U.S. B-29's Carry War Near Soviet

Russia Given Unmistakable Token Of U. S. Determination To Risk Reaction

By ELTON C. FAY
AP Military Affairs Reporter

Washington, Aug. 14—(AP)—The United States has given Russia a new and unmistakable token of its determination to fight the Korean war even at the risk of open Soviet intervention.

A mission of American Air Force Superfortresses, in a strike on a North Korean city, slammed down more than 800 tons of bombs so close to Russian Siberia—17 miles—that the distant rumble of the attack probably was heard across the border.

This weekend bombing mission to the North Korean port city of Najin was one of the most daring and delicate operations of the war. The difference between putting bombs down on a North Korean target or, through accident or error in navigation, having them fall on Soviet territory was a matter of about five minutes flying time for a big formation maneuvering at a speed of more than three miles a minute.

But there was an even greater calculated risk. How would Russia react to the appearance of American planes, bombed and armed for combat, so close to her doorstep?

There was this to remember: On April 8, before there was any shooting war anywhere and in a different part of the world, four Russian fighters shot down a United States Navy patrol plane over the waters of the open Baltic. This attack occurred more than 30 miles from the nearest Russian territory, in an area supposedly free to sea or air navigation by any nation, and was made when the United States was at war with no one.

Moscow thereafter let it be known that more action of the same kind could be expected if foreign planes got too close to its iron curtain.

Whatever the reason, there was no indication that the Soviet Air Force reacted to the Najin mission. Information received here said nothing of the sighting by the bomber mission of non-American aircraft.

All operations in the Korean war presumably are carried by direction or approval of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Far Eastern Command. It in turn receives its broad strategic directives from the Joint Chiefs of Staff here. The Joint Chiefs' strategy is, of course, geared to the high overall policy defined at diplomatic level.

Thus it must be assumed the decision to carry the air war to the very edge of Russian territory has the sanction of the top policy-shapers.

The reason for hitting Najin seems to have been based on solid military grounds. It is a rail center and port town through which North Korean supplies and reinforcements have been moving. During recent weeks, the enemy has been moving men and material southward along its coastline in a series of short water hops, using small coastal steamers and other craft and moving usually by night.

Speedy New Stratojet In Flight

Solon Demands Political Truce In Mobilization Of Home Front

Washington, Aug. 14—(AP)—Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) today demanded "a truce on partisan politics" in dealing with home front mobilization. He did so after two Republican lawmakers assailed the Truman administration's handling of the program.

"I think this is a very poor time for anyone—Democrats or Republicans—to challenge the motives of those who are called upon to make the extremely difficult decisions required," O'Mahoney declared. "This of all times is a time for a truce on partisan politics, for partisan attacks are wholly uncalled for and only serve to weaken us." O'Mahoney was replying to week-

At Least 48 Pitt County People To Work In Canada

At least 48, and probably more, Pitt Countians will aid the tobacco growers of Ontario, Canada, with harvesting and curing their tobacco crop.

The Greenville office of the Employment Security Commission announced today that Canadian border crossing permits already have been issued to 48 people in the county to aid with the Canadian crop. According to the majority of the local curers were scheduled to arrive in Canada between August 1 and tomorrow, August 15.

Since this is the first year in which the border permits have been issued through the local employment offices, there are no figures available to compare the number of curers going to Canada this year with the number which went last year. For a number of years, however, Pitt County has furnished many and in most cases more curers

Tobacco Market To Open On August 21

Greenville Mart To Have An Extra Hour's Selling Time Each Day During The First Week To Make Up Lost Time

In accordance with the vote of the board of governors of the Bright Leaf Tobacco Warehouse association Saturday night, the Greenville tobacco market will open its sales for the 1950 season on Monday, August 21.

Sales Supervisor W. L. Whedbee said this morning the Greenville market will have an extra hour's selling time each day during the first week to help compensate for the one-day postponement of the opening of the markets of the eastern belt. The extra selling time was authorized by the board of governors of the warehouse association.

Originally the markets on the eastern belt were scheduled to begin sales on Friday, August 18. The sales on the Greenville market will begin at 8:30 Monday morning and last for six and one-half hours instead of the regular five and one-half hours. Whedbee said the extra selling hour during the five days of the first week will "partially compensate" for the one-day delay in the market's opening. He explained that the additional selling time will enable the Greenville market with its five sets of buyers to sell 2,000 baskets a day more than 11,000 baskets sold during a regular five-and-one-half hour selling day. At the end of the first week, he said, the market will have sold an extra 10,000 baskets of tobacco, whereas if the market had opened on Friday, it would have sold an extra 11,000 baskets of leaf.

What about the possibility of a sixth set of buyers on the Greenville market this year.

Whedbee replied emphatically, "Greenville will not run any rump sale in accordance with its previously announced policy. This is for the farmers' protection as I do not think any sale should be held without full buyer representation."

The Greenville market refrained from running rump sales last season even though other markets in the belt persisted in running the sales which did not have full buyer representation from the major domestic tobacco companies. Whedbee said he is in accord with the statement made in the Raleigh meeting Saturday night by J. C. Eagles, Jr. calling for more representation on the board of governors of the warehouse association for the eastern belt. Eagles in his statement pointed out that the eastern belt last year sold 33 per cent of the bright tobacco but the belt is allowed only 16 2-3 per cent of the representation on the board

Pitt Sanitarian Resigning Office

Morgan Submits Letter Of Resignation To Basnight

It was learned today that Charles V. Morgan, Pitt county sanitarian, has submitted his resignation to the health officer and board of health.

Morgan, in a letter last week to Dr. T. G. Basnight, health department head, stated he wished to resign his duties effective September 10. He gave no reasons for his resignation. He could not be contacted this morning.

Morgan's resignation brings to two the number of resignations in the department during the last 60 days. Effective June 30, Paul O. Brigham resigned his duties as Pitt county sanitarian. Brigham stated he was leaving to attend school for a year. He requested a year's leave without pay.

Basnight stated this morning his department and the board of health regretted very much Morgan's resignation and that each "wished him well" in whatever undertaking he will follow in the future.

The senior sanitarian has been with the local health department for three years. With 17 years' experience in sanitation work, Morgan split duties with the other sanitarian in the county, each handling half the sanitation regulations in Pitt.

At present the department is trying to obtain another man to fill Morgan's position. Basnight stated he has not yet designated who the new sanitarian will be.

Tsaldaris Urges Early European Army Action

Strasbourg, France, Aug. 14—(AP)—Constantin Tsaldaris formally proposed today that Western European governments begin immediate negotiations for a unified army.

He asked the European Council's Consultative Assembly to entrust its president, Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium, with carrying out the first preliminary steps.

Tsaldaris, former Greek premier, urged the assembly to "start the machinery in motion" for creation of the army proposed by Winston Churchill before the assembly last Friday. Spaak endorsed the plan and the assembly speedily approved it. Churchill, Britain's wartime prime minister, had warned there is "not a day to lose" for Western Europe to arm itself against Soviet aggression.

Spaak would be asked to adopt whatever procedure he judged best to enlist the support of the heads of national parliaments. The parliamentary leaders in turn would be asked to put pressure on their respective governments to carry out Churchill's proposal.

The parliamentary leaders would demand:

1. Immediate negotiations among the various Western European governments to adopt necessary measures for creating a unified European army.
2. Special sessions of parliament, if necessary, to back up the proposal.
3. Drafting of a convention, subject to quick ratification by parliaments, setting up the statutes of a European defense ministry.

What Is Communism?

You Can't Fight Or Fear Communism If You Don't Know What It Is; Foreign Affairs Analyst Provides A Plain Explanation Of What It Is, And Goals

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

A young woman of Cincinnati's "younger generation," who somewhat "will help to run the government of this great country," wants guidance.

For one thing she is told to fear Communism, but: "I don't know what Communism is, so how can I fear it or fight it. What is Communism?"

Well, Miss Betty, America can be proud of a younger generation which wants to play its part in government. But what a question to be answered in the short space of one column! However, let's have a go at it, and in plain talk.

Present day Communism mustn't be confused with the original which was conceived centuries ago. The old brand was in many respects a beneficent ideology. It abolished all private property and set up a community in which everyone shared equally in everything. In some cases even wives were shared.

Soviet Communism, or Bolshevism, is international in scope and it is militant. The fountain head is Moscow, whence come all fundamental laws. Countries which be-

Underwater Bridges Being Built Across Nakdong; Americans Score Local Successes; Heavily Outnumbered Where Reds Assembling Assault

Tokyo, Tuesday, Aug. 15—(AP)—Thrusting underwater bridges across the Nakdong River, the North Korean Reds proved today for an imminent drive on Taegu by an estimated 80,000 men on this fifth anniversary of Korea's liberation from Japan.

A summary issued early today by General MacArthur's Tokyo headquarters placed the Korean front near Taegu, 12 miles northwest of Taegu, main forward American base on the central front of South Korea.

There, it said, the Reds were believed to have completed a second underwater bridge. Such stone and log crossings are sunk about a foot below the surface to escape detection from the air.

Twenty-three miles south of Taegu, the American 24th Infantry division counterattacked and showed the Red Fourth division back 1,000 yards to a mile. MacArthur's summary, however, said the enemy still was moving reinforcements to the river's east bank in that sector southwest of Changyong.

However, was assembling their largest force. It was believed to be the most effective mass drawn from 15 divisions—150,000 men—the Reds had moved up to the long, curving battline. And it greatly outnumbered anything the Allies have to oppose them.

A Red attack down the Taegu-Taegon mountain valley corridor was expected momentarily. Tuesday is the fifth anniversary of the liberation of Korea from Japan. Such anniversaries are likely occasions in Communist propaganda for demonstrations of strength.

As the Red thousands assembled west of the Nakdong River, American troops recaptured muddy slopes on the Allied eastern side of the stream from some of the 12,000 Reds who crossed the river at Changyong, 23 miles south of Taegu.

The Communists have been trying to break out from their Nakdong river-crossing bulge for eight days. The U.S. 24th division, moving up behind 45-ton Pershing tanks, attacked the river-crossers at dawn Monday. They showed the North Koreans back from 1,000 yards to a mile along a flaming six-mile-long sector on the Allied eastern bank of the river.

Point blank, high velocity fire met the attacking Americans. Intelligence officers said the Communists had managed to get artillery and possibly some tanks over the river.

At the deep south anchor of the battline, U.S. Marines took hills just outside rumbled Chnju. U.S. 25th Infantry division troops poked through the hinterland looking for a battalion of Reds cut off by the smashing American offensive of last week that practically destroyed the Red Sixth Infantry division around Chnju.

At the other end of the 140-mile battline, American infantry and tanks still held the U.S. airstrip six miles south of Pohang. No. 2 east coast port on the Sea of Japan. Planes no longer used the field, however.

More than 300 fishing vessels have been attracted to the shrimping grounds by news of the discovery. Texas shrimp boats found the beds during exploratory trawls. (AP Photo.)

Five Years Ago, World Had Hopes

AP Newsfeatures

The Second World War ended five years ago today with the surrender of Japan. In the days that followed here's what people were saying:

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, in Moscow: "I see nothing in the future that would prevent Russia and the United States from being the closest possible friends. If we are really going to be friends we must really understand each other."

President Truman: "This is the day for the Democrats. This is the day when we can start on our real task of implementation of free government in the world where we are faced with the greatest task we've ever been faced with... I know we are going to do it."

Dr. Snyman Rhee, chairman of the Korean commission: "The Japanese surrender means the end of a long nightmare of terror and oppression in Korea. The Korean people will be forever grateful to the American people..."

Izvestia, official Soviet newspaper: "The cause of world peace and the freedom and security of peoples has triumphed."

Milton D. Cohn, national commander of the Disabled American Veterans: "The DAV hopes that the crushing of Japan ends wars for all time."

Winston Churchill warned of the spread of Communism and said of the atom bomb: "So far as we know, there are perhaps three or four years before the great program in the United States can be overtaken. In these three years we must remind the relationship of all men of

NEW FALL COLLECTION OF HANDMACHER SUITS SHOWN AT BRODY'S

America's number-one fashion, the softly tailored suit, appears at its best in the new Fall collection by America's number-one suit maker. Young, smart, admirably well adapted to the life and good looks of the young American woman, these suits are excellent examples of our national genius for achieving good taste and fine quality at moderate prices. "Tailored by Handmacher" suits might very well serve, in a traveling fashion show, as telling propaganda for the American way of life and business. Only in America, only by such a typical example of American production genius as the firm of Handmacher-Vogel, Inc., could such clothes be produced at popular prices.

Spotlighted for early autumn wear are "Weather-vanes," world's best-known rayon suits, now appearing in Fall styles and colors by popular request. Thousands of women who wore "Weather-vanes" all summer found their wrinkle-resistant crispness so pleasing that cool-weather "Weather-vanes" became a must. Although the great popularity of "Weather-vanes" is not based on price, but rather on fashion and value, nevertheless their price of $25 is tremendously appealing, too.

"Suitmakers," Handmacher-tailored versions of a new trend toward year-round unlined suits, are all done in finest wool fabrics... gabardines, checked or yarn-dyed worsteds in brilliant autumn-leaf colorings. Really fine suits, handled with all a famous suit-makers skill and care in fit, styling and detail. "Suitmakers" at $7.50 are another outstanding example of the Handmacher belief that good taste is never a matter of money.

Wool suits "Tailored by Handmacher" ranging in price from $59 to $85, are as varied in appearance as the women of all ages and walks of life who consider these suits the best fashion investment anyone can make. Many variations of the simple classic suit in wool gabardines, patterned worsteds and flannels are the backbone of collection, of course. Face-flattering velvet touches, young Peter Pan collars, feminine tucked details, unusual felt appliques make fashion news in other styles. Common denominator of all "tailored by Handmacher" suits is their perfection of fit; a wide range of sizes, each carefully designed for the figure type it is planned to suit, contributes largely to this fame of good fit. All styles are made in sizes 10 to 20 for the "Average" misses figure, and in sizes 9 to 15 for the junior type of figure. In addition, many of this year's Handmacher suits are developed in a new size range, proportioned sizes 10 1-2 to 20 1-2, made to order for the shorter, rounded young figure, the "half-size miss," a figure type which has heretofore been somewhat neglected.

Handmacher wool suits, as well as "Weather-vanes" and "Suitmakers" are found exclusively in this city at Brody's.—Adv.

Accused Slayer Saved From Mob

Walhalla, S.C., Aug. 14.—(AP)—An ex-convict charged with slaying two little girls and their father was removed from the county jail here early today. He was taken through a small crowd swarming about the little building and placed in jail in Gainesville, Ga.

Sheriff Eddie Weathers said Curtis Shedd, 30, was moved through about 100 persons without incident. Weathers termed the action "just precaution."

Earlier a crowd of between 3,000 and 4,000 had gathered here but most of them had gone home when Shedd was removed.

Fifty National Guardsmen were brought in last night from nearby Seneca when the crowd began to swell. They surrounded the jail. The crowd remained orderly.

The crowd began gathering after Georgia Bureau of Investigation Agent Woody Wilson announced that Shedd had admitted slaying John Boyter, 38, of Walhalla and his two daughters, Johnnie May, 14, and Jo Ann, 8.

The slain man's widow, Mrs. Christine Boyter 30, was being held for questioning. No charges have been filed against her.

Boyter's body was found last Wednesday in a heavily wooded area just inside the Georgia line near Clayton. He had been shot. Since then officers had searched for the man's two missing daughters. Yesterday Wilson said, Shedd confessed to the partially hidden bodies of the strangled girls in the Blue Ridge Mountains near Highlands N. C. Walhalla is near the Georgia, North Carolina lines.

USE OLD AGE
The Greeks were the only people ever to attain historical distinction who made it a point to utilize the wisdom of old age to its full. Perhaps that is the reason why the Greeks stand out as much the most marvelous people in human history. They did not believe that because a man had grown old he had grown useless. They did not expect men past middle age to take part in the Olympic games, but they did expect them to write epics and dramas, to design temples, to write philosophy. The result of all this was that the Greek used human capacities to the last drop. They knew that some of the best of human quality and ability is reserved for the last years of a man's life.

Observe how "progressive" modern America behaves in this regard. Are you fifty years old? Do you have white hair? You are through. When a woman is past sixty she is retired. At seventy men are told to stand aside and wait until the undertaker has time to come and get them.
If the passing years have not developed in older people certain capacities they could not possibly have had in youth, then they have lived in vain. A great step forward was taken by industry in this country when it learned how to utilize by-products and make profits by eliminating wastes. Let us stop wasting old age. There is lots of value there if we will but salvage it.

It's Profitable, And Room For More

Evidence of North Carolina's rapid growth as a dairying state is shown in a recent State Department of Agriculture report that imports of grade-A fluid milk from other states almost stopped during May and June, while state production greatly increased.

Jack Whitaker, in charge of milk auditing for the department, attributes the increased production largely to the orderly marketing schedules set forth by L. Y. Ballentine last year. Small producers apparently are finding a ready market.

Proof of the profits involved is demonstrated by the fact that Catawba county now boasts more than 90 grade-A dairies, as compared with less than a dozen ten years ago.

Dairying has progressed in Pitt county, too. But there's room for more growth in this field. North Carolina still has a long way to go before it can count on home supplies on a year-round basis.

Learning Again That Preparedness Pays

If the new tax measure emerges in the general form now being planned, starting October 1 we are all going to find another wedge taken out of our incomes.

Under present circumstances, few will complain; though some wage earners now barely making ends meet are going to be hard pressed.

Big business, little business and each working man and woman will be affected. For the individual taxpayer, withholdings on wages and salaries, after exemptions, would jump from the present 15 per cent to 18 per cent. The actual increase in taxes will be around 20 per cent for perhaps more than half of the 50 million-plus taxpayers. Corporation taxes face an over-all hike of $1.5 billion, raising the top rate from 38 per cent of income to 45 per cent.

Other features of the contemplated measure are designed to speed up corporate tax payments and the plugging of tax law loopholes.

It's doubtful that the public would have been so suddenly burdened with new taxes had the armed services been granted sufficient sums to maintain them at a reasonable level during the last five years. Certainly the immediate effects on the individual pocketbook would not have been so noticeable. The cost of emergency re-armament is always greater than constant preparedness. The risk is greater, too.

There were errors in judgment somewhere along the line; we're paying for those mistakes now in dollars and casualty lists.

No need now to cry over spilled milk. But surely we have re-learned that old lesson: The price of liberty is eternal vigilance.

Should current international trends continue their fateful course, present tax planning will be only a drop in the bucket as compared with future needs. Our commitments are vast and we have a selfish interest as well as being honor-bound in their fulfillment.

There is so much to be done; and only a handful of men on the other side of the world know how much time we have left in which to do it.

Baseball Has A New Rival

A new television show has gained top billing. It is the United Nations. Reports from the TV networks say the sessions of the security council which are being televised are replacing even baseball games for the afternoon television audiences.

The people are turning their attention from lighter past times to one which is keeping them informed on the rapidly changing world affairs.

A well informed public is one of the most vital factors in a democracy. The fact that the people are taking a keen interest in the sessions of the security council is an indication the people are making a renewed effort to keep abreast of the happenings which affect their lives directly and indirectly.

Democracy works best when the people are well informed on local events as well as national and international events which have to do with the government.

News Behind The News
By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14—Location of the new plants for manufacture of a stockpile of hydrogen bombs has given the Atomic Energy Commission its knottiest problem since it was organized to develop and produce atomic weapons. Its scientists and engineers are now scouring the countryside for safe and satisfactory sites.

Although the survey has just started, since the contract arrangement with E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. was consummated only a short while ago, it is likely that the Middle West will be chosen for the site, and that the energy required for such a vast project will be coal rather than hydroelectricity.

TARGET—In that event, the H-bomb center would probably be located within a triangle roughly bounded by West Virginia, Ohio and Pennsylvania, although it could be situated slightly outside that area because of other factors than a safe and steady supply of energy.

Interestingly enough, the politics have not staged their usual rush to AEC, as they do when they see a chance to obtain a source of employment and increased industrial and business activity for their states and districts. It would not profit them if they did, for H-bomb plants will be located for other than political factors.

However, the party contractors show by their indifference that they regard construction of such a likely target for an enemy as a dubious benefit for their constituents.

VULNERABILITY—The compelling considerations in selecting a site are (1) invulnerability to foreign attack and sabotage (2) a plentiful source of energy at all times of the year (3) transportation facilities through relatively safe areas for bringing in necessary elements and (4) skilled labor.

The question of vulnerability appears to eliminate both New England and the Northwest. In regions so near the coast, it would be necessary to construct the H-plants and allied industrial annexes, as well as the workers' communities, deep underground. Such an undertaking would be too costly and it does not enter into present plans.

Even if coastal radar fences were thrown up in these two northern corners of the country, they would not provide protection. Despite the advance warning which such a defensive screen provides, safety demands that these vital plants be built at least 300 or 500 miles from the shoreline.

That will give interceptor planes enough time to ward off or minimize the threat of an attacking aerial fleet. It is admitted that this offers the maximum assurance of security in an all-out war.

POWER—The factor of a permanent source of power ranks almost on a par with the problem of vulnerability in determining where the H-bombs shall be made.

The two great reservoirs of hydroelectricity are, of course, the Northwest and the Tennessee Valley Basin.

But, despite the construction and expansion of dams and hydro plants in those areas—Grand Coulee, Bonneville etc.—the power facilities in both sections were overloaded in World War II in meeting other war needs.

They will be even more pressed in the next, if any. The same consideration applies to Southern California, Arizona and Texas despite present and proposed expansion of hydroelectric projects in that direction.

LABOR—As a result of these considerations, the dependable, virtually inexhaustible and old reliable fuel-coal—may come into its own. Far from being displaced by atomic or hydroelectric energy, the "sick industry" may become healthier than it has been in many years.

If reliance on this source becomes necessary in the location of the new H-industry a natural choice would be the triangle mentioned above. Such a site would permit a minimum transportation effort. The proximity of the plants and mines would contribute to security.

Moreover, it is almost impossible to bomb a coal mine out of existence or operation, whereas above-ground plants, dams and highlines make excellent targets for enemy aircraft.

It is also pointed out that as of today at least, there is a surplus of labor in this general section. In addition, should the numerous factories now making peacetime goods in Ohio, Illinois, Michigan, Pennsylvania etc. be forced into war production, their non-essential employees could be shifted easily to nearby H-work.

SIZE—Incidentally, the H-bomb award to the du Ponts seems to toss a bombshell into the Administration's anti-trust crusade against this and similar organizations on the sole ground that they are "big."

The du Ponts can handle this project only because their size and wealth enabled them to build up the technical, scientific and know-how resources required. It could not take on the job if it had been broken up by the D. J. Co., too, with U.S. Steel, Alcoa, General Motors and General Electric. All these firms have been or are now under anti-trust indictments.

Around Capitol Square

Daily Reflector Bureau By LYNN NISBET Raleigh, N. C.

CIVIL SERVICE—The question of whether the State of North Carolina should have a system of civil service affecting its employees, other than highway personnel and school teachers, is of some interest to every taxpayer. It is of immediate and special concern for members of the North Carolina State Employees Association. Some three thousand members of the association are now being polled to ascertain their wishes as a guide for action by the official board at the state convention next month. The annual meeting is scheduled for Robert E. Lee Hotel, Winston-Salem, September 22-23. The civil service question and other prospective matters for legislative attention will be considered then.

DIVIDED—There is marked divergence of opinion among state workers on the advantages of civil service status. With enough exceptions to justify question of whether it is the rule casual survey indicates that long time employees do not like the idea, relative newcomers to the state payroll do like it. The situation has been somewhat confused by contradictory explanations sent out by Alden P. Honeycutt, NCEA president, accompanying ballots. On July 13 Honeycutt wrote that proposed civil service examinations would not be required, for promotions or for new jobs, of employees with six months or more tenure.

Then on August 3 he wrote again that the first letter was wrong, and that examinations would be required of all employees for promotions or new jobs although not for continuing in present brackets. By that time a number of employees had voted on the original proposition, and although substitute ballots were included with the revised letter, some workers felt they had been misled.

POLITICS—There is also an element of personal politics involved, some of the employees feeling that effort is being made to use the association to further political ambitions of Mayne Albright, attorney and lobbyist for the group, former employment service director and candidate for governor in the 1948 Democratic primary.

REPRESENTATIVE—There is further complaint that whatever the result of current balloting among members of the North Carolina State Employees Association, it will reflect only minority opinion. During the last fiscal year membership in the association was approximately 3400 out of a potential of more than ten thousand. The roster now contains less than 3,000 names, but it is expected that by annual convention time it will be up to or above last year's total. In answer to that criticism, association enthusiasts point to real accomplishments in behalf of all state workers through sponsorship of the association in the last general assembly, and to the further fact that concerted effort of an organized minority can accomplish more any time than sporadic efforts of scattered individuals.

SIZE—NCEA is fourth in size among organizations of state employees. Biggest is NCEA (North Carolina Education Association) embracing some 18,000 white school teachers. Next comes the State Highway Employees Association with about 7,000 members. The North Carolina Teachers Association (Negro) has approximately 6,000 members, and NCSSEA has slightly more than 3,000. Each of these organizations protests designation or implication of unionism, and have successfully resisted efforts of big labor organizations to enroll them. They are professional and craftsmen organizations for benefit of members and associates. SUASION—For most part their efforts to obtain desired legislation have been through persuasion rather than by use of pressure of threats. Legislators have complained that in some instances fanatical representatives of the school teachers have attempted "big stick" pressure methods. There is rather general impression these tactics backfired and resulted in less rather than more consideration of bills sponsored by the pressure groups.

LEGISLATION—That gets back to starting point of civil service for state employees. Whether legislation on that item will be sought in the next general assembly will depend upon action of the NCEA convention in Winston-Salem next month and that action will be determined by result of the current poll of members. Governor Scott has been non-committal when queried about his attitude at several press conferences. He has pointed out that civil service examinations might procure better qualified workers. On the other hand civil service protection would make it more difficult for a departmental administrator to require efficiency on part of employees. Personal characteristics, adaptability to surroundings, congenial relations with fellow-workers, are sometimes more important than ability to pass an examination or operate an office machine.

DUTY—Furthermore it is the duty of the legislature to enact laws for the good of all the people, rather than to make them fit the desires of present or prospective recipients of state salary checks. Regardless of how the poll comes out or action of the conventions held by NCEA, NCSSEA, NCEA, NCTA or any other alphabetical agency, the 170 men making up the general assembly will have final say so.

What Other Papers Are Thinking

HOW MANY FRENCH?
(Henderson Daily Dispatch)

France wants six American and six British divisions stationed in Germany permanently or for a long, long time. They argue this would be sufficient to hold back the Russians in event of attack, at least until necessary additional assistance could be rushed up.

But how many divisions will France put into Germany? So little is said about that. The hint is cunningly thrown out that all armed forces, however many or large, would, of course, be supported by American money.

This is the sort of stuff that burns us down. Everybody is ready to spend our cash for us, or to tell us how it can be done. They are much less concerned about applying their own resources. The attitude appears to be that of letting America do the job, while they reap the benefits, and then hate us for good measure.

We quite agree that there are far too few occupational forces in Germany. In number, they are scarcely more than a mere token force which an all-out Russian offensive could quickly overwhelm. In the light of developments these past few weeks, the occupational strength should be greatly increased. But others besides the United States should assume some of the burden and some of the cost. Maybe they aren't striving to pull America down to their level, but what they say and what they do certainly points in that direction.

STATE PARKS
(New Bern Sun-Journal)

The people of North Carolina are using their thirteen state parks to a better advantage than ever before, says the North Carolina Department of Conservation and Development. Latest figures indicate that during the first six months of 1950, approximately 28,606 persons visited the state parks for such recreation as hiking, picnicking, camping, swimming, boating and fishing.

UNJUST LAW
(Raleigh News and Observer)

When an election law discourages instead of encourages the expression of the public will at the polls, it is time to amend that law. Such a time has arrived for the law governing beer and wine elections in North Carolina.

Some of the "discrepancies" of the present law appeared recently in Haywood County when Judge J. Will Pless signed an order restraining the county board of elections from holding a beer-wine election. Originally, a vote on the issue was set August 12, but it was postponed until September 2 because of the second primary June 24. Under the law, a beer-wine election cannot be held within 60 days of another election. Therefore, Judge Pless' order—issued because some legal technicalities had not been met—means that the citizens of Haywood cannot vote on this question until 1951, since the general election will be held in November.

The faults of the 60-day rule are many. For one thing, it is purely and simply a device to delay votes on beer and wine. It has no other purpose. With national, state and local elections occurring with frequency, the time during which an election can be held is strictly limited, and the right of the people to vote is consequently infringed.

It is patently unjust to load a law with worthless technicalities in order to prevent an expression of public sentiment on any issue, whatever it is. This law should be amended and the apparent inequities in it removed.

Business Today

By ELMER ROESSNER

Packaging, which has undergone an almost complete revolution since World War II, may undergo another one. Manufacturers face the problem of putting more "sell" into the packages and doing it with a minimum of scarce and high-priced materials.

The more sell is necessary because the shift of manpower to the armed services and war plants will accelerate the shift to self-service stores. In these, the package itself must do the job of salesmen in pointing out advantages, suggesting uses and inducing the customer to buy.

That's what manufacturers have been trying to do with their packaging since self-service emporiums began to grow in popularity. But it is now complicated by the fact that many materials are growing scarce. I face the possibility of restrictive controls and these and many others have been rising in price.

Either voluntary or federal restrictions may divert lead, tin and aluminum into militarily essential channels. Chemicals for producing certain colors may also be diverted during the war. Machinery for embossing and cutouts may be difficult to replace when worn out.

Paper and paperboard have been rising in price. These too may fall under allocation. Cellophane has already gone up in price, one company putting it up 4 cents a pound.

Many manufacturers have shifted to plastic containers recently. Here again there's uncertainty. Some plastics may become scarce because component chemicals are needed for military purposes; part of the production of other plastics may be taken for military electronic uses, other military equipment or for armed services packaging.

Some of the coming changes in packaging may be voluntary; others may be forced on manufacturers by the semi-war economy.

BRAND BUYING RISES WITH AGE

That there are brand-conscious ages among women is indicated by a National Family Opinion survey in Toledo, re-reported by the Brand Names Foundation. In the 14-to-19 age group of women, only 18 1/2 per cent bought frozen food by brand names, while in the older groups, 80 per cent insisted on brand names. The highest brand-consciousness was in the 45-to-54 group, in which 85.8 per cent bought by brand name.

ICE CREAM STANDARDIZING TASK RESUMED
Now that the Federal Trade Commission has set up tentative standards for bread, the Federal Security Administration plans to set up standards for ice cream.

The FDA started the job in 1942, but war food restrictions caused it to drop the project. Hearings will be resumed on November 13 this year, but it may take another year to determine just where icecream leaves off and frozen custard begins, and other facts necessary for official standards.

The PTC bread standards are being protested by chemical companies making "twens and spans" which are emulsifiers to give bread a better texture. These protests will be weighed before the standards are made effective. FIRST U.S. TRADE FAIR OUT-DRAWS EUROPE'S

The United States, in its first try, appears to have overshadowed the trade fairs of Europe, some of which are many years old.

In both attendance and orders placed in the first week, the Chicago International Trade Fair appears to have out-classed the old fairs in Holland, Germany and other countries. Because of the success, there's been talk of extending the Chicago fair beyond the original closing date of Aug. 20.

NEW AND HOT SWEEPER: A new model vacuum cleaner to be introduced (by Lewyt Corp., Brooklyn) in October will be offered with a carpet-sweeper nozzle as an extra accessory. The nozzle has a revolving brush which loosens dirt to be sucked into the machine, or it may be used separately as a carpet sweeper.

TENDERIZER: A dehydrated enzyme from papaya, which has been found effective as a meat tenderizer, is now being packaged in a tea-bag form (by Papaya Research Laboratories, 4895 S. W. 8th St., Miami). The enzyme dissolves in cold water, one bag making enough solution to tenderize four pounds of meat.

THEROSTAT: A new thermostat has been designed especially for use in homes. The dial, changing at night, and the control knob is hidden in the end of the cover to thwart patients and visitors from turning it. (It's by Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Co., Minneapolis.)

punished — perhaps sent to labor camps, to prison, or even to death. Those who serve the nation best are rewarded in various ways and may become famous.

When Communism came to power in Russia through the Revolution of 1917, it established the "Third International," or Comintern, which was known as the general staff for world revolution. It now is called the Cominform.

The object of the Comintern was to carry revolution to every country in the world, to establish Communist governments. This was undertaken by Red agents which we call fifth columnists.

Now it's important to note that the Red leaders laid it down that every revolution must be accompanied by violence and bloodshed. This was to impress the importance of the event on the minds of the proletariat.

That's why there has been violence in all the countries which Russia has absorbed as satellites. In some cases there has been no actual revolution, but there have been "purges" of people opposed to the change.

Another important point is that Communism is atheistic. It opposed religion fiercely on the grounds that it is the "dope of the masses." The real point is that religious people are opposed to the militant methods of Bolshevism. Hitler fought religion for a similar reason.

You ask, Miss Betty, what chances there are of Communism spreading in the United States. There is small chance if folks like you take the trouble to find out what Communism really is.

New Liquid Kills Roaches and Ants

New Way to Kill Pests Discovered by Scientists

ROACHES are the most difficult household pests to control, and they can be brought into any home from the market in a bag of potatoes or other groceries.

Science has just come forth with a new discovery that kills cockroaches and ants, and that stays effective for months. It is called Johnston's NO-ROACH coating.

It's just as simple and easy to use as it looks. You paint the coating on surfaces frequented by roaches and ants, woodwork near the sink, baseboards, garbage pails, window and door sills. When these crawling pests come in contact with this invisible, odorless, stainless coating they slowly become paralyzed, turn over on their backs with legs waving in the air, and die. Then the coating stays effective for months to kill any strays that get into the home and that walk over it.

Science has seen to it, too, that this product contains no DDT, no sodium fluoride, and no phosphorus. Johnston's NO-ROACH is not a contaminating spray, or a messy powder. It is colorless, and may be brushed just where you want it, without having to move all your dishes and pots and pans.

Prices are 8 oz. for 89c, pint for $1.69, and a quart for $2.98.

Governor Dowd Active In Lions

By CHESTER WALSH
O. E. Dowd, principal of the Greenville high school and governor of Lions' clubs in District 31-F, covers a large territory. Lion Dowd was appointed district governor at the recent International Lions' Convention at Chicago. His district embraces 22 northeastern North Carolina counties, reaching from Greenville on the west to Manteo on the coast.

District 31 includes 53 Lions' clubs, with a total of 2,634 members. Governor Dowd has five deputy governors and 14 zone chairmen to hold office during the fiscal year 1950-51.

Dowd has been active in Lions' work since during the war years. He was instrumental in organizing the Lions' Club at Greenville. The records show that the Greenville Lions' Club went forward during his administration. The Lions have done outstanding work in their project for the sightless and near-sightless.

District Governor Dowd upon his return from the Lions International Convention started making his visitations to the clubs in his district. Between July 25 and August 11 he traveled 1120 miles to visit eleven Lions clubs. Towns visited include Greenville, Tarboro, Warrenton, Whitakers, Swan Quarter, Manteo, Elizabeth City, Coferain, Williams- ton and Washington.

His visitations included the charter presentation to the new Lions Club of Lewiston; an address at the ladies' night banquet at the Swan Quarter Lions Club, which was held at Mattamuskeet Lodge; the installation of deputy governors at Lions clubs at Whitakers, Warrenton and Williamston, and appointment of zone chairmen at Greenville and Washington.

good work; and others, distrusting the ability of aging people, won't hire them.

So many people, not wanting it, are forced into retirement although they have ahead of them useful years for themselves and society. How can employers be persuaded to hire aging people or not make retirement compulsory for those still capable of good work?

Recreation—Does an old person slide into a backwater, forgotten and left to fill up as he may the big gap left in his life by his retirement from active work?

Or do cities and communities take an interest in them and provide them with interests, such as recreation, to keep them interestedly alive? The conference is discussing what communities can do.

Medical—There's the problem of more research into what can be expected physically and mentally from old people, how they should be treated.

All of this, of course, runs hand in hand with the economic problem of old age: The problem of income.

The aging problem is growing year by year and will continue to grow as more people live longer

New Eating Establishment To Open Doors Here On Wednesday

Greenville's newest eating establishment will open its doors next Wednesday when Respass - James Barbecue House begins operation at the intersection of the Farmville-Ayden highway.

The three dinin-room restaurant will be jointly operated by Mrs. Margaret Respass and A. D. James, both of Greenville. Mrs. Respass is the widow of Alton Respass who opened the first barbecue restaurant in Greenville.

The building is constructed of concrete block with large picture windows opening off the dining rooms. Inside, the walls are of pine paneling and floors of block linoleum. One of the rooms will be closed off for use by private parties, seating between 60 and 70 patrons.

The other rooms will have 19 and 11 tables respectively.

The building has been under construction for the past few weeks. James said yesterday he plans to open for business at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning. No definite closing hour has been set yet.

Big New Rocket Used In Combat

Tokyo, Aug. 14—(AP)—The "Tiny Tim," a big new American 11-75 inch rocket, was used yesterday for the first time in real combat. Result was reported good.

Fired from a carrier-based U. S. Navy Corsair fighter plane, one of the armor-piercing rockets knocked out a bridge at Chungju, 90 miles northwest of Taegu, in its first war test, an official announcement from Gen. MacArthur's headquarters said.

Other Corsairs using the Tiny Tim destroyed 13 enemy locomotives, damaged 23 more, blasted eight cars of ammunition, set two fuel-oil trains afire and strafed seven cars loaded with Communist soldiers.

The Tiny Tim is the second new rocket-launched introduced in the Korean war. The first was the 3.5 inch, fired by a two man team—a loader and a holder-aimed. It is fired only from the ground.

Both new ones are outgrowths of the original 2.36 Bazooka developed during World War II.

Balloons Help In Catching Limit

Waynesville, N. C.—C. E. weatherby, coach of Waynesville High school athletics, always carries along a bunch of small balloons on base flashing expeditions.

The balloons get into the act after the first catch. He inflates one, ties it to the tail of the captive fish by an eight-inch string, then tosses the fish back into the water. The bass wiggles off to join the school. Weatherly follows the balloon.

Ban Seventh Red Newspaper

Frankfurt, Germany, Aug. 14—(AP)—Allied authorities have banned the 7th Communist newspaper in western Germany in a widening crackdown against Communist and western propaganda.

The Mannheim Badisches Volksecho (Echo of the People) was banned for 90 days for violating allied laws against printing material prejudicial to the prestige and security of the allied forces.

32 Years Old, She's A Grandma

Chicago—(AP)—Mrs. Mollie Divito recently became a grandmother at the age of 32. Her daughter, Mrs. Rosemarie Campbell, 17 gave birth to a girl.

"I didn't want Rosemarie to be married so young, back in 1948 but now I'm happy about it," the girl's grandma said. "After all, I was married at 14."

They decided to name the youngster Joy.

Tropical Storm Gaining Strength

Miami, Fla., Aug. 14—(AP)—A tropical storm in the South Atlantic reached hurricane force today but was too far away and developing too slowly for any coastal area to become concerned about it.

A Navy hurricane hunter flew through and over the disturbance early this morning and found winds of 75 miles an hour near the center. Last night the highest winds were 60 miles an hour.

Grady Norton, chief storm forecaster in the Miami Weather Bureau, said "it isn't much of a hurricane as midseason storms go."

Its position at 9 a.m. was at latitude 23.36 north and longitude 66.00 west, or some 375 miles north of San Juan, P.R. that would put it about 1,000 miles southeast of Miami.

"The storm is moving northwestward or west-northwestward at a slow rate of speed. It will be over the open ocean for several days. We are keeping close watch on it, but there isn't the slightest cause for concern by any coastal area at present," Norton said.

HOMEMADE CORN RELISH . . . Delicious with fish . . .
 By CECILY BROWNSTONE
 Associated Press Food Editor

Now is the time to put up some homemade corn relish to store on your pantry shelf. It'll be a wonderful pickup later on for a humdrum meal—delectable with meatloaf (hot or cold), chicken (fried, broiled, or roasted), and perfect for the night you take things easy and serve the family hamburgers on toasted rolls. If Friday fare means fish in your household, you'll find the following Corn Relish is good with both filets and fish steaks.

First preserving pointer is to choose vegetables that are fresh, young, and of good quality. You'll get the best result this way.

Don't try to make relishes by "feel"—standard measurements really pay off here. Follow the directions in your recipe exactly.

A distilled white vinegar, of a uniform acidity, makes a fine preserving medium. A good vinegar of this kind will be crystal-clear, and it will help retain the bright garden colors of your vegetables, as well as mellow with them to a fine flavor. Be careful not to use jars and lids that have nicks or cracks.

don't take your greatest asset for granted

Most of us throw every safeguard possible around our property. Homes, automobiles, and valuable personal property are carefully insured against losses by fire, theft, and storm. We insure our lives to protect the economic well-being of our dependents.

Yet health, on which depends our ability to earn these material comforts, is often completely neglected. Good health is too frequently taken for granted until it is lost. It is wise to protect this priceless asset. Include a health examination for every member of the family in your yearly budget. When medicine is prescribed, bring the prescription to us for prompt, economical service.

Robins Drop Two Of Three Contests Over Weekend; Now In Fourth Place

Wilson And Greenville Split Saturday's Twin Bill, But Costly Error Sunday Provided Visitors 6-5 Victory; Goldsboro Here Tonight

The Greenville Robins find themselves in fourth place after a hectic weekend with the Wilson Tobs when they dropped two of their three contests. The Tobs and the Robins split a twin bill on Saturday night with the Tobs taking the opening game, 4-2, and the locals taking the nightcap by a 6-5 margin. Then on Sunday afternoon the Robins literally gave the game to the Tobs by a 6-5 count as the result of a costly error in the top of the seventh frame.

Saturday's Games

In the first game, which featured the two managers of their respective clubs on the mound, Manager Bill Herring of the Tobs bested Manager Sandy Heflin of the Robins in a pitcher's battle.

The Robins took the lead at 2-1 in the fifth frame when Manager Randy Heflin clouted his second homer of the season over the right field fence to bring in Jack Dunlavey ahead of him, who had been walked. The circuit clout came after two men were out.

The Tobs scored a singleton in the fourth frame on a single by Sam Berry, a walk to Luke Tucker and Red Gay's single to plate Berry. They put across what proved their winning runs in the bottom of the fifth when Ralph Beard and Joe Fulghum walked. Jim Smith hit one to Shortstop Lautato who booted the ball with Beard scoring and then Luke Tucker singled to bring home Fulghum. The two runs scored by the Tobs were of the unearned variety.

They added another marker in the sixth frame when Dickens singled, stole second and Ralph Beard singled to bring him home.

Manager Bill Herring of the Tobs limited the Robins to four hits, striking out five and walking one. Manager Heflin of the Robins allowed only seven hits with Luke Tucker getting two singles for the only man on either team to get more than one hit.

In the second game, the Robins pounded five run hitters for an even dozen hits, to take a 6-5 win and gain a split in the bargain bill.

The Robins scored a singleton in the second frame on a double by Valvano and Dunlavey's single. They added three more in the fifth frame on singles by Bland, Lautato and Tepedino, two fielder's choices and one walk.

Two runs in the seventh frame gave the Robins their margin of victory. A walk to Bartolozzi, Guidice's double and an error by Bobby Dingler gave the Robins their two markers in this frame.

The Tobs scored three runs in the fourth frame on two walks, a single, a double and an error and came back to score their final two runs of the contest in the eighth frame on two singles and a double by Luke Tucker and a long fly to deep right field.

Rookie Pete Braun was credited with the win to give him a record of three wins and two losses for the season, although he had to have help from Ray Keys in the final frame. Braun scattered eight hits among the Tobs in gaining the victory.

Sunday's Game

The Wilson Tobs handed the Greenville Robins their tenth defeat of the season here yesterday afternoon as they edged out the locals by a 6-5 score to give them a two-to-one win in the three-game weekend series.

After spotting the Robins five runs in the first three frames, in which they collected five of their six total hits, the Tobs, trailing as they went into the top of the sixth by a 5-0 score, came back in the sixth and seventh frames to score six runs on six hits and take the win.

The Robins scored two in the first on two walks, a single, an error and fielder's choice. They scored a singleton in the second on two singles and a sacrifice; and in the third frame Ralph Bartolozzi's homer over the right field wall to bring in Sal Valvano who had reached first on a single. That was the end of the scoring for the Robins for the afternoon and after the third frame were able to garner only one hit for the rest of the route.

The Tobs likewise did all their scoring in two innings. They scored four runs in the top of the sixth on four singles and three walks and shoved across two more runs in the seventh for their winning margin. Tucker walked, Grimsley singled and then Beard laid down a perfect sacrifice down the third base line and Pitcher Bobby Harrison picked up the ball, threw wild to third, with Tucker scoring the tying run and allowing Grimsley to advance to second. Then Pitcher Milton Rolat singled into right field to bring home Grimsley for the tie-breaking run.

Vince Jones started on the mound for the Robins and was relieved in the sixth frame after giving up nine hits and four runs. Bobby Harrison, who relieved him at this point, pitched officially to only six batters, was charged with the loss after pitching only one full inning. Lewey pitched the remaining two frames and held the Tobs scoreless.

Cliff Barnes started on the mound for the Tobs and after pitching three and one-third frames in which he gave up all five runs and the six hits collected by the Robins, was relieved by Milton Rolat who pitched the remaining five and two-thirds frames, held the Robins hitless and scoreless to receive credit for the win.

The Robins play at home tonight when they meet the Goldsboro Cards in the first of a two-game series.

Gastonia Team Nears Triumph

Gastonia, Aug. 14 — (AP)—Gastonia American Legion Junior baseball team today stood one game away from winning the state championship.

The Gastonia nine finally stifled a determined ninth-inning Scotland County rally here Saturday night to win 8-7. That gave Gastonia a three to one edge in the best four of seven series.

Safe At Third . . .

There are precious few spots in the Washington line-up that Manager Bucky Harris feels are adequately filled, and third base is one of them. That is where Eddie Yost holds forth for the Senators. Only 33 years old, he is a veteran of four seasons in the big show. As a fielder, he is a natural third baseman. And he has blossomed out at a hitter.

The Tobs likewise did all their scoring in two innings. They scored four runs in the top of the sixth on four singles and three walks and shoved across two more runs in the seventh for their winning margin.

Yost had an excellent tutor in Ossie Bluege, the Senators' former third base ace, and ex-manager. When Bluege turned the hot corner chores over to Eddie, the youngster knew most of the answers. The rest he has since learned. After showing power at the plate, Yost blossomed out into a steady hitter. About 300 should be his speed.

Washington picked Eddie up on the sand-lots of Long Island when Scout Joe Cambria beat out the Red Sox and Phillies in the battle for the signature. He was the first Washington player to collect 100 hits this season. And just to establish his power at the plate, nine of these were of the home run variety. He is an ideal lead-off man because of his eye for balls and strikes and his natural speed on the base paths. Unless something unforeseen happens the Senators will be insured excellent third base coverage for many years to come.

West Virginia Boy Wins Soapbox Derby At Akron

Akron, O., Aug. 14 — (AP)—A lanky 15-year-old youngster from Charleston, W. Va. is the nation's new soap box derby champion.

Harold D. Williamson calmly steered his streamlined black racer to victory yesterday to win the 13th derby race before a crowd of some 50,000.

A straight "A" student, the freckled youth will receive a $5,000 four-year scholarship for taking the All-American event sponsored by Chevrolet and a host of newspapers. Williamson represented the Charleston, W. Va. Gazette.

Second place went to Donald Alor, 15, of Danville, Pa., who was sponsored by the Williamsport, Pa. Sun-Gazette. He finished a scant length behind Williamson on the 975.4 foot track and won a new Chevrolet automobile.

Richard Dougan, 13, of Muncie, Ind., representing the Muncie Star, came in third. His prize was a motion picture camera and projector.

Williamson had to win five heats and conquer a field of 146 opponents in his story-book finish. Six years ago, he was in bed with rheumatic fever. He emerged with strong, uncrippled limbs after a two-year struggle, but with a weak heart.

Although he missed two years of school, but came back to make it up and will start his sophomore year in high school next fall.

Oddly, his winning time in the final event was his poorest of the day, 27.50 second. In winning other heats, he had been timed at 27.49, 27.47, and 27.22.

Ez Charles Has Plenty To Lose

Buffalo, N.Y., Aug. 14 — (AP)—When Ezzard Charles defends his NBA heavyweight title against Freddie Besore tomorrow night the shadow of Joe Louis will be over the ring.

The Negro champion from Cincinnati has everything to lose and little to gain by a victory over the blond Harrisburg, Pa., challenger. Upon the outcome depends a $500,000 September Lewis-Charles bout.

Charles enters the ring a 1-5 favorite over the comparatively unknown Besore, but he can't take any chances.

He doesn't intend to, either. The champion is fully aware that the boxing world will be interested in the effect of his long injury-imposed lay-off. He also realizes Besore has made the most of the long wait for the twice-postponed fight and kept in trim.

"I'm not taking him (Besore) cheap as long as he's been in training," said Charles.

"As a matter of fact, I never take it easy in any fight. It'll go 'til one of us gets in the way. I don't go in with the intent to knockout. If the guy gets in the way, well—, I always fight to win as quick as I can."

Tonight's Games

Goldsboro at Greenville
Tarboro at Wilson
Roanoke Rapids at Kinston (2)
New Bern at Rocky Mount (2)

Be sure to make your plans tonight to attend the ball game out at Guy Smith Stadium when "Radio Appreciation Night" for Jack Hedgepeth, sportscaster for the local radio station, will be observed by the club. No greater tribute to a fellow that gives his all to the game will be more appreciated than for him to witness an overflow crowd at the game. Jack leaves Wednesday morning for San Antonio, Texas, to enter the Air Force.

On Tuesday evening, August 22, by popular demand, Mat Palkin, baseball's greatest clown, will appear at Guy Smith stadium, for the second time this season. On that night the Robins will play the Goldsboro Cards here. Max wrote Business Manager Russ Filley stating how well he enjoyed himself on his last visit here July 1st, and stated he had arranged his itinerary so that he could return to Greenville before the season closed.

The Rocky Mount Leafs have obtained Bill Rutch from the Raleigh Capitals and he made his appearance on Thursday night against the Jays when he pitched a 14-inning contest to win his first professional game. . . . Bo Stevens has returned to the Bears' camp and pitched his tenth win against Kinston Friday night. Incidentally, the Bears are on the verge of losing their outfielder, Chuck Olive, who plans to take a civil service job aboard a naval proving station in Norfolk.

Limited service catcher Steve Marko has been purchased by the Jays from the Durham Bulls of the Carolina League. Marko was optioned by the Bulls to Bridgeport, Conn., of the Class B Colonial League this season until the league was forced to fold. At the same time it was announced that limited service Ralph Bernardini had been sold by the Jays to the Rockingham Rocks of the Tobacco State League. . . . The protest which Rocky Mount lodged during the game with Goldsboro the other night has been withdrawn. The club officials felt the carrying out of the protest might be a useless gesture in view of a similar case which cropped up recently in Texas. . . . Joe Moss, veteran outfielder and catcher, who was bought from the now defunct Albemarle League, was recently released by Manager Bill Herring of the Wilson Tobs. Moss' release allowed Manager Herring, who had been inactive for more than a month, to get back into the line-up.

Softball Series' Final Game Due This Afternoon

Post Office and Scott Motors go at it again this afternoon in the final game of the softball series to determine the champ of the Industrial League. Game time is six o'clock.

The series began last Tuesday and continued through the week. Scott took the first game of a two-timer pitched by Bill Harrington. Post Office came back on Wednesday to even the count at one game each when Smith pitched the team to an 8-4 victory.

Thursday, the nip and tuck pursuit continued with another Scott win, this time by a 6-3 margin. Post Office took the fourth contest to again tie the series at two games each. Friday's score was a lopsided 10-2 victory.

Scott will probably be without the services today of pitcher-leftfielder Bill Kittrell who hurt his knee in the fourth game. He was carried off the field after getting safely back into third after attempting to score.

Harrington and Flye will be the battery for Scott in the final game. They will oppose Smith and Jordan for Post Office. Harrington has the edge on Smith with two wins against one for the series. The latter rested during Thursday's game and came back on Friday to set Scott down with four safeties.

Coach Dole Expects To Greet Forty-Five Men With Good Nucleus From 1949 Squad

By BILL LLOYD

Ole man football is just around the corner!

This fact becomes more evident as East Carolina begins its 1950 gridiron workouts here September 1.

A squad of forty-five men are expected to greet Head Coach Bill Dole as the Pirates open drills for a rugged 10-game schedule.

Twenty-five lettermen are expected to form the nucleus for a more powerful East Carolina eleven this year. Last season's squad compiled a commendable record of four wins against five losses, with one tie.

Lettermen expected back include Ed Tanner, Bob Bradley, Dwight Shue, Frank Maennie, and Cecil Winslow, ends; Bill McDonald, Dennis Smith, Al Auerbach, and Ken Booth, tackles; Leon Ellis, Reggie Byrd, Max Kinlaw, and Don McKenzie, guards; Buck Wilson, Frank Madigan, and Pete Prominski, centers.

In the backfield, Dole will have All-Conference Roger Thrift along with monogram winners Sandy Siler, Jack Benzie, John Daughtry, Bill Darby, Bob Grady, Billy Smith, Johnny Smith, and Jack Melvin.

Eleven newcomers who entered East Carolina last year and participated in winter football drills, plus nine incoming freshmen will round out the squad.

When asked for a statement concerning prospects this fall before departing for the Cleveland Browns football camp at Bowling Green, Ohio, Coach Dole, beginning his second year at the helm of the East Carolina football forces, declared: "Everyone knows that the North State is a tough conference, and in this fall schedule we will meet all of our conference opponents with the exception of one. In lieu of the fact, that we have 25 lettermen returning, and that we experienced a good winter practice, I would very conservatively say we would be some better."

East Carolina opens its ten-game slate with the Naval Apprentice School at Newport News, Va., September 15, in a non-conference affair. The remaining schedule, consisting of seven conference tilts and two non-league battles, is as follows:

- * Sept. 23—Lenoir-Rhyne, there
- * Sept. 30 — Hampden-Sydney, here
- * Oct. 7—Eaton, there
- * Oct. 14—WVCT, here. (Homecoming)
- * Oct. 20—Guilford, there
- * Oct. 28—Cherry Point, here
- * Nov. 4—Appalachian, there
- * Nov. 11—High Point, here
- * Nov. 17 — Atlantic Christian, here

* Denotes conference games.

Madras, India—(AP)—The failure of the monsoon for the third successive year has left this south Indian state with a critical situation. Lakes are dry, crops have withered and cattle are starving. Some farmers are migrating. The price of rice has tripled in the black market and rice rations are down to less than seven ounces a day. Official estimates are that eight million people have been affected by the scarcity of food.
 Food officials have tried to supplement the rice ration with wheat, milo and millet. But rice eaters don't like these grains, and it has not been possible to provide adequate stocks, anyway.

Record Tobacco Prices Continue

Raleigh, Aug. 14—(AP)—Tobacco markets on the Carolinas Flue-Cured Border Belt opened their third week of sales today with record prices still holding strong.
 Volume was expected to continue light during the week, and not much improvement was predicted in the quality of offerings.
 The market set a record high weekly average last week, after a record-setting opening week. Last week, gross sales totaled 23,641,693 pounds for an average $56.84 per hundred pounds. The previous high average of $55.49, set the opening week, was bettered by $1.35.
 The greatest price increases last week were for green lugs and primings. Fair to fine lugs, low and fair primings, fair cutters and nondescripts made up the bulk of the sales.
 The Flue-Cured Stabilization Corporation received about two per cent of gross sales, compared with 3.5 per cent the opening week.
 If the total sales last week, South Carolina markets sold 11,311,121 pounds for an average $57.19. North Carolina markets averaged $56.52 for 12,330,572.

All-Time High In Married People

New York, Aug. 14—(AP)—The number of married people in the United States climbed to an all-time high of almost 75,000,000, an increase of 14,500,000 in the past 10 years the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company announced today.
 This means that two-thirds of the population above 15 years of age are married, statisticians said.
 People are marrying at a much younger age, especially the women. The survey showed that 68 per cent of women between 20 and 24 were wed in 1949. The figure was 47 per cent in 1890 and 51 per cent in 1940. The increase for women 45 years and under was reported greater in the past 10 years than the entire number for the half century prior to 1940.
 The company explains it this way: "The increase in the married population results to some extent from the improvement in mortality and the consequent reduction in widowhood. But of much greater importance has been the remarkably high marriage rates of the war and immediate postwar period."
 The number of single males fell from 35 to 29 per cent during the period and single females dropped from 28 to 23 per cent.

Ava Denies Any Romantic Ties

New York, Aug. 14—(AP)—Neither Frank Sinatra nor Spanish bull fighter Manolo Cabre has the key to her heart, Actress Ava Gardner said here yesterday after returning from Europe by plane.
 Both were reported romantically interested in her during a recent movie expedition to England and Spain.
 Miss Gardner said there was no chance of her becoming engaged to Sinatra even if the singer got a divorce. As for a romance with the bullfighter, she said "ridiculous."
 She was due back in Hollywood today.

Secret Yokosuka Turns Out To Be A Cut Rate Naval Base

AP Newfeatures
Tokyo—The United States acquired a cut-rate naval base and the Japanese got a new industrial city when once-secret Yokosuka was turned over to the occupation.

This in effect was the description given by Rear Adm. Benton W. Decker, Yokosuka commander, in an Armed Forces radio station interview.

Decker said Yokosuka probably was the only naval base saving money for the United States.

It Cost U.S. Nothing
"This $60,000,000 base initially cost us nothing," he said. "To maintain it costs us only the pay of our officers and men and a very small part of the materials for repair purposes."

The base, capable of drydocking large ships, has handled many vessels the past three years.

Decker took command more than three years ago with orders to destroy Yokosuka. He didn't want to and finally convinced authorities in Washington.

What the Navy Did
This is what Decker said the navy has done:

Converted former naval buildings into more than 80 Japanese factories.

Diverted to civilian economy 150,000 tons of iron scrap and thousands of tons of other materials.

In all, returned to the Japanese people 90 per cent of the naval arsenal for peacetime use.

Raised more than 380 hulks.

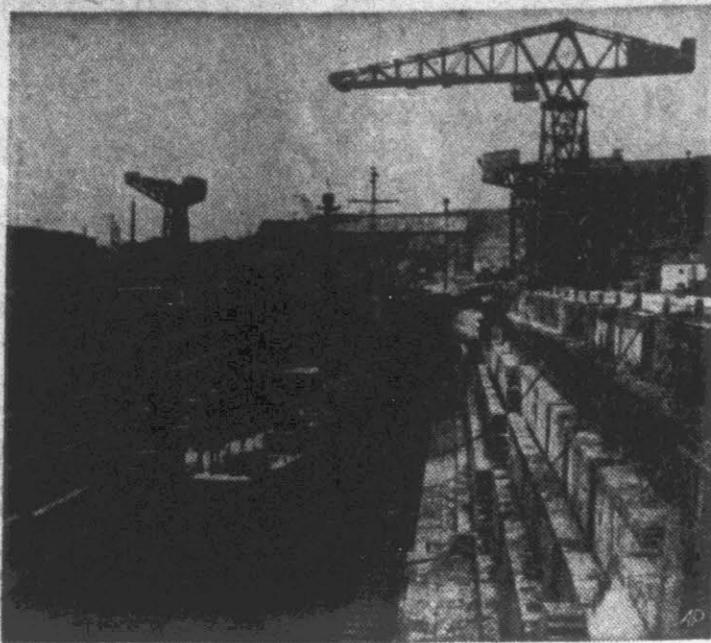

Opened commercial harbor facilities.

Provided wood (from old naval buildings) for Yokosukans during the first postwar winter.

Established hospitals and schools.

Encouraged civic organizations.

Before the war, the Imperial Navy was the sole enterprise permitted in this city of 270,000 persons.

DRYDOCKS at Yokosuka, base the U. S. did not scrap.

Set New High In Traffic Volume

Raleigh, Aug. 14—(AP)—Traffic volume on Tar Heel highways continued to rise last month as July travel topped all records.

The State Highway Commission reported today that July travel ran seven per cent ahead of June travel and 18 per cent over July of last year.

In an average day the commission said, 78,130 vehicles passed over the commission's 20 traffic county stations in 24 hours.

Every month this year has shown a jump of from 14 to 18 per cent over its comparable month of 1949, with last month's percentage showing a greater boost than any previous month this year.

James S. Burch, statistics and planning engineer, commented on the report: "If history repeats, and unless the war situation intervenes, we may expect the August volumes to set a still higher record."

UN Official Is Killed In Korea

Lake Success, Aug. 14—(AP)—Two British correspondents and India's alternate representative on the U. N. commission on Korea were killed Friday when a land mine blew up their jeep near Taegu on the Korean battlefield, the U. N. said Saturday.

The victims were Christopher Buckley of the London Daily Telegraph, Ian Morrison of the London Times, and Col. Unni Nayar, the Indian commission member.

Astrologer Sees War Next Month

Rangoon—(AP)—A Burmese astrologer says Ohn Thin has forecast America and Britain will be at war with Russia by mid-September.

He predicted the war lasting "eleven intense months" with ultimate victory for the Anglo-American group.

Ohn Thin told a press conference here planet readings show the Communists will make military headway until January 21, 1951.

Conway, Case Is Put Off For One Week; Defendant Is Sick

In Police Court today, Judge J. W.H. Roberts continued the case against Norwood D. Conway, a painter, who is charged with aiding and abetting in the attempted escape of a prisoner from the city jail. Solicitor Eli Bloom said a physician reported that Conway had taken too many pills of a prescription and at present is incapacitated.

BIENNE, Switzerland—Eugene Aufranc, called "Father Time" by his fellow Swiss watchmakers, is celebrating his 100th birthday. Here he shows his daughter, Julia, 75, the comparison between a modern Swiss watch and his masterpiece, a big calendar watch he made 80 years ago. CARELESSNESS!

Mrs. John W. Geary, 840 Ursuline St., New Orleans, La., says that life lately is sure wonderful—she didn't dream the world was such a fine place to live in. She thinks things look different—like she had just taken off dark glasses for the first time and saw things as they really are. She was suffering from deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Iron, and Niacin, which HADACOL supplies in generous quantities.

Here is Mrs. Geary's statement: "I had been sick for sometime. It affected my stomach so much that I was unable to eat regularly, and lots of times I was unable to hold the food on my stomach. Then I heard about HADACOL. After the first few bottles I could tell a definite improvement. Now my stomach doesn't trouble me at all; I eat anything I want to and the most glorious thing is that my nerves are just as normal as can be. HADACOL is wonderful—it must be; it did so much for me. Thanks again to HADACOL."

HADACOL Has Been a Blessing to thousands of folks whose systems were deficient in Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin, and Iron. HADACOL can help you, too, if you will just give HADACOL a chance—if you suffer from stomach distress, nervousness, insomnia, constipation, aches and pains of neuritis, or a general run-down condition, caused by such deficiencies, let HADACOL help you as it has helped others all over the country. Even hundreds of doctors are now recommending HADACOL to their patients suffering from such deficiencies.

Give remarkable HADACOL a chance to benefit you. Remember, you have nothing to lose. HADACOL will make you feel great after the first few bottles you take, or your money will be refunded. Only $1.25 for Trial Size; Large Family or Hospital Size, $3.50.

The RANGE DOCTOR

by OSCAR J. FRIEND

Chapter 2
"I only needed a little room on one side for an office. The press, type, and paper stock's all in the back. A newspaper in the same building won't hurt your dignity any, will it?"

"Certainly not, but—"
"Then shut up and look around to see if you have any suggestions. We'll have your shingle right over the door and paint your name on the window glass in bigger letters than the 'Gila News' sign."

Logan was a bit overwhelmed with emotion. "The shingle will be enough, Uncle Tom. A doctor doesn't advertise."

Griggsby snorted. "Don't get too ethical."

"But you wrote me I'd be the only physician in town."

"With a medical diploma," the editor added. "That doesn't take into account the drugist and the veterinary. They still do all the practicing hereabouts. Here's a copy of yesterday's paper on my desk. How do you like it? I gave you a pretty good play-up on the front page."

"You leave me speechless, Uncle Tom."

"Nonsense. Where's your doctoring equipment?"

"My satchel and books are packed in that tan suitcase. I'll have to order stuff as I go along."

"Fine. Got a lot of shiny tools in it, I hope."

"You paid for it. I got the best," Logan answered simply.

"I want you to have the best. Hawkins promised me some picture moulding and glass to frame your diploma. You look sort of thin and pale, Bob. You've studied too hard. Want to eat something? Or can you rest a while until I finish this partition?"

"We will finish the partition," said Logan, arising and peeling off his coat.

"Busy with his saw, Logan did not hear strange footsteps above his ear until the editor uttered an exclamation."

"Mollie Barton! You imp of Satan!"

A young woman was behind the editor, gripping the hammer head which she had caught in its back swing. Lithe, tanned smoothly, with dancing brown eyes, low-crowned sombrero dangling by its larch strings behind her wavy brown hair—a golden girl in cowboy rigging.

Beyond her stood a tall, iron-gray man with a white cowhorn moustache.

Griggsby kissed the girl affectionately. "Hello, Henry," he greeted the ranchman. "Didn't know you folks were in town."

"Mollie needed some special groceries for tomorrow. We're leavin' out now. Just dropped by to see if the doctor'd come."

"You bet he did, Bob!"

In his shirtsleeves, flushed and perspiring, Logan advanced with his carpenter tool gripped in his hand. Griggsby put a proud hand on his shoulder.

"Henry, this is Bob Logan," he introduced. "Son, this is Henry Barton of the Circle Bar and the squarcest shooting old buzzard that ever cinched a saddle."

Quickly fumbling his saw out of the way, Logan gripped hands with the mahogany-faced plainsman.

"Don't mind what Tom says," drawled Barton as his shrewd eyes appraised the young physician. "He talks a lot, editorial instinct, I reckon. But he has sorta bragged on you to me once or twice. Glad to meet you, son."

"And this," went on Griggsby, putting his arm about the girl's waist and drawing her yielding form closer, "is Mollie. She and her sister Betty are the two prettiest girls in the whole Panhandle."

From the rancher Logan turned to be plunged into confusion by the dancing imp in the depths of Mollie Barton's wide brown eyes. He shifted his saw to his right hand and then quickly back again as she offered her own. He bowed wordlessly over her slim, tanned fingers.

"Welcome to the Horseshoe range, Dr. Logan," she said in sweet voice which stirred his pulse in spite of the faint undercurrent of laughter. "Do you always carry an emblem of your profession?"

He straightened up, glancing at his saw. "Er...no. Not always, Miss Barton."

In spite of his confusion his eyes drank in every detail of her fresh beauty. Murmuring an apology, he shifted his saw abruptly once more.

"Why don't you put it down?" Mollie suggested. "Are you in a hurry to get back to work?"

"No, no, not at all. I was just helping Uncle Tom with my office. He thinks of everything."

"Isn't he dear?" she agreed as the two older men moved out of hearing. "I see he's stayed sober, too."

Logan's face became anxious. On the subject of Tom Griggsby he forgot his embarrassment. "He wrote me he'd just about quit."

"I'm sorry he isn't very bad. Mostly on Saturday when he makes the rounds gathering news of the range for the paper."

"That's his greatest fault—if he has a fault. He's his own worst enemy."

"Let's go," Barton said. "Glad to have met you, son. Reckon you'll be out at the usual time tomorrow, Tom."

Mollie kissed the editor's cheek as she pulled on her gauntlets.

"Good-bye, Doctor Bob. Remember we'll have dinner promptly at noon. I'll remember!" puzzled Logan.

"Shucks!" Griggsby said. "I was so excited I forgot to tell Bob we've invited out to Sunday dinner—every Sunday. We'll be there, honey. Don't forget my chicken gravy."

She nodded brightly and looked expectantly at Logan.

"Thank you Miss Barton," he said. "We'll try to be punctual."

Logan watched from the doorway and saw her slyly quist her father's mount across the rump, causing the brute to jump before the rancher was seated in his saddle. As they cantered away, the doctor turned and hurried the offending saw through the opening of the partition.

"Hey! What's the matter?" the startled editor yelled.

Electric Power Producers Ready

New York, Aug. 14—(AP)—The nation's electric power producers reported today that they are ready to meet the needs of industry and house-hold alike in any defense emergency.

L. V. Sutton, of Raleigh, N. C., president of Edison Electric Institute and of Carolina Power and Light Company, made the statement with one proviso, however.

Power will be ample, he said, provided "no government limitations are imposed which would prevent completion of construction programs the privately-owned companies now have underway."

He made his report to W. Stuart Symington, chairman of the National security resources board. He spoke as head of Edison Electric Institute, trade organization of the nation's privately-owned power companies.

The private power men are in the midst of a huge multi-billion dollar expansion program, which was necessary to keep a step ahead of the continually increasing demands at their customers.

It has resulted in the first healthy reserve margin of power in three years. It will give the electric industry a total generating capability of 67,500,000 kilowatts by the end of this year.

Sutton told the security resources board the current construction program will add another 12,000,000 kilowatts of generating capacity by the end of 1952.

Right now, he said, there is nearly four times as much new generating equipment on the power lines as there was in 1940.

Leaflets Offer Food And Rest To Red Koreans

Tokyo, Aug. 14—(AP)—Safe conduct passes designed to encourage North Korean soldiers to surrender will be scattered over concentrations of enemy troops, General MacArthur's psychological warfare branch said today. The leaflets are printed in eye-catching black and red. They are in both English and Korean. The United Nations emblem is printed boldly at the top of both sides of the passes.

The leaflet instructs all United Nations soldiers to guarantee humane treatment to a possessor of such passes and to "treat him as an honorable prisoner of war."

Food and rest are promised those who surrendered.

Shaky Notion Of Geography For Stowaway Trip

Vernon, Conn., Aug. 14—(AP)—A 16-year-old Boston girl with a shaky notion of geography was found in the trunk of her sailor boy friend's automobile today.

Police said Mary Dolye stowed away in the trunk, in the belief that it was only a half-hour drive from Boston to Norfolk, Va., where Dolfus Burt, 21, the boy friend, was heading.

The car was halted by police here after it had gone 87 miles.

Officers said Burt, who comes here from Columbus, Ga., was amazed when the girl was found lying on a blanket in the closed trunk.

Mary's brother Joseph, 18 and Walter Poillard, 16 passengers in Burt's car, also expressed surprise. A search for the car began last night when Mrs. Margaret Doyle reported her daughter missing. Mrs. Doyle had forbidden Mary to drive South with Burt.

Durham Asserts Red Satellites May Cause War

High Point, N.C., Aug. 14—(AP)—Rep. Durham (D-NC) told a Junior Chamber of Commerce convention here yesterday that the United States must go to war with Russia if she attempts to defeat this country through her satellites.

"I think," Durham said "that in the days to come the pattern will be sufficiently clear to tell us whether or not Russia is trying to defeat us through that process.

"If it becomes clear beyond all doubt that that is the Russian policy, then I say that we have no alternative, but to go to war with

Last-Hope Hunt For Lost Youth

Lone Pine, Calif., Aug. 14—(AP)—Four veteran mountain climbers lowered themselves over the east face of Mt. Whitney today in a last hope search for Christopher Smith Reynolds, tobacco-heir son of singer Libby Holman.

The climbers planned to search remote ledges and crevasses. If unsuccessful, they will remain on the nation's highest peak overnight and start anew tomorrow. The other phase of today's rescue operations will see the removal by basket and ropes of the body of Reynolds' companion.

The frozen body of his companion, Stephen Rice Wasserman, was found in a snowy crevasse at the 11,500-foot level yesterday, a week after the two 17-year-old eastern scions had set out to conquer Whitney's south-east side.

Scant hope was held by veteran searcher that young Reynolds is still alive, unless he wandered off for aid for Wasserman. Today's search will be concentrated on higher crevasses of the 14,496 foot peak.

Young Reynolds' mother, former torch-singer Libby Holman, was ready to fly from Paris. The boy heir to a $7,000,000 fortune, was born to Miss Holman shortly after his husband, Zachary Reynolds, was mysteriously slain.

More Passing Draft Check-Up Than Expected

Raleigh, Aug. 14—(AP)—First reports indicate that more young men are passing their pre-induction physical and mental examinations than state selective service headquarters had expected.

This was reported today by Col. Thomas H. Upton, deputy state selective service director. Upton said he had received reports from 12 local draft boards covering some 884 of nearly 1,500 men who were given their physical and mental tests last week. Upton said that 419 of these 884 men were found acceptable for service—or about 47.4 per cent.

"If it holds up, it is almost as good as our World War II record, and it indicates local boards have done a thorough job of screening," said Col. Upton.

The State Highway Commission offered the prison job to Gold about 10 days ago, and Gold announced his acceptance of the $9,000-a-year post last week. Gold is a native of Shelby and a graduate of Wake Forest college.

One of Gold's first problems likely will be to decide in a dispute between Honeycutt and Chief Prison Inspector J. G. Sawyer. Honeycutt wrote Sawyer on August 3 demanding his resignation.

Instead of resigning, Sawyer notified Honeycutt he was going on sick leave. Honeycutt then notified Sawyer his services had been terminated as of August 3 and that after using up 17 days of accumulated leave Sawyer would go off the
