Honor Society Holds Meeting

Members of the Delta Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma national honor society for women in education, enjoyed a dinner meeting last Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. C. A. Bowen on Library Street. The social affair marked the last meeting of the group for the school year.

Hostesses for the evening in addition to Mrs. Bowen, were Miss Oma Bliss Lewis of Grimesland, Miss Louise Galphin of Greenville, and Mrs. Emma Shelton, Mrs. Phoebe Emmons, and Miss Ella Bonner, all of Washington.

The Bowen home was bright and colorful with arrangements of daffodils and other spring flowers. Guests were seated at a number of small tables placed in the dining room and the living room.

Following the dinner, a short business meeting was held, with Mrs. Elizabeth Mims, chapter president, as presiding officer. Committees of the organization reported on their work for the 1952-1953 year. Plans were drawn up for the entertainment of members attending the state Delta Kappa Gamma meeting at Southern Pines this spring. The local chapter will be one of three hostess groups at the meeting.

An election of new members of the Delta Chapter was held. Miss Alice Strawn was in charge of the voting and will announce results within the near future.

Luncheon Given To Compliment April Bride-Elect

Miss Janice Roberson, of Bethel, bride elect of April, was extended a pre-nuptial courtesy on Saturday at 1 o'clock at which time Mrs. William A. Bowen and Mrs. Herbert Paschall were hostesses at a luncheon at the home of the former.

The home throughout was decorated with varied arrangements of spring flowers. In the den white flowers were used on the mantel and a console table held a vase of mixed garden flowers. The living room was lovely with colorful iris, jonquils, glads, and low arrangements of pansies. The mantel was centered with an unusual and beautiful arrangement of red bud and azalea blossoms of the same shade.

A bridal motif of green and white was observed in the dining room. Guests were seated at the bride's table in the dining room and auxiliary tables. The small tables had as centerpieces, small jugs of white and yellow flowers.

Mrs. Tom Rowlette assisted in serving a two course turkey luncheon.

Mrs. Paschall presented the honoree two silver rimmed coasters. Her gift from Mrs. Bowen was a silver bread tray.

Brinson-Tucker Vows Spoken In Salem Methodist Church

Dr. D. R. Lindley Unites Couple In Formal Ceremony

The Salem Methodist Church of Simpson, North Carolina was the setting of a candlelight ceremony on Saturday evening at eight o'clock when Miss Jean Rose Tucker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Tucker of Simpson, and Roland Gray Brinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Brinson of Wilson, North Carolina, were united in marriage.

Dr. D. R. Lindley, president of Atlantic Christian College, officiated at the double ring ceremony. He was assisted by Mr. Hill, pastor of Salem Church. Prior to the ceremony a program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Walter Elks Jr. as organist and Mrs. John Moss as soloist. Mrs. Moss sang "Entreat Me Not To Leave Thee," by Couillard. "Through the Years" by Vincent Youmans, and used "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte as a benediction.

Tall standards of white gladioli, tall cathedral candles, ferns and other greenery was used to form a background for the wedding party. The pews for the family were marked with white satin bows.

Mr. Lloyd Brinson served as best man for his son and ushers were Messrs. Bruce Cozart, Royce Brinson, Dr. Billy Wayne Tucker, Lloyd Brinson Jr. and Walter Sheppard.

The bride wore as her honor attendants Miss Carolyn Ballance of Fremont, North Carolina as maid of honor and her sister, Mrs. Bruce Cozart, as matron of honor. They wore gowns of orchid tulle over taffeta fashioned with off the shoulder neckline, with matching stole, tight bodice and very full skirt. With this they wore dainty headdress of tulle and carried cascade bouquets of orchid gaza mums tied with yellow satin ribbon.

Attending as bridesmaids were Mrs. Kenned Lamm of Wilson, Mrs. Billy Wayne Tucker of Goldsboro, Miss Joyce Hallard of Trenton, Mrs. William Glasgow of Greenville. They wore dresses like the honor attendants and carried similar bouquets.

Miss Suzanne Cozart, niece of the bride, was flower girl and she carried a tiny basket filled with rose petals. Honorary bridesmaids were Misses Jane Tucker, Patricia Smith, Rebecca Ann Pate, Anne Stancill and Mrs. James Haskins.

The bride entered the church with her father by whom she was given a marriage. Her wedding gown was of white tulle over bridal satin with a chantilly lace bodice and off the shoulder neckline edged in lace medallions, long tapering sleeves ending in callalily points over the hands. The three tiered bouffant skirt worn over hoop and ermine was of nylon tulle and chantilly lace that ended in a circular train. Her finger tip veil of imported illusion fell from a bonnet applied in lace over satin with an edging of pearls and illusion ruching. She carried a prayer book with white orchid and a shower of Stephanotis.

Mrs. Tucker, mother of the bride, wore for her daughter's wedding a dinner gown of shell pink crepe with sequin trim and a corsage of tallman roses.

Mrs. Brinson, mother of the groom, was dressed in a formal gown of was covered with a cut work linen cloth and was centered with a beautiful arrangement of white zaza mums and carnations flanked by silver candelabra bearing white tapers.

Mrs. J. C. Galloway Jr. and Mrs. P. P. Hendrix presided in the dining room, where salted nuts, cheese straws and coffee were served with the wedding cake.

About fifty guests attended. Goodbyes were said by Mr. and Mrs. Herman Tucker.

Following the wedding of Miss Jean Rose Tucker and Mr. Roland Gray Brinson in Salem Methodist Church Mr. and Mrs. James Herman Tucker entertained with a reception at their spacious home near Simpson.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Edwards greeted the guests at the door. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Taylor of Goldsboro introduced the guests to the receiving line composed of Mr. and Mrs. Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Brinson, Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Gray Brinson and their bridal party. The guests were invited into the dining room by Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Taft. The dining table was beautifully covered with a lace cloth. The centerpiece was white carnations, zaza mums, and candytuft showered with wedding bells and rings in a silver bowl. White candles in silver candelabra completed the table decoration. Mrs. Vance Harrington poured lime ice punch and was assisted in serving bridal cakes and salted nuts by the honorary bridesmaids.

Mr. and Mrs. Jarvis Allgood received in the gift room and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Elks presided over the bride's register. Goodbyes were said by Mr. and Mrs. Russell Stancill. About 150 guests called.

gift of silver in her chosen pattern by Mr. and Mrs. Taylor. Dr. and Mrs. Tucker presented the bride with an electric percolator.

About fifty guests attended. Miss Jean Tucker, bride-elect, and Mr. Roland Brinson were honored with a cake cutting following their wedding rehearsal on Friday night, March 20, when Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Cozart entertained at their home near Simpson. Upon arrival, Miss Tucker was presented a corsage of white carnations.

Guests were greeted by Mr. and Mrs. Cozart and invited into the dining room where the lovely three-tiered wedding cake was cut by the bride and groom. The dining table

OTTAWA (UP)—Lt. Col. Edward D. M. McNaughton, son of the World War II commander of the Canadian Army, has applied for permission to change his last name so he can collect a $250,000 inheritance.

McNaughton will inherit the fortune of his late great aunt, Mrs. James Norman Stuart Leslie if he changes his last name to "Leslie."

Mrs. Leslie stated in her will she wanted McNaughton to change his name to carry on the Leslie family name.

McNaughton, a bachelor, is the son of Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, now Canadian chairman of the International Joint Commission.

Lions Are Shown Gridiron Movie

Jack Boone, East Carolina College head football coach, presented movies of the Pirates 1952 season last night at the Greenville Lions Club.

Boone showed movies taken of the East Carolina-Catawba game, the one game "in which the boys were down," according to Boone's running commentary.

East Carolina's coach stated that the experts are picking the Catawba team as the number one team in the North State Conference this year. "They are being hailed as the team to beat," Boone stated.

Boone ran a full-length movie on the game and stopped various plays and ran them back in slow motion. The coach pointed out that he runs the movies back eleven times, each time watching one player all the way through the game. That way he is able to tell just where and why the miscues occurred.

Boone was introduced by Graham Jefferson.

President Bruce Sugg presided.

Spent 5 Years In Prison Because Little Girl Lied

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UP)—A 65-year-old Negro, who served five years in prison on a rape charge because an 11-year-old girl lied on the witness stand, said today he was "not mad at anyone."

Edward Oscar was freed Monday after a 16-year-old girl admitted she lied when she identified him as her attacker five years ago.

Oscar was sentenced to 99 years in the Missouri State Penitentiary on a charge of raping the girl. Kansas City Circuit Court Judge Be Terie reduced the sentence to 20 years, but Oscar had served five years, three months and 18 days when he was released.

The girl, who was not identified, said she deliberately lied when she accused Oscar of attacking her. She said she "got religion and wanted to right her wrong."

Drainage Work To Help Canada

THE PAS, Man. (AP)—A large drainage project will give Northern Manitoba a belt of productive farmland in territory long beset by floods.

An agreement was reached recently between the Manitoba and Federal governments whereby 100,000 acres in the fork of the Pasquia, Carrot and Saskatchewan Rivers, which flow together near here, is to be reclaimed through diking and interior drainage. The project will cost about $1,350,000.

The reclaimed land will be sold at prices ranging from $10 to $30 an acre. At least one-half of the land must be sold to war veterans or persons from submarginal lands in drought areas.

Find Dynamite Under Church

RICHFIELD, Utah (AP)—Enough dynamite to blow a church to kingdom come was found recently under a chapel. The custodian discovered 48 sticks of dynamite and 22 detonating caps near the boiler room of the chapel of the (Latter-Day Saints) Mormon Church.

The explosives had become moldy, and a bishop recalled that dynamite had been used to blast a hole in the cellar 30 years ago. It was thought a worker forgot to remove the unused explosives.

Poor Little Hill!

You're looking at a very discouraged hill! Ever since that ribbon of paving outlined it, it has been a challenge to motor cars.

For miles and miles it winds up the side of a mountain; and it has sharp curves, and steep grades that spring out of the curves so a driver can't get a start.

Half-way up, there's a watering place—put there so drivers can stop and refill their radiators.

Yes—it has been quite a hill. But not any more! The driver of the car in the picture above took off at the base and sailed right up to the top—and never gave it a thought.

You see, he's driving a 1953 Cadillac—with its great high compression 210-horsepower engine—and its vastly improved Hydra-Matic Drive.

We heard recently of two men who drove from Florida to Detroit—in a 1953 Cadillac.

The driver had made this trip before—and as they left Knoxville he said to his passenger: "Man, are we going to find a hill between here and Lexington!"

After an hour or so, the passenger said: "Where is the hill?"

And the driver said: "Just wait!"

So they waited—and presently they saw a sign which read: "Lexington."

The driver was dumbfounded.

"I can't understand it!" he said. "There used to be a hill there—a big one! I know from experience."

Naturally, this great car gives you more than the ability to master hills.

When you float along with a tremendous reserve like this, you have the easiest ride imaginable.

It gives you confidence, too—and helps you to relax—for you know you have the power for any emergency that may arise.

It makes the whole car a symphony in motion. In fact, the ride is so smooth and soothing that, not infrequently, passengers sleep as they ride.

Come in and try it for yourself. The car is waiting—and it's an experience you ought not to forego.

A Helping Hand To The New Form Of Government

What is being done in preparation for the transition period in Greenville's municipal government which will follow election day in May?

Time is growing short before the date set for the change in municipal government voted by local citizens. It is just seven weeks before the over-night change from aldermanic government to council-manager government will take place.

So far as we can tell, there is little that is being done. For that matter, most officials contend there is little which can be done until new officials are elected. After the councilmen are elected by the voters it will literally be only a matter of hours before the form of government will change.

As yet no candidates have filed for the five council posts which must be filled at the coming election. The deadline for filing is just 15 days away.

It is possible that present city officials are reluctant to take any step toward finding a city manager for Greenville, or making other preparatory steps toward the change in local government form. They may feel that is not their prerogative since their present terms expire when the new government becomes effective.

In the interest of good government, however, and in the interest of making the transition from aldermanic government to council-manager government as smooth as possible, there is a suggestion we have for the present officials.

The Mayor and the Board of Aldermen could begin putting out feelers and gathering applications for the job of city manager. We do not mean to suggest that the present aldermen should determine who the city manager should be; but they could do some necessary spadework before the new councilmen take office. The information they had secured could be turned over to the new councilmen. It would expedite the work of the new officials, and save their having to start from scratch to locate possibilities for the post.

Getting the kind of city manager Greenville needs is not going to be an overnight proposition by any means. At the very best, it will take 30 to 60 days to find a city manager after the new form of government becomes effective; and it might take six months or more to secure a city manager.

Any constructive aid the present administration can give the future governing body should be forthcoming from now until the council-manager form of government gets on its feet and into full operation.

National Whirligig

WASHINGTON—The first clear-cut identification of so-called "liberals" and "conservatives" on the Supreme Court was provided in a recent decision, which was published generally in the back financial pages of most newspapers. It was one of the most conclusive cases affecting the Government's attempted expansion into the private enterprise field in many years. It definitely checked "creeping socialism."

It gains added interest because it marks the most serious of the many judicial reverses which the Truman theory of Federal authority has suffered, ranking with the just condemnation of his seizure of the steel plants. It gives advance judicial sanction to President Eisenhower's plan to cut Washington's activities down to Constitutional size and limits.

A 1948 REQUEST—This extremely significant litigation involved an application by the Virginia Electric and Power Company to build a single-purpose, $27,000,000 power dam on the Roanoke River in North Carolina. The request was filed in 1948. Prompt approval was asked because of civilian and military needs for electricity in the area.

The Federal Power Commission issued the license. It assumed jurisdiction because no such Federal and Constitutional functions as flood control, navigation or conservation were connected with the project. It was a straight, business proposition.

But Oscar Chapman, Truman's Secretary of the Interior, and with White House approval, protested against FCC's action. In fact, he dragged the rival Federal agency into court in an unprecedented way. Chapman's only argument was that, in 1944, Congress had "authorized" a Federal "survey" of the region, with its 11 power-dam sites. He maintained that mere "authorization" of a "survey" reserved the whole area for U. S. development exclusively.

GOVERNMENT VS. PRIVATE BUSINESS—Chapman's contention was a revolutionary departure from the Roosevelt-Norris-Ickes thesis under which Uncle Sam built TVA, Grand Coulee, Bonneville, etc. These projects were undertaken by the Government because power production was only a by-product of the performance of the Federal functions mentioned above. On that basis they were approved by Congress and the courts.

With respect to the Roanoke undertaking, however, FCC and private utility lawyers pointed out that, if Chapman were correct, the Government had an equal right to enter competition with any private business. It could make shoes, steel, bread or any other everyday product.

RULING AGAINST CHAPMAN—The Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals at Richmond, Va., a distinguished body of jurists, ruled against Chapman. It accepted the opposing contention that "where such a decision" of the Supreme Court is applied to electric power, the principle would be equally applicable to Federal government displacement of private enterprise in all business enterprise."

FPC counsel noted that a pro-Chapman ruling would foreclose private development of every river or basin in the United States. For the Government, during the Roosevelt-Truman regime, has "surveyed" 97 per cent of the water and valley resources of the country. Chapman tried vainly for Congressional authorization of a "survey" of the only remaining untouched areas—the Merrimack and Connecticut valleys in New England.

SUPREME COURT DECISION—This was the "creeping socialism" issue as it was presented to the high tribunal, which held against Chapman by a 6-3 vote.

The adverse majority decision was written by Justice Frankfurter. He was joined by Justices Reed, Jackson, Burton, Minton and Clark. As in the steel seizure controversy, Chief Justice Vinson headed the big government bloc. Associated with him were Justices Douglas and Brandeis. The dissenting majority was written by Justices Warren, Black and Stewart. As the final decision shows, the intra-government squabble was unnecessary as well as expensive. But the overall gain may be great. The Supreme Court built by Roosevelt and Truman is definitely conservative and anti-totalitarian.

Somebody Told Me

By I. J. (Jack) EDWARDS, JR.

Yesterday when I talked to Hartwell Campbell about his progress on Greenville's television station, WNCT, he was all smiles. "We are very happy about the progress so far!" he said with a beam.

Hartwell's recent trip to New York resulted in a verbal agreement with one of the major networks, not to be mentioned by name until the contract is signed. That means that a certain amount of the network's programs will automatically come to us when the station goes on the air, with others to be sold before we get them.

This deal does not mean that WNCT will not get programs from the other three major networks. In other words, Campbell anticipates use of the networks similar to the set-up Norfolk has.

Bids for construction of the station were due yesterday afternoon at two o'clock. "We must have the work area of the building closed in by June 1st," Hartwell says.

How about equipment? Campbell conferred with the Radio Corporation of America in their New York office, requesting delivery dates on all equipment. The transmitter is on schedule for July, while most of the other equipment is on schedule for June. There are no delays anticipated on delivery of equipment. RCA has submitted in writing the delivery schedule.

The tower is being pre-fabricated in Chicago and delivery is expected in four to six weeks. "We'll have the tower in plenty of time," he says.

There has been a great deal of confusion on the location of the station, since it was originally slated to be in Frog Level. However, it had to be moved at least three miles because of a Channel Nine applicant in Charlotte who located his transmitter only 187 miles from Frog Level, instead of the 190 miles required by the FCC.

The station will be located, transmitter and studios, on South Evans Street. As you drive away from Greenville you will come to an intersection just beyond the Fire Tower. On the same side of the road as the tower, beyond the intersection, there is a large clump of woods. The south end of this clump, or the extremity farthest from Greenville, is where the station will be located.

What Other Papers Are Thinking

YOUNG ENOUGH AT 21 (Henderson Dispatch)

The elections committee of the State Senate acted wisely in killing a proposal to lower the voting age in North Carolina from 21 years to 18 years. Hoary arguments on both sides are well known to those who have given the proposal any serious consideration. But when all has been said and done the fact remains that twenty-one years is quite young enough for any individual to be given a hand in determining the course of government.

A favorable contention of advocates of reducing the voting age is that a boy who is old enough to fight is old enough to vote. But is he in a majority of instances? There are youngsters who at the age of eighteen are smarter and far more capable than many who are much further up the ladder of life. But the line has to be drawn somewhere, and, since a person is not regarded as of legal age under twenty-one, that is an appropriate period for him to begin voting. So far as becoming a soldier at age eighteen is concerned, we don't endorse that, either, and so to that extent can claim a measure of consistency in viewpoint.

The milestones of twenty-one years is generally recognized as the age of maturity. Some people, of course, never mature. Others do at an earlier stage. But right-ten years is a bit too short a period in which one may acquire sufficient knowledge of government to be fully capable of sharing responsibility for shaping policies.

Another proposed election privilege which the committee killed was that for a presidential preference primary in North Carolina. It is our belief that that would be good for the State. It might not be for the politicians who pick delegates to national conventions and who make the decisions as to what candidate will get the State's support in those conventions. Under that system the rank and file of citizens have little voice in selecting candidates. All they can do is choose between nominees of the big parties, which means their decision lies between just two men.

Even a preferential primary is not always conclusive, but it is more of a voice than is conceded to individual voters now. We are not disposed to split hairs on this proposal, but do believe it would be a good thing for North Carolina and that it would work as satisfactorily here as in many other States which now extend to their people this privilege.

Hal Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Roscoe C. Schwarz at 69 holds a peculiar niche in our complex civilization.

He plays a keyboard for a living, as does Jose Terbi, the pianist. But out of Terbi's keyboard comes haunting music — and out of Schwarz's keyboard comes nothing but strong blasts of air.

The air blasts come up through holes in the floor. They are intended to blow skirts over the heads of unwary lady patrons of the fun house in the Palisades Amusement Park, across the Hudson River in New Jersey.

Schwarz, a tall greying man with eyes like an eagle, is the acknowledged dean of his strange profession. He has been at it now for 27 years.

"I guess I've lifted the skirts of over six million ladies in that time," he estimated, "and I suppose that is a record."

His performance has a classic simplicity. He sits unnoted in a small booth. As the ladies start to enter the funhouse, Roscoe pushes a button. Swoosh goes the air. Swish go the skirts. The ladies squeal. The crowd laughs in delight.

Then everyone waits for Roscoe to push the next button and catch the next feminine customer. What do the women themselves think of all this?

"Well, sometimes the young girls get annoyed, or pretend to be annoyed," said Roscoe, "but the old girls love it."

Only one out of the millions of lady victims of this prank have ever counter-attacked.

"In the old fun house I was out in the open—I didn't have a booth," said Schwarz. "I've had one lady the air, and she didn't have much on under her dress. She came back and hit me with her handbag. But the crowd booted her."

"That's the only time anything like that ever happened. Of course, I've had my share of dirty looks and nasty remarks."

Roscoe philosophically shrugs these off as the criticism any artist must face.

After all these years he still enjoys his work. And he has reached a few conclusions about the ladies.

"They look trimmer today than they did years ago. They wear less overclothing now than they used to—but more underclothing. And their favorite color for 'em now seems to be blue."

But Roscoe definitely has a nostalgic feeling for the wide skirted fashions of other days.

"The last couple of years women have gone back to tight hobble skirts," he complained. "You get no results at all with them. I let 'em go by now—just ignore them."

Schwarz rose to his present post after a 16-year apprenticeship on the ferris wheel.

"I like the ferris wheel all right," he observed, "but the job is more exciting. You have an audience."

Roscoe is married, has four children and five grandchildren. I asked him what his wife thought of his seven-day-a-week job of blowing up ladies' skirts. "She isn't overjoyed," he said wryly.

WASHINGTON Letter
By JANE EADS
WASHINGTON—When one door shuts another opens, says Margaret Dorothea Landon, author of the historical novel, "Anna and the King of Siam." She now is embarking on a history of the Malay Peninsula.

The writer, wife of Kenneth Landon, state department expert on Thailand-Malayan affairs, is committed to an active social life in the capital and told me she had "to hold the whip" over herself to get her work done. She spends several hours daily in an apartment without a telephone, away from the new house the Lандons bought here recently.

"Some people think writing is easy, like running up a gentle black dress," she said, "but it's frightfully difficult, requiring a lot of research and hard work."

She started the new book a long time ago, she said, but was struck with influenza in 1946 and could work only a few days a day. During this time she did a novel, "Neville Dies the Dream," serialized first in a magazine.

Mrs. Landon started writing "Ann" in 1949. The book was translated into 12 languages and served as the theme of the musical play, "The King and I," which has had such a successful run.

"The book will open in London this Fall. She got the idea for the book during the 30 years she lived in Siam, now Thailand, where her husband served as a Presbyterian minister there and her three older children were born here.

A fourth child, Kenneth Peter Jr., "Kip," now nine, was born in Washington just 12 hours after she finished the book.

Living in the lonely Siamese countryside of Siam, the Lандons had no social life at all and spent all their spare time in reading and research. Landon has written ten books on the contemporary political life of the country.

Material for Mrs. Landon's book was partially from two stray volumes of the memoirs of the original Anna, Mrs. Anna Leon Owens.

Mrs. Landon was born in Wisconsin, graduated from Wheaton College in Illinois, taught school in Bear Lake, Mich., married in 1925. She didn't start writing until 1937, after a course in feature writing at the Merrill School of Journalism which she took while her husband worked for the P. O. at the University of Chicago.

Her eldest daughter, now Mrs. Charles W. Senneker, of Pacific, Wis., bears her name, Margaret Dorothea, which in Siamese means "pearl and gift of God."

She has a son and a daughter, also named Margaret Dorothea. Another daughter, Carol Elizabeth, attends Wheaton College. The elder son, William Bradley Landon, lives at Lake Geneva, Wis., and has a son.

Business Today

By ELMER ROESSNER
There are already so many special days and weeks now that anyone who proposes another one should have his head examined.

This department has examined its head and now proposes National Insurance Examination Day, March 24 is as good a date for it as any.

On NIE DAY every businessman will re-examine his insurance coverage and determine whether it meets his requirements.

One reason why checking on insurance once a year or oftener in these times is that values change so rapidly. An inventory that was worth $50,000 before price decontrol may be worth $60,000 today. A $100,000 business may become a $150,000 business overnight by a change in highways, a change in fashion or a defense contract. An injury of the kind that brought $50,000 judgments a few years ago may now be valued by juries at $300,000.

Another reason for re-examining coverage is that the holders frequently do not understand the terms at the time they were written. Many businessmen happily believe they have protection against certain hazards when a study of their policies would show they do not.

A third reason for looking at coverage frequently is that insurance companies, especially in recent years, have been bringing out new types of policies, some of which may better fit the needs of an enterprise.

"Purchasing policies in the mistaken belief that they afford protection which, in reality, is non-existent," is one of the most common mistakes of businessmen, Michael H. Levy, an insurance broker, recently told the New York chapter of the Young Presidents' Organization.

Other common errors, he said, include buying an adequate amount in relation to actual needs, buying insurance against minor hazards and overlooking catastrophic hazards; failure to adjust insurance as needs change; failure to take advantage of contract changes and coverage innovations, and failure to be aware of the extent of coverage.

Happy National Insurance Examination Day.

QM SCIENTISTS SUGGEST NEW SHOE SIZE SYSTEM
For many years the shoe industry has been basing shoe sizes on the distance between heel and toe and the width of the foot at the ball.

All wrong, say scientists working for the Quartermaster Corps. After lengthy study, they report that a more reliable base is the distance between heel and ball, and the girth of the foot at the ball.

Fishermen Net Tagged Shad

TAGGED FISH—A tagged shad was caught in Tar River near Grimesland Friday by two Greenville Negroes fishing with a drift net. In the picture above Charlie Whichard, one of the fishermen, points to the little round tag on the upper part of the fish's back. The tag was fastened to the fish with a wire pin which went all the way through its back. (Reflector Staff Photo).

A buck shad with a round, red tag through the upper part of its back was caught in the Tar River near Grimesland Friday afternoon by two Greenville Negroes.

The fishermen, Charlie Whichard of 200-A Washington Street and "Baltimore" Jones, both of Greenville, caught the shad while fishing with a drift net.

The small red tag was fastened through the fish's back with a long pin. Printed on the red tag were the letters "D2 111". It was the kind of tag used by conservation officials to mark fish in order to trace their movements. Whichard said he had been fishing for shad in Tar River for 11 years, but had never caught a marked shad before.

The fish weighed about two pounds.

Marciano Expects Quick Victory In Walcott Contest

HOLLAND Mich. (UP)—Rocky Marciano said today, "There are several reasons why I expect to take him out a lot quicker this time than in September."

It was a very serious champion in white sweat shirt and brown slacks, who modestly gave his reasons for believing he will knock out Jersey Joe Walcott at Chicago Stadium April 10 earlier than the 15th round of their first fight at Philadelphia.

He emphasized: "I hit Walcott only five or six solid shots during our whole fight at Philadelphia. I never realized that until I watched a couple of runs of the kinescope pictures. He was pulling away from most of my punches or just being grazed by them."

"But at the same time he was hitting me solidly in every round. I took everything he had that night."

Chatting over his orange juice in the lodge at the Holland Furnace picnic grounds, Rocky disclosed he had been unpleasantly surprised to learn from the kinescope he had landed "scarcely a solid left hook" until the last round.

It was his left hook that had been most devastating in his knockout of Joe Louis and Rex Layne.

"And I don't expect to be handicapped for three rounds this time by something that got into my eyes and made me blink so badly I could hardly see," he continued. "No, we never found out what caused that eye trouble in Philadelphia. Probably it was from water being poured on septic ponds they had put on a cut on the top of my head. Maybe it seeped down into my eyes."

Why did the champ believe he could make a better target of the 39-year-old Walcott this time?

"I know I've increased my hand-speed," he said. "Boys who worked with me as sparring partners before say that's my biggest improvement now — hand-speed, particularly with my right. I figure I can land this time before he rolls away or slips the punch. I mean he'll get them solid. And I'm making sure this time I'll throw plenty of left hooks."

BRAVES TRAINED AT TRINITY
DURHAM — During the spring of 1899 the Boston Braves of the National League trained at Trinity College (now Duke University) and played four games with Trinity during their two weeks' stay. The Braves had won the league championship for the previous two years running under Manager Frank Selee and the Braves' Jim Collins had won the homerun hitting title the year before.

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (UP) — This is the big one for Casey Stengel and the funny man of baseball was showing today that it's no laughing matter.

If the New York Yankees win the American League flag this season it will be an unprecedented fifth straight victory. It would enshrine Old Case a notch above John McGraw and Joe McCarthy.

Which means that Stengel this season is going to pull the strings as never before and the tipoff comes from his early "complacency" rap at the Yankees.

The Yanks have been playing at a championship pace on the Grapefruit Circuit, winning two for every one they lost. But some of those wins have been on the sloppy side and Stengel blew his fuses, charging several of his key men with "coasting." He left no doubt that this was the season above them all in which he expected, even demanded, perfection.

Stengel doesn't need the money. With him it is a balancing of the scales for those bitter years at Boston and Brooklyn when he was regarded as a baseball clown. The four straight pennants and world championships he has won aren't enough.

Casey may feel that after the first they could have called him lucky. Even with two he was on the fortunate side. They admitted he was good after the third and that he was one of the best after the fourth. But a fifth would clinch his berth as the guiding genius of baseball and complete his conversion from mountebank to magician.

That's why he'll pull out all the stops this season and has begun his psychological warfare at this early date. He waited until September last year for the move which clinched the flag.

The Yanks had dropped a 3-2 game to the Athletics and were en route to Washington when Casey walked into the diner and found the players hilariously playing a game called 20 Questions. Stengel gave them all the answers, and angrily.

There was a time for laughing, he raged, and just after losing wasn't one of them.

The Yanks at that time were two and one-half games ahead of the Cleveland Indians and playing at a scorching 588 pace. From that night on they played .833 ball, winning 15 against only three defeats, and one of those losses came after the pennant was clinched.

It was well for them that they did. For the Indians won 16 of their last 19 games in a furious bid which fell two games short because of that needed Yankee finish.

Stengel admitted after the season closed that "I felt toward the end of the season that if we didn't win the pennant I might call it a career."

But now the man who suffered with bumbling ball clubs in those early years at Boston and Brooklyn needs just one more flag to write baseball history. That's what kept him in the game.

Bill Hendrix To Start In Phantom's Baseball Opener

Giants Miss Mays But Expect Flag

PHOENIX Ariz. (UP) — Pvt. Willie Mays, busy with close order drill in the Army today, will be delighted to know that his Giant teammates miss him tremendously—but feel they can win the pennant without him.

Manager Leo Durocher and left fielder Monte Irvin, who played only a few steps over from Willie, probably miss him the most.

"Willie's a wonderful kid and a great ball player," said the Lip, "and we're counting the days until he comes back."

Irvin, who was Mays' closest friend on the club, added, "you can't help but miss a ball player like Willie but I think we're going to win even though he isn't going to be with us this year."

Since Mays' application for discharge, due to family hardship, was rejected recently, the bulk of responsibility for the Giants' pinch rests with Irvin.

"I've set several goals for myself," he added. "My first aim is to play in 154 games this season. Then I'd like to drive in 125 runs for the ball club and hit 30 or 35 home runs."

For the average ball player, those goals might seem far-fetched but not for Irvin, who batted in 121 runs and walloped 24 homers in 1951.

Pirates Continue Baseball Drills

Yesterday's cool weather slowed the East Carolina Pirates only slightly as they continued their preparation for their 1953 opener Friday against Atlantic Christian in Wilson.

Coach Jack Boone continued to work with the Pirates in an effort to round them into top shape before their first baseball renewal of the "Battle of the Bohunk." The ancient wooden water pail is currently in the hands of the East Carolina team because of a pair of basketball victories.

Boone has still not decided on his starting pitcher in the Friday contest although the starter will probably be either Jimmy Byrd or Jimmy Piner. Byrd, the mainstay of the 1952 team, has been having some trouble with his arm and may not be able to get into top shape for the game. Piner, a righthander from New Bern, was behind Byrd last year and may have to take over the tougher chores this year if Byrd's arm won't respond to conditioning exercises.

The Pirates expect to have a veteran line-up ready to throw at the Bulldogs. A fast infield is expected

Veteran Lefthander Draws Starting Nod Against Rocky Mount Blackbirds In Wednesday Contest In Rocky Mount

By JIMMY ELLIS
Reflector Sports Editor

Bill Hendrix, a veteran lefthander, has been tentatively nominated to start Greenville High School's first 1953 baseball game against Rocky Mount Wednesday in Rocky Mount.

Hendrix drew the nod from Phantom coach Bo Farley after work-outs yesterday in Guy Smith Stadium. He is the only lefthanded pitcher on the Phantoms' squad and one of three veteran hurlers.

The pitching department is something of a question mark despite the presence of three lettermen. Hendrix has looked best in workouts and may well be the mainstay of the staff before the season is completed.

The regular catching duties are expected to fall to Bobby Nunn and Hal Edwards. Nunn is a letterman while Edwards is making his first bid for the team. Edwards also fills-in in the outfield and at first base.

Top reserves on the squad will include Tommy Norris at second base and Leroy Quinn and Dallas Evans in the outfield. All three are newcomers to the squad.

Worsham Back In Golf Limelight

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UP) — Lew (The Chin) Worsham was back in the golfing limelight today as a result of his record-tying victory in the ninth annual Jacksonville Open tournament.

The 35-year old pro from Oakmont, Pa., has been a steady money earner on the tourney trail since his triumph in the U. S. Open in 1947, but his victories since then have been few and far between. Now, however, he appears to be playing again at the peak of his game.

Worsham fired four straight 68's here to finish with 272 for the 72 holes of the Jacksonville Open, beating former champ Jim Ferrier of San Francisco by a single stroke.

Oddly enough, it was Ferrier's journey record that Worsham tied and, even more strangely, Ferrier had notched his 272 card back in 1951 by exactly the same method—four 68's.

Worsham earned $2,000 for his triumph and Ferrier received $1,500. Tommy Bolt of Maplewood, N. J., took third place with 275, earning $1,000.

After the top trio came Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex., the first-round leader, with 276; Jay Hebert of Erie, Pa., and Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill., in a tie at 280, and John Barnum of Grand Rapids, Mich., in a tie with Jim Turnesa of Briarcliff, N. Y., at 282.

Baseball Briefs

ERSKINE NOMINATED
VERO BEACH, Fla. (UP)—Carl Erskine, 27-year-old "change-up" expert, seemed certain today to draw the Brooklyn Dodgers' opening day pitching assignment against the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Erskine, who pitched a no-hitter against the Chicago Cubs last June 19, limited the Philadelphia A's to two hits Monday as he became the first Brooklyn hurler to go nine innings this spring.

HARRIS CHORTLING
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UP)—Manager Bucky Harris, who takes a special delight in beating the New York Yankees, chortled today over his Washington Senators' second straight triumph over the world champions.

The Senators not only routed the Yankees, 9-0, Monday, but spoiled the glittering Grapefruit League record compiled by Jim McDonald, who previously had not allowed run in 15 innings, was hammered for four runs in seven innings.

ROBERTS IMPRESSIVE
CLEARWATER, Fla. (UP)—The Philadelphia Phillies have had a disappointing spring but one chap Manager Steve O'Neill, isn't worrying about it 28-game winner Robin Roberts.

Roberts, in his second consecutive impressive showing, shut out the Milwaukee Braves for seven innings Monday as the Phillies scored an 11-5 victory.

WEHMEIER MAKES BID
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UP)—Herman Wehmeier made a strong bid today to receive Manager Rogers Hornsby's opening day pitching assignment for the Cincinnati Reds.

Wehmeier, who had a 9-11 record last season, hurled seven shut-out innings and struck out seven batters Monday as the Reds' "B" team beat the Cardinals "B" team, 7-1. Manager Eddie Stanky played four innings at second base for the Cardinals.

THIRD HOME RUN
TUCSON, Ariz. (UP) — Paul Schramka, a 24-year-old outfielder who patterned his batting style after Ted Williams, may yet win a place in the Chicago Cubs' outfield.

Schramka, in service in 1951 and '52, has impressed Manager Phil Cavarretta all spring and Monday his third home run in Grapefruit League play to lead the Cubs to a 9-6 triumph over Portland of the Pacific Coast League.

New York Giant pitcher Jim Hearn handled 71 chances without an error last season. He started six double plays and made 14 put-outs.

Marbles Tournaments To Decide Champion

First round play in the city marbles championships were completed yesterday at West Greenville School. Second round play at West Greenville will begin next Monday.

City Recreation Director Warren Carroll said today that the championships are of the double-elimination variety and yesterday's losers will have another chance to stay in the running for the school championship.

Similar tournaments are scheduled for Third Street School, the Catholic School, and the Training School. Winners at the four schools will be awarded T-shirts with an appropriate design and will compete against each other for the city championship. The winner of the city title will, along with the runner-up, will be given an expenses-paid trip to Burlington where the state championships are being held this year.

The tournament is open to boys and girls 14 years of age or under. A boy or girl who becomes 15 on or after July 1, 1953, is eligible to compete but those who will be 15 before July 1 are not eligible.

The schedule which has been set up to determine the school championships is as follows:

West Greenville: Mondays, March 23 and 30, and April 6, 3-5 p.m.

Third Street: Wednesdays, March 25 and April 1 and 8, 3-5 p.m.

Catholic School: Thursdays, March 26 and April 2 and 9, 3-5 p.m.

Training School: Fridays, March 27 and April 3 and 10, 3-5 p.m.

A representative of the Recreation Department will be present at all the matches to determine the winners.

Winners in the West Greenville competition yesterday were James Thompson, Maylon Edmonson, Carl Eastwood, Billy Stocks, Clarence Smith, Kenneth Harris, Jack Foley, and Len Ward.

The losers were Edward Bryant, Gene Howell, Kenneth Burk, Harvey Harris, Milton Manning, Tommy Sullivan, and Patsy Howard.

The matches yesterday were the first of the double-elimination series.

O'Briens Arrive

HAVANA, Cuba (UP) — Johnny and Eddie O'Brien, the Seattle University basketball stars recently signed as "bonus babies," will go through their first workout at the nearby Mid-Pines Club.

The talented twins arrived in camp Monday night as the Pirates "B" team defeated the "A" team in a make-up game, 5-2. The intrasquad game, which included 22 walks but only five hits, was put on when Havana of the Florida International League failed to appear for a scheduled game.

Joins All-Stars

NEW YORK (UP)—Guard Ron Feteris of DePaul joined the squad of the college "All-Americans" today for the coast-to-coast basketball tour with the Harlem Globetrotters, opening at Madison Square Garden, March 29.

Rio Grande Quit NCAA Over Issue

RIO GRANDE, O. (UP) — Rio Grande College was out of the National Collegiate Athletic Association today of its own volition because the NCAA refused to accept the record-breaking exploits of Clarence (Bevo) Francis, the sensational scoring star who broke nearly every mark in the books.

Coach Newt Oliver announced Monday that Rio Grande had severed relations with the NCAA because "there is no use letting an organization handle our statistics that makes their rulings retroactive."

In New York NCAA officials refused to comment on the withdrawal. They pointed out that Rio Grande was "never" a full-fledged member of the organization, but just an associate member.

Oliver said his school would still belong to the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics, of Emporia, Kan. He pointed out that the NAIA confirmed by telephone that Bevo's records are "official in every sense of the word."

Oliver, who brought Francis to Rio Grande after coaching him in high school, said he mailed a letter to Howard Hobson of Yale University, challenging the Ivy League school to play Rio Grande next basketball season.

"Now I am asking you, Mr. Hobson," the letter said, "as a professional man to put your team against mine and let the whole world know if your motion condemning Bevo's records is true."

The NCAA has 388 full-fledged members and 18 associate members since the withdrawal of Rio Grande. An NCAA official said Rio Grande was just a part time member, so it could get its statistics published nationwide.

Wins Third Title

PINEHURST, N. C. (UP) — Pat O'Sullivan is queen of the North-South women's amateur golf tournament for the third time in the last four years.

The Orange, Conn., lass, an em-ployee at the nearby Mid-Pines Club, regained the tourney title with a 2 and 1 victory over Mary Lenz Faulk of Thomasville, Ga., Monday. Brilliant putting offset her occasional wild drives.

Miss O'Sullivan had won the title in 1950 and 1951 before losing in the finals last year to Barbara Romack of Sacramento, Calif. Miss Romack was eliminated in the quarter-finals this year.

Globetrotters, opening at Madison Square Garden, March 29. Feteris, an honor student at DePaul, is the school's highest scorer since George Mikan.

News From Ballards

By MRS. G. S. NICHOLS

Rev. Herbert Dale will preach at Ballards Presbyterian Church on every second and fourth Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

On last Friday evening Mrs. Lou Allen was hostess to "The Women's Auxiliary of the Piney Grove Baptist Church" at her home in Greenville. The meeting opened with the group singing "Sweet Hour of Prayer" followed by a prayer and the presentation of the program on "The Light of Truth Shines through Prayer" by Mrs. Myrtle Ruth Mills. In giving this very inspirational program she used four topics, "The Need of Prayer," "The Spirit of Prayer," "The Simplicity of Prayer," and "He Hears and Answers Prayers." Scriptures used were taken from 2 Mark 11, 24, Luke 3, 11-9, James 5-16. She closed with a beautiful prayer, "In the Morning." The meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. Clarence Little and the group voted to have a mission study class on the book, "His Name among All Nations." They also voted that with the aid of the Junior Auxiliary the new project would be to build new rest rooms at the church out of blocks and would start the building fund by asking each church member to give the amount of one block. Mrs. Mildred Humbles and Mrs. Lela Worthington were elected delegates to attend the Auxiliary convention at St. Delight Church, Ormondsville, Wednesday, March 25, and it was voted that a gift of $5.00 from the treasury be sent to this convention. Mrs. Myrtle Ruth Tyson read the minutes and called the roll to which 20 members answered present. We were glad to have as visitors, Mrs. Ray Hart, Mrs. Dora Lassiter, and Mrs. Frances Cassick. During the fellowship hour the hostess assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Frances Cassick, served sandwiches, assorted cookies, and iced drinks. It was also discussed at this meeting whether to have the revival at the church in June or in September at the time it has been held for the past several years.

Honoring Mrs. Noah L. Edwards.

Police Hunt For Hypnotic Thief

PORTLAND, Ore. (UP)—Police searched today for a new type of con man—one who blows smoke in a victim's face and hypnotizes him.

Thomas Crawford, 47, told police two strangers induced him to draw $1,100 from the bank, promising a fast return on his money. Then, he said, one of the men blew cigar smoke in his face and put him under a spell so he couldn't resist their directives.

Indians Asking Steeper Price

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UP)—The American Indian has come a long way since 1626 when his ancestors sold New York's Manhattan Island for the equivalent of 24¢.

Members of the Agua Caliente tribe near here have offered to sell the city of Palm Springs a square mile of their reservation for $408,000, Indian agent Lee Odle said today.

One in every five Americans will eventually have cancer, American Cancer Society statisticians estimate.

Never Forgets A Set Of Teeth

NEW YORK (UP)—Dr. Emanuel Rosenwasser, 58, is a dentist who never forgets a set of teeth.

He peered into the mouth of Ramon Rivera, 22, yesterday and identified him as the holdup man who shot him and tried to rob him in his office March 6.

"That's the guy," Rosenwasser said. "I might forget a face, but never a set of teeth. Not his teeth, anyway."

Detectives said Rivera had pulled robberies in the offices of two other dentists recently. He was booked on charges of assault, attempted robbery and illegally carrying a gun.

THIS WILL NEVER DO

BROWN CITY, Mich. (UP)—An unidentified burglar broke into a tavern, took $30 from the cash register, but didn't have the heart to go through with the theft. He left the money on the bar with this note: "I am very sorry but I cannot steal. I guess I'm not a very good crook. I like you too much."

Television And You . . .

Sure, you want a TV set, but you feel that the installation is entirely too high. . . . And may be that you are delaying your purchase of a TV set due to that fact. . . . And it's true that you will need no installation when the Greenville station gets on the air. . . . But how much does that save you without the cost of installation? It saves you exactly $50.00. . . . But . . . on the other hand, if you go ahead and put an antenna up now, it will save you the cost of that job later, because without an antenna you will not be able to pick up any other station outside of Greenville. . . . No doubt the Greenville station will give us outstanding programs, but . . . surely you will always want that opportunity to turn the dial in search of better programs. . . . And for the small amount of cost weighed against the tremendous amount of entertainment you get with an antenna, your best buy will be with antenna and all the trimmings. . . .

So why wait? Put your TV set in now, and begin to get acquainted with TV. . . . There is some perfect reception to be had now. . . . AND . . . there is some lousy reception to be had. . . . But the good off-sets the bad. . . . If you don't believe it, ask someone who owns a TV set. . . . I'm sure you will be convinced that you shouldn't wait any longer to get yours installed. . . .

Here is some more wonderful news. . . . And your best friends, when you purchase a TV set. . . . Appliance Sales & Sporting Goods Corporation, located next door to the Pitt Theatre has gone to the long hard training period under the supervision of Carolina Sales and Commonwealth Sales, Inc. both locally owned, and two distributorships that Greenville can well be proud of, with local warehouses, and distribution, including every part that a television set could ever require stocked right in Greenville. . . . That means just this. . . . If your set needs repairs of any nature, then you don't have to wait for days, and even months, in most cases, to get that little part that keeps TV from ticking. . . . No Sir. . . . Just call Appliance Sales & Sporting Goods Corporation, and they will have it at their finger tips. . . . Your set will be in action in a jiffy. So there is another good reason why you don't have to wait on purchasing your TV. We have gone through this training period just for you, and the results are, that we have an up-to-the-minute Service Department ready to take care of your TV set now, and always. . . . Beware of those who don't have a trained Service Department. . . . It is bound to cost you untold amounts of money if you don't buy from Established Dealers who can service TV. . . . Please drop by at your earliest convenience, and pick out a beautiful Philco or Bendix and let us install the best in your home. . . . Easy, convenient terms can be arranged, and if you are not ready to have it installed now, then pay a small amount down on a set, on the lay-away plan. . . . This will assure you of immediate delivery when you do get ready for your set.

The hippopotamus will sleep under water but rise for air even when sleeping.

WARNING TO HOMEOWNERS!

Glass can't rust!

PROTECT YOURSELF against "Ruthless Rust" by installing a Permaglas Automatic Water Heater. . . . its glass-surfaced steel tank cannot rust. . . . because glass can't rust.

REWARD YOURSELF with all the sparkling clean hot water you want. Clean as the water you drink. . . . no more rust to ruin your wash or cooking dirt to spoil your water and fixtures.

Good Seed Peanuts, Aldrin Peanut Fertilizer, Peanut Inoculate Means GREATER PROFITS

SPECIAL PEANUT FERTILIZER: Aldrin fertilizer mixes are now available. U. S. Department of Agriculture recommends Aldrin for the control of Southern Corn Rootworm, Grubs, and Wild Worms. Keel Peanut Company has Aldrin fertilizer ready for delivery at Keel's Warehouse.

TIME TO USE: As soon as peanuts are a few inches above the ground, side dress with Aldrin fertilizer mix, 2-12-12 or 0-10-20, at the rate of 500 pounds per acre. This not only gives peanuts all the necessary fertilizer (except landplaster) to produce a good crop but controls all Profit-stealing Root-chewing insects for the entire year.

YIELDS: Aldrin treatment tests in heavily infested soils increased yields as much as 60% and greatly improved the quality of the crop.

COST: Aldrin mixed in your peanut fertilizer cost you very little, only $4.50 per acre. The Aldrin treatment doesn't cost, it pays.

OUR SEED PEANUTS: Keel Peanut Company offers you Seed Peanuts that recently tested 96% germination at your N. C. State College Station. Our Seed Peanuts are shelled with the very best of equipment, hand-picked, and treated with Du Pont's New Dustless ARASAN SF-X. Seed prices are the same as last year 28c per lb.

FREE INOCULATION: N. C. Agricultural Experiment Station recommends that peanuts be inoculated when land is used that hasn't grown peanuts in four or more years. We furnish inoculate FREE with each purchase of our seed.

YOUR SEED: If you have your own seed, we will be glad to shell and prepare them in the same gentle efficient way as we prepare our own; at a very small cost to you.

THE VOICE OF LOVE

William Neubauer

Chapter 17

And now she was beautiful. Now peace came to her, and her nerves untangled themselves and the look of tension left her big, glowing brown eyes. This, she decided, was it. There was no voice inside telling her so, and yet for the first time in her life she could look at a man and feel sure. She wanted to work for him. She wanted to scrub floors for him, and she wanted to care for him when he was ill. She smiled, and it was the smile of love felt, known, accepted at last.

"Hello, Dan."

"You know, I'm not worthy. Ruth, I've done a lot of rotten things in my life. If you just knew the truth about me..."

"We'll do it together, Dan. Won't we? Dan, it'll be a lot of fun! All my life I've wanted to do something really and truly important. All my life I've..."

"But your teaching!"

"I have the whole summer, Dan."

"But your father! He's against me. He's campaigning for a city hospital. What about him?"

That sobered her. That she thought would be a problem. She knew her father. Once he'd gotten an idea into his head he'd go ahead with it no matter what. And Doctor had worked on Dad for months. For that matter, so had she. He'd the most awful thing ever."

So, for that matter, did Mr. Senator Hufford, fisherman and artist. But he was better able to control himself. He sat down on a stool in the stern of the Dauntless Me and contemplated flying gulls and soaring pelicans with a meditative eye. He looked at forlorn Nancy in her plaid shorts and peppermint-striped blouse. "A lot can happen between now and then, hang it," he roared. "And don't think I don't know what I'm talking about. I've lived, you know, I didn't always weigh four hundred pounds. There was a time when women went simply mad over me."

This had the desired effect. Nancy studied the semi-bald head, the fat red cheeks, the several chins and the immense corporation—and giggled shrilly. From her shorts she took a gay green handkerchief and dried her eyes. "Honest, Mr. Hufford?"

"We're discussing your sister," said Mr. Hufford stiffly. "And like in, her," resumed Mr. Senator Hufford, "I want to help her."

Blue eyes flitted to his face. Anticipation glowed in those blue eyes. Mr. Hufford was at his best when he was plotting some great mischief.

"We could invite Dan Curtis to ride with us, and Mr. Hufford?"

His mouth snapped shut.

"Just an idea," she said hurriedly. "I really wouldn't murder anyone."

"But how do we know he's Mr. Hufford. His voice dropped to his boots, and was very grave.

He nodded and laughed as color rushed to her cheeks. "You see?" Bob O'Brien is an old friend. You want him to be happy. So anyone who seems to be cutting him out strikes you automatically as being a wrong 'un."

"He is! He is!"

"Yesterday," boomed the fat artist from Maine, "I saw a different Dan Curtis. I was in Fisherman's Quarter, sketching. Along came Dr. Dan Curtis in your sister's car. Someone had broken an arm. Dr. Fell was in San Mateo, doing an operation, and in desperation Dan was called. He asked me to help, and I did. Before you knew it, that arm was set properly. And without charge, incidentally."

Nancy clenched her hands. "A trick! Just a trick to make everyone like him."

He nodded moodily. "You might be right. But suppose you're not. Do you think Ruth will waste time on a sister who didn't give her husband the benefit of the doubt?"

Nancy fidgeted.

"We'll see what we'll see," said Mr. Hufford. His voice dropped to his boots, and was very grave.

Two Performances Of Comedy Planned

Mrs. Dorothy Perkins, director of special education in the East Carolina College department of education, will appear in the leading role of "The Curious Savage", comedy with a cast from the college faculty, when it is presented Thursday and Friday of this week in the College Theatre.

The play will be given under the sponsorship of the Greenville Branch of the American Association of University Women. Proceeds will benefit the fund being raised by the organization to enable an East Carolina student to study abroad.

As Mrs. Ethel P. Savage, an eccentric yet lovable millionaire's wife, Mrs. Perkins heads a carefully selected cast of faculty members at the college. In the amusing comedy, when Ethel "The Curious Savage" hides ten million dollars in negotiable bonds, her grasping children place her in a home for patients with mental disorders.

There she meets a group of interesting, attractive, and not-so-crazy people. Their relationships with her and with her sons and her daughter provide a plot, at once funny, swift-moving, and appealing to the emotions. John Patrick, whose hit play "The Hasty Heart" was produced a few years ago by the Teachers Playhouse of the college, is the author.

George E. Perry of the East Carolina music faculty, whose interpretation of the part of Oliver Erwerter in last year's faculty play "The Silver Whistle" received much favorable comment from the public, is director of "The Curious Savage."

The play will have a setting designed under the supervision of women at East Carolina. Ernest White of Waynesboro, Va., student member of the Teachers Playhouse, is in charge of special lighting effects. Dr. Donald Murray and Dr. Walter Krausnick are busy constructing scenery and properties.

A number of faculty members whose performances last spring in "The Silver Whistle" will be remembered by local theatre-goers are included in the cast of "The Curious Savage." These include Beatrice Chauncey, Elizabeth Walker, Mrs. Agnes Barrett, Dr. Harold Jones, Dr. Theodore Eaton, Dr. Hubert Coleman, and Ruth Lambie.

Newcomers to the faculty drama group this year are Mrs. Sally Klingenschmitt, Donald Amelton, Dr. James Poindexter, and Mrs. Perkins.

Mrs. Walter Krausnick, president of the AAUW, and Mrs. George E. Perry, chairman of the play committee, are being assisted in work on the play by a large group of Greenville AAUW members, and

Mrs. Dorothy W. Perkins has the leading role in the East Carolina College faculty play "The Curious Savage." Known over a wide area of the state for her work as a speech therapist, Mrs. Perkins will make her initial bow as an actress before a local audience when she appears Thursday and Friday evenings if this week in the AAUW-sponsored comedy produced with a cast from the East Carolina faculty. Performances will be at 8:15 p. m. in the College Theatre.

Sons And Daughters Of ECC Alumni Are Honor Guests At Tea On Sunday

Students at East Carolina College who are sons and daughters of alumni were honor guests Sunday afternoon at a tea given by members of the Pitt County Chapter of the college alumni association. Approximately eighty people were present in the Alumni Offices in the Austin building to enjoy the social event.

Fodie Hodges, principal of the Chocod school and president of the county alumni chapter, and other officers of the college Alumni Association were hosts at the tea and welcomed guests during the afternoon. Those who attended included approximately sixty sons and daughters of alumni of the college, members of the Pitt County Chapter, and other alumni.

Assisting in entertaining were James W. Butler, alumni secretary at the college; Dean of Women Ruth White; Miss Mary Thomas Smith; Mrs. Susie Webb; Miss Camille Clark; Miss Kathleen Venters; Mrs. Ruth Garner; Mrs. Fodie Hodges; and Mrs. Ruel Tyson.

The Alumni Offices were attractively decorated for the tea with colorful arrangements of spring flowers. Punch and cakes were served.

Debating Club Elects Officers

Lula W. Mayo of Greenville has been elected president of the Jarvis Forensic Club at East Carolina College and will direct the activities of the debating society during the spring quarter this year. As a member of the club, Miss Mayo represented East Carolina in the recent South Atlantic Forensic Tournament at Lenoir-Rhyne College at Hickory, N.C.

Other officers chosen for the spring quarter are James L. Fish of Willow Springs, vice president; Bobby R. Young of Angler, sergeant-at-arms; and Gwendolyn Williams of Oakboro, secretary-treasurer. Dr. Meredith N. Posey of the department of English will continue his work as faculty advisor of the organization.

will continue through May 28, Brigadier General M.K. Delchmann, AF ROTC Commandant, has announced.

This will mark the first time the inspections have been carried out under the supervision of the newly created AF ROTC Headquarters of the Air University, located at Montgomery, Alabama. Before August, 1952, the AF ROTC was under the jurisdiction of the Continental Air Command.

a number of local business firms and student organizations at the college are lending their support to the project.

Two performances of "The Curious Savage" will be given in the College Theatre. The curtain will rise each night at 8:15 o'clock. Tickets are now on sale at the Alumni Office of the college or may be obtained at the door on the evenings of performances.

Federal Inspection Of AFROTC Unit Slated

Annual Federal inspection of the Air Force ROTC at East Carolina College will take place Wednesday and Thursday of this week, March 25 and 26, according to an announcement by Lt. Col. Roger G. Fuller, professor of air science and tactics at the college.

A team of three members will be present on the campus to conduct the inspection. Members are Col. Adolf M. Wright, Lt. Col. Edmund J. Bodine, and Maj. Russell M. Southall, of Area C, for North Carolina, Pennsylvania, and Virginia. The inspection here and in other colleges of the nation is being carried out under the direction of Col. Adolph M. Wright, AF ROTC Inspector General.

The purpose of the inspection is to examine the training, both in the classroom and on the drill field, of AF ROTC cadets. Teaching procedures, adequacy of instructor facilities, effectiveness of instructors, and general military bearing of cadets are some of the points on which the detachment will be graded. The inspecting team will review the corps of cadets on parade, according to plans.

The visiting officers will also scrutinize the administration and supply methods of the unit and discuss the AFROTC program with school and local officials.

Annual Federal inspections of the 209 AF ROTC detachments throughout the nation, Puerto Rico, and Hawaii are now under way and

Talk Of Early Adjournment By Assembly Is Wishful Thinking

By LYNN NISBET

RALEIGH. — Winter was officially replaced by Spring last Friday afternoon, the General Assembly has been in session for 64 legislative days, and there is no more data upon which to base predictions of adjournment date now than was available the day the session began.

Some leaders expressed the early hope that the Assembly could complete its work by Easter, now less than two weeks off, as late as ten days ago. Speaker Eugene Bost said he believed it "possible" to finish by April 11. Majority of the oldtimers in and around legislative circles forecast as wishful thinking, without evidence to support them.

The fact is that the current General Assembly has not yet tackled one of its admittedly most controversial matters—the issuance of $87 million in bonds for permanent improvements. Governor Umstead has proposed submission to a vote of the people $50 million for State grants in aid to local units for school building and $22 million for buildings at mental hospitals. And he proposed that the Legislature upon its own authority issue about $15 million for improvements at other State institutions and for Medical Care Commission aid to local hospitals.

Sub-committees have been assigned the task of working out a distribution formula for the school money if it should be voted, and smoothing out technical difficulties in the way of selling the legislative issue. There is anticipated considerable opposition to the whole bond idea when the bills hit the floors of the two branches, but the real delay will come in determining the formula for distributing the $50 million school aid.

It will be remembered that the 1949 body spent something like three weeks on the formula for disbursing the $200 million secondary road bond money. Some of the work done then will be of great help to the current Legislature. By way of comparison with the 1949 session, the first of the Scott regime and more comparable to this one than any other in recent years, it may be noted that the Assembly convened on January 5 and ran until April 23. That was 94 legislative days, exceeded only by the marathon sessions of 1931, '33 and '35. The biennial appropriations bill was introduced on January 13 and ratified on April 23. This year the convening date was January 7 and the appropriations bill came in on January 16. Assuming the same time for consideration, it would be ratified on April 26.

The road bond bill four years ago was introduced on January 19 and also ratified on April 23. This year, as of March 23 the proposed hospital and school bond bill has not been written.

There is this important difference in approach: The road bond bill was couched in general terms and all the distributive formula came by way of floor amendments. Profiting from that experience as well as from that experience as well then, those charged with preparing the expected bills now are trying to get most of those details cleared before introduction.

Cases Heard In Superior Court

Pitt Superior Court got off to a belated start here yesterday morning with Judge Henry L. Stevens of Warsaw on the bench, but deliberations gained momentum as the day wore on.

The heaviest sentences of the day were levied against Josephus Corbett, E. J. Dunn and Cassie Dunn, all three of whom were charged with breaking and entering and larceny. Each of the trio pled nolo contendere to the charges.

Judge Stevens sentenced Corbett to serve not less than 30 nor more than 36 months in State Prison. The two Dunn men were sentenced to a straight 36-month-term each in State Prison.

John Lee Walters pled not guilty to disposing of mortgaged property at the outset of the trial, but on completion of the State's evidence he withdrew his not guilty plea and entered a plea of nolo contendere.

Walters was sentenced to 12 months on the roads, suspended for two years on condition the defendant remain of good behavior and pay $15.92 and court costs by 12 o'clock noon Saturday, March 28.

Judge Stevens ordered that if the fine is not paid by noon Saturday the road sentence is to go into effect immediately.

Other cases heard were: Romeo Stocks, violating the motor vehicle law, nol pros with leave.

Myrtle Ruth Boyd, slander, nol pros with leave.

Leslie Thomas Dixon, speeding, called and failed, capias issued.

T. L. Little, violating public health service milk ordinance, nol pros with leave.

Jean Rouse, worthless check, prayer for judgement continued upon payment of costs and amount of the check.

Albert Dallas Harris, speeding, pled guilty speeding in excess of 55 miles per hour but less than 70 miles per hour, judgement suspended on payment of $5.00 and costs.

Mountain O'Neal, careless and reckless driving, pled not guilty but adjudged guilty in jury trial, sentenced to six months on the roads suspended for 12 months on payment of a fine of $100 and costs—$20 this term and $20 each month thereafter until paid in full.

Court was again in session this morning and is scheduled to be in session the remainder of the week through Friday.

Dog Vaccination Program Starting In County April 1

A dog vaccination program conducted by the Pitt County Health Department and licensed veterinarians of the county will begin April 1.

The prime purpose of the program is the prevention of rabies in dogs by affording the public a convenient and economical service for dog vaccination.

A North Carolina state law provides that all dogs must have an annual vaccination against rabies, and in Pitt County in order to permit all dog owners to have their dogs vaccinated, the county-wide program has been planned.

During April, clinics will be held in Greenville and communities in all sections of the county. It is estimated that 5,000 dogs will be vaccinated and it is thought that there are at least 1,000 dogs already vaccinated.

A clinic team will consist of a veterinarian, the county dog warden, and a clerk. A fee of $1.00 will be charged which includes the vaccination, certificate and collar tag.

Dr. Walter Humbert, Pitt health department director, said it is very important that all dog owners see that their dogs are vaccinated "because in communities where rabies gets a hand, there results a problem that affects the lives of humans and stocks as well as a heavy economic loss."

Following a county-wide program in April, a less intense program will be offered in May as a follow-up for those dog owners who missed the April clinics. However, the fee for the follow-up May clinic will be $1.50 instead of the $1.00 original charge.

A schedule of clinics is listed below:

Greenville: April 11, 18, and 25, 12 a.m.; April 22, Farmer's Warehouse, one to 3 p.m.; April 23, old hospital building, 3:15 to 5 p.m.; April 23, Gold Leaf Warehouse, one to 3 p.m.; April 23, Dixie Warehouse, 3:15 to 5 p.m.; April 24, Street Department garage, one to 3 p.m.; April 24, N.Y.A. center

(Brookgreen School), 3:15 to 5 p.m. County locations: April 1—Frog Level, one to 1:45; Ballard's Crossroads, two to 2:45; Lang's Crossroads, three to 3:45; and Marlboro, four to five.

April 2—Winterville City Hall, one to two; Renston, 2:15 to three; Rountree, 3:15 to four; and Ayden City Hall, four to five.

April 16—Venters' Crossroads, one to 1:45; Helen's Crossroads, two to 2:45; Stokestown, three to 3:45; and Calico, four to five.

April 17—Clayton, one to 1:45; Gardnerville, two to 2:45; St. Johns, three to 3:45; and Grifton, four to five.

regular meeting places. Result is that other rooms are more in demand and more congested than ever. The bright side of the picture is the prospect of more adequate facilities next time.

OVERTIME — Partly because of lack of enough rooms, but mainly because of jammed calendars, legislative committees have been working night and day during the past week. The usual morning meeting time of 10 o'clock has been moved back to 9 in order to get an extra hour of committee work before the regular House adjourn for the day; there is a scramble to get a bite of lunch and to other committees, which run till dark. Then it is becoming usual for two or three groups to meet at night around the hotels in order to make some dent in the stack of bills in the committee files.

Surveys conducted for the American Cancer Society show that about two American adults in every five still do not know that cancer is curable.

Soil Fumigation Series Planned

A series of soil fumigation demonstrations for nematode control got under way in the county this morning, the County Agent's office announced.

The first in the series of demonstrations was held this morning at ten o'clock at R. G. Little's farm near Galloway's Crossroads. An afternoon demonstration was scheduled to be held at P. M. Moore's farm at Bruce at two o'clock today.

Tobacco Specialist Sam Weeks pointed out it is important for local tobacco producers to attend the sessions as they will have the opportunity to see and hear discussed the proper application methods of soil fumigants so important to the production of a good weed crop.

Other demonstrations scheduled: Wednesday, March 25: W. A. Lee, Creek Road about six miles from Greenville, starting at ten o'clock; B. M. Lewis, US 264 four miles west of Farmville, at two o'clock Wednesday afternoon; Thursday morning at 10 o'clock on the Arthur (Tab) Williams farm at Venters Cross Roads and Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock on the F. C. James farm, three miles west of Bethel on the Tarboro road.

Dairy Specialist Will Speak Here

T. C. Blalock, extension dairy specialist, will speak Thursday night, March 26, at the bi-monthly meeting of the dairymen serving the Greenville milk shed.

The specialist of the North Carolina State Extension Service will speak to the dairymen on "Breeding, Why and How." The meeting will be held at the Pitt County Health Department Thursday night at 8 o'clock.

"Through the cooperation of Sam Winchester, Pitt County Farm Demonstration Agent, we will be able to present a very good and instructive program," stated Dr. Walter Humbert, Pitt health department director.

THE IRONY OF IT

HARTFORD, Conn. (UP)—While George McCrea was being given a 9 to 15-year prison sentence for breaking and entering and larceny, someone sneaked out of courtroom with his coat.

Males Preferred As Baby-Sitters

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (UP)—The college director of student employment at Union College has reported that male students are threatening to run school girls out of the baby sitting business.

Miss Frances Travis said mothers prefer men sitters because girls spend too much time gabbing on the telephone.

In a community of 25,000 population about 100 persons at one time will be under treatment for cancer, the American Cancer Society estimates.

Dacron . . .

late Dr. Wallace H. Carothers, famed Du Pont research chemist, in his work with giant molecules. Dr. Carothers chose to devote the major portion of his efforts to the field of "polyamides." This led directly to the discovery of nylon. Later, British research chemists examined Dr. Carothers' work and turned to the study of the large molecules known as "polyesters." This resulted in a fiber known in England under the trade-mark "Terylene."

In 1946 the Du Pont Company bought the rights to manufacture "Terylene" in the United States and conducted extensive development work on this polyester fiber. "Dacron" is Du Pont's trademark for its polyester fiber.

IN MEMORIAM
In loving remembrance of our dear mother and sister, Mrs. Georgia Williams, who left us for a better home on March 24th, 1952:

Frankly, darling, it was hard to let you go.

And we miss you more than you'll ever know.

We loved you much; but God loved you more;

So He sent for you, and opened wide the door.

Our hearts were sad, and many tears were spent;

And then we pondered, and looked at His intent:

For from sorrow and sickness he had taken you away.

Police Court Had 25 Cases Monday

By CHESTER WALSH
In Police Court Monday, Judge Charles H. Wheeler disposed of 25 cases in which 23 defendants were involved.

Robert Owen, found guilty of two charges of issuing worthless checks, was given 30 days in jail in each case, sentences to be suspended on payment of checks and court costs. He did not pay up.

The court ordered Owen to be turned over to Detective Wheeler Kennedy for the Kingston police department. Owen is wanted by Kingston authorities on a larceny of an automobile charge.

The court found Ed Harrison, who lives across Tar river, not guilty of failure to buy a license tag for his dog.

Arthur A. Edwards, non-support, six months on the roads sentence suspended on condition that he pay into the court $28 a week for support of his family, unless his wife leaves town. In that case he is to pay $20 a week for support.

Carrie Worthington, assault, 30 days in jail, sentence suspended on payment of court costs and $4.50 to Ida Green, Negro for medical expenses.

Frances Butler, Negro, no operator's license, 30 days in jail, sentence suspended on payment of $25 and costs. The court order also provides that he is not to drive a motor vehicle for a year unless he makes restitution for property damage.

Drunk: Howard Smith, 30 days in jail or pay $15; Isaac Morgan, Negro, $10; Matthew Morris, Jr., Negro, $10; John O. Manning, $10; Elmer E. Nichols, (two charges), case continued; Lester Gaskins, Negro, 30 days in jail or pay $15; Marshall Avery, $10; Marvin Stocks, $15; Leroy Frederick, Negro, 30 days or pay $10; Jim Freeman, $10; Henry T. Mills, $10.

McKinley Hazelton, Negro, assault, 90 days on the roads, sentence suspended on payment of $25, costs deducted. The court order provides that he is not to harm or molest or threaten Elizabeth Hazelton. L. T. Stancil, disorderly conduct and damage to personal property, three months on the roads, sentence suspended on payment of $1.68 and $15 to Clarence Waters.

The judgement also provides that Stancil is to pay $5 to Meekins McLawhorn; pay $23.50 to the city of Greenville. He is to pay for dry cleaning their clothes and pay a fine of $25, costs deducted.

The judgement also provides that he is not to violate any law for six months and be of good behavior. A charge of disorderly conduct against Stancil was combined with the other cases.

Robert Freeman, reckless driving, 60 days on the roads, sentence suspended on payment of $25, costs deducted. The judgement also provides that he is not to drive a motor vehicle from sunset Saturdays to sunrise Mondays for three months.

Robert Earl Harrell, Negro, affray 30 days in jail sentence suspended on payment of $10. He is not to enter the premises of the West End Tea Room for a year.

John E. Hellen, paid $20 for speeding; Leonard W. Campbell paid $15.

Willie Jonson, Negro, defective brakes, $15 fine.

And in just a little while we'll join you in that day.

Meantime, Dear Georgia, we will always remember you
As we labor in His vineyard and life's pathway we pursue.
Your smiles and kind words will abide with us always.

We'll meet you in the morning and forever Him we'll praise.
