New Budget Cuts Get House Vote

State, Justice and Commerce Departments Handed 18 Percent Slash In Requested Funds As Economy Bloc Steers Course In House Appropriations Action

WASHINGTON (UP)—House Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. today called an 18 per cent slash in requested funds for the State, Justice and Commerce departments as "a pretty good cut."

Martin said the action proves that Congress will insist on drastic economy reductions, including cuts in the $46,680,000,000 military appropriations bill.

The economy bloc was in full control last night as the House passed a $1,016,923,731 appropriations bill for the three departments, after cutting more than $225,000,000 from the administration's requests.

Biggest slash was directed at the State Department, which was allowed only $215,900,382 of the $318,408,010 asked. It was the biggest cut made in any administration request so far this year.

Chopped from the State Department funds were nearly $83,500,000 of the $169,900,000 asked for a vast overseas propaganda program. The result would be to scuttle plans for seven new radio stations and two additional floating radio ships intended to pierce the Iron Curtain.

The House also voted to prevent the State Department from spending any funds to set up an embassy at the Vatican unless and until the Senate confirms an ambassador to the Holy See.

The Justice Department was allowed $184,059,000, a cut of $5,726,000. The House slashed $3,000,000 from funds earmarked for extra border guards to guard against Mexican workers entering the United States illegally.

The Commerce Department was allowed $588,589,499, a cut of $117,402,000. Biggest slashes were $18,320,000 for the Civil Aeronautics Administration and $93,000,000 for the Bureau of Public Roads.

The lawmakers also chopped more than $2,500,000 from this country's proposed contribution of $15,439,000 to the United Nations and other international agencies during the coming fiscal year.

Charges Fraud In Housing Of DP's

NEW YORK (UP)—Dist. Atty. Frank E. Hogan said today two landlords had been arrested on charges of fraudulently obtaining $1,552 from 10 displaced persons from the Ukraine.

The landlords are Harry Knapel and Morris B. Schur.

Hogan said the DP's, just off the boat and unable to speak English, paid up to $200 each for flats that rent for $20 monthly. They were on near starvation diets to repay the money they had borrowed from relations to meet the payments.

High Level Talks Raise Hopes For Truce In Korea

Ridgway Takes Hand In Meeting Of UN Negotiators; Compromise Hoped

Secret high-level talks between Allied truce headquarters and behind the Iron Curtain raised hopes today for an early cease-fire in Korea.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, Supreme United Nations commander, presided over a meeting of U. N. generals and admirals at the Allied truce camp at Munsan.

Gen. Nam Il, head of the Communist truce delegation, at the same time was believed consulting Pyongyang and Peiping, the North Korean and Chinese capitals.

Observers hoped the conferences would result in compromise proposals that would break the last remaining deadlocks blocking an armistice—the right of war prisoners to refuse repatriation, the Communist's choice of Russia as a "neutral" truce inspector, and a U. N. demand for a ban on airfield construction.

Prisoner of war negotiations were recessed indefinitely Friday to give both sides a chance to review the voluntary repatriation issue with high authorities.

U. N. and Communist delegates discussing supervision of the truce, including Russia's eligibility to help police the armistice, reported no progress after a 20-minute session today. They appeared to be marking time pending higher-level decisions.

U. N. delegate Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison said the Red negotiators hadn't said anything about a compromise.

"I can't negotiate on the basis of hints, or what is said on the road," he said.

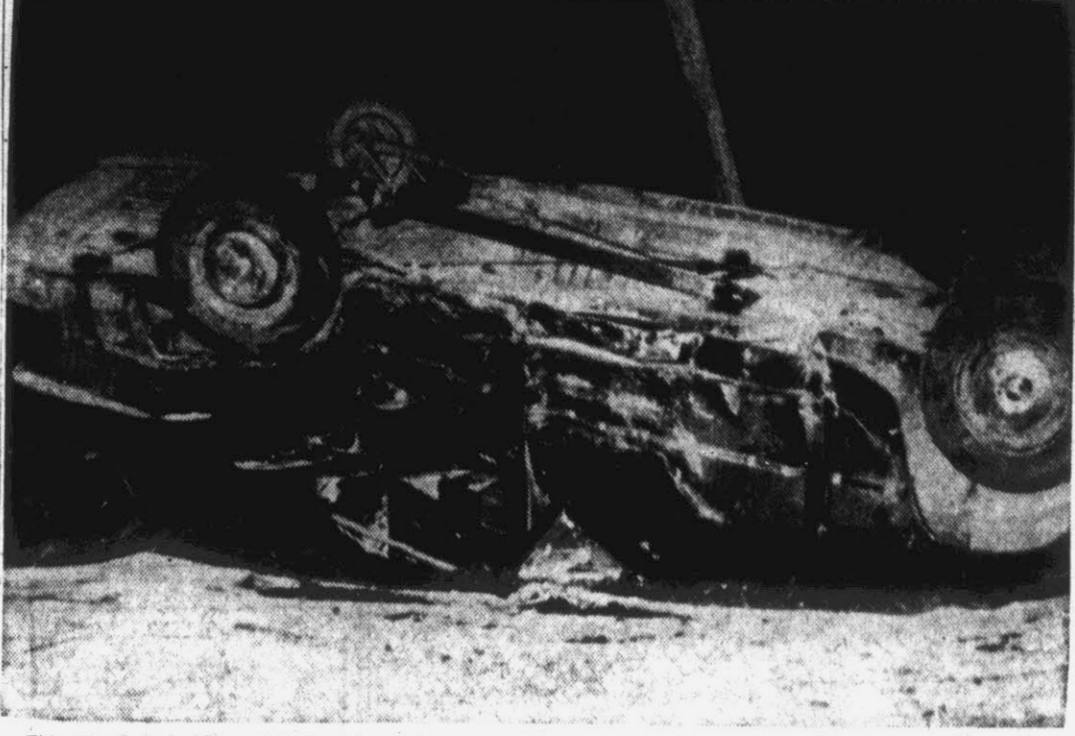

Local Telegraph Office Remains Closed In Strike

The Western Union strike that put five local employes out of work Thursday and closed the Greenville office indefinitely, was still very much in effect this morning.

It was reported early today that Greenville workers have received no orders from CTU Local 31 in Kingston, and previous information indicates they will remain off the job until ordered back by the union.

Elsewhere in the nation, a silent paralysis gripped telegraph communication in most major cities and all states except New York. In some of the larger offices, facilities are being maintained by a skeleton force of supervisory employes, reports disclosed.

Automobile Turned Over In Accident

Five persons were injured last night and two cars demolished in a collision about two miles from Farmville at the intersection of the old Stantonburg road and highway 258. Scores Of Pitt Scouts At Event

Nearly 100 Taking Part In Pre-Camporee Outing In City

Approximately 100 Pitt Boy Scouts were in attendance today at the annual pre-camporee being held at Guy Smith Stadium in Greenville.

Rain early this morning put a damper on the outing for several hours, but clearing skies between 8 and 9 o'clock this morning broke up the threat of rain, and the Scouts went about their activities as planned during the day.

The two-day pre-camporee began yesterday afternoon as patrols from Greenville and other towns in Pitt County set up their camp sites in the pre-camporee area.

The first order of business for the campers yesterday afternoon was pitching tents and storing gear, then they turned to the task of cooking suppers, which ranged from hamburger to fried shrimp.

The highlight of last night's activities was the campfire under the direction of District Commissioner Jack Dowdy and Field Executive Howard Hunter who are in charge of the outing.

This morning the Scouts were going through a series of competitive scoutcraft events which will be used at the East Carolina Council camporee to be held in New Bern the last week-end this month. The Pitt pre-camporee is a training event to prepare local Scouts for the Council camporee which is expected to attract more than 2,300 boys from this section of the state. It is the largest Boy Scout encampment of its kind in the nation.

The Scouts broke camp about 3 o'clock this afternoon.

NO SECOND PLACE

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—The Richmond News Leader today quoted Sen. Richard B. Russell, of Georgia, as saying he would rather be senator than vice president of the United States.

"Being a member of the Board of Directors of the mental institutions of North Carolina, it has helped me to understand the needs of the various institutions and I will work for legislation that makes it a little more comfortable for the people that are so helpless," he stated.

Since Pitt is an agricultural county Kilpatrick says as a farmer he will work for every type of legislation that will benefit agriculture and business in general.

The candidate said that his past record shows he can be depended upon to support the welfare of the state employes, school teachers, and the educational program as a whole, and will continue to work for such legislation that will benefit

Five Are Injured In Car Collision Near Farmville

Two Victims Admitted To Pitt Memorial Hospital; Three Received Emergency Treatment, Then Released

FARMVILLE—Five persons were injured here last night about 8:30 when two automobiles collided at the intersection of highway 258 and the old Stantonburg road.

Two of the accident victims were admitted to Pitt Memorial Hospital where their condition was reported good this morning, and the others received emergency treatment from a Farmville physician and were released.

Highway Patrolmen B. H. Jackson and J. W. Boykin, who investigated the accident, identified the drivers as Mitchell Clarence Owen, 24, of Fountain and Carl Washington Tugwell, 20, of Walsenburg, Rte. 2.

The patrolmen said the automobile driven by Tugwell failed to stop at the intersection of the two roads and ran into the path of the Owen car. Tugwell's car traveled 90 feet from the point of impact and overturned, and the Owen car traveled 70 feet from the point of impact but remained on its wheels. The patrolmen said both automobiles were demolished.

Officers charged Tugwell with careless and reckless driving.

The patrolman said Ethel Flora, 16, a passenger in the Tugwell car, received severe lacerations, bruises and internal injuries and was admitted to Pitt Memorial Hospital. Eugene Tugwell suffered severe cuts and bruises and likewise was admitted to the hospital.

Owen, the patrolmen said, suffered cuts about the face and mouth and had several teeth knocked out. Carl Tugwell received severe cuts and bruises and Walter Nelson, mother passenger in the Tugwell car, received slight bruises and cuts.

Owen's small daughter, who was in his car at the time of the accident, was uninjured, the officers reported.

Frank Kilpatrick To Seek Renomination

F. M. Kilpatrick of Ayden announced his candidacy yesterday for renomination as a representative of Pitt County in the House of Representatives of the North Carolina General Assembly.

In announcing his candidacy for the House of Representatives, Kilpatrick said he is doing so with the feeling that the knowledge and experience he has gained while serving in this capacity will be worth more to the people of Pitt County.

"Being a member of the Board of Directors of the mental institutions of North Carolina, it has helped me to understand the needs of the various institutions and I will work for legislation that makes it a little more comfortable for the people that are so helpless," he stated.

Since Pitt is an agricultural county Kilpatrick says as a farmer he will work for every type of legislation that will benefit agriculture and business in general.

Death Again Falls From Sky As Plane Plunges Into New York City Residential Area

Costello Is Found Guilty By Jury In Contempt Case

Attorney Files Motion For Mistrial; Judge Sets Tuesday For Hearing

NEW YORK (UP)—Gambling kingpin Frank Costello, alleged co-leader of a New York-Miami crime axis, was found guilty last night of contempt of the United States Senate.

The gravel-voiced Costello, reputedly the greatest wielder of underworld power since the government smashed the empire of the late Al Capone, faced a maximum sentence of 10 years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

It would be only the second prison term for Costello since he had his first brush with the law 44 years ago at the age of 17. At that time, an assault and robbery charge against him was dismissed.

But seven years later, in 1915, he served 10 months in prison for carrying a concealed weapon.

Costello, natty in a blue suit, showed no sign of emotion last night when a federal court jury held that he was guilty of all 10 counts of an indictment charging him with contempt of Sen. Estes Kefauver's crime committee during its hearings here last year.

Specifically, he was accused of refusing to answer questions as to his net worth, his overall indebtedness and his acquaintance with New York politicians, including William O'Dwyer, former mayor and now U. S. ambassador to Mexico.

The jury deliberated six hours. Kenneth M. Spence, attorney for the 51-year-old underworld figure, immediately filed a motion for a mistrial and Judge Sylvester Ryan set Tuesday for a hearing.

In asking a mistrial, Spence charged that a New York newspaperman had talked a juror into getting out of a sickbed to attend the final day of the trial, Costello's second on the charges. The first ended in a mistrial with the jury deadlocked 11 to 1 for conviction.

Judge Ryan created a furor on the final day of this second trial by announcing he was dismissing the jury's forefady and a male juror "as a result of consultations the court has had with counsel for the government and counsel for the defense."

He fired Mrs. Helen Louis Mason, Negro housewife, after questioning her in chambers about a bribe she allegedly had been offered. She termed the bribe offer "ridiculous." There was no explanation for the dismissal of juror Julius A. Fox. Two alternates took their places.

Back To Jail For Having Baby

MIAMI (UP)—Mrs. Omaire Paul went back to jail today to finish a 60-day sentence for having a baby, her fifth.

Circuit Judge Grady L. Crawford upheld a juvenile judge who charged that Mrs. Paul was in contempt of court by having the baby.

Judge Walter H. Beckham of juvenile and domestic court said the woman's fifth child was born out of wedlock and after she was arrested for drunkenness "that was evidence to me that she was not caring for her children properly."

"I found her in contempt," Beckham said, and Crawford agreed.

Five Persons Killed, At Least Twenty Injured; C-46 Careened Into Row Of Two-Story Frame Houses, Barely Missing Apartment Housing 250 People

By CLAIRE COX United Press Staff Correspondent NEW YORK (UP)—Another "death from the sky" disaster struck today when a two-engine cargo plane crashed into a crowded residential section of New York City, killing five persons and injuring at least 20.

It was the fourth plane to crash into residential sections of the metropolitan area since December and brought the total death toll to 124.

The cargo plane of the U. S. Air Lines was trying to reach Idlewild Airport when it fell out of a murky sky into 169th Street near Hillside Avenue of the Jamaica section, 13 miles from Times Square and 25 miles from Elizabeth, N. J., scene of the three previous disasters.

The C-46 crashed first into 169th Street, smashing into a police car, and then careened into a row of two-story frame houses, demolishing two and enveloping the other four in roaring flames. The pilot and co-pilot were killed.

Also dead was deputy police inspector Thomas Boylan, Commander of the 22nd Police Division, who was being driven to work by his chauffeur, policeman Walter Shea. The car was crumpled by the impact with the plane but Shea, though injured, escaped with his life.

The other dead were occupants of the houses.

Part of the plane's cargo was lingerie and daily feminine garments scattered in trees and in the gutters gave strange contrast to the wreckage. A raging flame and the tangle of fire hoses and sweating firemen. It took off from Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

The plane barely missed a five-story apartment house in which 250 persons live.

Witnesses said the plane's engines seemed to be functioning properly just before the crash. Visibility was near zero and the pilot was assumed to have miscalculated his approach to Idlewild.

"That pilot was giving it everything to keep out of danger," said Nat Kresel. "The motors were so loud and so close that I jammed my eyes. Then came the crash."

After striking the police car, the plane ripped apart a two-story frame house. Its momentum hardly diminished, it then smashed two more houses on 169th Street, then swerved diagonally and buried itself into three houses on intersecting 88th Avenue.

Meanwhile it had been spewing gasoline-fed flames from the instant of impact with the police car and within seconds a huge fire was raging.

The plane shed fragments of wreckage as it went. A large piece of the fuselage lodged in a tree in front of one of the demolished houses. Parts of the tail assembly and fuselage were on the sidewalk. One of its two engines was lodged in the pavement.

The body of one of the crewmen was thrown 200 feet. The body of Inspector Boylan was torn out of the police cruiser and smashed into the pavement.

All the residents had had spliced warning from the roar of the falling plane's engines—and this was enough in a section close enough to LaGuardia and Idlewild airports for the menace of low-flying planes to be very real because of the Elizabeth disasters.

Another Contest In City Elections

A. B. Stallworth Files Against Mayo In Second Ward Seat

The number of uncontested aldermanic seats in the city was reduced to one this morning as A. B. Stallworth, Greenville insurance and real estate man, filed for the second ward seat currently occupied by C. E. Mayo.

Stallworth could not be reached for comment today, consequently no information is available relative to his intentions and what prompted him to enter the race. It is understood that he has never been in local politics before.

Earlier in the week, Alderman C. E. Mayo registered his candidacy to succeed himself in the second ward.

As the picture developed today, only Jimmy Wells is running uncontested for the municipal elections to be held May 5. He previously filed for the fifth ward seat being vacated this year by J. E. Waldrop.

In other wards, J. E. Johnson has filed against Robert Elks in the third, and George Pugh yesterday registered his candidacy against J. E. Collins in the fourth ward.

Today is the deadline for filing, and City Clerk H. H. Duncan reported that someone will be in the clerk's office until sundown to register last minute candidates.

FAMILY WIPED OUT

Analyst Discusses High Taxes And What Can Be Done About It

By ROGER W. BABSON BABSON PARK, Mass.—March has come and gone. Gone, too, are the hopes of many for that new car or summer vacation, the redecoration of a few rooms, or a new spring outfit. While you are still smarting, perhaps it is a good time to ask, "Why do we let our Government take so much of our money to spend so recklessly?"

Is the U. S. Really Poorer Today Than in 1929? I am inclined to believe most of us do not realize the economics facts of life: for, if we did, I feel pretty certain that more people would get out to vote—in the primaries, as well as in local and national elections.

How rich is this country when compared with 1929? The National Bureau of Economic Research has reported that in terms of 1929 dollars our total wealth has increased only 12 percent from 1928 to 1948. Yet in this same period our population has increased 23 percent!

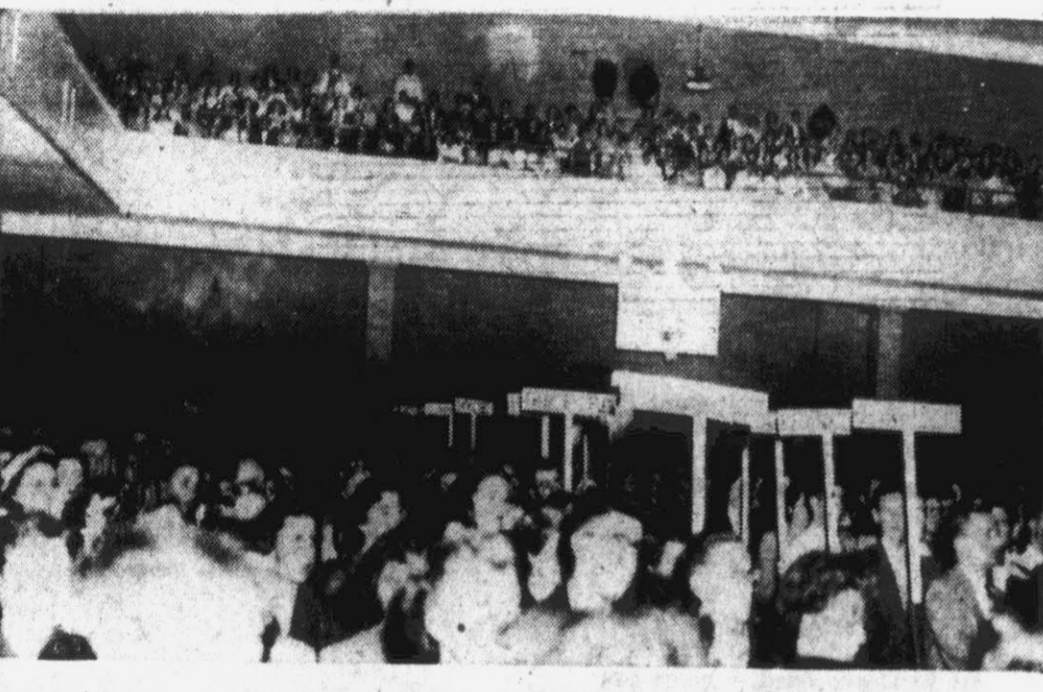

This boils down to the fact that in 1951, a year in which all kinds of economic records were set, the per capita wealth was actually 8 percent below that of 1928!

Government Oppiates The policy of our own Federal Government has been to keep us in the dark on such facts. The size and power of our governmental machine, our formidable commitments both at home and abroad, full employment and standard-of-living propaganda—all have dulled our senses to what has really been going on. Many people even now subscribe to the idea that high taxes are good for the country as a whole!

Who gets most of the tax money? Uncle Sam now takes 81 percent of all taxes collected in this country. This leaves only 19 per cent of the tax money for state and local governments, which is less than one-third of the percentage these organizations had at their disposal in 1929.

What does Uncle Sam do with all of this money? Get a digest of the Hoover Report and find out if you don't know. Here are a few facts:—In 24 years, the Government has increased the number of employees from 570,000 to almost 2,500,000. The total national budget has increased from less than $4 billion in 1928 to approximately $70 billion. From another view the Federal Budget expense has gone up from $240 per average family per year in 1928 to $1400 today. Here is a sample of where the money goes—29 different agencies make loans; 28 handle welfare projects; 16 are engaged in wild-life pre-

College Campus Overflows With Visiting High School Students

Forty-nine counties of North Carolina answered to the roll-call yesterday at the assembly in Wright auditorium during East Carolina College's High School Day program. Students from 135 schools participated in the program. The approximately 3,000 visitors filled Wright auditorium "to the rafters."

East Carolina College celebrated Friday its Tenth Annual High School Day by offering a varied program of recreational and educational events to approximately 3,000 public school seniors visiting the campus.

Forty-nine counties of the Eastern and Piedmont sections of the state were represented on the campus, and students from a total of 135 schools attended. Pitt County, with 287 seniors, and Greenville, with 84, in attendance had the largest delegations present. Beaufort County followed Pitt in numbers by sending 226 seniors to the campus for the day.

A group from East Spencer in Rowan County traveled the best to be present at High School Day, a distance of more than 200 miles. Five seniors from Ocracoke left home Thursday at 7 a.m., arrived in Greenville that evening, and were the first to register Friday morning.

The day's program began with visits to departments of instruction, where exhibits of student work and departmental activities were on display. Members of country clubs at the college conducted groups of seniors on visits to the dormitories, the cafeterias, the classroom buildings, the Nursery School, the Kindergarten, the Training School, the new health and physical education building, and the arboretum, where trees and shrubs were in full bloom.

Led by the Drum and Bugle Corps, the Air Force ROTC unit at the college staged a drill on the campus driveways as opening event of a series of special programs.

Dr. Ed J. Carter, chairman of the High School Day committee, presided at an assembly of guests in the Wright auditorium during the morning. Speakers included President John D. Messick of the college; Major Lomax L. May, professor of Air Science and Tactics; and Dean Leo W. Jenkins. Welcoming guests to the campus, Dr. Messick spoke briefly on the values of an education, urged the young people to choose a college suited to their needs and interests. "East Carolina," he said, "is the

Error In Report

Sales at the ABC stores in Pitt County during the first nine months of the fiscal year, July, 1951, through March, 1952, were $1,376,443.90, a considerable increase over the same period a year ago.

Sales in March, 1952, were $131,526.45.

Sales during the first nine months of the fiscal year, July, 1950, through March, 1951, were $1,130,421.60.

Sales in March, 1951, were $115,971.95.

A report of sales in yesterday's paper erroneously showed the sales for a three-month period instead of for first nine months of the fiscal year.

Kefauver Ready To Back FEPC

NEW YORK (UP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) said last night he would "wholeheartedly" support the controversial FEPC bill if the Democrats put it in their platform.

"I believe in fair employment practices," he said, "but I am not convinced that a national compulsory commission is the best approach to a difficult problem that varies from state to state."

In an address to the New York Young Democratic Club, Kefauver said he believed a better approach to the problem would be "through education and voluntary means."

City's Tax Take Now $267,784

The $4,266,111 collected in taxes in Greenville during the month of March brought total collections for the 1951-52 fiscal year to $267,784.66.

This is 89.7 percent of the total year's levy of $298,801.43, and leaves only $3,084 to be collected in the next four months of the fiscal year.

Through March last year, the city collected $237,448.38 of a total 1950-51 levy of $285,324.84. This year's collections are $30,335.78 above collections for the same period last year.

Income from the sale of city licenses through March of this year was $22,990.26, with $227.80 being collected in the month of March alone. This is a gain of $1,220.37 over last year as only $20,869.89 was collected through March of 1951.

Pitt Board To Convene Monday

The Pitt County Board of Commissioners will hold its regular monthly meeting Monday in the commissioners' room at the courthouse.

No special business was reported as being up for discussion and the meeting will probably be confined to routine monthly reports from the various county departments.

DOOMROCK

BY ARCHIE JOSCELYN

Chapter 4

Steve's hand dropped away, nevertheless, his whole mind stuned with the discovery. That stone had been his luck, while he had it—and now he had lost it and his luck was gone!

Revitalization oozed through him like a flame. His clawing hand had dropped on something rough and hard, familiar to the feel. His fingers closed around it and Matt Tarson was just a shade slow. He rolled aside, came to his feet, the stone clutched in his fist.

As Tarson rushed, Steve hit him a second blow, again to the chin. This time, it was miles before Tarson opened his eyes.

With the agony gone from his ankles, Steve felt good. He slipped the rock back into his pocket, turned to the plaudits of the crowd. He was bloody, disheveled, but Melody seemed not to mind.

"I know you could do it, Steve," she told him. "You were magnificent."

On the drive home they found a lot to talk about. "This is an event, this evening," he said. "The fact that you'd go with me when I asked you—and so late in the day, too."

"I've been waiting quite a while for you to ask me," she confessed. "You mean—" he said, somewhat at a loss. "—you've seemed to like Matt—"

"He did well enough while I had to wait for you," Melody nodded. "But I'd have finished my visit and come back East, weeks ago, if I hadn't thought that you'd come around."

Steve digested that, pleased but more startled than he cared to confess.

"You're my kind, Steve," she added. "The only one in this whole section of country who is—aside, of course, from the Waldens, who are lovely. They are old friends of both my father and mother. But you've been East to college, I understand."

"I had a couple of years of it, yes," Steve agreed.

"Just two?"

"Part of a third. I had to come back, a while ago, to run the ranch. Uncle Link got hurt."

"What were you taking?"

"Engineering. I don't know just why, but always sort of had a feeling along those lines."

"Engineering? Why?" she looked at him quickly. "Steve Russell? Of course! You're Wildcat Russell!"

He grinned faintly.

"Where'd you hear that?"

"How could I, help hearing it? Everybody did—it was in all the papers, how the little town of Ramsey was endangered by the flood, and would have been swept away if the dam had broken."

"Shucks," he protested. "That was just luck."

"For the town, yes," she agreed. "But it wasn't luck that you managed to save the dam when everybody thought it was sure to go out. I read the accounts—read them with a great deal of interest. Experienced engineers said that your methods were so unusual as to amount to pure genius. 'You've famous all over that part of the country, Steve.'"

Steve said uncomfortably, "I was just lucky, there."

"If you were, so was the town—and so was I," she said softly. "I was in Ramsey at the time—in bed, too sick to be moved even with the water threatening the town. I've cause to remember Wildcat Russell, Steve."

She looked at her with quickened interest.

"I'm sure glad the dam held," he said. "I didn't know about that."

"I'm interested in engineering," she added, after a moment. "That's how my father and my uncle made their money. Pascoe, Graham and Pascoe are a well-known firm."

"So that's who you are?" Steve whistled. "Pascoe and Graham!" He knew well enough that the names represented the ultimate in prestige, either socially or in engineering circles. What she was virtually telling him was that he could be assured of a good position with Pascoe, Graham and Pascoe if he wanted it—and with such an opportunity, a man could go far. His hand touched the hard object in his pocket. Luck!

"They rode in companionable silence, beyond the need of words. When they pulled up before the Waldens he assisted her to alight, hesitated a moment, then drew her into his arms. Briefly she resisted. Then her lips were moving against his, warm and vibrant.

"I'll be around in a day or so," he said abruptly and turned back to the waiting team.

"I'll be expecting you," she agreed, and went on, up the moon-washed steps to the house. No lights shone when he reached the Diamond R. Steve let himself into his room, and prepared for bed. In the midst of the operation he pulled out the rock and held it in his hand, studying it soberly.

"Whether it's superstition, luck, or just plain foolishness, I don't know, but a man's a fool not to play a lucky hunch to the limit," he decided.

He put the stone into a sack, fastened a longer buckskin thong in place of the short piece which closed the bag, and slipped this around his neck. Now the talisman would be out of sight, but safely in his possession at all times.

News of how he had licked Matt Tarson reached the Diamond R. by the next morning. The crew rode him at breakfast, but he could see that they were proud of him. Indian Joe was beside him when he went outside again.

"Likely you don't need to be told," he said. "But now you got riding for town, Steve knew that rock—hang on to it, Steve, that the warning was one to heed."

The little town of Rising Wolf was quiet. He left his horse at a hitch-rail and moved down the street, heading for the post-office. Then he hesitated, uncomfortable color creeping into his cheeks. He had caught a glimpse of a familiar figure farther down the street. It was Nancy Neilson.

The Wolf Saloon was right at hand. He ducked hastily through the door. He was ordering his drink when he heard Matt Tarson's voice, and turned.

Irate Commuter Scared Officials

NEW YORK (UP)—An irritated subway customer who waited in vain 30 minutes for a train in the few hours today blew off steam by telephoning Board of Transportation headquarters and saying "I guess the only thing to do is get a stick of dynamite and blow the place up."

Officials took him seriously and sent four police cars, an emergency crew and bomb squad members hurrying to the station.

They found all peaceful. Only the frustrated straphanger had blown.

the bee" on the highway commission the other day; and in the same spirit Chairman Henry Jordan replied that there was no hostility on part of the commission to the Cape Fear ferry project, but that in absence of a court decision with respect to validity of the legislative act authorizing the installation his group could not allocate tax money collected from people all over the state to it.

ULTIMATE — It seems fairly certain that sometime, and maybe not too far ahead, there will be bridges over the Alligator and Croatan and Cape Fear, and that many new roads will be built to shorten distances and facilitate travel in the mountains. It is equally certain that all these desired goals cannot be attained this year or next. Meantime, it is important for local boosters to keep driving for what they want and need, and for the highway officials to maintain the approximate equitable balance among all the claimants for consideration.

THE FIVE DAYS

The Church for All... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) children's sake (2) For his or her own sake (3) For the sake of his community and nation (4) which needs his moral and mental support. Plan to go to Church regularly and read your Bible daily.

How To Make A Good Speech Illustrated At Aries Club

At a meeting of the Aries Book Club on Thursday night, Miss Mary Eakes gave an informative talk on "Points of Public Speaking."

Following the reading of the minutes and the treasurer's report, the president appointed Mrs. W.Z. Morton, Jr., as program chairman.

A letter of resignation was read from Mrs. Ted Ashworth and the secretary was instructed to write her a note of regret.

Red Cross certificates were issued to Mrs. J. O. Derrick, Mrs. Stephen Bartlett, Mrs. A. W. Bryan, Mrs. Harry Forbes, Mrs. Phil Coleman, Mrs. J. Howard Moyer, Miss Grace Outland, Mrs. Paul Powell and Mrs. Leo Jenkins upon the successful completion of the standard Red Cross course which was studied during the first half of the year.

Plans for the annual Book Club Day were announced. The affair will be a luncheon meeting to be held at the dining hall of the college on May 6, at which time Mrs. Bernice Kelly Harris will be guest speaker.

At the conclusion of the business, Miss Eakes presented her paper. She used as a reference a book by James Lee Ellenwood, noted lecturer and public speaker, entitled "So You're Going To Make A Speech."

As a rule, a good conversationalist makes a good speaker, said Miss Eakes. Valuable help in becoming a good public speaker can be obtained from other speakers and from the radio.

She gave many interesting illustrations and read excerpts from the book which she had consulted to enlighten her talk, which proved to be a good example of what she was talking about.

During the social hour, the hostess served refreshments to the club members and one guest, Miss Julia Fisher.

Local Lions To Peddle Doormats And Brooms In City Monday, Tuesday

Greenville Lions Club members plan to sweep a brighter day for the blind when they peddle brooms and doormats in the city Monday and Tuesday nights.

Lions with their automobiles loaded with brooms and doormats made by the blind of North Carolina will cover the city, street by street and house to house, selling the items.

They have divided the city into zones and each zone into a specific sales territory to which teams are assigned. Each Lion will be prepared to tell the story of North Carolina's blind, if that is necessary to sell the brooms and mats.

But they expect that most citizens know by now that work of Lions in behalf of the sightless and sight-handicapped.

Last year the Lions had so much fun peddling brooms and so many experiences in calling on the public that the club's members this year are approaching the two night sales campaign eagerly. Their goal is $3,000 worth of brooms and mats to be sold during the campaign.

Brooms are made by 30 blind men and women in a Guilford country plant under Lions auspices and are being sold by Lions throughout the state. The return from such sales not only supports the blind workers and their families but it helps the Lions finance their numerous activities in behalf of the sight-handicapped.

Larry Averette, chairman of blind work in the club, is heading the sales. The club has been divided into 25 teams to cover the city with two men on each team.

"Buy a broom and help sweep cheer into the lives of the blind" "Buy a broom and help prevent blindness" or "Buy a broom—help a sight-handicapped child go to school" will be some of the many slogans used by the Lions club members Monday and Tuesday night.

At Least 6 Die In Small Twisters

NEW ORLEANS (UP)—Victims of destructive tornadoes in Florida, Alabama and Louisiana hoped for clear skies today after a series of small vicious twisters killed at least six persons, injured 30 and caused more than a million dollars worth of damage.

The Air Force severe storm warning center at Oklahoma City cancelled a tornado prediction late yesterday for Central Georgia and the weather forecast was for generally clear weather throughout the South.

However the center said a new squall line was forming in Alabama and severe thunderstorms could be expected.

The twisters rode on a storm front along the Gulf coast, striking unexpectedly in an eccentric pattern. Rain, hail and driving winds up to 140 miles per hour accompanied the tornadoes.

The dead were all in Louisiana where one twister hedge-hopped through uptown New Orleans and struck eight other communities.

The Red Cross said six persons were killed, 41 injured and 12 hospitalized in the three states.

Four members of one family were killed at Arnaudville, La., which was apparently hit hardest. Water and power was cut off and the school building was turned into a temporary shelter.

An empty $80,000 school building was flattened at Mobile, Ala., and cottages along the beach near Panama City, Fla., were splintered.

A 15-year-old girl was picked up by a tornado and tossed 100 feet at Violet, La., before her father "took a quick grab for her and caught her like a baseball."

Golf Gaining Stronger Hold On Greenville Sportsmen

More Activity On Local Club Course

By MELVIN LANG
Reflector Staff Writer

Golf is rapidly gaining a strong hold in the hearts of hundreds of people in the local vicinity. If the flock of golfers out at the Greenville Golf and Country Club on Wednesday and Sunday afternoons can be considered as evidence. Golf has been a favorite pastime for many Greenville citizens for several years, but there has probably never been as much activity out there as has occurred during the last four years. The advent of the Coastal Golf Association is possibly the biggest single factor in the fast rise to popularity that the sport has enjoyed.

The CGA was formed in 1948, with six towns—Kinston, Farmville, New Bern, Tarboro, Smithfield, and Greenville—represented with playing teams. It operated for two years with the same teams, but two others were added last year, bringing the total up to eight teams; Washington and Clinton were the towns added, and are participating again this year.

This present association is a by-product of an old league which ran for several years, dating back to the 1920's. Wilson, Rocky Mount and Goldsboro were members of that group, along with Greenville, Kinston and Farmville. When Rocky Mount and Wilson increased their courses from nine to 18-holes, other members decided to pull out and form their own league. Goldsboro did not come in with the new organization, but elected to remain with Wilson and Rocky Mount.

The CGA operates under the rules laid down by the Professional Golf Association, which controls all of the organized golf played in the United States. Pros are not permitted to play in the Coastal, however, as it is strictly an amateur affair.

League rules state that each team must be able to play at least 18 men, but a team may also use as many players as the other squad can match. Therefore, it is not uncommon to see a match going on with as many as 40 golfers participating.

The golfers play in flights composed of two players from each team. Scoring rules allow a team to score up to nine points in a foursome. Each player has a possible three points that he can score, while two players may earn three extra points on their team play.

A schedule of 14 games for each team is being played this year. The competition, which is surprisingly sharp—especially for a non-professional group, began during the middle of March and will extend through June 11th. A post season tournament will be held in Clinton to decide the league championship on June 21-22. Greenville will hold two tournaments of its own accord—the President's Cup and the Championship Cup tournaments.

The CGA is also a social function, as the wives of the players usually travel with the team. The home team also gives the visiting squad a banquet before the beginning of each match. Play usually starts soon after lunch and lasts until early evening.

Greenville's entry has won the league championship in three of the four years of operation. The title came to Greenville in 1948, '49, and '50. An example of Greenville's mastery over the other members can be seen in the fact that New Bern had never beaten the local team on its home course until last year, in the first match of the season.

The present team has won three out of four matches thus far, and stand a good chance of taking the title once more. Their latest victory came at the expense of Clinton Wednesday afternoon in Greenville. Other wins were over Tarboro and New Bern, while Kinston has been the only one to down the local squad.

Greenville can carry at least 50 golfers who can compete with the best of the other teams, according to team captain Billy Morton. Although the squad has approximately 10 players that shoot in the 70's, it is the players that shoot in the 80's that make it possible for Greenville to pile up the points in a match, and a large number of the Greenville delegation falls in that category.

Golfers may find a welcome haven after a long afternoon's tour of greens when they stop in at the clubhouse of the Greenville Golf and Country Club, shown above. The clubhouse was built in the late 1920's, but is still one of the more modern buildings on the numerous courses throughout Eastern North Carolina. The present building stands on the site of an old clubhouse which was burned in the mid-20's.

Positions in which the players shoot are made in respect to the score made in the previous match. The number one spot in Greenville's lineup has gone to Ercell Webb for several seasons in a row. Webb, who is considered to be one of the best in Greenville's history, won the city championship last year.

The number two spot has been occupied by Reynolds May for the last two weeks, while W. L. Allen follows in third place. These two men are close behind Webb for the team leadership.

Charlie Bill Moye has steadily improved since taking up golf for the first time two years ago and how shoots in the four spot. Luther Herring, one of the oldtimers in the golfing story in Greenville, has the reputation of being one of the best on the team. He has shown why by taking on much younger contemporaries and beating them easily several times this season.

The above men are not the only good players on the team, however. Such men as Ben Harrison, Charlie Bailey Davenport, Tom Smoot, Dr. M. B. Massey, Dr. Billy Brown, and Milton Harrington all deserve to be linked with the outstanding golfers on the squad. At least 25 others consistently shoot in the low 80's.

Golfing is not confined to the men—not by a short pot. The ladies also have a league, known as the Eastern Carolina Ladies Golf Association. Kinston, Washington, Rocky Mount, Wilson, New Bern, and Greenville are represented in the association.

The Ladies Association operates under the rules of the USGA, although special league rules are made by the pros at two of the clubs—Avery Beck of Kinston and Palmer Maples of Rocky Mount. The girls also play under special handicaps which are prepared before the season opens.

Each Tuesday afternoon, the six teams will gather at any appointed course and fire away six

More Life-Saving Equipment Is Purchased For Hospital By Club

Three new pieces of life-saving equipment for infants have recently been added to Pitt Memorial Hospital by the Junior Woman's Club.

One of the most unique pieces is a "croupette", which is used for infants with diphtheria and other respiratory infections. It was purchased by the Junior Woman's Club at the request of Dr. Fred Haar and Dr. Malene Irons, pediatricians.

The other pieces of equipment are two incubators, which were purchased during the last month. The other pieces of equipment

The Junior Woman's Club has spent between $3,000 and $4,000 for equipment since the establishing of the Dr. T. M. Watson Memorial fund as their principal project in 1944.

A wing in the hospital for children, the Watson Memorial Wing, is furnished by the club with a record player, records, children's books, and toys. The club has also bought such medical equipment as two oxygen tents, one refrigerated oxygen tent, and an inhalator.

The club also pays for medical and hospital expenses for underprivileged children. They raise funds for the work through annual bread sales and the Watson Tag Day.

Followed Noses To Locate Still

Pitt County ABC officers followed their noses and found the works hidden underground.

Four officers seized a still Thursday afternoon in the Ayden township near Bethany Church. The equipment amounted to a 50-gallon drum type with oil burners, three 50-gallon barrels of mash, one five-gallon doudler, and one 50-gallon cooler with a copper coil condenser. The still was not in operation when it was discovered.

The still, mash, and all equipment was buried and covered with pine straw and officers declared it was hard to locate. "The operator was very slick," stated Officer Jim Ward, "but for one thing, he couldn't conceal the odor."

Officers who discovered the still were J. M. Ward, J. L. Taylor, Claude Manning, and R. W. King.

No-Hitter

By the Associated Press
Fortune at last has begun to smile on Steve Riddick, 25-year-old rookie righthander of the Philadelphia Phillies.

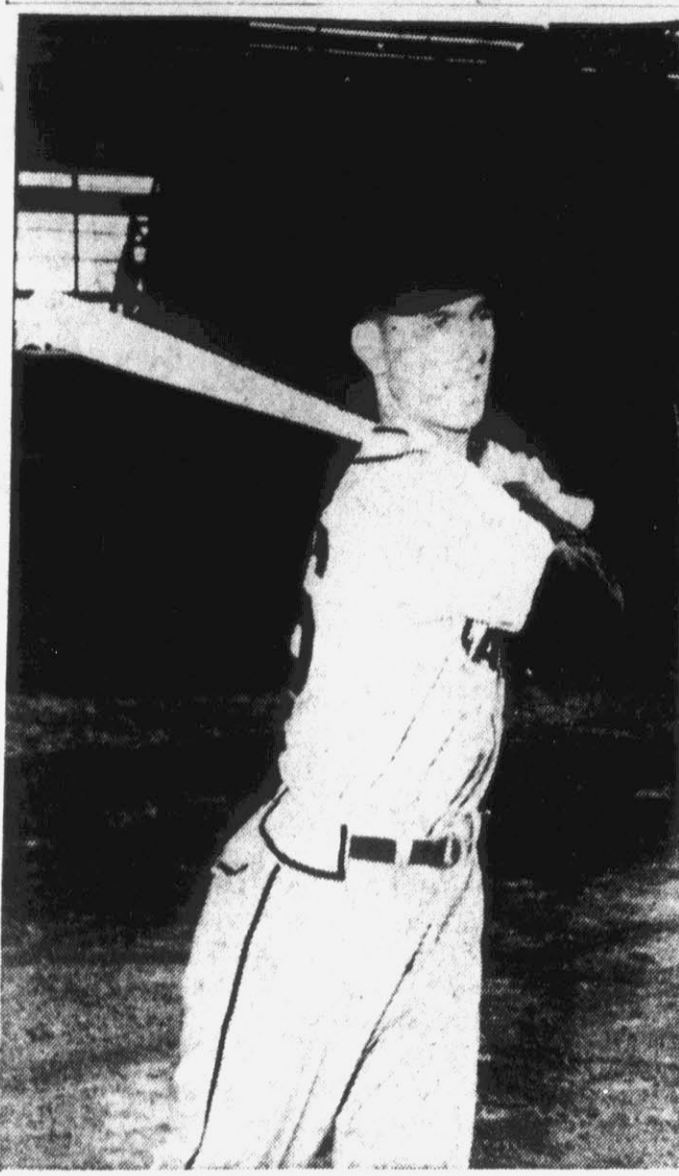

Riddick turned in the gem of his career yesterday at Savannah, Ga., as he pitched the Phils to a 3-0 no-hit victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Spartan Valor Is Favored In Event

NEW YORK (UP) — Spartan Valor, a bay colt who climaxed his Florida campaign this winter with four straight victories, is favored to make it five in a row today when he meets six others in Jamaica's $25,000 Excelsior Handicap.

The mile and a sixteenth event will be Spartan Valor's stiffest test. He will run under top weight of 126 pounds, more than he ever has been asked to carry. He will concede from three to 21 pounds to each of his rivals.

Some 50,000 bettors were expected to jam the track for New York's first Saturday program of the year.

FRED SOLES, a senior from Tabor City is one of the big reasons the East Carolina Pirates are in the thick of things for top ranking in the Eastern Division of the North State Conference play. Fred has turned in some sparkling defensive play this year and has begun to find the range in batting after a slow start at the plate. He's rated by many observers as the top leftfielder in the North State loop this year.

AAU Championship Wind Up In New Haven Tonight

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UP) — Ford Konno bids for a sweep of the free-style distance events and John Marshall tries to break the worst slump of his brilliant career today as the National AAU swimming championships wind up with another assault on the time standards this afternoon and tonight.

Konno, the Hawaiian who competes for Ohio State, goes after the 440-free-style title after winning the 1,500-meter grid Thursday and the 220-yard free-style last night.

Marshall, the Yale record-wrecker who swept these three free-style events last year in the NCAA, the AAU and Eastern Interscholastic meets, defends the 440-title at the low point of his career.

New meet and Americans during were set in three events during yesterday's six events.

John Davies, the Australian who is co-captain of the Michigan team, set a new American and meet record of 2:20.1 in winning the 220-yard breaststroke. A special clocking was made at 200-meters and Davies eclipsed the American record in 2:28.2.

Dick Thomas of the New Haven Swim Club set a new meet and American clocking of 56.9 while beating Jack Taylor of Ohio State in the 100-yard breaststroke.

Bumpy Joes of Michigan bettered American and meet clocking of 3:22.0 while winning the 300-yard individual medley in 3:20.7.

High Point Trys For YMCA Crown

BUTLER, Pa. — AP — High Point N. C. and San Pedro Calif. meet here tonight for the National YMCA Basketball Championship.

High Point defeated Steubenville, Ohio 83-70 in last night's semifinals, while San Pedro eliminated the host Butler team, 65-63.

Kent Moseley bagged 23 points and Ed Sueta got 18 for High Point in the see-saw battle with Steubenville. Bob Trice got 18 points for the Ohioans.

San Pedro had to freeze for the final five minutes before pulling out its victory over Butler.

DURHAM, N. C. (UP) — Veterans Sam Zoldak and Bob Hooper of the Philadelphia Athletics combined to pitch a one-hitter last night as their team-mates pounded out a 6-0 victory over the Baltimore Orioles of the International League.

"Naturally I'd like a crack at Carter," Araujo said following the fight, "but I'd be willing to settle for an elimination bout with Paddy DeMarco if the winner gets a shot at Carter."

Araujo Scores In Nine-Round TKO

NEW YORK (UP) — George Araujo, young New England lightweight, was more certain than ever today he deserves a shot at Jimmy Carter's world title, but he is willing to strike a compromise.

The 20-year-old boxing master from Providence, R.I., enhanced his title chances last night by scoring a ninth-round technical knockout over veteran Charlie Riley of St. Louis.

"Naturally I'd like a crack at Carter," Araujo said following the fight, "but I'd be willing to settle for an elimination bout with Paddy DeMarco if the winner gets a shot at Carter."

Gene's hitting has helped the Yanks capture three straight pennants and World's Series. McDougald's spread stance didn't hinder him either. Former Stars To Snead, Hogan Leading In Be Readied For Masters After Two Rounds

LOS ANGELES (UP) — Captains Ted Williams and Gerry Coleman of the United States Marines may be flying combat planes in Korea by the time the World Series rolls around next October.

A Marine Corps spokesman at Los Alamitos Naval Air Station, where both baseball stars will report on May 2, said today they "will be taking courses that definitely are readying them for combat."

Lt. Col. William Frash, in charge of the two-month "refresher course," could not say definitely that the baseball stars returned to active duty after taking physical examinations this week, would go to Korea but he pointed out:

"All Marine pilots are combat pilots and sent where they are needed. Any pilot in the Marines is subject to combat orders. Williams and Coleman would be treated the same as any other pilots. When their time comes up for combat duty they would be sent the same as anyone else."

Williams was a flight instructor during most of World War II but Coleman flew 37 missions as a dive bomber pilot and was awarded two Distinguished Flying Crosses and seven Air Medals. Neither has flown a plane in six years.

Goldboro Star Has Eye Removed

DALLAS, Tex. (UP) — Manager Leo Durocher shook off the stunning knowledge of Monte Irvin's loss today with the announcement that Bobby Thomson would return to the outfield and Henry Thompson will play third base for the New York Giants.

Durocher had held out against returning Thomson to the outfield. It was shortly after Bobby's shift to third base last summer that he began to hit at the .374 pace which he maintained down the stretch.

But Irvin's loss—perhaps for the season—left a hole in the lineup.

The new alignment worked well in its first trial yesterday as the Giants beat the Cleveland Indians, 5-3, for their first triumph in eight games this spring over the American Leaguers.

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UP) — Pitchers Ross Grimsley and Floyd Penfold were optioned to Memphis in the Southern Association by the Chicago White Sox today.

Grimsley had a 4-1 record at Montreal in the International League while Penfold had an 11-12 mark for Waterloo in the Three-I League.

CHARLESTON, S. C. (UP) — Pitcher Bobby Slaybaugh lost his left eye today as a result of an accident at the St. Louis Cardinals' spring camp in St. Petersburg, Fla., on March 24.

The Cardinals announced that Slaybaugh's eye was removed in St. Louis. The southpaw pitcher was hit in the face by a batted ball and his cheek was crushed.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UP) — Manager Rogers Hornsby fined pitcher Satchel Paige $100 today and warned the rest of the St. Louis Browns "to toe the mark or pay up."

Paige, the agless Negro pitching wonder, was fined for failing to show up at an exhibition game with the Pittsburgh Pirates last Monday.

COLUMBIA, S. C. (UP) — Ewell Blackwell laid claim today to the honor of opening the National League season for the Cincinnati Reds against the Chicago Cubs on April 15.

Blackwell looked strong and ready for the new season as he spaced seven hits over the full nine-inning distance yesterday as the Reds beat the Washington Senators, 3-2. Sam Mel's home run with Mickey Vernon on base gave the Senators their runs in the second inning. Wally Post homered for the Reds.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UP) — A left-hander who won one game in 1951 appeared today to have won the Brooklyn Dodgers' opening day mound nomination over Preacher Roe and his glittering 22-3 record.

The southpaw is young Chris Vann Guy, who has allowed only two earned runs in 32 innings. He shut out the Braves for seven innings yesterday as the Dodgers pounded out a 7-0 victory in Montgomery, Ala.

ATLANTA (UP) — Righthander Tom Morgan, a nine-game winner, went nine innings to become the New York Yankees' first route-goer of the spring as the world champs beat the Atlanta Crackers, 5-4, last night. Morgan was touched for 12 hits and was only mildly impressive.

MARTINSVILLE, Va. — Herbert Thomas, the Olivia, N. C. driver who won national championship honors last year, and Curtis Turner, the veteran Roanoke speed demon, will revive their battle over the fast and tricky Martinsville speedway Sunday afternoon in a featured duel of the 200 lap Grand National Circuit race for late model automobiles.

Thomas, winner of the 200 lap race at North Wilkesboro speedway last Sunday, holds the speed record for the Martinsville track, having turned the oval in 32.09 seconds last October with his Hudson Hornet. Thomas also won one of the five Grand National Circuit races staged here during the past three years, which, incidentally, was his first triumph in a NASCAR race.

Turner has been top performer at Martinsville over a span of three years and won both spring classics here in 1949 and 1951 with Olds 88's. The Roanoke star has switched to a 1952 Hudson Hornet for the race Sunday, having made his first appearance with a Hudson at North Wilkesboro last Sunday.

AUGUSTA, Ga. — AP — Professional golfers and other folks who are supposed to know say Ben Hogan holds a mental bugaboo over Sam Snead—that Snead can't win with Hogan in the field.

But as the Masters Tournament today reached the third round, Snead seemed well on the way to defeating Hogan right where it hurt the most—in a major tournament with thousands looking on.

Unless Hogan can get his alleged hex back in working order or unless Sammy falls badly off his pace, Snead will set a new Masters record Sunday with strokes to spare.

Sam, a Virginian by way of West Virginia, yesterday shot a 67 for a 137 two-round total. That was good enough by three strokes to pull ahead of Hogan, who repeated with another 70 for a 140.

At Snead's present rate, he'll give the 72-hole par of 288 on the Augusta National a rough spanking.

Tied with 142's were Tommy Bolt, Jim Ferrier and John Revolta. Among the 143 shooters was Johnny Palmer who had a 74 after leading the field with Ray Gafford after the first round.

Other 143 men were Jack Burke Jr., who also had a second round 67, Gene Fazio and amateur Harvey Ward Jr. Gafford slumped from his first round 69 to an 80.

Ever since Hogan returned to tournament play after he was seriously injured in an auto accident in the winter of 1949, he has either whipped or finished higher than Snead in every major tournament except two.

Snead won a playoff from Hogan for the 1950 Los Angeles Open championship and finished third to Hogan's fourth in the 1950 Masters.

Hogan won the National Open in 1950, while Snead ended in a twelfth place tie. In the 1950 tournaments in which Hogan didn't play, Snead played top-rate golf and walked off with big-time honors.

In 1951 Hogan won the Masters. Snead finished in a tie for eighth. Hogan won the National Open. Snead finished in a tie for tenth. Hogan won the Tam O'Shanter world's championship. Snead tied for eighth. It went.

Groat, Miss Jordan Honored Last Night

DURHAM, N. C. — (AP) — Two North Carolina All-America basketball players—Dick Groat of Duke and Eckie Jordan of Hanes Hosley—received Lewis E. Teague awards here last night as the outstanding athletes in the Carolinas in 1951.

Branch Rickey, vice president and general manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, was speaker at the banquet attended by hundreds of sports figures from the two states.

Groat was selected to the Associated Press All-America this year. Last season he was the nation's top scorer for major colleges. He was chosen as shortstop on the American Association of College Baseball Coaches 1951 All-America baseball team.

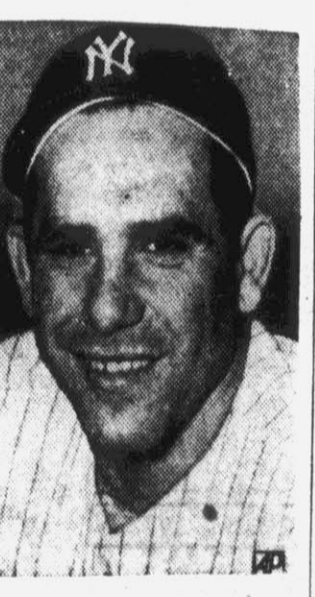

Miss Jordan is a member of the National AAU Woman's Championship basketball team, which recently captured the title for the second straight year in the annual tourney at Wichita, Kans. She was a repeater on the AAU All-America team this year.

Rickey was introduced by Jack Coombs, Duke baseball coach. Rickey spoke on requirements for success in life.

FAREWELL TO ROMANCE, JOE?—Just before leaving for New York to take up his new job as a television sports commentator, Joe DiMaggio, former Yankee baseball star, visits Actress Marilyn Monroe on a movie set at Twentieth Century-Fox studio in Hollywood.

DiMaggio frequently dates Miss Monroe when he's in the movie capital, but their only comment to questions about a possible romance has been a non-committal, "We're just friends." (AP Wirephoto).

Yogi Berra, regular catcher for the New York Yankees, clouted a homer yesterday to give the Yanks a 5-4 win over Atlanta.

Martinsville Has Rugged Race Set

MARTINSVILLE, Va. — Herbert Thomas, the Olivia, N. Greenies Meet

The first practice of the season for the semi-pro Greenville Greenies was slated for 2:30 this afternoon at Guy Smith Stadium.

This is the first meeting between the players and their new manager, Bill Sweel. Sweel, athletic director at Washington High School, was appointed manager several days ago by the team directors. He has invited everyone interested in playing with the team to report to the practice sessions.

Drunken Driving Again Heads Up Cases In Court

In keeping with a natural precedent set longer ago than most officers like to recall, driving drunk on the highways again led the list of offenses to come up in Pitt County Superior Court here last month with a total of 20.

Of the 69 cases to come before Judge John J. Burney during the two-week term in March, four cases were against females and 65 against males. Negroes accounted for 38 bills of indictment and whites for 31 — with ages of defendants ranging from 16 to 61. Farmers and laborers were involved in an overwhelming majority of the cases.

The heaviest sentence imposed by Judge Burney was a total of eight to 10 years in state prison on two counts of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill against Lyman Nichols, Bell Arthur white man. Nichols received five to six years on one conviction and three to four on another.

Number and disposition of the 69 cases was: three of assault with a deadly weapon, one of assault on a female, one of assault on a female with intent to commit rape, two of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill and two of simple assault.

Three of breaking and entering, one of breaking and entering with intent to commit rape, two of burglary, nine of careless and reckless driving, one of carrying a concealed weapon and one of contempt of court.

Two of disorderly conduct and resisting arrest, 21 of driving drunk, three of driving without an operator's license, one of failing to give a hand signal, one of hunting without license and three of larceny. It Wasn't Stew In Her Iron Pot

An iron pot that contained a concoction of far greater potency than "rock stew" caused a 24-year-old Greenville Negro woman to spend part of last night in the city jail.

Pitt County ABC officers last night arrested Rena Mae Anderson of 1114-B Clark Street, and placed her in jail on charges of possessing non-tax-paid whiskey. The whiskey was of the bootleg, "white lightning" variety, officers said.

ABC Officer J. M. Ward reported that when arresting officers knocked on Rena's front door, she slammed the door in their faces and ran back to the kitchen. "She had the liquor in a stew pot sitting on the kitchen stove," Ward said.

"By the time we could get back to the kitchen, she had thrown most of it out on the floor," he added. That a portion of the whiskey was saved for the purpose of evidence.

According to officers, Rena was placed in jail, but later in the night was released on $200 bond for appearance in Recorder's Court Monday morning.

Officers participating in the raid were J. M. Ward, J. L. Taylor and Claude Manning of the ABC force, and Deputy Sheriff Loyd Manning.

Arrest Suspect In Forgery Case

County and city authorities last night arrested Milton Barrett Anderson, Route 2, Greenville, on the charge of forgery and issuing a worthless check. He is held under $500 bond.

The warrant charges Anderson with forging the name of J. E. Winslow on a check for $20. It also charges him with having the check cashed at Hollowell's Drug Store, on Dickinson Avenue.

Greenville Police Detective Nathan H. Byrd, who investigated the case, said Anderson admits being away without leave from the U. S. Navy ship Randall, stationed at Norfolk, Va.

The officer quoted Anderson as admitting cashing six checks. One was at Hollowell's Drug Store, two at Colonial stores, one at Home Furniture Store, one at the A.P. Store, and another at Blount-Harvey's Store. The checks totaled $110.

Police said Anderson would make small purchases at retail stores, prefer a check, and then receive considerable change.

The Navy Department has been notified of Anderson's apprehension. He has been away without leave since February 1, he told officers.

Deputies Jasper Lee Mills and Duke Andrews and State Patrolman James Taylor assisted in the arrest.
