

19 Million Population Gain In U. S.

Preliminary Figures Indicate Population Now Over 150 Millions

Washington, July 24—(AP)—The population of the United States has risen almost 19,000,000 in the past 10 years to a 1950 total officially estimated at 153,500,000.

In announcing preliminary figures for both the nation as a whole and for the individual states, the Census Bureau said Saturday night it still must re-check the totals and account for some 700,000 persons who were on the move during this years noon-count.

Most of the transients, it said, were either travelers within the country or seamen in the Merchant Marine.

While the final totals will be ready by next December 1, they will not become known until later that month, when President Truman submits them to Congress. It will be up to the lawmakers to decide then how many House members each state will have on the basis of the new figures.

Reckoned roughly, each congressional district will have 344,000 inhabitants, compared with the 301,000 figure set in 1940, when the nation's population numbered 131,000,000.

California will be the big gainer in the House, although it is not yet certain by how many seats.

A. Ross Eckler, deputy director of the Census Bureau, told reporters in releasing the figures over the weekend that the best rule of thumb for determining the future apportionment of House members lies in a set of figures made public by the House Post Office Committee two years ago.

At that time, California was expected to gain eight representatives, and the following states one each: Florida, Indiana, Michigan, Oregon, Texas and Washington.

New York was slated on the basis of the 1946 estimate to lose three seats, Pennsylvania two, and these states one apiece: Arkansas, Georgia, Illinois, Kentucky, Mississippi, Missouri, North Carolina, Oklahoma and Tennessee.

Parolee Asks To Complete Term

Durham, July 24—(AP)—A young man walked into the office of the 10th judicial district solicitor here today and asked that he be allowed to go back to prison and serve the eight or nine years remaining of his term at the time he was paroled last year.

He said he had served 11 years of a sentence for murder and was paroled on provision that he find a job and remain gainfully employed. He said he had tried to locate employment, but had been unable to do so and for that reason wanted to go back to prison and complete his term.

Security Group To Hear Report

Lake Success, July 24—(AP)—The United States today requested a meeting of the U. N. Security Council tomorrow to hear the first report of Gen. Douglas MacArthur on the Korean situation.

The meeting was asked for 2 p. m. Eastern Standard Time.

The U. N. announced receipt of a telegram from Thailand offering a combat team of 4,000 men and officers for the fighting against North Korea. The Netherlands sent word that because of "practical difficulties" it would be unable to contribute any ground forces.

Home-Buying Veterans

How The Veteran Is Affected By President Truman's Action To Tighten Up Its Help To Home-Buyers; Slight Changes Instituted By Veterans Administration

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, July 24—(AP)—The War Veteran will now get just a little less help from the Veterans Administration in buying a home.

This is the result of President Truman's order last week to government agencies to tighten up a bit in their help to home buyers.

If the veteran needs money to buy a home, he borrows from a bank or some other private lender.

Until last week it was all right with VA if the lender didn't require any down payment at all.

VA would go ahead and guarantee the bank against loss on the loan up to 60 per cent of it, or a total of $7,500.

Actually, in most cases, some down payment was required by the lender. But, starting last week, VA made a slight change in this.

Now—in some cases—the veterans must make a down payment of at least 5 per cent of the cost of the home before VA guarantees the loan.

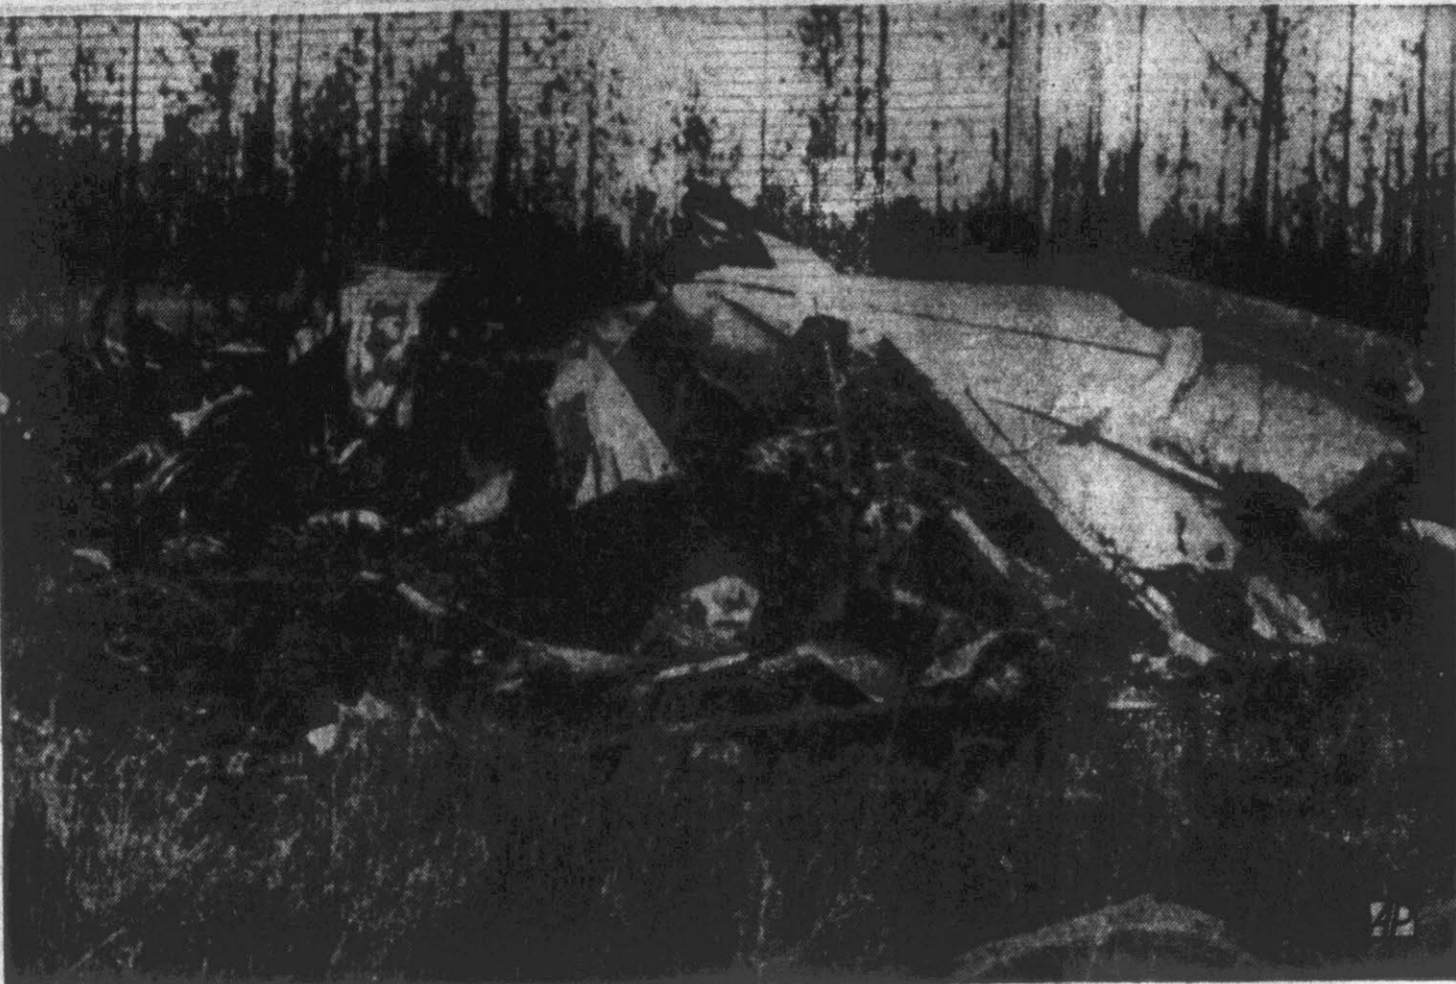

But—in other cases—the veteran still doesn't have to make a down payment if the lender doesn't require it and VA will still guarantee it.

When does he have to make the minimum down payment of 5 per cent, and when doesn't he?

He does not when he borrows from a "supervised" lender. That is, a bank or other institution which is subject to state or federal supervision, such as auditing.

But—if he borrows from a non-supervised lender, then the veteran must make the minimum down-payment of 5 per cent.

Wreckage Of Plane Which Killed 33 Airmen In Crash

This is all that remains of a C-46 transport plane which crashed and burned killing at least 33, and perhaps 34 men near Myrtle Beach, S. C., Sunday. The transport was carrying 30 Tennessee Air National Guardsmen back to Nashville after they had completed training maneuvers at the South Carolina Coastal resort city. The crew of three, possibly four, air force reservists was from Miami. The towering, gasoline-fed flames kept rescuers at a distance while they helplessly watched the cremation of those aboard. ## Mounting Red Attacks Beaten Back By U. S. And South Korean Fighters

Communist Column Drives Southward On West Coast; Repulsed In Other Assaults

Tokyo, Tuesday, JULY 25—(AP)—Hard-charging North Korean Reds attacked Monday and Monday night all along a twisted 150-mile front nearly the breadth of Korea, but "continued to be repulsed" by American and South Korean defenders, General MacArthur's headquarters reported today.

The latest assault described in detail by MacArthur was made by eight tanks with infantrymen on first cavalry division positions near Yongsong Monday night.

The headquarters announced said the Red infantry was hurled back and three of the tanks were knocked out by 3.5-inch bazookas. American tank-killing teams were hunting the other five in the darkness.

Field dispatches confirmed the Red drive against the first cavalry and also reported another separate push by the Communist second infantry division along back roads in the mountains northeast of Yongsong.

Roving tank-infantry teams of the invaders slithered along the west coast as far south as the port of Mokpo, near the southwest tip of Korea. MacArthur's announcement said these Reds were opposed only by the South Korean police but secret measures were being taken to eliminate the broad flanking threat.

Dispatches from the front line Monday night said Red Russia mounted steadily all day against American lines astride the Taejon-Yongsong highway, while 20 to 30 northeast another drive was in progress, pronging out along three roads.

On the Yongsong front, AP correspondent Hal Boyle reported Red infantry at one time got behind advanced American positions and threw up a mortar-backed road block.

This serious threat was cleaned out in two hours with the aid of American tanks and artillery, Boyle reported.

"We didn't fool with it; we sent the tanks to clean it up," he quoted an artillery commander. (This was one of the few references made to American tanks.)

Boyle added, however, that the North Korean frontal pressure with steady artillery and mortar firing all Monday afternoon.

North and northeast of Yongsong a force identified as the North Korean second infantry division pushed its three-pronged attack on other American positions.

One second-division column reached Poun, 22 miles north of Yongsong and 35 miles northwest of the rail-highway hub of Kumchon.

American planes and ground troops were credited with knocking out five of the eight tanks leading about 700 infantrymen near Poun.

The two other columns of the Red second division were reported 15 miles and 20 miles northeast of Poun on two rugged mountain trails that wind southward west of the town of Hamchang.

General MacArthur's press release early Tuesday also a south Korean division withdrew from Yongsong 30 miles farther northeast of Hamchang—"to more tenable positions" two miles south of Yongsong. MacArthur's release outlined the front as running generally from west to east as follows:

Emergency Tax Hike Talked By President

Truman And Congressional Leaders Discuss Advisability Of Immediate Tax Boost On Individuals And Firms

Washington, July 24—(AP)—President Truman discussed with congressional leaders today the advisability of an immediate emergency tax increase on both individual incomes and business firms.

House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) told reporters after the White House conference that "there was still in any way, a possibility of a bill, possibly including an excess profits tax, is likely to be taken up later in the year or early next year, Rayburn said.

Rayburn said the idea of an immediate, emergency tax rise would be discussed by Secretary of the Treasury Snyder and the chairmen of the appropriate senate and house committees in the near future.

He said such "interim" legislation, as he called it, would be in "mediate slack" in government financing arising from the proposed huge increase in military spending.

Rayburn mentioned no figure in talking of the possible emergency bill.

At the capitol, hearings began on the administration's general home front economic program.

Senate Banking committee chairman Symington described this program as aimed to "take the profiteering out of war."

Symington is chairman of the National Security Resources Board which has the job of planning for production, home front controls and civil defense in event of war.

The administration's five-point control bill does not involve retail price controls at the civilian level, or controls over manpower.

But Symington told senators these things are under consideration and may be asked later if needed.

Russia Navy Day Brings Call For Stronger Fleet

Moscow, July 24—(AP)—Russia observed Navy Day yesterday with calls for a strengthened Soviet fleet to counter war preparations by "American and English imperialists."

Workers in the shipbuilding industry, said the Communist Party newspaper Pravda, are putting forth all efforts to "build more quickly and better new ships" to furnish the fleet with "battle power."

U. S. Navy estimates of Russia's submarine fleet have ranged as high as 350 vessels. Early in May Adm. Forrest P. Sherman, chief of U. S. naval operations, said Russia has nearly twice as many men and officers in her navy as the United States, and more cruisers in actual operation than the United States.

Hint U. S. Won't Interfere In Red Island Invasion

Washington, July 24—(AP)—The State Department indicated today that the United States won't interfere if the Communists try to invade the Chinese Nationalist-held island of Quemoy near the China mainland.

An official said President Truman's ban on fighting between the Nationalist and China Communists applies to Formosa and the nearby Pescadore Islands.

Quemoy is more than 100 miles from Formosa and is close to the China mainland city of Amoy. It has been hammered recently by Communist shore batteries and there are reported signs that an attempted invasion may be in the making.

Atlantic Powers Confer Tuesday On Defense Plan

Urgency Stressed; Council To Prepare Program Of Partial Mobilization

London, July 24—(AP)—The 12 Atlantic pact nations—spurred by the crisis in Korea—get to work tomorrow on a five-point program aimed at bolstering their defenses against communism in the west.

The urgent need for quick action was stressed by America's Charles M. Spofford, who is expected to serve as permanent chairman of the new Atlantic Pact Council, a sort of civilian high command.

Spofford, who flew here from Washington for the council's first meeting tomorrow, told reporters: "The mission of the council meeting will be to speed the North Atlantic defense program along the lines of the President's message regarding the urgency of North Atlantic defense at the present time."

The council, created last May by the foreign ministers of the 12 pact nations at their London meeting, has the following tasks:

1. To create a balanced collective force based in Europe, with each country specializing in particular types of forces so as to prevent costly duplications.

2. To set up mobile reserve forces which can be dispatched to any trouble spot in the West's defense chain.

3. Partial mobilization of industry for war production.

4. To lay down a master plan of rearmament fitted to the strategic defense plan outlined by the Chiefs of Staff.

5. To see that the pact partners carry out their assignments after they have accepted them.

Meeting with Spofford on the council will be deputies of the foreign ministers of the 11 other pact nations—Britain, France, Italy, Holland, Belgium, Luxembourg, Portugal, Norway, Denmark, Iceland and Canada.

Spofford is said to have instructions from Washington to urge the other pact members to pay out more for defense needs. Reports from the U. S. capital say President Truman is prepared to ask Congress for a new $5,000,000,000 arms aid program for Western Europe.

Some Atlantic pact members, torn between a desire for security and the need for patching up their torn economies, are reported unwilling to shoulder any heavier military burdens at this point.

The nations of Western Europe are militarily far weaker today than when they fell before Hitler's armies.

Washington, July 24—(AP)—W. Stuart Symington said today that federal plans for civilian defense against possible atomic bomb attacks will be ready about Sept. 1 and will be sent to Governors of the states.

Board Refuses Parole For J. Parnell Thomas

Washington, July 24—(AP)—The U. S. Parole Board today refused to parole former Representative J. Parnell Thomas (R-NJ) who is serving six to 18 months on conviction of padding his congressional pay roll.

As usual, the board gave no reason when announcing it had rejected Thomas' parole application. He is serving his sentence in the Danbury (Conn.) federal correctional institution.

Members noted, however, in response to inquiries, that in addition to his prison term, Thomas was also fined $10,000 and that no arrangements for paying this have been made.

The former congressman made a direct appeal to President Truman several weeks ago for a presidential pardon which would cancel the remainder of his sentence and also delete the fine.

The President referred the appeal to the Justice Department.

Thomas, one-time chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee, was convicted here late last year on charges of presenting false claims against the government.

The government charged that he had padded his congressional office payroll and arranged for "kickbacks" from that payroll.

FBI Is Alerted

Washington, July 24—(AP)—President Truman today ordered the Federal Bureau of Investigation to tighten its enforcement program against "espionage, sabotage and subversive activities." He called on citizens to give the FBI all possible help.

In a statement, Mr. Truman said he has asked all law officers, both federal and state, to report information on spying, sabotage and subversion to the FBI where it can be " sifted out and correlated."

He added: "I suggest that all patriotic organizations and individuals likewise report all such information relating to espionage, sabotage and subversive activities to the Federal Bureau of Investigation in this same manner."

Any information which is picked up should be reported promptly to the nearest FBI field representative, the President said.

Reveals Move In Pitt Principals

L. V. Godwin To Assume Grimesland School Office

The appointment of one new principal and the transfer of another among county schools was announced this morning by Superintendent D. H. Conley.

L. V. Godwin, former supervisor of high schools in the county, will assume the office of principal of Grimesland high school. Godwin will replace J. I. Cashwell who recently resigned to become principal of the Albemarle high school.

O. H. Forrest, formerly the principal of Falcious high school, will replace Felle Hodges at Belyvo as principal. Forrest has been principal at Falcious for the past three years. The transfer of Forrest leaves the Falcious position open, Conley said. The Board of Education is now interviewing applicants for the job.

Hodges left Belyvo recently to take over the principal's duties at Chocod. Conley expects those positions to be filled shortly.

Most all of the county school teaching positions are filled. Only two are open, the first grade at Stokes and the third grade at Chocod. Conley expects those positions to be filled shortly.

Some Atlantic pact members, torn between a desire for security and the need for patching up their torn economies, are reported unwilling to shoulder any heavier military burdens at this point.

The nations of Western Europe are militarily far weaker today than when they fell before Hitler's armies.

READY BY SEPTEMBER
Washington, July 24—(AP)—W. Stuart Symington said today that federal plans for civilian defense against possible atomic bomb attacks will be ready about Sept. 1 and will be sent to Governors of the states.

He entered Danbury last December 9 and became eligible for parole on June 8, 1950. His term would normally run to June 8, 1951, but with good behavior allowances, he could go free next February 20, if there is no parole on pardon action before that time.

Members of the Georgia-Florida Tobacco Warehouse Association, however, voted to keep some markets open after August 18, if necessary, to insure adequate and orderly marketing.

Most loan rates of the Commodity Credit Corporation are higher than for last year, increases ranging from $1 to $6 per hundred pounds. The grade price loan rates average $45 per hundred, which is 90 per cent of the June 15 parity price, and $2.30 above the average for last year.

For untied tobacco, the loan rate is $4 per hundred below the rate for tied tobacco of the same grade. Georgia and Florida tobacco is marketed untied. This year the rates for untied offerings range from $6 for best nondescript up to $36 for choice lemon wrappers. Most noticeable changes are the $4 and $5 increases made for low to good lemon and orange leaf.

Well, now, anybody can see with half an eye that another world war could grow out of such a situation. But it hasn't grown out of the North Korean aggression as yet, and North Korea is a Red stooge.

The way things look now, any Balkan aggression would likely be after the style of the Korean assault. It would be another step in the general Bolshevik program of whitening the United States and her allies down militarily and economically by making them fight costly engagements in widely separated theaters.

Judging from past performances Russia would duplicate her Korean performance in any Balkan upheaval. She would set the stage, equip her satellites militarily, and then push Bulgaria into the fray as the champion of communism. Moscow herself would keep clear of the shooting. She wouldn't be the aggressor—not she.

The Balkan Tinderbox

Would Communist Action, Involving Greece, Inevitably Lead To World War III? Truman's Warning; Moscow Avoids Direct Conflict But Weakening Our Power

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

The danger of Communist action in the Balkans, involving Greece, naturally leads to the uncomfortable question of whether such a development would inevitably lead to World War III.

That's a reasonable query in view of the general warning given by President Truman in his message to Congress last Wednesday. In studied, plain language, he declared:

"I shall not attempt to predict the course of events. But I am sure that those who have it in their power to unleash or withhold acts of aggression must realize that new recourse to aggression in the world today might well strain to the breaking point the fabric of world peace."

What could be clearer than that? Such aggression could lead to a world war. However, the President didn't say it inevitably would lead to another general conflagration, and I don't believe he intended to convey any such ultimatum. Surely such a sweeping commitment must depend on developments.

One certainty is that we are committed to defend Greece against Red aggression. That much is inevitable. But who can foresee where the Greek upheaval might lead? It is possible that it might be confined to the Balkans. Probably that would depend on what sort of game Moscow played.

Judging from past performances Russia would duplicate her Korean performance in any Balkan upheaval. She would set the stage, equip her satellites militarily, and then push Bulgaria into the fray as the champion of communism. Moscow herself would keep clear of the shooting. She wouldn't be the aggressor—not she.

Women In The Church

Toward the rebuilding of the Hokuriku Jo Gakko Christian Girls school, at Kanazawa, Japan, the women of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A. are contributing $20,000; the remainder is being raised locally by the school. When the cornerstone of the new chapel takes place, the names of all donors will be placed within it on a "Friendship Scroll." A new main building is also being erected, and the school will be on a full senior high program. The institution was almost completely destroyed during the war.

She has been working with Dr. Frank C. Laubach, missionary literacy expert, and with Liberia's Secretary of Public Instruction, in producing the materials for teaching by the phonetic-picture method and in enlisting thousands of literate citizens to volunteer to "each one teach one."

Missing General Said Not Injured

An Advanced American Command Post in Korea, July 24—(AP)—Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, the fighting commander of the fighting 24th division, escaped burning Taejon Thursday night after personally leading a bitter street-by-street battle against tank-led North Korean hordes.

But the general stayed behind in the mountains—now enemy territory—to round up American stragglers. When last reported early Friday morning, Dean had not been wounded although others in his party were hit in a running fight out of Taejon. The account came from an aide, Lt. Arthur Clarke of Boone, Iowa. Clarke led a dozen men from Dean's party into American lines at noon Sunday.

(Earlier, the Army had listed the 50-year-old Dean as missing in action. A report to General MacArthur's headquarters by Col. Jimmie Kim, Dean's interpreter, said the general had been wounded. Kim, hit by a machinegun bullet in the flight from Taejon, dropped out because he could not keep up with the party. He later made his way to safety.)

(There appeared to be some confusion in the two stories. Clarke's

Plea For Phone Rate Hike Has Public Hearing

Raleigh, July 24—(AP)—Southern Bell Telephone Company's request to increase its phone bills in 64 North Carolina counties was slated for a public hearing today.

The company, in its application to the State Utilities Commission, declared its phone bills must yield an additional $27,000 yearly because of rising costs.

The increase is the fourth sought by the company in four years and would raise the bills of its customers an average of 12 per cent.

Southern Bell said it is leaving to the commission the job of determining what rates, if any, will be revised.

Greenville Girl In One Of Eight To Attend European Conference

Winston Salem. — Miss Peggy Mitchell of Greenville, a graduate student at Bowman Gray Medical School, will be one of the eight people from Bowman Gray who will attend international conferences in Europe this summer.

She will accompany Dr. Marjorie Swanson.

When Dr. Swanson disembarks from the liner Gripsholm in Göteborg, Sweden, this month, she will be in the city of her mother's birth with a strong chance of running into some of her distant relatives.

Dr. Swanson, assistant professor of biochemistry, is one of eight people from Bowman Gray School of Medicine who will be attending international congresses abroad this summer.

The biochemistry professor is one of two faculty members from the school who will present papers at international meetings. Her paper on

"Phosphatases of the Liver" won her a $500 travel award from the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology and will be presented at the eighteenth International Physiological Congress in Copenhagen, Denmark, in August.

Dr. Swanson has been doing research with radioactive substances for some time with Dr. Camillo Artoni, one of the first scientists in this country to experiment with them.

She says she will present her paper in English and does not know just what arrangements have been made for translating the work of the congress for the many different nationalities who will be represented there. She and Miss Mitchell plan to visit Switzerland, Paris, Italy and England during the six weeks they are abroad.

Dr. Robert B. Lawson, professor of pediatrics, will present a paper at another international meeting—the International Congress on Pediatrics at Zurich, Switzerland, July 24 to 28. His subject will be "Coxsackie Virus." He and Mrs. Lawson left Sunday and will sail on the Mauretania.

Once in Europe, members of the pediatrics department will stage something of a reunion, too, for three other department members will be there—Dr. LeRoy Butler, professor; Dr. Katherine Anderson, assistant professor; and Dr. Elizabeth Conrad, instructor in pediatrics.

Dr. Lucile Hutaff, director of the clinical laboratory and hematology, will accompany Drs. Anderson and Conrad. Her main objective will be the International Hematology Congress in London in August.

Dr. C. C. Carpenter, dean of the medical school and Mrs. Carpenter left in June for the meeting of the International Congress on Cancer which was held in Paris and they plan to see other members of the staff also at the pediatrics meeting in Zurich.

All in all, Bowman Gray School will be well represented among the world's leading doctors and scientists who are converging on various European cities this summer and are adding to the great 1950 exodus of foreign-bound Americans.

Republicans Map Further Attack

Washington, July 24 — (AP) — Senate Republicans wound up today for still another blast at a Democratic report condemning Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) and his charges of Communism in the State Department.

In the lead-off position was Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) He told a reporter he would argue in a Senate speech—as other Republicans have—that the Democrats on a Foreign Relations subcommittee actually conducted no real investigation of the McCarthy charges.

"There was no justification at all for calling the accusations a fraud and a hoax," Ferguson declared.

Other GOP senators said they understood Ferguson had obtained some significant material to back up his viewpoint.

Lined up behind Ferguson with another speech was McCarthy himself. The Wisconsin senator already has denounced the Democratic report in statements from his office, but he did not join in last week's bitter Senate debate on the document.

"I am not going to make a full-dress reply at this time," McCarthy said. "That will come later in a report I am preparing."

"But I am going to have a few interesting things today which I think will serve to call the bluff of the Democrats on the committee."

Two-Stage Rocket Fired In Horizontal Launching

Long Range Proving Ground, Cocoa, Fla., July 24—(AP)—A two-stage "bumper" rocket thundered into the air at 9:29 a.m. (EST) today in the first horizontal test firing.

It was a preview of "push button" warfare, and the first successful rocket launching from this Florida proving ground for guided missiles.

The firing was originally scheduled for 8 a.m., but was postponed because of technical difficulties.

An attempted test firing of a similar two-stage rocket fizzled last Wednesday.

There was no immediate report on how the giant rocket behaved. Officials at the public information office said simply that the test was successful.

Before the test officials described the expected performance this way:

The main part of the missile, a captured German V-2 rocket, used 10 tons of fuel in approximately one minute. It was fired vertically but shortly after the takeoff a gyroscopic steering device turned it to go horizontally.

By the time the main part of the missile was spent, a 70-pound rocket known as a WAC Corporal, riding on its nose, took off. The V-2 came down at sea and the WAC Corporal continued the flight.

The WAC Corporal is a scientific missile rather than a military weapon. Experts said it may go as far as 250 miles.

President Joins In Tribute To Former Premier

Ottawa, July 24 —(AP)— The world's great joined Canadians today in paying tribute to former Prime Minister William Lyon Mackenzie King, a senior statesman of the British Commonwealth who died Saturday night of pneumonia.

He will be given a state funeral Wednesday. For the 24 hours preceding the body will rest in state in Canada's parliament.

Funeral services will be held in King's church at Ottawa. St. Andrew's Presbyterian. Burial will be in Toronto's Mt. Pleasant Cemetery, beside his father, mother and brother.

Prime Minister from December, 1921, to November, 1948, the 75-year-old King had the British Commonwealth's longest tenure as a chief of state.

In King, said President Truman,

"freedom loving peoples and democratic institutions found an unwavering champion." His death, he added, "will bring sorrow to his legion of friends in the United States among whom I was privileged to be numbered."

The former prime minister, who had resigned on Nov. 15, 1948, died at his summer home in the Catnap Hill, 20 miles north of Ottawa. He had never quite recovered from a circulatory ailment which developed in Paris in September 1948. He lapsed into unconsciousness Saturday afternoon and died within a few hours without awakening.

A bachelor, he had few relatives.

Urges Tax Hike Effective 'Now'

Washington, July 24—(AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) says the nation must remain partially mobilized for the next 10 or 15 years and we should boost taxes now to pay the costs currently.

Taft called for new taxes on everybody immediately to meet what he estimated may be between $10,000,000,000 and $20,000,000,000 added annual defense costs.

The new taxes also will drain off excess buying power, Taft said in a broadcast with other lawmakers yesterday.

News Behind The News
 By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, July 24—By importing goods, we export jobs!

With that bread-and-butter warning, the representatives of a score of key American industries have launched a concerted campaign to reduce the amount of low-cost foreign competition under the Truman Administration's program of internationalizing trade for the benefit of our military and economic allies overseas.

This latest movement against progressive lowering of tariff walls has several new angles. As the slogan quoted above suggests, it highlights a plan to impress millions of employees of threatened industries that they have a dollars-and-cents stake in this problem.

Labor unions have responded by adopting resolutions against further tariff reductions, including organizations extremely friendly to the White House on other questions.

The Korean difficulties have furnished the pro-tariff group with a timely argument for presentation to the Committee on Reciprocity Information at Washington. This inter-departmental body has been holding almost continuous hearings on the effect of proposed tariff cuts on 2,500 items to be considered at a world conference at Torquay, England, in September.

CONVERTED—Almost every plant affected by increasingly heavy imports converted from peacetime to war output during the recent conflict. In all Pentagon plans, they are listed as defense production units in the event of a World War III.

But their spokesmen point out that they cannot fulfill these emergency responsibilities if they are weakened by adverse policies sponsored by the State Department.

They echo the repeated statement of General Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, "that the United States cannot be strong militarily, unless it is strong economically."

Indeed, there is a possibility that the danger of an all-out war may lead to deferment of the Torquay conference. If plans here and abroad have to be placed on a war-time footing, such questions as increasing world trade and closing the dollar gap through tariff reductions will become utterly academic. There just won't be any normal commerce.

PLAN—The new scheme for dramatizing the low-tariff threat to employment and national security got its inspiration for a movement known as "the Lawrence plan," which started in the Massachusetts city of that name, where foreign competition had hurt badly. Industrialists everywhere have studied that experiment in bringing this problem down to a "backyard level."

The basic idea is for each individual firm to impress on its workers that their jobs are related intimately to the total of competing imports. Charts showing the actual displacement of men and women in their factories and shops have been found extremely effective.

They make clear that world trade is not a remote and academic subject, to be handled only by economists and diplomats sitting behind the scenes at Washington, London, Torquay, Geneva or Havana.

HURT—Union leaders have joined with management only too gladly. Their spokesmen have testified before Congressional committees that foreign goods are "beginning to hurt employment very much." Recent regional conventions have protested formally against any further tariff cuts or other commercial favors to competitors abroad.

At Lawrence, the movement has not been confined to management, labor and the individual workers. Through newspapers and other media, the same warnings have been impressed on the merchants, service trades, the banks, the utilities, professional men, the municipal authorities—indeed, on all whose economic status depends upon factory pay rolls and allied sources of income.

TARGETS—The sponsors of this campaign insist that they are not "economic isolationists." They believe in world trade grounded on a logical basis, pointing out that there are many non-competitive articles which the United States can buy. But they do oppose a general invitation to low-cost competitors to flood our markets.

Although the immediate objective is to build a backyard backfire against prospective tariff cuts at the Torquay Conference, industry and labor want a new deal all-around in this field.

Their long-range targets are the Reciprocal Trade Agreement Act, which expires next June, and the ITO Charter. They want these repealed or revised so as to give more protection to the home team.

DISMAL—Henry A. Wallace will find no welcome sign for him over the door of National Democratic Headquarters, despite his support of President Truman's fighting policy in Korea. Mr. Truman and National Chairman Boyle are agreed that the Iowan's earlier, pro-Russian sympathies make him no asset to anybody.

Political mathematics is another explanation for their attitude. If Henry had rolled up a predicted five or eight million votes in 1948, a red mat and canopy would have been prepared outside headquarters for his return.

But he made such a dismal showing at the ballot-box that, in the Truman-Boyle books, the only vote he can control or influence is his own.

INDUSTRIAL NEWS REVIEW

Competition Turns The Trick
 Modern retailing operates on a very low overhead—and an almost unbelievably low margin of profit.

One large food chain provides an excellent example. Less than 14 cents out of each-dollar spent with it is used to carry on operations—to pay wages, rents, taxes, advertising, and all other overhead costs including a profit.

That profit, last year, came to just 1-1/3 cents per dollar of food sales. In other words, it amounted to only a trifle more than one per cent of the money the customers spent across the counters.

Not all stores can operate on so modest a margin. Those which carry luxury items, which are affected by style and seasonal trends, or which provide special services such as charge accounts and deliveries, must, obviously, have a higher profit if they are to keep out of the red. But all stores, with few exceptions, earn only a reasonable profit, and sell their wares at as low a price as possible.

Competition, which exists in its true form only under the free enterprise system, is the staunchest protector the consumer has against exploitation.

Around Capitol Square

Daily Reflector Bureau

By LYNN NISBET

Raleigh, N. C.

SAMARCAND—The advisory budget commission found at the state training school for girls here some things which greatly pleased them and some others which made them "see red." The institution, the state's oldest in the field of social service to delinquents, is efficiently operated by Miss Reva Mitchell under direction of the State Board of Corrections and Training. The 130 girls here now constitute a below average population. Normally it is around 175. The population was deliberately reduced ahead of the anticipated building program this summer. The building hasn't started and there is some indication it may not for a good while yet. That gets back to what the budgeters did not like about the situation.

WASTE—The whole campus has been replanned for the million dollar permanent improvement projects authorized by recent legislature. Three of four wooden buildings, in excellent condition, have been marked for demolition—because they were condemned by the state insurance department. The state fire marshal disapproved them for housing students on the second floor of a non-fireproof building. One of the dormitories had a new roof less than five years ago and budgeters pointed out that these quarters are more comfortable and safer than most homes in the state. The new plans also call for abandoning the cottage idea of housekeeping, providing a central dining hall. According to school authorities that step was necessary by reason of requirements of the state board of health. The cottage system affords excellent training for the girls and has been a part of the courses offered. The budget folks thought these new plans involve unnecessary waste and arrangements have been made for a conference among members of the budget commission, the insurance and health departments and the board of trustees of the school. At several other places the budget people have found plans for tearing down buildings apparently well worth saving, but the Samarcond incident is most striking.

GIRLS—The institution takes girls ranging from ten to 18 years of age on commitments by juvenile, county or superior courts. Average age is fifteen, and average stay is about 18 months before they are paroled back to care of their local county welfare department. Contrary to popular opinion, only a small part of the commitments are for sex delinquency, although not so many years ago 85 percent or more of them had venereal disease when committed. Only one positive case is now on the campus. Most of the girls come from towns and cities, very few from the country, and more than 90 percent come out of broken homes.

MORRISON—A recent fire saved the budget commission from having to make a difficult decision at Morrison Training School for Negro boys near Hoffman. There had been question about wisdom of renovating the administration building, or constructing a new one. Two weeks ago the building burned completely—and a new one will be built. Heaviest lick yet hit the state insurance account, the approximate $100,000 to be received from the fund will be just about half enough for the proposed new building. The budget group voted to ask the governor and council of state to provide the rest out of contingency and emergency funds. Incidentally, all six members of the advisory budget commission, together with Assistant Director Dave Coltrane and Engineer Frank Turner made the visit to Morrison. School folks said it was the first time in history the full group had made the biennial visitation.

BOYS—The school here, also under the state board of correction and training, with P. R. Brown as superintendent, takes colored boys from 10 to 18. Presently there are 208, almost meeting full capacity of 210. Again it was found that 85 percent or more of the commitments are from towns and cities. Chief explanation of preponderance of city delinquents is given by the school authorities as that country children always have something to do, town youngsters are often idle and without playgrounds.

PHYSICAL—Needs of the physical plant will have been pretty well met at Morrison when planned buildings are completed. Because of the delay in getting started, while waiting to try to save the wooden structures at Samarcond, no start has been made there. A new administration building is badly needed, combination of originally cheap construction, time and termite have just about put the main building out of commission. New laundry equipment and housing are in the long range planning. Most immediate need is for dormitories. If the present frame buildings are continued in use they need repairing right away. Farming operations are carried on at both institutions, both as a source of food supply and as part of the training program for the students. Milk is an important item, and the Samarcond herd of Ayrshires rates high.

ARTS—The Negro boys do a great deal of farm work, while the girls at Samarcond devote most of their time to inside arts and crafts. Sewing classes, weaving, rug-making, and similar activities keep the girls employed. From time to time the work shop manager sells handbags, rugs, and similar items, using proceeds to purchase more material for further work. The budget group found itself stuck for about ten dollars worth of small items.

What Other Papers Are Thinking

THE RETURN OF LEOPOLD

(New York Times)

As expected, King Leopold of the Belgians is to return to the throne that he was declared unable to occupy in 1945. The Belgian Parliament voted yesterday to end the Regency of Leopold's brother, Prince Charles. The King has been called back by one party—the Social Christians—and one region of his country, Flanders. Socialists, Liberals and Communists walked out grimly before the vote yesterday, which is a bad portent for the immediate future. Former Premier Spaak, the Socialist leader, called the vote "one of the gravest and most disastrous decisions of our history."

That it is grave cannot be denied, but outsiders must hope that it will not prove disastrous. The insistence of the King on returning to his throne has been widely deplored, since he was clearly splitting his country in two. There could be no pretense that he and the monarchy could remain above party strife or could become a symbol of national unity. That is why other nations have been so concerned about the issue. Leopold's behavior at the time of the surrender to the Germans and during his captivity, and his marriage to Mile. Baels were issues that the Belgians alone had a right to judge. The world's interest (aside from watching a poignant drama) was in seeing Belgium strong, united and peaceful. She is none of those things now. A new wave of strikes and demonstration is to be expected. There is such bitterness and political strife as Belgium has not seen in many years.

All that can be hoped is that the King will now show a degree of wisdom and understanding that will gradually win over his opponents. It would surely help if he carried out quickly the offer he made after the March referendum and delegate his powers to his son, Prince Baudouin, as Lieutenant-General. The monarchy as an institution is not yet in jeopardy; it could become so if King Leopold does not soon win the allegiance of all the Belgians.

The question royals may be said to have begun in May, 1940, when the King rejected his Ministers' unanimous advice to go into exile with them and continue the fight on the side of the Allies. Despite yesterday's vote, the "royal question" is still acute.

CONSERVING MARRIAGE
 (Kinston Daily Free Press)
 Samuel M. Starr, a divorce attorney in Chicago, Ill., is the founder of a new agency called Divorces Anonymous, which is devoted to the sole objective of trying to salvage broken marriages.

It came about by accident. While a couple seeking a divorce engaged in a bitter wrangle in his busy office and other clients waited, Starr suggested a young divorcee who was waiting to see him talk to the young couple and get them quiet until he could find time to talk to them.

The result was most unexpected. The divorcee's experience was such that it made the couple realize their mistake and they decided to patch up their troubles and go home. Starr formed an agency of 100 ex-mates who agreed to help couples find a way to salvage their marriages. Each of these divorced persons has one thing in common: She knows first hand the loneliness, frustration, the social and economic displacement that follows divorce, and has frequently found these conditions worse than the problems which broke up their homes.

When a woman seeks divorce advice from Starr he first asks her if she wants to save her marriage and if she does, he introduces her to one of the DA members having a similar personality and a similar domestic problem as the one she confronts. The woman becomes the "woman's sponsor" and not only points out the disadvantages of divorce, but offers constructive help to save the marriage. Starr says "the other women" money and liquor are the chief causes of divorce. He has assisted many in saving their marriages in Chicago and elsewhere. He has been consulted by ministers, divorcees and lawyers from other cities in an effort to spread the idea of Divorces Anonymous to other areas.

Attorney Starr has inaugurated a movement which could well spread with great benefit wherever the threat of divorce hovers over the American home.

Business Today

In all this heat, business is preparing for Christmas; toy industry in peak production, new holiday items made.

By ELMER ROESSNER
 While some business men are planning what to do in face of the rearmament program, others are making plans for Christmas.

That's right. Some of the most important planning for the snowy holidays is traditionally made on the hottest days of the year.

The toy industry is now going into peak production. War or no war, the toy industry is expecting a new high in sales this year. One of the principal reasons is that the big post-war crop of babies—that is, the 1947-48 bumper production—is now growing from the infant to the toddler stage.

One of the larger companies, Ideal Novelty and Toy Co., New York, reports that orders today are 167 per cent ahead of last year. This company, which ordinarily begins hiring in July is now in full production and about to add extra shifts to its Hollis, N. Y., toy plant and its Brooklyn rubber subsidiary.

In other businesses dependent on the holiday trade, new products are being introduced to the trade and production is being stepped up. One company is introducing smiling, three-dimensional faces of Santa Claus, for hanging on front doors during the holidays. Another has announced a new Christmas mantel, looking very much like the real thing. New multi-colored Christmas tree lights are being manufactured now for December sale.

Non-holiday winter products are also being developed and put into production—such as an electric device to keep roof and eaves from icing up, and new model space heaters. There is special attention to coal-burners again, because many prospects are remembering how hard fuel oil was to come by during the last year.

BOARDING WORRIES

MANY RETAILERS
 Most retailers are sincere in their efforts to discourage hoarding. They figure most hoarders are dipping into savings and extending credit to buy, and that they will have less to spend for fall, winter and Christmas goods. One retailer says, "I'm being robbed of future sales."

One store debated a week over an ad assuring customers that there were no shortages. Some executives felt that any mention of shortages, no matter how assuring, would inflame a rash on goods. The store, Abraham & Straus, Brooklyn, finally decided people read newspaper ads intelligently and advertised "Keep your shirt on." One paragraph: "Sheets and nylons and tires are in abundance."

NEW AND HOT

Tray: For attaching to the leg of a baby's bath is a new tray with sufficient space for bathing accessories and a washable vinylite bag for soiled clothing. It's by Trimble, Inc., Wren St., Rochester, N. Y.

Dust-Layer: A wetting agent, Santomer No. 1, by Monsanto Chemical Co., St. Louis 4, helps lay the dust on auto race tracks. A small amount makes sprinkling water "wetter" and better able to penetrate and moisten dust particles.

Zippers: Anodizing, which has brought gay colors to aluminum tumblers, is now being used to produce colored slide fasteners, by Segalock Fastener Co., 385 Broadway, New York. More durable colors are claimed.

There are no shortages anywhere as far as A&S knows—and one of America's retail giants, we are in a position to know.

Folly of sugar hoarding is pointed up by United States Wholesale Grocers Association figures, which show there are "hundreds of thousands of tons of raw sugar in Cuba looking for a market," in addition to a 125,000-ton surplus in Hawaii (a 140,000-ton surplus in Puerto Rico, a domestic beet sugar crop of 1,900,000 tons and a mainland cane crop of 175,000 tons due this fall.

The Mayonnaise and Salad Dressing Manufacturers Association, in a guardedly worded bulletin to members, says, "We would make sure that sales are being recorded which reflected a price under which we would be willing to sell our merchandise in the event of another (price) freeze."

COMPLAINTS PLACE HIGH VALUE ON EXECUTIVES

An executive is a precious thing, judging from a survey of 230 manufacturing companies surveyed by the National Industrial Conference Board.

While only 20 per cent insure themselves against the loss of executives by death, the principal reason given was that money itself could not replace the men. Trained understrides were better, they found.

Those who based the amount of insurance on the executive's salary placed good value on their men. Amounts ranged from one and a half to five times the annual salaries. An auto manufacturer reported carrying a $300,000 policy on a key man during the development of a new process.

Nearly a third of the companies limit the number of executives who may travel on the same plane. On the other hand, some companies encourage group travel, believing executives get a chance to confer without telephone interruptions.

Hal Boyle's Column

By GEORGE CORNELL

Associated Press Staff Writer

(For Hal Boyle)

New York, July 24—(AP)—The letter came from the home town. "The time has come," it said, "for you to do what you said you would do."

That is: get out of New York City.

New York is not home to a lot of people that live here, and the kink back home these days are remembering old conversations that went something like this:

Big-city career kid—"You're absolutely right, Pop. New York City would be the first place they'd hit. If the world ever started throwing these atom bombs around."

Pop—"Seems to me it's not a very safe place to be."

Career kid—"Well, it's nothing to worry about now. But if things ever begin to get hot, I wouldn't stay there on a bet."

Now it looks to Pop as if things were beginning to get hot, and his letters were saying so, although sometimes in a semi-serious manner:

"You know," he writes, "this small-town life has got some compensations. The Russians don't even know we're on the map."

The words stemmed from the fact that the atom era had made the big, crowded cities the soft spots in the nation's defenses. As the biggest city, New York is the softest spot.

The giant metropolitan area contains about 14,000,000 people; the city itself, 8,000,000. Intensifying the congestion, 4,000,000 commuters swarm into the concrete heap of Manhattan every day via train, car, subway and bus.

Sometimes the letters get real subtle:

"I saw your old boss the other day. He said he'd be glad to have you working for him again, if you ever get back this way."

There haven't been any indications around here of any abrupt, mass departures—yet.

Joseph A. Sinclair, secretary of the New York Commerce and Industry Association, says he hasn't heard of any industry pulling out and heading for the back country.

"A lot of people say they're going to find a good hideout in the mountains," he said. "But I don't know of any that have done it."

The real estate people, however, have noted a revealing trend. "The market in country places was remarkably good all through the last three months," said Robert F. Furman, of Frewins, Inc. "I have an idea the general international unrest is in the back of their minds, and the A-bomb may have had something to do with it, but people don't come in here and say so."

Since the Korean flareup, Furman added, it appears that many people are in a state of indecision. "They're watching the front pages," he said, "trying to make up their minds what to do."

Washington Letter

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—The idea at first was to help war-devaluated libraries throughout the world rebuild their stores of research materials. Medical men, scientists, educators long isolated and out of touch with advances in their particular fields were eager to catch up with new developments.

For this reason a committee appointed by the Council of National Library Association (formed the American Book Center ABC) back in April 1945. Setting up headquarters at the Library of Congress, the ABC collected books and periodicals from American libraries, publishers and others to form a nucleus for rebuilding libraries abroad. Up to 1948, when ABC closed, it had sent about 4,000,000 items to library committees in some 43 countries, to be distributed to as many as 300 libraries in a single country.

When ABC's funds, supplied mostly by 70 organizations and some governments, ran out the committee urged something be done to continue the work—this time as a two-way exchange system. With the help of such organizations as the National Research Council, the American Council of Learned Societies, the Council on Education and the Engineers Joint Council, the committee launched a new baby, the U. S. Book Exchange, which it hopes will mature into a permanent organization.

Some $90,000 for financing the services of the exchange to foreign libraries in its first three years was contributed by the Rockefeller Foundation. Services to domestic libraries on the exchange are financed by the libraries themselves. Miss Alice D. Ball, executive director, says it is hoped the project will be carried on by fees from American libraries.

Around 300 libraries in this country and 500 in about 60 foreign countries are participating in the exchange. Miss Ball told me: "We hope to have similar centers in other countries later. During the past six months the exchange has sent out about 75,000 items selected by the libraries themselves by title, or volume or issue."

Miss Ball says most requested items are periodicals in medical subjects, engineering, agriculture, literature, bibliography and reference. The libraries send in to the exchange such materials as they have on hand and are given exchange credit in return. If a foreign library sends in 20 books it can ask 30 books in return on any subject desired.

American Legion Heads Propose Strong Curbs For Subversives

Indianapolis, July 24—(AP)—Department commanders of the American Legion adopted unanimously yesterday a resolution calling for imprisonment of any person who supports or sponsors subversive acts against the government.

The resolution was adopted at a conference summoned by National Commander George N. Craig of Brazil, Ind., who called on the Legion's three million members to campaign for "immediate enactment of universal military training legislation."

Lewis K. Gough of Pasadena, Calif., head of the California department, presented the imprisonment resolution. When asked by Craig if it applied to the Communist movement, Gough replied that was the target of the measure.

Craig's announcement of a campaign for universal military training, broadcast over CBS, said:

"Universal military training is the least expensive and most effective national security measure we can adopt. The cost of universal military training can never break us. Its adoption will make us."

The Legion commander called also for reduction of all government expenditures not concerned with national security. He said the Legion would set an example by dropping for the present its support of new pension and bonus laws. Craig also said the Legion would ask for no additional benefits or extensions under the G.I. Bill of Rights except to make the bill applicable to those now fighting in Korea.

State Legion commanders adopted unanimously a resolution calling for congressional action to assure veterans of Korean fighting full benefits for themselves and dependents in event of injury or death in the fighting.

Accused Kidnap Pair In Custody

Evergreen, Ala., July 24—(AP)—Two men accused of kidnaping an 18-year-old girl have been turned over to South Carolina officials by Evergreen police.

Vance Leon Merritt, 18, of Cumberland, N. C., and Anthony S. Grossciminski, 26, of CataWissa, Pa., were taken into custody by Edgefield County, S. C. authorities yesterday.

Evergreen Police Sgt. Tom Melton said the South Carolina officers had warrants charging the men with kidnaping Lorene Mayson of McCormick, S. C. The warrants were signed by the girl's brother, Melton said.

Miss Mayson told highway patrolmen she was kidnaped from her home last Wednesday. The men were arrested near here last week on the basis of the girl's complaint.

Police Capt. O. T. McDuff quoted the men as saying the girl went with them voluntarily.

The pair was turned over to South Carolina officials after the FBI said an investigation failed to disclose any federal law which had been broken.

Finds Singers In Europe Scarce

Edinburgh, Scotland—(AP)—"The time when the New York 'Met' had to look to Europe for most of its singers is definitely over," said Rudolf Bing, general manager of the Metropolitan Opera Co., when he arrived here after a four week talent search in Austria, Switzerland, Italy, Germany, France and England.

Bing told reporters: "There are very few outstanding voices still left in Europe."

History Matches MacArthur's Age

New York—(AP)—Douglas MacArthur at 70 is one of a number of Generals who have maintained great military reputations at an age when most commanders have retired.

According to Col. Roswell P. Rosengren, chief of army information in New York, Charlemagne at 72 was converting the Saxons to Christianity with the sword. Frederick the Great of Prussia was giving a good account of himself in the field up to the 74th and last of his life. Paul Hindenburg was 67 at the time of his victory at Tannenberg, and was chief of the German staff at 70.

U. S. Soldiers In Korea Battling Strange Enemy

By ELTON C. FAY
Washington, July 24—(AP)—American soldiers in Korea are battling a strange enemy whose identity is uncertain, whose commanders are nameless, who fights murderously.

The northern enemy looks exactly like the southern friend. The enemy uses this to advantage to strike by stealth.

Even the best official records at the Pentagon are reported to contain the name of only one North Korean commander. This is in sharp contrast with World War II days, when the names of enemy field commanders were almost as familiar to American readers as those of United States leaders—Japanese like General Yamashita or Germans like Field Marshal von Runstedt.

What is the "North Korean army" besides North Koreans? To date, the only official intimation has been a terse Pentagon statement that between 10 and 20 Russian officers are advisers with "a certain North Korean unit." How many others with other units? Apparently that's not known.

Because of battlefield captures of enemy soldiers, equipment and records, we seemed to have a little better information on the identity of North Korean army units.

More than half a dozen North Korean divisions have been identified in action, including the 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 5th, 6th and 15th. North Korean divisions average about 10,000 men, compared with 17,000 for a full-strength American army division.

FREE OFFER for Deafened Persons

For people who are troubled by hard-of-hearing this may be the means for starting a new, full life—with all the enjoyment of sermons, music, friendly companionship and business success. It is a fascinating brochure, called "So You Can Hear" and is now available without charge. Deafened persons acclaim it as a practical guide with advice and encouragement of great value, a start on the road to happiness. If you would like a free copy, simply send your name and address on a postcard today and ask for "So You Can Hear." Write to Belton, Dept. 7311, 1450 W. 19th St. Chicago 8, Ill. Also show this important news to a friend or relative who may be hard-of-hearing.

The enemy is a curious mixture of Asiatic and Russian Communist thinking. The result is alarming. He fights ferociously, with the fanaticism of the Oriental and the fanaticism of the Communist.

One of his most effective devices thus far has been infiltration—the practice of slipping through the U.S.-South Korean lines in the guise of a refugee, then shooting from behind.

The Far East command said in a recent communique that Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker was giving "prompt and vigorous" attention to this practice.

Heavy Traffic Toward Seashore Recent Weekend

Highway traffic through Greenville Saturday and early Sunday was headed toward seashore resorts, observing police, sheriffs and state highway patrol officers reported.

A steady stream of well-filled automobiles was passing through Greenville Saturday afternoon and night, some of it coming from points in up-state and western Carolina.

Considerable vehicular traffic passing through here over the weekend was headed toward Washington and Pamlico River points east of there.

Vacationists are making the best of the limited time between now and the opening of the bright, leafy tobacco markets in August, it appears, a warehouse official stated today.

Mrs. Ann Poling, 609 Delaware St., Indianapolis, Indiana, who was suffering from deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Iron, and Nicotin, smiles as she pours herself another cup of coffee. Mrs. Poling says life lately is like it used to be years ago...

...that is, of course, since I've been taking HADACOL. She can't get over what a difference HADACOL has made in her outlook on life.

Mrs. Poling says: "Three months ago a good friend of mine told me about HADACOL—she knew how much stomach distress I had had. Any type of food that was fried or that had acid in it I just couldn't eat. It affected my sleep, too. In fact, I couldn't have been in a worse condition. When I ate what I wanted to I felt miserable and when I didn't eat these things—I didn't have a proper diet and still felt bad. Then, when I started taking HADACOL, I felt better immediately. I've got a bottle in the house now—and will continue to keep HADACOL from now on. I have told many folks about HADACOL—and they all thank me for telling them about HADACOL. They all have gotten wonderful results from HADACOL like I have. Now I eat anything I want and get a good night's sleep. I can't praise HADACOL enough."

HADACOL Can Help You, Too! ... as it has helped thousands of others whose systems lacked Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Nicotin. Yes, even hundreds of doctors have recommended HADACOL to their patients. The HADACOL formula is so effective for stomach distress, nervousness, insomnia, constipation, aches and pains of neuritis, and a general run-down condition caused by such deficiencies.

Robins Sweep Three-Game Weekend Series, 2-1, 5-1, 4-1

New Bern Beaten Twice By Locals; Kinston Is Victim

Heflin, Lewey And Jones Earn Triumphs As Robins Strengthen Second Place In Standings; Kinston Here For Twin Bill Tonight

By BERT MOYE
The Greenville Robins made a clean sweep of their three-game weekend series by taking both ends of a doubleheader against the New Bern Bears here Saturday night by the scores of 2-1 and 5-1, and then travelling over to Kinston Sunday afternoon to take the first of a series of three games between the two clubs with a 4-1 win.

Saturday Night's Games
Manager Randy Heflin turned in a one-hit pitching performance in leading his Greenville Robins to a 2-1 victory over the New Bern Bears in the first game of a twin bill here Saturday night.

The win for Heflin was his twelfth of the season, his fourth against the Bears as he retired the first sixteen men in order to face him, allowing only two walks during the seven-inning affair while striking out six. A double by Billy Bevil in the sixth frame was the only hit off the veteran righthander.

Greenville scored in the third frame when Dick Bland singled and advanced to second on a wild throw to first by Shortstop Bevil. After advancing to third on Heflin's infield out, Paul Strausser hit to deep centerfield with Bland scoring from third.

The Bears came back to knot the count at 1-1 in the top of the sixth when Manager Harry Land reached first on an error and scored when Bevil doubled into centerfield and Censerfield Paul Strausser let the ball away from him.

After Heflin had gone out on an infield play in the seventh, Paul Strausser came through with a double into left field and scored when Johnny Tepedino came through with a timely single into leftfield to bring home Strausser for the winning run.

The Robins also came through with a 5-1 win in the nightcap behind the seven-hit tossing of Jim Lewey, to give him a seasonal record of 9-9 and his second win over the Bears this season.

The Robins scored a singleton in the second frame when Bartolozzi walked, advanced to second on a passed ball and Mat Hall singled into centerfield to bring him home. They added two more runs in the third on a single by Tepedino, a double by John Baktis and a walk and two stolen bases, one of which was a steal home by Tepedino coupled with a costly error on the part of Bevil, the Bears' shortstop.

John Baktis' homer against the scoreboard in left field to bring home Tepedino ahead of him gave the Robins two more runs in the fifth frame.

The Bears saved themselves from a shutout when they scored a singleton in the seventh on McLeod's double and a single by Ed Christoff.

Sunday's Game
Vince Jones hurled his eleventh win of the season and his third against the Kinston Eagles over in Kinston yesterday afternoon as he turned in a neat four-hitter against his former mates for a 4-1 win.

The Robins scored two runs in the second frame when Bartolozzi reached first on an error, Lautato walked and Hall hit to short right field to load the bases. Dick Bland flew out to left field with Bartolozzi scoring and Vince Jones followed with a single to bring in Lautato.

Johnny Minarcin's homer over the left field wall accounted for the only run scored by the Eagles in the contest.

The Robins iced the game with two runs in the ninth. After Baktis had grounded out third to first, Lautato walked. Hall struck out. Bland and Jones followed with successive singles to load the bases.

'Ray, Redl

It took that 14-inning home run which gave the National League a victory over their American League rivals in the annual All-star game to focus the spotlight on Red Schoendienst. The Cardinals' efficient second sacker had long been overlooked because he lacked the color of some of his better known teammates. But the ball players have long rated this smooth fielding ace a real "Pro" among their own.

Schoendienst is one of the most versatile players in the show. Red has played every infield and outfield position. He is a switch hitter. While he is supposed to pack great power batting left-handed, it is interesting to note that his pay-off home run was produced while batting right handed.

Long before Schoendienst joined the Cardinals the word went around that the St. Louis club had a brilliant shortstop working with its Rochester farm. Some said he would prove greater than Marty Marion in the shorter field. When Red was brought up, Marion was still Mr. Shortstop of the National League. The Redbirds put Red at second base and he teamed beautifully with Marion. When the Cards were short of outfielders, Schoendienst took over and did a fine job in the outer gardens. However, he was returned to second base where he rightfully belongs and right now there is none better at that position.

Paul Strausser hit a drive to Shortstop Aspromonte who bobbed the ball with Lautato scoring and then Joe Guidice hit one to First Baseman Jim Burns, who booted the ball with Bland racing home.

Tommy Swanson, on the mound for the Eagles, suffered his third defeat at the hands of the Robins as he gave up six hits, four of which figured in the Robins' scoring.

The Robins and the Eagles will meet in a twin bill out at Guy Smith Stadium tonight to make up a game which had to be called on July 11th on account of rain. The first game, a seven-inning affair, will get underway at 7 o'clock sharp.

Doris Hart Wins First National Clay Court Title

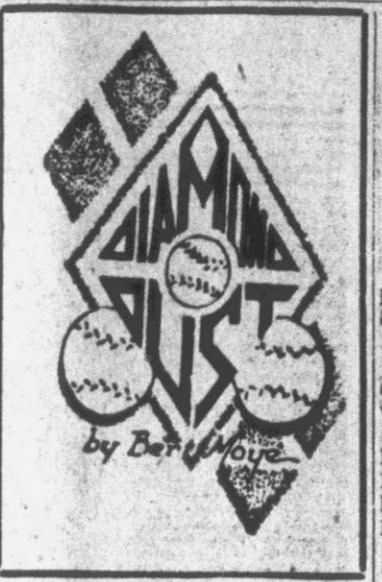

River Forest, Ill., July 24—(AP)—Doris Hart, the nation's third ranked women's player, today held her first national clay court singles tennis title and No. 1 men's amateur, Ted Schroeder, was favored to win his before the day ended.

Schroeder, top-seeded in the drawn out tourney at River Forest tennis club, was to meet UCLA's Intercollegiate champion, third seeded Herb Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif. for the men's crown.

Because rain washed out three days' play last week, the men's singles and doubles championships were delayed until today.

Yesterday, when the tourney originally was scheduled to end, Miss Hart, sweet swatter from Jacksonville, Fla., breezed to the women's title with a 6-1, 6-3 triumph over Shirley Fry of Akron, Ohio.

Tonight's Games

Kinston at Greenville (2)
Tarboro at New Bern (2)
Goldensboro at Roanoke Rapids
Rocky Mount at Wilson

The triple win for the Robins over the week-end gave the locals another boost on their climb toward the league-leading Roanoke Rapids Jays who during the week-end dropped one of their two contests. The Robins at the present time are four games from the league leaders and have a firm hold on the second spot. . . . The Bears' double loss Saturday marked their tenth and eleventh defeats in a row. . . . The Robins used only three pitchers in the three contests over the week-end and the three hurlers gave up a total of 12 hits in the three contests while the Robins garnered a total of 21 hits in the three contests. . . . In the three games the Robins had 24 men left on bases while their opponents had 16. . . . 1152 paid admissions witnessed Saturday night's twin bill.

Bill Rumlert's column in Saturday's Rocky Mount Evening Telegram had this to say about the Robins: "Greenville's Robins have proved to be one of the most impressive clubs in the Coastal Plain League during the past month. The club, under the tutelage of Randy Heflin, an ex-Rocky Mount hurler, has turned out as most improved club in the circuit in recent weeks. . . . Last night they knocked the slay-tough New Bern Bears out of their second-place perch, and now the Robins are riding in the runner-up spot for the first time this year. Wilson, too, is coming along, and the Robins can credit the Tobs with an assist—as well as the Leafs. Bill Herring's boys lusted New Bern three straight times, just after Rocky Mount took them for a pair of games."

Several rumors are floating about concerning a change in the management of the Rocky Mount Leafs. These seem to be especially strong in Tarboro where Bull Hamons has been visiting for the past few days. Some sources have Bull taking over the Leafs, with Red Bentzen being relieved of his duties. Bull Hamons has been quoted as saying he would like to have the job of managing the local club. That's all very well, except there is nothing to the rumors. No foundation at all. The Rocky Mount club officials, in a meeting several days ago, handed Manager Benton a vote of confidence and said no change in the club is in the offing, either in the manager's job, or otherwise. That word is definite and final, and it is hoped that it will serve to quiet such rumors concerning the Leafs.

Bob Reynolds and Bob Gregory, two on-again, off-again outfielders who were with the Wilson Tobs part of the season, will be returned to the Wilson camp within the next day or two by the Wilmington club, who were optioned to that club. Jack Wall, Kinston hurler, who hurled a three-hitter against Goldensboro Wednesday night but lost the game 4-3, decided last Thursday that he "was tired of the game" and jumped the club. Acquired only a few days previously from the Ontario, Y. club, Wall's decision to quit came with complete surprise to the Kinston management. He will be placed on the ineligible list, which bars him from professional baseball. . . . Russell Turner, a limited service player, was expected to report to Walter McJunkin Sunday. He is expected to replace Howard Hobgood at shortstop, who is returning to his home to enter the tobacco business. Turner's home is said to be in Roxboro, N.C.

Slo-Mo-Shun Is Conceded Chance At 'Grand Slam'

Detroit, July 24—(AP)—The sensational, radically designed Slo-Mo-Shun IV is conceded a swell chance to make a grand slam of speedboat racing's four major championships this year.

Slo-Mo-Shun made an impressive start toward annexing the quadruple crown by winning the gold cup classic on the Detroit river Saturday. The Seattle craft, owned by Stanley Sayres, added two marks to her list in the gold cup.

Last month she set a world's record of 160.323 miles an hour for a measured mile straightaway run on Lake Washington. But the critics scoffed when Slo-Mo-Shun was entered in the gold cup. They acknowledged she had plenty of speed but argued she wouldn't be able to take the sharp turns on the Detroit river course.

Slo-Mo-Shun fooled all her critics. She took the turns with the greatest of ease and won the race under wraps. She posed a 30-mile heat record of 90.897 MPH in the second heat and a clocking of 78.216 MPH for the complete, crueling 90-mile race.

Philadelphia Whiz Kids Playing Above Manager Sawyer's Hopes

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Philadelphia Whiz Kids are performing beyond Manager Eddie Sawyer's fondest expectations.

Sawyer, who brought his young season, said in the spring that he would settle for an encore this year. At the moment it appears that Phils will better their 1949 deeds. In many quarters the Phils are looked upon as the next National League champions.

The lone fly in the ointment is the imminent departure of Curt Simmons, 21-year-old star lefthander, for a tour of duty with the National Guard. Simmons leaves July 29 for a 14-day hitch at Indianburg Camp, Pa. During that time the Phils are at home for 17 games. Simmons recorded his 13th victory yesterday as the Phils cooled off the Cincinnati Reds in a doubleheader and gained undisputed possession of first place.

The $65,000 bonus beauty turned back the Reds, 12-4, in the opener. The Phils took the second, 7-4 behind Russ Meyer and Jim Konstanty to snap their tie with the St. Louis Cardinals for the top rung. The Cards beat the Boston Braves, 8-4 in a single encounter.

Simmons scattered ten hits and fanned seven while his mates came up with a 15-hit attack that included a pair of home runs by Willie Jones and one apiece by Andy Simulnick and Del Ennis.

Lefty Al Beale, with help in the ninth from Harry Brecheen, stopped the Braves on 12 hits, the same number the Cards secured off Bob Chipman and Bucky Walters. The Cards however backed up Beale with four doubleplays. The loss dumped the Braves from third to fourth place, with the Brooklyn Dodgers moving up. The Dodgers outslug the Pittsburgh Pirates, 11-6. The Bums broke a 6-6 tie with a four-run rally in the eighth that Gil Hodges featured with a three-run homer.

Sheldon Jones, knocked out in each of his last four starts, turned in the pitching gem of the day—3-0, one-hit victory for the New York Giants over the Chicago Cubs in the second game of a doubleheader.

The Giants also won the first game, 5-3, with Wes Westrum knocking in three runs, one on his 16th homer. Larry Jansen went the distance to gain his 10th victory.

Farmville Takes Twin Bill Against Walstonburg Nine

Saratoga	8	23	.258

Farmville, July 24—Willie Mauney's Bright Belt team scored a twin-bill victory over Walstonburg in weekend games. Farmville won Saturday's tilt, 8-7, and came back yesterday for a shutout, 4-0.

The dual win kept Farmville in second place behind Macesfield which took a doubleheader also. Farmville's lead over third-place Ormondsville is two games.

Horne began Saturday's game and was relieved in the third inning by John when Walstonburg took the lead by two runs after five runners had crossed in the frame. John went the route thereafter and was nicked for three more runs, but got credit for the win.

In yesterday's game Pittman pitched three-hit ball for his first shutout of the season. Not a man got past first base over the route. Farmville got to Walstonburg's hurler White for seven scattered hits, two of them doubles by Norm Clark and Roger Thrift. Clark scored two runs in addition to driving in Regans for an RBI.

Saturday's game:

Swimming Squad Going To Japan

Seattle, July 24—(AP)—America's best swimmers and the marvelous Marshall-husky John of Australia and Yale—were due to mop an ocean today as the prize for shattering a satchelful of records.

Bound for Japan, the squad of 14 splashers, coach Bob Kiphuth and manager John Curren were to fly out of San Francisco this afternoon and into Tokyo Wednesday night. Marshall will be along as a guest but will appear only in an exhibition role in Japan.

The team was picked last night at the close of the senior men's National A. A. U. outdoor swimming championships. It will swim in meets with Japan's best at Tokyo and Osaka.

Yesterday Marshall's water-slapping style knocked over the American 880-yard standard. In four days he wrecked the world marks in the half mile and mile, and American records in the mile, half and quarter mile and assorted odd distances. He anchored the winning 880-yard relay team to another U. S. record.

Confiscate Hat In Liquor Raid

Lancaster, Pa., July 24—(AP)—Treasury agents and state police raided a still near Lancaster early today and confiscated 90 one-gallon jugs of untaxed liquor and one felt hat.
Sgt. John Aumon of state police said the illegal liquor was being strained through the hat.

NO SNOW NEEDED — German ski ace Erich Windisch takes off from straw-covered ski-jump in tournament at Munich's Theresienwiese Park. In background is monument, "Bavaria."

Army To Reopen Training Center

Washington, July 24—(AP)—The Army announced it will reopen Camp Breckinridge, Ky., as a replacement training center.
It said the camp would start receiving recruits about mid-September and could reach its training capacity of 22,000 men by Oct. 1.
Breckinridge is the second training center to be reopened since the start of the Korean war. Fort Jackson, near Columbia S. C. was reactivated about 10 days ago.

Romance in the Air...

For the young lady who is merry, friendly, good fun. Because she can see right. Before she had her vision corrected, she was timid, awkward, retiring; now she has poise, self-confidence, and is a good mixer. It's surprising what a difference good vision can make. Smart girls know this, and have their vision corrected with lovely, streamlined glasses that add to their appearance by giving full, fresh beauty to their eyes and full freedom to their attractive personality.

What a stepper!

Just hint to the gas pedal and she steps out like no other low-priced car. And that's true whether you're driving a Ford V-8 or "Six". But this high-stepper is a low spender when it comes to costs. You can own a V-8, for example, for hundreds less than most "Sixes"—and a Ford "Six" for even less.

What a stopper!

This '50 Ford actually helps you apply the brakes. They're 35% easier-acting King-Size Brakes that use car momentum to help you stop. Like Ford's extra-rugged "Lifeguard" Body, they give you the kind of protection you'd expect only of costliest cars. And for added safety and comfort, you ride low and level in the "Mid Ship" section of the car, between the wheels—not over them. You're cradled in comfort on "Hydra-Coil" front springs and "Para-Flex" rear springs—that give a road-hugging smoothness truly amazing.

What a looker!

Yes, again in '50, Ford received the Fashion Academy Gold Medal as "Fashion Car of the Year." And Ford's stay good looking because their baked-on finish is "made to live outdoors." That means high resale value which, together with Ford's low running costs, puts Ford further out front as America's savingest car.

Taught His Son To Shoot Mother

Jonesboro, Ark., July 24—(AP)—A 73-year-old father was in jail here today because, said police, he taught his small son to shoot and then had the boy shoot his mother.

As a result, said State Police Sgt. Wyatt Patrick Mrs. Jewel White, 43, of Hardy, was hospitalized with a bullet wound in her right lung.

The husband, the sergeant continued, would be charged today with assault to kill even though the shot was fired by the couple's eight-year-old son, Billy, Saturday night.

Patrick quoted Mrs. White as giving him this account:

After a quarrel with her aged husband, the latter handed Billy a .22 caliber rifle, led him out in the back yard and delivered a quick lesson in marksmanship.

Afterwards, the boy and his father returned to the house where he told the boy: "If she don't do right, shoot her."

Mrs. White and her husband became involved in a fight, he swinging at her with a walking cane and she at him with a stick of wood.

In the midst of the battle, Mrs. White heard her husband order, "Shoot her, son," and the boy fired.

Disguised

Tokyo, July 24—(AP)—Camouflage? U.S. pilots don't their caps to the North Koreans whose tanks often look from the air like thatched huts or haystacks.

One resourceful Red crew hitched two bullocks to their tank and lumbered along like farmers in an ox-cart.

Until a sharp-eyed American airman penetrated the disguise.

Madison County Group Calls For New School Body

Marshall, N.C., July 24—(AP)—A group of Madison County citizens wants a new slate of school officials.

At a mass meeting here over the weekend about 100 persons adopted a resolution calling for the resignation of Mrs. Edna G. Rhodes, superintendent of schools; J. Clyde Brown, chairman of the board of education, and all other members of the board of education "who have been in office and have permitted and condoned the evil practices and corruption in the school system of Madison County."

The group also requested legislation by the General Assembly "to authorize and permit the election of members of the board of education by public vote and without regard to politics."

The meeting was called by a group of veterans.

State 4-H Clubs In Session Today

Raleigh, N. C., July 24—(AP)—More than 1,000 4-H club members invaded N. C. State college's campus today for a silver anniversary meeting.

For five days the farm youths will hear addresses by outstanding speakers, after classes and demonstrations, tour points of interest in the Raleigh area, and see winners of various contests crowned.

The year's 4-H club week is dedicated to L. R. Harrill who planned the first North Carolina club 25 years ago. Harrill has been state leader during the entire time. North Carolina's 4-H club organization is now one of the largest in the South with a membership of 123,000.

Registration for the week took place in State's Coliseum. Formal opening of the week takes place tonight in Riddick stadium with State president Hazel Garris of Pitt county presiding.

Governor Scott, the first 4-H club member to become North Carolina's chief executive, will address the club members at their general assembly tomorrow morning.

Vacation Weather

U. E. Maiden, local observer for the U.S. Department of Commerce Weather Bureau, reported today that the highest temperature in the Greenville area Sunday was 85 degrees. Lowest was 65 last night. At 8 a.m. today the mercury stood at 74 degrees.

No rainfall was reported during the weekend.

Eight and a half inches of rain fell here during the first three weeks of July. This heavy precipitation was in striking contrast to the very light rainfall in this county during July, 1949.

Tar River, slightly above its normal four-or-five-foot level now, is not expected to approach flood stage.

Elmer Thomas In Runoff Tuesday

By the ASSOCIATED PRESS
An Oklahoma Democratic runoff primary tomorrow may give lawmakers some indication of how the fighting in Korea affects incumbents.

Democrats are also nominating tomorrow in Arkansas, where a governorship race has involved the national issues of the Truman administration, and in Louisiana, where Senator Russell Long is after his first full term in the office held by his father, Huey P. Long.

Senator Elmer Thomas (D-Okla.), fighting for his political life, has tried to emphasize in the closing days before the Oklahoma voting the part he has played in helping provide the funds for American fighting forces.

Thomas trailed Rep. Mike Monroney in the first primary July 4, although Monroney didn't get a majority because of four other candidates in the field.

Monroney has made Thomas' record as chairman of the Senate

IT'S DEATH, MY DARLING!

By Amelia Reynolds Long
AP Newsfeatures

Chapter 26

For the space of several seconds, Amedee stood perfectly still. Then he came over and sat down beside me again.

"What made you say that, Peter?" he asked quietly.

"Look at the entire situation, Dede," I said. I had to talk fast, in order to keep up with my own flying thoughts. "A little over a week ago, your grandfather makes a discovery of some sort—something that gave me now reason to believe some third person was trying to keep from him. Whatever it was, he considers it so important that he sends at once for his lawyer and for his eldest and youngest grandsons, apparently to consult with them about it. But before he can accomplish that, he dies; but not before he's had time to tell this thing to one of them—to Claude. A few days later, Claude dies."

Amedee nodded.

"That was what Uncle Raoul suspected," he said. "But the autopsy showed that Claude died of a heart attack after all."

"Yes, I know," I admitted. "But the autopsy could have been wrong. I mean, it may not have been carried far enough. Suppose that Claude—and your grandfather too, for that matter—died of something that could have been mistaken for heart failure as long as no one had any reason to suspect its true nature. Some poison."

"Poison!" He repeated the word as though he had never heard it before. "But what—"

"Let me finish before we go into that," I interrupted. "Uncle Raoul suspected that there was something wrong about his father's death even before he talked with Mr. Duval."

"Then that was why he went down to the mausoleum that night!" Amedee broke in. "And why he opened Grandpere's casket. He must have thought he could find some proof..."

"I told him about the dying plants that Pick and I had discovered down near the carriage house."

"And don't you remember?" I concluded. "Aunt Mineva objected to the oleanders because she'd heard that they give off a poisonous vapor. None of us paid much attention to her at the time; probably because we all thought that she was merely being fussy. But she was right; she must have been! Not about the vapor part, of course; but about their being poisonous. I'm certain now that I read that somewhere myself."

"You're sure of that?" Amedee demanded. Now that he understood what I was talking about, he was as carried away by the idea as I was.

"Reasonably sure," I answered. "But aren't there some reference books about, so we can look it up?"

He rose, and catching hold of my hand, drew me up after him.

"Come on," he said. "We'll see what's in Grandpere's office."

Amedee found the first reference in a copy of the American Dispensatory.

"Here it is!" he exclaimed, and began to read aloud:

"Oleander curium. A species of... He ran his eyes hastily over several paragraphs until he had come to what he wanted. "Poisonous Qualities: Similar to digitalis. The infusion made from four ounces of the root is affirmed to have taken life."

"Four ounces of the root! And it had been the roots of the plants in the garden that had been disturbed!"

(To be continued)

Over 400 Gallons Kerosene Ran In Streets; Major Fire Hazard

For the second time in three days, a serious fire menace has resulted in Greenville as gasoline and fuel oil from tankers unloading in the city have overflowed, flooding nearby areas with hundreds of gallons of inflammable liquid.

A railroad tank car, loaded with 12,000 gallons of kerosene, being unloaded in the yard of Colonial Oil Company on Dickinson Avenue Saturday afternoon, spilled more than 400 gallons of kerosene over the yards of the plant and into the city streets. The tank car was being used to fill a nearby storage tank in the company's plant when it overflowed.

Officials at the plant stated that the accident occurred as the tank car was being unloaded and the oil spilled in a 10,000-gallon storage tank. The tank car was believed to hold only 10,000 gallons of oil, but actually held 12,000.

It was the first time that the plant had ever received a tank car with more than 10,000 capacity at the yard. Officials said that they always order the small tank cars as the capacity of the tanks is 10,000 gallons.

Firemen, who were called to the scene, (the second such call in three days) said that the oil was flowing out from the tank car over the yard and into the streets. The oil ran down the streets and into the storm sewers.

The firemen cut a trench to allow the fuel to flow out of the yard and then washed the area, using booster lines from the truck.

The threat of a serious fire was constantly present until the oil had been removed, firemen said. A carelessly tossed match could have set the entire area on fire. More than an hour was required to make the region safe.

On Thursday morning a gasoline tanker overflowed on Clark Street by the AA Taxi stand, sending gallons of gas into the streets, offering a fire threat to the heart of the Dickinson Avenue business section.

Today Fire Chief George Gardner requested that all local oil and gasoline companies have their trucks inspected to see if they are in a safe operating condition. Chief Gardner said that there is a city regulation which governs the operation of discharging gasoline in the city and that copies of the regulation will be sent to all local companies in the near future. He said that there are several trucks now operating in the city which are known to be in an unsafe operating condition and that measures should be taken to have these trucks repaired. All of the local trucks will have to comply with the regulation, the Chief said.

There was no estimate of the loss to the town and contents.

Fire equipment from Greenville was summoned to two of the barns over the weekend but aid was refused due to the condition of the Greenville equipment. The mayor is the only person who can send the equipment out of town, firemen said. The present equipment for fighting rural fires is in such bad shape that it has been placed on the restricted list.

Opposition To Leopold Mounts Among Belgians

Brussels, Belgium, July 24—(AP)—King Leopold and his Social Christian government today faced tightening opposition which promised to take a far more solid form than calls and press blasts.

A Socialist leader declared that a wave of strikes would start today in Belgium's Walloon area. They would spread, he said, until the king quits the throne he regained only two days ago.

The Socialist spokesman indicated that no general strikes are planned immediately. Expecting the abdication fight to be a long one, the anti-Leopold party is loath to use all its weapons at once.

Leopold has shown no sign he intends to submit to his opponents' demands that he abdicate and let his eldest son, Crown Prince Baudouin, reign.

Three Tobacco Barns Destroyed

Three Pitt county tobacco barns were destroyed by fire over the past weekend, with heavy losses resulting, it was reported today.

A tobacco barn owned by J. P. Davenport of Pactolus, burned around midnight Friday with a loss estimated at over $1,000. Davenport said that there were 567 sticks of first and second pullings in the barn at the time of the fire. It was believed that a stick of tobacco fell as the barn was being killed out, striking the flues and setting the barn on fire.

There was no insurance on the barn or the contents, the owner said.

On Saturday night, a tobacco barn owned by Dall Laughinghouse near Greenville. There was no report as to the loss, or if the building and contents were covered by insurance.

The third barn to burn in the county over the weekend, bringing the total for the county so far to four, was near Grimesland on the Allen Farm. It was reported at the Grimesland city hall, that a barn belonging to a Mr. McLawhorn burned Friday afternoon around four o'clock. It was believed that lightning struck the barn at the height of the electrical storm which hit this region. There

Aurora, Bayboro Branches Open

The agreement with the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation having been put into effect, Guaranty Bank & Trust Company, with main office at Greenville, opened today branches at Bayboro and Aurora.

Mr. John D. Rafferty was elected as Cashier at Bayboro branch. He formerly operated Teller's window at Bayboro for the Bank of Aurora.

Mr. William A. McGee, a business man and civic leader at Aurora, was elected as Cashier of the Aurora branch. He will dispose of his interest in mercantile business and will be officially connected with the bank August first.

The officials of the Guaranty Bank & Trust Company were pleased at the reception given them by citizens in the territory served from these points, President W. H. Woolard said.

The agreement under which these branches opened is outlined in press report given out by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation under date of July 11.

Forty Per Cent Of Pitt Tobacco Now Being Cured

With the opening of the Greenville Tobacco Market a little over three weeks away, a report today stated that about 40 percent of the county crop is now being cured.

County farm agent E. C. Winchester reported he estimated about 40 percent has been put into the barns and packhouses during the past month of priming. The crop is about on schedule as compared with last years curing, he said.

The agent arrived at his figure after an informal survey of the county crop made during the past several days.

Winchester said that the curing of the county at large is coincidental with that tobacco being cured now from the Lower Coastal Plain Experiment Station, located just outside Greenville. However, the amount curing there is no criterion by which the rest of the county can be judged, he stated.

Here are some North Korean tanks knocked out by rocket-firing fighter planes of the U. S. Fifth Air Force on a winding road near Chockkwan, South Korea. Eight tanks were caught in the attack. One is turned over at the foot of the embankment beside the railway tracks. Others are stalled along the road. (AP Wire-photo via army radiophoto from Tokyo).

Open Conference At College Today

Between 150 and 160 vocational home economics teachers of eastern North Carolina began a week-long conference at East Carolina today.

With the conference theme "The Homemaking Teacher's Role in the Enrichment of Family Living," the group opened the first session this morning in the Flanagan building when Dr. Leo Jenkins, dean of the college, presented an address entitled "Achieving Human Values."

Prior to Dr. Jenkins' address, a planning committee met composed of supervisors and chairmen of the different committees of the group.

Tomorrow the teachers will be divided into small groups and the topic for discussion will be "Our Beliefs Concerning Good Teaching." After the discussion period, the group will observe demonstrations in the newer techniques given by teachers just back from summer schools. Mrs. Geraldine Beveridge will preside.

Staff members who have charge of the meeting are Miss Catherine T. Dennis, state supervisor of home economics, Miss Mary Hines Leonard, Miss Mabel Lacy and Miss Velma Lowe.

Local Guardsmen Not Yet Called

A spokesman for the Greenville National Guard office today said that the local unit was still "sitting tight" in regards to any orders that might be sent out from Washington to mobilize the local unit.

The spokesman stated that the Guard has not received any orders as yet and had not heard of any North Carolina units receiving their official orders.

It long has been obvious that such a weakening process is the heart of Russian strategy. If Russia had greater economic and military strength, she might cut corners by calling for a world showdown right now. As things stand, she wouldn't be likely to strike until she felt sure victory was in a sack.

But if Russia's operations are such an open-and-shut game, why don't the Western Allies call the turn now? That's a question a lot of people are asking these days, as Moscow keeps pouring on the heat.

The answer is that your Uncle Sam is a long-suffering guy who hates war. However, he will take only so much punishment, and when he is forced into action he strikes hard. Moreover he is equipped to strike mighty fast.

Home-Buying . . .

(Continued from page one) allow for the increases cost only in special cases. Otherwise, it will base its guarantee on the cost before July 1, then—

Suppose VA recognizes the increased cost and bases its guarantee on that. And suppose the veteran has obtained a loan from a non-supervised lender, which means he must make a down payment of at least 5 per cent.

Is his 5 per cent payment based on the cost before July 1 or after? After July 1, in a case like that.

In some areas of the country veterans complained they couldn't get loans to buy a home. This year Congress passed a law letting VA make direct loans in such cases.

Under this program VA could hand out $150,000,000 in direct loans before next July 1. And VA was free to hand out all of it any time before next July.

This program started last week but President Truman stepped in and put a brake on it. He said VA couldn't hand out more than $27, Hoboken, N. J. July 24—(AP)—Eleven hundred men struck at the big Todd Shipyards here today.

In Brooklyn, 1,500 more stayed away from work at the Todd yards there, waiting to take a strike vote later in the day.

Hoboken pickets took up their march at midnight, despite a plea from federal mediator Howard T. Colvin in Washington, who telegraphed that shipbuilding and ship-repair are vital because of the Korean situation.

The Union replied that while it "always put our country first," it had been negotiating with the company long enough.
