Head Of General Assembly Delays Talk With Malik

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — (UP)—Nasrallah Entezam, President of the United Nations General Assembly, today postponed for one day a momentous conference with Russia's chief delegate, Jacob A. Malik, which may determine whether Korean peace can be achieved now.

Entezam, who is Iran's ambassador to the United States, planned to see Malik tomorrow when the General Assembly meets in special session to hear President Galt Plaza Lasso of Ecuador.

The Iranian ambassador, whose third current role in world diplomacy is that of chairman of the U.N.'s good offices committee, was tied up in Washington in the troublesome Persian oil crisis, which some observers believed may lead to the next clash between International Communism and the Democratic West.

Informed sources said Entezam decided to delay his departure from Washington until late tonight, in order to clean up details of his work there and then devote all his time to the peace offer made by Malik last Saturday when he called for a cease-fire and withdrawal of troops from the 38th Parallel.

Air General Says Planning 'Shelved'

Thinks Overriding Diplomatic And Political Considerations Blocked Mighty Air Blow Early In Korean War

WASHINGTON — (UP)— Maj. Gen. Emmett O'Donnell, Air Force bombing expert, thinks an "overriding political or diplomatic consideration" blocked his plan to hit North Korea a smashing air blow early in the war.

Testifying before the Senate MacArthur investigating committee, O'Donnell first said the plan was dropped when his B-29 bombers had to be used for close support of hard-pressed ground troops. But later he said:

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON — (UP)— Maj. Gen. Emmett O'Donnell said today that the nation's big bombers should be saved for "the Sunday punch against Russia," so they could deliver "the most horrible destructive single blow in the event of war with the Soviet."

"I think it was an overriding political or diplomatic consideration. I don't know. I am (at that time) the bomber commander out there and I get word from General Stratemeyer who said no, not at this time."

O'Donnell testified that he took the bombers to the Far East with the idea that Gen. Douglas MacArthur could demand that the North Korean Communists quit the war or suffer a "burning" of their five major cities and "complete" destruction of about 18 major strategic targets.

In other testimony, O'Donnell said:

WASHINGTON — (UP)—The national emergency means that many people "will have to put off hopes for the kind of housing they want and need," President Truman said today.

The President made a strong new plea for his public housing program and slammed at "selfish interests" he said were trying to destroy the program.

In a letter to the 20th annual meeting of the National Housing Conference, Mr. Truman said "our first necessity" is to "hold back inflation and build up our military strength."

"That calls for some real sacrifices by us all, and means that many people have to put off hopes for the kind of housing they want and need," Mr. Truman added.

Mr. Truman said "selfish interests" have been "urging action in the name of defense that would in effect destroy the public housing program."

"They would force us to neglect most," the president said. "They have always fought our public housing program for the worst-housed, and have never ceased their organized campaign to misrepresent it and confuse the public."

The program, passed in 1949, calls for construction of 135,000 units yearly for low-income families. The president cut back the number of new houses to 75,000 in the 1951 budget because of shortages of materials.

WASHINGTON — (UP)— Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis.) said today he has received adverse information from "several sources" on the nomination of New York Police Commissioner Thomas Murphy to be a federal judge. But he did not reveal the nature of the charges.

Wiley has temporarily blocked Senate confirmation of Murphy's nomination although he is a member of the Senate Judiciary Committee which approved the nomination without dissent. He said he received most of the information after the committee had acted.

First Drowning Of Year In Pitt

Body Of Aged Negro Recovered From Tar Sunday Afternoon

BRUCE—A 60-year-old Negro was drowned at Sunny Bluff on Tar river here yesterday shortly after noon.

Chas. M. Byrnes, 66 who lived on the Fred Haddock farm near Bell's Fork, became Pitt County's first 1951 drowning victim this summer.

According to information released by Deputy Sheriff Jasper Lee Mills and Detective L. M. E. Corbett of the Greenville Police Department, who investigated the drowning, the man left to go fishing with two young Negro boys.

One of the boys, Milton Cox, 17, grandson of the dead man, told officers that he and Charlie Lewis, 13, were fishing, when the old man decided to go swimming.

He entered the water, staying near shore, then moved out some distance, and suddenly appeared to get a cramp and passed under the water, Cox stated.

The man's body was found some 50 yards from the spot he went down, about three hours later. His body was discovered by Edward Winham around 3:15. Officers placed the time of the drowning at 12:15.

Coroner Griffin H. Rouse said that no inquest will be held into the death.

Relations With Iran Worsening

TEHRAN — (UP)—Iran has fired the British manager of one national oil plant and has accused another of sabotage, informed British sources said today.

The worsening Anglo-Iranian oil crisis brought an announcement in Singapore that four U. S. destroyers will leave there ahead of schedule today for the Persian Gulf opposite the disputed oil fields to "show the flag."

British sources said Iranian directors of the Iran National Oil Co. discharged Derick Hobson, manager of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. plant at Kermanshah, on grounds he was not cooperative.

These sources said the Iranian directors also wrote Eric Drake, manager of the big Abadan refinery, accusing him of sabotage on grounds he prevented the export of oil by refusing to sign documents.

The Iran company is taking over installations of the British-owned firm under a new nationalization law.

The letter to Drake gave him until Thursday to decide whether he will continue to manage the Abadan plant and whether he will cancel the leaves of the British staff.

The port of Abadan was clogging up with shipping because of the refusal of skippers to sign receipts to the National Oil Co. acknowledging its ownership of the oil they load.

Then the democracies realized that a dictator, no matter whether he wears a brown, black or red shirt, is never satisfied if you allow him to nibble the food. He wants to eat everything on the table.

There are signs that Stalin bit off more than he can chew in Korea. Over the weekend Jacob Malik, Russian delegate to the United Nations, made a speech indicating there might be some basis for settling the Korean war.

Allied Army In Korea Uses Rifle Butts And Bayonets

Fiercely Fight Aggressive Red Patrols On First Anniversary Of Korean War; Capture Hill, But Lines Generally Fixed

TOKYO, Tuesday — (UP)—United Nations troops battled the Communists with rifle butt and bayonet Monday, the first anniversary of the Korean war, while their governments talked of a cease-fire.

The Reds started fighting fiercely and sent some patrols aggressively into the allied lines. There was a continued buildup of Communist troops on part of the eastern front. But there was no sign of the often-predicted anniversary offensive.

The U. N. forces marked the anniversary by recapturing a key height and destroying their 13th Communist plane in nine days.

Hand-to-hand fighting raged in several sectors of the 100-mile ground front. There was no sign of slackening of the battle despite Russia's proposal for a cease-fire.

An 8th Army communique tonight disclosed that Allied troops had swarmed again to the crest of a strategic hill south of Kumsong, 20 miles above the 38th parallel, against "moderate resistance."

The Reds had fought bitterly for the hill until today. It changed hands twice yesterday in fierce close-quarter fighting.

The Allies also stormed a hill just south of Ponggang, 17 miles west of Kumsong, with bayonets and grenades in an attempt to wrest them off it yesterday.

A Communist counter-attack northeast of Yangu on the eastern front forced a U. N. patrol to withdraw.

The air war blazed anew, too, and the U. S. 5th Air Force shot down in flames its 13th Communist plane in nine days, during a 10-minute dogfight between 27 American F-86 Sabrejets and 30 Soviet-built MIG-15 jets along the Yalu River.

The 8th Army began the second year of the Korean war under a new commander, Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet to "carry on as usual" despite peace rumors.

It was determined to make the second year—if the war continues that long—more costly for the Reds. An estimated 1,162,500 Communist troops have been killed, wounded or captured during the past year, while Allied casualties are put at 332,500.

In addition, nearly 500,000 South Korean civilians have been killed or wounded, or are missing.

world is fighting in behalf of an idea and is doing it on a faraway Asian peninsula without expectation of any reward except preservation of the principle that aggression must be stopped.

It was not entirely a sudden surge of idealism that caused the U. N. Army to rush to the defense of South Korea. Rather it was the bitter lesson that America, France, Britain and the others learned not so long ago.

Turn the clock back to 1935 when other small nation, Mussolini's another dictator was menacing and had his eye on Ethiopia and Hitler had his eye on Mussolini. There was a world organization in existence then, too—the League of Nations. But when Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia appealed to the League to protect him, nothing happened.

One aggression led to another. Mussolini got away with Ethiopia and Hitler began playing for bigger stakes. The Italian and German dictators teamed up to make the Spanish Civil War a testing ground for their new weapons. That road led straight to Munich and World War II.

Search Turns Up No Illicit Items

Whiskey, Gambling Devices Sought By Police In Cafe

Greenville Police searched the Paradise Cafe, 605 Albemarle avenue, Friday, for gambling paraphernalia and non-tax paid whiskey, after it was reported that the place was to be stored there.

The law enforcement officers failed to find anything illegal on the premises.

The search warrant was sworn out on "information and belief," Chief Guy C. Langston stated. "When the public gives us information that laws are being violated, it is our job to investigate and proceed accordingly," he added. "We are giving our careful attention to reports turned in to us by reliable citizens about law violations. That's our job. Policing means to maintain law and order, and we would much rather preserve law and order than to have to prosecute persons who violate laws."

Referring to the search warrant for the Paradise Cafe, the chief said when the warrant was written it was on "information and belief" that Sylvester Wilson, at Paradise Cafe, had in his possession at 605 Albemarle avenue, a quantity of non-tax paid whiskey for purpose of sale and gambling devices, to-wit: pinball machines, slot machines and punch machines concealed on his premises.

Senate Cites 3 Chicagoans On Contempt Charge

WASHINGTON — AP3—The Senate today cited George S. May, head of the Tam O'Shanter Country Club of Chicago, and two alleged members of the revived Capone gang on charges of contempt of Congress.

In addition to May, the others cited are Rocco Fischetti and Murray L. (The Camel) Humphreys, both of Chicago.

The Senate acted without debate and by unanimous vote, on motion of Senator O'Connor (D-Md.), chairman of the Senate Crime Investigating committee.

The citations now go to the Justice Department, for possible prosecution. Contempt of Congress is punishable by up to a year in jail and a $1,000 fine.

WASHINGTON — (UP)—The Senate today passed a bill to ban any price rollbacks both past and future on all items.

President Truman made a last-minute plea to both houses Saturday. He said their controls measures are "extremely dangerous" and "an invitation to disaster."

But the president's appeal was expected to change few votes. Whereas Mr. Truman had asked for a two-year extension of the act, the senate bill provides only eight months and the house one year.

The biggest Senate fights shaped up over rent controls and a provision to ban any price rollbacks below Jan.-Feb. 1951, levels. The latter in effect would knock out two scheduled beef price rollbacks.

Both the House and Senate bills authorize rent rises up to 20 percent over June 30, 1947 levels plus "hardship" increases granted landlords.

Debate Opens On Economy Control

Senate Takes Up Administration Headache Program

WASHINGTON — (UP)—The Senate prepared to open noisy debate today on controls legislation with embattled administration supporters getting new headaches from farm state congressmen.

The Defense Production Act, which contains the wage-price rent controls, expires Saturday. House debate on the watered-down measure begins Wednesday.

A seen likely to keep the act from short temporary extension was being before the debate and votes are completed.

Backers of stronger controls proposals, already facing an uphill fight, were threatened with a House effort to put further limits on farm price controls.

Leaders of a bipartisan farm group in the house said they had a "good chance" of getting Congress to adopt an amendment killing price rollbacks both past and future on all items.

President Truman made a last-minute plea to both houses Saturday. He said their controls measures are "extremely dangerous" and "an invitation to disaster."

Unknown Red Fired Shot Heard 'Round The World In Korea, '50

By HARRY FERGUSON
United Press Foreign News Editor

One year ago today at 5 o'clock in the morning a North Korean Communist soldier whose name is forever lost to history pressed a trigger. The poem says the embattled farmers at Concord Bridge in the American Revolution fired the shot heard round the world, but you can put that down as poetic license. The one that really was heard around the world was fired by the unknown North Korean.

Things began to happen that never happened before—things some persons had predicted never could happen. For the first time in history a world organization formally voted to go to war in defense of a principle. The United Nations took a stand against aggression, not only with words but with deeds.

Weapons change, but the essential nature and cause of war have remained the same over the years. Nations fight one another either to gain territory from somebody else or to preserve their own.

What sets the Korean war apart from all others is that the free world is fighting in behalf of an idea and is doing it on a faraway Asian peninsula without expectation of any reward except preservation of the principle that aggression must be stopped.

It was not entirely a sudden surge of idealism that caused the U. N. Army to rush to the defense of South Korea. Rather it was the bitter lesson that America, France, Britain and the others learned not so long ago.

Turn the clock back to 1935 when other small nation, Mussolini's another dictator was menacing and had his eye on Ethiopia and Hitler had his eye on Mussolini. There was a world organization in existence then, too—the League of Nations. But when Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia appealed to the League to protect him, nothing happened.

One aggression led to another. Mussolini got away with Ethiopia and Hitler began playing for bigger stakes. The Italian and German dictators teamed up to make the Spanish Civil War a testing ground for their new weapons. That road led straight to Munich and World War II.

Then the democracies realized that a dictator, no matter whether he wears a brown, black or red shirt, is never satisfied if you allow him to nibble the food. He wants to eat everything on the table.

There are signs that Stalin bit off more than he can chew in Korea. Over the weekend Jacob Malik, Russian delegate to the United Nations, made a speech indicating there might be some basis for settling the Korean war.

Nothing may come of it but it is the first time any top-level Communist has talked about doing anything except driving the United Nations troops into the sea and hoisting the hammer and sickle flag over all of Korea. Neither Malik nor any other Communist goes around making conciliatory speeches without clearing them with the Kremlin.

The most optimistic view that could be taken is that there may be a negotiated settlement of the war. That, in turn, might bring to a weary world what Chamberlain so mistakenly thought he had won at Munich—peace in our time.

Prosecution Winds Up Its Case Against Archbishop

BUDAPEST — (UP)—The prosecution completed its case today against Roman Catholic Archbishop Josef Groesz and eight co-defendants after a parade of witnesses testified against the accused and also incriminated themselves.

The defendants are charged with various crimes, including plotting to overthrow the Communist government.

Of the total of 24 witnesses, 23 are themselves under arrest.

Some witnesses told of giving information to the American legation, among other things, and several said they belonged to a group which organized the killing of Russian occupation soldiers.

Find Opposition Count Goes Up

WASHINGTON — (UP)— Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis.) said today he has received adverse information from "several sources" on the nomination of New York Police Commissioner Thomas Murphy to be a federal judge. But he did not reveal the nature of the charges.

Wiley has temporarily blocked Senate confirmation of Murphy's nomination although he is a member of the Senate Judiciary Committee which approved the nomination without dissent. He said he received most of the information after the committee had acted.

The only witness who is not under arrest was an aged peasant who said that his 13-year-old son was killed by a pitchfork which one defendant put in the pond of a Catholic religious institution to keep children from swimming there.

The trial of the nine defendants, headed by Archbishop Groesz, started Friday. Defense and prosecution attorneys are expected to make their final arguments tomorrow and the sentences of the "people's court" are expected Thursday after a one-day recess.

The prosecution called its witnesses after the defendants pleaded guilty in detail Friday and Saturday.

President Answers Malik Proposal By Saying Terms In Korea Must End The Aggression And Restore Peace And Security; No Specific Mention Of What Measures U. S. Would Consider 'Adequate'

TULSAHOMA, Tenn. — (UP)—President Truman declared today that any settlement in Korea "must be a real settlement which fully ends the aggression and restores peace and security to the area."

The door is open for negotiations that will get that result, the President said in obvious reply to Saturday's cease-fire proposal by the Soviet UN delegate, Jacob A. Malik.

"But," he warned, "we must avoid like the plague rash actions which take unnecessary risks of world war or weak actions which would reward aggression."

In a major speech here on the first anniversary of the Korean War, Mr. Truman also:

Red China Backs Malik Proposal

Peiping Radio Says Gov't In Accord With Cease-Fire

By UNITED PRESS

Red China joined Russia today in proposing a cease-fire in Korea. First comment from Communist China on the proposal of Russia's Jacob Malik was contained in a broadcast by the Peiping radio. It quoted the Chinese communist newspaper Peoples Daily News as saying:

"The Chinese people fully support the Malik offer."

"Whatever American reply will be made will be a test of the American attitude, and whether the Americans have learned from their experience and also whether the Americans really desire a peaceful solution."

The president of the U. N. General Assembly said he will confer with Malik tomorrow at New York.

In London, Foreign Minister Herbert Morrison told Commons that the government is "actively studying" means to follow up the offer. But he warned against undue optimism.

England's diplomats in Washington were instructed to start talking to other "interested parties" about the bid.

The prime question asked by the West was: Is this a bona fide peace offer or just a propaganda move?

French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman said in Paris that Malik's proposal would provide a basis for peace negotiations and that the

An afternoon session at 3 o'clock will present Dr. Backus in a discussion of "Speech Correction in the Public Schools."

Speakers from East Carolina College will appear on Monday morning's program include President John D. Messick, Dean Leo W. Jenkins, and Dr. Robert Holt, director of religious activities.

Events of Monday will include also a business meeting at 11 a. m. of the East Carolina Chapter of the International Council for the Education of Exceptional Children. Officers who will be present are Mr. Barker, regional director; Mrs.

Perkins, chapter president; and Mrs. Ruth P. Boettcher of Snow Hill, secretary. Monday evening, participants in the conference will be special guests at a reception at the home of President and Mrs. Messick.

Dr. Erwin will speak Tuesday morning at a meeting beginning at 9 o'clock on "The Philosophy of Special Education" and will talk also at a luncheon at noon in the North Dining Hall on "Mental Health Is a Family Affair." Other speakers for Tuesday morning and their topics are Dr. Mark Kary of the State Teachers College, Patterson, N. J., "A Plan for Special Education in Public Schools;" and Miss Hill, "Hearing, A Community Affair." Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock Phyllis Lundeen, speech correctionist and hearing consultant, Knox County, Tenn., visiting faculty member at East Carolina this summer, will discuss "Understanding the Problems of the Cerebral Palsied."

2. Declared "It's time (the) smear campaign was stopped" against this country's military and diplomatic leaders. Political opponents couldn't win "in honest political debate," he said, so they have resorted to "spreading fear and slander and lies."

In replying to Malik's cease-fire proposal, Mr. Truman did not mention him or his proposal specifically. But he obviously had them in mind when he said:

"We are ready to join in a peaceful settlement in Korea now as we always have been. But it must be a real settlement which fully ends the aggression and restores peace and security to the area and to the gallant Korean people."

"In Korea and the rest of the world we must be ready to take any steps which truly advance us toward world peace. But we must avoid like the plague rash actions which would take unnecessary risks of world war or weak actions which would reward aggression."

"We must be firm and consistent and level-headed. If we get discouraged or impatient, we can lose everything we are working for. If we carry on with faith and courage, we can succeed. And if we succeed, we will have established a firm peace for the whole world to last for years to come."

Malik proposed merely a cease-fire and a withdrawal by both sides from the 38th parallel, original dividing line between South and North Korea. This country wants to know a lot more about what the communists would propose to do after that.

Sen. Joseph O'Mahoney, D. Wyo., for instance, said an armistice at the 38th parallel without complete withdrawal of the Red Chinese from Korea would be a setback for the U. N.

Mr. Truman, on his part, said nothing specific as to what measures this country would consider adequate to "restore peace and security to the area."

But he noted that Communist forces "have been thrown back on their heels," behind the line they started from.

The President delivered his most important speech in months at the dedication of the Arnold Engineering Development Center of the Air Force where scientists will develop jet engines and guided missiles for use "on the other side of the speed of sound."

The Chief Executive said that some proponents of the "go it alone" theory in the Far East are "deliberately" attempting to "destroy the trust and confidence of the people in the government."

"They are trying to set the people against the government by spreading fear and slander and lies," he said. He listed as

Mrs. Douglas Horton, educator and church leader, is heading a movement through the United Church Women of the National Council to increase American and world relief of some 750,000 Arab refugees now homeless as a result of partition in Palestine. Too many people, she says, have been more concerned with how the Arabs became refugees than with doing anything to relieve their situation.

Then they followed an Army caisson which carried Shadrick's flag-draped casket 1 1/2 miles to the cemetery where three rounds were fired by a military honor guard.

Formal Rites Performed For Glenn-Greene Wedding

WASHINGTON—The marriage of Miss Tommie Jean Greene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Burton Winfield, to James Greene Glenn, Lieutenant, United States Army, son of Mrs. Evelyn Hodges Glenn of Greenville, N. C. and John Brodnax Glenn of Mexico City, Mexico, took place in a beautiful formal ceremony Saturday night, June 23, at 8:00 o'clock.

The marriage was solemnized in the First Baptist church with the bride's pastor, the Rev. Wistar Hamilton, officiating, using the double ring service.

Miss Gladys Alligood, church organist, presented an appropriate selection of nuptial music prior to and during the ceremony, using the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin and Mendelssohn's Wedding March as the processional and recessional.

Miss Jane Stroup of Cherryville, N. C., cousin of the bride, was soloist and sang "Entreat Me Not to Leave Thee"—Charles Gounod and "The Wedding Prayer" by Fern Dunlap.

Miss Stroup wore a formal gown of grey net over tomato taffeta. Both she and Miss Alligood wore corsages of white gardenias.

The decorations of the church were outstanding. The bride's entrance, the right aisle, was marked by full nylon illusion and satin-underskirt fell in graceful folds from the scalloped design and formed a full length court train.

The bride's chapel length veil of imported nylon illusion was attached to a halo bonnet, edged in pearls, the top tier of the veil being finished in matching design. She wore a single strand of pearls as her only ornament.

She carried an arm bouquet of white orchids, valley lilies and Bristol fairy, styled in powder puff effect with slight cascade, streamers of illusion falling below the cascade.

Miss Tavia Holdbrook of Rocky Mount, N. C. and Mrs. Thomas S. Payne, Jr., sister of the bridegroom, attended the bride as maid and matron of honor.

They wore identical gowns of delicate pink frosted organza over taffeta. The shirred strapless bodice featured tiny pink organza buttons up the front and the very full tiered skirt, edged in matching ruffles, was worn over old fashioned hoop. With their costumes the honor attendants wore organza dresses, long pink mitts and a cluster of gardenias in their hair, tinted to match their gowns.

They carried baskettes in a soft shade of blue showered with blue satin and filled with blue gardenias and other pink and blue early summer flowers.

Serving as bridesmaids were Misses: Aithy MacKenzie, Ramona Sawyer, Marion Bowen, Mary Anne Campbell, Mary Elizabeth Bowen and Lucinda Edwards. Their formal gowns in frosted organza were of the same style as the maid and matron.

Misses MacKenzie and Sawyer wore orchid and carried yellow baskettes with yellow gardenias and other pastel flowers; Misses Marion Bowen and Campbell were dressed in yellow organza and their orchid baskettes were filled with orchid gardenias and pastel garden flowers; Misses Mary Elizabeth Bowen and Edwards' dresses were of blue organza and they carried pink gardenias and pastel blooms in their pink baskettes.

Misses Anne Veasey, Joyce Currier, Penelope Bogart, Isabel Carter, Josephine Hoyt, Mary Thomas Stowe, Jane Hawk of New Bern, Betsy Winfield, Alice Ann Winfield, Mary Jo Paul and Martha Littlefield of Savannah, Ga. were honorary bridesmaids. With their formal gowns they wore white gardenias in their hair.

Thomas S. Payne, Jr. served as best man. Other groomsmen were William Greene and R. R. Stroup, brother and uncle of the bride, William A. Bowen and Joseph S. Bowen, Jr., both of Greenville, N. C., Lt. Charles N. Childers, Fort Dix, N. J., Frederick W. Best, Rocky Mount and Ralph Kabrich of Raleigh. The bridegroom's attendants wore formal blacks with boutonnieres of gardenias. The bridegroom's boutonniere was of valley lilies, in keeping with the bride's bouquet.

Mrs. Winfield chose for her daughter's wedding a striking formal gown in black and white print. She wore a small black evening hat with feather trim and a corsage of pink tinted hybrid orchids. Mrs. Glenn was attractively dressed in a formal grey gown complicated by pink accessories and pink hybrid orchids.

A reception followed the wedding at the bride's home, 404 West Main street.

Callers were met at the front entrance by Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Paschall and the hallway was picturesquely with lovely appointments of gladioli, sweet peas and hydrangea in pastel shades.

Dr. and Mrs. Zeno L. Edwards introduced the receiving line which was formed in the west drawing room.

The pink color note used in the room was especially lovely against the silver grey tone walls. The high old fashioned mantel was beautifully arranged with pink roses which were reflected in the massive mantel mirror, while a matching rose arrangement was effective on an antique side table.

A silver wine cooler filled with stately pink gladioli was used on the grand piano.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. MacKenzie invited guests into the dining room.

The bride's table was exquisite, covered in a banquet cloth of heavy white satin, the fully gathered floor-length flounce being finished with a deep hemstitched hem. At each corner of the table were godets of white gardenias, falling to the edge of the satin cloth.

Heavy silver antique five-branched candelabra were placed at each end, and the most exquisite wedding cake marked the center.

Punch bowls were placed on auxiliary tables at each side of the fireplace and were surrounded by gardenias. Mrs. L. D. Short of Norristown, Pa. and Mrs. John T. Campbell served punch during the appointed hours. The honorary bridesmaids assisted in serving decorated cake squares, salted nuts and party mints.

Individual bridegroom's cakes were placed on the tea cart for the wedding guests. The attractive small white boxes were marked by the bride and bridegroom's initials and silver wedding balls.

From the dining room guests were directed to the gift rooms where Mr. and Mrs. Weaver Linberry of Randleman and Mr. and Mrs. Giles Witherell of Philadelphia, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Graves of Pageland, S. C. and Mrs. Iva Rhyme of Washington, D. C. received and entertained.

In the East living room Queen Anne's lace, tinted in pastel shades, was used before the large mantel mirror with tapers burning at each end of the shelf in brass holders. White gladioli were used before the floor-length antique mirror and other pastel garden flowers in brass containers were placed on side tables. Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Veasey and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Winfield received in the East room.

Guests were invited to register in the bride's book by Misses Mr. Payne and Peggy Swindell. The book was showered with white satin and Bristol-fairy. Of marked interest and especially attractive was the "anniversary candle" used near the register.

The huge white candle in bridal motif burned during the reception hours, and it is traditional that it should burn on each anniversary in the years to come.

Good byes were said to Mr. and Mrs. J. Bryan Winfield and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Paul.

Following the wedding rehearsal on Friday night, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Payne, Jr. entertained the wedding party and out of town guests.

The reception took place at the Payne home at North Shores. During the rehearsal party Miss Greene remembered her wedding attendants with attractive antique after dinner cups, marked by their monograms and the wedding date, June 23. Mr. Glenn's gift to his groomsmen was leather cuff link boxes.

Later in the evening the couple left for a wedding trip. The bride changed to an attractive suit-dress in a natural shade of linen, styled with navy silk braid and navy buttons. She wore a small navy summer straw with matching veil, navy accessories and a white orchid corsage taken from her wedding bouquet.

The bride is a popular member of Washington's younger set. Since her engagement she has been entertained extensively at pre-nuptial events. She was a member of the 1951 graduating class of Woman's college, University of North Carolina, Greensboro.

Lt. Glenn attended Sewanee Military school, Sewanee, Tenn. and was graduated from Davidson college in 1950 in Business Administration and Economics. He is a member of the Kappa Alpha fraternity, Sigma chapter, and is also a member of the Scabbard and Blade, and the "D" club at Davidson. He is now serving with the United States Army, stationed at Fort Bragg, with the 505 Airborne Infantry, 23 Airborne Division.

After their wedding trip Lt. and Mrs. Glenn will be at home at 228 Green Street, Fayetteville, N. C.

Britt - Lang Vows Spoken In Ayden Christian Church

The Ayden Christian Church was the setting of a formal candlelight ceremony on Sunday, June 17, at 5 o'clock when Miss Mildred Lang, daughter of Mrs. W. H. Lang and the late Mr. Lang of Ayden, became the bride of George Elliott Britt, son of Mr. George Vandervelt Britt and the late Mrs. Britt of Clinton.

The Rev. J. A. Neilson, pastor of the Immanuel Baptist Church of Greenville, officiated at the double ring ceremony which was preceded by a program of organ music and songs presented by Miss Virginia Belle Cooper of Ayden and Mrs. Moya Dail of Greenville.

Mrs. Dail sang "Ah! Sweet Mystery of Life" by Herbert and "Because" by D. Hardelot.

Just before the entrance of the bride party, Mrs. Dail sang "I Love You Truly," and as a benediction she used "The Lord's Prayer."

Lighted candles, white gladioli, plumosa, oregon fern and huckleberry, were used to form a background around the chancel. Mr. Britt served his son as best man and the groomsmen were Eugene Lang, Ayden; Ed Britt, Clinton; Walter Murphy, Grifton; and Paul Butler, Wilmington.

Mrs. Frances Hardee, sister of the bride, attended as matron of honor. She wore a dress of orchid nylon net and taffeta with matching headpiece. The dress had a tight fitting bodice and very full skirt worn over hoops. Her bouquet was of painted daisies of various shades of orchid and tied with deeper ribbon. Attending as bridesmaids were Mary Belle Eldridge of Greenville, Mary Lou Lang of Ayden, Lucy Moore of Durham, and Mrs. Herbert Oliver of New Bern, sister of the groom.

They wore dresses of Nile green and maize nylon net and taffeta and carried bouquets like that of the matron of honor of painted daisies in various colors.

Miss Judy Butler of Wilmington, niece of the groom, dressed in pale green and carrying lavender painted daisies and Mr. Bobby Lang of Ayden, nephew of the bride, attended as junior maid and junior usher.

Little Linda Hollowell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hollowell of Greenville, dressed in pale pink marquisette, designed off the shoulder, with very full skirt caught up at intervals with pink and blue forget-me-nots, preceded the bride to the altar strewn with rose petals along the aisle from a dainty basket tied with pink and blue satin ribbon.

The bride entered the church with her brother, Robert Lang of Ayden, by whom she was given in marriage. Her wedding gown was of white Duchess satin and French bridal lace. The fitted bodice was fashioned with sheer yoke of silk illusion with round neck-line softly etched with seed pearls. The very full skirt held graduated panels of lace that extended to the hem line. Her satin seed pearl coronet had a chapel length tiered illusion veil. She carried a formal bouquet of garza mums and net centered with a white orchid. Her only ornament was a single strand of pearls, a gift from the groom.

Immediately following the wedding, Mrs. W. H. Lang entertained at a reception for the Britt-Lang wedding party, out-of-town guests, relatives and close friends at the Community Building.

The banquet hall was effectively arranged with early summer flowers featuring white and pink gladioli and madonna lilies. The refreshment table was covered with a Nile green organza cloth over white and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, flanked by crystal candelabra holding lighted candles. At each end of the table were crystal punch bowls and Mrs. Cassie Sawyer and Mrs. James Lang served punch. Assisting in serving dainty bridal cakes, nuts and decorated mints were Misses Shirley Tripp and Bobby Lynn Cox. Other receiving in the building were Mrs. Dorothy Copeland, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Walsh, Miss Evelyn Latham of Greenville; Mrs. Walter Murphy, of Grifton; and Mrs. Robert Lang of Ayden.

The bridesmaids entertained at a lovely luncheon for the wedding party and out of town guests at Respass-James Barbecue House at 1 o'clock Sunday.

Mrs. Britt graduated from the University of North Carolina and was a pharmacist at Hollowell Drug Store in Greenville. Mr. Britt received his education at Newton Grove High School and was overseas in World War II for about three years and is now connected with a firm in Clinton as a drainage engineer.

The bride chose for traveling a lovely white linen dress with navy accessories and she wore the orchid lifted from her bouquet. The bride and groom left for a wedding trip to unannounced northern points. After July 1, they will be at home at Newton Grove.

Let Kids Feel Your Home Is Also Theirs

By DAVID TAYLOR MARKE

AP Newscast Editor

Not many parents can afford large-scale entertaining for their children's friends, but all fathers and mothers can offer simple, friendly, old-fashioned hospitality.

Fortunate indeed is the child whose parents always are ready with a treat for their friends, says the National Kindergarten Association's Helen Gregg Green. Says she:

"One of my happy childhood memories, is of a chum's mother who was always ready with an after-school treat, together with our parents' permission to enjoy it. Marie's grown-up brothers would greet their sister's friends with the natural gallantry given to a pretty girl of their own age. I was neither pretty nor their age, but the young doctor and his handsome brother gave all the neighborhood children a feeling of being welcome."

Any family, she says, can occasionally have a children's party and serve ice cream and cake. In addition to a child's personal life and home life he has a social life, where he takes a place in the group, and he should contribute something worthwhile to it. Acquiring social consciousness is part of the process in becoming an adult. It should begin early and continue to grow, through sympathetic interest in others.

A child should know all types of youngsters. As one parent put it: "If you don't know both the rough ones and those who are refined, how can you distinguish and evaluate different traits of character?"

It's the best kind of hospitality to make others happy, says Miss Green. The most satisfying return from hospitality is friendship.

A friendly, open home will always be preferred to public places. When it is possible for your boys and girls to have their fun at home, you have the opportunity to help them to build ideals that will one day make them worthy heads of homes.

It's a good idea to make your home headquarters for the crowd. Both Dad and Mother should realize that if there is a need for a choice it is more important to have a house that all the youngsters enjoy than one which is decorative but without warmth and feeling.

how would you like to live in the "good old days"?

Back in grandfather's time, during the final quarter of the last century, things were quite different. There were no movies, no airplanes, no automobiles, few bathrooms, practically no efficient electrical appliances. If you contracted diabetes or pernicious anemia, your days were numbered. Your blood just "changed to sugar" in the former, "to water" in the latter.

There was little protection against virulent epidemics. Smallpox vaccine was the only biological on the market. When diphtheria or typhoid ravaged a community, there was nothing to do but wait it out in hope and dread.

Yes, a return to the "good old days" would mean, among other things, the sacrifice of the major portion of the contribution of medicine and pharmacy to your health and well-being.

Corpse on the Town

Chapter 22

Evening hung warmly over the Observation Deck. Scattered couples formed little islands here and there. Planes droned, coughed, made the sounds of giant bumblebees.

They took seats opposite each other, but close enough for their knees to be awkward. Red dropped into a chair just within monitoring range.

Jigger looked her over. Under muted lights, the vivid contrast of the black and white of her hair and skin was amatically enhanced. Nothing of her now recalled the dowdy girl with the whiskey breath of hours ago.

She arched her head, conscious of his appraisal. "Aren't you going to question me?" she asked in a curiously compatible voice.

"Okay. Who are you?"

"Trudy Ross."

Jigger kicked the valise. "Will you identify me?"

"Yes. A faint look of amusement flickered briefly in her face. 'And so will my handbag. In it you will find an automobile operator's license, a social security card and an Actors Equity membership card.'

"How did you get into Room 310 at the FLEMISH ARMS?"

"I was engaged."

"By whom?"

"I don't know."

"Do you expect me to believe that?"

"It's the truth. If you'll let me explain?"

"Go ahead."

"I was in an actor's hangout with some friends: the Revere Hotel. I was called to the telephone."

"When was this?"

"Two nights ago. Late at night."

even said he was a fan of mine. That he had once seen me perform in summer stock in Maine."

Jigger contemplated her for a solemn moment. "Now tell me how that deal between you and Mr. X was worked."

"Mail and telephone was our only way of contact. I was to expect a letter addressed to me care of the Revere Hotel. The letter would contain half the agreed sum of money, a key to General Post Office Box 370, and a stub for a valise checked in the Parcel Booth under the Times Building. Among other things, I was to find a handbag in the valise, also two framed photographs. I was to familiarize myself with everything available that would help my impersonation."

"The letter came. Later, he phoned me final instructions. There were lot of little procedural details for me to follow before and after the impersonation. But the big things were: I was to register in the FLEMISH ARMS as Sally Woods, but my real name was Susan Hunter. The framed photograph was of my Aunt Penny and my dead grandmother Cynthia Hunter, and were to be arranged prominently on my bureau."

"My father was a Matthew Hunter, whom I loathed, and I was married to a mental case named Willie Hunter, from whom I'd run away. These latter facts, he stressed, were supplementary, to be used only if necessary, only if my visitor found a way to force me into some discussion. As a matter of fact, I was to avoid being interrogated at all costs. I was to merely acknowledge being both Sally Woods and Susan Hunter. I was to let my visitor identify me beyond that by searching my effects." Her voice dropped to a low, steady tone.

"I wrote these things down, and memorized them."

Jigger asked, "Whose idea were the 'Sally Woods' and the 'Susan Hunter'?"

"The whiskey was his idea. Drunk, or appearing to be, I couldn't be made to answer questions. The open box of pills was my own idea."

"And the scream timed to usher me out of the room in a hurry?"

She smiled. "Another personal touch."

"I'm an intelligent actress. Once you'd come and gone, I was to pack, check out, then check the Susan Hunter effects back into the same parcel booth. Then go to the Post Office, to put the checking stub into a sealed envelope, and leave it in Box 370, face down. And there, in Box 370, I would find an envelope containing the five hundred dollar balance owed me. My final chore was to drop my key to Box 370 into a waste basket."

"Then catch a plane to California."

She shook her head. "California's my idea. I was instructed to go to Mexico, or Canada, but out of the country."

"What's California got for you?"

"A newly formed Co-op acting company."

"Not much, huh?"

"It's the theater. That's a lot." She looked full into Jigger's face. "Do I go?"

"When's the next plane?" he asked.

"I don't know. Soon, I hope."

Jigger got to his feet, motioning to Red. "Okay, Trudy. On your way, and good luck." He held out his hand.

She got up and put her lips to his cheek impulsively. Jigger looked at her in embarrassment. Her tight calm was gone and her eyes were wet, like those of someone deeply moved by an unexpected kindness. (To be continued)

Find Son Dead In Locked Ice Box

PITTSBURGH—(UP)—Six-year-old Paul Hess of Bethel borough often played in the basement of a burned out building near his home, so his mother went searching there when she returned from church services last night and found he wasn't home.

By chance, Mrs. Angela Hess took a last look into an old ice box stored in the basement. Inside lay Paul's huddled body, his shoulder badly bruised from pushing against the door.

A physician said death probably came twenty minutes after the boy accidentally locked himself in the ice box.

Hiking Nurse In Seclusion Today

CINCINNATI—(UP)—Evangeline Lorimer remained in seclusion at "God's Bible School" today after returning home from 13-days of wandering in the Great Smoky Mountains.

The 21-year-old student nurse came here accompanied by her father, W. N. Lorimer. She immediately went into seclusion at the Bible school. And a school official said "she's tired and needs rest."

Neither the girl nor her father would discuss what happened in the Tennessee mountains where she left for a "short hike" and was missing for 13-days.

The two left Sevierville, Tenn., Saturday, where forest rangers said they were "as confused as ever" about her hike.

The girl left her father's camp in the woods on June 8 and evaded searchers until last Thursday. She told rangers she had eaten only berries during her wanderings but she suffered only swollen ankles.

Deadline Nears On GI Training

WASHINGTON—(UP)—The Veterans Administration reminded World War II veterans today that the deadline for starting GI bill training is one month away.

The July 26 deadline applies to the vast majority of World War II veterans who were discharged before July 25, 1947. Veterans discharged afterwards may begin their GI training within four years from the time they left the service.

Million-Dollar Auction Begins

HOLLYWOOD—(UP)—The rap of an auctioneer's hammer marks the end of a chapter in Hedy Lamarr's glamorous career tonight when $1,000,000 worth of her "intimate effects"—including a dummy of her famed figure—go on the block.

Auctioneers will sell the sultry actress' "complete furnishings" on the highest bidders at a month-long sale. They said Miss Lamarr sold her house and retired from the screen "so she wants to get rid of everything." She is honeymooning with her fourth husband, Ernest Stauffer.

Greet President Of Ecuadore

NEW YORK—(UP)—Ecuadorian President Gale Plaza was welcomed "home" today with a ticker tape parade down Broadway to City Hall.

Plaza came here yesterday for a three-day visit and his first stop was the small Greenwich Village hotel where he was born 45 years ago. Then he attended mass at St. Patrick's Cathedral.

Greenies Drop Opening Tilts Against Fremont By Scores Of 8-5 And 10-5

In Both Contests, Rivals Got Off To Early Lead And Kept It For Safe Victory Margin

By MELVIN LANG

Greenies' Greenies ran into rough sledding over the weekend as they lost their opening games in the Bright Belt League, 8-5 and 10-5.

Fremont scored three runs in the first inning to take a 10-5 victory in Greenville's home debut. Fokke Grimsley started the inning by acquiring a walk off the left-handed slants of Greenville Pitcher Johnny Poell. Glenn Smith was safe on a fielder's choice with Grimsley reaching second safely. Gerald Davis singled, with Grimsley coming across with the first tally. Then in rapid succession, Lawton Phillips walked to load the bases and Howard Davis was safe on a fielder's choice, with Smith scoring. After Wayne Hooks had grounded out to the shortstop, Durwood Davis hit a grounder to the shortstop that was bobbled. Phillips came across with the third run on the infield miscue.

Three more runs came in in the second to give the winners a 6-0 advantage. Ed Hovis walked and Grimsley was safe on an error. Smith singled and scored Grimsley. Gerald Davis doubled to send the last two runs in home. Davis was put out at second in a run-down, center fielder-to-pitcher-to-second-to-pitcher.

Greenville came back with two runs in their half of the second. Leon Jones was safe on an error by the centerfielder. Tom Boyd walked and was followed by a single by Johnny Poell, scoring Jones. Dewey Harris singled to send Boyd in with second run.

The Greenies pushed a pair of runs home in the third. Charlie Chittin singled to lead off the inning. Larry Rhodes, Leon Jones and Tom Boyd then doubled in succession.

In Saturday's game, Fremont scored early and then held their lead to take an 8-5 win. McCullen was the losing pitcher for the Greenies.

Sunday's box score:

HE'S IN CLOVER

SCHOOLCRAFT, Mich. —(UP)—Four leaf clovers are rather tame things to A. C. Middleton. After finding three, he picked up a five leaf clover and one with six leaves, all within a few minutes.

Little League Star

Hudson Miller has been one of the chief reasons that the Jaycees Little League team has won its last six games. After an early season slump, he has been instrumental in leading the Jaycees to four victories in their winning surge.

His most outstanding achievement this season was his masterful one-hit, 1-0, win over the league-leading Elks. Miller held the previously undefeated Elks hitless until the fifth inning of the regularly scheduled six-inning game. His team pushed a single run across in the last of the seventh to give him his first victory. He had lost two during the dismal beginning.

On the mound or off, Miller still aids his team in their winning cause. He powered his second home run of the year in a game played on Tuesday of last week. His blow, which traveled over 200 feet, came in the first inning and gave the Jaycees a 1-0 lead over the Lions. The J. C.'s went on to win 2-0 behind the one-hit pitching of J. E. Arnold.

Miller has a 3-2 record on the mound. He has won the last three games that he has pitched. He has appeared on the hill in 24 innings and fanned a total of 47 men.

Although Miller has only a .231 batting average, he is leading the league with homers. The little right-hander has connected for two four-baggers this season.

His previous experience in the field of baseball consists of one year on Bill Kittrell's Midget team last year.

Rote, the All-America player from Southern Methodist, is the most versatile back the Giants have had in years, says Owen. In his first appraisal of the bonus pick star, the Giant coach feels that Rote can handle capably any of the backfield positions in his A formation and almost all in the T setup. Rote, in addition to being a great runner, is a quick kick artist, good kickoff and point-after-touchdown man.

Says Owen with a big grin "Rote is all football player and the most versatile back we have had on the Giants since Tuffy Leemans." Leemans was a leading ground gainer who played from 1936 through 1952 and who was elected to pro football's Hall of Fame.

Horseshoe Loop Included In City Playground Plan

The Greenville Parks and Playgrounds will sponsor a Horseshoe League this summer. Champions will be crowned at each playground and the various champions will then meet in the city championships.

The colored city championship will be run off on July 5 at the South Greenville Park. The event is scheduled to get underway at 3 p. m.

The white championships are slated for July 6 at the 3rd Street Playground. It is to start at 3 p. m. Singles and doubles are to be held at each meet. The boys and girls who are under 13 years of age are pitted in one division while those between 13 and 16 are in another division. Those persons over 16 who are interested in playing should sign up at one of the playgrounds.

A collection of subjects of nature is to be held this week. Each child or group collect the material and attach it to a piece of cardboard. The collections are to be handed in at the playgrounds, with the collectors name and address.

Supervisors Marion Norcott and Percy Daniels reported that a total of 301 children attended the Fifth Street Center during the past week. They announced that June 26 would be observed as Adult Night and that a "Jitter Bug" contest would be held June 27.

Jackie Sears supervised 134 children at the 3rd St. Park. She stated in her report that the individuals aided in preserving the cleanliness and beauty of her playground.

Mrs. Janice Buck had a total of 206 at the Curb Market Center. She will hold a meeting today and will supervise a weiner roast Thursday afternoon at 6:30. The playground will be open Monday.

345 children reported to Susie Jones and Mary Beatty at the Colaniche Park. They are sponsoring a bubble blowing contest Wednesday afternoon.

Barbara Barnhill had 282 at her Riverside Park. Broken-down, 157 girls and 143 boys reported. Two adults also took part in the proceedings.

Margaret Ruth Newton had the largest number of any of the playgrounds at the South Greenville Park. She had 450 to report.

Frances Sigman will supervise the opening of 14th St. Park today.

Princeton Tops In Tennis Play

PRINCETON, N. J. —(AP)—Undeclared for the second straight year, Princeton won the Larned Trophy emblematic of the Eastern Intercollegiate Tennis Association championship. This is the fourth time for the Tigers. They previously held the trophy in 1941, 1942 and 1950. Second place went to Yale whose only loss came at the hands of Tiger netmen. The champion Princeton squad, incidentally, ran its unbeaten skein to 24 consecutive matches, in and out of league play.

Machine Sorts Lemons By Color For Marketing

DAVIS, Calif. — (AP)—Science had developed a machine that sorts lemons by color to determine which fruit goes to market earliest. Designed at the College of Agriculture of the University of California, the machine sorts 15,000 lemons an hour and may some day replace slower-working humans who now do the job by hand.

Since lemons ripen unevenly—one tree may have ripe, silver, light green and dark green fruit—they must be sorted so ripier ones can be sent to market first.

The machine has a metering device that feeds lemon single file past a bank of light-sensitive cells. The cells measure the amount of light reflected from the skin. Different colors operate various gates which route the fruit into bins.

Most engine cylinder wear comes not from friction, but from the harmful effects of deposits left after combustion, and contamination. Help prevent this wear by using the one special motor fuel that can burn completely, the one special motor fuel made of pure petroleum, the one special motor fuel that leaves no metallic deposit. Use Amoco-Gas. Get these tremendous advantages—with no disadvantages! It's your best motor fuel buy regardless of price!

Only 6 Of Original Force Still Fighting

By WILLIAM BURSON
WITH 2TH DIVISION, Korea—(UP)—Nearly a year ago 256 poorly-trained soldiers made the first American stand against the Communists in Korea.

Now only six of them are left in the war.

More than 160 have been killed or captured. The others have long since returned to the United States—either because of wounds or through the Army's rotation program.

The six have vivid recollections of the anguish and desperation of the first dark days of United Nations intervention. The American group went into combat on July 1, only five days after the Communists attacked across the 38th parallel.

"They told us it would be a banana war," recalled 1st Lt. Larry C. Powers. "We thought it'd all be over in two weeks—that the big bad commies would flee at the sight of an American uniform."

Corp. Vincent T. Vastano was on guard duty in Japan the night of June 30 when the 21st Regiment's first battalion was alerted to move to Korea.

"They gave each of us bandoleers of 'ammo' and a couple of grenades and bundled us off to Itazuka and into planes," he said.

An airborne force with one battery of 105 millimeter howitzers landed at Pusan. From there it went by rail to Osan, south of Seoul, and there the Americans got their noses bloodied for the first time.

"We got over our optimism in a hurry," Sgt. Robert J. Kahley recalled.

"We were advancing and five entire South Korean divisions were retreating." The little band was mistakenly strafed by Australian planes at Pyongtaek on July 2. On July 4 it was attacked by enemy Yak fighters. By July 7 the GI's had taken up positions in the Osan area.

"They threw three divisions at us," said Cpl. Jack L. Ruffner. "They surrounded us with tanks—how many I don't know. I stopped at 31."

Cpl. Joseph T. Agustoni commented that "the tanks got all our artillery and we got four or five of the tanks."

"We held them for 8-12 hours, but we lost everything," he added. "There were only nine left in my platoon."

The group's cook was Pfc. Donald J. F. Rittich. Their rations didn't catch up with them, so he stole chickens to serve the boys. Then suddenly he found himself wielding a rifle.

"We did a lot of praying," Kahley said. "I remember I shared my 'xhole with Pete Kallischer of the United Press and we were both praying. That guy has lots of guts."

The survivors felt back and tried to regroup at Chochiwon. They fought there, then at Chochiwon, Taejon and finally in the Nakdong perimeter as the original "fire brigade."

Welfare Dept. Notes

Three new Aid for Dependent Children were approved and thirteen cases closed. Nineteen Aid for Dependent Children cases were reviewed and approved.

Pitt County Department of Public Welfare cooperates with the North Carolina Crippled Children's Division of the State Board of Health in making available to more than fifty children in this county the services offered by the Goldsboro Clinical Branch of the Orthopedic Hospital.

On Thursday, June 21, one hundred forty-seven children from Eastern North Carolina received examination and, or treatment at the Clinic at Goldsboro. Of this number, three were from Pitt County. All three have been successfully treated at the North Carolina Orthopedic Hospital at Goldsboro and are now receiving follow-up care at the Clinic at Goldsboro.

Judge Gives Youth Chance Make Good; Provides Own Bond

Judge J. W. H. Roberts today placed a young defendant on his own honor and allowed him to pledge $200 for his own bail. His case will be tried in Police Court on July 6.

Julius E. Hastings, 19-year-old youth of Shelby, employed by a tree surgery company, was charged with temporary larceny of an automobile from Earl Speight. Solicitor Eli Bloom told the court the youth temporarily took Speight's car and returned it undamaged. The owner of the car wanted to withdraw the warrant, but a warrant, once signed must go through the court procedure, he added.

Roland Cassey Jr., 34, of Route 2, Greenville, was arrested late Saturday night, an hour after he left the scene of an auto accident on the Belvoir highway, and now faces three warrants.

Patrolman Paul C. Whitley, who had been summoned to the highway accident involving a car driven by Leslie E. Coggins, 18, of Route 4, and the Cassey car, gave the following account of the accident. Whitley stated that a witness told him Cassey jumped from his car following the accident and fled.

When the officers arrived, they had bloodhounds from the State Prison farm brought to the scene and in less than a half hour, the dogs trailed the man to an old drainage ditch on the airport property where he was arrested. The accident occurred some two miles from Greenville.

Cassey will face charges of hit-and-run driving, careless and reckless driving and driving drunk. Damage to both cars was estimated at $250.

Pair Arrested For Possessing Illegal Whiskey

Two Greenville men were arrested Saturday night by local law enforcement officers on charges of possession of non-tax paid liquor for purpose of sale.

Officers making the arrest stated that when they pulled along side of the car, that a gallon of bootleg whiskey was thrown from the car, striking the pavement, spilling the liquor. The jar was wrapped in a paper bag, Officer Ward stated.

The station wagon was seized also.

Officers making the arrest were: J. M. Ward, J. L. Taylor, C. T. Manning and R. W. King.

JUST HIS LUCK

Truman Says . . .

victims of a political smear campaign," the "Joint Chiefs of Staff and their Chairman, Gen. Omar N. Bradley; Defense Secretary George C. Marshall and Secretary of State Dean Acheson, all of whom he stoutly defended.

"It's time that smear campaign was stopped," Mr. Truman said with a warning that the "lies, Mander" and "mud slinging" of the opposition were "playing right into the hands of the Russians."

After a year of fighting in Korea, the President found the "cause of world peace, stronger than it was a year ago." But he said he could not rule out the chance of World War III.

"The Kremlin has it in its power to bring about such a war if it desires," he said. "It has a powerful military machine and its rulers are absolute tyrants. We cannot be sure what the Soviet rulers will do."

Mr. Truman, with new frankness, rebuked the leadership of the Chinese Nationalists for accepting American aid, then surrendering to the Communists.

"We gave them (the Nationalists) more help than we gave Greece or Italy or Berlin," he explained. "The government of Greece took our aid and fought for freedom. But many of the generals of Nationalist China took our aid and surrendered."

Then he added a plain-spoken message to critics of his China policy. "We can investigate the situation in China from now until doomsday, but the facts will always remain the same; China was taken over by the Communists because of the failure of the Nationalist government to mobilize the strength of China to maintain its freedom."

"After all," he said, "Our aid can be effective only when people help themselves. We are continuing to give aid to the Chinese Nationalists on Formosa, and that aid will be effective if they are now willing to do their part."

French government would spare no effort to make them successful.

A Stockholm dispatch said that Sven Graffstrom, Swedish delegate to the United Nations and member of its three-man Korean Good Offices Committee, was preparing to fly to New York at once to take part in any negotiations.

Although the Chinese have kept silent on U.N. peace moves in recent months, it was believed Russia's public appeal for talks may bring Chinese leaders hurrying to the conference table.

U.N. General Assembly President Nazimollah Entezam of Iran hurried to New York for a talk with Malik.

"As a first step," Malik said Saturday, "negotiations should be started between the belligerents for a cease fire and an armistice providing for the mutual withdrawal of forces from the 38th parallel."

U.N. Secretary-General Trygve Lie picked up Malik's offer and from Oslo, Norway, where he is vacationing, he appealed to the world: "I urge that negotiations for a military cease fire now be entered into at the earliest possible date."

Railroad Wage Hike Possible If Price Index Up

WASHINGTON — (UP)—More than 1,250,000 railroad workers may get a cent-an-hour increase this week when the governments' cost of living index is published.

If the index goes up half a point, the rail workers get the one-cent increase. Anything less, and their pay stays the same.

If no raise is forthcoming, it will be the first major group of workers that failed to gain under an escalator contract—which gears wages to the cost of living—since the start of the Korean war.

A railroad union spokesman conceded that the most the workers can hope for is a one cent pay boost. He said indications are that the cost of living has been held in check between April 15 and May 15, the period covered in the index.

In passing sentence, Judge J. W. H. Roberts gave the girl some good advice. She is the daughter of a tenant on the Sam Fleming farm, near Pacolus.
