IF YOU MUST HAVE A GROUND FLOOR WINDOW OPEN, PLACE ASSORTED GLASSES, CUPS, ETC. ON THE SILL. THE NOISE OF THEIR CRASHING WILL SCARE AWAY AN INTRUDER.

ANSWER IT YOURSELF. I'M STANDING RIGHT HERE. OKAY, 3-D. HERE GOES.

KINCAID, DARLING! YOU MUST HAVE TAKEN A SLOW FREIGHT. WE'VE WAITED TWO DAYS!

YOU'VE GONE TOO FAR, PONY, EVEN FOR THE WOMAN I ONCE LOVED! I'M GOING TO QUIT PAYING—

WELL, THAT DECISION IS UP TO YOU, MURDERER! WHO IS HE?

MURDERER? WHO IS HE?

THIS IS MY FRIEND, 3-D MAGEE—SHAKE, FELLOWS. I CAME HERE TO TALK TO YOU, PONY.

IT'S GOING TO TAKE 100 GRAND TO KEEP A CAP ON NUMBER SIX DRY HOLE IN YOUR OIL FIELD! THAT AS YOU WILL RECALL, CANHEAD, IS WHERE YOU HID THE BODY.

AND YOU DID A GOOD JOB, TOO, KINCAID.

LOOK HERE! PONY'S USED THIS ON ME FOR 5 YEARS! I NEVER KILLED A MAN, AND I NEVER OWNED A GUN.

THAT AIN'T WHAT THE JURY'S GONNA HEAR. THE BODY'S STILL IN THAT DRY HOLE UNDER A CAP OF CEMENT, AND THERE'RE TWO WITNESSES.

3-D MAGEE, EH? I GET IT! A THIRD-DIMENSION BODY WITH A ONE-DIMENSION BRAIN! I'M NOT AFRAID OF YOU—

LISTEN! THE WAY WE FIXER IT, THAT BODY'S STILL LODGED IN THE TOP SECTION OF CASING—AND THE COPS WOULDN'T HAVE TOO HARD A TIME GETTING AT IT.

"ISN'T IT WORTH 100 GRAND TO LET OLD NO. 6 STAY CAPPED? YOU'VE GOT A LOT AT STAKE, KINCAID," SAYS PONY.

MEANWHILE, BACK AT SUNNY DELL ACRES.

YES, THEY'RE YOUR BATHROOM FIXTURES, BUT IF YOU CAN'T PAY, I GOTTA TAKE 'EM BACK.

UNCLE CANHEAD WAS GONNA PAY—

WHAR IS CANHEAD?

Forty-One Die In Navy Plane Crash

PENSACOLA, Fla. (UP)—A Marine Corps transport plane, ferrying college students in a naval ROTC air lift, crashed and burned in a farmyard near here last night killing 41 of the 46 persons aboard.

The Navy said the twin-engine RAQ transport crashed on takeoff after a fueling stop at nearby Whiting Field on a flight from Corpus Christi, Tex., to Norfolk, Va., with 40 college student cadets and a Marine Corps crew of six.

One of the six injured died a few hours after being admitted to the Whiting air station. The big plane a twin-engine, twin-tailed Fairchild Packet—called the Flying Boxcar by the Air Force, which also uses it—burst into flames as it slammed to the ground after rising a few hundred feet off the runway.

Pieces of the downed transport were strewn over an area of 150 yards. Before it crashed, the plane looped off trees in a path nearly a quarter of a mile long.

Billy Heintz, who lived a short distance away, said he was awake at the time. "I was looking out the window and I heard the plane's motors skipping," he said. "It was something like a Model A Ford. Then I heard it stop. There was a big flash, like a fire and I mean it was huge. About eight or 10 seconds later, there was an explosion."

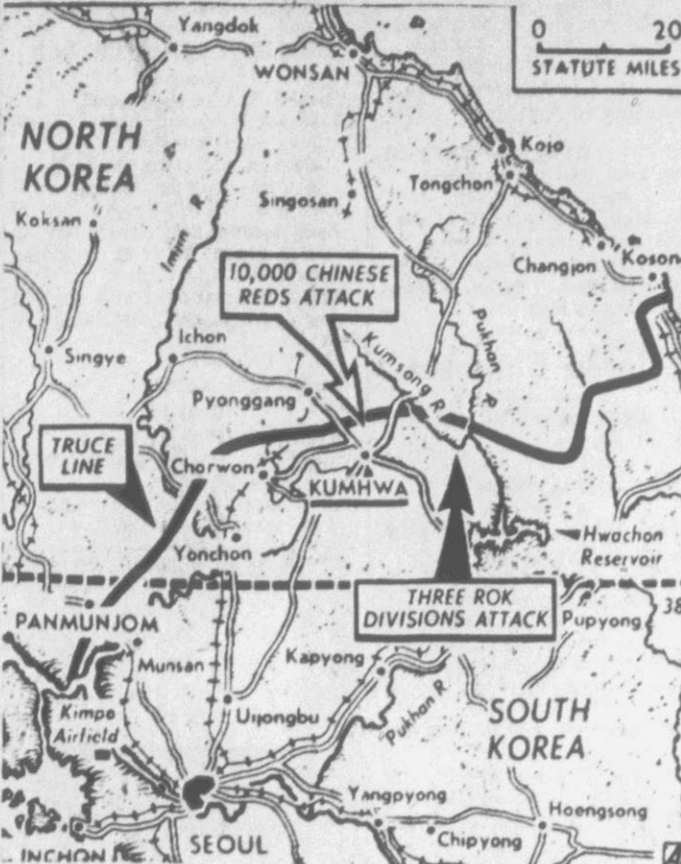

Lt. Cmdr. A. B. Boyd, who arrived from Whiting Field to take charge of fire-fighting operations, said "everyone out here last night did a remarkable job. All the men who went into the burning wreckage to bring out the dead did so at the risk of their lives."

Capt. Paul Masterton, commanding officer of the auxiliary strip, said Alex Allen, who burned his hands in helping pull the injured ROTC air lift, would "undoubtedly" be recognized by the Navy for his heroic performance.

The cadets, college students being their sophomore and junior terms, were being transferred to Norfolk to compete a second, three week phase of their summer naval ROTC training. They had undergone three weeks training in naval aviation at Corpus Christi and were to receive amphibious training at Norfolk.

The crash occurred at 11:13 p. m. CST, one minute after the plane took off as the second of a flight of five, the Navy said. The first plane continued to Norfolk but the other three were grounded here.

Where ROKs And Reds Attack

This map locates areas on Korea's East-Central Front where Chinese Reds aimed a powerful assault at the strategic Kumhwa road complex. South Korean soldiers won back up to a mile of territory in the area near the junction of the Pukhan and Kumsong Rivers.

Six Die In N. C. Highway Crash

RAEFORD, N. C. (UP)—Six persons were killed and a seventh critically injured today when a car loaded with teen-agers swerved across a highway into the path of a ton-and-a-half truck, the state highway patrol reported.

Five boys in the car, ranging in age from 14 to 17, were killed almost instantly. The car was registered in the name of Archie Blue of Red Springs police said.

Critically injured was a man listed as E. W. Lassiter of Smithfield, believed to have been driving the truck.

The five youths were identified by Hoke County Coroner J. C. Lentz as Billy Joe Clark, 14, Robert Neal Currie, 16, James William Blue, 17, his brother, John Archie Blue, 14, and Robert Easterling, 17, all of near Raeford. Police said the older Blue brother apparently was driving the car.

The highway patrol said it understood the car had passed a truck at high speed on U. S. 15A, six miles south of here, swerved to the right shoulder of the highway and then whipped back across the road out of control and into the path of the oncoming truck.

Patrolman L. M. Brown said indications were that the boys had been "racing" with another car just prior to the crash.

County Auditor Reginald Gray said today county officials are happy over acceptance by the Grimesland council of the current joint county-city mapping program for Pitt towns.

"It will prove worth every cent the town puts into it," the auditor predicted. The Grimesland board approved the mapping plan, previously adopted by seven other Pitt communities, at its meeting earlier this week.

Auditor Gray also said the fact Grimesland has come in later than the others will not affect the expected completion date, stipulated by the contract as 12 months from drawing up of the plan last March 16.

Meanwhile, Roger Mann, head of the project for the Greenville engineering firm of Rivers and Joyce, reported satisfactory progress on the program so far and indicated the job may be finished earlier than the contract deadline date.

Work in Fountain already has been finished, he said, and progress percentages for the work in other towns are as follows: Greenville, 40 per cent; Ayden, 20 per cent; Farmville, 20 per cent; Grifton, 50 per cent; Winterville, 70 per cent; and Bethel, 60 per cent.

The Grimesland work already is under way, he reported. Meanwhile, Auditor Gray said E. T. Wilkins and Sons, the Nebraska firm holding the contract for the evaluation to follow, will be ready to begin appraisal operations soon.

Cards the staff will use in recording evaluation data have been designed and printed, Gray said, and cost data is being accumulated. He added some of the project crew is expected to arrive by next week, possibly as early as Monday or Tuesday.

No Immediate Possibility Seen For Breaking Main Red Line Korea Battlefront Aflame

By FREDERICK C. PAINTON United Press Staff Correspondent SEUL, Korea (UP)—American big guns and fighter-bombers slammed shells and flaming napalm into a 6,000-man Chinese force on the central front yesterday and the lagging eastern end of a South Korean push to the north lunged forward.

Republic of Korea troops at the eastern end of the three-division attack force gained 3,000 yards to draw even with the western flank last week.

Chinese cannoners had dragged their guns forward to positions along the Kumsong River and were putting heavy fire onto the advancing ROKs.

At the eastern end of the bulge front two regiments of Chinese racing toward hastily built ROK positions in the path of the South Korean advance were caught in the open by Allied air spotters.

Every available gun in the masses of artillery standing almost hub to hub, and all the warplanes ground control men could call in, blasted the 6,000 Reds.

"If there's one alive after that," a jubilant air spotter said, "I don't believe it."

The spearhead of the ROK counterattack had reached strategic hills given up in the headlong flight four days ago.

A front line American advisory officer said the South Korean counterattack had missed its chance to maul three full Chinese armies.

"We had them in the open," the officer said, "but we lost our chance. About a day ago we could have cut them off and hurt them. Now they've had time to move their heavy stuff up."

Officers said the Reds had rushed in enough reinforcements to maintain their force at about 100,000 men despite heavy casualties.

The South Koreans lost three hills Friday night and last Saturday, in the center and western ends of the sector, but won them back later Saturday. Gains were measured in yards instead of miles.

The ROKs, backed by American tanks planes and artillery, had retaken and secured at least three and a half miles of the approximate eight they lost to the first surge of the Chinese offensive.

Allied patrols operated three to six more miles ahead of the main Communist line.

Robertson's statement was believed certain to play an important role in the Red high command's decision on which the Communist truce team will act Sunday.

Allied military and diplomatic officials have long suspected that the Communists intended to make the armistice the permanent Korean settlement, leaving the peninsula divided with a constant threat of renewed warfare tying down American strength.

The Communists have insisted the armistice agreement contained no time limits and should remain effective indefinitely, until a political settlement has been worked out at the peace conference.

He said that he and Rhee agreed that if the truce and a post-armistice peace conference should be used by the Reds to "perpetuate uncertainty" and if the Communists negotiated hypocritically, "we would try to end the conference as a sham and hostile trick."

line under conditions which were described as "fluid" on the eastern end of the 20-mile Kumhwa-Pukhan bulge and reasonably stabilized on the west.

Thundering Communist artillery barrages from big guns behind the Kumsong River pounded the 45,000-man ROK advance and slowed it to a crawl.

Jetted artillery and hundreds of jet dive bombers tore into Chinese reinforcements—estimated at 4,000 men in one sector—that streamed southward to meet the ROK attack.

The 8th Army said ROK troops were "pushing forward" at the eastern end of the 20-mile counter-thrust.

"The west is more stable than the east," a spokesman declared. American Sabre jets destroyed two Communist MIGs in late afternoon battles over MIG Alley. In the only reported scramble of the day, Capt. Lonnie R. Moore, Fort Walton, Fla., and Maj. Foster L. Smith, Durant, Okla., each got one MIG.

Hundreds of fighter bombers pounded the Kumsong region and spread into the central and western zones this afternoon. Allied planes shattered 102 buildings and damaged at least 23 others at four staging points where the Reds were known to be building up.

The Chinese recaptured one vital hill on the western flank and took another but abandoned it under heavy ROK resistance.

American officers with the South Koreans said both hills were vital to the survival of the ROK offensive.

In the Pukhan River valley on the eastern flank, the going was slow as the determined South Koreans pushed forward.

It now can be revealed the ROKs gave up 70 square miles of developed defensive positions in falling back as much as eight miles in the Chinese assault on July 14-15.

Communist Reply To United Nations Demand Held Up

By EARNEST HOBERECHT PANMUNJOM, Korea (UP)—The Communists Saturday put off for another 24 hours their reply to the United Nations' demand for an immediate signing of the Korean armistice.

North Korean Gen. Nam Il, chief Communist negotiator, had been expected to give Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, top Allied delegate, the Reds' decision at a meeting scheduled to take place at 2 p. m. (1 a. m. e. d. t.).

But four hours before the scheduled full scale meeting, liaison officers of both sides held a one-minute meeting at the call of the Communists and the Reds asked for the 24-hour postponement.

The Reds delayed the talks "for administrative reasons," the meeting at 2 p. m. Sunday is expected to reveal whether the Communists will accept a truce other than one of indefinite duration.

Communist demands for additional information on the agreement between South Korean President Syngman Rhee and U. S. Assistant Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson at their two-week conference at Seoul were answered indirectly in Washington.

It was upon the agreement made by Robertson that Gen. Mark W. Clark's United Nations Command based its assurance that Rhee would observe the armistice terms and called for immediate signing of the document.

Robertson confirmed in Washington that the United States had agreed with South Korea that the cease fire agreement should not cause Korea to remain divided forever.

He said that he and Rhee agreed that if the truce and a post-armistice peace conference should be used by the Reds to "perpetuate uncertainty" and if the Communists negotiated hypocritically, "we would try to end the conference as a sham and hostile trick."

East Germany's Unrest Growing

BERLIN (UP)—Western Allied officials said today that political and economic conditions have "seriously deteriorated" in Communist East Germany since the June 17 workers' revolt.

They said signs of increasing disruption in all phases of life in the Soviet Zone where visible in the continuing outbreak of new strikes and slowdowns, food shortages, and purges and reshuffles among top Communist leaders.

At least four large plants were reported completely paralyzed by strikes Friday, while many others were said to be partially closed.

The Red German regime, apparently in a move to smother the still smoldering embers of last month's uprisings, served notice it would deal harshly with dissidents.

The official East German Communist news agency ADN reported the rejection of an appeal by a Communist party member from a life sentence for participating in the June 17 rebellion.

The decision was the first reported since the appointment two days ago of Frau Hilde Benjamin as minister of justice. The defendant was Kurt Unbehauen of Maua, a town near Jena. He was sentenced to life imprisonment after conviction June 22 on charges of "mistreating a member of the state security organ (secret police), taking a pistol away from a peoples policeman and knocking down a municipal official."

Strict sentences were also handed down to a "big farmer" and three alleged accomplices by a Communist court in Magdeburg, according to ADN.

The farmer was charged with organizing the rebellion in the village of Vierzitz and sentenced to 12 years in jail. His accomplices drew six years each.

The agency also reported a speech by Deputy Premier Walter Ulbricht in which the "strong man" of the German Communist party sharply attacked workers for demanding the release of comrades arrested in the zone-wide uprisings last month.

Dry Soil Conditions In State Damaging Crops

RALEIGH (UP)—Worried farmers reported crop damage from dry soil conditions in parts of North Carolina today and the weather bureau said it saw no immediate hope for general rains in the state.

Some scattered showers were forecast for the western part of the state, where the southwestern corner is one of the hardest-hit near-drought areas.

"There's still nothing to be alarmed about on a general basis," state agricultural officials said. "It's dry all right, but most areas get some rain last week."

Henry L. Rasor of the State Crop Reporting Service said. In addition to the southwest, Rasor said the lack of rain is being felt hardest in a group of counties near the central North Carolina Virginia border.

Pastures are in generally good condition. Officials have cautioned farmers against becoming alarmed and rushing into cattle to market. "There has been no widespread damage reported for any major crops because of drought, except for delayed tobacco transplantings in the Type 11 tobacco belt," Rasor said.

N. C. State College Entomologist George D. Jones urged farmers to apply insecticides to cotton at three to five day intervals. He said the life cycle of the boll weevil is only a few weeks and the first generation of this season appeared last week.

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower probably will ask Congress soon to raise the legal ceiling on the U. S. public debt, informed sources said today.

These sources said a flat decision on whether to ask for a higher ceiling is expected by the end of next week.

The need for the request was brought to a climax Friday with disclosure that the debt had risen to the highest level in history except for during World War II.

The debt, which is the sum total of outstanding government borrowings from the public, reached $272,361,259,803.91 on July 15, showed.

This was less than $3,000,000,000 below the legal limit of $275,000,000 set by Congress in 1946 and only $7,000,000,000 below the all-time high of $282,000,000,000 set in February, 1946, which is considered a World War II year.

The Treasury has said previously it needs to borrow at least another $2,900,000,000 between now and ec. 31. This would push the debt over the present legal limit. Officials have said privately that the Treasury may have to borrow even more than that.

Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey blamed the record peacetime debt on "the spending programs of the past few years." He said the Eisenhower administration is "determined" to get government spending under control, but still needs the help of Congress and the people.

Tobacco Prices Steady Despite Drop In Quality

VALDOSTA, Ga. (UP)—The Agriculture Department said today prices on the Georgia-Florida flue cured tobacco markets have held steady in spite of a drop in quality after initial offerings.

Prices yesterday remained fairly well in line with those of the 1953 opening sales day Thursday although there was some decline in quality of the tobacco, the USDA said.

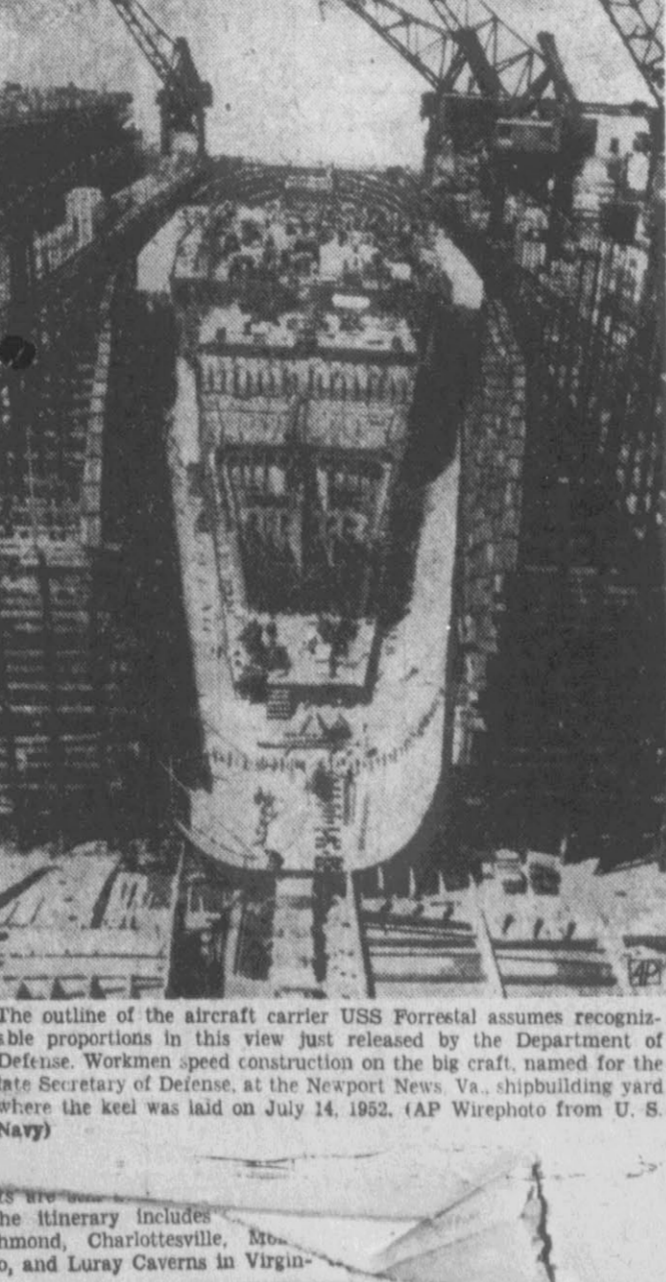

Most of yesterday's sales consisted of low to good lugs, primings and leaf, the USDA said. It reported leaf grades bringing good prices included good lemon, $60 per hundred pounds; cutters, $55; and fair lemon, $63. High averages for lug tobacco included fine lemon $63 and good orange, $60.

Fire Truck Gets Traffic Ticket

ROBINSON, Ill. (UP)—Police Chief Norman T. Richards hung a ticket on the city's new fire truck when he found it parked in a "no trucks" zone.

The fire chief couldn't very well complain because Richards recently gave himself a ticket for parking his squad car illegally.

Dulles Warns UN Ready To Fight On

By WILLIAM GALBRAITH United Press Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles warned the Communist world Friday night that the United Nations will fight on in Korea if it is unable to obtain an honorable peace.

He told a nationwide radio-television audience that the U.N. wants a truce and has won South Korean President Syngman Rhee's pledge to cooperate.

"But we are not supplicants," Dulles said. "If the Communists want war, we must be ready for that, too."

Appearing with Dulles was Assistant Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson, who recently returned from Korea where he served as President Eisenhower's representative in negotiations with Rhee.

Robertson said he got Rhee's assurance that he would not obstruct an armistice. However, Robertson said, Rhee is gravely concerned that the Communists may use a truce to stage an indefinite propaganda talkathon in the post-armistice political conference.

"We agreed that if it should turn out that way—if it were obvious the Communists were not negotiating in good faith, we would try to end the conference as a sham and a hostile trick," he said.

Dulles concentrated his report on the U. S.-British and French foreign ministers conference which ended here Tuesday. He said repeatedly that the ministers decided to give Russia ample opportunity to prove its desire for peace by accepting a Western invitation to join a Big Four foreign ministers' conference on Germany and Austria.

Dulles said Russia also could show the sincerity of its so-called "peace offensive" by lifting the yoke from satellites like Czechoslovakia, Poland, Hungary, Bulgaria, Romania and the Baltic states.

"The mounting resentment of the oppressed peoples is a danger to Russia and a danger to peace," he said.

Dulles said the West's strong policies are partly responsible for the unrest that confronts the Kremlin.

"Today it is the despots who are worried and seeking new leaders and new plans," he said. "The satellite countries are in a state of unrest, and within the Soviet Communist party convulsions are occurring."

Dulles said it is impossible to tell now what will happen in Russia. But he said that "under such policies as President Eisenhower has proclaimed, the free world is getting stronger while strain and stress rock the Soviet and satellite world."

Fire Failed To Upset Her Tasks

ALAMEDA, Calif. (UP)—A 23-year-old housewife called firemen when her home caught fire while she was feeding her two small children.

When firemen arrived at the scene they found the young mother still busy feeding her youngsters.

Regularity is the key factor in the proper raising of a family, she said.

Both Jones and the mild-mannered defendant, William R. Jones, wept freely as the case was reviewed before the sentence of a year and a day was passed in the judge's home yesterday.

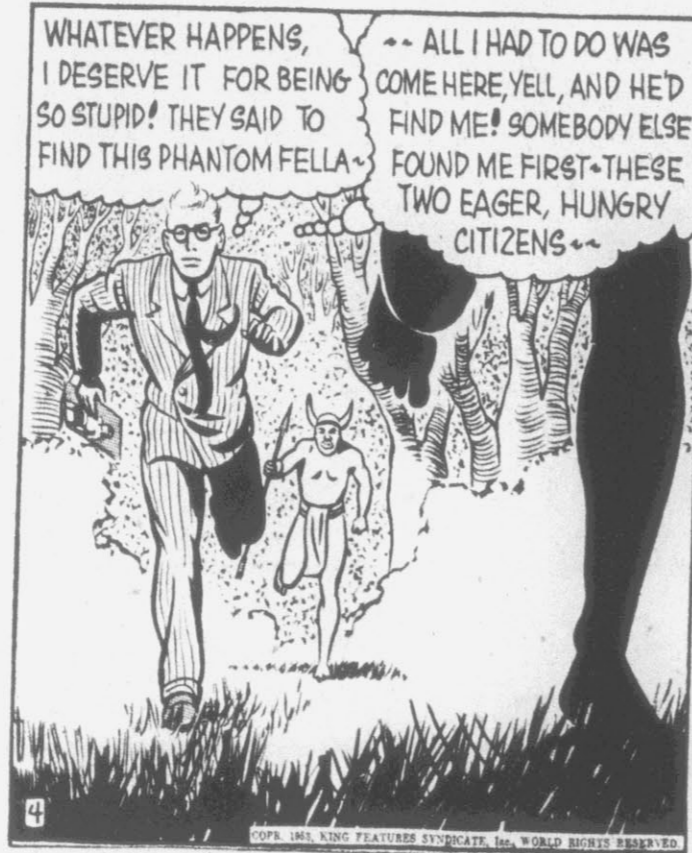

"I want to thank you, judge, but I can't talk," said Jones when it was all over.

"I can't either, very well," said Webster as both men lifted handkerchiefs to their eyes to dab away tears.

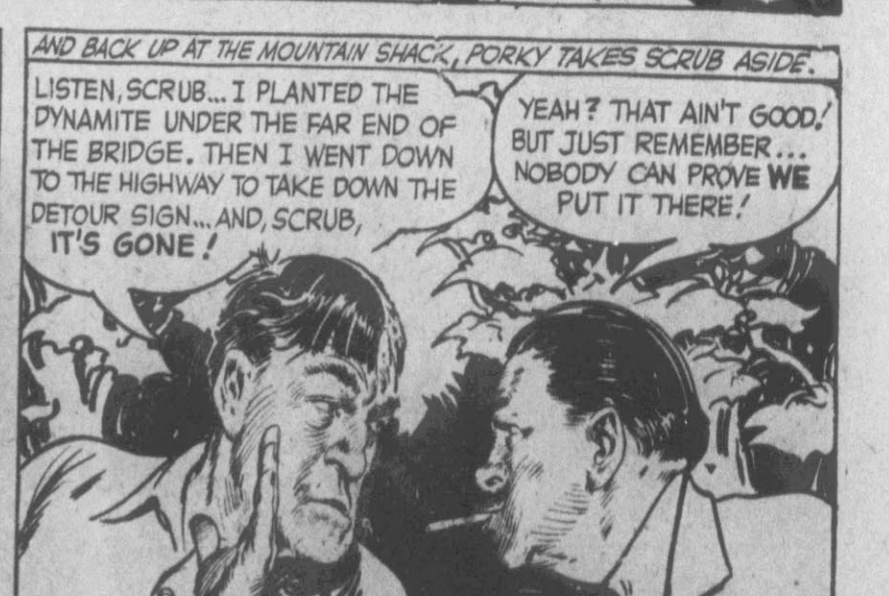

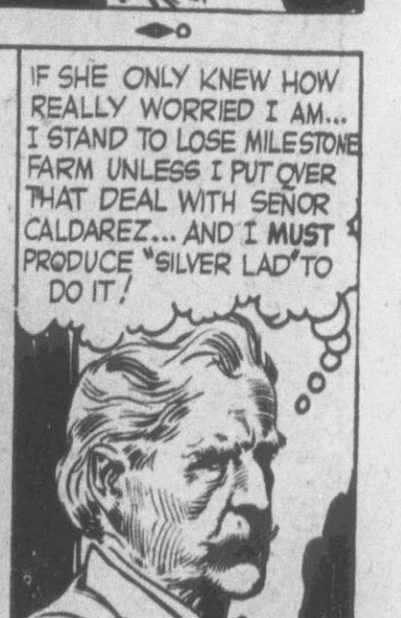

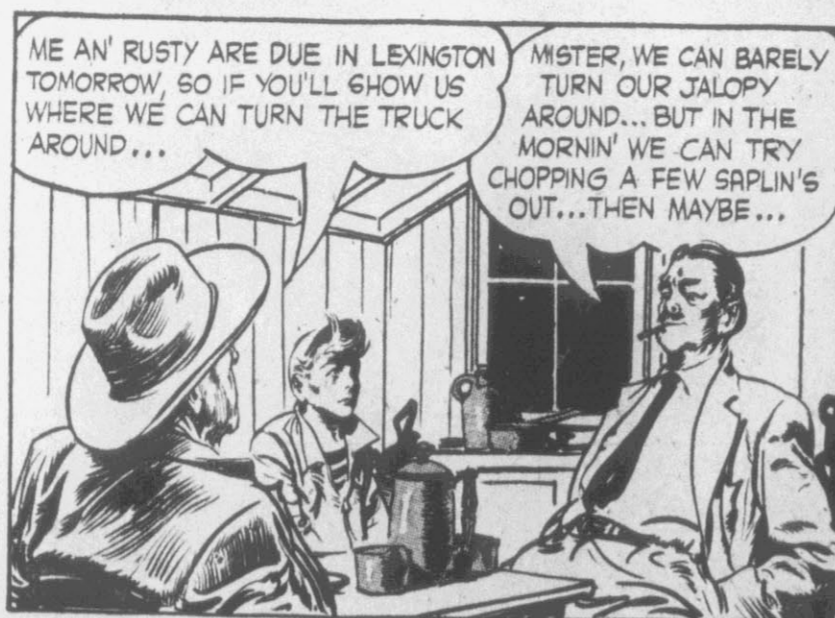

"I can't hold that you had a right to kill your wife," Webster told Jones. "All I can do is show you every consideration I can give this sentence I hope you'll understand."

Six dazed and burned survivors were removed from the charred wreckage by emergency workers who quickly reached the scene a mile and a half north of the Whiting runway. Whiting is an auxiliary naval air station a few miles north of Pensacola.

One of the six injured died a few hours after being admitted to the Whiting air station. The big plane a twin-engine, twin-tailed Fairchild Packet—called the Flying Boxcar by the Air Force, which also uses it—burst into flames as it slammed to the ground after rising a few hundred feet off the runway. Billy Heintz, who lived a short distance away, said he was awake at the time.

"I was looking out the window and I heard the plane's motors skipping," he said. "It was something like a Model A Ford. Then I heard it stop. There was a big flash, like a fire and I mean it was huge. About eight or 10 seconds later, there was an explosion."

Lt. Cmdr. A. B. Boyd, who arrived from Whiting Field to take charge of fire-fighting operations, said "everyone out here last night did a remarkable job. All the men who went into the burning wreckage to bring out the dead did so at the risk of their lives."

Where ROKs And Reds Attack

This map locates areas on Korea's East-Central Front where Chinese Reds made a powerful assault at the strategic Kumhwa road complex. South Korean soldiers went back up to a mile of territory in the area near the junction of the Pukhan and Kumsong Rivers. The ROK infantrymen were supported by Allied tanks, planes and artillery in the drive to recapture some of the ground lost in the big Chinese offensive earlier in the week. (AP Wirephoto Map)

No Immediate Possibility Seen For Breaking Main Red Line Korea Battlefront Aflame

By FREDERICK C. PANTON United Press Staff Correspondent SEOUL, Korea (UP)—American big guns and fighter-bombers slammed shells and flaming napalm into a 6,000-man Chinese force on the central front yesterday and the lagging eastern end of a South Korean push to the north lunged forward. The ROKs, with American tank, artillery and air support were battling to regain 70 square miles of territory yielded to the Reds last week. Republic of Korea troops at the eastern end of the three-division attack force gained 3,000 yards to draw even with the western flank after cracking through advance elements of the 100,000-man Chinese force in that sector. But Chinese artillery and reinforced infantrymen stalling the Allied drive elsewhere and American officers said there was no immediate possibility of breaking the main Red line.

Chinese cannoners had dragged their guns forward to positions along the Kumsong River and were putting heavy fire onto the advancing ROKs. At the eastern end of the bulge front two regiments of Chinese racing toward hastily built Red positions in the path of the South Korean advance were caught in the open by Allied air spotters. Every available gun in the masses of artillery standing almost hub to hub, and all the warplanes ground control men could call in, blasted the 6,000 Reds. "If there's one alive after that," a jubilant air spotter said, "I don't believe it."

Communist Reply To United Nations Demand Held Up

By EARNST HOBERECHT PANMUNJOM, Korea (UP)—The Communists Saturday put off for another 24 hours their reply to the United Nations' demand for an immediate signing of the Korean armistice. North Korean Gen. Nam Il, chief Communist negotiator, had been expected to give Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, top Allied delegate, the Reds' decision at a meeting scheduled to take place at 2 p. m. (1 a. m. e. d. t.).

The spearhead of the ROK counterattack had reached strategic hills given up in the headlong flight four days ago. A front line American advisory officer said the South Korean counterattack had missed its chance to mail three full Chinese armies. "A Chinese 'army' is roughly equivalent to an Allied corps, or three divisions."

He said that he and Rhee agreed that if the truce and a post-armistice peace conference should be used by the Reds to "perpetuate uncertainty" and if the Communists negotiated hypocritically, "we would try to end the conference as a sham and hostile trick." Robertson's statement was believed certain to play an important role in the Red high command's decision on which the Communist truce team will act Sunday. He said that he and Rhee agreed that if the truce and a post-armistice peace conference should be used by the Reds to "perpetuate uncertainty" and if the Communists negotiated hypocritically, "we would try to end the conference as a sham and hostile trick."

"We had them in the open," the officer said, "but we lost our chance. About a day ago we could have cut them off and hurt them. Now they've had time to move their heavy stuff up."

Officers said the Reds had rushed in enough reinforcements to maintain their force at about 100,000 men despite heavy casualties. The South Koreans lost three hills Friday night and early Saturday, in the center and western ends of the sector, but won them back later Saturday. Gains were measured in yards instead of miles.

The ROKs, backed by American tanks, planes and artillery, had retaken and secured at least three and a half miles of the approximate eight they lost to the first surge of the Chinese offensive.

Allied patrols operated three to six more miles ahead of the main line under conditions which were described as "fluid" on the eastern end of the 20-mile Kumhwa-Pukhan bulge and reasonably stabilized on the west. Thundering Communist artillery barrages from big guns behind the Kumsong River pounded the 45,000-man ROK advance and slowed it to a crawl. Allied artillery and hundreds of jet dive bombers tore into Chinese positions—estimated at 4,000 men in one sector—that streamed southward to meet the ROK attack. The 8th Army said ROK troops were "pushing forward" at the eastern end of the 20-mile counter-trust.

Six Die In N. C. Highway Crash

RAEFORD, N. C. (UP)—Six persons were killed and a seventh critically injured today when a car loaded with teenagers swerved across a highway into the path of a ton-and-a-half truck, the state highway patrol reported. Five boys in the car, ranging in age from 14 to 17, were killed almost instantly. A man tentatively identified as Jennius Alphonso Olive, 42, of Smithfield, N. C., riding in the truck, died in a Laurinburg hospital.

Critically injured was a man listed as E. W. Lassiter of Smithfield, believed to have been driving the truck. Patrolman L. M. Brown said indications were that the boys had been "racing" with another car just prior to the crash.

Lentz as Billy Joe Clark, 14, Robert Neal Currie, 16, James William Blue, 17, his brother, John Archie Blue, 14, and Robert Easterling, 17, all of near Raeford. Police said the older Blue brother apparently was driving the car. The car was registered in the name of Archie Blue of Red Springs police said.

The highway patrol said it understood the car had passed a truck at high speed on U. S. 15A, six miles south of here, swerved to the right shoulder of the highway and then whipped back across the road out of control and into the path of the oncoming truck. Patrolman L. M. Brown said indications were that the boys had been "racing" with another car just prior to the crash.

Dulles Warns UN Ready To Fight On

By WILLIAM GALBRAITH United Press Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles warned the Communist world Friday night that the United Nations will fight on in Korea if it is unable to obtain an honorable peace. He told a nationwide radio-television audience that the U. N. wants a truce and has won South Korean President Syngman Rhee's pledge to cooperate.

"But we are not supplicants," Dulles said. "If the Communists want war, we must be ready for that, too."

Appearing with Dulles was Assistant Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson, who recently returned from Korea where he served as President Eisenhower's representative in negotiations with Rhee. Robertson said he got Rhee's assurance that he would not obstruct an armistice. However, Robertson said, Rhee is gravely concerned that the Communists may use a truce to stage an indefinite propaganda talkathon in the post-armistice political conference.

"We agreed that if it should turn out that way—if it were obvious the Communists were not negotiating in good faith, we would try to end the conference as a sham and a hostile trick," he said. Dulles concentrated his report on the U. S.-British and French foreign ministers conference which ended here Tuesday. He said repeatedly that the ministers decided to give Russia ample opportunity to prove its desire for peace by accepting a Western invitation to join a Big Four foreign ministers' conference on Germany and Austria.

Dulles said Russia also could show the sincerity of its so-called "peace offensive" by lifting the blockade of satellites like Czechoslovakia, Poland, Hungary, Bulgaria, Romania and the Baltic states. "The mounting resentment of the oppressed peoples is a danger to Russia and a danger to peace," he said.

Dulles said the West's strong policies are partly responsible for the unrest that confronts the Kremlin. "Today it is the despots who are worried and seeking new leaders and new plans," he said. "The satellite countries are in a state of unrest, and within the Soviet Communist party convulsions are occurring."

Dulles said it is impossible to tell now what will happen in Russia. But he said that "under such policies as President Eisenhower has proclaimed, the free world is getting stronger while strain and stress rock the Soviet and satellite world."

County Mapping Project Advances; Completion Is Possible Before Deadline

County Auditor Reginald Gray said today county officials are happy over acceptance by the Grimesland council of the current joint county mapping program for Pitt townships. "It will prove worth every cent the town puts into it," the auditor predicted. The Grimesland board approved the mapping plan, previously adopted by seven other Pitt communities, at its meeting earlier this week. Their participation will be on the basis of an $800 outlay, of which the town will pay $400 and the county, $400. The board's action brought total funds for the entire project to $35,500 with the county and townships splitting costs in each case.

Auditor Gray also said the fact Grimesland has come in later than the others will not affect the expected completion date, stipulated by the contract as 12 months from drawing up of the plan last March 16. Meanwhile, Roger Mann, head of the project for the Greenville engineering firm of Rivers and Joyce, reported satisfactory progress on the program so far and indicated the job may be finished earlier than the contract deadline date.

Work in Fountain already has been finished, he said, and progress percentages for the work in other towns are as follows: Greenville, 40 per cent; Ayden, 20 per cent; Farmville, 20 per cent; Grifton, 50 per cent; Winterville, 70 per cent; and Bethel, 60 per cent. The Grimesland work already is under way, he reported.

Meanwhile, Auditor Gray said E. P. Wilkins and Sons, the Nebraska firm holding the contract for the evaluation to follow, will be ready to begin appraisal operations soon. Cards the staff will use in recording evaluation data have been designed and printed, Gray said, and cost data is being accumulated. He added some of the project crew is expected to arrive by next week, possibly as early as Monday or Tuesday.

Get Light Sentence For 'Mercy-Slaying'

DETROIT (UP)—A 62-year-old man convicted of second-degree murder in the mercy slaying of his legless wife began serving a "minimum sentence" today after a tearful scene at the bedside of Judge Clyde Webster. Both Webster and the mild-mannered defendant, William R. Jones, wept freely as the case was reviewed before the sentence of a year and a day was passed in the judge's home yesterday. "I want to thank you, judge, but I can't talk," said Jones when it was all over. "I can't either, very well," said Webster as both men lifted handkerchiefs to their eyes to dab away tears. Webster, undergoing treatment for a nerve infection, called a court session in his home to sentence

Fire Failed To Upset Her Tasks

ALAMEDA, Calif. (UP)—A 23-year-old housewife called firemen when her home caught fire while she was feeding her two small children. When firemen arrived at the scene they found the young mother still busy feeding her youngsters. Regularity is the key factor in the proper raising of a family, she said.

Tobacco Prices Steady Despite Drop In Quality

VALDOSTA, Ga. (UP)—The Agriculture Department said today prices on the Georgia-Florida flue cured tobacco markets have held steady in spite of a drop in quality after initial offerings. Prices yesterday remained fairly well in line with those of the 1953 opening sales day Thursday although there was some decline in quality of the tobacco, the USDA said.

Most of yesterday's sales consisted of low to good lugs, primings and leaf, the USDA said. It reported leaf grades bringing good prices included good lemon, $60 per hundred pounds; cutters, $55; and fair lemon, $63. High averages for lug tobacco included fine lemon $63 and good orange, $60.

Fire Truck Gets Traffic Ticket

ROBINSON, Ill. (UP)—Police Chief Norman T. Richards hung a ticket on the city's new fire truck when he found it parked in a "no trucks" zone. The fire chief couldn't very well complain because Richards recently gave himself a ticket for parking his squad car illegally.

Dry Soil Conditions In State Damaging Crops

RALEIGH (UP)—Worried farmers reported crop damage from dry soil conditions in parts of North Carolina today and the weather bureau said it saw no immediate hope for general rains in the state. Some scattered showers were forecast for the western part of the state, where the southwestern corner is one of the hardest-hit near-drought areas.

"There's still nothing to be alarmed about on a general basis," state agricultural officials said. "It's dry all right, but most areas got some rain last week."

Henry L. Rasor of the State Crop Reporting Service said. In addition to the southwest, Rasor said the lack of rain is being felt hardest in a group of counties near the central North-Carolina Virginia border. Pastures are in generally good condition. Officials have cautioned farmers against becoming alarmed and rushing their cattle to market. "There has been no widespread damage reported for any major crops because of drought, except for delayed tobacco transplanting in the Type II tobacco belt," Rasor said.

N. C. State College Entomologist George D. Jones urged farmers to apply insecticides to cotton at three to five day intervals. He said the life cycle of the boll weevil is only one week and the first generation of this season appeared last week.

These sources said a flat decision on whether to ask for a higher ceiling is expected by the end of next week. The need for the request was brought to a climax Friday with disclosure that the debt had risen to the highest level in history except for during World War II.

The debt, which is the sum total of outstanding government borrowings from the public, reached $272,361,259,803.91 on July 15, showed. This was less than $3,000,000,000 below the legal limit of $275,000,000 set by Congress in 1946 and only $7,000,000,000 below the all-time February, 1946, which is considered a World War II year.

The Treasury has said previously it needs to borrow at least another $2,900,000,000 between now and ec. 31. This would push the debt over the present legal limit. Officials have said privately that the Treasury may have to borrow even more than that.

Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey blamed the record peacetime debt on "the spending prodrains of the past few years." He said the Eisenhower administration is "determined" to get government spending under control, but still needs the help of Congress and the people.

Expected To Ask New Debt Ceiling

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower probably will ask Congress soon to raise the legal ceiling on the U. S. public debt, informed sources said today. These sources said a flat decision on whether to ask for a higher ceiling is expected by the end of next week. The need for the request was brought to a climax Friday with disclosure that the debt had risen to the highest level in history except for during World War II.

The debt, which is the sum total of outstanding government borrowings from the public, reached $272,361,259,803.91 on July 15, showed. This was less than $3,000,000,000 below the legal limit of $275,000,000 set by Congress in 1946 and only $7,000,000,000 below the all-time February, 1946, which is considered a World War II year.

The Treasury has said previously it needs to borrow at least another $2,900,000,000 between now and ec. 31. This would push the debt over the present legal limit. Officials have said privately that the Treasury may have to borrow even more than that.

Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey blamed the record peacetime debt on "the spending prodrains of the past few years." He said the Eisenhower administration is "determined" to get government spending under control, but still needs the help of Congress and the people.

Stranded When The Rains Came

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UP)—Jack Corn Sr., has been seeding clouds over the city under a "rain-increasing" pact. Heavy downpours followed his trip aloft Friday and two salesmen from his awning manufacturing company were stranded when water covered a street intersection and flooded their car.

East Germany's Unrest Growing

BERLIN (UP)—Western Allied officials said today that political and economic conditions have "seriously deteriorated" in Communist East Germany since the June 17 workers' revolt. They said signs of increasing disruption in all phases of life in the Soviet Zone where visible in the continuing outbreak of new strikes and slowdowns, food shortages, and purges and reshuffles among top Communist leaders.

At least four large plants were reported completely paralyzed by strikes Friday, while many others were said to be partially closed. The Red German regime, apparently in a move to smother the still smoldering embers of last month's uprisings, served notice it would deal harshly with dissidents. The official East German Communist news agency ADN reported the rejection of an appeal by a Communist party member from a life sentence for participating in the June 17 rebellion.

The decision was the first reported since the appointment two days ago of Frau Hilde Benjamin "Red Hilde"—as minister of justice. The defendant was Kurt Unbehauen of Maua, a town near Jena. He was sentenced to life imprisonment after conviction June 22 on charges of "mistreating a member of the state security organ (secret police), taking a pistol away from a policeman, and knocking down a municipal official."

Strict sentences were also handed down to a "big farmer" and three alleged accomplices by a Communist court in Magdeburg, according to ADN. The farmer was charged with organizing the rebellion in the village of Vietz and sentenced to 12 years in jail. His accomplices drew six years each.

The agency also reported a speech by Deputy Premier Walter Ulbricht in which the "strong man" of the German Communist Party sharply attacked workers for demanding the release of comrades arrested in the zone-wide uprisings last month.

New Principals Appointed For Coming School Year

A number of changes have been made in the county schools for the coming year with new principals being appointed, some of them former teachers in other counties of the state. Edward Nelson Warren, who last year coached at Belvoir, will be principal of the Falkland School, replacing O. B. Harrell who was principal there for two years. Harrell will be superintendent of the elementary schools in Wayne County.

Arthur S. Afford, teacher at Chocod last year, will succeed M. E. McDonald at Fountain School. McDonald is also going to Wayne County to be principal of a school. Joe Lupton, a Grimesland school teacher for two years, will take over the principalship at Arthur and E. B. Bright, former Aurora principal, will succeed A. F. Tyson at Grifton. Tyson will teach in the Vanceboro School.

Remaining as principals in the county schools are: Fodie Hodges, Chocod; Walter Latham, Bethel; S. D. Bundy, Farmville; E. F. Johnson, Ayden; Paul J. Clark, Winterville; O. H. Forrest, Belvoir; H. B. Pettidion, Pictoules; Jack Edwards, Stokes; and Garland Bailey, Grimesland.

No changes have been made in the Negro schools of the county. In the larger Negro schools are the following as principals: H. B. Sugg, Farmville; A. E. Elliott, Bethel; M. Q. Wyche, Grimesland; J. W. Ormond, Ayden; and J. W. May, Winterville.

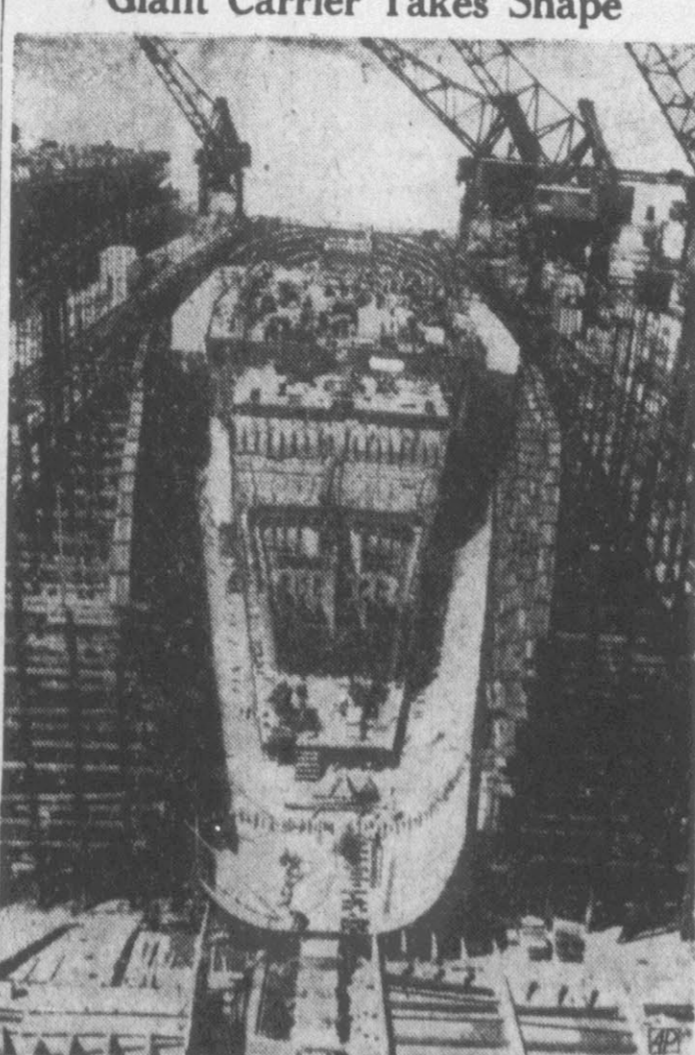

Paris Model Named New Miss Universe

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UP)—Christine Martel, a blue-eyed fashion model from Paris, wore the crown of the world's most beautiful woman today. The brown-haired girl was almost speechless at first when she won the "Miss Universe" contest over comely contestants from all over the world Friday night.

Then she announced she won't go back to Paris until she's well launched on a Hollywood movie career. "Miss Universe has tanned legs, a charming smile, a 33-inch bust, 22-inch waist and 35-inch hips. She's five feet three inches tall. She confessed after her victory it "was a great shock to me. I thought Miss United States should win."

Miss United States, however, came in second. She is Myrna Hansen, a Chicago beauty with a 37-inch bust, 24-inch waist and 35-inch hips. Miss Japan, Kinuko Ito, with measurements of 34-23-36, was third. Ann Bertha Lepe, Miss Mexico, 35-24-37, was fourth, and Miss Austria, Maxine Morgan, 35-23-35, was fifth.

Christine was happily frank about her hopes for Hollywood stardom. "Mais oui," she cried when queried about her movie ambitions. "That is why I came here." The French miss was off to a good start with prizes of a long-term contract with Universal-International Studios, a $2,200 sports car and a $2,500 wrist watch. She told newsmen "I am so happy for my parents. They will be very proud."

ECC Presents Scholarships To 29 Young N.C. Students

East Carolina College has just presented scholarships amounting to $100 each to twenty-nine graduates of North Carolina high schools. Recipients include thirteen men and sixteen women who are scheduled to begin work as freshmen at the college in September at the beginning of the 1953-54 term.

Those to whom scholarships were given were chosen by a committee at the college headed by Dr. Clinton Brewster, director of student personnel. Other members included President John D. Messick, Dean Leo W. Jenkins, Business Manager F. D. Duncan, Dean of Women Ruth White, and Registrar Orval L. Phillips.

Applicants for the scholarships included 140 high-school graduates who were recommended by officials of the schools which they attended. After a careful screening, recipients were chosen on the basis of scholastic record, participation and leadership in school affairs, character and personality, special talents, and qualities indicating success in college work and in future activities.

Dean Brewster announced this week the list of those to whom scholarships have been awarded. Listed with the school from which they were graduated, the subject in which they plan to specialize in their college work, and the type of work for which they are preparing themselves, are the following from in and around Pitt County:

Eppie Bennett Cox, Aurora, Aurora High School, social studies, teaching; Shirley Mae Williams, Hookerton, Hookerton High School, business education, secretarial work; Jacqueline Genevieve Jones, Snow Hill, Snow Hill High School, home economics, teaching; Frances Wynette Garner, Greenville, Greenville High School, primary education, teaching and religious education work; Betty June Davenport, Tarboro, Tarboro High School, business education, teaching; and Beatrice Louise Burnett, Tarboro, Route 1, Tarboro High School, primary education, teaching.

The Elks Camp Committee, Guy V. Smith, chairman, and Heber Tripp and Roger Collins announced today that the following boys had been approved as campers: Whit Brown, Andy Peacock, Bill Moore, Robert Moore, Wayne Sugg, Conrad Summerville, Johnnie Harris, Charles Puryear and Ronnie Finch. Three more boys will be approved during the next several days.

Boys attending the Elks Camp for Boys will have the best of care during transportation and while at camp. There is a small hospital at the camp, and a physician and nurse are always available. Nourishing meals are served and the boys have every care that they would have at their homes. Religious services are held daily at the camp.

This is the ninth year of the North Carolina Elks Camp for Boys. Between 500 and 600 boys will have been guests of the Elks Camp when this season is over. About 3,500 boys from this and other states have been guests at the camp during the last eight years.

Actress Dies

TANNERSVILLE, N.Y. (UP)—The "eternal" Peter Pan is dead. Maude Adams, 86, beloved actress and creator of the role that has been synonymous with her name for 47 years, died yesterday at her farm home near here.

Miss Adams, who dominated the American stage during its golden era, was a star at 24 and the most admired actress in the theater within 16 years.

Born in Salt Lake City, on Nov. 11, 1872, Miss Adams made her theatrical debut at the age of nine months. Four years later she had her first speaking role.

She made her first New York appearance at 16 in "The Paymaster" but did not achieve fame until eight years later when she appeared as the leading woman in John Drew's company.

Local Church Has Four Groups At Presbytery Camp

Twenty-two young people from the First Presbyterian Church have attended four separate conferences held this summer at the recently purchased Albemarle Presbytery conference grounds.

The group includes 16 pioneers and six seniors. Conferences were held at Bogue Sound, 11 miles from Morehead City, on property recently obtained by the presbytery at a cost of $45,000.

Seniors attending from the Greenville church were Fred Harr, Ricky Humbert, Pat Beatty, Dornning Jenkins, Sylvia Satterwhite, and Ruth Evelyn Topping. Pioneers at the conference included Lillian Moye, Mary Ann Bryant, Jimmy Jenkins, Wesley Topping, Alton Flye, Abner Eason, John E. Arnold, Carl Bested, Ralph Johnson, Billy James, Faye Hardee, Martha Corbett, Ruth Young, Alf Fornes, Camilla Henderson, and Jerry Drum.

Miss Ruth Evelyn Topping represented the church at the Synod's Young Peoples Conference in Red Springs.

Elks To Send Youths To Blue Ridge Camp

By CHESTER WALSH
Greenville Elks Lodge No. 1648 will send a dozen worthy and deserving boys (from eight to 15 years of age) to North Carolina Elks Camp for Boys at Hendersonville in the Blue Ridge Mountains for two weeks. They leave for camp August 2 and return August 16.

A member of the Greenville Elks Lodge will accompany the youngsters to camp and on the return trip. The Elks pay all expenses for the two-week stay in camp, provide spending money, clothing, transportation to and from camp and other incidents.

While in camp the boys will receive daily training from competent instructors in crafts, archery, riflery, boxing, wrestling, gymnastics, swimming, canoeing, and all athletics, including softball, track, football and basketball. They will go on mountain hikes and visit points of interest in the mountains. A staff of 8, including the director, will conduct and supervise the program during the season.

The boys will leave Greenville at 7 a.m. on a Sunday for Wilson, where they will join boys from Wilson and Rocky Mount. Thirty-six boys will leave Wilson with their guides on a big bus for Hendersonville. Boys are to take lunch with them to eat on the way to camp. The Elks Lodge pays for their lunch on the return trip.

AS SHEEP WITHOUT A SHEPHERD?
The flock may seem to have no shepherd... But study the picture again!
Notice that the sheep are moving in a common direction? The several which have paused for a last nibble, and even the couple whose inquisitive heads have turned to gaze at our camera, are still on a path that someone has chosen.
Now look around you in the world. Do men seem as sheep without a shepherd—confused, lost, afraid?
But watch a little longer—you'll see millions moving forward in a common direction. They are sheep who have found The Shepherd. Though they belong to different churches, their common faith in Christ brings order out of chaos in their lives, and gives hope and destiny to their steps.
For you who are tired of wandering and wondering—the Church offers a Path... and a Fold.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Green Springs Park Awaits Development Into Recreation Beauty Spot

Located near the Greenville city limits on East Fifth Street is Green Springs Park, an area which could play a major role in Greenville's future recreational program. The sign above, a newly-constructed bridge and some clearing of underbrush on the part of the City Street Department represents nearly all that has been done towards its development since it was given to the city several years ago. (Reflector Photos by Roy Hardee)

This is a view of Green Springs Park from East Fifth Street. Offering plenty of parking space, ample area for picnic outings and a large fish pond, the Park has been sadly overlooked during the years since it was deeded to the city with the proviso that a park be built within a definite period of time. Now a large wooden bridge has been built spanning the park area and plans are underway for constructing fireplaces for use by picnickers.

Greenville Men Congratulate New Senator

Senator Alton A. Lennon (left) is congratulated by Jim Butler, alumni secretary of East Carolina College, on his recent appointment to fill the seat of the late Willis Smith, North Carolina's senior Senator. Clyde R. Hoy (center) gives smiling approval.

Completed only recently is the most important improvement towards establishing a park at Green Springs. Officials who have inspected the site term it a "natural setting" for a park. Besides a virtually unlimited area for picnic grounds, the property has many natural advantages for development of a park.

ECC Plans Travel-Study Tour Into New England, Canada For Next Month

As a special attraction of the second summer term at East Carolina College, a travel-study bus tour including points of interest along the Atlantic seaboard states and into New England and Canada has been arranged. Final plans are now being made. Those who will go on the tour will leave Greenville August 2 and return August 16.

Dr. Ed J. Carter, director of the Bureau of Field Services at the college, who is in charge of the travel-study event, has announced that enrollment must be completed on or before Wednesday, July 22. Accommodations provide for thirty-five people, and several openings for students are still available.

The itinerary includes visits to Richmond, Charlottesville, Monticello, and Luray Caverns in Virginia;

Niagara Falls; Toronto, Montreal, Quebec, and other Canadian points of interest; Bangor and Portland, Maine; Boston, Plymouth, Concord, Salem, and Cape Cod in Massachusetts; and New York City. A boat trip through the Thousand Islands, a moonlight cruise on the St. Lawrence, and guided tours through other places of literary, historical, or industrial importance will make up part of the trip.

Travel will be by chartered air-conditioned buses, and along the way stops will be made at hotels. Tar Heel Tours of Raleigh will handle transportation, sightseeing and hotel accommodations.

The travel-study tour will combine a pleasure trip with instruction. Entitled "Materials of Instruction," the course will be offered on the senior-graduate level, and six quarter hours of credit for extension work will be given.

"A study will be made of problems of selecting, producing, organizing, and using learning materials in curriculum development in elementary and secondary schools," Dr. Carter states. "Organized discussion groups, critiques, interviews, and lectures will be held at regular intervals." Each student enrolled will collect a kit of materials and specimens and plan for their use in the classroom.

An orientation meeting will be held on the East Carolina campus August 1 at 3 p.m. in the Graham building. An evaluation and summarization session at the college will close the course of study August 17.

Home Society Has New Plan For Adoptions

The Children's Home Society at Greensboro has adopted a new procedure for handling applications to adopt a child from the society. President W. J. Armfield III is head of the board of directors, announced that the new method will lessen the waiting time of would-be adoptive parents. The society anticipates putting the new plan into full operation during the next six months. At present there are about 10 times as many families desiring to adopt babies as there are babies needing adoption. There are now 600 applications for adoption in the hands of the society. A new procedure involves accepting for study only the number of applications in ratio to the number of babies and children in the care of the Children's Home Society and the kind of home they will need.

Hereafter, parents applying for adoption will be promptly notified at each stage of the procedure whether their application will be given further study, or whether they should re-apply within six months. Within six months, most of the families applying will know whether a child will be placed in their home.

If a family is to receive a child, it will be within one year of the time of their first letter to the society. This is the aim of the society's new plan.

Couples who applied before June, 1953, are to be invited by letter to re-apply to the society if they wish their application to adopt a child to be continued. Application to the society for further information will be provided.

(The 1954 Michigan automobile license plates will bear the slogan, "Water Wonderland.")

A Gear For Rolling Up More Sleeves

It will be a few weeks yet before the bloodmobile again visits Pitt County. In the meantime, there are a few facts concerning blood donations which local citizens might well keep in mind.

The need for blood to treat soldiers wounded on battlefields has been repeated time and again to the American public.

Most recently the need for blood has been focused upon fighting polio. The miracle blood derivative gamma globulin, which is available now only in extremely limited quantities is being used to inoculate youngsters against the crippling disease.

Gamma globulin for the inoculation of some 95,000 children—of whom approximately 26,000 were in North Carolina required a total of 332,500 pints of blood derivative gamma globulin, which come more widespread in combatting polio as more whole blood is available from which the derivative can be made. That in turn should mean less children and adults stricken by the dreaded crippling.

During the year from July, 1953 through June, 1954, Pitt County's quota of blood has been set at 2,450 pints. That is higher than last year, but obviously the need for blood is greater now than a year ago.

Citizens of Pitt should resolve now—before the next visit of the bloodmobile that the county will not only meet its quota but surpass it in the next 12 months.

Blood donated will not only help stricken people in other localities and communities, it will also be available for Pitt Countians when the time come that it is needed.

A Powerful Weapon; In Use Or In Storage

Whether on the firing line or tucked away in a hidden arsenal, the atomic bomb has become an important weapon for the free world.

The strategic use of it on two Japanese cities in 1945 brought World War II to a rapid termination. The threatened use of the drastic weapon several times since then may have been a deciding factor in preventing aggression by communists in various parts of the world.

Again — as in the past — the threat of using the atomic bomb in Korea has arisen. Reports from Washington this week asserted atomic weapons may be brought into play against Chinese communists in Korea if they elect to continue battle rather than signing an armistice.

The decision lies in the hands of President Eisenhower. The Joint Chiefs of Staff have not recommended for or against use of atomic weapons. Nevertheless, it is said plans pointing to large scale use of atomic weapons to end the Korean fighting were prepared by the Pentagon before resumption of the truce talks recently.

What repercussions would come from use of atomic weapons in Korea now, no one knows. Such action now would be more likely to set off a global conflict than was the case two years ago; but on the other hand it may bring an end to the war there with only verbal repercussions elsewhere.

The decision is not ours to make, and for that we are thankful. On President Eisenhower's shoulders rests that burden along with many other matters of state.

One thing is sure after three years of bloodshed in Korea. The United States should not continue fighting a war there without specific goals and objectives. Those should be definitely defined and steps made to accomplish them.

Kind Of Cooperation That Pays Off

Pitt County municipalities are now on the dotted line 100 per cent in cooperation with the county-wide mapping program being undertaken in connection with property revaluation in Pitt.

Until this week, Grimesland was the only municipality in the county which had not agreed to cooperate with the County Commissioners in sharing the cost of mapping. This week, the Grimesland town board fell in line with other municipalities in Pitt.

According to the plan now set forth, each town in the county will receive a complete map of property within its corporate limits. Duplicates of maps will be retained by the county government, and both the municipal governments and county government can use the maps to keep an up-to-date record of property for tax purposes.

The new system certainly should prove an improvement of the method now in use, and should prove valuable for both county and municipal governments in keeping all property listed for tax purposes.

Under the county-town agreements, each town will pay one-half the total cost of maps of property within its corporate limits. The price seems reasonable enough when the future value of the maps is considered.

For the county and the towns, the 100 per cent cooperation in the mapping project is destined to pay dividends as close cooperation between local government units usually does.

Strength for the Day

THE PRESENCE

When is a church a church? A church is a church when the Presence of the Living God comes into a building, or a home, or an automobile in which one happens to be driving, or is experienced in the great out-of-doors. This does not mean in general that men can worship God as well on the countryside as they can in a shrine. That sort of talk is rubbish, talked together by people who want to excuse their absence from church. But it does mean that wherever the Presence is manifested, there is the Church; and wherever the Presence is not manifested, there is a secular spot, although men call it a cathedral or a temple or the most beautiful church on the continent.

We all belong to different churches, and yet we all belong to the same church, namely, the Church into which the Presence of God comes to bless sincere and devout hearts. The differences between the various branches of the Church are significant and meaningful to every one of us. We should not want to eliminate them. But what we should ponder is the unity which sincere Christian people have the world over.

The Presence—which is the Spirit of the Living God—alone creates and sustains the Church.

Eisenhower Stresses Civilian Role

By RAY TUCKER

Every Saturday this veteran Washington newspaper correspondent devotes his column to answering readers' questions of general interest on national and international policies and personalities. Questions may be sent direct to Ray Tucker at 6308 Hillcrest Place, Chevy Chase, Md.

WASHINGTON—"It seems to me," writes M. S. of Jersey City, N. J., "that President Eisenhower has doffed, definitely and deliberately, the military manner and attitude since he entered the White House. Is there any justification for that belief, insofar as you are able to observe from your closer viewpoint?"

Answer: Yes, there is. I do not know whether Ike has adopted a civilian habit definitely and deliberately, as M. S. suggests, but there is an entire absence of the military atmosphere around the White House and throughout the Administration.

I think that Eisenhower himself has discouraged the use of military terms with respect to himself and his entourage. At first there was a tendency to speak and write of Sherman Adams as the chief of staff and to refer to the chain of command. But I have never heard Ike use those phrases, and they have disappeared from general use.

MILITARY BACKGROUND AN ASSET—I may be wrong, but I do not remember any occasion when Eisenhower has referred to himself as Commander-in-Chief. F.D.R. and Truman never missed a chance to do so, for both had almost a boyish admiration of the armed forces.

Their desks were cluttered with tiny models of ships, tanks and pieces of artillery. The only reminder of war in Ike's office is a wall picture of Robert E. Lee.

Nevertheless, Eisenhower's military background is a definite asset. Both the Congress and the people generally accepted the sever cut in the national defense budget because they felt that Ike was an authority on this subject. They had confidence that he would not sabotage the military.

TALK OF NIXON TOURING FAR EAST—Is there anything to the rumor that Vice-President Nixon is going to tour the Far East and Asia in order to offset Adlai Stevenson's journey through that territory?" asks H. G. of Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Answer: There has been some humorous comment to that effect, but nobody takes it seriously. President Eisenhower originated the idea as a gesture of friendship toward the peoples and governments of this extremely important and strategic section of the world. Such demonstrations mean a great deal to these sensitive peoples, who often think that we look down on and neglect them.

STEVENSON ACTED AS AMERICAN—No high official of the Roosevelt or Truman Administrations ever visited this part of the world, although they traveled to Europe and South America. Eisenhower has been to Korea, and Dulles made a study trip through the Middle East, with lasting and good effects. It is hoped that Nixon's show of interest will have similar results.

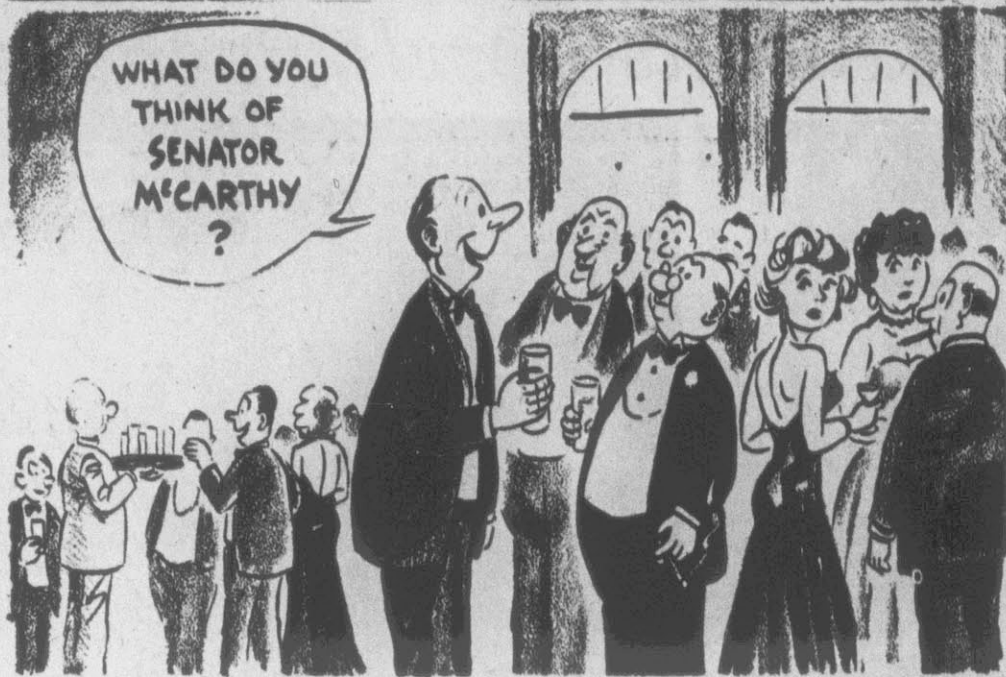

There is no need to try to offset the Stevenson tour. He has behaved most circumspectly and diplomatically. He has acted as an American, not as a partisan, in everything he has done and said.

WELLS COINED PHRASE "THE IRON CURTAIN"—I am indebted to R. F. Starzl, newspaper publisher of Le Mars, Iowa, for the information that Sir Winston Churchill did not coin the phrase "the iron curtain," as I wrote a few weeks ago. "It was used more than once by H. G. Wells," writes Mr. Starzl. "He used it several times in a novel about a race of giants, which he imagined to have evolved in a remote part of England.

"When these giant people escaped from their isolated environment, they scared normal-size English people, and, in the words of Wells, 'the iron curtain descended' as towns and cities buttoned up for defense."

Churchill frequently fails to give credit for some of the fine lines attributed to him, but first used by other orators or writers. However, his application of the Wells phrase to Russia made it a great slogan and battle-cry in the cold war.

Follow-Up On The TV Report

In today's column: An analysis of yesterday's report in the Reflector about Greenville's coming TV station, and a few opinions on the new Raleigh station.

First, about Greenville: The delay in getting a network connection is regrettable, but will make very little difference to televisioners in this area. Raleigh's station has the same situation. All network programs from Raleigh will be film presentations, delayed. The telephone company is the only outfit with equipment and know-how to construct economically the micro-wave relay stations to bring in the network. If they are behind schedule, we must accept the delay. Our connection will be made by building four or five towers between here and Greensboro.

It amounts to simply this: Many programs we receive from Norfolk are delayed and we never know the difference. The same will apply here, but we must face the reality: it will hurt on sports.

As far as I am personally concerned, I would like to see delayed sports. After reading about an event it would be interesting to watch carefully for spectacular plays. After all, we watch newsreels and even films of sports events long after they are played.

National news will not be hurt, except that instead of having the big-time commentators give the news we'll have it done locally. The local TV station is purchasing a machine to transmit news pictures to Greenville in a matter of minutes after they are developed in the news center of the world. Already scheduled are some of the best shows on TV: Arthur Godfrey, Perry Como, Private Secretary, Toast of the Town, Diana Shore, and many others. So it matters little about the delay.

About Raleigh: Carolina Sales Corporation has a 50-foot TV antenna with a UHF antenna, the highest gain of any antenna on the market. Their service manager, Bill Alford, has made constant attempts to get the station without any reported success.

This comes as no surprise, because UHF TV is only supposed to reach about 20 miles. But here's another consideration: There's a great deal of tuning to be done to the Raleigh transmitter. It's probable that the Raleigh station is not operating at its peak performance as yet.

Thus far, it seems unlikely that it will be worthwhile to convert any standard VHF set to receive UHF and purchase an additional antenna to get a signal that can't be had. If Raleigh's performance improves and it looks better, I'll let you know.

And I thank you. JACK EDWARDS

What Other Editors Are Thinking

AT LAST THE OBVIOUS BECOMES VISIBLE

The Foreign Ministers' conference has come and gone with hardly a ripple of news emanating from the meeting rooms except that all seem agreed to the obvious—that a meeting of heads of the Big Four powers is inauspicious at this time and should not be held before next fall.

It took the British and French a long time, with a great many face-saving maneuvers, to get around to that decision, which was clearly indicated from the first.

Even the proposal for a foreign ministers' conference with Molotov seems to us to be somewhat unwise, because we do not know what is going to happen in Russia in the next two or three months. The whole picture may be changed by that time. Besides, we made the last proposals about a settlement in Europe, and the next move is up to Russia. When we begin urging Russia into another meeting before she has answered those previous proposals, we are being entirely too anxious and are putting ourselves in the position of begging for an audience with the Soviet powers. They will take full advantage of that weakness, as they always have done.

With the Russians through one of their bloody purges that accompany a transfer of power in that country, this is no time to dignify their perhaps temporary formal conference. Whoever the leaders by meeting them in a Russian representative might be, such a conference would only strengthen his hand by making it appear that the Western powers had accepted him as the new dictator.

Any such conference would resolve around the question of unifying Germany, and our side has already made a proposal on that point that has not been answered by Russia. It is nearly a year now since we proposed the unification of Germany by nation-wide free elections, and to that proposal we have received no reply.

The next most important subject would be the Austrian treaty, and on that also Russia remains silent. Unless there can be some preliminary agreements on agenda giving definite promise of a final understanding on the main issues, diplomatic conferences are futile.

Churchill's illness came at a convenient time. Maybe he did not plan it that way, but he could not have done better if he had. The proposal for the Big Four conference was ill-advised in the beginning. The Foreign Ministers' meeting may turn out to be no less so. In any case it is bad strategy.

Senator Lennon Registers 'Positive' Impression In Talks

By LYNN NISBET

POSITIVE — Senator Alton Lennon demonstrated at his first meeting with the big time press that he is not a negative character. Three hours after taking the oath as a member of the Senate he held a full scale conference with newsmen in his office. The questions were direct and pointed. The answers were positive and unequivocal. Unaccustomed to the adroit diplomacy generally prevailing in Washington circles, Senator Lennon just said what he thought in words that could not be misunderstood. The effect was to indicate he is not running from any obligation or authority's assignment.

TRAP — He had been advised in advance that he would be assigned to the Government Operations Committee and probably to the McCarthy investigating subcommittee. Ten minutes before going into the Senate chamber he learned that assignment of a Democrat to that subcommittee would be at his own request. He told reporters that as would be assigned, and that he would give great consideration to the Democratic leadership, they came back with machine-gun rapidity with the question "Will you ask for the assignment?" That was a proper question, but under the circumstances it almost got the new Senator in a trap. He said it was his intention at that time to request the post, but he would not make final decision until he had checked with the Democratic Senators who walked off the subcommittee last week and found out why they quit. To other questions about what he thought of Senator McCarthy he replied that he must be a great man in the minds of some people, but if press reports are true "I differ violently with his means and methods of obtaining information from witnesses." He added that he thinks it is basic in the American system for witnesses to be treated with respect and for defendants to have the right to confront their accusers, and to know the source of information upon which accusations are based.

RECEPTION — Oldtimers around the Senate press gallery said they could not recall another instance when a new Senator was given as cordial reception as was Senator Lennon. After he had walked down the aisle holding the arm of Senator Clyde Hoey and had taken the oath administered by Vice President Richard Nixon spontaneous applause started on the floor and rapidly spread to the galleries, largely filled with Tarheels who were in Washington for the swearing-in ceremonies. The unusual feature of the demonstration was that probably no member of the Senate, except Clyde Hoey had ever heard of Alton Lennon until the previous Friday night when he was appointed.

UNKNOWN — Other recent North Carolina Senators were preceded by wide reputations. Clyde Hoey had been congressman and Governor of his State. William Umstead had served six years in the House of Representatives, Melville Broughton had

Old Promoter Says --

By The Old Promoter
Elmer Roessner is spending the holiday on a snipe hunt and I am writing his piece today. The big news of the day is that a small group of serious-minded thinkers and inventors, including me, have concocted a substance which we have called "Promoterol."

The purpose of this chemical is to make sales. Otherwise, it is absolutely inert. It can be incorporated in soap, soap powders, soap flakes, toothpastes, bread, wafers, chewing gum, corn plasters—in fact, in any product known to man.

Imagine the sales power of any product advertised with the slogan: "It's got Promoterol!" People will fight their way right into television tubes to buy the thing; whatever it is. Would you buy, say, a pair of slacks, if you could buy something else with Promoterol in it—the amazing new ingredient? Would you buy ordinary cement if you could get cement with wonder-working Promoterol? Of course not!

Manufacturers desiring a license to add Promoterol—remember it's absolutely inert!—to their products may communicate with the Old Promoter, in care of this department. As a matter of fact, don't bother to communicate. Just add any inert substance, call it "Promoterol—the amazing new ingredient," and send a check representing 2 per cent of next year's sales to the Old Promoter. Your cancelled check is your receipt.

NOT ENOUGH MIRACLES TO GO AROUND TODAY?

Old Promotions, Inc., today announces the purchase, from the British copyright holders, of the word "wizard," and offers licenses for the use of this word to American manufacturers and their advertising agencies.

It is expected that "wizard" will have a fine future in that it will be available to manufacturers who cannot use "magic" or "miracle." A recent survey by Old Promotions, Inc., shows that 92 per cent of American manufacturers advertise their products, "magic" or "miracle" potato chips, corn plasters, headache pills, plastics, ironing boards and bras. The 8 per cent of the manufacturers who are not using either of these words have, up to this time, been at a disadvantage; to call their products "magic" or "miraculous" might cause infringing suits. A solution is now available. "Wizard will be the first to bring out "wizard hair waves," or "wizard chutney?"

10 Golden Guides For Brides

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—After the honeymoon rainbow fades, a June bride often finds her rosy theory of matrimony is full of more holes than a Swiss cheese at a picnic of mice.

Everything is going wrong, and the girl wails desperately: "What can I do to save my marriage?"

It is hard for her to realize that things aren't really as bad as they seem, and that her plight is normal. She doesn't understand yet the difference between breaking in a husband and breaking in a girl—namely, that a husband has something to say about the matter, in his case.

Trouble often is deepened because the bride, in her panic, usually turns for advice to—

A. A sympathetic girl friend, who says, "Honey, everybody knows you got a sweet personality, and it couldn't be your fault."

B. A cynical neighborly lady who quit working at her own marriage years before and now says, "All men are bums."

C. Her lonely mother, who says, "Dear, I warned you that man was below your level. His eyes are too close together. You come home to daddy and me, Baby."

It takes a pretty level-headed bride, fed all that sugared feminine flattery, not to end up feeling she is a brave, pitiful heroine dogged by more misfortune than anybody since Lisa skipped from Leakee to Leakee.

Why shouldn't a bride balance the picture by asking some male counsel? A man might tactfully point out to her that her husband, although undoubtedly pockmarked by sin and guilt since birth, probably doesn't lie awake at nights thinking up new ways to stick pins in her.

As a contribution to the welfare of June brides, 1953 model, I asked a panel of weather-beaten old husbands to give me 10 rules—from their point of view—that would help guide a bride to married happiness.

"There is no point in thinking up these rules for a bride who just feels sorry for herself," one said. "They would help only a girl who really wanted her marriage to work, and thought about them seriously over the years. No man can help a woman in the grip of self-pity, unless he knows her well enough to face her north and boot her from the south."

The other husbands said that was certainly true, even though they wouldn't put it in such robust terms.

After much head-scratching, they came up with 28 rules, which included some purely personal prejudices, such as "Don't try to blow smoke rings at cocktail parties," and "Don't chomp toast at breakfast—men don't like grinding noises in the morning."

Finally, they weeded them down to the following "10 Golden Guides for Brides":

1. Your husband is neither your father nor the man of your dreams. He is only the man you married. You must face the fact he is a human being and has spent years developing his own personality, revolting as it is. By law, he is protected by the Bill of Rights just as much as you are.

2. Don't be hasty about trying to change your husband's small faults. He may go on to bigger ones. Anyway, you'll never learn to like olives if you insist they have to taste like grapes.

3. Great emotions are generally silent, including love. Don't fret because your husband takes your love for granted. What is love but a willing grant? You can teach a parrot to say "I love you" all day long—but he won't bring you home a paycheck.

4. Put your home-keeping and the comfort of your husband above every outside interest. Joan of Arc did save France, but remember? She was a single girl.

5. If you run your house well, you couldn't possibly have the time to run your husband's job well. Too. Let him run it.

6. Don't try to make him jealous by telling him how attractive other men find you. He is more likely to worry that you have been behaving cheaply.

7. A well-fed husband is usually a good-tempered husband. Never throw three cold meals at him in a row, unless you want to bring out the beast in him.

8. A man yearns to be proud of his wife. She can destroy that pride most easily by personal unkindness and by making a fool of herself in public.

9. No matter how small your budget, try to get out together one night a week, even if you only go for a walk and look up and count the stars.

10. Never forget a woman is married to a man, and your husband needs your love and loyalty and understanding even more than you need these things from him. Marriage is a 50-50 deal only over a lifetime. The score varies from day to day. A wise wife, no matter how foolish her husband has been, will never make him feel the score is 100-0 against him.

One member of this all-male panel of advisers stubbornly held out for one other rule: "A bride should never bet the rent money at a racetrack," he said. "That'll curdle a marriage quicker than anything I know."

John D. Larkins Jr., of Trenton, Scott has been in the running ever since he left the Governor's office in January of this year. Cooley has been tentatively in the race for several years, and Larkins moved in during the time Governor Umstead was considering the appointment of a successor to the late Senator Willis Smith. For several days during that period several newspaper reporters who professed to be able to read Governor Umstead's mind rated Larkins as a certain appointee. Other reporters figured Cooley was a sure bet for the appointment.

Women Win 3 Ways In Fashion Dispute

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY NEW YORK (UP)—Women are winners in a three-way argument over fall clothes. Pay your money and take your choice — straight, full or back-swept skirts.

Designers disagree and women benefit. Pick the one that looks best and you can't help but wear the newest fashion — in somebody's opinion.

For the newest line of the season, Pauline Trigere suggests something called "semi-loose." She uses it in coats that hang straight through the middle and then curve slightly outward at the hemline. She also has a new, funnel-shaped skirt on suits and dresses. A horizontal seam a few inches below the waistline folds the skirt out from the hips and gives it its funnel shape.

Other designers who took part in Thursday's fashion series sponsored by the New York Dress Institute disagreed completely.

The backsteep line's thing, Nettie Rosenstein predicted. She uses a princess line in the front of her dresses with skirts pulled trimly over the hips into sudden fullness at the back. Sometimes the short, back-swept evening skirts dip in the back.

Castillo, a Parisienne designer who does a special group for American women, likes skirts with the fullest in back, too. Sometimes the fullness is a panel of unpressed pleats and occasionally it's a separate panel attached only at the waistline, free to flutter as the woman walks.

Hattie Carnegie has something called the pantaloon skirt with the fullness at the sides. She doesn't leave out back-flaring skirts either, or straight skirts or all-around flared skirts.

The German youth voiced his happiness at coming to the United States. He said he likes the people and the customs, especially the fact that "we may walk the streets and express our opinions as free men and not be locked up or sent to a concentration camp."

"Tige" Gardner led the singing of "Happy Birthday" to Eli Bloom, who became a grandfather recently, when his daughter, Joanne Bloom Rubinstein, became the mother of twins, Howard Steven and James Stuart Rubinstein.

Guests of the club were Rev. N. C. Brooks, Jr., Baptist minister of Alexandria, La., and Charles Tyler of Greensboro. John Barnhill introduced the two men who are coaches of the Kiwanis baseball club in the Little League. They are Carl Pierce and Jack Cobb, assistant. The Kiwanis team is in the playoff series for the first time.

Announcement was made that President Leo W. Jenkins was the speaker at the Exchange Club's meeting last night.

Robert W. Fennell will have charge of the program next Friday night. He will show a movie entitled "Opportunity U. S. A."

Eli Bloom announced that the Kiwanis Club is planning to have its meeting as a picnic supper at Elm Street Park and have some of the ball players as guests. Plans for this event are now being developed.

At the Kiwanis Club's supper meeting last night, Jurgen Beitel, 22-year-old youth from Travemunde, Germany, was guest speaker. The Kiwanians remained overtime to hear his story about coming to the United States.

Beitel, using exceptionally good English, told of his boyhood. He recalled 1939 when World War II started and said after the British started bombing nightly nearby Hamburg, he and other children were sent to Denmark for safety.

"The bombings were terrible," he declared. "It was a painful ordeal to see men, women and children crippled or killed in the streets at night by bombs, and nobody there to help them."

The speaker paid tribute to the British soldiers after the war for generosity and kindly interest. He said the Russians, especially when drunk, were cruel and did much looting. Some Siberian soldiers who did not know how to wind up a watch, "A soldier would steal a watch, and when it ran down, he thought it was no good and threw it away," Beitel said.

Jenkins Cites Growing Role Of East Carolina

Dr. Leo W. Jenkins, Dean of East Carolina College, and president of the Greenville Kiwanis Club, was guest speaker at the weekly meeting of the Greenville Exchange Club last night.

Using the topic "Developments in the Field of Higher Education," Dr. Jenkins sketched briefly the development of Greenville's own East Carolina College, from an enrollment of 174 students to an enrollment of over 2,000 with over 600 extension course students.

"East Carolina College, when we think of it as an industry," Dr. Jenkins said, "employs approximately three hundred persons and has an annual payroll of well over one million dollars."

In a recent Roper Survey, according to Dr. Jenkins, 90 per cent of those interviewed from all strata of society in America expressed a desire to have their children attend college. Employers have begun to ask prospective employees who are college graduates "what did you learn to do in college. They are no longer accepting a graduate just because he attended some well known college or university."

Foodstuff Taken From Store In Pitt Community

A store in the St. John's community was entered last night by a person or persons apparently chiefly interested in a change of supper fare.

E. C. Hoffman early today reported to the Pitt County sheriff's office here that the back door of his store on Route 3, Ayden had been pried open during the night and a small quantity of goods, all foodstuffs, removed.

Included on his missing list were: several cans of Vienna sausage, several sandwiches, a cake, and a quart of milk.

The latch on the door had been broken, deputies said, and a reinforcing bar pried loose.

The break-in is being investigated by Deputies Lloyd Manning and Arthur (Duke) Andrews and Captain S. B. Dorsey.

Winterville's New Fire Truck Will Be Featured In Sunday Demonstration

WINTERVILLE—This Pitt County community will put on a demonstration of rural fire equipment and fire-fighting methods Sunday afternoon starting at three o'clock.

Center of attraction will be Winterville's newest piece of fire equipment, a new truck designed for rural fire fighting, which arrived in town last night.

The truck was purchased under the organization of the Winterville rural fire company, by which the town of Winterville will maintain and house the truck and in turn will respond to all alarms received from members of the association.

Pitching Will Decide Series

The city championship series for the Little League will get underway Monday as the Jaycees attempt to defend the title they won last year against the onrushing Kiwanis. With both clubs depending primarily on their pitching staffs for their strength, the playoffs should be a series of pitchers' duels. The Jaycees have two excellent moundmen in Arthur Andrews and Walker Lee Allen, both of whom have handled the other teams as if they owned them.

Billy Cox and Bobby Edwards, of the Kiwanians, will afford excellent opposition for the Jaycee stars. Cox has rung up a total of seven wins this season against only three defeats. Edwards is a doubtful starter in the series due to a sore pitching arm. His absence will hurt the Kiwanians considerably.

Jaycee coach Ford McGowan is optimistic over the chances of his team. He said earlier this week that "We hope to win, and we'll be trying for it all the time. The boys stand a good chance."

McGowan went on to say that the series would probably be decided by the pitching. He had high praise for the Kiwanians' Cox and Edwards, describing both as "good all around players." His own stars, Andrews and Allen, came in for similar praise yesterday from Kiwanis co-manager Carl Pierce.

The pitchers have been somewhat ahead of the batters in the league this season, due chiefly to their experience. The four moundmen named above are all twelve of age and have been in the league for three years. They have learned more about the game and the rules of the league than the average player.

Tournament Trail Opened Wide

The Pony League entry in Greenville will also get its first taste of post-season play this week, when it meets Kinston here Thursday night in one of the opening games of the District Three tournament. Raleigh is playing in Ricky Mount on the same night.

With the advent of the Little League series and Pony League playoffs, the tournament trail for the Greenville teams has been laid open. The Little League series will take at least three days of this week, while the Pony League district tourney will run over the weekend.

The District One Little League tournament starts then, followed by the Regional event here on August 17, with the National Series still to be played. Also, the Pony Leaguers will have to play the Western Champions for the North Carolina championship and then go to Washington, Pa., for the national playoffs. There should be plenty of good baseball for local fans in the next month.

Ted Williams has received a great deal of fanfare since his return from Korea. Usually a sullen fellow when the spectators are concerned, Williams has shown a congeniality toward his fans that has produced a chain reaction of events. Besides his base town of Boston, the baseball followers in New York have already planned a big celebration to welcome the slim slugger. The best of luck to him when he makes his comeback. Boston could easily use his power this season.

Big Jack Hussey, former first baseman for Goldsboro, is having a good season in Raleigh. He has slammed out 24 home runs thus far to break the old team record. Leonard "Teedy" Bullock former ace athlete in Ayden and Pitt County and a defensive halfback with the University of North Carolina last season, will complete a six-week training session at Quantico, Va., next week. "Teedy" is a member of the Marine Corps Platoon Leaders Class, an officer training program.

Chandler Advises Players Get Training In Colleges

By JACK CUDDY

NEW YORK (UP)—Youngsters should go to college now for their baseball training, instead of to the minor leagues, Harry Chandler said today.

The former baseball commissioner, visiting in New York, said most of the lower minor league clubs were in such pitiful condition financially that they could not care properly for their players.

"For example, many 'D' clubs attempt to play night ball without proper lighting," he explained. "They can't afford good lighting systems. It's very dangerous to play under those conditions. A boy never get hit on the head at any time."

He emphasized that the televising of major league games in minor league territory had added to the financial plight of the clubs and to the minor leagues, themselves, "which were poorly organized in the first place."

Former major league players, who could train youngsters, no longer seek employment as managers and coaches in the lower minors, he said. "They go into other businesses, where they can make good livings."

Chandler, who lives at Versailles, Ky., continued, "The other night a woman who lives in the hill country phoned me and said her son was offered $3,000 to sign with a certain 'D' club. Should he do that or go to college?"

"I asked her if she had to have the $3,000. "She said no, they could get along without it. "I said then by all means have your son go to college. He'll get much better baseball training there than he will with the club. At the same time he'll get an education. Don't let him sign now. What's the solution for the minor league problem?"

"The only solution is for the minor league clubs to be municipally owned, by the citizens of the community," Chandler replied. "Then the clubs and the minor leagues can take action to keep major league television out of their territories."

Did Harry approve the transfer of major league franchises to other cities, like the Boston Braves to Milwaukee?

"I certainly do," he said. "I hope the St. Louis Browns and other financially burdened clubs will move their franchises to cities where they can draw."

Greenville will be treated to another attractive wrestling card Wednesday night at the New Enterprise Warehouse. The main event will be an Australian tag team match between Professor Roy Shire and his fiery manager, Bobby Wallace, and Frank Thompson and Bob Clay.

Bob Clay, "the people's choice," has participated in two real thrillers here for the past two weeks, and local fans will be anxious to see him for the first time in tag team competition. They will be expecting Clay and Frank Thompson, a real comer in the pro circuit, to "give the works" to the conceited professor and his unorthodox manager.

Trucks Wins 7th Straight For Chicago

New York Pulls Triple Play In Beating Browns

By CARL LUNDQUIST
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (UP)—Virgil (Fire) Trucks is changing slowly but he was heading for a five-alarm blaze and the old White Sox right hander might wind up winning more games than at any time in his major league career.

Trucks, whose White Sox teammates are just as hot as he is, pitched them to their seventh consecutive victory, 4-1, over Washington Friday night with a three-hitter. It was his 11th victory of the year and his sixth straight since he went to Chicago on June 13 from the Browns. He has lost only four.

The Birmingham, Ala., blaze ball hurler isn't as fast as in his heyday with Detroit but he still could top his best winning year in the majors when he chalked up 19 victories with the 1949 Tigers. After that he hurt his arm and only last year began to regain his effectiveness. Now, with enough rest, he is terrific.

Friday night as Minnie Minoso set him up with enough help to win with a two-run fourth inning homer, Trucks struck out six, walked none, and missed a shut-out only on Ed Yost's seventh homer. The strikeouts brought his total to 90, highest in the American League.

The White Sox, who have won 28 of their last 34 games, stayed four games behind the Yankees, who staged a triple play and four double plays in a 6-4 victory over the Browns. Yogi Berra drove in four runs with a double, two singles, and a fly ball.

Center fielder Irv Noren started the triple play in the second when he caught Clint Courtney's liner with runners on first and second, threw to Phil Rizzuto to nail Vic Wertz as the relay to first returned Don Lenhardt. Allie Reynolds gained the victory with four-hit relief pitching for 5 1/3 innings, although he tired late in the ninth when the Browns scored three times and Johnny Sain had to relieve him.

In the National League, the Dodgers stretched their lead to three games by defeating the Cardinals, 14-0 and 7-4, while Milwaukee topped Pittsburgh, 8-2. Cincinnati snapped Philadelphia's seven-game winning streak, 3-2. The Giants and Cubs had an open date. In other American League games Cleveland topped the A's, 6-0, and Boston edged Detroit, 3-2.

Brooklyn scored seven runs in the first inning to get lefty rookie Johnny Podres a roller coaster ride to his first complete big league game and his fifth victory in the opener.

Carl Erskine pitched his eighth triumph in the second game. Billy Cox had a grand slam home run in the opener in which Gil Hodges came through with his third homer in two nights. Jackie Robinson hit two second game homers and Junior Gilliam also got one for Brooklyn. Solly Hemus hit one for St. Louis.

Harry Perkowski, with relief help from Clyde King, edged Curt Simmons in a duel at Philadelphia. Perkowski also doubled and scored the winning run on a single run by Bob Adams for his seventh triumph.

Warren Spahn evened the score for losing on two hits the last time he faced Pittsburgh, winning his 12th of the year and his fourth in a row with an easy four-hitter in which he struck out nine. Johnny Logan hit a Milwaukee homer and Bill Bruton and Ed Mathews each drove in two runs.

Luke Easter and Larry Doby hit homers and Bob Lemon pitched five-hit ball for his 12th victory at Cleveland. Easter's homer came with two on and sacked Bobby Shantz with his fifth straight defeat of the year.

The Red Sox cashed in on Detroit errors which produced two unearned runs in a triumph for Hector Brown, his ninth of the year.

Did Harry approve the transfer of major league franchises to other cities, like the Boston Braves to Milwaukee?

"I certainly do," he said. "I hope the St. Louis Browns and other financially burdened clubs will move their franchises to cities where they can draw."

They will be expecting Clay and Frank Thompson, a real comer in the pro circuit, to "give the works" to the conceited professor and his unorthodox manager.

Two matches feature the singles competition on the program. Big bad Al Geitz, the Pittsburgh bully, will find an enthusiastic opponent in colorful Flo Cordevara in the 45-minute semi-final. Charro Aztec, the Mexican cowpoke, will have his hands full with Tinker Todd, the English-raised Scot who was born in Dublin, Ireland. Todd has won fame internationally as a master of the Ju-Jitsu and oriental wrestling, but he's still in his youth. He's fast, elusive, clever, and an all-round good sport. The fans will like him!

MONTREAL (UP)—Canada was expected to defeat Mexico in the doubles play today and clinch the victory in the first round of the North American Zone Davis Cup eliminations.

The Canadians took a commanding 2-0 lead Friday when Henry Rochon, of Montreal beat Mario Llamas, 6-2, 6-3, 6-4, and Lorne Main downed Pancho Contreras, 9-11, 8-6, 6-3, 8-6.

Rochon and Bob Bedard, of Sherbrooke, Que., were teamed today against Llamas and Contreras.

PHIL RIZZUTO and IRV NOREN participated in triple play.

Husband Discovers White Sox, Goes Back To Wife

CHICAGO (UP)—A marriage and the happiness of four children were saved on the baseball diamond today.

Ralph Krahn, 46, agreed with his wife and four enthusiastic young baseball fans who live with him that the Chicago White Sox are worth rooting for.

It took a pinch hit home run by Eddie Stewart to make Krahn see the light.

He didn't used to feel that way about the White Sox. In fact, when his wife took their two eldest daughters to see a two-night double header last July 10, he told them afterwards "baseball is a foolish game and a waste of time."

Then, said Mrs. Mildred Krahn, 34, he whipped off his belt and lashed her and their eldest daughter, Barbara, 15, about the legs. Mrs. Krahn left their home with their four children. Last Wednesday her attorney filed a suit for separate maintenance.

Krahn began to brood about this baseball thing. He began wondering about the White Sox. It wasn't surprising since practically everyone in Chicago was talking about the Sox' drive to overtake the New York Yankees in the American League pennant race.

He got interested when the Sox won four out of five over Cleveland, their rivals for second place, last weekend. His ardor increased as White Sox stars shone during the All-Star game last Tuesday.

Then, Thursday night, he went to a restaurant with some friends. The radio was tuned to the White Sox two-night double header with the Washington Senators.

Krahn grinned when the Sox won the first game in the 10th inning, 6-5. Then, when pinch hitter Stewart hit a home run in the ninth inning of the second game with one on to sew up a 5-4 Sox victory, it turned out Krahn was the happiest man in the place.

Mrs. Krahn told the rest of the story in Judge Cornelius J. Harrington's court Friday.

"He came to me and told me he was wrong about baseball," she said. "His wife told about the White Sox."

"I want to withdraw my suit," Judge Harrington, a bit of a Sox fan himself, smiled happily and said a few words about the carnage the Yankees can expect in Chicago this weekend.

As for the Krahn's, they were happy and together. They were all out at Comiskey Park, watching the Sox whip the Senators, 4-1.

BOSTON (UP)—Welterweight Wilbur Wilson was unworried today by predictions that he would be easy prey for Gerald Dreyer of South Africa.

Dreyer and Wilson met here tonight in a 10-round Mechanics Building bout, the feature of an all-star card.

Frankie Mc Glinchey, Wilson's manager, said he thought Wilbur's chances were enhanced by Dreyer's being "a tall guy."

"Dreyer must be about 5 feet 10 inches," said Mc Glinchey. "and Wilbur loves those tall guys."

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Although three of his first five victories came on shutouts, rookie pitcher Bob Buhl of the Milwaukee Braves says he doesn't care how many hits opposing teams get "as long as we win."

After shutting out the Pittsburgh Pirates, 8-0, on two hits recently young Buhl declared:

"I just try to get the batters out of there. I don't care how many hits they might get—if the Braves get enough to get me runs."

In his Pirate shutout Buhl got three hits himself. Like all hurlers he was almost as proud of them as his victory but said:

"I'm not much of a hitter. I guess I was just lucky—but I sure like to get those hits."

His greatest strength lies in his pitching department, where Billy Cox and Bobby Edwards hold forth. These two boys have accounted for every decision made by the Kiwanians during the entire season. Cox has compiled a total record of seven wins and only three defeats, while Edwards, bothered recently with a sore arm, has an even 500 percentage with five wins and five defeats.

Edwards has been unable to throw a ball since early in this week because of the condition of his arm and shoulder. If he is unable to play next week it will also hurt the Kiwanians batting power as he has a hefty 508 batting average.

Frank Stranahan Is Married Today
CHICAGO (UP)—Frank Stranahan, handsome and wealthy amateur golfer star and his bride, the former Ann Williams, a Dallas, Tex., model sped away on a secret honeymoon today after a quiet marriage at the Fourth Presbyterian Church here.

They were married in a quiet ceremony attended by immediate members of both families late yesterday.

Stranahan, who made a fine showing in the recent British Open by finishing second to winner Ben Hogan, is the heir to a Toledo, O., spark plug fortune. He met the red-haired model in New York last winter.

The muscular Stranahan perspired freely during the brief ceremony, and his voice was barely audible during the exchange of vows.

Native Dancer Favored In Rich Arlington Race

CHICAGO (UP)—Native Dancer, with two major three year old stake wins already to his credit, will aim for another triumph over the best of his class today in the richest three year old stake ever run, the $155,000 Arlington Classic.

The Dancer, Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt's star grey who has won the Belmont and the Preakness, even though he fell short by a head in the Kentucky Derby, was expected to be a three to five odds on favorite among the nine horse field.

But there was every chance for an upset for Arlington's top conditioned racing strip has been the downfall of numerous stand-out horses in the past.

James K., the James D. Norris colt which lost both the Preakness and the Belmont by a head, was expected to be second choice, probably going to the post, with jockey Eddie Arcaro at about 4 to 1 odds.

James K., and all the rest of the field, will have a six pound edge in weight on Native Dancer. The Dancer will carry 126 pounds, 1 with jockey Eric Guerin, while the rest of the pack will tote 120.

Also given a good chance to upset were Eugene Constantin Jr., 2 Royal Bay Gem and Duntreath farm's Van Crosby.

Royal Bay Gem has won five stakes and was third in the Belmont and Preakness and fourth in the Derby, while Van Crosby, winner of his only two starts, tied the Arlington track record for seven furlongs in one outing. They were expected to be 6 or 8 to 1 on the odds board.

Softball Stars Battle Tonight

Tonight is the night for the Men's Softball League All-Star game with the league all-stars meeting Garner-Wynn Manning.

Game time is 8 p. m. at Rose Athletic Field.

Playing for the All-stars will be Perry Brannan, Dick Heller, Bob Roberson, rf, Doug Morgan, Brownie Fuller, p, and Jimmie Manning.

Tripp, James McRoy, Red Painter, Bob McGowan, Bobby Conway, Dixie Hobgood, Dan Gordon, Charlie Casoli, 3b, and Jimmie Manning.

Nunn, c, and Jimmie Manning will handle the mound duties for the team.

Garner-Wynn-Manning will use its regular lineup for the contest. They will play the All-stars and the right to play the All-stars.

Several contests have been arranged for the players and spectators. A homerun hitting contest with three players from each team will be the feature event. Another feature is the base-running race. The winner in each contest will win a crate of Pepsi Colas, a half-gallon of ice cream and a sport shirt.

The catchers will also have a contest in which they must throw a ball from home plate into a barrel at second base. The winner will receive a box of candy, half-gallon of ice cream, and a carton of cigarette. Spectators' prizes will include three prizes of half-gallon ice cream, a half-gallon of paint, and two separate prizes of a box of candy.

Post Card Rated Favorite Today

NEW YORK (UP)—Post Card and Golden Gloves head the field of nine which will contest today's $25,000 Questionnaire Handicap at Jamaica.

Post Card, owned by Mrs. Walter M. Jeffords, probably will be the favorite. Golden Gloves is a four-year-old colt owned by Belair Stud.

Tunnell Signs

NEW YORK (UP)—Emlien Tunnell, who figures to be key man in the New York Giants' defensive backfield next fall, signed today for his sixth season with the National Football League club.

Tunnell collected 411 yards on punt returns, 364 on kickoff returns and 147 on interceptions for a total of 924 yards in 1952.

South African Is Favored Tonight

BOSTON (UP)—Welterweight Wilbur Wilson was unworried today by predictions that he would be easy prey for Gerald Dreyer of South Africa.

Dreyer and Wilson met here tonight in a 10-round Mechanics Building bout, the feature of an all-star card.

Frankie Mc Glinchey, Wilson's manager, said he thought Wilbur's chances were enhanced by Dreyer's being "a tall guy."

"Dreyer must be about 5 feet 10 inches," said Mc Glinchey. "and Wilbur loves those tall guys."

Braves' Rookie Searches For Win

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Although three of his first five victories came on shutouts, rookie pitcher Bob Buhl of the Milwaukee Braves says he doesn't care how many hits opposing teams get "as long as we win."

After shutting out the Pittsburgh Pirates, 8-0, on two hits recently young Buhl declared:

"I just try to get the batters out of there. I don't care how many hits they might get—if the Braves get enough to get me runs."

In his Pirate shutout Buhl got three hits himself. Like all hurlers he was almost as proud of them as his victory but said:

"I'm not much of a hitter. I guess I was just lucky—but I sure like to get those hits."

Kiwanis Has Young, Colorful Team For Championship Series

It will be a comparatively young and inexperienced Kiwanis team that takes the field Monday afternoon in the first game of the city Little League championship series, but it will add a great deal of color to the playoffs.

This Kiwanis team virtually flew to the top during the second half of play, mainly on their own strength and determination to win. The team as a unit does not have a very high batting average, but it still manages to get the necessary runs when and if they are needed.

Its greatest strength lies in its pitching department, where Billy Cox and Bobby Edwards hold forth. These two boys have accounted for every decision made by the Kiwanians during the entire season. Cox has compiled a total record of seven wins and only three defeats, while Edwards

Got Mad', Killed 5-Year-Old Girl

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UP)—A blond nine-year-old boy said today he "got mad" at a five-year-old girl as they played cowboys and Indians and stabbed her to death. Jimmy Ellis, charged with first degree murder under a territorial law, said "I don't know why I did it."

"We were playing cowboys and Indians," the boy said. "I got up close to her and she pushed me. I got mad and grabbed her."

"Then I got my knife and jabbed it into her over and over again. I don't know why I did it."

Young Ellis confessed to authorities that he stabbed little Bobby Jean Denny, daughter of an Army sergeant, with a pocket knife and later helped to hunt for her body. An autopsy performed by military doctors revealed the child's body was covered with more than 100 stab wounds.

The boy was officially arraigned before the United States commissioner here Friday. A formal charge of first degree murder was placed against him. District Attorney Seaborn J. Buckalew explained that the youngster was charged with murder under federal capital crimes statutes which apply to the territory of Alaska. He said the law "excludes no one for reason of age."

Jimmy, son of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Ellis, admitted leaving Bobby Jean's body in a clump of brush in an Anchorage suburb less than 200 feet from her home Thursday night.

Mrs. Denny, 25, who collapsed and was hospitalized for shock, was quoted as saying she held no malice against the Ellis couple or their son.

"We've lost our little girl and that's all we can think about," she said.

James C. Ellis, the heartbroken father, turned away as officials led his boy away. The district attorney said Jimmy would be examined by psychiatrists Monday.

Blames Downfall On Liking For Foreign Autos

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—A Bozeman, Mont., city official admitted today he embezzled $73,220 in city funds and blamed his downfall on love of foreign sports cars.

Donald Lee Henry, 39, was arrested by FBI agents in the swank Palace Hotel here yesterday. He had $43,705 on him.

Henry, who is Bozeman city cashier, assistant director of finance, water collector and clerk of recreation, said he left Bozeman July 6. He said he deposited some of the money in banks in Helena and San Francisco, but spent $4,000 as a down payment on a foreign sports car and trailer.

The FBI said Henry admitted taking $5,000 in city funds two years ago and later gambled away more than $14,000 of Bozeman money at Reno in an effort to repay the original theft.

Three Degrees Of Drunkenness

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Federal Judge John D. Martin holds there are three degrees of drunkenness. The jurist, in discussing a charge yesterday, explained:

"Pie-eyed is when your eyes begin to roll.

"Roary-eyed is when you can't see.

"But you're spifflicated when they carry you out."

Martin, of Memphis, is sitting here as a visiting judge.

Bats are not attracted to lights because of the illumination. They catch the insects which are thus attracted.

Large Gathering Tours Seed Farm, Hear Specialists

Specialists Review Leaf Outlook At Seed Farm

Around 75 seed dealers, vocational agriculture teachers and county agents from several counties visited the Speight seed farm near Winterville yesterday.

A discussion on the tobacco outlook for 1953 was led by Roy Bennett, tobacco specialist from State College, and former Pitt County agent.

Bennett said the crop was "looking very good." He then discussed the appearance of the brown and white spots which have been showing up on the weed crop this year in large numbers.

The State College official pointed out that while tests made have been unable to determine exactly what is causing the spots, it is definitely known that they are not part of a new disease breaking out in the fields.

Research is underway now to find out the cause of the spots and have been underway for nearly two weeks, following their discovery. The only factor found so far was that the leaves were high in sugar and possibly low in nitrogen, and the plant generally weaker in cell structure. He pointed out that nearly all varieties being planted have shown up with the spots, thus not pin-pointing any one variety.

Dr. P. W. Harvey, also from State College, spoke on tobacco and corn diseases.

Following the talks by the two men the gathering was given a tour of the seed farm in which they had a chance to see at first hand the work being carried on in development of new tobacco varieties and hybrid corn.

Yesterday a year ago, the highest temperature here was 95. Lowest that night 74, and at 8 a.m. next day it was 80. No rain that day.

Army Bands Told Funds Cut Ahead

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Army's 621 bands have been told to face the music and take a 10 per cent cut.

Brig. Gen. A. L. Marshall of the Office of the Quartermaster General told a Senate Appropriations Committee in testimony released Friday that the Army in the last fiscal year had 17,075 men in 621 units blowing and beating on $2,574,000 worth of instruments.

For the current fiscal year, the Army will get along with 658 bands comprised of 13,885 musicians. But it wants $400,000 for new instruments.

Find Boy's Body In Swim Pool

MURFREESBORO (UP)—The body of a 7-year-old boy was found late yesterday when the swimming pool here was drained. Authorities said the youth, Edgar Lee Martin Jr., apparently had gone swimming at the pool alone and without his parents' permission.

The tragedy was not discovered until the regular Friday night draining of the pool.

Boom In Russian Tri-Bikes Talked

LONDON (UP)—A Moscow Radio broadcast monitored here said today the Kamenskurskiy Works of light industry will produce 20,000 tri-bicycles this year.

The broadcast said a tri-bicycle was a tricycle with a detachable wheel enabling children to convert the vehicle into a bicycle when they get older.

BIG GWEINER, ROAST TRUKTON, N. Y. (UP)—Dennis Comerford, deciding a house he was dismantling was not worth salvaging, called volunteer firemen who put a torch to the structure and then roasted hot dogs in the embers. Villagers joined in the impromptu picnic.
