Red German 'Police' To Be Larger

Army Camps Expanded From 11 To 50 In Less Than Six Months Reported

Frankfurt, Germany, Aug. 24 (AP)—Allied officials reported today that training camps for Russia's elite East German army have been increased from 11 to 50 in less than six months.

This vast expansion indicates the Russians intend to build a huge new Red Wehrmacht around this Communist armed force, the officials declared.

This East German force of 50,000 men has been trained as a cadre for a larger German army taking orders from Russia, they said.

The officials gave this assessment of developments: The dark-uniformed, jack-booted force could easily be expanded to 150,000 men, perhaps in a matter of weeks, with the increase in training facilities.

The tightly disciplined officers and non-coms will be used to train enlisted personnel just as Hitler built his Wehrmacht around the professional Reichswehr.

Already the 50,000-man East German army gives Soviet Russia a combined Russia-German combat force of 300,000 men facing the west in eastern Germany.

New equipment, including late model tanks and jet planes, are flowing to the Red army in East Germany. Some of it may be intended for the East German army.

However, no additional Soviet troops have been sent to Germany this year.

Reliable reports from inside Communist East Germany show that the East German army and all police number about 250,000.

In Washington John M. High-tower, Associated Press diplomatic expert, reported:

Informed diplomats said today there is now evidence that the Soviets have split their so-called "police force" in Germany into two organizations—one being trained in actual police work and the other being given regular army training and armed equipment without further pretense of "police" activity.

Since Germany, like Korea, is a divided nation, there is top-level speculation that the aim of this Soviet move may be an ultimate Korean-type assault: that is, an action by native Communist troops against the Western occupation zones with unification of the country as a fighting slogan.

If this is to be the Russian pattern and assuming the Kremlin would risk starting a major war—experts here expect Moscow will first undertake to give Eastern Germany a pretense of legal independence comparable to that of Communist North Korea.

Nehru Doubtful Korean Conflict Will Spread Soon

New Delhi, India, Aug. 24 (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru told a press conference today he did not believe the Korean conflict would flare into a world war in the immediate future.

At the outset of the Korean conflict, Nehru had said the chances of a world war were 50-50.

Answering questions from left-wing journalists on the bombing of North Korea, Nehru said his government was concerned for two reasons:

1. Innocent people were being killed and unnecessary damage done.

2. It was likely to create more problems in the future.

Nehru said the Indian government had pressed this point of view whenever the opportunity arose.

New Pension Rates

A Dollars-And-Cents Evaluation Of What The New Social Security Bill Means To The Average American Family; Who Gets What; Example Of How It Works

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Aug. 24 (AP)—What will it mean to me in dollars and cents?

That's the big question for people now drawing social security old-age pensions, or who will be getting them soon, as they try to figure out the changes in the law.

This will try to answer the question. Starting Sept. 1, pensions go up without exception for everyone now receiving them or who'll receive them in the future.

This increase will affect the size of every pension, from top to bottom. But the increase is not the same all along the line.

The lowest pensions are doubled; the highest are increased by about only one-half.

For example: In August the lowest pension that could be paid anyone was $10 a month. In September the lowest any man can receive will be $20, or double the August figure.

To August the most pension a retired worker could receive was $46 but in September that man, or any future man entitled to the highest pension, will get $68.50, or just about 50 percent more.

Slot Machines Smashed

Haywood Willis struck a mighty blow with a sledge hammer yesterday afternoon as he went to work on destroying three slot machines belonging to the Greenville V. F. W. club. The machines which have been estimated to cost about $900, were seized when officers surprised five bandits as they attempted to rob the club early one morning. In court, Judge J. W. H. Roberts ordered that the machines be destroyed. (Reflector Staff Photo by Roy Hardee).

Police Break Up 3 Slot Machines

One-Armed Bandits Recovered In Attempted Robbery Of VFW Club Destroyed By Sledge Hammer In Compliance Court Order

In compliance with a judgment handed down in City Police Court ordering that three slot machines belonging to the Greenville V. F. W. Club be destroyed the order was carried out yesterday afternoon.

The three machines along with the iron cases or "safes" in which the machines are housed when not in use, were first revealed when five bandits broke into the local club in an early morning robbery.

The bandits were surprised as they attempted to make off with the loot which included the three machines and captured by Greenville officers.

In City Police Court on August 11th, Judge J. W. H. Roberts ordered the manager of the local V. F. W. club, Bill Phillips, fined for possession of the machines, and then decreed that the machines be destroyed "as according to law."

A delay postponed the immediate destruction of the "one arm bandits" until yesterday, pending a court ruling on the possibility of the machines being sold instead of being broken up. The court ruled that the machines had to be broken up and the order was carried out yesterday.

Around four o'clock the machines and the three safes were carried out into the back yard behind the police station and smashed by a sledge hammer.

In each of the machines a small quantity of money was found which totaled $17.15. A total of $11 was found in the quarter machine; $4.10

Republicans Get U. N. Assignment

U. S. Delegation To Have Five GOP, 2 Demo Members

Washington, Aug. 24 (AP)—President Truman today announced a United Nations delegation made up of three Republicans and two Democrats.

The lineup: Republicans: former Senator Warren Austin, Senator Lodge (Mass) and John Foster Dulles, GOP Foreign Policy adviser.

Democrats: Senator Sparkman (Ala) and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt. The delegation will serve at the General Assembly session this fall.

Mr. Truman made his announcement at a news conference. He said the two Senators were picked after consultation with the Senate Foreign Relations committee.

Secretary of State Acheson probably will head the delegation for the opening of the assembly session with one of the permanent delegates serving briefly as an alternate. Other alternates are expected to include John Ross, aide to Austin; John Sherman Cooper, Republican adviser to Acheson; Benjamin Cohen on the delegation; and Mrs. Edith Sampson, Chicago Negro lawyer.

There have been some reports that Senator Graham (D-NC) defeated in the recent North Carolina primary, might also be chosen as an alternate.

The President's move to give the Republicans prominent roles at the next U. N. session was regarded in some quarters as an administration answer to recent criticism that the GOP has not been consulted fully on Foreign policy.

Fewer Cases Of Polio Reported

Washington, Aug. 24 (AP)—The spread of poliomyelitis is slowing down and the disease may be near the peak for the year.

That word came today from the Public Health Service in a report that 1,489 new cases were listed during the past week. Although this was three per cent more than the 1,442 of the week before, the agency said:

"This is the lowest percentage increase over the preceding week since the week ended May 27, the beginning of the upward weekly trend in reported cases."

Sees Conspiracy Against Unions

Washington, Aug. 24 (AP)—Emil Rieve, general president of the Textile Workers Union of America, CIO said today there is an anti-union conspiracy of Southern textile employers which presents a greater threat to the nation than the "labor spy racket" exposed in the 1930's by the LaFollette senate committee.

Rieve testified at the present hearing by a Senate labor management subcommittee on Southern Textile disputes ended.

Committee OK's $16 Billion Bill For Arming U. S.

Emergency House Measure Also Carries Sum To Help Arming Allies

Washington, Aug. 24 (AP)—A $16,771,084,479 bill providing cash for 5,533 new war planes and other equipment for America's growing military machine was approved today by the House Appropriations Committee.

An emergency measure growing out of the war in Korea, it not only finances expansion of United States armed might but also carries $4,000,000,000 to help arm friendly nations.

In sending the bill to the House floor, the committee wrote this sharp criticism of the defense program:

"Events of recent weeks have made it crystal clear that the military planning and thinking in key positions is not as clear and accurate as could be desired, but it is not the purpose of the committee at this time to criticize past errors of judgement."

The bill's total is $81,400,119 less than the President requested but no reductions were made in military items.

In approving the entire $4,000,000,000 requested for foreign arms aid, the committee said:

"The authority of the United Nations has been challenged and the peace of the world jeopardized, which makes it clear that free nations must provide themselves with a common security as early as possible and be prepared to defend the principles of international law and justice for which the United Nations stands."

The committee made no reduction in the $2,800,000 requested for the Voice of America program, which has been set up to spread Americanism and democracy abroad. But it refused funds for the "exchange of persons" project to bring 85 Communist leaders to this country from Yugoslavia to teach them American ways.

Included in the Voice of America funds were $2,890,237 to buy an estimated 200,000 mid-level radio sets for distribution abroad.

House passage is scheduled for tomorrow. The bill boosts to more than $50,000,000,000 the federal budget for this fiscal year. The remaining $34,000,000,000 is in a general one-package appropriation measure on which Senate-House conferees hoped to reach final agreement during the day.

The defense funds the new bill contains are in addition to more than $14,000,000,000 in the general appropriations measure. The House voted $14,300,000,000 and the Senate $14,679,000,000.

North Koreans Ease Pressure; Seek Easier Route For Assault On Taegu

Slot Machine Containers Saved For Court Opinion

While the three slot machines were being turned into scrap metal yesterday, the iron safes, shown above, which house the machines for storage were not touched. The safes were scheduled to have been destroyed with the machines but an apparent misunderstanding of the judgment ordered by the court resulted in having the safes saved until it can be learned from the court if the safes are to be destroyed also. No-Strike Promise To Truman Broken Within Hour By Unions

Washington, Aug. 24 (AP)—President Truman declared today the nationwide railroad strike was called within an hour after assurances to him that there would be no strike.

He made it plain to a news conference that he felt he had not been dealt with fairly.

As to what he intends to do, he said he would issue a statement later. He refused to indicate whether he plans seizure. The unions have been urging this step for weeks.

Mr. Truman said the strike was sudden and unexpected. He said assurances came to him from both the unions and the management that there would be no walkout. These assurances, he said, were given within an hour before the strike was called by the trainmen and conductors.

Two big rail unions—the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and Order of Railway Conductors—gave their all-out strike orders to their 300,000 members last night after a new deadlock developed in White House peace talks with the carriers.

The nationwide strike call against 131 lines was unexpected. The union leaders only Tuesday night had given everyone to understand they would not expand five-day "token" walkouts presently in progress at five key rail centers.

However, the dispute over wages and working hours has dragged out over a period of a year and a half—and constantly been growing more ominous.

Under the railway labor act, which sets up a complex procedure for handling of rail disputes, the unions have been free to strike since July 15.

The deadline for the nationwide walkout is 6 a. m. standard time Monday according to the clocks in each locality. A strike of all railroads in Canada is now in its fourth day, so if the threatened walkout develops in this country, all rail transportation in North America will be at a standstill.

The unions indicated hopes that their full-scale strike threat might force railroad owners, in seeking to avoid seizure, to capitulate to union demands. On at least three prior occasions the unions asked President Truman for seizure.

The carriers didn't seem opposed to the seizure idea. At least A. E. Stoddard, president of the Union Pacific railroad, said in Seattle last night that seizure should be ordered immediately to prevent any interruption of military supply shipments to Korea.

The threatened nationwide rail strike brought a demand from Sen. Donnell (R-Mo) for "immediate favorable action" on his bill, pending in the Senate labor committee, to outlaw all rail strikes and require rail labor disputes to be arbitrated.

Exceptionally Good Order On Market Opening

By CHESTER WALSH
An outstanding feature of the opening of the bright leaf tobacco market in Greenville last Monday was the unusually good order among the thousands who watched the opening sales and the fact that no traffic accident of importance occurred, acting Police Chief Herbert E. Woolen pointed out today.

The police made no arrest for any cause Monday. Tuesday, a couple of juveniles were taken up for investigation for offenses previously committed. Wednesday, one person was arrested for speeding, another for reckless driving.

The heavy traffic was kept moving smoothly. Ample parking places were available and no serious traffic accident was reported.

Police estimated that several thousand persons were here to attend the opening tobacco sales Monday. They also estimated that a thousand or more cars and trucks were here on opening day.

The most serious traffic accident reported involved a damage of about $10 for paint scratched off a parked car by a truck.

Farmers and other visitors in the city for the tobacco sales were outspoken in praise of the traffic situation. Numerous farmers complimented the speeding up of traffic along east Fifth street past Five Points toward the warehouses.

One Heavy Division Moves Toward U. S. Positions On South Coast; Big Force North Of Taegu On Move; Mountain Positions Left To Allied Troops

Tokyo, Friday, Aug. 25 (AP)—A heavily armed Red Korean division rolled eastward Thursday night toward American positions on the Korean south coast.

In three columns of men and machines the division moved up a new threat to the all-important allied southeastern port of Pusan some 54 miles away.

The threat appeared in the south after pressure had eased on the central front above Taegu where probbers for five Red divisions were thrown back for five consecutive days.

The 50,000 Red soldiers a dozen miles north of Taegu slanted away from their mountain positions, apparently looking for an easier avenue for a smash on Taegu.

The North Koreans tried four times last week to drive five divisions down the rocky, bloody "bowling alley" corridor to Taegu.

AP Correspondent Stan Swinton on the south reported the three eastbound Red columns were marching from the Chnju area, where two Red divisions were reported getting ready to go on allied forces spread before them, 27 air miles west of Pusan.

The American 1st Infantry Division 10 miles west of Masan was alerted for battle.

U.S. planes bombed and strafed the approaching southern Reds. Pilots said there were many vehicles in the three columns. But the Communists were moving in small groups to minimize their chances of being hit from the air.

The new force was reported a part of the North Korean Seventh Division, a division originally trained for police purposes.

On the Masan front American and South Korean riflemen fought shoulder to shoulder in a bitter battle for commanding heights of So-buk Ridge, 18 miles from Masan port.

The sudden, unexplained shift of North Korean troops north of Taegu left their mountain positions to allied troops, 15 miles north of the fortress city. Before settling in them Thursday night U.S. and South Korean infantrymen beat off flanking attacks.

AP Correspondent Don Whitehead on the central front quoted Col. John (Mike) Michaels, commander of the U.S. 27th "Wolfhound" Regiment before Taegu, as saying:

"We will stay here but it will be rough."

AP Correspondent Tom Lambert reported the changing position of the 50,000-man force removed the immediate threat to Taegu—largest city left in the allied defense perimeter in southeast Korea.

Frontline opinion was that the Reds were looking for a softer spot to try to hammer their five divisions through.

The Communists were under orders from their premier, Kim Il Sung, to win the Korean war by Aug. 31—just a week away. They already had failed to meet the deadline for capture of Taegu by Aug. 15—anniversary of Korean independence from Japan.

The shift to the east around the heart of the Korean central war-front was made after the Reds had tried to shove forward troops of five divisions through the mountains to Taegu.

It had been a costly Communist effort in time and men. The Reds suffered 3,500 casualties in one 12-hour period. And marine pilots Thursday said they killed 300 more in a rocket attack on troop concentrations.

Defeating Prejudices

Unforeseen Aspect Of Korean War Is Successful Mingling Of Races And Nationalities In A Common Effort; Results Spoiling Red Propaganda Efforts

By DEWITT MACARENZIE

The Korean war—first conflict into which the United Nations has sent its legions in defense of justice—is developing an unforeseen aspect which may help to solve the racial problems that have racked not only the world but individual nations.

I refer to the fact that already South Korea has a workable mingling of races under the U.N. flag. And that mixing race and color will proceed apace as fresh contingents of troops arrive.

It will continue until South Korea has become a miniature "one world." True, it may become something of a Tower of Babel—but, to paraphrase an old saying, the language of comradeship needs no words.

To be specific: Hal Boyle, AP columnist in South Korea, reports that more and more South Korean troops are being incorporated into American fighting units on a volunteer basis. These Koreans are taken over on the "buddy system," under which each one is teamed with a GI. The plan works fine.

American Negro units are fighting side by side with white troops—both doing a magnificent and co-ordinated job without thought of color. The same is true of the South Korean units.

All this fits in with the U.S. Army's progressive plan to eliminate the race issue. A well developed example of this program is seen in the Fourth Infantry Division, at Fort Ord, California. The division has been pioneering to end all segregation—and reports that it works well.

Separation of colored and white units has been completely eliminated. All the men train together, sleep in the same barracks and eat in the same messes. Absolute impartiality is the by-word. One of the unforeseen developments has been to foster friendships between Negro and white soldiers.

Getting back to South Korea, the American Negro troops are doing more than win battles with bullets. John M. Hightower, AP diplomatic expert in Washington, makes this striking report:

40 Years Ago Today

THE DAILY REFLECTOR August 23, 1910

The Washington tobacco market opened yesterday morning in its magnificent new warehouse on Pearce street, under the management of the Farmers Consolidated Tobacco Co. There were 64 different piles of tobacco on the floor aggregating between 30,000 and 35,000 pounds. It was sold at an average price of about 6 cents. This, considered, by knowing ones, a very high average for Washington and its new industry.—Washington News.

Hadacol Helps Relieve St. Louis Man's Leg Pains

He Suffered Deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin

Elmer Prater, 3619 North Broadway, St. Louis, Mo., having tended bar for a good many years, says a man has to work mighty hard these days to make himself a passable living. Gone are the days when you could buy a good lunch for 15c. But he says the good old days of healthful living are today. That is because he found out how worthwhile life really can be. Gone are his days of suffering, thanks to HADACOL. Mr. Prater had been suffering a deficiency of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin, and Iron.

Read Mr. Prater's statement: "I had been bothered many years with neuritis pains in my legs—the pain was so bad I couldn't sleep at night. My appetite was way off, too! I just couldn't seem to get any enjoyment out of food and what I did eat didn't agree with me at all. I had just about given up hope when my brother and sister persuaded me to take HADACOL. What did HADACOL do for me? ... Why, after taking HADACOL for only 2 weeks I was able to go back to work. You think I don't rate HADACOL first place? ... I recommend HADACOL every time."

Wonderful For Both Old and Young!

This new HADACOL is simply wonderful for men, women and children of all ages who are sick and ailing because their systems are lacking these important Vitamins B1, B2, Iron, and Niacin.

The important Vitamins and Minerals in HADACOL come to you in special liquid form so that they are more quickly absorbed and assimilated in the blood stream, ready to go right to work at once. HADACOL even builds up the red blood cells (when Iron is needed) to carry these precious elements to every part of your body—to your kidneys, lungs, heart, liver—even to the hair, nails and eyes!

Relieves Cause of Your Sickness From Such Deficiencies

HADACOL now makes it possible for you to relieve the active cause of neuritis pains and a general run-down nervous condition when due to deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Iron, and Niacin. So why be satisfied with symptomatic relief when you can now relieve the cause with HADACOL.

There Should Be No Doubt
After reading Mr. Prater's wonderful experience with HADACOL—how can you doubt that this great product will help you if your system is lacking in Vitamins B1, B2, Iron, and Niacin?

What HADACOL did for Mr. Prater, it can do for you if you're suffering neuritis aches and pains, or other troubles due to such deficiencies.

So what are you waiting for? Don't continue to suffer—don't continue to be miserable!

Don't Be Satisfied With Symptomatic Relief!

HADACOL is not a quick-acting pill which gives symptomatic relief—rather it relieves the real cause of your pains and aches due to such deficiencies. And continued use of HADACOL helps prevent such agonizing pains from coming back. That's the kind of product you want—that's the kind you should buy and that's the kind you should start using NOW!

HADACOL costs only $1.25 for a trial-size bottle. Large family or hospital size, $3.50. It is sold on a strict money-back guarantee. At any drugstore.

Miss Blanton Hostess To Executive Board

On Monday night at 8 o'clock Miss Gloria Blanton was hostess to the executive board of the Business and Professional Women's Club at the Baptist Student Center on 8th Street. The meeting was called by Mrs. Ruel Tyson, president of the club, to bring to the board members who could not attend the N. C. State Summer Board meeting held at Chapel Hill all information received at work shops there. A round table discussion was held by those who attended.

Mrs. Ruth Garner, chairman of the local Program Coordination committee, reported on how programs for the year can bring about closer coordination between the different committees. Mrs. Sarah Proctor outlined the Health and Safety committee program suggested for the year stressing observation of traffic safety regulations; physical check-ups for all members; mental hygiene clinics; and support of the Civilian Defense program. Mrs. Tyson reported that she had followed the suggestion concerning the Civilian Defense program by contacting Mayor Stafford and offering the services of the Business and Professional Women's Club. She also requested that women be placed in jobs with the Civilian Defense program.

Miss Gloria Blanton discussed the International Relations workshop program giving the following suggestions: Each member keep informed on the International situation; see what can be done in our community for other nationals such as displaced persons; have members chart the most important issue that has arisen since the last meeting and give their answer to this issue; members be urged to write their congressmen for copies of the Congressional Record. Miss Blanton also reported on the Education and Vocation committee workshop. Suggestions for this committee included urging high school girls to further their education, sponsoring a Vocation Day in the high school, work with the local employment office in giving vocational guidance tests. She also suggested that we have a program giving helpful information on how to invest our savings. Members were urged to participate in hobbies or avocations with the thought in mind of preparing for the future after retirement.

Mrs. Catherine Walsh reported that she had represented Mrs. Ruth Meeks at the International Relations workshop for District Contact chairmen. She passed notes on this meeting on to Mrs. Meeks. Mrs. Walsh, who is editor of the club bulletin, reported on the workshop held for club bulletin editors. She requested that all committee chairmen give her information about committee meetings and activities. Mrs. Tyson complimented Mrs. Walsh on the August bulletin. She stated that it measured up to all standards set at the state meeting.

At the close of the discussion of Summer Board activities Mrs. Tyson opened the meeting for business. Mrs. Tyson appointed the following committee to set up a list of standards to be used in selecting future Woman of the Year award recipients: Mrs. Susie Ragsdale, Mrs. Ruth Garner, Mrs. J. B. Spilman, Mrs. Ruth Meeks and Miss Elizabeth Deal with Mrs. Ruel Tyson as an ex-officio member.

Mrs. Tyson read suggested plans for Business Women's week. At the close of the business session Miss Blanton served iced drinks and cookies.

Pupils To Meet September First At St. Raphael's

Pupils attending St. Raphael's school for the coming term will have an opportunity to become acquainted with each other on September 1. Nursery and kindergarten classes open September 8, while the grades (first through the fifth) begin September 5.

Parents wishing to enroll children in the pre-school or graded classes may still do so by either visiting the school at 427 W. Fifth Street, or telephoning (3529) between four and six p.m. during the remainder of the week.

Discuss Tighter Rules On Worn Tires For Buses

Raleigh, N. C. Aug. 24.—(P)—A bus accident last week has prompted the Utilities Commission to consider tighter rules against worn bus tires.

The accident occurred near Roanoke Rapids when a Carolina Trailways bus went out of control after a front tire blew out. Seven persons were injured.

A commission investigation revealed the tire was a "re-groove," a worn tire into which new treads had been cut. Although commission

Degree Pocahontas Has School

Ayden.—A school of the Degree of Pocahontas was held in the Ayden community building Monday night. Gracie Dennis, district deputy, called the meeting while Pauline R. Hurd, great Pocahontas, was in our reservation.

The Great Pocahontas asked Eibel Mae Gibson to preside over a model meeting with members appointed from Greenville, Washington, Farmville and Ayden. The meeting was very instructive and enjoyable.

The following slate of officers were present: Pauline R. Hurd, Great Pocahontas; Gladys Wynne, Great Wrennah; Gladys Crisp, First Great Scout; Esther Mae Gibson, Second Great Scout; Essie Barrow, Great Guard of Tepee; Louise Thomas, Great Deputy of Third District; Gracie Dennis, Great Deputy of Fourth District; Goldie Durant, chairman of public relations. After the meeting refreshments were served.

Descendent Of Col. And Mrs. R. R. Cotten Is Wed Last Evening

Miss Charlotte Jordan Timberlake, daughter of Commander and Mrs. Julian B. Timberlake, of Virginia Beach, Va., and great granddaughter of the late Col. and Mrs. Robert R. Cotten, of Cottendale, Pitt county, became the bride of Thomas Braswell Battle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hyman Llewellyn Battle, of Rocky Mount, N. C., last evening at 8:30 o'clock in a candlelight ceremony in Galilee Episcopal church, Virginia Beach. The Right Reverend Henry St. George Tucker, retired presiding Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal church, officiated, assisted by Reverend Edmund Berkeley, rector of the Galilee church and Reverend Gray Temple, rector of The Church of the Good Shepherd, Rocky Mount.

Easter lilies and magnolia leaves were used in the church decorations.

A program of nuptial music was rendered by Mrs. George L. Aldrich. The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a wedding gown of white duchess satin and tulle made with a yoke of sheer nylon tulle outlined with seed pearls and a bertha of rose points lace buttoned up the back with tiny self-covered buttons, long tight satin sleeves and full gathered skirt of tulle over satin forming a sweeping train. Her full length veil of imported French tulle fell from a cap of heirloom silk lace belonging to the bride's great grandmother, caught with orange blossoms. The wide lace borders of the veil outlined the train in a circular effect. Her only ornament was a string of pearls. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and bouvardia, centered with white orchids.

Mrs. Hyman L. Battle, Jr., of Princeton, N. J., attended the bride as matron of honor and Miss Mary Pratt of Gloucester, Va., as maid of honor. They wore gowns of matching taffeta with shirred bodices, worn with tulle capelets and bouffant skirts. The paniers of tulle were outlined with deep ruffles. They carried lavender Vanda orchids and bouvardia.

The bridesmaids, Miss Betty Hitch-of Norfolk, Va., Miss Noel Marvin, of Louisville, Ky., Miss Betty Brooke Morris of Roanoke, Va., Miss Joan Watters, of Buffalo, N. J., and Miss Molly McCurdy of Philadelphia, Pa., wore gowns similar to that of the maid of honor and carried lavender Vanda orchids.

Miss Grace Jordan, of Virginia Beach, junior bridesmaid, wore a taffeta gown made off the shoulder with full period skirt, worn over a crimoline. She also carried lavender Vanda orchids.

Mr. Hyman L. Battle, Jr., of Princeton, N. J., brother of the groom, was best man.

Groomsman were: Mr. Winniet Peters of Wilson, North Carolina; Mr. Julian Timberlake, 3rd, of Montclair, New Jersey, brother of the bride; Mr. Theodore Devine of Mamaroneck, New York; Mr. James Fish of Scranton, Pennsylvania; Mr. William Gwathmey of Baltimore, Maryland; Mr. Charles Singluff of Virginia Beach, Va.; and Mr. Lewis Thorp of Rocky Mount, North Carolina.

Mrs. Timberlake chose for her daughter's wedding a gown of moonstone blue chiffon and lace over mauve pink. The lace was applied on the chiffon with a wide panel of lace at the back. With this went a short matching jacket of moonstone blue lace. She wore long white kid gloves with mauve pink tulle in her hair and a corsage of white orchids.

Mrs. Battle, mother of the groom wore an imported gown of mauve rose silk taffeta made with shaped bodice, outlined in French pink tulle. The skirt was draped to the back with a short train of taffeta. A short jacket was embroidered in mauve rose paillettes. In her hair she wore a calot of tulle tucked with mauve rose paillettes. She carried white orchids with lavender tip on her paillette bag.

Immediately following the ceremony Commander and Mrs. Timberlake entertained at a reception at Princess Ann Club, Virginia Beach.

After a wedding trip to Bermuda, Mr. and Mrs. Battle will be at home in Chapel Hill. For traveling the bride wore a two-piece suit of navy blue silk French hat of matching velvet with shantung made with unpressed pleated skirt. The jacket was trimmed with white orchids and lilies of the valley.

MRS. THOMAS BRASWELL BATTLE

Canadian Railroad Strike Menaces Entire Economy

Ottawa, Aug. 24—(AP)—The paralyzing grip of Canada's three-day-old rail strike threatened today to strangle production, employment and the whole livelihood of the nation from coast to coast.

Thousands already have been idled by the walkout of 124,000 non-operative rail workers who are pressing demands for higher pay and a 40-hour week. More probably will be laid off as the strike continues.

The nation faced the gloomy prospect of widespread shutdown of its heavy industry and of heavy losses in sales and distribution.

Canada's millions already felt a shortage of mail and a total lack of telegraphic services.

The government has called an emergency session of Parliament for next Tuesday to discuss what action it will take on the paralyzing walkout. Because of the rail stoppage, many Parliament members are to be flown in by a special airlift.

Big cities like Saskatchewan, dependent on rail-hauled coal for their power houses, faced electrical shortages.

As the quick effects of the strangulations swept across the country refinery workers, packing house workers, base metal miners and flour mill operators went home with nothing to do.

Churchill's Son Receives Wound On Korea Front

U.S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, Aug. 24—(AP)—War Correspondent Randolph Churchill, son of British wartime Prime Minister Winston Churchill, was wounded today by a mortar burst on a Nakdong river-crossing foray into enemy territory with a U.S. patrol.

An American correspondent, Frank Emery of International News Service, was hit in the same action. Neither was hurt seriously, the army said.

An American soldier was so badly wounded by the mortar burst that he could not be moved and was left in enemy territory on the Reds' west bank. Later attempts to rescue him were repulsed.

The shell fragment tore a hole about the size of a U.S. half dollar (or a half-crown piece) in Churchill's leg.

Emery was hit three times.

Okay Pig Farm For Doris Duke

Sommerville, N. J., Aug. 24—(AP)—The Hillsboro township board of health says it is all right for Doris Duke Rubirosa, the tobacco heiress, to build a pig farm.

The plans, which call for a 650,000 ultra-modern farm to raise from 2,500 to 3,000 pigs, originally ran into some objections from the board of health. But last night the board Okayed an application by Rudolph Sommers, the heiress' farm manager.

The only restriction is that garbage for feed purposes may not be brought into the township.

Dutch Infantry

San Francisco, Aug. 24—(AP) United Nations troops in Korea are soon to be augmented by 2,000 Dutch infantrymen—most of them battle-trained veterans of the Indonesian fighting.

This first announcement that Holland would aid in the Korean ground fighting was made yesterday by J. P. Bourdrez, head of the Netherlands Information Bureau.

He said all of the troops will be volunteers. About one third will be Dutch marines trained in the United States in World War II.

The force also will include a small contingent of Netherlands WACs to perform medical and clerical duties.

Bourdrez said Holland will depend upon the U.S. for tanks and artillery for its troops, who will land in Korea in a few weeks.

Strength for the Day

By EARL L. DOUGLAS

A DANGEROUS SOCIAL MALADY
 Did you ever hear of the disease of accommodation? Historians tell us that this is what brought about the death of the Roman Empire almost 1500 years ago. Like a dry sponge, Rome soaked up all the national ideals and its wholesome customs. Brought into her life, rejoiced in her tolerance and broad-mindedness, and then quite naturally sank into death as the result of being poisoned.

The countries which love their particular traditions, cherish them, and try to continue them, keep on growing with unabated vigor. It is true that a country can become self-centered just as an individual can. But the worst thing is for a country to lose its national ideals and its wholesome customs. Here in the United States we are taking upon ourselves the moral customs of worn-out and decadent nations. There are many teachers and writers today who hold forth on the marvelous and wholesome life of primitive peoples and commend the incorporation into American life of their customs, dances, and folklores.

We would take warning from Rome if we would. But we probably won't. The compromising of national ideals—the social disease of accommodation—killed Rome, and unless we are careful it will kill us.

The Strategy Of Divide And Conquer

Russian Jakob Malik has declared in the United Nations security council that continued military operations in Korea would lead not to a localizing of the conflict, "but would inevitably lead to a broadening of the conflict fraught with serious consequences."

To us, the threat of a spread of war to other parts of the world made by the communists in this latest announcement, is another effort to gain by bluff what they have not been able to gain through military action—the removal of the U. N. forces from Korea. The Russian demand for the removal of all U. N. forces from Korean soil was repeated by Malik as he sought to shift blame for the Korean conflict from the communists to the United States.

The United States and other members of the United Nations are vitally interested in keeping the Korean conflict localized. It will not be localized if the U. N. forces are pulled from Korea and the communists allowed to take over all the country. It would be the go-ahead sign for communist aggression elsewhere. Once the communists saw that the military force brought together by the United Nations had been recalled, they would have little fear in striking in other places which are as vulnerable as Korea.

The communists already have met a great deal more opposition in Korea than they expected. They have met a united front of free nations which they thought would not unite against communist aggression. The Kremlin realizes the communists military machine can not ultimately defeat the unified free nations.

Through its threat of a greater conflict, Russia is hoping to bluff some of the united nations into withdrawing from their present position in Korea. If the unity of the free nations is broken, the communists will continue their original plan to conquer other weaker peoples one at a time.

What About Price Controls?

No one particularly cherishes the thought of price controls and perhaps rationing at the present time. We are just beginning to feel satisfaction of returning to a purchasers market rather than the sellers market in which we lived during the war years and readjustment years which have followed.

The thought of domestic controls brings us closer than most people want to be brought to the realization that we are facing a total mobilization.

Prices continue to rise, nevertheless, and we are witnessing the formation of something which appears very much like the wage-cost-of-living spiral which got things off balance at the beginning of World War II.

Soaring food prices since the beginning of the Korean conflict sent the nation's cost-of-living index up 1.4 per cent between June 15 and July 15. It is the highest index figure since October 1948; and it is three per cent above the index level of last April.

The index figures have brought wage increases for more than 400,000 General Motors employes whose pay slides with the cost of living.

During the early part of the United States' preparedness program for World War II, the people of the country watched the prices and wages climb in a hodge-podge fashion which in many cases was unfair to the producer, worker and consumer. When controls were thrust upon the nation's economy, there were many inequalities which had come about because of the delay in effecting the controls.

The price-wage climb which we are now seeing may be considered by some as not serious, but it can not be considered insignificant. It is The Reflector's conviction that the least amount of government control placed on the country's economy in normal times, the better off the country's economy will be in the long run. Nevertheless, a national emergency can not be considered normal times.

If the government economists find that price and wage controls are necessary, they should be installed in one sweeping move covering everything. It should not be piecemeal as was the case in World War II. It should freeze prices and wages at levels which were existing before the Korean situation began.

The step would be a sober change to which the country's economy and people would have to become adjusted, but it would be better than the way price controls were handled in World War II.

National Whirligig

News Behind The News

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24—In forcing the Export-Import Bank to extend a $125,000,000 credit to Dictator Juan D. Peron of Argentina, Dean Acheson is taking almost as great a gamble as he did with his "calculated risks" in China, Korea and elsewhere.

The battered Secretary of State, as White House agent, has invited a hostile barrage from the Administration's so-called "liberal" allies for the assistance he has given this Latin-American enemy of the "four freedoms."

He has also drawn unpublished criticism from Treasury Secretary John W. Snyder, Commerce Secretary Charles Sawyer, ECA Administrator Paul Hoffman and Export-Import officials, who were dragged into the transaction.

In view of the wartime and post-war difficulties with Peron, they have objected to using taxpayers' money to bail out Argentina's private creditors in this country, thus permitting him to pile up new debt that may also have to be liquidated with public funds.

GAMBLE—The deal has provoked resentment because it contrasts so violently with the Administration's refusal to hand out funds to Franco of Spain and Tito of Yugoslavia, whose arbitrary regimes are hardly less ruthless than Peron's. It is pointed out that Peron gave us no aid in World War II, has shown sympathy to Nazi refugees since Hitler's collapse, and has not offered any aid in our Korean struggle.

Moreover, it has tended to cause some muttering among such friendly Latin-American countries as Brazil, Colombia, Venezuela and little Ecuador. In view of Argentina's past behavior and their own contributions to the allies in the recent conflict, they feel as aggrieved as did the biblical brothers of the prodigal son when they saw their erring kinsman wine and dine.

The inside fact is that Mr. Acheson himself regards the transaction as a gamble. He defends it with practical political arguments rather than with noble or ideological explanations. We need hemispheric solidarity in the "cold war," and we cannot have that guarantee of security without Argentina.

CRAZY—The peculiar arrangement, so State hopes, ends a crazy chapter of postwar buying and selling in which the business men and banks of the two countries shovled no more sense than the two governments involved. On this score, there is something to be said in Argentina's favor.

By remaining neutral and selling to the United States and its allies, Buenos Aires piled up huge credits here and abroad, and engaged in a fantastic program of industrialization with those funds after the Axis surrender. Its purchasing missions bought more than $600,000,000 of machinery, utility equipment, luxury goods here within a few years.

American firms urged the rich customer to buy on generous credit terms, selling as madly as the Argentines purchased. When the dollar shortage crisis developed, both were caught in the squeeze. Argentina could not pay in acceptable currency, and the Americans would not extend any more credit. Argentina threatened to engage in barter deals with Russia, but they came to nothing.

RESTRICTIONS—Peron's debt totalled approximately $250,000,000 in May of 1948, when his domestic boom collapsed. And then his American creditors moved against him in a manner that caused tremendous ill feeling throughout Latin-America. They took over $67,000,000 of a dollar account he had in New York banks and applied it to partial discharge of his debt.

In 1949 he began to reduce the balance he owed by 20 per cent, and subsequently by 30 per cent, until he brought the figure down to about the size of E-I's credit. Meanwhile, new advisers persuaded him to abandon his scheme of feverish industrialization, and to return to more intensive development of agriculture, with such profitable products as wheat, meat and wool.

In return for the credit, he has agreed to lift numerous restrictions he had imposed on American firms doing business in Argentina. An unintended but anticipated consideration is that he will divest himself of some of his dictatorial powers and habits. But there is no assurance of that in the contract.

BLAME—Nor is there any assurance that this assumption of Peron's debts will mean permanent strengthening of Argentina's economy. But there is a belief that he may make a comeback on the basis of agricultural development, based on future European purchases. Most of his new orders will be for modern farm equipment.

Washington must also accept some blame for Peron's plight. He was given to understand that Marshall Plan money advanced to European nations would enable them to buy his wheat, meat and wool. But the farm bloc in Congress, with Truman acquiescence, insisted that no Marshall Plan funds should be spent outside the United States for crops which had been declared surplus here. Thus ECA countries could not buy his wheat or wool. We will not buy his meat under farm bloc tariff restrictions.

INCONSISTENCY—The Commodity Credit Corporation went to absurd extremes in preventing purchase of pampas wool. It had bought a stock of about 20,000 pounds of low-grade wool that nobody wanted. Although we have always been an importer of certain kinds of this product, CCC insisted that wool be listed as surplus because of its two-bit holding. It was a bureaucratic action pure and simple and mostly simple.

So bad as he may be, Peron has a few honest grates that Mr. Acheson seeks to relieve for the sake of hemispheric unity and security. As to his refusal to make similar deals with Franco and Tito—my fellow-student in a college course in Shakespeare would probably answer with a poetic retort about the "jewel of inconsistency."

Somebody Told Me

By I. J. (Jack) EDWARDS, JR.

During the past year and a half I have been in the fast and furious business world. In an attempt to keep up with the times, I have read about the status of business at every opportunity. My summary of the year and half is this: During the first half of 1949 the businessman was sitting around and trying to decide whether or not there would be a depression to follow the war boom. By June, 1949, he was tired of worrying and what's more, tired of sitting around, so he got busy and in a month's time everybody could tell that prosperity was still here.

Actually, prosperity never even threatened to leave. Even in the first half of 1949 the state of business was good. However, the Greenville point of view wouldn't believe it. By talking to Greenville merchants, I was almost convinced that business was bad, despite reports from all over the nation that it was holding up. The truth is that the average businessman is like a woman with an operation: he likes to complain. He expects so much that he is disappointed at anything short of a miracle. With this opinion of the businessman, it has been a pleasure during this week to ask the proverbial question, "How's business?" Nobody, not even the worst pessimist, would admit that business was bad; in fact, they all had to say that it's booming. Tobacco is selling higher than it has in 31 years.

As much as I hate to ruin the story by leaving the name out, I have to say that yesterday I was talking to one of Greenville's businessmen. In response to the old question about conditions, he said, "Things are looking very bad."

"How's that?" I asked.
 "Well, you can sell anything you can get your hands on, but the trouble comes in trying to get your hands on it. Everything's short. If this keeps up I'll probably go broke."

Some people would cry if you handed them a million dollars, so you have to discount the comments by the die hards and sum up the situation for yourself:

1. Business is better than it has been for years.
2. The Korean war has a great deal to do with the business spurt.
3. If the international situation gets better, we'll all be happy about the business boom; if not, some of us probably won't be here in the USA to realize conditions. We'll have to read about it in the newspaper.
4. Greenville is the world's greatest small city, and probably the world's greatest bright leaf tobacco center.

Raleigh, N. C.

DEAF—The state school for deaf at Morganton, like the school for the blind at Raleigh and the school at Garner for Negro deaf and blind, represents effort on part of the state to partially supplement what the state and counties are doing jointly in providing public education for all the children of North Carolina. Long before the state as such had recognized its obligation to the average school child by taking over the large part of maintenance-operational cost of the public school system, provision had been made for the handicapped blind and deaf at state expense. Total number of such children is amazingly small, but at that the facilities provided are not commensurate with the need either on overall or ratio basis. Compared with aggregate enrollment of about 900,000 in public schools, considerably less than one thousand are enrolled in the Morganton, Raleigh and Garner schools for deaf and blind.

MORGANTON—The state school for deaf here is carried on budget books at a $1,240,000, but is actually worth over two million dollars. The permanent improvement appropriations of nearly $800,000 will up that value. Very little of the appropriated money has been spent, but most of the projects are in blue print stage. Last year's enrollment of 378 taxed capacities, and Dr. Carl Rankin, superintendent, and his associates are wondering now what they will do with the 410 enrolled for the 1950-51 session. In this connection it is interesting to note that in 1910, when state population was about two million, enrollment here was just above 200. State population now is in round numbers four million, and enrollment is slightly more than 400. Important consideration is that physical facilities are not much better now than they were forty years ago. In other words, the school is trying to educate 400 pupils with almost the same basic facilities it had for 200.

DIFFERENT—This is not a college; it is a "public school," but it is different from most schools. The student body ranges from six to twenty years in age. It is desirable to lower the starting age to five or even younger. Superintendent Carl Rankin and Principal Ben Hoffmeyer emphasized this point in connection with their request for a new building to house a primary unit. The average hearing child enters the first grade with a vocabulary of about 2,000 words. The average deaf child comes here with zero word vocabulary. Natural tendency is for them to use sign language. The school discourages that. Effort is made to teach pupils to read lips and to talk. Fact is that most deaf people are not mute. They are called "dumb" only because they cannot hear other people make sounds and so do not learn, except through specialized training, to make sounds themselves.

VOCATIONAL—This school differs from the ordinary public school also in the emphasis placed upon vocational training. Important phases are machine shop and print shop instruction. Experience has proven that deaf persons are as good—in many instances better—workmen in these fields than those whose normal hearing districts them from attention to the job. These courses come in advance grades. Early stages are devoted to teaching the children to read lips, to read and understand printed material, and to the basic instruction in the three R's—Reading, 'riting and 'rithmetic.

IMPROVEMENT—Although there has been practically no change in physical facilities, your reporter noted many improvements in conditions that prevailed two and four years ago on similar visits with the advisory budget commission. The machine and print shops have been put on definite training, rather than commercial production basis. The print shop still does a good bit of printing for state institutions, but requisitions are made on basis of instructional needs instead of economic production.

INSTRUCTIONAL—Stated another way, that means just this: When the print shop instructor finds his pupils need experience in letter-head work, he asks other institutions to submit their letter-heads for production. If a pupil needs training in straight composition, the instructor asks for that type of work. That is in striking contrast with policy prevailing a few years ago of other institutions and agencies filing orders for printing, without regard to knowledge of what the pupils needed training in producing. Comparable situation maintains in other activities. If a class is ready to do chair repairing, for example, the instructor requisitions jobs in other state institutions—instead of having them send in orders for work the class was not prepared or ready to do.

FARM—The budgeteers ran in to a farm issue here, as they have at several other institutions. The school has operated the farm for many years, showing a profit by their methods of bookkeeping.

What Other Papers Are Thinking

(The Daily Telegraph, Sydney, Australia)

If the gentlemen in Canberra have the wisest idea of this nation's best interest, they will announce that Australia will support the hard-pressed Americans in Korea with a division of land troops and more fighting planes. The reasons should be obvious to every Australian who remembers how we felt in 1941 when this country lay wide open to invasion. If the Americans are swept out of Korea and Formosa, the Russian front will be triumphant throughout Asia. Whatever friends we have still on the Asiatic continent will desert us. Then Australia will be far out on a lonely limb.

What saved us from battle on our soil and conquest in the last war except similar help again? We expect similar help again if we let the Koreans murder Americans in another Dunkirk without doing everything we can? The Americans are closely watching all the peoples who have given flowery lip service to the UN, and have received in return generous U.S. aid. If they sit on the sidelines now, while Americans die in an outnumbered struggle, many American people will argue that they would be wiser to spend their money on themselves and let the rest of the world sink. That might be a foolish, emotional reaction, but it would be understandable.

We are told that some British people enjoy the spectacle of Americans fighting while Britain for once is at peace. That is a stupid satisfaction. For only one thing keeps Britain or any of us at peace at this moment and that is Russia's fear of American industrial strength backing up a solid British-American front. They would have their happiest day of all time at the Kremlin if the Korean struggle ended with Americans feeling that Britain and her dominions had let Americans down. For that would damage the only military and political combination which may draw a line to Russian ambitions. To forestall this blow we and the rest of the British Commonwealth must give as generously as we expect Americans to give when we are in difficulties. This is a moment for action which counts only the needs of our friends.

Business Today

By ELMER ROESSNER
 This year's post-Labor Day business likely will have an annual amount of zing, especially among big corporations and manufacturers generally.

The reason: many top executives have been spending the summer planning instead of touring abroad or loafing in the northern woods. As a consequence, plans for the fall are probably further advanced than they have been at any time since the last war.

"See us after Labor Day" has long been an American business cliché. But salesmen and other bearers of proposals report they rarely meet this attitude now. Executives with power to make decisions are at their desks working on plans for the fall.

Fighting in Korea is the principal cause. It's caused recalculation by almost every large enterprise. Some have had to plan to convert part of their production to meet military requirements. Others have had to re-align plans to meet threatened shortages and controls.

There has been an unusual amount of inventory buying this summer. Plants normally carrying supplies for sixty days in advance have been increasing purchases to 90 days; those on 90-day bases have been trying to get on six months bases. Decisions to take such actions are rarely made by assistants.

Longer inventory positions require sales planning further in advance. All these conditions require re-examination of pricing policies, another job for the top command.

It's significant that several makers of durables have unveiled their fall lines 30 to 60 days earlier than usual. Many companies have put new price schedules into effect.

There are dozens of other problems arising that require top-level decisions—policies on allocations of products, cutting down the number of models, reshaping hiring policies, planning new promotions.

Executives who have left planning drift as usual while they enjoyed vacations may find themselves in a strange business world after Labor Day.

SIMPLER WAYS TO SELL ABROAD RECOUNTED
 The ECA Office of Small Business recently published a "Guide for the prospective Importer." Now it admits that "after reading this, many small enterprises have felt that exporting is both too complicated and expensive a field for them to enter."

 For those afraid of direct exporting, the agency points out that there's always indirect export selling, through American export firms, export agents and export associations, or foreign sales representatives. So the agency has reprinted one chapter as a pamphlet entitled "Indirect Selling in Foreign Markets." It's available from the ECA Office of Small Business, Washington 25, D. C.

FAIR-TRADE PRICES HELD MORE STABLE
 Of 84 manufacturers who price five their products under fair trade laws, 73 have not raised their prices since the Korean crisis, the Bureau of Education on Fair Trade reports after a telegraphic survey. Of the remainder, 6 expect to raise prices in the near future and 5 have already made small increases. The Bureau concludes that "it would appear that fair trade prices will hold the line against inflationary pressures far better than non-fair-trade prices."

BUSINESS CENSUS DATA AVAILABLE
 The Bureau of the Census has announced the publication of data from the 1948 Census of Business by retail, wholesale and service trades in each state, Hawaii and Alaska. Bulletins show the number of businesses in each classification, receipts, annual payrolls and numbers of employees by states, metropolitan areas, counties and cities.

The material should constitute valuable data for sales managers, advertising agencies, researchers, since it gives the number and sizes of potential outlets for almost any product. A list of the bulletins and prices may be obtained by writing to the Director of the Census, Washington 25, D. C.

NEW AND HOT CAPSULES: Research has begun on a project to develop multi-vitamin capsules for dogs (by Vitamin Corp. of America, 525 West 43rd St., New York). If successful it will add another segment to the already large vitamin market.

EXTRACT: A beef extract so widely advertised with big, one-word signs in English stations many GI's thought they were continually passing through towns named "Bovril" is to be introduced into America (by Habro Trading Co., 350 Fifth Ave., New York).

Hal Boyle's Column

By DON WHITEHEAD

(For Hal Boyle)

Korea—(AP)—The sun shone with blazing heat that scorched the earth and parched the mouths of men who toiled slowly up a hillside with carbines and machineguns.

It was a hellish day for war. The physical effort of tugging guns and ammunition up slopes was enough but there were enemy machinegun fire and bursting mortars—and that molten sun hanging above.

Sweat dripped from men's faces, glistened on arms and soaked into fatigue garb. The heat was a living thing that embraced you with smothering fierceness. It drew sweat from tolling men and drained strength from limbs. It was as much the enemy as the Communists in the battle for another ridge top.

Above us our planes roared in to strafe and rocket the enemy. They were wonderful, those fly boys, doing a magnificent job of supporting the attack and putting their lives on the line to do it.

It was cool up there. It was cool and clean. There was no dust and heat and dirt. There was no searing sun in the cockpit to drink the water from your body with a consuming thirst. And if death came... it was clean and quick.

But on the hillside, the earth infantry toiled up and up in the face of enemy fire and the heat—and pushed forward God only knows by what force of courage and determination.

And then the wounded began coming down the hill. A soldier came down, walking with the limber legs of a drunken man, supported by two of his comrades. His face was almost purple and his eyes were glazed and unseeing.

"The heat got him," a buddy said, "... that damned heat."
 Then they brought another one down. He was on a stretcher. Four South Korean youths carried the litter, trying hard not to hurt the man who moaned in pain. And behind them came others. Some managed to hobble down alone, but most of them were being helped down with their torn legs and twisted arms and blood stained faces.

The medics did what they could at the aid station. They bandaged wounds, eased the suffering with drugs and poured plasma into the veins of those whose own blood had gushed onto the battlefield.

And then the wounded were carried back down the dusty road they had walked over a few hours before. Each they went in ambulances—and some by helicopter—to an advance hospital. Doctors mended the broken bodies as best they could.

That night I sat in a darkened hospital train which would take them to a bigger and better hospital in another part of this tortured land.

One man whose face was swathed in bandages struggled to get out of the litter. The medics pressed him back while a young doctor gave him another shot of morphine. Gradually he became quiet.

Then came the walking wounded with bandaged heads and arms and legs. There were no more stretchers so they filed into a bare railroad car and eased themselves onto the hard floor. A soldier came around with a blanket for each of them—except one.

"I'm sorry," the soldier said, "we're out of blankets, I'm sorry." The wounded man said, "That's all right, Mac. Don't worry about me."

"Well, I'm sorry," the soldier said. Just after midnight the train began moving—taking the men back to a life that never would be the same for most of them.

And that is a glimpse into the hell of this war.

Washington Letter

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—Rosamond Lifquist, Department of Agriculture food economist, spends all her time working out nutritious food budgets and menus for American families but eats most of her own meals in restaurants.

"When I do whip up a meal in my own little efficiency kitchen," she told me, "I usually try all the short-cuts. Maybe I'm lazy."

Miss Lifquist and her associates make surveys of what kinds of foods American families use, and how much. Then they work out model food plans: "We try to help people get the most nutritive value for the money and not too far from what they like to eat."

"Food for Two," "Food for Families with School Children," "Food for Families with Young Children," "The National Food Guide," "Potatoes in Popular Ways," "Eggs Dishes for Any Meal" are some of the many bulletins she has helped plan. A list of these free bulletins may be ordered from the Office of Information, Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C. (Please do NOT write this newspaper.)

One of the more popular bulletins is "Helping Families Plan Food Budgets." It contains master food plans at two cost levels. The plans can be used in figuring food requirements for families of different sizes. Miss Lifquist is currently working on a food plan for elderly people.

Miss Lifquist hails from Hennings, Minn., where she attended Stout Institute. She taught school for five years in Shawano, Wis., took an internship in dietetics at the University of Minnesota Hospital, taught foods at the University of Minnesota and Iowa State College.

She got her most practical training however, in the Navy. Joining the WAVES in 1942, she was assigned to the Navy's Office of Subsistence here until Dec. 30, 1948. She is now a lieutenant commander in the reserves.

What does she like to eat? "I'll settle for a good thick steak with a cup of coffee any day," she said.

Ten Thousand British And American Troops 'Combat Ready' In Balkan Area

By JAMES M. LONG
Trieste, Aug. 24—(AP)—Ten thousand British and American troops are ready here if communism's next armed blow falls on neighboring Yugoslavia.

Garrisoning this allied guarded free territory on the Yugoslav-Italian border, they are "combat ready" in training and equipment. But they sit on a spot too tight to hold—and backed by an Italian army probably still too weak to help.

Their chief bulwark is the opinion—held by American military observers here and in Rome—that the Yugoslav army would be a tough nut for other Communist states to crack.

Probably no one outside the Kremlin knows if such an invasion blow is scheduled for Yugoslav Marshal Tito's tough little anti-Stalin Communist state.

But if such a Red move should come, most observers think the Anglo-American forces here would be reinforced quickly and ordered into the fight. U.S. action in Korea is an example.

Well-qualified opinion here holds that Tito's troops are equal to or better than anything that any one or two of the surrounding Soviet satellite powers could muster for an attack.

But hit by them all—Hungary, Romania, Bulgaria, Albania—and by strong Soviet support, Yugoslavia would need help.

This thin strip of allied-guarded free territory is five miles deep and 80 miles long, centered on the port and naval basin of Trieste. It is the base from which that help would have to come.

No one knows what Italy would do. She has no love for Yugoslavia. She probably would help in a fight to keep her own frontiers from being the next to be breached. But her fighting force is limited by her World War II peace treaty to less than Yugoslavia's. Italy is the weakest link in the western wall.

The American force here is limited by the peace treaty to 5,000 men and thus cannot now be reinforced. The British element of the Trieste force also is 5,000 strong and limited to that figure.

The U.S. troops are members of the 351st Infantry Regiment, with supporting auxiliary units. Their officers say 30 per cent of the men are combat veterans.

Their commander is Maj. Gen. William M. Hoge, Gen. George Patton's old Fourth Armored Division commander, who led his troops in the Battle of the Bulge, across the Rhine and finally into Czechoslovakia.

Four Killed When Train Hits Car

Monroe, N. C. Aug. 24—(AP)—A Seaboard Air Line work train slammed into an automobile near here last night, killing four persons and critically injuring one other.

The dead were identified as W. S. Baucom, about 60, of Route 2, Monroe; his wife, also about 60, their daughter, Ola Baucom, about 20, and a grandson of the Baucoms, about 12, whose name could not be learned.

Charlie C. Turner, 35, of Polkton, Route 2 was critically injured.

Father Admits Boring Holes In Chest Of Child

Danbury, Conn., Aug. 24—(AP)—The life of little Joey Korczynski, whose father yesterday admitted boring two holes in his chest with a drill press, hung in the balance today at Danbury Hospital.

Surgeons said the 3-16th-inch bit had narrowly missed the four-and-a-half year old boy's heart, and his condition was listed as "extremely critical."

When he regained consciousness in an oxygen tent after an emergency operation last night, nurses said, the youngster tossed restlessly and sobbed: "I want my daddy. I want my daddy."

His father, Joseph Korczynski Sr., 36, wasn't there. Police had taken him to the county jail at Bridgeport, 20 miles away, to await trial on a charge of assault with intent to murder. At a preliminary hearing before Trial Justice Allen Haines at nearby Ridgefield, he was ordered held without bail. His case was continued until next Wednesday.

State police found Joey pinned by the bit to the bed of a drill press in a garage at Fox Hill Inn, a fashionable resort hotel in Ridgefield, late yesterday afternoon.

When Korczynski was first brought to the Ridgefield state police barracks, Sgt. Louis Marchese said, he was "obviously crazed" and unable to talk rationally.

ANNOUNCING the new Hearing Bridge for the

NO BULKY MECHANISM IN THE EAR

You can hear without revealing your hearing troubles, and you don't have to wear your hair long now to conceal your ear mold and receiver. The new patented Hearing Bridge lets you hear secretly and softly.

And speaking of hearing, I wish to announce that I've recently added the famous Cleartone Hearing Aids, the Cleartone "700" manufactured by American Sound Products, Inc., Chicago. The "700" is the ultimate in hearing aid design and engineering. It is the smallest hearing aid ever produced to capture the power of a 22-volt battery. The Cleartone "700" introduced a new concept of size, beauty and performance. It consists of a case containing the two-section moisture-proof printed circuit, heat resistant, longer battery life. The severe as well as the milder cases can be properly fitted. To appreciate the Cleartone you must see it and hear it. Call, write or phone Everybody loves sandwiches with MOR meat in the middle because it's a "tasteful meat so good to eat." Style them "Ranchburger," "Wiener," or "Club." Serve them hot or cold. Everybody loves MOR meat sandwiches.

MOR (Beef or Pork) is economical, too, because it's all usable meat. No bone. No excess fat and no waste. It really tastes like MOR. For sandwiches slice into crosswise oblongs. Slice from top to bottom as cold-cut squares.

MOR RANCHBURGERS
MOR Beef, tomato and pickle. MOR Pork, Swiss cheese, pickle.
MOR Beef, Bermuda onion, bacon.

MOR WIENERS
Cut MOR meat into 8 "Wienie" sticks. Use hot or cold with mustard or relish.

MOR "CLUB" SPECIALS
MOR Pork or Beef, fried bacon, sliced tomato and lettuce.
MOR Beef or Pork, cheese and pickle, plain or toasted.

HOT MOR DELIGHTS

Top each slice of MOR with a teaspoon of mustard-butter, made by blending equal parts of prepared mustard and butter or margarine. Broil or fry for a few minutes to heat through. Serve hot in hot buns.

Fry MOR slices in skillet and serve with a mixture of 5 parts cranberry sauce to 1 part horseradish.

Fry MOR and then sandwich it in a hot bun with corn relish, chili sauce or your own favorite relish.

Your family will say, "Let's have MOR more often. These are GOOD!"

Robins Rally For Two Runs In Twelfth To Down Cards

Stave Off Goldsboro Last-Gasp Effort To Win By 4-3; Jones Credited With 13th Win; Tepedino Has Perfect Night At Bat

By BERT MOYE

Manager Randy Hefflin's Greenville Robins rallied for two runs in the twelfth inning on two walks and three singles and then staved off a rally in the bottom of the 12th by the Cards to edge a 4-3 win in a contest played at Goldsboro last night. The win for the Robins placed them in a tie with the fourth-place Wilson Tobs who were rained out at Tarboro.

The Robins put across two runs in the second frame and held the lead at 2-0 until the bottom of the eighth when the Cards knotted the count at 2-2, when Billy Johnson came through with his 17th homer of the season over the right center-field fence, followed by Jim Mulhern who hit for the circuit over the left field wall, his eighth of the season.

Walks to Sal Valvano and Guidice, a single by Manager Randy Hefflin, pinch-hitting for Matt Hill in the 12th, advancing Valvano to third and forcing Guidice at second, followed by a single by Joe Allegretti to plate Guidice and Vince Jones single to bring home Hefflin provided the Robins with their winning markers.

Vince Jones, who pitched the first eleven frames when he was given relief by Jim Lewey in the 12th, after the Cards had started a rally which netted one run, was credited with his 13th win of the season. He has suffered 12 defeats.

The Goldsboro Cards used two hurlers in last night's contest with Bob Mangum being charged with the loss.

Johnny Tepedino led the 12-hit attack for the Robins with four singles in four trips to the plate for a perfect night.

Chuck Sedor led the Cards' attack, collecting three singles in six trips to the plate.

The Robins will meet the New Bern Bears here tonight in the first of a three-game series as the Robins journey over to New Bern on Friday night to meet the Bears in a scheduled double-header.

Seeks To Match Maxim, Walcott

Cincinnati, Aug. 23—(AP)—Match-maker Sam Becker said last night he is about to complete negotiations for an over-the-weight bout between light heavyweight champion Joe Maxim and heavyweight Jersey Joe Walcott. The bout would be held Oct. 10 at Cincinnati Garden, Becker added.

The promoter claimed Kearns is expected to sign on a percentage basis in the next few days and that Walcotts manager, Felix Boechocio, already has agreed to terms and also is expected to sign before the end of the week.

Brother Rivals

San Francisco—(P)—On two occasions during the coming National Football League season, brothers will be on opposite sides of the field. Bill Johnson, former Texas A and M star, is a center for the San Francisco 49ers. His brother, Gil Johnson, who was a great quarterback for Southern Methodist, is the Detroit Lions. The two teams will clash Oct. 8 and Oct. 22.

Glenn Davis Proves Big Factor In Helping Rams Down Chicago, 34-31

Los Angeles, Aug. 24—(AP)—Rams appeared better equipped for Glenn Davis, a three-time All-America star at West Point, from all indications has already earned his letter—and with it a nice bonus—as a rookie in professional football.

Good looking Glenn got the first real chance to show his wares with the Los Angeles Rams last night and proved a large factor in the team's 34-31 triumph over the Chicago Cardinals in a National Football League exhibition.

The outcome sent the Cardinals on to Denver to play the Washington Redskins with three exhibition setbacks against them, and the Greenville wound up the season with the Goldsboro Cards last night over in Goldsboro and the win for the Robins gives them a record of ten wins and ten losses for the season with the Cards. . . . Last night was the sixteenth extra inning contest played by the Robins this season and was the second with the Cards. The Robins were victors in both of the extra frames with the Cards. . . . They have won nine of their extra inning contests this season, lost five and two ended in deadlocks. . . . The win by Vince Jones was his fourth over the Goldsboro club this year as against no defeats. Jones' 13 and 12 record shows that he has won five games by one run, one by two runs, two by three runs, two by four runs, one by five runs and one by a 12-run margin. His losses have been four by one run, one by two runs, one by three runs, three by four runs, one by six runs and two by seven-run margins. . . . Johnny Tepedino has really been hitting the ball since going back to his old position at shortstop. . . . Fred Pittman, ace of the Tobs' pitching staff, will probably be lost to the Tobs for the rest of the season as the result of a pulled muscle suffered a few nights ago. That will be quite a blow for the Tobs because he has not only been a reliable starter, but has also done some outstanding relief work this season. And the deadline for adding players has now passed.

I understand that a committee will be appointed right away to set a time for an official Appreciation Night for the Greenville Robins. That is good news, and I am sure that the loyal fans here will welcome the chance to show the boys of the Greenville club their appreciation for their efforts.

According to the last calculations, New Bern, Rocky Mount, Roanoke Rapids, Wilson Tarboro and Kinston can now play a maximum of only 120 games this season, having lost one. Greenville can play only 158. The cellar-dwelling Goldsboro Cards are the only club in the league that still have a chance of playing the full 140, but any games rained out from here on, as was the case last night, will be lost for good. All the clubs in the league have started their last swing around the loop.

Only two doubleheaders remain on the Robins' schedule—one at New Bern Friday night and one here with the Roanoke Rapids Jays next Tuesday, August 29th. Final home game of the regular season comes on Monday, September 4, with the Kinston Eagles ringing down the curtain on the 1950 schedule.

"I think we'll have the closest battle since Australia won the cup from us in 1939," said Alrick H. Man Jr., big, white-haired non-playing leader, "but I'm convinced we'll take it."

Harry Hopman, the little, red-haired captain of the invading Aussies, wore a worried look and said: "I don't even know how I'll line up my team yet."

The strongest team Australia has assembled since the war will attempt to wrest the big trophy from the United States in matches tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday at Forest Hills.

Davis, who has a contract with a comparatively low base but fitted with a bonus clause if he shines for the Rams, had quite a night. He scored one touchdown on a sparkling 14-yard end run, set up another with a 38-yard dash and gained a total of 99 yards in 10 trips with the ball.

He also threw a key block that enabled a rookie teammate, Dan Towler from Washington and Jefferson, to score from 14 yards out.

Farmville Tightens Grip On Lead In Bright Belt

Beat Second Place Macclesfield, 6-2, To Add Full Game Between Them; Keane Credited With Three Runs Batted In

Farmville, Aug. 24—Farmville's Bright Belt leaders took a giant step forward last night as they beat second place Macclesfield 6-2 to add a full game between them in the race for top position.

Second baseman Keane provided the difference last night between the two hot rivals for top honors in the circuit. Keane appeared in the lineup after being off the club for some time and greeted the homefolks with a double and single, getting credit for three runs batted in.

Norm Clark started the game and gave way to Shirley in the sixth. The latter was put in although Clark had been nipped for only two hits and two runs. The tenseness of the current race between both teams was displayed right there because the locals had a three-run lead when Clark went out.

They added another in the eighth to insure the win after shutting Macclesfield out the last four innings. Between Clark and Shirley, only three hits were given up. The visitors scored on a combination of their meager hitting and two Farmville errors.

Roger Thrift, firstbaseman for Willie Mauney's leaders, got the longest blow of the game, a triple. He added a single to that for two hits in five times. He scored once himself.

In order to finish out the schedule by this weekend Farmville may have to play four more games between now and Sunday. A game tonight with Stantonsburg, which is a replay of one that was rained out earlier in the season, will begin the home stand.

Then tomorrow night either Pine-tops or Stanton's "g" will appear here for a single game, depending upon whether or not Pine-tops wishes to finish out its schedule to enter the playoff next week.

On Saturday the regularly-scheduled final series with Macclesfield will begin with a single game in the afternoon in Macclesfield. The second game of the series will be performed here Sunday afternoon.

Yanks Stubborn Over Allowing Title Slip; Whip Detroit By 7-5

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The New York Yankees are going to be stubborn about giving up their American League championship.

The gentlemen from the Bronx served not-so-polite notice yesterday they are not ready to roll over and play dead.

They walloped the league leading Detroit Tigers for the second straight time—and in impressive fashion. The score was 7-5 but that tells only half the story.

In whitening the Tigers' margin to a game and a half, the Yankees routed Detroit ace Art Houtteman before he had gone five innings.

The Yankees go for a sweep of the three-game series today, pitting Tommy Byrne (13-6) against Detroit's one-time ace, Hal Newhouser (10-8).

The Boston Red Sox downed the St. Louis Browns, 9-5, yesterday to climb within four and a half games of the top. Third place Cleveland rained out of its game with Washington, is three games off the pace.

Joe Dimaggio made two spectacular running over-the-shoulder catches to convert what looked like certain Tiger three-baggers or possible homers into outs. Johnny Groth and Hoot Evers were the victims. The second catch in the eighth inning in the midst of a rally that netted the Tigers three runs.

Vic Raschl, credited with his 16th victory, also received good support at bat. Johnny Mize hit a two-run double in the fifth, and Yogi Berra's 15th homer in the sixth scored Dimaggio.

Tiny Thumper

Dado Marino waited a long time for his shot at the world flyweight championship but today at 34, the Hawaiian-born little Filipino is king of the tiny thumpers by virtue of his triumph over Britain's Terry Allen. He is the first American boxer to win the flyweight title in 20 years, as well as the first Hawaiian ever to hold a world championship.

Marino is tremendously popular in his native Hawaii. In addition to being rated the National Boxing Association No. 1 flyweight contender for some time, Marino has been famous as an all-round athlete with the homefolks. An excellent swimmer, baseball player and basketball player, Dado is an expert in Sips Soccer, which is a Filipino version of soccer played in a circle. He is a war veteran and served with the famous 7th Air Force in Guam, the Marshalls and at Hickam Field in Hawaii.

A natural flyweight, Marino has fought the best on the Islands right up through the lightweight ranks. His left hand is one of the best in the business. He could be the fighter to restore the flyweight division to the popularity it once enjoyed. If the proposed return battle between Marino and Allen in Madison Square Garden materializes, it would be a big step in that direction.

Fear Movie May Increase Unrest

Chicago, Aug. 24—(AP)—The police ban on the showing of a movie, "No Way Out," in Chicago has been protested by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and six other organizations.

The ban against showing the Twentieth Century-Fox film here was recommended by Capt. Haggy Fulmer, in charge of the police censor division.

Fulmer said he told Police Commissioner John Prendergast the film was "something that might cause more racial unrest than we have now." He said his office "held up the permit" on the film, which portrays alleged prejudices met by a Negro doctor in practicing his profession.

"We already have a (racial) problem without adding to it," Fulmer said.

The protests were made to Mayor Martin H. Kennelly.

Highway Chase Ends With Death

Charlotte, N. C., Aug. 24—(AP)—One man was killed and two injured when their car, being chased by State Highway Patrolmen, swerved off a city street and hurtled into a creek here late last night.

The dead man was identified by the patrolmen as Arlee Wilkes King Jr., 50 of Charlotte. Critically injured was Raymond Yoder of Hickory, and Luther Pope of Baltimore, Md., received minor injuries.

The patrolmen said the car was traveling at about 80 miles per hour when the accident occurred.

Reports Plan To Cut ECA Funds

Washington, Aug. 24—(AP)—Senator Bridges (R-NH) said today a Senate-House Conference Committee had agreed to cut $200,000,000 off this year's appropriations for the Economic Cooperation Administration.

The committee also was reported near agreement on reducing a Senate-approved proposed $100,000,000 loan to Spain to $62,500,000.

The ECA slash, which must be approved by both houses of Congress before it becomes effective, would reduce new money for foreign economic aid from the Senate-approved figure of $2,450,000,000 to $2,250,000,000.

Warning Against Flim-Flam Game

By CHESTER WALSH

"Street corner preaching" by itinerants is taboo in Greenville, Acting Police Chief Herbert Wooten said today. The chief requested the paper to make it plain that "street corner preaching" will not be allowed.

The chief also warned the unsophisticated, especially colored people, to beware of flim-flam crooks who promise suckers a big hunk of money from a lost pocketbook if they will advance some of their own money.

Police records show that many Negroes—men and women—have passed over their season's earnings on a farm to some Negro crook who promises to divide the money in a pocketbook found on the street. White persons seldom fall for this kind of flim-flam racket, police records show.

During the tobacco season every year, Greenville police are called on by some Negroes, especially those in middle age or beyond, to recover their money from some crook who promised money from a pocketbook he or she claimed had been found.

There is a law against begging on the streets and it will be enforced. Plans also are under way for the police to enforce the vagrancy laws.

Cherry Point To Benefit By Bill

Washington, Aug. 24—(P)—The Cherry Point, N. C. Marine Corps Air station would receive $1,400,000 under a bill approved today by the House Appropriations committee.

The bill carries $900,000 for extension of the station runways, and $500,000 for aviation fuel storage facilities.

in the dime unit and 20¢ in the nickel "one arm bandit."

The money will be turned over to the county and city school fund, Acting Police Chief H. E. Wooten stated.

While the machines were being broken up, an inquiry by a Daily Reflector reporter to the chief of police in reference to what was to be done with the three small cabinets, resulted in the answer that they would not be harmed until a clearer understanding of the judge's ruling on the cabinets could be obtained.

A member of the local V.F.W. Post had raised the question of whether or not the cabinets were included in the court order. Chief Wooten stated that he would keep the cabinets until Judge J.W.H. Roberts could be reached for a direct ruling on the matter.

Wooten then ordered the cabinets carried back into the building and not harmed until the judge ruled on the legality of not destroying the cabinets.

When asked would the safes then go back to the V.F.W. even though it was confiscated property, the chief's reply was, "I would think so."

Wooten stated that it would be later today before the judge could be reached and the matter of the safes settled.

The small amount of money which the machines yielded was a puzzling factor to many onlookers present yesterday. Chief Wooten stated that on the morning of the robbery the machines were out of the custody of the police for about an hour and were in the hands of club members.

The machines were then brought to the police station after the police ordered them brought in.

Denounces Story Of Sawyer Lobby

Washington, Aug. 24—(P)—President Truman today denounced as absolutely without foundation published reports that Secretary of commerce Sawyer had lobbied for authority to handle priorities and controls.

Mr. Truman told his news conference that Sawyer is in complete agreement with what the President asked for.

Pitt Prisoner Attempts Escape

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 24—(P)—Two long term convicts slipped away from the Edgecombe county prison camp about dark last night—but not before they had eaten supper.

The prison department reported today the escape of Willie James Vinson and Leslie Hardy, both Negroes and honor grade prisoners.

Vinson, 36, of Monroe, was sentenced in August 1939, in Union county to 25-30 years for second degree burglary, while Hardy, 27, of Route 1 Grimesland, was sentenced in Pitt county in December, 1945 to 15 1/2 years for second degree murder.

psychological experts they (the Negro troops) are also helping to win the battle against Communist propaganda. They are dramatic proof that the war to smash Red aggression in Korea is not a 'white man's war.'

The Red propaganda of course has a double purpose. One of its aims is to create racial animosities in western nations—a goal for which Communist agents in the United States have been persistently striving. Another purpose is to cause hostility among Asiatic nations towards the western powers.

That propaganda will increasingly lose force as new units continue to arrive from various countries to join the United Nations Army under MacArthur. Among them ultimately will be troops from most parts of the world. Every color of skin will be represented, and most, if not all, of the world's religions.

The Red propaganda may work in some quarters, but truth will out. You can't keep the facts from this growing army of many peoples.

The result will be to strengthen the United Nations, and to strengthen the faith of East and West in each other.

his wife was getting a pension, too. Or suppose he had been entitled to the maximum but died and his widow was getting her pension in August.

They would get the increases—in all three cases—which go into effect Sept. 1, with the wife still entitled to one-half her husband's pension and the widow, three-fourths.

Here is what Jones and his wife got in August and what they'll get in September, if he was entitled to the maximum pension, with August first and September in parentheses:

Jones—$46 (96.50; his wife—$23 (34.25) total for the couple—$69 ($102.75); his widow—$35.50 ($51.37).

That's the maximum anyone is getting now or will get under the new law which starts in September.

But the "average" pension tells better the size of the pension most retired people are getting or will get.

While $46 is the highest pension a retired worker can get in August the average this month is $26. While the highest paid after Sept. 1 will be $68.50, the average will be $46.

Iranians Wonder At New Soviet Friendliness And Possible Goal

By ROBERT HEWETT
AP Newsfeature

Tehran, Iran—The Russian bear is making purring sounds of friendship at Iran. It's a strange switch to Iranians, wondering whether their oil fields are next on the Communist timetable of conquest.

Some western diplomats think the new friendship is aimed at exploiting disappointment at the slowness of U.S. aid for Iran. Others see it as a smokescreen.

Soviet Ambassador Ivan Sadchikov called on Premier Ali Razmara to say his government was especially enthusiastic about making a trade barter deal with Iran.

Western diplomats here now discount talk of an Iranian invasion—unless Russia is willing to gamble on a third world war. They cite the fact there is no soundly organized puppet government to take the rap for a move into Iran. There are reported to be only a few hundred Iranian Kurds and Azerbaijanis in Russia.

If Iran is invaded, these sources say, it will have to be naked aggression by Soviet troops. Americans believe the anti-Communist Shah would never sanction a deal that would make Iran a Soviet satellite.

So they are quietly encouraging any move that might take the Red heat off Iran temporarily—even a Russo-Iranian trade agreement. The idea is to gain time for the long-discussed American aid to get started and show results. If and when American aid begins to become effective, Russia is expected to drop her latest friendship line with Iran.

Although Iran is one of the most strategic spots on Russia's border—the Persian Gulf oil is the largest in the world—she has received no economic assistance from the U.S. U.S. military mission is here training the Iranian army of 150,000 men how to use some $10,000,000 worth of American arms given in 1948. The State Department, however, has refused to recommend loans or grants to past governments because it feared corrupt officials would get the money.

U.S. Ambassador Henry F. Grady thinks the tide has turned, however, with the recent appointment of Premier Razmara. Former chief of staff of the army and a staunch anti-Communist, Razmara is known even to his political opponents as an honest man.

Although in office only a few weeks, he has shaken up Iran's graft-ridden bureaucracy, instituted tax measures aimed at the wealthy and professes a desire to cooperate with the United States in building up his country's economy.

American good intentions on economic help, however, are still to be demonstrated in concrete terms.

Iranians greeted with some cynicism the Washington announcement Aug. 3 that the Import-Export Bank was sending a mission to report on loan projects. American officials conceded that it would still be five or six months before any Import-Export Bank loan would show results in tools and machinery landed in Iran.

Thus any trade deal that Russia may conclude with Iran is bound to be played up here by pro-Communist elements.

Soviet Ambassador Sadchikov reportedly told Premier Razmara a barter deal would be a demonstration of Russia's friendship toward Iran.

But the Premier is reported to feel that a few concrete expressions of Soviet "friendship" would be in order first.

Release of half a dozen Iranian border guards seized in recent months by the Russians and return of an estimated $21,000,000 in Iranian gold reserves held in Soviet banks, for example.

U.S. Is Seeking Wasp In Siam

Bangkok (AP)—The United States Department of Agriculture has started a one-year investigation of fruit flies and their enemies in Siam in the hopes it will find a Siamese wasp to defeat a plague of fruit flies in Hawaii.

The Hawaiian fruit fly is believed to have started during the war with the introduction of some infested fruit. Insecticides have failed to eradicate it.

Jaywalkers

The experiment for speeding vehicular traffic at Five points is showing good results, Acting Police Chief Herbert Wooten said today, especially for traffic coming from East Fifth street, he added.

The chief pointed out one particular thing that interferes with and slows up traffic at that busy corner—jaywalkers. "Pedestrians seem to pay no attention to the red and green lights and wander into the thoroughfares and slow up traffic. We are asking the people to work with us on this traffic problem by walking on the proper light," Wooten said.

The Nunatagmiut Eskimos of Alaska killed caribou by driving them into traps or into water and then eating them.

There are about 40 species of birds of paradise.

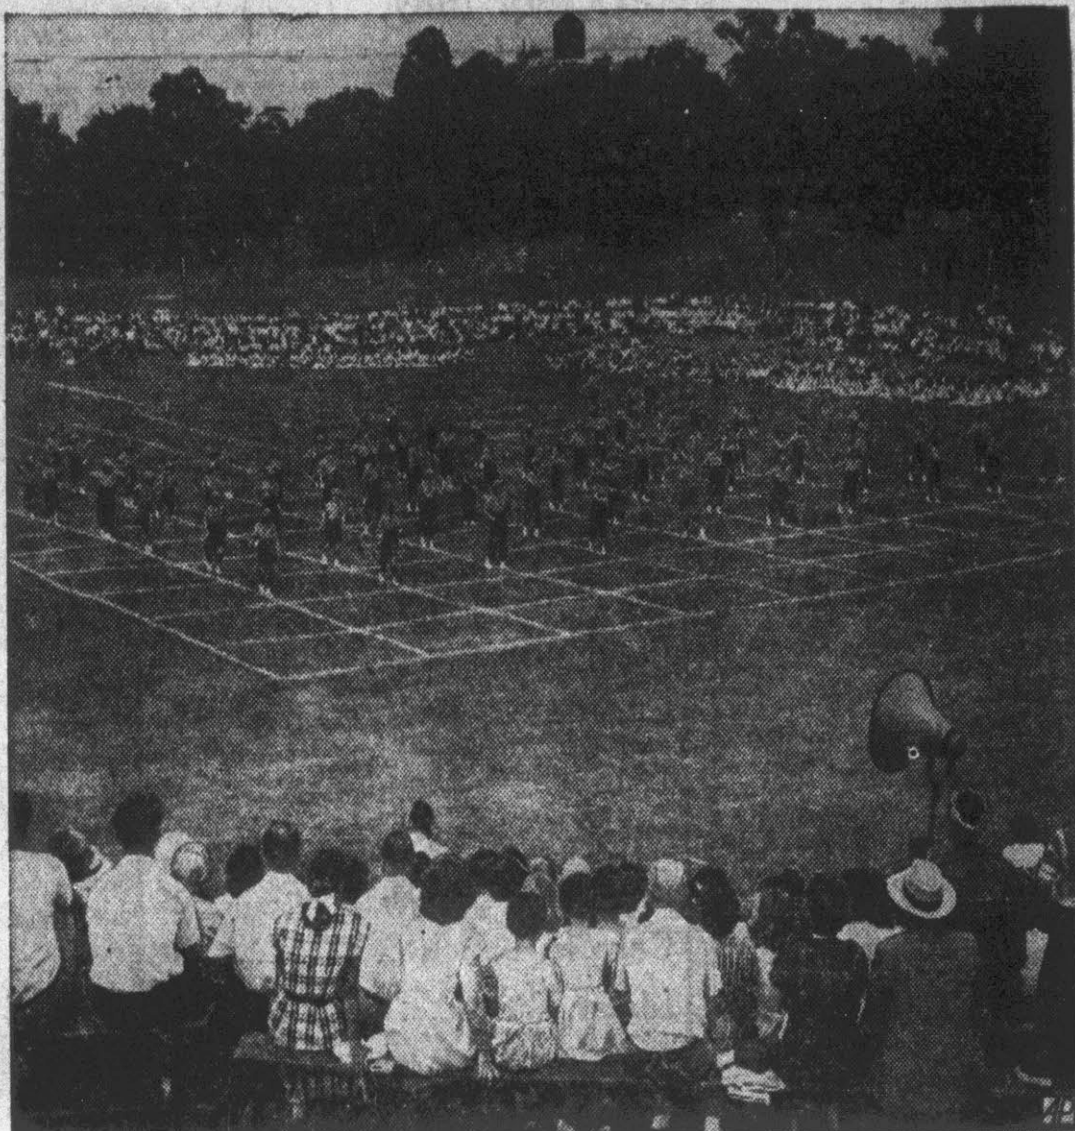

Dance in the Air...

For the young lady who is merry, friendly, good fun. Because she can be right. Before she had her vision corrected, she was timid, awkward, stiring; now she has poise, self-confidence, and is a good mixer.

It's surprising what a difference good vision can make. Smart girls know this, and have their vision corrected with lovely, streamlined glasses that add to their appearance by giving full, fresh beauty to their eyes and full freedom to their attractive personality.

Shaw Says Farm Program Mostly Political Football

Florence, S.C., Aug. 24—(AP)—The executive vice president of the North Carolina Farm Bureau has charged the federal government with using its farm program as a "political football."

In an address at the Florence tobacco festival yesterday, R. Flake Shaw also called the program "the biggest mistake (Secretary of Agriculture) Brannon ever made."

Other speakers on yesterday's festival program included A. M. Morgan, director of field services, Tobacco Associates, and L. T. Weeks, manager of the Flue-cured Tobacco Stabilization Corporation, both of Raleigh, N.C.; and F. M. Parkinson, director of the National Tax Research Corporation.

Parkinson described South Carolina's tax increase of three cents per package of cigarettes as "a denial of the state's citizens of their fundamental rights to a public hearing on the matter."

Holiday Hotel Offered Horses

Copenhagen—(AP)—Denmark now has a hotel which consists of a large shelter and a big field of juicy grass. The host is a veterinary surgeon and the guests are cart-horses.

The hotel has been established by an animal welfare association to give city horses a needed holiday in the country. The idea was born last summer after the newspapers had published a story of a Copenhagen carter who was permitted by his firm to take his horse with him into the country during his summer vacation.

Not So Hot

The weather observer reported today that the highest temperature received in the Greenville area yesterday was 93 degrees. Lowest last night 67 and at 8 a. m. today it was 72 degrees.

Light showers fell late last night. The sky was partly overcast and a light northeast breeze was blowing.

Suspect Murder In Wave's Death

Philadelphia, Aug. 24—(AP)—A pretty blonde Wave who disappeared Monday night was found dead last night in a lagoon near the Philadelphia Naval Base with bruises indicating she may have been slain.

The body of Ann Victoria Barrett, 23, of Denver, Colo., was found floating on the lagoon popularly known as "Canoe Lake."

Coroner Joseph Ominsky said the girl's lips and nose were bruised and two blood-stained handkerchiefs were stuffed in her yellow blouse.

Detective John Fenton said Miss Barrett was listed on navy records as unmarried although friends said they knew she was a "war widow." She had been in the navy two years.

The young Wave disappeared Monday night, Fenton said, after visiting a tavern with several friends, all members of the navy women's reserve.

The detective said one of the friends, Ernestine Fredette, gave him the following details of Miss Barrett's disappearance:

After being at the tavern a short time, Miss Barrett said she was tired and asked for the key to Miss Fredette's automobile. She went outside and returned in a few minutes to hand back the key.

"Here it is," she said. "I'll lock myself in the car and take a nap."

When the others went to the car later, Miss Barrett was gone. The group returned to the naval base but failed to find the Wave. She was reported missing on Tuesday.

Last night, her body was found by George Metzler Sr. and his son, George Jr., 15, and daughter, Kathleen, eight, as they were canoeing on the lagoon in League Island Park.

Songs, Dances Will Feature Kiwanis Meet

Marie Smith Wallace's dancing boys and girls will feature the Kiwanis Club's weekly supper meeting Friday night at 6:30. Joan and Ann Briley, tiny but talented singers, will feature the program. Christine Smith will be accompanist. Chester Walsh has charge of the program. Other singers and dancers participating are Carol Ann Tadlock, Tommy Spencer, Boyce Cox, Ruth Little, Mary Dunn Beatty, Alfred Smith, Marjorie Boyd and Peggy Martin. President Tige Gardner will preside. Delegates and alternates to the Carolina Kiwanis District convention at Spartanburg, S. C. October 15-17 will be appointed Friday night. Plans will be completed for a large delegation of Greenville Kiwanians to attend the interclub meeting of the Seventh Division, sponsored by the Wilmington Kiwanis Club, at Wrightsville Beach, Wednesday, August 30, at 6:30. Those planning to go are requested to contact Secretary Dave Moore.

The Greenville club's charter and ladies' night banquet will be held the latter part of October. Eli Bloom is chairman. Other committeemen are James Ray Pittman, Roscoe W. Shiplett, Ed Tyler, J. Bryan Brown, John Dickens, Ted Ashworth, John A. Collins, Jr., and Dixie McGlohorn.

Locomotive Has Change Of Voice

Chicago—(AP)—The voice of Santa Fe locomotive No. 29 has changed. The switch was made on the diesel locomotive in an experiment. The railroad explains it this way:

"In the congested eastern areas of the country, some complaints have been lodged that the regular diesel horn is too harsh and startling. The new voice is a five-chime Nathan whistle which is basically a musical instrument. When in use, the simultaneous sounding of the various single tones produces a musical chord or chime effect."

State Received Big Amount Food

Raleigh, Aug. 24—(AP)—North Carolina last year got more than 24,000,000 pounds of food—695 carloads—under the U. S. Department of Agriculture's direct food distribution program.

Jay P. Davis of the State Department of Agriculture said yesterday the food sent into the state in the year ending June 30 had an estimated wholesale value of $3,355,841. It went to school lunch rooms, charitable institutions, and welfare agencies.

House Members Vote Themselves An Extra $300

Washington, Aug. 24—(AP)—House members voted themselves an extra $300 apiece for stationery—even though Rep. Rich (R-Pa.) suggested that some Congressmen may be using the money "for other purposes."

The vote was 184 to 46. The members were not recorded by name and no one asked for a roll-call record.

The extra $300, which is not subject to senate approval and does not apply to Senators, brings to $800 the stationery fund for each house member this year and to $1,500 the total for the 81st Congress.

In the two years of the 79th Congress House members got $1,650 for stationery, while in the 80th they received $1,300.

Rich said the increase isn't necessary and suggested that an investigation of what the money is used for might open some Congressional eyes.

Rich said he hasn't been able to find out how many members already have overdrawn their stationery accounts this year or how many members have drawn it in cash and spent it "for other purposes."

The stationery allowance is deposited to the accounts of the members, who are supposed to charge against it bills run up in the House stationery room. It is supposed to be used exclusively for stationery, but Rich said he doubts if it is always used for that.

The stationery allowance is in addition to the annual tax-free $2,500 recel slwp expense allowance each member receives.

Chairman Norton (D-NJ) of the House Administration committee handled the stationery allowance bill and said the increase was justified because the war has "increased immensely" the paper work members of Congress must do.

Rep. LeCompte (R-Iowa) opposed the increase and plugging for economy, noted that it amounts to more than $120,000 for all the members.

The capital of the Dominican Republic, now known as Ciudad Trujillo, was founded in 1496 by Bartholomew Columbus, brother of the famed Christopher.

Leaps To Death From Airplane

Syracuse, N.Y., Aug. 23—(AP)—A middle-aged man leaped to his death today from a light plane about 800 feet over Syracuse Airport.

Authorities identified him as Harold E. Sawyer about 55, an employee of the Sojvy Process Company here. His body was found at an end of the airfield.

The pilot, Howard Schaeffer, reported that his passenger pulled himself out the door by grabbing

Glover To Speak At Lions' Meet

James A. Glover of Nashville, North Carolina, Lion's International Counselor, will be the principal speaker at the Greenville Lion's club meeting to be held on Monday night at seven o'clock.

The speaker will be introduced by District Governor O. E. Dowd of Greenville. President Larry Averte will preside over the meeting.

In addition to the regular club meeting, the presidents and secretaries from Region Four, District 31F, will be the guests of the Greenville club.

Following the club meeting, a regional meeting will be held with Wheeler Manning, Deputy District Governor, in charge of the program.

The regional meeting is set for eight o'clock, and a zone meeting directed by Greenville Lion George Wilkerson will be conducted following the regional meeting.

More than 25 regional presidents and secretaries are expected to attend the meeting.

Professions Are Still Popular

Prague—(AP)—Though miners and factory workers enjoy a relatively high social and economic status in Czechoslovakia, young people are still eager to enter the professions.

The Prague newspaper "Lidova Demokracie" has reported that so many tried to enroll for medicine and pharmacy in the fall semester that the universities cannot take all of them. On the other hand, it said, classes in mining, iron engineering and electrotechnical studies still are not full.

Skin Color May Be Protective

Los Angeles—(AP)—Human skin color may be a protective device to permit man to escape his enemies, says Dr. Raymond B. Cowles of the University of California. He says sunburn is not a good explanation of darkened skins. Thickening of the skin is a much better protection from the sun, he says.

But in the jungle, a black skin makes a man hard to see. That is not true in northern forests, he says.

The RANGE DOCTOR

by OSCAR J. FRIEND

Chapter 11

Several miles south-east of Gila City the Brazos River flowed through a section of country so low and flat the stream widened in surprise before crawling sluggish across the spot. Near the center of these flats, on a slight rocky outcropping clustered a sordid group of shacks and adobe buildings inhabited mostly by Mexicans. Frequented by the Indians, breeds and white ruffians of the Panhandle, Frijole Flats flourished like an ugly toad-stool growth.

The cantina was operated by the moon-faced and thoroughly villainous Manuel Vallera and any night was open night at the Full Bottle, but Saturday night was particularly hellish. On such an evening John Naylor rode over from Gila City. He bought a drink at the bar and stood at the front end of the counter, twirling his glass with his left hand as his hard black eyes raked the house, coolly appraising man after man.

"Pst!" Senior Vallera hissed to attract the attention of a young woman sitting alone in one of the booths. "Agnes, he sees her again."

"Who is here?" she asked, looking down at her fat employer.

"That senior from Gila City I told you about—at the front of the bar. I think he sees up to no good. Go find out he's business."

The woman glanced across the smoke-filled saloon and shrugged. "I can't, Manuel. You know I'm expecting Rusty any time now."

"El diablo take Rusty Scanlon! These are important Go quickly!" Almost sullenly Agnes sauntered through the milling crowd. She reached the end of the bar and leaned gracefully upon it, surveying Naylor curiously. He glanced at her, took a swift second look, and then let his eyes return to their restless roving.

"Want to buy a lady a drink?" she asked.

"Sure. Name your poison," he said with another cursory glance.

She signaled the nearest bartender. "A glass of wine, Pedro." "My name is Agnes, What's yours?"

"It's Mr. Naylor. The first name's John."

"You're looking for someone, Naylor? Perhaps I can help."

"I'll know him when I see him." She tried a new tack, nodding her head towards the rear, then moving closer. "How about sitting in one of the booths and having another drink—with me?"

"Lead the way."

"You're a strange man," she murmured.

"Is our host your husband?"

"Of course not! I only work for him. I have no husband."

"Good! That's the first interesting thing you've said. Who's that man sitting across in the back?"

Mary, the Mother of Jesus

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Luke 1:46-55; 2:7-19, 40-52; Mark 3:31-35; John 2:1-12; 19:25-27; Acts 1:13-14.

After the angel had visited Mary and told her she would have a son whose name should be called Jesus, Mary went to her cousin Elizabeth's home, and told her. Elizabeth was soon to give birth to John the Baptist.

After Mary had told Elizabeth the wonderful news of the coming of the angel which announced the coming of her Son, Jesus, she fell on her knees and "magnified the Lord," for so honoring her.

"And the child (Jesus) grew, and waxed strong in spirit, filled with wisdom, and the grace of God was upon Him." He doubtless helped His father in the carpenter's shop as He grew toward manhood.

When Jesus was dying on the cross, His mother was present, and He looked down at John, His beloved disciple, and said to His mother, "Behold thy son," and John cared for Mary always. MEMORY VERSE—Luke 1:46-47.

MARY, THE MOTHER OF JESUS

SHE WAS LOWLY, BUT HONORED OF GOD ABOVE ALL

Scripture—Luke 1:46-55; 2:7-19, 40-52; Mark 3:31-35; John 2:1-12; 19:25-27; Acts 1:13-14.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

MARY, MOTHER OF JESUS, is the subject of today's lesson. We do not know very much about her—a word or two here and there in the gospels. But what little we do know makes us love her. She is introduced to us quite casually, by St. Luke who tells the story of the angel appearing to this young girl and telling her the marvelous news that she was to be the mother of the Christ. At once Mary went to her cousin Elizabeth and imparted the wonderful message to her, and Elizabeth shared her joy so thoroughly that she sang a song of joy to Mary, beginning, "Blessed art thou among women."

Then Mary thanked the Lord for thus glorifying her in the beautiful Magnificat so called because that is the first word of the first line in the Latin text. "My soul doth magnify the Lord, and my spirit hath rejoiced in God my Saviour. For He hath looked upon the low estate of His handmaiden: for behold, from henceforth all generations will call me blessed."

He no longer belonged to her and His brothers and sister, but to the whole world! St. John gives us another instance of this same seemingly unkind attitude of Jesus toward His mother, and her understanding that no unkindness was meant. Mary and Jesus attended a wedding in Cana. Mary told the host had no wine, and told Jesus. He said, "Woman, what have I to do with thee? mine hour is not yet come."

Mary simply said to the servants, "Whatever He saith unto you, do it." The form of address, "Woman," which would be considered an insult by any modern woman, was a correct form of address in those faroff days. That Jesus did, indeed, love His mother, and thought of her welfare is illustrated when He was dying on the cross. Seeing His mother and His beloved disciple, John, below Him, He turned to Mary, and, indicating John, said to her, "Behold thy son," and to John, "behold thy mother."

MEMORY VERSE

"My soul doth magnify the Lord, and my spirit hath rejoiced in God my Saviour."—Luke 1:46-47.

call me blessed." Any high-born lady would have been honored had the miracle happened to her, but God had chosen this simple, humble girl for the honor. All generations have indeed called her blessed.

Then follows the account of the birth of Jesus, and we must skip intervening happenings in this brief account, to the time Jesus was taken for the first time to Jerusalem for dedication when he was 12 years old. On the return journey to the home at Nazareth, Jesus was missing after a whole day's journey.

Mary had thought the lad was with others of the company, but when she and the father could not find Him they went back to Jerusalem. Three days they searched, finally discovering Him in the temple, holding conversation with the teachers there, asking them questions and listening to what they told him.

In spite of her natural terror at losing her child, Mary asked Him gently, we are sure, "Son, why hast thou dealt thus with us? behold, thy father and I have sought thee here."

India's Leaders No Longer Young

New Delhi, India—(AP)—Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru has expressed concern over the dearth of young leaders in congress party ranks. Most of the prominent men now are over 60 and some over 70. Members of parliament, composed mostly of congressmen, shared this anxiety and suggested junior ministers of state and deputy ministers be recruited and trained for future leadership.

Scientists say much of the vast areas in Utah covered by sagebrush could be reseeded to grass.

Chowhound Finds Place With Navy

Cumberland, Md.—(AP)—Private Striker, 7-month-old bulldog mascot of the Cumberland Marine reserves, looked down in the mouth when his unit shipped out and left him behind. But he perked up again when Navy reservists adopted him, outfitted him with a go's cap and put him in training. The Navy reservists say ex-Private Striker seems quite adjusted now to his new unit and new rating.

Draft Call For North Carolina Said Being Met

Raleigh, N.C., Aug. 24—(AP)—With acceptances exceeding expectations, North Carolina appears well on its way to meeting its September draft call.

The state's quota for the army during September is 1,526. Between Aug. 7, when pre-induction examinations for selectees were started here, at Charlotte and at Fayetteville, 3,028 men were examined. Of these, 1,501 were found mentally and physically fit. It was reported yesterday by Col. Thomas H. Upton, State Selective Service director.

Pre-induction examinations for the September quota will continue through Friday.

Upton said that although some of those found acceptable will be deferred, "it looks like we'll meet our call."

He gave credit to local draft boards, which he said have done a good job of screening those sent in for pre-induction examinations.

He said pre-induction examinations for the state's October draft quota—1,526 men—will begin on Sept. 5. These also will be held at the Raleigh, Charlotte and Fayetteville recruiting stations.

Upton reported that 49.6 per cent of those examined through Aug. 18 had passed their physical and mental examinations.

The number passing, he added, "is still running higher than we expected when we did our planning, for we were counting on a rejection rate of about 66 per cent."

Farmers Warned To Pen Livestock

The Greenville State Highway Patrol office today issued a warning to the Farmers of Pitt county to take more care in seeing that their live stock is kept penned in.

Recently an automobile accident occurred in the county when a animal loose on the highway, caused a car to have an accident when the car collided with the animal. This was the first reported accident of this nature this year, the patrol warning stated, but last year numerous accidents occurred due to animals roaming loose on the highway. In one accident several persons were injured and one person killed.

With the increase number of persons traveling the highways with the Tobacco market opened, the chances of more accidents of this nature are greatly increased it was pointed out.

There is a state law which requires that all livestock be kept penned in and not allowed to roam at large on the highways. The owners are responsible for any damage caused by the animals when they get out.

Weapons Clear Railroad Track

Anchorage, Alaska, Aug. 24—(AP)—They used tank-killer rockets fired by combat team bazookamen to help clear the side-blocked Alaska railroad.

The line was blocked Monday in the Nenana Canyon south of Fairbanks. An overhanging cliff menaced ditchers and bulldozers. So the railroad called on the Army.

Soldiers shot away the overhang. Then the work crews cleared the right-of-way.

Lightning Cooks Spuds In Ground

Springwater, N.Y., Aug. 24—(AP)—This Livingston county potato grower digs them ready-baked.

Spading a patch where the vines had withered overnight, Joseph Nichol found that lightning had struck and cooked the spuds in the ground "soft enough to mash."

Happy Is The Day When Backache Goes Away . . . .

As we get older, stress and strain, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, depression or dietary indiscretions. If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait; try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

J. B. Moore Case

Raleigh, Aug. 24—(AP)—The Wake County Grand Jury next month will get a report on the case of former State Prison Director J. B. Moore.

District Solicitor William Y. Eickett said yesterday he will report to the Grand Jury on his investigation and let it "examine into the whole thing." The jury convenes Sept. 5.

Moore resigned on July 1 after being charged with misusing prison labor and state materials for private construction at his home here. He denied the charges, but said he was resigning because the case had impaired his effectiveness in the directorship.

Acquit Pair On Assault Charge

Wilmington, Aug. 24—(AP)—Two young Camp Lejeune Marines have been acquitted of charges of assault with intent to commit rape on a 13-year-old High Point girl.

The Marines are Tom Malott, 20, from Indiana, and David Viets, 19, from Ohio. A Superior Jury returned a verdict of not guilty here yesterday after deliberating 15 minutes.

The Marines were charged with attempting to rape the young girl on a side road near Carolina Beach July 29.

Ayden School To Open August 29

School will open for more than 600 Ayden High School students on August 29th according to an announcement received today from Principal Johnson of Ayden.

"I believe that we will have a slight increase in our enrollment this year as compared with last year, the principal stated.

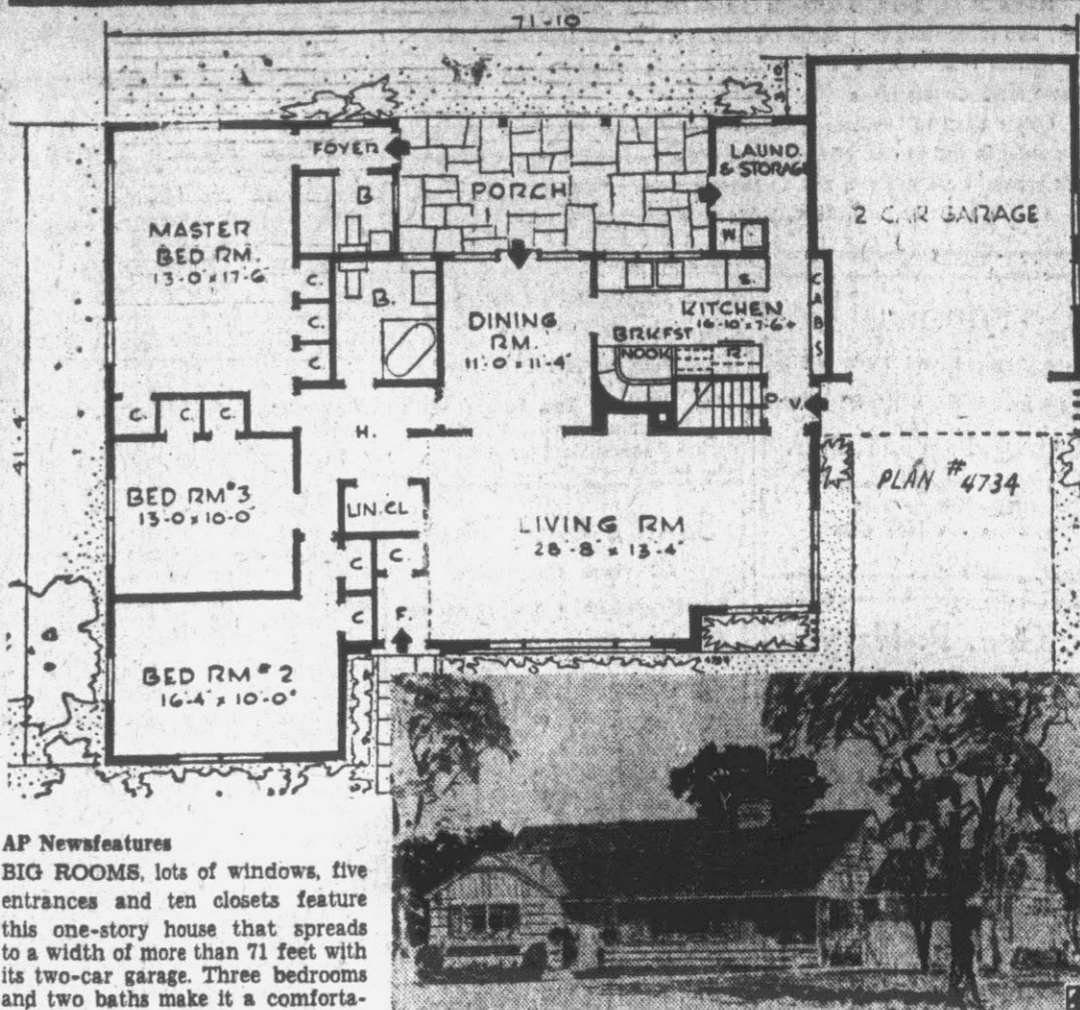

Registration for all high school students will be conducted in the Ayden School building on Thursday and Friday of this week, from nine o'clock until five o'clock. The Ayden school building has undergone minor repairs and painting and will have new furnishings in some rooms in the unit, the principal stated.

A new course will be offered on the school's schedule this year for the first time. Driver Education which is one of the subjects being started in a majority of the Pitt county schools is the new course being given. Students enrolled in the course will be given practical instructions under a driving instructor which will enable them to secure their license.

Very few changes in the faculty have been made this year, Johnson said.

The fish that the Indians showed the Pilgrims how to use as fertilizer was menhaden.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

AP Newfeatures BIG ROOMS, lots of windows, five entrances and ten closets feature this one-story house that spreads to a width of more than 71 feet with its two-car garage. Three bedrooms and two baths make it a comfortable family home. A big covered porch faces the rear garden and offers access to dining room, laundry and kitchen and master bedroom. A wide roof overhang in front of the garage protects a service entry leading to a vestibule from which basement stairs, kitchen and living room open directly. This is Plan 4734 by Rudolph A. Matern, A. I. A., 99-04 16th St., Jamaica 2, N. Y. authority on house design. The plan covers 1,904 square feet exclusive of garage and porch—a guide for local building estimates.

Jury Trial For Duke Employee

Durham, Aug. 24—(AP)—The Duke University employee who is seeking to make a test case of an order by the judge of Durham Recorder's Court against distribution of Stockholm peace petitions will get a chance to tell it to a jury next month.

William Evans, 26-year-old graduate of the University of North Carolina and son of St. Pauls Recorder's Court Judge J. Brown Evans, yesterday was bound over for trial during the September term

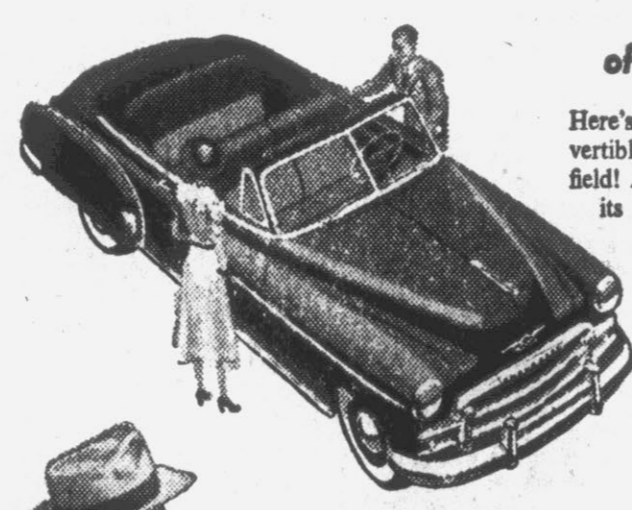

Suspect Sent To Mental Hospital

Asheville, N. C., Aug. 24—(AP)—Marlin Reece, 34-year-old Buncombe county woodcutter, accused of the slaying of a neighbor, today was en route to the state hospital for the criminally insane in Raleigh. A three-doctor panel reported yesterday the man lacked the mentality to answer the state's indictment.

Reece was charged with the murder of Furman Corn, 69, a neighbor, Corn was virtually decapitated and at the time of his arrest, Reece was wearing blood-stained clothing and carrying a double-edged axe.

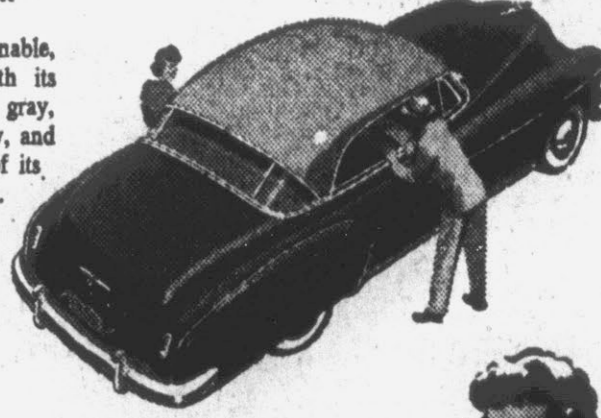

The commitment was ordered by Superior Court Judge J. A. Rousseau.
