No Campaigning For Eisenhower

Ike Says He Won't Enter Political Lists Unless He Is Nominated By Republican Convention; Until Then, He Will Stay Within Limits Imposed By His Uniform

PARIS (UP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower announced today that he would not actively campaign for the U.S. presidency until and unless nominated by the Republican national convention July 7.

He took a 10-minute press conference that he had resigned as North Atlantic supreme commander, effective June 1, because the pressure of politics at home was preventing him from carrying out fully his military job here.

He emphasized that he still had not resigned his commission as five-star general and therefore does not feel free to discuss political issues at this time.

But if nominated by the Republican convention, he said, "I would then immediately submit my resignation... I should then be free to speak and act without any limitation customarily imposed by the Defense Department."

Eisenhower said he had made "no plans whatsoever" for the period immediately following his return to the U.S. and for the Republican convention in July.

He also expressed hope that clarification of his intentions by his resignation of his European command would permit him to finish out his assignment relatively undisturbed.

"I must prevent politics from interfering in this vital job in the weeks remaining before I return to the U.S.," he said.

Eisenhower said he had no information on who would succeed him as commander of the Atlantic Pact forces. Any one of a number of men could fill the job, he said. And it would be useless to submit questions to him concerning his choice of a new commander.

However, sources close to Eisenhower believe he already has informed President Truman that he believes the best man for the job would be Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, his present chief of staff.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme United Nations commander for Korea, also has been mentioned for the post.

Before leaving Europe, Eisenhower said, he will make a farewell swing through the capitals of the states contributing to his command to discuss Pact affairs and bid farewell to his associates. He leaves here April 16.

PARIS (UP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower brushed a tear from his eye as he told fellow officers he was giving up the job of supreme Allied commander for Europe.

The general told the top military men in his headquarters the news yesterday, some eight hours before President Truman made a formal announcement that Eisenhower had asked to be relieved of his command.

Brig. Gen. Anthony J. Drekel Biddle Jr. told today of how Eisenhower strode into a conference room yesterday filled with approximately 70 officers of the North Atlantic Treaty nations wending up a "paper war" exercise.

Eisenhower told them he was leaving. There was silence. Then Britain's allegedly unemotional Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, famed for his coldly calculated campaigns during the war, threw his arms around Eisenhower. The two men hugged each other.

"It was a scene such as I have never witnessed in my life," said Biddle. "There wasn't a dry eye in the house."

Eisenhower himself rubbed tears from his eyes with a handkerchief.

Sixty-Six Best Grade Steers In Fat Stock Show

Annual County Show And Sale Here April 17; Future Farmers Enter 61

Boys from the rural areas of Pitt County will offer 66 of the best grade steers in the second annual Pitt County Fat Stock Show and Sale at the Farmers Warehouse here April 17.

Directed by the Pitt County Agricultural Teachers Association and sponsored by firms and individuals in the county, the showing and placing of steers will be at 9 a.m. and the sale will start at 1:30 p.m.

Of the steers offered in the show and sale, 61 are raised by members of the Future Farmers of America under the supervision of county agricultural teachers, and five are raised by 4-H club members under the supervision of the assistant county agent.

Steers at the sale last year, which numbered 22, were sold for an average of 47.8 cents per pound. The Grand Champion last year brought 31 cents and the Reserve Champion brought 66 cents. The sale was terminated by S. F. Peterson, sale manager, as the most successful in the south-east. He said the boys have the steers to make this year's sale better and all they need are the buyers.

Peterson said local butchers would take up the steers bought, slaughter, and deliver them anywhere for the hide and $1.00 per hundred dressed weight.

Prizes will be awarded according to U. S. Standard grades on a 4-3 basis. Prizes of $500 will go to the choice good steers and $300 in prizes will be offered for fitting and showmanship.

A banquet for the exhibitors, their fathers, sponsors, buyers and guests will be held the night of the sale. Commissioner of Agriculture L. Y. Ballentine will be the speaker at the banquet.

Peterson said the purpose of the show and sale was to promote and improve livestock in Pitt County. "This is the biggest of all Pitt County shows of any kind ever held. You can't afford to miss seeing it and supporting it by buying a steer."

Communist Try Allied Lines In Probing Action

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Communists fired a "barrage" of machine-gun and rifle bullets along a three-mile front to cover other held areas attacked and briefly held three hills in the Munsungni valley.

It was the heaviest action of the month along the thawing Korean battlefield.

After one sortie was beaten off, the Reds were reformed. Allied infantrymen fell back on all three peaks and called in artillery which pounded the hills until return fire slackened to almost nothing.

United Nations troops went back up the hills at dawn and found no living Communists. There were 28 dead ones.

Fifth Army officers reported Red probing actions along the central and western fronts, all of which were repulsed.

Rural Lines Work Not Bugged Down

Utilities Officials Deny Rumor Project Suffering Artificial Stoppage; Added Mileage Of Lines To Be Acted On

Greenville Utilities officials this morning flatly denied the rumor started yesterday that work on the rural electrification project of the city has bogged down.

Superintendent Martin Swartz and Business Manager Larry Brown said this morning the rumor probably started from reports that an extension of the present construction contract or a new contract will have to be effected to carry electricity to all rural people who have made application for the service.

The officials said that the 243 miles of lines to be constructed under the present rural electrification program will be finished within the next three or four weeks, and emphasized the fact that no work stoppage has interrupted the construction work on the lines.

They expressed the opinion that the rumor probably started when it was learned that the construction company putting up the lines directed its superintendent on the job not to go beyond the points where poles already have been placed for the construction of the lines until a check on the number of miles of lines being put up can be made.

The utilities spokesmen explained that the company is not authorized under its contract to construct more than 243 miles of lines, and as the work nears completion a check is always necessary to determine the exact number of miles of lines constructed.

Brown said he was informed yesterday that the total number of miles of lines staked by the engineer and released to the contractor will run approximately 25 miles over the 243 miles of lines called for in the construction contract. He explained that new applications which have been coming in for electric service since construction work began is the reason for the additional mileage.

The additional mileage is made up of short extensions to furnish electricity to homes in the area covered by the trunk lines, but not included in the original estimates on which the contract was based. Most of the additional 25 miles of extensions which will be needed are located east of Highway 17 in the Vanceboro vicinity, he said.

Both Swartz and Brown said the State Utilities Commission and the REA headquarters in Washington, D.C. are urging the local utilities to furnish electrical service on the additional 25 miles of rural lines before the current rural expansion program is completed.

Negotiations already are in the mill to determine the cost of extending the rural lines to cover all the applications in the Greenville territory for rural electric service. The contractor on the present 243-mile project and the engineer for the project already are compiling a comprehensive report for the Utilities Commission on the amount of work (one and the amount of additional work which will be needed if all the applications for electrical service are fulfilled.

A special meeting of the Utilities Commission tentatively has been set for April 22 at which time the reports are to be presented to the board.

Spokesmen this morning opined that the additional work could be done approximately 25 per cent cheaper through an extension of the present construction contract than by either letting a new contract for the additional work or by having it done by employees of the Utilities Commission.

The construction report through yesterday showed 117 miles of the 243 miles of lines called for in the contract already have been energized. The portion already energized furnishes electricity to some 650 rural customers.

Officers making the raid were Pitt County ABC officers J. M. Ward, C. T. Manning and R. W. King. ATU officers from New Bern, E. A. Bennett, Clark Churchill and J. F. Kelley.

Candidate Olive Again Lashes At Utilities Board

RALEIGH (UP)—Hubert E. Olive fanned the flames of the hottest controversy in the gubernatorial primary campaign today with a new verbal assault on the State Utilities Commission.

The former Lexington jurist contends that a majority of the commission members are supporting his chief opponent, William B. Umstead of Durham.

Olive said his "exposure" of commission plans to grant a rate increase to Duke Power Co. has forced the commission to postpone requests for rate increases by Southern Bell and Carolina telephone companies.

"You can count on the commission's not raising anybody else's living expenses before the May 31 primary," Olive said. "It is not going to risk another storm of public disapproval against the commission and the candidates favored by a majority of the commission."

Big Still Raided In County With Seven Men Arrested

200-Gallon Installation Dynamited; Nearly 4,000 Pounds Of Sugar Stacked At Site; Three Automobiles Seized; One Of Largest Set-Ups Ever Found In Pitt

By ROY HARDEE Reflector Staff Writer GRIMESLAND—Seven men and three automobiles were seized early this morning when an ABC raiding force in company with ATU officers swooped down out of the pre-dawn darkness and raided one of the largest liquor plants found in Pitt County.

The illegal distillery was located about two miles northeast of Grimesland in a section of woodland which led off the river road.

Officers seized three Negro men working at the still around 4:30 this morning after several hours of watching. The still, a 200-gallon steam distillery with an upright boiler, was in operation when the raiders moved in on it.

Around 30 gallons of freshly made whiskey was at the still with an additional 60 gallons found hidden some distance from the site.

Arrested with the still and charged with operating an illegal distillery were Arthur Williams, 39, of Pactolus; James Jones, 35, of Route 3, Washington; and Jessie Moore, 41, of RFD Greenville.

Officers captured the trio before they had time to flee the still in the darkness.

A total of 3,400 gallons of mash which was ready to be run was found at the still stored in thirty-two 200-gallon mash fermenters. Of this number, 17 of the units were filled with some of the others having been used to run the first batch of spirits.

Officers stated that it was the first time the unit had been placed in operation.

A 200-gallon pre-heating unit with copper fittings, along with a 400-gallon cooler box condenser, rounded out the still's working parts.

Nearly 4,000 pounds of sugar was stacked up around the still contained in thirty 100-pound bags and thirty-five 25-pound sacks, making a total of 3,875 pounds of sugar. At the rate of nearly $10 per hundred pounds, the seized goods represented a considerable amount of money.

While raiding the still, officers had spotted 54 hidden gallons of whiskey taken from the still some distance away on a second wooded path. Officers laying in wait for the approach of someone were rewarded when they captured two automobiles along with their three occupants and a tenth case of spirits.

Arrested when they stopped to pick up the whiskey were Joe Mizell of Route 3, Washington; Charlie Little, Route 3, Washington; and Willie James Davis, 31. Each was charged with possession and transporting. Davis was charged with possession of six of the ten cases.

But the officers were still to nab a seventh party. ABC Officer J. M. Ward, returning to the still after a trip to bring in explosives, arrested Jimmie Griffin of Washington as he was attempting to leave the area. Griffin was charged with ownership of the still.

All of the men were taken to Washington and given a hearing this morning before Commissioner Buck Taylor before bond would be allowed.

Mizell was charged also with aiding and abetting with the operation of an illegal distillery.

A number of five-gallon jars with boxes and bags were destroyed along with the rest of the still. The furnace was being fired by coal and coke which were stacked in bags around the unit. A path led into the area which had been used to bring in all the materials to build the still and the merchandise to operate it with the officers' tated.

Nearly 50 sticks of dynamite were used to destroy the still and all of its equipment.

Officers making the raid were Pitt County ABC officers J. M. Ward, C. T. Manning and R. W. King. ATU officers from New Bern, E. A. Bennett, Clark Churchill and J. F. Kelley.

Extended Phone Strike Discussed

Looked-For Break In Negotiations Fails To Materialize

WASHINGTON (UP)—Leaders of the CIO communication workers met today to consider a strike of Bell System employees in 43 states.

Joseph A. Beirne, union president called the meeting after his negotiators were rebuffed in their efforts to win other agreements in the system based on a pact signed yesterday with the Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

It was reported reliably that the union would signal the first nationwide telephone walkout since 1947 to back up its demands for a 12.7-cent hourly wage and fringe increase.

Coupled with the Western Union strike by AFL telegraphers, a telephone walkout would cripple the country's communications system as never before.

The CIO union, which claims to represent 300,000 Bell workers, would be subject to court action by companies whose contracts with the union have not yet expired. However, such suits frequently are dropped after final agreement is reached on new contracts.

Most of the union's contracts with other Bell companies will expire on a staggered basis by the beginning of summer, but the Michigan agreement had been expected to set a pattern that would be used across the country.

Babson Discusses Job Outlook Today, And Trends For Future

By ROGER W. BABSON BABSON PARK, Mass.—Headlines about unemployment in certain sections such as Detroit and New Bedford have made depressing reading. Events, however, are sometimes more important than statistics. I, for one, have been greatly encouraged by the recent withdrawal of President Truman from the race. My more optimistic feeling comes from the fact that a number of the other contestants for the Presidency are more conservative than is Mr. Truman. And a more conservative outlook is what we need to encourage capital investment, which is the source of all jobs.

Declining Employment Areas According to the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, there has been a decline in employment in such industries as clothing, food, lumber and textiles. In the clothing industry there are about 60,000 fewer jobs today than a year ago. Likewise, there are about 65,000 fewer food jobs, 20,000 fewer lumber, and 75,000 fewer textile jobs.

The answer to the unemployed worker in a consumer-goods industry is a job in a defense industry. By late 1952, it may be difficult indeed for the consumer-goods industry to find laid-off workers. They may have been snapped up by defense industries and paid wages that consumer-goods companies will find difficult to meet.

Best Job Bets Best job bets for 1952 will be in the defense industries, although, in the long run, more secure employment is to be found in consumer-goods industries. The production jobs today on the increase are in such industries as heavy machinery, metals, chemicals, and paper—to mention a few. For example, there are today 200,000 more jobs in machinery plants than there were a year ago, about 100,000 more in metals, 71,000 in chemicals, and 15,000 in paper. Transportation equipment and materials handling manufacturers are employing about 160,000 more people. The college, senior with a mechanical or electrical engineering degree is in very short supply now and can, therefore, almost write his own contract. A recent survey of 125 companies reveals they will offer beginning engi-head lowered. "I'd as soon see a skunk—any other skunk—and I ain't partial to polecats!"

Steve's ears reddened. Otherwise he gave no sign.

"Weren't you satisfied with the licking you took, the other night?" he asked.

"Licking, was it?" Matt's voice blared. "A damned trick, that was. The Tarsons never have been licked—never will be—not by the Russells. You think you've won—think you've stolen my girl, that you're going to marry her to-day! Well, you're wrong—dead wrong! You're a dirty sneakin' Judas, and I'm going to kill you!"

Steve's tone was contemptuous. "Speakin' of Judas," he said. "Here's your thirty pieces of dirty money!"

He was making no try for his own holster gun. Instead, he raised his clenched hand and threw—thirty glittering coins which caught the sun and sent it breaking and dancing in a wild confusion. Straight into the face of Matt Tarson.

They struck hard, driving him back, blinding him, sending him clawing at his face with both hands, dropping his gun. Newly minted gold coins, and by now every man in town knew that Matt Tarson had been paid in such eagles at the Wolf the other day.

Steve did not make a gesture toward his own gun. The contempt in his voice lashed like a quirt.

"Here's your Judas money, come back to you Matt," he said. And, stooping, he kicked Tarson's dropped gun so that it skittered across the meadow grass and slid smoothly into the waters of the Passover with a small splash.

What might happen then hung by a thread. Matt Tarson stood, glaring, the winking coins in a scattered circle all about him. His face was terrible. But before he could take any further action, a man came spurting and flung himself off his horse beside Matt. It was Felix Tarson.

Where Are The Younger Pilots Now? Ask Reluctant Reservists

Attack By Lions Not Part Of Act In Circus Show

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UP)—A 35-year-old Air Force pilot, father of five children, was identified today as one of six officers at Randolph Air Force Base who have refused to go aloft since April 1.

The pilot said he was "afraid to fly."

The military said he is 1st Lt. James G. Bristol, a veteran of the Berlin airlift. He has been formally charged with refusing to obey direct orders to fly.

Bristol is the only one of six sit-down pilots who has been charged, although the Air Force is considering court-martialing all six.

One of the World War II veterans in the group went AWOL after he was overheard trying to telephone President Truman and two well-known newspaper columnists from a San Antonio hotel room.

Bristol, whose home originally was in HARLAN, Ia., enrolled in the Air Force as a flying cadet in 1942 and was called up in 1943. He flew non-combat missions in this country, was recalled in 1948 and flew non-combat missions for 18 months before being sent to England.

He said that it was his wife's "flying nerves" rather than his own fear of flying that led to his refusal. Bristol added that his wife's first husband was killed in an Air Force flying accident, and she became more nervous about his flights as their family grew.

"She got where she was nearly prostrate with nerves when I was overdue on a flight," Bristol said. "I just couldn't fly under those conditions. For the sake of my family I had to do this."

All six officials at Randolph said asked to be grounded because of fear of flying, previously a sufficient reason to be taken off flying status.

But officials revealed yesterday that a new Air Force policy now is in effect.

MaJ Gen. J.K. Lacey, commander of the Crew Training Air Force, a new training arm which will administer Randolph and several other bases where combat crews are trained—expressed the opinion that the balking flyers might be "testing the new policy."

"There's always someone wanting to make a test case out of a new policy," he said. "Of course, it's a little more serious when placing oneself in jeopardy of court martial."

Still a Randolph spokesman said, a refusal to fly is not regarded as mutiny.

"We do not consider that this case has any mutinous aspects," said MaJ Albert Hatcher, public information officer for the CTAF at Randolph.

Hatcher also revealed that 269 officers have asked to be grounded since Randolph, previously a pilot training base, began training B-29 combat crews in August, 1950.

Hatcher said 149 of these men were taken off flying status, but 120 of them were returned to flying duty.

The refusal to fly apparently grew out of increasing resentment on the part of reservists at Randolph and at other bases as being recalled, and Air Force refusal of many of their requests to be grounded.

The Dallas Morning News said it talked with two of the unidentified sit-down Randolph flyers.

The newspaper said the men reported that they and the other four balking sidemen all were World War II veterans who had asked to be suspended from flying status for fear of flying. Five are married, four have children and the wife of the fifth is expecting a baby soon.

"Where are the 19 and 20-year-olds this time?" the newspaper quoted the two men as asking.

And why doesn't the Air Force send its regulars to Korea instead of the reservists, who got out and were just getting established in civilian life when they were recalled?"

NEW YORK (UP)—Two Venezuelan brothers arrived at Idlewild Airport yesterday from Paris and took off for Caracas less than an hour later in a Constellation they chartered for $10,000.

Attack By Lions Not Part Of Act In Circus Show

NEW YORK (UP)—Most of the audience at Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey's circus last night apparently thought it was all part of the act when lion tamer Oscar Konyot was attacked by two of his "pets."

Konyot, who had bits of flesh torn from his left side and from his arms, said it was the 51st time one or more of the big cats had attacked him.

The 45-year-old trainer had just put his eight lions through their paces when one of them swiped him with a paw and knocked him to the ground. Before Konyot could recover his footing a second cat leaped on top of him.

The tamer, who uses neither whip, pistol nor chair in his act, fought the lions off with his hands and finished the act. He then was rushed to St. Clare's Hospital where his wounds were stitched.

Tighter Fit For Tunnel Of Love

PALISADES PARK, N.J. (UP)—Romancing couples got an assist from metal shortages and the huge cost of labor today when the amusement park here opened for the season.

The seats of the new cars in the "Tunnel of Love" were nine inches narrower to conserve metal and save construction costs. The boys and girls will be sitting that much closer together this summer.

The Rev. Jones gave a very interesting and informative talk on historical Appomattox. He said that Old Appomattox is a National Park and a Government project. The Federal Government has contributed much in the last five years toward the restoration of buildings. He closed by reading a lecture on Appomattox which he had given while living there.

A brief business session followed the program, during which the following were appointed to serve on the telephone committee: Mrs. J. L. Fleming, Mrs. W. R. Jones and Mrs. Bob Harrington.

Strength for the Day

By RABBI L. DOUGLAS
No generation of Christian believers will ever be able, probably, to reconstruct the grief and despair of the disciples of Jesus the day following the crucifixion.

All their hopes had been destroyed. They had looked for a King of Israel and their king had ended up wearing a crown of thorns. They had hoped that God would send a Deliverer to rid their land of the oppressor, behold here was the expected Deliverer on the cross—despised, rejected, and numbered among the transgressors. Their very faith in the goodness of God must have been shaken, for he had allowed the best Man that had ever lived thus to be treated.

But what they could not do was to look into the mirror. Women intent on performing the last office of love for a departed loved one, would see a glow such as never before appeared to human eyes. A few hours after the midnight of their despair, the disciples would be filled with excitement because of strange rumors concerning the resurrection. Then the full glory of it would burst upon them, and for forty days they would walk in the fullness of that light.

We have been walking in the glory of that light ever since. Without the resurrection there could have been no Christian Church, no faith sustaining the weary hearts of multitudes.

"Now is Christ risen from the dead and become the first fruits of them that sleep."

Keep The Price Of Terrorism High

Pitt County citizens who previously have viewed Klan-like crosses and threatening notes as a joking matter in Pitt County should by now be well aware that there is nothing lighthearted about such a serious affair.

Judge Charles H. Whedbee laid the cards squarely on the table in Greenville Recorder's court here yesterday when he sentenced a mother and two sons to 12 months in jail suspended up on payment of $100 fine and other strenuous conditions after they admitted in court that they were guilty of the charges brought against them.

The trio had no connection with the Ku Klux Klan as their note and cross might indicate. They used the hated symbol as a means of inciting fear into a relative to remedy a situation which they thought was bad. Nevertheless it was not, and should not have been, overlooked by the court that they went outside the law in taking matters into their own hands. They sought to spread terrorism just as the Klan does.

The Foskeys are paying not only for their misdeed, but also for their thoughtlessness in seeking to remedy a situation outside the law rather than through the law as they should have.

Acts such as that of the Foskeys, though they testified they meant no bodily harm to Mrs. Alfred, are what lead to more serious forms of terrorism if they go unchecked. By their action this week the local law enforcement officers and the courts have indicated they mean serious business when it comes to putting a stop to this terrorism which was just showing its ugly head in Pitt County.

There is no need for acts of terrorism in Pitt County or anywhere else in North Carolina. There are plenty of laws and plenty of law enforcement officers to cope with the wrongdoers without individual citizens seeking to take the law into their own hands.

Judge Whedbee told the Foskeys frankly before pronouncing sentence, it does not pay to burn crosses or send threatening notes in Pitt County. That warning is emphasized by the sentence which the Foskeys received. It should serve as a stern warning to others who may consider indulging in similar acts of terrorism.

The citizens of Pitt County expect the law enforcement officers and the courts to continue to see that the price which must be paid for such crimes in Pitt County remains high.

Who Will Find The Easter Spirit

This week-end the Christian world celebrates the Easter season. It is the day which marks the Resurrection of the Lord. . . . the day when the bonds of death were shattered to fragments, never again to bind those who seek the salvation of the Saviour of Calvary.

Across the free world church bells will ring, the army of Christians, which has grown from the 12 to legions of millions, will gather to sing praises, kneel in prayer and listen to the word of the Risen Lord. Even behind the Iron Curtain where the state has sought to extinguish the fire of religion, the small but vivid spark will bring other millions to their knees in silent prayer behind locked doors. Those who find themselves persecuted at Easter, 1952, will remember the persecution almost 2,000 years ago and receive new strength, new hope, new faith.

To other millions Easter Sunday will be just another day away from work . . . a day for pleasures, a day for merrymaking, a day for worldliness, a day for almost anything except religion. They do not mean to turn their backs on the King of Salvation . . . there are just too many other things to do and so little time in which to do them.

At this Easter time, just as at many in the past, the world needs the true Easter spirit . . . the new awakening. We hope the true spirit of Easter is found in the hearts of the people of Pitt County.

National Whirligig

Every Saturday this veteran Washington newspaper correspondent devotes his column to answering readers' questions of general interest on national and international politics and personalities. Questions may be sent direct to Ray Tucker at 6308 Hillcrest Place, Chevy Chase, Md.

WASHINGTON—Don't you think that Senator Estes Kefauver's primary victories in New Hampshire, Wisconsin and Nebraska, asks Mrs. L. J. of Brooklyn, N. Y., were due largely to his appearances on television during his investigation of crime and political corruption? As I recall, you recently discounted television as a political force.

STATISTICS—Answer: It would be foolish to deny that Senator Kefauver's frequent appearances on the television screen did help to make him known. Nor do I mean to insist that this new medium of bringing candidates before the voters, like radio, will not have an effect in politics, government and international affairs.

Television statistics, however, suggest that there were more important factors operating for the young Tennessee. There is no radio station in New Hampshire, for instance. Although 15,848 sets were shipped into the state last year, most of them are strung out along the southern coast, where they hook up with the Boston station. But FCC field agents inform me that the reception is extremely poor.

Nebraska has a population of 1,325,510, but only 128,171 television sets, mostly in the vicinity of Omaha. With a population of 3,434,575, Wisconsin has only 320,945 sets, and most are owned by people in and near Milwaukee. In all three states, Kefauver rolled up his largest votes in remote, rural areas, where there are few or no television facilities.

KNIGHT—No mechanical medium can "make" a man a candidate. Indeed, it is uncomplimentary to Kefauver to suggest that he owes his popularity to artificial devices.

His showings are easily explainable on other grounds. He was a new, relatively young and honest face. He was the white knight who exposed official corruption when others were denying that it existed or trying to cover it up.

He has been fighting the political bosses now in discreet or disgrace. He dared to declare for president long before President Truman announced his 1952 intentions.

Even before that exhibition of independence, he had the courage to buck the Crump-McKellar machine in Memphis when he first ran for the Senate.

This picture of Kefauver as a refreshing and different kind of politician had been conveyed to the public by newspapers, magazines and his own speeches long before he went on the screen. But not even the press gallery on Capitol Hill, which is not exactly a modest crowd, suggest that they made Kefauver.

ERRED: In answer to letters from several readers, he writes: Gladly admits that he erred when he suggested that President Truman might profit from the book about him entitled "Mr. President." In explanation, it should be noted that the royalty arrangements were generally unknown when the speculative article was written.

President Truman receives not a penny from publication, writes Roger W. Straus, Jr., one of the publishers. The normal publisher's royalties are divided between the editor, William Hillman, and the photographer, Alfred Wags. The online royalty will be divided between them, and amounts to 75 cents a copy.

DO-GOODERS: We have here a large number of new readers and donors of the Franklin D. Roosevelt strain, writes W. G. McC. of Albuquerque, N. M. "Lately, they have been abusing Truman and the Democrats. They express private admiration for Governor Warren, but they boost Eisenhower publicly. They hate such men as Taft, Dickson and MacArthur. Quite a few have recently changed their registrations from Independent or Democrat to Republican. What is their game?"

LEGITIMATE: Answer: This crossing of the political line has happened in numerous states where cross-voting is permitted and in general registration shifts.

It simply means that these Independents and Roosevelt Democrats prefer Eisenhower to any possible Democratic or Republican candidate. They probably registered as Republicans when they thought Truman might run again.

It is entirely legitimate, of course, although Eisenhower's policies may disappoint the so-called "liberals" if he enters the White House. Ike's backers cite this shifting of affiliation as one of his strongest assets. It may be.

ANTIGO WISC. DAILY JOURNAL: It is encouraging in view of all that has been said about the disappearance of the family doctor, which rural communities have felt so keenly, that the trend in preparation for medicine has changed. According to Pageant magazine, for the past five years the proportion of medical students planning to become general practitioners has increased steadily.

With a regularity comparable to the rising and falling of the tides, the oil industry is accused of earning exorbitant profits and of evading taxes through loopholes in the law. As evidence, the critics inevitably cite the 27 1/2 per cent depletion allowance which is granted oil companies in computing their taxes.

These charges may impress people who are not conversant with the special problems of the oil industry. But that doesn't dispose of the fact that they are as full of holes as a sieve. Oil is one of our biggest taxpayers, and it carries its full share of the tax burden. As a 1951 Congressional hearing testimony was presented showing that the oil industry's income and excess profits tax on each dollar earned is substantially higher than the average for all other industry. —Industrial News Review

It's Not The Bunny Who's Dumb

Somebody Told Me

By J. J. (Jack) EDWARDS, JR.

Before getting underway with this important topic, let me emphasize one point: Orchids are out of style this Easter, and everybody in Washington, D.C. who is the wife of a government official and who wears an orchid tomorrow can expect to have her husband investigated. With present income tax rates, nobody can afford one. For years I have been campaigning to put orchids out of style, but I have to admit that so far the effort has failed. The other side of the story links me. High priced roses are $4 and a low priced orchid is only $5. When it costs only $1 more to go first class, who can resist? Especially when the dollar is worth only about forty cents. But in spite of this argument, I have not given up.

The important topic I mentioned above is relaxation. The topic struck me last night when I discovered a habit of relaxation I have that I was totally unaware of. That habit is baring my stomach. Of course it took my daughter, a 19-month-old yesterday, to make me aware of the habit.

There I was sitting in the living room, shoes off, shirt off and undershirt up just high enough to bare my stomach, when Nancy came running up to pat my stomach. Fortunately, she did it gently. At first I was startled, and then I realized that I often pat Nancy's bare stomach which gives her every right to pat mine. Then I realized that baring my stomach was a common experience that I had never been aware of a very relaxing experience.

People do funny things when they relax. My wife Rachel wiggles her toes. To me, nothing could be more tiring than wiggling my toes but to W. R. it's relaxing so who am I to say she's crazy for wiggling her toes?

There are plenty of people who knock themselves out and call it relaxation. At Carolina I knew a character who used to run a mile in order to relax himself. Plenty of businessmen walk four miles around the golf course and say that it's the only thing that can relax them.

This is a funny world. Small children like Nancy never relax. They just run in circles until they drop of sheer exhaustion. Grow-ups have to invent special methods to relax, because if they don't they will have nervous breakdowns.

Another phenomenon is the man who makes a good living and is completely relaxed at all times. This type of person has a gift that he usually doesn't appreciate enough.

Relaxation is largely dependent on peace of mind. The rest is a cinch. And I thank you.

Around Capitol Square

HALF-WAY — Campaign headquarters of William Umstead for Governor have completed local organizations in more than half the counties of the state. Managers or steering committees were published in 50 of the 100 counties up to noon Thursday. The headquarters staff said at that time the set-up had been completed in a dozen or so additional counties, but announcements would be withheld to coincide with publication dates of local papers or for other reasons. Within the next two weeks, at least a full month before the primary on May 31, Umstead folks expect to have working organizations in every county, with supplemental headquarters in several larger cities. Olive for Governor headquarters have published names of organization leaders in only two counties, but say contacts have been established in several more.

STRATEGY — This situation emphasizes the difference in campaign technique employed by the two candidates. Umstead apparently is depending upon the proven methods of organization from the precinct up to get out his vote, supported by humorous personal speaking appearances where he presents a positive program for his administration. Olive apparently is relying upon direct mail appeal to voters, supported by just as many personal speaking appearances, and by numerous statements in which the negative approach is taken in pending issues. The Olive statements have attacked administrative policies of the State Personnel Department, the Employment Security Commission and the Utilities Commission as well as all the lobbyists.

DISPLEASED — Some supporters of both candidates are displeased with the campaign methods being used. Among the Umstead folks is found demand for a more aggressive offensive attitude to start slugging and calling names like Olive is doing. Among the Olive folks is found some resentment at his blasts at integral parts of the Scott administration, since Governor Scott has thrown the whole weight of his influence to Olive. The candidates themselves and their responsible headquarters counselors seem to be pretty well satisfied with the strategy being employed.

HIGHWAYS — The State Highway and Public Works Commission got a new member Thursday when Paul Taylor was sworn in as successor to Mark Goforth in the eighth division. Goforth had resigned to run for Congress in the ninth district. The new commissioner is a resident of Winston-Salem where he operates to bacco warehouses and is prominent in other business activities. He is a native of Stokes county and still maintains large farming interests there. Several weeks ago George Richardson, Raleigh farming interest in several counties, was named highway commissioner for the fourth division, replacing Dr. R. E. Earp, who resigned to manage the campaign of Hubert Olive for Governor. A third resignation from the highway commission for purely political reasons is regarded as overdue. Dale Thrash, commissioner in the tenth division, is running for Congress in the twelfth district.

CROSSED UP — The situation in the tenth highway division, which more nearly follows boundary lines of the twelfth congressional district than lines of any other highway and congressional units in the state, is short-circuiting some political plans. Thrash announced for congress before Earp was selected to handle the Olive campaign, and long before Goforth decided to get into the congressional race. Governor Scott told a press conference when Thrash announced that he would expect him to resign. Thrash had a different idea, and reports from the area indicate that he may not quit his highway post at all. He is known to be concerned about completion of some road projects in his division, perhaps regarding them as more important than his own nomination for Congress. Further information from that area indicates that neither Governor Scott nor his personal choice for next governor is very popular in the far western mountain section of the state. The races for Congress and for the State Senate in several counties have become entangled, perhaps regarding them as more important than their own nomination for Congress. Some day a perfect hotel will be built. One of the first things they will do is hire midgets to strew rose petals in your path. I have always thought that would make an impressive entrance. There are all sorts of bellhops. Veteran travelers will recall at least some of these types:

Business Today

By ELMER ROESSNER
A campaign to eradicate customers' and employees' misconceptions about retailing is being launched by the National Retail Dry Goods Association. It is issuing a series of leaflets which member stores are to distribute once a month.

Among the misconceptions the association hopes to dispel are these:

That retail markup is all profit. That retail profits are too high. That retail jobs are not stable. That special skills are wasted in retailing. That retailing offers few executive jobs. That retail employees are all young. That anybody can sell. That the retailer is to blame for high prices. That retailing is a routine, mechanical business.

Retailers are especially sensitive about those first two points right now. One of the early leaflets will make the point that, during the first nine months of 1951, of every dollar taken in 61 cents went for the cost of merchandise, 37.1 cents went for wages, rent, services to customers, advertising, taxes and other expenses, leaving 19 cents profit.

Department stores, at least those with more than $1,000,000 in annual sales, did better for the full year of 1951, a report by the Controller's Congress, a division of the association, indicates. For the full year, the net profit after taxes was 2.4 cents on each dollar of sales. This was a decline of 1.4 cents from 1950 and the lowest profit return since 1939. There are indications that the net for the first quarter of this year will not only be lower than the 1951 average but even lower than the average for the first nine months of that year.

Raymond F. Copes, general manager of the Congress, said the decline in profits has been caused by rising expenses which cannot be offset because margins are frozen. He said that controls made the retail situation "helpless."

MANYS STORES LACK FOLLOW-THROUGH
Another reason for the state of retailing may be store management's fault, judging from a survey made by the New York University School of Retailing.

It found that 3 times out of 10 advertised merchandise was not available in the store advertising, either because it was sold out or because it had not yet been put on display.

It also found that in 82 per cent of the cases the advertised merchandise was not displayed in street windows and that when it was, no reference to the advertisement appeared in 67 per cent of the cases. It also found that in 81 per cent there were no directions leading customers from the main floor to the advertised merchandise.

However it found that 95 per cent of the stores informed salespersons about advertised merchandise and that 81 per cent made a special display.

While 90 per cent of the advertisements told where in the store the merchandise could be found, 33 per cent didn't give the store address.

Maybe things are better here than in New York.

DUTY-FREE PARCELS WORRY RETAILERS
Retailers have another problem. A section in the proposed Customs Simplification Act, now pending in Congress, exempts merchandise valued at less than $10 to be mailed to an American consumer duty free. Anyone who has gone through the trouble of clearing a small gift from a friend abroad will like the idea.

But, retailers fear, it would open up a rash of mail order promotion that would lose retail sales here. Even with customs charges and rigamarole, European enterprisers have already cut in to American retailers' sales with mail-order offerings of sweaters, hosiery, giftware and other small items.

PEAT MOSS RESTORES PROMOTERS SANITY
There was a twinkle in the Old Promoter's eye (the good one) when he dropped in today. "My mind is at ease for the first time in years," he said.

"You know, one of the high crimes of American advertising writers is the dangling comparative," he went on. "They write that their product is cheaper, smoother, firmer, softer and they say it offers more enjoyment, more pleasure, more security, but they never say what is at the other end of the comparison."

"After a few hours of reading the ads, I find myself mumbling to myself, 'Gibbicks are cheaper than what? Zubbubs are cheaper than what? Pippibs give me more pleasure than what?'"

It has become an obsession with me. You know how sometimes a jingle or a tune gets lodged in your mind and keeps running around in circles until it drives all sense out? That's the way the dangling comparatives affect me.

Hal Boyle's Column

CINCINNATI — (AP) — When you register at a hotel, the desk clerk bangs a bell importantly and calls out:

"Boy! Show this gentleman to his room!"

The next few seconds are always full of tremendous suspense. Getting a hotel room is one of the great dramas of everyday American life. Each person must play his role exactly right or the whole thing is ruined.

The desk clerk has acted his part perfectly. He looked at you with icy suspicion when you first stepped meekly up to him, like a prisoner at the bar of justice.

Then a slow smile spread over his stern countenance like a frozen river breaking up in spring. Yes, sir! Prefer a tub or shower? As you sign your name, a small sensation of self-respect creeps back into you.

"Boy! Show this gentleman to his room!"

Who will step forward? Whoever he is, he will make or break the whole performance.

There are some bellhops who pick up your bags, stare at them disdainfully and make you feel like a dime store thief as you trail them through the lobby to the elevator.

Others can do it with pomp and ceremony, as if they were Cleopatra's servants unrolling the welcome rugs for the great Caesar. Other guests look up impressed, and you secretly hope they think you are a mighty elephant hunter just in from Africa.

Some day a perfect hotel will be built. One of the first things they will do is hire midgets to strew rose petals in your path. I have always thought that would make an impressive entrance.

fear that tears will begin to roll down his cheeks.

6. The dodo bellhop—this is the old-fashioned bellhop who takes you briskly and cheerfully to your room, puts down your bags, hands you your key, and says "thank you" if you give him an old-fashioned two-bit tip.

Most bellhop collectors I know insist this type is now extinct in America, and has been for years. They say that if you offer a bellhop only a quarter today he will look at it and ask in honest surprise, "What is it?"

Washington Letter

By FRANK CAREY (For JANE EADS)

WASHINGTON—A government scientist has come up with a new theory on radiowaves which could give headaches to the television boys but generate hallelujahs in the radio industry.

Dr. J. Feinstein of the National Bureau of Standards has developed a theory concerning very high frequency radiowaves—the extremely "short" ones—which are used in television and in some types of radio communication. Ordinary radio broadcasting employs lower-frequency waves.

If the theory proves out, the bureau says, it would further complicate the allocation of television channels by making it necessary to prevent certain stations from interfering with one another.

On the other hand, says the agency, proof of the theory would make possible high-frequency radio transmission at longer ranges than now appears feasible. This would allow new advances in aircraft-to-ground transmission and in mobile radio telephony.

Dr. Feinstein's theory has to do with the actual range of very high-frequency radiowaves—which are generally considered to be more or less limited to "line-of-sight" range, although they do travel somewhat beyond the horizon due to the "bending" of the waves as they pass through the atmosphere.

Occasionally these waves have been detected at considerable distances beyond the horizon, but scientists have written this off as somewhat of a freak occurrence.

Feinstein, however, theorizes that this long-range meandering can occur frequently and that it's made possible by certain atmospheric conditions which can "reflect" waves as well as "bend" them.

He believes in effect that the waves can "bounce" off various levels of the atmosphere and be reflected into areas well beyond the horizon.

If the theory pans out under further testing, says a bureau scientific publication, it means "that high-powered TV stations located farther apart than line-of-sight distance very likely will interfere with each other."

"Thus," says the bureau, "the problem of allocating television channels will become increasingly complicated."

What Other Papers Are Thinking

PROCEDURE IS DUBIOUS (Kinston Free Press)

The Free Press doesn't know what the final outcome of the President's seizure of the steel industry—incidentally a business or industry operated by private but legitimate American concerns—will be. This paper, however, is inclined to think that a very dangerous precedent is being set.

The President could have resorted to the provision of the Taft-Hartley Law which he frankly detests and which he vetoed and was passed over his veto. There is a provision in that law whereby he could require a postponement of the strike for 90 days. In his castigation of the steel industry recently, the editor might be championed the position of the CIO leaders saying that they had already put off striking for 90 days. It is a far stretch of the imagination, however, to think that Philip Murray and his associates postponed their call for a strike because of any provision of the Taft-Hartley Law.

The first federal judge to whom the appeal of the steel manufacturers was made asking for a temporary injunction, ruled against them. There were many questions involved, however, on which he made no pretense of answering or ruling upon. It's a foregone conclusion that the steel companies will appeal and no doubt the highest court in the land will ultimately have to pass upon the matter.

In Congress there has been a very considerable amount of criticism of the President's act. Of course this is in a way a partisan criticism. Still there are those in Congress who are not outstanding critics of the Administration who are inclined to believe that this presidential action is a clear cut invasion of the rights and prerogative of private industry.

There is one phase that should be considered. If the seizure of the steel industry is ultimately upheld the question naturally arises whether the Chief Executive couldn't by the same token seize any other business in this country, or all of them at one time if he saw fit to do so. It's without a solar plexus to our vaunted democracy.

Special Easter Services For Greenville Churches Tomorrow

All Plan Observance Of Resurrection Day

Special services in observance of Easter have been planned in the city churches for Sunday. The choirs, under the supervision of their music directors, have been working for some time on Easter anthems, and each pastor has announced sermon topics in keeping with the most significant week in the Christian year.

At St. Paul's Episcopal Church, two identical services will be held to accommodate the expected congregation of worshippers. The first service will be held at 7:30 a. m., followed by the regular service at 11:30 a. m. The pastor, the Rev. Ernest Williams, will deliver both sermons and the celebrant of communion for both services will be Ph. D. Wallace I. Worwton, Ph. D., who will succeed Mr. Williams when he leaves the last of the month for a new appointment in Texas. The choir, under the direction of George Perry, will sing as an anthem "The Strife Is Over" by James Allen Dash. At the Sunday morning church school hour, the children will have the presentation of their mite boxes, a yearly Easter observance.

"The Meaning of the Resurrection" will be the topic of the sermon which the Rev. Richard E. Hardaway will preach at the morning worship hour at Memorial Baptist Church. Two anthems will be rendered by the choir, under the direction of Mrs. Karl Gilbert "All in the April Evening" by Robertson and an old Danish hymn entitled "Praise the Lord" are the names of the special selections which will be sung. At 8:00 p. m. a baptismal service will be held for those who have been received in the church as a result of the spring evangelistic campaign. The regular church school will meet at 9:45 and the Baptist Training Union will meet at 7:00 p. m.

At Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church, the pastor, the Rev. Leon Russell, will preach on the topic, "The Power of His Resurrection." Following the pastoral prayer and choral response the choir will sing an Easter anthem entitled "Easter Song" by Dickinson, and after the pronouncement of the benediction, they will sing Handel's "Hallelujah Chorus." A special Easter offering will be taken for the support of the two missionary projects assigned to the local church. The offering will be used for the erection of a new Methodist church at Cherry Point and for the support of Dr. Kris Jensen's family in Korea. At the evening service a quartet will sing "In Joseph's Lovely Garden" by Dickinson and the pastor will bring a message on "If We Follow We Shall See." The sacrament of the baptism of infants will be observed on Sunday afternoon at 4:00 p. m.

At the Church of God an Easter drama entitled "From Darkness Into Light" will be presented by the Young People's Endeavor at their 6:45 p. m. meeting. The pastor, the Rev. L. L. Reeder, will bring a message in his sermon that will have a special Easter significance.

The lesson sermon in the local Church of Christ Scientist, will deal with the question "Are Sin, Disease and Death Real?" The golden text is taken from the 8th chapter of Romans, second verse: "The law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of sin and death." Two special musical numbers will be used at the morning worship hour at Immanuel Baptist Church. The choir will sing "God So Loved the World" by Stainer and an arrangement by Knapp of "I Know That My Redeemer Lives" from the Messiah oratorio.

The pastor, the Rev. J. A. Neilson, will preach on "The Living Christ." The message has been prepared to ring a special blessing at this time, and the minister has expressed hope that a large congregation will participate in the service. The choir will use "Benediction" by Luiken at the close of the service.

Sunrise services conducted by the pastor, the Rev. Rashie Kennedy, will open the day's events for members of the Free Will Baptist Church. The service will begin at 5:30 a. m. and last for half an hour. Church school will convene at the regular hour, followed by morning worship at 11:00 a. m. The congregation will use Easter hymns for the song service and the pastor has prepared an appropriate message for his sermon. At the 8:00 p. m. worship hour a film will be shown by Jeter Cox and will take the place of the regular evening worship hour.

Easter services at St. Peter's Catholic Church will consist of a midnight mass, with services beginning at 11:00 p. m. on Saturday. Morning masses will be held at 8:00 a. m. and again at 10:00 a. m. on Easter Sunday morning.

The Rev. H. G. Haney will deliver a message on "Resurrection—Ancient and Modern" during the morning worship hour at the Eighth Street Christian Church. A male quartet composed of James Ray Pittman, Ralph Sullivan, Robert S. Moye and Cliff Sullivan will sing a Negro spiritual, "Were You There?" and the choir will present an Easter anthem called "In Joseph's Lovely Garden" by Dickinson. A special communion hour will be held.

The choir of the First Presbyterian Church, under the direction of Miss Ona Stender, will sing the anthem "Alleluia, Alleluia" by Cain. Mrs. John Moss will sing a solo entitled "Hosanna" by Granter as an addition to the music for the service. The pastor, the Rev. Leonard Topping, will preach on the subject, "The Easter Beatitude," using as his text a passage of Scripture from the 20th chapter of John which reads, "Blessed are they that have not seen and yet have believed."

The Birthday OF HOPE

This thing we call hope—it is a strange thing. It springs eternal in the human breast . . . and yet so often it has been mocked by time and tragedy.

Why, indeed, does every man cling to his hope, even when the self-styled realists cry "hopeless."

And they returned rejoicing: "Christ is risen . . ."

That was the birthday of Hope . . . the certainty of Christians that even death cannot destroy the believing soul!

And every Easter Day countless men and women discover or rediscover that Hope. It brings a new joy to their lives. It will, to yours . . .

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake (3) For the sake of his community and nation (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Ayden Moves Into Coastal Lead; Belvoir Wins Game

Tornado Mound Star Wins Second Shutout

Willis Manning Hurls Second Consecutive One-Hitter In Winning 6-0 Contest Over Robersonville Rams

AYDEN—Willis Manning hurled his second consecutive, one-hit shutout in Coastal Conference competition here yesterday afternoon to lead the Tornadoes to a 6-0 win over Robersonville. The win gives Ayden undisputed possession of first place in the conference with a 3-0 record.

Manning, who also hurled one-hit ball in beating Vanceboro 3-0 last Tuesday, had a no-hitter going until the sixth inning yesterday. Mac Cherry, outfielder and pitcher for the Rams, collected a freak double down the left field foul line in the fateful sixth. The ball struck right on top of the foul line, knocking up the chalk in its flight.

The Ayden outlaws, who did not suffer the bad day at the plate the Robersonville team did—relied off the three Ram hurlers for a total of nine hits. Harrington, Manning and Darrell Worthington each collected a double for the Tornadoes. Harrington picked up two singles to go along with his double, while Lang had two singles in four times at bat also.

Score by innings:

Robersonville	000	000-0-1-4
Ayden	211	300-6-9-5

Batteries: J. Stevenson, G. Stevenson (4); Cherry (4) and James; Manning and Edwards. Strikeouts: J. Stevenson 4, Cherry 4, Manning 3. Walks off: J. Stevenson 1, G. Stevenson 1, Manning 5. Hits off: J. Stevenson 7 in 3, G. Stevenson 0 in 0, Cherry, 2 in 3.

Despite the outcome of his pitching, Manning's form did not equal that of his previous performance on the mound. The converted out-fielder walked five men and fanned but three of the Robersonville batsmen.

Two runs in the first inning gave Ayden a margin necessary for the victory. With the bases loaded, Todd Kittrell collected his first hit of the year—a single to centerfield—scoring Mack Allen and Randall Harrington. Three runs in the fourth really sewed up matters for the winners.

Ladies Swimming Winds Up Today

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (UP)—Defending champions Carol Pence of Lafayette, Ind., Sharon Geary of Los Angeles and the Town Club of Chicago will try to better their own records today as the national AAU women's indoor swimming championships wind up with a four-event program.

Miss Peters, who lost her 200-yard free-style title she captured last year with a record clocking of 2:18.9, while the Town Club will try to improve on the 3:21 performance which gave it the 300-yard medley relay crown in 1951.

Pat Keller McCormick, who won all the diving championships both indoors and out last year, bids for another sweep of the indoor titles when she defends her three-meter crown in today's other event. The Los Angeles star retained the one-meter dive championship when the meet opened Thursday.

The Town Club topped the assault on the time standards yesterday by breaking a nine-year-old world mark with a clocking of 4:06.3 in winning the 400-yard free-style relay.

Miss Peters set a new AAU and American mark of 2:40.1 while taking the 200-yard breast-stroke title from Miss Pence, who held the old mark of 2:45.0.

In the other races yesterday, Maureen O'Brien of Red Bank, N. J., retained her 100-yard backstroke crown by nosing out 14-year-old Barbara Stark of Berkeley, Calif., in 1:09.0 and Carolyn Greene of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., won the 400-yard free-style in 4:40.6.

New Bern Beats Local Linksmen

NEW BERN—Greenville dropped a Coastal Plain Golf Association match to New Bern's linksmen by a score of 70-33 here Wednesday afternoon.

B. G. Hines and Speck Tyson shared medalist honors for the afternoon with par 72 rounds each. Bill Ferabee shot a one par 73 to take runner-up honors.

Reynolds May and Ercell Webb were top men for the Greenville team, each finishing the 18-hole round with scores of 75.

Two New Bern teams completely dominated their opponents and gathered nine points for the team score. Bruce Lee and Dopey Darnell teamed to score nine points as did the Dilby-Mullineux team.

REPETITIOUS DAY
LOUISVILLE, Ky. — (AP) — This year will mark the sixth time the Kentucky Derby has been run on May 3. It was last run on this date in 1947 when Jet Pilot was the winner. Seven times the Derby has been held on May 1 or May 2.

SIMMONS ARRIVES—Curt Simmons and his wife, Dorothy, inspect his baseball shoes which have been unused since 1950, shortly after the Phillies southpaw pitcher arrived at his home in Egypt, Pa., after an army hitch overseas. He will trade in his army boots at Camp Killemer some time this week for the lowcuts. He plans to join the Phillies immediately thereafter. (AP Wirephoto).

Tarboro Takes 19-7 Contest Over Eppes

A slugging crew from Papilio High School in Tarboro dropped the lid on the Eppes High baseball team yesterday afternoon and slammed out a 19-7 victory over the Bulldogs in a North Carolina Athletic Association contest played in Greenville.

Ten runs in the fourth inning gave Tarboro plenty of margin for the decision. The visitors added seven more in the fifth to go along with two tallies in the second to turn the game into an open rout. Greenville, in its first season in baseball, took a 3-0 lead in the first inning, but were unable to hold it after the big fourth outburst.

Tarboro tied off on four Eppes pitchers. Jones and Warren for Tarboro each collected three hits during the afternoon. M. Knight picked up a triple for the Papilio boys also.

William Hymn led Greenville's eight-hit attack with two hits in five appearances at the plate. Jones also slammed out a three-bagger for the local team.

The loss was the third of the year for the Eppes Bulldogs, who have never played inter-scholastic baseball before this year. Eppes has lost a 13-8 game in Tarboro and a 9-8 contest in Goldsboro previous to yesterday.

Eppes Coach J. W. Grimes stated this morning that he was confident that his team would pull out of slump that it now finds itself in and win some games. The Bulldogs will stand a good chance of taking a win in its next engagement, a home contest with Goldsboro on April 17th. In the first game between the two schools, Goldsboro edged the locals by a 9-8 margin.

The remainder of the 1952 Eppes schedule:

April 17	Goldsboro
April 18	at Wilmington
April 22	Wilmington
April 27	at Beaufort
May 1	Beaufort
May 7	at Kinston
May 9	Kinston
May 12	Trenton
May 16	at Trenton

Tarboro 020 1070 000 19 2
Greenville 300 300 100 7 13
Batteries: Biggs, Brown (4), and Jones; Riddick, C. Williams (4), W. Williams (4), Hrper (6), and J. Lee, J. Brown (5), Cherry (7).

Weathervane Lead Goes To Zaharias

HOUSTON, Tex. (UP)—The field chased Mrs. Mildred (Babe) Zaharias on the second leg of the cross-country Weathervane golf tournament today and sooty greens apparently would make catching her no easy task.

The Babe trailed Betsy Rawls of Austin, Tex., the women's Open champion, yesterday on the opening round of the Houston competition over the Brae Burn course. Betsy fired a par-shattering 69 to set a new women's record for the course while Mrs. Zaharias came home with a 70.

Miss Rawls broke women's par for the course by five strokes, but failed to gain a competitive spot with the Weathervane's leader.

The Babe's score widened her 54-hole lead to eight strokes and a total of 215. Behind her were Louise Suggs of Carrollton, Ga., and Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Tex., who were tied with 223's. Both shot 73's yesterday.

Liberty System Still Fighting For Broadcasts

CHICAGO — AP — The Liberty Broadcasting System is still fighting to get its "Game-of-the-Day" baseball broadcasts on the air this season.

With the major league season opening Tuesday, the network's attorney, Thomas C. McConnell, says he'll go to court Monday and ask a special order forcing major league teams to let Liberty broadcast the games.

The network, which claims to be the nation's second largest, already has sued 13 major league clubs, the two league presidents and their commissioner for 12 million dollars damages.

LBS sued under anti-trust laws Feb. 21, saying it had been frozen out of the 13 ball parks although it had offered more money than other bidders for broadcast rights. The suit named all major league teams except the Brooklyn Dodgers, Cincinnati Reds and the Chicago White Sox.

McConnell yesterday amended the Federal District Court complaint to include a stipulation that broadcasts be permitted until the suit has been decided.

He followed this with an announcement that he would go before Federal Judge John P. Barnes Monday and seek a temporary restraining order to this effect against the 13 major league teams. He said Liberty wants to start its "game-of-the-Day" airings on Tuesday.

In another amendment to the original complaint, McConnell listed the Western Union Telegraph Co. as an additional defendant. The amendment stated that Western Union, if it denied Liberty access to the official scorer's account of the various games, could cause the network irreparable damage.

Liberty has headquarters in Dallas, Tex.

Savitt, Mulloy Play In Tourney

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — AP — Dick Savitt of Orange, N. J., faced Gardner Mulloy of Miami, and Vic Seixas of Philadelphia clashed with Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., in today's semifinals of the Good Neighbor Tennis Tournament.

Seixas, the nation's No. 1 player, entered the semifinals yesterday with a 6-2, 6-2 decision over Tony Vincent of Miami. Larsen came through with a 6-3, 6-1 verdict over Sidney Schwartz of the University of Miami.

In the women's singles semifinals, Mrs. Patricia Todd of La Jolla, Calif., defeated Rhoda Hopkins of Newton, Conn., 6-2, 6-2, and Mrs. Magda Ruzar of Los Angeles eliminated Althea Gibson of New York, 4-6, 7-5, 6-4.

Negro Semi-Pros Play Portsmouth

John Winston, third baseman from Greenville, brought to an end last night the search for a regular third sacker for the local Negro Semi-Pro team by agreeing to play in the teams games Sunday and Monday afternoon.

It was erroneously reported in yesterday's Reflector that the game would be played with Portsmouth on Monday and Tuesday. The games will start at 2:30 p.m. both Sunday and Monday.

Scholes Beat Cleveland East Lansing, Mich.

ST. LOUIS (UP)—The St. Louis Browns, with an impressive 10-10 exhibition record, display new faces and a new spirit before the hometown fans today in the opener of their annual series against the Cardinals.

Riegel Ties Mayer For First In Open

GREENSBORO, N. C. (UP)—Skee Riegel and Dick Mayer set out to break their first-place tie today in the second round of the Greensboro Open golf tournament while favored Sam Snead, the Masters champion, hoped to shoot his way out of an 11-way deadlock for fifth.

Riegel of Tulsa, Okla., and Mayer of St. Petersburg, Fla., carded a flurry of birdies in the first round yesterday for four-under-par 67's and a one-stroke lead over Ed Oliver of Lamont, Ill.

Only four strokes separated the top 23 players and Marty Furgol of Lamont, Bob Toski of Northampton, Mass., and E. G. Winger of Atlantic City, N. J., were just a stroke behind Oliver with 69's.

Most of the gallery of 4,000 followed Snead, who was going strong until he slipped one over par on each of the last three holes to finish with a 70.

His company in that bracket included such pros as Jim Ferrier, Lew Worsham, Jim Turnesa and Bobby Locke of South Africa. The 6,630-yard Starmount Forest Country Club course with its par presented few problems to Riegel and Mayer during the first round.

Riegel wound up with five birdies and tied the course record for the front nine with a 31. He sank a 60-yard approach shot for an eagle on the par four ninth hole. He shot a par 36 coming in.

Mayer had eight birdies but lost his chance to set a new course record when he also carded two bogeys and a double bogey. He went out in 32 and came back in 35.

Oliver started with a double bogey six on the second hole but came back with four birdies on the first nine to post a two-under-par 33 at the turn and he was one-under-par with a 35 coming in.

Frank Stranahan of Toledo, O., Bud Kivett of High Point, N. C., and B. P. Isley of Martinsville, Va., were the leading amateurs with 71's.

After today's round, the field will be cut to the 60 leading pros and 10 best amateurs for 18-hole rounds tomorrow and Monday.

Also at 70 were Art Wall Jr., Honesdale, Pa.; Bill Nary, Albuquerque, N.M.; Joe Kirkwood Jr., Hollywood, Calif.; Julius Boros, Midpines, N.C.; Jimmy Clark, Laguna Beach, Calif., and Doug Ford, Harrison, N.Y.

Pros scoring 71, even par, were Johnny Palmer, Charlotte, N.C.; Milton Marusic, Herkimer, N.Y.; and Al Zimmerman, Portland, Ore. One over par scores were listed by Mel McAdams, Winston-Salem, N.C.; Al Smith, Danville, Va., and Joe Worrell, Charlotte, N.C.

Single Tally In Sixth Wins Game For Bill Watson

BELVOIR—Grifton's Bulldogs went down to defeat here this afternoon as Coach J. T. Cobb's Belvoir baseball team squeaked their way to a 5-4 victory.

Both teams started out strong in the first inning, with both pitchers faring rough as the teams went on a hitting rampage. Grifton got off to a quick 3-0 lead in the inning, but Belvoir came right back in their half to knot the count at 3-all.

Neither team was able to score in the second inning, but Belvoir took charge in the third and pushed across a single run on a walk and a single. Grifton rallied to tie the score for the second time in the game by reaching Belvoir hurler Bill Watson for a single run in the fifth.

The winning marker came across for Belvoir in the bottom of the sixth inning. The leadoff man walked, moved to second on a stoler base, rode home on a single into the outfield.

Both pitchers—Watson for Belvoir and Lewis for Grifton—went the route after lasting through the rough first inning. The game was well played throughout the contest.

Score by inning:

B	G	R	E
Grifton	300	010	0-4
Belvoir	301	001	x-5

Bengals Lose Hoot Evers For A Month With Injury

By UNITED PRESS

DAYTON, O. (UP)—Outfielder Hoot Evers, who holds some kind of a major league record for broken bones, was lost to the Detroit Tigers for about a month today because of a fractured right thumb.

Evers suffered the injury yesterday at Columbus when he swung at a pitch and the foul ball struck him on the thumb. The accident occurred during the fourth inning of the Cincinnati Reds' 5-0 victory over the Tigers, with Herman Webber pitching.

NEW YORK (UP)—A pair of rookie pitchers will be on display before home crowds for the first time when the Brooklyn Dodgers seek their second straight victory over the New York Yankees at Ebbets Field today.

Lefty Bill Miller will pitch for the Yankees and righthander Ben Wade for the Dodgers.

Brooklyn jumped on Harry Schaeffer, Bob Kuzava and Jim McDonald for 14 hits yesterday and won 9-2, at ankie Stadium.

PHILADELPHIA (UP)—Howie Fox and lefty Sam Zoldak will be the opposing pitchers as the Phillies and Athletics open their intracity exhibition series today at Shibe Park.

Robin Roberts, a 20-game winner for the past two seasons, pitched a nine-inning six-inner yesterday as the Phils beat Baltimore 8-2. Eddie Waitkus hit a three-run homer for the Phils.

KANSAS CITY (UP)—The agonizing hitting streak is over for outfielder Chuck Diering of the New York Giants. And he ended it on an auspicious note.

After going to bat 38 times without a hit, Diering singled in the 10th inning and then singled home the winning run in the 12th as the Giants beat the Cleveland Indians 4-3. Hank Thompson hit a two-run homer for New York to break a 1-1 tie in the eighth.

He plans to leave for England on the Ile de France on May 16. A few months ago Paysour, chief of the Gastonia Life Saving Crew, swam 17 miles in the Gastonia River on a dare from fellow firemen. Since then he has been training in the Charlotte YMCA pool for the channel attempt.

State Auditor Is In Real Campaign

RALEIGH — AP — With all the politicians curious about who is supporting whom in the various races, State Auditor Henry Bridges turned up with a big yellow button in his lapel yesterday which read "I'm for AFC." Reporters, quick to jump at the bait, asked the traditional who, what, when and where. "I'm for a finer Carolina," replied Bridges. Scoury is caused by a deficiency of vitamin C in the diet.

Extension Service Work Described By Sam Weeks

Sam Weeks, assistant county agent and tobacco specialist, outlined the history, development, and work of the agricultural extension service in the state at a meeting of the Exchange Club last night.

Weeks stated that the Smith Lever Act, passed in 1914, provided cooperative agriculture extension work and provided federal funds to be used by the extension service.

"The extension service is an organization that teaches farm men, women, and children practical and profitable ideas about farming and homemaking that will enable them to live a more wholesome and enjoyable life," Weeks stated.

The county agent explained that the organization is set up on a national level with a director and staff; on the state level with a director and state home agent, and subject matter specialists; and on a county level with county agents, their assistants, and home demonstration agents and their assistants.

He said the extension service is financed 58.31 percent by federal funds, 21.54 percent by state funds, and the counties bear an average of 20.15 percent of the expenses. Weeks pointed out that all agricultural programs take only 1.7 percent of all federal appropriations.

In pointing out the function of the extension service, Weeks broke the work down into steps: First, the experimenter station researchers learn the facts; and second, the facts are demonstrated by the agents by method and later by checking the result. At this point, Weeks stated that present work for soil fumigation are now being made in Pitt County.

He said the agents also conduct meetings where visual aids are shown, and demonstrations given. They pass out helpful information through circular letters, the press, radio, and through 4-H club work with young people.

Chicod Girl Wins In Speech Event

Sybil Jones of Chicod High School won the county oratorical contest sponsored by the Patriotic Order Sons of America with her speech entitled "Patriotism".

The contest was held Thursday afternoon in the library of the Ayden High School with two other contestants participating. Luisa Mayo of Greenville High School spoke on the Declaration of Independence and Wilbur Jackson of Ayden spoke on the Constitution of the United States.

Miss Jones will compete with other winners in the district contest which will be held April 25 or 26. The final state elimination will be held at the North Carolina State Camp Convention May 22.

A certificate of merit was awarded to the winner in each school participating and a plaque was awarded to Miss Jones. The district winner will receive a cash prize of $10.00 and the state winner will be awarded $50.00.

The contest was open to students in grades 10 through 12 who were required to speak from five to eight minutes on the theme of patriotism.

Judges for the contest held Thursday were Rev. W. A. Cade, Rev. Gilbert Davis, and R. B. Cherry.

Forgery Suspect Held By Police

Greenville police yesterday said they had ended a series of forgeries and check flashings when they arrested the man they are charging with forgeries in three cases. Two of the checks were $69. One was for $63.

Detective Norman H. Byrd and Lt. H. E. Peterson arrested Norman Lee Hardy, 21-year-old Negro tenant farmer, Route 5, Greenville, on Dickinson Avenue, after he tried to get a check cashed at White's Stores.

Police said Hardy had tried to get a forged check cashed at the Colonial Store, on west Fourth street, near Evans street. They quoted the store manager as saying Hardy fled when he questioned him about the check.

A warrant at the police station also charge Hardy with cashing a forged check for $63 about a week ago at Collins-Primrose Store, in the Young building, on Dickinson avenue.

Hardy is being held in jail under $200 bond in each case. He will be tried in Police Court Monday.

Scholarship Aid In Tag Sales By Student Group

Student members at East Carolina College of Pi Omega Pi, national honorary business education fraternity, will hold their annual Tag Day Thursday, April 17, to raise funds for the Thomas Clay Williams Memorial Scholarship Award.

Mark Moore of Bath is chairman of the committee in charge of this eighth yearly campaign for contributions.

Tag Day was established in 1945 in memory of Williams, a Greenville student, who at the time of his death was a member of Pi Omega Pi and editor of the college newspaper, the "Teco Echo". The award is presented each commencement to the senior with the highest scholastic average in the department of business education.

Babson . . .

(Continued from Page One) needs salaries ranging from $225 to $500. Manufacturing companies expect to hire more non-technical college graduates this year than last with starting salaries ranging from $300 per month upward.

Best bets for the non-technical graduate will be in the accounting and manufacturing fields. Salaries for the college senior in 1952 will be about 10 percent higher than those offered to the 1951 graduates!

What's Ahead?

What does this picture mean to the United States? Actually, there is a boom today in certain jobs compared with the boom in stocks of 1929. Employment is high. Wages are above normal. Savings may rise another $15 billion, from $165 billion this year to about $180 billion next. After increased taxes, this could mean about an $8 billion increase in people's earnings, and would further increase savings.

The cost-of-living, however, has reached present highs because most people are doing as little work as possible for their current high wages.

We are experiencing a "wage-workers prosperity," but some day this wage bubble will burst as have the stock market bubbles of the past. Americans should realize this and begin to save for the rainy day.

The wage earner ought to plan to buy a life insurance, then purchase a home, and build up savings accounts. There never was a better time for the graduate of any school or college to get started on a job. Business and government desperately need men who can think, who have learned how to get along with people, and who have such character traits as faith, integrity, self-reliance, initiative, drive, and good health. But young people must do much better work than they are now doing in order to hold their jobs when business again declines. However, as I said above, I am feeling more optimistic now because there is a chance that the political pendulum may be swinging toward common sense, away from nonsense!

WHEREAS: The worthy objective is a goal shared by the majority of the universe who desire to do something constructive toward easing the tensions which exist today, now

THEREFORE: I, Lester D. Page, mayor of City of Greenville, N. C. do hereby proclaim the week of April 14 through April 20, 1952, as "OPERATION FRIENDSHIP" Week, and call upon the people of this community to unite their efforts in this community to unite their efforts among men.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the Executive Department to be affixed this 11th day of April, 1952.

Truman Predicts Democrat Can Win '52 Fight

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Truman predicted today that the Democrats can win this year's elections if they conduct a "give 'em hell" campaign like the one he waged in 1948.

"It is curious how things repeat themselves," Mr. Truman wrote in a letter of thanks to Democrats who have written him since he announced he will not run for reelection.

"Now again, in 1952, some people are saying that a Democrat cannot be elected president in 1952. Well, they were wrong in 1948, and they are wrong now.

"A Democrat could and did win in 1948, and a Democrat can win in 1952—and a Democrat will win if we fight the same kind of hard-hitting campaign on the issues that won in 1948."

A Pre-Dynamiting View Of Large Bootleg Still

election to his post in county recorder's court. He is seeking his eleventh consecutive term in that office. He was first elected to the judgeship in 1932 and has been re-elected to the post every two years since that time. He has had opposition only five of the 10 times he has sought the office. James is the oldest Pitt County office holder in tenure of office, having held the same post for the past 20 years.

Marvin Smith, a member of the Pitt Board of Commissioners for the past six years filed for his fourth term as commissioner from the fourth district yesterday afternoon. Smith has defeated opposition candidate each of the three times he has run for the seat on the board which represents Winterville and Chicod townships of the county. In 1950, he defeated both R. L. "Doc" Worthing and Elbert Mills for the seat he now holds.

The latest filings put at least one candidate officially in the race for each of the major offices in the county government to be filled in the coming election.

Dan Cupid Seems Losing His Grip

Of Dan Cupid must have lost his bow and arrow since he seems to have fallen down on his job of match-making this Easter season.

Usually the Pitt County Register of Deeds' office is overflowing with starchy-eyed young men and women wanting marriage license right before every holiday season.

But, reports from clerks in Register of Deeds' office say that the usual rush for that important piece of paper with an official stamp is lagging.

Since the first of the week week only nine marriage licenses have been issued which is just about usual for non-holiday season. Only one couple had darkened the door by noon today.

Mrs. Blair Wheelless, Register of Deeds, said this morning that she thought the rush for marriage license would be bigger than it has been this week. "We normally have a lot of people applying for marriage license the week and the day before a holiday."

American Red Is Among Captured In Filipino Raid

LUZON, Philippines (UP)—Defense Secretary Ramon Magsaysay said today that captured American Red leader William Pomeroy will be tried for crimes against the state including multiple murder and arson.

It was understood U. S. Ambassador Raymond A. Spruance has been advised of this and has not objected.

If found guilty, Pomeroy could be executed. He cannot be tried for treason or rebellion since he is a citizen of another country.

Pomeroy, head of the Huk propaganda and educational system which includes "Stalin" universities, will be interrogated by Magsaysay and army officers on the setup in the Huk high command and the whereabouts of other high-ranking Huk leaders.

election to his post in county recorder's court. He is seeking his eleventh consecutive term in that office. He was first elected to the judgeship in 1932 and has been re-elected to the post every two years since that time. He has had opposition only five of the 10 times he has sought the office. James is the oldest Pitt County office holder in tenure of office, having held the same post for the past 20 years.

Marvin Smith, a member of the Pitt Board of Commissioners for the past six years filed for his fourth term as commissioner from the fourth district yesterday afternoon. Smith has defeated opposition candidate each of the three times he has run for the seat on the board which represents Winterville and Chicod townships of the county. In 1950, he defeated both R. L. "Doc" Worthing and Elbert Mills for the seat he now holds.

The latest filings put at least one candidate officially in the race for each of the major offices in the county government to be filled in the coming election.

Truman Predicts Democrat Can Win '52 Fight

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Truman predicted today that the Democrats can win this year's elections if they conduct a "give 'em hell" campaign like the one he waged in 1948.

"It is curious how things repeat themselves," Mr. Truman wrote in a letter of thanks to Democrats who have written him since he announced he will not run for reelection.

"Now again, in 1952, some people are saying that a Democrat cannot be elected president in 1952. Well, they were wrong in 1948, and they are wrong now.

"A Democrat could and did win in 1948, and a Democrat can win in 1952—and a Democrat will win if we fight the same kind of hard-hitting campaign on the issues that won in 1948."

BACK-UP — The Great Smoky Mountains National Park will probably keep the 44,400 acres of land which a bill introduced in the Congress by Rep. Monroe Redden would have given back to Swain County. The transfer will not be made, mainly because the people of Swain county in particular and of the State in general have discovered they would rather let the Park keep title to it and go through with long range plans for building a road from Bryson City to Fontana along the northern shores of Fontana Lake. The Strip of land along the lakeshore was indirectly involved in a four-way deal several years ago among the State of North Carolina, the County of Swain, the Tennessee Valley Authority and the National Forest Service. Because roads built by state and county bond money were covered by waters of the TVA Fontana Lake, many acres of land were taken off local tax lists by reason of Federal Government acquisition and other factors, a lot of adjustment was necessary. In the overall deal there were crass agreements about cash payments and relocations of highways and railroad tracks.

PARK — The early agreements left a sort of vacuum between the boundaries of the Great Smoky Mountains National Park lands and TVA holdings around the Fontana Lake. Subsequent negotiations led to transfer of title to that property to the Interior Department's division of parks. One consideration was promise to build a short line road between Bryson city and Fontana Dam. Negotiations and agreements were held in good faith, but world war conditions prevented fulfillment on schedule. Then some North Carolinians heard that a park road was planned from the Tennessee side, and they wanted their land back. Reasonable assurances that the North Carolina entrance road to the park is still in the plans, the Tennessee inlet has never been planned, caused another change in popular opinion.

TO DATE — The situation as of now seems to be that the National Park Service expects to build the Bryson City to Fontana road as soon as possible, and the Redden bill to transfer the land back to Swain county will not be pushed, may be recalled. Meantime chief attention is directed to getting North Carolina links of the Blue Ridge Parkway completed, so that this State can derive full benefits from the tremendous asset of the Great Smoky Mountains National Park.
