American Korea Stand Endorsed In UN

The committee split sharply on the invitation to India, but foredoomed its approval in the Assembly. An Indian resolution providing for communicating the Assembly's decisions to the Communists was approved, 54 to 4, with two abstentions.

India, the center of contention in most of the deliberations on the conference set-up, announced in both votes that it was "not participating." Russia's slate gained support only from the Soviet bloc. In the vote on the Western plan, Yugoslavia and Guatemala joined the Soviet bloc in opposition.

Replies to Vishinsky were expected at today's meeting before voting on the peace conference membership begins. The United States has remained adamant in its stand that India should be excluded from the conference. U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., also has taken the position that the U.N. should invite as its representatives to the parity any of the 17 nations that fought under the U.N. flag in Korea.

Transform Your Home With A New Wall Finish

By MRS. RUEL W. TYSON
Home Demonstration Secretary
A new wall finish will probably do more to transform the appearance of your home than anything else that you might do. During the past month the Home Demonstration Club women of Pitt County have shown a tremendous interest in selecting new wall paper, a new paint job, or some other finish for rooms in their homes.

Every home is individual and your choices should be made accordingly. However, there are certain principles that must be observed if we are to obtain pleasing results and live happily with our choice.

What do you want your walls to do for you? The walls of a room make up the largest square foot area. Therefore, it is a logical assumption that most of the time we plan for the walls to serve as a part of the background for the furniture or furnishings. However, there are quite often places we want "fill up" the room.

Conservative-Liberal Line Is Hard To Draw In N. C. Election

By LYNN NISBET

RALEIGH. — As the campaign for United States Senator gets underway with the selection of twelve representatives in Congress, 170 members of the General Assembly and numerous local officials coming up, questions are being asked about how the prospective candidates for the several offices can be classified with respect to conservative or liberal leanings.

Time was, not so many years ago, when such bracketing was a very simple matter. It is not simple now, and the complexities are compounded with each new development in governmental activity.

Millions of people last year voted for Eisenhower for President in protest against the "liberalism" of Harry Truman with respect to spending public money. After the election the Eisenhower regime failed to decrease the taxes, actually increased spending, and there is possibility of a special session of Congress to approve boosting the national debt above the current limit of $275 billion.

Thousands of North Carolinians voted last year for William Umstead as Governor because they thought he offered a change from the free spending regime of Kerr Scott. The 1953 General Assembly, under leadership of Governor Umstead, appropriated more money than any previous session, issued $14.25 million bonds on its own authority and provided for an election on another $72 million, thus raising the aggregate net State debt to a figure not contemplated before.

It seems fairly certain at this time that the senatorial contest next year will be between Kerr Scott, who is rated a liberal, largely on the basis of his record as a candidate and his administration as Governor, and Senator Alton Lennon, generally classed as a conservative, chiefly because he was appointed to the Senate by Governor Umstead, who was rated a conservative during his campaign in last year's primary.

Brief review of the records of the several prospective candidates and their chief supporters will show that the terms of conservative and liberal as applied to any and all of them are misnomers. It is of record, for instance, that in the 1949 legislative discussion of the $200 million secondary road bonds the "liberal" Governor Scott did not want the one-cent tax levy attached to the ballot, but the "conservative" General Assembly insisted that the people should be allowed to vote on that levy.

In the 1951 Legislature the liberal Governor Scott insisted upon appropriations of about $38 million more than the budget commission had recommended—and the conservative General Assembly actually appropriated $42 million more than budget recommendations and $4 million more than Scott suggested. Which was liberal and which conservative in that deal?

Efforts are being made now in some quarters to bracket Senator Lennon as a corporation lawyer antagonistic to organized labor. Yet the record is that he was of 10 Senators to vote for the labor-sponsored wage-hour bill, and he introduced and obtained enactment of bills increasing benefits under workmen's compensation laws designed for the protection of labor. Which is the liberal, which the conservative side on that?

During the 1949 Assembly when Governor Scott was vigorously backing the rural road issue his administration leaders were aiding the big highway transport folks in their efforts to get increased size and weight loads for box-car type trucks which ply the primary highways. Here, again, it is difficult to determine which is the liberal and which the conservative viewpoint.

Out of all the mumbo-jumbo of the situation comes the definite conclusion that North Carolinians have got to find some other words to distinguish between political factions. The terms conservative and liberal no longer have real meaning.

Mild Weather

The highest temperature recorded by the local U.S. Weather Station yesterday was 89 degrees. Lowest temperature was 63 and at 8 a.m. today it was 66. No rain.

Similar weather prevailed in the Greenville area yesterday a year ago, when the highest temperature was 85 degrees. Lowest 62, and at 8 a.m. next day it was 67. No rain.

Seeking Million To Sign Petition

ATLANTA, (UP) — Edgar G. Brown, director of the National Negro Council, says the council is soliciting 1,000,000 signatures to a petition asking the federal government to "outlaw segregation now."

Brown announced yesterday that the group plans to present the petition to President Eisenhower, Vice President Richard Nixon, House Speaker Joseph Martin (R-Mass) and the Supreme Court "before the Supreme Court begins its second hearing on the school segregation cases."

"The petition will be in answer to governors Herman Talmadge of Georgia and James F. Byrnes of South Carolina, two outspoken proponents of segregation," he said.

Brown said the council feels Mr. Eisenhower and the Supreme Court "should hear how others feel on the subject."

The Negro leader told the national convention of Negro Elks here that President Eisenhower is the first president since Reconstruction Days to "enforce any civil rights legislation to protect the constitutional guarantees of Negroes."

No president since Grant has made any attempt to uphold civil rights for Negroes until President Eisenhower directed that the provisions of the District of Columbia's non-segregation law be observed, Brown charged.

A spokesman for the convention said the Elks "deplore" Brown's action in soliciting signatures among convention delegates for his petition condemning segregation.

Local Scouts In Swimming Meet

Three Greenville Scouts were winners in special events at East Carolina Council's annual swimming meet in Kinston this week.

In the Boy Scout events, Billy Sermons of Greenville was third in the distance plunge.

Soldier In Korea Protests Miami Parking Ticket

MIAMI (UP)—The "city of Miami, its people and the police department" received a letter yesterday from a soldier in Korea protesting a parking ticket.

The letter, dated July 14, stated: "Today I celebrate my 370th day in Korea. Also today, and it's a hot, sweaty one, I received a rather glibly worded traffic citation from your office stating that on 14 Jan., 1953, I parked my old Cady on Northeast 79th Street unlawfully. "My friend, this is impossible! First, on the 14th of January I was on an O. P. starting at some not too friendly Chinks on the western front here; and secondly, I sold said auto at Fort Sill, Okla., on or about 2 July, 1952.

"I'm planning a honeymoon in your fair city come January, maybe we can discuss it further then. "Regretfully,"

The letter was signed G. E. Reising Jr., first lieutenant.

Department Commander W. L. (Bill) McMillan of Rocky Mount will head a North Carolina delegation of more than 400 legionnaires and their wives who will attend the convention, Harris stated.

Obstructionist Lable Draws Ire

WASHINGTON (UP)—Four Republican congressmen fired sharp replies today to Rep. Hugh Scott's charge they are "noisy obstructionists" who have been sniping at their own President's program.

Scott, former National Republican Committee chairman, said the obstructionists number about three or four dozen and specifically named Sens. Joseph R. McCarthy (Wis.), Herman Welker (Idaho) and George W. Malone (Nev) and Reps. Daniel A. Reed (N.Y.), Clare Hoffman (Mich.) and Noah M. Mason (Ill.).

"Some are free wheeling grandstanders," Scott said in an article written for the September issue of American Magazine. "But mostly they are what we call 'old fuds' or the 'fudocracy'."

In Los Angeles, McCarthy snapped that Scott "probably wanted to get a headline."

At Fontana, Wis., Mason said he opposed the President's program only "where I thought it was wrong." In the Capital here, Malone said "time always determines who is right and who is wrong." He said he hoped Scott would "settle down" to protect the interests of the country.

Scott, a Republican congressman from Pennsylvania who served as GOP chairman in the 1948 presidential campaign, said the "sniping" at Mr. Eisenhower was giving the whole party a bad name.

Light Docket In Police Court Here Yesterday

LIGHT DOCKET ... S ... P

Judge Charles E. Whedbee disposed of an unusually light mid-week docket yesterday when only five defendants appeared before him.

Annie Mae Baker, 405 Bonner's Lane, and Edna Corbett, 908 Davis Street, Negroes, were in court on the charge of assault. The court taxed Annie Mae Baker with $5 on court costs, and Edna Corbett, $15.

Funeral Set Friday For David C. Creech

David C. Creech, 89, died suddenly at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Addie Elks, 614 1-2 Pitt Street, at about 10:30 o'clock Wednesday night after apparently suffering a heart attack.

Funeral services will be conducted at the chapel of the Wilkerson Funeral Home Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock by the Rev. Walter B. Nobles, Free Will Baptist minister of Winterville. Burial will be in the Bowen cemetery near Ormondsville.

Mr. Creech was born in Johnston County and moved to Greene County in the Ormondsville Community as a youth. He had been living in and near Greenville since 1917. He was a member of Old Saint's Delight Church.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Lide Vandford Creech; three sons, Earl L., Willis E., and J. B. Creech of Greenville; three daughters, Mrs. Addie Elks and Mrs. Kathleen Peaden of Greenville and Mrs. Beattie Lee Dunn of Richlands; 9 grandchildren; and a brother, Lewis Creech of Farmville.

Thief Returned License, Ring

AUSTIN, Tex. (UP)—Miss Merle Dunning and John E. Pulliam had their marriage license and wedding ring back today. They were stolen last Saturday from Pulliam's automobile along with gifts intended for their wedding attendants.

The stolen articles were found in a paper bag in the driveway of Miss Dunning's home Tuesday. In the bag was a note which said: "Sorry. Wish you lots of luck."

Dive More Than Mile Into Ocean

TOULON, France (UP) — Two French naval officers who dived more than a mile beneath the surface of the Mediterranean — the deepest any man ever has been — today were confident they could descend even deeper into the watery unknown in their futuristic-looking depth boat. Lt. Cmdr. Nicolas Houot and naval engineer Henri Willm set a new world record by plunging to a depth of 6,896 feet off this naval base two weeks ago. On their next dive, planned for early October, they hope to go down 13,124 feet. Both officers said they did not know much about sea life but what they did see on their record-breaking dive was deeply impressive. "We could see less than 15 feet ahead of us down there," Houot said, "but what we did see was magnificent color. It was like a color movie—but they will never get a box office down there." Houot said they saw "millions of little gelatin-like animals glowing in the dark." Willm who designed the 25-ton sub-shaped craft around an old bathysphere of Prof. Auguste Piccard said the dive "proved a major point—that it can go down a considerable depth and come back up."

Sale Of Bonds In Pitt Hit $53,000

Combined sales of Series E and H United States Savings Bonds in Pitt county for the month of July totalled $53,509.26. This sales announcement was made today by County Savings Bonds Chairman J.H. Waldrop, according to the monthly sales report issued by Allison James, state director of the U.S. Savings Bonds Division in Greensboro. The combined sales of Series E and H Bonds for North Carolina's 100 counties for the month of July totalled $3,890,195.50. In announcing the above County and State sales figures, Chairman Waldrop said the promotional activity of the Savings Bonds sales program is now concentrated exclusively on the sale of Series E and H Bonds. These two series, which are sold to individuals only, are the mainstay of the Treasury's program to encourage thrift generally and to place more of the national debt in the hands of millions more of American citizens. Waldrop further stated that, nationally, individuals have over $36,000,000,000 invested in E and H bonds. (Series H Bonds were first offered for sale June 1, 1952).

'Timber Bank' Handy On Farm When Crops Are Hit

RALEIGH—A "timber bank" can come mighty handy on the farm, especially after Mother Nature looses her wrath on cash crops. Lewell Reid, one of Nash County's more progressive farmers, was hard hit by a violent hail storm that swept over the Salem community June 12. His cash crops—tobacco, cotton and corn—were almost totally destroyed, farm buildings were blown down; several head of livestock were killed; and about 30,000 board feet of good timber was blown down. Jim Phillips, forestry specialist for N.C. State College Agricultural Extension Service, was called in to look over the fallen timber. It was the time of year when the downed timber was most susceptible to insect damage and blue stain, which would have robbed Reid of a lot of money in a very short time. Something had to be done immediately. As Madison Skinner, president of the Nash Farm Bureau says, "Lewell was perhaps the hardest hit of any of us in Salem Community, but he was lucky. He had a 'timber bank.'" Reid's "timber bank" consisted of 250,000 board feet of marketable timber in a nice stand on one portion of his farm. Marketing it in a businesslike and orderly manner was the big problem. Phillips says Reid called several lumbermen to get estimates. After a few days he heard that an agricultural representative for a Rocky Mount bank was holding a timber auction sale for one of the bank's clients. Reid phoned the bank representative to check on the possibility of taking advantage of this sale to market his timber. It was agreed. As soon as the bank client's timber was sold, the auctioneer and buyers drove over to Reid's farm. Sale price: $6,800.

Housing Scarce In Red Peiping

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The capital of Communist China apparently has a housing shortage just like Washington. A Peiping radio broadcast heard by the Associated Press in San Francisco, said recently that 30 hotels, 100 apartment houses and four new theaters were being built this year. Among the projects was said to be the new Peking (Peiping) hotel, nine stories high and the tallest building in the ancient walled city.

Boys Are Open To Death Penalty

CHARLOTTE (UP) — Two teenage Negro boys, charged with stabbing a nurse to death in a purse-snatching attempt, were held today without bond for a murder trial which may begin next week. Solicitor Basil Whitener said Karey Harris, 16, and William A. McQuary, 14, could be sentenced to the gas chamber if convicted. They were charged with first degree murder in the knife-slaying of Miss Helen Swink, a 64-year-old spinster nurse. Harris confessed that he had stabbed Miss Swink with a dirk-like knife the night of Aug. 2 when he and McQuary mistook a paper bag she was carrying for a purse. "I stuck her and then Billy asked her where was her purse," he told officers. "She said she didn't have one." Harris waived a formal hearing in city recorder's court yesterday. McQuary was given a hearing in juvenile court and probable cause was found. No trial date was set immediately, but a session of Mecklenburg Superior Court is scheduled to begin next week.

Carpenters Act To Rejoin AFL

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UP) — Leaders of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners Union met here today after revealing that they had taken the first step toward possible re-affiliation with the AFL. The union conference today was to discuss job prospects in the building industry and to plan cooperation between its unions in six Midwest states. The carpenters' president, Maurice Hutcheson, disclosed last night that he and AFL President George Meany had agreed to appoint a committee to discuss the possibility the carpenters would rejoin the federation. The 750,000-man union left the AFL fold recently on charges that they were not being protected from raiding and jurisdiction fights within the AFL itself. The move came after the AFL Executive Council endorsed a "no-raiding" truce with the CIO at Chicago. Hutcheson said the new committee would meet within two weeks. Hutcheson said that today he would report to the conference the developments which led to the carpenters' withdrawal from the AFL.

Wife Joined In Jail Sentence

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—When a 95-year-old Negro was sentenced to a night in jail for contempt of court in a property dispute, his 70-year-old wife told the judge: "God may take him away from me, but nobody else is going to." And she proved it by spending the night in Pulaski County jail with him. U. S. population increased about nine million in the 1930s and nine million in 1940s.

Got Everything Except The Sink

OKLAHOMA CITY, AP.—When an Oklahoma City scout car officer arrested a woman she threw a pan of boiling water at him. The hot water splashed down Officer B.R. McDonald's neck and shoulder. "To make things worse," he reported, "after the water, she threw the pan." Cape Town, South Africa, was founded in 1652 by the Dutch to raise fresh food for passing ships.

Backstairs View Of Happenings At Ike's Retreat

By MERRIMAN SMITH
United Press White House Writer
DENVER (UP)—Backstairs at the summer White House: Sherman Adams, the assistant to the President, has this to say about Mr. Eisenhower's job: "This job is a perfectly stupendous one and often takes a terrible toll of the President's health. I don't know just what the best remedy would be — proper staffing or a better distribution of the presidential load."
Adams and other members of the Eisenhower staff have studied the records of past presidents closely and have resolved that their man won't be ground to bits as other presidents have been by the senseless pressure of minor detail.
In this resolve, the President's secretariat is attempting to protect him as much as possible here in Denver from callers whose business is something less than urgent. Consequently, there are hurt feelings in some political areas of the land by people who would like to be summoned to the vacation White House. One senator called for days, inviting himself to be invited to Denver.

More Trouble Piles Up For Dick Haymes

LOS ANGELES Calif. (UP)—Crooner Dick Haymes today faced a new federal charge that could force his deportation after he "remembered" a brief and previously unpublished marriage.
Haymes already faces possible deportation for visiting red-haired Rita Hayworth in Hawaii.
The second charge against the Argentina-born singer came at the close of a five-hour hearing yesterday before special immigration inquiry officer Joseph A. Dummel and examining officer Thomas J. Nolan.
The new charge accused Haymes of violating the McCarran-Walter Act by failing to notify immigration officials annually of his address and other information, prior to Feb. 1, 1953.
At the hearing, on charges that he also violated the McCarran-Walter Act by illegally re-entering this country from Hawaii, the singer recalled the unpublished marriage.
Haymes disclosed that when he was 21 he married Edith Harper, a singer at Chicago's Sherman Ho-

IN CUSTODY—Mildred McDonald, pretty 25-year-old stenographer, sits in the New York police station with Patrolman George F. Grace who apprehended her. She had been sought for questioning in the bizarre pistol-razor slaying of Mary Di Rocco, 14-year-old Somerville, Mass. girl. Grace holds .22 calibre pistol which police said was found in Miss McDonald's room at the YWCA. Grace said he recognized her from a picture in a newspaper. (AP Wirephoto)

Airliners Brush In Mid-Air; But Landed Safely

CHICAGO (UP)—A major disaster was narrowly averted when two loaded airliners collided in flight near here and then limped to safe landings with ragged holes torn in their light metal bodies.
A difference of only two or three feet in the location of the holes would have spelled death for some of the 57 passengers aboard the two planes, experts said.
The accident occurred Wednesday night at a height of about 11,000 feet when a United Air Lines plane and an American Airlines ship slammed into each other over Michigan. The United plane, about 60 miles east of here, was flying as wind whistled into the depressurized cabins and one young wife fingered a rosary, but witnesses said most of the passengers were "pretty calm."
The United Air Lines plane set down at South Bend, Ind., and made a forced landing with 27 passengers aboard.
The American plane turned back to Chicago and landed its 24 passengers safely despite a three-foot hole in the undersection of the fuselage, 15 feet from the tail section.
William Whittacre, chief of operations for American, confirmed that the incident would be investigated by the Civil Aeronautics Administration.
In 1950, the U. S. government held some rural land in 1,796 of the 3,069 counties of the country.

GIRL SLAIN—The bullet-punctured and partially burned body of Mary Di Rocco, 14 (top), was found in the cellar of her home at Somerville, Mass. Police said they are holding a "very pretty" stenographer they identified as Mildred McDonald, 25, who has confessed. (AP Wirephoto)

Would Require Reading Of News

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—A Brazilian lawmaker has proposed a plan for the "forced reading" of newspapers. The scheme, proposed by Deputy Joao Cabanas, and aimed at increasing the number of newspaper readers, would work like this:
Without previous authorization, publishers could start delivering their paper to the home of a prospective subscriber. If the subscriber failed to halt the delivery within two weeks, the publisher could consider him a full-fledged subscriber.

The bill also provides that the publisher could collect for the paper through legal means without paying court fees.

Mr. Eisenhower is in no particular hurry to receive a first-person report from Adlai Stevenson on the 1952 Democratic nominee's recently concluded around-the-world tour. This is in no sense a back-of-the-hand attitude, but the White House was somewhat surprised to read speculation that Stevenson might come to Denver to report to the President.

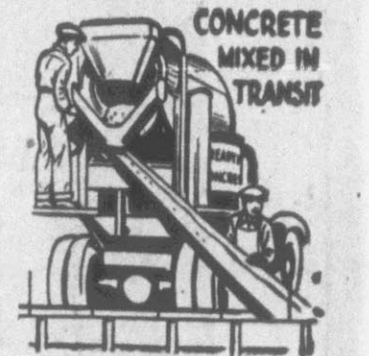

The President got down on his hands and knees in a mountain pasture outside Pine, Colo., the other day and industriously swatted grasshoppers with his sky blue felt hat to provide fishing bait for members of his party.

Bendix

The Devonshire Model RM21C
Beautifully styled in mahogany with an 18th Century motif, this Bendix television-radio-phonograph combination reproduces a 21 inch TV picture at its best. An ingenious adaptation of Period tambour has been executed in the lower half of the compact cabinet. Contains supersensitive AM radio and three-speed phonograph with changer, plus roomy storage compartment for record albums. Augmented Power-Master chassis. Size: 30 in. wide; 40 in. high; 24 3-4 in. deep.

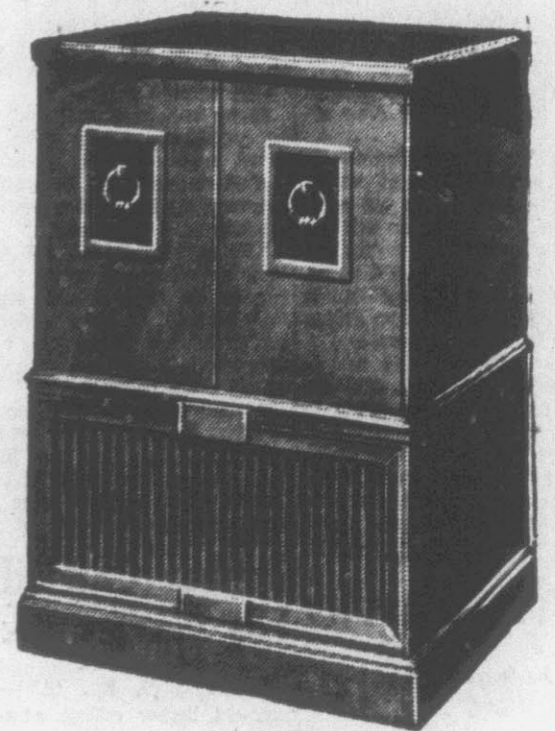

The Coronation Model TM21C
Choice mahogany and hardwood in rich color balance have been traditionally styled in the Bendix 21 inch Coronation. The cabinet, finished in flawless mahogany veneers, is exceptionally compact for convenient installation. Power-Master chassis. Size: 24 3- in. wide; 22 in. high; 22 3-8 in. deep. This model also available in 17 in.

TV'S CROWNING ACHIEVEMENT

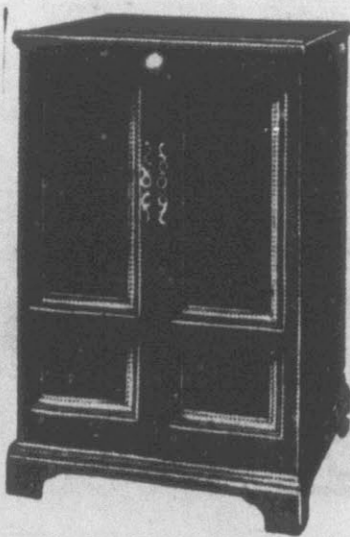

The Promenade Model TS21C
Contemporary in style, and designed to provide big picture television in a functionally contained cabinet size, the mahogany finished 21 inch Promenade is electronic perfection combined with the excellence of fine cabinetry. Power-Standard chassis. Size: 24 1-2 in. wide; 22 in. high; 22 3-8 in. deep. This model also available in 17 inch.

The Queensbury Model RB21C
Tomorrow's completely modern television-radio-phonograph combination is the Bendix Queensbury with a 21 inch rectangular, non-glare picture. The cabinet is a magnificent blend of genuine blond oak solids, combed grain veneers and tooled leather. Contains super-sensitive AM radio and three-speed phonograph with silent changer, plus roomy storage compartment for record albums. Augmented Power-Master chassis. Size: 30 in. wide; 40 in. high; 24 3-4 in. deep.

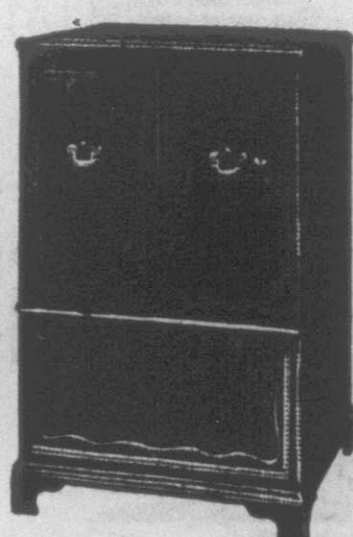

THE CANTERBURY Model HB21C
Built entirely of white oak solids, the 21" Canterbury is finished in the choicest of blond oak veneers of a soft, bisque shade. The heavy, white oak doors are decorated with beautifully tooled leather as a luxurious setting for the solid brass hardware. Truly modern in its fine furniture appeal. Power-Master chassis included. Size: 26 3-4" wide; 38" high; 24 3-8" deep.

THE MARTINIQUE Model HM21C
The Bendix 21" Martini is a fine achievement in design for discriminating taste. It is a style-craft console of Chippendale influence, combining choice mahogany and select hardwoods. The doors contain highly figured, book-matched crotch panels framed in a soft bolly pattern. This set includes the Bendix Power-Master chassis. Size: 26 3-4" wide; 38" high; 24 3-8" deep.

THE CASABLANCA Model FB21C
In this 21" TV set, a balanced blend of 18th Century styling enhances the modern tenor of its natural finish on combed grain white oak. Satin brass pulls on full length doors harmonize decoratively with the gold lustre of picture mask and control knobs. Power-Master chassis. Size: 27 1-2" wide; 38" high; 25" deep.

THE SUFFOLK Model FM21C
Styled authentically with the lines of an 18th Century cabinet, this 21" set is built of flawless mahogany solids. Carefully selected genuine swirl mahogany panels on the full length doors are pleasingly highlighted with satin brass hardware. Equipped with the famous Power-Master chassis. Size 27 1-3" wide; 38" high; 25" deep.

THE MONARCH Model KM21C
This handsomely styled 21" TV console blends the heritage of the Regency period with modern functionalism at its best. Rich, hand-rubbed mahogany is accented by a slender frame faced with a Loredo patterned inlay. Power-Master chassis. Size: 24 3-4" wide; 37 7-8" high; 22 3-8" deep.

THE GRANDEUR Model KB21C

Lines Are Drawn On Telling U.S. Public Of Atomic Race

By PAUL SOUTHWICK
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—Lines are being drawn in Congress and the administration for what may become a great national debate over giving the American people more facts about the atomic arms race.

On one side are President Eisenhower, former Chairman Gordon Dean of the Atomic Energy Commission and many prominent scientists who believe the public needs more information to act intelligently on the grave problems raised by Russian and U.S. possession of A-bombs and H-bombs.

On the other side are some atomic officials and a sizeable number of congressmen who hold that any relaxation of atomic secrecy will aid the enemy more than it will help the U.S. public.

The issue was pointed up by two statements from congressmen Wednesday.

Sen. Lester C. Hunt (D-Wyo.)

said he favors telling the American people "all there is to know" about atomic weapons.

"The apathy, the lack of interest (in civil defense programs) are due to the fact that the people have not been told the facts of the atom bomb," he said in a television interview.

The opposite viewpoint was expressed by a member of the Congressional Atomic Energy Committee.

Rep. James T. Patterson (R-Conn.), chairman of the group's security subcommittee, said it would be a serious mistake to disclose any atomic secrets "just to satisfy idle curiosity."

Patterson, a former Treasury undercover agent and an OSS officer during the war, said "the FBI has driven the Soviet spies out of the U.S. atomic program" and "we must not do the work of the Soviet spies for them."

Patterson said, if anything, security should be made even tighter throughout all government agencies.

His statement was in conflict with President Eisenhower's views as expressed at a July 8 press conference.

Mr. Eisenhower said he thought the time had come for giving the American people more information about atomic weapons.

Dean, who retired recently as AEC chairman, had said previously that "there must be more discussion, more education and more training, and a necessary part of the achievement of these things is to make more information available."

The President's committee on psychological warfare strategy has also recommended that the public be acquainted with the "growth of the Soviet atomic capability." That was on July 8, before the Russian announcement that they had set off a hydrogen bomb.

1775. HANCOCK-CLARKE HOUSE, Lexington, Mass.

AP Newsfeatures

On the 18th of April in 1775, Paul Revere rode by this old house, spreading the alarm to the country folk. Asleep in the house, until aroused by his call, were John Hancock and Samuel Adams. Later, John Hancock's signature would stand out prominently on the Declaration of Independence. The gambrel-roofed portion of the house (now the ell) was built by Hancock's grandfather, the Reverend John Hancock, in 1698, and its old hand-been oaken frame shows little sign of decay.

The signer's father was born here. In 1734, the residence was enlarged to its present dimensions and, at the outbreak of the Revolution, was the home of the Rev. Jonas Clarke. The long, low-ceilinged kitchen, once the centre of family life, to-day has all the utensils formerly in use. On exhibition, there are also many Colonial costumes, an old drum actually used at the Battle of Lexington, and many more articles of historic interest. The property was purchased in 1896, by the Lexington Historical Society and is now its headquarters.

Franco Plans Soon Sign U.S. Treaty

Franco Spain, whose services and loyalties have been an international drug on the market since 1940, is about ready to sign a bargain-basement agreement with the United States.

Sometime around Sept. 30 barring some last-minute hitch, a mutual defense pact will be finalized giving United States access to Spanish bases in exchange for Spanish access to American dollars.

It will work out something like this:

The United States will hand over to Spain some $500,000,000 in military equipment and economic assistance over a four years' period.

In return, Spain will give the U. S. the use, for 10 years, of four air bases and a naval base at Cadix, anchorage and refueling rights and an option for two extensions of five years each.

For Spain that $500,000,000 price tag represents a colossal come-down from the days, 13 years ago, when Franco offered to enter the war at Hitler's side for this tidy consideration: "Gibraltar, French Morocco, those parts of Algeria mostly colonized and inhabited by Spaniards, agrandissement of Rio de Oro and the colonies in the Gulf of Guinea" plus "supply of the necessary military and other assistance required for the war."

Hitler turned down that offer because the price was too high.

In the interim, Spain dickered with Russia for an economic arrangement and peddled a considerable amount of copper and other strategic items to the Soviets, until active American interest developed.

Even then Spain over-estimated its market. Starting with a reported "first asking price" somewhere near one billion dollars to be paid over in advance, before a single U.S. base could be set up, the price tag went through a two-years series of mark-downs until it reached the present level.

Spain originally sought in addition, a full-scale military pact guaranteeing roughly the same American support pledged to United States allies in Europe.

The number of bases originally intended has been cut back. The 10-year term of the agreement is less than the United States initially asked.

What's more, Spain has stuck in a provision sharply limiting the number of Americans who may be stationed in Spain. Persons in close contact with the protracted negotiations say Spain has set the number at not more than 3,000 servicemen at the agreed bases.

at any one time.

In spite of obvious disappointments on both sides, the final agreement offers the blessings of a "marriage of convenience." Spain desperately needs economic aid and military supplies for Franco's armed forces.

The United States has been made increasingly anxious to get the arrangements out of the discussion and into the action stage by the lagging European defense plans and a threatened swing to the left in several European countries.

Decided To Write Book About Crows--- And Proffered Material Swamped Him

By Harman W. Nichols
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—Stuart Little thought that what the world needed more than anything else was a booklet on crows.

So he wrote many of his friends, including me, asking for crow anecdotes.

Little wishes that he hadn't. He got a lot of crow talk, of course, but what was worse he got a lot of live crows — all mean critters. They are over his rather smallish quarters at 5th Ave. and 42nd St. in New York City. If our man is unhappy, his secretary, Ann Prokopenko, is thrice as miserable.

Being a crow-sitter is not in Ann's contract, she says. And she is frank to admit she's about to fly the coop.

A guy in Plainfield, N. J., sent Little a cantankerous black fellow named James. James took an immediate dislike to Little and drove same home with a hard nip to the Little nose.

The fellow got a lot of other crows, too, but no cages to put them in. He also got some of the crow stuff that comes in bottles, which wasn't so bad.

Along with the feathered pests, he actually did get some anecdotes, none of which he believes.

A sportsman from Lebanon, Pa., lightened Little's load somewhat by sending in a crow call.

"He suggested that if I wanted to know all about crows I should run out on Fifth Avenue and tootle," he said. "I have tootled myself crowblack in the face but the only crows I get are dumb birds which come collect."

A man down South wrote in to say that he once knew a crow who was a golf fan. This bird hated a man who could bust 100 but loved duffers who couldn't. The black bird made a career out of perching ing on a limb over hole number three on a course in North Carolina. When a duffers ball landed near the hole, the crow would wind down and kick it in for a birdie. When a minus-80 golfer came along, the crow would pick up the ball and make for the rough.

A farmer in Kansas said that in 1871 his grandpa fixed up a wooden leg for a hunter. The bird stuck around the barn for a time and then flew. The farmer swears that a one-legged crow came back in 1918, also wearing a wooden leg.

"Only way I can figure it," the farmer said, "is that we started a breed of birds wearing wooden legs. Anyway, one comes back every season — about corn planting time. Those darn crows have been taught to spy on our corn crop.

All of which has Little thinking about eating crow.

Career Previews For Teen-Agers

NEW YORK (AP)—When teenagers buckle down to finding jobs this fall, many may find themselves hampered in their search by a lack of practical, down-to-earth guidance.

A pattern for preventing this kind of disillusionment has been developed in the Youngstown, Ohio, area. There in the Mahoning and Shenango Valleys, reports Steelways, official magazine of American Iron and Steel Institute, an organization sponsored by local industry provides what might be called "career previews" for teenagers while they are still in high school.

Besides giving young people a graphic picture of the numerous jobs available to them in the local area, this growing service group—known as the Industrial Information Institute — also shows them how they can help industry make real contributions to the community.

Thousands of high school students are drawn to the Institute's annual exposition in Youngstown to study special job analysis charts. Required aptitudes like stamina, coordination, perceptual speed and leadership are shown so students can practically pre-rate themselves.

Steel companies, utilities, banks, railroads and the other interests backing the Institute see it as a workable job pattern that others might follow.

Barber Carried His Homework

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A 23-year-old barber college student was arrested for carrying around his homework—a razor.

Police said they took him off a horse near a riding academy after receiving reports he was riding recklessly and had fallen off the animal. He said he had just purchased the razor.

Red Tape Hits Housing Project

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—The new American embassy office building in Rio de Janeiro has eight lovely apartments which apparently aren't going to see much use — thanks to red tape. The eight apartments occupy two upper floors of the 12-story, $2,800,000 building, which was opened for use in April. They were intended to be used by newcomers who were looking for apartments of their own, or by touring guests or diplomats.

But soon after the opening, a ruling came down from somewhere about the use of the apartments. For "security" reasons, couples with children would not be allowed to use them—only single persons or childless couples.

So about the only occupants for the apartments, aside from an occasional visitor, have been a few newly-arrived secretaries. The story goes that they would prefer a hotel near one of Rio's famous beaches.

Blood Donor Is Gaining Weight

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Charles (Happy) Jones, Tinker Air Force Base fireman, has just donated his 100th pint of blood—some 12½ gallons worth.

When Jones donated his first pint of blood in 1937 he weighed 155 pounds. When he gave his 100th his weight was 205.

Took Their Fire To The Firemen

OTTAWA, Kan. (AP)—When the fire trucks couldn't go to the fire, they brought the fire to the trucks.

A diesel engine caught fire outside the city limits and the trucks were prohibited from leaving town. The railroad hooked a switch engine to the train and pulled it into the city limits where the firemen did their duty.

Leukemia Victim Lived Long Life

CHICAGO (U.P.)—Two research workers say there is room for more optimism about the life expectancy of chronic leukemia victims.

Dr. Arthur A. Marlow and Grant R. Barlett of La Jolla, Calif., point to a patient who lived for 29 years with the disease as an example.

Studies of large groups of chronic leukemia patients show the average length of survival is three and one-half years.

But the researchers wrote in the journal of the American Medical Association that the statistics do not mean any particular patient is doomed.

"It is felt that an optimistic viewpoint is desirable in chronic leukemia, as the life expectancy of certain patients far exceeds that reported to be the average in large series of patients," they said.

"Many individual patients can often be kept in happy, productive states for long periods of time by careful management."

Emigration Sets Modern Record

OSLO (AP)—Norwegian emigration to foreign countries set a new post-war record in 1952 with nearly one out of every 1,000 Norwegians settling abroad, police records showed here.

Emigrants included 1,535 men and 1,423 women. Nearly two thirds of the total, or 1,988 persons settled in the United States, while 906 Norwegians found new homes in Canada.

Far more miles per gallon on the trips YOU take!

On long trips, short trips, all trips, you get far greater gas mileage out of a '53 Chevrolet. It offers important savings in everyday driving over everyday roads!

That's the beauty of Chevrolet's two great high-compression engines—the new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine in Powerglide* models, and the advanced 108-h.p. "Thrifty-King" engine in gearshift models. They squeeze much more out of regular gasoline—more miles, more pleasure.

Along with this greater gas mileage, you get lower over-all upkeep costs. And Chevrolet is the lowest-priced line in its field. Drop in and let us show you how you'll be better off in every way with a 1953 Chevrolet!

*Combination of Powerglide automatic transmission and 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine optional on "Two-Ten" and Bel Air models at extra cost.

Out to the golf course. Off for a week-end of fishing. Half across the country on a full-scale vacation. Wherever you go—however you drive—you're going to get there on a lot less gasoline in a fine new Chevrolet.

The truth is, this year's Chevrolet owners are enjoying the most important gain in economy in Chevrolet history. Plus more power. Faster acceleration. More "steam" for the steep hills.

Phantoms Show Improvement In First Evening Drills

Line Opens Large Holes For Backfield To Romp

By WAYNE BISHOP

Ripping large gains through the defensive team, the Greenville Phantoms showed an improved offense in their first night drill last night at the Rose Athletic Field.

The first team had big Harold Edwards and Bobby Conway at ends, Larry Powell and Lard Smith at tackles, Dixie Hobgood and Billy Arnold at guards, and Doug Morgan at center.

Quarterbacking the team was Jerry Drum. Bob Howell and James Speight were at the halfback slots, and Bobby Langston was at fullback.

Speight, Howell, and Langston often broke into the enemy secondary and outran the defensive backs. Speight, who relies on speed and change of pace, is expected by his teammates to take the place of Bobby Perry as the teams breakaway runner this year.

Head Coach Bill Kittrell seemed pleased with the workout and commented, "I thought the boys looked good tonight. Of course, our weak spot now is at quarterback. Jerry Drum has improved a lot, but I don't expect him to reach top form until midseason. Right now he seems to hold the inside track on Bobby Nunn."

The Phantoms open the season with a non-conference game against Wilson at the East Carolina College stadium September 4, one week from tomorrow.

Eilenberger Set For Play Today

PHILADELPHIA (UP)—Favorite Mary Ann Eilenberger of San Diego, Calif., was set today for the quarter-finals of the 36th annual Girls' National tennis championships, but three other top-seeded players were on the eliminated list.

Miss Eilenberger, last year's runnerup, defeated Patricia Shaffer, St. Petersburg, Fla., 6-3, 6-2, in fourth round play at the Philadelphia Cricket Club Wednesday. But second-seeded Darlene Hard, Montebello, Calif., lost 7-6, 6-2, 7-6, to Jean Laird, fellow Californian from Modesto.

Sixth-seeded Judy Devlin of Baltimore was eliminated by Mexico's Ross Maria Reyes, favorite of the foreign entries, 6-2, 6-2. Another favorite to fall by the wayside was 10th-seeded Penny Winkler of Los Angeles, Calif., who lost 6-3, 6-2, to Jean Arth, St. Paul, Minn.

Jackie Johannes, seventh-seeded entrant from Dallas, Tex., defeated Lois Weinstein of St. Louis, Mo., 6-2, 5-7, 6-1, and Nancy Dwyer, Los Angeles, set down Yola Ramirez, Mexico City, the No. 2 favorite among the foreign entries, 6-0, 3-6, 6-2.

Fifth-seeded Gwendyth Johnson, Philadelphia, beat Lorraine Williams, Chicago, 1-6, 6-1, 6-3, while third-seeded Barbara Breit, North Hollywood, Calif., moved to the quarter-finals with 6-2, 6-1, victories over Joanne Stocky, Wyn-cote, Pa.

'Magic Number' For Yanks Is Now The Same

NEW YORK (UP)—The Yankees lead the American League by 10 1-2 games and the Dodgers lead the National by nine, but the "magic number" now is the same for both—20.

That means the Yankees can clinch the American League pennant by winning 20 of their remaining 30 games, a .666 pace, regardless of what the second-place White Sox do. Or any combination of Yankee wins and White Sox losses totaling 20 will clinch it.

The Dodgers can clinch their flag by winning 20 out of 29, a .690 pace. Or any combination of Dodger wins and Milwaukee defeats adding to 20 will clinch it.

Winslow Horses Capture Honors At VFW Show

Horses of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Winslow's Sunny Acres Stables were in the spotlight this past weekend at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Horse Show in Farmville.

Mighty Chief took first place in the five-gaited stake. Reverie's Thunder was named reserve champion in the three-gaited stake. Showing these two horses was Trainer-Manager Ray Pittman.

First place in the model class was won by Stonewall Starlet. Stonewall also took second in the amateur fine harness class and third in the fine harness stake. Hugh Winslow was showing Stonewall in the amateur fine harness.

With Winslow up, Saturday Night captured second place in the men's amateur class.

In the Chesterfield, S.C., show August 16 Saturday Night won the top prize in the mare five-gaited class. Mighty Chief was second in the stallion and gelding class and Reserve Champion in the five-gaited stake. The horses were shown by Pittman in the Chesterfield horse show.

The next showing of the Winslow horses will be on Labor Day, September 7, in Enfield.

Defending Champ Man Who Ranks As Favorite Today

HARTFORD, Conn. (UP)—Defending champion Ted Kroll was the man who had to be ranked as the favorite today as a field of 150 teed off in the first round of the Insurance City Open golf tournament, but dark-horse Joe Moore was sure to attract just large a gallery.

Moore, who had to qualify to play because he's not yet a full-fledged member of the PGA, whacked three strokes off the Wetherfield Country Club course record Wednesday with an eight-under-par 63.

The spectacular performance by Moore, who is a pro in White Plains, N. Y., bettered the course mark of 66, which was equaled during last year's tournament by Skee Riegel of Tulsa, Okla.

Kroll, New Hartford, N. Y., captured the inaugural presentation of this $15,000 tourney last year with an 11-under-par 273 for the 72-hole distance.

Jackie Johannes, seventh-seeded entrant from Dallas, Tex., defeated Lois Weinstein of St. Louis, Mo., 6-2, 5-7, 6-1, and Nancy Dwyer, Los Angeles, set down Yola Ramirez, Mexico City, the No. 2 favorite among the foreign entries, 6-0, 3-6, 6-2.

Three Canadians Among 16 Golfers In Amateur Event

MONTREAL (UP)—Only three Canadians were among the 16 remaining golfers teeing off today in the fifth round of the Canadian Amateur golf tournament at the Kanawaki Country Club.

Six British Walker Cuppers and seven Americans comprised the field with the Canadians for the morning round with eight to compete to advance to the sixth round in the afternoon.

Bobby Hall, a 22-year-old golfer from Montreal and a 1949 Canadian junior champion, Doc Silverberg of Red Deer, Alta., and Don Doe of Granby were Canada's last hopes in the tournament as many leading Canadians as well as four members of Britain's 10-man Walker Cup team fell by the wayside in third and fourth round competition Wednesday.

Championships At Halfway Point

CAMP PERRY, O. (UP)—Shooting in the 68th National Rifle and Pistol championships reached the halfway point today with more crowns to be decided before firing ceases at this Lake Erie range on the Labor Day weekend.

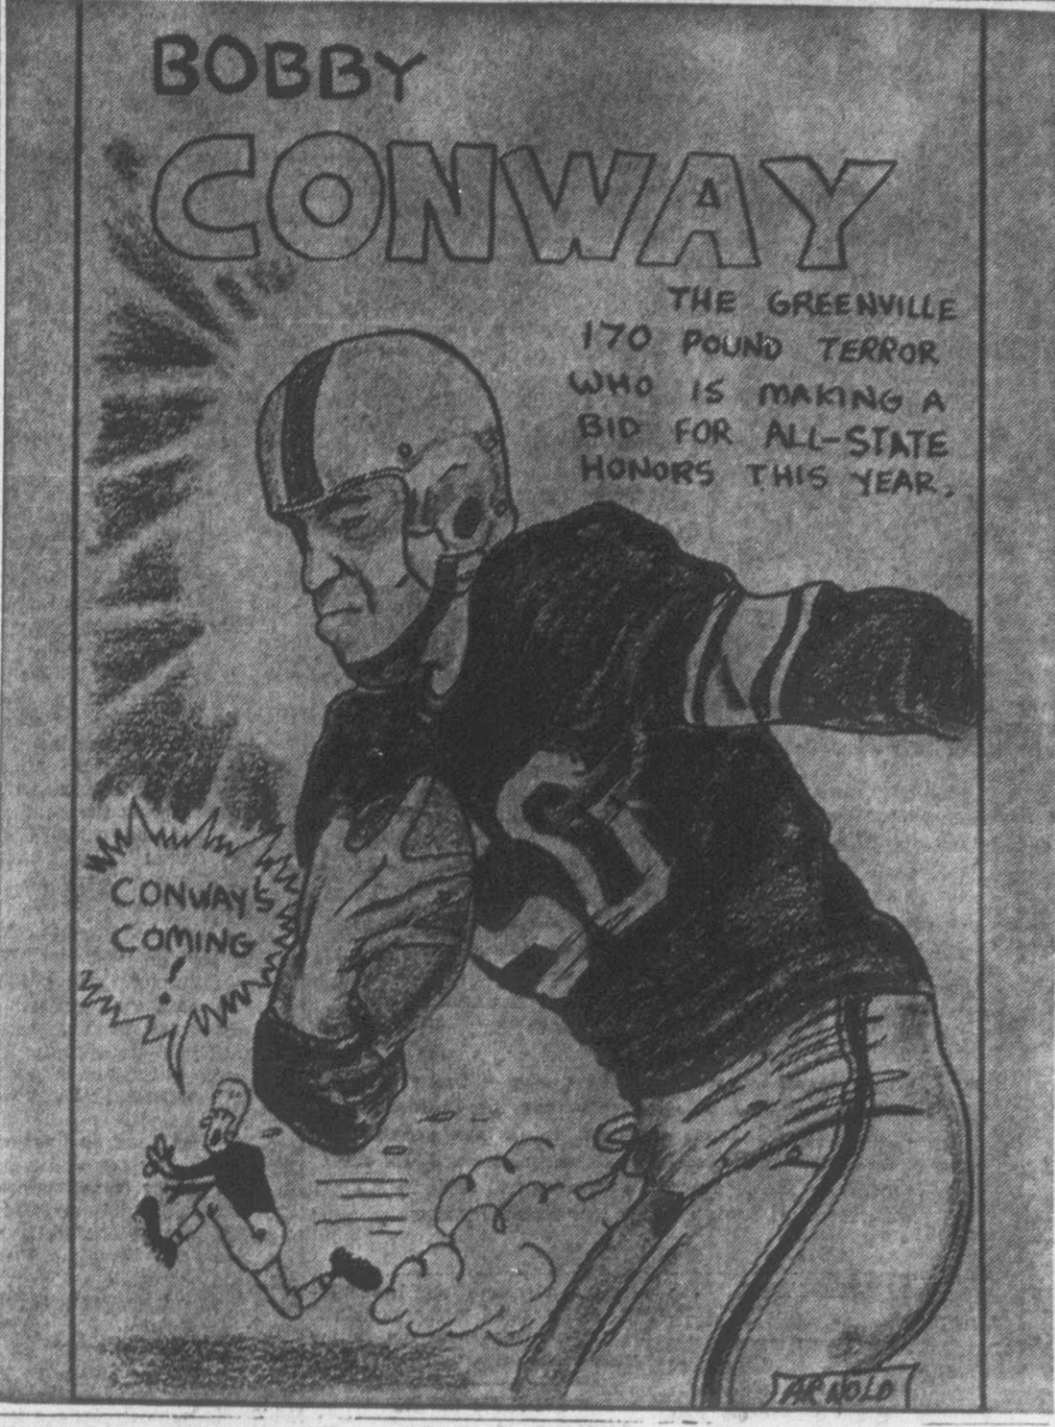

Rifle teams representing the United States, Great Britain and Canada finished 1-2-3 in the Pershing Trophy competition and the Dewar team match Wednesday.

Lettermen are available for most of the starting jobs and there are experienced reserves for the backfield posts but the story is a far different one in the line.

An injury or two and Coach Bill Murray would be in a bad way with the forward wall.

That's the reason he'll spend much time this fall with Coaches Dumby Hagler, Herschel Caldwell, Marty Pierson and Tommy O'Boyle. Hagler tutors the defensive linemen and O'Boyle the offense forwards. Caldwell is defensive end coach and Pierson offensive flank mentor.

There is a total of three lettermen at end. Captain Howard Pitt can

Myers Displaces Jones In Speedway Standings

RALEIGH — Another ding-dong speed battle is on tap for the Raleigh Speedway Friday night as Pee Wee Jones tries to displace his fellow Winston-Salem driver ace, Billy Myers, from the top rung of the track's point standings for the season.

Jones stubbornly held top place until last week's sportsmen's races when Myers pulled ahead by a bare four points. He had trailed Pee Wee throughout the season.

Except for the switch in first and second places, the point standings announced today by Race Director Bill France showed little change.

All of the drivers in the top 10 will return Friday night for the seven-event card of sportsmen's and amateur races. The starting field also will include Tony Flock of Decatur, Ga., Jim Paschal of High Point and other big-track aces who last week tried the Raleigh Speedway quarter-mile track and failed to break into the victory column.

US, Australians Tennis Stars Play In Special Series

RYE, N. Y. (UP)—A preview of what may be the final round of Davis Cup tennis play this December will be staged today when American and Australian stars clash in a special series of exhibition matches at the Westchester Country Club.

However, Tony Trabert of Cincinnati, O., regarded as a key player in America's hopes of regaining the cup, will not compete here because he is playing in a tournament at Glen Cove, N. Y.

The feature match of the day pits Wimbledon champion Vic Seixas of Philadelphia against Australian champion Ken Rosewall.

Coleman Rejoins Yanks Saturday

CLEVELAND (UP)—The New York Yankees announced today that infielder Gerry Coleman, just discharged from the Marines this week, will rejoin the team in Cleveland on Saturday.

The Yankees also announced that "Coleman Day", scheduled for Sept. 12 at Yankee Stadium, has been moved back to Sept. 13.

Wake Forest will play five teams in the newly formed Atlantic Coast Conference during the 1953 football season. They are Duke, North Carolina, Clemson, N.C. State and South Carolina.

West Will Agree That East Has Something Extra

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP)—The West had to agree today that the East had "something extra" after the youngsters east of the Mississippi swept to their fifth straight victory 22 to 13, in the annual All-America high school football game.

It took that "something extra" for the Easterners to pull out a win before 16,000 fans last night as the West pulled to a 13 to 9 lead at the start of the final period.

But the East, paced by J. Paige Cothren of Natchez, Miss., rebounded in the final quarter for two quick scores, one on the recovery of a punt fumble by Dan Coyle, Birmingham, Ala., on the West's 3. Coyle stepped over the goal line for the score. A few minutes later, Cothren punched over from the 3 for the final touchdown.

Cothren whirled over from the eight in the third period for the East's first touchdown after a 64-yard drive. The East had taken a first period lead when Pete Cook of Alexandria, Ala., tackled Ronnie Knox of Santa Monica, Calif., in the end zone for a safety.

Jack Throckmorton, Lamarque, Tex., tallied both West touchdowns, one on a plunge after an attempted East kick was blocked on the East 11, and the other on a three-yard drive in the second period.

Fred Singleton Jr., Birmingham, and G. O. D. in Wakefield, Ripley, Tenn., booted the East's two points after touchdown while Jack Stovall, Phoenix, Ariz., added one for the West.

West 0 6 7 6 13
Touchdowns: Throckmorton 2, Cothren 2, Coyle. Points after touchdowns: Singleton, Wakefield, Stovall. Safety (Cook tackled Knox in end zone).

Princess Pat Won By Queen Hopeful

CHICAGO (UP)—Queen Hopeful won the $107,490 Princess Pat Stake, charging up from the pack to run her race in the stretch, edging Chorus Khal by three-quarters of a length.

Queen Hopeful, with Johnny Adams up, was a 5-2 favorite. She sped the six furlongs Wednesday in 1:11, two seconds off the track record.

The Hasty Hoise two-year old pulled a $68,220 winner's share, raising her earnings to $155,340.

Pat O'Sullivan Is Giant Killer In Women's Amateur Tourney

Gavilan Is Happy With His Victory Over Ralph Jones

NEW YORK (UP)—Welterweight champion Kid Gavilan was so delighted with his victory over middleweight contender Ralph (Tiger) Jones that he declared positively today, "I will win the middleweight championship!"

The speedy Cuban "Keed," who won a unanimous 10-round decision over Jones of Yonkers, N.Y., Wednesday night, said he would challenge the winner of the middleweight title fight between Bobo Olson and Randy Turpin on Oct. 21.

"All I want to know is who is middleweight champion; then I will beat him," he explained with a happy grin.

Gavilan had reason to be happy. He won impressively over dangerous Jones in a thrilling television fight before 5,063 at Madison Square Garden. It was the same Jones who had given a thorough licking to Johnny Bratton, top welterweight contender, last Dec. 5. Jones was unbeaten in seven previous fights.

Moreover, Gavilan came through the bruising battle without injury. He will go to Summit, N.J., Monday and continue training for his defense of the 147-pound crown against Carmen Basilio at Syracuse, N.Y., Sept. 18.

Jones was less fortunate. Dr. Vincent Nardiello said x-rays at St. Clare's Hospital this morning disclosed Jones had suffered a fracture and dislocation to the right thumb. The thumb was injured in the fifth round.

Gavilan's 147-pound title was not at stake. He and Jones fought as middleweights. He scaled 154 pounds, heaviest of his career; Jones, 152.

The three ring officials favored the champion on rounds as follows: Referee Al Berl, 5-4-1; Judge Arthur Susskind, 6-4; Judge Jack Gordon, 7-3. The United Press favored Gavilan, 6-3-1.

Major Obstacle Facing Trabert In Road To Title

GLEN COVE, N. Y. (UP)—Top-seeded Tony Trabert of Cincinnati, O., ran into a major obstacle on the road to the title in the Nassau Bowl Invitation tennis tournament today when he clashed with Herbie Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., in the quarter-final round.

Fiam is ranked the nation's No. 5 player.

In the other quarter-final match today, also in the upper half of the draw, third-seeded Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., the former national champion and defending champion in this tourney, met Sven Davidson, singles champion of Sweden and seeded second among foreign entries here.

The lower-half quarter-finals Wednesday saw an astounding upset as 20-year-old Bob Perry of Los Angeles defeated Gardner of Coral Gables, Fla., the nation's top-ranked player, 9-7, 1-6, 6-4. In the other quarter-final, fourth-seeded Ham Richardson, National Collegiate champion from Baton Rouge, La., won as expected from Fred Hagist of Berkeley, Calif., 6-4, 6-4.

Wheelbarrows In Demand Much As 10-Gallon Hat

PLACERVILLE, Calif., Aug. 27—Bulky wheelbarrows are more in demand than ten-gallon hats in this tiny Mother Lode town as scores of husky hopefuls get underway with rigorous training grinds calculated to make one of the "national wheelbarrow racing champion."

The highlight event of the El Dorado County Fair to be held Sept. 12 the John M. Studebaker Wheelbarrow Races will determine who of the record number of aspirants will annex the title vacated by 230-pounder Chet Carsten, part-time lumberman and local high school football coach.

After accepting the trophy last year from C. K. Whittaker, Pacific Coast vice president of The Studebaker Corporation, Carsten, eight-time winner of the punishing endurance race, promptly announced his retirement from future competition.

Regarded by its enthusiasts as one of the toughest sporting events in America, the race is run over a grueling 660-yard obstacle course by contestants impeded with shovels, sacks, 80-pound wheelbarrows and 50 pounds of gravel.

After a dash with their wheelbarrows to a mound of "pay dirt" in which a golden nugget is hidden and loading 50 pounds of this into their sacks, broadchested lumberjack and miner entrants are required to trundle their wheelbarrows over a log pile, climb two four-foot fences, negotiate a "sluice box" filled with boulders, catwalk a treacherous "flume crossing," and sprint to the finish line with the 50-pound load intact. Each load is weighed and short loads are disqualified.

Some other quarter-finalists who are rated a better than even chance to stay in the week-long tournament are Mrs. John Hulteng of Warwick, R.I., a 10-piddler Wednesday over Mrs. J. Albert Hayes of Bala Pa.; Miss Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, Ga., eliminator of Mrs. Mark A. Bud Smith Gets Knockout Victory

NEW YORK (UP)—Wallace (Bud) Smith of Cincinnati will get another match in Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway Arena on Sept. 29 because of his easy technical knockout victory over Charley Sauer of Philadelphia in the sixth round at the Parkway Monday night.

Matchmaker Teddy Bremner said he would try to pair Smith with Arthur King of Toronto, Ont., last weight champion of the British Empire, on Sept. 29. Neither would scale more than 137 pounds for the bout.

Atlantic Coast Officials Clear NC State Of Charge

RALEIGH (UP)—Atlantic Coast Conference officials said emphatically today that North Carolina State College was "completely cleared" of charges that a star basketball center played for pay and expressed private opinions that the publicity may mean the end of "secret" conference sessions.

Dr. James T. Penney of the University of South Carolina, ACC president, said N. C. State was cleared of the charge and "a great deal of harm was done to an innocent boy" by the fact that the charge had been made public.

Officials revealed that the incident arose at a closed meeting of the conference Aug. 7 in Greensboro at which N. C. State was placed on one year's probation for violating basketball tryout rules.

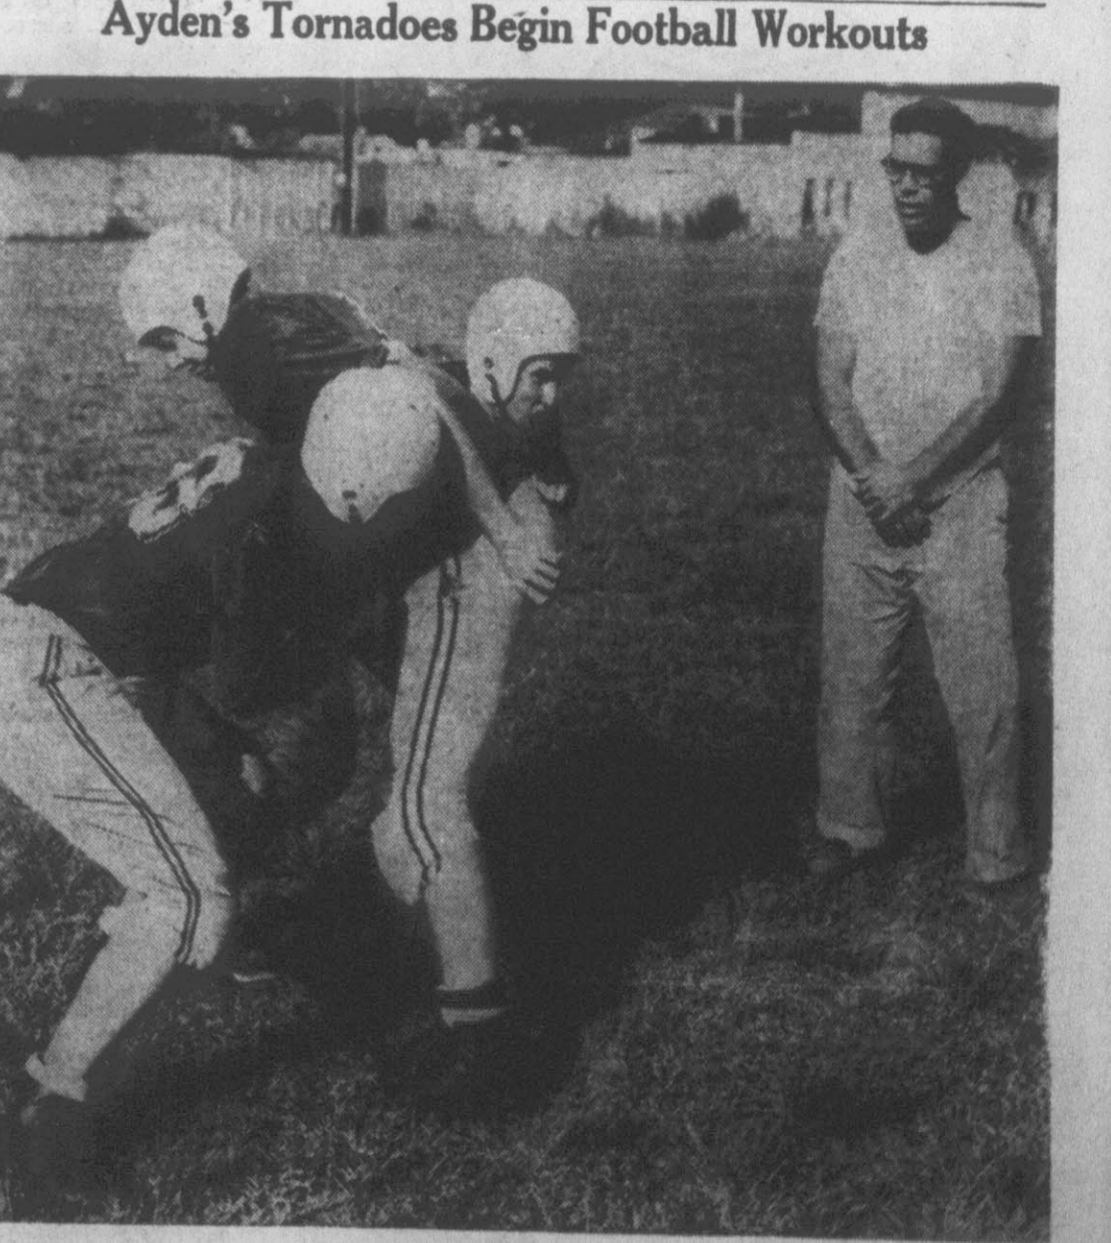

At that time, the conference acquitted State of charges that it had paid star freshman eager Ronnie Shavlik of Denver, Colo. $75 a month to play basketball. However, the conference did not make either the charge or the acquittal public and it didn't leak out until this week.

"Absolutely no basis was found for the charge, and both the boy and North Carolina State College were completely cleared on that count," Penney said.

Penney said the matter was not made public at the conference meeting because of the fact that it was disproved and "we didn't see any necessity for hurting the boy."

"I haven't the slightest idea how the information leaked out and I consider it extremely unfortunate," he said.

Penney said the decision to withhold the information was made by the ACC executive committee.

Veterans Get Job Help From Greenville Office

Two disabled veterans of World War II and six Korean veterans were aided in finding employment after their discharge from service during last month through the Greenville office of the North Carolina Employment Service.

This was the report today of Ernest B. Tinnin, veterans employment representative at the employment service.

His figures further showed that 84 of the total 144 veteran applications received since the first of the year through July have been from Korean veterans; of 116 veterans placed, 41, or better than 35 per cent, had seen duty in Korea.

"Many veterans probably do not know what service is available to them in finding jobs on their return," Tinnin commented, adding that any Korean war veteran can receive unemployment compensation, job counseling and placement service providing he can meet certain qualifications. World War II veterans, it was emphasized, are no longer eligible for unemployment compensation although they are still entitled to job counseling and placement services.

In order to get unemployment compensation, Tinnin said, the Korean war veteran must have a discharge other than a dishonorable discharge, must be unemployed, able and available for work and not have quit a former job without good cause or discharged due to misconduct.

pointed out that compensation up to 26 weeks is possible provided the veteran can not be placed in a job during this time and fulfills other requirements.

In filing his claim, Tinnin said, the veteran should bring with him to the employment office his discharge or separation papers (Form DD 214), his social security card, if he has one, and a list of employers for whom he worked for as long as 18 months prior to entering the service or up to the current date.

One condition for filing the claim is that the veteran must have had 90 days in the service, part of which must have been served after June 27, 1950. It was also pointed out that these benefits also may not be duplicated with school or on-the-job training benefits already being received by the veteran.

In connection with these veteran services, Tinnin called attention to the approach of National Employ the Physically Handicapped, which he said will be observed in Pitt county the first week in October.

A committee will meet soon to lay further plans for observance of the week locally, Tinnin said.

Dentist's Tour Proved Marathon

SYDNEY (AP)—A traveling dentist has just returned to Sydney after a 2,000 mile tour in which he extracted 1607 teeth and filled 233 in 21 days.

He traveled with a mobile dental clinic of the Far West Children's Health Scheme, and usually set up his clinic at the local school.

Most of his patients were children.

Malaya Conflict Costly But Can't Afford Loss

By WALTER G. RUNDLE
United Press Staff Correspondent

In the steaming jungles of Malaya, where Red machineguns spit death from ambush at British and Malayan troops, it's axiomatic that "the only good Communist is a dead Communist."

Trouble is that it costs so much to make "good Communists."

Britain, whose been engaged in that project for five years now places the cost at 250,000 straits dollars, or about $80,000 for each Red eliminated.

These may sound like abstract figures to Americans. But there's more than a little probability that Communists' of Red rebels in Malaya soon may be translated into higher prices for everything rubber from automobile tires to sponge rubber falsies.

Britain has laid its cards on the table. The shooting war against the Reds in Malaya is being won. But Malaya and Britain are in grave danger of losing the struggle in the final go-around at the economic level.

Ironically, the threat of economic disaster, which might wipe out the military gains, has arisen in Malaya as an indirect result of the end of the Korean war.

Rubber and tin prices — the things on which Malaya's economy depends — have taken a disastrous slump on the world markets. The speculative boom that accompanied the Korean conflict has collapsed.

As a result, the price for tin has skidded from $176 per picul (136 pounds) to $98.

Rubber prices have tumbled from 57 cents per pound to 21 cents.

To Malaya with a budget tied directly to the price of those two major sources of income, the situation is close to desperate.

The Malayan government has spent roughly $250,000,000 in the anti-Communist struggle to-date—a sizeable sum for a country of 5,500,000 population and an area about equal to that of New York state.

Britain has pumped in another quarter of a billion dollars in assistance and is being asked by Sir Donald MacHillivray, Malaya's deputy high commissioner, to increase its current efforts.

Britain, already feeling the financial pinch of her numerous military obligations in Europe and elsewhere, has called the attention of the United States to the situation. She has recommended a substantial boost in the U. S. price for synthetic rubber as a means to bolster the price for the natural product.

The United States is concerned. Malaya's battle against Communism is being fought on two fronts in addition to the scorching battle zones in the shadowy jungles:

1. An effort to raise living standards and build up and reinforce the social structure to withstand Communist penetration.
2. An attempt to repair the ravages of World War II.

The jungle war is being won by a ratio of about seven Red casual-

Leaf Prices Go Higher Yesterday

RALEIGH (UP)—Most average prices for fine-cured tobacco on the Eastern, Border and South Carolina belts moved higher again yesterday after a slight drop Tuesday as the golden leaf continued to sell for some of the highest prices in history.

Some of the lower quality grades moved up to their highest level of the season on the Border and South Carolina belts as most average prices ranged $1 to $4 per hundred pounds higher. About half the Eastern Belt grades were $1 higher although some were unchanged and a few showed small losses.

Bidding was more active on the Eastern Belt although sales continued light and the smallest volume of the season was sold Tuesday. Lower quality offerings increased slightly in percentage.

Tuesday's gross was 4,991,682 pounds averaging $53.81 per hundred 41 cents below Monday. Receipts of the Stabilization Corp. for the first two days of the season came to about 6.6 per cent of the gross compared to 14.1 per cent for the same period last year.

Season sales on the Eastern Belt came to 38,616,319 for a price average of $53.38 per hundred pounds.

Volume was medium to light on most Border and South Carolina markets although a few reported heavy sales. Quality was somewhat lower and principal offerings consisted of poor to good leaf, low to good lugs, and low and fair cutters.

Gross sales Tuesday totaled 7,518,392 pounds, averaging $56.84 per hundred, 60 cents under Monday but still higher than the crop has brought in some time. Season sales were pushed to 134,713,259 pounds averaging $54.31.

Auction bid averages per hundredweight on a limited number of representative U. S. grades on the Eastern Belt included:

Leaf: Good lemon $67, fair lemon $63, fair orange $62, low orange $56, low lemon $68.

Cutters: Fair lemon $69, low lemon $68.

Lugs: Fine lemon $69, good lemon $68, good orange $68, fair orange $61.

Primings: Fair lemon $62, fair orange $55, low orange $43.

Non-descript: Best thin $25.

On the Border and South Carolina belts:

Leaf: Good lemon $68, fair lemon $65, fair orange $63, low orange $57, poor medium green $42.

Cutters: Fair lemon $69, low lemon $68.

Lugs: Good orange $54, low orange $51.

Primings: Fair orange $54, low orange $39.

Non-descript: Best thin $26, poorest thin $11.

The others named as obstructionists did not comment immediately. The National GOP Committee declined to say anything.

You can tell in an instant it's a Very great 8

At idling speed, the engine of this 1953 Buick is deceptively docile. All you hear is a silken whisper, a kitten purr, a smooth flow of air channeling quietly through metal passageways. Then — you want to go. You nudge the pedal. You go. That's when you discover that you're sitting behind an engine of electrifying response. That's when you begin to know how the power of the first Fireball V8 can handle getaway, cruising, hill-climbing. That's when you learn what Buick's biggest-compression engine in fifty great years can mean in spirited and soul-satisfying road command. It's an experience too wonderful to miss — the bossing of this brilliant new V8 Engine that powers every 1953 Buick SUPER and ROADMASTER. So we cordially invite you to come in and try it. We cordially invite you to hold rein on this truly advanced V8—the world's first V8 with vertical valves, with "T" type intake manifold, with zero-power-loss muffler—and the first standard-production American passenger-car engine to reach 8.5 to 1 compression ratio. Why not come in for a sampling? That way you can also try the other Buick gems—like Twin-Turbine Dynaflo®—and the Million Dollar Ride—and the room and visibility and handling ease of the greatest Buicks yet. Beauty In Lost Colony Drama

Beautiful Barbara Ann Crockett of Winston-Salem, "Miss North Carolina of 1953" will be a guest performer in Paul Green's symphonic drama "The Lost Colony" on Friday night, August 28. It will be the second time in less than a week that The Lost Colony has presented a State season at Waterside Theatre on Roanoke Island. Last Friday Anne Clegg, "Miss Virginia of 1953" was a guest performer.

Japanese Opera Troupe Touring U.S.; Has Been Money-Loser 20 Years

By FRED SAITO
TOKYO (AP)—A Japanese classical opera company at last has ended its 20-year money-losing streak. Its 25 members will become the first Japanese musicians in history to make money on western opera performances. The Fujiwara Opera Company is barriering the United States (August through December) presenting Puccini's "Madam Butterfly" at almost 30 cities. All recitals have been guaranteed by American promoters.

Seventeen pretty girls and seven men of the company left Japan for the United States. The prima donna, Mrs. Michiko Sunahara, left Paris to join them at Los Angeles and the first performance at the Greek theater Aug. 4.

Glamorous Star
Mrs. Sunahara, 30-year-old mother of a daughter, made a series of smash hit performances as Cio-Cio San at the Opera Comique, Paris, last year. She is perhaps the most glamorous Japanese singer ever on the stage.

Classical opera performances never have been self-supporting in Japan. Western music was imported some 100 years ago. Prima donnas and opera chorus members in Japan never have expected pay. Usually they footed all expenses and debts from the performances.

The Fujiwara group gambled last December by singing in New York with the New York City opera. The members dutifully footed most expenses. Unsettled debts from the venture have totalled six million yen ($16,600).

Gamble Pays Off
But the gamble paid off. Yoshie Fujiwara, 55, founder and manager of the company, has received scores of guarantee offers not only from the United States but from Italy, France, Spain, Brazil and Argentina. "I believe our trip this time will enable us to settle at least one half of last year's debts," Fujiwara said. "The rest will be settled next year from our trips to Europe and South America."

The Japanese audience does not mind paying $10 for a title boxing match or $5 for a jazz concert but does mind paying even a dollar for an opera recital.

The Fujiwara Opera Company has survived 20 years of continuous losses simply because its members were mostly sons and daughters of well-off families.

In a country where the cheapest piano costs a year's salary of an average worker, only rich families can afford music lessons for their children. Members of the company mostly are graduates of the National Conservatory at Tokyo or private music academies.

The only exceptions are a baritone who majored in art in college and the manager who did not complete high school.

Career Musician
Born of a British diplomat and his now estranged Japanese wife, Fujiwara had a miserable childhood. He built up his career strictly by himself as the pioneer of western operas in Japan.

He is one of few Japanese singers who can profit from individual recitals and offset opera losses to the extent that he doesn't also have to teach at a music academy or instruct pupils at home.

The government rewarded him last year with a prize for his tireless efforts and contributions to western music in Japan.

The song "Pinkerton" (the American officer in "Madame Butterfly") for 20 years without payment," Fujiwara said.

"But from now on I'll be a non-singing manager, entirely satisfied. Foreign talent will sing the role."

Yardsticks For Buying A Home

LOS ANGELES (U.P.)—Buying or building a house requires some compromises, according to Dr. Fred E. Case, assistant professor of real estate at the University of California at Los Angeles.

Dr. Case suggested two general rules — that the purchase price should not exceed more than two and one-half times the buyer's annual gross income, that total payments on the mortgage should not exceed 20 per cent of the buyer's take-home pay.

He said location is usually more important than the property. A smaller house in a better location is better, he said, than a large house in a less desirable area.

Good workmanship with poor materials is a better bet than good materials and poor workmanship which probably will cost less in the long run.

On general appearance, Dr. Case recommended a plain house with simple lines as one which will hold its resale value. He noted that the house with at least three bedrooms and one and one-half baths has the best market appeal at present. He considered 1,000 square feet the minimum, even for two persons. If you want space for your money, he advised a house 15-20 years old.

For resale he said a low down payment was smart, but that a shorter term loan with higher monthly payments was better, to reduce the cost.

Declining Art Of Topiary Has One Exponent In U.S.

WASHINGTON (UP)—The ancient and little known art of topiary has at least one exponent in the United States — Harvey S. Ladew of Maryland's Harford County.

The art of topiary is the trimming of hedge trees into stylized figures of birds and animals. This is achieved by first making a wire frame to support the figure the bush will assume. When the growth thickens about the shrub it is carefully trimmed to the dimensions and contour the artist wishes.

Ladew has surrounded his farm near Baltimore with formal gardens of well-kept lawns bordered by hedges. The living growth is cut into many different kinds of animals.

not only practical but historical. He found that the art goes back at least as far as Pliny the Elder, Roman author and naturalist.

The gardens of the palace of Versailles contained much topiary and it was most popular when William III, Prince of Orange, became ruler of Britain in 1689. After the 18th century, interest in topiary declined rapidly.

Oblivious to the drop in popularity of the art, Ladew goes right on clipping. His most recent effort is a sailfish rising from a hedge on his Florida place near Palm Beach. His only concern is that the hedge will grow so fast that the hedge will get away from the caretaker.

Skunk Case For Revenue Bureau

JONESBORO, Tenn. (AP) — Cafe owner Harry Byrd aims to find out how the federal Internal Revenue Department stands on skunks. Some of the critters set up

Cargo Record By Air Force Plane

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (U.P.)—The XC-99 world's largest land-based airplane, has set some cargo-hauling records that other Air Force and commercial aircraft will find hard to beat, according to the plane's commander.

The XC-99 flew 1,552 hours during 12 months ended June 30 said the commander, Capt. J. M. Pittard. It carried an aggregate payload of 15,577,440 pounds over a total distance of 286,013 miles in 201 flights.

The ton-miles carried for the fiscal year totalled 11,593,289.83 with an average cost of 13.12 cents per ton-mile. Direct maintenance costs—fuel, oil and crews—averaged 2.38 cents per ton mile.

Best loading time for the XC-99 so far has been one hour flat to load 82,998 pounds of air freight. Best unloading time is 45 minutes for 88,599 pounds of cargo.

"The performance of the XC-99 during the past fiscal year has gone far to prove the value of heavy long-range cargo support aircraft," said Maj. Gen. Clements McMullen, commander of Kelly Air Force Base, where the plane is based.

Urges Letters To Servicemen

WASHINGTON (UP)—Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens urged friends and kin of servicemen overseas to write to them.

Stevens said Army troops in Europe are well-fed, well-clothed, and well-equipped. But he said mail call means even more to them than mess call.

"I hope that anyone who has a relative or friend serving overseas with the United States Army will find the time to write that boy a letter during the next 24 hours, and having done so, will keep up the flow of mail," Stevens said.

Stevens said mail is particularly important in Korea now that the 8th Army is no longer in combat.

Bible Words to Live by

JOHN 10:10. "I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly."

In these words we find the keynote to the purpose of the coming of Jesus of Nazareth among men. All of us want to live, we want to get the most out of life, and the word "abundant" is a catchy one indeed. Through the centuries men have sought for personal wealth, for personal gain and honor, and when they came in conflict with their fellows they used every means at hand to defeat an opponent. Following this procedure, history is a record of unhappiness and meaningless living. Jesus came to change this attitude and this manner of living. The roots of His teachings were in the Ten Commandments, which are timeless and ageless. But on beyond a legal concept He holds up the ideal of love, faith, trust, unselfishness, and a devotion to the welfare of mankind.

Life to Jesus was vastly more than an existence, it meant exuberant, happy living. Happy living can only come when God is allowed to direct us in the pathways of unselfish service. Hence, not only the challenge of this great text, but its incomparable promise that when we seek His ways, we shall live joyously, abundantly — yes, eternally.

German Explorer Will Search For 'White' Indians

BONN, Germany (UP)—A young German explorer is heading back to the Guianas this year in his second attempt to find the fabled "white Indians" of the Tunic Humac Mountains.

Manfred Rauschert told reporters he failed twice last year to get through to the "white" Indians, once because his Wayana bearers went on strike, the second time because one of the three Frenchmen he was teamed with became hysterical in the South American jungle.

"There are a lot of stories about these 'white' Indians," black-bearded Manfred said. "But all that is certain is that as long as anyone can remember they have driven uninvited guests from their homeland by attacking them with giant poison-tipped arrows."

"Everything else—whether their skin actually is as white as that of Europeans, whether they have long beards, and whether they really have Herculean strength—all this is yet to be proved. That is why I am going back."

"On my last trip, I gathered a lot of information from the people of Dutch and French Guiana. Most of the stories concerned battles outfits prospecting for gold and the white Indians."

Fist Fight
"But some individuals apparently have won the white Indians friendship. For instance, there are stories of a Brazilian missionary who visited them. Then there is a much-feared hunter, a man who studies black magic and other similar matters."

"I met him three times, and he told me many interesting things. I hope this year to find out how much of it was the truth."

Rauschert said he made two attempts to strike through to the home of the "white" Indians last year. The first failed he said, because his Wayana bearers refused to enter the "white" Indian territory.

"The second time," he said, "I tried it with three Frenchmen. That was most unpleasant. One night, deep in the jungle, one of the Frenchmen suddenly became hysterical. There was a tumult in our tiny shelter of leaves, and a terrible fist fight. We almost sacrificed each other, because each thought the other was the attacker. We returned to the base the next day."

New Plans
"Later, the man who had become hysterical gave a radio interview and told his French countrymen all kinds of stories about the white giants. He said nothing about our

Peanut Growers Of 44 Eastern Counties Go To Polls August 29

North Carolina peanut farmers from 44 Eastern counties will go to the polls Saturday, August 29, to conduct the referendum, which vote in the States first Peanut Assessment Referendum.

The North Carolina Peanut Growers Association has been authorized by the General Assembly to enable farmers to vote on the question of whether or not they should levy upon themselves an annual assessment of one-cent per 100 pounds on peanuts marketed

ON THE HOUSE

How to enjoy your vacation by working around the house is no joke. It can be done. In fact most householders seem to get more real satisfaction out of the results of their handwork in finishing off attic rooms, for instance, than out of their golf scores or a heavy-weight bass—well, almost as much, let's say.

At any rate, when the family is growing and more rooms are needed and there's space in the attic and workers drive up in sports convertibles to give you estimates out of this world, it isn't difficult to decide how you are going to use some or all of your vacation time.

Finishing attic rooms is getting to be something of a national indoor sport. Around four million families bought or built two-bedroom houses since World War II. Some bankers frowned on these structures and called them birth-control housing because they certainly can't accommodate growing boys and girls in addition to parents.

But these houses got built and now the problem of enlarging them arises. Those with attics, planned originally for expansion, offer the easiest out. Lumber dealers, building supply houses paint and hardware stores often are stocked with helpful pamphlets including instructions on how to use the various materials needed for such jobs.

One attractive and easy-to-install material is the new woodgrained gypsum wallboard. This is regular gypsum wallboard, 3/8 of an inch thick, predecorated to stimulate knotty pine, bleached or dark walnut, bleached mahogany, fir plywood and other natural wood finishes. The color and texture of the wood are reproduced on the faces of the 4 by 8-foot panels by photographic and printing processes.

This woodgrained surfacing can be waxed occasionally to protect the finish. Or a deluxe finish can be attained by applying a coat of pure white shellac, suitably thinned, then a coat of clear varnish. A coat of clear varnish, on the other hand, will afford a glossy finish. When the wallboard is treated in any of these ways it can be kept clean simply by wiping with a damp cloth.

These panels cost little more than ordinary gypsum wallboard and save both time and expense of decorating. No joint treatment is needed. The knotty pine panels have square edges which, when butted together, form fine line joints that look like part of the wood pattern. The walnut, mahogany and other panels have beveled edges to form "V" joints that likewise become part of the decoration.

The panels are applied with special enamel-headed nails colored to harmonize with the specific wood-grain finish. These nails should be driven with a raw-hide mallet or a padded or plastic-head hammer to avoid chipping the enamel or damaging the woodgrain surface.

Like any other wallboard, these panels call for level and true framework. Studs, joists or furring should be spaced 16 inches on centers. Nail

Renting Railroad Car Is Cheaper
LONDON (AP)—Renting a private railroad car in Britain is not the expensive luxury that it is in the United States. British railways rent passenger cars as "camping coaches" during summer months to six or eight persons in each car for rentals as low as $15 to $30 per week per person.

Foraminifera Are Being Tracked Down By Couple

By JANE EADS
WASHINGTON—Alfred and Helen Loeblich have taken off on a seven-month tour of Europe to track down foraminifera.
Foraminifera are one-celled animals that build shells which eventually become rocks.
The Loeblichs are geologists. They collect foraminifera. They also "collect" children. So far they've "collected" four: Richard, 12, Karen, 8, Judith, 6, and Davyd, 4.
The children and their grandmother, Katie Loeblich, will accompany the Loeblichs as far as London, where the children will go to school while their parents visit museums and make field trips in Belgium, Holland, Switzerland and Italy. The dachshunds Frejya and Thor — "we had to have two," Helen Loeblich explains, "because one wasn't long enough for all the children to pet"—will spend the winter in Texas.
Dr. Arthur Loeblich will be doing his research for the Smithsonian Institution. Dr. Helen Loeblich, who is with the Geological Survey, will be on a Guggenheim Fellowship. They are from Norman, Okla., and both are Phi Beta Kappas. Mrs. Loeblich is the former Helen Tappan, retired professor of electrical engineering at the University of Oklahoma, which both attended.
They met in a chemistry laboratory, were married in 1939, attended the University of Chicago together. They've researched together on the shell-building protozoa ever since and share a specially-equipped laboratory in their big home here, where Mrs. Loeblich does most of her work.
In 1950 the Loeblichs left their youngsters with their grandmother and went to Alaska on Navy research projects, but they didn't see much of each other. He was stationed at Point Barrow, she at Fairbanks. "We saw more of each other in Washington," he told me. "They don't like women at Point Barrow, and I didn't have much chance to get to Fairbanks."
Son Richard shows the most likelihood of following his parents microscope tracks. "His hobby right now seems to be collecting Boy Scout merit badges," his father said. "He has about 23 of them for botany, zoology and so forth. Karen is interested in the ballet. The others are only interested in playing games."

Life Saved By Unmailed Letter

MOUNT DORA, Fla. (AP) — Paul H. Johnson figures a letter he hadn't mailed may have saved his life, like this:
He was driving to the postoffice when a windstorm felled a tree on his car. He grabbed the door handle but received a severe shock from live wires the tree had pulled on to the automobile.
He used the letter as an insulator, opened the door and stepped out just as the car roof caved in from the tree's weight. He escaped with a sprained back and minor cuts.
It is estimated that since the white men first settled in the United States about twice as much wood has been cut as existed in the original forests of the country.

Arms Smugglers Revealed Active

SINGAPORE (AP)—The Sunday Standard, in an article, calls Hong Kong the new headquarters for arms smugglers operating in Southeast Asia. The smugglers shifted there from Singapore to be nearer the markets—Vietminh forces fighting the French in Indochina and the Nationalist guerrillas resisting in Yunnan province — the paper said.
The paper said after the war large quantities of American arms were left behind in the Philippines and in numerous islands all over the South Pacific. Hostilities in Indonesia and Burma and unrest in

Stock And Market Reports

NEW YORK (UP)—Stocks turned higher just before noon today after showing small declines early in the session. Dealings were slow. All departments joined in the recovery movement.

Rails, which fell to further new lows in the year at the opening today, displayed considerable strength.

Gains throughout the list were generally limited to small fractions with a number of issues holding at their previous close.

Dealings were at a snail's pace. Sales in the first hour totaled only 240,000 shares, compared with 210,000 shares in the same period yesterday.

Atlantic Coast Line, which showed a loss of more than a point at one time, was down only 1/2 to 92 just before noon. Southern Railway rose 3/4 to 42 1/2. Santa Fe held unchanged 9 1/2. Missouri Pacific preferred jumped 1 1/2 points to 37 1/2.

Texas Pacific Land Trust wiped out its 1 1/2 point decline. At noon, it was quoted at 122, up 1/2. Other oil equities moved within a narrow range.

Chrysler, which fell to a new low, rallied and it managed to post a gain of 1/2 to 67 3/4. General Motors eased.

Steel shares met some demand. Fractional gains were noted in Youngstown Sheet & Tube and Bethlehem Steel. U.S. Steel held unchanged at 36 1/2.

Utilities rose a few cents as measured by the averages.

Father-Daughter Team To Sing For Festival

Pretty, blond-haired Kathy Copas, daughter of famous Cowboy Copas of Grand Ole Opry fame, will add glamour to the evening when a lineup of top talent from Nashville, Tenn., comes to Greenville on September 8 and 9 for the 1953 Farmers Festival here.

Members of the Grand Ole Opry team, including Cowboy and Kathy Copas, Lazy Jim Day, and the Oklahoma Cowboys, will put on a feature act as part of the 2-day Farmers Day celebration. Scheduled for 4:00 p.m. and 8:00 p.m., on Wednesday, September 9, the acts will be presented at the new Enterprise Warehouse, scene of all festival events except the 3:00 p.m. parade through downtown Greenville that Wednesday.

Change Of Venue For One Case In Civil Court Term

Granting of a change of venue in one case, a conditioned non-suit in another, and continuation of two others wound up the August term of civil court proceedings here Tuesday.

On motion of the defendant, agreed to by attorneys for the plaintiff, the case of Launa Brewington, administratrix of the estate of Lena Banks, deceased, vs. S. T. Tharp Jr. was ordered and decreed transferred to Wake County Superior Court for trial.

A non-suit was agreed to in the case of Ernest Bell and Queenie Bell vs. Rufus Cox, on condition the plaintiff may reopen the case at any time within the next two years.

One other case, that of Emma W. Basnight, administratrix of the estate of Dr. T. G. Basnight vs. Claude Gaskins and T. G. Basnight Jr., was deferred for action until the first case of the next session on September 28.

In the Monday session, hearing on the case of William B. Hayes vs. Mary Conrad Hayes was continued to the September term. An order was issued by Judge J. Paul Fizzle that the plaintiff pay $5 for subpoena of witnesses from Hyde county and other points and $30 for transportation of the defendant to the court.

The order further provides that unless these amounts are deposited with the clerk by 15 days prior to September 14, the case will be ruled an involuntary non-suit.

Coroner Reports 2 Died In Night

Coroner Griffin H. Rouse this morning reported the deaths of two persons in the county. Both occurred around 11:00 last night. Gladys Smith, 26, died of natural causes at her home on the Bethel Highway; no inquest will be held. Dave Creech of 614-A Pitt Street died of a heart attack. Rouse reported. No inquest is slated.

Apathy, Factions Confront Future Of Bond Issues

By LYNN NISBET

RALEIGH — Every political and economic leader of recognized prestige who has had anything to say about the bond issues for improvements at mental hospitals and aid for school buildings has endorsed the proposed bonds. That goes for leadership in both Democratic and Republican parties and in all branches of commerce and industry. Not all of the leaders have been heard from, of course, and even if they had there are not enough of them to assure authorization of the bonds.

The voters must come from the rank and file of the citizenship, many of whom might be disposed to question the "recognized leader" status of some of the volunteer spokesmen. As of now, however, it appears that vast majority of the citizens who have publicly expressed opinion also favor the bonds.

One disturbing factor is that apparently not many people are really interested in the project. The big handicap which promoters must overcome is not overt opposition, but it is apathetic indifference. But there has developed within the past few days another situation of concern to sponsors of the bond issues. That is probable involvement in the upcoming primary for members of the General Assembly, and particularly the contest for the United States Senate — currently slated between incumbent Senator Alton Lennon and ex-Governor Kerr Scott.

Scott has repeatedly declared his support of the bond issues, and has intimated he considers the project a continuation and completion of the program given impetus by the secondary road and school bonds sponsored by his administration.

Among some of the Scott followers, however, there seems determination to personize the matter to regard the 1949 program as Scott's 1953 program as Umstead's, and those folks will have none of any Umstead program, or anything that might tend to enhance administration prestige and aid Senator Lennon. This idea is not expected to gain wide acceptance, but a few intense anti-Umstead people around Raleigh are seeking to further it.

Doctor's Office Reported Broken Into By Unknown

City Police yesterday were called to investigate the breaking and entering of a local doctor's office, one block off the main business district.

The office of Dr. E. W. Larkins, whose office is located in the Skinner Building Third and Washington, was reported to have been broken into some time between the 8th and 17th of this month.

Reason for the delay in discovering the robbery attempt came from the doctor being on vacation.

A filing cabinet, in which a strong box was located, was apparently the object of the entry but yielded no loot to the robbers it was learned.

Investigation of the robbery is still under way by Detectives R. T. Rogerson of the city force.

Building Permits In Sharp Upswing

RALEIGH (UP)—Building permits totaling $10,873,125 were issued in 27 North Carolina cities of more than 10,000 population during July, the State Labor Department reported today.

The figure was 29 per cent above June building total and 31 per cent higher than the July, 1952, total, statistician C. H. Pritchard said.

Driving Drunk For 20 Years

RALEIGH, N. C. (UP)—Officer C. J. Atkins testified in City Court Wednesday that when he halted a weaving automobile driven by Newton A. Walters, 38, the driver told him: "I've been driving drunk for 20 years. I drive better that way."

Walters was fined $300.

Foundation Committees Meet, Discuss Work

Members of county committees of district one for the John Motley Morehead Foundation of the University of North Carolina met in Greenville Wednesday night to discuss the progress of the foundation and its scholarship awards.

Throughout North Carolina county committees have been set up by the scholarship foundation to recommend candidates for John Motley Morehead Foundation scholarships, and applicants are in turn recommended to the trustees of the foundation who award the scholarships. It was reported last night that a total of 349 seniors from high schools in the state were recommended for Morehead scholarships this year by county committees, and 11 Morehead scholarships valued at $1,250 each were awarded by the trustees. Of the 36 candidates interviewed by the central committee for the Morehead Scholarships, 23 were awarded other scholarships by the University Scholarship Committee after a review of their applications.

Colored News

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Ross gave a birthday party in honor of their little daughter Delores on Sunday, Aug. 23, at the home of Mrs. Fleming on Fleming Street. The party began at 2:00 and lasted until 4:00. There were 80 guests present. After many games, ice cream, cake and candy were served.

The last excursion of the season, sponsored by V.C.E., will leave York Memorial A.M.E. Zion Church for Seashore Beach near Norfolk Sunday at 7:30 a.m. Tickets are now on sale for $1.50 round trip. For further information see Charles Cobb and Acaala Moore.

Has Her Doubts Over Profession

CHICAGO (UP)—Mrs. Sally Cannon, a character reader, today considered changing professions.

Six Gypsies stopped at her home Wednesday and Mrs. Cannon sized them up as friendly characters.

She had just served them coffee and donuts when one pulled a pistol from his pocket and robbed her of $400.
