Planning Board Meets Tonight

Proposed improvements for several Greenville streets is scheduled to receive the attention of the Greenville Planning Board at a meeting slated for 7:30 tonight at city hall. The meeting will be in the board of aldermen room with chairman Frank Little, Jr. presiding. Matters to come up include a proposed fill-in on First Street between Side and Summit Streets; and a proposed extension of First Street to River Drive and Beach Street. The board also is due to give consideration to overall major streets in the northeast section of town just beyond the city limits, and will review past and future projects. Members of the board, in addition to chairman Little, include Utilities Superintendent Martin Swartz, Mrs. D. M. Clark, Mayor W. L. Whedbee, L. S. Picklin, City Engineer Tom W. Rivers and Councilman A. C. Ruffin.

Russian Troops Move In As Iron Curtain Troubles Mount 'Unrest' In Czechoslovakia

BERLIN (UP)—Tough Russian security troops were reported today to have moved into Czechoslovakia to quell unrest knitting through the heart of Communist Russia. Strikes and slow-downs continued in four of Red Germany's five provinces, despite the harsh Russian martial law under which at least 50 persons had been executed and more than 40,000 imprisoned. Defiant strikers were said to have flooded many uranium mines in the border zone of East Germany adjoining Czechoslovakia, putting them out of production for months. At the same time, informants said, the Soviet government has curtailed the power of its civilian high commission in Germany in favor of the military as a result of the bloody revolt of workers in Eastern Germany. The sources, which have close connections with the Soviet high command in Germany, said a division of the dreaded MVD security troops was moved into the Pilsen area of Czechoslovakia last Friday. The Czech rebellion against the recent currency reform, which wiped out savings, reached its high point in the famous beer brewing center of Pilsen. For years, Soviet Russia had kept no military forces in Czechoslovakia except instructors and liaison officers. As a result of the serious situation in East Germany, informants said, the Soviets have stopped the remilitarization of that area—they feel they cannot rely on German troops. Russian troops and Communist police are fanning out all over East Germany with orders to crush the remaining traces of the 12-day-old workers' revolt in the puppet state, it was reported. Strikes and slow-downs were reported in four of Red Germany's five provinces, despite the harsh Russian martial law under which at least 50 persons had been executed and more than 40,000 imprisoned. Only Brandenburg province, which surrounds Berlin, was completely quiet today. The rest of the Soviet Zone was reported in turmoil, from Warnemunde on the North Sea coast to the heavily guarded uranium zone on the frontier of Communist Czechoslovakia. Defiant strikers were said to have flooded many uranium mines in the border zone, putting them out of production for months. Much of Red Germany's railway network was tied up by strikes—especially the lines linking Berlin with Red Poland, said to have been used last week by deportation trains carrying thousands of political prisoners to the East. Political trials and police raids on workers' homes were reported over the weekend in Warnemunde, Gotha and Stralsund, indicating the extent of anti-Communist unrest in the zone. In Eisenach, 6,000 automobile workers had walked off the job in a strike protesting the mass arrests of workers following the June 17 revolt. Similar strikes crippled production at key factories in Merseburg and Halle. The Communists were busy revising industrial plans for Soviet Germany in an effort to appease the rebellious workers. They promised in the future to concentrate on consumer goods rather than heavy industry — "butter, not guns," to quote Red Vice Premier Otto Nuschke.

Anti-Communist

The league, whose members have vowed to fight Communism to the death, was organized two years ago at the Koje Island Prison camp. Nam Sok Wuk says he and others now want to join the ROK army to continue the fight. New Delay For EPT Extension Is Ordered Today

WASHINGTON (UP)—Republican leaders ordered a last-minute postponement today in House consideration of an excess profits tax extension bill. Chairman Daniel Reed of the House Ways and Means Committee appealed for a showdown now, and called on Congress to defeat the bill. GOP leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana said he is "convinced" the tax issue can be handled without bypassing Reed's tax-framing committee. "That's what the GOP leaders had decided to do today, but at the last minute—shortly before debate was to start in the House—they called off the dogs," Halleck said. He and other House leaders reached the conclusion there was no need to pass the committee after a check during the week-end and this morning. For "corroboration," he called on Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa.), a key member of the Ways and Means group, who told the House: "I want to give my assistance... that this matter will be considered by the Ways and Means Committee and will be acted upon, I trust, favorably by the committee." It had been planned to call up the bill today without going through the normal procedure of getting the committee's approval. Reed (R-NY) has refused to call his committee together to vote on the tax extension. Administration forces previously had decided they had no alternative but to get the House Rules Committee to send the bill to the floor without Ways and Means action. President Eisenhower even had prepared an appeal to the congressman today to vote to extend the tax on corporations for six months until Dec. 31. A close vote had been predicted on the question of by-passing the Ways and Means Committee. A majority of Democrats and some Republicans were expected to oppose it. But Speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr. had expressed confidence he had the votes to get the bill approved despite the unusual procedure. Southern Japan Flood Toll Rises To 1,900 Dead. TOKYO (UP)—The flood toll in southern Japan climbed toward 2,000 today, as the clouds which dumped 15 to 30 inches of rain on soggy Kyushu Island over the weekend moved southward to menace its southern coast. Official reports listed 1,818 victims late today in the inundated northern districts of the island—457 dead, 815 injured and 646 missing. Nearly 1,000,000 Japanese had been driven from their homes. No American casualties had been reported, but hundreds of servicemen and their families narrowly escaped the flood waters. At least two U. S. airbases were transformed into islands by the floods, but no serious damage to military installations was reported. Gen. Mark W. Clark's headquarters here ordered U. S. forces to offer "all possible assistance and relief" to flood sufferers.

Five Superior Court Judges Also Appointed Gill Named State Treasurer

RALEIGH (UP)—Gov. William B. Umstead named Edwin Gill of Laurinburg as state treasurer today, re-appointed Eugene Shaw as revenue commissioner and named five new special superior court judges. The governor also announced the re-appointment of Judge Susie Sharp of Reidsville and Judge George B. Patton of Franklin as special Superior Court judges. Gill, now deputy collector of internal revenue at Greensboro, will resign his federal post to succeed Brandon Hodges as state treasurer. Hodges resigned last month to accept a position with Champion Paper and Fibre Co. of Canton. Gill is former North Carolina parole commissioner. Former state commissioner of revenue and was secretary to the late O. Max Gardner of Shelby. Umstead named Francis O. Clarkson, 57, of Charlotte, and R. Lee Whitmore of Hendersonville as special judges in the West and Malcolm C. Paul of Beaufort County, Grover A. Martin of Johnston County and Howard H. Hubbard of Clinton as special judges in the East. Umstead made it clear he intends to choose a successor to Sen. Willis Smith (D-NC) from Eastern North Carolina when he decides upon an appointment. "I feel that the junior senator's post should be filled by an Easterner in view of the fact that our other senator (Sen. Clyde R. Hoey of Shelby) is a Westerner," he said. He said that while the line has never been clear-cut, "traditionally everything west of Orange County has been considered 'West' politically." Angry because of a burst of recommendations and endorsements for a successor so soon after Smith's death, Umstead said it was "unfortunate" that "I began to receive recommendations for Senator Smith's successor within a few hours after his death. I refused to consider any of them until after his funeral." Smith was buried yesterday. The governor said he does not plan to name any more special judges immediately. "When I shall appoint the others I do not know. I am informed that there are very few special terms of court in July and August. Therefore I am only appointing those which I feel will be necessary at this time," he said. Announcing the appointments at a press conference, Umstead said he has found it "quite difficult" to get "people to serve the state whom you want to serve the state." "I have offered appointments as special judges to a number of outstanding lawyers of North Carolina who, for one reason or another, turned them down," he said. "It is difficult to get men who command salaries of $20,000 in industry or private practice to take a state job at $12,000."

Reds Told 'Impossible' To Recapture POWs Quick Armistice Is Urged

By JEROY HANSEN United Press Staff Correspondent PANMUNJOM, Korea. (UP)—Gen. Mark W. Clark called today for a quick signing of an armistice and told the Reds it was "impossible" for him to recapture 27,000 anti-Communist North Korean prisoners. The supreme United Nations commander said in a letter to the Chinese High Command that he was not responsible for South Korean President Syngman Rhee's action in suddenly releasing the prisoners. Clark's letter, answering demands made June 19 for an explanation of the prisoner escape, assured South Korean Premier Kim Il Sung and commanding Gen. Peng Teh-fu of the Chinese People's Volunteers the Allies will "make every effort to obtain the cooperation of the government of the Republic of Korea" with the armistice. The Clark letter indicated strongly, however, that the United Nations Command was ready and willing to sign the armistice whether Rhee and his government supported it or not.

He suggested an immediate meeting of the truce delegations to discuss setting up a five-nation neutral custodial commission for prisoners so an effective date for the armistice can be established. "And on receipt of that information, the armistice agreement as has been developed by our respective delegations (can) be signed," Clark's letter said. Clark and President Eisenhower's personal trouble shooter, assistant Secretary of State Walter Robertson had failed earlier today to complete a compromise agreement with Rhee that would enable him to guarantee South Korean cooperation. But Clark, who went to the Allied truce camp at Munsan to hand his reply to U. N. liaison officers, said the "U. N. command will, to the limits of its ability, establish military safeguards to insure that the armistice terms are observed." Clark's letter, delivered in the truce hut to the Communists here, said it would be "unrealistic" to expect him to roundup all the escaped prisoners who, under the prisoner exchange agreement reached here, are to be turned over to a neutral custodial commission. Clark said the escaped prisoners had lost themselves in the civilian population and he assured the Communists that those who wanted to go home after the armistice could do so. He pointed out, ironically, that the Communists claimed they had permitted their South Korean captives to lose themselves in the North Korean populace. Clark's letter admitted, with reservations, that the prisoners had been "released." "They were 'released' in that the Republic of Korea government, without the knowledge of, and contrary to the intent of, the United Nations Command, planned and arranged the breakout, and the Republic of Korea army security guards made little real effort to prevent their escape," Clark's letter said. A United Nations announcement said the chief U. N. liaison officer called for resumption "without delay" of staff level meetings to finish administrative details for the signing of the armistice.

Dickinson Ave. Meters Survey Now Completed Parking Meter Issue Pends

The question of whether or not parking meters should be extended on Dickinson Avenue may come up again for council consideration this week but it seems more likely the matter will be deferred for a more thorough study. The question now is in the hands of a committee composed of Councilmen Wesley Harvey Jr. and Police Chief S. G. Gibbs. The committee was named following a report by the chief on the results of a recent survey conducted among the merchants and professional establishments on Dickinson from Five Points to the Norfolk and Southern railroad tracks. The committee was requested to "report back as soon as practicable." While the majority of shop holders in the area favored having parking meters on one side of the street, opinions registered some opposition and/or alternate or additional plans. The vote was 28 in favor of meters; 12 to keep the same plan as now (that is, parking without meters on one side of the street); nine approved of some sort of limited parking plan; one was not reached; and one declined comment. Councilman Harvey, after hearing the report, seconded Councilman J. A. Collins' motion for further study of the matter. Asked his opinion, Chief Gibbs commented he thought they probably were the only solution to the question of how to reduce all-day parking in front of businesses. The system of marking tires on the parked cars, used in some places, he said, has not been completely effective. Questioned about costs, the chief listed present prices of new meters at about $55 to $60 for the whole meter. Several other matters were left in abeyance by the council pending further investigation. These included: (1) A petition from property owners along Greenmill Run for the city to participate in the proposed creation of a drainage district in the area. Such a matter, it was pointed out, would require a special act of the state Legislature before the city could enter the proposed district, which would mean it could not come about before next year's session. Meanwhile, Councilman Collins foresaw the possibility of obtaining federal aid if the matter were presented as a health problem. Council vote authorized Mayor W. L. Whedbee to obtain a sketch from City Engineer Tom Rivers showing how much city-held property would be affected. (2) A request for sale of a city-owned filter plant for use at a swimming pool for the Greenville country club. C. K. Beatty, city streets superintendent said the city's filter plant is in good condition with new gravel. The councilmen indicated they might want to hold on to the plant, however, in case the city should later decide to build a pool of its own, unless this would be impracticable. This might be the case, it was brought out, because of corrosion if a plant is left long out of use. Mayor Whedbee was authorized to obtain a value on the plant from Utilities Superintendent Martin Swartz, and report back to the council.

Speeding Relief To Drought Area

WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson returned today from a tour of southeastern drought areas with a promise to speed federal relief. Benson said the government will take immediate action. The secretary, who flew to Texas Friday, inspected conditions on farms and ranches near San Antonio Sunday. He made a similar trip Saturday from Lubbock. Benson said federal aid to ranchers and farmers, who in some cases haven't seen normal rainfall since 1949, would take these forms: 1. An appeal to the Interstate Commerce Commission for lower freight rates for feed moving into the drought area, and for cattle moving out. 2. Emergency credit to help livestock, at least foundation herds, keep alive. 3. A stepped-up buying program of meat and low grade cattle in an effort to get lower grade livestock into consumption and out of storage, and 4. Cottonseed and other forms of emergency feed will be made available throughout the drought area. President Eisenhower last week declared portions of Texas and Oklahoma "major disaster areas," so they would be eligible for federal assistance.

Drunken Driving Charged Senator

WASHINGTON, N. C. (UP)—State Sen. Hugh Horton of Williamston, arrested late Saturday night by highway patrolmen, was ordered to appear in recorder's court here tomorrow to answer a charge of drunken driving. Horton has denied the charge. Highway patrolman B. E. Burton said he stopped Horton on the highway near here shortly before midnight Saturday. "He was too drunk to drive," Burton said. REALLY LOADED PITTSBURGH (UP)—City detectives had one word to describe Nuncio De Lucia today—"loaded." But the description carried a double meaning. De Lucia was arrested on a drunkenness charge and a subsequent search revealed he was carrying two live sticks of dynamite complete with detonator caps.

Advise Deepening Harbor Channel

WILMINGTON (UP)—The Army engineers have recommended that the harbor channel at Morehead City be dredged to a depth of 32 feet, two feet deeper than the present channel. The cost was estimated at $1,387,000 and maintenance of the 32-foot channel and enlarged basin would be $15,000 a year more a public notice issued by Brig. Gen. Charles G. Holle of Atlanta, said. The notice said the plan would "meet the needs of present and prospective navigation and would be economically justified."

Chinese Retain Control Of Key Outposts ROK Attack Hurdled Back

SEOUL, Korea. (UP)—Two Chinese regiments hurled back counterattacks by 1st Division Republic of Korea soldiers today to retain their control of four key outposts protecting the invasion corridor to Seoul. In an unusual daylight action, the 6,000 Chinese broke the back of South Korean counter-attacks against outposts Bak Queen, Han-nah and an unnamed hill. The ROK's fell back to their original defense line. United Nations warplanes immediately began plastering Outpost Queen with 2,000-pound bombs. Allied Sabre jet pilots shot down six Communist MIG's this evening to bring the monthly MIG total so far to 59—the second highest of the Korean war. The Russian-built fighters were shot down while the speedy jets were protecting a Sabre bomber attack on a troop and supply area. The Sabres may yet break the monthly record of 62 set last September. The Reds supported their assault with an artillery barrage so intense that more than 1,500 rounds fell near a regiment command post far back on the mainline. First Corps Commander Lt. Gen. Bruce C. Clarke narrowly escaped injury from falling shells. Officers with the 1st ROK Division said they expected the Reds to throw a "do or die" push against the division tonight. "We've chewed up two divisions so far and we expect them to chew up a third tonight," an officer said. Eighth Army said a full division was ordered into the campaign to control of the Imin River outposts line guarding the Chorwon valley north of Seoul. United Press correspondent Fred Panton said the ROKs withdrew from the four outposts on the orders of I Corps. The ROK 3rd Division recaptured strategic Lookout Mountain following a savage five-hour fight. In a own attack, the South Koreans swarmed to the crest of the peak and repulsed two Chinese counter-attacks. Chinese troops hit ROK 1st Division outposts after the heaviest rain-fall in Korea's history had dumped 11.8 inches of rain on the east coast and three inches over the rest of the battlefield. Panton said the Chinese look back just before noon and put one of their companies to work immediately digging in on the northern slope of the hill, which has changed hands five times in the past four days.

Plan Inoculate 30,000 Children Against Polio

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UP)—Health officials today put finishing touches on plans to inoculate 30,000 children with gamma globulin to lessen tragic effects of polio in this heavily-hit city and county. This mass attack on polio gets underway tomorrow at 18 schools equipped as emergency centers and manned in relays by hundreds of doctors and other volunteers. By late Friday they hope to have inoculated every child under 10 years old. This was to be the nation's first community-wide use of gamma globulin except for experimental mass inoculations last year in Houston, Tex., and Slou City, Ia. Dr. A. E. Graham, Montgomery County health officer, believed the gamma globulin would reverse a rising tide of infantile paralysis which has infected 75 persons, killing three victims. "There won't be any reduction in polio the first week after inoculation," he said, "but we expect the number of cases to drop off about 80 per cent after that." Sixty-seven gallons of gamma globulin have been sent here in the largest shipment of the rare serum ever made to a single city, along with 30,000 half-inch needles and 15,000 syringes. Until each child's turn comes for his scheduled trip to a center of injection of a carefully prescribed amount of the serum he was being kept away from swimming pools, playgrounds and other gathering places. A large sign in front of the city auditorium bore the warning: "No children under six allowed." Sylvia Stokes, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Stokes, said she was "awful excited" but will not be scared when her turn comes because "all my friends will be there." But Jerry Wills, 6, declared he does not want to return from his visit to his grandparents at Hartford, Ala., because "I don't want to get stuck with that needle." George Rivers, father of four children of whom two are under 10, said he was "all for" the inoculation plan whether it helps or not because "anything is worth a try." Mattie Brown, a Negro mother of three, said, "I'm not going to take any chance with those kids of mine. They're all I've got and I intend to keep them."

Missouri Demos Voice Hopes Truman Will Run For Congress

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UP)—Some Missouri Democratic politicians said today they hope former President Harry S. Truman runs for Congress. Mr. Truman said Saturday in New York he has been in politics 40 years and isn't "out of it yet." His statement set off a ripple of speculation among Missouri Democrats. All said they know nothing of Mr. Truman's plans. His home congressional district is represented by freshman Jeffrey Hilleison, a Republican. Republicans charged last year when the district was created that it was a "gerrymander" tailor-made for Mr. Truman if he wanted to run. "It's just a wild guess, but I think Truman would like to be in Congress," said Richard Macy, former executive secretary of the Democratic National Committee. "Whether he will run, I don't know. I hope he does," Nancy said. Marcus Kirtley, chairman of the Jackson County Democratic Committee and a neighbor of Mr. Truman, said "there's no question Mr. Truman could beat Hilleison if he wanted to run." "He hasn't discussed any plans with me," though Kirtley said. "I think his statement means he will stay active in the party and help out in campaigns." James M. Pendergast, nephew of the late "Boss Tom" and heir to the Pendergast political machine, said he talked to Mr. Truman about three weeks ago. "Nothing was said about political plans," Pendergast said. "I think he means he will stay in politics just like he has always been in politics. It's too early to think about a congressional race." Some Missouri Democrats doubted Mr. Truman would risk his personal vote-getting reputation for a congressional seat. "They pointed out that three times while he was president he tried to influence state elections and three times he was roundly rebuffed."

Federal Payroll Drop Continues

WASHINGTON (UP)—The administration trimmed 23,000 civilian workers off the federal payroll in May, Sen. Harry F. Byrd reported today. The Virginia Democrat, chairman of the joint congressional committee on reduction of non-essential federal expenditures, said the "drop" in federal employment continued a trend that began last August. In the first 11 months of the current fiscal year, through May 31, net employment by federal agencies decreased by 130,389 persons to a total payroll of 2,478,563, Byrd said. The decrease since Jan. 1, 1953 has been $1,316.

Two Thefts Reported In County Saturday Night; Over $300 Gone

Two thefts in which more than $300 in cash was taken were reported from two separate places in Pitt County Saturday night. Sheriff's officers, assisted by SBI officers, were called out early Sunday to help investigate a safe-cracking at the Griffon Dry Cleaners in Griffon. According to Deputy Lloyd Manning, about $300 in cash was reported removed from the safe after it had been pried open and the combination knob had been knocked off. Deputy Manning said Cecil Cobb, owner of the cleaning establishment, reported the safe also had contained checks and records of the firm but that these apparently had been undisturbed. The safe had been rolled from the front room of the firm into the back room where it was pushed over on its back. Deputy Manning said the intruder had entered from a back door by prying open the lock, but that the lock had not been broken. The deputy, along with SBI Agent Clyde Pentreux, were called in to assist on the case with Herbert H. Adams of the Griffon police. Elsewhere in the county, the sheriff's department in cooperation with the Ayden police were looking for evidence in connection with theft of between $65 and $100 from the Dickerson Washery in Ayden. The cash, all in silver, was removed from the cash register of the firm sometime Saturday night, according to Deputy Elmer Haddock. Deputy Haddock, along with Special Investigator S. B. Dorsey, was called to assist the Ayden police with the case about 10 p.m. Saturday. Deputy Haddock said entrance to this case was obtained through a back window with the thief apparently having crawled through a large window fan to get into the building. The firm is operated by

Women In The Church

There are more than 300 villages in the environs of the City of Allahabad, one of the centers in India from which Dr. Frank C. Laubach is carrying on an intensive campaign to erase illiteracy. He has recently proposed to the United Church Women—arm of the National Council of Churches in the U.S.—that that body "take on a long-term project" that will supply Indian villages with small libraries. He would begin with the 300 villages and then extend out from Allahabad as funds and personnel permit. Each village library should include, says Dr. Laubach, a mantle-burning oil lamp, something new to India, forty to sixty simply-written books in the local language, and a pest-proof and damp-proof case to hold the books. Each of these "field libraries" would cost about $25, he estimates.

Miss Lois Davidson, of Salem, Illinois, missionary of the Woman's Division of Christian Service of the Methodist Church, librarian of the Union Evangelical Seminary in Matanzas, Cuba, has been elected to membership in the National Association of Professional Librarians of Cuba. So far as is known, Miss Davidson is the first Protestant missionary in Cuba to be thus honored.

The Missouri Council of Church Women has reaffirmed its stand on the right of every citizen to enroll in institutions of higher learning, regardless of the person's race or color. The Council also urges its members: that "a united effort be put forth to support our free public school system," including a more efficient reorganization of school districts, state aid sufficient to raise standards in education, free public kindergarten, provision for adult education after the needs of schools for children have been adequately financed; that all church women study the Bricker Amendment to the U.S. Constitution "which raises the question of whether the United States would be hampered in its treaty negotiations and hence in its international relations"; and that church women work for passage of legislation that will admit to the U.S. "our fair share of refugees, expellees and escapees from Berlin and other parts of the world."

Former Grifton Resident Weds In Massachusetts

GRIFTON—The marriage of Miss Sybil Oglesby, daughter of Mr. John Oglesby Sr. and the late Mrs. Nanette Joyner Oglesby of Morehead City, to Manley Sanderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Sanderson of Rose Hill, solemnized on June 20, will be of interest to friends in Grifton and this section, since the bride for a number of years made her home here with her aunt, Mrs. Maggie Hart. The wedding was solemnized at 4 o'clock in the Federal Church at Ayer, Mass., with the Rev. Hugh Penny officiating at the double ring rites.

Vows were pledged before the altar which was banked with palms and white carnations in brass urns and candles in seven branched candelabra.

The bride was escorted and given in marriage by her brother, John Oglesby Jr. of Grifton. She wore a gown of heir loom satin, fashioned with train and full length veil of illusion which fell from a cloche of antique lace. The dress was off the shoulder neckline, with long sleeves ending in points over the hands, inserted in the veil were squares of antique lace. She carried a white Bible marked with a white purple throated orchid, showered with satin ribbons.

Mrs. John Oglesby Jr. attended the bride as matron of honor. She wore a seafoam green taffeta gown made bouffant skirt with embroidered net over skirt, styled with strapless bodice and net stole. She carried an arm bouquet of pink carnations.

The bridegroom was attended by Mr. Alvin Reeves of Washington, D.C. as best man. Mr. Donald Guest of Erie, Pa. acted as usher.

Immediately following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Oglesby entertained informally at a small reception and cake cutting for the bridal party.

For a wedding trip to Hampton Beach, N.H. the bride changed to an aqua pique dress with redingote of white embroidered organdy. With this she used aqua lines shoes and hat and the orchid lifted from her Bible.

Mrs. Sanderson attended W. C. at Greensboro and is now a senior at Atlantic Christian College in Wilson where she plans to continue her studies in the fall.

The bridegroom attended Carolina at Chapel Hill and is a graduate of Atlantic Christian College. He taught in Scotland Neck the past year, and is now with the Army, stationed at Ft. Devens, Mass. After the wedding trip the couple will reside at Washington Street Apartments, Ayer, Mass.

A charming pre-nuptial courtesy was extended Miss Sybil Oglesby on a recent evening when Mrs. John Oglesby Jr. entertained at an informal seated tea at her home near the city.

Guests were received in rooms pleasantly decorated with summer flowers. In the living room yellow gladioli and feverfew made attractive decorations, where the guests were greeted by the hostess and presented to the guest of honor and out-of-town guests. Mrs. John Oglesby Sr. of Morehead City, Mrs. Winford Caskins of Vanceboro, Mrs. Howard Joyner of Maple Cypress, and Miss Mary Anne Snakenberg of Waycross, Ga.

A unique bride's game proved to be feature of the entertainment for the afternoon.

In the dining room the bride's table was covered with a green cloth overlaid with lace cloth. The three tiered cake was placed at one end and opposite the punch bowl where Mrs. Carey Garris presided. The cake was cut and served with fruit punch and salted nuts. Decorations were white daisies and feverfew.

The bride-elect wore a navy sheer dress and a corsage of white carnations, presented to her by the hostess. She was also presented a show-er of gifts from the twenty close friends and relatives who were present. Mrs. Oglesby was assisted by her mother, Mrs. J. C. Hooten in serving.

Dr. and Mrs. T. M. Rowlett, who have been visiting their brothers, Messrs. C. B. and J. P. Rowlett here, have gone to Blackstone, Va., en route to their home in Kirksville, Mo.

Misses Eloise and Maria Garrett, Durham, and Misses Annie Lee Bynum and Eleanor Bizzell, of Goldsboro, are attending the house party of Miss Louise Hooker, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hooker.

Fleming-Griffin Nuptial Vows Spoken In Chapel Ceremony

H. Fleming, a brother; I. J. Edwards Jr., of Greenville; Connor Merritt of Greenville; and Dallas L. Alford Jr., brother-in-law of the bride of Rocky Mount.

Mrs. Griffin wore for her daughter's wedding a dove-brown lace gown with a corsage of cymbidium orchids. The bridegroom's mother was attired in French blue lace designed over grey taffeta. She wore a purple orchid.

Mrs. Miles C. Glenn, grandmother of the bride, chose a navy blue chiffon gown with lace and rhinestone trim and a corsage of white orchids. The bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. W. A. Matthews, wore a gown that combined pink lace and linen with a corsage of white orchids.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held on the terraced porch and lawn of Benvenue Country Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Fleming left later in the evening for a bridal trip to Bermuda and upon their return they will make their home at 519 Hill Street, this city. For traveling the bride chose a black sheer crepe dress with black and white linen coat accessories of black and the orchid from her fan.

Mrs. Fleming received her early education in the city schools, was graduated from Rocky Mount High School and received her degree at Salem College, Winston-Salem, where she was a member of the May court for three years, served as maid of honor one of the years and was selected for membership in "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities." She holds membership in the local Sigma Delta Alpha sorority and made her debut to North Carolina Society at the 1946 Annual Debutante Ball. She is a member of the Rocky Mount Junior Guild.

Mr. Fleming was graduated from Greenville High School and received the B.S. degree in Commerce from the University of North Carolina in the 1949 class where he was a member of Phi Gamma Delta social fraternity. He served two years with the U.S. Navy in World War II. Mr. Fleming is now associated in business with the Carolina Office and Equipment Company here.

Have Mobile Toy Lending System

GLENDALE, Calif. (AP) — Youngsters of Glendale now boast of a mobile toy lending library and a "toyarian" to manage it.

The Tuesday Afternoon Club Juniors bought a trailer, renovated and decorated it, and youngsters of 23 elementary schools contributed 2,500 toys for the library.

The young set have regular borrower's cards, are graded on their treatment of the toys and they can graduate to bigger, more expensive toys, or even long term periods to use them.

Ayden Rotarians Install New Officers At Friday Meeting

By CHESTER WALSH
AYDEN—Garland I. Bullock was installed president of the Ayden Rotary Club last Friday night, succeeding Ralph Hardee.

Past District Governor J. Howard McGinnis of Greenville inducted the new president and other officers and directors.

Paul Taylor is vice-president; Roy Turnage Jr. is president-elect (for next year); McDonald Edwards is secretary; Warren Kinlaw is treasurer; Frank Peterson, Corey Stokes and Ralph Hardee are new directors; Bob Denton is sergeant-at-arms; and Norman Dall is assistant sergeant-at-arms.

Wilbur Ormond presented a past president's emblem pin to retiring President Ralph Hardee. Rotarian Bob Booth, who served as president of the Ayden Rotary Club from July, 1943, to October, 1943, and whose term was interrupted by services during World War II, was given a past president's emblem pin. Dr. McGinnis received a gift after the installation exercises.

Before turning over the gavel to the new president, President Hardee briefly reviewed the work of the club the past year, and thanked the members for cooperation. He commended the committee, headed by Mrs. Mary Ann Hardee, for providing meals for the club during the year.

Secretary McDonald Edwards reported that the Ayden Rotary Club now has 39 members; that the club has held 18 100 percent attendance meetings during the 11 months, and that the average for the year was 97.20 per cent.

Retiring Treasurer Harry Stillman reported that on July 1, 1952, the club had a balance of $260.36, and collected $3,353.99, for a total of $3,614.35. Expenditures were $3,220.30, leaving a balance of $394.05, and a $100 U.S. Bond, valued at $94.50.

Bob Booth reported that the tennis court is ready for play.

Wilbur Ormond, institutional representative for Boy Scouts, reported that two boys from Pitt District are to attend the Boy Scout Jamboree in California this summer. They are Sonny Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kirby H. Smith of Ayden, and Bert Worthington, son of Lloyd Worthington of Winterville. Mark McLawhorn of Winterville is to be an adviser in charge of a Scout patrol, by citizens of Winterville. Bill Moore reported that Bob Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson of Ayden, also is registered to attend the Jamboree. Retiring President Hardee's last official act was to appoint Theibert Worthington, McDonald Edwards, Clay Stroud Jr., Corey Stokes and J. R. Taylor members of a committee from the Rotary to cooperate with other agencies to organize a chamber of commerce in Ayden.

Leslie Stocks announced that Boy Scouts will sell tickets to a movie and receive a percentage of the profits. Rotarian Hal Edwards, theater manager, said the picture, "When I Grow Up," will be shown July 17, and he will give the Scouts 25 per cent of the profits.

McDonald Edwards won the "on time" prize; Roy Turnage Sr., the "fellowship" prize. Guests of the club were Goodwin Moore, Ed Gagnon and Dewey Piquay, Farmville Rotarian. Warren Kinlaw led the singing of Rotary songs and Wilbur Ormond was accompanist at the piano.

Shape Of Future Is No Longer A Secret

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY and Jane Russell didn't do to develop bustline consciousness a fellow named Christian Dior and his in the fashion world, but not in the realistic end of the business that shapes figures.

Look at enough new foundation garments and you can predict what you'll look like in your clothes next season. You'll know whether to plan for a big squeeze in the middle, a snug fit in the derriere or an accent on front curves.

Velm Cox is predicting the emphasis on curves above the waist. She paused for an interview in the midst of a two-week session of girdle and bra buying.

"Never so much attention on brassieres as this year," said the buyer for a Buffalo, N. Y., department store. "Women are more brassiere-conscious than girdle-conscious today. And the new clothes will make them even more so."

Seems what the sweater girl days dress, but they match color wardrobes of girdles and bras," she said.

Which brings us back to the forecast.

"A long-line brassiere that reaches to the top of the girdle is the biggest thing for fall," said Miss Cox. "This indicates a lot of snug-fitting midrifts in fall dresses. Long girdles, to give a smooth-lined line, are on the increase too, so the sheath dress is here to stay for another season."

Auto Oil Change Advice Revised By API Division

DALLAS, Tex. (U.P.)—The American Petroleum Institute's marketing division, which long has recommended that automobile owners change their oil every 1,000 miles, has revised its stand somewhat.

Now the API recommends intervals varying from every 500 miles to every 2,000 miles, depending on the type of driving.

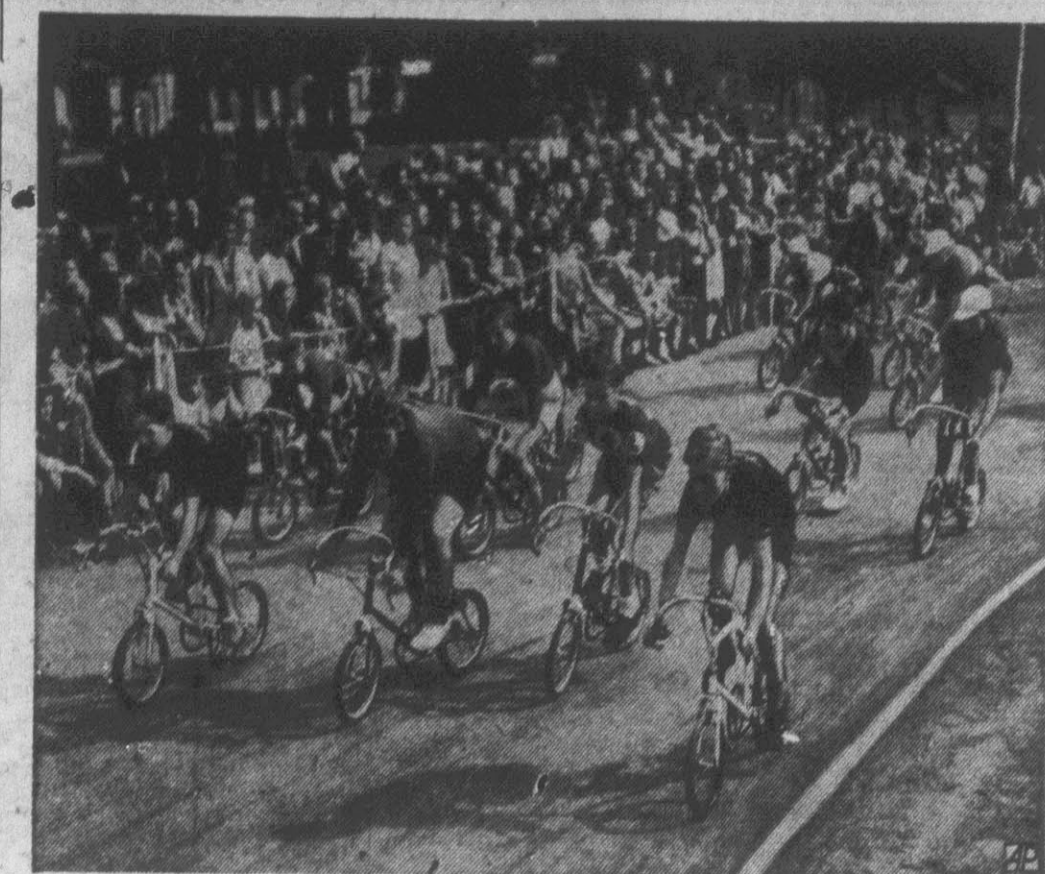

Its three classifications are "city and suburban driving," for which it still recommends a change every 1,000 miles; "dusty or cold weather driving," for which it recommends an oil change every 500 miles, and "open highway driving," for which it recommends changing each 2,000 miles.

The recommendation of the marketing division's lubrication committee defines the three types this way:

City and suburban driving — "This represents the ordinary use of the family car or light truck mainly on short run, start and stop service on paved roads under moderate air temperatures. It also includes some long distance travel at normal speeds. It has been determined that at least two-thirds of passenger car driving is under these conditions."

Other Types

Dusty or cold weather driving — "Vehicle operation in freezing or sub-freezing weather, especially in start and stop driving with much engine idling, is one form of severe or adverse service. The hours that the engine operates or idles rather than the miles that the car is driven is the important factor affecting oil contamination. Crankcases should be drained after not over 60 days or 500 miles of travel. In extreme cases, more frequent

JUNIOR CYCLISTS—Berlin school children take part in a bicycle race over a 656-foot course specially built for youngsters to keep them out of dangerous city traffic.

Old Taxicabs Of Vienna As Fabulous As The City

VIENNA U.P.)—The rather amazing taxicab service of Vienna—the cars are mostly models ranging from 1912 to 1920—is in the process of being revitalized by the addition of 100 used sedans bought from surplus U.S. Army stocks.

Vienna's 1,300 taxis are a marvel of the modern world, far surpassing London, Rome and Paris vintage models on all counts.

A few have to be hand-cranked. Even those with self-starters often are hand-cranked to save precious batteries. Upholstery and trimming have long since been substituted by horse blankets, pieces of cardboard—or just bare boards.

But the otherwise grim, shaky interior is—as in many London taxis—brightened by the addition of a vase or two of live flowers. Verified anecdotes concerning Vienna's taxis, some operating continuously since before World War I, are legion and are usually of the Mack Bennett variety. Prayer Helps

Customers have been known to open rear doors and have them come off in their hands. Batteries on some models, slung under the chassis, have dropped off while cars were en route. The drivers, usually cheerful walrus-moustached, leatherhatted ancients, stop with no comment walk back retrieve them and carry on.

The meters are calibrated to the value of the Austrian schilling of 25 years ago when a groschen—100 to the schilling—was worth something. One schilling is now worth 338 cents U.S., a groschen .0038 cents.

But the taxis have survived two world wars and vicissitudes. Their drivers are philosophical and can make out fine today in English, French and Russian.

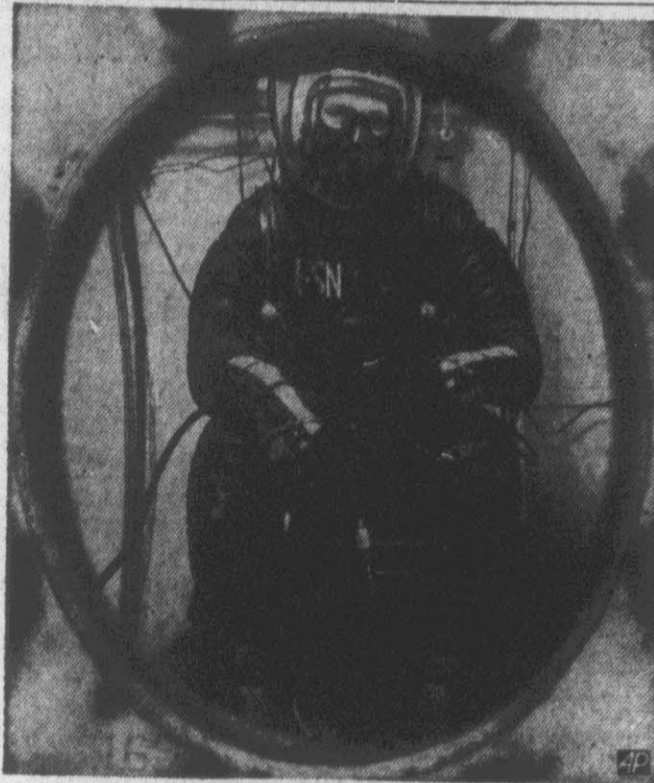

Some drivers have turned down the offer to buy second-hand American surplus cars on the grounds they burn too much gasoline and "are too difficult to repair."

LONG AND SHORT CHICAGO (U.P.)—A recent check shows that Chicago can boast of the longest and shortest streets in the nation—until some other city puts in a claim. The longest uninterrupted street is Western Avenue, 23 1-2 miles; the shortest is Longmeadow Avenue, 31.6 feet.

NEW YORK (UP) — Al Lopez and his Indians headed west today with a five-game winning streak and the happy assurance that the leading Yankees aren't the "supermen" they were cracked up to be.

"I've said all along, even when the Yankees were at their hottest, that it was much too early to start conceding them the pennant," Lopez said Sunday after Cleveland had beaten New York, 4-1, to sweep their three-game series and cut the Yankees' lead to six games.

"I don't think the Yankees are cracking and I'm not counting them out yet by a long shot, but I know now we have a good chance to catch them. Sweeping this series was the best thing that's happened to us."

Just a week ago the Indians trailed the Yankees by 11 1/2 games in what seemed to many a futile chase. There were rumblings that the runaway race was ruining attendance around the league. But the Yankees' seven-game losing streak and three key men named Luke Easter, George Strickland and Art Houtteman have boosted the Indians' hope considerably.

Easter, returning to action after a broken foot, has provided a big bat to take the pressure off Larry Doby and Al Rosen; Strickland has tightened Cleveland's infield defense immeasurably; and Houtteman is a capable fourth starting pitcher for the heavy schedule ahead.

Rosen's three-run, first-inning homer and Early Wynn's masterful three-hit pitching were the big factors in prolonging the misery of the Yankees Sunday. Wynn, who achieved his seventh victory, also contributed a bases-empty homer in the fourth and had a one-hitter going until the Yankees scored in the seventh on a walk Johnny Mize's double and Yogi Berra's single.

While the Indians were tightening the American League race, the Dodgers regained first place in the National League by one game when they completed a three-game sweep of their series with the Braves. Russ Meyer pitched a four-hitter as the Dodgers won, 11-1, and extended the Braves' losing streak to seven games. Lefty Warren Spain lasted less than three innings as the Dodgers exploded with 16 hits, including Gil Hodges' two-run homer.

The Phillies remained within four games of first place by edging the Cardinals, 4-3, in 11 innings; the Giants trimmed the Cubs, 12-2, with the help of Jim Hearn's six-hit pitching; and the Redlegs swept a double header from the Pirates, 4-1 and 9-2, in other National League games.

In the American White Sox moved to within 6 1/2 games of the Yankees by walloping the Red Sox, 13-4; the Tigers won the nightcap of a double header from the Senators, 5-1, after losing the opener, 5-2; and the Athletics also gained a split with the Browns, winning the second game, 2-1 after dropping the opener, 4-1. Carl Scheib pitched a four-hitter for the A's in the nightcap and drove in the winning run in the ninth with a single.

Jim Konstanty pitched six shut-out relief innings as the Phils edged the Cards in the 11th on Granny Hamner's double, a sacrifice, and Mel Clark's infield out. Ray Jablonski hit a homer and triple for St. Louis.

Jim Rivera and Minnie Minoso hit home runs and Harry Dorish came to the relief of starter Virgil Trucks in the seventh as the White Sox swept to their seventh straight triumph and their 14th in the last 16 games.

In other outstanding performances Sunday, Fred Baczewski pitched a five-hitter and Ken Rafensberger a four-hitter, and Gus Bell hit a homer in each game in extending the Redlegs' winning streak to five. Clint Courtney made six hits in eight times at bat, including a homer and triple, for the Browns; and Walt Masterson of the Senators and Billy Hoelt of the Tigers swapped eight-hit victories in their twin bill split.

Sexias Favored In Match Today

WIMBLEDON, Eng. (UP) — Vic Seixas was favored to defeat 18-year old Lewis Hoad and advance into the semi-finals of the Wimbledon tennis championships today but Art Larsen's quest for glory was expected to end at the hands of Mervyn Rose.

Seixas, 29-year old second-ranked U. S. player, and Larsen, 28-year old southpaw from San Leandro, Calif., are the only Americans still in the running. They cannot make the finals an all-American affair because both are in the upper half of the draw.

Jaroslav Drobny of Egypt meets Sven Davidsson of Sweden and Kurt Nielsen of Denmark faces top-ranked Ken Rosewall of Australia in the lower half of the quarter-finals draw.

In addition to the men's quarter-finals, there will be only a mixture of men's, women's and mixed doubles matches on the program.

In the women's division, Maureen Connolly of San Diego, Calif., heads a contingent of five quarter-finalists. The quarter-final draw will be filled by the winner of a match between Great Britain's Angela Mortimer and Mrs. M. C. Cheadle. Miss Connolly is seeking to repeat as Wimbledon champion.

Umpire Retires From American

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — Umpire Douglas (Scotty) Robb of the American League retired today after five years in the National League and one in the American League and one in the American League since then.

Robb ended his career after Sunday's double header here between the St. Louis Browns and the Philadelphia A's. He had served in the National League from 1947 until May, 1952, and in the American League since then.

GOT THE HEAVE
DENVER (AP) — Manager Andy Cohen of the Denver Bears has been in baseball since 1925, including a hitch for the New York Giants under John McGraw. But this is the first time it ever happened to him.

He was thumbed out of a game this year for jawing with the plate umpire—and his Western League club hadn't even come to bat.

Feminine Touch Added To Bouts

MAE YOUNG

There'll be glamor galore on the Hardee-Worthington weekly wrestling card Wednesday night at the New Enterprise Warehouse in Greenville.

Two gorgeous girl wrestlers will display their wares in one of two feature bouts. Mae Young, one of America's best girl athletes, having played football (with the boys) and baseball. She is, well—rather rough in the ring. She's fiery, hot! And the cute Miss Gloria Bartint, who gave up a career in music to enter the wrestling game, is one of the favorite TV women wrestling beauties.

The men's main event will pit the popular Matt Murphy against Charro Aztec, the rough-tough Mexican. This bout, as well as the Young-Bartint, is scheduled for two best out of three falls with a 60-minute time limit.

The opening match will send Bill Zimm against George Harbin—two bullies. Zimm is noted for his moustache, Colonel George for his goatee. Another rough character, Al Getz from Pittsburgh, will meet Bob Hawk who will be appearing in Greenville for the first time.

Miss Rawls Wins National Crown

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (UP) — Betsy Rawls, of Spartansburg, S. C., credited her short game today for helping to make possible her second Women's National Open triumph in three years.

Miss Rawls fired a three-under-par 71 Sunday to beat Jackie Pung of Hawaii by six strokes in an 18-hole playoff round.

Playing a short game as she chipped and putted her way to four birdies while going over par only once, Miss Rawls' round tied the course record for women set by Patty Berg, who wound up third, last Thursday.

Canning a five-foot putt on the 447-yard second hole for a birdie, Miss Rawls took a quick lead when Mrs. Pung was forced to two-putt for a par and never relinquished it. She won $2,000 first prize money and a silver trophy supplied by the U. S. Golf Association.

Lindell Jinxed—Hits Homeruns and Loses

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Johnny Lindell, ex-New York Yankee outfielder who has turned into a knuckleball pitcher for the Pittsburgh Pirates, is quite an adept hitter but he's beginning to think he's jinxed when it comes to hitting home runs.

In his first game of the year, Lindell hit a homer and lost a 4-2 decision to the Brooklyn Dodgers. On May 29 he smashed another homer—and lost 7-4 to the Dodgers.

On both occasions the Brooklyn pitcher was Russ Meyer.

WILLIAMS ONCE PITCHED
BOSTON (AP) — Ted Williams, great Red Sox hitting star now doing his hitting chores for the Air Force in Korea, is in one official box score as a pitcher. On Aug. 24, 1940 against Detroit, Ted hurled the last two innings of the first game of a double header. He allowed three hits and one run. Joe Heving was the losing twirler in the game won by the Tigers, 12-1.

Grid Coaches Hit By Platoon Loss

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP) — Players may not be the only ones affected by the abolition of the two-platoon system in football. The coaches may have their share of troubles, too.

Jackie Freeman, athletic director and head football coach at William and Mary, says he plans a reduction in the Tribe's coaching staff because of the return to the single platoon.

"While we needed two backfield coaches last year," Freeman says, "one for the defensive and one for the offensive backfield, we don't believe we'll need them this year."

"We only have so many hours of practice and the boys will be trying to play both ways. Therefore, we figure one coach can stay with them all the time and teach them both types of play."

Qualifying Rounds Begin For PGA Tourney Today

By LLOYD NORTHRAD
United Press Sports Writer
BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (UP) — Defending champion Jim Turnesa and eight other former titlists cast long eyes today on the $5,000 jackpot that goes to the winner of the Professional Golfers' Association tournament.

The grueling seven-day event gets underway Wednesday at the Birmingham Country Club in suburban Detroit.

As defending champion, Turnesa is exempt from the qualifying rounds that will trim the field to 64 for the start of match play on Friday.

But former winners Gene Sarazen, Sam Snead, Jim Ferrier, Chandler Harper, Henry Picard, Bob Hamilton, Denny Shute and Vic Ghezzi will have to battle it out with 131 other hopefuls to reach the match play phase.

Sarazen won the championship three times, in 1922, 1923 and 1933. Snead captured the title in 1942 and again in 1961. Shute won in 1936 and 1937.

Picard claimed the crown in 1939, Ghezzi in 1941, Hamilton in 1944, Ferrier in 1947 and Harper in 1950. The qualifying rounds consist of 18 holes each on Wednesday and Thursday. Host pro Ray Maguire predicts that a total of 145 will be sufficient to advance.

Then comes "Black Friday," when two 18-hole match play rounds will slice the field to 16. Four successive days at 36 holes will produce the winner.

Birmingham is one of the shortest courses ever to host a major tourney. It measures only 6,465 yards and par is 36-35-71. But it is perfectly suited to match play, down to a point where the rough becomes almost as playable as the fairway.

Robert Trent Jones, the golf architect who revamped nearby Oakland Hills so completely for the National Open two years ago that only two rounds below 70 were scored, has been on the job at Birmingham, too.

Work Progressing On Park Project

Soliciting for the South Greenville Park fund goes into its final stages this week as construction on the playground nears completion.

A total of $1,675 has been acquired thus far against a goal of $3,000. Officials of the park committee announced this morning that this would be the last week that aid would be asked of the local merchants. Only a house-to-house canvass remains for the solicitors.

Work on the project will probably be completed within two weeks. A regulation sized baseball diamond of the Little League calibre, tennis courts, and basketball courts are being constructed at the present time.

If anyone wishes to offer financial or manual aid, they are asked to contact John Bizzell, P. W. Moore, Mrs. Mary Moore, Mrs. Mildred Thompson, or Mrs. Virgil Meekins. They may be contacted by dialing phone number 3044 or 5409.

Santee Fails In Record Effort

DAYTON, O. (UP) — A long trip to Europe was in store for several stars of the national AAU track meet today, while for others it was just back to work.

Walt Davis, the former Texas star who leaped six feet, 11 1/2 inches for a new world's high jump record Saturday, said he would return home to Houston and go back to work.

Wes Santee of Kansas, who was out to run a four-minute mile at the 66th annual meet but failed, looked forward for new worlds to conquer. "I hope I can latch onto one of those European tours so I can keep running for the four-minute mile," he said.

Santee still managed, however, to smash the AAU mark in 4:07.6. Some 7,500 spectators also saw Fortune Gordon set a new AAU discus record with a heave of 183 feet, 9 1/2 inches; Don Las, pole vault co-champion for the second straight year, settled for a tie with George Matos of the U. S.; Air Force at 14 feet, one inch; Charlie Capozzoli of the New York AC established a new AAU mark of 14.28.2 in the three-mile event and Horace Ashenfeller, also of the New York AC, came through in the two-mile steeplechase with a 10:02.5, more than nine seconds better than the old mark.

Middlecoff Wins Carling Tourney

WILLOUGHBY, O. (UP) — Victory in a tense playoff where $600 rode on every shot proved today that dentist Gary Middlecoff, of Memphis, Tenn., is set for the PGA golf tournament starting Wednesday.

Collins' ring career came to a decisive close at Boston Garden Thursday night when Teddy (Red Top) Davis of Hartford, Conn., won a final round technical knockout.

But the die was cast 61 days before. In a nationally televised bout, Collins was floored 10 times as he sought to win the crown of lightweight champion Jimmy Carter.

Mae, Tommy's wife, had said after the beating he took from Carter, that she never would ask him to quit the ring. "Fighting is his life," she said.

After the Davis victory and Valenti's advice that Tommy quit the ring, she said: "Now the decision is made, and I'm sure Tommy wants it that way, I'm happy."

Smith's Death Will Change Political History In State

By LYNN NISBET

RALEIGH, June 29—The death of Senator Willis Smith may well have as much influence upon political developments in North Carolina as did the death of Senator J. M. Broughton four years ago.

There is great similarity in the circumstances. Both Senators died of heart attacks without previous warning of danger, so far as the public knew. Both came during the first half year of a Governor's administration, imposing upon the chief executive the unexpected responsibility of choosing a Senator even before he had completed long anticipated scheduled appointments.

There can be no doubt that Senator Broughton's death and the appointment of Dr. Frank Graham in his place had tremendous effect upon the administration of Governor Kerr Scott.

Necessity now for Governor William Umstead to name a man to serve for less than 18 months, in an office that will be filled by vote of the people within less than a year, places upon him a tremendous burden. If he names a man whom the people decline to retain, the defeat will result in loss of prestige for the Governor—just as the defeat of Senator Graham did for Governor Scott. The defeat of Senator Umstead in 1948 did not affect Governor Gregg Cherry's prestige, because the defeat came in the same primary at which Cherry's successor was named. (Technically, of course, the elections do not come until November, but for practical purposes the Democratic primaries in May and June are controlling.)

To greater degree than in most problems facing him now, the Governor is not only selecting an immediate official but may be deciding some important questions for the future. For that reason there is considerable pressure being brought upon him to appoint someone not likely to be a candidate for election next year, thus permitting the appointee to get right on the job and leaving the field open to others who aspire to run.

Another factor now is that necessity for choosing a Senator may require revision in the prospect lists for other offices. The prospective list from which selection may be made includes practically every prominent political figure east of Greensboro. It is rather generally conceded that the appointment will go to the east. While the east-west rotation has been pretty well ignored with respect to other offices, it has not been broken for the Senate.

Opinion has prevailed for some time that Frank Taylor of Goldsboro, who served well as the Governor's legislative counsel, can have anything he wants. After Taylor there are a dozen probabilities of about equal rating as prospective appointees and candidates. In the field of interim appointment prospects there are several others. Interest is keener in the candidates than in the appointee. Heading the list is Kerr Scott of Haw River, who had been regarded as an almost certain opponent of Smith. He is counted upon to stay in the running unless and until some other candidate whom he can support with enthusiasm gets in.

Next most likely candidate is Harold Cooley, representative from the fourth district. Cooley is known to have given serious thought to the matter while Smith was still in, and is expected to be more interested now. He would be reluctant to give up the chairmanship of the powerful committee on agriculture in any event.

A goat has been known to fight off a leopard which sought to kill it.

own district or in the state at large he would take the state level. He would have strong support from the farm group and has not incurred the bitter enmity of any other segment.

L. Y. Ballentine, commissioner of agriculture, is a definite prospect. He also would have strong farm support, and it is not likely that he would enter a race in which it looks like the Democrats will recapture control of Congress. But he has been quoted as saying that if he had to face a real contest in his district, he would be ready to enter. One of the three, possibly two of them, is almost sure to run. It is not likely that all three will.

There are recurring reports from the Piedmont section that J. Melville Broughton, Jr., son of the former Governor and Senator, and an assistant campaign manager for Governor Umstead last year, has strong backing. The dopesters have it that Mel Broughton would incur less opposition by reason of having been appointed than would most of the others suggested, although speculation deals more with the idea of his candidacy unencumbered by duties of the office.

Other names which have figured in gossip about appointment and candidacy are Fred Royster of Henderson, John G. Dawson, Alton Lennon of Wilmington and Julian Albrook of Roanoke Rapids.

Solution of Saturday's Puzzle

Once Thought Korea To Be A Week-End Affair

By EARNEST HOBERECHT United Press Staff Correspondent SEUL, UP—When the truce talk first began nearly two years ago, United Nations correspondents going to Munsan were told to "take along enough clothes for a week."

Many of us here recall that bit of advice every time we begin to get overly optimistic about the possibilities of a truce in Korea. Today, there are some signs of hope, some slight indications that perhaps a little progress is being made in the latest of many Korean truce crises. These small steps forward should not be permitted to hide the very real obstacles that remain.

For example, even if the United States' delegation here completely win, over South Korean President Syngman Rhee, who is going to be done about all those North Korean prisoners he turned loose?

The best Korean and American sources here agree there is virtually no chance at all of getting those men back into prison camps. This being the case, what is Gen. Mark W. Clark going to say in reply to Communist demands for an explanation of their release?

The Reds have steadily demanded a return of these prisoners. Will they agree to a truce if the J.M. is unable to give back these men, who now are scattered among the civilian populace?

Assuming that the U.N. and the U.S. Korea can solve their differences and agree on truce terms acceptable to them, what are the possibilities of Communist acceptance?

Most Americans here feel it would be very difficult to get the Communists to change any part of the armistice document, which already has been tentatively approved by both sides. If that's right, it doesn't leave much room for maneuvering. Almost all of the document has been given the nod by each set of delegates.

As a matter of fact, everything was settled, including the cease fire line. A truce really was "just around the corner." As the GIs said, "we had it cold." But once again, just when everybody was optimistic and thought there would be a truce by June 25, the third anniversary of the war, the bottom fell out of their hopes as had happened repeatedly during the course of the long negotiations.

Syngman Rhee has offered two alternative plans as his price for acceptance of an armistice.

The first calls for a security pact with the United States and the immediate withdrawal of both U.N. and Chinese Communist forces. Most observers believe this plan is most unlikely to be acceptable to either the U.N. or the Communists.

Rhee's second plan calls for the security pact and a three-month limit on the political conference which is to allow the armistice plan observers believe this plan offers more hope.

TO KISS, OR KILL

Chapter 35 Harper continued, "Ebbing's money dribbled away in large chunks on a long series of girls like Cherry Marvin, Mancatochski's commission and subsequent death were godsend to him. And that's where we came in. Your inheritance was taxable, of course. We were interested in that angle. But what we were primarily interested in were the negotiations in progress at the time of Mancatochski's death. Nothing could be done until the proper heir had been settled. Ebbing, as we know, located you almost immediately, and his daughter laid the groundwork for the steal he planned by marrying you and, ostensibly, becoming your legal heir."

"Now about those patents and processes, Mandell." Mandell asked, "They're good?" "Top drawer." "The country can use them?" "It can?" "Then why drag out the conversation? Take them. With love. They're yours. And mail me a dollar sometime. Just to make it legal." Harper restraped his briefcase. "We'll do better than that, Barney. A lot better. There's only one thing about this affair that still puzzles me." "What's that?" Inspector Carlton asked. "I can see how, with Mandell dead and Gale as his supposed legal heir, they could get away with the money of his they'd stolen. But why not kill him outright?" "Too risky," Carlton said. "Ebbing was too smart for that." "But why convince him he's crazy and tuck him away for two years?" "There," Inspector Carlton admitted, "you have me. That's stuck me from the start." Standing up Rosemary walked over to the chair in which Gale was sitting, and stood looking down at the other girl. "I think I can answer that. Barney's the dumbest

R. A. Butler Looms As 'Next In Line'

LONDON (UP) — Chancellor of the Exchequer R. A. Butler took charge of Britain's Conservative government today, strengthening the belief he may become prime minister if Winston Churchill's "general fatigue" persists for more than a month.

The cabinet met here today, with Butler presiding, presumably to discuss the 78-year old prime minister's condition. Some routine matters also were slated for discussion.

Churchill, under doctor's orders to rest for at least a month, was relaxing at Chartwell, his country home in the green hills of Kent County. He is not bedridden, and has been reported joking and cheerful, but at his age any difficulty is a matter of concern.

Capt. Christopher Soames, a Churchill son-in-law, said last night the prime minister's condition does not seem to be very serious.

"His condition is not such that it is likely to deteriorate or to improve from day to day," Soames said when asked for a late report on his father-in-law's health.

"He is simply suffering from general fatigue, which is probably more mental than physical."

Churchill's weariness already has forced postponement of the scheduled Big Three meeting in Bermuda for a month, and the cabinet seemed certain to be reorganized this fall—if not sooner.

The situation was complicated by the fact that Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, Churchill's chosen political heir, has been ill for months. He is now in the United States, convalescing from a recent operation in Boston.

In Eden's absence, Butler was considered the Conservative leader most likely to succeed the aging prime minister if his health should make it impossible for him to return to active direction of the government.

Actress Sarah Churchill, a daughter of the prime minister, was flying from the United States to visit him. She denied before leaving New York that her trip was connected with his health. Miss Churchill was here a few weeks ago for the coronation.

Thump, Squeeze, But Don't Plug That Watermelon

STARKVILLE, Miss (U.P.) — Dr. S.S. Ivanoff is one Ph.D. who knows his watermelons. In fact, the professor is considered by many the world's champion watermelon thumper.

Ivanoff has come up with a "sure-fire" five-step method for picking out ripe, juicy melons. And the old-fashioned plugging — cutting a hole in the melon — has no place in his scientific system.

Here's how:

Thumping heads the list in Ivanoff's method. You listen for that "good, solid" tone. The other four steps:

- (1) Grab the melon with both hands, command silence, and then squeeze. If you hear a "cracking" sound, it's ready to eat.
- (2) Look at the small piece of stem left. If it's "dried up," the melon's ripe.
- (3) Examine the spot on the melon where it has been resting on the ground. If the spot is white, the fruit is green. If it's slightly yellowish, it's ripe.
- (4) Observe the "cast" or overall color. A green melon has a dull, grayish finish. A ripe one becomes shiny.

Came From Africa

Ivanoff comes by his reputation as a melon thumper honestly. He's a plant pathologist at Mississippi State College's Agricultural Experiment Station and currently he is engaged in research trying to develop better watermelons.

Ivanoff has run across some rather odd facts. For instance, he says people in Chicago prefer the Black Diamond type of melon, which is solid green and round. Folks in Memphis lean toward the Garrison, which is long and striped.

Scientists ballyhooed the development of a seedless watermelon, but Ivanoff doubts the discovery will ever be a money-maker. He believes people get too big a kick splitting out the seeds.

The watermelon came to this country from Africa, presumably brought over by slaves. The two principal types grow wild in Africa. They look exactly the same, but one is sweet and the other is bitter to eat. Only way to tell the difference is to pop a chunk in to your mouth.

LOS ANGELES (UP) — Miss Jennie Long, who celebrated her 103rd birthday Sunday has a three-point formula for living to a ripe old age:

Loyalty Probes Are Topic In NEA Meet

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (UP) — The "loyalty" controversy involving the teaching profession was quickly brought before the mammoth, 32nd annual convention of the National Education Association here.

Dr. Walter P. Tunks, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Akron, O., attacked congressional investigating committees and overzealous patriots in his address before an opening vespers service yesterday.

"Teachers and preachers have much in common today—we are both under suspicion," he said.

Some 8,000 teachers, principals and other educators on hand from throughout the United States, Hawaii and Puerto Rico overflowed 70 beachfront hotels of this resort city.

The delegates got down to business of the six-day conferences with numerous departmental discussions ranging from how to make mathematics interesting to pupils to how to improve educational public relations.

The National Council for Social Studies heard a morning address by Dr. Richard B. Keman, secretary of the NEA's defense commission, on "controversial issues in American life and their effect on the school curriculum."

Chancellor T. R. McConnell of the University of Buffalo, N.Y., was to give a lunch talk before the Association for Higher Education on "the major strengths and weaknesses of the general education movement."

The opening vespers service honored the NEA dead, and set a theme of "keeping faith in human brotherhood" for the convention by NEA President Mrs. Sarah C. Caldwell, an Akron school teacher.

"Far more to be feared than any radicalism in our schools is the tyrant that would force education into a straight-jacket," Tunks said.

He said that screening loyalties of education's ranks should be done locally "rather than by congressional committees which are too far removed from the facts and too often actuated by partisan politics."

Dr. Henry H. Hill, president of George Peabody Teachers College, Nashville, Tenn., will make a keynote address at the convention's first general assembly tonight.

Other speakers during the convention ending Saturday will include U. S. Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell, National Commander Lewis K. Gough of the American Legion, and editor Norman Cousins of the Saturday Review of Literature.

New Budapest Reflects Red Triumph; Populace Cowed

By EDWARD M. KERRY
United Press Staff Correspondent

BUDAPEST, Hungary (UP) — Rude changes strike the eye of the traveler returning to this capital of satellite Hungary after an absence of more than four years.

Catholic bishops wearing Communist red star decorations on their robes... shuttered or empty stores by the dozens... the secret police headquarters in the biggest new buildings... long queues outside pawn and food shops... one uniform for every three civilians.

They reflect the triumph of the Communists over the predominantly Catholic population, the victory of collectivism over a country of small shopkeepers and large landlords, the domination of the commissar over conscience.

At first sight, Budapest and Hungary may not make a bad impression. The ruins of war have been cleared away.

In their place are public parks and gardens. Many new buildings have been erected. A subway is under construction. Streetcars and buses trundle by and give an impression of bustle on the main intersections.

The blasts of sunlight on the cotton dresses of what have long been recognized as the most beautiful women in Europe is not an unpleasant experience. And there are a few Western style night clubs where a state, solicitous about the activities of foreigners, will be only too happy to supply a collectivized bar girl for the night free of charge.

Most important of all changes is the way the Communists have cemented their hold on the nation.

When I was here to attend the trial of Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty in February, 1949, militiamen walking in pairs and carrying coked tommyguns patrolled almost every street and avenue.

Soviet troops were also in plentiful evidence and the resentment of the population which had not yet forgotten the brutal and rapine entrance of the Red army in 1945 was bitterly acute. People talked of leaving—and not too discreetly—because it was then possible to buy your way out legally as well as sneaking across a frontier.

The church had not been cowed either. Mindszenty had been arrested; his confession had been published; the Communists congratulated themselves on how well the recitation in court had gone off.

But in the villages and the towns, there were priests who spat upon the ground trod by the local Red bosses and who urged their flocks to hold out.

The Jewish community, still one of the largest in Europe despite the terrible ravages of the Nazi occupation, had not yet felt the full disillusion of being governed by a Politburo, seven of whose members also were of Jewish origin.

The Communists played upon the blood relationship, anxious for whatever support they could win, however temporary, as they prepared for their big test against the West and the Vatican, a test that it won by forfeit at the trial of Cardinal Mindszenty.

Today the streets are guarded by ordinary city police aided silently by hundreds and thousands of plainclothesmen working for the secret political police (AVH). The militia of the AVH, a private army, stands watch at the radio station, the party headquarters, government ministries and many other places.

Surpass Goal In Cancer Crusade

Citizens of Greenville and Pitt County this year surpassed the quota set aside for the area in the 1953 Cancer Crusade by almost $500.

With a quota of $4,900, Pitt County citizens contributed $5,392.70 to the crusade, County Campaign Manager L.M. Buchanan reported today. The crusade was held during the month of April.

Both Manager Buchanan and Mrs. Bill Sermons, commander of the Pitt County Cancer Society, expressed themselves as being highly grateful to the several hundred lay workers who contributed time and effort to make both the

Peace Officers Adding Benefits For Members

Dental benefits are being offered for the first time to members of the Pitt County Peace Officers Protective Association following a meeting of the association's executive board here Friday.

The board has agreed to add dental benefits of up to $40 a year to each member and has provided for an extra $50 to sickness and accident benefits previously established.

This increases the amount it is possible for a member to receive for sickness and disease from $200 to $250 a year and boosts death benefits from the $750 now offered to $1,000.

The changes will become effective as of July 1 for the approximately 70 members of the association.

Meeting at the Pitt court house, the group appointed a committee, consisting of Greenville Police chief S.G. Gibbs, Pitt Sheriff Ruel Tyson, and Miss Sarah Jones, association secretary and treasurer, to draw up a constitution and by-laws for the association.

These by-laws are provided for in a recently-amended act, ratified by the Legislature on April 22, and adopted by the Pitt association Friday. The act amends prior provisions for the protective association by rewriting of the same.

Next regular meeting of the association board is next January at which time the constitution committee and educational aspects of the recent crusade an unqualified success.

Buchanan pointed out that there are now 10 cancer detection clinics in operation where free examinations may be obtained by both men and women. Rocky Mount is the closest clinic to the Pitt County area.

Community chairmen and the amounts contributed follow: Greenville, E. R. Conway Jr., $2,925.82; Ayden, Mrs. Frances Stillman, $719.50; Farmville, $550; Winterville, Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Worthington, $250.50; Bethel, Mrs. Leighton Blount, Jr., $308.50; Fountain, Mrs. R.F. mittee is slated to make its report.

Mayor Corey Stokes of Ayden presided Friday in the absence of Sheriff Tyson, and the amended act was read to the group by Mayor Walter Jones of Farmville.

Others present were Mayor W.L. Whedbee of Greenville, Police Chief Gibbs of Greenville, Chief L.T. Lucas of the Farmville police department, Mayor R.L. Martin of Bethel, and Miss Jones of the Pitt county sheriff's office.

Medal Of Honor Awarded Medic

WASHINGTON, (UP) — Sgt. David B. Bleak, an Army medical corpsman from Shelley, Ida., was awarded the medal of honor today for dauntless courage in fighting off enemy troops with his bare hands while he treated the wounded.

Bleak won the nation's highest award for heroism on June 14, 1952, while accompanying a reconnaissance patrol of the 40th Infantry Division against an enemy held hill near Minari-Gol, Korea. The citation gave this account of the nearly-incredible feats of bravery performed by the 20-year-old soldier.

As the patrol forged up the hill, it was subjected to intense enemy fire and suffered several casualties. After helping the wounded, Bleak continued to advance with the patrol.

Near the top of the hill, Bleak found himself cut off from a wounded man by hostile fire from three enemy troops concealed in a trench. He dashed into the trench, killed two of the Communists with his bare hands and a third with a trench knife.

As he moved out of the trench, Bleak saw an enemy grenade fall in front of a companion. With total disregard for his own personal safety, he threw himself in front of his companion exposing himself to the full force of the grenade blast. However he miraculously escaped injury.

Later, while aiding wounded the young medic was struck in the leg by an enemy machine gun bullet. Despite his own wound, he started carrying one of the other casualties to safety.

Coming down the hill with his heavy human burden, Bleak was attacked by two Communists who charged him with fixed bayonets. He grabbed the two with his bare hands, smashed their heads together, and carried his comrade to safety.

HAIRLESS CALF

AMELIA, Neb. (UP) — A calf born on the Glen White ranch near here, has no hair except a fringe around its shoulders. During the spring, the calf had to be kept in a barn because of the cold. This also will be necessary during hot weather to keep the animal from getting sunburned.

TEEN TALK

BY VIVIAN BROWN

A Newsfeature. chances are that you will find something of interest closer to home than you dream possible. Decide on the destination. Choose the shortest route, avoiding heavily traveled highways. Secondary roads are a lot safer.

This summer millions of cyclists over the world will experience great surges of pleasure, seeing things perhaps that would have been impossible by train, car or plane. Your bike can be a slide fastener over the land, opening up new, exciting vistas.

You can plan your bicycle hike as a short breakfast ride, overnight trip, weekend excursion and or extensive tours of your country. Some youngsters of college age have planned long cross-country hops of a 1000 miles, or more, some even venturing the difficult ocean-to-ocean journey.

The short breakfast ride is popular with many teen-agers. A lovely spot near town is selected and a sunrise start offers the advantage of early morning beauty and a full day. Take along coffee or milk, a skillet or frying pan, eggs, bacon, rolls and butter as well as paper cups and plates. Nothing beats a meal cooked outdoors over a camp fire.

A simple overnight bike hike that can be made with two, three or more pals is a lot of fun because an extra tire and tube and a hand pump on a long trip. Take lightweight clothing, food, sun-glasses, and a change to underwear, raincoat or poncho, first-aid kit, toothbrush, paste, towel and soap but don't overstock.

Your bike should be equipped with proper signalling devices, headlights, and reflector for night riding, and luggage and saddle bags for your equipment.

Girls who plan a trip should contact the American Youth Hostels who provide simple overnight accommodations for bike riders. Many hostels furnish separate bunkrooms and washrooms, a community kitchen for preparing food and a recreation room.

Teen-age girls should not camp out alone or travel on their bikes alone at night unless chaperoned.

Simple Services For Smith Rites

RALEIGH, (UP)—Sen Willis Smith was buried in Oakwood cemetery here yesterday after brief and simple funeral services attended by high state and national officials.

The Rev. Dr. Howard Powell, pastor of Edenton Street Methodist Church, officiated. He read the 23rd Psalm and characterized Smith as a "man of courage, honor and conviction...who worked for his country and gave his life for his country."

Smith, who died in Bethesda Naval Hospital near Washington Friday after a series of heart attacks, was the third U. S. senator from North Carolina to die in office since 1946. He was 65.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon led a party of 37 senators and U. S. representatives here for the funeral.

Nixon entered the church with Sen. Clyde R. Hoey (D-NC).

The official party from Washington left Raleigh by train last night. Gov. and Mrs. William B. Umstead and other state officials attended the services.

Also present was Dr. Frank P. Graham, United Nations mediator and a close personal friend of Smith, although he was Smith's opponent in a bitterly-fought primary in 1950.

Kefauvers Take Vacation In N.C.

MANTEO, N. C. (UP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) and his family began a vacation of "fishing and relaxation" on North Carolina's colorful outer banks today.

The Kefauvers arrived here Sunday and were met by North Carolina Secretary of State Thad Eure. Eure invited the former candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination to attend a showing of the famed drama "The Lost Colony"—portraying the fate of early settlers of Roanoke Island—and Kefauver said he and his family would attend the symphonic drama later in the week.

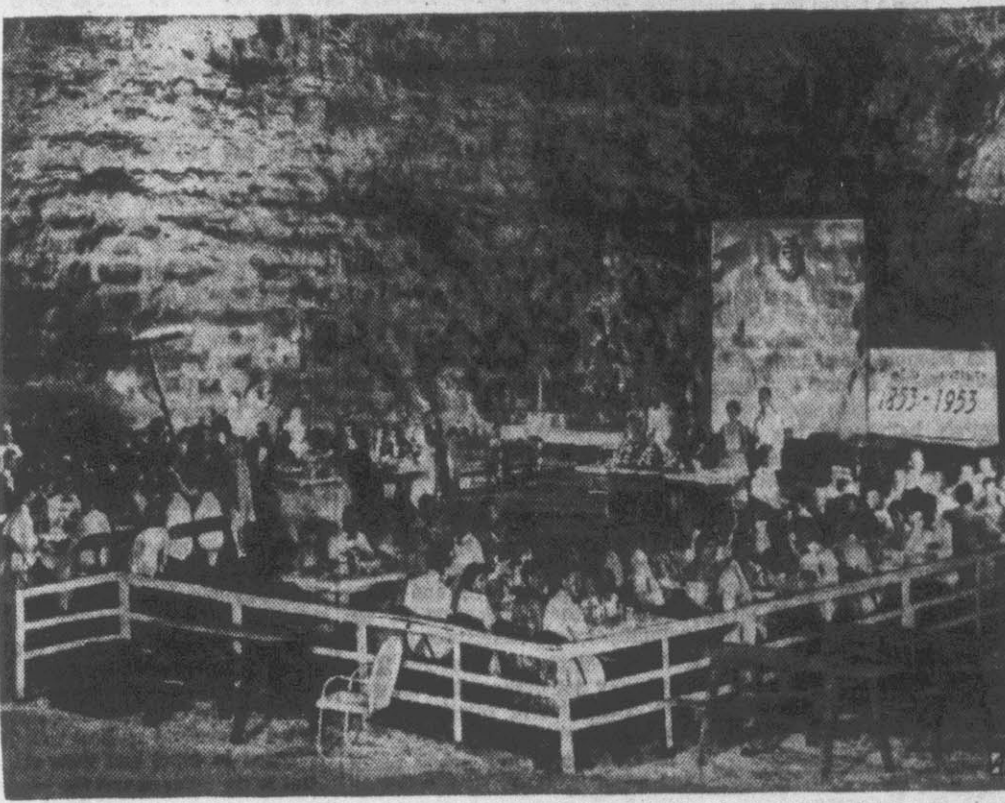

"In the meantime," he said, "we plan to do some fishing, visit the famous historical spots and just relax."

Will Rogers, Jr. Keeps Ties With Newspapers

By JACK GAVER
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP)—It seems that Will Rogers Jr. just can't get away from running a community weekly newspaper.

Early this year he sold the Beverly Hills (Calif.) Citizen, which he and his brother and sister bought in 1935. On July 1 he'll begin running a mythical weekly on a new dramatic series for the CBS radio network called "Rogers Of The Gazette."

"The idea of this program about a weekly newspaper editor and publisher just happens to be something into which I can fit," the former U. S. congressman explained. "If I couldn't I wouldn't be able to do it because I'm no actor and never will be."

Reminded that Warner Brothers has a new movie called "The Boy From Oklahoma" in which he plays the leading role, Rogers replied that he still maintained he was no actor.

"That also just happened to be a type of role and story I could do," he said.

It is the second film in which he has appeared. In the first, "The Story Of Will Rogers," he played the part of his late father.

"This weekly newspaper editor I'm going to play in the radio series is just a fellow about like me," he continued. "No journalistic ball of fire, say, but a man closely linked to his community and concerned with its problems."

"But he isn't going to be one of those men who fixes up everything for everybody. We hope it will be a warm, human interest type of show and stay out of the soap opera groove."

Rogers said that community in which the Gazette exists is called Ilyria and is probably in the heart of the Midwest, although no state will be specified.

"I'm not doing any of the writing on the program," he continued. "Gosh, I'm not equipped for that. You know, it's quite a job turning out a half-hour radio script. Of course, I'll have some say-so on the scripts about incidents and character and dialogue. As I said, I'm no actor, and if some of the speeches don't sound like something I would say naturally, we'll just change them until they are right for me."

Rogers said the Beverly Hills paper was sold when a really good offer came along this year because he "found in recent years that he was less and less able to devote a lot of time to it."

"And a paper of that type needs a lot of personal attention," he said. "You can't run it properly by remote control or in spasms of attention."

Scientists Tag Bugs In Studies

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—The University of Maryland extension service says U. S. Department of Agriculture scientists are "tagging" insects with radioactive materials to chart their life history and travels.

The "hot" bugs can be detected with Geiger counters, even when out of sight—for example, under the bark of a tree. Charting insect travels help entomologists in control work, the extension service says.

BIG BUSINESS

FREEPORT, Me. (UP)—L. L. Bean, famous Maine outfitter of outdoorsmen, does a $2,250,000 annual business from his headquarters in this small town.

There are about 10 million cattle and 19 million sheep in Great Britain.

Over 25,000 At Sing Gathering

LINVILLE (UP)—The 29th annual "Singing on the Mountain" at Grandfather Mountain near here attracted a crowd of more than 25,000 Sunday despite threatening weather, the highway patrol estimated today.

The day-long religious singing and preaching began at 8 a.m. under clearing skies at the base of the mountain. Some 50 singing and musical groups from North Carolina, Virginia and Tennessee participated in the program which was originated 29 years ago by Joe L. Hartley, 82, of Linville.

Metropolitan opera star Norman Cordon, facing the stony mass of Grandfather Mountain, led the huge gathering in singing "Rock of Ages." A brief period of silence was observed all over the wide meadows in memory of the late Sen. Willis Smith whose funeral was held in Raleigh yesterday.

Lt. Gov. Luther Hodges, making the principal address, praised the "Singing on the Mountain" program as one which seeks "to instill spiritual values in our people."

Hodges urged that the welfare of churches, schools, hospitals and communities be put ahead of personal interests and said these requirements should be demanded of all political leaders.

"If these things are done," he said, "we can cut down on the maiming and killing of our senators, governors and presidents."

NEW WCTU HEAD—Mrs. Glenn G. Hays, of Ransom, Kas., president-elect of Woman's Christian Temperance Union, will succeed Mrs. D. Leigh Colvin of New York.

Suspicious Land Five In Hospital

BOONE, N. C. (UP)—"Only a few cents' worth of gasoline landed five men in a hospital here."

Sheriff Earl D. Cook said Robert Miller, thinking three men who came to pay the small gas bill were burglars, shot G. C. Watson in the leg and combed Allie Watson and Ray Norris with a baseball bat.

"An ambulance speeding down a highway collided with a car in which Boone news photographer Palmer Blair was racing to the scene to get pictures. Blair, with a knee injury and the ambulance driver, with several rib fractures, went to the hospital, too."

Wild turkeys are found distributed from Canada south to Central America.

Tough Job Trying To Bolster Dollar

By LYLE C. WILSON United Press Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON (UP) - The Eisenhower administration is having a tough time trying to stanch the U. S. dollar, or buck, which has come more and more to resemble wilted lettuce, with purchasing power to match. The big labor unions, a platoon of Democratic senators and others have denounced the administration's effort to curb inflation as a plot to favor the banks - higher interest rates and such. Everybody likes money but mightily few understand it. And those who do usually are unable to explain money in terms which mean anything to the man in the street or to a newspaper reporter. But the street man knows his pork chops cost a lot more now than they did some years ago and that a fifteen-cent buy him a pay station-telephone call any more - at least not in this town. He can do some backtracking reasoning from that point to a conclusion that something must have happened to the dollar, because chops from hogs are unchanged in EMVOY TO BRAZIL - James S. Kemper, of Chicago, former treasurer of Republican National Committee, has been nominated by President Eisenhower as Ambassador to Brazil.

Stock And Market Reports

NEW YORK UP—Prices on the stock exchange early today moved aimlessly in slow dealings. Railroad shares stood out at the opening. However, just before noon they lost most of their buoyancy, losing most of their gains. Elsewhere, price changes were extremely small either way with a number of stocks holding at their previous close.

Market news continued on the dull side and investors generally held to the sidelines awaiting economic developments in Washington. As a result, sales in the first hour totaled only 160,000 shares, the same as in the first hour last Friday.

In the carriers, Denver & Rio Grande stood out with a gain of a point to 81 1/2. Southern Pacific and Union Pacific eased.

Steel shares did little in the main industrial group. Bethlehem Steel rose 1/4 to 51 1/2. U. S. Steel eased 1/4 to 38 1/2. Midland Steel Products fell a point to 41.

Amerasia Petroleum showed a point loss in its group. Standard Oil Co. (N.J.) held unchanged at 71 1/2.

Small gains were registered by American Cyanamid, Western Union, American Telephone and Goodrich.

Corn Remains Largest Crop In Pitt; 79,580 Acres Are Planted

RALEIGH—According to the preliminary summary of the January, 1953 Farm Census Survey there are 360,837 acres of farm lands, counting tracts of three acres and over, in Pitt County.

Crops were harvested in 1952 from 162,684 acres or 45 percent of the total farmland, while 3,106 acres of cropland were idle. There were 8,256 acres of improved pasture and 2,392 acres of other pasture in the county last year.

The principal harvested crop was corn taken from 79,580 acres, or 49 percent of the total harvested land. Next in order came tobacco from 39,211 acres, and cotton from 11,864 acres. Peanuts were harvested from 7,303 acres.

The rest of the farmland was planted to miscellaneous crops or was wooded or wasteland or used for home sites.

The county had living on these farms of three acres or more in January of this year 30,451 people. Animal life included: Hens and pullets, 146,779; cows and heifers two years and over 4,859, of which 2,976 were kept mainly for beef and 1,883 mainly for milk; sows and gilts scheduled to farrow between December and June 4,821.

The Farm Census is a co-operative venture of the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service and the County Commissioners. The information is gathered in each township in January and forwarded to Raleigh where it is tabulated, summarized and projected for average totals and released for publication.

Three Highway Wrecks In Pitt Over Weekend

Three highway accidents were investigated on Pitt County highways over the weekend by Highway Patrolmen.

A car driven by William Roger Mills, 16, of Route 3, Greenville, wrecked at the intersection of US 264 and Tenth Street Saturday afternoon around 3:30. Patrolman James W. Boykin reported.

Boykin said that the car driven by Mills was attempting to make a right turn, headed in the direction of Greenville and the car went out of control on the wet highway.

No charges were made. Damage to the car was placed at $250.

Two charges were made Saturday afternoon as the result of a two-car accident on NC 11, South of Greenville.

Kirby Harris Braxton, 28, of Route 2, Winterville, was charged with following too closely, after his automobile rammed into the rear of a car driven by Shelby Jean Wayne, 17, of Route 1, Greenville.

Damage was estimated at $200 to the Braxton car and none to the Wayne vehicle.

No injuries, Boykin reported. Considerable property damage resulted Sunday morning as the result of a three-car accident.

Cars driven by Joe Wilson, Jr., of Route 5, Greenville, age 29, and Roscoe Bunn, Jr., 22, of Route 1, Stokes, and Joseph Spain, 24, of Route 5, Greenville, were involved in the accident. Patrolman James Boykin reported.

Bunn was charged with careless and reckless driving as a result of investigation of the accident. His car rammed into the auto driven by Spain sending his car into the Wilson car.

While no injuries were reported, damage to the three cars was placed at over $400.

Details on a hit-and-run accident which occurred on NC 11 South of Greenville near the Winterville city limits were still being probed this morning.

Patrolman James Boykin reported that an unknown car struck a parked truck on the shoulders of the highway damaging the car and truck heavily.

Witness reported to the officer that the hit-and-run car was driven by a woman and was last seen headed in the direction of Greenville.

Army Will Drop 'Point System'

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Army plans to drop the rotation point system and establish a standard 16-month tour of duty for soldiers in Korea after a truce is reached, it was learned today.

The Army's manpower plans for a Korean truce were outlined recently to the Senate Appropriations Committee. Since then plans have been transmitted to Gen. Mark W. Clark, Far Eastern commander, to be put into effect after the shooting stops.

The present Korean rotation program would be maintained for 90 days after a truce, to allow the return of soldiers who have earned enough credit to be rotated home.

After the 90 day period, however, the Army policy will be that men assigned to Korea must serve a 16-month tour. The tour will be shortened for men who saw some combat before the truce.

The 16-month tour was selected by the Army as the maximum period of overseas service which can be expected from a two-year draftee, taking into account time spent on training, leave and transportation.

Under the present rotation system, which gives maximum credit to men in the front lines, infantrymen have been serving a tour of about 11 months. The tour has been longer for men in the support areas, who receive less rotation credits.

Driver Charged In Two Accidents

Charges of driving drunk and crashing a red light were lodged against a 55-year-old Negro driver over the weekend as the result of two automobile accidents in which he was involved.

Arrested was Linwood Woodard, 1601 West Fifth Street, City.

City police reports show that a car driven by Woodard was involved in an accident with one driven by Earl Neal Bray, 30, of 113 West 12th Street, City, at Fifth and Greene Streets about 9:30 Saturday night.

No injuries were reported but damage to both cars was placed at $175. Both drivers were charged with crashing a red light.

About three hours later, at 12:30, a car driven by Woodard was again involved in a traffic accident at Woodard and Dickinson Avenue.

Woodard's car was struck by one driven by Hither Exum of Route 2, Farmville.

Woodard was charged with operation under the influence. Damage to both cars was listed as $100.

Investigation was made by R. C. Gaudin.
