Rhee Renews No-Obstruction Pledge; Guns Hush 12 Hours After Signing

Truce-Signing Is Expected Sunday

By LEROY HANSEN United Press Staff Correspondent PANNUMJOM, Korea, Sunday (AP)—Reliable sources expected today that a truce in the Korean war would be signed tomorrow.

Nam Il, in a joint ceremony here, then the English, Chinese and Korean language texts would be flown to Tokyo and Pyongyang for signatures by the opposing commanders.

Under the present arrangement, Gen. Mark W. Clark will sign the armistice for the United Nations Command and North Korean Premier Kim Il Sung and Chinese Gen. Peng Teh-Huai will sign for the Communists.

The note from Dulles was a reply to a message which Rhee had sent to the Secretary of State Thursday after the aged president threatened to go-it-alone in Korea if a post-armistice political conference failed to settle internal problems within a given time.

Greenville Pilot Listed 'Missing'

Major T. M. Sellers, USMC, of Greenville, N. C., is shown as he recently received the Distinguished Flying Cross from Major General Vernon E. Megee, commanding general from the First Marine Aircraft Wing Major Sellers, it has been disclosed, is now listed as "missing in action."

A Greenville flight commander, with 140 missions to his credit, was reported missing by the Navy Department this week as the result of air action over North Korea.

Major Thomas M. Sellers, 28, of Route 1, Greenville, father of two children, was listed as missing in action after two Sabre jets were downed in air action over North Korea on July 20th.

Sellers had been on active duty with the Marine air wing for two years, and was just completing his tour of duty with the Marines at the time he was shot down. He had been in Korea one year.

Sellers was scheduled to leave Korea on August 1 and return to the States on the 10th of next month, according to a letter received this week by his wife.

According to an Associated Press report dated Tokyo, Sellers accounted for two Communist MIGs before being shot down in an aerial dogfight over North Korea.

According to an earlier press release, two Marine planes were lost in the fight, with one pilot bailing out over the enemy territory and the second believed to have gone down with his plane.

A letter from the Navy Department received after the first official notice that Sellers was missing assured the family that all efforts were being made to determine his fate.

Sellers served in the Pacific Theater during World War II, and has been in and out of the air service for the past 12 years.

The Greenville flight commander was cited for action on January 24, when he led a flight of Marine jet fighters-bombers against a camouflaged enemy observation point and adjacent command post, then directing offensive actions against elements of the First Marine Division.

According to press releases, after locating the concealed targets, Sellers led an aggressive bombing assault in which he scored direct hits that destroyed the enemy post.

The citation read in part: "For extraordinary achievement while participating in aerial flight against the enemy in Korea." Sellers was presented with the Distinguished Flying Cross by Major General Vernon E. Megee, Commanding General of the First Marine Aircraft Wing.

The citation further stated, "He then led and directed his flight in repeated bombing and strafing attacks that demolished the observation post and two active enemy mortars."

Red Police To Keep East Germans From Food Gifts Barbed Wire Barricade Up

BELIN (UP)—Red police today strung up new barbed wire barricades across the streets connecting Communist East Berlin with free sectors of the city.

Apparently the Reds intend to use the barriers to prevent hungry residents of the Soviet-run part of the city from entering West Berlin on Monday when 1,000,000 free food parcels will be distributed for the relief of the Kremlin's German wards.

Intra-city traffic was moving normally today and the new barricades had not yet been closed. But Western authorities believed the Russians may order the Iron Curtain slammed down if the promised distribution of American and West German food begins as scheduled.

Crash To Freedom In Crude 'Tank'

Waldmuenchen, Germany (UP)—Eight Czechs literally crashed through the Iron Curtain and escaped to the free West today in a rusty home-made "tank."

The refugees from communism included two Czech soldiers, two male civilians, two women and two children, aged two and three. They were armed with an old army pistol and a submachine gun.

Rita Stazi, Miss Italy in the recent Miss Universe contest, was quoted on her arrival in Rome as having this to say about Christiane Martel (left) of France, the winner: "Why she has no legs... I mean she has no ankles... her legs are one-dimensional." Miss Martel, now at a Hollywood movie studio where she has a contract, said only: "I don't understand—the judges picked me as Miss Universe, and I guess I am." But Myrna Hansen, right, Miss U. S. A., who finished second, said she thought Miss Stazi ought to show a little more sportsmanship. (AP Wirephoto)

CHAPTER SIX

WHEN Newton had laid the Bible aside, Dave's eyes were wet; and after a while he spoke. "Emily believes that, so does my mother." "And you do not?" "No. I've tried. But I can't believe it. You die. It's an end to your living except in greener grass, perhaps."

"You sound like me when I was half your age, in college, studying, among other things, philosophy and comparative religion. I said then that I couldn't believe in the anthropomorphic — that personal — God."

"What changed your mind?" "Not my mind, my spirit. A number of things, deeply personal for the most part, including the death of my parents in an accident. You'd think the accident, which was senseless, would have confirmed my earlier belief. It didn't. It was unthinkable that they would not go on and that I would not — return to them. Also I discovered the efficacy of prayer, too often the last resort of the bewildered and beaten. And there's the world — nature, as you said, which only intelligence could have planned down to pollen and bee. How else do you account for the complicated evolutions, the rhythms, the faultless organization? And, too, the goodness and integrity of human beings, the courage, and splendor. I know the other side of the argument, Dave. Baseness, dishonesty, cowardice. But I believed, and believing, became a clergyman."

"I envy you, and a lot of people," Dave said wearily.

"Including your son?" "Tim? That was taught him by his mother and grandmother, and in a way by me, as it was taught me, by rote Sunday school, church — an acceptance really, not understanding, just accepting."

"Tim believed," said Newton firmly.

"I'm glad, for him; and for myself, knowing he felt secure. But it doesn't alter my unbelief. I can't believe in a God who permits cruelty and slaughter, evil and injustice."

"Permit? You select your path," said Newton. "He doesn't select it for you. If you are wise, you ask for guidance. And He never pledged not to do His Son, that men would live in amity, plenty, and without struggle or despair."

Dave said: "I drank, and it was no good, except for a while. I went to Elwood. He was science. There was a little light there. I went to my mother — suppose you always do if you still have her — a blind turning back — and yet I brought nothing away except something I'd always had — an envy of her strength and a pride in being her son, however much I fall short. . . . There's light here, too, in what you said of Tim. But it's — around Tim, not me. I came to you — and I didn't want to, doctor. I had to drive myself — because you're a clergyman, and because you knew Tim. I keep going from person to person. I'm like a child chipping away at a stone, thinking there'll be gold. I keep thinking there will be a sentence, a word, and it will come straight and I'll learn the answer."

"What answer?"

"To everything. Mostly to why. Why he had to die. . . . why? Newton shook his head. "I understand what you are saying, Dave. I don't see it. There's a difference. I wish I could help you. But I suspect no one can except yourself."

"Then I may as well give up. But I thought, a while ago, there's too much talk. I've been running to things — the bottle — or people — to anyone who'll listen, who seems — maybe is — wiser. I told Elwood about Tim. I don't have to tell you what he was like. You knew him as well as any of us, in a way. Better in one way as I've just learned. Maybe I should get away from people, and listen to myself for a while. I don't know why. But there it is. Somewhere alone, with no reminders."

"Without Emily?" He looked up quickly. "She's wonderful, and far more than I deserve — you must understand that."

"Wherever you go," Newton said gently, "you take yourself — and reminders — along."

Ola S. Ross Retires From Staff Of ECC

MISS OLA S. ROSS

By Mary H. Greene

In 1910 the East Carolina Teachers Training School was ready to celebrate its first birthday. It was at this time that Ola S. Ross of Aurora came to the campus to begin work in the administrative offices of the new school in Greenville.

A number of people who worked with her then say she was the prettiest girl at East Carolina. Certainly hundreds who have since known her on the campus regard her as one of the most efficient and loyal of the staff members who helped build the East Carolina Teachers Training School into East Carolina College, one of this State's outstanding institutions of higher learning.

Still pretty and youthful in appearance, Miss Ross recently submitted her resignation as assistant registrar at the college. This month she retired after forty-three years of work at East Carolina. She has the longest record of service of any staff member who has been connected with the college.

Miss Ross's first title was custodian of the records; later she became assistant registrar. On the campus she has handled the record who has attended East Carolina since 1910. She has also been in constant association with the State Department of Public Instruction in supplying data for the certification of those graduates who wished to teach in the public schools.

"I am sure that I have sent more than 10,000 records of graduates to the state department," she said recently. All over North Carolina, teachers whom she has assisted remember her friendliness and kindness, her patience, her sincere interest in their problems, and her quiet efficiency in getting things done.

Miss Ross is so modest about her work on the campus as to be almost non-committal on the subject. She has never been played a part in making possible East Carolina's rapid growth and increasing prestige among educational institutions in the state.

When her plans for retiring became known this summer, her colleagues wished to hold a dinner in her honor. "I don't deserve it," she remarked characteristically; and she asked them to cancel their plans. But, when she arrived for her final day's work in the registrar's office, she discovered that their friendship for her and their appreciation of her work at East Carolina had found another type of expression. A handsome silver tray and pitcher stood on her desk, a gift from her co-workers and a token of their esteem.

Forty-three years bring many changes and developments. Miss Ross began work at the East Carolina Teachers Training School under the presidency of Dr. Robert H. Wright, the dynamic educator who headed the school from its beginning through a quarter century of progress. She has served under every president the college has had.

In 1910 East Carolina was a small but promising school. A total of 227 students registered for work that fall and 527 for the entire 1910-1911 term, most of them young women. The plant included fewer than half a dozen buildings, and the 100-acre campus seemed to offer more space for expansion than would ever be needed. Only a two-year normal course was offered to students. Eleven members made up the first graduating class in 1911.

At the time of Miss Ross's retirement this month, the number of students for the current school year has topped the 3,500 mark, and graduates for the 1952-1953 term include more than 500 men and women. The college is authorized to confer upon its graduates three degrees, the A.B., the B.S., and the M.A. The plant comprises twenty-three buildings, with several others already under construction and two new dormitories now being designed by architects. The campus includes 130 acres.

Miss Ross has not only watched these developments with interest but also participated in the work which brought them about.

Miss Ross's position brought her in contact with many students. In advising and helping them, she had "the personal touch" which makes such associations pleasant. In her office work as assistant registrar she gave meticulous attention to detail, showed sincere devotion to duty, was generous with her time and energy.

For Miss Ross retirement evidently does not connote "settling down." At present she is enjoying an extended tour of the West Coast and Canada. She will return to Greenville in late summer and enjoy at leisure her beautiful new home on Eastern Street near the college campus. A busy woman all her life, she plans to keep busy and is looking forward to new vocations and interests for which she has never before had time. She seems to hold with Browning that the "best is yet to be."

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

SOMETHING A MAN CAN BE SURE OF . . .

They say at Yellowstone National Park that you can set your watch by Old Faithful. Before the entrance eyes of countless tourists this famous geyser spouts its steaming fountain every sixty-four minutes.

Too bad there aren't more things in life that a man can be sure of . . . and more people he can call "faithful."

As we realize the multitude of uncertainties in life we understand the ageless appeal of Christianity. It has satisfied man's yearning for certainty. In Jesus Christ and his teachings we glimpse a God who is FAITHFUL, and whose faithfulness provides the firm foundation of man's FAITH.

Join the millions who are turning to the Church to find the truths a man can be sure of!

Playgrounds In City Offer Variety Of Entertainment

By TOMMIE LUPTON
Reflector Staff Writer

Boys, girls, men, and women in and around Greenville have been participating in and looking at a wide variety of activities that have been under the sponsorship and guidance of the local recreation department.

At the various playgrounds over the city the boys and girls have been working in the arts and crafts classes taught by Mrs. Mavis Dudley of the recreation department.

The students of these classes have made rag dolls from old socks, toys with clay molds, and furniture from spoons. The arts and crafts instructor says that the children enjoyed making etchings on glass and that many of the pieces of work were rather artistic.

Future plans in arts and crafts call for the making of painted candy cans out of discarded tin cans. Artificial flowers, to be worn on coats and dresses, will be created from old hose. All the classes are conducted in a very informal manner, and Mrs. Dudley journeys from one park to the other.

Tennis Instructions
To help persons who desire to learn to play tennis or to help improve the game of those who know how to play, the Greenville Recreation Department has had the services of Miss Carolyn Clapp. The tennis instructor states that she has probably given a few helpful hints on the tennis game to about 50 persons.

Thus far this summer one tennis tournament has already been sponsored by the Elm Street Park instructor. The first competition was between boys and girls of the high school ages, with matches of singles and doubles being played.

Scheduled to start Monday is a second tennis tournament, which will be made up of any person in the city who desires to compete. There are two classes in the tourney, a junior division for persons under 16 and a senior division for persons over 16. Singles, doubles, and mixed doubles matches will be played.

Under the sponsorship of the local recreation department 42 boys and girls were able to journey over to Farmville this week to take a swim in the Farmville pool. The swimming party was held to give the boys and girls a chance to take a dip and to help discourage swimming in the dangerous waters of Tar River.

Pet Show
With all contestants on donkey back, a pet show was held at the Elm Street Park. Entered in the contest were dogs, cats, frogs, turtles, gold fish, and other pets. Prizes were awarded the winners in the various divisions.

Several bubble gum blowing contests have been put on at the various playgrounds with the boy or girl producing the largest bubble being given a prize.

Under the heat of the afternoon sun, the boys and girls attending the parks have enjoyed parties of lemonade, pop corn, and cookies. Picnic suppers have been popular at the Elm Street Park fireplace. The activity report for June shows that there were 508 reservations for the numerous picnic areas in the park.

Young folk and adults alike have attended the several outdoor dances that been held on the tennis courts at the Elm Street Park. Quadrille square dancing has been the dance of the day on Wednesday nights, as over 150 persons have gathered to look or participate. Round dances have been held on Friday nights with the dancing being done to the music from a public address system.

Other activities around the playgrounds include ping pong, volley ball, horse shoes, croquet, box hockey, and checkers. The children have made use of the swings, sliding boards, see-saws, and acting bars, too.

Building Projects
Negro citizens of the city have expanded their facilities considerably, having initiated a South Greenville Park Project drive. Latest report on the drive revealed that over $2,500 of the $3,000 goal has already been turned in. The money is being used for development of the area behind the South Greenville School.

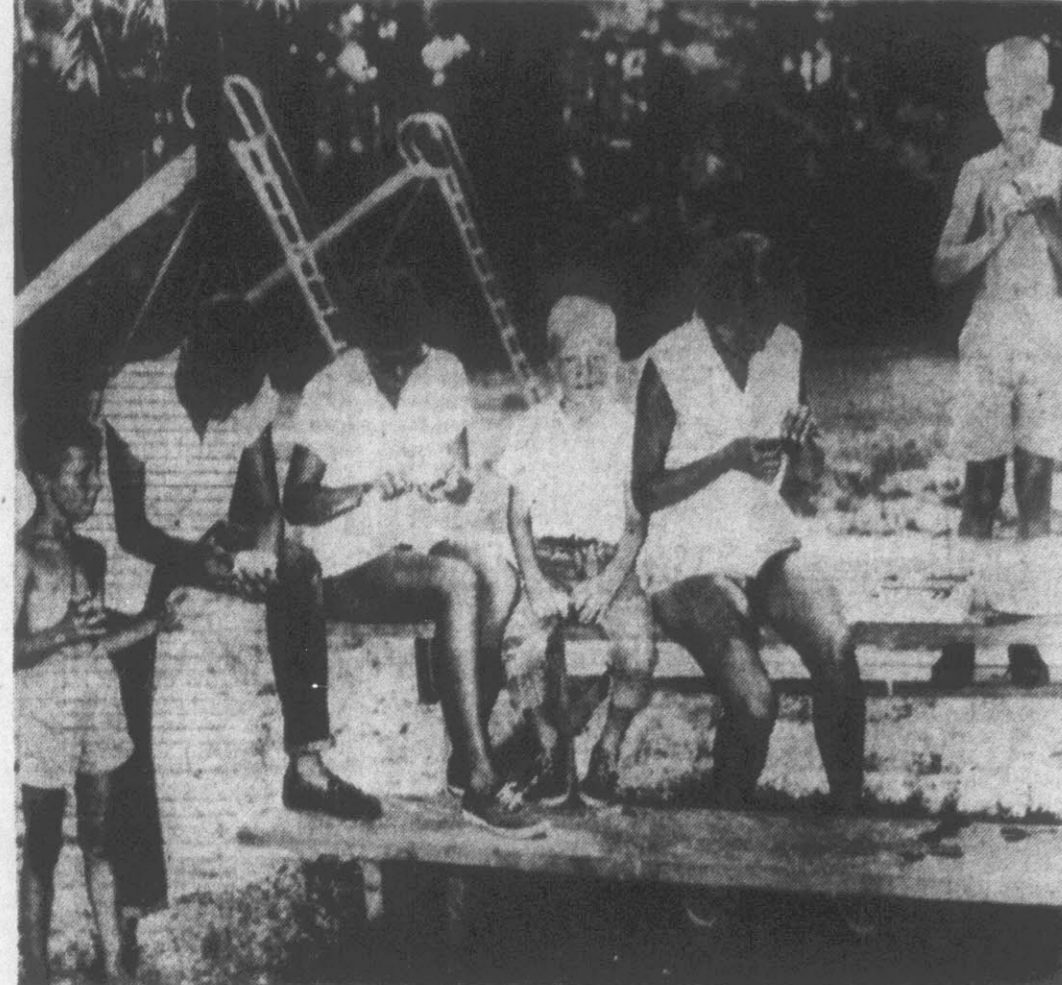

Also built by the recreation department this year was the Pony and Softball Leagues field at Third Street School. Lights were put up, as was a fence. Bleachers capable of seating over 150 persons were placed along the first stand third base lines. Usually a good sized crowd is on hand to witness the softball on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, and the Pony League play on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Greenville's Little League program this year has been a successful one. The champions were declared this week in a playoff, and currently Bill Kirtrell is drilling a squad of All-Stars in preparation for the district playoffs. Part of the district Pony League playoffs were held here this week, and Greenville will be the scene of the Region V Little League tournament in August. Recreation Director Warren Carroll is regional director of the southeast district of the Little League, as well as state director of Pony and Little Leagues. Carroll is also a national field director of the Little League.

Tourney Prospects
Two or three of the local teams in the Men's Softball League are making plans to participate in the district tournament in Rocky Mount. The competition between the various teams in the league has picked up considerably this year, as has the calibre of play within the entire league.

The Moose club plans to assist the recreation department in the final playground event of the season. Prizes will be offered to those who take part in the last event to be staged at the parks this summer, and present plans call for a watermelon cutting.

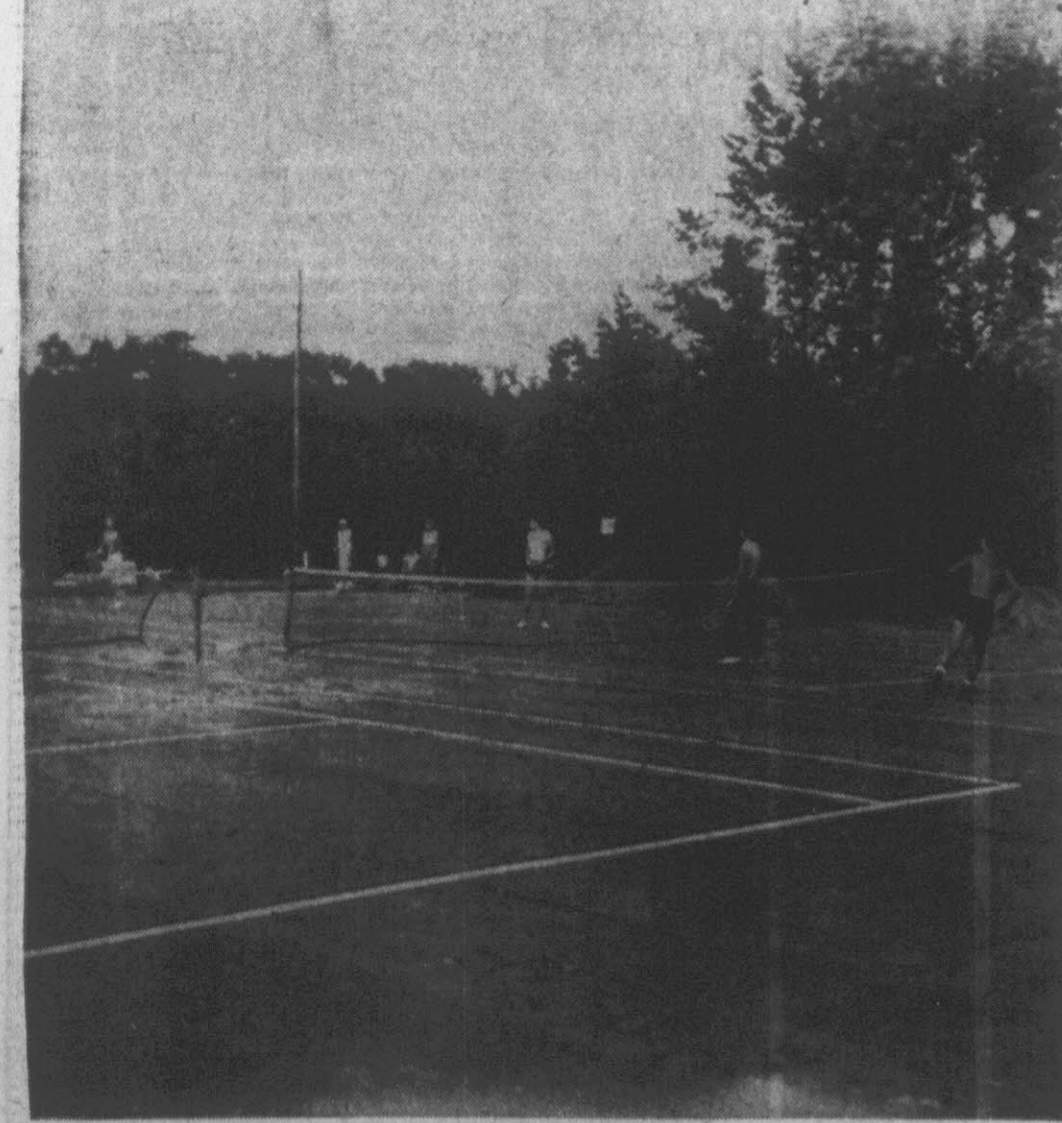

All in all, it seems that residents of this community have had a wide variety of recreational activities to choose from, and from all indications one would be led to believe that the program thus far this summer has been a very successful one.

Many hours have been spent by boys and girls at the various playgrounds in the city working in the arts and crafts classes conducted by Mrs. Mavis Dudley. The class above is finishing up some toy cars that were made out of clay in plastic molds. Other work done by the boys and girls during these periods include the painting of etchings on glass, the making of dolls out of socks, and building of furniture from spoons.

The carom board, one of the many table games that may be found at the parks in the city, receives a lot of use most days. Taken at the West Greenville Park, the shot above shows a couple of fellows concentrating on pocketing a shot. Usually the popular game is played in the cool of the shade of a tree.

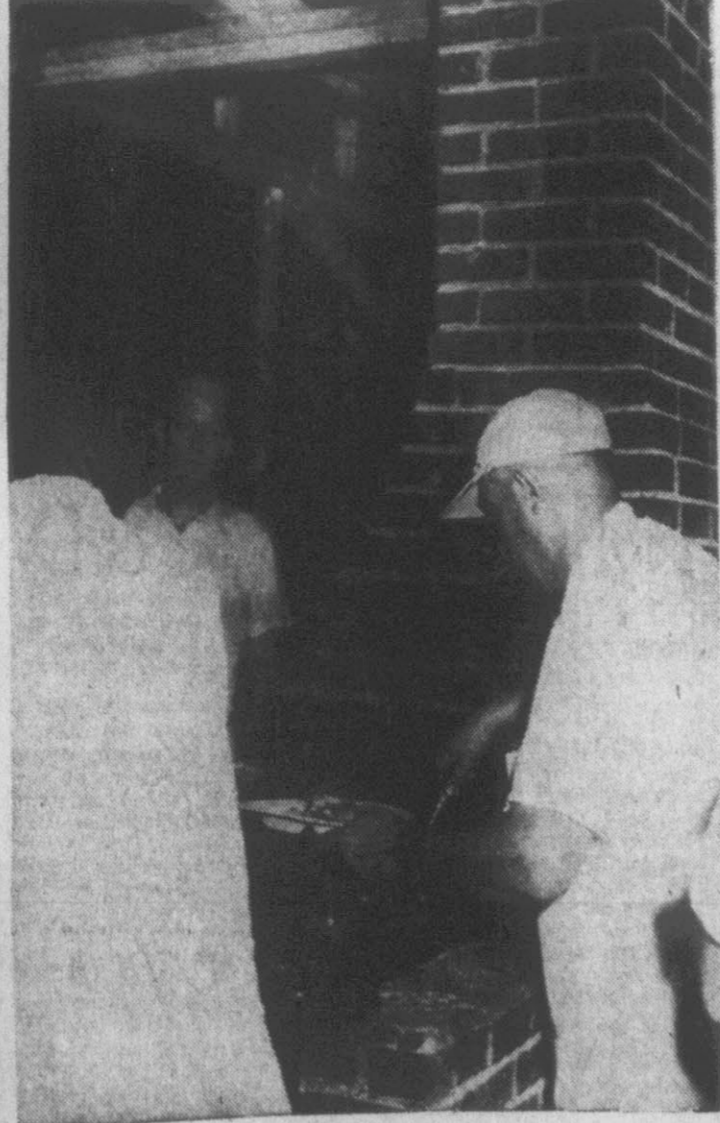

The hot afternoon sun does not keep these tennis players from engaging in a few matches. Under the supervision of Miss Carolyn Clapp, one tennis tournament has already been sponsored by the recreation department and another is scheduled to begin Monday. Lessons have been given by Miss Clapp to those who wished to learn to play.

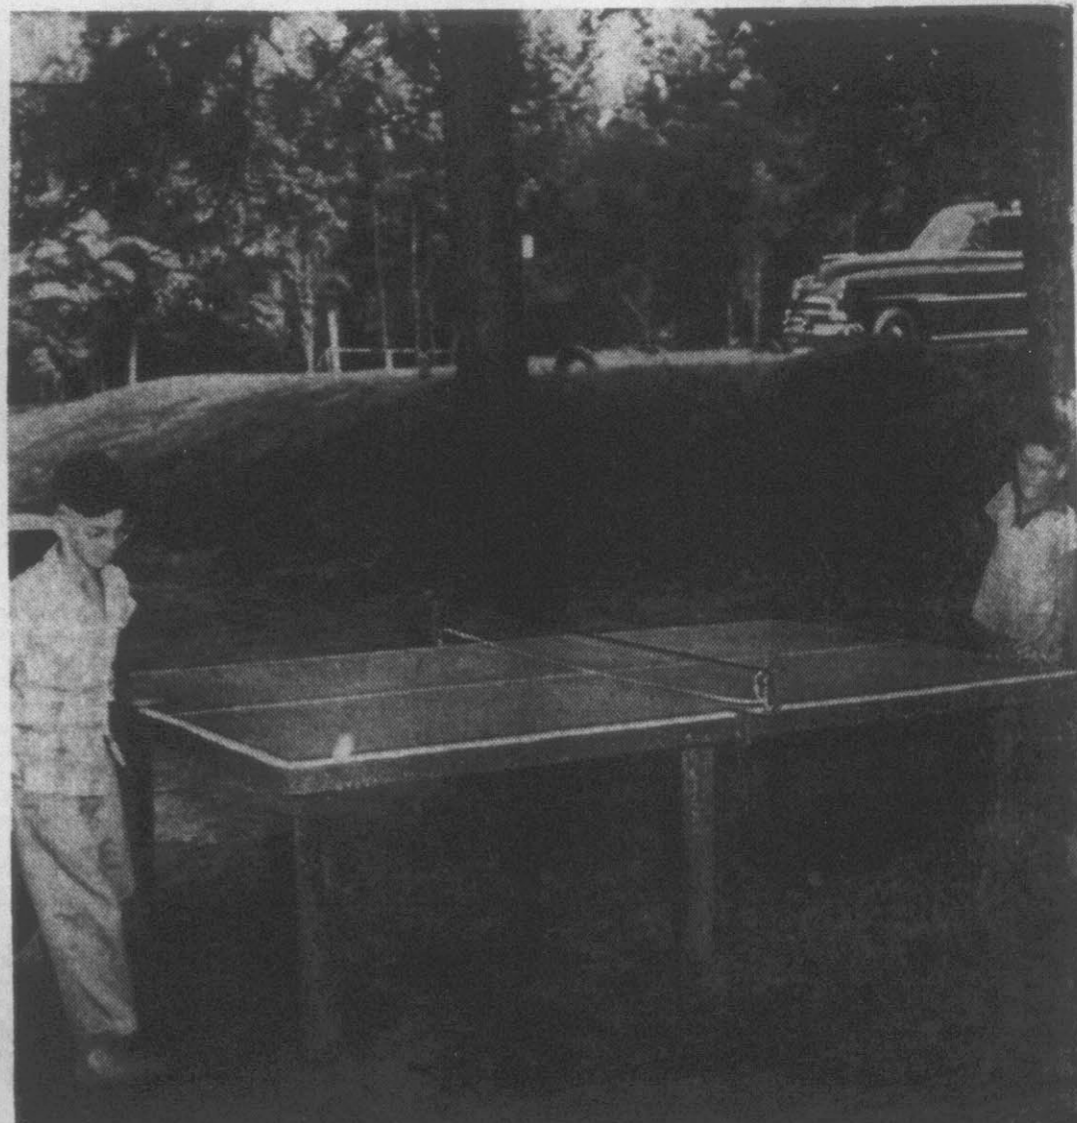

It's party time for the youngsters above, as they take time off from their play to enjoy a cool, refreshing glass of lemonade. Mrs. O'Neil Foell, operator of the Third Street School Park, is shown pouring the drinks, as Mrs. Mavis Dudley passes out pop corn and cookies to the boys and girls who have finished a bubble gum blowing contest. Buck Flye took top honors in the contest. (Reflector Photos By Tommie Lupton)

Play ball! The above shot was taken at the South Greenville Park. These Negro boys were caught in the middle of a ball game on the new field that is being laid at the park as a part of the South Greenville Park Project that is now underway in the city. As of now over $2,500 of the $3,000 goal has been collected. The money will be used toward the development of the area around the park.

Chef J. E. Collins is brewing up the stew at the Moose club picnic, which was held at the big fireplace and picnic area at Elm Street Park recently. Good use has been made of the several fireplaces in the park this summer. Weiner roasts and parties have been constant occurrences, as was revealed by the 508 reservations of the picnic facilities. (Reflector Photo by Roy Hardee)

A Wise Girl Knows When To Be Foolish, She Says

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP) — If any girl needs a reason to splurge on a summer vacation, she can get a sensible one from Ernestine Wilcox.

Miss Wilcox talks so convincingly that even a depleted bank account seems desirable. You may live beyond your budget for two weeks, but it's a wise girl who knows when to be foolish (this is an original saying, so far as Ernestine and the writer know). Summer, she says, is the season to find a husband in out-of-season resorts. Miss Wilcox discovered this one winter when she took a job as stewardess for National Airlines.

"Men who can afford to go to Florida in the winter are well-heeled, well-established—and married," she said. "Out of season, when the nice hotels have low rates, you get the young fellows who are tomorrow's executives — and bachelors!"

Before her first summer in the air Ernestine got arrested for speeding (on the ground) and ended up marrying the arresting officer from the Miami, Fla., police force. So the pretty brunette, now the instructor for new stewardesses, takes an objective view of bachelor statistics.

"I asked some of the other girls who make regular flights between cities like New York and Miami," she said in an interview here, "and we figured out that at least a third of the male passengers on summer vacations are bachelors. A lot of them are graduate students or young lawyers."

Next problem, naturally, is how to attract one of these eligible vacationers, once you've located him. Miss Wilcox, a girl with a realistic approach to life, doesn't believe in leaving these things to chance. Try something subtle, she suggested, like a crossword puzzle.

If you find yourself sitting next to a possible vacation escort on the trip, quietly go to work on the puzzle. (It does seem more subtle than asking for a match.)

Struggle by yourself for a while to show your independence before you murmur something like "Seventeen-year locusts... six letters." Right there you've challenged his intellect. If he doesn't know that one he's bound to read over your shoulder until he finds a word he does know. Conversation's easy after that.

Greenville Pony League Stars Maul Rocky Mt., 14-6

Locals Play Kinston Squad Here Tonight

Ike Riddick, Charles Smith Star In Greenville Victory; Winner Of Game Tonight Plays Raleigh

By MELVIN LANG
Reflector Sports Editor

ROCKY MOUNT—Greenville will get another crack at Kinston's Pony League All-Stars tonight in a semi-final clash to be played in Greenville.

The Greenville team earned the right for revenge by blasting Rocky Mount out of the tournament last night by the easy margin of 14-6. Kinston defeated Greenville on the opening night, 12-3, but lost to Raleigh last night.

Raleigh, without a defeat in tournament play, will play the winner of tonight's game for the eastern championship Monday night. The loser in tonight's contest will be eliminated.

Ike Riddick, sore arm hurler for the Greenville squad, was the star in last night's game. Riddick started and went the first five innings before having to leave the game because of the condition of his arm. He had given up only two hits and four runs, while striking out eight men.

Riddick and Rocky Mount pitcher Steve Batchelor were engaged in a no-hit scrap until third baseman Charles Smith broke the ice for Greenville by slamming a hard double into right center in the fourth. Smith and Wayne Edson, who had walked, scored on an error in the catcher's choice on a grounder hit by Lindy Dunn, giving Greenville a 2-0 lead.

Rocky Mount came back in its half of the fourth to score four runs and take the lead. A single by Donald Stallings, an error on the field, and a walk to Batchelor loaded the bases for the host club. Right fielder Don Burchfield slapped one over the left field fence at that point to push the runners home.

Greenville regained the lead in the fifth and never lost possession with four more runs. With one away, leadoff man Charles Rumley was safe when his grounded scooted off the shoulder of the second baseman, James Hudson was hit by a pitched ball, and Wayne Edson walked to load the sacks. Smith's infielder was error, and Rumley came home. Dunn singled to score Hudson and Edson, and Smith came home when the centerfielder allowed the ball to go past him.

It was eight runs in the sixth that really clinched the contest for Greenville. A walk to Hudson Miller, and errors on balls hit by Ike Riddick and Rumley filled the bases with none out.

Miller came home on a wild pitch by Batchelor. Edson walked, and Smith singled to score Riddick and Rumley. Dunn walked to fill the bases again. Wade Jordan hit an easy roller to the pitcher, who tossed to the plate to get Edson, but the catcher hit Jordan on an attempt to double him off first, allowing Smith to come home. Jordan and Dunn scored when the second baseman threw into the dirt at home. Mike Riddick walked at that point, and Hudson Miller lifted a pitch over the centerfield fence for the final three runs.

Tonight's game will be played at Rocky Athletic Field in Greenville. Game time is 8 p.m.

Dempsey Says Brian Kelly Will Be Ready For Crown

By JACK CUDDY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UP)—Is it mid-summer madness? Or do Jack Dempsey and his three associates know what they're talking about when they say they'll have young Brian Kelly ready for a lightweight title fight next year?

Kelly is the Irish kid from Niagara Falls, Ont., who upset sensational young Ralph Dupas of New Orleans at Miami Beach last Tuesday night. Brian went into the ring a 5-1 underdog but he came out with the decision. And he even had Dupas on the floor once.

If Kelly's prowess is on a par with the money, influence and savvy backing him, he should go far.

Dempsey's associates in the Kelly-to-the-title enterprise are Eddie Quinn, wealthy Montreal boxing and wrestling promoter; Max Waxman, Dempsey's business manager; and Joe Woodman, 31-of other big-timers.

Quinn said today, "We're not trying to make money with this boy. Get that straight. And we're not going to rush him. But he'll be ready by his title chance next year. And I'm ready to spend $30,000 or $40,000 to see that he gets that chance."

He was referring apparently to a guarantee for champion Jimmy Carter or whoever holds the 135-pound crown next summer.

Quinn, Waxman and Woodman had a long conference at a New York hotel Friday night about Kelly's future plans. Dempsey, in Chicago, was cut in on the confab by telephone.

Dempsey said, "Brian has the makings of a champion. He should be ready next year. He needs more polish and he must learn to control his temper. He's a little Stanley Ketchel, with a knockout punch in each hand. But when he comes tearing in, he leaves him."

Holloman Heads For Toronto

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UP)—Bobo (No-Hit) Holloman was en route to Toronto, Canada, today on the saddest trip of his baseball career.

The husky righthander, who pitched a no-hitter for the St. Louis Browns against the Philadelphia Athletics in his first major league start was waived out of both major leagues and sold to the Maple Leafs.

The rainy night of Holloman's achievement, May 6, was the high point of an otherwise undistinguished major league career.

The no-hitter was the only complete game he pitched in marking up a 3-7 record and an earned run average of 5.27.

When he first learned of his sale, Holloman threatened to quit the minors and face the long flight back to the big time.

But traveling secretary Bill Durney of the Browns talked him out of quitting an outcome that was not unexpected.

Even when he was angriest at being sent down Holloman had said wistfully:

"Baseball is my life. I work, eat and dream the game. I don't know what I'd do without it."

U.S. Davis Cup Team Gets Series

KINGSTON, Jamaica (UP)—The United States, a berth in the American Zone Davis Cup tennis finals already clinched, aimed today for a 5-0 sweep of their second-round series with the British West Indies.

The United States clinched the series, 3-0, Friday when Gardner Mulloy of Coral Gables, Fla., and Bob Perry of Los Angeles, Calif., teamed to beat Eddie Aris and Ian McDonald, 6-2, 6-3, in the doubles match.

The victory reduced today's two singles matches to the importance of mere exhibitions. The United States needs the winner of the second round series between Canada and Cuba for the zone championships. The zone champion will play Belgium for the right to challenge Australia for the Davis Cup Trophy itself next December.

Chicago, New York Both Lose Games; Milwaukee Ends Dodger Win Streak

Detroit Starts All-Star Game Practice Work

YPSILANTI, Mich. (UP)—Coach Buddy Parker paid particular attention today to his rookies as he worked his Detroit Lions at a feverish pace in preparation for the Aug. 14 College All-Star game.

The Lions lack depth at several positions and the rookies provide the means of filling the gaps.

Charles Ane, Lewis Carpenter, Gene Gedman, Carlton McCormack, Ed Moduszewski and Joe Schmidt have all caught the eye of Parker and high hopes are held for another who hasn't arrived at the training camp yet. He is Harley Sewell, a Texas guard who will play for the All-Stars before joining the Lions.

The veteran members of the Detroit team are watching the rookies, too. But for a different reason. There are 34 veterans on the roster, one above the season player limit. That means that one must go for each freshman that makes the grade, plus the extra one already on hand.

Parker's chief concern is in the line where he has two men short. He was one short last year as he directed the Lions to the National Football League championship and Stan Campbell, a guard, has been inducted into the service to account for the other vacancy.

Ane, a 250-pound tackle who sacrificed a year's eligibility at Southern California to play for the Lions, and Sewell, Detroit's No. 1 draft choice, are the best bets to fill those spots.

NEW YORK (UP)—If Boss Frank Lane of the White Sox were a little hard of hearing today—blame it on trades that backfired in his ears in the last two Chicago defeats.

The White Sox should be breathing on the necks of the Yankees today but they're not because of ex-White Sox players, Cass Mi-ered to provide the A's with the victory margin against Billy Pierce.

It was almost the same story on Thursday when Brown, the pitcher traded to the Red Sox during the winter pitched a four-hit victory as the Yankees also were losing.

Young lefty Billy Hoelt pitched a three-hit victory over the Yankees as the Tigers moved into seventh place for the first time all year. Walt Dropo hit a three-run homer to supply Hoelt's victory margin.

The Red Sox again took over third place by double-blanking the Browns, 8-0 and 6-0, as rookie lefty Bill Henry pitched a seven-hitter in the opener and Mickey McDermott fired a six-hitter in the second game. Henry drove in two runs and Tom Umphlett delivered three in the opener and scored three times in the second game.

The Senators knocked Cleveland out of third place with a 6-4 triumph in which Chuck Stobbs won his fifth game with help from Sam Dixon. The Indians used 21 players but never caught up after Washington scored twice in the first.

In the National League, Milwaukee ended Brooklyn's five-game winning streak with a 13-hit, 11-6 victory that featured homers by Ed Mathews and Walker Cooper and put the Braves 4 1-2 games out of first place. Mathews' homer was his 30th, keeping him in front in the major league race. Roy Campanella and Jackie Robinson homered for Brooklyn. Max Surkont won his 11th game, finally beating Brooklyn after being kayoed by them three times in a row. He also had to have help this time as Lew Burdette quieted the Cubs in a four-run, eighth-inning rally.

ED MATHEWS

chael, Gus Zernial, and Skinny Brown.

Michaels and Zernial teamed to give the Athletics a 4-2, 13-inning victory Friday night and keep the White Sox from cutting the 4 1-2 game lead of the Yankees, who suffered a 5-1 loss at Detroit. They sent the game into extra innings in the ninth as each drove in a run with a single and in the 12th Zernial singled and Michaels homer to provide the A's with the victory margin against Billy Pierce.

The Phils topped the Cardinals, 2-1 to go 6 1-2 games behind Brooklyn in third place while the fourth-place Giants were 8 1-2 games out of the lead after a 3-1 victory over Cincinnati. Chicago topped Pittsburgh, 7-1.

Gran Hamner hit two home runs to provide Bob Miller with all the help he needed for a seven-hit victory over the Cardinals, his third of the year.

Ruben Gomez turned in his eighth victory for the Giants, limiting Cincinnati to three hits as Hank Thompson and Daryl Spencer hit home runs to give him the offensive help he needed.

Ralph Kiner came back to his old haunts in Pittsburgh and delivered three singles to drive in two runs as lefty Paul Milner pitched an eight-hit victory for the Cubs.

Raleigh Pony Leaguers Trample Kinston With 27-0, No-Hit Game

Semi-Finals Get Underway Today

ROCKY MOUNT—The bases burned here last night as Raleigh's Pony League All-Stars trampled Kinston under a 27-0, no-hit game in the Eastern Division, District Three Tournament.

Raleigh, which has now scored 38 runs in two contests, scored 27 every inning. They played with the Kinston team in the first two innings with two and four runs respectively, but then settled down to serious business with six runs in the third and eight in the fourth. An additional four runs were sent home in the fifth.

Managers and tournament officials agreed to halt the games after five innings of play.

Charles Maiden and Julian Denning hurled for the winners. Maiden started the game and went the first three innings. Denning entered the game in the fourth and finished up.

Kinston managers Tommy Cole and Tracy Hart used four pitchers in an effort to halt the onslaught of Raleigh sluggers. Merle Byrd started, but was lifted in favor of George Fant in the second. Alley for Kid Gavilan's world welterweight crown if he repeats his victory over Graham. Christenberry will be at the ringside.

Graham already has fought Gavilan four times, once for the title. He won one non-title decision from the Cuban and lost the other three.

Both Graham and Basilio are rugged fighters. In 119 professional bouts, Graham never has been stopped, nor was Basilio in his 50 fights. Basilio is the sharper puncher. He has knocked out 18 opponents, while Graham, who has fought more than twice as many bouts, has knocked out 26.

Billy Graham Is Favored To Take New York Title

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (UP)—Billy Graham of New York is favored at 7 1-2 to 5 to take the New York state welterweight title from Carmen Basilio of Canastota, N. Y. tonight in their 12-round bout at Memorial Auditorium.

The fight, which will be televised, is the "rubber match" between the fighters. Basilio won the newly-created title on a 12-round decision over Graham here on June 6. Graham won their first bout, a non-title 10-rounder, at Chicago last Aug. 20.

Basilio, 26, is the underdog because the more experienced Graham 30, claimed he was weak from a virus infection and a turned ankle when he lost in June.

Robert Christenberry, chairman of the New York state boxing commission, has indicated Basilio for Kid Gavilan's world welterweight crown if he repeats his victory over Graham. Christenberry will be at the ringside.

Graham already has fought Gavilan four times, once for the title. He won one non-title decision from the Cuban and lost the other three.

HORSE DIES

DETROIT (AP)—Dr. Stanton co-holder of the Yonkers Raceway mark of 2:02 last year, dropped dead here Tuesday at Hazel Park here. The 12-year-old gelding had won $170,000, third highest among pacers. Dr. Stanton was a real bargain. His owner-driver, W. L. Frazer, bought him for only $500.

Putts Bothering Boswell In Blind's Golf Tourney

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UP)—Charles Boswell of Birmingham heeded his putter would begin to behave today and enable him to score his sixth consecutive victory in the national tournament for blind golfers.

Boswell, who was blinded by a German artillery shell in the Ruhr Valley in 1944, was the favorite in the field of 12 competitors over the 18-hole Highland Park course but expected strong competition from Pete Bell of Detroit and Clint Russell of Duluth, Minn.

Bell and his professional partner, S. A. Smith of Birmingham, defeated the 11 other blind-pro teams yesterday in the preliminaries of the seventh national tournament for blind golfers.

Four of the teams finished the course in 83 and officials then announced that the professionals would be blind-folded and play a "sudden-death" putt-off.

"We've got to see this," the blind winners cried when the announcement was made and they cheered as the pros were reduced to helpless novices when blindfolded.

Boswell's drives were behaving as he carried an 84 with Paul Stapp but his usually accurate putts gave him trouble. The 36-year-old father of three children was a bit chagrined because putting is usually the outstanding feature of his game.

Tennis Star Has Bakery Concern

TORONTO (AP)—One of Europe's women sports stars who now lives in Toronto combines baking with her athletic activities.

She is Mrs. Hilde Doleschell, an attractive blonde from Vienna who has won 30 championships to her credit. She won 10 tennis titles in her native Austria and represented her country four times at Wimbledon.

Twice Mrs. Doleschell won the Hungarian International Tennis Cup and one year took the Czech International Tennis Cup.

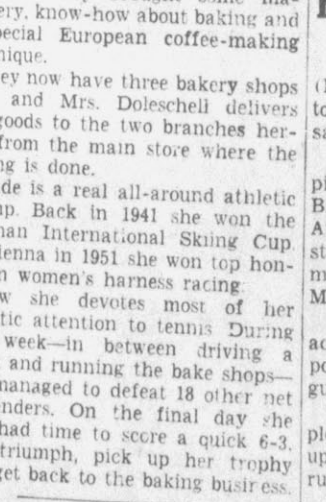

The Doleschells came to Canada in 1931. They brought some machinery know-how about baking and a special European coffee-making technique.

They now have three bakery shops here and Mrs. Doleschell delivers the goods to the two branches herself from the main store where the baking is done.

Hilde is a real all-around athletic champ. Back in 1941 she won the German International Skiing Cup in Vienna in 1951 she won top honors in women's harness racing.

Now she devotes most of her athletic attention to tennis. During one week—in between driving a truck and running the bake shops—she managed to defeat 18 other net contenders. On the final day she just had time to score a quick 6-3, 6-2 triumph, pick up her trophy and get back to the baking bustress.

The richest stake of the Delaware Park 1953 meeting is the $100,000 added New Castle Handicap which runs on July 4.

Auditor Looks Back On Twenty Years Of Changes In Greenville

A lot of changes have been made in Greenville and in the local city setup since C. H. Bass of High Point and Charlotte first began auditing the city's books more than 20 years ago.

Bass, who has been in town since Monday for the annual audit of last year's records, is connected with the G. G. Scott and Co. firm of certified public accountants in Charlotte which he says is the oldest of its kind in the state.

When he first came to Greenville, the High Point resident reminisced, the city hall was located on the other side of Evans Street on East Fifth where a grocery store now is located. It was a livery stable then, Bass recalls, and R. C. Flammagan was in his first year as mayor.

With the country still in the throes of the depression, the city's general fund expenditures at that time were only about $60,000, and none of the prevailing 96-cent tax rate, on year later in 1933, went for general fund use. About half of the entire revenue for the general fund came out of the utilities turn-over of $45,000.

Since that time he has seen the city's finances grow to present general fund expenditures of over $400,000 with a tax rate last year of 1.50.

Bass handles the books for several towns each year, including Roanoke Rapids, Kinston, New Bern and Vanceboro, in eastern North Carolina. He will go to Roanoke Rapids after finishing his work here.

Beginning his accounting career in 1912, he has been in public auditing since 1920, formerly covering other points in the state by train. In addition, he has a commercial accounting business of his own and owns a furniture establishment.

Bass makes his home in High Point where his wife resides. They have two children, both of whom are grown.

Raising Million Dollars Is Slow

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Crooner Bing Crosby still had a long way to go toward raising a million-dollar inheritance payment, even though all but seven of his race horses were gone today.

The crooner's racing stables virtually passed out of existence yesterday, but the 58 of his 65 thoroughbreds which were auctioned off brought a total of only $85,000.

It was a far cry from what the singer needs to meet the inheritance tax on his late wife's share of her fortune.

Under the California community property law, half of the Crosby holdings belonged to his wife, Dixie. When she died last fall her share reverted to Crosby and was considered an inheritance.

The highest price paid during the two-day auction was $8,800, for a brown filly yearling. The lowest bid accepted was $200 for a two-year-old filly.

Even at that, Bing doesn't get all the $85,000. He has to share it with Lin Howard, his partner in the Binglin stock farms.

Third Try Made Him Into Thief

EDINBURG, Tex. (U.P.)—A 25-year-old Elsa, Tex., farm worker got a five-year probation sentence in Texas' 92nd District Court when he admitted he burglarized the same tavern three times in one night after "celebrating too much."

Trinidad O. Villarreal testified he was walking home after celebrating when he passed an empty tavern. He pushed up a window and went in, he said.

Villarreal tried to open the juke box but had no luck. He testified he went home and to bed, but couldn't go to sleep. So he returned to the tavern with a large knife and tried to pry the juke box open again. Still no luck.

He went back home, but still was troubled by insomnia. Villarreal then returned a third time, this time with a screw driver. The juke box yielded. Villarreal took about $40.

He testified he was sorry, would pay back the money and would cut down on his "celebrating."

Completes New C-and-D Board

RALEIGH (UP)—Gov. William B. Umstead completed his appointments to the revamped State Board of Conservation and Development yesterday by naming Fayetteville businessman Henry Rankin, former Clemson College faculty member, as the 15th member.

Rankin is primarily interested in water resources, Umstead said. The board will hold its first meeting Monday in Morehead City and Umstead will preside. The governor is expected to serve as the active chairman of the board.

The new members will be sworn in Monday by Associate Justice E. B. Denny of the State Supreme Court.

HE WAS TIRED

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UP)—Willard Yarborough, a reporter, said he saw a pigeon fly from the curb to a passing car, fall off, get back on the fender and ride out of sight.

Congress Slates Busy Schedule In Plans To Adjourn

WASHINGTON (UP)—Congress is set to begin a busy schedule in an attempt to adjourn a week's session.

House members are expected to put their noses to the grindstone after majority leader Charles A. Halleck (R-Ind.) virtually assured adjournment next Saturday. They were willing to work long and hard.

The Senate took a big step toward a recess last night when the Appropriations Committee wound up public hearings on all money bills for the current fiscal year.

Acting Chairman Homer Ferguson (R-Mich.) said he hoped to get the final two spending measures—foreign aid and a supplemental appropriations bill—approved by the committee today.

Acting Senate Republican leader William F. Knowland repeatedly said the Senate will be able to adjourn next Saturday if all senators cooperate in working toward the Aug. 1 goal.

Halleck's announcement yesterday was greeted with applause and cheers in the House.

"I predict with high confidence that if we are ready to work next week—with night sessions and full sessions every body—I am quite sure we can adjourn sine die at the end of next week," he said.

Halleck advised members to keep dinner engagements next week "flexible" so they won't conflict with long working days and session running late at night.

Halleck listed a number of measures still to be acted on, including President Eisenhower's special immigration bill, increased postal rates, additional military construction, and authority to give farm supplies to needy countries.

Kiwanians Plan To Fete Ball Club

Members of the Kiwanis baseball team in Greenville's Little League and coaches will be feted along with other guests at next week's picnic supper meeting of the club.

The meeting, replete with a welcome and entertainment of various sorts, will be at 6:30 p.m. at Elm Street Park. General Chairman Robert Elks has indicated.

Club members last night saw a film produced by the Investment Bankers Association entitled, "Opportunity U.S.A." and dealing with the channeling of individual savings into increases in production. The film was shown by Robert W. Fennell, program chairman.

One new member was received into the club. He is Raymond Lowe, who is connected with the DuPont plant near Kinston in a supervisory capacity.

Guest for the evening was R. P. Heller, also with DuPont. He was introduced to the club by John Barnhill.

A forthcoming $1,800,000 building program for East Carolina College was outlined by James Butler, college alumni secretary, for members of the Greenville Exchange Club last night.

The speaker told the group the building program will include two new dormitories to house more than 600 students.

In addition, $100,000 is available, he said, for furnishing the new Joyner Library now being completed. New wiring, and other improvements will be carried out in some of the older buildings, and the old Practice house will be converted into an alumni building and faculty club.

The speaker was introduced by President Jack Hadley along with Miss Ellen Sprinkle student of the music department, who presented several piano selections and led the group in singing. Miss Sprinkle was pianist for the outdoor drama, "Thunderland," last summer.

Two-Alarm Fire Turned Out To Be Minor Blaze

What was believed to be a two-alarm fire turned out to be only a minor alarm around midnight last night.

Greenville firemen turned in an alarm from the main fire station when a report came in that a house at 110 Washington Street was on fire. Apparently at the time the alarm was sounded from the station someone pulled in a box alarm from box 81 at First and Greene also, sounding two separate alarms.

Three trucks responded to the call, as did all volunteer and off-duty firemen.

The fire: a burning mattress in the home of Josephine Whyche. Only slight damage resulted.
