Homefront Controls To Be Revealed

Truman To Address Nation Saturday To Report On Program In Store

Washington, Sept. 7—(AP)—President Truman will address the nation Saturday night to report on what homefront controls are in store in the current emergency.

In disclosing this at a news conference today, Mr. Truman declined to say whether he plans even limited price control. He said he would give his answers in the Saturday night speech.

The Administration already has told Congress it needs $400,000,000 to build up an organization which would be ready by next April 30 to handle selective price controls.

Chairman W. Stuart Symington of the National Security Resources Board was reported today to have testified that a seven-point program of credit controls, allocations and priorities will go into effect shortly after President Truman signs the mobilization bill passed by Congress last week.

If the President approves the bill tomorrow, as expected, Symington has told the Senate Appropriations Committee the controls program will be put into effect Monday.

Although he said there is no present need for price-wage and rationing action, Symington told the committee that $400,000,000 of a pending $600,000,000 presidential request will go toward building up a new agency to handle price controls.

"This estimate has been prepared on the hope that adequate stabilization measures, particularly revenue legislation and credit restraints, will minimize the need for direct price and wage controls," Symington testified.

"However, the estimate would permit the orderly development of as broad a system of price, rationing and wage controls as appears necessary and has been arrived at by rough calculation of the monthly expenditures that would be required to build up, by April 30, 1951, an organization which could handle a program of selective price controls with the minimum necessary planning and preparation for general or widespread price controls."

He did not indicate that price controls will actually be imposed by that date.

With the opening of the tobacco market and the coming of fall weather, sales in the Pitt County ABC stores took a upward swing, a report from the county ABC office shows.

Total sales in the legal liquor stores of the county amounted to $112,764.50 for the month of August as compared with sales of $98,220.10 for the month of July.

At the local office it was pointed out that the sales in the stores in the county will be expected to pick up in the coming months.

The meeting of the board is being held on Friday instead of the regular Monday date in order that Manager W. T. Kyzer may attend the conference of chamber of commerce executives which will begin Monday in Charlotte.

President Van C. Fleming, Jr. will preside at the meeting tomorrow afternoon.

West's Bitter Pill

Successful Defense Of Western Europe Will Almost Certainly Require Rearming Western Germany; Inclusion Of Safeguards Against Revival Of Prussianism

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

One of the certainties of these dangerous days is that any successful defense of Western Europe against a Red advance must be based on the body of rearmament of Western Germany.

That's a bitter pill for those who not so long ago swore that the instigator of two world wars should not again be allowed to rearm. However, it has to be swallowed.

Another general war not only would involve this keystone of Europe but probably would begin in this central zone where communism and democracy face each other across an imaginary barrier.

Therefore it is encouraging to hear John J. McCloy, U.S. high commissioner for Germany, say after a conference with President Truman that "the Germans should be enabled, if they want to, to defend their own country."

And Secretary of State Acheson followed this up with the statement that it is highly desirable to find an appropriate way for Germany to aid the defense of Western Europe.

With the institution of certain safeguards this should work out satisfactorily. I base that supposition on the belief that military aggression is not an inherent characteristic of the German people as a whole. The aggression by the Reich has sprung mainly from one special group of the population—the Prussians.

Prussianism long has been the instigator of two world wars should not again be allowed to rearm. However, it has to be swallowed.

Hitler loudly boasted that while he was Austrian by birth he was Prussian in spirit. His Nazi creed of conquest was based on Prussianism, and he had the willing support of the Prussian war lords in launching his effort to conquer the world.

It is true, however, that many German people are susceptible to regimentation. The Prussians took advantage of that; Hitler took advantage of it.

Acceptance of these conclusions as correct immediately raises a vital corollary: If Germany is allowed to rearm for self-defense and for participation in the defense of Western Europe with the democracies, she must be safeguarded against any

Malik Launches Diatribe In U. N. Against United States

Fails To Exclude South Korea Ambassador From Session; Renews Old Atrocity Charges

Lake Success, Sept. 7—(AP)—Russia made another unsuccessful effort today to exclude South Korean Ambassador John M. Chang from United Nations discussions on Korea.

The Soviet move was made by Jacob A. Malik, Russian delegate, immediately after the Security Council met to take up a Soviet resolution seeking to end what Russia calls "inhuman and barbarous" bombing attacks on North Korea.

Malik said this resolution did not concern Chang in any way, since the "Syngman Rhee clique" and Gen. Douglas MacArthur are not victims of the bombing but aggressors and "have no place here."

Council President Sir Gladwyn Jebb of Britain ruled that the council already had decided that Chang had a right to take part in the Korean discussions. Malik said he disagreed with the ruling, but he did not make a formal challenge.

The council took up the Soviet bombing resolution after Russia used her 4th veto yesterday to prevent a U.S.-sponsored ban on aid to North Koreans.

As soon as the brief exchange over Chang was over, Malik launched into a detailed attack on the United States, charging indiscriminate bombings of schools, hospitals and other non-military objectives.

"American airmen in Korea are carrying out atrocious acts which have no military justification," Malik said.

He said the United States had borrowed the technique of total war originated by Hitler. The U. S. actions, he said, can be explained only by "the hatred of the American people for the people of Korea and the other peoples of Asia who are fighting for their freedom."

Malik's speech was largely a repetition of previous attacks made by him and by the North Korean regime in cables to the U.N. Malik said he and the U.N. had received more than 20,000 letters and telegrams protesting the bombings.

He demanded that the Security Council force "United States compliance with international law" and "put an end to the shameful bloody acts of the American interventionists which are going on in Korea behind the mask of the United Nations."

Anti-American Feeling Fanned

By EDDY GILMORE

Moscow, Sept. 7—(AP)—Publication by Moscow's press of the Soviet protest to the United States on the downing of a Soviet plane in Far East water appeared today to have increased the rising resentment in this capital against the Americans.

This anti-American feeling has been growing with each publication of details by the press on the bombings of North Korean objectives by United States planes. The public here reads that civilians are being shot down by the fliers and that peoples' homes are being wrecked.

Coming on top of a mass of such reports, the new plane incident is causing much talk among Moscow's public, and it centers about condemnation of the Americans.

The people here do not believe that the action in Korea is a United Nations campaign. They see it as action by the United States along with any others it can get to participate.

Act To Increase N.C. Funds For Prison Dept.

Raleigh, N.C., Sept. 7—(AP)—The State Highway Commission today acted to increase funds of the State Prison Department for a prison improvement program.

The commission voted to increase from $2.75 to $3 per day the amount it pays the Prison Department for the labor of prisoners on the roads.

Since an average of 7,000 prisoners work approximately 300 days a year on the roads, this would increase commission appropriation to the Prison Department from about $55,775,000 to $63,000,000 a year, an increase of about $7,225,000.

Dr. Henry W. Jordan, commission chairman, told the commission that a recent study of the commission by a prison expert had indicated that a rehabilitation program is one of the fundamental needs of the prison system.

Special Circuit For Business To Outwit Gossips

Raleigh, Sept. 7—(AP)—The Utilities Commission has okayed a scheme which may outwit long-winded gas-ups and teen-agers who hang on the telephone in the Concord-Kannapolis area.

The Concord Telephone Company has been given permission to set aside one of its circuits between Concord and Mt. Pleasant for paid toll messages only. Similar arrangements between Kannapolis and China Grove and Kannapolis and Concord will be made. Over these lines, standard long distance rates will be charged, probably around 10 cents a call.

Bitter Denial By Cabinet Officer

Sees Ulterior Motive In 'Smear' Charges By Senator

Washington, Sept. 7—(AP)—Secretary of the Interior Chapman warmly backed by President Truman, denied in bitter words today that he has close ties to Communism.

Chapman went before the Senate Interior Committee in a public hearing, to fire his reply to charges by Senator Schoepel (R-Kan.). While he was testifying, Mr. Truman confidently told his White House news conference that Chapman will explode attacks against him into little bits—as other attacks, he said, have been exploded before.

Schoepel had in a Senate speech Tuesday that there was "a strong and close personal alliance between the Russian Soviet cause and the present Secretary of the Interior."

Schoepel's attack, Chapman told the Senate committee, "far surpasses in viciousness, in venality and in utter falsity" any made against him in 17 years with the Interior Department.

He said he believed Schoepel made the accusations in the hope of blocking passage of a bill proposing a statehood for Alaska.

Chapman called the Senator's statements "another instance of the use of the smear technique which has become the stock-in-trade of little men in high places."

British Unions Drop Restraint

Brighton, Eng., Sept. 7—(AP)—The British Trades Union Congress (TUC), in a revolt against the Labor government, voted today to abandon its policy of restraint in pressing for wage increases.

The government has campaigned for restraint—which has amounted almost to a wage freeze—with the TUC's reluctant cooperation since the British economic crisis boiled up soon after the war. It argued that restraint was essential to prevent disastrous inflation.

Truman Says He Will Not Sign Stern Anti-Red Bill

Washington, Sept. 7—(AP)—President Truman said today he won't sign the McCarran Communist registration bill if Congress sends it to him.

He told a news conference the bill, sponsored by Senator McCarran (D-Nev.), is the same as the Republican Mundt-Nixon bill, but revised by McCarran to make it a little worse.

The bill is now pending in the Senate. It aims to tighten up generally existing anti-subversive laws and would also require registration with the government by Communists and Communist front organizations.

The bill has strong support in the Senate. Republican leader Wherry of Nebraska said today most GOP senators will vote for it. The House already has passed a Communist registration measure.

If the bill reached Mr. Truman and he refused to sign it, the probable effect would be to kill it since Congress is rushing to recess as quickly as it can.

Mr. Truman would not comment to reporters on a substitute for the McCarran bill that is being pushed by some administration senators.

Allied Forces Beat Back Twin Pincer Movement On Taegu In Flaming Fight

President Visits Marine League To Make Amends

Personal And Emphatic Follow Up To His Apology Of Yesterday

Washington, Sept. 7—(AP)—President Truman made an unheralded visit to the Marine Corps League's meeting today and expressed hope there will never be "another misunderstanding" between him and the marines.

It was a personal and emphatic follow up to his apology of yesterday for his earlier "unfortunate" words about the fighting corps.

The league gave him a standing ovation and applauded furiously when he said, with a grin: "You succeeded in enticing me over here."

With his mind obviously on the furor over his description of the marines as a "police force" with "a propaganda machine that is almost equal to Stalin's," Mr. Truman said:

"There are incidents that some time appear almost as if it was the end of the world at the time," but that eventually turn out to be for the good of the country.

Then he added, that when he makes a "mistake, I try to correct it."

Mr. Truman went on to express his resentment over "unfounded attacks against certain men in the public service." He attributed those attacks to politics in connection with the approaching November election.

He did not name those he said were victims of these "unfounded and unjust" attacks, but he said the attacks were not aimed actually at these men but were "direct attacks on the President of the United States."

There has been criticism of Secretary of State Acheson and Secretary of Defense Johnson during the marine convention.

"Truman walked into the crowded room with a broad grin on his face. He kept that grin until he started speaking."

He turned serious when he asked for their support in the Korean war which he said he hoped would lay the foundation for the peace which is his only aim in life.

Mr. Truman went to the convention hall at the Statler Hotel with Gen. Clifton B. Cates, commandant of the marines.

Young Mother Kills Children, Leaps To Death

Boston, Sept. 7—(AP)—A dependent young mother tossed first one son and then another from a fifth floor window of her home today, then followed them in a death leap.

The mother died before reaching City Hospital and the older of the two boys soon afterward. The younger boy was injured seriously.

Police Capt. Louis Di Sessa said the woman "apparently was despondent because her husband couldn't find work."

Police identified her as Mrs. Martha Fairburn, 28, of 34 Union Park in the south end. The boys were Lance, 7, and David, 2.

Rural Electric Line Survey Progressing

Fifty Per Cent Of Staking Completed For Future Lines Which Will Provide Current For 2,000 Farm Families

Progress in the preliminary surveys toward construction of Greenville Utilities rural electrification lines is progressing rapidly, Superintendent Martin Swartz reported this morning.

At present 50 percent of the staking has been completed for the future lines which will provide current for more than 2,000 farm families.

Swartz stated the work on the preliminary lines, which must be 75 percent staked out before advertisement of bids on construction, is coming along on schedule and actual installations of the lines should begin in the "next few weeks."

Coincidental with the present surveys is the pushing through REA offices in Washington, D.C., the Utilities' resolutions which must be approved before allocation of bonds for the work.

So far as members of the local Utilities Commission know those resolutions are being pushed through as fast as are the local surveys. Upshot of the situation is the likelihood of getting the bonds paid about the time the surveys are finished.

Registration Of Students Opens

No Figures On Fall Enrollment Yet; Late Arrivals Seen

Registration of students for the fall quarter at East Carolina Teachers College got off to a good start yesterday and continues today. By 8:30 this morning the Wright building was well filled with students, busy paying fees, consulting with advisors, and scheduling courses for the quarter.

More than 600 new students registered for work yesterday, according to an estimate by Registrar J. K. Long, and other freshmen and transfer students are still arriving on the campus. Upperclassmen are completing their schedules as the Registrar goes to press this afternoon.

No accurate figures as to the size of the freshman class or of the student body as a whole are available at the present time, says Dr. Long. Registration of late arrivals will continue through Thursday of next week.

Today ended the twenty-second annual Orientation program at the college. The three-day series of events, begun Tuesday, has introduced new students to college life at East Carolina in a packed program of meetings, conferences, tours of the campus, and social events of various types.

Alexander E. Livesay of Rocky Mount, president of the Student Government Association, has headed student activities during the Orientation program. A large group of upperclassmen who arrived at the beginning of the term to welcome freshmen has assisted him.

Among these were Hogan Gaskins, Greenville, first vice president of the SGA; William Flanders, Durham, student treasurer; Gene Hart, Ayden, and Patricia Williams, Wilmington, presidents respectively of the YMCA and the YWCA; Joyce Proctor, Walsenburg, in charge of the YWCA "Big Sister" program; and Christine Strickland, Taber City, chief marshal.

Class work will begin tomorrow morning at 8:00 o'clock in all departments of instruction.

Postal Receipts Drop In August

Receipts from the Greenville Post Office took a sharp drop in the month of August as compared with the same month one year ago, a report from Assistant Postmaster Luther Whitehurst revealed today.

Whitehurst listed a total of $10,481.98 taken in during the past month while $12,410.95 was handled by the local office in the same period last year.

The drop amounted to $1,928.97 and was the second time this year that the local office has failed to match last year's record.

Ching Warns Of Strike Effects

Washington, Sept. 7—(AP)—Government-sponsored peace talks in the CIO strike against General Electric opened today with a warning from federal mediation director Cyrus Ching that the walkout is a threat to the defense program and the nation's economy.

But he made clear that he is against setting up a fact-finding board until every attempt has been made to settle the dispute in the joint mediation meetings between representatives of the company and the CIO Electric Workers Union.

Heavy Casualties As Allies Roll Back Invaders; Hand-To-Hand Struggle In Bloody Battles; Warplanes Pound Communist Tanks, Take Big Toll

By RUSSELL BRINES

Tokyo, Friday, Sept. 7—Two pinchers aimed at Taegu by 50,000 Red Koreans were beaten back Thursday by allied troops.

Severe fighting raged all along the 120-mile Korean battlefield. Some of it was fought by Marines and doughboys in hand-to-hand combat with bayonets and clubbed rifles.

Both sides lost heavily. Communist casualties in the flaming south western sector alone were put at 20,000 men for the week out of their estimated force of 150,000 on the whole front.

The new North Korean drive on the U. S. 25th Infantry Division started with a terrific artillery barrage at dawn Thursday. The Americans there are defending the south western approach to Pusan, main allied supply base 35 miles east of the roaring battle.

U. S. warplanes pounding Red tanks damaged or destroyed 65 in two days. Forty-eight were knocked out Thursday. The Reds moved 34 new Russian tanks into the line Wednesday.

A bitter and indecisive day-long battle for the last northern ridge before Taegu raged between U. S. first cavalymen and the Communists.

The Reds were within sight of the city.

AP correspondent Jack MacBeth with the cavalry, reported the Americans struck to their positions under heavy Red pressure.

Once the Americans had to turn their guns around to mow down Communist infiltrators.

U. S. cavalry regiments slugged it out in close range with the attacking Reds.

While this battle swirled at the southern end of the Kumwha "bowling alley," other cavalry units beat off two dawn attacks two and four miles northeast of Waegwan, 12 miles northwest of Taegu.

AP correspondent Ben Price reported the allies rolled back the Communist force that had smashed through South Korean lines and imposed a sharp new threat to Taegu.

South Korean forces were pushing eastward from Yongchon, a key highway junction 20 miles east of Taegu, which the North Koreans held briefly Wednesday.

Elements of the U. S. 24th Division drove 3 1/2 miles north of Kyongju, another main highway point 18 miles southwest of Red-captured Pohang port on the Sea of Japan coast.

Americans control the airfield six miles south of Pohang.

The U. S. 8th army in Korea reported that elements of the 25th Division in the southwest gave some ground at the outset of the push toward Pusan. But, the Communists said, the Americans regained it in a fierce mid-day counter-attack.

In the southwestern fighting the 25th Division has inflicted more than 13,000 casualties on the Reds in seven days.

Immediately north of that bitterly contested ground U. S. Marines and 2nd Division infantrymen pushed back remnants of four Red Divisions across the Nakdong river west of Yongsan. Yongsan is 32 miles south of Taegu.

The fight there was grim and bloody. Hand to hand combat raged.

The Marines and doughboys charged with bayonets and swung their rifle butts as clubs. They captured dominating hills.

American officers estimated 1,000 Communists had been killed and wounded there in a week of fighting.

Hawaii And Alaska Still Strive For Statehood; Senate Vote Now Likely For First Time Since Campaign Started; Background Of Two Territories; The Promises

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Sept. 7—(AP)—Every two years, when there's a new Congress, I write a piece about Alaska and Hawaii.

There's never any attempt at prophecy in it. (There's none in this, either.)

Every two years the story says that Hawaii and Alaska, which have been trying to get statehood for themselves, are still trying.

And then the story explains that maybe this session of Congress will be the time when they get it—maybe.

Then they don't get it. Then when there's a new Congress, and there's talk about Hawaii and Alaska, I do another piece.

Last March I did such a piece because the House had passed bills to let Hawaii and Alaska become states.

But I pointed out that this would mean nothing unless the senate also approved. Somehow, the senate never got around to it, as usual.

But since last March something has happened: our relations with Russia have gone even further downhill than they were then.

The bride's corsage was of white asters and tube roses. Others assisting in the house were given shoulderettes of pink and white asters. The arrangement on the living room mantel was unique. A boat-shaped silver bowl was made to resemble a sailboat. The sails were of white fibre glass and from the prow hung a cluster of tiny silver wedding rings. The ship was laden with white mums and green fern. A miniature bride and groom stood near, ready to embark on the sea of matrimony.

The guests were greeted by Misses Peggy Martin and Jackie Sears. Miss Joyce Corbett presented them to the receiving line composed of the hostesses, the honoree, and Misses Frances Kittrell and Dorothy Ormond, brides-elect. Mrs. Milo Smith served punch from an exquisitely appointed table covered with a pale green satin cloth and centered with a beautiful arrangement of asters, tube roses and fern, flanked by burning white candles in crystal candelabra. On the buffet was the entire wedding party of bridal dolls surrounded by lighted candles.

Others assisting in the dining room were Misses Patricia Waller, Jane Massey, Betsy Nobles and Mesdames L. D. Smith, Nelson Bowden and C. W. Murray.

Mrs. Charles Braswell presided over the bride's book in the sun room where the guests were registered. Goodbyes were said to Mrs. R. E. Corbette.

Whitehurst-Beatty Vows Spoken In Presbyterian Church Wednesday

Miss Ann Christine Beatty daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kenneth Beatty of Greenville, became the bride of William Cadet Whitehurst, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William Cadet Whitehurst of Bethel, N.C., in an afternoon ceremony on Wednesday, September 6, at 5 p. m. in the First Presbyterian church of Greenville. The Reverend Leonard Topping officiated.

Mrs. Guy V. Smith of Greenville, and Mr. Robert Mays of Hopewell, Virginia, presented a program of nuptial music prior to the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore an original gown of white chantilly lace fashioned with a wide yoke scalloped with seed pearl trim. The fitted bodice was fashioned with matching buttons down the back. The long sleeves ended in points over the hands. The billowing skirt, worn over hoops, fell into a circular cathedral train. From her bonnet of tulle, edged with seed pearls, fell her two-tiered fingertip veil of imported French illusion.

Miss Jean Hilton of Greenville was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Misses Mary Dunn and Patricia Beatty, sisters of the bride. Their gowns were of peacock taffeta fashioned with a shirred bodice with a stole. Their bouffant skirts with side puffs were worn over hoops. They wore half coronets of matching tulle. The honor attendant carried a bouquet of Better Times roses tied with matching ribbon. The bridesmaids carried bouquets of yellow roses tied with matching yellow ribbon.

Mr. William Cadet Whitehurst was his son's best man. Groomsmen were Ned Everett of Robersonville, Lee Whitehurst, Jr., of Bethel, Roscoe Everett of Bethel, brother-in-law of the groom and Gerald Frazette of New Bern.

Mrs. Beatty wore for her daughter's wedding a navy blue waltz-length dress of marquisette with matching navy hat and a corsage of red roses.

Mrs. Whitehurst wore a plum crepe dress with matching hat, black accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride after which the couple left for a northern wedding trip. The bride wore an oxford brown suit with braid trim. Her hat was a Gloria creation of brown imported velvet. She wore the orchid lifted from her bouquet.

Mrs. Whitehurst was graduated from East Carolina Teachers College. She is a very popular member of the young social set of Greenville, and was entertained extensively prior to her wedding.

The bridegroom attended West Point Military Academy and Smith-Massey Business College, Richmond Va. At present he is associated in business with his father.

Miss Kittrell and Miss Dot Sugg Ormond, another bride-elect of the fall, were given dahlia corsages which were made from flowers grown by the hostess.

In the dining room Mrs. Arthur Corey assisted Mrs. Savage and Mrs. Ricks in serving tempting sandwiches, hors d'oeuvres, and bridal cakes along with the refreshing drinks.

Wedding Party Honored At Cake Cutting On Tuesday

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Hilton and Miss Jean Hilton entertained the Whitehurst-Beatty wedding party and out-of-town guests at an after rehearsal party and cake-cutting at their home on Lewis street on Tuesday evening.

The living room, den and dining room were decorated with the bridal motif. A miniature portrayal of the forthcoming marriage scene was arranged on the living room mantel and the traditional bride's table with the wedding cake was arranged in the dining room. White asters, mums, and glads were used throughout the rooms and the soft glow of candlelight enhanced the scene.

After Miss Beatty and Mr. Whitehurst cut the first slice of cake Mrs. W. C. Whitehurst, Sr., mother of the groom, served the wedding cake to the guests, and Mrs. C. K. Beatty, mother of the bride, served punch. Bridal mints and nuts were passed as each guest was served.

Forty guests enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Hilton and Miss Hilton.

Luncheon Held At Hotel Proctor For Wedding Party

The Whitehurst-Beatty wedding party and out-of-town guests were honored at a luncheon held on Tuesday in the dining room of the Hotel Proctor. The groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Whitehurst, Sr., were gracious hosts at a three-course luncheon served at 1 p. m.

The long table, where the guests found their places marked with floral place cards, was lovely with its floral arrangements spaced at intervals in low silver bowls.

The bride's place was distinctive with a corsage of pink roses, and in front of her plate was an outstanding arrangement of asters and pink roses in a large silver container.

Thirty-six guests were present.

Bermuda Alerted For Hurricane Now Approaching

Miami, Fla., Sept. 7—(AP)—The resort island of Bermuda was alerted today for a great storm moving up the Atlantic while northeast Florida and southeast Georgia felt the last gasps of a Gulf Hurricane.

The storm inching in the general direction of Bermuda had winds up to 150 miles per hour near the center and hurricane force winds (75 miles per hour or more) extended outward 100 miles in all directions.

It was due to pass west of the island resort, but gales were forecast there and the weather bureau said a slight change in direction would bring much higher winds.

The Hurricane was moving northward at about six to eight miles an hour which would bring the center opposite Bermuda tonight.

An Enemy In Our Midst

For those who have any doubts as to which side the American communists are in the Korean war, the headline which appeared in the Daily Worker should be sufficient proof. When Pohang and Yongchon fell yesterday to the Red Koreans The Daily Worker headlined the story "Yongchon and Pohang Freed."

According to the Daily Worker the two South Korean cities were freed from the grasp of the imperialistic American G.I.s. The communist mouthpiece in the United States is cheering the killing of American soldiers in Korea. It is using every means at its disposal to have American troops driven from Korea, and to bring about the downfall of our free government here in the United States.

It seems ironical that the freedom of the press which the G.I.s in Korea are fighting to preserve should be so abused by even one newspaper in this country. But we must remember that The Daily Worker is the Kremlin's direct propaganda sheet to the people of the United States.

The sheet operated under the protection of the constitutional right of freedom of the press. If the things which The Daily Worker preaches were to come about in this country, however, there would be no constitution, no freedoms, and no newspaper except The Daily Worker.

Strength for the Day

By EARL L. DOUGLAS
THE BRIGHT PROMISES
Adoniram Judson, the great Baptist missionary to Burma, was cast into prison shortly after he arrived in that land. A chain attached to a heavy log bound him day and night. To make matters worse, he fell ill with one of the most devastating of tropical fevers. His devoted wife, Ann, visited him every day and tried to comfort him and keep him alive.
When things were at the worst, a letter came from the missionary board in the United States which had sent him out. It contained this eager and anxious question from his supporters: "What are the prospects in Burma?" And the poor fever-ridden prisoner directed his wife to write back these words: "The prospects are as bright as the promises of God."
Judson lived to do one of the most outstanding pieces of missionary work ever achieved in the history of the Christian Church. He was a man who could not be beaten. He knew no defeat because he regarded himself as one of God's servants and God, he believed, could not be defeated. He had nothing to rely upon through a long life of sacrifice but the promises of God. Every day these were as sunshine round about him and at night they were like the glorious stars over his head.
If we only had faith to believe, we also would say: "The prospects are always as bright as the promises of God."

One Revolution We Must Take Part In

Eastern North Carolina is in the first stages of an industrial revolution. The signs of a large-scale industrialization of this predominantly agricultural section already have begun to appear.

The announcement that DuPont plans to construct a $24,000,000 nylon plant between Kinston and Grifton is a boon not only to Lenoir county, but to the entire eastern section of the state. The plant will be located within a few miles of the Pitt county line, and Grifton, Ayden, Winterville, Greenville and Farmville as well as Kinston and Pitt county as a whole stand to benefit greatly from the new industry.

Officials have disclosed that 90 per cent of the 1,200 workers who will be employed in the plant will be local people who will be trained for their jobs. That means permanent employment on a year around basis for many people in both Pitt and Lenoir counties. But between now and the time that the plant is finished, hundreds of workers, skilled and unskilled, will have to be employed in the construction work. When the plant begins to operate, the additional revenue from its payroll will create new jobs in the businesses already established in this section, and in the new businesses which are likely to be established.

The trend of industry has been to the South. And in the last few years there has been a definite trend toward eastern North Carolina for new industrial sites. The DuPont plant in Lenoir county is the single largest industry to be landed in the area, but there is every reason to believe other large industries will follow DuPont into this productive and promising section of North Carolina.

More rapidly than most of us realize, eastern North Carolina is losing the shackles which once bound us to a one-crop agricultural economy, and we are gaining in importance as an industrial area as well as diversified agricultural area.

Through the efforts of the businessmen of the state, and through the state department of conservation and development, North Carolina is receiving more than her pro-rata share of new industry. And although we would like to see more and more industry come into Greenville and Pitt county, we must admit that through the Greenville Chamber of Commerce and the industrially minded local businessmen, Greenville is getting her share of the industries which come into the state.

If Greenville is to remain abreast of the industrial revolution which is taking place in eastern North Carolina, the Chamber of Commerce must not slacken its constant efforts to bring new industrial plants into our city and county. The businessmen of Greenville must intensify their individual efforts in behalf of more industrialization of our community.

The Fair Deal

Somebody Told Me

By I. J. (Jack) EDWARDS, JR.
atomic bomb on American undeclared cities.
Why did Truman and his advisers think that stepping in Korea would not bring on all-out war? The decision was based largely on a report of a five-year study of Russia's war power by a so-called Brain Trust. This Brain Trust has been working since 1945. It consists of a group of men and women scattered over the Western world who are recognized as leading specialists on Russia. Some of its members work for our own Government, some for allied European governments, and some for universities and business concerns. This group has held no formal conferences, but individuals have submitted data for reports. The idea of this Brain Trust probably came from an organization that functioned prior to World War II which made a study of Hitler's "New European Order." If more attention had been paid to the analysis of this group, many mistakes made by military leaders and politicians might have been avoided.
The Brain Trust says that Russia is not ready for total war; in fact, she has not even been preparing for total war. However, she has been preparing for just the type of war she has started in Korea.
The report of the Brain Trust reminds me very much of comments by Ole Edward Holm of Denmark, who is in Greenville observing the operation of our tobacco market. Ole said that neither the Russian people nor the Kremlin want total war, but instead they want to continue minor infiltrations in order to gain what they call "life room." Russia needs steel and oil, and she wants to gain territories that have it.
Brain Trust reports, surprisingly enough, do not come from spies in the Kremlin. Instead, they are concluded simply because the Russians tell more about themselves than is generally known. Brain Trust study carefully Russian newspapers and magazines, and publications of her satellite countries. Since Yugoslav Communist leaders broke with Moscow, that country has been one of the best sources of valuable information.
Expert Bess says that Russia will not be able to fight a total war successfully within the next ten years. Bess old boy, I hope you're right.
And I thank you.

Business Today

By ELMER ROESSNER
Trading areas mean less and less to aggressive retailers when there's a lush market over a state line. There are an increasing number of instances in which merchants have used advertising to vault state lines, to their own profit. It might become a trend.
New York, the richest concentration of dollars in the world, is a frequent target. But other trading areas are often raided by distant merchants.
One of the biggest bites out of the New York market is being taken by (Hess Bros.) a department store in Allentown, Pa., population 100,000. It used a full page ad in a Sunday paper offering 140 patterns of sterling silver at 33 cents a week for each six-piece setting, with no down payment and no carrying charge. The selection was larger than that normally carried by any New York City department or jewelry store and there was no sales tax, such as a New York store must levy on a city customer.
Results of the efforts to snatch customers from under the noses of the giant New York department stores have been "little short of amazing," says Ray Joseph, spokesman for the Allentown firm. A similar offer was made earlier in Philadelphia with encouraging results.
There have been other raids on the New York market, though not quite as spectacular. A Washington firm (American Merchants, Inc.) has been using large ads to offer appliances by parcel post. Since many appliances are price-fixed under the New York fair-trade law and there is no such law in the District of Columbia, the company can sell below New York prices. The New York Sunday newspapers carry many ads, most of them small, offering goods from out-of-town companies. The same goods are often available in New York stores. A few years ago a department store in a small southern town offered cotton dresses in display advertising in the New York market and while it reported sales were good, it did not continue the campaign. The Chicago market has been similarly invaded by small-town merchants.

On the whole, New York and Chicago department stores haven't a complaint. Several have used advertising in women's fashion magazine to bid for sales outside their normal trading areas—including Allentown.

EASIER ON COMPUTATION, HARDER ON TAX-DODGERS
Many individuals have been trying to take profits now, ahead of higher income taxes later. They have been making sales to realize profits and importuning corporations to declare dividends before October 1.
Sorry, no dice.
As the National City Bank explains, "While the income tax is placed, theoretically, as of October 1, 1950, the tax payable on 1950 income will be computed on the total income for the full year 1950, with adjustment for the fact that the higher rates apply for only one-fourth of the year."
"This," the bank adds, "will avoid the complications of having to divide the year's income and to compute taxes on each part separately."

RUMORS CAN START HOARDING AGAIN
While hoarding and scare buying has subsided, it may rise again.
Experience during the last war shows that reports of enemy successes of rumors of new scarcities could start runs. After shoes were rationed, there were a series of rumors that other articles of clothing would also be placed under controls. At times top men in the OPA hesitated to buy new suits in fear that their purchases would lead people to suspect they were acting on inside information that clothing was about to be rationed.
It may profit retailers to keep alert to rumors and signs of fresh hoarding and to take steps to combat it. Runs on goods could be as effective in speeding controls as out-and-out shortages.

PURCHASING-POWER BONDS DISCUSSED
Proposals for a government bond with a redemption value tied to the purchasing power of the dollar are being talked up again. Sumner H. Slichter, Lamont, professor of business administration at Harvard, suggested it at a financial conference in New York recently. It's been proposed before, frequently during the worst bursts of inflation in 1948.
Assuming that a dollar was worth 100 cents in 1935-39, the consumer purchasing power is now about 58 cents, according to Department of Labor statistics. Thus a person investing in a four-for-three savings bond in 1940 would get four 58-cent dollars for the three 100-cent dollars he put in.
Under the Slichter proposal, the investor would get back the number of dollars necessary to give him the same purchasing of dollars he put in. Thus, if he bought a bond with 100 of today's 58-cent dollars, when he redeemed it he would get back the number of dollars that would give him the same buying power. If there was deflation and a dollar again had a 100-cent purchasing power, his principal would be $58; if there was more inflation and the dollar had only 29 cents purchasing power, his principal would be $200.

It is extremely doubtful if the Treasury will embrace the proposal.

NEW AND HOT

Hal Boyle's Column

By BILL ROSS
(For Hal Boyle)
Korea — AP — Among the thousands of white-clad refugees streaming down mountains and valleys in the north of the Korean war is one of the largest religious migrations of our time.
It is made up of Korean Christians fleeing from Communism. They come from tiny hamlets among the saw-toothed ridges. They come from Korea overcrowded cities.
But the religious migrants all have the same purpose—to escape the overpowering restrictions that Communism would place on their rights to worship as they please.
Headquarters of this massive pilgrimage is a Korean city which cannot be identified. More than 200 Christian ministers have taken sanctuary here.
But the preachers of the gospel did not come alone. Many brought their congregations. Army officials estimate that more than 20,000 refugees here are religious migrants who fled before the Red invasion.
Leader of the mass of homeless persons is an American-educated Baptist minister. He is a native Korean who graduated from Princeton University. Because many of his family and associates are in Communist held territory, he must use an American name, Dr. Henry N. Park.
After Dr. Park finished Princeton, he attended the Baptist seminary at Louisville and after graduation returned to Korea.
Here he was busily engaged in religious teachings as well as helping his countrymen achieve a better standard of living—that is, until that fateful day of June 25 when the Communist invasion began.
Dr. Park immediately pulled up stakes. He knew that Christians could not live with Communism. He had been told as much by Korean Reds in his own city. They offered him the choice of staying in his home and embracing Communism or leaving. Dr. Park—and many of his flock—left.
They made their way south, always just a step ahead of the onrushing Reds until the United Nations lines of defense were established. The little band ultimately was joined by some 200 other ministers and their congregations who spontaneously came to the same conclusions as Dr. Park regarding Christian faith under the hammer and sickle.
Each morning the ministers gather most of their flocks and pray for an early United Nations victory in Korea so they can go home and live in peace.

Washington Letter

By VERN HAUGLAND
(For Jane Kads)
WASHINGTON — The Food and Drug Administration plans to put into effect next November a set of standards for mayonnaise, French dressing and "sald dressing."

What about Russian dressing, Roquefort dressing, thousand island dressing? The standards will apply to them, the agency says, only if they contain the ingredients specified for one of the three types named.

The proposed standards will apply to products handled in interstate commerce. Heretofore the products had to meet only the general provisions of the Pure Food and Drug Act.

The standards identify mayonnaise or mayonnaise dressing as that in which the emulsifying agent is limited to liquid or frozen whole eggs, egg yolks, or a mixture of these with liquid or frozen egg white. The vegetable oil content must be not less than 65 per cent.

French dressing may be emulsified by not more than 0.75 per cent by weight of specified optional ingredients and must be at least 35 per cent vegetable oil.

Sald dressing is a cooked dressing consisting of at least 30 per cent vegetable oil and not less than the equivalent of four per cent liquid egg yolks and a cooked starch paste prepared with food starches or flours to which water may be added.

The new standards would outlaw the use of mineral oil in any of the dressings.

Mineral oil as a food is injurious to health particularly because of its destruction of the blood-clotting factor of vitamin K, the Food and Drug Administration says.

The agency says all three dressings may contain vinegar, lemon juice or lime juice, spices, monosodium glutamate and harmless food-seasoning or flavoring, except for any that would give mayonnaise or salad dressing a color stimulating egg-yolk color.

Around Capitol Square

Daily Reflector Bureau By LYNN NISBET Raleigh, N. C.

AMENDMENTS — The Young Democrats will talk a good deal about amendments during their state convention next week in Asheville. The organization leaders have endorsed and will ask the convention to endorse the proposed amendment to the state constitution for reasonable compensation for members of the general assembly. The YDC convention will also consider several amendments to its own constitution. These would provide for biennial election of state officers; fixing age limit for holding office at 35 years (instead of the present 40 year limit) to conform with national YDC rules; and change requirements for local club affiliation with the state body.

WISE — These organizational changes would seem to be wise. It has appeared a bit silly to have a person eligible for president of a Young Democrat group five years after they had become old enough to be president of the United States. There is some sentiment of making the maximum office-holding age thirty years instead of thirty-five, on the theory that if the Young Democrats are to amount to anything they must be kept young. It is generally agreed that one of the secrets of continuing success of Junior Chambers of Commerce is that when a Jaycee reaches his 36th birthday he just aint a Jaycee anymore.

BIENNIAL — The proposal to elect officers for two year terms, but at the odd or off-year convention, also makes sense. Present method of electing officers every year and attempting east-west rotation means that no president elected from the east can serve during a general election campaign. Members of the state executive committee of the regular Democratic party are elected for two year terms, and the committee in turn elects a chairman and vice-chairman for two years. That means every set of officials has to handle at least one election campaign.

BETTER — The YDC proposal has some advantages over the regular party plan of organization. Under the plan now in force the State Democratic committee meets as soon as practicable after the state convention to elect new officers. The state conventions are always held on election years, mostly before the primary. Result is that the executive committee members and the party officials chosen by them have to go into a general election campaign "cold." Unless the officers are re-elected, the effect is to place upon inexperienced shoulders full responsibility for conducting the campaign. Further complications sometimes arise by reason of the fact majority of the committeemen, chosen in off-years, would avoid any such conflict in ideas or personal support, by naming the men and women to carry the burden of the party at a time when ability could be appraised dispassionately, and would guarantee that campaign managers for election campaigns would approach their tasks with benefit of a year's experience and contacts among the general membership.

What Other Papers Are Thinking

IS ADVERTISING AN EXPENSE? (Wilson Daily Times)

Some persons still hold to the notion that advertising is an expense. They arrive at it on the socialistic theory that if the people of Wilson needed 500 stoves, and the manufacturers make 500 stoves, those buying could get the stoves for what they pay now less, of course, the cost of advertising. But no manufacturer could live from the proceeds of 500 stoves; if he can't make them in great quantities, he'll go out of business. But when he makes stoves in great quantities, he must sell them. To do that he needs advertising.

Let's reduce it to simple arithmetic. The manufacturer, looking on himself as a nation-wide producer, makes not 500, but 500,000 stoves. If he can sell them in one year, he can keep the price lower than if it takes longer. By putting $2,000,000 into advertising, he achieves his aim. Thus, the cost per unit is only $4. To some, it would seem, that would have to be added to the price. But because the manufacturer by virtue of mass-production methods can turn out those stoves much cheaper than he could if he were on a hand-to-mouth basis, a stove that might normally sell for $150 can sell for $100. The $4 spent for advertising resulted in a savings of $50 to the buyer.

For proof of that let's look at America's 10 biggest advertisers. General Motors leads, spending $38,619,791 a year. Procter and Gamble are second, setting aside $30,597,743 a year. After that in their order come Colgate-Palmolive-Peet with $19,986,114; General Food, $19,362,203; Lever Brothers, $18,848,564; Ford Motor, $16,186,783; Chrysler, $14,822,294; Sterling Foods, $12,695,449; General Mills, $12,372,854; and Distillers corporation, $12,364,385. Of those sums considerably more than half go into newspapers. The Times could list many more, all of which are well known. And they're known not in spite of, but because of their advertising. General Motors spent about one-half of one per cent. If you bought a General Motors' product, your share, on a $2,000 car, would have been $10. But what would you have paid for that car if it hadn't been mass-produced? Thus, the $10 that you may have been trained to look on as an expense turned out to represent a substantial saving, for only mass advertising can sell mass-produced goods.

In Russia the census takers tell the government-owned manufacturers that the people will need 50,000,000 hats in 1950. And that's precisely what Russia turns out. But when you buy a hat in Russia, you take what the store has, not what you want. Only a few privileged bureaucrats get what they want. Without advertising, for only mass advertising can sell mass-produced goods.
In the face of all that, to hold that advertising is an expense is perverse. If properly looked at, it's an investment in the future.

Miss California Wins Bathing Suit Contests

Atlantic City, N.J., Sept. 7—(AP)—Miss California and Miss Connecticut won preliminary contests in the Miss America pageant last night, but any of their 52 rivals may still beat them in the finals.

In the first preliminaries, Joanne Durant of San Diego, Calif., beat 17 other girls in a bathing suit contest. Renee Dianne Roy, 19, of Hartford, Conn., won a talent contest with a song, dance, and comedy monologue depicting a woman trying to sell cosmetics.

The judges who were assigned to talent rather than to bathing suits were not entirely cheated out of figure art. Miss Hawaii—Dell-Fin Poaha of Honolulu—presented them with a hula dance as her talent.

Judges rate the girls on the basis of the preliminary contests, and also on the basis of personality as noted by judges at the daily breakfast table. The 15 with the highest totals will appear in final talent, bathing suit, and evening gown competitions on Saturday, and from the 15 a new Miss America will be chosen.

Miss Durant stands five feet, five inches tall, has a 35-inch bust, 24-inch waist and 35-inch hips, all of which comes to 112 pounds. This year's winner will be Miss America 1951, and will succeed Jacqueline Mercer of Phoenix, Ariz.—Miss America 1949.

Recess Hearing On Phone Rates

Raleigh, N.C., Sept. 7—(AP)—The Utilities Commission has recessed until Sept. 22 an application by the Carolina Telephone and Telegraph Company for a rate increase of about $1,000,000 a year.

At that time it will hear from those opposed to the increase.

The commission yesterday heard company officials testify that the increased revenue was necessary for it to meet rising costs and to raise capital to improve and expand its service.

At least 17 communities sent representatives or communications opposing the rate boost.

J. F. Havens, assistant to the president of the phone company, told the commission that the company's expansion program calls for spending $6,400,000 in 1951 and about $5,500,000 in 1952.

He said $4,000,000 of this is to be spent at Fayetteville and that the company plans to install dial equipment at Tarboro, Ahoskie, Smithfield, Henderson and Whiteville.

Took 130 Cartons Of Cigarettes

A quantity of cigarettes were stolen from Paul Davenport and sons' store in Fayetteville some time Tuesday night, Sheriff Ruel Tyson reported yesterday afternoon.

Investigating officers reported a person or persons broke into the store through a glass window across the front of the store and walked off with 130 cartons of cigarettes. No money or other merchandise was taken.

Investigating the robbery were deputy sheriffs Lloyd Manning, Duke Andrews and Police Captain Dorsey.

Test Too Hard?

Newark, N. J., Sept. 7—(AP)—Three New Jersey Congressmen passed the Army's mental test without difficulty yesterday, still claim it's too hard.

Reps. Rodino and Addonizio of Newark and Howell of Pennsylvania took the tests after hearing that one out of every four New Jersey inductees were turned down for mental reasons. Rodino said the Army's high mental standards are forcing it to draft physically inferior men and married men.

The Congressmen, all Democrats, said they would report their findings to the house armed services committee.

Hearing Set For Surplus Disposal

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 7—(AP)—A House sub-committee will conduct a public hearing in Washington next week on the Federal government's surplus disposal program—and two North Carolinians probably will be there to testify.

Rep. Herbert C. Bonner (D-NC) chairman of the sub-committee on Inter-Governmental Relations of the House committee on expenditures, announced yesterday the hearing has been set for Sept. 14.

Bonner said those invited to attend include A. W. Honeycutt of Raleigh, deputy director of the N. C. Educational agency for surplus property, and Jim Chaney, reporter for the Raleigh News and Observer.

Bonner's group started an investigation after the News and Observer, in news stories and editorials, asserted that federal agencies, including the military forces, are giving away to public institutions materials similar to those needed in the present preparedness program.

N. C. Buying Up License Metal

Raleigh, N.C., Sept. 7—(AP)—The state is buying 800 tons of steel to make its 1952 automobile license plates.

The State Board of Award yesterday awarded an 800-ton contract to the Bethlehem Steel Company of Bethlehem, Pa., for $75,200. The steel, which comes in long narrow plates, is enough to make 1,200,000 license tags.

Fast cooling is essential to egg quality.

With him is nurse Mary Ellen Gaffney. State Police said the boy had been attacked by his father, a waiter, who since has been committed to a mental hospital. (AP Wirephoto).

Yankees Hold Uneasy Lead Of Half-Game Over Tigers

Casey Stengel Defied Fenway Park Southpaw Jinx And Lost; Detroit Turns Back Cleveland To Edge Closer

By RALPH RÖDÉN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Casey Stengel defied the Fenway Park southpaw jinx and lost. As a result his New York Yankees are edging along the American League pennant scramble by only a half game today.

The Yankees invaded the lair of the torrid third-place Boston Red Sox last night for the opener of a two-game series. Casey sent Lefty Ed Lopat to face the Red Sox completely aware that only one visiting left-hander, Hal Newhouser of Detroit, had pitched and won a complete game in Fenway Park this year.

Casey didn't have long to wait to rue his decision. The Sox bombed Lopat for four runs in the second inning and went on to win 11-2.

While the Yanks were smeared, the runner-up Detroit Tigers behind Newhouser, turned back the fourth-place Cleveland Indians, 8-3, in the opener of a two-game series in Detroit to move within a half game of the lead.

For today's game, Stengel has named righthander Allie Reynolds (13-11) to oppose righthander Ellis Kinder (13-12).

Lefty Mel Parnell breezed to his 10th victory as the Sox supported his eight-hit pitching with a 16-hit attack.

Rookie Sandolfo Consuegra pitched off the Washington Senators to a 3-0, six-hit victory over the Philadelphia Athletics and the Chicago White Sox edged the St. Louis Browns, 6-5.

End Converted Into Backfield Hope

One of the main reasons for Phantom Coach Bo Farley's optimism this year is his backfield Leon Moore, above, who is headed for the full-back position and will be playing his last year of varsity ball for the high school. Moore, a converted end from last year's squad, is one of the bigger boys on the team and can churn up the dirt when he gets started. Farley rates him a good passer, too. (Staff photo by Roy Hardee.)

Pacer Sets Mark For 3-Year-Olds

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 7.—(AP)—Ferman Hanover holds a new world record for three-year-old pacers in a mile race.

The gelding, driven by Clint Hodgins, covered the distance in 2:00 2-5 yesterday in a $5,000 harness event at the New York State fair.

The time trammed 3-5 of a second off the mile-track mark, set in 1936 at Nashville, Tenn., by Worthy Gratton.

Youngster Causes Flurry In Skeet-Shooting Crowd

Deadeye Dave White, 13, sights his shotgun with the help of Coach Walt Dinger.

Tulsa, Okla. — (AP) — An 86-pound Tulsa southpaw not much bigger than his shotgun is causing a king-size flurry in skeet shooting circles.

The boy is David White, 13, who walked off with a sizeable share of individual trophies and medals at the recent Dallas, Tex., championship shoot.

"He'll top them all," his coach, Walt Dinger, predicts. "Dave is steady, cool and a natural born marksman."

Dinger ought to know. It was he who took the sandy-haired lad in hand eight months ago and taught him the fine art of busting the birds from scratch.

Although excitement caught up with David in the final all-bore event at Dallas, he nevertheless compiled the following record:

Sub small bore—87x100, good for Class E honors in a field of 200; small bore—99x100, new national junior class mark; Class E 20-gauge—91x100 for fourth place. His three-day score in the all-bore: 225x250.

"A most remarkable exhibition considering that he is barely out of knee pants," was the consensus of experts.

The youngster had competed in only one other tournament. He won the state junior title recently in a shootoff with another hopeful.

No 'Breathers' For Big Powers Of Conference

By the Associated Press

The big powers in Southern Conference football circles won't be taking the usual "breathers" this year before running up against major league opposition.

Three of the "big" teams—Maryland, Clemson, and Wake Forest—don't wait any longer than the opening game of the season to bump into top-flight intersectional foes.

Maryland, favored in some quarters to take the conference title, hits Georgia's Bulldogs on September 23 and then runs headlong on successive weekends into Navy, Michigan State and Georgetown. Clemson opens Sept. 23 against Presbyterian and the following Saturday plays the University of Missouri's Gator Bowl eleven. Wake Forest locks horns with Boston College in its opener the night of September 22.

Duke's powerful Blue Devils meet South Carolina on Sept. 23. And following that have engagements with Pittsburgh's resurgent Panthers and the University of Tennessee. North Carolina has to cope with NC State on Sept. 23 and follows up against the awesome threesome of Notre Dame, Georgia and Wake Forest.

William and Mary meets Virginia Military on the 23rd, then has to cope with Cincinnati, Wake Forest and Michigan State on the next three weekends. South Carolina opens against Duke and then meets Georgia Tech on Sept. 30.

The conference race also will get off to an early start, with four family games down for Sept. 23. Besides the Duke-South Carolina, V. M. I.-William and Mary and North Carolina-N.C. State clashes, Furman is at Washington and Lee in another conference contest that afternoon.

With the big games coming up early, it was no wonder that rugged practice sessions already were the rule around the conference less than a week after drills started.

Yesterday, N.C. State got down to such serious preparation for the North Carolina opener that Coach Beattie Feathers ordered the gates locked to the public for the remainder of the practice period.

Women Bowlers Forming Four Teams For League

With the men's bowling league underway since Tuesday night's first round of play, the women of the city got together last night and formed four teams for the Women's League that will begin competition next Wednesday night.

Drawing for four sponsors was held at the Bowling Center and the sponsors for the coming 33 weeks of rolling will be Carolina Cleaners, Double N Restaurant, College View Cleaners and WGTC.

Prior to the drawing last night the four women's teams, which were organized last winter and more or less held over for fall play, were formed and ready to bowl. However, one of the teams was composed mostly of bowlers on the champion Lucky Strikes team which won the league trophy last June.

It was thought best to split that team up, taking four of the best bowlers and make them captains of the four teams in the league. So the four stacked up like this: Carolina Cleaners—Edith Nisbet, captain; and Katie Lou Vincent, Eleanor Norris, Kat Taylor and Bobby Williams; Double N — Eloise Warren, captain; and Marge Savage, Hilda Avery, Carolyn Taylor and Dorothy McLachorn; College View Cleaners — Eloise Porter, captain; and Lillian Thomas, Peggy Carson, Nettie Young and Doris Brown; WGTC—Margaret Clark, captain; and Frances Cassick, Virginia Simpson, Etta Taylor and Roberta Snell.

Three of the captains — Eloise Warren, Margaret Clark and Edith Nisbet — were members of last spring's Lucky Strikes while Eloise Porter bowled for Lady Luck. Those four formed one of the teams for this fall's play and were split up. League play will begin at 7:30.

Assist Dole In Developing Pirate Gridders

Dodgers Take 2 From Phils But Lose Valuable Catcher

Philadelphia, Sept. 7.—(AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers spent a restless night wondering whether yesterday's two stirring victories over the Philadelphia Phillies were worth the cost.

Would they if they had to do it all over again, exchange the two triumphs for the invaluable services of Roy Campanella, just about the best catcher in the National League? Campanella, who suffered a compound fracture of the right thumb when struck by a foul tip in the eighth inning of the second game, may be lost to the Brooks for the remainder of the season. Bruce Edwards, second string receiver, will fill in for the sturdy Negro.

To compensate for the catcher's loss the Brooks came through with two tremendous victories that narrowed Philadelphia's first place lead to five and a half games and gave the Brooks new life.

Big Don Newcombe came within two innings of hurling two complete games in one night. The 6-4, 200-pound righthander didn't get both victories. If he had, he would have been the first big leaguer to do it since Emil Leisen, of Cleveland, whipped the Chicago White Sox in a doubleheader in 1926. The last National Leaguer to do it was Herman Bell, of the 1924 St. Louis Cardinals.

Big Don, after a magnificent three-hit shutout, his second straight 2-0, three-hit victory, had to bow out for a pinch hitter after seven innings of the nightcap. He had allowed eight hits and two runs. During that time the Brooks had made only one hit and no runs against lefty Curt Simmons.

The Dodgers scored their winning runs in the ninth after Dan Bankhead had relieved Newcombe. The latter was credited with the victory.

Boys Have Hope Of Ending Jinx And Take Title

Omaha, Sept. 7.—(AP)—In 25 years of American Legion Junior baseball Little World Series, no team has ever won the title two years in a row.

But a team of young sluggers from Oakland, Calif., has a chance to break that jinx tonight—or tomorrow night.

Oakland, unbeaten in this year's series, faces once-beaten St. Louis at 9:15 p. m. A St. Louis win would send the double elimination tourney into another game. An Oakland win would end it.

Livestock now accounts for more than twice as much of Texas' agriculture income as it did 25 years ago.

Platoons Skirmish In Workouts

Another scrimmage session was on tap for Coach Bill Dole's East Carolina gridders yesterday.

The afternoon skirmish featured the top offensive unit working against the Pirates' two-platoon defensive outfit.

Passing and running plays received equal attention with All-Conference Roger Thrift and his understudy, Sandy Siler, doing the tossing.

Ends Dwight Shoe and Ed Tanner were on the receiving end for the quarterback aerials, and continued their good work as targets for the passes.

In the ground attack, converted halfback Johnny Daughtry picked up several nice gains along with leftmen Bill Darby and Jack Benzie. Newcomer Jack Britt also looked impressive on both running and pass plays.

Smoothing of the wrinkles was the purpose of the afternoon "knock-knock" as the Pirates eleven prepared for their opener against the Naval Apprentice School at Newport News, Va., September 18.

More ironing out fundamentals will be stressed in today's practices, as the Pirates charges settle down to hard work after school registration yesterday.

Baseball School To Open Jan. 9

Orlando, Fla.—(AP)—James W. (Zack) Taylor, manager of the St. Louis Browns, announces that his 1951 baseball school at nearby Deland will run five weeks from Jan. 9 through Feb. 12.

Taylor, a winter resident here, will have a staff which includes Johnny Mize, Dick Kokos, Cliff Famin and Coaches Fred Hoffmann, Johnny Tobin and Ralph Winegarner of the Browns. Boys of all ages will be accepted for the course. The tuition is $75 plus $100 for board and lodging.

Star Student, Too

Cleveland.—(AP)—Bill Willis, great guard of the Cleveland Browns, is proud of the part he played in the success of the Ohio State National Championship football team of 1944. But he's even prouder of another award that came his way that year—he was named "Student of the year."

DANGER FOR PASSERS

Knoxville, Tenn.—(AP)—Dixie football passers have a healthy respect for J. W. Sherill, Tennessee's defensive wingback. Sherill, 185-pound senior from Norfolk, Va., intercepted 12 enemy aerials last season and ran them back for a total of 104 yards.

Name Speaker At C-Of-C Banquet

REUBEN B. ROBERTSON

Chamber of Commerce executives from all over North Carolina will hear an address by Reuben B. Robertson, distinguished president of the Chamber of Commerce of the Carolinas, at their annual meeting in Charlotte beginning Sunday.

W. T. Kizer, manager of the local Chamber, said today that Mr. Robertson will deliver the main address at the annual banquet of the association scheduled for Monday night at the Hotel Charlotte. The subject of his address will be "On the Firing Line for Free Enterprise."

The well-known North Carolina industrialist has long been prominent in state affairs. He is a past chairman of the Southern Conference on Human Relations in Industry, past chairman of the Board of Western Carolina Teachers College, and a former member of the N.C. Planning Board. In 1941 he was appointed by President Roosevelt to the President's Labor and Industry Conference. He has also been a member of the Advisory Council of the Department of Commerce, a member of the War Labor Board, and a director of the National Association of Manufacturers.

Delegates to the convention will begin arriving in Charlotte Sunday, and will get down to business the following day. Mr. Robertson's address will climax the meeting Monday night.

Cooler Weather

The highest temperature in the Greenville area yesterday was 71 degrees. Lowest last night, 63, and at 8 a.m. today it was 70.

A slight drizzle of rain fell during the past 24 hours.

Truck Struck By Truck In Tow

Pitt County's 36th accident in the past 36 days occurred yesterday on the Overpass crossing near Grimesland, the State Highway Patrol reported today.

A truck driven by Floyd Tucker of Route 1, Grimesland, was towing another truck, when the truck being towed rammed into the rear of Tucker's truck.

Cpl. John Laws reported that traffic was tied up on the road for some time, but the damage to the two trucks was only minor.

So far the county has an average of one accident per day in the last 36 days.

Lions Hope For Full Attendance

Monday night, September 11th, will be "100 per center night" at the Greenville Lion's club, it was announced today by President Larry Averette.

Averette urged all members of the local club to attend the seven o'clock meeting in an effort to make the entire club 100 per cent in attendance for the night.

President John D. Messick will be the featured speaker for the night.

Middle Belt's Prices Declining

Raleigh, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Prices were still on the decline as markets on North Carolina's middle flue-cured tobacco belt resumed sales today. Prices on the Carolinas border and North Carolina Eastern belts were expected to hold generally.

Eastern belt prices rallied slightly from the Labor Day slump, and slight gains were noted on the border belt in yesterday's sales, but all leaf grades continued to lose ground on the middle belt.

The grub of the white-fringed beetle attacks many farm crops in the northeast.

Soviet Reaction Indicates Plan Limit Conflict

Washington, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Russia's handling of Korean plane incident was regarded by diplomats here today as evidence that the Soviet still wants to confine its conflict with the United States to diplomatic clashes.

That is the aim, too, of the American government in its relations with the Soviet-Communist bloc. In addition the United States has displayed in the present incident a determination not to deal directly with Moscow on a matter which it contends involves the United Nations.

The point with respect to Russian policy is important because American authorities are convinced that incidents of this kind will occur in the future as, in fact, they occurred in the past.

Two American aircraft were shot down by Yugoslavs in 1946 when that country was still firmly tied to the Soviet. A United States Naval plane was destroyed over the Baltic Sea last April, allegedly by Soviet fighters. Only last month Red China charged that American aircraft had strafed an air strip in Manchuria, and the United States conceded in the U. N. that was "a possibility."

The usual reaction of governments in such cases is to rely upon diplomacy to handle complaints and protests until they are ready for a showdown. Then an incident may become a "shot heard round the world." For that reason any outbreak of violence between nations is always potentially dangerous until the reaction of the responsible governments becomes known.

There is a striking similarity between the Soviet reaction to the destruction of a Russian airplane by U. N. forces in Korean waters on Sept. 4 and the destruction of the American airplane over the Baltic last April.

While Moscow repeatedly charged that the American craft flew over Russian territory and ignored warnings to land, the United States asserted that the aircraft was unarmed and was shot down over the open waters of the Baltic. The plane was reported here to have been on a routine flight. American authorities still suspect the Soviet deliberately shot it down because they have come to consider the Baltic closed Sea under Russian domination.

Big Circus To Give Two Shows Here Sept. 16

The Clyde Beatty Circus, a 20 railroad car outfit, will come to Greenville Saturday, September 16, for an afternoon and evening show at the Pitt County Fair Grounds.

Included in the troop will be 65 horses three herds of elephants and other featured acts including 450 people.

The afternoon show is set to get under way at 2:30 with the night performance going on at 8:30.

One of the featured acts will be Beatty's battle with 40 lions and tigers in a steel arena.

Acrobats aerial performers and the big menagerie and zoo will be included in the Saturday show.

Expects Losses To Be Regained

Washington, Sept. 7.—(AP)—President Truman expressed belief today that United Nations forces in Korea will make up for temporary setbacks before the week is over.

He told a news conference that there had been no material change in the main front line in Korea.

The Would-Be . . .

Hawaii has a population of 540,000. About 86 per cent of those people are American citizens. Hawaii, made up of seven islands, has an area of 6,400 square miles.

In both territories the people have voted for statehood. Congressional committee have made trips to the territories and investigated the problem of giving them statehood. And statehood for both was promised by the Democratic and Republican parties in their party platforms. And the President wants it done.

Although pressure to get these two territories admitted as states began in a real way in the middle 1930's first real action came in 1947 when the House voted to admit Hawaii. The senate never has voted.

The house this year voted again for Hawaii and, for the first time, for Alaska, too. So far the senate still hasn't acted.

Some of the Congressmen opposed to statehood argue this way: Alaska and Hawaii, if admitted, would have two senators each, since every state has two senators. And, because of its 540,000 population, Hawaii would be entitled to two representatives in the house. Alaska, because it has only 100,000 population, would have one representative in the house.

In their local elections about 100,000 of the 540,000 Hawaiians vote and about 20,000 of Alaska's 100,000 population vote.

This would give Alaska two senators representing only 20,000 voters. Whereas states with millions of voters are allowed only two senators.

West's Bitter . . .

form of dictatorship, since totalitarianism might again impose the regimentation which would lead to aggression.

Western Germany today is threatened, in greater or less degree, by two totalitarian ideologies. One is the communism which is straining every nerve to get a grip on the people. The other is the Nazism under which Hitler led the nation into a war of conquest.

Communism, of course, has been a long-standing threat. The crusade was carried on underground with characteristic Red tenacity in Hitler's time, and is being waged openly now.

As for the fuhrer's Nazi ideology, you'd think the Germans would have had their fill of it by this time. But the fact remains that Nazism still has a fascination for a lot of folks in the Reich.

At Least 12 Arrested In Conway Roundup Of Klan

Conway, S.C., Sept. 7.—(AP)—At least 12 persons have now been arrested in connection with a Ku Klux Klan demonstration at Myrtle Beach Aug. 26 in which a Conway policeman was fatally shot while wearing a Klan robe.

The latest arrest, announced last night by Horry County Sheriff C. E. Sasser, was that of Greenville G. Sawyer Jr., 42-year-old Florence County construction worker.

Sasser said Sawyer turned over his Klan robe and admitted participating in the demonstration, but denied any part in the shooting. The sheriff said Sawyer was released after making his statement. He did not say if the construction worker had been required to post bond.

Others arrested have been charged with conspiracy to incite mob violence and have been required to post bonds of as much as $5,000.

James Daniel Johnston was killed in the demonstration at a Negro dance hall on the beach. Officers reported that some 300 shots were fired by about 60 Klansmen. Two Negroes are known to have been beaten in the affray.

Basic Wardrobe Is Multiplied

TARTAN TOUCH . . . The Scotch plaid wool skirt and matching beret team with a wool jersey blouse for a gay campus outfit, all items of which may be worn with other things.

CAMPUS STANDBY . . . This classic three-piece outfit consists of gray flannel fly-front skirt, matching knit-rib trim cardigan and jersey blouse, designed by Frances Sider.

DATE BAIT . . . Black velvet skirt with rhinestone buttons is worn here with low-cut matching velvet blouse for a short formal outfit, may team with sleeveless blouses.

BIKE OUTFIT . . . Gray flannel pedal pushers are shown with matching weskit and plaid cotton shirt for sports wear. Substitute a skirt and it's a classroom costume.

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Fashion Editor

The skirt and blouse have come a long way since the Gibson Girl made them famous.

Today's college and career girls would be lost indeed without the quick-change separates which can make a minimum wardrobe do the work of three times as many garments, by judicious scrambling.

EASIER NOW TO GIVE CHILDREN A LAXATIVE

Syrup of Black-Draught is made especially to please children, and to relieve occasional constipation. Children take it readily. Syrup of Black-Draught is pure, compounded from finest imported herbs by a company known for quality since 1867. So, when your child is fretful, crying, or out-of-sorts because he needs a laxative, give tasty Syrup of Black-Draught. And for grown-ups, Black-Draught in powder or granulated form has been popular with four generations, costs a penny or less a dose. At your nearest dealer, just ask for SYRUP OF BLACK-DRAUGHT.

Notable among designers who have furthered the fame of separates is Frances Sider, who claims any woman can assemble a complete wardrobe of these mix-match garments, from which she can evolve any type of costume, from the casual to the most formal.

Her current collection features skirts, slacks and pedal pushers, pushers in Scotch plaids, gray flannel and velvet, to be worn with a series of tops that match or contrast and that include blouses, weskits and jackets.

With the wool skirts she suggests wool jersey sweater blouses in a variety of colors, worn, if desired, with a weskit that matches the skirt.

With the velvet skirts there are matching decolette velvet blouses, sometimes jeweled, or off-the-shoulder jersey tops formal enough for a gala evening.

For less formal occasions, the velvet skirt may be worn with a dainty chiffon blouse, or with a cover-up jacket.

The possibilities are endless, and the popularity of separates hits a new high in fall, 1950.

Find Wreckage Of Tarheel Plane

New Castle, Del., Sept. 7.—(AP)—The body of a North Carolina airplane executive, missing on an air-plane flight to New York since last Saturday, was removed from the wreckage of his plane three miles south of here last night. The bodies of three marines who were passengers were also taken from the plane.

Coroner William Smith Jr. said the wreckage, discovered earlier, was identified by its serial number.

B. J. Holloman, 53, president of the Jacksonville, N.C., Airport, Inc., left Jacksonville last Saturday with three marines enroute to New York. The plane apparently crashed in a cornfield on a flight from Salisbury, Md., to Teterboro, N.J.

Names of the servicemen were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

The wreckage was first sighted early yesterday morning by Capt. Leroy Kirkpatrick of the Delaware wing of the Civil Air Patrol.

Tel Aviv, Israel —(AP)— Israel army authorities have issued a new warning that any foreign civil or military aircraft flying over Israel outside prescribed air corridors will be fired upon by anti-aircraft units or Israel fighter planes.

Any flights outside the corridors leading to the Lydda and Haifa airfields must be specially authorized by the army said. Israeli authorities have complained about foreign aircraft flying over the country without permission and fighter planes have forced many of them to land.

Psychologist Claims American People Less Pacifistic Today

State College, Pa., Sept. 7.—(AP)—an unidentified college, Dr. Key L. Barkley, of North Carolina State College, told the association's annual meeting at the Pennsylvania State College:

"These data seem to indicate that the events and conditions of World War II served to reduce the pacifistic attitudes of our people, as represented by college students; and that in the period of 'cold war' and semi-peace since 1945, the students have tended to remain at the level of a low degree of anti-war attitude."

Factors in the situation may be, the report declared, "success in winning the war, the constant conflict and tension in the present world, and probably the influence of propaganda."

But the psychologist declared that a broad generalization of the findings is not justified since "the conditions which exist at the college where the study was made may not exist elsewhere."

The report also described a special study among a small number of

Discrimination Claimed In Trial

Winston-Salem, N.C., Sept. 7.—(AP)—The attorney for a 19-year-old Negro accused of rape has charged discrimination against Negroes in the drawing of an 18-member grand jury that returned bills of indictment against the youth.

Hosea V. Price, attorney for Clyde Brown, declared in Superior Court here yesterday that Brown's constitutional rights had been violated when the jury was drawn. One of the members of the jury was a Negro.

Price introduced a motion to quash the indictments charging Brown with rape and felonious assault on 17-year-old Betty Jane Clifton here June 16. A hearing was set for tomorrow.

The girl was found beaten and unconscious in her father's radio

N. C. Industrial Accidents Show Rise In August

Raleigh, N.C., Sept. 7.—(AP)—North Carolina had a sharp increase in industrial accidents during August, H. S. Baucum said today.

Baucum, safety director for the N.C. Industrial Commission, said there were 9,165 accidents in August compared with 6,912 in July. Fatalities jumped from 12 in July to 16 in August.

"The figures are alarming enough," Baucum declared, "that everyone connected with industrial work in our state should give the accident problem more attention."

He said much of the increase could be attributed to a stepup in the production of defense materials.

Four Killed, Six Hurt In Collision

Fayetteville, N.C., Sept. 7.—(AP)—Four persons were killed and six others injured in an automobile collision on the Fayetteville-Sanford highway near Spring Lake early today.

State Highway Patrolman B. T. Waters said those killed were Corp. Jimmie Davis, 29, and Pfc. Robert H. Moses, 20, both of Fort Bragg, Negro soldiers, and two unidentified Negro women.

The four were riding in a car driven by David Lesure, another Fort Bragg soldier. Lesure was reported slightly injured as was Ernestine Charles of Bath, who was also in the car. Davis and Moses were members of the 88th AA Battalion of the 82nd Division. Lesure is a member of the same outfit. Their home addresses were not available.

Waters said he was told Lesure's car blew a rear tire and crashed into another automobile.

Jurors Receive Two Indictments

Vague And Formless Threat Is Still Hanging Over Quiet Iran

Tehran, Iran, Sept. 7.—(AP)—The vague and formless threat of the pro-Communist Tudeh party hangs over this key Middle-East country bordering the Soviet Union.

WERE WOMEN BORN TO SUFFER?

"No," say lots of lucky girls

Maybe you, too, can look back on those "dreary days" each month and revel in blessed relief from pain. For if you suffer from functional periodic cramps, discover—as so many other women have—the wonderful help Cardui may bring.

Cardui works internally to help minimize painful contractions of the organ muscles. Thus it aids in overcoming a frequent cause of cramps. Maybe your suffering is needless, too. See what aid of this modern type can do for you. Ask for a bottle of Cardui.

The Tudeh is a secret organization. Its secrets are so well-guarded that little is known outside of the party regarding its leaders, members or activities.

The party went underground in February 1949. It was banned then by the government after being blamed for an unsuccessful attempt to shoot and kill the Shah.

Since then, the party has continued to publish and secretly distribute weekly newspapers and pamphlets. Police efforts to find the printing plant have been without success.

Outside of this activity, the Tudeh has practically sunk out of sight, although officials believe it has had a hand in several strikes and jobless demonstrations.

There are fears that the Tudeh silence is an ominous one, that the party may be laying low and gathering strength for a strategic blow.

The Tudeh strength can not be measured in terms of present membership—believed roughly to be somewhere between ten and twenty thousand. Observers say it's the potential membership the party might have if legal existence that worries both the government and Western democracies anxious to thwart the spread of Communism. Up to now Tudeh has been the only organized party in the country with a solid program of reform.

A decade ago the Tudeh was a socialist, self-styled progressive, liberal organization. Many of its founders had been jailed for their ideas by the dictator Reza Shah, father of the present Shah. During the war and Russian occupation of part of Iran, the Tudeh grew strong. More and more it reflected the Communist line as Moscow agents grabbed control.

At one time Tudeh (which means masses) claimed a membership of 5,000,000. Iran's population is about 15,000,000. Observers say this is exaggerated. They say membership might have been about 100,000 when the party reached its peak in 1946 just before the collapse of the Soviet-sponsored Peoples Republic in Azerbaijan province.

About half the present Tudeh membership is believed concentrated in Tehran—in government offices, army headquarters and other vital spots.

Other strong cells are believed to be in the British oil fields around Abadan, in Isfahan and other textile factory centers and among the peasants of Azerbaijan province.

Azerbaijan—with about one-fourth of the nation's population—is potentially the most explosive spot in Iran. Qualified observers believe that only a good crop year this summer saved Azerbaijan from an open peasant revolution.

Refuse Review On Rate Increase

Raleigh, Sept. 6.—(AP)—The State Utilities Commission has turned thumbs down on a motion that it reconsider a rate increase it recently granted the Tide Water Power Company.

The vote was 3-2, with the same alignment that granted the original $200,000 a year increase to the company which serves the southeastern section of the state.

No Shortage Of Turkeys For Fall

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 7.—(AP)—There should be no shortage of turkey on Tar Heel dinner tables this fall.

As of Aug. 1, there were 583,000 gobblers being fattened on the state's farms. This is an all-time record breaking number, the state department of agriculture reported.

One-third of the production is expected to be marketed before October and a second third before December.

Mrs. Darline Evans, 1612 Jefferson St., Kansas City, Mo., says she has made her family the happiest in the middle west. It wasn't long ago when Mrs. Evans said she was very cross with her whole family but now her disposition has changed entirely. She started taking HADACOL after she found her system was deficient in Vitamins B1, B2, Nicotin, and Iron.

Here is Mrs. Evans' own statement: "Before I started taking HADACOL I was very nervous and irritable—in fact, I made my family's life miserable. I wasn't able to sleep nights—I would just toss and toss all night. I had no appetite at all—eating food to me was just a chore. I know I was the most miserable person in Kansas City. Then I heard about how other folks were getting marvelous results from HADACOL I was able to rest easy—now I have taken over 4 bottles of HADACOL. I have a wonderful appetite and what is so absolutely marvelous is that I am not the least bit nervous. I just can't praise HADACOL enough."

Many Thousands of folks have been helped whose systems were deficient in Vitamins B1, B2, Nicotin, and Iron. HADACOL can help you, too, if you suffer from stomach distress, nervousness, insomnia, aches and pains of neuritis, or a general rundown condition, caused by such deficiencies. Let HADACOL help you as it has helped others all over the country. Even hundreds of doctors are now recommending HADACOL to their patients suffering from such deficiencies.

That's the kind of product you want—that's the kind you should buy and that's the kind you should start taking NOW!

Give remarkable HADACOL a chance to benefit you. Remember, you have nothing to lose. HADACOL will make you feel great after the first few bottles you take, or your money will be refunded. Only $1.25 for Trial size; Large Family or Hospital size, $3.50.

The RANGE DOCTOR

by OSCAR J. FRIEND

Chapter 23
"Bring a lamp!" Naylor yelled at somebody. Then a booted foot crashed against the door and the lock snapped off with a splintering sound. The door quivered wide open in a fit of rage, and Naylor hurried into the room, followed by two men with lamps. At sight of the immo-bile form of Griggsby beneath the blanket Naylor relaxed.
"Where's Agnes?" he grated.
"I don't know, Naylor. Tell me what all this—" "Here she is!" yelled one of the men with lamps. "Tryin' to sneak out."
Naylor whirled from the bed. He shot out a hand and grabbed the struggling girl by the wrist, brutally yanking her to his knees.
"What are you doin' in here, Agnes?" he demanded harshly. "What did you tell Griggsby?"
The girl cried out in pain, and Griggsby answered for her.
"She didn't have to tell me anything, Naylor. The way you've treated me has told me plenty."

Prods Congress For Statehood

Washington, Sept. 6 — (AP) — President Truman prodded Congress again today to vote statehood for Alaska and Hawaii, and Democratic Leader Lucas (Ill.) said the Senate may consider next week statehood bills already passed by the House.

Heretofore, Lucas has taken the position that the Senate would not have time to act on the bills at this session of Congress.

Synthetic Topsoil Made Of Sawdust By Chemists

By ALTON L. BLACKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter

Chicago, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Sawdust can be turned into synthetic topsoil to grow bigger, greener vegetables, Dr. Edward Farber of Washington, D. C., said today.

Chemically treated, the sawdust becomes like humus, to nourish crops, he told the American Chemical Society.

Erosion robs the nation of millions of tons of previous topsoil annually. And lumbering piles up mountains of sawdust, estimated at 60 million tons a year, for which there are no great uses.

The new chemical process might help solve both problems, said Dr. Farber, of the Timber Engineering Co., early tests with the sawdust topsoil have been promising, he said.

From 10 to 40 tons of converted sawdust were applied to an acre of soil. Seeds germinated sooner, and more of them germinated, he said. "Leaves were bigger and greener, and the weights of produce like radishes, beets, onions, and tomatoes were greater."

The sawdust is treated with mineral acids, at temperatures well over the boiling point of water, but not hot enough to char the cellulose materials in the sawdust, he explained.

The sawdust forms humus-like substance by loss of water and some side products. We need products which act like humus to improve our soils.

Firemen's Group Plan Elections

Hendersonville, N. C., Sept. 7.—(AP)—Members of the North Carolina Firemen's Association were scheduled to elect new officers before adjourning their annual convention here today.

Also on today's program was an address by Ralph Connally of Brevard College.

Yesterday the 1,000 firemen attending the convention were feted at a barbecue and a dance. A memorial service was held for the 26 members of the Association who died during the past year.

More Profit For Tar Heel Farmers

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 7.—(AP)—North Carolina farmers made eight cents more on every dollar's worth of sales for the month ending August 15.

Prices for all farm commodities advanced except the general average for meat animals, according to a state department of agriculture report.

The report cited a 13c a pound increase in cotton prices and a gain of $4 a ton in cotton seed. Increased prices for veal calves and beef were insufficient to offset slightly lower prices for hogs, beef cattle and lambs.

The figures are based on a monthly price index based on a level of 100 for average prices during the years 1909-14.

Poultry rose 23 points, or 11 per cent, the wholesale price of milk advanced two points, and grains moved eight points higher.

Higher prices for peanuts, potatoes and sweet potatoes pushed up the index for miscellaneous commodities an additional 21 points.

Consider Bids On Road Work

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 7.—(AP)—The State Highway Commission met today to consider $5,876,302 in low bids for 55 road projects involving 439 miles of work.

Also on the agenda was a discussion of prison problems. At a special meeting last week, the commission instructed prison director John M. Gold to use as much as practicable of the McCormick report on prison reform.

The report was prepared early this summer by Dr. Austin McCormick, nationally recognized authority on penal reform.

REVOLT HURTS TRANSPORT
Rangoon.—(AP)—The Burmese rebellion has retarded the progress of plans for restoring the country $2,000,000 in destroyed watercraft, according to Inland Waterways Transportation Board officials here.

Tassoula Petracogeorgi, 20-year-old sultry-eyed Cretan beauty, stands with her husband, Constantine Kephalyannis, in Athens, Greece, Saturday, after their tempestuous romance was climaxed with a surprise marriage. The bridegroom, whose brother is a Populist (Royalist) member of Greece's parliament, kidnapped Tassoula, daughter of a Liberal member of parliament, 12 days ago. "I love Costa and married him of my own free will," said Tassoula. (AP Wirephoto via radio from Athens).

Textile Workers Seek Wage Hike

Boston, Sept. 7.—(AP)—The New England Textile Workers Union will be asked tomorrow to grant wage increases to 90,000 cotton and rayon workers. The appeal will be laid before executives of the CIO Textile Workers Union of America. The union's contract with manufacturers has six more months to run.

The manufacturers will be asked to follow precedent set by Chrysler and Ford in the automobile industry in relaxing contract bonds to grant increases.

Union officials said that the employees should be granted a share in profits being realized by manufacturers as a result of the Korean war.

The mill workers, they said, have not been granted wage hikes (two and one-half years). Manufacturers did not comment immediately on the union statement.
