Local Utilities' Servicing Of Grimesland Area Confronted By Big Washington Rate Reduction

By JESS POINDEXTER Reflector Staff Writer A sharp slash in electrical rates by the Washington Utilities Commission has imperiled the position of many of Greenville's customers in the Grimesland area.

The reduction in rates went into effect February 1, and came about when the Washington commissioner cut the cost of electricity to their domestic customers.

A delegation from Grimesland appeared before a meeting of the Greenville Utilities Commission last night and requested that they be allowed to lower their rates to meet Washington's reduction.

Hereafter, Greenville has been furnishing Grimesland current for consumers in that area, and has a contract which stipulates that Grimesland cannot sell current lower than the Greenville rate.

According to the Grimesland representatives, the Greenville commercial rate for the first 1,000 kilowatt hours—which Grimesland is now charging—is $40.00. They reported last night that Washington has cut the price of electricity to $25.35 for the first 1,000 kilowatt hours.

Reluctant "We are aware that our contract denies us the right to undersell you," spokesmen said, "but we feel that we must meet Washington's rates if we are to keep our customers." They reported that sentiment is with the Greenville line, and stated that if they are allowed to meet Washington's price they can hold their present consumers.

The question arose last night as to whether Washington can legally reduce their rates so drastically. It was reported that municipalities are not under the control of the N. C. Utilities Commission and, therefore, may raise or lower their rates as will—whereas, a power company may not.

REA Competition A spokesman for the Grimesland delegation said last night that members of the Washington commission claimed they had to cut rates to compete with REA rates. The REA line is furnishing current to consumers at the rate of $25.20 for the first 1,000 kilowatt hours, he said.

Information received this morning from Washington revealed that their rates are highly discriminatory, with people in the city paying about twice as much for current as the rural customers. This situation exists from the river all through the Chocowinity area.

"The Washington line is actually furnishing the first 1,000 kilowatt hours $20.75 cheaper to rural customers than it costs the people in the city of Washington," disclosed Larry Brown, business manager of the Greenville Utilities Commission.

Inquiry Promised The local commission agreed that some relief was due the Grimesland customers and promised to conduct an investigation to determine just what steps can be taken to ease the situation.

One member of the commission said, "I can see that these people are caught between two fires, so to speak, and I hope we can do something to help them. However, I question the logic of allowing them to sell current cheaper than it costs the people of Greenville.

"After all, Greenville citizens are paying for the plant, and I do not think it fair to them for us to allow someone else to sell electricity at less than the cost to them."

The loss of the Grimesland contract would entail a rather large financial loss to the city however, because they have invested around $10,000 in the Grimesland line, and a present, Grimesland is buying more than $1,900 worth of current each month.

Tax-Slash Talk Grows Despite Truman Advice

One Administration Leader Admits Fear Of Reaction Should He Introduce Legislation For Tax Increase To Congress

WASHINGTON (UP)—Maybe there will be some consolation in this for the harassed taxpayer who sees the March 15 tax deadline just around the corner.

Congressmen are doing much more talking about cutting taxes than they are about increasing them.

This is despite President Truman's recommendation for another increase.

One administration leader said he would be afraid to take a tax boosting bill to the floor of Congress with members in their present frame of mind.

"We would be more likely to get a tax cut than we would a tax increase," said this Democratic official, who asked not to be quoted by name.

Other Democrats, as well as Republicans share this view.

In view of the prevailing sentiment, a high-ranking Republican was asked:

"Do you believe that if the Republicans gain control of the next Congress, one of their first major acts will be to reduce taxes?"

"The Republican begged off giving an answer. He said he thought taxes should be reduced all right, but he didn't want to put himself in the position of predicting what the next Congress would do.

The Republicans promised a tax reduction in 1945 if they were given control of the incoming 80th Congress. They won the election and did reduce taxes—over President Truman's veto—but they wound up losing the 1948 election anyway.

Mr. Truman has advised Congress that a deficit of $14,400,000,000 is in prospect for the 1953 fiscal year unless taxes are increased.

He urged that Congress make up at least $4,000,000,000 of this prospective deficit through higher taxes.

All indications now are that Congress will ignore this recommendation unless and until the President submits a new and more urgent request.

If a new request is made—possibly in the form of a special message on the subject—then Mr. Truman will have to take his chances on whether he gets a bill to increase taxes or one to cut taxes.

At the moment the odds would strongly favor the latter.

Asks $76,000 Damages In Suit Against Lumber Co.

Through his attorneys, Paul Morris of 1306 Washington Street, Greenville, filed a complaint with the clerk of Superior Court here Monday asking damages totaling $76,000 from the Bate Lumber Company of New Bern.

The complaint contends that on September 2, 1951, Morris entered into a contract with the Bate Lumber Company to install six boiler screens across the top of six boiler stacks on company premises in New Bern.

According to the complaint, Morris went to the premises of the Bate Lumber Company on Sunday, September 2, the day before Labor Day. He proceeded to rig his ropes and pulleys on one of the stacks, and installed smoke screens on stacks number 1, 2, 3 and 4.

By the night of September 2, Morris contends that he had completed the installation of smoke screens on four of the stacks and with night coming on he approached the foreman and informed him that he had completed the work on four of the stacks.

The complaint reads that the foreman informed him neither of the six boilers would be fired before, or on, the next day, which was September 3, 1951—Labor Day. Since the removal of the ropes would entail extra work, and since he was being paid at the rate of $2.00 per hour, he decided to leave his ropes and pulley attached to the return the next day he planned to return the work. Such a decision would accrue to the benefit of the Bate Lumber Company, Morris contends, since he was being paid by the hour.

Morris further contends that the foreman, while acting as agent, servant and employee of the Bate Lumber Company, assured him that there would be no fire in either of the six boilers before or on September 3.

According to the complaint, Morris returned to the premises on September 3, to complete work on the remaining two stacks. After testing the ropes from the ground, Morris claims he began the ascent to the top of the stack.

Just as he reached a spot approximately 73 feet from the ground, Morris claims, the rope broke due to its having been burned on the stack the night before, and he fell through ropes, guy wires, and landed on a tin roof just above the ground.

The complaint contends that his hands were burned and torn on the ropes due to his rapid descent, his right hand was seriously and painfully injured, his right ankle fractured, his back broken in four places, and his entire body severely cut, lacerated and bruised.

Morris claims he was forced to remain in a plaster cast for a period of four months, and suffered pain and mental anguish. He was forced to wear a second cast for a period of several months, and at present, is forced to wear a stiff, steel and leather brace, and is suffering complete disability.

The complaint asks that because of complete and permanent disability, Morris should recover the sum of $60,000; that for severe pain, shock, and acute mental sufferings resulting from the nature of his injuries, he should recover $10,000.

And further, for loss of time and wages from the date of the accident, September 3, 1951, until the present, he should recover $3,500; and for expenses incurred for medical care, hospitalization, doctors and nurses' bills, and drug bills, he should recover $2,500.

The defendant, the Bate Lumber Company of New Bern, has 30 days in which to file an answer to the complaint.

Hears Verdict, Swallows Poison

HERTFORD (UP)—Clarence Chick Burnett, 49, Negro, swallowed a half ounce of iodine in recorders court here yesterday after being found guilty on an assault charge.

"I'd rather kill myself than let folks run over me and take my wife away from me," Burnett shouted. A doctor treated him and his condition was "not serious" today.

Burnett was sentenced to twelve months on the roads for assault on his wife and nine-year-old child.

Newark Airport Is Closed Down During Inquiry

Conferees Take Other Steps To Safeguard Residents Within Area

NEW YORK (UP)—Newark Airport was padlocked today for the duration of a congressional investigation of the three Elizabeth, N. J., plane crashes that took 117 lives within two months.

An agreement to keep the $52,000,000 installation closed was reached last night at a six-hour closed meeting of government and city officials and executives of 25 scheduled and non-scheduled airlines.

The conferees took two additional steps to protect alarmed residents living near Newark's LaGuardia and Idlewild International Airports and prevent disasters in areas near the nation's other major airfields.

Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, "ace of aces" in World War I and now president of Eastern Airlines was named chairman of a 15-man committee to blueprint a safety program for airports built near heavily populated areas of other cities. The Rickenbacker group meets here on Friday.

Brig. Gen. Milton Arnold, vice-president of the Air Transportation Association, called a meeting of scheduled airline operators today to work out new flight plans for LaGuardia and Idlewild Airports, now absorbing the Newark field's traffic.

Charles A. Horne, head of the Civil Aeronautics Administration, said last night the CAA would relieve the port of New York Authority, which operates the three metropolitan airports, of its control tower responsibilities at LaGuardia and Idlewild.

Horne said the CAA would use its powers to enforce takeoff priorities at the two great fields.

"These priorities apply at both LaGuardia and New York International airport at Idlewild for utilization of runways which permit takeoffs over water or over the most sparsely settled areas a matter of course," Horne said.

Airline Tragedy Toll Is Now 32

ELIZABETH, N. J. (UP)—The death toll of a National Airlines crash here two days ago rose to 32 today when Mrs. Sarah Aronwald of New York died at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Mrs. Aronwald, 52, was the 28th passenger of the four-motored airplane to die as a result of the third major air disaster in the city since Dec. 16. The triple tragedies claimed a total of 118 lives.

The airliner crashed into a four-story apartment house and burst into flames in a playground behind a home for orphans early Monday morning. Four occupants of the apartment house were killed.

Birthday Today For Mrs. Truman

WASHINGTON (UP)—Mrs. Bess Truman is 67 years old today and it was the only day this week her publicly-announced schedule listed no civic or social activity.

The first lady is expected to celebrate the anniversary with a quiet dinner at Blair House with the President, Margaret Truman, who turns 28 next Sunday, is not in town.

A-Bomb Progress

LONDON (AP)—Work of Britain's first atom bomb is pushing ahead so quickly that the money is running out.

The Ministry of Supply, the government department responsible for making the bomb, asked Parliament today for another 800,000 pounds ($2,400,000). This is in addition to the one million pounds ($3,000,000) already voted by Parliament this year.

The request, continued in supplementary estimates for government departments, said that the extra cash was needed for the production of uranium "because work is progressing more quickly than expected."

Britain imports uranium, key material in making the atom bomb, mainly from the Belgian Congo and from Canada.

Russell 'Puzzled' By UMT Stand

WASHINGTON (UP)—Benjamin G. Browdy, president of the Zionist Organization of America, said at the White House today that President Truman told him he will decide definitely "within 10 or 15 days" whether to seek re-election.

"Judging by his remarks, I would say he is going to run again," the Jewish leader said.

He urged Mr. Truman to run. Browdy told reporters he had just completed a nationwide tour and wanted to tell the chief executive that he sensed "definite" sentiment for Mr. Truman.

"I urged him to run for re-election," Browdy said. "I am sure the rank and file is with him.

"As usual, he did not give me the answer but he said he would make up his mind in the next 10 or 15 days."

The Zionist leader, head of a New York textile company, would not elaborate on the "remarks" by the President which led him to feel firmly that the chief executive will stand for re-election.

Yesterday, Rep. Adolph J. Sabath (D-Ill.) said after a meeting with Mr. Truman that the President was willing to seek re-election if he thought it would contribute to world peace.

Meanwhile, Republicans campaigning for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower have decided to make their next major bid for support in the critical state of Pennsylvania, it was learned.

An announcement is expected this week putting the North Atlantic commander in Pennsylvania's GOP presidential preference primary April 22. Next Monday is the deadline for filing.

Like some other states, Pennsylvania holds a presidential preference vote in which the names of the candidates themselves are entered. This vote is not binding, however, on convention delegates elected at the same time.

Pennsylvania and California, each with 10 delegates, are second only to New York in voting power at the GOP convention. Sixty delegates will be elected in the primary to accompany the 10 at-large delegates already chosen.

Predict Arnall's Endorsement As Price Stabilizer

WASHINGTON (UP)—Democratic leaders today predicted "easy" Senate confirmation of Ellis Arnall as price stabilizer.

The nomination of the former Georgia governor probably will come to a floor vote Monday. Senate leaders said no earlier vote is possible because Republicans, out of town for Lincoln Day speech-making, were promised that no major votes would be taken this week.

The Senate Banking Committee unanimously recommended yesterday that the Senate confirm Arnall to succeed Michael V. Disalle, who is leaving Friday to run for an Ohio Senate seat.

Want Airport Closed Down

ASK FOR AIRPORT—Miss Luella Collier, a resident of the Elizabeth, N. J., apartment house struck by a falling National Airlines DC-6 plane, signs a petition at the crash scene seeking the closing of Newark Airport. E. W. Hague, local business man soliciting signatures, holds the signature board. Miss Collier had been entertaining guests when the plane, Miami bound with 62 passengers, struck the building killing seven residents to raise the crash toll to over 20 in the city's third air tragedy within two months. White House Visitor Claims President Told Him He Will Decide In Next 10 Or 15 Days Whether To Seek Reelection

'Spring Opening' Event Dates Set

Greenville merchants are in preparation to launch another "Spring Opening" this year and the official dates have been set for February 21, 22 and 23.

During the three days, a number of merchants in the city are planning to feature one special item and new spring merchandise, not close-out winter merchandise, will be on display in all types of stores.

Cards to out-of-town shoppers will be sent out by the Merchants Association, sponsors of the opening, inviting them to come to Greenville on the three particular days. The event is designed to give the general public, both in the city, the county and surrounding communities, the opportunity to see the newest styles in ladies' and men's wearables, furniture, radio, television and other items.

Merchants are planning to trim their windows with official banners and attractive new spring merchandise for the three-day event which, in previous years, has lasted for only one day.

B. D. Johnston, chairman of the Trade Promotion Committee of the Merchants Association, said that the merchants were planning to have a "bang-up" spring opening as a city-wide project. Johnston said several groups have been working on the plans for the opening for the past two weeks.

Lake Is Drained; Culprits Sought

JAMESBURG, N. J. (UP)—Police searched today for culprits who made a two-mile long lake disappear.

Someone opened the floodgates on Lake Manalapan yesterday. The sun came up today on two miles of mudflats. Down the drain also went bass and pickerel stocked by the state.

Return Of All Prisoners Within 2 Months Of Armistice Agreed Upon; UN Also Offers Reduce Demands On Ports Of Entry; Fighting Briefly Flares

PANMUNJOM, Korea (UP)—The United Nations and the Communists agreed today to return all war prisoners within two months of a Korean armistice.

The U. N. also offered to meet the Reds half-way in the dispute over the number of ports through which rotated troops may pass during a truce.

Both steps were taken in meetings of staff officers. The full truce negotiations still were in recess, awaiting a promised Communist compromise proposal for a full-scale Korean armistice.

Col. George Hickman, senior U. N. staff officer, told the Reds at the meeting on a prisoner exchange that the Allies could move to the exchange point all 132,000 Communist prisoners within 60 days of an armistice.

The Communists promised they would have all 11,859 Allied war prisoners at the exchange point within the same period.

The agreement was believed to have settled all outstanding questions relating to an exchange of war prisoners except the most controversial point of all—the U. N.'s insistence that prisoners shall have the right to refuse repatriation.

The Communists still contend that all prisoners should be repatriated, by force if necessary.

The name of Gen. William F. Dean, highest-ranking American officer in Communist hands, was mentioned for the first time in the truce talks. His name came up when the Reds said it would be impossible for Red Cross representatives to accompany all Allied prisoners to the exchange points.

"This would not be mandatory for all prisoners," Hickman replied. "It would be done, for instance, to accompany General Dean to the exchange point."

Dean, reported in good health, is held with one other Allied prisoner, a private, in a private residence in Pyongyang.

8TH ARMY HQ, Korea (UP)—Communist infantrymen hit United Nations lines with stepped up probing attacks today and again suffered heavy casualties before being forced back.

Allied artillery killed or wounded an estimated 80 Reds out of two companies engaged in three night-long attacks against Allied positions West of the Punchbowl on the Eastern front.

The action was the heaviest of 30 contacts made by Communist probing forces along the 145-mile battlefield. Reds started attacking advance Allied positions late Tuesday night and continued lobbing hand grenades and firing automatic weapons until morning.

American jet pilots flew over North Korea seeking revenge for downed ace Maj. George A. Davis Jr., of Lubbock, Tex., but spotted only 42 Communist MIG-15 jets without engaging in any fights.

Taft's Brother Snubbed By His Home County

CINCINNATI (AP)—Charles P. Taft's home county Republican party scorchingly denounced him last night and endorsed a rival of his for the GOP gubernatorial nomination, State Sen. Roscoe F. Walcutt.

The party's action came as Walcutt was urging the Cincinnati attorney and brother of Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) to get out of the race and let two "clear-cut" Republicans—former Gov. Thomas J. Herbert of Cleveland and himself—battle it out for the nomination for governor of Ohio.

The Hamilton County GOP organization left no doubt that its snub of Taft was deliberate. It bitterly attacked the Cincinnati's candidacy and his past record, mentioning particularly his "16 jobs under the New Deal and Fair Deal administrations."

Army Announces Biggest Reserve Training Plans

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army announced today it will conduct this year the biggest summer-camp training program for its reserves in the nation's history.

The department said in a news release that 160,000 reserve officers and enlisted men will be called for 15 days of active duty, for training on a "mandatory" basis. Volunteers and other categories will bring the training total up to about 190,000.

It will be the second summer that members of the troop program units of the Organized Reserve Corps have been required to attend summer camp. Last year 121,000 reservists were trained in the largest field encampment program to date. In 1950, about 50,000 took summer field training.

"Eastern Carolina's Shopping Center"

Impressions

By MARTHA S. FORBES

All of us, being the variable human creatures that we are, like at times to pretend to be something that we aren't. But few of us will admit that such pretensions usually make us appear quite foolish in the eyes of our fellowman.

When we lived in Pittsburgh, Pa., several years ago, I was the half of the family that was thrilled to death at the prospects of big city life—and I was also the one that most wanted to come back home. I suffered from delusions of glamour!

Ah, the big city, I thought, where I will get culture, refinement and an exciting experience of sipping cups of tea with the wives of the steel magnates. Being a "joiner" I could just see myself a member of the Pittsburgh Women's Club, its Garden Club, its Country Club, etc.

Well, I studied the papers to find out where the "cultural center" of the city was. I familiarized myself with the names of the society and cultural organizations, so that my mind would be made up as to what I would join, when the people came swarming after me with invitations.

My only experience with "culture" was a disastrous one—simply because I pretended to be something that I wasn't.

I located the "house" where the traveling opera companies, the Broadway plays, the symphony orchestras and other such high brow entertainments were given. When, on our Saturday night weekly visit to the downtown section of the city, I saw a poster proclaiming that Clare Booth Luce was to be there in person—and best of all for free—nothing must do but that I must go to see all and hear all. All I then knew about her was that she was the author of "The Women", a successful Broadway and motion picture hit, and that she, herself, was somewhat of a glamour queen.

Here was my first chance and the protests of my husband were not going to deter me.

So, late as usual, we plowed through the crowd that was cluttering up the lobby of the Orpheum, or whatever the place was named, and wended our way up thousands of dark, narrow stairs, finally securing a seat in the "crown's nest" balcony. We stumbled down the balcony steps, seeking a seat in the crowded auditorium, too busy to note what was taking place on the stage, miles below.

After crushing a few bones and knocking off a few hats in our attempt to find a seat, we thankfully squeezed ourselves in two narrow seats right against the farther wall.

I focused my nearsighted gaze on the stage below and saw several imposing looking people seated around a table draped with flags and bunting. I heard a distant voice say, "And now we shall see pictures of our great leader and statesman—the next president of the United States!"

There flashed on the screen before my "democratic" eyes an over-size picture of Wendell Willkie, the 1940 Republican candidate for president. Alas and alack! We were bearded in the lion's den of a huge Republican rally and pep meeting. Imagine our southern humiliation!

When the audience was asked to stand and pay tribute to "the country's greatest man" we did not know what to do. As we remained rather hesitantly seated, people around us began to glare and scowl at us with such suspicious looks that we cringed. They evidently thought we were spies!

"Let's get out of here quick," I whispered, "Clare Booth Luce or not." I was afraid that we would be caught as traitors to the cause and maybe arrested for trespassing.

To make bad matters worse, or rather our attempts at culture more futile, some crusading type of woman stood forth and announced that Miss Luce would not be present due to illness but that she sent greetings to party members.

When the audience finally stood to express their patriotism through the singing of the national anthem, we tried, as inconspicuously as possible, to ease our way out of the multitude. Apologetically elbowing our way upward and out of the balcony, we finally landed without further mishap on the street below.

We got what we deserved, I suppose, in trying to be something that we aren't. Others appear just as foolish and ridiculous when they fill their lives with pretensions.

Pastors' Radio Program Set Up

A new radio program, The Pastor's Study, will be heard over radio station WGTC each Sunday night from 10:30 to 10:45.

The program is being sponsored by the Greenville radio station and the Greenville Ministerial Association.

The program has been arranged to have a representative of the Greenville Ministerial Association answer on the air questions relating to religion, morals and other matters which are telephoned in by listeners during the program.

The Rev. Leon Russell, pastor of the Jarvis Memorial Methodist church, has been appointed by the Ministerial Association to conduct the program and answer the questions which are telephoned in during the program.

A spokesman for the association said the program is a new kind of religious program in Greenville, but in other areas where it has been instituted there has been an enthusiastic public response. "We are eager to make the program a success here," the spokesman for the Ministerial Association said, "and the first few programs will be vital to that."

He urged that persons who have questions they would like answered on the air to call WGTC during the Pastor's Study program. He said the identity of the persons who ask questions on the program will not be revealed.

International Relations Group Discusses Israel

The discussion group which is sponsored by the International Relations Department of the Woman's Club and of the AAUW met on last Friday night at the home of Mrs. Walter Krausnick, chairman.

The purpose of the group is to stimulate thinking which will lead to action concerning problems of import. Only a small group regularly attends, but much constructive talk and criticism keeps the members informed as to what is going on in the world of today.

The subject for the last meeting was "Israel". Members submitted questions from which came points for consideration concerning types of immigrants and the social, economic and political problems and their significance in the light of world events.

It was brought out that some 700,000 Jews are now in the new "promised land" and they are facing many problems, particularly with reference to the high cost of living, the state of continuous warfare, and economic adjustments. One hopeful sign of better conditions was mentioned with reference to the successful irrigation projects which are reclaiming soil which is now being made productive. Many lush truck farms are successfully operating.

The influence of the Western and Eastern blocs was discussed and it was noted that the United Nations generally favors the Arab block in its decisions.

The group expressed the hope that eventually a World Federation of Nations would be established to promote world citizenship and that Israel is an example of a step in that direction.

The meeting closed with a report on Universal Military Training as discussed in the December issue of the Christian Century. It was the general consensus of opinion among the members present that selective service is probably preferable to universal military training.

Mrs. Krausnick, chairman of the group, is also state chairman of the International Relations Group of the AAUW. She invites any person interested in discussing the political, social and economic problems of the day to meet with the group at its next meeting.

History of Drama Traced For Club By Ralph Rives

Mrs. A. C. Ruffin introduced the guest speaker for the afternoon, Mr. Ralph Rives. Mr. Rives is a senior at East Carolina College and gave a very interesting program on the history of the drama. He stated that the drama was a combination of all the fine arts—music, literature, poetry and the dance. "It is a grouping together of all the ways man has of expressing himself," he said.

He traced the history from the first real dramatist—the Greeks—400 years before Christ down to the present day. He said, "Through the drama man seeks to grow through human experience, and through us the world will grow in human understanding."

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. N. B. Beard, Mrs. R. W. Stark and Janet Watson, served a delicious sweet course with salted nuts and coffee.

I strolled through the streets of Greenville,

Where garbage is a thing unknown; I paused at numerous flower beds To ask for a bud they had grown.

They showed me through every garden The space between house and walk; And their wonderful way of living Would make all people talk.

For grass they had scraps of paper, Their roses they grew in bright cans;

The lilies that flourish in ash heaps Won prizes in all foreign lands. O' beautiful, beautiful Greenville, With barrels and trash galore, Will negligence be your example That you will regret and deplore?

Rise up with broom and shovel The aid of all who enlist; Show the world, no town like Greenville, In the Old North State exists.

Chapter 3

The road curved along a low embankment that bordered the shore, and from time to time there was a break in the trees, so that you could see patches of harbor and the white clean strip of beach. Johnny Saxon had stopped the roadster on the landscaped roadway of the estate and had been watching the girl running along the sand. Because of the angle at which he was looking through the trees, he saw only the girl at first, the sleek white bathing suit molding her fine figure. A moment later the fellow swept into view, the boy who was chasing the girl.

Johnny said, "I wouldn't mind chasing something like that myself."

Moe Martin frowned against the bright sunlight as he followed his well-dressed partner's gaze. He said, "It's nice here, isn't it?"

Johnny said, "It's nice indeed." He was still watching the girl.

They both sat there in the deep warm quiet of the afternoon, watching the boy and the girl. Finally Moe Martin said worriedly, "We'd better get going. We're late now. They might not like it."

Johnny sighed and put the car in speed again and they followed the winding road through the base estate. A few moments later they drew up before the house.

Moe Martin said, "We must have made a mistake." He kept looking at the huge house.

The house was of Vermont granite. Johnny Saxon guessed that it must have contained at least thirty rooms. If he got the opportunity he would count them and find out. The drive ended in a great circular sweep that enclosed sunken gardens.

Johnny switched off the motor and sat there taking in the magnificence of the estate. A shaded patio flanked one end of the house; beyond this, there was a lawn terrace spotted with modernistic metal tables and brightly colored swings. The terrace led down to a long swimming pool whose sides were tinted sea-green, so that the water in the pool looked like clear green creme de menthe.

Johnny said, "This is the place, all right. You don't think for a minute we would have got by that watchman at the gatehouse if it wasn't, and we didn't have that confirmation asking us out here?"

"I still think it's some kind of hotel," said Moe.

He climbed out, unlocked the trunk compartment in the rear of the car and started reaching inside for one of the new traveling bags. Abruptly, somewhere behind him, there came a very deep-throated barking. Moe turned around—and froze in horror. The animal that was galloping toward him had all the characteristics of a dog, but on a much larger scale. It was like no kind of dog that Moe Martin had ever seen.

"Holy cow!" Moe wailed, and scrambled back into the car.

But the protective movement was useless. With the top of the roadster down, there was nothing to stop the beast from placing his front feet on the running board and sticking his huge face right inside the car.

Johnny Saxon reached past his terrified partner and patted the dog's huge head. "Hello, boy," he said fondly.

The dog sniffed loudly at Johnny's hand.

Moe squeezed back against the seat cushions, his eyes batting wildly. "What is it?" he stammered.

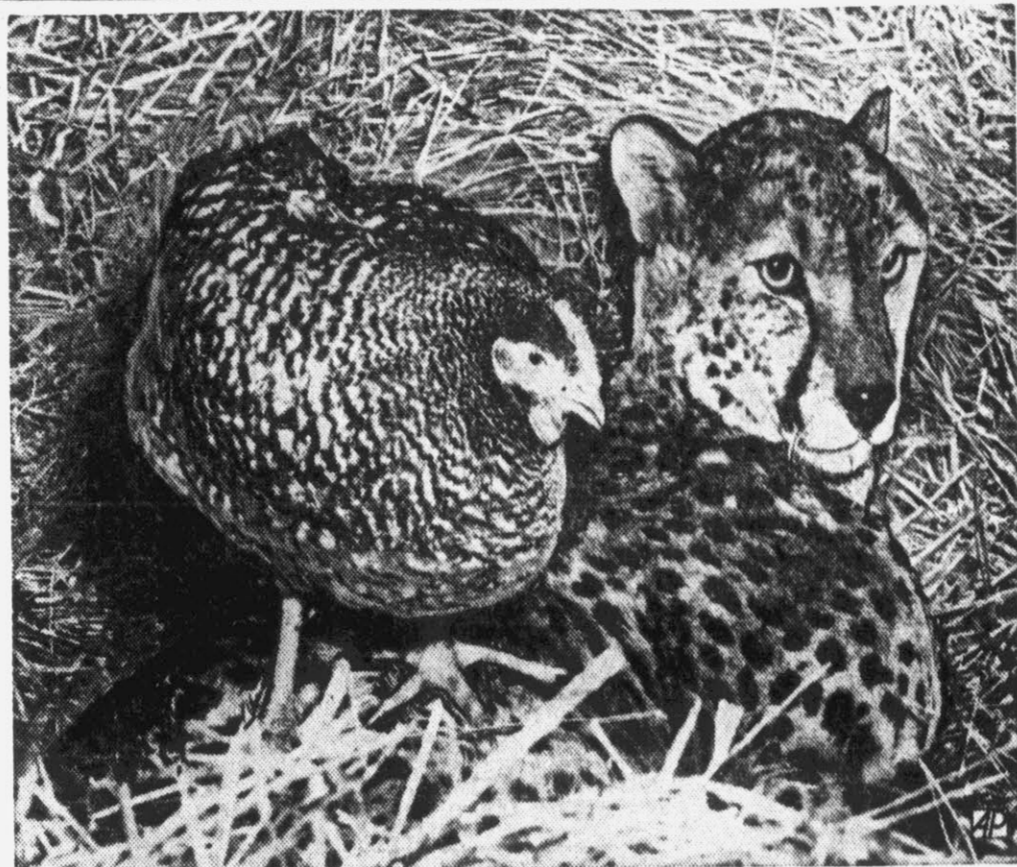

"A great Dane," explained Johnny Saxon. "They're fine dogs. They're very gentle."

"How do you know?" Moe's teeth were chattering.

"Well, that's what everyone tells you."

"I'm not going to take anyone's word for it!" Moe shrieked back in horror as the dog turned his great head and stuck it almost in his face. He tried to get clear, but the animal's shoulders and head blocked him from moving in any direction.

The girl's pleasant voice said,

A TEMPORARY SITUATION — "Friendly" proximity of chicken to cheetah in Chicago's Coliseum probably did not last since feline had no appetite for proffered fowl at photo time.

"He won't bite you." And then she said, "Michael! Get down, boy!"

The great Dane jumped down from the car and nuzzled his big sad face against the girl's trim figure.

The girl was the one Johnny Saxon had seen running along the beach. He saw that he had not been mistaken in his distant impression of her. She was a lovely fine girl with beautiful red hair and green eyes, and now she was wearing white sandals and a beach robe thrown around her shapely figure.

He climbed out of the car and said, "I've had a letter here."

He started to reach inside his pocket.

"Are you Johnny Saxon?"

He nodded. He liked the sound of her voice.

"I heard you were coming," the girl said. Johnny thought her eyes were about the nicest green he had ever seen. She held out her hand.

"I'm Kay," she offered. "Kay Smith. My mother is Irene Smith."

"Oh," said Johnny. Her fingers were cool. Then he said, "This is my associated, Mr. Martin."

Kay smiled. Moe climbed cautiously out of the car, his eyes on the great Dane. The dog stood leaning a part of his weight against the girl's bronzed legs and gave Moe a disinterested regard.

"Glad to know you," said Moe shakily.

The girl looked back at Johnny Saxon. "You came here about mother," she said. "Well, there are some things I ought to tell you."

These associations handle the making and servicing of all loans made by the bank in the district.

At Auction

Friday Feb. 15th - 2:30 P. M.

The R. D. Whitehurst Farm, formerly known as the old Jim Jones Farm. Located 2 miles from Greenville City Limits on Pactolus Highway.

Containing 96 acres, more or less, with 62 acres cleared. All of this land being in one block. One of the nicest farms that we have ever had the opportunity of handling. Located right in the back door of one of the finest tobacco markets in the world. With allotments as follows: Tobacco—18 acres; Peanuts—17 acres; Cotton—5; original allotment. Out of 62 acres of cleared land, there is 40 acres of money crop. 22 acres of corn.

Have you ever seen a farm sold that had this per cent of acres in cash crops before? Neither have I. Why pay taxes on farm land that has no cash crop allotment? Just think of two-thirds of the land on this farm has cash crop allotments.

No, that isn't all. One 6-room dwelling house in perfect condition; one 5-room dwelling, new; pack house (32x40) with big shelter on each side, and enough room to take care of your tobacco, corn, hay, and anything else grown on this farm. Six tobacco barns equipped with Buck-eye curers. Lights and running water.

That still isn't all. Four nice mules; 2 carts; Plows; Sowers; Planters; Tobacco Trucks; 14,000 Tobacco Sticks; one John Deere B Tractor with breaking plows; Cultivators and Planters. Approximately 500 bales of hay; 50-60 barrels of corn. Tobacco Setter and Sprayer. A complete line of farming equipment.

Tobacco beds sowed; shrubbing and disking done; stalks cut; ditches ready cleaned out. The tenant on this farm is one of Pitt County's finest tobacco farmers. Could you imagine in this day and time not even having to leave the farm to plant, cultivate, and house 18 acres of tobacco? Your labor is on the farm.

Farmer Friends, this sounds and reads like a dream. It isn't a dream. It's just so unusual to find a plantation in this country that offers so much and is located so well. You are cordially invited to visit this farm and check on each and every thing listed in this ad. You will find it all there and then some more. With tobacco selling at $1,000 per acre and peanuts for .18, what is this farm worth? Buy a farm that you only lend your money to. It will certainly pay you back.

Don't forget the time and place. Make plans today to attend this sale. For further information regarding this sale or any of your real estate needs, contact

Phantoms Get Seventh Northeastern Conference Win

Conway Paces Scoring As Phants Win 67-54

3rd Briley Turns In Top Performance As Phantoms Turn On Steam In Second Quarter; Hewitt Paces Visitors

By JIMMY ELLIS
Reflector Sports Writer

Greenville High School last night took its seventh Northeastern Conference victory of the season by coming back strong in the second half to defeat a small Elizabeth City team, 67-54. The game was played in Greenville's high school gymnasium.

The visiting Yellow Jackets were able to stay in the contest for only 12 minutes. After that, superior height began working to the advantage of the Phantoms and they almost ran away from the Jax.

For the first time this year, the Phantoms found their scoring spread throughout the line-up instead of having one or two men doing all the tallying. Wallace Conway led the scoring with 14 points but he was followed closely by Smith Worthington, Sidney Briley, Sonny Scott and Leon Moore. Worthington and Briley got 13 apiece, Scott scored 12, and Moore dumped in nine points.

The big Conway might easily have been the outstanding man in the contest had he not loaded himself with fouls early in the game. He was moving well in the pivot spot but Coach Bo Farley was forced to use him sparingly after a fast-moving first quarter had found Conway with three fouls.

With Conway out of the line-up much of the time, the Phantoms were paced by Briley, the versatile member of the squad who played every position last night. Briley led the team on rebounding, plus his good offensive work, and was generally in the middle of things throughout the entire game.

Elizabeth City's attack was paced by their one big man, Lindsey Hewitt, who scored 14 of his 18 points in the first half. Hewitt was having to scrap with at least three Phantoms for rebounds but he managed to get his share and played a good game despite a somewhat cool second half performance.

Other than Hewitt, it was little Jack "Creep" Crank, the smallest man on the court last night. Playing at one of the guard posts, Crank scored 11 points and proved to be a mighty man on defense as he constantly worried the Greenville guards into bad passes or the like.

Crank is one of the smallest players in the Northeastern Conference this year. He stands about five feet two and weighs around 118 pounds.

With Hewitt leading the way, the visiting Yellow Jacket started quickly but was unable to hold the pace. Greenville, always having to come from behind in the first quarter and a half, tied the game up five times before they were able to get the lead with 6:45 remaining in the second quarter. After that, the Yellow Jackets were out in the cold and never seriously threatened the Phantoms.

The Phantoms have now won seven and lost only two in Northeastern Conference play. They will have an open date on their schedule Friday night.

Quakers Take Win Over Bears; Two Contests Tonight

By Associated Press

Elon's Christians, now in the No. 2 spot, will be at home tonight to the league trailing Atlantic Christian College in North State Conference basketball play. Other conference action will see Western Carolina visiting the High Point Panthers.

The Guilford College Quakers led all the way to defeat Lenoir Rhyne 68-52 last night. The victory put the Quakers into a tie for fifth place with the Bears in North State standings.

Forward Non McLeod led the Quakers with 19 points while his team-mate at forward position, Bob Shoaf, collected 14.

Center Jim Newsome was high scorer for the Bears with 18 points, trailed by Tony Seliari with 11.

High School Ball Meeting Planned

The schedule of district meetings: West—district 1, Winston-Salem Reynolds Feb. 25; district 2, Lincoln March 3. East—district 1, Bethel March 17; district 2, Beulaville March 18; district 3, Franklinton March 10; district 4, Raeford Feb. 18.

Bethel Gets Double Green Wave Win

WILLIAMSTON—The Bethel Indians last night roared to a 77-49 victory in the second half of a basketball doubleheader with Williamston after watching the Williamston girls get a 36-36 tie in the first game.

Bobby Manning and Earl Johnson were the scoring leaders for the Indians in the boys game. Manning led the chase with 17 points but was not far ahead of teammate Johnston who tallied 16. Both got their impressive totals despite the fact that Coach Walter Latham used his second team for most of the second half and a portion of the first half.

Williamston's scoring was paced by Billy Harris with 12 points and Coltrane with eight but none of the Williamston players were able to do much because of some good Bethel defense which was led by Larry Tetterton. For Williamston, Hal Everett looked good on defense but even he was not able to do much with the wide open scoring tactics presented by the Indians.

Jayvee Phantoms Win Thirteenth Straight Game

The Greenville Junior Varsity Phantoms last night ran up their biggest scoring total of the year as they defeated the Elizabeth City Jayvee Yellow Jackets 79-45. The victory ran Coach Bill Kittrell's Jayvee record to thirteen wins in a row.

With slender Edgar Moore showing the way for the little Phantoms, there was never much question about the outcome of the game. Moore, who started the game as a guard but wound it up playing in the pivot position, hit for 24 points to pace the scoring parade. Moore scored 10 times from the floor in his red-hot exhibition of shooting and was largely responsible for the 29-19 lead Greenville had at halftime.

Following Moore in the Greenville scoring were Pat Sawyer and George Siders. Sawyer tallied 13 points and Siders hit for 11. Smook led the Elizabeth City scoring with 11 points plus a good defensive performance.

The Greenville club scored 50 points in the last half although Kittrell used substitutions liberally.

Team statistics show that the seniors of the UCLA football team competed in 44.9 per cent of the playing time during the recently concluded season.

Spartan Co-Eds Make Headlines In Sports

EAST LANSING, Mich.—(AP)—A pair of Michigan State co-eds have been making the sports headlines recently. They are Elaine Lewicki of Hamtrick, Mich., who won her second national indoor junior girls' singles tennis championship, and Ginny Baxter of Detroit who was named to the US Olympic team as a figure skater.

Bob Hudson, flashy end on the New York grid Giants, ran the 100 and 220 yards, threw the discus and put the shot on Clemson's track squad.

Winterville Takes Wins Over Chicog High Teams

WINTERVILLE — Chicog High School's basketball teams were dumped twice here last night as Winterville won the non-conference boys match 61-43, in a walk-a-way, and took the girls game with no trouble at all, 57-30.

Winterville's scoring in the boys game was spread over five players, with Bobby McGlohon and Bobby Cole leading the way with 13 points apiece. Leck Keeter came in with nine points, and Rex Wainright and Dean Wingate had eight and six points, respectively.

After a close first half that saw Winterville leading 27-26 at halftime, the Wolves turned the game into a rout in the third and fourth periods. Winterville dropped in 14 points in the third quarter while Ed Evans and his teammates were holding Chicog to only four points.

Kenneth Ross scored 14 points in leading the losing boys, with Walter Smith coming in second high for Chicog with nine points. Archie Oakley led Chicog's defense.

Girls Game

Betsy Castellone paced the Winterville girls with 18 points, although Chicog's Shirley Gaskins had 22 points for the game's high scoring honors. Other than Miss Castellone, Ann Spier and Jean Anne Liverman collected 16 and 12 points respectively for Winterville. Joan

Robinson Loses 2 Games To Ayden

AYDEN—Robinson High School of Winterville lost both ends of a non-conference doubleheader last night to Ayden. The home girls won the opener, 25-15, while the Ayden boys won 36-22.

Eddie Lee Harper paced the losing boys with a total of 15 points, while Jesse Lee Williams led the losers on defense. Ayden was led on offense by Collins with 12 points. Willie Jones was outstanding on defense for the winners.

Fromie Whitehurst led Ayden's defense in the girls game, while Bibian Phillips was high scorer with 15 points. Winterville's girls were led by Ann Robbins with six points, and on defense by Doris Knox.

The Pitt County Negro Tournament will be held in Bethel February 22-23.

Most of the damage done to the city of Rotterdam by German bombing on May 14, 1940, has been repaired.

Well, He Tried

DURHAM, N. H.—(AP)—When Dale Hall, University of New Hampshire basketball coach, was a star halfback on Army's football team he once scored on three consecutive plays against Pennsylvania—but each time the touchdown was nullified. The Cadets were offside on each play and were penalized five yards at a clip. On the fourth play, Hall tossed a touchdown pass to Doc Blanchard to end the frustration.

Stocks And Market Reports

NEW YORK (UP)—Stocks declined today for the third consecutive session.

Volume increased because of activity in a few issues. A block of 13,900 shares in South American Gold & Platinum at 4 1/2 off 3-8 lifted that issue into top place in turnover. American Zinc had a large turnover and rose 1 5/8 to 26 1/4. Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific, a firm spot in the rails, also had large sales volume.

A dozen or so issues moved outside a fractional area, most of them lower. Exceptions on the upside included Missouri-Kansas-Texas preferred at 55 1/2 up 1 7/8, and Texas Pacific Land Trust at 159 up 1.

Losses of a point or more were made by American Cyanamid, American Hawaiian Steamship, Atlantic Refining, Deep Rock Oil, Shell Oil, Hercules Powder, Homestake Mining, Lukens Steel, National Steel, Standard Oil (NJ) and Texas Company.

Leading steels eased small amounts. Motors held steady. Rails and utilities behaved better than other groups but showed small average losses.

Traders continued very cautious pending more definite indications of trend.

Diana Barrymore Ends Short Australian Tour

SYDNEY, Australia —(AP)—Diana Barrymore, daughter of the movies' greatest profile is going home to America after a temperamental five months and three abruptly ended theater engagements in Australia.

Her last turn was halted after Monday night's performance when the manager of Brisbane's Theatre Royal accused her of offending the audience with her language. He fired her.

Diana, whose papa John was no slouch at temperament and language himself, said, "All I wanna do is sleep and then I wanna go home."

The Brisbane theater man, Laurie Smith, said he had warned Diana three times before that her act wasn't up to standard and that on Monday "she used language which offended the audience, forgot her lines and sang an unscheduled song."

"Many walked out of the show," he reported.

Miss Barrymore came here first to appear in a Sydney night club but was dropped after two weeks of a four-week contract. Then she appeared—but only for a few nights—in Noel Coward's "Fallen Angels" in Melbourne.

She also hit the headlines when an inspector ordered her off a Sydney beach because he Bikini bathing suit was too scanty.

Spelling Errors Are Chief Fault

RALEIGH —(AP)— Apparently North Carolina's high school students need to brush up more on their spelling.

That much is shown in a study made by Dr. Lodwick Hartley, head of the English department at North Carolina State College. He said spelling is the chief language deficiency of North Carolina high school graduates.

The results of his study are contained in an article in the February issue of North Carolina Education. Dr. Hartley said he based his study on a uniform writing assignment given to 783 freshmen who entered college in the fall of 1950. Of all the errors made in the papers examined, 36.1 per cent were caused by spelling. Errors involved the failure to understand the basic structure and function of the sentence accounted for 29.5 per cent of the total.

Mechanical inaccuracies, such as improper use of capitalization and abbreviation, were the cause of 16.4 per cent of the errors.

Opera Singer Is Washing Dishes For Citizenship

OTTAWA, Ont. —(UP)— A Yugoslavian displaced person is living a Cinderella story in reverse here but hopes that it will have a happy ending yet.

Libusa Cristiani, an outstanding opera singer in her native country, is working as a domestic servant for the privilege of becoming a Canadian citizen. She has to look forward to another seven months of menial labor before abandoning her pots and pans to resume an interrupted singing career.

Miss Cristiani came here last September. Under immigration rules, displaced women must put in at least one year as domestics before taking up work of their choosing.

The tall, shapely singer is considered by Conductor H. Bramwell Bailey of the Ottawa Grand Opera Company as prospective Metropolitan Opera material.

"Miss Cristiani has a very, very good soprano voice," Bailey said. "She needs little training; her need is an opportunity to apply her talent in opera. And, she must learn English."

Miss Cristiani, who won acclaim in Trieste and Yugoslavia with her full-bodied voice, spoke no English on her arrival in Canada.

Reluctant to sing in the home of her employers for fear of disturbing the household, Miss Cristiani kept to herself. She gave no hint of her past occupation. Her retiring manner afforded her little opportunity to learn English.

Her employers did not discover that she had been a singer in her native land until informed by the department of labor, through which Miss Cristiani came to this country.

The family, which had to coax her to sing after hearing of her talent, introduced her to Bailey, and recently at a meeting of the Ad and Sales Club here, Miss Cristiani gave her first performance in many months.

After the brief concert, Miss Cristiani dutifully returned to her work as a maid.

During her off hours, however, she continues practicing with Bailey.

BERKELEY, Calif. —(UP)— A star has been discovered which doubles in brightness within ten minutes, according to the University of California astronomy dept.

Claim Truman Is Following System Set By Roosevelt

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Politicians said privately today that President Truman may be following a pattern used by the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt in seeking another White House term.

Rep. Sabath, D-Ill., dean of Congress in service, came out of the White House yesterday saying the President told him he might run for another term if it would serve world peace.

So far the President has had nothing to say directly about seeking re-election, but a series of White House callers have produced widely varying reports.

Sabath said Truman told him the presidency is "a killing job" but that if he "actually felt he would be of aid and help to America and the world in bringing about a peace," he would be willing to "sacrifice himself and possibly shorten his life expectancy."

Politicians recalled that other White House callers gave similar reports after talking to the late President Roosevelt just before he accepted nomination for third and fourth terms.

Sen. Anderson, D-NM, said the Sabath report confirms his belief that the President will run again.

Sen. Sparkman, D-Ala, said, "Maybe it sounds crazy for me to say so, but I still don't think he is a candidate."

New 'Watchdog' Group Proposed

Washington —(AP)— Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) announced today he would move for an early vote on his bill to set up a supervisory committee on federal spending.

"We're going to pass it," McClellan predicted. He contended government agencies which do the spending "too long have held all the cards" in shaping the multi-billion-dollar budget.

The bill proposes to set up a Senate-House committee with a staff of investigators to make year-round studies of government spending.

"It would be a constant searching to see what they do with the money they receive in those administrative agencies, how much they are really going to need in their next budget, and whether it can't be done better at less cost," McClellan said. "Congress now has no one to do that."

He said Congress needs the committee as a check against the work of the President's Budget Bureau which McClellan contends studies requests "from the spender's view."

"I'm of the opinion it will save the people at least 500 million dollars a year," he said.

Iran Weathering Loss Of British Oil Revenue

TEHRAN, Iran — (UP) — Despite predictions of an early crack-up of Iran's economy after the withdrawal of the British and their oil royalties, nine months of nationalization has brought almost no change in the standard of living of the average Iranian.

The man in the street has been affected little by the loss of Anglo-Iranian oil company revenues. Prices of such basic commodities as tea, sugar, bread and cotton goods either have remained stationary or have risen not more than five per cent over the last year.

With the upper and middle classes, however, its a different matter. Prices of luxury goods have skyrocketed because of heavy taxes and reduced imports.

Other Jobs Sought

Some 30 per cent of the population, however, has not been affected by the government's austerity policies. The government has made efforts to find other jobs for labor thrown out of work by curtailment of the oil industry's operations.

International trade on a cash basis is almost at a standstill because of the lack of foreign exchange, although foreign-manufactured goods are still plentiful. The government is making every effort to avoid economic collapse. The first step was to cut imports from 40,000,000 pounds sterling to 25,000,000 pounds sterling annually. It has concluded barter deals to help close the gap.

Iran used to buy some 28 per cent of its imports in the sterling area but after restrictions imposed by the British treasury, the amount was cut in half.

Barter Deals Made

So far, barter deals have been completed with Russia, Germany and France, among others. Negotiations are under way with Italy, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Poland and Japan.

Sugar deficits have been made up fairly successfully by barter with Russia and other countries. To help out the government's program, a national six per cent two-year loan has been floated. The total subscribed to date is 250,000,000 rials.

Premier Mohammed Mosaadegh's supporters say the government has written off the possibility of any income from oil, except for internal sales.

The chief victim of the loss of oil revenues is the seven-year development plan, which has been suspended. The two principal projects which were abandoned are railroads from Tehran to Azerbaijan and from Tehran to Khorasan.

U. S. Aid Planned

Another factor in halting the work was the British government's requisitioning of steel rails before delivery. The projects may be revived with American aid.

The Iranians will devote some $10,000,000 of the $23,000,000 total point-four aid to raising health and education standards. The remainder will go to improving agriculture.

This latter allocation may help revive other seven-year plan projects.

Business circles in Tehran, however, are unimpressed with the government's efforts. "Trade is dead," one of them said.

He added that because of uncertain conditions no one would risk capital in trade, "and anyway, there's no money around."

items as selling little goldplated jackasses for coat lapels, staged barbecues for 40,000 people, picking real issues out of the mass of political propaganda gossamer around, getting the right folks nominated for public office on the Democratic ticket and then getting enough votes into the ballot boxes to elect these Democratic nominees.

NEWGROUND — To accomplish that, and using parlance of the farm, the YDC has got to open up some new ground. There was very little help offered by the Jefferson-Jackson Dinner program last weekend. Nothing new was offered there. The one-time status of the Democratic party as champion of state sovereignty has been partially conveyed to and partly stolen by the Republicans. Other vital issues of a half or quarter century ago no longer serve any purpose as distinguishing tenets of the parties. The task of finding new issues under the guise of "special projects" may be hard, but it will at least be interesting to do and probably more interesting for by-standers to watch.

HANDICAP — Most serious handicap lies in the limitations, prohibitions and prohibitions incorporated in the constitution of the Young Democratic Clubs and in the spirit inherent in the Plan of Organization of the Democratic party. Both these documents by direction or implication preclude activity for or against candidates within the Democratic party.

On Wednesday Mrs. Harry E. Smith entertained with a bridge luncheon at her home on the Greenville Highway in honor of Mrs. George Solle of Washington. High score was compiled by Mrs.

F. G. Lancaster and the honoree received a corsage of camellias and a gift from the hostess.

Eastern Star

Vanceboro Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, held its regular meeting in the Chapter room of the Masonic Hall Wednesday night. The meeting was opened in ritualistic form by the Worthy Matron, Mrs. Verona T. Lancaster, followed by the regular flag ceremonies. Mrs. Lancaster welcomed all in attendance, with a special welcome to those members who had been unable to attend recent meetings. Following the transaction of routine business, the Associate Matron, Mrs. Virginia McLawhorn, chairman of the sick and cheer committee, reported on the courtesies extended those sick in the community since the last meeting. Mrs. Jessie Barrow and Mrs. Claude Barrow are ill at their homes here. Mr. and Mrs. Jather McLawhorn, Mrs. Lawrence Lancaster and Mrs. George Ipock, who have been ill, were reported as improved. Notes of thanks were read from these members for courtesies extended them.

Fewer Receiving Public Assistance

During January of this year, 146 fewer persons received old age assistance than in January of 1951 and there were 34 cases less for aid to dependent children this January than last year.

K. T. Futrell, superintendent of the county welfare department, said the decrease in the number of persons receiving public assistance was due to new rules and regulations and deletions by death or economic changes together with the Lien Law.

At the December meeting of the welfare board, six old age assistance cases were approved and seven cases closed. It was reported that 14 cases were approved and 21 cases closed at the January meeting.

The aid to dependent children program reported at December and January meetings revealed that 16 cases were approved and 12 cases closed. There were 24 revisions.

Kicking 'Rocks' Is Lucky Break

HOUSTON, Tex. — (UP) — When attractive 23-year-old Jerry Hilburn stumbled over a salesman's brief case in a crowded hotel lobby she wasn't wrong when she told him "That thing must be filled with rocks."

It was. The "rocks" were diamond samples being carried to a prospective client by a jewelry salesman.

It was a lucky "stumble" for the brunette coffee shop waitress, though. Impressed by her appearance, the salesman landed her a job as a jewelry model with his client's firm.
