One-Way Traffic Retained

A trend toward constructive discussion without incident. When the two men, Jimmy Smith and W. C. Clark, Jr., came to blows, order for the moment ceased to exist.

Only one or two blows actually were struck, but for a few anxious moments it appeared as if a small-scale riot would shortly ensue. Quick work by officers put back into effect the "status quo."

Convict May Be Innocent; Says He Is, Anyway

RALEIGH (AP)—If Sam Thompson isn't lying, he is serving a 30-year prison term in Central Prison for a murder he did not commit.

Thompson, 26, a one-time Goldsboro mechanic, was convicted of slaying Kenneth Taylor, whose body was found near Kinston, Feb. 8, 1947.

A crosby, Lemuel Parrott, was sentenced to death in the case because of Thompson's testimony, but later Thompson changed his story and Parrott was freed.

In a Central Prison interview with Jim Chaley, veteran reporter with the Raleigh News and Observer, Thompson went through his revised story again.

Chaley found that SBI and Paroles Commission records backed Thompson.

After he was tried, Thompson claimed he had taken the stand against Parrott because he was afraid he would be given a death sentence unless he stuck to the original story he had told detectives.

In support of his new story, he claimed he had taken the stand when Taylor was killed in Lenor County.

The SBI said Thompson's story was confirmed by at least a dozen persons. In fact, the day before Taylor's death, the SBI found, Thompson wrecked a stolen car near North Wilkesboro in attempting to outrun the Highway Patrol. The file further shows that Thompson then hid out in Winston-Salem, making it virtually impossible for him to be in Kinston at the time of Taylor's death.

It was on the basis of these facts that Parrott was given a new trial and acquitted.

Thompson had hoped that he also would be cleared. Instead he was taken back to prison and still has not been able to get his case back into court.

Thompson has confessed to at least one other murder which later investigation showed he was in no way connected.

News From Ballards

By MRS. G. S. NICHOLS

On last Sunday evening the theme of Rev. Herbert Dail's sermon was "The Holy Spirit" and was used in connection with the intensive Bible study of the Women of the Church. The pastor was asked to present this study at a regular church service so every one could be present.

There were 84 guests for Sunday school and we were glad to have present for these services visitors from Durham, Kinston, Greenville and Ayden.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Dodson and Bernice, Bill, Atlas and Edna, from Durham were week-end visitors of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Elks and Mr. and Mrs. Vance Smith, Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. Vance Smith Jr. were Sunday guests.

Friends of Buck O'Neal who has been critically ill in the Tarboro hospital of lead poisoning will be glad to know he has returned to his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Fleming of Greenville were recent visitors of Mrs. Annie Flanagan.

Mrs. Harris Gives Club Program

The Literature Department of the Woman's Club met on Tuesday, March 10, at the home of Mrs. J. C. Galloway with Mrs. W. C. Harris and Miss Christine Johnston as assisting hostesses.

Mrs. R. P. Rogers, chairman, presided over the business session. She appointed Mrs. Troy Rouse, Mrs. F. P. Brooks and Mrs. Sheila DeSavigny as the nominating committee to present a slate of officers at the next meeting. It was also announced that the next meeting would be held in the Memorial Baptist Church.

The program for the afternoon was given by Mrs. W. C. Harris. This was a very entertaining and delightful reading of excerpts of "White Cliffs" by Alice Duer Miller. By way of introduction, Mrs. Harris stated that though this work was published twelve years ago it was still timely and that this poem would last forever and long be considered a good piece of literature.

Mrs. Galloway's home was attractively decorated with arrangements of spring flowers. Sandwiches, cookies, nuts, cheese straws and hot fruit punch were served.

The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. G. S. Nichols, and Mrs. Dal Williams read the minutes and called the roll to which 14 members answered present.

At the fellowship hour the hostesses, Mrs. Owen Tyson and Mrs. Moses Tyson served iced drinks, Nabiscoes and Town House crackers.

The services at Ballards community building are still being well attended. On each Friday evening Evangelist Paul Black is preaching and showing a fine Christian picture.

Accountable to God

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Matthew 25:14-46

The kingdom of heaven, said Jesus, is like a man who planned to travel to a far country...

The servant who had been given five talents traded with it and doubted the money...

When the master returned, the two servants who had doubled their talents were rewarded...

Those who use their talents for the good of others, would be rewarded in heaven...

Accountable to God

JESUS TEACHES USING TALENTS FOR LOVING SERVICE.

Scripture—Matthew 25:14-46

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL. EFFECTIVE use of our talents and loving service of others are the two themes of our lesson today.

The day on which Jesus spoke the words recorded in our lesson was the last day on which He taught. It was Tuesday of Holy Week.

Following Jesus' warning that no man would know when the day of judgment would come, He says: "For the kingdom of heaven is as a man traveling into a far country, who called his own servants, and delivered unto them his goods."

To one—the most capable, presumably—he entrusted five talents; to the second two talents were given, and to the third but one. Then he started on his journey.

shall be given, and he shall have an abundance; but from him that hath not shall be taken away even that which he hath. And he cast the servant into "outer darkness."

It is a rather common experience to encounter men and women who seem to have been especially blest with talent. They could, if they would, make much of themselves. However, they lack the ambition or incentive to make the most of their gifts and so they atrophy.

On the other hand, we see many others who take whatever talents they have, and work hard to develop them, not only to the enrichment of their own personalities, but for the benefit of the world at large.

Be not afraid; use what gifts you have and develop them to the very best of your ability and dedicate them to the God to whom you are accountable. The rest of our lesson deals with the coming of Christ to judge the people of the earth. "He shall separate them one from another, as a shepherd divideth his sheep from the goats."

MEMORY VERSE

"Verily I say unto you, inasmuch as ye did it unto one of these My brethren, even these least, ye did it unto Me."—Matthew 25:40 talents hastened to trade with it, and succeeded in doubling the amount; the one who had two did likewise. But the one with only one was afraid to do anything with it, but dug a hole in the earth and buried it.

Of course when the master returned he sent for the three to discover how they had used his funds. He heartily approved of the two who had doubled the money he had left with them, calling them "good and faithful servants," and telling them that as they had been faithful over a few things, He would make them rulers over many. "Enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."

However, when the man who had but one talent confessed that he was afraid, and went and hid the talent in the earth, the master was very angry, especially as the servant said he was a hard man, "reaping where thou hast not sown, and gathering where thou hast not straved."

The master acknowledged that he was such a person, and told the servant that he should have where he would have received interest on it. He took the one talent from the servant and gave it to the one who had the five, saying: "For unto everyone that hath talents hastened to trade with it, and succeeded in doubling the amount; the one who had two did likewise. But the one with only one was afraid to do anything with it, but dug a hole in the earth and buried it."

And He shall set the sheep on His right hand, but the goats on the left. To those on His right He would say that when He was hungry they had fed Him; when He was thirsty they had given Him to drink; when He was a stranger they had taken Him in, when He was naked they had clothed Him, when sick or in prison they had visited Him.

When they asked, when they had done those things? the answer was "Verily I say unto you, inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these My brethren, ye have done it unto Me."

When those on the Lord's left asked why they were condemned, He answered that they had never had compassion for others. Never had they fed the hungry, ministered to the thirsty, clothed the naked, taken in the lonely, visited the sick and those in prison.

The lessons are clear. Not only for our own good but for the world's we should use our God-given talents. We will be judged not only for our faith, but for our compassionate love and ready help for those who need it. We must love God with all our hearts, minds and souls, and love our fellowmen as we would have them love us.

There are also openings in the unit for high school students who want to attain Reserve ratings in the electronic field. Even The Birds Avoid Hideout Of 'Mau Mau'

By HAROLD GUARD United Press Staff Correspondent N.Y. (UP)—Even the birds are afraid to build nests in the bamboo-covered foothills of the Aberdeen Mountains, hideout of a murderous secret society which calls itself the Mau Mau.

Sgt. Jim Marsh of the Kenya regiment made the observation jokingly as I accompanied him and his patrol into the woodlands on a Mau Mau hunt. But stalking the Mau Mau is no joking matter. The Mau Mau, a cult of Kikuyu natives, has sworn to drive the 20,000 white inhabitants of Kenya out of Africa. I felt Mau Mau killers might drop upon us from tree branches or break through the bamboo with pangos, machete-like knives; they use in mutilating victims. Back in Nyeri's Outapan hotel, I met a group of British women having cocktails before a lunch. Their pistols were on the bar. They pack pistols because of the Mau Mau. Highly organized and estimated to have a membership of 100,000 the Mau Mau is controlled by a hard core of young men. It is impossible to tell whether a native is a member of the society or is friendly to the white man. Even the badge of membership, seven parallel razor cuts on the forearms, back and stomach, is not a sure sign, for many natives with these markings have bolted the society. The Mau Mau eddy enough owes its strength to the white man whom it has sworn to destroy. European doctors introduced medicine and hygienic measures about 50 years ago that enabled the Kikuyus to increase their population from around 5,000 to almost a million today. Britain has reinforced native police units and brought in reinforcements to combat Mau Mau terrorism.

View Church As Reds' Big Rival

NEW YORK (UP)—The Kremlin regards Christian doctrine and the church as its prime enemy, a congress of exiles from Central European countries was told today. A decisive victory over Communism can be won only by confronting the Communist "faith" with a faith more worthy, more attractive, and more dynamic, it was asserted in the keynote address of the first international congress of the Christian Democratic Union of Central Europe.

"Communism has only one adversary on the ideological level which has the prospect of success, and this is Christianity, the Christian faith, the Christian philosophy of life—and Moscow knows this well," the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph Koni Horvath said in an address prepared for delivery at the opening session of the three-day congress. "Unfortunately," he added, "the Western world has been slow to realize this truth." Delegates to the congress are exiles, now living in the United States and Canada, representing the Christian Democratic Parties of Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Latvia, Lithuania, Poland and Yugoslavia. The union was founded three years ago in New York.

Deacons Meet Holy Cross In NCAA Regional Contest

Dutchmen, LSU Tangle In Opener Of Doubleheader

RALEIGH, N. C. (UP)—Underdog Lebanon Valley, a surprise victor over Fordham in the eliminations of the NCAA basketball tournament, boasted the most confident team for tonight's Eastern quarter-finals.

Coach George (Rinso) Marquette said his Flying Dutchmen from Anville, Pa., are fired up and unimpressed by the superior height of Louisiana State and the scoring of big Bob Pettit.

"We may never get a chance to play again for the national title," he said, "and our kids have their minds made up to make the most of it."

All the logical odds established Holy Cross and LSU as strong favorites over Wake Forest and Lebanon Valley by reason of their height and powerful reserve forces. Yet the "smart money boys" were putting Wake Forest over the Crusaders by seven points. But Wake Forest Coach Murray Greason frankly admitted that "I'm superstitious."

It's Friday the 13th and this is the 13th annual NCAA tourney which began in 1939 tournament was Wake Forest's only previous appearance in the NCAA and the Deacons lost out in the first round to Ohio State.

Greason did not plan to bring his team here until "an hour or so" before they meet Holy Cross at 7:30 p. m. tonight, also because of "superstition."

The Deacons didn't work out in the big Reynolds Coliseum before winning the Southern Conference Tournament earlier this month, so Greason declined to use his workout time for this one.

LSU, Holy Cross and Lebanon Valley went through light drills last night. Holy Cross Coach Bus Sheary said after the drill he has "high hopes that the boys will come through with their best game of the year tonight."

JVs Move Into Tourney Finals

AHOSKIE—The Greenville Junior Varsity basketball team won over Emporia, Va. last night by the score of 45-42 in the Eastern Gold Medal Basketball Tournament.

It was a nip and tuck battle all the way, with Ike Riddick and Tommie Saled doing the sharpshooting for the Baby Spooks. Saled, with a deadly set-shot, stole the show from the spectators viewpoint as he sank five from 35 feet out.

Riddick, a steady guard, was high scorer, and stands as a candidate for All-Star honors if he comes through with another steady performance tonight.

Tommie Norris, Hal Edwards, Larry Powell and Harris Northrop highlighted the defensive play.

Greenville meets Ahoskie tonight at 8:30 in the finals and Franklin, Va. meets Emporia at 7:00 p. m. Ahoskie defeated Franklin handily last night and is favored over the Greenville team tonight.

BILLY LYLES In NCAA Playoffs

Penn Grid Future In Uproar After Family Feuding

PHILADELPHIA (UP)—The University of Pennsylvania's football future looked very uncertain today.

There appeared to be no resolving a bitter feud between Athletic Director Francis T. Murray and head football coach George Munger, who has guided Penn gridiron teams through 15 consecutive winning seasons. One or the other will have to go.

The big issue at dispute was the tough 1953 football schedule coupled with the Ivy League ban on spring training and the switch from the two platoon system to the one platoon system.

Both Murray and Munger refused to talk about the critical football picture, apparently on orders from top university authorities.

Penn's acting president, William H. Du Barry, said Thursday the school's athletic policies are undergoing a "searching study" and that he will make a statement on the football situation at the Varsity Club dinner March 26.

The smouldering Murray-Munger feud broke into the open Monday night at what was supposed to have been a "harmony" dinner for Penn's football players. The dinner was arranged by Du Barry after the players had written letters protesting the coupling of a tougher schedule with the spring practice ban.

Murray used the occasion to lambast Munger for allegedly expecting postponement or cancellation of next fall's opening Vanderbilt game. He said the latter would constitute a "cowardly act."

Penn's 1953 football schedule, on which Munger said he was consulted, lists Vanderbilt, Penn State, California, Ohio State, Navy, Michigan, Notre Dame, Army and Cornell. Cornell is the only Ivy League team on the schedule.

Murray doesn't want to change the schedule and said Penn will conform to Ivy League rules, even though he accused other Ivy League teams of imposing a "boy-cott" on Penn. He said Cornell is the only Ivy League team that wants to play Penn.

Alumni and students have joined in the tense dispute. The campus paper, the Daily Pennsylvanian, charged the football players were "won over" to the 1953 schedule by the intimation they would be regarded as cowards if they protested.

RICKEY REJECTS OFFER
HAVANA, Cuba (UP)—Salary negotiations between General Manager Branch Rickey of the Pittsburgh Pirates and Ralph Kiner reached a bitter peak today when Rickey rejected the home run king's offer to sign for $76,500 and said he didn't want a player who thought he is bigger than his team.

"Not even Babe Ruth was bigger than his team," Rickey said. "Kiner says it is up to me now, but I'm not going to accept his terms."

Kiner had wired Rickey that he would accept the $76,500 offered to him at Palm Springs Calif., last Feb. 13. Rickey subsequently withdrew that offer when Kiner indicated he would not report to spring training before March 15.

PIERSALL LEADS BOSOX
SARASOTA, Fla. (UP)—Outfielder Jim Piersall, given a "clean slate" by Manager Lou Boudreau this spring, is responding with a .500 Grapefruit League batting average to lead the Boston Red Sox in hitting.

Piersall, sent to the minors last season after numerous brushes with Boudreau, increased his average to .500 with two hits Thursday as the Red Sox defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 9-6. The loss was the Cardinals' fifth straight.

The Sox oppose the Detroit Tigers today.

FAIN FLASHES FORM
EL CENTRO, Calif. (UP)—Ferris Fain, the American League's batting champion in 1952, flashed his finest hitting form of the spring as the Chicago White Sox downed the Chicago Cubs, 7-5, Thursday.

Fain, who hit .327 last season, collected four hits in four tries. Chico Carrasquel shared hitting honors with Fain, hitting a home run to tie the score at 5-5 with two out in the ninth inning.

MCCULLOUGH SIDELINED
MESA, Ariz. (UP)—Catcher Clyde McCullough of the Chicago Cubs was sidelined for 10 days today with a cracked bone in his right thumb.

McCullough was injured attempting to make a bare-handed pick-off of a pitch that hit in the dirt in front of him as the Cubs led, then had to fight off Rocky Mount's Blackbirds 5-1.

YANKS-DODGERS PLAY
MIAMI, Fla. (UP)—The world champion New York Yankees and the Brooklyn Dodgers met for the first time since the 1952 World Series tonight in the opening game of a three-game weekend series.

Manager Casey Stengel of the Yankees promised to test his first string pitchers—Allie Reynolds, Vic Raschi and Ed Lopat—in the series while Manager Charley Dressen of the Dodgers was expected to include Preacher Roe and Joe Black in his pitching plans. The Yankees have a 5-2 record while the Dodgers have a 5-1 mark in Grapefruit League play so far.

Top performer of the round was Jim Gerdes, blond center for Wilmington, who threw in 35 points on 13 baskets and nine foul shots. He was three points shy of the record set last year in Class A by Cecil McCormick of Pleasant Gardens, now starring at Western Carolina Teachers College. The 35 points did set a Class AAA mark, however.

Wilmington's Charlie Niven held that with 32.

Three players scored 24 to spearhead their teams' victory drives. Burlington's 6-4 center Jerry Robertson, Raleigh's scrappy little guard, Jackie Murdoch, and Charlotte's speedy forward Carson McClain each threw in two dozen. Durham's Bucky Allen was outstanding in defeat with 21.

Over the season Raleigh took two games from Burlington, winning easily the first time, then pulling out a four-point, Charlotte and Wilmington have not met.

Coach Ivy Edelman, A. by his first year at Charlotte, saw his charges make two first half baskets against Durham and apparently drop out of the game. Durham led, 35-15, in the opening minute of the last half. Then McClain, Ed Berryhill, his forward running mate, and hard working center Jim Regehr went to work and led a 45-point last half uprising to gain a tie Durham had regained its lead at 60-56 with two minutes to go, but Charlotte again pulled even. After Durham's Paul Pulley opened the overtime with a basket, Charlotte held the Bulldogs scoreless while McClain and Berryhill hit the clutch points for Central.

Rocky Mount made only one first period basket against Burlington and the handicap was too much for Bill Kukoy will be one of the seven N. C. State College stars who will come to Greenville next Thursday night to meet the East Carolina All-Stars in a charity basketball game. Kukoy was co-captain of this year's N. C. State team.

Baltimore Interests Try To Get St. Louis Browns

BALTIMORE (UP)—Negotiations to transfer the St. Louis Browns to Baltimore were in the "hopeful stage" today while a second syndicate, rivaling the Anheuser-Busch Inc., interests, fought to buy the team and move it to Milwaukee.

Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro, confirming numerous reports that the Browns may wind up in Baltimore, said he had been "participating in negotiations for some weeks." He added that he had hoped "to make a formal announcement within the next few days but to say more at this time might jeopardize the whole venture."

It was learned, meanwhile, that a rival brewery of Anheuser-Busch, Inc., which recently purchased the Cardinals, had made an estimated $3,500,000 bid for the Browns with the intention of transferring them to Milwaukee.

Although it appeared that the Browns definitely are headed out of St. Louis, Commissioner Ford Frick said that any switch is unlikely this year.

"It would be absolutely impossible to transfer any big league franchise in time for or during the 1953 season," Commissioner Frick told the United Press in Clearwater, Fla.

The syndicate which has offered to buy the Browns with the intention of moving them to Milwaukee, first insisted that Bill Veck, president of the Browns, and the syndicate then agreed to try to work with the colorful promoter if he could line up support among American League club owners for the deal.

Veck currently is in Florida, the Birds although they gave it a great try in the stretch. Burlington held period leads of 14-5, 33-20 and 43-35.

Raleigh ran up a 19-4 first period lead as Asheville, too, made only one opening quarter hoop. The Caps led 35-20 at the half and 63-31 after three periods.

Wilmington had Greensboro down 13-5, 27-16 and 42-26 by quarters as the boys from Down East played three periods with only one lineup change.

Pat Berg Off Fast
AUGUSTA, Ga. (UP)—Patty Berg was off to a good start in search of her fifth championship in the annual Women's Titleholders Golf tournament today as she opened the second round with a two-stroke lead.

The veteran pro from St. Andrews, Ill., needed only 28 putts during Thursday's opening round as she turned in a 37-35-32.

Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S. C., the leading money winner on the 1952 tour, opened with a 74 to tie amateur Bea McWane of Birmingham, Ala. for a second place.

Kinston Beaten In State Tourney

WINSTON-SALEM (AP)—Charlotte Harding meets the record-breaking Tri-City quintet in the opener of tonight's semifinal activity at the State Class AA high school basketball tournament here.

Shelby meets Sanford in the second game of a doubleheader. Charlotte Harding survived yesterday's opening round by defeating Clinton, 56-51. Sanford tripped defending champion Hendersonville 61-57.

Shelby earned its semifinals berth by downing Roxboro, 75-44, and Tri-City set a new tourney record in whipping Kinston, 76-49.

Charles Witherspoon kept Harding's attack moving against Clinton, netting 20 points. Clinton's Robert McLannahan earned runner-up scoring honors with 16 points.

Sanford broke a first-period 17-17 tie with Hendersonville to roll up a 38-27 halftime margin. Hendersonville came back strongly in the second half but failed to overtake the lead established by sure-shooting Sanford forwards.

Shelby's unbeaten team also broke a first-period tie and pushed to a comfortable 34-23 halftime lead over Roxboro. Andy Cockrell scored 21 points to turn back Roxboro's second-half bid.

Johnny Long, with 18 points, and Ronnie Austell with 15, sparked the winners' attack.

Tri-City got away to a 22-12 first period lead over Kinston and was never headed. Coach Ray Rhodes and every player scored at least one point. Earlier, Shelby set a new tourney scoring record with its 75 points against Roxboro, but Tri-City bettered Shelby's effort by one point.

Scouters' Training Course Is Scheduled

WILSON—Several hundred Boy Scout leaders are expected to attend a "scouteriversity" next Wednesday in Greenville according to a release just authorized by the East Carolina Council training chairman, E. L. Pugh of New Bern.

Pugh has said that this is the first such training venture the council has attempted. A full schedule of Cub Scout, Boy Scout and Exploring leadership training items will occupy the afternoon and evening sessions.

Scout Executive Ralph H. Mozo of Wilson has assigned each of his staff of professional colleagues to one or more of the sessions as advisor and resource consultant. The council training committee and the council's experienced volunteers will lead the proposed 14 major training experiences.

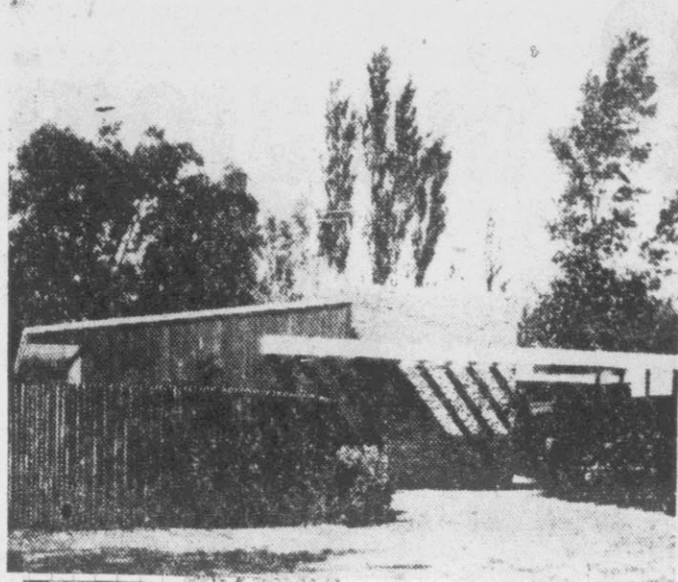

Through the good offices of Rev.

W. I. Wolverton, rector, facilities of St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Greenville, have been offered for the "scouteriversity." Women of the church will prepare an evening meal for those who attend.

An important session on exploring, the program for young men in the Boy Scouts of America, will be under the leadership of special regional deputy Scout Executive Gene Jones of Atlanta.

Council President Penn T. Watson of Wilson has asked that members of council and district operating committees on advancement, camping and activities, leadership training and organization and extension plan to attend the evening session on exploring. The council emphasizes in 1953 will be on the organization of Exploring Units and extending Exploring in already existing troops.

Ninety-One Entries For Typing Contest

Ninety-one students representing nine Pitt County high schools are participating today in the annual typing contest held in the business education department at East Carolina College. Mrs. Dorothy Wilkerson of the college faculty, chairman of the steering committee for the event, has announced.

Fifty-eight students are contestants in the beginning tests and thirty-three are entered in the advanced contests, she states. Schools which are taking part and the number of students from each are: Ayden, 11; Belvoir, 8; Bethel, 9; Chocod, 6; Farmville, 28; Grifton, 7; Grimesland, 6; Stokes, 5 and Winterville, 11.

The contest is the second to be held at the college under the sponsorship of the business education department and the Beta Kappa Chapter of Pi Omega Pi, national honorary fraternity for business education students. Last April, in the first annual contest, sixty-four students from Pitt County schools were contestants. The total of ninety-one for this year indicates an increase of interest in the project.

Awards will be presented winners at a dinner meeting in the college dining hall tonight at 6:30. The school making the highest average score in each of the two events, for beginners and for advanced students, will receive a cup. In each event a medal will be awarded the student making the highest score. Certificates will be presented to the boy and the girl from each school who compile the highest scores in that school. Each contestant will receive a certificate of recognition.

Special guests at the dinner will include President John D. Messick of East Carolina; Superintendent D.H. Conley of Pitt County Schools and Mrs. Edna Earle Baker, Supervisor in Pitt County Schools.

Investigators Probe Fake Doctor's Other Patients

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (UP)—Investigators, alarmed by the fact that a famous hillbilly musician and the estranged wife of fake "alcohol therapist" H.R. Marshall both died after he prescribed for them, sought today to find out what happened to 50 or 60 other patients.

Marshall, a paroled convict, prescribed chloral hydrate—"knockout drops"—for hillbilly singer and composer Hank Williams and Mrs. Marshall. 48 Williams died Dec. 31 in his automobile at Oak Hill, W. Va. Mrs. Marshall, who left her husband Jan. 20 died March 3 in Albuquerque, N.M. The death of Williams was attributed to a heart complaint. Mrs. Marshall's death certificate showed she died of a cerebral hemorrhage.

A special legislative committee is questioning Marshall and the chairman, Rep. Robert O. Cunningham of Oklahoma City, said he will make Marshall tell him the names of 50 or 60 other patients.

"We want to learn if any of the others have died," Cunningham said. "When we get their names, we will check each person to see how he's getting along."

Cunningham led police in a raid on Marshall's apartment last night and announced that he had hit "pay dirt," including the names of some patients.

"We found three ounces of chloral hydrate—the same stuff he admitted prescribing for Williams," Cunningham said. "We also found a list of doctors in Albuquerque, Houston and Oklahoma City who apparently were associates of his, and a list of patients. We're going to question all of them."

"And another thing: We discovered a claim on a life insurance policy of his wife. It was a Dallas company."

Marshall, in jail with parole revoked, denied knowing his wife is dead.

"I don't know anything about it."

he said, "I would surely be notified if she passed away."

Marshall was serving a term for forgery when he was paroled. He also served three years in California for armed robbery.

The legislative committee uncovered his masquerade in a general investigation of narcotics sales. He told the committee last Friday that he was a "noted alcoholic therapist" and had degrees from three universities. He admitted Tuesday that he lied.

Tax Refunds Are Quickly Figured

NEW YORK (UP)—Millions of Americans will be banking their personal income tax refunds by April 30, thanks to electronic brains that can check 100 tax returns a minute.

Tax returns filed on forms 1040 and 1040A are being fed into the maws of the smug mechanical monsters here and in Chicago, Los Angeles, Detroit and Cleveland about 80 times faster than they can be processed manually. Internal revenue officials expect to wind up their annual ordeal in these heavily populated areas about six months earlier than usual.

"The returns don't come in fast enough to keep the brain happy," said Jim McCahill, head of the income tax returns processing office for upper Manhattan. "I've got to have a backlog of about 150,000 returns to get a smooth, eight-hour computation process."

McCahill has two mechanical brains in his office where 1,000,000 returns will be filed by the Monday midnight deadline.

"The brain can calculate at the speed of light, but is considerably slowed down by the die mechanism which punches holes in the tax return cards," said McCahill enthusiastically. "But it's way ahead of us now, so why worry about that?"

Dispute Over Poaching Shrimboats Is Resolved

CAMPECHE, Mexico (UP)—Fourteen American shrimp boats were en route to their home ports today after being held in a guard for more than two weeks for poaching in Mexican territorial waters for which each was fined $1,700.

A crewman of one of the shrimpers, the "Howdy Shaw" of Ft. Myers, Fla., was shot and killed by a Mexican soldier-guard during the detention, but U.S. and Mexican officials agreed the shooting was accidental.

Officials said Gilmer M. Fisher of Bunnell, Fla., was shot Tuesday when the guard attempted to stop him from attacking another seaman with a knife.

Owners of the shrimpers indicated they would appeal the fines and fight the illegal fishing charges in Mexican courts.

The boats were seized by Mexican customs during the last three weeks while operating off the Mexican coast. They were accused of fishing within the nine-mile territorial limit claimed by Mexico.

The boats began pulling out late yesterday for home ports in Texas, Louisiana, Florida and Alabama. Mexican officials said they had been delayed because ship captains had to reclaim and stow their fishing gear which had been confiscated.

U.S. Consul Abraham Katz and Campeche military commander, Gen. Domingo Ramirez Garza, said their investigation of the shooting incident revealed that Fisher attacked another crewman, Richard Stern, "after apparently going berserk. The shot fired by Juan Rodriguez Alarcon struck Fisher at the time he was chasing Stern."

A U.S. Coast Guard plane left here yesterday to return the body of Fisher to Florida.

Negro Scouters Will Gather Here

Negro leaders from East Carolina Council of Boy Scouts of America will meet at Eppes High School here Saturday, March 21.

They will hold a "university of scouting" training experience at 3:30 in the afternoon following registration and a fellowship period. The evening session will start at 7 o'clock following the evening meal, to be served by a local caterer.

General Division Chairman J.C. Bias of Scotland Neck announced that Gene Jones of Atlanta, Ga., special regional deputy scout executive, will serve as advisor to the group in the explorer section.

C.T. Edwards of Rocky Mount, general division commissioner, has invited all registered Negro scouters to attend the meeting. Cubmasters, scoutmasters, assistants, den mothers, unit committeemen and division laymen are especially invited.

Scout Executive Ralph H. Mozo of Wilson suggests that young men 14 years of age and older attend and sit in on the explorer sessions.

Old Pianos Are Drug On Market

LA SALLE, ILL. (AP)—It appears that pianos from old rural schools in this area are a drug on the market.

At a recent auction of articles in the Dayton-Wallace Township school, the winning bid for an old piano was three cents. The piano stool was sold for a dime.

Atomic Power In Homes And Factories Said Near

WASHINGTON (UP)—Business Week magazine said today that atomic power for homes and factories "is no more than five years away."

The magazine made that forecast in a copyrighted report based on research by reporter William B. Wichard among atomic experts and industrial leaders.

Business Week said the first atomic power plants, other than experimental research models already in existence, "will be started within the next year." Dozens will be built in the next 10 years, it said, and thereafter "every utility company will be building them."

The magazine predicted intensification of atomic power development as the time nears when the atomic arsenal will have all the weapons in it that the military can possibly use.

It guessed weapons production at around 100 a year—"it could well be much higher"—and said that within 10 years the country should have "at least 1,000 A-bombs and 50 H-bombs."

(Other sources have guessed the A-bomb stockpile already at close to 1,500.)

Actually, the magazine said, "atomic energy as a source of industrial electric power is here." The first big atomic power plant, it noted, "will go into a submarine this year, and more atomic power plants for naval vessels are on the way."

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Library of Congress said today it has made a new and better copy of the only photograph taken of the Wright brothers' first airplane flight near Kitty Hawk, N. C., Dec. 17, 1903.

The new print "shows many details not visible in any known previous printings," including a few which perhaps only the Wrights knew about, the library said in a statement.

Prints made from the Wrights' negative usually have been trimmed down so that little shows except the figure and Wilbur Wright's running plane.

The new copy shows the launching track and the position of the plane before take-off.

Lost Articles On Trains Returned

NEW YORK (UP)—More than 200,000 of the 250,000 articles lost on America's railroads this year will be returned to the owners at a cost of $1,000,000, according to lost and found statistics.

The Eastern Railroad Presidents Conference said the percentage of returns would be even higher if Americans had more faith in their fellow riders. Many persons are just too cynical to claim lost valuables.

The conference pointed out that railroads pride themselves on spending months and even years to trace ownership of the $2,000,000 worth of goods lost on their lines each year. A fraternity pin recently was returned to an owner who had lost it 16 years before.

Finders are keepers only when articles have been unclaimed 90 days, so investigators work with this deadline in mind.

Pushed Button, Hit A Jackpot

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Alcohol Tax Unit agents pushed a button at a suspected bootlegger's house and hit the jackpot. A wall opened and the agents found 325 gallons of liquor.

Agents said they had been trying to find liquor at W. E. Lynch's home for several years. Yesterday they went to work on a push button wall panel. Some buttons turned lights on and off. Then they pressed the one that opened the wall.

UNTREATED TREATED with D-D

Which tobacco would you rather have?

The best insurance for healthy root systems and a bumper crop is a pre-planting soil treatment with D-D. More and more growers are transforming "poor" soil into prime tobacco land by simple low-cost D-D treatment.

The photo above was taken on Mr. Ed Willoughby's land in Farmington, N. C. He says: "Last year (1951) I had root-knot (nematode) so bad it about drove me to the point where I was going to stop growing tobacco. This year (1952) I row-treated with D-D. There's not a sign of root-knot. I feel that I've made three times as much tobacco as I would have without D-D."

D-D is injected into the soil several weeks before transplanting. The job is easily done with simple attachments to your tractor . . . or it can be done for you by a trained crew. Its low cost is repaid many times over in increased quality and yield. Contact your D-D distributor for complete information.

THE VOICE OF LOVE

William Neubauer

Chapter Eight

Ruth went back to the car. "All's well. We'll make it a party. Dan. You and your uncle, my folks, Mr. Hufford and Johnny Lord and—"

"Bob O'Brien?"

"She gave him a quick, angry look. 'He's a child. He's just a sulking child and I don't care if I care if I never see him again!'"

Dan shrugged. "Bob has no concern of his. 'Where do we go today?'"

"You could visit Dr. Fell. He's been asking me to bring you to his house. He's interested in you, of course. It's not often that he never see him again."

"A strange man, this Dr. Fell. Few people like small towns enough to practice in them for forty years."

"He's a small-town man. And stop looking so superior, Dr. Daniel Curtis. I had a chat with your uncle yesterday. He told me you were born and brought up in Burlington."

"But I've seen other places, you see."

"She nodded. The obvious thought came along and she held her foot on the brake. 'Then if you don't like small towns—'"

"I didn't say that. I was discussing Dr. Fell. I may be as strange a man as he. You know, I really wanted to be a doctor. That was my ambition almost from the time I was old enough to have one. But we were poor. My uncle paid for my education. When I finished my internship he needed someone in New York and of course I went. Why not? I owed him a debt, and it was a debt that had to be paid."

"He told me you were a big help?"

Dan Curtis laughed strangely. Looking off to the left at the roofs of the town, he wondered what the reaction of the people would be to the real story. Would they tar and feather him, or would they hang him outright? "I was a big help."

"Why do you say it that way, Dan?"

"I didn't help him keep his career, did I?"

She almost ran the car off the road. "But—doesn't he have a career?"

"Uncle, you'll discover, has a temper. When he explodes just watch out. Well, he did explode. He called his sponsor a liar, he called the president of the Aome Broadcasting System a thief. The result is that he no longer has a career. That, of course, is confidential."

"But you did your best, didn't you?"

He nodded. "Yes," he thought, "I did my best. I put the knife right in his back. Oh, I was very clever. I made it seem as though it was Uncle's fault entirely."

"You didn't answer, Dan. Her golden laugh rippled. 'Want me to think you're a scoundrel?'"

"It isn't ever a question of trying, Ruth. Results are all that count."

This outraged her schoolteacher's mind. "Rubbish. The important things is to try. There are levels of intelligence, there are degrees of ability. The child who tries, but fails, is entitled to more praise than the child who doesn't try, but succeeds. Sounds how care you insinuate such things?"

He harumphed importantly. "And informal teacher I've ever met."

"Teachers are people, Dan. Just as doctors are people. And getting back to the subject of doctors, you wouldn't want to help a gal out, would you?"

He harumphed importantly. "And what, pray tell, is your indisposition, Miss Carlisle?"

"Doctor should take a rest, blast him. If you'd take over his duties for a month—"

She couldn't have pleased Dan Curtis more. His black eyes lighted with interest. "Say, that would be fun. It would give me the opportunity to get around, to see what the needs are. By the way, is your father actually going to run for mayor?"

She nodded, enthusiastic, proud. "He got the nomination last night, Dan! Didn't you hear us whooping things up in the cottage? And the platform includes all the things that are important to Dad."

"A community hospital?"

She scowled. "I'm afraid so. That wouldn't interfere with your plans, would it?"

"Do I have plans? I have ideas, but those are all."

"Dr. Fell thinks a community hospital would better suit the community need. We have a lot of poor

Nickel Beer Is Briefly Returned

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—The nickel beer is back, but not for long.

A fellow by name of David J. Weltman, who owns a liquor store here, put up beer of all brands for a jlttle to get folks into his store during the Washington Birthday sales. That's the day when you can get "fur" coats for $1, but usually very little beer for a nickel.

Dave was amazed. A hear riot resulted when the store opened. Before day was done, Dave had disposed of 3,000 cases of beer.

Our man lost a little money, but he charged that off to good advertising of his liquor business.

Not long after Weltman saw a notice in the papers that a Baltimore brewery was lower on money than beer and was about to "liquidate." The price was right and Dave bought the entire stock. He put it in his warehouse and has been peddling it at a nickel a bottle, warm "as is" ever since. Folks were skeptical, at first.

Men would come in, buy one bottle and take it off the premises for a try-out. In a few minutes they'd be back for a case or two.

"Sad to say, though, the nickel honeymoon is about over. Dave's stock is running low."

"Might last another two weeks," he says.

All of which reminds of the days when the five-cent beer was the rule and not the exception. They you could push to the bar, slide a nickel through the foam on the mahogany and get a mugful.

On the other side of the room there usually was a lunch table, groaning under the weight of cheese, bologna, liverwurst and slabs of bread—white, rye and whole wheat. There was mustard, hot and regular and horse radish. Times, taxes, and tastes have changed. In order to serve food in most states you have to have a special license. And you're not supposed to give it away, not that anybody wants to these days.

About the only things you get for nothing now is maybe a dig at an undernourished popcorn bowl.

'Progressive' Is Indicted On Tax Evasion Charge

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Vincent Hallinan, Independent Progressive party candidate for president last year, today was under indictment charging $65,221 federal income tax evasion.

Hallinan, with his wife, Vivian, was accused of declaring an income of $122,577 for the years 196-50 instead of actual income of $254,772.

"We don't owe a nickel—neither of us nor any of us," Hallinan said. "It's one thing to get an indictment and another to get a conviction."

The Hallinans face a possible $10,000 maximum fine and five years in prison if convicted. Asst. U.S. Atty. Robert Peckham said they would also face civil liabilities in excess of $500,000.

Hallinan, 56-year-old attorney, was convicted of contempt of court and sentenced to six months hard labor for his actions while defending labor leader Harry Bridges in a 1950 perjury-conspiracy trial.

N. C. Health Officer Addresses Society

Dr. J. W. R. Norton, North Carolina State Health Officer, outlined the functions of his office last night before members of the Pitt County Medical and Dental Society. Standing with Dr. Norton (second from left) are: (left to right) Dr. W. H. Pott, president of the society; Dr. Grady Dixon, president of State Board of Health; and Dr. Walter Humbert, Pitt County Health Officer.

Members of the Pitt County Medical and Dental Society were last night enlightened on the functions of the State Health Department by its health officer Dr. J. W. R. Norton, also secretary of the State Board of Health.

Convening last night at Respos Brothers, the Society heard a talk by Dr. Norton who was brought here through the arrangements of Dr. Walter Humbert, local health department officer. Dr. Norton was introduced by Dr. Grady Dixon of Ayden.

Dr. Norton explained the organization of the State Health Department and its relation to the medical profession and local health departments. He stated that it is the policy of the State group to act in an advisory capacity to local health departments.

The state health officer outlined the role of its office in studying bills introduced in the legislature relative to health and to advise on those bills that are not conducive to the best interests of the general public health.

In closing Dr. Norton stated that for good medical care the general public must realize they have a responsibility to the medical profession and in understanding the physical limitations of busy physicians and to consult their doctor at times when it is mutually advantageous for both parties.

In presenting the guest speaker, Dr. Dixon, who has been a member of the state board for 20 years and its president for two years, stated that North Carolina was fortunate in having Dr. Norton as state health officer because under his leadership public health in the state has progressed.

Dr. W. H. Pott, society president, presided over the meeting.

Downs 12 MIGs For New Record As Ace

By ROBERT UDICK United Press Staff Correspondent
SOMEWHERE IN KOREA, (UP) Col. Royal N. Baker became the world's leading jet ace today with his hat off to the man whose record he beat.

Major Davis got his 11 jets in a few days where it took me almost a year to do," Baker said today after knocking down his 12th Russian-built jet in what he called an "easy fight."

"I wish I could have gotten two," said the handsome, McKinney, Tex. pilot as he climbed out of his Sabre to the acclaim of a large group of pilots and ground crewmen who gathered around him. "That would have made a proper Baker's dozen."

He said he hopes to go back up tomorrow, if the flying weather is good.

Baker, who commands the Fourth Group of the Fourth Fighter-Interceptor Wing, was flying his 12th Korean combat mission. He is slated to leave March 27 for reassignment to the Air Defense Command at Wright Field, Dayton, O., where he will work on the Delta Wing F-102 project.

His record kill, which was also No. 600 on the 5th Air Force's MIG destruction tally sheet, was scored after a flight of four Sabre jets he was leading spotted a "big gaggle" of MIGs about halfway between the Chongchon and Yalu Rivers in northeast Korea.

Baker said he saw eight MIGs below him and that as the Sabres closed in they split up. Baker tagged on the tail of one and "got him smoking," but had to break off when two other MIGs "looked like they were coming in from the side."

He closed in on the MIG again. "I hit him a good blow in the tail section and must have gotten his motor," Baker said. "The canopy peeled off on the right side and the pilot ejected to the left. I thought he would hit me as he shot past. Then his parachute opened."

The MIG went into a circle and crashed about 10 miles south of the river.

Again Campaigns For Return Of White Crosses

WASHINGTON (UP)—Hawaiian delegate Joseph R. Farrington launched a new campaign today to force the Army to restore white crosses to the graves of 14,000 American war dead on Hawaii's 'Hill of Sacrifice.'

Farrington said he would introduce a bill in a few days insisting on the restoration and to provide more money to insure "adequate" care for the famous cemetery at Punchbowl Crater.

Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers (R-

Mass.) also has promised to press for return of the crosses.

The Army placed flathead stones at the graves after originally marking them with wooden white crosses. There was a storm of protest at the time, but the Army contended the crosses were too costly to maintain.

Stock And Market Reports

NEW YORK (UP)—Stock trading fell off sharply today and price movements narrowed sharply. Traders awaited outcome of the latest Soviet plane incident. But there was no particular pressure anywhere except in the lowly Hudson & Manhattan which fell 1 1/2 points. This issue hit a few days ago and last week gained 1 1/2 points. The company operates the tubes running between New York City and New Jersey.

Texas & Pacific, always a wide mover, lost 3 points in the rails. Tiny gains were set by Santa Fe, Rock Island and Northern Pacific and equally insignificant losses were noted in a few others. Utilities slipped a few cents after their rise to a new 22-year high yesterday. Pennsylvania Power & Light, outside the average group, rose 1 1/2 points.

Amerasia rose 1 1/2 and Argo Oil gained a point in an otherwise easier oil section. Chrysler fell 3/4 and general Motors 1/4 in the autos. Bethlehem Steel, U. S. Steel and Republic all held unchanged.

Relates Stages To Alcoholism

CHICAGO (UP)—A noted physiologist said today that a person who drinks several times a week and drinks "too much" several times a year is taking the first step toward alcoholism.

Dr. Andrew C. Ivy outlined the stages in the evolution of an alcoholic at the Great Chicago Industrial Conference on Alcoholism.

In the first stage, he said, a person shows signs of losing control. He "drinks frequently and he starts 'sneaking' and 'gulping' drinks."

In the second stage, he loses control of how much he drinks, Ivy said.

The first step in this stage is drinking more than you plan to, and getting drunk without realizing how it happened.

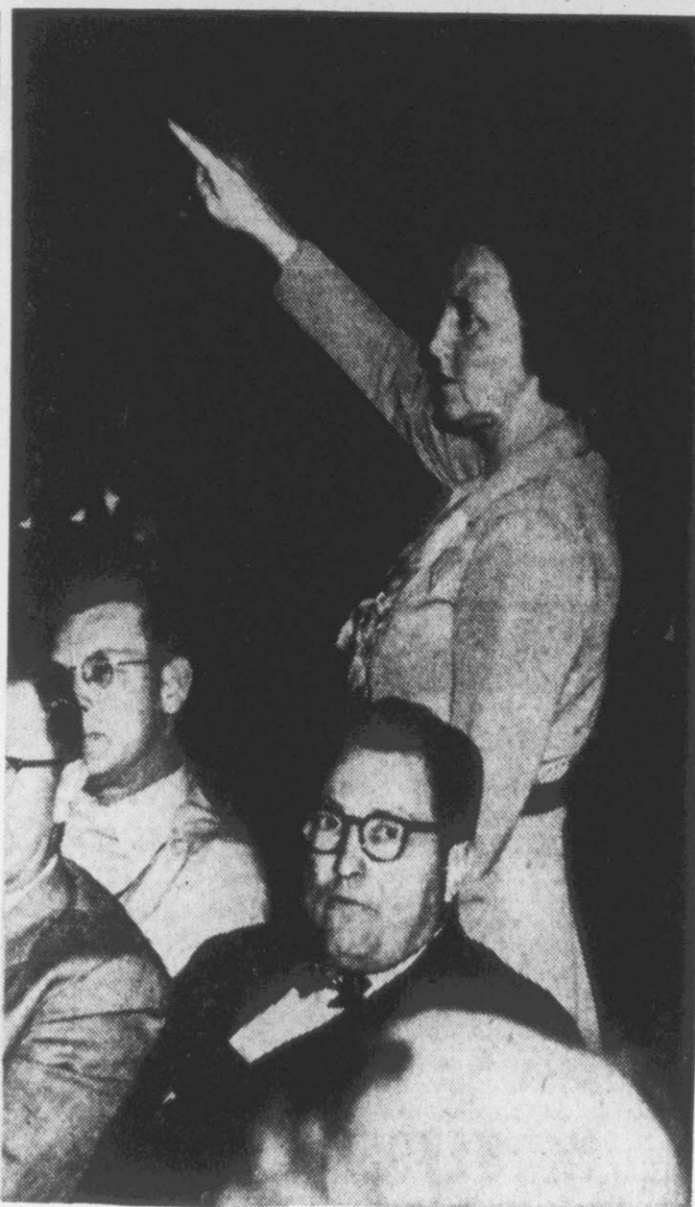

If you have reached this point, Ivy said, your chances of becoming an alcoholic are high.

The next step, he said, is to seek excuses for drinking and to down "eye openers" and "bracers."

Subsequent steps, he said, are drinking alone, becoming destructive and abusive, and feeling remorseful and inferior when sober.

The third stage, Ivy listed as "compulsive drinking," in which the subject loses control of both "how much and when."

As in all diseases, Ivy said, early detection is important. But he said the most difficult feature in the treatment of alcoholism "is to persuade the alcoholic to discontinue treatment, when he has not persuaded himself that he must have help."

AND SO AM I." Eva Hodges of 307 Pitt Street emphasizes her reasons for opposing the system of one-way streets currently in effect through the city's business district. In the immediate foreground is J. W. H. Roberts, local attorney, who said it seemed funny to him that a bunch of people whose assets totaled "about what mine do" had been called together to see what they thought about it. Hoke Countians To Get Hearing

FORT BRAGG, N. C. (UP)—Protesting Hoke County citizens were told today that a final decision has been reached on plans by the Defense Department to acquire 50,000 acres of farm lands to expand this huge infantry base.

Leaders of a citizens committee which outlined the basis of protests to military officials said they were informed by officials in Washington that the final decision is still pending.

In Washington, the Army said T. A. Young, special assistant to the secretary, will confer March 17 with residents of Hoke county and will give them results of the survey. He will "consider any recommendations they may have in connection with this acquisition prior to submitting proposed plans" to Secretary Robert T. Stevens.

The conference may be a public hearing, a spokesman said.

The committee which came here today restated the one major objection is that the proposed "corridor" to connect Fort Bragg and Camp McCall, to be used as an artillery firing range, would almost "wipe out" the already tiny base of the county.

They said it would mean moving homes, a school, a hospital and churches from the rural area, and farmers would lose rich agricultural lands and the county would lose taxable land.

Should the military decide against expanding into Hoke County, officials have indicated they may seek more land in neighboring Moore or Harnett counties. But the latter areas are more thickly populated and groups there also have protested.

One-Way System 'Stays'

of the original signers of the protesting petition. But he said the city would be going backward instead of forward if the system was voted out.

"I admit I put my name on the petition to abolish one-way traffic, but I can say now I'm sorry for it," Smith asserted. "I guess I was more or less begged into it."

But if last night's discussion proved nothing except that a majority of people favor one-way streets, it emphasized the pressing need for off-street parking in the city. Almost everyone who spoke cited off-street parking as a partial solution to Greenville's traffic problem.

Cross-section Opinions

During the meeting Mayor Lester D. Page called on virtually a cross-section of Greenville's citizens. An overwhelming majority of those who responded to the mayor's call favored the present traffic system.

Miss Ada Jones of Greenville told of nothing except that a majority of people favor one-way streets, it emphasized the pressing need for off-street parking in the city. Almost everyone who spoke cited off-street parking as a partial solution to Greenville's traffic problem.

Advisory Group Is Wiped Out By Payroll Slash

WASHINGTON (UP)—Senate House conferees have wiped out funds for the President's council of economic advisers in a move apparently aimed at sliding Democratic holdovers off the payroll without bumping into civil service regulations.

The maneuver, which has been employed in the past, is considered an easy way to bring about a complete change-over in an agency normally covered by civil service.

No one would comment on it but that it has been published reports the White House had in mind.

It is expected that the council will be re-established later under a new name, with a staff made up entirely of Republican appointees.

In fact, President Eisenhower already has nominated Arthur F. Burns of New York as an economic council member.

Last Rites Held For Mrs. Annie Harper

FARMVILLE—Funeral services for Mrs. Annie Harper, 54, of Farmville were held this afternoon at 4 o'clock in a local funeral home.

Rev. LaFon Vereen, pastor of the Farmville Methodist Church, took charge of the ceremonies. Burial took place in Farmville cemetery.

The body of Mrs. Harper was found at noon yesterday in a fish pond approximately one mile north of Durham. Members of her sister's family began searching for Mrs. Harper when they discovered she was missing yesterday morning.

The search led to a fish pond, where her body was found. Sheriff E. G. Belvin quoted members of the family as saying she apparently had committed suicide.

Surviving in addition to the deceased's mother, Mrs. Sara Lloyd Perry, and husband, J. Frank Harper, are two daughters, Mrs. Etta Francis Palmer of Raleigh and Mrs. Willa Rae Bullock of Ayden; two sons, J. M. Harper and Bob Harper of Farmville; two sisters, Mrs. Ralph Emory and Mrs. J. L. Aiken of Durham; three brothers, Paul Perry of Durham and Otha and Lonnie of Apex.

She is also survived by one grandchild.

Homing Pigeons Fail To Return After Flight

DURHAM, N. C. (UP)—Anybody seen a homeless homing pigeon? Dr. J. G. Pratt of the Duke University parasitology laboratory, released a bunch of homing pigeons near Bishopville, S. C. last week. They haven't come home.

Earlier experiments were pretty successful in proving that a homing pigeon can always find his way home. Dr. Pratt is interested in finding out what went wrong this time.

He urges residents of Virginia, North and South Carolina, Tennessee and Georgia to be on the lookout for these birds—apparently suffering from amnesia.

If you find one, he says, sprinkle some wheat or corn on the ground and give a few whistles. He'll come to you and instructions on the pigeon's leg band will show you how to get a reward.

Another Strike Is Threatening Italy's Railway

ROME (AP) Italy's nationwide railroad strike went into its final hours today as the Communist-led General Confederation of Labor (CGIL) threatened another walkout of government employees.

The government, operator of the Italian railroad network, claimed that the two-day rail strike was a failure. About one-sixth of the normal number of trains was operating.

The CGIL asked directors of the non-striking, anti-Red Free Confederation of Labor (CISL) to meet with it to consider calling a strike of the government's approximately one million civil service workers. Like the railway employees, they want higher wages.

Yugoslavia Says Border Violated

LONDON (AP)—Yugoslavia charged today that Hungarian planes violated Yugoslav territory five times Wednesday.

The Belgrade radio identified one plane as a Soviet-built MIG jet fighter and said it fired a red rocket while over Yugoslav territory.

The radio, monitored here, said the Yugoslav Foreign Ministry will lodge a vigorous protest with the Hungarian government.

Claim Congress Gave Go-Ahead To Swank Homes

WASHINGTON (UP)—The State Department claimed today it got a congressional go-ahead for the swank junior-size palaces it supplied free of charge to American diplomats in Germany.

A spokesman insisted that authority for the much-criticized $28,000,000 program was obtained during hearings last year on the department's 1953 budget.

Angry members of a House subcommittee charged yesterday that U. S. taxpayers paid indirectly for sumptuous overseas living quarters that only the richest citizens at home could afford. The included everything from a $240,000 mansion for an ambassador to fancy $26,000 furnished apartments for ordinary diplomats.

'Death List' By Ex-Nazi Charged

BRUNSWICK, Germany (AP)—Heinz Anders, former Nazi SS (Elite Guard) officer, was charged today with drawing up a death list of left-wing leaders to be liquidated on "X-day"—the day the Soviets attack the West.

The West German prosecutor also announced he is investigating Dieter Von Glahn, a member of the anti-Communist League of German Youth (LDJ), who was found in possession of a list of 100 left-wingers and Jews. This list also was suspected of being marked for X-day extermination.

Claim Congress Gave Go-Ahead To Swank Homes

WASHINGTON (UP)—The State Department claimed today it got a congressional go-ahead for the swank junior-size palaces it supplied free of charge to American diplomats in Germany.

A spokesman insisted that authority for the much-criticized $28,000,000 program was obtained during hearings last year on the department's 1953 budget.

Angry members of a House subcommittee charged yesterday that U. S. taxpayers paid indirectly for sumptuous overseas living quarters that only the richest citizens at home could afford. The included everything from a $240,000 mansion for an ambassador to fancy $26,000 furnished apartments for ordinary diplomats.
