will continue for some time, the U.N. is preparing quietly the framework for an effective police force as it can muster.

The Security Council meets tomorrow (10 a.m. Eastern Standard Time) for the first of these steps.

The U.S., France, Britain and Norway were reported yesterday to have discussed a proposal for the Council to do these two things:

1. Allow the United States to designate Gen. Douglas MacArthur as supreme U.N. commander in the Korean war.

2. Recommend that forces of U.N. members in the field fly the blue and white U.N. flag along with their national flag.

Lie and most UN delegates are said to favor MacArthur continuing on the job. From the start, the UN has made it clear the responsibility for military decisions and acts was up to MacArthur.

Four members of the military staff committee, made up of representatives of the chiefs of staff of the U. S., France, Britain, China and the Soviet Union, also say it is MacArthur's show. Russia, of course, has boycotted the military staff committee, as well as the Security Council, since January.

If the U.N. flag is authorized for the first time the blue and white banner has been used for police action. The Security Council can only recommend that the nations sending armed forces fly the U.N. banner in the war because some countries have constitutional provisions against their soldiers fighting under any flag but their own.

Despite Reverses, MacArthur Advises Washington The Americans' Situation Not Serious; Air Force Strikes Hard At Advancing Communists

By the ASSOCIATED PRESS. A tank-led force of 40,000 Communist troops stabbed 60 miles south of captured Seoul today on the heels of withdrawing American and South Korean forces. Even so, MacArthur advised Washington the Americans' situation was not considered serious.

American jets and bombers, in the heaviest air action of the war, hammered at the advancing Reds, destroying eight of their tanks and 48 trucks.

In the face of the steady Communist push against the American and South Korean ground forces, reassuring word came from both President Truman and Gen. MacArthur.

Mr. Truman told a news conference there are no present plans to call the National Guard or armed forces reserves to duty. The President, in response to a reporter's question, said of course he is hopeful that everything will work out all right in Korea.

An Army spokesman in Washington said Gen. MacArthur had advised the Pentagon the situation of the retreating GI's in Korea "is not considered serious in any way." The spokesman denied that an American infantry outpost had been "wiped out" by the Red advance. He said the outpost had withdrawn behind strong defensive positions "with very moderate losses and under approved tactical procedure."

The North Korean tank force captured Pyongyang, 39 miles south of Seoul. Then it overran Songhwan, another five miles to the south, and Chonan, seven miles beyond Songhwan.

"It was a bad one this time," said an American officer at an advanced outpost below Chonan, describing the Red drive as a small scale blitzkrieg. The Americans have withdrawn from a key command post after suffering what an American officer said were nominal to heavy casualties.

A spokesman at U. S. headquarters in Korea said 20 to 25 North Korean tanks and 19 to 35 Russian-built Yak fighter planes have been destroyed by American forces in Korea. But the Communists pressed on apparently unchecked, and the spokesman confirmed that the Americans had retreated from their forward positions. The spokesman said 160 to 170 Red tanks are believed south of the 38th parallel.

Gen. MacArthur's headquarters said tonight rocket firing F-80 jets destroyed eight tanks and five trucks of the Communist force pushing south from Suwon. In addition a flight of B-24 bombers destroyed 40 trucks.

The spokesman at American headquarters in Korea said U. S. troops had been rolled back eight to 10 miles but field dispatches put the vanguard of the tank-led Communist thrust at least 30 miles south of Suwon.

The air war picture was less gloomy. Raids by B-29 Superforts and strikes by British and American carrier-based planes against North Korea targets appeared to have had telling results. The lack of North Korean fighter opposition over Pyongyang and other targets has led to speculation that the Allied strikes against fuel depots led the Reds short of fuel to get their planes aloft.

Korea's rainy season—upon which the planners of the Communist invasion obviously had depended—hampered air operations at the fighting front, but planes, including B-29s, were in action, hammering the Reds.

Earlier Tax Payments Than Last Year In City

Approximately $9,000 More Than Was Collected In June Of 1949; Taxpayers Taking Advantage Of Discount

For some reason or other there is more money in circulation this year than at the same time last, at least as far as the payment of 1950 taxes is concerned.

For the month of June, $80,547.64 was collected on the 1950 levy. City Clerk J. O. Duval reported that is just about $9,000 more than was collected during the same month last year.

One reason advanced for the higher payment this year is that the tentative budget for 1950 was released earlier this year than last. Through the discount month of June 1949, $71,584.63 were paid, a difference just a little under the $9,000 figure.

Figured at a two percent discount rate for the month of June, taxpayers saved themselves $1,641.06 by cashing in early. Last year they saved themselves about $200 less—$1,441.69. Discount rate for the month of July—and taxpayers are urged to take advantage of it—is figured at one and a half percent of the total amount.

Meanwhile, payment of taxes for the fiscal year just ended is higher than that of 1949-50.

The Clerk's office reported today 96 percent of the total levy was collected through June 30. That's eight-tenths of one percent higher than June 30 a year ago. Figures are $258,908.03 on a levy of $268,578.76 leaving a little over $10,000 outstanding.

Figures for last year were $200,336.12 on a levy of $210,472.05 or $10,135.93 outstanding at that time.

Planning For War, On The Home Front, Is Up To The National Security Resources Board; It's Origin And Special Fields; A Nucleus For Wartime Agencies

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, July 6—(AP)—There is one outfit above all others in this country which has the job of planning for war—on the home front— if it comes.

This is the National Security Resources Board (NSRB). The chairman is W. Stuart Symington, former secretary of the Air Force. He was appointed to his present job by the President.

Seven members of President Truman's cabinet sit on this board with Symington. They are the secretaries of the treasury, defense, state, interior, agriculture, commerce and labor departments.

When we got into World War II we had to go through a slapdash mess of controlling manpower, getting plant converted to war, putting controls on such things as prices, and so on.

So that we'd be a little better prepared in case of another war, Congress in 1947 passed an act creating the NSRB. We'll never know how well it does its job of preparing for another war unless we get into another one.

The NSRB has a staff of about 100 people, mostly specialists in industry, economics and other fields.

Protest 19-Day Market Allotted Tobacco Belt

Valdosta, Ga., July 6—(AP)—Georgia and Florida flue-cured tobacco producers have filed a protest against the 19-day marketing season allotted their belt.

Tobacco committees of the Georgia and Florida farm bureaus met here last night. They said the 19-day season set for the Georgia-Florida belt would result in disastrous marketing and loss of thousands of dollars to growers.

The committees sent Fred Royer, president of the Bright Leaf Warehousemen's Association, a request that the Georgia-Florida marketing season be opened July 18 and continued until August 18.

Highway Group Meets Tonight

Raleigh, July 6—(AP)—The State Highway Commission will hold its regular monthly meeting at the courthouse in Waynesville tonight.

The commission is expected to devote part of the session to a study of recent developments in the state's prison system.

These include the resignation of Prison Director J. B. Moore after he had been accused of using state material and prison labor for construction work at his home.

Lawmaking Plans Cut In Drive To Finish Session

Washington, July 6—(AP)—Senate leaders are trimming their lawmaking plans to bare bones in a drive to wind up this session of Congress by August 1.

Majority leader Lucas (D-Ill) with backing of the Democratic policy committee, set the pattern yesterday by cutting "a list of required legislation to little more than taxes and appropriations."

Chairman Taft (R-Ohio) said the Senate GOP policy makers would not upset these plans.

Only the tense international situation threatened to stand off the session-end pressure of an election year.

'Campaign Of Truth' In Danger Areas Is Ahead

Washington, July 6—(AP)—President Truman is expected to ask Congress probably next week for funds to launch an intensive "campaign of truth" in Korea and other critical areas in the East-West struggle.

Included are Indochina, neighboring Southeast Asia countries and Iran, all objects of Communist pressure.

Secretary of State Acheson reported yesterday that a plan for "broader and stronger program of information and education" has been submitted by the State Department and is being considered by the President.

Pitt Sanitarian Resigning Post

Paul O. Brigham Plans Resume His Sanitation Studies

Paul O. Brigham, senior sanitarian for Pitt county, has submitted his resignation to the Health Department and Board of Health.

Brigham stated in a letter to Dr. T. G. Basnight, Health Officer, that he was resigning the post he has held for seven months to pursue sanitation studies at State College and the University. His resignation was effective July 1.

Basnight stated yesterday he is regretting Brigham's loss of the department. He said the "department is losing a splendid and capable sanitarian. We hate to see him go."

Brigham, who came here November 1 of last year, asked in his letter of resignation that he be allowed to leave on a "leave without pay" status for a period of one year. His reasons were that he wished to continue further studies in milk sanitation at the school in Raleigh and Chapel Hill.

Since he came here, the sanitarian has handled half of all the county's sanitation needs, including the inspection of dairy farms throughout Pitt and surrounding counties which deliver milk here. Recently he had got all of the dairies which deliver milk to the pasteurization plant here up to Grade A rating.

Basnight said the Board of Health is now scouting around for a replacement for Brigham. As yet no replacement has been contacted for the job.

Takes It Calmly

Los Angeles, July 6—(AP)—The telegram reports that staff Sgt. Robert W. Fluke "has been missing in flight since 2 July 1950 as the result of participating in Korean operations."

It was the first such message received here since V-J day.

Mrs. Alma Fluke accepted the news calmly, remembering that her son Bob had been missing in action once before, in 1944 over Leyte.

"He always was a lucky boy," she said. "I have the same feeling as before—that he will make out all right."

Self Defense In Shooting Ruled

A Coroner, July 6—(AP)—The City Hall last night found that Mrs. Johnnie Sherrod, 24, Negro, shot her husband, George Sherrod, a "divine healer and preacher," last Monday in self defense.

The jury recommended that the woman be held in nominal bond for the Pitt grand jury. Pitt County Coroner Griffin H. Rouse presided.

The woman took the stand and made a good witness. She testified that about noon last Monday she was sitting on her bed reading the Bible; that her husband started an argument with her and beat her with his fists; that she struck back at him (she weighs 94 pounds; he, 178), and that he was punishing her so severely that she took a single-barrel shotgun from its resting place in a corner and shot her assailant in defense of her own life.

Mrs. Sherrod further testified that after she shot her husband while he was beating her, that he tried to get the gun and again beat her with his fists. She had the gun shells, she said. She told the coroner's jury that her husband then went on the front porch.

The woman, frail and anemic, had been a literal prisoner in their home, 1122 Pitt Street, for nearly a year.

Neighbors testified that they had only seen her outside the house a few times. Further testimony was that George Sherrod would leave the house and lock his wife inside. It was stated that he had accused his wife, her sister and their mother of being adulterers.

Police Officers Raymond Rogerson, M. E. Corbett and S. Bowen Dorsey testified that George Sherrod, in a deathbed statement at the hospital, said, "I don't want anything done to her; the shooting was accidental."

When a coroner's juror read the verdict that Mrs. Johnnie Sherrod shot and killed her husband while he was beating her and that she shot in self-defense of her own life, the audience of several hundred Negroes, mostly women, applauded. They crowded to the rail after the hearing to express sympathy for the accused woman and made donations of money.

A police official this forenoon said plans were being made to provide the $500 bail for the woman and have her released.

Fills Vacancy On C-and-D Board

Raleigh, July 6—(AP)—Governor Scott announced today the appointment of Staley A. Cook, editor of the Burlington Daily Times, to the State Board of Conservation and Development.

Staley will fill the vacancy caused by the recent death of Dr. A. W. Deans of Battleboro. Deans' term on the board would have expired May 1, 1953.

State Senator Waives Hearing

Hickory, N. C., July 6—(AP)—State Senator Max C. Wilson of the 28th senatorial district waived preliminary hearing before U. S. Commissioner W. L. Gilmer today on four federal charges.

He was arrested on warrants charging forgery, using the mails to defraud, embezzlement, and making false statements.

He was allowed bond of $5,000.

More Action In Store For Navy

Several Officers Say More Ships, Men To Be Needed

A U. S. Naval Base, Japan, July 6—(AP)—American naval forces will be called on increasingly to cut North Korean seaborne supply lines, authoritative sources here predict.

Some seagoing officers say more ships and men are needed. One officer summed it up this way: "We've got a boy sized force to do a man sized job."

American and Allied naval forces have had two main assignments: to deny enemy forces shore and afloat, and cover the transfer of American troops to Korea from Japan.

Several navy men express the opinion that cutting off the North Korean lines of supply will be hitting the enemy where it hurts the most.

A force commanded by Rear Adm. J. C. Higgins, which recently put in at this base, destroyed at least seven North Korean trawlers and five torpedo boats with gunfire.

Miss Jennie Rae Carraway entertained about 25 of her little friends on her fourth birthday Friday, June 30. Games were enjoyed and the little hostess' mother and aunt, Miss Peggy Carraway, served delicious angel food cake and cream. The honoree received many nice gifts.

Master James Askew of Fountain, spent last week with his uncle, James Askew.

Mr. and Mrs. James Askew, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Askew of Fountain spent the week-end near Fort Barnwell with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Carraway and daughter, Miss Peggy Carraway, and Mrs. Bruce Cobb visited their aunt, Mrs. Josie McArthur, near Ballards Wednesday afternoon of last week.

Wiley Glenn Cobb is spending some time with his cousins, Willis and Graham Crawford and Gilmer Nichols at Ballards.

James Askew and Perry Bundy are working in Wilson.

Misses Kay Mann of Englehard, Sarah Ann Walton of Scotland Neck, and Margaret Coats have returned from a 10 day visit to New York.

Ann and Hadley Morgan, Faye Mewborn, Albert Monk, Billy Burk, Johnnie Dixon, Alex Allen, Rod Williams and Elbert Mayo have returned to their homes after spending several weeks at Camp Morehead.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Smith of Norfolk, Va., have moved to Farmville and are living in an apartment at Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Moore's on Belcher street.

Mrs. W. D. Morton and Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Farrow are spending this week in Roanoke Rapids.

Mr. W. D. Morton is visiting his aunt, Mrs. A. P. Hassell, in Hendersonville this week.

Bob Paylor, who recently received his B. S. degree in commerce from the University of North Carolina, left Wednesday for Nashville, Tenn., where he will work with the sales department of R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Smith and children spent last Sunday at Bayview with Roy Tripp and family.

Mrs. Fannie E. Melton of San Diego, Cal., arrived Saturday night to spend the summer with her son, George Melton, and family.

with her father, B. T. Heath.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Moore and family spent the week end in Ahoskie.

Blanny Heath, Jr., of Bedford, Va., is spending this week with relatives here.

Mrs. Nettie Joyner attended the wedding of her nephew, Charlie David Harris, in Greenville Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayland Sadler and children and Ralph Goins have returned after visiting relatives last week in Tennessee.

Hoey Says Pike To Be Approved

Washington, July 6—(AP)—North Carolina's senior senator says he thinks Sumner Pike will be confirmed to the Atomic Energy Commission by the Senate—but on the basis of "an understanding."

Senator Clyde R. Hoey said last night the understanding was with President Truman that Pike will not be the chairman of the commission.

Hoey asserted that "I think that the President will appoint some one else as chairman of the AEC, and that he will seek confirmation of Mr. Pike to be a member of the commission but not its chairman."

"Such an arrangement should satisfy those who think him not well qualified to be chairman," Hoey said.

The Senate yesterday put off its expected vote on Pike until Monday afternoon.

Reports Resort Lake Is Safe

Elizabethtown, N. C., July 6—(AP)—The Bladen county health officer has termed absolutely false rumors that White Lake has been closed because of water pollution.

Dr. R. S. Cromartie said the water tested last week — was not contaminated and his office has not considered closing the resort lake.

First Cotton Bloom Taken To Reflector

The first white cotton blossom of the season was brought to the Reflector office today by George D. Cox, of Winterville.

Mr. Cox stated there were a good number of white and red blossoms on his fields.

Deny Appeal By Robert H. Best

Boston, July 6—(AP)—The U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals today denied the appeal of Robert Henry Best of Sumter, S. C., from his conviction for treason.

The 54-year-old former newsmen was sentenced two years ago to life imprisonment and fined $10,000 for broadcasting Nazi propaganda to the United States during World War II.

The court's opinion, written by Chief Judge Calver Magruder, "found no reversible error." It was concurred in by Judges Peter Woodbury and Herbert F. Goodrich.

Best, who has been in Charles Street jail since his conviction, was brought to the U. S. marshal's office and handed a copy of the 20-page opinion. It was expected he would appeal the case to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Best admitted during his trial that he made 300 broadcasts from Germany between 1942 and 1945. He insisted he never intended to betray his country but sought only to fight communism and bolshevism.

Plan Run-Off

Oklahoma City, July 6—(AP)—Sen. Elmer Thomas and Rep. Mike Monroney rallied their forces today for an all-out drive for votes in the July 25 Democratic run-off primary in Oklahoma.

Monroney enters the strenuous three-week campaign as the man to beat. He gained a 14,000 margin over Thomas in Tuesday's holiday primary.

The 48-year-old Congressman missed nomination without a runoff when five other opponents were given 41,885 votes. This left Monroney 27,510 short of a majority.

The near-record vote gave Monroney 261,328 and Thomas 187,243 from all but 163 precincts.

moved into Korea by air and sea over long distances.

On that basis we have no right to expect miracles. Indeed it would be mighty strange if, under such circumstances, we didn't encounter setbacks, especially in the early stages of our rescue operations.

However, while we must expect ups and downs, I believe we have the right to be confident of the future. Our man MacArthur is a good soldier.

Having given this invitation to optimism I hasten to repeat what this column has recorded previously: The Korean show is likely to be a nasty business before we get through with it.

As the cards lie, America and the other nations responding to the U.N. appeal are likely in due course to be facing more than just North Korean fighting men.

Personal To Women With Nagging Backache

As we get older, stress and strain, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions.

If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While these symptoms may often be observed, it's amazing how many these Doan's give happy relief—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Seeks SBI Report On Its Prison Director Inquiry

Raleigh, N.C., July 6—(AP)—District Solicitor William Y. Bickett has moved to get a copy of an SBI report on charges against former State Prison Director J. B. Moore. He sent a written request yesterday to Attorney General Harry McMullan's office. Bickett said he planned to study the report to "determine whether or not any criminal action is indicated that would come within the jurisdiction of the grand jury of Wake County."

Moore, who allegedly used prison labor and state materials for building work at his home, resigned last Friday as prison director following a special meeting of the Highway Commission on the matter. He denied the charges throughout.

Aides to Attorney General McMullan, who is on vacation, said they would make arrangements to have McMullan act on Bickett's request when his letter arrived. The SBI is under McMullan's department.

Bickett said it would take some time to study the report, and that he might want to talk with some of the persons whom the SBI interviewed in its investigation of the charges.

He indicated it would be September before he could present the case to the grand jury, should he decide it should hear the matter.

At its special meeting, the Highway Commission reviewed the SBI report and a point-by-point denial of the charges by Moore. Highway Chairman Henry W. Jordan reported the commission took no action on the charges, and indicated the case was closed so far as the commission was concerned.

Three To Attend Baptist Meeting

Three Baptist students at East Carolina Teachers College and other representatives of Baptist groups will leave July 21 to attend the eighth meeting of the Baptist World Alliance in Cleveland, Ohio, July 22-27.

One of the largest religious fellowships in the world, the Alliance has 16 million members from all parts of the globe. Meetings are held once every five years, and the session this year will be the second to be held in the United States.

Three students will be delegates from the East Carolina Baptist Student Union and will also represent churches in the eastern section of the state. They are Doris Edwards of Selma, president of the college BSU and representative of the Thanksgiving Baptist Church near Selma; Amaryllis Lang of Gatesville, former BSU president at East Carolina and representative of the Gatesville Baptist Church; and Milam Johnson of Eure, member of the college BSU Council and representative of the Eure Baptist Church.

Gloria H. Blanton, counselor of the East Carolina BSU, will accompany the students. Others who will also attend the Alliance are Doris Broadhurst of Greenville and Jo Keeter, alumna of East Carolina and faculty member at Chowan College, Murfreesboro.

Among events of special interest expected to be included on the program for the Alliance meeting at Cleveland are an address by President Harry S. Truman, a concert by Marian Anderson, a pageant "The Light of Liberty" with a cast of 1,000, and a "Youth Night" program on Sunday, July 23.

Power Project Hearing Opens

Washington, July 6—(AP)—A hearing involving the controversial proposal to build a multi-million dollar hydro-electric dam at Roanoke Rapids, N.C., resumed today.

The Power Commission some time ago ordered the case reopened at the request of Secretary of the Interior Chapman and the Virginia REA Association, who contended the federal government should build the big dam on the Roanoke River near the North Carolina-Virginia state line.

Chief Examiner Frank A. Hampton early this year recommended that the commission grant the Virginia Electric and Power Co. a license to build and operate a power project at Roanoke Rapids. He is presiding again.

When the re-opened hearing was recessed in June until today, an Interior Engineer consultant, G. W. Hamilton, was testifying that the VEPCO proposal for Roanoke Rapids would be infeasible if enough water is passed by Roanoke Rapids to make the Roanoke river navigable between Palmyra Landing and Weldon in North Carolina.

Alfred T. Tripp Dies Suddenly Wednesday

Mr. Alfred T. Tripp, 63, died suddenly at his home in the House Station community near Greenville Wednesday night at 11:15 o'clock. He had been in failing health for the past two years. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Mr. Tripp was born and reared in Pitt County and was married to Rebecca Elks of near Greenville in 1905. He had lived in Greene and Lenoir Counties and had lived in the House Station community for the past four years. He was a farmer and a member of Piney Grove Free Will Baptist Church.

Surviving are his wife; four sons, Luther R. Tripp of near Greenville, W. Elias Tripp of near New Bern, and Charlon and James A. Tripp, both of the home; four daughters, Mrs. Patrick Byrne of St. Louis, Mo., Mrs. Walter Sutton of near Weldon, Mrs. Clifton Harris of Bell Arthur and Mrs. McDaniel Harris of near Grifton; 27 grandchildren; two brothers, Bruce Tripp of near Bell Arthur and Meekin Tripp of Greenville; and two sisters, Mrs. Heber Tripp of near Fountain and Mrs. Mattie Nichols of near Bell's Fork.

Hoffmann To Speak At Conference On Music

Arnold E. Hoffmann, North Carolina State Supervisor of Music, will be principal speaker at a conference on music in the elementary grades next Tuesday, July 11, at East Carolina Teachers College. The meeting, sponsored by the college department of music and directed by Dr. R. R. Willmann, chairman of the department, will be held in the Austin auditorium and will bring together teachers in the elementary grades, music supervisors, and school administrators from various parts of the state.

The morning session will begin at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning and will be followed by a luncheon meeting in the college dining hall at 12:30.

Mr. Hoffmann's talk, scheduled for the morning meeting, will deal with "A Functional Music Program in the Elementary School." Dr. Willmann will also talk to the group on public school music. "You Can Make Music," a sound color film, will be shown, and comments on it will be made by Dan E. Vornholt, professor of voice at East Carolina. Rhythm activities in the elementary school will be demonstrated by pupils in the Training School on the campus here.

Robert Lee Humber of Greenville has been invited to appear on the program at the luncheon and to discuss the cultural values of music.

Students of music at East Carolina will be presented by the college department of music in programs planned for the entertainment of conference guests. Rupert Browning of Logan, W.Va., pianist; Cora Pauline Moore of Ayden, pianist; and Bettie Croom of Rocky Mount, soprano, will give a series of vocal and instrumental numbers.

Adlyn Sumner (left), "Miss Tennessee" of 1949, will eat her weight (118 pounds) in potato chips within a year to prove they're not fattening. Strength for the Day

By EARL L. DOUGLAS... RELY ON YOUR BRAKES... Motorists in one part of the country often see a sign advertising a certain manufacturer's brake lining.

This is good advice. The principle behind depending on brakes rather than horn is that of relying on one's own action instead of on those of others.

But we need it for our own good, too. Strength and power are useless until they are controlled. In baseball, the pitcher with speed but no control will never get into the major leagues.

Do You Suppose We've Had Enough?

The Reflector's Wednesday headline reading, "Pitt Unscathed By Holiday Toll," made pleasant reading for families of the county.

Our people have had more than their share of highway accidents that ended in death or painful injuries.

That caution and careful driving can eliminate much of the hazards of highway travel, is demonstrated. Pitt could go on for the rest of the year without another traffic fatality if we maintain that standard of careful driving.

The highways and roads carried an over-average stream of motorists; throughout the nation the number of accidents and deaths climbed to frightening levels.

At home, in Pitt, an amazing record of only minor accidents was reported. Do you suppose we've had our fill?

Let Them Fight Under A Flag Of United Peoples

The carrying of battle flags into combat is pretty much a thing of the past. They were one of the more colorful aspects of war in an era of glamorizing the misery and hardships incurred by the fighting men.

Battle flags were then a rallying point, and provided no small inspiration for their followers.

Today, for obvious reasons, the man who might have been carrying a flag, is carrying a gun.

Nevertheless, the suggestion that troops now engaged in conflict against the North Korean invaders fight under the flag of the United Nations has its good points.

It would drive home the point that men, guns, ships and planes thrown against the communist forces have behind them the support of the free world; not merely the action of individual governments.

This fact should be equally important to the men who are in combat against the invaders, as well as providing a stern note of warning to the forces of communism.

The undertaking in Korea is of serious import to the United States; but it is also a tension-packed moment in the history of all peoples who hope to avoid the consequences of another world conflict.

For this reason, it appears only right and just that their angry protest should be prominently displayed in combatting any and all aggressors.

You Owe A Part Of The National Debt

Do you have $1,704.50 to spare? If you do, that is just what it would take for you to pay off your pro-rata share of the United States national debt for the 160 years of operation which ended June 30.

Of course that doesn't include the part for your wife (or husband) and kids, for their part would be the same as yours if the national debt were divided equally between all the living Americans.

During the past fiscal year we were opererating a hot cold war, but no shooting war, and the national government cost the people $110,000,000 every day. It went into the red $8,554,000 deeper each day during the fiscal year.

The government leaders are professing to be seeking more economical methods of operating the bureaucracies of Washington, yet they still are paying out over eight and one-half million dollars a day more than they are taking in. The figures are so large that they tend to lose their significance. Nevertheless the debt is real, and must eventually be liquidated if the nation's economy is to remain stable.

It is comforting at least to know that the deficit for the fiscal year which ended is 40 per cent less than was predicted a few months ago.

During the year the federal government spent $40,166,835,914.82 while it took in only $37,044,733,557.37. The trend in federal government spending is evident when we realize that the recent fiscal year was the 18th year with a budget deficit during the past 20 years. It was the 85th budget deficit year in the history of the nation compared with 74 budget surplus years in the nation's history.

National Whirligig

News Behind The News By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, July 6.—"Hold onto your Confederate money, son! When Jimmie Byrnes wins the Governorship nomination in South Carolina next Tuesday, on top of the licking we gave Pepper in Florida and Graham in North Carolina, rebel currency is going to be worth a lot more than Harry Truman's 60-cent dollars!"

That is the picturesque and slightly exaggerated manner in which an astute southern politician of Democratic tendencies analyzes the anti-Truman movement which seems to be sweeping through Robert E. Lee's beloved country with a spirit and force akin to the states rights emotions that led to the firing on Fort Sumter. Only now the South is saying it with ballots instead of bullets.

PROTEST—Due partially to President Truman's pettiness and ineptitude, and partially to recent Supreme Court decisions on racial segregation, sensible and responsible statesmen from the South maintain that the limited and restricted Dixiecratic revolt, which enabled the Thurmond-Wright ticket to capture only four states in 1948, has now become a mass protest against the Administration's "socialistic" program.

If it were not, they argue, the enlightened, advanced and progressive state of North Carolina would not have nominated Willis Smith, a conservative, anti-Truman candidate, over such a well-known and respected gentleman and scholar as Frank Graham.

FURIOUS—Behind-the-scenes happenings at the recent Governor's Conference at Hot Springs seem to substantiate these analyses of the new extent of the southern rebellion against President Truman and National Chairman Boyle, who has proclaimed that he intends to renominate and reelect his Kansas City pal without any help from the South.

Both southern Governors and state executives from every other section of the country were furious when Mr. Truman did not invite to his White House luncheon his 1948 opponents, Governors J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina and Fielding L. Wright of Mississippi. He did not invite them, Mr. Truman explained, because "they are not Democrats."

EXCUSES—For a few tense hours, as the Governors privately denounced the White House snub to two of their colleagues, it was questionable whether more than a handful would show up at the presidential board.

As they agreed among themselves, President Truman was not demeaning only Governors Thurmond and Wright. He was insulting the states which they represent by popular ballot.

Two Governors did not respond to the presidential invitation, although it is supposed to be a sort of royal command. Governors Fuller Warren of Florida and Allan Shivers of Texas returned from Hot Springs to their respective capitals on the ground that they faced a "press of legislative business."

Those statements were political excuses, for at that time of year most of their heavy work is finished.

REBUFF—Governor Warren was moved to duck the White House luncheon because Representative George A. Smathers, who opposed the "fair deal" program, trounced the demagogue Claude A. Pepper in the recent senatorial primary. Governor Shivers remembered that, for the first time in many years, a Republican was recently elected to the House from Speaker Rayburn's state of Texas.

Two southern Governors did not even show up at the Hot Springs powwow. They were Governors Earl K. Long of Louisiana and Sidney S. McMath, once a Truman devotee, of Arkansas.

They realize that they will have a hard political row ahead of them if they even seem to subscribe to a presidential program which having been framed by the Congress of Industrial Organizations and Americans for Democratic Action, strikes at the economic, social and political system of the South.

So, in view of Mr. Truman's rebuff to two Governors, and the failure of four others to attend either the Hot Springs or White House parties, the representation of state executives from historic Democratic territory was, in reality, a minority group. It should also be noted that the absentees hail from the banner and electorally strong states of the South.

Putting The Finger On Him

Somebody Told Me

By I. J. (Jack) EDWARDS, JR.

Every time I decide that I don't have any readers, something like this happens: Recently I received two letters, one from San Francisco, Calif., and one from Lebanon Junction, Kentucky. Both included stories printed in local newspapers about flying saucers, doubtless in response to the two columns I did on saucers.

Reader response like that spurs me on, though sometimes with a sad topic like today's: nightclub battles.

If you like cartoons, you know who Peter Arno is, for he is one of the most popular cartoonists of the day. It so happens that Peter doesn't appreciate any sort of friendliness shown to his date by another man. In fact, it makes him fighting mad.

Not all celebrities get in fights over disagreements. One Humphrey Bogart, bet his way into a fight. Jimmy McLarnin, the welterweight champion, said he had knocked out one of his opponents with one blow to the stomach. Bogart said, "Nobody can knock a man out with one punch to the stomach. $500 says you can't do it to me." Bogart insisted that McLarnin take him up on the bet. When McLarnin agreed, Bogart braced himself for the blow. When it came, Bogart buckled, collapsed, but was brought to in time to pay the $500 he lost.

There are fools in this world who would like to fight Jack Dempsey. In fact, one man attacked Dempsey with the hope that the ex-heavyweight champion might flatten him. Jack simply held the man and called the head waiter. The man was very much disappointed. He explained, "I was flattened tonight by Mickey Walker, and I wanted to be able to go home and boast that I am the only man in the world who was flattened by Walker and Dempsey in one day."

A lot depends on who you are. If I got in a fight I doubt if anybody (not even my opponent) would realize it. It is the celebrities fight it out and it's news from coast to coast. And I thank Esquire.

Success is the result of careful planning and hard work—and sometimes accident.

A New York jeweler put a rosette and baguette design on matching palladium wedding rings for bride and groom. He called it "No. 8886." To a pilot in Japan, the rosettes looked like propellers and the baguettes looked like wings. So he mailed in an order for the "propeller and wings" ring.

The jeweler promptly changed

though they cost $100 plus a 1 1/2 per cent royalty from the proceeds of any valuable discovered. You must have a permit to hunt treasure on any state-owned land or sea or river bottoms.

Favorite areas for the permit holders have been in West Florida, where Odum's map indicates millions of dollars worth of treasure is buried along the Gulf Coast.

Other permits have allowed hunting in the Florida Keys—an other choice location according to the map—and in the mouth of the Suwannee River where several million dollars worth of Spanish gold is supposed to be buried.

Odum has sifted dozens of legends, rumors and stories of treasures hidden in Florida's sands and waters. Three years of research in the State Library, the Library of Congress and the files of the Encyclopedia Britannica have gone into his map.

Selecting only the best documented of the stories, Odum wound up with the approximate whereabouts of some $165,000,000 worth of treasure.

The "true chart of pirate treasure," however, doesn't pretend to be an exact guide to the ancient buccaneers' loot.

"If I could do that, I'd go and dig it up myself," Odum said. What he's done is to mark the map of Florida with crosses indicating the areas in which persistent stories say treasure is to be found. Sanford has ornamented the chart with sketches of swash-buckling pirates, their hapless victims, a three-masted sailing ship flying the Jolly Roger and, of course, that ancient emblem of piracy, the skull and cross bones.

Odum has visited almost all the sites shown on his map but says he's done no digging.

"It takes a lot of capital to go on a treasure hunt," he said. If he could go after one of the 20-odd treasures marked on his map, which would he choose? Unhesitatingly he picked the 25 to 35 million dollars worth of Aztec gold reportedly aboard the Spanish galleon Santa Rosa which sank off Key West in 1520.

He said there's no doubt that it's there, but the depth of the water has frustrated salvage attempts. The most recent publicized effort to retrieve the treasure was in 1946.

Also marked on Odum's treasure map and rightly, he feels—is the spot in the Apalachicola River where a liquor-laden boat is supposed to have hit a snag and sunk 73 years ago to salvage it failed.

Business Today

By ELMER BOESSNER... Economists in the Communist world who predicted the United States would enjoy continuous prosperity were neatly purged and replaced by Manukeyan and others who forecast a dismal depression here.

It was with comic irony then that the Reds chose a period when the country was in the upward sweep of a boom-on-boom to test American mettle.

The Reds' befuddlement was even more marked by the fact that they chose to act—and only a few believe the North Koreans acted without a go-ahead from the Politburo—at a moment when the American potential in manpower, industry and agriculture was so high.

The labor force, employed and unemployed, totaled 67,868,000 in June, two million more than the 65,890,000 employed and in the services at the high point of the war in 1944. To the June total could, if necessary, be added two or more million women from homes and several million more from the younger and older groups of men not now working or seeking work.

We might readily have 10,000,000 more men and women behind guns, plows and machines than we had at the peak of the war effort.

The U.S. industrial potential is even more amazing. Steel capacity is 25 per cent above prewar; aluminum capacity about 400 per cent; electric power about 50 per cent more. We have a vast synthetic rubber capacity we didn't have before the war and an enormous increase in plastics capacity.

In addition there are undisclosed amounts of materials in the government's stockpile.

The growth in farm production, inspired by war demands and intensified by price support since then, has brought this potential far above prewar levels. And added to this is the vast store of crops accumulated under the price-support plan. This stood at $3,947,424,000 on January 1.

The greatest potential of all in our accumulated know-how. It took months to train fighters and industrial workers after the last war started. Today these millions could be made "retreads" in a matter of weeks.

SUCCESS STORY... FORTUITOUS TYPE... Success is the result of careful planning and hard work—and sometimes accident.

A New York jeweler put a rosette and baguette design on matching palladium wedding rings for bride and groom. He called it "No. 8886." To a pilot in Japan, the rosettes looked like propellers and the baguettes looked like wings. So he mailed in an order for the "propeller and wings" ring.

The jeweler promptly changed

though they cost $100 plus a 1 1/2 per cent royalty from the proceeds of any valuable discovered. You must have a permit to hunt treasure on any state-owned land or sea or river bottoms.

Favorite areas for the permit holders have been in West Florida, where Odum's map indicates millions of dollars worth of treasure is buried along the Gulf Coast.

Other permits have allowed hunting in the Florida Keys—an other choice location according to the map—and in the mouth of the Suwannee River where several million dollars worth of Spanish gold is supposed to be buried.

Odum has sifted dozens of legends, rumors and stories of treasures hidden in Florida's sands and waters. Three years of research in the State Library, the Library of Congress and the files of the Encyclopedia Britannica have gone into his map.

Selecting only the best documented of the stories, Odum wound up with the approximate whereabouts of some $165,000,000 worth of treasure.

The "true chart of pirate treasure," however, doesn't pretend to be an exact guide to the ancient buccaneers' loot.

"If I could do that, I'd go and dig it up myself," Odum said. What he's done is to mark the map of Florida with crosses indicating the areas in which persistent stories say treasure is to be found. Sanford has ornamented the chart with sketches of swash-buckling pirates, their hapless victims, a three-masted sailing ship flying the Jolly Roger and, of course, that ancient emblem of piracy, the skull and cross bones.

the name of 8886 by the "Big Corps Wedding Band" and the selling fast through retailers near air bases.

TAX STYMIE BOOSTS REFUND OFFERS... The fact that the bill-cutting excise taxes appears hung-up while Congress reconsiders revenue needs in light of the Korean impetus to refund offers.

Every time excise cuts have come up since the war, merchants have threatened they would refund taxes if they were cut by a certain date. With the present uncertainty, they are more of these offers than ever. With good reason, too. The public is just as uncertain as Congress and may be more than a little hesitant to buy taxed articles unless nudged with such an offer.

Some fur dealers are said to be planning two alternative advertising campaigns for August sales, one to be used if the tax cuts look likely, the other if they don't.

HARDWARE SALES DOWN, THEN UP... Sales in the average hardware store in 1949 were $86,305, compared with $86,375 in 1948, the National Retail Hardware Association calculates. While gross margins remained firm, operating expenses rose, reducing net profit from 7 per cent of sales in 1948 to 4.05 per cent last year.

Prospects for this year, however, are better, since the building boom has pepped up hardware sales.

OFFERS TO SWAP WEDDING GIFTS... A New York shop is offering to exchange silver wedding gifts from any place in the world, new or second-hand, monogrammed or plain. It issues credits which may be applied to any jewelry or silverware in the store.

NEW AND HOT... GAY: A line of space-savers, garment bags and other accessories in a new floral pattern on Vinylite plastic will be introduced in August (by E-Z-DO, 261 Fifth Ave., New York 16). There's a choice of white, green, blue or pink backgrounds to match room color schemes.

CONDITIONERS: To meet objections in water-short areas to air conditioners that require large amounts of water, a new line of console units requiring a minimum amount of water has been brought out by York Distributors, Inc., Long Island City, N.Y.).

SANDPAPER: Sandpapers with aluminum oxide mineral grain in qualities hitherto made only for industrial use are now being marketed for retail sale (by Minnesota Mining and Mfg. Co., St. Paul, Minn.).

Hal Boyle's Column

By CHRIS MCGILL (For Hal Boyle)... Tallahassee, Fla. — (AP) — If you'd like to spend your Florida vacation hunting doubloons and pieces of eight, a lawyer who never went on a treasure hunt himself has made it easier for you to search for pirate gold.

He is Florida's Assistant State Attorney General Ralph E. Odum, who, with Draftsman Warner Sanford of the State Road Department, has prepared a colorful Florida treasure map.

Odum has sifted dozens of legends, rumors and stories of treasures hidden in Florida's sands and waters. Three years of research in the State Library, the Library of Congress and the files of the Encyclopedia Britannica have gone into his map.

Selecting only the best documented of the stories, Odum wound up with the approximate whereabouts of some $165,000,000 worth of treasure.

The "true chart of pirate treasure," however, doesn't pretend to be an exact guide to the ancient buccaneers' loot.

"If I could do that, I'd go and dig it up myself," Odum said. What he's done is to mark the map of Florida with crosses indicating the areas in which persistent stories say treasure is to be found. Sanford has ornamented the chart with sketches of swash-buckling pirates, their hapless victims, a three-masted sailing ship flying the Jolly Roger and, of course, that ancient emblem of piracy, the skull and cross bones.

Odum has visited almost all the sites shown on his map but says he's done no digging.

"It takes a lot of capital to go on a treasure hunt," he said. If he could go after one of the 20-odd treasures marked on his map, which would he choose? Unhesitatingly he picked the 25 to 35 million dollars worth of Aztec gold reportedly aboard the Spanish galleon Santa Rosa which sank off Key West in 1520.

He said there's no doubt that it's there, but the depth of the water has frustrated salvage attempts. The most recent publicized effort to retrieve the treasure was in 1946.

Also marked on Odum's treasure map and rightly, he feels—is the spot in the Apalachicola River where a liquor-laden boat is supposed to have hit a snag and sunk 73 years ago to salvage it failed.

Around Capitol Square

Daily Reflector Bureau By LYNN NISBET Raleigh, N. C.

(Yesterday C. M. Williams, director of the state division of purchase and contract, discussed the organization of his department. This is second installment of a story showing how state departments and institutions get their materials.)

COMPETITIVE—Any purchase exceeding $2,000 in cost is required by statute to be handled in the following manner:

A "Request for Bids" is prepared indicating that until a certain hour on a certain day the state will receive sealed competitive bids on the specified requirements. These requirements are described fully so that all bidders will offer materials of comparable type and quality. Place and time of delivery, conditions of purchase and terms of payment are given. At least ten days prior to the opening date a copy of this "Request for Bids" is forwarded to known sources of supply, taken from up-to-date mailing lists. Concurrently, an advertisement is inserted in newspapers.

PUBLIC—Bids are opened and publicly read at the time specified in the request. Bids are subsequently examined and tabulated and a recommendation for award is prepared. When advisable, bids are referred to the requisitioning agency for study and comment. The final recommendation together with all bids is then submitted to the Board of Award for review and approval, as prescribed by law. The law specifies that the contract be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder, quality, service and conditions of delivery being equal. DETAILS—Once the contract has been established, certain necessary information pertinent to the execution of the contract is then furnished to the departments concerned or to all using agencies. In the case of a term contract, a general certification is issued which becomes a part of an indexed looseleaf system that the business officer of each agency keeps constantly at hand.

This certification, of course, contains all necessary details concerning the contract itself as well as instructions for placing purchase orders in accordance with it. If a definite quantity purchase is involved, a copy of the accepted contract is forwarded to the using agency for use in placing its purchase order. If the purchase is being made for a State Department (as distinguished from an Institution or Public School Unit), a purchase order is issued by this division and necessary information copies forwarded to the department.

The policies and procedures outlined above are based on certain fundamentals of public purchasing which have proved to be essential to the proper function of this Division. A brief consideration of these fundamentals seems appropriate.

FREE AND OPEN—The public purchaser is spending money collected from the people in the form of taxes. He occupies a position of public trust in which every extra dollar he pays for a given material means that the taxpayer must contribute that much more in taxes; and, conversely, every dollar by which he is able to reduce the cost of the material reacts directly to the benefit of all the people. In expanding public funds, it is axiomatic that there be free and open competition and that all persons able to supply the needs of the State be given an opportunity to do so. Public bidding, when analyzed, means simply that each person in a position to furnish a particular material or perform a particular service states formally the lowest consideration for which he will perform such service or furnish such material; and when all proposals have been examined, the one offering the lowest price, other considerations being equal, is rightfully entitled to be awarded the business. In order to encourage competition, the Division endeavors to remove as many restrictions as possible from bidding. For example, neither bid nor performance bonds are required; and it is not felt that any detriment to the State has resulted from this practice. It should be noted, however, that the statutes provide for such bonds being required when considered advisable by the Director or the Advisory Budget Commission. To further encourage competition, bid requests are given the widest possible publicity in the form of newspaper and other advertisements and by posting on public bulletin boards.

RECORDS—A complete file of all bids on any particular product or article purchased is kept permanently together with the tabulation and other related material. These records are open to the public and may be examined by anyone at any time.

The Voice Of The People

LOOSE DOGS A MENACE July 5th, 1950 I am appealing to the boys and girls to always have their pet dog on leash and tied up when they are not holding him on playgrounds to save children as well as grown up people from possible harm.

On my rounds at Cotanche Park yesterday, I was attacked by a dog and after jumping around a bit was able to land a kick under its throat that landed him helpless about a feet away and me about the same distance flat on my back, however, getting out with only a cut elbow which hit on a rock, sprained foot, sore back and limbs from the fall. The owner of the dog readily showed up and seemed contented with the fight and in the meantime his wife picked up the dog, hugged and began kissing it and then her brother came on the scene and said that the dog had been vaccinated as if to insinuate that it would have been all right for him to have had a bite or two and that I should not have kicked the dog.

I have moved my office to the cabin in Cotanche Park for the summer from where I am devoting my entire time in getting out playground equipment, checking it almost daily on 12 different playgrounds, trying to make it safe and keep it safe for the kids and I know that they are going to cooperate with me in keeping biting dogs from the playgrounds.

I am surprised at some of our best citizens who insist on letting their dogs run at large when we have a law against it and have recently heard of a number of people being bitten. From now on or at least through the mad dog season, I am going to use all my influence to have the law enforced.

NEWTON, N.C. OBSERVER: "As other countries have found out, we can't surrender just a little bit of our independence! In this world of nations, you are either grown up or you are a child. Your Government is either your hired servant—or it is your boss! It may be a kind boss at first, but there is never any guarantee, human beings being what they are, that it may not be a very severe boss later on—when it is too late to do anything about it."

ELWOOD, INDIANA, CALL-LEADER: "Politics has never yet remedied any kind of a situation and it never will because the ramifications of greed, selfishness, graft and dishonesty are too strong to accomplish any worthwhile end."

About two thirds of all the women in the United States were married as of April 1949, the U.S. Census Bureau has found out. One fifth were single and slightly fewer than one seventh widowed or divorced. About 24 percent of all married women were in the labor force as compared with 17 percent in 1940.

Widow Awarded $115,000 In Suit Against Company

New York, July 6—(AP)—The North Carolina widow of a seaman fatally injured at sea has won a $115,000 damage award from the Istimian Steamship Company. A federal court jury of 11 men and one woman yesterday ordered the award to Mrs. Opal Naylor, 35, of Pfafftown, near Winston-Salem, N. C., and her two children. Her husband, James E. Naylor, an able-bodied seaman, died aboard the S.S. Alleghany Victory at sea last Oct. 19 after he was struck by a wave during a storm and knocked against ship rigging. Mrs. Naylor sued the steamship company for $200,000 damages, charging civil negligence. The suit claimed that if the ship had been secured from the storm in sufficient time, the seaman would not have been required to be at the point on the deck where he was hit by the wave. In its verdict, the jury awarded damages of $40,000 for the physical suffering of the deceased seaman, and $75,000 to his survivors as compensation for the loss of his support. Of the latter sum, the jury stipulated that $15,000 each was to be awarded the mother and daughter, Tanya, 15, and $45,000 to the son, Ronald, 14, who, according to counsel for the plaintiff, is in need of medical attention. The suit began last June 21. R. C. Farmer, counsel for the company, said a decision on an appeal from the verdict would be made later.

Resourceful Use For Lawnmower

Visalia, Calif.—(AP)—This clerk didn't know much about farming, but he sure was resourceful. So reports Angelo Jordan, a member, who asked a hardware store clerk for some sopher traps. The clerk said he was out, but suggested a lawnmower instead. "You can cut their heads off while you mow the grass," he told the flabbergasted farmer.

Would Sell Eye To Aid Daughter

Gastonia, N.C., July 6—(AP)—A farmer who once sold his land so that his daughter wouldn't lose sight in one eye, now wants to sell one of his eyes so that the same daughter might walk. That's the hope of 50-year-old R. B. Neelands of Gastonia, Route 3. Yesterday he made his offer public. He said his 16-year-old daughter, June, has been unable to walk since last September. Doctors say she has a spinal ailment. Neelands says he hasn't money enough for proper medical treatment for June—that asthma and bronchial trouble keep him from working. But he is confident that if he sells one of his eyes for enough money he can buy the health that'll make June walk. Last August June, almost lost the sight in her right eye. Neelands sold the land he owned and bought the attention that corrected June's vision.

India Films Face More Problems

Bombay, India—(AP)—India's film industry, said to be the second largest in the world, is plagued by problems ranging from heavy taxation to lack of talent, according to the Indian Motion Picture Association. Association officials say a serious crisis exists. They include among their troubles social prejudices against films, government restrictions and censorship regulations, burdensome taxation, lack of financing at reasonable interest rates, lack of talent, shortage of theatres, inadequate release facilities in key cities and inadequate supplies of essential materials.

More than 140,000 families have completed payments on Farmers Home Administration loans.

An estimated 16,000,000 U. S. non-farm families now own their homes, as compared with 3,500,000 in 1900.

13 Boys Return From Elks Camp

Thirteen Greenville teen-age boys who spent two weeks at the North Carolina State Elks Association's summer camp near Hendersonville, returned here Sunday afternoon in one of Paul Ricks' passenger buses.

They were a happy lot—cheerful, sun-tanned, bright-eyed, glad to be home again; and the boys gained an average of from two to five pounds each while in camp. An Elks summer camp official reported this to Paul Ricks, who has transported Elks' boys back and forth to the camp for half a dozen years.

Stuart Page, of Page-Barber Insurance Company, is chairman of the Elks Summer Camp Committee. He said the bus picked up Goldsboro Elks Lodge boys on the way up and brought them back to the Wayne County metropolis.

The Greenville Elks Lodge sends a dozen worthy teen age boys to the Hendersonville camp each summer with all expenses paid. Some years other boys make the trip and pay their own expenses.

Those who made the trip this year are:

Sane Swimming Rules Listed By Safety Experts

New York, N.Y.—Swim for health this summer — you can't find a healthier sport—but swim safely, so that you will live to enjoy more summers of swimming. Safety experts of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company urge the following precautions:

After a hearty meal, wait at least two hours before swimming. If you tire easily, stay in shallow water.

Get out of the water and get dressed when you feel tired or start to shiver.

Get an instructor's advice about diving, so that you learn to dive properly.

Investigate a new diving place beforehand for rocks and obstacles, and recheck every season.

Never dive in the dark. The swimming pool may be dry. The tide at the beach may be low.

Heed the warnings of local health authorities as to the pollution of swimming places.

Learn the safest and best way of getting a drowning person out of the water.

Drownings rank third among causes of accidental death in the United States, taking about 6,500 lives yearly, according to the Metropolitan statisticians.

"To be a safe swimmer," points out Dr. Donald B. Armstrong, in charge of the company's nationwide health and welfare program, "means to be a good swimmer, to be master of at least one stroke, and to know how to float and tread water. It also means to follow the commonsense precautions required for safety."

Trains Collide

Galesburg, Ill., July 6—(AP)—Two persons were killed and at least 50 persons were injured in a derailed and collision of two passenger trains on the Santa Fe Railroad early today.

The railroad superintendent's office at nearby Chillicothe said the mishap occurred when 15 cars of the 16-car streamliner train, the El Capitan, left the rails at Amonica and were rammed by the line's Kansas City Chief, running on a parallel track.

Election Dispute Hearing Is Fixed

Raleigh, N. C., July 6—(AP)—A hearing on a Halifax county dispute over the Democratic nomination for Sheriff will be held at Halifax on July 17 by the state board of elections.

The board set the hearing after a lengthy hearing yesterday in the case.

The controversy arose over a one-vote victory for sheriff H. A. House over J. Reuben Daniel in the May 27 primary. The count was certified by the Halifax board of elections as 4,533 votes to 4,532.

Daniel alleged irregularities in the count, and the Halifax board granted his request for a recount. House appealed to the State board.

After the state board indicated it would issue a ruling supporting the Halifax board's decision, Jesse Jones of Kinston, House's lawyer, filed an answer to Daniel's petition. The state board then decided on the July 17 hearing.

The answer presented for House alleged that the ballot boxes had not been properly sealed and protected "against unauthorized meddling and tampering" after the Halifax board impounded them the night of the primary. Jones indicated this would be the main issue at the Halifax hearing.

To Study Steps For Road Safety

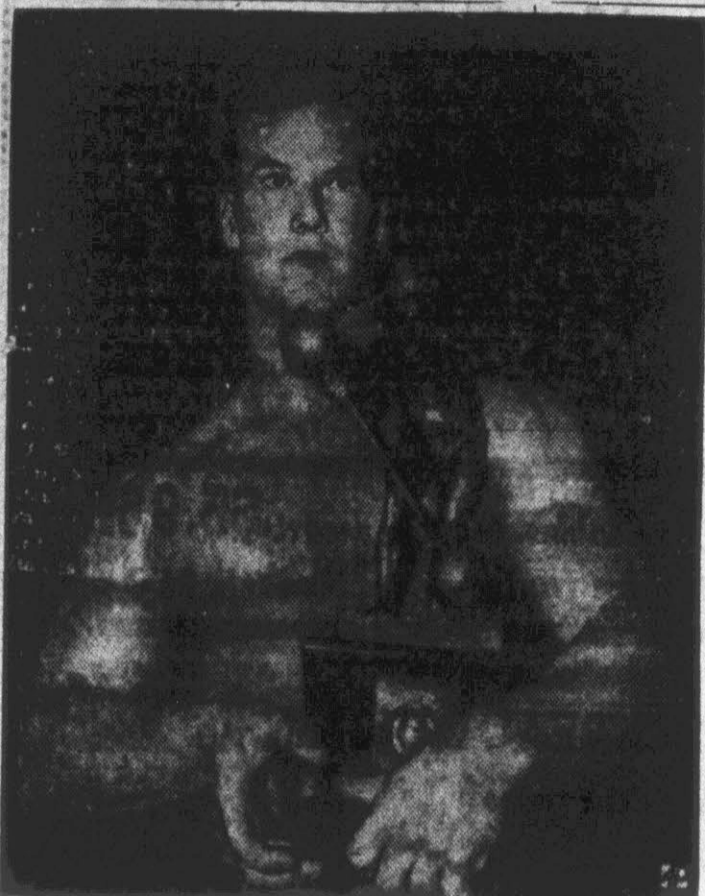

Raleigh, N. C., July 6—(AP)—Governor Scott's advisory committee on highway safety has assigned a five-man action committee the task of setting up an interim program to cut the state's highway death toll.

The advisory committee took the action yesterday at an emergency session stemming from the heavy fatality list over the long fourth of July holiday week-end.

The action committee will consider a number of specific recommendations put before the meeting.

Col. James R. Smith, state highway patrol commander, proposed that 100 men be added to the patrol, that mechanical inspection of motor vehicles be revived, and that a stronger program of driver training be established.

Government-Owned Food Stocks Talked For Disaster Counties

Raleigh, N.C., July 6—(AP)—Plans for getting government-owned surplus foods into five disaster-ridden counties of the state will be discussed here tomorrow.

The food, bought by the federal government under its farm price-support program, will be distributed in Edgecombe, Wake, Wilson, Nash and Johnston Counties.

Other help for farmers whose crops were wrecked by a brief assault of hail, wind and rain last Thursday was in the making.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture designated the five counties a disaster loan area. This makes the farmers eligible for emergency loans until they can harvest new crops.

State Agriculture Commissioner L. Y. Ballentine announced that approval has been given for distribution of surplus foods in the area. The authority was granted yesterday by the Atlanta office of the Production and Marketing Administration.

J. P. Davis, state supervisor of the surplus foods program, said supplies of potatoes, butter, cheese, dried eggs, and dried milk are on hand and ready for immediate distribution.

Governor Scott's office announced he has called a meeting for tomorrow to discuss details of the distribution. The State Department of Agriculture, while authorized to distribute surpluses, has no money to pay transportation costs.

Invited to the conference were Congressman Harold D. Cooley; C. S. Bunn, Nash County Red Cross chairman; State Welfare Commissioner Elen Winston and Eugene Brown of the Welfare Department; John A. Winfield, state markets director; Davis; Ballentine; and J. A. Hutchins of the PMA's Atlanta office.

The governor planned a personal inspection of the area this afternoon.

Airport Greeting Is Money Saver

Phoenix, Ariz.—(AP)—Because a big greeting was written for Miss America, the City of Phoenix has saved itself about $2,500 a year. It was last fall when Jacques Mercer of Litchfield Park, Ariz., won the beauty title at Atlantic City and her home state planned a gala reception.

Along the airport runway townspeople wrote a big "Welcome Jacques" sign she could see as the plane came in for a landing. As the reception was only a one-day affair, an inexpensive water mixed casein paint was used. Officials at the airport waited for it to wash away.

They waited, and waited and waited. For weeks, planes coming to Phoenix saw "Welcome Jacques" in big letters. Finally the greeting was obliterated with flat black paint.

But the sign had proved the less expensive paint could be used as runway markers and the Civil Aeronautics Administration approved said Airport Manager Walter Fulkerson. So the city, which maintains the airport, will save $2,500 on its paint bill each year.

Sprays that hasten the ripening of apples also in some cases cause the first to stay on the tree longer.

Disaster Status For 5 Counties

Washington, July 5—(AP)—The Agriculture Department today designated five hail-damaged North Carolina counties as a disaster loan area.

They are Edgecombe, Wake, Wilson, Nash and Johnston.

Farmers in these counties are eligible for emergency loans to carry on farming operations until new crops are harvested. The department said crops in these areas were heavily damaged by hail last week.

Jerusalem—(AP)—Poland and Israel are expected to sign a new trade pact before next December 1. Both countries recently existing agreement to that date.

Israel now is getting imports of cement, wood, iron and other industrial and building materials from Poland. The Israelis are exporting citrus fruits, dental supplies and special chemicals to the Poles.

IT'S DEATH, MY DARLING!

By Amelia Reynolds Long

AP Newswire

Chapter 12
Wilkes swore, Beau laughed tauntingly.
The sheriff's face had turned a dull red.
Aunt Delphine was looking in puzzled bewilderment from one to the other.
"What's the matter?" she asked. "Did I say something that displeased this gentleman?"
Amedee crossed to her side.
"Of course you didn't, Tante," he reassured her. "You'd better ask Uncle Bountiful to bring you some breakfast," he suggested.
The sheriff turned toward the hall door.
"I'm going upstairs to talk to the other Mrs. Dumont," he flung over his shoulder.
Amedee came back into the room just at that moment.
"Where's Wilkes?" he asked.
"Gone up to talk to Aunt Minerva," Beau answered tersely.
Up to this time Cousin Jeff had remained in the background. Now he spoke.
"If there's any part of this you haven't told, Beau," he said, "you'd better tell it to Wilkes when he comes back."
Beau set his jaw stubbornly. "I've said all I'm going to say," he announced.
When Sheriff Wilkes returned he made no reference to his recent interview.
"You said there was a formal dinner party here last evening," he began, addressing himself to Cousin Jeff. "Does that mean that the ladies had on evening dresses?"
"It does," Cousin Jeff replied, looking faintly curious at the question. "White evening dresses."
The sheriff looked around at Bobby, P., and Lee.
"Which one of you was wearing slippers?" he inquired.
"We all were," I volunteered.
"That was one of Colonel Dumont's requests,"
"What did you do with them?"
"Miss Bremnon and I took ours off in our room," I replied. "I imagine the others did the same thing."
The sheriff turned to Uncle Bountiful.
"Go upstairs and see if you can find them," he directed.
No one spoke after that until

Uncle Bountiful returned. He was carrying three somewhat wilted corsages.
"These hyar were in Miss Peter an' Miss Bobby's room," he announced, laying them on the table. "Ah, dis hyars Miss Delphine's."
The sheriff swung upon Pick.
"Where's yours?" he demanded.
"Why, I—I don't know," Pick looked apprehensive.
"Since his return, the sheriff had been standing with one hand behind his back.
"This wouldn't be it, would it?" he drawled. He was holding out the crushed remains of a fourth corsage.
"Where—where did you find it?" she stammered.
"On the hall floor under your cousin's body."
"Oh!" Pick gasped, and pressed her clinched knuckles against her mouth. The gesture revealed a fresh, white bandage across the back of her hand.
The sheriff stared at the bandage with a speculative gleam in his eyes.
"Suppose you tell us how you hurt your hand."
"I—I broke a glass," she stammered, "and cut myself on one of the pieces."
"Sure o' that?"
Beau stepped forward, placing himself between his sister and the sheriff.
"Wait, Beau," Pick laid a restraining hand on his arm. "I can tell Mr. Wilkes what he wants to know." She took a deep breath. "After I went to my room last night," she began, "I found that I couldn't sleep. So I came downstairs again to look for something to read. When I came into Grandpere's office, I found Claude there. He had been drinking pretty heavily at dinner and afterwards. "When he saw me, he wanted me to stay down and talk to him; but I refused. He caught hold of my shoulder. I managed to break away from him but he tore off my corsage, and I must have scratched my hand on the pin."
"About what time did this happen, Miss Pickett?" he asked.
Pick hesitated. "I'm not sure," she answered, "but I guess it must have been around two o'clock, or a little later."
The sheriff eyed her in silence for the count of about four seconds.

"Miss Pickett, do you always sleep with your clothes on an' wearin' a bouquet o' flowers?" he shot out, suddenly.
"Damn you, Wilkes!" Beau roared. He started toward the sheriff, then stopped. "All right," he said more quietly. "I guess I'll have to tell you everything. I lied when I said I came in and found Claude dead. I didn't. I came in just as it happened. When he heard me come in, he turned half way around to see who it was. At the same time the end of the sword got between his knees, and he stumbled. He fell forward across the blade. It was his fall, and not the door slamming, that was heard upstairs. The rest happened the way I told it the first time."
He ceased speaking abruptly, and stood staring at the sheriff with a look of grim defiance.
Just then the door behind him opened, and the coroner looked in to the room.
"Can you come here a minute, Jeff?" he asked.
Wilkes followed him into the hall.
The sheriff returned.
"Still sticking to that story, Mr. Beau?" he inquired.
Beau nodded without speaking.
The sheriff studied them both for a moment in silence, then he addressed the room in general.
"It might interest you all to know," he said, "that by three o'clock, Claude Dumont had been dead at least twenty minutes. And what's more, it wasn't the sword that killed him. He died of a heart attack; which was probably what made him fall on the sword in the first place."
"But I would like to know," he added, turning back to Beau, "why you found it necessary to go in for all that plain an' fancy lyin'."
Chapter 13
Shortly after that, the sheriff and the coroner both left, taking with them Claude's body.
After they had gone, Uncle Bountiful served a breakfast which some of us ate through sheer nervousness and others were unable to touch for the same reason.
When the meal was about half over, Uncle Raoul spoke for the first time since sitting down at the table.
"Why did you do it, Beau," he asked abruptly.
Beau glanced up from his plate. "Do what?" he asked.
"Lie about finding Claude."
Pick spoke before her brother could answer.
"I think I know," she said. "When the sheriff brought in those flowers, Beau thought that—that I might know something about Claude's death. So he made up that tale to protect me. Isn't that it, Beau?"
Beau nodded carelessly. He had assumed something of his old devil-may-care attitude again.
"Why did you go downstairs, Pick?" Lee asked unexpectedly. "Was it actually to get a book or—"
"If she says she went to get a book, then that's why she went," Beau interrupted him almost roughly. "For God's sake, Lee, can't you learn to let well enough alone?"
Lee flushed.
"I didn't mean—" he began.
"Why disturb ourselves with unimportant trifles?" Cousin Jeff, the peacemaker, put in diplomatically. "The question of Claude's death has been settled—if there ever was a question in anyone's mind except the sheriff's—and that's all that matters."
But was it, I wondered? Was it either settled, or all that mattered?
I wandered out onto the south gallery, where presently I was joined by Amedee.
"What do you think of it all, Peter?" he asked, sitting down beside me.
"I don't know, Dede," I answered. "There still seem to be a lot of things that could stand explaining."
"And one of them is, how Claude could have stumbled over the end of the sword when it was thrust through his belt," he said. "I was inside just now experimenting with one of Grandpere's canes, and I'll be hanged if I could find out how he did it."
"Thank Heaven you had sense enough to use a cane instead of the sword!" I explained. "You might have found out."
He looked so pleased at that, I was afraid we were going to get sidetracked from our subject. But we didn't.
"You mean that the sword must already have been drawn?" I asked.
"That looks like the only logical explanation," he replied gravely.
"But what difference would it make?" I asked. "It wasn't the sword that killed Claude; it was a heart attack."
"Didn't it occur to you to wonder," he countered, "whether it was the heart attack that caused the wound with the sword, or the shock of the wound that caused the heart attack?"
"You mean—Beau?" I ventured as he paused.
He didn't answer directly.
"We may as well face the facts before somebody else faces them for us," he said. "Even if Claude did die around half past two, it still doesn't give Beau a clean bill of health. Come to think of it, when Lewis and Henri and I went out to the garconneries, I can't remember seeing him with us."
"Oh, but he did go out, later," I said. "I saw him."
I explained about seeing the three shadows leaving the lighted room downstairs, and about Pick's strange vigil in the upper hall. "But here's the part I can't understand," I finished. "How did he get back into the house? Aunt Minerva put on the night latch just before she went upstairs."
"Maybe Beau took it off again when he went out," Amedee suggested.
"Then he must have deliberately planned to come back." I pointed out. "And that makes it look more than ever as though he was lying when he said—"
"Thanks," Beau's voice cut in unexpectedly. "I've been called a liar so many times today, it's beginning to look as though I'm getting something of Aunt Delphine's reputation."
He had come out upon the gallery without our noticing him. Now he stood looking down at us with one of his impudently ironic grins.
"Beau," I asked before I could stop myself, "when you planned to come back last night, was it to meet

Beau leaned lazily against one of the white pillars.
"Sorry, Dede," he said, "but I'm afraid well have to skip that. It had nothing to do with Claude's death, which the coroner says—God bless him!—was due to heart failure."
He turned then, and walked nonchalantly back into the house.
"Of course, this is only a hunch," I said to Amedee when he had gone. "But I believe Beau came back to the house for the same reason that Pick went downstairs; and that, in spite of what he says, that reason had something to do with Claude. It may even have been the thing that brought on his heart attack."
"That sounds possible," he agreed thoughtfully. "The question is, why did Pick come downstairs?"
"I only wish I knew!" I exclaimed fervently.

Robins Edge Out Roanoke Rapids By 7-6 In Hard-Fought Ten-Frame Game

Locals Come From Behind With Homer By Baktis; Tepedino's Single Scores Scarpa

By BERT MOYE

John Tepedino's line stole into center field in the bottom of the 10th inning to bring home "Shoes" Scarpa, who had reached second via a sacrifice bunt, provided the Greenville Robins with the winning run over Roanoke Rapids. Here 7-6, a Robins edge.

The Robins came from behind a 4-4 deficit in the sixth inning to knot the count at six-all when John Baktis slugged a 360-foot homer over the left field fence to bring in George Hollow ahead of him. Hollow had reached first via a single after two men had been retired in this frame.

Greenville scored singletons in the first and second frames to knot the count at two-all after the first two stanzas as the Jays scored two runs in the top of the second.

In the first frame Scarpa walked, advanced to second on a passed ball and went to third on Tepedino's slow roller to first, and when Alton Brown nicked up the ball to try and catch Scarpa, he threw wild with Scarpa racing home for the first score of the game.

The Jays scored two runs in the top of the second on four successive singles off Jim Lewey, but the Robins came back to score in the second frame when Bobby Harrison homered over the right field wall.

The Jays took the lead 3-2 in the third frame by scoring a singleton on one hit, a fielder's choice and a costly error.

They held the lead until the sixth frame when the Robins again went out in front by scoring two runs on singles by Strausser and John Tepedino and a fielder's choice by Scarpa, two stolen bases and a fly to deep right field by George Hollow.

The Jays came back to take the lead for the last time in the seventh frame when Frank Tepedino homered over the right centerfield fence with two men aboard after two men were out. Incidentally, all three of these runs were of the unearned variety.

Alton Brown, ace hurler for the Jays, was the loser in last night's contest as he went the route for the Jays, giving up a total of nine hits. It was his fifth loss of the season and his first to the Robins. He has won 18, three of which have been against the Robins.

Bobby Harrison with a homer and a single and Johnny Tepedino with two singles led the attack off Brown.

Jim Lewey started on the mound for the Robins, but was relieved in the top of the eighth after giving up seven hits and all six Jay runs. Finley White, ace relief hurler for the Robins, pitched the remaining three frames and held the Jays to three hits and no runs. He was credited with the win, his fourth of the season. He has lost one this season.

Frank Tepedino with a homer and a single and Yonnie Bass and Larry Quartraro with two singles each paced the nine-hit attack off Lewey and White.

The Robins travel over to Roanoke Rapids tonight to meet the Jays in a return game there. On Friday night they go to Rocky Mount and on Saturday night meet the Rocky Mount Leafs in a twin bill here at Guy Smith Stadium.

Locke Is Rated 'Man To Beat' In British Open

Troon, Scotland, July 6—(AP) All eyes focused today on unrumpled Bobby Locke, the mechanical golfer from South Africa, as the man to beat in the British Open championships here.

Golfers here still remember how Locke won the title last year. Playing Irishman Harry Bradshaw, he imperturbably sank a tough putt for a birdie on the 17th green which enabled him to go on and tie his opponent. Then, in the 36-hole play-off, Locke won by 12 strokes.

Locke didn't lead the field at the start of yesterday's first round but he was just one stroke off the pace with a 69.

Davidson Tennis Star Gets Title
 White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., July 6—(AP)—Oliver (Bo) Roddy of Davidson College is the 1950 Mason and Dixon tennis champion.

Fighting off the blistering smashes of Hal Burrows, Roddy added the Plaza Bowl to his collection of prizes with a straight-set triumph yesterday.

The Southern Conference titlist whipped Burrows, University of Virginia captain, last season, 6-2, 6-4.

The Southern Conference titlist tallying all along the way. Hill's got a lone run in the fourth and made the rest—four runs—in the last frame.

The motor team, however, tallied in all but the second. Their biggest inning was the fifth when five runs crossed.

Dave Mosier, first and only pitcher for Wagner-Waldrop, tossed eight-hit ball in Hill's direction while his teammates were collecting 12 off the offerings of Yeatts.

Only two extra base blows were chalked up, one on each side. Joe Lupton got a triple for the losers while Tucker knocked a double for W-W.

First Base Spot Filled For Cards By Rocky Nelson

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer

Rocky Nelson looks like the answer to Eddie Dyer's "Who's on first?" riddle. Since Nelson rejoined St. Louis, the Cards have won six straight on their march into the National League lead.

First base has been Manager Dyer's headache ever since he took the job. Each spring he goes through the same motions, hoping to keep Stan Musial in the outfield. Usually Stan winds up on first.

It was the same story last March. Steve Bilko, the hulking rookie from Rochester, was the new boy. Bulging Bilko didn't hit. Nelson didn't impress because he couldn't hit the left-handers, and Nippy Jones was recuperating from an operation.

Bilko opened, but not for long. On May 5, Stan the Man was back on first and Steve was back in Rochester. But with Musial on the bag, the outfield lacked something.

They shipped Nelson to Columbus and he started to burn in the American Association. The good folks in Ohio knew it was only a matter of time before the Cards would call him back. When they did, nobody was surprised, for he was hitting .419, leading the league.

Nelson continues where he left off in the minors. With nine hits, including three doubles and a homer, in 23 trips, he's hitting .391. His defensive play has been excellent. And Musial is back in the old hitting stride with only the outfield to worry about.

Against left-handed Ken Raffensberger last night, Nelson hit a two-run homer that featured a four-run second inning. The early lead held up for a 5-3 edge over Cincinnati, although Rookie Joe Adcock threw a scare into 13,667 fans with a three-run homer in the ninth.

Carl Churchill in his column "Jaylights" appearing in the Roanoke Rapids Daily Herald stated: Mister Umpire Barnhill is back in the Coastal Plain League. He presided behind the plate in Tuesday afternoon's contest at Rocky Mount. This writer regrets to report that the genial gentleman's eyes do not seem to have improved during his period of inactivity in the umpiring business in the Coastal Plain loop.

Tigers vs. Indians
 W. Greenville Indians lost another game yesterday in the final inning after apparently having it in the bag. The Tigers from the Training School had to score twice in the final inning to tie the game and then won it in the first over-time inning. Wesley Hudson with a triple and single and Bull Bullock with a double and single led the attack for the Indians. Dick Evans got three singles to lead the Tigers.

Dodgers vs. Cards
 W. Greenville league leading Cards continued that heavy hitting and won easily over the Dodgers from Third Street yesterday at W. Greenville by the score of 21 to 4. The Cards hit the ball to all corners of the lot to run up their big margin. Jerry Phillips got four hits including a double and single. Gene Hudson got four including two triples and Strickland got a homer and triple to lead the Cards. Starkey, Ippock and Hudson Miller got two each to lead the Dodgers.

Wildcats vs. Red Sox
 The Red Sox of W. Greenville lost their first game of the season yesterday to the much improved Wildcats of the Training School. Not since the league started way back in the first of June have the Sidelights:—Last night's extraordinary contest marked the eleventh that the Robins have played this season and the record shows that they have won six, lost three and tied two of them. The win last night was the 22nd that the Robins have won at home this season, they have lost 17. That was the 12th win of the season by a one-run margin, they have lost 13 by a one-run margin. The Robins have now won five contests and have lost six to the Jays in their eleven game series thus far this season.

Both teams had five men left on bases in last night's contest. The Robins pulled the only double play of the game. Before the game—Alton Brown stated to the writer—"Well, you can get ready to chalk up win number 17 for me."

After the game—could not be reached for comment. In giving the report to the News and Observer last night Herman Blackman of the sports department who took the game over the telephone stated: "I put the jinx on Brown last night in his game with the Robins," when told that they had defeated the Jays' ace hurler. Vince Lautato is expected back into the fold today after a ten day's trip to his home in Brooklyn. Goldsboro won the second game of the double-header against Kinston last night over in Kinston, 6-5, and it was the first time since July 1947 that the Goldsboro club has defeated the Eagles in their park.

Here is a brief record of Dick Blands record with the Fayetteville club of the Tobacco State League last year:
 In a total of 56 games he was at bat 216 trips, scored 55 runs, collected 57 hits for 72 total bases. This included 9 doubles, three triples. He made 3 sacrifice hits, stole 10 bases, was walked 53 times, struck out 15 times and batted in 23 runs. His batting average for the season was .264 percent.

He played a total of 57 games at second base, making 181 putouts, 182 assists, committed 30 errors, participated in 39 double plays and ended the season with a fielding average of .917 percent.

Eight Yankees To Play On American All-Stars

Chicago, July 6—(AP)—A 25-player American League squad, one-third composed of New York Yankees and listing only one regular third baseman, will face the National League best in the 17th All-Star game at Comiskey Park next Tuesday.

Eight of his own world champion Yankees were on the squad completed today by Yankee manager Casey Stengel, the American League pilot, who selected eight pitchers and nine reserve players to go with the eight starters named in a nationwide fan vote.

All eight American clubs are represented on the squad which meets a National League array selected yesterday. The Boston Red Sox had five All-Star nominees, followed by the Cleveland Indians and Detroit Tigers with four each. The Chicago White Sox, Philadelphia Athletics, St. Louis Browns and Washington Senators have one apiece.

Stengel picked two left-handed pitchers and six right-handers. The southpaws were Tommy Byrne of the Yanks and the Tigers brilliant Ted Gray. The right-handers were Vic Raschi and Allie Reynolds, also from the Yankees; Art Houtteman of the Tigers; Bob Feller and Bob Lemon of the Indians; and Ray Scarborough, the lone White Sox man on the squad.

Although Stengel lined up nine infielders, stellar George Kell of the Tigers is the only third baseman by the book. Five outfielders and three catchers round out the squad.

The latest supplement to the American Stud Book shows that of the record crop of foals of 1948, a total of 4,000 are fillies and 3,998 are colts.

Americans Steal All-England Play

Wimbledon, July 6—(AP)—American Wightman Cup players who have monopolized the women's singles in the all-England tennis championships fight it out among themselves today for entry into Saturday's final.

In two matches on the famed center court, Doris Hart of Jacksonville, Fla., tangles with titleholder Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., and Mrs. Pat Todd of La Jolla, Calif., meets Mrs. Margaret Dupont of Wilmington, Del.

British fans will be rooting for Doris Hart, a favorite at Wimbledon. The folks admire her tennis, and the way she triumphed over childhood adversaries. Doris struck her knee against a pole and an infection almost cost her the use of her right leg.

Mrs. Dupont (then Margaret Osborne) beat her in the 1947 final and Miss Brough defeated her the following year.

Right through the current tournament, Miss Hart has played the best tennis of all the American women and she is heavily favored to put out the champion.

Three Clubs In Player-Shifts

New York, July 6—(AP)—Three American League baseball clubs—the Boston Red Sox, St. Louis Browns and Chicago White Sox—figured in player shifts yesterday.

The Red Sox sold pitcher Charles Schanz to the Browns for the $10,000 waiver price and the Browns sent pitcher Lou Kretlow to the White Sox on the same terms.

Greenville Police Have Busy June

Greenville police made 135 arrests during the month of June, answered 327 calls, made 214 investigations, investigated 281 complaints of citizens, investigated 13 traffic accidents and the officers found the doors of 13 business places open at night.

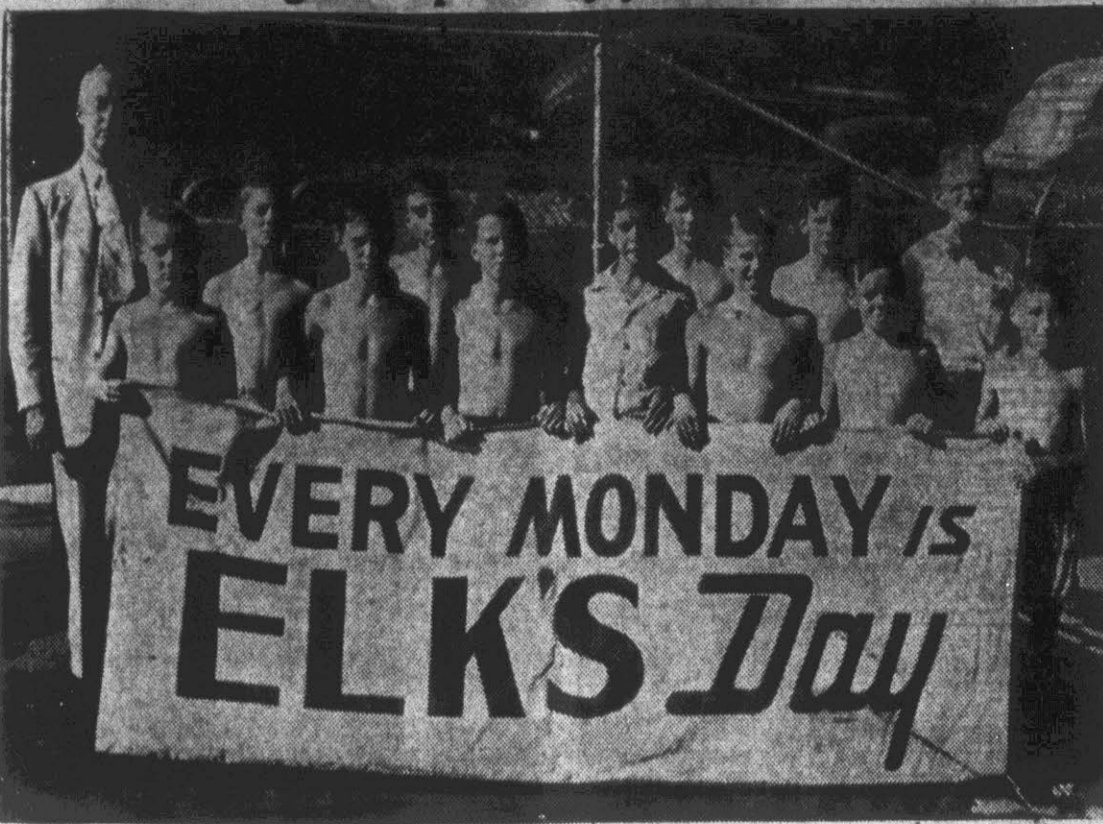

Fifty-seven white persons were arrested. Three of them were women. Seventy-eight Negroes were arrested during June, 68 were men, 10 were women.

This information is contained in Police Chief Lester D. Page's report to the Board of Aldermen, to be submitted tonight at the regular monthly meeting at the City Hall.

An itemized statement of arrests made by Greenville police during June follows: Various assaults, 36; drinks, 28; violations of road and driving laws, 14; larceny, 9; miscellaneous offenses, 12; aggravated assaults, 8; forgery and worthless checks, 4; offenses against family and children, 4; driving drunk, 4; disorderly conduct, 3; sex offenses, 2; carrying concealed weapon, 1; robbery, 1; larceny of automobile, 1; violating liquor laws; suspicion, 1; gambling, 1; gambling, 1, and others.

Total revenue for the month of June from City Recorders Court was $1,548.775, out of which the city receives $1,038.55.

Elks' Lodge Campers Enjoy Watermelon Feast

Alderman Heber B. Tripp was host at a watermelon feast to the 13 teen age boys last Monday afternoon at Colaniche Street Park. The youngsters had returned Sunday afternoon from the North Carolina State Elks' Association camp near Hendersonville. The boys spent two weeks in camp as the guests of Greenville Lodge No. 1645, Belevolent and Protective Order of Elks. The Greenville Elks annually send a dozen or more teen age boys to the western Carolina camp.

Black Magic

As chic and cool as a "little summer black" as you've ever seen is this rayon crepe dress featured in Cosmopolitan magazine for July. It has twin rows of buttons at front and back of the smartly plain, round-necked bodice. Jerry Parnis has given it a modified bat-wing sleeve, cropping it midway between elbow and shoulder. The skirt has soft, unpressed pleats at center front. About $35.00.

That's not snow these two boys are playing with on the Newport Beach at Sydney, Australia. It is sea foam tossed up by the high seas that lashed the New South Wales coast last weekend. Many Sydney beaches were left with sea foam as deep as 15 feet after the seas subsided. (AP Wirephoto).

Dr. McGinnis To Address Session

Dr. Howard McGinnis, retired faculty member and official of East Carolina Teachers College and governor of the Rotary District Assembly of Eastern North Carolina, will be the principal speaker at a district convention to be held at Hotel Kingston in Kingston next Tuesday and Wednesday, July 11 and 12.

H. A. Marks of Wilmington, past district Rotary governor, will preside.

Governor McGinnis, in this visitation, will give instructions to club officers and discuss with them various club problems.

The annual Rotary "fellowship dinner" will be held Tuesday evening at 6:30. Dr. McGinnis will use as his subject, "Rotary Has Grown Up."

Jean P. Booth, superintendent of Kingston city schools, and a past Rotary district governor, will discuss "Rotary in Japan." Booth recently returned from Japan, where he was educational supervisor to teach the Japanese democracy in schools.

Next Wednesday, a series of Rotary sessions will be held during the day by delegates from 39 Rotary clubs in the Eastern Carolina district.

Ditch Caved In; Worker Injured

Henry Barnhill, negro workman for the Greenville Water and Light Plant, was injured around 11:30 this morning when a ditch in which he was working caved in.

The workman was fitting sewer line connections in the alley behind the new Blissett Drug Store construction site on Evans street. He was in the ditch, and nearly covered by the fall of loosened dirt.

Men at the scene immediately started digging him free while additional aid was summoned. In reply to questions, Barnhill said that if he was hurt, he thought his legs were broken. Workers exercised caution in freeing the man and brought him to the surface.

He was placed on a stretcher and taken to Pitt General hospital by the rescue truck. At the hospital it was believed Barnhill was not seriously hurt.

4 Energy and utilities. This means planning to have sufficient supplies of coal, oil, gas and electric power. And it means recommending steps to be taken to be sure we have the necessary supply of utilities. For instance: It might mean gasoline rationing.

5 Economic management. This would include plans for food rationing, price control, rent control, taxes financing the war, and so on.

6 Foreign activities. This covers plans for control over goods that would be shipped out of this country or brought in here. In other words: Import and export controls.

7 Civilian mobilization. This covers civilian defense and requires agreements to be worked out with state and city officials.

8 Transportation. This involves plans for wartime railroad travel and shipping, trucks, and planes, plus sea transport and even storage.

It can be seen from this that the eight offices of the NSRB could be the starting points for wartime agencies such as we had in World War II: A manpower commission, a civil defense agency, a war production board, an OPA.

(Other government agencies dealing in the various fields mentioned above... have plans or ideas that differ a bit from the NSRB's.)

But since the heads of those other agencies—the members of President Truman's cabinet—sit on the NSRB with Symington, NSRB can get the benefit of the varied thinking in the government.

All this means—or it should mean—that if war comes the NSRB ought to be able to lay in President Truman's hands wide plans for turning the home front into a huge war effort.
