Chinese Gather For New Assault

Thousands Of Fresh Troops Push Spearhead Five Miles Into South Korea; Allied Planes Keep Up Constant Attack; Reds At 'Eleventh Hour' Of Build-Up

TOKYO, Tuesday (UP)—Thousands of fresh Chinese communist troops pushed the enemy's assault spearhead five miles into South Korea today in a bold daylight movement in defiance of near-record allied machinegun and fire bomb attacks.

Hundreds of United Nations planes carried out an around-the-clock offensive against the enemy massing for a three-pronged assault, and Allied infantrymen broadened a bristling defense line for the next big battle.

U. N. ground forces waited behind booming artillery and 80 miles of barbed wire and minefields in their first static defense line since the tiny Pusan beachhead last summer.

The Chinese streamed down trails south of the great Hwachon reservoir and took up positions down Korea's central mountain spine from which they could strike at any moment to either East or West.

American artillery blasted one Chinese brigadehead and a powerful American task force of tanks, infantry and artillery fought through a Chinese screening force.

A full battalion of the enemy caught the Allied troops in ambush northeast of Uijongbu, but the Yanks fought their way out with the aid of fighter planes and long range artillery.

A limited Allied offensive was under way on the extreme eastern front. There North and South Korean troops fought a series of small, fierce battles. The South Koreans were fighting for control of the Inje-Kansong highway.

There were three major threats to the Allied line as the communists reached what front reports described as the 11th hour of their buildup. They were:

1. A full Chinese army corps was reported massed on the east side of the Imjin river, 20 to 25 miles north-northwest of Seoul.

2. A smaller concentration was growing west and northwest of Kapyong, about 30 miles northeast of Seoul, for a drive down the Pukhan River valley.

3. The heaviest southward movement out of the Chinese staging area was astride the central Hwachon-Chunchon corridor and in the remote mountain region east and northeast of Chunchon.

Allied warplanes continued to blast communist supply lines throughout North Korea.

More than 450 fighters and fighter bombers struck as far north as Huchon, within 45 miles of the Manchurian frontier, following up 1,075 attacks by carrier-based and Far East Air Force planes Sunday.

But the U. S. 8th Army reported a general lack of heavy fighting on the ground, where the Reds seemed waiting for an auspicious moment to unleash round two of their spring offensive.

Pilots blasted 129 rail cars, four locomotives, 300 enemy-occupied buildings and numerous other targets in sweeps against the Red supply lines during the day.

B-29 superfortresses joined the destruction with raids against the Hungnam-Hamhung railroad marshaling yards on the East Coast and the Sondok airfield southwest of Hungnam.

Indicate Warren Will Make Bid As GOP Candidate

Republican Leaders Forecast Californian Likely In Presidential Race

TULSA — (AP) — A determined bid by Gov. Earl Warren of California for the 1952 Republican presidential nomination was forecast by party leaders today.

With Republican National Committee members returning to their homes after winding up a conference here with weekend blasts at the Truman administration, Chairman Guy G. Gabrielson said the committee may meet next January in California to complete plans for its July presidential-nominating convention in Chicago.

Although Warren was not represented at the Tulsa meeting by any active campaigners, the California Governor's name got frequent mention in lobby talk as a possible presidential candidate.

In previous years, Warren has chafed away from any active drive for the nomination. He wound up in 1948 on the vice presidential end of a ticket headed by Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

Dewey has taken himself out of the presidential bidding and announced his support for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who apparently would become a candidate only if he were offered one of the major party nominations in a "draft" move.

Warren has been conspicuously silent on his choice for the top spot in 1952. Some of his friends say this is because the Californian may have decided that next year is the time for him to go after the prize in an all-out drive.

Warren undoubtedly will have the solid support of the California delegation at the Chicago nominating convention.

Warren men are said to be canvassing the situation among the 11 Western states, with indications that something resembling a bloc vote may be available to the California governor from that area.

Panama Is Quiet Under Coalition Govm't Set-Up

PANAMA CITY — (UP) — Quiet returned to Panama today under a new seven-party coalition government headed by President Alcides Arsenales.

The government set up headquarters at the Foreign Ministry Building because the presidential palace was so badly shot up in last week's battles that it required extensive repairs. Fifteen persons were killed and 194 wounded in fighting.

A belated police report said 1,200 followers of overthrown President Arnolfo Arias, who attempted to dissolve Parliament and govern by decree, barricaded themselves in the palace in last week's battles.

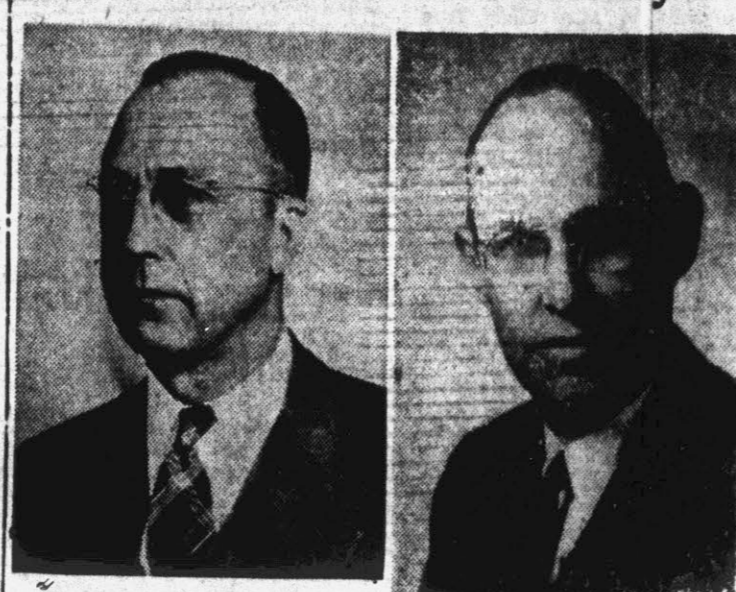

Police still hold more than 800 under arrest, including Arias. He may be tried for murder and gross abuse of power.

UNHOLY TRADE

Soviet Army Near Korea Increased

Marshall Reveals Expansion Since Last December; Insists Stepped-Up Air And Sea Fighting Would Fail Goal

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Secretary Marshall testified today Russia had made "sizeable increases" in its military garrisons near Korea since last December.

Marshall told senators that while the Soviets always have maintained strong forces on their Siberian borders, there has been a recent buildup in strength.

He had mentioned this in testimony last week but his reference to December pin-pointed the time of the buildup as he had not done before.

Under questioning, Marshall also insisted that Gen. Douglas MacArthur's plan of stepped up air and sea fighting would not defeat Red China in Korea.

For the seventh day, the Defense Secretary was before the Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations Committees which are inquiring into MacArthur's dismissal from his Far Eastern command.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the Foreign relations group asked Marshall whether "our air power and navy could win a war against Red China and x x x keep them from making an invasion of Korea?"

"Formosa, you mean?" Marshall asked.

"No," Connally replied. "I mean keep them from coming over like they are now. Could our navy and air alone, without any ground troops—"

"I do not think they could sir," Marshall replied.

MacArthur has testified that only a few more ground troops would be needed in Korea to win a victory there if American bombers were permitted to raid Red China's bases in Manchuria.

In previous testimony, Marshall had argued this program involved too big a risk that Russia might intervene and touch off a global war.

He had questioned, too, whether the MacArthur program would end the war quickly. But Marshall once said that if he had absolute certainty the Russians would not come in he would favor bombing Chinese bases in Manchuria.

UN Committee Votes Ban War Supplies For Chinese

'Bomb' Explosions Awaken Citizens Of Dickinson Ave.

'The THING' exploded three times in the 1600 block of Dickinson Avenue early this morning and scared the residents of that section of the city out of their wits.

However, there will be no mass evacuation of the residents of the neighborhood, even though an airplane flying overhead at the same time caused many persons to think Russia had picked Greenville as the prime target for a shooting war.

The explosions, which were heard by almost all persons in the southwest part of the city, were the result of a practical joke, police authorities think.

It all happened this way: About 3:15 a.m. three distinct explosions wakened up residents of the Waldensian Bakery neighborhood of Dickinson Avenue and when they looked outside all they could see was a large cloud of black smoke.

Police were immediately called to investigate while several residents took to their cars and vacated the immediate vicinity.

The police found two large powder burns in the street and three distinct blast areas on either side of Dickinson.

Chief Guy Langston stated a cardboard container was found which had contained black powder and had been set off by a fuse. He said it was probably thrown out of a passing automobile.

He described it as an explosive cartridge that is usually used by demolition personnel in the Army to mark an area that is to be blown up.

The three blast areas were caused by exploding canisters in the cartridge that were thrown out by the initial explosion. The cartridge has been sent to Cherry Point for investigation by Marine authorities.

Langston stated the "bomb" was definitely made at a factory and was not a homemade affair. It was six inches tall and about three inches in diameter, he said. It had no detonator and would not have hurt anyone unless he had been standing directly over it when it went off, the chief said.

"I don't think there is anything of a sabotage nature to it," he said.

June H. Rose, head of the county civil defense program, stated he is "quite sure it was a prank." He said there definitely was an airplane in the area at the time of the explosions which probably caused the residents to think the town was being bombed.

However, police authorities and Rose's personnel do not attribute the explosion to anything dropped from the plane.

Meanwhile, SBI and FBI agents in this area have been dispatched to Cherry Point to continue the investigation.

Mrs. W. B. Cozart, 1600 Dickinson Avenue, stated she heard all three explosions and thought they had come from the bakery. The explosions occurred just in front of her house. Shortly thereafter, she said, she got in the family car and drove around the block. When she returned to her home, the smoke had disappeared.

In the meantime some other resident had called the police station and the officers continued their investigation until after eight o'clock.

Sanctions Committee Action Is First Step Toward Worldwide Embargo; All Signs Point To Assembly Acceptance Despite Soviet Opposition

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — (AP)—The United Nations Sanctions Committee today voted a worldwide ban on shipments of war goods to Communist China. The vote was 11 to nothing, with Egypt abstaining.

The sanctions groups, formally known as the Additional Measures Committee, is a 14-nation body set up to consider punishment of Red China for her intervention in Korea. The committee's vote is only the first step toward imposition of the worldwide embargo.

Following this, the ban must be debated by the Political Committee of the General Assembly, and then by the Assembly in plenary session. The Soviet bloc is expected to fight it in both forums to the last ditch. India, leader of the neutralist group in the U. N., is also expected to oppose the embargo as endangering any chance of peace negotiation with Peiping.

All signs point to eventual Assembly acceptance, however, and by an overwhelming majority. The U. S. hopes adoption will be British and French opposition to the move, based on the fear that it might enlarge the area of conflict, evaporated last week. Informal sources said Conservative protests in the British House of Commons about rubber shipments to Red China plus much adverse U. S. comment helped change London's mind.

Britain announced last Thursday that it was cutting off further rubber shipments from Malaya to areas controlled by Peiping.

Pushing a punitive measure against the Chinese Reds indicates the extreme pessimism with which the U. N. regards the possibility of a negotiated peace in Korea. The Additional Measures Committee, set up under the resolution branding Red China an aggressor in Korea last Feb. 1, was to hold off recommendations for punishment until a U. N. Good Offices Committee had every chance to try conciliation.

Two Vessels In Collision Afire; Help Dispatched

NORFOLK — (AP) — The Collier Thomas Tracy and the Navy seaplane tender Valcour collided five miles east of Cape Henry today. Atlantic Fleet headquarters said, "Both ships are burning and their crews are abandoning ship."

Minutes later, however, Fleet headquarters reported it had received reports that the crews of both vessels still were aboard and were "getting the fires under control on both ships."

Naval and Coast Guard ships and planes were dispatched to the area. Coast Guard headquarters at Norfolk reported at 11:15 a.m. (EST) that the cutter Cherokee had arrived at the crash scene.

'Point Four' A Remedy For Ills

WAUSAU, Wis. — (UP) — Russia has the power to wage war, Dr. Henry G. Bennett said today, but we "can give it to 'em too to 'em."

The director of the "Point Four" program said that program is the only real remedy for communism. "It's the remedy because it gives underdeveloped countries social and economic independence," he said.

Fearful Premier Takes Sanctuary

Iran Leader Says Life Threatened By Sect Of Assassins

TEHRAN — (AP) — Fearing for his life, Prime Minister Mohammed Mossadegh moved last night into the sanctuary of the Parliament Building. He says he will remain there until his "dream" of nationalization of Iran's oil industry is completed.

Mossadegh fainted and fell headlong from the rostrum yesterday after telling the Majlis (lower house of Parliament) of threats on his life by the fanatic sect Moslem sect of Fedayan Islam, whose assassination tactics have made it a power in Iranian politics. Carried feet first to the Parliament dispensary, he was declared fully recovered a few minutes later by doctors there.

The jittery Premier was laughed at during his talk by skeptical deputies, many of whom felt he used dramatic character-stic of him to pressure them into quick action.

However, the Majlis speedily acceded to Mossadegh's demand that it elect five members to work jointly with a senate five-man group on a board to run the giant Anglo-Iranian oil company when it is taken over from the British.

All five board members named by the Majlis are known supporters of Mossadegh—making it appear there will be little compromise with Britain.

Retail Price Ceilings On Beef Are In Effect Today

By The Associated Press Retail price ceilings go into effect on beef today—but don't count on general price-slashing at your butcher shop.

Some of the new beef prices will be higher, some lower, some unchanged.

A spokesman for a supermarket chain in the east said the ceiling prices in general allowed boosts for the more expensive cuts, like porterhouse and sirloin steaks.

But the ceilings will hold the prevailing price line or required reductions on meats like hamburger and stewing beef.

Imposition of the retail ceilings today is the third major step in a series of government actions designed to reduce beef prices.

Earlier, packers and slaughterers were ordered to start grading their beef according to federal standards, if they weren't already, and to set up a sales records system for use in the event meat must be allocated later. And last week, dollars and cents ceilings on beef of the wholesale level went into effect. Coming later: rollbacks in packers' and slaughterers' buying prices for livestock, and in the wholesale and retail ceiling schedules.

The Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) said the retail ceilings effective today were calculated by adding a fixed margin percentage to the price the retailer pays for each wholesale cut.

Alert Order Passed To British Paratroop Unit

Fleeting Display Of U. S. Planes Flights Over City Included In Armed Forces Day Plans

If tentative plans for Armed Forces Day next Saturday go off as planned, the people of Greenville will get a fleeting display of the Air Force's might. Fleeting, that is, due to the jet flying age.

As announced by Armed Forces Day committee chairman Bob Ross today, several flights of planes from bases in the South will fly over the city during the day. That includes planes of the modern jet type and also some that were used extensively in World War II.

Accompanying the afternoon parade will be two flights of six Corsairs and six F-7Fs which are scheduled to arrive over Greenville on the dot of three o'clock. Also that morning, three F-84s will fly over, arriving here at 10:25. The planes will fly from Robbins Air Force Base in Georgia and will circle the city during the morning and afternoon.

According to a letter from the commanding general of the base to Ross, three other flights of planes are tentatively scheduled for Greenville "sometime during the day." The general stated that he thought there could be three B-29s, three F-80s and three F-4s. The latter two types, Ross said, are the earliest and latest, respectively, jet-type aircraft used by the Air Force.

Meanwhile, to coincide with the arrival of the planes in the afternoon the parade has been put forward one hour, Ross said. Instead of beginning at two p.m., as originally planned, it will start at three o'clock on Dickinson Avenue near McGowan's warehouse.

Original plans for the parade still hold true, he said, including units of Marines and infantrymen from Camp Lejeune and Fort Bragg, and the bands of Eppes and Greenville high schools. No military bands are available, Ross said, since previous requests from other towns have been filled by the military.

In addition to the troops marching, between 30 and 40 cadets of the Greenville-Vashington Civil Air Patrol will march also.

Rita Silent On Appeals By Aly

GLENBROOK, Nev. — (UP) — Actress Rita Hayworth kept silent today about reports that Prince Aly Khan wants to kiss and make up.

Miss Hayworth refused to answer questions concerning a letter the prince supposedly wrote her, begging her not to file suit for divorce.

Last Friday, she said she had "no idea whatever" if Aly would come here himself for a reconciliation. She said also she was undecided whether she would ask for a divorce or a legal separation.

Sells Furniture To Meet Taxes

LOS ANGELES — (UP) — Gambler Mickey Cohen puts the furniture from his lavish home on the auction block tonight to raise money for his defense against federal income tax evasion charges.

The furniture includes "Mr. Cohen's personal guns" and four television sets.

They Change Again

Washington Opinions On The Need Of Inflation Controls Go One Way, Then Another; A Brief Review Of Developments Since Baruch First Urged Action

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — (AP) — It's hard to get bored in Washington where things change around and people who were against something yesterday are for it today.

It was only last summer that President Truman said he saw no need for price and wage controls although Bernard Baruch, who convinced Congress he was right, urged complete controls and in a hurry.

By the time September came around Congress was so much for the idea it passed a law—the Defense Production Act (DPA)—giving Mr. Truman authority to "slap" in the controls pronto.

In fact, Mr. Truman had the authority in his hands several months before he ever got around to setting up the barest kind of machinery for price controls, even though prices were rising rapidly. This, of course, was a slightly different position from the one taken by Mr. Truman when Congress, particularly the Republicans, were itching to ditch OPA, which we still had at the time.

Learns Santa On 'Special Trip'

BURBANK, Calif. — (UP) — Six-year-old Don Chafin, bedridden with leukemia, learned today that Santa Claus is making a special trip from the North Pole to take him sleigh-riding.

Don, who has suffered from leukemia for several years, was visited by Burbank's leading Santa Claus, Bill Strother, last week and said his greatest wish was to "ride to the North Pole with Santa."

Strother obtained permission from the Junior Chamber of Commerce to ride the boy Saturday in a parade already scheduled.

Vote New Taxes

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee voted today to slap higher federal taxes on cigarettes, automobiles and gasoline.

In tentative decisions reached at a closed session, the tax drafting group called for the following increases: Cigarettes, from seven cents a package to eight. The Treasury had recommended a 10 cent rate. Gasoline, from 1 1/2 cents a gallon to two cents. The administration asked for a three cent tax. Passenger automobiles and motorcycles, up from 7 percent at the manufacturers' level to 10 percent. The Treasury had sought 20 percent.

Mr. Truman wanted to keep them, he said, to keep down inflation. But Congress—a bunch of Democrats teamed up with most Republicans—put the skids under OPA. And, sure enough, prices shot through the roof in spite of the soothing assurances, by some of the congressional bigwigs who said like OPA. That once it was gone prices might go up but would come down. Come down they did not.

When Mr. Truman wanted to keep OPA—in the November elections of 1946—that Mr. Truman's Democratic "lost control of Congress" in the Republicans for the first time since 1937.

Even after OPA died, with prices still rising, Mr. Truman asked Congress to stand-by power to slap on price controls—when he thought they were necessary. Congress ignored his request.

Then last summer, just a couple of months after the Korean fighting and just before the congressional elections in November, when Baruch had needed Congress into wanting controls, Mr. Truman said: (Continued on Page Eight)

This amazing exhibition of divided attitude towards an enemy reminds me of a curious incident encountered a generation ago in India, up by the famous Khyber Pass.

There were two saving tribes which were forever having fights with each other. One of these tribes managed to get hold of an antiquated muzzle-loading cannon which threw a non-explosive ball. So the next time this tribe went into action against the enemy, the cannon was trotted out.

Naturally this phenomenon concerned the enemy, and finally the latter sent over a flag of truce with this message: "It isn't fair for you to use a cannon when we don't have one. If you don't cease firing the cannon, we will call off the battle and won't fight you any more." So the side possessing the cannon discarded it.

In not dissimilar fashion the allies continue to pour into enemy countries foodstuffs and goods which indirectly, but very certainly, strengthen the war potential of our enemies. (Continued on Page Eight)

BPW Club Installs New Officers For 1951-1952

The Business and Professional Women's Club held its regular monthly dinner meeting Thursday night, May 10, at the Woman's Club. The program for the meeting was the round up of the club's activities for the year. Each committee chairman gave a report of what her group had done. The president, Mrs. Ruel Tyson, presided.

Miss Louise Gormin presented a gift to Mrs. Tyson, who is retiring as president.

Mrs. Susie Ragdale had charge of the installation service for the new officers of the coming year. The installation services were impressive as Mrs. Ragdale carried out the B.P.W. Club's theme "Full Partnership for the Job Ahead."

MRS. CLEM GARNER

Mrs. Ruel Tyson closed the installation services and presented a club pin to the new president, Mrs. Clem Garner.

New officers for the coming year are: president, Mrs. Clem Garner; vice-president, Miss Alys R. Taylor; recording secretary, Miss Annie Turner; corresponding secretary, Miss Elizabeth Deal; treasurer, Mrs. Laura Crawford.

Mothers Honored At St. Raphael's

In honor of their mothers, on May 10 and 11 at 8 p. m. in the school auditorium the children at St. Raphael's School entertained their parents and friends with a most impressive program.

The students in the second, third and fifth grades opened the program by singing a lovely Mother's Day song. On Thursday night the nursery tots in pink, airy spring costumes delighted their audience with a welcome in song and dance. The first grade sang "Blowing Bubbles" as colorful bubbles floated out to the audience.

For the program both nights the children in the upper grades presented a Juvenile Operetta, "Mulligan's Magic" by Alta H. Seymour and Helen Wing, Mulligan, a patent medicine peddler, visits a country store with his cure all remedy, good for bald heads, dispositions, sandwiches, window cleaner, etc. He is followed by a detective, clears himself in time to bring good luck to all.

On Friday night sixteen kindergarten children, dressed in aqua caps and gowns, were presented diplomas in a graduation exercise led by Marie Gibbs, Dickey Barnhill and Franklin Jolly. Carolyn Allen was the valedictorian of her class. The following children received diplomas: Carolyn Allen, William Brown, Robert Edwards, Douglas Fleming, Joseph Hardy, Allan Harris, Graham Harris, Dan Rice, Lillian Hudson, Franklin Jolly, Charles Laughinghouse, William Mays, Sandra Porter, Michael Poysey, Dixie Lee Smith and Patsy Tripp.

The program was concluded with an inspiring talk by Father Charles Gable.

Dinner Reservations. Miss Evelyn Latham; Program Coordination, Miss Louise Golphin; Membership, Mrs. Hazel Jordan; Public Affairs, Mrs. Margaret Farley; Education and Vocation, Miss Sue Brickhouse; Health and Safety, Miss Ruth White; International Relations, Mrs. Catherine Walsh; Legislation, Miss Lucille Rice; News Service and Publicity, Miss Gloria Blanton; Radio and Television, Mrs. Ruel Tyson; Finance, Mrs. Alton Baker; Music, Mrs. Viola Baker; Club Project, Mrs. Ruth Peterson; Club Bulletin, Miss Mary E. Eldridge; Scrap Book, Mrs. J. H. Letchworth; Year Book, Miss Mrs. L. B. Tucker; City Recreation, Mrs. Hugh Ragdale; State Project, Jane Gay; Civilian Defense, Miss Julia Fisher.

Guests at the meeting were Mrs. C. E. Williams, Miss Sarah Peardon, EOC, Gladys Reichard, EOC, and Margaret Leitman, EOC.

Grifton P.T.A. Elects Officers

The Grifton Parent-Teachers met in regular session on Tuesday night in the school auditorium with Mr. John Coward presiding.

A program was presented by the first and second grades. Mrs. Abbott's first grade gave a short play which was on the Mother's Day theme, "The Happiness Secret." The speaking parts were said by Mary Sue Ougburn as Judy; Lawrence Tucker, the rooster; David Smith, the squirrel; Harry Askew as the lamb; Frances Dennis, the hen; Dorothy Furrer, the cat; Little Old man, Leonard Cole; the cow was Jane Butler Mewborn; the Mother was Nannie Davis. All children appeared in costume.

Miss Hazel Patrick's second grade gave a short play, "Down on Old MacDonald's Farm." All children in appropriate costumes made the play effective. Bobby Summrell was perfect as Old MacDonald down to the goose on his chin. Taking part as chickens were Joyce Garris, Marian Nelson, Allan Jackson, Tommy Burney, and Johnnie Hancock. The little ducks were Maurice Patrick, Frank Jackson, and Walter Gaskins. Little pigs with their curly tails were Josh Bob Worthington, Gary Miller, Phillip Manning, Jimmy Carter. Betty Jo Gaskins as Tabby Cat and Jerry Causey as Woolie, the dog.

Farmers and farmerettes were Jane Corbett, Ada Dunn, Ann Dixon, Betty Jean Jones, Roxie Lou Coles, Randy Jackson, Denny Dennis, George Wiley, and Danny Russell. These last names were dressed in white with red aprons and red sunbonnets and carried garden tools. They sang several songs in keeping with the play.

After the program Mr. Coward called on the nominating committee for their report on a slate of officers for the fall term. Those elected were F. L. Cox as president, Miss Bert Johnson as vice president, Mrs. Annie Mae Bunch as secretary and treasurer. Mr. Cox made a few remarks in acceptance of the presidency. A vote of thanks was given Mr. Coward, Mrs. Thurman Williams and Mrs. K. E. Price Jr., the retiring officers.

Principal Albert Tyson made announcements in connection with the school finals which begin with a piano recital on the 11th, the commencement sermon to take place on Sunday night at 8 o'clock, May 13 in the school auditorium, the Rev. Burkette Raper, Free Will Baptist minister now doing graduate work at Duke University.

The class night exercises set for Wednesday the 16th and the graduation on Friday night, the 18th when J. E. Miller, administrative assistant of the State Department of Public Instructions, will speak.

Attendance cakes were won by the second and eighth grades on the number basis.

A few diamonds have been found in Arkansas, 60 miles from Hot Springs.

Fewer Forest Fires For Year

WASHINGTON—(UP)—More campers and smokers tramped through the national forests last year than ever before, but set off fewer fires than in 1949, the U.S. Forest Service reported today. Smokers who threw away lighted matches or burning cigarets were responsible for 1,701 fires in national forests last year, compared with 1,842 in 1949, the report said.

Mrs. Quinerly Hostess To Bridge Club

GRIFTON—The Thursday Bridge Club met with Mrs. H. P. Quinerly as hostess at her home here. Throughout the rooms in which the guests were received bowls of pansies, roses and sweetpeas made a pleasing background for the games. Four tables were placed for the games and as the guests arrived at 7:15 a delectable supper plate with hot tea was passed. After supper bridge was enjoyed. Mrs. Eleanor Gower and Mrs. Jack Chapman tied for top score and in a draw Mrs. Chapman was lucky. The consolation went to Mrs. Thurman Williams and the visitors' prize to Mrs. Roger Johnson.

Other players were Mrs. W. I. Bissette, Mrs. L. L. Mewborn, Mrs. Jack Tucker, Mrs. Alton Chapman, Mrs. J. L. Quinerly, Mrs. A. D. Wall, Mrs. Vance Wall, Mrs. L. D. McCotter, Mrs. Walter Patrick, Miss Hazel Patrick, Miss Bert Johnson, and Miss Louise Mewborn.

Exchange Club Has Informal Program At Supper Meeting

The Greenville Exchange Club, at its weekly supper meeting at the Woman's Club last Friday night at 6:30, utilized the time allotted for a special program to a period of fellowship. President Sweeney Mays presided. Plans for summertime activities were informally discussed.

The Exchange Club's membership has grown since it was organized here nearly three years ago. Sam O. Worthington, one of Pitt County's representatives in the lower house of the North Carolina General Assembly, was the club's first president. John G. Clark, now a federal official, was president the second year, and Sweeney Mays, of the John Flanagan Suggy Company, is the presiding official of the club this year.

The ancient Babylonians and Egyptians were expert wool workers.

Ayden Pupils Stage Schoolwork Review

AYDEN—The students of the Ayden High School presented "Highlights of 1950-51," a review of the work done in the past year, at the high school on May 10.

In the program, the review of projects in the school was given by students. Delano Cox gave a review of the improvements in the primary and high school building and campus. Richard Stoddard gave a primary library report. Barbara Nell Hart reported on field trips and Carolyn Jones reported on the elementary library.

A report on unit work was given by Barbara Griffin. David Hardee reviewed the work of the agriculture department. Shirley Ann McLawhorn reported on the high school library. Randal Harrington reported on the commercial department, the home economics department was reviewed by Shirley Tripp, and Melvin Lang gave a review of athletics in the school.

The musical part of the program included: the first grades singing "Greeny Wazney Spider," "Teddy Bear," "Jack-In-The-Box," "Oh, Have You Got a Zipper Coat," "I'm a Little Teapot," and "Jenny Crack Corn," and the second grades singing "America," "On a Rainy Day," "One, Two, Buckle My Shoe," and "A Hunting We Will Go."

The third and fourth grades sang

"Your Flag and My Flag," "Hickory Dickory Dock," "London Bridge Is Falling Down," and "A Bicycle Built for Two." The rhythm band played "Polka Mazurka" and "Whistle While You Work," the first, second, third and fourth grades sang the Ayden Primary School song, and the third and fourth grades did "Mexican Clap Hands Dance" and "Bow Belinda."

The grammar grades sang "Big Corral," "Orchestra Song," "America the Beautiful," and danced the "Grand March" and "Spanish Cavalier." The mixed chorus sang "Somebody's Knocking at Your Door," "Thanks Be to God" and the boys' chorus sang "Old Nickodemus." The program was closed with the audience singing the Ayden High School song.

Special feature of the program was the display of departmental, grade and individual work done during the year. The exhibit was in the hall of the school.

New Paint Cleaner Retains Gloss

Have you ever cleaned walls or wood work when the paint literally disappeared before your eyes? Perhaps your white woodwork formerly had a glorious gloss but after cleaning became flat and dull. Now you can retain the beauty of painted surfaces with the new C33 Concentrate. It removes the dirt but leaves the paint when used as directed. C33 is also ideal for cleaning venetian blinds, linoleum, refrigerators and tile. This new product now available at Belk-Tyler's 3rd Floor—Adv

Simpson Club To Improve Building

The Simpson Home Demonstration Club chose for its 1951 project the improvement of their club house and grounds.

Each month the club has sponsored a Ruritan supper and have also had community suppers. The proceeds were used toward improvements for their building, such as the purchasing of ten new tablecloths, building a chimney, and covering the kitchen floor. Plans are under way to screen the building.

Curtains have been added to the stage and the men and women of the community sponsored a clean-up day for the club grounds. Trees were cut to allow more parking space and the grounds were given a general cleaning.

Miniature Bags Of Grain Issued

WASHINGTON—(UP)—Small bags of grain were handed to congressmen today as a sign to speed approval of bills to send grain to India.

Some 20 members of the American Veterans Committee wandered through congressional halls passing out the small bags. Each contained an amount of grain equal to the average daily ration in India.

Rocket To Moon Said 'Possible'

NEW YORK—(UP)—Anthony J. Nera, General Electric research laboratory scientist, says there is a "marginal possibility" that a rocket could be built to fly to the moon.

Nera told the American Chemical Society last night that the rocket would have to be built in sections which would drop off one by one as its fuel was used.

He said chemical propellants appear to be the most advantageous and that it was likely that hydrogen "will be the key."

Picklesimer Will Retain Position

FACTOLUS—Ralph Picklesimer was re-elected principal of the Pactolus School for the coming year at a meeting of the Pactolus School Board on April 30.

H. C. Simmons was elected chairman of the board, C. J. Satterthwaite was named secretary, and M. D. Baker, new member of the board, was present at the meeting. Other board members present were Wesley Johnston and J. P. Davenport Jr.

Miss Nell Ward, who has been a teacher for 26 years and who was principal of the school when there were only three teachers, retires after this year. The board also accepted the resignation of Horace C. Morris, high school English teacher. The rest of the teachers were re-elected to the school faculty for the coming year.

Picklesimer will remain at the school for two weeks after the spring term ends May 21 for consultation with parents concerning students' work for next year.

There will be 11 graduates at the commencement exercises which will be held on Friday, May 18, at 8 o'clock. The members of the senior class will have charge of the commencement exercises.

Boy Trapped In London Mail Box

LONDON—(UP)—David Lees, aged 4, who loves to mail letters, had a new experience yesterday—he mailed himself.

David always wondered what went on inside the mail box when a letter was dropped through the flap. When he found the door open on a box in suburban London, he crawled in.

His sister, Lida, 6, rushing to rescue him, banged against the door and snapped it shut. She ran for help. A policeman arrived with a crowd of sympathetic bystanders.

A voice inside the box wailed "I'm hungry."

A collection produced a pear, an orange, a bar of chocolate and a bar of candy. These were passed through the flap and the wailing ceased.

The post office official arrived an hour later with a key to the box. David crawled out.

"It was dark and funny in there and I was frightened," he said.

Harmony Groups To Go Overseas

EVANSVILLE, Ind.—(UP)—The Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America announced today that three of the foursofmes will entertain servicemen overseas this summer.

Quartets will visit Europe, the Far East and the Aleutians and Alaska.

In addition to singing, the groups will distribute booklets on barbershop harmony to the troops, a spokesman for the SPEBQSSA said.

Rev. Topping To Address Class

PINETOPS—Rev. Leonard Topping, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Greenville, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon to the seniors of South Edgecombe High School, Pinetops, on Sunday, May 20.

Class night is scheduled for May 18 and Jackie Leigh will deliver the valedictory address and Juanita Stallings will deliver the salutatory address.

Dr. Amos W. Adams, editor of the magazine "North Carolina Education," will deliver the address at the graduation exercises which will be held on Monday, May 21.

Medical, Dental Society In Meet

The May meeting of the Pitt County Medical and Dental Society held at the Episcopal Parish House Thursday night was highlighted with a talk on "Menarche, Marriage and Menopause" by Dr. Robert Creadick, Professor of Gynecology and Obstetrics at Duke University Medical School.

Dr. Creadick stressed the potential effects of inadequate psychological preparation of our youth for the periods of adolescence, marriage and later years.

Following Dr. Creadick's address, the Society unanimously approved a resolution aimed at securing the services of the Norfolk Blood Center in obtaining an adequate supply of whole blood for use in Pitt County. The regular business session also included a report from the delegate of Pitt County to the North Carolina Medical Society, concerned mainly with the plan now offered for broadening insurance coverage for medical care at lower cost.

Husband-Supply Termed Adequate

CHAPEL HILL—(UP)—American women don't have to worry about the supply of potential husbands, a Census Bureau official told the Population Association of America here yesterday.

The 1950 census, said Henry D. Sheldon, shows there are 2,800,000 more unmarried men than women over the age of 14 in the United States, despite a larger total number of women.

The excess of women, he said, lies in the "widowed or divorced" category, in which the females exceed males by 4,700,000. In 1940, males outnumbered females by about 500,000, Sheldon reported. But today there are 1,500,000 more women than men.

The Population Association elected Dr. Rupert B. Vance, Kenan professor of sociology in the University of North Carolina as president.

these are the benefactors

One of the greatest accomplishments of civilization has been the remarkable progress made in increasing the average life expectancy. In the Middle Ages the average life span was twenty years. In the seventeenth century it had advanced to twenty-five years. Through the years there has been a steady increase until, today, the life expectancy is sixty-three years for men and sixty-six for women.

Authorities agree that the most productive years of life lie between the ages of forty and sixty. Medicine and the allied sciences have thus been indirectly responsible for all progress. Good minds that had sickened and died before reaching their zenith now live to apply the judgment and experience of maturity. As pharmacists, we are proud of our function in the distribution of lifesaving medical supplies.

The SIREN of SILVER VALLEY

By PAUL EVAN LEHMAN

Rose Rose CHAPTER 19

Chapter 19
They had an early breakfast and got under way at once. Jeff strung his men clear across the valley and they hazed the cattle before them, bunching them as they rode. What Double D animals they encountered were permitted to drop back. The herd grew as they advanced and the air was filled with their complaints and the dust stirred by their moving feet.

It was slow, hot work and both horses and men were taxed to the utmost; but midafternoon found them at the bend in the creek less than a mile from the Star buildings. Ahead of them the hills extended into the valley like huge, stubby fingers, and between each pair of fingers was a narrow valley extending back into the fastness of the mountains.

Jeff, watching through the glasses, could see the Star riders saddling up on their hillside ranch yard and knew that their passage was going to be disputed. He called Tombsone to him. "Ride along the line and tell the boys to get all set to start a stampede when I beat the Star to it, or they're going to try to turn them back on us sure as shooting. Slickers, quirts, guns—anything to get us started. And keep after them. They're tired and they'll be hard to get going."

Tombsone rode away and Jeff continued to watch. He saw a bronze-haired girl moving swiftly about speeding up her men and probably inspiring them with her words. He sweeping out of the yard at a run, heading down the slope towards the approaching cattle.

He raised his Colt and fired a single shot into the air.

Instantly bedlam broke loose. Guns flamed, shouts rose in a fierce crescendo, the whole line of men spurred their horses at the sound of the firing. Quirts cracked and clickers waved. The frightened animals in the rear began crowding those in front of them, heads reared and kicking. Their flight was communicated to the ones farther ahead; in turn they broke into a shambling run, closing the distance between them and the leaders. And at last the front ranks were pushed into a run that gained speed and momentum as the pressure from behind increased. And then the whole herd broke into frantic flight.

Looking over the hobbling backs, Jeff got the impression of an ugly, undulating brown tide sweeping relentlessly forward. He saw the Star riders pull up their horses and wheel them, saw them scamper back to safety leaving a bronze-haired girl calling frantically for them to come back. He saw the first wave of steers surge by very close to her, saw her horse rear and plunge and fight for his head.

And at last, with a fierce gesture of despair, Ruth wheeled the pony and sent him racing after the rest into the sanctuary of the Star yard.

They were beaten; hopelessly and completely beaten. The cattle surged towards the blunt fingers of the hills, split into streams to flow around them and into the passages between. Jeff's men followed them clear to the entrances then swung away and came galloping to rally about him. He led them straight for the Star buildings, planning to strike before the Star crew could reorganize.

Scattered rifle fire met them as they charged up the slope, but it could not stop them, and once at close quarters their superior numbers told. The extra men John Starr had hired were first to throw down their weapons and put their hands into the air; deprived of their support, the rest retreated into the ranch house and prepared to defend it. But they were few. Swiftly Jeff placed his men behind the bunkhouse and the mess shack and harness shed and stable. The house was quickly surrounded and the men who had surrendered were hurried down the slope and out of range, on foot and guarded by Tombsone and several men. Once the defenders were definitely penned in the house, Jeff dispatched riders to watch the passages into the hills and prevent the return of cattle.

The siege of the fortress which was the Star ranch house had begun. Victory for the Double-D was now assured.

The chuck wagon had followed them up the valley and the cook again prepared a big supper. Jeff fed his men in shifts, gave the Star deserters a good meal and offered to set them free and pay them a month's wages if they promised to leave that part of the country and take no further part in the war. It was a generous offer and they accepted it gratefully. He gave them their horses and weapons and paid them from the money he had saved to start his own ranch, intending to collect it later from Diana. John Starr's force was now reduced to its original number of ten, several of whom had been wounded.

The night passed uneventfully and shortly after breakfast the next morning Ruth Starr came out of the ranch house. She was bareheaded and her bronze curls shone in the early sunlight. She stooped and defiant on the gallery and said, "I want to talk to Jeff Payne."

Jeff came from his place of concealment and she watched his approach with stony face. When he had reached the foot of the low steps he halted and took off his hat. She said, "We can't stay in the house indefinitely. We must look after our stock and save what we can. What are your terms?" "Your people burned the Double D buildings, so Mrs. Denton must have yours in return. You are also responsible for the murder of her husband, so you must leave the valley."

He saw the hazel eyes flame and the color rise in her cheeks. "I told you we didn't kill Dan Denton. I told you your cattle were taken by Shag Dolan; now I tell you that the buildings were burned by Shag Dolan on his own responsibility and without consulting us."

"It's rather a coincidence, isn't it? That the buildings were fired and we were drawn away just at the right time for you to start your stampede."

"We'd already planned the stampede." She made a weary gesture. "Oh, it's no use talking to you. You're blind, utterly blind." She paused, catching her lip with her teeth, blinking back the tears.

"Dad's wounded and we have several more inside who can't ride. We must have some sort of wagon to get them away."

"We're not thieves," he told her stiffly. "Any stock and equipment on the spread is still yours, and you can take anything you want from the house."

She did not thank him; just turned and went back into the house.

Ed Keever and his men came out, walking stiffly and looking neither to right nor to left. They got horses and a light wagon was placed in its bed and the wounded laid on them. The able men mounted and sat their saddles waiting. Ruth Starr came out. She had a valise which Jeff supposed contained clothing and she carried a black kitten. She held her head high and her face was deathly white. She put the valise into the wagon then, the kitten still cuddled in her arm, got on her pony and the whole little cavalcade moved slowly from the yard.

Yanks May Never Again Get Chance To Dicker For Fain

By CARL LUNDQUIST
United Press Sports Writer

That fancy price tag the Athletics have put on fancy-fielding Ferris Fain must be up a pretty penny today but the Yankees may never want to see him again, even as a team mate, after the way he treated them.

The Yanks have been dicker for Fain in a deal that might put them in another World Series, but in the meantime he is acting like a guy who would like to keep them out of it.

Fain, an ever-hustling smoothie with a chronic loser, has been one of the most sought after players in the majors but the Athletics have turned down deal after deal for the handsome lefty first baseman from San Antonio. Those deals they didn't make, plus one they completed for Gus Zernial, enabled them to take both ends of a double header from the Yankees yesterday 5 to 4 and 9 to 6.

Fain had a terrific day at bat, getting six hits in eight times up, including a triple and two doubles to boost his average to .384. Zernial, the slugger who came from the White Sox, got four hits, including a pair of second game homers. Fain batted in five runs for the day and Zernial four. In the opener, Dave Philley, the other outfielder who came from the Sox, also drove in a run so the A's looked like sharp bargainers—at least for one day.

Alex Kellner, biggest loser in the majors last season with 20 defeats, won his third game against a lone loss thus far for the A's in the opener with help from Carl Scheib. Morris Martin, an ex-Dodger picked up in the player draft, won the nightcap in relief. The second game was cut to eight innings because of the Pennsylvania curfew.

In other American League games, the Browns defeated Detroit, 13 to 10, then lost 5 to 3, while Cleveland rubbed Chicago 11 to 2 and battled to a 4-4 tie in the 10-inning second game, called to permit the Indians to catch a train. The Red Sox topped Washington, 10 to 1.

Brooklyn moved into first place in the National League by outslugging Boston, 12 to 6, while the Giants pushed last year's champion Phillies into seventh place by topping them 11 to 2 and 4 to 2. The Reds twice defeated the Cardinals, 7 to 2 and 6 to 3 and the Pirates beat Chicago, 2 to 1, then lost, 6 to 0.

Bob Feller, moving along toward one of his best seasons, won his fourth straight game for the Indians, an eight-hitter, in which Al Rosen supplied a grand slam homer. Rosen also hit a two run homer in the second game. Cleveland appeared to have that won, too, but after scoring three runs in the 10th, they were wiped out when Chicago had no time to bat.

Ned Garver, though hit brutally in the late innings, stuck it out to win his fourth victory for the Browns in the opener. Ted Gray came back to pitch steady eight-hit ball and win his first game of the year for the Tigers in the second contest. Vic Weritz homered in each for the Tigers.

Mel Parnell received home run support from Vern Stephens and Ted Williams to make his chore of beating the Senators an easy one. Stephens and Williams each batted in three runs.

After spotting the Braves a 6 to 0 lead in two innings, the Dodgers burst loose against right hander Max Surkont, who was seeking his fifth victory, and won going away. Carl Furillo hit a three run homer off reliever Dick Cole in the sixth to salt away the triumph.

The Giants made it 10 victories in 13 games in a long home stand.

With affluence has come a slight touch of dignity that threatens to undermine the charm that was Yogi Berra's on his way up with the Yankees. It may not be serious, but it is definitely a sign. Yogi doesn't care for stories that portray him, as he put it, as a "dope". And what's even more important, his wife doesn't like them. Time was when Berra was delighted to see anything concerning himself in print and didn't question whether or not it was complimentary.

The Yankees' Nature Boy is anything but a "dope", especially where baseball is concerned. Right now, Yogi is the best catcher in the American League. He has climbed from a $5,000 player to $30,000 in a few years. He's the highest paid catcher in Yankee history. Even the great Bill Dickey never matched Yogi's current paycheck.

It was a lucky day for Berra when Manager Casey Stengel signed Bill Dickey as one of his coaches. One of the first things Stengel did was to place Berra in Dickey's capable hands. Bill coached and polished Yogi, corrected his throwing faults and showed him how to trap low pitches. In short, made a great catcher out of him. The Yogi Berra of the 1950 world series against the Phillies was a far cry from the befuddled behind the plate in the 1947 series with the Dodgers.

Robins Drop Two Weekend Games

By BERT MOYF
Manager John Strea's Greenville Robins dropped both of their weekend contests, losing to the Kinston Eagles Saturday night at the local park by a 9-3 score and then dropping their Sunday afternoon game to the Roanoke Rapids Jays over in Simmons Park by an 8-3 score.

Saturday's Game
Righthander Alex Zych registered his third victory with a six-hit effort and the Kinston Eagles posted their ninth win in 10 games as they beat the Robins 9-3.

The Robins took the lead at 3-1 in the second frame when they pushed across three markers on singles by Strea, Dunlavey and Braun with the aid of a walk, but only held on to it until the fourth frame when the Eagles put together three doubles by Tom Horton, Tom Dulmage and Bob Moran during a three-run fourth inning in which they took the lead for keeps. Moran moved around to score on fly balls off the bats of R. W. Hepler and Dean Dosch.

Pete Braun went the distance for the Robins and received credit for the loss, his second of the season. He has one win. He gave up a total of nine hits, which included four doubles, a triple and a homer.

Score by innings:
Kinston 100 302 102-9 9 0
Greenville 030 000 000-3 6 2
Zych and Roedel; Braun and Celardo.

Sunday's Game
Marcus Job, rookie righthander, did a neat job of scattering 11 hits while striking out 13 Robins to register his second straight win for the Jays over in Roanoke Rapids yesterday afternoon, while his teammates mauled Bobby Harrison for 18 hits and an 8-3 win. The loss for Harrison was his second of the current season and the loss for the Robins was their fourth straight in as many contests.

The Robins took a lead of 2-1 after two innings of play by scoring singletons in the first and second frames, while holding the Jays to one run in the first frame. The Jays came back in the third frame to knot the count at two-all, and went ahead for keeps in the fourth frame on a singleton but Manager Smut Aderholt's homer over the right centerfield wall in the fifth inning with none on provided the winning run.

The two teams will meet here in the second game of the series at 7:45 o'clock tonight at Guy Smith Stadium with Johnny Kovalchick (0-2) slated to start on the mound for the Robins.

Score by innings:
Greenville 110 001 000-3 11 1
Roa. Rapids 101 113 01x-8 16 3
Harrison, Braun (9) and Celardo; Job and Horne.

Braves, Browns Swap Pitchers

BOSTON —(UP)— The Boston Braves and St. Louis Browns swapped right-handed pitchers today in a waiver deal—the Braves giving up Bob Hogue in exchange for Sid Schacht.

Major Leagues Rush For Meeting Player Deadline

NEW YORK — (AP) — Business picked up on the nation's railroads today as major league clubs began shuffling players around to meet the 25-man roster limit before Wednesday's deadline.

The St. Louis Browns quickly got down to the right size by getting rid of three hirelings and adding another. This shuffling put them right on the dot at 25.

The Browns sold Pitcher Sid Schacht to the Boston Braves, shipped Pitcher Porocipio Herrera to San Antonio on option and sent Infielder Joe Lutz to San Antonio on a conditional basis.

At the same time the Browns picked up Pitcher Bob Hogue on waivers from the Braves.

The Detroit Tigers cut three players from the roster before leaving St. Louis for their first eastern swing.

The Tigers sold Pitcher Paul Calvert outright to Seattle of the Pacific Coast League. They sent Pitchers Wayne McLeland and

UNC Net Team Adds To Honors

DAVIDSON —(AP)—The University of North Carolina's tennis squad has captured the Southern Conference singles and doubles championships, to go along with the regular season crown.

Buddy Agar, an ex-Harvard player, grabbed the singles championship at the circuit's annual tournament here Saturday, and then teamed with Bob Luxenberg to grao the doubles crown.

Agar, the tournament's seventh-seeded player, defeated teammate Del Sylvia in straight sets, 6-0, 6-2, and 6-0. He thus regained the Tar Heel squad's top ranking, an honor given Sylvia in mid-season.

Looking To Urzetta To Win British Amateur

BIRKDALE, Eng. —(UP)— Sam Urzetta, the "forgotten champion" who sparked the United States Walker Cup golf team to a 6 to 3 triumph over Britain, had a lot of folks predicting today that he'll go on to win the British Amateur championship.

And the prophets included, besides his awe-struck teammates, a host of British fans who found his good sportsmanship and modesty on a par with his golfing wizardry.

"He has a great chance to win the amateur," said teammate Charlie Coe. "Sam is one of the greatest players I have ever met."

And the Yank who currently holds the British title—muscular millionaire Frank Stranahan—agreed heartily with Coe.

"And I should know," added Stranahan ruefully in remembrance of his 39-hole defeat at the hands of Urzetta in the final round of the 1950 U. S. Amateur last August.

"The trouble with that guy," said Walker Cup Captain Willie Turnesa, "is his modesty. I know he is underrated both here and in the United States, but for my money he is one of the world's best amateur and will be the best in a few years."

There's no doubt that the smiling, 25-year-old star from Rochester, N.Y., was vastly underrated at the start of the Walker Cup matches. Though he wore the mantle of U. S. champion, he was generally ignored by experts who looked to the veterans Turnesa, Stranahan, and Dick Chapman of Pinehurst, N.C., as the top members of the U. S. team.

But, as it turned out, Urzetta and Chapman were the only U. S. players who scored singles victories and also had a hand in a four-stroke victory.

Red Devils Eke 2-1 Win In Hurling Duel

FARMVILLE—The Red Devils of Farmville high school eked out a 2 to 1 victory over the visiting Walstonburg nine here Saturday night in a pitchers' duel.

Pitcher Mole Webb did the mound chores for the Red Devils and got credit for the win as he struck out 13 men, walked one and gave up five hits. Pitcher Carroll Owens went the distance for the Walstonburg team and fanned eight Farmville batters, gave up three hits and walked in four runs.

Farmville got the ball rolling in the second inning when Centerfielder Bobby Nichols swatted a double to be followed by consecutive walks issued to Jesse Spencer, Wayne Taylor and Sigbee Dilda. Dilda's walk forced Nichols home and gave Farmville a short-lived 1-0 lead.

In the top of the third Hassell drove a double into left for Walstonburg and scored on a single by his teammate, Wesley Cobb.

Farmville bounced back in the last half of the third as First Baseman Roy Vick banged a triple into left and came home when Catcher Bill Oakley connected for a sharp single to left.

From then on things settled down to pretty much a battle between the two pitchers with neither team able to bring a runner down the scoring stretch.

The win Saturday night gave Farmville seven wins and six losses for the season. The Red Devils play host to Tarboro High School here Friday night at 7:45.

Score by innings:
Walstonburg 001 000 0-1
Farmville 011 000 x-2

Farmville Loses Split Double Bill

FARMVILLE—Farmville's Bright Belt League team lost two decisions during the weekend to Ormondsville, 7-5 Saturday and 9-3 yesterday.

In Saturday's 10-inning affair played in Ormondsville, Pitcher Garland Little pitched and batted his team to victory when he broke up the 5-5 stalemate in the tenth with a two-run homer.

And in yesterday's rout played here, Ormondsville teed off in the first inning to begin their 15-run scoring spree. Relief Pitcher Elbert Moyer came in the game in the second and after Stobbs had started, Moyer also pitched three innings of relief ball in Saturday's game, relieving Griffin in the seventh.

The Jaycee-sponsored team takes on Maclesfield next weekend in a split doubleheader. Saturday's game will be played here at 8 p.m. and the team will travel to Maclesfield for the Sunday game at 3 p.m.

Increased Speeds For Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS —(AP)— A combination of improved tires, new gear ratios and eager drivers have wiped out all previous ideas of top speeds for the two and one-half-mile Indianapolis motor speedway.

The fastest man in record-breaking 10-mile qualification runs over the weekend was Duke Nalon of Sherman Oaks, Calif., and he will start in the No. 1 spot in the 35th annual 50-mile race May 30.

The Duke and his Novi V-8 set a one-lap (2 1-2 mile) record of 137,049 miles an hour and a four-lap (10-mile) record of 136,498. Walt

Snead Forcefully Demonstrates He Is Still A Winner

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. —(AP)—Sam Snead ended with a vengeance some argument that he hadn't ever won his own golf tournament, but what's more he showed he's ready to defend his money winning title.

Snead put on a blazing finish yesterday to win the fourth annual Greenbrier Open. The dark-complected West Virginian wound up with a six-under-par 64 for a 72-hole total of 263, 17 strokes better than par.

That was four strokes ahead of Jim Ferrier of San Francisco. They started the last 18 holes tied at 199, but it wasn't until the last two holes that Ferrier could get ahead of par to stay.

Meanwhile, Snead never went over par and took off one stroke on four holes and two on another.

"I was happier to win this tournament than any other," grinned Snead after it was over and he had pocketed $3,865 for four days of play. He also won the pro-amateur section of the tourney with Paul Shields of New York with 36-hole score of 119.

Snead had been taking some needling because he hadn't been able to win the Greenbrier Open since it was inaugurated four years ago. However, he had won here in 1938 in a tournament called the White Sulphur Springs Open.

It was Snead's first tournament victory of the year. His last was in the Miami Open last December. Since then he's been hampered by a sprained left wrist and he still insists it is weak.

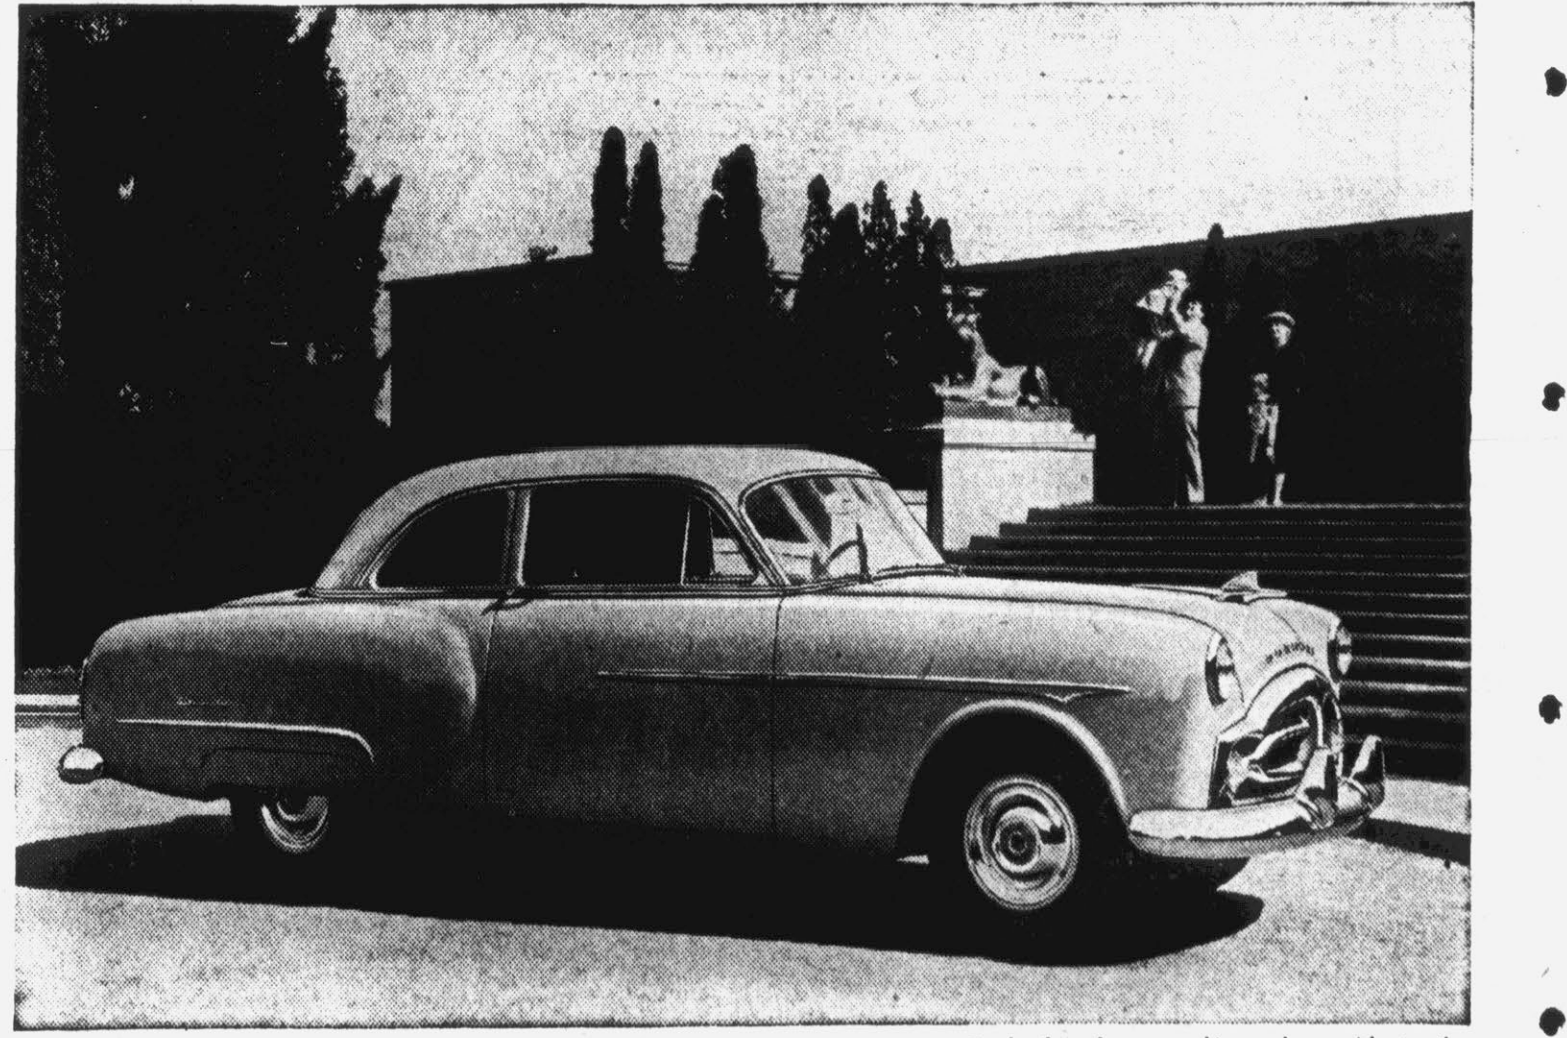

There was nothing weak about it in the Greenbrier. As usual, he was driving tremendously and his approach shots were perfection. He hit a two iron shot 225 yards to land three feet from the cup for his eagle yesterday.

Faulkner of Long Beach, Calif., set the old marks of 136.013 and 134.343, respectively, last year.

Two other drivers bettered Faulkner's records. Lee Willard of Tampa, Fla., qualified the Belanger Special at 135.039 miles an hour and Fred Agabashian of Albany, Calif., put the Granatelli Bardahl Special in the lineup at 135.029.

Thirteen cars qualified altogether on the first of three weeks ends of eliminations.

Packards are built for priceless folks...like yours!

When the folks you love are involved... you could justify the purchase of a Packard on the basis of superior safety alone.

And if you're obliged to be budget-conscious—that still needn't deprive your family of a Packard. Bear in mind that the solid quality behind Packard safety has a dollars-and-cents payoff in many ways. For example:

- Packard Thunderbolt engines give you more than trustworthy reliability that keeps you in the clear... They pay dividends with: the efficiency of
- America's highest-compression eights and the service-free simplicity of a design with up to 25% fewer working parts than in engines of comparable power!
- Packard's exclusive Ultramatic Drive gives you more than swift responsiveness, and complete control under all driving conditions. It pays dividends with: No gas-wasting slippage when cruising.
- Those are just a few highlights of the mechanical-life story behind the human-life story of this new 1951 Packard. They help explain why, of all the Packards built—in the last 52 years—over 50% are still in service!

Grow Your Own Sprouts, Potato Growers Advised

J. W. SUMNER
Assistant County Agent
The sweet potato growers often ask themselves if it is cheaper to buy sprouts or grow their own. The question can be answered by realizing that the commercial sprout grower is not in the game for fun, but to make a profit. Therefore, it is easy to see a farmer should grow his own from the money angle.

Busy Weekend For Greenville Police; Numerous Arrests

Police arrested Leroy Tatum, 18-year-old colored youth, Saturday night on the charge of assaulting with a deadly weapon (a knife) Lilly May Joyner, colored.
Officers arrested Virgil Robertson, 26, colored, Saturday on the charge of possession of non-tax-paid whiskey.
Police had another call Saturday night when they arrested Charley Hines, 18-year-old colored youth, on the charge of assault with a deadly weapon (a bottle) on Leroy Bell, colored, during an altercation at the Paradise Cafe, Albemarle Avenue.
This weekend was eventful in many ways for the Greenville police. The past two weekends were quiet affairs. But Saturday evening calls and complaints started going into police headquarters. The reports ranged all the way from a car blocking some householder's driveway to assaults with deadly weapons and a hit-and-run collision.

Royall Changes Opinion On War

NEW YORK — (UP)— Former Army Secretary Kenneth C. Royall says he once agreed with Gen. Douglas MacArthur's proposal to bomb Chinese bases in Manchuria but has changed his mind.
Royall said yesterday that testimony in the current Senate investigation made him change his opinion.

"There is more danger of war from bombing the Manchurian bases than I first thought," Royall said.
But he said the controversy between MacArthur and the administration had benefited the nation for three reasons.

1. "It put the potential enemy on notice that the American people are strongly against any appeasement."
2. "It will have a helpful effect on the nation's allies and 'it already has had some effect on the China blockade.'"
3. "It killed any appreciable isolationist sentiment in the United States."

Begin Measuring Of County Crops

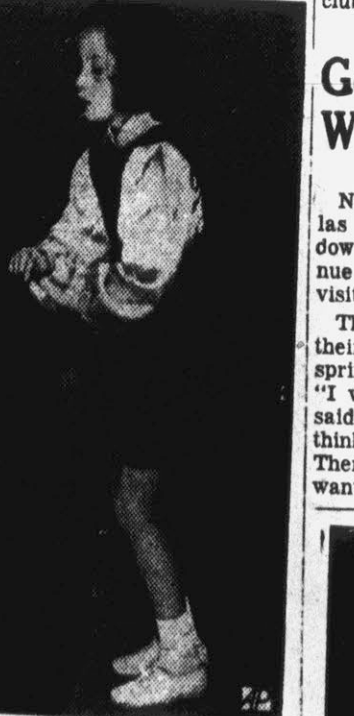

Crop reporters from the county's Production and Marketing Administration office began their annual measuring and estimation of crops today.
Only two crops this year have acreage controls—tobacco and peanuts—as compared with last year's measuring of cotton, tobacco and peanuts. However, cotton and potatoes will be estimated this year.
Between 75 and 80 men will be employed to do the job during the next month and a half, PMA Secretary James Meredith stated. The job must be completed by June 30, he stated.
The estimation of cotton and potato acreage is for two reasons, Meredith said. The county committee wants to know whether or not farmers are planting enough cotton to meet national defense requirements. And controls may be placed on potatoes next year which would necessitate a report of the acres grown this year, he stated.

C-Of-C Board Meets Tonight

Directors of the Greenville Chamber of Commerce will meet tonight at 8 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce offices.
On the agenda for discussion at the meeting are the proposed interconnection agreement between the Greenville utilities and the Virginia Electric Power company, the report of the agricultural committee on specific projects for this year, and a report by the transportation committee on the conference on freight rates and freight refunds which was held here recently.
President F. Badger Johnson will preside at the meeting.

Education Board Considers Bid

The Pitt County Board of Education had a call meeting on Friday afternoon to consider the heating bid of C. E. Williams on Fountain and Arthur plumbing.
The original bid made by Williams Plumbing Company was $9074 but deductions of $150 for a water tap

Kiwanians Will Go To Farmville For Supper Meet

The Greenville and Farmville Kiwanis Clubs will have a joint supper meeting at the Farmville High School Cafeteria tonight at 7 o'clock. Members of the Greenville club will meet at Glenn Scott's Service Station, Third and Cotanche streets, this evening at 6:15. About 60 Kiwanians are expected to go.
Football Coach Bill Dole, who is chairman of the Kiwanis Inter-Club Relations Committee, will have charge of the program. Charles S. Edwards, president of the Farmville club, will preside.
The Farmville Kiwanians are expected to attend an inter-club Kiwanis meeting with the Greenville club early in June.

General's Wife Window Wishing

NEW YORK — (UP)—Mrs. Douglas MacArthur has started "window wishing" in front of Fifth Avenue shops like most New York visitors.
The general's wife strolled from their hotel to take a look at the spring displays.
"I was just window wishing," she said. "It will require a lot more thinking before I actually buy. There are so many things I want."

their Korean bases and the front lines in efforts to knock the expected communist offensive off balance.
Allied warships off the East Coast joined the assault with an around-the-clock attack of their own. They pumped 1,300 shells into communist targets Sunday.
The Allies continued to send patrols stalling into the communist buildup area north of Munsan, 21 miles above Seoul.
The patrols were unable to penetrate into the reds' rear areas to find out what was going on. Communist screening units fought them off.
But one Chinese company north northeast of Uijongbu ran into an Allied trap set by a tank-infantry patrol. The enemy company was decimated.
On the west-central front a strong American tank-infantry force fought a sharp battle with several companies of Chinese communists in the Tabor valley northwest of Changgong.

ly, give military aid and comfort. Every assistance thus rendered provides more enemy bullets to be shot at our boys on the battlefield.
Both world wars provided concrete illustrations of what stoppage of supplies can mean to a nation. Twice Germany came within an ace of knocking out England and winning the conflicts through cutting Britain off from supplies by submarine blockade. An embargo on shipments is in effect a blockade.
Of course the inauguration of an all-out embargo against enemy states is easier said than achieved in view of the diversity of interests among the many U. N. nations concerned. Necessity, fear and cupidity all are involved.
However, an air-tight embargo by the major democracies would go far towards solving the difficulty. They are the ones with the greatest resources.
