

Gen. Clark Again Demands Account For Missing Men

By WILLIAM MILLER
United Press Staff Correspondent
PANMUNJOM, Korea (UP) — Gen. Mark W. Clark told the Communists today they lied when they denied knowledge of the fate of 3,421 missing Allied war prisoners, including 958 Americans.

Clark dispatched a new note to the Reds, demanding in the straightforward language of a tough soldier the return of the missing men or a satisfactory explanation of what happened to them.

The United Nations Far Eastern commander called the Red "know-nothing" reply to his first demand as "wholly unacceptable."

Communist spokesmen had admitted the Reds were holding American fliers charged with being shot down over "neutral" Manchuria, but tried to dismiss the list of missing men produced by the U.N. as "crudely manufactured propaganda."

Clark's new note emphasized the list had been documented from letters written by prisoners, broadcasts made by the missing men, names broadcast by the Reds and eyewitness reports by captives returning to freedom in "Operation Big Switch."

Clark made it clear that the United Nations insists upon the return of the fliers alleged to have been shot down over Manchuria, the attack-proof "sanctuary" of Communist plots.

Wilfrid Burchett, Communist correspondent for the Paris newspaper, L'Humanite, gave Allied news an unofficial reply to the new note before the Red command began studying the message.

The Australian-born unofficial Communist spokesman said there were no more American prisoners being held in North Korea.

"There might be some in Manchuria," he said.

Burchett previously had acknowledged the presence of the fliers in Communist camps in Manchuria, but he charged they were not war prisoners and must be bargained for by the U.S. State Department.

The Red spokesman said all of the war prisoners had been returned to the Allies with the exception of the 28 Americans, one Briton and 355 South Koreans who refused repatriation.

The Communist-held prisoners and some 20,000 anti-Chinese and North Koreans captured by the Allies now are in the custody of neutral Indian guards in the demilitarized zone.

The Americans refusing repatriation said in a long, propaganda-laden statement Thursday they would not return to the United States as long as the government retains its present system.

American officers, shocked by the impact of the Americans' statement, refused to take the prisoners' answer as final.

They said "explanations" would talk patiently with anyone desiring to voice sentiments with the hope that the men will change their minds.

Some of the American officers had letters from families of the men refusing to return home, and they believed the tenderly written words might be the right medicine to counteract the effects of long "brain-washing" by the Communists.

Mighty Storm Sweeps Up Toward Gulf Coast

NEW ORLEANS (UP) — A powerful hurricane with winds up to 120 miles an hour slammed northward in the Gulf of Mexico, due to hit the rich Gulf Coast tonight, leaving at least two ships battered in its wake and threatening a number of others.

In an 11 a. m. EST advisory, the New Orleans weather bureau ordered hurricane warnings posted from Mobile, Ala., to St. Marks, Fla.

"This is a severe hurricane," the weather bureau said, and residents of the coast began to prepare for a blow.

The advisory said tides will be "dangerously high" tonight from Mobile to Cedar Keys, Fla.

The storm, which hurricane of the season and tagged "Florence" in the new naming system, was then centered about 340 miles south of Mobile. It was moving northward at about 18 miles an hour.

"Highest winds are estimated at 120 miles an hour near the center with gale force winds extending two miles northeast and 100 miles south and west of center," the weather bureau said.

"Indications (are) for northward movement at about the same rate with a tendency to curve north-northeast within the next six to 12 hours."

The weather bureau said winds of hurricane force can be expected along the coast from Mobile to St. Marks tonight.

Winds of 25 miles per hour already were kicking up tides along the coast from Louisiana to Florida. Residents began to board up as soon as they heard the advisory.

Oil rigs in the rich oil fields off the Louisiana coast were closing down and companies were rushing their men toward shore.

The Magnolia Petroleum Co., at Morgan City, La., said all drilling barges have been brought in and operations shut down. Planes at Brookley Air Force Base near Mobile were flown to inland fields.

The Coast Guard at New Orleans said the tug Margaret, towing a 263-foot barge, the Herman B. was unable to negotiate a turn in the Mississippi River near the Gulf.

Some of the 50 men aboard the barge were taken aboard the tug and rescuers were working against time to get the others off. They said easterly winds up to 36 miles per hour were kicking up waves in the area, hampering operations.

The tug and barge were engaged in pipe laying in the Gulf and are owned by Brown and Root, Inc. The Coast Guard said the barge became stuck in river mud when it tried to negotiate a turn.

The Coast Guard said the 65-foot fishing trawler Kim II had tossed off the barge Miss Campeche after rescuing three men on it and had changed its course in an attempt to get out of the storm.

The weather bureau said there would be hurricane winds and the pelting rain that accompanies such storms in the warned area tonight. None of the earlier hurricanes this season has hit the mainland head-on.

Million Dollar Leaf Sales Day Yesterday

Greenville's tobacco market again took its daily average with another million dollar day yesterday. It was the eleventh million dollar day of the season.

Yesterday's average of $68.44 broke Wednesday's average, which in turn had broken preceding days'. Every day this week daily selling averages have been broken and from the way sales were going this morning, today's sales will break yesterday's average.

Some individual warehouses averaged above $66 for their entire sale yesterday. That is for every pile of tobacco on their floors including rotten, green, and trash. Row after row continues between $70 and $90 for each basket.

Sales Supervisor W. L. Whedbee stated how remarkable the tobacco was selling with the tops in the $70's and yet the entire market averages $68.44.

Whedbee said it was no longer unusual for farmers to average above $70 for their entire offering.

Yesterday's gross sale of 1,627,496 pounds sold for $1,054,340.92 averaging $64.78 while net sales of 1,504,758 pounds sold for $994,726.77, an average of $66.44.

Voting Machines Won't Be Used For Referendum

RALEIGH (UP) — Nine counties cancelled plans today to use voting machines in the Oct. 3 referendum on the state's proposal to issue $72,000,000 in bonds for improvement to mental hospitals and public schools.

Atty. Gen. Harry McMullan said yesterday that bond attorneys guiding the state's moves indicated votes cast by machine might not be valid, and Raymond Maxwell, executive secretary of the State Board of Elections, passed the official word to chairmen of the nine county boards of election.

Maxwell said all but Durham County had enough paper ballots on hand to get along without the machines anyway. He said he would send another 20,000 paper ballots immediately to Durham County, which had planned to use 70 voting machines.

Wake County received six voting machines only yesterday and had planned to use them for the first time on Oct. 3, Maxwell said. He said the city of Sanford has been using machines but could easily make the change. He said only a scattering of precincts in Winston-Salem, Asheville, Greensboro, and the counties of Mecklenburg, Wayne, and Cumberland would be inconvenienced by the ruling.

McMullan said when the question was raised he took it up with the state's New York bond attorneys who stated "the voting machines may not be used as the statute submitting the bonds to the people specifically provides the use of paper ballots and the form in which these ballots must be printed."

Six Pitt Countyans last night were presented special awards by the National American Red Cross for their outstanding volunteer service to the organization.

The awards were presented by E. Hoover Taft, chairman of the Pitt Red Cross Chapter, at the annual meeting of the chapter held last night at the Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church.

Special certificates, representing one of the highest honors Red Cross can bestow upon volunteer workers, were presented Mrs. J. H. B. Moore of Greenville and K. T. Futrell of Greenville for their outstanding service to the local chapter over a period of years.

Other special certificates were presented to Mrs. Blair Cox Wheeler of Farmville, and Dr. Leo W. Jenkins of Greenville for their fund-raising work; Mrs. James T. Little and B. C. Satterfield of Greenville for their work with the local Red Cross blood program.

Taft expressed to the recipients of the awards the appreciation of the local chapter for their outstanding service, and conveyed to them the congratulations of national Red Cross officials for their work.

The annual meeting last night heard reports from various committee chairmen on the work done by the local chapter during the past year. Reports were made by Dr. Walter C. Humbert, chairman of the blood program in Pitt; Mrs. Howard Grady, chairman of the Junior Red Cross activities; Dave Whitchard, water safety chairman; Phillis Martin, home nursing chairman; and Dr. Charles DeShaw, first aid chairman. The report of the disaster committee chairman George Wilkerson was read by F. Badger Johnson; and the report of Mrs. J. S. Ficklen, home service committee chairman, was read by Mrs. Walter Taylor.

Chapter treasurer A. B. Stallworth, in his financial report, told the group the local Red Cross chapter had a balance on hand of $5,322.87 at the end of its fiscal year. The 1953 fund campaign totaled $15,816.02, he said, of which $5,540.65 was sent to the national headquarters, and $7,275.37 was retained in the local account. Disbursements for the year 1952-53, Stallworth reported, amounted to $8,849.84 of which $2,954.65 was sent for the local blood program.

E. Hoover Taft was re-elected chairman of the Pitt Red Cross chapter last night. Other officers elected were: A. B. Stallworth, treasurer; Mrs. J. S. Ficklen Jr., secretary; Mrs. Walter F. Taylor, executive secretary; M. F. Steinbeck, vice chairman; and A. W. Bryan, vice chairman.

Chairman Taft, who presided at the meeting last night, told the group funds for the banquet were provided by "a friend of Red Cross," and that funds for the meeting were not taken from the local Red Cross chapter.

Accident Victim Dies Of Injuries

A highway accident in the city limits of Falkland Wednesday night today claimed the life of one of the two critically injured occupants.

Dead is Jack Casey, 36, of Route 2, Box 34, Greenville. He died in Pitt Memorial Hospital this morning at 11:30 of chest injuries received when the car in which he was riding around seven o'clock Wednesday night failed to make a curve, overturning, hitting a telephone pole, and overturning again.

The death of Casey brings to 10 the number of persons to have died in Pitt County this year as the result of automobile accidents.

He was the second person to lose his life in a highway accident since Sunday, John Henry Davis Jr., 31-year-old Negro man died Monday night of injuries received when his car overturned five miles South of Bethel on NC 11 Sunday morning.

The condition of James Dunn, 18, of Route 1, Fountain, the second injured person in the accident at Falkland is "grave." He was removed to Duke Hospital Thursday, where he underwent two operations last night. The operations were performed in an effort to relieve nerve pressure caused by his broken neck.

Patrolman Shep Newman and Coroner Griffin H. Rouse said that a further investigation of the accident is underway and will have to be completed before any charges are placed against Marion Corbett, 31, of Route 1, Fountain driver of the death car.

Corbett was not injured in the wreck.

France Relaxes Curb On Imports

PARIS (UP) — France moved toward greater freedom in foreign trade today by ending restrictions on imports of a wide range of products from other European countries.

The freed imports affect an estimated 8 per cent of what France buys from other members of the European Payments Union.

TULSA, Okla. (UP) — A cancer-stricken young mother died early today, happy in the fulfillment of her dearest wish—the birth of her baby.

Death came peacefully at 1:10 a. m. to Mrs. Colleen Alford, who has been suffering from an incurable cancer of the lymph glands for more than three years.

Black-haired Cleah Tonya Alford, not yet two months old, was delivered prematurely by Caesarian section because of the mother's condition.

Deputy Director Lauds Pitt Red Cross Chapter

Donald W. Stout, Red Cross deputy director for the Southeastern United States, last night addressed some 100 people who attended the annual meeting of the Pitt County Red Cross Chapter.

Stout, who headed Red Cross disaster operations in Operation Snowbound, and several other major disaster areas, praised the Pitt Red Cross Chapter for its work during the past years, and complimented Pitt Chairman E. Hoover Taft for his leadership.

The speaker pointed out that Red Cross work covers such a multiplicity of fields of endeavor, it is often confusing to the people to understand exactly what Red Cross work does.

Each part of the Red Cross program is a large and important field of work in itself, Stout told the group. Through its staff, and through the 3,700 individual chapters across the nation, the speaker asserted, Red Cross tries to analyze the needs of the people and care for those needs until some other agency or the government moves in to meet the needs.

The national staff of Red Cross, Stout continued, advises, guides, assists and trains service leadership for local chapters, but it does not direct work of local chapters. All policies of Red Cross, he pointed out, are made by the volunteer board of governors and volunteer board of directors from the national level through the local level.

Stout urged his listeners to consider carefully criticisms they may hear of Red Cross activities before joining in criticizing the organization. "No matter how hard Red Cross tries," Stout said, "it is vulnerable to criticism because of its far flung work."

In spite of the fact that half the national Red Cross budget goes to serve service men and their families, "GIs particularly are free in their criticisms."

The speaker took the occasion to present the view of national Red Cross as to fund raising methods on the local levels, saying that although Red Cross has joined with other agencies in fund raising campaigns in some communities, it still believes its interest is best served by the individual campaign method.

Praising the volunteer Red Cross workers in local communities, Stout asserted, "The spirit of volunteerism is the very virile spirit of the organization." He praised work of the local chapter and its volunteers and commended the chapter for its progress. "At the same time," he said, "I challenge you to greater service in the future."

Board Moves To Cleanse Schools Of Red Teachers

ALBANY, N. Y. (UP) — The State Board of Regents, in a move aimed at ridding New York City's public schools of Communist teachers, has ruled that the Communist Party is a subversive organization advocating overthrow of the U. S. government by "force and violence."

The action by the board was announced yesterday after it analyzed reports submitted by a special committee which began public hearings on the question Dec. 4, 1952.

The regents board, first New York State agency to declare the Communist Party subversive, found that the party does "advocate, advise, teach and embrace the doctrine that the U. S. government should be overthrown by force and violence."

Dies, But He'd Wish Fulfilled

TULSA, Okla. (UP) — A cancer-stricken young mother died early today, happy in the fulfillment of her dearest wish—the birth of her baby.

Death came peacefully at 1:10 a. m. to Mrs. Colleen Alford, who has been suffering from an incurable cancer of the lymph glands for more than three years.

Black-haired Cleah Tonya Alford, not yet two months old, was delivered prematurely by Caesarian section because of the mother's condition.

Angry Disbelief Sons Refuse Repatriation Families 'Stunned'

By UNITED PRESS
A Communist broadcaster in Peiping read 23 names—and broke the hearts of a handful of stunned American families.

Angry disbelief was the most common reaction of the families of the American prisoners of war the Reds identified as the men who came into Panmunjom Wednesday singing the "Internationale" and refusing repatriation.

But some sorrowing parents accepted the unconfirmed Communist identification as true, although they clung stubbornly to the hope that the men would change their minds.

Mrs. Portia Howe of Alden, Minn., mother of Pfc. Richard R. Tenneson, 20, said she has contacted American authorities about the possibility of sending the POWs tape recording, pleading that he reject Communism.

"I'm sure that if Richard could hear our voices and know that we are all right and want him to come home, it would impress him," she said.

"It's so strange," she added.

"He sounded so homesick in all his letters."

Some of the men on the list had suffered hard knocks in their young lives. Take the case of a GI from Detroit, reported to be a Bronze Star winner.

His mother was identified as a "skid row bum" who couldn't be reached for comment, his sister was in a Catholic home for wayward girls, his brother was in jail for armed robbery and his father was dead.

But others came from close-knit families.

"He is my son, and he will always be my son," said Daniel H. Pate of rural Carbondale, Ill., who said he feared his son Arlie, "was in so deep he's afraid to come back."

The corporal's sister, Beulah, said, "There will always be a light burning for him when he's ready to come home."

The parents of prisoner James G. Veneris of Hawthorne, Calif., told newsmen to "tell him this: 'Son, why should you turn Communist? What in God's name do you expect to gain?'"

His mother said, "We hope and pray you will come back to us where you were born and where you belong."

At Baltimore, Md., William Dunne, father of Cpl. John R. Dunn said he was "damned glad my son is alive."

Neighbors described the younger Dunn as a "good and somewhat bookish boy."

Pfc. Willard Caplinger, a former prisoner of war who was on the same camp with Cpl. Scott Rush of Marietta, O., said that Rush had taken part in Red "self-improvement" programs just for "something to do."

The reaction of the families of the other men were summed up in the words "I don't believe it," and in the firm faith of Mrs. Brady Skinner of Akron, O., mother of Cpl. Lowell D. Skinner, who often wrote he could hardly wait to return home.

"I believe all those boys want to come home," Mrs. Skinner said. "Why don't they give them a chance?"

City Stands Still 15 Minutes In A-Bomb 'Raid' Air Raid Drill In New York

NEW YORK (UP) — New Yorkers took cover today in a test of how civil defense would try to combat the grisly horror of "H-Day."

The city stood still for 15 minutes. Traffic froze. Millions took shelter as the 604 sirens sounded the grim warlike signaling the red alert. It was a practice drill by 8,500,000 residents and visitors for the day when a sneak enemy air attack might hit them.

New York's third "public participation" air raid test in three years came just 24 hours after President Eisenhower had called his top defense advisors into the White House to discuss how the nation might build up a defense against the possibility of a Soviet H-bomb attack.

Most of an estimated 750,000 vehicles pulled to the curb—or as near to it as they could get in the crowded streets—and their occupants went to shelters. Around 8,500,000 New Yorkers, visitors, and commuters took part in the test.

Times Square, swarming with traffic and pedestrians a moment before the alert, was cleared by wardens and police within one minute. Thousands of shoppers in the Herald Square department store district were herded off the streets and into shelters within two minutes.

At La Guardia and Idlewild airfields, thousands of airlines employees joined hundreds of travelers in seeking shelter. Planes were allowed to land, but none took off.

The drill was the climax of the country's biggest civil defense exercise — a three-day affair in which civil defense and other emergency units presented paper "solutions" to the theoretical falling on New York of two atom bombs. Participating were defense units of nine counties outside the city, and "support area" which would supply food and medical and other help.

The two atom bombs — one hitting in congested lower Manhattan, the other at the Queens city line — theoretically would tumble skyscrapers, demolish tenement districts, shatter bridges, start firestorms that would rage out of control for hours and cause the following casualties:

Dead, 1,104,814; injured, 568,998; homeless, 1,690,700.

But that devastation was only figured for the atom bomb. It would be magnified in a hellish fashion by the enormous power of the hydrogen bomb.

During today's drill, from 8:30 to 8:45 a. m. EST, wardens cleared the streets, ordering vehicles to curbs and directing the public to shelters. Public buildings, schools, stores, shops, and other buildings put control operations into effect. Designated persons to designated shelter areas.

Rival Union

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UP) — The American Federation of Labor today chartered a new union to organize waterfront dockworkers.

AFL President George Meany announced that the new union, known as the International Longshoremen's Association, AFL, would be headed by a five-member committee of top AFL leaders.

The charter was issued to seven members of the expelled dock union.

The action followed up the ouster of the longshoremen's union headed by Joseph P. Ryan by the national convention on Tuesday. It was the start of an AFL crackdown on criminal elements within the federation.

Delegates attending the convention burst into applause when Meany reported the new charter was now in effect.

Will Devote Life Fighting Kremlin

WASHINGTON (UP) — Dr. Marek S. Korowicz, a Polish diplomat until his dramatic bolt to freedom, was reported "in seclusion" today working on plans to become an anti-Communist lecturer and writer.

The 50-year-old former Krakow University law professor who fled his United Nations post last week has one immediate aim — to "spread the truth about the painful, criminal nature of Communism" and to warn Americans never to let the Reds take over their free and happy country."

He told the House Un-American Activities Committee Thursday in concluding a two-hour personal appearance that he plans to embark on a lecture tour and writing career. He appeared before the committee under heavy guard to protect him from possible Communist reprisals.

As one who has just achieved freedom, he said, he wants to act as Poland's spokesman in describing the "horror of living behind the Iron Curtain."

Korowicz seemed likely to have no trouble in getting permission to remain in this country. Under U.S. immigration policy, no alien is deported to a country where he would face persecution.

Peace Prize For Paul Robeson

MOSCOW (UP) — Front pages of the newspapers Pravda and Izvestia devoted four full columns today to reports of ceremonies in New York awarding a Stalin Peace Prize to American singer Paul Robeson.

A two-column photograph showed author Howard Fast handing the medal to Robeson at Harlem ceremonies this week.

The Communist Party and government newspapers published the full text of Robeson's speech. They quoted him as saying:

May Be Disciplined If Shown Up By Probings

WASHINGTON (UP) — Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson has ruled that American war prisoners may face disciplinary action if "sympathetic" investigation shows they made false confessions or formed on their buddies too readily.

In a statement Thursday night, Wilson ordered a middle course between the Army's lenient and the Marines' tough policy toward POWs who succumbed to Communist pressures.

Although Americans have sympathy for "those who suffered" at the hands of the Communists, he said, "we do not as a general principle condone" those who confessed falsely or added to the misery of their fellow prisoners.

"Such cases will be carefully and sympathetically examined by the services concerned," he declared, "to ascertain whether in any of them there has been an unreasonable failure to measure up to the standard of individual conduct which is expected even of a prisoner of war or deviations from standards of behavior prescribed by law."

Wilson did not explain what would be considered "unreasonable failure." Presumably included would be cases in which POWs cooperated with the Communists to receive favored treatment rather than because they were forced.

Wilson emphasized that "any action taken by the Defense Department will be on an individual basis, will be just and fair and in line with established facts and evidence and the rules, regulations and laws in regard to military conduct."

Under the new Uniform Code of Military Justice a man may be court-martialed for aiding the enemy to the detriment of fellow prisoners. The maximum punishment is life imprisonment.

Defuse 2-Ton Bomb Menacing Nuernburg

NUERNBERG, Germany (UP) — Two Germans disregarded the possibility of death today and defused a two-ton unexploded bomb in the center of this silent city today as 100,000 citizens cringed in cellars.

Demolition experts Erich Froedermann and Richard Hesse deliberately gambled their lives as they squirmed into a narrow opening to unscrew three fuses from the biggest unexploded bomb in postwar Germany.

The wailing of the wartime sirens sent residents of the endangered area scurrying for shelter with vivid memories of the destruction caused by explosion of a much smaller bomb in 1951.

In the weird silence that followed, the experts took the three-hour gamble and won. They reported their progress over an army field telephone.

At 10:45 a. m. (4:45 a. m. EST) they said they had removed the last fuse and everyone left the cellars.

All communications with this historic city were cut when telephone operators abandoned their switchboards to seek shelter in nearby basements.

The central telephone offices lie in the mile-square death zone threatened by the rusting eight-year-old 4,000-pound British land mine dropped in the heart of the city in 1944 by the RAF.

Sweating U. S. soldiers and 300 German police with dogs kept inhabitants and would-be looters out of the roped-off area.

Froedermann and Hesse worked desperately to remove the three fuses from the block-buster which is wedged between a cement block and brick wall.

Suggests Regulations On Subdivision Development

The Greenville City Planning Board held its monthly meeting last night with City Manager James S. Hughes attending for the first time.

Hughes told of his experiences with other boards, and suggested the board consider establishing a subdivision regulation setting forth minimum requirements for development within and without the city.

A request for a new subdivision on the east end of the city outside of the corporate limits was submitted by D. G. Nichols. The plan was left to be studied and acted upon at the next meeting.

A recommendation by the Chamber of Commerce on widening Dickinson Avenue and Greene Street was discussed, but there was no formal action taken.

At the request of the City Council the board considered and passed a resolution making the 50 feet building setbacks on Tyson Street and 14th Street, from Tyson Street to Green Mill Run.

Present at the meeting were Chairman Frank L. Little, Tom W. Rivers, A. C. Ruffin, Mrs. D. M. Clark, L. S. Ficklen, Martin Swartz, and the city manager.

And from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, "That which He creates is good, and He makes all that is made. CHRISTIAN CHURCH ANNOUNCEMENTS Promotion Day in the Sunday School will be observed Sunday morning in the Eighth Street Christian Church. Superintendents of the various departments will present a certificate of promotion to the class leaving that department and will march up to the next department and introduce the class to that superintendent.

On Monday night at 8 in the church sanctuary a moving picture will be shown entitled "For Every Child." This picture will give to parents, teachers and friends of children a new conception of the importance of the task of teaching. The public is invited and as it is undenominational in every respect there need be no danger of any misunderstanding. There is no admission charge. This picture has been made by the Broadcasting Commission of the National Council of Churches of Christ in America.

Rally Day will be the first Sunday in October. At that time every person of our city should be enrolled in some form of teaching program. The Bible Schools of our city should be full and running over. The Sunday School at the Christian Church invites any who are not enrolled in some school to come with us.

Members of the Rotary Club, together with a number of guests, were given a series of original and clever "demonstrations" in the power of "mental telepathy" Monday night at the meeting of the club.

The feature was the conception of what the suggestive power should be even if it is not.

Rotary District Governor Addresses Ayden Club In Recent Official Visit

AYDEN — Charlie McCullers, district governor of the 279th District, made his official visit to the Ayden Rotary Club last Friday.

"Rotary has something to be sold above the dollar value," the district governor said, as he referred to the motto, "He profits most who serves best." "Rotary has a big part to play in recreation, the youth and in the churches of the local community," he declared.

McCullers said "the world is becoming smaller everyday. The 111 exchange students from other countries will make hundreds of addresses to groups in this land and in other countries, telling about the customs of their countries to others, which will inspire good will."

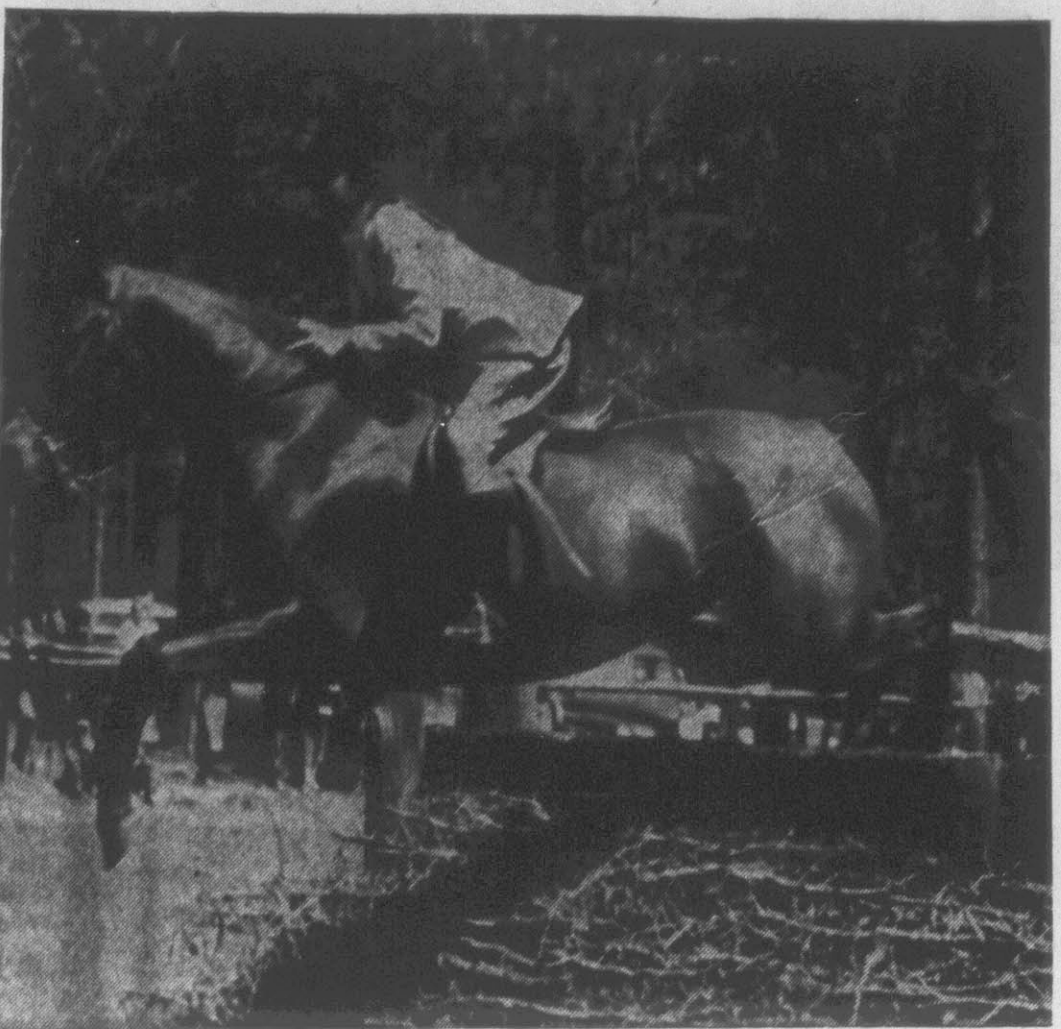

Bill Darden and Karl Pace from Greenville were visiting Rotarians. Dr. Howard Cox was guest of MacDonald Edwards. Jim Kerney was guest of Bill Moore.

Bob Denton won the "fellowship prize" and Grady Dixon won the "on time prize."

President Garland Bullock presided. Warren Kinlaw led the singing and Wilbur Ormond was accompanist for the singing of rotary songs.

NEW DISCOVERY PROTECTS HEATING OIL TANKS FROM RUST, LEAKS, CORROSION

Longer Life for Your Home Oil Tanks

Now, the Shell Oil Company has the answer!

It's SONITOR—a new chemical product that protects against rust and corrosion from the moment it is placed in your tank. SONITOR not only stops old rust from spreading, but prevents new rust from forming. If added in time, it can double the life of your fuel tank.

We are happy to offer this amazing protection for storage tanks to all our customers—without extra charge. If you are not one of our customers, we shall be glad to supply you with premium-quality Shell Heating Oils—and give your tank SONITOR protection.

News From Fountain

By MRS. J. E. OWENS

The Fountain First Baptist Church will sponsor a Brunswick stew and barbecue supper family style in the Fountain School lunchroom from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. Friday night, Sept. 25. Proceeds will go to the church building fund. The public is invited to attend.

Rev. L. B. Manning of Fountain was in charge of the baptismal services held Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock in Owens' fish pond. The eight new converts of the Aspen Grove Free Will Baptist Church revival were baptized.

Aspen Grove Free Will Baptist Church members Friday night of last week chose Rev. M. E. Godwin of Dunn, their guest speaker for last week's revival service, to be their pastor for this church year.

The Louise-Beasley Business Women's Circle of Fountain First Baptist Church met Monday night in the church with 12 members and three visitors, Mrs. J. M. Horton, Mrs. Stancil Dilda and Miss Edna Beasley, present. Mrs. Hazel Hamric, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Horton who gave a very interesting and informative talk on "What the Advance Program Is Doing In Our Circle." The devotional was led by Mrs. Dilda. Others taking part on the program were Mesdames Beasley Bell, E. B. Beasley and Albert Bell. The program closed with the entire group singing the W.M.U. hymn of the year.

The president, Mrs. C. W. Gaynor, presided over the business session during which it was reported that the group has turned in 58 pieces of silver for the church kitchen.

After the business hour the hostesses, Mrs. Hazel Hamric and Mrs. Willie Killebrew, served refreshments in the Church Assembly Room of the Educational Department.

A series of revival services, under the leadership of Rev. L. B. Manning of Fountain, pastor of Marbleboro Free Will Baptist Church and Kings Crossroads F.W.B. Church, will be conducted in the British Chapel F.W.B. Church near Kinston from Sunday, Sept. 27, through Saturday, Oct. 3. The services will be each evening at 7:30. Rev. J. E. Wooten, minister of the church, will assist with the services. The public is invited to attend.

A Slave Becomes a Brother

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Onesimus, a slave, fleeing from his master, Philemon, in the city of Colosse, in Asia Minor, to Rome, was converted to the Christian faith by St. Paul.

Paul desires to keep Onesimus with him, but feels that he must not do so without Philemon's permission, so Paul writes his letter to Philemon.

In his letter to Philemon, Paul writes that he has heard of "thy love and faith which thou hast toward the Lord Jesus and toward all saints."

So Paul sent Onesimus back to his master, asking Philemon to receive him, "not as a slave, but a brother in the Lord." MEMORY VERSE—Galatians 3:28.

A Slave Becomes a Brother

CONVERTED TO CHRISTIANITY, ONESIMUS GOES BACK TO HIS MASTER.

Scripture—Philemon.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

OUR LESSON today is based on a short letter which Paul, a prisoner in Rome, writes to a fellow Christian in the city of Colosse, in Asia Minor. But this shortest of epistles is packed with good moral precepts.

The story background of the lesson is a slave named Onesimus, who ran away from his master, Philemon, escaping to Rome. In that city Onesimus, meets Paul, and is converted to Christianity. Paul grows to love Onesimus dearly, and desires to keep him to serve him, but his conscience won't let him do this, at least unless he gets permission from Philemon.

Ancient history gives us a dreadful picture of the treatment of slaves in those times. They could be purchased very cheaply, and could be punished for misdeeds in the most dreadful manner. In fact, the master had the power of life or death over his slaves, they having no recourse in the laws, being considered mere chattels, not human beings.

We do not know why Onesimus fled from his master, unless it was that he simply hated his serfdom and yearned for freedom. Philemon was a fine man, a true

"Whom I would have retained with me, that in thy stead he might have ministered unto me in the bonds of the gospel; but without thy mind would I do nothing; that thy benefit should not be as it were of necessity, but willingly."

He asks Philemon to receive his servant, "not now as a servant, but above a servant, a brother beloved, specially to thee, but how much more unto thee, both in the flesh, and in the Lord?"

This writer read in the Self-Interpreting Bible, that it is possible that Onesimus might conceivably have been a distant kin of Philemon, as were many slaves in those far-off days.

"If thou count me therefore a partner, receive him as myself. If he hath wronged thee, or oweth thee ought, put that on mine account; I Paul have written it with mine own hand, I will repay it."

Undoubtedly Philemon owed Paul a vast debt, instead of the opposite, for saving his soul and for all his love and admiration for him.

In very small children the difference in color or race makes no difference. They regard people as people. As they grow older they notice such differences but are

MEMORY VERSE

"There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither male nor female, for ye are all one in Christ Jesus." Galatians 3:28.

Christian, as we learn from Paul's letter to him. In his greeting Paul called Philemon "our dearly beloved, and fellow-laborer."

Paul must have had a deeply affectionate nature, keeping his friends in various cities and churches always in his heart and remembering them in his prayers. "Hearing of thy love and faith, which thou hast toward the Lord Jesus, and toward all saints," Paul writes, "that the communication of thy faith may become effectual by the acknowledging of every good thing which is in you in Christ Jesus. For we have great joy and consolation in thy love," because "the saints are refreshed by thee, brother."

He also refers to Philemon as his partner, and to himself as "Paul the aged, now a prisoner of Jesus Christ." Onesimus must have been a lovable character for Paul is so fond of him he calls him "my son Onesimus, whom I have begotten in my bonds," referring to the bonds of Christ to which Paul had turned him.

not usually influenced or prejudiced by them unless home training has given them such bias. This lesson can be used to dispel such prejudices. God created us all; Christ died for everyone. As Paul writes to the Galatians:

"There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male nor female, for ye are all one in Christ Jesus."

Paul suggests that the love that was in Philemon's heart will help him to forgive his runaway slave and to receive him as a brother. Jesus said: "This is My commandment, that ye love one another, as I have loved you. . . . Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you."—John 15:12, 14.

Wouldn't it be wonderful if we could recognize fellow Christians because of their love and spirit of forgiveness toward all men? The time to plant such seeds in the minds of children is now, while they are young and growing up, and especially if they see their parents and teachers practicing these Christian virtues.

Adlai E. Stevenson, the driver, said he had just bought the car and had applied for the license plates. The unsuccessful Democratic presidential candidate of 1952 was permitted to continue.

Won't Be Back After Reception

BERKELEY, Calif. (UP)—Jack A. Nelson, 22, will think twice about visiting his girl friend's home in the early hours of the morning. Nelson pounded on the door of Helen Rose's home early Thursday and was greeted by a fusillade of .32 caliber bullets.

Miss Rose told police she didn't know it was Nelson. Nelson said he wouldn't be back—at any hour.

Pirates Dummy Scrimmage; Phants Meeting Kinston

Gay Joins Injured On Pirates Squad

By JIMMY ELLIS
Reflector Sports Editor

The East Carolina College Pirates had only today's light signal drill remaining before putting the wraps on their preparations for their North State Conference opener tomorrow night with Lenoir-Rhyne.

In Hickory, Coach Clarence Stasovich of the Bears put his team through basically the same workout. The single wing offense of the Bears, with fullback Billy Kanes doing most of the work, was checked and rechecked and Lenoir-Rhyne's defensive line got another look at scouting reports for mist week's ECC-Wilson Teachers game.

The Pirates worked without three of their starters yesterday and at least two of them are definitely out of tomorrow's game. Left halfback Topsy Hayes is still sidelined with a bad knee and right end Al Hahit is still hampered by an ankle sprain. Right halfback Paul Gay, in light equipment most of the week because of a hip injury, was still complaining yesterday and will probably see only limited action against the Bears. The trio of starters was joined on the sidelines yesterday by a second teamer, George Tucker. Tucker is suffering from a pulled muscle in his side and will not be

Phantom Jayvees Lose Opener, 14-0

WASHINGTON—Coach Bo Farley's Greenville High School Junior Varsity dropped its season's opener yesterday to Washington's Jayvees, 14-0. The game was played on Washington's Kugler Field.

The Washington squad struck for touchdowns in the second and third quarters to wrap up the game.

The Spooks made their most serious bid for a touchdown in the third quarter when quarterback Tommy Kay Norris sparked a drive that carried to the Washington two-yard line before it was stopped.

Halfbacks Bob Shackelford and Charles Smith and fullback Billy Sermons led the Greenville offense while Pete West, Edwin Wilkerson, and Angus Duff spearheaded the line play.

able to play at his usual guard post. Working in the first team backfield yesterday, Boone had Dick Cherry and Claude King at their regular positions at quarterback and fullback but he ran through several combinations of halfbacks.

Veterans Teddy Barnes and Eno Boado headed the list of left halfbacks with Tom Allbrook, Harold O'Kelly and Jim Stanley doing most of the right halfback work. Jack Britt, the starter at left half in last week's opener, was in full equipment yesterday but he was still bothered by a foot injury and is not figured as a starter tomorrow.

A capacity crowd—and then some—is expected for the game. Some tickets are still available for the contest and can be obtained by contacting the College Athletic Office.

Wrestling

Famed Roy (Professor) Shire and his manager, Bobby Wallace, will take on Vern Taft and Chic Garibaldi in an Australian tag team match tomorrow night to highlight the wrestling program to be held in the New Enterprise Warehouse. The wrestling will start at 8:30.

In another feature match, clever Tinker Todd will take on Brother Frank Jares. Jares is a 225-pound ruffian in the ring while Todd has the reputation of being one of the more scientific young wrestlers. Their match will be a full-length, two-out-of-three falls with a 60-minute time limit.

G-W-M Beats Stars In Benefit Contest For Johnny Foell

Garner-Wynne-Manning defeated a picked group of All-Stars 5-4 last night in a benefit softball game at Rose Athletic Field. Proceeds from the contest went to Johnny Foell, a former G-W-M player who was seriously injured in an auto accident during the summer.

A single run in the fourth inning by catcher Joe Roland gave the victory to the G-W-M team. The All-Stars had started fast with two runs in the first inning and two more in the third but the Garner team, behind Mac Euse's pitching, settled down to hold the Stars scoreless after that. Garner-Wynne-Manning's big inning was the second when they tallied four of their runs.

American League To Make Decision On St. Louis Team

By CARL LUNDQUIST
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UP)—Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick said today he expected the American League to make a definite announcement next Sunday about where they intend to switch the St. Louis Browns franchise next year.

"Of course, it is strictly an American League proposition and I won't even attend the meeting," Frick said. "But I understand they will have an announceable decision at the conclusion of the meeting. Just what it will be I wouldn't have any way of knowing. But I think we're in for some interesting news."

American League club owners officially have kept mum on where they think the distressed, last-place Browns will go but informally they have discussed the pros and cons of Baltimore, Toronto, Montreal, Kansas City, San Francisco and Los Angeles as sites.

The Athletics and Senators prefer Toronto as a site and if it can be put into shape to house a big league ball club, the plant there may get the big plum. Clark Griffiths of Washington, who originally protested against Baltimore, said this week he would not vote against it.

Arthur Ehlers, general manager of the Athletics said personally he thought Toronto would be a more logical site. If Baltimore were chosen there would be an overlap of radio and television broadcasting and both the Athletics and Senators officials in the past have said they thought such a concentration of franchises in a limited area would hurt attendance.

Developments on the Pacific Coast this week, which revealed that the Pacific Coast League was near bankruptcy, again put Los Angeles and San Francisco into the forefront as big league sites—perhaps even by next season. There still remained a strong possibility that the National League, which amended its constitution to permit a 10 team circuit, would attempt another coup like the one it put over last spring in grabbing the Milwaukee Braves franchise.

Principal objection to the coast has been the heavy transportation cost. However, if two teams were out there this visiting team would remain a week on each trip to play both teams.

There even was a last ditch move by St. Louis business men to keep the Browns there, although it appeared to be doomed to failure.

Parker And Slade In TV Ring Show

NEW YORK (UP)—James J. Parker, a 6-foot, 3-inch heavyweight from Paterson, N. J., meets Jimmy Slade, a light heavyweight from New York, in a nationally televised and broadcast 10-round fight tonight at St. Nicholas Arena.

Although Parker has a reputation for knocking out his opponents, the prizefighters have made the bout an even-money proposition. Slade took the fight three days ago after Danny Nardico of Tampa, Fla., who was supposed to furnish Parker's opposition, withdrew because of a virus infection.

State Rebuilding Morale After Losing John Bagonis

RALEIGH (UP)—North Carolina State College struggled to rebuild its shattered morale today after losing veteran guard John Bagonis two days before the season's opening game because of a cheating conviction.

State College Chancellor Carey H. Bostian announced the suspension late yesterday after Bagonis, a regular for the past two seasons, had drilled with the squad since Sept. 1.

He said only the student government had jurisdiction in the case and officers of the campus government did not know of the incident until about two weeks ago. He said Sept. 23 was the earliest date that a trial could be held.

"Evidence of guilt was overwhelming and the jury voted 8 to 1 for a verdict of guilty," Bostian said. A three-fourths vote is required for conviction.

The chancellor said "it is very regrettable that the case was not settled several months ago. Numerous individuals, including Coach Horace Hendrickson, knew of the offense and could have had it settled at an earlier date."

Hendrickson planned to replace Bagonis with letterman Ed Magraj, the number two candidate for the guard post.

Coach George Barclay planned only 15-minute limbering up exercises today for his University of North Carolina squad.

The teams ran through a lengthy rehearsal of offensive plays and pass defense yesterday but engaged in no contact work.

Center Bill Kirkman returned to uniform but his hand was in a cast because of broken bones suffered in a scrimmage and it was doubtful he would play in the opening game.

At Duke, veteran fullback Jack Kistler returned to heavy equipment for the first time in over two weeks yesterday and alternated with Sam Eberdt at fullback on the number two backfield.

Coach Tom Rogers ran his varsity in dummy scrimmage yesterday against the reserves and tested their defense against Duke plays run by the reserves but allowed no heavy contact work.

Marciano Starts New Search For New Title Challenger

By JACK CUDDY
NEW YORK (UP)—Rocky

Marciano, the awkward but awesome heavyweight champion whose explosive fists pulverized Roland LaStarza Thursday night, began looking for another challenger today.

The unbeaten "block buster" from Brockton, Mass., battered ex-collegian LaStarza into such bloody helplessness before 44,562 at the Polo Grounds that Referee Ruby Goldstein stopped the bout at 1:31 of the 11th round.

That technical knockout victory was the bull-shouldered champion's 45th consecutive professional triumph, and his quest for another "victim" appeared restricted to four possible opponents.

According to Manager Al Weill, Rocky's third defense of the crown—to be made probably next February—will be against ex-champion Ezzard Charles, Nino Valdes of Cuba, Dan Bucceroni of Philadelphia or Don Cockell of England.

But the preferred Charles must first win a return bout over Harold Johnson of Philadelphia.

The outlook for none of the mentioned quartet was bright in view of the murderous beating Rocky gave Thursday night to the New Yorker who had given the champion the closest fight of his career back on March 24, 1950. By the scanty margin of three points, Rocky won a disputed split 10-round decision over Roland that night.

"He improved 5,000 per cent since then," declared Roland, after the beating which opened cuts on his right eye lid, the bridge of his nose, beneath his left eye, his right ear, and floored him for a count of eight in the 11th round. "Yes, he's 5,000 per cent better," repeated the former student at City College of New York, who suffered the first knockout in his career of 57 professional bouts, and his fourth defeat.

"He hits harder," explained 26-year-old Roland. "He hits more often. He has faster combinations. And he's harder to hit himself." Despite his improvement, however, Rocky missed many punches. He floundered at times. And in the 10th round, he fell to the canvas in a corner when his right swing merely grazed LaStarza's body. Despite his awkwardness, however, Rocky suffered only a slight cut on his lower lip in the first round.

Rocky, 29, was dissatisfied with his own awkward but awesome performance. He figured he should have knocked Roland out much earlier. "But I just couldn't get going," said the modest champ.

LaStarza's trainer, Dan Florio, had no compliments for the 180-pound champ. He charged that Marciano had used foul tactics throughout the fight against LaStarza, 1943-4.

His accusations were partially borne out by the referee's actions in penalizing Rocky the sixth round on a foul for low blows, and in warning him for butting in the second round, hitting on the break and hitting after the bell in the third, and striking low in the seventh.

Rocky stunned the brown-haired broad-shouldered challenger with a left hook to the jaw in the seventh, and battered him from rope to rope and from corner to corner with a hooking attack to body and head. From then on, it was just a question of how long LaStarza could last.

LaStarza suffered a terrific battering in the eighth, ninth and 10th sessions and he was knocked half through the ropes and to the canvas in the 11th by a right-left combination to the jaw. Roland lurched to his feet at the count of three, but the referee continued the count to "eight"—despite the fact the mandatory eight-count had been eliminated for the title fight.

Rocky tore after his nearly helpless challenger and bombarded him against the ropes. An explosive right uppercut smashed into Roland's chin, and Goldstein stepped in and stopped the fight.

Marciano, favored at 4-1, will be well paid for his second title defense. He will receive 421-2 per cent from the net proceeds of the $435,817 gross gate and the $100,000 guarantee for theatre television, also from movies of the fight. The bout was not televised nor broadcast to homes.

Rocky's purse should exceed $185,000. LaStarza getting 171-2 per cent, should receive at least $65,000.

Thursday night's victory was the 40th knockout and the 10th consecutive kayo for the champion. Who's next?

UCLA, Kansas Head Grid Slate

By JOHN GRIFFIN
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UP)—A small program of arc-light games tonight, topped by a big intersectional clash between UCLA and Kansas, ushers in the second weekend of the college football season with the "experts" still groggy from last week's battering.

The first full Saturday of the season is on tap Saturday with the old struggle between Notre Dame and Oklahoma expected to be the headline.

You can't blame the experts for praying that this week's action sticks closer to the form sheet than did the games of opening week, when no fewer than nine out of 19 major games produced upsets.

But the UCLA Kansas clash in Los Angeles' mammoth Coliseum doesn't look like material for an upset—at least judging from last week's results. UCLA made its debut with a 41-0 rout of Oregon State in which ace tailback Paul Cameron tallied two touchdowns and then rode the bench for the rest of the afternoon. Kansas, on the other hand, took a 13-0 trimming from Texas Christian.

Odds-makers, therefore, have installed UCLA's Bears as 20-point favorites.

Phantoms Shift Men For Game With Devils

By WAYNE BISHOP
Reflector Sports Writer

The Greenville Phantoms cemented their line-up shifts, wrapped up their defenses, reviewed their passing, checked their rushing, and then settled down for the long wait until their game tonight in Kinston against the strong Red Devils of Granger High School.

The high-spirited Phantoms are hoping for a rebound victory tonight against the undefeated Red Devils. Greenville lost last week to Fayetteville after earlier wins over Wilson and Jacksonville. The Phantoms are favored in the contest over the Kinston team which has defeated Pamlico Central and Little LaGrange. Phantom Coach Bill Kittrell and Assistant Jack Berde said the Greenville squad through a workout on pass patterns and signal drills yesterday. The workout was nothing more than a tuning-up and sharpening session.

Several new faces will be in the Greenville line-up as a result of player changes by Kittrell.

Senior Bobby Nunn, counted as the top quarterback on the team before the return of Pat Sawyer to active duty, has been returned to his old position at left guard. Jerry Phillips moved to the bench in the shift with Sawyer taking on full-time duties at quarterback.

Sophomore Howard King will be at left tackle in place of senior Howard King who has been shifted to the second team. The other change has little Sam Winchester moving into the center position formerly held by Doug Morgan. Morgan is out of action with an injured knee.

The defensive line-up for the Phantoms tonight will include Thomas Whitaker. Whitaker has been seeing spot action in the three games thus far but he will be a full-time defensive performer tonight.

The remainder of the Greenville line-up will remain the same. Harold Edwards and Bobby Conway will be at the ends. Tommy Smith will be at right tackle, Billy Arnold will be at right guard, James Speight and Bob Howell at the halfbacks, and Bobby Langston at fullback.

Sawyer's chief assistance at quarterback will come from Jerry Drum, top field-general in the Jacksonville game two weeks ago and the number one reserve last week. Drum was the number one quarterback on the Phantoms' 1952 Jayvee squad.

Fagan Quits Job As Seals' Boss

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Paul Fagan bowed out as owner of the San Francisco Seals today as he climaxed a stormy eight years in the Pacific Coast League by selling his club to the circuit for an undisclosed sum.

The move, which was the latest in a series of surprises by the millionaire Seals owner, apparently slammed the door on major league baseball coming here for another few years.

Stock And Market Reports

NEW YORK UP) — Aircraft rose fractionally to a point today to feature a narrow-moving, dull stock market session.

Douglas ran up a full point and Republic gained nearly a point. Fractional advances were noted in Bendix, Boeing, Lockheed, Glenn L. Martin, Grumman, North American Aviation and United Aircraft. Speedy rose nearly a point in the plane equipments.

Without the aircraft feature the market would have been a washout. The general average was up a cent at the end of the first hour. At that time, industrials and utilities showed small gains and rails a small loss.

Sales in the first hour totaled a mere 160,000 shares, smallest since Sept. 10, compared with 180,000 shares yesterday.

Steel shares balanced off small gains and losses. Motors were steady to a shade easier, many rails held unchanged and oils showed a few small gains. Owens-Corning Fiberglass rose nearly a point in its session.

RALEIGH UP) — Central North Carolina live poultry: Fryers and broilers weak, supplies fully adequate, demand fair to good; heavy hens steady, supplies plentiful, demand fair. Prices at farm up to 10 a.m.: Fryers or broilers 2 1-2 lbs 27; heavy hens 23-25.

Eggs steady, supplies short on A and B large, demand good. Prices paid producers and handlers FOB local grading stations: A large 63-64, A medium 52-55, B large 52-55.

Jaycees Review Plans For Show

Plans for the Jaycee Horse Show here October 3-4 were discussed at length last night at the regular meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Committee reports were made and all appeared to be shaping up for the annual show.

Following the business meeting the club went to Guy Smith Stadium where work was carried out on the construction of stalls which will be used to house the horses taking part in the show.

Chairman M. W. Aldridge stated to the club that "a fine lineup of horses has been secured for the show and it promises to be the best yet."

The club voted to defray part of the expenses of three club members who left today to attend the Mid-Atlantic eight-state Jaycee conference being held in Washington today, Saturday and ending Sunday.

Those making the trip are J. B. Smith, Riddick Revelle and C. E. Williams.

President Ben Rouse presided.

Junior Dairy Cattle Of Four Counties In Show

Beaufort, Greene, Martin and Pitt counties held their third annual 4-H and New Farmers of America Junior Dairy Cattle Show, September 17, at the Elm Street Livestock Barn in Williamston.

Ten dairy animals were shown by 4-H and N.F.A. boys from Pitt County. A total of 42 animals were placed in the show from the four counties. First on the show program was a lecture demonstration on "Selecting Animals for Milk Production," by R.L. Wynn, Negro extension dairy specialist.

He emphasized the importance of purchasing dairy animals from the sire and dam of good production herds and the need for farmers to use the artificial breeding program.

T.C. Baldock, of Raleigh judged the animals, using the danish system of judging. The majority of animals placed won white ribbons. The judge brought out the fact that many of these White Ribbon cows could have been bred artificially with the possibility of producing blue ribbon off-springs.

Prior to the dairy show the four counties held an educational Program and banquet at W.C. Chance Negro High School at Parmele. The principal address was made by R.E. Jones, director of negro extension work at A. and T. College, Greensboro. He stressed the need for the farmer to increase his annual income if he is to expect a decent standard of living, and plan to school his children in promoting a better way of life.

"As observed from the James M. Goode, dairy show held in Williamston, Pitt county Negro farm agent, said the Negro farmers of Pitt county definitely need more family type cows. Cows to produce milk for the family. To the farmers of Pitt county, let's make this our slogan, Buy a cow before buying a car. Any farmer or farmers interested in purchasing a good dairy cow, please let us know. We have on hand a list of good dairy animals of the best grade and they are priced right.

"We want to thank the agricultural workers in Pitt county for their efforts in this show and to the Pitt County Farm Bureau and Pitt County Commissioners for financing the show on the county level," Goode stated.

Close to six hundred people attended Home-Coming Day at the Red Oak Christian Church last Sunday which began at the Sunday School hour at 9:45 and closed with a prayer at four o'clock.

One hundred - seventy people were present at Sunday School, many of them coming from as far as Raleigh, Chapel Hill and Norfolk.

Reverend Harold Tyer delivered the morning message to an overflowed congregation. Messrs. Ralph and Clifton Sullivan sang a duet, "Take Up Thy Cross and Follow Me" and Mrs. William May sang, "Consider The Lilies." The Junior Boys and Girls Choir sang, "Make Me a Blessing."

Dedication services were held in which our communion table was dedicated to the memory of John R. Crawford and Dewey Crawford. The beautiful flowers in the church were placed there in memory of their loved ones by the John R. Crawford family, Mrs. Sarah May Haddock, Mr. and Mrs. William R. May and Mrs. Billy May, Mrs. George Entwistle and daughters and Mrs. Claude Manning.

Communion services were held as is the custom each time we meet. A most bountiful dinner was spread picnic style which was thoroughly enjoyed by the members and their friends from far and near.

Such a large crowd remained for the afternoon services that they could not all be seated. Many stood in the vestibule.

Lawrence Tyson led the congregational singing in the afternoon. Two choruses "Everybody Ought to Know" and "Give Me Oil in My Lamp" were enjoyed.

Reverend Garland Hendricks of Wake Forest made a most outstanding address. His topic was "The Place of the Rural Church in America." He remarked that it mattered not how small a church was that it could be a great force for good in making a better community, a better country and a better world.

There were so many highlights of our program that it would be impossible to say one thing was more enjoyable than another but suffice it to say that all who were present will never forget the lovely picture that Mrs. J. C. Moye and her seven attractive sons and daughters made as they sang, "God's Way Is The Best Way" and "Precious Memories." Mrs. Moye sang a beautiful solo. One of her daughters played the organ for them to sing.

The Red Oak Choir sang, "Sun of My Soul" and "America, The Beautiful" under the direction of Mrs. Moye.

The Little Ladies Choir sang, "God So Loved the World," and "Steal Away" under the direction of James Bullock.

A men's chorus of about twenty-five voices sang, "Where We'll Never Grow Old" and "God Be With You Till We Meet Again," led by Lawrence Tyson.

The success of the day was due to the splendid cooperation of all. Committees were named for church readiness, flowers, ushering and seating, table, courtesy, program, etc. and without fail every person was on the job.

Everyone who came received "food for the soul," "food for the mind" and "food for the body." It will go down in the history of our church as by far the most outstanding Home-Coming Day ever held at the Red Oak Christian Church.

Open Forum On Alcoholism Set

An open forum on Alcoholism, sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post No. 2032, and its Ladies Auxiliary, will be held at the Woman's Club in Greenville Tuesday, October 6, at 8 p.m.

North Carolina's rehabilitation program for problem drinkers, along with the steps a town should take toward prevention and treatment of alcoholism, will be discussed by a panel composed of S.K. Proctor executive director of the N.C. Alcoholic Rehabilitation Program; Dr. John A. Ewing, psychiatrist; and Dr. Robert L. Kelly, education director; both of the N.C. Alcoholic Rehabilitation Center at Butler.

The forum will be open to questions from the audience and general group discussion, after the panel leaders have concluded.

The public is invited to attend and letters have been sent to civic clubs, ministers, county and city officials, mayors of Pitt county towns, and other organizations urging their attendance; according to Larry Averette, Chairman, VFW Post 7032.

The VFW Post and Ladies Auxiliary are sponsoring this forum in order that constructive steps may be taken to alleviate their serious problem.

No Fire Hazard After One Night

WAYNESBORO, Va. (AP) — A day after a fire destroyed four buildings and damaged six others, city council cited a lumber company building as an apparently dangerous fire risk.

The company owner replied in an advertisement in the city's daily newspaper. He assured the public his building wasn't a fire hazard. It wasn't after that night. It burned down.

Participate In Opening Of New Reading Center

Dr. Keith D. Holmes of the East Carolina department of education and James W. Butler, alumni secretary at the college, participated Wednesday in exercises marking the opening of the new Reading Materials Center at the Princeton High School.

As principal speaker on the program, Dr. Holmes discussed "The Purpose of a Reading Center." An attractive printed program of the occasion gave special recognition to Dr. Holmes by the inclusion of a page bearing the words: "The Princeton Program: Foundation Laid in Smithfield Extension Class, East Carolina College, Under the Direction of Dr. Keith D. Holmes."

Butler extended best wishes from the college and greeted East Carolina alumni on the school faculty and present as guests of the afternoon.

Mildred Oliver, organizer and director of the Reading Materials Center, acted as chairman at the opening ceremonies. L. J. Worthington, school principal, welcomed guests E. S. Simpson, superintendent of Johnston County Schools, introduced a group of special representatives who attended Wednesday's program.

These included Cora Paul Bomar, state school library advisor; Ella Stephens Barrett, supervisor of guidance services, State Department of Public Instruction; Evelyn Bishop, librarian at the Johnston County Library; and Mrs. Doc R. Oliver, president of the Thirteenth District of the N.C. Federation of Women's Clubs.

The attractive Reading Materials Center is designed as a laboratory where students may enjoy and profit from their experiences as readers.
