Resolutions of Respect

On behalf of the Pitt County Memorial Hospital the staff members deeply regret the passing of one of their members, Dr. James A. Battie. Dr. Battie died while attending a medical meeting June 11, 1953. For more than 40 years he practiced his profession in Greenville, N. C. He was not only a good doctor willing at all times to serve humanity, but was also a good citizen. He was held in high esteem by everyone who knew him. His service to his community will be greatly missed. We have lost a valuable man.

Whereas this committee resolves that a copy of this resolution be kept with its permanent records, a copy be mailed to Dr. Battie's family and be published in the papers. Resolution Committee

Music Club Plans For District Meeting

The Greenville Music Club held the first meeting of the year at the Woman's Club Building on Tuesday evening, October 13, with approximately 50 in attendance. John Clifford, president, conducted a business session at which many items of interest were discussed. Among other things plans were made for the district meeting to which the Greenville Music Club will be host on Saturday, Oct. 31. Mrs. Charles White, membership chairman, introduced new members and the guests of the evening.

Following the business Mrs. Kenneth Cuthbert, program chairman, outlined the program for the year. She then presented Mrs. Moye Dail, soprano, and Mrs. Paul Toll, pianist, who gave a most delightful program, varying from the music of Schubert and Schumann of the romantic period through compositions of Debussy and the still more modern works of Medtner and Poulenc.

White Shrine Holds Regular Meeting

The Greenville White Shrine held a regular meeting Wednesday night with Mrs. Kelly Rowe, Worthy High Priestess, presiding.

Allegiance was pledged to the American flag and a ritualistic opening was held.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Byrum and George Staples were elected to receive the Degrees of the Order. This ceremonial will be held Wednesday night, November 11. The Shrine voted to have an active part in entertaining the Ladies of the Nobles of St. Anne Temple if they hold the Master ceremonial in this city. A motion was made and carried that the Order of the Eastern Star be invited to be co-hostess to do this entertaining.

Mrs. Elba Rowe, W.H.P., honored the Past Worthy High Priestess and Past Watchman of Shepherds. They were presented to the East and a lovely poem was read and each one was presented a miniature gavel.

Sojourner Jesse W. Brown gave a most interesting talk on the Lord's Supper. He presented each member with a picture of the Lord's Supper and he named them as they sat at the table.

At the close of the meeting everyone was invited to the dining room for refreshments.

Tomorrow's Gardens

In great grandmother's day spring bulbs perhaps meant daffodils single and double and snowdrops, just a brief season of beauty long wished for but too quickly gone. How surprised grandmother and her friends would be if they could see the long weeks of blooms we may enjoy and the infinite range of colors, size and forms available in new varieties of daffodils and jonquils.

The older flowers will always be our favorites. They are our tried and trusted friends and we look for them each spring to tell us that all's well with our world. But when we divide them, sharing with beginning gardeners and making room for some new beauties we have all the security of the old with the fun and excitement of the new.

Beginning in January with paper white narcissus and continuing with the little old fashioned jonquil often called buttercup we may have flowers every week until late April when the heavily fragrant Poeticus winds up the procession.

Some of the newer varieties but not so new as to be prohibitive in price are Fortune, Insurpassable and Golden Harvest large flowers on long stems, Beersheba and Mrs. Krelage large creamy white flowers with long trumpets and Thalia a dainty beauty with a cluster of three of four perfect but small flowers. Pink daffodils, more apricot than pink have deeper color when grown in the shade and add distinction to flower arrangements. The big clusters of small single or double flowers make Laurens Koster, Cheerfulness and Helios wonderful for the garden or for cutting.

These are just a few of the many many varieties available. Add to them hyacinths, Dutch iris for blue, yellow and white, scillas (for blue, pink or white borders) snowdrops, Star of Bethlehem and the gorgeous array of tulips and we could easily spend all our time and all our money on bulbs alone.

Bulbs are a good investment in every way. The pleasure they give is immeasurable; they thrive with little care and increase in quantity each year. But they need some attention; if neglected too long they become crowded and stop blooming; they will grow without fertilizer but do better with it; they must keep their leaves until the tops turn yellow.

This unsightly foliage is their chief drawback and gardeners have tried in many ways to off-set the difficulty. If Wordsworth's "host of golden daffodils" is planted on a hill side or a drift of them naturalized under trees we must accept long grass in those areas and for a time it will look unkempt but the beauty of the planting is worth it.

When we plant bulbs in beds or borders we can sow seeds of nemophila annual phlox or annual baby's breath to form a ground cover which will conceal the yellowing foliage. Foliage of iris and day lilies and of many perennials serves the same purpose.

Two of the nicest plantings we saw last year featured clumps of large daffodils interspersed in borders of evergreen shrubs and one in which Dutch iris, white daffodils and snow drops were planted between and in front of azaleas. The yellow bulb foliage presented no problem as it was scarcely seen.

Even the small edging plants—pansies and forget me nots do their part in "covering up" as the narrow foliage of the small bulbs also used as edging is easily concealed.

It takes some planning and as usual with amateur gardeners a bit of trial and error. But we learn by our mistakes.

Many bulbs are already in the ground but a few suggestions may still be useful. Plant them deep enough so about three inches of soil is over the top of the bulb, less for the small ones. Never let fertilizer touch the bulbs and never use stable fertilizer under them. In our light soil almost any fertilizer used as a top dressing works down very quickly and is safe to use. Apply it in the winter or very early spring.

Perhaps it is hard now to visualize your garden as it will be next spring but that is the secret of gardening. When leaves are ready to fall and chrysanthemums in bloom we plant our spring gardens. Next April while we are admiring our lovely daffodils we'll be dividing our chrysanthemums plants and so it goes.

Methodist Students At ECC To Entertain Visitors On Weekend

Iwo Jima Hero Fighting Now To Save Himself

CHICAGO (UP)—Ira Hayes, one of the six Marines who raised the stars and stripes on Iwo Jima's Mt. Suribachi eight years ago, was in a sanitarium today fighting to free himself of the liquor that sent him to skid row and jail.

Hayes, a 30-year-old full-blooded American Indian, shuffled into the Chicago house of corrections yesterday, sentenced to work off a disorderly conduct fine of $25 at the rate of $2 a day.

He was dressed in blue jeans and a soiled shirt. His shoes were gone—someone had stolen them on the North Clark Street skid row section. Police said they had picked up the World War II hero "sick and drunk."

Then the Chicago Sun-Times paid Hayes' fine and sent him to the sanitarium. It asked for contributions to pay for his rehabilitation.

Whatever happens to Hayes, he will probably be remembered by generations of Americans as a part of the stirring photograph of the Mt. Suribachi flag raising.

Hayes is one of the most prominent figures in the photograph. He stands at the edge of the cluster of Marines, his hands upraised as he lets go of the rising flag staff.

Hayes had earned his place on the top of Suribachi. For four days he and the other Marines had battled to get to the top of the vaguely defined mountain.

When the war ended he went home to his Pima Indian parents in Arizona. Last May he came to Chicago, hoping to learn to become a tool grinder.

Several hundred Indians gave him a hero's welcome when he arrived. But the Indian veteran soon found the big town was a strange, confusing place where temptation, in the form of hard liquor, was always close at hand.

He got a factory job. When night came he was often lonely and would wander into taverns. Patrons who found out who he was were always glad to buy him drinks.

In a little while he quit his job. "Many days I was unable to show up for work," he explained. "The factory would take me back, but I was ashamed of myself."

His next job was on a railroad gang on Chicago's outskirts. He thought it was good for him because it kept him out of the city and its bars.

But last Wednesday night was payday. Hayes came to town with a friend and had some drinks. He fell in with some strangers and had some more. He was wandering the streets when police picked him up yesterday.

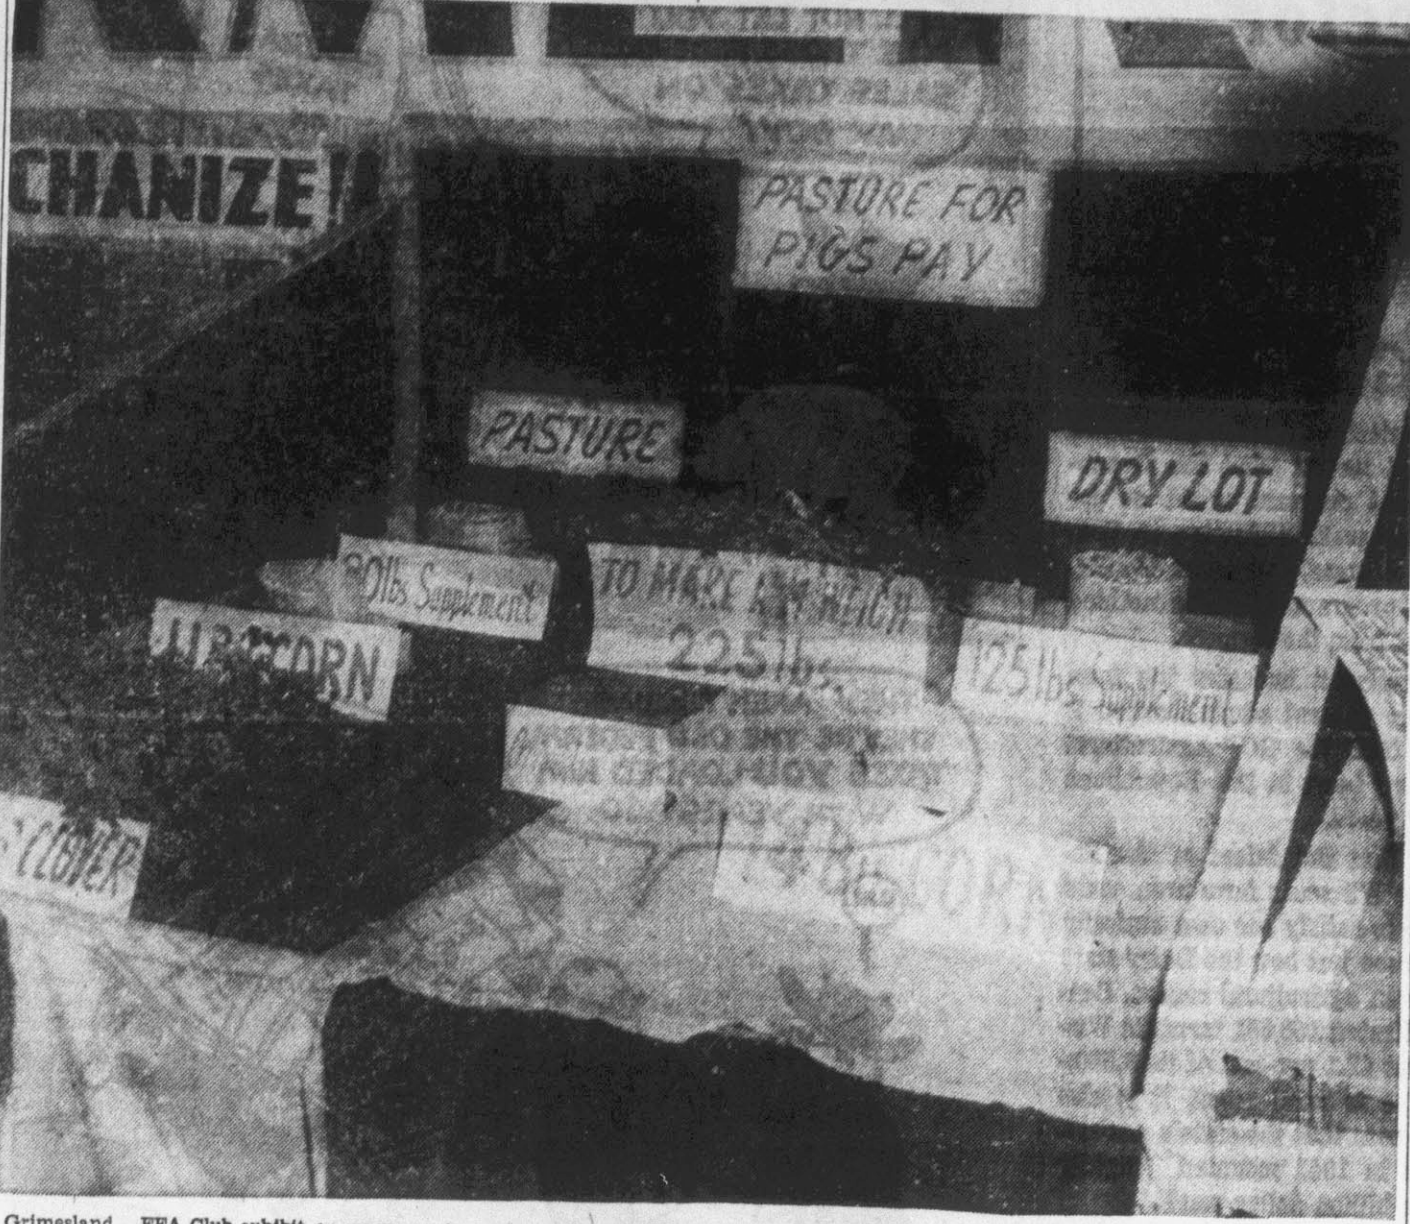

Hayes had a chance for a new start today. He was reported to be fighting hard for it.

Arab-Asian Demand Is Expected To Be Beaten

By BRUCE W. MUNN
United Press Staff Correspondent
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP)—The United Nations main Political Committee was expected to vote down today an Arab-Asian demand for immediate action in France's dispute with Morocco.

The 60-nation committee was expected to adopt instead a milder proposal of Latin-American origin.

The resolution sponsored by the 15-nation Afro-Asian bloc calls for immediate lifting of martial law in Morocco, the establishment of "democratic institutions," the holding of free elections and the setting of a five-year deadline for Moroccan independence.

However, Bolivia was expected to present a resolution that would strike out the operative parts of the Afro-Asian measure, retaining as its only major section an observation that last year's assembly recommendation in the French-Moroccan dispute had not been implemented.

Last year's measure simply called upon France and Morocco to conduct negotiations in a constructive manner and to take steps to ensure the realization of Moroccan independence and sovereignty.

The theme of U.N. debates, long heavily underscored by Korean and Far Eastern problems had been transposed to the trouble spots of the Mediterranean, with the question of Trieste sharing attention with the Moroccan issue.

At Thursday's meeting of the Security Council, Russia's Andrei V. Vishinsky charged that the announced intention of the United States and Britain to give Zone A of Trieste to Italy was a violation of the Italian peace treaty and a feature designed simply to attain Rome's ratification of the European Defense Community plans.

But U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. stole the Russian's punch by charging that the Kremlin had raised the issue of Trieste in the Security Council only to stir up "as much trouble as possible."

The 11-nation council then adjourned its Trieste debate until next Tuesday afternoon.

Criminal Court Term Adjourned Here Thursday

Judge Henry A. Grady adjourned the second week of October's term of Pitt Superior Court, criminal court calendar, yesterday at 4 p. m.

Melvin Ormand was found not guilty of aiding and abetting to driving under the influence.

The prayer for judgment was continued until the January, 1954, term for Edgar Reedy Brigman, who was charged with driving drunk, upon the condition that he pay a fine of $100 and costs plus surrender his driver's license.

Daniel Lee Hopkins was found not guilty of speeding.

A mistrial was ordered in the case against Brimes Bryan Worthington, who was charged with driving drunk.

Roosevelt Langley was found not guilty of non-support.

L. D. Rogers, found guilty of speeding, prayer for judgement continued, provided the defendant pay by October 16 a fine of $100 and surrender his driver's license.

The scifa and capias was ordered stricken from the record in the case against Frank S. Reid, who was charged with driving drunk. He had been called and failed to appear earlier in this term, but had moved to another county. The case will be tried at a later date.

William Dixon plead guilty of careless and reckless driving. He was fined $50 and costs.

The case against William Tucker was not pressed.

This concluded yesterday's cases and the October term of criminal court.

Pitt County Fair Exhibitors Begin To Receive Their Premium Checks

By ALVIN TAYLOR
Reflector Staff Writer

Clubs, school organizations, and a large number of Pitt County individuals began receiving checks that represented their share of the more than $3500 in premiums being given away to exhibitors at the Pitt County Agricultural Fair this week.

In the vocational educational exhibits Grimesland took first prize, Ayden second prize, Stokes-Factorias third prize, and Bethel fourth prize. Others entered in this category were Chicod, Grifton, Winterville, and Farmville each of which will receive a cash award.

Among the Home Economic displays at the Fair Ayden-Chicod took first prize, Grimesland second prize, Farmville-Bethel third prize, Belvoir-Winterville did not receive a ribbon but will receive a cash award.

In the 4-H club exhibits Grimesland took first prize, Chicod second, Pitt County Council third, and Belvoir, fourth.

The money is being awarded for educational exhibits, projects, farm produce displays and livestock exhibits now being shown by individuals and organizations at the Fair.

Individual exhibits entered at the Fair this year were classified by departments. These were: Department "A"—Senior Field Crops; "B"—Senior Horticulture exhibits; "C"—Eggs; "D"—Crafts, "E"—Poultry; "F"—Livestock; "G"—Educational exhibits; "H"—Clothing (Open to girls, ages 10-18); "I"—Pantry department (Open to girls, ages 10-18); "J"—Clothing (Open to Adults); "K"—Needlework; "L"—Homecooked products; "M"—Pantry department (Open to adults); "N"—Floral department.

Individuals who received first, second or third prizes for their exhibits and the departments in which their exhibits were entered included:

Farmers' Handwriting On GOP Wall

The defeat of a Republican Congressman in a special Wisconsin congressional election has pointed up the supposition that farmers have not taken a liking to the agricultural program offered by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson.

While the election of the first Democratic congressman in the history of Wisconsin's ninth district is not likely to put Benson in boiling oil, it certainly places him in hot water.

Community Chest Needs Aid Of Community

Many people in Greenville during the past few days have dug into their pockets and bank accounts to contribute to the local Community Chest fund campaign.

But the end is not yet in sight. A considerable amount of money must yet be contributed by local citizens if the Community Chest is to reach its goal of $15,000 for this year's annual drive.

Unless the goal is reached, tentative budgets set for the nine community service agencies represented in the Chest will have to curtail the activities planned for the coming year. In the interest of building a better community the individual agencies can ill afford to cut their proposed budgets.

The people of Greenville receive benefits of Community Chest agencies all during the year. The agencies call on the people of the community once each year through the Community Chest for financial support in order that the work may be continued.

The Reflector urges the citizens of the community who have not yet given to the Community Chest campaign to give generously to the support of the local Red Feather organization.

WHEN WE REALLY USE OUR RELIGION

"And Jesus said unto them, I beheld Satan as lightning fall from heaven."

These were the words with which Jesus quietly appraised the work of His disciples when they returned from their first preaching and missionary endeavor. They must have gone out with many grave doubts. They were given assurance that they would meet opposition. But as they fulfilled the commission that had been given them, they found their highest expectations fulfilled. Their preaching was well received. There was moral enthusiasm aroused wherever they went. Best of all, there were many miracles, precisely as their Master had prophesied. When they returned and told Him what had happened, His comment was, "I beheld Satan as lightning fall from heaven."

Christ had sent but a few men to try His religion, and they found that it worked. What Christ was really saying was that the coming Kingdom was now assured. When a few people who really believed in Him had faith enough to go forth and actually try to get something accomplished in His name, He knew with a deep certainty that a great movement had been started, which would spread over the face of the earth. They had tried their religion. They had put it to the test.

And now the doom of sin was sealed. Satan was fallen as lightning from Heaven.

Courts And Politics Separate

By ARTHUR V. BURROWS

Ray Tucker is on vacation, during which guest columns are being contributed by prominent newspaper editors. Today's column is by Arthur V. Burrows, Editor of THE ST. JOSEPH, MO., NEWS-PRESS AND GAZETTE.

The selection by President Eisenhower of Governor Earl Warren of California to be Chief Justice of the United States draws the attention of the nation to our Federal Judiciary. Nowhere in the world today or at any time in the history of the world has there been a judicial system comparable to the United States Federal Judiciary. St. Joseph, Missouri, has given a man to this highly respected institution, the Hon. Richard M. Duncan, former Congressman from North Missouri. He is held in esteem by men of all political shades of belief and by all men learned in jurisprudence. He is a fair example of what we have in the Federal Judiciary.

NONPARTISAN JUDICIARY—Thanks to an alert press and a militant drive by progressive lawyers aided by the Missouri League of Women Voters and Parent-Teacher units, Missouri today has a nonpartisan judiciary. This judiciary is the envy of bar associations of states from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast.

The plan is simply this: Judges of the Missouri Supreme Court and of the St. Louis, Kansas City and Springfield appellate courts and the circuit courts of St. Louis and Kansas City are named by the Governor on nomination of nonpartisan, nonsalaried commissions. These commissions are composed of both lawyers and laymen. Less populated judicial circuits may embrace the plan if they wish.

A judge is appointed by the Governor from a list of three candidates, nominated by the appropriate nonpartisan commission for the particular office to be filled.

After a brief trial period of at least 12 months, the judge must be voted on by the people of Missouri—supreme judges by all the voters, appellate judges by the areas covered by the three appellate courts, and for St. Louis and Kansas City circuit judges by the voters of those respective areas.

There is this important factor: No opponent can run against the incumbent. The judge runs against his record only. Thus no longer do we make judges or candidates for judges enter political primaries

The special election in Wisconsin came as the first real test of what the Republican agricultural program would do for GOP candidates seeking election to Congress from farm areas. It showed the Republican farm program has done nothing to gain support from the farmers.

On the contrary, it indicates the farm program of the present administration is driving away from the GOP agricultural areas that have been in the Republican fold for many years.

It could be that the defeat of the Republican in the Wisconsin farm area could be a fluke; so to satisfy our own curiosity we checked to see just how the Dairy state stacked up as an agricultural region. Census figures indicated 168,561 farms in Wisconsin, and that 42.1 per cent of its 3,500,000 people live in rural areas. It is also interesting to note that the state's agricultural income in 1951 mounted slightly above the one billion dollar mark.

In a situation like that the farm vote is bound to play an appreciable role in any congressional election.

The GOP defeat in Wisconsin will have its repercussions in the Republican farm program in Washington, and likewise throughout the nation. Even though one isolated congressional election does not set a definite trend, it should be sufficient in this case to convince administration leaders the present farm program is not to the liking of the farm people.

The farmers' stake in the national economy must be protected, and it must be done with a positive program. So far the present Republican administration has done little to indicate to agricultural regions it is building a positive farm program. And as indicated in Wisconsin, the farmers are putting their own handwriting on the Republican political wall.

Need For Closer Guarding Of Military Secrets

Recent announcements concerning secrets of the Army Signal Corps secret papers finding their way into Soviet Germany emphasizes again the need for greater surveillance of American military secrets.

The investigation of the matter now in progress should bring to light a number of answers to the mystery of the missing secrets. It should also point up weak spots in the military security system which may be plugged as a result of the missing papers.

This nation has little to gain by spending billions on research and development of important military and other equipment only to allow them to be stolen by the enemy. Each American secret which falls into communist hands is one more step for the Kremlin in its effort to enslave the world.

(which in Missouri are warm and sometimes vicious). No longer do they run as political aspirants in general elections.

The incumbent judge, named by the Governor originally from this nonpartisan nomination, ignores the primary but there is a special November ballot as follows:

Shall Judge _____ of the _____ Court be retained in office? Yes— No—
The sole question is whether the judge has a good or bad record.

FENDERGAST'S POLITICAL POWER—The history of our adoption of this nonpartisan judiciary is interesting. In the 1930s the late T. J. Fendergast controlled politics in Missouri. Very few could be elected Governor, United States senator, supreme judge and in many instances Congressman without old Tom's endorsement.

In 1938 a man named James Douglas sought re-election to the court. He had previously been named to fill a vacancy. He had been antagonistic to Boss Fendergast. Tom put up his own candidate. Thanks to a strong, defiant and rigidly honest Governor, the Hon. Lloyd C. Stark, Douglas' campaign manager, Douglas won. That fight stirred the people of Missouri mightily.

Lawyers cited the fact that in 1937 the House of Delegates of the American Bar Association had approved a nonpartisan judicial plan, designed to take the judges out of politics and keep them out. That plan was submitted by the committee on Judicial Selection, Tenure and Compensation and constituted Morris B. Mitchell, Minneapolis, chairman; James M. Barnes, Washington, D. C.; James D. Fellers, Oklahoma City, Okla.; James T. Finlen, Butte, Mont.; Ireland Graves, Austin, Texas; William Logan Martin, Birmingham, Ala.; and Robert C. Winter, Detroit, Mich.

In 1940 Missouri voted to amend its constitution dropping the old partisan plan by which supreme court, appellate and circuit court judges ran in primaries with congressmen and keep them out, with sheriffs and with prosecuting attorneys. Actually that same Judge Douglas was the only one of Missouri's seven supreme court judges who favored the nonpartisan plan. In 1942, when discordant elements got in on the ballot for repeal, all seven judges opposed repeal. Repeal lost by twice as great a majority as the 1940 constitutional amendment received.

Somebody Told Me

Mooseheart And The Order

It's widely known that civic and fraternal organizations have a habit of helping those who cannot help themselves. Jake Stauffer of Stauffer's Jewelers and former Governor of the local lodge of the Loyal Order of the Moose pointed out to me the impressive program the Moose have to help those in need. Leon Smith of Folger Buick, the present Junior Governor, added to the information.

Among the many helpful projects of the Moose is the maintenance of a city, Mooseheart, Ill., where the widows and children of deceased members may live at the expense of the lodge.

Those who are qualified and physically able work. At Mooseheart there is 2,500 acres of farmland, which produces food crops including championship beef. The crops are entered in Four H and Future Farmers of America contests and usually win honors.

Education is included in the program. All children are given a full 12-grade education and at the same time learn a trade. Instead of a nine-month program the schools run the full year. The city is maintained from the annual dues of its members, $16. Of this amount approximately one-fourth goes to Mooseheart. At present there is a project underway to raise a $10 million endowment fund that will provide for operation of the city without further help from the dues fund. So far, over $3 million has already been contributed.

At the national convention last year over $150,000 was contributed toward a new high school. The buildings at Mooseheart are quite often financed in part by individual lodges. One of the biggest lodges in the state is at Hickory, but right here in Greenville we have over 300 members. Tommy Carawan of the Esso Standard Oil Company here in Greenville talked to two products of Mooseheart when he attended the national convention last year. Two Wilson boys who entered the city when both of their parents were killed in an automobile accident, told him how they enjoy life there.

This year the Moose are celebrating the 65th anniversary of the Lodge and Mooseheart's 40th anniversary. Governor of the local lodge is Alton Buck of the Department of Internal Revenue. George Johnson is secretary, Billy Corey, prelate, Dick Everette, treasurer, and Billy Byrd and Lyman Briley, trustees.

Jake Stauffer made available to me two stories that point out the value of Mooseheart. One family of nine children, with the oldest 13, entered the city when both parents were killed. Another family of 11 recently went there. And I thank you.

What Other Editors Are Thinking

The main obstacle to the holding of a Korean peace conference remains the question of its composition—whether it be limited to the belligerents or expanded to include so-called neutrals. If the two sides stick to their present positions, there is no discernible way out of the impasse.

Thus the Communists, in accepting a U. S. proposal that a preliminary meeting be held to set a time and place for the peace conference, declared that this preliminary meeting should settle the composition question. The United States, accepting a Communist suggestion that the preliminary meeting take place at Panmunjon, made clear that its representatives would not be empowered to deal with the composition question. That question, the U. S. note says, was settled by the United Nations in favor of a conference limited to belligerents, plus the Soviet Union.

Before there can be a peace parley, then, one or the other side has to give in. If this were a comparatively minor matter—such as whether the conference should take place in San Francisco or Geneva—there would be little justification for the U. S. to hold out. But it is in fact a basic matter.

The inclusion of neutrals would enhance the Communist hopes of gaining Asian objectives unrelated to the Korean war; for some time now the bias of the "neutral" reparations commission has been clearly showing. That the Communists realize the potential advantages to them of neutral participation is demonstrated by their continued insistence on that type of conference.

The new American note—on behalf of this country and the fifteen other nations that sent troops to Korea—reads as though it represents a firming of attitude. For a while back the U. S. seemed to be retreating from its position, it hinted at a compromise whereby the conference itself could agree to expand its membership once it had met. The Communists, however, rejected this, and now the U. S., since it says it will not reconsider the composition question, appears to be back on the right track.

In view of what is at stake, it is to be hoped that holds good for the conference proper as well as for any preconference conference. The only alternative there would be for the Communists to retreat—as, sooner or later, they probably would. In the meantime it would be better for there to be a peace conference at all than for the U. S. to take part in one that would all too likely be stacked against it.

area subject to later expansion by addition of new territory should be set up to start the program. It will be much easier to add territory than to reduce areas once established. In a memorandum to independent distributors through out the State the Almonance Senator gives notice that he will propose to the Milk Commission at its Salisbury hearing this week that separate marketing areas be for Suncombe, Davidson, Mecklenburg, Forsythe, Guilford, Alamance, Wake, Durham and Orange counties. He is willing to go along with one area for all of the territory east of the Raleigh market area, because both producers and distributors in that section seem to want it that way. He believes, however, that is too much territory for one administration. He suggests that such arrangement would afford opportunity for the commission to study the relative advantages of small and large areas.

PRICES—Senator Scott takes the same position about prices fixed for producers as he does about size of marketing areas. Make them reasonably low to begin and raise them as conditions justify. The effect of price advances will be much more satisfactory than price reductions. Besides, he fears that some small distributors might not be able to survive the transition period if beginning prices are set too high.

Cutback In Savings?

By ELMER ROESSNER
Business' best way to prevent a decline is to persuade people to save less and spend more. Dr. Sumner H. Slichter, one of the nation's outstanding economists, believes.

This opinion largely coincides with that of those business leaders who have expressed the view that only a constantly rising standard of living—pushed up in part by more vigorous advertising—can keep the American economy healthy.

Dr. Slichter told a recent session of the National Association of Purchasing Agents that, "Although any drop in business that may develop is quite likely to be moderate, I believe that it would be foolhardy for business and government not to do all in their power to prevent a drop." He said he disagreed with those who say a mild recession would be a good thing.

"The most promising way of averting a contraction is to bring about a drop in the rate of personal saving," the Harvard economist said. "Some drop has apparently occurred in the last few months. In the last quarter of 1952, personal saving was about 7.7 per cent of personal incomes after taxes; in the second quarter of 1953, savings were 6.9 per cent after taxes.

"It ought to be possible for business to induce customers to reduce their rate of savings to about 5 per cent of income after taxes. This, he said, would raise the outlays for consumer goods by about five billion dollars a year. To do this, he said, "business has only to compete more effectively with the consumers' desire to save. This means, in the main, offering consumers more attractive goods at more attractive prices."

Another step, by business, Dr. Slichter said, to check or prevent a recession is either by maintaining outlays on plant and equipment at about present levels or by increasing dividends. In other words, business should not save heavily, either.

Dr. Slichter said that the use of credit as a major weapon against a recession would lead to undesirable increases in Federal and corporate debt. He added that, in any event, he did not think that any large drop in business is likely in the next several months.

DEVISE CAN BRUSH OFF GREEN RIVER ORDINANCES
Salesmen for one of the largest door-to-door companies in America when writing an order, ask householders to sign a slip asking the company salesman to call again, but specifying the householder is under no obligation to buy.

The company has not taken up into its confidence, but it is surely building up a defense against Green River-type ordinances. These laws make it illegal for salesmen to call at homes unless invited. And this company is amassing invitations that can't be brushed off.

Any law that prohibited salesmen from calling if they had a signed request by a householder would undoubtedly be held unconstitutional.

TAKES OLD COATS IN TRADE, GIVES TO KOREAN RELIEF
An eastern tailor has developed his private fall rush by allowing $10 on all old topcoats traded in on new ones. The old coats are sent to Korea as part of the American relief plan.

The store also offers to see that some shivering Korean get coats that men turn in, even though they are not in the market for a new one.

NEW BOOK HELPS TO DEFINE PRODUCTIVITY
One of the greatest areas of confusion in labor economics today is in definitions of productivity. Both union and management economists have varying definitions and every once in a while some executive confused productivity with production or something else and gets himself confronted with (a) a strike or (b) a bad labor contract.

That Secret List Of Ambitions

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Middle age is the best time to check up on your ambitions.

Your goal no longer then should be to step up the tempo of living to achieve the unrealized ambitions of your youth, but to discard and throw away those you no longer need to make you happy.

An ambition that may be a helpful spur to you at 20 may at 40 just be an unnecessary hotfoot. Why moan because you have been able to climb only half way up the ladder of success? A goal half gained is generally more real pleasure than a goal won. You have some progress behind you, and some to look forward to.

But the guy who has reached the top of the ladder in middle age can't pause to admire the view, as you can. Too many people are clawing at his legs, trying to pull him from his perch. If you have a comfortable niche on the ladder, the sensible ambition to have is to keep your hold and not be hit and knocked loose by the guy at the top when he is struck by lightning and falls off.

Ambition rarely is given to anybody in just the right quantity and quality. If you have too little you are a bum in the world's eyes. If you have too much, you may turn out to be another Napoleon or Hitler. The wrong kind of ambition has killed more people than the Black Plague.

Just as a man changes the kind of motor oil in his automobile at the advent of bitter weather, so should he begin to winterize his way of life in early middle age. If he tries at 2 and 40 to live by the same ambitions he had at 2 and 20 he is bound to get a knock in his motor.

In boyhood a fellow may decide life will hold no meaning unless he marries the prettiest girl in town and makes a million dollars. Suppose he does. He must learn in middle age to face the dismaying truth that beauty wanes, and so has the value of a million bucks today.

Or suppose he doesn't have that million bucks in the till until he is 45, and then goes ahead and woos and weds the new prettiest girl in town. An ambition he should have shed. The prospect is he may have to spend most of the million bucks trying to please the girl, and end up minus both girl and money.

Subtly and unconsciously, the ambitions of most people change of their own accord as they grow older. When young, they fret about things they want to get and don't have, such as fame, fortune and a more glamorous address. As they age they worry more about what they have got and don't want—ulcers, gallstones, fall-on-arches, bilious taste in the morning, or maybe a wayward child.

The final ambition of many old people, of course, is simply the desire to endure and survive. They derive even a wistful satisfaction on reading the obituary of a life-long acquaintance, merely because they have in the proper period to check over your list of unsatisfied ambitions, and deliberately weed out the ones that really are more of a nuisance than they are a help. You may be surprised to find that actually your biggest ambitions no longer are to do something you never did get to do, but to be able to do some of the things you used to and no longer can.

I have just finished overhauling my own ambitions and have reduced them to three:

1. To learn to sew on a button, and thus become fully emancipated from womankind at last.
2. To look at a long flight of stairs, and feel mind you, with no intention of doing it:—just feel it running up them two steps at a time.
3. To comb my hair and catch the comb in a stubborn tangle I haven't had this feeling for 15 years, and I suppose I never will unless I buy a toupee.

What do you have left on your secret list of ambitions?

CA - ION—The sponsor of the Milk Commission bill, and he still believes in it, sounds a note of caution against expecting too much from its operation at first. He says elimination of unfair trade practices, one of the primary purposes of the plan, will not yield as much profit as some anticipated at a time.

While urging the commission to get started on its big job, he also warns against making vital policy decisions without benefit of thorough study of the problems. And he warns producers and distributors against expecting miracles to be worked overnight.

Future Prosperity Of Korea Keyed To Inchon

By WILLIAM MILLER
United Press Staff Correspondent
INCHON, Korea (U.P.)—They call Inchon the "toughest port in the world," but observers predict that to a large extent the future prosperity of the republic of Korea will be decided here.

Experienced army officers and civilian traders are convinced that if South Korea is to attain prosperity it must be done through foreign trade.

"I have seen many ports in my time, but Inchon is the toughest in the world," said Lt. Col. Bruce Martin, executive officer for U.S. Army operations in the port. He and other officers have battled the fantastic, surging tides that rise and fall as much as 35 feet, making a nightmare of the job of unloading cargo at the battle-torn port.

That a giant, Japanese-built canal basin, capable of holding up to 13 ships, could be repaired economically and thus triple the present capacity of Inchon harbor.

"It would just take a lot of manpower to work on it—and the Koreans have no shortage of manpower," said Martin.

One dredge, to alter the fast-filling channels, is now in operation and three more are being built in the United States for Inchon use.

Martin explained that the inadequate rail system running inland to Seoul was a critical bottleneck, and the Koreans have no immediate solution. The Army has used fleets of trucks to move equipment from the port inland—an operation which war-ravaged Korea would probably find too expensive.

Three Problems

Martin listed three major problems which hampered the U.S. Army's operation in the port and which must certainly be faced by the South Korean government in its post-war development:

1. The tides which require ships to anchor from one to three miles off-shore.
2. The lack of adequate rail or truck transportation to move cargo inland to Seoul and other cities.
3. The critical shortage of warehouse and storage areas.

The Army licked the tides by repairing a Japanese-built bay which can accommodate up to six shallow-draft ships at one time, and employing a vast fleet of amphibious trucks, "ducks," which shuttled cargo ashore from the ships, anchored in deep water.

Dredges On Order

Adding floating "spud" piers, the Army was able to move 538,000 tons of cargo a month through the port. It is felt, however, such an operation would prove too expensive for the South Koreans.

On the brighter side, they point out that a giant, Japanese-built canal basin, capable of holding up to 13 ships, could be repaired economically and thus triple the present capacity of Inchon harbor.

"It would just take a lot of manpower to work on it—and the Koreans have no shortage of manpower," said Martin.

Everything But Big Earthquake

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—Trinity College officials said a new freshman dormitory wasn't ready for the start of the new school year because:

The excavation crew unexpectedly ran into a big boulder.

Heavy rains held up the work.

Mascot's helpers went on a five-week strike.

A 14 car freight train carrying furniture for the dormitory was derailed.

Window washers went on strike.

Lettuce Covered Deposit Money

NEW YORK (AP)—Vice President Theodore Tamm was making final plans for opening a branch office of his banking firm when there came an insistent rapping at the door.

Tegan opened the door to find a woman carrying a shopping bag topped by a head of lettuce. But the bag wasn't all lettuce.

Insisting that she wanted to be the first to open an account, the woman dug under the lettuce and produced $11,500 in cash. She got her wish.

Tarheel 'Wheel Of Fortune' Is Novel Exhibit By Pupils

By BOB BOYETTE
Reflector Staff Writer

Only seven schools in North Carolina will have an exhibit at the State Fair next week, and one of these exhibits will be Ayden High School's "Wheel of Fortune," based on resources and industries in the state.

The exhibit contains ten panels and may be turned by a bystander to the panel that he desires to see. All the work on the panels was done by Ayden's Eighth Grade students; however, plans to get it exhibited at the State Fair were begun last Spring by the eighth grade teacher, Mrs. La Rue M. Evans, and Mrs. Edna Earle Baker, Pitt County School supervisor.

UNDERSECRETARY
—Thomas S. Gates, Jr., Philadelphia broker and Navy veteran of World War II, has been named by President Eisenhower as Undersecretary of the Navy.

Examples of acoustical plastic, plaster, gravel, sand, ore, and many other building materials show what contractors may get in this state when erecting a building.

The miscellaneous booth has an example of DuPont's fiber, china from Spruce Pine, silverware from Asheville, and fertilizer examples from Statesville. These and many other items in this booth give examples of new and old industries in the State.

The final booth shows what nationalities have settled North Carolina. For example, the Scotch by the Cape Fear River, the Scotch-Irish in the Piedmont, Germans in the Piedmont, French at Bath, Swiss at New Bern, the English by the Albemarle, the Dutch at Wilmington, the Indians still in the mountains, and the Negroes all over the state.

According to Mrs. Evans, the students have been working on the project as part of their school work since school began in August. For the move to Raleigh for the fair, it will be dismantled and re-assembled there.

The forestry panel shows a forest, a sawmill, a furniture factory, a furniture store, a paper mill, and other things that give examples of North Carolina's vital forestry industry.

New Injunction Against Strike On Docks Issued

NEW YORK (UP)—A Taft-Hartley temporary no-strike injunction against the International Longshoremen's Association has been extended to include a rival union organized by the American Federation of Labor.

Federal Judge Edward Weinfeld signed an order Thursday night barring both unions from engaging in work stoppages on New York piers.

Weinfeld also extended the temporary injunction against the I.L.A. until Oct. 25 and set Oct. 20 for a hearing on the question of whether the injunction against the new AFL-ILA should be made permanent.

The jurist made it clear that although the order forbids members of either union from taking part in work stoppages, it did not intend to interfere with the unions' membership warfare.

The I.L.A., headed by Joseph Ryan and the new AFL union using the same name, have recently engaged in violent battles on the Brooklyn waterfront in their efforts to recruit members.

Weinfeld's original order was issued at the request of President Eisenhower to halt a strike by some 65,000 I.L.A. members in New York and other Atlantic Coast ports.

The Justice Department has asked that the temporary injunction be kept in force for the full 90-day cooling off period provided for in the Taft-Hartley law.

Weinfeld's decision on this is not expected before next Tuesday.

Old Belt Shows Average Decline

RALEIGH (UP)—A decline in average prices continued on Old Belt flue-cured tobacco markets and slightly lower prices were reported on the Middle Belt.

Most grades held steady on the Eastern Belt and on the South Carolina and Border North Carolina markets.

Old Belt declines ranged from $1 to $2 per hundred pounds and only a few small increases were reported on the federal-state market news service said.

An increase in poor leaf lowered quality and volume remained light. Wednesday's average of $47.82 per hundred was a season low and a decline of $1.47 from the previous day.

Prices on a majority of grades were steady on the Middle Belt, but nondescript was slightly lower. Several low and fair quality offerings fluctuated as much as $4 to $5 per hundred in price.

Middle Belt volume increased but was still only light to medium on most markets. Quality was lower. The average price Wednesday was $49.40.

On the Eastern Belt sales continued light and prices ranged from generally steady to $1 to $2 lower for lower quality offerings. Better quality marketings decreased in volume. The average price Wednesday was $57.59 per hundred, ten cents under the seasonal average to date.

Leaf grades gained $1 to $3 and a few cutters and low quality lugs rose $1 to $2 on the South Carolina and Border North Carolina market. Most grades were steady. Volume was medium. The Wednesday average was $53.64.

Loris, S. C., announced it will close Oct. 22.

Says Tel Aviv Needs Rebuilding

TEL-AVIV (AP)—Two thirds of Tel-Aviv should be rebuilt according to Mr. Aharon Horowitz, an American town planner, who after a two years' study of the problem has submitted his proposals to the Municipality here. The rapidly growing 43-year old city which contains today — together with neighboring Jaffa — 350,000 inhabitants, needs a thinning out of some of its residential areas, wider streets and more recreation grounds, Mr. Horowitz declared. He asserted that his plan could be executed within 20 years after which Tel-Aviv — Jaffa might well provide housing for 500,000.

Turned Builders To Fill A Need

WEBSTER CITY, Ia. (AP)—They needed some new hog and sheep pens at the Hamilton County fairgrounds here and the Fair Board's budget couldn't be stretched to cover the cost.

So members of the county Farm Bureau Federation and 4-H club members pooled their resources to help build the pens. The Fair Board had to buy only the material. About 100 farm men and boys showed up with saws, hammers, nail aprons and other equipment and put the pens together in a hurry.

Australia Gives Vice President Warm Reception

SYDNEY, Australia (UP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon received a warm reception today from Australian labor leaders whom he congratulated for expelling Communists from key positions in big unions.

The American good will ambassador was greeted enthusiastically when he called at the Sydney Trades Union Hall for a half-hour conference with leading union officials.

Later he talked at the Commonwealth government offices with Laurence Short, head of the iron workers union sometimes described as "the Walter Reuther of Australian labor," and Tom Dougherty, general secretary of the Australian workers union, largest in the country.

Dougherty said Nixon praised the Australian unions for ousting Communists from key positions and compared their achievements in that respect with American and British unions.

Short, who won control of the iron workers after a bitter four-year fight to oust Communist leaders, said he plans to visit the United States next year.

He said Nixon and the United States information service have done much to dispel the impression of many Australian unionists that American unions are dominated by "gangsters."

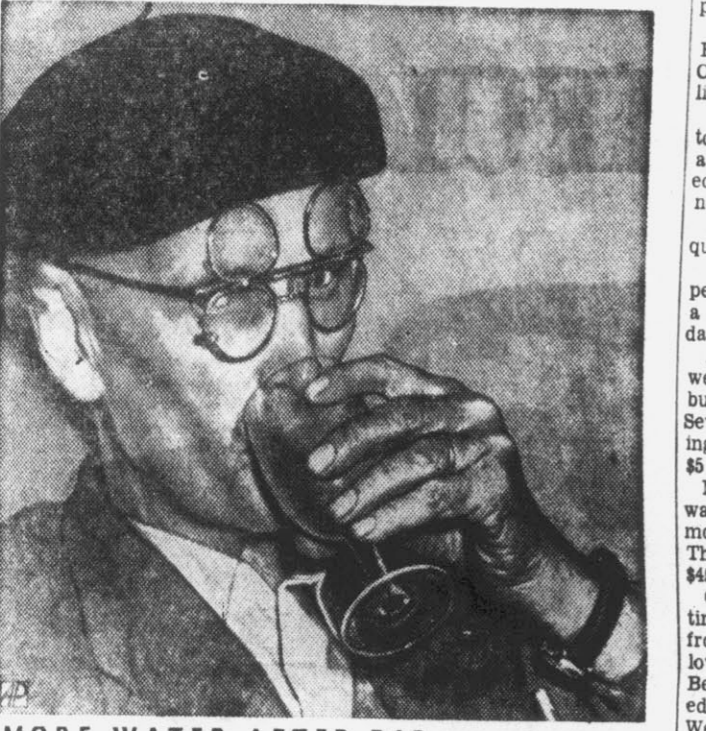

While the vice-president talked with labor and business leaders and inspected industrial plants, Mrs. Nixon took a boat trip across Sydney Harbor and visited the zoo.

She was particularly delighted with the kangaroos and other Australian animals. Mrs. Nixon said she wished her two young daughters back home in Washington could have visited the zoo with her.

The Communist press has been attacking Nixon but there have been no Red demonstrations against him so far on his six-day visit which began yesterday.

Art Notes

With the commencement of another season of exhibitions in the local art gallery and with the possibility ever present of our citizenry visiting art galleries in larger cities as well as college exhibits, it might be appropriate to discuss some of the spectators' problems in connection with art exhibitions.

First of all, it is hoped that the men of the community will form a large percentage of this art interest group. Although most of the professional artists in the country are men, nevertheless art interest circles in too many localities have come to be synonymous with women's organizations. The support of women's societies is indeed welcome, but it would naturally be a healthier and more vital thing if more men were to support the art movements. And this support is to be encouraged not only on a group level, but individually as well, for enjoyment of art is in the end a personal matter, in the realm of the spirit.

Regarding art museums and exhibitions, there are some general considerations which are too often overlooked. For one instance, many people have the mistaken idea that every object in an art museum is considered to be an excellent work of art and that every object in an exhibition is the best of its type. One must realize that every collection cannot have the best works of each artist represented, not to mention the fact that art tastes vary greatly from expert to expert even as they do among spectators.

As a further instance, one should consider that most of the easel paintings and small sculptured pieces which are on view in many exhibits are designed for less formal surroundings than those found in even the best museum display. They are meant to be viewed and enjoyed at leisure, in the atmosphere of a home. This predicated many exposures of the viewer to the paintings, not just one mad dash through the sterile confines of a museum.

We are thankful for the privilege of seeing the world's greater and lesser masterpieces in museums, but we do hope that such experiences will eventually lead the public to buy good art and enjoy it as it should be enjoyed. This commentary also gives a hint as to a saner approach to excursions in larger museums such as those found in this country in Washington, New York, and Chicago. Instead of attempting to see fifteen or twenty rooms in one hour, rather, concentrate on a lesser number and have some fun while taking your time. And go back to some of the works twice, or three times to those you especially liked and to those which were repugnant to you. Possibly in both types you may find some unexpected elements which you first overlooked.

Fugitive Bootlegger Who Poisoned 41 People Caught

ATLANTA (UP)—John R. (Fat) Hardie, 300-pound bootlegger convicted in connection with 41 poison whisky deaths, was captured in a stolen truck early today, the State Highway Patrol reported.

The beefy moonshine still operator who confessed he mixed the concoction which caused a wave of violent deaths two years ago had been a fugitive since Sept. 29.

The patrol said he was captured at 2 a. m. near Dawsonville in North Georgia by a force including two patrolmen, a member of the Georgia Bureau of Investigation and sheriff's deputies.

Hardie, ailing from a recent heart disturbance, limping from old auto accident injuries and highly conspicuous from his great weight, had mystified authorities by his successful escape from a state road camp.

Hardie walked away from a bridge construction site he had been assigned to watch nightlong because his physical condition had kept him from following normal prison routine, authorities said.

His escape caused a furor among state penal authorities after it came to light that his disappearance, discovered the next morning, was not reported to state headquarters until several days later.

Although Hardie admitted using highly lethal methyl alcohol in a concoction he distributed through Atlanta bootlegging channels, he denied knowing of its danger. He was convicted of manslaughter.

Hardie said he mixed the batch of moonshine whisky at his farm hideaway near Atlanta using a broom handle to stir the potent liquor. Soon afterward the wave of deaths began.

Methyl alcohol causes violent illness followed by blindness, mental incapacity and death. As the moonshine whisky spread through the illicit trade channels, hospitals began filling with victims.

Within a few days the death toll had reached its final unofficial figure of 41. Hardie was tried only in connection with one death.

Almost all the known victims of the poisonous batch of whisky were Negroes.

Pin-Swallower Is Briefly Held Up

LITTLEFORK, Minn. (AP)—As Dick Straight, 79, was pinning membership ribbons on visitors to the Koochiching County Old Settlers' picnic he swallowed one of the pins he was holding in his mouth.

Straight was taken to a hospital where the pin was removed.

In less than an hour he was back at the picnic — with the pin in his lapel.

MIG Said Given Extensive Tests

TOKYO (UP)—Gen. O. P. Weyland, Far East Air Force commander, disclosed today that American experts have given extensive tests to the MIG-15 jet plane surrendered by a North Korean fugitive from Communism.

Weyland said the flight tests took place on Okinawa under the direction of specialists from Wright Patterson Air Force Base in Ohio.

The special team included Maj. Charles Yeager, first man to crash the sound barrier, and ace test pilot Capt. Tom Collins.

Weyland said technicians dismantled the Russian jet on Sept. 22, the day after North Korean Lt. Noh Keun Suk landed it at Kimpo Air Force Base near Seoul.

It was flown immediately to Okinawa in a C-124 Globemaster.

The Air Force general said the MIG was reassembled, ground-tested and given its first test flight on Sept. 28. More flights were made the following week.

"A great deal of valuable information was obtained which will enable our pilots to devise tactics to better exploit the F-86 (Sabrejet) advantages over the MIG if they have to fight again," Weyland said.

Weyland gave no information on the tests other than describing the MIG as a "light airplane with a big engine."

TOOK EVERYTHING
NEW YORK (UP)—Paul Taylor, 41, a bill collector, started strolling on Madison Ave., Thursday when he dashed down the street clad in underwear, socks and shoes.

Taylor sprinted into the first police station he came to and reported that three holdup men had robbed him of $150, his wrist watch, suit, shirt and necktie.

Bathing Suits Have Become 'Unsinkable'

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP)—One girl had to sink or swim when she got into deep water but no longer.

Science has given her another assist. Women's bathing suits with built-in life preservers are ready for the mid-winter resort season. A bathing beauty can keep her head above water without moving a muscle.

These floating swim suits will never replace Bikinis in the eyes of the beholder. Still, the padded effect is surprisingly streamlined. Four skin tight numbers, all padded from rib to thigh with a half inch of buoyant substance first introduced here last spring by British developer Mark Shaw, make up the first batch of floating suits.

The padding used in only the front half of the suit, is tapered to show off a girl's natural waistline and his curve. The effect, if the wearer lies passively in the water, is to turn her over on her back and keep her afloat indefinitely.

A willowy brunette floated out of the dressing room and across a carpeted showroom (of the Lee Beachwear Company) in one of the suits. It was black elasticized fabric, strapless and snug.

"These suits are banned from swimming races in England," a spokesman for the company said happily. "We expect they'll be banned here too. It gives a swimmer a natural advantage. We have the exclusive rights to manufacture them in this country."

"Guarantee against drowning? Why, you could drown in a glass of water in this very room. There is no guarantee. We just call them ever-float."

Other models padded into view wearing other styles, one checked, another a plaid-paneled brown fabric and a bright blue and white tailored version. They could pass

Balance Sheet For Week's Bad And Good News On World Scene

By PHIL NEWSOM
United Press Foreign News Editor
The week's balance sheet between the good and bad news in the hot and cold wars:

The Good

1. The United States continued the fence-mending job it started in Central and South America with the fact-finding tour of Milton Eisenhower, brother of the President.

This week President Eisenhower left on a trip which will take him to a Rio Grande meeting with Mexican President Adolfo Ruiz Cortines. This week, too, the United States announced a $9,000,000 emergency aid grant providing agricultural goods and other essential commodities and services to Bolivia.

2. Gen. Henri Eugene Navarre,

French commander in Indochina, arrived in Hanoi and less than 24 hours later French and loyal Viet Nam forces launched their biggest offensive of the eight-year Indochina war.

After a 20-day delay, the Communists finally started their "explanations" some 22,500 anti-Communist Chinese and North Korean war prisoners who have refused to go home. For the Reds, the first day's results were not encouraging. Only 10 out of 500 reluctant prisoners changed their minds about returning to Communism.

Tax Reshuffle Is Halleck's Proposal

By LYLE C. WILSON
WASHINGTON (UP)—House Majority Leader Charles A. Halleck has proposed to President Eisenhower a reshuffling of federal excise taxes that would produce a net gain in revenue from that source in the next fiscal year.

Excise taxes are those levied on specific goods and services, such as gasoline, cigarettes, automobiles and movie admissions. Halleck's plan calls for easing the burden on some industries while adding others to the list for the first time.

Halleck, an Indiana Republican, saw Mr. Eisenhower this week before the President set off on a five-state speaking tour which has developed considerable political urgency because of tax, budget and farm problems.

In addition to offering his proposals for broadening the excise tax base, Halleck assured the President that Congress will vote next session to maintain the 52 per cent regular corporation tax rate fixed two years ago to help finance the Korean war.

The corporate rate is scheduled to drop back to its pre-Korean level of 47 per cent next April 2 unless Congress acts. Mr. Eisenhower already has asked that the present rate be maintained. There has been considerable talk in Congress of a compromise fixing the rate at 50 per cent. But the administration is expected to fight for the full 52 per cent.

The House leader said there should be some tax relief for industries over-burdened by existing excise rates. Specifically, he mentioned the movie industry.

Congress enacted a bill last session to repeal the 20 per cent tax on movie admissions, but Mr. Eisenhower vetoed it, explaining that he disapproved of piecemeal revision of the excise structure.

Except for such industries as moving pictures where many persons believe the existing rates are unjust, Halleck would maintain present excise taxation and add selectively to the list. He was against a general excise or manufacturers sales tax.

Treasury experts, also were reported to favor a selective extension of the excise tax at the manufacturing level as against a uniform tax of 6 or 7 per cent on all manufactured products except food, medicine and perhaps clothing. Mr. Eisenhower has already ruled out a third alternative, a federal retail sales tax.

Scout Guidance Workshop Held

Approximately 200 Boy Scouts of the East Carolina Council will hold a vocational guidance workshop on the campus of East Carolina College October 29, 30, and 31.

The Scouts will be given various vocational tests and will hear a series of talks by college faculty members. Tests will be administered by Dr. Hazel Taylor, member of the East Carolina psychology department and director of the college testing program.

Scouts will pitch their tents on the football field, where they will live during their three-day stay at East Carolina College. They will be entertained Thursday night by the Future Business Leaders of America, student group at the college, and will hold a dance Friday night.

Dr. Leo W. Jenkins of East Carolina is co-ordinator of the program, and Lester Doller of Greenville is in charge of the Scout unit.

Believe Farmers Are Encouraged

WASHINGTON (UP)—Republican congressmen said today that President Eisenhower's promise to include price supports in his farm plans has heartened the nation's hard-pressed farmers.

But a Democrat Sen. John C. Stennis of Mississippi, warned that farmers will only be satisfied if these supports are continued at 90 per cent of parity as enacted by a Democratic Congress.

In a major speech at Kansas City, Mo., Thursday night, Mr. Eisenhower said the administration still hasn't finished working out the farm program it will submit to Congress next year but that the "price support principle" would be preserved. At what level, he didn't say.

Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich.), chairman of the GOP Policy Committee in the Senate said the speech showed the administration "stands ready to be a partner with the farmer."

Sen. Francis Case (R-S.D.) said "it will be heartening to the farmers throughout the Midwest to know that the price support principle will be continued."

Since current studies are still in complete, Ferguson said he didn't believe the President could have "gone any stronger" than he did on the price support issue.

Stennis said there will be Democratic support for the administration's new farm program only if it is based on 90 per cent of parity supports for the so-called six basic crops—corn, cotton, tobacco, wheat and peanuts.

Mr. Eisenhower said the "final phase" in drafting the administration farm program will get underway next week when the National Agriculture Advisory Council meets here to formulate its recommendations.

Justice Proved Much Too Slow

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Justice slowly but surely, arrived for a county jail prisoner recently.

His release on a minor charge was issued 10 days before. Somehow it ended up in a county strong box. Then, it was found and they remembered.

The prisoner? "He was kinda mad," Deputy Giles Ratliff confided.

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Man put a candle on a candlestick; and it giveth light. "Let your light so shine before me, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven."

"Now he that planteth and he that watereth are one; and every man shall receive his own reward according to his own labor. For we are laborers together with God; ye are God's husbandry."

"He (Christ) died for all, that they which live should not henceforth live unto themselves, but unto Him which died and rose again. Therefore, if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature."

"Let brotherly love continue. Be not forgetful to entertain strangers; for thereby some have entertained angels unaware. Remember them that are in bonds, as bound with them."

MEMORY VERSE—Matthew 5:16.

New Men and a New World

ACCEPTANCE OF CHRIST AS SAVIOR MAKES MEN NEW

Scripture—Matthew 5:13-16; John 14:12-14; I Corinthians 3:6-15; II Corinthians 5:14-20; Ephesians 4:32; Hebrews 13:1-2a; James 1:22; 2:14-18.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL. IMAGINE a Rip Van Winkle who went to sleep 100 years ago, and awoke in our modern world. Wouldn't he be astonished and perhaps terrified to see vehicles of all kinds rolling along the streets and highways without any visible means (to him) of locomotion?

He would see great airplanes lifting themselves from the earth and soaring aloft, and people boarding them, traveling many hundreds of miles without apparent concern.

He would hear casual talk of automobiles, airplanes, atom bombs, world wars, and a whole new vocabulary, so that he would not know much of the time what people were talking about as they discussed such things as electricity, nuclear fusion, telephones, television, motion pictures and many things that have become common to us.

Men of today have, as we said, new vocabularies, new thoughts on many subjects, but would he find that underneath all this, they

That does not mean that we should boast of our good deeds so that men may praise us, but that by all our actions and words we shall show others what we believe and what we live by, so that they, too, may be changed. Paul writes of his work: "I have planted; Apollos watered; but God gave the increase. . . . Now he that planteth and he that watereth are one; and every man shall receive his own reward to his own labor. For ye are laborers together with God; ye are God's husbandry, ye are God's building."

Isn't it a thrilling thought to consider ourselves God's husbandmen and co-laborers? We can plant the seed of Christ's salvation in other men's ears and water it and pray for the harvest.

"He—Christ—died for all, that they which live should not henceforth live unto themselves, but unto Him which died for them, and rose again.

"Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature; old things have passed away; behold, would be different or "new" men? More people in the world are educated, more can read and write. We know more about the world than we ever did before, but our world holds dangers that we did not dream of when Rip Van Winkle was awake 100 years ago, and there is fear of more terrible wars than were possible in those days.

We need new men in this new world; men who are changed—made new—by accepting the Word of God and faith in Jesus Christ. This could change them so that His work could be done as easily as it is in heaven.

We go back to the Sermon on the Mount, when Jesus said to His disciples: "Ye are the light of the world. A city that is set on a hill cannot be hid.

"Neither do men light a candle, and put it under a bushel, but on a candlestick; and it giveth light unto all that are in the house.

"Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven."

all things become new." To the Hebrews Paul writes: "Let brotherly love continue. Be not forgetful to entertain strangers; for thereby some have entertained angels unaware. Remember them that are in bonds, as bound with them."

St. James tells us: "Be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves," and further he says: "What doth it profit, my brethren, though a man say he hath faith, and have not works: can faith save him? If a brother or sister be naked, and destitute of daily food, and one of you say unto them, Depart in peace, be ye warmed and filled; notwithstanding ye give them not those things which are needful to the body; what doth it profit?"

Our faith must not be a selfish thing. We must hold it fast, but we must also show by our works that we are God's children and strive to be His helpers. Thus will we become "new" men, women and children to make this "new" world better.

ALLEDALE, S.C. (AP) — This is the way the Allendale County Citizen noted the closing by the government of a steam in the Atomic Energy Commission's near-

By H-bomb materials plant area: "The stream is to be used to return cooling waters from the plants in the area of the Savannah River and while the waters might not hurt you, the property is AEC's responsibility and you ain't welcome. Besides if you were a spy you might be able to tell from sampling the water how the H-bomb business. You'd probably do it by counting the neutrons in one drop of water and then counting the drops in the stream which multiplied and subtracted would equal X and that, as you know, marks the spot. But don't tell Mr. Five by Five."

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Connecticut established its first tuberculosis sanatorium in 1910, but it was not until this year that the state tuberculosis commission was able to report no waiting list at any of the five sanatoria now maintained.

New treatment, which shortens the period of patient care, and more available beds account for the favorable situation.

SARDINE STATE AUGUSTA, Me. (UP) — Maine canners have turned out more than 280,000,000 cans of sardines during the past 10 years. The $20,000,000-a-year sardine canning industry means employment for some 9,000 persons, including fishermen. Despite this, Maine ranks 38th among the states in per capita sardine consumption.

False Alarm In Distress Call

BLACKWELL, Okla. (AP) — Blackwell City Attorney Bruce Potter was nearly unnerved by a tiny Edmond, Okla. resident. Potter and City Clerk Carl Randall were driving to Oklahoma City. As they passed through Edmond they heard desperate cries of "help, help, help! It sounded like a little girl's voice. Potter brought the car to a screeching halt and looked wildly around, asking, "I didn't hit anyone, did I, Carl?" There was no one in sight — but Randall spotted a parrot on a line near the street, continuing its distress call.

Informality For Drive-In Church

WAYNESBORO, Pa. (AP) — "What? Wear slacks and shorts to church?" That was the first reaction of residents of this south-central Pennsylvania community when the Rev. L. Elbert Wilson issued an invitation to attend Sunday night services at a drive-in theater in casual sports clothes instead of "go to meeting finery."

However, Rev. Wilson reports the services are drawing excellent turn-outs.

Cat Touched Off Burglar Alarm

BOSTON (AP) — A burglar alarm sounded in South Boston police station indicating someone was tampering with the narcotics vault. The alarm was set off by a cat that had crawled through an invisible ray which touched off the alarm.

Police converged on the plant and headed for the narcotics vault. They observed a cat purring in a corner. The cat had crawled through an invisible ray which touched off the alarm.

Pirate Frosh Tie State Team 20-20 In Home Opener

Collier Passes For All ECC Touchdowns

By JIMMY ELLIS
Reflector Sports Writer

The ECC freshmen rallied in the early moments of the fourth quarter last night to complete a 68-yard pass play and tie the East Carolina College freshmen 20-20. The game was played in College Stadium before 2500 fans.

The payoff play for the Wolflets was a flat pass from quarterback Alan Henry to halfback Chris Gelsdorf. The play started on the State 32 and Gelsdorf took the ball on the 35. Once he got past the line of scrimmage he simply turned on the steam and outran the East Carolina secondary. The extra point attempt was muffed when Henry fumbled the pass-back from center.

Prior to the long scoring play, the East Carolina frosh had been waging an uphill battle to stay in the game. They had put themselves in the hole early in the first period when Bobby Gay was tackled in the end zone by State center Darrell Dess for a safety. That 2-0 margin was widened early in the second period when State took advantage of a pair of fumbles.

The series of downs had started after an East Carolina punt had been returned to the Pirate 41. George Marinov and Gelsdorf alternated in carrying the ball and in four plays had moved down to the eight.

Two Fumbles
Paul Tiller carried twice on quarterback sneaks but he fumbled on the second and East Carolina recovered the second fumble on the six. The Pirates didn't move anywhere, though, because Boyd Hooper fumbled and Dess hopped on the ball on the nine to give State a first-and-goal.

On the first play Tiller flipped a quick pass to fullback Harrison McKeever and the big back went across standing. McKeever's attempt for the extra point was blocked by fullback Jerry Molt of the Pirates.

The State team continued to dominate play in the first half and minutes of the second quarter. The payoff play was a three yard lineback by Marinov, one of the hardest runners on either team. Waverley Chesson blocked the extra point attempt but the Wolflets had marched 74 yards for their second score. The ECC frosh finally woke up after the second State score and rode the passing arm of quarterback Milton Collier to their first tally. After the kickoff had been returned to the 32, Collier started passing. He completed his first to Clyde Owen on the 48. James Henderson then got behind the State secondary and Collier found him on a pass that moved the ball to the seven. From that point it was simple proposition to pass to R. C. Hall for the touchdown. Collier passed to Thomas Brisson for the extra point but State still had a 14-7 margin at halftime.

The Bucs started their second touchdown drive midway the third period. They came into possession of the ball after Hall had blocked a State kick and the ball had been recovered on the State 45.

Collier's passing moved the ball in four plays to the State seven with the key play being a 38 yard pass to Henderson. The Bucs halfback would have scored on the play but he stumbled when he whirled after making the catch.

With the ball on the seven, Henderson carried on two plays and moved the ball to the three. Collier then called on the passing game again and flipped to Hall for the TD. Henderson ran around for the extra point and the game was tied at 14-14 with eight minutes of action remaining in the third quarter.

The Bucs got their final touchdown on the first play of the fourth period. It was a 28-yard pass from Collier to Henderson with the play coming on fourth down and being run from a deep punt formation. Collier's pass for the extra point was intercepted.

State's final touchdown was set up after the State line had stopped an East Carolina drive that had carried to the State 15. From there they got their touchdown in three plays.

The game was the second of the season for both clubs. East Carolina had defeated New Hanover High School 39-0 in its opener while the State team had lost 19-0 to Fort Bragg.

Basketball Teams

Anyone interested in forming a men's basketball league are asked to meet at Elm Street Park next Tuesday night. The meeting will start at 7:30 p.m.

Those requested to attend are persons interested in sponsoring teams, persons interested in forming a team, and persons interested in playing. George McMillan will lead discussion at the meeting.

Homecoming For Red Devils Opens With Big Rally

FARMVILLE — Farmville High School students danced around a bon fire last night as they burned in effigy the Ayden football team to which Farmville plays host tonight.

The pep rally staged by the Farmville students last night was the beginning of the big homecoming celebration of Farmville high school which will be climaxed by the football game tonight between the Red Devils and the Ayden Tornados.

Shouts of the cheering students could be heard last night long before they reached the pep rally site and lit the big bon fire. After the fire was lit, cheer leaders, dressed in white sweaters and blue jeans led the students in yells and dances around the fire. Tied to the stake in the middle of the big blaze was a stuffed dummy clad in football clothes with a red jersey.

As the rally neared its peak, students hoisted Farmville Coach Charles Tucker to their shoulders and danced around the fire with him.

The Bucs left early today via chartered bus for Cullowhee, home of the Catamounts. They will arrive there late this afternoon and go through a short familiarization workout on the Western Carolina field before beginning their long wait until game time tomorrow night.

The Bucs will enter the game in reasonably good physical condition. Guard James Faircloth is expected to see only limited action because of an injured ankle but he will probably start. Halfbacks Ted Barnes are recovered from their troubles and are expected to see action against the Cats although neither is expected to start.

If Faircloth can't make the starting line tomorrow night, his place will be taken by Don Burton. If Barnes and O'Kelly still have their troubles tomorrow, then either Topp Hayes or Jim Stanley will take over the bulk of the ball-carrying work. Hayes is expected to start at left halfback while Stanley is classed as an alternate with Paul Gay at right halfback.

The remainder of the East Carolina line-up will be the same. Dick Cherry, the "Blonde Bombshell" will be quarterback and Claude King will be at the power post at fullback. Larry Rhodes and Bobby Hodges will be the ends, Willie Holland and Johnny Brown at the tackles, Dave Lee and either Burton or Faircloth at the guards and Louis Hallow at center.

The Pirates are favored by as much as three touchdowns over the winless Cats who have already dropped their first four games.

Fired-Up Auburn Aims For Victory
ATLANTA (UP)—Auburn fired up its hope of being the team to beat Georgia Tech this year with news that Fob James Jr., as of today, may be able to enter the Southeastern Conference game.

The sophomore left halfback, released from a hospital only yesterday after a bout with bronchitis, chances against Tech's string of 30 games without a loss.

Most odd takers were still favoring Tech although Coach Shug Jordan said he was sure his leading ground gainer would be able to play.

Tech, after hours of drilling earlier this week against scoring attempts of the Engineer "B" squad from a few yards out, yesterday got around to some practice with offensive play.

It was a light workout but Coach Bobby Dodd put strong emphasis on blocking. Dodd announced that at quarterback his starter would be freshman Wade Mitchell on a kickoff or Bill Brigman if Tech receives.

Alabama faced a headliner conference bout with Tennessee with a new gap apparently left in its squad by an injury Bill Oliver received yesterday. Alabama was already being hurt in right halfback spot since sophomore Troy Watford was hurt in a scrimmage last week.

Mississippi, seeking an unprecedented third straight win over Tulane, thinks it will be up against the most experienced team and one with the best backfield in the entire conference. During a "thorough checkover" of defense and offense plays yesterday Coach Johnny Vaught found his charges in good shape.

Georgia, with three linemen still in sweatclothes although they probably can play Saturday, concentrated on its kicking game in final preparations for meeting Louisiana State University. The ailing first stringers are tackles Bill Young and Francis Malinowski and guard Bruce Wimberly.

Kentucky also polished up its kicking game for Mississippi State. The Maroons ran signal and pass defense drills in their final practice.

Florida, after final offensive and defensive drills, were pronounced in "much better overall condition but still far from being in top-notch shape" to meet The Citadel in a non-conference bout.

Shakleford Leads Jayvees To 25-12 Win Over Bears

Halfback Bob Shakleford scored three times yesterday in leading his high-flying Greenville Jayvee mates to a 25-12 win over New Bern's junior Bears.

The Baby Phantoms and the Cubs battled through the first quarter in a scoreless deadlock. Soon after the quarter period was over Shakleford smashed through for two touchdowns and the Phantoms had their 12-0 halftime lead.

The first score was set up by fullback Billy Sermons who raced 17 yards to the 11. In three plays the Spooks had their first tally.

The second Shakleford TD came on a 71-yard run just before the half.

Second Half
Soon after the second half kickoff, Shakleford and Sermons alternated in carrying the ball on a 54-yard march highlighted by a 29-yard pass to end Billy Johnson. The play carried to the New Bern one but the Cubs took over on downs and punted out to the 18.

After a four yard smash at the line, Sermons streaked wide around end for the touchdown.

Shakleford scored the final touchdown from the three between New Bern touchdowns. Gene Hudson booted the point and Greenville had its final margin.

The game was the final one of the season for the Baby Phants. They lost their opener but closed the schedule with three straight wins.

Shoemaker Looks For Record Win

ALBANY Calif. (UP)—Wesley Shoemaker, in the opinion of veteran horsemen one of the finest saddlemiths to ever ride a thoroughbred, goes up on eight mounts at Golden Gate Fields today in an attempt to set an all-time riding record for one year.

The little ex-Texan scored his 390th victory of the year Thursday to tie the mark set by young Tony Desposito last year.

On the word of Johnny Longden, Shoemaker is the finest jockey in the world right now. Johnny should know because he holds the American record of more than 4,400 winners in his lifetime of riding.

"He's the best there is around," says Longden. "And he'd better get all he can right now because he's at the peak of his career. He won't get any better — because he just can't be improved upon."

It was a tough road to ride for "The Shoe" to get the record-equaling victory Thursday. He went up on 12 consecutive mounts during the last two days before he came home a winner.

Whites Drop Gold In Little League

The White defeated the Gold 6-0 in a Midget Football League game played at Elm Street Park.

The only score of the game came in the second quarter on a pass from Peanut Nunn to Bobby Edwards. The play covered 50 yards.

Offensive leaders for the White were Edwards, Nunn, Howard Garner, and John Wesley Hudson. Defensive leaders were Mokey Lassiter, Jeff Fountain, Lynn Jorgensen, Nunn, and Garner.

Offensive leaders for the Gold were Billy Boyd Cox, Bob Bilbro, and Stanley Hathaway. Defensive standouts were Arthur Andrews, Jimmy Jenkins, George Saled, Delbert Smith, Billy Neal James, and Billy Cox.

Phantoms Work Light; Scrimmage Today

By WAYNE BISHOP
Reflector Sports Writer

Coach Bill Kittrell worked his Greenville High School Phantoms in light equipment yesterday afternoon with heavy logs slated for today's workout.

In Thursday's drill Kittrell worked his squad on timing and pass patterns. The linemen went through dummy scrimmage sessions.

The Phantoms have an open date this weekend to prepare for their game with the league-leading New Bern Bears next Friday. The game next week will be played in College Stadium and will be the final home game for the Phantoms.

New Bern features a top-flight passing combination of sophomore quarterback Preacher Parker and end Robert Kennel. The passing produces a high-scoring punch that more than overbalances an admittedly-weak New Bern defense.

An interesting side-show in the battle will pit the strong New Bern passing show against the Greenville pass defense, one of the strongest in the conference this year.

The Bears usually pick up over a hundred yards per game on pass offense while the Greenies have limited six opponents to an average 41.7 yards per game on passing.

Babe Faces Test Against Rawls

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UP)—Babe Didrikson Zaharias faced the toughest hurdle yet on her golfing comeback trail today when she met Betsy Rawls, the seasoned campaigner from Spartanburg, S.C., in the quarterfinals of the Women's Texas Open golf championship.

The colorful Babe, making her second venture into competitive golf since a serious cancer operation last spring, may find herself carried all the way in today's linkstress who plays golf as well as she as took to book learning.

The Zaharias - Rawls all-pro round which also saw pro Betty Jameson of San Antonio matched against amateur Mrs. Harlan Riedel of Dallas; Polly Riley, the amateur co-medalist playing her home course, playing Mrs. H. T. Willford of Pampa City, Okla., and Beverly Hanson of Indian, Okla., paired against Betty MacKinnon of Dallas in another all-pro match.

Mrs. Zaharias has been winding up her matches short of the final green, but Thursday went on to play the full 18 "just for practice" after eliminating freckled Betty Dodd of San Antonio 3 and 2. She finished with a one-under-par 74. Just one shot away from the pace she and Miss Riley set in sharing medalist honors Tuesday.

Miss Riley took another stride toward an anticipated finals berth opposite the Babe when she ousted Lesbia Lob of San Antonio, 5 and 4.

Strange Desires For Young Perez

NEW YORK (UP)—Young Lulu Perez of Brooklyn has a strange combination of objectives tonight in his nationally televised and broadcast fight with featherweight Joey Cam of Boston at St. Nicholas Arena.

Raney, dark-haired Perez seeks at the same time, he also seeks his 23rd consecutive victory; but, to regain the prestige he lost in his last bout with Dave Gallardo at Madison Square Garden on Sept. 4.

Perez, 20, luckily stopped Gallardo on the eighth round; but, before that, Los Angeles Dave made Lulu look like a rank amateur at times. Lulu's victory was so hollow he lost his chance for a challengers' fight with ex-champion Willie Pep.

Tonight Loping Lulu hopes to beat 23-year old Cam so impressively he will be matched with Pep next month at the Garden. The Garden winner would be in pos-

Heavyweight Bout May Take Place

MONTREAL (UP)—A world heavyweight championship bout between title-holder Rocky Marciano and Canadian champion Earl Walls may take place in Montreal next summer.

Promoter Eddie Quinn revealed Thursday night he has been negotiating with Al Weill, Marciano's manager, for the champion to defend his crown in an outdoor bout at the Montreal Baseball Stadium.

Walls, a native of Windsor, Ont., boosted his stock in the heavyweight rankings recently with two knockout victories over former challenger Rex Layne of Lewiston, Vt.

Pirates Hit Road For Game With Western Carolina Cats

The undefeated and untied scoring machine of the East Carolina College Pirates moved into the hill country today in preparation for its North State Conference battle tomorrow with Western Carolina College.

The Bucs left early today via chartered bus for Cullowhee, home of the Catamounts. They will arrive there late this afternoon and go through a short familiarization workout on the Western Carolina field before beginning their long wait until game time tomorrow night.

The Bucs will enter the game in reasonably good physical condition. Guard James Faircloth is expected to see only limited action because of an injured ankle but he will probably start. Halfbacks Ted Barnes are recovered from their troubles and are expected to see action against the Cats although neither is expected to start.

Duke Favored By 10 In Game With Knights

By LARRY DALE
RALEIGH (UP)—Duke's undefeated football team today boarded a plane for New York where tomorrow the Blue Devils will seek their first victory over Army.

Duke was a 10-point favorite over the Cadets. The two teams have met only three times in the past—during Army's era of Doc Blanchard and Glenn Davis.

Coach Bill Murray planned an afternoon practice session at the Polo Grounds for the 34 players who made the trip by plane. Six other players were making the trip by special train with enthusiastic rooters, arriving in New York tonight.

Murray ran his charges through offensive and defensive formations yesterday finishing up home practice with work on conversions, protection for the kicker and kickoff returns.

The University of North Carolina meanwhile planned only a brief exercise in light gear today prior to the Tar Heels' clash tomorrow with Maryland.

Tar Heel Coach George Barclay said he is satisfied that the Tar Heels will give a good account of themselves tomorrow against the nation's fourth-ranking football power.

Barclay disclosed he has revised his starting backfield again, to include Connie Gravitt at halfback and Dick Lackey at fullback. Gravitt and Lackey starred in the victory over Wake Forest last week.

Knee injuries have sidelined regular ends Ken Yarborough and Will Frye, and Dock Starner and Tom Adler were named to start at the flanks.

At North Carolina State, Coach Horace Hendrickson tabbed 225-pound sophomore C. M. Price of Prospect, Va., to start at tackle in place of regular Ken Urvogitch. Urvogitch was injured in practice Tuesday and will be out of the Wolfpack line up against Wake Forest.

Wake Forest Coach Tom Rogers watched his Demon Deacons go through offensive maneuvers against the frosh yesterday but barred contact work. Rogers planned to work the squad under the lights tonight as a conditioner for their first night game.

At Clemson, S. C., Clemson announced its two top centers, Wingo Avery and Andy Smalls, have been ruled out of action for next week's renewal of the Big Thursday feud with South Carolina.

Five backs and a guard were listed as casualties during yesterday's Clemson session, including quarterbacks Don King and Folley Hubert, fullback Larry Gressette and Red Whitten and halfback Buck George and guard Nolten Hildebrand.

Dressen's Rift With Bums Seen As Irrevocable Move

BROOKLYN (UP)—Charley Dressen's break with the Brooklyn Dodgers appeared irrevocable today amid reports the deposed manager of this year's National League champions might be headed for a job as field boss of the new Baltimore Orioles.

"The situation is absolutely unchanged," President Walter F. O'Malley of the Dodgers pointed out Thursday night in answer to reports that Dressen was considering meeting again with the Brooklyn brass to iron out their differences.

"And we have no meeting of any kind scheduled with him," O'Malley added. "Of course if he wants to reconsider, the door still is open on our terms."

Those terms, as offered by O'Malley in their historic meeting Wednesday, include a one-year contract at $40,000. But Dressen asked for a two-year pact, thus bringing about the break that startled the baseball world.

Meanwhile, Dressen has expressed additional interest in moving on to Baltimore as manager of the American League's relocated St. Louis franchise.

"I'd sure like a crack at the Baltimore job," he said. "I think they have the potential for a winning team there with all of that enthusiasm for a new major league franchise. And I think we could get together on terms."

Pirate Frosh Tie State Team 20-20 In Home Opener

Collier Passes For All ECC Touchdowns

By JIMMY ELLIS
Reflector Sports Writer
State College's freshmen rallied in the early moments of the fourth quarter last night to complete a 68-yard pass play and tie the East Carolina College freshmen 20-20. The game was played in College Stadium before 2,500 fans.

The payoff play for the Wolflets was a flat pass from quarterback Alan Henry to halfback Chris Gelsdorf. The play started on the State 32 and Gelsdorf took the ball on the 35. Once he got past the line of scrimmage he simply turned on the steam and outran the East Carolina secondary. The extra point attempt was muffed when Henry fumbled the pass-back from center.

Prior to the long scoring play, the East Carolina frosh had been waging an uphill battle to stay in the game. They had put themselves in the hole early in the first period when Bobby Gay was tackled in the end zone by State center Darrell Dess for a safety. That 2-0 margin was widened early in the second period when State took advantage of a pair of fumbles.

The series of downs had started after an East Carolina punt had been returned to the Pirate 41. George Marinkov and Gelsdorf alternated in carrying the ball and in four plays had moved down to the eight.

Two Fumbles
Paul Tiller carried twice on quarterback sneaks but he fumbled on the second and East Carolina recovered the second fumble on the six. The Pirates didn't move anywhere, though, because Boyd Hooper fumbled and Dess hopped on the ball on the nine to give State a first-and-goal.

On the first play Tiller flipped a quick pass to fullback Harrison McKeever and the big back went across standing. McKeever's attempt for the extra point was blocked by fullback Jerry Holt of the Pirates.

The State team continued to dominate play in the first half and minutes of the second quarter. The payoff play was a three yard line-back by Marinkov, one of the hardest runners on either team. Waverly Chesson blocked the extra point attempt but the Wolflets had marched 74 yards for their second score. The ECC frosh finally woke up after the second State score and rode the passing arm of quarterback Milton Collier to their first tally. After the kickoff had been returned to the 32, Collier started passing. He completed his first to Clyde Owen on the 48. James Henderson then got behind the State secondary and Collier found him on a pass that moved the ball to the seven. From that point it was a simple proposition to pass to R. C. Hall for the touchdown. Collier passed to Thomas Brisson for the extra point but State still had a 14-7 margin at halftime.

Second Drive
The Bucs started their second touchdown drive midway the third period. They came into possession of the ball after Hall had blocked a State kick and the ball had been recovered on the State 45.

Collier's passing moved the ball in four plays to the State seven with the key play being a 38 yard pass to Henderson. The Bucs halfback would have scored on the play but he stumbled when he whirled after making the catch.

With the ball on the seven, Henderson carried on two plays and moved the ball to the three. Collier then called on the passing game again and flipped to Hall for the TD. Henderson ran around end for the extra point and the game was tied at 14-14 with eight minutes of action remaining in the third quarter.

The Bucs got their final touchdown on the first play of the fourth period. It was a 28-yard pass from Collier to Henderson with the play coming on fourth down and being run from a deep punt formation. Collier's pass for the extra point was intercepted.

State's final touchdown was set up after the State line had stopped an East Carolina drive that had carried to the State 15. From there they got their touchdown in three plays.

The game was the second of the season for both clubs. East Carolina had defeated New Hanover High School 39-0 in its opener while the State team had lost 19-0 to Fort Bragg.

Basketball Teams

Anyone interested in forming a men's basketball league are asked to meet at Elm Street Park next Tuesday night. The meeting will start at 7:30 p.m. Those requested to attend are persons interested in sponsoring teams, persons interested in forming a team, and persons interested in playing. George McMillan will lead discussion at the meeting.

Homecoming For Red Devils Opens With Big Rally

FARMVILLE — Farmville High School students danced around a bon fire last night as they burned in effigy the Ayden football team to which Farmville plays host tonight. The pep rally staged by the Farmville students last night was the beginning of the big homecoming celebration of Farmville high school which will be climaxed by the football game tonight between the Red Devils and the Ayden Tornadoes. Shouts of the cheering students could be heard last night long before they reached the pep rally site and lit the big bon fire. After the fire was lit, cheer leaders, dressed in white sweaters and blue jeans led the students in yells and dances around the fire. Tied to the stake in the middle of the big blaze was a stuffed dummy clad in football clothes with a red jersey. As the rally neared its peak, students hoisted Farmville Coach Charles Tucker to their shoulders and danced around the fire with him.

Walking Injured For Coaches To Play Reserves

NEW YORK (UP)—The list of college football's "walking wounded" has reached an alarming stat-istic this week, causing many of the nation's outstanding teams to reach into their reserve ranks for weekend engagements. Most of the injured players are from Midwest teams, where only top-ranked Notre Dame has managed to escape any serious casualties. The Irish, a 20-point pick over Pittsburgh at South Bend, Ind., Saturday, welcomed back right halfback Johnny Lattner from the infirmary earlier this week. Indiana, a 20-point underdog for its meeting with second-ranked Michigan State, was hardest hit among the Big Ten teams. Most of the flu bug including quarterback Don McMillan and end Nate Bor-don, Michigan State, meanwhile, is near top strength with only center Jim Neal listed as a doubtful starter.

Purdue may have to call on third-string fullback Dan Pobjewski for its game with Wisconsin. The Boll-weavers, a one-point choice, were shocked this week when sophomore Bill Murkowski, a replacement for injured Max Schmaling, came up with a twisted ankle. Illinois, a six-point choice over Minnesota, is missing fullback and punter Ken Miller for its important meeting with Paul Giel and company. Miller also is nursing an injured ankle.

In the east, the situation is almost as bad. Penn, a 14-point underdog for its game with Ohio State, lost captain George Bosse-ler and star George Trautman listed as doubtful starters. But the Buckeyes are without quarterback John Borton, who suffered a sprained ankle in last week's de-bacle against Illinois. Duke can expect only limited service from hobbled quarterback Work Luts in its meeting with Army at New York. The Cadets also aren't optimistic over the starting chances of halfback Fred Attaya, who is nursing a knee in-jury suffered last summer.

Fordham, a 10-point favorite over Boston College for their meeting tonight at New York, will start converted end George Murphy at quar-terback in the absence of injured Vinnie Drake while fullback Bill Wetzel of Syracuse will miss the Penn State game because of an injured ankle.

In one of the sport's big games, Tennessee will be without tailback Pat Oleksiak for its nationally-televised game with Alabama. His position is expected to be shared by Pat Shires and Jimmy Wade. Alabama is a 13-point choice in this one.

All top-ranked teams on the United Press Board of Coaches ratings are heavy favorites in weekend en-gagements. Along with Notre Dame and Michigan State, third-ranked UCLA is favored by 13 over Stan-ford and fourth-ranked Maryland is picked by 14 against unbeaten and untied North Carolina.

THE GOLD TEAM ran into some red-hot passing at Little League Park yesterday but they are still one of the top teams in the Midget Football League. Games in league competition are played every Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday. The public is invited to attend the contests. (Reflector Sports Photo)

Shakleford Leads Jayvees To 25-12 Win Over Bears

Halfback Bob Shakleford scored three times yesterday in leading his high-flying Greenville Jayvees mates to a 25-12 win over New Bern's junior Bears. The Baby Phantoms and the Cubs battled through the first quarter in a scoreless deadlock. Soon after the quarter period was over Shakleford smashed through for two touch-downs and the Phantoms had their 12-0 halftime lead.

The first score was set up by fullback Billy Sermons who raced 17 yards to the 11. In three plays the Phantoms had their first tally. The second Shakleford TD came on a 71-yard run just before the half.

Second Half
Soon after the second half kick-off, Shakleford and Sermons alternated in carrying the ball on a 54-yard march highlighted by a 23-yard pass to end Billy Johnson. The play carried to the New Bern one but the Cubs took over on downs and punted out to the 18. After a four yard smash at the line, Sermons streaked wide around end for the touchdown. Shakleford scored the final touchdown from the three between New Bern touchdowns. Gene Hud-son booted the point and Greenville had its final margin.

The game was the final one of the season for the Baby Phantoms. They lost their opener but closed the schedule with three straight wins.

Shoemaker Looks For Record Win

ALBANY, Calif. (UP)—Wes Wilie Shoemaker, in the opinion of veteran horsemen one of the finest saddlemasters to ever ride a thoroughbred, goes up on eight mounts at Golden Gate Fields today in an attempt to set an all-time riding record for one year.

The little ex-Texas scored his 390th victory of the year Thursday to tie the mark set by young Tony DesPirito last year. On the word of Johnny Longden, Shoemaker is the finest jockey in the world right now. Johnny should know because he holds the American record of more than 4,400 winners in his lifetime of riding. "He's the best there is around," says Longden. "And he'd better get all he can right now because he's at the peak of his career. He won't get any better — because he just can't be improved upon."

It was a tough road to ride for "The Shoe" to get the record-equaling victory Thursday. He went up on 12 consecutive mounts during the last two days before he came home a winner.

Whites Drop Gold In Little League

The White defeated the Gold 4-0 in a Midget Football League game played at Elm Street Park. The only score of the game came in the second quarter on a pass from Peanut Nunn to Bobby Edwards. The play covered 50 yards. Offensive leaders for the White were Edwards, Nunn, Howard Garner, and John Wesley Hudson. De-fensive leaders were Mokey Las-ster, Jeff Fountain, Lynn Jorgensen, Nunn, and Garner.

Offensive leaders for the Gold were Billy Boyd Cox, Bob Bilbro, and Stanley Hathaway. Defensive standouts were Arthur Andrews, Jimmy Jenkins, George Saleed, Delbert Smith, Billy Neal James, and Billy Cox.

Phantoms Work Light; Scrimmage Today

By WAYNE BISHOP
Reflector Sports Writer
Coach Bill Kittrell worked his Greenville High School Phantoms in light equipment yesterday afternoon with heavy togs slated for today's workout.

In Thursday's drill Kittrell worked his squad on timing and pass patterns. The linemen went through dummy scrimmage sessions. The Phantoms have an open date this weekend to prepare for their game with the league-leading New Bern Bears next Friday. The game next week will be played in College Stadium and will be the final home game for the Phantoms.

New Bern features a top-flight passing combination of sophomore quarterback Preacher Parker and end Robert Kennel. The passing produces a high-scoring punch that more than overbalances an admittedly-weak New Bern defense.

An interesting side-show in the battle will pit the strong New Bern passing show against the Green-ville pass defense, one of the strongest in the conference this year.

Babe Faces Test Against Rawls

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UP)—Babe Didrickson Zaharias faced the toughest hurdle yet on her golfing comeback trail today when she met Betty Rawls, the seasoned campaigner from Spartanburg, S.C. in the quarterfinals of the Women's Texas Open golf championship. The colorful Babe, making her second venture into competitive golf since a serious cancer operation last spring, may find herself carried all the way in today's match against the Phi Beta Kappa linkster who plays golf as well as she took to book learning.

The Zaharias-Rawls all-pro match was the feature one of the round which also saw pro Betty Jameson of San Antonio matched against amateur Mrs. Harlan Riedel of Dallas; Polly Riley, the amateur co-medalist playing her home course, playing Mrs. H. T. Williford of Ponca City, Okla., and Beverly Hanson of Inlio, Calif., paired against Betty MacKinnon of Dallas in another all-pro match.

Mrs. Zaharias has been winding up her matches short of the final green, but Thursday went on to play the full 18 "just for practice" after eliminating freckled Betty Dodd of San Antonio—3 and 2. She finished with a one-under-par 74, just one shot off the pace she and Miss Riley set in sharing medalist honors Tuesday.

Miss Riley took another stride toward an anticipated finals berth opposite the Babe when she ousted Lesbia Lobb of San Antonio, 5 and 4.

Pirates Hit Road For Game With Western Carolina Cats

The undefeated and untied scoring machine of the East Carolina College Pirates moved into the hill country today in preparation for its North State Conference battle tomorrow with Western Carolina College. The Bucs left early today via chartered bus for Cullowhee, home of the Catamounts. They will arrive there late this afternoon and go through a short familiarization workout on the Western Carolina field before beginning their long wait until game time tomorrow night.

The Bucs will enter the game in reasonably good physical condition. Guard James Faircloth is expected to see only limited action because of an injured ankle but he will probably start. Halfbacks Ted Barnes are recovered from their troubles and are expected to see action against the Cats although neither is expected to start.

If Faircloth can't make the starting line tomorrow night, his place will be taken by Don Burton. If Barnes and O'Kelly still have their troubles tomorrow, then either Toppy Hayes or Jim Stanley will take over the bulk of the ball-carrying work. Hayes is expected to start at left halfback while Stanley is classed as an alternate with Paul Gay at right halfback.

The remainder of the East Carolina line-up will be the same. Dick Cherry, the "Blonde Bombshell," will be quarterback and Claude King will be at the power post at full-back. Larry Rhodes and Bobby Hodges will be the ends, Willie Holland and Johnny Brown at the tackles, Dave Lee and either Burton or Faircloth at the guards and Louis Hallow at center.

The Pirates are favored by as much as three touchdowns over the winless Cats who have already dropped their first four games.

Duke Favored By 10 In Game With Knights

By LARRY DALE
RALEIGH (UP)—Duke's undefeated football team today boarded a plane for New York where tomorrow the Blue Devils will seek their first victory over Army. Duke was a 10-point favorite over the Cadets. The two teams have met only three times in the past—during Army's era of Doc Blanchard and Glenn Davis. Coach Bill Murray planned an afternoon practice session at the Polo Grounds for the 34 players who made the trip by plane. Six other players were making the trip by special train with enthusiastic rooters, arriving in New York tonight.

Murray ran his charges through offensive and defensive formations yesterday finishing up home practice with work on conversions, protection for the kicker and kickoff returns. The University of North Carolina meanwhile planned only a brief exercise in light gear today prior to the Tar Heels' clash tomorrow with Maryland.

Tar Heel Coach George Barclay said he is satisfied that the Tar Heels will give a good account of themselves tomorrow against the nation's fourth-ranking football power. Barclay disclosed he has revised his starting backfield again, to include Connie Gravitate at halfback and Dick Lackey at fullback. Gravitate and Lackey starred in the victory over Wake Forest last week. Knee injuries have sidelined regular ends Ken Yarborough and Will Frye, and Dock Starner and Tom Adler were named to start at the flanks.

At North Carolina State, Coach Horace Hendrickson tabbed 225-pound sophomore C. M. Price of Prospect, Va., to start at tackle in place of regular Ken Urgovitch. Urgovitch was injured in practice Tuesday and will be out of the Wolfpack line up against Wake Forest.

Wake Forest Coach Tom Rogers watched his Demon Deacons go through offensive maneuvers against the frosh yesterday but barred contact work. Rogers planned to work the squad under the lights tonight as a conditioner for their first night game.

At Clemson, S. C., Clemson announced its two top centers, Wingo Avery and Andy Smalls, have been ruled out of action for next week's renewal of the Big Thursday feud with South Carolina. Five backs and a guard were listed as casualties during yesterday's Clemson session, including quarterbacks Don King and Pooley Hubert, fullback Larry Gressette and Red Whitten and halfback Buck George and guard Nolten Hildebrand.

Dressen's Rift With Bums Seen As Irrevocable Move

BROOKLYN (UP)—Charley Dressen's break with the Brooklyn Dodgers appeared irrevocable today amid reports the deposed manager of this year's National League champions might be headed for a job as field boss of the new Baltimore Orioles.

"The situation is absolutely unchanged," President Walter F. O'Malley of the Dodgers pointed out Thursday night in answer to reports that Dressen was considering meeting again with the Brooklyn brass to iron out their differences.

"And we have no meeting of any kind scheduled with him," O'Malley added. "Of course if he wants to reconsider, the door still is open — on our terms."

Those terms, as offered by O'Malley in their historic meeting Wednesday, include a one-year contract at $40,000. But Dressen asked for a two-year pact, thus bringing about the break that startled the baseball world.

Meanwhile, Dressen has expressed additional interest in moving on to Baltimore as manager of the American League's relocated St. Louis franchise.

"I'd sure like a crack at the Baltimore job," he said. "I think they have the potential for a winning team there with all that enthusiasm for a new major league franchise. And I think we could get together on terms."

Utilities Revenues For Past Month Reported

Net revenue of the four major departments of the Greenville Utilities during the past month amounted to $41,379.

The report was made to the Utilities Commission by Business Manager Larry Brown, at the meeting of the commission this week.

Total income for the water, electric and gas departments of the utilities commission amounted to $169,490.23, and expenses for the departments came to $128,111.23 for the month ending September 30.

A breakdown by departments of the receipts and expenses showed: Water department: income, $18,078.79; expenses, $12,708.66; net revenue, $5,370.13.

City electric department: income, $104,723.74; expenses, $77,760.28; net revenue, $26,963.46.

Rural electric department: income, $37,287.27; expenses, $9,233.96; net revenue, $28,053.31.

Gas department: income, $9,400.43; expenses, $9,233.96; net revenue, $166.47.

A breakdown of wholesale purchases of electricity from the Greenville Utilities during the month showed the Town of Ayden purchased 441,900 KWH at an average rate of 1.18 cents, and received a bill for $5,243.47; the town of Winterville purchased 86,880 KWH for an average rate of 1.48 cents, and received a bill for $1,286.84. The town of Grimesland purchased from Greenville 147,600 KWH of electricity at an average rate of 1.34 cents and received a bill of $1,984.22. The Pitt-Greene Electric Co-op purchased 65,400 KWH at an average rate of 1.52 cents and received a bill for $996.32.

During the month which ended September 30, the report said, 17 new rural electric customers were added to the Greenville system, 25 sewer taps were made in the city, and 23 water taps were made in the city.

Net revenue from the Greenville Utilities four major departments last month amounted to $41,379, according to the financial statement presented.

Banking Institute Resumes Classes

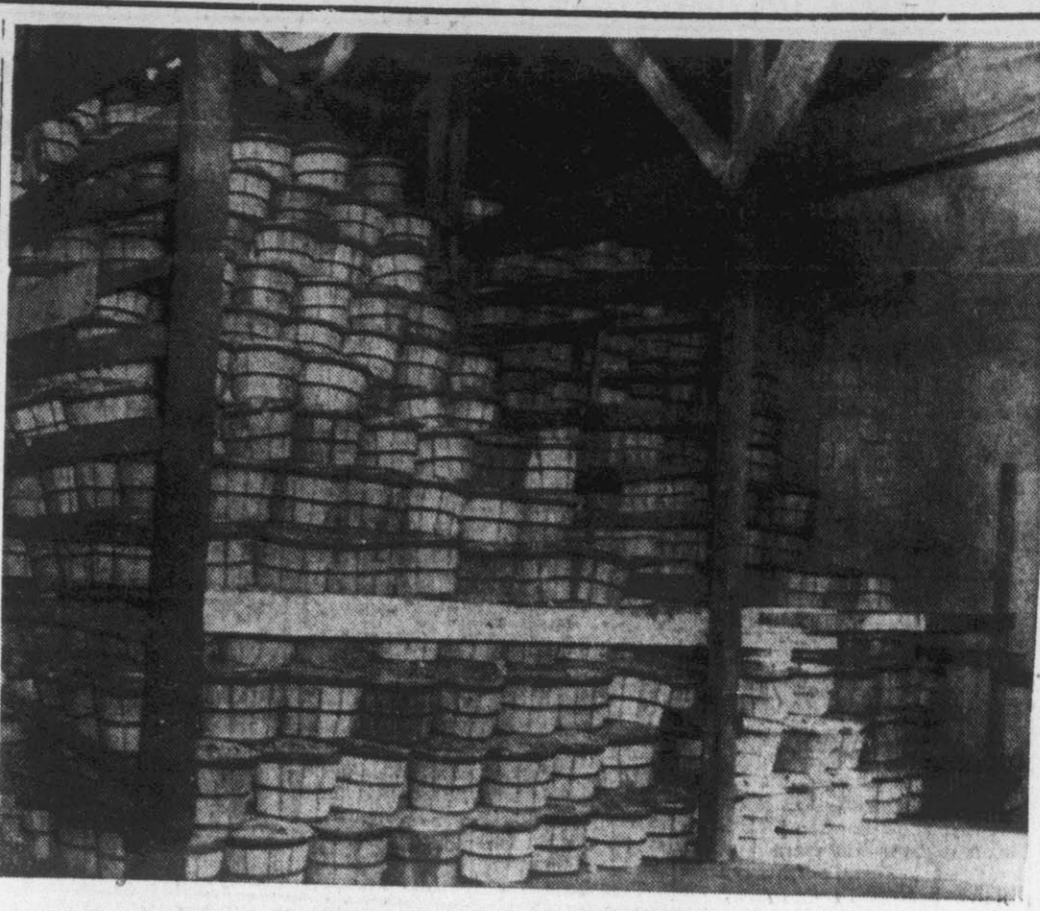

One of the most unusual business educational enterprises the country has known, again resumes its activities in Greenville on October 20th. This is the American Institute of Banking, the educational section of the American Bankers Association, whose Greenville Chapter will offer a four month study course in "Economics" for all bank personnel who choose to take part.

Students will include beginners in the banks, but will also include men who are well along the route of advancement in their own institutions.

The class will be held in the director's room of the Guaranty Bank & Trust Company and will be instructed by Dr. James H. Stewart of East Carolina College.

While banks underwrite the courses and feel they get their dollars worth, it is notable that when the institute was founded more than a half century ago and the local Chapter more than four years ago, it was the bank employees themselves, rather than their employers, who took the initiative for it.

Officers of the Greenville Chapter are: Claude Taylor, President; A. W. Mewborn, Vice-President and Hilck L. Aver, Secretary-Treasurer.

Emergency Call To Get Peanuts

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP)—K.G. Wells, director of the Ozark Empire Fair, got an emergency call on the public address system.

Fairgrounds police sent him hurrying to the grandstand where his young son, Keith, was waiting for him.

"You want me?" Wells asked. "Yes, Daddy, I want some peanuts."

Delinquency At A Tender Age

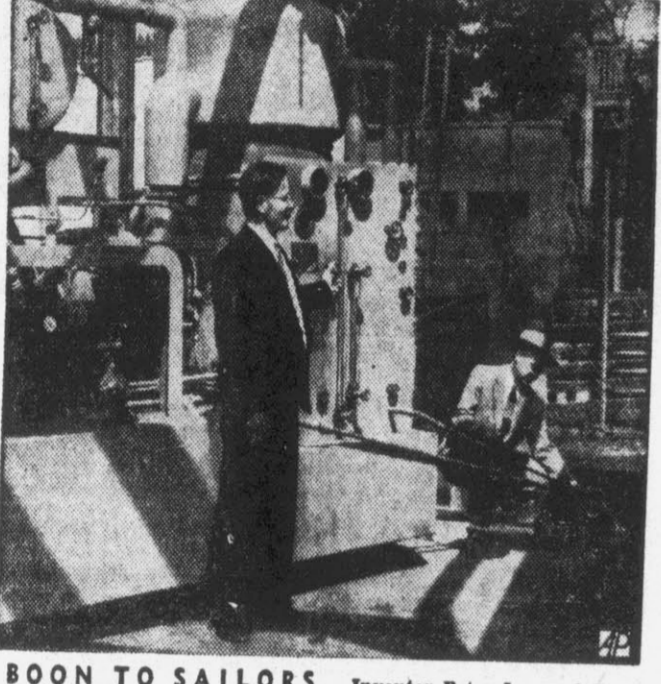

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—When Detective Frank Forster nabbed three boys taking tools from parked cars, he didn't take them to jail. He turned them over to their mothers. They were two 4-year-old boys and their 2-year-old accomplice.

Bank Pays Bonus To Get Pennies

RUTLAND, Vt. (AP)—The saying goes that a penny saved is a penny earned but at the Killington Bank a dollar's worth of pennies will get you $1.05. If you wrap and deposit them you'll get $1.06!

When the bank needs pennies it purchases them in Boston and has to pay shipping charges. It costs less to pay the depositor a bonus and the bank adds new accounts at the same time.

Status Changed By Matrimony

MIDDLETOWN, O. (AP)—A Middletown woman asked for the arrest a couple of years ago of a man on charges of cutting with intent to kill or wound.

The police served the warrant on the man the first time they found him — a few days ago. They were too late. The two are now married.

New Orleans Stages Noisy Tourist Show

By CHARLES A. FRANDOLIG, NEW ORLEANS (UP) — Thousands of free-spending tourists kept the cash registers jingling in their restless search for entertainment today as they awaited the arrival of President Eisenhower Saturday morning.

The presidential visit will climax a gigantic celebration of the 150th anniversary of the Louisiana Purchase.

Night club proprietors in the French Quarter already could look at their cash tills with contentment. The tourists were giving the off-season entertainment economy a stiff shot in the arm.

Dixieland blared frenziedly at the roving visitors. At some of the better strip shows there was standing room only.

Sidewalk barkers urged the crowds inside with the promise, "They're taking everything off but their lipstick." But for the most and hundreds of other attractions will be climaxed Saturday with a military and Mardi Gras parade. President Eisenhower will review the parade then make a nationwide television and radio address.

Cases Heard In City Police Court

By CHESTER WALSH
In Police Court Wednesday Judge Charles H. Whedbee found Edward Turner Powell Jr. of Beaufort, guilty of careless and reckless driving.

The court continued judgment in the case until January 1, 1954, on condition that the defendant pay the amount of money he receives for sale of his automobile on his fine. The judgment also provides that he is not to operate a motor vehicle for six months; that he remain of good behavior and not violate any state motor vehicle law for a year.

The court found Powell not guilty of driving a motor vehicle while drunk.

James Thorn Jr., Negro, larceny of copper tubing, 30 days in jail, suspended on payment of $30 to Ideal Plumbing Company and court costs.

James Thorn Jr., Negro, assault on a female, six months on the roads, sentence suspended on payment of $25, court costs deducted. The judgment also provides that he is to remain of good behavior and not violate any law for a year. He is to remain away from and not visit the premises of any place where the Ideal Plumbing Company is working, and he is not to visit any place where Mary M. Smith, Negro, works or lives.

The case against Warren W. Luton, charging no operator's license, the court gave him 30 days in jail, sentence suspended on payment of $15, and he is not to operate a motor vehicle without an operator's license.

Clarence E. Manning was found not guilty of failure to stop at a stop sign, and Claude Dixon, Negro, was found not guilty.

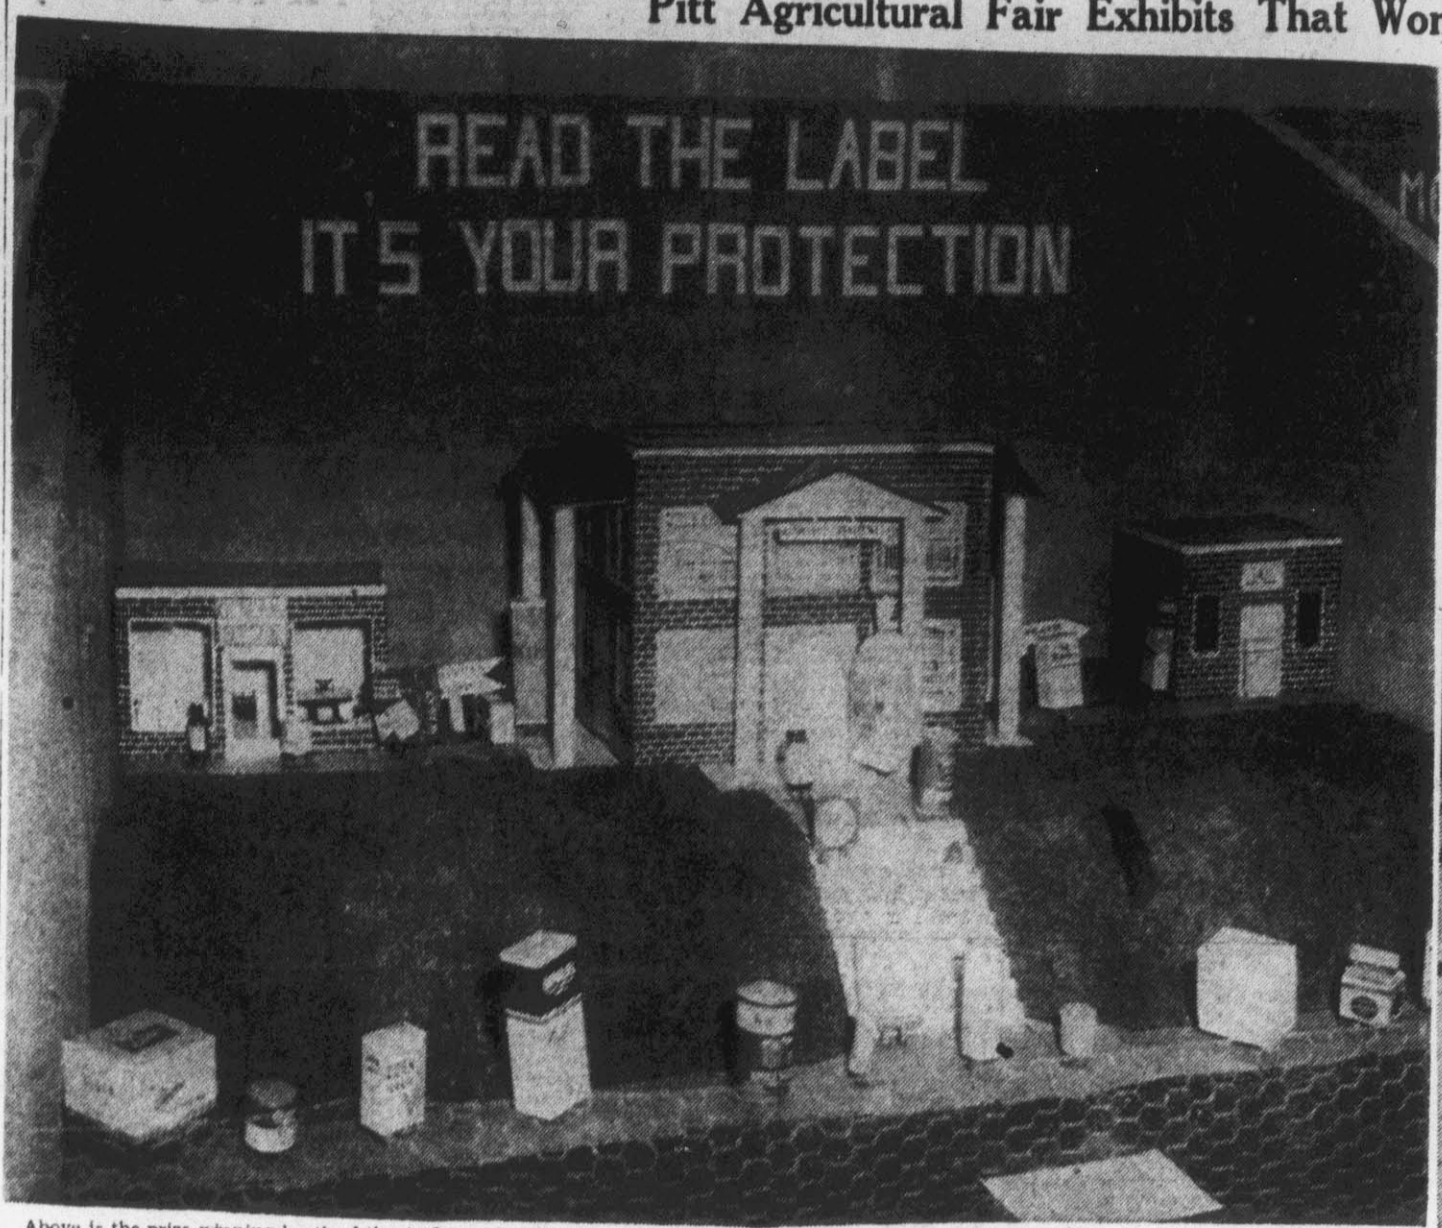

The court found Mary Wilks, Negro, not guilty of the larceny of $170 from Julia Bae Barker, Negro. Robert W. Short paid $10 for being drunk.

Arnold A. Dupree, Negro, careless and reckless driving, 60 days on the roads, sentence suspended on payment of $50, costs deducted. The judgment also provides that he is not to drive a motor vehicle for six months and that he remain of good behavior for a year. The court recommended that his driver's license be revoked for six months.

Dupree was found not guilty of driving while drunk.

China Completes Big Dam Project

HONG KONG (AP)—The Chinese Communist news agency says that the Sanho dam of the Hwai river project has been completed, eliminating the flood threat to hundreds of thousands of acres of land in Kiangsu province.

Safe-Cracker Is Medal-Recipient

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A thief here got some medals for his skill in safecracking.

He spent some time and effort to open a safe at the Love Chemical Co. The medals? About two dozen track medals belonging to the company president's son. No money.

And he wasn't so skillful after all. He could have opened the safe with a single turn of the handle. It was unlocked.

Poultry Exhibit Garners Norman Chambliss Award

At the Pitt County Fair, the Negro 4-H Club poultry production exhibit received the Norman Y. Chambliss Award of $25 for being the best educational exhibit.

Mrs. Margaret B. Wade, assistant Negro Home Demonstration agent, arranged the exhibit.

In the swine production department, another Negro 4-H Club exhibit won second place among educational exhibits.

The Home Demonstration Club exhibits at the Pitt County Agricultural Fair this year depict a part of the yearly program carried on among farmers and farm women and the young people.

Mrs. Amelia S. Capehart, Pitt county home demonstration agent, said, "The entire adult educational program is based on a family approach. The family marriage cycle exhibit at the fair that received first place depicts the beginning family, the expanding family, the launching family and the contracting family, and resource materials available for successful and happy family life." She said the exhibit is worthy of careful study.

The Negro exhibit receiving second place at the fair was about home management and methods of making housekeeping easy.

The Home Demonstration Clubs' "Food Plan for 1953" exhibit won third place.

The exhibits attracted considerable interest by the crowds attending the annual fair, Manager Norman Y. Chambliss stated.

Woman Rescued The Fire Chief

JACKSONVILLE, N.C. (A) — It wouldn't have been quite so embarrassing if it had happened to anybody but a fire chief.

R.O. Wrenn, in charge of the firefighters at the nearby Camp Lejeune Marine Base, was putting up screens at his home here. Staring on the porch roof, he snapped the last screen firmly into place.

Then he realized he couldn't get back into the house, and the ground was a long jump down.

A neighbor — a woman, at that — came to the rescue with a ladder.

And, while he pondered, the frisky horse cantered off, his rider bobbing in the saddle.

Heir To Oil Millions Puts In Day Of Pipeline Work

By WILLIAM W. HUGHES
 LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UP) — Winthrop Rockefeller, who is reported ready to make the biggest divorce settlement in history, went out in a worn skivvy shirt and blue jeans today to supervise the construction of a water pipeline. He is building the pipeline up a 1,000 foot precipice to supply water for his new $1,000,000 estate on arid Pettit Jean Mountain, about 80 miles northwest of Little Rock.

Rockefeller, 41-year-old heir of an oil fortune, will say only "no comment" to reports from Chicago that he is ready to give his "Cinderella bride," Barbara (Bobo) Rockefeller, $5,500,000 in a divorce settlement.

His Little Rock attorney, Edwin E. Dunaway, said there would be no comment "now or in the future."

Rockefeller moved to Arkansas several months ago and established a voting residence by paying his poll tax. He maintains a suite in the Sam Peck Hotel and keeps tab on his business interests in a small office in a bank.

Rockefeller's conduct in the small-town atmosphere of Arkansas has been circumspect. He has gone to parties, but his friends claim that he has not had any dates with Arkansas girls.

Last week he turned down an invitation to attend a social gathering of the Cotillion Club, a women's dance group.

He was persuaded to come to Arkansas by Frank Newell, a Little Rock insurance executive and a fellow officer of Rockefeller in the 7th Division Infantry Regiment in World War II.

Rockefeller's mountain estate, which he calls "Winrock Farm," may become one of the nation's showplaces. Construction on the 700-acre property atop a 15-mile long mountain plateau is about 80 per cent complete.

Rockefeller is spending an estimated $200,000 remodeling a mansion. The estate will include a $40,000 guest house, a $25,000 staff house for his Negro companion, Jim Hudson, two artificial lakes, a 300-acre cattle ranch, three tenant farm homes, a swimming pool and recreation grounds.

The pipeline project will provide enough water for a city the size of nearby Conway, Ark., which has a population of 8,000.

Dig For Body Of Missing Man In Greenlease Case

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (UP)—County jail prisoners armed with spades begin a search today for the buried body—if there is one—of Thomas John Marsh, the mysterious "fall guy" in the Bobby Greenlease kidnaping case.

Buchanan County Prosecutor John Downs said the prisoners would start digging in the yard behind the frame bungalow of Mrs. Bonnie Heady, who helped kidnap Carl Austin Hall, the body of their six-year-old victim in the same yard.

Marsh, a tattooed ex-convict with a reputation as a "wino," was the object of a nationwide search before Hall confessed he was lying when he tried to shift the blame for Bobby's death. Downs believes Hall may have killed Marsh to get him out of the way and protect his alibi.

In Kansas City meanwhile, Jackson County Prosecutor Richard K. Phelps said he would set up legal machinery for a state charge of kidnaping against Hall and Mrs. Heady in case any hitch develops in the federal effort to send them to the gas chamber under the Lindbergh law.

Phelps said he had asked federal authorities to allow him to arraign the pair on a state charge of kidnaping, which also carries a maximum penalty of death.

The Lindbergh law charge is based on Hall's statement that Bobby, who was kidnaped at his school in Kansas City, Mo., was taken across the state line to a wheatfield in Kansas and shot to death.

In St. Louis, a new theory on the whereabouts of the missing $300,000 ransom money was advanced by Police Lt. Louis Shoulters, who arrested Hall Oct. 6 in a hotel room. He said he believed the money, half of the $600,000 paid to the kidnapers, was in the hands of St. Louis hoodlums.

Shoulters said he believed the money was stolen when Hall threw a party in a St. Louis motel with a prostitute, Sandra O'Day. The woman apparently got only $1,000 herself, but Shoulters believes

Troopers Smash Slot Machines

NEW ORLEANS (UP)—Armed state troopers, fiercely opposed by local authorities, searched warehouses and even courthouses and city jails today for the vanished remainder of 4,000 slot machines.

In two days of lightning raids that brought one open clash with a sheriff and met with jeers of "gestapo" and "Heil, Hitler!" 200 troopers smashed 1,300 machines worth $700,000 found in clubs, cafes and storage places over the state.

Some 2,700 additional slot machines are known to exist because the state has been receiving a $100 annual tax on each machine in spite of the fact that they are illegal under state law.

While state revenue collector Rufus Fontenot calculated the effect of a potential loss of $400,000 to the State Treasury, Supt. Francis C. Grevenberg of the state police ordered the raids continued "until the last slot machine is found."

Sheriff Chester Wooten held six of the machines under an armed guard in the Plaquemines Parish courthouse and said the troopers would have to get them "over my dead body."

Wooten had the machines moved there from a bar Wednesday while he and 10 deputies disarmed two troopers who had found them and held the troopers at bay.

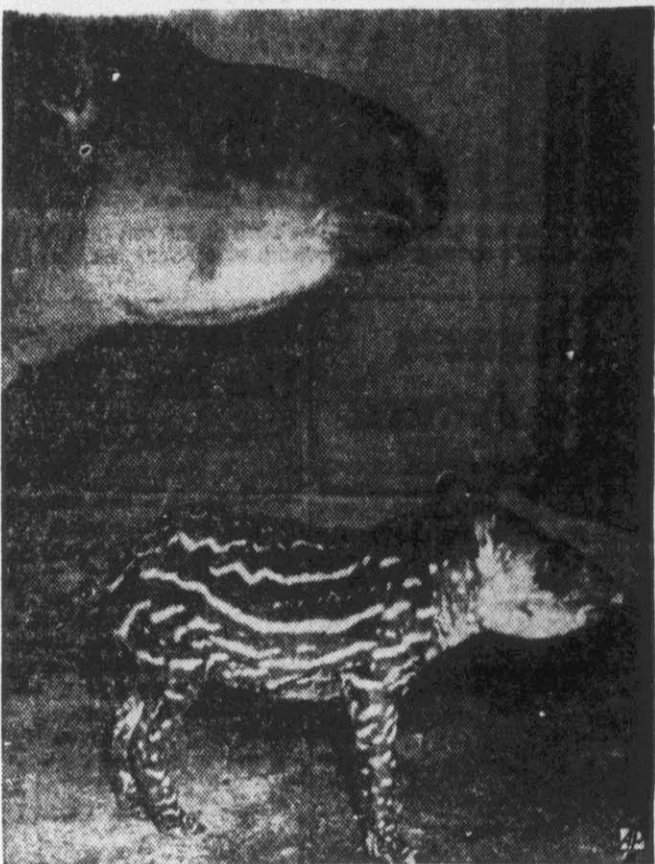

Grevenberg, who for awhile posted three carloads of troopers at the scene, said he was "awaiting an official report of the disarming scandal, and then will consult my legal advisers."

Vermont Parish Sheriff John O. Craft had a different problem with 300 slot machines he seized three months ago. He said he intended to destroy them but the owners halted the action with a suit now pending before the State Supreme Court.

The machines are being housed temporarily in the jail and Craft said, "I don't even have room for a prisoner."

Urges Adjusting To New Level Of Cost

PINEHURST (UP)—Industrial and business management must adjust to meet a "high cost situation" although a new purchasing power is being opened up for millions, the president of the North Carolina Textile Manufacturers Association said today.

For the movement expanding the purchasing power to continue, management must try hard to maintain a sense of perspective in its outlook, H. K. Hallett of Charlotte said. Hallett addressed the 47th annual meeting of the textile manufacturers here.

He said adjustment to "a high cost situation, which it looks like we'll have for a long time to come," is a challenge to management.

Hallett said that in a recent great social and new industrial revolution, bringing advances in efficiency, output and exploratory progress, there has been "heavy cost" and "sacrifice" in industry earnings.

"For this system to continue on successfully, as we want it to do, the typical corporation must continue to prosper in spite of the greatly multiplied demands on its earnings—the higher wage rates, the higher taxes, the higher costs for plant and machinery replacement, and . . . the costs of social responsibilities which modern, enlightened management accepts as obligations of good citizenship."

He said a company must be able to turn back a good part of its earnings into plant improvements. "Instead of kidding ourselves with hopes for substantial tax relief in the immediate future," he said, a greater service could be achieved through revision of the tax structure so as to make it "more equitable and less of a drag on incentive and production."

He urged business and industry leaders to take a more vigorous role in government.

"We are out of that era where

Uprisings Delay Doctors' Trip To Study Giraffe

DURHAM, N. C. (AP)—Native uprisings in Africa have postponed a projected trip of three Duke University doctors to study the blood pressure of giraffes. Dr. James W. Warren and his assistants, Drs. Henry D. McIntosh and E. Harvey Estes, had planned the trip under a grant of the Office of Naval Research. The grant has been extended to Jan. 1.

An African hunter is holding several giraffes for the Duke medical team. Theoretically, a giraffe lives with a constant blood pressure that would kill any other animal, including man. The researchers want to learn now the giraffe's heart and artery tissues stand the strain of the high blood pressure.

Stock And Market Reports

NEW YORK (UP) — Stocks continued to move ahead today, although at not quite the fast pace set yesterday.

Traders and investors took time out for reflection after yesterday's sharp advance and in view of the upcoming weekend.

Stocks as a rule improved a few cents. Trading was brisk, amounting to 380,000 shares in the first hour, against 290,000 shares yesterday, with the total swelled by large opening blocks many representing overnight accumulation of buy orders.

The market yesterday enjoyed its broadest upturn since the recovery movement began the middle of last month. Industrials ran up $3.71 on average, their best gain since March 4, 1952, with individual rises ranging to $3 in the day's most active stock — General Electric.

The latter, helped by the company's plans for production of electric power from atomic energy, featured a general advance which took in all sections of the list. Rails had an even wider gain, percentage-wise climbing $1.83, and utilities, although up only 17 cents were within a few cents of a new 20-year peak.

The gain at the end of the first hour today amounted to 49 cents in industrials, 75 cents in rails and seven cents in utilities.

Market commentators saw the rise — the first in weeks to really shake the list out of its narrow price rut — as reflection of an accumulation of good market news.

Initial good third quarter earnings, favorable dividend action for several companies and some optimistic forecasts for 1954, based on elimination of excess profits tax, helped, as did the GE announcement. And brokers attributed much of the improvement in sentiment to the growing idea, fostered by the Democratic capture of a GOP congressional seat in the recent Wisconsin election that the administration may have to put off for an indefinite period any further deflationary measures it may have had in mind.

General Electric today dipped 1-2 point to 78 3/8. Westinghouse rose 1/4 to 46 1/4.

In the rails, gains ranged to more than a point in Western Pacific and Santa Fe. Southern Pacific and Pennsylvania improved fractionally. New York Central dipped 1-8.

Oils, strong yesterday, gained a few cents in most instances. Texas Pacific Land Trust rose a point. Bethlehem, Republic and U. S. Steel improved fractionally. Chrysler and General Motors each added 1-8 point. Goodyear gained 1-2.

In the tires, Kennecott rose 5-8 in the coppers. American Telephone was up 1-8. Aircrafts were little changed.

Local Weather Continues Mild

The highest temperature in the Greenville area yesterday was 75 degrees, and it was 75 on the same day a year ago.

Lowest temperature here last night was 52, and at 8 a. m. today it was 57, the local U. S. Weather Station reported.

Yesterday a year ago, the highest temperature here was 75. Lowest that night 60, and at 8 a. m. next day it was 65.

Auto Overtakes; Driver Charged

A car driven by Phillip Lewis overturned this morning around 1:30 at the intersection of the Bethel and Pachtus highways.

Patrolman Ship Newman, investigating officer, charged Lewis with operating a car in a careless and reckless manner.

An estimated $300 damage resulted to the car. Lewis escaped injury, Newman stated.

Newman said Lewis told him he "was confused" as to which road he was traveling and ran into the dead-end intersection.

Tobacco Market Prices Continue To Average $60

Although tobacco is off about a cent per pound, Greenville is still averaging $60 per hundred pounds for tobacco sold here, Sales Supervisor W. L. Whedbee reported this morning.

The sales supervisor said the quality of tobacco offered is not quite as good as during mid-season and that is the main reason for lower selling averages.

He reported the practical top is still $70 with some fancy tobacco selling above $70 and medium and common still selling the best it ever has.

Through yesterday's sales the season gross average was $59.01, eight dollars higher than last year and two dollars higher than 1950, which had the best season's average in history. So far this week tobacco has averaged $60.12 per hundred pounds.

There is approximately 1,500,000 pounds on the floor for today's sales. Yesterday's figures: Gross—$31,798 pounds for $491,321.15 averaging $59.06. Net—769,014 pounds for $463,759.34 averaging $60.31.

Prison Term For Couple Tried On Kidnap Charge

CHARLESTON, S. C. (UP) — A Negro woman and man faced six and eight year prison terms today following their sentencing on kidnapping and conspiracy charges here yesterday.

Federal Judge Ashton M. Williams sentenced Victoria Bagwell, 31, of Baltimore Md., to six years after she pleaded guilty to kidnapping five-months old Larry Grant last April.

Charleston cab driver Frank Jones, 27, who pleaded innocent to FBI charges that he stole the child, receiving eight years following his conviction on conspiracy charges.

The woman admitted receiving the Negro infant from Jones and taking him to Baltimore to rear as her own. She was arrested in Baltimore last May and the child returned unharmed to his parents.

Benefit Dinner Planned For Elm St. Park Fund

A big benefit dinner is scheduled for Elm Street Park next Wednesday night, with proceeds going to the recreation building fund, Recreation Commission Director Warren Carroll announced today.

He said that the chief chef will be Robert Elks. The menu will include either ham or fried chicken, with free entertainment for the children.

Following the dinner there will be an auction sale of articles donated by local merchants. Included in these articles are watches, paint, pearls and many others.

"Cake walks for both young and old are scheduled in the evening's activities," Carroll stated, "so don't let the wife cook at home that night. Come out and bring your family."

The recreation commission director said that the Square Dance Club has invited everyone to stay for the square dance after the dinner and auction.

He asked that citizens inspect the building while they are at the park. "If everyone in Greenville gave 50 cents there would be enough to complete the building," Carroll stated, "and with winter coming there is no place for inside recreation—but maybe with a lot of effort there will be enough money coming in to close the building and get it heated."

He urged everyone to buy their ticket now so Elks would have an idea how many to prepare for. Tickets may be purchased downtown for $1 per plate from Louis Gaylord Jr., Heber Tripp or Warren Carroll at the park.

Among the colorful range-land names in New Mexico are Corral, Stetson, Broncho, Gallup, Horse Springs, Mule Creek, Pinto and Rodeo.

Hughes, Duncan Depart Saturday

City Manager James S. Hughes and City Clerk H.H. Duncan will depart tomorrow for Asheville and the 44th annual convention of the North Carolina League of Municipalities to be held Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday.

Asheville's George Vanderbilt Hotel will be headquarters for the three day convention of representatives of the states municipalities.

Sunday's activities will include a welcome by Asheville's Mayor Earl W. Fuller and a get-acquainted supper. Committees will also be announced Sunday.

Mayors, governing board members, and city managers of cities over 10,000 and under 10,000 population will meet Monday with Edwin Gill, N.C. State Treasurer, and W.E. Easterling, N.C. Local Government Commission secretary as speakers.

Other meetings, including that of clerks and tax collectors, are also on Monday's schedule.

At 11 a. m. on Tuesday the concluding general session will be held, which will include a panel and open discussion on city sanitation problems. Adjournment is scheduled for 1 p. m.
