

'Un-Optimistic' Report On Korea Outlook By Ridgway

General Testified At Closed Door Hearing On War Situation, Truce Talk Progress And Koje Incidents; Reportedly Not Hopeful That Parleys Will Lead To Peace

WASHINGTON (UP) — Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway gave senators a report today on the Korean truce talks which one of his hearers described as "certainly not optimistic."

The former supreme commander in the Far East testified at a closed hearing of the Senate Armed Services Committee. He is on his way to Paris where he will succeed Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower May 30 as supreme commander of Western European defense forces.

Tomorrow Ridgway will address a joint meeting of Congress.

Ridgway was called before the committee to report on Communist violence at the Koje Island war prisoner camp.

But Senate Republican Leader Styles Bridges (NH), senior GOP member of the committee, said he also was questioned about the Korean war situation and the truce talks.

Bridges said the general was not hopeful that the truce talks would lead to peace. Asked if that meant full scale fighting might break out, the senator replied:

"I don't know, but he certainly was not optimistic as to the results."

As Ridgway began his testimony promising to tell the senators "all I know" about the disorders on Koje Island, Committee Chairman Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) issued a statement calling for firm control of Communist war prisoners.

Russell called the kidnapping of an American general by the Reds and his subsequent "ransoming" a "national humiliation."

Ridgway told the committee, according to Bridges, that before leaving his Tokyo post he issued orders to "use whatever force was necessary" to keep the prisoners under control.

Bridges said Ridgway confirmed reports that "extreme fanatical Communists" in the Koje Island camp had committed "atrocities" against other prisoners. He also confirmed that Communist flags were flown in the prison compounds, Bridges said.

Russell, asserting that U. S. prestige and honor had been compromised at Koje, said "it would appear that we have practically no control over Communists whom we have defeated in battle."

More than a dozen senators in addition to the regular committee members were on hand as photographers were herded from the room and the closed hearing began. All senators had been invited to sit in on the session.

Before going to Capitol Hill, Ridgway conferred with Defense Secretary Robert A. Lovett and Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, for 70 minutes.

Because of his congressional appearance Ridgway postponed his departure for Paris until next Monday.

Ridgway faced questions on the troubles of two continents. Committee members sought his views on defense potentials in Europe and his confidential appraisal of the Far Eastern front.

President Truman alerted the nation in a speech at West Point, N.Y., yesterday to prepare for possible renewal of large-scale warfare in Korea.

John Garfield Is Found Dead

NEW YORK (AP)—John Garfield, 39, stage and screen actor, was found dead of a heart ailment in his Gramercy Park apartment today.

Dr. Thomas Gonzales, chief medical examiner, reported the death.

Garfield was noted for his "tough guy" roles.

New Atom-Smasher May Create Matter From Energy For Man

UPTON, N. Y. (UP) — A new atom smasher, capable of firing "bullets" almost as fast as the speed of light, opened a new era in science today that may enable man to create matter from energy.

131 To Graduate At City Schools

Thirty-Five Get Diplomas At Eppes On Tuesday Evening

Thirty-five seniors of Eppes High School are expected to receive diplomas Tuesday evening, May 27, in the auditorium of the Negro high school.

Larry Taft and Annie L. Jones, two seniors, will deliver the graduation addresses to seniors, faculty, parents, and friends.

The commencement program of Eppes High School will begin formally Friday night, May 23, featuring "Awards Night". Professor W. H. Davenport, principal of the school, said that awards would be presented to seniors and to members of other classes at the high school.

Reverend Talmadge Watkins, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Wilson, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating seniors Sunday night, May 25, at 6 p.m. at the school.

"The conclusion of this school will mark one of the most successful in the history of the school. With the addition of several teachers to the faculty this year, an expanded curriculum, and improved physical facilities, we have been able to do more efficient work in all departments," stated Davenport.

"We are grateful to the many parents and friends who have worked with us to make this year a successful one. We are extending to you an invitation to attend these exercises. We further extend you an invitation to visit our schools during the few remaining days of this school year, so that you may note the progress which is being made and that you may help anticipate our future needs," the principal asserted.

The first part of the program will consist of a drama given by the senior class of 1952 entitled "Trapped". The play was written by a member of the class, Betty Lou Small, and is under the direction of Ward James.

The second part of the program will include the presentation of honors and award to the class. The awards will be made by June H. Rose, superintendent of the city schools. The program will close with the singing of the Greenville High School's alma mater.

It has been the custom of Greenville High School to present a play during the commencement exercises and also to give the awards on a night other than the graduation exercises.

WASHINGTON (UP)—James P. McGranery, confirmed as attorney general by a 52 to 19 Senate vote, waited today for a strategy talk with President Truman before announcing his plans to combat corruption in the government.

The 56-year-old Philadelphia federal judge, who was nominated seven weeks ago to succeed J. Howard McGrath as head of the Justice Department, told reporters he would have "absolutely nothing to say" about reviving the long-stalled cleanup drive until he checked with Mr. Truman.

McGranery was fired for ousting Newbold Morris, the government's head corruption hunter. McGranery said previously that he had no intention of rehiring Morris but will lean primarily on FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover to ferret out "wrongdoers" on the federal payroll.

Results of the judging were announced at the afternoon session of the merchants Golden Anniversary convention. More than 900 entries were judged by out-of-state department store officials.

The local firm's entry was placed in the category with women's clothing stores in cities of 25,000 population and under.

CASUALTIES RISE — Announced U. S. battle casualties in Korea reached 108,707 today, an increase of 294 since last week. Fifty-three were killed in action and 255 wounded. The list of missing decreased by 14 to 12,475.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Announced U. S. battle casualties in Korea reached 108,707 today, an increase of 294 since last week. Fifty-three were killed in action and 255 wounded. The list of missing decreased by 14 to 12,475.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Announced U. S. battle casualties in Korea reached 108,707 today, an increase of 294 since last week. Fifty-three were killed in action and 255 wounded. The list of missing decreased by 14 to 12,475.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Announced U. S. battle casualties in Korea reached 108,707 today, an increase of 294 since last week. Fifty-three were killed in action and 255 wounded. The list of missing decreased by 14 to 12,475.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Announced U. S. battle casualties in Korea reached 108,707 today, an increase of 294 since last week. Fifty-three were killed in action and 255 wounded. The list of missing decreased by 14 to 12,475.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Announced U. S. battle casualties in Korea reached 108,707 today, an increase of 294 since last week. Fifty-three were killed in action and 255 wounded. The list of missing decreased by 14 to 12,475.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Announced U. S. battle casualties in Korea reached 108,707 today, an increase of 294 since last week. Fifty-three were killed in action and 255 wounded. The list of missing decreased by 14 to 12,475.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Announced U. S. battle casualties in Korea reached 108,707 today, an increase of 294 since last week. Fifty-three were killed in action and 255 wounded. The list of missing decreased by 14 to 12,475.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Announced U. S. battle casualties in Korea reached 108,707 today, an increase of 294 since last week. Fifty-three were killed in action and 255 wounded. The list of missing decreased by 14 to 12,475.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Announced U. S. battle casualties in Korea reached 108,707 today, an increase of 294 since last week. Fifty-three were killed in action and 255 wounded. The list of missing decreased by 14 to 12,475.

GHS Has 96 In One Of Largest Graduating Classes

The largest senior class in several years will receive diplomas from Greenville High School at the graduation exercises Wednesday, May 28, in the Wright Building at East Carolina College.

J. B. James, chairman of the City Board of Trustees, and O. E. Dowd, school principal, will award the diplomas to 96 seniors Wednesday night at 8 o'clock.

For sometime now the speakers have been members of the senior class. The speakers for the class of 1952 are Betty Lou Small and Bobby Nichols.

The first part of the commencement exercise for Greenville High School will be Sunday evening when the Reverend Leon Russell, pastor of the Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon to the seniors. The program will include songs by the Mixed Chorus and the Boy's Glee Club. Rev. C. D. Patterson, pastor of the Meadowbrook Presbyterian Church will give the invocation.

The second night of the commencement exercises will be held Monday evening, May 26, in the high school auditorium when the Class and Awards Night will be presented.

The first part of the program will consist of a drama given by the senior class of 1952 entitled "Trapped". The play was written by a member of the class, Betty Lou Small, and is under the direction of Ward James.

The second part of the program will include the presentation of honors and award to the class. The awards will be made by June H. Rose, superintendent of the city schools. The program will close with the singing of the Greenville High School's alma mater.

It has been the custom of Greenville High School to present a play during the commencement exercises and also to give the awards on a night other than the graduation exercises.

WASHINGTON (UP)—James P. McGranery, confirmed as attorney general by a 52 to 19 Senate vote, waited today for a strategy talk with President Truman before announcing his plans to combat corruption in the government.

The 56-year-old Philadelphia federal judge, who was nominated seven weeks ago to succeed J. Howard McGrath as head of the Justice Department, told reporters he would have "absolutely nothing to say" about reviving the long-stalled cleanup drive until he checked with Mr. Truman.

McGranery was fired for ousting Newbold Morris, the government's head corruption hunter. McGranery said previously that he had no intention of rehiring Morris but will lean primarily on FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover to ferret out "wrongdoers" on the federal payroll.

Results of the judging were announced at the afternoon session of the merchants Golden Anniversary convention. More than 900 entries were judged by out-of-state department store officials.

The local firm's entry was placed in the category with women's clothing stores in cities of 25,000 population and under.

CASUALTIES RISE — Announced U. S. battle casualties in Korea reached 108,707 today, an increase of 294 since last week. Fifty-three were killed in action and 255 wounded. The list of missing decreased by 14 to 12,475.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Announced U. S. battle casualties in Korea reached 108,707 today, an increase of 294 since last week. Fifty-three were killed in action and 255 wounded. The list of missing decreased by 14 to 12,475.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Announced U. S. battle casualties in Korea reached 108,707 today, an increase of 294 since last week. Fifty-three were killed in action and 255 wounded. The list of missing decreased by 14 to 12,475.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Announced U. S. battle casualties in Korea reached 108,707 today, an increase of 294 since last week. Fifty-three were killed in action and 255 wounded. The list of missing decreased by 14 to 12,475.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Announced U. S. battle casualties in Korea reached 108,707 today, an increase of 294 since last week. Fifty-three were killed in action and 255 wounded. The list of missing decreased by 14 to 12,475.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Announced U. S. battle casualties in Korea reached 108,707 today, an increase of 294 since last week. Fifty-three were killed in action and 255 wounded. The list of missing decreased by 14 to 12,475.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Announced U. S. battle casualties in Korea reached 108,707 today, an increase of 294 since last week. Fifty-three were killed in action and 255 wounded. The list of missing decreased by 14 to 12,475.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Announced U. S. battle casualties in Korea reached 108,707 today, an increase of 294 since last week. Fifty-three were killed in action and 255 wounded. The list of missing decreased by 14 to 12,475.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Announced U. S. battle casualties in Korea reached 108,707 today, an increase of 294 since last week. Fifty-three were killed in action and 255 wounded. The list of missing decreased by 14 to 12,475.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Announced U. S. battle casualties in Korea reached 108,707 today, an increase of 294 since last week. Fifty-three were killed in action and 255 wounded. The list of missing decreased by 14 to 12,475.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Announced U. S. battle casualties in Korea reached 108,707 today, an increase of 294 since last week. Fifty-three were killed in action and 255 wounded. The list of missing decreased by 14 to 12,475.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Announced U. S. battle casualties in Korea reached 108,707 today, an increase of 294 since last week. Fifty-three were killed in action and 255 wounded. The list of missing decreased by 14 to 12,475.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Announced U. S. battle casualties in Korea reached 108,707 today, an increase of 294 since last week. Fifty-three were killed in action and 255 wounded. The list of missing decreased by 14 to 12,475.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Announced U. S. battle casualties in Korea reached 108,707 today, an increase of 294 since last week. Fifty-three were killed in action and 255 wounded. The list of missing decreased by 14 to 12,475.

Discloses West Europe Defense Will Be Boosted

LAWMAKER SAYS ALLIES PLAN MAJOR INCREASE IN ARMED MEN AND PRODUCTION

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Richards (D-SC) told the House today that America's European allies will "raise and support" about four million soldiers and will produce 3 1/2 billion dollars worth of weapons next year.

This force, if placed on active duty, would be an increase of approximately 1,600,000 men over present European strength.

Richards said Allied Forces already have over 5 1/4 million men under arms or quickly available throughout the world. The active armies of the Soviet Union, including satellite forces, total around four million men, according to recent estimates.

Richards, chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee, opened the floor for House approval of $6,880,000,000 in foreign military and economic aid for the year starting July 1.

The bill, already one billion dollars less than President Truman requested, faced strong demands for further cuts. Reductions of another one billion dollars have been predicted.

Committee officials said Richards outlined of European troop strength included Greece and Turkey, which have a total force of around 600,000.

Richards said in a prepared speech the active forces of Western Europe, excluding Greece and Turkey, totalled 1,380,000 in January, 1952.

Therefore a buildup to four million men would mean an increase of about 1,620,000.

The total world-wide force of active and mobilizable troops, Richards said, has increased about 1 1/2 million in the last two years.

"It seems to me," the chairman added, "that only the most stubborn defeatist could fail to be immensely encouraged by the increase and improvement in Allied military strength over two short years."

Richards took note of an expected test of strength between Republican supporters of Sen. Robert A. Taft and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower over the final total of the bill.

"Even Mr. Taft has said the Mutual Security program must not be killed and abandoned," he said.

Taft supporters are expected to propose deep slashes with Eisenhower backers proposing lesser cuts.

Oil Industry Has About One Third Workers On Job

DENVER (UP)—Approximately one-third of the nation's 90,000 striking oil workers were back at work today and a ranking union official said he hoped the rest will return to their jobs by the end of the week.

"About one-third of the striking groups have gone back to work," said O. A. Knight, president of the CIO Oil Workers International, the largest of the coalition of 22 AFL, CIO and independent unions involved in the 22-day-old walkout.

He added that "most of these include the small locals."

As the strike slowly drew to a close, a gasoline price war broke out at Topeka, Kan., Tuesday. Stations on the outskirts of the city sold regular gasoline for as low as 19.9 cents a gallon and Ethyl was selling for 20.9 cents, while dealers inside the city limits were charging 26.3 and 28.3 cents for the same grades.

'Week' Of Court Ended Tuesday

The first week of Pitt County Superior Court "died by limitation" yesterday at 3 o'clock.

Presiding Judge William T. Hatch of Raleigh dismissed the jurors and adjourned court for the week. The second week of court will open Monday, May 26, under Hon. John J. Boney of Wilmington.

One divorce was granted yesterday on the grounds of two years separation. It was in the case of Ernest L. Tligham vs. Bessie E. Tligham, white.

Tornado In Hyde

WASHINGTON, N. C. (AP)—An elderly couple was injured and considerable property damage was sustained when a tornado whirled a narrow path across a portion of Hyde County yesterday.

Highest Honor

PARIS — (AP) — France conferred its highest honor—the Médaille Militaire — on Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower today in a farewell tribute within the shadow of Napoleon's Tomb.

The supreme commander of Allied Powers in Europe received the award from Premier Antoine Pinay in the Court of Honor of Les Invalides.

The last foreigner to receive this mark of France's highest esteem was Prime Minister Winston Churchill in 1946.

Two hours earlier Eisenhower became an honorary citizen of Louveciennes, the village of 2,400 inhabitants in whose area SHAPE headquarters is located.

The general drove to the Arc de Triomphe after the Invalides ceremony and placed a wreath of red roses on the tomb of France's unknown soldier.

AFL To Boycott Changed Board

Will Not Participate If WSB Replaced By All-Public Panel

BOSTON (AP)—The American Federation of Labor's Executive Council says it will boycott the Wage Stabilization Board if Congress approves an amendment to a bill which would replace the present WSB with an all-public panel.

The 15-member council said yesterday in a statement: "We wish to inform Congress as clearly and as bluntly as possible that organized labor can not and will not participate in any wage stabilization program unless the Wage Stabilization Board is set up on a tri-partite basis, as at present."

An amendment to the bill which would extend the Defense Production Act and change the composition of the WSB was approved last week by the Senate Banking and Currency Committee.

The council said: "Workers of the country want a direct voice in the regulation of their wages and salaries through a tri-partite board of which labor, business and the public are equally represented."

"No group of 'public' members can know enough about the intimate details of collective bargaining and wage setting . . . to handle these problems on a practical basis."

It declared that the proposed WSB amendment is inspired by the unwillingness of the steel industry to "comply with recommendations of the WSB with regard to negotiating union shop agreements."

Ask Restaurants Leave Potatoes Off Of Menus

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—The Ohio State Restaurant Association today asked its 2,800 members to take potatoes off their menus "because of the black market."

Robert R. Williams, OSRA executive vice president, said "We're asking restaurants to refrain from buying them because such purchases would violate the law."

He said a memorandum asked them to insert the following notice in their menus:

"It is regretted that we are unable to serve potatoes. The black market situation that is now prevailing in this community is strictly un-American and we do not want to be part of it. Therefore we are refusing to make purchase of this item."

"A concentrated drive such as this by housewives and other users would soon break the black market wide open."

MIG Damaged In Fighting Sabres

SEOUL, Korea (UP)—American Sabre-jets damaged one MIG-15 today when 30 Sabres surprised 10 Communist jets east of Sinjuju near Yalu River.

The Sabres were flying cover for Allied fighter-bomber who shattered railroads in 69 places along the main route from Manchuria into northwest Korea.

Allied tanks and infantry battled during Chinese for six hours east of the truce village of Panmunjom. However, the Chinese were so well concealed there was no estimate of casualties.

Wilson Paper Is Purchased Today

WILSON, N. C. (AP)—The Wilson Daily Times was purchased from the family of John D. Gold today by the Wilson Press Inc., headed by Herbert D. Brauff. Brauff is now the editor and publisher.

Wilson Press Inc. has been operating the paper under a lien with option since January 1, 1947 with Brauff as publisher John D. Gold had been editor since the paper was founded in 1902.

Sixty Pitt Democrats Go To Convention Tomorrow

Harmonious Session Is Predicted By Chairman

First Of More Than 4,000 N. C. Democratic Delegates Arriving In Raleigh This Afternoon; Russell Sentiment Apparent

RALEIGH — (AP) — North Carolina Democrats today prepared for their biennial state convention with predictions of a harmonious meeting from State Democratic Chairman Everett Jordan.

The first of the more than 4,000 party faithful expected for the convention here tomorrow probably will begin arriving late this afternoon.

Choosing delegates to the Democratic national convention will be the big item of business before the state meeting. North Carolina will send 40 delegates—armed with 22 votes—to help select the Democratic presidential candidate.

Jordan predicted there would be no major fight over whether to instruct the delegates to vote for any particular candidate. "I haven't seen anybody who thought there should be an instructed delegation," he explained.

There have been indications the convention will have strong sentiments for Georgia's Sen. Richard B. Russell for president. Some observers expected the convention may adopt a resolution endorsing Russell, but will send an unstructured delegation to the national convention.

Supporters of Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee announced yesterday they will have headquarters here for the state convention. R. Mayne Albright, chairman of the Kefauver-for-President Committee in the Fourth Congressional District, said other leaders from over the state will be present.

Hubert E. Olive of Lexington and William B. Umstead of Durham, two leading candidates for governor, will be present.

Before the convention begins in Memorial Auditorium at noon, congressional district meetings will be held at 10 a.m. Each district will select two national convention delegates with one vote each. Sixteen delegates-at-large, each with a half vote, will be named at the convention proper.

State Agriculture will deliver the keynote address. Former Gov. R. Gregg Cherry is chairman of the committee preparing the party platform.

Begin Register For Church Meet

Delegates from Presbyterian Churches in northeastern North Carolina began registering at the college this morning for the annual meeting of the Presbyterian Men of the Albemarle Presbytery.

More than 250 Presbyterian ministers, laymen and officials were scheduled to arrive here before the opening meeting which began at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the new auditorium at the college training school.

The delegates will meet together for talks, training sessions and panel discussion all this afternoon and this evening. Following a supper hour in the Wright Building at ECC, a panel discussion will be held and an address heard by Dr. Paul T. Jones, pastor of the Grace Covenant Church of Richmond.

Pitt County Legionnaires Elect W. Connor Eagles Commander

At their annual "elections" meeting last night, members of Pitt County Post 29 of The American Legion elected W. Connor Eagles of Greenville to head the post for the coming year.

Eagles is Pitt County Soil Conservationist and was elected post commander by acclamation. He has been a member of The American Legion since 1932 and has been affiliated with the Pitt County post for the past 10 years.

Born in neighboring Edgecombe County, Eagles joined the legion in Beaufort County in 1932 and transferred his membership here when he came to Greenville in 1942. He is a veteran of World War I and had been serving on the program committee for the past year.

Other officers elected last night are: first vice-commander, Larry Averette of Greenville; second vice-commander, Sidney Moore of Bethel; third vice-commander, Charles McLawhorn of Winterville; adjutant, Louis W. Gaylord Jr. of Greenville; re-elected, treasurer, "Cos" Hester of Greenville; chaplain, Dr. M. G. Haney of Greenville; re-elected; and historian, Jess Poindexter of Greenville.

Post members were informed last night by outgoing Commander Lester Turnage that Adjutant Gaylord is also serving as post service officer and will help all veterans with their problems.

Officers elected last night will be installed in official ceremonies at the next regular meeting.

Other business was discussed and approved to sponsor an American Legion baseball team in Little League competition next year. A report from the legion rehabilitation stamp sale committee disclosed that more than $176 has been raised on that project.

It was also announced that Saturday, May 24, is "Poppy Day," and plans were made to decorate the graves of all deceased veterans of both world wars the following day.

Commander Turnage reported that the annual state convention will be held in Durham June 7 through June 10. He urged all members to attend the convention "if at all possible." Routine reports from various officers were given.

The meeting was sparsely attended due to inclement weather.

Red Negotiators Use Camp Riots For New Protest

Charge UN 'Guilty Of Bloody Murder' In Death Of Rioting War Prisoner

PANMUNJOM, Korea (UP)—The Red truce delegation seized upon the Pusan prisoner of war riot today to attack what it called the "United Nations' 'great hoax' of voluntary repatriation."

North Korean Lt. Gen. Nam Il, senior Communist delegate, lodged a "serious protest" against the killing of a Red prisoner during the uprising in the Allied prison camp at Pusan Tuesday. Eighty-five other prisoners and one Allied guard were injured.

Nam said the United Nations was guilty of "bloody murder" among the "barehanded" prisoners. He demanded that the affair be dealt with "unequivocally and responsibly."

His reference to "barehanded" prisoners overlooked the fact that the Reds were armed with steel-tipped pikes, spears and barbed wire fials. American troops armed only with night sticks were forced to retreat and obtain concussion grenades to regain control.

Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, senior United Nations delegate, told Nam his charges were "crass hypocrisy" and "childish distortions."

"I would seriously warn your side that your side must bear full and absolute responsibility for the consequences. . . I am authorized to lodge a serious protest," Nam said.

Social and Personal

All items for this page received after 10 a. m. will be published the following day. Dial 2300-9 a. m. to Noon; 1 to 4:30 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Green and Mrs. James Allen spent the weekend in Charleston, S. C. with Mrs. Allen's son, Kirby Allen.

Mr. J. B. Cummings has returned from Trenton, Tenn. where he was called on account of the death of his mother, Mrs. J. B. Cummings Sr.

Master Douglas Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gus Jones, of Winterville, Rte. 1, is recuperating satisfactorily following an appendectomy Monday in Pitt Memorial Hospital.

Attention—Woman's Club Members
There will be an important called meeting of the Woman's Club on Thursday, May 22, immediately following the Garden Club picnic luncheon.

The meeting will be held on the lawn of the home of Mrs. M. K. Blount at 2:30. The purpose of the meeting is to determine whether or not the club shall make a contribution to the East Carolina Scholarship Fund.

Bethany F.W.B. Church
There will be a called business meeting at Bethany Free Will Baptist Church immediately following Sunday School, May 25, pertaining to union business. All members are urged to attend.

Birth Announcement
Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McGlohon Jr. announce the birth of a daughter, Mildred, on May 20 at Pitt Memorial Hospital.

Kindergarten Reveal
Mrs. C. D. Smith's Kindergarten will present a musical version of the well known fairy story, "Cinderella," on Friday, May 22, at 9 o'clock in West Greenville school auditorium.

First Federal

Savings and Loan Ass'n.
OF Greenville

3%

Current Dividend Rates
On Insured Accounts
Assets Over $2,500.00

Dividend Paying Policies
Tadlock Mutual Insurance Agency
Save With Safety... Buy Mutual Insurance
FIRE, AUTOMOBILE and TORNADO
220 Evans Street, Greenville, N. C. — Dial 2307

40 Years Ago Today

THE DAILY REFLECTOR
May 21, 1912

It gives us pleasure to know that Pitt County boys who have been attending the Bingham school near Mebane, N. C. have, without exception, done well.

Hassell Gibson of Grimesland obtained a certificate in Fr. History, spelling and penmanship. He received a grade of very good, approaching "distinguished" on department, which was very difficult to do as the military discipline at Bingham is exceedingly strict, although kind.

Knott Proctor of Grimesland obtained an average of very good for the whole year on all his studies and a grade of "highly distinguished" for the whole year on department. He received a certificate in Fr. Mathematics, Fr. Science, Fr. Latin, Spelling, Fr. History and Penmanship and represented the Kappa-Sigma-Polemic Society at the commencement just held as one of the speakers.

Willie Gray Lang of Greenville was distinguished for the entire year in all his studies. In a contest, open to all, he was awarded the prize as the "nearest" cadet. He was awarded a certificate in Fr. Mathematics, Fr. Latin, Spelling and Penmanship.

Library Hours To Be Changed During Summer

Library hours for the Sheppard Memorial Library will be changed during the summer months.

People who use the library were given the opportunity to vote on the hours for the library during the summer. The vote was close with 56 percent expressing the desire for morning hours and 42 percent voting to continue night hours. Library officials have decided to open the library four mornings and two nights a week. Effective June 2, the library will open from 2 to 9 p. m. on Mondays and Thursdays and from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. on Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Fridays and Saturdays.

Grifton News

Good Rain Fall

Nearly two and a quarter inches of rain fell in the Greenville area the first 26 days of May. The precipitation was divided among seven days. Five-eighths of an inch of rain fell here yesterday. Highest temperature here yesterday was 86 degrees. Lowest last night, 62, and at 8 a. m. today it was 71 and steadily rising. Yesterday a year ago, the highest temperature here was 76 degrees. Lowest that night 62, and at 8 a. m. next day the mercury stood at 65. Light drizzle of rain that day.

Social Calendar

WEDNESDAY
7:15 p. m.—Beaux Arts Club meets at Third Street School hut.
8:00 p. m.—Regular meeting of Greenville Lodge No. 1645 BPOE.
8:00 p. m.—P.T.A. of West Greenville School will meet.

THURSDAY
1:00 p. m.—Annual Garden Club picnic at the home of Mrs. M. K. Blount.
6:30 p. m.—German Club picnic supper-dance at Country Club.

FRIDAY
1:00 p. m.—Mesdames Phillip Coleman, J. S. Barr, D. E. Jones and Gus Forbes will entertain at luncheon at the home of Mrs. Forbes to honor Miss Carolyn Rowlett, bride-elect.
6:30 p. m.—Kiwanis Club.
6:30 p. m.—Exchange Club.
7:30 p. m.—Red Men meet.

8:00 p. m.—Mrs. John L. Howard will be hostess at bridge at the home of Mrs. C. W. Howard to compliment Miss Carolyn Rowlett, bride-elect.

8:00 p. m.—Mrs. Troy Moore and Miss Peggy Cox will entertain at a crystal shower at the home of Miss Cox honoring Miss Janet Waters, bride-elect.

8:00 p. m.—Mrs. C. D. Smith's Kindergarten will present musical version of Cinderella in West Greenville school auditorium.

SATURDAY
9:30 a. m.—The Credit Women's Breakfast Club will meet at the American Legion Dining Room.

11:00 a. m.—Mrs. C. A. White and Mrs. S. T. White II will entertain informally in honor of Misses Peggy Edwards and Carolyn Rowlett, brides-elect.

4:00-6:00 p. m.—Mrs. Walter Cox will be hostess at her home at a tea to honor Miss Janet Waters, bride-elect.

Students Have Weiner Roast
The third grade students of the Carolina Graded School in Stokes attended a weiner roast at the home of Mrs. Tyree Stokes, Wednesday, May 14.

The children accompanied by their teacher, Mrs. Barbara Finch, arrived at noon, roasted weiners, ate chocolate layer cake and enjoyed soft drinks.

Special guests were Mesdames R. E. Parker and T. L. Perkins of Stokes, Mrs. H. G. McDowell and Johnnie of Orangeburg, S. C., little Miss Wilma Crandall and Parker Stokes and Master Larry Perkins of Baltimore, Md. Mrs. Stokes was assisted by Mrs. W. H. Crandall.

Hostess At Supper Party

Mrs. Edward Hart entertained at a delightful supper party on Thursday night at her home here for members of her bridge club and invited players for four tables of bridge.

Lovely arrangements of carnations and roses made a pretty setting for the party. Mrs. W. E. Raspberry was winner of high score award; Mrs. Walter Patrick, second high, and Mrs. Joe House visitor's prize. Other players were Mrs. Milton Hart, Mrs. Wilbur Murphy, Mrs. Jake Worthington, Mrs. Ben Tucker, Mrs. Carey Garra, Mrs. Roger Johnson, Mrs. Roy Jackson, Mrs. Woodrow Smith, Mrs. Julius Chauncey, Mrs. Sam Nelson, Mrs. Mark Phillips, Mrs. Clay Burney, Mrs. Glendel Tucker.

Prior to the bridge games a delectable supper plate was enjoyed.

Entertains Bridge Club

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Mewborn had as guests on Thursday night members of their bridge club and additional players at a supper session.

Bowls of peonies, roses, pansies and pinies were used in artistic arrangements throughout the home. A buffet supper was served as guests arrived. The table was covered with a lace cloth and held a centerpiece of rose peonies. Tall lighted candles in crystal candelabra furnished illumination.

During the bridge games Mr. and Mrs. Thurman J. Williams were highest scorers among club members and Mr. C. T. Jackson for visitors. Others playing were Mrs. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Hodges, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bissette, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Cobb, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mewborn.

To Sponsor Talent Show

The W.S.C.S. of the Methodist Church will sponsor a "Talent Show" to be given on Wednesday night at 8 o'clock at the Community Building. Proceeds will go to the building program. The public is invited to attend.

Dutch Supper

On Saturday night residents of the "Circle" in Westwood Drive gathered at the open fireplace on the back lawn of the Jimmie Leydons for a dutch supper. Those present for the evening of fun were Mr. and Mrs. Leydon, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Willis, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Fletcher, Mr. and Mrs. Joe House, Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Lawrence, Capt. and Mrs. Russell Morris, M-S and Mrs. George Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gower, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gower, and Mrs. Jake Worthington.

Informal Party

On Saturday night Miss Judith Hart entertained members of her Sunday School class at an informal party at her home here at which time they honored their teacher, Mrs. G. T. Gardner, at a surprise birthday party.

Games and contests were enjoyed during the play period with Mrs. J. M. Hart, mother of the hostess, directing. Later in the evening the birthday cake, which was beautifully decorated in pink and white, was cut and served with punch and salted nuts.

Guests were Mrs. Gardner, Mabel and Dorothy Jones, Phyllis Dudley, Martha Hart, Tommy Sugg, Mac Chauncey, Allen Barwick, Jesse Wade, James Haynes and Carolyn Hart.

Mrs. G. Tucker had as guests during the weekend, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Mumford, Patty Anne Mumford of Greenville, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Renfrew, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hahn, Ricky Hahn, Horace and Tuck Renfrew of Lucama, Mrs. W. F. Cross, Mary Anne and Frank Cross of Sunbury, Mrs. Mary Jackson, and Mrs. Harlan White of Colerain.

Mrs. Milton Hart and children, Judith, Carolyn and Joe, are in Kenly for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Starling.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Reeves Jr. of Burgaw were Sunday guests in the home of Mrs. G. T. Gardner. Mrs. Reeves remained for a longer visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George C. Sugg.

Mrs. Trent Berry and son, Steven, returned to their home at Weaverville on Sunday after a visit here with Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Chapman, who accompanied her home for the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Halslip and daughter, Jane Rue, of Hamilton spent the weekend here with Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Jarrell.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Porter and daughter, Pamela, of New London, Conn. came at the weekend for a visit with Mrs. Porter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Josh Worthington. Guests in the Worthington home on Friday were Mrs. Edward Williams, Mrs. Frances Townsend and daughter, Kay, of Wallace.

Mrs. W. T. Byrd of Mount Olive is a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Cox.

Mrs. J. J. Clendenning and infant daughter, Beverly, have returned to their home from Pitt Memorial Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Yonkee of New York City are guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Chauncey.

Mrs. Lois Cox has returned to her home at Crestview, Fla. after a brief visit here with Mr. and Mrs. Sam Nelson. She was called home on account of a death in the family.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cooke and sons, Richard and Jimmie, of Williamson were guests during the weekend of Mrs. R. E. Nelson.

Cpl. Conrad Hart, stationed at Camp Lee, Va., spent the weekend here with his mother, Mrs. Maggie Hart.

Credit Women's Club To Meet
The Credit Women's Breakfast Club will meet on Saturday morning at 7:30 at the American Legion Dining Room.

CAROLINA GRILL
Good Food
Reasonable Prices
24-Hour Service

BABY'S FIRST BATH—Gundrop XII, the new-born pygmy hippopotamus at the Washington, D. C. Zoo, is a handful for Ralph Norris, assistant head keeper, at its first bath. The animal weighed nine pounds at its birth a few days earlier.

Dr. E. J. Carter Speaks At Grifton Graduation

GRIFTON — In speaking before the graduating class of the school here Friday night, Dr. E. J. Carter of East Carolina College told the seniors to "Play the Ball Where It Lies".

Carter urged the seniors to stay in their community after college training and see what wonderful potentialities they would encounter. "What you must have," he told them, "are vision and energy coupled with training. There must be leaders and then there must be followers. It is not everyone who can be a leader, nor are all expected to be. We must train to follow as well."

"The challenge is here in your community, take it. I give it to you."

Ethlyn Koon was presented the valedictory award, the athletic award, and the Babe Ruth Sportsmanship medal. The salutatory award went to Ruby Hoffman who was also given the Dawson Memorial Scholarship.

Other awards to the following: Mildred Sellers, English medal; Hilda Buck, homemaking; Bernice and McLawhorn, Future Farmers of America; John Robert Lewis, scholarship award and Babe Ruth medal for boys and Argent Tucker, citizenship award.

Piano Recital

The music pupils of Miss Eva Hodges will be presented in a recital of piano compositions on Thursday, May 22, at 8:00 p. m. at the Woman's Club.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

Birth Announcement

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gower of Grifton announce the birth of a son, Waldo H. Gower III, on May 20 at Pitt Memorial Hospital, Greenville. Mrs. Gower is the former Lynn Dudley of Greenville.

Rep. Bonner Addresses Belvoir Graduating Class

BELVOIR — Congressman Herbert C. Bonner told 32 graduates of the high school here Monday night that the world is not disintegrating but progressing rapidly. "People living in the rural areas now have practically the same advantages as those in the metropolitan areas," he stated. Bonner also stressed the point that the contributions, in life are returned twice-fold.

O. H. Forrest, Belvoir-Falkland School principal, presented the Babe Ruth sportsmanship awards to Nadine Morris and Ralph Tyson for their outstanding leadership in sports. Senior Beta Club members received gold seals to be placed on their diplomas.

In addition to the Beta Club seals, Robert Bright received the Salutatorian seal and Betty Lou Vainright received the Valedictorian seal.

The graduates, who entered the auditorium by the processional, "God of Our Fathers," were led by mascots Carolyn Case and Tommy Meeks. Salutatorian Robert Bright made the welcoming address and Tanya Anderson and Woody Manning, accompanied by Mrs. Randolph Fleming, sang "Perfect Day".

The farewell address was given by Valedictorian Mary Lou Vainright. Marshals for the event were Nell Clark, Elizabeth Brewer, Doris Nichols, Howard Bullock, Jeanette Boyd, and Mack Dupree.

W. R. Tyson, chairman of the local school board, presented diplomas to the following graduates: Edward Allen, Robert Bright, Mark Case, Elmer Clark, Glenn Fleming, Franklin Harris, Charles Hagan, J. C. Hamill, William Harris, Floyd Langley, Bobby Meeks, Jerry McLawhorn, Frank Pollard, Ted Pollard, Charlie Spain and Wayland Stallings.

Ralph Tyson, Edna Ayers, Lina Crawford, Mary Lee Edwards, Jean Jones, Josephine Little, Betty Jean Manning, Nadine Morris, Claudia Pollard, Margie Pollard, Jean Tyson, Mary Lou Vainright, Jerleen Brannon, Grace Pollard and Agnes Dilda.

Police Break Up German Brawl

WIESBADEN, Germany (UP) — Police riot squads broke up a brawl last night which started at a stormy meeting of the "West German Women's Peace Movement."

Pastor Martin Niemoller addressed the meeting. He was interrupted by whistles and jeers when he said the role of Christianity was to further a peaceful settlement with the East.

Panic Results In Thirty Injured

BUENOS AIRES (UP) — Approximately 30 persons were injured last night in a panic which followed a bomb explosion in a downtown theater.

The bomb exploded during the first showing of the film "Barbara Atomica" which has been denounced as immoral by private organizations because of dance sequences in it.

Local Woman Receives Honor At Convention

Mrs. Lettie Blibro was presented a silver bowl last night at the concluding meeting of the state convention of the Credit Women's Breakfast Clubs for being the outstanding state Breakfast Club member of the year.

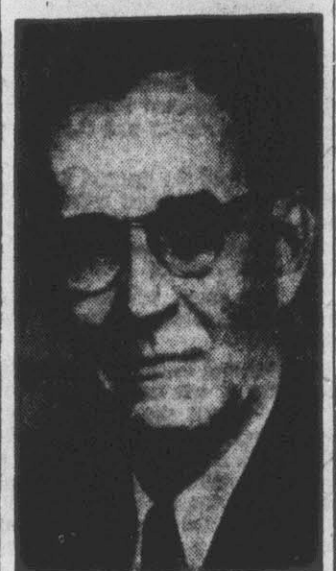

The presentation was made at the banquet which drew to a close the three-day convention. Chosen for outstanding work in her local club, in civic and church work, Mrs. Blibro is a past president of the Greenville club and organizer of the organization's Past Presidents Club. The award was presented by Mrs. Alla May Holland of Raleigh, who created it during her term of office as state president.

Mrs. Dorothy Copeland of Greenville was elected to the office of vice president during the convention. The new officers were installed in candlelight ceremony during the luncheon meeting yesterday.

The Greenville club received other honors at the convention. It held third place for the state trophy and received honorable mention for its scrapbook.

Hens on U. S. farms averaged 187 eggs per layer in 1950 compared with a previous 10-year average of 147.

FOR GOVERNOR

Wm. B. Umstead
Tune In
WGTC
Thursday Nite
DON'T MISS IT

Take the Key
... Take the Wheel
TAKE OFF IN A "ROCKET" SHOW CAR!

You hear it everywhere... people raving about Oldsmobile's new "Rocket"! Now you can learn for yourself what all the excitement is about. Now you can drive Oldsmobile's special "Rocket" show car!

Test the flashing 160-horsepower "Rocket"! Try the swift, smooth response of Hydra-Matic Super Drive! To get the facts, get behind the wheel of Oldsmobile's Super '88"! The keys are waiting for you!

*Hydra-Matic Super Drive, GM Hydraulic Steering, Automatic-Drive—and white sidewall tires (when available) optional at extra cost. Equipment, accessories and trim subject to change without notice.

OLDSMOBILE

MAY IS "SAFETY-CHECK" MONTH... SEE YOUR OLDSMOBILE DEALER

THE KEYS ARE WAITING! DRIVE OUR SPECIAL "ROCKET" SHOW CAR TODAY!

Stafford Oldsmobile Company

520 Cotanche Street, Greenville, N. C.

Meet Miss Virginia Stalling
At... Blackwood's
Beginning Friday 2 P.M.
And Lasting Thru Saturday

Coolerator Home Freezer

SAVE
UP TO 30%
ON YOUR FOOD BILL

Free Prizes Refreshments

Coolerator Home Economics director will conduct demonstrations showing latest developments and shortcuts in processing and packaging foods for home freezing. She is a national authority on home freezing, having been awarded special recognition at the National Convention of Home Economists.

BLACKWOOD'S

A. J. GARRIS, Owner

Impressions

By MARTHA S. FORBES

Graduation days are upon us. Every day now the papers make references to commencement exercises in the high schools and colleges throughout the state.

Excited seniors are sending out invitations by the dozen to friends to attend what they feel is the most important event in their lives. Complacent Juniors are already feeling like superior Seniors who are the envy of the underclassmen. Annuals are an indispensable part of every girl's baggage during these last few school days, and such nostalgic verse as "In years to come, remember me, and I will do, the same for thee," is being scribbled under pictures, on margins, in front and back of the last recorded account of school days.

Now, sigh the students, no more school; no more lessons to learn; no more teachers to mind; no more schedules to keep; no more bells ringing to tell us when to do what. But actually the ending of formal education is just the beginning of learning for life that never ceases. There may be no bells to call one to classes; there probably won't be themes to write or book reports to make; there won't be ampages of books to lug back and forth every day. But the learning of lessons, the adjustments to new "teachers" and situations, and the striving for good "grades" is just starting.

For life is a continual process of growing and acquiring knowledge. When one leaves the classroom, he embarks on the greatest educational adventure of all time. He begins to learn to live, and the way he applies the knowledge he has and the use he makes of his "I. Q." will determine in large measure how successfully he passes his "work" in the school of life.

The story is told of three workmen who were quarrying stone. A passer-by asked one what he was doing. "I am working for so much money an hour," he replied. To the second man, the questioner asked the same thing and received this reply: "I am breaking up stone." The third man, when stopped by the query of the stranger, looked up and said, "I am building a cathedral."

Now each of the men was doing the same work, but what a difference in their attitude towards their labors. One of them was living to make money, and everything else was in minor consideration to this. Another saw life as drudgery, with no beauty, no joy, no nothing but unrewarding work. The third man could vision beyond the lowliness of his task the beauty and the strength and the endurance of the cathedral which would be built from stone he was assembling and found inspiration in being associated with so noble an undertaking. Only one of the men had really learned to live.

And so it is with us. If our work is merely a salary check, and that is its only compensation, we have failed in our "school" work. If others find themselves merely a slave to hard routine they are like the students who attend school because they are forced to and who build up a hard shell of resistance to learning anything worthwhile.

But if we can approach each task or each "assignment" with an air of expectancy, with an outlook that goes beyond the mechanics of operation, with aspiration and eagerness for the magnificent in life, then we are successfully passing our examinations. We will march confidently across the stage when our name is called, take our diploma from the President of life's school, and have our names recorded as being graduated "summa cum laude" when the curtain falls on the Last Graduation.

Guy Langston Is Now Lt. Colonel

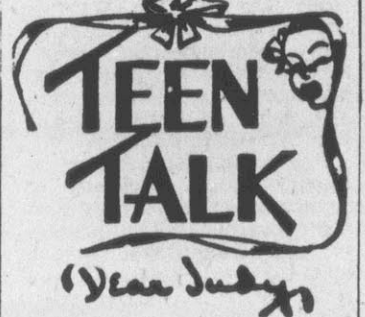

Guy C. Langston, Greenville chief of police, has been promoted to the rank of lieutenant-colonel and executive officer of the 196th Field Artillery Group, Kinston.

He has an outstanding military record. He was staff sergeant of the Service Battery, 113th Field Artillery, when he entered the federal service in 1940. He was promoted in 1941 to second lieutenant and assistant executive officer of Battery D, 113th Field Artillery, Second Battalion. He was promoted to first lieutenant and executive officer of Battery D, Second Battalion, 113th Field Artillery, February 1, 1942.

Langston was promoted to captain January 11, 1943, and served as intelligence officer of the 196th Field Artillery Battalion. He served overseas with this unit until after the Battle of the Bulge. After that time he served as a staff officer of the 196th Military Government Police Battalion in the European theater of operations.

He left the federal military service April 2, 1946, as captain of the Officers Reserve Corps. He was promoted to the rank of major of military police June 22, 1948. Later he was transferred to the 196th Field Artillery Group Staff as intelligence officer at Kinston.

Since then Langston has taken an active part in military affairs in the Officers Reserve Corps. He was in camp in Alabama with his outfit last summer.

AP Newsfeatures

Looking for a wife? One who has all those old-fashioned qualifications—cook, seamstress and homemaker? Well, boys, do not despair. Thousands of young ladies are being trained in the gracious old art of homemaking by the Girls' Clubs of America.

As a matter of fact one of their number, pretty Barbara Faye Swanson, 16, of Jamestown, N. Y., has been elected "Young Homemaker of the Year."

She was picked for the title as candidate from her local girls' club—one of the 42 girls' clubs which participated in the contest at the behest of the American Mothers' Committee of the Golden Rule Foundation who decided to select the country's outstanding young homemaker this year for the first time.

The group believes that since today's teen-agers are tomorrow's mothers, they should be encouraged to have incentive in home activities now.

Barbara is a good example of what the girls' club is trying to accomplish. She cooks, sews, makes her own party dresses and blouses, and believe it or not, she enjoys washing dishes! Says Barbara: "Dish washing doesn't need to be a hard job—on of the things you learn in the club. We don't even try to take shortcuts to dishwashing. Sometimes the long way around is more fun. We sing songs and tell stories as we dry the

Painting Presented To College

Members of the Class of 1952 at East Carolina College have presented to the college an oil painting of Dr. John D. Messick, East Carolina president.

Robert O. Branley of Rocky Mount, president of the Senior Class, (right, above), represented his classmates as he gave the portrait to Dr. Messick at recent ceremonies in the Wright auditorium. The painting, it was announced, will be hung in the new college library on the West Campus, construction of which is soon to begin.

The portrait is the work of Philip Moose of Newton, North Carolina artist who is now connected with Davidson College. A painter of note, Moose has been a winner of the Pulitzer Prize as America's most talented and promising young artist. He has received a number of awards for his work; has held fellowships at Columbia University, the National Academy of Design, and the Art Students League of New York City; and has worked and studied in Europe, South America, and Mexico.

The portrait pictures Dr. Messick in academic costume. It is handsomely framed in an antique gold design.

disks, and it doesn't seem like so much of a chore."

Members of the Girls' Clubs of America, says Barbara, probably do have an advantage when it comes to boys, because they can entertain their dates with some pretty fine cooking. Says she:

"I've learned one thing—boys like meat and potatoes. Fill them up on those and they'll be happy. Hamburgers, hot dogs and potato salad are other favorites. The best of all is to let a boy raid the icebox. He'll enjoy that better than any fancy dish."

Barbara's current beau, whom she describes as "6 feet 3 inches tall, blond, blue-eyed and handsome," is positively embarrassed because everyone is referring to him now as the "boy-friend of the young homemaker," says Barbara.

He is the athletic type who enjoys sports, particularly baseball, she says, and she endorses his selection of pastimes. Her first few minutes in New York were spent writing "Chuck" a letter.

Barbara's mother has been family breadwinner since Barbara was nine, which leaves some of the responsibility to the young homemaker. Her mother leaves home about 6:30 a.m. to go to a local tool company where she works, and Barbara supervises the activities of younger sister Sandra, whom she describes as "a little wild" and interested in "different" amusements such as tap dancing and baton twirling. Barbara's hobbies include debating, collecting records and miniature dog curios.

Sister Sandra is a member of the Girls' Club, also, which takes girls from 5 to 16. It is said to be the only organization in the world with a daily leisure time program for girls.

Blue-eyed Barbara, who is 5 feet 6 inches tall with curly light-brown hair and a pretty figure, won a scholarship of $200 for any college of her choice and a complete outfit and luggage given by Jamestown's leading department store as a result of winning the contest.

She has a good sense of humor, reserving most of her chuckles for suggestions intimating that homemaking is hard work. Barbara doesn't think so. She explains: "Of course anything seems dif-

FOR GOVERNOR

Wm. B. Umstead
Tune In
WGTC
Thursday Nite
DON'T MISS IT

City Recreation Progressing, But Goal Is Far From Reached

In a report submitted to the Recreation Commission Monday night Director Warren Carroll stated that much progress has been made in city recreation but the desired goal has not been reached.

Carroll stated that the recreation program is becoming more and more balanced but that it will take sometime to reach the desired goal. "A lot of progress has been made in the past 12 months and we should feel proud of the development," he said.

Some of the major projects cited by Carroll include the Little League Park, lights for softball play, Elm Street Park Development, the recreation center at Eppes High School, and the future development of the South Greenville area.

The director told the commission that the Elm Street Park project is developing very fast but one must stay close to the spot to see the efforts behind the projects. He reported that the heavy grading work has been completed, the drainage completed, clearing of undergrowth almost finished, work on picnic facilities in progress, and work on game tables in progress.

He reported that all area location has been spotted and apparatus ordered. "As yet, the tennis courts and the activity building has not been started but money is still coming in that can be applied to these units," Carroll said.

The director reported that the Negroes have started shaping their organization and are at present about to take a definite step forward.

In closing, Carroll said that with the expanding units which must be maintained and supervised, the department has a responsibility that will take an increase in the budget. "Therefore," he said "we must give careful thought to our 1952-1953 budget plans."

Railroad Lines Are Sabotaged

WILMINGTON, N. C. — (AP) Officials of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad said today that main lines have been sabotaged at two points in Georgia within the last 10 days. A $10,000 reward is being offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of persons responsible.

ACL President C. McD. Davis offered the reward yesterday. The FBI, railroad detectives and Georgia authorities are investigating the sabotage, which a railroad spokesman described as the work of "someone who knows what he's doing."

The U. S. Bureau of Land Management estimates the spruce budworm has killed enough timber to build 10,000,000 five-room houses.

don't DO that!

DON'T QUIBBLE... Many a vacation has been ruined before it starts by spots between husband and wife over where to go, and why.

BE A WISE ONE... SAVE REGULARLY HERE

Guaranty Bank and Trust Company
Member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation
"The Guardian and Escrower That Never Sleeps"
Established 1891 — Time Tested

Raleigh Man Is New Head Of N. C. Merchants

RALEIGH (AP) — Ben W. Haigh, farm supply dealer and Raleigh civic leader, is the new president of the North Carolina Merchants Association.

He was elected by the organization's board of directors yesterday as the merchants concluded their 50th annual convention. He succeeds W. S. Wolfe of Mt. Airy.

At their golden anniversary banquet session last night, the approximately 500 Tar Heel merchants heard a vice president of J. C. Penney Co., declare that free competition "is a healthy spur that improves the job each merchant does so that more and more business is attracted into an area for all the merchants."

The board of directors voted to hold the 1953 convention in Winston-Salem May 18-19.

N. C. Precincts Increase By Two

RALEIGH — (AP) — The state's number of precincts has been increased by two to 2,018, it was reported yesterday by Raymond Maxwell, executive secretary of the State Board of Elections.

Maxwell said Franklin County reported it has added one precinct and now has 12. Pender reported it has 16, one more than previously.

TRAIN ACCIDENT — SANTIAGO, Spain (UP) — Seven persons were killed and two others injured critically last night when several freight cars, loaded with gasoline and alcohol, crashed into a passenger train and exploded.

IT'S TODAY'S BIG NEWS!

designed by Russel Wright

It boasts the best in modern comfort and design. You'll use it on the porch, in the front yard and the back yard; on a spot of land or a lot of land!

- IT FOLDS for easy carrying, stacking and storing
- IT FITS your body curves; the "comfort-curves" are moulded into the metal.
- IT FOOLS THE WEATHER; doesn't need to come out of the rain.

Streaming pastels: chartreuse, saffron, coral and green. Weather-resistant, baked-on enamel finish. Made of electrically-welded, hard temper steel.

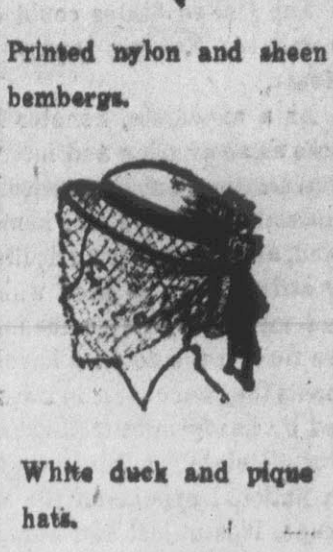

Quinn, Miller & Stroud
"Pitt County's Most Modern Furniture Store"

New arrivals in mid-summer cotton dresses — volles, nylon, organdy, swiss, chambray and other sheer materials.

White cotton summer hats, small shapes.

C. Heber Forbes

GET THE PROOF!

Be your own truck expert with our SHOW DOWN of truck value

See...Drive...Compare
We have all the facts you need

- ATTRACTIVE PRICES!
- LIBERAL TRADE-INS!
- LONG, EASY TERMS!

Come in today!

DODGE "Job-Rated" TRUCKS

BRIGHT LEAF MOTORS

1600 N. Greene St. — Phone 2314
Greenville, N. C.

The Daily Reflector

Incorporated
Published Every Afternoon Except Sunday
Established 1883
DAVID J. WHITCHER, JR., Publisher
Entered at the Post Office at Greenville, N. C. as second class mail matter.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
By Carrier (BY MAIL) Week 35c
(Payable in Advance)
Three Months $ 3.00
Six Months $ 5.50
One Year $10.50

MEMBER ASSOCIATED PRESS AND UNITED PRESS
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to use for publication all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited to this paper and also the local news published herein. All rights of publication of special dispatches herein are also reserved.

NATIONAL ADVERTISING REPRESENTATIVES
Thomas F. Clark Co., Inc., New York, Chicago, Atlanta, Member Audit Bureau of Circulations.
All advertising copy must be received at least one day before publication date.

Strength for the Day

LIFE HAS ITS LIMITS
UNWORKABLE—BUT TRIUMPHANT
There is an interesting account in the Gospels of how, on one occasion, the four fishermen friends of Jesus suggested the following day that they put out into the deep and let down their nets. And when they did, they enclosed a school of fish which taxed their fragile boats to the limit.
This is all indicative of the way Jesus went about everything and the way he continues to go about everything today. Certainly Peter and his companions knew when to fish, where to fish, and how to fish. Yet fishing was to be done at night in the shallow; this carpenter from Nazareth told them to fish at midday in the deep. But they caught fish, using the same, even though the procedure violated every known rule of their craft.
Jesus still proposes, as a cure for individual and world ills, remedies which are manifestly absurd. He tells us to love our enemies, to turn the other cheek, to make giving the chief end in life instead of getting. He bids us remember that the only true happiness comes out of sacrifice.
All such teachings are just as absurd as casting nets at midday into deep water. But the world is discovering that Jesus has the only way of life which really works.

In Russell We See Our Best Bet

Of all presidential candidates, Republican and Democratic, Senator Richard Russell stands head and shoulders above the herd in qualifications for the honor.

He has a record of international thinking that lends credence to believing he would support foreign policy commitments to the limit of our abilities without giving away all of the nation's wealth. His senatorial duties have made him exceptionally well qualified in matters of defense, foreign policy and domestic fiscal requirements, and the breath of scandal has never touched him. In the wide field of prerequisites for presidential material, The Reflector rates him as an authority far better versed in the problems than Senators Kefauver and Taft, General Eisenhower or any of the "favorite sons" put forth by sundry states.

The United States could do worse than install the Georgia senator in the White House.

As a candidate, Senator Russell should pose as an alluring and interesting topic of conversation among agricultural and industrial spokesmen. His home is the Southland, an area where agriculture is especially strong; and an area which holds more and more promise to manufacturers who are finding the South a haven from harassments they encounter in states already glutted by heavy industrialization. Best of all, Russell closely approaches being involved in national affairs on the widest possible scope. It is unjust and unfair to label him as a sectional candidate.

The senator has stature as an economist; which in these times of beating the bushes for a "pro-taxpayer" candidate, means something to every man, from hod-carrier to bank president... from ditch-digger to scientific agriculturalist.

News stories previously carried in The Reflector have demonstrated a strong inclination toward Russell among North Carolina Democrats. We think and hope this endorsement by Tar Heels is based on the senator's distinguished record as an American, not merely because he happens to be a Southerner.

We would like to see the senator from Georgia endorsed and supported by North Carolina Democrats convening in Raleigh tomorrow. The action would mean an uphill fight at the state convention, and would be a preliminary bout to the national rally. If something is worth fighting for, it's worth fighting for from start to finish; and deserving of support to our fullest effort.

Those who argue against North Carolina Democrats taking a positive stand on the endorsement of a presidential candidate are sitting on a fence, ready to trade and "deal" for sundry advantages. Their support is the kind which may be "bought," and their mercenary outlook is politely described as being "politically astute."

Principles and ideals are still the best guideposts we have to go by. If North Carolinians are truly interested in the highest quality of government, they will rally around that candidate who most closely represents the qualifications and standards they seek.

The Reflector is convinced that of all the candidates for presidential nomination in the Democratic Party, Senator Richard Russell is the most qualified and most worthy of election.

The Red Threat Goes On And On

With the way "truce" negotiations have deteriorated into bawling-out sessions of United Nations spokesmen by the Communist team, it's hardly a surprise that a new warning has been sounded on the possibility of renewed heavy fighting in Korea.

During the lull inspired by truce talks, our fighting-men have watched the enemy build up their forces to a strength far greater than they have yet enjoyed since the invasion of South Korea. There is satisfaction in the knowledge that our own army and ROK contingents are also much stronger, but the fact remains that should heavy fighting erupt it will involve great armies and it will be no small "police action."

The Chinese and North Koreans were absorbing a terrible beating at the time armistice talks were suggested and accepted by both sides. From a staggering army there has since been built a stronger threat to our Eighth Army.

More and more it appears that the enemy's "opportunism" was carefully planned and part of an over-all strategy. We lost our military advantage and in the process of "parleying" possibly suffered setbacks in the propaganda war. Negotiating in good faith with those people has been costly.

And even if that threat of renewed heavy fighting does not soon materialize in Korea, there will always be that uncertainty in the air.

National Whirligig

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON—The American military mishaps in Korea, Europe and the United States are not traceable entirely to individual ineptitude and blundering, although the officers involved will be made the "scapegoats" by their superiors at the Pentagon.

The basic difficulty, as high command members concede frankly but privately, is that army, navy and air force officers of relatively low rank and experience have been given assignments for which they are not trained or equipped.

They have been forced to discharge delicate diplomatic duties in many of the world's hottest spots. They must act as ambassadors.

POLICY—The commander of troops, an outpost or a prison camp in any of our occupation areas overseas is no longer a mere soldier. His activities are not confined to training, equipping and feeding his men. His actions frequently symbolize an American foreign policy which has been challenged across the globe by Moscow.

His treatment of minorities in his units is observed carefully by nearby Russians and other ideological enemies. So is his handling of the people who are under his jurisdiction temporarily.

Returning officers report that most of their time is spent in worrying over these problems, with the recognition that even a minor mistake will be seized upon as propaganda by the "commies."

EDUCATION—Unfortunately, even the highest-ranking officers have not been given sufficient education or background to discharge these missions successfully. The last diary episode in Germany, with the tragically crude handling of prisoners on Kofe Island, point up these observations.

Ironically, the armed services spend vast sums educating officers who must serve as lawyers, public relations officers, accountants etc. They study at public expense at our finest universities. But so far they have neglected to assign key overseas men to schools of diplomacy.

LOSS—Another factor underlying overseas leadership and behavior which even the Pentagon "brass" concedes is the devastating loss of top-notch men who combined military skill with broad understanding of the international situation. We are beginning to scrape the bottom of the barrel with respect to replacements.

The leaders of his type have retired for age, preference or disability. It is difficult to find substitutes for men like General George C. Marshall, Dwight D. Eisenhower, Douglas MacArthur, Lucius D. Clay, Joseph McNarney etc.

They have quit or, in the case of MacArthur, been removed at the very moment when their services are most needed. Moreover, the second team does not command the prestige abroad which they enjoyed.

SAVVY—The three worst offenders in the recent European and Korean episodes—Generals Grow, Dodd and Colson—were excellent combat officers. Given a hill to take or a tactical operation, they performed satisfactorily. But they simply did not have the "savvy" for more responsible and delicate duties.

In fact, this same observation applies to the members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff—Bradley, Collins, Feltner and Vandenberg. They are first-rate fighting men, but they are not diplomats. Unfortunately, in view of world conditions, it is impossible to draw the line between the military and diplomatic realms these days.

It is no secret, for instance, that General Bradley has as much voice and influence in shaping and executing foreign policy as Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

SHREWD—The only big-time political boss not actively opposing Senator Estes Kefauver's presidential candidacy is "Ed" Crump of Tennessee. And it may be that the shrewd veteran of national politics is playing a canny game than the heads of most of the metropolitan machines and Harry S. Truman.

No man has more reason to try to block the "reform senator" than Crump. When he was denied the nomination by the Crump-McKellar faction in 1948, Kefauver defied and defeated the regular organization. As a member of House and Senate, he has never taken Crump's orders.

Yet the Memphis boss has passed word to Tennessee delegates to the convention that he will not resent it, if they vote for the man other ancient Democrats denounce as an "interloper." Having a solid instead of a split delegation from his own state will give the young man a big boost. He may repay the kindness if a miracle hits him at Chicago and in November.

PRIZ—John L. Lewis continues to josh his unfriendly rival, Philip Murray, for relying on Truman assistance in the steel dispute. Referring to the "freezing" of the strike by court edict, the mine leaders' current publication carries this limerick:
"There was an old man in Quebec,
Buried in snow to his neck.
He was asked, 'Ain't you friz?'
He replied, 'Yes, I is.
But we don't call that cold in Quebec!'"

What's In A Name?

Somebody Told Me

By J. J. (Jack) EDWARDS, JR.

If South Americans can take a siesta every day after lunch it seems to me that Americans are entitled to some relaxation. The British take off every now and then for a spot of tea, but there's more relaxation than tea drinking. You might say that most Americans take off a few minutes during the day for a coke, but in most cases we gulp it down and rush back to work. The emphasis is put on drinking the coke, not relaxation.

What I am saying about Americans must be true, because we have a world-wide reputation of rushing around and working our heads off. The South Americans take their siestas and the British their tea. Compare the progress of those countries with ours, and there seems to be some indication of the importance of hard work.

But suppose we here in America should decide that we are rushing around too much, what would be the best way to relax? There's no doubt about the best way; we should declare a national breakfast hour. There are plenty of people around who still eat breakfast the way it should be eaten: Hot biscuits, real fruit juice, country ham, coffee and perhaps even grits and gravy. But it seems that so many families are letting breakfast slip. It's laziness, of course, that is taking the toll on breakfast. The sleepy head lies in bed until the last minute and hardly has time to eat any breakfast at all.

Many of us do not wake up hungry. It takes 15 or 20 minutes of activity in the morning to give the appetite an opportunity to become aroused. Many businessmen who can get by with it go to work, give their appetites plenty of time to whet, and then come home for a hearty breakfast. But there are plenty of us who are not in a position to take off from the job at the drop of a hat.

If Americans should ever become interested in taking a half-hour a day off, I think it should definitely be for the late-morning breakfast. It would give the wife plenty of time to put as much cooking emphasis on breakfast as she does any other meal. And it would give the husband plenty of time to get hungry.

It would take more than an act of Congress to bring about such an undertaking. It seems that Americans were born to hustle, so a sharp interruption in the day's routine just doesn't fit.

And I thank you

Around Capitol Square

By LYNN NISBET

PARADOX—From all sections of the state come continuing reports of apathy and lack of interest in the current political campaign. This condition has prevailed since late winter, but in most quarters there was expectation that interest would be keen as primary day drew near. Candidates and their managers still complaining, ten days from V-day, of continuing lack of enthusiasm for or against anybody. Some personal checking by your reporter supports the claim that nobody is steamed up about the next governor or any of the lesser state offices at stake. There is ample evidence that the people of North Carolina are interested in government and in practical politics. The paradox of little concern about the fate of individual candidates and the unusually heavy registration of voters and the larger than usual attendance at county conventions affords an interesting study in popular reactions.

REGISTRATION—Raleigh township in Wake county has been considered a sort of guinea pig in determining the attitude of the average citizen to the questions involved in the 1952 political circus. An entirely new registration was required here, and the only major city in which that was true. After studying records of other years, comparing registration against population, and votes against registration, local officials predicted for Raleigh a total registration of about 18,000, a maximum vote of 15,000. The board of elections gave an advance order to 22,000 ballots. When the exhausted but happy registrars finished counting names after the books closed at sundown last Saturday they found that 23,392 Raleighites had qualified to vote. Through analysis has not been completed as to party affiliation of the registrants, but a preponderant majority are Democrats—most estimates being in excess of 20,000. So a hurried add-order for ballots was dispatched to the printers. In other concentrated population areas such as Buncombe, Durham, Guilford and Mecklenburg counties registration exceeded all predictions.

VOTES—Opinion prevails among capitol square observers that the total number of registered Democrats in North Carolina now approaches a million and a half. Not a single estimate has been heard of larger than a 600,000 vote—with most predictions being under 500,000. There are several factors to be taken into account in attempts to forecast a vote based on registration. One is that it requires no exercise of choice to register. It does require some thought to honestly pick the best man out of list for two to ten appearing on the ballot. It is factual that a strenuous campaign was waged by the League of Women Voters, the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the regular chamber of commerce and various other business and civic groups to get people registered. One good woman was heard to say when she registered: "Raleigh precinct Saturday that she would not promise to vote. What the lady overlooked is that the same kind of pressure which proved successful in getting out the registration will be applied to get out the votes."

BURDEN—The burden will be shifted just a little, because most of the groups sponsoring the registration drive are non-partisan. The primary vote will be laid by Democratic, so the full impact of the total pressure will not be felt until November. However, all the non-partisan groups are still interested in everybody vote and they will add pressure to that applied by Democratic candidates, but on impersonal rather than non-partisan basis. The appeal will be directed to Democrats to vote—vote for whom you please, but vote.

CONVENTIONS—Further testimony to greater interest in politics than some candidates can find in their particular races is the record attendance at county conventions last Saturday. Not since 1928 has comparable attendance been reported, from all over the state. "re again the impact of national rather than local or state issues is responsible. Advance reports are that delegates to the State Democratic convention in Raleigh Thursday will be more concerned about delegates to the national convention than about the next Governor of North Carolina."

COURTESY—Thad Eure, secretary of state has a little story about how a small courtesy paid dividends to a service station. Eure left Raleigh after dark Saturday night and drove almost to Asheville on his way to the Ramp. A convention in Haywood county. He stopped at a motor court just east of the Beaufort turnpike, well after midnight, leaving the car parked in front. Anybody who has driven 250 miles on a summer night can understand the condition of the windshield. Several hundred bugs must have given their lives in search of truth—in this case to find what lay behind those bright lights. Next morning the windshield and headlamps were completely clean, except for a little card advising that the cleaning had been done by courtesy of a nearby service station.

DIVIDEND—It was a little thing, but highly appreciated—and remembered. The service station got about five bucks of it.

(Continued on page eight)

What Other Papers Are Thinking

EXEMPTING CONGRESSMEN
(Wilson Times)

Congressmen as a rule maintain two residences. That is, they have one in their home district and one in Washington. In a House measure the other day a rider was attached which will allow them to deduct their expenses while in Washington. Is that or is that not preferred treatment?

Any businessman who goes to Washington may charge all the costs to expenses. Therefore, they are deductible. But the businessman, in all likelihood, is there only a week. Let that same businessman go from his home to Chicago, staying six months, and the government contends he's established a second home. Therefore, he may not deduct his expenses.

Now it would seem to us that Congressmen should be treated like anyone else. They're overburdened with expenses, we know, but who isn't? If the businessman who spends much of his time in the same hotel can't deduct his hotel bill, why should a Congressman be allowed to do it?

The Times isn't trying to pick on Congressmen particularly. They pay the tax laws. If those taxes are more than they can bear, they must be more than a lot of business men can bear, too. The Congressmen apparently are giving that no thought. They're merely thinking of themselves. But we should think of this time they would know something about the public reaction.

They felt it again when the President's tax-exempt salary. They felt it again when they did the same thing for themselves. For in those very acts they recognized that taxes are too high. Yet they go on taxing the public, in many cases more than that public can bear, and hunt for loopholes for themselves. We for one don't think it's fair.

Business Today

By ELMER ROESSNER

Foreigners think Americans are the craziest people.

We ask democracies not to trade with Iron Curtain countries.

We have encouraged them to increase production so they will be less of a burden to American taxpayers.

We have encouraged them to build markets here.

We urge Europe to lower trade barriers as a step toward unity. Then we turn around and raise barriers against foreign goods. We have done that in several ways last year and we may do it again in a passel of bills pending in Congress.

The last shipment of imported cheese allowable during this fiscal year was unloaded last week. No more can come in until July 1. Under a rider to the Defense Production Act, imports of cheese have been limited to eleven twelfths of the 1948-50 average. Cheese is now backing up in eight friendly countries. Cheese importers say they do not threaten the U. S. dairy industry. Imports have averaged 60,000,000 pounds, contrasted with a domestic production of 1,000,000,000 pounds. America exports more cheese than it imports, and imported cheese is generally higher than domestic.

Under a section of the Trade Agreements Extension Act passed last summer, the Tariff Commission is bound to consider (though not necessarily act on) pleas for relief by American industries. The watch, hatters' fur, motorcycle, bicycle, wood screw, chalk and plaster of Paris, table and kitchen chinaware, clothespins, dried fig, candied cherry, pipe, blue cheese, garlic, fish fillet, tuna and other industries are demanding higher tariffs and the sewing machine, textile, glove and machine tool industries are expected to act soon.

The Buy American Act has prevented the Defense Department from procuring goods abroad unless the price is 25 per cent under American levels. The Army even ships its own canned beer to Germany.

Bills are pending in Congress to raise tariffs on tuna and fig paste; to limit amounts of duty-free china tourists may bring in; to force the Defense Department to buy only American-grown wool, and to levy higher duties against foreign importers who benefit from multiple exchange rates. Another bill would cut imports of products containing any controlled material to 50 per cent of the pre-Korea level. This would almost completely shut out British cars and cycles.

HERE ARE ARGUMENTS ON BOTH SIDES

There are strong arguments for these restrictions. Proponents say American industries must be kept healthy in event of war, and that farmers, manufacturers and workers must be protected from competition from cheap foreign labor. They argue that unrestricted imports will cause unemployment that can be more expensive than foreign aid.

There are also strong arguments against them. Opponents say restrictions on purchases of foreign products will hurt foreign economies so seriously that we will have to increase foreign aid to prevent collapses. They point out that restrictions will bring retaliation and this will be a losing exchange; last year we imported slightly less than eleven billion dollars worth of goods and sold almost fifteen billion dollars worth abroad. Foreign repatriation has already begun, he Benelux nations have put a tariff on our industrial wax and other reprisals are being discussed. Furthermore, the Buy American Act is increasing the cost of defense.

It is also argued that trade restrictions play into the hands of the Communists. Quotas and higher duties tend to alienate friendly democracies. The Reds are already making propaganda use of our restrictions. If they increase, we may force other nations to make trade deals with Russia and China.

Equally serious is the point that, having made a bid for world leadership, we present ourselves to our friends as confusedly charging off in two directions.

NEW PRODUCTS
DISPENSER: Oil or anti-freeze mixtures can be put into autos already making a new dispenser by Artra Aluminum Foundry & Mfg. Co., 16 E. Madison St., Chicago, Mo. A can, placed in the dispenser, can be punctured by squeezing the handle, allowing the contents to flow at controlled rates into the engine.

DOWSER: Dowzers are usually diving rods for locating water. But a "dowser" for locating studs in walls is being produced by Fort Products, Tuckahoe, N. Y. It consists of two balls in a plastic tube. When the dowser is placed against a wall and the wall is hit with a fist, the movement of the balls show whether or not the dowser is over a stud.

CONTAINERS: A new look for milk cans has been devised by Solar-Sturges Mfg. Co., Melrose Park, Ill. The tops of the cans are rounded eliminating the hard-to-clean seams usually found in milk cans. The milk flow is smoother, too.

Hal Boyle's Column

NEW YORK—(AP)—The art of bawling out the hired hands is becoming a lost art in the American business world. In the old days when a boss saw something he didn't like, he'd let out a yell and dress the culprit down on the spot—in burning language more memorable than grammatical.

But today most bosses seem to have lost the gift of tongue-lashing. They have found it cheaper, by and large, to hire a psychiatrist to find out what is the matter with a derelict employee than it is to yell the fellow out himself and end up explaining it to the U. S. Supreme Court.

So many employees know their rights now that an employer is hesitant about pointing out their wrongs.

Therefore, it came as something of a surprise to me to get the following letter:
"Dear Sir:
"I have a problem. My boss bawled me out last week, and I have a feeling he's going to bawl me out again this week. "I would quit and get me another job except it's such a nice place to work. The management even puts gin in the office water cooler. What can I do? It makes me nervous when the boss bawls me out."

Signed A Terrified Young Man

Well, Dear Terrified, your problem was so unusual that I took it up with all the oldtimers I know who can still remember being bawled out by their boss. There are only a few of them left. Here is the summary of their advice:

Build up the drama of the situation. When the summons comes to go see the boss, walk into his office with a look of utter happiness.

Get it? You make him think you have no idea of what is going to happen. He feels like a cat playing with a near-sighted mouse.

As he tees off on your misdeeds, don't make the mistake of listening to him. You already know more about what is wrong with your work than he does. Concentrate on your action. Let the smile fade from your face. Replace it with a grimace.

ment, then horror, then abject hopelessness.
Don't make the mistake of arguing with him about your rights. He wouldn't bawl you out in the first place if he hadn't already consulted a couple of attorneys and the National Labor Relations Board.

And don't interrupt him. Egg him on. If he gets tired of denouncing the faults you have he knows about, tell him a few he hasn't discovered.

As he launches out into a fresh tirade, lift your hanging head and let him see the tears in your eyes. Let the tears fall on his desk—plop-plop-plop.

The main thing is to keep him attacking you as long as possible. Just remember that bosses are like wires—they wear out their temper they feel ashamed of themselves.

When he finally runs down his vocal chords, reach up with one hand and brush away your tears. Reach out the other hand and grab his hand and say: "Thanks, Chief, thanks. I know I'll be a better man for this. Then, as you go out the door, turn and look at the fellow, photo he has on his desk and say: "Gee, Chief, you've got a fine-looking family. Why do you make me cry?"

This will bring out the father in him. After all, isn't the office just one big happy family, too? He will feel so guilty that next week he will probably quietly give you a raise.

In any case he won't bawl you out again. He will be too hoarse.

Washington Letter

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—Mrs. Robert A. Taft, politically acute and witty wife of the Republican presidential aspirant, is no No. One booster and closest confidante. I have a feeling he's going to bawl me out again this week. "I would quit and get me another job except it's such a nice place to work. The management even puts gin in the office water cooler. What can I do? It makes me nervous when the boss bawls me out."

Signed A Terrified Young Man
Well, Dear Terrified, your problem was so unusual that I took it up with all the oldtimers I know who can still remember being bawled out by their boss. There are only a few of them left. Here is the summary of their advice:
Build up the drama of the situation. When the summons comes to go see the boss, walk into his office with a look of utter happiness.

Get it? You make him think you have no idea of what is going to happen. He feels like a cat playing with a near-sighted mouse.

As he tees off on your misdeeds, don't make the mistake of listening to him. You already know more about what is wrong with your work than he does. Concentrate on your action. Let the smile fade from your face. Replace it with a grimace.

ment, then horror, then abject hopelessness.
Don't make the mistake of arguing with him about your rights. He wouldn't bawl you out in the first place if he hadn't already consulted a couple of attorneys and the National Labor Relations Board.

And don't interrupt him. Egg him on. If he gets tired of denouncing the faults you have he knows about, tell him a few he hasn't discovered.

As he launches out into a fresh tirade, lift your hanging head and let him see the tears in your eyes. Let the tears fall on his desk—plop-plop-plop.

The main thing is to keep him attacking you as long as possible. Just remember that bosses are like wires—they wear out their temper they feel ashamed of themselves.

When he finally runs down his vocal chords, reach up with one hand and brush away your

The Sport Reflector

By MELVIN LANG

An inside look at the prospects for the 1953 basketball season at Greenville High School will be available tonight at the National Guard Armory, as the high school Monogram Club is sponsoring a game between the seniors on the 1952 squad and the boys that will make up the roster next year.

Coach Boley Farley and his Green Phantoms enjoyed one of their most successful seasons in recent years during the last school year, going into the finals of the regional playoffs before being eliminated by Washington, eventual runner-up for the state championship. The team had a total of 17 seniors on the squad, all of whom will be gone next year, and the remainder of the 1953 team with the exception of one or two players—are question marks.

Coach Farley is assured of at least one star performer next year, as Smith Worthington is back for another try. Worthington, a lanky forward, led the team in scoring for most of the season and was well on his way toward capturing the individual scoring title in the Northeastern Conference until he became ill and was forced to miss several games. The remainder of the club will be composed of sophomores from this year and boys up from the cracker-jack jayvee squad. Heading this list will be Jimmy Chatham, Doug Morgan, Bobby Conway, Bobby Perry, Pres Fields, Pat Sawyer, Bob Howell, and George Sideris.

Seniors that will play tonight include Joe Rowland, Sid Briley, Sonny Scott, Leon Moore, Wallace Conway, and Fletcher Murray.

Proceeds from the game, which will have a slight admission charge, will go toward the purchasing of new jackets for the members of the Monogram club. Game time is 7:30.

The Pittsburgh Pirates are probably wondering at the present time if Giant hurler Sal Maglie has a special good luck charm when he takes the mound against them. When Maglie shutout the Pirates Monday afternoon, it was the thirteenth straight time that the 35-year-old right-hander had whipped Pittsburgh cold in its tracks.

Pittsburgh need not think that it is alone in this anti-Maglie feeling, however, for through Monday afternoon, the professional barber had recorded a seasonal record of seven wins against no defeats, and a 10-0 record over two years. During the current campaign, he has met and defeated every team in the National League except St. Louis and Chicago. He is also leading the league in strikeouts, with a total of 42 batters fanned. The Bright Belt League game out at Guy Stadium last Saturday night between Greenville and Stantonsburg had just about everything that a baseball fan would like to see—with the possible exception of a no-hitter or a low-scoring contest. Greenville finally outlasted and outwalked Stantonsburg to the tune of 19-9.

Greenville, which has won four of its last seven games in the fast semi-pro loop, sent fourteen men to bat in the second inning to score nine runs. But that was only the beginning of the run, for the Greenies pushed five more runs across the plate in the next three innings to take a 14-0 lead. Greenville pitcher George Porter couldn't take that large a margin, however, and immediately proceeded to issue base on balls right and left. His successors, B. B. Ricks, Johnny McAden, and Johnny Kovalchick, were almost equally as wild, and before the game was over, they had personally accounted for seven of the nine runs scored by Stantonsburg. Five runners came home because of an excessive number of runners on the bases due to walks, one came in on a wild pitch, and another scored on an error by Porter. Stantonsburg did score two runs all by itself—once on a fielder's choice and another on a single.

There were a total of 26 base on balls issued in the game—16 by Greenville and 10 by Stantonsburg. Greenville collected fourteen hits, including a grand slam homer by Simon Hardison, while Stantonsburg needed but seven safeties. Incidentally, the losers also committed seven errors.

It was an entirely different story Sunday afternoon, however, as the same two clubs played one of the best games of the year, with Stantonsburg finally winning 8-3.

The University of Kentucky went a little deeper in the mire of athletic scandals recently when the Southeastern Conference announced that league Commissioner Ernie Moore would investigate the athletic situation at the school.

Kentucky officials had previously asked for the investigation, but conference leaders had not seemed fit to do so. After the trouble at the school steadily increased, Moore was finally instructed to make a detailed study of the events taking place there. Here's hoping he can straighten it out without too much blame being placed on the school.

Kentucky has had an honorable name in big-time athletics for a long time. It would be a shame to see it abolished now.

Junior Golf Tourney Set

GREENSBORO—The 26th annual Carolinas Junior Golf Tournament will be held here on June 9, 10, 11, and 12. It is open to any boy who will not have reached his 19th birthday by July 15th.

Boys of 12 years and older will qualify at 18 holes, and will be placed in Senior Flights of 16 each. The Championship flight will consist of the 32 low qualifiers, from which the 16 losers in the first round of play will make up the Championship Consolation flight. Boys of 11 years and younger will qualify at nine holes and will be placed in Junior Flights of eight each.

Although contestants may qualify over the Greensboro Country Club course any time between the second of June and the opening day of the tourney, the first day of the tournament will be devoted to those boys who have not yet qualified.

First round matches in all flights will get underway on the second day, and will continue from there until the eventual champion is declared in the Senior and Junior divisions. A trophy will be presented to the winner and runner-up in each individual flight.

Interested candidates for the tourney should write to the Greensboro Junior Chamber of Commerce, Carolinas Junior Golf Tournament, 813 Jefferson Building, Greensboro.

Marrero Moves Senators Closer To Idle Cleveland

Washington Edges Browns, 2-0, Behind Four-Hit Pitching Of Cuban; Sain Wins Fourth By Beating Chicago

By CARL LUNDQUIST

United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (UP) — Connie Marrero, who doesn't speak much English, was putting it on his curve ball instead today, and hitters were cursing him in different languages all over the American League.

Washington's cigar-smoking Cuban cutie, who is supposed to be more than 40 years old and hurls all inter in Latin-American competition when other hurlers are resting their aching bones, has been a terrific spring winner for the past two seasons.

His only trouble is that he gets tired when summer comes and he runs out of gas.

But in the early stages he is unbeatable. Last year he won five games in a row before losing on May 25. This year has been a repeat pattern.

Last night, in one of his greatest jobs, he held the St. Louis Browns to four hits in a 4 to 0 victory that put Washington within two games of idle first place Cleveland.

It was his fourth straight, without a defeat.

Marrero was so effective with his curves that he struck out eight batters and all but one of the rest went out on pop ups to the infield or were out stealing.

Marrero himself retired the only St. Louis batter to go out on a ground ball. He walked only two men. The only dark cloud on the horizon is that summer is coming. Last year, after running up an 11-5 record, he faded and didn't score another victory after Aug. 4, being knocked out of the box on his five final appearances.

Last night, with one well-timed rally, the Nats got the runs they needed to top Brownie left-hander Tommy Byrne. They bunched three of their nine hits for both runs in the second inning.

In the only other major league game played, right-hander Johnny Sain of the New York Yankees scored his fourth victory against one defeat, by outlasting the White Sox at Chicago, 4 to 3. He gave up only six hits and just one walk, surviving trouble in the late innings.

The Yankees took a 4 to 0 lead in the first five innings, after which the White Sox came to life but Sain stayed them off and became the first Yankee pitcher to win four games.

Mickey Mantle paced the Yankees at bat with four singles.

The Philadelphia at Detroit and Boston at Cleveland games in the American League were rained out. In the National the Cincinnati at Brooklyn, St. Louis at New York, Chicago at Boston, and Philadelphia at Pittsburgh games were postponed.

64 Women Tee Off In CGA Tournament In Charlotte

CHARLOTTE (AP) — Sixty-four top women golfers from the Carolinas teed off today at the Myers Park Club here in the annual tournament of the Carolinas Women's Golf Association.

Tabbed as the pre-tourney favorites, before match play started this morning, were defending champion Mrs. Jane Crum Covington of Orangeburg, S.C., and Mrs. W. B. Cooke of Charlotte.

Another definite threat is Mrs. Polly Stone of Ware Shoals, S.C., who won medal honors yesterday with a one-under-par 78.

Mrs. Covington and Mrs. Cooke came in with 80's. Miss Ida McDowell of Camden, S.C., was next in line with an 81.

Officers were elected yesterday at a business meeting and the group selected the Charlotte (S.C.) Country Club as the site of the 1953 tournament.

Mrs. Cooke was elected president; Mrs. W. L. Brooks of Charlotte, first vice-president; Mrs. J. D. Pittman of Lancaster, S.C., second vice-president; and Mrs. W. L. Henderson of Charlotte, secretary-treasurer.

The group named Mrs. James Poole of Greensboro Handicap Chairman. The Board of Governors will be composed of Mrs. Covington; Mrs. W. K. Frause of Charleston, S.C.; Miss Minnie Des Champs of Sumter, S.C.; and Mrs. J. Earl Thompson of Charlotte.

The group named Mrs. James Poole of Greensboro Handicap Chairman. The Board of Governors will be composed of Mrs. Covington; Mrs. W. K. Frause of Charleston, S.C.; Miss Minnie Des Champs of Sumter, S.C.; and Mrs. J. Earl Thompson of Charlotte.

LaMotta, who has lost one of 30 starts in Detroit, usually enters the ring as the favorite here. However, the betting public like Hairston at 6-5.

The two Bronx boxers first met March 5 and battled to a 10-round draw. Hairston has been idle since that time while LaMotta pounded out an impressive decision over Norman Hayes of Boston last month.

Mike Miele, manager of the mute Negro puncher, said the rest should help Hairston greatly.

LaMotta, who lost his world's middleweight championship to Ray Robinson more than 14 months ago, has only the victory over Hayes to show for his efforts since he dropped the title.

However, he is confident as ever and credits himself with forcing Hairston's two months layoff.

The bout will be televised nationally at 9:00 p. m. EST.

Howard Brinker, newly appointed end coach and chief cut for the Cleveland Browns in the NFL holds a Masters Degree in Physical Education from Ohio State U.

Steal First? Stanky Does It

NEW YORK (UP)—Eddie Stanky is the only man who steals first base—and gets away with it every time—insists New York Yankee pitcher Bobby Hogue.

"They claim it's impossible to steal first base," snorted the relief ace, "but Stanky does it right under the umpire's nose."

Hogue, who played together with Stanky on the Boston Braves in 1948 and 1949 and opposed him in both National League competition and 1951 World Series since then, says "The Bra's" has the technique down pat.

"He inches up and down in the batters' box," Hogue explained. "He squirms around like an eel. He crouches one minute and gets up on his toes the next. He's all over the place. . . you simply can't pitch to him at all."

Relaxed Stance Is Thomson's Advice

Bobby Thomson, the batter whose home run turned almost certain victory for the Dodgers into a triumph for the Giants in the National League pennant playoff last fall, hopes his sixth year with the Giants will be one of his best. Many experts say it will be his best season.

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor
A year ago Bobby Thomson would be the last person in the major leagues one would talk to about hitting. On June 29 he was in a slump, hitting exactly .220.

But something happened to Thomson from then on. At the suggestion of his roommate, Whitey Lockman, he changed his stance by keeping his feet closer together and went into a crouch. The hits began dropping all over the Polo Grounds and the rest of the National League parks.

When Thomson finished the season—and the Dodgers—he wound up hitting .293, his second best mark in five full campaigns. From July 1 on he was the best batter in baseball. The records show he made 101 hits in 286 trips to the plate for a .353 mark.

Here's what the Giant third baseman says about his new stance and what it does for him:

"You never learn enough about hitting. Get a comfortable position at the plate. Be relaxed. I found that out but almost too late. 'Don't try to copy anyone. They say I am trying to copy Stan Musial. When I first came up they said I stood like Joe DiMaggio. I've copied nobody's stance. I'm up there trying to get hits. But with this crouch I now use I can see the ball better. And with my feet closer together I can follow the ball better. I seem to be able to make my move at the ball at the right time now. I can swing better from the crouch and the shortened spread."

Standings

AMERICAN

Yesterday's Results
Philadelphia at Detroit, ppd, rain
Boston at Cleveland, ppd, rain
Washington 2 St. Louis 0
New York 4 Chicago 3

STANDINGS	W	L	Pct.
Cleveland	20	11	.645
Washington	17	12	.586
Boston	17	13	.567
New York	15	13	.536
St. Louis	16	16	.500
Chicago	14	16	.467
Philadelphia	11	15	.423
Detroit	7	21	.250

Yesterday's Results
Cincinnati at Brooklyn, ppd, rain
Chicago at Boston, ppd, rain
St. Louis at New York, ppd, rain

STANDINGS	W	L	Pct.
Brooklyn	19	7	.731
New York	19	7	.731
Chicago	16	13	.552
Cincinnati	15	13	.536
St. Louis	1	15	.483
Philadelphia	12	15	.444
Boston	11	15	.423
Pittsburgh	5	25	.161

COASTAL PLAIN LEAGUE

	W	L	Pct.
Bern	12	5	.706
on	11	6	.647
oke Rapids	9	6	.600
ton	9	8	.529
ton	8	9	.471
oro	8	10	.444
y Mount	7	10	.412
sboro	4	12	.250

Wilson at Tarboro, ppd, rain
Rocky Mt. at New Bern, ppd, rain
Kinston 9, Roanoke Rapids 3
Edenton at Goldsboro, ppd, rain

Field Completed For PGA Tourney

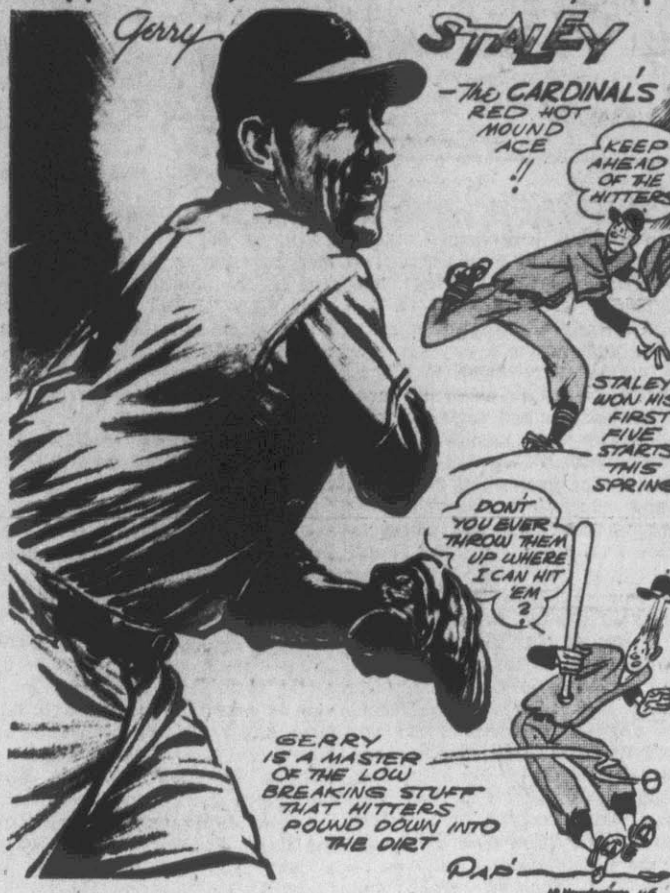

CHICAGO (AP) — The 150-man field for the 1952 Professional Golfers Association tournament at Louisville June 18-24 was complete today with the addition of 104 sectional qualifiers.

PGA headquarters assembled names of the leaders in 30 sectional tournaments and announced that 44-year-old Dick Metz, onetime tourney regular who's been missing recently, had the top score.

Metz, of Arkansas City, Kan., shot 66-66-132 in the Oklahoma sectional meet at Enid. That was one stroke more than Rod Munday of York, Pa., recorded last year for the all-time low qualifying mark, 131.

The 104 sectional qualifiers will join at Louisville 46 well-known tourney stars who were exempted from qualifying play. Qualifying rounds there will knock the total down to 62. These survivors, plus defending Champion Sam Snead, then will enter match play leading to the 1952 crown.

Stopper Staley by Pap

Low Field Appears In Belmont Stakes

NEW YORK (UP) — Horsemen call the Belmont Stakes "the test of the champion" but it appeared today that the June 7 renewal of the mile and a half race may draw the smallest field since the mighty Count Fleet faced only two challengers in 1943.

Although there are no Citations or Count Fleets in this year's crop of three-year-olds to score the others out of the gruelling race, only four of the first five finishers in the Fountains may appear in the 84th running of the Belmont Park feature.

Blue Man, the Prekness winner, is almost certain to be the favorite but his rivals will be few — unless the Peter Pan Handicap at Belmont and the Jersey Handicap at Garden State May 31 turn up additional challengers.

Blue Man, the former pacer which carries the colors of Arthur Abbott's White Oak Stable, was impressive in defeating Max Kahlbauer's Jampol by three-and-a-half lengths in the Prekness.

His come-from-behind style is made for the gruelling Belmont, in which all but the most exceptional speed horses fade in the final quarter of a mile.

Jampol will not run in the Belmont because geldings are not eligible for it. But Mrs. Walter M. Jeffords' One Count, third-in the Prekness, is expected to get a chance to win the third of the triple crown races.

Primrose, the Starmount Stable colt which set the pace midway in the preakness before winding up fourth, probably will be sent after Blue Man again along with Dixiana table's Sub Fleet. Sub Fleet was fifth in the Prekness but was second to Calumet Farm's Hill Gall in the Kentucky Derby.

As in the shorter Kentucky Derby and Prekness, each Belmont starter carries 126 pounds.

Game Postponed

Rain caused the postponement of a Little League game between the Moose and Exchange teams yesterday afternoon at the end of three innings. The Moose, who had lost three previous games, was well on the way toward winning their first game when the rains fell. They led the Exchange, 4-0.

The game will be resumed from the point of play next Monday afternoon at 4 p.m. Another game on the second day will be played between the Moose and Lions.

Greenies Travel To Fremont Today

Action within the semi-pro Bright Belt League today finds three games scheduled. League leading Farmville has a home game with Pinetops, while second place Ormondsville goes to Stantonsburg. Greenville, in fourth place, travels to Fremont.

The standings in the Bright Belt have been moving about in jig-saw fashion within the last two weeks. Ormondsville and Farmville have alternated in holding down first place, while Stantonsburg has given them a good race for second. Greenville is also making a bid to move into the top three.

Saturday will find Greenville at Farmville. Stantonsburg at Fremont and Ormondsville at Pinetops.

Yankee outfielder Hank Bauer, a hero in the final 1951 World Series game, hit his last home run of 1951 in Shibe Park and his first homer of the 1952 campaign in the same ball park.

NCAA Committee Gets Bid From Newberry Team

CHARLOTTE (AP) — Newberry College, sporting a 15-6 season's record, has asked consideration for a position in the four-team NCAA District 3 baseball tournament to be held the week of June 1.

Bob Allen of Charlotte and Coaches Walter Rabb of North Carolina, Happy Campbell of Alabama and Cy Anderson of Tennessee will meet here Saturday morning to make plans for the tournament.

Duke, Southern Conference champion, and Tennessee and Florida, top Southeastern Conference teams, are set as three of the four teams. North Carolina State, runnerup to Duke in last week's tournament, would be the fourth if examinations do not conflict.

With the possibility that State might not accept a bid, Newberry has asked for consideration.

The tournament, a double elimination affair, is tentatively set for June 6-7, but Allen said that any dates of that week may be used. Charlotte, Kannapolis, Concord and Gastonia, are being considered as tournament sites. He added.

The winner will join seven other district champions in the national tournament at Omaha, June 12-16.

LEADERS

MAJOR LEAGUE LEADERS
BY UNITED PRESS
LEADING BATTERS
AMERICAN LEAGUE

Player and Club	B	H	Pct.
Mitchell, Cleveland	75	27	.360
DiMaggio, Boston	99	34	.343
Rizzuto, New York	120	41	.342
Rosen, Cleveland	105	35	.333
Kell, Detroit	102	34	.335

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Player and Club	B	H	Pct.
Robinson, Brooklyn	80	28	.350
Ennis, Philadelphia	113	39	.345
Adcock, Cincinnati	91	31	.341
Baumholtz, Chicago	109	36	.330
Musial, St. Louis	104	34	.327

HOME RUNS

Player and Club	B	H	Pct.
Sauer, Cubs	8
Parko, Dodgers	8
Rosen, Indians	8
Wert, Tigers	7
Mathews, Braves	7

RUNS BATTED IN

Player and Club	B	H	Pct.
Sauer, Cubs	34
Thomson, Giants	28
Kluszewski, Reds	26
Snyder, Dodgers	24
Ennis, Phillies	21
Dropo, Red Sox	21
Rosen, Indians	21

PITCHING

Player and Club	B	H	Pct.
Maglie, Giants	74
Loes, Dodgers	44
Roe, Dodgers	40
Marrero, Senators	40
Jansen, Giants	30
Wilhelm, Giants	30
Shea, Senators	30
Gromek, Indians	30

IMPROVEMENT NOTED

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — During the recent Masters golf tournament the only pro to equal or better his game as he went along was Vic Ghezzi, Inwood, N. Y., pro. Ghezzi's scores were 77-77-76-47. His 304 total, however, was 18 strokes back of Sam Snead, the winner.

PARK & TILFORD
"RESERVE"

PARK & TILFORD
RESERVE
"The finest tasting whiskey of its type in America"

$3.30
4 1/2 QUART

$2.10
PINT

62%
GRAIN NEUTRAL SPIRITS
86 PROOF

RECORDED AND BOTTLED BY PARK & TILFORD DISTILLERS CORPORATION, NEW YORK, N.Y.
WHISKY—A BLEND
86 PROOF
The straight whiskies in this product are 4 years or more old
37% STRAIGHT WHISKIES
62% GRAIN NEUTRAL SPIRITS

PARK & TILFORD DISTILLERS CORP., NEW YORK

SCHENLEY

$2.30

PINT

$8.85 4-5 QUART

BLENDED WHISKY 86 PROOF, 62% GRAIN NEUTRAL SPIRITS

SCHENLEY DISTILLERS, INC., NEW YORK, NEW YORK

BOBBY THOMSON

I've copied nobody's stance. I'm up there trying to get hits. But with this crouch I now use I can see the ball better. And with my feet closer together I can follow the ball better. I seem to be able to make my move at the ball at the right time now. I can swing better from the crouch and the shortened spread.

WANT ADS

Rates 4c per word, minimum charge $1.00 for first insertion of 25 words; two consecutive insertions, $1.75; three insertions, $2.25; four insertions, $2.75; five insertions, $3.25; six insertions, $3.75; Month, $14.00. Display Want Ads, $1.25 per column inch per insertion; one week, $6.75; one month $23.00.

The Daily Reflector will be responsible only for the first incorrect or omitted insertion of any advertisement and then only to the extent of a make-good insertion. Errors which do not lessen the value of the advertisement will not be corrected by make-good insertions.

The publisher reserves the right to revise or reject any copy.

All ads must be received a day ahead of publication date.

East Carolina Roofing Company
Jobs Applied and Financed
CLAUDE B. WEST, Mgr.
Office - Proctor Hotel
Office Phone 5131
Residence Phone 5388

FOR SALE—THE ONE AND ONLY home roll-up aluminum awning. Your choice color, also insulation, weatherstripping and siding. Terms, Phone 2235. C. L. Lupton Co. Your comfort is our business. 8-1 tf

GET YOUR SEED PEANUTS shelled at Keel's Warehouse. We will hand-pick and treat them, the sure way for good stands. We also can furnish selected Va. bunch seed. See us for your needs. Keel Peanut Co. Dial 2244. 4-8-tf

FOR SALE—BOY BEANS, CLEAN, and bagged. 2 bu. bags. Germination guaranteed. Harris and Rogers. Phone 2643. May 15-tf

FOR RENT—TWO BEDROOM NEW brick house unfurnished in good neighborhood. Electric hot water, refrigerator and gas range furnished. $75.00 per month. Prefer party without small children. Immediate occupancy. If interested call 3803. 16-6t

FOR SALE—SEVERAL VARIETIES of soy beans. $3.50 per bushel. Floyd P. Harris, Belvoir, N. C. 16-6t

ATTENTION BUYERS—30% Discount on all sporting goods. This includes baseballs, footballs, basketballs, fishing, hunting and many other sport goods. Pitt Hardware. Dial 3768. 17-12ts

Perfect Protection Plans
Savings and Retirement
OCCIDENTAL LIFE INS. CO.
CLAUDE D. TUNSTALL
General Agent
Dial 2678

WANTED — COMBINATION salesman and collector. Must be able to meet customers and collect. Age 25 to 45. High school education or equivalent in experience. Apply Quinn, Miller and Stroud. 17-3t

WANTED AT ONCE—GENERAL office worker. Five day week. Address replies "General Worker," P.O. Box 408. 17-6t

MOTHERS — WHO WORK OR want a real Will care for your children by the hour, day, or week. While you are on vacation will keep them day and night. While working when your help leaves to work in tobacco! Ages 3 months to 13 years. Enroll your child or children in "Connie's Nursery" for the summer term. Enrollment starts May 19 thru May 24. Enrollments limited. Phone 4108 or drive out to No. 2 Contentnea St. 17-6ts

FOR SALE—A SIX ROOM HOUSE with garage on Colonial Ave. two blocks from Third Street School. Also two bedroom house in same location. Both priced right. Call Hooker & Buchanan, 3612, or Jimmy Brewer, 4488. 16-6t

WANTED—EXPERIENCED BEAUTY operator. Salary plus commission. Pleasant working conditions. Vandy Beauty Shop, Tarboro, N.C. 19-3t

HELP WANTED—MALE AND FEMALE. Watkins dealers make good money all year round. Locality available for man or woman in Greenville. Car necessary. Credit plan available if required. For personal interview write The J. R. Watkins Co., Dept. S-3, Richmond, Va. 19-3t

MULTI-VENT ALUMINUM AWNING, tension screens and iron railings. Cash or terms. Call us for free estimates. Greenville Home Improvement Co. Dial 5178. May 15-1 mo.

THE FINER THINGS OF LIFE include Glaxo plastic type linoleum coating. It ends waxing. Belk-Tyler's 3rd floor. 19-6t

FOR SALE
A nice 3 bedroom 6 room home completely renovated inside and out with Krosky floor oil heat furnace. Lot 60 feet by 114 with trees and shrubs and metal garage. Priced to sell and good terms. Don't miss this if you want a home in front of the college. Immediate possession.

One 5 room brick veneered home newly painted inside, 207 Hillcrest Drive, Hillsdale. Floor heat oil furnace. Financed low rate interest F.H.A. loan. $47.72 per month pays interest, principal, insurance and taxes. Immediate possession.

One two story 3 bedroom 6 room brick veneer home on Rotary Ave. We have other houses and duplex apartments.

If you want to buy or sell contact us.
D. L. TURNAGE, Realtor
L. E. TURNAGE JR., Assistant
21-4t

FOR SALE—ONE NEW SIX ROOM brick house, ready for occupancy; one new 3 bedroom frame house, ready for occupancy. Both in College View. Liberal financing. J. B. Smith Jr., General Ins. Agency, 314 Evans St. Dial 2401. 21-4t

WANTED

Boys age 14 and older to carry The Daily Reflector in Greenville.
Apply Circulation Dept.
Daily Reflector

WE LINE BRAKES, INSTALL points, plugs and mufflers. If you need that kind of service, see us. Howard Allen's Service Station, cor. W. 5th & Greene Sts. Phone 3285. 4-1-tf

FOR SALE—ONE NEW THREE bedroom house on Sunset Ave., Hillsdale Division. Call 2180. Apr. 3-tf

Sure Make It An Emerson's
See Cliff Today!
C. H. EDWARDS HARDWARE

CLIFF SAYS—
Ask for our free demonstration on power and hand lawn mowers.
C. H. EDWARDS HDWE.

WANTED — YOUNG MAN Between ages 18 and 26 years. Draft exempt. High school education preferred for shipping department with national concern. Write P.O. Box 700, Greenville. May 13-tf

FOR SALE—LOT 100x138 ON EDWARDS Street in front of church on Tenth Street extension. Priced $850. Also duplex house in good location for $850. See Jimmy Brewer or call Hooker & Buchanan, 3612 or 4433. 16-6t

GIVE THE HOT FOOT TO ROACHES and ants with new colorless Roach Films. It slaughters 'em. Effective for months. Belk-Tyler's 3rd floor. 19-6t

BEAT IT GIRLS—NOT YOUR rugs to Belk-Tyler's 3rd floor for Fina Foam rug and upholstery cleaner. 19-6t

FOR RENT—NICE COMFORTABLE cottage near Carolina Beach. Accommodations for 10. Not available July 4th. Reasonable rates. J. E. Johnson. Dial 4488 day; night 2610. 19-12ts

CALL US FOR FREE ESTIMATES on applying stain resistant asbestos siding, residence roofing, built up roofing, roof painting. Terms to suit your budget. Goodson Roofing Service, Dial 4322. 5-19 tf

FOR RENT—VERY NICE 4 ROOM furnished apartment in College View section. Dial 5317. 19-3t

FOR SALE—PLANTS, PLANTS, plants. Geraniums, begonias, lantanas, sultanas, scarlet sage, double petunias, coleus, large assortment of plants now on sale at Greenville Floral Co., 313 Colaniche. Phone 2827. 19-3t

FOR RENT
6 Room House — Furnished
Available May 20th
Apply New
GRIER RENTAL AGENCY
Dial 5700 or 5428

BEFORE YOU BUY
SEE
ALUMINUM
The Awning that LASTS A LIFETIME!
Terms — Phone 2235
C. L. Lupton Co.
"Your Comfort Is Our Business"

FOR RENT—SIX ROOM HOUSE with electricity. No running water, in town on bus line. Has garden space. $30 a month. Dial 3276. 21-2t

WANTED—MAN TO WORK IN grocery department and who can also cut meat. Write "Grocer," Box 408, Greenville. 21-8t

FOR RENT—DESIRABLE UNFURNISHED apartments in good neighborhood. Hot water heater furnished and all completely private. Call 3458. 21-2t

TWO LOTS LEFT AT SPECIAL introductory price. Located in Meadowbrook addition. Large lots with water, light and sewer. $300 to $450 on easy terms. Heber Evans St. Dial 2401. 21-4t

FOR SALE—ONE NEW SIX ROOM brick house, ready for occupancy; one new 3 bedroom frame house, ready for occupancy. Both in College View. Liberal financing. J. B. Smith Jr., General Ins. Agency, 314 Evans St. Dial 2401. 21-4t

FOR SALE—ONE NEW SIX ROOM brick house, ready for occupancy; one new 3 bedroom frame house, ready for occupancy. Both in College View. Liberal financing. J. B. Smith Jr., General Ins. Agency, 314 Evans St. Dial 2401. 21-4t

USED CARS

We Have Them
At The
BRIGHT LEAF MOTORS

1600 N. Greene St.
See The Following:

1951 Kaiser Deluxe, Big 6, fully equipped, with low mileage, $1750.

1949 Nash Statesman 4-Door with bed, 24,000 actual miles, one owner car, $1250.

1949 English Ford 2-Door, $495.

1948 Chevrolet 2-door, special deluxe, extra clean, $1050.

1947 Plymouth 4 door, $750.

1947 Oldsmobile 4 door "76" $895.

1946 Nash "600" 4 door, $650.

If you are interested in clean—
Pre-War Cars
We have a wide selection. come see them—at your price.

FOR SALE—SIX ROOM HOUSE weatherstripped and insulated. 207 Pine St. Hillsdale Dial 3192 for appointment. 21-3t

Russell Wright adds another first to his list of famous designs. The all metal curved to fit collapsible chair for indoor or outdoor use, for they have rubber tips to prevent scarring.

New on special at our store for $9.95.
Quinn, Miller & Stroud
Tel. 2636

New Invention! Canal Earphone

Extra hearing power inside the ear, closer to the eardrum, is what the new Tru-Sonic Canal Earphone is giving thousands of hard of hearing users. This new invention is the first and only aid - powered earphone small enough to fit inside the ear and remain inconspicuous. You can try the Canal Earphone in the privacy of your own home and see for yourself how much it helps you hear and how well it hides your deafness. Write The Dahlberg Co., 2736 Lake Street, Minneapolis 16, Minn., for complete information. No obligation whatsoever.

PUERTO RICO POTATO SPROUTS for sale. Blaney Sumrell, Ayden, Rte. 1. Dial 2102, Ayden. 20-3t

FOR QUALITY GROCERIES and prompt delivery call Honeycutt's Market. Phone 3178 or 3174. 20-6t

Crossword Puzzle

ACROSS
1. Move up and down
4. City in Germany
11. Odeur
12. Boring tool
13. Pasture
14. Tint
15. Making wall
16. Lacer
17. Nervous
18. Twitching
19. Spike of corn
21. Golf mound
22. Pertaining to forces at rest
25. Intermittent
27. Negative particle
28. Shipworm
34. Cooking vessel
35. Soak
36. Outer garment
37. Anecdote
41. Adhesives
44. Weakened
45. Allow
47. Animal doctors
48. Secure
49. Gaping
52. Ingratious person
57. Roll of tobacco
58. American general
59. And not
60. Went first

Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle
1. Base of the decimal system
2. Be indebted
3. Oats
4. Call forth
5. Chess piece
6. Wise man
7. Frightened
8. Male swan
9. Puff up
10. Short letters
11. Large woody plants
12. Ignited
13. Mountain crests
14. Slight swallow
15. Also
16. Cherry color
17. Bovine
18. Thing: law
19. Field a season
20. Creeping
21. Grow old
22. Legume
23. Return
24. Annoyed by
25. Location
26. Tentative of the sea
27. Elevated platform
28. By
29. Cultivate
30. Mosaic
31. Even
32. Pedal digit
33. Sea eagle

Refuse To Allow Beauty Contest

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (UP) — The Bureau of Licenses refused today to permit a "Miss Rhode Island of 1952" contest to be held because church leaders feared it might tend "to corrupt the morals of youth."

Bureau Chairman Joseph Scuncio said the state's beauties could not appear in bathing suits or evening gowns because "they'll never have a burlesque show in Providence. There hasn't been one in 18 years."

HAVE YOUR HEATING SYSTEM cleaned the only way. We will soon start operating our BIG BAG vacuum cleaner. Cleans furnaces, boiler, smokepipe and chimney in one operation. Call now and let us schedule your job. General Heating & Air Conditioning Co. Tel. 3561. May 21-1 mo.

FOR SALE—COTTAGE ON Pamlico River at River Acres. Three miles below Washington. Paved road. Completely furnished including new refrigerator, gas stove, porch and yard furniture. Sandy beach. Pier for boating or bathing. An opportunity to obtain a bargain before the season begins. L. A. Squires, Washington, N. C. Telephone 467 and 780-W. 20-5t

FOR SALE—NEW MULTI-PURPOSE projector for filmstrips and 2x2 slides on sale with filmstrips at Christian Literature Depot (Trailer) 516 Dickinson Ave., Greenville, N.C. May 20-1 mo.

FOR SALE—FISHING AND HUNTING camp on North Creek overlooking Pamlico River. Beautiful spot. Electric lights, artesian well, completely furnished 4 room cottage, gas stove, electric refrigerator. 5 acres more or less. Priced for quick sale. Ollie F. Clark, Bayview, at Slade's Store. Phone 373. 20-2t

RIVER FRONT FURNISHED cottage for sale with two extra lots. Ollie F. Clark, Bayview, at Slade's Store. Phone 373. 20-2t

RIVER FRONT COTTAGE FURNISHED completely with hot water and 8 rooms. Plenty of shade. Ollie F. Clark, Bayview, at Slade's Store. Phone 373. 20-2t

ARE YOU FED-UP WITH THE set-up? Does your liver quiver? What you need is a spring tonic. Try Ricks Service Center for a new spring cleaning job. 5-20 tf

SALE ON FLOWER PLANTS THIS week—Scarlet Sage, dozen, 45c; shasta daisies, snapdragon, carnation, feverfew, midget blue ageratum, yellow cheiranthus and alyssum, 30c doz.; mixed petunias, 25c doz.; complete mixture $2.50 hundred. Blooming sweepstakes. Mrs. Ina Whitchard, two miles from river bridge on Bethel Highway. Look on right for Whitchard mail box or call 3802-7. 20-2t

FOR RENT—TWO ROOM DOWNSTAIRS furnished apartment with private bath. Close in. Reasonable. Dial 4251. 20-2t

FOR SALE—LOT ON MYRTLE Avenue. Dial 4726 after Friday or 4001 at night during this week. 20-5t

FOR SALE TO HIGHEST BIDDER One 1951 Penn-Yan 14' x 56' x 36" best and 1951 model Mercury Super 10 hp outboard motor. If interested submit written bid P. O. Box 282, Greenville, N. C. 20-6t

FOR SALE—8 CU. FT. ELECTRIC refrigerator. In good condition. Phone 2885. 20-2t

EXPERT RUG CLEANING—WE shampoo rugs, carpets, upholstery. Mothproofing service. Pickup and delivery service. All work guaranteed. Let us help you with your spring cleaning. For expert service, years of experience, it's Forbes Rug-Upholstery Cleaning, 1006 Myrtle Ave., Greenville, N. C. Phone 5510. 20-3t

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE NORTH CAROLINA

PITTS COUNTY
Having qualified as administrator of the estate of E. H. Taft Sr., deceased, late of Pitts County, North Carolina, this is to notify all persons having claims against the estate of said deceased to exhibit them to the undersigned at Greenville, North Carolina, on or before the 20th day of May, 1952, or this notice will be pleaded in bar of their recovery. All persons indebted to said estate will please make immediate payment. This 21st day of May, 1952.
Joseph M. Taft, Administrator of E. H. Taft Sr. Estate
Blount & Taft, Attys.
May 21-28 June 4-11-18-25

Now She Regrets Locking Up Dog

NEW YORK (UP)—A Brooklyn housewife regretted today that she locked her ill-tempered chow, Nero, in the back yard because the man who came "to inspect the gas meter" said he was afraid of dogs.

Mrs. Vicki Freedman said the self-styled meter reader turned out to be an impostor who took $50 from her piggy bank at pistol point.

LIBYA FIGHTS TYPHUS

TRIPOLI, Libya — (AP) — The Libyan health ministry is fighting a widespread typhus fever outbreak. More than 80 cases were reported in a four-week period in Cyrenaica in districts as far apart as Agedabia and Tobruk.

FOR SALE—COTTAGE ON Pamlico River at River Acres. Three miles below Washington. Paved road. Completely furnished including new refrigerator, gas stove, porch and yard furniture. Sandy beach. Pier for boating or bathing. An opportunity to obtain a bargain before the season begins. L. A. Squires, Washington, N. C. Telephone 467 and 780-W. 20-5t

FOR SALE—NEW MULTI-PURPOSE projector for filmstrips and 2x2 slides on sale with filmstrips at Christian Literature Depot (Trailer) 516 Dickinson Ave., Greenville, N.C. May 20-1 mo.

FOR SALE—FISHING AND HUNTING camp on North Creek overlooking Pamlico River. Beautiful spot. Electric lights, artesian well, completely furnished 4 room cottage, gas stove, electric refrigerator. 5 acres more or less. Priced for quick sale. Ollie F. Clark, Bayview, at Slade's Store. Phone 373. 20-2t

RIVER FRONT FURNISHED cottage for sale with two extra lots. Ollie F. Clark, Bayview, at Slade's Store. Phone 373. 20-2t

RIVER FRONT COTTAGE FURNISHED completely with hot water and 8 rooms. Plenty of shade. Ollie F. Clark, Bayview, at Slade's Store. Phone 373. 20-2t

ARE YOU FED-UP WITH THE set-up? Does your liver quiver? What you need is a spring tonic. Try Ricks Service Center for a new spring cleaning job. 5-20 tf

SALE ON FLOWER PLANTS THIS week—Scarlet Sage, dozen, 45c; shasta daisies, snapdragon, carnation, feverfew, midget blue ageratum, yellow cheiranthus and alyssum, 30c doz.; mixed petunias, 25c doz.; complete mixture $2.50 hundred. Blooming sweepstakes. Mrs. Ina Whitchard, two miles from river bridge on Bethel Highway. Look on right for Whitchard mail box or call 3802-7. 20-2t

FOR RENT—TWO ROOM DOWNSTAIRS furnished apartment with private bath. Close in. Reasonable. Dial 4251. 20-2t

FOR SALE—LOT ON MYRTLE Avenue. Dial 4726 after Friday or 4001 at night during this week. 20-5t

FOR SALE TO HIGHEST BIDDER One 1951 Penn-Yan 14' x 56' x 36" best and 1951 model Mercury Super 10 hp outboard motor. If interested submit written bid P. O. Box 282, Greenville, N. C. 20-6t

FOR SALE—8 CU. FT. ELECTRIC refrigerator. In good condition. Phone 2885. 20-2t

EXPERT RUG CLEANING—WE shampoo rugs, carpets, upholstery. Mothproofing service. Pickup and delivery service. All work guaranteed. Let us help you with your spring cleaning. For expert service, years of experience, it's Forbes Rug-Upholstery Cleaning, 1006 Myrtle Ave., Greenville, N. C. Phone 5510. 20-3t

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE NORTH CAROLINA

PITTS COUNTY
Having qualified as administrator of the estate of E. H. Taft Sr., deceased, late of Pitts County, North Carolina, this is to notify all persons having claims against the estate of said deceased to exhibit them to the undersigned at Greenville, North Carolina, on or before the 20th day of May, 1952, or this notice will be pleaded in bar of their recovery. All persons indebted to said estate will please make immediate payment. This 21st day of May, 1952.
Joseph M. Taft, Administrator of E. H. Taft Sr. Estate
Blount & Taft, Attys.
May 21-28 June 4-11-18-25

Colored News

The Duchesses Organize
The Duchesses, a club of young ladies, was organized January 31, 1952. The purpose of this organization is social and to give a graduate of C. M. Epps High School a scholarship, in order to encourage the young people of Greenville to go further in life and seek a higher education. Someday in the near future the Duchesses hope to be able to help not only one boy or girl, but many boys and girls to aim and, if possible, to reach the highest goal.

The members of the Duchesses are: Miss E. L. Brown, Mrs. J. W. Boulevard, Mrs. A. B. Corbett, Mrs. W. B. Davis, Mrs. E. C. Hagans, Mrs. L. M. Knight, Mrs. M. L. Mallory and Mrs. M. F. Mobley.

THE MODERNETTES SOCIAL CLUB

The Modernettes Social Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Odell Belcher on Battle St. at 8 o'clock. The Modernettes honored Mrs. Iris Coburn with a "baby shower" at the home of the president, Mrs. Blanche Norcott, Sunday, May 18. A large crowd attended.

The Ladies Social Sorority Club will meet tonight at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Novella Hopkins, 1704 W. 4th St.

FRUIT YIELDS PROFITS
BELGRADE — (AP) — Plums and grapes pump profits into Yugoslavia's treasury.

The two crops accounted for approximately $1,300,000 of this country's export trade last year. Yugoslavia has approximately 50 million fruit-bearing plum trees.

The first Christian Science church was built in 1905 to seat 1,000 people, but an extension built in 1920 enlarged seating capacity to 5,000.

PARIS — (AP) — Twenty-five years ago on May 21, 1927—Charles Lindbergh landed at Le Bourget Airport outside Paris from New York.

Lindbergh was the first to fly solo non-stop from New York to Paris, and that made history. He flew a high-wing Ryan monoplane which carried 430 gallons of gasoline and weighed 2 1/2 tons when loaded. He had a 22-horsepower radial aircooled motor and flew at about 130 miles an hour as his gas load lightened.

PARIS — (AP) — Twenty-five years ago on May 21, 1927—Charles Lindbergh landed at Le Bourget Airport outside Paris from New York.

Lindbergh was the first to fly solo non-stop from New York to Paris, and that made history. He flew a high-wing Ryan monoplane which carried 430 gallons of gasoline and weighed 2 1/2 tons when loaded. He had a 22-horsepower radial aircooled motor and flew at about 130 miles an hour as his gas load lightened.

PARIS — (AP) — Twenty-five years ago on May 21, 1927—Charles Lindbergh landed at Le Bourget Airport outside Paris from New York.

Lindbergh was the first to fly solo non-stop from New York to Paris, and that made history. He flew a high-wing Ryan monoplane which carried 430 gallons of gasoline and weighed 2 1/2 tons when loaded. He had a 22-horsepower radial aircooled motor and flew at about 130 miles an hour as his gas load lightened.

PARIS — (AP) — Twenty-five years ago on May 21, 1927—Charles Lindbergh landed at Le Bourget Airport outside Paris from New York.

Lindbergh was the first to fly solo non-stop from New York to Paris, and that made history. He flew a high-wing Ryan monoplane which carried 430 gallons of gasoline and weighed 2 1/2 tons when loaded. He had a 22-horsepower radial aircooled motor and flew at about 130 miles an hour as his gas load lightened.

PARIS — (AP) — Twenty-five years ago on May 21, 1927—Charles Lindbergh landed at Le Bourget Airport outside Paris from New York.

Lindbergh was the first to fly solo non-stop from New York to Paris, and that made history. He flew a high-wing Ryan monoplane which carried 430 gallons of gasoline and weighed 2 1/2 tons when loaded. He had a 22-horsepower radial aircooled motor and flew at about 130 miles an hour as his gas load lightened.

PARIS — (AP) — Twenty-five years ago on May 21, 1927—Charles Lindbergh landed at Le Bourget Airport outside Paris from New York.

Lindbergh was the first to fly solo non-stop from New York to Paris, and that made history. He flew a high-wing Ryan monoplane which carried 430 gallons of gasoline and weighed 2 1/2 tons when loaded. He had a 22-horsepower radial aircooled motor and flew at about 130 miles an hour as his gas load lightened.

PARIS — (AP) — Twenty-five years ago on May 21, 1927—Charles Lindbergh landed at Le Bourget Airport outside Paris from New York.

Lindbergh was the first to fly solo non-stop from New York to Paris, and that made history. He flew a high-wing Ryan monoplane which carried 430 gallons of gasoline and weighed 2 1/2 tons when loaded. He had a 22-horsepower radial aircooled motor and flew at about 130 miles an hour as his gas load lightened.

PARIS — (AP) — Twenty-five years ago on May 21, 1927—Charles Lindbergh landed at Le Bourget Airport outside Paris from New York.

Lindbergh was the first to fly solo non-stop from New York to Paris, and that made history. He flew a high-wing Ryan monoplane which carried 430 gallons of gasoline and weighed 2 1/2 tons when loaded. He had a 22-horsepower radial aircooled motor and flew at about 130 miles an hour as his gas load lightened.

PARIS — (AP) — Twenty-five years ago on May 21, 1927—Charles Lindbergh landed at Le Bourget Airport outside Paris from New York.

Lindbergh was the first to fly solo non-stop from New York to Paris, and that made history. He flew a high-wing Ryan monoplane which carried 430 gallons of gasoline and weighed 2 1/2 tons when loaded. He had a 22-horsepower radial aircooled motor and flew at about 130 miles an hour as his gas load lightened.

PARIS — (AP) — Twenty-five years ago on May 21, 1927—Charles Lindbergh landed at Le Bourget Airport outside Paris from New York.

Lindbergh was the first to fly solo non-stop from New York to Paris, and that made history. He flew a high-wing Ryan monoplane which carried 430 gallons of gasoline and weighed 2 1/2 tons when loaded. He had a 22-horsepower radial aircooled motor and flew at about 130 miles an hour as his gas load lightened.

PARIS — (AP) — Twenty-five years ago on May 21, 1927—Charles Lindbergh landed at Le Bourget Airport outside Paris from New York.

Lindbergh was the first to fly solo non-stop from New York to Paris, and that made history. He flew a high-wing Ryan monoplane which carried 430 gallons of gasoline and weighed 2 1/2 tons when loaded. He had a 22-horsepower radial

Stocks And Market Reports

NEW YORK (UP) — Stocks advanced fractionally around mid-session today in moderately active dealings.

All sections joined in modest up-av-aging which was an extension of yesterday's advance.

Law - priced issues dominated dealings with a few large blocks changing hands. In particular, Packard was active with one block of 32,300 shares changing hands at 4-7-8, up 1-8.

Froedter Corp. was a bright spot. The company is a leading manufacturer of rails for beer.

Amerasia Petroleum led its group upward. The issue rose three points to 210. Other phobias in this section tacked on fractional gains.

Douglas Aircraft paced its group with a gain of 1-3-4 points to 87-1-4. Lockheed Aircraft firmed.

Steel shares generally held around their previous close. Chrysler and General Motors tacked on small gains. Rails also firmed.

NEW YORK (UP) — 3:00 PM

Stock	Price
American Can	38 1/2
American car & F	36 1/2
American T & T	154 1/2
American Tobacco	42
Atlantic Coast Line	97 1/2
Baltimore & Ohio	23 1/2
Bendix Aviation	47 1/2
Bethlehem Steel	48
Boeing Aircraft	48
Borden	51 1/2
Briggs Mfg	34 1/2
Chesapeake & Ohio	38
Chrysler	75 1/2
Coca-Cola	108 1/2
Colgate-P-P	42
Continental Can	46 1/2
Corn Products	68 1/2
Curtis-Wright	77 1/2
Douglas Aircraft	86 1/2
DuPont	84 1/2
Eastern Air	23 1/2
Eastman Kodak	43 1/2
General Electric	56 1/2
General Motors	84 1/2
Goodrich	61
Goodyear	41 1/2
Gulf Oil	51 1/2
International Harvester	33 1/2
International Nickel	41 1/2
Johns-Manville	73 1/2
Kennecott	75 1/2
Liggett & Myers	63
Lorillard	21 1/2
Monsanto	94 1/2
ackard	34 1/2
Paramount Pictures	30 1/2
Pennay	66
Pepsi-Cola	10
Philly Morris	48 1/2
Reynolds Tobacco	34 1/2
Seaboard Airline	90 1/2
Sears Roebuck	58
Southern Railway	56 1/2
Standard Oil (NJ)	76 1/2
Studebaker	38
Union Carbide	61 1/2
U S Pipe & F	34 1/2
U S Rubber	38
U S Steel	34 1/2
Warner Bros	13 1/2
Western Union	29 1/2
Westinghouse Air Bke	25 1/2
Westinghouse Electric	36 1/2
Woolworth	44 1/2

FOR GOVERNOR

Wm. B. Umstead
Tune In
WGTC
Thursday Nite
DON'T MISS IT

Make Do

AP Newfeatures
A GALVANIZED household paint, set aside for decorating use, makes any paint job easier and neater. It eliminates pattering when stirring and mixing paint. A wire across the top makes it easy to wipe excess paint from the brush. After the job is done, rinse the paint with turpentine, rub clean with newspapers and store for the next paint task.

Warehousemen Urge Big Cut In '53 Tobacco Quotas

PINEHURST, N. C. — (AP) — The Bright Belt Warehouse Association has called for a 20 per cent reduction in the 1953 flu-cured tobacco quota.

The action was taken yesterday by some 300 warehousemen attending the association's eighth annual convention here. The three-day meeting concludes today.

The warehousemen from the five states growing the cigarette type leaf unanimously adopted a resolution calling for the cut "in the best interests of the growers, the Stabilization Corporation and the tobacco industry as a whole."

Fred S. Royster of Henderson, who was re-elected president of the association yesterday, recommended the action in his report Monday to the convention.

The association also followed Royster's suggestion in another resolution which called for sufficient grading and buyer personnel "to enable markets in North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia to operate simultaneously in those heavy or emergency periods which occur in parts of September and October."

In proposing the cut in the 1953 crop quota, the warehousemen pointed out that more than adequate reserve stocks have been built up over the last two years.

The quotas will be announced around early July. Once they are announced they may not be reduced, but may be increased. The resolution recommended that the secretary of agriculture follow a policy of not changing the quotas in excess of 10 per cent from one year to another.

In a third resolution, the association supported North Carolina's "Nickels For Know How" program for agricultural research.

Two tobacco experts told the warehousemen the United States will have to import more foreign goods from dollar-short nations if the tobacco program is to be retained.

Present tobacco stocks are 10 to 15 per cent above anticipated domestic and foreign requirements, said James E. Thigpen, director of the tobacco branch of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

M. A. Morgan, director of field service for Tobacco Associates, Inc., said that almost 40 per cent of last year's 750-million-dollar crop went into overseas trade. He suggested that groups with an interest in tobacco for an organization "to assist the foreign countries which use our tobacco in earning more dollar exchange from increased sale of their merchandise in the United States."

Building Permits

Preston Corey, W. 4th St., between Sycamore & Cedar, 1 dwg.
J. T. Dupree, Maple St., between 5th & 10th, 1 dwg.
J. A. Collins & Son, Clark St., between Bonners Lane & Dickinson Ave., com.
Sid Skinner, Spruce St., between Pine & Pamlico, com.
Home Builders & Sup. Wilson St., between Chestnut & Dickinson Ave., storage.
Albert L. Williamson, West 3rd St., between White & Tyson, dwg.
I. H. Morris Jr., 10th St. Ext., garage apt.
Chas. Butts Jr., Third St., between Birch & Cem. Rd., dwg.
Chas. V. Wilkerson, Rock Spring Dr., between 10th & 14th, dwg.
R. R. Forrest, Boyd Ave., between Spruce & Myrtle, com.
Pitt F.C.X., Bancroft Ave., between Chestnut & N.S.R.R. com.
J. P. Stokes, Tucker Circle, between Dickinson Ave. & Hooker Rd., dwg.
B. L. Stokes, Tucker Circle, between Dickinson Ave. & Hooker Rd., dwg.
Wardell Eason, Tucker Circle, between Dickinson Ave. & Hooker Rd., dwg.
Henry Freeman, Colonial Ave., between Cadillac & River
R. M. Lard, Summit St., between A & River, dwg.
Jolly & Picklen, Woodlawn Ave. (Kimhurst), dwg.
Grant Bell & Lance Wooten, Bonners Lane, between Pamlico & Al-bemarle, store.

Wrong-Way Car Gets Blessing

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. (UP) — Policeman Robert Schaefer stopped motorist Charles Schultz yesterday to give him a ticket for driving the wrong way on a one-way street.

"My car is on fire and I'm heading for the fire station," Schultz said.

"Take off," Schaefer said and Schultz drove to the firehouse four blocks away.

Two Thrilling Days — THURSDAY & FRIDAY

ALEXANDER DUMAS' FAMOUS NOVEL

TRAPPED!
in a mask... that he made for another!

EDWARD SMALL presents
The MAN with the IRON MASK with LOUIS HAYWARD
JOAN BENNETT

COLONY
Ends Tonight — "TWO TICKETS TO BROADWAY"

Bootleggers Enjoy Big Boom Helped By Taxes

WASHINGTON (UP) — Bootleggers are having their biggest boom in 10 years—thanks to high whisky taxes and friction between federal and state enforcement authorities.

In the nine-month period which ended March 31, federal agents seized about 8,000 stills throughout the country, ranging from crude "ground hog" stills operated in backwoods areas to 1,000-gallon outfits set up in or near some of the biggest cities. Their combined capacity was well over 300,000 gallons a day, or an average of 40 gallons per still.

The liquor industry reports that state and local authorities raided an equal number of outlaw stills in the same period, bringing the total seizures to about 16,000. Since the seizure rate has been climbing steadily in recent months, it is expected that the figure for the fiscal year ending June 30 will reach a 10-year high of more than 20,000 stills.

On the basis of Treasury estimates that each still operates for an average of 37 days before it is located and raided, the known moonshine production for this fiscal year should run around 30,000,000 gallons. With federal excise taxes at $10.50 a gallon, that represents a $315,000,000 loss. And industry experts claim that only one moonshiner in six gets caught.

Since Congress raised federal excise taxes on whisky from $6 to $10.50 a gallon last year, the moonshiner's profit margin is bigger today than at any time since repeal. Coupled with state taxes averaging $1.66 a gallon, the federal tariff gives the outlaw booze peddler a margin of $2.43 a fifth on his wares.

In addition to the tax loss, the bootlegger presents a major public safety problem as was demonstrated tragically in Atlanta last fall, when 41 persons died and 81 others were sickened after drinking "white lightning."

Sixty Pitt . . .

(Continued From Page One)
Kilpatrick, T. G. Worthington and Frank Hart; Beaver Dam — Bruce Strickland and P. S. Rasberry, Belvoir—Carl Scott; and Bethel—D. T. House, Jr., S. C. Ives, C. W. Everett, Z. V. Bunting, Walter C. Whitehurst, J. P. Hooker, W. C. Whitehurst and W. J. Smith.

Carolina—William C. Nelson and Gordon Roebuck; Chicod No. 1—Leslie Elks and R. L. Little; Chicod No. 2—Uran Cox, S. T. Porter, Dal Cox and Mrs. Grover Smith; Chicod No. 3—R. P. Gaskins and O. L. James; Chicod No. 4—F. V. Gaskins, Ben Forrest, Prince Mills and Roy Dixon; Falkland—Walter Britt, T. K. Fountain, Garland Leonard, and Woodrow Wooten; Farmville — George W. Davis, J. M. Paylor, Mrs. G. A. Rouse, Walter Jones, Mrs. Blair Wheelers, Paul E. Jones, J. W. Joyner, John Lewis, Lath Morris, Horton Rountree, M. W. Horton, Jr., and W. B. Rasberry; and Fountain — G. E. Trevelath, W. R. Harris, C. B. Phillips and J. A. Moore.

Grifton—M. B. Hodges, S. E. Nelson, T. J. Williams, W. C. Chauncey, R. L. Collins and W. A. Evans; Greenville No. 1 — Arthur B. Andrews; Greenville No. 2—J. B. Spliman, Dr. Kathryn Stokes, Jack Spain, Arthur Tripp, Badger Johnson, John Clark, Dr. J. D. Messick, R. W. Tyson, Mrs. Chester Wadell, Dalton Higgins, and H. L. Jenkins; Greenville No. 3 — Frank Wooten, Jr., Graham Planagan, J. N. Williams and J. H. Blount; Greenville No. 4—Mrs. B. L. Tyson and L. M. Buchanan.

Greenville No. 5—J. F. Arthur, F. F. Hendrix, George Hadley, Robert Lee Humber, Bob Wechter, S. L. Bridges and Mrs. Henry Martin; Greenville No. 6—James Evans, Sam Worthington, Charles Gaskins, Dink James, J. H. Harrell, E. L. Henderson, and Gilbert Peel; Greenville No. 7 — W. K. Stokes, S. T. Hardie, James Lewis Hardy and Herman Sutton; Pactolus—G. E. Cherry and Noel Lee; Swift Creek—W. C. Nelson, Marvin Coward, Arthur Williams, John Buck, Jamie Wilson and M. K. Smith.

Winterville—J. M. Mobley, Rommie Mallison, Vernon Cox, Brantley Speight, L. H. Ellis and Ray Oglesby.

Six delegates-at-large were elected from the floor. They are Sam B. Underwood, Jr., W. I. Bissette, George Cox, Harry Stillman, C. W. Everett and T. C. Turnage.

Some types of fish found in Rocky Mountain fossils resemble kinds now found in waters of the southern hemisphere.

Farmville News

Mr. Matthew Dail is at Duke Hospital in Durham.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Corbett and daughter, Phyllis, visited Mrs. Garland Duke of Kinston Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Newton and family spent the day Sunday with Mr. Newton's father of Fountain.

Rev. Z. B. T. Cox went to Wilson Monday to visit with Mrs. R. K. Pippin who is in the Melchior Clinic. Mrs. J. B. Taylor accompanied Mrs. Pippin to the hospital and is staying with her.

Mrs. Albert Jones was visiting her daughter, Mrs. James Mountcastle of Weldon last week and on Friday night Mrs. Jones fell while coming down stair steps in the home and broke her hip. She was taken to the Roanoke Rapids hospital and is reported as doing as well as could be expected.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Cayton were Greenville visitors Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Johnson, Mrs. William Weatherford of Rocky Mount, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gray of Robersonville, and Miss Willie Johnson of Richmond visited Mrs. Albert Jones Sunday at the Roanoke Rapids Hospital in Roanoke Rapids. The many friends of Mrs. Garland Duke of Kinston will regret to learn that she is the same.

Girl Scouts Entertain

Troop I of the Girl Scouts entertained Saturday afternoon honoring their mothers and friends.

The purpose for open house was to show the mothers some thing of the work and progress the Scouts had made the previous year.

The mothers were greeted at the door by Jackie Nolan, Henrietta Johnson, Martha Faye Allen, and Eleanor Glenn Newton and were directed to the different exhibits for getting badges: Patsy Roberts, safety and dance; "My Troop"; and signing by Linda Corbett; hostesses training by Hadley Morgan; first aid by Linda Mewborn; art by Ann Francis. Second class badge by Brenda Barrett.

Pat Joyner served fruit punch from an appointed table covered with a white cloth centered with an arrangement of pink roses and crystal candleholders with pink tapers. Cookies, salted nuts and pickles were served buffet style. The hut was decorated with spring flowers and fancy dolls.

Chaperones were Mrs. Edgar Barrett and Mrs. Mark W. Joyner.

Colored News

The Matron's Social Club will meet tonight at 8:00 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Mary Brewington on South Pitt Street.

There will be an F.T.A. membership meeting Thursday night, May 22, at 8 o'clock at the union hall, 305 W. 14th St. It is important that all members be there and on time.

Mrs. Annie Evans of Winterville died in Pitt Memorial Hospital Tuesday morning. Funeral services will be Friday at 2 p.m. at White Oak Baptist Church, Grimesland, with Rev. C. C. Staton officiating. Surviving are her husband, Rev. H. B. Evans; two sons, Lyman Hardy of Grimesland and Freddie Hardy of Greensboro; two grandchildren, two sisters, one brother and other relatives.

Burial will follow in the White Oak Church cemetery.

The U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service says fur-seal work in the Pribilof Islands has netted $11,500,000 since the government took over conservation of the seals in 1910.

Sell $500 Worth Of Paper Napkins

Members of the Greenville Exchange Club sold 1500 bundles of five-package napkins at a dollar each during a canvass of homes here last night.

The Exchange Club's napkin selling project is to raise money with which to buy an audiometer, a device for testing hearing. The instrument will be used to test the hearing of children in Greenville and county schools. President Bill Riggins said school and health authorities say many children who are backward in school have defective hearing. Routine examining and testing will result in better work by Club plans to donate the audiometer to the schools.

Members will meet at Garner-Wynne-Manning's warehouse at West End Circle this afternoon to plan for winding up the campaign tonight.

Housewives who were missed last night are requested to telephone 4272 between 6:30 and 9:30 tonight.

New Art Form Is Helping Therapy

LOS ANGELES — (UP) — A comparatively new art, cibissopal painting, is helping many hospitalized war veterans and other patients to regain the use of atrophied muscles.

Cibissopal painting was invented by Vera Arnold, a University of Southern California instructor and is a required course of study in the school's occupational therapy department.

It requires only a few ordinary tools, including a ball pen hammer, pliers, diagonal cutters and a few pieces of emery paper, but its value to semi-paralyzed patients is great.

The basis of the art is a soft, clay-like paint, plastic-glass which comes in colors and hardens quickly to a stone-like finish without firing.

First a sketch is made on a variety of materials, such as leather, glass, scrap metal, paper mache, copper or silver. Then small wires are cut and shaped to fit the contour of the lines and fastened to the material.

The spaces are filled in with plastic-glass and built up to the thickness of the wire. After the plastic-glass dries, the finished piece is sanded to the smoothness of the glass.

Prof. Margaret Rood, head of USC's department of occupational therapy, said the new art is helping patients to learn co-ordination and strengthening of their weakened muscles, as well as giving new incentives to many bedridden persons.

Many veterans who would shy at painting are attracted to cibissopal art because it involves tools, she said. While they work, weak fingers are exercised, atrophied muscles become stronger and the patient develops a skill.

REGRETS IMPULSE
MINEOLA, N. Y. (UP) — An unemployed salesman regretted today that he tried to get a job on the Hempstead police force. Thomas Gruder, 27, was fingerprinted when he applied for the position. The FBI said the prints revealed he was wanted in Flagstaff, Ariz., on charges of passing worthless checks.

STATE TODAY THURSDAY

OZZIE and HARRIET
DAVID and RICKY
HERE COME the NELSONS
Starring ROCK HUDSON with BARBARA LAWRENCE

Capitol Square

(Continued from Page Four)

Thad Eure's money for gasoline and oil and an undetermined number of dollars from other travelers as result of spreading the little story. What if there was "an arrangement" between the motor court and the service station. It was still a nice gesture on part of everybody involved, adding further proof to the already established fact that little courtesies pay big dividends.

PERSONAL — There is another side to that story, emphasizing the fact that business may be cold-blooded but courtesy is warmly personal. The particular service station happened to sell Gulf products—but none of the passengers in Eure's car remembered that or cared about it. Big Gulf didn't need the few dimes profit derived from the sale of gasoline. It would not have added much to Esso, Texaco, Shell, Sinclair or any of the other big outfits. Point of the story is this: The operator of that particular service station was a "nice guy" who, got some extra business not because of the label on his signboard, but because he had gone out of his way to do a little service to an unknown stranger who from now on is a friendly customer.

Wholesale Food Prices In Rise

NEW YORK (AP)—Wholesale food prices this week made their sharpest rise since December of 1950, according to the Dun & Bradstreet's food index.

The index rose to $6.48 from $6.38 last week and was at the highest level since mid-March. It was 9.6 per cent below the year-ago index of $7.17 however.

There were increases of like amount in December, 1950, but the index hadn't gained more in a single week since the period shortly after the outbreak of the Korean War when scare buying drove wholesale food prices up spectacularly.

Term Lightened For Girl In Jail

By CHESTER WALSH

Ruby Lee Boyd, 17-year-old Negro, 801 Fleming Street, who required three Greenville policemen and two military MPs and the city jailer to arrest her on an assault with a deadly weapon charge, had her sentence reduced today.

She will have to serve only six months in Pitt County jail. In Police Court on May 12, Judge Charles H. Whedbee found her guilty of assaulting with a deadly weapon (an icepick) Minnie Anderson, Negro. He also found her guilty of resisting arrest and assaulting Police Lt. W. E. Peterson.

The court sentenced her to 12 months in the women's division of State Prison. It also found her guilty of resisting arrest and gave her one month in prison. The court also found her guilty of assaulting Police Lt. W. E. Peterson, and gave her 12 months, to be served concurrently with the other two.

State Prison authorities in Raleigh declined to accept Ruby Lee Boyd as a prisoner because she was not quite 18 years old. She was brought back here to the county jail. Today Judge Whedbee reopened the case and combined the sentences and gave her six months in the county jail, and she is not to violate any law for two years.

Box Score

RALEIGH (AP)—The Motor Vehicles Department's report of highway accidents for the 24-hour period ending at 10 a.m. today:

Killed—4
Injured—19
Killed this year—375
Killed to date last year—357
Injured this year—4,044
Injured to date in '51—8,123

Many varieties of fish belonging to families still in existence abound in lakes of the Eocene period 55,000,000 years ago.

Let Our Friendly

Carolina Dairy

Milk Salesman

Serve You Daily

Carolina Dairy

Products Can Also Be Found At Your Favorite

Grocery Store

Carolina Dairy Products, Inc.

PITT

THURSDAY ONLY

She Looks Like An Angel But . . .

She Uses A Technique That

Leaves Men Weak!

"LOVE is BETTER THAN EVER"

Starring

Elizabeth

TAYLOR

And

Larry Parks

Ends

Tonight!

Color By Technicolor

"SINGING IN THE RAIN"

Gene Kelly — Debbie Reynolds

South-11 Drive In

Box Office Opens 7:00 — Shows 7:30 and 9:30 — Phone 26657

THURSDAY AND FRIDAY NITE

A Man Knows What He Wants . . .
Yet Many Wives Make This Same Mistake!
There's a Blonde Waiting to Gosh Every Man!

Why Men Leave Home

With A Great Hollywood All-Star CAST!

Starring JULIE BISHOP
RICHARD DENNING
GINGER PRINCE

Cartoon — Short — News

WEDNESDAY NITE — Last Times — Double Feature

HIT NO. 1

Clancy Street Boys"

With The East Side Kids

Also Cartoon

HIT NO. 1 With Bo Show

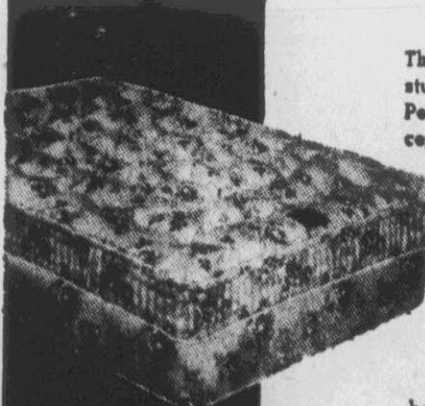

Only Once — At 9:00.

Whip Wilson

in

"Cherokee Uprising"

Many PEERLESS Models for Your Choice

The Service Springfilled is of the same sturdy construction and with the full Peerless guarantee, yet the price is exceptionally attractive.

$34.50

The Peerless Felt Mattress has been a standby for years. This quality mattress of its type will bring you years of