Vacation Is Over For 13,000 Kids

Only The Farmville School Late In Opening As New Term Starts

An estimated 13,000 school kids in Pitt county today said goodbye to their three months of vacationing and made their way back to the school rooms.

The beginning of the fall term had arrived, although sunny skies and the temperature resting in the 90's made the weather seem more suitable for fishing or playing.

For the most part the schools were ready for the students, but in Farmville the opening of the white school was postponed until Monday because renovation of the building is not yet complete.

Superintendent D. H. Conley of the county school system said a full staff of teachers awaited the children at the schools this morning, and the physical plants of the county system are in good condition as a result of the renovation work done during the summer months. The highway patrol last week gave its stamp of approval to 193 buses used by the county school system for transporting students. Since then four new school buses have been delivered to the county and three more are scheduled to arrive here today to replace older buses. Conley said five more buses have been purchased to relieve the overcrowding on Negro school buses, but they have not yet arrived. Still another five new buses which have been ordered to be used as replacements are expected to arrive in the near future.

The county this summer spent approximately $17,000 from county funds for renovations and painting in addition to the funds spent by the individual school districts of the county. In Farmville approximately $23,000 is being spent in the electrical and plumbing renovation which is to be completed this week-end. The $4,000 vocational shop at Bethel has been completed, and the home economics building for the Belvoir-Falkland school has been completed with the exception of painting the steps. The building cost approximately $6,000.

Conley said repairs and renovations were made at the following Negro schools in the county during the summer months: Shiloh, Grifton, Winterville shop, Bruce, Zion Hill, St. Peters, Rock Springs, Harris and Fountain.

The lunchroom project which is underway at the Ayden school has not been completed, and neither has the vocational shop which is being built at Grimesland.

Work was begun two weeks ago on the foundation of a new Negro school for Ayden.

"We've done a great deal more this year than ever before in renovating schools," Conley said. He estimated the county has completely renovated 3,500 seating units.

The county school system started the new year today with five more teachers than it had a year ago. The total number of teachers in the county system this year is 337 of which 193 are white teachers and 164 are Negro teachers. Last year Pitt county was assigned 191 white teachers and 161 Negro teachers.

Judge Fines His Speeding Son

Southport, N. C., Aug. 29—(AP)—Patrolmen R. H. Constante had made the arrest, charging on the warrant speeding at 65 miles an hour.

Recorder's court solicitor Kirby Sullivan called Willie McLamb, Jr., to the bar and read the warrant to him. The young man promptly pleaded a plea of "Guilty, as charged."

"I fine you $25 and costs," said Judge Willie Joe McLamb, Sr., "No-body's going to drive that fast in any car of mine."

Who Has Coverage

Jobs Affected By Old-Age And Survivors' Insurance Part Of Social Security Program; Jobs That Are Covered; Some Self-Employed Workers Are Affected

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Aug. 29—(AP)—The old-age and survivors' insurance part of the social security program covers jobs, not people.

A man who works long enough in a job covered by the law gets an old-age pension when he retires after 65, or if he dies, benefits for his survivors. Such a worker is fully insured.

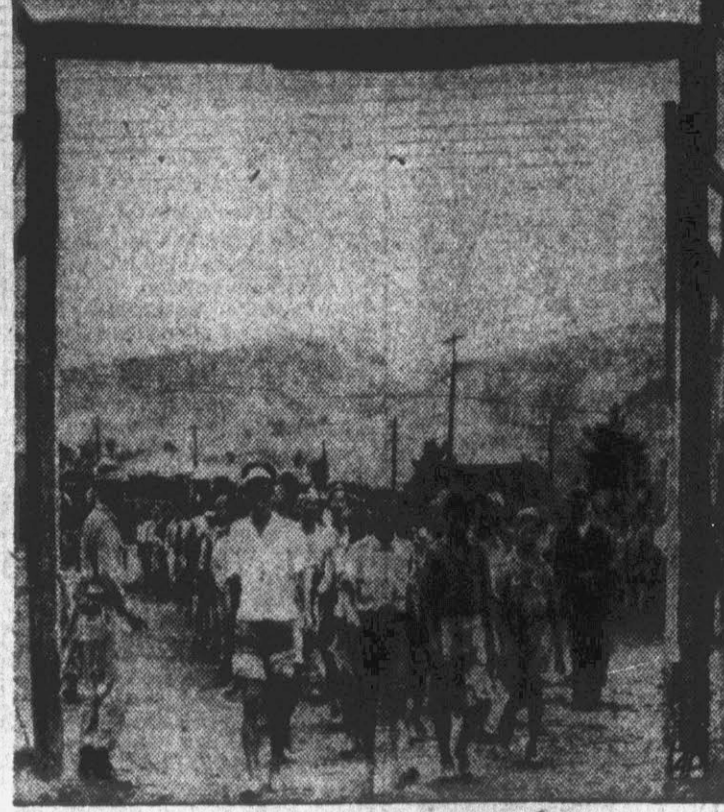

For example: A man now only 45 if he has worked in a covered job 10 years since 1936, is fully insured and entitled to a pension when he is 65, or benefits from his family if he dies.

Others have worked in covered jobs long enough. In case they die, to get benefits for their families but not long enough to be entitled to a pension. They're "currently" insured.

For example: Any one who has worked in a covered job, roughly 1 1/2 years out of the three years preceding his death is currently insured.

This program got under way in 1937. Until now only about 35,000,000 jobs have been covered by the law. But 80,000,000 Americans now have worked in those jobs

Truman Prepares Report To Nation

No Time Set For 'Fireside Chat', But Will Cover International Affairs, Korean Front And Economic Controls

Washington, Aug. 29—(AP)—A White House official said today President Truman is preparing a report to the nation.

The report, this official said, would cover international affairs, the fighting in Korea and the controls the President feels are needed at home.

This official, who asked not to be quoted by name, said no time has been set for the speech. But he said it would be in the nature of a "fireside chat"—such as President Roosevelt used to make—and would be televised and broadcast.

White House sources, who could not be named, previously had said the talk might be ready by this week end. It would be Mr. Truman's first report to the nation since his July 19 radio address spelling out a partial mobilization program to deal with the Korean fighting.

These officials said no definite time had been set. One reason was reported to be that Congress has not yet acted upon the President's request for legislation which would enable him to impose limited controls on the domestic economy.

A Senate-House committee today buckled down to the task of compromising a dispute over how much leeway to give the President over wage and price controls.

Conferees agreed in advance to keep at the job until midnight if necessary in an effort to break a deadlock and speed anti-inflation legislation to the White House.

Senator Maybank (D-SC), chairman of the Senate Banking Committee, who heads the conferees, was ready with a compromise he hoped would prove acceptable. It would require Senate and House approval.

The crux of the matter is this: In giving the President standby power to impose price and wage controls, should Congress let him put them into effect bit by bit or require him to slap them on virtually everything if he makes any use of his authority.

The House bill would permit Mr. Truman to apply wage-price controls on a selective basis.

But the Senate adopted an amendment of Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) that would require the President to invoke price ceilings on nearly everything if he acted at all and to clamp controls on wages at the same time.

Mr. Truman didn't ask for authority to impose wage and price controls or consumer rationing in the first place, but he said he was willing to accept them if he were given a free hand to use them as he saw fit.

MacArthur 'Gag' Used For GOP Political Issue

Reaction To Withdrawn Statement Generally Following Party Lines

Washington, Aug. 29—(AP)—Republicans hosted a congressional campaign issue today what they called a Presidential "gag" order against Gen. Douglas MacArthur's views on Formosa.

Accepting this as inevitable, Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader, told reporters that while he thinks MacArthur is doing "a wonderful job" as the Pacific military commander "it is my understanding that the President is the commander-in-chief and makes the policies."

While Congressional reaction generally followed party lines, some Democrats backed MacArthur and at least one Republican supported Mr. Truman.

The President cancelled a MacArthur message to a Chicago veterans meeting—obviously because the General's views could be interpreted as calling for permanent American defense of the Island, now in the hands of the Chinese Nationalists.

This went beyond the administration policy to neutralize the Island from Communist attack during the Korean fighting and to leave its eventual disposition to international action, probably through the United Nations.

The MacArthur statement, which has been widely distributed in advance of his scheduled and then cancelled reading at Chicago yesterday, soon became public.

In it, the General said that war is inevitable if Formosa falls into unfriendly hands.

It was obvious that the White House viewed the incident with considerable concern. Newsmen there were briefed for nearly an hour on the sequence of events and on U. S. policy toward Formosa.

A top White House official who asks that he not be named said the affair would at least prevent any recurrence of such public airings of divergent views.

What effect the incident would have on (a) this country's prestige abroad and (b) MacArthur's future remained to be seen.

So far as MacArthur is concerned, the White House said Mr. Truman considered the matter closed. MacArthur remained silent.

Paralleling the reaction in Washington, newspapers across the nation differed sharply. Some criticized the President for what they called a gag on the General. Others said MacArthur had interfered with foreign policy.

The text of the General's statement was widely printed, although some newspapers omitted its contents entirely.

What was certain was that the whole incident would be threshed over at length in the coming political campaign this fall.

Polio Epidemic Is Nearing End

Wytheville, Va., Aug. 29—(AP)—The Wythe county polio epidemic, which has struck down 156 persons since July 1, apparently has all but run its course.

The county seat of Wytheville, hot spot of the outbreak, passed its 15th day yesterday without a polio case reported. One case was recorded in the county area.

CIO Executive Board In 41-2 Vote Oust Bridges

Washington, Aug. 29—(AP)—The CIO executive board voted 41 to 2 today to oust Harry Bridges and his west coast longshoremen's union from the CIO on charges of following the Communist party line.

The dissenting votes were cast by J. W. Robertson, vice president of Bridges' union, and Hugh Bryson, president of the Marine Cooks and Stewards who faces the same bitter ouster before tonight.

Bridges and Bryson could appeal the executive board action to the CIO convention in Chicago Nov. 26. But it is highly unlikely that the convention would upset the board's move.

The convention last year authorized the removal of all leaders and unions found to be following Communist policy.

TVA Asks Extra $28.5 Millions For Expansion

Washington, Aug. 29—(AP)—The Senate today had a Tennessee Valley Authority request to add $28,500,000 to a supplemental money bill for more power facilities.

The additions, said the TVA, are needed to avert what may be a serious power shortage in the valley by 1952-53.

President Truman also asked in a statement that the money be provided.

The White House statement said the money is needed to provide continuous power to existing aluminum, ferro alloy and other industries, expedite transmission facilities to meet revised load schedules at the Oak Ridge, Tenn., atomic energy project, and meet increasing power requirements.

Aldermen Authorize Sale Utilities Expansion Bonds

A resolution authorizing the issuance of $650,000 of temporary bonds to be used to finance expansion of the Greenville Utilities electric service in rural areas was adopted last night by the unanimous vote of the Greenville board of aldermen.

The adoption of the resolution was part of the procedure required by the agency of the federal government before the city is able to obtain any of the funds approved for it through the Rural Electrification Administration.

City Attorney R. B. Lee told the members of the board of aldermen the resolution was in order, and explained to the board that the amount of the bond issue did not mean the city had to use the entire amount.

"The city can use any part of the $650,000 when it gets ready," Lee explained, "and pay interest only on what is used."

The aldermen met in a joint session with the members of the Utilities commission to sign the required resolution which is another step in securing the REA loan through which the utilities commission is to be financed.

Following the brief meeting of the aldermen and the commissioners, the members of the utilities commission signed resolutions agreeing to carry out the commitments in the resolution it adopted.

The bonds which are to be issued when the money from the loan is actually needed will be repaid through revenue which comes from the new rural lines which the money finances. The utilities commission will secure a mortgage on its rural lines as security for the loan.

The federal agency which originally set a maximum limit of $910,000 on the amount of money Greenville could borrow through the REA has now boosted the amount; the city may borrow to $2,000,000. Officials of the utilities commission explained that the funds up to the $2,000,000 figure are available to Greenville only if the money is needed for the rural electric expansion. City Attorney Lee expressed the opinion that the maximum amount of the loan is good for an unlimited period of time.

Superintendent Martin Swartz of the Utilities explained, "The REA will give us funds only for work that has been done and approved by their engineers and our engineers. The money can be used only for work actually performed."

Business Manager Larry Brown of the utilities commission said the temporary bond which the aldermen authorized will be replaced by revenue bonds "if and when the money is used."

Plans already have been laid for extending the lines of the local utilities to serve a greater number of rural customers, and engineers have been staking the proposed lines for several weeks.

Enemy Building Up At Center Of Line For Major Stab; Hand-To-Hand Fighting Waged; First British Troops Disembark, Said 'Ready To Go'

By REELMAN MORIN
Tokyo, Wednesday, Aug. 30—(AP)—Allied troops beat back Red attacks in two wild battles at opposite ends of the curving Korean war front Tuesday.

"That apparently ended Communist chances of a quick end-run on Pusan, the Reds' Aug. 31 goal.

But the North Koreans were building up at the center of the line for a major stab at United Nations forces.

The bloodiest battle was on a bold hill at the southern anchor of the line. There American Negroes and South Koreans turned back a North Korean bayonet charge in hand-to-hand combat. One American machinegun nest was wiped out by Red bayonets.

At the other end of the battlefield a Red force whipped behind Allied troops and cut a road three miles southwest of Pohang at the east coast anchor.

The Pohang sector still was controlled by United Nations troops. The attacking 20,000 Red troops there were pushed back around recaptured keys, nine miles northwest of Pohang.

While these developments took place, the first contingent of British troops to reach Korea—a token force of 1,500—landed in the south.

Near the center of the line another 20,000-man Red force attacked South Korean infantrymen 18 miles north of Taegu, the rail hub.

Taegu and Pusan, principal U.N. seaports at the southeastern tip of the Korean peninsula, are the main North Korean objectives in the southeast.

An official spokesman said the Communists had lost all chance of seizing Pusan in a quick end-run thrust.

American troops approached the main area of battle around Pohang. But they had not gone into the battle. U. S. artillery ringed the airfield six miles southeast of Pohang and supported hard pressed South Koreans.

The Pohang sector battle was developing into a sea-saw action. While one force of Reds was pushing southward another was forced back by the South Korean capital division. It moved north more than a mile and retook Kiyu.

Giyu itself is not important, but complex of roads around it leads west to Taegu, which draws much of its supplies through Pohang port.

A spokesman for General MacArthur warned that the East Coast area still offered the possibility for a major breach in the United Nations wall, which 40,000 to 60,000 Reds have been probing for a soft spot for days.

The Reds kept pressure on adjacent sectors west of the east coast. The 8th army communique reported an attack on the south Korean sixth division by units of 20,000 Reds.

Nearby the south Korean 8th division attacked to straighten its lines after some earlier losses.

The big red buildup on the central front was hit by allied bombers to delay it. The Reds, centering their main forces between Waegwan and Kunwi, north and west of Taegu, may shift their forces either to the east or south.

While these front line battles raged, British infantrymen stepped ashore from the aircraft carrier Unicorn and the cruiser Ceylon. Battleships straddled as units of the Argyle and Sutherland and Middlesex regiments landed—the first of many promised United Nations units. The British force of 1,500 men was the first of many promised United Nations units.

Busy Night For Grimesland Jail

Arrests Draw Unruly Crowd; Six Cases Await Court

The town jail in Grimesland was just about filled up last night as six arrests were made by two local police officers, following the arrest of a local man on charges of driving while drunk.

Police Chief H. D. Wright reported that he arrested Lester Ward for driving while drunk and that he locked him up in the local jail around 7 o'clock.

Then, the officer, related, as he was about to leave the jail, Smith Wiloughby came up to him and demanded that Ward be released from jail. "He told me that I had to let the man go," Chief Wright said, "but instead, I escorted him to jail."

By this time a crowd estimated to run about 100 in number had gathered around the jail house, the officer said.

As Chief Wright was taking the second prisoner to jail, the officer said, the man's son, a 16-year-old lad, came up behind officer Norman Wright, son of the chief of police, with a three-foot piece of pipe in his hand and attempted to "beat" the officer, but he was foiled in his burning out-buildings which threatened to reach the main house on the farm.

The buildings destroyed were described as being a smoke house and wash house with some damage to other property near by.

The burned buildings were located only about 15 feet from the house and a packhouse, firemen stated.

The owner was not at home at the time of the fire. The possibility that the broken power line may have caused the fire was voiced by some.

Funeral services for Willie Abeyounis will be conducted from the Bethel Baptist church on Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock by the Rev. W. M. Casell. Burial will be in the Bethel cemetery.

Surviving are one sister, Jo Ann Abeyounis and two brothers, George and Kelley Abeyounis of Bethel.

Abeyounis operated a store in Bethel and had been a member of the Bethel fire department for the past 12 years.

A young man who identified himself as Hercules Petracogeorgi, a brother of the kidnapped beauty of Crete, said today he may "go home to fight for my sister's honor."

Stassoula Petracogeorgi, daughter of a Liberal member of Greece's parliament, was snatched up by her sweetheart, Constantine Kephalyounis, and taken to a mountain hideout last week.

The families are political enemies, Kephalyounis being a Royalist. The girl's father has been quoted as saying he'd rather see her dead than married to Kephalyounis.

If unconfirmed reports of her marriage are true, the 23-year-old man identifying himself as her brother told the Detroit Free Press: "It means civil war in Crete."

But he added: "I doubt the truth of this statement by the family of this bum."

Grimesland's Mayor Quitting; Board To Meet

A call meeting of the Grimesland Board of Aldermen is on tap for tonight with the resignation of Mayor Leslie Elks being the main point of business a member of the board reported today.

Aldermen Charlie Evans stated this morning that he was notified, of a meeting to be held in the Town Hall at eight o'clock tonight.

Evans said that the resignation of the mayor had been tendered to the board. A meeting was scheduled to have been held this morning but it was postponed until tonight.

The mayor's resignation was reported to be the outgrowth of the arrest of one of Elks' tenants last night in Grimesland. The mayor would be the person to try the cases in court as the town operates a Mayor's court.

Bethel Fireman Victim Of High-Voltage Wire

Reportedly Told Others 'Don't Touch Me' When Thrown To Ground By Shock; Life-Saving Efforts Are Fruitless

A volunteer fireman of the Bethel fire department was killed yesterday afternoon around 5:30 when he came in contact with a high-voltage power line carrying 7,600 volts.

The fireman, Willie Abeyounis, 33, was a member of a Bethel fire fighting crew which responded to a county call to the farm of Johnnie Brown about three miles from Bethel on the Greenville highway.

According to reports received from Coroner Griffin H. Rouse, the fireman in company with another fire fighter, was approaching the burning out-buildings, when Abeyounis noticed a power line burning on the top of a metal roof, and apparently tried to push it aside, or ran into it.

The force of the voltage threw the man to the ground and it was reported that he told the firemen with him, "Don't touch me."

The power line had become broken when a limb from a pecan tree fell across the line, leaving it hanging over the house.

As soon as the man was injured, a summons for help was sent to Bethel for doctors and to the Greenville Fire Department for emergency equipment. The fire department's rescue truck was dispatched to the scene, arriving shortly before six o'clock. Artificial respiration was being given to the man by doctors when the truck arrived, and as soon as the department's resuscitator could be put into operation, it was used to pump oxygen into the victim's body.

Firemen reported that over 6500 pounds of oxygen was used by the rescue workers in an effort to bring the man around, but to no avail. Fresh supplies of oxygen were brought out from Greenville as the workers labored over the man. Attempts to revive the man were carried on for over two hours.

Pitt County Coroner Rouse said that the only place on the man's body to indicate that he had come in contact with the power line was a burned spot on the back of the three middle fingers of his right hand. Also there were two small blisters on the bottom of the man's feet showing where the current had left his body.

The coroner ruled that the man came to his death by accidental contact with the power line and that no inquest will be held.

While rescue workers labored over the fireman, fire equipments from Bethel, Greenville and Robersonville battled the flames from the

$1 Million Day

The third "Million Dollar" day was recorded on the Greenville tobacco market yesterday, according to sales supervisor Bill Whedbee.

A total of 1,876,272 pounds of tobacco was auctioned on the local market for a cash total paid out to the farmers of $1,058,051.74, making a daily average of $36.14.

Whedbee stated that the sales record was the third such time that more than one million dollars has been paid out on the Greenville tobacco market.

Union Official Demands Inquiry Textile Profits

New York, Aug. 29—(AP)—A high Union official today demanded a Senate investigation of what he termed "outrageous" profiteering by the Textile Industry since the outbreak of the Korean war.

Emil Rieve, general president of the Textile Workers Union of America (CIO) made the complaint in a letter to Sen. Burnet R. Maybank (D-SC) chairman of the Senate banking and currency committee.

"Specifically, the average rise in cotton goods prices between May 15 and Aug. 15 was 25 per cent, with some constructions soaring as much as 45 per cent" Rieve wrote.

He said Textile prices had risen at the "fastest rate in history," exceeding even the advances immediately following the lifetime of price controls four years ago. The average increase in the first three months following decontrol was 13 per cent Rieve said.

Rieve told Maybank the Union was determined to win "long-overdue" wage increases for all textile workers at contract renewal time early next year. But he insisted that "pre-Korean profits were ample to meet any demand we might make, without affecting prices."

Rieve said all divisions of the textile industry had enforced price increases although "the net cost of manufacturing has dropped and is still dropping, thanks to technological progress."

"If this isn't profiteering," he wrote, "I don't know the meaning of the word. In my opinion the facts are outrageous on their face, and demand a full and prompt investigation by your committee for the sake of the nation and of the cause of Democracy itself."

Name Chosen For Infant Princess

London, Aug. 29—(AP)—Princess Elizabeth's new-born daughter will be named Anne Elizabeth Alice Louise, it was announced officially today.

A birth certificate was taken to Clarence House, the mother's London mansion, to be filled out by the child's father, Prince Philip.

An identity card and ration book also were taken along for the baby.

Princess Anne was born Aug. 15. She is the second child of the heiress presumptive to the British throne and her naval officer husband, the Duke of Edinburgh. The baby has a brother, 21-month-old Prince Charles, who holds second place in the line of succession to Britains crown.

The new princess will bear the names of two great queens of England—Elizabeth, who reigned from 1558 to 1603, and Anne, who held the throne from 1702 to 1711.

The choice of the name Elizabeth also was a tribute to the grandmother of the baby princess, the present Queen Elizabeth.

Nina Briley And James M. Harrell United In Double Ring Ceremony

Miss Nina Lucille Briley became the bride of James Murry Harrell on Saturday afternoon, August 19, at 8:30 o'clock.

The double ring ceremony was performed at the home of the Rev. L. B. Manning of Fountain, N. C.

For her wedding the bride chose a pink crepe dress with white accessories. Her corsage was of white roses.

Mrs. Harrell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Briley of Route 4, Greenville.

Mr. Harrell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Harrell of Route 1, Greenville. He is now serving in the U. S. Navy in Norfolk, Virginia.

Preparedness Of Chinese Against U. S. Emphasized

Moscow, Aug. 28—(P)—The Peiping correspondent for the Soviet newspaper Pravda reported today that the Chinese people are ready to defend their frontiers against the United States.

The correspondent, J. L. Vysokov, said this in repeating Communist China's charges that American planes had attacked Chinese territory.

He said the reported attacks "are arousing deep indignation" among the populace of the Chinese Peoples (Communist) Republic, and added they are "decisively demanding that the American bandits be brought to account."

Charging repeated violations by a number of American planes, which he said strafed civilians in Chinese cities and fired at railway stations, Vysokov said the Chinese people are warning the "unbridled American aggressors" that "you shall reap as you have sown."

All Moscow newspapers gave prominent display to telegrams from China's Premier and Foreign Minister Chou En-Lai to the U. N. and to the U. S. State Department making the accusations. The charges were sent yesterday to U. N. Secretary General Trygve Lie, Russia's U. N. delegate, Jakob Malik, and U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

The reports are arousing considerable interest among people here and Foreign observers consider the matter serious.

(The Chinese telegrams accused American B-29s and British planes of attacking towns in Manchuria just across the North Korean border along the Yalu river. American authorities in Tokyo denied that any American planes had been over Manchuria. A state department spokesman said the Chinese charges were a matter for the United Nations.)

"The Chinese people," wrote the Pravda correspondent, "are warmly supporting the central people's (Chinese) government in measures directed at strengthening the peace, and declare their readiness to defend the integrity and inviolability of the territory of the Republic."

Burpless Cuke Is Now Developed

Santa Barbara, Calif., Aug. 28—(AP)—Do you belch after eating cucumbers? Then you may be interested to learn that a Santa Barbara dentist has developed a burpless model of the salad delicacy.

It's not a defensive measure. Dr. Charles R. Pierce is a spare time botanist and he worked eight years developing his cucumber. White instead of green, it is sweeter and milder than standard types.

It resulted from a cross between the lemon cucumber and several other varieties. Lacking the usual hard shell, it can be eaten skin and all like a candy bar.

And Mrs. Pierce, who has done some experimenting with them in her kitchen, reports they make superior pickles.

Dr. Pierce recently put his white cucumbers on the market locally. Not a single case of gastric disturbance has been reported, he says.

Library Notes

The Sheppard Memorial Library announces the addition of the following books to its collection:

"Circle of the Day," by Helen Howe. A sophisticated story of one day in the life of Faith Millet—her tenth wedding anniversary—and the discovery causing her to review her whole past life and make a decision in regard to her future.

"A Woman of Means," by Peter H. Taylor. This short novel, by a North Carolina author, tells the story of 12-year-old Quintus Dudley who comes to realize the mixed motives in his father's marriage to wealthy Mrs. Louterbach. The boy's interpretation of the situation and its effect upon him is described with intricate characterization and ironic humor.

"Incredible Tale: the Odyssey of the Average American in the Last Half of the Century," by Gerald White Johnson. A readable and often humorous survey of the U. S. scene since 1900, giving a picture of the Average Man in all his struggles with normalcy, depression, prohibition, war, New Deal and Fair Deal.

"The Lady's Not for Burning," by Christopher Fry. An entertaining comedy written in poetry and set in a picturesque medieval period. By a new English playwright, it has been enthusiastically received in London and will be brought to New York in the fall.

"Europe and the U. S.," by Vera Dean. The research director of the Foreign Policy Association seeks to analyze the present condition of Europe and define the main outlines of the American policy toward the whole continent.

"The Irreverent Mr. Mencken," by Edgar Kemler. A biography of H. I. Mencken which emphasizes his public career as editor, whose war was with ideas.

"Mink on Weekdays," by Felicia Lamport. A lighthearted family story with the setting in New York City in the 20's and 30's.

Suit Brought In Fatal Accident

Columbia, S. C., Aug. 29—(AP)—A third $100,000 damage suit against the Seaboard Air Line Railroad, aftermath of a three-death grade crossing collision, has been filed here.

The estate of William J. Bruton of Jackson Springs, N. C., charged the railroad with 12 counts of negligence in a suit filed in Federal District Court.

Many Failures

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 28—(P)—A total of 731 of the 1,550 draftees tested between Aug. 7 and 18th at the pre-induction center of the Army and Air Force recruiting station here failed the mental test. The test was passed by 819.

This was reported yesterday by Army officials. They said those in the college group composed the highest percentage of those passing—100 percent. The lowest percentage, 8.2 percent, was made by those who completed grades one through six.

Found A Fortune But Brings Him Plenty Trouble

New Bedford, Mass., Aug. 28—(AP)—David Lumiansky becomes the legal owner today of $20,000 he found a year ago—but, he says, it's driving me crazy.

"Half the people in the country are trying to claim the dough," he said. "And the other half want to help me spend it."

"I haven't slept for four days. I'd be better off if I'd never found the stuff."

Lumiansky, a former manager of boxers, found the money on a road-side last Aug. 28. No one has established a legal claim to it. He becomes the owner today under state law.

Rotary Program Likened To United Nations Goals

By WYATT BROWN

Rotary Clubs in 83 countries in the world are united in an endeavor to promote international understanding, good will and peace, declared Dr. Howard McGinnis, governor of District 279, Rotary International, in his address to the Greenville Rotarians last night on the occasion of his annual official visit to the local club. Prior to the club meeting District Governor McGinnis held a conference with the local Rotary Club officers, directors and committee chairmen.

Dr. McGinnis, who is a member of the Greenville Rotary Club, took a few moments from his address to give his fellow club members a few personal observations made in his visits to 18 of the clubs in his district. Greenville is his 19th club visited officially, leaving 20 more to go. In his address, Dr. McGinnis pointed out that in addition to the activities of Rotary's 7,150 clubs in their own communities to promote international understanding, over a three year period Rotary International is spending $750,000 principally to create better understanding among the peoples of different nations. He explained that one of the principal ways in which this money is being spent is on Rotary Foundation Fellowships which enable outstanding graduate students to study for one year in countries other than their own as ambassadors of good will. He went on to say that since this program was established in 1947, one hundred and ninety-five fellowships have been awarded to students in 35 countries with grants totaling nearly $500,000.

Further expanding the concept of international service of Rotary, Dr. McGinnis said, "Devoted to service, Rotary provides a common ground for 350,000 business and professional executives throughout the world, regardless of nationalities or political or religious beliefs."

He pointed out that there is a striking parallel between the program of Rotary and the United Nations Charter, and that, since the organization of the United Nations in 1945, Rotary clubs throughout the world have been active in the development of an informed public opinion on the objectives of the United Nations in an endeavor to make it an effective instrument for free peoples everywhere.

In illustrating how much the sending of graduate students over national borders helps, Dr. McGinnis told about the Swiss student in America admitting that before Rotary afforded his present stay in the United States that he had got his idea of Americans from the movies—gun toting, chap-attired cowboys.

One part of the district governor's address was light. In it he was indicating what Rotary clubs were not like. Rotary clubs are not "bird clubs"—sing, eat and fly away."

Guests of the club last night were Ed Hester of Raleigh and Ed Williams. The district governor was presented to his home club last night by immediate past president Ercell Webb.

Floyd F. Hendrix, club president, presided.

them what tobacco is to us. Due to the cuts in the potato quota under government controls the income from potatoes in one county in Maine has dropped from $90,000,000 in 1948 to an estimated $45,000,000 in 1950.

According to the article the Maine potato growers are being put out of business by government acreage cut-backs. In 1949 the total potato surplus purchased by the United States government and dumped was approximately 78 million bushels. For the dumped potatoes the growers were paid about $100,000,000. During the same period, however, the government through its reciprocal trade agreements was allowing 14 million bushels of Canadian potatoes to cross the border and go into the American retail market.

Had there been no Canadian potatoes coming into the already flooded American market, there would have been 14 million more bushels of American potatoes which would have found their way to market rather than being dumped to rot. And at the support price, it would have meant $18,000,000 less the government would have had to pay out in price supports. But to the observation Secretary of Agriculture Brannan retorted, "That's negligible." A mere $18,000,000 from the taxpayers pockets may be negligible to the secretary of agriculture, but it could mean a considerable savings to our already over-spending federal government.

Maine farmers have expressed fears the administration through the present potato support and controls are maneuvering to bring about the scrapping of the entire present support program for agricultural products. It would be followed by an inauguration of the Brannan plan which farmers and economists alike have agreed is folly.

The farmers in eastern North Carolina have as great a stake in the overall farm support program as any group anywhere. They should be mindful of trends in other agricultural sections which may indicate future government activities which will have an adverse effect on our own agricultural economy.

National Whirligig

News Behind The News

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—New York Republicans in the House recently held an indignation meeting at the request of Representative Katherine St. George, a distant relative of the Hyde Park Roosevelts, to demand that Governor Thomas E. Dewey run for Governor or the U. S. Senate in the November elections. They believe that a ticket headed by Lieutenant Governor Joe Hanley will be headed for defeat.

The fearful and angry insurgents place their plight before National Chairman Guy Gabrielson, insisting that he use his influence in New York politics as President Truman is doing on the Democratic side. But the New Jersey man refused to intercede because he has enough troubles already. Many GOP groups around the country are insisting that he step out.

FUROR The demand for Dewey, as reported here several weeks ago, has been growing among New Yorkers in Capitol Hill, who fear a Hanley-headed slate might mean the defeat of several members in downstate districts.

But the furor has increased since the Truman-Flynn deal under which Mayor O'Dwyer of New York will resign to become Ambassador to Mexico, thus forcing a special Mayoralty election that will bring out the Democratic vote in the metropolitan area.

HEADWAY Lieutenant Governor Hanley is regarded by the urban electorate as a blue-nosed, puritanical sort of individual. He is also little known downstate. Almost any Democratic gubernatorial nominee can roll up such a whopping majority that the Republicans cannot offset it up-state, save with Dewey running for something.

The proposal to head Mr. Dewey toward the Senate, with Senator Ives trying for the Governorship in place of Mr. Hanley, has gained headway. Although Mr. Ives cannot afford to seem to be interfering, it is known that he would thoroughly enjoy the Albany assignment.

POLITICS Top Republican strategists on Capitol Hill are muttering about a plan to checkmate the Truman-Flynn-O'Dwyer strategy for insuring a tremendous Democratic turnout in New York City. Its success depends on persuading enough anti-Truman Senators on both sides of the aisle to refuse to confirm Hizoner for Mexico City.

GOVERNORS The Foreign Affairs Committee believe they have enough solid evidence to block approval. But, from the standpoint of practical, bread-and-butter politics, they do not know whether it would be a wise move.

An obvious, anti-O'Dwyer argument is that President Truman is playing politics with the diplomatic establishment, for the appointment was a complete surprise to Secretary Acheson.

In the past Ambassadors have been named on the basis of the mazzini they would contribute to the campaign chest. In this instance the American representative to a key outpost on the American Continent has been selected because of the votes his exile will insure to the Democrats.

CONTEMPT But Republican lawyers on Foreign Affairs, as well as certain Democratic legalities in the Senate, interpose an even more serious objection to O'Dwyer's confirmation. It is his attempt to obstruct justice in the Brooklyn District Attorney's investigation of an alleged alliance between professional gamblers and certain police officers.

For fear of the political repercussions Mayor O'Dwyer, who used to be a cop himself, denounced the inquiry as a "witch hunt." He has shown his contempt for the investigation in many other ways. And he did so in the face of the Kefauver revelations that there is a nationwide tieup between big-time gambling operators, the politicians and the police.

When the District Attorney's investigation was suspended because of the O'Dwyer charges, a Grand Jury investigated his accusations. They found them utterly groundless, and declared that the inquiry merited the "whole hearted support of every honest public official." It was after this report that O'Dwyer was railroaded out of New York by the White House.

HONORED There is another side to this picture, however, and it is this aspect which deniers the Republic from declaring war on Senator O'Dwyer. In Mexico City he has honored that one of the top American Democrats will accept the post, even though his term as Mayor still has more than three years to go. Blocking the appointment of such a prominent Catholic churchman might alienate thousands of votes from GOP Senators outside New York.

Lastly, the versatile O'Dwyer may make an excellent diplomat at this critical period in world affairs. The Mexicans have felt that they have been neglected, money-wise, by the Truman Administration, and Hizoner may help them to tap Uncle Sam's till as other nations are doing.

Somebody Told Me

By L. J. (Jack) EDWARDS, JR.

Chances are that nine out of ten of you have heard the story about the day up in Heaven when there was a line of people waiting at the pearly gates to be admitted by St. Peter. Before admitting each person, St. Peter would ask "Where are you from?" Each person would tell St. Peter, and he would say, "Pass."

Then one particular man came up, and in response to St. Peter's question he said, "Sir, I'm from Texas." St. Peter said, "OK, you can pass, but in view of where you're from, you won't like it." Every Texan would have you believe that he's living in the place that's next to Heaven. Therefore, I always try to emphasize the fact that it's North Carolina, not Texas, that's next to Heaven. Another therefore is that it just about kills me to give credit to the state of Texas for the establishment of a great institution, "Old Maid's Day of America."

Around Capitol Square

Daily Reflector Bureau By LYNN NISBET Raleigh, N. C.

WOMEN—Preliminary to special activity "in their respective counties and districts" by women interested in the Democratic party they will stage a sort of pep meeting at Fayetteville on Tuesday, September 12. Again this year, as he did during the last campaign, Oscar Breese will make available facilities of his landing pier, assembly room and yacht for the Democratic women. Program for the preliminary September 12 conference includes a get-together in the assembly room, brief discussion, boarding the yacht "Florida" for a cruise down the Cape Fear during which luncheon will be served. The women are supposed to talk about ways and means to make the Democratic party successful in the November election, but grapevine intelligence brings word that some other subjects may be discussed.

DATE—September 28 has peculiar significance for Democratic women. Your reporter had a lot of fun trying to find out why that particular date had any importance. One woman, very active in politics, thought maybe it was Frances Willard's birthday. Another reasonably young state employee was sure it recognized date the 19th (Woman Suffrage) amendment to the federal constitution was ratified. Half a dozen or more women called by phone admitted they didn't know, and offered no alibi for ignorance.

EQUALITY—Persistence paid dividends. Long about the umpteenth call a woman was found who knew why the date September 28 was significant—but even she did not know the year. It was probably in 1920, but according to your reporter's accepted informant, it was certainly on September 28 that the Democratic national committee amended its rules to provide for equal representation of women on the various party committees. Since then the national committee has had equal membership of men and women, but most state and local committees have by-passed the regulations and have maintained large majority of men on the respective committees.

WASHINGTON—A dozen or so North Carolina officials spent Tuesday in Washington looking at maps and talking about how to get more electric power generated in this state. In view of the almost phenomenal development of power generating facilities by Carolina and Duke power companies since the end of World War II and the controversy over whether private enterprise or government subsidy would be called upon to complete schedule projects, which have been delayed during the arguments, general opinion around capitol square was the Washington trip was a segment in an overall plan for socialized power. More will be learned about that when the conferees get back to North Carolina.

COMMON—It seems reasonably certain that private and government sponsored projects alike are suffering now from wartime shortages. The same newspapers, a few days ago, which carried statements by public officials criticizing power companies for not completing contemplated extension of power lines, also had stories about REA co-ops being delayed by inability to get copper wire and other essential equipment for new installations. Basic difference would seem to be in methods of financing, rather than in priority of accomplishment.

HUMAN—The human element is most important in government. Practically every institution visited by the advisory budget commission on its recent tour of inspection presented need for additional equipment—buildings, classrooms, laboratories, libraries, machines and what have you. Each institution also pointed out need for more and better personnel, men and women to utilize the equipment.

CHOICE—Everywhere that the direct question was asked "If you can't get both, which is more important—physical equipment or personnel?" the answer was that men and women are more important than bricks and lumber. A small library with a good librarian is worth more than a million books with incompetent attendants. A dilapidated classroom with a good teacher is more valuable than a perfect physical set-up and incompetent instruction. A good surgeon can do a better job on a kitchen table than a sorry doctor with the best operating room ever devised. It's the old idea of Mark Hopkins on one end of a log and a student on the end, making a university.

Our hope is that definite and prompt results will stem from the conference which Governor Scott and a delegation of North Carolina leaders will hold with Secretary of Interior Oscar Chapman at Washington this week.

The Governor has consistently stressed the state's need for more power development and we are assuming that he and his delegation will follow the same tack at the capitol hearing.

The big idea is to get this development and not wander off into argument as to who shall provide it. A case in point is that proposed Roanoke Rapids dam which both the federal government and a private company wish to construct. As a result of the ensuing argument, "construction which might otherwise have been well under way has not started; in fact there is nothing to show for this project and what it might contribute to the state's industrial, social and economic advancement but stalemate.

North Carolina plants are not going to operate, lights burn in North Carolina homes or more farm machinery be set and kept in motion on what is generated by the clash or heat of differing philosophies or political theses. The need is to get that Roanoke Rapids dam going; and it is to that end that we sincerely trust the Tar Heel delegation moving in on Secretary Chapman will speak and work.

A continuing fight, which means that nothing is done, is too costly to condone. The public interest patently is not being served by charging waters which go on down to the sea unharnessed.

Business Today

SUPPLIERS AGAIN START TO SHAVING DISCOUNTS TO RETAILERS; LOSS OF 2 PER CENT ALLOWANCE CAN CUT DEEPLY INTO STORES' NET. By ELMER ROESSNER. Manufacturers and wholesalers have again begun shaving or eliminating discounts to dealers for prompt payments. These cuts in discounts amount to a not very well hidden rise in prices.

Discounts have long been an integral part of the American distributive system. There are all kinds of discounts. In some industries, such as the appliance field, the difference between list price and price to retailers is called a discount. There are also discounts for quantities purchased and discounts to help finance the retailer's advertising. But in almost all fields there are discounts for prompt payments and this is what some suppliers are now working on.

These discounts are relatively small, usually 1 or 2 per cent for payment before the 10th of the following month. But when a retailer is making a net of 3-1-2 per cent on sales, a not uncommon situation, the loss of a 2 per cent discount means a loss of more than half his profits—unless he raises prices accordingly. Despite all the price raising that's going on today, increasing a selling price is not always easy and it can be indeed difficult when a manufacturer who cuts discounts announces publicly that he is "holding the price line."

The National Retail Dry Goods Association has bulletined members to protest any cuts in discounts, advising them to impress on manufacturers the importance of discounts. It also points out that in many instances, stores' buyers do not realize the importance of discounts. "When a manufacturer shaves or eliminates his discount, a lot of buyers see nothing very significant in such a step and it is a question whether top management ever hears of it," the bulletin says. Stores are advised to instruct buyers to report any change in discounts immediately.

MANUFACTURERS USE MONTH CLUB IDEA. The "month-club" idea of selling, which started with books and spread to candy, flowers, cheeses and countless other consumer products, is now spreading to the manufacturing level. A tool manufacturer, Bingham-Herbrand Corp., Fremont, Ohio, has inaugurated a tool of the month club. Because there are thousands of tools on the market and new ones being added, manufacturers sales orders are seldom level and advertising is complicated.

Each dealer is asked to agree to accept an order of one new tool a month, with return privilege. Korea—(AP)—A soldier has found some way to kill the boredom of battle. One day I visited a forward command post in a gully near the Nakdong River. The position had been heavily shelled and mortared all day. One shellburst a half hour before had killed an officer and wounded his driver.

Those in the gully were hunched against its sides for protection and their eyes held a tense expression. But one soldier across the way was leaning comfortably against the bank and frowning intently at a paper-bound book. I started to walk across to him. A shell hit some hundreds yards or so behind us just then. The gully seemed suddenly wider and barer than a six lane freeway. "What are you reading?" I called.

The soldier, Cpl. Lloyd A. Hahn, of Baldwin Park, Calif., got up, brushed off some dust and strolled unconcernedly over to where I crouched. He held out a comic book called "The Batman." I asked him if it was very exciting. "Just so-so," he said placidly, "but it helps fill the time." Then he rolled back, leaned against the bank and read on in search of adventure.

There was a kind of symbolism in another book I saw on the desk of a major general the day one of his regiments had been roughly handled by the Reds. It was "Tomorrow Will Be Better," by Betty Smith. "I haven't had a chance to look into it yet—been too busy," said the general grimly. "But I sure like the title."

There are almost endless stories of narrow escapes during the seesaw battle for "Atrocity Hill," north of Waegwan on the Nakdong River line. Some are almost unbelievable such as the story of two men who escaped by temporarily joining the Reds. "Two of our boys got lost during a night," recalled Cpl. Wade M. Young of Fort Wentworth, Savannah, Ga. "A column of enemy soldiers came by and they well into line with them. They didn't know what else they could do. "They marched for about an hour until they saw a familiar landmark—dropped out of the column and made their way safely to our lines."

Lt. Donald Munro of Chicago told of four other First Cavalry division troopers who were held prisoners for 20 minutes and then saved by a counterattack while their captors still were arguing over whether to kill them. "The gooks took away their shoes, cigarettes, rifles and ammo," he said. "They also took a bible from one man but after looking at it a moment said he heard them mention President Truman and another say, 'No kill.' "But before the Reds could make up their minds our troops drove back and chased them away." Other American prisoners on Atrocity Hill weren't so lucky. Between 40 and 50 were shot to death by the retreating Reds.

Troops at the frontline have to strip down to the barest essential gear. Only the things that help a man stay alive and fight can be carried into the assembly lines of the industry of death. But a soldier in one outfit who is an ardent golfer insisted on taking a golf club to battle. Most days he manages to get in about an hour of practice drives.

Whenever he comes to a cucumber patch he puts down his pack and nonchalantly tees off—using the cucumbers as golf balls. There is no need to cry "Fore" as the course is quite uncrowded.

Washington Letter

WASHINGTON—Mrs. Howard G. Hill, petite, blue-eyed brunet British opera singer who came to this country as a war bride in 1945, is in an organizing mood. She wants American women to act realistically about peace. Specifically, she wants Washington women to think less about cocktail parties and teas and band together behind legislation that will give the country universal military training.

Mrs. Hill is the wife of Col. Hill, who was decorated by Gen. George Patton in Italy with the Legion of Merit and today is a railroad consulting engineer. While Mrs. Hill was serving as chairman for the D. C. Reserve Officers' local ladies activities for a convention she got interested in forming a Washington chapter of the Reserve Officers Association Ladies Club. She got 18 women "almost overnight" and the idea is booming along, with her as acting president.

The ROALC first got started three years ago and already has about 3,000 members in clubs in 22 states. Mrs. Augustus Dunaway, also English, is the national president. "The main object is to work for national security and for legislation approved by the ROA," she told me. "But we also will educate the emotions and reasoning powers of the women to allow men in their families to take part in national defense if needed."

She admitted it would "break her heart" if her own husband were called to re-enter active service, but she added: "If this country needed him and could use his knowledge, I would do every thing in my power to help him to serve, as he is most anxious to do. There are only two forces left in the world today," she added. "One is freedom, the other, slavery. The hour is late and it is up to us all to do something about the situation."

Strength for the Day

HOW TO BE HAPPY Some people have the idea that they would be perfectly happy if all the time they could do just what they want to do. With this in mind, they look forward to retirement. Or if they come into a comfortable fortune, they knock off work and begin to take things as easy as possible.

But probably the most mistaken notion in the world is that people achieve happiness by doing what they want to do. People achieve happiness only by doing what they ought to do. Very often what one ought to do and what one wants to do are identical, in which case a person performs his duty without any conflict. But frequently with duty pointing definitely in one direction, the disposition of all of us is to go in the opposite direction as fast and as hard as possible. The result is conflict, or what the psychologist calls "frustration."

The reason why we are never happy unless we are doing what we ought to do is because we are spiritual beings. We have souls to satisfy, and until we satisfy these souls, we are in a state of unrest. The only way to be happy is to follow the promptings of conscience. And this brings not only peace of mind but a most unusual increase in efficiency.

Watch For The School Children

Today thousands of children in Pitt county began their daily journey to schools from one end of the county to the other. There will hardly be a road in the county which will not be used in transporting children to or from our schools.

Since the opening of the tobacco market in this section a great deal of additional traffic already has been added to the heavily traveled roads of this county. The operation of school buses will add to the congestion of the roads.

Now more than ever careful driving will be essential in Pitt county to prevent adding more accidents to our already high rate. Drivers should keep in mind the regulations which govern the passing of school buses, and the precautions which should be taken for the protection of our children who are traveling daily on the highways.

Careful driving is a thing which must be practiced every day if it is to be effective. Every accident is potentially a fatal accident.

No Need For Concern Over Bond Issue

The fact that the Greenville aldermen and members of the utilities commission last night authorized the issuance of $650,000 of temporary bonds for rural electrification expansion may cause undue concern on the part of some people.

There likewise may be some misunderstanding about the action of the federal agency in raising to $2,000,000 the amount Greenville may be allowed to borrow from the Rural Electrification Administration for extending its rural lines.

It should be understood that the city will be expected to pay interest and principal on only the portion of the money which actually is put to use. Even though $650,000 of temporary bonds have been authorized, the city will actually pay interest on whatever portion of the amount is necessary to carry out the rural electric expansion the city wishes to make.

As for the $2,000,000 limit on the amount the city may borrow through the REA, that is just what it says—a limit. The city does not have to borrow the money, but the money is authorized if the city finds it advisable to borrow up to that amount at any future date for rural electrification.

A Barometer For The Price Support Program

An article this week in Collier's magazine entitled "The Great Potato Scandal" flays the administration and the department of agriculture for its activities in the potato price support program.

We of eastern North Carolina can see at a glance how the government support of farm products apparently is helping us. But as far as the potato program individually is concerned, it seems to be back-firing on the farmers in Maine where potatoes are to

Town Quiet After Death Of Cop In Klan Activities

Conway, S. C., Aug. 29—(AP)—This town of some 6,000 people was comparatively quiet today following the repercussions of a Ku Klux Klan demonstration at nearby Myrtle Beach Saturday night that cost a Conway policeman his life.

Yesterday, 2,000 people attended funeral services for James Daniel Johnston at Cedar Grove Baptist church near here. The spectators jammed into the small church and 1,500 milled around outside listening to final rites for the policeman being carried over loudspeakers.

He was shot to death wearing a Klan robe over his uniform while participating in a demonstration at a Negro section of the beach. Johnston was to have been Conway's district magistrate in March, 1951.

Meanwhile, state law enforcement division officers, police at Conway and Myrtle Beach continued investigating the case. Last night, Horry County sheriff C. E. Sasser for two hours questioned Thomas Hamilton, Grand Dragon of the South Carolina KKK.

Later, Hamilton, Sasser and Sled officers went to the vicinity of the demonstration in "Nigger Hill" where 60 masked and robed Klansmen and an unknown number of Negroes exchanged about 300 shots late Saturday night.

Sasser said he will not have a further statement to make until tomorrow. Hamilton said he would not comment until investigations had been completed. Sled officers have been reluctant to comment at all.

Somewhere in South Carolina, Charlie Fitzgerald, a Negro dance hall proprietor, is being held on an open charge in connection with the shooting.

Select Jury For Murder Trial Of Former Convict

Franklin, N. C., Aug. 29—(AP)—The state began efforts today to convict Curtis Shedd, 31-year-old former South Carolina convict, of choking two small girls to death. Selection of a jury from a special venire of 60 was the first step in his murder trial.

The bodies of Johnnie May Boyter, 14, and Jo Ann Boyter, 8, partly hidden in mountain woodlands near Highlands, were found Aug. 13. Shedd pointed them out to officers. Agent Woody Wilson of the Georgia Bureau of Identification said Shedd confessed that he killed the girls' father, John Boyter, 38, of Walhalla, S. C., and both his daughters. The girls were strangled, the father slain with a gun.

Boyter's body was found Aug. 9 in North Georgia, near Clayton, a town near the North Carolina boundary. That finding set off a search for the girls. The girls had lived with their grandmother near Walhalla. Both Shedd and Boyter attended a trade school near Walhalla.

Wilson said Shedd, who recently completed serving a second term for robbery, returned to the trade school after the three Boyters were killed.

After Shedd was arrested and placed in jail at Walhalla, a threatening crowd formed. He was taken to a jail at Gainesville, Ga., and later was removed to a jail in Waynesville. He was brought here last week for his formal arraignment. He entered the court-required plea of not guilty to the capital charge. Superior court judge J. Will Pless of Marion appointed two Franklin lawyers, Gilmer A. Jones and R. S. Jones, to defend the prisoner.

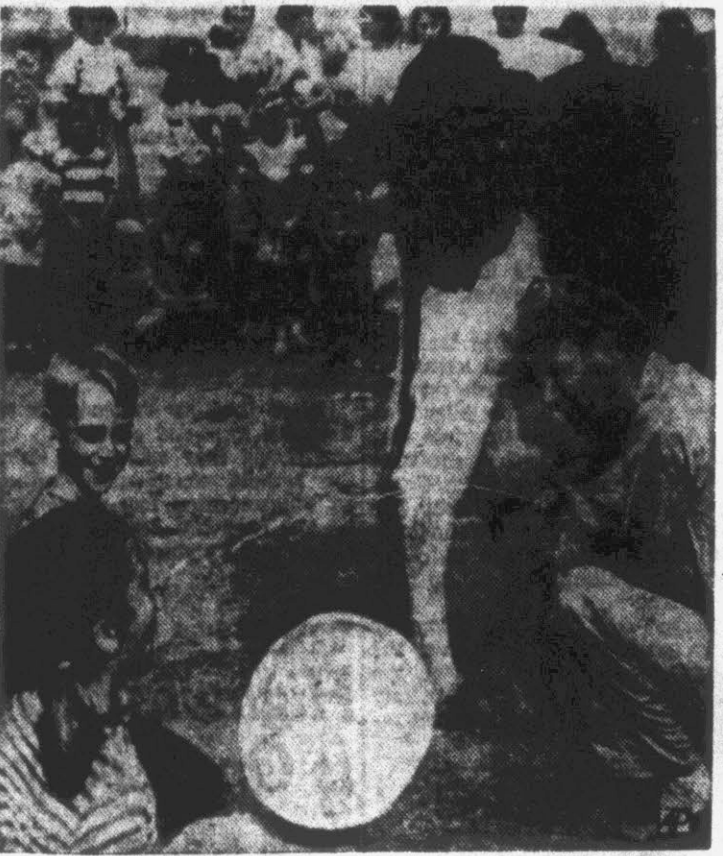

The indictments made no mention of the slaying of the girls' father.

Washington Said Trouble Center In Liquor Drive

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 29—(AP)—The District of Columbia "has jumped back again as a trouble spot" in the drive to cut off out-of-state channels that supply North Carolina bootleggers, says the State ABC chairman.

Robert W. Winston reported yesterday that more liquor again is flowing from Washington to bootleggers in the state's dry counties. He added that District liquor officials, who last year helped to shut off the bootleg supply line, are not cooperating as well now.

Jays Rally For Two Runs In Ninth To Edge Robins, 4-3

Greenville Had Early Lead, Lost Out In Final Frame; Marks Fifth Straight Loss; Play Roanoke Rapids Here In Twin Bill Tonight

By BERT MOYE
The league-leading Roanoke Rapids Jays rallied for two runs in the ninth frame on three singles and two stolen bases to edge the Robins 4-3 to land the locals their fifth straight loss, over in Roanoke Rapids last night. This marked the third straight time in a row that the opposing team had rallied in the late frames to defeat the Robins and was the third successive one-run loss suffered by the Robins. The loss with Tarboro's win over Rocky Mount moved the Robins into seventh place in league standings.

With one out in the ninth Frank Tepedino singled and stole second. Buck Kilpatrick fled out to center, then Yohnnie Bass came through with a hit to plate Tepedino with the tying run. Bass then stole second and Leo Katkaveck came through with a line drive into center field with which to bring home Bass for the winning run.

The Robins did all their scoring for the night in the second frame when they pushed across three runs on two hits and two Jay errors. This three run outburst in the second enabled the Robins to hold a 3-0 lead until the ninth inning rally by the Jays who had previously scored singletons in the first and third frames.

For the Robins in the third, Harrison got an infield hit. Guidice faced Harrison at second. Hall reached first on Freeman's error at short. Joe Allegritti singled into left field to bring home Guidice. Lewey then sacrificed Hall and Allegritti to second and third respectively. Dick Bland then hit to third baseman Frank Tepedino, who threw wild to first with Hall and Allegritti racing home on the miscue.

Jim Lewey went the route for the Robins and was charged with his 14th loss of the season. It was his fourth straight loss to the Jays, three of which have been by one-run margins and two of the tilts being for extra innings.

Yohnnie Bass, who drove in three of the four runs made by the Jays with three singles in five trips to the plate, set a new Coastal Plain League record as he brought his total to 138 for the season. This broke the mark of 137 set by Ray Komaneky of Tarboro in 1948.

Lefty Tom Marshall and Hal Sargent shared the mound duties for the Jays with Sargent being credited with the win, his second over the Robins this season.

Dick Bland, Paul Strausser and Bobby Harrison collected two singles each to lead the 10-hit attack off the two Jay hurlers.

The Jays and the Robins will meet at Guy Smith Stadium tonight, in a double-header with the first game getting under way at 6:45 o'clock. This will mark the final appearance of the Jays here this season as they wind up their 20-game series with tonight's twin bill.

The Yankees have been most patient with their left-handed fireball hurler, Tommy Byrne. Ever since he flashed some brilliant pitching with their Newark farm club back in 1940, the Yankees hoped he would gain sufficient control to become a winning pitcher. He did come up with 15 victories while the Yankees were fashioning a pennant winner last season but the old control weakness was very apparent. Tommy paced the American League hurlers with 179 passes. It looked as though Byrne had come into his own when the current season got underway. He was 30, sufficiently experienced if he was ever going to be. In the month starting May 7, when he beat Detroit, the Athletics and Chicago twice in addition to scoring over the Red Sox, Byrne looked great. He did lapse into his old wild ways on June 5, when he nipped four Philadelphia batters to equal the modern league record. But even on that occasion he won his game.

Byrne gave the Yankees an important victory over the Indians in Cleveland when he came through with a brilliant three-hit effort to beat Bob Lemon before a crowd of 66,726 and return the New York club to second place in the standings. Tommy had a no hitter in the making for six innings and then Bob Kennedy singled to spoil his bid. It was his 12th win of the season.

When Eddie Sawyer came along in the middle of the 1948 campaign, a new era dawned on the scene for the Phillies.

Up until then the Phillies had set all sorts of records in reverse. Their finishing list for five consecutive years is still a league record. And they have wound up in the cellar eight times in their last 13 seasons. Their last and only pennant was won in 1915.

The Philadelphia Phils were a forgotten ball club. Not even the bat boy thought of his club as a winner. But times due to change and changed they have.

Look at the Phillies now. They are riding the crest of the National League and going just as strong as they were at the beginning of the season.

Who deserves such a wonderful credit? The answer to that is Robert M. Carpenter, who became president of the club in 1943.

Carpenter, a member of the DuPont family and a Duke University graduate, started rebuilding from the ground floor up. He was determined not to have a losing club. The Phillies began to develop a farm system until now they have a chain of 13 clubs, at a cost of $2,500,000. Carpenter didn't like the way the former manager, Ben Chapman, was handling the team's youngsters and put Sawyer in his place.

In his first complete season at the helm, Sawyer hoisted the Phils from sixth to third place in 1949. The Philadelphia fans began yelling for a pennant but Sawyer said his boys were not ready for that honor. But now his "Whiz Kids" have jumped over Sawyer's words and are giving Philadelphia the first big chance for a winner in many a year.

The average age of the Philadelphia squad is less than 25 and if they stay on top the remainder of the season, then all of Philadelphia can thank Sawyer, Carpenter and those "Whiz Kids" for it.

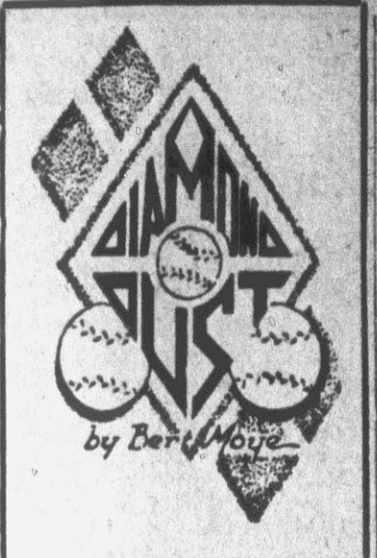

With players like Curt Simmons, Robin Roberts, Bob Miller, Ed Waitkus, Dick Sisler, Mike Goliat, Granville Hamner, Richie Ashburn, Russ Meyer, Del Ennis and Willie Jones, it looks as if the Phils will make the Philadelphia fans' dreams come true.

Other leaders were Al Zarilla, Boston, 339; Dom DiMaggio, Boston, 330; Phil Rizzuto, New York, and Paul Lehner, Philadelphia, 327 apiece; and Yogi Berra, New York, and Johnny Groth, Detroit, each with 323.

Kell led in number of hits, 173, and two-bagger production with 36.

Jackie Robinson of Brooklyn seems to have dropped out of contention with his 330 average. The defending champ is in third place. Figures include games of Sunday, Aug. 27.

Musial has 137 hits—the most in the league—in 442 at bats. He also leads with 37 doubles.

Tarboro at Rocky Mount.

Don't forget that double header out at Guy Smith Stadium tonight with the Roanoke Rapids Jays when they make their final appearance of the season here. The first game, a seven-inning affair, will get under way at 6:45 with the second game, a nine inning contest, starting immediately afterwards.

Manager Randy Heflin suffered a broken blood vessel in the game here Sunday afternoon and will be out of the lineup a few days recuperating. Ralph Bartolozzi has been put in charge of the Robins until Heflin returns to the field. Also on the sick list at present is Sal Valvano, who is out with a sore throat. LADIES' NIGHT for the last time this year will be observed out at Guy Smith Stadium on Wednesday night when the Robins meet the Rocky Mount Leafs in a single contest. Ladies will be admitted for the price of a thin dime whether or not they are escorted.

Carpenter didn't like the way the former manager, Ben Chapman, was handling the team's youngsters and put Sawyer in his place.

In his first complete season at the helm, Sawyer hoisted the Phils from sixth to third place in 1949. The Philadelphia fans began yelling for a pennant but Sawyer said his boys were not ready for that honor. But now his "Whiz Kids" have jumped over Sawyer's words and are giving Philadelphia the first big chance for a winner in many a year.

The average age of the Philadelphia squad is less than 25 and if they stay on top the remainder of the season, then all of Philadelphia can thank Sawyer, Carpenter and those "Whiz Kids" for it.

With players like Curt Simmons, Robin Roberts, Bob Miller, Ed Waitkus, Dick Sisler, Mike Goliat, Granville Hamner, Richie Ashburn, Russ Meyer, Del Ennis and Willie Jones, it looks as if the Phils will make the Philadelphia fans' dreams come true.

Other leaders were Al Zarilla, Boston, 339; Dom DiMaggio, Boston, 330; Phil Rizzuto, New York, and Paul Lehner, Philadelphia, 327 apiece; and Yogi Berra, New York, and Johnny Groth, Detroit, each with 323.

Kell led in number of hits, 173, and two-bagger production with 36.

Jackie Robinson of Brooklyn seems to have dropped out of contention with his 330 average. The defending champ is in third place. Figures include games of Sunday, Aug. 27.

Musial has 137 hits—the most in the league—in 442 at bats. He also leads with 37 doubles.

Coach Satisfied Over Showing Of Squad Workouts

Coach Boley Farley expressed satisfaction today with the showing his Greenville high school football candidates made yesterday afternoon in the second scrimmage of the two-week old practice season.

"I can't tell much about them yet," Farley commented, "but they looked pretty good in the scrimmage yesterday afternoon."

For almost two weeks now Farley has been putting his charges through two practice sessions a day alternating with light and heavy equipment. In the morning sessions which get underway at 9:30 the candidates for the Greenville high school team have been going through their workouts in light equipment, but for the past week Farley has had them donning heavy pads for the afternoon workouts which begin at 5:30.

Although most of the heavy work has been devoted to tackling and blocking practice, Farley has given his boys enough scrimmage to be pleased with the way they are handling themselves with the new split-T formation which the Phantoms will use this season for the first time.

So far the heavy practice has resulted in a few charlie horses for the high school players, but there have been no injuries.

On the team which Farley has been using as the number one team for the scrimmage sessions, there are lettermen in nine of the 11 positions. Two non-lettermen, Syd Briley and Eddie Farley, are alternating in the quarterback slot, and a new comer to the squad, Johnny Mervin from Georgia is occupying one of the guard positions. Mervin weighs 170.

The others who are in the first team at present are all lettermen. At center is Lewis Howe, at the other guard slot is Joe Roland, at the tackle slot is Joe Crawford and Wallace Conway, and at the ends are Johnny Aman and Wiley Gardner. Walter Goor and Kent Lee are taking care of the halfback duties and Billy Wooten and Leon Moore are alternating at the fullback post.

Farley said his team this year looks somewhat heavier than the squad Greenville high sent on the field last season, but the coach said he is afraid he will be short on reserves.

Postal Softball Team Trims Exchange Club, 'All-Stars'

The Post Office team proved itself the undisputed champion of softball in Greenville yesterday as it soundly trounced the Exchange club 17 to 6, and licked the All Stars 17 to 4.

The double-header was arranged to determine the city championship between the winner of the Industrial League and the Civic League. Although the Exchange club won the Civic League championship, the Post Office accepted the challenge from the All-Stars to make the championship play a three-team affair.

As it turned out, there was just too much Post Office power for either the Exchangers or the All Stars to cope with. The Post Office team collected a total of 33 hits and 34 runs in the two games while its opponents accumulated a total of 13 hits and ten runs. The All Star game was a seven inning affair, but the Exchange club game was called at the end of the fifth inning because of darkness.

Smith did the mound chores for the Post Office against the All Stars and gave up only four hits and four runs to the challengers. In the meantime Smith's team mates were hitting Pitchers Harrington and McGowan for 18 safeties and 17 runs.

It was the Post Office's first Baseman Poell who yesterday stole the batting honors from the other players of the three teams. Poell came to bat a total of ten times in the two games and got eight hits. He scored three runs in each of the games.

In the second game of the double-header Pitcher Joe Dudley of the Post Office team gave up nine hits during the five innings before the game was called, the Post Office tagged Pitcher Sumrell of the Exchange club for 2 hits during the five innings.

The city championship added two more victories to the Post Office's impressive list of wins since the regular season play ended. In winning the Industrial League play-offs the Post Office team defeated Wagner-Waldrop two games out of three in the semi-finals and topped Scott Motor Sales three games out of five in the finals.

Four-Way Deadlock Seen Possible League Wind-Up

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

So you thought those recent two-team dead heats in the American and national leagues were hot stuff? Pooh! They were just routine finishes compared to what may happen this year! For those who are looking for honest to goodness, spine-tingling excitement, how about a four-way deadlock for first place?

Don't scoff. It could happen. The way the American league race has been moving along it wouldn't cause too much of a surprise should Detroit, New York, Cleveland and Boston wind up all even on the evening of October 1—the regular season's final day.

Get a closeup of the last two days of the campaign. The Tigers will be host to the Indians on Saturday, Sept. 30, and Sunday, October 1 on the same two afternoons, the Red Sox will tangle with the Yankees in Boston.

Should the four contenders enter the final week-end all knotted up, and should they split those series, the baseball world would witness an unprecedented four-way playoff for the American League flag.

Here is the picture today. Detroit is on the top with 34 games left to play. New York is second, one game behind, with 32 left to play. Cleveland is third, one game behind New York, with 30 to play. Boston is fourth, one game behind Cleveland, also with 30 to go.

Boston was the only one of the big four to win yesterday. The Red Sox came from a mile behind to outlast the Indians, 15-14. Detroit bowed to Philadelphia's oft-beaten Athletics, 4-3. The Chicago White Sox upset the Yankees, 6-4.

Highway Fatality Rate Is One Every Ten Hours

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 29 —(AP)—If the present highway fatality rate continues through Dec. 31, 1,000 persons will die on the state's highways this year.

This was reported yesterday by the Motor Vehicle Department. Highway deaths already have exceeded 350 and may be expected to pass 1,000 should the present trend continue, said the Department. Injuries already have topped 7,500 and can be expected to reach 12,000 before the year ends.

Every 10 hours, one person is dying in a North Carolina highway accident, the report showed, and someone is being injured every 47 minutes.

Every 25 minutes, a wreck involving property damage is taking place. Since Jan. 1, wrecks have cost Tar Heel citizens $32,500,000 and the figure may reach $65,000,000 by next Jan. 1.

Billy Goodman Is Leading League With .366 Mark

Chicago, Aug. 29 —(AP)—Billy Goodman, the Boston Red Sox' 24-year-old batting sensation, slamed 11 hits in 23 trips during the last week to boost his leading American League percentage by nine points to 366.

In games through Sunday, Aug. 27, Goodman had a 12-point bulge over second place Larry Doby of Cleveland with 354. Doby picked up eight points to replace Detroit's George Kell as runner-up. Kell skidded to fourth with 348 behind New York's Hank Bauer, third with 350.

Other leaders were Al Zarilla, Boston, 339; Dom DiMaggio, Boston, 330; Phil Rizzuto, New York, and Paul Lehner, Philadelphia, 327 apiece; and Yogi Berra, New York, and Johnny Groth, Detroit, each with 323.

Kell led in number of hits, 173, and two-bagger production with 36.

Musial Holding 15-Point Lead In Batting Race

New York, Aug. 29 —(AP)—Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals looks like a shoo-in for his fourth National League batting title.

With five weeks of play remaining, the St. Louis slugger holds a 15-point lead on runnerup Johnny Hopp of Pittsburgh. Musial is hitting .355, Hopp 340.

Jackie Robinson of Brooklyn seems to have dropped out of contention with his 330 average. The defending champ is in third place. Figures include games of Sunday, Aug. 27.

Musial has 137 hits—the most in the league—in 442 at bats. He also leads with 37 doubles.

Five Earned Lifesaving Certificates In Summer

During the summer months the American Red Cross sponsored many water safety projects at the Greenville swimming pool and at Camp Hardee, the Girls Scout Camp located near Washington.

A tabulated report of the work carried on this summer reveals that a total of five lifesaving certificates were given out: with 84 beginners and 21 intermediates being taught to swim under the direction of Jack Amyette in Greenville at the local pool.

Amyette was trained by the Red Cross at the American Red Cross Aquatic School at Brevard last year in preparation for teaching the course.

The local Red Cross office reported that they were well pleased with the work done by Amyette this year. In addition to furnishing free swimming instructors, equipment also was given by the local Red Cross unit.

At Camp Hardee, certificates were issued to 28 beginners and 12 intermediates.

Six certificates were given to advanced swimmers. Life saving awards were presented to five girls.

The waterfront program at Camp Hardee was under the supervision of Miss Dorothy Nell Henderson, Raleigh Lee and Tommie Pace of Greenville. These students were also trained at the Red Cross Aquatic school.

Plans are now under way for a county wide safety program next year with all parts of the county taking part, it has been learned.

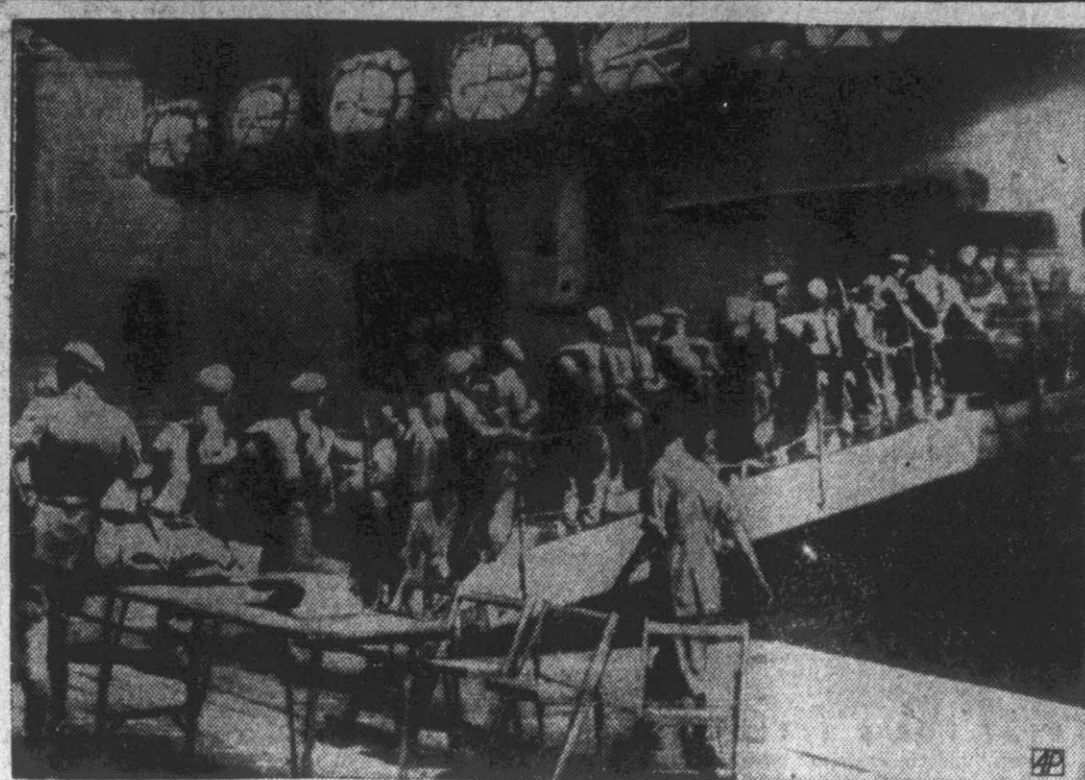

Kidnaper Only Wanted A Ride

Orangeburg, S. C. Aug 28—(AP)—Transportation—175 miles of it—apparently was all a kidnaper wanted of T. Ray Linn, 38-year-old Orangeburg theater manager.

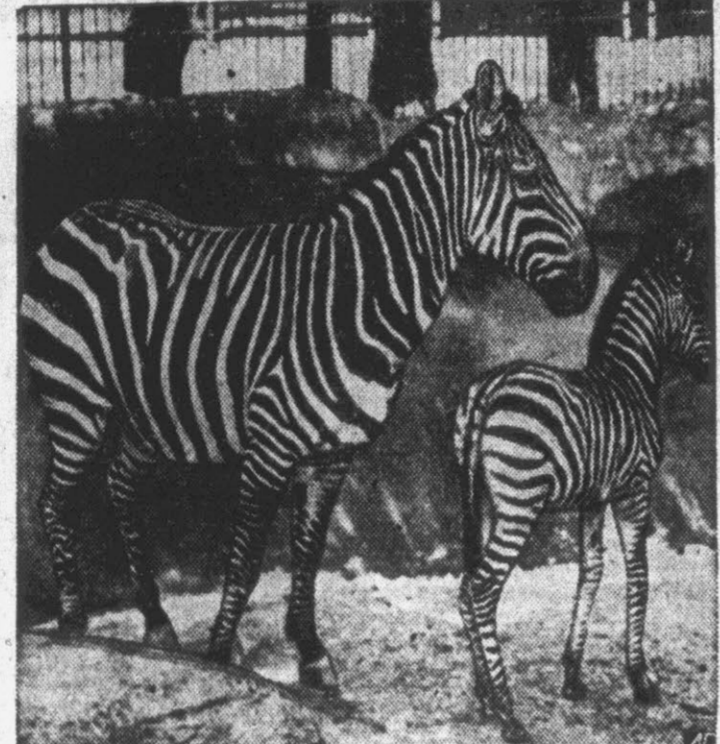

Linn told police that a stranger to whom he had given a lift in his automobile required him at gunpoint to drive to Asheville, N. C. Linn said he was neither harmed nor robbed. He said his abductor got out of the car at Asheville.

Aborigines See Sea In Paintings

Darwin, Australia—(AP)—Australian aborigines in the inland who have never seen the sea will be shown paintings of it by Albert Namatjira, famous Australian aboriginal water-colorist. At Darwin recently, Namatjira saw the sea for the first time and was impressed. He painted several pictures which were eagerly snapped up by a Sydney newspaper and a private buyer. He decided to take one picture home to show his tribe members just what the sea looks like. Before he left Darwin, the artist said he would return next year for a holiday, bringing his wife and all the members of his family, none of whom had seen the sea.

Building Bids On College Rejected

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 29—(AP)—Bids that far exceeded estimates on four projects at Fayetteville State Teachers College have been rejected.

Assistant Budget Director D. S. Coltrane announced yesterday rejection of all bids on general construction.

The state will re-advertise on two-weeks notice.

An appropriation of $567,850 was made by the legislature for the four projects, which included a new auditorium, dormitory for teachers, girl's dormitory and renovations to the dining hall. The bids—taken last week—ran to $721,592.55, or $153,740.55 above the available funds.

The state will go ahead and do the work for improved dining facilities with its own workers as the need for these improvements is great.

Laws in some states require that cars on the road maintain spaces between them of one car length for each 10 miles per hour of speed.

Vet Of Korea Is But 16 Years Old

Charleston, W. Va., Aug 29—(AP)—Rodney Allison Keller fought in Korea for 42 days.

Then the Army somehow found he was only 16 years old and shipped him home.

Now, this veteran of the Nakdong River line is back in civvies. His big problem right now is trying to decide whether to go back to high school.

Rodney said he and his buddies in the 24th infantry looked upon the campaign as something of a joke when they landed on July 2. They soon learned it was just as grim as war is supposed to be.

Of the delaying action, he said: "Sometimes a man would become hysterical from fright and start running to the rear. Then the fear would spread to a few of his buddies until the whole outfit was running and the officers with them."

The ex-private praised the fighting qualities of the South Koreans.

Czechs Mobilize For War On Potato Bug; America Blamed

By WILLIAM N. OATIS
 Prague, Aug. 29—(AP)—Young and old, famous and obscure are flocking to Czechoslovakia's fields to kill potato bugs.

The battle to save a vital food crop, as reported in the press and spurred by a stupendous publicity campaign, is the kind of thing country agricultural agents dream about in the midwestern United States.

It has been accompanied by two diplomatic notes to the United States, a special treaty with eastern Germany and an extraordinary aid mission from the Soviet Union.

The story begins June 28. In a proclamation broadcast that night, the Communist-led government said Colorado beetles, which strip potato plants, had turned up in western Bohemia bordering the U. S. zone of Germany. The government charged American agents had planted them there to destroy the country's prosperity.

Twelve days later the government handed two notes to the U. S. embassy here, repeating the charges and protesting that American planes, flying over Czechoslovakia without permission, had spread some of the bugs.

U. S. Ambassador Ellis O. Biggs already had answered the original proclamation with a note declaring the accusation "false and preposterous." The note suggested "the inherent unsuitability of the potato bug as an instrument of national policy." The Embassy stood on that.

Eastern Germany had got in ahead of Czechoslovakia with charges of American bug-spreading. On July 13 the two governments signed an agreement in Prague for a joint fight on the potato bug and other insect pests.

Two days later Czechoslovakia disclosed she already had received hundreds of freight carsloads of liquid bug killer from East Germany and the Soviet Union. Russia sent six light hedge-hopping planes, with crews, to scatter beetle powder in 15-foot level flights. Some eventually were sent as far as Slovakia where the beetle had penetrated.

The Czech government claimed to have increased the production of insecticide sprayers almost tenfold in July, utilizing 22 factories.

Meanwhile, press and radio waged a campaign against what they called "the American bug." The beetle, pictured 500 times life size, showed up in color in Prague store windows. Letters were postmarked "fight the Colorado beetle." Match-boxes carried a similar reminder. The Ministry of Agriculture published a 220-page book on the bug, translated from Russian.

One newspaper published a cartoon showing beetles with the faces of Truman, Churchill and Bevin being crushed by a worker's fist. Another said "a new world record will be attained by any American pilot who flies around the world without throwing a bomb of a Colorado beetle."

In one community after another days were set aside for all citizens to go into the potato fields and destroy the bugs. School children and women and youth organizations organized bug brigades.

In the famous SPA of Karlovy vary (Carlsbad) buses were out of service for a day. Then were being used to transport bug brigades.

Yugoslavia Cans Garlic; Ready Market Found

Belgrade—(AP)—Just about a year ago, the government bought up the garlic crop in Vojvodina, Yugoslavia's breadbasket. Prices were low; garlic plentiful. The government had far too much on its hands. What to do? One of Yugoslavia's technicians, found an answer.

He had the garlic peeled, sliced, ground, baked in special ovens and packed in air tight tin boxes. For the product, Yugoslavia claims a long life without loss of flavor. In its first year on the export market, it brought big orders from the American market and elsewhere.

This year, Yugoslavia is increasing its output—especially along the Hungarian frontier—to a point where the crop probably will be the largest in the country's history.

Suspects Bird Is Woman's Victim

Bakersfield, Calif.—(AP)—Verle Freeman fears his cockateel is a victim of foul play.

He complained to police that the bird, which had the habit of greeting women with a low, expressive whistle and a "hya, babe," disappeared, possibly because someone took offense at its "wolf calls."

Canada buys about one seventh of U. S. exports.

A warrant of detention was issued in federal court in Los Angeles to halt shipment to Communist China of cases which the government alleges contain classified technical information. Dr. Hsue-shen Tsien (above), head of jet propulsion project at Cal Tech said the cases belonged to him. (AP Wirephoto).

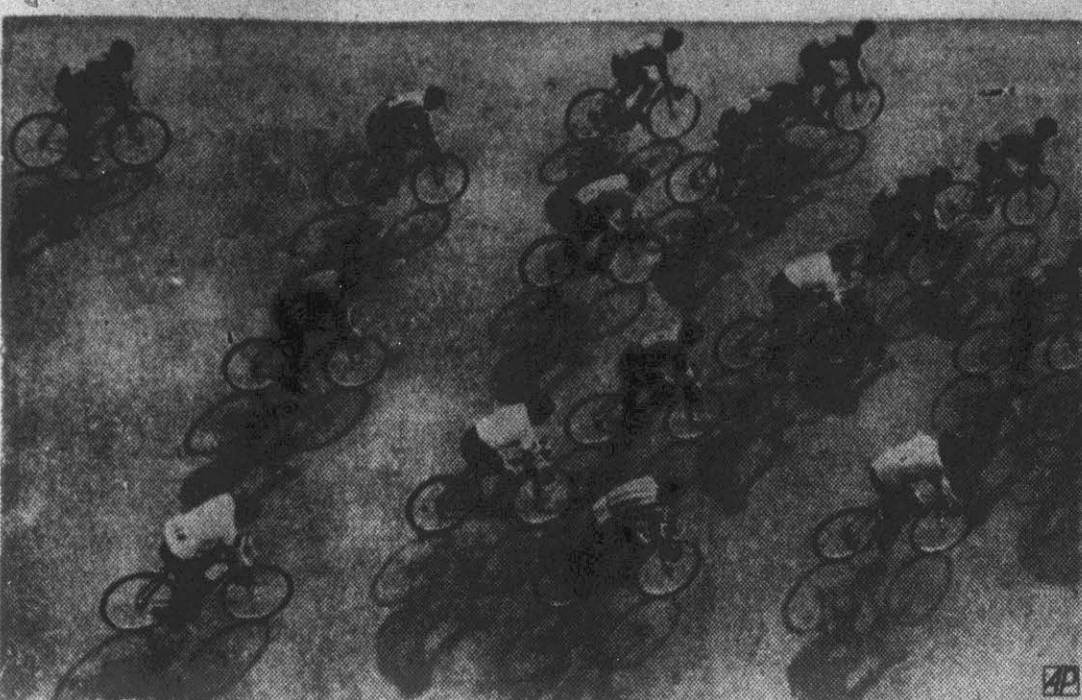

Camel Riders Hurt By Plane

Tripoli, Libya—(AP)—Add low-flying planes to the lists of hazards of camel-riding. Two Arab camel riders were injured seriously when struck by a plane on the main coast road out of Tripoli.

The plane, flying low over the camel caravan, struck the two riders with its undercarriage.

CHANGES MIND TOO LATE
 Hamburg—(AP)—Screaming and shouting, a nightshirt clad man ran through the streets of Stuttgart. He had poisoned himself, but when the painful effects of the poison made themselves felt, the man changed his mind about committing suicide and ran to the doctor's. However, he arrived too late and died on the way to the hospital.

The RANGE DOCTOR

by OSCAR J. FRIEND

Chapter 13

Unarmed, the only man on the place to protect two women and a brood of children, Plum was in a tight corner and he knew it. Without a word he slowly set down opposite Duncan and poured the tin cups half-full of liquor. From that moment on he had become a hostage for the return of Slim Tackett.

Twelve o'clock crept perilously near, and Slim had not come.

"Yore deal, Gip!" Duncan said, showing the cards across a corner of the table. "Gettin' late, Jess, and Slim ain't showed yet. Don't reckon he could of got lost in the mountains, do yuh?"

"Ye know he didn't," Plum rejoined steadily, glancing at the pair of loud talkers on either side. Lemley and Knowles fell silent as they got the gist of the conversation.

"Begins to look kinda bad fer yuh, Jess," Duncan said, his tone taking on an edge. "I'm thinkin' there might be somethin' to the boys' suspicion."

Plum stood up and leaned across the table, moistening his lips as he said:

"I say we're waited too long, Gabe," Lemley growled. "We better close Plum's mouth fer good and shag outa here afore that Tackett dummy rides in with a posse."

"Shore, that's a smart idee," Knowles chimed in, hiccupping and reaching for the jug. "Plum's been worryin' ever since he come in over whar we got this money. Whyn't yuh tell 'im and ease his hankerin'?"

"I'll tell yuh myself, Plum. We got it from a feller named Pelham. They were nineteen hundred dollars and she wouldn't divide even. That's why we been playin' poker fer it."

"Pelham?" Plum was aghast. "Ye raided George Pelham's place and got all that money?"

"Jest so," Lemley chimed in with brutal malice. "They warn't nothin' wrong in takin' the money, was it? Whar Pelham and his woman went they didn't need it."

"Yuh loose-mouthed fools!" Duncan roared. "He didn't need to know. Now, we got to kill 'im!"

"If I don't kill ye first," Plum snarled, suddenly gripping the table and upending it at Duncan, sending rustler and furniture over backward with a crash.

It was the forlorn attempt of a desperate and outraged man. Even as he bowled Duncan over, Gip Knowles, who still retained his grip in the jug, drew back his arm and hurled the container with murderous aim at the mountaineer's head. The stone vessel caught Plum between the ears. He quivered, groaned, and crumpled blindly to his hands and knees.

"Finish 'im off!" Knowles yelled lustfully. "Plum 'im, Zeke, while I get my own gun."

On the floor the stunned mountaineer strove in vain to get up from his hands and knees.

"Stay down, Plum!" ordered a low, harsh voice from behind him. Duncan's face went blank, and he halted as though turned into stone. Lemley did not complete the drawing of his gun, freezing with the weapon half out of his holster, his jaw sagging in ludicrous surprise. Still yelling, Knowles twisted his head in the direction of their stares. Instantly his own shaggy eyebrows slid up almost to his hair line and his bull bellow strangled in his throat.

In the open doorway in a slight crouch stood a pale-faced man with blue eyes that blazed like cold fire. A low-crowned black sombrero was pushed back on his forehead. A pair of black gun-belts crisscrossed his slim waist, and in each steady hand he gripped a long-barreled .38 six-shooter of glittering nickel and pearl.

Duncan recovered first from his surprise, recognition of the stranger dimly stirring in the back of his mind. He snarled like a cornered wolf.

"I've seen you some'eres," he grated. "Who are you?"

The bluish-eyed man answered in a rasping whisper. "To you my name is death! Draw, or die like the mad dogs you are."

The two armed murderers went into action simultaneously. Lemley completed his draw as he dived sideward out of his chair. Duncan snapped up his six-shooter in desperate haste. Neither of them fired a shot.

With the precision of a machine the madman in the doorway flipped up the muzzle of his left-hand gun to cover Duncan and dropped the barrel of the other towards the head of the sprawling Lemley. His guns kicked back smoothly against the recoil in one-two fashion and were silent. Before the horrified eyes of the paralyzed Gip Knowles the foreheads of his two companions blossomed red.

Knowles uttered a hoarse scream and leaped for the corner where the rifles were stacked. Groaning audibly, he grabbed up one of the carbines and jerked it free of the tangle. Each instant he expected to hear the sharp bellow of one of those wicked .38s and feel a slug smash into his back. But nothing happened until he spun about to face the slayer, swinging up the barrel of his long gun.

The man in the doorway had not moved. Howling in terror, the frantic Knowles steadied his quivering muscles to fire. Then, and then only, did the other's right forefinger waver under pressure. A single report, a batch of darting flame, and everything went black with eternal night for the last member of the infamous trio.

Jess Plum dragged himself erect, shook his head to clear it, surveyed the carnage, and turned to look at his saviour.

"Doc Logan!" he cried. "Doc Logan! Ye shot 'em like snakes."

"They were snakes," Logan said harshly. "And I'm not Dr. Logan right now. Tonight I'm the range doctor!"

Buying Panic And Runaway Inflation In Israel Brings Mission From U. S.

Free market. The almost hysterical rush to convert cash into goods apparently is due, for one thing, to a public fear that the government is about to extend its rationing decree.

The Israeli finance ministry, which has been cooling public reassurances, blames "false reports" in the Swiss press for starting a run on the banks.

Official financiers claimed the sharp rise in bank withdrawals and money in circulation was not inflation. The finance ministry issued statements that the panic among the people is completely unfounded.

An overseas appeal from premier David Ben Gurion is bringing some 40 American Jewish leaders by plane from the United States for conferences with the premier next Sunday.

Israeli businessmen, while professing not to be worried by the panic buying, express confidence that two things will happen:

1. Government action to halt the spreading black market.
2. And more aid from American Jews to stabilize Israel's economy.

Toward the latter, there is a plan to raise $1,850,000 to settle 700,000 more Jews in Israel during the next three years and make the country self supporting. Jacob Blaustein of Baltimore, president of the American Jewish committee, has promised that American Jews will contribute generously.

Regional Meet Of Lions Held

An estimated 100 members of eight North Carolina Lion's clubs assembled in Greenville last night for a regional meeting of the clubs.

The regional meeting was preceded by a chicken supper served at the Greenville Woman's club.

Towns represented at the meeting were Tarboro, Washington, Pinetops, Williamston, Plymouth, Swan Quarter, Ayden, Bath, Belhaven and Greenville.

Deputy District Governor O. E. Dowd introduced the guest speaker for the night, Jimmy Glover, a member of the international council of the Lion's club.

Glover stressed that Lion's work is being carried on in 28 countries and that the club is a service organization and not a civic club as most people think of it.

The work which is being carried on by the various Lion's clubs in all parts of the world are helping to spread the teachings of democracy which we are at this very hour having to fight for, he said.

"In our Lion's work we must live the saying from the Bible, 'Do unto others as you would have them do unto you.'"

"Thus we must guide our aims in the right directions in order that they will reap the most," the speaker stated in closing.

Following the regular meeting the district committees and the zone chairmen meet with their groups for a planning session.

Four Attending 4-H Conference

Four Pitt County 4-H students left yesterday to attend the annual 4-H conference camp being held at Millstone in Richmond County, August 28-September 1.

The four making the trip are, Eddie Latham, Grimesland; William Harris, Belvoir; Milton Spain, Belvoir; and Vance White of Bethel.

The conference will stress farm safety, insect control, forestry, fishing and many other items of interest to farm lads from all over the state who will be on hand to attend the convention.

Busy Night For . . .

The crowd was becoming so large and unruly at this point, the chief said, "we were forced to use our night sticks to keep the crowd in line."

All of the above events took place on front of the Grimesland jail around 7:30 last night.

Following the arrest of the younger Willoughby, L. Smith and Thomas Elks were arrested for careless and reckless driving.

Soon after, Thomas Moore was arrested and charged with driving a motor vehicle while drunk and he, too, was locked in the jail house.

The driving drunk cases are set to be tried in County Court in Greenville next Tuesday, while the four other cases will be settled tonight in the Grimesland court.

Reminds Miners Not Bound By No-Strike Pact

Washington, Aug. 29.—(AP)—John L. Lewis advised AFL President William Green today that his Coal Miners won't be bound by any AFL inspired no-strike pledge.

The government has not asked labor groups to forego strikes during the Korean fighting and de-fense-building period ahead, but Green and some top CIO officers have indicated that such a pledge would be given if it was asked.

The United Mine Workers made public a sarcastically worded memorandum from Lewis to Green.

Lewis said the newspapers reported Green "as plodding about the country seeking someone to whom you can give a 'no strike pledge.'"

Lewis commented:

SPCA In Opposition To Stealing Cats; Recover Few Pets

Mrs. Lindsey Savage, vice-president of the Pitt County unit of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, reported today that reliable information is coming in that some persons here are picking up cats and selling them for 50 cents each. Several pet cats were reported stolen here yesterday, the SPCA official stated. Later, the felines were recovered.

Members of the SPCA here in meetings and at other times, have expressed the associations policy of being against stealing of pets. Bill Drum is president of the Pitt county Chapter of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

The association a year or two ago was active in running down a group of persons who were trapping cats here and selling them to an up-state clinic for vivisection.

part of their own battle equipment, and, as a Scottish officer said: "Ready to go."

They came from Hong Kong, especially trained for the type of war raging in Korea—mountain fighting.

Discussing the red buildup around the center of the line, a MacArthur spokesman said the reds probably were waiting until they could shove their crack Second Division into battle before jumping off. The second is being refitted behind the lines.

that Formosa must be neutralized, as respects the Korean war, but America will make no commitment other than to block any invasion attempt during the current crisis.

This MacArthur sensation undoubtedly attracts more attention because it comes on the heels of the controversial statement by U. S. Navy Secretary Matthews in a Boston speech. He said that "to have peace we should be willing, and declare our intention to pay any price, even the price of instituting a war to compel cooperation for peace."

The American State Department repudiated this statement, and both Britain and France rejected any such idea.

So MacArthur is getting the backwash of this previous upheaval.

Who Has . . .

It is compulsory for all except the last two groups to get in. In each individual non-profit the employer and the employees will decide whether to get in; and the state and local governments will decide whether to let their employees, not now covered by a pension system, get into the social security program.

This story will explain the problem of the self-employed. Later the other groups will be dealt with in detail.

The self-employed: That means—generally—any self employed person who has a net income of $400 a year or more. Anyone with less than a net of $400 a year is still excluded.

But there are some self-employed public accountant; or a funeral director.

There's no doubt about anyone in that group: He's out. But there are some self-employed who may wonder if they're in or out. The lines are not always precisely clear. If you are self-employed and have doubts, check with your nearest social security office.

A self-employed person has plenty of time to make such a check because—while his coverage under the program starts Jan. 1, 1951—he doesn't have to pay any social security tax until 1952.

How will he pay it? He pays it at the same time when, in 1952, he is making his regular income tax return on his 1951 income. There'll be a place at the bottom of the 1952 income tax form for the self-employed to note and pay their social security tax.
