Early Planting Of Pitt Tobacco Crop

First planting of a Pitt tobacco crop got under way yesterday afternoon on the Frank Dixon farm near Black Jack. In the above picture the first rows of young plants are being set out, marking an early start for tobacco growers in the county. Many farmers of the county will be forced to plant their crop early because of the size of the plants, though the cool weather now prevailing in the county is not considered ideal for the setting out of the crop. Reds Grudgingly Fall Back In Face Of Heavy Pounding

Allied Planes And Artillery Blaze Path For Advancing Troops; Two UN Assaults Fail

Tokyo, April 18—(AP)—Allied troops advanced 2,000 to 3,000 yards on the west Korean front today behind heavy air and artillery attacks. The Reds gave that ground—some one-third to two miles—grudgingly. The big gains were south and southeast of Chorwon, a five-highway hub about 19 miles inside Red Korea. One allied infantry team pushed up a valley within two miles of the rubbled city. But the doughboys met Chinese mortar and rifle fire and withdrew. A tank force lunged into the Red lines near Chipyong and killed 100 communists. Chipyong is seven miles southeast of Chorwon and seven miles southwest of Kumhwa. Wednesday's gains carried the main allied line to about eight miles south of Chorwon. Chorwon and Kumhwa are the western bases of the red Bulldog area where an estimated 600,000 communist combat troops were deployed. The Reds retreated slowly in the west but they stood and fought for Hwachon, the eastern base of the Chorwon-Kumhwa-Hwachon triangle. Two allied thrusts at the Hwachon dam were turned back Wednesday. One was a frontal attack on the dam itself. The other was a flanking movement across the Pukhan River east of the dam. Both bogged down under heavy communist fire. South Korean forces fought a five-hour battle with 250 North Korean Reds on the east central front. Elsewhere in the rolling hills around Inje allied units straightened and re-adjusted their lines. Allied foot troops slugged ahead with little opposition east and north of Yangju on the western tip of the huge Hwachon Reservoir. Some communist mortar fire was reported. Tanks ranged east and northwest of Yonchon on the west central front without meeting communist forces. The tanks destroyed 70 tons of Red ammunition southwest of Kumhwa. Russian-made jets returned briefly Wednesday to the North Korean skies. Twenty-five MIG-15s darted across the Manchurian border and tangled with 16 American F-86 Sabre jets. One MIG was damaged in the 15-minute dogfight that swirled at 30,000 feet. All allied planes returned to their bases. Allied commanders said the grinding United Nations attack in Red Korea presumably has thrown the Chinese and Korean communists completely off balance. Chinese war prisoners said the Reds' spring offensive was set for April 15. That was one week ago. The Reds still are committing their troops piecemeal in rear-guard delaying actions. It was evident in several spots that the Reds either were pulling back to new defense positions or reeling from the powerful U. N. air and artillery attacks. U. S. Fifth Air Force planes pounded Red troop positions and supply bases all day Wednesday.

Parade Precedes Fat Stock Show

Farmville Band And Future Farmers To March In Morning

A parade headed by the Farmville High School band and 300 Future Farmers of America will precede Pitt County's first annual Fat Stock Show and Sale at the Farmers' Warehouse, on the Bethel highway, tomorrow. The parade will form at the Dixie Warehouse, Ninth street and Dickinson avenue. It will start at 10 o'clock and disband at the National Guard Armory on Evans street. Steers will be exhibited in the ring at the Farmers' Warehouse at 11 a. m. The auction sale of the 22 steers starts in the ring at 2 p. m. A banquet will be held for exhibitors and guests at Respers' Barbecue place on the Bethel highway at 7:30 p. m. This is the first show and sale conducted in Pitt county. It is being held here so that the people of the county might become better acquainted with the beef cattle industry. J. H. Mobley, executive chairman and agriculture teacher at the Winterville High School, said. The steers are approximately one year old. They will weigh between 650 and 1,000 pounds. There will be 22 steers entered in the show and sale. Four of these are Black Angus and 18 are white faced Herefords. The steers will be graded by the State Department of Agriculture. They will select the Grand and Reserve Champions. Neal Bolton of Wallace will be the auctioneer. This is promotional work to show the people of Pitt County good animals that produce the highest quality beef. The climatic conditions in this county are ideal for fine pastures which can be used for growing the steers and there is not a better way to market corn than through animals. Corn fed steers produce the highest quality beef. Corn marketed through animals brings a higher price than corn marketed as shelled corn, Mobley said. The majority of the work of vocational teachers is devoted to teaching young boys. By getting them interested in the livestock program they can become better farmers tomorrow by having a better balanced farm program. Good farming practices and the livestock program run hand in hand. To purchase one of these animals will be good advertisement for any concern. In addition the buyer will get some of the highest quality beef, he added.

Johnston Claims Inflation Curbed

Washington, April 18—(AP)—The labor-industry fight over new Wage Board powers boiled on today. But a top administration official claimed the stop-inflation drive is starting to pay off. Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston said last night that the inflationary spiral is being checked at last. In fact, he said prices for consumers goods may take a tumble in the next few months because of abundant factory stocks. Johnston conceded that "we have not yet been successful" after two months of effort in settling the Wage Stabilization Board stalemate. He questioned legality of a proposal recommended to the President yesterday. This revived speculation that a wage board of all public members may soon be established. Up to now the Administration has been trying to put a board of labor, industry and public members back into business.

Gen. Bradley Agrees

Chairman Of Joint Chiefs Of Staff Concurs With Thesis That Enlargement Of Korean War Is Dangerous; Other Aspects Of Strategy In Avoiding Showdown In Asia

General Omar N. Bradley, Chairman of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, yesterday came out in support of the thesis that enlargement of the Korean war would jeopardize world peace and so threaten American security. The five star General took this stand in an address before the National Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters in Chicago. Admitting that this "could possibly result for a time in a military stalemate," he added: "As long as we are able to confine the battles to Korea and continue to destroy the communist aggressors, we are making progress toward our international objective of preventing World War III. If at all possible, Korea should be settled on the present battle ground. "If we here at home can only measure up to the achievements of patience and courage of the men in Korea, there is every reason to believe that the war in Korea can ultimately be concluded on honorable terms." This appraisal by General Bradley fits the declaration by Lt. Gen.

Damage Suits In Pittsburgh Smog Case Settled

Pittsburgh, April 18—(AP)—Damage suits seeking nearly $4,500,000 as the result of a fatal industrial smog which cost 20 lives have been settled out of court for about $220,000—five per cent of the claims. Residents of Donora, 20 miles south of Pittsburgh on the Monongahela River, had filed 131 damage suits against the American Steel and Wire Co., a U. S. Steel Corp. subsidiary. The first case was scheduled for trial yesterday. But attorneys went into a huddle and came up with a settlement plan which a federal district judge approved. U. S. Steel did not admit liability but said it would rather pay a percentage of claims than defend the suits at great expense.

No Obstacles In Sight For New RFC Appointee

Very Little Opposition To Symington; Lawmaker Lauds Truman Choice

Washington April 18—(AP)—Administration leaders predicted today swift Senate approval of W. Stuart Symington for a new job—boss and trouble shooter at the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC). There was no sign of serious opposition to his appointment. President Truman announced yesterday selection of Symington to head the huge government lending agency, now under fire in Congress on charges that its loan policies have been influenced by a ring with contacts in the White House. A strong move is afoot to abolish RFC entirely. Symington, a former Secretary of the Air Force, now is chairman of the National Security Resources Board. In that job, he acted as overall coordinator of the defense mobilization program in its early stages. Mr. Truman chose him for the newly created post of RFC administrator, to take over from the agency's board of directors, whose jobs were abolished in a reorganization plan freshly approved by Congress. Walter Cosgriff, an outgoing director, told the Senate Expenditures committee at a recent hearing that a man "would have to be a glutton for punishment" to want the job Symington has agreed to undertake. Senator Maybank (D-SC) announced the Senate Banking committee which he heads would start hearings on the nomination Tuesday. He predicted Symington's confirmation "with very little opposition" and told reporters: "I don't believe the President could have made a better choice." Senator Schoepel of Kansas, a Republican member of the committee, told a reporter: "I've heard of no opposition to Symington in all the time since his name first was mentioned. From all I've heard, he's an excellent administrator, careful and practical in his approach to problem. I believe the President has picked a good man for this difficult position."

Doubts Outcome Of Korean Offer

Athens, Greece, April 18—(AP)—United Nations Secretary General Trygve Lie told reporters today he believes there will "be no results" from North Korea's latest armistice proposal, because it is the same as one previously turned down by the U. N. Lie declared that U. N. "negotiation and conciliation is more likely to succeed in the present situation when backed by strength instead of weakness."

Cross Burned In Textile Walkout

Durham, April 18—(AP)—A cross was burned at midnight last night in the yard of a non-striking woman textile worker and police have arrested a 25-year-old Erwin mill employee in connection with the burning. This was the second incident aimed at non-striking textile workers here in the past 24 hours. Early yesterday morning the home of a woman worker was bombed with dynamite. No one was injured in the blast and no arrests have been made.

Indicate New Peace Offer Received From Red China

United Nations, N. Y., April 18—(AP)—Reports of a new peace bid from communist China circulated here today as delegates studied the official text of a North Korean cable interpreted by some as a peace offer and by others as a propaganda blast. The 12 Arab-Asian members of the U. N. scheduled a meeting at the apartment of India's Sir Beant Lal Rau today to discuss the North Korean communication and "other developments." Members of the groups hinted strongly that it would be a good guess that the "other developments" included a new message from Peiping relayed through India's ambassador there, clarifying the Red Chinese views on a cease fire in Korea. Rau denied, however, that he had received such a communication. A source with close Arab-Asian connections said the group had sent Peiping a cable saying: 1. Dismissal of Gen. MacArthur created a favorable atmosphere for peace talks. 2. The United Nations is inclined to reach a Korean settlement on the basis of a cease fire near the 38th parallel. 3. The Arab-Asians plead for an equally compromising spirit on the part of the Peiping government.

Little Likelihood That Truman To See General

San Francisco, April 18—(AP)—There is little likelihood of a meeting between President Truman and General MacArthur in Washington tomorrow unless a direct invitation comes from the White House. "There is no plan whatsoever for such a meeting so far as I know," said Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, spokesman and close adviser of the General. Whitney told reporters that MacArthur still is working on the speech he will deliver before a joint session of Congress tomorrow. "The General started working on it as soon as he found out he

Pigeonhole For War Proposals

Washington, April 18—(AP)—Senate Democratic Leader McFarland today predicted a pigeonhole fate for legislation by Senator Cain (R-Wash.) asking Congress to declare war against communist China and North Korea. The Arizona senator also forecast shelving of an alternative resolution offered by Cain—withdrawal of United States forces from Korea. Cain's action was another of the stormy repercussions in the wake of President Truman's firing of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who goes before a Senate-House meeting tomorrow to outline his Far Eastern policy views in general terms. Mr. Truman had an opportunity to speak out, if he chose at a news conference today (4:30 p. m. EST). MacArthur, flying from Tokyo, is due to arrive here from San Francisco after midnight, about 1:30 a. m. EST. And the capital is planning a huge welcome. As for the Cain proposals, Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) and Senator McMahon (D-Conn.) joined McFarland in speaking out against them.

Report Acheson Has Leading Role

NY Times Says Secretary Has Key Job In Aid Allocation

New York, April 18—(AP)—The New York Times said that President Truman has given Secretary of State Acheson "the major voice" in determining the allocation of an anticipated $10,500,000,000 foreign aid appropriation. "The allocation will be 'according to military assistance, economic support programs and by principal political areas,' a Washington dispatch by Felix Belair Jr. said. The story quoted from a directive letter from the President to William C. Foster, Economic Cooperation Administrator. Mr. Truman was quoted as saying in the letter that "the changing circumstances in the international situation" demanded adjustments in the administration of foreign aid programs. The President added, the dispatch said, that these circumstances also dictated "adjustments" in the past roles of, and relations between, the State Department and the Economic Cooperation Administration (ECA).

Air Chiefs Of Four Nations To Hold Meetings

Washington, April 18—(AP)—The air chiefs of the United States, Britain, France and Canada will meet here within the next two weeks, the Air Force announced today. An announcement said only that the joint meeting "will afford an opportunity to review the progress being made by the air forces of the four nations concerned." Those attending the session will be Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, U. S. Chief of Air Staff; Air Marshal W. A. Curtis, Chief of Air Staff of the Royal Canadian Air Force; General Charles Francois Lecleres, Chief of Staff of the French Air Force and Marshal of the Royal Air Force (Britain) Sir John Slessor.

Benefits Open To Non-Strikers

Charlotte, N. C., April 18—(AP)—The Charlotte office of the North Carolina Employment Service reported today that 108 non-strikers from four struck mills here have applied for unemployment compensation. Spokesmen said they probably were eligible for compensation because they were out of work through no fault of their own.

Mutual Disgust

Arkansas City, Kas., April 18—(AP)—Robert Wilson, insurance man, dug a post hole in his yard about dusk. The next morning the hole was filled with dirt. Wilson dug the hole again, then it was time to take his children to school. Returning, he found the hole full. He cleaned it out once more, then had to go to his office. At noon—yes, the hole wasn't a hole. Determined to set his post without more ado, Wilson dug—and found he had been digging with a gopher. A gopher tunnel intersected the hole. "The gopher," he observed, "is no more disgusted than I am."

MacArthur Is Given Wild Welcome By San Francisco

Time Is Running Out On 75 Men Trapped In Sub

Faint Underwater Signals Heard; Rescue Crews Unable Make Contact

Portsmouth, Eng., April 18—(AP)—Faint underwater signals spurred a blind search today for the British submarine Affray, stuck on the bottom of the English Channel. Time was swiftly running out for any of the 75 officers and men aboard who might still be alive. The submarine, trapped in the initial dive of a training cruise, had been under 198 feet of water for 40 hours when the Royal Navy announced at mid-afternoon that it had been unable to make any physical contact with the craft. Its normal oxygen supply would last the men on board 40 hours. A naval expert said reserve supplies might let the 75 aboard live another eight hours, but "that means by 2100 hours (3 p. m. EST) the situation inside the vessel would be extremely dangerous." The last faint signals from the submarine were heard at 8:30 a. m. (2:30 a. m. EST). Then came hours of ominous silence. There was an atmosphere of mystery about it. Why, the rescue crews asked, could not the trapped men begin coming to the surface through escape hatches, using emergency breathing gear? Why had the submarine failed to release its emergency marker buoy to guide rescue craft? Why, if there had been disaster, had the rescue fleet failed to find any debris or even an oil slick? The Admiralty said the signals, from a superimposed telegraph set, were so weak that rescue ships were unable to fix the exact position of the luckless undersea craft. The only previous signal from the sub, heard at 12:50 a. m. today (6:50 p. m. EST Tuesday), had led the rescue fleet of 25 ships to the area 30 miles southwest of the Isle of Wight. The rescuers signalled to the entombed crew to try an underwater escape, one by one in special equipment through the vessel's escape hatches, but by mid-morning none had bobbed to the surface. The rescue boats fired down new depth charge signals in an attempt to reestablish contact. The rescue fleet, which had scoured a 2,000 square mile area since yesterday morning located the Affray in almost exactly the area where the sub had submerged on Monday night, at the start of what was to be an underwater training cruise. A large circle of ships ringed the rescue area this morning.

Draft Call Cut

Washington, April 18—(AP)—The Army today cuts its May draft call from 60,000 to 40,000 men. The action follows the halving of the April call which was cut from 80,000 to 40,000. Both cuts were based on the increase of volunteer enlistments, the Army said. Since January 64,000 men have volunteered for the Army. This is 34,000 more than the Army anticipated. The Army said lighter than expected casualties in Korea also influenced the decision to reduce the number of men needed through the draft.

Approve Branch For Local Bank

The State Banking Commission today approved a request from the Guaranty Bank and Trust Company to extend its facilities to a branch bank in the Meadowbrook section of Greenville. Word received here late this morning from W. H. Woolard, bank president who appeared before the commission in Raleigh today, stated the application was approved subject to the final approval of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation in Washington. Guaranty's request for the Meadowbrook branch, which if granted by the FDIC will give the Greenville firm four banking houses in town, stems from an investigation of the need for the proposed branch which was held here last month. The commission on March 26 heard farmers and businessmen of the North Greenville section state that a branch bank was badly needed in that section of town. They reiterated the fact that parking facilities in town were such that banking their money with the downtown branches of the bank provided a handicap and that a branch in their business area would facilitate matters. Meeting with the commission members at the March meeting were Woolard, J. H. Waldrop, vice president, H. E. Anderson, vice president, W. H. Woolard, Jr., assistant cashier of the West End branch, J. S. Picklen, chairman of the board of directors, and Joseph S. Moye, cashier. The bank officials and the commission heard upwards of 20 persons of the North Greenville section discuss the needs for a branch. Woolard stated yesterday, prior to meeting with the commission, that the Meadowbrook branch would be under grants its approval. He stated the corporation's approval is definitely not a cut-and-dried affair, even though the State Banking Commission has given the go-ahead. He said he thought the corporation would take action on the request in the next 30 days.

The Perfect Target

The Nation's Capital Is A Bombardier's Dream; Top Military Brass And Governmental Leaders All In One Place; Senate Today Takes Up Plan For Dispersal

Washington is a bombardier's dream. An enemy who wanted to drop an atomic bomb couldn't pick a better time than tomorrow, MacArthur Day, with all the big government brass here. But, except for MacArthur, tomorrow is like most any other weekday in the capital: All the key men in the government are bunched together in a really small area: President, Vice President, cabinet, congress, Army, Navy, and Air Force. True, all work in separate offices and separate buildings but when the bombs start falling those buildings aren't far apart. In addition, hundreds of thousands of government workers are concentrated here. So U. S. brains and records and nerve centers of the government are jammed together in a relatively small area. Congress has been chewing over the idea that has been something ought to be done to make Washington a less easy target or, rather, to spread out the government a bit so it wouldn't all be wiped out in one attack. If you think the Air Force could keep enemy bombers away, just remember that the top Air Force people say: No air-defense system, no matter how perfect nor how well developed, can be relied upon to stop completely a determined enemy attack. Top Air Force officials have estimated as many as 70 percent of any attacking planes would get through to drop their bombs. So today the Senate was finally getting around to consideration of a bill that would disperse some government agencies. There's quite a difference between "disperse" and "decentralize." Decentralize means transferring federal agencies, or part of them, to places far removed from the capital because they're the kind that can do their work, in war or peace, far from here. For example, bureaus in the (Continued on page ten)

Opera Program Presented At Atheneum Club

Mrs. D. J. Whichard Jr. was hostess to the Atheneum Book Club when it met with her at her home on Main Street on Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 p.m.

The home was tastefully decorated with profusions of assorted spring flowers. The table in the dining room was covered with a pink damask cloth and centered with a low bowl of mixed flowers. The auxiliary tables in the living room were centered with small bowls of panicles.

The club members and guests were served a two course barbeque luncheon before the meeting, following which the hostess presented Mrs. Harry Forbes, who gave the program for the afternoon.

Mrs. Forbes chose as her subject the opera "Carmen" by Georges Bizet. She gave a brief historical background of the opera and stated that it had increased in popularity until now it was one of the most frequently performed operas in the United States.

As she gave a story of the plot, she played four of the most familiar numbers from the production. They were "The Habanera," "The Toreador Song," "The Card Song," and "The Final Duet." The dramatic story was brought to a close by the death of Carmen at the hands of Don Jose.

After the program a brief business session was conducted. The books were exchanged and the club adjourned.

Guests for the meeting in addition to the speaker, were Mrs. Norman Wilkerson and Mrs. Charles White.

40 Years Ago Today

April 18, 1911

Ellison-Burch

At 8 o'clock this morning in Memorial Baptist church was solemnized a beautiful marriage in the joining of hearts and hands for life of Mr. James Ellison, of Washington, and Miss Maida Lillian Burch of Greenville, the ceremony being presided over by the pastor, Rev. C. M. Rock. The church was tastefully decorated with Easter lilies, potted plants and ferns. The windows were darkened and electric lights gave a soft glow to the pretty scene. Just before the bride entered, Mrs. W. L. Hall sang, "Because." Then to the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Lillian Carr, the bridal party entered the aisle to their respective positions in the following order. First came the ushers, Dr. A. C. Hoyt and Mr. E. K. Willis, Jr., of Washington, Mr. C. M. Warren, of Greenville, and Mr. T. M. Owen, of Norfolk. Following these were the bridesmaids, Misses Nancy Coward and Mattie Moye King, of Greenville and Susie Perry of Kingston. These were each attired in dresses of white lingerie over blue messaline with white hat and carried white carnations.

As the bride with her brother, Master Ferral Burch, came up the aisle, the groom with his best man and brother, Mr. W. H. Ellison, of Washington, entered through the choir door and they met at the altar where their vows were exchanged and sealed with a ring. The bride wore a handsome tan cloth suit with brown hat, gloves and shoes and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. The couple left on the 8:32 A. C. The program was planned to honor the children of the faculty and to better acquaint the members with and about the youngsters. Mrs. Howard Porter gave a most interesting talk, "Did You Know," in which she said 15 years ago the son of Dr. and Mrs. Browning was the only baby on the campus, and that now there were 96 children of the Faculty Club members, 48 girls and 48 boys, making each family the proud possessor of 1 5-10 child.

During the evening incidental music was played by Miss Emily Faircloth, East Carolina student. She was assisted by Miss Lois Johnson. The members were delighted with a program given by the children. Pat Carter sang "Robin in the Rain;" Sarah Smiley played "Ballerina;" Jane Reynolds danced "Crazy Rhythms;" and Jimmy Jenkins sang a cowboy number. The theme of the program was called "The Umbrella," in which Johnny Reynolds enacted the Elf who was caught in the rain, swiped a load stool (the first umbrella) belonging to a dormouse, played by Billy Dole. Karen Martin was the Little Lady; Susie Powell, the Bathing Beauty; Bryce Cummings, the College Prof; Peggy McDill, the Coed; and Betty Derrick, the Oriental. Each child, in appropriate costume, displayed their type of umbrella. The program was introduced by Mrs. W. E. Dole, committee chairman.

At the conclusion of the program, the president, Mrs. F. D. Duncan, conducted a brief business session. Attractive and delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses: Mrs. E. C. Hampton, Mrs. R. Pingle, Mrs. C. R. Simonini, Mrs. C. A. Scroggs, Mrs. Robert Spicer, Mrs. D. E. Vornholt, Mrs. Porter and Mrs. Dole.

Kittrell-Vincent Vows Spoken In Candlelight Ceremony

MRS. ROBERT L. KITTRELL

Miss Katie Lou Vincent, daughter of Mrs. Paul L. Vincent and the late Mr. Vincent of Greenville, became the bride of Mr. Robert L. Kittrell, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Roy B. Kittrell of Greenville. In a candlelight ceremony Sunday afternoon, April 8, at three o'clock in the Free Will Baptist Church of Greenville, Rev. C. L. Patrick, former pastor of the bride, officiated, using the simple ring ceremony.

Sword and lace ferns banked the altar forming a background for tall baskets of white gladioli and white snapdragons and pom-pom chrysanthemums along with four seven-branched candelabra entwined with lace fern.

Prior to the ceremony, Mrs. Bill Taylor, organist, rendered nuptial music. The traditional wedding marches, with chimes, were used. Mes. Alison Hearne sang "The Sun Would Shine Again" and "Oh Promise Me" and as the benediction "The Wedding Prayer." As the vows were spoken, the organist played softly "Clair De Lune."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. W. S. Stafford of Greenville, wore a street length dress of white crepe adorned with an all over lace bolero and three-quarter length sleeves clasped with moonbeam ornaments. Her hat was made of white maleine straw trimmed in mother-of-pearls, white moonbeams and rhinestone sets. Her shoes were of white buckskin. The bride carried a nosegay of white roses and white streamers trimmed with lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Paul L. Vincent, mother of the bride, was matron-of-honor. She wore a street length dress of light blue, styled with an inserted lace yoke connecting three-quarter length crushed sleeves and the skirt was draped with a flare peplum. She carried a bouquet of white carnations attached to a handle and tied with white satin ribbon and streamers. Her other accessories were of navy and white.

Master Wayne Vincent, nephew of the bride, was ring-bearer. He was dressed in a white linen suit and carried a white pillow made of lace matching the bride's dress.

Dr. Belmont Kittrell, brother of the groom from Dunn, N.C., was best man and ushers were Jack and Earl Kittrell, brothers of the groom.

Following the ceremony, the couple left for a trip to Florida. For traveling, the bride chose a light brown wool sharkskin bolero suit and a beige blouse with white and beige accessories. Her corsage was lifted from the bridal bouquet.

Following the rehearsal on Saturday night, Mrs. Paul Vincent entertained the wedding party and was made of white maleine straw trimmed in mother-of-pearls, white

Strength for the Day

By EARL L. DOUGLAS
QUERIES REGARDING RELIGION
People are always asking questions about religion. The two questions they most frequently ask are, "Why?" and "When?"
Now these are two questions which religious faith is in no way obligated to answer. When trouble comes upon us, we ask, "Why?" Probably we would not understand why even if such an explanation were spelled out for us. The divine plan seems to be not to answer the question, "Why?" but to let us find the answer for ourselves with the passing of time.
As for the question "When?" men have always been asking that. When is God going to fulfill his promises made to mankind in general and to me in particular? When will our Lord return? When will the end of the world come and when will the kingdom of God be fulfilled? These are futile questions. God turns a deaf ear to the question "When?"
The important question in religion is "What?" This question the Bible attempts to answer. What is God like? What are we led to believe He will do for us? What can we expect will happen if we pray? What is the destiny of the human race? What is my daily duty?
If we will try seriously to answer the question "What?" then the questions "Why?" and "When?" may be answered; if they are not, it really doesn't matter.

A New Look For The GHS Band?

Greenville merchants doubtlessly become quite tired of the continuous flow of requests for donations for this thing or that thing.

And doubtlessly the Greenville merchants are bracing themselves for the request which they know is forthcoming from the Merchants Association for money with which to purchase new uniforms for the Greenville high school band.

In the opinion of The Reflector, the merchants, in purchasing new uniforms for the high school band, will just be repaying a debt they owe to the city school system and the hundreds of kids who have worn out many pairs of shoes parading up and down Fifth Street, Dickinson Avenue and Evans Street during the past 15 years.

The high school band has been at the disposal of the merchants of Greenville and practically every other organization of the city for parades on almost any occasion. The school kids and the school officials always have been ready to help stage any event for the promotion of the city. And they always render their services without any mention of compensation.

It was 15 years ago that the merchants of Greenville purchased the last new set of uniforms for the high school band. And during the past 15 years, the merchants of Greenville have been repaid many times over for the investment they made in the high school band.

Now the Merchants Association is planning a campaign to raise money to purchase new uniforms for the band . . . and the new uniforms are sorely needed. By helping the high school band to get new uniforms, the merchants of Greenville will not only be repaying a debt which they owe, but they will be investing in the future promotion of Greenville.

Another Promotion For Pitt Agriculture

For years the progressive interests of Pitt county have undertaken one project after another to promote the diversification of agriculture in the county.

Thursday will mark the first fat stock show to be held in the county, and it should prove the beginning of a movement which will promote a greater interest in the raising of beef cattle in the county.

Already there are a number of herds of beef cattle in the county, but the annual fat stock show should create more interest in the raising of beef cattle, particularly among the youngsters; and it will promote emphasis on the quality of cattle raised.

It was just a few years ago that groups here in Pitt county interested in the promotion of agriculture began the hundred bushel corn club to stimulate interest in the raising of corn. Last year the dry weather prevented every Pitt farmer from averaging 100 bushels of corn an acre, but the average corn production in the county was the highest in its history.

After the corn program began, emphasis was turned to the promotion of swine raising among the adults and youngsters alike. Pig chains were started to promote interest among the youngsters, the Pitt County Swine Breeders Association was formed, and swine shows and sales were organized.

Now that the raising of hogs in the county has a good start, the agricultural invaluable source of additional farm income.

The parade, the show and the sale interests are turning their attention to beef cattle which may well afford the county a Thursday should provide activities of interest to many people in the county who are interested in a diversification agricultural program for Pitt county. The project will have to have the support of the people interested in agriculture if it is to be perpetuated.

A Slap That Is Justly Deserved

Governor Fuller Warren of Florida has received a virtual slap in the face from the Southern Baptists, and The Reflector believes the slap was justly deserved by the chief executive of Florida.

The Southern Baptists have withdrawn an invitation to Warren to speak at their annual convention at San Francisco, because of Warren's reinstatement of a Miami sheriff who was indicted by a grand jury for not enforcing gambling laws, and allowing his deputies to receive bribes from gamblers.

The church group declared the reinstatement as "contrary to Christian principles." Indeed, the reinstatement is contrary to all principles of moral, upright government.

As long as the elected officials on any level do not vigorously enforce the laws of the country, there will be a moral laxness. When the law enforcement officials in any community neglect or evade their sworn duties, corruption immediately sets in. It is the responsibility of the higher elective officials, and ultimately the voters themselves to keep the moral tone of any community or state at a high level.

The state of Florida is making token efforts to free itself from the hold which the gamblers have on its politics and government. But as long as there remain men in offices who cooperate with gamblers and condone their activities, the state will remain within the grasp of the gamblers.

News Behind The News
By RAY TUCKER
WASHINGTON, Apr. 18—In the controversy with the Truman Administration which led to his recall from Japan and Korea and to his retirement from active service, General Douglas MacArthur has sought to raise a far more fundamental question involving national defense policies than has yet been revealed. Only a few friends and close advisers know his underlying purpose.

While General MacArthur believes in the historic system under which civilian authority enjoys final control over the military, long experience at Washington and on the fighting line convinces him that trained experts in war should be accorded a greater and firmer voice in framing both the foreign and national defense policies of the nation.

His own personal and official observations, which he supports by citations from World War I, World War II and the Korean conflict, lead him to believe that even the highest ranking officers frequently become nothing more than "stooges" for a President, a Secretary of State and a Defense Secretary who may be totally ignorant of military problems and conditions.

AUTHORITY—Instead of being mere "yes men" when questions arise over commitments which may plunge the United States into war, General MacArthur insists that the Joint Chiefs of Staff should exercise greater authority within the White House councils.

There is evidence to support the theory that even Generals Marshall, Bradley and Eisenhower surrendered their firm convictions in many major disputes at the demand of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, former Prime Minister Churchill and Harry S. Truman.

General MacArthur expects to elaborate these views when and if he is permitted to appear before the Armed Services Committees of the House and Senate. He may divulge many hitherto unknown episodes as proof of his theory.

Although his alternative program is not known in detail, his outspoken testimony may touch off a spectacular and historic debate on the question of whether a President alone can continue to make decisions on such vital matters as war and peace, and on the conduct of military and diplomatic conflicts.

CRITICISMS—The first, open evidence of the MacArthur attitude was disclosed when he sat as a member of the courtmartial board which tried the late Brigadier General William Mitchell, then head of the Army Air Force, for insubordination. As he revealed to the writer in 1948, MacArthur was the only man to vote against conviction.

Now the Mitchell affair paralleled closely the current MacArthur case. In fact, the airman's criticisms of the White House-War Department's policies on development of aerial warfare were far more violent than MacArthur's recent statements. Like the former Korean commander, Mitchell presented his views to Congress and the public in an attempt to force their acceptance by the Coolidge Administration. He was appealing over their head to the people.

COURAGE—The problem involved was far more vital to national defense than MacArthur's ideas on the Far Eastern war should be waged. For Mitchell's conduct forced a hard-shelled die-hard and economy-minded Administration to realize and admit that the airplane had changed the whole complex of war.

Indeed, had his ideas been acted on in the mid-twenties, and had the United States and Britain built powerful armadas, they might have mastered the courage to cut down both Hitler and Mussolini when those dictators made the first aggressive moves that led straight to World War II.

Somebody Told Me

By L. J. (Jack) EDWARDS, JP

Most of us are scared to death that someone will think we're stupid. Because of that fear, there are many topics that go un-discussed. For example, have you ever heard anyone discussing the differences between the Democratic and Republican parties? Probably not, because everybody assumes that they should know the difference.

When I was in school back in Chapel Hill I took several courses in Political Science. One day after class I asked the professor what the difference in the two parties is. Naturally I wouldn't ask the question in front of the class, because I figured I should already know the answer.

His answer to my question almost knocked me off my feet: "The difference is that the Democrats are in office." The professor was himself a Democrat, so he had a few points to add that would favor his party. In general, his points were: By reviewing history, you will find that the Republican party favors big business, while the Democrats pull more for the little man. By favoring lower taxes, the Republicans are helping the high-income man, and by discouraging government spending, they pinch the low-income man. If Republicans were in office today the national debt would probably be less, taxes would probably be lower. But whether or not the nation would be in a state of prosperity would be the question nobody knows the answer to.

The professor was unusual in that he had definite ideas to show why he is a Democrat, and why he thinks his party has the right objectives. Actually, he was basing his statements on past performance, and party policy varies from one administration to another.

Frankly, I'm a Democrat. But the fact remains that there is very little difference in the two parties. No doubt a Republican could give illustrations to disprove every one of the points above that the professor mentioned that would favor his party.

If you want to have some fun, pick out the one person that you consider most intelligent of all your friends and ask him the difference between the two parties. Better still, ask several of your friends. If they can answer you at all, their answers will no doubt vary a great deal.

Politically speaking, the success or failure of a party depends mostly on one thing: prosperity. If the country prospers, the people are happy with administration. When things slump, they are ready to make a change. That's the main reason that Harry was elected in 1948. The majority of the American citizens thought: "Things have been running smoothly. I'm earning a good living. Why should I vote for a change?"

Of course the vote is not altogether determined by prosperity at home. If we prosper at home and get into trouble abroad, public sentiment swings in a hurry. A presidential vote today would illustrate that point.

And I thank you.

Around Capitol Square

By LYNN NISBET Daily Reflector Bureau

HOOD—Usually for the first few days after a legislature leaves town folks around capitol square spend their time discussing the things it did or failed to do. This week they have had something else to talk about, only indirectly related to the general assembly. On North Carolina's capitol square the firing of General MacArthur by President Truman takes second place to the firing of Bank Commissioner Gurney P. Hood by Governor Scott. The fact that Hood was replaced as commissioner of banks is accepted as one of the exigencies of politics. The manner in which the governor executed the change has been universally condemned, even by the most ardently loyal supporters of Governor Scott, the executive, and Kerr Scott, the man.

CRUEL—Gurney Hood did not know until he heard on the radio some minutes after his successor had been confirmed by the senate that he was being ousted. He might have had reason to suspect he would be let out, because Governor Scott has not been kind to any of the appointive officials who failed to support him in the 1948 primary, and this was his first chance at Hood. Furthermore, Mr. Hood was bound to know that there was a lot of opposition to him among the banking interests of the state—although he might have reasoned that the governor would not be amenable to suggestions from the bankers. After 20 years service in the position, and particularly after two years of complete support of Governor Scott's administration program, he reasoned that he would be notified at least incidentally if not before the public was informed of his ouster. He was not so advised, and until now the governor has not communicated with him. Franklin Roosevelt, noted for his ruthless discarding of appointees who had lost grace with the top man, always wrote notes of appreciation for services rendered—and then digged in with the dagger. Harry Truman is noted for writing warning notes in advance. Kerr Scott just didn't say anything before or after.

CHANGE—This is in contrast with Scott's previous performances. It is recalled that upon his election to the office of commissioner of agriculture in 1936 he notified State Entomologist Leiby that he had better look around for another job. He did the same thing for some other departmental personnel. Soon after his election as governor in 1948 he made headlines by requesting resignations of Charles Flack as chief clerk to the utilities commission, and Vance Baise as chief highway engineer. None of these men had supported him at any time, but they were given notice that the axe was being sharpened.

EXPLANATION—Most plausible opened its local division and the North Carolina Bank and Trust Company of Greensboro opened simultaneously. The peace pipe was smoked, so to speak. The local committee and Mr. Hood and citizens welcomed the two financial institutions and all was lovely for two years until the noted banking holiday settled over the country and the North Carolina Bank took a holiday with a limit of 5 per cent withdrawals of deposits. The Branch bank did not observe the holiday but continued to do business and for some time was the only bank here. Later the First Citizens Bank and Trust Company opened.

Mr. Hood has rendered long and faithful service as Banking Commissioner. We wish him well in whatever may be his future work.

Business Today

By ELMER ROESSNER
The enforcement policies of many government agencies may depend on the decision in a case now heading toward the Supreme Court. The question involved is whether regulations are for the average citizens or "the ignorant, the unthinking and the credulous."
The case grew out of the Food and Drug Administration's seizure of a shipment of an orange drink which it held was adulterated because it contained coloring and other matter which might lead people to think it was orange juice.

In the trial, in Camden, N.J., the FDA for the first time offered a consumer survey. 3,500 persons had been asked what they thought was in the beverage. The trial judge charged the jury that if "any part of the public, the vast multitude which includes the ignorant, the unthinking and the credulous and those who do not stop to analyze in making a purchase" was misled, the product was adulterated.

But on appeal, a U.S. Circuit Court upset this thinking. The correct standard, it held in reversing the case, was the reaction of the ordinary consumer, "who is neither savor nor dolt . . . and exercises a normal measure of the layman's common sense and judgment."
Incidentally, the court upheld the use of consumer surveys but objected to the introduction of pictures of guinea pigs that had died in agony after a diet that included the drink but no vitamin C.

The FDA is planning an appeal and the Federal Trade Commission and other regulatory agencies are deeply interested in the outcome. If the high court reverses the circuit court, the agencies' enforcement philosophy will remain as it is now. But if it upholds the circuit court, there will have to be a broad revision of practices. The agencies will have to decide whether the appearance of a product, its label or its advertising fools the average buyer or only the ignoramus. It might even affect the enforcement policies of the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Federal Communications Commission and the Postal inspection service.

PAYS $5 A SEME TO SELL TV SETS
Efforts to sell television sets in the present doldrums have produced many unusual offers. A Los Angeles company offers to buy lists of persons who do not own sets. The purchase price, however, must be applied to the purchase of a set.

The firm pays $50 to $100 for lists of 10 to 20 names. The compiler gets a check for the amount and then endorses it and it is credited as a down payment. The names are used for mailings. It is, in effect, an interesting discount scheme. However, before adopting the plan to their own uses, TV dealers had better check with their Federal Reserve Bank whether such a check will count against the required minimum down payment.

CATTLE POPULATION AT ALL-TIME HIGH
There are more cattle in the world than ever before, the Office of Foreign Agricultural Relations estimates. At the beginning of this year it calculates that there were 806,300,000 head. The United States had 84,178,000, which is 17,478,000 more than the prewar average. Russia had an estimated 57,200,000.

MEN ARE SLOUGHING PADDED SHOULDERS
The "natural shoulder" for men is gaining, the National Association of Retail Clothiers and Furnishers reports. Twenty-eight of 31 stores checked will carry unpadded models, with three of them carrying no other model.

Hal Boyle's Column

New York.—(AP)—A young clergyman's son is perturbed at the task of enacting the life story of the screen's greatest lover—Rudolph Valentino.
"I feel embarrassed," admitted Anthony Dexter.
He feels a little worried, too, wondering how middle-aged housewives and their teenage daughters will react to his portrayal of the all-time film sheik.

The film, "Valentino," produced by Edward Small for Columbia Pictures, has been a 13-year project. The studio says Dexter, a 31-year-old stage actor, got the role over 75,000 candidates.
Dexter, the son, grandson, great-grandson and nephew of a clergyman, was born in Nebraska and christened Walter Reinhold Alfred Frederick Fleischmann. Figuring that was too much for the average theater marquee, he changed his name to Walter Craig. His producer changed it again to Anthony Dexter after signing him for the Valentino part in 1947.

In the years since then Dexter had spent his time studying Valentino, learning tango dancing, bull whip cracking, fencing, "watching polo and football games and waiting for the writers to finish a script."
This also gave him plenty of time to grow an elegant pair of sideburns. The sideburns, long enough to cover his upper molars, still make him uneasy. People stare at them, just as they would if a 1927 flapper pranced by them.

"Playing the role of a great lover—you've got three strikes against you before you start," said Dexter, a bit morosely. "I am no more like Valentino than you are."
I thought this was rather gracious of him, as I am more often compared to the late Lon Chaney Sr.

Actually Dexter bears quite a resemblance to Valentino.
"I'm about an inch taller than he was and weigh ten pounds more," he admitted. "But he had black hair and was darker; he had an olive complexion. Also he was a good horseman. I used to do a little calf riding out of chutes back in the middlewest, but I wouldn't know what to do with an eastern saddle."
Valentino died of peritonitis in 1926. Dexter feels the legend has rather outgrown the man.

"He was a shy, quiet, moody type—worried a lot," he said. "He was intelligent and had a good head on him. The people who used to work with him say he was straightforward and cooperative. He didn't run around with women. He was a hell of a good mechanic and liked to tinker around with motors."
But the fans never went to watch Valentino tinker around with anything but hearts. To the women of the 1920s he was a symbol of the great romantic lover—the kind that the Mrs. Babbitts yearned for at home but didn't have.

And that is the fact that makes Dexter uneasy.
"Everyone asks did I take lessons in how to make love," he said. "Of course, I didn't. I did see some revivals of the old Valentino movies. He had screen personality, and it is still there. The women were standing in line to see him again."
"But the peculiar quality any person possesses cannot be imitated completely. When he dies, the mold is broken. That is as true of Valentino as it is of Babe Ruth."

And Dexter feels he took a "terrific gamble" professionally, because he doesn't want to be typed in one kind of role, particularly that of a "great lover."
"I feel that if I can please 50 percent of the people who liked Valentino, I'd be lucky," he said. "I've already had a number of letters from women fans who admired Valentino. They wished me a happier life than he had."

Washington Letter
By JANE EADS
Washington—After much balmy and energetic prodding, Washington has a new song—"Washington."
Written by Californian Jimmy Dodd, it won approval of the District of Columbia Commissioners after a contest. Judges making the selection were Howard Mitchell, National Symphony Orchestra director; Sigmund Romberg, composer; Maj. William Sainelmann, Marine band director; Sigmund Spaeth, the musicologist; and Gordon Jenkins, composer and arranger.

These men thought it a darned good "hometown" song for the nation's capital. However, a group of "born" Washingtonians are giving it the Washington version of a Bronx cheer—blowing their ears, in deaf-ears is the Association of Oldest Inhabitants. Another is the exclusive "Society of Natives."
John Clagett Proctor, president of the first group and leader in its protest meeting, says: "The new song is not as good as the one we've had quite a while."
This song, also called "Washington," was written 31 years ago by William T. Pierson, Jr., and his mother. It was adopted by the Oldest Inhabitants and Natives in 1920.
Businessman James H. Simon, who started the contest to find a new song, says: "Washington needs a new song, just like it needs a new vote. Besides the school kids like this song."
The daughter of the Right Honorable Winston Churchill, as actress Sarah Churchill, used to be billed in English theaters, says her father and mother never really disapproved of her stage career as early press reports had it.
Miss Churchill, in Washington recently in "Gramercy Ghost," told newsmen: "They just said that if I did go into the theater, they'd like me to do it seriously."
Americans from coast to coast will now have the unique privilege of seeing and meeting the charming wife of Ambassador of Ceylon. She wears her colorful native saris and puts three diamonds in her nose.
The ambassador and Mrs. Corea, with their son Chandra, who live in one of the capital's most handsome embassy residences, are on a cross country motor trip during which the diplomat will speak about his country to clubs, organizations and universities.

Safety Checks Urged For Good Of Cars And Drivers

The average age of passenger cars on the road today is more than eight years, despite four years of booming automobile production, the National Safety Council reports. In 1949, the latest year for which detailed figures are available, 42 per cent of the cars in use were 10 years old or older, as compared with 17 per cent in 1941.

The Council warns that the large number of older cars on the highway make conservation and preventive maintenance imperative as war clouds again force steel, rubber and other materials into military production.

Check Points Listed To make both cars and drivers

last longer, the Council urges regular inspection and repair of the following safety check points:

Brakes—must stop car in 30 feet from 20 m.p.h. and take hold even-ly on all wheels.

Lights—headlights at level to give maximum illumination with minimum glare. Allights clean and operating.

Tires—keep at proper inflation and replace if fabric shows or there are cuts and breaks.

Steering and wheel alignment—uneven tire wear and excessive play in steering wheel are warnings for thorough mechanical check.

Exhaust and muffler—keep tight and free from rust hole or leaks.

Defroster and windshield wipers—good operation is necessary to visibility.

Horn—must be audible 200 feet without undue loudness.

Glass and mirrors—clean and unobstructed for maximum visibility.

'Peaches' Weds Fifth Husband

San Carlos, Calif., April 18—(AP)—Frances (Peaches) Heenan—headline grabbing child-bride of "Daddy" Browning a quarter century ago—has a new husband—her fifth.

Peaches, then 15, married New York millionaire Edward Browning in 1926. Other husbands were Bernard J. Hynes, Denver real estate man; Joseph Civelli, San Francisco department store executive, and Ralph N. Willson of Columbus, O. Divorces separated her from each.

Washington Man Camporee Chief

NELSON BANKS

Mr. Nelson Banks, of Washington, North Carolina, District Commissioner for the Beaufort-Hyde District of the Boy Scouts, and member-at-large of the East Carolina Council Executive Board, was recently appointed Camporee Chief for the (1951) Sixteenth Annual Patrol Camporee of the East Carolina Council. This announcement was made by W. C. Chadwick, Council. Other Camporee officials appointed by the Council Executive Board were: Mr. Sherman Parks, of Greenville, chief judge, Mr. W. L. "Bill" Draper, Rocky Mount, deputy camporee chief, Mr. Joseph Hanchrow, Wilson, camporee arrangements chairman, and Mr. John N. Hackney, Jr., Wilson, special events director.

The Camporee is scheduled to be held in Wilson, North Carolina, at the Municipal Stadium, April 27th, 28th and 29th. Scouts will report to the Outpost Camporee Headquarters between 10:00 a. m., and 2:30 p. m. Friday at which point they will receive their first inspection and judging of the Camporee. They will then proceed to their assigned Campsite and set up the Patrol Camps.

The Boy Scout Officials report that the Annual Patrol Camporee is far more than just a short term camping experience for their scouts. It provides an opportunity for the Boy Scout Patrols under their own boy leader ship, to demonstrate Camping skills that they have learned and perfected during the previous fall and spring activities and, in a sense, serves to indicate to the Scouts themselves, their degree of proficiency in Scout Camping, Scoutcraft and Group living in preparation for the long term Summer Camp.

An English law of the 15th Century forbade anyone under the rank of baron to wear shoes with leather soles.

Why not give your Pride a Break?

Let's see what it means to own a ROADMASTER. It means, first of all, that you're a shrewd judge of fine manufacture. Nowhere will you find a mechanism more skilfully fitted part to part with scrupulous precision—engineered to stricter standards of fine-car quality—than the deep-framed and durable ROADMASTER chassis.

It means, also, that you possess keen appreciation of everything that makes for unsurpassed performance.

For there's more to this dazzling beauty than its thrilling take-off. There's the surplus of power that you need to make you the master of busy traffic or open road—plus the velvet magic of Dynaflo Drive (at no extra cost, mind you).

There's the level-going luxury of ample roadwheel buoyantly balanced on coil springs on every wheel—and the security of brakes specifically engineered for firm control of this great-powered beauty.

But there's still another distinction to being a ROADMASTER owner. It marks you as one who buys wisely and well. Size for size, pound for pound, feature for feature, few cars can even approach what your dollars will buy in this finest of Buicks.

There's much more to be discovered by a visit to any Buick dealer's showroom.

There's the sumptuous softness of cushions, the custom excellence of fabrics and interior trim, the grace and charm of every line and contour.

So if you've dreamed of sometime owning a car superbly fine, there's no time like the present—and no car like ROADMASTER for making dreams come true.

Boston Loss May Be Omen Of Another Futile Season

Raschi Handcuffed Red Sox Sluggers And Significance Not Lost To Sportswriters

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Is this going to be another Bridesmaid Year for Boston's perennial left-at-the-altar Red Sox? Vic Raschi's 5-0 hand-cuffing of the Sox sluggers for the New York Yankees yesterday may have been just one of those things. On the other hand, it might have been a sign of things to come. It smacks too much of "the same old Red Sox" of the past four years.

Watching the Sox being throttled with six little singles made it almost impossible to visualize them as the same pulverizing team that ran off 11 straight Grapefruit League victories.

It made it easy to recall the Red Sox of 1947-48-49-50. All-conquering on paper. All-powerful in spring training. All-mighty in the eyes of most experts. All-American choice for the flag.

Then they start to play for keeps. They stray away from friendly Fenway Park. And Boston's blasting batters become brittle and its hurricane hurlers become harmless.

The season's opener proved a total loss as far as Boston was concerned. Not only were the Red Sox horse-killed, but the city's National League representatives, the Braves, were goose-egged as Larry Jansen of the Giants shut them out, 4-0, with five little singles.

Philadelphia's defending champion Phils downed Brooklyn's Dodgers, 5-2, at Ebbets Field. Robin Roberts, whose final-day triumph over the Braves gave the Phils their first flag in 35 years last season, again thwarted the Dodgers.

Bob Lemon, king of the 1950 pitchers, threw a brilliant two-hitter as the Tigers to pitch the Cleveland Indians to a 2-1 triumph in Detroit.

Phantom Netters Meet Tarboro; Golfers Carded

Coch Charles Rice, Greenville High School tennis team will open their high school card Thursday afternoon when they play the Tarboro High School tennis team in Tarboro.

Nine boys and two girls, are expected to make the trip to Tarboro and all will be matched for the Thursday encounter.

Team members making the trip will be: Donald Tucker, John Aman, Jimmy Cheatham, John Sideris, Ralph Smiley, Sam Hux, Bill Taft, Jim Phelps, and Billy Woolfolk, with Carolyn Clapp and Jackie Sears.

The local squad has been working out in spite of bad weather and all are expected to be in good shape for the contest.

This year marks the first time in several years that the local High School has fielded a tennis team.

The Green Phantoms' golf team, which lost its opening contest to the Elizabeth City linksters, will play host to the same club here on Thursday afternoon at the Greenville golf course in a return match.

The Elizabeth City team, which is a seasoned organization having several veteran players on its squad, trounced the locals in their opening game played in Elizabeth City several weeks ago.

Coach Boley Farley stated that with recent practice he thought that the boys would make a better showing, even though it will still be an inexperienced team playing a veteran team.

Players to take part in the match Thursday will be: Tom Smoot, Edward Dowd, Bruce Baker, Jake Higgs, Brad Brooks, Guy Smith, and Eddie Sears.

All of the team members are expected to tee off in the Thursday contest.

SHORT LOSING STREAK

Muskogee, Okla. — (AP) — The longest losing streak by a minor league club occurred in 1923 and the dubious honor goes to Muskogee of the Southwestern League. Only the close of the season halted this streak at 38 straight losses.

Robins Will Play Strong Team On Thursday Night

With their opening game of the 1951 season postponed because of rain the Greenville Robins under the leadership of manager John Streza are all set to tee off against a strong Hartford ball club here Thursday night in Guy Smith stadium.

Game time for the contest has been set for 7:45. The opening game was to have been with Elizabeth City of the Virginia League.

The appearance of the Hartford ball team on the local diamond will bring to sports fans in this area a big league farm club which has been racking up impressive victories over service teams and Class B ball clubs over the state.

The Hartford team is headed training series.

Managed by Tommie Holms, who stepped out of big league ball as a player to take the position as manager with the Boston Braves' Hartford club, he may start a six foot eight-inch hurler against the local entry of the Coastal Plains league. The giant pitcher is Sondley, a former professional basketball star recently optioned to the Chiefs.

Holms will be counted on to lead his mates at the plate with the power of his bat which earned him a lifetime batting average in the big leagues of over .300. Holms plays in the outfield, usually in right field.

Recently the Hartford club played the Camp Lejeune Marines mauling them twice and then beating Durham by a 9-2 margin.

Business manager John Pringle this morning announced that a veteran pitcher, H. Bennette who played with Smithfield of the Tobacco State League last year where he had a good record, will arrive in the Robins camp today, as will limited service player, Al Schindler. Schindler plays second base.

A rookie, described by Manager John Streza as "really being a good prospect," has been optioned to the Robins and will arrive in the next few days. The rookie is Harold Kloss, infielder.

The game Thursday night will be one of four scheduled games for the Robins this week, with them seeing action on Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Women Golfers Play In Kinston

Low gross for the event went to Frances Stevens with 90, second, to Lib Bryan with 92.

Low net score went to Mildred Wannemaker with second places going to Mary Louise Woolen and Carlton Daily.

The Greenville golfers taking part in the match were: Mrs. Luther Herring, Mrs. Fred Sauve, Mrs. Walter French, Mrs. Larry James, Mrs. Clifton Edwards Jr., Mrs. Norman Garrison, Mrs. James Smith, Mrs. Earl Fisher, Mrs. Bill Byrum, and Mrs. Harold Thomas. Kinston will come to Greenville on next Tuesday afternoon for a second meeting between the two clubs in Women's Coastal Conference Golf Association play.

Black Cats Continue To Rule Roost In Carbon Bowling League Rivalry

| Carbon League Bowling |           |
|-----------------------|-----------|
| Black Cats            | 41 37 526 |
| Nine Lives            | 39 39 500 |
| Evereadys             | 38 40 487 |
| Penlites              | 38 40 487 |

Carbon League's Black Cats continued to rule the roost this week by beating the Nine Lives two games out of three and thus raise the margin between the first and second place teams to two games.

By taking two games from the Evereadys the Penlites pulled into a third-place tie with that team. However, only three games separate those two from the Cats.

For the first time in many weeks the 400 mark for three game total went unscathed although Bryan of the Lives pushed the mark with 399. That fact accounted for low scores among the four teams, scores that enabled a team to win with a low 500 total.

Averages sank a bit as a result, too. Bill Wells, leading the league last week with 154, dropped two pins this week, and Bryan, who had 152 last week, dropped to 151. Only one bowler in the top ten gained anything by this week's bowling. He was Fred Edwards of the Penlites who gained a pin over his 124 of last week.

ON 400 BATTERS

New York — (AP) — Only 29 batters have hit 400 or better in the history of the major leagues. Cap Anson was the first to turn the trick. He batted 407 in 1879. Ted Williams was the last to reach that charmed circle. He hit 406 in 1941.

Grimesland Pitcher Turns In One-Hitter

Grimesland, April 18—Freshman pitcher Jerry Gaskins, turned in a one-hit performance over the Chocowinity baseball team yesterday afternoon as the Grimesland lads scored an impressive 13-2 victory over the Beaufort county team.

The win yesterday ran the string of victories for Grimesland to three against two losses since the opening of the season.

Gaskins struck out eleven batters and allowed only four walks in the six innings of the seven-inning ball game which he worked on the mound.

Grimesland scored its 13 runs on five hits and eight errors on the part of the Chocowinity ball handlers.

The first stanza saw the Grimesland boys push across six runs, picking up an additional two in the top of the third and collecting five more in the top of the fifth.

Aiding the Grimesland cause was the power-hitting Jimmy Burgess, third baseman who got a triple for the winners, while the other team members divided up four singles.

The only hit off Gaskins was by Taylor, the catcher for the losers and came in the fifth inning after Gaskins had loaded the bases on walks, scoring the two runs for

Rivals Meet

The traditional rivalry between East Carolina and the Bulldogs of Atlantic Christian College will flare again this afternoon when Coach Jack Boone's basebatters invade the Bulldogs' camp in a twin bill.

The contest will be an important battle for both North State teams since ACC has a record of two wins against three starts while the Pirates also have a 2-3 record in conference play.

Again at stake will be the Bohunk trophy, currently held by the Pirates as the result of last year's basketball victories over the Bulldogs cage team.

Worthington Stars In Victory Over Grifton

Ayden Pitching Star Strikes Out Thirteen, Issues No Walks, Gives Up But Three Hits To Visiting Team

By MELVIN LANG

Ayden, April 18.—Ayden high went out of conference play yesterday afternoon to defeat Grifton 8-2. The victory over the Pitt County rivals gives Coach Stewart Tripp's lads a record of four wins and one defeat for the season.

Darrel Worthington was given credit for the win. Worthington struck out 13 men and did not issue a walk and giving up but 3 hits.

The Ayden lads pounded 3 Grifton pitchers for seven hits. Bobby Barfield, who threw the first five and one-half innings was charged with the defeat.

The trio of losing pitchers allowed 8 men to reach base on walks.

Ayden took the lead by scoring 3 runs in the fourth stanza. Worthington doubled into left, followed by a single by Teedy Bullock which sent Worthington to third. A walk by Jimmy Dunn loaded the bases. Two runs were forced in on successive walks to Hal Edwards and Mac Allen. Dunn then scored on a fly to left field by Randal Harrington.

The Ayden boys tallied two more runs in the fifth. Willis and David Manning singled in succession. Worthington was safe on an error with W. Manning scoring. Bullock followed with his second hit of the day to score D. Manning. Three runs came across in the period on four walks, an error and a single.

ton by Worthington.

The losers scored both of their runs in the last inning. Gene Williams relieved Worthington on the mound for Ayden and was unable to retire a man. He faced four walks and two. The others gained life on miscues by the Ayden defense.

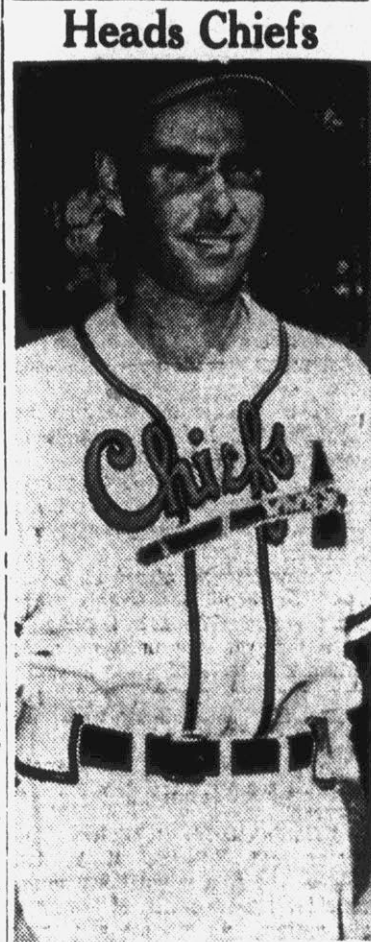

Worthington, who had moved to right field, came back to the mound to stop the rally.

Ayden plays South Edgecombe Friday afternoon in an important Coastal Conference game.

The contest will be played in Ayden.

Umpires Viewing 'New' Durocher With Misgivings

Boston, April 18 — (AP) — From the umpires' viewpoint, Leo Durocher's newly acquired amiability will be the outstanding feature of jubilee year—if it lasts.

But, knowing him of old, they are going to hope for the best while setting themselves, as usual, for his worst.

Writers who have known "The Lip" for years were dumbfounded by him before and after his New York Giants took yesterday's opener by blanking the Boston Braves, 4-0.

Since it was the Giants' first opening day triumph in five years, they expected to encounter Durocher in one of his rare genial moods. But certainly not the Angelic Leo effervescing with sweetness and light.

"I'm so happy, I'm frightened," the beaming Durocher confessed as he launched his post-game interview. "I've never had a club going so well and it scares me."

"Just look at 'my kind of team' and tear it apart everywhere," he urged. "Here's what you'll find. My pitching is great, so is the catching. The infield is airtight and the outfield the same."

"We haven't had any serious injuries so far and what if we do. I've got the best kind of insurance on my bench."

"What's frightening about all that?" a writer demanded.

"That's the only way I can describe how I feel about this club," Durocher replied. "I'm elated, charmed and thrilled by it. I've never felt that way before."

"Just a sure-fire, positive clutch for the pennant," another author suggested. That drew the first Durocher yell of the 1951 season.

"No, no, no," he cried, as if in pain. "I said nothing to suggest that. All I said was that I like my ball club and that we're going to get off to a good start. I may be confident but I'm not going to be trapped into any predictions."

Then he went on: "I've got a great ball club, 'my kind of club' but I'm not going to do any pennant talking and, what's more, I'm not going to have any more run-ins with umpires."

That last crack was much too much for his interviewers. They fled in a body.

Chapter 23
 "What's that?" Joe said, pointing. They all turned to look where he pointed. It was a rabbit, patiently trying to nibble grass that slipped through its teeth without so much as bending.
 "Oh! Nancy said. "That's one of Dr. Scott's experimental animals."
 "Must have gotten loose," Nelva said. "Poor thing. I'll bet it's hungry." She walked toward it slowly while it watched her, wiggling its nose in slow thoughtfulness.
 As she leaned over to pick it up, it decided to become alarmed. Its hind legs sank into the ground as it jumped, having the effect of loosely packed sawdust. It landed on its side less than a foot away and Nelva grabbed it.
 She stood up, cuddling in her arm and rubbing behind its ears to calm it down.
 "What kind of animals did you have back in the days of Varmour, Nelva?" Ray Bradley asked. "Certainly not the ones we have today—nor even the same plants!"
 "You're right," Nelva said. "We brought some of them forward with us, of course. Housepets, a few of the more interesting ones for the zoos."
 The rabbit in her arms suddenly dropped right through them to land on the ground, a form of shadow and light. It stood there a brief moment, then bounded away.
 "That explains how it got out," Nancy said. She saw the dumbfounded looks on Ray's and Joe's faces and laughed.
 "It's one of the experiments on direct nervous control of time travel," Nelva explained. "It must have changed over while Dr. Scott or one of his assistants was carrying it."
 Nelva led the way into the hall and half way down its length, where she turned into a doorway that opened on a large room that might have been a modern doctor's office suite with all the partitions removed.
 Two gray haired men were standing by a window talking in low voices as they entered. They looked up, a smile of welcome appearing on their faces.
 "Good morning, Nelva, Nancy," they said. "And these two young men are Ray Bradley and Joe Ashford."
 "Yes," Nancy said. "This is Joe, Dr. Scott, Dr. Osburn. And this is Ray."
 The two doctors shook hands solemnly with Ray and Joe.
 "We have something in common that I'll bet you haven't thought of," the latter said with a twinkle as he shook hands with Ray. "I was born in 1925. You

Search Extended For 2 Escapees

Raleigh, N. C., April 18—(AP)—A search had been extended south-wide today for two tubercular prisoners who broke out of Central Prison Sunday night by beating a hole in a wall with a window weight.

Prisons Director John Gold said broadcasts of the wanted men had been carried over police radio to other southern states.

The spectacular escape was the first from the prison since 1946. The two men, Gold said, used an electric cord to lower themselves 31 feet to the ground after crawling through their two-foot wide escape hole.

The hole was inside a small medicine-linen closet adjoining the east wall.

The prisoners were Cecil King, 41, of High Point, serving 17 to 25 years for armed robbery, and Earl Jackson, 63, serving 10 to 20 years for burglary and possession of burglary tools.

A prison hospital spokesman said Jackson was an active tubercular patient and "should be flat on his back receiving medication."

Another Blow Is Dealt La Prensa By Juan Peron

Buenos Aires, April 18—(AP)—President Juan D. Peron signed today a law ordering the government to take over the independent newspaper La Prensa.

The president's action ends the independent career of the 82-year-old opposition paper, which, before it was closed by strikes of pro-government unions and federal court action, had been a consistent critic of Peron's regime.

The signature apparently dimmed one of the paper's last hopes—an appeal to the Argentine Congress that the properties be returned to the owners. This demand, filed Monday by the paper's attorney, was based on the fact that the president at the time had not yet signed the bill passed by Congress last week ordering the paper's seizure.

Ask Bids On New Coastal Bridge

Raleigh, N. C., April 18—(AP)—The State Highway Commission has asked for bids on a new $1,000,000 bridge over Hogue Sound between Morehead City and Atlantic Beach.

The bids will be opened here May 8 at a special letting. Governor Scott authorized a special allocation for the bridge last September from surplus highway funds.

Portugal's Head Of State Dies Following Illness

Lisbon, Portugal, April 18—(AP)—President Antonio Oscar De Frago Carmona, Portugal's head of state since 1926, died this morning after a brief illness. He was 81.

His son, Dr. Antonio Aderito Carmona, arrived at his bedside today from Madrid and his daughter, the Duchess of Dusmet, came here from Rome.

A veteran military figure, Marshal Carmona became head of state in 1926 after the military coup of May 28. He was elected President in 1928 and since has been re-elected three times. He began serving his fourth seven-year term in 1949.

Following his election as President in 1928, he brought Portugal's present strong man, Dr. Antonio De Oliveira Salazar, into the cabinet as Finance Minister. Salazar soon after became premier and subsequently took over the actual control of the government which he held ever since.

Salazar, in accordance with the constitution, now assumes the presidency until elections are held within the next three months. He is expected to be a candidate then to succeed Carmona.

Switzerland was founded in a meeting of the representatives of three cantons on a meadow called Rutil in 1307.

The Standard of Convenience

"DRIVE-IN" CULTIVATORS FOR CA AND WD TRACTORS

Here's the simplest way of front mounting cultivators you've ever seen. Cultivator stands upright on floor or ground. Tractor drives into the frame. Hinged cultivator support arms swing in and fasten with two bolts. Hydraulic lift and depth control are quickly coupled. Rear furrowing bar is also self-supporting and quick-hitch. Within a few minutes you're ready for the field.

CA and WD cultivators set a new standard of convenience. Stop in and try it for yourself.

Legion Speaker Believes Omar Bradley Key Figure In Dispute

By CHESTER WALSH

"One of the key men to come out of the Truman-MacArthur drama will be Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chief of the General Staff," Dr. A. D. Frank, head of the history department of East Carolina College, predicted at a meeting of Pitt County Post No. 39, American Legion, last night.

The speaker said he listens to the same radio commentators, reads the same newspapers others do, and would confine himself to facts and express his own personal opinion. There is so much of personalities in the Truman-MacArthur controversy that it is confusing, he asserted.

"I admire General MacArthur," Dr. Frank said. "He is such a striking military personality that he is always interesting. There was a time, I recall, when MacArthur was in Australia while the bitterest fighting in the South Pacific in World War II was taking place. MacArthur had dabbled to some extent in politics. He at one time indicated that he would go along with Chiang Kai-shek in his movement in China.

"I don't trust Chiang Kai-shek. Chiang's soldiers sold us out in China.

"I agree with MacArthur's strategy in Korea, but I believe he is one-sided in his pictures of communism. It is evident that when a war is being fought in several areas that each general thinks his is the most important."

At this point the speaker expressed the belief that one of the key men to come out of the Truman-MacArthur controversy is Chief of Staff Omar N. Bradley. "He is level-headed and cool," he quoted Admiral Sherman as saying that he hoped Bradley would remain as Chief of Staff and he praised General Marshall. "When a navy man praises an army man that makes a story—a good story," Frank reminded.

"Dean Acheson should have resigned from the State Department or been fired by President Truman. I know of no man in American public life who has blundered more and who has less of the public confidence than Acheson. We need a new secretary of state," Dr. Frank asserted.

The speaker said, "Truman is one of the little men who has been President of the United States, but he gets around a lot and when cornered will scrap."

"President Truman waited too long to fire General MacArthur. The general asked for it and he got it," the speaker declared. "He also should have fired Acheson, but I would not be surprised to hear of Acheson quitting his post. MacArthur will claim that he has carried out his government's orders on foreign policy. He has, however, 'sounded off' several times in public interviews and confusion resulted."

In concluding his talk, Dr. Frank said the civilian forces of the government must prevail. He pointed out that if MacArthur had cleared his public messages on foreign policy through the State Department and his opinions on war strategy in Korea through the General Staff

District Scouts To Get Awards

Between 15 and 18 boy scouts of the Pitt district are expected to receive advancement awards Tuesday night at a district court of honor which will be held in the court room of the Greenville city hall.

Legionnaire Fred Stokes announced that Legionnaires Sam Whitehurst and John Causey will provide trucks to help transport local Boy Scouts to the annual Boy Scout Camporee at Wilson April 27.

H. Frank Steinbeck, awards chairman of the Pitt district, said special awards also will be presented several citizens of the district for their work with scouting and the youth of the district. The court of honor will begin at 8 o'clock.

Steinbeck urged "every parent and everyone in the Pitt district who is interested in scouting to attend this court of honor and see these boys honored for their advancement." He said all the scouts of the district have been requested to attend the court of honor, wear their scout uniforms, and to bring their troops flags.

Dr. H. G. Haney will be the principal speaker at the court of honor.

Today's Cases In Police Court

In Police Court today, Judge J. W.H. Roberts convicted Celia Mack Short, colored, of non-support of an illegitimate child and ordered his probation revoked and to serve the original sentence of 60 days on the roads.

The court found Robert B. Watson, colored, guilty of failure to pay for merchandise and fined him $15 and ordered him to pay $4.80 to J. R. Medlin. Watson gave notice of appeal. Testimony was that Watson drove into the Spur Service Station on Dickinson Avenue and ordered gasoline. When the service station attendant asked for the money, he quoted Watson as telling him to see the other two fellows in the car. Medlin called police.

Charlie Moore, colored, improper brakes and no operator's license, 30 days in jail, suspended on payment of $25 and costs.

Walter W. Brown paid $20 for speeding.

Gen. Bradley . . .

(Continued From Page One) Bolshevism a chance to whittle the western powers down militarily and economically in preparation for a world war which might find Russia and some of her satellites virtually untouched by the Asiatic conflict.

On that basis we might be smart not to play into the hands of Bolshevism by launching a "preventive" war against China or anybody else. As a matter of fact China is getting plenty of punishment through her aggression in Korea.

Apropos of this general situation it is interesting to note that the Red Peiping radio reports the opening of another campaign for world peace on Bolshevist terms. This appeal calls for peace talks by five powers—America, Russia, Britain, France and Communist China.

The Perfect . . .

Disperse means moving essential government agencies—very essential to what's being done in Washington—from the heart of Washington to some place outside it but not more than 20 miles away.

For example, it might be possible to disperse some part of the Treasury Department.

But neither the President nor Congress could very well be dispersed. If they were, Washington would hardly be the capital any more.

A subcommittee of the Senate's Committee on Public Works held a lot of hearings on the problem of dispersing some government agencies.

This committee acted on recommendations made by a number of important government agencies and departments, based on a study begun in 1948, for dispersal.

Finally, the committee came up with a bill that would start some of the dispersal. And this bill was laid in the lap of the Senate for consideration, starting today.

Briefly, if this bill became law this is what would happen:

The government, on land it bought, would put up four big buildings within 20 miles of Washington, in nearby Virginia and Maryland.

Each of the buildings would be big enough for 5,000 workers. And highways would be built by-passing Washington and, by offshoots, leading into it.

These highways would serve several purposes: general traffic which wanted to use the highways to by-pass Washington could do so; there'd be faster and easier travel between Washington and the dispersed agencies; and in event of attack these highways could be used in evacuating some of the Washington population.

The cost of land, buildings, and highways would run about $107,000,000.

This would, of course, have nothing to do with decentralization of the government, since the less essential government agencies could be moved to far-away places where and when room was found for them.
