CLOTHING BROUGHT TO THE LAB SHOULD ALWAYS BE WRAPPED IN CLEAN PAPER SEPARATELY. CONTAMINATION OF ANY EVIDENCE MAKES IT DIFFICULT OR IMPOSSIBLE FOR THE ANALYST TO ARRIVE AT A POSITIVE CONCLUSION.

THE WIRE IS CUT. COME ON IN, BOYS.

YOU HAD 2 SECONDS TO GO.

YOU CAN OPEN THE VEST NOW, BUT DON'T MOVE UNCLE CANHEAD.

LET'S GET THE PLASTIC TNT OUT OF THERE.

A CARDBOARD BOX WRAPPED WITH TAPE! TAKE OFF THE BATTERY LEADS, SAM.

YOU HAD TO WORK THAT 3-CORNERED FILE THROUGH A HALF-INCH WIRE MESH, TRACY.

YOU TOOK AN AWFUL CHANCE.

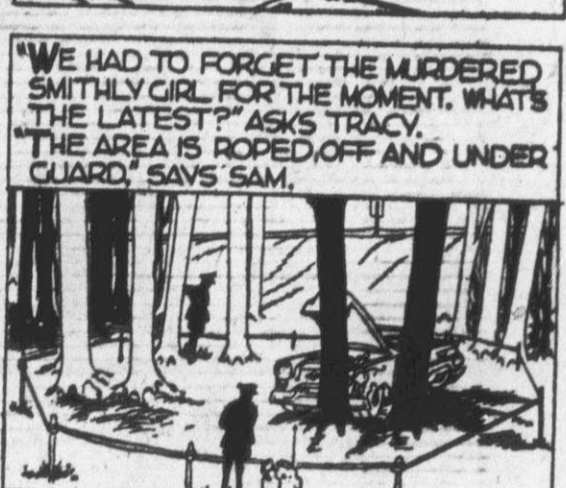

I'LL NEVER FORGET YOU, MR. TRACY.

THE BOYS BROUGHT COFFEE.

I WRAPPED UP THE STUFF, TRACY. WE'LL TAKE IT ALL TO THE LAB.

THANKS FOR YOUR COOPERATION AND USE OF THE MOBILE UNIT, FELLOWS.

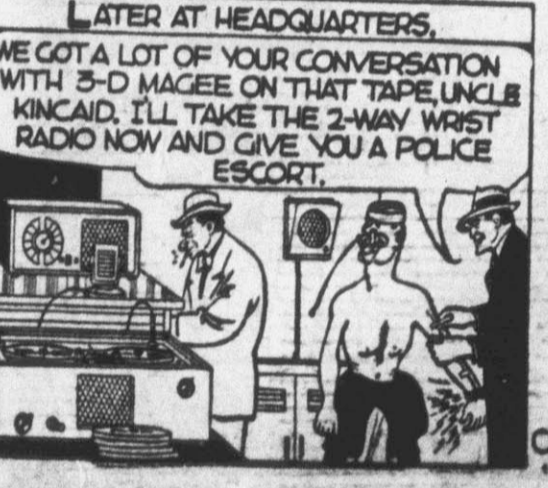

"WE HAD TO FORGET THE MURDERED SMITHLY GIRL FOR THE MOMENT. WHAT'S THE LATEST?" ASKS TRACY.

"THE AREA IS ROPED OFF AND UNDER GUARD," SAYS SAM.

OUR ONLY CLUE IS THIS WOMAN'S HAT—WITH THE LABEL TORN OUT.

THE GIRL'S RIDING CROP BEARS WHAT APPEARS TO BE BLOOD STAINS AND HAIR.

LATER AT HEADQUARTERS, WE GOT A LOT OF YOUR CONVERSATION WITH 3-D MAGEE ON THAT TAPE, UNCLE KINCAID. I'LL TAKE THE 2-WAY WRIST RADIO NOW AND GIVE YOU A POLICE ESCORT.

MEANWHILE, 3-D MAGEE AND PONY DRINK A TOAST.

TO MY DEAR, DEPARTED "EX":

THE "VEST" HE WENT WEST—IT WAS BEST! BOOM!

STILL LATER—

THIS HAT LOOKS LIKE AN EXPENSIVE MODEL, SAM. WHO DO WE KNOW WHO COULD TELL US ABOUT HATS?

HATS? WHY THE ONE AND ONLY AUTHORITY ON HATS, YOUR FRIEND HEDDER?

30 MINUTES LATER—

IT'S DICK TRACY.

I FEEL SORRY FOR EDDIE... HIS WIFE ARRIVES HOME TODAY.

WHY SORRY?

HIS WHOLE HOUSE IS A WRECK—DIRTY DISHES ARE PILED UP TO THE CEILING.

WHY DON'T YOU HUSBANDS HELP HIM OUT?

WE CAME OVER TO HELP YOU GET YOUR HOUSE CLEANED UP, EDDIE.

THE BOYS BUT WE JUST GOT THREE HOURS BEFORE MY WIFE ARRIVES.

I'LL GET OUT THE HOUSECLEANING EQUIPMENT AND WE'LL START RIGHT IN.

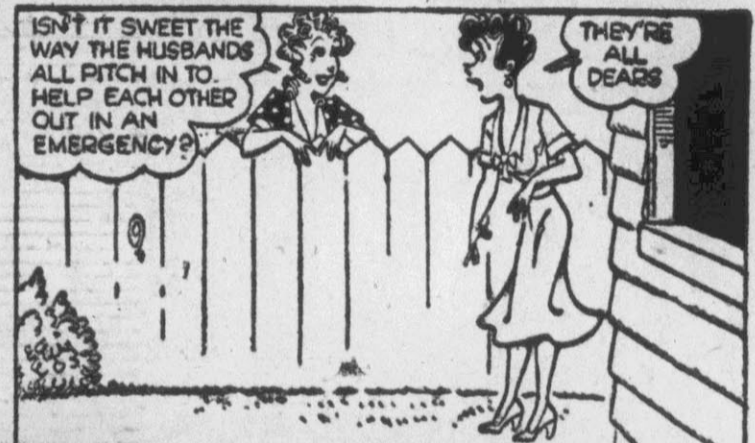

HAVE YOU A DECK OF CARDS, EDDIE?

I'M OUT.

I'LL BET TWO RED ONES.

I'LL RAISE IT A BLUE.

ISN'T IT SWEET THE WAY THE HUSBANDS ALL PITCH IN TO HELP EACH OTHER OUT IN AN EMERGENCY?

THEY'RE ALL DEARS.

GREAT SCOTT, EDDIE, YOUR WIFE'S TRAIN IS DUE IN TWENTY MINUTES.

I'LL RUSH TO THE STATION—YOU FELLOWS GET BUSY.

THIS IS THE WAY I WASH THE DISHES WHEN BLONDIE GOES AWAY.

PASS THE DRY ONES IN TO ME.

NOW WE'LL TACKLE THE KITCHEN.

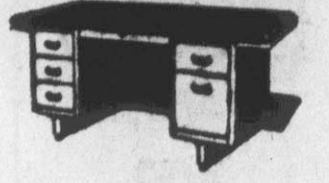

KEEP GOING, BOYS.

WHAT A WONDERFUL HUSBAND YOU ARE, EDDIE. THE HOUSE LOOKS BEAUTIFUL—IT'S GUSTING.

I DON'T KNOW WHY WIVES MAKE SUCH A FUSS ABOUT KEEPING HOUSE.

Three Yugoslav Armored Divisions Rushed To City Sector

Tito Refuses Trieste Division

By HELEN FISHER United Press Staff Correspondent BELGRADE, YUGOSLAVIA (UP)—President Tito moved troops and armored reinforcements into the Yugoslav sector of disputed Trieste today and served a virtual ultimatum to the United States and Britain to accept a new proposal for control of the disputed territory. Tito warned the Western powers he never will accept the Anglo-American plan to hand over Zone A of Trieste to Italy. American and British tanks and troops drew into position just across the line dividing the two zones, to guard all roads leading to the Yugoslav-occupied area and as a precaution against disorders. Tito's troops rolled in as 40,000 Communist-led workers in the Anglo-American zone of the territory staged a 24-hour protest strike against the partition plan. The demonstrators, predominantly Italian, demanded that all Trieste territory be handed to Italy. It was feared riots might develop from the demonstrations. Tito ordered three armored divisions into Trieste to reinforce the 3,000-man garrison already there. Under the terms of the previous arrangement, Yugoslavia is entitled to maintain 5,000 troops in its zone. The opposing Yugoslav and Western forces were only a few miles apart. Tito's new plan for partition of the territory which has been a bone of contention with Italy since the end of World War II, would make the city of Trieste itself an autonomous area, under Italian control. The rest of the 285-square-mile territory, Tito would make an autonomous area under Yugoslav control. Tito warned that Yugoslavia will accept as "an act of aggression" any move by Italian troops to move into the area of Trieste the United States and British proposed to hand over to Italy. Yugoslavia, he said, reserved the right to "use force of arms" to protect the peace. Tito's new plan for the territory represented a mild concession. Previously he has demanded that the city of Trieste be internationalized and the rest of the area be handed outright to Yugoslavia. In a speech at Laskovac, the Yugoslav President said he would never accept the Anglo-American plan to give Zone A to Italy and permit Yugoslavia to remain in control of Zone B. Outlining his own compromise proposal he said: "I have no other and do not wish to find any other proposal. Should the western Allies gloss over this proposal as such, then there will be no peace in this part of Europe." Newspapers in Trieste headlined the arrival of new Yugoslav armored units in Zone B. But some 40,000 workers led by pro-Moscow Communists staged a 24-hour strike in the powder keg city of Trieste itself. The strikers protested against the Anglo-American decision on Trieste on the grounds that Italy did not get all of the free territory. The overwhelmingly Italian population felt the decision giving Zone A to Italy meant Yugoslavia would continue to occupy Zone B permanently. Newspapers in Trieste printed reports that Yugoslav armored units were pouring into Zone B of Trieste to reinforce the 5,000-man occupation force Yugoslavia was permitted to maintain there. In Trieste, some 7,000 United States and British troops stood ready to go into action to prevent violence. The Communist labor organization ordered the strike started at midnight to protest the Western decision to hand over Zone A of the free territory to Italy. Most of the zone's 300,000 residents felt the United States and Britain actually were giving Zone B permanently to Yugoslavia. Danger of riots mounted as rumors swept the city that Marshal Tito had moved three party-armored divisions into Yugoslav-occupied Zone B. That would mean increasing by about five times the 5,000 Yugoslav troops permitted to occupy the zone. Ten small Yugoslav vessels were also rumored lying off the coast of Zone B near Isola D'Istria. The sources of the report said the armed show was intended to back up Tito's assertion he would not accept the Allied action in Zone B. However, there was no redeployment of Allied occupation troops such as might have been expected if the reports had founda-

Churchill Declares Continued Efforts For Big Four Talk

ARGATE, England (UP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill announced today that he will persevere in seeking a conference of the chiefs of state of the four great world powers. In his first big speech since last June when illness forced him to take a rest, Churchill told a Conservative Party meeting that he and Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden are concentrating on finding "a secure foundation for world peace." With the help of the United States, he said, he hopes it will be possible to avoid a third world war. The 78-year-old Prime Minister also said: 1. He intends to remain in office so that he may be able to help in building a sure and lasting peace. 2. He has no intention of calling a parliamentary election this year or next year. (The present house of Commons was elected in October, 1951, for a five-year term.) 3. It was better to be in good time in sending troops to British Guiana, to head off the threat of a Communist coup, than to be too late. "Sufficient forces to preserve peace and order have now been safely landed." Churchill said he thought the "sense of crisis in our world relations" was less now than it was two years ago. He recalled to the 4,000 cheering delegates to his Conservative Party annual meeting that he had previously proposed "friendly informal, personal talks between the leading figures" of the Big Four powers. Such talks, he said, "might do good and could not easily do much harm and a good thing might lead to another." "I still think," he said, "that the leading men of the various nations ought to be able to meet together without trying to set attitudes (posed) before the excited public or using regiments of experts to marshal all the difficulties and objections." "Let us try to see whether there is not something better for us than tearing and blasting each other to pieces, which we can certainly do," he said. The Allies, he said, should "not play Russia against Germany or Germany against Russia but to make them both feel they can live in safety with each other in spite of their problems and difficulties." It is Britain's duty to use its "growing" influence with both Germany and Russia "to relieve them of any anxiety about each other," he said. Turning to his last major speech — last May 11 — when he mentioned the possibility of a non-aggression treaty with Russia on the basis of the Locarno Peace Pact concluded between the two world wars, Churchill said: "I mean, of course, the plan of everybody going against the aggressor wherever he may be, and helping the victim large or small. That is no more than the United Nations was set up to do."

Agriculture Officials Await Pending Federal Aid Low N.C. Hay Crop Outlook

RALEIGH (UP)—The State and Federal Crop Reporting Service predicted the smallest hay crop in North Carolina since 1941 in an Oct. 1 forecast released today. The report said expected production is only 1,705,000 tons — some 250,000 tons less than the 1952 crop. Meanwhile, state agriculture officials are awaiting action from the U. S. Department of Agriculture on plans to pay transportation costs on out-of-state emergency hay supplies for drought-stricken Tar Heel cattlemen. Undersecretary of Agriculture True D. Morse said last week that part of the 10 million dollars, recently added to federal drought relief funds by President Eisenhower will be used to pay transportation costs on hay for North Carolina farmers, but did not specify how the program will be administered. The 1953 predictions for tobacco, picked up by 13 million pounds over the Sept. 1 estimate. Most of the increase was for type 12 tobacco on the Eastern North Carolina cured belt. Total flue-cured production estimates currently stand at 806,680,000 pounds, a drop of 10 per cent from last year but about four per cent above the 1942-51 average. In the North Carolina burley belt, tobacco production prospects dropped about half a million pounds during September for an Oct. 1 forecast of 19,210,000 pounds. The peanut outlook is the worst in 20 years. Crop estimates call for only 203,500,000 pounds this year, a 35 per cent drop from the 1952 crop. The Crop Reporting Service said extremely dry weather during the maturing season lowered yield expectations sharply, although there are some 16,000 fewer acres planted this year than last also. Corn crop forecasts remain unchanged from the Sept. 1 outlook, since the crop already had matured or dried up by that time. The current forecast is for 58,380,000 bushels, an increase of 3.2 per cent over the poor 1952 crop but three million bushels under the 1952-51 average yield. Sorghum grain production seems headed for a record-breaking high this year as a result of increased acreage, although yield per acre will be lower than last year. Soybean prospects declined another 2.4 per cent from last month's estimate of 3,885,000 bushels. This year's yield will be 12 per cent below last year's yield. Sweet potato production remains unchanged from the Sept. 1 forecast. This year's expected 4,050,000 bushels averaging 90 bushels per acre compares with a total of 3,900,000 last year with an average yield of 100 bushels per acre.

Marines Get Job Of Repulsing ROK Efforts

POW Camp Gates Guarded

By JAMES MORRISSEY PANMUNJOM, Korea (UP)—American Marines manned artillery pieces and tanks near the south entrance to the war prisoners' stockade today to repulse any South Korean attempts to free 22,500 anti-Red captives. The leathernecks took up positions which, until Friday, had been occupied by tough South Korean marines, who were in a spot to lead ROK "liberators" into the troubled compounds. As the Marines began their defense of the Indian-controlled prisoner camp, the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission asked the Communists to begin their "explanations" to anti-Red prisoners Monday. An observer for the commission inspected sites for temporary use of Communist "brain-washers" and found them suitable for use until the United Nations Command completes construction of permanent structures.

A semi-official spokesman for the Reds had indicated hours earlier that the Communists might be ready Monday to start attempting to lure the reluctant prisoners back to their homelands. The leathernecks pointed the guns of two dug-in, camouflaged tanks southwards toward the camp from their positions on the south bank of the Imjin River. Another gun was in position north of the river on whose banks many battles were fought in the three-year-old Korean war. North of Freedom Gate bridge, near the spot where prisoners of both sides went home in "Operation Big Switch," the Marines stretched barbed wire on both sides of the road and constructed road blockades. The Marines' action followed warnings from the South Korean government from President Eisenhower against attempting to carry out threats to free the anti-Communist prisoners by force.

South Korean marines had been occupying the area which was taken over by the Americans. The last ROK artillery battery was turned over to the Marines early Saturday. In Washington, the U. S. State Department cautioned South Korea to use "forebearance and moderation" toward the explosive prisoner question which threatened to erupt into an armed clash between Indian and United Nations Command troops. The movement of the Marines car as the Communists indicated they would be ready Monday to begin their long-delayed attempts to lure the anti-Communist North Koreans and Chinese back to their homelands. Communist correspondent Wilfrid Burchett said that if the United Nations Command completes construction of temporary explaining sites Sunday the Reds might approve them following an afternoon inspection.

Annual Drive By Farm Bureau Is Far Behind Quota

The Pitt County Farm Bureau membership drive still lagged far behind its quota today with only 2,371 members reported compared with its voluntary quota of 4,500 members. The announcement was made by D. Marion Nobles, chairman of the membership drive this year, who also stated that Beaver Dam township is the only township so far to reach its quota. Nobles urged all township workers to "leave no stone unturned in our drive for this year's Farm Bureau membership in Pitt." He called attention to the fact that the net farm income in the country has decreased over $5 billion since 1946, and predicted that net income will continue to drop further if farm prices are not more in line with things the farmer has to buy. The chairman of the membership drive said, "Today we find the eyes of the world on agriculture—not on the food and fiber that can be produced—but on how farmers should be treated; how their economy should be adjusted; how they should conduct their business and how government should treat agriculture. There are people," he asserted, "who even doubt the need for a farm program of any kind."

Membership in the Farm Bureau is necessary for the farmers' own preservation, Nobles said. "We must have more members in the Farm Bureau. Farmers must recognize the value of organization. Now is the time to strengthen our position by renewing old memberships and inviting non-members to join in an honest effort to develop needed unity in our thinking, and make sound plans for a stronger and more prosperous agriculture in the future." "Every Pitt County farmer should be a member of the Farm Bureau, because the Farm Bureau works for every Pitt farmer," Nobles declared. A breakdown of the Pitt membership drive by townships, showing the quota and the memberships so far reported, is as follows: Ayden, quota 455, reported 239; Beaver Dam, quota 190, reported 190; Belvoir, quota 125, reported 97; Bethel, quota 420, reported 249; Carolina, quota 325, reported 299; Chatham, quota 485, reported 279; Falkland, quota 240, reported 191; Farmville, quota 555, reported 414; Fountain, quota 140, reported three; Greenville, quota 635, reported 129; Pactiville, quota 200, reported 152; Swift Creek, quota 380, reported 127; Winterville, quota 350, reported 122.

Wreck Explodes Munition Truck

OMAHA, Neb. (UP)—Army demolition crews gingerly removed live ammunition today from a half-mile area where an ammunition truck auto collision killed three women and raked the countryside with exploding shells. The owner of a nearby restaurant died of a heart attack after a shell crashed through the building. Shells exploded from the flaming wreckage near here for more than four hours after the crash late Friday night. The bodies were not recovered until early today. Deputy Robert Brisby said "They were burned to charcoal." The blast occurred when the truck, carrying about 500 rounds of 105-millimeter shells from the Nebraska Ordnance plant to Omaha, apparently crashed into the rear of the car. One of the exploding shells landed in a cottage at nearby Boys Town, famed home for underprivileged youngsters, but caused only minor damage. Another crashed through a plate glass window of the Ten-Mile-Inn, a restaurant on the hill above the highway, and emerged through a rear wall. Chet Dagerman, owner of the inn, suffered a fatal heart attack after the first blasts.

ROBBED AT PRAYER SINGAPORE (UP)—A woman visited the shrine of the virgin god, deess Wong Koo Leong to pray for prosperity. As she knelt two armed men robbed her of $35, then escaped.

Raid Three Stills In Martin County

BETHEL—Pitt and Martin County officers joined forces yesterday morning to swoop down on three illegal stills North of here in Martin County. All three of the units were 50 gallon stills, two drum type and one a copper distillery. Jim Ward this morning said that one of the stills were in operation at the time the raiding force moved in on the operators but a signal given by an automobile observer warned the operators and they left the scene. The Pitt County men joined the Martin County officers in the raid in an effort to halt the flow of the illegal spirits coming into Pitt County from Martin county stills. Officers taking part in the raid were Pitt County officers, Jim Ward, H. B. Lilley, R. W. King and Martin County officers, Wiley Craft, Joe Smith and Cecil Bullock. The raid yesterday made five stills which the Pitt County ABC force have raided since the first of the week.

Families' Pleas Flown To Tokyo

WASHINGTON (UP)—Recorded pleas from the families of 23 American Korean war prisoners who refused to come home have been flown to Tokyo for delivery to the POWs if possible. The Veterans of Foreign Wars said the recordings were carried on regular Air Force flights and handed to Wayne E. Richards, VFW commander-in-chief, who is now in Tokyo. Richards will try to get the recordings delivered to the 23 American prisoners.

U.S. Winds Up Program To Feed East Germans

BERLIN (UP)—The United States today ended its program to feed hungry East Germans — a humanitarian effort that proved to be one of the most successful moves in the cold war against Communism. Since the program began last July 27, more than 5,500,000 "Eisenhower food packages" have been distributed to nearly one-third of the Communist-ruled residents of East Germany. Distribution of the seven-pound parcels cost about $7,000,000. The flow of millions of food-seekers to West Berlin distribution centers in the face of Communist threats and terrorism was considered by Western officials to be a great defeat for Communism.

Chiang Calls For Doubled Efforts To Gain Mainland

TAIPEH, Formosa (UP)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek told soldiers and cheering countrymen today they must double their efforts to "wipe out the Communists and retake the lost mainland." Chiang addressed a mass rally on the 42nd anniversary of the founding of the Republic of China by Dr. Sun Yat-sen. About 100,000 Taipei residents lined the streets to see Chiang ride to the reviewing stand for a dress parade and show of strength. The burst of applause was so spontaneous and enthusiastic that Chiang often had to halt his caravan to wave back at the crowd. Civilians also showered their admiration on 63 anti-Communist prisoners of the United Nations who arrived Thursday morning from Pusan, Korea. Wayne Richards, commander of

Authorities Cancel Plans For Removing Confessed Kidnapers

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UP)—Federal authorities said today they will cancel unofficially that the confessed kidnapers were being spirited there under heavy secrecy. Crowds gathered at Kansas City's skyscraper jail. Then, hours later, acting Kansas City U.S. Marshal William Tatum said the pair was still in the St. Louis jail, and would remain there until at least "the middle of next week." Authorities hesitated to give a reason for the apparently sudden switch in plans. The only official explanation was that the U.S. marshal in St. Louis was busy with other affairs. Harry Richards, U.S. attorney here, explained Tatum has ordered the transfer, but the time of the move was left to the discretion of St. Louis Marshal Omar Schnatmeier. "The marshal here is choosing a convenient and proper time" for the ticklish transfer, Richards said. However, Jackson County (Kansas City) Sheriff Arvid Owsley admitted reports that feeling in Kansas City against Hall and Mrs. Heady is "vicious." Owsley said Hall will be locked into a solitary confinement cell once he arrives because "We can't put him in with the other prisoners—they've already said they would kill him if they did." Officials in St. Louis said the delay in transfer was not prompted by fear of mob violence, although crowds of more than a hundred have gathered for the past two days at the brick, six-story city jail. Acting Police Chief Capt. Leonard Murphy said "I have noticed no unfavorable public reaction in the kidnaping case." When the transfer comes, it will be under terms of a federal extortion charge filed by the U.S. district attorney in Kansas City.

Florida Sandbag Crews Alerted Following Big Tropical Deluge

MIAMI (UP)—U. S. engineers alerted sandbag crews as floods swollen by a tropical deluge spilled across 10,000 square miles of Florida croplands today and threatened to engulf canals. Forty-man teams equipped with two-way radios patrolled miles of dikes guarding south Florida truck farms from brimful drainage canals already had diked crops a $7,000,000 already had diked crops a $7,000,000 blow Friday. Army Area Engineer A. R. Broad, forewarned that "We'll have floods anywhere rains occur." Weathermen predicted more showers over widely scattered parts of the state as storm "Hazel" churned northeastward across the Atlantic, its near-hurricane force diminished to 45 to 55 miles per hour. The whirler was watched by ships and a plane from Bermuda as it raced at about 28 miles per hour toward cooler water where it is believed likely to break up into milder squalls. Throughout the state floods blocked highways, clogged septic tanks and drove residents from their homes at scattered points as far north as Daytona Beach on the upper East Coast. Acting Gov. Charley Johns late Friday alerted the National Guard for possible further evacuation duty. In Washington, Florida Sen. George Smathers asked President Eisenhower to consider possible disaster aid to the state. In Miami suburbs, where the Red Cross evacuated 14 families, moving vans sloshed through water covering streets up to hub cap level. Farmers manned pumps to clear their soggy croplands in areas around South Bay, Lake Harbor and Belle Glade. Many cattlemen were still rushing livestock to high ground to prevent further deaths from exposure.

Red Heads Don't Cry

By ROY L. FOLEY

SYNOPSIS

Phil Stanley, popular young socialite bachelor, had fallen in love with Nancy Kelly, his attorney's keen-witted, red-haired secretary. He'd taken her about, introduced her to his friends, including Linda Van Vleet, a brunette beauty who'd long ago set her cap for Phil. At home tonight, he found Nancy busily typing extra copies of an important, confidential document which will figure in a lawsuit pending against the Stanley Construction Company, owned by Phil Stanley's high and mighty kin. On checking her work next morning, Nancy finds one of the copies missing and is gravely alarmed. It could be a dangerous weapon in the opposition's hands. Sam Sykes, her brother-in-law, whom she dislikes and distrusts had been in the room with her while she worked and so had Dave Armstrong, a would-be suitor for Miss Kelly's hand. Later that week Nancy accepts Stanley's invitation to go ice-boating with him. A sudden storm wrecks their little craft, leaving them marooned together overnight in a snow-bound cottage remote from all communication. Ill with concern for the worry which Nancy knows her unexplained absence from home must cause her family, she smilingly tries to make the most of her plight. And all goes well until Phil impulsively forgetting his role of perfect host, tries some cave-man tactics on Nancy, whereupon she slaps his face. Oddy enough, Phil revels in her fiery rebellion.

CHAPTER TWELVE

LARRY walked up the stairs of the station muttering to himself. His spirits were down to zero now. "I give up. I'm going to get a job diggin' ditches, or something. A guy can work his head off and what does he get but a city editor hollering at him to 'get going, get on your run, forget it.'" Larry had never dug ditches but it was a nice, indigo remark by way of outlet. He loved being a reporter. The set of his hat, his upper left vest pocket bulging with too many thick, heavy leaded pencils, his baggy trousers, studied nonchalance and worldly expression shouted to the world that Larry reveled in his job.

Of course the worldly expression didn't fool anybody but Larry. He particularly amused Ragsdale, seasoned police reporter known everywhere as "Rags."

Rags was the despair of Larry. Rags was the very antithesis of the fictional reporter, and above all, the Hollywood type. Rags was always a sartorial treat. Rags never seemed to get excited. He could talk to a princess and a bum with the same quiet courtesy. Rags always got his story.

Rags sauntered into the press room while Larry was feeding his disappointment of having lost out in having put over what he thought was going to be something exclusive.

"Smatter, Larry?"

"Oh, nuthin'."

"Hear that the Stanley story flopped?"

"Yeah, I heard."

"Still not such a flop at that. Stanley, the millionaire playboy, snowbound in a lake lodge for two nights and days with poor but beautiful working girl. There's your chance Larry. You could be her ghost writer. The confession magazines would snap at her exclusive story. You could call it 'My Night of Horror' or 'What a Millionaire Whispered To Me at Midnight.' You know the stuff."

Rags was having a game with Larry, treating him like a cub. There was no use trying to fool Rags. Larry decided that he might as well admit that he didn't know the latest developments in the story about Phil Stanley and Nancy. He asked Rags to give him the "stuff."

It was simple. A telephone message had come through from the Waukesha county sheriff's department that Phil Stanley was alive. It was the old story of Mary Twain's famous remark about his death being greatly exaggerated. The sheriff's office had also asked the Milwaukee police to get a message to Timothy Kelly of the Cass street Kellys, to tell Mr. Kelly that his daughter Nancy had been snowbound that Mr. Stanley said she was all right.

Rags ventured a bet that the name, Nancy Kelly, couldn't be found in the city's social blue book.

"Who do you suppose the dame is?"

Larry said he didn't know. He said, in fact, that he didn't know and he didn't give a damn.

What he really meant was that his friend, Nancy Kelly, was going to get enough publicity out of the thing as it was. His city editor had said "forget it" when Larry had so eagerly phoned after meeting Lucy Wardle.

All right, he would forget it. He wanted to forget it. It would have been a grim satisfaction to get an exclusive story at the price of Nancy Kelly's death.

But some day—some day he was going to get something really exclusive. Something that would make the editor see.

"So long, Rags."

Larry Patrick started his day's routine of checking the minor offices of the municipal building. While the false alarm of Phil Stanley's drowning was cooling in had been snowbound. Miss Kelly, it stated, was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Kelly, Cass street.

Linda read the story and started pacing back and forth like a caged panther. The train of her sapphire velvet housecoat twisted and whipped across the carpet.

"That damned little redheaded nobody. Why couldn't it have been I."

She snatched at the paper again and re-read the line:

"It was thirty-six hours after they had found shelter before Mr. Stanley could get to a telephone to tell of their safety."

Linda started pacing and talking to herself again.

"Cassie McCloud, your Mr. Phil Stanley is a hot blooded, reckless and very rich young man. It's time you started getting somewhere with him. Are you going to let a shabby redheaded nobody beat you at your own game?"

Linda sat down at a Chippendale desk and pulled out a small drawer. It was bulging with papers, bills for gowns, millinery.

There was a polite notice that she must have overlooked last month's rent for the apartment. It had "please" written at the bottom.

Linda hurried the drawer across the room.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

A LOOK INTO THE FUTURE
Meet John and Mary Smith—and their child.
See the pride and hope, the faith and love that shine like soft lights from the little girl's face? See the look of the future in her eyes?
Nothing in all the world could cause that reflection of happiness and contentment but a well-behaved child. Perhaps she has just spoken a piece. Perhaps she was singing a song. Perhaps she is playing with her small brother and sister.
But whatever she is doing, you will agree it is the result of wise and loving guidance. And you can be certain there is another member of the family not shown in the picture—God, the guide and Father of all of them.
Where parents and the Church work together for God, you will find true happiness.

IMMANUEL CHURCH ANNOUNCEMENTS

We are looking forward to another great day tomorrow at the Immanuel Baptist Church. The Nursery and Beginner Departments of our Sunday School are now enjoying the use of the two new rooms built at the back of the church.

The Training Union Assembly at 6:15 will be in charge of the Junior Union, which will present "A Parade of Stewards." The unions will meet directly following this at 6:30. There will be special music by the choir at our Evening Worship at 7:30 and the pastor will speak on the subject: "He Pitched His Tent Toward Sodom." An important church conference will be held at the close of the evening worship to consider and approve the church letter to the Association.

A.A.U.W. To Meet The October meeting of the Greenville A.A.U.W. will be held Monday night at the home of Mrs. J. E. Winslow on West Fifth Street, with Mrs. Winslow and Mrs. Daniel Taylor as hostesses.

As it is a supper meeting—with each member bringing her own sandwiches—it will begin at 6 o'clock. There will be no formal program, but the two members who represented the Greenville branch at the national convention this summer in Colorado—Dr. Kathleen Stokes and Miss Torah Larsen—will report on the convention.

Little Theatre Guild will meet Monday night at 8 o'clock in the court room of the City Hall. Every person interested, whether or not he is a member of the Guild, is invited to be present.

Memorial Baptist Circles The Business Women's Circles of Memorial Baptist Church will meet Monday night at 8 o'clock. The Inabelle Coleman Circle will meet with Mrs. R. W. Tyson.

Notice All boys, ages 8, 9 and 10 who want to join a den of Cub Scouts, please bring your parents to the Immanuel Baptist Church Monday night, Oct. 12, at 8 o'clock. If you can't come, be sure to get at least one of your parents to come so they can get you started in Cubbing. We promise to have a very short meeting.

W.M.S. of Memorial Baptist Church The W.M.S. of Memorial Baptist Church will meet at the church Monday afternoon at 3:30. Mrs. R. B. Lee will preside. Mrs. N. C. Brooks will be the speaker. The Sunbeams will meet at the same hour.

W.C.S. General Meeting The General Meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church will be held Monday, 3:30 p.m., in the Fellowship Hall of the Educational Building. Mrs. J. B. Spilman will be guest speaker.

Fledged to Delta Delta Delta Miss Ruth Anna Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel R. Taylor of 618 Elm St., Greenville, was recently pledged to Delta Delta Delta at Boston University.

Mrs. Joe Tripp Entertains Club AYDEN—On Friday night at her home on East Ave., Mrs. Joe Tripp entertained her bridge club members.

At the conclusion of the game Mrs. Tucker Tripp received an apron for high, while Mrs. Iegle Stocks for runnerup was given costume jewelry. Low, a lapel flower was won by Mrs. Bonnie McCormick.

The hostess served a sweet course to the following: Mesdames Tripp, Stocks, McCormick, Larry Davis, Raymond Cox, "Mac" Edwards and Clarence Hart.

Grifton P.T.A. An interesting program has been planned for the regular P.T.A. meeting on Tuesday night, Oct. 13, at 7:30 in the community building.

"Meeting the Needs of the Child Through the School" is the year's theme and will be presented by a number of eighth grade students under the direction of Mrs. A. C. Fletcher, Mrs. Clint Jones and Mr. Adrian Brown. They will present "Health and Welfare" (of the Grifton school child).

All parents and friends are urged to attend this meeting and if not a member are asked to join. The Membership Committee, headed by Miss Hazel Patrick, assisted by Mrs. Paul Whitley, as head of the Home-room Mothers of the school, are working for 100% membership. Parents, do your best to be present at the meeting as the P.T.A. needs your support. Important announcements concerning the Halloween Carnival staged for Friday, Oct. 30, will be given.

Literature Department The Literature Department of the Woman's Club will meet Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 at the home of Mrs. J. D. Amar on Maple Street. Mrs. H. R. Phillips is assisting hostess.

Emerson Study Group The Emerson Study Group, Unitarian Fellowship, will meet Sunday evening at the homes of Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Billie, Lakeside Pines, at 7:30. The discussion will concern the definition of certain much used ethical and religious terms.

Red Predominant In Decorations For Dessert Bridge Party

GRIFTON—Mrs. John Coward entertained on Thursday night at a dessert bridge for members of her contract club and invited players for four tables.

The home for the occasion was decorated with bouquets of red roses and dahlias. As guests arrived they found their places at the card tables and a dessert with coffee was served. During the games the highest scorers were Mrs. R. S. Rogers and Mrs. J. C. Gantt. The consolation went to Mrs. Jake Worthington.

Current Writers Topic For Club Program

Mrs. Louis Gaylord was gracious hostess to the members of the Lector Book Club for their first meeting on Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 6.

The president, Mrs. Tom Wilson, welcomed the club's new member, Mrs. John Collins Jr. The roll was called and the minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. R. O. Everett. The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Hugh Winslow and additional dues collected.

There was a short business discussion and a motion was made and carried that the time for the Tuesday meetings be changed from 2 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. Howard Waldrop who gave her program on "Current Writers of North Carolina." In choosing Richard G. Waiser as her current writer of North Carolina, Mrs. Waldrop explained that she did so for two reasons: first because she had been fortunate in having Mr. Waiser as a teacher in dramatics and English for two years in Greenville High School and second because he has built himself a shining goal to tell the North Carolina Literature Story.

Mrs. Waldrop reviewed briefly Waiser's boyhood days in his home town of Lexington, N. C. His love of books, particularly books on North Carolina, was due largely to the great love his father, Zeb Waiser, had for them. He graduated from the University of North Carolina in 1929, got his Master's in 1933 and taught in several high schools as a teacher of English from 1930 until he entered the navy in 1942. A few months before entering the service his first book, a volume called "N.C. Poetry," was published.

After his discharge from the Navy in 1946 he taught three quarters at the University of North Carolina where he has been an assistant professor of English since 1946. He continued his research into North Carolina writers and edited the facsimile edition of "Blackbeard" and a volume called "North Carolina in the Short Story."

To continue a series published by the Library Extension Department of the University of North Carolina Library, he wrote a short biography of Ingrid Fletcher "Tiglis Fletcher of Bandon Plantation." His last work, titled "The Enigma of Thomas Wolfe," was published in May, 1953. This book is a symposium of critical essays on the subject.

Mrs. Waldrop reviewed briefly each of Waiser's books and something of his personal experiences while writing them. Mrs. Gaylord served a delicious dessert course with coffee. The new books were distributed and the meeting adjourned.

Miss Fullilove Is Hostess to Clio Club

Miss Agnes Fullilove delightfully entertained the members of the Clio Book Club Tuesday afternoon at her home on Ninth St.

Artistic arrangements of fall flowers were used throughout the living and dining rooms. Upon arrival, Miss Fullilove, assisted by Mrs. Dink James, served a delicious salad course with coffee.

Mrs. W. J. Stell, president, presided over the business meeting. She urged the members to visit the Art Exhibit of Children's Work of North Carolina, which is now on display at the Sheppard Memorial Library. Mrs. Clara Shackelford, chairman of the Year Book Committee, distributed attractive year books.

Mrs. W. S. Bost, chairman of the Book Committee, reported on the new books. Miss Fullilove introduced Mrs. Dallas Clark, who reviewed briefly the new books for the year. She spoke enthusiastically on the highlights of each book, creating such a keen interest in each that each member felt an avid desire to start reading.

Following Mrs. Clark's splendid talk, the meeting adjourned, to meet with Mrs. James Moyer on Oct. 20 at her home in College Court.

Mrs. W. Rasberry Wins Highest Score At Bridge Party

GRIFTON—The Thursday Bridge Club met in regular session on Thursday night with Mrs. Walter Patrick as hostess. Zinnias in bright shades made pretty decorations. Three tables were placed for the games and during the progressions Mrs. W. E. Rasberry compiled highest score among the club members.

Mrs. Roger Johnson, second high and the visitors award went to Mrs. H. C. Oglesby, other guests were Mrs. Milton Hart, Mrs. Roy Jackson, Mrs. Ed Hart, Mrs. Glendel Tucker, Mrs. Sam Nelson, Mrs. Josh Worthington, Mrs. Ben G. Tucker, Mrs. Billy Phillips and Mrs. Woodrow Smith.

At the refreshment hour Mrs. Patrick served a sandwich plate with sweets and hot tea.

Announce Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Emsley Donnell of Goldsboro announce the engagement of their daughter, Patricia Ann, to the Reverend Edward Lee Willingham, III, of Greenville, son of Mrs. Edward Lee Willingham, and the late Mr. Willingham of Augusta, Georgia. The wedding is planned for November 20th in the First Presbyterian Church of Goldsboro. Miss Donnell is a graduate of Woman's College of the University of North Carolina and is now a member of the Monroe High School faculty in Monroe, North Carolina. Mr. Willingham is a graduate of Davidson College and Columbia Theological Seminary. He is now the pastor of the Hollywood and Chicod Presbyterian Churches of Greenville.

Local Artists To Appear In Opening Of Music Club

The Greenville Music Club will open its 1953-54 season with a recital to be given Tuesday evening at the Womens Club at 8 o'clock. Mr. J. C. Clifford, president of the club will bring greetings and welcome new members into the club. Appearing in the recital will be Mrs. Paul Toll, pianist, and Mrs. Moye Dall, vocalist. Both artists are well known in the community.

Baptist Women Meet In Greenville

The Louise Hardaway and the Inabelle Coleman Circles of the Memorial Baptist Church of Greenville, N. C. were hostess to the Fall meeting of the Roanoke Association of Business Women's Circles, October 5, 1953. The banquet was held in the Training School Cafeteria with a very colorful setting for Fall, programs and menu being a map of Hawaii, since our speaker was Miss Mary Lee Ernest, Missionary to the Island.

Miss Velma Bryant, of Wilson, N. C. President of the Federation, presided and the invocation was by Miss Florence McFadden of Greenville. Mrs. Kenneth Mercer of Greenville welcomed the guests and Mrs. Annette Edwards of Tarboro, very graciously responded to this welcome.

There were two hundred members and visitors present, according to Miss Eloise Warren, Secretary. Special guests were Miss Mary Lee Ernest, who told of her work in Hawaii, Miss Ruth Provence, Executive Secretary of the Baptist State Convention, Miss Marie Epley of the State W. M. U. and Miss Jane Fullilove, who rendered special music. Miss Ernest was introduced by Miss Emily Williams of Rocky Mount.

Mrs. Clyde Baucom of Wilson and Miss Provence reported of a splendid divisional meeting they had attended. Miss Jesse Daniels and Mrs. Marjorie Turner of Rocky Mount and Miss Gladys Norris of Greenville are to serve on the nominating committee for our Spring meeting, at which time we will be the guests of the Rocky Mount First Baptist Church.

Special Community Missions work has been carried out very nicely by the Bethel Church, according to Mrs. W. E. Andrews. They have a very large supply of first aids and medicines ready to be sent to Korea. Benediction was rendered by Miss Gloria Blanton of Greenville, N. C.

Winterville P.T.A. Told of Progress Of School

The Winterville P.T.A. held its first meeting of the 1953-54 school term Tuesday night, October 5, in the elementary school auditorium. After the meeting was called to order by the president, Mr. Poe Worthington, Rev. E. G. Cole took charge of the devotional program, which consisted of a talk on "The Responsibility of Parents, the School and the Community."

Mr. Paul J. Clark, principal, pointed out the progress the school has made in the past five years. There has been an increase of approximately 125 pupils in the enrollment and the number of teachers has increased from 19 to 24. Instruction in both public school music and band has been added, and improvements have been made in the departments of agriculture, home economics and business education as well as in the field of visual education.

Mrs. A. M. Mumford, secretary, announced the chairman of the following committees: program, Mrs. George Jackson; music, Mrs. Nelson Hunsucker and Mrs. William May; publicity, Miss Mavis Brown; hospitality, Mrs. Vernon Cox; attendance, Miss Faye Gaskins; character and spiritual education, Mrs. Rommie Mallison; membership, Mrs. H. D. Weaver; campus and playground, Mr. J. H. Mobley; budget and finance, Mrs. Perry McLawhorn; Mrs. L. E. Garris and Mrs. Wayland Hinkley; and reporter, Mrs. Helen C. Collins.

After a brief business meeting and the announcement of Mrs. David Elks' grade winning the attendance award, there was group singing led by Mrs. William May. Then Mrs. Vernon Cox invited everyone to go to the luncheon to get refreshments and enjoy a social hour.

Third Street P.T.A. Plans Festival

Third Street School P.T.A. held its regular meeting in the school library Thursday, October 8, at 8 p.m., with Mrs. Arthur Andrews presiding. The meeting was opened with a prayer. Details of the district P.T.A. meeting to be held in Havelock October 28 were given.

Plans were made for the Halloween festival October 30, and a most generous response was made to requests for donations of food. A rising vote of thanks was given to Mrs. William Reading for making drapes and cushions for the office and teachers' lounge.

There were 84 members present. Mrs. Irving Robinson announced that there were 365 members of the P.T.A. Miss Norman's first grade won the attendance prize. The next meeting will be held November 13 at 3:30 p.m.

Delectable Supper Given Thursday Nite By Gracious Hostess

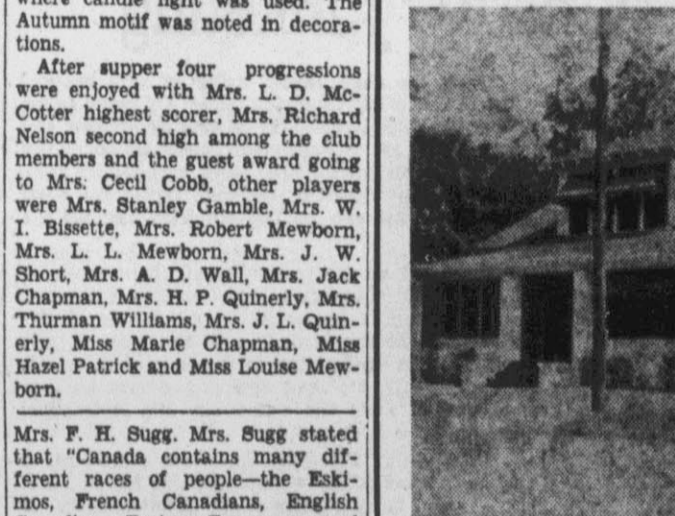

GRIFTON—On Thursday night Mrs. Alton Chapman was a gracious hostess to members of her contract club and invited players for four tables of bridge. As guests arrived at 7 o'clock they were greeted by the hostess and invited into the dining room where a delectable buffet supper was served. The table covered by a linen cloth held a bowl of fruit flanked by tall yellow candles, else where candle light was used. The Autumn motif was noted in decorations.

After supper four progressions were enjoyed with Mrs. L. D. McCotter highest scorer, Mrs. Richard Nelson second high among the club members and the guest award going to Mrs. Cecil Cobb, other players were Mrs. Stanley Gamble, Mrs. W. I. Bissette, Mrs. Robert Mewborn, Mrs. L. L. Mewborn, Mrs. J. W. Short, Mrs. A. D. Wall, Mrs. Jack Thurman, Mrs. H. P. Quinley, Mrs. Thurman Williams, Mrs. J. L. Quinley, Miss Hazel Chapman, Miss Hazel Patrick and Miss Louise Mewborn.

Mrs. F. H. Sugg, Mrs. Sugg stated that "Canada contains many different races of people—the Eskimos, French Canadians, English Canadians, Eastern Europeans, and the Dutchborders, all being different in their costumes, languages and religions, yet they are all Canadians and all sing loyally and joyfully their National Anthem."

Mrs. Mary Horton Assumes Duties As Club Hostess

Mrs. Mary Horton assumed her duties as the first resident hostess of the Woman's Club Tuesday, October 6. Before coming to Greenville Mrs. Horton was hostess and operator of the Country Club in Plymouth, where she served for several years.

Mrs. Horton will be at the club at all times to make arrangements and schedule engagements for special dinners, teas, receptions, banquets, bridge parties and coffee hours and will cater to all forms of social and civic activities.

The club offers spacious accommodations for all occasions for the benefit of the Woman's Club fund. Mrs. Horton requests that reservations be made well in advance so that the date preferred will be open. The Woman's Club is expecting a full calendar of events for the fall and winter season.

Grifton Church Host To District W.S.C.S.

GRIFTON—On Friday 128 women of the New Bern District representing Woman's Society of Christian Service in the Central Sub-District for the Methodist church met for an all day session in the Grifton Methodist Church. The meeting convened at 10 o'clock and carried out a program with the theme, "I Heard the Call, 'The Earth is the Lord's - We Are His People.'"

Mrs. Milton Hart, organist rendered appropriate music as a prelude. Mrs. Preston Pate, of Snow Hill is leader and had charge of the meeting. A welcome was extended by the local chairman, Mrs. John Oglesby, Jr., and in response Mrs. Cecil Wooten of Kingston spoke.

Introductions of guests and District's President's remarks were made by Mrs. J. B. Chase of Eureka. Mrs. Charlie Boyd of New Bern brought the Promotion Secretary notes and word from the district secretaries.

The speaker of the day, Miss Jean Cobb, of LaGrange told of her trip to Europe this summer as a member of a caravan of young people who were sent over by women's organizations of the church to meet and study the needs of people there as to church needs. Miss Cobb was introduced by the district leader, Mrs. John Work. At the intermission ladies of the Grifton Church served lunch for the guests.

As the congregation reassembled line memberships were presented, among them was one to Mrs. Sam McLawhorn, Sr. of the local society. Committee reports and Sub-District Leaders reminders were heard, presentation of the attendance unit was had, this is given each meeting to the society having the largest number of members present, and went to Tabernacle Church on the Snow Hill Charge.

Steps In The Peoples' Interest

People who owe back taxes to the city of Greenville, and those who have failed to list motor vehicles for taxes in PiPtt County are likely to find things pressing in the next several weeks.

Both the city and the county have taken action recently to bolster their tax revenue to the point they think it should be.

In the case of the city of Greenville, action was taken by the Council for the collection of back taxes owed the city, and the collection of overdue payments on paving contracts between individual property owners and the city.

In the case of the county, the program of checking to see that motor vehicles which are in the county are listed, has reached the point where subpoenas have been issued for those persons who apparently still have not listed for county tax purposes motor vehicles on which taxes should be paid.

The determined program set forth by the city to collect its back taxes and payments on paving contracts and the step undertaken this week by the county to get automobiles listed, may both seem a little hard to some citizens.

Yet, it is certainly not fair to those citizens who pay their taxes each year, and list their property accurately, that others should shirk their financial obligations to the city and county governments.

It takes money—and a considerable amount of it—to operate the government of Pitt County and the government of Greenville. The money must come from taxpayers. The share not paid by citizens who do not remit to the city and county their portion of tax money must be paid by the citizens who do list and pay their taxes.

Either that, or the government services to the citizens can not be maintained at the standard desired.

While the steps taken by the city and county are likely to draw criticism from some sources, they are steps, in our opinion, which are in the best interest of the two local governments and their citizens as a whole.

Autumn Signs Are All Around

The low-hanging smoke of early morning, the gentle nip in the air, and the changing of the winds from South to North are sure signs Fall is here.

Trees are beginning to give up a few of their leaves to autumn breezes, while the first shades of Fall's coloring appear along the wooded areas.

The man of the house turns his attention from cutting grass in the front yard to cleaning out the furnace or putting up the stove. In a week or so he will begin his annual chore of raking leaves.

Meanwhile the lady of the house, with the children already well on their way in school, puts the fishing touches on fall cleaning, and begins to consider more favorably trying on woollens and shopping for new winter clothes. Still a few weeks ahead of her lie the preparations for a Thanksgiving dinner, and the inevitable rush of Christmas shopping.

Fall is upon us for sure. The annual signs of its arrival are evident almost everywhere one looks.

Strength for the Day

By EARL L. DOUGLASS
PLUNGING AHEAD

Evil people cause a lot of trouble, but it is doubtful whether they cause as much trouble as good people misguiding in their thoughts and actions.

For instance, there is the type of good person who makes little effort to live up to his duties of citizenship and so allows evil people to get into office and to do evil things without rebuke. Then there is a type of whom we are seeing a great deal just at present time—who is always for the underdog. If a criminal is condemned and given heavy penalty, these good people rush to his defense, and, without giving his case much consideration, urge that he be paroled or pardoned. When someone in public life stands up and voices an unpleasant truth, these good people begin howling at the top of their voices about mudslinging. Human life for such people is all sweetness and light—everybody wants to do the right thing according to their book, and only evil-minded people could ever think evilly of anybody.

Communism appears to get its ruinous hold on much of our national life because many people will not be realistic. They accuse those who go after the fellow travelers of violating the civil liberties of a lot of upstanding, patriotic people. Be tolerant of everybody, they say, even criminals and traitors.

Spain's Role; Costly Junketing

By RAY TUCKER

Every Saturday this veteran Washington columnist devotes his column to answering readers' questions of general interest on national and international policies and personalities. Questions may be sent direct to Ray Tucker at 6308 Hillcrest Place, Chevy Chase, Md.

WASHINGTON—"How can we reconcile our new treaty with Dictator Franco of Spain with the Atlantic Charter and the four freedoms of ancient memory?" inquires Mrs. F. H. of Brooklyn, N. Y., and many other readers.

Answer: The agreement giving us the right to build and occupy air and naval bases in Spain is strictly a military document, not a political or diplomatic pact.

It was negotiated for reasons of survival in a battlefield test with Russia on the European continent. It represents a victory of the Pentagon national defense experts over the State Department and our associates in NATO.

Militarily, these strongholds behind the Pyrenees and at the western gateway of the Mediterranean are vital to us. With similar defenses in the narrow waters of the Baltic Sea and the Bosphorus, they may prevent Russian subs and airplane carriers from slipping out into the broad Atlantic, and disrupting our maritime lifeline to Europe.

BASE FOR COUNTERATTACK—Should the Soviet overrun France, the Low Countries and Italy, as Hitler did, Spain will furnish us and our Allies with an almost impregnable base for mobilizing a counter-attack. In World War II, we had only England and North Africa for this purpose.

As with our pact with Tito of Yugoslavia, the arrangement with Franco does not signify our approval of his totalitarian rule, or the close tieup between church and state in that country.

It does not condone his harsh attitude toward religious minorities. In a back-alley sluffest, a man—or a nation—cannot always choose his friends. Don't forget that a tyrannical monarch in Paris probably guaranteed the success of our 1776 revolution.

With the steps taken by the city and county are likely to draw criticism from some sources, they are steps, in our opinion, which are in the best interest of the two local governments and their citizens as a whole.

No Place For A Lenient Attitude

The Reflector voices its approval of the outlook of one prosecuting attorney in the Greenlease kidnapping case who has asserted prosecution of the defendants in the case should be left "in whatever jurisdiction has the strongest case."

No crimes committed in the United States in the past two decades has caused more bitterness or created more concern among the American people than the kidnapping and brutal murder of little Bobby Greenlease.

In Pitt County and in probably every other community across the nation, the sympathy of the people has gone out to the parents of the little boy who was the victim of money-mad individuals whose baseness defies words for description.

The three individuals who allegedly committed the ignoble crime against American society surely should be made to pay the maximum penalty for their brutal act. Their crime has stimulated demands across the country for stricter federal laws concerning such crimes, and the sweeping away of restrictions which now prevent federal authorities from moving into such a case in full force only after a seven day waiting period.

Whether under state or federal jurisdiction, the course of justice should be run under the jurisdiction of the governmental unit which can build the strongest case against the individuals who committed the crime. They should be given a fair and impartial trial according to the American judicial system; but the prosecution should leave no stone unturned to see that the guilty parties pay the maximum penalty for their crime.

With the Government trying to save money," writes E.H.P. of Northampton, Mass., "it seems to me that these around-the-world junkets by officials and Congressmen are unwarranted. Vice President Nixon is leaving on an international jaunt, covering the same ground recently visited by Governor Dewey and Adlai Stevenson. What can he find out that they did not learn?"

Answer: I see no reason for all these expensive and misnamed "inspection trips," as they are called. There certainly is no excuse for committees of five and seven members, usually with members of their families, to go gallivanting to the ends of the earth. As a rule, only one man does any serious work or investigation, while the others act like professional collegians at a June reunion.

NECESSARY TRAVEL—There are exceptions, of course. It is eminently worthwhile, say, for an intelligent and studious member of Appropriations or Armed Services Committees to go abroad to see how our billions in foreign and military aid are being spent. There is need for such a check to ascertain how our money is spent abroad. But there is no reason why 60 or 70 honorables should get gay with U.S. funds every summer, fall and spring.

As to Nixon's tour, it will contribute nothing new to our information on international problems. The State Department is crammed with unread files and diplomatic memos on every conceivable question that he is supposed to study. The only excuse for the V.P.'s junket is that it will advertise our concern with the peoples he visits, since he will travel as the President's personal representative.

In view of Truman's ignorance of world affairs when he took office, it may be wise to let Nixon have a first-hand look at the outside world.

To Mrs. A.E.D. of Hartsdale, N. Y.: To the best of my information, President Eisenhower is not a "lick man." He has a slight tendency to nervous indigestion, which is understandable in a man burdened as he is and has been for so many years.

It's Risky Calling "Help"— —WHEN "FIRST AID" ENTHUSIASTS ARE LOOKING FOR SOMEONE TO SAVE!

Somebody Told Me

Big Ado Came All Of A Sudden

Human nature is a funny thing. In writing a column like this you can rock along for years, write non-controversial material (some readable, some not) and create a house I created a rash of comment. But get on a controversial subject and the world falls in on you.

Obviously, I owe an apology to the profession of salesmanship. In classifying in a recent column the salesmen who call on our business house I created a rash of comment from local men in that profession.

The error I made was that I cast reflections, which I did not intend to do, on the entire profession. Since I primarily make a living selling, you can see that was not my intention.

The factors leading me to my initial column will bring to the forefront the fact that Greenville salesmen are not to be compared with those calling on our firm.

We are wholesalers, buying from about 100 different factories around the country. Very few of the men calling on us (I can think of four now) even live in the state of North Carolina.

Down South we have a more personal business relationship that in other sections of the country. Business is a dog-eat-dog affair.

A salesman in Greenville today told me that one of his customers had cut his suppliers down to five because he has learned which ones have his interests at heart, which ones will give good service. These five represent the backbone of the business, the suppliers. The ones he dropped are the ones I referred to.

As much as I regret the misrepresentation of my views, I am amazed to find out that I have men readers. In fact, many men have told me that their wives follow the column but they do not. This unfortunate series has revealed men readers, in this case all hot under the collar.

It's very difficult for a columnist to be known or win any acclaim saying nice things about people. Most who are rich and renowned have a fence around their houses 40 feet high, necessary because they have stepped on so many toes.

And I thank you.

What Other Editors Are Thinking

DR. LUXON'S PROBLEM (Greensboro Daily News)

The appointment of Dr. Norval Neil Luxon of Ohio State University as dean of the School of Journalism at the University of North Carolina marks a turning point in the development of journalistic activities at Chapel Hill.

The new dean's extensive record in the hierarchy of education, his many degrees, his writing of journalism textbooks, his wide experience in administrative duties—all these things indicate that a new element is about to be added to the environs of Bynum Hall.

Dr. Luxon, as an Ohioan entering what has been an exclusively Tar Heel bailiwick, will need intelligence, diplomacy and judgment to blend the distinctive North Carolina flavor of the journalism school as it has flourished under Skipper Coffin with what he obviously will bring—an emphasis on giving the Chapel Hill school national accrediting and big-time status. Few institutions move to the big-time without lessening their down home atmosphere.

We trust Dr. Luxon will understand this. The School of Journalism at Chapel Hill is concerned with turning out newspapermen for North Carolina. Those who teach journalism at Chapel Hill must know something about newspapers in general but they must also know a considerable lot about Tar Heel newspapers, dailies and weeklies, and the men and women who comprised the heart of them.

All the accrediting and certification in the world will not substitute for knowledge and understanding of the North Carolina scene.

With these words of advice we welcome Dr. Luxon to his new area of responsibility. The state will miss O. J. Coffin and the brand of journalism he produced at Bynum Hall. In this connection we hope Dr. Luxon will utilize Dr. Coffin's experience in areas where the Ohio doctor's must necessarily be deficient.

North Carolina journalism, like all things, must move on. But in the moving on we trust the movers will not leave behind what was good of the old.

REPRESENTATIVE — The communities which have provided special facilities for cooperation with State efforts, as recalled from off-hand memory, are Gasolonia, Asheville, Carthage, Rich Square, Charlotte, Abokise, Washington, Wendell, High Point, Winston-Salem, Raleigh, Fayetteville, Rocky Mount, Goldsboro, Durham and Wilmington.

The fact the man could recall this many towns without access to office records indicates that there are numerous others, big and little, which are doing the same thing.

FIELDS — The fields of activity for State and local agencies is necessarily different. The State is concerned in bringing industry to North Carolina, whether financed by home people or outside capital. Technically it makes little difference to the State agency whether the new business is located in Cherokee or Currituck or Alamance. The local agency is concerned with getting additional payrolls in its own community.

The C&D Department will put forth special effort to obtain a new plant for Laurinburg, for example, only after the prospect has been discovered and approached by local people or has positively indicated preference for that location. One of the best ways to insure State aid is for each community to file the department an inventory of potential sites or adaptable buildings.

Paul Kelly recalls that the promised divisions of C&D was criticized some months ago for showing partiality to a certain community. The fact is, that community has notified the State folks of a vacant building and promised co-operation. Not long after an out of state prospect showed interest in just such facilities. Result was the state and the community got the new industry in, competitive showing with several other states.

Raising Retail Costs

By ELMER ROESSNER
Retailers can do something about the rising costs of transportation, Leonard Mongeon, manager of the National Retail Dry Goods Association traffic group, told a Detroit retailers' clinic.

The rise in transportation costs since 1946 had reduced margins by 0.2 per cent in 1952 and costs have risen since then, he said. And this is what retailers can do about them:

1. Control costs. Stores big enough to have traffic managers should have their own rate and routing guides; smaller ones can obtain them from the association.
2. Campaign for the repeal of Public Law 199, which limits sizes of parcel post packages mailed from first- and second-class Post Offices, giving competitive advantages to shippers in other areas.
3. Participate in community efforts to cut costs from major markets such as forming or joining shipping associations.
4. Watch sizes of orders and insist that manufacturers make one complete shipment of orders to minimize shipping costs.

"Combining orders is not always cheaper," he noted. "Many stores are requesting manufacturers to split shipments into two or more parcels so they can be shipped by parcel post at lower cost than Railway Express."

5. Buy from sources whose shipping costs are lowest, especially in relatively low-cost bulk merchandise.

6. Give more consideration to

F.O.B. terms, getting prepaid shipments and freight allowances whenever possible.

7. Watch returns. When a retailer must pay freight both ways on an article needing repairs, it may be better to sell it "as is."

Mr. Mongeon said stores should be sure to have their ads checked by traffic departments. One New York store, he said, advertised it would send a bulky item express collect when such charges would amount to 60 to 70 per cent of the retail price.

He pointed out that the heaviest increases in transportation costs have been in smaller shipments. But large shipments also cost more.

Taking shipments from Philadelphia to Detroit as examples, he said that a 10-pound parcel post package cost 43 cents in 1946 and 87 cents today; a 20-pound freight shipment cost $1.18 then and $2.72 now, and that a 100-pound freight shipment cost $1.66 then and $3 now.

STRIKES ABROAD BOOM CARIBBEAN TRAVEL

Strikes in France earlier this year helped boom the travel business in the United States and Caribbean countries, Stewart E. Hockenbury, vice president, told a meeting of eastern managers of the American Hotels Corporation.

United States and the Caribbean countries have been enjoying the best year in travel history, he said.

Rewards For Plushy Mousetrap

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Wilbur Clark, who wears a $5,000 wrist watch, is a fine example of how a man can find the success he wants in life if he just sticks to a simple principle.

The principle Wilbur chose was the old copybook maxim that if you build a better mousetrap, even in the wilderness, the world will beat a path to your doorway.

But of course you have to interpret those old copybook rules the right way to make them work. Wilbur decided the better mousetrap was one no mouse would want to get caught in—but people with loaded pockets would fight to enter.

And has it paid off? Listen to Wilbur:

"I guess we're the biggest single operation in the state now. Our expenses alone run $15,000 a day. We netted better than a million dollars last year. We have 650 employees, 250 more people than live in my old home town."

Wilbur, a friendly, greying, 42-year-old . . . uh, well . . . industrialist, not only has a $5,000 wrist watch and runs one of the world's plushiest mousetraps. Life has given him other rewards. He is a mayor, the vice president of his local chamber of commerce, and has been named one of the nation's 10 best dressed men. He helps design his own $250 suits, won't allow a buttonhole in his lapels.

"Why punch a hole in a good piece of cloth if you don't like wearing flowers?" he asked recently, waving a hand on which a 5-karat diamond ring shone with the subdued charm of a locomotive headlight.

Clark's career follows the classic Horace Greeley pattern. "Go west, young man." He left his native Keyport, Ill., pawned his high school ring for $4 in Los Angeles, and worked as a bus boy and bell hop in San Diego before obtaining a job in a gambling establishment.

From then on his rise was more rapid. Wilbur saved his pennies, worked for a number of gambling houses about the country, bought some of his own, went broke and started over again. Wilbur, who has no taste for a pool room atmosphere, all the time was dreaming of his better mousetrap, a luxurious resort casino such as those in Europe, where a man could get a buck without getting his foot caught in a cuspidor or having to look both ways for the cops.

Today Wilbur's dream of a better mousetrap has come true—the fabulous Desert Inn at Las Vegas, which makes Monte Carlo look as modish as a 1900 suite. At Wilbur's glided $4,500,000 inn the weary, wayward traveler may rent a room for from $5 to $50 a day, play golf on a million-dollar 18-hole grass course in the desert, and for $5.50 eat a steak dinner and see a floor show that would cost him to $50 or more in New York. The same traveler can slake his thirst 24 hours a day or invest anything from a nickel to $1,000 that's the limit around the clock in the casino.

The casino has 90 slot machines, three roulette wheels, six black table games, five crap tables. Their winnings, of course, subsidize the floor shows, which feature such name stars as Betty Hutton or Herb Shriner and cost up to $35,000 a week, half the price of putting on a Broadway show.

"You can't stop people from gambling," said Wilbur, who may explain why he wisely refrained from putting locks on the casino doors. "But a guest could stay here for a week and never make a laydown, and we wouldn't know it. Whether he goes into the casino is up to him."

"I believe if you give people what they want, and most people want the best, they'll come to you. We turn away 200 people a day."

Wilbur wears no jewelry beside his $5,000 watch, his ring, and platinum cufflinks in the shape of a pair of dice studded with 20 rubies and 80 diamonds. He designed the watch himself, and has to take it off 50 times a day to show to curious guests. It is made of solid platinum with his initials in diamonds and a ruby here and there to keep the eye from going snowblind from the platinum.

"If it keeps good time," said Wilbur. When I looked at it his $5,000 watch said 11:26, and an automatically synchronized clock on the office wall said 11:26. His watch might be two minutes late. But nobody could accuse Wilbur of being behind the times.

Industrial Development Results From Joint Effort

regional discussion meetings now sponsored by the C&D department is to acquaint local people with what they can and must do in order to share in the hoped for industrial boom for the whole state.

COLORING — Every fall the admittedly ignorant ask questions and the professionally wise attempt to answer them about the why and how of color in the leaves.

The late William Jennings Bryan had a reply, if not an answer, for all those who refused to believe anything they could not understand or explain in scientific terms.

He said nobody had ever been able to discover why a black cow could eat green grass and give white milk with yellow butter in it. Yet every farm boy and girl knows it is true.

Neither, he said, had the biologists fathomed the mysterious process by which the same grass made hair on a horse's back, bristles on a hog and feathers on a goose. Again, every farmer knows that it does.

In this connection it seems appropriate to quote a couple of vagrant verses, first and last in a rather lengthy poem. The author's name is not known here, nor whether the poet was famous or relatively unknown. The body of the poem cannot be quoted from memory, but it portrays the orderly movement of suns and planets in the universe, the majesty of the ocean and the grandeur of the mountains. The first and last stanzas are:

"I've searched the heavens with a telescope.
No god therein I find."
"Twas thus the learned skeptic spoke
The scientific mind.
In the fragrant heart of a tiny flower,
Which starred the grassy sod,
Not questioning almighty power—
A little child found God.

One Local Tobacco Board Of Trade's Incorporators Of 1893 Is Still Active

History of high prices and high averages is being made on the Greenville tobacco market this year.

History was made on the Greenville Tobacco market 60 years ago also, but those who can remember September, 1893 are few and far between in Pitt County, here in the midst of the 20th century.

September 1, 1893 probably is not a date that sticks in the minds of most Pitt Countyans today, yet a few who have seen Greenville grow from a village to a small city may remember it as the day the letters of Incorporation of The Greenville Tobacco Board of Trade were issued.

It was several months ago that the original papers of incorporation of the Greenville Tobacco Board of Trade came to light once more when they were found among some old papers of one of the tobacco companies of Greenville.

The handwritten papers of incorporation, now yellow with age, and the ink on them having faded from black to a brownish gray, are still in good condition, though a little ragged at the edges.

They bear the names of many prominent Greenville citizens of by-gone days, only one of whom has survived the years to remain active in the business life of the city.

The only one of the original seven incorporators of The Greenville Tobacco Board of Trade who still lives and is active in Greenville's business life is Sam T. White, president of White's Stores.

Other incorporators of the organization were O. L. Joyner, prominent tobaccoist and civic leader of Greenville, J. S. Jenkins, father of James S. Jenkins, of Greenville; R. W. Royster, W. T. Borgden, J. W. Morgan and G. F. Evans.

While looking at the old papers of incorporation recently, White recalled he was a tobacco buyer at the time the papers were drawn 60 years ago, and lacked only a few months of reaching his 21st birthday at the time he became one of the original incorporators of the Greenville Tobacco Board of Trade.

Not Over Two Warehouses One warehouse had been operating in Greenville for a very few years before the Board of Trade was organized, but in '93, the decision to organize a Tobacco Board of Trade was made. As White recalled, there was only one warehouse in Greenville—the old Eastern Warehouse—when the original

Board of Trade was organized; but, White said, there could have been another warehouse at the time. He is sure there were no more than two warehouses on the Greenville market in 1893.

Of the original seven incorporators of the organization, several were in the tobacco warehouse business, and others were tobacco buyers.

Put Up $5 Each Each of the incorporators put up $5 to incorporate the Board of Trade in 1893, White recalled. Looking at the handwriting on the papers, he commented, "this was written either by A. L. Blow or his brother." The folder around the papers of incorporation bears the name of Jarvis and Blow, Attorneys and Counselors at Law.

The law firm was composed of A. L. Blow and the late Governor Jarvis of Greenville. The papers of incorporation were executed, signed, and stamped with the seal of Pitt County by E. A. Moye, who was then Clerk of Superior Court of the County.

Purpose of Corporation The papers of incorporation of the original Greenville Tobacco Board of Trade said in part: "The business proposed by this corporation is to encourage, promote, and regulate the sale of leaf tobacco and trade therein in the town of Greenville, so far as the same may be done under and in accordance with the laws of North Carolina."

The place where the business of this corporation is to be carried on is in the town of Greenville in the County of Pitt. The letters of incorporation specified that the length of time desired for the continuance of the corporation was 90 years. Each of the incorporators, according to the corporation papers, "subscribed the sum of five dollars to the fund of said corporation."

Papers Executed Attached to the papers of incorporation was the handwritten statement of Superior Court Clerk of the Greenville Tobacco Board of Trade, which was signed by E. A. Moye, Clerk of Superior Court of the County, and attested by J. H. Harrell, Attorney at Law, and J. H. Harrell, Attorney at Law.

Two pre-induction calls have been received by the Selective Service office here, 14 Pitt County men were inducted into the Army October 5.

These men were sworn into the service in Raleigh and sent to Fort Jackson, S. C. for basic training. The following were inducted: Joseph B. Harrington, Lewis W. Evans, Arthur Vines Jr., Jerry T. Gaylord, Donald J. Rose, Charles R. Cherry, William R. Pollard, Willis C. Moringo, Thelbert A. Cayton, Samuel H. Hux, Robert J. Nelson, Edward E. Briley, Johnnie A. Heath, and Joe M. Gardner.

Dr. Bartlett Receives Fellowship Of American College Of Surgeons

CHICAGO—Dr. Stephen R. Bartlett, Jr., member of Pitt County Memorial Hospital staff in Greenville, N.C., was among a group of surgeons to receive a fellowship in the American College of Surgeons yesterday.

The fellowship entitles the recipient to the designation, "F.A.C.S.," following his name. It is awarded to doctors who fulfill specific requirements for acceptable medical education and advanced training as a specialist in one of the branches of surgery, and who give evidence of moral character and ethical practice.

Dr. Bartlett is a native of Hingham, Massachusetts. He graduated in medicine and surgery from Duke University, Durham, N.C. in 1943. He interned at Boston City Hospital and was a surgeon in the United States Navy two and a half years. He was at McGuire Veterans' Hospital in Richmond Va., four years, and then came to Greenville. He has a general surgery practice here with offices in the medical Arts Clinic and is a member of the staff at Pitt County Memorial Hospital. He married Miss Marion Whitener of Spartanburg, S.C., in 1943. They have two sons, Stephen R. Bartlett III, and Edwin Bartlett and reside at 304 Meade street.

During National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week, which ends today, the local office of the Employment Security Commission reports that 18 handicapped persons were referred to employers with at least five receiving jobs.

W. H. Brown, Pitt County committee chairman for the NEPH week, said it was likely that others were placed but had not reported that information to the employment office.

Brown said that all plans to educate the public on the advantages of hiring the handicapped person have been carried out. These plans included speeches, posters, letters, and radio spots to try to tell the public what handicapped persons are capable of doing.

On Thursday evening Miss Edith Dunn was hostess to the Odds and Ends Bridge Club when she entertained at a dessert bridge party.

Later in the evening bridge was played at two tables with Mrs. Jack M. Collins, holder of high score, receiving a demi tasse cup and saucer, Mrs. Keith Brunson was given a box of Christmas cards for the runnerup prize, and Mrs. Helen L. Jones received a linen handkerchief for the consolation prize.

MEMO TO ADVERTISERS

In the same way that STERLING on silver signifies a standard of known value, so is the A.B.C. emblem a symbol of integrity for the circulation of newspapers and periodicals. It means that circulation so identified is measured according to the rules and standards of the AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

The A.B.C. is a cooperative and non-profit association of 3,450 publishers, advertisers and advertising agencies. Organized in 1914, these buyers and sellers of advertising brought order out of advertising chaos by setting up standards for paid circulation and establishing rules and methods for measuring, auditing and reporting circulations.

Therefore, the work of the A.B.C., of which this newspaper is proud to be a member, provides you with a direct and valuable service. You can buy advertising as you would make any other sound business investment—on the basis of well known standards, known values.

At regular intervals one of the Bureau's large staff of experienced circulation auditors makes a thorough audit of our circulation records. The results of this exacting audit show: How much circulation we have; where our circulation goes; how it was obtained; and many other FACTS that you need in order to know just what you get for your advertising dollars.

This audited information is published by the Bureau in easy-to-read A.B.C. reports which are available to our advertisers on request. Ask for a copy of our latest A.B.C. report.

MOUNT AIRY—The tough, undefeated Mount Airy Graniters punched across two first quarter touchdowns here last night and then hung on grimly to squeak past an inspired crew of Greenville Phantoms, 13-6.

The Graniters sent wing back Bill Adams across with both of their touchdowns. His first came on a 25-yard run and the second came when he was on the receiving end of an 18-yard pass play. Jack Taylor kicked the extra point after the second touchdown and then dug in with the rest of the Graniters to hold the Phantoms in check.

The defensive play of Mount Airy was effective to the point that only once were the Phantoms able to score. That was in the third quarter when All-State candidate James Speight skipped across from 23 yards out. The tally by Speight capped a 50-yard march by the Phantoms with Speight and fullback Bobby Langston doing the bulk of the ball carrying.

Actually, Mount Airy was outplayed after their two early touchdowns. They ran up most of their yardage in the two touchdowns drives, one of which sent 65 yards and the other 30.

In the first touchdown drive of the Graniters, Adams scored soon after the opening kickoff. The kick had been run out to the Mount Airy 35 and then began the process of single-wing power grinding out short gains. The second touchdown came after Mount Airy had gained possession of the ball on the Phantoms' 30.

The stout Greenville defense was led by tackle Dixie Hobgood who turned in his best performance of the season. He got some able assistance, however, from Bobby Connor, Thomas Whitaker, Billy Johnson, and Harry Northrop.

Coach Bill Kittrell of the Phantoms praised the Mount Airy team by commenting after the game, "They were the best team we've played this year and that includes the Eastern AAA Conference teams we've faced. Everybody on the squad played a great game."

Speight, not expected to play because of an injury, turned out to be the leading ground-gainer for the Phantoms. He rolled up 69 yards in nine rushes for nearly eight yards a carry.

The defeat was the fourth straight for the Phantoms who will have an open date next weekend. The next game listed on the schedule will be Oct. 23 when the high-flying New Bern Bears come to Greenville. New Bern defeated the Chowan Jayvees 19-0 last night.

Scoring summary: Greenville 0 0 6 0-6; Mount Airy 13 0 0 0-13. Greenville scoring: Speight (touchdown). Mount Airy scoring: Adams (two touchdowns) and Taylor (extra point).

Pirates Favored Tonight Against Elon Christians

BY JIMMY ELLIS
Reflector Sports Editor

The biggest "natural" game of the North State Conference season will be reeled off tonight in College Stadium before an expected capacity crowd of homecoming alumni, students and just plain fans. Kickoff time is 8 p. m.

The contest will pit the undefeated East Carolina College Pirates against wireless Elon. On paper, the Pirates are favored by as much as three touchdowns. In reality, and according to tradition, anything can happen.

The teams have met seven times since the series was inaugurated in 1946. Six games have gone to the Christians, including at least two other East Carolina Homecoming affairs. The only time the Pirates have been able to win was last year when they turned the tables to defeat Elon 25-9 in the Christian's 1952 Homecoming.

The Pirates will enter the game with both of their top half-backs either out of action completely or slowed by injuries. Right halfback Paul Gay is sidelined by a mysterious shoulder injury that refuses to respond completely to treatments.

Left halfback Ted Barnes is still on the sidelines because of a shoulder injury suffered in the Lenoir-Rhyne game two weeks ago. Sophomore Jim Stanley of Washington is slated to take Gay's place in the starting backfield and captain Jack Britt will be the stand-in for Barnes. This will be Stanley's first starting assignment in two years of college ball and Britt's first since the Pirates' opener a month ago against Wilson Teachers.

The ability of the Pirates to make halfback switches frequently has helped them save this year although they depend for the most part on the passing ability of Dick Cherry for their offensive punch. Not once this year have the Pirates gone into a game with their "first-string" halfbacks—normally Tippy Hayes and Paul Gay—in top playing shape.

The Christians have gotten most of their power this year from big John Platt, a 210-pounder from Kokomo, Indiana. Platt was out for much of the 1952 season with a shoulder injury but his recovery this year has put him near his peak shape of 1951 when he saw only non-conference action. His running has been about the only bright spot in the Elon attack this year.

He is the top right halfback on the Elon club which was coached last year by East Carolina's present line coach, Jim Mallory. Mallory is only one of the two East Carolina coaches who has a direct connection with the Christians. Head Coach Jack Boone got his collegiate football career started in the late 30's when he was a Little All-America back for the great Christian teams of those days. Mallory was head coach of the Christians from 1948 until he came to East Carolina this fall.

Present head coach of the Fighting Christians is Sid Varney, a former University of North Carolina grid great who started his college coaching at Presbyterian College. He moved to Elon when Mallory resigned.

Probable starting line-ups: Pos Elon East Carolina; LE-Bennett Hodges; LT-Smith Brown; LG-Theos Lee; C-Kopko Hollow; RG-Moss Falcloth; RT-Moss/Widdfield Holland; RB-Williams Rhodes; QB-Male Cherry; LH-Bradhan Britt; RH-Platt Stanley; FB-Marsburn King.

means little this year anyway because the schedule of inter-conference games is light. Virginia this year is playing three ACC schools, South Carolina, Duke and North Carolina.

"It is taking time for us to get our schedules together," Penney said. "By 1955 each team must play all but one member and must play that one member once every three years."

Teel went after his 30th straight game without a loss, taking on a dangerous Tulane squad. Georgia Tech squeezed past SMU, 6-4, last Saturday and the end of its long string may be in sight although the odds-makers were stringing along with it by seven points.

Up-and-coming Fordham was a six-point underdog to Syracuse. Rice was favored over Hardin-Simmons, Princeton was the pick over Rutgers and Holy Cross was the choice over Bucknell in other games involving unbeaten and untied powers.

Colorado meets Kansas Iowa opposes Kansas State in the Big Seven, North Carolina plays Wake Forest in the Atlantic Coast Conference, Yale meets Columbia in the Ivy League, Oklahoma A&M and Utah meets Utah State in the Skyline and Stanford plays Oregon State and Oregon opposes Washington State in the Pacific Coast Conference.

Friday night famed UCLA tailback Paul Cameron sparked his team to two touchdowns for a 13-0 win over Wisconsin in an inter-conference clash; while Southern Methodist defeated Missouri 20-7; Houston downed Detroit, 25-19; Miami crushed Clemson, 39-7; Iowa Teachers edged out North Dakota State, 27-21; Alabama State routed Savannah State, 74-0 and Kent State shaded Baldwin Wallace, 14-13.

Fornes, Mills Lead Chicod To Victory Over Leggett

LEGGETT—End Bobby Fornes and back J. T. Mills powered Chicod to a 32-24 victory over Leggett here yesterday. The victory was the third in five games for the Hornets.

Fornes scored twice on touchdown passes from Mills and Mills scored once on a 70-yard kickoff return. Fornes scoring passes covered 10 and 40 yards and were the first two scores registered by Chicod. Mills' long run came in the third quarter.

Billy Cooper converted four out of four extra point attempts for Chicod.

Otis Bullock scored two touchdowns for Leggett on end runs. Wadsworth accounted for another with an 80-yard punt return in the third quarter and the two got together on a 50-yard pass play in the fourth quarter for the final tally. Bullock did the tossing on the scoring pass play.

Charles McGowan and Fornes led the defensive play for Chicod with Fornes turning in his best game of the season.

Game Today Key For Deacon Squad

WAKE FOREST (UP)—The Wake Forest Demon Deacons, who arrived in the victory column with a win over tough Villanova last weekend, ranked a slight underdog today as they played host to a rebuilt University of North Carolina in the weekend's only Atlantic Coast Conference gridiron contest.

Coach George Barclay's North Carolina squad has held secret drills for the game and the new Tar Heel mentor admitted that for his squad it's the key contest of the season. Victory in today's first real test of strength, he contended, would give the team a boost in morale that could make a big difference in the schedule ahead.

But Coach Tom Rogers' Deacons got their moral boost last weekend in the 18-12 win over Villanova after a pair of early season losses and have proved potent behind quarterback Joe White. They'll be handicapped by injuries that are expected to limit dangerous Capt. Sonny George to only kicking duties and keep halfback Billy Churm on the sidelines.

Clemson Mistakes Give Miami Win

MIAMI (UP)—Miami wrote a 39 to 7 epitaph today to Clemson's mistake of trying to turn a deadlocked football game into a win.

The Hurricanes and the Tigers stalemated each other until Clemson tried to open up a scoring drive in the third period in the wind-swept Orange Bowl last night.

What 27,300 fans saw happen after that was an almost complete devastation of the Tiger squad. The Hurricanes moved in on passes, pitches and sheer freshman derring-do.

Added to Clemson's humiliation were the Tigers' own miscues, such as halfback Joe Pagliel's fourth-down run from a punt formation. He was nailed on the Clemson 13.

Miami took over and in four plays halfback Bill Smith carried across Miami's third touchdown. Then Miami won its fifth touchdown when end Tom Pepsin simply grabbed the ball from Clemson quarterback Tommy Williams' outstretched throwing arm. He sprinted to the goal line.

The Hurricane freshmen took over but they could not be stopped either. Freshman fullback Jack Lowe, made a 65-yard scoring run and freshman back Don Dorshimer ran a pitchout 13 yards with two minutes left.

Clemson got its only score midway the final period when Williams hit Dreher Gaskin with a 48-yard pass, followed by a 26-yard touchdown toss to the six-foot, four-inch end.

Miami's first score came on a 77-yard drive started by fullback Gordon Malloy with a 29-yard end run. At the Clemson 13 quarterback Don James passed to Malloy for the score.

J. B. Johnston set up the second with a 32-yard pass to end Frank McDonald, who carried it to the Clemson six. Two plays later Johnston sneaked across through the middle.

MEXICO CITY (UP)—Budge Patty of Orange, N.J., upset victor over second-seeded Gardner Mulloy, 38-year-old defending champion, meets Kurt Nielsen of Denmark today in the men's semi-finals of the 12th Pan American tennis tournament.

Patty, winding up the final set of their quarter-final match called because of darkness Thursday, nosed out Mulloy, the Los Angeles titleholder 2-6, 7-5, 6-3, 8-6. In the women's singles semi-finals, Maureen Connolly defeated

Accept Virginia As ACC Member, Complete League

CHARLOTTEVILLE Va. (UP)—The University of Virginia needed only a formal ceremony today to become a member of the Atlantic Coast Conference in time for the next basketball season.

The all-sports affiliation was assured by a decision of the Virginia Board of Visitors yesterday, too late for football this year, and will be made official at the ACC's December meeting in Greensboro, N. C.

Barren F. Black, rector of the policy controlling board, indicated Virginia might have been a full-fledged member of the ACC long ago had it not been for "some of our alumni," who "vigorously opposed" the idea.

James T. Penney, conference president from the University of South Carolina, said Virginia might be able to play basketball this winter in the conference, depending on the vote in the December meeting. He added that "no difficulties are foreseen."

"When people think of a conference they think of football," Penney said. "But we are thinking of all sports, and we are trying to build up all sports."

Penney said the ACC does not expect any differences over athletic policy with Virginia, which for 17 years has kept itself aloof and independent since withdrawing from the old Southern Conference in a policy dispute.

The ACC itself was formed by its seven present members after they had pulled out of the Southern Conference.

Both Black and Penney were silent on Virginia's reluctantly yielded desire to have its sister school, Virginia Tech and possibly the University of West Virginia admitted also. To the ACC such an alliance looked too cumbersome.

"A decision had to be made one way or the other," Black said. "You can't just let a thing like this drag on forever. Some of our alumni vigorously opposed entering the conference and there are many who were heavily in favor of it."

Black said it was "too early to tell what effect the membership will have on the university, its students or the alumni, but he said that at the board meeting "all the angles were considered."

Penney called Virginia a "natural eighth member" of the ACC because it is "in direct line with us geographically."

Although Virginia will not take part in the ACC's first-year football championship, Penney said it

Larson doing the throwing for California. The "big seven"—at least until sundown—were Michigan State, Ohio State, Maryland, Southern California, Michigan, Baylor and Duke. Michigan State, ranked second by the U.P. coaches' board, was a lopsided 21-point pick to make Texas Christian its 27th consecutive victim. TCU bowed to Arkansas last week and is not expected to be a match for State's fine ground and air attack.

Fourth-ranked Ohio State was a 16-point favorite to beat Illinois in a Big 10 test at Columbus, Ohio, while Maryland was a solid pick over Georgia at College Park, Md. Southern California was rated 13 points over Washington; Michigan was 13 over Iowa; Baylor was 13 over Arkansas and Duke was 7 over Purdue.

Duke's meeting with Purdue—which has aroused high feelings because of the ancient argument over the relative merits of southern and midwestern football—partly takes the edge off an attractive meeting of two southern powers—Mississippi State and Auburn. They meet for the lead in the Southeastern Conference with Mississippi State favored by seven points.

Ex-Army Grid Ace Signed By Giants

NEW YORK (UP)—Arnold Galiffa All-America quarterback on Army's undefeated 1949 team and a combat veteran of the Korean war, has been signed by the New York football Giants.

The Giants, who dropped their first two National Football League games this season, signed Galiffa to a one-year contract Friday in a bid to strengthen their quarterback corps.

Galiffa was discharged from the Army last Tuesday at Fort Benning, Ga. He is expected to be ready to help Charley Conerly with the quarterback and passing duties in about two weeks.

The Giants also have another quarterback, Bill MacKrides. Under NFL rules, Galiffa can practice with the club for three weeks without being counted as a member of the 33-man squad so the Giants did not yet cut anyone to make room for the former West Point star.

Galiffa, a native of Donora, Pa., the home town of baseball star Stan Musial of the Cardinals, is 26 years old. He stands 6-2 and weighs 195 pounds.

He was in combat in Korea from September of 1950 until April of 1951 as the leader of the 1st Platoon and the 3rd Division's 7th Regiment. He received a battlefield promotion to First lieutenant and was decorated with the Combat Infantry Badge.

Melita Ramirez of Mexico, 6-2, 9-11, 6-3. Later Miss Connolly of San Diego, Calif., teamed up with Julia Sampson of San Marino, Calif., in the women's doubles semi-finals. They were beaten by Shirley Fry of Akron, Ohio, and Beverly Baker Fleet of Santa Monica, Calif., 4-6, 6-1, 6-1. Miss Connolly is women's champion of the United States, England France and Australia.

Homecoming

The biggest pep rally in the memory of East Carolina College football fans started Homecoming activities last night.

The huge pep rally and bon fire was followed by a snake dance through the campus and an informal pep rally dance until 10 p. m. The dance was attended by a large crowd of fans and alumni.

Today's activities were started at 11 a. m. with a meeting of the Alumni Council in the Alumni Office at the college. James L. Whitfield, president of the Alumni Association, presided.

An Alumni Luncheon was held in the North Dining Hall and the parade started forming at 1 p. m. or, immediately after the luncheon was completed.

The complete parade route is as follows: Start at campus, West on Fifth Street to Five Points; right at Five Points and down Evans Street to Third; turn left on Third to Washington; left on Washington to Dickinson Avenue back to Five Points; from Five Points the parade will proceed to the main entrance of the college and then to Wright Circle where the parade will disperse.

Immediately following the parade, the YMCA and YWCA will entertain Alumni at a reception in the Y-hut. At 4:30, dedications ceremonies for the Victory Bell will be held with Fred I. Joseph of Greenville, president of the Veterans' Club, presiding.

Kickoff time for the football game between ECU and Elon will be at 8 p. m. in College Stadium. The Homecoming Queen will be crowned at halftime ceremonies.

Immediately following the ball game there will be a dance in honor of the Queen and her court in the Wright Building.

City Manager Speaks At Meeting Of Kiwanis

By CHESTER WALSH

At the Kiwanis Club's weekly supper meeting last night, Greenville City Manager James S. Hughes spoke on "Employment of the Physically Handicapped."

He said there has been a tremendous increase in the number of physically handicapped persons in the United States, and suggested that businessmen take more interest in employing them.

"In the Korean War a quarter of a million of our men were fully or partly disabled and handicapped in earning a living," he said. "About the same number of men and women in civilian life are being added annually to the lists of physically handicapped. The speaker said the North Carolina Employment Service and the State Vocational Rehabilitation Division are doing some good work along this line and many handicapped persons have been placed in good jobs. J.C. Clifford, Jr., presented the speaker.

President Leo W. Jenkins announced that the Kiwanis Club had donated $110 for the purchase of two uniforms for members of the Greenville High School band.

Past Lieut. Gov. Ed E. Rawl introduced into membership Dr. Russell W. Peterson, member of the DuPont staff.

Judge Dink James and Dr. H. Glenn Haney had birthdays and donated 10 cents for each year of their age.

Dr. Stephen R. Bartlett, Jr., won the attendance prize. The Kiwanians congratulated the surgeon on his election as a fellow in the American College of Surgeons at Chicago last night.

The Kiwanis Club pledged full support to J. Franklin Steinbeck, chairman of the Community Chest Campaign for 1953.

President Jenkins announced that ground breaking exercises for the Kiwanis building at Boy Scout Camp Charles, near Wilson, will be held next Thursday, October 15, at 4 p.m. John Barnhill and Don H. Conley will represent the Greenville club. This club donated $800 to the project. Other Kiwanis clubs in this division made contributions. After the exercises the Greenville representatives will be guests at the Wilson Kiwanis Club's meeting at the Rainbow restaurant.

George Perry announced a variety musical show to be held at the college Little Theater Thursday night, October 15, at 8 o'clock.

Ed Rawl announced that the State College freshman football team will play the East Carolina Freshman at the college stadium next Thursday night, October 15, at 8 o'clock.

Chairman John A. Collins announced that the annual Kiwanis "Ladies' Night" banquet will be held at West Greenville School Friday night, October 15, at 7 o'clock. The meeting will start promptly at 7 o'clock. Edmund Harding of Washington, nationally known humorist, will be the speaker. President Jenkins will preside.

Guests of the club last night were R.L. Smith, and W.W. Howell and his son, Jerry Howell.

The Greenville club is sending two delegates to the Carolinas Kiwanis District convention to be held in Columbia, South Carolina, Sunday, October 11. They are John Barnhill and Ed Tyler. The convention will be in session through noon Tuesday.

Meter Violation Check-Up Shows Some Reduction

Greenville's parking meters showed up in a little better light yesterday during a third survey made by the Reflector news staff.

Yesterday, the number of meters found with time on them outnumbered those in violation.

This included some 200 meters checked, of which 128 were found to have time on them while 81 were in violation.

Evans Street yesterday was more than 90 percent "in the white" as far as parking time remaining on the meters was concerned.

Though the records at the local Police Department show a marked increase in the number of both merchant tickets and regular parking tickets issued since the beginning of the surveys, yesterday's check revealed only a few merchant tickets and one regular parking ticket, that being for parking in a loading zone.

Yesterday the Police Department issued according to their records 101 merchant tickets and six regular parking tickets. Thus far this week the local department reported that it had issued 452 merchant parking tickets and 40 regular tickets.

Chief Gibbs this morning said that the officers working the meters have been instructed that on their first round checking the meters, they are to place a nickel in the meters under the merchant parking plan and if on checking the second time, the meter is still in violation, a parking ticket is to be issued.

Official Visitor

C. Wallace Jackson, Grand High Priest of the Chapter of North Carolina, will make his official visit to Greenville Chapter No. 50 Royal Arch Masons on Monday, at their regular meeting to be held at the Masonic Temple at 7:00 p.m.

There will also be present for this meeting the Grand Master of the Grand Council of North Carolina, Thomas G. State, of Fayetteville, N. C., and Dr. Charles P. Eldridge, of Raleigh, N. C., Grand Commander of the Grand Commandery of North Carolina, along with John H. Parker, of New Bern, N. C., Grand Secretary-Recorder of the York Rite Masonic Bodies.

A supper will be served by the Order of the Eastern Star in the dining room of the Masonic Temple at 7:00 p. m., and plans are being made for a large attendance for this meeting. Several guests have been invited to attend this supper at which time Grand High Priest Jackson will deliver a message on York Rite Masonry, following the supper and social meeting in the dining hall, the members of the chapter will meet in the lodge room for their regular monthly meeting, and all members of the chapter are asked and urged to be present for this meeting.

Greenville State C.W.B.C. President Has Busy Schedule

Mrs. Dorothy Copeland, credit manager of the Copeland Motor Company, and State President of the North Carolina Association of Credit Women's Breakfast Clubs; Mrs. Frances Cassick, Sinclair Refining Company, and in-coming President of the Greenville CWBC; Mrs. Cora Fowell, executive secretary of the Greenville Merchants' Association; and Mrs. Jean Clark, White Chevrolet Company, Inc., attended the Installation Banquet of the Raleigh Credit Women's Breakfast Club on Wednesday evening, October 7.

The banquet was held in the private dining room of the S & W Cafeteria, with Club President Mrs. Adele Stage, Sir Walter Chevrolet Company, presiding. The State President, Mrs. Copeland, was speaker of the evening, bringing a message from the State and International concerning the progress of five new clubs in the making, and the year's program of extension work, that is, the formation of new clubs and the increasing and strengthening of membership. Mrs. Copeland's main topic was "Living Our Creed" which she brought out in a forceful and interesting manner, and which was enthusiastically received. Exceptional musical entertainment was provided during the dinner hour, and the new officers were installed by Mrs. Mary Etta Johnson, Dixie Council President of eight Southern states. Mrs. Johnson, of Winston-Salem, used the impressive candlelight ceremony in installing the officers and presented the new president, Mrs. Leona Stephenson, who, after accepting her official duties, pinned the beautiful Past President's Pin on the retiring President, Mrs. Adele Stage.

Mrs. Copeland, Greenville CWBC first president, and the president of the N. C. State Association, reports a very full schedule for the months of September and October as follows: Morrow Mountain State Park Get-Together on September 12-13; meeting and address to the Thomasville Club September 14; luncheon at 12:30 with the Salisbury Club President and five members; guest of honor at the lovely home of Dixie Council President Mrs. Mary Etta Johnson of Winston-Salem, the evening of the 14th; breakfast meeting September 15 with the Winston-Salem CWBC at their Installation of Officers; luncheon engagement with Mrs. Lena Curran, Kannapolis Club President, at 12:30 on September 15, visit with Mrs. Della Curran, Concord CWBC President the same afternoon, and guests with Mrs. Cora Fowell of Greenville at the Hospitality Reception at the Hotel Charlotte on Tuesday evening, September 15, which preceded the Southern Consumer Credit Clinic September 16. Mrs. Copeland and Mrs. Powell were guests of the Charlotte Credit Women's Breakfast Club at a special breakfast on the morning of September 16 at 7:30 p.m.

On September 29, at the Thomasville CWBC Bosses' Night and Installation Banquet, Mrs. Copeland made the address of the evening and also installed the new officers. Mrs. Copeland, Mrs. Frances Cassick and Mrs. Leona Stephenson were guests of the Fuquay-Varina CWBC on October 4, at an Installation Tea, with Mrs. Copeland installing the new officers.

October engagements of Mrs. Copeland include: Double installation of the Concord and Kannapolis clubs on October 12; Asheville installation on October 13; Burlington installation on October 14; Durham installation on October 18; Greenville on October 22, and Lumberton on October 29.

Jaeger Lee Mills, Negro, non-support, six months on the roads, sentence suspended on payment of $25 for support of his children before he is released. The court order also provides that Mills is to pay $20 a week for support of his family starting October 17, 1953. Judge Whedbee said this case is retained for further order.

Jesse Stancl paid $15 for being drunk.

Chest Campaign Kick-Off Oct. 13

Greenville's annual Community Chest campaign gets underway Tuesday morning following a kick-off breakfast for solicitors at 7:45 at the Olde Towne Inn.

Special gift solicitors for the drive for funds today received reminders of the breakfast, and Campaign Chairman Frank Steinbeck urged solicitors to be present at the early morning meeting.

Steinbeck pointed out again that the goal of Greenville's Community Chest fund drive this year is $15,000, and he expressed the hope that the money could be raised in one brief drive.

In addition to the special gifts campaign, committee chairmen have been appointed to handle the drive for funds in the residential

Milk Producers Hold Meeting In Health Offices

Milk producers for Carolina Dairies held a meeting at the County Health Department office in the Tucker Building Thursday night, according to Willie Pate, Pitt County Chief Sanitarian.

John Gemmill, field engineer of the Portland Cement Association, talked to the group of 22 milk producers on quality cement—its preparation plus when and where to use it. Gremmill also showed a movie on quality cement.

Pitt County Farm Agent Sam Winchester, John Moss and Pate, sanitarians of the Pitt County Health Department, attended the meeting also.

Carolina dairies provided refreshments.

Local Churches Plan Delegates

A number of Baptist Churches of Pitt County will be represented next week at the forty-sixth annual session of the Roanoke Baptist Association to be held at the First Baptist Church of Wilson October 13, and the First Baptist Church of Weldon on October 14.

Delegates from the individual churches to the Association meeting are requested to bring their lunches, and the host churches will furnish drinks to go with the lunches.

The Tuesday morning session in Wilson will be highlighted by a discussion of the North Carolina Baptist hospital, and the annual sermon "Perpetuating Pentecost" which will be delivered this year by the Rev. W.E. Cholerton. Business matters of the Association will be taken up at both the morning and afternoon sessions Tuesday.

On Wednesday in Weldon, discussion will center around teaching and training in the churches, Christian education, and action on committee reports and miscellaneous business matters.

A digest of individual church letters to the Association will be a part of the Wednesday afternoon session, as will elections of officers, committee reports, a discussion of the North Carolina Baptist home, and other matters of business.
