President To Set Up New WSB With Added Powers

Brushes Aside Objections Of Management Representatives; Little Other Information Issued At Yesterday's News Conference

Washington, April 19—(AP)—President Truman will set up—probably within the next few days—a new Wage Stabilization Board having authority to handle emergency labor disputes during the defense program.

Announcing that intention at a news conference yesterday, Mr. Truman brushed aside the objections which management representatives have raised to the proposal, recommended by the newly-created 17-man mobilization advisory board.

When you get a three to one decision, Mr. Truman said, it's time to operate. That was a reference to the fact that the new wage board plan had been approved Tuesday by the 12 advisory board members representing labor, agriculture and the public. The four industry representatives dissented.

Mr. Truman had little other news for reporters yesterday.

He made it virtually certain he and Gen. Douglas MacArthur would not get together today, following the General's return from Tokyo. Mr. Truman ousted him last week in a policy disagreement.

The president said it was true, as a spokesman had said, that MacArthur would be received at the White House if he asked for an appointment. Signs are the General didn't plan to seek one.

Mr. Truman refused to be drawn out further. He said (a) his views on the Far East situation are well known, (b) MacArthur is going to give his own views and (c) he didn't intend to answer any questions on the subject.

On the question of setting up a new wage board to replace the one which has been impotent since its labor members resigned in protest over a wage ceiling formula two months ago, there had been some legal doubt the President could act.

Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston has said some government attorneys hold the Defense Production Act forbids giving a new board a power to handle disputes without agreement from both labor and management.

But Mr. Truman evidently was accepting the advice of other attorneys that he can establish an emergency step under his powers as President to take action in extraordinary conditions rather than under the Defense Production Act.

School Needs Get Grand Jury Boost

Condemn Rock Springs Negro School; Find Others In Disrepair; Assured Of Improvements When Money At Hand

The grand jury this week inspected several of the county school buildings and condemned one and found several others in various stages of disrepair.

After inspecting the facilities at Rock Springs Negro school, located about four miles from Greenville on the Falkland highway, the jury stated it should be condemned and consolidated with another school in the vicinity.

At the present the school teaches 70 students below and including the sixth grade. The frame building was built about ten years ago, according to county school superintendent D. H. Conley, and for the past several months the board of education has been considering placing the students at Rock Springs in either the Sally Branch school on the Belvoir highway or the Falkland school.

At the present time, however, Conley said, there is not enough space or facilities in either of the alternative schools. He stated that perhaps in two years' time or less the conditions at Rock Springs can be alleviated and the pupils transferred to another school—provided adequate space is made in the meantime at either of the two schools.

Sub Rescue Crews Give Up Hope; Hunt Goes On

Limited Oxygen Supply Believed Gone; No Further Clues As To Location Of Submarine; Silence In Area

Portsmouth, Eng., April 19—(AP)—Long silence from the bottom of the English Channel cut all practical hope today for the rescue of 75 men entombed in the lost British submarine Affray.

The British Admiralty said that it had received no reports to justify hopes that the men aboard the sunken sub might still be found alive.

Admiralty experts said the submarine's oxygen supply had been enough for only 48 hours—a deadline that was passed at 8:15 p.m. Greenwich time (3:15 p.m. EST) yesterday. It was exactly two days earlier that the big submarine dived on maneuvers and mysteriously settled to the bottom in some 300 feet of water.

But the Admiralty said the hunt would go on. An armada of 34 ships prowled over the Channel surface, searching for some sign that would pinpoint just where the Affray lay.

The search has been extended to the sea bed itself where the Admiralty said it was sweeping the bottom with a dragnet of chains, wires and nets.

But there was no definite indication where any rescue operations should begin. Faint underwater telegraphic tapping heard yesterday have not been received since.

The Admiralty said, however, it was confident the search was being concentrated in the right spot—southwest of the Isle of Wight, 40 to 50 miles from Portsmouth.

The Affray sent a signal from there Monday night to report it was about to surface a practice dive. It was to surface Tuesday morning to report again. But the all clear signal never came.

Equal Voice For Ruhr Workers In Plants Approved

Bonn, April 19—(AP)—The West German Parliament's upper house today passed a revolutionary law giving more than 500,000 workers in the Ruhr coal and steel industries an equal share in the running of their plants.

The Mitbestimmung (co-determination) Act was passed by the lower house on April 10. It will become law as soon as it is published in the official gazette.

The law provides that boards of directors of plants with more than 1,000 employees shall have five representatives of management, five of labor and an eleventh director to be elected by the other 10 or by arbitration if there is disagreement.

Attlee Misses Bevin

More Than Any Other Man In Britain's Socialist Regime, Bevin's Influence Kept Extremists Under Curb; Ability Often Demonstrated; Presence Needed Now

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The death of Ernest Bevin, the British labor leader who rose from dime-a-week farm hand to be Foreign Secretary, is a heavy blow to the ruling Socialist Party headed by Prime Minister Attlee.

The two-listed Bevin, who had been widely viewed as "a great man in any country in any century" was the most powerful force for moderation in the Socialist Party. He stood sturdily against communism at a time when extreme left-wing members of his party were flirting with the specious promises of Moscow.

Because of his political moderation and broad capabilities, Bevin held the respect of all parties. Thus he was a life-saver to the Socialist government at a time when its existence depended on a half dozen or so votes in the House of Commons.

Bevin has been called "the first British statesman to have been born a working man and remained one." His power with the labor unions was almost fantastic, a fact which Winston Churchill recognized in forming his wartime coalition government. The Prime Minister

Asks Rebate On Greek ECA Aid

Athens, Greece, April 19—(AP)—Roger Lapham, ECA chief for Greece, has asked the Greek government to rebate more than $100,000 allegedly mispent on one road project.

Nearly a dozen Greek contractors and members of the Ministry of Public Order are reportedly being investigated in irregularities said to involve $500,000.

Ridgway Warns Troops U. S. Is On Brink Of War

Sendai, Japan, April 19—(AP)—Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, new United Nations commander, warned today that the United States is "under imminent threat of war."

On his first inspection trip as supreme commander, Ridgway told the 223rd regiment of California's newly arrived 40th division: "To all intents and purposes you're here in war."

"We stand under the imminent threat of war which can be unleashed at the time and place of choosing of other people... 'However good you think your are, as I know you are good, you've got a long way to go to reach the standard of veteran (American) seasoned combat troops who are just across the water. I am confident you'll use every minute of the time you've got because you don't know and I don't know when the chips will be down."

The 200-mile trip from Tokyo was unprecedented. MacArthur never inspected a Japan garrison outside Tokyo.

Hwachon Reservoir Area Is Taken By Eighth Army As Reds Again Pull Back

Tokyo, April 19—(AP)—Allied troops today launched a limited attack north of the newly captured Hwachon power dam and reservoir on the east-central front in North Korea.

The allies seized the big hydroelectric grid Wednesday after Reds who had defended it stubbornly for days slipped away to the north.

Thousands of allied doughboys poured into the dam and reservoir area. United Nations riflemen struck north from Hwachon at the west end of the reservoir. They traded fire with an enemy group of undisclosed strength but later withdrew.

Chinese Reds pulled back all along the central front in the mountainous area west of the reser-

Sen. Vandenberg Dies In His Sleep Following Illness

Funeral For Respected Statesman To Be Conducted Saturday

Grand Rapids, Mich., April 19—(AP)—Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, one of the United States' most respected statesmen, is dead at 67.

The Michigan Republican a foreign policy expert whose advice and leadership were sought by the heads of both major parties, died last night in his sleep after several years of illness. He had undergone several major operations in the last two years.

Vandenberg's death at his home here meant the loss of one of the founders of the United Nations and one of Congress' foremost advocates of a bi-partisan, unified foreign policy in the cold war with Russia.

It also undoubtedly meant a gain for the Democrats in the Senate. It falls to Michigan's Democratic Governor, G. Mennen Williams, to name a successor to Vandenberg, whose distinguished career spanned 23 years in Congress.

Williams reportedly has four possibilities in mind—former U. S. Sen. Prentiss M. Brown, University of Michigan Law Professor John Dawson, former Michigan Attorney General Stephen J. Roth, and Noel P. Fox, head of the Michigan Labor Relations Board.

With Vandenberg's death the Democratic majority in the Senate became 49 to 46. The expected Democratic appointment will make it 50 to 46.

Funeral services for Sen. Vandenberg will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday from the Park Congregational church here.

Dr. A. B. Smith, who cared for Vandenberg during the long illness, said complications of the sickness following the major surgery caused death.

But it was only after death that Vandenberg's family disclosed that he had had a heart ailment for 25 years and that he postponed a necessary lung operation for close to a year—from the fall of 1949 to October, 1949.

He insisted, said his son, Arthur H. Vandenberg, Jr., that "his health was of far less importance than his attention to the affairs of government."

OPS Session In City Wednesday

John G. Clark, director of the Office of Price Stabilization, announced today a meeting for questions and answers concerning OPS regulations to be held in Raleigh at the Carolina Hotel on Monday night, April 23, at 7:30 p.m.

Six OPS officials from Richmond and Washington, D.C. will be in Raleigh to answer questions. Greenville merchants are invited to attend and questions for each trade class will be answered.

A clinic to be conducted for the explanation of various OPS regulations will be in Greenville next Wednesday, A. C. Aspsden will present to explain the regulations.

The schedule for the clinic is: From 9 to 10 a.m.—Automobile (both retail and wholesale) From 10 to 11 a.m.—Restaurants From 12 to 1 p.m.—Service stations From 2 to 3 p.m.—Growers

The clinics will be held at the Board of Aldermen room at the City Hall. All merchants in this area are invited to attend.

See Movie When General Arrived

Washington, April 19—(AP)—As the crowd gathered at National Airport last night to await the arrival of Gen. Douglas MacArthur from the west coast, President Truman attended a movie.

He and Mrs. Truman headed a long list of Washington officials who attended a special showing of "Tales of Hoffmann" for the benefit of the National Symphony Orchestra.

House Severely Damaged By Fire

A blaze swept through a Negro dwelling house around 2:30 yesterday afternoon on Elk Street, gutting the front portion of the structure.

When Greenville firemen arrived the entire front part of the building was engulfed by flames, with the flames licking outward towards the two houses located to the side of the burning building.

However, work of the firemen, assisted by the close location of a fire hydrant, enabled the blaze to be brought under control in short order while only minor damage resulted to the nearby houses.

No trace of where the fire originated could be found, but firemen believe that it started in a front living room.

The house was jointly shared by June Cherry and James Debeck and was owned by Mrs. W. B. Young.

All of the furnishings in the section where the flames were first discovered were destroyed.

It was the second dwelling house fire for local fire in less than a week.

Last night around 7:30, firemen received a call to the Norris Service Station to a trash fire. Upon arrival firemen found that trash, junk and (Continued on page twelve)

Fat Stock Show And Sale Is Held

Pitt County's first Fat Stock Show and sale of baby beef cattle was held today at the Farmers Warehouse, on the Bethel highway.

Its promoters, the Pitt county teachers of vocational agriculture, decided to make it an annual event. J. H. Mobley of Winterville, executive chairman, said:

"Twenty-two steers of various purebreds were exhibited by Pitt County Futur, Farmers of America. The showing of the cattle in the ring started at 11 o'clock. The auction sale of steers got under way at 2 p.m. A large crowd of farmers and others attended the exhibition and sale."

A Greenville police radio car and the Farmville High School band and a color guard, accompanied by two soldiers, led the parade of several hundred uniformed Future Farmers of America here today.

The groups represented the Pitt County Federation of Future Farmers of America chapters. They were from the following high schools: Grifton, Stokes, Winterville, Bethel, Ayden, Belvoir-Falkland, Farmville and Grimesland.

The parade formed at Ninth street and Dickinson avenue. It marched down the avenue to Evans street, and thence to the National Guard armory, where it disbanded. The boys then mounted trucks and went to the Farmers Warehouse across the river, where the judging of cattle was to start at 11 a.m.

MacArthur Says Policies Backed By Chiefs Of Staff

Draft Group Of 42 Goes Friday

Majority Of Those Leaving Tomorrow Are Volunteers; Only Seven Of 27 Passed Examinations Last Friday

Forty-two Pitt County men are scheduled to report to Raleigh tomorrow morning for induction into the nation's military forces. They will leave here at 7:30 and report to the induction station in Raleigh for dispersal from there to reception centers throughout the country.

Most of tomorrow's contingent are 20- and 21-year-olds, the older men in the county's dwindling manpower having been shipped out already. Also, the majority of those to leave tomorrow volunteered for Army duty through the Pitt draft board rather than waiting to be called for pre-induction.

Meanwhile, results of last Friday's pre-induction contingent show that only seven out of the 27 men sent passed the examinations and are eligible for Army service. That figure represents just a little over 25 percent passing marks on both the mental and physical—one of the lowest reports on Pitt men to be received to date.

Of those who failed the exams, five flunked the physical, 17 flunked the general classification test (mental), and two failed both. One failed for "other reasons."

One man from the group requested immediate induction after passing both exams. He was George Rouse, 20-year-old white youth of Rt. 2, Farmville.

Outline U. S. Program For Asia And Pacific

Acheson Calls For Steadfast Course In Korea In Outlining Projected Far Eastern Security Program

Washington, April 19—(AP)—The Administration has laid down a three-point "program of action" designed to combat communism in Asia and protect the Pacific islands.

The plan was outlined in part yesterday by President Truman, in filling in detail last night, Secretary of State Acheson urged the nation to "hold a steadfast course in Korea" and steer clear of any idea of extending the conflict there.

Acheson made this plea on the eve of the arrival here of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Acheson said last night, in a speech to the Women's National Press Club, that if there is any widening of the Korean fighting the Kremlin and Red China must be held responsible.

"The American people will never choose this course," he declared. "They will not fall into the trap of seeming to choose it."

The projected Far Eastern program called for:

1. A probable defense "arrangements" among the U. S., Australia and New Zealand. Mr. Truman announced in a statement that he directed Acheson, Secretary of Defense Marshall and Ambassador John Foster Dulles to continue negotiations in this direction while working out a Japanese peace treaty.
2. Increased efforts to help Asian countries strengthen their independence and achieve relief from poverty, by such means as Marshall Plan aid, technical assistance and the emergency wheat shipments to India.
3. Continuing determination to punish aggression in Korea. Acheson said the Communists already have been blocked in their drive for a quick victory there.

MacArthur Says Politics Absent

No Political Ambitions; Hopes To Be Free Of Partisans

Washington, April 19—(AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur mixed an old-fashioned disclaimer of political ambitions with his call for all-out efforts to defeat the communists who threaten world peace.

Before he left San Francisco amid a thunderous ovation on the eastward flight of eight hours, seven minutes, MacArthur declared he had no political ambitions. He added he hopes his name "will never be used in a political way."

MacArthur's pronouncement, given almost casually, climaxed a roaring San Francisco welcome to the General, who had stepped on the American continent for the first time since 1937 when he came back to marry his present wife. Their 13 year old son, Arthur, accompanies them.

The General, his five stars gleaming on his shoulders, told a massed San Francisco crowd:

"I have just been asked if I intend to enter politics. My reply was 'No.'"

"I have no political aspirations whatsoever. I do not intend to run for any political office and I hope my name will never be used in a political way."

Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the Republican floor leader who was on hand at National Airport to greet the General and his party, said MacArthur's disclaimer should "remove political considerations from efforts of the General 'to help us determine a global defense policy for this country and all of the free peoples of the world.'"

Senator Lehman (D-Lib-NY), a MacArthur critic, said he has "confidence in the General's political sincerity."

Senator Taft of Ohio, a possible 1952 Republican presidential candidate, was obviously pleased by the General's statement but declined comment.

Rep. Joe Martin of Massachusetts, the House minority leader who read the letter which contributed to the President's decision to fire MacArthur, said the General is "only trying to be of genuine service to the country in pointing out its dangers."

Cheering Congressmen Hear General Assert U. S. Has Divided Its Effort In Coping With Global Threat Of Communism; Raps Any Appeasement Of Red China

Washington, April 19—(AP)—This last meant using the Nationalist troops of Chiang Kai Shek with the United States furnishing supplies.

Cheering halted him briefly when he came to both the second and third points.

MacArthur said of his policy "for this I have been severely criticized in many quarters, principally abroad." But, he said, he had never heard any criticism of these views from "responsible military authorities, including our own Joint Chiefs of Staff."

MacArthur said he had called for reinforcements in Korea but was informed they were not available. He said he had warned that unless permission was granted to bomb Manchurian bases, blockade the China coast and use Nationalist forces on Formosa the position of his command "forbade victory" in Korea.

Bluntly, MacArthur said the intervention of the Chinese communists in the Korean fighting had called for "realistic adjustment of military strategy and such decisions have not been forthcoming."

MacArthur said he was not consulted in advance on the sending of American troops into Korea, but the move "proved to be a sound one."

His voice rising in vibrancy, MacArthur told Congress "we could hold in Korea by constant maneuver... but we could hope at best for only an indecisive campaign."

Those who would appease Red China "are blind" MacArthur said. He declared Soviet Russia would not necessarily mesh its power with Red China if the United Nations forces carried the war further. Any new enemy, he said, will strike only if it feels the balance is in her favor on a world scale.

He had declared earlier that Formosa must not be allowed to fall into enemy hands.

It is part of an island arc, he said, from which U. S. air and sea power can control the Pacific and maintain it as a protective "moat" for all the Americas.

MacArthur concluded with a recollection of the old soldier ballad "Old Soldiers Never Die, They Just Fade Away."

He said he was closing out 52 years of military service with that ballad in mind. "My military career will just fade away," he said dramatically. "An old soldier who tried to do his duty as God gave him the light to see that duty."

MacArthur's appearance before the lawmakers was televised over all major networks to an audience of uncounted millions. Millions more heard his voice over radio.

But the White House said in advance that President Truman would not turn on the TV set in his office and that no one from the White House was going to the Capitol to hear MacArthur.

At the hour of the speech, the President was conferring in his office with Secretary of State Acheson.

Vets Insurance Law

Legislation Which The President Is Expected To Sign Before April 28 Will Kill Chances Of Vets Who Let Insurance Drop Again Take Out Term Policy

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, April 19—(AP)—Here are points for veterans of World Wars I and II to keep in mind about government insurance. And some of them had better act fast.

Last week Congress passed a bill making changes in what veterans could do about such insurance. Those changes go into effect as soon as President Truman signs this bill into law.

It's not certain he'll sign it. But he's expected to, no later than April 28. So if what is explained here affects you, it will be smart to assume the bill will become law and act quickly, before April 28.

In both world wars servicemen could, although they didn't have to, buy government insurance of two general kinds: term and permanent. Since they didn't have to buy it, many never did.

But ever since they got out of service, because they were veterans, they have been free to buy such insurance. And they've been free to do so, but only until the President signs the bill into law.

What about these Veterans, the ones who once had the insurance but dropped it? Once the new law goes on the books, will they forever be unable to reinstate their old insurance?

No. Any veteran who ever had the insurance but dropped it can still reinstate it after the law goes into effect, provided—the policy he had was of the permanent kind, such as straight life or endowment.

To say it another way: If you (Continued on page twelve)

Attlee Misses Bevin

More Than Any Other Man In Britain's Socialist Regime, Bevin's Influence Kept Extremists Under Curb; Ability Often Demonstrated; Presence Needed Now

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The death of Ernest Bevin, the British labor leader who rose from dime-a-week farm hand to be Foreign Secretary, is a heavy blow to the ruling Socialist Party headed by Prime Minister Attlee.

The two-listed Bevin, who had been widely viewed as "a great man in any country in any century" was the most powerful force for moderation in the Socialist Party. He stood sturdily against communism at a time when extreme left-wing members of his party were flirting with the specious promises of Moscow.

Because of his political moderation and broad capabilities, Bevin held the respect of all parties. Thus he was a life-saver to the Socialist government at a time when its existence depended on a half dozen or so votes in the House of Commons.

Bevin has been called "the first British statesman to have been born a working man and remained one." His power with the labor unions was almost fantastic, a fact which Winston Churchill recognized in forming his wartime coalition government. The Prime Minister

Speaker Reviews Book By Gunther At Clio Club

Mrs. Jesse Moye II was hostess to the Clio Book Club at her home on Jarvis Street on Tuesday afternoon.

The home was decorated with arrangements of spring flowers. Mrs. James Moye, president, presided over the business session, during which routine reports were heard and approved.

The hostess introduced Mrs. Beattie Scott, librarian at Sheppard Memorial Library, who discussed some of the outstanding books of the past year. She passed out folders in which were listed the notable books of 1950 as selected by staffs from a number of libraries throughout the country. She spoke briefly of the ones that are currently on the shelves of the local library.

She chose one—"The Riddle of MacArthur"—by John Gunther—to review in detail. Mr. Gunther was sent by Look magazine to Japan last year to gather material for his book. The Korean war was in progress, and with events moving as swiftly as they did, Mr. Gunther hurried to finish his book while the news was still fresh and vital. He included in his study of MacArthur facts about his early training, experiences and military record, as well as many interesting things about his personal affairs. With the recent dismissal of the General from his command, the review was as apt and as interesting as the latest news releases, and the club members were given an opportunity to sign up for the book to read at the earliest chance.

At the conclusion of the program and after the books were exchanged, the hostess served a salad plate with tea.

Junior-Senior Banquet, Dance Set Tomorrow

Many juniors and seniors of Greenville high school are looking forward to tomorrow for the big event of the year—the Junior-Senior Banquet and Dance.

First the juniors and seniors will go to the Training School dining hall for the banquet which is to begin at 6:30. Here they will be entertained by talent from the junior class and by toasts and responses. The theme for the banquet and the dance is to be kept secret until the seniors enter the dining room and find out what is in store for them.

From the banquet, the juniors and seniors will go to the Greenville High School auditorium for dancing and more entertainment. Bob Lee and his orchestra, featuring Bernie Ham, will furnish the dance music and, no doubt, music to fit the theme of the dance.

The dance ends at 12 o'clock but that will not be all for the Terpelchoeans. Many of the juniors and seniors are planning parties as a finale to the "big night" and a group of them are planning to leave for a house party at Carolina Beach as soon as they can finish the round of parties on schedule.

Funeral Services Held In Farmville

Farmville—Funeral services for Mrs. Etta Lockhart Gibbs, 68, widow of Julian C. Gibbs, who died at her home here at noon Tuesday, were held Wednesday at 3 p. m. at Emanuel Episcopal Church. Rev. Jack R. Rountree of Kinston, the rector, officiated. Burial was in Hollywood Cemetery.

Mrs. Gibbs was born in Hyde County and had lived in Farmville since 1921. She was a member of Emanuel Episcopal Church.

Surviving are her mother, Mrs. William B. Watson, Lake Landing; a daughter, Mrs. J. P. Valnright of Greenville; two sons, Rufus L. Gibbs of Kannapolis and Matthew (Skinney) Gibbs of Farmville; a sister, Mrs. Katie Twiford of Farmville; two grandsons.

Mrs. Paul White of Rocky Mount responded to the welcome which was given by Mrs. H. A. White, chairman of the Mary Heister Powell Circle of Immanuel Baptist Church.

Mrs. Moye Dail accompanied by Mrs. Sarah Jones sang. The Reverend J. A. Nelson gave the invocation and Mrs. Chester Walsh, former Federation chairman, gave the benediction.

The next meeting will be held in Bethel in the fall.

Piney Grove News

We really enjoyed our service a Sunday school Sunday morning for at last the building has been completed. We are working hard now to raise funds for pews. We hope we have as much cooperation on this project as we did on the remodeling of the church.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Roberts and Mrs. N. S. Tyson spent the weekend with Mr. Roberts' parents in South Carolina near Myrtle Beach recently. They went over to Myrtle Beach before returning.

We are glad to know that Ely Forrester has been able to work a little. He has been out of work for quite a while with an injured knee.

Mrs. Gene Brister and little Gene, are visiting Mrs. Brister's mother Mrs. Bernice Causey. She will be down for several weeks.

Roanoke Federation Of BWC Hears Miss Irene Chambers

Irene Chambers, field worker for the Southern Baptist Home Mission Board, spoke Tuesday at a meeting of the Roanoke Federation of Baptist Business Women's Circles, which was held at the Woman's Club in Greenville, according to Esther Simmons, Federation chairman from Rocky Mount. The two B. W. C. circles of Immanuel Baptist Church were hostesses.

Approximately two hundred women from twenty-five circles were present to hear Miss Chambers tell about "Bargains" which Southern Baptist are getting for the money invested in Home Missions. She told of work among the Indians in Arizona and New Mexico and also of the new mission field which has recently been opened up in Alaska.

Mrs. W. E. Andrews, program chairman, introduced the missionary who has been with the Southern Baptist Home Mission Board since 1944.

Miss Simmons presided during the business session and called for reports from the following Federation officers: Emily Williams, Rocky Mount, first vice chairman; Mrs. W. E. Andrews, Bethel, second vice chairman; Jessie Daniel, Rocky Mount, secretary; Mrs. M. T. Speir, Winterville, treasurer; Frances Cecil, Washington, literature chairman; Mrs. Ralph Worthington, Ayden, chorister; and Sarah Jones, Greenville, pianist.

Mrs. Paul White of Rocky Mount responded to the welcome which was given by Mrs. H. A. White, chairman of the Mary Heister Powell Circle of Immanuel Baptist Church.

Mrs. Moye Dail accompanied by Mrs. Sarah Jones sang. The Reverend J. A. Nelson gave the invocation and Mrs. Chester Walsh, former Federation chairman, gave the benediction.

Dr. Aycock Talks On Socialized Medicine In U.S.

The Junior Woman's Club, convening for its regular monthly program meeting last night, heard a discussion on "Socialized Medicine" by Dr. E. B. Aycock.

Dr. Aycock was introduced by Mrs. Wyatt Highsmith, who was in charge of the program. In his able and interesting manner, he compared the present program which is in operation in Great Britain with the tentative program which has been proposed for this country. He explained the attitude of the Medical Association and the public in general towards this project. He pointed out the fact that the need for better health education is more urgent now than a national health insurance plan.

During the brief business session, Mrs. Tom Brown, Mrs. E. C. Harris and Miss Marion Perry were elected as delegates to the State Convention to be held in Charlotte on April 26 and 27. A final collection of clothing to be sent to Greece was made and also a final sale of stamps for the wounded veterans program was made.

The hostesses for the meeting, Mesdames Ben Rouse, Thurman Dail, Larry Averette, and H. E. Alder, served light refreshments at the conclusion of the meeting.

The Youthful Workers will soon be ready to present their play, "Wild Ginger." Please plan to attend. The Junior Auxiliary will help sponsor it. Tickets may be obtained by calling Mrs. Jane Tripp at 5256, Mrs. Frances Cassick at 2341, or Mrs. Lawrence Tyson at 4798.

A.A.U.W. To Have Games Tournament

Tuesday, April 24, the Greenville Branch of the American Association of University Women will hold their annual Bridge-Canasta tournament at the College Cafeteria. Time: 8 P. M.

The purpose of this venture is to build up a fund to make it possible for an East Carolina College student to study abroad. The National A.A.U.W. awards fellowships to students here and abroad in fields of research ranging from archeological studies in Alaska to studies of the effect of industrialization on the South. Fellows are studying in practically every country on the globe. The Greenville games tournament builds up the local fund for a local boy or girl to have a like opportunity.

Miss Marguerite Austin, chairman of the project, will be assisted by Miss Nell Stallings, Dr. K. Stokes, Miss Christine Johnston, Miss Emma Hooper, Dr. Bessie McNeill, Miss Alice Wooten, Miss Elisabeth Walker, and the Mesdames Hollowell, Kuezenkamp, May, Derrick, Dole, Humber, Krausnick, Winslow, and Herring.

The 60c admission fee includes dessert, individual favors, prizes, and fun. (Guests are asked to bring their own cards and score pads.) Mrs. Luther Herring is chairman of the Reservations Committee and can be reached, preferably between 1:45 and 12:45, by phone; or one can write for reservations. Everyone is most cordially invited to come for the games or for an evening of conversation.

More Families Driven From Homes In Mississippi Flood

By The Associated Press
More families left their homes in the upper Mississippi valley region today as surging waters from the Mississippi River rolled out over lowlands in Iowa, Minnesota and Wisconsin.

Cooler weather spread over the flood area. It was cold and snowing in parts of the Rockies and Plains states.

The big river threatened heavy damage in Iowa and Illinois. Plans were being made in many river towns for evacuation of families early next week. Red Cross workers, National Guardsmen and city officials prepared for the expected overflows from the big stream.

Thirty-five families left their homes in Dubuque, Ia., as floodwaters spilled over a three-block area. A record 22.5 foot flood crest was expected by Monday. Workers sandbagged the levee in East Dubuque, Ill., and residents were alerted to be ready to evacuate. At Sabula, Ia., workers sandbagged a 5,000-foot dike that protects the town of 800 population.

The highest crest in history—18.5—was expected in the area of the quad cities of Iowa-Illinois about Tuesday. Officials in Davenport, Ia., estimated 300 families will have to be evacuated. Precautions were being taken in Rock Island, Moline and East Moline, Ill.

The National Guard at Des Moines said 300 sandbags had been sent to Clinton, Ia. The Red Cross sent cots and blankets to Galena, Ill., for use if the river floods that community of some 4,000.

The Mississippi crested almost three feet above flood level yesterday at Cross, Wis., where some 1,500 persons have been forced from their homes and another 1,000 were in homes surrounded by water. At Prairie Du Chien, Wis., a crest of about 22 feet—four feet above flood level—was expected Saturday. About 150 families already have been evacuated.

Spain for centuries was the world's greatest lead producer.

Editors Gather To Map Defense Of Free Press

Washington, April 19—(AP)—Four hundred editors met today to draw new battle lines in defense of freedom of the press against censorship and news suppression.

President Dwight Young of Dayton, Ohio, cautioned the American Society of Newspaper Editors that an outcropping of "would-be dictators" in the federal, state and local governments has become a home-front menace.

At the same time, "very strong" resolution denouncing the closure of Argentina's great newspaper La Prensa was reported being written for consideration at the close of the ASNE's annual meeting on Saturday.

Even the hero of the hour, Gen. Douglas MacArthur, was to come under the editors' scrutiny. They have invited Keyes Beech, Chicago Daily News correspondent, to describe his publicized tiff with MacArthur's Tokyo headquarters.

MacArthur himself was expected to visit the editors this afternoon, after his address to Congress. But Young said ASNE's invitations to the General had brought no definite acceptance, and the editors did not expect a full-dress speech.

Correspondent Beech reported from Tokyo in January that MacArthur wanted to pull his troops from Korea and carry the war to China by sea and air blockade. Both MacArthur's headquarters and Washington denied the story. Last week, after the General was fired by President Truman, Beech disclosed that his source was MacArthur's military secretary, Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney. He will tell ASNE about it tomorrow.

Hold Forty-Two In Fraud Probe

Winston-Salem, N. C., April 19—(AP)—Forty-one male students and the president of a Negro beauty college have been arrested here and charged with attempting to defraud the federal government.

Mrs. Ola Mae Forte Hill, Negro president and owner of the college, was indicted Monday on nine charges of fraud by a federal jury at Salisbury.

She was charged with falsifying the records of the Lamae Beauty college here to get tuition payments under the GI Bill of Rights.

Indians Have Own Revolving Loans

Window Rock, Ariz.—(AP)—The Navajo Indians are handling the tribal money with a loan committee just like Uncle Sam.

The money comes from oil and other resources. This year the tribal council appropriated $724,000 to the revolving loan fund.

Odd Parallel In Cancer Cases Providing Clues

Baltimore, April 19—(AP)—A strange parallel in the case histories of 13 women has resulted in a discovery that Johns Hopkins doctors hope will wipe out cancer of the cervix as a killer of womankind.

The discovery is a new method of detection which exposes the disease early enough to remove the faulty tissue by surgery.

The discoverers are Drs. Richard T. Linde, Gerald Galvin and Howard Jones, all gynecologists connected with both Johns Hopkins Hospital and the Medical College of Virginia.

Until now, cancer of the cervix was identified after surrounding tissue was attacked to such a degree that it was often too late to save the patient's life.

Under the new method, cancer can be detected by the way tissue cells are arranged. In healthy tissue, the cells are arrayed in rows, like soldiers.

Colorful Attempt To Revive Dead

Rangoon—(AP)—An Indian fakir (holy man) plunged a dagger repeatedly into his body without ill-effects to prove he was no fake after failing to raise a man from the dead. The attempt to bring the dead to life was made at Pegu, 50 miles from here, when snake charmer Maung Tin was bitten fatally by one of his performing cobras.

It took place in a weird after-dusk ceremony at the Pegu cemetery after local officials permitted exhumation of the body. Flames of kerosene torches lit the graveyard as the dead snake charmer was lifted from his coffin. The fakir produced herbs from his voluminous robes and brewed a foul-smelling concoction.

Then he slowly circled the body muttering incantations. Suddenly he threw himself flat upon the dead man and blew into his nostrils. Mumbling guttural prayers, he forced people tensed as the fakir commanded the dead to rise. Nothing happened.

disturbed tissue alignment is a symptom of cancer. Dr. Jones said: "What we formerly looked upon as an early form of cancer appears to be a late form of the disease. It appears that cancer of the cervix does not develop directly from a normal cell condition to an invading cancer, but goes through an intermediate stage within the Epithelium (the outer layer of cells)."

BILBRO WHOLESALE CO. Greenville, N. C.

Washington, April 19—(AP)—Four hundred editors met today to draw new battle lines in defense of freedom of the press against censorship and news suppression.

President Dwight Young of Dayton, Ohio, cautioned the American Society of Newspaper Editors that an outcropping of "would-be dictators" in the federal, state and local governments has become a home-front menace.

At the same time, "very strong" resolution denouncing the closure of Argentina's great newspaper La Prensa was reported being written for consideration at the close of the ASNE's annual meeting on Saturday.

Even the hero of the hour, Gen. Douglas MacArthur, was to come under the editors' scrutiny. They have invited Keyes Beech, Chicago Daily News correspondent, to describe his publicized tiff with MacArthur's Tokyo headquarters.

MacArthur himself was expected to visit the editors this afternoon, after his address to Congress. But Young said ASNE's invitations to the General had brought no definite acceptance, and the editors did not expect a full-dress speech.

Correspondent Beech reported

Winston-Salem, N. C., April 19—(AP)—Forty-one male students and the president of a Negro beauty college have been arrested here and charged with attempting to defraud the federal government.

Mrs. Ola Mae Forte Hill, Negro president and owner of the college, was indicted Monday on nine charges of fraud by a federal jury at Salisbury.

She was charged with falsifying the records of the Lamae Beauty college here to get tuition payments under the GI Bill of Rights.

The Period of Moses

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Exodus 14-15; Deuteronomy 5-6; Psalm 136.

After the Israelites had fled from Egypt after the last plague—the slaying of Egyptian firstborn—the Pharaoh and his people asked, "Why have we let Israel go from serving us?" Pharaoh ordered his army to go after them and bring them back.

Camped on the shore of the Red sea, the Israelites saw the Egyptians coming, and upbraided Moses for bringing them from Egypt. The Lord said, "Go forward," Moses raised his hand, the waters of the sea parted, and the people walked through the middle, dryshod.

The hosts of Egypt, intent upon overtaking them, started across the divided waters. Moses, standing on the far shore, again raised his hand, the waters of the sea surged back, and all the great army and their equipment were overcome and destroyed.

After God had thus saved His people, Moses commanded them to be true to Him, to keep His commandments, and to teach their sons and their sons' sons how the Lord their God had brought them safely out of captivity.

Madison Debate In Final Stages

Marshall, N.C., April 18—(AP)—The jury began hearing final arguments in the Madison County sheriff dispute today.

The Democrats called their final witnesses yesterday, most of whom denied Republican charges.

After the eight lawyers representing the Democrats, Republicans and the State complete their final arguments, the judge will charge the Superior Court jury.

The jury will then attempt to decide who should be sheriff of Madison County.

E. Y. Ponder, the Democrat, is in office by court order and was declared sheriff after the November election. But Hubert Davis, the defeated Republican incumbent, charged that the election was manipulated.

The three-week hearing began almost three weeks ago after the State ordered both men to show by what right they claim office.

The county board of elections declared Ponder the winner by 31 votes. During the hearing the Republicans testified that a total of 66 votes were taken from Davis.

Antenna Added To Headgear Of William Penn

Philadelphia (AP)—There's a "feather" in the hat that crowns the statue of William Penn atop Philadelphia's City Hall. It's the antenna of one of two newly installed radio stations that enables the city's fire department to maintain two-way communication with crews manning firefighting apparatus.

Radio Corporation of America designed and built the two 250-watt stations which provide nation's third largest city with round-the-clock protection against disasters of any kind. The system, costing $87,000, is said to be the most modern in the U. S.

The two radio stations, within a few miles of each other, can be operated from either installed on fire engines, pumers and other motorized equipment.

Special Training For Near-Blind

New York (AP)—There are about 1,400 children in New York City schools who must use special educational facilities because their sight is so poor that they cannot read ordinary textbooks.

However, these partially sighted children are not segregated in special classes for the entire school day.

Mrs. Dorothea di Pretoro, head of New York City's Bureau of Education of Visually Handicapped, says. Partially seeing children are separated from their normal-sighted school mates only when they must do close work with their eyes.

West Germany's Youngsters Are Wild West Fans

Frankfurt, Germany (AP)—West German youngsters like George Washington but they prefer Texas, the Wild West and cowboys.

The illustrated booklet "Acht Grosse Amerikaner" (Eight Great Americans) has made a big hit with German school children. U.S. occupation authorities distributed the booklet to 10 schools—and then asked students between the ages of 10 and 15 to give their views on it. More than 80 per cent said they liked the booklet which uses the comic book technique to illustrate the lives of Washington, Jefferson, Walt Whitman, Lincoln, George W. Carver, Andrew Carnegie, Jane Addams and Edison.

Almost all the children asked for booklets about life in America. But they said "please give us adventure tales and stories of the Wild West and Texas."

THE PERIOD OF MOSES

GOD HELPED HIM SAVE HIS PEOPLE FROM SLAVERY

Scripture—Exodus 14-15; Deuteronomy 5-6; Psalm 136.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL. AS TODAY'S lesson jumps from Abraham to Moses, it would be well for the teacher to tell briefly of the reason why the Israelites were in Egypt, if they are not familiar with that story.

Relate the tale of Joseph sold into Egypt by his brothers, of his father, visiting him in that land after a famine in the homeland, and how the Hebrews won honor and riches in the land, becoming so powerful that, after Joseph's time, they gradually made slaves to the Egyptians. How Moses was chosen by God to bring His people out from bondage to a promised land.

Speak of the plagues with which the Egyptians were harassed until the Pharaoh agreed to let them go; and then go on with the lesson.

The Lord told Moses to lead his people to the shore of the Red sea, and have them camp there overnight. This was done. In the meantime the Pharaoh and many Egyptians regretted that they had let these slaves escape, in spite of the fact that the last plague had cost them the lives of their firstborn, while the angel of death had marked the homes of the Israelites so that none of their children were slaughtered. This was called the Passover, as the angel passed over the Hebrew homes.

the wheels had been taken off their chariots (by the Lord), and the going was heavy.

On the other shore Moses again stretched forth his hand over the sea, and the waters returned in all their strength and overpowered all the hosts of Egypt—their horsemen, chariots, all drowned.

Then Moses and the children of Israel rejoiced and sang:

"I will sing unto the Lord, for He hath triumphed gloriously: the horse and his rider hath He thrown into the sea.

"The Lord is my strength and song, and He is become my salvation: He is my God, and I will prepare Him an habitation; my father's God, and I will exalt Him."

"And Miriam, the prophetess, the sister of Aaron, took a timbrel in her hand; and all the women went out after her with timbrels and with dances."

So Moses brought the children of Israel from the Red sea, and they went out into the wilderness of Shur, where they found only a bitter stream of water to drink. Again the people murmured against Moses, asking him what they should drink. The Lord showed him a tree, which, when he had thrown it into the water, it sweetened the water and made it fit to drink.

In the fifth chapter of Deuter-

MEMORY VERSE

"Thou shalt love Jehovah thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might."—Deuteronomy 6:5.

Pharaoh heard the complaint: "Why have we done this, that we let Israel go from serving us?" So he ordered a great army to follow and bring them back.

The Israelites saw the Egyptian hosts coming toward them and they were sore afraid. They complained bitterly to Moses, saying, "It had been better for us to serve the Egyptians than we should die in the wilderness."

Moses said: "Fear ye not, stand still, and see the salvation of the Lord, which He will show to you today: for the Egyptians ye have seen today, ye shall see them never again."

The Israelites camped on the shore, and a pillar of cloud that had been in front of them, stood behind them and shielded them from the enemy. All night a strong east wind blew and they were undisturbed. In the morning Moses stretched out his hand over the sea, and the Lord caused the sea to go back and made the sea dry land, and the waters were divided.

"And the children of Israel went into the midst of the sea upon dry ground: and the waters were a wall unto them on their right hand, and on their left."

The Egyptians pursued them and went into the sea where the Israelites had passed safely, but onomy we are told that Moses called the children of Israel to him and said to them: "Hear, O Israel, the statutes and judgments which I speak in your ears this day, that ye may learn them, and keep them, and do them."

Then he gave them the ten commandments of the Lord, and told them to keep the statutes diligently because God had been very good to them. And he told them: "And when thy son asketh thee in time to come, saying, what mean the testimonies and the statutes, and the judgments, which the Lord our God hath commanded you?"

"Then thou shalt say unto thy son: We were Pharaoh's bondsmen in Egypt; and the Lord brought us out of Egypt with a mighty hand."

Today we cannot drive the waters back with an upraised hand, but the Lord has shown us how to make great powerful ships to cross the waters; huge airships that fly over land and water to take us where we wish to go. We can use them in helping to keep freedom strong in the world, and we should never forget the Lord who permits us to build such things, and to thank Him. Also we should strive to put them to right uses and keep the commandments of the Lord.

"Thou shalt love Jehovah thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might."—Deuteronomy 6:5.

By DAVID G. BAREUTHER, AP Real Estate Editor

The approach of warmer days means here comes the mildew season.

Since mildew can raise hob with wood, fabrics, leather, paper, paintwork—almost everything in your home—it's a good idea to fight it and keep it down.

The prevention of mildew is a lot easier than its cure. The first step is to eliminate all causes of dampness and to keep your house well aired.

Don't let damp or wet clothing lie around. It's prudent to dry all soiled clothing before putting it in a laundry hamper. Keep dishcloths, washcloths, towels and wet shower curtains spread out to dry.

The housewife who sprinkles her laundry and then puts off the ironing soon learns about mildew. She has a tough job to remove the stains—if the fabric hasn't actually rotted.

Soiled fabrics mildew more rapidly than clean articles. So it's unwise to store clothing that has not been laundered or dry cleaned. All soiled molds feed on starch and sizing. Starched shirts often mildew in damp unventilated drawers. It's safer to sun and air stored clothing periodically to be sure it remains dry.

Mildew seems to spread like blazes. Although all mold spots should be removed as soon as they are discovered, if you brush them off indoors the spores will scatter in the air and replant themselves elsewhere. Do the brushing outdoors or use a vacuum cleaner.

Mildew on paint will often take the appearance of a sooty or rusty deposit. You'll notice it more often on dark paint than on white. This is because the surface film is softer on dark paints, such as black, brown or red. They contain more oil. White paint with its zinc and lead and less oil dries harder and becomes more resistant to mildew.

Ordinary ready mixed dark paint can be given increased resistance to mildew in the following way: Open the can without stirring. Pour off part of the excess liquid (oil) to proportion of 1 pint to a gallon. Replace this with a pint of spar varnish. Douglas C. Arnold, president of the Keystone Paint and Varnish Corp., agrees that a harder film will be produced in this way, or by adding about a quarter-pint of dryer instead of the varnish.

However, he points out that use of high quality paint obviates the necessity of such adulteration.

In places especially subject to mildew, a fungicide can be added to the paint by mixing one-half to one ounce of bichloride of mercury per gallon of paint in the varnish before it is added to the paint.

Whenever a mildewed surface is to be repainted all mildew should be carefully removed. Scrape it off and wash well. Rub strong laundry soap on the stains, cover with powdered starch and salt, and expose to the sun wherever possible. Otherwise soak several hours in sour milk—that's an old recipe—and then expose to the sun without rinsing. Our mothers used Javelle water successfully.

Removal of mildew stains has been studied extensively by the General Electric Consumers Institute at Bridgeport, Conn. It was found that fresh mildew stains on washable fabrics could be eliminated by washing promptly with soap and water, rinsing and drying in the sun. Any remaining stain was eliminated by sponging with a solution of 1 tablespoon of sodium perborate to a pint of lukewarm water. This was left to stand for a minute or two and then rinsed. However, since this is a bleach it is well to test it first on an unimportant part of the cloth.

The GE experimenters also found it effective to boil musty dishcloths and washcloths with 2 teaspoons of baking soda added to each quart of water.

A chlorine bleach worked on old mildew stains on undyed cotton, linen and rayon, followed by a dip in a weak vinegar solution to stop the chlorine action. But this can never be done to silk or wool.

A vacuum cleaner is very effective in removing mold from upholstery because it does not spread the spores in the air. Stains are washed, rinsed and dried in the sun. Wiping upholstered furniture with a cloth wrung out of diluted alcohol, and then thoroughly dried, is another recourse.

Fumigate mildewed leather goods, remove stains by washing with saddle soap, dry in an airy place and then wash thoroughly.

Mildewed floors and woodwork can be wiped with a cloth dipped in water to which a little kerosene has been added and then dried thoroughly.

Scout Authority Accepts Assignment In Camporee

Mr. William Hillcourt, internationally recognized Scout authority, and author, has accepted the assignment as Campfire Chief for the East Carolina Council Camporee, to be held for the Boy Scouts of Eastern North Carolina, in Wilson, North Carolina, April 27th, 28th and 29th.

The Campfire programs will be one of the high points of the three day Scout Camping experience.

WILLIAM HILLCOURT

For more than 2,000 Boy Scouts. In addition to the songs, games, stunts, and demonstrations carried on by all the Scouts each of the fourteen Districts of the Council will appoint one Scout troop to put on a short dramatization, or pageant representative of their area. Part of the dramatizations will be given Friday evening, and part Saturday evening beginning at 8:00 p.m.

The East Carolina Officials feel most fortunate in being able to secure the leadership of Mr. Hillcourt as Campfire Chief, as there are few men in America who are given the international recognition of authority as that given Mr. Hillcourt. He is National Director of Scoutcraft and Assistant Editor of "Boys' Life" magazine for the Boy Scouts of America, and has written the handbooks for Scoutmasters and Boy leaders, and his articles on Scoutcraft subjects are widely read.

Mr. Hillcourt was born in Denmark and is an American citizen. He was a Scout in his native land and advanced to the Danish equivalent of Eagle Scout.

His interest in science led him to study pharmacy in which subject he received his Masters Degree. His interest in writing led him to a career as author of books on camping and outdoor life. He reported the second World Scout Jamboree at Copenhagen in 1924 for Danish newspapers.

The Boy Scouts of America selected Mr. Hillcourt to write the "Handbook for Patrol Leaders", the basic book for boy leaders and it has been translated into several languages. He is also author of the "Handbook for Scoutmasters" and the "Scout Field Book", which has been widely accepted in the Boy Scout Movement because of the striking way in which it presents outdoor activities to boys.

Mr. Hillcourt has written extensively on Scouting subjects for "Boy's Life", the monthly magazine published for all boys by the Boy Scouts of America. His monthly photo Scoutcraft page is among the most popular features of the magazine.

CAP Drives For Added Members

The Civil Air Patrol, auxiliary of the U. S. Air Force, is now conducting a membership drive for CAP cadets and senior members. It is a voluntary organization and stands ready for any emergency involving the use of aircraft during flood or other disaster, search for missing aircraft, search over water for missing persons, message dropping practice, forest fire control and emergency courier service.

Boys or girls or older persons interested in joining the Civil Air Patrol should contact Warrant Officer J. H. Bynum, Jr., Farmville, Lt. Darwin Waters, Greenville, or Capt. W. W. Moore, Washington.

The Washington-Greenville Flight has an instructor to teach young people between the ages of 15 and 18 in the fundamentals of flight and all there is to know about flying an airplane. These young people are known as CAP cadets also have a chance to go to an air force training camp in summer.

The senior or older members of the CAP meet at the Washington airport every Thursday night. Senior members get a chance to fly on the airplane that was assigned to this flight by the U. S. Air Force. This plane is kept at the Washington airport.

HOT DOGS! And how! Mildred McMahon, 21 and weighing 204 pounds, got herself a job walking 13 miles a day to test waterproof footwear (for the Hood Rubber Co.) in Watertown, Mass. Here is Mildred at the end of a work day in her favorite position for relaxation. But tomorrow she'll be on the job again and in the next 12 months she expects to walk as far as from Boston to Los Angeles without leaving her local route. She uses her weight and her energy to wear down the heels and soles of boots, galoshes and rubbers. If they stand the test they are good enough for the market. You'd think Mildred would be down to a wisp, but she says: "All it does is stimulate my appetite."

Basketball Squad Honored

Boys and girls of the Grifton basketball squads were guests on Monday night of the Young Men's Business Club at their meeting in the school cafeteria. Places were laid for 45 guests at the supper table where spring flowers, lighted candles and boutonnières carried out the school colors. John Coward said the invocation and extended a welcome to the students. In response Peggy Barfield made fitting remarks.

Retiring President Cecil R. Cobb presided at the business session and turned the meeting over to the principal, Albert F. Tyson, who was master of ceremonies. The speaker for the evening was Frank Mock of the Grainer High School athletic department. He was introduced by Paul A. Bradley. Mr. Mock spoke of the importance of the athletic program in a school and the attributes of a good athlete, among which are hard work, loyalty, sacrifice and a school spirit. He also commended the adults for their interest in the students, saying it was good for youth and adults to be brought together in meetings of this nature.

Mr. Tyson presented the basketball coaches, Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Brown Jr., who introduced the members of their respective squads and the Atlantic Christian College Stage presented to them basketball letters. Those receiving the letters were:

Peggy Barfield, Phyllis Jackson, Edna Earle Braxton, Ethlene Koon, Ida Clyde Mills, Joyce Dennis, Nell Mumford, Hilda Buck, Evelyn Adams, Coleen Braxton, Doris Manning, Gertrude Garris, Clyde Adams, J. R. Hooten, Rex Lewis, Bruce McLawhorn, Donald Rhodes, John Robert Lewis, Mac Lancaster, Bernard McLawhorn, Jesse Stancill and Preston Miller.

Celebrates Birthday Little Miss Suzanne Worthington celebrated her sixth birthday on Tuesday with a delightful informal party for neighborhood playmates. The young people assembled at the Worthington home and from there went to their camp on the river near the city where games and story-telling were enjoyed for the afternoon. Mrs. Josh Worthington, mother of Suzanne, directed play and was assisted by Mrs. John Coward and Mrs. Paul Bradley. Refreshments were cake, peanuts, candy and lemonade. The birthday cake was decorated with pink and animal crackers.

There were 15 young people present for the outing.

Rehearsals for the production are now underway.

Adopting A Baby Is Not So Easy To Accomplish

By DAVID TAYLOR MARKE AP Education Editor

So you've decided to adopt a baby. It's a big, excited feeling. Once the decision is made by husband and wife, you begin to feel that life has taken on new meaning, with that little one practically in the nursery already.

But, warns Ruth Carson, who has written a Public Affairs pamphlet, "So You Want To Adopt A Baby" (22 East 38th Street, New York City, 30 cents), don't decide whether the nursery is to be pink or blue yet. It describes the place of the legitimate social agency in the adoption procedure, the protection it affords both the parents and the child, and the risks of taking a child without such protection.

A good adoption agency is a specialist in the ways of humans, the author says. The seemingly endless red tape procedure it follows is really for your protection. She adds:

"An agency takes time to study the child, to make as sure as possible that adopting parents will not have some unknown grief ahead of them, like a child's mind that never develops. If the child has some handicap, like deafness for example, it seeks adopting parents who will accept this handicap and know how to help the child to a full life in spite of it."

Of course, an agency takes a good look at would-be parents, too. It wants to make sure the baby is getting a break also.

One of the hardest things for adopting parents to understand is—Why the baby shortage? Tiny babies are so much in demand that there are never enough to go around. There is less chance of a shortage as far as you are concerned if you do not insist upon a newborn baby.

A legitimate agency, says Miss Carson, will ask some rather personal questions of you. Your warm-hearted eagerness to have a child is not enough. It wants you to be mature, flexible, warm human beings who can understand the needs of another human being and be able to satisfy them.

Agencies like to take care of people who cannot have physical reason. They advise you to seek competent medical assistance first. But why the long wait for a child, you will ask.

Legitimate agencies, points out Miss Carson, follow the laws of their states and make rules respecting religion and race. You may have to wait until one of your faith is available. Then again, a child may be waiting for adoption and yet not be suited to you. A dark-haired, dark-skinned child in a family of redheads would stand out as different. What he needs de-

East Carolina Tops Bulldogs By 10-8 Following Big Second-Inning Splash

Bucs Picked Up Six In Second Frame, Went On From There Despite Desperate Rally By Atlantic Christian

Wilson, April 19.—East Carolina's Pirates maintained possession of the coveted and battered Bohunk bucket yesterday afternoon as they downed arch-rival Atlantic Christian College, 10-8, in the first of two North State Conference meetings between the pair.

The Pirates got off to a roaring start by scoring six runs in the top of the second inning on the offerings of starter Bobby Horner who was lifted during that frame in favor of Ingram Ingram came in and stalled the attack of Coach Jack Boone's Buc, and finished the game for the Christians, though he was reached for four runs in the six and one-third innings which he pitched. In the fifth the visitors sent across one run when Graybill singled home Jones who led off the inning with a double.

Fred Soles, Pirate centerfielder, who is currently batting a hefty .324, hit the game's longest ball when he drove in Hoskins in the sixth inning with a four-bagger, his first circuit clout of the year. Jack Wallace, co-captain of the Pirate nine, playing his last year for Boone's team, played only one inning in yesterday's ball game because of an injured knee. However, in his one appearance at the plate, batting for Hoskins, the second baseman got on with a single and scored on a single by Jones.

The Bulldogs of Wilson hit back in the bottom of the fifth frame when they showed across two, as Clark hit to the infield, Tart was hit by the pitcher and Calton got on by a fielder's choice; Calton stole second and two runs scored on a base hit by Fleming for ACC. Still trying to get back into the ball game, the Bulldogs were able to score four times in the sixth after one out. Colombo doubled, Siganos singled and Clark followed with a double and a single by Calton bringing the others.

The rally fell short as the Bulldogs of Wilson were able to reach pay dirt once in the seventh inning, falling to the Pirates to the tune of 10-8.

Jim Piner, outstanding sophomore, playing his second year of college ball, allowed the Christians only five hits, giving up four bases on balls in the six and one-third innings that he remained on the mound. He was relieved by M. Byrd who finished the game, giving up two hits.

For Coach Boone's team victory was sweet revenge, as the Bulldogs handed the Pirates two straight defeats in conference play. The win yesterday brings the local conference standings for the year to three-all.

Mr. Olive, Ill.—(AP)—Dick Olt-off, bowling in the city league here, was the happy victim of a freak bowling play. Just as Dick rolled his ball, another ball came back up the return and jumped off the rack on Dick's alley. The two balls collided. But Dick's continued right up the alley into the 1-3 pocket for a strike. Don't ask Dick what would have happened had the balls not collided.

Crimson Captain

A Foster has played No. 1 on the Harvard squash team since the war. The latest, Henry Foster, captained the undefeated Crimson to the National championship during the current season. The Harvard jacquet men won 104 individual matches and lost only eight. "Henry Foster is one of the best athletes during my time at Harvard," says Coach Jack Barab, who has directed Harvard teams since 1932. "He is as versatile a strategist as I have ever had the privilege of working with. He thinks more clearly and calmly under pressure than most players I know. Even while apparently being badly beaten, Foster is analyzing his opponent's game and usually takes command before the match is completed. He is a self-starter and capable leader. His ability to anticipate an opponent's move gives him uncanny court position to return some difficult shots." Foster, a scion of one of the old Boston families, is a great team player, and during his brilliant varsity career never lost to Yale or Princeton. He is an Army veteran, which made him older than his two brothers, Adam and High, who preceded him as captains of the Harvard squash team. His grandfather, C. H. W. Foster, who played football and won weightlifting championships at Harvard in 1880, is 91 years old and in fine health.

Grimesland Takes Fourth Win In Topping Pactolus

Grimesland's baseball nine annexed its fourth win of the campaign yesterday afternoon when it swamped Pactolus 17-5 in a game played at Pactolus. Tom Hodges for Grimesland went the route for his club and gave up four hits to take home the win. He walked two and struck out two. For Pactolus Dan Wynne also worked the entire game, giving up nine hits, four walks and striking out one. Leading the batting for the victors were Jerry Gaskins, catcher, who hit two singles in three trips. However, Wynne added his own pitching cause somewhat when he hit the longest blow of the game, a triple, in three times at bat. Both teams were guilty of several miscues with Grimesland committing nine and Pactolus six. The win gives Grimesland 667 percentage in the county campaign having lost two of the six. Next game for Grimesland is against Winterville there next Tuesday.

Sportsmanship Program Backed

Detroit, April 18.—(AP)—Forty sports editors and writers across the nation threw their support today behind the national Babe Ruth Sportsmanship Program. Their organization of an advisory committee was announced at a convention here of the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation. The program is aimed at stimulating of high school age in the classroom and on the playground and in the community at large as well as on the varsity athletic field. It is financed by funds left by the late home run king of the New York Yankees.

Carl Troester, director of the program, said 2,000 of the country's 26,000 secondary schools now subscribe to its principles and 1,000 more will come into the program this spring. The 40 members of the program's advisory committee include: Smith Barrier, Greensboro (N.C.) Daily News; Bob Considine, International News Service; Ed Danfort Atlanta Journal; Chauncey Durden, Richmond (Va.) Times-Dispatch; Oscar Fraley, United Press; Dick Herbert, Raleigh (N.C.) Observer; Whitney Martin, Associated Press; Grantland Rice, North American Newspaper Alliance.

Freshman Tosses No-Hit, No-Run

Raleigh, N.C., April 19.—(AP)—Bob (Footsy) Gardner, big southpaw of Gastonia, hung up a no-hit, no-run game here yesterday as N.C. State College's freshman baseball team defeated North Carolina's Tar Heels 7-0. Gardner struck out seven and walked five.

Established Golf Stars Mauled In Pinehurst Event

Pinehurst, April 19.—(AP)—Yesterday's double-barreled round of the 51st North and South Amateur golf tournament produced the most sustained sniping at established stars in the event's history. Whatever happens from here in will be tame by contrast. Second and third round matches set up quarter-final pairings, over 18 holes, like this:

Upper bracket — Hobart Manley, Savannah, Ga., vs. Dr. W. J. Panowski, Towson, Md.; Jack Coyle, Springfield, Ill., vs. Richard D. Chapman, Pinehurst. Lower bracket—Billy Joe Patton, Morganton, N.C., vs. H. H. Haverstick, Jr., Lancaster, Pa.; Harvie Ward, Jr., vs. Southern Pines, N.C., vs. William (Dynamite) Goodie, Jr., Valdosta, Ga.

Winners will meet in 36-hole semi-finals tomorrow, with the championship match, also 36 holes, Saturday. Gone from competition were three members of the Walker Cup team—Frank Stranahan, Toledo, Bill Campbell, Huntington, W.Va., and Jimmy McHale, Overbrook, Pa. Only McHale got as far as the third round.

Suranahan lost a 1 up match to Joseph McBride, Paterson, N.J., who had to play off at 80 Tuesday morning to get into the tournament. Campbell, defending champion, lost 4 and 2, to Jack Coyle, Springfield, Ill., in the morning. Coyle, law amateur in four open tournaments this winter, then outlasted Bill Markham, East Hampton, Conn., a 23-hole third round duel. Dr. W. J. Panowski, Towson, Md., took a 2 and 1 decision from Art Hoff, Oak Park, Ill., then ousted Walker Cupper McHale, 3 and 2. The 38-year-old Panowski failed to qualify here in his only other North-South bid, last year.

The marathon of them all came in the second round when Ray Palmer, Wyandotte, Mich., went 10 extra holes to beat Bill Mawhinney, Canadian amateur king from Yarmouth. Palmer won 18 to square the match and they halved the next nine holes before Palmer's par five ended it on No. 10. In the afternoon Palmer went up against Chapman and lost a 4 and 3 decision. Chapman, playing some of his best golf in quest of his first North-South title, surprised with an easy 6 and 5 conquest of capable Buddy Lutz, Reading, Pa.

A 22-hole second round match saw Ben Goodes, 38-year-old Reidsville, N.C., dry cleaning man, oust Bob Winger, Stillwater, Okla. Goodes putted the favored Winger out of the match, then extended Walker Cup alternate dynamite Goodie before losing, 2 and 1. Goodie earlier won from Art Lynch, Scarsdale, N.Y., by the same score.

First 2 Victories Indicate Cleveland Will Be 'Rugged'

Hatten Tells Version Of Dodger 'Mystery'

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor
Brooklyn, N. Y.—This might help clear up the Brooklyn mystery: "Why didn't Burt Shotton pitch Joe Hatten last season?"

It was nothing more than a misunderstanding between Shotton and Hatten. It apparently has been solved because new manager Charley Dressen is making Hatten one of his regular starting pitchers. Hatten had only eight starts last season, two complete games, two victories and two defeats. Dressen coached the Dodgers in 1946 and he remembers Hatten as Brooklyn's best southpaw before Preacher Roe. The Iowa portlander won 14 games that year and had a 2.84 earned run average, eighth most effective mark in the National League.

But something happened last spring. After Hatten blanked the Braves with two singles on April 25 and shut out the Cardinals for eight innings in his next start, he then trailed in three subsequent starts. Joe, who seldom has much to say, asked Shotton to put him in the bullpen. "Maybe I can help the team and get myself squared away," Joe said. Shotton obliged.

On May 21 Hatten made his first showing as a relief pitcher. It was one big mistake. With the score tied 6-6 in the eighth inning in a game here with Cincinnati, and Red runners on first and second, Hatten came in from bullpen. Danny Litwiler hit his first pitch into the left field stands for three runs and the ball game, 10-9. After that Hatten remained on relief and drew only three starting assignments until the end of the season. His only other complete game was a 7-3 victory over the Reds, his former cousins, on Aug. 24.

"I didn't ask Burt to put me in the bullpen for the entire season," says Hatten. "And we never had any words. It was just one of those things." "I had the best record among the pitchers in the exhibitions last spring but I didn't get my first start until the eighth day of the season. I shut out the Braves. Then I waited six days for my second start. I went into the ninth against the Cardinals with a three-hitter. When I gave up two more hits and a walk in the ninth I was taken out. Ramsdell (now with Cincinnati) came in, gave a hit and made a wild pitch that cost us the game. "I like to pitch every fourth or fifth day and I'm glad that Dressen is going to give me that chance." Hatten thinks Shotton was inclined to be stubborn. Whenever someone mentioned the fact that Hatten was not being pitched it made the situation only worse. Hatten won 17 games for Shotton and his first pennant winner in 1947 and followed this with 13 in 1948 and an even dozen in 1949.

Dressen may have solved the situation by telling Joe: "You're one of my five starters this year." Hatten says: "All I said was 'thanks.' It's a grand feeling when a fellow places confidence in you. I'll be doing my best to repay that confidence."

Bratton Easily Stops Ex-Marine

Detroit, April 19.—(AP)—Agile Johnny Bratton, NBA welterweight champion, is all warmed up and ready for his May 18 title fight against Kid Gavilan—and his hair isn't even mussed.

Bratton warmed up last night by stopping Don Williams, 23-year-old ex-Marine from Worcester, Mass., in the fourth round of their scheduled 10-round non-title bout at Olympia Stadium. Williams wasn't able to disturb the Chicagoan's nearly-combed black hair. Meanwhile Bratton's block-busting rights battered Williams' head and opened a deep gash over his left eye.

As the fourth round was about to start referee Bobby Watson stopped the fight. Many of the 3,944 fans booed the move, which followed an examination of Williams' face by Joseph Cahalan. Bratton was making his first appearance since he won the title—NBA version—from Charley Fusari last month. He toyed with Williams in all three rounds although the Worcester youth battled him on nearly-even terms in the second. Bratton's hard right in the opening seconds of the fight opened the cut and it got worse as the champion continued smashing rights to the side of the face.

Duke Tops Deacs To Rule Roost In 'Big Four'

Raleigh, N. C., April 19.—(AP)—Duke's Blue Devils ruled the roost today in the Big Four league baseball standings.

Coach Jack Coombs' Duke nine capitalized on two costly Wake Forest errors and some brief wildness by pitcher Gary Coleman to trim the Demon Deacons 5-2 at Wake Forest yesterday. It was the second victory of the season for the Dukes over Wake Forest and gave them a Big Four league record of two wins and one loss.

Wrestler Hurt, Hospitalized

Chicago, April 19.—(AP)—Wrestler Jimmy Valentine, who was hurt in a nationally televised match last night, was reported in good condition at Edgewater Hospital today. Hospital attendants said he rested well and will remain at the hospital under further examination by a doctor. Officials at Rainbow Arena, where Valentine wrestled Argentine Rocco, said Valentine rammed his head against an iron turnbuckle.

Wynn And Lemon Show Tribe Has Pitching Strength To Make Real Race For American League Pennant

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
Early Wynn and Bob Lemon sound warning that Cleveland will be a tough nut to crack in the American League.

Wynn's four-hitter in a 10-inning battle at Detroit yesterday, following Lemon's gaudy two-hit win opening day, emphasizes the class of the Indians pitching staff. And Bobby Feller hasn't worked yet. The Big Four of Lemon, Wynn, Feller and Mike Garcia rank with the best. All freshman manager Al Lopez needs is a solid leftfielder. Wynn and Jim Hegan, his catcher teamed up on the Tigers in yesterday's 4-2 victory. Hegan took care of the hitting with a homer and three singles while Wynn charmed Detroit.

After Hegan's homer tied the score in the ninth, the Tribe knocked out Dizzy Trout in the 10th. Ray Boone singled home Larry Doby with the winning run and Bob Kennedy scored the extra run on Pat Mullin's error.

Red Rolfe became so excited about a call by umpire Charlie Berry that he was put out of the game for the second time in his three years as manager.

Pitching also was the big story with the defending champion New York Yankees. Eddie Lopat taunted the red-faced Boston Red Sox with 6.5 no-hit innings and beat them, 6-1, allowing only two singles. Harry Taylor, the $75,000 buy from the Brooklyn farm chain, crumpled in a four-run fifth inning. He did all right earlier but the Red Sox hitters let him down flat, just as they did Will Light Tuesday. Boston has only one run to show for two Yankee games.

It looked like Lopat was on his way to a no-hitter until Ted Williams broke the spell by singling with one out in the seventh. Bobby Doerr's single scoring Ted was the only other hit. Mickey Mantle, the 19-year-old rookie phenom, came through with a two-run single off Taylor in the fifth, his only hit. Lopat kept that rally alive with a single and hit a two-run homer off reliever Ellis Kinder in the eighth. The Washington Senators kept step with the Yanks and Indians by making it two in a row over Philadelphia 6-4, in a night game.

Fountain HD Club Has Regular Monthly Meet

The Fountain Home Demonstration Club held its regular monthly meeting in the home of Mrs. C. E. Case on April 10 at 2:30 p.m. with the president, Mrs. J. A. Moore, presiding.

"Old Folks At Home" was selected for the group to sing and Mrs. Carlton Gardner gave a brief outline on the life of the author, Stephen Foster.

Among the items of business considered was the clarification of the 1951 club project adopted at the last meeting. The project adopted was "The Improvement of Mail Boxes in the Community." It was also voted unanimously that the club sponsor a booth at the county fair and are planning a display.

Miss Anne Parker, assistant home demonstration agent, made several announcements of interest to the club members and, in addition, called attention to National Home Demonstration Week which is April 29 through May 5, stating that each club is asked to observe it in some way.

It was voted by the club that they accept the opportunity presented by the chairman of the Township Cancer Crusade to cooperate in its efforts to put this across. Several routes were planned.

The meeting was then turned over to Miss Parker who demonstrated the advantages and the economy of having a home garden and a discussion followed.

Following the demonstration, the members participated in a brief recreational program in the form of a contest. The music chairman played

Book Describes Oil Rush: Boom

Ranger, Tex.—(AP)—An atmosphere of "mud, murder, and madness," characterized the great oil rush of more than 30 years ago. It is described in Boyce House's book "Roaring Ranger, The World's Biggest Boom," recently published by Naylor Company of San Antonio.

Corn liquor was a dollar a drink.

A hotel cot in a hallway cost $5 a night. The field's biggest well, the Norwood gusher, produced $30,000 worth of oil in one day on a farm which had been bought for $5 an acre 11 years before. A mile drowned in the mud of Main street.

Celebrities like Tex Rickard, Tex Beach, Jess Willard, and John Ringling played a part in the boom. House, author of 13 books, was a newspaperman in Ranger and nearby Eastland and Cisco for 10 years and writes from first-hand experience.

snatches of tunes at the piano for the members to recognize and name the authors. Mrs. Jenness Johnson was the winner.

Following adjournment of the meeting, the hostesses, Mrs. C. E. Case and Mrs. C. E. Case Jr., served refreshments. Guests were Mrs. Jack Yelverton, Mrs. Ernest Mosely and Miss Rachel Case.

Reservist Talks Nautical Rules

At the weekly meeting of the Naval Reserve unit here Wednesday night Lt. (jg) J. B. Smith, Jr., stressed the importance of learning and adhering to nautical rules of the road.

The present rules were adopted at the International Convention of 1889, Smith said, and a few amendments have since been added. The importance of understanding and carrying out the rules can be understood when it is known that 90 per cent of all collisions at sea grow out of careless disregard for the rules or out of plain ignorance of them, he said.

Two of the greatest disasters in marine history came about through lack of knowledge or conformity to the rules, Smith stated. The sinking of the "Titanic" off the banks of Newfoundland in 1912 after it had struck an iceberg was one of the worst marine disasters caused by not adhering to the rules. As a result 1,517 lives were lost.

Also, in the St. Lawrence River another collision occurred in 1917 that destroyed more property than did the London fire of 1666 and more lives were lost than in the Chicago fire.

That collision was between the "Imo" and the "Mt. Blanc," the latter which was carrying TNT. These two vessels collided near Halifax, Nova Scotia, and resulted in the loss of 1,158 lives, 4,000 others injured, 20,000 left homeless and property damage amounting to $50,000,000.

After Smith's talk a movie was shown, titled "Power For Peace," showing the primary importance of the combined branches of the armed forces.

Wilson's Weekly Bulletin

from the RECTOR KITCHENS

You just don't know how really fine Wilson's Certified Corned Beef Hash is until you've tried it in a variety of ways. For it's the hash you can do things with.

ECONOMICAL VARIETY

DID YOU KNOW

that Wilson's Canned Meats will insure your family meaty proteins, minerals and vitamins economically and tastily, too? The right "know how" with canned meats is important to their appetizing glamour. There are many ways to serve 'em. Take Wilson's "meaty and mighty good" Corned Beef Hash, for example:

PLAIN HASH
(made in 5 minutes, about 6c a serving)

Slice and fry Wilson's "meaty and mighty good" Certified Corned Beef Hash "m-m-m!" It is so gorgeously seasoned! Please note all you have to do is slice, heat and eat.

It's THAT GOOD! Or use fried rounds with eggs.

HASH EN CASSEROLE
(made in 20 minutes, about 10c a serving)

Add 1/2 cup cream, sour cream or evaporated milk to a can of Wilson's Certified Corned Beef Hash. Top with buttered crumbs. Bake at 350° F., 15 min. Serve plain or with cream cheese beaten with 1 tsp. cream and 1/2 tsp. horseradish.

HASH "BURGERS"
(made in 8 minutes, about 10c a serving)

Brown rounds of Wilson's Corned Beef Hash on top of split, buttered hamburger buns.

Top with sliced cheese. Leave in oven with heat off to melt cheese slightly. Serve hot with Corn Relish or catsup. Um-m-m!

SKILLET HASH
(made in 30 minutes, 8c-10c a serving)

Put Wilson's Certified Corned Beef Hash mixed with an egg in skillet, add water to cover bottom. Cook slowly to glaze, fold like omelet. Serve.

*To make Creole Hash add: 1 tsp. Wilson's B-F dissolved in 2 tbsp. catsup, plus green pepper and onion.

Wilson's Certified Corned Beef Hash is actually so "meaty and mighty good" that you can add liquid (water, sour cream, cream or milk) to increase its volume and still it's wonderful! Try these four flavorful taste-tests.

Then you'll never risk buying hash with another label because you'll see exactly how the Wilson label protects your table.

TIME TRAP

By ROG PHILLIPS

Chapter 23
There are some experiences in life that, however fantastic, never lose their flavor of reality. There are others that seem unreal—a dream—while they are happening and after. There are still others that, however small in scope, seem to enwrap one inexorably, with the impersonal inevitability of a landslide from which there is no escape, or the inescapable numbing shock of oncoming car headlights in the instant before head-on collision.

Ray and Joe behind their calm, even jesting exteriors, went through much the same series of emotional stages. It began with the same abruptness after they left the lab building and were led to a nearby house and shown to a room with two hospital beds—and calmly told by Nelva and Nancy that the party was over. It was time now to settle down and get ready for the first operation.

"It has to be done right away," Nelva informed them. "There will be long hours of learning to ring bells and flash lights through neural relays—more long hours of getting used to the ability to jump around in five dimensions by thought alone—and all that has to be over by the time this time-asm catches up with the time-you first met us in that roadhouse."

And so it began. Opiate and rest-lesss doting under opiate that suddenly robs you of those precious last hours by plunging you into deep sleep so that the next instant it is morning and the dread mo-are smiling down at you. Suddenly you remember. You're afraid of what might happen. Then abruptly the fear is gone. There were too many hours of drilling and training. There's nothing to be afraid of—only now the gun is loaded. No blanks. No red lights and blue lights and buzzers.

"Stay put, you," Nelva jeers good naturedly, and you realize you've been switching around in all five dimensions. But how could she do the same?

You sit up in bed as the startling truth hits you, and wonder why it wasn't obvious all the time.

"You can do it too!" Ray exclaimed.

"Of course," Nelva murmured. Her eyes softened. "There are four of us now. You and I, and Joe and Nancy."

Suddenly Ray knew how lonesome and alone Nelva had been. He sat up in bed and held out his arms. She crept into them.

"That Alchemy of the gods," Ray murmured.

"What?" Nelva asked dreamily.

"Nothing, darling," Ray said. "It was just a way of saying we have found each other at last."

"Yes," Nelva said, firmly pushing away from him. "And now we must get ready for the big moment. Here everything is five-dimensionally solid. This is really two houses in the same space, permanent, so that when you awakened you would not run into trouble before you got your wits about you."

"We have approximately eight hours for you and Joe to learn all the little things you must watch out for in switching around, and to get your sea legs. We have to be back at the roadhouse at the moment we vanished, because our plans begin from there. Also you and Joe have to learn our plan and your part in it."

Craig Blanning, with his features carefully altered so that neither Ray nor Joe would have recognized him, drove swiftly after the car in which Ray Bradley and Joe Ashford were going to their rendezvous with Nelva. The three young ladies and two men in the car with him were all members of the Custodians.

The car radio brought frequent terse reports of the path Ray and Joe were taking, sent by hidden highway patrol officers.

Thus it was that when Ray and Joe decided—apparently—on the spur of the moment—to stop and have a drink at the next roadhouse, Craig was a mere half mile behind, and able to drive in and park, and enter the place at the same time as those two.

He had a brief moment of panic when Ray bumped him at the entrance, but Ray gave no indication of having recognized him.

Inside, he and his party took a table near the two, and where they could survey the patrons without seeming to do so.

It was then that he hit on the idea of taking their car away from them. He outlined the plan to one of his men. When Ray rose and went toward the men's room the man followed him, returning with the key to the car and a dazed look. It had been too easy.

"Well," Craig said, "then this must be where he intends to meet Nelva. Just in case, though, we'll go ahead with it. Take the car, and if this isn't the place we'll manage to talk them into riding with us where they're going."

(To be continued)

Liquor Round-Up In Wake County

Raleigh, N. C., April 19—(AP)—Additional warrants were being served today as officers continued a round-up of alleged bootleggers in Wake County.

A. G. Scarborough, head law enforcement officer of the State ABC Board, said warrants had been drawn on some 35 persons. Many of the arrests already made in Raleigh included hotel bell hops and cab drivers.

New Sweeper Is Put Into Service

The Street Department's new sweeper arrived this week and was immediately placed in operation yesterday morning cleaning the streets before most of the residents had waked up.

The machine, which is the same make as the present sweeper, was bought last fall by the department on authorization from the Board of Aldermen. It was bought from the North Carolina Equipment Company and will be paid for out of the 1951-52 budget. No interest was charged by the company on the $10,000 machine.

One Recaptured, Search Goes On

Raleigh, N. C., April 19—(AP)—State and local officers pressed a search today for the second of two fugitives who staged a clever escape from North Carolina's Central Prison Sunday night.

Still at large is Cecil King, 41, of High Point, who was serving 17 to 25 years for armed robbery. King's accomplice, Earl Jackson, 63, of Sanford, was caught at his wife's home in Sanford late Tuesday night. Jackson was serving 10 to 20 years for burglary, possession of burglary tools, breaking, entering and larceny.

Prison warden Joseph Crawford said King had last been seen in Lee County. Both prisoners were tubercular patients. They placed dumplings in their hospital beds, then used a window sash weight to beat a two-foot wide hole in the prison's east wall.

Crawford said the prisoners had outside help in obtaining clothes which had been deposited for them at a pre-arranged spot. The men were clad only in nightgowns when they escaped.

Oratory Contest Scheduled May 2

"How Can We Help Build World Peace in the Atomic Age?" will be the subject for the Fifth Annual Peace Oratorical contest to be held on May 2 in the Greenville High School auditorium.

The contest is sponsored by the Greenville Woman's Club and is open to any high school student. The winner will receive a "World Peace" gold key and second place winner will receive a cash prize of $2.50.

Those already signed up from Greenville High School are Mitzel Sue Taylor, Lula Mayo, Johnny Russell, and Carl Worsley.

East winners from Greenville High School have been Alfred Sateed, Augusta Overton, Louise Batson, and Betty Small.

Another part of the county music festival will take place on Friday, April 20, with five schools taking part.

Fountain, Farmville, and Arthur schools will meet in Farmville tomorrow night and Grifton and Grimesland schools will be in Farmville.

The last part of the festival is scheduled to be held on April 27 at Belvoir schools with students from Belvoir, Falkland, Bethel, and Pacolus taking part.

It Wasn't Funny

Asheville, N. C., April 19—(AP)—Jesse F. Sheppard claimed he got hit by a bear—and he said it wasn't funny.

He said so to the tune of a $3,000 damage suit in Buncombe Superior Court against Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Lambert, operators of a soft drink stand near Waynesville. Sheppard claimed the animal was in a cage and took a swipe at him while he was watching it.

But he's not going to get any damages out of it—at least not during this term of civil court. During trial of the case yesterday, Judge George B. Patton observed Sheppard talking with a juror—and declared a mistrial.

VEPCO Reveals New Dam Plans

Richmond, Va., April 19—(AP)—The Virginia Electric and Power Company has announced plans for a second multi-million dollar dam and power plant 10 miles upstream from its proposed Roanoke Rapids, N. C., dam.

VEPCO president Jack G. Holtzclaw said yesterday the company would build the dam and plant at Gaston, N. C., on the Roanoke River, if the Federal Power Commission will grant a license.

Holtzclaw told a stockholders meeting that if the application for the Gaston plant is approved, the plant can be finished and ready for service in 1955. It would have a rated generating capacity of 100,000 kilowatts.

Holtzclaw said VEPCO was ready to begin construction immediately on the $27,000,000 plant at Roanoke Rapids.

Final court determination is still pending on the validity of a license granted by FPC and opposed by the Secretary of the Interior and the Virginia REA Association.

Arrest Two Men On Disorderly Charge At Paradise Cafe

Police yesterday arrested Ernest Brown and Daniel Brown, both colored, on charges of disorderly conduct and damaging property at the Sylvester Wilson's Paradise Cafe, on Albemarle Avenue, last Sunday. The two men were ordered held under $100 bond each. The case will be tried in Police Court next Monday.

Police records show that Daniel Brown already had two cases pending in Police Court. Both of the charges are for careless and reckless driving.

Video Networks Unite For Show

Washington, April 19—(AP)—The four television networks serving the east and middle west of the nation merged their facilities today to cover Gen. Douglas MacArthur's day in Washington.

Station WNBW, of Washington, announced that National Broadcasting Company, Columbia Broadcasting System, American Broadcasting Company and DuMont will cover the event on a pool basis with 11 stationary and five mobile units. Voice commentary by top announcers of the four systems will be linked to the picture coverage.

Teletesting will begin at 11:00 a.m. in the lobby of Hotel Statler, where MacArthur stayed after his arrival early today. One mobile camera will picture the deposed General's arrival at the Capitol building and three cameras inside the house will watch his speech to the combined Senate and House. Other units will trail MacArthur's parade down Pennsylvania Avenue and three cameras will view the wind-up ceremonies at the Washington Monument Grounds, about 2 p.m.

The telecast will be fed into the four networks from WNBW, an NBC station.

Candidates For School Election

Nominees for the Student Council Association election in Greenville High School for 1950-51 were announced yesterday.

Those seeking a place in the SCA are: Fletcher Murray and Glenn Scott for president; Jim Cheatham and Roy Taylor, vice-presidents; Sidney Briley, Frank Brooks, and Ray Evans, treasurer; Janice Ormond, unopposed for secretary; and John Brooks, Jimmy Little, Sue Tucker, Ann Wilkerson and Sam Winchester, roving representative.

Campaign speeches will be given Monday and the voting for the candidates will take place on Friday.

Firemen Called To Riverside Blaze

Greenville firemen were called to a trash dump near Duke's Service Station, across the bridge on the Bethel highway, yesterday to put out a fire.

Police guarded a hose from a fire hydrant across the paved highway while it was being used. The trash fire broke out again last night about 9 o'clock. No damage to property was reported.

Warrant Issued For Violation Dog Law

A warrant was issued at the police station today for R. A. Hollingsworth, resident of Hillsdale, charging him with allowing his dog to run at large.

Humane Officer Enoch Elisha Jones, who investigated complaints, said neighbors had complained about a dog damaging flower beds, turning over garbage cans, etc.

The case will be tried in Police Court Friday morning.

Chicken Thieves Loot Cafe Coops

Police are investigating the report of the theft of chickens from a coop in the rear of Respass Brothers' Barbecue Place, on the Bethel Highway. Complaint was made that hens have been stolen on several recent nights.

House Severely

(Continued from Page 1) other inflammable materials had been placed in the lowgrounds around the building in an effort to fill a hollow. Flames were racing around the tree tops back of the station when firemen first were called, and it required the work of seven firemen until midnight to put the blaze out, with a crew standing by until three o'clock this morning to prevent any outbreak of the fire which might endanger nearby buildings.

Firemen stated that it was the second call they had received to the station in the last ten days. Traffic had to be halted along the highway to make way for hose lines stretched in.

Coed Is Elected Editor At UNC

Chapel Hill, April 19—(AP)—Miss Glenn Harden, a journalism senior from Greensboro, today became the first coed in several years to be named editor of the daily Tar Heel, student newspaper.

During World War Two, Miss Muriel Richter of New York headed the publication for one year.

School Needs

(Continued from page one) The same section were being taken to the Falkland school. He stated that a change would hinge on both the space provided for their teaching and also bus accommodations to schools in the area.

Meanwhile, in superior court yesterday afternoon Judge Leo Carr swore into the law practice a Negro attorney from Plymouth. He was Charles V. Bell who recently graduated from the law department at the North Carolina College in Durham. He was presented to the court by his father, P. H. Bell of Plymouth who has been a practicing attorney there since 1901.

C. A. Underwood, who went on trial Monday for perjury himself at his divorce trial last August, received a jury verdict of guilty. A motion for non-suit by his attorney William Crisp from Asheboro, Underwood's residence now, was held in abeyance until next Wednesday when it will be heard. Meanwhile, Judge Carr sent a letter to the welfare department at Randolph County requesting information concerning the character of Underwood and his former wife, Thelma Ritter Underwood.

County court solicitor Charles V. Hedbee prosecuted Tuesday afternoon's calendar and also the cases yesterday when solicitor W. J. Bundy had to go out of town. Hedbee was last called to prosecute a rape trial last summer when Bundy was out of town.

Here are cases heard with judgments handed down: Sam Pierce, worthless check; prayer for judgment continued for 12 months on payment of $50 per month to clerk of superior court until check is paid in full.

Charles Lester Letchworth, drunk driving; calendar for next week's term.

Herman Streeter, assault with deadly weapon with intent to kill; continued until next week.

Otis Baldree and wife Sallie Baldree, violating beer law; mistrial was declared and re-trial was set for next week.

Ernest Moore, larceny of auto; no pros with leave.

Foy Rogerson, embezzlement; continued on report of the State.

William Odell Dixon, drunk driving; not guilty.

Ernest Edwards and Doris H. Phillips, fornication and adultery; each given 12 month sentences, suspended on a three-year probationary period.

James Henry Gray, speeding; pleaded guilty, $30 and costs.

Jack Atkinson, lottery; six months.

Bill Cullifer, breaking and entering and larceny; no pros.

Attlee Misses

Obviously this was no time to frighten the electorate by extreme measures. So the leftists, who were seeing red and raring to go, were held in leash.

Bevin played a major role in holding the left wing Socialists in hand at that critical time. It is natural that speculation should be rife in Britain now as to what effect his death may have on the political situation, especially in the next general election.

A threat of a swing to the left by the Socialist Party might well result in a return of the country to Conservative government.

In any event, many observers hold that the Socialist government's position has been weakened. The death of this labor statesman has removed a vital steadying influence which may be expected to have its effect on the conservative vote.

Lay Cornerstone Of New Hospital

Chapel Hill, N. C., April 19—(AP)—The cornerstone of the University of North Carolina's new $5,000,000 teaching hospital was laid yesterday.

More than 1,000 spectators attended the ceremonies, held on the north side of the new Colonial-Georgian structure.

Vets Insurance

(Continued from Page One) ever had a permanent policy but dropped it, you can reinstate it any time you wish, even after the new law goes into effect. The new law won't change your right to do that.

But the new law will make a difference for a veteran who had the term insurance. And this is why: Government term insurance runs a certain period of years. Until now a veteran who had term insurance but let it lapse—that is, dropped it—could at any time in the future, even years afterwards, renew it if he wished.

The new law makes a change in this. Under the new law a veteran will not be able to reinstate his lapsed term insurance unless he does so within the specified period of his policy.

What about a veteran who has term insurance but wants to switch it to the permanent kind? Will the new law change anything for him? No. He can change it to permanent any time, so long as he had a term policy at the time he made the switch.
