MacArthur Statement Is 'Killed'

Truman Orders General Withdrawal Prepared Statement On Formosa

Washington, Aug. 28—(AP)—The White House said today that President Truman directed Gen. Douglas MacArthur to withdraw a statement on Formosa "to avoid confusion as to the United States position."

MacArthur had sent a statement of his views—saying Formosa must remain in friendly hands—to the Veterans of Foreign Wars encampment at Chicago. Later, he said he had been directed to withdraw the statement.

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross confirmed today what had been surmised—that Mr. Truman himself ordered the withdrawal.

Ross told reporters: "In order to avoid confusion as to the U. S. position with respect to Formosa, the President directed that the statement prepared by General MacArthur on this subject be withdrawn."

Asked whether MacArthur might be relieved of his command as a result of the incident, Ross said, "The incident is closed."

Simultaneous with the announcement of Mr. Truman's action, the White House released a letter from the President to Warren Austin, U. S. representative in the United Nations. This restated the United States position with reference to Formosa so that there will be "no misunderstanding."

Mr. Truman's stated policy is that Formosa must be neutralized so far as the Korean war is concerned, but this country will make no commitment other than to block any invasion attempt during the current crisis.

The White House did not elaborate on the letter Mr. Truman sent to Austin but a White House authority told reporters:

"In the field of foreign relations there can be only one choice in stating the position of the United States. This is regarded as being of fundamental constitutional importance."

Ross was informed that a number of newspapers were printing MacArthur's message despite its withdrawal.

Ross would not say what he thinks other papers should do.

Declined Court Offer To Throw Dice Over Case

Chicago, Aug. 28—(AP)—Three men arrested for rolling dice rejected municipal Judge Muncio J. Bonelli's proposal yesterday that they try their skill in the courtroom.

"If you can throw a pass (7 or 11) or make your point I will discharge you," Bonelli told the three men who had been arrested on disorderly conduct charges. "Otherwise you will go to jail for 30 days."

One of the men reached for the pair of dice on the Judge's bench, bestated and backed away.

"We had nothing but bad luck," the three chorused.

Judge Bonelli smiled, then dismissed the charges against the men, John Breidenbach, 25, Robert Spann 23 and Sherman Pickins, 35.

Who Gets Benefits?

Columnist Explains Who Gets What Benefits Under Old-Age And Survivors' Insurance Part Of Social Security Program Which Was Signed Into Law Today

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Aug. 28—(AP)—This explains who gets what benefits under the newly-changed old-age and survivors' insurance part of the social security program.

It affects workers, wives, widows, dependent husbands, widowers, dependent children and parents, and lump-sum death payments.

Benefits go to only two kinds of workers or their survivors: the "fully" insured and the "currently" insured.

Fully insured—A worker (man or woman) who has worked long enough in a job covered by the law to get full pension rights or, if the worker dies, benefits for the family.

Currently insured—one who hasn't worked long enough to get full pension rights but has worked long enough to get benefits for his family in case of his death. A worker is currently insured if he holds a covered job for only 1-2 years out of the three preceding his death.

Who are the people: Fully insured—If fully insured, pension when retires at 65 or thereafter. Many workers become fully insured long before 65 but wait till then to collect it.

Where Reds Try New Drive

North Koreans (1), are on attack northeast of Taegu near Chongno apparently aiming at a flanking drive (broken arrow), on the city via the Uisong-Yongchon highway. South Koreans have reached some ground they lost at start of the drive. Other Red units are attacking near Kumhwa. Communists on the east coast (2), drove back South Koreans in Kiyje-Pohang area. On southern front (3), U. S. troops are battling Reds in close fighting. North Koreans still have Nakdong River bridgehead at Hyongpung (Underlined). (AP Wirephoto Map).

Prices Remain High On Tobacco Market

Selling Time Reduced As Second Week Of Sales Begins; Estimated 1.75 Million Pounds On Floors As Compared With Last Week

An estimated 1,750,000 pounds of tobacco was on the Greenville warehouse floors today as the second week of sales on the local market began.

The poundage represented a full sale for the five and one-half hours of selling time for each of the five sets of buyers. Last week when the daily selling time was six and one-half hours approximately 2,100,000 pounds of tobacco was sold daily.

Prices on this morning's sales remained about the same high levels as the prices which were paid on the opening day. In some instances prices today for tobacco in some of the medium and common grades were slightly higher than they were on opening day.

"Formers are still very well pleased with their sales," Supervisor W. L. Whedbee stated. "There is a very small amount of tobacco going into stabilization and no tags are being turned." He added that the floors are clearing daily even though the market is having full sales.

For the first five selling days of the season the Greenville market sold 7,941,856 pounds of tobacco which government figures show brought an average price of $55.56. The market paid out over a million dollars both on the opening day's sale Monday and again on Friday.

CONVENTION ENDS Hickory, N. C., Aug. 28—(AP)—The 65th annual convention of the Women's Missionary Society of the United Lutheran Synod of North Carolina ended here today.

Convicted Reds Given 30 Days To Escape Jail

New York, Aug. 28—(AP)—The U. S. Court of Appeals today revoked the bail of the 11 convicted Communist leaders and gave them 3 days to try to stay their jail terms.

The order was in a two-to-one decision by the three-judge court. U. S. Attorney Irving Saypol said the ruling in effect gave the Red leaders a 30-day stay of their prison terms.

During the time, he said, the convicted men may apply to the U. S. Supreme Court for a further stay of sentence pending determination of their case before it.

The Court of Appeals, at the same time, denied a petition by the Red leaders for a rehearing of their appeal.

Storm Advisory

Miami, Fla., Aug. 28—(AP)—The weather bureau issued this advisory on the Atlantic hurricane today.

The small hurricane in the Atlantic was centered near latitude 25.7 north, longitude 56.0 west or about 750 miles southeast of Bermuda at 10:30 a. m. (EST), moving north-westward about 14 miles per hour.

Highest winds estimated about 100 miles per hour near the center and hurricane force winds extend about 40 miles from center in all quadrants. Indications are for continued northwesterly movement next 12 hours.

Senate Prepares To Take Vote On Big Money Bills

Single-Package Appropriation To Be Followed By Costly Defense Item

Washington, Aug. 28—(AP)—The Senate cleared the right of way today for a $35,554,000,000 money bill carrying funds to run the government this year. Leaders predicted prompt approval to send the measure to the White House.

Trailing behind it was an emergency defense bill providing $16,771,000,000 in addition to the $14,680,000,000 in military funds in the regular appropriations measure. The emergency bill, passed by the House Saturday, would provide 5,333 new planes and other equipment to fight the Korean war and build up the nation's military strength.

The Senate Appropriations committee expects to have the emergency measure ready for Senate action late in the week. Behind it—probably delayed until January—will come proposals for an estimated $10,000,000,000 more in military funds.

In advance of Senate consideration of the regular money bill, providing money for the year which started July 1, Chairman McClellan (D-Tenn.) called the appropriations group together to see what could be done about House action to kill the Senate-House watchdog committee which has checked on Marshall Plan spending in Europe.

Senator McCarran (D-Nev.), who heads the present watchdog group, said that if the House doesn't want to go along he would propose that the Senate set up its own committee to carry on the work.

Rep. Cannon (D-Mo) led House conferees in insisting that the Senate-House group wind up its work Sept. 1. They won their fight when the conference agreement was reached on the regular money bill.

McCarran told a reporter he thinks Congress ought to keep a close check to be sure that Economic Cooperation Administration (ECA) funds are spent wisely. He noted that the United States is going to pour $5,222,500,000 in military assistance funds into approximately the same countries which received ECA aid.

McCarran had one victory virtually won in expected Senate approval of a $62,500,000 loan to Spain as a part of the big money bill.

President Truman has opposed such a loan. Truman has heard over the week end that he may refuse to spend any money Congress earmarks for Spain.

Officers Elected On Airport Body

Members of the Pitt-Greenville airport commission met Friday in their first session of the new fiscal year and named new officers for the year.

J. Edmund Waldrop was elected chairman of the commission. C. C. Harris of the board of county commissioners was elected vice-chairman, and W. T. Kizer was re-elected secretary-treasurer. Other members of the commission are M. B. Hodges, chairman of the board of county commissioners, and R. E. Rogers, mayor-protem of Greenville.

During the meeting the members of the commission made plans to continue the efforts which has been underway to secure regular air service for Greenville and Pitt county.

It was in September of 1948 that the commission filed an application with the Civil Aeronautics Board for a certificate of convenience and public necessity, and the CAB docketed the application for a hearing.

In June 1949 a delegation from the Pitt-Greenville airport commission went to Washington to converse with members of the government agency to see if a hearing could be arranged at a reasonably early date. The delegation was informed that after the application had been docketed, the hearings were called in the order in which the applications were filed.

Schuman Plan Is Endorsed By Council Europe

Strasbourg, France, Aug. 26—(AP)—The European consultative assembly endorsed the Schuman plan today by a 73 to 0 vote but with 32 abstentions—mostly British laborites.

Just before the final vote the assembly inserted a proviso that the six Schuman plan nations again object vigorously to this action but were voted down, 66 to 19.

Hugh Dalton, British laborite leader, said he would have supported the resolution without this proviso but was reluctantly forced to abstain on the final vote.

Debate on the resolution was marked by a sharp exchange between British laborites and conservatives present at the meeting of the lower house of the unofficial parliament of Europe.

Railroads Taken Over By Army, Service Continues

Washington, Aug. 28—(AP)—The nation's railroads maintained on-time operations today under the army's direction—but the labor dispute which had threatened to halt the trains was still unsettled.

The Army took over the rail system at 4 p. m. yesterday. This was on orders from President Truman, who last Friday ordered the railroad industry seized by the government to avert a nationwide strike.

A half hour after Mr. Truman ordered seizure, the two strike-threatening Unions called off their walkout scheduled for today. The labor groups—the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and Order of Railway Conductors—said their 300,000 members will stay on their jobs for the government.

So the actual taking over of the railroads by the Army was a rather perfunctory affair. No troops boarded locomotives or manned depots. About 50 uniformed Army officers assumed a general sort of supervision under Karl R. Bendetsen, assistant army secretary.

The Presidents of seven major railroads were put in charge of rail-operations in various sections of the nation with the rank of Army colonels.

About the only difference under seizure that the public could notice was placards telling of Army operation were posted in major railroad stations.

Testifies Trio Govm't Employees Fellow-Reds

Washington, Aug. 28—(AP)—Attorney Lee Pressman testified today that John Abt, Nathan Witt and Charles Kramer were fellow communists with him when all were New Deal employees in the early 30's.

The 44-year-old attorney, former top lawyer for a number of New Deal agencies and later general counsel for the CIO, denied that Alger Hiss was a member of the communist cell while Pressman was in it.

President Signs Social Security

Indicate Statement Will Come On Revised Legislation

Washington, Aug. 28—(AP)—President Truman today signed the revised social security bill adding approximately 10,000,000 persons to the old age pension rolls.

The White House indicated there would be a statement later.

Mr. Truman has expressed strong objections to one part of the measure as it went through Congress. That is a provision limiting the power of the Secretary of Labor to cut off unemployment insurance funds from states whose systems he holds do not conform to federal standards.

The millions of additional workers will come under the old age benefit program and begin paying payroll taxes next January 1. Persons now retired will start getting bigger checks a few weeks hence, in October.

The new law also cuts down double payroll taxes over the next 20 years, to help pay for the larger benefits. The payroll taxes will increase from $2,500,000,000 this year to about $7,000,000,000 in 1970.

Onetime Opera Star Succumbs

New York, Aug. 28—Giuseppe De Luca, one of the last great singers surviving from opera's famed "Golden Age" died Saturday at the age of 73.

A Baritone, he was considered the world's greatest contemporary master of "Bel Canto," the almost vanished Italian art of effortless style in singing.

De Luca was born in Rome and was a schoolmate of Pope Pius XII.

Civil War On Crete Is Feared Over Abduction

Athens, Aug. 28—(AP)—Premier Sophocles Venizelos personally intervened today to try to restore calm on the stormy islands of Crete, where civil war threatens over the abduction of a 19-year-old beauty by her lover.

Venizelos suspended parts of the constitution covering personal liberties and assembly to prevent "infraction of public order." The young couple remained hidden, meanwhile, on ancient Mount Ida, defying warnings that they might relive the bloody feud that has split their families for years.

She is Stassoula, raven haired daughter of a Liberal member of Greece's parliament, George Patrigeorgi. He is Constantine, brother of Manuel Kephalaonnis, Populist member of parliament.

The two have been secretly in love for some time, but because of the political split between their two families, no one has tried to arrange a marriage.

Last Tuesday, Constantine decided to act on his own. With five armed comrades, he stopped Stassoula, her sister and brother-in-law as they emerged from the movies in Herakleion's Main Square. While the confederates held the sister and her husband, Constantine and the willing Stassoula escaped in an automobile.

Constantine's brother, Manuel, and representatives of Stassoula's family have contacted the couple hiding out in caves on lofty Mount Ida, legendary birth place of the god Zeus.

When Manuel pleaded with his brother to send the girl back, Constantine retorted: "You should know the girl will stay with me. We'll kill ourselves."

Earlier Monday General Walker expressed concern over optimism shown by some front line troops and officers. He warned against it before taking off on an air tour of the Korean front.

A navy operations summary reported carrier pilots smashed 11 new Russian type Yak fighter planes on the ground at Yonpo. This was the largest single group of North Korean fighter craft discovered in many weeks in Korea.

Doctors' Draft Given Approval

Washington, Aug. 28—(AP)—The Senate armed services committee approved unanimously today legislation allowing a draft of doctors, dentists and medical specialists for military service.

Senator Hunt (D-Wyo) who is a dentist, was designated to seek Senate passage of the measure as soon as possible.

A similar measure also is before the House Armed Services committee.

The Senate bill would draft physicians through 55 years of age and dentists through 45 years. The House version, however, sets 45 as the top age.

It drafted, they would be liable to 12 months active duty.

Almost 50 college and public school teachers from fifteen different states took part in the Chapel Hill program which dealt with the improvement of the preparation of prospective elementary and secondary school teachers.

Bridge Party Honors Miss Galloway

Grimesland.—Miss Joanne Galloway, bride-elect of September, was entertained at a bridge party and bridal shower on Wednesday evening by Mrs. Lloyd B. Whichard at her home.

The home was decorated with mixed arrangements of late summer flowers.

Upon arrival Miss Galloway was given a corsage of white asters by the hostess.

Bridge was played at five tables with prizes being awarded to Mrs. T. R. Rouse, Jr., Mrs. Ethel Tucker and Mrs. C. F. Galloway.

The honor guest received china in her selected pattern as a gift from Mrs. Whichard in addition to a beautiful array of show gifts from the guests.

Miss Billy White, a recent graduate of the School of Nursing at the Medical College of Virginia, was pre-ented a gift of silver in her selected pattern by the hostess. Out of town guests included Mrs. William Ellington and Miss Bettie Ellington, Washington, N. C., Mrs.

William Blair, Emporia, Va., and Miss Billie White, Richmond, Va. They were remembered with miniature vases of mixed summer flowers which were used as antiques for the refreshment tables.

Mrs. Whichard, assisted by her small daughter, Melissa, Mrs. R. O. Howell and Miss Jennie Outlaw, served bridal ices, decorated cakes and party mints at the conclusion of the evening's entertainment.

Miss Smith Feted At Dessert Bridge

Mrs. W. J. Bundy and Mrs. J. A. Harper, Jr., of Rocky Mount, entertained at dessert bridge at the Bundy home on Eastern street Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock as a pre-nuptial courtesy for Miss Peggy Rose Smith.

Mixed summer flowers were used to decorate the rooms where tables were set for play.

An ice course was served. Mrs. Jack Edwards, Jr., won the high score prize and the low score prize went to Miss Jane Massey.

Miss Smith was presented a corsage and a gift of silver by the hostesses.

"Christ Jesus" was the subject of the lesson sermon in all Christian Science churches and societies on Sunday, August 27.
Golden Text: Jeremiah 33:3 "Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will raise unto David a righteous Branch, and a King shall reign and prosper, and shall execute judgment and justice in the earth. And this is his name whereby he shall be called, The Lord Our Righteousness."
Among the citations comprising our lesson sermon, are the following from the Bible: "Behold my servant, whom I have chosen; my beloved, in whom my soul is well pleased." (Matt. 12:18).
And from the Christian Science Textbook by Mary Baker Eddy: "Jesus represented Christ, the true idea of God." (Page 316).

New Liquid Kills Roaches and Ants

New Way to Kill Pests Discovered by Scientists
ROACHES are the most difficult household pests to control, and they can be brought into any home from the market in a bag of potatoes or other groceries.
Science has just come forth with a new discovery that kills cockroaches and ants, and that stays effective for months. It is called Johnston's NO-ROACH coating.
It's just as simple and easy to use as it looks. You paint the coating on surfaces frequented by roaches and ants, woodwork near the sink, baseboards, garbage pails, window and door sills. When these crawling pests come in contact with this invisible, odorless, stainless coating they slowly become paralyzed, turn over on their backs with legs waving in the air, and die. Then the coating stays effective for months to kill any strays that get into the home and that walk over it.

Science has seen to it too, that this product contains no DDT, no sodium fluoride, and no phosphorus. Johnston's NO-ROACH is a non-contaminating spray, or a messy powder. It is colorless, and may be brushed just where you want it, without having to move all your dishes and pots and pans.
Prices are 3 oz. for 89c, pint for $1.69, and a quart for $2.98.

The New Chief Should Have A Free Hand

With the appointment of Guy Langston as Greenville's new chief of police, the Reflector hopes it marks an end to old troubles.

If Mr. Langston is as well qualified as his record and references indicate, our town is most fortunate in acquiring him to head up the police department.

The new chief of police has been voted complete support by the board of aldermen, and we hope this endorsement is more than a routine gesture.

Americans Are Missing A Respected Senator

One of America's most statesmanlike senators has gone into virtual retirement. Senator Arthur Vandenberg has abandoned his onetime great role in the conduct of foreign affairs due to a prolonged illness.

His integrity was never questioned by friend or foe; such was the respect he enjoyed in matters of foreign policy, that his stamp of approval earned the support of otherwise isolationist, or "border-line," lawmakers among members of his own party.

During the period Sen. Vandenberg helped guide the ship of state through some very rough seas, there appeared a greater sense of unity of purpose among our lawmakers. . . . A unit that does not always seem apparent now.

Though he wore the Republican party label, in retrospect this man seems to have put America's welfare before political advantage.

We can always use more men in congress with that attribute.

Protected By Laws

They Would Destroy

Once again, a communist (or communist-follower) has been able to take advantage of American constitutional rights and be given new freedom from jail.

The man in question is Harry Bridges, union boss of longshoremen and currently convicted of perjury . . . still unpunished because of legal technicalities.

Other "Americans" who have been demonstrated as members of the Communist party, or whose activities have shown them to be constant followers of the Communist party-line, have resorted to every constitutional right and privilege in keeping out of jail.

This, despite their avowed enmity of our way of life, and our constitution.

The very rights they despise have been the greatest protection for communists in our land.

There is no such thing as an "American Communist." Past trials have proven communism is another word for Russian imperialism; the servants of communism have been convicted of seeking to overthrow our government by force.

It doesn't make good sense. When personal opinions of General MacArthur and Secretary of the Navy Matthews don't agree with official administration policies, there is quick reaction.

Single-Minded Policy Necessary, Unliked

The General's viewpoint on Formosa was silenced, apparently under orders of President Truman; Secretary Matthews' speech on considering the possibility of "preventive war" gauged his associates flat-footed; a quick rebuke was issued, and there remains a strong likelihood he will be eased out.

One can understand the need for maintaining an appearance of policy-unity among members of the administration and the defense establishment.

On the other hand, we feel an abhorrence of anything resembling "thought-control" in government.

Certainly, all aspects of strategy and policy-making must be considered. It would be desirable that the public be aware of necessary decisions, and how they were reached; but this cannot be always practical.

For better, or for worse, there must be a semblance of unity at "the top," to inspire and maintain confidence in the quality of leadership and its policies.

News Behind The News

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—American involvement with Chinese Nationalist forces in Formosa in an anti-Communist defense alliance has become extremely serious since General Douglas A. MacArthur's recent conference with Chiang Kai-shek, despite President Truman's January 5 declaration that the United States "will not provide military aid or advice to the Chinese forces" on the beleaguered island.

As a result of our active military cooperation with Kai-shek, the phones and cables between Washington, London and New Delhi have become overheated in the last few days.

Dean Acheson is finding it difficult to convince Prime Ministers Attlee of England and Nehru of India that our Formosa venture is only a local, protective maneuver, designed to prevent the Korean warfare from exploding into a global conflict.

WAR Attlee and Nehru, whose governments have recognized the Communist regime in China, have informed our Secretary of State that they cannot give us the moral or material aid they have provided in Korea if the United States clashes with Mao Tse-tung's regime. It is also doubtful if we could command United Nations support.

Thus, although neither Congress nor the American public realize how precarious the situation has become, it will require tightrope-walking diplomacy at Washington to prevent formal or informal war between the United States and China.

PERMANENT When President Truman issued his order on June 27 for elements of the Seventh Fleet to patrol the waters between Kai-shek's last stronghold and the Communist-fortified mainland, it was supposed that this was and would be our only maneuver to repel a Red invasion.

Indeed, Secretary Acheson gave informal assurance that he warships would be withdrawn with the cessation of hostilities in Southern Korea. There was no word from Washington of far more extensive efforts to strengthen the defeated and discredited Nationalists.

But the little known fact is that on August 4 General MacArthur rushed Major General A. P. Fox, his deputy chief of staff, and twenty-two officers and men to Taipei, the Formosan capital. They have established permanent headquarters there as a liaison center between the Nationalist defense forces and MacArthur's G. H. Q. in Tokyo.

COMMUNICATIONS Besides furnishing the "advice" Mr. Truman previously denied, they are understood to be reorganizing the ground forces and fortifications in preparation for an attempted invasion. They have been supplied with six jet planes for rapid transportation.

Always an energetic and thorough commander, General MacArthur subsequently sent Brigadier General George I. Back in charge of a group that is now rebuilding and operating Formosa's military communications system. Our supreme commander discovered immediately that to leave these connections in their previous primitive state would have been fatal in the event of hostilities.

OKAYED General MacArthur did not make these preparations on his own initiative. Inasmuch as they involve diplomatic policies in a sphere hitherto outside his command, he received advance approval from Washington in each instance. The setup was okayed by W. Averell Harriman, Mr. Truman's chief of staff for foreign affairs, on his recent visit to Tokyo.

In short Washington knows that it needs only a careless spark to set all the Orient ablaze. Nor is it any consolation to realize that the United States would have no international "fire brigade" in such a conflagration.

On the contrary, intervention in what Mr. Truman called a "civil war" on January 5 might set all Asia and China against us, precipitating the racial struggle that is now Stalin's basic objective in his war on the western world.

POSITIVE Truman-Acheson difficulties with Attlee, Nehru and other allies stem from their inability to make head or tail of the Administration's shifting policies in the Far East. In view of our present engagements on Formosa, here is what Mr. Truman said on January 5, in response to Republican demands for aid to Chiang Kai-shek:

"The United States Government will not pursue a course which will lead to involvement in the civil war in China. Similarly, the United States Government will not provide military aid or advice to Chinese forces on Formosa."

Senator Tom Connally of Texas, as always, was even more positive. The chairman of the Senate Foreign Affairs Committee said on the floor:

"No, Mr. President, I shall not favor sending a single American boy with a gun in his hand to Formosa, to settle a civil war six or seven thousand miles away from home, in order to appease the political ambitions and oratorical frothings of Senators . . ."

"It is my belief that if we did what the Senators propose, if we should go into Formosa and occupy it, we would have a liability on our hands instead of an asset."

The Senators guilty of "political ambitions and oratorical frothings" were GOP-ers Taft of Ohio, Wherry of Nebraska and Knowland of California.

UMSTEAD — Whether former U. S. Senator William B. Umstead has or will have his hat in the political ring, there is no doubt about the fact his head and heart and voice are right in the middle of the continuing fight for principles of the Democratic party.

The Durham statesman made an old time fighting speech at the fourth district YDC meeting at Raleigh Friday night. It was his first appearance as a political speaker since he suffered a severe throat ailment last winter. As he proclaimed the necessity for young men and women to sustain the principles of democratic government at home as well as at the battle front, in peace and war alike, it was difficult to remember that anything had ever bothered his voice.

CHALLENGE — Declaring that politics is nothing more nor less than applied government, he challenged the people of North Carolina to keep alert and active as the only hope of retaining the individual liberty and collective freedom which has made America great. "Not politics as usual, but unusual politics for unusual conditions," should be the order of the day he said. While most of his remarks were non-partisan, he declared that government in a democracy must be exercised through political parties, and paid his respects to those selfish and egotistic voters who sulk when they or their favored candidates are eliminated in nominating primaries. Good citizenship requires that primary differences be forgotten and every democrat get behind the party nominees in November.

SINCERITY — Umstead's past record proves sincerity of his statements. Defeated in the primary for the senate post to which he had been appointed, no man or woman in the state rendered more valiant service to the Democratic ticket in the general election campaign that year.

FUTURE — He generally conceded that Umstead would have been a candidate for the senate this year, but for the illness that hit him last December. Almost as general a belief he will be a candidate for governor in the 1952 primaries. Whether or not he enters any future race as a principal, the influence of William Umstead on North Carolina politics will continue to be felt.

"GOD HELPS AMERICA" (Henderson Dispatch) These are the words used to express his surprise and chagrin when U. S. Prosecutor Joseph Donohue heard of the order of a Federal circuit court on the west coast that Harry Bridges, president of the longshoremen's union, be allowed freedom from jail on bond pending his perjury conviction appeal to the Supreme Court.

Others, too, will breathe the prayer that "God Help America," when the mighty United States government once again finds itself impotent in efforts to lay hands on this leftist union leader, who repeatedly has tied shipping into a hard knot by his demands upon employers. The three-judge circuit was not unanimous, because of the dissent of Judge Clifton Matthews, who held that the Communist party is a conspiracy and members of the party "are parties to that conspiracy." The other two justices ruled that there "is no showing" that Bridges "has in the present position committed any recognizable crime, or that he has himself counseled or advocated sabotage or sought to foment strikes or the establishment of picket lines on the waterfront."

Bridges last April was tried for and convicted on charges that when he got his American citizenship papers in 1945 he swore falsely, that he was not a Communist, and thus became guilty of perjury.

It is, of course, no crime to oppose the Korean war. But when the United States entered that conflict in a long range defensive move against Communist Russia, it had and still has the right to expect loyalty on the part of its citizens. Donohue argued that speeches by Bridges against intervention followed the Communist line.

The Australian-born leftist radical has ordered strikes by his union that resulted in violence and bloodshed, and only last year directed a strike in Hawaii that paralyzed shipping at Honolulu for months, created a food shortage in the islands, and thwarted all reasonable efforts of shippers to come to an agreement with longshoremen. Similar defiance of the law has occurred on the west coast under his leadership. His policies have given comfort to the Communists and have been in direct conflict with peaceful relations between employer and employee. His demands as the price of labor peace have been preposterous and unreasonable.

The government has sought more than once to convict Bridges of law violations. Now that he has been convicted of perjury, choice is made that will leave bitterness or resentment to such extent as to forfeit for the winner the right to claim support of the loser and his followers in organizing the house, or make it difficult for the losers to work in cordial co-operation with the presiding officer.

MILK—Rapid rise in the cost of producing Grade A milk makes some increase in price paid to the farmer by distributors necessary to assure continued supply, according to reports reaching Raleigh. Average price received by producers during recent months has been $5.50 to $5.75 per 100 pounds of milk with four percent butterfat. Average retail price to the consumer is 22c a quart. Whether the consumer retail price would be upped after slight increase in payments to the farmer will depend upon local conditions, said C. W. Pegram, chief of the dairy division in the state department of agriculture. Pegram further said that despite considerable increase in state production, North Carolina will have to import a good deal of milk this winter to meet anticipated demand. Upping the farm price to around $6.00 per 100 pounds will tend to keep state production nearer demand level, he said.

ACHIEVEMENT — Olla Ray Boyd of Pinetown contributed more to the cause of good government by running for the United States Senate this year than most folks realize, if one can take his own appraisal of values. In his final financial report to the secretary of state the perennial candidate from Pinetown writes, in the space reserved for contributions by others for his campaign: "None to my knowledge, but from the criticism I read in the papers there must have been some. My campaign was a political success. For $135.00 paid by myself I put the state in a second primary with a one-man political machine." Boyd first made headlines by running for governor in 194 when he got 1900 votes. He ran again in 1948 and upped his vote to 2100. In the recent senate primary he got $900. Statisticians figure that if he keeps running he'll win in 1952.

Somebody near Taegu the other day had a brief ceremony to honor some of these dead American men. It was just a touch of reverence for the memory of some 217 men buried in a temporary military cemetery of the First Cavalry Division.

They just put plain white wooden crosses on their graves. The cemetery had been a democratic testament of the unification of the armed forces. In the utter hospitality of the unliving, all branches of the separate services—sea, land and air—shared adjoining final foxholes.

They were dug by 25 Korean laborers and marked only by wedge-shaped boards of wood driven into the earth.

One day Lt. Col. Leo Gilbert of San Antonio, Texas, commander of a military police battalion, drove by with Capt. Emmett W. Fox of Chicago, Ill. They thought that the graves should carry more significant markers even though the cemetery was an emergency tomb of the American dead.

Sgt. Robert Griffin of Fall River and Boston, Mass., undertook the assignment of making the crosses.

"He was proud to do it," said Gilbert. "He got the wood from airforce boxes and he scrounged the white paint from the Lord knows where—but he found it."

Dewey B. Swords of 1802 Baker Ave., Augusta, Ga., head of the graves registration unit, knelt and pulled out a wedge-shaped marker and hammered a gleaming white cross into the fresh softly-turned mound.

Sweat beads broke out on his forehead under the fierce hot sun. The native gravediggers looked on curiously, glad for a lull in their labor, and some Korean children waited respectfully to ambush the living Americans for candy and chewing gum.

In the presence of the dead there is an urgency to justify being alive. So everyone began to mention the chores and responsibility of living—his plans for himself, his program for retirement, what was the best school to send his daughter to.

Business Today

By ELMER ROESSNER The fifty best advertising campaigns of 1949, selected for the "Blue Book of Advertising" published more hard selling than ever before. This is a reflection of increasingly competitive conditions in the country.

Almost every series of ads picked for honors by the Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers Association showed the product as dramatically as possible, and pounded home reasons for buying.

While there were bright touches in almost every series, none of the ads were built around cartoons, comics or gags, as there has been in previous years. There were a few pretty faces in the winning ads, but no bathing beauties or scantily draped girls.

The recent trend toward editorial technique in advertising was reflected. Five of the campaigns used ads resembling news pages and several others employed ads that resembled news or feature stories, although sufficiently distinct to avoid confusion. A series by the Northwestern National Bank, Minneapolis, used picture pages.

The best included 13 campaigns in the grocery industry, 12 in autos, 4 in financial, 3 in beverages, 3 in drugs, 2 in appliances, 2 in publications and 1 each in other fields. One of the latter included the Santa Clara County Medical Society's series of dignified presentations of its views on free medical care and health insurance.

The wonder drugs' wonder advertising for anti-histamines and artemisinated dental products won three of the fifty honors.

On the whole, the top advertisements indicated strong emphasis on greater benefits, comforts and economy of the products and on prices. CREDIT CARD DINING RECORDS EXPENSES

Adaptation of the credit card idea to restaurants, reported here last week, is not confined to Chicago. A New York company is using the idea on a national basis and has signed up 75 restaurants in large cities. One of its advertising pitches to business executives is that the monthly billing gives "a single permanent record of all your entertainment expenses."

AD MEN, TOO, TAKE BOOTH AT FAIR Here's a postscript to the recent report that a Wall Street brokerage house was taking a booth at a county fair: The Advertising Association of the West will have a booth at the California State Fair opening in Sacramento Thursday. With the aid of the State Board of Education and the local advertising club, it will staff the booth with advertising experts. A business man with an advertising problem is invited to step up for free advice. Examples of outstanding advertising campaigns will be on display. BUSINESS CAN BE ALMOST ANYTHING

There seems to be no end of different kinds of businesses. A New York company is specializing in re-recording phonograph records on 33 1/3 rpm discs. One customer is having 8,000 records transferred to long-playing platters.

A Los Angeles firm rents searchlights to call attention to special sales, opening and other business events. Using searchlights to create excitement started with movie premieres. The idea has spread so that today beams sweeping the Los Angeles skies may mark the opening of a new hamburger stand.

A New York enterpriser offers to answer any question of fact by phone for fees ranging from $10 to $120 a year. About 35 percent of questions asked are answered while clients wait; others may take hours. Clients include advertising agencies, magazines, industrial concerns and individuals.

NEW AND HOT DETECTOR: For stamp collectors, there's a small device with a built-in tray for water-mark detecting solutions, a scale in millimeters and inches moulded into the top, and a cylinder which counts perforations. FM: A pocket radio will soon be put on the market (by Fred W. Ahrecker Co., 1918 N. Meridian St., Indianapolis.) It has a printed circuit, tiny tubes, batteries and a telescope antenna.

Hal Boyle's Column

An American Cemetery in Korea —(AP)— Battle divides the quick and the dead.

It divides the quick—the living—into classes: those whose flesh or mind remain intact under the hammer of combat and those whose mentality or muscles are so interrupted by fear, fatigue or metal objects that can no longer function as a whole person.

Those who remain alive are hampered by the fact that if they are too afraid, too tired or too wounded they must summarily be removed because they have lost self confidence or the men who follow or accompany them into danger no longer have confidence in them. This situation is a terrible ordeal to combat-minded men who in their hearts would choose to die rather than forsake their buddies—or have the mistaken feeling that they did forsake them.

Their emotion is the tragedy that men taken from the battlefield often feel—the feeling they had more to give and didn't give it or weren't allowed to give it.

The dead have no such feelings so far as we know. They have gone all the way, made all the sacrifices they could. And none has come back to complain or say that what he did wasn't worthwhile.

Somewhere near Taegu the other day they had a brief ceremony to honor some of these dead American men. It was just a touch of reverence for the memory of some 217 men buried in a temporary military cemetery of the First Cavalry Division.

They just put plain white wooden crosses on their graves. The cemetery had been a democratic testament of the unification of the armed forces. In the utter hospitality of the unliving, all branches of the separate services—sea, land and air—shared adjoining final foxholes.

They were dug by 25 Korean laborers and marked only by wedge-shaped boards of wood driven into the earth.

One day Lt. Col. Leo Gilbert of San Antonio, Texas, commander of a military police battalion, drove by with Capt. Emmett W. Fox of Chicago, Ill. They thought that the graves should carry more significant markers even though the cemetery was an emergency tomb of the American dead.

Sgt. Robert Griffin of Fall River and Boston, Mass., undertook the assignment of making the crosses.

"He was proud to do it," said Gilbert. "He got the wood from airforce boxes and he scrounged the white paint from the Lord knows where—but he found it."

Dewey B. Swords of 1802 Baker Ave., Augusta, Ga., head of the graves registration unit, knelt and pulled out a wedge-shaped marker and hammered a gleaming white cross into the fresh softly-turned mound.

Sweat beads broke out on his forehead under the fierce hot sun. The native gravediggers looked on curiously, glad for a lull in their labor, and some Korean children waited respectfully to ambush the living Americans for candy and chewing gum.

In the presence of the dead there is an urgency to justify being alive. So everyone began to mention the chores and responsibility of living—his plans for himself, his program for retirement, what was the best school to send his daughter to.

And the smell of death hurt the noses and the consciences of everybody. They had the feeling they had to use their breath to explain their noses and why they still had breath. It hurt them all and nobody wanted to mention what was underneath the mounds. It was unnecessary to do so.

Gilbert looked at a small American flag flying from a roughly lashed double length of bark-trimmed tree trunk and said: "We will build you a better flagpole."

"Well, it is crude but it will do," said Sergeant Swords, who is thin and wears glasses because he is 50 years old.

"I never saw anyone in my life who was more heartbroken than Sergeant Swords was the day they brought in our soldiers who had been shot to death with their hands tied behind them," said one of his men. "He cried."

And then we left and the native workmen began digging fresh nests of glory for dead soldiers who would live there only a little while—and live a longer time in distant hearts and a distant land they once knew.

Washington

Letter

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — To Judy Cox "getting someone born legally" is all in the day's work.

Judy handles thousands of green-covered documents—precious pieces of paper that establish the privilege of a man to call himself an American citizen before the world.

Judy's job in Washington is getting passports and visas for flight crews of a worldwide airline. Sometimes she helps passengers get passports and visas, too.

Until recently there were no uniform state laws on registration of births, and many a man remained unchallenged as a citizen until the day he applied for a passport. On that day, the birth certificate becomes all-important.

The process of obtaining a birth certificate can be very difficult, especially if parents and relatives are all dead and the person moved, or was moved at an early age, from the scene of his childhood. As a rule, it is strictly up to the individual to produce such proof—enough to satisfy the State Department, where passports are issued. Judy does the job for pilots and other company employees. Sometimes, the job of tracing certificates amounts to a real headache. "There was the case of a man born at sea," Judy told me. "He happened to remember the name of the ship. It took time and ingenuity, but Judy tracked down the company that owned the ship, located the ship's log, discovered the captain had recorded the blessed event. A search of records also revealed the new arrival had been duly registered by his father the day the ship docked."

"We try to get names of childhood associates, ministers, school teachers, playmates, friends of the parents, cousins who might keep a family Bible, etc. Then we go to work."

Judy writes letters to everybody asking for any information that will help.

It is, of course, no crime to oppose the Korean war. But when the United States entered that conflict in a long range defensive move against Communist Russia, it had and still has the right to expect loyalty on the part of its citizens. Donohue argued that speeches by Bridges against intervention followed the Communist line.

The Australian-born leftist radical has ordered strikes by his union that resulted in violence and bloodshed, and only last year directed a strike in Hawaii that paralyzed shipping at Honolulu for months, created a food shortage in the islands, and thwarted all reasonable efforts of shippers to come to an agreement with longshoremen. Similar defiance of the law has occurred on the west coast under his leadership. His policies have given comfort to the Communists and have been in direct conflict with peaceful relations between employer and employee. His demands as the price of labor peace have been preposterous and unreasonable.

The government has sought more than once to convict Bridges of law violations. Now that he has been convicted of perjury, courts have been found that refuse to uphold the jury's verdict and he goes free again under bail. And the government of the United States finds itself in continuing impotence to defend itself and its people against this foreign-born radical whose preachings have consistently run counter to the laws of the land.

Bridges, therefore, is free under bond pending review of his case by the Supreme Court. That may require a year or two. In the meantime, there is no existing restraint against his activities. Eleven men convicted in New York of being Communists, and thus of allegiance to Moscow in its avowed purpose of overthrowing by violence of this and all other non-Communist governments in the world, are also at liberty under bond to carry on their subversive activities.

In the name of justice, is America so generous with its liberty that it goes out of its way to protect those who would strike it dead? Freedom assured to citizens by the Constitution does not extend to those who would destroy that very freedom. And when enemies within are shielded by the courts of the land, all patriots may well shout, with the Federal prosecutor, "God help America."

'One Man Air Force' Of Korea Is Briefly Grounded

By STAN SWINTON
 Masan, Korea, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Major Dean Hess, the "one man force" of the South Korean war, has been grounded by official order.

But only until he can take the air again leading South Korean fliers against the reds.

"And that won't be long" the handsome, 32-year-old airman from Marietta, Ohio, said today.

So far as the infantry is concerned, Hess is probably the outstanding air hero of the war. They know him by his radio call sign—"Macintosh One." That's a sign that an F-51 fighter, with South Korean forces marking, will flash down to tree top level to blast enemy machineguns and troops.

Hess flew 5 missions in less than two months. Sometimes he made six sorties in a day.

Infantry units he has supported have written to his commanders, recommending him for medals ranging up to the distinguished service cross.

But for Hess the greatest reward was that infantrymen down in the fire, infested for holes thanked him time and again.

Once he saved 25 surrounded American soldiers by strafing within 50 feet of them from an altitude so low the soldiers said the reds could have hit his plane with rocks.

Hess, a flying scholar who holds a master's degree from Ohio State University in diplomatic history, is officially head of the South Korean air force advisory group.

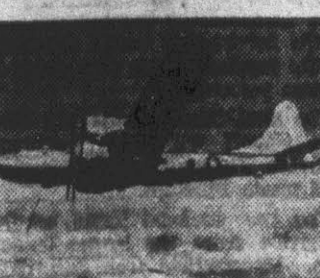

The order for him to stop flying came because higher headquarters wanted him on the ground to train 66 South Korean cadets now learning basic flying, and another group of flying Koreans who must convert from AT-6 training plants to F-51 fighters.

When the converted fliers are ready for action, the air forces said, "Macintosh one" can personally lead them in combat.

ANNOUNCING the new Hearing Bridge for the

NO BULKY MECHANISM IN THE EAR

You can hear without revealing your hearing troubles, and you don't have to wear your hair long now to conceal your ear mold and receiver. The new patented Hearing Bridge lets you hear secretly and softly.

And speaking of hearing, I wish to announce that I've recently added the famous Clearstone Hearing Aids, the Clearstone "700" manufactured by American Sound Products, Inc., Chicago. The "700" is the ultimate in hearing aid design and engineering. It is the smallest hearing aid ever produced to capture the power of a 22-volt battery. The Clearstone "700" introduced a new concept of size, beauty and performance. It consists of a case containing the two-section moisture-proof printed circuit, heat resistant, longer battery life. The severe as well as the milder cases can be properly fitted. To appreciate the Clearstone you must see it and hear it. Call, write or phone

First of the Fine Cars in Value

Just how much need a really fine car cost?

YOU'LL find the answer written in the delivered price tags of this bold and strapping beauty pictured here.

It's a Buick ROADMASTER—and you have only to put yourself behind the wheel to see that it is truly fine by any yardstick.

But it leaves the factory carrying the lowest price per pound of any car in the fine-car field.

That means that the money that goes into its building goes for things that really count—

For a big, husky Fireball straight-eight engine of 152 hp and all the brilliance of performance the highways can handle—

For room that measures up with the biggest, and for comfort contrived of deep soft seats and abundant space for taking it easy—

For a ride that's literally "out of this world," soft and easy as only all-coil springing can make it, yet firm and steady always, thanks to torque-tube drive—

For handling that is feather-light, for the complete smoothness of Dynaflo Drive as standard equipment, for a whole host of fine-car touches such as rich upholstery materials, flexible-spoke steering wheel, non-glare rear-view mirror, even automatic windshield washers, all included in the price.

Yes, the big question ROADMASTER answers is not how much a really fine car costs, but how little you need to pay to get all that a fine car can give.

Drop in any time on your Buick dealer for a trial ride in a ROADMASTER—and the surprisingly happy news on its delivered prices.

Robins Drop Two Games To Tarboro Over Weekend By 10-9, 6-5 Scores

Double Loss Puts Locals Two Full Games Behind Fourth Place New Bern, And One Full Game Ahead Of Seventh Place Tarboro Club

Manager Handy Heflin's Greenville Robins continued their downward plunge in league standings during the week-end by dropping the two contests to the Tarboro A's, losing the Saturday night contest over in Tarboro by a 6-5 score and then returning home Sunday to lose by a 10-9 score. The double loss for the Robins moved them into full possession of sixth place in league standings and only one full game ahead of the seventh place Tarboro Athletics, and two full games behind the fourth place New Bern Bears.

Saturday's Game
The Tarboro Athletics edged out the Greenville Robins over in Tarboro Saturday night by a 6-5 margin, with two runs in the eighth inning turning the trick.

In that frame, with one man out, Bill Carr was walked. On the hit, Carr went all the way to third on a single by Johnny Creighton. A perfect squeeze bunt by Red Werner brought Carr in, with Werner beating out the bunt for a base hit.

Jack Yerkes, who relieved Bob Dick on the mound, came through with a single to plate Creighton, with the winning run.

The Robins took the lead at 4-3 in the third frame with a four-run inning, featuring home runs by Joe Allegretti and Ralph Bartolozzi. They put across another single in the fourth frame to go out in front 5 to 4, before the A's rallied in the eighth for their winning runs.

The Robins collected a total of eleven hits off the three A hurlers with Ralph Bartolozzi getting a double and a homer, Joe Allegretti a homer and a single and Johnny Tepedino and Dick Bland getting two singles each to lead the locals' attack.

Bobby Harrison was charged with his seventh loss of the season and his second to the A's. Keys and Lewey relieved Harrison in the final frames.

Ray Carr with a triple and a single and Johnny Creighton with two singles paced the 9-hit attack of the three Robins hurlers.

and Allegretti, Zick, Yerkes (5), Broughman (9) and Drake.

Sunday's Game
After two men were out in the eighth frame, the Tarboro A's went to a scoring spree to put across seven runs on seven hits, a walk, a double steal, to come from behind a 4-3 deficit and edge out the Robins 10-9, to make it two in a row over the hapless Robins. The loss by the Robins was their fourth straight and marked the second time in a row that the eighth frame proved to be their ballyhoo.

The Robins came back in the bottom of the eighth and managed to put across five runs, one short of knotting the count at 10-10 at this

Red Sox Coming From Behind To Slip Up On League Leaders

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Reporter

Credit Boston's bounce back into the flag competition to the rediscovery of a long lost "secret weapon"—coming from behind. Overcoming enemy leads—something that was a lost art to the Red Sox earlier this year—plus a two-week stay at friendly Fenway Park have combined to rekindle the pentant spark in the hearts of loyal Boston rooters.

Currently the hottest club in baseball, the Red Sox have been catching up with league leaders at a furious pace. Twelve victories in the last 13 games have helped Boston cut a once seemingly insurmountable eight game deficit in half. The Red Sox picked up a half game on the league leaders yesterday when they overcame a 7-0 Cleveland lead to defeat the Indians, 11-9, while the Philadelphia Athletics were holding the Tigers even in two games. The A's won the opener, 4-3, and Detroit won the second 8-1.

The Sox's triumph helped the New York-Yankees gain undisputed possession of second place. The defending champions eked out a 2-1 victory in 10 innings over the Chicago White Sox to cut Detroit's first place margin to one game. Cleveland trails by two.

Washington and St. Louis split a doubleheader. After Joe Haynes had pitched the Nats to an 8-0 first game win in the opener, The St. Louis Browns won the second game, 11-10.

Philadelphia's Phillies increased their national league lead to five games over Brooklyn, defeating the Chicago Cubs, 6-1, while the St. Louis Cardinals were battering the Dodgers, 13-3.

The Cubs battled the Phils to an 11-inning 4-4 tie in the second game of their double-header that was halted by darkness. The two teams were to play two games today.

Ace Duplicated

History repeated itself at the Greenville Golf and Country Club Saturday afternoon—not once, but twice.

W. H. Allen of Raleigh shot a hole-in-one on the eighth hole of the golf course. Only one other time had Allen ever scored a hole-in-one, and that was in Kingston exactly ten years ago Saturday.

But what's more, there has been only one other ace made on the eighth hole of the Greenville course, and two golfers who were in the foursome when the first hole-in-one was made on number eight some years ago were in the foursome with Allen Saturday when he sank his tee shot.

J. H. Waldrop and D. H. Conley were playing in a foursome when Charles Yates of Atlanta made the first ace on the eighth hole here a number of years ago. Waldrop and Conley were playing with Allen and H. H. Duncan Saturday afternoon when Allen made his hole-in-one.

The eighth hole on the Greenville course is a 185-yard hole, and Allen used a number four wood for the shot.

stage of the frame. Doubles by Harrison and Valvano and singles by Tepedino and Guidice, together with the aid of two walks produced the five runs for the locals.

They really missed their opportunity to win the game in the bottom of the ninth when Manager Randy Heflin, pinch-hitting for Pinky White, reached first on an infield hit and advanced to second on Billy Carr's error. Then Dick Bland came through with a single advancing Heflin to third. Prior to this Allegretti had gone out third to first. But Paul Strausser popped out to the pitcher on an attempted squeeze play and Tepedino flew out to short left field to end the contest.

The A's scored two runs in the first frame on a double, two singles and an error and the Robins came back in the bottom of the first to knot the count at 2-2 when Paul Strausser nit over the leftfield fence to bring in Dick Bland ahead of him who had reached first on a walk.

They added singletons in the

A total of nine hurlers were used by the two managers in yesterday's game with the A's using five hurlers and the Robins four.

The five A hurlers gave up a total of 17 hits with Enid Drake getting two doubles and a single and Johnny Creighton getting three singles to pace the winner's attack. Coming Back

Russ Filley, business manager of the Greenville Robins, ascertained this morning that the agents and managers of the Robins have no idea of abandoning Greenville's ball club after this season.

"We definitely are coming back next year," Filley declared. "We will definitely be back, and I want to get that to the fans." Filley said he wanted to make a public statement to put an end to a rumor which has been circulating saying the present owners of the Greenville franchise will not put a team in Greenville next season.

Even though the Robins have had rough sledding for the past month, Filley said Owner Poy Dissinger has no intention of plans to have the Greenville Robins in the Coastal Plain League when the season opens next year.

Canadian Open Title Taken By Big Jim Ferrier

Montreal, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Big Jim Ferrier, gum chewing Australian who makes his living on the big time American circuit, headed for his California home today with the Canadian open title added to his profitable business.

The veteran shotsmith, who became an American citizen 11 years ago, clicked on his fifth attempt in this country's blue ribbon golf classic yesterday with a 72-hole 271 score, 17 under par and three better than second place unknown Ted Kroll of New Hartford, N. Y.

At that, the 35-year-old good natured golfer had a spot of trouble to bag the $2,000-in U. S. funds and minus Canadian income tax—Kroll, 31-year-old golfer from New Hartford, N. Y., and playing in tournament golf for the first time, made him hustle. Touring the Royal Montreal course with Ferrier, the Hartford golfer posted a final round six under par 67 against Ferrier's 70.

The two clubs have played two extra inning contests and have split in the overtime tilts with the A's winning one and the Robins winning one.

Only one shutout has been registered between the two clubs this season with the Robins shutting out the A's by a 4-0 score in the second game of a twin bill on July 4th.

TONIGHT'S GAMES
GREENVILLE at Roa. Rapids.
New Bern at Wilson.
Goldsboro at Kinston.
Rocky Mount at Tarboro.
6-0-0

Including tonight's game with the Jays, the Robins have a total of ten more games to play before the Coastal Plain season is brought to a close next Monday night. Two doubleheaders are included in the list, with one being played here Tuesday night with the Roanoke Rapids Jays and the other one to be played in Rocky Mount on Thursday night. The Robins will be playing their bitterest enemies this week and the ones which are really pushing them for a play-off berth. Then play Wilson two more games, Rocky Mount three games, Kinston two more games and the Jays three games. All are in the top bracket at the present time and in order for the Robins to get in the play-offs they have really got to knock the big boys off. Can they do it? Not if they play the next 10 games as they have played the past three and lost seven for 300 percent and that is not good enough to get them in the play-off.

With the New Bern Bears and the Tarboro A's being played for the last time during the current season, herewith is a record of the Robins with these two clubs for the season.

They played the New Bern Bears a total of 19 games, winning eleven of them and losing 8. In their 19 game series with the Bears they scored a total of 83 runs, while the Bears scored 84 runs. Their eleven wins include five by one run margin and one each by two, three, four, five, six and seven run margins. Their losses include three by one run, one by two runs, two by four runs, and one by 10 runs and one by a 13 run margin. They have played the Bears two extra innings contests, having won one and losing one. The two teams have played a total of four double-headers, and have split one, won both ends of twin bill once, and both ends of a twin bill on one occasion. The Bears season and the Robins have shut out the Bears twice this out the Bears once.

The Robins split their 20-game series with the A's this season, losing ten and winning ten. Tarboro has scored a total of 108 points to 94 scored by the Robins. Their wins include four by one run, one by two runs, one by three runs, two by four runs, one by five runs and one by six run margins. Their losses to the A's include three by one run, one by two runs, three by three runs one by eight runs and two by nine run margin.

The two clubs have played a total of three double-headers with the Robins making a clean sweep of both ends of the twin bill in the three meetings.

Only one shutout has been registered between the two clubs this season with the Robins shutting out the A's by a 4-0 score in the second game of a twin bill on July 4th.

Russian Athletes Take Team Title in European Track And Field Meet

Brussels, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Russia's track and field team closed out the European championships by winning their only track event of the five-day meet and with it the unofficial team title.

An Associated Press count gave Russia 112 points compared with 108 for Great Britain, which won eight titles. Russia had six firsts in all, the other five coming in field events.

France winning four titles, was third with 107 points. British athletes dominated the last day's activities yesterday, capturing four finals.

The Russian success gave rise to speculation that the Soviets might compete in the 1952 Olympics at Helsinki, in recent years they have avoided international competition.

Throughout this meeting, the big Russian girls who dominated the women's field events and the men who appear too broad to make world championship sprinters and Premont 13, Saratoga 2.

Farmville, Aug. 28.—Two victories over Farmville during the weekend gave Macclesfield the top position in the Bright Belt league standings as the regular season play came to a close yesterday.

The semi-finals of the top division playoff will begin tomorrow night in Farmville when Macclesfield meets Pinetops.

The two weekend losses toppled Farmville from the league leadership. Macclesfield took Saturday's game 7-1 and came back to soundly trounce Farmville 15-1 yesterday.

In yesterday's game Macclesfield collected 16 hits which included two doubles, two triples and a single by third baseman J. Clark, who had five hits for a smarmy times at bat. The Farmville players yesterday collected only three hits and committed six errors. Regan got two of Farmville's hits and Gray got the other.

In Saturday's affair Farmville got seven hits but succeeded in pushing only one run across the plate. Macclesfield got 11 hits and managed to bring home six runners.

The semi-final league playoffs which begin Tuesday night will consist of a three out of five game series between Macclesfield and Pinetops and a similar series between Farmville and Ormondsville. All the games of the series will be played under the lights of the Farmville ball park. Macclesfield will meet Ormondsville and Farmville will meet Pinetops Wednesday night. The finals for the Bright Belt league championship will begin as soon as the semi-final series are over.

Macclesfield ended the regular season play yesterday six percentage points ahead of second place Farmville. Macclesfield won 32 games during the season while Farmville won only 31. Both teams lost 13 games. Ormondsville in third position, likewise won 31 games during the season, but suffered 15 losses. Fourth place Pinetops won

Urzetta Defeats Stranahan For Amateur Crown

Minneapolis, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Sammy Urzetta, with his set of doctored up golf clubs bought from caddie money, is a champion's champion.

After the 24-year-old son of an immigrant janitor won the national amateur title Saturday, his opponent, Frank Stranahan voiced the opinion of all:

"Sam, you are a great golfer and a great champion."

Stranahan, who has won the British, Canadian, French and other amateur crowns but never has been able to nail the U. S. diadem in five attempts, was a champion loser.

He told the affable Urzetta, the pride of Rochester, N. Y., that "of all the golfers I have played all over the world, both amateur and professional, you, Sammy, played the finest iron shots in our match that I have ever seen."

Urzetta and the millionaire's son from Toledo on Saturday battled 39 holes in the longest marathon in the 50-year history of the national amateur meet. Stranahan's drive went out of bounds and he eventually missed a 10 foot putt to take a 6 on the final hole. Urzetta's tee shot was in a trap, he was short in 2, but was on with his third for two putts and a winning par 5.

Urzetta, was even par for the distance and Stranahan was one over. Frank was never up at any time, was outdriven on nearly every hole and was forced to make a half dozen pressure putts of from 6 to 8 feet to halve holes. Four times he came from behind to square matters, but could never press ahead.

Sam is unemployed, but the Minneapolis Lakers of the National Basketball Association have draft rights on him.

Hotel Cancelled Lattimore Talk

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 28—(AP)—A scheduled speech by Owen Lattimore was cancelled by management of the fashionable Wentworth-by-the-Sea Hotel last night because of protests by guests. James B. Smith, owner of the resort hotel, said 210 of 350 guests voted 121 to 89 in a poll against Lattimore's appearance at an informal "Sunday night entertainment session." The 140 other guests, he said, did not return ballots.

NOMINATED—Joseph Flack (above), 55, of Grenobles, Pa., career diplomat and present Ambassador to Costa Rica, was nominated by President Truman as Ambassador to Poland.

Smith said he decided on taking a poll to determine the sentiment of the majority of guests after several protested verbally.

Lattimore, whose subject was to have been "the situation in Asia," said he was "extremely sorry" at not being allowed to speak.

He added that he wished to "make it clear that I am vacationing from my duties as director of the department of international relations at Johns Hopkins University and these talks I have given recently have been at the request of friends who asked me to stop during my trip."

Lattimore, a Far Eastern expert, recently was charged by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), with being Russia's "top spy" in this country. He was cleared of all charges by a Senate investigating committee.

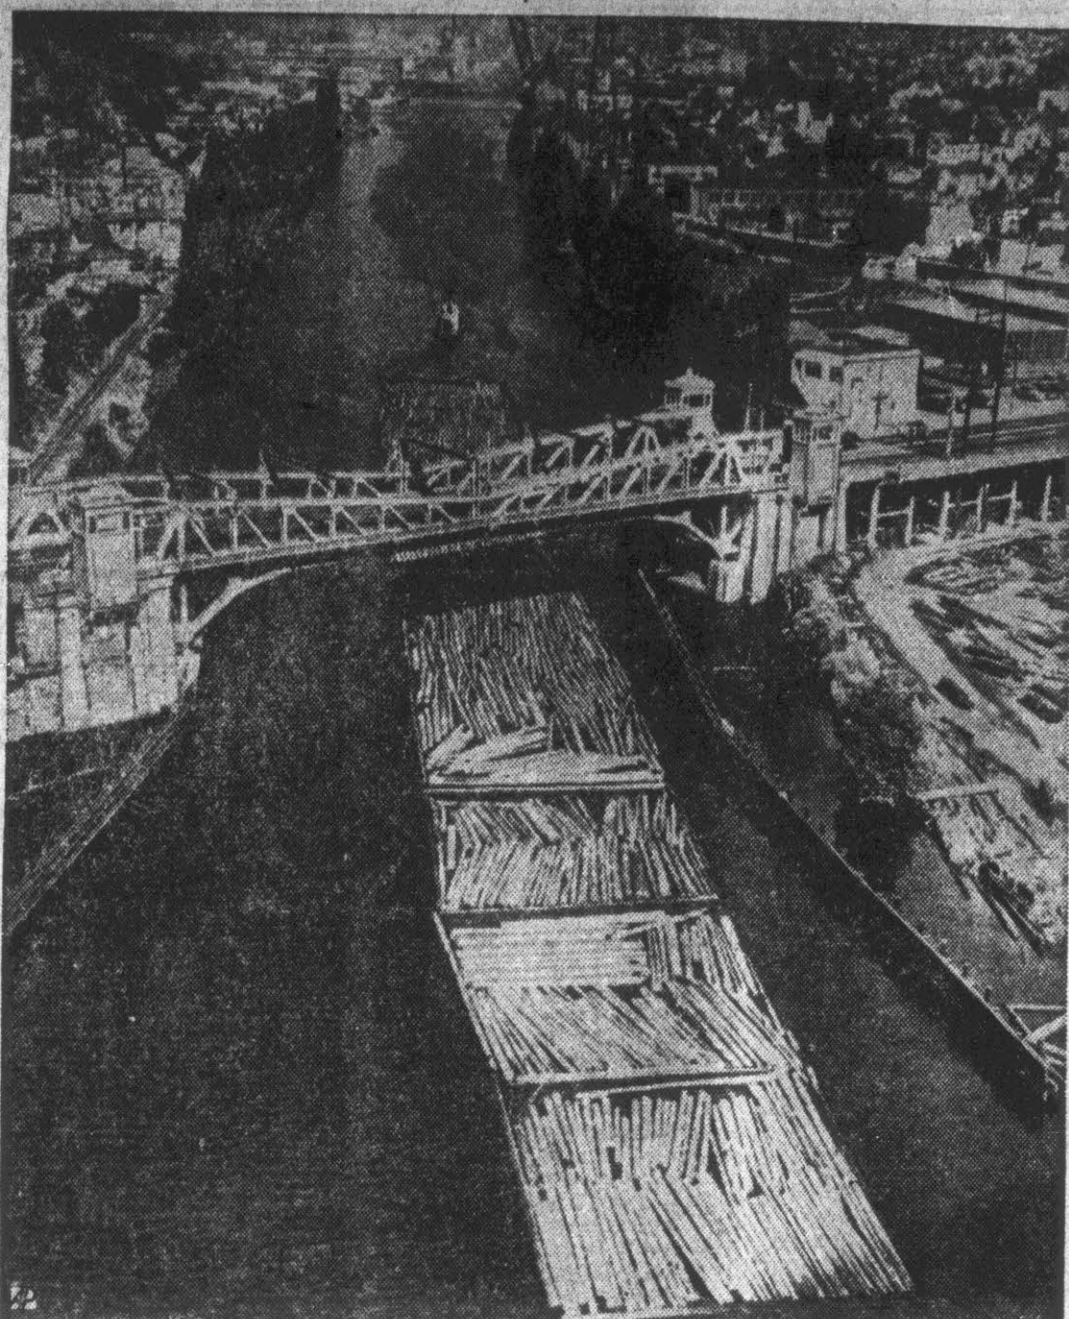

Women In The Church

Miss Maude Hall, well-known journalist and educator of Crockett, Texas has been named principal of the George O. Robinson School of Santurce, Puerto Rico. The school is under the auspices of the Woman's Division of Christian Service of the Methodist church, and has been in service since 1902. It has 250 students. Formerly a member of the staff of the "Crockett Courier," Miss Hall is a graduate of the North Texas State Normal college and the University of Texas. She has had wide experience in high school teaching in Texas.

The United Council of Church Women—which is organized in 1,608 state and local councils throughout the United States—will become one of the component divisions of the new "National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U. S. A." when this Protestant church cooperating and service agency is formed on November 28. Under the charter of the new body, a woman will always be a president or vice-president of the National Council, and one of its associate secretaries will be a woman. Church leaders point to this as a "new trend" in Protestant circles since church leadership has in the past been largely male.

Mrs. Hiram C. Houghton, of Red Wing, Iowa, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, has written to the presidents of 50 state and 16,500 local clubs, urging that American club women "lead their families in prayer daily on behalf of the success of the United Nations in winning the war in Korea." She said: "The prayers of American women can help bring about the freedom of mankind today under the United Nations. Pray daily each morning when the family assembles for breakfast, that right will triumph, that the Brotherhood of Man will be demonstrated hourly upon earth, that our President will be sustained in his determination to resist communism and that our armed forces will be preserved from disaster."

Mrs. W. Verne Muchanan, of New Philadelphia, Ohio, deaconess and Sunday school teacher in the First Presbyterian church there, has been elected president of the National Council of Women's Organizations of the Presbyterian church in the U. S. A., for a four-year term. Mrs. Buchanan succeeds Mrs. John M. Irvine, of Westford, Pa.

TIMBER HAUL—The city of Seattle forms a picturesque background as a tug tows a huge log raft under a bridge to a Puget Sound mill to fill the war-born demand for lumber.

KING CUCUMBER—Clifford Gallaugher, who lives near Chillicothe, Ohio, exhibited this cucumber, 17 inches long and 12 inches in circumference, at the Ross County Fair.

Packard Follows GM Formula On New Wage Hike

Detroit, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Another important automobile producer—Packard—got into step with the industry's developing higher wage structure today.

Packard, giving terms following the General Motors formula, boosted its pay nine cents an hour to settle the 13-day-old strike of its 8,000 workers.

Agreement was reached in the early hours today with the CIO United Auto Workers after near night long negotiations.

The union and Packard agreed to a five year contract which follows almost to the letter the historic pact entered into earlier this KEYBOARD KITTENS.—"Princess Yasmin," mother of these Burmese kittens owned by Mrs. Jewell Crowell, in Oakland, Cal., points admonishing paw at one wandering off tune.

Mrs. Laura Norris, 1325 A South 8th St., St. Louis, Mo., says doing the family washing and housework is no longer a chore. She says she can do her work in a breeze now. She thanks wonderful HADACOL for her feeling of well being. She had deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin, and Iron, which HADACOL contains.

Here is Mrs. Norris' exact statement: "It was such a long time since I was feeling 'OK.' I had been very nervous and my nerves were so bad it affected my stomach—seems like it was tied in a knot all the time. Couldn't sleep either—just roll and toss all night. I couldn't hardly do my house-work—and I was always cross and irritable. One day I heard about how other folks were being helped by HADACOL. I tried HADACOL and after the 2nd bottle I began to feel better. Now my nerves are steady as can be—no more ill effect on my stomach—I sleep like a top—in fact, I feel wonderful, thanks to marvelous HADACOL."

Yes, HADACOL is marvelous in the way it has helped thousands of folks whose systems were deficient in Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin. HADACOL can help you, too, if you have such deficiencies if you will just give HADACOL a chance. If you are suffering from nervousness, insomnia, or a general run-down condition, caused by such deficiencies, let HADACOL help you as it has helped others all over the country.

Many Doctors Recommend HADACOL

HADACOL is that wonderful new product recommended by many doctors. It is not a quick-acting product which gives only symptomatic relief—HADACOL is so successful because it relieves the real cause of stomach disturbances and a general run-down nervous condition when caused by deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Iron, and Niacin. So if you're troubled this way, don't keep on putting off relieving the real cause of your trouble. Remarkable improvements are often noticed within a short time.

Get That Wonderful HADACOL Feeling

The great advantage in taking HADACOL is that continued use of this great product helps prevent such stomach misery and nervousness from coming back to torture you. Know what it means to enjoy that wonderful, wonderful HADACOL feeling!

You'll have to admit anyone suffering such deficiencies is very foolish and deserves no sympathy if he or she continues to suffer such sleeplessness, nervousness and stomach disorder when relief may be near at hand at any drugstore. Go right now to, or telephone, your nearest drugstore for HADACOL. Start taking it today. Trial-size bottle costs only $1.25. Large family or hospital size $3.50. Refuse substitutes. There is only the one true and genuine HADACOL which everyone is talking about.

year by General Motors and the UAW.

The settlement, following hard upon Chrysler's $25,000,000 annual pay boost of last week, shaped more clearly the general pay picture for the big auto industry.

Only Ford among the industry's "big three"—Ford Chrysler and GM—remains outside this picture.

Recently Ford rejected a union bid to talk wages. Although there has been no confirmation, the UAW and Ford are said to have been in consultation of late, however.

Ford's contract with the UAW does not expire until January 1. It is assumed now without dispute that the union will press now throughout the industry for wage deals like that of GM, Chrysler and Packard.

Packard's nine cents increase comes from a guaranteed four cents an hour annual boost for the five years of the contract and a five cents cost of living increase.

In both instances this follows the exact General Motors pattern.

Drys Win 2 Of Three Elections

By The Associated Press
Prohibition and wet forces swapped blows in North Carolina Saturday. The dries won two to one.

Moore county voters rejected legal beer and wine sales. Unofficial returns from 16 of the county's 17 precincts showed:
Against beer, 3,423; for beer, 2,531.
Against wine, 3,560; for wine, 2,467.
On the other hand Person county accepted legal sale of beer and wine. Returns from 16 of 17 precincts:

For beer, 2,362; against beer, 1,894.
For wine, 2,258; against wine, 1,937.
Wadesboro, the county seat of Anson county, approved the sale of beer within its city limits. Complete unofficial returns listed 347 votes approving sale of beer and 289 against. Wine sales weren't considered in the election.

Leaf Sales Open On Middle Belt

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 28.—(AP)—With record-breaking prices in prospect, flue-cured tobacco sales began today on half of the middle belt markets.

Starting sales today were the belt's Sandhill market—Fuquay, Sanford, Aberdeen, Carthage and Ellerbe. The five other markets on the belt begin sales Thursday. They are Durham, Oxford, Henderson, Louisburg and Warrenton.

"The quality of the leaf is the best I've seen in 10 years on the middle belt," W. P. Hedrick commented. He is the North Carolina Department of Agriculture's tobacco specialist.

Hedrick said the price pattern has been set by sales on other flue-cured markets.

Hedrick pointed out that the middle belt wasn't as hard hit by rains and bad weather as the flue-cured Eastern North Carolina and Carolinas belts, which began their sales earlier in the month.

The middle belt will be the next to last flue-cured, or cigarette-type tobacco, belt to begin its season sales. The old belt opens sales Sept. 14.

Last year the middle belt began sales Aug. 29 and sold 122,500,000 pounds averaging $48.50 per hundred.

The RANGE DOCTOR

by OSCAR J. FRIEND

Chapter 14

The death of the veterinary, with its attendant complications had had a sobering effect on Jess Plum. Having passed his word to Dr. Logan concerning the dissolution of the cattle-rustling partnership, Plum cast about for a profitable and more honest livelihood. He became a moonshiner.

And then one Sunday night Gabe Duncan returned. Rather, it was between one and two o'clock Monday morning when the erstwhile cattle rustler rode into the clearing and loudly hailed the Plum cabin. Plum recognized the coarse voice in displeasure. Reluctantly he went, bareheaded and barefooted, out onto the porch.

Just beyond the steps sat a horse-man. Behind him loomed two other riders as Plum held up his lantern.

"Howdy, Plum," Duncan greeted in crude irony. "Thought yuh was dead. Yuh usin' guard yuh place better'n this."

"I'm out of the cattle business, Gabe Duncan, and ye know it," Plum said. "I ain't got nothin' to guard. What brings ye back here? Ye said ye was leavin' this country after Doc Bryan got touched off."

"I did. Been up Colorado way. Jess. On the way now to ole Mexico to fine up with the rurales. We drafted by here, knowin' yuh'd put us up for the night."

"I guess so," Plum conceded slowly. "Light down and dump yer saddles on the porch."

"That sounds more like it," Duncan grunted, dismounting. "Climb down, boys, and meet Jess Plum. These fellers is Gip Knowles and Zeke Lemley, Jess. I've told 'em about yuh."

Plum swung his lantern higher to reveal a pair of heavy countenances if anything less prepossessing than Duncan's ugly features. "Ye can have this lantern, Gabe. And take the last cabin."

"So yeh're makin' moonshine? How 'bout a gallon? It'd shore hit the spot, hey, fellers?"

"There was vociferous approval on the part of Knowles and Lemley. Plum looked perturbed, but he raised no objection.

"Slim'll get it fer ye," he said in a troubled voice and went back to bed to lie thoughtfully awake for an hour. He was more silent than usual at the breakfast table, and the two women forebore to question him. He brooded the rest of the morning as he idled his time away. A feeling that something was off-color, that all was not right, possessed him and gradually communicated itself to others.

It was noon before there was any sign from the last cabin. Then Duncan came out and went to the well for water.

"Hey, Jess," he yelled. "Reckon we kinda slept late. How 'bout a little grub? We're travellin' sorta light."

"The women's fixin' dinner," Plum answered heavily. "I figured yeh'd eat afore ye left. I'll call ye."

At the dinner table as the five men were silently served by Ivy and Maw Plum he said:

"Ye fellers air gettin' a late start. How far ya figgerin' on makin' it afore night?"

The three glanced at each other. Duncan grinned lazily.

"Don't reckon we'll pull out today at all, Jess," he drawled. "We'll visit with yuh a spell—even if yuh ain't real hospital."

"I thought you said Plum was a friend of yours."

"See how yuh got the boys a thinkin'?" Duncan complained. "We ain't goin' to trouble yuh none. All we ast the wimmenfolks is to cook some extra vittles. We got the money to pay fer boardin' us and our broncs fer a few days. Ain't we, boys?"

"Plenty," Lemley and Knowles growled in unison, grinning wolfishly.

"Since that's settled," Duncan went on, spearing a slab of corn dodger with his fork, "thet's yur good likker yuh're makin', Jess. What'll yuh charge us fer another gallon of it?"

Plum considered several things as he scratched and combed at his beard. Then, resigning himself to a situation he could not seem to help at the moment: "I been gettin' an expression of love or sympathy to friends or loved ones our beautifully designed flowers will do just that for you. We can assure you of fresh flowers, quantity and above all quality. Tyson's Flower Shop, Dial 3244.

Only nine cases were tried before Judge J. W. H. Roberts in City Police court Friday morning.

A number of cases were continued until future dates making the docket light for a Friday morning court.

Probable cause was found in the case charging Mabel Ray, Negro woman with assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill. The case was bound over to Superior court for trial, with bond fixed at $300.

Wesley Phillips, Negro was found guilty of assault with a deadly weapon (a pistol) and was ordered fined $50, less costs and the weapon ordered confiscated.

Term Of Criminal Court Opens; First Since May

Judge Chester Morris of Currituck this morning opened the first criminal term of Superior Court to be held in Pitt county since the May 29 term.

By the noon recess today the grand jury had returned a true bill against William M. Boyd, who is charged with the forgery of a check against Walter Cherr. At the beginning of the court term this morning Judge Morris signed an order which provided that William Gardner, a Negro being held for murder, be sent to the State Hospital for 30 days for examination and observation. Gardner has been in the county jail without bond since early June when he was arrested and charged with the murder of another Negro.

James Earl Smith, 17-year-old Negro, entered a plea of guilty to a charge of forging a check against J. J. Perkins in the amount of $7. Sentence was not passed in the case.

In another case, which was heard by the jury, William A. Mercer, negro, was found not guilty in a ligitime case, and Lilly Mae Mercer was found guilty and sentenced to 12 to 18 months for illegal possession of whiskey. She entered a plea of guilty to the charge after William Mercer had been acquitted of the charges. The court recessed for lunch shortly after noon and was scheduled to resume at 2 o'clock.

Police Officer In Klan Robes Is Killed In Fight

Conway, S. C., Aug. 28—(AP)—A Conway policeman wearing his uniform under a Ku Klux Klan robe was shot to death in a Klan-Negro gun fight at Myrtle Beach Saturday night.

A Negro man who, officers said, had been beaten on the head was arrested and whisked to an undisclosed jail.

Horry county sheriff C. Ernest Sasser estimated today that 300 shots were fired by approximately 60 robed Klansmen and an undetermined number of Negroes in front of a Negro dance hall and tourist court.

Police officer James Daniel Johnston, 42 was shot in the back with a .38 caliber pistol, Sasser reported. He died at a Conway hospital.

Sasser identified the Negro he arrested as Charlie Fitzgerald, proprietor of the dance hall. Another Negro man was wounded, Sasser said he was told.

The sheriff's office and state law enforcement division (constabulary) agents sent to Myrtle Beach from Columbia have been reluctant to release details of the incident during their investigation.

Klansmen had paraded by Fitzgerald's place earlier that night, Sasser reported, and Fitzgerald sent word there would be "shooting" if they returned.

One South Carolina law enforcement officer, who declined use of his name, said Johnston was killed "in a bout with the robed and masked men." It was not immediately determined if Johnston was fighting along with the Klansmen.

Meanwhile, State constabulary officials who were also investigating the case refused to release details. Myrtle Beach police also refused to comment, except to confirm that the Klan paraded through a section called "Nigger Hill."

A Florence couple, driving from Ocean drive to Myrtle Beach, said they saw the Klansmen, numbering about 60, riding in 10 cars. The couple said the riders were wearing masks, hoods, and were carrying the Klan's traditional symbol—a fiery cross.

Lack Of Rain Is Big Difference From Year Ago

The weather seems to be running true to form as compared with last year this same time, reports the Weather Lady of Greenville.

Mrs. Carl Maiden, in thumbing through her records today found that the temperatures recorded in Greenville yesterday and the past week have been within one or two degrees of the temperatures on record for last year.

The highest reading yesterday was 92 degrees while a year ago it stood at 91 degrees. The lowest reading was 66 degrees as compared with 72 a year ago.

However, the marked difference in the weather situation around Greenville now as compared with last year is the fact that in the same period a year ago, over three inches of rain fell in this area. So far this month a little over two inches of rain has fallen.

With a slight breeze stirring at noon the mercury stood at 91 degrees and was still climbing.

Appreciation

Next Saturday night, September 2, will be "Appreciation Night" for Mauager Randy Heflin and the Greenville baseball players. The fans will be given opportunity to show their appreciation of the players with gifts of merchandise and money.

Stores and other business places will be invited to donate prizes and other gifts for distribution among fans at the gate and among the manager and players.

Chester Walsh, chairman of the committee, has called a meeting of the Greenville Appreciation Night Committee for tonight at Kares' Restaurant at 8 o'clock. Other members of the committee are Chris Kares, B. D. Johnson, Charles E. Blair, Mrs. Alton Clapp, Mrs. Jessie Lee White and James Ray Pittman and Roscoe W. Shipleit.

Belvoir-Falkland School Is Ready

Belvoir-Falkland High School will open the 1950-51 school year on Tuesday morning with a new school principal and four new teachers, it was announced today.

O. H. Forrest former principal of the Pacolus High School, who was transferred to Belvoir-Falkland in the recent reshuffling of county principals, heads the school.

The new faculty members are: Mrs. Hardee, Business Education; Mr. J. T. Cobb, Math; Mrs. R. C. Pearce, Jr., Home Ec., and Mrs. P. W. Taylor, who will be the sixth grade teacher in the elementary school.

The other teachers who were retained from last year are: Mrs. Mary A. Briley, English; Mrs. Lislis Chadwick, social studies; and P. W. Taylor, agriculture teacher.

Elementary teachers are: Miss Zahnizer, first grade; Mrs. Vainwright, grade two; Mrs. Hux, third grade; Mrs. Crandel, fourth grade; Mrs. Bullock, fifth grade; Mrs. Taylor, sixth grade; Mrs. Spain, seventh grade; Mrs. Lewis, eighth grade, and Miss Jenkins, music director.

During the summer months, workmen have been carrying on the work of painting and repairing the building generally, Principal Forrest said.

All of the rooms have been painted in the main classroom building. A new Home Economics building has been built, being completed last Friday.

Other improvements have been made including purchasing of new furniture for two rooms and the library. All of the students desks have been sanded and refinished during the renovation.

Principal Forrest said he believes the school plant is in better shape to accommodate the students and faculty for instructional purposes than it has been since the present building was built.

"I am looking forward to a very successful school year for 1950-51 the principal commented.

Who Gets ...

Each child gets a payment until reaching 18 and the widowed-mother gets a payment until the last child reaches 18. All get a percentage of whatever full benefit the worker was entitled to at time of death.

The widow gets three-fourths; The first child also gets three-quarters (that's new—it used to be one-half); and each additional child gets one-half.

Under the old law the most a widow and all her children together could get was $85 a month. This has been raised to a maximum of $150.

Dependent husband—this is new. If husband of a fully-insured woman was dependent on her for half his support, he gets a pension at 65, but not until she takes her. His pension is half of what she gets.

Widower—This is new. Under the old law a widower got nothing. Now if a fully insured woman worker dies and leaves a husband who was dependent on her for half his support, he gets a pension when he's 65. It will be three-fourths of what she got or was entitled to.

Dependent parents—if a fully insured worker dies—and leaves no widow or children who ever could get a benefit from his insured standing—then his parents get a monthly payment till they die, if they're 65 and were dependent on their worker for half their support. Their benefit is three fourths of what the worker's pension was or would have been. (Parents used to get only one-half size of worker's pension).

Lump-sum death payments—under the old law when an insured worker died—fully or currently insured—a lump-sum death payment was made, provided—

Civil War ...

There was no one—widow, dependent children or dependent parents—immediately eligible for benefits. Who'd get it? Some one close to him or strangers who buried him.

Now this payment will be made to the survivors of a fully or currently insured worker, whether or not any of them get other benefits immediately. So practically every family of an insured but deceased worker now will get a lump-sum payment when he dies.

The payment used to be six times the monthly benefit the deceased worker was entitled to. Now it's three times, because it will be handed out more often.

Formosan Challenge

Still, the time may arrive when the Chinese Communists will dare to undertake an assault on Formosa, for a successful gamble would win huge stakes. However, if the attempt is to be made this season it will have to come quickly, because the bad weather is about to break, bringing the devastating typhoons which would be death to an invasion fleet of sailing junk.

Your columnist has encountered a monsoon in the Indian ocean, and wouldn't care to be on a small junk when one of those winds hit.

So unless the invasion should be made immediately, it would have to be put off for some months until the good weather came again.
