Dr. Marshall Is Guest Speaker For Club Meeting

Following the business session, Dr. W. E. Marshall of East Carolina College gave a most interesting account of two addresses he was privileged to hear at the American Political Science Association meeting in Washington, D. C. last September by Mr. Hammerschold, Secretary of the United Nations from Norway, and Mr. Henry Cabot Lodge III, American ambassador to the United Nations.

Dr. Marshall's topic was "The Same World Still?" In this discussion he said, "Our ambassadors to the United Nations agree that the world is in a state of confusion, and that the problems of today were the problems of yesterday and would continue to be the problems of tomorrow until man finds the secret of defeating the enemies of international order and peace. These enemies, Dr. Marshall said, are:

1. War as a means of settling disputes
2. Nationalism
3. Sovereignty
4. Overpopulation
5. Ideological universalism
6. Economic nationalism
7. Racial discrimination

In conclusion, the speaker stated that both Mr. Hammerschold and Mr. Lodge agree that a democratic state must create a psychology of life for a goal, same as an individual. They think that all people have the same goal in mind—that is, getting along with each other, keeping peace. The problem is how.

During the social hour which followed, lovely refreshments were served by the hostesses and a shower was given Mrs. R. P. Rogers.

Her Search Ends With Auto Crash

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Worried when her husband failed to arrive home on time, Mrs. Louise E. Wilson, 31, set out to search for him yesterday in one of the family's two cars.

Her search ended with a bang. Her car became involved in a traffic accident with an automobile driven by Terance A. Wilson—her husband.

Traffic investigator Dale Hearn arrested Wilson. He was charged with driving under the influence of intoxicating liquors.

The Mason-Dixon line between Pennsylvania and Maryland, famed as the division between North and South was set up to end disputes over private land grants.

Hurling Plane Hits Residential Area; Six Killed

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Shrouded in rain clouds, an Air Force jet fighter plane rocketed into a Signal Hill residential district late yesterday, demolished two homes and exploded, set fire to a third home and damaged a fourth. Six persons died and four were injured, two so seriously they may not recover.

In addition, an elderly man, horrified at what he saw, suffered a heart attack and died.

The hurling plane ripped out telephone lines and broke gas mains that erupted into geysers of flame. Blazing jet fuel cascaded over what an instant before had been a quiet neighborhood in the oil producing area, which is completely surrounded by the city of Long Beach.

The pilot, Maj. Robert A. Blair of Omaha, Neb., was among the dead. A boy perished in the street where he was playing.

"There were flames everywhere, in the houses, spread across the street and shooting from gas mains," said Mrs. Dorothy McCormick, who said she was almost knocked off a chair in her home by the blast.

The F86 Sabre jet was one of two returning to the Long Beach Municipal Airport from Williams Air Force Base, Ariz., when they were enveloped in dense clouds. Both jets raced out to sea, then swept in under the clouds. One made it to the airport, but Maj. Blair's craft sheared off the top of a fir tree in front of a home for convalescents. This house was not damaged, but next door the home of Mrs. Shirley Roberts was demolished and she and her infant son Douglas were killed.

The plane exploded with this impact and disintegrated into a 200-foot roaring path of flame as it lashed crazily into two other homes. The jet's blazing fuel dropped onto a fourth residence and burned part of it.

The other dead were Mrs. Shirley Ledbetter, 25; Stephen Louis Shoup, 11; Mrs. Grace Miller, 63, and Ernest G. Bailey, 72, who suffered the heart attack.

The injured are Edward Ledbetter, 24, and his son, Edward Lynn, 4 months, both critically burned and not expected to survive; Mrs. Nancy King, 18, who occupied the other half of a duplex with the Ledbetters, and her daughter, Sherry Lynn King, 2 1/2 months.

Human Ladder Rescued Youth

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Four city firemen formed a human ladder yesterday to rescue a young boy who was being swept along an underground sewer drain.

Eight-year-old Albert Salvia fell 20 feet down a manhole into the icy water, which was about three feet deep. The firemen, one on top of the other and lashed together by ropes, retrieved the struggling youngster and raised him to safety as hundreds of cheering spectators gathered around the scene.

Long-Lost Uncle Found In Time To Attend Funeral

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP)—Thirty-three years ago William E. Cook disappeared from his home at Ashland, Kan. Yesterday relatives found him less than 150 miles from Ashland—but only in time to attend his funeral.

A story on his death in the Hutchinson News-Herald Sunday was noted by Mrs. Charles Wilson of Ashland. She consulted the family Bible and concluded he was her long-lost uncle. She and other relatives drove to Hutchinson yesterday, identified the body and attended the funeral.

Cook, 84, had been in a Hutchinson nursing home the last four years. Previously he had been working for several years as a ranch hand at Meade, within 40 miles of Ashland.

Take A Careful Look, Mr. Farmer

As far as the Eisenhower administration is concerned, it appears that the present tobacco support program has won favor, and that tobacco farmers may expect the continuation of tobacco price supports at 90 per cent of parity.

That recommendation was made by President Eisenhower in presenting his farm program to Congress. Tobacco was the only crop singled out by the President for a firm price support of 90 per cent of parity stated in the law.

All other crops would be subject to the sliding scale of price supports to be fixed from year to year by the Secretary of Agriculture according to production, and within certain limits set by law.

Superficially at least, it appears that tobacco farmers have a decided advantage in their fight for maintaining a firm price support for their principal crop. Yet, with all other crops subject to flexible price supports, there is a serious question as to how long tobacco could maintain its enviable position.

A great deal of study must be given by Congress to the new agricultural law and the President's proposal before any new law is written. In spite of the fact that tobacco has been singled out by the President for a support price at 90 per cent of parity fixed by law, this is no time for tobacco farmers to sit back and lull themselves into believing all is well. Tobacco farmers—particularly in Eastern North Carolina—have an important stake in the overall farm program

Enough To Make Southern Blood Boil

A haughty New Englander has blurted out at the South and charged the section below the Mason-Dixon line is using dishonest and unfair tactics in what he calls "stealing" New England's industries.

The rough-talking Congressman who threatened the South with a day of "retribution" is Rep. Lane, Democrat of Massachusetts, who has introduced a bill which

Strength for the Day

By EARL L. DOUGLASS
THE UPPER HAND

Fifty years ago conservative thinkers in almost every circle set the style of thought and action. Many of these leaders were reactionary. Some were stuffed shirts; others, brass hats. If a person expressed a liberal idea, he was soon smacked down and shoved aside.

Today it is different. The liberal sets the style now. Let a conservative dare to peep on any subject, and a dozen people are ready with jeers and reproaches to silence him. The people really admired in contemporary life are the ones who claim to be fifty years ahead of their day. Speak about eternal values, and the academicians laugh at you. Say anything about going slowly in government handouts, and you are liable to have your income tax report reviewed pronto. Express admiration for any idea more than five years old, and you are told to go to the cemetery and make a date with the grave digger.

Throughout my life I have had considerable experience with both conservatives and liberals. I am sorry to say that the illiberality of the liberal is worse and more unreasonable than the reaction of the conservative. No group can be so tyrannical as those who howl morning and night about freedom. Liberalism easily turns sour.

John L. Is A Big Capitalist

By RAY TUCKER
WASHINGTON—John L. Lewis' offer to throw several million dollars into the longshoremen's jurisdictional squabble on New York's waterfront highlights the fact that the nation's unions have become wealthy corporations as well as powerful political organizations. It is estimated that the value of their bank deposits, securities and real estate totals at least $500,000,000.

The United Mine Workers' president, who backs the outlawed longshoremen's faction against the American Federation of Labor's reform group, is as shrewd a businessman and investor as he is a labor politician. Many AFL-CIO leaders show the same acumen, although they cannot match the Welshman who, as circumstances demand, can act the role of Hamlet, Polonius—or Brutus, so F.D.R. thought. He now aspires to be a J. Pierpont Morgan.

A recent checkup indicates that the 47 national and international unions with headquarters here rank next to the Federal Government in ownership of improved real estate. They have taken long strides toward becoming capitalists since Sam Gompers rented three dingy rooms here in 1897. They now own banks, apartment houses, office buildings, hospitals, insurance companies, and they deal heavily in first mortgages.

A WEALTHY UNION—Lewis moved his command to Washington from Indianapolis in the early days of the New Deal in order to be near his political pal, Franklin D. Roosevelt. For a while, he headquartered in a swanky hotel, renting a few rooms for his politico-economics speech-writing staff.

A decade ago, although he had then broken with F.D.R., he purchased the handsome University Club for the graduates of the nation's leading houses of learning found that they could not afford the upkeep. In other words, they could not keep up with the Lewises. The coal bills got too big.

Now, John L. owns this structure and four other revenue-producing buildings on tree-shaded McPherson Square. It is here that his assembled delegates squint during infrequent conventions while "the boss" decides how this democratic body shall vote.

LEWIS CONTROLS BANK—The Miners' Wel-

adopted by Congress; not in just the tobacco program.

Pitt County is the largest single producer of bright leaf tobacco in the world. Tobacco accounts for approximately 73 to 76 per cent of the total farm income in Pitt County from year to year. Yet the other 25 to 27 per cent of the Pitt County farmer's income which must come from cotton, peanuts, livestock and other crops can well mean the difference between showing a profit and going into debt in any year.

For that reason, if for no other reason, farmers of this area should see they have an important stake in the policy adopted toward price supports of cotton, peanuts, and other crops, as well as tobacco. It is a shortsighted farmer even in Pitt County who takes the attitude that his interest in the federal government agricultural program begins and ends where the tobacco program begins and ends.

A great deal of study must be given the new farm program by members of Congress. Farmers of Pitt as well as other areas should make certain that the members of Congress view any farm program with full knowledge of the farmers standpoint, as it regards tobacco and other crops. A great many changes in any federal program can be made from the time it is proposed by the administration and the time it actually is written into law.

Now that the stage has been set, farmers should see to it that the permanent scenery is arranged to their liking and to their advantage.

Wife With A Business Head

The question has occurred to me: Is a man better off if his wife has a business head?

Off hand, you might say that it would help. In my case, it would help if Wife Rachel were a little more inclined in that direction. However, I must give her credit: Lately she has been writing checks on the right bank! Furthermore, she has written out the amounts of the checks and told me about all (I hope) of them so I could enter them. This is definitely a surprising step in the right direction.

But the other day she bought a $16 item that the merchant would have been glad to get $14.50 for, without even mentioning the idea of getting a better price. Later, when I hit the ceiling she simply said, "Such a thing never occurred to me. After all, that was the price, so why should I question it?"

So last night I was discussing W.R.'s lack of business ability with her. "Some women," she said, "have remarkable business brains. Some even have better judgment than their husbands and handle all of the family finances." Then she named one of her friends who writes all of the checks.

As she was talking I had a vision of what might happen if W.R. developed a business mind and took over the family finances. All of a sudden I could hear myself say, "Rachel, where's the check book?"

"And what do you want with the check book?"

"To write a check, of course."

"To whom?"

"Oh, just one of the hardware stores."

"For what?"

"Oh, just something."

He charged the South with not abiding by decent standards and decent practices in securing industry, and cried that the area below the Mason-Dixon line will regret what he termed "the techniques and sweatshop wages" when the day comes it will have to abide by "decent standards and decent practices . . . on a nationwide basis."

Rep. Lane made a lot of charges against the South which in our opinion are totally unfounded.

To us, his verbal broadsides at the South sound like the babbling of the neighborhood bully who suddenly finds the kid whom he has taken advantage of for so long has grown up and can meet him on equal terms.

As is usually the case when such a situation occurs, the bully goes running home to mama, crying that a grave injustice had been done him.

fare Fund, oddly enough, is one of his tenants, occupying two of his buildings. It is this agency which handles sick disabled, death and retirement benefits. The fund is financed by a 20-cent royalty on each ton of coal, and is supposed to be a joint activity of operators and the U.M.W. Lewis runs it like a czar, however. There are proposals for a Congressional investigation of its management.

A few years ago, Lewis became dissatisfied with the interest paid by banks on his deposits. So, he bought a bank, or bought heavily into it. Anyway, two U.M.W. officials sit on the board of directors, and it is known as the "Lewis Bank."

The Welfare Fund's $10,000,000 of reserves has been banked with this institution. The U.M.W.'s assets of $45,000,000 are also on deposit there. John L. is trying to "persuade" his 5,000 locals to do business with this institution with promise of 2½ per cent interest, or slightly more than competitors offer. Since John L. stepped in, the bank has climbed from thirteenth to third among the Capital's largest and most successful.

OTHER LABOR HOLDINGS—But he is not the only labor union capitalist. Likewise discontented over bank interest, the letter carriers (AFL) built an eight-story building, and rented six. The electrical workers (AFL) erected a 568-unit apartment on fashionable Sixteenth Street. The AFL will construct a new headquarters on Lafayette Square, two blocks from the White House and across the street from the home which Dolly Madison fled in a nightgown during a midnight blaze.

The CIO occupies a five-story building facing the same square, but one block nearer to President Eisenhower's dwelling. It adjoins the red-brick, colonial residence where Stephen Decatur died after his duel with Commodore James Barron, both of 1812 war fame.

Organized labor's political strategists, however, have not shifted their center of operations here merely because Washington is a beautiful and booming Capital. They have descended here in order to exert even greater pressure on an Administration and Congress which they regard as hostile. They mean to retain, if possible, the power and influence they won from Roosevelt and Truman.

What Other Editors Are Thinking

HOW RESPONSIVE ARE THEY? (Henterson Dispatch)

Every so often some one speaks out in an appeal to "write your congressman" about this or that. It is claimed that gentlemen on Capitol Hill have the highest respect for public opinion, particularly of their own constituents. Actually, however, just how responsive are the law-makers to reaction from back home on great burning public questions?

Have you ever written your representative or your senator? If you have, do you remember the sort of answer you got? Of course, much depends upon the subject at issue and the method of approach. But the reply probably ran something like this:

"I am glad to have your letter. I appreciate and value highly your judgment on this and other subjects. I am giving the matter, but serious thought and when the proper time comes will keep in mind your opinion in such action as I may take." In the light of such a response, how much impression do you think you made? Much? Little? Any at all?

More than once that has been our own experience. Sometimes we wonder if the gentleman in Washington or his secretary composes the answer to the constituent's letter.

Since congressmen are back in Washington for the new session of the national legislature, there have been references to what the people back home are thinking. Well, what do they think, beyond matters that touch their pocket-books? How much are they concerned about other problems of government? They want their boys brought home from Korea or Germany, or wherever else they may be in the service. That is natural with all of us. But how many are interested in foreign relations? Does their interest extend beyond the extent to which social security will benefit them, how much taxes will be cut, what will be done about segregation or Federal aid to education? This latter, moreover, goes back largely to who will benefit and how much.

How do congressmen spend their time during the recess? Do they get about over their district to contact the people? When was the last time you saw your congressman or senator? Did you see them during the last campaign when they were up for reelection—unless they had serious opposition?

Just how responsive is your congressman to your own views and wishes? Is the thought something of a myth, beyond the period of the election campaign? Think it over in your own mind, and give yourself at least an answer—if you can.

And I thank you.

JACK EDWARDS

"For what?"

"A new rod and reel, what else?" And if W.R. had such a masterful business mind she might think of about a thousand sound reasons why I had no business buying a new rod and reel. Or why I should not do this or not do that, for that matter.

Then, when the vision was over and I came back to the conversation I said to W. R., "You cook and keep house and I'll manage the business affairs. All I ask is that you continue to write checks, and as far as possible, on the right bank and report all of them so I can stub 'em. And please always ask the merchant if he's giving you the closest price on items over $10. That can be the extent of your business functions."

After all, who wants a wife with business ability?

And I thank you.

Foods From Abroad

By ELMER ROESSNER

The frozen-food industry is closely watching a New York department store's venture in flying in frozen meals from Maxim's of Paris. It is offering a choice of six dishes, ranging from two Normandy trout, skinless and boneless, in a champagne and cream sauce, at $3.25, to six filets of Channel sole, sauted in butter, vermouth and shallots. In between there is beef mulled in beer; veal in cream sauce; veal in champagne, butter and cream; lamb with vegetables and white wine sauce. Each dish serves two.

Several years ago another department store flew in frozen French dishes at modest prices. What interests the frozen-food industry in the present importation (by B. Altman & Co.) is the bold bid for the luxury market. In the highly competitive frozen-food industry, price is still the main selling point.

Appeals to the carriage trade and the lure of exotic foods may be just the boost the industry needs. In the first place, such dishes would better acquaint the consumer with complete packaged meals. Secondly, food processors would have wide latitude in their choice of products and could eliminate competition in the same foods. Thirdly, famous names would increase appeal.

Four packages labeled "frozen beef," "frozen onions," "frozen carrots" and "frozen mushrooms" could hardly compete with the finished product in one package labeled "Boeuf Bourguignon Waldorf."

The American has become international-minded, and he will be even more so if the family were served chicken curry from Bombay on Monday; domestals plaff from Armenia on Tuesday, veal cassiciatore from Rome on Wednesday; coq au vin from France on Thursday; vinhadinhos from Rio de Janeiro on Friday and who knows, cotolette Kiev impetrale from Moscow on some far-distant Sunday.

Dishes from famous American restaurants and regional foods might go over big; an abalone steak with all the trimmings cooked at Bernstein's in San Francisco; beef from the Pump Room in Chicago; crab salad from Huber's in Portland; fried chicken and hominy grits from New Orleans; a Maryland shore dinner really from Maryland, or tamales from the San Fernando Valley.

PLASTIC GAINS TO BE SMALLER A new record was set last year by the plastics industry with approximately 3 billion pounds of raw materials produced. Another will be set this year with 3,150,000,000 pounds, the Society of the Plastics Industry predicts.

This 5 per cent increase will be small compared with the 30 per cent jump over the 1952 output of 2,333,924,000 pounds. The value of all plastics produced in 1953 is estimated at $1.5 billion, which 1954 should bring up to $1,575,000,000.

The society reports the industry anticipates a mild decrease in activity during the first few months of 1954. However, the decline will not be severe and will not continue past the middle of the year.

VERMONT BOTTLE BATTLE BEGINS Vermont's law banning beer sales in nonreturnable bottles has landed in court with 15 major bottle makers and five wholesale companies asking that last year's law be declared unconstitutional.

The bottlers and wholesalers charge that they are being deprived of property without due process of law, contending that profits from the sale of beer in returnable containers, alone, is not as great.

NEW CURRENCY REALLY ISN'T A new currency unit called the "Central American Peso" is being created. No bills or coins will be issued, however, since the unit will appear only on travelers' checks issued by the five official Central Banks of Central America. The checks will be redeemable at the banks, in local currency and at the prevailing rate for the dollar.

Then Frank decided to create a family corporation to rule on all family questions with each member being allowed one vote for each year of his age.

The current voting status is as follows: Frank, 38; Lill, 37; young Frank, 17; John, 15; Tom, 13; Mary, 7; Theresa, 4; Paul, 1; Bill, 1.

Currently the senior partners are about to outvote the junior members of the Blair corporation 75 to 59 in a showdown, but Frank says it doesn't often come to a bloc.

"The kids don't vote as a bloc against us," he said. "The first thing we found out is that they won't take advantage of a situation if you give them a sense of participation. That is the wonder of the thing about children—their real sense of honesty and fairness."

The family corporation meets every Sunday. The members vote fines and penalties and punishments, decide questions like what type of new car to buy and where to spend vacations.

The kids have routine chores they are expected to perform, but are paid for extra duties such as baby sitting. Each member of the family pays a penny a week for each year of his age, and the pot is divided among the kids just before Christmas each year, including as a bonus the money chipped in by Dad and Mom. Lill acts as treasurer by popular demand.

"I don't know whether it would work with every family," said Frank. "But this corporation game has helped bring us closer together, and we all have learned a great deal from it."

"It has given us a real insight into our children's minds, really opened a new world to us. You can't push your kids out the front door, tell them to come back in three hours, and then forget them. That is how they get into trouble. You have to find a way to give them something to do—and a feeling of responsibility."

"This is to suggest, therefore, that your newspaper ask each General Assembly candidate in your county and senatorial district how he stands on legislative secrecy; and then publish his answer or his failure to answer, if he refused to commit himself. That will put the issue where it belongs—squarely before the people."

One or two have said they expect to work for retention of secrecy in the next Legislature. The obligation is being accepted by the newspapers to let the voters know how the candidates stand on this matter, as they have in the past sought to inform the people of candidates' positions on other public questions.

Dog Who Does Own Shopping Is Not Trusted With Money

AP Newsfeatures

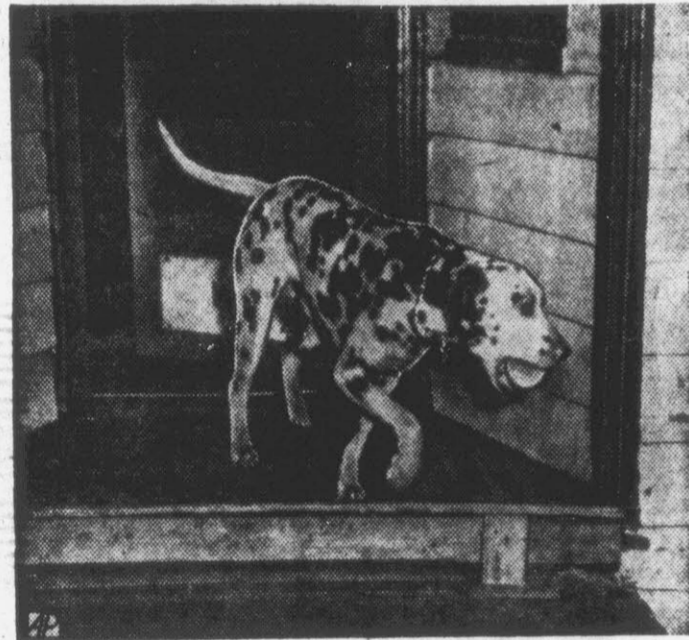

SELF SERVICE — A dog does his own shopping in South Portland, Maine. Spanner is the mascot at the Cash Corner Fire Station—rides to all fires on Engine 5. When he gets hungry he trots down the street to Lumbe-Lano's store. If the door is closed he barks to be let in. Then he flips one can of his favorite dog food off the shelf with his paw and takes it back to the station to find a fireman with a can opener. He is no longer trusted with money—took to burying it behind the station. Now he has a charge account. Lt. Norman Thompson says he used to carry money in a paper bag. He would give the bag to Lano before he picked out his food.

Who closed this door? Let me in. I want to shop.

THAT'S BETTER — Here's what I want to buy. I'm hungry.

GOODBY — Now I'll find someone with a can opener.

Hayne finally learned how the story ended.

LINCOLN, Neb., (AP)—A Lincoln man who owed $99.20 in taxes went before the county board and asked for a job so he could pay the bill. The board directed the county engineer to put the man to work, with the promise of a possible regular county job if things went well. Few Movie Stars Plan To Work Abroad Again

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — Stars like Clark Gable, Lana Turner, Gene Kelly and Claudette Colbert have returned from long picture-making jaunts abroad and chances are they won't soon be going again. Gregory Peck and Alan Ladd are reportedly among those yearning for an early return to Hollywood. Aside from the normal feeling of homesickness, many of the stars have good reasons for wanting to be back. Glenn Ford, who has made at least five pictures out of the country, was telling me some of the factors that will cause him to think twice before he accepts another overseas assignment. Unlike the others I have mentioned, Glenn can't go abroad for tax purposes. "I could very easily have taken advantage of the 18-month tax deal," said the actor on "The Human Beast" set. "I had already been in Europe eight months to make a picture. But another 10 months would have meant spending two Christmases away from home. I couldn't see it. I suppose I was stupid financially. But it turned out that the tax deal was repealed before I would have finished my 18 months, and I wouldn't have earned a fabulous amount of money." He had this to say to actors who are contemplating overseas films:

"If you are planning to go for a paid vacation, you've got a shock coming. But you travel fold-ers away. You can fix your contract to provide time before and after the production. But you'll generally find you have to start work the moment you arrive. And the extra month you planned for touring will probably be taken up with finishing the picture. "Two things you will learn making pictures in foreign countries: patience and tolerance. You can't expect to find the comforts you have in Hollywood. Warrobo? You carry your own. Dressing room? They'll laugh at you when you mention it. Heat on the set? There isn't any. If you want to keep warm, you'll buy a heater and keep it beside you. "You'll also have to learn that time means nothing. A scene that takes five hours to shoot in Hollywood will require five days over there. In France, work starts at 9 in the morning. But that doesn't mean everyone is on the set and ready to shoot at 9. That's the hour when everyone starts to arrive at the studio! "Another thing you'll learn: that American actors aren't welcome everywhere. In England, they're glad to have you and treat you well. But in many other countries, they resent your presence. They consider that you are taking jobs that rightfully belong to native actors. "They also think of Americans as children. They consider Hollywood movies juvenile and laugh at our 'childish' tastes."

Hole In Doughnut Is Made Edible

AP Newsfeatures
AUSTIN, Tex. — Every time a customer of Miss Helen L. Corbitt buys a doughnut he gets the hole, too. Wherever she's worked, Miss Corbitt has become the heroine of doughnut eaters by seeing to it they get the little chunks punched out to make the holes. Each hole is cooked into a little golden ball and then perched right back on top of the doughnut. Family Custom Right now the favored customers are those of the coffee shop and dining room of Austin's Driskill Hotel, where Miss Corbitt is director of food services. "It's the way I was brought up," she explains. "My mother always cooked the holes right along with the doughnuts." Mother did her cooking in northern New York, where Miss Corbitt started her dietary career. She was in charge of private food service at Cornell Medical Center before she joined the University of Texas home economics staff 13 years ago. Conversation Pieces She worked at the Houston Country Club and Joske's of Houston before coming to the Driskill. The biggest advantage of serving up the holes is the conversation they provoke, Miss Corbitt believes. There's always a lot of joking about whether the holes are cheaper than the doughnuts, what happens to the oles at other coffee shops, and bets won from doubting new customers lured in by old ones. Two-hole Doughnut One customer recently complained that the hole received was too small to have been the one that came out of his doughnut. He was served a second hole for good measure. Miss Corbitt says it was the only two-hole doughnut she has ever served.

Harold Edwards Sparks G-Men To Triumph Over Elizabeth City In Northeastern Conference Game

By WAYNE BISHOP
Reflector Sports Writer

Greenville's Phantoms ran into some difficulty last night before they could come through with a 57-51 victory over Elizabeth City in a loosely played contest.

The G-men got off to a quick start and at one stage in the second period enjoyed a 24-10 lead over their Northeastern Conference foe. At that point the Jackets caught fire and pulled within four points at halftime, 31-27.

At the beginning of the third quarter the Phantoms pulled steadily away to gain a 45-36 advantage with 8:11 remaining in the period. Here another sudden spurt by the Jackets brought them to 47-42 at the end of the stanza.

In the fourth quarter, the Greenville defense held Elizabeth City to one field goal and enabled the Phantoms to unfold their lead throughout the remainder of the game.

The win was the third consecutive conference triumph of the year for Coach Bob Farley's squad. It also extended the G-Men's overall winning streak to five games. The record now stands at seven wins and two losses.

Center Harold Edwards sparked his teammates to victory by bucketing 17 points and pulling in 14 rebounds. Edwards and forward Bob Howell swept the boards for the Phantoms.

Playmaker George Sideris was runner-up in scoring with 10 points. Guard Pat Sawyer with 9, and Howell with 8, also contributed heavily to the attack.

The contest marked the last game of the week for Coach Farley's crew. Their next contest is with Roanoke Rapids Wednesday night.

Phantoms Down Jackets By 42-36 Count

Greenville High School's Junior Phantoms bounced back from a six-point halftime deficit to defeat Elizabeth City's Jayvees 42-36 in Elizabeth City's new gymnasium last night.

Coach Bill Kittrell's Baby Spooks used a last quarter rally to wrap the game up. They had trailed 23-17 at the half and had been tied 30-27 at the end of three quarters.

Little guard Ike Riddick came off the bench late in the first quarter to score 19 points and spark the Junior Phantoms to victory. Riddick had been sidelined for a week with an attack of influenza and was still running a slight fever during the game. His presence in the contest smoothed a Greenville attack that had sputtered until he was sent in by Coach Kittrell.

The victory was the sixth straight for Kittrell's squad.

Gavilan To Meet Olson In Bout

CHICAGO (AP)—Kid Gavilan, convinced Chicago is hot for him, has won his first skirmish with Bob Olson, the man he'll meet for the middleweight championship of the world April 2.

The Cuban Kid, current welterweight champ persuaded Olson that the good old Yankee dollar can be had for the asking in Chicago Stadium where, it was announced yesterday, the match will be held.

Olson, middleweight titleholder by virtue of his recent victory over England's Randy Turpin, had been holding out for San Francisco, his adopted home town. He also had cast a speculative eye at New York's Madison Square Garden.

But Gavilan has enjoyed immense financial success in Chicago and International Boxing Club sources say he and his manager, Angel Lopez, convinced the Olson camp that holding his "natural" any place else would be sheer waste.

Terms call for Olson to receive 35 per cent of the gate, the Kid 25.

Majors Beginning To Woo Pitchers

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Three major league hurlers who viewed the prospect of opposing hitters with a certain amount of contempt last year are eyeing 1954 contracts in the same fashion.

The Philadelphia Phillies had double-barreled contract problems today with both 23-game winner Robin Roberts and outfielder Richie Ashburn picking up where they left off as defensive standouts last season.

Both fielded their 1954 contracts on one hop yesterday and whisked them back into the Phillies' front office before owner Bob Carpenter could say "Sign on the dotted line."

"I have no intention of signing that contract," said Roberts. "I'm asking quite a bit more," said Ashburn.

Carpenter said: "I don't anticipate trouble in adjusting the difference."

The St. Louis Cardinals, on the other hand, wouldn't say whether they expected trouble from their 20-game winning left-hander Harvey Haddix, who likewise returned his unsigned contract.

Oklahoma A&M Seeking Berth Among Top Fives

NEW YORK (AP)—The Oklahoma A&M Cowboys today put in a strong bid to split the trio of teams which have dominated the top spots in the Associated Press weekly basketball polls.

Hank Iba's terrors of the prairies have been running a weak fourth behind Kentucky, Duquesne and Indiana. But in their support now they can offer a season's record of 14 victories in 15 games with the one loss coming by a single point against Minnesota.

The Cowboys possessed the 11th-ranking Jayhawks last year's NCAA Western titlist, last night 54-50 for their 11th straight triumph and their 27th in a row in their home court.

After a poor start Kansas had won six straight, including the Big Seven's preseason tournament at Kansas City. The Jayhawks stayed even through the first 20 minutes but A&M spurred into a 41-32 lead in the third period and stayed well in front.

Bob Mattick, the Oklahomans' 6-11 center, held B. H. Born, the Kansas big boy, to six points and scored 14 himself. Frank Bigam led the third-period surge and ended high man with 15.

Ninth-ranking Duke was upset by Wake Forest 96-89 but two other top 10 members won easily. Holy Cross, No. 6, outscored Boston College 33-12 in the final quarter in winning 83-57. George Washington, No. 7, overpowered Virginia Military 66-50. The Crusaders and Colonials each have won 11 without a defeat.

Dickie Henrich, playing his first full game since injuring his ankle Jan. 2, scored 34 points for Wake Forest as the Deacons handed Duke its first loss in Atlantic Coast Conference play.

Niagara, No. 13, coasted over the University of Michigan 77-41, and Rice, No. 15, whipped Texas Christian 69-52 in the Southwest Conference.

Texas remained unbeaten in Southwest Conference play by edging Texas A&M 49-46. The Longhorns have won three.

Frank Selvy, the nation's highest scorer, hit for 40 points, well under his season's best, as his Furman team beat Clemson 87-69.

North Carolina State found South Carolina surprisingly tough before winning an Atlantic Coast Conference game 68-62.

Madison Square Garden, where college basketball first went big time, drew its smallest regular season night double-header crowd in 20 years. Only 4,296 cash customers showed up to see LaSalle defeat Manhattan 69-61 and Georgetown win from New York University 75-67.

Arizona won its first Border Conference game in two starts, edging New Mexico A&M 67-65.

but not enough," said the 28-year-old hurler at his winter home in South Vienna, Ohio.

And Whitey Ford, who contributed 18 victories to the New York Yankees' pennant drive last year, rejected what he too called a small increase in pay, becoming the first Bronx holdout of 1954.

"I was offered a real small raise," said Ford. "and I'm absolutely giving it back to them." Ford had contract trouble last year too, and was a tardy arrival at the Yanks' training camp March 2. But the 27-year-old Roberts waxed the most indignant over his club's 1954 offer.

"I am thoroughly disappointed and disgusted," he said. "I'm not going to take a cut in salary even if it's a nickel."

Roberts, who won 23, lost 16 and pitched 347 innings last year, declared that "we're far apart." It is believed he drew around $40,000 last year. He declined to say how much of a cut he was offered.

Duke Team Loses In League Play

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

With Duke's mighty basketball machine toppled from the top of the Atlantic Coast Conference standings, North Carolina today took over undisputed possession of first place.

Wake Forest's unpredictable Demon Deacons, utilizing the shooting ability of their prize center Dickie Henrich, upset the favored Blue Devils last night, 96-89, at Wake Forest.

The victory pushed Maryland up to second and left Wake and Duke tied for third. Henrich, who had been out with an injured foot, was a doubtful starter before game time but he erased any doubt about his foot bothering him by scoring 34 points.

The Deacons turned on a fast fourth quarter to overcome the ninth-ranked nationally Dukes.

At Charlotte, a surprisingly strong South Carolina team almost upset highly favored North Carolina State. The Gamecocks had things their own way until the final quarter when a 12-point spurge pushed the Wolfpack ahead.

Five South Carolinians played the entire game, except for the last two seconds when Jack Buford fouled out and was replaced by Bob Peterson. State's Vic Molodet was high for the night with 20 points.

Charles And Satterfield Fight Tonight In Chicago

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
CHICAGO (AP)—Ezzard Charles fights Bob Satterfield in Chicago Stadium tonight as a 3-1 favorite, and the whole thing is summed up bluntly by Jake Mintz.

Charles, enthusiastic little co-manager, said today: "The last time I seen Satterfield, Rex Layne was standing over his prone body. Don't let me that bum get off the floor again. . . . All we want to know is what's par on Satterfield's chin?"

Satterfield isn't that bad. He's probably one of the hardest punchers in the business today. Like Rocky Marciano, he can knock out a guy with one shot.

However, in return, the Chicago Negro has been an inconsistent winner at best. He was 42 victories 25 by kayoes, but he has been chipped 9 times himself in 14 defeats.

The experts don't look for tonight's scheduled 10-rounder to go beyond six rounds. There is little betting despite the odds. Satterfield, at 182 pounds—about eight lighter than Charles—is expected to start flailing away at the opening bell and continue the pace with the hope of a connection.

Charles figured to have too much experience to get hit on the target.

Only twice in his pro career, dating from 1940, has the 32-year-old former heavyweight champion been knocked out. The first kayo was by Lloyd Marshall in 1943, when he was fresh out of the Army and the other in July 1951 when he lost the heavyweight crown to Jersey Joe Walcott.

Charles ranked the No. 1 heavyweight contender after his 10th-round TKO over Coley Wallace in San Francisco last month, is in line for a shot at Marciano's title in June.

The fight will be televised nationally (NBC) starting at 10 p.m. EST.

Chicod Loses To Stokes-Pactolus

CHICOD — The Stokes-Pactolus Blue Jays defeated Chicod High School in a pair of Pitt County Conference games here last night.

The visiting boys won 65-38 while the Stokes girls won a close game 43-37.

The Stokes boys won easily to make it eight straight wins without a defeat in Pitt County, thus becoming the Pitt leader in the standings. On Friday night the Blue Jays travel to Bethel to encounter the Indians, who have won seven straight games without suffering a defeat.

The Chicod and Stokes girls have both been rated either four or five in the last few ratings so last night's game should clinch who is the number four team.

The Chicod girls never went out ahead after the first quarter; however the game was close throughout.

Jane Bullock led the winning girls with 21 points. Nina Perkins added 11. Clara Wilson with 19 points led Chicod girls. Patsy Mills contributed 18.

Carl White and Doug James led the winning boys with 22 and 20 points. Bobby Burroughs with 17 and Bobby Fornes with 16 led the losing boys.

Bulldogs Lose; Play Tomorrow

Eppes High School meets Wilson tomorrow night in the Eppes gym as the Bulldogs seek their third win of the year.

Last night in Kinston, the Bulldogs dropped their third straight game to Triple A teams. Jaycee score last night found Kinston out in front 34-24 while the varsity contest also went to the home club, 41-32.

Game time for the Wilson contest tomorrow night is 7:30.

Hodges Leading Conference Scorers With 26.4 Average

By JIMMY ELLIS
Reflector Sports Writer

Bobby Hodges has added a new point to his star.

East Carolina College's big center is leading the North State Conference scoring this week. He has an average of 26.4 points per game thus far.

Hodges isn't the leader so far as total points are concerned but his average is nearly seven points better than the second man in the conference listings. High Point's Kent Moseley has 297 points but since the little guard has played in 15 games his average is only 19.8 points per contest.

Charlie Huffman, the Pirates' number two man with an average of 16.7 per game, is tenth in the listings. He and Hodges are the only two Pirates in the top ten.

John Pritchard of Appalachian, idle last week because of an injury, is still in third place with a 19.4 average. Pritchard has 97 points in five contests.

Raeford Wells, the 6-8 star of Lenoir-Rhyne's Bears, is fourth with an 18.4 mark and Jimmy Jordan of Western Carolina rounds out the top five with a 17.5 mark.

Moseley's 297 points make him the top point producer in the conference but he doesn't seem to stand much chance to break the conference scoring record of 687 points for a season. Ronald Rogers of Western Carolina set the record a year ago.

Has Chance

Hodges, if he maintains his present pace and steps up his point production on certain nights, does have a chance to break the loop's four-year scoring total. Rogers also holds that record, 1,960 points. Hodges started the season with 1,354 points but the number of games played by the Pirates (21) may keep him from breaking the record. With 15 games to go the big center would have to score 488 points and that's too much to ask.

Hodges will get his chance to start chipping away at that 488 points Saturday night when the Pirates travel to Hickory to meet Lenoir-Rhyne. The teams have met once before this year with Hodges accounting for 26 points against the taller Bears. The Bucs won the game 87-79.

Yesterday, the Bucs went through their second straight day of intensive work for the Saturday contest. In much the same manner as they practiced Monday, the Pirates worked for more than two hours under Coach Howard Porter.

There aren't expected to be any line-up changes Saturday night against Lenoir-Rhyne. That means Hodges will be at center, Huffman and Paul Jones will be at the forwards, and Cecil Heath and J. C. Thomas at the guards.

Lenoir-Rhyne will be expected to start Roland Barker and Raeford Wells at the forwards, Bob Ortmeyer at center, and Floyd Probst and Ferris Felner at the guards. Probst is sixth in the conference point listings and Ortmeyer is ninth.

Worsham's Shot Given High Rate

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Professional golfer Lew Worsham isn't about to forget one of the most spectacular golf shots in the history of the game.

"Sure, I get a kick out of it—everytime I cash a check," says Worsham.

The shot, as all fans know, was the one Worsham let fly with a sand wedge toward the 18th green on the 72nd hole of the "World Championship" tournament at Chicago's Tam O'Shanter course last summer.

The ball plopped into the hole for the richest eagle-two in the records. It won $25,000 as the first prize for Worsham.

This all-but-a-miracle feat was voted the top "thrill of the year" for 1953 in the 23rd annual poll of the nation's sports writers by the Associated Press.

Worsham, competing in the Los Angeles Open tournament over the weekend was asked about the shot. He admitted it was something he'll never forget, nor will anyone permit him to forget it if he desired.

The experts picked Ben Hogan's victory in the British Open as the No. 2 thrill. Rated behind were the Notre Dame-Iowa 14-14 tie; New York Yankee Billy Martin's hitting in the World Series.

National Jaycee Week To Begin Observance Jan. 14

"The towns and cities of America are proud to have Junior Chamber of Commerce because they know that Jaycee members are action men who achieve improvements help everyone in the community," stated Ben Rouse of the local organization, in referring to "Junior Chamber of Commerce Week" to be observed nationally the week of January 14-21.

The local organization's observance of this anniversary will culminate with the Bosses Night Banquet Thursday night at the Greenville Golf and Country Club.

"So effectively have most Junior Chambers of Commerce integrated their program with the needs of their communities that they have received the enthusiastic approval of all citizens and civic and governmental leaders," President Rouse stated.

In many communities the Junior

Chamber of Commerce has been the leader in organizing extensive youth programs to combat juvenile delinquency, in others it was the first organization to launch effective safety and fire prevention campaigns. In many areas the Jaycees have improved industrial and public health through vigorous educational programs about general disease and tuberculosis.

At the banquet Thursday night a presentation of a Distinguished Service Award Key will be made. This award will be given to the young man who has rendered the most significant community services during the past year.

Wildlife Talks For 4-H Clubs Of County

"The blue bird is one of the most important species of bird life in this section of the county, Miss Lunette Barber of the North Carolina Resources Commission told a group of 4-H Club members this week.

Miss Barber is conducting a series of talks to all the 4-H Clubs in the county all this week. Her speeches are concerned with wildlife conservation.

Miss Barber told the 4-Hers that the blue birds are important because they live on insects which destroy farm crops in this section. She noted that the tobacco barn is the greatest enemy of the species of bird life. The blue bird builds his nest in the flues of the barn and when it is placed into use, the birds are killed. Miss Barber said that as many as 50 such birds had been found in one barn.

She said that 4-Hers could help alleviate this problem by building nesting boxes and placing them on the roofs of the barns.

The wildlife expert has also brought out that individuals are allowed to keep only three types of animal wildlife in captivity at present. These three, she said are the weasel, the skunk and the bob cat. She said that if any other wild animal is caged up the state law is being violated.

She reminded the 4-H members that one boy and girl is eligible from each county to attend the State Wildlife Camp Camp Millstone near Rockingham each year. She also noted that wildlife is the first three in order are: soil, water and forest, she said.

Miss Barber brought out in her talk that a film on North Carolina's Wildlife and it is available throughout the State for showing.

The film is entitled "Tar Heel Wildlife" and it is available through the NC Resources Commission. She said that there is no charge for the film.

Today Miss Barber's schedule calls for her to speak before the Falkland 4-H Club and the Fountain 4-H Club. Thursday she will appear before the Bethel Club, Friday Miss Barber will conclude her series of talks with speeches before the Stokes Club and the Winterville-Greenville 4-H Club.

Weather Map In Three-Dimension

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has installed new 3D maps to tell a congressman everything about the weather except how political winds are blowing in his home town.

A dedication service was scheduled today for the elaborate multi-colored weather maps just off the floor of the House and Senate.

Rain, snow or shine, two Weather Bureau experts show up at 9 a.m. every day to fill the big glass panels with red, yellow, white and green symbols which portray the weather from Mexico to Canada.

It takes them three hours, but when they are through a congressman can tell the temperature in his home town—plus wind direction, precipitation, atmospheric pressure and so on.

George Winthrop, head of the Weather Bureau's daily map unit, said it was "pure coincidence" today's ceremony coincided with the

Found Piece Of Knife In Skull

STAMFORD, Conn., (AP)—Physicians treating 53-year-old Lucy Baker for a stab wound in the head were puzzled when they found a one-inch piece of knife blade imbedded in his skull. The blade on the jack-knife used by Baker's assailant was intact.

Baker recalled that he had been the victim of a previous knife assault — in a fracas in Philadelphia 19 years before. The piece of steel never had bothered him, and he didn't know he'd been carrying it around.

Gov't Seems Moving Deeper Into Labor Field

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and the government will be a lot deeper in labor-management relations if Congress approves his proposals for amending the Taft-Hartley labor relations act.

Two prime examples among the President's 14 proposals: a fact-finding board to make recommendations in a national emergency dispute; and a government-conducted vote in the case of any strike.

Under the law now, when the President finds the national welfare is threatened by a strike he appoints a board to investigate and report back with the facts.

Eisenhower asked that this be changed so that such a board would make recommendations on what the settlement should be. Since the President handpicks the board, its recommendations come, in effect, his own.

Neither the company nor the union would have to accept the recommendations.

At present workers faced with a decision on a walkout can vote among themselves on whether they want to strike. Or they may leave it up to a selected group of their union officials.

Eisenhower urges more federal say on this. He said it should be written into law that the government must conduct a vote among the employees on whether they want a strike.

He didn't say, in his message to Congress whether the vote should be taken before or after a strike started. He said: "Nothing so vitally affects the individual employe as the loss of his pay when he is called on strike." He didn't say "... called on to strike."

Almost at once Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.), chairman of the Senate Labor Committee, produced a bill calling for a vote after a strike had started.

There may have been confusion in the administration ranks on this. Secretary of Labor Mitchell told newsmen he thought Smith's bill was going to call for a vote before a strike.

Under a special World War II law—from 1943 to 1945—the government had to take a vote among workers before a strike could be called in a war plant or one connected with the war.

Strike votes were taken among about 2,100 groups of employees. In about 1,800 cases the vote was to strike, although only a small percentage actually went out. About 300 voted against a strike.

Eisenhower also proposed that the mediation service should step into a labor dispute where an injunction had been granted; that the government find better safeguards for welfare funds; and that employers must take an anti-Communist oath, as union leaders now must do.

Those points would all require the government to have more say in union or company affairs or both.

No one could predict whether government control, both federal and state, would be increased as a result of Eisenhower's suggestion for a study to find a way to avoid conflicts of jurisdiction between the two. He urged clearing the way for states to handle what they consider statewide emergencies.

Union leaders and company managers may argue whether Eisenhower's proposed changes do more for one of them than the other. But the net effect seemed certain to be a bigger role for government in labor disputes.

Received Medal 50 Years Later

HAGERSTOWN, Md., (AP)—Rus Rinehart got a medal from the Republic of Cuba — 50 years after he earned it.

Several years after the Spanish American war, an appropriation for medals was made by the Republic so it could honor veterans like Rinehart. However, the money ran out and the awards were discontinued.

About a year ago, Rinehart heard a new appropriation had been passed. He applied for his medal and received it last month.

The ability to change color has made the name chameleon proverbial, but the extent of actual color changes often is exaggerated in popular reports.
