GIs Beat Off Fierce Red Attack

Two-Hour Battle On Central Front; Cruiser Hit By Shore Guns

SEOUL, Korea (UP)—Americans of the U. S. 15th "Can Do" Regiment lived up to their motto today and beat back a 200-man Chinese Communist assault in a tough two-hour fight near Jackson Heights on the central front...

The American infantrymen stopped the Reds and leaped from their trenches in a counterattack. They chased the demoralized Reds down the slopes of the advance hill northeast of Chorwon.

It was one of the heaviest ground actions along the 156-mile battlefield since the Reds stepped up their "peace offensive" three days ago.

At 11 a.m. (11 a.m. EST Thursday) the Reds attacked the "Can Do" positions and tried in vain to crack the American defenses. Two hours later, the GIs were reinforced. They counterattacked and scattered the Reds in a seven-minute drive.

JOHN C. CLIFFORD

"I supported the referendum for the establishment of the city manager form of government because I am firmly convinced it is the only sensible type for a city the size of Greenville. Of course the success of the plan depends upon the caliber man employed as the new manager."

Clifford went on to explain that the new council will have the task of employing that man. "If elected," he said, "I pledge my wholehearted efforts to the job of getting the best qualified manager so that we may be assured of efficient operation of all departments of the city government."

The most recent candidate took his B.S. from N.C. State College in 1926, graduated "cum laude" from New York University with an LL.B. in 1937, and took his LL.M. from St. Johns University in 1938.

He is married to the former Miss Mary Correll of Columbia, S.C., and they have two children, Jack, 16 and David, 13. He has not been in local politics before.

Only one more day remains for political aspirants to register their candidacy with City Clerk H. H. Duncan, because the deadline for filing is tomorrow.

Others who previously have filed for seats on the new council are Royce Jones, Jimmy Wells, E. Eugene West, John Arthur Collins, George Pugh, I. Jack Edwards, Sr. and F. Ray Wingate.

The five men who receive the most votes in the elections will assume their new duties as councilmen the following day, Wednesday, at 10 o'clock. They will elect a mayor and a mayor "pro tem" from their own ranks.

Christian World Prepares To Celebrate Traditions Of Easter

By UNITED PRESS
"And very early in the morning, the first day of the week, they came unto the sepulchre at the rising of the sun."
So Mark wrote of a small group of Christ's disciples on a Sunday morning more than 1,900 years ago.

When the sun rises on Sunday morning, hundreds of thousands of Christian pilgrims will greet again the promises of that first Easter dawn in services on Mountain tops and shore lines, in natural and man-made amphitheatres across the nation.

In the 75,000-seat Cotton Bowl at Dallas, Tex., worshippers of a 11 Christian faiths will gather in pre-dawn darkness before a purple-lit cross of Easter lilies. Tenor James Mellon and the 60-voice cadet choir of the Pensacola Naval Air Training Station will lead them in the Easter anthems.

"And they said among themselves, who shall roll away the stone from the door of the sepulchre?"
At Old Salem, N. C., those flat white gravestones in the Moravian cemetery have been scrubbed and polished and decorated with flowers. Sunrise services at the home Moravian Church have been conducted since 1772.

The bishop will proclaim: "The Lord is risen."
From the congregation — 50,000 worshippers are expected — will come the full voiced response:

Sanatorium Is Offered State
WILMINGTON (AP) — The John C. Wessell sanatorium has been offered to the state for use as a Southeastern North Carolina tuberculosis sanatorium.

The offer was made by the New Hanover County board of commissioners yesterday. Board Chairman Ralph Horton said the offer was made after a bill to provide a similar sanatorium for this section in Hoke County ran into difficulties in the General Assembly.

Rep. Addison Hewlett Jr., the county's House member, was asked to convey the offer to the state. Horton said the 60-bed Wessell sanatorium could be taken over by the state at a cost of about $100,000.

HOT STOVE

Miss Stallings Is Book Club Speaker
Mrs. Agnes Barrett was hostess to the Clio Book Club Tuesday, March 24 at her home on East Eighth Street.

Mrs. R. B. Arthur, first vice-president, in the absence of the president, called the meeting to order and after the roll call, the following officers were elected to serve for the coming year: Mrs. W. J. Stell, president; Mrs. Agnes Fulljove, first vice-president; Mrs. R. G. Lang, secretary; and Mrs. J. R. Moye II, treasurer.

After the election of the officers a short business session was held, with Mrs. W. J. Stell, the new president, presiding. The club voted to give ten dollars for the mailing of clothing to Korea, which was recently collected by the club members.

The business session being concluded, Mrs. Agnes Barrett, who was program leader for the afternoon, introduced Miss Nell Stallings, a member of the faculty of East Carolina College.

Miss Stallings gave a most interesting and informative talk on "The Dance." She gave the history of the dance from the early ritual dances to the modern dances of today. She stated that the early ritual dances were used to give man an outlet for his feelings, and explained by saying the ritual dances were used to bring about better crops and that they also used ritual dances when rain was needed. Following the ritual dances were the folk dances which consisted of waltzes, love dances, death dances and dances about every day living. She then told of the minuet dance which was introduced at the court which was introduced at the court to take the place of the folk dance, due to the fact that the people at court were unable to take the exercise in their dress required in doing the folk dance. The ballet dance followed the minuet, and came into existence as early as 1850. She described the ballet dance as being a dance of position and movement. Miss Stallings concluded her most interesting talk by saying that the modern dances was more like the original dances than any other kind of dance.

At the conclusion of the program, Mrs. Barrett served delicious refreshments.

Strength for the Day

CRUCIFIXION

They dragged the prisoner Jesus before Herod, but the Man of the Ages refused to demean Himself by speaking a single word to the filthy little monster who sat on the throne.

Then there was a trial—or it might better be called a mock trial—before Pontius Pilate. The Roman official knew Jesus to be innocent, yet he, like common politicians in all ages, shrugged his shoulders and finally gave the shouting mob what they wanted—the death of an innocent man.

Then Jesus was scourged. On the hill called Golgotha, they nailed Him to the cruel instrument of torture, and, to insult Him more, crucified on each side of Him a notorious thief. Pilate gave one last thrust of hatred at the Jewish leaders who had forced Him against his will to condemn an innocent man. Over the cross of Jesus he wrote the words, "This is the King of the Jews."

No wonder the heavens were darkened and the earth shaken on that momentous and tragic afternoon. Human sin had reached its ultimate tide. Evil flouted God to His face, and in the person of His Son, the Almighty Ruler of the universe permitted these affronts to be given, that the power of human sin might be broken.

"As Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of Man be lifted up; that whosoever believed in him may have eternal life."

Secrecy Fight Is Not Press Vs. Legislators

It was proper that the North Carolina Press Association should petition the legislature to repeal the secrecy amendment hastily enacted last week. The act would permit Appropriation committees and sub-committees to hold sessions behind closed doors.

However, it must be realized that this is not a fight by the press of the state just for the benefit of the people. It is an effort for the benefit of the people of the state whose interests are at stake.

The press of North Carolina seeks no special favors or privileges for itself; but realizes its duty to keep the people of the state informed as to what goes on in public matters. The actions of legislative committees as well as all other public bodies throughout the state are strictly the peoples' business, and the people have a right to know what goes on. Public business should be transacted in public, and when it is not, the people are denied their inherent right to know.

The reason the press of North Carolina is so upset about the recent action of the legislature is not for selfish reasons nor for the glorification of Capital reporters. It is because in the act the press sees the beginning of a form of creeping paralysis that could spread to other committees and public bodies even on a local level, and in the end could deprive the public of its right to know and ultimately other freedoms.

One does not have to go deep into history to learn that suppression of information usually has been the forerunner of the complete loss of freedom and control of the government by the people. Our people must realize "IT CAN HAPPEN HERE."

We repeat this present fight by the press against closing the sources of public information is truly a fight for the freedom of the people. The people should realize it and immediately join the fight by insisting that the legislators vote for repeal of the recently enacted secrecy measure.

Little Likelihood For Representation Change

For a while at least, it appears there will be no change in the representation of individual counties in North Carolina's General Assembly.

The House has passed a bill calling for a referendum on limiting each county in the state, however large, to only one senator. Although the bill seems unlikely to get by the Senate, it would do away with the concept of senatorial representation on the basis of population which has been accepted in North Carolina for many, many years.

There is no doubt that many counties which do not have a Senator of their own represent the fact that some of the more populous counties have more than one Senator. Perhaps there are other counties which fear they may be denied a Senator to themselves as the population of the state undergoes geographical change. Regardless of the individual reasons for opposition to more than one Senator from each county, it is apparent from the 81 to 35 vote in the House the lower chamber is heavily in favor of the limitation of Senatorial representation from each county.

At the same time the question of redistribution of representation in the House — basing representation on 1950 census figures — has been carefully avoided in the House of Representatives. It seems the status quo on that category suits the House members fine. If a re-distribution were carried out there surely would be counties — perhaps including Pitt — which would lose a representative. There would doubtlessly be other counties which would gain representation in the House.

The arguments, population facts and figures presented so far certainly point to the conclusion that from the overall state standpoint a re-apportioning of representation in the Senate and House would be the wise move if the concept of representation on the basis of population is to be carried out. But on the other hand there are many factors — some from individual standpoints, some from county standpoints, and some from area standpoints — which come into the picture.

In spite of the talk about redistribution of representation it's a good guess that representation in the General Assembly will remain as it is for another session of the legislature, and perhaps for many sessions.

WASHINGTON—An Eisenhower success in current negotiations over European unity with Konrad Adenauer, the German Chancellor, will mark another advance in the more aggressive foreign policy inaugurated at Washington under the new Administration.

In so many seemingly unrelated ways that the pattern is difficult to assemble, the Eisenhower-Dulles combination has strengthened the United States position in many key sections of the anti-Russian front. Unlike the Truman Administration, Ike has wrested substantial gains for this country in return for every concession he has granted. He has shown himself to be a sharp trader for America.

In short, he has substantiated doubts expressed in foreign capitals during last year's campaign and since the election. European statesmen and editorial writers, who favored Stevenson in the main, did not conceal their fear that Eisenhower, with an intimate knowledge of their economic and military potential, would be a harder taskmaster than Truman.

BARGAINING WEAPONS—In the negotiations with Churchill and Eden, for instance, he won their promise to cut off all trade with China in British ships. In view of the fact that London has formally recognized the Communist regime at Peking, this was an extremely important diplomatic victory.

The visitors obtained only a White House assurance that Eisenhower would not extend the sphere of conflict in the Far East or use the atomic bomb without first consulting 10 Downing Street. Since Ike has no intention of resorting to such extreme action, he was giving away nothing here. On the question of further financial, monetary or commercial aid, Churchill was told to put his house in order before holding out his hat again.

It was, so the records show, the first time in many years that Washington utilized its military and financial supremacy as bargaining weapons. More important, it was the first time that an Administration demanded that our allies assume heavier responsibilities in the cold war.

FRANCE OUR STRONG OUTPOST—Eisenhower followed this same quid pro quo procedure in his negotiations with Rene Mayer, the French Premier. Even shrewder trading was required here because of the fact that France is, until Germany enters the European Defense Community, our strongest outpost in Europe.

The White House simply recognized in these talks what has been an obvious fact—namely, that the resistance to Communist expansion in Korea and Indo-China is an "interdependent operation." Indeed, many military and diplomatic experts regard the French front as far more important than our fight on the peninsula. Therefore, Ike will increase from $400,000,000 to about $600,000,000 the annual amount of aid and arms to Indo-China.

But, speaking as a military man as well as President, Ike insisted that Mayer submit a blueprint of a plan to achieve victory over the Red invaders. He also asked that Mayer speed up his Parliament's ratification of treaties on behalf of economic and military unification of Europe.

When Mayer tried to win a promise that the U.S. support him in his clash with Bonn over future ownership of the steel-and-coal rich Saar, he was told that this was a problem for him and Adenauer to settle.

MEDIATION IN MIDDLE EAST—Eisenhower and Dulles have also acted to increase American prestige in the strategic Middle East. They have taken a firmer attitude toward difficulties in Iran, Egypt and the Arabian area generally. These historically friendly nations had lost confidence in us during the Truman-Acheson regime.

Mossadegh, for example, had held out against an oil settlement with the British in expectation that we would force London to surrender to his excessive demands. But when he rejected a fairly generous concession worked out between London and Washington, he was informed that he could expect no further assistance from us.

Our mediation in Egypt has apparently won agreement between Cairo and London over the Sudan problem. He has assured the Arab League of our friendship in an attempt to form an anti-Moscow coalition in that sphere. Dulles will soon visit this area in an effort to win them permanently to Washington instead of Moscow. It will be another major move in the strategy of tightening the blockade against a Soviet explosion and expansion.

BUT WITHOUT BITE

After five years of painstaking selection with microscopic instruments, the West Sussex Beekeepers' Association was able to announce at Chichester, England the other day that it has developed a stingless bee that won't swarm. The new strain's major importance will be in the classroom, according to Association officials who plan to utilize it in beekeeping instruction.

The thought that there is now a bee that can sit down and back up without damage either to us or itself is heartening, and we are happy to pass it on. Now let us suggest a few additional items for the researchers—such as a barkless dog, a howl-less cat and a nagless wife. There are untold opportunities here and if such a major variation of strain can be achieved in bees surely it could be arranged for such larger animals as dogs, cats and wives.

Anybody know where we can get a set of those microscopic instruments?—Little Rock, Arkansas Gazette.

Somebody Told Me

By T. J. (Jack) EDWARDS, JR.

Dr. V. M. Mulholland, former principal of Greenville high school, is now with the State Department and stationed in Korea on a mission of education. At the time Vester was in Greenville he held an M. A. degree, but after service in the Army during World War II received his Ph. D. and taught at William and Mary.

Vester has always been known for his ability to express himself, and in a letter from Korea which I have previously quoted he again displays that ability. Picking up the letter where I left off.

"Practically all the refugee schools are in tents or half wood and half canvas buildings. The same is true of Ewha University, which I have written about previously. All pupils have to pay tuition to attend school; otherwise teachers would have no salaries and there would be no semblance of equipment. Usually there isn't anyway."

"Classes throughout the Republic average 66 pupils per room, but we have seen some classes with 100 or 140 per room. And sometimes, even against the terrific odds, the work is very impressive. It is amazing when you consider the conditions."

"Teachers are very poorly paid and elementary teachers make much less than others. A well-paid high school teacher might get a million won per month, which is not over $50.00. When you think of the inflation in Korea, the world's worst, you can begin to imagine the low standards—the people over here are forced to live upon."

"I am indeed surprised that there is so much equanimity among these hard oppressed people, but there seems to be something in the Oriental mind that accepts hardship without griping more than in our western world. I'm sure the people must worry over their lot to a great extent, but we seldom are able to detect it from their actions. We hear them say so often that they will be happy when they can return to Seoul, which is worlds nicer in every way, so I understand, than this area."

"There seems to be no worry whatever of bombings in Southern Korea; at least it is never mentioned by anyone. If the military has any fear we have never heard it expressed."

And I thank V. M.

And I thank V. M.

Around Capitol Square

CONSOLIDATION—The public hearing on the so-called "master consolidation bill" Wednesday was devoted largely to the airing of factional political rows in Buncombe county. That part of the discussion which dealt principally with the subject matter of the statewide program of consolidating schools demonstrated two things.

One was that the public schools are concerned about the decentralization control from Raleigh and give the communities more voice in policy making. A third fact was re-emphasized, which is that no school law can be conceived that will please everybody.

PECULIAR—Every county, possibly every school district, has a condition peculiar to itself. Each of the several local bills which were used as the basis for this master bill were designed to take care of just one problem. In order to get a uniform state policy adopted it was necessary for each of these communities to sacrifice a little of what the people there felt they needed. Several counties have voted and sold bonds on the basis of bond orders enacted by county commissioners and it was necessary to exempt those counties from the state-wide act. The full law of counties in that category was not available but Buncombe, Catawba and Craven were mentioned for the record.

SEGREGATION—The problem of racial segregation has been talked on the sidelines and around hotel rooms, and has been broadly hinted in some public expressions. It was formally injected for the first time at the consolidation hearing by Carl Bailey, attorney and former State Senator from Washington county. That county has a special problem in that it is under mandate of the Federal District Court to put into effect a consolidation plan which the pending bill would make illegal. The court ordered the county to go ahead with construction of one central high school for Negroes to be located at Roper. Under the proposed act the Federal court order could not be complied with except by consent of a majority of the patrons of the other two schools—which consent admittedly cannot be obtained.

TWO-SIDED—There are definitely two sides to the problem. Of course there are many facets, but in the main the question is whether it is better to have a few good high schools at the expense of inconvenience to many pupils; or more conveniently located schools of lower standards. The most effective arguments presented for these differing points of view were by Harold Hewland, principal of the Hoffman school in Richmond county, and Dr. Charles F. Carroll, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, ex-officio member and secretary of the State Board of Education.

HEWLAND—The Hoffman schoolmaster told the committee that if this bill should become law and his high school abolished, it would be necessary for as many as 40 of the highschool pupils to view long distances, requiring at least two hours a day extra riding time. He reduced that time to dollars and cents on basis of 50 cents an hour for farm labor and said it would represent an economic loss of more than $7,000 a year to his community. He added the usual arguments about the school being the heart of the community.

CARROLL—The State Superintendent argued for better school facilities for the boys and girls of North Carolina, even though it imposed some income, nience and extra cost. He cited figures of medical colleges to support his position. Of 6,011 students admitted to medical colleges in this country in one year, only 12 had addresses on rural mail routes. If you are going to keep these said, go much farther than this bill does and guarantee to the plurality enrolled there the same opportunities as are offered in the larger schools. He said most of the consolidations about which there is current protest were effected before he came to his present office less than a year ago, but that they were not made without careful thought. Some of them have been in process since 1935 at least, and perhaps longer. He had not checked records beyond that date.

BUNCOMBE—The other countries in which bond elections have been held on basis of a consolidation program set out in the bond order apparently had no serious problems. Buncombe is in the middle of a factional political war, which involves the schools. Several times during the hearing Chairman Gordon Maddrey had to remind the mountain delegation that this was not the proper place to go into some of the matters injected by speakers on both sides.

MERIT—One of the most ardent supporters of Herbert Olive in the primary last summer, in which William B. Umstead obtained the nomination for Governor, is having a good time with the joint appropriations committee and subcommittees the right to ban the public, including news reporters, from their meetings. "You fellows asked for it, and you got it," he said. "You know, only five or six newspapers supported Olive last year. You are now getting just what's coming to you."

RESPONSIBILITY—The reporters have taken at face value Governor Umstead's statement that as a general proposition he is opposed to secret sessions of public bodies considering public business. Judging from the gleeful attitude of the man quoted in the preceding paragraph, some of the people are not willing to absolve the Governor from responsibility for passage of the law.

ELMER ROESSNER
If American women were the tall, beautifully proportioned creatures the movies and television shows would have us believe, then one segment of the clothing industry—the foundation garment makers—would not be doing as well as they are.

In fact, the American male has been grossly deluded. Figures published by "Barron's" indicate in 1952, an estimated $485,000,000 was spent on foundation garments, the third consecutive year of record sales. This was a 3 per cent increase over 1951 and another record is anticipated this year.

The industry has been gaining steadily due to a number of factors, which also give it a stability rare in the clothing field. In the past few years a noticeable effort has been made to increase the market, particularly in the teen-age market. Promotions and new products specifically designed for this group have increased the figure consciousness of teen-age girls.

New materials, designs, sports lines and the strapless trend have also increased the market by providing greater variety and the need for more items in a foundation garment wardrobe. Since foundation garments are to a certain extent luxury items in some income brackets, the greater availability of luxury dollars also has helped to step up total sales. That is not to say that they can be dispensed with—no woman will concede that—though foundation garments are not as liable to the vagaries of style as outer garments or even slips and lingerie.

The industry's strength in this sector, however, could weaken if spending power declines. A housewife or working girl who reduces her clothing budget when dollar scarcities develop are likely to start retrenchments with items that don't show.

Last year's out-of-style dress is much more likely to be replaced than last year's girdle, corset or bra—assuming, of course, that the form-modifying garment is still modifying. But steadily rising sales indicate that more and more women are coming to regard foundation garments as necessities.

VISUAL CONTROL SYSTEM HELPS PLAN CORONATION
A visual control system is being used in England to coordinate the complicated details of the two-mile-long Coronation procession.

The system (called Control-Chart) provides an instant visual appreciation of complex situations. It was used in World War II military operations and is now aiding such British organizations as B.O.A.C., Anglo-Iranian Oil Co., the Air Ministry and the Ministry of Civil Aviation.

It's America's contribution to the Coronation, since it was invented by an American Colonel William Gray Horton.

SIZELESS SWEATERS MAY FOLLOW SIZELESS SOCKS
The "one-size" sock that fits any foot may be followed by a "one-size" sweater, a yarn spinner (Associated Spinners, Inc., 2 East 23rd St., New York, N.Y.) says.

Key to the possibility is an experimental spun nylon or dacron yarn that stretches to seven times its normal length yet will return to its original shape. Sweaters have traditionally conformed to the wearer to a certain extent but the proposed sweaters would adjust considerably more.

One possible problem that might arise is, what do you do for those who prefer unusually light or loose sweaters? No matter what these unfortunate consumers did, their sweaters would always fit perfectly.

Hal Boyle's Column

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy's adventure with the Greek shipowners is now more a problem in semantics than in statecraft. Several of the wrong words used, all around.

The Wisconsin Republican first said he had "negotiated" with the Greeks but President Eisenhower said McCarthy couldn't "negotiate" because he didn't have the power. And McCarthy said he couldn't recall having said "negotiate."

Eisenhower straightened out for Harold Stassen, director of the Mutual Security Administration (MSA), the difference between "undetermined" and "infringed."

It all began last Saturday when McCarthy, who heads a subcommittee investigating the government, called a sudden news conference and proudly announced with a mimeographed statement that:

"As the result of negotiations undertaken by representatives of his subcommittee with the Greek owners of 242 merchant ships," the shipowners agreed to cut off all trade with the Communists in the Far East.

This was a new field for McCarthy and all the more unusual because negotiating in foreign affairs problems would seem a task for the State Department rather than for a senator.

As it turned out, the State Department had been busy on the but McCarthy, who had bypassed the White House and the department, said he felt Eisenhower and Dulles would be "pleased."

So he may have been surprised when on Monday, in front of McCarthy's subcommittee and the TV cameras, Stassen appeared in a mood which seemed anything but pleased. As head of MSA, Stassen works on foreign trade with the State Department. He said McCarthy had "undetermined" the executive branch.

Yesterday was Eisenhower's news conference day. He said he thought that when Stassen used the word "undetermined" to McCarthy he really meant to say "infringed," that is, infringed upon the Executive Department's rights.

Washington Letter
By JANE EADS
WASHINGTON—Though my bread-id-butter job is writing textbooks for school children, Ann Nolan Clark gets her cake in the form of prized literary awards for the story books she writes on vacation.

Mrs. Clark, a native of Las Vegas, Nev., and a former country school teacher, is comfortably proud over her latest recognition, the John Newbery Medal for "the most distinguished contribution to American literature for children in 1952." The book, "Secret of the Andes," is the story of a modern Inca boy who herds llamas in the Peruvian mountains.

Mrs. Clark is back with the Bureau of Indian Affairs now, writing and training teachers to write textbooks for over-age Indian youth in the government's educational effort to help them be economically independent. Her headquarters are in the coeducation school for some 2,300 Navajo children at Brigham City, Utah. Her work extends to other schools in Oregon, Nevada, California, Arizona, New Mexico and Oklahoma.

Before 1946, when she was hired by the Institute of Inter-American Affairs to write textbooks for children in rural Central and South American schools, she worked 15 years for the Bureau, teaching and writing some 30 books. "These were for both Indian and white schools in the U.S. and were bilingual, with a column of English and a column of Indian," she explains.

They are still being used, and they got a tremendous sale. "Because of these books she was asked to do others for the Institute's organized reading program. These were in English, translated into Spanish. I loved my work there and did much research and travel." Mrs. Clark said.

"It was there I got material for other story books which I wrote whenever I had time and which brought me two New York Herald Tribune prizes and an honorable mention."

One of these, "Magic Money" is laid in Costa Rica. Another, "Looking for Something," is set in Ecuador. Mrs. Clark expects to take a year's leave from the bread-and-butter job next fall.

"I wish lots of books I've started or the hill in her rock house where she has a cocker spaniel, a garden, and a collection of beer mugs and where she loves to entertain. She is particularly eager to get to work on a history of the southwest about 100 years ago to show the impact of various nationalities on the early western frontier."

The Voice Of The People

Dear Mr. Editor,

In your issue of April 1 we noted a news item which stated that a group of Registered Nurses had attended the public hearing in Raleigh relative to the two bills now under consideration by the Senate Committee on Health.

As to the opposition, there must be some misunderstanding somewhere, as I cannot see how anyone who has read and studied both bills could oppose Bill 316. This bill would uphold the standards of nursing in North Carolina (which is, after all, the first state in the Union to have licensed nurses—and this in 1903) and is of vital importance not alone to the people, but to the doctors, hospitals and to the student nurses now in our Training Schools.

Through the years, nurses have been and are indebted to the medical profession for guidance and support. Medicine is now a very exacting science, and in order to keep abreast of the times and to render "the best possible care to the sick, a nurse must have much technical training as well as a well-rounded experience in all phases of nursing.

To lower the standards of nursing at any time, and especially now, would seriously impede the good nursing care to which the people of North Carolina are entitled.

Your item also stated that a number of people from Greenville attended, but were not affiliated with the opposing faction. I should hope not!

Sports Reflections

BY Jimmy Ellis

Almost every worthwhile project is in need of funds to operate and all of those organizations which have to depend upon public backing for their support are forever searching for new ways to conduct their campaigns.

The Greenville Little League, the organization which provided baseball for the small fry, is one of the fund-raising organizations. And they are hoping that a couple of new twists will help them achieve success in their fund-raising this year.

The Little League has decided to forego its usual fund-raising campaign because they don't want to interfere with the Elm Street project drive. Instead, they're putting their hope in parents and other supporters. In a letter sent out to parents and other supporters of the league, President R. H. Evans said that the League will depend upon two methods for raising its needed cash.

One, and perhaps most important, is increased membership in the "parents and supporters organization." That group is provided for in the Little League constitution and anyone is eligible for membership upon payment of a fee of at least $4.00.

It is hoped by the league officials that all of the players' parents will become members of the organization. In addition they're hoping to corral quite a few of the citizens of the town who don't have children actively participating in the Little League program.

The other twist to the Little League fund-raising is a donation box which will be passed around at each game played on the Little League diamond. That could account for much of the needed amount of cash, as President Evans points out in his letter.

He suggests that if 200 people attend each game and each person contributes a dime, then each game would be responsible for the collection of $20. With 60 games a year, that would result in a total of $1200 for the year, more than enough to operate on and would leave some for some badly needed improvements at the Little League park.

Contrary to popular opinion, the League doesn't get its operating funds from the city or from the Recreation Commission.

Out of the expected expenditures of $197.20, the Recreation Commission will contribute. That means $629.20 will have to come from somewhere else—the general public, to be specific.

The campaign, such as it is, is progressing as well as can be expected at the present time. But, despite its progress, there's always room for added interest and added fans. That where the general public can take an active part in an outstanding community program.

Claude King, the East Carolina College golfer, shot a 79 yesterday in the first round of the Azalea Open in Wilmington. Claude had a 37 for the first nine and then came in with 42 on the par 72 Cape Fear Country Club course.

The Cape Fear course is where Claude learned his golf and he's expected to improve his score in the rounds which are yet to be played. He has improved his game to the point where he has been assigned a handicap of six by the Coastal Golf Association.

Switch To Milwaukee May Break Braves' Big Jinx

Associated Press Sports Writer

Milwaukee's new major league fans can begin taking real hope that the Braves left their Brooklyn jinx in Boston.

The Braves of '52 didn't have a winning record against anybody except Pittsburgh and Cincinnati, but it was the Dodgers who really killed them. The Braves dropped their first 14 games against Brooklyn and finished the year losing 18 of 21. One game ended by a tie.

While the Braves still sit in Boston early this spring the situation remained unchanged—two 11 games with the Dodgers and two losses.

Then came the switch to Milwaukee. The immediate results were not strictly sensational but there was some improvement. Brooklyn won its first game against Milwaukee, 1-0. Then Milwaukee won one, 3-2. Tuesday the Dodgers needed 10 innings to squeeze out a 3-2 decision.

Yesterday the Wisconsin Indians went on the warpath like the Massachusetts Indians never did. They battered the Bums, 11-3, at New Orleans in Brooklyn's worst defeat of the spring.

Opening up on Joe Black and continuing their attack on Clem Labine and Ronnie Neasey the Braves scored five runs in the first four innings and better let Brooklyn get started. The Brooklyn bunters walked eight and the infield contributed a pair of costly errors.

The victory gave the Braves an overall spring record of 12 triumphs and 13 losses, and 8 and 6 since changing homes.

The Braves were the only club to score in double figures yesterday. There were two shutouts. Vic Raschi and Johnny Schmitz combined to give the New York Yankees a 6-0 decision over the Philadelphia Athletics at St. Petersburg, Fla., and Bob Lemon and Lou Bissell of Cleveland blanked the New York Giants at Wichita Kan., 3-0.

The Yankees had some anxious moments when Raschi was hit just below the right knee by a line drive off the bat of Dave Philley but X-rays showed no serious damage and club officials said last night the veteran righthander should be able to pitch in turn. Raschi's right knee bothered him through the 1951 season and he had a loose cartilage removed from it in the winter of 1951.

The Giants, who had lost eight straight mainly because of bad pitching, got some good pitching for a change with Larry Jansen striking out six and giving up six hits in six innings. But the Cleveland twirler was better and the Indians also came through with their daily quota of home runs, this time by Dale Mitchell and Bill Glynn.

A three-run home run by light hitting Eddie Yost gave Washington an 8-5 verdict over Cincinnati at Savannah, Ga. Mickey Grasso, Jim Busby and Jackie Jensen also homered for the winners.

Jack Mayo cleared the fences with two out in the ninth to tie the score and then Granny Hamner drove one over the centerfield wall in the 10th to give the Philadelphia Phils a 9-8 victory over the Boston Red Sox at Waycross, Ga. Mayo's homer was his second of the game and Earl Torgeson of the Phils also hit two.

The St. Louis Browns took a 5-4 edge in their spring series with the Chicago Cubs by whipping the National Leaguers, 9-4, at Alpine, Tex. Herbert Kokernot, a Texas rancher, donated $1,900 in prizes for the games and the Browns picked up $1,330 of the jackpot with a 15-hit assault.

Detroit defeated the Cincinnati "B" team at Lakeland, Fla., 9-7, although the second string Reds hit four homers—two by Andy Seminick and the St. Louis Cardinals won over Birmingham of the Southern Association, 6-3.

Fi. Worth of the Texas League tripped the Chicago White Sox, 6-4, in a 10-inning night game. Jim Baxes, sent back to the minors after training with the Dodgers this spring, broke up the game with his second home run of the evening. Tony Cucchiari also hit two for Ft. Worth.

NEW YORK (Sunny Side Garden)—Lulu Perez, 128, Brooklyn, outpointed Tony Say, 128 3-4, Paris, France, 8.

Piner Hurls Bucos To Win Over Panthers

ECC Gets Fourth Win In 6-3 Loop Contest

W. C. Sanderson Homers To Lead Pirates At Plate; Guilford Quakers Play Host To Undefeated Bucos Today

HIGH POINT — East Carolina College's Pirates raked up their fourth straight baseball victory of the young season by defeating High Point College 6-3 here yesterday behind the effective five-hit pitching of Jim Piner.

The Pirates took a 2-0 lead in the first inning of the North State Conference game and never gave up the lead to the Panthers. They added a pair of runs in the fourth inning and then clinched the victory for sure in the seventh frame with two more tallies.

Piner held the reins throughout the ball game. In addition to limiting High Point to six hits—all singles—he struck out six and walked six.

The Pirates committed seven errors in the loosely played contest but High Point evened up the score by committing six, four by third baseman Ray Hudson. Hudson atoned for his fielding miscues by pacing High Point at the plate with five of High Point's five safeties.

W. C. Sanderson paced the napping East Carolina attack by rapping out a single and a home run in five official trips to the plate.

The victory was the second of the year in North State play for the Pirates. They'll move to Guilford College today for their final pre-Easter contest against the Quakers.

No Swim Classes

East Carolina College Athletic Director N. M. Jorgensen said today that there would be no swimming classes tomorrow because of the college's spring vacation. Tomorrow's classes are the only ones affected by the vacation period.

The classes will be resumed at the regular time next week, according to Dr. Jorgensen.

Free Throw Rule Gets More Points

NEW YORK (AP)—The one-and-one foul rule caused an unprecedented jump in scoring in college basketball games last season, the NCAA's figures revealed.

Just a year ago, the average number of points in a game for both teams was 126.6. This year it was 138.2, and it was due almost entirely to free throws.

There also was virtually no reduction in fouling, one of the purposes for the one-and-one rule which permitted a player an extra free throw if he missed the first try.

Broken down, the figures showed that each team took almost eight more free throws and made nearly six times as many. It committed 7 of a foul less than a year ago.

Before this year, the highest scoring team in the nation was Kentucky, which tallied an average of 82.3 points per game in the 1951-52 season. This year, no fewer than seven teams beat the record, led by Furman with a 90.2 average.

For the 19th time in 19 years, the defensive leader was Oklahoma A. and M. Whereas last year the Aggies led the nation by permitting an average of only 45.5 points per game, this year they could do no better than 53.8. There were 14 teams below this year's winning figures during the 1952 campaign.

Bob Mercer Wins Brookgreen Title

The first champion in Greenville's five-school marbles championship was crowned yesterday at Brookgreen School.

Bobby Mercer won the Brookgreen title and the right to compete for the city championship by defeating all comers in his matches. His last victory was scored against Tyrone Powers, the runner-up for the Brookgreen crown.

Out of the 22 players who entered the Brookgreen eliminations, Robert Brantley came in third to complete the championship circle.

Finals in the four other school tournaments will be played sometime within the next week according to Recreation Department officials who are conducting the tournaments.

The entrants in the Brookgreen tournament, in addition to the three winners, were Ronald Riggs Clifton Hemby, Bobby Bryant, Jackie Conway, Carl Nichols, Shelton Conway, Carl Pollard, Wesley Brown, Billy Tripp, Kenneth Speight, James Trickett, James Henderson, Gilbert Smith, Bobby Hemby, Delbert Smith, Junior Morris, Roy Wainwright, Bobby Mercer, Andy Peacock, Donald Brantley and Johnny Aldridge.

Hanes Team Still In AAU Tourney

WICHITA, Kas. (AP)—The week-long Women's National AAU Basketball Tournament enters the semifinals tonight with the defending champion still in the running.

Fighting to keep its 1952 crown is the Hanes Hosiery Club of Winston-Salem, N. C., which runs up against the Denver, Colo. Vipers.

The other semifinal game has the Chihuahua, Mexico, Adelitas, playing the 1951 runner-up, Wayland College of Plainview, Tex.

Hanes Hosiery grabbed its semifinals berth by walloping the Amarillo, Tex., Dowell's Dolls, 65-27, last night in a game that gave the champs little trouble with their shorter opponents.

The Denver Vipers moved easily into the semifinals by defeating the Jackson, Miss., Board of Health team, 45-36.

The popular Adelitas edged out the battling Santa Fe Streamliners of Topeka, Kas., while the Flying Queens from Wayland scored a 50-40 victory over the St. Joseph, Mo., Goetz entry.

Withdrawal of the Columbus, O., Lans Askins A. C. gave Nashville, Tenn., Business College a forfeit, and the right to meet the Savannah, Okla., A. C. for consolation honors in tonight's opener. (The scrappy youngsters from Savannah defeated Davenport, Ia., A. I. C., 53-39.)

The finals are tomorrow night.

Pitt Elected

DURHAM (AP)—Howard Pitt of Hertford will captain Duke's 1953 football team.

The star end was elected yesterday to succeed Louis Tepe. The 6-3, 195-pound athlete was one of the nation's leading pass-receivers last season. He starred on the Duke freshman team in 1950 then broke into the Duke starting lineup in the

Rocky's Bloody Nose Causes Biggest Uproar In History

CHICAGO (AP)—Seldom has a nose bleed caused so much confusion as Rocky Marciano's.

It has forced a five-week postponement of the champion's heavyweight title fight with Jersey Joe Walcott. The scrap, all geared up for April 10, has been delayed until May 15.

It will be at the same place, Chicago Stadium, have the same television sponsor, a razor blade company, be in the same night of the week, Friday; and undoubtedly have more $50 customers in the bag for the original scale of 12,000 seats at that price.

With a week of ticket sales remaining before the scheduled April 10 date, the sponsoring International Boxing Club said $191,205 was in the till with $123,250 in mail and season reservations still to be picked up.

This last $435,545 worth of tickets yet to be sold before an anticipated $750,000 gross could be realized. Another $250,000 or $300,000 from television and film rights would give the IBC its hallowed "million-dollar gate" for this second meeting of the two fighters.

The IBC, admitting the sale of its 550 seats was slow, requested the Illinois Athletic Commission to postpone the bout yesterday because of Marciano's bloody nose.

Rocky, apparently, had been having nose trouble at his Holland, Mich., training camp ever since he was clouted on it Sunday by sparman Tommy Harrison. It bled then and again during workouts Tuesday.

He wore protective gear in his workouts on Wednesday. That same day, a delegation of the Illinois Commission examined Marciano and reported he was in fine shape.

Later that day a nose specialist from Holland was consulted and examined Rocky. It turned out the champion had two ruptured small blood vessels.

"If the fighter had gone into the ring in that condition," said commission member Lou Radzenda, "he wouldn't be worth two cents and a blow might even have ended his career."

It all brought a shudder to Al Weill, Rocky's manager, who recalled what happened once to one of his other fighters, Marty Servo. Servo was never able to defend the welterweight title he won from Freddie Cochrane because of a nose injury in a bout with Rocky Graziano.

"I've got another champion now and I can't afford to take a chance," said Weill. "He'll lay off training for two weeks."

Runs String To 17

BELVOIR—William Watson, Belvoir's phenomenal righthander, extended his streak of hitless-runless innings to 17 yesterday as he led Belvoir to a 21-5 victory over the Bethel Indians.

Watson, a senior, pitched the first five innings of the game without giving a trace of a hit or run. He gave way in the sixth frame to Gene Bell who finished up the contest giving up three hits to the Indians.

While Watson was doing his pitching, Seber Cobb and Bell were more than taking care of the batting line. Cobb rapped out three hits, including a two-run homer, and Jack Liptak of Wake Forest respectively. Yvars was the loop's home run king last year.

All Big Four choices of last year who return are first baseman Bill Werber of Duke, second baseman Jake Tarr of Duke, left-handed hurler Archie Lynch of Wake Forest, righthanded pitcher Lewis of Duke, utility infielder Yvars of State and utility outfielder Johnny Fuscoe of State.

Early season play of the teams gives indications that this year's race will be one of the closest in recent years. All have potent teams.

Vic Sorrell is back to coach N. C. State, Bunt Hearn and Walter Rabb again head Carolina's club and Taylor Sanford returns to direct Wake Forest's charges.

Fight Results

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. — Bobby Dykes, 156, San Antonio, outpointed Jimmy Martine, 157, Alameda, Ariz., 10.

DETROIT — Wes Bascom, 173 1-4, St. Louis, and Gordon Wallace, 167 1-4, Brantford, Ont., drew, 10.

FALL RIVER, Mass. — Bobby English, 133, Fall River, outpointed Eddie Compo, 134, New Haven, 10.

Bolt Shares Azalea Lead With Newcomers

WILMINGTON (AP)—Tommy Bolt, the year's No. 3 money winner of professional golf, and three comparative strangers to the payoff window hogged the spotlight going into today's second round of the $10,000 Azalea Open Tournament.

Bolt, the Oklahoma-Texas pro who now registers out of Maplewood, N. J., after a couple of years on the tour with a Durham driving range connection, came through on schedule with a six under, par 66 in yesterday's opening round.

But the big news was the way three unheralded performers came through. Mike Souchak, who graduated from Duke University last spring after starring as a football end and a member of the Duke golf team, matched Bolt's 33-33 card.

He and Bolt were only one stroke ahead of two other surprise performers—Wally Ulrich of Austin, Minn., and Fred Wampler of Indianapolis, the 1950 National Intercollegiate champion.

Locked at 68, two strokes off the top end, were Cary Middlecoff, Memphis, the No. 2 money winner of the year; Johnny Palmer, Charlotte, and John Ruedl, the greenskeeper at the host Cape Fear Country Club.

If any of them faltered there were five 69 shooters ready to charge into the gap. This group included Johnny Bulla, Verona, Pa.; Jay Hebert, Erie, Pa.; Lew Worsham, Oakmont, Pa.; Leo Blattgett, Baltimore, and Doug Ford, Harrison, N. Y.

All told, 26 players bettered par 72 over the 6,852-yard layout with six others matching the standard figures in ideal weather.

Bolt, winner of two tournaments, can move into first place in the money list past Lloyd Mangrum and Middlecoff by winning here and grabbing his third tournament of the year. He already has won at San Diego and Tucson. Mangrum, winners of three January tournaments, was one of six 70 shooters in his return to competition after a layoff of several weeks. He has won $6,730 against $6,404 for Middlecoff and $6,375 for Bolt.

Souchak, a professional since graduation from Duke, has won only $6—all in the San Diego tourney won by Bolt. But the husky former footballer was some time ago tabbed as a prospect by his brother pro. Mike has displayed his booming drives in several clinics held in conjunction with the PGA tour. Yesterday he had his short game working well, also. And that was all he needed to turn in his best score as a pro.

Bolt, never over par, had three birdies and an eagle to serve notice that he was ready to move after the $2,000 first place check which will be handed out after the fourth round on Easter Sunday.

Low amateur in the field of 110 was Ray Taylor Jr., Southern Pines, with 70. The field will be cut to the low 60 and tied for the Saturday and Sunday play.

State-Deacons To Launch Big 4

DURHAM—North Carolina's fast Big Four baseball league opens play Monday with N. C. State and Wake Forest, two of the favorites for the loop title, playing their annual Easter Monday game at Raleigh.

The number of games for the four members of the loop have been cut this year. Instead of the 24 games played last season—four between each team—there will be only 19 games, with each team playing each other team only three times, with the Easter Monday game between State and Wake being the extra game.

Three coaches return to pilot their clubs, with Clarence "Ace" Parker having replaced John W. (Jack) Coombs at Duke. Coombs was voted "Coach of the Year" in the loop for the past two seasons.

Neither Benny Cavalliere of Duke, the leading hitter in 1952 with a .438 average, or righthander Bob "Dizzy" Davis of Duke, 1952's leading hurler with a 5-0 mark, return. Joe Lewis, another Duke righthander and selected the best righthander in the loop last year after compiling a 5-1 mark, does return.

Of Duke's trio of Cavaliers, Dick Johnson and Dick Groat—the top three batters last year—both return, but back are the fourth and fifth hitters, Johnny Yvars of N. C. State and Jack Liptak of Wake Forest respectively. Yvars was the loop's home run king last year.

While Watson was doing his pitching, Seber Cobb and Bell were more than taking care of the batting line. Cobb rapped out three hits, including a two-run homer, and Jack Liptak of Wake Forest respectively. Yvars was the loop's home run king last year.

All Big Four choices of last year who return are first baseman Bill Werber of Duke, second baseman Jake Tarr of Duke, left-handed hurler Archie Lynch of Wake Forest, righthanded pitcher Lewis of Duke, utility infielder Yvars of State and utility outfielder Johnny Fuscoe of State.

They looked at each other. "You'd have to charge too much, Dan. I've been going over the figures. You'd have to charge too much. Besides, where would you get the money?"

He gave it to her straight. "Businessmen in San Francisco will back me. It strikes them as a good investment. The dividends will be paid regularly, and in turn they'll stand fresh capital."

"Why so downcast, pretty gal?" "I thought you wanted a hospital, not a business, Dan."

"This was serious. His smile faded. The black eyes flashed. "Is there any law that says one can't have both?"

"But it wouldn't be your hospital, would it? The policy, necessarily, would be set by your business-men investors. And if it's just a dollars and cents thing to them—"

"Rubbish."

But Ruth had been shocked. Her mind recoiled from the very idea.

"Dan, I couldn't support such a plan. I just couldn't."

Collecting Taxes In N. Carolina At Record Rate

GREENSBORO (AP)—The federal government is collecting taxes in North Carolina at a record rate, which comes as no news to the taxpayers.

For the record, Internal Revenue Director Edwin Gill reported here yesterday that:

- The March federal tax take from this state was $196,277,803, an increase of more than 38 million dollars over that of March, 1952.
- Through nine months of this fiscal year, the total from North Carolina is $1,211,116,230, compared with $1,071,822,203 in the same period a year ago.

Gill said last month's total included everything received during March, while last year the March payments were not processed completely until April 8.

The Living Lord

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Matthew 28.

As Sunday dawned at the tomb of Christ, there was a great earthquake and an angel from the Lord rolled back the stone that sealed the tomb and sat upon it.

The angel said to them, "Fear ye not, for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified. He is not here, for He is risen, as He said. Come, see the place where He lay. And go quickly, and tell His disciples that He is risen from the dead."

The women "departed quickly from the sepulchre with fear and great joy; and did run to bring the disciples word. And as they went to tell His disciples, behold, Jesus met them, saying, All hail! And they came and held Him by the feet and worshipped Him."

The Marys told the disciples that the Lord would appear to them in Galilee, so the eleven went into Galilee, and there they saw Him and worshipped Him. He told them to go and teach all nations what He had commanded them.

MEMORY VERSE—Matthew 28:18, 19.

THE LIVING LORD—EASTER

THE ANGEL SAID, "HE IS NOT HERE; HE IS RISEN."

Scripture—Matthew 28.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL. AFTER a long, cold winter everyone in northern climes welcomes the coming of spring.

"For, lo, the winter is past, the rain is over and gone; the flowers appear on the earth; the time of the singing of birds is come, and the voice of the turtle is heard in the land."—The Song of Solomon 2:11, 12.

For us, it is not only the time of the return of the birds and flowers, but the time when our Lord rose from the dead to bless the world with joy and thanksgiving.

Each of the four disciples whose books appear in the New Testament wrote a little different account of this Easter morning when the tomb was found empty and the risen Lord appeared.

This is natural enough. We all know how different are the accounts of the same story told by two different persons. In our lesson we follow Matthew's narrative which ends his book.

The chapter begins: "In the end of the sabbath, as it began to ship Him, and Jesus told them: "Be not afraid: go tell My brethren that they go into Galilee, and there shall they see Me."

And there were the same words used by the angel.

While the women were on their way to the disciples, the watchmen, probably frightened that they might be thought guilty of carelessness or worse, went to the assembled members of the Sanhedrin and told what had happened.

How appropriate were the Lord's words, when in righteous wrath He had called these so-called religious leaders "hypocrites" and "whited sepulchres." After taking counsel together, they gave the soldiers large amounts of money, and instructed them to tell everywhere that the disciples had come by night and stolen the Lord's body as they slept.

"If this come to the governor's ears," they said, "we will persuade him, and secure you." We can presume that the soldiers were glad that instead of being punished for sleeping on the job,

MEMORY VERSE

"And Jesus came to them and spake unto them, saying, All authority hath been given unto Me in heaven and on earth, Go ye, therefore, and make disciples of all the nations."

—Matthew 28:18, 19.

dawn toward the first of the week, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to see the sepulchre.

"And, behold, there was a great earthquake: for the angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door, and sat upon it.

"His countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow: And for fear of him the keepers did shake, and became as dead men."

No wonder the guards were frightened. First the body of Christ had disappeared, according to our commentator, then this brilliant apparition appeared and rolled away the great stone that sealed the tomb, and sat thereon.

"Fear not," were the first words the women heard as they looked fearfully at the angel. "Fear not ye, for I know that ye seek Jesus which was crucified. He is not here: for He is risen, as He said. Come, see the place where the Lord lay.

"And go quickly, and tell His disciples that He is risen from the dead; and, behold, He goes before you into Galilee; there shall ye see Him; lo, I have told you.

Quickly, the women left the tomb to acquaint the disciples with the glorious news. They departed "with fear and great joy."

They did not reach their goal, however, for the risen Lord Himself stood before them, saying, "All hail!" they were given money to spread a lie, even if in their hearts they knew it for what it was.

"So they took the money and did as they were taught."

The eleven disciples went to Galilee, into a mountain where Jesus and the angel had directed them. With what mixed feelings must they have gone—fearing what the women had told was not true, but some strange hallucination, hoping against hope that it was the truth.

Then they saw Him, and worshipped Him; but some doubted, even then.

"And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, All power is given Me in heaven and on earth. Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost.

"Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world. Amen."

We may dress in new finery as we attend services on this Easter morning, but our thoughts should be on what this day means in our lives. The disciples followed Jesus' command, preaching boldly everywhere, and thereby bringing imprisonment, beatings, and a cruel death to all but John.

Are we having a rebirth of life on this joyous day, and resolving that in our lives, too, we will follow the command of the living Christ?

Orchestra Is A Family Affair

WOOD RIVER, Neb. (AP)—There is music in the air when members of the Roy Hofrichter family get her round the parlor piano. The Hofrichters make up a one-family orchestra. Instrumentation includes xylophone, accordion, trombone, clarinet, baritone, cornet, bells, guitar, violin, piano and even the musical saw.

The couple have 10 children—all girls and all musically inclined. Their ages range from 17 to 2. The family orchestra plays mostly at churches. "We give our programs just for fun and because someone keeps asking us," says Mrs. Hofrichter.

WRONG CLIMATE

ALTOONA, Pa. (UP)—James Fatterson, Alexandria, Pa., took one look at the form lying in a clump of driftwood and thought for a moment he was in the tropics. It was a seven-foot python apparently dead from the cold. It is believed the serpent escaped from a traveling carnival or circus.

Airline Pilot Is College Student

EAST ORANGE, N. J. (AP)—Burt B. Budlong, a junior at Upsala College here is an airline pilot—a flight captain for Allegheny Airlines.

Budlong is 32. He spent time with both the Navy and Army Air services during World War II, and then put in a year flying in Alaska and three years for Trans-World Airlines.

He joined Allegheny in 1949 and entered Upsala in June, 1951. He's studying business administration and hopes to be graduated in June, 1954.

The most important thing to him is maintaining his status as an honor student. That way, he gets twice as many class cuts per semester as a less industrious, non-honor student.

So far, he has had no trouble in keeping within the allowed number of class cuts, although he averages about three flights a week for the Newark block of Allegheny's routes.

Budlong says he hopes to go on to law school because he knows that airline flying—like baseball playing—puts something of a premium on youth and he can't expect it to go on forever.

Until the end of the Napoleonic wars, "ships of the line" with sailing consisting of two feet of oak were virtually shot proof with the active cannon used at that time.

EASTER GREETING

Artist Depicts Christ From 'Photo' Clue

By FRANK BRUTTO
ROME (AP)—Jesus Christ was more than 6 feet, long-limbed and finely muscled.

This is the conclusion of Roman sculptor-artist Lorenzo Ferri after 21 years of study of the Sancta Sindone, the shroud believed by many scholars to be the white linen cloth of Arimathea wrapped around Jesus' body after it was taken down from the cross.

Ferri is convinced that the shroud-preserved in a cathedral at Turin and long the property of the former royal house of Italy—is the cloth of which both St. Luke and St. John wrote.

St. Luke, describing Jesus' passion and death, wrote that a man named Joseph went to Pilate and begged the body of Jesus.

"And he took it down, and wrapped it in linen and laid it in a sepulchre that was hewn in stone, wherein never man before was laid," Luke Chap. 23, V. 53.

Like Veronica's veil, with which the holy woman wiped the sweating bleeding face of Jesus as he labored under the cross on the way to Calvary, the shroud bears an imprint. The imprint is of an entire body, both front and back.

Its history has been well known for ages. In the past it was the center of frequent and sometimes hot debate over its authenticity. It remained for the discovery of modern photography to bring about new intensive study of the shroud.

The first international study group of the Sancta Sindone was received in special audience by Pope Pius in 1931. The Pope later accepted reproductions of the head of Christ sculptured by Ferri after minute calculations of the image on the shroud.

These show a noble, majestic face, with a powerful, dominant brow, prominent nose, mobile lips and two-tufted beard.

When the shroud was exhibited publicly in 1898 a photograph of it was permitted. There was a sensation when it was discovered that the photographic negative held a positive image. This proved that the image on the shroud, in effect, itself was a negative.

Ferri, in his studies, uses life-sized copies of the most recent photographs of the shroud made in 1933.

Adlai Arrives In Indo-China To Tour War Front
HANOI, Indo-China (UP)—Democratic presidential candidate Adlai E. Stevenson arrived here today for a three-day tour of the northern Indo-Chinese fighting front.

Stevenson was welcomed at the airport upon his arrival from Saigon by Gen. Gonzales de Linares, northern commander of French Union forces. The general later briefed Stevenson on the situation in the northern provinces.

Newsman Invited To Report Any Secretive Steps
WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower has invited newsmen to report to the White House incidents in which they feel officials are choking off or strangling news.

Mr. Eisenhower told his news conference yesterday to bring such instances to his press secretary and he would act. The question came up when he was asked whether he intended to rescind or amend an order issued in 1951 by former President Truman which dealt with news distribution by federal agencies.

The questioner said the order, which gave officials authority to withhold information which might aid "potential enemies," is regarded by many newspaper editors as restricting the flow of legitimate news.

Mr. Eisenhower said he believes in decentralization of power and would like to see his officials responsible for their own actions.

Converted Tank Into Liquor Still

FACTOLUS—With the coming of warmer weather Pitt County's illicit liquor manufacturers have begun to convert their winter fuel tanks to summer whiskey stills.

An illegal outfit of that precise nature was discovered and destroyed near here yesterday afternoon, Pitt County ABC Officer J. M. Ward reported this morning.

According to the officer the captured unit was a 150-gallon "drum" type still, which originally had been used as a fuel tank but had recently been converted to another less-functional use.

Destroyed with the tank were six barrels of mash, each containing 50 gallons of mash—a total of 300 gallons. Officers confiscated two copper condensers at the same time.

Ward said the still was located approximately 150 yards from the Stocks Road near the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad. "The outfit was relatively new," he stated, "and appeared to have been operated only once or twice."

The still was not in operation yesterday, however, and neither whiskey nor operators of the outfit were apprehended.

Officers participating in the raid were Ward, J. L. Taylor and H. B. Lilly.
