U. S. Arms Output Is Said Slow

Senators See Dangerous Lag; Not Enough Priority For Weapons

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Senate preparedness subcommittee charged today that military production is "dangerously behind schedule" because arms haven't been getting priority over butter.

Neither the Defense Department nor Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson would comment on the subcommittee's criticism.

Wilson also said yesterday that civilian production has not cut into military production and that "butcher has not interfered with guns."

The subcommittee also blamed lack of "coordinated supervision and direction it called for lodging in a single defense official—perhaps the chairman of the Munitions Board or a new undersecretary of defense for procurement—the powers of a czar."

Street Is Closed For Repair Work

Police Chief Guy C. Langston today requested motorists not to travel on East Fourth street, from Cottage to Holly Street, while repairs are being made to the paving and drainage system.

Views Farm Profits In 1952 As Being Reduced

J. R. Jackson, field representative of the Production Credit Association, said yesterday, "It is my opinion, after making a study of the farm situation, that farmers will probably receive about the same income in 1952 as they did in 1951, but increased farm expenses in 1952 will leave farmers with less net profit than last year."

Santa Claus To Be In Greenville On Saturday

Caudle Relates Getting $5,000 In Airplane Sale

Received Sum As Commission From Investigator Working For Taxpayers Later Convicted Of Tax Fraud

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former Assistant Attorney General T. Lamar Caudle acknowledged today he received $5,000 in 1950 from an investigator working for two New York taxpayers subsequently convicted of tax fraud.

Caudle said the $5,000 was a commission paid him for arranging the sale of an airplane to the tax investigator, and that the transaction was approved by Attorney General McGrath.

Today's testimony followed the firing or forced resignation of 31 tax collection officials and employees in connection with the coast-to-coast scandals that have rocked the Internal Revenue Bureau.

County Offices May Be Moved In January

If repairs now in progress at the old Pitt General Hospital are completed on schedule, the structure, which is being converted to an office building for the county, will be ready for occupancy by the first of the year.

Reports from county officials this morning revealed that with the exception of sanding the floors and installing asphalt tile, work on the first and second floors should be completed by the end of this week.

Revenue Bureau Purge Not Ended

More Firings Reported To Be Just Around Corner

WASHINGTON (AP)—More firings were reported just around the corner today for the Internal Revenue Service, purged of 31 employees in a single day.

Revenue Commissioner John B. Dunlap, who ordered the mass ouster yesterday, said the nation's tax scandals are "clearing rapidly" but the job is far from finished.

Eight have been indicted on criminal charges of fraud or bribery. Cases of five of those fired yesterday were turned over to the justice department for possible prosecution.

Ada Cherry Class Plan For Yuletide

The Ada Cherry Sunday School Class met for its November meeting on Monday night at the home of Mrs. Ed. Sawyer. The hostess committee for November, of which Mrs. J. A. Whitehead is chairman, entertained with Mrs. Sawyer.

Mrs. George Smith, president, presided and presented Mrs. R. P. Rogers, who gave the devotional for the night. Mrs. Rogers in choosing "Using the Bible as a Guide" for her topic, gave the many members present food for thought and meditation. "The Bible was given to us by God through inspired writers to be used as a book of instruction and is always there to guide us and help us with our problems," concluded Mrs. Rogers in her meditation.

During the business meeting, reports were given from chairmen of all standing committees. The class voted to take a family as a Christmas opportunity, and members were urged to bring their gifts for this project to the next meeting, which will be the annual Christmas party.

Plans were announced concerning the December meeting. It will be held on Tuesday night, December 11, in the church, beginning at 8:00 p.m. It will be a social party stressing homecoming, and all former members as well as those who have been inactive for some time are especially urged to attend.

Mrs. Brantley Speight had charge of the recreation for the evening and introduced a delightfully new and interesting game played with a basketball. All members participated in the game, which was planned to demonstrate how women could have poise and grace while concentrating with a basketball.

Following this hour of fun and amusement the hostesses served drinks, assorted sandwiches and cookies to the large number of members present.

Native Of Canada Speaks To Members Of Round Table

Mrs. W. C. Vincent was a delightful hostess to members of the Round Table and several invited guests on Tuesday afternoon at the Parish House on East Fourth Street.

Mrs. E. E. Rawl, club president, presided over a brief business session, at which time the club voted to buy a T.B. bond.

Subject for the afternoon's study was "Canadian Cities," with Mrs. Charles Horne as leader.

Mrs. Horne introduced Dr. Kathleen Stokes of the East Carolina College faculty, who presented the program for her.

Dr. Stokes, a charming speaker, is a native of Canada and attended universities in Canada and England. She has traveled widely in Europe and was well qualified to give interesting and first hand information relating to the subject.

Descriptions of the important cities, areas of new development and especially remarks about the life and character of the people in each section of this vast country gave members a closer insight and understanding of the neighbors to the north.

She described the opening of the new resources which make possible materials to be used in peace and, if necessary, used for the defense of North America.

Mrs. Vincent's guests for the afternoon were Dr. Stokes, Mrs. H. L. Carr, Mrs. O. E. Dowd, Mrs. John Karsnak, Mrs. I. J. Edwards and Mrs. John Fleming of Rocky Mount.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Dowd and Mrs. Karsnak, served a colorful and appetizing salad plate with coffee.

Mrs. M.N. Posey Bring Program To Cosmos Club

Mrs. W. M. Scales Jr. was hostess to the Cosmos Book Club on Tuesday afternoon.

Tea and other refreshments were served by Mrs. Dean Painter, sister of the hostess. The table was most attractive with its lovely arrangement of candles and seasonal berries.

Mrs. Dale Oldley presided and welcomed as guests for the afternoon Mrs. Ralph Garrett Jr., Mrs. Amos Leggett, Mrs. Dean Painter and Mrs. Meredith Posey. The entire club expressed their delight at having Mrs. E. E. Rawls Jr. back with them after too long an absence.

After a brief business meeting the program was turned over to Mrs. Posey, who did a wonderful job of entertaining members by singing folk songs while accompanying herself with an auto harp or "mountain piano." After a brief background talk on her instrument and the origin of most of her songs, she sang the following songs: "On Top of Old Smoky," "Foggy Foggy Dew," "Peter Grey," "Down In The Valley," "Sow Took the Measles and Died in the Spring," "The Devil and the Farmer," and for her final selection she chose a Jail House song from Kentucky, "Poor Boy." Her program was most enjoyable and brought a delightful conclusion to the meeting.

Farmville Senior Class To Present Play Friday

The Senior Class of the Farmville High School will present its annual play on Friday night, November 30, at 8:00 p.m. in Perkins Hall.

The play, entitled "Aunt Susie Shoots The Works," is a hilarious comedy. It is being directed by Mrs. J. M. Wheelers, Jr.

The action of the drama centers around an eccentric and man-hating spinster, portrayed by Carolyn Roebuck, who lives entirely alone. When she learns that a former classmate of hers has died and willed her some property, she sends for her favorite niece to help her take possession of the property. A number of mysterious and hair-raising occurrences only add to the confusion and merriment of the plot.

Those taking part in the production are, in addition to Miss Roebuck, Pat Allen, Joan Atkinson, Carolyn Moore, Willis Rae Harper, Jo Ann Thomas, Phoebe Webb, James Fountain, Bruce Tugwell, Bob Smith, and Paschell Barrett.

The public is cordially invited to attend this entertaining and amusing drama.

Thanksgiving Observed By Eastern Star

On Tuesday night, November 20, Greenville Chapter No. 149, Order of the Eastern Star, held a regular meeting in the Masonic Temple. In the absence of the Worthy Matron, Mrs. Thelma Maxwell, Associate Matron, presided. After the ritualistic opening, the pledge of allegiance was given to the flag of our country and the "Star Spangled Banner" was sung.

Following the routine business, an inspirational Thanksgiving program was given. Taking part were Mesdames Thelma Maxwell, Jean Whiteley, Ernestine Garner, Ruth Joyner, Anne Jackson, Lib Respass, Marguerite Howard and Ruby Lum.

In the dining room, delicious refreshments of hot Russian tea, cookies and salted nuts were served from a table attractively decorated with an arrangement of colorful autumn leaves and berries. The hostesses were Mesdames Lillie Cherry, Edith Williams, Martha Forrest, Callie Gaskins, Lena Galloway, Myrtle Keel, Lib Respass, Lila Palmer, Eva Corbett, Ernestine Garner, Vivienne Hines and Mr. Joseph Palmer.

Cotton Smolders In Vessel's Hold

HONOLULU UP)—The freighter Ponce de Leon, an 800-ton Waterman Line vessel, headed for Honolulu today with smoldering cotton fire in her No. 5 hold.

The ship reported the fire last night when she was 1,000 miles northwest of Oahu, bound for Yokohama from San Francisco. She said she was changing course immediately for Honolulu.

The ship's master said the fire was "under control," but he added the "only way to get one of those fires out is to unload the ship."

Actor's Divorce Hearing Is Set

HOLLYWOOD UP)—Screen idol Clark Gable and his estranged wife, Lady Sylvia Ashley, will meet in court March 17 for what is expected to be a hot divorce battle.

Superior Judge Orlando Rhodes set the date for the trial yesterday in answer to a request from Gable's lawyers to get the case in court as quickly as possible.

Gable is not contesting his wife's divorce, but he contends she is not entitled to alimony because she already is a millionaire.

Credit Woman's Club Announces Yule Plan

At a special called meeting on Tuesday night, November 27, at the home of the club president, Mrs. Margaret Boykin, plans were completed for the Credit Women's Breakfast Club Christmas Party, which will be held this year at the home of Mrs. Ruth Brady, on December 18, at 7:30 p.m.

President Boykin asked for reports on the State Board meeting at Salisbury on November 17-18, and also reports from all committee chairmen on various phases of club work.

Mrs. Lucy Pittman, Educational chairman, reported that the next meeting class of December 8, which will be taught by Mr. Bruce Sugg, Jr., would conclude the Fourth Educational Course in Sales Promotion, Credits and Collection Procedures and the Psychology of Human Relations in Business.

After examination, all members who have received certificates for all four courses will be presented with a diploma by the International Association of Credit Women's Breakfast Clubs. In connection with these diplomas, President Boykin reminded members that in the percentage of them taking the educational courses and passing them, the Greenville club rated highest; in the United States, Canada, Alaska and Hawaii, and, in fact, last year won the International Achievement Award, the highest award possible in the International Association of Credit Women's Breakfast Clubs in North America.

Chairman Catherine Walsh of the Project and Welfare committee presented several names of underprivileged girls for consideration for the underprivileged girl project. This was important in that members wished it settled in time for the Christmas gifts that will be ready for her from all the girls. Chairman Catherine gave a very detailed and thorough case history of each name presented for approval, and the president thanked her for all her time and effort spent on this.

At the conclusion of the business session President Margaret Boykin served a delicious dessert course to a large membership attending, and then names were exchanged for Christmas presents at the Christmas party.

Wesley Philathea Class Meets With Mrs. W. G. Ward

The Wesley Philathea Class of Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church held its November class meeting on Monday night.

The members assembled at the home of Mrs. W. G. Ward, with Mrs. K. T. Putrell, Mrs. H. T. Smith, Mrs. J. D. Swain, Miss Lill Wilson and Mrs. Frank Wilson assisting hostesses.

The business session was conducted by Mrs. V. P. Scoville, class president. At this time it was announced that the class had contributed a sum of $600 to the Building Fund.

Mrs. Paul Murray gave the devotional and Miss Ann Askew entertained the members with two very interesting and enjoyable readings.

Name On Ballot

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) says he has "given permission" for the placing of his name on the California primary election ballot as a candidate for President.

He told newsmen last night that "while I am not a candidate and am not running for any office except the United States Senate in 1954, I am not evading the opportunity of running for President."

Kefauver, head of a recent congressional investigation of crime in the United States, said he had discussed the matter with a group supporting his candidacy.

"People who have talked with President Truman recently have said he will not run," the senator said.

Opera Orchestra Stages Walkout

CHICAGO (AP)—The orchestra for the opera "Carmen" walked out of the pit last night at the bid of James Petrillo, musician's union boss, who decided the orchestra's dignity had been bruised. The performance was delayed 13 minutes.

Petrillo said Alfred Bruening, New York violinist, and concertmaster of the orchestra, had complained that after the New York City Opera Company's performance of "Madame Butterfly" last Saturday, he was hit by a baton thrown by Lasso Halasz, the conductor and music director.

Halasz allegedly acted in a moment of pique expressing his displeasure with the orchestra's performance, Petrillo said.

Petrillo, president of the American Federation of Musicians, appeared at the opera at the Civic Opera House last night, called the musicians from the pit and said they would remain out until Halasz apologized.

The orchestra returned after 15 minutes, with one report stating Halasz had made an apology and the matter was straightened out.

But Halasz later told a reporter, "I made no apology. I told Mr. Petrillo that had I hit Mr. Bruening with a baton, I would have apologized immediately, but since I did not hit him, I did not see any need for apologizing."

Halasz, however, said he would not use a baton in future conducting.

Lector Club Meets

Members of the Lector Book Club met Tuesday afternoon, November 20, with Mrs. E. S. Flanagan at her home on Eastern Street.

Lovely fall chrysanthemums were used throughout the living room where the guests were welcomed by the hostess. Mrs. Amos Leggett was a guest for the afternoon.

Mrs. Louis Gaylord, Jr., vice president, presided. She extended a gracious welcome to Mrs. R. O. Everett, a new member who has just joined the club.

During the business session, the club voted to take a family as a Christmas project, for which they will provide food, clothing and other needy articles to bring cheer during the holiday season. They also voted to purchase a Tuberculosis Bond as their contribution to the current Seal Sale Drive.

The program for the afternoon was given by Mrs. Flanagan. She presented a brief study of the Gospel According to St. Luke, this being a continuation of the year's study of the New Testament.

Mrs. Flanagan stated that Luke, the physician, was one of the most beloved historians of all time. His Gospel was written primarily for the Gentiles and is one of the most easily read and understood of any of the four.

After commenting on Luke's background as man and author, she read passages from the Gospel which recorded events or experiences which are not found in any of the other Gospels. An enthusiastic discussion followed her talk.

The hostess served a delicious sweet course with coffee at the conclusion of the program. The librarian distributed the books and the meeting was adjourned.

Red Oak News

The Youthful Workers Club meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Ruth Brady Monday night at 8 o'clock. The meeting was called to order by the president by singing "My Country 'Tis of Thee." The minutes were read and approved. Roll was called with 23 present. Mrs. Frances Cassick was in charge of the devotional, reading from Matthew 2:1-10, after which she led in prayer. Reports were given by the various committees. Mrs. Raymond Tyson said the bag given Mrs. Owens consisted of fruit juices and canned fruits. Everyone enjoyed the fellowship hour spent with Mrs. Owens when they carried the "sunshine basket." Mrs. Leota Tyson reported that Mrs. Frances Cassick had donated a nice army blanket to Mr. Langley and the $10 allotted him was used in buying him underclothes and shirts. He thanked each and every member for their part in giving him the blanket and clothes.

Mr. Lawrence Tyson made a motion that the fourth Sunday in December, after going to respective Sunday schools classes, that all go to the Red Oak Community Building, taking lunch and materials to decorate a basket. After lunch, the baskets will be prepared and the group will then leave to sing carols and have prayer with the different needy families who are to be recipients of a basket. This motion was adopted by the club. A committee was selected to find needy families. They are: Naomi Edwards, Mrs. Ruebelle Crawford, Althea Roach, Mrs. Frances Cassick and Lawrence Tyson.

The trip to Camp Lejeune for the purpose of entertaining the boys in the Naval Hospital was discussed. It was decided that the group would leave Sunday morning at 8:30 from the Serv-U Service Station. Cakes are being donated by different churches.

Mrs. Frances Cassick read a poem "Pulling or Lifting" and a sermon from "The Man Named Peter" which were very inspiring. Mrs. Ruebelle Crawford led in playing several games. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. The meeting adjourned by joining a friendship circle and singing "Blest Be the Tide."

Funeral Set Friday For Mrs. J.W. Cannon

Mrs. J. W. Cannon, 56, died at her home in Mount Olive at two o'clock Thursday morning after two years of illness. Funeral services will be conducted at three o'clock Friday afternoon at the Mount Olive Baptist Church by the Rev. Terrell, and burial will be near Mount Olive.

Mrs. Cannon was born and reared in the Ayden community and had been living in Mount Olive for the past eight years. She was the daughter of the late Biggs and J. W. Cannon in 1915, and he survives.

Taft Very Active In Visit To N. C.

GREENSBORO (AP)—Ohio's Senator Robert A. Taft packed five public appearances into his crowded Greensboro schedule today before returning to Chapel Hill where he will deliver the last of a series of lectures at the University of North Carolina tonight.

Pushing his southern campaign to capture the upcoming Republican presidential nomination, Taft addressed students at three colleges, attended a luncheon with state Republican leaders, and appeared in a television forum.

On the first day of his three-day North Carolina tour, the Ohioan spoke at Guilford College, Greensboro College and the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina.

Taft joined with state GOP leaders in mapping campaign strategy at the Lincoln meeting. Later, he appeared with a number of prominent Greensboro residents in a forum at station WFMV-TV.

The Republican leader told Negro students at North Carolina College in Durham yesterday that the federal government should not require the South to do away with its segregated public school system. Taft said that other issues are more important than segregation in public schools. He asserted that a more important question is providing federal aid for good schools so that children can get a good education in either "separate or combined schools."

By JIMMY BLISS

The acceptance of post-season bowl bids by Clemson College and the University of Maryland football teams raises an important question in the Southern Conference. The question is something like this: which is the more important, individual schools or the Southern Conference?

Both Clemson and Maryland have directly flouted Southern Conference rulings to accept the bids. Even though Maryland has extended all along that it intends to ask Conference permission to participate in a game for which they have already signed contracts, they are not less guilty than the Tigers who went ahead against almost unanimous conference opposition.

The college has stated before that it sees nothing drastically wrong with bowl games. It gives the participating teams a nice tap and does more than pay a little bit to bolster college athletic treasuries. But bowl bids are no longer the question. The question now is whether individual schools, supposedly bound by conference rulings, are going to be allowed to do as they please regardless of how the other conference members feel on the issue at hand.

Maryland and Clemson should both be punished for their actions and punished severely. Those of you who read Chauncey Durden's column in this morning's News and Observer have already seen one punishment proposed.

Durden wants the conference to boot Maryland and Clemson completely out of the loop and then impose a five year athletic boycott in all sports against them. Durden is quoted as saying that unless the conference does something drastic, the 11-member loop may well close up shop.

Durden is right all the way around on that issue.

If the Southern Conference wishes to retain even a little bit of the integrity and prestige which it now possesses, it can not afford to let Maryland and Clemson act as two spoiled children who want their way regardless of how everyone else feels.

The All-Conference team selected for the Southern Conference by the Southern Conference Sports Writers' Association seems to be more like the real thing than the one selected last week by the United Press.

This selection includes the players that were left out in the UP poll. It has Jack Lewis of Wake Forest and Glenn Smith of Clemson at the ends. Bill George of Wake Forest and Elmer Costa of N. C. State at the tackles. Bob Ward of Maryland and Joe Dudek of Carolina at the guards, and South Carolina's Larry Smith at center. The backfield has Ed Modzelewski of Maryland, Gil Bocetti of Washington and Lee, Ed Modzelewski of William and Mary, and Steve Wadiak of South Carolina.

The UP team did not include Lewis, George, Bocetti and Wadiak.

Out at ECC, Intramural Director Vernon (Flash) Morrison is asking for more teams to enter into the competition in the intramural leagues. Right now, there are six teams entered.

Morrison wants all the boys who are living off-campus to come by the athletic office in the Wright Building if they haven't had a chance to get on a team. "There's plenty of room for everybody, so don't be bashful about signing up," Morrison added.

The teams will operate as one league until after the Christmas holidays, Morrison said yesterday. After that they will be split into two leagues. The top half of the league will be "A" group and the bottom half will be "B" group.

Although the major bowls are passing up North Carolina teams this year, the Old North State is getting into its share of the smaller post-season affairs.

The Camp Lejeune Marines are making Fort Eustis, Virginia, in Tampa's Cigar Bowl and after that, Gardner-Webb Junior College is going to Brunswick, Ga. to play in a junior college bowl contest. In addition, New Hanover High School of Wilmington will play in two bowl games.

They'll meet Concord, Mass. in the Piedmont Bowl in Winston-Salem December 7 and then go to Miami, Fla. on December 14 to take on Miami Senior High in the high school Orange Bowl. Durham High School made the trips to Miami in 1949 and 1950. They won both times.

Incidentally, Wilmington, the State AAA champs, have already played and won 11 games this year. The two post-season games will give the team a total of 13 while the co-captains will have a total of 14 since they are both participating in the Shrine Bowl game in Charlotte this weekend.

While on the subject of the Shrine Bowl, it might be worthwhile to mention that two North-eastern Conference teams are more than holding their own in the drills for the North Carolina teams. Both are very familiar figures to Greenville followers.

Bryant Aldridge, the Kinston star, is sure to be a starter in the North Carolina backfield while Red Dixon of Washington is fast building himself a spot in the line as a tackle.

The game Saturday will start at 3 p.m. There will be no preliminary contest.

Intra-Mural Ball To Begin At ECC Monday Night

Intramural basketball at East Carolina College will start Monday night with three games according to Intramural Director V. M. Morrison. At the present time, there are six clubs entered into the competition, although others are expected before the Friday deadline.

Morrison stated yesterday that all the teams would be in only one league until school is recessed for the Christmas holidays. After the return after Christmas, the top half of the league will be split from the bottom half to form two leagues. The leading clubs will be designated "A" league and the lower half will be designated as the "B" league.

Morrison said that 10 players would be allowed on each team's roster.

Any boys living off campus who have not had an opportunity to sign up with one of the clubs may call by the Athletic Office in the Wright Building to get placed. Morrison added that there was room for everyone who wanted to play and it was his hope that more boys would take advantage of the opportunity.

Horton Nersta of Rice Institute is the smallest grid player in the Southwest Conference.

That means that Porter will be wearing an all-letterman combination Saturday night when the Guilford Quakers come to Wright Gymnasium to open the home schedule of the Pirates. The contest will also be the first North State Conference game for the Pirates.

Unless unforeseen incidents cause Porter to change his mind, his combination Saturday will have Sonny Russell and Charlie Huffman at the forwards, Toddy Fennell at center, and Dick Blake and Lou Collier at the guards. Fennell and Collier are seniors, Russell and Blake are juniors, and Huffman is a sophomore.

Yesterday's work for the Pirates was cut short by a session with the camera man, but Porter still had time to run his 16 man squad through a workout that left him "pleased."

Running against his number one combination, Porter had a team that was composed of Paul Jones and Cecil Heath at the guards, Bobby Hodges and Jack Carr at the forwards, and Carl King at the center position. Jones, Hodges and Carr are freshmen. Hodges, who came out for practice Monday night after finishing up the football season Saturday, has been shifted to forward since he reported. The shift came about, according to Porter, to give added protection under the boards. However, it isn't final until Porter and the Pirates have had a chance to test the shift under actual game conditions.

Belvoir Opens At Home With Games Against Maury

BELVOIR—A 19-game slate was announced today for the 1951 Belvoir High School basketball team. The girls team, defending Pitt County champions, will be coached by Ed Warren, while J. T. Cobb will guide the boys.

The season opens Friday night with a home game against Maury High and closes with a game at Arthur on February 22.

Warren led five lettermen from his championship team by graduation last spring. Nadine Morris, a forward, and guard Margie Pollard are the only returning lettermen. Several newcomers have made the team this year, and from all reports should give the club added strength.

Coach Cobb lost but one boy from last year's club. The team is expected to be improved considerably over last season's rather disappointing record.

The remainder of the schedule: December 7, at Chocoid; 11, Winterville; 14, at Grifton; 18, at Grimesland; January 2, at Maury; 1, Bethel; 8, Chocoid; 11, Farmville; 14, Stokes; 17, Ayden; 25, Grimesland; 29, West Edgecombe.

February 1, Arthur; 5, at Stokes; 8, at Ayden; 15, Winterville; 19, Grifton; 22, at Arthur.

No Changes For Pirates Starting Line-Up Saturday

"No changes in the starting line-up for Saturday's game. It will be the same team that started against the (Norfolk) Naval Air Station," was the word yesterday from East Carolina College basketball coach Howard Porter.

Phantoms Open Schedule Against Wilson Wallop Farmville In Practice Wednesday

By MELVIN LANG
Reflector Sports Writer

The basketball season will open officially in Greenville tomorrow night with a contest between the Greenville High School Phantoms and Wilson's Cyclones. Game time is scheduled for 8 p.m. in the high school gymnasium.

Greenville scrimmaged with the Class A Farmville Red Devils yesterday afternoon in Farmville, and beat them by a large margin although no official score was kept. Three newcomers led the scoring parade for the Phantoms.

Wallace Conway, a non-starter on last season's quintet, paced both clubs with 15 points, while Smith Worthington and Leon Moore, up from the junior varsity, scored 13 and 10 points, respectively.

This is the second scrimmage against outside competition for Greenville. The Farmville wallop at Winterville earlier in the week.

Coach Parley had not announced his starting lineup for the game with the Cyclones but will probably come from the names of Sid Briley, Glenn Scott, both of whom are returning starters, Wallace Conway, Smith Worthington, Leon Moore, Tommy Evans, and Joe Rowland.

Briley and Scott looked good in the practice session with Winterville and are practically assured of starting berths again this year. The other three positions will be harder to choose. But right now, Conway, Moore, and Worthington seem to have the inside track. All three have looked good in practice and led the team on the floor yesterday.

This will be the first game for both teams. Coach Hank Madden has another good team in Wilson, and both teams will be put to take their first victory.

Greenville will play only four more games before Christmas, and then it will start into competition within the Northeastern Conference. The Green Phantoms travel to Rocky Mount on December 7, and then to Wilson on the 11th for a return game. Greenville will go to Goldsboro for its third game away from home on December 14. Pre-Christmas games will wind up with a return match with Rocky Mount in Greenville on December 18.

Bradley Follows Drake University Out Of MV Loop

PEORIA, Ill. (UP)—Bradley shopped for a new conference today after announcing it would follow Drake out of the Missouri Valley Conference at the end of the academic year.

Bradley's faculty athletic committee announced yesterday that it "felt it our duty to support the Drake position" in the controversy over the slugging of Drake's star Negro halfback, Johnny Bright.

Drake quit the conference Tuesday because the conference refused to take action. Bright, the nation's all-time ground runner, suffered a broken jaw Oct. 20 in the Drake-Oklahoma AM game at Stillwater, Okla.

Drake charged that Aggie tackle Wilbanks Smith smacked Bright deliberately early in the game.

David Blair Owen, president of Bradley, said the vote of the faculty's athletic committee was unanimous in severing its connection with the league, which it joined in December 1948.

The committee did not state flatly that the withdrawal was prompted by the Bright incident but said it felt Drake's position was "morally right."

The committee also noted the "unusually close bond of friendly rivalry which exists between the two institutions."

A statement by Bradley officials said "It is our hope ultimately to have a part in the formation of a new conference, of a more close-knit and homogenous nature and covering a considerably smaller geographical area."

Bob Lally, former Notre Dame lineman, now coaches the Irish "B" team.

Mighty Mo Leads Poll For SCSWA All-Stars

GREENSBORO—(AP)—Yankees are as conspicuous on the 1951 All-Southern Conference football team as their granddaddies were when Grant was around Richmond.

The team, picked by the Southern Conference Sports Writers Association, contains five players from Pennsylvania, three from New Jersey, one from Illinois. One is from Alabama, in the area of the South-eastern Conference, and the other is from Washington, D.C., the lone selection from Southern Conference territory.

The exploits of these 11 were responsible for many rebel yells and demonstrations of Confederate flag-wavings in Dixie stadia throughout the season.

Maryland's two brilliant players, Bob Ward in the line and Ed Modzelewski in the backfield, received the largest number of votes in the balloting by 36 association members. The selections were announced yesterday.

Five players repeated from last year's squad. They included Ward, Clemson's Glenn Smith, North Carolina State's Elmer Costa, Washington and Lee's Gil Bocetti and South Carolina's Steve Wadiak.

Eight schools are represented on the first team with Maryland, Wake Forest, and South Carolina placing two men each.

Modzelewski, the Mighty Mo of Maryland, led the backfield voting with 156 points out of a possible 180. Close behind him was the star quarterback from Washington and Lee, Bocetti, with 139 points, and the hard-running halfback from William and Mary, Ed Modzelewski with 134 points. Steve Wadiak of South Carolina, last season's "Player of the Year" and rushing record holder, completed the backfield.

A total of 112 players were nominated by the sports writers from all 17 schools of the Southern Conference.

First team (points in parentheses):
End—Jack Lewis, Wake Forest (108), Junior, Birmingham, Ala.
End—Glenn Smith, Clemson (102), Senior, Washington, D. C.
Tackle—Bill George, Wake Forest (128), Senior, Waynesburg, Pa.
Tackle—Elmer Costa, North Carolina State (101), Senior, Patterson, N. J.
Guard—Bob Ward, Maryland (144), Senior, Elizabeth, N. J.

Bratton-Gavilan Finish Up Even

CHICAGO—(AP)—Johnny Bratton, Chicago's unpredictable welterweight, charmed a Chicago Stadium crowd last night with a pile-driving assault that earned him a draw from Champion Kid Gavilan.

The end of the non-title 10 round bout, which was televised across the nation, found the 7,397 spectators on their feet, cheering the unpredictable "Brat" lustily.

Then, when the verdict was announced—the referee for Bratton, one judge for Gavilan, the other calling it a standoff—the crowd cheered even wilder.

Probably never before, even in victory, had the Brat been so popular with his home towners.

He went into the bout scaling an over-the-limit 140 pounds, as did Gavilan, the Cuban kid. Bratton was a 2-1 underdog.

Guard—Joe Dudek, North Carolina (106), Senior, Hattieson, Pa.
Center—Larry Smith, South Carolina (82), Senior, Ford City, Pa.
Back—Ed Modzelewski, Maryland (156), Senior, W. Natrona, Pa.
Back—Gil Bocetti, Washington & Lee (139), Senior, McKeesport, Pa.
Back—Ed Modzelewski, William & Mary (134), Junior, Cliffside, N. J.
Back—Steve Wadiak, South Carolina (128), Senior, Chicago, Ill.

Mystery Shrouds Death Of Star At Villanova

VILLANOVA, Pa. (UP)—A mantle of mystery lay today over the sudden, campus death of Villanova college football hero Dominic (Nick) Liotta.

The big co-captain from Everett, Mass., died in or near his dormitory yesterday. But the cause of his death was clouded by conflicting statements of police, the coroner's office and college authorities.

Rador township investigators said the 22-year-old pajama-clad guard was found hanged with a length of telephone wire from a water pipe in his dormitory basement. They said the 225-pound Liotta had committed suicide in a fit of despondency, apparently over his team's three losses this year. The Wildcats won five games.

Delaware County Coroner Joseph Tercha said Liotta died from a "heart attack" while leaving the dormitory. Villanova officials said only that big Nick had been ill for the "past few days" and the cause of death was unknown. The nature of his illness was not revealed.

The death of the once-joyful Liotta so shocked Villanova's main line campus that the school sought cancellation of its final game of the season, scheduled against Tulsa in Oklahoma Saturday.

Late last night, Dr. C. I. Pontius, president of Tulsa, announced that the game with Villanova had been set back to Dec. 8 and the Oklahoma eleven would meet Detroit University Saturday. The Detroit-Tulsa game originally was scheduled for Dec. 8.

The five-foot, 11-inch Liotta died at a moment when he was reaping some of college football's highest honors.

He had been picked as a guard on the 1951 Look magazine All-America first team, chosen by Grantland Rice and slated for release in the near future. He had been named to the first team All-Star selections of the football writers of America.

In addition, he had accepted an invitation to play in the annual East-West Shrine game at San Francisco New Year's Day. And he died on the day he received honorable mention on the United Press' All-America squad.

Fellow players said Liotta showed signs of depression after Kentucky snapped Villanova's early three-game winning streak with a one-sided victory. Later, Villanova lost by one touchdown to Boston College in Boston and he was further depressed because his team was humiliated before delegations of his hometown fans.

A crushing blow was the 45 to 7 pasting Louisiana State University handed the Wildcats last Saturday. Liotta, who led the football squad in scholastic ability, played well in his 55-minute stint, but the defeat put the lid on his usual banter as the team flew home.

Cummings Announces Slate For North State Meeting

Red Sox Get Two But Take Loss

BOSTON—(AP)—By marking off an estimated $100,000 cash outlay, the Boston Red Sox today were rid of Les Moss, their most disappointing catching investment, after gaining an eighth outfielder of major league calibre.

Moss, obtained from the St. Louis Browns last June for that huge sum plus Matt Batts, another backstop, was sent back to his old club, along with Tom Wright, a rookie outfielder. In return the Red Sox received Gus Niarhos, the slightly built catcher, and Ken Wood, an exceptionally strong-armed outfielder.

Playing in 71 games, Moss batted a feeble .198, thereby convincing new manager Lou Boudreau that catching was the club's most troublesome 1952 problem. Wright spent most of the past season with the Louisville American Association farm club.

Niarhos, who became the Browns' property less than 48 hours ago, in an eight-player deal with the Chicago White Sox, played in but 66 games last season. But he did bat .260, although driving in only 10 runs for the White Sox.

The 27-year-old Wood is considered a long-ball hitter but he has been plagued by injuries while compiling a four-year overall .237 batting average as a Brownie.

Niarhos was one of five players the White Sox gave St. Louis' traded Bill Veck for Sherm Lollar, a catcher the Red Sox desire greatly, pitcher Al Widmar, a 1948 Boston discard, and shortstop Tom Upton.

Conference Meeting To Be Held In High Point Next Tuesday; Dole Heads Loop Committee On Major Sports

DR. J. B. CUMMINGS

A full agenda for the one-day meeting of the members of the North State Intercollegiate Athletic Conference to be held in High Point on Tuesday, December 4, has been completed, announced Conference President J. B. Cummings today.

Cummings is chairman of the Intercollegiate Athletics Committee at East Carolina College and since 1929 has been a member of the faculty of ECC.

Following committee meetings which have been set for 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, Cummings will preside at a luncheon session of the executive committee at one o'clock and at the general business meeting scheduled for 2 o'clock. Among the reports to be heard will be the findings of the committee which has been wrestling with the problem of the proposed merger of the North Carolina and South Carolina Intercollegiate Athletic Conferences, of which Dr. E. G. Purdum of Guilford College is chairman.

Head Football Coach William E. (Bill) Dole of East Carolina College is chairman of the committee on major sports, and J. L. Pearce of Guilford College heads the committee on minor sports. Head Football Coach Clarence Stassavich of Lenoir-Rhyne College is chairman of the basketball tournament committee. All these groups will spend the forenoon studying their findings and drafting the reports to be made to the entire membership.

Cummings said dates for the North State Conference Basketball Tournament, set for Statesville, are February 22-23, and March 1. Members of the North State Conference will be guests at the annual dinner of the High Point American Business Club to honor the Lenoir-Rhyne College football team, 1951 champions of the gridiron this year, according to Professor Cummings.

Current officers of the conference, in addition to Prof. Cummings, who has been president for the past year, are Dr. M. C. Yoder of Lenoir-Rhyne College, Hickory, vice-president; Dr. D. E. Faust of Catawba College, Salisbury, secretary-treasurer; and Prof. A. L. Hook of Elon College, commissioner.

Others attending the North State Conference sessions from Greenville with Cummings and Dole will be Dr. N. M. Jorgensen, director of health and physical education, who heads the athletics department; Robert L. (Jack) Boone, varsity baseball coach and assistant football coach; and James W. (Jim) Butler, alumni secretary and athletics news director.

42-Game Slate

Competition within the Class AA Northeastern Basketball Conference will get underway on January 11, according to a 42-game schedule released this week.

Elizabeth City will entertain Washington, Edenton plays host to Roanoke Rapids, and New Bern goes to Greenville on that date. The schedule runs through February 26. Wilmington will play its first league game on January 15.

Let Love Alone

By KATHLEEN HARRIS

AP Wirephotos

She told Aunt Amanda the whole story and Aunt Amanda listened without comment except for a grunt here or there. Jan found that it helped to make such full confession, just as it helped knowing that Aunt Amanda was here and would stay, not just until Eve and Jan's new stepfather returned from their honeymoon, but as long as Jan needed her.

"You're a very foolish girl," her finished. "And that young man of yours was foolish too. You both got what you asked for—playing with love. Love's a serious business. That's the trouble with young people. They don't realize how serious it is."

"I know now," Jan admitted. She had learned the hard way.

"You won't believe this," Aunt Amanda stated firmly, "but some day you'll be happy again, too. You'll even love someone else again—unless this first love of yours turns out happily ever after, as it might."

"Oh, there's not a chance of that!" Jan objected.

"You never can tell," Aunt Amanda looked as wise as an old owl.

This did not keep her from thinking about Ray. She could not help wondering how he was, if he still was making such good progress and if he had left the small hospital in Philipsburg. She had hoped that he would receive some word about Ray, if not from him. Bernice could be wrong, she had not promised to do so, that was true. Jan had not asked her to write. However, when Jan had told Bernice that she felt she was her friend and knew she could depend upon her friendship, Jan had felt that Bernice would send some word.

And then the day came when she did hear Bernice. It was not a letter. It was a long distance call from Washington.

"I had to call you," Bernice said. "In fact, I have been wanting to call you for some time, Jan."

"I wondered why you hadn't," Jan said.

"I had given my word to Ray that I wouldn't."

"Oh, I see." She did not see, however, unless it was because Ray did not want Jan to know anything about him, believing that she did not care. "How is he, Bernice? Ready to take to his wings again, I hope."

She said this last as gaily as she could. For that was all that mattered—for Ray to be his old self once more, to be able to fly again.

Bernice's answer did not come over the wire for a long moment. Then she said: "I'm afraid Ray isn't ready to fly just yet, Jan. That's why I called you. He may never fly again. It's worse than that. Ray may never walk again."

"Never walk again!" Jan could not believe that she had heard correctly. "But that's impossible. He was getting along so fine. He was almost well when I left."

"You remember," Bernice said, "that day when I had a conference with Dr. Watkins?"

"As though Jan ever could forget that day."

"Yes, I remember," she said. What she remembered was the scene she had come upon when she had gone back to the hospital—Bernice at Ray's side, Ray looking up at her, his arms reaching out to pull her to him, hold her close.

"Dr. Watkins told me then," Bernice was saying, "that Ray's spine had been injured. He said it was doubtful that he would ever be able to walk."

"And you didn't tell me!"

"Ray made me promise that I would not," Bernice returned.

"You mean he knew? You told Ray?"

"Ray wanted the truth. I told him that day, before you came back. I told him there was only one chance. An operation. And it was that same day that Ray made me promise not to tell you and that same evening that you decided you ought to leave."

"Then that's what you two were talking about!" Jan said. That was why Bernice had leaned over to brush Ray's forehead with her lips, why he had held and kissed her hand. That scene did not have to mean that they were in love.

"You mean you did come back to the hospital and saw us?" Bernice asked.

"Yes," Jan admitted. "I saw you. That was the reason I left. You said something about there being a chance, Bernice. About an operation."

"That's why I decided to call you," Bernice said.

Jan remembered now how at the time there had seemed to be so many things that Bernice had left unsaid, things she had wanted to say.

"He's well and strong enough now," Bernice was saying. "I have the operation. But Ray doesn't believe it's worth the chance."

"Of course it is! Any chance, no matter how slim, was worth taking."

"I know you'd say that!" There was a new hope in Bernice's quiet voice. "Just as I knew I could count on you, Jan."

"What do you want me to do?"

"I want you to come back to Ray as soon as you can."

"Jan had not expected that."

"I want you to tell Ray the truth this time, Jan."

"The truth?"

"Yes, that you love him. That you went away, letting him believe you didn't, to give me a chance. Remember you told me once that you knew I loved Ray. Well, I did in a way. But now I know that he will never care for me like that, Jan. I know it's you he loves."

Invents Pegless Cribbage Board

DES MOINES, Ia. —(AP)—Louis Peterson, 29, who got tired of losing the pegs of his cribbage board, has invented one without pegs.

Peterson has obtained a patent on the pegless board. It consists of two transparent plastic dials. One dial revolves under the other against a clock-like face.

Use of two dials permits the setting of each dial alternately so players can tell not only how far they've gone, but where they started the last count.

Peterson now is hunting for a manufacturer.

Many Cases Heard In Police Court Yesterday

By CHESTER WALSH

In Police Court yesterday, shortly after Alfred Anderson, Negro farmer of the Winterville community, had been fined $700 and costs for his third offense of driving while drunk and driving a motor vehicle after his driver's license had been revoked, paid the fine and $39.70 court costs and he was released.

Anderson casually wrote the check for $739.70 and the court clerk had it certified at the bank.

Anderson was fined $500 for his third offense of driving while drunk and $200 for driving after his driver's license had been revoked. The court recommended that his driver's license be revoked for life.

Had Anderson failed to pay the fines he would have had to serve one year for driving while drunk and six months for driving after his driver's license had been revoked. The court also ordered that he be of good behavior for a year.

Joe N. Nelson, Negro, arrested by motorcycle patrolmen Vernon Ackert and Tommy Gladson for passing another vehicle on a curve, was given 30 days on the roads, suspended on payment of $30 and he had to surrender his driver's license to the clerk of the court for 30 days. The court gave him 30 days in jail or pay $20 for speeding. Patrolman Ackert testified that when they accosted Nelson and ordered him to drive to police headquarters he speeded his car to nearly 60 miles an hour. Incidentally, this was why he had to pay the extra $20. The officers said.

Leo Lynch, Negro, driving drunk, six months, suspended on payment of $100 and costs and he is not to operate a motor vehicle for a year. The court gave Lynch 12 months on the roads for driving after his license was revoked, sentence suspended on payment of $200 and costs, and he is not to operate a motor vehicle for two years. The second sentence would have to be served consecutively with the previous sentence, the court ruled.

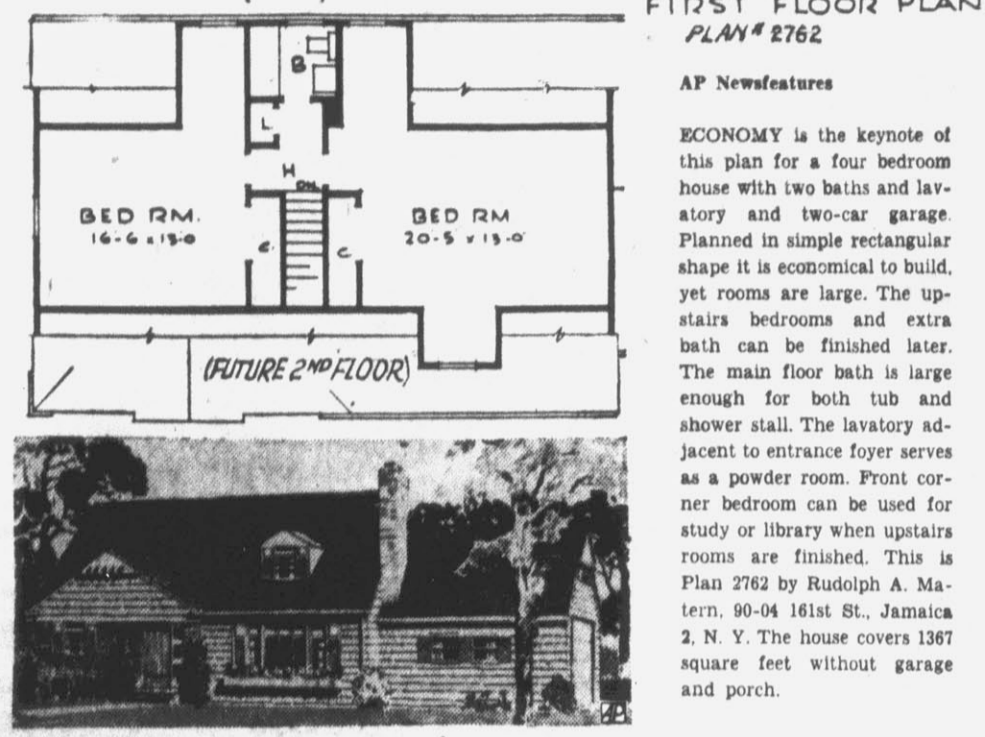

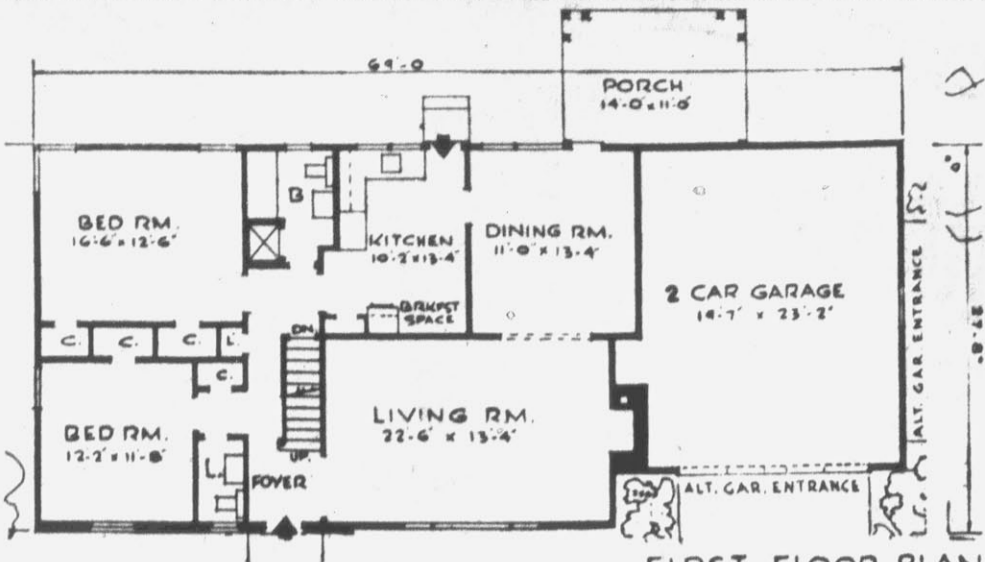

Failure to stop at red traffic lights, each defendant paying a fine of $10: Ralph E. McLawhorn, James J. Heath, Charlie Barnes, Negro Joseph R. Williamson and Paul S. Stanley and Vernice E. Dixon, Negro, and Thomas J. Haislip.

No operator's license: David N. Jordan, Negro, 30 days, suspended on payment of $25 and costs and he is not to drive a motor vehicle without a license; Richard E. Worthington, $25 and costs; Jerry Foster, Negro, called and failed, capias issued.

Failure to stop at a "stop" sign: Alfred E. Baucom, $10.

James Harper, Negro, driving

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

without an operator's license, probation judgment ordered revoked and Harper is to serve three months on the roads.

Speeding: John R. Crandall, $10; Allen T. Venters, $10; Larry J. Early, Negro, $25; Harry E. Porter, $20; David Boyd, Negro, 30 days in jail, suspended on payment of $30 and he is not to operate a motor vehicle for two weeks.

Joe Barrett, Negro, improper lights, 30 days, suspended on payment of $15 and he was ordered not to drive his car until it is in safe driving condition. The judge not crossed the case charging him with not having a driver's license. The charge of having defective brakes was combined with the first case.

Johnny Banks, Negro, no brakes, was called and he failed to answer. A capias was issued for him.

Richard Brown, Negro, paid $10 for having improper equipment. He was given 30 days for speeding suspended on payment of $25 and he is not to drive a motor vehicle for a week.

Willie Little, Negro, driving after his driver's license was revoked, six months on the roads, suspended on payment of $20 and costs and the court recommended that his driver's license be revoked for two years after July 15, 1952.

Jim Jenkins, Negro, reckless driving, called and failed to answer. A capias was issued for him.

Warren S. Hardee, careless and reckless driving and operating to the left of center of the road, was not guilty of careless and reckless driving; he was fined $10 for driving to left of center of road.

Drunk: Alfred E. White, $10; W. Guy Joyner, 30 days or pay $25; Robert Harrington, Negro, 30 days or $10; William E. Holmes, $10.

Poor Memories Costly To Ohio

COLUMBUS, O. —(AP) State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson claims the state of Ohio is losing $400,000 a year because drivers have poor memories.

That's because new Ohio drivers' licenses are good for three years and expire every three birthdays. Previously all licenses had to be renewed during the same period every year.

Ferguson claims thousands of drivers have failed to get driving permits because they can't remember when the old ones run out. Before they were reminded daily by during the regular renewal period.

Beethoven Has Kremlin Okay As Revolutionary

BERLIN —(AP)— About the only citizen of Bonn the Russians regard as worth while is a chap by the name of Ludwig Beethoven.

Under the Soviet system, it's not enough to call Beethoven a master musician. The Russians read into his works all sorts of tortured dreams for the workers and dire curses for the ruling classes. Every year since 1945, the Soviet press in Germany cranks up an ideology "piece" about Beethoven when his birthday, December 16, rolls around.

The Russian regards Beethoven's Third Symphony as loaded with "revolutionary" politics. It shows that Beethoven was dismayed at the gall of Napoleon wanting to be emperor and that his "democratic spirit" revolted, so they say.

More Low-Priced Homes Are Ahead

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. —(AP)— Houses in lower price ranges will comprise a higher percentage of homes built in 1952 than in 1951, the Committee on Economic Trends reported to the United States Savings and Loan League in its 59th annual convention.

William E. Taylor, president of the Security Federal Savings and Loan Association of Cleveland, O., who is chairman of the committee, predicted an increase in lower-priced building "because of the much favorable terms provided under revised credit regulations for houses priced at $12,000 or less."

KOREA BUYS RUBBER
PENANG, Malaya —(AP)— Korea entered the Malayan rubber market last month for the first time since the Korean war with a purchase of 30 tons valued at $22,700.

Latest statistics show Penang rubber exports during September dropped by more than $4-300,000.

The Azores in the Atlantic Ocean are 888 square miles in area. The islands belong to Portugal.

Honest Taxpayers Are Best Cure For Scandal In Bureau

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON — (AP) — One question keeps poking its head through the scandals in the Internal Revenue Bureau: how to prevent a repetition when this mess is finally cleaned up?

There's no single answer. The bureau's machinery for collecting taxes and checking to see that the arithmetic is right and no fraud is concealed in extremely complex.

This presumably will be improved. And the bureau will have to find some way of double-checking on its employees, checking on one another, to keep crookedness to a minimum.

But the best machinery can't change people. Some are crooks, inside the bureau and outside among the people who pay taxes and want to cheat and defraud.

Now and in the future any crookedness by a bureau employee will be impossible, no matter what kind of machinery is used, without complicity by a crooked taxpayer. The only foolproof remedy is complete honesty by the public.

And even with all the improvements being talked about, a lot of taxpayers will be able to get by with some loot since there still won't be enough bureau employees to check every return thoroughly.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue is boss of the bureau's 55,000 employees. But you, as a taxpaying citizen, will rarely have dealings with him, directly.

When you file a return, you send it to the Collector of Internal Revenue for your district. There are 64 district collectors, and all are political appointees.

This makes the collectors different from the bureau's other employees who are under government's civil service system and therefore, theoretically at least, are making government work a career.

They're not supposed to have any outside interests. But it's been all right for the non-Civil Service politically-appointed collectors to have outside interests.

Since the scandals broke six of the collectors have quit or been fired and two have been indicted.

Because of their prominence and political tie-ups they've received a lot of attention and the general public may have overlooked the fact that many more other employees of the bureau have been cut off from their jobs.

There's been a strong cry: take the inspectors out of politics; make it a law that only Civil Service people, coming up through the ranks, can get collectors' jobs.

And when congress returns in January President Truman will formally recommend that. And congress undoubtedly will carry out the idea. But that will be only a minor adjustment.

Honest taxpayers are the final, most effective assurance of honest tax collection.

Farmers Hunting African Lion In East Nebraska

WATERLOO, Neb. (UP)—Worried women and children stuck close by their homes today while gun-toting farmers hunted what they believe is an "African lion" which somehow turned up in Eastern Nebraska.

Townfolk became convinced the animal was a lion—and not a St. Bernard Dog—after four deputy sheriffs and a rural mail carrier reported spotting it in the headlights of their cars.

"It really looked like a lion," said Deputy Sheriff Dale Nelson. "It had shiny eyes and a light red coat and just floated along with long strides."

"You can bet your life we're worried," said Mrs. Nelson. "The mothers didn't want to send their children to church alone last night because the lion was believed nearby."

Her husband was hurriedly summoned at 2 a. m. yesterday by rural mail carrier Carl Anderson. Anderson said he saw the lion in his car's headlights outside the town when he was delivering newspapers.

Nelson called in other deputies and the four staged their own private lion hunt.

"I turned two spotlights on him," Nelson said, "and then started shooting. I think my first shot hit him but I'm not sure."

But the animal leaped over a six-foot wall at the local county fairgrounds and headed for Eikhorn river. The hunters lost its tracks there, and figured it had run alongside the river and disappeared in the underbrush.

A "lion" was first reported sighted by farmers a year ago near Cresco, Neb., about 50 miles from Waterloo. It supposedly turned up again Nov. 12 when farmer Joe Potacka said he saw an "African lion" stalking through his corn field.

That report touched off a search in a 50-mile area. Farmers told authorities some of the livestock was missing.

But the hunters called off their bloodhounds and snugly concluded there was a missing St. Bernard dog.

Now the hunt is back on—with guns, planes and bloodhounds.

There have been no reports of lions escaping from circuses or zoos hereabouts, and the temperature recently has been hovering near the freezing mark—much below the comfortable temperature for a lion.

Negro Scouters To Hold Meet In Wilson

Negro Boy Scout Officials will converge on Wilson, N. C., next Saturday to begin the first of three Training Conferences organized in North Carolina for the improvement of Divisional Scouting. Scouters representing more than one-third of the total counties in the North state will meet under the general leadership of Herbert Stuckey, Deputy Regional Scout Executive, Atlanta, Ga., Stuckey will be assisted by another Regional Deputy, Paul Runge, who has recently completed and released a comprehensive research project that will affect the recruitment, training, and maintaining of Scout Unit Leaders.

East Carolina's local Scout Executive, Ralph H. Mozo, has announced that Dr. Malcolm D. Williams, prominent educator and General Divisional Chairman of the council, has been appointed to give local leadership to the Wilson meeting which will include men from the East Carolina Council, Tuscarora Council, with headquarters in Goldsboro, and the Occochee Council with headquarters in Raleigh.

Dr. Williams has selected a staff of volunteers to assist him in making the December first meeting a success. He has chosen the Messrs E. A. Brown, C. I. Bland, William O. Taylor, R. Kelly Bryant, J. M. Schooler, J. H. Betts, and N. B. White to serve as afternoon discussion leaders for the seven phases of the conference.

Following a registration and fellowship period beginning at 9 o'clock in the morning of Saturday, December 1, the entire group will convene for a short opening session at which time Dr. Williams will preside. The Reverend Mr. T. A. Watkins, Pastor, First Baptist Church, Wilson, will pronounce the invocation. The Conference Chairman will orient the conference in the program for the day and introduce distinguished guests and the staff for the conference.

Certificates will be awarded to those who attend for the full conference; to those Divisions who bring a minimum of fourteen Scouters; and to the local Council who has the largest percentage of Negro Scouters in attendance.

IT'S A 17-POUND STEAK—Six national 4-H Food Preparation winners wielded oversized knife and fork on a 17-pound steak they prepared in a demonstration at the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. # Too Much Money For Road And Schools Body

By LYNN NISBET
RALEIGH — Believe it or not, there is one outfit in North Carolina which has so much money for roads and schools it doesn't know how to spend it.

A meeting of the executive committee of Better Schools and Roads, Inc., has been called for December 18 to pass upon disposition of some fifteen thousand dollars "surplus" remaining in the treasury of that organization.

It will be recalled that the corporation was formed in the spring of 1949 to sponsor the campaign in behalf of twenty-five million dollars in bonds for state aid to school buildings, and two hundred millions for secondary roads. The ideas met such popular approval that money poured into the headquarters offices. When the election was over and both bond issue had been approved by overwhelming votes, the corporation had about eighteen thousand dollars left in the treasury.

Sometime later an allocation of three thousand dollars was made to finance operations of a state highway safety campaign. There is now something like fifteen thousand in the fund, of which Allen Langston, Raleigh attorney, is treasurer.

What to do with it is the question confronting the executive committee at its December meeting. Several suggestions have been made, none of them having anything like unanimous approval. One proposal is to return the money pro rata to original contributors. That has two distinct disadvantages. One is that many of the donations were small and the bookkeeping job would be arduous. Another is that contributions liability in 1949 and any return would have to be counted as taxable income. That also could complicate bookkeeping no end.

Another suggestion is to use the money to finance courses in safe driving education in the public schools. Objections to that include

Big Dogs Tried Drown Little One

BUFFALO, N. Y. — (AP)—A grateful little dog was recovering today from shock and bites inflicted by two big dogs who tried to drown him.

A policeman termed the incident "attempted murder." An agent of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals called it "the most unusual story I've ever heard."

Patrolman William R. Carleton of the police department of suburban Tonawanda told how he rescued the mongrel from the icy waters of a creek:

"One dog had the little guy by the head or the ear and the other grabbed him by the hind leg and they 'lip' d him into the creek."

"Then they'd sit there and wait until the little one crawled back up on the bank, and the two big ones would grab him again and toss him back into the water."

"It's hard to believe, but they were actually trying to kill the little mutt."

One of the would-be murderers ran away and Carleton ran to the creek bank.

"The other one just sat there waiting for the little dog to crawl on the bank," Carleton said. "I chased him away."

The lowest spot in the United States is Inyo, Calif. It is 280 feet below sea level.

Invents Device Which He Says Can Cut Wrecks

ZURICH, Switzerland — (AP)—A Swiss traffic policeman has invented a device which, he says, could prevent 80 per cent of all traffic accidents.

Jakob Gosswiler, an inventor who is assigned to the Zurich Police Department's traffic division as a technical expert, said that if his combination brake and accelerator pedal had been used in the United States the past 50 years 800,000 lives would have been saved.

Under Gosswiler's system of a combined brake and accelerator pedal, one pushes down with his heel to provide more gas and with the ball of his foot to apply the brakes. The foot is, therefore, always in braking position. Furthermore, pressure on the brake pedal automatically cuts off the gasoline so there is no possibility of "stepping on the wrong pedal."

UMT Discussion Set By Student Group At ECC

E. R. Conway, Greenville business man, will lead a discussion on "Universal Military Training" among men of the Baptist Student Union at East Carolina College, Friday evening, November 30.

The event, one of a series of weekly programs, will take place at 6:30 at the Baptist Student Center on East Eighth Street, Green Hill.

Frances Barnes of Kenly and Virginia Wilkes of Lumberton, co-chairmen, are in charge of the series of programs, which were begun in September and are being continued by student request during the winter quarter at the college. Among speakers for the fall were President John D. Messick and Director of Religious Activities Robert L. Holt of East Carolina and J. G. Gibbs of Greenville, engineer with the State Highway Department.

Quadruplets occur once in 670,000 births.

Seek New Uses For Sweet Stuff

COLUMBUS, O. — (AP)—A honey of a family in distant Tasmania is looking around for new uses for the sweet stuff.

Harold R. Beer, who lives on the island off the Southeast Australia coast, raises bees and his family uses about 60 pounds per year for each of its five members. The average American family uses one and two-thirds pounds per person per year.

In order to get further mileage out of their crop, Beer recently wrote the Ohio State University extension service to get their booklet, "Honey and Honey Cookery".

The Sargasso Sea refers to the central area of the North Atlantic Ocean roughly between the West Indies and the Azores. In this area is the relatively warm central core of water around which moves the great eddy caused by the Gulf

LONDON — (AP)— Britain has nation's currency to the decimal system.

Thenew Conservative Chancellor or the Exchequer, Richard Austen Butler, told the House of Commons that suggestions to divide the shilling into 10 pennies—instead of the present 12—just aren't practical.

ORIGIN UNCERTAIN
BRIDGEWATER, N. S. —(AP)—Sketching the history of the native Indians of the Miamac tribe, Thomas Raddall, noted author and historian, said here that "only legends remain to tell us of the possible origin of the tribe." While there was a belief they came from the southwest, he said other evidence points to Eskimo extraction.

BASED ON 1949 VITAL STATISTICS, babies born in the U. S. in 1951 will live for an average of 67.6 years.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS WASTE
Neglecting kidneys, loss of sap and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to abnormal kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many follow suffering backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may also get you up nights or frequent passages. Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—helps the 14 million of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

TOM & JERRY
HUM—IT'S THERE! GET THAT AWAY!
THAT'S THE THIRD TIME YOU'VE RUN AWAY—I'M GETTING TIRED OF THIS!
YOUR MOTHER SAID TO KEEP AN EYE ON YOU—AND THAT'S WHAT I INTEND TO DO!!
OH YEAH—NOW??

RUSTY RILEY
I WANT TO TELL YOU IT'S A TERRIFIC THING TO HAVE BROUGHT THESE PIGMY HORSES TO THE MUSEUM, ALIVE.
DR. BOB—ARE YOU KEEPING ALL THREE OF THEM?
I KINDA THINK HORSES DON'T LIKE LIVING IN A MUSEUM.
RUSTY'S GOT SOMETHING THERE, BOB.
COULDN'T WE KEEP THE STALLION AND MARE AT MILESTONE FARM WHILE YOU STUDY THE COLT HERE?
KENTUCKY BLUE GRASS IS GOOD FOR ALL HORSES—GIANTS OR MIDSETS.

THE PHANTOM
I DON'T KNOW WHO YOU ARE OR HOW YOU DID ALL THIS—OR HOW TO THANK YOU.
DADDY—HE WAS JUST—WONDERFUL!
THE REST OF THE GANG ARE STILL IN THE WOODS—YOUR TROOPS CAN PICK THEM UP EASILY I BROUGHT YOU A TROPHY—ALL!
I'D LIKE TO HAVE HIM STUFFED BUT THAT HEAD WOULD SPOIL MY TROPHY ROOM.

FLASH GORDON
BUT, WITHIN THE STEEL HULL, MEN WORK WITH A FEVERISH FREELY READYING THE SOCKET, FLASHY SPONSOR, FOR AN EARLY DAWN LAUNCHING!
IN DEATHLESS SILENCE, THE BEAK PERSON IN PRIZE HANGS IN THE COLD BLACK SKY ABOVE THE EARTH LIKE A SLEEPING STAR...
...THE HOPE OF ESCAPE!!
—ALSO A.H.—READY? BIG MOE?
READY?—I'M ITCHING! LET'S GO!!
FOR THEIR FLASH GORDON AND HIS CREW WERE FORCED TO LAND HERE FOR EMERGENCY REPAIRS, A BUBBLING HOPE SPREAD UP IN THE HEART OF EVERY CAGED SOUL ON THIS FLOATING 'DEVIL'S ISLAND'.

BLONDIE
GREAT SCOTT! YOU'RE NOT PUTTING UP THAT NEW LIGHT FIXTURE WITHOUT TURNING OFF THE POWER?
SURE
THERE—THAT LOOKS BETTER
NOW, WHY ARE YOU CARRYING THE OLD FIXTURE LIKE THAT?
A PERSON CAN'T BE TOO CAREFUL, DEAR
THERE MIGHT BE A LITTLE ELECTRICITY LEFT IN IT

OZARK IKE
SO YOU THINK THAT RAY-CHASER WILL WIN US THE RO-FOOTBALL CROWN, STORMY?
SURE, COACH—OUR LUCKY ASPECT THUNDERBOLTS WON'T LET US DOWN!
...FOR I HAVE TAKEN STEPS TO SEE THAT THUNDERBOLTS GETS THE PUBLICITY HE DESERVES!
AND HEAR OF IT THEY SHALL
WELL, LOOKA HERE, OZARK... DID YOU EVEN SEE ANYTHING LIKE THIS ON THE SPORTS PAGE?
