

Eisenhower Goes Into Dixie Again

Will Be Introduced From Capitol Steps By Gov. Byrnes; Four-Week Campaign Trip, To Make Or Break His Effort, Will Carry Him From Coast To Coast

NEW YORK (UP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower, with a stab into the Deep South, opens a gruelling four-week campaign trip today which will take him from coast to coast in a make-or-break bid for the White House.

The kick-off for the Republican presidential candidate comes late today when he speaks from the steps of the state Capitol Building in Columbia, S. C.

Eisenhower's speech will be made at the invitation of South Carolina Gov. James F. Byrnes, who recently broke a lifetime of loyalty to the national Democratic party to announce for Eisenhower.

The general begins his last major pre-election swing with the hopes of his aides at an all-time high. The Eisenhower camp is riding high on what it believes was an extremely favorable turn of events stemming from the ruckus raised over the acceptance of a disputed $13,000 expense allowance fund by Sen. Richard M. Nixon, the general's running mate.

Before the trip terminates on Oct. 28, Eisenhower will visit about 27 states in the Midwest and Far West. His schedule is being left open for last minute revisions but he will start his 8,000-mile trip with stops in Michigan, Illinois and Wisconsin, once the South Carolina speaking date is fulfilled.

Eisenhower will fly to join his special train tonight at Lindeale, O., shortly after completing his speech in Columbia.

The Nixon controversy, culminating in the vice presidential nominee's television radio report to the nation, has given the Eisenhower camp a feeling that they are on the offensive and they hope for good. They think the Democratic attack has backfired and made a national figure of Eisenhower's young running mate.

Eisenhower quickly picked up a challenge by Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic nominee, to report publicly on his financial affairs, precisely as Stevenson did this weekend.

The general sent his aides scurrying to gather financial data covering the past years for a public report anticipated before the weekend.

Press spokesman James C. Hagerty said Monday that it would cover Eisenhower's "entire financial situation." But neither Hagerty nor the candidate was ready to state yet whether it would include the general's federal tax returns.

The feeling here is that Democrats have been pushing the matter in hopes that they can uncover some undisclosed data concerning the tax agreement on Eisenhower's best-selling book, "Crusade in Europe."

But the attitude hereabouts was that the matter is "old hat." Eisenhower was reported to have received about $1,000,000 from the book, and on the basis of an official tax ruling, paid a tax computed at the capital gains rate of 25 per cent instead of the 77 per cent normal rate. The ruling was based on Eisenhower's claim that he was a soldier, not a professional author, hence entitled to the special rate. Since that time Congress has passed a new law providing that the regular rate be paid on all books.

Stevenson Raps Emotional Air In GOP Campaign

'Unbearable' Is Adlai's Comment; Continues Defense Of His Fund

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson, addressing the nation in a television fireside chat, criticized the Republican party and Dwight D. Eisenhower Monday night for conducting an "emotional" campaign that is "unbearable."

The Democratic presidential nominee flew to Chicago for his closed studio radio and television report to the voters.

Defending his action in presenting key state employees with monetary gifts, Stevenson said, "I have no grief for the methods I used except that I had no other."

But he reserved most of his 30 minutes on the air to a solemn indictment of the GOP and its presidential candidate.

"A campaign directed not to men's minds and to their best instincts but to their passions, emotions and prejudices is unworthy at best," he said. "Now with the fate of the nation at stake, it is unbearable. This is no time for such talk."

Stevenson said he had done the "best he could to keep my promise to talk sense to the American people," and that he had hoped Eisenhower "would also state his position on the issues."

"But he has chosen instead to insist that he and his running mate are the only candidates of sufficient integrity to assure the nation clean government during the next four years."

"I think that the object of opening the mind, as of opening the mouth, is to shut it on something solid," Stevenson said wryly.

Stevenson flew back to Springfield after the television appearance, arriving early today. He planned to spend today working on speeches and state business and expected no important callers.

Stevenson continued his running defense of his fund to help reduce the financial sacrifices of men he recruited from private business to help him run the state of Illinois. Saturday he disclosed that he paid a total of $18,150 to eight key appointees.

"None ever asked me for help," Stevenson said, "and none could have been improperly influenced by these gifts, because I gave them and I appointed them to their jobs and could have discharged them at any time."

"If it is wrong to give money to people in appointive jobs which could not influence them, then it must be wrong to give money to people running for elective office which could influence them," he said. "Yet, we give political contributions to candidates every day of the week."

Before newscast cameras later, Stevenson said, "If telling you the truth about the world as I see it should cause you to cast me down, and revile me, and with me the Democratic party, I should still tell you the truth as I see it."

New Officers Of County 4-H Council

Newly-elected officers of the Pitt County 4-H Council discuss duties ahead of them for the coming year. The youths pictured above were elected last night at a meeting of the county council. From left to right are Billy Kittrell, reporter; Teddy Allen (standing), vice president; Phyllis Corbett, secretary and treasurer; and Ruth Smith, song leader. Rachel Speight, president, was not present last night. (Reflector Photo by Roy Hardee).

Say Several Thousand Russians Are In Korea

Between 7,000 And 12,000 Russian Soldiers Believed Serving Behind Lines And In Anti-Aircraft Batteries

SEOUL, Korea (UP)—United Nations military authorities believe there are between 7,000 and 12,000 Russian troops now in Korea, authoritative sources revealed today.

The Russians are manning anti-aircraft guns, but are not being used as frontline combat troops, the sources said.

"They are not formed into divisions," an 8th Army spokesman said. "They are in rear areas."

The spokesman would not comment further.

However, other authoritative sources said that the Russians, besides manning anti-aircraft guns, are needed for administrative, supply and advisory positions.

"And I suppose they're counting up what the Chinese and North Koreans are doing with their equipment," one source said.

It also was learned that the Far East Command has estimated a lower number of Russians in North Korea. FEC headquarters were understood to have set the figure at about 5,000 instead of the total reported by 8th Army sources.

The 8th Army source who made the larger estimate said there were not enough Russians in Korea "to make up a division."

A North Korean security officer at Panmunjon who deserted to the Allies last week said he saw "Caucasians" in North Korea before he went over to the U.S. side.

POLICEMAN ROBBED

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—When Patrolman John H. Monson hopped into his patrol car Monday to chase traffic violators he discovered his book of traffic tags, a city street map, a flashlight and a night stick had been stolen.

Truman Keeps Up Attacks On Ike

Barbed, Bitter Words Used In Assailing Former General

EN ROUTE WITH TRUMAN (UP)—President Truman today took his coast-to-coast campaign trail into Missouri to continue his barbed attacks on the GOP and Dwight D. Eisenhower, who he said should be sent "back to the Army where he belongs."

Mr. Truman was to make nine political talks in Montana—at Glasgow, Malta, Chinook, Havre, the Tiber Dam site near Chester, Shelby, Cut Bank, Belton and Columbia Falls.

All were listed as rear-platform talks except the speech at Tiber Dam site.

The President opened up on Eisenhower and the Republican "Old Guard" in North Dakota Monday on the first day of real stumpings of his two-week, 8,500-mile campaign trip that will take him to California and then back east to New York.

He tore into Eisenhower in a "give 'em hell" style reminiscent of 1948, calling him a glib military man who "doesn't know how to settle anything except through war."

Then he went on to tell his audience at Berthold, N. D., that the former five-star general's statements behind the Iron Curtain could get American into "very serious trouble" if Eisenhower were elected President.

"He does not know the first principles necessary to keep the country running," Mr. Truman told a trackside crowd at Minot, N.D.

"He's got a lot to learn about this country and his party, but we can't educate him at public expense," the President said.

Issue Warrants In School Strike

WINSTON-SALEM (AP)—Forsyth County moved today to break up the Old Richmond "sit-and-wait" school strike by issuing warrants for parents of children under 16 not enrolled in school.

The warrants were drawn up under the state's compulsory school attendance law and were to be distributed to sheriff's deputies, who will serve them. Authorization for the step came from Dr. Ralph Brimley, County Superintendent of Schools.

Cause of the furor, which started a month ago, is the objection by Old Richmond students and parents to the closing of the Old Richmond High School by the Forsyth Board of Education.

Convicts Stage Sit-Down Strike

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Some 500 convicts staging a quiet, orderly sit-down strike at the Utah State Prison refused to leave their cells today.

Warden Marcell Graham said he expected the prisoners to communicate with him later today for the first time since the strike began at midnight Sunday.

Graham, who has not attempted to meet with the inmates, said he believed the convicts were striking over the State Pardons Board's interpretation of regulations covering time off for good behavior.

Pitt 4-H Council Officers Elected

Rachel Speight Named President For 1952-53 Term Of Office

Rachel Speight of the Winterville-Greenville club was elected last night as president of the County Council of 4-H Clubs at a meeting of the council.

Ted Allen of the Farmville Club was elected to serve as vice-president of the group and Phyllis Corbett of the Farmville club will take over duties as secretary and treasurer. Other officers include Ruth Smith of Chocoma as song leader and Bill Kittrell of the Winterville-Greenville club as reporter.

The new officers were elected from a slate of club members drawn up by the nominating committee and from nominations from the floor. All 17 4-H clubs in the county were represented with about 40 members present.

The officers elected last night will serve for 1952-1953. Outgoing officers were: Franklin Garris, Belvoir, president; Rachel Speight, vice-president; Neel Dupree, Belvoir, secretary and treasurer; Janelle Whitley, Bethel, song leader; and Phyllis Corbett, reporter.

Following the election of officers, county agents Josephine Cusick and C. J. Goodman conducted a program on officer training. The agents stressed the importance and responsibility of holding an office, pointing out that being an officer was good training to use in later life. Miss Cusick told the youths that it is an honor to be an officer because of the confidence placed in them.

Cautions Voters To Be Registered

Elections Board Chairman J. H. Harrell of Greenville cautioned Pitt County voters today to "be sure you are registered if you expect to vote this fall."

Harrell reiterated previous warnings regarding registration and emphasized the importance of the situation by citing the large number of voters turned away from the polls in the primary.

Registration books will be open in all of Pitt County's voting precincts three successive Saturdays prior to the General Elections Tuesday, November 4.

Books will be open from 9 a.m. until sunset on October 11, 13 and 25. Anyone wishing to register or check on the validity of their registration may do so on those days, Harrell said.

SWIFT FLIGHT

HONOLULU (UP)—An Air Force jet bomber set an unofficial trans-Pacific record, flying from California to Hawaii in 4 hours 52 minutes on a "routine training mission," it was announced today.

CANTOR EXHAUSTED

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Comedian Eddie Cantor, whose doctor described him as a victim of "complete exhaustion," rested comfortably today in Cedars of Lebanon Hospital.

Meeting Delayed

The Teen Age Club, which was scheduled to meet at the Armory tonight to organize for the new year, has been postponed until tomorrow (Wednesday) night, due to the Union Church Services.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 and last until about 9:00 p.m. All parents are invited to accompany their young people and to help with plans for the coming year.

Central Intelligence Head Surprised By 'Bombshell'

Organized To Push Industrial Growth

Greenville Industries, Inc. Transformed Into Going Concern; 211 Shares Of Stock Subscribed, Directors Chosen

Greenville Industries Inc. was transformed from a paper organization to a going concern last night as some 47 local citizens subscribed to 211 shares of stock in the corporation organized to promote industrial development in Greenville.

Approximately 55 local citizens attended the meeting at the city hall to discuss the activation of Greenville Industries, and the proposition for a new fabricating plant in the city laid before Chamber of Commerce officials by representatives of Artloom Carpet Company Inc. last week.

After the 211 shares of stock in Greenville Industries had been subscribed to, the stockholders elected 11 directors of the corporation who in turn elected the other officers of the concern. Elected to the board of directors of Greenville Industries Inc. were: J. B. Kittrell Sr., R. M. Garrett, M. K. Blount, Van C. Fleming Jr., James S. Ficklen, S. E. West, John C. Proctor, Reynolds May, J. H. Waldrop, Ercell S. Webb and T. I. Wagner.

The board of directors elected T. I. Wagner president of the corporation; Reynolds May, vice president; Van C. Fleming Jr., secretary; and John C. Proctor, treasurer.

During the citizens meeting which preceded the organization of Greenville Industries Inc., local Chamber of Commerce officials laid before the group the proposal for a new industry in Greenville which was presented by Herbert J. Adair, president of Artloom Carpet Company.

Reynolds May, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce industrial committee, said Adair expressed the desire of his company to locate a new fabricating plant in Greenville, and proposed a plant be built which would cost an estimated $500,000.

May said Artloom proposed to lease the building for a 12 year period at a rental of six per cent annually on the cost of the building with a commitment to purchase the building any year after the sixth year. The new industry would have a payroll of approximately $350,000 per year with other local purchases amounting to another $100,000 a year.

During the discussion of the proposal by the Artloom company, several local citizens spoke in favor of accepting the proposition from the company, and discussed methods of raising the necessary capital to construct the building which will be required by the industry.

At the meeting of the directors of Greenville Industries Inc., several committees were appointed to gather information on financing the proposed building, and other information on the project. Another meeting of the board of directors of the organization was slated for next Monday night at which time the reports will be heard, and the directors will determine what steps must be pursued in culminating the project.

Those men sent to Raleigh for examination will return to Greenville late today, officials explained.

The local board listed three Negroes as being delinquent from the September call. They are: James Thrill Daniels, Route 1, Winterville; J. T. Brown, Route 1, Winterville; and Henry Stalon Jr., Ayden.

Anyone knowing the whereabouts of either of the men listed as delinquent should report that knowledge to the local board.

Bevan Gains New Support In Upset

MORECAMBE, England (UP)—Left-wing supporters of Aneurin Bevan won two more seats on the British Labor party's National Executive Committee today in a political upset.

The Bevanites defeated veteran Socialists Herbert Morrison, long considered No. 2 man in the party; and Hugh Dalton in capturing six of the seven seats allocated local labor parties on the committee.

Report $56 Leaf Average Monday

FARMVILLE — Sales on the tobacco market in Farmville Monday reached an average of $56.07 per hundred pounds for 743,822 pounds sold.

Fred Moore, supervisor of sales on the Farmville Market, said the block was expected to be cleared today. He reported mostly smoking leaf on the warehouse floor and said light sales were expected tomorrow.

Former Top U. S. Communist And Wife Arrested

WASHINGTON (AP)—Earl Browder, former top man in the American Communist Party, and his wife were arrested today on charges of making false statements in a naturalization proceeding.

The Justice Department announced the arrests, made in the New York City area. It said the two were taken into custody after a federal grand jury in New York returned an indictment charging they lied by stating, when Mrs. Browder sought naturalization papers, that she had never been a member of the Communist Party.

Browder, 61, one-time Communist candidate for President, was picked up by FBI agents on the street in the vicinity of 20 Cornelia Street, in Manhattan.

Mrs. Browder, 55, was arrested at the Browder apartment at 7 Highland Place, in Yonkers.

Taxpayers Expected To Pay Up $540,405 To County This Year

By JESS POINDEXTER
Reflector City Editor

After receiving tax notices this month, thousands of Pitt Countians are taking temporary leave from their labors to make their annual pilgrimage into Greenville for payment of 1953 taxes.

More than 18,000 white and Negro citizens will file through the tax collector's office this year to contribute their portion of the county's total $880,360.40 budget for the current fiscal year.

With total property valuation in the county set at approximately $60,000,000—taxable at the rate of 90 cents on each $100—County Auditor Reginald Gray says taxpayers themselves will pay $540,405.14 into the county treasury this year.

ABC Revenue
The remainder of the total budget, $339,955.26, will be made up from revenues other than personal and real property taxes. The largest single source of additional revenue is from the ABC fund, which will net the county approximately $150,000 this year.

Other sources of revenue are: fines and forfeitures, $25,000; intangible taxes, $22,000; fees from offices of sheriff, register of deeds and clerk of Superior Court, $25,000; and sale of privilege licenses, $8,000.

T. I. WAGNER
President

REYNOLDS MAY
Vice President

Thirty-Six Take Pre-Draft Tests

A total of 36 white and Negro draftees from Pitt County left Greenville this morning for pre-induction examinations in Raleigh.

Local draft board officials said some few of the group were married but the great majority of the September call were single men, as the contingent was made up largely of younger boys.

Those men sent to Raleigh for examination will return to Greenville late today, officials explained.

The local board listed three Negroes as being delinquent from the September call. They are: James Thrill Daniels, Route 1, Winterville; J. T. Brown, Route 1, Winterville; and Henry Stalon Jr., Ayden.

Anyone knowing the whereabouts of either of the men listed as delinquent should report that knowledge to the local board.

Buyers Can Be Found Quickly By Want Ad

Mrs. Richard Gaylord of Greenville ran a For Sale in The Daily Reflector Classified ad section. She was advertising an oil heater.

The ad ran for three days at a cost of $2.25 but Mr. Gaylord sold the heater before he ad expired.

Mrs. Gaylord now thinks that Classified advertising really does pay.

Reach buyers fast through a For Sale ad in The Daily Reflector Classified advertising section. Phone 5717.

MADE IT EASY

MT. CLEMENS, Mich. (UP)—Police said today Daniel Chalfont, 29, admitted making it easy for them when he took a $56 check from a mail box, endorsed it with the payee's name, but absconded with the money.

Chalfont was arrested today after a search of his apartment.

Chalfont was charged with larceny of a check and possession of stolen property.

Report $56 Leaf Average Monday

FARMVILLE — Sales on the tobacco market in Farmville Monday reached an average of $56.07 per hundred pounds for 743,822 pounds sold.

Fred Moore, supervisor of sales on the Farmville Market, said the block was expected to be cleared today. He reported mostly smoking leaf on the warehouse floor and said light sales were expected tomorrow.

Chalfont was charged with larceny of a check and possession of stolen property.

Chalfont was arrested today after a search of his apartment.

Chalfont was charged with larceny of a check and possession of stolen property.

Chalfont was charged with larceny of a check and possession of stolen property.

Chalfont was charged with larceny of a check and possession of stolen property.

Smith Unexcited About Admitted Possibility Of Red Infiltration Into His Agency; Assures Public None Detected, Confident Key Officials Loyal

WASHINGTON (UP)—Gen. Walter Bedell Smith said today he cannot understand "why anyone should get excited" about his statement that there probably are some Communists in the Central Intelligence Agency.

The CIA director, who unwittingly tossed a bombshell into the political campaign Monday, sought to calm the furor by assuring the public that any Reds who may have infiltrated his agency are in minor jobs where they cannot do any "serious harm."

He emphasized that no Communists actually have been "detected" in the CIA and said the agency takes "extreme, even fanatical" precautions to keep them out.

"But I am certain that in this widespread organization there is bound to be Communist penetration somewhere along the line," he said. "I would be silly, foolish, and unworthy of public trust if I acted on any other assumption."

The four-star general, former U. S. ambassador to Russia and wartime chief of staff to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, said he is "positive" that all key officials of the CIA are loyal. And all other employees, he said, are so "compartmentalized" in their work that none of them has access to anything except "fragmentary" intelligence information.

Smith's explanation failed to placate Republican leaders, who pounced on his original statement as evidence that the Truman administration has handled its loyalty program with "incredible looseness."

GOP National Chairman Arthur E. Summerfield announced that former Rep. Claire Booth Luce of Connecticut will make a nationwide radio and television broadcast tonight on Smith's "shocking revelation."

High administration officials glumly agreed that Smith had unintentionally handed the Republicans some potent campaign ammunition. The White House had no comment, but hastily dispatched a full report to President Truman's campaign train.

Smith dropped his bombshell late Monday afternoon when he appeared at a court hearing to give a deposition in Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's $2,000,000 libel suit against Sen. William Benton. McCarthy's attorney, Warren Magee, asked Smith if he thought there were Communists in the State Department.

Smith said he did, and added: "I believe there are Communists in my own organization. I am morally certain there are. They are so adept and adroit that they have infiltrated practically every security organization of the government."

State Department spokesman Michael J. McDermott promptly declared that his agency is "constantly on the lookout" for Communists and "if any have eluded us, they have been very skillful."

A high military official said that he does not know "of any Communists in the Department of Defense."

Smith said he did, and added: "I believe there are Communists in my own organization. I am morally certain there are. They are so adept and adroit that they have infiltrated practically every security organization of the government."

State Department spokesman Michael J. McDermott promptly declared that his agency is "constantly on the lookout" for Communists and "if any have eluded us, they have been very skillful."

A high military official said that he does not know "of any Communists in the Department of Defense."

MADE IT EASY

MT. CLEMENS, Mich. (UP)—Police said today Daniel Chalfont, 29, admitted making it easy for them when he took a $56 check from a mail box, endorsed it with the payee's name, but absconded with the money.

Chalfont was arrested today after a search of his apartment.

Chalfont was charged with larceny of a check and possession of stolen property.

Chalfont was charged with larceny of a check and possession of stolen property.

Report $56 Leaf Average Monday

FARMVILLE — Sales on the tobacco market in Farmville Monday reached an average of $56.07 per hundred pounds for 743,822 pounds sold.

Fred Moore, supervisor of sales on the Farmville Market, said the block was expected to be cleared today. He reported mostly smoking leaf on the warehouse floor and said light sales were expected tomorrow.

Chalfont was charged with larceny of a check and possession of stolen property.

Buyers Can Be Found Quickly By Want Ad

Social and Personal

All items for this page received after 10 a. m. will be published the following day. Dial 222-5 a. m. to noon; 1 to 4:30 p. m.

Miss Elizabeth Harris of Washington, D. C. is the guest of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Harris.

Dr. and Mrs. Howard Wilson and little daughter Eleanor of Raleigh spent Monday and Tuesday with Mrs. Frank Wilson.

Miss Sarah Kirkpatrick has returned to Durham after spending the weekend with her mother, Mrs. Helene Higgs Kirkpatrick. Miss Kirkpatrick is secretary to Dr. Fred D. Hall, department of physiology, Duke Hospital.

Mrs. Lela J. Carson is in St. Louis, Mo., where she is attending the National Convention of Women's Christian Temperance Union.

Johanne Tyson of Keocoughan, Va. is visiting his aunt, Mrs. Elsie Allen, and cousin, Lyman Allen, on Greenville Rte. 2. Mr. Tyson was in the U. S. Army for eight years and served in the E.T.O. during World War II, and has been in the Veterans hospital and soldiers home since 1945. He will return to Keocoughan on November 29.

W.C.T.U. To Meet
The W.C.T.U. will meet with Mrs. Richard McCarty, 111 E. Eighth St., Wednesday afternoon at 3:30.

Beaux Arts Club
Beaux Arts Club will meet Wednesday, October 1, at 8 p.m. All members invited to discuss interesting program for Fall.

ECC Alumni Notice
There will be a called meeting of the Greenville-Pitt County Chapter of the East Carolina College Alumni Association on Thursday night.

WCS of St. James To Meet
The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the St. James Methodist Church will meet Thursday night at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Tom Wilson on Maple Street.

Grand Opening
Pitt County Agricultural Fair
"Pitt County on Parade" ALL NEXT WEEK
Monday Night Is The Big Opening

All Legionaires with paid up card admitted that night FREE at main gate.

Edward Allen, Dorothy Garris Wed

On Friday, September 19, at 6:00 p.m. Dorothy Ann Garris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Garris of Belvoir, and Edward L. Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Allen of Farmville were united in marriage at the Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses with P. A. Julian, a local minister of Jehovah's Witnesses, performing the single ring ceremony.

Mrs. P. A. Julian rendered the music. The hall was beautifully decorated throughout with baskets of white gladioli and pompons.

The bride chose for the occasion a navy blue suit with light blue accessories, and a corsage of red roses.

Mrs. Larry Moringo, sister of the groom, served as matron of honor.

She was attired in a navy blue suit with pink accessories.

Mr. Allen had as his best man, Larry Moringo, his brother-in-law. Ushers were C. E. Manning Jr. and Harold Briley.

Mrs. Allen is a graduate of Belvoir High School. Mr. Allen graduated from Farmville High School in May, 1948, and entered the U.S. Air Force in July the same year, serving twenty months on the island of Guam. He returned to the States in June of this year, and received his discharge in July.

Mr. Allen was a air route traffic controller with rank of staff sergeant. He is now associated with Pilot Life Insurance Co. here. The couple live at 302 South Summit St.

Bridal Couples Honored At Buffet Supper

On Friday night, September 19, Mr. and Mrs. J. Brantley Speight and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Tripp entertained to compliment two bridal couples.

The affair was a buffet supper which was given at the home of the Speights. Miss Doris Broadhurst and Kermit Tyson, who will be married in October, and Miss Mary Rose Best and Martin Casey of Goldsboro, who were married last Saturday, were the honorees.

Throughout the spacious home fall flowers in various arrangements were used for decorations. The bride's table in the dining room was laid with a white linen cloth and centered with a bowl of white gladioli and burning tapers.

After serving their plates from an antique buffet in the dining room, the guests found their places at auxiliary tables which were placed in the library and living room. The bridal couples sat with three other couples at the honor table in the dining room. Wrist nosegays and presents of silver candlesticks were at the places of the two brides-elect.

A three course turkey supper was served by the hostesses, assisted by Master Joe Tripp and Mrs. Powell Speight. An informal social hour was enjoyed at the conclusion of the meal.

The guest list included 18 couples from Greenville, Goldsboro and surrounding communities, all intimate friends of the honorees.

Sarah Whitehurst Circle Has Meeting

BETHEL—The Sarah Whitehurst Circle of the Bethel Methodist Church met with Mrs. John Hooker on last Monday.

Mrs. S. C. Whitehurst opened the meeting with the devotional, after which Mrs. J. L. Gurganus presented the goals of the Quadrennial Theme of Emphasis for 1952-53 of the Woman's Division of Christian Service.

After the business meeting, Mrs. S. C. Whitehurst gave the final chapters from the book, "The Family: A Christian Concern."

Sixteen members were present.

Miss Broadhurst, Kermit Tyson Extended Honor

Mr. and Mrs. R. N. McLawhorn Jr. were dinner hosts on Saturday night to honor Miss Doris Broadhurst and Kermit Tyson, whose wedding takes place next month.

Invited guests were members of the families and the wedding party. Assortments of late summer flowers were used in various arrangements throughout the house to lend a decorative touch to the rooms.

The guests were greeted informally upon their arrival and invited to find their places at tables marked with hand painted cards signed with silver paint and bearing an original floral motif.

The table in the dining room was centered with a low crystal bowl of white chrysanthemums flanked by pairs of double crystal candelabra with burning white tapers. Each of the auxiliary tables was centered with single candles, and the candlelight furnished illumination for the meal.

A three course turkey dinner was served. Miss Broadhurst and Mrs. C. L. Tyson, mother of her fiancé, were presented with small nosegays composed of white chrysanthemums tied with blue green tulle and satin streamers. The honored couple was given a gift of silver in their chosen pattern.

Invited guests, in addition to the couple and Mrs. Tyson, were Miss Eloise Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Powell Speight, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Worthington, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Broadhurst, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McLawhorn, Mr. and Mrs. William McLawhorn and Mr. and Mrs. Ruei Tyson.

Degree of Pocahontas Has Monthly Meet

The Degree of Pocahontas held their regular meeting Tuesday night at the hall, with Kathleen Woolard presiding.

Minnie Bailey and Cassie Sawyer contributed to the Birthday Fund. Stella Fleming was reported as being sick and in the hospital.

Reports were given on a joint meeting with The Red Men, during which plans for a building were discussed.

It was announced that the District meeting will be held October 2 in Pinetops, beginning at 2 o'clock. Door prize was won by Lena McGowan.

After the business was finished delicious refreshments were served by Geneva Webb and Genevieve Clarke.

The next meeting will be Tuesday, October 14, at 7:30 o'clock.

Wilson Antique Show
An antique show will be held in Wilson for three days, beginning Wednesday, October 1.

The show will be held in the Armory Auditorium from 11:00 a.m. until an early evening hour. Members of the Wilson DAR will serve lunches during the three day event.

A fine collection of old English silver, period furniture, blown and pressed glass, hand painted china, Dresden, Meissen, early old Staffordshire china, brass, copper, old prints, oil paintings, gold leaf mirrors and frames and hundreds of other items will be on display and for sale.

Many of the dealers who are exhibiting in the show have a national reputation as collectors of antiques. During various hours of the show, several DAR members will model period costumes.

40 Years Ago Today

THE DAILY REFLECTOR
September 30, 1912

Automatic Tank Filler

Tom Dupree has installed an automatic gasoline tank and pump for supplying automobiles. It is conveniently located near the office of Dr. C. O. Laughinghouse. A tank of about 200 gallons capacity is buried in the lot and connected with a pump on the edge of the sidewalk. Automobiles can run up to the pump and the tank is quickly filled with filtered gasoline. It is proving a great convenience to owners of cars.

Notice Of Meeting Of Highway Employees

The North Carolina Highway Commission Employees Association will hold its first meeting of the year Friday night, October 3rd, at the Highway Garage in the form of a barbecue supper.

The time is 7:00 p.m. and the price of the supper is $1.00. Mr. Ous Banks, Executive Secretary of the Association, and Mrs. Banks are expected to attend as well as many other out-of-town guests. Mrs. Leota Tyson will entertain the group with selections played on her accordion.

All members are urged to see Mr. C. D. Bass or Mr. Sam Credle immediately and make reservations for the dinner and meeting. Reports will be given concerning the convention held in Winston-Salem, which will be of interest to all members.

Open House In Cotten Hall Honors Students And Parents

Music Club In Bethel Formed

BETHEL—Music lovers in Bethel met at the Town Hall on September 18, and organized the Bethel Music Club. The purpose of the organization is the study and practice of music of the best and most renowned composers, and the development of a keener music appreciation in the community.

The Club has for its first community project a Christmas program, and every music lover is invited to participate in this event.

Officers elected were: Mrs. Harold Staton, president; Mrs. T. R. Andrews Jr., vice-president; Mrs. W. R. Hunnicutt, secretary, and Mrs. Clara Roberson, treasurer.

The first meeting of the new club will be at the home of Mrs. W. J. Smith, with Mrs. David House, Mrs. David Speir, and Mrs. Smith as hostesses. Mrs. Harold Staton will have the program, and plans for the coming year will be made.

The club members are hoping to enrich Bethel by their efforts, and are looking for the full support of the community.

BETHEL—Mrs. Robert Davis entertained the Round Dozen Book Club at her home last Wednesday at one o'clock. The house was beautifully decorated with mixed summer flowers.

After the business meeting, the program was turned over to Mrs. Leighton Blount Jr. The topic of her discussion was "A Sketch of the Life of Amelia Earhart."

Twelve were present at the meeting.

GOOD TROUBLE

OMAHA, Neb. (UP) — George Vanous cussed when his car balked because of transmission trouble. He left the car in front of his home and went inside. A thief promptly stole the car and Vanous cussed again. But he was appeased when he found the vehicle eight blocks away—the thief apparently became equally disgusted because the car would only run in low gear.

Guests from many sections of eastern North Carolina enjoyed an open-house entertainment given Sunday afternoon, September 28, at East Carolina College in the parlors of Cotten Hall.

Parents of students now attending the college were invited as honor guests at the tea, and approximately five hundred people were present for the occasion.

Dean of Women Ruth White and members of her staff were hostesses for the afternoon. Welcoming those who attended the social event were Miss Edith Zinn, assistant dean of women; and Mrs. Helen Snyder, Mrs. Ruth Garner, and Miss Hazel Clark, dormitory counselors. A number of students, including officers in the residence halls for women, assisted in greeting visitors to Cotten Hall.

The dormitory parlors were attractively decorated with arrangements of flowers in the official East Carolina colors of purple and gold. Bowls of purple asters made centerpieces for two tables from which refreshments were served.

Students at the college who poured punch during the afternoon were: Misses Nancy L. Whitfield, Creedmoor; Susie Marshall, Engelhardt; Anna K. Avant, Whiteville; Kitty Gerringer, Draper; Sylvia McCoy, Snow Hill; and Grace Giles, Linden, N. J.

His Best Friend A Ball-Point Pen

WITH THE U.S. 26th DIVISION, Korea (UP) — Sgt. William E. Ross of Hobart, Ind., said today a man's best friend is his ball point pen.

Ross said his wife recently sent him a refill cartridge for his pen. He left his mortar position and went into his bunker to install it. While there, three Communist shells wiped out his mortar position.

Social Calendar

TUESDAY
7:30 p.m.—Congressman Herbert Bonner of the First Congressional District will speak at a meeting of the International Relations Club of East Carolina College. The meeting will take place in the auditorium of the campus Training School. The public is invited to attend.
8:00 p.m.—Union worship service at Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church to celebrate the publication of the Revised Standard Version of the Bible. Rev. Morton R. Kuris will be guest speaker.

WEDNESDAY
7:15 p.m.—Beaux Arts Club meets.
8:00 p.m.—The local N.C.E.A. unit and the Classroom Teachers' Organization will entertain informally at West Greenville School auditorium to honor new faculty members of the city school system.

THURSDAY
11:00 a.m.—12 noon—Bazaar coffee hour in the parlors of St. Paul's Episcopal Church parish house.
7:30 p.m.—Emerson Study Group will meet at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Walter Krausnick, 701 East Fifth Street. Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Scott will address the group on "Liberal Religion and Religious Education."

7:45 p.m.—Called meeting of the Pitt County-Greenville Chapter of the ECC Alumni Group in Alumni office in the Austin Building.
8:00 p.m.—The Arles Book Club will meet with Mrs. A. W. Bryan.
8:00 p.m.—WCS of St. James Methodist Church meets with Mrs. Tom Wilson at her home on Maple Street.

8:00-9:00 p.m.—Miss Gloria Blanton and Miss Margaret Windham will entertain at an informal hour in honor of Miss Doris Broadhurst, bride-elect, at the Baptist Student Center.

FRIDAY
6:30 p.m.—Kiwanis Club
6:30 p.m.—Exchange Club
7:00 p.m.—N. C. Highway Commission Employees Association meets for dinner at the Highway Garage.
7:30 p.m.—Red Men meet.

TYPE CASTING

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP)—Bruce Law is president of the senior class at Memphis Law School.

HEARING NOW
SEE & HEAR TOMORROW'S HEARING AID TODAY!
TELEX 953
HEARING CENTER
ADDRESS
PHONE

Ridgeway's
OPTICIAN, Inc.
200 Fifth-Greenville

Where You Can Find Your Most Complete Selection of Famous Name Lingerie.

"Christine" Rogers renowned slip with permanently pleated bodice and deep hem flounce outlined with nylon clover embroidered insertion on nylon ice sheer. Sizes 32-42. White, Black. $10.95.

"Lorelei" flowing airy gown of black nylon tricot with a dramatic front panel of petal pink caught at the shoulders and the waistline with over-sized roses embroidered in pink on black sheer. Black with Pink. Sizes 32-38. $12.95.

"Delphine" our new scoop-neckline bra-concealing nylon tricot slip with Rogers own nylon flute-fabric and embroidered eyelet nylon sheer on the bodice and hemline. Sizes 32-38. White, Petal Pink. $5.95.

fall... Fabrics

...for those who like to sew. A wide selection of all wool fabrics.

On Display At Blount-Harvey's

Fine woollens by Botany and other nationally known makers. Be thrifty and sew at home.

- Gabardine
- Serge
- Flannel
- Broadcloth
- Poodle Cloth
- Novelties
- Plaids

$1.98 to $7.95

Patterns by ...

- Butterick
- McCall
- Simplicity

Blount - Harvey

"Eastern Carolina's Shopping Center"

News From Bethel

By MRS. S. D. DEWAR

Mr. and Mrs. Merrimond Mizelle and daughter Pam of Raleigh, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Matthews, Miss Barbara Ann Whitehurst of Bethel were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. James and Betsy Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John McDermott and Johnny of Greensboro and Mr. and Mrs. Ferrell Rollins of Wilmington were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Hymen.

Cpl. John H. Taylor Jr. of Camp Lejeune was weekend guest of Miss Newbie James.

Cpl. Talmadge Leo Rudd of Camp Lejeune was weekend guest of Miss Ann Riddick.

The following young people were visitors at the Teen-Age Center last Friday: Mamie and Bill Whitehurst, Wilbur Waters and Edward Roberson of Conetoe.

Mrs. Polly Thomas spent Sunday with Mrs. Elva Williams of Williamson.

Mrs. Hight Weeks spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Guy Mills of Aurora.

Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Dewar and sons, Don and Sammy, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Johnson of Pendleton.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Andrews had as their guests on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Riddick and children, Bill and Judy, of Plymouth.

Mrs. H. V. Staton and Eleanor Ward were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Z. V. Bunting at Morehead.

Mrs. E. W. Braxton of Winterville is spending a few days with her daughter, Mrs. W. R. Hunnicutt, following a few days treatment at

BODKIN'S

Piano Store

728 Dickinson Ave. — Phone 3817

It's the place to buy new and rebuilt pianos.

Guaranteed rebuilt pianos from $75.

Tuning, reconditioning, refinishing, restyling and rentals.

If you are deficient in Vitamins B₁, B₂, B₆, or Nicotinamide

NEW WONDER CAPSULE MAY GET AT THE

REAL CAUSE OF YOUR TIRED, NERVOUS FEELING

There is no need for you to suffer these and other dietary deficiency symptoms like constipation, insomnia and loss of appetite which occur only when your intake of B-vitamins and Nicotinamide is less than minimum daily requirements over a prolonged period. These non-specific symptoms do not in themselves prove a dietary deficiency and may have other causes or be due to functional conditions.

However, if that is the reason for your misery and sufferings, a new wonder-working capsule... BEXEL SPECIAL FORMULA... may end your complaints in an amazingly short time!

CONTAINS ESSENTIAL VITAMINS and MINERALS

Sensational BEXEL SPECIAL FORMULA comes to you in easy-to-take, safety-sealed capsules that contain the essential B-vitamins, Iron and other minerals known to be essential in human nutrition and other factors as well, including important Vitamin B₁₂.

NEW ENERGY, NEW JOY IN LIFE

COSTS ONLY 6¢ A DAY

You take just one BEXEL SPECIAL FORMULA capsule a day... and from the very first one... you're on your way to new energy, new sparkle and new zest for living.

MONEY BACK GUARANTEED

We are so certain that BEXEL SPECIAL FORMULA is the right thing if you need extra B-vitamins and minerals essential to human nutrition that we will refund your money in full if you don't feel decidedly better after your very first bottle!

Start taking BEXEL SPECIAL FORMULA today

Patented and Guaranteed by McKESSON & ROBBINS

BISSETTE'S

DRUG STORE

Old Classic

All Straight Whisky

Now 7 Years Old

A BLEND OF STRAIGHT WHISKIES • 86 PROOF

CONTINENTAL DISTILLING CORPORATION, PHILADELPHIA, PENNSYLVANIA

230 PINT

365 4 1/2 QUART

Old Classic

A BLEND OF STRAIGHT WHISKIES

7 YEARS OLD

and Mrs. John Rook Sr., this past week, left on Sunday to return to her home in Roxboro.

Miss Lula Belle Briley of Bethel visited Miss Betty Jean Green and Miss Lynell Stalls of Robersonville on Sunday.

Mrs. R. H. Coggins of Greenville and Mrs. C. M. Moore of Bevoir visited Mrs. Becton Briley of Bethel on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Becton Briley of Bethel visited Mrs. R. H. Coggins Jr. in Greenville on Sunday.

Women In The Church

By Mary Fowler

"Show them the way — this week" is the theme of Religion in American Life that is being displayed in thousands of communities across America in billboards, bus cards, and newspaper advertising. It is the theme for the November 1952 campaign of the interdenominational movement and is illustrated by two young, children confidently holding up their hands to be taken to religious service by their parents. The entire campaign this year will stress the importance of religion in enriching family life. RIAL is supported by twenty denominations and national religious groups, including the National Council's United Church Men and United Church Women.

A woman has to be "twice as good as a man" to get anywhere in the ministry. That is what delegates to the thirty-third annual assembly of the American Association of Women Ministers meeting in Spring Arbor, Mich., were told recently. Dr. Hilda Ives of Portland, Me., said that women can render "more than 95 per cent of the services required of men in the ministry" but that ordained women are "denied equal opportunity" to perform these services. She added, however, that "this wave-man-age relic of male superiority, like many other evils, is slowly disappearing." Dr. Hazel E. Foster, of Atlanta, Ga., chairman of the committee on the ecclesiastical status of women, reported that 3,763 of the country's 281,000 ordained ministers in 1951 were women and that the percentage of women among the "active" ministers (2,437 out of 166,891) was slightly higher.

The Woman's Division of Christian Service of the Board of Missions of the Methodist Church has re-elected Mrs. Frank G. Brooks, of Mount Vernon, Iowa, as its president for the second term of four years. Mrs. Paul Arrington, of Joelsboro, Miss., was elected first vice-president. Vice-president of the Division and chairman of its Foreign Department is Mrs. Charles E. Wegner of St. Paul, Minn.; vice-president and chairman of the Home Department, Mrs. J. N. Lichner of Winona Lake, Ind.; vice-president and chairman of the Department of Christian Social Relations and Local Church Activities, Mrs. J. F. Tullman of Lewisburg, Tenn.

Attributes Long Life To Coffee

ELIZABETH, N. J. (UP)—Drink plenty of coffee if you want to live to be 100.

Mrs. Angelina Rausco, who celebrated her 104th birthday Monday attributed her long life to keeping active and drinking plenty of coffee. Her oldest daughter is a mere 82.

Marriage Licenses

Marriage licenses issued by the Register of Deeds:

White:

Rand W. Wade, Snow Hill, to Mildred Carole Pippin, Farmville.

Joseph W. Paul, Ayden, to Ann W. Smith, Ayden.

Joe Thomas Sutton, Ayden, to Nancy Virginia Morris, Hookerton.

Raymond H. Reel, Greenville, to Maxine Hart, Greenville.

John R. Russell, Farmville, to Dorothy Hathaway, Farmville.

Negro:

Alfred B. Barnhill, Greenville, to Clara Harding, Greenville.

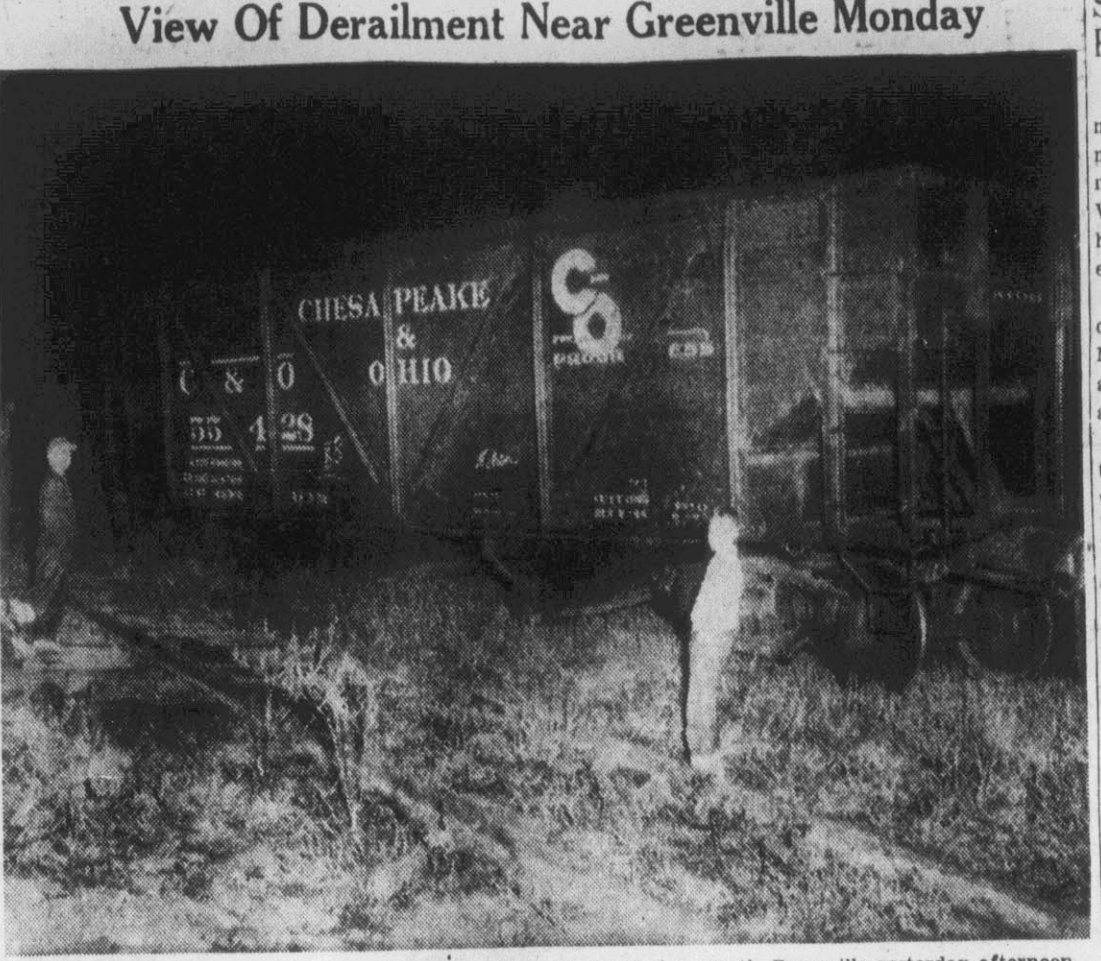

Robert Bullock, Bethel, to Nora Jones, Robersonville.

Grover Payton Jr., Greenville, to Essie Lee Pritchard, Greenville.

William Chapman, Rt. 2, Ayden, to Bessie Brooks, Washington.

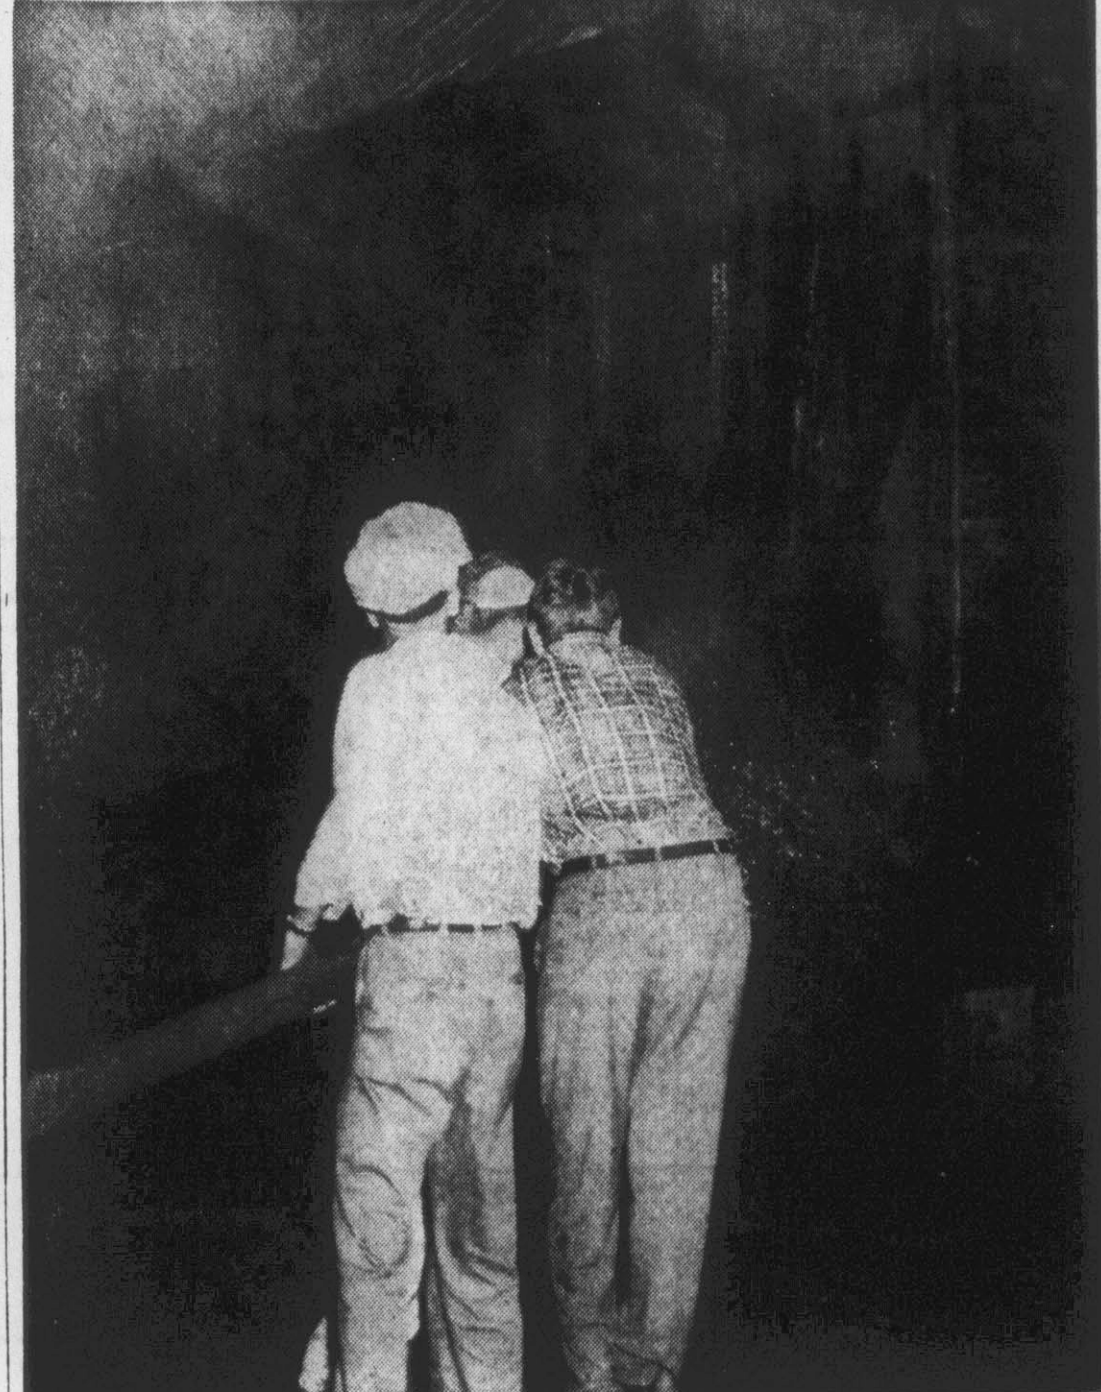

GYPPED

ALLIANCE, Neb. (UP)—An Alliance father bought his small son a fishing pole when the family went on vacation to Colorado. The boy promptly took the pole apart and shook each section. Asked what he was doing, he replied, "I'm trying to find out where they keep the worms."

Three coal cars on an Atlantic Coast Line freight train derailed in North Greenville yesterday afternoon. Last night wrecking crews from Rocky Mount arrived to repair the torn up track and right the tilted units. The accident occurred around 1:15 yesterday afternoon when a rail apparently broke, causing the cars to jump the tracks but did not turn over. The line was cleared up around midnight last night. (Reflector Photo by Roy Hardee).

Tenant Farm Home Damaged By Fire Yesterday

Greenville fire-fighters are shown battling a Negro tenant house fire in North Greenville yesterday afternoon. Firemen were hampered in fighting the blaze because of the long distance between the burning house and the nearest fire hydrant. The entire house was gutted by the blaze which broke out around five-thirty. (Reflector Photo by Roy Hardee).

Monday's Cases In Police Court

Judge Charles H. Whedbee yesterday disposed of the lightest docket to come up for trial in Police Court since midsummer.

Samuel (alias Sambo) Joyner, Negro, was found guilty of possession of non-tax paid whiskey for purpose of sale. The court gave him six months on the roads, suspended on payment of $50 and costs and he is to remain of good behavior for two years. The court gave Harriet L. Joyner, his wife, the same sentence and penalties. The couple live at 1114-A Clark street.

Jodie Brown, Negro, was found not guilty of larceny of a check.

Bruce D. Scott was found guilty of driving without an operator's license. The court fined him $25 and costs.

Drunk: Linwood Ragland, 30 days or pay $10; Addie M. Potter, $10; James W. Moore, Negro, 30 days or $10.

Winterville News

Bill Dempsey, Mrs. L. H. Dempsey and Polly Ann Nobles spent the last weekend at Atlantic Beach. They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Worthington and Nancy Worthington at their cottage.

Mrs. L. H. Ellis and Mrs. Don Langston went to Raleigh last Wednesday to attend the flower show. Mr. Ellis accompanied them

WHITLEY

Paint & Wallpaper

Company

'WE KNOW HOW'

Phone 4114

1804 Dickinson Ave.

Study of Africa Presented At Circle

BETHEL—Circle No. 1 of the Woman's Society of Christian Service met in the church, Monday afternoon, September 8, with Mesdames W. A. House and R. L. Goodall as hostesses. Mrs. Robert Davis, leader, presided.

Mrs. C. G. Whitehurst had charge of the program and she introduced Mrs. J. L. Gurganus, Jr., who gave a devotional from the Upper Room and followed that with prayer.

After this she gave a synopsis of the life of Martha Drummer, who was a native of Africa, educated in this country and later a missionary in her homeland. Since the fall study is on Africa, Mrs. Gurganus gave several interesting articles on some of the schools operated in Africa by the Woman's Society.

DENTAL ADVICE

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP)—Three-year-old Rusty Moore couldn't understand why his new nephew didn't have any teeth at birth. "Well, take him to our dentist and he'll make him some," he told his mother.

Pilot Disappears After His Crash

CHILLICOTHE, O. (UP)—State police were looking for a non-chalant pilot today who crash landed his plane near here and vanished.

A farm tenant said the plane circled his field twice, came down and crashed into a fence. The pilot got out, brushed himself off, looked at the wreck, shrugged and walked away.

It's Coming

Strate's Model Shows

"The Big Railroad Show"

Pitt County Fair

ALL NEXT WEEK

25 Rides — 15 Shows

A GOOD PLACE FOR YOUR RESERVE FUNDS

Many of your neighbors—men, women, and children—have placed their personal savings in insured accounts here. Many trustees, businessmen and corporations, also, choose to invest business reserve funds here. Savings are insured to $10,000 and earn a good return. Drop in and see us about opening accounts for each member of your family. Money received by the 10th earns from the 1st of the month.

First Federal Savings & Loan Association Of Greenville

324 Evans Street — Dial 3224

A. C. TADLOCK, Secretary-Treasurer

Old Quaker

STRAIGHT

Bourbon

WHISKEY

6 YEARS OLD

2.30 pt.

3.65 4-5 qt.

Old Quaker

STRAIGHT

Bourbon

Whiskey

BOTTLED BY THE OLD QUAKER DISTILLING COMPANY

LAWRENCEBURG, IND. FRESNO, CALIF. & ALADDON, PA.

FULL 6 YEARS OLD

STRAIGHT BOURBON WHISKEY, SIX YEARS OLD, 86 PROOF.

OLD QUAKER DISTILLING COMPANY, LAWRENCEBURG, IN JAMA

LARGE MODEL 12

COMPLETELY RECONDITIONED

ELECTROLUX

2 YEAR WRITTEN SERVICE GUARANTEE

Complete with Attachments

FLOOR POLISHER

Free

WITH EACH PURCHASE

Write Now! FOR FREE HOME DEMONSTRATION

Letters must be postmarked by midnight Saturday, October 4

11.45

FULL CASH PRICE

Delta VACUUM STORES, INC.

400 SUMMIT AVE. GREENSBORO, N. C.

Delta Vacuum Stores, 400 Summit Avenue, Greensboro, N. C. C-58

Gentlemen: I would like a Free Home Demonstration of a Beautifully Reconditioned Electrolux without obligation.

Name _____ Address _____

City _____ State _____ Phone _____

M. R. F. D. Address, Please Send Directions.

WE REPAIR AND SELL ANY MAKE OR MODEL

The Daily Reflector

Incorporated
Published Every Afternoon Except Sunday
Established 1883
DAVID J. WHITCHER, JR., Publisher
Entered at the Post Office at Greenville, N. C. as second class mail matter.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
By Carrier Week 30c
(Payable in Advance)
Three Months $ 3.50
Six Months $ 6.50
One Year $11.50

MEMBER ASSOCIATED PRESS AND UNITED PRESS
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to use for publication all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited to this paper and also the local news published herein. All rights of publication of special dispatches herein are also reserved.

NATIONAL ADVERTISING REPRESENTATIVES
Thomas F. Clark Co., Inc., New York, Chicago, Atlanta, Member Audit Bureau of Circulations.
All advertising copy must be received at least one day before publication date.

Strength for the Day

HE WOULDN'T BUDGE
A man who had reached his one hundredth birthday was being interviewed by a newspaper reporter. "You've seen a lot of changes take place in these years, I suppose," said the reporter. "Yep," said the old man. "I have, and I've opposed every one of them."

In a day of so many new things, we can have a bit of sympathy for the elderly old chap who planted himself in the pathway of progress and refused to budge. A lot of the new ideas are simply old fallacies repackaged. But there are a few new things suggested which are really worthy of our attention. All the principles which lie at the basis of life are precisely the same as they have always been, but new days make new adaptations necessary.

One of the failings of the present day is the fact that we have a lot of dead wood from the past cluttering up our techniques of government, business, education, church administration, and theology. The people who refuse to budge an inch, who oppose everything new, are simply living in awe of admiration of a past which never existed. The good old days of yore are an illusion. New situations demand new adaptations of old truths. We can't be "anti" all our lives and be happy. We can't oppose everything without opposing a lot of much-needed progress.

A Challenge For Other Federal Officials

Out of the furor which began with the revelation of Nixon's gift fund from a group of wealthy Californians may come one of the most positive steps yet devised for keeping the morality of government officials on a high plane.

Since Nixon laid open his financial condition and the source and disposition of his gift fund, the other three major candidates have hastened to follow suit in making their financial conditions known to the citizens of the United States.

Democratic Presidential Candidate Adlai Stevenson announced he would issue an audit on the gift fund which he distributed to appointive state employees of Illinois during his term of office, because, he said, they assumed the state jobs at a great financial sacrifice. Stevenson's unprecedented action in United States politics of making known his income tax returns for the past ten years likewise has laid open the door for a good look into the financial conditions and alliances of the four major candidates.

Republican Presidential Candidate Dwight Eisenhower has accepted an indirect challenge from Stevenson by announcing that he too will make public his entire financial situation. Democratic Vice Presidential Candidate John Sparkman has also announced his financial condition will be made public.

This clean breast of financial reports by the four major candidates for federal office presents indirectly a challenge to other officials elected to federal office to make similar statements of financial conditions to the public of the United States. Some time ago President Truman proposed that action be taken by Congress to require a public accounting of incomes by federal officials, but little ever came of the proposal. Now that the major candidates of both the Democratic and Republican parties have endorsed the idea by their own action, perhaps it will carry over to other elected officials throughout the government.

While such financial statements are no absolute guarantee of a high plane of morality in government office, they will, we believe, go a long way toward rebuilding the confidence of the American people in the integrity and moral quality of the officials in the United States government.

An Objective Opinion On Congressman Bonner

Just about every person has his own opinion about individual government officials. Usually over a period of years each individual forms an opinion about the officials who represent his particular district in state and federal governments.

At the same time it is nice to know what "outsiders" who have an opportunity to compare government officials with each other think about the representative from one's home district.

One of these opportunities to get a purely objective opinion on Congressman Bonner presented itself to us a couple of nights ago when he happened to run into Charles P. Trussell, veteran Washington Correspondent for the New York Times, in a restaurant in Eastern North Carolina.

During the course of conversation we asked Mr. Trussell's opinion of the job Herbert Bonner is doing as a member of the House of Representatives. The veteran Capitol Hill newsmen without hesitation asserted Congressman Bonner is one of the "steadfast" officials on Capitol Hill, and was high in his praise of Congressman Bonner for the work he has done in the past several years toward cutting waste in the armed forces.

It was obvious from the conversation that Mr. Trussell held Congressman Bonner in high esteem for his work in Congress, and it was apparent also that the Washington correspondent did not hold for some other members of the North Carolina delegation in Washington nearly the respect that he did for Congressman Bonner.

Coming from a newsmen who during a course of years has had the opportunity to observe many members of Congress at their day to day tasks, we consider the opinion an objective one well worth noting.

It's a good thing to know how one's representative in Congress stacks up in the opinion of a person who has had the opportunity to see how hundreds upon hundreds of members of Congress look after the business of the American people.

National Whirligig

WASHINGTON—The official spokesmen for organized labor in foreign countries sing an entirely different tune from current AFL-CIO denunciations of the Taft-Hartley Act and political believers in that controversial legislation, including General Eisenhower.

Although Governor Stevenson's campaign demand for repeal induced the AFL to break a 71-year-old precedent by endorsing him, the so-called "slave labor law" is never mentioned outside the United States as a barrier to the unions; growth and progress.

On the contrary, the Green-Murray overseas missionaries recite the many gains they have achieved since the law's enactment in 1947—five million new members, peak wages, shorter hours, pension and welfare funds. The workingmen's condition is always described at these international exchanges as utopian.

Ironically, in view of the Stevenson endorsement and labor leaders' great influence at the White House, their traveling delegates always emphasize that they have won their finest successes because their movement is wholly "nonpolitical."

EXPLOITATION—A labor delegation has recently returned from a visit to Peru and Chile, where there are large American interests in copper and other essential minerals. The group consisted of responsible officials of the AFL, the CIO and United Mine Workers.

After denouncing what they called the "ruthless exploitation" of South American workers by U.S. firms, which may have stimulated anti-Uncle Sam feeling, they shaped the contrast by telling of the power and position of John L. Lewis' miners. This was before the recent wage boost of $1.90 a day.

They described how labor had become strong through collective bargaining, a key provision of the T-H Act. They elaborated on the benefits flowing from such bipartisan and nonpolitical achievements as welfare and retirement plans, social security, minimum wage laws, etc.

There was no mention of the law which, according to President Truman, was passed as "the first step in a gigantic Wall Street conspiracy to smash the labor union movement."

"DIPLOMATS"—These "diplomats in overalls," to use Stevenson's characterization, then gave advice on how similar advances might be won by South American unions.

"The nonpolitical stand of the American labor movement," reads an account of this visitation, "as exemplified by the policy of 'reward our friends and defeat our enemies,' was repeatedly emphasized in all our talks, and was, in our opinion, the subject that aroused the greatest interest and approval."

"The emphasis that we put on a united labor movement, based on an absolute independence of any political party, foreign ideology or government control, left a strong impression."

Latin audiences may have been impressed by this admonition against "young labor" as a party candidate or any administration. But the returning delegates soon discovered that Messrs. Green and Murray were not impressed.

EXPENSES—The average Congressman's annual expenses amount to about $16,000, or $1,000 more than his $15,000 income. The Nixon predicament, which has focused attention on national officials' financial dealings, may lead to legislation raising the general salary level on Capitol Hill.

There is, of course, no such person as the "average" Congressman with respect to finances. Their needs, their families' tastes and backgrounds, their ambitions all differ. Some members can—and do—live within their means, although almost all have sidelines—a business, a farm, a law practice, lecturing. Many M.C.'s from nearby states spend only a few days a week here, showing up only to vote.

For one who makes politics and public life his profession like Nixon, there are unusual demands on his purse. He must dress well. He must entertain certain people, especially touring constituents. If he does not kick in generously to charities and campaigns here and back home, his reputation as a "rightward" may cost him his seat.

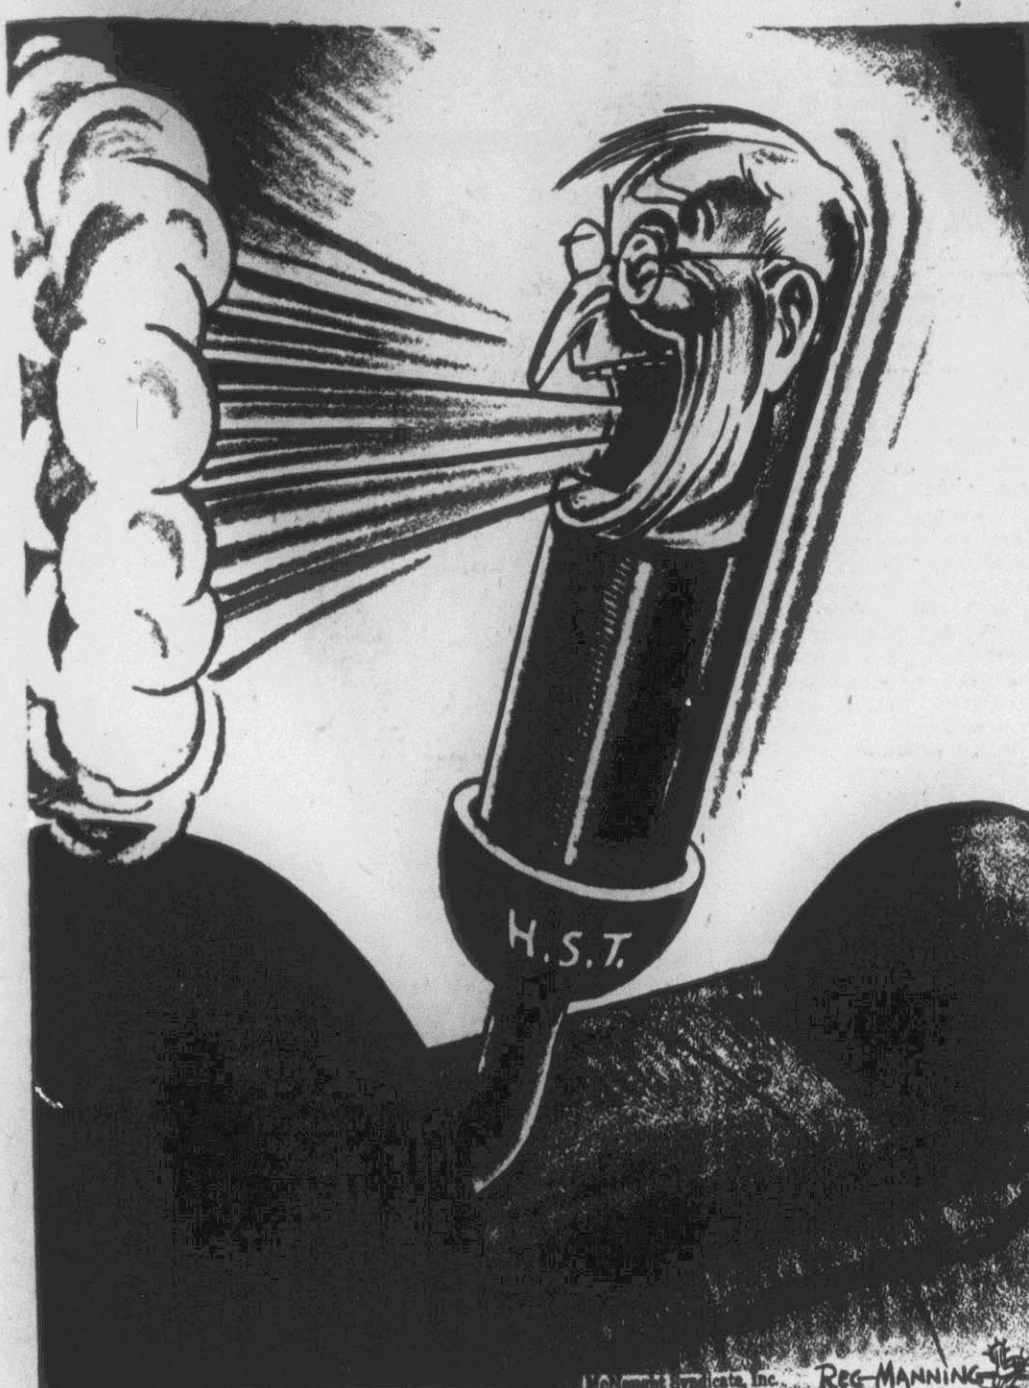

In short, he must keep up, not with the Joneses, but with his office. And Washington is an extremely expensive place to live.

The following itemization applies to a member who, like Nixon, has a wife and two children of grammar school age. The cost of their education, clothes, vacations—everything—will grow progressively heavier. This test-tube M.C. is 44 years old, and lives about 1,000 miles from here. He lives well, but not extravagantly. Here are his living costs.

Income taxes—$1,500; real estate, sales and other taxes—$500; annual rent at home—$1,800; Washington residence (furnished) plus heat, light, phone, repairs—$3,000; family transportation for which he receives no mileage—$1,500; food—$2,000; necessary campaign and charity contributions—$1,000; insurance ($30,000)—$600; clothes for four—$1,200; car operating and amortization costs—$600; amusement, entertainment, books, newspapers, magazines, etc.—$1,000; education for teen-agers—$500; about $3,000 for youngsters in college; miscellaneous, $1,000.

The figure of $20,000 and $25,000 has been suggested as a more satisfactory salary. The larger sum is favored by many students of political science who have explored the problem. But it is doubtful if the legislators would dare to give themselves such a boost. They mustered courage for their last raise only because it was proposed by friends of President Truman, who was the principal beneficiary.

Big Whistle

Somebody Told Me

By J. J. (Jack) HOWARD, JR.

Every now and then I get in the mood to read a dramatic short story, so I dig one up in a magazine. This one, by Lawrence Sanders, is the type I mean:

The English submarine crawled along the bottom of the murky sea. Its mission: to hunt out and destroy enemy U-boats. Lieut. Ian Scott, aware that his craft was not due to surface before 10 p.m., climbed into his bunk and fell into a deep sleep.

Suddenly, strangely, he was in a munitions factory. He could see women turning shells on lathes; he could hear the squeaking of driving belts. Then, in a corner, he saw his sister, alone at a desk, her body slumped over in exhausted sleep. In that moment, indescribable horror swept over him. A finger of flame was creeping along the floor. He tried to shout a warning, but in vain. A tremendous explosion tore through the factory. Scorching timber rained down on the workers—and Scott awoke from his terrible nightmare.

Gasping, he looked around the silent sub. It was 10 o'clock—time to surface for night patrol. But as he approached the watchkeeper, Scott felt a weird sense of unrest. The watchkeeper was asleep.

When Scott shook him, the man collapsed on deck. What was wrong? Then, for the first time, Scott detected the odor of gas. The men were not sleeping—they were near asphyxiation. By dousing the inert figures in water, he managed to rouse three men. Working mightily, they finally brought the submarine to the surface. There above, instead of inky night, was bright daylight.

It was 10 o'clock the following morning. The sub had been submerged 25 hours, and all that time gas fumes had been leaking from an open vent. Had not Scott been rounded by a nightmare, the crew would have perished.

When the sub reached port, Scott found a letter from his sister. It told of a disastrous explosion in the munitions factory where she worked, on the same day the gas almost wrote finis to Scott's crew.

"I escaped without a scratch," she wrote. "I had dozed off at a desk in another building and was having a terrifying dream about you. I saw you and your crew lying motionless in your submarine. 'I tried to wake you but I simply couldn't. The munitions explosion shattered my dream and woke me. Had I not fallen asleep where I was, I, too, would have been blown to pieces. The explosion occurred at 10 in the morning. And I thank Lawrence."

Around Capitol Square

SCHOOLS—Practically everybody who bothers to think about public issues or government is ready to concede that the education of children is the biggest job confronting the State. More than two-thirds of all the tax money paid by North Carolinians is dedicated to public schools. A substantial percentage of all political controversy, whether on state or purely local level is related in some way to the administration of the public school system. For those reasons it is important to give to the taxpayer public the actual facts about school costs and the reasons for some of the administrative policies. And, somewhat paradoxically, for the same reasons it is extremely difficult to get facts and figures that are not subject to question or biased interpretation. It is more difficult to get away from the idea that quality and standards in public school must be measured with a dollar mark.

CONTRAST—There is striking contrast in the tenor of recent address by two outstanding North Carolina school leaders. Some six weeks ago Luther Hodges, Democratic Governor, spoke to a group of school teachers of Salisbury. The audience was made up of elected representatives of members of the North Carolina Education Association, the organization of white public school teachers in the State. About two weeks ago J. Amos Abrams, associate editor of North Carolina Education, the magazine published by NCEA, spoke to the State School Board Association at Chapel Hill. The incoming Lieutenant Governor emphasized the need for more attention on part of school teachers to the ethical phases of their positions as trainers of future citizens, and good naturedly chided them for putting so much emphasis on money. The teacher magazine editor indicated that, if not all the problems, would be solved if the State of North Carolina would just put into the schools a decent amount of money for adequate buildings and higher teacher salaries.

DARK—Dr. Abrams painted a very dark picture of the North Carolina public schools. He said that last year 43,000 school children met classes in hallways, cloakrooms, auditoriums and basements; some 10,000 others met classes in churches and rented quarters off the campus; some 11,000 others met classes in barracks and still 9,000 more went to school in double-session classes. That adds up to 73,000 pupils forced to use facilities never designed for classrooms. He did not include, as he might well have done, a greater number of pupils who sat in overcrowded, ill-lighted and poorly-ventilated class rooms. Neither did he mention the number of class rooms and whole school buildings standing empty because of consolidation programs, nor the number of pupils who have been "on strike" this fall because they refused to leave what they and their parents thought were adequate rooms to be transported by bus to distant buildings already crowded. No one can question Dr. Abrams' inference that there is something wrong with the school system, but it does seem appropriate to question whether the responsibility should be placed upon taxpayers, too stingy to provide facilities, or upon administrative policies that waste facilities already provided.

TEACHERS—It has been recognized for years that there is a serious shortage of white elementary school teachers. There is no real scarcity of white high school teachers, and there is an actual surplus of qualified Negro teachers at both levels. With that in mind, it would seem that the idea of determining the overall shortage of teachers by measuring the inches of newspaper advertisements in the "Teachers Wanted" columns of newspapers and professional magazines, the criterion used by Dr. Abrams, fails to afford anything approaching accurate data on the true scarcity situation. Application of the same rule to the number of advertisements by teachers for specialty positions wanted would indicate a surplus of teachers.

MONEY—Money is by no means the whole answer to the school problem, although more money certainly would relieve conditions. In talking about the need for money the school people seldom bother to mention how much has been spent in recent years. Inference that the citizens have been callous with respect to school houses loses some force when it is recalled that the State of North Carolina has put $50 million into public school buildings within the past three years—the first time in history that the State ventured into this field.

INCOMPLETE—Then, too, the school folks often use incomplete figures in reporting amounts contributed by the State to the public schools. In the same talk at Chapel Hill in which he told of the 73,000 pupils without adequate classrooms, Dr. Abrams said that the current appropriation

(Continued on Page 10)

What Other Papers Are Thinking

BELONGS TO DARK AGES

(WILLIAMSTON ENTERPRISE)

The system employed by the great State of North Carolina in caring for its mentally ill belongs to the Dark Ages. To be sure, the treatment provided now is better than it was during the early period, but compared with its ability, the State is possibly doing less for the unfortunate than was done back yonder.

Just as so many before him, Governor Kerr Scott has not chanced the cause of the mentally ill in this State during his tenure of office. Some progress has been made, but it has been limited and far short of the needs.

As a result, hundreds of mentally ill are literally rotting in county jails and thousands are a burden in as many private homes.

Week before last a 72-year-old mentally ill woman was placed in the common jail of Martin County. The institutions said there was no room for her, and she continues in the jail. Night after night and day after day, she paced the concrete floor in her bare feet, hardly stopping during the first week to sleep.

A new health building is in the making in Raleigh, but little has been done or is being done to relieve a condition more urgent among the mentally ill.

Personnel positions are literally crowded in the various public offices, but positions in the institutions for the mentally ill go begging for applicants month after month and year after year. If anything is being done after a realistic fashion, it is not known, for the help is kept piling up in the common jails with no crime charge against them.

It is our earnest wish that some candidate for governor and more candidates for the State House of Representatives and Senate would place in their platforms a plank upon which the mentally ill could stand and receive treatment unlike that prevailing in the Dark Ages.

Business Today

By ELMER ROESSNER
During the next thirty days business will learn exactly what effects a revised Presidential campaign can have on retail sales, movie attendance and other consumer spending.

There is little doubt that normal sales patterns will be affected because many people will be staying close to television and radio sets or participating directly in the campaigns. The big question is: How much?

Retail sales were affected by telecasts of the Kefauver investigation earlier this year. During the most exciting episodes, some stores were almost deserted. Bars with television, however, set new daytime cash-register records. The Kefauver hearings were held during shopping hours, but the big shows in the present campaign are being staged largely in evening hours.

The nominating conventions had only mild impact on trade, except in a few spots. Climaxes were saved for evening hours and of the two most popular days for evening shopping—Mondays and Thursdays. Mondays were little affected because the conventions were dull.

In the coming month, there may be exciting events almost any evening. And the number of stores open evenings is increasing. The National Retail Dry Goods Association says that "1952 has evidenced a seeming burst of two night openings by downtown stores in the larger cities."

Some merchants are considering asking the parties to avoid big events on Mondays and Thursday evenings in future campaigns. If the present one seriously disrupts sales on those popular shopping evenings, it is probable that trade associations will make such a suggestion formally.

Entertainment places, especially movies may be hit harder than retailers; the big political shows will coincide with normal attendance peaks.

Beneficiaries of the situation will be television and radio dealers and repair men, vendors of TV snacks, taverns with TV, and daytime retail operations that ordinarily feel the competition of evening openings.

There is another possible effect on businesses that depends on radio and TV advertising for sales. Being shoved off the air once will probably not hurt, but a company whose program is bounced on several successive days or weeks may find the continuity of their appeal seriously impaired.

Hal Boyle's Column

NEW YORK AP—Why doesn't some king-hearted scientist invent a pill or magic potion to create pleasant dreams?

This is one of the world's great needs. Life is such a living nightmare to millions today that they deserve and need peace in their sleep. But too often the goblins that infest their waking hours haunt their night minds, too, in even more magnified and fearful form.

It simply isn't fair. The quest for an elixir of youth may be doomed to failure, but science ought to be able to strew up a brew that will at least keep us young, happy and free of wars for our eight hours of slumber. If we all could stroll at ease in a Garden of Eden while asleep, it would be easier to face the troubles of the day. As it is now, we often merely close our eyes on one set of terrors, and doze off only to face another set even worse.

Consciousness is a two-sided coin—waking and sleeping—and is marked by fantasy in both periods. A man has some control of his dreams while he is awake. If the boss bawls him out, his mind immediately creates an interior drama in which he himself becomes head of the corporations and the boss becomes a janitor.

Every bum is a hero in his waking fantasies and walks his brain a king. But once he dozes off his conscience remorselessly takes over and makes him a bigger bum. It is only a legend that bums have happy dreams; they are ever snabbier in their nightmares.

That is the trouble with dreams asleep: You have no control over them. Only a man with insomnia can be sure of remaining a hero in his fant sies after midnight.

Even dogs and innocent children are harried by bad dreams.

The other night a friend of mine was startled by the crying of his six-year-old daughter. When he went to comfort her, she said:

"Daddy, I dreamed I was in a boat with two men. They were rowing around in the water picking up pieces of paper, and every piece of paper was where a little boy had died."

Why should a child have such an inexplicable nightmare? Presentiments of death and disaster come to all of us at times and gloom our slumber for no reason that we know. Sleep—which Shakespeare called the balm of hurt minds and sore nature's bath is then neither bath, nor balm, but a cold shower to terror from which we rouse sweating.

Mankind's three most common dreams are these:

1. A shy person finds himself naked in a jeering crowd.

2. You suddenly find yourself able to float or fly with the greatest of ease.

3. You go along picking up a long row of dimes, quarters and half dollars on a sidewalk.

My trouble is that I have all these dreams at once. I am soaring along without my trousers on vainly reaching down trying to grab coins from the sidewalk until all at once—I crash—and wake up on the floor, poor as ever and nursing a bruised elbow.

What I want is for science to

BEST CRYSTAL BALL:

ORDERS ON THE BOOKS
The opinions of business executives is a better measure of future conditions than government statistics. A.M. Raub, Dun & Bradstreet officer, told a meeting of cost accountants.

His reasoning: federal statistics are largely concerned with past performances. Executives' thinking is largely influenced by the number and size of orders on their books. In total, orders have more effect on the rise and fall of business than anything else.

RAYON UP, WOOL DOWN
IN KIDDIES' APPAREL

The foregoing may be scant comfort to the wool industry, however. Government figures on shipments of children's and infants' outerwear during 1951, just announced, reflect rayon's inroads on wool. Use of rayon increased in all types of garments except dresses and use of wool declined.

In coats, rayon increased 80 per cent over 1950 while wool declined almost 15 per cent; in ski and snow suits, rayon was up 40 per cent and wool down 11 per cent; and in dresses, rayon was down 15 per cent and wool down 45 per cent.

INDUSTRY AVERS
SHOES ARE BARGAINS

Three divisions of the shoe industry have united in a formal statement that fall shoppers are getting the greatest shoe bargains since before Korea. The declaration was made on behalf of the National Shoe Retailers Association, the National Shoe Manufacturers Association and the National Association of Shoe Chain Stores. It pointed out that shoe prices have been declining in the government's consumer price index while the index as a whole has been rising, and that shoes are 15 to 25 per cent below the recently abolished OPS ceilings.

HANG A WREATH
ON THE HEN HOUSE

To promote poultry feed, one manufacturer (Pillsbury Mills) has designated October, as National Hen House Month. It will be a change for those of us who are in the doghouse the rest of the year.

RADIO: A portable radio claimed to bring in stations far beyond range of other portables has been announced by RCA Victor, Camden, N.J. It operates on AC, DC or battery power, because the same plug must be used for all operations, the battery can't drain when the set is plugged in on house current.

NEW YORK AP—Why doesn't some king-hearted scientist invent a pill or magic potion to create pleasant dreams?

This is one of the world's great needs. Life is such a living nightmare to millions today that they deserve and need peace in their sleep. But too often the goblins that infest their waking hours haunt their night minds, too, in even more magnified and fearful form.

It simply isn't fair. The quest for an elixir of youth may be doomed to failure, but science ought to be able to strew up a brew that will at least keep us young, happy and free of wars for our eight hours of slumber.

If we all could stroll at ease in a Garden of Eden while asleep, it would be easier to face the troubles of the day. As it is now, we often merely close our eyes on one set of terrors, and doze off only to face another set even worse.

Consciousness is a two-sided coin—waking and sleeping—and is marked by fantasy in both periods. A man has some control of his dreams while he is awake. If the boss bawls him out, his mind immediately creates an interior drama in which he himself becomes head of the corporations and the boss becomes a janitor.

Every bum is a hero in his waking fantasies and walks his brain a king. But once he dozes off his conscience remorselessly takes over and makes him a bigger bum. It is only a legend that bums have happy dreams; they are ever snabbier in their nightmares.

That is the trouble with dreams asleep: You have no control over them. Only a man with insomnia can be sure of remaining a hero in his fant sies after midnight.

Even dogs and innocent children are harried by bad dreams.

The other night a friend of mine was startled by the crying of his six-year-old daughter. When he went to comfort her, she said:

"Daddy, I dreamed I was in a boat with two men. They were rowing around in the water picking up pieces of paper, and every piece of paper was where a little boy had died."

Why should a child have such an inexplicable nightmare? Presentiments of death and disaster come to all of us at times and gloom our slumber for no reason that we know. Sleep—which Shakespeare called the balm of hurt minds and sore nature's bath is then neither bath, nor balm, but a cold shower to terror from which we rouse sweating.

Mankind's three most common dreams are these:

1. A shy person finds himself naked in a jeering crowd.

2. You suddenly find yourself able to float or fly with the greatest of ease.

3. You go along picking up a long row of dimes, quarters and half dollars on a sidewalk.

My trouble is that I have all these dreams at once. I am soaring along without my trousers on vainly reaching down trying to grab coins from the sidewalk until all at once—I crash—and wake up on the floor, poor as ever and nursing a bruised elbow.

What I want is for science to Check new clothes and strength on weak places, fix threads that are broken, or not fastened off. Check buttons too, to see if they're fastened tightly.

Polish handbags and other leather accessories with a cream wax. Put clear nail polish on metal fasteners and trim. Put wax also on shoes before wearing them. Buy two or three pairs of hosiery of the same color at the same time and be sure they're the right length so they'll hit well with the girdle length. Wash before wearing. Be careful in removing the price tags and keep nails in good shape and shoes in good repair to prevent snagging.

U.S. Is Losing Its Southern Friends

By PHIL NEWSOM

United Press Foreign News Editor

The United States is losing ground in its efforts to win friends and influence people below the Rio Grande.

Argentina's Juan Peron long has taken pleasure in baiting the U.S. "Colossus of the North," and now it appears that his policies and influence are extending to other South American countries.

In Chile a man who campaigned on an anti-American platform is about to become president. Seventy-five year old Gen. Carlos Ibanez will be inaugurated Nov. 4, the same day the United States selects a new President. Ibanez already has denounced Chile's military aid pact with the United States.

His rule is expected to take a leaf from Peron's book. The nationalist government seized power in a military coup last April. Argentine capitalists have just been granted a 25-year monopoly to smelt Bolivian tin and to make explosives.

Peron would like to get control of both Chilean copper and Bolivian tin.

Uruguay, long a staunch friend of the United States, currently is beset by strikes in its vital public services. Uruguay blames much of its trouble on the labor attaché to the Argentine Embassy who since has been ordered from the country.

Brazil, which also has been friendly to the U. S., gradually is isolating itself behind a higher and higher economic wall.

She is about to adopt "economic sovereignty" legislation which will ban foreign interests from exploitation of the country's oil resources. She also will levy special taxes on imported fuels and will increase tariffs on all kinds of foreign goods.

Mr. Cotton Farmer

We wish to announce that the Ballard Cotton Gin is now open and is ready and anxious to serve you for the 1952 season. The gin has been completely reconditioned and is under new management. We will be glad to gin your cotton.

Ballard Gin Co.

Ballard's Cross Roads — Phone 36101

General Offers Plan To Capture MIG-15 And Pilot

SOMEWHERE IN KOREA (UP)

So far nothing has come of it and possibly Washington is still mulling over the matter, but an Air Force general in Korea has come up with a plan to capture some of the famous MIG-15 jet fighters.

The plan is simplicity itself. It would deliver an undamaged Russian-built jet fighter to the United Nations, along with the pilot.

"All we would have to do," said the general, who asked that his name be withheld, "would be to let the Red pilots know that we are offering them asylum in the United States, plus, say $50,000 tax free."

"We don't know how much a MIG costs to build. A B-29 costs about a million, so an undamaged MIG should be worth $50,000."

"And think of the book rights when the guy got to the States and wrote his memoirs on why he chose to desert the Communists. Why, even Hollywood would probably make him an offer."

How would the word get to the Communist pilots?

"That's easy," the general said. "You could drop leaflets from high up over North Korea, where we go practically every day anyway, when the wind is blowing toward Antung, the Red jet base in Manchuria just across the Yalu River."

"Thousands of them would land where the pilots could pick them up. We wouldn't have to specify what kind of a pilot, either. He could be a Russian, a Pole, a Chinese or a North Korean. All he would have to do is to bring a jet-driven MIG to an Allied air base in South Korea and all his troubles would be over."

How would the MIG pilot manage to get to an Allied airfield without being shot down by U.N. planes or ground guns after he had been picked up on a radar screen?

"The leaflets themselves would tell the surrendering pilot the route to follow so that he could be identified. He would probably come in over the sea, was his wings in a certain way or do any of a hundred things."

"As soon as our radar picked him up, we'd know he wasn't one of ours, and we could track him carefully to see if he was following instructions."

Saw A-Bombing At Close Range

CAMP LEJEUNE, N. C. (AP)—Marine Corps Pfc. George S. Kobayashi saw the atom-bombing of Hiroshima from the ground because at the time he was an officer candidate in the Japanese Imperial Army.

"There was an ear-shattering explosion and a blinding flash," he said. "Everyone started to run. I sought safety in a train tunnel." Several days later Kobayashi walked through the city. "The buildings were nothing but a mass of twisted steel and strewn rubble," he said.

Kobayashi was born in Hawaii in 1927 but attended school in Japan where he was drafted into the Japanese army in 1945. He was studying in Hawaii when drafted into the U.S. Marine Corps recently.

Bonner Speaks To Club Tonight

Congressman Herbert Bonner of the First North Carolina Congressional District will be guest speaker at a meeting tonight of the International Relations Club of East Carolina College. The program will take place at 7:30 in the auditorium of the campus Training School.

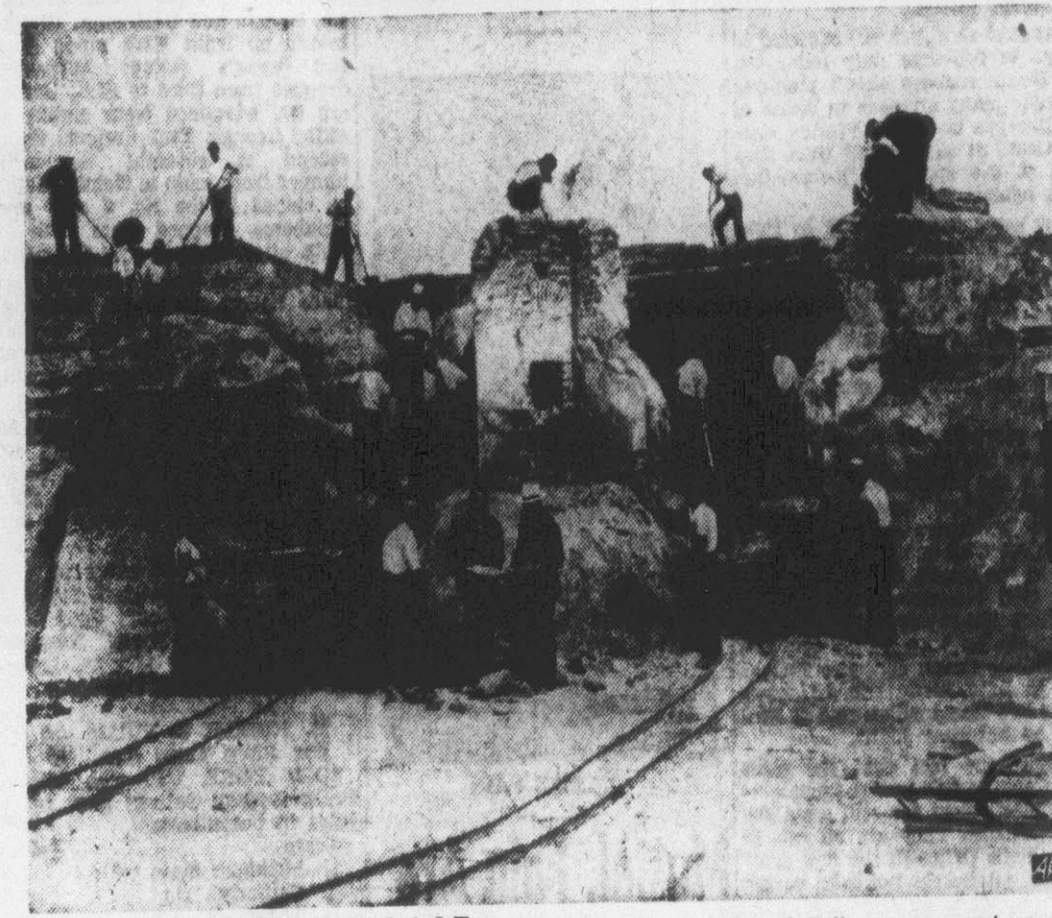

Through President Rudolph Alexander of Goldsboro, members of the IRC have extended an invitation to the public to be present to hear the distinguished visitor. Mr. Bonner's topic for the evening has not been announced.

Perfect Bridge Hands For Four

GRAND FORKS, N. D. (UP)—Four women who drew perfect bridge hands in the same deal never got a chance to play them.

Mrs. Mark Hinderlie was the first to remark: "I've got a perfect hand." She had 13 diamonds. Mrs. Homer Rovelstad had all clubs. Mrs. Bernard MacDermott all hearts and Mrs. Ill Blair all spades.

The hand was conceded to Mrs. Blair.

UNCOVERING THE PAST — Laborers under direction of Italian government experts excavate a 2000-year-old home from the volcanic ash that covers Roman city of Pompei.

Neel Painting Is Chosen For Annual Art Exhibit

Francis Lee Neel, acting director of the department of art at East Carolina College, has received notification that his painting "First Love" has been chosen for inclusion in the Seventh Southeastern Annual Art Exhibition in Atlanta, Ga.

One of the most outstanding and easily competitive art events in the country, the exhibition is scheduled for September 28 — October 12 at the High Museum of Art. The paintings will later be taken on tour.

The regional exhibition is held under the direction of the Atlanta Art Association and is sponsored by the Junior League of Atlanta and the Davison-Paxon Co. The jury of selection this year was made up of the distinguished American artists Doris Lee and Arnold Blanch.

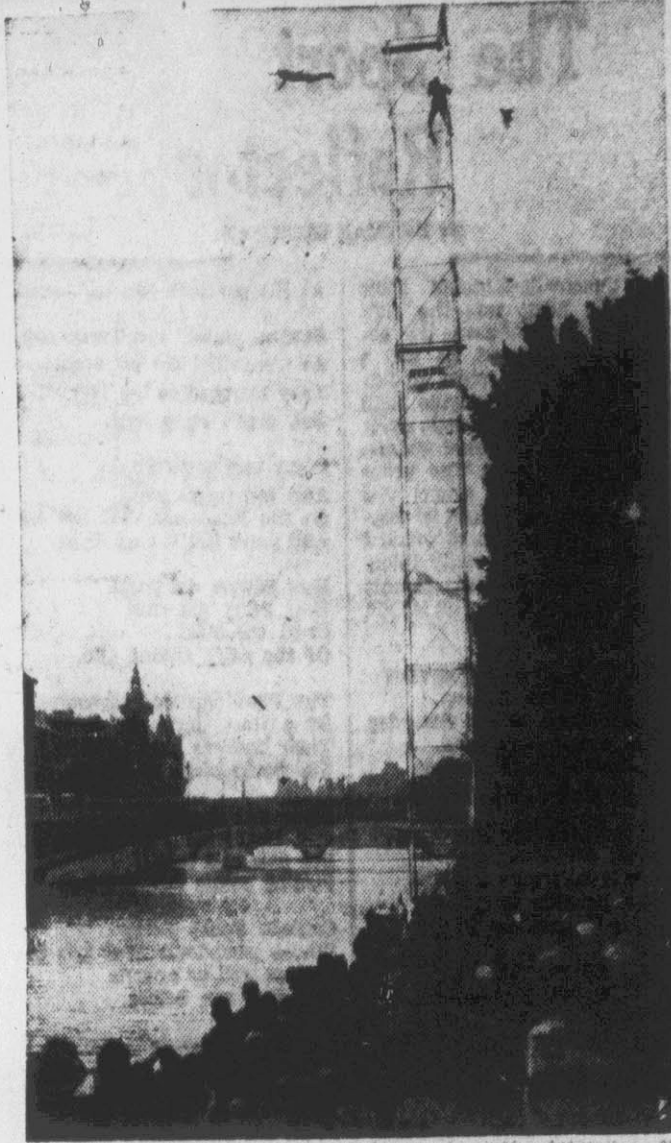

Mining Mishaps Rise In Red China

HONG KONG (AP) — The Chinese Communists admit that coal mine accidents have increased since they launched their "anti-corruption" drive against private owners and put on a campaign for increased production.

The Peiping Peoples Daily, official organ of the Chinese Communist party, gives no figures but indicates the accident rise is steep, saying "this serious state of affairs must be altered."

The paper blames accidents on "shortcomings in leadership," "a lot of the non-Communist operators presumably were kicked out-violation of safety regulations and imperfect inspection."

It is believed that the various forms of football had their origins in a primitive game in which an inflated pig bladder was used by teams numbering as much as 200 on a side.

TO BENEFIT A CHURCH — The Abbe Simon, diving for past two years to help collect funds to rebuild his church in East France, plunges 114 feet into River Seine in Paris.

Reports U. S. Is Now Producing Mightier Jet

CINCINNATI (UP) — C. W. Lapierre, manager of Evendale General Electric plant near here, said the U. S. is producing one of the most "efficient and powerful" jet engines in the world today.

Lapierre said GE's J-47 jet engine is "more efficient than the power plant in the Russian MIG fighters now operating in Korea and is as powerful and a little more efficient than jet engines used in the British Comet."

"The MIG engine may be lighter but ours is more efficient," he said at a press conference yesterday after a meeting here of GE officials to look over the company's plant, the world's largest.

He added that the J-47 engine is comparable to the jet engines flying the British Comets to South Africa and is certified for commercial use.

Tobacco Crop Is 5 Per Cent Off

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Agriculture Department predicted today that the 1952 crop of flue-cured tobacco will be 5 per cent smaller than last year and below average in quality.

The tobacco crop of all types was forecast, as of Sept. 1, at 2,220,000,000 pounds. The department said the decline in the U. S. crop was part of a 4 per cent decline expected in tobacco production this year in the world's north temperate zones.

Carbon black is so messy to handle that British stevedores get extra pay known as "dirty money" when they handle a carbon black cargo.

Stay beautiful — by avoiding monthly look

No tell-tale signs on her face because cramps, jitters bother her no more. Why look older, worn out, jittery for 1 or 2 days each month? Why let everybody know your "time" is here? Thousands of smart girls and women take a little Cardui each day to help build new energy and resistance. They look, act, sleep better, feel less and less misery each month. Some even go through periods without pain after a while. Stay lovely all month—ask your dealer for Cardui.

CARDUI MONTHLY CRAMPS CHANGE OF LIFE

Beautify your home as you heat it!

WITH Genuine DUO-THERM FURNITURE STYLED OIL HOME HEATER

A Big Capacity Console! Automatic Power Air Blower Saves up to 25% on Fuel!

Luxurious mahogany finish. New Exclusive Automatic Power-Air Blower gives even forced warm-air heating, saves 1 out of 4 fuel dollars—(optional). Exclusive Duo-Therm Dual Chamber Burner gives more heat from every drop of oil. 4 Big heat radiating doors. Waist-high heat control dial. Automatic Draft Minder. Waste Stopper. Humidifier. Add thermostat and send fire from your easy chair.

$15.00 DOWN DELIVERS FROM Taft Furniture Co.

55 Years of Continuous Service

ANNOUNCEMENT

The LeAnne Beauty Shop

Has Been Purchased By

Mrs. Jimmy Smith

As of October 1, 1952

We will welcome the continued patronage of all its customers and wish to serve others who will come.

When you visit us, you will find a courteous and friendly atmosphere with experienced operators.

"The Best In Greenville"

The LeAnne Beauty Shop

109 East Fourth Street — Phone 3544

Television's  Achievement

Bendix* TV

The Finest Picture Science Can Produce

- Engineered
- For No Glare
- Full Width
- Clarity!
- 17 Inch Screen

The "Carolina" You'll never be satisfied with an ordinary television set again... not after you've seen the superbly realistic picture of new Bendix TV.

Appliance Sales & Service Corporation

509 Evans Street — Tel. 4260

The Sport Reflector

By HERMAN HICKMAN

The Greenville-Kinston game last Friday night was the most exciting high school game this observer ever witnessed. It was a thrilling game from start to finish; and staunch Greenville High fans sat to the final whistle soaking in the long awaited victory.

A young sophomore who writes sports for the high school was inspired to the extent that he composed the following poem which I am sure will be especially interesting to those who were present and saw the Phantoms in action last Friday night.

GREENVILLE VS. KINSTON

By Wayne Bishop
Twas the night before Saturday
And the voices were loud.
That belonged to the people
Who were in the large crowd.

Over the Greenville Phantoms,
Kinston
Had won nine games straight,
But now we were to see
What was to be their fate.

This was the year of '32
And Kinston had a good team.
But Greenville had the coach
And the Phantoms had the steam.

The referee flipped a coin into the air
The Phantom captain looked sick.
For he had lost the toss
And Greenville would have to kick.

Greenville ran hard
And Kinston did just as good.
But the score of 6-0

At the quarter's end still stood.
Sawyer passed and Perry ran
As Greenville did no wrong.
They marched to the 14-yard line
But didn't tarry long.

Perry took a pitchout
And ran to his right.
So the Phantoms took the lead
And never lost it that night.

How Sawyer did pass!
How Perry did run!
Until the blast
Of the game ending gun.

The Phantoms won of course
By a score thirty-one to six.
Their line was hard as nails
The backs tough as bricks.

Little Pat Sawyer,
The Phantoms' star quarterback,
Did pass and pass
Putting points into the sack.

Captain Bobby Perry
Whose touchdown total was four,
Ran as well as anyone
Has ever run before.

Phantom Co-captain Jimmy Cheatham
Seemed more like a ghost,
As he made tackles everywhere
From his linebacker's post.

Much joy reigned in Greenville
On that fine September day,
But the gloom was so thick in
Kinston
That rain won't wash it away.

Duke Team Rated Equal To Rose Bowl Favorites

By The Associated Press
Are Duke's Blue Devils about to ascend the throne of national gridiron prominence again?

The answer to that question may come Saturday when the Duke team clash with Tennessee's Vols in Durham.

The Blue Devils already have been tabbed the team to beat in the race for Southern Conference laurels—an honor that befell them by virtue of Maryland's suspension from league football activity for a year.

But Coach Bill Murray's youngsters indicated last week they may be ready to assert themselves nationally, too. They whipped Southern Methodist, 14-7, in doing something no other team from North Carolina has done—defeat a Texas team in Texas.

Murray won't have any trouble getting his boys "up" for the Vols. Coach Bob Neyland's Tennesseans have romped at will over the Dukes the past two campaigns.

America Hank Lauricella scored one touchdown, set up another and played a tremendous all-around game.

Lauricella is no longer around to spark the Vols, but Neyland has lots of other 1951 bruisers.

But so have the Dukes. And not only that—the Blue Devils appear to have finally got the hang to Murray's T-Formation. Before defeating Southern Methodist, they pinned a 34-0 defeat on Washington and Lee.

Wood Memorial Doubles Purse

NEW YORK (AP)—The Wood Memorial, major Eastern prep for the Kentucky Derby, will be doubled in value from $50,000 to $100,000 next spring, directors of Jamaica Race Track announced today.

The three-year-old race, usually held in April about two weeks before the Derby, was inaugurated in 1925.

Dwight Shoe May Play Saturday

The East Carolina College Pirates wrapped through their gridiron workouts yesterday with some unexpected good news to spur them on.

The news concerned All-Conference end Dwight Shoe who was removed from Saturday's game with Lenoir-Rhyne because of an injury to his side. Preliminary examinations Saturday suggested broken ribs but a more thorough examination yesterday revealed that Shoe's injuries are limited to a badly bruised side and some pulled muscles. He will be held out of practice for most of this week but it is hoped that he will be able to play Saturday night when the Pirates meet Catawba in the annual East Carolina homecoming game.

Most of the practice session yesterday was devoted to work with reserves. The members of the first offensive and defensive teams were given a few limbering up exercises, a bit of practice on some plays, and then dismissed for the day. After the first-stringers were off the field, Head Coach Jack Boone and Line Coach Clyde Biggers ran two full teams of reserves through a rough scrimmage session.

The first-stringers are expected to return to full-time duty today but the Pirates coaches aren't planning to make many changes in either of the line-ups or in the Pirates style of attack. At the present time, they plan to use standard T-formation plays against Catawba.

The game Saturday will be right much of a "feeler" for both teams as it is the first meeting of the schools since East Carolina was admitted to the North State Conference in 1947. The Indians have split two games thus far this year while the Pirates have won once in three contests.

The possibility of Shoe's participation in the game will do much to improve the Pirates' chances against Catawba. He was a unanimous choice for All-Conference honors last year and is rated as one of the top line-men in the state's collegiate circles. Shoe is a 180-pound senior from Salisbury. His injury Saturday night is thought by both Boone and Lenoir-Rhyne Coach Clarence Staasavich to have made the difference in the two teams which met in Hickory on Saturday night.

Despite the fact that the game with Catawba will be the homecoming contest, there are still some tickets available. They are on sale in the Athletic Office in the new gymnasium. All tickets not sold during the week will be on sale at the gate Saturday night.

Athletics Sign For Next Year

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Less than 24 hours after the 1952 major league season ended, three pitchers and a second baseman signed 1953 contracts with the Philadelphia Athletics, who finished fourth in the American League this year.

The pitchers who signed yesterday were Alex Kellner, Bobo Newson and Harry Byrd. Cass Michaels is the second baseman.

General Manager Arthur Bliers, who made the announcement, did not disclose the terms of the new contracts.

Greenville Man Lands Big Fish

Fishing apparently is getting better all the time.

A party composed of Miles Swinson, Annie Little, John Grimes and Raymond Tyson, all of Greenville, pulled in a total of 98 fish at Morehead City last Saturday.

A prize 36 pound Blue Mackerel, usually found only in deep water, was landed by Swinson from the pier. The remainder of the catch consisted mostly of Pin fish and Spots.

STAN MUSIAL

FERRIS FAIN

Musial, Fain Are Batting Champs

NEW YORK (AP)—A 38-year-old major league batting mark was equalled when Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals and Ferris Fain of the Philadelphia Athletics repeated as the hitting champions of the two circuits.

Not since 1914 when Brooklyn's Jake Daubert and Detroit's Ty Cobb won the titles for the second straight year have the two leagues had the same champions two successive years.

Musial, first baseman-outfielder, fought off a late-season rush by Chicago's Frankie Baumholtz to nail down his sixth National League crown, the last three straight, with a .336 mark. Baumholtz hit .325. Musial won in 1951 with .355.

Fain, Philadelphia's scrappy first sacker, wrestled with Cleveland's Dale Mitchell during the season, but always managed to stay one jump ahead to wind up on top of the American League with .327. He topped last year with .344. Mitchell finished this year with .323.

NEVER WRITE LETTERS
FORT WORTH, Tex. (UP)—An absent-minded thief who left an unmailed, unsigned letter in a pilfered car trapped himself. Detective Herman Cobb said the letter described a previous car theft.

Duke Moves Near Number Ten Spot In College Ranks

By NORMAN MILLER

United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (UP)—Michigan State, making its strongest ballot showing of the season, retained its ranking as the nation's No. 1 football team in the United Press moving into the runner-up position.

The 35 outstanding coaches who make up the rating board gave Michigan State 23 first place votes and a total of 313 points—only 37 points short of a perfect score. Last week, in leading the first weekly ratings of the season, Coach Biggie Munn's powerhouse received a total of 276 points while in leading the pre-season ratings Michigan State received a total of 293 points.

California, fourth last week and fifth in the pre-season balloting, took over second place with 219 points and Texas moved up from seventh to third with 210 points.

Rounding out the top 10 in order were Illinois, Maryland, Southern California, Georgia Tech, Wisconsin, Kansas and Oklahoma. Illinois moved up from sixth place over last week's rating; Maryland dropped from third to fifth; Southern Cal advanced from eighth to sixth; Georgia Tech dropped from second to seventh; Wisconsin jumped from tenth to eighth; Kansas stayed in the No. 9 spot and Oklahoma dropped from fifth to tenth after being tied by Colorado.

In all, eight teams received first place ballots, Maryland finishing second to Michigan State in that respect with four. Illinois received three, California, Texas, Wisconsin, Tennessee and Duke, one each.

Tennessee wound up 11th with 50 points followed by Duke with 40. Points are awarded on the basis of 10 for a first place vote, nine for second and so on down to one for a 10th.

The coaches who make up the United Press rating board include: Paul Bryant, Kentucky; Andy Gustafson, Miami; Frank Howard, Clemson; William Murray, Duke and Robert Neyland, Tennessee.

1 11 CHART 88 BU123p s29
For PM's Tues. Sept. 30

NEW YORK (UP)—The United Press football ratings first place votes in parenthesis:

Team	Points
1. Michigan State (23)	313
2. California (1)	219
3. Texas (1)	210
4. Illinois (3)	180
5. Maryland (4)	158
6. Southern California	150
7. Georgia Tech	148
8. Wisconsin (1)	98
9. Kansas	79
10. Oklahoma	52
Second ten — Tennessee, 50;
Duke 40; Ohio State and Princeton,
30 each; Villanova, 29; UCLA, 28;
Pennsylvania, 20; Notre Dame, 17;
Virginia, 14; Georgia, 13.
Others — Washington, 9; Colorado, 8; Arizona State (Tempe),
7; Alabama and Kentucky, 6 each;
Rice, 4; Navy, 2; Holy Cross, Purdue and Tulsa, 1 each.

Walcott-Marciano Scrap Coming Here

Round-by-round pictures of the recent world championship fight between Jersey Joe Walcott and Rocky Marciano in Philadelphia will be shown at the Pitt Theater Friday and Saturday.

"The climax of important rounds will be shown in slow motion," Manager R. H. Strum stated.

OR OLD FACIAL

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UP)—There is one of those tricky water fountains in the sewer commissioner's office here—the kind that squirts you in the face when you stoop for a drink. The office force has dubbed it "Old Faceful."

Big Four Teams Face Old Rivals

CHAPEL HILL (UP)—

North Carolina's Tar Heels settled down to a week of intensive work today after writing off last week's 28-7 loss to Texas as bad beginner's luck in the split-T.

The squad devoted yesterday's practice session to rugged blocking drills on offense and arrangement and practice of defenses against Georgia plays. Sonny Ridenhour, a Winston-Salem sophomore, was in the safety slot in the absence of Billy Williams, who aggravated an old ankle injury in the game against Texas.

While disappointed that the Tar Heels could not work up a better offense against mighty Texas, coaches told the players they had confidence in their developing a good team this season.

Jayvee Coach Ted Hazelwood, who scouted Georgia in its 21-13 win over Tulane, warned the Tar Heels the Bulldogs have a brilliant passing attack.

Duke Will Meet Favored Vol Team

DURHAM (UP)—Coach Bill Murray of Duke warned his squad today that both offensive and defensive crews will have to improve if they hope to play Tennessee "on anything like equal terms."

The United Press board of coaches listed Duke as 12th team in the country, immediately after the Volunteers who rated No. 11.

The Dukes practiced at night in Duke Stadium for the first time last night. Duke officials said the athletic office has been besieged with orders for the Tennessee game Saturday since the victory over the Mustangs.

The Blue Devils scouted the Volunteers themselves over the week-end. En route back to Durham from Texas, they stopped off to watch Tennessee top Mississippi State 14-7.

Wake Prepares To Face Strong Team

WAKE FOREST (UP)—Wake Forest's Deacons dug in for heavy work against Boston College's ground and air attack today as they readied for the B.C. meeting in Winston-Salem Saturday night.

Deacon mentor Tom Rogers told his squad the Massachusetts outfit is a "vastly improved club." The team heard scouts' reports that Boston College boasts a hard-hitting ground and air attack.

Rogers gave the Deacs a look at the B.C. ground game as the Jayvees ran through dummy scrimmage using the ground plays of Wake Forest's Saturday foe.

State May Play Mostly Freshmen

RALEIGH (UP)—Coach Morace Hendrickson warned members of his North Carolina State College squad last night that "veteran players" must show a greater desire to play football or Saturday night's starting lineup against Davidson may be freshmen.

The State College coach said the 39-0 drubbing by George Washington last Saturday night occurred because "the team has been let down by some of those veteran players who should have given a good account of themselves."

"We intend to play only those men this week against Davidson who show a desire to play football and if we have to start freshmen on both offense and defense we will have men in the lineup who will give their best," he said.

An hour-long scrimmage followed the verbal dressing down.

Veteran Players Feature World Series Contest

NEW YORK (AP)—Who will be the outstanding star in the 1953 World Series?

Jackie Robinson? Peeewe Reese? Joe Black? Phil Rizzuto? Yogi Berra? Allie Reynolds?

The writer's selection is Mickey Mantle, the ever-improving New York Yankee sophomore star who has done a fine job of filling the shoes of the great Joe Dimaggio.

The Yankees have had a monopoly on World Series stars during the past few years for obvious reasons. The first is that they're been the American League representative in all but one year since 1947. The other is that they've won the world championship each time.

Mantle may become the fourth straight Yankee to win the Series outstanding honor this year. The Oklahoma strong boy has improved at such a rapid pace during the summer that he developed into one of the m.c. feared batsmen in the American League. During the September Stretch drive Mantle was a one-man destruction gang with his bat, clubbing at a .375 pace to bring his batting average up to .311, tops on the Yankee team.

The fleet-footed youngster paced the Bronx Bombers in hits, total bases, extra base hits and was second only to Berra in home runs and runs batted in. A switch hitter, Mickey possesses equal power from both sides of the plate. He hit 12 homers left-handed and 11 right-handed during the season.

The switcher, as he is called by his teammates, also has developed into a good defensive player.

Addressing the weekly meeting last night of the Charleston Touchdown Club, Wade concluded, "I don't know the answer to the trouble. But I do know that until the game is taken out of the hands of the promoters and given back to the players, football won't be what it was designed to be—an educational and training program."

One of the most technical of industries, electronics manufacturing, employs an unusually large proportion of unskilled workers.

FIREWORKS!

Brilliant Display
4 Nights, 9 o'Clock
Tuesday, Wednesday
Thursday and Friday
Pitt County Fair
ALL NEXT WEEK

ECHO SPRING

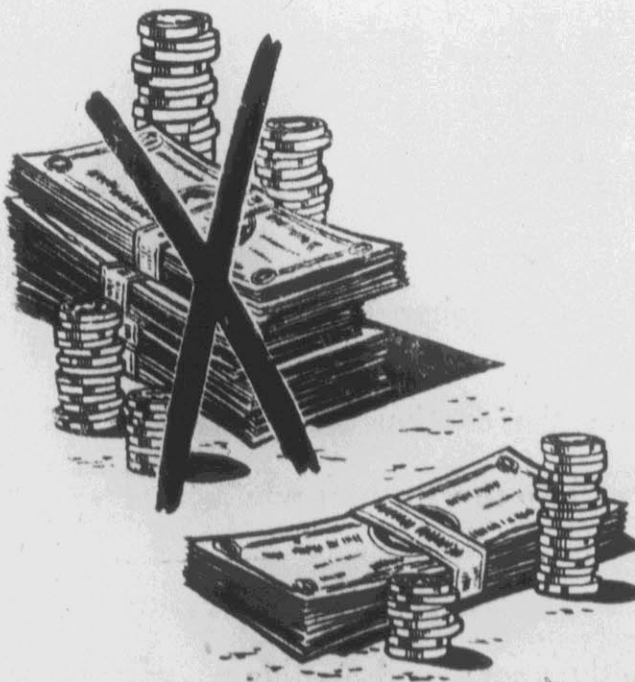

4 YEARS OLD
KENTUCKY
STRAIGHT
BOURBON

PINT $2.30 4-5 QT. $3.65

86 Proof • Echo Spring Distilling Co., Louisville, Ky.

NOW YOU CAN HAVE A NEW BRICK HOME ... FOR LESS CASH!

Now that the Government has suspended Regulation X (restrictions on real estate loans) it is no longer necessary to sacrifice quality just to meet Government requirements for down payment. For less down payment you now can build more quality features into a house which will save money in the future, protect the resale value, and add to the pleasure and pride of home ownership.

Chief among such quality features is brick. By building with brick the month to month cost of your new home is less. Brick require no painting, no pest-proofing, no waterproofing. Depreciation is less. Because brick cannot burn, insurance rates are lower on solid brick or cavity wall construction. Over a twenty year period you can save as much as half the cost of your new home by building with brick.

Yes ... Build now! and build with ever-beautiful brick. Down payments are lower and brick construction means less to pay out year after year.

BRICK & TILE SERVICE, INC., GREENSBORO, N. C.

MEMBER MANUFACTURERS

Borden Brick & Tile Co., Goldsboro
Boren Clay Products Co., Pleasant Garden
Cherokee Brick Co., Raleigh
Crumpler Brick Co., Roseboro
Eastern Brick & Tile Co., Inc., Greenville
Grant Brick Works, Weldon

Ideal Brick Co., Fayetteville
Kendrick Brick & Tile Co., Mt. Holly
Lee Brick & Tile Co., Sanford
Moland-Drysdale Corp., Hendersonville
Nash Brick Co., Rocky Mount
Norwood Brick Co., Lillington
Hanford Brick Co., Burlington
Yadkin Brick Co., New

Pine Hall Brick & Pipe Co., Winston-Salem
Sampson Brick Co., Roseboro
Sanford Brick & Tile Co., Colon
Senter Brick Co., Lillington
Stanley Shale Products, Inc., Norwood
Statesville Brick Co., Statesville

MELROSE

Straight BOURBON Whiskey

EIGHT 8 YEARS OLD

90
PROOF

300
PINT

480
4/5 QUART

STRAIGHT BOURBON WHISKEY. 90 PROOF. MELROSE DISTILLERS, INC., NEW YORK, N.Y.

TOUGH COP

By JOHN ROEBURT

Chapter Three
"How do you know?"
"I followed her home that night."

"Why haven't you visited her, spoken to her?"

"I lack the courage."

"But to inquire into your background, prove or disprove your doubts?"

"I'm afraid. And I'm alone." Her voice dropped to a barely audible key. "I'm just frightened all the time—as though something terrible was going to happen. To me."

"No birth certificate?" he asked suddenly, taking charge of her problem.

"No. It was destroyed in a fire. This was in St. Paul. I've only school certificates as proof of birth."

"Her tone now took his stewardship almost for granted."

"How do you know a fire destroyed your birth record?"

"He told me so."

"Did you check?"

"Yes. I wrote the Town Clerk. He wrote back that the Hall of Records had burned to the ground fifteen years ago."

After a moment, Devereaux said, "I suppose it's idiotic of me to ask whether you bear the same name as this man—your father."

"We bear the same name, of course."

Devereaux puffed rapidly, then flipped the cigarette into the street.

"I might be able to help," he began slowly, facing her. "Maybe let you lean a little."

His eyes pinched at the corners in a shrewd, searching look. "If you were completely honest."

There was a betraying start, then a look of bewilderment that was palpably forced came into her face. Devereaux said forbiddingly, "Lie, and I'll dump you into the street on your lovely, lovely bottom."

His tone softened. "Now, how did you happen into the back of my car?"

"Why, I—I left the Club Fifty-Two so hurriedly, in panic."

She stopped, staring at his warning look. "You don't believe me, do you?"

"No, I don't. Furthermore, I don't believe anyone was after you, or that you were running from anyone, or that you were out with a boy friend, or that you were even at the Club Fifty-Two. And I do believe you landed in my car according to plan, by design, and by choice."

He saw the awe filling her face, and for the life of him he couldn't help chuckling. "Nothing really uncanny, nor is it an extrasensory perception, believe me. It's a simple matter of propriety and twenty yards. Propriety wouldn't permit an obviously proper young lady to enter a stranger's automobile, whatever her haste and panic. And there was a taxicab parked twenty yards closer to the door of Club Fifty-Two than my car. Any fugitive, especially a frightened young lady handicapped by high heels, would run into the nearest available taxicab."

"You're right, in everything you've said," she finally conceded in wilted tones. "I did pretend to run out of Club Fifty-Two, and I did pick you deliberately."

She seemed to droop. "I suppose you disbelieve everything I've told you now?"

"Shouldn't I?"

"It's all true," she said, hollowly. "All right, then. I believe you."

"Will you help me?" Her fingers were touching him.

"Yes," he promised in a rush, then stopped, again surprised at her effect on him. His pulse was quickening, and there was a warmth flowing through him that he fought against showing in his face. Calmer, and nothing more, he told himself sternly. He drew his arm away from her fingers. "Just how did you come to pick me as your champion?"

"I'd heard about you, read about you in the papers all week long."

Her voice bubbled with admiration. "Fascinating stories about your twenty years as a detective. About how wise you are, and how clever."

It was flattery and he'd had much of it—up to his neck—but coming from her it was excitingly new. "Spare my blushes," he said.

"I tried to see you yesterday, right after that farewell banquet they gave you. But there were too many people around you then."

"Tell me your name," Devereaux said.

"Jennifer Phillips."

"And Mr. Whosis—which Phillips is he?"

There was a small hesitation. "Martin Phillips."

Devereaux whistled. Martin Phillips, the grand slam among theater critics. The high priest of literature who used rattlesnake venom for ink. The man who said that the drama had died with Shakespeare, that glamour was buried with Queen Victoria.

"He's an important figure, your so-called father," Devereaux said soberly.

"I know," she agreed dismally. Her fingers found his arm again.

"Will you help me?"

"What was the name of that hotel?"

"The Orleans."

"What does this Mrs. Jennings, or Mrs. Gordon look like?"

"Gray-haired. About sixty, I'd say. Pale, like a sick person. Small, almost daintily small."

Her eyes shone at him and her voice was fervent. "Thank you so very much."

"You're a little premature," Devereaux said. "Now, where can I drop you?"

(To be continued)

Storm Is Dying Out Over Ocean

MIAMI, Fla. (UP)—A tropical storm which had threatened for a while to become the season's fourth hurricane was dying out some 600 miles east-northeast of Puerto Rico today.

The Weather Bureau here said the storm had "degenerated into a squally area" with winds of only 40 miles an hour near its center.

Aid-Man Killed, Wounded Soldier Retrieves Body

By RICHARD APPELEGATE
United Press Staff Correspondent
SOMEWHERE IN KOREA (UP)—The boy sat there rubbing the bloody smear on the side of his head where his ear had been.

The ear was torn off by a chunk of the same shell I thought was going to hit me.

It came in with a wining whoooooosh and crash.

The dust and debris were all around us. I felt myself all over, then turned to my companion.

The Big Fair

Pitt County
Agricultural Fair
ALL NEXT WEEK
50,000 Is The Attendance Goal

NOTHING PERSONAL

STRATFORD, Ont. (UP)—Local residents who say there are a lot of old fossils in the city hall aren't making derogatory remarks about the city fathers. The base of the city hall walls is made of limestone which contains hundreds of fossils

Chapter Three

"How do you know?"
"I followed her home that night."

"Why haven't you visited her, spoken to her?"

"I lack the courage."

"But to inquire into your background, prove or disprove your doubts?"

"I'm afraid. And I'm alone." Her voice dropped to a barely audible key. "I'm just frightened all the time—as though something terrible was going to happen. To me."

"No birth certificate?" he asked suddenly, taking charge of her problem.

"No. It was destroyed in a fire. This was in St. Paul. I've only school certificates as proof of birth."

"Her tone now took his stewardship almost for granted."

"How do you know a fire destroyed your birth record?"

"He told me so."

"Did you check?"

"Yes. I wrote the Town Clerk. He wrote back that the Hall of Records had burned to the ground fifteen years ago."

After a moment, Devereaux said, "I suppose it's idiotic of me to ask whether you bear the same name as this man—your father."

"We bear the same name, of course."

Devereaux puffed rapidly, then flipped the cigarette into the street.

"I might be able to help," he began slowly, facing her. "Maybe let you lean a little."

His eyes pinched at the corners in a shrewd, searching look. "If you were completely honest."

There was a betraying start, then a look of bewilderment that was palpably forced came into her face. Devereaux said forbiddingly, "Lie, and I'll dump you into the street on your lovely, lovely bottom."

His tone softened. "Now, how did you happen into the back of my car?"

"Why, I—I left the Club Fifty-Two so hurriedly, in panic."

She stopped, staring at his warning look. "You don't believe me, do you?"

"No, I don't. Furthermore, I don't believe anyone was after you, or that you were running from anyone, or that you were out with a boy friend, or that you were even at the Club Fifty-Two. And I do believe you landed in my car according to plan, by design, and by choice."

He saw the awe filling her face, and for the life of him he couldn't help chuckling. "Nothing really uncanny, nor is it an extrasensory perception, believe me. It's a simple matter of propriety and twenty yards. Propriety wouldn't permit an obviously proper young lady to enter a stranger's automobile, whatever her haste and panic. And there was a taxicab parked twenty yards closer to the door of Club Fifty-Two than my car. Any fugitive, especially a frightened young lady handicapped by high heels, would run into the nearest available taxicab."

"You're right, in everything you've said," she finally conceded in wilted tones. "I did pretend to run out of Club Fifty-Two, and I did pick you deliberately."

She seemed to droop. "I suppose you disbelieve everything I've told you now?"

"Shouldn't I?"

"It's all true," she said, hollowly. "All right, then. I believe you."

"Will you help me?" Her fingers were touching him.

"Yes," he promised in a rush, then stopped, again surprised at her effect on him. His pulse was quickening, and there was a warmth flowing through him that he fought against showing in his face. Calmer, and nothing more, he told himself sternly. He drew his arm away from her fingers. "Just how did you come to pick me as your champion?"

"I'd heard about you, read about you in the papers all week long."

Her voice bubbled with admiration. "Fascinating stories about your twenty years as a detective. About how wise you are, and how clever."

It was flattery and he'd had much of it—up to his neck—but coming from her it was excitingly new. "Spare my blushes," he said.

"I tried to see you yesterday, right after that farewell banquet they gave you. But there were too many people around you then."

"Tell me your name," Devereaux said.

"Jennifer Phillips."

"And Mr. Whosis—which Phillips is he?"

There was a small hesitation. "Martin Phillips."

Devereaux whistled. Martin Phillips, the grand slam among theater critics. The high priest of literature who used rattlesnake venom for ink. The man who said that the drama had died with Shakespeare, that glamour was buried with Queen Victoria.

"He's an important figure, your so-called father," Devereaux said soberly.

"I know," she agreed dismally. Her fingers found his arm again.

"Will you help me?"

"What was the name of that hotel?"

"The Orleans."

"What does this Mrs. Jennings, or Mrs. Gordon look like?"

"Gray-haired. About sixty, I'd say. Pale, like a sick person. Small, almost daintily small."

Her eyes shone at him and her voice was fervent. "Thank you so very much."

"You're a little premature," Devereaux said. "Now, where can I drop you?"

(To be continued)

DEVELOPS REVOLUTIONARY TV

267% More Sensitive, Brilliantly Clear,
No Glare even under Intense Light!

OFFERS FIRST PUBLIC SHOWING THIS WEEK—DAY Oct. 1st

Oct. 1st, 1952 Greenville TV and Appliance Center will avail its television showroom to a public demonstration of what is said to be one of the greatest technical advances since the beginning of television. According to Bob Hurst, the new G-E "Ultra-Vision" TV Set is 267% more sensitive than previous models and is capable of producing a picture quality beyond any comparison.

The new developments constitute the new "Stratopower" chassis, 267% more sensitive, and the optional

"Glarejector" screen which produces such brilliant pictures that the set will perform perfectly even with a searchlight trained directly on the screen.

Fortune Magazine's challenge that "TV sets will need every plus factor and technical improvement possible" has unquestionably been answered by General Electric. These magnificent developments, which reveal the most closely guarded secret in the TV industry, represent G-E's contribution to television for 1953.

Technicians at Greenville TV praise the new G-E "Ultra-Vision" and are confident that it is truly one of the GREATEST TECHNICAL ADVANCES SINCE THE BEGINNING OF TELEVISION.

The exclusive G-E developments are now available in a full line of 1953 G-E Black Daylite Television receivers. The showing of these great models will begin Monday, Sept. 22 and continue through Friday, Sept. 26 from 9:00 a. m. till 10:00 p. m. each day.

See It Demonstrated Now!

BLACK-DAYLITE TV

See It Demonstrated Now!

For This Premiere Showing
Our Sales Room Will Be

OPEN

Wed., Thurs., Fri.
Oct. 1-2-3

Until 5:30 P. M.

Come in . . . now . . . and see the TV that's all new — through and through! Not just a new tuner, or a new tube, or a fancy knob, but a whole new, radically different televiewing system!

Here in our showroom you will see G-E "ULTRA-VISION" demonstrated. You will thrill, just as we have, to the amazingly sharp and clear picture even in the face of brilliant lights. This is the TV that puts new pleasure, new realism in television and we urge you to come in now and see it.

Anywhere

GREATER POWER!

Anyplace

CLEARER PICTURE!

Anytime

LESS GLARE!

THE NEW TV TUNED KNOWLEDGE

Revolutionary as a Rocket

267% More Sensitive!

You get more power . . . clearer picture . . . less glare in the new G-E ULTRA-VISION SYSTEM. And no annoying reflections, thanks to the new G-E Glarejector. Easily adaptable to UHF.

EASIEST TERMS IN YEARS

If You Wish, You May

DIVIDE YOUR PAYMENT
OVER 24 MONTHS

Model 21C200

SPECIAL LABORATORY REPORT

In our own engineering laboratories, we have completed tests on the new G-E Ultra-Vision Television. Results of our tests were amazing and indicated that the new system is probably the greatest single advance since the beginning of television.

When you see this new television demonstrated and compare it with conventional sets, you will immediately recognize the fact that remarkable progress has been made in the development of the new G-E Ultra-Vision Television.

C. F. STRANBERG,
Chief Electronics Engineer,
Stranberg Engineering Laboratory,
Greensboro, N. C.

Model 21B200

GENERAL ELECTRIC

Greenville T - V & Appliance Center

CARLOS W. MURRAY

921 Dickinson Ave.

Tel. 2616

MALCOLM C. WILLIAMS

Bring In Your Child For a Shoe Check-up NOW!

Sizes 5 to 6	$5.95
6 1/2 to 8	$6.25
8 1/2 to 12	$6.95
12 1/2 to 3	$7.95

This is an especially good time to check up on your child's shoes . . . for proper size, width, and style. Our shoe fitting specialists cheerfully offer a complete heel-to-toe fitting service—plus Dr. Posner's famous shoes designed to aid Correct "Body Balance"—which means Perfect Posture...Better Bodily Health.

Call 2635 For Home Fitting Service

SAIEED'S

"We Fit Your Feet . . . Keep Feet Fit"

Productions Listed By Dramatics Club

Productions by the Teachers Playhouse, East Carolina College dramatic club, are now being planned for the 1952-1953 term; and a series of major events, as well as workshop and radio productions, have been announced by Lloyd Whitfield of Kinston, president of the organization.

Approximately 85 freshmen at the college participated last week in tryouts held to choose new talent for the group. Members of the club, returning to the campus after the summer vacation, are working with President Whitfield and Dr. Lucile H. Charles, faculty advisor of the Teachers Playhouse, who acts as consultant for all programs presented by the organization.

Shakespeare's "Macbeth" in an abridged version will be given as an outdoor play October 30. Whitfield and Percy Wilkins of Benson, will be student directors. Other plays announced for the school year include the perennial favorite "Charley's Aunt," to be directed by Carolyn Clapp of Greenville; "Born Yesterday," clever modern comedy success, with Ralph Rives of Enfield as director; and the annual drama for Pitt County school children, which will probably be Maeterlinck's "The Blue Bird."

Twenty-five workshop productions will be given during the term and will be open to the public. These short dramas will be presented on Thursday evenings at 7:30 in the Austin auditorium throughout the school year. Several radio productions are being planned.

In addition to Whitfield, officers of the Teachers Playhouse are Mary Anne Oates, Faison, vice president; Percy Wilkins, Benson, recording secretary; Carolyn Clapp, Greenville, corresponding secretary; and Bobbie J. Caldwell, Wadeville, treasurer.

Richard Nixon Is Officer Of YDC

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. (UP) — Richard R. Nixon, president of the Young Democrats Club at the University of North Carolina, admitted today he was a "distant cousin" of Republican vice presidential nominee Richard M. Nixon, but added that he was a "long time" Democrat.

First Federal Savings and Loan Ass'n.
Of Greenville

3%

Current Dividend Rates On Insured Accounts

Assets Over $3,000,000

Dividend Paying Policies

Tadlock Mutual Insurance Agency

Save With Safety . . . Buy Mutual Insurance
FIRE, AUTOMOBILE and TORNADO

322 Evans Street, Greenville, N. C. — Dial 2397

POORLY ALIGNED WHEELS
"EAT" TIRES!

When the front wheels of your car are out of alignment the tread is literally "eaten" off your tires before you know it. And poorly aligned wheels also make your car unsafe and tiresome to drive, too. Bring your car to us for inspection . . . and if needed, get this . . .

FRONT END ALIGNMENT

Special

HERE'S WHAT WE DO:

1. Adjust camber
2. Adjust caster
3. Adjust toe-in
4. Check king pin inclination
5. Check springs and shackles
6. Check brakes and shock absorbers
7. Inflate tires to proper pressures

John Flanagan Buggy Co.

GREENVILLE, N. C.

Czech Diplomat To UN Decides Not To Go Home

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UP) — Dr. Ivan Kerno of Czechoslovakia, who quit last week as United Nations secretary general for legal affairs, turned his back on his Communist homeland today to remain in "this great and free country of the United States."

Diplomatic observers considered Kerno's decision as the most important defection among high-ranking Iron Curtain diplomats in recent years.

Kerno, an intimate of Jan Masaryk and undersecretary of state in the government of Eduard Benes, announced his decision in a denunciation of the Communist coup which seized Czechoslovakia from the Benes regime in 1948.

"In 1948," he said Monday night on a radio and television of the U.N. Correspondents Association panel show, "United or Not," "I had to conform to the U.N. staff regulations and to reserve my opinion. Now I am free to speak, especially concerning relations between Czechoslovakia and the Soviet Union."

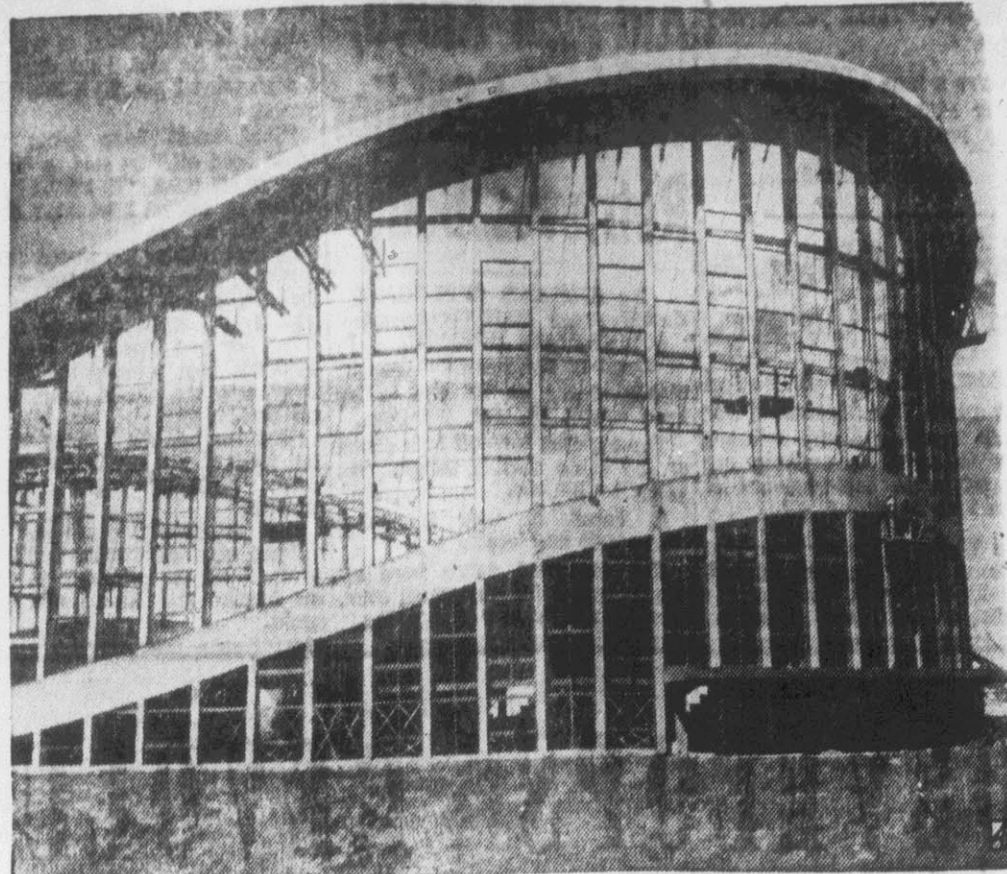

Kerno, who is 61, said he planned to remain with the U.N. even though he voluntarily relinquished his post as assistant to Secretary General Trygve Lie on Sept. 26. He expected to work for the U.N. International Law Commission on problems of refugees and stateless persons.

"I have always worked in countries where international questions are of paramount importance," he said. "After 4 years with the U.N., I plan to remain here in this great and free country — the U. S. — and continue to work on international problems."

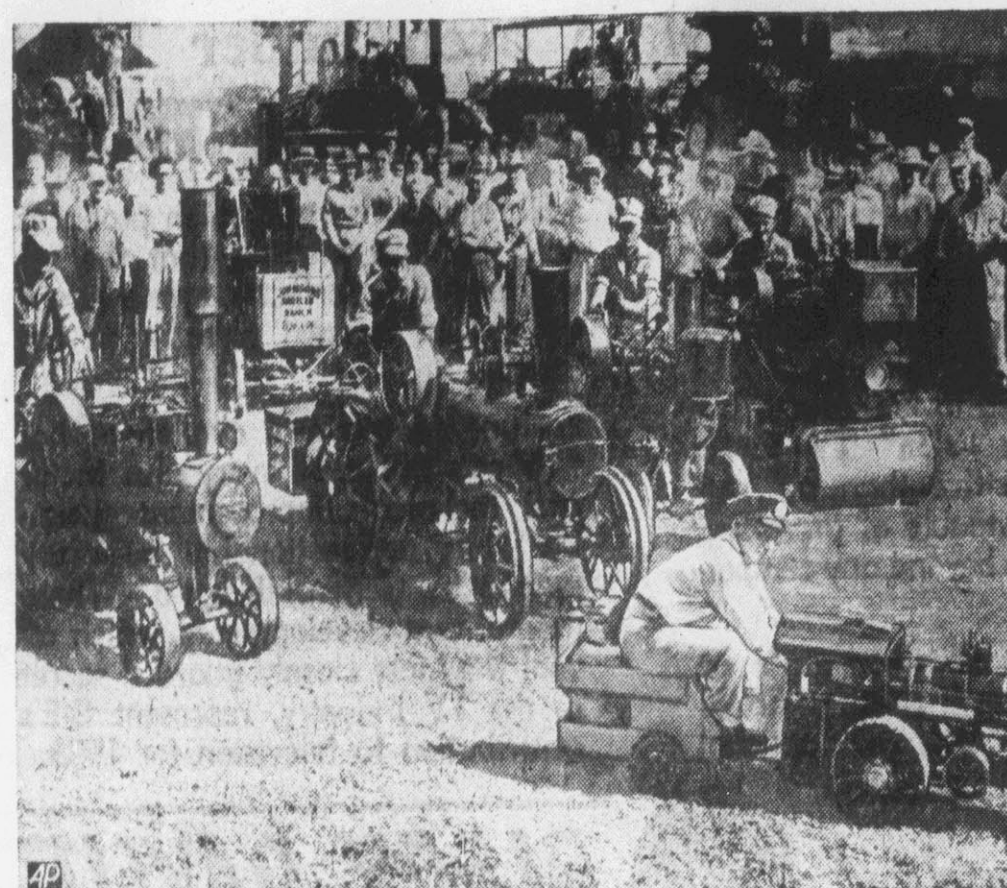

Kerno was the third top-line Czech in recent years to renounce Prague's red regime and to seek sanctuary here. Jan Papanek, chief representative to the U.N. for Czechoslovakia in 1948, denounced the Communist coup when it occurred. Two years ago, Vladimir Houdek, then chief of the Czech delegation to the U.N., resigned and asked Washington for political asylum.

Kerno said he anticipated no difficulty in gaining permission to remain here. Even if his U.N. diplomatic status should lapse, he told newsmen, he was certain Washington would raise no objection.

The international legalist, who had a distinguished career in the defunct League of Nations, told his broadcast audience that Masaryk and Benes had always held that "no compromise is possible with dictators."

'FLYING SAUCER ON GLASS PLATFORM' — This is the new livestock judging pavilion, nearly 100 ft. in diameter, on the North Carolina State Fair grounds at Raleigh.

JUST TOOTIN' ABOUT — These miniature steam engines operating under their own power were the favorite of crowds at 4th annual Central States Steam Engine Show in Pontiac, Ill.

Viscount Astor Dies In England

CLIVEDEN, England (UP) — Viscount Astor, 73, husband of Virginia-born Nancy Astor, died at his home today after a week's illness.

Waldorf Astor, the second Viscount Astor, was born in New York and before succeeding to his father's title was elected to the House of Commons five times. He was one of Britain's best-known sportsmen.

His country estate here was the meeting place of the so-called "Cliveden set" of politicians and other influential Britons in the days before World War II. "Cliveden" for a time was synonymous to appeasement of Hitlerite Germany and Mussolini-led Italy.

Later Viscount Astor denounced reports about the "Cliveden set" as "Communist fiction" and Viscountess Astor also vigorously denied them.

Astor, always somewhat overshadowed by his wife, was the great-grandson of American fur trader John Jacob Astor.

Astor married the former Nancy Langhorne in 1906 after she divorced her first husband, Robert Gould Shaw, millionaire Boston polo player.

She met Waldorf Astor aboard ship. During his first parliamentary campaigns, she stumped for him and developed her first interest in politics.

When Astor succeeded to the title of viscount and no longer was eligible for Commons, his dynamic wife was elected to his seat in 1919, the first woman to sit in Commons.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP) — When Dick Busby went on his vacation he didn't "get away from it all." Busby, who owns two lakes near here, went to Florida—to go swimming in a lake.

END OF A LIGHTHOUSE — Dynamite blast topples 150-year-old Bishop and Clerks Lighthouse, off Hyannisport, Mass., destroyed by Coast Guard lest it fall on fishermen.

Hang Killer Of War-Time Spy

LONDON (UP) — Dennis George Muldowney, a 41-year-old porter, was hanged today for the murder of Polish-born Countess Christine Granville, a British war-time secret service heroine.

Muldowney died on the gallows in the courtyard of Pentonville prison. Only 12 persons were standing outside the prison walls in the rain as the warden strode from the courtyard and tacked a brief notice on the gate announcing the execution.

The 37-year-old countess was one of the most remarkable of the small group of foreign-born women who came to Britain's aid as secret agents in World War II.

However, her exploits led the field. She made 19 parachute jumps into the Balkans; France and Poland. Many were made at night. She helped organize the secret Allied "underground railway" which ran across Europe from Poland to Greece.

Down "the underground railway" escaped a procession of Allied airmen, shot down over the continent, and soldiers and sailors taken prisoner by the Germans.

When the war ended, the countess looked for new adventures. As a stewardess on British liners sailing between England and South Africa she met a steward named Muldowney.

He fell in love with her, but decided to take a job ashore. However, he testified at his trial that he continued to meet the countess between her trips.

The countess was preparing to go to bed in her respectable London hotel one night this spring, when Muldowney entered the hotel and demanded to see her. She went downstairs to meet him and then porters heard her scream. Hotel employees found her dead with a knife in her chest.

'Man In Moon' Is Said A Woman

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (UP) — The Man in the Moon has taken the appearance of a woman—the late Eva Peron, the newspaper La Prensa reported Monday. La Prensa said a "formation of shadows . . . resembling a woman's face" had appeared on the moon's surface since Mrs. Peron, wife of Argentina's president, died July 26.

MISS AMERICA WITH FAVORITE FELLOW — Dick Shrove of Lakeland, Fla., greets Miss America—Neva Jane Langley—as she arrived in Lakeland, her home town, for the first time since winning the national beauty title. Neva Jane's sister, Mrs. Ralph Crutchfield, says Dick is Miss America's "favorite boy friend." — (AP Photo).

Chapel Services Begin At College

Chapel exercises for the school year at East Carolina College have begun, and a series of weekly devotional services has been arranged for students by Dr. Robert L. Holt, director of religious activities at the college.

"These services," Dr. Holt said recently, "are for the students who seek an opportunity for a few minutes of quiet meditation during the busy activities of the week." Programs, which are non-denominational in character, are held each Tuesday at noon in the Austin auditorium.

This week the service was arranged as part of the national observance of the issuing of the new translation of the Bible. Dr. R.E. Hardaway of the Memorial Baptist Church, president of the Greenville Ministerial Association, was guest speaker.

Music for chapel is in charge of George E. Perry of the department of music faculty, who plays a short program of organ music each week.

Both students and faculty members at the college participate in the programs offered each Tuesday, and ministers of Greenville are frequently accept invitations to speak at the services.

The Big Thrill Show

Yes

Sunday Afternoon
Airport, 3 o'Clock
Horan's Lucky Hell
Drivers

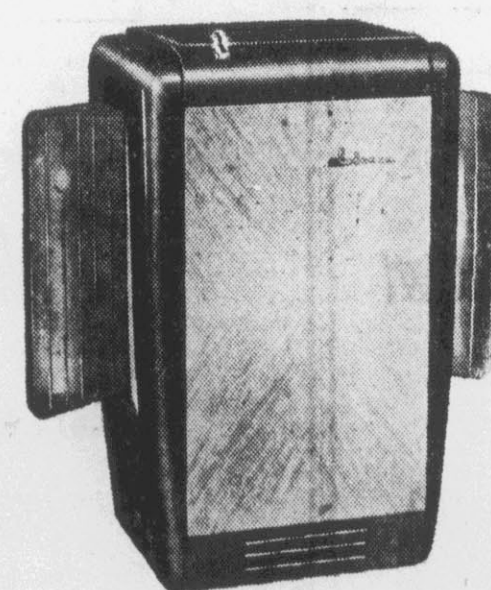

Thrills - Chills - Spills
See The Cannon Act!

GIGANTIC Coleman

BONUS SALE

LIMITED TIME ONLY!

Coleman automatic oil heater with 3 extras

Makes and moves heat through 3 to 4 rooms. Dependable heating performance with Low 1 Burner - Big Heat Exchanger - Directional Blower - other Coleman features. A model for every purpose, one for every purse. All streamlined beauties.

NEW LOW PRICE

Your golden opportunity to buy the famous Coleman heat-making, fuel-saving features at far less than you'd ever expect. For warmer floors, more comfort, better health.

AS LOW AS
$59.95
INCLUDING TANK

NEW LOW OPERATING COST with fuel-air control

Automatic! It adjusts draft to high, low, or medium fire, preventing fuel waste. Saves up to 25% in fuel. Gives you more heat from fuel used.

LOW DOWN PAYMENT $100
TERMS AS LOW AS 1 A WEEK
COME IN—BUY NOW—SAVE!

Comfort costs so little with a

Coleman

America's leader in home heating

VanDyke Furniture Store Inc.

Dickinson Avenue — Dial 2084

$1.95
Full Pint

THE WILKEN COMPANY, LAWRENCEBURG, INDIANA • BLENDED WHISKEY • 85 PROOF • 75% GRAIN NEUTRAL SPIRITS

WANT ADS

Rates 4c per word, minimum charge $1.00 for first insertion of 25 words; two consecutive insertions, $1.75; three insertions, $2.25; four insertions, $2.75; five insertions, $3.25; six insertions, $3.75; $14.00. Display Want Ads, $1.25 per column inch per insertion; one week, $6.75; one month $23.00.

The Daily Reflector will be responsible only for the first incorrect or omitted insertion of any advertisement and then only to the extent of a make-good insertion. Errors which do not lessen the value of the advertisement will not be corrected by make-good insertions.

The publisher reserves the right to revise or reject any copy.

All ads must be received a day ahead of publication date.

East Carolina Roofing Company
Jobs Applied and Planned
CLAUDE B. WEST, Mgr.
Office - Proctor Hotel
Office Phone 3151
Residence Phone 5885

FOR SALE—THE ONE AND ONLY home roll-up aluminum awning.
Your choice color, also insulation, weatherstripping and siding. Terms.
Phone 2255. C. L. Lupton Co. Your comfort is our business. 5-11

WELL DRILLING—CONTACT ME for all well drilling and pump work. K. P. Whitchard, Route 3, Box 280, Greenville, near Grimesland. Aug. 29-1 mo.

WANTED TO BUY — LARGE
clean white rag, clear of buttons.
Ten cents a pound. Daily Reflector.
3-1 mo.

WE REPAIR BRAKES, INSTALL points, plugs and mufflers. If you need that kind of service see us. We have Firestone and Dunlop tires, also Willard batteries. Howard Allen's Service Station, cor. W. 5th &
Greene St. Phone 3285. Jul. 1-12

BUILD WITH BRICK — FOR beauty and economy, common brick $30.00, scratch face brick $33.00 per thousand delivered. Eastern Brick & Tile Co. Inc. Dial 3653-4.
5-22

FURNITURE UPHOLSTERED AND repaired. We carry a complete line of samples to choose from. Call for deliveries. Free estimates. Work guaranteed to satisfy. Bril's Upholstery Shop, Falkland, N. C. Phone
3617-4. Jul. 26-12

HAVE YOUR CAR PAINTED BY
the oldest automobile refinisher in Eastern North Carolina. (1) First class paint job (lacquer) the best $85. (2) Paint job in baking accelerator guaranteed $45. (3) Synthetic enamel job $35. We use the latest and best equipment in body and fender repairs. We also install top hings in all makes of automobiles. Best workmanship, lowest prices. Bril's Paint Shop, North Greene St. Phone 3606. Sept. 8-1 mo.

BABY CHICKS—U. S. APPROVED pulverized. Several breeds to select from. Drum's Hatchery,
West End Circle. Phone 2637.
Aug. 26-Fri. & Mon.-12

FOR SALE—ONE EIGHT FOOT
two door, automatic defrost Philco refrigerator. Used one year. $260.00.
Call 3280 after 5 p.m. Leaving town, husband in service. 26-52

FOR SALE—LOVELY NEW BRICK home, 2 nice bedrooms, living room, tiled bath and large kitchen-dinettes on nice corner lot in East College View. An excellent buy at $9500. J. B. Smith Jr., General Ins., 314 Evans St. Phone 2401. 24-52

FOR SALE—USED WOOD AND oil stoves and heaters, refrigerators, washing machines, radios, record players and bicycles. $5.00 up.
National Supply Co., 412 Evans St.
Phone 3716. Sept. 13-1 mo.

FOR SALE—1949 FORDOR BLACK
Chevrolet. Low mileage. Guarant-teed. Also 1950 3-4 ton Chevrolet pick-up truck, 12,000 miles. No trades. Can arrange terms. W. C.
Latham, Bethel, N. C. 25-52

IF YOU WOULD LIKE YOUR HAY
baled or land disced, see A. J.
Garris at Blackwood's, or phone
4307. 25-52

FOR SALE—NEW AND VERY attractive brick home in new subdivision, 3 large bedrooms with nice closets, spacious living room, dining room, kitchen. Forced warm air heat.
Insulated and weatherstripped. 75' x
150' lot. Good financing. A. B. Stallworth, General Insurance Agency,
314 Evans St. Dial 2401. 29-32

FOR SALE—1939 MERCURY. In good condition. Price $395. Call
Cpl. Waters at 3852. 29-32

DON'T RISK FAULTY, DELAYED starts this winter with an old, lifeless battery. Choose a top quality power-packed battery from our complete selections. Carr Allen's Texaco Station, in front of court house. 29-52

FOR RENT—ONE LARGE FRONT room, furnished. Next to bath. At 214 Greene Street. Phone 4532.
Sept. 20-12

FOR SALE—ATTRACTIVE MODern house with three large bedrooms, two baths, large living room, dining room, kitchen with breakfast bar and utility room. House in excellent condition, with lot fronting 150 ft. on paved street. Insulated and weatherstripped. A. B. Stallworth,
General Insurance Agency, 314 Evans
St. Dial 2401. 29-32

WANTED
Two Experienced
Short Order Cooks
Good Hours and Good Pay
Apply At Once
117 East 8th Street

WANTED

Boys age 14 and older to carry The Daily Reflector in Greenville.
Apply Circulation Dept.
Daily Reflector

NOTICE

We have moved to our new location near Bill
Smith's Stables, next to Ball Park

Plenty of Free Parking
Pitt F.C.X. Service
Corner Lime and Chestnut Sts.

CLIFF SAYS—
See a Bendix TV demonstration today at—
C. H. EDWARDS HARDWARE

FOR SUPREME FOOT COMFORT
Knapp Bros. Arch-Adjuster Shoes
Sizes 3 to 12. Widths AAAA to EEEE for men and women. Factory to wear prices. G. W. Jordan, factory representative, 813 Washington
St. Dial 4585, Greenville, N. C.
Sept. 18-1 mo.

FOR RENT—SERVICE STATION
a room living quarters, 2 rest rooms, 8 miles from Greenville on
New Bern highway. See Harry W.
Harris, Route 3, Greenville, N. C.
18-1 mo.

WANTED—PINE PULWOOD to be unloaded by mechanical crane at Granger Station on Highway 11 between Kinston and Grifton. Contact Granger Wood Yard or R. A.
Morin, 2632 Sunset Ave., Greenville.
Phone 3024. Sept. 18-1 mo.

IN STOCK—MOST ALL KINDS of pasture and cover crop seeds;
also fertilizer and limestone. Pitt
FCX. 24-52

FOR RENT—TWO TOBACCO crops on good land; one crop 1952 allotment 10 acres and one 8 1/2 acres. Give references. W. Leslie
Smith, Farmville, N. C. 26-52

SPINET PIANO—$10.00 A MONTH rent. After six months all rent payment and cartage fee of $10.00 can be applied against purchase of new piano of your choice with no down payment required. This is our famous Rent To Learn Plan. W. C.
Reid & Co., 143 South Main St.,
Rocky Mount, or phone 2-2091.
Sept. 25 thru Oct. 15

WANTED—THREE LADIES to sell Luder's Cosmetics in Greenville and surrounding towns. Training and leads furnished. Powell &
Powell, Box 234, Goldsboro, N. C.
26-1015

FOR YOUR PAINTING AND PAper needs, see Stancil Brothers
Phone 4824. 26-52

THIS IS THE TIME OF YEAR that demands top performance from your car. Be sure of safe driving—stop in now for a complete check-up. George Pugh's Shell Station. 24-52

FOR RENT—ONE ROOM FOR men. Private entrance. One apartment for couple, private entrance.
Call 2018. 29-22

FOR SALE—ONE SPACE HEATER
14 inch pot burner. Used. Will sell cheap. See at 301 Glenwood Drive.
29-32

FOR RUGS OLD OR NEW—SEE what Pina Foam will do. An excellent cleaning job. Belk-Tyler's
3rd floor. 29-52

WE CAN'T THINK OF ANY CLEver way to say it today, but Ricks Service Center, 9th & Evans Sts., is always best. 29-52

FOR SALE—LARGE COAL HEATer suitable for business place; also small coal heater, new restaurant sink, 9 nice restaurant stools, a number of 6x6 and 8x8 glass blocks.
Phone 5535. 27-32

AVON REPRESENTATIVES MAKE good money. The Christmas gift selling season is here. Two good openings in Greenville: one each in Simpson, Fountain, Black Jack and Falkland areas. Write "Manager,"
Box 681, Greenville, N. C. 27-32

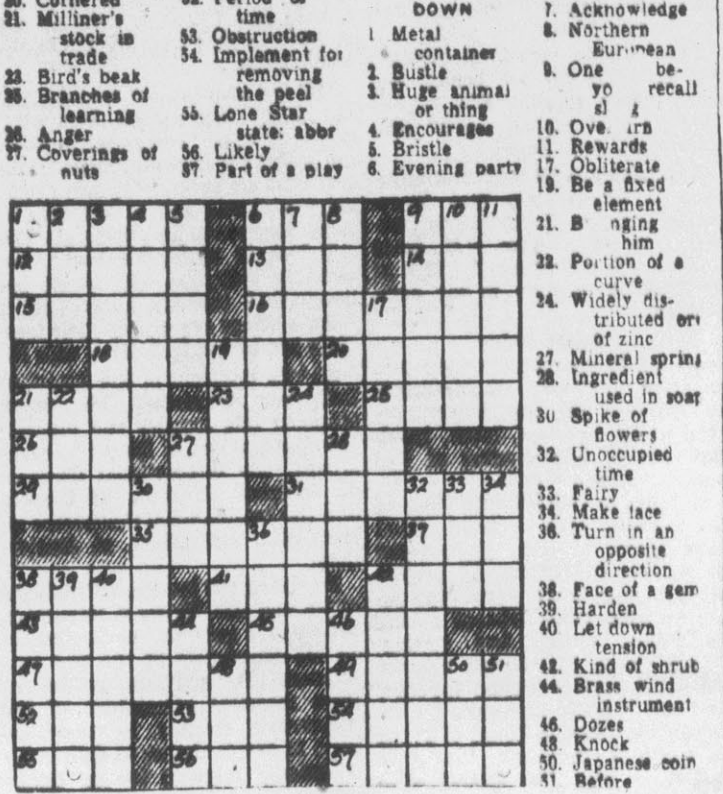

Select Your Duo-Therm
Heater Now. Two Room
Heater Only $67.00
Taft Furniture Co.

Crossword Puzzle

ACROSS
1. Plant of the western U. S.
4. Sun
8. Substance to be chewed
12. Sun-dried brick
13. He indebted to
14. Unclasp
15. Composure
16. Very strong
18. Step
20. Cornered
21. Milliner's stock in trade
22. Bird's beak
23. Branches of learning
24. Anger
27. Coverings of nuts

DOWN
29. Rasp
31. Small perforation
35. Nautical
37. Guide's highest note
38. Congratulate
41. Terminates
42. Pass through a sieve
43. Concerning
45. Goddess of love
47. Refinement
48. Entertainment
49. Period of time
50. Obstruction
51. Implement for removing the peel
52. Lone star state: abbr.
56. Likely
57. Part of a play

Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle

HOUSE FOR SALE—IN COLLEGE
View. New and attractive, 3 bedrooms, living room-dinette combination, kitchen, bath with shower. On nice lot. Only $10,500 with reasonable terms. Occupied immediately. J. B.
Smith Jr., General Insurance Agency, 314 Evans St. Dial 2401. 25-52

FOR SALE—1949 CHEVROLET
two door deluxe, radio, heater, seat covers. Excellent condition. Phone 5648. 27-32

FOR RENT—HOUSE TRAILER fully equipped. Call at 906 Dickinson Ave. 26-32

ROACHES AND WATERBUGS disappear after one application of Roach Film. Contains chlordane.
Belk-Tyler's 3rd floor. 29-52

FOR SALE—KELVINATOR REfrigerator, washing machine, oil heater, gas stove. May be seen 113
N. Jarvis, between 6 and 7:30 p.m.
29-32

STOP — READ — INVESTIGATE
Do you want to improve your position and salary? Wooldard Furniture Company in Williamston wants a good man that can qualify as head salesman and assistant manager.
Please do not apply unless you have these qualifications: high school education essential; at least three years sales experience also essential; you must know you can sell and make friends; you must be anxious for advancement and willing to work for it; you must have unquestionable character and be able to furnish good references. This is a good opportunity with good pay for the right man.
Personal interviews only at Wooldard's store on Tuesdays and Fridays from 2 p.m. to 11 p.m. only.
WOOLDARD FURNITURE CO.
Martin County's Leading Fur. Store
Williamston, N. C. 29-29

PAY TAX BUY DON'T WAX—GET new Glaxo plastic type linoleum coating. Seals out dirt. Belk-Tyler's
3rd floor. 29-52

FINCH'S VENETIAN BLIND SERvice—Located near Carolina Theater, Rocky Mount.

OPPORTUNITY FOR YOU—DIStricts available now for Rawleigh dealers in city of Greenville. Buy on credit. Pay as you sell. Rawleigh's Dept. NC1-443-216, Richmond, Va. Sept. 2-4-11-18-25-30

FOR SALE—SPACIOUS AND VERY comfortable two story 6 room brick house with best in heating planning. Located one block from Training School. See this today. J. B. Smith
Jr., General Ins. Agency, 314 Evans
St. Dial 2401. 30-52

NEW 21 INCH REEL TYPE POWER mowers, $100, tax included; 18 inch Reel Type mowers, $80, tax included. Turnage Implement Co. Sep. 30-12

FOR SALE—46 INTERNATIONAL
1 1/2 ton truck, $150. Also 42 Dodge
3-4 ton truck, $180. Turnage Implement Co., Farmville, N. C. 30-12

WANTED—ONE USED UPRIGHT typewriter 11 inch platen. Contact office. Ivy Coward Exterminating
Co., by calling, 3996. 30-32

HIDING IN THE CITY OF GREENville are several colonies of termites. Are they under your home?
Be sure. Call Ivy Coward Exterminating Co. For free survey phone
3996. Sept. 30-1 mo.

WANTED—WE ARE NOW BUYING sweet potatoes. Contact us before selling. Baskets for sale. Carolina Produce Distributors, 800 Clark St.
Phone 2517. 9-30

PAINT CONTRACTING IS OUR specialty. Our selection of wallpaper is tops, our paint the best. Let us give you an estimate. Globe
Hardware Co. 30-12

FOR SALE—1949 THREE-QUARter ton pick-up truck. Good condition. Sheet steel floor bed, heavy duty wheels. Phone 4268. 30-22

FARM FOR SALE—WELL LOCATed; 32 tobacco allotment, 4 1/2 acres. Less than $10,000 for quick sale. See Billy Corey.
COREY REALTY CO.
"Clean Deals in Dirt"
105 W. 4th St. Phone 5735
30-32

KEYED TO SPEED!—THE DAILY Reflector Classified ads make your need known to thousands within hours. For an ad-writer phone 5717

WANTED TO RENT—A HOUSE OR large apartment. Five in family.
Phone 4791. 30-32

Colored News

The Modernettes Social Club is sponsoring a carnival Wednesday,
Oct. 1, at the Red Rose Club at 8:30.
Many prizes will be given away.

Mrs. Lucy Gay Moore, 51, of 708
S. Lee St., Ayden, died Friday at 10:30 p.m. at the home of her son,
Richard Moore, 2312 Jenkins St.,
Norfolk, Va., after a lingering illness. She had gone to Norfolk to visit her son and after being there about four weeks was taken seriously ill. She had spent most of her life in the Ayden community.

OUR DISPLAYS OF PYREX.
aluminum pots and pans, iron frying pans, pressure cookers, cleaning materials and Rubber Maid kitchen equipment is tops. Check our selection before you buy. Globe Hardware Company. 30-12

FOR SALE—ATTRACTIVE HOUSE in Hillsdale with large living and dining room, kitchen, 3 nice bedrooms and bath, screen porch. On lovely corner lot. Insulated and weatherstripped. J. B. Smith Jr.,
General Ins., 314 Evans St. Dial
2401. 30-52

FOR SALE—ONE LARGE SIZE
Norge space heater, 3-50 gallon oil drums, copper tubing, all in good condition. Will sell cheap. Phone 3562 after 5 p.m. 30-52

SALESMAN WANTED — WHOLEsale firm needs good reliable man for routes already established. Answer at once to "Wholesale Firm,"
P.O. Box 408, Greenville, N. C. 30-52

FOR SALE—ONE SMALL TWO seat maple sofa and a mahogany rocking chair. Phone 4662. 30-32

NOTICE
Having this day qualified as administrator of the estate of Perlie Langley, deceased, this is to notify all persons having claims against said estate to present them to the undersigned, at Greenville, North Carolina within twelve months from the date hereof; or this notice will be plead in bar of their recovery.
All persons indebted to said estate will please make immediate settlement.
This the 27th day of September,
1952.
Guaranty Bank & Trust Co.
Administrator
J.W.H. Roberts, Atty.
Sept. 30 Oct. 7-14-21-28 Nov. 4

EXECUTRIX NOTICE TO CREDITORS
Having qualified as Executrix of the estate of Julia Wingate, late of Pitt County, North Carolina, this is to notify all persons having claims against the estate of said deceased to exhibit them to the undersigned or her attorney on or before the 19th day of September, 1953, or this notice will be plead in bar of their recovery. All persons indebted to said estate will please make immediate payment.
This the 19th day of September,
1952.
BROWNIE W. HEFNER Executrix
426 W. York St., Norfolk, Va.
Dink James, Atty.
Sept. 23-30 Oct. 7-14-21-28

NOTICE OF ADMINISTRATION
Having this day qualified as Administrator of the Estate of E. A.
Cooper, this is to notify all persons having claims against the estate to file them with the undersigned within twelve months from this day or this notice will be plead in bar of recovery. All persons indebted to said estate will please make immediate settlement.
This the 20th day of September,
1952.
Guaranty Bank & Trust Co., Administrator of the Estate of
E. A. Cooper
S. O. Worthington, Atty.
Sept. 23-30 Oct. 7-14-21-28

NOTICE TO CREDITORS
NORTH CAROLINA
PITT COUNTY
The undersigned, having qualified as Executrix of the estate of Jesse E. Mills, deceased, late of Pitt County, North Carolina, this is to notify all persons having claims against said estate to present them to the undersigned Executrix, Greenville, N. C., on or before the 18th day of September, 1953, or this notice will be plead in bar of their recovery.
All persons indebted to said estate will please make immediate payment to the undersigned Executrix.
This the 18th day of September, 1952.
MARTHA MILLS Executrix of the Estate of Jesse E. Mills

Mrs. Moore was the daughter of the late Mr. Rigg and Sarah M.
Moore and the widow of Bill Brown.
Surviving are two sons, Phil Moore
Jr. of the home and Richard; five sisters, Mrs. Joe Bell Scott of Plymouth, Mrs. Mattie Cannon of Brooklyn, N. Y., Mrs. Beulah King of Kinston, Mrs. Dora Redmond and Mrs. Dinah Wilson, both of Ayden; three brothers, David, Robert and Jasper Moore of Ayden; 11 grandchildren; and a host of relatives and friends.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday at 2 p.m. at Zion Chapel
F.W.B. Church in Ayden where she had been a lifelong member, with the Rev. W. L. J. Jones officiating.
Burial will follow in the Ayden ce-mentary.

POGO

CAPT. JOHNNY FALCON

BLONDIE

OZARK IKE

RUSTY RILEY

FLASH GORDON

THE PHANTOM

Funeral services for Mrs. Minnie Atkinson Swinson, wife of John S.
Swinson of Farmville, who died early Saturday morning, were conducted in Lewis' Chapel Church near Farmville Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. by the pastor, Rev. Rogers. Burial followed in Washington Branch Cemetery.

Surviving are her husband, one daughter, Miss Mattie Swinson of Baltimore, Md.; four sons, George,
Don, Charlie and Bert Swinson; her mother, Mrs. Mattie Atkinson; two brothers and a sister.

The Dollar Club of Phillips Christian Church will meet with Deacon
Charles Edwards Tuesday at 8 p.m.

In Ohio, 88 per cent of the electricity is produced from coal-operated generators.

Deeds

R. G. Clark al to Dalton Clark al
Delia B. Poust al to Leroy Foster
al
R. G. Clark al to F. E. Riddick al
R. G. Clark al to Letha May Smith
al
Mrs. Novella Higgs Moya to S.
Reynolds May al al
Miss Jesse Rountree Moya to S.
Reynolds May al al
J. Hicks Corey al to Albert L.
Whitehurst al
S. Reynolds May al to W. C. Clark
Jr. al al
George W. Davis al to E. P. Bass al al
Edward T. Momingo al to C. H.
Momingo al al
Archie Mae Mills Higgins al to one cat.

Amos T. Mills Jr. al
Mattie B. Dupree to Agnes Dupre-
Taylor al
Edward L. Martin al to William
H. Porter al al
The P & D Corporation to Elmer
G. Haddock al al
Carland Leonard et al to Isabelle
W. Little al
James M. Moya al to Myrtle Griffin Waters al

MORE RADAR
BOSTON (UP)—Radar meters are being used by Massachusetts mota-vehicle inspectors to clock the speed of motorists.

CENSUS
MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP)—Mrs.
Marshall Wingfield spotted this sign outside a hamlet appropriately named Tiny Town: "Population 7; plus
one cat."

CAPT. JOHNNY FALCON

BLONDIE

OZARK IKE

RUSTY RILEY

FLASH GORDON

THE PHANTOM

Stocks And Market Reports

NEW YORK (UP) — Stock exchange volume fell further today in the second of the exchange's five and a half hour days.

Sales for the first hour totaled only 200,000 shares, against 240,000 shares yesterday. Prices continued to fluctuate narrowly with industrials and utilities small losers and rails up 2 cents on average.

About a dozen issues moved outside a fractional area. Two of them were oils — Amerasia and Texas Pacific Land Trust — and each gained 2 points. Reynolds Tobacco ran up 3 points to a new high at 44 on a transaction of 10 shares. Omnibus Corp. preferred rose 1.

Losses of 1 to nearly two points were made by Santa Fe, Cities Service, Firestone, Merck convertible preferred, Nashville, Chattanooga, St. Louis, Kern County Land and Oliver Corp. preferred.

NEW YORK (UP) — 2:00 p.m. stocks:

American Can	32 1/2
American T & T	15 3/4
American Tobacco	55
Atlantic Coast Line	106
Baltimore & Ohio	21 1/2
Bendix Aviation	56 1/2
Bethlehem Steel	49 1/2
Boeing Aircraft	36 1/2
Borden	53 1/2
Briggs Mfg	35 1/2
Cannon Mills	49 1/2
Cleopatra 9 Ohio	37 1/2
Chrysler	84 1/2
Coca-Cola	108
Continental Can	45
Corn Products XD	71
Curtiss-Wright	23 1/2
Douglas Aircraft	62
DuPont	86 1/2
General Electric	63 1/2
General Motors	69 1/2
Goodrich	66
Goodyear	48
Gulf Oil	49 1/2
International Harvester	23 1/2
International Nickel	44 1/2
Johns-Manville	75 1/2
Kennecott	73 1/2

NEW YORK (UP) — Produce:

Potatoes: Prices are basis per 100 lb. bags unless otherwise indicated, steady; Washington russets 6.00; California Bakers No. 1A 6.00; Long Island Green Mts. 5.00; 215-35 Long Island all varieties No. 2, 1.50-2.00; 50 lbs. 75-100 Sweet potatoes: Quiet; New Jersey golden tub 3.50-4.00; bu. 4.00; 25 Maryland golden tub 2.50-4.25; 1-2 bu. 200; Virginia golden tub 300-50; white 4.00; Jumbo yellow 1.50-2.00.

Yams: Steady; Maryland tub 3.50-4.00; North Carolina tub 2.75-4.00; fancy box 4.50-5.00; Jumbos 2.25-50; Louisiana fancy box 500; New Jersey tub 4.00-5.00; Virginia tub 3.00-4.50; Jumbos 2.00-50.

Live poultry quiet; few early sales so far. Rabbits all varieties 30-30.

CHICAGO (UP) — Produce:

Live poultry: Market barely steady on fowls and commercial chickens, steady on local chickens; 41 trucks.

Butter: 687,317 pounds; market steady to firm; 98 score 73 cents a pound; 92 score 72 1/2; 90 score 69 1/2; 88 score 68 1/4; carlots: 90 score 70 1/4; 88 score 69.

Eggs: 4,810 cases; market firm; white large extras 60-69.9 per cent A and over 58 cents a dozen; mixed large extras 60-69.9 per cent A and over 47; mediums 60-69.9 per cent A and over 41; standards 39-43; current receipts 35; dirties 32; checks 20.

Children's Days
Pitt County Fair
ALL NEXT WEEK
Tuesday — Greenville
Wednesday — County
Thursday — County
Friday — County White
Saturdays — County White
All Rides 9 Cents
Up To 6 P. M.

DIXIE DRIVE-IN AYDEN, N. C.

TONIGHT — WED.
BIG Double Feature
"Blazing Frontier"
Also
"Gypsy Wildcat"
Color Cartoon

RED PLANET MARS Last Times

WED-THURS By Special Arrangement With The Producers, We Again Bring You—

She Paid in Full for Her Bitter Victory!

CUMMINGS
SCOTT LYNN
HAL WALLIS' production PAID IN FULL
— EVE ARDEN
Directed by MICHAEL CURTIZ
Screenplay by Robert Ross and Charles Schnee
Plus "Smitten Kitten"

COLONY Coming Soon "OUTLAW WOMEN"

STATE WEDNESDAY

IT'S GOT WHAT IT TAKES! YOU'VE HEARD ABOUT MIAMI'S FABULOUS NIGHT LIFE!

ION STAGE!
Time On Stage
2:40 — 7:00
4:50 — 9:00

NIGHT IN MIAMI
DARINGLY DIFFERENT!

LIKE GOING TO KITTY DAVIS'S COPACABANA CLOVER CLUB AND THE OTHER EXCITING MIAMI CLUBS

SINGERS! DANCERS! BEAUTIFUL GIRLS! VAUDEVILLE! GREAT COMEDIANS!

IF YOU CAN'T GO TO MIAMI, LET MIAMI COME TO YOU!

THE KIND OF INTIMATE ENTERTAINMENT YOU MUST SEE IN PERSON TO ENJOY!

ON THE SCREEN
"Yukon Gold"
With Kirby Grant

Prices This Attraction
Adults 60c — Child. 3c
Matinee and Night

Ends Today — Wild Bill Elliott in "WAGON TRACKS WEST"

Bulwark Of Free Press Emphasized At Rotary

D. J. Whitchard, Jr., publisher of The Daily Reflector, last night emphasized the importance of the freedom of the press as the bulwark of freedom in the United States in a talk before the Greenville Rotary Club in connection with national newspaper week.

"When you lose your right to know, you lose those rights to protect your freedoms which are dependent upon public opinion," the newspaper publisher told the group.

"Some years ago the realization that over the years one encroachment after another was being made into the prerogatives of the free press in the United States caused great concern among citizens throughout the nation.

"The freedom of the press is no special privilege newspapers as such enjoy, because of the heavy responsibility put there by the founding fathers of this nation to help you protect your freedoms. The newspaper is your voice in your right to know. Your state in the community newspaper is much greater than the few cents a week you pay the newsboy."

Whitchard pointed out the destruction of the free press in Germany by Hitler, and reviewed briefly the steps which have been taken in Argentina and Columbia to destroy the freedom of the press in those countries.

"During World War II the American newspapers were without censorship except the censorship voluntarily imposed by them to reach the enemy, and there was no instance in which such information was given out by the press," Whitchard declared. "Since then, we have run into a progressing tendency among high officials that a pound; 92 score 72 1/2; 90 score 69 1/2; 88 score 68 1/4; carlots: 90 score 70 1/4; 88 score 69.

Eggs: 4,810 cases; market firm; white large extras 60-69.9 per cent A and over 58 cents a dozen; mixed large extras 60-69.9 per cent A and over 47; mediums 60-69.9 per cent A and over 41; standards 39-43; current receipts 35; dirties 32; checks 20.

RALEIGH (UP) — Hog markets: At Tarboro, Mount Olive, Wilson, New Bern, Goldsboro, Washington, Wilmington, Dunn, Jacksonville, Kingston, Rocky Mount, Smithfield, Fayetteville, Florence, Rich Square: Steady on good and choice 180-240 lb barrows and gilts at 20.25.

RICHMOND (UP) — Market steady on good and choice 180-220 lb barrows and gilts at 21.00.

RALEIGH (UP) — Central North Carolina live poultry: Fryers and broilers steady, supplies fully adequate, demand fair; heavy hens steady, supplies adequate, demand fair to good. Prices at farm up to 10 a.m. today: Fryers or broilers 2 1/2-3 lbs 28; heavy hens 24-26, mostly 24-25.

Eggs about steady, supplies short, demand good. Prices FOB local grading stations: A large 57, A medium and B large 49.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Snyder told a meeting today that experience had demonstrated that the country can carry a quarter-trillion-dollar debt without staggering.

The secretary, in a speech prepared for the annual convention of the American Bankers Association, said:

"We have been able to achieve an economic climate favorable not only to a high level of current activity, but also to a very large volume of long-term investment."

He added that "it is extremely significant that private industry has invested over 160 billion dollars in new plant and equipment since 1946."

Columbus brought the first cows to America on his second voyage in 1495.

Snyder Believes Quarter-Trillion Debt No Burden

Falkland Negro 4-H Club Elects Officers For Year

FALKLAND — The Falkland Negro 4-H Club has elected new officers and committees for the present year.

They are: Hilda Knight, president; David Weaver, vice-president; Gwendolyn Teel, secretary; Johnnie James Duncan, assistant secretary; Vera Johnson, treasurer; Shirley Weaver, song leader; Rosa Duncan, program chairman; Earnestine Harris, Sallie Mercer, Leonard Meekins and Robert Weaver are members of the Program Committee.

Robert Gorman is reporter. Miss Viola Vines, class teacher, is counselor.

For 4-H Club activities did not end with the closing of the school last June. A club official said the boys and girls continued developing their project and they participated in numerous county-wide activities during the summer.

Miss Carolyn Reeves represented the Falkland 4-H Club at the State 4-H Short Course at A. and T. Negro College, Greensboro, last July. She was elected delegate "on the basis of her leadership, loyalty, project work and best all-round member of her club." Miss Viola Vines, class teacher, was presented a four-leaf clover emblem for having completed 100 successful years of 4-H club leadership.

The Fountain Negro 4-H Club won for the second time the plaque for being the most outstanding Junior 4-H Club in Pitt County.

The club unanimously extended its thanks to Mrs. Margaret H. Wade, assistant Negro home demonstration agent, and Talmadge T. Mitchell, assistant Negro county agent, for their instruction and cooperation.

PITT
TODAY AND WEDNESDAY CARIBBEAN
by Technicolor
Payne Dahl Hardwicke
Plus
POPEYE CARTOON

FRIDAY and SATURDAY!
Official World's CHAMPIONSHIP FIGHT FILMS!
Jersey Joe Walcott vs. Rocky Marciano Action Highlights ROUND-BY-ROUND!
Climax Thrills in SLOW-MOTION!

We Have A Heavyweight Champion!
See Rocky Marciano Knock Out Jersey Joe Walcott!

Plus
A Trip To The Center Of The Earth!
"UNKNOWN WORLD"

PITT Admission This Attraction
50c Matinee and Night

First Junior Tobacco Show And Sale Slated Tomorrow

You old timers there, take a "chaw" of your favorite plug and stand back — see how Pitt County's up and coming farmers grow tobacco.

And, indeed, that cry might well be the watchword tomorrow afternoon when 18 young 4-H Club and F.F.A. members gather around their choice grades of tobacco from this year's "project" crop.

The teen-age vocational students will be vying for top honors and prize money totaling $275 in Pitt County's first annual Junior Tobacco Show and Sale.

Beginning at 2:30 tomorrow afternoon in Greenville's Star Warehouse Number 2, extension tobacco specialists from N.C. State College will undertake the task of determining winners in the competition.

All the 18 competitors have met stringent eligibility requirements in that each has kept a strict record of his acreage, labor, handling, curing and grading of this year's "project" crop.

In order to comply with rules of the contest, each entrant must have grown at least three-tenths of an acre to qualify. All project tobacco must have been kept separate from other tobacco during harvesting, curing and sorting.

Sam Weeks, Pitt County tobacco specialist, explained today the show and sale is being sponsored by the Greenville Tobacco Board of Trade — which is providing the prize money — with Pitt County agricultural agencies cooperating.

"The purpose of the show and sale," said Weeks, "is to encourage production of tobacco of the highest possible quality." He added that it is also designed to improve handling, sorting and display through adoption of recommended practices in all phases of production and marketing.

Judging of all choice displays of tobacco will be conducted tomorrow afternoon, and the sale of tobacco produced as a result of all the 18 projects will be held on the same site Thursday morning at 8:30.

Prizes will be awarded in two categories, the best crop show display and the "four hand" show, which is for the best composite of lugs, cutters, leaf and smoking leaf picked from project tobacco.

In judging the crop show, the committee will take into account the quality of the crop; sorting, handling and appearance of tobacco; report on practices followed by the grower; and rating of record books.

Prizes being offered in the crop show are: first place, $40; second place, $30; third place, $20; fourth place, $15; and fifth place, $10.

In the "four hand" show five prizes will be awarded in each of the lug, cutters, leaf and smoking leaf classes. Prizes are: first place, $15; second place, $10; third place, $7.50; fourth place, $5.00; and fifth place, $2.50.

Winner in the local contest will be eligible to enter the state-wide contest for which premiums are: first prize, $200 savings bond; second prize, $100 savings bond; and third prize, $50 savings bond.

As a climax to the two-day show and sale participants, judges and officials will be feted at a banquet.

Colored News

Mrs. Mary Gay attended the Loving Primitive Baptist Association Saturday and Sunday at Marie's Chapel, Jacksonville, and was the guest of Miss Janie Humphrey.

The Modernette's Social Club will meet tonight at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Odell Belcher, 1300 Battle Street.

The club is sponsoring a "Carnival" Wednesday night at the Red Rose Club at 8:30. Prizes will be given away.

DEAN HUDSON AND HIS FAMOUS
ORCHESTRA
"AMERICA'S NEW LOOK IN DANCE MUSIC"

Dean Hudson will play here on October 3rd at McGowan's Warehouse at the intersection of Ayden and Farmville Highways sponsored by Greenville Police Dept.
Advance Sale of Tickets
$1.50
$2.00 At Door

Make this test...
*Come in and See the QUAKER MAGIC LAMP!

1. Just place your hand over the chimney of this lamp at high fire. Note how little heat you feel. Note how smoke and soot stain the palm of your hand. That proves that valuable fuel is being wasted because there isn't enough air (or draft) for proper combustion. This waste can occur with any heater that relies on its chimney alone to supply air to the fire.

2. Now...without changing anything...just feed air to the flame as Quaker does with mechanical draft. Feel the surge of extra heat...too hot for your hand to stand. Note how the fuel-wasting smoke and soot have disappeared. Why? Because the fire no longer depends on the chimney alone for air. As a result of feeding air to the flame mechanically, you get a hotter, cleaner, fuel-saving fire.

QUAKER HEATERS
79% more prime heating surface in this furnace-type, inner heating drum.
The QUAKER 3210... The finest oil heater made.

Dunn Furniture Company
RUFUS DUNN — Opposite Armory

QUAKER automatically adjusts the flow of air and oil to the right amount needed for the amount of heat you want. Nothing else like it.

Shute Brings Optimistic Viewpoint Out Of Europe

J. Ray Shute, in a lecture sponsored by the Emerson Study Group, spoke at the Sheppard Memorial Library last Friday evening on the problems which face liberals in the world today.

"In the atomic age," he said, "we are going through an ideological crisis in which conservative forces are making a desperate stand. Liberal thinkers must strengthen democracy at home and in the eyes of those Europeans and Orientals who still look to us for idealism." Essentially optimistic, Mr. Shute believes that through human effort human beings can master their fate: "Life can be fair if man but wills it."

As vice president of the American Unitarian Association, Mr. Shute attended this summer two international congresses of liberal religious groups: the International Congress on Religious Freedom, at Oxford; and the International Conference on Humanism and Ethics, at Amsterdam.

Following the lecture, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Walter S. Krausnick, the speaker gave an informal report on his experiences at the two conferences. He told how, in the solemn medieval atmosphere of the Amsterdam meeting, he came to attend in sports clothes to deliver the traditional response to the burgo-masters.

It was heartening to the Emerson Study Group members to hear that although the delegates to the European conferences represented widely varied religious views, they were all able to work together practically toward the solution of world problems.

quet to be held Thursday night, at that time winners in the competition and prices of the overall sale will be announced.

South-11 Drive In
SAT. NITE LATE SHOW
11:00 P. M.
Phases Vold — Adults 30.
First Dan Greenville
SIMONE SIGNORET
DEDEE Presented by Paul Henderson and Robert Ray
A GEMMA GORDON Production

Meadowbrook Drive-In Theatre
Box Office Opens 6:30. Shows 7-9
Bring The Whole Family
TONIGHT — WEDNESDAY
M-G-M's
ANGELS AND THE OUTFIELD starring
PAUL DOUGLAS-JANET LEIGH with KEENAN WYNN - LEWIS STONE
SPRING WYTHING - BRUCE BENNETT

THE MAN WITH MY FACE
BARRY NELSON
LYNN ANLEY
JOHN HARVEY
CAROLE MATTHEWS
HI No. 2 Shown Only Once, 8:37
Gene AUTRY
— CHAMPION
HILLS OF UTAH
Color Cartoon

Make this test...
*Come in and See the QUAKER MAGIC LAMP!

...that shows how you may CUT YOUR FUEL BILL 1/3 and MORE

SEE WHY YOU GET WORK-FREE, SMOKE-FREE AUTOMATIC HEAT WITH QUAKER HEATERS

Here's proof of fuel savings...proof before your eyes...proof before you buy! See for yourself why no heater...regardless of name or price...can give top performance without a proper supply of air to the burner. We'll be happy to have you make the QUAKER MAGIC LAMP TEST...to prove to yourself that you can save fuel and get cleaner, more efficient heat from a QUAKER heater. Yes, you'll actually see why QUAKER heaters pay for themselves in the fuel they save. Don't delay...come in today and see how to save with a new QUAKER heater.

QUAKER HEATERS

79% more prime heating surface in this furnace-type, inner heating drum.
The QUAKER 3210... The finest oil heater made.

Dunn Furniture Company
RUFUS DUNN — Opposite Armory

QUAKER automatically adjusts the flow of air and oil to the right amount needed for the amount of heat you want. Nothing else like it.

QUAKER HEATERS
79% more prime heating surface in this furnace-type, inner heating drum.
The QUAKER 3210... The finest oil heater made.

Dunn Furniture Company
RUFUS DUNN — Opposite Armory