Caribbean Tour Is Described At Meet Of Local Book Club

On Tuesday, Mrs. Owen Marshburn had the Athenaeum Book Club as her guests for luncheon at her lovely country home "Andalusia." Mrs. Travis Hooker and Mrs. Ken Phillips were also guests.

"Andalusia" was never lovelier with all the spring flowering in evidence from the moment one drove down the long avenue to the house and then into the garden in the rear.

Artistic arrangements of flowers from Mrs. Marshburn's garden were placed in the living rooms and dining room. A beautifully appointed luncheon was served.

After the luncheon, Mrs. Marshburn too the guests in their mind's eye to the Caribbean. She and her family had flown the Caribbean in the late winter; and she described her trip very graphically and in a most picturesque manner. She told of the countries visited from their first stop at San Juan, Puerto Rico, to the Virgin Islands, the Dominican Republic, and in Jamaica. Mrs. Marshburn and her mother, Mrs. Hooker, had brought back beautiful wares from the various resorts and these were shown the guests.

Pocahontas and Red Men In Joint Meeting

The members of the Degree of Pocahontas and Red Men of the 4th District held its joint meeting in Winterville, April 2nd, at 2:30 p. m.

The Pocahontas met in the Red Men's Hall and the Red Men met in the Free Will Baptist Church.

The Pocahontas carried out their meeting in the ritualistic form. The meeting was opened by the installation of officers. Past Pocahontas Deputy Ethel Lee Williams of Winterville installed the following officers: Elizabeth Barfield of Ayden as Prophetess; Martha Carson of Rocky Mount as Pocahontas; Grace Buck of Winterville as Wench; Mattie Mayo of Greenville as Powhatan; Kathleen Woolard of Greenville as Keeper of Records; Myrtle Roebuck of Farmville Keeper of Wampum; Myrtle Avery of Winterville, 1st scout; Nancy Wall of Ayden, 2nd scout; Beatrice Smith of Winterville, 1st warrior; Myrtle Wetherington of Winterville, 2nd warrior; Agnes Landing of Greenville, 3rd warrior; Mildred Murrell of Greenville, 4th warrior; Ethel Lee Williams of Winterville, Guard of Tepee. These officers were installed by Pocahontas Martha Carson.

There were 47 members present and two visitors, Ida Spruill and Nellie Whitford of Choctaw Council, Washington, N. C.

After the meeting closed the Red Men invited the Pocahontas to a delicious barbecue supper in the lunch room of the school. N. T. Cox acted as toastmaster. The invocation was given by Edward Lee Hardee. Ray Oglesby extended a hearty welcome to everyone and Claude Joyner of Farmville, Great Sachem of North Carolina, responded. The Great Chiefs and visitors were recognized by Thurman Vincent. Everyone sang "God Bless America." J. W. H. Roberts of Greenville gave a very inspiring and informative talk on Redmen.

At 8 o'clock everyone was invited to the gymnasium for a very enjoyable dance. Music was furnished by Clyde Landing and his band.

Music Club To Present Miss Drake In Recital

Sunday afternoon at 4 p. m. in the College Theater, the Greenville Music Club will present Miss Elizabeth Drake in a piano recital. Mr. Jenkins Is Book Club Speaker

Mrs. W. P. Moore was the gracious hostess to the members of the Chatham Book Club and guests Tuesday afternoon at her lovely home on Rock Spring Drive.

The club voted to donate $5.00 to the Cancer Drive. The following slate of officers was presented and elected: Mrs. W. P. Moore, president; Mrs. T. M. Watson, vice president; Mrs. Leonard Topping, secretary; Mrs. J. K. Long, treasurer.

After the business session Mrs. Moore presented her guest speaker, Mr. James S. Jenkins, who gave a most interesting talk on "Tobacco and What It Means to North Carolina and Pitt County." He traced the tobacco industry from its early beginning in eastern Virginia to the present mammoth industry which it has become. Mr. Jenkins stated that in 1885 men came from Danville, Va. and Oxford, N. C. to teach farmers of Pitt County to raise and cure tobacco, and in 1891 the first auction market was established in Greenville. That year Greenville sold 200,000 pounds of tobacco. Today, Pitt County raises more tobacco than any other county in the world.

It was also interesting to know that North Carolina raises two-thirds of the tobacco raised in the United States, including bright leaf, curly and some Turkish tobacco. It also manufactures half of all the cigarettes manufactured in the U. S. Mr. Jenkins concluded his talk by reading excerpts from the Daily Reflector dating around 1900 concerning the growth of the tobacco industry. His talk was enjoyed by everyone.

Mrs. Moore, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. W. P. Moore Jr., served a delicious salad course with coffee. Special guests for the afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins, Mrs. S. C. Moody of Plainfield, N. J., and Mrs. W. P. Moore Jr.

The Junior Woman's Club held its regular monthly business meeting at the Woman's Club on April 1, 1953. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Howard Gradis. The club collect was read by the members followed by the roll call and minutes of the last meeting by the secretary, Mrs. Bill Watson.

Several business communications were read and disposed of by the club. A yearly report of club activities was given by the president, Mrs. Gradis.

Reports were heard on the Fashion Show, the Bread Sale to be held Sunday, April 12th, and on the Parcel Post Sale to be held in the near future.

The hostesses, Mrs. R. D. Harrington Jr., Mrs. Tom Chapin and Mrs. A. B. Whitley, served delicious refreshments of assorted cookies and cold drinks.

Mrs. Sugg Is Hostess To Sans Souci Club

The Sans Souci Book Club met Tuesday at one o'clock with Mrs. Bruce Sugg on West Fifth Street.

Throughout the house was an atmosphere of beauty with all different colors of spring flowers. Guests were greeted by the hostess and invited to the dining room where a delicious barbecue luncheon was served. Mrs. Hall served tomato aspic at one end of the table and Mrs. Waldrop, barbecue at the other end. Mrs. J. H. Blount passed coffee after luncheon.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Waldrop in the absence of Mrs. S. T. White, the president. The minutes were read and 11 members answered to roll call.

There were several round table discussions, one especially pertaining to the program next year. Each member was asked to bring in a subject to the next meeting. Several current events were given by the different members.

Curtain Rises On Operetta By Romberg Here Tonight

The opening performance of "The Student Prince," tuneful and popular operetta by Sigmund Romberg, is set for tonight at 8 o'clock in the Wright auditorium at East Carolina College. A second performance will be given tomorrow at the same hour and place. Both are expected to attract large audiences.

The operetta, presented in a concert version, will give music lovers of this section something enjoyable and unusual in entertainment. More than a dozen student soloists, carefully selected from East Carolina's talented students of music, and a well-trained chorus of 125 men and women will sing Romberg's lilting tunes. The East Carolina Orchestra of fifty pieces will play.

lucky numbers, including dances, will be included on the program. The East Carolina production of "The Student Prince" will make an appeal to the eye as well as to the ear. Principals will be dressed in colorful costumes. Members of the chorus will wear evening clothes and will sing from a tiered platform at the rear of the stage. Lighting effects planned and executed by George McFadyen of Wilmington will add interest to the production.

George Starling of Rocky Mount, Tenn., will sing the role of Karl Frans, the Student Prince. Others having principal parts in the operetta include Carolyn Eisele of Statesville, Carolyn Mahoney of Greenville, Ruth Little of Winterville, Gerald Murphy of China Grove, Frances Smith of Robersonville, Charles Starnes of Wilmington, Bernard Ham of Portsmouth, Va., Leonard Starling of Rocky Mount, Mitchell Saled of Greenville, Irving Ennis of Goldsboro, Everett Roebuck of Farmville, and Andrew Meeder of Norfolk, Va.

News From Fountain

By MRS. J. E. OWENS

Dr. Kenneth N. Cuthbert, head of the college department of music, is director of "The Student Prince," second annual production sponsored by the Student Government Association of East Carolina. Mrs. Florence Beasley of Arookie spent the weekend with her brother, Dr. E. B. Beasley, and Mrs. Beasley.

The Fountain Home Demonstration Club held its regular meeting Thursday, April 2, at the home of Mrs. C. E. Case. The meeting was called to order by the president, "America" was sung by all. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The roll was called with 15 present. Mrs. Beasley Bell was welcomed as a new member. The demonstration was given by Mrs. Albert Bell, one of the members. She gave a very interesting talk on the culture and care of house plants.

For recreation bingo was played and prizes given. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Case.

SENDING HOSPITAL WASHINGTON (UP)—West Germany, a non-member of the United Nations, will send a field hospital with doctors and nurses to join the U. N. combat forces in Korea.

THE OLD AND NEW NASHUA, N. H. (UP)—A Nashua newspaper recently received the following advertisement: "For sale—pair of antique upholstered chairs. Very modern design. $35."

Mountains were so obstructive to the enterprises of the men of the Middle Ages that they showed no appreciation of the beauty of mountain scenery.

Kinston Antique Show Will Attract Many Visitors

(Advertisement) Antique dealers, from the New England states to Florida, and London, England, will exhibit in the Kinston Antiques Show at Hotel Kinston ball-room and mezzanine, April 13, 14, 15, Monday through Wednesday. The three-day event is sponsored by the Kinston Woman's Club and is under the management of the McSwain Antique House of Albemarle, N. C.

Dealers are bringing their largest and most interesting collections and many new dealers will exhibit for the first time. Dealers and collectors will attend the show from all points to purchase stock for their shops and homes. Some of the dealers have recently returned from a European trip and will show many interesting items. There will be fine old furniture, blown and early pressed glass, Meissen and Dresden china, Girandols, silver epergnes with Waterford crystal holders, gold leaf mirrors, sets of china from France, England, and Germany and something to please everyone.

Hours will be from 11:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m. daily. A handsome door prize will be given away each day at 3:30 o'clock and again at 9:30 Wednesday night.

though marked . . . decrease in retail prices in the United States over the past several months. Food prices particularly have taken a downward trend. The latest cost of living index figure has showed its first marked descent from the highest price peaks folks can remember.

The latest cost of living index figure caused for the first time a drop in wages of railroad workers whose rate of pay has been tacked to the cost of living for a number of years. The latest index figure caused a three-cents an hour reduction in the pay of the workers.

On the stock market too, there has been a definite downward trend although there the drop is attributed more to prospects of peace in Korea than to any other one condition. Since the new peace overtures, the stock values have dropped something like five billion dollars.

Ironically enough, these conditions come when business throughout the nation is at one of its peak periods. Private capital put into industrial expansion slated for the last half of 1953 is reaching a new peak. Retail sales are somewhat off from a year ago, but there is no apparent panic over the situation. As Associated Press survey released yesterday showed prices on some items have taken a slight increase since controls were lifted last March 17.

The 12 per cent drop in agricultural prices last year, and the decided drop taken in the beef industry early this year caused a great deal of concern. But there again, slight gains have been noted in recent weeks, and the market seems to be stabilizing itself.

Unless unforeseen influences in the international situation come into the picture to spur prices up again, it appears the cost of living is coming from the lofty peaks it has haunted for several years and settling to a high, yet more stable plateau. Business generally, while somewhat off from last year, remains good and prospects point to its remaining good. But the cost of living apparently is gradually going to settle itself to a more reasonable level than it has been in recent years.

National Whirligig

WASHINGTON—A slow burn among influential Republicans from the northeastern section of the country over the Eisenhower Administration's apparent neglect of their needs and difficulties lies behind the demand for selection of Leonard W. Hall as National Chairman at tomorrow's meeting of Party bigwigs.

Headed by Speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr., of Massachusetts, almost 100 members from this area—New England, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania—have impressed on the White House the fact that they feel the need of a friend at the political court. Economic and geographic considerations mingle with political factors in this sectional uprising.

WESTERNERS FAVORED—Although Eisenhower's earliest political sponsors came from this part of the country—Adams of New Hampshire, Lodge of Massachusetts, Dewey of New York, Driscoll of New Jersey, Duff and Pine of Pennsylvania—the Kansas-reared President turned his face westward when he took over party control.

Many of his top appointments, as well as his legislative program, show a partiality toward the South, the Midwest and the Far West, in the opinion of the "east-bound bloc." His man Friday on Capitol Hill is Senator Taft of Ohio.

LOOKING AHEAD—The 1954 politics also underly the preference for Hall, a former Representative and now Surgeon Judge in Suffolk County, L. I. In their attempt to recapture the House next year, the Democrats look for their greatest gains in the industrialized, urban districts of the Northeast.

Incumbents will need the backing which a friendly and able politician like Hall can give them. It was this factor, in part at least, which inspired Speaker Martin's early blessing of the Long Island man's candidacy. "Joe" will lose his present high post, as well as his limousine, if the lower chamber fails to the Democrats.

M.C.'S GRIPING UNDERSTANDABLE—The "Orphan Annie" complex gripping these M.C.'s is understandable for the neglect of this area has been of long duration. F.D.R.'s policies, consciously and unconsciously, built up the South and Far West as competitors of business and industry from the Potomac to the Androscooggin Rivers. Factories have been moving out of these original states in search for cheaper power and labor, and closer access to raw materials.

When New England industrialists asked assistance from F.D.R. during the depression, he lectured them by blaming their difficulties on their alleged failure to keep abreast of the times. He denounced them for not modernizing their plants, their backward selling methods and their general conservatism.

EASTERNERS DEMAND BETTER TREATMENT—Eisenhower exhibits no such prejudice, although he has never served in or become familiar with this part of the United States. But, largely under the pressure of immediate circumstances, he has been preoccupied with national, international and regional problems of no direct concern to the Northeast. It wants lower farm prices, tax reductions, tariff boosts for its goods, more Federal contracts, government economy.

The "seven Easterners" assert their right to better treatment on several grounds. Most of these come down to one thing: the Northeast has been a loser for the past 20 years. Most importantly, Ike carried them solidly last November, as against major defections in Landon-Hoover-Dewey days.

Somebody Told Me

By I. J. (Jack) EDWARDS, JR.

Do you ever wish you were not living in this age, but instead you had the opportunity to live in a future age? Or do you ever wish you had lived in a previous age? Last night I saw something in the news that makes me quite satisfied with our present age. In the future it is predicted that we can have a television station in our own homes. "At the snap of a switch," the release says, "the home TV set can be turned from one program coming in from the station to a view of the children asleep in the nursery or at play in the yard, or the cooking on the range. The housewife will not only hear but see the caller at the door before she opens it."

This will probably happen in my lifetime and I'm looking forward to seeing it. But what will be developed to surpass such an operation? Whatever it might be, I think it would be so advanced that I'm not interested.

Maybe they will develop television to the extent that you can tell what your neighbors are doing all of the time—and moreover, what they are saying about you. That would spoil my entire life. My curiosity is so great that instead of watching the network TV programs I would be watching the neighbors.

And if I could keep up with what they said about me it's possible that I would have a complete falling out with them. That would never do. So you can see that there's such a thing as electronics being too far advanced.

Around Capitol Square

By LYNN NISBET

MANAGER — Senator Ralph Scott of Alabama is accorded honors as the best floor manager in the history of the Senate. At a time this is written the measure must go through another roll call and there may be a few vote changes, but opponents have thrown in the towel so far as the Senate is concerned. The opposition has already been at work on Representatives and they hope for better luck, but their enthusiasm has been dampened considerably.

DOG TRACKS — The most significant element in the public hearing on the bill to outlaw pari-mutual betting at the dog tracks in Carteret and Currituck counties was that nobody appeared to speak for the bill and against the dog tracks except ministers who have not lived long in communities where they are located, and representatives of church groups from upstate. Only proponents of the bill, which means those against the operation of the dog tracks, were heard Tuesday.

CHANGED—Then Senator Scott went to work. Admitting there were some bad points in the original bill he had it re-referred to a committee after it had already been approved by two committees, and a substitute bill was written. When the matter came up for a vote Tuesday, he sent forward still another amendment. Some folks said it strengthened the bill, some said it weakened its effect, and several contended it didn't do anything but add more words. Not only was the text of the bill changed many times during the month, but the sentiment of Senators began to change. At first it had few friends, then the talk was that it might have a chance in the Senate, and by Monday night the dope was a two-to-one margin. When the roll call vote was tallied 43 Senators had voted for the bill and only four against it, better than ten to one.

TRADER — Observers credit Senator Scott's ability as a trader more than his capacity as a floor manager for the result. So many of his colleagues didn't care particularly about this bill, and did have favorite measures of their own which Scott did not care about, the situation was ideal for back-scratching and vote-trading. A game which all legislators and business men play. At a time this is written the measure must go through another roll call and there may be a few vote changes, but opponents have thrown in the towel so far as the Senate is concerned. The opposition has already been at work on Representatives and they hope for better luck, but their enthusiasm has been dampened considerably.

SLU—OUT — Through all the arguments ran the strain that it is an unholy thing for the State to sell the souls of its people for a few paltry dollars. The appeal was far more, and many of the speakers were the same as in hearings on the operation of ABC stores. When the other side comes to bat it is expected that emphasis will be upon the fact that you cannot legislate morals into the hearts and minds of people, that since gambling and drinking cannot be legislated out of existence, and there is real question about the moral issue involved, they should be regulated rather than run underground, and that the profits should go to the public treasury rather than into the pockets of bootleggers. These arguments are familiar to legislators, too.

Strength for the Day

RELIGION AND REASON

Sir Isaac Newton was one of the greatest minds that has ever appeared in human history. He laid the foundation for the study of modern physics. In addition to being a physicist, he was a great mathematician and a profound philosopher.

Yet, singularly enough, he attained most of his intellectual achievements before he was 45 years of age. After that he settled down in a government position, and lived a routine life the rest of his days. Yet the achievement of this young genius has kept the laboratories of the world busy for the past 250 years.

It is well for us in the twentieth century to recall that Sir Isaac Newton was a profoundly religious man. Sometimes we believe that it is impossible for a man to be a great scientist and a firm believing Christian. Also we regard science as the product of good minds and theology as the product of mediocre minds possessed by well-intentioned men, good and saintly but not first-class thinkers. This, of course is untrue. The world has never had greater thinkers than St. Paul, Augustine, Thomas Aquinas, and John Calvin. During the 1500 years preceding the modern industrial period, the best minds of Europe and America were given to the pondering of religious truth.

Sound religion and sound reason are not contradictory but complementary.

One Day It Could Take Us To "The Dogs"

The issue of pari-mutual betting at dog tracks in North Carolina is coming to a head. The proponents of legislation to do away with the legalized gambling have been heard by a General Assembly committee. The opponents of the legislation are yet to be heard.

The state's two pari-mutual tracks at Morehead City and Moyock have caused quite a bit of concern since they have been in operation. Time and again they have been linked with large gambling syndicates dominated by racketeers of the North. Time and again it has been intimated that the gambling interests were making inroads into local government in Carteret and Currituck Counties where the two dog tracks operate.

It is difficult to ascertain just how much of these suppositions have foundation, and how much is created in someone's imagination.

North Carolina does not want its state government, or any of its local governments to come under the control of gambling syndicates as has been the case in other larger states where racketeers thrive on their various syndicates and illicit operations. Yet it seems that the door is being left open for such a thing to happen as long as the gambling in the two counties has the sanction of the General Assembly.

The inroads of crime and racketeering syndicates have made into local governments of a number of Northern states is a matter of record as a result of various Congressional and other investigations. Almost without exception they begun in a small way and gradually gained more and more power.

It can happen in North Carolina.

The gambling operations, which have been legalized in the two counties — while they may appear relatively harmless to some people at the present time — could grow into a cancer gnawing away at the welfare of the government at various levels in the state and at the welfare of the people of the state.

It will not be nearly so difficult to cope with the situation now, while it is in its early stages of development, as it might be later on if — under the auspices of racketeering syndicates — it develops into maturity.

In the long view, with due consideration given trends in other states in which gambling has been legalized, North Carolina probably will be much better off without pari-mutual betting than it will if the operation continues.

"Leveling Off" May Be In Its Early Stages

Perhaps the economic "leveling off" period which has been discussed in abstract terms since the end of World War II is beginning to make its appearance in the United States.

There has been a relatively slight . . .

Business Today

Industrial distributors have been investing hundreds of millions of dollars in materials, machinery and parts which stand as a reservoir against the effects of strikes, disaster and military attack.

In event of an international conflict these operating inventories will be every bit as valuable as the huge stockpiles of critical materials being accumulated by the Government — though they have cost the taxpayer nothing.

Though some may consider such middlemen distributors as adding to costs, actually, they provide an essential service which enables producers and manufacturers to operate with order, efficiency and at greater economy.

An appraisal of industrial distributors and their importance to the nation is contained in the April issue of "The York Report" (published by York Engineering and Construction and York-Gillespie Manufacturing Companies, Pittsburgh, Pa.). The subject is a timely one because the industry's convention will be held in Miami, April 13 to 15.

The York Report calls the industrial distributors the manufacturers' department store. Before the advent of the general store, and later, the department store, American families kept huge supplies of food, tools, clothes, linens and china in their homes, since it often took months or even years to get replacements.

Many manufacturers would have to keep correspondingly expensive inventories of raw materials, parts and tools as a hedge against every contingency. The distributor eliminates this requirement. He keeps one inventory sufficient for numerous customers, thus reducing their investment cost and replacement time.

He does more. He reduces costs by ordering from producers in large quantities — often an uneconomical practice for the manufacturer.

He also stocks ideas. His survival depends on how well he can serve his customers, and this service includes not only prompt delivery of ordinary items but also advice on how to meet new problems. If a certain new material is required, or a special-purpose machine is needed, the industrial distributor most likely knows the nearest, quickest, least expensive source.

The York Report notes that the maintenance of branch warehouses by large manufacturing companies attests to the value of regional or area suppliers. But smaller manufacturers, and even some of the larger ones, cannot

Hal Boyle's Column

NEW YORK (AP)—Do you want to beat the high cost of living?

One sure way is to become a free loader. Millions of Americans have learned to follow this quick, easy path to a rich full life that could otherwise never afford.

You, too, can become one. All it takes is a little patience, a callous of your conscience, a lot of brass and gall, and the hide of an elderly elephant.

Free loading is merely hitchhiking through life on other people's good will. It is panhandling raised to a pure art form.

In the old days a free loader was a frowsy character who sidled through a saloon door when the bartender's back was turned and wolfed his way through the free lunch counter without buying a five-cent beer. Everybody knew who he was and nobody had any respect for him.

"Throw the bum out!" rang the cry and out the bum was pitched.

Those innocent times are gone. Today if all the free loaders sitting some of the better functions were flung out on the pavement the place would be left empty except for the host.

For the breed has multiplied. As a matter of fact if all the free loaders and all the free spenders in the country got into a mass fist fight on a given day, the outnumbered free spenders would have to yelp for help to the National Guard to make it an even battle.

But this will never happen. The top-type free loader now is a fellow with social prestige who dresses well and hangs out in the most fashionable watering troughs.

To be a successful free loader you have to follow a few sure-fire rules:

1. Never put down your own money except to pay your way out of an emergency—and keep out of emergencies.

2. Choose your friends wisely. Never chum with anybody who doesn't have either a big bankroll or a big expense account.

3. Never buy what you can borrow.

4. Try to borrow money only from people who, if you pay them back one week, will gladly lend you twice as much next week.

5. Always be a snob. Avoid grade as you would the mumps. Oversee the chumps you sponge off of. If they don't feel you're doing them a favor to be in their company, they're the wrong kind of chump anyway.

There are dumb free loaders and smart free loaders. A dumb free loader goes into a night club, sits down at a table with some chance acquaintances, catches some drinks and a meal, and hopes to duck out to the men's room when the waiter brings the bill.

But suppose the bill comes while the other fellows are away. The dumb free loader is stuck with an emergency. He has to pay.

A smart free loader, on the other hand, shows up with his right hand bandaged.

"Burned if helping a pal put out a fire in his car," he explains. "Right away he's a hero. He

WASHINGTON—Babies today are having a better time of it than they did 40 years ago when they were fled by the clock, dressed by the clock and put to bed on the stroke of the hour.

When they cried on those days they were just left to cry — there was no picking them up. "Thumb-sucking was labor." They wore layer upon layer of clothes.

Mother was encouraged to put them outdoors for a while every day no matter what the weather. Changing attitudes are reflected in comparing each revision of "Infant Care," the U. S. Children's Bureau booklet first published in 1914 and today consulted by millions of mothers as the last, or very nearly the last, word on what is best for baby.

Today's advice is to use moderation about schedules. Letting the baby have some say about when he will eat and when he will sleep. Babies are urged to put their outdoors for a while every day no matter what the weather.

What Other Papers Are Thinking

A STATE TURNPIKE (Wilson Times)

Ever since Pennsylvania installed its turnpike in 1940, other states have been toying with the idea. For Pennsylvania's turned out to be far more profitable than its backers anticipated. The Pennsylvania problem, however, was somewhat different from the problems of the other states. In the Mountainous regions the motorists were looking for an all-weather road that supposedly eliminated the heavy grades. And Pennsylvania did a fine job. But it didn't get an all-weather road, for the turn-pike becomes as icy as the other big ways. It did, however, tend to expedite traffic. And that was another purpose of the turnpike. It was that more than anything else that has prompted the other states to look into the possibilities. For much of the traffic that goes through North Carolina is on its way to Florida. Why not give it the "no" sign on a turnpike? The motorists, of course, appreciate the four-lane highways. That was shown by the use of the Jersey turnpike which was opened only a year or so ago. It's shown, too, by other four-lane highways such as the N. 77 highway in New York where the traffic is always heavy.

But will a turnpike saving in pay off? A lot of people both in Virginia and North Carolina have been wondering. Traffic, we all know, constitutes the No. 1 problem of most of the states today. Are we trying to slow it down or are we trying to get rid of it? In the answer to that question, it seems to me, is the logic of a turnpike. That they do expedite traffic has been shown by the turnpikes that have already been built. But when they're common, when we have them in every state, will they be used? Coming out of New York now you pay 50 cents to get through the tubes, another $1.75 for the turnpike, 75 cents to get across the Delaware river bridge and 90 cents to cross the Potomac river. If more are added, will the tolls become prohibitive?

Pirates Winning Streak Broken By Montclair Indians

New Jersey Team Gets 7-2 Win Over Pirates

By JIMMY ELLIS
Reflector Sports Editor

East Carolina College's winning streak and unbeaten record were both wiped from the books yesterday afternoon on the college diamond when a group of touring New Jersey baseballers from Montclair State Teachers College licked the Pirates 7-2.

The loss was the first in six outings for the Pirates. Previously, the Pirates had marched past five opponents, including three highly-rated North State Conference (Eastern Division) teams.

The Bucs will get a double chance to avenge the defeat this afternoon, however. The same squads will meet in a double-header at the college field. The first of the two seven-inning affairs was scheduled for a 2 o'clock starting time with the second contest following as soon as possible after the first game is completed.

The Redmen wasted practically no time at all in climbing all over the Pirates. They tallied enough runs in the first inning to beat the Bucs and they did it with big hits.

Goldwater Homers
Frank Cassavell started the game by popping up in an extremely misleading manner. With one out under their belts, the Pirates settled back but they were quickly straightened out when Charlie Ottina trotted down to first base after being hit by a pitched ball. Johnny Gray then brought everybody else up with a ringing double to deep right-center field to chase home Ottina. Rube (Red) Goldwater then finished up the inning's activity by losing one of Martin Byrd's pitches over the leftfield fence, some 340 feet from home plate.

That was enough for the Redmen to wrap up their first win of the year but they kept right on piling up insurance runs. They tallied once in the second inning on a walk and a two-base hit by Cassavell. They got two more in the fourth when Cassavell doubled again. Ottina walked, and a pair of infield outs and an error followed in sequence. The final run came in the seventh inning when Goldwater led off with a walk and came home a few moments later when Ken Mischia singled through the box.

Bill Cline Homers
The Pirates averted a white-washing in the eighth inning when Bill Cline picked out one of Harry Durkee's pitches and slammed it beyond the leftfield fence while brother Gaiter Cline was riding first base. That was the most solid blow the Pirates managed to collect from Durkee all afternoon although Gaiter did get three hits altogether.

Durkee did a masterful piece of work when the chips were down. He walked six men and gave up seven hits but he was always able to come in with the big pitch when it was needed. He struck out six Pirates and had control of the game all the way except for the Cline brothers' uprising in the eighth.

Martin Byrd started for the Pirates but lasted little more than an inning. In his short stay on the mound, however, he was charged with four hits and four runs and tagged with the loss. Clyde Owens, his successor, had a trouble with his control and fared little better than Martin although the damage was already done when he got into the game. Leonard Sullivan, a sophomore left-hander from Bath, finished up the game (the last four innings) and did a creditable job of holding the big bats of the New Jerseyites in check.

Cassavell led the Montclair hitting with a pair of doubles in five trips to the plate. Gray got a double and a single and Goldwater got his booming home run to back up Cassavell in the slugging department.

Cline's Hit Hard
Gaiter Cline's three hits were tops in the "most" department while brother Bill's homer was the best in the "hardest-hit" category. Sonny Russell, Boyd Webb, and Ralph Britt also came through with hits for the Pirates.

After today's doubleheader, the Pirates will get down the serious task of completing their Eastern Division (North State Conference) schedule. They'll resume their conference play tomorrow against Elon on the ECC field.

KELLNER TO START
PORTSMOUTH, Va. (UP) — An effective pitching job against the Philadelphia Phillies today can win lefty Alex Kellner the Philadelphia Athletics' opening day pitching assignment.

Although Bobby Shantz is available, Manager Jimmy Dykes figures he can align his pitching rotation to better advantage by starting someone else against the New York Yankees next Tuesday. Kellner, effective against the Yankees in past years, may be the man. The Phils edged the Boston Red Sox, 2-1, Wednesday.

SPENCER INJURED
KINGSFORD, Tenn. (UP) — Rookie Daryl Spencer, whom the New York Giants had planned to start at third base when the season opens, was lost to the club for about two weeks because of a fractured jaw bone.

Spencer was struck in the face by a pitch from Mike Garcia in the first inning of Wednesday's 11-10 Giant victory over the Cleveland Indians.

WARD HITS HARD
KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UP) — If Preston Ward can successfully make the defensive switch from first base to the outfield, the Chicago Cubs should have another powerful long ball hitting threat to go with Hank Sauer.

Ward, a recently discharged serviceman, slammed two more home runs Wednesday to maintain his batting average around .350 as the Cubs edged the Browns, 7-6.

SIX STRAIGHT
ATLANTA, Ga. (UP) — Manager Paul Richards announced today that Saul Rogovin will be the Chicago White Sox' opening day pitcher against the Cleveland Indians next Tuesday.

The White Sox scored their sixth straight exhibition victory by beating Atlanta of the Southern Association, 14-0, Wednesday.

STALEY TUNES UP
MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP) — Gerry Staley of the St. Louis Cardinals tuned up for his opening day hurling assignment Wednesday by blanking the Little Rock Travelers of the Southern Association, 10-0, on seven hits.

PIRATES BACK HOME
PITTSBURGH (UP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates, who have played only two exhibition games against major league opponents this spring, return home today and face the world champion New York Yankees at Forbes Field. Vic Raschi will start for the Yankees. The Yankees' scheduled game against Louisville was rained out Wednesday.

GARVER AGAINST BROWNS
COLUMBUS, O. (UP) — Manager Freddie Hutchinson has chosen Ned Garver as the Detroit Tigers' opening day starting pitcher against the St. Louis Browns next Tuesday.

The Tigers and Reds, rained out of Wednesday's scheduled game at Charleston, W. Va., meet here today.

TUMULTUOUS WELCOME
MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UP) — Cheered by a tumultuous welcome upon their arrival Wednesday, the Milwaukee Braves make their first exhibition appearance before the home town folks today in the opener of a four-game series against the Boston Red Sox.

The Braves were rained out of Wednesday's scheduled game against the Philadelphia Athletics. The Red Sox lost 2-1 to the Philadelphia Phils.

PORTERFIELD READY
WASHINGTON (UP) — Bob Porterfield of the Washington Senators, having blanked the Brooklyn Dodgers, 7-0, with a full route performance, is ready for his American League opening day pitching assignment.

Porterfield held the Dodgers to four hits Wednesday.

Pony League

There will be an important meeting of the Pony League tonight at 7:30 at the Armory. All supporters of Pony League baseball are asked to be present at the meeting. Plans for the coming season will be discussed and adopted.

Chicod Gets 14-8 Win Over Indians

BETHEL—The Chicod Hornets continued their march through and past Pitt County Conference opposition but they had to score a lot of runs yesterday to defeat the Bethel Indians 14-8 on the Bethel field.

The victory was the fourth against conference opposition for the Hornets who have lost but one. It also gave them a season's record of five wins and only one defeat.

The Hornets put most of their batting power in two big spurges against Bethel's starting hurler, Richardson. Chicod started off with a five-run blast in the first inning and then came back for five more tallies in the third to clinch the win.

Bobby Fornes pitched the first five innings of the game and received credit for the victory. The right-hander struck out 10 batters, most of them at crucial moments when errors by other Chicod players had gotten Fornes in the hole.

Billy Wilson, with two hits in three trips, led the Chicod batting with J. T. Mills chipping in with two singles in five trips. Cecil Riddick of the Indians took batting honors for the day, however, by banging out three of his team's six hits. Bill Latham, got two of the remaining three.

The eight runs scored by Bethel stood today as the most that have been scored in any one game against the Hornets. In five previous games, they had given up only 10 runs.

The Hornets will meet Belvoir next Tuesday in Chicod in another Pitt County Conference game.

Score by innings:

Chicod	515	020	1-14	9 3
Bethel	202	310	0-8	6 1

Fornes (6) and C. Mills; Richardson, B. B. Tetterton (4) and Nelson.

Rocky Adds Seats

HOLLAND, Mich. (UP) — Heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano draws such good crowds at his training sessions that 500 new bleacher seats are being added at his training camp here.

Mangrum Gets 63 In Masters Round

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UP) — Lloyd Mangrum may never win the Masters golf tournament but, as a field of 73 teed off today in the opening round of the 17th renewal of the event, there wasn't any doubt about the master of 18 given holes.

Mangrum of Chicago, shot a practice 63 Wednesday with the benefit of a couple of conceded two-foot putts. No such run has ever been shot for money or for fun on the layout which Bobby Jones conceived as the supreme test of champions.

The next best to Mangrum's was a 64 in 1940 tournament play, accomplished by none other than Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago.

Mangrum explained simply: "I sank a few putts."

His "putts" included a 60-footer whacked for one eagle and a 55-footer from off the green for another.

Yet, even his 64 in the 1940 Masters couldn't win it for Mangrum. He shot that on the first round. His second day he went up to 75 and he finished four strokes behind Jimmy Demare's 80 total.

game against Louisville was rained out Wednesday.

GARVER AGAINST BROWNS
COLUMBUS, O. (UP) — Manager Freddie Hutchinson has chosen Ned Garver as the Detroit Tigers' opening day starting pitcher against the St. Louis Browns next Tuesday.

The Tigers and Reds, rained out of Wednesday's scheduled game at Charleston, W. Va., meet here today.

TUMULTUOUS WELCOME

Stokes Wins From Belvoir; Watson's Record Stopped

BELVOIR—Stokes scored three times in the fourth inning of a Tuesday afternoon ball game to defeat Belvoir 3-2 and stop William Watson's amazing streak of nittless and scoreless innings.

Prior to the contest, Watson had come 17 consecutive innings without giving up a hit or a run. Even though he lost both the game and a chance to extend his record, the Belvoir righthander had the consolation of knowing that the two hits he gave to Stokes didn't figure in his scoring. Loose fielding by his teammates accounted for all three of Stokes' fourth-inning tallies.

Belvoir had taken an early lead in the tight pitchers battle by scoring single runs in the first and second innings of Stokes' Nelson. That was all they got, however, and after Stokes rammed through the three runs in the fourth frame, the scor-

Farmville To Play Bucs In Exhibition

FARMVILLE—The Farmville Red Sox of the semi-pro Bright Belt League will launch their 1953 exhibition schedule Saturday night when they meet the East Carolina College Pirates in the Farmville ball park.

The game will be the first of two week-end exhibitions for the Red Sox. On Sunday, they'll play host to Stantonsburg, another member of the Bright Belt loop. The Saturday game with the Pirates will start at 7:45 and the Sunday afternoon contest will get underway at 3 o'clock.

The Farmville team has been working out for the past two weeks and Manager Pete Plestrak is planning to use a starting team which includes several players with professional and semi-professional experience.

The Farmville starters will include Barry Jones at first, Millard Webb at second, Bill Kennedy at shortstop, Plestrak at third, George Graybill catching, and Sam Stell, Streeter Tugwell, and Tommy Jones in the outfield. The starting pitcher will come from the group composed of Red Benton, Joe Hines, and Vince Jones.

The Stantonsburg team is managed by Fred Pittman, a former Coastal Plain League great with Wilson.

News From Ballards

By MRS. G. S. NICHOLS

On Easter Sunday morning Rev. Herbert Dale preached a very beautiful and impressive sermon on the Resurrection of Christ. Following this a communion service was observed by the church. Rev. C. D. Patterson, a former pastor, assisted in this service. The choir, under the direction of Mrs. W. B. Crawford, rendered a special selection "Christ Arose."

There was almost a record attendance at Sunday school, 102 being present. We were glad to have visitors from Ayden, Greenville, Farmville and Tarboro.

On Saturday afternoon Mrs. C. C. Harris, teacher of the beginner's class, and Mrs. P. J. Elks, junior class teacher, entertained the children of other classes at Easter egg hunts on the church grounds.

The Women of the Church will meet on Friday evening, April 10, at 7:30 at the home of Mrs. Sue Roberson. Mesdames Preston Lloyd and Dal Williams will be hostesses. All women in the community are invited to this meeting.

Rev. Herbert Dale left after services Sunday evening for a visit with his family at Davidson, N. C.

Because the coronation regalia was destroyed during the British re-occupation, few of the pieces used today date back farther than 1651.

The young people's services at the community center on each Saturday evening under the direction of Rev. Wells are still being well attended. Following this a fine Christian picture is shown by Evangelist Paul Black. On Saturday evening, April 11, the life of Fanny Crosby and the hymns she wrote will be shown on the screen.

Rev. Black preaches on Friday evenings, Sunday afternoon and evening at 7:30. The public is invited to all these services.

Mrs. James E. Stokes and daughter Linda arrived last Thursday morning from Falls Church, Va. to spend the Easter holidays with Mrs. Stokes' mother, Mrs. Mamie R. Holoway. They were Saturday night guests of Mrs. Woolard in Washington. They returned to Falls Church Monday.

Miss Jean Crawford, who has a secretarial position in Tarboro visited at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Crawford, during the Easter holidays.

Mrs. Verna Joyner, accompanied by Mrs. R. N. Childress of Greenville, visited Mrs. Tom Lassiter near Greenville last Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kite and little son have moved from Norfolk, Va. to Tampa, Fla. Mr. Kite was employed in the assembly room of the Ford Motor Co. in Norfolk and was transferred to Tampa.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wooten were recent weekend visitors in Richmond, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Billie Oglesby announce the birth of a son in a Ganton hospital on Tuesday, March 24. Mrs. Oglesby was the former Dora Gray Jones.

Herschel Tyson, who was recently transferred to the F.C.X. store in Marshville, near Charlotte, was a Sunday visitor at the home of his mother, Mrs. G. T. Tyson.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Crawford and Mrs. Josie McArthur were Kinston visitors Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. James R. Crawford, Mrs. Leslie Evans and Mrs. Giber Nichols were Raleigh visitors Saturday.

Friends will be glad to know that C. S. Jones, who has been ill in Pitt Memorial Hospital the past several weeks, has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Hyman and little son of near Tarboro were Sunday evening visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Crawford.

Crudie Bradley was a Wilson visitor last week.

Mrs. Roy Smith entertained her two little boys, Franklin and Albert, and their little cousin, Linda Stokes, from Falls Church, Va., at an Easter egg hunt Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Annie Flanagan was a weekend visitor of her sister, Mrs. E. H. Roberson, in Raeford.

Pete Manning has returned to Duke University after spending the spring vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Manning.

Durward Tyson, student at A. C. College, is spending the spring vacation with his mother, Mrs. G. T. Tyson.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Brockwell of Chapel Hill were weekend visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Flake. Mrs. Brockwell is Mr. Flake's sister.

Rev. and Mrs. Paul Black and children were recent supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Will Elks.

Mr. and Mrs. Noah Barber and Mr. and Mrs. Dupree Tolar visited their aunt, Mrs. Mattie Nichols, in Greenville Sunday evening. Mrs.

Nichols is critically ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Walker Holloman.

Mrs. Adell Andrews of the Joyner Crossroads community and Mrs. Lorene Andrews, student at the Wilson School of Nursing, were Sunday visitors of Mrs. Roy Smith and Mrs. Mamie R. Holoway.

Mrs. Lloyd Smith and Mrs. Warren Earp, both of Wilmington, and Mrs. C. B. Roebuck and children, Dan and Lynn, were recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Jones.

Mrs. James E. Stokes and daughter ter Linda, Mrs. Mamie R. Holoway and little Franklin Smith were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Murphy at Jasper, near New Bern.

Mr. Murphy is Mrs. Holoway's nephew.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Denton, teachers in the Pikeville school, spent the past weekend with Mrs. Denton's mother, Mrs. G. T. Tyson.

THE STRAW DONKEY CASE

By A. S. FLEISCHMAN

Chapter 2
At five-thirty Brindle locked the office door from the inside, got a leather kit out of the bottom desk drawer and moved at the old metal wastebasket near the window. On the street he picked up an evening paper, walked to an open parking lot on Eighth Street, and sat for a moment in his blue

Chrysler coupe, scanning the headlines. It was growing dark fast. He put the paper aside and started the car.

Working his way out of the business section he took the new road that bypassed the harbor and ended where the peninsula of Point Loma juts from the shore like a hooked finger. A steep road took him twisting over the crest of the peninsula and dropped into Ocean Beach. Turning left on Miramar Drive, he began watching the house numbers. Presently, on the left of the road his headlights caught a large two-story house, the customary white stucco and red-tiled roof, a porch light burned yellow over the house number. This was it.

The heavy Moorish door opened and Ranson stood smiling, still wearing the hound's-tooth jacket.

"Glad you could make it," he said. "Come in."

"The others will be down in a moment," Ranson explained. "Let's have a drink. What would you like?"

"Anything but milk," Ranson chuckled. "Bourbon then, eh?" He opened the doors of a bleached maple bar and mixed two tall glasses.

Brindle began to feel uncomfortable. He took out a cigarette and lit it.

Brindle heard muffled footsteps on the carpeted stairs and got to his feet as a young woman appeared. Auburn hair, upwept. She wore a sheer wool dress. Her eyes were flecked with green and a little on the sad side. Judging from the faint marks on her nose, she wore glasses and had just taken them off.

"This is Max Brindle," Ranson said, taking her hand. "My niece, Frances Lilly. Mr. Brindle, dear, is also interested in astrology."

Brindle didn't know exactly how to take that.

"That's very interesting," Frances said seriously. "You see, I'm writing a book on the subject. Perhaps we can exchange opinions."

"Kidneys must remove excess waste," Brindle said.

At that moment a tall, thin man moved quietly into the room. "And this is my nephew," the old man beamed. "Harry West." The two strangers shook hands. There was something unwholesome about West, and Brindle was glad to get his hand back. The guy had a tearshaped head. A protruding forehead overhung nervous blue eyes. The chin was pointed. The kind of a guy that was either a moron or a genius. "Glad to know you," West deadpanned, in a voice that suggested just the opposite.

They went into the dining room. Brindle recalled that Ranson had spoken of two nephews. He wondered where the other one was, and why nothing had been said about his absence. After all, that was the purpose in having the detective to dinner: to meet the relatives and pass judgment on their homicidal potentialities.

Ranson had kept his promise; it was an excellent dinner. The trimmings alone should last another two nights.

What table conversation there was supplied exclusively by Ranson. It developed that West considered himself anything but a moron.

"My nephew writes music," Ranson explained. "The kind with very long hair."

The sarcasm in his voice was thin and it brought a leaden stare from West.

"Yes," Ranson went on, "he's now restating his third symphony. His first two, unfortunately, were a wanton waste of paper. Believe me, Mr. Brindle, it's difficult to live with a genius."

Brindle tried to remain detached from the gentle knitting that was masquerading as banter.

"Tell me, Mr. Brindle," Miss Lilly asked coolly, "what star were you born under?"

"Three stars, as a matter of fact," Brindle replied, hoping to change the mood of the conversation. "Hennessey."

It helped some. Even West smiled.

"That's about what I expected you to say," Miss Lilly laughed. She seemed to be loosening up a little, but just a little.

"Let's go into the patio," Ranson suggested, finishing his coffee and getting up.

"It's too cold, Uncle Peter," his niece objected.

"Nonsense. It's so good to get some fresh air."

The three of them trailed after Ranson through the French doors that separated the dining room from the patio. Miss Lilly and West took the "stray" two single chairs, leaving Brindle to share the large swing with Ranson.

"Nice place you've got," Brindle said.

"Not as nice as you think," Ranson replied. "You see, when I first built this place the cliffs were at a safe distance. Every year the shore line moves closer. Hear those breakers? The water has undercut the cliffs, and one day this place will go down."

West seemed amused. Ranson lit his cigar, and continued: "And don't you think those cliffs aren't treacherous. Someone is killed on them every year."

"But the view must be inspiring to a composer," Brindle said, turning to West.

"It should be," Ranson answered for him.

"Really, Uncle Peter," Frances scowled, "it's too cold to sit out here. I'm going in."

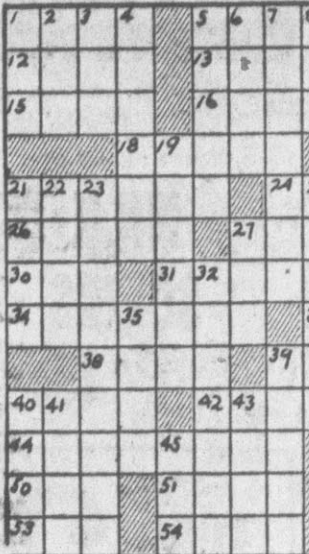

"You and Harry go in, if you like. I'd like to talk with Mr. Brindle for a moment."

She went through the French

Scholarships Are Offered By UDC
Eight college scholarships to North Carolina colleges and universities are being offered by, or through, the North Carolina division of the United Daughters of the Confederacy. Mrs. J. L. Fleming of Greenville, president of the George B. Singleary chapter, released the information on the eight scholarships which are available for the 1953-54 college year. The eight scholarships which are available for award for the coming school year are: five at Woman's College of the University of North Carolina, three of them for $120; one at the University of North Carolina, $200; one at East Carolina College, $150; and one at Flora MacDonald College, $100. Any young person whose ancestor served the Confederacy in the War Between the States, and who can not complete a college course without assistance is eligible for a scholarship. Those interested in the scholarships should contact Mrs. J. C. Bower, Box 493, Lexington, N. C. Applications for the scholarships must be received not later than May 1.

Stock And Market Reports

NEW YORK (UP)—Stocks turned irregular just before noon today after displaying higher tendencies earlier in the session. Trading was moderately active.

Price changes throughout the list were small either way with a number of issues holding at their previous.

Investors appeared highly cautious and as a result, sales dipped to 320,000 shares in the first hour, compared with 390,000 in the same period yesterday.

A few oil equities displayed a considerable amount of strength. Wilcox Oil ran up 1 1/4 points to 24 3/4. Texas Gulf Producing at one time was up 1 3/8 points to 62 3/8.

Elsewhere, Western Union was a feature with a gain of 1 1/8 points to 42 1/4.

Steel shares did little. Bethlehem Steel eased 3/8 to 50 5/8 and U.S. Steel was unchanged at 39 1/4. Chrysler was backward in its group with a loss of 7/8 to 79 3/4. General Motors held unchanged at 62.

Railroads were virtually unchanged in dull dealings. Utilities tacked on very small gains.

Legislators In Home Stretch On Big Appropriations; Vote Today

By EDWARD S. CORNISH
United Press Staff Correspondent

RALEIGH (UP)—The General Assembly, relieved over getting the liquor question out of the way for another two years, also approached the beginning of the end today in its appropriations squabbles.

The Joint Finance Committee finished its hearings on Gov. William B. Umstead's $13,000,000 "catch-all" bond issue as well as on the two big bond issue referendums - $50,000,000 for public school buildings and $22,000,000 for mental institution improvements.

The Joint Appropriations subcommittee, which yesterday opened its doors to the public for the first time in almost three weeks, was also nearing the end of its study of the multi-million dollar maintenance appropriations bill.

The subcommittee, which voted March 24 to hold its sessions on the controversial items in secret, allowed the press to come in and watch committee members vote on those same controversial items.

The group approved fat increases in maintenance funds for mental hospitals at the urging of Rep. John W. Umstead of Orange and approved a 10 per cent salary hike for superior court judges to bring them to $11,000 a year.

Supreme Court Justices were voted a $1,600 annual raise with an extra $500 pot for the chief justice. Solicitors were put down for a 10 per cent raise.

Over the objections of Rep. E. M. O'Herron of Mecklenburg, the subcommittee voted to put up $100,000 for the outdoor drama "Horn in the West." O'Herron criticized the state for entering into local projects with a possible result of tax increases.

Both House and Senate apparently squelched any chance of a liquor referendum bill for this session.

By standing vote, the lower chamber voted 32 to 46 against reviving an "all or nothing" liquor referendum bill which its committee on counties, cities and towns had reported unfavorably a few hours earlier.

The Senate Propositions and Grievances Committee, studying an identical bill, voted to postpone action on it "indefinitely," which probably means it's dead for the rest of the session.

The Senate passed and sent to the House a bill to establish a powerful five-member state milk commission and a bill to set up a minimum wage of $30 a week or 55 cents an hour.

Cases Heard In City Police Court

By CHESTER WALSH
In Police Court Wednesday, Judge Charles H. Whedbee found Richard A. Cratch, Jr., guilty of failure to stop at a "stop" sign, and gave him 30 days in jail.

The court suspended sentence on condition that Cratch pay $5 on court costs. The judgement also provides that he is not to drive a motor vehicle for a year unless and until he makes adequate restitution for damage to Hurler's Moyer's car. Cratch is to remain of good behavior for a year.

In the case of Robert L. Haddock, driving without an operator's license, the court continued judgement on payment by the defendant of $25, costs deducted.

Douglas D. McMorgan was found not guilty for improper passing.

Ben Edward Fleming, careless and reckless driving, was found guilty of speeding and fined $15 and he is to remain of good behavior for a year.

Drunk: Edna E. Moore, paid $10; Willie R. Little, 30 days in jail, sentence suspended on payment of $10.

Fred Peele, Negro, paid $25 and costs for driving without an operator's license.

Willie L. Little, Negro, was found guilty of assault with deadly weapons (a brick and an electric iron) on Thelma Marie Williams, Negro, 1291-B Broad Street, city. The court gave him three months on the roads, sentence suspended on payment of $15 on court costs. The judgement also provides that Little is not to molest or harm Thelma Marie Williams, Negro, or go on her premises. He also is to remain of good behavior for a year.

Willie L. Little, Negro, was found guilty of damaging personal property (a table, bowl and window) at the home of Roberta Williams, Negro. The court gave him three months on the roads, sentence to be served concurrently with the above sentence on condition that he pay $5 on court costs and $25 to Roberta Williams, Negro. The judgement also provides that he is to remain of good behavior for a year.

In the cases of Elizabeth C. Brock and Franklin A. Garris, charged with following too closely and reckless driving, respectively, Judge Whedbee dismissed the action on payment by each defendant of one-half the court cost.

The court found Fred Junior Bush, Negro, not guilty of assault on a female.

Woman Charged In Auto Accident

Mrs. Norine Spain Small of Route 5, Greenville, was charged with failing to yield the right-of-way, resulting in an accident which extensively damaged an automobile.

Mrs. Small was charged by Patrolman James W. Boykin following the accident which occurred yesterday about noon on the Prison Camp road five miles west of Greenville.

Patrolman Boykin said a car driven by Howard Farquharson, white, 59, of Washington, N.C., swerved off the highway into a yard, striking a telephone and breaking it in half, to avoid hitting the car driven by Mrs. Small which cut across the highway.

Boykin said Mrs. Small was parked off the highway on the right side before she made a left turn into a rural road in front of the oncoming auto driven by Farquharson who was traveling toward Belvoir.

The front of Farquharson's car was damaged, and damage was estimated at $700.

Retirement For Ex-Ambassador

WASHINGTON (UP)—Former Ambassador to Russia George F. Kennan said today he is ending his 26-year diplomatic career without any bitterness toward Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and the Eisenhower administration.

He said his retirement plans, announced Wednesday night by the State Department, were the result of an "entirely amicable" arrangement with Dulles.

The scholarly career diplomat, who authored the Truman administration's policy of "containing" Communism, had been cooling his heels waiting for a new assignment since the Republicans took office.

Byrd Criticizes Federal Records

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.), said today government manpower records are "so inaccurate" it is impossible to tell how many persons are on the federal payroll.

He called on President Eisenhower to take "immediate steps" to rectify the situation.

The Virginian, only Democrat holding a committee chairmanship in the Republican-controlled 83rd Congress, issued a statement apologizing to Congress because he found himself unable to vouch for government personnel figures carried in the monthly report of his Senate-House Committee on Non-Essential Federal Expenditures.

14 Enlistments In Armed Forces

Enlistments in the Army and Air Force from the Greenville area during the month of March totaled 14, Sgt. First Class A. G. Atwood, local recruiter, announced today.

Of the total number of enlistments, Sergeant Atwood said, 11 were for the Air Force and three for the Army. A total of 13 of the men enlisting are white and one, Billy Cherry, is Negro.

Enlistments were:

Air Force—Tait H. Worthington and Walter G. Williams both of Winterville; and David T. Benton, Charles H. Buck, Wallace G. Gurganus, Claude E. Roach, Merf. T. Vernon, George P. Parkin, Dewey C. Parker, Jr., Patrick W. Jordan and Billy Cherry, all of Greenville.

Army—Carlton L. Daugherty and Hugh C. Powers, Jr., both of Greenville, and Lewis G. Mullen of Bethel.

Driver Charged With Hit-Run

Clydia Johnson, Negro, 25, was arrested yesterday by local police on charges of hit-and-run and no operator's license.

She was arrested after investigation of a driver hitting the corner of the Citizens Ice Company early Monday morning, damaging the building, and leaving the scene.

Her address was listed as 811 Douglas Street. The arrest was made by Chief of Police S. G. Gibbs, R. T. Rogerson, and Caesar Corbett.

Women's Auxiliary Planning Bake Sale

The Young Women's Auxiliary of the Reedy Branch Free Will Baptist Church is planning a Bake Sale for this Saturday.

A member of the auxiliary said this morning the sale would begin at 8 o'clock Saturday morning and would be held in front of Simpson Electric Company in Winterville.

DAT SHOWS IT'S DE NATCHEL KIND!

There's a REASON why NATURAL CHILEAN NITRATE means a DIFFERENCE in results!

One difference between Natural Chilean Nitrate and other nitrogen fertilizers is quality - natural quality. It is the world's only natural source of nitrate nitrogen.

The nitrogen content of Chilean Nitrate is 100% nitrate nitrogen - 100% available - 100% fast-acting - 100% dependable.

No antidote is necessary. Chilean Nitrate is non-acid forming.

Rich in sodium and minor elements, Chilean Nitrate is rich in beneficial sodium that makes a stronger, deeper root system - improves crop health, vigor and nutritive value. It also contains small quantities of essential minor elements.

Chilean Nitrate is the ONLY fertilizer that supplies nitrate nitrogen, beneficial sodium and essential minor elements.

CHILEAN NITRATE of SODA

Needed for all-round efficiency. Quick-acting 100% nitrate nitrogen makes rapid, sturdy growth. Its 26% sodium content acts like potash when necessary and helps to increase the supply of available phosphate in the soil.

Chilean Nitrate's free flowing pellets guarantee rapid, accurate distribution under all conditions. No special precautions needed.

Helps maintain productivity of your land. When used consistently in a sound farming program, Chilean Nitrate builds up fertility, increases efficiency.

Year after year, Natural Chilean Nitrate increases yields - improves quality - defends against disease - fortifies against insect injury - counteracts soil acidity. Use Chilean Nitrate for solid satisfaction!
