Fast Train Plows Into Troop Train Killing 25 Guardsmen

Approximately 60 Other Soldiers Injured; Stalled Troop Train Struck In Early Morning Ohio Fog; Warning Flares Apparently Not Seen

Coshocton, O., Sept. 11—(AP)—The Spirit of St. Louis, crack passenger train of the Pennsylvania Railroad, ploughed into a troop train stalled by mechanical trouble in thick fog near here early today.

Twenty-five soldiers, all members of the Pennsylvania National Guard, were killed.

Approximately 60 other guardsmen en route to Camp Aiterbury, Ind., to enter federal service, were injured.

Most of the dead and injured were in an old fashioned coach on the end of the 30-car troop train. Some were sleeping, others were being awakened for breakfast when the crash occurred at 5:15 a.m. (Eastern Standard Time).

The rear coach looked like a pile of tin cans and rubbish after it had been rammed. Its roof, 70 feet long, was compressed into 10 feet.

Four hours after the accident workmen with acetylene torches still were removing bodies from the wreckage.

The troop train had stopped at 8:10 a.m. (EST) a mile east of West LaPayette, which is 7 miles west of Coshocton.

Red flares were put out, a train crew member said, but they apparently were not seen by the engineer of the approaching diesel-drawn Spirit of St. Louis.

A reporter at 9:30 a.m. had counted nineteen bodies and was informed that six other soldiers had died in hospitals.

Rain began falling as the bodies were temporarily laid out in a field, 40 feet from the track. They were covered with Army blankets.

Rescuers with the acetylene torches grimly probed the wreckage.

"I see another way down there," a workman would shout and the body would be tenderly removed from the debris.

Sgt. Joe Warhol, of Simpson, Pa., said if the wreck had occurred 15 minutes later the men would have been at breakfast in the kitchen car, six cars from the rear.

A diesel was pushing the troop train and a steam locomotive pulling it as the train halted on a slight grade. The crash occurred five minutes later.

The diesel pulling the Spirit of St. Louis smashed into the other diesel, driving it into the old fashion coach last on the train. The coach was ground into "what looked like tin cans and rubbish," a reporter on the scene said.

The car of the diesel just ahead was thrown up and fell cross-wise on the third car. The pushing diesel went down a 15-foot embankment.

G. B. Shaw Said Resting After Thigh Is Broken

Luton, Eng., Sept. 11—(AP)—George Bernard Shaw, the famous playwright, broke his thigh in a fall in the garden of his country home yesterday and was brought to a hospital here today for an emergency operation.

A hospital spokesman said the 84-year-old author and wit was "very comfortable" and had brought with him a small library of books.

Hospital officials indicated he would be operated on later this afternoon or tonight.

No expert opinion on Shaw's condition was immediately available. But it was agreed a broken thigh at Shaw's age could produce dangerous complications.

Much-Wanted Island

Possession Of Tropical Dutch New Guinea Sought By Indonesia Republic And Just As Firmly Wanted By Holland; Features Behind Threatening Dispute

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

Washington, Sept. 11—(AP)—You can't guess—from what President Truman said in his Saturday night broadcast—how far this country is going to re-arm or in using economic controls.

Probably he doesn't know himself. If relations with Russia get worse, then the government will step up re-arming and impose a lot tougher controls than seem to be in sight now.

But the President didn't have the power to control prices and wages until Congress passed a bill giving him that power. And this was done recently that he didn't sign the bill into law until last week.

And even now, with that power in hand, the President could hardly slap on nationwide price and wage controls without causing chaos. You can imagine why.

There is no government agency in existence—like the old OPA—to handle the gigantic problems that would be created overnight if Mr. Truman suddenly ordered price and wage controls.

But in his weekend talk he announced he was creating a successor to OPA, to be called the Eco-

New War Mobilization Set-Up Begins To Roll

Agency's First Task Is To Plan Division Of Steel Supplies; Marks Start Of Long-Range Plan By President

Washington, Sept. 11—(P)—President Truman's new war mobilization machinery, geared to a $30,000,000,000 a year arms program, began to roll today under a production boss borrowed from industry.

William H. Harrison, president of International Telephone and Telegraph Corp., walked into the spot as head of new "National Production Authority" (NPA) in the commerce department.

His first job, after today's swearing in, was to face the steel industry—the Presidents of 21 companies, invited here to discuss how to divide steel supplies between booming civilian factories and mushrooming war plants.

This was the first move in a mobilization against Communist aggression which Mr. Truman said Saturday night may last many years and will require secretaries of every American.

A series of orders is expected to follow. But actual "allocations"—that is, assignments of steel and other materials to particular users—may not begin for weeks, and civilian goods—autos, television sets, and others—may not be affected for months.

Immediately ahead, perhaps within this week, are:

1 Issuance of a scarcity list by Mr. Truman, naming materials in short supply. Steel, copper, rubber, and aluminum will be on it.

2 An inventory control, or anti-hoarding, order by NPA. This will

Report Helpless Vessel In No Apparent Danger

Cape Hatteras. The Unimak relieved the tanker Unimak, which had stood by during the night.

The Coast Guard cutter Cherokee from Norfolk arrived later in the morning and planned to put a tow line upon the Paris. All the vessels escaped the main force of a tropical hurricane which passed many miles east of them.

The Paris had radioed Sunday that her engines had been drowned out and that she was in danger of sinking.

The Unimak left her weather station 350 miles east of Cape Hatteras at dusk yesterday and reached the Paris before dawn.

The 2,360 ton vessel with a crew of 27 radioed a distress signal yesterday after her engines quit. The tanker Amtank rushed to her aid, finally managing to take the distressed freighter in tow.

Coast Guardsmen here reported late last night, however, that the tow line had separated and the tanker was riding free. Unable to secure another line because of tossing seas, the Coast guard said the Paris would "just have to ride the night out."

Miss Schall, daughter of a Viennese merchant, won the title Miss Europe of 1950 in competition Saturday night with 13 other national beauty contest winners.

Acheson To Urge Europe Build Up Defense Powers

Will Press For July 1 Deadline; Backed By American Reinforcements

New York, Sept. 11—(AP)—Diplomatic officials predicted today that Secretary of State Acheson will press firmly this week to put over plans for a strong build-up of Western Europe's defense forces by Next July 1.

His arguments will be greatly strengthened, these authorities believe, by President Truman's carefully-timed week-end decision permitting "substantial" U. S. troop reinforcements in Europe and his call for home-front sacrifices.

The troop increases—an estimated five to ten divisions as they become available—were made dependent on matching action by Britain, France and other U. S. allies in the conflict with Russia.

Therefore the Western foreign ministers with whom Acheson will be meeting Tuesday through Saturday are already on notice that America's contributions to their defenses are based on the principle of mutual effort and not on U. S. willingness to assume a disproportionate share of the burden.

The sessions will begin here tomorrow when Acheson meets with Foreign Minister Bevin of Britain and Foreign Minister Schuman of France. Foreign ministers of other North Atlantic powers will join in the talks on Friday and Saturday.

In Washington today Acheson scheduled a meeting with Senate and House Foreign Relations Committee members to explain the policies he intends pursuing. Bevin and Schuman were enroute to New York by sea and air respectively.

Acheson himself set a keynote of confidence for the vital Western talks yesterday. He declared he is sure that with "modern weapons and ingenuity" the Western world can build a defense that will stand firm against the superior manpower strength of Soviet Communism.

He hinted—on a television program—that in the meanwhile the United States and its allies have a powerful balancing weapon in U. S. atomic superiority. Noting that the Western powers have only about 12 divisions in Europe and the Russians have a grand total in Europe and Asia of 175 to 200, Acheson said "the gap (in relative strength) is not quite as great as the figures indicate."

Acheson also said that while a great variety of diplomatic problems cries out for attention, he thinks that "we must put our major effort at the present moment into creating strong North Atlantic defense forces."

Western military leaders now have under study the maximum build-up of armed forces which they can hope to achieve in a series of steps dependent mainly on the rate of weapons production and the speed of training.

Officer Wanted For Questioning

Washington, Sept. 11—(P)—The Army said today Maj. Harold Dean Banning, who flew to this country on leave from Germany, is wanted for questioning about the alleged "misapplication of public funds in excess of $250,000."

The Provost Marshal General's office said police, customs and border patrol officers have been asked to help in the search for the 39-year old Banning.

Bitter Close-Range Fighting Rages As Fresh Red Offensive Is Awaited

New Police Chief Takes Oath Of Office

Guy C. Langston (center) took the oath of office of the chief of police of Greenville this morning before assuming his new duties as head of the police department. Administering the oath is H. L. Lewis (right) assistant clerk of Pitt Superior Court. Mayor W. S. Stafford watches the ceremony. Langston is 35 years old, and has served with the Kinston police department, state highway patrol and the highway safety division of the state department of motor vehicles. Langston Considers Change In Police Department's Policies

Guy C. Langston took the oath of office as Greenville chief of police this morning at 9:30 and officially began his duties as head of the Greenville police force.

The new chief spent most of his first day in office with Mayor W. S. Stafford discussing police department policy and meeting Greenville people.

Langston in a statement this morning said he contemplated making several changes in the present police department policy. He said for the present he is not planning any changes in the police department personnel.

In his statement Langston said: "I am very pleased to be here. I realize the responsibility of the appointment; both my responsibility to the city officials, the people of Greenville and the members of the police department. I will make every effort as chief to cooperate with the city officials, the people and the personnel of the department along the lines of good consistent police policies."

"I am contemplating some policy changes in the department. I have not set a date for the changes in policy because I want to discuss the changes with the captains and lieutenants and the other members of the department."

"I'd like to say that the police department will accept constructive criticism, and I will be glad for any well-meaning citizen to contact the office at any time. We will make every effort to satisfy every complaint. I intend to work with the department personnel 100 per cent."

Mayor Stafford expressed his satisfaction with Langston's assuming the duties as permanent chief of police department.

"As I have told Mr. Langston and the board of aldermen," the mayor said, "he will get complete cooperation from this office in his efforts to build a police department such continue the four and one half hour day through Sept. 22 and that it would be decided next week what schedule will be in effect beginning Sept. 23.

The change does not affect a schedule announced previously for markets of the Old Belt which hold their opening sales Thursday.

The old belt markets will sell six and one half hours a day on Sept. 14, 15 and 18, and five and one half hours on Sept. 19, 20, 21 and 22.

Royster said that redrying plants were "in good shape as of this morning," and "this step is being taken to prevent their becoming congested."

Again Act To Slow Down Sales On Tobacco Market

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 11—(P)—Governors of the Bright Belt Warehouse Association have again acted to slow down sales on flue-cured tobacco markets.

Fred S. Royster of Henderson president of the Association announced that hours of sales on the tobacco markets were being reduced to prevent overloading of tobacco redrying plants.

Markets of the Carolina border belt, the eastern and the middle belts, which will operate on a five hour sales schedule today and tomorrow, will go on a four and one half hour day starting Wednesday.

Royster said the markets would

Hatteras Bypassed By Big Atlantic Hurricane

Miami, Fla., Sept. 11—(AP)—The Atlantic coast from Atlantic City to Cape Cod faced the prospects of gale winds or higher today and tonight as the Atlantic hurricane stepped up its forward pace and bypassed Cape Hatteras.

The storm, once packing 160-mile winds but now down to about 100 miles an hour, will swing "pretty close" along the Long Island to Cape Cod coastline, said Grady Norton, chief storm forecaster in the Miami Weather Bureau.

"Winds of gale force should begin along the coast around Atlantic City and probably will reach New York City," he said. "Long Island and New England will be closer to the center, and the Cape Cod-Nantucket area may get hurricane winds. At present it appears that the storm's center will pass east of Nantucket about midnight, but very close there and at Cape Cod."

Aggressors In Mock War Hurl Back Allied Army

Heidelberg, Germany, Sept. 11—(P)—Green uniformed "Aggressors" overran the frontier defenses of western Germany today and hurled back the allied army toward the French frontier in troop maneuvers.

Nearly 100,000 American troops supported by British and French units, struggled to reach a new line between Frankfurt and Stuttgart under simulated heavy air and ground blows from the enemy attacking from the Soviet zone and Czechoslovakia.

This was the first action in the maneuvers by the Atlantic "Big Three" powers to test their skill at repelling a mock invasion from the east.

Allied Artillery And Warplanes Beat At Korean Reds North Of Taegu Where Attack Believed Shaping Up; South Koreans Secure Yongchon Defenses

Tokyo, Sept. 11—(AP)—Allied and Red big guns and infantry slugged at each other in bitter, close-range fighting today seven miles north of Taegu.

A fresh Red Korean offensive was expected there at any hour.

Allied artillery and warplanes hurled showers of steel at Red troops and artillery pieces throughout Monday.

A U. S. Eighth Army spokesman said the American barrage knocked out "a great many" Red big guns.

"Considerable action is expected in this area again tonight," a First Cavalry division spokesman said. About 40,000 Communist troops were massed for attack against the allied northwest wall.

East of this sector allied South Korean forces ground ahead in an attack which has secured the defenses of Yongchon, eastern gateway to Taegu.

Elements of the South Korean Eighth Division drove six miles north of the vital Yongchon-Kyongju highway at one point in the northeast sector. At the high tide of last week's breakthrough, Red Korean artillery fire closed this road.

On a third critical area, allied aircraft mangled a Communist regiment of 3,000 men in the Naklong River bulge west of Changyong.

The U. S. Second Division repulsed a sharp Red attack in the bulge. Slashing allied fighter planes caught the North Koreans in the open as they reeled back from the doughboy's blows.

This setback, added to previous Red losses, left the battleground strewn with 1,000 Communist dead and 3,500 to 3,000 wounded, including 1,500 pilots reported.

Further south, the U. S. 25th Division best off several light attacks. The 25th counted the day as quiet in comparison with the heavy blows of last week.

Allied pilots reported some signs of a Red Korean withdrawal in this area west of Misan. The pilots said two Red battalions were moving north toward Uiryong. But ground observers could not substantiate the report immediately.

The Eighth Army communique said the Red Koreans smashed of First Cavalry foot troopers east of Waegwan and buried the Americans back three-fourths of a mile.

On the First Cavalry's right flank, doughboys pushed nearly one mile through heavy fire toward the walled town of Kasan, 11 miles north of Taegu. But a strong Red counterattack drove them back a half mile.

Associated Press Correspondent Jack MacBeth reported the main fighting on the northwest sector raged in the ridges only seven miles north of Taegu. There the North Korean First and 13th divisions rammed against allied defense anchored in a semi-globe on dominating high ground.

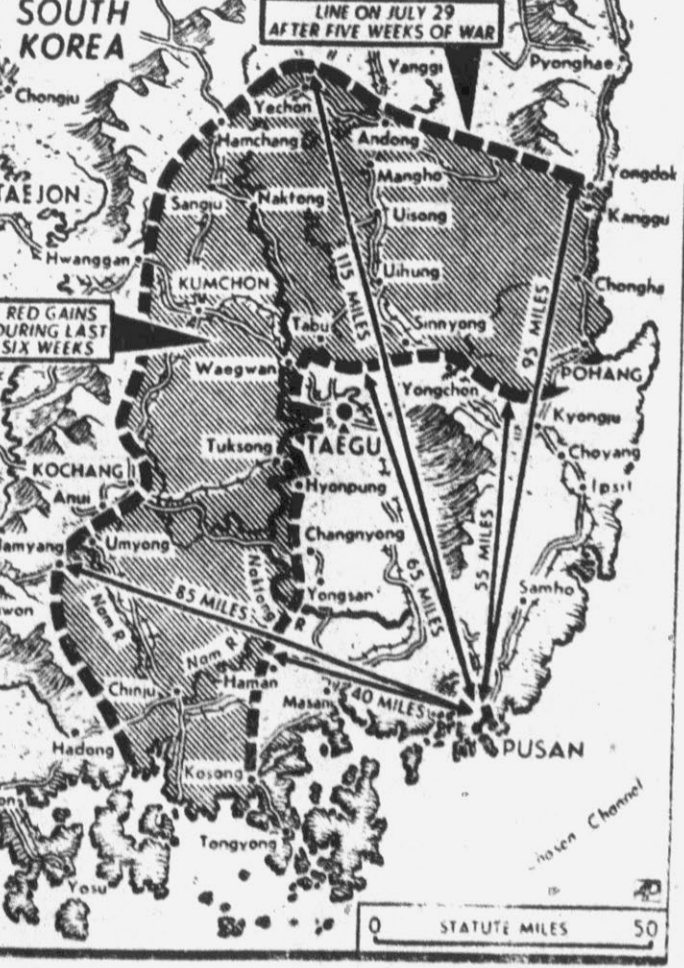

First Cavalrymen fought "up and down hill" to maintain their line, a spokesman said.

Allied warplanes strafed, rocketed and fire-bombed the enemy.

MacBeth said the Red Korean Third Division was reported moving toward battle lines near Waegwan where U. S. troops lost ground, but had not been identified in action.

On the extreme northeast flank, South Koreans thrust to within less than three miles of Pohang. Sea of Japan port lost to the Reds last week. The Reds were reported withdrawing from a pocket between Pohang and Kyongju.

Red Gains In Past Six Weeks

Shaded area shows extent of North Korean Red-gain against United Nations defenders in South Korea in past six weeks—from July 29 until past weekend. Gains came much slower for Communists in past six weeks after they had overrun more than two-thirds of South Korea in first five weeks of invasion. Allied defense perimeter had shrunk to approximately 120 miles. Arrows show how Reds have shortened distances from these points on battle line to Pusan, supply port, in last six weeks. Extent Of Governmental Controls And Re-Arming Appear To Hinge On Relations With Russia; No One Now Knows How Far We'll Go; Preparing For Worst

By JAMES MARLOW

With much of Asia revolting against "western Imperialism" it's interesting to see both the Netherlands and the new republic of Indonesia dying for the privilege of colonizing Dutch New Guinea, whose possession now is in dispute between them.

In fairness one hastens to add that Dutch New Guinea presents a unique situation. It is called the last stand of stone age man because it is inhabited by primitive head hunters and Cannibals. It will require generations to educate these wild folk to the point where they can establish civilized communities. Meantime, of course, some outside guidance and protection will be imperative.

Thus the question of "Imperialism" in the general accepted sense, doesn't arise in this case. Still, that term of opprobrium is bound to come up sooner or later, and so must be taken into account by any power—Asian or western—which undertakes colonization.

If you will glance at your maps you will see that New Guinea—world's third largest island—nestles up against the equator just north of Australia. The western part is Dutch and the eastern is Australian. It is hot and humid, insect infested and fever ridden. And there are the stone age savages.

Those would seem to be reasons enough why both Holland and Indonesia are anxious to develop Dutch New Guinea. Of course the Dutch already are in possession, but Indonesia has demanded that it be transferred to the Republic, claiming that Dutch New Guinea rightfully belongs in the group of islands forming the republic.

A joint Dutch-Indonesian commission is now engaged in trying to settle this issue, and a decision has been called for before January, 1961.

Tettertons Compliment The Corbitt-Smith Wedding Party At Saturday Luncheon

The Tetterton home on East Fifth Street was the scene of a gracious luncheon when Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Tetterton entertained on Saturday the Corbitt-Smith wedding party and out-of-town guests. Thirty-four guests were welcomed at the door by the hosts, Miss Smith, Mr. Corbitt, Mr. and Mrs. Milo Smith, parents of the bride-elect, and Mrs. Corbitt, Mr. Corbitt's mother. The home was profusely decorated with bowls of lovely summer flowers placed on tables and the mantel in the living room, dining room, and den. In the dining room the serving table was covered with a Madeira cut-work cloth, and the floral centerpiece was composed of the white carnations and fern, flanked on either side by white tapers in crystal candelabra. Here Mrs. Smith served fruit-juice cocktails to the guests before they were invited by Mrs. Corbitt to find their places at individual tables located in the living room and den. Each luncheon table was covered with a white linen cloth, and small red rosebuds graced the center. At the bride's table all-white rosebuds were used, and places were marked by formal bridal cards for the honorees, the maid-of-honor, and the best man. A two-course barbecue luncheon was served to the guests. Assisting the hosts in serving were Mrs. Marvin Huneycutt, Mrs. R. E. Corbette, Jr., Misses Jean and Martha Rose Tetterton, daughters of the hosts, and Miss Faye Sermons.

Christian Science Service

"Substance" was the subject of the Lesson Sermon in all Christian Science churches and societies on Sunday, September 10. Golden Text: Malachi 3:10, "Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me now herewith, saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be a room enough to receive it." Among the citations comprising our Lesson Sermon, are the following from the Bible: "Both riches and honour come of thee, and thou reignest over all, and in thine hand is power and might; and in thine hand it is to make great, and to give strength unto all." (I Chron. 29:12) And from the Christian Science Textbook by Mary Baker Eddy: "Spirit is the only substance and consciousness recognized by divine Science." (pg. 278)

Much-Wanted . . .

(Continued From Page One) Thus far no agreement is in sight and it looks as though the argument might wind up in the United Nations. The Indonesians already have tossed the charge of "Imperialism" into the Dutch camp. The Dutch reply is that this shoe also fits Indonesia, since the Papuans are a distinct race which has no relation to the Indonesian peoples. Therefore it is argued, Indonesia would be as much a Colonial and "Imperialist" power as would the Netherlands. The dispute has become so bitter that fighting language has been used. Indonesia declares that a grave situation will arise if Dutch New Guinea isn't turned over by the end of this year. The republic will fight if necessary. To this Dutch Governor Van Waardenburg of New Guinea replies that the armed forces of the island will "fight any attempt at invasion." While this argument is going on, Dutch business people who pulled up stakes in Indonesia when sovereignty was handed over to the republic, are moving into New Guinea and are going ahead with plans for developing the country. Governor Van Waardenburg has just announced a huge development plan to open up the wealth of that rich territory.

How Far? . . .

(Continued From Page One) In his talk, he made it plain he's puzzled about what the new law will let him do. He said: "We cannot yet be sure that the new law permits effective use of selective controls. As a result, we might have to resort to general controls before they really are necessary. This may prove to be a serious defect in the law which will require correction." So far the only restriction ordered by the government under the new law to keep the country's economic wagon rolling down a straight road is on installment buying: To make people put up larger down-payments and pay up in full in less time. The idea there is, by making installment buying a little tougher, to discourage buying somewhat, particularly in fields where goods may be scarce. It's hoped this will put a brake on rising prices. As for the other controls, the President's attitude seems to be: "It's up to the people whether we have price and wage controls. If businessmen get greedy and start jacking up prices unnecessarily, or if labor makes unjust demands for higher wages, and in that way forces up prices, controls will be needed."

Geiger Counter Sales Increasing

NEW YORK—(AP)—Across the counter Geiger Counter sales are on the increase, says The Radiac Co. of New York. All types of people from all walks of life are responsible for this new interest. This situation closely parallels the extensive coverage given by the press and radio to the Atomic Energy Commission's book "The Effects of Atomic Weapons." But when questioned, only a small number of the purchasers admitted fear of an atomic attack as their motivating cause. Most stated only a desire to do a bit of uranium prospecting on their vacation.

Eighth Street Christian Church Scene Of Corbitt-Smith Wedding

Miss Peggy Rose Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milo Hemby Smith of Greenville, became the bride of William Shaw Corbitt, Jr., son of Mrs. William Shaw Corbitt, Jr., of Henderson and the late Mr. Corbitt, in a formal candlelight ceremony solemnized Saturday evening, at half after eight o'clock at the Eighth Street Christian Church in Greenville.

The church was decorated throughout with Mexican fern, white chrysanthemums, smilax and garlands of huckleberry and mixed white flowers. Candelabra on the altar and in the windows held burning tapers. Cascades of white chrysanthemums, tulle and satin ribbons were on alternate pews.

Prior to the ceremony, a program of nuptial music was presented by Leon Fleming, Jr., organist. Organ selections were "The Evening Star" by Wagner, Schubert's "Serenade," and "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" by Bach. Miss Alison Hearne sang "Entreat Me Not to Leave Thee" from "Ruth" by Gounod, "Through the Years" by Vincent Youman and "The Lord's Prayer" by Albert Hay Malotte was sung for the benediction. During the ceremony, Schubert's "Ave Maria" was played softly. The traditional wedding march- es were used for the processional and recessional of the wedding party.

The Reverend H. G. Haney officiated in the single ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of candlelight satin, fashioned with a fitted bodice applied to a yoke of illusion outlined with seed pearls. The bouffant skirt extended into a cathedral train. The tiered veil of French illusion, extending the length of the train, fell from a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a cascade bouquet of white cattleya orchids, fleur d'amour, stephanotis and adiantum fern.

Miss Joyce Corbette of Greenville, cousin of the bride, attended as maid of honor. She wore a gown of rose satin fashioned with a fitted bodice and a two tiered bertha forming a victorian neckline, bouffant skirt with a bustled back. Her hat was an off the face Queen Ann type of satin and lace which matched the dress, and she carried a cascade bouquet of purple asters with deep purple streamers.

The bridesmaids were: Miss Jackie Sears, cousin of the bride; Miss Betsy Nobles, Miss Jane Massey, Mrs. Charles Braswell and Miss Elizabeth Kittrell, all of Greenville, and Miss Patricia Waller of Durham, college roommate of the bride; Miss Waller and Mrs. Braswell were attired in gold satin dresses, and the other bridesmaids wore green satin dresses, identical to that of the maid of honor. All the bridesmaids carried cascade bouquets of pink asters with bronze streamers.

The bridegroom was attended by his grandfather, Richard Johnson Corbitt of Henderson, as best man. Ushers were: Ray Sears, cousin of the bride, of Greenville, Albert Green Borden, Grady Tharrington, Allen Brady, William White, all of Henderson, and Sydney Earl Jennette, Jr. of Charlotte.

Mrs. Smith wore for her daughter's wedding a gown of sand beige tissue faille, highlighted with a scalloped peplum featuring imported Marie France lace. Her corsage was a purple orchid.

The mother of the groom wore an original gown aqua silk crepe with a sweetheart neckline, appliqued with crystal beading. She wore a purple orchid corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony the parents of the bride entertained at reception at their home on East Fifth Street. The home was beautifully decorated throughout with yellow and white chrysanthemums, snapdragons, and gladioli.

The bride's table was covered with a satin cloth and draped at each corner with green nylon tulle and white silver mums. On each side of the three tiered wedding cake were Missy's Wedding Slip-pers filled with decorated calla lily mints. The decorated wedding cake was flanked with three branch silver candelabra holding white tapers tied with green nylon tulle and silver mums, intertwined with southern smilax. The silver cake knife was showered with orange blossoms and satin ribbons.

The refreshments table in the dining room was covered with an imported Madiera outwork cloth. Hanging from the crystal chandelier was a floral arrangement in the shape of a wedding ring of improved southern smilax, centered with stephanotis and baby pom poms. In the center of the table was a replica of the wedding ring, flanked by silver candelabra.

Receiving at the door were Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Kittrell and introducing to the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. T. I. Wagner. The receiving line was composed of Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Corbitt, the bride and groom and bridal attendants.

At the entrance to the gift room were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilkerson and Mr. and Mrs. Mack Gilbert Smith. Receiving in the gift room were Mr. and Mrs. Wilton Tetterton.

Presiding at the register were Mr. and Mrs. Redwin Edwin Corbette.

Directing into the dining room were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson. Presiding at the punch bowls in the dining room were: Mrs. W. L. Allen, Mrs. Jimmy H. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Ernul K. Willis, Mrs. Marvin Huneycutt and Mrs. John Warner.

Goodbyes were said to Mr. and Mrs. Donald H. Conley.

After the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Corbitt left for a wedding trip to Lake Placid, New York. For traveling the bride wore an original costume suit of cinnamon imported silk gabardine with hat to match, and brown alligator accessories. Her corsage was of white cattleya orchids.

Mrs. Corbitt is a graduate of Greenville High School and received her Bachelor of Arts degree from Duke University, where she was a member of Zeta Tau Alpha social sorority. Mr. Corbitt attended Henderson High School, is a graduate of McCallie, and was graduated from the United States Merchant Marine Academy. He received a Bachelor of Science degree in engineering from State College, where he was a member of Theta Tau, honorary Engineering fraternity, and Phi Kappa Alpha social fraternity. Mr. Corbitt is now connected with the Corbitt Company of Henderson.

Upon their return from Lake Placid, the couple will be at home in Henderson.

Out of town guests at the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Corbitt, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Corbitt, Jr., Master Richard Carr Corbitt, Miss Jean Fulkner, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. waken, Tokyo. Orphanages, whether sponsored by the government or religious groups, are overcrowded, says CARE. "Funds are pitifully low. Rations are meager. For its own orphanages, the Government can allow less than 25 cents per day to staff, fuel, feed and clothe the institutions and their wards. The Government also allows a very small allotment to orphanages run by religious groups." I shall serve all equally and I shall try to develop such judgment and affection and patience that my service will heal ill-feelings and distress. I pledge myself to compassion and words of kindness and friendly sympathy that will enter into the joys and sorrows of all who are needy or afflicted or erring. I shall never lose my faith in the value of every human being and the capacity of man to change his ways of life and thinking. . . Luncheon For Dot Ormond

Honoring Miss Dot Suggs Ormond, bride-elect of October, Mrs. Louis W. Gaylord, Sr., and Mrs. W. M. Scales, Jr., were delightful luncheon hostesses at the home of Mrs. Gaylord on Saturday at 1 p. m. The home was lovely with its arrangements of mixed summer flowers used on the tables in the living and dining rooms.

Upon arrival the guests were greeted at the door by the hostesses, the honoree, and Miss Frances Kittrell, another bride-elect of the fall. They were invited to find their places at the auxiliary card tables, which were covered with linen luncheon cloths, set in the living room. The brides-elect found their places marked by lovely corsages made of white carnations. They were also remembered with gifts from the hostesses. Miss Ormond was presented with a silver bread tray and Miss Kittrell was given china in her chosen pattern.

A three-course chicken luncheon was served to the following guests: Misses Ormond and Kittrell, Mrs. S. W. Dunn, Jr., Miss Ione Bradsher, Miss Muriel Showell, Miss Lillian Wooten, Miss Kay Van Nortwick, Mrs. L. W. Gaylord, Jr., Mrs. H. L. Ormond, Miss Janice Ormond, Mrs. Frank Woods, and Mrs. W. M. Scales, Sr.

Miss Mary Jeanine Cox

Miss Cox is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lee Cox, who announce her engagement to Clarence VanDeren Jones, son of Mrs. Edward Hawkins Jones of Ayden, N. C., and the late Mr. Jones. The wedding will take place September 26 at Hollywood Presbyterian church, New Bern highway.

Mrs. R. B. Murphy Hostess To W.C.T.U.

The W. C. T. U. meeting, which was held last Wednesday in the lovely new home of Mrs. R. B. Murphy, was opened by prayer. Mrs. C. W. Brown gave a most inspiring devotional, basing her remarks on Hebrews, chapter 9, verses 24-28. She quoted this Bible reference as saying that unto him that looks for Hih, Christ will appear the second time. Mrs. Brown asked, "Are we as Christians looking for Him now?" As a test for our preparation for His coming she asked, "Do we pray for those who desperately use us?" "Do we obey the commandments?" "Do we love God with all our souls, all our strength, all our minds?" If so, we will be ready for Christ's second coming, she said.

In the absence of the guest speaker, Mrs. V. C. Carson gave the high lights of the Pitt County Allied Church League. She quoted two scripture verses justifying her work with this temperance organization. First that we should despise not little things, and second that we should do with all our might what there is to be done. The Allied Church League had a little beginning in Pitt county, but she hopes it may yet become a force for good. There was a discussion about sending a delegate to the state convention in Charlotte October 12-14. Miss Peggy Martin will give the radio broadcast next Sunday at 8:30 a. m. The public is invited to listen in on these splendid broadcasts by our young people each Sunday. Mrs. Helene Higgs Kirkpatrick presided and as a parting message she emphasized the need to attend church regularly for the purpose of worship and as a recipe for sleep she read the following by Geo. W. DeHoff: "The last thing I do at night is to count one by one the blessings of the day. This makes me so thankful and happy that I soon drift into pleasant sleep."

New Liquid Kills Roaches and Ants

New Way to Kill Pests Discovered by Scientists
ROACHES are the most difficult household pests to control, and they can be brought into any home from the market in a bag of potatoes or other groceries. Science has just come forth with a new discovery that kills cockroaches and ants, and that stays effective for months. It is called Johnston's NO-ROACH coating. It's just as simple and easy to use as it looks. You paint the coating on surfaces frequented by roaches and ants, woodwork near the sink, baseboards, garbage pails, window and door sills. When these crawling pests come in contact with this invisible, odorless, stainless coating they slowly become paralyzed, turn over on their backs with legs waving in the air, and die. Then the coating stays effective for months to kill any strays that get into the home and that walk over it. Science has seen to it too, that this product contains no DDT, no sodium fluoride, and no phosphorus. Johnston's NO-ROACH is not a contaminating spray, or a messy powder. It is colorless, and may be brushed just where you want it, without having to move all your dishes and pots and pans. Prices are 8 oz. for 89c, pint for $1.69, and a quart for $2.98.

Negro PTA Proposals Are Given Committees

Detailed plans for the formation of four Parent-Teachers Associations for the four colored schools of the Greenville city school system were yesterday referred to committees to be worked out.

After a lengthy discussion at a meeting of teachers and parents at the C. M. Eppes school yesterday afternoon, the matter of PTA organization was referred to four committees (one for each school) which will be appointed jointly by the schools and the Colored Civic League.

The general meeting of parents and teachers was sponsored by the Civic League as the first step in an effort to reorganize Parent-Teacher Association in the colored schools of Greenville. One such organization was active in Greenville until about three years ago, but there has been no PTA active in the colored schools of the city since that time.

The meeting yesterday was opened with a scripture reading and invocation by Rev. O. J. Rooks and Rev. P. H. Mumford. D. D. Garrett welcomed the parents and teachers to the meeting, and Prof. W. H. Davenport introduced the teachers of the colored schools. Talks on Parent-Teacher organizations were made by Dr. H. B. Kelly, Mrs. B. C. Maye and Mrs. M. R. Allen. J. H. Donaldson presented a bouquet of roses to Mrs. Elizabeth Kerney for her outstanding civic service among the colored people of Greenville. Mrs. Kerney is the oldest Negro teacher

In Pitt county licensed by the state of North Carolina. She was instrumental in the organization of the Colored Civic League and the Carver library.

'Just Rumors'

Winston-Salem, N. C., Sept. 11—(AP)—U. S. Rep. Robert L. Doughton has labeled reports that he plans to retire before the end of the next Congressional term as "unfounded rumors."

Doughton, now 86, told a local radio news director by phone from Washington last night that rumors of his retirement were without foundation. "I have no plans to retire from Congress until December, 1952, at least," Doughton said. "That would be at the close of the term for which I am the Democratic nominee in the election this November."

Reports emanated from Raleigh during the week-end that had Doughton leaving his ninth district post in favor of a choice of the district Democratic Executive committee.

Demo Political Offices Opened

Raleigh, N.C., Sept. 11—(AP)—Tar Heel Democrats got things rolling for the general election campaign by opening their state headquarters here today.

Among the party leaders on hand for the event were Chairman Everett Jordan of the State Democratic Executive Committee and National Committeeman Jonathan Daniels. There was little formality to the occasion.

The Manteo Room of Hotel Sir Walter will be the party's 1950 headquarters.

Chairman Jordan is arranging a series of district rallies which will reach into each of the state's 12 congressional districts. The schedule for the rallies, due to begin early next month, will be announced shortly.

2 Trainmen Die In 18-Car Pileup

Gibsonville, Sept. 11—(AP)—Two trainmen were killed and one was injured in the pileup of an 18-car Southern Railway freight train at the station here yesterday.

Engineer P. A. Transon of Winston-Salem and fireman Arnold S. Jackson of Spencer, were killed. Conductor E. W. Stone also of Spencer suffered burns and bruises.

The freight jumped the rails 100 yards from the station. At least eight of the cars, five loaded with new automobiles caught fire. Firemen from Gibsonville, Burlington and Greensboro fought the blaze for more than two hours.

Southern officials said a preliminary investigation indicated that a steam fitting had failed into a switch, holding it open and causing the derailment.

Five More N. C. War Casualties

Washington, Sept. 11—(AP)—The Department of Defense today announced the following casualties from North Carolina in the Korean area:

Killed in action: (Marine Corps) Pfc. Theodore Gregg Ferguson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore G. Ferguson, Box 65, Archdale.

Wounded: Pvt. Pelham D. Cranford, son of Henry Cranford, Route 3, Asheboro; Pfc. Joseph Herring Jr., son of Mrs. Melinda Herring, 321 Spruce St., Rocky Mount; Pfc. Vero Hughes, son of Zeb Hughes, Window, and M-Sgt. Gardner Wilkins, brother of Walter Wilkins, Route 5, Sumner.

E. W. Dill, 1864 Wilford, East St. Louis, Ill., says he's the happiest man in Illinois, now that he's feeling better. Mr. Dill gives all the credit to HADACOL for feeling so much better. He was suffering from deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron.

Here is Mr. Dill's statement on what HADACOL did for him: "I was a conductor for the New York Central Railroad for over 27 years. In 1947 a locomotive ran over me. I was in the hospital a year and a half. After I got out of the hospital I was very nervous and had dizzy spells all the time. I tried many things — nothing seemed to help me. Then a friend of mine persuaded me to take HADACOL—and after he insisted for 2 weeks I finally got some HADACOL. What a marvelous change has taken place—now I am able to move around, am hardly nervous at all and dizzy and fainting spells, why, they've almost completely vanished. Now I feel so good I have opened up a candy store and do a good day's work. HADACOL—why, that's the most wonderful thing there is in this world. I recommend it to all my friends."

Many Thousands are benefiting from HADACOL... even hundreds of doctors are recommending HADACOL to their patients whose systems lack Vitamins B1, B2, Iron, and Niacin. HADACOL is so wonderful because HADACOL helps build up the hemoglobin content of your blood (when Iron is needed) to carry these precious Vitamins and Minerals to every organ, and every part of your body—to the heart, liver, kidneys and lungs, even to the eyes, hair and nails. Don't continue to be miserable! Don't continue to suffer! Give remarkable HADACOL a chance to help you and if you don't feel better with the first few bottles you take—you get your money back. Yankee Hopes For Pennant Rise With Dimaggio's Hits

Joe Slams Out Three Homers And A Double To Show Signs Of Another Grand Finale In Nerve-Straining Stretch Drive

Associated Press Sports Writer
The New York Yankees' hopes for a second straight American League pennant found a new stimulus today in the booming bat of Joe Dimaggio.

The lean Yankee Clipper, a great "slammer" performer who dramatically fired last year's "team of destiny" to the championship, is showing signs of doing it again in the nerve-jabbing stretch drive.

Dimaggio created Griffith Stadium history yesterday as he smashed three 400-foot plus home runs into the left field stands. His blows—the first time a player has planted three in the distant tiers in a single game—brought the Yankees an 8-1 victory over the Senators in the first half of a doubleheader.

Besides his homers, which raised his output to 27, Dimaggio socked a double and drew a walk, batted in four runs, scored four and raised his batting average to .293.

The Clipper almost found the range twice in the nightcap which was halted in the fourth inning because of rain with the Senators ahead, 6-2. Leaping catches in front of the left field barrier deprived Dimaggio of two additional home runs.

By taking the opener the Yankees edged to within a half game of the league-leading Detroit Tigers, who split a doubleheader with the Chicago White Sox. They also retained their half game edge over the third place Boston Red Sox, who turned back their Philadelphia "cousins," 6-2.

Lefty Hal Newhouser pitched the Tigers to a 1-0, 12-inning victory over Randy Gumpert in the opener at Chicago, winning out on a triple by Eoot Evers and single by Johnny Groth. The White Sox took the nightcap, 5-1, behind Ray Scarborough.

A three-run pinch-hit double by Tom Wright featured a four-run eighth inning rally that gave the Red Sox their 22nd consecutive victory over the Athletics at Fenway Park.

The St. Louis Browns further dampened Cleveland's hopes by noosing out the fourth place Indians, 3-1.

Pirates Prepare For Clash With Naval Apprentice

After eight days of early season practices, Coach Bill Dole begins preparing his East Carolina gridders today for the season opener with the Naval Apprentice School at Newport News, Va. on Friday night, Sept. 15. Drilling primarily on passing, pass defense, blocking, and punting through the entire first week, Coach Dole has many rough spots that must be smoothed before the opening game.

Greeted by 42 candidates on opening day, 26 of which were lettermen, the Pirates buckled down immediately and held drills twice daily. Coach Dole was forced to begin single drills on Sept. 7, due to the beginning of classes. Dole has used the two platoon system in an attempt to find the most effective combination.

Sparking the drills thus far has been Roger Thrift, all-conference quarterback from last season. Throwing passes with deadly accuracy, the senior from Carrboro has hit Ends Ed Tanner, Dwight Shoe, Bob Maennie, Bob Bradley and Cecil Winslow time and time again with his aerials. Sandy Siler, a letterman from Siler City, has looked impressive as Thrift's understudy and is also scheduled to see plenty of action.

Looking good up front so far has been Buck Wilson, Bill McDonald, Don McKenzie, Reggie Byrd, and Leon Ellis. The line positions seem pretty well set with at least three lettermen at every position.

Snead Wins Reading Open And Sets Record In Rain

Reading, Pa., Sept. 11—(AP)—Samuel Jackson Snead, the golfing West Virginia hillbilly, headed for St. Louis today, his pockets jingling with cash.

It was an old feeling for Snead biggest money winner among the nation's golfers, but the jingle of the coin was louder than it has been since last May.

For Snead had won his first major tournament since he took the colonial invitation at Fort Worth, Tex. It was quite a victory. In picking up top money of $2,600 at the Reading Open, Snead shattered the competitive course record on the 6,456 yard Berkshire Country club layout. And he set his new record in a driving rainstorm.

It was all over but the check-passing Friday night when Snead moved six strokes ahead of the field. But Sammy did more than go through the motions yesterday as he fired his fourth straight subpar round to come home with his record-smashing score of 298.

Tall, Short Yanks

NEW YORK—(AP)—The recent purchase of 6-foot, 5-inch John (Jumbo) Yonaker, defensive end, from the Cleveland Browns, gives the New York grid Yanks the Mutt & Jeff championship of the league. Buddy Young, flashy halfback, stands 5-feet, 8-inches, a full foot shorter than his new teammate.

Homer Ends Slump

Boston—(AP)—Clyde Vollmer was happy for many reasons when his pinch home run with the bases loaded beat Cleveland in an 11-7 contest at Fenway Park. In Vollmer's nine previous attempts as a pinch hitter he had failed to get on base. After a pinch walk in June he fanned five straight times as a pinch hitter, hit into double play and flied out twice.

Southern Educators Look For Prolonged 'Period Of Tension'

Daytona Beach, Fla., Sept. 11—(AP)—Presidents and representatives from 47 Southern colleges had word today there is "strong likelihood" this fall is in for a long "period of tension" and their plans should be made accordingly.

The statement came from M. H. Trytten, director of the office of scientific personnel, National Research Council in Washington. He made it during a discussion last night among a seven-man panel on the effect war mobilization would have on colleges.

Dr. A. J. Brumbaugh, president of Frances Shimer College at Mount Carroll, Ill., presided over the session as the Southern Regional Education board of control ended a 10-day meeting.

Trytten said: "It would not be good policy to say automatically that all males in college should be deferred, and so some standard must be set to maintain proper training of students." He said he thought such a plan is under serious consideration in Washington.

To show how industry might need reserves of trained men, he said, 35 per cent of all key men in industry today are reserve officers and hence subject to military call.

Dr. Francis Brown, staff associate of the American council on education in Washington, said general mobilization of manpower is indicated; that the ROTC is "pushing dispersion of research away from coastal areas because there is no reason to think we will not be attacked."

He said, too, any selective service deferment plan for students would put tremendous responsibility on institutions to retain students best fitted for study. He said various educational groups are trying to plan some method of deferment for key faculty members.

Dr. Charles Odegaard of the American Council of Learned Sciences, Washington, said a war has been going on since 1946 and that "one country after another has been absorbed into the iron curtain. We are now in a hotter kind of conflict and mobilization will, of course, depend upon how much hotter it gets."

Flash Floods In Virginia Recede

Richmond, Va., Sept. 11—(AP)—Rampaging waters receded today from flash floods which hit widely scattered parts of Virginia yesterday, drowning at least two persons, causing widespread property damage and interrupting rail and road traffic.

Hundreds of homes were washed away, highways and rail lines suffered flooding and washouts, and business firms received heavy water damage as heavy rains converted small streams into raging rivers.

Rockbridge County, in west central Virginia, was hit hardest, but there were reports of flooded conditions farther southwest in Henry County and far to the northeast in Spotsylvania and Caroline Counties. Outside of Rockbridge, however, damage was not heavy.

Three small streams—Kerrs Creek, Buffalo Creek and Whistle Creek—went out of their banks in Rockbridge, demolishing homes and sweeping two persons to their death.

At least two major highways, U.S. routes 11 and 60, were entirely blocked to traffic for several hours in Rockbridge. Service was restored on Route 11, but one-way traffic was the maximum on Route 60 late last night.

Many Belgians speak both French and Flemish.

Drop In Tobacco Prices For Week

Raleigh, N.C., Sept. 11—(AP)—Tobaccoists watched the flue-cured markets a little more closely today following last week's trend which saw prices slump on the middle, Carolina border and eastern tobacco belts.

Noting the price drop, the Federal-State Departments of Agriculture were quick to point out that general quality also was lower and volume heavy.

On the middle belt price decreases ranged from $1 to $3 per hundred pounds. Gross sales totaled 17,252,575 pounds at an average of $56.71 per hundred. That was a drop of $2.83 from the previous week.

On the border belt, most decreases were $1 to $2. Gross sales totaled 34,248,021 pounds averaging $54.13, the lowest of the season and $2.57 under the previous week. Pamlico, S.C., and Fayetteville, N.C., will close their markets for the season tomorrow.

On the eastern belt, offerings were extremely heavy with markets blocked most of the time. A large number of heavy volume grades were off $1 to $4. Gross sales totaled 43,711,860 pounds averaging $55.88, or $1.29 under last week.

The U. S. Defense Department telephone exchange in Washington handles 225,000 in side and 90,000 outside calls per day.

Overwhelming Majority Of U.S. Young Men Readily Accepting Call To Service

New York, Sept. 11—(AP)—Are American men dodging the new draft? Not the overwhelming majority. There have been a few well-reported soft spots in the draft here and there over the nation. New York City is one of them. Chicago somewhat less so.

But on a national basis, a 29-city survey by the Associated Press shows the young men of 1950 are doing their duty as well and as quietly as the young men of 1940 or the young men of 1917.

That is not to say the Selective Service System's nasty switch from peace to war has been smooth. It could hardly be. But neither has it shown any widespread bad morale, malingering, or organized resistance to America's stand in Korea.

Some shocking figures on draft delinquencies have been printed in recent weeks—mostly in the big cities. Some of these have reached the total of 30 per cent.

If that meant what it seemed, things would be in very bad shape indeed. It would amount to a national sit-down strike that would fatally sabotage American power abroad and give the enemy more than just aid and comfort.

It's true that in New York City 12 per cent of the men actually failed to show up for one induction call—a very serious matter, especially for the men.

It's also true that in Chicago and other big cities like Baltimore, St. Louis and Indianapolis from 15 to 30 per cent have failed to answer draft board letters or to show up for pre-induction physical examinations.

But in contrast to this, the pre-induction delinquencies have been much less than one per cent in Portland, Maine, and Portland, Oregon . . . in Texas and Colorado . . . in Kansas City and Milwaukee and North Carolina. In these cities and states—and many others—willful delinquencies are almost at the vanishing point.

What the figures mean, draft officials seem to agree, is simply that a lot of young Americans in our quick-shifting population have just moved away and left no forwarding address.

There are really two kinds of "draft delinquents," and possibly some of the scare writing hasn't taken this into account.

One is a fellow who for some reason or other doesn't get his "greetings" from the draft board—or who forgets that physical exam. Maybe he's on vacation, or at sea, or away working. Or he just forgets the draft board should always have his right address.

This fellow is liable to a $10,000 fine and five years in federal prison, but if the reason is honest enough, draft boards often take a merciful view.

The other fellow is in a tougher spot. He's already qualified by reporting and passing his exams—but he just doesn't show up on the morning of his induction call.

In this case—or in any other "willful" delinquency—the board usually turns the matter over to the FBI and the United States attorney, who plays for keeps.

In both cases, if a man is delinquent, or thinks he is, draft officials urge the fastest possible report to the draft board.

Good Books Are 'Pumped' Into Eastern Germany

Berlin (AP)—West Germans have started a drive to pump good books into the Soviet Zone. They think the East German is becoming brain-weary from a diet of books that constantly hammers home the Soviet and Communist political message.

The Westerners have organized a "Bureau for Cultural Help" with the sponsorship of such leaders as Mayor Ernst Reuter of West Berlin.

and Eugen Kogon, journalist and author whose Nazi concentration camp experiences are told in the best-selling "The SS State."

The bureau contends that the very existence of the German language east of the Elbe river after five years of Soviet occupation is endangered. The bookshelves, the schools and the universities are clogged with Russian language textbooks.

The RANGE DOCTOR

by OSCAR J. FRIEND

Chapter 26
The large posse rode in comparative silence, grim bent on a grim business. Logan and Barton rode in the van, Mollie between them. Close at the doctor's heels followed Jess Plum like a guardian angel. While the mountain men looked to Logan for guidance, the ranchers and punchers to Barton, and the men from town to Farnsworth and Hawkins, the entire party rode under the banner of Sheriff Matlock. Only Judge Steele and Overstreet remained behind.

"Plum watches over you like a dog," Barton commented briefly to the physician. "You should have armed yourself."
"There's an understanding between us," Logan admitted. "You warm enough, Mollie?"
"Quite," she said. "Matlock will talk about this posse to his dying day."

Logan was not interested in Matlock.
He glanced at the girl under the pale starlight. Oddly, he was thinking of something Tom Griggsby had once said about her. "Mollie's the kind who'd go to hell with you."
She was, indeed. How could he have been so blind all this time?

"Mollie's wearin' a six-shooter," Barton grumbled. "Even young Nolly borrowed the judge's shotgun."
"I'll be all right," Logan said shortly. "The thing to do is get there."

They found the settlement wrapped in darkness, the outlying shacks closed and lifeless. At the Botella de Repleto and the hotel only were there any lights, and these two places were quiet and practically deserted. They advanced cautiously, fearing a trap at the ease with which they had penetrated Frijole Flats, and flung a cordon of men about both establishments.

Their caution proved needless.
The settlement was taken in typical Matlockian fashion. Not a shot was fired.
With Mollie and Jess Plum flanking him, Logan walked boldly into the cantina. Matlock, equally indifferent to possible danger, lumbered after them. Barton, Hawkins, and Farnsworth followed closely, spread-

Two Are Hurt In City Accidents

Two persons were injured in Greenville over the weekend in two automobile accidents in the city.

A car operated by Herman C. Cannon, of 1110 B Cotanche Street, Greenville, got out of control on Fifth Street yesterday afternoon when its driver started to pass another car, skidded on the wet pavement and crashed into a telephone pole.

Cannon, who was reported by Greenville police to be suffering from a serious leg injury, was taken to Pitt General Hospital for treatment, by the Greenville fire department's rescue truck.

Officers stated that the car was completely demolished.

A check with the Pitt General Hospital today revealed that the man was not at the hospital having been treated and released.

The accident occurred about 5:15 Sunday afternoon at the intersection of Fifth and Roosevelt streets.

On Saturday afternoon a Negro boy was slightly injured when the bicycle he was riding was struck by a car operated by an unknown Negro. The driver fled the scene and as yet has not been apprehended.

Mayor Of Ayden Resigned For Health Reasons

Ayden, Sept. 11.—The Town Board last week accepted the resignation of Mayor J. R. Taylor who tendered the request for reasons of health. Taylor stated he had been advised by his doctor to give up some of his activities and was advised to resign his public duties. The board accepted the resignation which was effective immediately.

Taylor was appointed to the mayor's office early in 1947. He filled the unexpired term of Dr. R. C. Smith who resigned at that time.

The board unanimously adopted a resolution expressing its regrets and extended to Taylor its gratitude for the leadership he had rendered during his term of office.

It is now considering the appointment of another man to fill the term.

Ex-Congressman Returns To Home

Allendale, N.J., Sept. 11.—(AP)—J. Parnell Thomas, the ex-congressman who went to prison for padding his government payroll, is home again.

He did not say whether he would ever re-enter public life, but remarked that his immediate plan is "well-needed rest."

The former chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities returned to his family here yesterday after serving eight and a half months of a six-to-18-month sentence at the Federal Correctional Institution at Danbury, Conn.

Langston attended the Army officers intelligence school at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, in 1942, and later attended a military police school in Germany and the bomber reconnaissance school in Bristol, England.

After leaving service, Langston served for a while with the Kinross police department but resigned his position to attend the State Highway Patrol school at Chapel Hill in the fall of 1946. He was a member of the highway patrol until October, 1949 when he resigned to accept a position with the Highway Safety Division of the Department of Motor Vehicles as a field representative for highway safety.

He resigned his office with the Department of Motor Vehicles to accept the appointment as police 1946. At the present time he holds the rank of major in the 196th Field Artillery Group of the North Carolina National Guard which has headquarters in Kinston.

Only one highway accident was reported over the past weekend in Pitt county, a check with the Greenville Patrol office revealed today.

The lone accident occurred on the Big Oak Road near Bethel, about one a.m. Sunday morning. A car operated by Paul Frank, Jr., Negro, age 18, struck another car driven by James Alander, of Route 3, Bethel, causing about $85 damages to the two cars.

According to Highway Patrolman Dick Chadwick, the car operated by Frank was on the left side of the highway and struck the car in the side as it attempted to pass it.

Frank was charged with driving on the wrong side of the highway.

Emergency Truck In Three Rescue Calls

The Greenville Fire Department's rescue truck had a busy time over the weekend as it responded to three calls in the city.

The first call came around 3:00 Saturday, when a Negro boy was run over on 14th Street. The lad had been taken to a doctor's office when the emergency truck arrived. It was reported that he was not injured, only shaken up.

Around four o'clock, a Negro man, Marcus Ringo, fell at Five Points and suffered a gash in the back of his head. He was taken to Pitt General Hospital for treatment.

Yesterday afternoon Herman Cannon of Greenville, who was injured in an automobile crash on Fifth Street, was taken to the hospital for treatment, making the third trip for the unit in the past two days.

New Cattle Breeding Organization Plans Meet Tuesday Night

The steering committee of the newly formed artificial insemination program for cattle of Pitt County will meet tomorrow night in the county agriculture building to discuss plans for putting the program into operation.

Members of the committee number about 40, representing all 13 townships in the county. They were named at a mid-winter meeting which was sponsored by the agriculture committee of the Greenville Chamber of Commerce.

Since that time, the two or three representatives of the various townships have been busy signing farmers who have pledged their cows for the program. Right now there are about 400 cows signed for the program's services when it is begun. Six hundred are required for the initiation of the service in the county.

In his Saturday night radio and television speech, and in executive orders, the President announced a mobilization program, involving eight federal agencies. He said defense spending will be doubled—to $30,000,000,000 a year—by next June. He demanded much higher taxes.

He created an "economic stabilization" (ESA) to hold down inflation.

Emerging at the top of the mobilization program was W. Stuart Symington, chairman of the National security resources board. Symington will coordinate the efforts of all agencies and settle policy disputes.
