Rosenbergs Remain Defiant To The End

Two Spies Executed

By JACK WOLISTON United Press Staff Correspondent SING SING PRISON, N. Y. (UP)—Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, defiant to the last, paid with their lives for betraying their native land. Executioner Joseph Francel sent 16,000 volts of electricity through their bodies shortly before sundown Friday night. Julius went first and withered under three shocks of 2,000 volts each. It took five jolts to kill his wife.

and his plump, 37-year-old wife. They were expected to leave here by plane for a still unannounced burial ground. Under the Jewish faith, no burials—not even mourning—is permitted on the Jewish Sabbath which extends from sunset Friday to sunset Saturday. So presumably their burial will be on Sunday. Julius Rosenberg, a look of defiance on his face, his eyes staring straight ahead and displaying no emotion was the first to die. He was placed in the chair at 8:04 p. m. e. t. and was pronounced dead at 8:06 3/4.

Moon-faced Ethel came calmly, stoically, into the death chamber only two minutes after her husband's body has been rolled into an autopsy room less than 20-feet away. Mrs. Helen Evans, a prison matron who had been in consistent attendance on Mrs. Rosenberg during the two years the convicted spy had been in the death house here, and Mrs. Lucy Many, a prison telephone operator, accompanied the condemned woman to the chair. As Mrs. Rosenberg reached the grim walnut chair, she turned sud-

Air Losses Run High For Week

Allies Reveal 19 Jets Downed For Worst Week Of Entire Korean War

SEOUL, Korea (UP)—The Allies lost 19 jets last week, including an ultra-modern Starfire night fighter—the worst losses the U. N. air fleet in Korea had suffered in a single week since the war began. The 8th Air Force announced today that the Communists also lost at least 19 jets during the week. Four more of their Russian-made warcraft probably were destroyed, and 15 were damaged. South Korean troops knocked Red infantrymen off M-1 Hill on the eastern end of the communist-held 'bulge' Saturday and then dug in to defend their newly-won position. A fleet of B-29's from Okinawa hit Pyongyang, North Korean capital, Friday night after driving through a high curtain of 'intense' flak. The Superforts hit an airstrip in the center of town and another a few miles out.

Reds Demand Fleeing POWs Be Recaptured; Rhee Hints Revolt

Korea Truce Crisis Grows

PANMUNJOM, Korea (UP)—Gen. Mark W. Clark, supreme United Nations commander, accused Korean President Syngman Rhee today of breaking his word by freeing anti-Communist prisoners. "I cannot at this time estimate the ultimate consequences of this precipitous and shocking action on your part," Clark told Rhee in a bitter letter. The Communist high command, in turn, in a letter to Clark, accused the U. N. Command of connivance in the release of nearly 26,000 prisoners. The Communists demanded that the prisoners be recaptured and said: "Your side must give assurance that similar incidents absolutely will not recur in the future."

Thus Clark was caught in the middle of an increasingly critical situation. The armistice negotiations themselves were in indefinite recess after a meeting of the full truce delegations today at which the Communists delivered their protest. (What seemed a pessimistic atmosphere was not reflected in Washington. Officials there believed the Communists still want an armistice. Plans for the signing will go forward, they said, though of course it can not now be held as soon as had been hoped. Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson and the Joint Chiefs of Staff have given Clark a go-ahead to deal sternly with any new South Korean threat to the armistice, Washington dispatches said.) Clark's note was made public as Communism's high command in Korea blamed the U. N. commander for the prisoner-release crisis and demanded their recapture.

Clark's note reminded Rhee that in the summer of 1950, when the United States and other United Nations answered his call for help in fighting the North Korean invaders, he was assigned to the U. N. authority over "all land, sea and air forces of the Republic of Korea." Notwithstanding this, Clark's letter said, Rhee had taken it upon himself to break this agreement on his own impulse by ordering the release of the prisoners "in clear violation of my authority." Clark also pointed out that the 78-year-old president recently had assumed him and Ambassador Ellis O. Briggs that no action would be taken without consultation. Rhee, who said he would never accept a truce which leaves Korean divided and permits Chinese Communists to remain in North Korea, showed no signs of wavering. Following a cabinet meeting today, his acting premier, Pyun

Yung Tae, said it would be impossible to round up the 26,000 escaped prisoners in compliance with the Communist demand made earlier at Panmunjom. Pyun said the government had no desire to let the fugitives in prison again. The Communist high command charged that Clark's command had "deliberately connived" in the mass prisoner breaks. North Korean Premier Kim Il Sung and Gen. Peng Teh - Hual of the Chinese People's Volunteers also demanded in a letter to Clark that he give assurance that Rhee's army would abide by a truce. The Communists' bitter letter was handed to Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison in the truce hut here by North Korean Gen. Nam Il, chief Red negotiator. After a 25-minute plenary session at the call of the Communists, the top-level negotiators recessed the armistice talks "indefinitely," subject to call by either side.

Hawaii Unions Threaten General Work Stoppage

Convict 7 Of Conspiracy

HONOLULU (UP)—Hawaiian unionists threatened a general work stoppage today in protest against a federal court jury verdict finding six men and one woman guilty of Communist conspiracy charges. Stevedores, sugar mill workers and truck drivers began leaving their jobs shortly after the all-male jury returned with the verdict Friday. The walkouts started so close to the end of the day that it was difficult to say how widespread it was going to be. However, the belief was that no union members would work on Hawaii's immense sugar and pineapple plantations today. Principal defendant in the 7 1/2-month-long trial was Jack Wayne Hall, 38, regional director of the powerful International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, and Harry Bridges' top lieutenant in the islands. ILWU members had previously hinted at strike reprisals "to keep Jack Hall from spending a single day in jail." The other defendants were Charles K. Fujimoto, 35, chairman of the Communist Party in the Hawaiian Islands and the only avowed Communist among the seven; his wife, Eileen, 32; Koji Ariyoshi, 39, editor of the weekly Honolulu Record; Jack D. Kimoto, 47, a Record employee; Dr. John Ernest Remcke, 48, research worker and former Honolulu school teacher; and Dwight James Freeman, 41, a construction foreman. The seven face a maximum penalty of five years' imprisonment and a $10,000 fine. The jury got the case Wednesday afternoon. It deliberated 19 hours before reaching a verdict. Within two hours after the verdict was announced, the ILWU suspended negotiations on a new contract. Longshoremen began walking off the job at Castle and Cook Pier 32. By mid-afternoon, all Honolulu docks were abandoned. The walk-out tied up eight freighters at Honolulu, including five Matson Line vessels. One of them, the Hawaiian Wholesaler, was supposed to leave for San Francisco today.

Communist Willingness Noted; May Be Stern With S. Korea

U. S. Hopeful Truce Is Still Possible

WASHINGTON (UP)—The administration breathed easier today as the Communists indicated they still want a truce in spite of South Korea's arbitrary release of Red prisoners of war. Officials said plans for the armistice signing would go forward, although of course it could not now be held as early as had been expected. Already, it was learned, Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson and the Joint Chiefs of Staff have given Gen. Mark W. Clark a go-ahead to deal sternly with any new South Korean threat to an armistice. This was expected to go a long way toward Communist demand, submitted at Panmunjom Friday night, for assurances that South

Korea will be kept in line in the future. Officials admitted, on the other hand, that it would be impossible to comply fully with the second Red demand—that all 26,000 anti-Communist POWs freed by South Korea be re-captured although every effort was being made to do so. If South Korea chooses to fight, officials said Mr. Eisenhower's June 6 offer of an American-South Korean defense pact and post-truce economic and military aid would be withdrawn. President Syngman Rhee already has rejected the offer as too high a "price" to pay for the proposed armistice. What action would be taken if Rhee withdrew his forces from the U. N. command was not revealed or hinted by officials intimately connected with the crisis. But it seemed likely Clark would carry through United States' determination to uphold a truce—by military means, if necessary. The seriousness of the South Korean stand against the truce was underlined here Friday by urgent conferences at the White House, State and Defense Departments. There was no word from the White House or State Department on the exact wording of the President's latest message sent to Rhee Thursday. Some legislators understood the President had told Rhee he was holding him personally responsible for releasing the prisoners prematurely and that he expected South Korea to help recover them.

UNITED NATIONS (UP)—The United Nations Command may cut off the South Korean army's supply of ammunition if the ROK forces try to resist a truce, diplomatic sources here indicated today. The U. N. was reported holding ammunition as an "ace in the hole" in dealing with South Korea's resistance to the cease-fire agreement. Republic of Korea forces are depending on the United Nations—especially the United States—for ammunition and other war materiel. A high source here said the possibility of ROK resistance to the truce agreement was taken into consideration as long as a year ago.

Germans Set Fire To Soviet Plants

BERLIN (UP)—German anti-Communists have set fire to Soviet Germany's biggest industrial plant, and at least one other important factory is in flames, it was reported today. At the same time, the U. S. commandant in Berlin said the Russians have created a potentially explosive situation in Communist Berlin by bringing in two mechanized divisions—25,000 troops—to 'camp down' the people. Maj. Gen. Thomas S. Timberman said U. S. troops in Berlin are "outnumbered two to one" by the Russians, without counting the thousands of Communist police also massed in the Soviet sector. West Berlin newspapers reported four more deaths in this week's "revolt" against Communist rule in Germany—two Germans slain by Russian firing squads; and two Communist police lynched by rioters. The Western paper Telegraph said fires are raging in the nationalized Leuna synthetic gasoline plant, which employs more than 20,000 workers, and in the Schkopau synthetic rubber factory. Telegraph said also that two Germans in Magdeburg were shot down by Russian firing squads enforcing "the martial law following the Wednesday riots." The newspaper Morgenpost said rioters in Erfurt hanged two Red policemen to lampposts. A German resident of West Berlin was shot and wounded last night when he strayed across the sector boundary into Soviet Berlin. He was rescued from the Reds and taken to a West Berlin hospital. Timberman said Soviet bayonet rule "is no solution but only a continuation of a bad situation."

Tobacco Crop Is Maturing Early

Eastern Carolina's tobacco crop is maturing 10 days to two weeks earlier this year than last year, according to a market report issued yesterday by W. L. Whedbee, supervisor of the Greenville Tobacco Board of Trade. "Curing will begin in this locality some time during next week," Whedbee said in his report. He added "The prospects for a quality crop of tobacco in this section are the best seen in many years." Weather conditions prevailing over the area for the past few weeks, the report said, have been near perfect for the development of tobacco. "First came a period of dry weather," Whedbee stated. "Young plants recently transplanted into the fields dug deeply into the soil in search of moisture. This developed a healthy well formed root system, a little deeper seated and more substantial than usual."

Then came a series of slow, drizzling, soaking rains widespread over Eastern Carolina. "The effect upon the tobacco crop in Eastern Carolina has been most gratifying," the market supervisor reported. Young plants have grown with amazing speed and have already developed into a beautiful tobacco crop, which is maturing from 10 days to two weeks earlier than last year.

Spoke With Son Before Disaster

NASHVILLE, N. C. (UP)—The parents of a soldier listed among the 129 men killed in the crash of a C124 Globemaster in Japan Thursday talked to him by radio-telephone from Tokyo shortly before he went aboard the plane that crashed in the world's worst airplane disaster. Mr. and Mrs. Peyton E. Bass, said Pfc. Phillip Edwin Bass, 25, called them from Tokyo Wednesday at 6 p. m. and said he was taking off within four hours for a base in Korea after a rest leave in Tokyo. He also talked to his wife here. Other North Carolina soldiers listed by the Department of Defense were: Pfc. Charles C. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Smith of Rt. 2, Dunn. T-Sgt. Rufus L. Brinc, husband of Mrs. Margaret F. Brinc, 41 Davis St., Cooleemee, N. C. Airman 1-C Calvin R. Castor, son of Mrs. Ester Mae Wagoner, Rt. 3, Concord, N. C.

School Trustees Re-Shuffle Grades At Meet Try To Surmount Shortages

Trustees of Greenville city schools wrestled with the problem of overloaded school facilities during the coming scholastic year and came up with several decisions at their meeting Thursday. The board adopted changes in the location of eighth grades for the 1953-54 school term and appointed a committee to seek permission from a local church for the use of several classrooms for the use of temporary quarters for school classes next fall. Upon recommendation from Superintendent J. H. Rose, the school board decided to institute one eighth grade at the West Greenville School next fall. The student in the new eighth grade will be housed in the room formerly used for the West Greenville School library, and the library will be set up in one of the hallways of the school. Seventh graders who attended the West Greenville School during the past year will be divided and part will attend the eighth grade at the school and the other portion will attend the eighth grade at the high school. There will be one eighth grade next fall at both Third Street and Training Schools, and two eighth grades at the high school. During the past year the high school housed three eighth grade classes, but a much larger senior class in the coming year is making the change necessary, Rose said. The superintendent added that students of Mrs. Marshall's seventh grade at the Training school last year will stay at the school for the eighth grade while students of Mrs. Carroll's seventh grade will move to the eighth grade at the high school. Board members Dr. S. M. Crisp, Mrs. W. J. Stell, W. L. Allen and Superintendent Rose were appointed to confer with the board of the Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church to seek permission for two or three classes to be housed in the church's educational building during the coming school year. Rose asserted present school facilities will not be adequate to house the number of students enrolled next fall, and instead of putting more younger students into temporary quarters at Brookgreen school, a more central location is being sought. If the church facilities are acquired for school rooms, he said, it is probable two first grades or first and second grades or fourth and fifth grades will be housed at the church. "The safety and health aspects of holding classes at the church will be gone into thoroughly" by the committee, Rose said. Six new teachers have been employed by the school board to teach here next fall. The new teachers include Miss Patsy Capps, Miss Ann House, Mrs. Anne Whitehurst Keel, Miss Mary Scott Daniel, Mrs. J. O. Reynolds, and Mrs. Conner Merritt. Definite assignments for the new teachers are not complete, Rose said. Mrs. Helen Wolfe who has been teaching at the West Greenville school will teach a first grade at Training School replacing Miss Ann Redwine who retired this month.

means" excludes Negroes from worship in white churches. "Let me state as emphatically as I can," Waters wrote, "there is no segregation of races to be tolerated in any Catholic church in the diocese of Raleigh. The pastors are charged with the carrying out of this teaching and shall tolerate nothing to the contrary. "Otherwise, all special churches for Negroes will be abolished immediately as lending weight to the false notion that the Catholic church, the mystical body of Christ, is divided." Waters said separate churches and schools were built for Negroes several years ago "to give a special impetus to the missionary work among the colored people" and do not mean "that Negroes were thereby forbidden to worship in any Catholic church... except those for colored."

Another Still Is Wrecked In Raid

Pitt county ABC officers yesterday destroyed their second still within the last three weeks. The homemade manufacturing apparatus, including a 50-gallon cooler and six 50-gallon fermenter barrels, was wrecked in Carolina township near Leans Road. Two hundred gallons of mash were poured out by the raiding officers, who arrived at the site shortly after 3 p. m. The still was hot in operation at the time and no arrests were made. Heat for the still was supplied by two home-made oil burners and the setup included a copper coil with a wooden cap. ABC control officers in on the raid were H. B. Lilly, J. M. Ward, Dick King and J. L. Taylor.

Maritime Union Signs Contract

NEW YORK (UP)—The CIO National Maritime Union signed wage agreements early today ending a three-day tie-up of merchant vessels on the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts. Seamen who refused to sign voyage articles since their union contracts expired last Tuesday, were expected to report ready to sail today aboard 125 freighters, tankers and passenger vessels which had been idled by their "no contract, no work" policy.

It's Always Red After Spanking

GLASTONBURY, Conn. (UP)—A young mother called police and told them her two-year-old son urgently needed medical treatment. Officers rushed to her home and soon got to the seat of the trouble. They explained to the mother that that particular area of a child's anatomy always turns red after a spanking.

'Somewhere' Over 100 Years Old

CELEBRATES 'BIRTHDAY'—Mae Liza Floyd of the Simpson community will be given a 'birthday' party tomorrow by members of her family at the home of her daughter, Alice Wiggins, on Simpson route. Although uncertain of her exact birth date and age, Mae Liza is well over the 100 mark. She has faint recollections of ante-bellum days and such events as the day she walked across the Tar River on ice and the "day the earth shook." She'll dine on chicken, cake and ice cream Sunday, as children of several generations pay her honor. (Reflector Staff Photo)

New TB Seal Sale Chairman Is Named To Head 1953 Campaign

The Pitt County Tuberculosis Association Executive committee this week named Gilbert Peel as chairman of the 1953 Christmas Seal Sale campaign. In this capacity, Peel will organize, conduct, and supervise the sale of Tuberculosis Christmas Seals for this year. He was appointed at the executive's committee meeting this past Monday night. The new seal sale chairman, in addition to his present position, has been active for the past 30 years with the tobacco market and business concerns of Greenville. He has for the past five years served on the Pitt County Democratic Executive committee as vice-chairman and treasurer. Peel is also a member of the First Congressional District Democrat Executive committee. In making the announcement of his appointment Mrs. J. B. Spillman, executive secretary of the Pit-

GILBERT PEEL

TB Association, said the association was very pleased at having Peel as chairman of the seal sale. "He has been a leader in community projects dealing with community affairs for many years," said Mrs. Spillman, "and we are pleased that he is going to work with the Association in making this year's seal sale a success." Dr. Walter Humbert, director of the Pitt County Health Department, this morning emphasized the importance of the seal sale campaign. "Because of the six-week mass x-ray recently, a great deal of undiagnosed tuberculosis cases were discovered which will require services of the local association," he said. "The Christmas Seal Sale is an important project, stated the health officer, "and through funds from seal sales we have paid for a part of the survey, still maintain weekly findings programs, and take care of home treatment for the patients awaiting hospitalization."

Nearly 3,000 State Highway Employees To Get Extra Pay

RALEIGH (UP)—Nearly 3,000 state highway employees looked forward today to paychecks fatter by an amount equal to 10 per cent of their pay since last July 1—in a lump sum. Gov. William B. Umstead, state budget officials and the attorney general finally settled a dispute yesterday over the question whether the employees, listed as "temporary" workers, were entitled to the retroactive pay voted for all full-time state employees by the 1953 General Assembly. At first it was held that the temporary workers were not entitled to the payments because the act specified it was for "full-time, permanently employed personnel." But the tide turned in their favor when the attorney general's office gave Umstead an opinion that the classification of temporary employees used by the Highway Commission does not carry the usual meaning of the word—and that the retroactive payments may be made to any state employee "steadily and regularly employed for an indefinite period of service." The legal interpretation left it to state department heads, in this case Highway Commission Chairman A. H. Graham, to decide which employees are entitled to the retroactive pay within the meaning of the legal interpretation. Graham said it would mean that practically all of the 3,000 "temporary" workers would get the back pay, but that those employees would not get the 10 per cent pay increase on a permanent basis. The law providing for the 10 per cent salary increase, Graham said, contains a clause giving department heads "discretion" to pass up the increase so far as "temporary" wages are concerned. So far highway employees paid on an hourly basis, Graham said the scale would not be changed because "we think that it is in line with the pay scale of the construction industry." The commission's "temporary" classification applied to all workers paid on an hourly basis rather than by the week or month, and included some employees who have worked for the state for 10 years or more.

Great Pocahontas Visits Council At Winterville

On Thursday night, June 18, Silver Stream Council No. 48, Degree of Pocahontas of Winterville, most graciously entertained the Great Pocahontas of North Carolina, Mrs. Marion Vincent on her official visit with a lovely banquet in the Community Building. The Great Chiefs, were presented with pretty corsages. Mrs. Edith Nobles gave the invocation then followed with an address of welcome by Mrs. Bernadine James. Response was given by Mrs. Goldie Durant of Choctaw Council No. 51 of Washington, N.C. After the banquet all joined in singing "God Bless America."

Immediately following the song everyone assembled in the Red Men Hall for their regular meeting. The meeting was called to order by the presiding Pocahontas, Mrs. Frances Dixon, which was carried out in ritualistic form. Following the presentation of the American flag, the scouts recited the Great Pocahontas to the forest for her official introduction. Upon returning to the council brand she was presented with china in her chosen pattern along with other gifts from her friends. At this time she gave a most enjoyable message.

After the business session, visitors from Washington, Farmville, Greenville, and Elizabeth City were recognized. Most inspiring messages pertaining to the growth and development of the order were given by the following: Mrs. Minnie Davis, Great Keeper of Records, Elizabeth City; Mrs. Gladys Wynne, Past Great Pocahontas, Washington; Mr. L. B. Wynne, State Chairman, Washington; Mrs. Goldie Durant, First Great Scout, Washington; Mrs. Kathleen Woolard, Second Great Scout, Greenville; Mrs. Betty Nobles, Past Great Pocahontas, Greenville. Local great chiefs were also recognized including Mrs. Ethel Lee Williams, Member of Great Judiciary Committee; Mrs. Reppie Buck, member of the Great Board of Appeals, and Mrs. Grace Buck, Council Deputy.

The meeting adjourned and everyone was invited to reassemble at the Community Building which was beautifully decorated with arrangements of cut flowers. There was also a table with a beautiful birthday cake as the centerpiece, carrying out the colors of the order, purple and white. The cake was made by Mrs. Myrtle Weathington and Mrs. Lizzie Mae Reddard, members of the local council.

Miss Joy Faulkner presided at the punch bowl, assisted by Misses Janice Stox and Barbara Ann Evans, serving cake, mints and nuts.

This was a very happy and memorable occasion commemorating the 18th anniversary of Silver Stream Council No. 48; also birthday of the Great Pocahontas, Mrs. Marion Vincent, who is a member of Silver Stream Council No. 48.

Everyone present declared "to have had a most enjoyable evening."

Miss Bendall Feted At Bridal Luncheon Mrs. C. W. Howard Jr. entertained at a luncheon Wednesday, 1:00 P. M. at her home for Miss Frances Bendall, whose marriage will take place on June 27. Mixed summer flowers were used to decorate the tables and Miss Bendall was presented a corsage of yellow pompons and a gift of china by the hostess. As soon as the guest were seated an appetizer of champagne was served. The main course of ham, baked potatoes, asparagus, casserole, tomato aspic, rolls and ice tea followed. The desert course was lime ice, decorated with cherries, and cookies.

Hostesses Fete Bride-Elect At Thursday Party Miss Frances Bendall, one of the current brides-elect, was guest of honor on Thursday when Mrs. Lindsey Savage and Miss Christine Johnston entertained as a compliment to her. The delightful setting was the garden of Mrs. Savage's home. A table from which the guests were served Coca-Colas, cheese biscuits, cookies and nuts in dishes of pottery, was covered with a yellow cloth and decorated with a centerpiece of mixed summer flowers. From the hostesses, Miss Bendall received a pair of linen pillowcases and a hand painted cake plate as a wedding remembrance.

New Chapter Of Honor Society Installed Friday

Eleven East Carolina College students and an administrative officer of the college became charter members of a new chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, national honor society in education, when it was installed on the campus Friday of this week.

Dr. Katherine Vickery of Alabama College, Montevallo, national vice president of the society, acted as the officer in charge of a pledge service for members of the installation. Dr. Eva Williamson of the East Carolina education department, sponsor of the local chapter, was in charge of arrangements for the event.

Kappa Delta Pi is an organization having the purpose of encouraging high professional, intellectual, and personal standards and recognizing outstanding contributions to education. Members are chosen on the basis of commendable personal qualities, worthy educational ideals, and sound scholarship.

Students chosen as East Carolina's first member of Kappa Delta Pi are Una Francis, Conway; Creighton Davis, Warrenton; Janice Hardison, Jamesville; Nell Grantham, Fairmont; Josephy Johnston, Jacksonville; Donnel Muse, Tarboro; Raymond Meigs, Camden; Ann Strole, Chabourn; Marie Houser, Lincolnton; Verlie B. Wilder, Nashville; and Mary P. Howard, Tarboro. Dean of Instruction Leo W. Jenkins also became a charter member of the chapter.

In addition to Dr. Williamson, faculty members at the college who participated in the installation of the chapter were Dr. E. J. Carter, Hazel Clark, Dr. Elizabeth Uterback, Dr. Hazel Taylor, Louise Williams, and Betty Heavener. All are members of Kappa Delta Pi.

Couple United In Bethel Church

In a candlelight ceremony solemnized at the Bethel Baptist Church at 8 o'clock Wednesday, June 17, Miss Mary Ruth Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Brown of Bethel, N. C. became the bride of William Lee Whitley, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Whitley of Fremont, N. C.

The Rev. W. T. Marks, brother-in-law of the bride, officiated at the double ring ceremony and was assisted by Rev. Carl Bjork, pastor of the bride.

Prior to the ceremony a program of nuptial music was rendered by Mrs. John Mayo, organist and Mrs. C. G. Garrenton, soloist. Mrs. Garrenton sang, "Because," "Through the Years," and for the benediction, "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white chantilly lace with scalloped-edged illusion yoke, lace sleeves ending in points, and a redingote skirt of lace over plated tulle extending into a semi-train. Her finger-tip veil of bridal illusion fell from a close-fitting lace bonnet, tiara with ruffled tulle caught at the sides with orange blossoms. She wore pearl earrings and necklace, gifts of the bridegroom and carried a bouquet of white roses, stephanotis, and lilies of the valley centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. W. T. Marks of Oakboro, N. C., sister of the bride, was the matron of honor. She wore a gown of orchid lace with a matching bertha stole and net over taffeta skirt and carried a colonial bouquet of mixed summer flowers tied with lavender ribbon.

Bridesmaids were Miss Frances Hobgood of Greenville, N. C. and Mrs. W. H. Pearce of Wilson, N. C. Their gowns were fashioned like those of the matron of honor and they carried colonial bouquets of mixed summer flowers tied with yellow ribbons.

Mr. Whitley was his son's best man. Serving as ushers were Mr. Russell Davis and Mr. Lamont Whitley of Fremont, Mr. Linwood Brown of Raleigh, Mr. J. L. Brown and Mr. Edward Brown brother of the bride.

Miss Louise Foster was flower girl and wore a bouffant gown of orchid net over taffeta with a portrait neckline. She carried a white basket of flowers.

Tommy Renshaw wore a white linen suit and carried the ring in a Madonna lily.

The mother of the bridegroom wore a gown of pink lace and a white orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a gown of skyblue eyelet over taffeta and a white orchid corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony the bride's parents entertained at a reception in the church social room.

For traveling the bride wore a burlesque and white silk dress with matching accessories.

The bride attended Campbell College, Hills Creek, N. C. and was graduated from East Carolina College, Greenville, N. C. For the past three years she has been a member of the faculty of the Charles L. Coon High School, Wilson, N. C.

Mr. Whitley attended Wake Forest College where he was a member of the Kappa Sigma fraternity. The couple will make their home in Fremont.

Immediately following the Brown-Whitley wedding on Wednesday, June 17, a reception was held in the Church Social Room. Mrs. Harvey Manning welcomed the guests and introduced them to the receiving line consisting of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Brown, parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Whitley, parents of the groom, the bride and groom. Mrs. Frank Marks of Oakboro, matron of honor. Mrs. Lucille Pierce of Wilson and Miss Frances Hobgood of Greenville. Bridesmaids, little Miss Louise Foster of Cherry Point, flower girl and little Mr. Tommy Renshaw of Kingston present.

The social room was attractively decorated throughout with artistic arrangements of gladioli, gardenias, snap dragons, sweet peas, magnolia leaves, baby breath, fever few, gypsophelia, and Queen Anne's lace, each arrangement carrying out the green and white motif. The beautifully appointed table was covered with a grass linen cloth and centered with a lovely arrangement of white flowers in a silver bowl, flanked by an artistic arrangement of white tapers in silver candelabra tied with tulle extending to each corner of the table and interspersed with entwining ivy.

Refreshments consisted of punch, individual bridal cakes, nuts and mints. Miss Sally Brown of Bethel poured punch.

During the reception hour, Mrs. Selma Meadows of Robersonville rendered wedding selections on the piano. Mr. W. E. Andrews presided at the guest register. Others who assisted in receiving the guests and serving were Rev. and Mrs. Carl Bjork, Mr. and Mrs. Linwood Briley, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Davis of Fremont, Mrs. Ruth Thomas, Misses Mary Lou and Shirley Whitehurst and Mrs. J. Henry Whitehurst of Stokes, Miss Daisy Griffith of Ayden, Miss Peggy Highsmith, Mrs. J. L. Gurganus, Mrs. L. H. Cobb, Mrs. Gladie T. Carson, Mrs. W. G. Barnhill and Mrs. L. L. Whitehurst, and Miss Margaret Atne Moore of Knoxville, Tenn.

Good-byes were said to Mr. and Mrs. Alton Brown of Raleigh. Prior to the wedding, the couple was entertained at a number of festivities. On Thursday evening, June 11, Mrs. W. E. Andrews, Mrs. Ruth Thomas and Mrs. Paul Cullifer honored Miss Brown at a social hour in the Church Social Room.

Mrs. J. L. Brown entertained at a luncheon at her home on Thursday, June 11, with approximately 30 guests present.

On Friday, June 12, Mrs. C. G. Garrenton and Mrs. John Mayo entertained at a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Garrenton.

Following the rehearsal on Tuesday evening, June 16, Mrs. L. T. Renshaw of Kingston and Mrs. James Foster of Cherry Point were hostesses at a cake cutting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Carson. Mrs. J. L. Gurganus entertained the wedding party and out-of-town guests at a buffet turkey supper on Tuesday, June 16.

THE DAILY REFLECTOR
June 20, 1923

A wedding which will long be remembered for its beauty and attractiveness was solemnized in Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church last evening at nine o'clock, when Miss Annie Higgs, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Higgs, became the bride of Herman H. Duncan. Rev. V. P. Scoville, the bride's pastor, performed the beautiful and impressive ring ceremony.

Mrs. R. A. Tyson Jr., beautifully gowned in rose chiffon and lace with bouquet of pink premier roses, presided at the organ and while the friends were gathering, rendered a beautiful musical program. Miss Jesse Moye, a cousin of the bride, sweetly and charmingly sang, "Beloved It is Morn."

To the strains of Lohengrins wedding march the bridal party entered. First the pages, masters Richard Burnett of Rocky Mount, and Billy Tolson of Des Moines, Iowa. They were followed by the ushers, D. C. Moore Jr., Philip Goodson, Danville, Va.; John Short, Dr. Bennett Poole, Clayton; Ed Williams and Donald Kirby.

Misses Iva Shelburn, Alice Whitehurst, Madeline Higgs and Novella Moye, bridesmaids, were next to enter.

Mrs. Alex Jones of Rocky Mount was dame of honor. Misses Helene Higgs and Hortense Higgs were maids of honor.

They were followed by little Misses Mary Dorcas Harding of Greenville and Jean Abbitt of Wilson as flower girls. Master Harry West Abbitt of Wilson was ring bearer.

The bride entered with her father who gave her in marriage. She was never more beautiful than on this her bridal evening. She wore a handsome bridal gown of mole skin satin with court train. Her veil was arranged most gracefully and was held in place with a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses, orchids and lilies of the valley. They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man and brother, Prof. J. L. Duncon of Mebane.

Cruse-Owens Wedding In Concord

St. Stephen's Lutheran Church was the scene, on June 12, of the marriage of Miss Pansy Anna Cruse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Cruse of Concord and Daniel Kenyon Owens, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Owens of Greenville. The Rev. Guy C. Cruse, brother of the bride, performed the double ring ritual.

The chancel of the church was decorated with baskets of white gladioli and fern, seven-branched candelabra with cathedral candles against a background of bridal greenery. The family pews were marked with a white taper tied with a white satin bow.

Prior to the ceremony, Mrs. Holly Lent of Concord, organist and Marian Moseley, soloist, of Lexington, presented a program of wedding music. Miss Moseley sang "Through the Years," "Because" and "O Perfect Love."

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Fred O. Cruse. She wore a waltz length gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over satin with a bodice of lace, the high neckline finished with a Peter Pan collar. The full skirt was of tulle. Her shoulder length veil of illusion was attached to a tiara of net and orange blossoms. She carried a white Bible with a lace bodice and full skirt of net. Her headdress was a halo of matching net and she carried a bouquet of mixed flowers.

Mrs. John I. Cline of Concord attended her sister as matron of honor. She wore a dress of pale pink lace and nylon net over taffeta, with a lace bodice and full skirt of net. Her headdress was a halo of matching net and she carried a bouquet of mixed flowers.

Mrs. Elvin R. Jones of Greenville was bridesmaid. She was dressed in pale blue identical in design and material to that of the honor attendant.

Mr. Owens was his son's best man. Ushers were Mr. Tracy A. Cruse of Concord, brother of the bride and Mr. Elvin R. Jones of Greenville, college classmate of the groom.

The mother of the bride was attired in a dress of grey and navy silk sheer with navy accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore a powder blue lace redingote over fallie with pink and navy accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

On a wedding trip to the mountains of Western North Carolina the bride wore a beige linen dress with a short jacket of matching eyelet, accessories of beige and white and the orchid lifted from her Bible.

Mrs. Owens is a graduate of Cabarrus Memorial Hospital School of Nursing and is employed at Rex Hospital, Raleigh.

Mr. Owens received his degree in Agricultural and Biological Chemistry from North Carolina State College in the class of 1953. He holds a Fellowship in the Graduate School of Chemistry of State College. The couple will make their home in Raleigh.

Evans-Snoke Vows Spoken Friday

matching bandeaux were like those of the other attendants and each carried a yellow satin basket filled with an arrangement of the same flowers as the bridesmaids.

Mr. Evans served as best man for his son. Ushers were Dr. Edwin Charles Snoke, Theodore Alden Distler and John Cochran Mueller of Lancaster, Penn., Lawrence Moye Jr. and David A. Evans, cousins of the bridegroom, Thomas Barnes Evans, his brother, Clarence Thomas Diener and William Wayne Sutton, all of Greenville, N. C.

The mother of the bride wore a floor length gown of rose-beige imported French Chantilly lace with matching gloves and a very small hat of the same lace. Her corsage was a white orchid.

The bridegroom's mother wore a hyacinth blue imported French Chantilly lace gown with matching accessories. A white orchid was worn at her shoulder.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the Hotel Brunswick.

Following the reception the couple left by plane for Pensacola, Fla., where Ensign Evans is to be stationed with the Navy Airflight Training School. For traveling the bride changed to a grey pima cotton sheath dress trimmed in the same shade of linen as the lavender imported linen duster worn over her dress. Her lavender straw hat was adorned with a small veil and lilacs. She wore white linen shoes and carried a handbag of the same.

Miss Snoke was graduated from Lancaster Country Day School and attended Vassar College for three years. She was president of the Madrigal Group and a member of the Vassar Choir.

Ensign Evans graduated from the University of North Carolina, where he was a member of Lambda Chi Alpha. Following graduation he enlisted in the Navy and received his basic training at Newport, R. I. Since then he has served aboard the Destroyer Escort US Earl K. Olsen, stationed at Charleston, S. C. He will report for flight training in Pensacola on June 21.

The marriage of Miss Sylvia Kathleen Snoke, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Paul O. Snoke, Lancaster, Penn. and Ensign Guy Carr Evans Jr., USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Carr Evans, Greenville, N. C., took place Friday, June 19, at five-thirty p.m. in the First Presbyterian Church in Lancaster. The Rev. John M. Gordon, pastor, officiated.

Reginald F. Lunt played a recital preceding the ceremony and also the traditional wedding music.

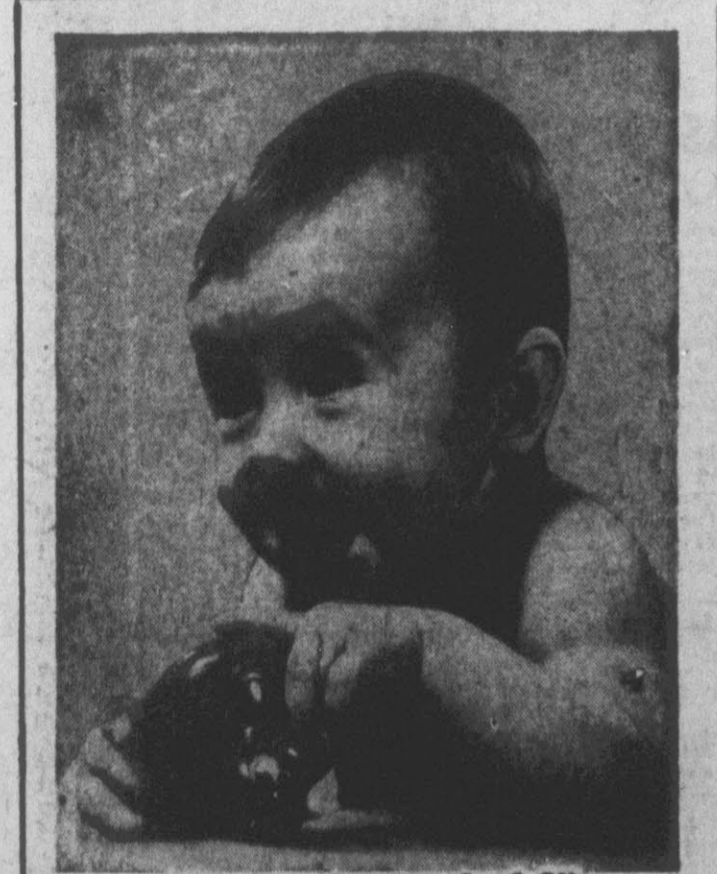

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white skinner satin and nylon tulle gown. The fitted bodice of lace was designed with a sheer illusion yoke outlined with tiny seed pearls and sequins. The full skirt with train was of nylon tulle with double tiers of Chantilly lace. Her fingertip veil of nylon tulle was attached to a cap of satin covered with lace. She carried a bouquet of white rosebuds and stephanotis, centered with two white orchids and blossoms of stephanotis were fastened to satin ribbon streamers.

Mrs. Robert Young Garrett III, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. Edwin Charles Snoke, sister-in-law of the bride, Miss Helen Pontinus, Miss Jane Birney and Miss Patricia Tucker, all of Lancaster, Penn. They wore ballerina length gowns of sea-mist green silk. Small boleros with Queen Anne collars were worn over the fitted bodices. Head bandeaux of ivy were worn trimmed in the back with flowers to match those in the bouquets. They carried cascade arrangements of pale peach roses, lavender blue hybrid delphinium, white and yellow daisies with ivy streamers.

Flower girls wore yellow organdy over yellow taffeta bouffant gowns. The bodices of their ballerina length dresses were trimmed around the neck with a double ruffie of organdy interlaced with small flowers and ruffles around the skirts. Their

Charges Reeking Of Irresponsibility

Action taken toward the impeachment of Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas seems unwise in many respects.

Engendered in haste and obvious anger, the move of Rep. D. H. Wheeler loses much of its deserving aura of responsibility by virtue of the emotionalism which evoked it.

A "Card" For The International Poker Game

Rioting and general strikes in East Berlin have been cheered in Western nations, and the use of military force by the Reds to quell the outbreak condemned with equal vigor.

While the rioting and strikes gave vent to some hopes for a spreading revolt against the Russian domination in East Germany, they are of more propaganda than "real" value to the United States or Western world.

East Berliners have fought valiantly in their rebellion; but for the present, at least, they can not rebel and hope to succeed. The Russians have the guns. The forces of the free nations of the West can not render the aid and assistance the people of East Berlin would need to succeed.

About all the Western world can do is to use the uprising as a "card" in the poker game of international politics.

In store are two possible outcomes to the situation which rank above other possibilities. The Reds may seize upon the outbreak as a signal for tightening their controls in East Germany even more. The reaction may be followed through other dominated nations.

Or the Reds may recognize they can not make this horse drink after leading it to water . . . and so will exercise patience and try to divert the East German's attention to more immediate problems.

If nothing else, the East German uprising will add fuel to the many fires Malenkov is trying to control in stabilizing his new rule.

Strength for the Day

By EARL L. DOUGLASS

HERE IS SECURITY

"Fear not; I am the first and the last . . ." (Rev. 1:17)

Here is a most significant statement concerning the nature of fear and the way to cure it.

What we fear above everything is uncertainty. The modern term for this is "insecurity." We are afraid that we may contract an incurable disease, or that we will lose our job, or that our income will cease. We are afraid of losing face with the crowd. We are afraid something will happen to our loved ones. Then always, of course, there is the fear of fear, which is the whole matter turned back on itself and beginning to swallow its tail.

The only cure for fear is the religious cure. Is there something in the universe so big that we can walk with safety within the enclosure of that something? Yes, there is. That thing is the living Christ, who is the first and the last, the Alpha and Omega, the one who was dead, and behold, he is now alive for evermore, and he has the keys of death and Hades. Establish yourself within the circle of that life, trust the protection which it wraps about you, and no matter what the beginning or the end of anything will be, it will be all right because He is in it and controls it all.

National Whirligig

Wilson Badgered, But Capable

By RAY TUCKER

Every Saturday this veteran Washington correspondent devotes his column to answering readers' questions of general interest on national and international policies and personalities. Questions may be sent direct to Ray Tucker at 6306 Hillcrest Place, Chevy Chase, Md.

WASHINGTON—"What is wrong with this man, Charlie Wilson?" inquires T. F. of Lansing, Mich. "From all I read in the newspapers, he can't get along with the press, Congress or his own military staff. Why doesn't Eisenhower get rid of this trouble-maker?"

Answer: Stories about Secretary Wilson's inability to get along with the Pentagon newspapermen, with members of Congress and with the so-called military experts are slightly exaggerated.

Every new Cabinet member has these rather unimportant difficulties, and especially a man with Wilson's cutting personality and record of achievement at General Motors. He is a bold individualist surrounded by compromising men.

When he headed General Motors, he had only a few people to deal with—his engineers, production experts, sales executives, board of directors. They could reach decisions quickly. Since he knew more than they did about every phase of automobile production and distribution he ran the show.

MUST EXPLAIN POLICIES TO CONGRESS—Now, he has 531 directors, which is the number of members of the House and Senate. He must explain and justify his policies to them, although few have any knowledge or experience in the field of financing 1,000,000 men or producing vast quantities of weapons. I think that Wilson may be pardoned, if, now and then, he becomes irritated by their badgering.

He has the same troubles with his military advisers, including the Joint Chiefs of Staff. They set up the theoretical goals and standards for production of all types of weapons. But these are only paper objectives, for they know nothing about production problems.

Naturally, Wilson becomes impatient with them as he would have with a G. M. man who promised 3-of "high crimes and misdemeanors in office" for granting stays of execution for Julius and Ethel Rosenberg appears to be stretching the reaction to that step far out of its natural proportions.

Should there be more sound grounds for the accusation than those thus far indicated, it would have been more in keeping with the dignity of Congress to have presented those accusations at a time when the air was less surcharged with tensions of the drama wrapped about the final days of the Rosenbergs.

Too, there comes to mind the thought that such a diversion as provided by Wheeler might create the impression of attempted intimidation on one member or the court as a whole. It would be a sad day for freedom should such a development ever come about.

Justice Douglas was most obviously troubled by the possibility that all conditions covering the Rosenberg case were not fully justified by law. He was not alone in his very deep concern.

Be that as it may, Americans can be thankful that they have sitting in their highest court men who will not be stampeded or think "right" when grave decisions must be made. It is not always easy to avoid adopting the popular view; it is never easy to formulate a chain of reasoning independent from conflicting opinions.

Novel Conservation Ideas Pay Off

From across the 48 states come many novel ideas to impress upon the people a need for action toward one worthy cause or another.

Sometimes a suggestion takes the form of a slogan, other times a symbol, and still again a small hint for action.

In the realm of conservation of woodland and prevention of forest fires, the friendly bear, "Smokey," has become a familiar symbol in North Carolina. The intensive campaign carried on by "Smokey" for several years probably has paid dividends in preventing forest fires in the state in spite of the fact 15,011 acres of forested land were burned in the state in May.

Our neighboring state of Virginia has gone a step beyond preventive measures in forest conservation, and is encouraging rank and file citizens to help replant the state's woodland. In that state, it is reported, a package of tree seeds are given with each hunting and fishing license sold.

A good many of these seeds probably never find their way from the recipient's hands to the woods, but it is a good bet that many thousands of tree seeds are planted by Virginians each year through this voluntary method. Over a period of years, the program could make a marked impression upon Virginia's reforestation program.

000,000 cars a year, when Wilson knew that the firm could turn out only 1,000,000.

BADLY ADVISED AN PRESS TALKS—I feel that Wilson has made many mistakes, largely because he has no talent for public or political relations. If he had had a smart publicity adviser at the Pentagon, he would have made a better impression on and off Capitol Hill. He has been badly advised with respect to his appearances at press conferences, and congressional committee hearings.

But the American people, for their own sake, should withhold judgment on the secretary of defense. No man in the United States knows how to produce planes, tanks, trucks, ships, etc., in volume and promptly, as he does. Given a chance, he may roll out cold war weapons as fast as he produced cars in private industry.

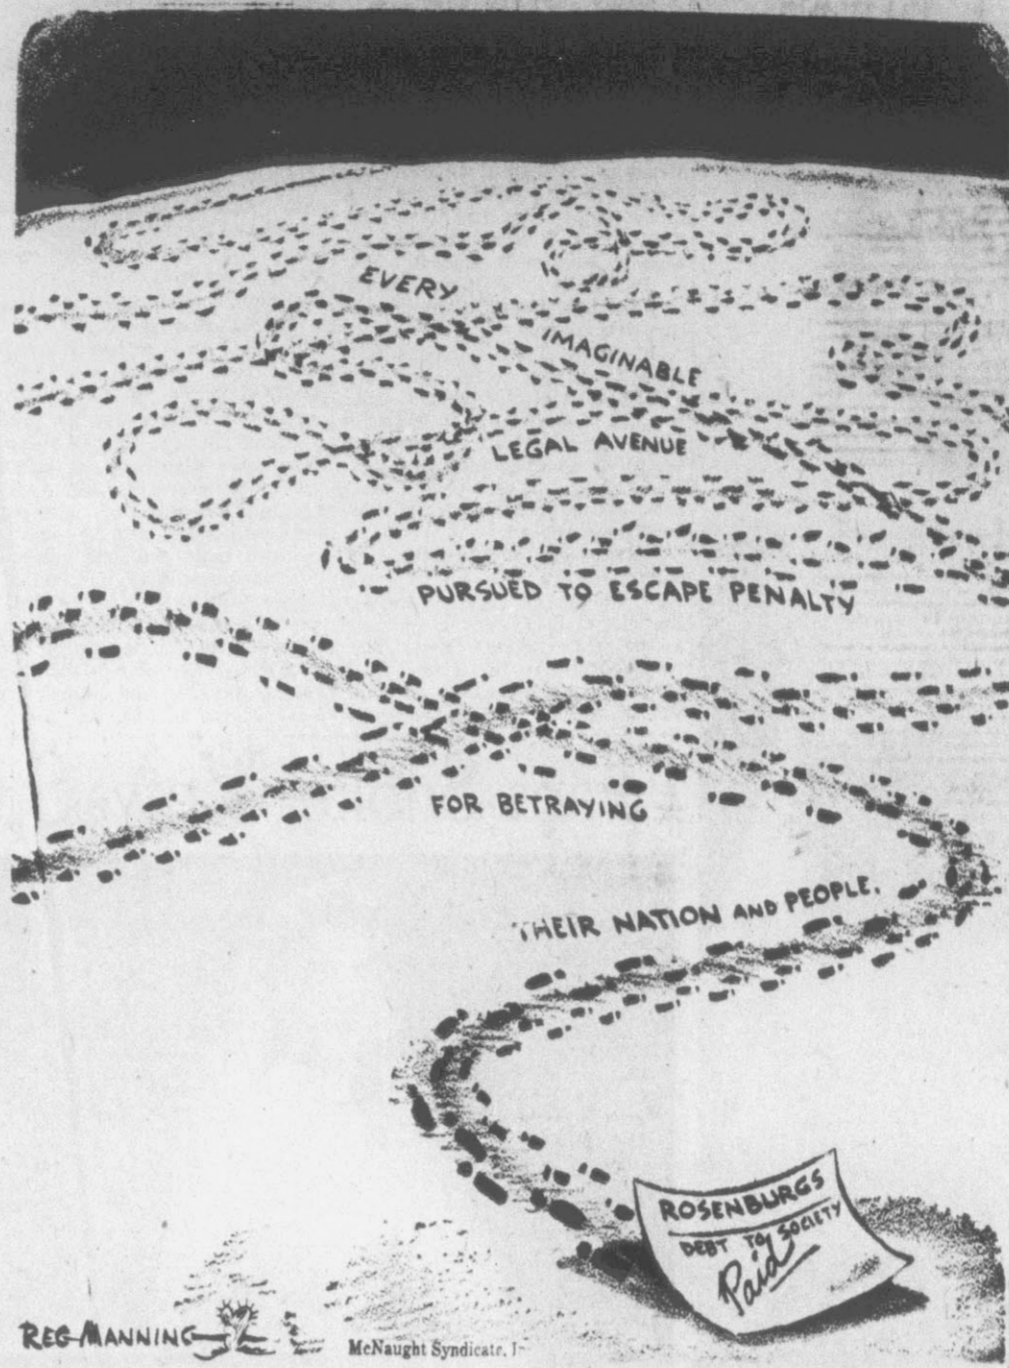

If he is hounded out of office by political critics, and that is always a possibility, I doubt if any American industrialist would try to take his place. Eisenhower would then have to appoint some political hack or broken-down military figure for the most important job at Washington.

IKES UNFORTUNATE STATEMENT—Twice in recent speeches," notes G. F. of Woonsocket, R. I., "President Eisenhower has made a disturbing statement. In measuring our current military strength as against that of World War II, he has said that three planes equipped with modern missiles could do more damage than was caused by 2,700 planes in the invasion of Normandy. What is the French reaction to this threat?"

Answer: I am surprised that this statement was not noticed before because it was a most unfortunate remark. It helps to explain why Britain, France, the Low Countries and all our European Allies want peace with Russia at almost any decent price.

These buffer countries were almost destroyed in World War II by conventional bombing. They have not yet recovered. Naturally, if three atomic planes can devastate them in the way Ike foresees, they want no war. I think that Eisenhower would be wise to avoid the question of the effect of World War II bombing over Europe in his forthcoming speeches.

End Of The Twisting Trail

Somebody Told Me . . .

This Lesson Was Learned Late

Most people are like this: When they discover that they've made a costly mistake they want to tell the world about it, in an effort to keep other people from making the same mistake.

That's the way I feel today. My discovery applies only to those in the process of building a house. In short, this is what you should know: By all means when you wire the house be sure to leave at least two additional unloaded circuits for addition of electrical appliances.

This I learned the hard way. Wife Rachel and I have a new air conditioner, window unit. After plugging it in I said, "That's all there is to the installation." (Of course setting the unit in the window and closing in around it is more of a job than meets the eye.) The air conditioner ran twenty minutes before it blew a fuse.

What Other Editors Are Thinking

WE CAN LEARN FROM ITALY (Henderson Dispatch)

Americans may ignore or criticize their neighbors in Italy for many of their shortcomings, but there is one area where they have us beaten and where we can learn a valuable lesson from them. That is the way they go to the polls and vote when elections are held.

Last week-end, for example, they held a national election in Italy. And latest information is that approximately ninety-four percent of the eligible voters participated.

What percent of voters within legal age limits were actually registered and thus qualified to cast

"That circuit must be loaded," I told W.R., and rigged up an extension cord in order to try it in another circuit. Gradually I was learning the awful truth: All six circuits in our house are loaded. There are two 220-volt circuits, for the range and hot water heater. The remaining four 110-volt circuits are loaded with other electric services throughout the house.

So what do you do in a case like this? Considering our resources, we should sell the air conditioner. But when you're in deep you'll usually find some way to get deeper.

One of two ways will offer a solution: Either replace the entire fuse box or multi-breaker and put in a new one, or add an additional box, which you can do only if you have a fuse box. As yet I do not have definite quotations of the cost. Naturally it would depend on the amount of labor involved in your particular house. But in one case I know of it cost over $60 to replace the box completely. An additional box would probably cost considerably less, but still enough to heed this precaution: When you build your house be sure to allow yourself at least two, and better still, four additional unused circuits.

This situation applies to many houses being built today, but frankly, it's the home-owner's fault to some degree. Everybody demands the lowest possible price on everything, getting bids from every contractor around to get the cheapest price. Consequently, on items like wiring you find that you're getting a cheap installation for a cheap price.

And I thank you, JACK EDWARDS record was made after a national campaign to get out the vote. It succeeded well, but even so the percentage of those who participated was far below the total number who were qualified by having their names on the registration books.

Next time we are inclined to discount our Italian friends, for whatever purpose, it might be well to remember that they have it over us when it comes to voting. We may not approve of their political ideologies, but that is for the individual. At least they availed themselves of the ballot, which is more than many free Americans can say.

Around Capitol Square

Suggested Tarheel 'Welcomer' Has Its Good Points

By LYNN NISBET

GLAD—HANDER—A group of fellows got to talking the other day about some of the outstanding needs of North Carolina in order to effectuate the overall development of the State. Such items as good roads and schools, a fair tax structure and a stable government, were passed over as too obvious to require discussion. The group decided that North Carolina needs, among other things a sort of official welcomer or glad-hander: someone with ability to induce people to come to the state and to want to stay when they get here.

IMPORTANT—That could be built into a right important job. The idea does not contemplate a wind-bag or a carnival come-on artist, but somebody who can portray the attractions of the state in a dignified and convincing manner. He should work under direction of the Governor, but in close co-operation with the department of conservation and development, the ports authority, the several local Chambers of Commerce, privately managed utilities and all other agencies dedicated to promoting state development. His job would be just as much to help established commercial and industrial enterprises as to bring in new industries.

AIDE—He would be an assistant or aide to the Governor and could relieve the chief executive of many routine duties such as delivering welcoming addresses to conventions, crowning festival queens, and such like—but because of his recognized status as representative of the Governor and the State would not depreciate the dignity or lower the prestige of these events. He could also represent the Governor and the State at many national conferences where basic policies are not involved, thus leaving the Governor free to give full attention to important policy decisions and matters vital to the maintenance of sound government.

NAMES—The fellows who were more or less idly gossiping that the matter recognized that it would be difficult to get the Legislature to appropriate money for such a job. They thought it might be possible to get somebody who would do it for expenses—and to be effective the expense account would have to be liberal. They didn't have any particular person in mind, but they did mention several men who meet the general specifications, and there is considerable variety in the peculiar characteristics of those mentioned. The list included Ed Harding of Washington, Luther Hordges of Spray, Josh Horne of Rocky Mount, Kay Kyser of Chapel Hill, Wade Marr of Elizabeth City, Hiden Ramsey of Asheville and Victor Shaw of Charlotte. These names were mentioned as indicating the type-person thought to be suited for the post.

COMMON—Any one who knows them will recognize the wide diversity in individual characteristics; but will recognize, too, the fundamental common denominator—sincere love for North Carolina, great knowledge of the State's attractions and adequate ability to tell the story, plus the fact that none of them would be interested simply from the viewpoint of getting on the pay-roll. There are dozens more who can qualify on the same basis. Fact is, they are already doing a large part of the job contemplated, but they lack the prestige of State authority and official recognition. It is true that there are more urgent needs than a glad-hander for North Carolina. It is also true that adequate filling of this post might get some of the other things more quickly.

RETIREMENT—The emergency judgeship status requested by Special Judge Sumner Burwyn may obviate necessity for appointment of the full quota of 12 special judges, because he will be available to hold courts. Burwyn may obviate necessity for special judges who have attained retirement age and tenure. None of the several regular judges who are eligible to retire is expected to do so this year, since under the constitutional rotation system all of them are in their home districts for the next six months.

COURTS—The fact that all the regular judges will be at home justifies the assumption they will be able to hold more terms of court than if they had to travel long distances. It will not be surprising if two or three regular judges retire from full active duty and take emergency status early next year. That is further reason why the Governor may decide not to appoint the full authorized quota of special judges. And there is still another reason. Opinion is widely held that the next General Assembly will do something about judicial re-districting and providing additional regular judges, with probable result that the classification of special judges may be eliminated. Some lawyers who aspire to regular judgeships, and who might be interested in special appointment with good prospect of at least four years tenure, are not willing to give up all private practice for a two year term on the bench.

'Returns' Expected

By ELMER ROESSNER

Thirty thousand companies will spend a total of $800,000,000 this year on social, cultural and athletic activities of employees, according to an estimate by the National Recreation Association. This spending, now approaching the July-August peak, is about 15 per cent higher than last year. About 34,000,000 employees are benefiting.

There's no altruism. Most companies say freely that the purposes are to:

- Reduce employee turnover.
 - Attract younger workers.
 - Foster company morale.
 - Improve labor relations.
- Sports figure in the largest number of programs, with bowling, softball, golf and basketball leading, in that order. Next most frequent activities are picnics, Christmas parties, horse shows, other parties, baseball and dancing, according to a study by the National Industrial Conference Board. Other activities sponsored include knitting, dominoes, magazine editing, personality study, kitenball, and sling-shooting.

One of the oldest and largest recreational programs is sponsored by Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Co., but conducted by the employees. It is financed by parking lot and vending machines granted by the firm. One of the most unusual events is an annual vacation contest. When the factory shuts down for the annual vacation period, 2,600 employees are given stickers reading, "Hello Honeywell," which they plaster on cars and luggage, enabling them to recognize one another. Prizes are awarded for pictures of two employees meeting farthest from Minneapolis. Other companies apply some of their industrial ingenuity to employee events. Thompson Product, sponsors a fish rodeo for employees' children. Ford has inaugurated company-planned air excursions to Europe. National Cash Register maintains a 166-acre vacation ground, including a lagoon with company boats.

HOUSING PRICES STEADY, REAL ESTATE MEN FIND

The next six months will be a good time to buy a house, the National Association of Real Estate Boards says after its 55th annual market survey. Shortages have been eliminated and production costs have steadied, indicating stable prices during the last half of this year, the association found.

New housing starts in May were 3,000 fewer than in April—the first time May has shown a drop since the war, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics. However, 1953, with 465,300 unit starts in the first five months, is still ahead of last year with 462,300 starts in the same months.

SWING IS TO MINK BUT LOSE SALES

A total of 879 manufacturers of mink coats are listed by the Fur Trade weekly. There were only 187 last year. There were only 187 last year. Meanwhile, the total of all fur manufacturers fell from 2,040 to 1,978.

This concentration on mind has many persons in the industry worried. N. Berman, executive director of the American Fur Merchants Association, observing that many furriers who made medium-priced garments have shifted to mink, warns that the industry is abandoning the middle-bracket market.

They Make Dreams A Reality

By BELMAN MORIN

FOR THE BOYS
NEW YORK (AP)—It could only happen in America—that story about the 141 ladies from St. Wayne, Ind.

They are going to Europe, en masse, next month. It is not publicity stunt or advertising junket. It's their own idea. And it is just plain romance, enterprise, imagination, guts, youth, and the spirit of adventure . . . the things that made America what it is. Most of the girls are factory workers. It took 10 years to save up for this trip. They skipped on lunch, put a fresh flower on the old hat at Easter, and cut corners on a thousand-and-one little things that women love. Now the big day is near.

They are going to travel through six countries, flying both ways across the Atlantic. Some have never been in a plane before. All of which sends a king-size thrill, wearing spiked shoes, high hurdling up and down my spine. In the first place, sheer admiration. . . . most of us sit around building castles in the air, and that's where they stay. These women did something about theirs. Ever hear the Spanish proverb, "Take what you want, says the Lord, and pay for it?"

Then, think of the sheer ecstasy in all the "firsts." The first sight of the Champs Elysees under a cerulean summer sky. . . . The Colosseum by moonlight. . . . the first exotic whiff of the Tibury Docks, the East India wharves, where the British Empire was built. . . . the tingling glory in the first sip of Equilly-Fuisse, '47.

Well, girls, I hope each of you meets a rich marquis with a chateau on the Loire, who fills your room with roses every day.

Meanwhile, this trivia may add to the fun:

Leave your dramamine and sleeping pills in Ft. Wayne. Those big TWA Connies are so smooth you could play billiards clear to Shannon.

Between trips, the crew explains all model for arrow collars. You can look but mustn't touch. They're all married, with homes in Weeawken or Queens, three children, and a power mower.

Be sure to wake up in time to see the Shannon River in the rose-pearl dawn. Paradise was modeled from that part of Ireland!

Now, in London, you will find the British are a little cavalier about food. However, if you feel like it, go out to Charles St. and get a schnitzel at Siegf's. Or maybe Josef's, on Greek St., or Serbian food and slivovitz. And there is an East Indian place near South Kensington Station that makes a beautiful almond curry. The flower vendor in the square can show you.

In short, the best food in London is non-British. In Paris, that French grammar you've been studying will be useful, but not strictly necessary. The famous "politesse Française" solves all problems, including language. Anyway, the French are firmly convinced that no foreigner can ever speak their beautiful and precise language properly, so why disappoint them? Some Sunday morning, around 11:30, stop in at the Ritzbar. Even if you don't want a drink, you will be interested in all the multi-colored hangovers that come in, leading people by the forelock. And the Winged Victory in the Louvre will seem even lovelier, by contrast.

Paris being Paris, you don't have to really do anything to be amused and interested and happy. You can just sit on a bench, wiggling your toes, and feel bathed in the sheer joy of living. It's a great cure for museum feet, too.

Rome is much the same. Ah, well, ladies, you are going to be repaid, many times over, for the sacrifices that bought a ticket to these alabaster avenues.

And in my book, every one of you should be named Woman of the Year.

MORE THAN 150 AT JARVIS—Average daily attendance at the Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church was over 150 for the vacation Bible schools which closed yesterday after a ten day schedule. An official enrollment of 166 children and 27 workers was recorded for the three departments which were under supervision of Mrs. Ellis Bedworth, director of religious education. Closing exercises of the school will be at 8 p. m. tomorrow in the Fellowship hall, conducted by the children. The primary and junior departments will dramatize events connected with the "Life of Christ" about which theme their studies have centered, and the kindergarten will present recitations of Bible verses and songs. Members of the junior department will assist in other parts of the program. The Rev. Leon Russell is pastor of the church. (Reflector Staff Photo)

TO KISS, OR KILL

By Day Keene

Chapter 28

Andre cupped his face in his hands, as if the pain were too great to bear. Then, bending forward, he snatched the heavy brass fire tongs and swung them in a murderous arc.

Mandell stepped in under the blow and brought up his left fist, with all his contempt behind it.

"You've killed him," Gale whimpered. "You've killed him."

Mandell turned and looked at her. "All right, you. You talk. Let's start with the thirty-seven grand I gave you for my mother. What did you do with it? How come a rich girl like you would steal from an old lady?"

Gale backed away from him. "You didn't give me any money."

"Don't lie to me."

"I'm not lying."

Mandell continued to stalk her. "You are."

Mandell continued to stalk her. "You are."

Gale circled the sofa. "I'm trying to tell you the truth. I'm trying to save you from yourself."

"I suppose I killed Cherry Marvin."

"You must have."

"And Mr. Curtis?"

"I don't know," Gale had trouble with her breathing. "I do know you killed Father."

Mandell grabbed at her and mused. "How long ago was this?" He stopped, ready to move either way.

Gale reversed her circle. "Almost an hour."

"Then how come one of those bullet holes is at least twelve hours old? And the other one was made after the old man died?"

"You don't know what you're talking about."

"Don't tell me. I've seen lots of bullet holes."

Gale reversed her circle again, panting now. "You don't know what you're talking about. You just think you do. Believe me, Barney. Can't you understand? You're not in your right mind."

"That's another thing," Mandell said.

"How did you get Dr. Orin Harris to certify me? To write up that phony case history?"

Gale tried to smile. "All I'm doing is trying to make it as easy for you as I can, Barney."

"That why you tried to shoot me?"

"I was just protecting myself. I knew what you were thinking about Andre and me. You have a nasty, low-class mind."

"Now you tell me," Mandell reached for her again.

Stepping back, Gale slipped on a throw rug. She fell, screaming. Before Mandell could reach her, she scrambled to her feet and behind a long console table, with a massive pottery lamp at each end. Gale kept a side and an end of the table between them. "You used to love me, Barney."

"I probably always will."

"Then why do you want to hurt me?"

"How do you know I do?"

Andre moaned and sat up.

"Help me, please, Andre," Gale pleaded. "Barney's going to kill me."

Mandell stood at one end of the polished table, with both hands on the polished wood. "No," he pushed the lamp to one side in order to see Gale better. He pushed too hard. Top-heavy, the lamp fell to the floor and shattered, like a broken dream.

Mandell looked from the lamp to Gale. "No," he repeated. "All I have in mind is to hurt you. Like I've been hurt. Why are you so afraid of me, Gale? What have you done to me, baby?" He began to circle the table again.

Gale screamed. "Andre!"

Andre got to his feet holding the fire tongs.

Mandell walked over to the fireplace and took the tongs out of his hands. "Stay out of this, fellow. You and I can go around again later. Right now, this is between me and the wife."

Still only half unconscious, Andre reached for the fire tongs again.

Mandell slapped him off his feet. "Be a good fellow. Don't give me any trouble. Lay down." He remembered his English pulled Andre to his feet and slipped him down again. "Pardon me, lie down."

He turned back to the table. The doors into the ban were open wide. Gale was gone. Mandell walked into the hall. The lights in the music room were on. As Mandell watched, the heavy door slammed shut.

Mandell backed a step and tensed his shoulder muscles. Then he stepped forward again and listened as if she were crying. "Yes, that's right, Sergeant. John Ebbing's daughter. The big house on Greenbrier Drive. I want to report a homicide. And I need help. Badly."

"This is Mrs. Mandell," Gale was saying into the phone. "You know, Gale Ebbing." She sounded as if she were crying. "Yes, that's right, Sergeant. John Ebbing's daughter. The big house on Greenbrier Drive. I want to report a homicide. And I need help. Badly."

"I'm not lying."

Mandell continued to stalk her. "You are."

Mandell slapped him off his feet. "Be a good fellow. Don't give me any trouble. Lay down." He remembered his English pulled Andre to his feet and slipped him down again. "Pardon me, lie down."

My husband's gone raving mad. He's killed my father. And now he's trying to kill me. Yes, I'm locked in the music room. Gale's voice rose hysterically. "He's pounding on the door now. No, I've no one here to help me. The chauffeur tried to defend me and my husband beat him unconscious. Yes, you know, Barney Mandell. The prize fighter. The one who's in all the evening papers. The one who killed some girl in Chicago. Yes, that's right, Sergeant. He was in an institution for the insane for two years. They just released him the day before yesterday. Thank you, Sergeant. I'll be waiting. And praying. Hurry, please."

The phone clicked in the cradle as Gale hung up.

It was his word against Gale's. He was a big slob from back of the yards with a psychiatric record. Gale was one of the Ebbings.

Mandell looked at the locked door a last time as he put the black Hamburg on his head.

THE JOY OF LIVING

Ever notice how some people associate the joy of living with moments of care-free relaxation, while others seem to find equal happiness in both work and leisure?

Which seems most natural? Was man created with the capacity for finding happiness in his spare time only or was he endowed with a genius for reaping joy from both work and play?

Before anyone surrenders to the cynicism of the first theory, he owes it to himself, his neighbors and his God to give the second a real try.

For centuries the Church has been helping men to discover the deep and lasting joy of purposeful living. When your life has a purpose, linked to the Purpose of God... then every day reveals anew the joy of living!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his community and nation. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Maglie Humbles High-Flying Braves As Dodgers Win To Narrow Margin

Boston Red Sox 'Held To Earth' As They Beat Browns By 4-1; Yankees Drop Contest To Detroit

By CARL LUNDQUIST
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UP)—Those mad-cap Milwaukee Braves didn't know today exactly what hit them but it was a razor and clubs.

Sal (The Barber) Maglie wielded the razor, stropping himself a fine-edged four-hit victory while he and his New York Giant mates clubbed over 16 hits in a 15-1 rout that was by all odds the most humiliating defeat Milwaukee has suffered this year. It cut the Braves' National League lead to 2½ games over runner up Brooklyn.

Maglie, who struck out four, walked nobody, and contributed three hits and three runs batted in, picked up his fourth victory. The Giants wrapped up their victory in a six-run fifth when Don Mueller led off with a homer and 10 men came to bat, delivering four consecutive singles, picking up a pair of walks and a double. Dave Cole, Milwaukee relief pitcher, homered to spoil Maglie's shut-out.

The Dodgers came out of their four game losing streak by defeating the Cubs 7-1 as Russ Meyer came up with a six-hitter, after Chicago took the opener 11-8 in a slugfest in which Randy Jackson, Hank Sauer, and Ralph Kiner hit homers for the winners and George Shuba homered for Brooklyn. Rookie Wayne Belard hit a second game homer and drove in five runs to pace the Dodgers at bat in the nightcap.

In other National League games the Cards drubbed Pittsburgh 10-2 on Wilmer Mizell's eight - hit pitching. And the Phils topped Cincinnati 10-3 as Robin Roberts won his 11th game.

Roberts who has pitched 15 straight complete games this year, got home run help from Earl Torgerson and Willie Jones.

The Cardinals pounded out 37 hits to give Mizell an easy triumph. Ray Jablonski and Rip Repulski setting the pace with four apiece.

In American League games, the Indians topped the Senators 4-2, the Tigers upset the Yankees 3-2, Boston defeated St. Louis 4-1 and Chicago defeated Philadelphia 5-2.

The rebounding White Sox made it six victories in their last seven games in downing the A's and newly-acquired Sandy Consuegra turned in his second straight victory since coming from Washington.

The Red Sox, who had been "out of this world" for two days, finally came back to earth and settled for a mere four runs against the Browns after making a total of 40 in their last two games.

Ted Gray finally won his first game after nine straight defeats in a six hit triumph over the Yankees.

PAT'S BIG SPLASH.—Pat Lesser, Seattle, Wash., stands barefooted—one foot in and one foot out—as she splashes her ball from a water hazard before the eighth green in Women's Western Open play in Atlanta, Ga. The ball (arrow), partially obscured by water, landed about five feet up on the bank. Pat, playing Mrs. Jackie Pung, Glasgow, Ky., had her opponent 1-up going into the eighth, but lost the hole to even the match. (AP Photo)

Jamie K. Seeks Win In Richards Stakes Running

NEW YORK (UP)—Jamie K., who turned in two courageous efforts back of Native Dancer in recent starts, was favored to win his first major purse today in the $30,000 added Leonard Richards Stakes at Delaware Park.

This was the feature event of the weekend racing program, which also included the nationally televised Queens County Handicap from Aqueduct, the Regret Handicap at Monmouth Park, the Puritan Handicap at Suffolk Downs and the Ingewood Handicap at Hollywood Park.

Jamie K. suffered neck defeats by Native Dancer in the Preakness and Belmont Stakes. The Dancer is being rested for the Dwyer Stakes, July 4, leaving his "shadow" as the overwhelming choice for today's 16th running of the Leonard Richards.

Eddie Arcaro once again will be aboard Jamie K.

Nine of the high weighted horses were declared from the Queens County Handicap, leaving Hite as the starting highweight at 113 pounds. For the traditional opening day feature at Aqueduct, Ben Whitaker's four year Oldswail was the overnight choice at 3-1.

The New York event, which will be televised by NBC and broadcast by ABC, also attracted Jay Greque, a speedy filly with three straight victories to her credit; Count Turf, the winner of the 1951 Kentucky Derby, and Indian Land, the winner of the recent Camden Handicap at Garden State Park.

A field of 10 distaff dashers was named for the Regret Handicap, which honors the only filly ever to win the derby. Atlanta, representing John Galbreath's Darby Dan Farm, was the probable favorite for the New Jersey event.

Larry Ellis, New England's best handicap racer, headed the field for the Puritan cup, while Trusting will warm up for the $100,000 Hollywood Gold Cup against eight rivals in the Ingewood 'Cap.

Granites Take 7-3 Decision

The Granites ran their way to a 7-3 victory over Wagner-Waldrop in the first game of a doubleheader, Southern Bred won 7-0, by forfeit in the nightcap with Home Builders.

Granites spotted the losers three runs in the first inning but then settled down to steadily chip away at the margin, and came out of the second inning with a one-run lead. Nunn walked in the bottom of the first frame and scored the first Granite run on a series of infield outs.

The roof caved in on the Autoists in the second as the winners exploded for three runs. Roberson, G. Briley, and S. Briley opened the inning with successive singles, added with an error by the pitcher, paved the way for the trio of runs.

Another pair of runs was added in the third on a walk to Hobgood and singles by Warren and Rausch. Rausch added the final Granite run in the fifth with a fourbagger.

Wagner-Waldrop scored their three runs on singles by Page, Evans, and Odum, with a walk to Tucker, followed by another safety by Ayers.

In the contested second game, Home Builders won on runs by a margin of 8-2, although official victory goes to Southern Bred. The Southern Bred manager protested the game in the bottom of the fourth inning with two out, and was later awarded the game.

Trusting Looks For Hollywood

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (UP)—Trusting, who left his mark at both Tanforan and Santa Anita this year, seeks to vindicate himself at Hollywood Park today in the $28,600 Ingewood Handicap.

The Ingewood at a mile and a sixteenth is the last big prep for Hollywood's $100,000 gold cup. Trusting's goal at the meeting.

In his only previous start at the meeting on Memorial Day in the Argonaut Handicap, Trusting finished last after running into trouble on the first turn and getting himself cut up about the legs.

Despite his poor finish in that race, the gelding drew top weight of 126 pounds today, three more than Mrs. Ada L. Rice's Pet Bully, winner of two stakes and second in the Argonaut to Calumet Farm Fleet Bird, who got into the Ingewood with 122 pounds.

Although those three topped the field in the opinion of most handicappers, the imported entry of Royal Serenade and Indian Hemp drew some support as did two horses making a comeback, Lights Up and Sturdy One.

The rest of the field is made up of Dixie Lad, Royal Serenade, Indian Hemp and the lightly-regarded Home Free.

High School Group Sets Date For '54 Tournaments

CHAPEL HILL (UP)—Three divisional basketball tournaments on different dates will be conducted by the North Carolina High School Athletic Association next season, it was announced today.

The NCHSAA board of control voted here yesterday to continue the three separate tournaments for Divisions AAA, AA and A as in past years, but to hold them on different dates. The AAA championships were scheduled for the week preceding the newly-formed Atlantic Coast Conference tournament in Raleigh in March, 1954.

The AA tournament will be held the week after the ACC tournament and the Class A tournament the week following that.

Sites for the tournaments will be decided by the basketball committee, but the motion called for the AAA event to be held either in Durham, Greensboro or Winston-Salem.

Some sentiment was expressed for ending the divisional tournaments and stage one tournament open to all three classes. This suggestion was offered on grounds that it would promote greater interest, but a poll of the schools had shown a preference for the plan used in the past.

The board headed by F. L. Ashley of Gastonia voted to increase high school student fees from three to five cents. The group showed a deficit of some $4,000 last year but still has a surplus of more than $15,000. Fees were reduced last year and the new increase leaves them still considerably lower than the old rate.

The board voted to hold the wrestling championships at High Point; the golf, swimming and championships at the University of North Carolina here, and the tennis meet at N. C. State College in Raleigh.

A "code of ethics" committee composed of Frank Mock of Kinston, C. R. Joyner of Winston-Salem and Lewis S. Cannon of Pinehurst was named to recommend procedures for enforcing good sportsmanship at association contests.

Executive secretary L. J. (hap) Perry of Chapel Hill was re-elected for another four-year term.

C. R. Ross of Fayetteville succeeds Ashley as president with H. J. Beeker of Snow Hill as vice president.

Olson Decisions Young For Title

NEW YORK (UP)—Carl (Bobo) Olson, brand new American middleweight champion, said today, "I think I know how to beat Randy Turpin in August."

The classy Hawaiian boxer-puncher, who won the newly created American title on a lopsided decision over Paddy Young last night, said he thought his bobbing and weaving attack would outsmart Turpin of England in their fight for the vacant world crown.

Olson weighed 159 3-4 pounds last night; Young, 159-1-2.

Could the rangy, arthrop-shouldered, balding Hawaiian have stopped Young of New York last night in their 15-round fight at Madison Square Garden before 7,418?

"I think I could if my corner hadn't made me pace myself carefully in the middle going," Olson said.

Olson who registered his 53rd victory in 57 professional fights, will receive about $23,600 for winning the unanimous decision last night. Young will get the same.

In the bout between the two 24-year-old contenders, Young suffered a deep gash on his right brow and cuts above and below his left eye. He also bled from his nose throughout.

Speedy, clever Olson beat Young at his own game—fighting at close quarters. He gave the game Irish left hook specialist a thorough drubbing with combination hooks to head and body, but Paddy was still fighting back, even after the final bell.

There were no knockdowns, but Paddy was rocked good in the terrific second round and in the 13th.

Billy Finds Way

BOSTON (UP)—Every time Boston Red Sox fans look up, Billy Goodman is on base.

Goodman has reached base 15 times in 16 consecutive appearances at the plate. He doubled twice, singled, walked and flied out in five trips against the Browns Friday night to run his hitting streak to 15 straight games.

Giants Play Here In Three Contests

GREENVILLE (UP)—The Greenville Giants, members of the strong Carolina-Virginia League, have three tough games facing them this weekend as they attempt to strengthen their second position.

The Giants have a doubleheader scheduled against Brown Bombers of Fort Belvoir tonight, with the first game slated for 7:45 p.m. Rocky Mount comes to Greenville Sunday afternoon for the third game of the week-end.

Mildred Armstrong, a graduate of St. Augustine College of Raleigh, will play in centerfield for the Rocky Mount club. Miss Armstrong, who weighs 210 pounds and stands 6-2, is reported to be one of the smartest centerfielders in the league.

Space will be reserved for white spectators.

Patty Berg, Miss Suggs In Finals

ATLANTA (UP)—Patty Berg and Louise Suggs, the two top pros on the women's tournament trail, met today in a 36-hole final for the Western Open golf championship.

They reached the title round yesterday with victories over amateur stars in temperatures that ranged above 90 degrees. Miss Berg beat Dot Kirby of Atlanta, 4 and 2, while Miss Suggs rallied to defeat Pat Lesser of Seattle, 4 and 3.

Miss Lesser, the 19 year old Washington State co-ed who won the Intercollegiate crown last week, gave the veteran Miss Suggs a tough match for nine holes, leading one up at the turn. But the poker faced Georgia miss swept five of the next six holes to win the match.

Miss Berg raced away to a four up lead at the turn, Miss Kirby winning only one hole in the first nine.

Three Teams Join Hoosier Schedule

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (UP)—Athletic Director Paul J. Harrell of Indiana announced today that Ohio University, Villanova, Nebraska and Marquette have been added to Hoosier football schedules for 1955 and 1956.

Harrell said Villanova and Ohio would play at Indiana Oct. 15 and Oct. 20 of 1955. Indiana will go to Nebraska Oct. 30 and Marquette will play at Bloomington Nov. 3, 1956.

The Villanova game will mark the first meeting between the two schools but the addition of Nebraska, Ohio and Marquette renews old rivalries.

Grid Giants Sign Val Joe Walker

NEW YORK (UP)—Val Joe Walker, speedy Southern Methodist halfback and safety man, was signed today by the New York Football Giants.

Walker, who stands 6-1 and weighs 175 pounds, was used mainly on defense by Southern Methodist and was rated one of the nation's top safety men. But Giant Coach Steve Owen also plans to use the 23-year-old Texan as an offensive right halfback.

"We've never had speed to the outside such as Walker will give us. And he'll be an tremendous threat on pass plays," Owen explained.

Southern Cal Is Favored In NCAA Track Round-Up

LINCOLN, Neb. (UP)—Southern California was a good bet today to win its fifth straight NCAA track title at the 1953 collegiate meet here, but most of the attention still was focused on Wes Santee's efforts in the mile run.

The great Kansas mile runner lined up with other top collegiate distance men for a crack at the meet record and the world record of 4:01.4, set by Gunder Hagg of Sweden in 1945.

Santee's best run this spring is far better than the meet record of 4:08.3. He turned in a 4:02.4 mile run at Compton, Calif., June 5. Observers hoped the lanky Kansan ace might push himself for a try at the legendary four-minute mile.

Santee also qualified in Friday's preliminaries for the 880, with a time of 1:52.4.

Southern California tied with Illinois in the number of qualifiers from Friday's competition, with eight. But the trojans appeared far stronger.

Weight men Parry O'Brien and Slim Iness looked like a cinch for first place points in discus events and Jack Davis was expected to push hard for points in both the high and low hurdles.

Iness hurled the discus 183 feet, topping the meet record of 174 feet, eight and 3-4 inches.

Other Trojan qualifiers are Dick Genter in the javelin, and Verle Sorgen and Jim Lea in the 440-yard dash.

Illinois' chief threat appeared to be sprinter Willie Williams, who topped the qualifiers in the 100-yard dash, and loomed as a strong threat to Kansas State's ace sprinter, Thane Baker.

Williams nosed out Baker in Friday's preliminary 100-yard dash, with a time of :09.4, to tie the meet record. However, the record was disallowed because of a seven-mile an hour wind.

NOTICE OF RE-SALE OF LAND
North Carolina
Pitt County

Whereas, the Pitt County Board of Education, having decided that the school property described herein has become unnecessary for public school purposes, in accordance with Section 115-86 of the General Statutes of North Carolina, offered for sale the land hereinafter described on April 4, 1953, and whereas, within the time allowed by law an advertised bid was filed with the clerk of the Superior Court and an order issued directing that the land be re-sold upon an opening bid of $495.00, and said land was re-sold on April 25, 1953, and whereas, within the time allowed by law an advanced bid was filed with the clerk of the Superior Court, and an order issued directing that the land be re-sold upon an opening bid of $550.00, and whereas, within the time allowed by law an advanced bid was filed with the clerk of the Superior Court and an order issued directing that the land be re-sold upon an opening bid of $890.00.

Now, therefore, under virtue of said order of the clerk of the Superior Court of Pitt County, and the power of sale vested in the Board of Education of Pitt County, the undersigned will offer for sale upon said opening bid public auction to the highest bidder, for cash, at the Courthouse door in Greenville, Pitt County, North Carolina, at 11:00 on Saturday, June 27, 1953, the following described property, to-wit:

Located in "Central Pactolus" and shown on map of "Central and Depot Pactolus" as recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of Pitt County, as Lots Nos. 4, 5, 6 and 7 in Block 4, beginning at the eastern corner of Lots Nos. 3 and 4; it being a point on the western side of Mill Street 120 feet south of First Street, and running thence South 47-30 West 140 feet with the line of Lot No. 3 to the alley; thence with the alley South 42-30 East 250 feet to the outer line of "Central Pactolus"; thence with Mill Street North 42-30 West 180 feet to the beginning. Also lots Nos. 4 and 5 in Block 3, as shown on said map of "Central and Depot Pactolus"; beginning on the eastern side of Mill Street 120 feet south of First Street; it being the western corner between Lots Nos. 3 and 4, and running thence with the line of Lot No. 3, North 47-30 East about 80 feet to a ditch; the boundary line between "Central and Depot Pactolus"; thence with said line South 35-15 East 80 feet to a point on the outer boundary of "Depot and Central Pactolus"; it being the southwest corner of Lot No. 2 in Block "S" of "Depot Pactolus" and running thence southwardly with the outer line of "Central Pactolus" about 100 feet to Mill Street; thence with Mill Street about 130 feet to the beginning, and being the identical property conveyed by R. R. Fleming to the Pitt County Board of Education by deed dated September 4, 1919, and recorded in Book C-25, at page 634 in the office of the Register of Deeds of Pitt County.

This is the 8th day of June, 1953.
JOS. S. MOYE, Chairman Pitt County Board of Education.

PUBLIC NOTICES

$50,000 TOWN OF GRIFTON, NORTH CAROLINA BONDS
Sealed bids will be received until 11 o'clock, a. m., eastern standard time, June 30, 1953, by the undersigned at its office in the City of Raleigh, N. C., for the following bonds of the Town of Grifton, North Carolina, dated June 1, 1953, and maturing annually, June 1, as follows, without option of prior payment:
$22,000 Water bonds. Series A (part of an authorized issue of $50,000 bonds) maturing annually $1,000 1955, $1,000 1956 to 1966, inclusive, $2,000 1967, $1,500 1968 to 1978, inclusive, $2,500 1979, $2,500 1980 and $2,000 1981.
Denomination $500; principal and semi-annual interest (3 and 1/2%), payable in New York City in legal tender, general obligations; unlimited tax; coupon bonds registerable as to principal alone; delivery on or about July 21, 1953, at place of purchaser's choice. There will be no auction.
A separate bid for each issue (not less than par and accrued interest) is required. Bidders are requested to name the interest rate or rates, not exceeding 6 per cent per annum, in multiples of 1-4 of 1 per cent. Each bid may name one rate for part of the bonds of either issue (having the earliest maturities) and another rate or rates for the balance, but no bid may name more than four rates for either issue, and each bidder must specify in his bid the amount of bonds of each rate. Each rate bid must be for bonds of consecutive maturities. The bonds will be awarded to the bidder offering to purchase the bonds at the lowest interest cost to the Town, such cost to be determined by deducting the total amount of the premium bid from the aggregate amount of interest upon all of the bonds until their respective maturities. No bid for less than all of the bonds offered will be entertained.

Each bid must be on a form to be furnished with additional information by the undersigned, enclosed in a sealed envelope marked "Proposals for Bonds," and must be accompanied by a certified check upon an incorporated bank or trust company, payable unconditionally to the order of the State Treasurer of North Carolina, for $1,200.
The approving opinion of Mitchell and Pershing, New York City, will be furnished without cost to the purchaser. There will also be furnished the usual closing papers, including a certificate stating that there is no litigation pending affecting the validity of the bonds. The right to reject all bids is reserved.

South Greenville Park Drive Has $1,041 Collected

At a meeting of the South Greenville Park Committee at Fleming Street School last night, Chairman Jenkins and Love announced that $1,041.03 of the $3,000 goal has been collected. The campaign for funds ends in two weeks.

A choir festival will be held at Eppes High School Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock. The concert is for the benefit of the South Greenville Park.

Various Negro organizations engaged in promoting the public recreation park reported at last night's meeting concerning individual projects they will sponsor.

Committeemen J. W. Grimes and Tom Foreman request all men and women interested in the recreation project to report at the South Greenville Park Monday.

Park Committee Chairman John H. Bizzell reported that material has been purchased to build an outdoor fireplace for cooking. He said he needs the help of some carpenters, bricklayers and truck drivers. Those willing to help should contact Bizzell or J. W. Grimes or Tom Foreman.

Negro citizens of Greenville are sponsoring this recreation project. The men and women are unselfishly giving their time and their means to the project. The promoters request that civic-minded citizens willing to make donations to the enterprise should mail them to Mrs. Olga Myers, 411 Nash Street, Greenville.

Student Election Held At College

Rudolph Alexander, graduate student from Goldsboro, emerged with top honors in a student election held at East Carolina College Thursday of this week, and as a result will head the student government association at the college as president during the 1953 summer session.

Sara E. Thompson, Goldsboro junior, was chosen in the election as treasurer of the SGA and will be in charge of finances managed through the Student Budget Office. Miss Thompson has served previously as chairman of the Point System Committee of the SGA; and last summer she was assistant editor of the student newspaper, the "Tecco Echo."

Peggy Barrow of Greenville and Gwen Williams of Oakboro led four candidates in a race for the position of SGA secretary. A runoff election will be held next week to determine the successful contestant for the office.

Alexander, new president of the SGA, was chosen last February as the outstanding student teacher among men at East Carolina and, as "Mr. Student Teacher," represented the college at the annual convention of the North Carolina Education Association in Asheville. He was also among those selected to represent East Carolina in the 1953 edition of the national yearbook "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

Driver Charged On 3 Counts In Vehicle Mishap

J. L. Hill, 45, giving as his address the Greenville Hotel, was arrested yesterday and charged on three counts: hit and run, no operator's license, and driving under the influence, as the result of a wreck involving three vehicles.

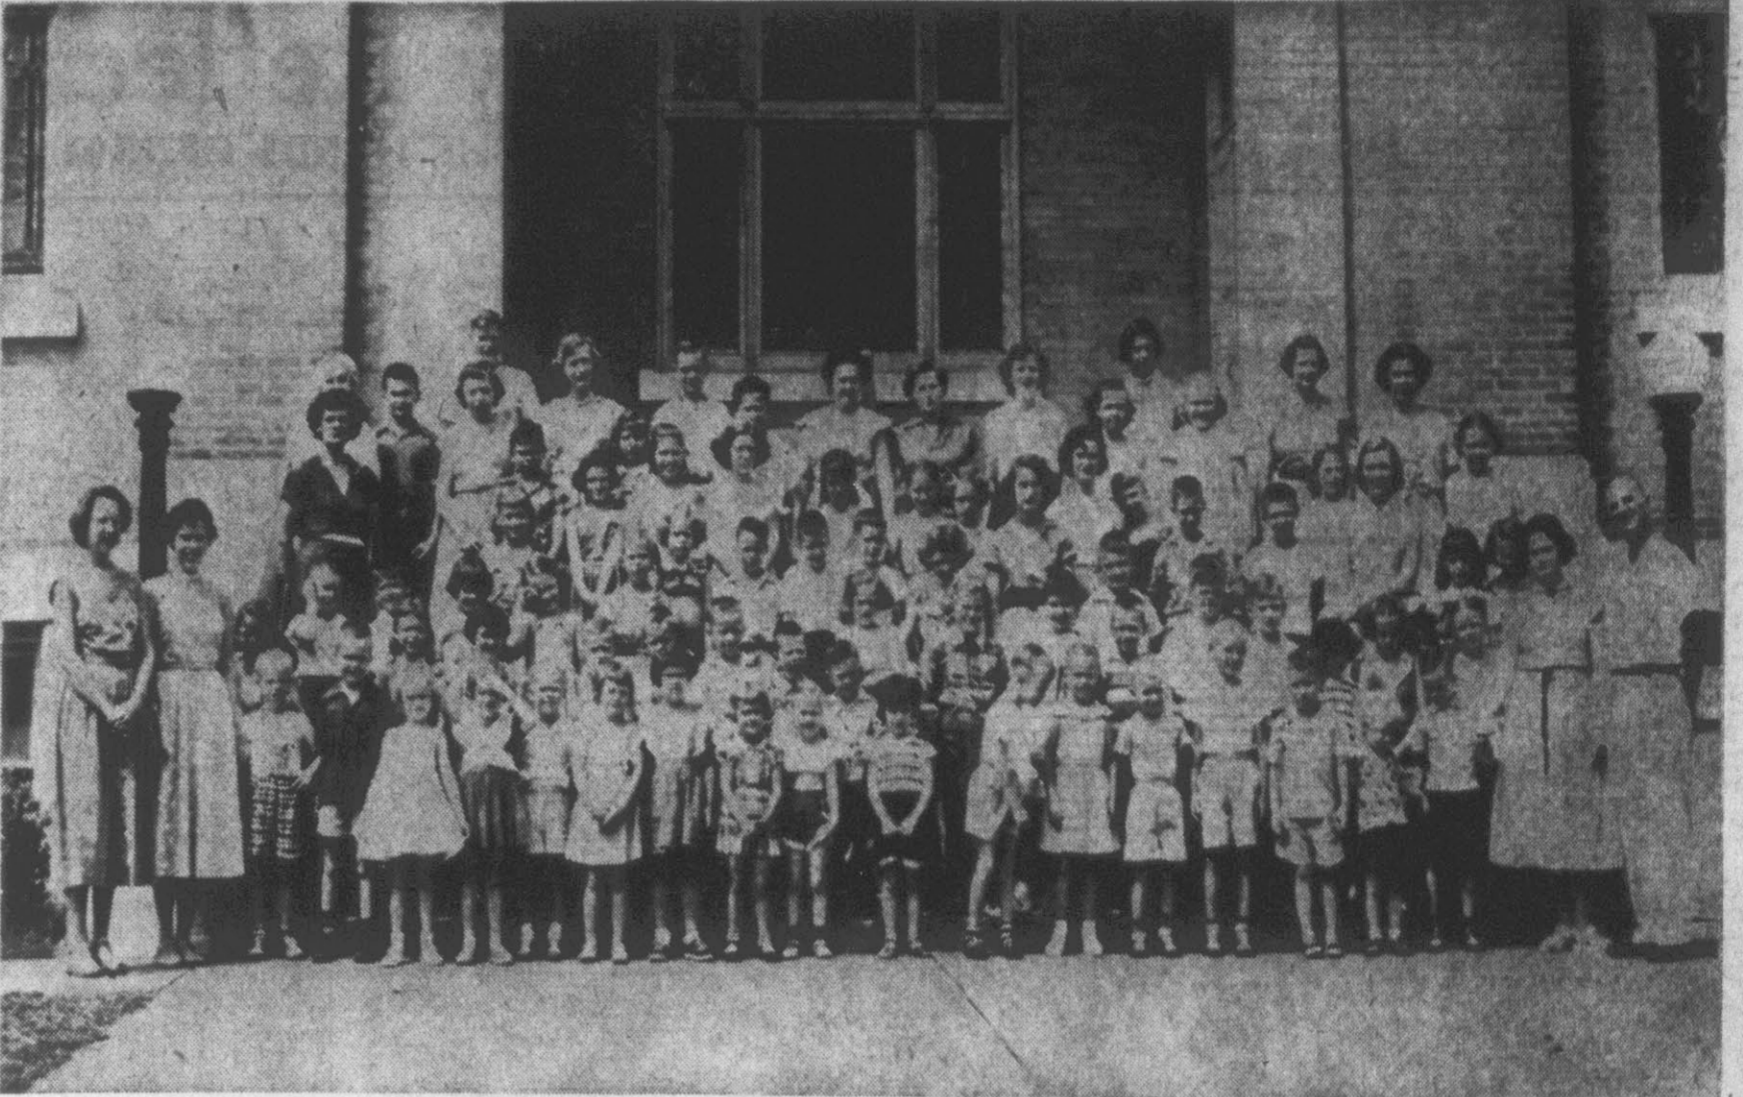

Hill was charged by city policeman J. B. Cannon after he was reported to have pulled from the curb on Ridgeway Street, striking one car and causing it to roll backwards into another vehicle. Hill was said to have "kept on going" after the accident.

Funeral Sunday For Walter D. Whitford

The Greenville Kiwanis Club at its supper meeting last night, presented Eli Bloom, the "club's impressario," with an engraved plaque honoring him for public-spirited service in the community.

Judge Dink James, in presenting the plaque, said "the hundreds of children and some adults who had reaped benefits from the Kiwanis Club's Underprivileged Child Fund during the last eight or 10 years had a feeling of gratitude for Eli Bloom."

"Year after year," Judge James continued, "Eli Bloom, in the spirit of the 'Man who lives in the house by the side of the road and is a friend to men,' produced and directed the Kiwanis minstrel and other shows that netted about $2,000 a year for underprivileged child work."

Bloom, a past president of the Greenville Kiwanis Club and a past lieutenant-governor of the Seventh Division of the Carolina Kiwanis District, was given an ovation after the meeting.

Incidentally, Bloom provided the program for the Kiwanians last night. It was all impromptu and "for the purpose of getting the Kiwanians to know each other," he said. Participants were Chester Walsh and Mrs. Lena Tyson, instrumentalists; Joe Taft, who was celebrating his 20th wedding anniversary last night; J. D. Hice and Dick Rogers, "Iceberg orators," and a quartet, singing a popular number with "soda cracker obligato." The singers were Claude Ward, John Dickens, Dick Forrest and Ted Ashworth.

President Leo W. Jenkins presided. Guy Smith and Dr. John O. Reynolds had birthdays and donated a dime for each year of their age.

Guests of the club were: Dr. Richard G. Brame and Dr. John W. Foust, internes at Pitt County Memorial Hospital.

"HOT UNDER THE COLLAR"
AKRON, O. (UP)—Policemen got a little hot under the collar here Friday and appealed to their chief for mercy.

Acting Police Chief John Struzenki decided 84 degrees was hot enough to allow officers to remove their ties even if official regulations require a temperature of 88.

Y DON'T HANDICAP YOURSELF

CALL BOX KEYS SHOULD ALWAYS BE CARRIED WHERE THEY CAN BE REACHED EASILY WHILE COVERING A PRISONER. FOR RIGHT-HANDED MEN, KEY RING TO THE LEFT REAR.

I SHOULD HAVE COME BACK TO MY HOTEL ROOM LAST NIGHT—IN SPITE OF THE STORM.

CANHEAD, ARE YOU UP ALREADY? IT'S ONLY FOUR-THUTTY.

TOO BAD YOU DON'T HAVE A PHONE. I COULD HAVE CALLED A CAB.

WHAT'S THE MATTER? DIDN'T YOU SLEEP LAST NIGHT?

ME? SLEEP ON THAT? THAT'S HARDER THAN YOUR HEAD, B. O.!

THIS IS A DEUCE OF A HOUSE—NO EXTRA ROOM—NO NOTHING! WHAT A PLACE TO REAR A FAMILY!

EH?

NOW, LOOK INAR, BROTHER CANHEAD—WE DON'T OWN NO OIL WELLS. WE DON'T TRAVEL ABROAD, BUT WE'RE HAPPY JUST LIKE WE AIR!

BUT YOU NEED A MODERN HOME—

MODERN?

LOOK—WE GOT RUNNING WATER RIGHT IN THE HOUSE.

WE'VE GOT ELECTRIC LIGHTS AND A RE-FRIGERATOR, AND WE GOT THE BIGGEST SCREEN TELEVISION IN THIS HERE TOWNSHIP.

AND THE HIGHEST DAD-BLAMED AERIAL!

AH, YES—

BUT, MY DEAR B. O., YOU DON'T HAVE A BATHROOM, DO YOU?

BATHROOM?

NO, WE DON'T, UNCLE CANHEAD! I'VE BEEN AFTER B. O. EVER SINCE SPARKLE CAME, TO BUILD A BATHROOM! THE PORE TYKES HAVE TO BATHE IN THAT LITTLE BITTY TUB.

NO WONDER HE'S BEEN MARRIED FIVE TIMES!

A PARTY OF COMANCHES ATTACKED US AND MADE OFF WITH THUNDER BIRD, OUR CAPTIVE!

I WAS AFRAID OF THIS! YOU AND YOUR MEN SEARCH SOUTH OF HERE! I'LL COVER THE AREA TO THE NORTH!

MEANWHILE TO THE NORTH, IN AN ISOLATED INDIAN CAMP DEEP IN THE HILLS...

WAR DRUM... MY TWIN COUSIN! IT IS YOU THE SOLDIERS WANT FOR RAIDING THE WHITE MAN'S SETTLEMENTS AND PLUNDERING HIS WAGON TRAINS!

COMANCHES POOR. WHITE MAN'S GOLD WILL MAKE US RICH!

WAR DRUM SPEAKS WITH POISON TONGUE! I HAVE SPENT EIGHT YEARS LEARNING THE WAYS OF OUR PALEFACE BROTHERS. NOW YOUR CHIEF HAS RETURNED TO HELP HIS PEOPLE! FIND THE PATH OF PEACE!

IF WE ALL WORK TOGETHER WE CAN HAVE PEACE AND PROSPERITY!

THUNDER BIRD HAS BECOME WEAKLING! HE IS NO LONGER A TRUE COMANCHE! GRAB HIM!

THUNDER BIRD ESCAPES! STOP HIM!

THIS IS THE ONE - THE MOST ROMANTIC MAN IN THE WORLD.

AND OF ALL THE THOUSANDS OF PHOTOS, THIS IS THE ONLY ONE WITHOUT A NAME. THE WOMAN WHO TOOK IT MUST KNOW.

YOU DON'T KNOW HIS NAME? BUT YOU MUST! HE IS MISS MIRIAM'S CHOICE!

I DON'T KNOW WHO HE IS, BUT HE WAS DIVINE! YOU SEE, IT HAPPENED THIS WAY -

"I WAS LOST IN THE JUNGLE - I DIDN'T KNOW WHICH WAY TO GO - I DECIDED TO GET OUT TO SEE IF I COULD FIND A VILLAGE -"

"THEN I SAW HIM STANDING THERE - LIKE A JUNGLE GOD! I SNAPPED HIS PICTURE. HE WAS AWFULLY NICE - TOLD ME WHERE TO GO - BUT I DIDN'T GET HIS NAME -"

FIND OUT WHO HE IS! THAT'S THE MAN I'VE BEEN LOOKING FOR.

PROBABLY A BANDIT FROM THE LOOKS OF HIS OUTFIT. BESIDES, HOW CAN YOU BE SO SURE OF A MAN - FROM A PHOTO?

I CAN TELL. I KNOW HE'S WONDERFUL! STRONG, ROMANTIC - AND DIFFERENT!

WE'LL NEVER FIND HIM - SO YOU'D BETTER FORGET HIM. THERE ARE THOUSANDS OF OTHERS TO CHOOSE FROM.

WILSON McCOY 6-21

I DON'T WANT THEM! I WANT HIM! FIND HIM, STEVE, OR YOU'RE FIRED!

RUSTY! YOU LITTLE MAVERICK! AM I GLAD TO SEE YOU!

JEEPERS, TEX, THAT SURE GOES FOR ME, TOO!

WHAT IN SAM HILL ARE YOU DOIN' HERE?

WHEN DENVER DOOLEY CLOSED HIS CARNIVAL, HE SENT ME HERE TO LOOK AFTER HIS TWO HORSES!

I SEE I DON'T HAVE TO INTRODUCE YOU TWO!

LISTEN, MISTER... MY BOSS, MR. MILES, WILL BE HAPPIER TO GET RUSTY BACK THAN TO GET TBN HORSES LIKE 'SILVER LAD'!

BUT, TEX! GOLLY, I CAN'T GO BACK!

I GUESS YOU'RE FORGETTING THAT I LEFT MILESTONE FARM ON ACCOUNT OF MY CROOKED UNCLE RUFUS LOOKING FOR ME THERE.

I AIN'T FORGETTIN', SON... BUT THAT HORNE TOAD IS A-SETTIN' IN A NICE KENTUCKY JAIL, AN' HE WON'T BE TROUBLIN' ANYBODY FOR SOME YEARS.

GEE WHIZ, TEX... I NEVER THOUGHT I'D BE GLAD TO SEE ONE OF MY OWN FAMILY GO TO JAIL... BUT I AM!

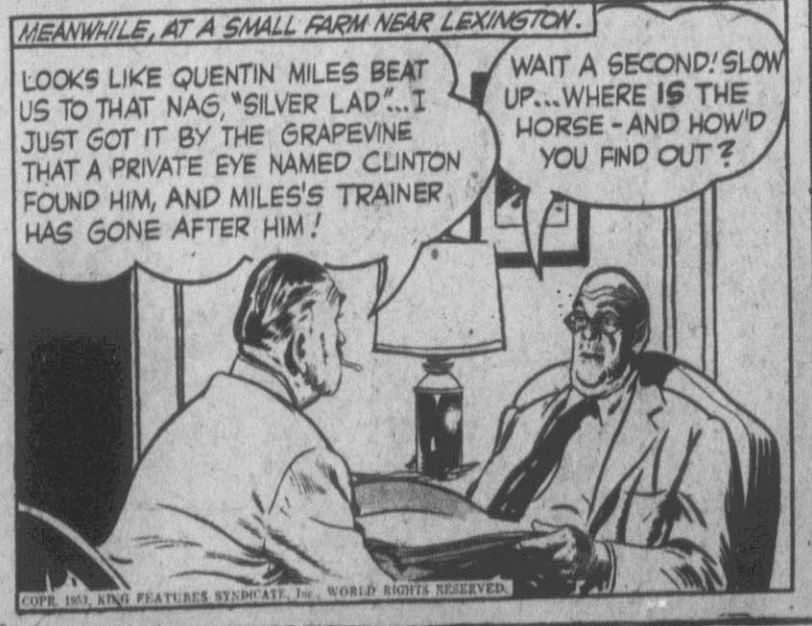

THERE ARE THE HORSES, TEX... THEY WERE HALF STARVED WHEN I FIRST CAME, BUT THEY'RE BEGINNING TO LOOK MUCH BETTER.

WE'LL HAVE 'EM IN GOOD SHAPE IN NO TIME... MR. MILES WANTS TO ENTER 'SILVER LAD' IN THE LEXINGTON JUNIOR LEAGUE HORSE SHOW.

CLINTON, HERE'S A CERTIFIED CHECK... YOU GO TO THE BANK AND SEW UP THE DEAL, WHILE RUSTY AND I GET THE HORSES IN THE VAN.

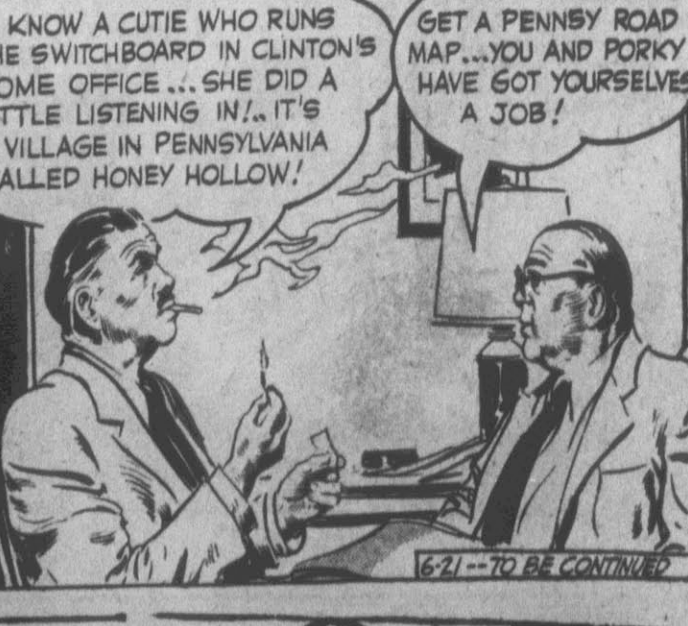

RIGHT, MR. PURDY... I'LL BE BACK WITH THE PAPERS INSIDE AN HOUR.

MEANWHILE, AT A SMALL FARM NEAR LEXINGTON...

LOOKS LIKE QUENTIN MILES BEAT US TO THAT NAG, 'SILVER LAD'... I JUST GOT IT BY THE GRAPEVINE THAT A PRIVATE EYE NAMED CLINTON FOUND HIM, AND MILES'S TRAINER HAS GONE AFTER HIM!

WAIT A SECOND! SLOW UP... WHERE IS THE HORSE - AND HOW'D YOU FIND OUT?

I KNOW A CUTIE WHO RUNS THE SWITCHBOARD IN CLINTON'S HOME OFFICE... SHE DID A LITTLE LISTENING IN! IT'S A VILLAGE IN PENNSYLVANIA CALLED HONEY HOLLOW!

GET A PENNSY ROAD MAP... YOU AND PORKY HAVE GOT YOURSELVES A JOB!
