

Additional Time Is Given Probers

Senate Approves 30-Day Extension; Group Plans Recommendation For Continuing Investigation Of Underworld; Truman Praises Work

Washington, March 30 — (AP) — Senate crime probe, given an additional 30 days to finish their work, made plain today they expect to recommend some kind of continuing investigation of the underworld.

A resolution extending the committee's life through April 30 was unanimously approved in the Senate late yesterday.

Although the resolution left the committee free to operate as it has in the past, chairman Kefauver (D-Tenn.) and other members said no further hearings or investigations are planned in the month ahead.

Instead, after a strenuous schedule of televised public hearings watched by millions of persons, the committee is going to catch its breath and then try to hammer out recommendations for new laws.

One of the problems promised careful consideration is what should be done in the future to keep a searchlight on organized crime. Still to be decided is the best method.

The 30-day extension of the committee, made at the unanimous request of Kefauver and the other four members, came amid these developments:

1. President Truman gave the committee "great credit for focusing public attention on the need for ever greater efforts to stamp out crime." He said his administration has been taking "positive steps" to combat crime.

Mr. Truman's comments were made in a statement he read at a White House news conference.

2. The crime committee voted to ask the Senate to cite Frank Costello, New York racketeer and gambler, for contempt of Congress because of his refusal to disclose his net worth.

3. The committee cancelled previous plans for giving five bawdy witnesses a last chance today to escape possible contempt charges.

The five, all of whom refused at recent hearings to answer questions, include Jacob (Greasy Thumb) Gurik, reputed money handler for Chicago's Capone mob, and Morris Kleinman and Louis Rothkopf, former Cleveland toolleggers linked by the committee with an interstate gambling syndicate.

The other two are William G. O'Brien of Chicago, involved in the committee's investigation of race wire service to Miami Beach bookies, and John Croft, who was questioned about swank gambling casinos in the northern Kentucky area.

Aldermen Okay Taking Property Into City Limits

In a called meeting this morning the board of aldermen approved a subdivision of property in the northwest section of the city to be taken into the corporate limits.

The property, located south of 5th Street and west of Tyson Street, is owned by Reynolds May, David Evans and Bancroft Mosely. It is bordered by 5th Street on the north, Eppes Park on the south, the city limits on the east and the western limits are a ravine that runs south from 5th Street.

The aldermen's approval is subject to final approval of the Greenville planning board.

The Global Picture

Marshall Says Outlook Is More Serious; Wilson Says Progress In Arming America Is Frightening To Any Foe; Both Are Right, Opines Analyst; Reasoning

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

Secretary of Defense Marshall has described the global picture as being on the whole more serious than last November, when the western allies had serious reverses in Korea.

The General hasn't interpreted his statement, but leaves it to us to figure out. That task is complicated somewhat by the simultaneous declaration of Mobilization Director Wilson that America's principal enemy should be "frightened" by the progress the United States has made in preparing for any attack. He says we now have "in sight" the military might to deter aggression.

Both these seemingly contradictory statements are correct, as I read them.

It's true there are no indications that another world war is imminent. This is due primarily to two reasons: One is that Russia has no present desire to tangle with the rapidly growing military might of the determined western nations. The other is that her cold war is calculated to cause the maximum economic and political damage to the western world

Four Sentenced For Break-In Of Local VFW Club

Road Terms For Two; Man And Girl Given Suspended Sentences

into the VFW club last August 7 were given road sentences this morning in Superior Court for the attempted theft of slot machines from the club. A third man drew a three-year suspended road sentence and the girl who was with the quartet drew a 12-month suspended sentence.

The two men who were sentenced to the roads are James A. Harrington, two years, and Edward Harrington, six months. Ernest R. Byrum, Jr., was given a three year suspended sentence and placed on probation for four years plus a $100 fine. Margie Harris, 17-year-old waitress in Greenville, received 12 months in Women's Prison, suspended on a three years' probationary period.

Byrum's sentence was at first four months in county jail and two years on the roads, suspended on a three year probationary period. It was later commuted to a straight suspended sentence after the pleadings of his mother and attorney, Albion Dunn.

All four pleaded nolo contendere which dispensed with a jury trial, something the quartet had requested when they appealed a previous judgment in Greenville's recorder's court. Rudolph Manning, the fifth man in the indictment, was not present yesterday. He is in the Army at the present time and his trial was continued. All five were indicted for breaking, entering and larceny.

In addition to the three slot machines taken from the veterans' club, the group stole three automobile tires and a quantity of cigars, cigarettes, beer and other odds and ends from Clarence Waters' service station on the Bethel highway.

The three men and the girl, who is now married to a Marine, took the stand in their own behalf yesterday afternoon. The girl stated she didn't know what was going on when the men stole the machines and the service station goods. She stated she was dating Byrum and had asked several times for him to take her home.

Byrum had his original sentence commuted after attorney Dunn stated the man had moved to Asheville, had married, had become affiliated with a church, and had stopped drinking entirely. An affidavit from members of his wife's family stating that was presented to the court during the trial.

For James A. Harrington the sentence in the VFW theft climaxed a busy week in court. He had been indicted on three charges in addition to two charges in yesterday's trial. The former three, which were consolidated for purposes of issuing a judgment, were assault, resisting arrest and careless and reckless driving. He received a six-month sentence on those three counts.

His two sentences in Pitt County are to begin at the end of a present two-year sentence received in Nash County Superior Court for attempted robbery.

Judge Leo Carr heard the testimony of the defendants and also the evidence of the Greenville Police Department, members of which had halted the VFW theft before the men could drive away. Carr waited to pass sentence until this morning. He stated yesterday he wanted some time to think about each one.

Plant Manager Looks Over Carding Machine

Plant Manager Alfred O. Therkildsen (second from right) looks over the operation of one of the six wool carding machines of the plant of Greenville Mills, Inc. It was announced today that Greenville Mills, Inc., has become a wholly owned subsidiary of Artloom Carpet Company, Inc., of Philadelphia. Watching the machine with Therkildsen (left to right) are Dye Boss Howard N. Hogan, Mill Superintendent George A. Shelton and Stanley Anderson who is supervising the installation of all the machinery in the new plant. (Reflector Staff Photo).

Artloom Carpet Co. Buying Full Control Of Local Plant

Accept Plan For Rail Arbitrator

Trainmen Accept Management Offer To Settle Dispute

Washington, March 30 — (AP) — The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen today accepted a rail management proposal that President Truman name an arbitrator in a long-standing dispute over rules changes.

W. P. Parker, president of the brotherhood, told the Senate Labor Committee the union's acceptance of the two-year-old dispute down to one remaining issue.

That deals with a disagreement over a working rule covering the coupling of air hose.

There was no immediate indication whether the three other railway operating unions involved in the dispute would go along with the trainmen and agree to the carriers' proposal to have Mr. Truman name an arbitrator.

D. P. Loomis, representing the carriers, told the labor committee Wednesday the railroads were willing to let the President name an arbitrator.

Previously the railroads had insisted that the arbitrator be Dr. John R. Steelman, assistant to the President, as provided in a "Memorandum of Agreement" which the carriers and the union chiefs signed at the White House last Dec. 21.

Tax Men To Get Lion's Share Of Hidden Hoard

Yonkers, N. Y., March 30 (AP) — The $33,736 two schoolboys found in the attic of a ramshackle mansion here may prove a boon only to the tax collectors.

The cash, more than $900 of it in gold coins, was claimed by the central national bank, administrator of the estate of Mrs. Franklin D. Bigelow, owner of the mansion, who died last August.

Hidden cash that has been found, largely in safe deposit boxes, exceeds $350,000, the bank said. A bank official said federal income tax agents contend all such hidden cash must be considered income in the last year of Mrs. Bigelow's life and be taxed accordingly.

Income tax officials confirmed this interpretation and said such taxes on the $350,000 for 1950 would amount to $300,000. Inheritance taxes then would be levied on the remainder.

Roberts, Bloom File Today For May 7 Elections

Incumbents in the two judicial offices of the city recorder's court filed this morning for re-election in the city clerk's office.

Judge J. W. H. Roberts and Solicitor El Bloom filed simultaneously this morning. Both will run in the May 7 voting.

Roberts filed for his fifth term, having been unopposed in the biennial elections of 1943 through 1949. He was appointed to the position of judge in the summer of 1942 to fill the unexpired term of Louis C. Skinner who was called into the Navy.

Hey, Soldier

Tokyo, March 30 — (AP) — The 187th Airborne Regiment sent this story back here today:

Paratrooper Cpl. Richard M. Melike, 21, of McAfee, N. J., landed last week near Munsan and asked the nearest soldier for a light.

The soldier turned. Melike stiffened and saluted, but accepted the match from Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway.

Epidemics Said Reducing Enemy

Tokyo, March 30 — (AP) — An informed military source said today soldiers and civilians in Red Korea are dying by the thousands of smallpox, typhus and typhoid.

He said the diseases are putting far more Red soldiers out of action than United Nations shells and bombs. The situation is said to be worst among civilians.

The communists don't have enough doctors. Most medical men and nurses have been drafted for military service. The few left reportedly are not even making a pretense of treating the civilian population.

Intelligence reports say the Reds tried to carry out vaccination programs in some areas. However, U. N. medical teams reported stocks of vaccine captured in North Korea last fall were tested and found to be ineffective.

Since then, the health situation is said to have worsened.

Judy Holliday And Ferrer Win Top Filmland Honors

Hollywood, March 30 — (AP) — Judy Holliday, the junk dealer's squeaky-voiced babe in "Born Yesterday," won the Academy Award last night from two mature actresses, Gloria Swanson and Bette Davis.

Joe Ferrer was given the top male Oscar for his swaggering performance as the bulbous "Cyrano De Bergerac." For the first time in Motion Picture Academy history, neither winner was present. Both Miss Holliday and Ferrer are in New York.

Statuettes for the best supporting roles in 1950 were bestowed on Josephine Hull, the filtering sister in "Harvey," and George Sanders, acid-tongued critic of "All About Eve."

"All About Eve" captured honors for the Best Film of 1950, winning five other awards as well. Its writer-director, Joseph L. Mankiewicz, walked off the platform with

Option Taken Up To Purchase All Outstanding Stock Of Greenville Mills Inc.; Will Manufacture Woolen Yarn For Blankets And Carpets

The Artloom Carpet Company, Inc. of Philadelphia, Pa. has exercised its option to purchase all of the outstanding stock of the Greenville Mills, Inc., Greenville, North Carolina and will operate the plant as a wholly owned subsidiary.

The announcement was made in Greenville this morning by Alfred O. Therkildsen, manager of the Greenville plant which will manufacture woolen yarn for blankets and woolen yarn to be used in carpets by the parent company.

The announcement brought to a climax the speculation by local citizens as to the identity of the textile corporation which was behind the formation of Greenville Mills, Inc. Speculation as to the identity of the parent company has been varied since it was announced last fall that the plant in South Greenville owned by Greenville Spinners, Inc. had been leased to a corporation known as Greenville Mills, Inc. which would process wool.

The official announcement which was handed to the Reflector this morning by Plant Manager Therkildsen said in part:

"It is estimated that Greenville Mills, Inc. will be able to produce approximately 25 per cent of the requirements of the Artloom Carpet

(Continued on page ten)

Child Wounded By Shotgun In Sister's Hands

A six-year-old Negro girl was shot by her eight-year-old sister sometime between 7:30 and 8 o'clock this morning.

Sheriff Tyson said the children were playing in the home when Annie Lee Johnson aimed the 12-gauge shotgun at her sister, Clara Lee and fired, hitting her above the eye near the temple. Tyson said the girl was fired at pretty close range and that the girl said she didn't know the gun was loaded.

On admission to the hospital, physicians said the child had a bad scalp injury and her condition is termed as very serious.

The Johnsons are tenants of J. A. Bunting and live about six miles from Greenville on the Belvoir road.

No Inquest Into Man's Death Here Thursday

Thomas Hicks, 76, Negro, died at his home yesterday afternoon around 1:45. Coroner Griffin H. Rouse reported, of natural causes.

The man, who lived at 1513 South Railroad Street, had been in bad health for the past six years, the coroner stated.

Prior to his illness the man worked with the city of Greenville for several years.

No inquest will be held, it was reported.

Halsey And Stettinius Brought Into Ship Deals

Washington, March 30 — (AP) — Investigating senators moved today to air fully a profitable deal in war surplus ships into which the names of Admiral William F. (Bull) Halsey and the late former Secretary of State Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., have been injected.

The two and Julius C. Holmes, minister and counselor at the U.S. Embassy in London, were identified last night as members of a group which engineered the deal.

Two senate committees promptly announced they may call Joseph E. Casey, former Democratic congressman from Massachusetts and a leader of the group, for questioning. Casey resigned on Wednesday to give the

Red Counterattack Stalls Under Pounding Artillery

Employees At Twisting Machine

Three employees of Greenville Mills, Inc. are shown at one of the twisting machines which is twisting yarn in the new plant in Greenville. Although limited operations are being carried on at the new woolen plant at the present time, officials today announced the plant is expected to be in full operation by May 1. The plant will produce woolen yarn for carpets and blankets. (Reflector Staff Photo).

Son In Japan Spoke With Local Family

After 24 hours of anxious waiting, Mrs. Walter Cox finally talked to her son, Pvt. Walter Cox, Jr., who is hospitalized in Korea from wounds he received in Korea.

Mrs. Cox first received a telegram from the Osaka army hospital stating that he was injured. She kept getting letters from Walter who told her that he hadn't gotten any mail from home in two months so she put a call in for him on Monday night. At 6:30 Tuesday afternoon, she talked to the operator in Tokyo who asked her why she wished to talk to her son. Mrs. Cox told the operator that her son has been wounded and that he was not receiving any mail from home. The operator then told her that the next time her phone rang, she would hear Walter's voice.

When she finally got Walter at 2:30 Wednesday morning, the connections were so clear that Mrs. Cox said he sounded like he was in the next room. Because of strict army censorship, Walter wasn't able to answer all of the questions his family asked him but he did tell them that he was all right and would be up walking around in a few weeks. The whole family talked to Walter for 15 or 20 minutes.

Walter told his mother that he had just received his Christmas

(Continued on page ten)

Utilities Vote On Loan Tonight

Whether or not more than 2,500 families in the rural areas of Pitt, Beaufort and Craven Counties will get electric current in the near future will be determined tonight when the Greenville Utilities Commission takes a final aye-or-nay vote on the pending REA loan.

Tonight's session is an adjourned meeting which was called by Chairman Roy Martin after it became apparent at last week's meeting an impasse would be reached if a vote was taken then. Commissioners John Clark, who stated last week he would be here for the meeting, and W. H. Woodard stated at that time they could not vote for the loan amendment which would mortgage the entire electric system as security for payment of the loan.

On the other hand Commissioners K. B. Pace and J. B. Kittrell indicated they would vote for the loan as did Martin, the latter to vote in case a tie-breaking vote is needed.

Law Books And TV

A Whole New Shelf Of Law Books May Be Required To Answer All The Questions Raised By Television's Use In Public Hearings; Can They Be Too Public?

By JACK ADAMS

Washington, March 30 — (AP) — Top government attorneys say television is about to force the writing of a whole new shelf of law books. Just now, it's a wide open field. There is plenty of opinion, some of it loud, on what rights the TV camera has, or doesn't have, outside the studio. But to date, there is no federal law on the subject, and no major court has passed on any of the big questions involved.

The Kefauver Senate crime investigation telecasts — smash hit of the TV year — brought the whole subject into sharp focus, without offering any final answers.

So, as matters now stand, one man's opinion is as good as another's as to who has what rights in relation to TV and an individual under investigation, on trial, or simply called as a witness in this type of proceeding.

Among the many controversial questions raised by the Kefauver hearings, this one stands out: Can a public hearing be too public? According to the lawyers, this one could be kicked around for years before the Supreme Court

(Continued on Page Ten)

Fury Of Communist Attack Forces Scattered Withdrawals; Air Spotters Report Heavy Reinforcements Pouring Toward Front; Allies Await Big Push

Tokyo, March 30 — (AP) — American big guns today stalled the first Chinese Red counterthrust in six weeks along the western Korean battlefield.

Doughboys spotted the Chinese moving along a mountain trail north of Uijongbu. U. S. artillery pounded the mountain and by dusk the Reds still had not pushed through the curtain of fire.

Bitter, close-range fighting flared all day throughout the area. The Americans won a commanding hill with a hand-grenade attack that rocked the Reds back on their heels.

The fury of communist attacks forced allied troops to give ground at several points along the front just south of the Korean border.

The Chinese moved 30,000 fresh troops toward the front. Long lines of vehicles rushed communist troops and supplies toward the battlefield.

Allied air spotters Thursday night tallied 2,000 Red vehicles — the largest count of the war — jamming the Red Korea transport network.

There was every sign the Reds had stopped their retreat and would make a stand along the Red Korean border.

American troops on the east central front moved closer to the border than they have ever been on their present drive.

Field dispatches said allied forces made fighting pullbacks in a few areas of the western and central fronts.

The Reds poured heavy artillery into allied lines on the central front. Patrol clashes flared along the battlefield.

About 70 American and Russian-built jet fighter planes clashed over North Korea Friday in two separate high-altitude dogfights. U. S. pilots claimed at least one Red jet destroyed and two others damaged. There was no damage to American planes.

The Red infantry was poised along a 60-mile front.

Many of the fresh troops may be replacements for Reds felled by a triple epidemic of typhus, smallpox and typhoid fever. Allied sources said the diseases had hit untold thousands of civilians and Red soldiers in North Korea in recent weeks.

The new arrivals were bunched along parallel 38 on a 60-mile line centered north of Chunchon. Chunchon is eight miles south of the border.

They could be the jump-off force of an expected communist spring offensive.

The U. S. Eighth Army command says the Reds at any moment can throw nine rested or fresh army corps — some 270,000 men — into such a drive.

If they do, it would be their greatest smash of the war. If the Reds should strike in the first three weeks of April, they might find allied armor bogged down by deep mud.

But AP correspondent Leif Erickson reported that Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's Eighth Army is in the best position of the war to absorb the shock of a major red drive.

The Eighth Army holds strong positions just south of the 38th parallel on the western and central fronts. Some of its South Korean units are eight miles north of the border on the eastern front.

gets in the final word. It is expected that it will, someday, do just that.

About everyone agrees that when the founding fathers provided in the earliest American law for "open hearings," they had in mind a room that could hold a couple of benches so that neighbors could come in and see that justice was done.

The idea was to avoid any form of the star chamber, whose secret sessions and arbitrary judgments had shocked 17th century England into abolishing that kind of process.

On the other hand, these first Americans would have guffawed any suggestion of a public hearing attended by a coast-to-coast audience. They didn't live in an age to conceive such a thing.

Now that it's possible, there is the widest difference of opinion among lawyers and laymen as to whether the audience of millions for the Senate committee's examination of underworld characters was or was not a legal one.

Mrs. Sauve Talks On Confucianism At Aries Club

"Confucianism" was the subject of the paper presented at the Aries Book Club last night by Mrs. Fred Sauve when the meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Harry Forbes.

"Confucianism is a modern term coined by the Catholic missionaries to name the followers of the teaching of Confucius," explained the speaker in introducing her subject. She told a little of the life of Confucius, one of the world's greatest philosophers, who lived several centuries before Christ. For almost twenty centuries the Confucian group has been the ruling group in China.

The most important contribution of Confucius was the training of disciples, who, with their successors, collected the works and sayings of their leader and edited and interpreted them. It seems that Confucius was interested mainly in the behavior of people, and his philosophies were based on proper conduct of individuals," Mrs. Sauve said.

She gave in detail some of the theories and ideas adhered to by Confucianists as to the creation and formation of the world and society. She traced the cult of the ancestors and clarified the practice of ancestor worship, which has often been called the religion of the Chinese.

"In its long history ancestor worship has passed through many changes," said Mrs. Sauve in concluding her talk. "It is connected with the basic belief that the world of man and of those who have passed on are not two worlds but make one whole. The Chinese lives with his ancestors and his ancestors live with him and in him. Devotion to ancestors is still an important force in modern China."

The business session was conducted by the new president, Mrs. Lee Jenkins. Routine reports were given and announcements of the coming Art Festival and the plans for the annual Book Club Day were made. There was some discussion as to the purchase of the new books for the coming year.

During the social hour which followed, the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Sauve and Mrs. Marshall Starkey, served food drinks, sandwiches and cookies.

Mrs. C. M. Warren, Mrs. Betty Tyson, Ligon and Miss Adelaide Warren were special guests for the evening.

Bookmobile Schedules

MONDAY

Dupree's Crossroads—11:00-11:15
Benny Phillips Store—11:30-12:00
Fountain School—12:15-1:30
Tody—2:30-2:45
Fountain Public Library—3:00-3:30
Gurganus Store—3:45-4:00

The grave of Lafayette in Paris is covered with soil from Bunker Hill.

First Federal Savings and Loan Ass'n. Of Greenville

3% Current Dividend Rate on Insured Accounts Assets Over $2,000.000

WEDDING Announcements STATIONERY

Reception Cards
Visiting Cards
At Home Cards
Best Jewelry Co.
"Your Jewelers"

AIRPORT MODEL SHOP

Invites You To Come Out And Look Around
STORE HOURS: Monday - Friday, 4 to 6 P. M.
Saturday-Sunday, 1 to 6 P. M.

Planes • Engines • Supplies • Decals
Gliders • Cars • Trains • Boats

HAVE A HOBBY
Model Demonstrations Sunday Afternoons

Mrs. Robert Booth Entertains Club

Ayden.—The Book Lovers Club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Robert Booth on Wednesday evening at their regular monthly meeting.

The interior of the home was artistically decorated with early flowering shrubs and blooming flowers. Mrs. May Bure opened the meeting and Mrs. Jack Quinley, secretary, called the roll. Members responded to roll call with interesting current news quotes and new words. Books were exchanged. All seventeen members were present for this meeting.

Mrs. Bure called on Program Chairman Mrs. P. R. Taylor who presented Mrs. J. C. Andrews whose assigned subject for this meeting was "Moravians in North Carolina." Mrs. Andrews read a paper edited by Miss Mary Holland, a member of the Moravian Church in Winston-Salem. Her paper ably and characteristically traced the origin and growth of this powerful religion. In conclusion Miss Holland said, "I think the most significant contribution which the Moravians have made to the State has been their carefully kept records, which have been of a value impossible to estimate, their emphasis upon education and the educational advantages they made possible, especially for women."

The hostess served a sweet course at the close of the meeting.

Members present were Mesdames May Bure, Jack Quinley, Ralph Hardee, W. C. Ormond, G. G. Dixon, L. L. Kittrell, C. C. Little, Harry Dail, P. R. Taylor, J. H. Coward, J. C. Andrews, Lloyd Tingle and Misses Leva Dawson, Elizabeth Johnson, Virginia Belle Cooper and Clyde Stokes.

Bridge Club Meets With Miss Hemby

Ayden.—Miss Lila Hemby entertained the members of her bridge club on Wednesday night. Amid a setting of early spring flowers bridge was played at two tables.

Coca Colas and minta were served during the game.

At the end of play a tea apron was given Mrs. Bill Harrington, high, while a kitchen novelty was won by Mrs. Wayland Harrington, runner-up.

The hostess served a sweet course with coffee to Mesdames Bill Harrington, Wayland Harrington, Larry Davis, Berkeley Rutledge, W. O. Jolly, Jr., Robert Harris, Leon Dunn and R. H. Worthington.

Mrs. McCormick Is Hostess To Bridge Club

Ayden.—Mrs. Marvin McCormick entertained the members of her bridge club at her home on Friday night. Amid a setting of early spring flowers bridge was played at two tables.

Coca Colas were served during the game.

At the end of play "Old Spice" soap was given Mrs. "Mac" Edwards, high, while Mrs. Leslie Stokes was remembered with handkerchiefs for runner-up. Low, a dainty linen handkerchief, was given Mrs. Joe Tripp. A novelty vase was given Mrs. Marvin Baidree, guest.

A sweet course with coffee was served to Mesdames Edwards, Stokes, Tripp, Baidree, Tucker, Tripp, Chester Hart, Wilbur Dunn and Raymond Cox.

Talent Show at Red Oak

Don't fail to attend the "Talent Show" at Red Oak club house on Wednesday night, April 4. See "Rube, the Magician," "The Ditch-Diggers Quartet" and "The Pine Woods Rooters" from Williamston and Robertsonville. Also a big array of local talent, good music, good singing and a barrel of fun for all who like to laugh and have a good time. This talent show is sponsored by the young married couples class of Red Oak and the proceeds will be used for a good purpose. Admission for adults 30c, children under 10, 10c.

Social and Personal

All items for this page received after 10 a. m. will be published the following day. Dial 3366—9 A. M. to Noon; 1 to 4:30 P. M.

Mr. and Mrs. Grover C. Maxwell, Jr., returning from their honeymoon in Bermuda, left yesterday after visiting their parents, Col. and Mrs. Owen M. Marshall on route to their home in Augusta, Ga.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Paddison had as their guests over the weekend Miss Lucy Lanier and Mr. Gordon Fleming of High Point. Miss Lanier is the sister of Mrs. Paddison.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Creech and son Billy left this morning for New Jersey to visit Mr. Creech's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Rodenbeck of Closter.

Dr. Beecher Flanagan is critically ill in Pitt Memorial hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Griffith, Jr., and children, Rita Carolyn and Jamie Lou, are spending several days with Mr. Griffith's parents at St. Simons Island, Ga.

Birth Announcement
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Booth of Ayden announce the birth of a son, George Franklin, at Memorial hospital in Kinston on March 26.

Revival Notices
Revival services will begin on Sunday night, April 1, at Mcowan's Warehouse on Ninth street. Services will be conducted each night by Rev. George Gaskins.
The public is cordially invited to attend.

Little Theatre Guild Notice
There will be casting for the new spring play for Greenville Little Theatre Guild at Sheppard Memorial Library on Saturday and Tuesday nights, March 31 and April 3. Everyone interested in trying out for the play are urged to be present.

Pactolus Baptist Church Notice
Mr. C. F. Laughlin of Ellenboro, N.C. will conduct services at the Pactolus Baptist Church on Sunday morning at 11:00 p.m.
The members and friends of the church are cordially invited to attend.

White Shrine Rehearsal
There will be a White Shrine installation rehearsal in the Masonic Temple on Sunday evening, April 1st, at 8 p.m. All officers are requested to be present.

Singing Convention
Kennedy's singing convention will meet at Pleasant Hill Church (Pitt County) 2nd Sunday in April beginning at 2:00 o'clock. It will consist of four choirs and their special. They are as follows: Pleasant Hill, Macedonia, Wintergreen and Gethsemane. The public is cordially invited to come out and enjoy the occasion.

Attention Artists and Craftsmen
All local persons doing original work are invited to enter their work for the 16th annual art festival exhibits for local and visiting artists which will be shown in the Woman's club.

Anyone interested please call Mrs. John G. Fleming 3971. It is necessary for all exhibits to be taken to Mrs. Fleming's home or listed with her before April 6.

Circle Notice
Circles of Immanuel Baptist church will meet next week as follows:

The Stella Austin circle with Mrs. Wrenn Smiley at 506 East 8th street, at 3:30 p. m. Monday.

The Sarah Eddinger circle with Mrs. C. B. Rice at 207 Washington street at 3:30 p. m. Monday.

The Virginia Hill circle with Mrs. Fred Broadwell at 108 Jarvis street at 3:30 p. m. Monday.

Memorial Baptist Circles
The circles of Memorial Baptist church will meet on Monday afternoon at 3:30 in the following homes: Mary Lee Ernest circle with Mrs. J. L. Fleming.
Kathryn Grant circle with Mrs. C. D. Ward.
Betty Compton circle with Mrs. Royce Hunnacker.
Ruth Swann circle with Mrs. Herman Hardee.

S. F. Peterson to Preside at State Convention
S. F. Peterson, Ayden school, president of the Department of Agriculture of the N. C. Education Association, will preside at the two sessions of the department at the State convention of the NOEA, April 12-14 at Asheville.
Principal topic at the morning meeting of the department April 13 will be "The Role of Vocational Agriculture in the National Emergency."

40 Years Ago Today

THE DAILY REFLECTOR
March 30, 1911

The U. S. government revenue from all sources is about nine hundred and thirty million dollars, while the appropriations of Congress for the next fiscal year are considerably in excess of a billion dollars. This condition cannot continue indefinitely.

The Ayden city fathers are having the canal running through town cleaned out, getting ready for spring. This has been a great day for the ladies of Greenville and community, it marking the spring opening of the millinery establishments.
March is going out like a lion as usual.

O.E.S. Installation
The public is cordially invited to attend the installation of officers of Greenville chapter 149 O.E.S. tonight at 8 o'clock. A varied program will be given this year.

Service League
The Greenville Service League will meet at Sheppard Memorial Library Monday, April 2, at 10:30 a. m.

River Drive Beauty Shop to Be Closed
The River Drive Beauty Shop will be closed from Saturday, March 31 until Monday, April 9. Mrs. Fleming will be away attending the International Beauticians convention in New York.

"Spring Dinner" at Red Oak
The members of Red Oak church will serve a "Spring Dinner" at the club house next Sunday, April 1 from 11:30 until 2 o'clock. We need the money to help pay for new church pews. Come on out, bring your whole family and enjoy this meal with the good folks at Red Oak who always enjoy having you. The plates will be only $1 for adults and 50c for children. You will have a choice of fried spring chicken or boiled ham, spring greens, new snaps, new Irish potatoes, salads, candied yams, pickles, rolls or corn bread, a dessert and tea or coffee. Doesn't that sound good? We will be looking for you! Remember the date, Sunday, April 1.

Christian Church Announcements
The Eighth Street Christian Church will enter heartily into the citywide simultaneous evangelistic service this week, April 1 through April 8. We are most fortunate to have an outstanding man as the guest minister all the way through, Dr. John H. Booth, Indianapolis, Indiana. Dr. Booth will preach Sunday morning on the theme, "The Purpose of the Church" and at 8 p.m. on "The Power of the Church." At the morning service Sunday Miss Ruth Lambie will sing "Hast Thou Not Known" by Gerlie and at the evening service the chorus choir will offer a special hymn and also there will be a number by the mixed quartet.

The services will be held each evening except Saturday at 8 o'clock. Emphasis will be given to spirited congregational singing and special numbers of the more familiar numbers.

The executive committee of the Christian Woman's Fellowship will meet on Monday afternoon at 3:30 at the church and the president, Mrs. Bill Sermons, will preside.

The Board of Officers will not meet on the regular meeting night but will hold a postponed meeting on Sunday afternoon, April 8, at 8 p.m.

Circle Number 6 of the Christian Woman's Fellowship will serve a dinner on Monday of this week to the ministers of the Protestant churches in Pitt County and also the visiting ministers who will be here for the preaching missions this week. Mrs. Robert S. Moye is chairman of Circle 6.

Mrs. W.M. Scales Hostess To Sans Souci Club

Mrs. W. M. Scales delightfully entertained members of the Sans Souci Book Club on Tuesday afternoon. Her home on West Fourth Street was decorated with profusions of lovely early spring flowers, Jonquills and narcissi predominating in artistic arrangements, bringing a note of spring and festive air to the group.

Mrs. Hugh Ragsdale, president, presided over an important business session. Announcements of the forthcoming Art Festival to be held on April 10 were made, and an invitation to attend the luncheon meeting was extended each member.

Mrs. S. T. White, newly elected president for the next book club year, announced her committees to serve during 1951-1952.

The club members extended a warm welcome to their beloved member, Mrs. W. E. Hooker, who had been absent for many meetings because of illness.

Mrs. J. H. Rose gave a most interesting program describing a trip she had recently taken accompanying the journalism class of Greenville High School to New York. She gave highlights of the many outstanding plays she attended and bringing so vividly descriptions of actors and actresses that her listeners felt they had shared in the selected dramas of Broadway. The Sans Souci felt most grateful to Mrs. Rose for this program.

Mrs. Haywood Dail assisted Mrs. Scales in serving a tempting salad accompanied by coffee and cake.

Garden Club Tour Dates

April 4-5—Rocky Mount.
April 4-5—Goldsboro.
April 6-7—Fayetteville.
April 7-8—Mount Olive.
April 12—Siler City.
April 14—Chapel Hill.
April 25—Tryon.
April 26-26—Wadesboro.
May 3-4—Asheville.

Because of the unusually cold winter evergreens have been damaged and the gardens have suffered. However, the above gardens will give the public a chance to view the hardy gardens with the beautiful camellias, roses and other plants that have survived under these conditions. Next year there will be no state garden tour as club members have decided to concentrate on several defense projects.

Farmville News

Mrs. Eddie Caraway left Saturday morning for New York where she will take a post graduate course in beauty culture. Her sisters in Wilson and Fremont will join her. They will also attend the International Hair Styling school.

Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Harris of Rocky Mount were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Claud Tyson for the Easter holidays. Mrs. Fred Edwards and Miss Nell Harris visited Mrs. Tyson Monday afternoon and accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Harris home.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Teel and son were Durham visitors Easter Sunday. They visited the Duke gardens Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Julian Smith and son, Richard, of Greensboro, Miss Nannie Smith of Henderson and Mrs. Sarah Smith of Norfolk, Va. spent the Easter holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Smith.

Mr. Jack Smith has been appointed superintendent of the Belle Arthur Christian Sunday School. Mr. Smith moved his family to his new home on the Cobdale farm near Bell Arthur Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Johnson of Fayetteville spent part of the Easter holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Newton. Mrs. Johnson is a sister of Mrs. Newton.

Mrs. Z. B. T. Cox was a Rocky Mount visitor Thursday.

Miss Betty Rose Wilkerson of Greensboro College spent the Easter holidays at Rosedale with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Wilkerson.

SOCIAL CALENDAR

FRIDAY

6:30 p.m.—Kiwanis Club
6:30 p.m.—Exchange Club
7:30 p.m.—Red Men meet.
8:00 p. m.—Greenville chapter 149 O. E. S. will have a public installation of officers in the Masonic Temple.
8 to 10 p. m.—Mrs. Connie Hines and Mrs. James Adams will entertain for Miss Katie Lou Vincent at a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Adams.

SATURDAY

4:00-5:30 p. m.—Miss Lytle Batchelor will entertain for Miss Barbara Ann Larkins, bride-elect, at an informal tea.

Bride Elect Of Stokes Honors Her Attendants

Miss Virginia Congleton of Stokes, bride-elect of April, entertained her bridesmaids at a luncheon on Saturday.

The home was decorated throughout with colorful spring flowers. The guests were greeted at the door by the hostess and invited into the living room where they were served by the hostess and her mother, Mrs. J. B. Congleton. After the luncheon, bridge and canasta were played. Mrs. W. B. Congleton was winner of high score at bridge and Mrs. Henry Andrews Jr. winner of low. Miss Mävel Stokes was winner of high score at canasta and Miss Billie Sue Stokes, winner of low.

Guests included the attendants of the bride, Mrs. W. B. Congleton and Miss Corinne Pitts of Rocky Mount and Mrs. W. F. Stokes of Stokes.

Semi Centi Club Elects Officers

Mrs. Levy Corey was gracious hostess to the Semi-Centi Book Club on Tuesday evening at her home on Eastern Street. The meeting was devoted entirely to the election of new officers for the coming book club year. The following were unanimously elected to take office in September, 1951: Mrs. Frank Strawn, president; Mrs. Floyd Phillips, vice-president; Mrs. Bob Russ, secretary; and Mrs. Levy Corey, treasurer. Mrs. I. W. Straughn was appointed to the office of reporter and Miss Ola Ross, librarian.

Mrs. Corey served a refreshment plate of Coca-Colas and sandwiches, after which the books were exchanged and the meeting adjourned. The next meeting will be held on April 10 at the home of Mrs. Tyson Bilbro, the club's sponsor, at her home on East Third Street.

Bridge and Canasta Tournament
The Service League will sponsor a bridge and canasta tournament for the benefit of the Laughing-house hospital held at the home of Mrs. J. T. Little, Wednesday, April 4, at 2:30 p. m.

For reservations call Mrs. W. L. Whedbee 3281, Mrs. David Hardee 3405, or Mrs. Charles Braswell 3098.

Miss Jackson To Have Role in Play
Miss Susan Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Jackson, of Ayden, recently was selected to play a role in the Greensboro College Players' presentation of William Shakespeare's, "The Merchant of Venice." The play, directed by Miss Charlotte Searles of the speech department, is scheduled to be given April 20th in Odell auditorium.

Miss Jackson is a newcomer to the stage on Greensboro College campus. She is a member of the Freshman class, the Irving Society, the Spanish club and the Math club.

She will portray the character of Salanio.

BULGARIA BUILDS BUS
Prague—(AP)—The first trolleybus ever built in Bulgaria has emerged from a factory in Sofia and is now in service in that city, says a report published in the Prague press.

Mrs. Moore Gives Program On Art

Mrs. C. A. White was gracious hostess to the End of the Century Book Club on Tuesday afternoon, March 27th, at her home on Ninth Street.

During a brief business meeting Book Club Day plans were discussed. Mrs. J. L. Fleming presented to the club the book "Italian Painting—the Creators of the Renaissance" as the choice of her committee for the Bowen Shelf at the Sheppard Memorial Library.

The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. Hortense Moye, who presented Mrs. J.H.B. Moore as the speaker for the afternoon. Mrs. Moore gave a most interesting and enlightening program on "Art in North Carolina." She discussed the wonderful work done by the Woman's Clubs of the State for art—the State Art Society and the Art Gallery in Greenville. Always a forceful speaker, she was at her best for the subject was one of her most vital interests. A pioneer in the promotion of art in the State, she was familiar with all details of the efforts of the few to whom North Carolina owes much in this field. She gave many sidelights of the early struggle for survival and paid tribute to Mrs. Katharine Pendleton Arrington, Robert Lee Humber and others who have done much in the interest of art for the State. She also presented in detail the program for the Art Festival sponsored by the Woman's Club to be held in April in Greenville and urged the cooperation and participation in this outstanding event.

Mrs. Moore with her dynamic and energetic approach infused her own interest and enthusiasm into every one present.

After the books were distributed, the hostess, assisted by her daughter Barbara, served a delightful salad plate with many dainty accompaniments.

Other guests for the afternoon were Mrs. Clara Moye Shackell and Mrs. James White.

Celebrates Birthday
Jack Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Smith, celebrated his fifth birthday on Wednesday, March 28, at his home on East 10th street.

The guests were greeted by the young host and his mother. Several games were played after which they were invited into the dining room for refreshments.

Centering the table was a large birthday cake with burning candles. The children enjoyed ice cream and cake, after which attractive favors were distributed.

Around 25 young boys and girls were invited to help Jimmy celebrate his birthday.

ONE GROUP
Blonde and Mahogany End and Cocktail TABLES
1/2 Price
JOHNSON'S
Five Points — Dial 4488

"I always pick Dixie
Crystals Pure Cane Sugar"
Dixie Crystals Sugar

Hot Doughnuts Every Night Except Saturday

SATURDAY SPECIALS

Chocolate Marshmallows Rolls
Dutch Apple Pie
Danish Pastries
Spiced and Chocolate Cup Cakes
Potato Rolls

Decorated Cakes Made To Order

Peoples Bakery

815 Dickinson Ave. — Dial 5251

Hot Doughnuts Every Night Except Saturday

Rice-O-Mell
Nylon Mesh

...like a fine veil covering your foot letting in every puff of air... letting your feet rest barefoot free.

HERE'S A TIP

"Eating out is fun"

Fun for Everybody

Let everyone in the family order what they want, and like best... and then too, Mother is saved hours of work in the kitchen. Plan to dine with us Sunday.

SUNDAY, APRIL 1st Is All Fools' Day.

But we at the Proctor Hotel Coffee Shoppe won't fool you. Eat with us Sunday and enjoy the widest selections of dinners offered in Greenville. 16 Delicious dinners served, 5 or more at $1.00, 5 or more at $1.25 and 5 or more at $1.50. All include soup, choice of two vegetables, home made bread assorted, tea or coffee and a tasty dessert.

Hotel Proctor Coffee Shoppe

Blue Calf...
$16.95

Black Patent,
Blue Calf...
$16.95

Blount-Harvey

"Your X-Ray Shoe Store"

"Quality First" ... FORBES

Our Regular Annual Event
LIBERAL REDUCTIONS
On Special Groups Of COATS - SUITS - DRESSES and MILLINERY
C. Heber Forbes

Howard Moye Speaker At Legion Auxiliary Meeting

The monthly meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary was held at the home of Mrs. W. J. Bundy on Wednesday afternoon, March 28, at 3:30 o'clock.

The president, Mrs. James Worsley, conducted the meeting. The Preamble was recited, followed by a prayer by the chaplain, Mrs. Wiley Brown. Secretary and treasurer's reports were heard and approved.

Mrs. H. R. Rogers stated that many notes of thanks had been received from the veterans at the hospitals for candy sent to them at Easter time.

Members of the Auxiliary will assist the Red Cross Drive by having a booth at the Post Office or one of the bank buildings.

The American Legion Auxiliary agreed to act as hostesses for one Sunday at the camp hospital at Camp Lejeune.

Members of the Auxiliary were urged to visit and act as chaperones for the Teen-Age Club.

The Auxiliary agreed to invite a Stanley Products agent to attend the May meeting.

A number of members of the Auxiliary planned to attend the A. L. Auxiliary District Meeting to be held in Pinetops on March 29. Girl State was discussed and a list of names were presented to the Auxiliary from which delegates will be selected.

Mrs. H. R. Rogers introduced the guest speaker, Mr. Howard Moye, commander of the Greenville unit of the American Legion. Mr. Moye gave an interesting talk on Community Service. This service, he stated, is to serve and help the people that are in need. The first need is support of churches and Sunday schools and educational institutions. One of the main objectives of the Auxiliary, he stated, is to aid the disabled veterans and their families. He urged that the Auxiliary give their moral support to the organizations working for Community Service such as the Red Cross, Salvation Army, Cancer, U. S. O. and many others. Mr. Moye said that the chief problem at the present time was to provide a place to entertain the service men visiting Greenville.

Christian Church Has Sunrise Service

Farmville.—The annual Easter Sunrise Service sponsored by the Farmville Association took place Sunday at 6:15 a.m. in the Farmville Christian Church.

The service was in form of a pageant prepared by the Christian Woman's Fellowship of which Mrs. Lloyd Smith is president.

Singers from the church choir supplied the music with Mrs. C. F. Baucum, Miss Anne Bynum and Mr. Elbert Holmes as soloists.

Characters in the pageant were Mesdames Z. M. Whitehurst, George Allen and T. R. Mizelle; Misses Agnes Virginia Quinley, Theodora Albritton, Clarabelle Flanagan, Sue Flanagan, Jane Russell, Marion Pickett and Anne Francis Allen; Messrs Eddie Bass and R. D. Rouse Jr.

The pageant culminated with the coming of a heavy wooden cross with living flowers thus symbolizing the sacrificial death the resurrection and everlasting life elements of the Christian's hope.

A capacity congregation witnessed the presentation.

Mohammed is said to have ordered the Medina mosque built where his camel stopped and knelt.

In The Services

PFC Dorothy Dixon (above), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Dixon of Grimesland, N.C., is currently assigned to the 8064th WAG unit of the Yokohama Command.

Midshipman Walter G. Wilson of 302 West Third Street, Greenville, was one of a group of the Duke ROTC members who recently toured Naval installations at Norfolk, Va. as guests of the Atlantic Fleet Airborne Electronics Training Unit.

Sgt. James L. Kilgo, Jr., son of J. L. Kilgo, Greenville, has reenlisted in the Air Force for six years. He is presently assigned to the Film Section of the Air Unit Base, Alabama. Sgt. Kilgo enlisted in the Air Force in November, 1941, and served in the European Theater during World War II.

Corporal Carey Harris, of Fountain, is being transferred from Maxwell Air Force Base to an Overseas Replacement Depot. Since coming to Maxwell, Cpl. Harris has been serving as a Dental Technician.

Seven Pitt counties, including five seaman apprentices, one airman apprentice and one seaman recruit, recently completed recruit training at the Naval Training Center, San Diego, Calif. and are now available for assignment to a Fleet unit or to one of the Navy's schools for specialized training.

The seaman apprentices, USN, are: George W. Bowers, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Bowers of Route 2, Bethel; Lyman B. Venters, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Coward of 303 Church Street, Greenville; Lloyd W. Stokes, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Stokes, of 1114 West Third St., Greenville; Roy L. Curry, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Curry of 106 Hooker Road, and John A. Briley, of Route 1, Stokes.

The airman apprentice, USN, is: Clarence T. Diener, of 509 West Third Street, Greenville.

The seaman recruit, USN, is: Guyland G. Stocks, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Stocks of Greenville, Route 1.

Mrs. C. C. Harris, adult adviser, was hostess to the senior Presbyterian Youth Fellowship on last Friday evening at her home.

The meeting opened by the group singing "Christ Is Risen Today," followed by the scripture reading taken from 20th chapter of John, by Eva Lee Dunn.

An Easter program was given in the form of a play on the "Resurrection of Christ" with Eva Lee Dunn, program leader. The program closed with the Lord's Prayer.

At the business meeting Eva Dunn was elected president and Ann Crawford secretary. Following the dismissal, Mrs. Harris invited the group out on the lawn where she entertained them at a surprise weiner roast with all the trimmings. About 20 persons were present.

Horace Lee Moore was host to the pioneer group at his home. Cliff Williams was program leader and was also in the form of a play about Easter. Refreshments were served.

Mrs. Mamie R. Holloway is spending several days with Mrs. Will Murphy at Merritt in Pamlico Co. John Wainwright of near Farmville spent the weekend with Gilmer Nichols Jr.

Mrs. Annie Flanagan and John Flanagan spent the weekend in Richmond, Va. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gillette; Mrs. Gillette and little son accompanied them home for a visit.

Rev. C. C. Ware of A.C. College, Wilson, was guest speaker at the Arthur Christian Church Sunday and was a dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Tyson.

Mr. and Mrs. Ike Joyner, Brian Joyner, Willis and Johnnie Crawford visited Doug Joyner in a hospital near Durham Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. James R. Crawford and Misses Ann and Jean Crawford were Tarboro visitors Tuesday.

Miss Edith Tyson, who teaches in the Pikeville School, spent Easter at her home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Crawford, Graham Crawford and Mesdames Josie McArthur and G. S. Nichols visited the historical St. Thomas Church at Bath Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Stokes Tyson is spending this week with her daughter, Mrs. W. B. Tripp at Belvoir.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Tyson of Griffin were Monday afternoon guests of Mrs. Annie Flanagan and supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Tyson.

Sgt. and Mrs. Turnley Rawls, accompanied by their mother, Mrs. Eva Rawls, from Tampa, Fla., spent several days with Mr. and Mrs. Owen L. Tyson this week. Sgt. Rawls has just returned from the Korean war theater. He has been in the Air Force for 16 years; 11 years of this has been overseas service, having served in Europe in World War II. Before enlisting in the Air Corps, he made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Tyson and attended Arthur High School.

Roy Smith of the U.S. Navy, Norfolk, Va., spent the weekend with his wife. They had as their guest, Jack Hudson, Navy, Norfolk. Pfc. and Mrs. Henry H. Flake were guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Stocks of Greenville Saturday night. Mrs. Earl Flake, who has operated a beauty shop at Arthur for the past several years, has moved to her new place, recently erected at the intersection of the Arthur highway and Stantonsburg road, where she will continue to operate a beauty shop.

Music Training Class Conducted

Mrs. J. Paul Davenport, county music leader, opened the training school for music for home demonstration leaders yesterday in the Wright building of East Carolina Teachers College.

Mrs. Davenport had the group to sing two numbers and she demonstrated the method of conducting while they sang. She then had some of the leaders to conduct the songs, and stressed to them the value of music in the home and community.

The group decided to place an emphasis on folk songs at the home demonstration club meetings during the month of April. They plan to learn and sing one folk song, play one record and give background material on the record at each meeting.

Plans were also made for a community sing to be held in Greenville during the first week in May, which is also National Home Demonstration week.

A committee was appointed to begin work on a selection of songs to be published in a county home demonstration club songbook.

The second music training school will be held on the fourth Thursday afternoon in April.

From the 26 members present at this meeting, 11 clubs were represented. They were: Stokes, Falkland, Fountain, Red Oak, Sweet Gum Grove, Ballard's Cross Road, Severn Pines, St. Johns, Red Bank, Pierce, and Pactious.

Most of the playground equipment for Pactious has arrived but has not been put up as yet.

The building program in Pactious has interfered with this equipment being put up, but F. H. Hodges, principal of Pactious high school said the equipment would be put up as soon as possible and hoped it would be before school is out for the summer.

The bodies were recovered in the ruins by firemen.

Mrs. Cora Young, the victims' mother was taken to South County Hospital suffering from burns. She was too hysterical to be questioned.

Union, S.C., March 30—(AP)—G. W. Shope, a textile worker of nearby Monarch community, purchased classified advertising space in today's Union Daily Times for a personal note to a thief.

Last evening, someone stole a spare tire and wheel off an old model car parked in front of Shope's home. Shope said the vehicle wasn't worth much and made the following request in his advertisement:

"Please come back tonight and get the car!"

Er Roseires, Anglo-Egyptian Sudan—(AP)—You don't take the testimony of witnesses here with a grain of salt. The witnesses take the salt. This strange quirk developed at a court inquiry called in this Blue Nile province.

The Falubud tribesmen, who live near here, refused to take the regular oath, saying they had their own form. The witnesses ceremoniously placed some grains of salt on their tongues—followed by a red pepper, a piece of charcoal and a grain of wheat—carefully chewed, then spit the lot out the nearest window.

They offered no explanation, but said it was now impossible for them to tell a lie.

Witnesses Take Salt With Oath

Er Roseires, Anglo-Egyptian Sudan—(AP)—You don't take the testimony of witnesses here with a grain of salt. The witnesses take the salt. This strange quirk developed at a court inquiry called in this Blue Nile province.

The Falubud tribesmen, who live near here, refused to take the regular oath, saying they had their own form. The witnesses ceremoniously placed some grains of salt on their tongues—followed by a red pepper, a piece of charcoal and a grain of wheat—carefully chewed, then spit the lot out the nearest window.

They offered no explanation, but said it was now impossible for them to tell a lie.

Witnesses Take Salt With Oath

Er Roseires, Anglo-Egyptian Sudan—(AP)—You don't take the testimony of witnesses here with a grain of salt. The witnesses take the salt. This strange quirk developed at a court inquiry called in this Blue Nile province.

The Falubud tribesmen, who live near here, refused to take the regular oath, saying they had their own form. The witnesses ceremoniously placed some grains of salt on their tongues—followed by a red pepper, a piece of charcoal and a grain of wheat—carefully chewed, then spit the lot out the nearest window.

They offered no explanation, but said it was now impossible for them to tell a lie.

Witnesses Take Salt With Oath

Er Roseires, Anglo-Egyptian Sudan—(AP)—You don't take the testimony of witnesses here with a grain of salt. The witnesses take the salt. This strange quirk developed at a court inquiry called in this Blue Nile province.

The Falubud tribesmen, who live near here, refused to take the regular oath, saying they had their own form. The witnesses ceremoniously placed some grains of salt on their tongues—followed by a red pepper, a piece of charcoal and a grain of wheat—carefully chewed, then spit the lot out the nearest window.

They offered no explanation, but said it was now impossible for them to tell a lie.

Witnesses Take Salt With Oath

Er Roseires, Anglo-Egyptian Sudan—(AP)—You don't take the testimony of witnesses here with a grain of salt. The witnesses take the salt. This strange quirk developed at a court inquiry called in this Blue Nile province.

The Falubud tribesmen, who live near here, refused to take the regular oath, saying they had their own form. The witnesses ceremoniously placed some grains of salt on their tongues—followed by a red pepper, a piece of charcoal and a grain of wheat—carefully chewed, then spit the lot out the nearest window.

They offered no explanation, but said it was now impossible for them to tell a lie.

Witnesses Take Salt With Oath

Er Roseires, Anglo-Egyptian Sudan—(AP)—You don't take the testimony of witnesses here with a grain of salt. The witnesses take the salt. This strange quirk developed at a court inquiry called in this Blue Nile province.

The Falubud tribesmen, who live near here, refused to take the regular oath, saying they had their own form. The witnesses ceremoniously placed some grains of salt on their tongues—followed by a red pepper, a piece of charcoal and a grain of wheat—carefully chewed, then spit the lot out the nearest window.

They offered no explanation, but said it was now impossible for them to tell a lie.

Witnesses Take Salt With Oath

Er Roseires, Anglo-Egyptian Sudan—(AP)—You don't take the testimony of witnesses here with a grain of salt. The witnesses take the salt. This strange quirk developed at a court inquiry called in this Blue Nile province.

The Falubud tribesmen, who live near here, refused to take the regular oath, saying they had their own form. The witnesses ceremoniously placed some grains of salt on their tongues—followed by a red pepper, a piece of charcoal and a grain of wheat—carefully chewed, then spit the lot out the nearest window.

They offered no explanation, but said it was now impossible for them to tell a lie.

Doris Taylor Winner Of Declamation Contest In Fountain

Fountain.—The annual 8th grade Declamation Contest was held on Wednesday evening. The theme was "Youth's Hope For Tomorrow." Speakers were introduced by Betsy Oakley, member of the class. Those taking part were Doris Taylor, Melba Jean Edwards, Billy Mayo, Ernest Mosley, and Dorothy Harris. The contest was under the direction of Mrs. Carl Tanner, teacher of the 8th grade.

Doris Taylor was awarded the medal as winner and a similar award was given to other contestants.

Judges were Miss Annie Lee Jones, elementary supervisor, Mr. S. L. Dilda and Mr. Ernest Hunt.

Presentation of awards was made by Mrs. Adrian Gardner, a member of the Junior Woman's Club, who sponsored the contest.

Rev. Phillip Corey gave the devotional and the girls glee club rendered several selections.

Funeral On Saturday For W. F. Carraway

Willie F. Carraway, 53, for many years associated with Pollard Auto Co., in Farmville, died in Pitt Memorial Hospital at 6:45 Friday morning as a result of a cerebral hemorrhage suffered late Thursday night.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock conducted by the Rev. Z. B. T. Cox, Christian minister of Farmville. Interment will follow in Farmville Cemetery.

Surviving are his wife, the former Anna Norris; 2 daughters, Mrs. Charles Ramsburg and Mrs. Norris Merritt, both of Greenville; a granddaughter, and a sister, Mrs. Eugene Hobgood of Farmville.

Funeral Saturday For Mrs. J. T. McLawhorn

Mrs. Mattie M. McLawhorn, 75, widow of J. T. McLawhorn, died suddenly at the home of her son, Larry E. McLawhorn, 1202 Evans St., Thursday night at 9:30 o'clock. Funeral services will be conducted at the chapel of the S. G. Wilkerson and Sons Funeral Home Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock by the Rev. C. L. Patrick, Free Will Baptist minister of near Ayden, and burial will be in the McLawhorn family cemetery near Cox's Mill.

Mrs. McLawhorn was born and spent her entire life in Pitt County, and was married to J. T. McLawhorn of Cox's Mill in 1896. Mr. McLawhorn died in 1946. She was a member of the Missionary Baptist Church in Winterville.

Surviving are two sons, Marvin H. McLawhorn of Cox's Mill and Larry E. McLawhorn of Greenville; a sister, Mrs. "Ed" W. H. Williams of Greenville; five grandchildren, Ralph McLawhorn of the home; Mrs. Robert Tripp of Ayden, Mrs. Ed Buck of Clay Root community, Patricia and Larry Thomas McLawhorn of Greenville; and a great granddaughter, Carolyn McLawhorn of Cox's Mill.

Surviving are two sons, Marvin H. McLawhorn of Cox's Mill and Larry E. McLawhorn of Greenville; a sister, Mrs. "Ed" W. H. Williams of Greenville; five grandchildren, Ralph McLawhorn of the home; Mrs. Robert Tripp of Ayden, Mrs. Ed Buck of Clay Root community, Patricia and Larry Thomas McLawhorn of Greenville; and a great granddaughter, Carolyn McLawhorn of Cox's Mill.

Surviving are two sons, Marvin H. McLawhorn of Cox's Mill and Larry E. McLawhorn of Greenville; a sister, Mrs. "Ed" W. H. Williams of Greenville; five grandchildren, Ralph McLawhorn of the home; Mrs. Robert Tripp of Ayden, Mrs. Ed Buck of Clay Root community, Patricia and Larry Thomas McLawhorn of Greenville; and a great granddaughter, Carolyn McLawhorn of Cox's Mill.

Surviving are two sons, Marvin H. McLawhorn of Cox's Mill and Larry E. McLawhorn of Greenville; a sister, Mrs. "Ed" W. H. Williams of Greenville; five grandchildren, Ralph McLawhorn of the home; Mrs. Robert Tripp of Ayden, Mrs. Ed Buck of Clay Root community, Patricia and Larry Thomas McLawhorn of Greenville; and a great granddaughter, Carolyn McLawhorn of Cox's Mill.

Surviving are two sons, Marvin H. McLawhorn of Cox's Mill and Larry E. McLawhorn of Greenville; a sister, Mrs. "Ed" W. H. Williams of Greenville; five grandchildren, Ralph McLawhorn of the home; Mrs. Robert Tripp of Ayden, Mrs. Ed Buck of Clay Root community, Patricia and Larry Thomas McLawhorn of Greenville; and a great granddaughter, Carolyn McLawhorn of Cox's Mill.

Surviving are two sons, Marvin H. McLawhorn of Cox's Mill and Larry E. McLawhorn of Greenville; a sister, Mrs. "Ed" W. H. Williams of Greenville; five grandchildren, Ralph McLawhorn of the home; Mrs. Robert Tripp of Ayden, Mrs. Ed Buck of Clay Root community, Patricia and Larry Thomas McLawhorn of Greenville; and a great granddaughter, Carolyn McLawhorn of Cox's Mill.

Surviving are two sons, Marvin H. McLawhorn of Cox's Mill and Larry E. McLawhorn of Greenville; a sister, Mrs. "Ed" W. H. Williams of Greenville; five grandchildren, Ralph McLawhorn of the home; Mrs. Robert Tripp of Ayden, Mrs. Ed Buck of Clay Root community, Patricia and Larry Thomas McLawhorn of Greenville; and a great granddaughter, Carolyn McLawhorn of Cox's Mill.

Surviving are two sons, Marvin H. McLawhorn of Cox's Mill and Larry E. McLawhorn of Greenville; a sister, Mrs. "Ed" W. H. Williams of Greenville; five grandchildren, Ralph McLawhorn of the home; Mrs. Robert Tripp of Ayden, Mrs. Ed Buck of Clay Root community, Patricia and Larry Thomas McLawhorn of Greenville; and a great granddaughter, Carolyn McLawhorn of Cox's Mill.

Surviving are two sons, Marvin H. McLawhorn of Cox's Mill and Larry E. McLawhorn of Greenville; a sister, Mrs. "Ed" W. H. Williams of Greenville; five grandchildren, Ralph McLawhorn of the home; Mrs. Robert Tripp of Ayden, Mrs. Ed Buck of Clay Root community, Patricia and Larry Thomas McLawhorn of Greenville; and a great granddaughter, Carolyn McLawhorn of Cox's Mill.

Surviving are two sons, Marvin H. McLawhorn of Cox's Mill and Larry E. McLawhorn of Greenville; a sister, Mrs. "Ed" W. H. Williams of Greenville; five grandchildren, Ralph McLawhorn of the home; Mrs. Robert Tripp of Ayden, Mrs. Ed Buck of Clay Root community, Patricia and Larry Thomas McLawhorn of Greenville; and a great granddaughter, Carolyn McLawhorn of Cox's Mill.

Surviving are two sons, Marvin H. McLawhorn of Cox's Mill and Larry E. McLawhorn of Greenville; a sister, Mrs. "Ed" W. H. Williams of Greenville; five grandchildren, Ralph McLawhorn of the home; Mrs. Robert Tripp of Ayden, Mrs. Ed Buck of Clay Root community, Patricia and Larry Thomas McLawhorn of Greenville; and a great granddaughter, Carolyn McLawhorn of Cox's Mill.

Surviving are two sons, Marvin H. McLawhorn of Cox's Mill and Larry E. McLawhorn of Greenville; a sister, Mrs. "Ed" W. H. Williams of Greenville; five grandchildren, Ralph McLawhorn of the home; Mrs. Robert Tripp of Ayden, Mrs. Ed Buck of Clay Root community, Patricia and Larry Thomas McLawhorn of Greenville; and a great granddaughter, Carolyn McLawhorn of Cox's Mill.

Surviving are two sons, Marvin H. McLawhorn of Cox's Mill and Larry E. McLawhorn of Greenville; a sister, Mrs. "Ed" W. H. Williams of Greenville; five grandchildren, Ralph McLawhorn of the home; Mrs. Robert Tripp of Ayden, Mrs. Ed Buck of Clay Root community, Patricia and Larry Thomas McLawhorn of Greenville; and a great granddaughter, Carolyn McLawhorn of Cox's Mill.

Surviving are two sons, Marvin H. McLawhorn of Cox's Mill and Larry E. McLawhorn of Greenville; a sister, Mrs. "Ed" W. H. Williams of Greenville; five grandchildren, Ralph McLawhorn of the home; Mrs. Robert Tripp of Ayden, Mrs. Ed Buck of Clay Root community, Patricia and Larry Thomas McLawhorn of Greenville; and a great granddaughter, Carolyn McLawhorn of Cox's Mill.

Surviving are two sons, Marvin H. McLawhorn of Cox's Mill and Larry E. McLawhorn of Greenville; a sister, Mrs. "Ed" W. H. Williams of Greenville; five grandchildren, Ralph McLawhorn of the home; Mrs. Robert Tripp of Ayden, Mrs. Ed Buck of Clay Root community, Patricia and Larry Thomas McLawhorn of Greenville; and a great granddaughter, Carolyn McLawhorn of Cox's Mill.

Surviving are two sons, Marvin H. McLawhorn of Cox's Mill and Larry E. McLawhorn of Greenville; a sister, Mrs. "Ed" W. H. Williams of Greenville; five grandchildren, Ralph McLawhorn of the home; Mrs. Robert Tripp of Ayden, Mrs. Ed Buck of Clay Root community, Patricia and Larry Thomas McLawhorn of Greenville; and a great granddaughter, Carolyn McLawhorn of Cox's Mill.

Surviving are two sons, Marvin H. McLawhorn of Cox's Mill and Larry E. McLawhorn of Greenville; a sister, Mrs. "Ed" W. H. Williams of Greenville; five grandchildren, Ralph McLawhorn of the home; Mrs. Robert Tripp of Ayden, Mrs. Ed Buck of Clay Root community, Patricia and Larry Thomas McLawhorn of Greenville; and a great granddaughter, Carolyn McLawhorn of Cox's Mill.

Surviving are two sons, Marvin H. McLawhorn of Cox's Mill and Larry E. McLawhorn of Greenville; a sister, Mrs. "Ed" W. H. Williams of Greenville; five grandchildren, Ralph McLawhorn of the home; Mrs. Robert Tripp of Ayden, Mrs. Ed Buck of Clay Root community, Patricia and Larry Thomas McLawhorn of Greenville; and a great granddaughter, Carolyn McLawhorn of Cox's Mill.

Surviving are two sons, Marvin H. McLawhorn of Cox's Mill and Larry E. McLawhorn of Greenville; a sister, Mrs. "Ed" W. H. Williams of Greenville; five grandchildren, Ralph McLawhorn of the home; Mrs. Robert Tripp of Ayden, Mrs. Ed Buck of Clay Root community, Patricia and Larry Thomas McLawhorn of Greenville; and a great granddaughter, Carolyn McLawhorn of Cox's Mill.

Surviving are two sons, Marvin H. McLawhorn of Cox's Mill and Larry E. McLawhorn of Greenville; a sister, Mrs. "Ed" W. H. Williams of Greenville; five grandchildren, Ralph McLawhorn of the home; Mrs. Robert Tripp of Ayden, Mrs. Ed Buck of Clay Root community, Patricia and Larry Thomas McLawhorn of Greenville; and a great granddaughter, Carolyn McLawhorn of Cox's Mill.

Surviving are two sons, Marvin H. McLawhorn of Cox's Mill and Larry E. McLawhorn of Greenville; a sister, Mrs. "Ed" W. H. Williams of Greenville; five grandchildren, Ralph McLawhorn of the home; Mrs. Robert Tripp of Ayden, Mrs. Ed Buck of Clay Root community, Patricia and Larry Thomas McLawhorn of Greenville; and a great granddaughter, Carolyn McLawhorn of Cox's Mill.

Surviving are two sons, Marvin H. McLawhorn of Cox's Mill and Larry E. McLawhorn of Greenville; a sister, Mrs. "Ed" W. H. Williams of Greenville; five grandchildren, Ralph McLawhorn of the home; Mrs. Robert Tripp of Ayden, Mrs. Ed Buck of Clay Root community, Patricia and Larry Thomas McLawhorn of Greenville; and a great granddaughter, Carolyn McLawhorn of Cox's Mill.

Surviving are two sons, Marvin H. McLawhorn of Cox's Mill and Larry E. McLawhorn of Greenville; a sister, Mrs. "Ed" W. H. Williams of Greenville; five grandchildren, Ralph McLawhorn of the home; Mrs. Robert Tripp of Ayden, Mrs. Ed Buck of Clay Root community, Patricia and Larry Thomas McLawhorn of Greenville; and a great granddaughter, Carolyn McLawhorn of Cox's Mill.

Surviving are two sons, Marvin H. McLawhorn of Cox's Mill and Larry E. McLawhorn of Greenville; a sister, Mrs. "Ed" W. H. Williams of Greenville; five grandchildren, Ralph McLawhorn of the home; Mrs. Robert Tripp of Ayden, Mrs. Ed Buck of Clay Root community, Patricia and Larry Thomas McLawhorn of Greenville; and a great granddaughter, Carolyn McLawhorn of Cox's Mill.

Surviving are two sons, Marvin H. McLawhorn of Cox's Mill and Larry E. McLawhorn of Greenville; a sister, Mrs. "Ed" W. H. Williams of Greenville; five grandchildren, Ralph McLawhorn of the home; Mrs. Robert Tripp of Ayden, Mrs. Ed Buck of Clay Root community, Patricia and Larry Thomas McLawhorn of Greenville; and a great granddaughter, Carolyn McLawhorn of Cox's Mill.

Surviving are two sons, Marvin H. McLawhorn of Cox's Mill and Larry E. McLawhorn of Greenville; a sister, Mrs. "Ed" W. H. Williams of Greenville; five grandchildren, Ralph McLawhorn of the home; Mrs. Robert Tripp of Ayden, Mrs. Ed Buck of Clay Root community, Patricia and Larry Thomas McLawhorn of Greenville; and a great granddaughter, Carolyn McLawhorn of Cox's Mill.

Surviving are two sons, Marvin H. McLawhorn of Cox's Mill and Larry E. McLawhorn of Greenville; a sister, Mrs. "Ed" W. H. Williams of Greenville; five grandchildren, Ralph McLawhorn of the home; Mrs. Robert Tripp of Ayden, Mrs. Ed Buck of Clay Root community, Patricia and Larry Thomas McLawhorn of Greenville; and a great granddaughter, Carolyn McLawhorn of Cox's Mill.

Surviving are two sons, Marvin H. McLawhorn of Cox's Mill and Larry E. McLawhorn of Greenville; a sister, Mrs. "Ed" W. H. Williams of Greenville; five grandchildren, Ralph McLawhorn of the home; Mrs. Robert Tripp of Ayden, Mrs. Ed Buck of Clay Root community, Patricia and Larry Thomas McLawhorn of Greenville; and a great granddaughter, Carolyn McLawhorn of Cox's Mill.

Building Permits

During the first 15 days of the month of March, no building permits were issued but since that time, eleven permits for dwellings and a store have been issued by Building Inspector George Gardner.

Permits and types of construction issued for:

Home Builders Supply, Duplex apartment on Battle Street.

Ernest Glass Company, store on East Fifth Street.

Robert Lee Smith, Duplex apartment located on Myrtle Avenue.

Robert Lee Smith, Duplex apartment house, Pennsylvania Avenue.

Ed and Addie Griffith, Third Street, Duplex house.

Clarence F. Little, dwelling, located on Glenn Arthur Avenue.

Clarence F. Little, Duplex apartment, located on Glenn Arthur Avenue.

W. Studie Bost, repairs to house, Harding Street.

C. A. Coward, dwelling, Meade Street.

Mrs. James Long, repairs to building on Clark Street.

Building permits must be obtained for any new construction or repairs made to buildings in Greenville. Applications must be made at the Greenville Fire Department.

Delhi Curtailing Use Of Rickshaw

New Delhi—(AP)—Health Minister Shrimati Amrit Haur told a questioner in parliament that hand-drawn rickshaws are slated for extinction in Delhi by the end of 1952.

She said the Delhi municipal parliament had mapped a program for the gradual elimination of the 150 licensed for the current year. A survey in April, 1948, showed 500 rickshaws plying the streets then.

She said the Delhi municipal parliament had mapped a program for the gradual elimination of the 150 licensed for the current year. A survey in April, 1948, showed 500 rickshaws plying the streets then.

She said the Delhi municipal parliament had mapped a program for the gradual elimination of the 150 licensed for the current year. A survey in April, 1948, showed 500 rickshaws plying the streets then.

She said the Delhi municipal parliament had mapped a program for the gradual elimination of the 150 licensed for the current year. A survey in April, 1948, showed

The Daily Reflector

Incorporated
Published Every Afternoon Except Sunday
Established 1925
DAVID J. WEICHAARD, JR., Publisher
Entered at the Post Office at Greenville, N. C., as second class mail matter.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
(Payable in Advance)

By Carrier	Week 25c
(BY MAIL)
Three Months	$3.00
Six Months	$5.50
One Year	$10.50

MEMBER ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to use for publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited to this paper and also the local news published herein. All rights of publication of special dispatches herein are also reserved.

NATIONAL ADVERTISING REPRESENTATIVES
Thomas F. Clark Co., Inc., New York, Chicago, Atlanta.

All advertising copy must be received at least one day before publication date.

"Sunday school picnic." Those advocates for the gambling syndicate probably are speaking their convictions. If they are in on the ground floor with the new operations of a gambling ring, it probably will be like a picnic for some few individuals in each community.

But by and large, we fear the picnic may soon turn into a panic when the people realize that the policies of their local government are dictated by the cigar-smoking gamblers and carried out by the stooges they have placed in office. And there is no way of telling how long it may be before the same thing is true on the state level in North Carolina as well as on the local levels of government.

The longer the state of North Carolina permits the gambling syndicates to keep their operations in the state, the more power the gamblers are going to have in the local governing operations. The longer the gamblers are allowed to ply their trade here, the more difficult it is going to be to ever get rid of them.

Those people who take the view that gambling operations in North Carolina are as well behaved as a Sunday school picnic, surely are not seeing beyond their noses... except in the direction of their individual pocketbooks.

Strength for the Day

By EARL L. DOUGLAS
BASIC PROBLEMS

Two hostile armies in southern India, after a long, dusty march without water for the soldiers, came face to face on opposite banks of a narrow stream. Fighting was dispensed with, and both armies plunged into the water, men and beast alike, mingling with one another as they slaked their thirst. This reminds us of how the Union and the Confederate soldiers, during the battle of Gettysburg, met in an utterly friendly fashion around one of the springs; and then, after fraternizing with one another, rushed back to their different positions to begin all over again their terrible slaughter.

This teaches us that the common, human problems are the same among all people and that they always come first. It is said by those who have had contact with communists that the only things which will move communist officials from their cruel designs are the appeals of children. Many children by their pleading have kept their fathers from being dragged off in the middle of the night to concentration camps.

If we could just get the different nations of the world together and could consider our common problems in the light of human necessities, international confusion and war would cease. The human problems, the needs common to all mankind, are the things which really count, and world governments and diplomacy largely ignore these basic issues.

One More Thing The Hospital Needs

Pitt county's new Memorial hospital has many great advantages of which the people of the county may be justly proud. But there is one thing lacking which the hospital desperately needs... a mode of public transportation from downtown Greenville out to the hospital.

Sure, the taxis are available for trips out to the hospital, but the fare from downtown Greenville to the hospital is 75 cents... which means a dollar and a half for the round trip. And there are plenty of people who want to go to and from the hospital who have neither their own automobiles nor the $1.50 to pay for each round trip.

The city bus line has a franchise to operate its buses over the streets of Greenville. It is true that the hospital is approximately one-half mile from the city limits, but it seems to The Reflector that it would be mutually beneficial to the citizens of Greenville and to the bus company were there a regular schedule of city buses going to and from the hospital each day.

As it is now the city buses run to within one-half mile of the hospital, but they don't venture beyond that point. If any of the 110 regular employees of the hospital chose to go by bus, they must hoof it the remaining half mile from the last bus stop to the hospital. The same is true for the people who are visiting the hospital and those to go by the city bus line.

There are hundreds of people going to and from the Pitt County Memorial hospital every day. And there are a large number of these people who would use the bus facilities if satisfactorily available. The bus company, like any other business, can not afford to undertake a proposition which will be costly financially. But by having a city franchise for transportation service, the bus line is obligated to furnish service to the people of the city when it is needed.

Look Beyond The End Of Your Nose

In our opinion the residents of Carteret and Currituck counties and the members of the House Committee on Propositions and Grievances who fought to kill the bills which would do away with pari-mutuel betting in North Carolina have surely taken a short-sighted view of the gambling issue in the state.

Obviously those people who maintain that the dog track gambling in the state is not tied in with the other national gambling syndicates are merely fooling themselves and seeking to deceive the people.

The gambling racket in this country has become a serious threat to the nation as a whole, and indeed it has undermined the political and governmental autonomy of many a city and county across the country.

The gamblers have always begun in a community with a soft shoe, and as the supporters of the gambling syndicate said, the operations have the appearance of a

Somebody Told Me

By L. J. (Jack) EDWARDS, JR.

My theory on war news is to read a minimum of it; just enough to have a general idea about what's going on, and not enough to let it worry you. If you find a report containing good news, read it over twice, and skip the ones that sound too bad. In order to stay in good spirits, it's imperative that you switch radio stations when some of the commentators come on. Their pessimism is enough to worry anybody.

There was a story that broke last week that you shouldn't have missed. The U.S. had a slight hope that there might be a way to stop the Korean war and put an end to a fight that is costing so much and gaining so little. General Douglas MacArthur flew to the front and made a proposition to the enemy.

It was a long statement, in which he underlined what the Chinese Reds have learned of U.N. military power through the last few months of brutal war, and told them that they could not hope to win. He proposed that the opposing generals meet in the field and arrange a ceasefire. He would put aside such "extraneous matters" as Formosa and Red China's claim to a seat in the U.N., leaving "political" questions to the diplomats. "I stand ready at any time to confer in the field with the commander-in-chief of the enemy forces in an earnest effort to end further bloodshed."

In response to MacArthur's statement, a cold silence from Peking, and the war went on. Another great American, Defense Secretary George Marshall, sent Harry Truman a report last week on the draft that looked good. The report said, "As of tomorrow, 21 call, the strength of our armed forces will be exactly double what it was on 25 June 1950. This has been accomplished less than nine months after the Communist aggression against the Republic of Korea. For your information, the strength we have already attained... was not attained in World War II until more than twenty-one months after our build-up started."

The U.S. now has over 2,900,000 men under arms. The goal for June 30 is 3,500,000 and we meet it with ease. The army has jumped from 592,000 to 1,300,000 men, the navy from 381,000 to 700,000, the Air Force from 411,000 to 700,000, and the Marines from a weak 74,000 to 200,000.

The draft is also running smoother. Army enlistments in January and February have more than doubled, and casualties in Korea have been lower than was expected. Everybody already knows the best report of all: the draft call for April will be cut from 80,000 to 40,000. George Marshall likes to say that, in WW II he earned a Ph. D. in mobilization. He has proved again his right to the degree.

And I thank you.

Around Capitol Square

Raleigh, N. C. By LYNN NISBET Daily Reflector Bureau

BUDGET—The appropriations committee substitute bill hit the house hopper Thursday, but created little commotion for the reason it had been pretty fully discussed and discounted in advance. The subcommittee made its report to the full committee Tuesday afternoon in secret session, and the full joint committee spent two days talking about it. Although the sessions were "executive" outsiders experienced no difficulty in finding out what was said and who said it. Unlike comparable bills in previous sessions of the dollars and cents items in the current measure are of less interest than some extra-aneous legislative provisions. It is true that school teachers, departmental and institutional employees, and state agencies are disappointed at failure to receive as much money as they feel they should have. There will be token contest on some items, but the big fight will be over provisions in the bill changing traditional policy in administration of state government, and, as many people believe, in violation of the constitution.

DUALITY—In a formal statement issued Wednesday Governor Scott pointed out the constitutional requirement for keeping separate the legislative, executive and judicial branches of the government. In another statement Thursday the governor cited the danger of violating another section of the constitution, that against double-office holding. He pointed out that if members of the general assembly on the advisory budget commission undertook to perform duties vested in the executive branch, they might find themselves disqualified in both realms. It is axiomatic that acceptance of a second office vacates the first, and there have been numerous instances of record where this rule has been invoked. Four members of the advisory budget commission hold their places by virtue of being members of the general assembly; attempt to perform functions as an executive officer might vacate the legislative membership—and in that event the members would no longer be members of the commission and therefore would have no authority to function in any capacity other than as a private citizen.

GREEDY—It seems to be inherent in public office holding that any power or authority generates desire for increased power. Governor Scott has been severely criticized for what many legislators regarded as undue activity in attempting to influence and control legislation. This general assembly, as did all its predecessors, has had numerous bills seeking to extend and enlarge the scope of authority granted to administrative officials and agencies. In the appropriations committee proposals there appears equal ambition on part of some legislators to move in on the executive area. At times this is written there seems very little chance for this attempt, at grabbing more power to get by. The fact the attempt was made emphasizes the wide breach between Governor Scott and the 1951 general assembly. The gap is so wide, in fact, Governor Scott suggested that the judiciary be called in to referee the bout. He suggested that before enactment of the appropriations bill carrying these changes in, policy an advisory opinion be obtained from the supreme court as to its constitutionality.

What Other Papers Are Thinking

Gamblers and Liquorists (Kinston Free Press).... Gamblers and liquorists seem to have a strange hold on North Carolina's General Assembly in 1951! Every effort to give the people of North Carolina an opportunity to vote on whether there shall be a legal sale of booze or not has failed as it has in every other session of the Legislature since the iniquitous local option bill, permitting counties and since cities to vote on the question. Now in spite of the fact that by the act of the General Assembly of 1947 licensing pari-mutuel betting and dog racing in Carteret County—and in 1949 a repetition of the privilege for Currituck—let down the bars to a nationwide underworld bunch of gangsters, the House Committee on Grievances and Propositions voted 23 to 4 to report unfavorably on proposals to outlaw the nefarious business. Of course the time honored alibi "respect for local opinion" is being made. The bills legalizing this debauchery of our citizenship was passed under the guise of local bills. In no sense, however, can they be regarded as purely local bills. Spokesmen from Currituck county urging retention of the business told the committee in Raleigh Tuesday that the bulk of the millions of dollars being wagered came from nearby Virginians. Anybody who has had occasion to pass by the race track at Morehead City knows that 99 per cent of the money squandered there is by people other than those who live in Carteret County. Of course the money element enters in. Both of the local communities are getting a nice slice of the revenue and one prominent doctor from Morehead City proclaimed the gambling racket there as a "God-send." (Incidentally we apprehend his characterization of this iniquitous institution will amaze a lot of his friends.) But getting back to the money end—the same argument is potent in connection with the ABC stores. There are plenty of taxpayers who had rather debase their fellow citizens than divvy up a little more taxes to carry on. The same situation seems to apply in Morehead and Moyock.

The Free Press hopes that in spite of the action of the Committee on Propositions and Grievances in the House a way will be found before the present session of the Legislature adjourns to outlaw this heinous business and drive the Costello's and their ilk from North Carolina.

Business Today

By ELMER ROESSNER

One of the frequently overlooked things about price ceilings is that they tend to become price floors as well. Psychologically, though not legally, they tend to arrest downward drifts as well as upward rises in prices.

That is not always true. Neither is it always true that price freezes prevent the upward trend. But experience since January 26, and experience during World War II indicate that controls peg prices as much against moving one way as the other.

There are some notable exceptions at present. Some used car dealers are advertising, "Under price ceilings." While carpet manufacturers are boosting their prices the 15 per cent allowed by the OPS, many retailers are selling below their ceilings and some are selling some patterns—usually not those in highest demand—below earlier ceilings. One or two manufacturers are selling television sets below their ceiling prices and plenty of dealers are doing the same.

But, on the whole, the ceiling price comes to be regarded by consumers and retailers as the official price. When a retailer stresses the fact that he is not selling above ceiling prices, the buyer is relieved by the assurance that the retailers isn't black-marketing or even doing a bit of grey fudging. And when a retailer finds he is offering something below ceiling prices, his first reaction is that he is cheating himself. Certainly if the government says he may charge 98 cents a pound for some substance, a price of 96 cents makes him feel that somewhere along the line he hasn't been as smart as he ought to have been.

The same phenomenon persists in industrial selling. When a supplier offers materials and is asked the price, he can say, "Not a cent over ceiling—extra no added handling charges!" and make it sound as if he were offering a rare bargain. It's been going on for years in many housing rental markets. Landlords have been advertising "ceiling price" with no mention of dollars and cents until the time of closing, with the confidence that no one would think of paying any less.

That the entire matter is psychological doesn't make it any less real.

COURT RULE CHEERS
DOOR-TO-DOOR SELLERS
Door-to-door selling companies have been cheered up by this week's Supreme Court decision outlawing a franchise tax which Connecticut imposed on out-of-state trucking firms. The door-to-door sellers are happy about the court's attitude on state infringement on interstate commerce, since most of these sellers are in interstate commerce. A Virginia city's ordinance restricting house-to-house selling is now before the court. The principles in the cases are not identical, and the Supreme Court has been known to hand down differing decisions even when principles were closely parallel, but the door-to-door firms are cheered anyway.

Incidentally, while the court outlawed the Connecticut tax, it spelled out for states how they could go about taxing out-of-state trucking companies. They can tax them for use of the highways or other state facilities.

SALES OF TRACTORS STILL UNFILLED
The SCA has authorized more than $3,000,000 in credit to foreign nations for the purchase of American tractors and the Export-Import Bank has authorized another $3,000,000 worth of credit to Spain for tractors and parts. Because the traditional suppliers have been unable to fill these orders, several million dollars in sales are going begging. Names and addresses of tractor importers in Spain and SCA nations may be obtained from Office of International Trade, Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C.

MEDICAL INGREDIENTS REPORTED SCARCE
Quantity supplies of certain anti-thistamines, aspirin, and natural and synthetic citric acid have tightened up considerably, according to one large pharmaceutical manufacturer. The firm, Arner Co., Buffalo, N.Y., attributes scarcities to large military buying.

SOME THINGS WILL HAVE TO WAIT
Excerpt from a book publisher's announcement: "The following postponed to fall: Olsen, Dr. Henry—Sex and Happy Marriage."

NEW AND HOT
CLEANSER: A completely new type of dry cleaning powder contains enzymes which literally eat certain types of stains from clothing. It attacks proteins but not wool. It was developed by Faber Brewing Co., Milwaukee.

Hal Boyle's Column

New York—(AP)—If you think this civilization is hard on men, what do you think it is doing to trees?

Well, they're having troubles too—according to a man who claims to be the nation's oldest active tree climber.

"Tree diseases keep increasing all the time," said Harry Strevel, 67, shaking his head. "There are more than a hundred now."

For forty years Strevel, dean of some 1,300 Davey tree experts, has been shinnying up shade trees diagnosing arboreal ailments such as heart rot, sheathing fungus and other forms of blight.

"I could have retired two years ago, but I didn't want to quit," he said. "With trees I have always been happy. There is something about working with them that tugs a man. You get away from it for a while and see a dead stub on some tree you are passing and you want to walk right up and saw it off."

Strevel's affection for trees, however, isn't quite as strong as that shown by his teacher, the late John Davey, known as the father of tree surgery in this country. Davey used to tip his hat every time he met a white oak.

Most major tree surgery is done in the spring, when a tree's circulation is at its best.

"Trees fight harder than people do to stay alive," said Strevel, whose weathered tan and creased hair make him look like a gentle acorn. "It is very hard to discourage them."

But the nation's elm trees now are passing through a real test of courage. The Dutch Elm Blight, believed carried by a small beetle, has spread through New England and the Middle West since 1930. It is a major threat to what is probably America's favorite shade tree.

"It is a bark disease, something like the Chestnut Blight that hit here in 1911 and wiped out all the native American chestnut trees east of the Mississippi River," recalled Strevel. "It is fatal within two years. Acts something like cancer...no known cure for it. All we can do is try to keep the disease from spreading to other elm trees."

It takes two or three years of active work in the field to make a competent tree surgeon.

"Some tree surgery jobs take a full week," said Strevel. "It is a lot like dental work. Once I had to fill a cavity in a tulip tree thirteen feet long, three feet wide, and three feet deep. I guess that was the biggest single job in my career."

Many people still plant trees to memorialize their marriage, the birth of their children, or as monuments to a favorite cat or dog.

"I believe women get to love trees more than men," Strevel said. "A wife sees the tree in her yard all day long. It gets to mean more to her than it does to her husband. He usually sees it only in the morning and in the evening."

After climbing thousands of trees—and tumbling from a few—Strevel is convinced his occupation is not particularly dangerous. But he once spent five months in a hospital after he fell on a stub. Another time his foot got caught in a loop of rope as a heavy dead limb was being lowered.

"I rode right up the trunk of that tree on the back of my neck," he said thoughtfully. "And I tell you I was doing some mighty fast thinking."

Washington Letter

By JANE EADE

Washington—France's First Lady, Madame Auriel, who accompanied her husband to this country, is the daughter of a glass-worker and was married at 16. She has been the president's capable helpmate ever since. She was her husband's secretary from 1914, when he was first elected to the Chamber of Deputies, until 1918, when their son Paul, now the president's assistant, was born.

For her activities in the under-war she was later rewarded by her government with the Medal of Resistance.

The Auriels occupy only a small suite in the magnificent president's palace on the Champs Elysees in Paris, spending long weekends during the hunting season at the Chateau de Rambouillet, 35 miles from Paris, and summer vacations at the family farm in Muret, France.

Friends at the French Embassy here say Madame Auriel is an excellent housekeeper, up early mornings. With the chef, her first visitor, she discusses menus and wines for the day. Floral arrangements she sees to herself. After this she gets to work on her mail, which averages about 300 letters a day.

Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth, handsome, witty and capricious daughter of President "Teddy" Roosevelt and widow of Nicholas Longworth, former speaker of the House, is still one of the capital's leading personalities.

She is also one of the town's dinner hostesses, but her elegant parties are small and never get into the papers. Her age does nothing. Not one of those women who keep such an event secret after a certain age, she celebrated her recent birthday by calling up her friends.

"You may congratulate me today on my 67th birthday," she informed them all.

Red Cross headquarters here reports one of its busiest units in the Far East is its Soldier Locator Center. One of the center's busiest patrons is the stork.

The center, operated by Miss Willie Joe Watson of Athens, Tex., and her assistants, locates soldiers throughout the theater to deliver any messages from folks back home. Miss Watson writes that hardly a day passes that they are not called on to find a GI and tell him he is a papa.

"The stork is one bird that can't be downed," reports Miss Watson.

EXTRA MONEY From Your Tobacco

DO YOU WANT TO MAKE AN EXTRA
$100.⁰⁰ TO $300.⁰⁰ PER ACRE ON YOUR TOBACCO THIS SEASON

If You Do Get Your Tobacco
Soil Fumigated Now

SOIL FUMIGATION, AS WAS PROVEN EXTENSIVELY LAST YEAR, WILL GIVE YOU:

- (a) 200-600 lbs. more leaf per acre.
- (b) Higher quality.
- (c) Wireworm, cutworm, nematode control.
- (d) Big healthy roots that withstand dry weather.
- (e) Big healthy plants that resist many common tobacco diseases better.
- (f) Excellent results for two years.
- (g) $100 to $300 more profit per acre.

HERE'S HOW: Just call your closest custom soil fumigation dealer. He will make your application by trained men and with the best equipment available. Call us for the closest dealer to you.

ACT NOW Tomorrow may be too late. You must have your land fumigated at least two (2) weeks before transplanting.

Mr. Tobacco-Growers YOU CAN'T AFFORD TO MISS THIS Opportunity! ACT NOW.

FRANK REID CO.

KEEL'S WAREHOUSE

PHONE 5157

DICKINSON AVE.

GREENVILLE, N. C.

Athletic Schedule Shaping For GHS

Baseball Play Starts April 6 Against Tarboro; Newcomers Still Need Polishing; Other Teams Lining Up Opponents

With the closing of spring football practice yesterday, the sports spotlight will again focus on the baseball, tennis, track and golf teams which Greenville High School will be fielding this spring.

Overshadowed by the spring football drills, only meager attention has been paid to the other sports on the high school slate since a large number of the footballers compose a big percentage of the team members for the other sports.

The curtain will rise on the 1951 edition of the Greenville Phantoms baseball squad on April 6 when the locals take on a visiting Tarboro team. A return game will be played in Tarboro on April 19th.

Two games have also been set with Kinston coming between the two Tarboro dates, while two games are tentatively scheduled to be played with Rocky Mount.

All together, Coach Boley Farley related he is hoping his nine would see action in some eight games this season.

While the loss of several starters from last year's team will be felt, generally, Coach Farley is hopeful that some of the younger candidates now working out with the team will come up to standards and will be used to fill some of the gaps in the ranks.

Lettermen returning from last year's team are: Joe Rowland, catcher; Joe Clark and Bobby Watson, who will handle the brunt of the mound chores, while Sidney Briley will get the nod at first base; Glen Scott, infielder, with three outfielders reporting for practice, Bobby Perry, Hilton Quinn and Jody Taylor.

One of the main problems now confronting the Greenville coach lies in replacing the weakened infield, as well as shaping some of the younger lads into pitchers. Showing up well in early drills have been Jerry Phillips and LeRoy Quinn in the infield, with Billy Dunn behind the plate and Gene Hudson on the mound.

As soon as the rainy weather clears, baseball drills will swing into high gear, Farley promised.

The newly organized golf team of the high school has four dates filled at the present time with their opening game with Elizabeth City on April 4th. A return engagement will be played on the local course April 19th.

Other games on the schedule include: Rocky Mount here on April 20th and a return tilt there on May 1th.

The four matches will possibly be the only matches played by the new golf team, Farley commented.

In the field of tennis, four matches have been booked with tentative dates set for two additional ones.

Greene players will open here against Goldsboro on April 20th and traveling to the Bugs home courts on May 4th. On April 27 the locals will entertain the Kinston team with a return match set for May 11

Clair Bee Seys He 'Flunked' In Training Boys

Newport News, Va., March 30—(AP)—Basketball Coach Clair Bee of the Long Island University told a group here last night that he would coach "if I have to crawl to school on my knees to do it."

Bee told how the infamous basketball bribings had hurt him, "hurt desperately."

"We—you and I—have flunked! We have not done the job that was expected of us in training the young people," he said at a testimonial banquet honoring Julie Conn's 25th anniversary as basketball coach of Newport News High School.

In referring directly to the scandal as it touched him, Bee said: "I am not bitter. I am hurt, hurt desperately. When I was told that three of my boys had sold themselves to me, as much as if a member of my family had died. I am not ashamed to say that I wept."

Bee told of the vigil he kept the night the LIU stars (Captain Adolph Biggs, Sherman White and Leroy Smith) were called to the office of District Frank S. Hogan for questioning.

"That afternoon I had spoken to a gathering of sports writers and was angry enough to fight. They had hinted that my boys were involved in the scandal. I defended them with all my heart. I trusted my kids and could not believe they were mixed up in the mess."

"I went back to my office and at 4 o'clock was told that the three had been called in for questioning. I sat and waited. I didn't leave my office for a second. At a quarter of six the next morning a writer called to tell me they had confessed."

"It was then that something died within me. I had placed a lamp in the window of my office so that they could see it as they turned the corner when they came back. But I went to the window and put out the light."

"They weren't coming back."

Sport Slants By Pap

Clever Catcher . . .

Myron Ginsberg is in a fine position to take over the daily catching chores for the Detroit Tigers. Ten years younger than Aaron Robinson and Bob Swift, who carried the Tiger backstopping burden last season, Ginsberg has sufficient experience and the mechanical qualifications to take over.

Ginsberg is a product of Detroit's sandlots where he was discovered while playing Legion ball by Scout Wish Egan. He was sent to Jamestown in 1944 before going into service. He was recalled for a late-season trial in 1947 after a good season with Williamsport. He batted .326 for Williamsport in 1948 to earn another chance, but the following season found him back in the minors, this time with Toledo.

Myron isn't a long-ball hitter but he does connect regularly. Last season, the veteran Robinson failed to give the Tigers the heavy punch that was expected of fast. He has a fine arm and needs only to polish up on his throws to the bases to become an outstanding catcher.

Batted .326 for Williamsport in 1948 to earn another chance, but the following season found him back in the minors, this time with Toledo.

Myron isn't a long-ball hitter but he does connect regularly. Last season, the veteran Robinson failed to give the Tigers the heavy punch that was expected of fast. He has a fine arm and needs only to polish up on his throws to the bases to become an outstanding catcher.

Batted .326 for Williamsport in 1948 to earn another chance, but the following season found him back in the minors, this time with Toledo.

Myron isn't a long-ball hitter but he does connect regularly. Last season, the veteran Robinson failed to give the Tigers the heavy punch that was expected of fast. He has a fine arm and needs only to polish up on his throws to the bases to become an outstanding catcher.

Batted .326 for Williamsport in 1948 to earn another chance, but the following season found him back in the minors, this time with Toledo.

Myron isn't a long-ball hitter but he does connect regularly. Last season, the veteran Robinson failed to give the Tigers the heavy punch that was expected of fast. He has a fine arm and needs only to polish up on his throws to the bases to become an outstanding catcher.

Batted .326 for Williamsport in 1948 to earn another chance, but the following season found him back in the minors, this time with Toledo.

Myron isn't a long-ball hitter but he does connect regularly. Last season, the veteran Robinson failed to give the Tigers the heavy punch that was expected of fast. He has a fine arm and needs only to polish up on his throws to the bases to become an outstanding catcher.

Buccaneer Nine Meets Guilford In Season Opener

East Carolina's Pirates open their North State Conference schedule this afternoon in a game with the Guilford Quakers at Guilford College.

Today's game is the first of two to be played in the western reaches of the conference. Tomorrow the Bucs go against Elon there in an afternoon game.

Coach Jack Boone's charges left early this morning for the Quaker game. Having four games under their belts so far this season, they will enter the game with much-needed experience gained after meeting stiff opposition in three service teams and a collegiate team during the past week.

Boone was undecided yesterday as to who would start on the mound for the Pirates. A trio of pitchers has turned in good performances during games with Camp Lejeune, the Norfolk Naval Air station and Montclair Teachers College. They are Jim Byrd, who pitched the win over Camp Lejeune last week, Jim Piner who went the route against Montclair Wednesday, and Martin Byrd who started against the air station in Easter Monday's game.

Dick Hobbs, a veteran from last year's squad, pitched good relief ball in the two air station games, entering Monday's game in the fourth inning and Tuesday's game in the seventh.

The rest of the East Carolina lineup will probably be the same as the one that started against Montclair with one exception. That is at first base which will see either Paul Jones or Sonny Russell doing the chores. Russell started at short Wednesday.

The lineup: George McSwain, catcher; Jones or Russell, first base; Jack Wallace, second; Red Sauls, third; Smith, short; Leon Jones, leftfield; Fred Soles, centerfield; and George Graybill, rightfield.

The three "kids" of the Cleveland Indians' infield committed five of six errors that ended a six-game winning streak yesterday.

The errors—three by Third Baseman Al Rosen—gave Pittsburgh's Pirates nine unearned runs for a 15-12 victory.

A miff by Second Baseman Bob Avila was responsible for seven unearned runs. The Pirates got another marker on Shortstop Ray Boone's error in the fifth. Their ninth free one came in the sixth when Dale Mitchell missed an out-field chance.

Boudreau is 1949 made O'Neill one of his Cleveland coaches.

"Lou is willing and ready to fill in wherever we need him," says O'Neill. "He's a great team man and all the players respect him."

Boudreau is remaining in the background as much as possible but even that is hard to do. The first day O'Neill played him in an exhibition game he did it to give Second Baseman Bobby Doerr a rest. Boudreau promptly hit a home run at Lakeland. Two days later, filling in at short for the ankle-sprained Vern Stephens, likeable Louie bashed out a four-bagger at Tampa.

To reward his old boss, Manager Boudreau in 1949 made O'Neill one of his Cleveland coaches.

"Lou is willing and ready to fill in wherever we need him," says O'Neill. "He's a great team man and all the players respect him."

Boudreau is remaining in the background as much as possible but even that is hard to do. The first day O'Neill played him in an exhibition game he did it to give Second Baseman Bobby Doerr a rest. Boudreau promptly hit a home run at Lakeland. Two days later, filling in at short for the ankle-sprained Vern Stephens, likeable Louie bashed out a four-bagger at Tampa.

To reward his old boss, Manager Boudreau in 1949 made O'Neill one of his Cleveland coaches.

Vanceboro Nine Opens Loop Play Wednesday

Bethel's Indians Honored; Awards Given To Players

The Bethel high school basketball teams numbering some 33 strong were feted at a barbecue supper last Wednesday when it plays Robersonville, first team on the eight-game schedule.

Coach George Wood will make his debut as baseball coach here and will have six veterans back in harness from the 1950 squad. Wood came here last fall from East Carolina to coach football and basketball.

This year's Farm Life squad numbers 20 men eager to play with most of them having at least one more year of eligibility remaining. Five seniors, three of them lettermen, will play their last year for Vanceboro this season but behind them Wood has capable reserves to carry on next year.

Veterans returning for duty this spring are Jerome Norman, Wesley Gladson, pitchers; Furney Powell, infielder; Berry Smith, catcher; Mac Ray Whitford and Earl Hill, outfielders. Norman, Smith and Whitford are playing their last year while Hill is a sophomore and Powell and Gladson are juniors.

Wood will have three pitchers to draw from this season, two catchers, six infielders and four outfielders. Billy Butler, a sophomore, is third member of the mound staff and is a right-hander as are Norman and Gladson. And unless other men turn up as likely hurlers, the trio will bear the brunt of the pitching chores this year.

The catching staff includes Don Berry, a freshman this year, who will relieve Smith behind the plate. The infield reads like this: Veteran Powell, second base; and newcomers Jerome Kite, senior, first base; Grey Lancaster, junior, shortstop; James Hartley, senior, thirdbase; Larry Toler, freshman, secondbase; and Wil'am Haddock, sophomore, firstbase.

The outfield: Veterans Whitford, center, and Hill, left; and Doug Gaskins, junior, and John Laughinghouse, freshman.

Although bad weather has hampered practice in recent weeks, Wood thinks the team can be rounded into shape by Wednesday's opener. His pitchers haven't had the practice they should have had by this time, due to the weather. And, according to Wood, the team will rise or fall on the three-man pitching staff.

"If we can get the pitching into shape soon, we may get up there in the conference race," he said. As for hitters, the team has a few men who can tag the ball pretty well, the coach thinks. Whitford and Lancaster are being tabbed as the team's longball hitters as determined in the small amount of practice the team has been able to do so far. As for the freshmen and sophomores, they are an unknown quantity at this stage of the season, Wood says.

Farm Life schedule: April 4—Robersonville here; 6—at Ayden; 10—open; 13—at South Edgecombe; 17—Farmville here; 20—at Robersonville; 24—Ayden here; 27—open; May 1—South Edgecombe here; 4—at Farmville

Farm Life Baseball Squad To Open Season With New Coach And Six Veterans From Last Year's Team

Vanceboro, March 30—Vanceboro's Farm Life baseball squad will open its 1951 Coastal Conference schedule here next Wednesday when it plays Robersonville, first team on the eight-game schedule.

Coach George Wood will make his debut as baseball coach here and will have six veterans back in harness from the 1950 squad. Wood came here last fall from East Carolina to coach football and basketball.

This year's Farm Life squad numbers 20 men eager to play with most of them having at least one more year of eligibility remaining. Five seniors, three of them lettermen, will play their last year for Vanceboro this season but behind them Wood has capable reserves to carry on next year.

Veterans returning for duty this spring are Jerome Norman, Wesley Gladson, pitchers; Furney Powell, infielder; Berry Smith, catcher; Mac Ray Whitford and Earl Hill, outfielders. Norman, Smith and Whitford are playing their last year while Hill is a sophomore and Powell and Gladson are juniors.

Wood will have three pitchers to draw from this season, two catchers, six infielders and four outfielders. Billy Butler, a sophomore, is third member of the mound staff and is a right-hander as are Norman and Gladson. And unless other men turn up as likely hurlers, the trio will bear the brunt of the pitching chores this year.

The catching staff includes Don Berry, a freshman this year, who will relieve Smith behind the plate. The infield reads like this: Veteran Powell, second base; and newcomers Jerome Kite, senior, first base; Grey Lancaster, junior, shortstop; James Hartley, senior, thirdbase; Larry Toler, freshman, secondbase; and Wil'am Haddock, sophomore, firstbase.

The outfield: Veterans Whitford, center, and Hill, left; and Doug Gaskins, junior, and John Laughinghouse, freshman.

Although bad weather has hampered practice in recent weeks, Wood thinks the team can be rounded into shape by Wednesday's opener. His pitchers haven't had the practice they should have had by this time, due to the weather. And, according to Wood, the team will rise or fall on the three-man pitching staff.

"If we can get the pitching into shape soon, we may get up there in the conference race," he said. As for hitters, the team has a few men who can tag the ball pretty well, the coach thinks. Whitford and Lancaster are being tabbed as the team's longball hitters as determined in the small amount of practice the team has been able to do so far. As for the freshmen and sophomores, they are an unknown quantity at this stage of the season, Wood says.

Farm Life schedule: April 4—Robersonville here; 6—at Ayden; 10—open; 13—at South Edgecombe; 17—Farmville here; 20—at Robersonville; 24—Ayden here; 27—open; May 1—South Edgecombe here; 4—at Farmville

Boudreau's Pep And Hustle Inspires Club

By FRANK ECK

Sarasota, Fla.—If half the players in baseball could take a page—or even half a page—from Lou Boudreau's book there would really be some great teams.

Boudreau, Cleveland's manager, shortstop and general handyman for eight years until he got the gate last winter, is the talk of this baseball camp where the rich Red Sox from Boston train. His spark is something to behold.

He is cast in a new role, that of utility infielder. That matters little to the former Illinois great.

Boudreau is as eager as a rookie. He turned down opportunities to go with other clubs when the Indians gave him a chance to make a deal for himself. He wanted to be with his old boss, Stephen Francis O'Neill of the Minnoka, Pa. O'Neill.

O'Neill is the man who made Boudreau a shortstop. It happened at Buffalo in 1939 when Boudreau, fresh from Illinois with a BA degree, reported from Cedar Rapids, Ia. as a third baseman. O'Neill put him on shortstop and that has been smiling Lou's No. 1 position ever since. O'Neill made another switch the same year. He put Roy Mack, a shortstop, on second base and the Boudreau to Mack double play combination made International League history.

Boudreau ultimately won the American League batting crown in 1944 with a .327 mark and in 1948 when he led Cleveland to the world championship he was voted the league's most valuable player.

He is also known for perfecting the pick-off play, the one which caused such a ruckus in the opening game of the 1948 World Series with the Braves.

To reward his old boss, Manager Boudreau in 1949 made O'Neill one of his Cleveland coaches.

"Lou is willing and ready to fill in wherever we need him," says O'Neill. "He's a great team man and all the players respect him."

Boudreau is remaining in the background as much as possible but even that is hard to do. The first day O'Neill played him in an exhibition game he did it to give Second Baseman Bobby Doerr a rest. Boudreau promptly hit a home run at Lakeland. Two days later, filling in at short for the ankle-sprained Vern Stephens, likeable Louie bashed out a four-bagger at Tampa.

To reward his old boss, Manager Boudreau in 1949 made O'Neill one of his Cleveland coaches.

Newhouser Ready To Pitch Opener

Lakeland, Fla., March 30 (AP)—The veteran Hal Newhouser is ready, and confident, to pitch Detroit's American League opener against Cleveland April 17.

"I could go nine innings right now, if necessary. My arm is in shape for the full distance," says Lefty Hal.

For years now the Tiger opener has been Newhouser's plum.

Stengel Praises Chicago Hustle

Apline, Tex., March 30—(AP)—Casey Stengel, bossman of the New York Yankees, praised the Chicago White Sox before they left Phoenix for Texas and a series with the St. Louis Browns.

He said the Sox have a vastly improved team and might bring about a few surprises in the pennant race. He was especially high on the Sox' hustle and defensive work. Stengel's Yankees lost two out of three games to the Sox.

Al Dark Out Of Giants' Lineup

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 30—(AP)—Shortstop Al Dark of the New York Giants is out of action with a split little finger on his throwing hand.

The injury was received yesterday. Another casualty is catcher Wes Westrum, with a blister on his throwing hand.

Standings

New York, March 30—(AP)—Major league exhibition baseball standings, including yesterday's games (records are based on all games)

AMERICAN LEAGUE
	W	L	Pct.
Chicago	13	6	.684
New York	12	7	.632
Washington	7	5	.583
Cleveland	11	10	.524
Boston	8	8	.500
Philadelphia	8	9	.471
Detroit	3	10	.231
St. Louis	3	14	.176
NATIONAL LEAGUE
	W	L	Pct.
Chicago	10	6	.625
Philadelphia	13	8	.619
New York	10	7	.588
Pittsburgh	17	12	.586
Boston	12	9	.571
Brooklyn	9	8	.529
St. Louis	9	9	.500
Cincinnati	8	12	.400

Rising Boxer To Meet Kid Gavilan

New York, March 30—(AP)—Two of the ring's busiest fighters, welterweight contender Kid Gavilan and Gene Hairston, rising, young middleweight, clash in the main ten-rounder at Madison Square Garden tonight. Gavilan, the kid from Cuba, is the 7- to 5 choice to avenge an old defeat and run his current winning streak to seven. Hairston, a 22-year-old debutante, hasn't lost in 13 months. A 12 win, one draw, streak has boosted the strong New York Negro into the No. 6 spot in the middleweight division.

This probably will be the 25-year-old Cuban's last fight before he takes on Johnny Bratton, the NBA welterweight champion, in title scrap in the Garden May 18. Matchmaker Al Weill of the International Boxing Club will seek New York's title sanction for the fight today. He probably will get it.

That makes it doubly important for Gavilan to win.

"People seeing title fight expect to see a winner," said the practical Cuban. "More people come see me fight if I beat Hairston. Hairston good fighter, but maybe I not in best shape when I lose to him. Now I'm in best shape of last couple of years. I win."

Hairston, of course, has the same optimistic attitude. The youngster, a good body puncher with an aggressive style, is regarded as the middleweight division's most promising youngster. He is being groomed for a crack at the middleweight title.

Carolina Grill Bowlers Continue To Creep Up On City League Leaders

City Bowling League

	W	L	Pct.
State Highway	42	24	.636
Carolina Grill	40	26	.606
Saad's Shoe Shop	30	36	.454
Norris Texaco	20	46	.303

Carolina Grill continued its slow creep toward first place in City League bowling as it took two games from Saad's Shoe Shop this week. It is now only two games behind first place State Highway which took only one of the set from Norris Texaco.

Carolina's surge this week was sparked by the even 500-pin total of Bob Rath who copped high score for the night on games of 178, 182 and 140.

However, a teammate, Al Williams, copped high single game score on his first outing, scoring 212 for one of the highest singles scored in the league in recent weeks. Williams followed closely behind Rath in three-game score with 493.

Meanwhile, State Highway continued to lose its big lead that it had established several weeks ago. Los-

Perkins-Proctor
Has Just Received A Shipment Of ARROW
"DART"
America's No. 1
White Shirt

Priced at - - - $3.95
Sizes 14 to 18
Sleeve Lengths 32 to 35
Many Other White and Fancy Shirts in Regular and French Cuffs

Perkins-Proctor
The House of Name Brands

G & W
William Penn
Blended Whiskey

36 Proof

SEE STRAIGHT WHISKIES IN THIS PRODUCT
ARE 4 YEARS OR MORE OLD. 20% STRAIGHT WHISKY, 40% NEUTRAL SPIRITS, DISTILLED
FROM GRAIN.

RETAIL
Price
$1.95
Pints
$3.15
Fifths

Look before you leap!
SEE OUR TIRES

Be Sure To Ask For Dayton Tires
For Easy Riding and More Mileage
Made and Guaranteed To Give Satisfaction
JUST RECEIVED
8.25 - 20 TRUCK TIRES
Sure We'll Trade In Your Old Tires!

BLACKWOODS
ASSOCIATE STORES
A. J. GARRIS, Owner — 110 West Fifth St. — Dial 4307

KING
BLENDED WHISKY

$3.10
4/5 QT.

$1.90
PINT

KING BLACK LABEL Blended Whisky. The Straight Whiskies in This Product Are 4 Years or More Old. 37½% Straight Whiskies, 62½% Grain Neutral Spirits. 85 Proof.

BROWN-FORMAN DISTILLERS CORPORATION
At Louisville in Kentucky

TIME TRAP

By ROG PHILLIPS

AP Newsfeature

Chapter 12
After breakfast Val conducted them on a tour of the city. If they had not seen the three-eyed man at the entrance to the drugstore the day before they might have found it hard to believe they existed. None were in sight anywhere, though in almost every place they went they encountered the three dimensional color pictures of the Vargian queen—if that was what she was. There was something compelling—hypnotic about her beauty. That third eye sleeping in the center of her forehead became, after a while, something more normal than a smooth one. The dualism of emotion expressed on her face did not so much catch at a dual personality as a breadth of personality. And Ray Bradley noticed that that face seemed to exercise the same attractive force on all others. Almost no one seemed able to pass that color picture within which lurked a spyscreen without looking up at it intently.

There were police, but they were ordinary humans. Val explained that most of the routine police work was in the hands of the people—under close direction of the Vargians.

It wasn't until almost noon that Val took them to a large department store and they saw their first Vargian at close hand.

It was a female Vargian. Except for her third eye which was disappointingly more like a tumor than an eye, she might have passed for an exceptionally tall, ordinary woman. She was all of six feet three inches tall, but with such a perfectly proportioned figure under her trim clothes that at a distance she seemed almost small. Near at hand as she was brushed by Ray and Joe, there was something breathtaking about her.

She didn't notice them. Her mind was obviously wrapped up in her shopping. Under her arm was a suit box. Her eyes roamed over the heads of the many people in the store, looking for some department she had in mind. After she had gone Joe looked amusedly at Val and whispered. "Do you mean to tell me there has been no inter-marrying of Vargians and humans?"

"That's right," Val asserted. "All I have to say," Joe said, "is that the repulsion must be all on the Vargian side. I could go for that babe without any encouragement at all."

"Don't try it," Val said. "I've seen it tried." He refused to elaborate on that.

As the day wore on they covered a large part of the city. Ray and Joe were quickly learning the customs and habits that were necessary to life in 1999. It was a unique experience—entering city life after a half century jump. It descended from the heights of the bizarre by successive stages to the commonplace. The succession of surprises gradually dulled the ability to become surprised at anything.

On every hand they saw commonplace things after half a century of development and style change. Two things impressed them more than any others.

There were no irons nor ironing machines. They learned from Val Nelson that the plastics used in clothes returned to their carefully pressed state on washing in hot water, so that ironing had become a thing of the past.

That was understandable. Certain plastics even back in 1950 had been known to have what came to be known as "form memory," and however distorted or pulled out of shape, under certain conditions they would resume the shape they had previously held.

The second thing was totally unexpected and incomprehensible. The electric fan had neither blades nor motor nor any other moving part. It consisted of an ornamental grill atop a heavy base, with a light cord. When turned on air rushed through the grill under the impetus of some strange and unseen force—air that was cool and refreshing, and came in a strong blast when the switch was on full, or barely drifted when it was on low.

Other things, the invisible radiophones that were worn in the ear and were both transmitters and receivers, the three dimensional color movies in broad daylight, the combination radios that had television recorders that took a television program on a wire spool for later playback just as it did sound, were delightful surprises—but expected.

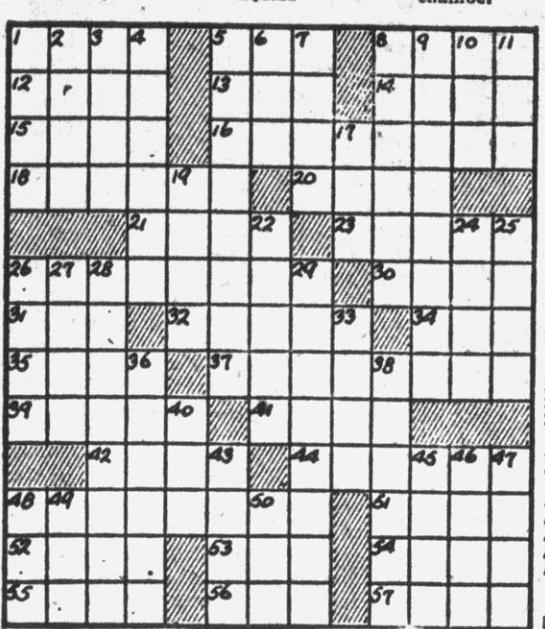

And at last the day ended. Ray and Joe found themselves alone in their room once more physically and emotionally exhausted, but confident that they could go forth on their own without mishap.

Crossword Puzzle

- ACROSS
- Content
 - Church seat
 - Imperfection
 - Affirm
 - Southern constellation
 - Mature
 - Paper measure
 - Related
 - Naval officer
 - Pleasant
 - Unsophisticated
 - Shaves
 - Types of railroad cars
 - Except
 - Weight
 - Muse of lyric poetry
 - Beverage
 - Finishes
 - Cuts of beef
 - Sobs
 - Drop
 - Word of lamentation
 - Women
 - Exactly equal
 - Icelandic
 - Literary work
 - Executes a command
 - Ripen
 - Perceived
 - Spreads for drying
 - School of whales
 - Receptacle for liquids

DOWN

- Caution
- Heated chamber
- Leguminous plants
- Weasel-like animal
- Large wicker basket
- Historical period
- Put or guard
- Brawl
- Men of letters
- Smile
- Marry
- Tear
- Openmouthed stare
- Fragile
- Smooth
- Oceans
- Worry: colloq.
- Single
- Field in affection
- Wandered
- Palmyra leaf
- Expands
- Most advanced in years
- Hit with the open hand
- Mimic
- Mental image
- Paradise
- Descended
- Kitchen utensil
- Former President's nickname
- Self

Solution of Saturday's Puzzle

from now on.

They were to learn later that their every move in public had been noted and watched, and that even now, in the security of their room, their slightest action and word was being observed by several Vargians across the city in an office that occupied the same space as their office that had been destroyed as they rushed from it, back in 1950.

(To be continued)

NOTICE OF MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF PERSONAL PROPERTY

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain chattel mortgage executed by C. B. Garis to Guaranty Bank and Trust Company on December 7, 1950 and recorded in Book 31 at page 315 of the Pitt County Registry, default having been made in the payment of the debt thereby secured, the undersigned mortgagee will on Thursday, April 19, 1951, at 11 o'clock a.m. at the garage of the John Flanagan Buggy Company in Greenville, N.C. expose to public sale for cash the following described personal property:

One 1950 Model Ford Truck, Motor No. 98MTH-7899. This March 29, 1951. Guaranty Bank and Trust Company, Mortgagee. Mar. 30-Apr. 6-13

Yacht And Crew Of Eight Girls Towed To Safety

(AP)—Eight girls who sailed the schooner Tropic from St. Petersburg Saturday ran into about every imaginable trouble short of being shipwrecked before a Coast Guard boat pulled them in here last night.

They and their male skipper, Lee Hederman, owner of the 43-foot boat, were as chipper as when they started—almost.

"I'll be back in the next Havana race with the same outfit—you wait and see," Hederman said as he came ashore. "They're a great crew and a swell bunch of girls x x x. No crew of men could have done better."

The only one doubtful about another jaunt on the deep was Dottie Sherrill, pretty blonde clerk from Statesville, N.C.

"I'm not so sure I ever want to sail again," she admitted. "Maybe after I get rested up and get a good meal I'll see things differently."

The Tropic was barred by the St. Petersburg-to-Havana race committee as an official entry because of inexperienced personnel. Hederman insisted the result could not be blamed on his crew.

Two of the five sails were blown out, fuel for the auxiliary diesel engines ran short, the aerial was carried away so the crew couldn't broadcast, even the automatic SOS transmitter went dead, the lights failed, and the bilge pumps stopped working.

British Trainers Of Ethiopian Army To Depart

A British—military mission which has been training the Ethiopian army since 1942 will be withdrawn in the near future. An official Ethiopian government statement said the decision "reflects the further development of Ethiopia in the organization of her own affairs" and is also due "to the increasingly heavy demands on British manpower and financial resources resulting from the present world situation."

Others foreigners will remain in Ethiopia's military forces. A Belgian is a military adviser to Emperor Haile Selassie and Swedish officers are training the imperial guard and air force.

The have been unconfirmed reports that units of the Ethiopian army may be sent to Korea. However there is nothing official on this from the government.

The U. S. leads the world in lead production.

NEW! DIFFERENT! TRY IT TOASTED!

a tasty blend of

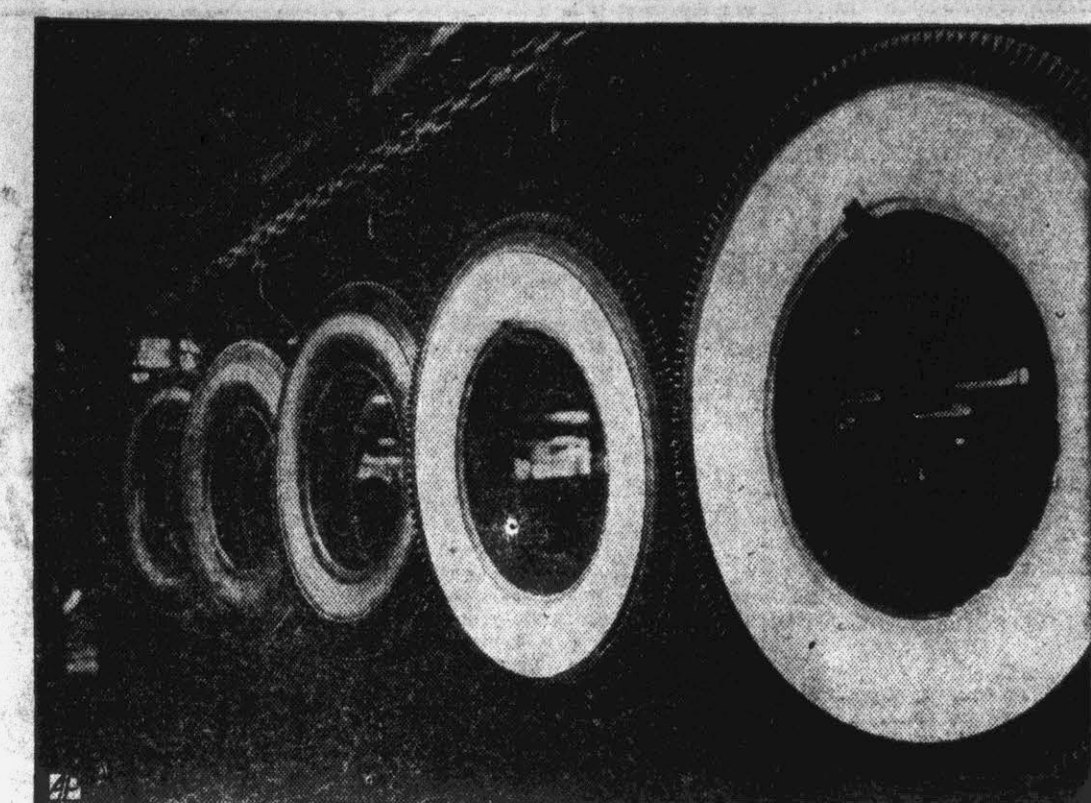

WHITE WHEAT RYE

NBC

ROMAN MEAL BREAD at your grocer's NOW!

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

LUXURY ITEM CASUALTIES—Banned during present emergency, last white sidewall tires move along production line followed by regular tires in Goodrich plant, Akron, Ohio.

Home Gardeners Differ Over Fertilizer Types

By ROBERT E. GEIGER

AP Newsfeature Writer

There are two schools of thought about the use of commercial fertilizers in home gardens.

One group of experts says that if manure is not available the commercial fertilizers, such as nitrogen-phosphorus combinations should be used.

The other school says to use manure and compost composed of "natural" materials. These include decayed leaves and even garbage.

The second group—with a wide following—says the use of commercial fertilizer produces inferior crops. It also claims crops grown from "natural" fertilizers are more likely to have greater resistance to insects and plant diseases.

Experts Study Claims

Department of Agriculture experts are studying these latter claims but say they have found no substantial evidence to uphold them.

Meanwhile, they recommend the careful use of chemical fertilizers where plenty of barnyard manure is not available.

Careful studies now are being made of the most efficient way to use chemical fertilizers. This work has been accelerated since atomic materials have become available. These atomic materials allow scientists to study the exact manner in which plants absorb nourishment from the soil. The experts expect to learn more about how to apply the chemicals—how far away from the plant, at what depth, at what time, etc.

What Experts Have Found

Meanwhile here is the latest information to come from the experts:

1. Fertilizer may be sown broadcast and thoroughly raked into the upper three to four inches of soil just before the seeds are planted. This is an easy method.

2. However, better results frequently are obtained by placing the fertilizer two inches to each side of the seed, and just a little deeper.

3. Apply about one pound to 25 to 30 feet of row.

4. One of the best fertilizers for most home gardens is a 5-10-1 mix, 5 per cent nitrogen, 10 per cent phosphoric acid and 5 per cent potash. (The rest of the mix will be ashes or some other "filler.")

5. Best results are obtained where plenty of manure or other organic matter has been worked into the soil before the garden was planted.

Fertilizer experts say the home gardener should be careful not to use too much commercial fertilizer. Whether it is broadcast or applied underneath the seed rows, it should be well mixed with the soil before the seeds are planted.

Tomatoes, Beans and Potatoes

They also warn home gardeners that tomatoes do not need much fertilizer and this plant may be damaged by heavy nitrogen applications. Use small amounts of barnyard manure, supplemented by light use of superphosphate. Heavy fertilizer application causes tomato plants to have a rank growth but many blossoms drop instead of forming fruit.

Beans and potatoes are other crops that do not need heavy fertilization.

Potatoes are not grown in most home gardens because such liberal supplies generally are on the market the year 'round. So most city gardeners do not have to worry about fertilizing potatoes.

Beans and potatoes are other most any good garden soil without fertilizer.

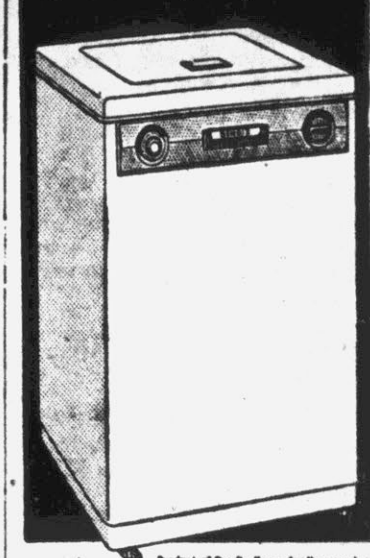

Lime is harmful to snap beans and gardeners should be careful.

13 IS HIS NUMBER

Los Angeles — (AP) — There's nothing unlucky about number 13 for Master Mark Charles Murphy. Born Feb. 13, he cut his 13th tooth on the 13th day of his 13th month. Furthermore, he's the 13th grandchild of a family that arrived here on a Sept. 13 many years ago.

NO PLUMBING
NO BOLTING DOWN
NO WRINGER OR SPINNER

new BENDIX
DIALAMATIC
WASHER
dynamically engineered

Product of Bendix Home Appliances, Inc.

- A single dial does the whole wash
- Underflow Agitator washing
- Floataway-Flushaway draining
- Magic Wandertub (guaranteed 5 years in writing)
- On casters—move it anywhere
- Dynamic new styling and beauty

ONLY $189.95

Low down payment—Easy terms

Appliance Sales
And Service Corp.
309 Evans St. — Dial 4260

Mother Of Two Praises Hadacol

HADACOL Supplies Deficient Systems With Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron

Mrs. Elmer Hise, 3225 2nd Ave., Council Bluffs, Iowa, is a good mother, and like all good mothers, she keeps a careful watch for the welfare of her two young children. And when little four-year-old Lucille Hise wasn't feeling as her mother knew she should she decided to do something about it.

Lucille Hise

Mrs. Hise gave Lucille HADACOL because she had heard how much it was helping children who had poor appetites and stomach distress caused by deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin. It helped her so much that now Mrs. Hise gives HADACOL to both of her children.

Here is what Mrs. Hise says: "My daughter has taken two bottles of HADACOL and she has been eating more than before and also sleeps better. I think HADACOL is the best thing for children who do not have an appetite. My daughter is four years old. Before taking HADACOL my daughter complained of her stomach hurting her, and I got her a bottle of HADACOL and she says her stomach doesn't bother her any more. I think HADACOL is wonderful. I am also giving HADACOL to my three-year-old daughter."

HADACOL Is So Effective

An important thing about HADACOL is that you get Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron in liquid form, which means that they are quickly absorbed and dispatched to the blood stream, ready to go right to work. HADACOL helps build up the hemoglobin content of the blood (when Iron is needed) to carry these precious Vitamins and Minerals to every part of your body.

YOU DON'T NEED THESE

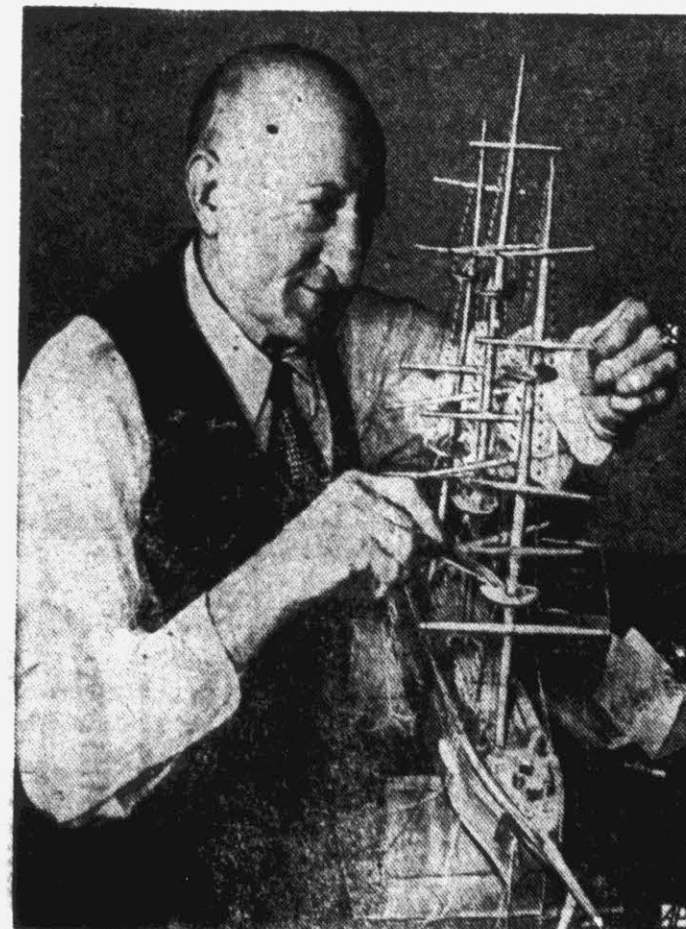

WHEN YOU PAY BILLS BY CHECK

By mail you can pay several bills in the time it would take to call at one shop in person.

Guaranty Bank and Trust Company
Member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation
Established 1901 — Time Tested
"The Guardian and Executor"
That Never Dies

START YOUR CHECKING ACCOUNT HERE TODAY

TOUCH OF EXPERIENCE—Thomas Van Nuland, 67, works on his model of a sailing ship for exhibition in a hobby show for New Yorkers sixty years of age and older next May.

SCHENLEY
SCHENLEY DISTRIBUTORS, INC., LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY
65% GRAIN NEUTRAL SPIRITS, 86 PROOF.
$2.10 $3.40
PT. 3 1/2 QT.

ROMAN MEAL BREAD at your grocer's NOW!
NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

SAVE MONEY

HAVE BETTER Coffee

More Flavor per Cup.
More Cups per Pound.

Gill's HOTEL SPECIAL
Coffee with Chicory

PLANT BED WATER PUMPS

—Made by Gorman-Rupp

—Powered by Briggs & Stratton

- 5500 Gallons per hour
- 1 1/2 Inch suction and discharge
- Long lasting centrifugal pump
- Self-priming.
- 1 1/2 horsepower gasoline motor.

Economical, easy to operate—It will do your watering job!

Pump and Motor $141.00

ALSO IN STOCK—Suction and discharge hose, irrigation pipe and sprinklers and all fittings. Equipment for watering 1000 yards or 100 acres!

THOMPSON IRRIGATION Co.

605 N. Heritage Street
P. O. Box 309, Phone 4159
Kinston, N. C.

Philadelphia

BLENDING WHISKY

$1.90
PINT

$3.10
4/5 QT.

Philadelphian
BLENDING WHISKY

86.8 PROOF. 60% GRAIN NEUTRAL SPIRITS.
CONTINENTAL DISTILLING CORPORATION - PHILADELPHIA, PENNA.

County Churches

ASPEN GROVE F. W. B. CHURCH
Rev. B. B. Manning, pastor.
10:30 a. m.—Sunday school, Mr. Clifton Gardner, superintendent.
11 a. m.—Regular services each second Sunday.
7:30 p. m.—Regular services each second Saturday.

FAIRLAND PRESBYTERIAN
Rev. Philip M. Cory, pastor.
10:30 a. m.—Sunday school, T. K. Fountain, superintendent.
11:00 a. m.—Regular worship services first Sunday.
Prayer services each Tuesday at 7 p. m.
Regular worship services second, third and fourth Sundays at 7 p. m.
Youth Fellowship 6 p. m.
You are cordially invited to worship with us.

FOUNTAIN FIRST BAPTIST
Rev. Richard L. West, pastor.
10:30 a. m.—Sunday School.
L. P. Telverson, superintendent.
11:30 a. m.—Preaching First and Third Sundays.
Prayer services Tuesday, 7:30 p. m.
Come worship with us.

FOUNTAIN PRESBYTERIAN
Rev. Phil M. Cory, pastor.
10 a. m.—Sunday school, Mr. R. A. Fountain, Sr., superintendent.
Regular worship services each second and fourth Sundays at 11 a. m.
You are cordially invited to worship with us.

CHOCOD PRESBYTERIAN
10:30 a. m.—Sunday School.

GRACE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
Rev. Philip M. Cory, pastor.
10 a. m.—Sunday school, W. J. Moore, superintendent.
11 a. m.—Regular worship services third Sunday.
7 p. m.—Worship services first Sunday.
Prayer services each Tuesday evening at 7:15.
You are cordially invited to worship with us.

ST. PAUL PENTECOSTAL HOLINESS CHURCH
Washington Highway
Rev. Willard Watson, pastor.
Sunday School 10 a. m., J. P. Benton, superintendent.

11 a. m.—Worship service.
7:30 p. m.—Worship Service.
Thursday, 7:30 p. m.—Prayer service.

MACDONIA METHODIST
Route 2, Ayden, N. C.
Sunday school each Sunday at 10 a. m. Wiley Rae Hardee, Supt.
Worship services each first and third Sunday.
Rev. W. A. Cade, Pastor.
Roy Turnage, Jr., layman-in-charge.
Prayer services each Wednesday evening.

BALLARD'S PRESBYTERIAN
Rev. C. D. Patterson, pastor.
10:00 a. m.—Sunday school, R. E. Lloyd, superintendent.
11 a. m.—Church services first and third Sundays.
7:30 p. m.—Youth Fellowship.

GRINDAL CREEK CHURCH OF GOD
Wade H. Crofts, pastor.
10:00 a. m.—Sunday school, J. B. Roberts, superintendent.
11 a. m.—Morning Worship.
7:30 p. m.—Evening worship.
Jehovah's Witnesses, Kingdom Hall Two miles west of Greenville on Palkland Highway.
Services every Sunday at 8 p. m. and Friday at 7:30 p. m.

BLACK JACK HOLINESS
Rev. W. R. Kennedy, pastor.
10:00 a. m.—Sunday School, Herman Buck, Superintendent.
Preaching every first Saturday night at 7:30. Every first Sunday at 11 a. m. Every first Sunday night at 7:30.

HOLLYWOOD PRESBYTERIAN
10:00 a. m.—Sunday School.
11:00 a. m.—Morning worship.
7:30 p. m.—First and third Sundays, evening worship.

PARKER'S CHAPEL F. W. B. CHURCH
Rev. W. H. Willis, pastor.
10:00 a. m.—Sunday school, Paul Harris, superintendent.
11:00 a. m.—Worship each second Sunday.
7:30 p. m.—Worship each second Sunday.

GRIMESLAND CHARGE
Rev. C. C. Nickens, pastor.
First Sunday Salem, 11 a. m.

Whorton, 7:30 p. m.
Second Sunday, Salem, 10 a. m., Grimesland 11 a. m.; Providence 7:30 p. m.
Third Sunday, Whorton 11 a. m., Salem 7:30 p. m.
Fourth Sunday, Providence 11 a. m., Grimesland 7:30 p. m.

PLEASANT HILL F. W. B. CHURCH
Rev. Gaham Baker, pastor.
Sunday school every Sunday at 10 a. m., L. D. Stanley, superintendent.
Church services each second Sunday 11:00 a. m.—Morning Worship.
8:00 p. m.—Evening Worship.
A Cordial welcome to all services day.

BLACK JACK F. W. B. CHURCH
W. L. Morris, pastor.
Services every third Saturday night at 7 o'clock, every third Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and every third Sunday night at 7 o'clock. Sunday school every Sunday at 10 a. m., Coss Hudson, superintendent.
Young People's League every Sunday night at 6:30.

GUM SWAMP F. W. B. CHURCH
Rev. D. W. Alexander, pastor.
10 a. m.—Sunday School, Floyd P. Harris, superintendent.
11:00 a. m.—Church services each second and fourth Sundays.

ROSE HILL F. W. B. CHURCH
W. B. Nobles, pastor.
Sunday school 10 a. m.
Junior Lee Dall, Sunday School superintendent.
Services on second and fourth Sundays at 11 a. m.

BELL ARTHUR CHRISTIAN
Rev. Zeph N. Deshields, pastor.
Sunday school, 10 a. m.
Jack Smith, superintendent.
Services third and fourth Sundays.
11:00 a. m.—Preaching services First Sunday in each month.
Everyone is welcome to attend these services.

MOUNT PLEASANT CHRISTIAN
William Clifton, pastor.
10:00 a. m.—Sunday School, O. J. Stanch, superintendent.
11:00 a. m.—Morning worship first and third Sundays.
7:30 p. m.—Evening worship first and third Sundays.
7:30 p. m.—Prayer services second and fourth Sundays.

BOYD MEMORIAL PRESBYTERIAN
10:00 a. m. Sunday school.
7:30 p. m.—Evening Worship.
You are cordially invited to worship with us.

BELL ARTHUR METHODIST
Key Taylor, minister.
Services 2nd and 3rd Sundays.

FINEY GROVE F. W. B. CHURCH
Rev. R. M. Hinnant, pastor.
10 a. m.—Sunday School, H. P. Tyson, superintendent.
11 a. m.—Church services every second Sunday.

SWEET GUM GROVE F. W. B. CHURCH Services each first Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. by the pastor Rev. J. T. Forrest, of Kinston.
Services followed by choir practice Saturday night before each first Sunday at 7:30.
Y. P. L. each Sunday at 6 p. m.
Sunday school each Sunday at 10 a. m., David Nobles, Jr., superintendent.
The public is invited to come worship with them.

REEDY BRANCH
Rev. D. W. Hansley, pastor.
Services each first and third Sunday mornings and second and fourth morning at 10 o'clock, E. C. Lavenport, superintendent.

HICKORY GROVE F. W. B. CHURCH
Rev. Clarence J. Little, Pastor.
10:00 a. m.—Sunday School, Kenneth Manning, Superintendent.
11:00 a. m.—Worship each third Sunday.
7:30 p. m.—Worship each third Sunday.

ROUGH AND TUMBLE PET—Jess Jones, of Scott's Valley, Cal., gives a piggy-back ride to his mountain lion pet, Big Tom. Jones has two other lions, raised from infancy.

WEAPON CONTRAST—William Wieman displays a watch fob pistol and a revolving rifle from collection of unusual hand guns of White firearm research shop in Cleveland.

FRANCE'S GLORIES—M. Donnadieu reads for an exhibition in Paris the hat Napoleon wore at Waterloo, sword used at the Corsican coronation and a contemporary portrait.

THE MUSIC GOES ON—Heinz Arntz, 51, is shaved during 11th hour at the piano keyboard in a Frankfurt, Germany, restaurant, in effort to mark his mark of 175 hours of playing.

Mixed Reaction To Gromyko Bid At Paris Parley

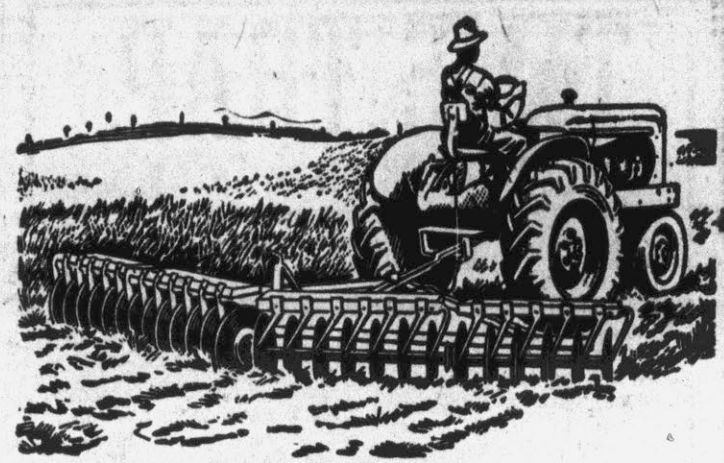

Paris, March 29—(AP)—Western sources today greeted Russia's new proposals for a Foreign Ministers' conference agenda with reactions ranging from cautious optimism to enthusiasm.

The delegates of the United States, Britain and France met at the French Foreign Ministry to exchange views of the new and apparently conciliatory suggestions submitted yesterday by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

They postponed until tomorrow the meeting with Gromyko, scheduled for today, in order to give more time to discussion of his proposals.

"The western powers feel the new Soviet suggestions are important enough for serious study and consideration, so we have arranged to have no meeting today," a western official said.

WOLF OUT OF BOUNDS
Yorkton, Sask.—(AP)—A 90-pound male timber wolf was shot by men on horseback and shot about 12 miles east of Yorkton. Harry Swallow, president of the Yorkton Fish and Game League, said it was unusual for a timber wolf to venture this far south.

RE-POWERING doesn't cost — it pays

Saving on fuel alone will pay for a tractor engine overhaul in a surprisingly short time. In addition, you get more work out of your tractor — more drawbar pull, less lost time, quicker starting.

Let our factory-trained mechanics re-power your tractor — with new parts, made by Allis-Chalmers and packaged in matched sets.

For new engine performance ask us to install an A-C Motor Kit.

TUNE IN the National Farm and Home Hour Every Saturday... NBC

ALLIS-CHALMERS
SALES AND SERVICE

Hendrix-Barnhill Equipment Co.

2004 Dickinson Ave. — Dial 2011

COMPARE Quality
COMPARE Size
COMPARE Prices

INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER REFRIGERATORS

they're feminine

NEW...and YEARS AHEAD!

Always a crowd of admirers around an International Harvester Refrigerator! Easy to see why! Women everywhere rely on this refrigerator for lasting quality—(designed for convenience... planned to use), for excellent size—(MORE storage in small space!), and for moderate price—(marvelous features of the future today, at dollar-saving cost!) And now—

Color-Keyed to Your Kitchen!

International Harvester brings you another "FIRST" to lend sparkle to your whole kitchen... color in the refrigerator handle!

• Gleaming plastic plaques in choice of ten interchangeable color accents!
• Match or contrast handle color with kitchen color schemes!

SEE THE COMPLETE LINE
STARTING AT 7 MODELS
7 SIZES
7 PRICES $219⁹⁵

Model UA-95 $299.95

Greenville's
Best Furniture Store

Rufus Dunn,
General Manager

Timely tip for tobacco growers:

DITHANE
prevents blue mold

• PROVED EFFECTIVE—Commercial applications of DITHANE dusts and sprays controlled the disease during the epidemic seasons of 1948 to 1950. Plant beds protected with DITHANE produced an abundance of healthy, vigorous plants at the right time for setting in the field.

• PLEASANT TO USE—You will like to use DITHANE, the clean, light-colored fungicide. It's easy to mix with water to make a spray. And there are free-flowing DITHANE dusts if you prefer this method of control.

• TIMING TELLS—For best results, begin using DITHANE dusts or sprays before blue mold strikes. Then follow the program recommended by your local agricultural advisor. It's the easy and inexpensive way to have the plants you need when you need them.

DON'T DELAY—
GET DITHANE TODAY

ROHM & HAAS COMPANY
WASHINGTON SQUARE, PHILADELPHIA 6, PA.

DITHANE is a trade-mark, Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
and in principal foreign countries.

OLD HICKORY
Straight BOURBON Whisky

86 PROOF
FOUR YEARS OLD
$210
PT.
$340
4/5 QT.

OLD HICKORY DISTILLING CORP.

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

WANT ADS

Rates 3c per word, minimum charge 75c for first insertion of 25 words; two consecutive insertions, $1.35; three insertions, $1.85; four insertions, $2.35; five insertions, $2.85; six insertions $3.25; Month, $12.00. Display Want Ads $1.00 per column inch per insertion; one week, $5.00; one month $18.00.

The Daily Reflector will be responsible only for the first incorrect or omitted insertion of any advertisement and then only to the extent of a make-good insertion. Errors which do not lessen the value of the advertisement will not be corrected by make-good insertions.

The publisher reserves the right to revise or reject any copy.

All ads must be received a day ahead of publication date.

EAST CAROLINA ROOFING CO
Jobs Applied and Financed
CLAUDE B. WEST, Mgr.
Office - Proctor Hotel
Office Phone 5181
Residence Phone 5223

FOR SALE
CONCRETE BLOCKS & ROADS washed and screened sand. Call 4000 for prompt service. Concrete Products Co., Inc., Henry W. Martin,
Mgr., Greenville, N. C. 2-4-1mo

DR. R. L. SHELL, FOOT SPECIALIST
1st, 317 State Bank Bldg. Office open Mondays only of each week.
Hours 9:30 until 5:30. 7-11-1mo

INSULATING, WEATHER STRIP, plum, stain resistant siding and house-time aluminum awnings. Easy terms, no money down, 36 months to pay. Free estimates. "Your comfort is our business." Call 2235. C. L.
Lupton Co. 8-1-1f

D. D. GARRETT INSURANCE Agency is offering fire, auto, health and accident, police, hospitalization and other forms of insurance.
Also income tax services. 147
E. 2nd St., City, Dial 4478. 1-4-1f

Horses Cows Hogs
Dead or Alive
FREE REMOVAL
Phone Greenville 3101
Greenville By-Products Co., Inc.

GARDEN SEED, FLOWER SEED,
onion sets. White's Stores. 2-17-2mo

PIANO, NEW SPINET, BUY THE modern popular way, $10 a month rent with full payment of your rent for six months if you buy.
Write or phone W. C. Reid and Co.,
141 S. Main Street, Rocky Mount, N. C.
3-1-1f

EAT EVERY DAY AT THE OOF-
the Shop, 819 Dickinson Ave. Open from 7 a. m. to 11 p. m. Good meals at reasonable prices. Try us tomorrow. 15-26

ATTENTION MR. TOBACCO
Farmer. See us for your Hall Insurance and we will see you when it falls. Keel & Bennett Insurance Agency at Keel's Warehouse.
Phone 3030 or 2940. 3-15-1f

FOR SALE—3-STORY HOUSE, W.
8th Street, 7 rooms, 3 baths, $2,000 down. Also 1 corner lot, 60x140, in Tucker's Circle. Priced right. Call
Hooker and Buchanan or see Jimmy
Brewer. 3-17-1f

MR. FARMER: WE NOW HAVE in stock Fertilizer Dust and Spray.
Hudson Dusters, horse drawn and crank type, Seed Corn, Broome's Hybrid, N. C. 27, and Dixie 17, Latham's Double White and Yellow, lawn grass, lawn mowers, power and push type, Garden Seed of all kinds.
Talley Bros. 3-23-1f

FOR RENT—TWO DESIRABLE stores, 925 and 927 Dickinson Ave.
April 1, 1951. Now occupied by Rhodes Furniture Store. Call P. L.
Goodson, Phone 3712. 2-23-1f

SMART, SMOOTH AND SOIL-proof. Glaxo plastic type linoleum flooring. Ends waxing. Belk-Tyler's 3rd floor. 26-4

WE HAVE THE VERY BEST PERmanent lawn seed adapted to soil and climatic conditions of Greenville and vicinity. It is time to plant them now. Call us 3735. J. A. Watson, Seed and Hardware. 27-10

WANTED—USED TRUMPET. CONtact, Billy Cuthrell, 112 N. Library St. or Mr. Rogers at High School.
28-3

JIMINY CRICKETS, FINA FOAM is the ticket for cleaning rugs and upholstery. Belk-Tyler's 3rd floor. 26-6

Austin Nichols
GREAT OAK
BLENDED WHISKY
$1.85
pint

The Straight Whiskies in this product are 2 years or more old; 34% Straight Whisky, 70% Grain Neutral Spirits, 20% Straight Whisky 2 years old, 5% Straight Whisky 4 years old, 5% Straight Whisky 6 years old. 86 proof.

Austin Nichols
Sole Importers

WANTED—CLEAN COTTON rags free of buttons. Daily Reflector. 2-12-1f

BRICK
Face & Common
Eastern Brick & Tile Co.
Route 3, Greenville
Tel. 36336

INTERESTED IN A JOB WITH A good future? Need a young man with high school education and interested in cows to do DHA testing. Must have car and be willing to travel some. Salary $250 up. If interested see S. C. Winchester, county agent, or Norman Coward, 1 mile west of House Station before Wednesday, March 31st. 24-5

WE HAVE OPENINGS FOR THREE experienced salesmen and collectors. Good proposition for right men. Apply by letter for interview to Tarboro Furniture Co., Tarboro,
N. C. 24-19

WANTED TO RENT—3 OR 3 BED-ROOM HOUSE, MODERN WITH ALL CONVENIENCES. TENANT RESPONSIBLE PERSON. WILL FURNISH REFERENCE. REPLY
P.O. BOX 383, KINSTON, N. C. 24-6

WE HAVE JUST INSTALLED THE newest and most modern machine made for sharpening and reconditioning lawn mowers of all sizes and either hand or power mowers.
We will also pick up and deliver.
For the best in lawn mower service dial 3735. J. A. Watson, Seed and Hardware. 24-10

WANTED—YOUNG MAN BEtween the ages of 26 and 38 for shipping department with national concern. 40 Hour week. Apply in own handwriting giving references and qualifications. Write "Concern."
Box 408, Greenville. 3-28-1f

FREE CIGARETTES. ONE PACK with each 10 gallons of gas. One pack with each wash and grease job. One pack with each oil change and grease job. Court View Texaco Service Station. 26-3

WE HAVE COKERS 100 DELINTed and treated cotton seed. Wood's 8-100 extra early seed soy beans and seed corn of all kinds and varieties. These seed are certified and tested. Dial 3735. J. A. Watson, Seed and Hardware. 20-10

Scott Motor Sales
Your Studebaker Dealer
219 E. Fifth Street
Greenville, N. C.
3624—Tel.—4346

Special Bargains

37 Ford
2 Door $175

41 Ford
2 Door $350

46 Pontiac 4 Door, radio and heater, $895
new paint

48 Champion Studebaker
4 door $995
heater

47 Champion Studebaker
2 door, low mileage, radio and heater, $1095
overdrive

50 Ford Custom 4 Door, radio and heater, low mileage $1595

50 Champion Studebaker,
4 door, low mileage, radio and heater, overdrive $1695

47 Ford 1 1-2 Ton
stake body $595

47 Studebaker 1 1-2 Ton
Stake Body $595

One-Third Down
Balance Financed
A limited number of 1951
Studebaker 1-2, 1 1-2 and
2 Ton Trucks for immediate delivery.

WANTED—4 EXPERIENCED waitresses, 25 years old or older.
Apply in person. Proctor Hotel Cafe Shop. No phone calls. 29-3

WANTED—CURB BOYS. DOUBLE
N Restaurant. 29-3

FOR SALE—1942 CHEVROLET.
Can be seen at College Esso Station. Priced $295. 29-3

TWO UNFURNISHED ROOMS FOR rent. Next to bus stop. 1809 Dickinson Ave. 29-3

WANTED—3 BEDROOM SEMIfurnished house near bus line in College View. Must move by May 1.
Contact Capt. Frank R. Young, Care
General Delivery, Wrightsville
Beach. 29-3

FOR SALE—BRAND NEW BENdix automatic clothes dryer at greatly reduced price. Apply 610 Cotanche St., Phone 3222, Mrs. J. W.
Hassell. 29-3

TOBACCO STICKS FOR SALE.
any quantity, saved from mill timber. No slabs. Marvin Porter, Simpson, Phone 36618. 29-6

DANCE AT WHICHAARD'S BEACH.
Washington, N. C., every Saturday night. Combination round and square dancing. Music by Bob Jones and his orchestra. Admission, ladies 50c, men 75c. Mar. 10-15-16-23-29-30.

WE DESIGN
And
INSTALL AWNINGS
On HOMES, OFFICES AND STORES
Smith Electric Co.
Phone 2273 Since 1918

SEED PEANUTS: VIRGINIA
Bunch large variety, shelled, hand picked, 1/2 lb. 30c per pound. State Laboratory results 95 to 98% germination. Keel Peanut Company,
Phone 2240, Greenville, N. C. 3-26-1f

PIANO REBUILDING
AND TUNING
Experienced Technician
All Work Guaranteed
JOHNSON'S
MUSIC STORE
Five Points—Dial 4483

FOR SALE AT A REAL BARGAIN.
An apartment size electric range.
Zack P. VanDyke & Co. Dial 4172.
26-6

IT IS TIME TO CHANGE OVER to spring lubrication. Come by or call us for an expert spring job.
Ricks Service Center, Cor. 9th &
Evans Streets. 26-6

FOR SALE—NICE HOMES, SMALL or large, city or suburban. Also some farms. Cash or terms. We buy or sell. It's real estate see J. Hicks Corey Agency. Dial 2615, Greenville,
N. C. 3-24-Tue-Wed-1f

Warren's Drive-In Drug Store
Ayden-Farmville Intersection
Open 9:00 A. M. to 9:30 P. M.
Monday Through Saturday
Sundays 2 P. M. to 9:30 P. M.
Registered Pharmacist
On Duty At All Times

GLADIOLUS BULBS, DAHLIA roots and special fertilizer for same. White's Stores. 2-17-2mo

FERTILIZER AND DITHANE NOW available. Frank Reid Co., Keel's
Warehouse, Greenville, N. C. 26-6

HOMES FOR SALE
6 Room Home on Ridgeway St.
5 Room Home in Elmhurst
6 Room Home on Fairfax Ave.
6 Room Home in Hillside
General Insurance Agency
A. B. Stallworth
H. B. Tripp
Jack Wallace
J. B. Smith, Jr. Phone
2401
4093 30-2

FOUND ABOUT MARCH 7—1 THIN black horse mule, weighs about 1,000 lbs. Owner contact Wesley Johnston on Pactolus highway, 4 miles from Greenville. 26-6

30 DAY WRITTEN GUARANTEE with every used car or truck on our lot. Examine our cars and trucks closely. Compare prices anywhere $1195 Will buy a handsome 1949 Ford Custom 8 Coach with Magic Air conditioner at Plansgana. Since 1866. 28-eod-2

COMFORT, CONVENIENCE, DEpendability—A 1947 Chevrolet Fordor Sedan completely equipped at Planagan's priced at $875. Planagan Buggy Co. will not be undersold. 28-eod-2

Lighting Fixtures
Over 125 fixtures on display priced from $2.10 up.
Horne Electric Co.

TRAILER FOR SALE—SUITABLE for farm or road hauling. May be seen at 1010 Chestnut Street or contact Lawrence Tyson. 30-3

AM NO LONGER WORKING WITH Jack Kite. Am now working with Mr. Page at Serve-U Filling Station, Woodrow Tripp. 30-3

WHITE TENANT WANTED FOR crop, ideally located, convenient to town, 46 acres, over 11 acres tobacco. Must have at least two able-bodied men and some women in crowd. Dead-beats and those not willing to work need not apply. Reply Box 58, Greenville. 30-2

FLOWERS AND SHRUBS—FOXglove, Sweet William, Shasta Daisies, False Dragonhead, Scabiosa, Gaillardia, Annual Candy Tuft, Salvia, Blue Sage, Pink Thrift, Penstemon, and Oxalis, Wisteria Vines, Mock Orange, Spirea and three over eight feet weeping willow trees.
Also several dozen early daffodil bulbs 25c dozen. Put out now for next spring blooming. Just drive out the Bethel highway two miles from river bridge. First house with white picket fence. House back a short distance from highway. 30-2

WARNING
Be sure that you do not get caught in an accident without insurance protection. Drop by our office, corner 3rd and Cotanche Street and let us protect you today. Tomorrow may be too late.
D. L. Turnage, Agent
Lester E. Turnage, Jr.,
Representative 3-22-1mo

PROMPT REPAIRS
Mean more months of wear.
Bring shoes to us when soles wear through or heels run over.
Sand's Shoe Shop
Phone 2666

HEALTHY CHICKS
That Live and Grow
To Live and Grow

DRUM'S HATCHERY
West End Circle

THE WINDSTORM THAT SWEEP northeastern states on Thanksgiving weekend, 1950, ranks third among the nation's greatest catastrophes in the amount of insurance claims.
It was exceeded only by the San Francisco fire of 1906 and the Chicago fire of 1871.

THERE OUGHTA BE A LAW
ON ROADS YOU COULD DRIVE BLINDFOLDED,
WHY IS IT BIG WAR-NINGS ARE PUT

BUT ON ROADS THAT ARE STEEP AND WINDING,
THEY WARN YOU OF
ATHLETES FOOT?

Thanks
JAS. E. STONE
ATLANTA, GA.

WARNING!
DANGEROUS ROAD AHEAD
SHARP CURVES AND STEEP
DROPS. STOP IN LINE. WE WARN YOU OF ATHLETES FOOT
AT YOUR OWN RISK.

WARNING!
LOOK BETWEEN YOUR TOES! DO YOU HAVE
ATHLETES FOOT?
USE QUACKO READY

DRUM'S HATCHERY
West End Circle

Time Saves

RUSTY RILEY

THE PHANTOM

THIMBLE THEATER—Starring Popeye

BLONDIE—By Chic Young

OZARK IKE

Situation Wanted!

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt

CALLING ALL KIDS!

Be Sure To Attend The First Meeting Of

"MEET THE KIDS KLUB"

SATURDAY MORNING

DOORS OPEN 9:30 A. M.

This is the first in a series of 4 super duper kid shows! Others will be held on April 21st, May 12th and June 2nd.

HERE'S THE PROGRAM

Stage Broadcast WGTC 10 to 10:30

Roy Rogers in "Susanna Pass"

Popeye Cartoon

2½ Hours of Stage and Screen Fun!

Children
Under 12
5c

PITT

Don't Miss
This Big Fun Show!OLD CABIN STILL

BRAND

91 Proof

SOUR MASH

KENTUCKY STRAIGHT BOURBON
WHISKEY

Bottled Under Dispensary, Inc., Louisville, Ky.

Come in... SEE NEW 1951

Westinghouse
REFRIGERATORS
BEST IN HISTORYON DISPLAY
NOW!Terms or Cash

The only decision you'll make when you see the great 1951 Westinghouse Refrigerator line, is which model best fits your kitchen! Every model is a standout... for style... value... features. Every one gives you famous COLDER COLD... the right cold for every food-keeping compartment. Come in today... choose your 1951 Westinghouse Refrigerator. You'll enjoy years and years of extra value... extra satisfaction!

STYLE • QUALITY • FEATURES GALORE

SHARP-EDGED FREEZER CHIEF
CONVENIENT BUTTER KEEPER BOAST-DEEP MEAT KEEPER
EXTRA-LARGE REFRIGERATOR
EASY-TO-SEE 2-way Door Handle

WIDE-PLATED SHELVES
800 REFRIGERATORS AND SHELVES-
In-The-Door
PORCELAIN FOOD BASKET

SEE ONE OF THESE... at Westinghouse

Bostic-Sugg Furniture Co.

Back of Post Office

Music Festival Set
To Start On April 6

The county music festival will begin in Pitt county on April 6 and last until April 27.

The schools taking part will be divided into four sections with three or four schools in each section, and the meeting being held at one of the schools in the section.

Beginning Friday morning, April 6, at 8 p.m., Winterville, Ayden, and Stokes will participate at Winterville. On April 20, Chocod, Grifton, and Grimesland will participate at Chocod. April 20 Farmville, Arthur, and Fountain will meet at Farmville and on April 27, Belvoir will be host to Bethel, Falkland, and Pactolus.

The music festival will include participants from the elementary, grammar, and high schools in the county. Each school will be limited to a maximum of twenty minutes for their musical selection.

The type of music to be presented is an outgrowth of the year's work and will include rhythm bands, tonette bands, folk dancing, boys and girls or mixed choruses, small ensemble groups, and band or instrumental numbers.

The music festival regulations were issued by Annie Lee Jones, elementary supervisor.

Dr. Leslie Hohman Points
To Problem In Education

Dr. Leslie B. Hohman, professor of neuro-psychiatry at Duke University, speaking before an assembly of Greenville city school teachers and guests last night told the group that the future of education depends largely on training of the retarded child and the training of the above-average child which is now being neglected to some extent.

By the use of special education, Hohman said the schools must take in consideration the estimated 20 per cent of each class room which is classed way below average as well as the 20 per cent which is above average, since education is now taught on an "average" level.

"It is a dangerous thing teaching bright children how to get by with very little work and effort by giving them average training which does not aid them in being ready to carry on maximum efforts," he noted.

By means of a series of case histories, the doctor pointed out how many so called "problem children" have been turned into above average or normal children by the proper training and understanding.

One of the largest problems now found in the city schools, private schools and other institutions is the deficit reading ability in many children, Hohman said.

After the third grade a child depends largely on books for new information, and if he can not gain this information because of inability to read, his trend is to get bored or get in trouble or seek other ways out.

In closing, Dr. Hohman stated that the group of children who can only learn so much, should not be pushed ahead by means of social promotion as this is unfair to the child. The retarded child has the right to learn to use his hands on which he must depend for a livelihood in order to make a good worker he explained.

The meeting last night closed out a series of discussion and work shops conducted among the city School faculty members over the past months.

Dr. Hohman was introduced by Superintendent of City Schools, J. H. Rose.

Artloom . . .

(Continued from page one)

Company, Inc.

"Mr. S. L. Duffett, textile consultant of Laurinburg, North Carolina will continue as president and treasurer of the local corporation and there will be no change in the present local management."

Therkildsen this morning stated that the Greenville Mills, Inc. has obtained a ten year lease on the building owned by Greenville Spinners, Inc. and has an option for a renewal of the lease for ten years.

The plant manager expressed the hope that the local woolen plant would be in operation by May 1 "if everything goes well."

Therkildsen today stated in an interview, "If we operate five days a week on three shifts, the total enrollment of the plant probably will be from 100 to 125 people." He emphasized, however, that the operating schedule of the plant still is undecided.

As for the personnel the plant will need from the local population, Therkildsen stated, "An announcement will be forthcoming in the not too distant future. It is our intention to use local people here. We brought a few key personnel down to Greenville, but for the most part the employees will be drawn from Greenville and the surrounding country side. We are quite certain that we can train them to produce quality workmanship."

Therkildsen explained this morning that the operation of the plant would begin with raw wool and end with the production of wool yarn to be used for carpets and perhaps blankets. The wool will be taken into the plant, dyed in the four 750-pound capacity dye kettles in the plant, and then sent through a series of processes until it becomes yarn.

The entire plant is equipped with new machinery from the boiler room to the fire extinguishers. Therkildsen said the machinery and equipment for the plant has been arriving in Greenville since last October 2, and all the machinery which will be needed by the plant has already been received here, or has been shipped by the manufacturers.

One feature of the plant will be a modern humidification and evaporative cooling system which will regulate the temperature and humidity within the plant.

"Everything is new from start to finish," Therkildsen commented. "We have every expectation that this is going to be one of the finest units of its kind anywhere in the country."

F. Badger Johnson, president of the Greenville Chamber of Commerce, hailed the announcement by the plant officials this morning as a "definite and progressive step in the industrial development of Greenville."

"We are indeed proud to welcome this new organization to our town," Johnson declared, "and we know they are going to become a part of Greenville. We know the officials of Artloom Carpet Company and Greenville Mills, Inc. are anxious to get the plant into operation as soon as possible, and we citizens of Greenville are just as anxious for them to begin operation. I am confident the plant officials will find they will receive the full cooperation of the people of Greenville."

Son In Japan . . .

(Continued from page one)

package, two more packages, several letters, and seven cablegrams from his family that very day.

Mrs. Cox first heard the news of her son being wounded when she got a telegram from the hospital. A few days later she got a letter from one of his buddies who had been with him when he was wounded. Next came a letter from Walter and a telegram from the Defense Department.

Walter was hit by a shell fragment in the leg on March 10 in Korea when American troops were fighting to take a hill that was occupied by Chinese communist troops. He has received the Purple Heart.

Pvt. Cox is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Cox of 206 West 8th Street, Greenville.

Colored News

The United Daughters club of Mt. Calvary met Sunday at the home of Mrs. Virginia Moore with Mrs. Curley Vines in charge of the meeting. The fifth Psalm was read by Mrs. Rubell Pettiford. Deacon Spain lead in prayer.

The next meeting will be Sunday at the home of Mrs. Azella Moore, 300 Douglas street.

Good Hope F. W. B. church, Winterville, N. C.

9:30 a. m.—Sunday school, O. C. Bryant, superintendent.

11 a. m.—Message by the pastor, Rev. S. Hemby, "God Calls For a Living Witness."

7:30 p. m.—Rev. E. N. Staton will officiate at English Chapel. He will be accompanied by choir, ushers and congregation from Shiloh Baptist church.

The public is invited to worship with us.

York Memorial A. M. E. Zion church, Rev. P. H. Mumford, pastor. 9:45 a. m.—Sunday school, W. J. Hester, Superintendent.

11 a. m.—Message by the pastor, "The World's Challenge to the Christian Church."

Music by the Senior Choir.

3:00 p. m.—The pastor, choir, ushers and members will worship with the A. M. E. church in Rocky Mount. The bus will leave at 1:30 p. m. The transportation is 75c round trip.

8 p. m.—The pastor will speak for the Knights of Pythias in their annual anniversary and thanksgiving. The senior choir will sing. The public is cordially invited.

The Pastor's Aid club of Sycamore Hill Baptist church will meet at the home of Miss Edith Gorham Monday night, April 2. All members are asked to be present.

FARMVILLE COLORED NEWS

There will be a dance at Parker's Place on Friday night, March 30, beginning at 8 o'clock. Admission 10 cents. Everyone is asked to attend.

The HCA club of Macedonia Baptist Church will meet on Sunday evening, April 1st, at 6 o'clock at the church. All members are asked to please be present.

The Junior Mission Circle of Macedonia Baptist Church will meet on Monday night, April 2, at Mrs. Mary B. Blount's. All members are asked to please attend.

Regular church services will be held at the following churches on Sunday: Bible-Way Holiness and Macedonia Baptist. Services will begin at 11 o'clock.

The men's club of Macedonia Baptist Church will meet on Sunday evening, April 1st, at 7 o'clock at the church. All members are asked to please be present.

The Global . . .

(Continued from page one)

Perhaps his purpose was to keep us on our toes, for there would be tremendous danger if we became complacent and lowered our guard. Like our colonial forebears, we must till the soil with rifles close at hand.

But, you ask, is there no alternative to such a long-drawn-out struggle?

Yes, there is an alternative which isn't being overlooked either by the western powers or the Red bloc. When America in particular, and the Democracies in general, have reached the peak of their military preparedness they will be in position to deliver an ultimatum to aggressors to desist in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

But wouldn't that result in major war? Probably no, unless you assume that the aggressors would be crazy enough to embark on a suicidal conflict. Our great hope is that our military strength will be a deterrent to aggression. But if we are compelled to use force, the advantage will be heavily on our side.

jected to the whole setup of lights, cameras and recording devices. A few complained they could not testify properly under these conditions.

When the committee failed to get the testimony it wanted, none were cited for contempt.

All this adds up to a great many court tests to nail down who has what rights, not forgetting the public's.

Defrosts ITSELF

in 2 to 10 Minutes!

BEST CROSLLEY SHREVLANDER!

Easy Terms

CROSLLEY SHREVLANDER

CROSLLEY SHREVLANDER

CROSLLEY SHREVLANDER

CROSLLEY SHREVLANDER

CROSLLEY SHREVLANDER

CROSLLEY SHREVLANDER

CROSLLEY SHREVLANDER

CROSLLEY SHREVLANDER

CROSLLEY SHREVLANDER

CROSLLEY SHREVLANDER

CROSLLEY SHREVLANDER

CROSLLEY SHREVLANDER

CROSLLEY SHREVLANDER

CROSLLEY SHREVLANDER

CROSLLEY SHREVLANDER

CROSLLEY SHREVLANDER

CROSLLEY SHREVLANDER

CROSLLEY SHREVLANDER

CROSLLEY SHREVLANDER

CROSLLEY SHREVLANDER

CROSLLEY SHREVLANDER

CROSLLEY SHREVLANDER

CROSLLEY SHREVLANDER

CROSLLEY SHREVLANDER

CROSLLEY SHREVLANDER

CROSLLEY SHREVLANDER

CROSLLEY SHREVLANDER

CROSLLEY SHREVLANDER

CROSLLEY SHREVLANDER

THE DAILY REFLECTOR

COMICS

GREENVILLE, N. C.

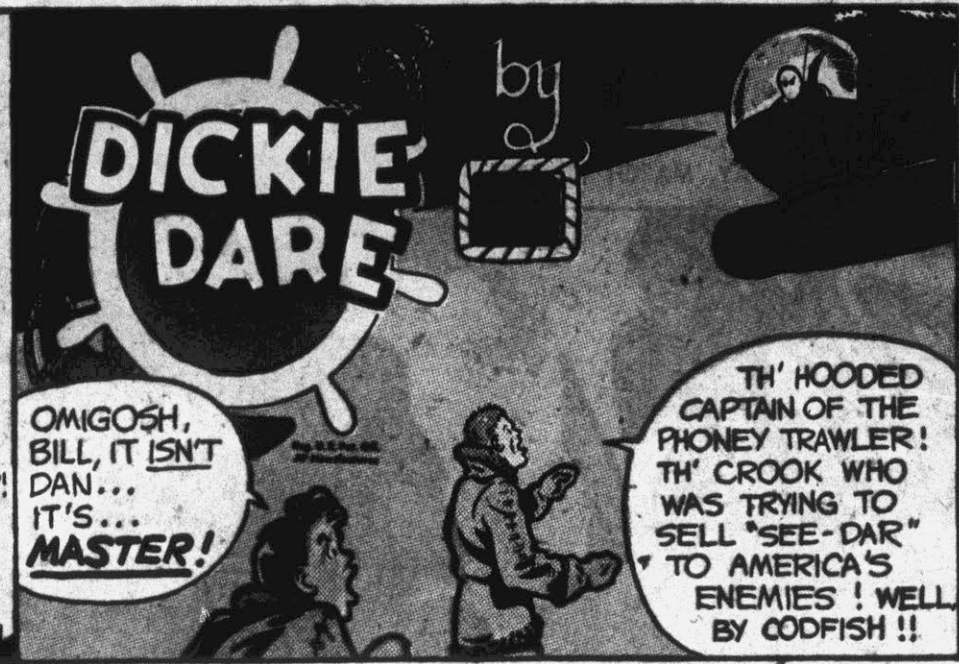

SECTION

SATURDAY, MARCH 31, 1951

DICKIE AND BILL BULL HAD FAILED TO PRODUCE FIRE IN THEIR LABRADOR RETREAT

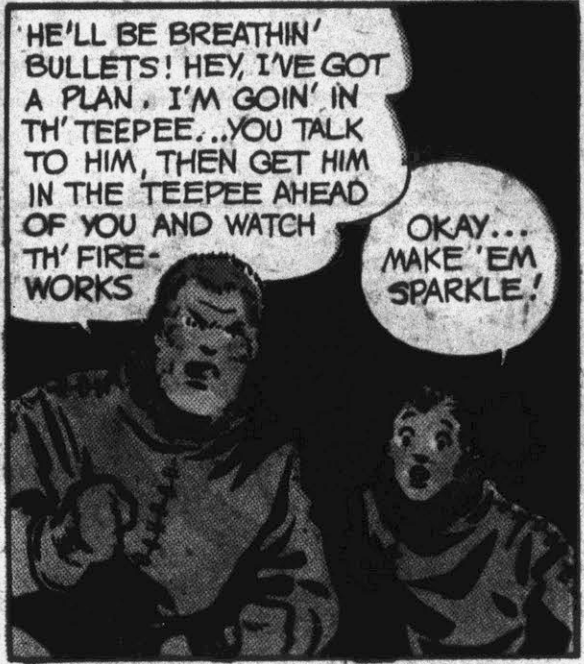

THEN, A BUZZING SOUND... IT'S A HELICOPTER! AND INSIDE IS...

DICKIE DARE

OMIGOSH, BILL, IT ISN'T DAN... IT'S... MASTER!

TH' HOODED CAPTAIN OF THE PHONEY TRAWLER! TH' CROOK WHO WAS TRYING TO SELL "SEE-DAR" TO AMERICA'S ENEMIES! WELL BY CODFISH !!

HE'LL BE BREATHIN' BULLETS! HEY, I'VE GOT A PLAN. I'M GOIN' IN TH' TEEPEE... YOU TALK TO HIM, THEN GET HIM IN THE TEEPEE AHEAD OF YOU AND WATCH TH' FIRE-WORKS

OKAY... MAKE 'EM SPARKLE!

WELL... GOOD MORNING!

MOURNING IS RIGHT... WE'RE SURE IN MOURNING NOW THAT YOU SHOWED UP! HOW'S EVERYTHING IN THE MACHINE GUN LINE?

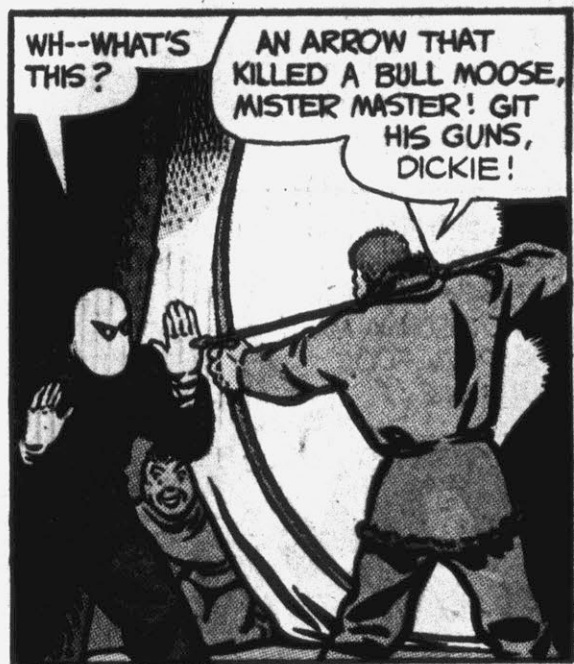

OH SHOOT, ALL OILED AND READY TO GO OFF! I'M RELIEVED TO SEE YOU'RE ALIVE...

SURE, YOU CAN HAVE THE FUN OF KILLING US ALL OVER AGAIN! YOU HAVEN'T A MATCH HAVE YOU, BUDDY?

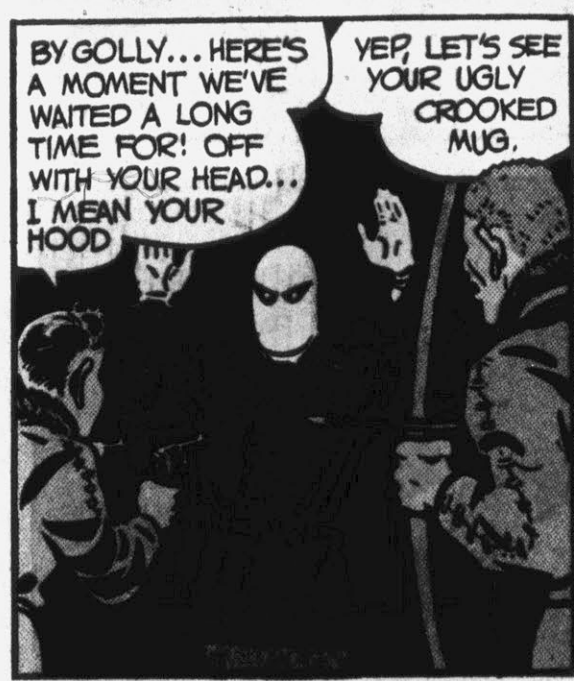

WE WERE JUST ABOUT TO FREEZE! YOU SEE, OUR FIRE WENT OUT...

I'LL GET IT GOING WITH MY CIGARETTE LIGHTER

WH--WHAT'S THIS?

AN ARROW THAT KILLED A BULL MOOSE, MISTER MASTER! GIT HIS GUNS, DICKIE!

BY GOLLY... HERE'S A MOMENT WE'VE WAITED A LONG TIME FOR! OFF WITH YOUR HEAD... I MEAN YOUR HOOD

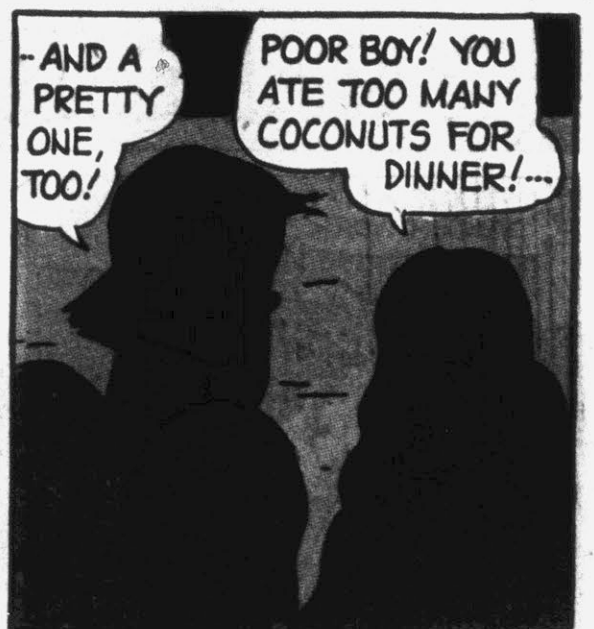

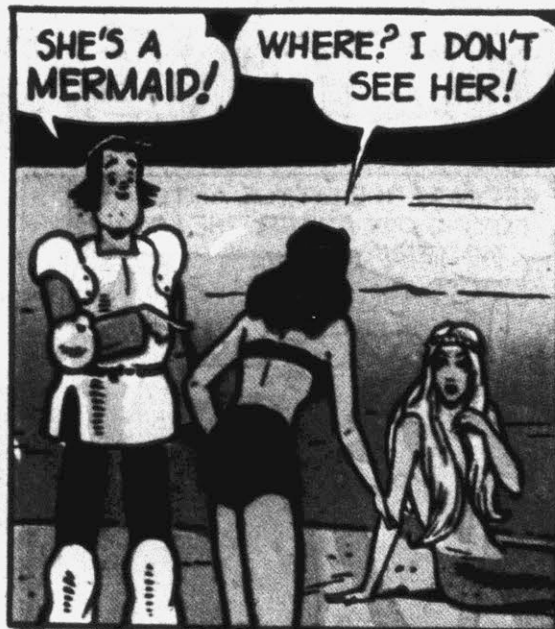

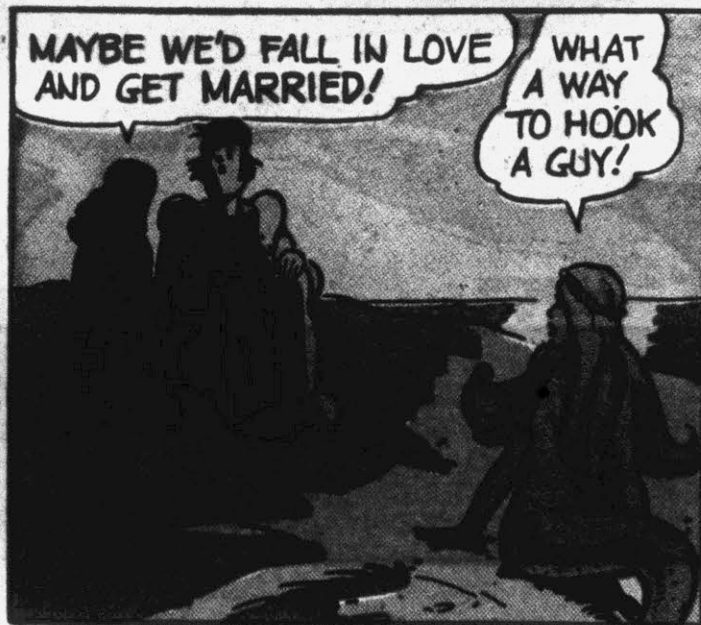

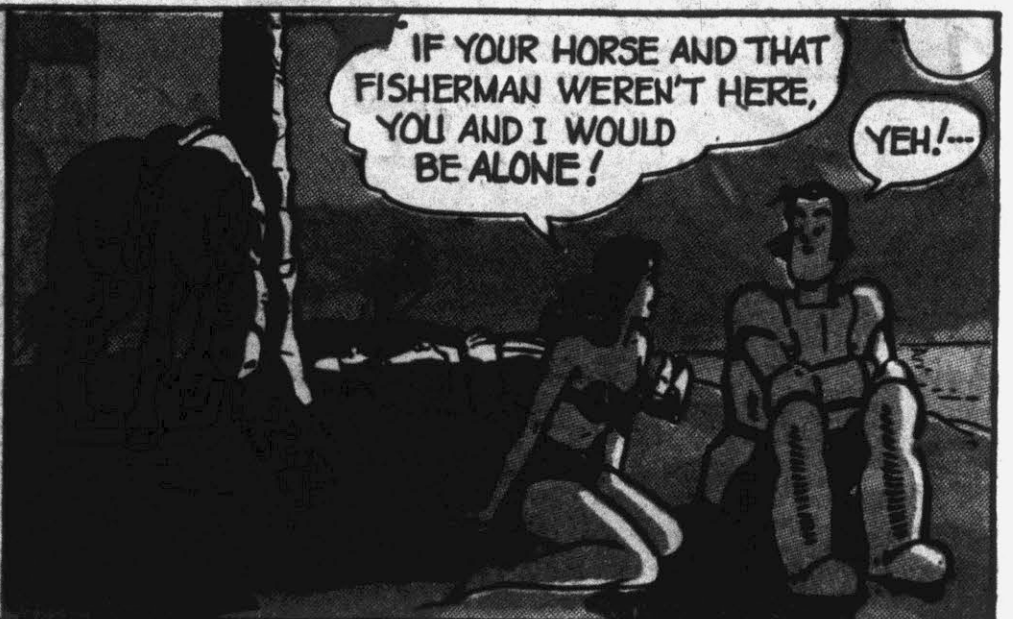

YEP, LET'S SEE YOUR UGLY CROOKED MUG.

CERTAINLY, GENTLEMEN, GLAD TO OBLIGE!

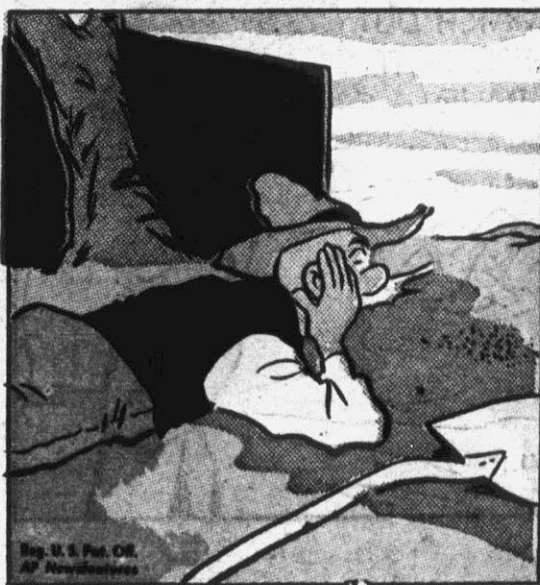

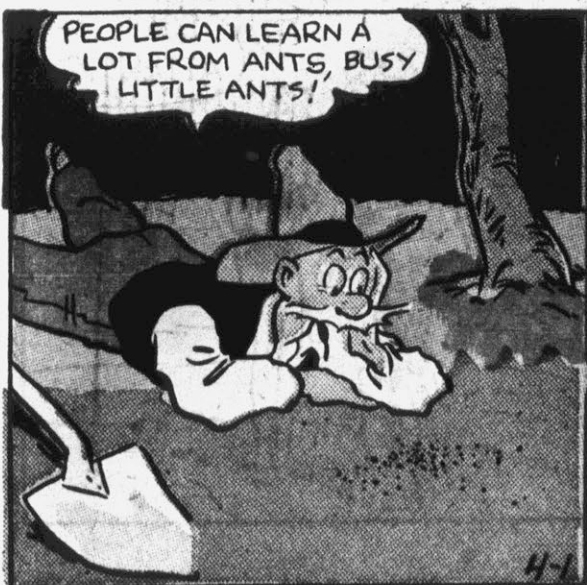

NIGHT HAS FALLEN ON THE DESERT ISLAND, BUT OAKY ISN'T GETTING ANY SLEEP...

NEIGHBORLY NEIGHBORS BY MORRIS

SPORT SLANTS

Glenn FORD

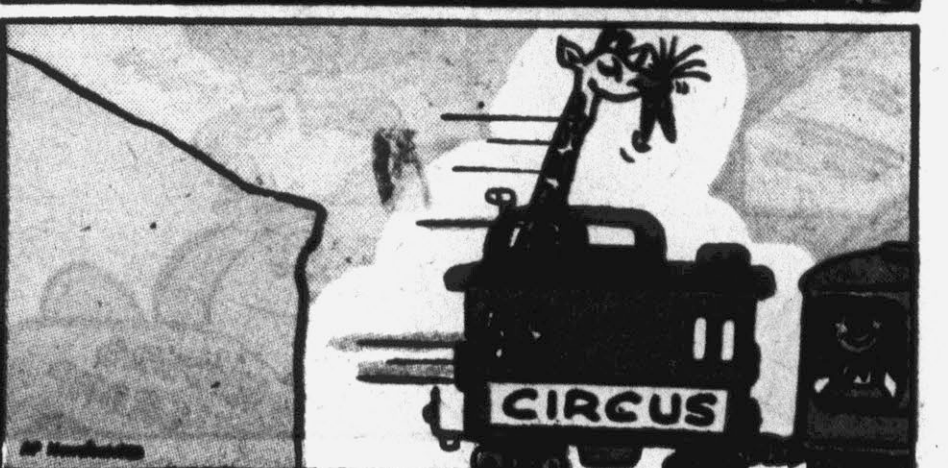

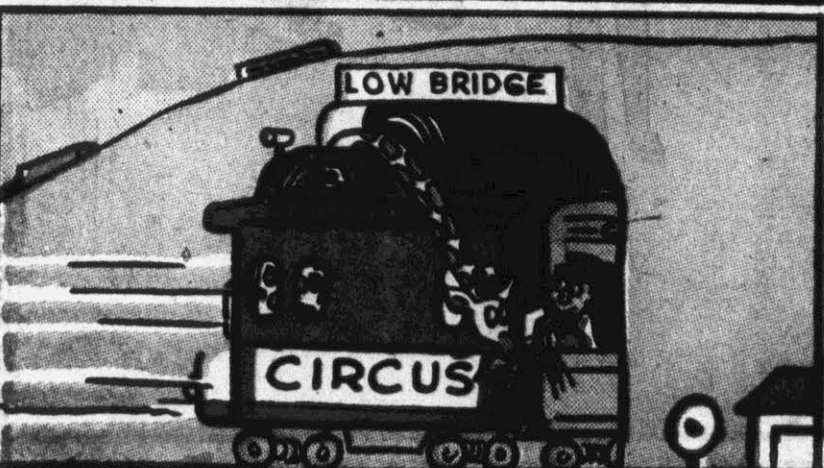

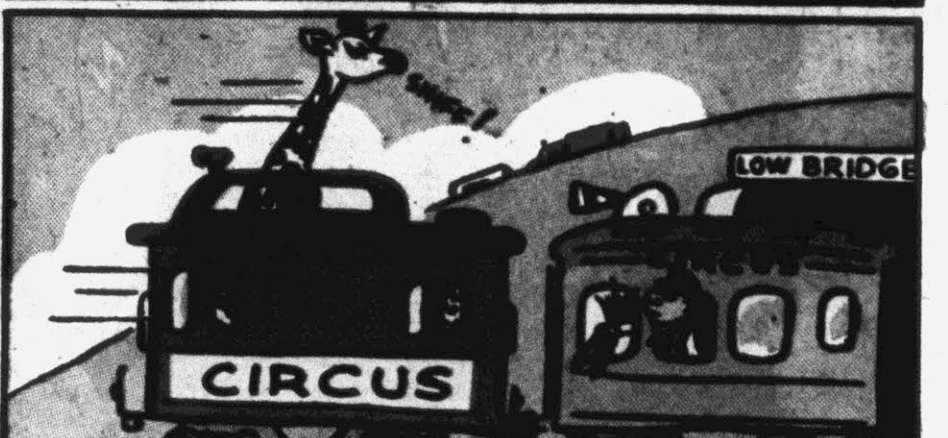

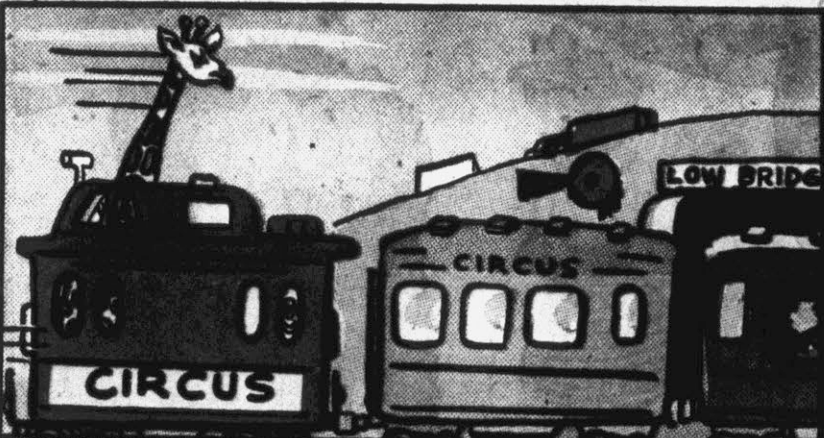

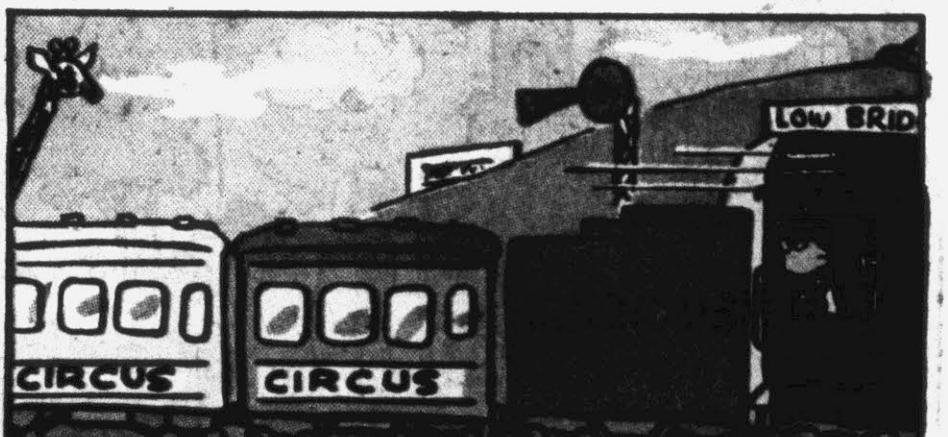

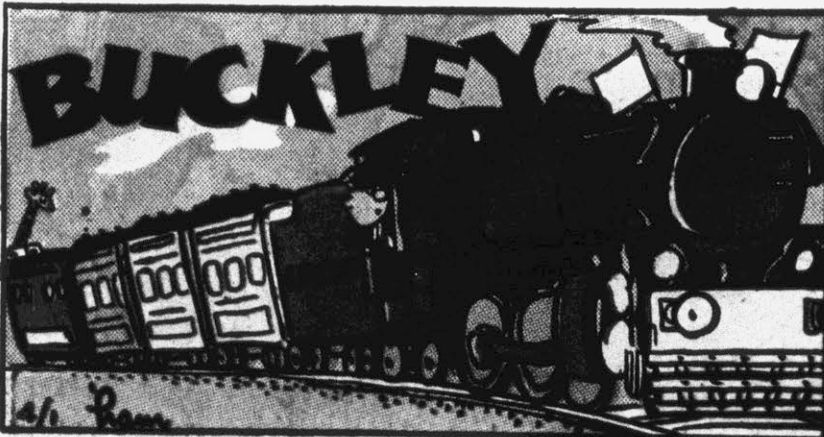

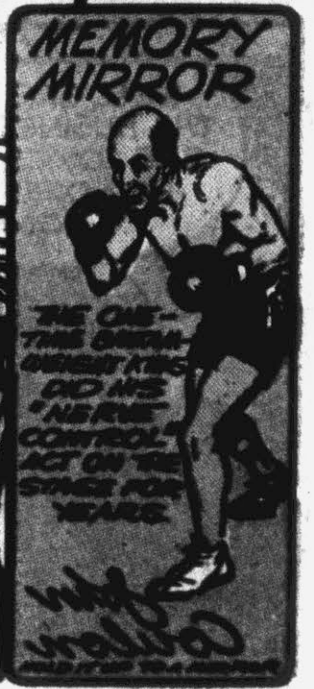

HAD TO DEVELOP A GOLF SWING LIKE BEN HOGAN TO PORTRAY THE GOLF CHAMPION IN "FOLLOW THE SUN" 4-1-51

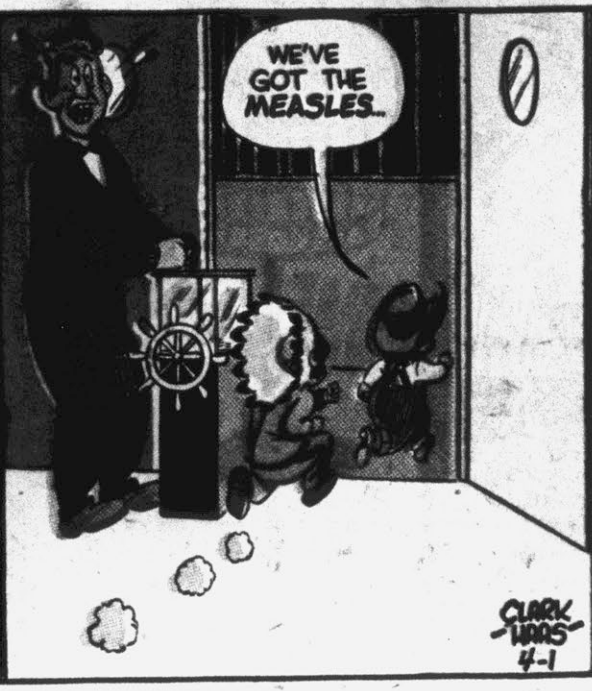

James WILSON

-AN AMATEUR HILL-BILLY SINGER, HE ELIMINATED BING CROSBY IN THE FIRST ROUND OF THE 1950 BRITISH AMATEUR GOLF TITLE TOURNEY.

Kayton NESBITT
THE OPERATIC TENOR IS RATED THE FINEST AMATEUR FENCER IN THE MUSICAL FIELD.

YIPPEE

HOMER

by RAND TAYLOR

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off. © 1951

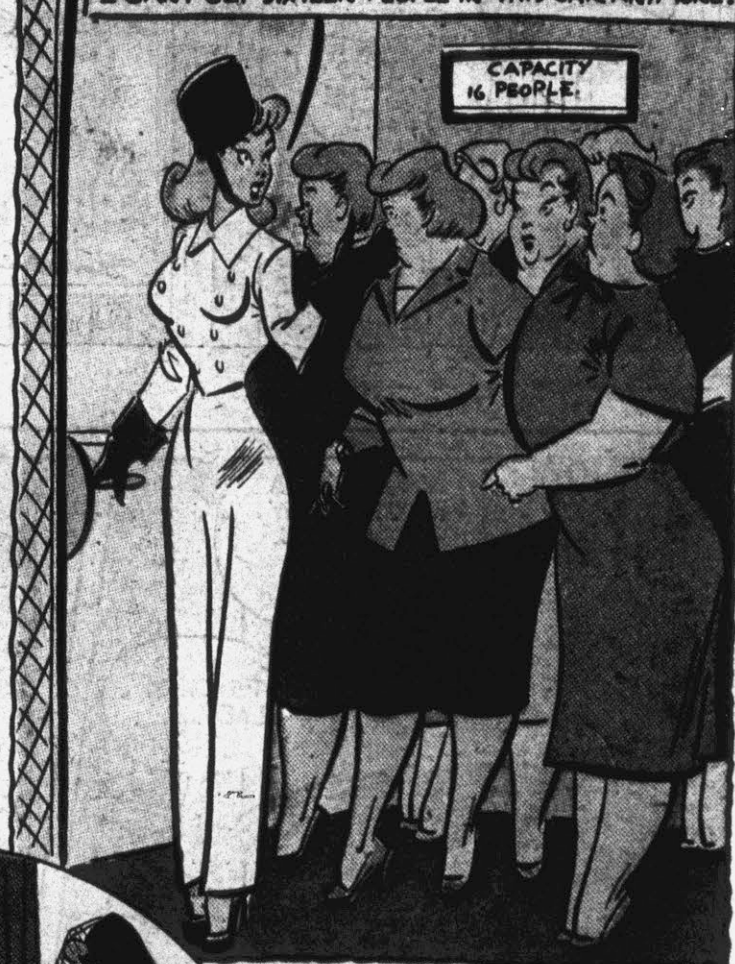

★ AP NEWSFEATURES ★ COMICS ★

WOMEN'S SIZES

WASN'T IT TERRIFIC? THAT'S THE DRESS DUMMY I HAD BEFORE I WENT ON A DIET!

YOU GIRLS ARE GOING TO HAVE TO REDUCE, I CAN'T GET SIXTEEN PEOPLE IN THIS CAR ANYMORE!

I REALLY SHOULDN'T MIND REDUCING, AFTER ALL, EATING'S JUST A MATTER OF TASTE!

I GAVE UP DIETING AND BOUGHT THIS REDUCING GLASS INSTEAD. DON'T I LOOK WONDERFUL?

THE DOCTOR TOLD ME NOT TO EAT ANYTHING BEFORE I WENT TO BED AT NIGHT!

