Fire Chief Takes Responsibility For Not Sending Aid

By ALVIN TAYLOR Reflector Staff Writer The fire department did not answer a weekend call to the "Pirra Restaurant" on the Washington Highway because the truck usually used for county fire fighting was broken down, Fire Chief George Gardner declared today.

Gardner stated that the downtown fire station only had two trucks that are equipped for fighting fires in rural areas. One is a 21-year-old truck which has been answering all rural calls. However, he noted this truck is not in operating condition at the present time.

The other truck, the fire chief stated, was bought in 1951 and the department's entire fire-fighting procedure is built around this piece of equipment.

"All of our local fire-fighting is built around the Ford truck (purchased in 1951) with the high pressure fog lines," he stated.

The chief made his statement after J. D. Parker, owner of the recently opened restaurant, had accused the local fire department of not answering his call when the building caught fire.

"They flatly refused to answer the call," Parker stated.

Parker said that firemen told him that "city officials" had told them not to answer rural calls.

"I told the boys not to go out," Gardner stated. "As long as the City Council holds me responsible for the fire protection of property in the city, I've got to do what is best for the citizens of Greenville."

"If we had sent the Ford truck out we would have left all this side of Greenville open," the chief stated.

He noted that the city now has another high pressure truck at the sub station. But he said that if that truck had been sent the section of Greenville south of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad tracks would have been unprotected.

The chief said that in town, it was important to get one of the high pressure fog trucks to a fire quickly. He said that these trucks were designed to knock small fires quickly, and he noted that the high pressure trucks had saved several fires before they could develop into large ones.

Gardner stated that he would take full responsibility for the decision. "It was left up to me to use my better judgment in a case like this," he said. "I thought it was best to keep the Ford here in town to keep any small fire from developing into a major conflagration."

"Until the City Council tells me to send the Ford out into the county I'm going to continue to keep it in town."

Gardner stated that the old Board of Aldermen had advised him at the time the Ford truck was purchased in 1951 not to send the new truck out into the county.

"Especially during these March winds it is dangerous to lower the department's fire fighting efficiency by sending out its key piece of equipment," the chief stated. "We are not up to the Underwriters' requirements which were handed down in 1951 and something like this could affect our insurance rating."

Gardner stated that if a small fire got away while the high pressure truck was out of town there was serious danger of two of the three heavy duty pumps breaking down. One of the heavy duty pumps is 32 years old and the other is 26 years old, he stated, and neither is dependable for fire fighting.

The chief stated that he sympathized with the owners of the restaurant but he felt that his obligation to the people of Greenville who pay for the fire protection was clear.

"I would have loved to have helped them but I've got to consider the city first. We've never refused to go in the county until the county truck broke down."

He stated that the fire department was responsible for $22,911,051 worth of property within the city according to the 1953 evaluation.

"In addition," he stated, "our insurance rates are based on our losses. That's one reason that it's most important to keep our losses at a minimum."

"I'm sorry it had to happen this way," the chief stated.

Gardner said that as soon as the county truck is repaired it will be used for county fires once again. However, he noted, the truck is so old that it may not be possible to obtain parts from the factory.

Big Snowfall

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A snowfall ranging up to 12 inches in depth blanketed east Tennessee today, paralyzing communications in some areas and knocking out hundreds of power lines.

The snow measured from traces in the southeastern section around Chattanooga to 12 inches in the up-state area. The Tri-Cities Airport near Kingsport, Johnson City and Bristol said the runways there were out. All newspapers and radio stations east of Knoxville which receive the Associated Press news report were cut off from service temporarily.

Knox County schools were closed because of power failures in some parts of the county. Highways throughout the area were open but the Highway Patrol said traffic conditions were dangerous.

At least one death was attributed to the snowstorm.

Sudanese Mob Fired On; 21 Die

TRIBESMEN DEMONSTRATE AGAINST NAGUIB; ATTACK BRITISH OFFICIAL'S HOME

KHARTOUM Sudan (AP)—Police bullets beat off a wild attack on the British governor general's home today by yelling Sudanese tribesmen brandishing steel-tipped spears in a demonstration against visiting Egyptian President Mohamed Naguib.

At least 21 persons were reported killed, including the British police commander, Col. H.S. McGulgan, and six of his men. More than 100 persons were wounded, 30 of them critically. Authoritative sources reported the Sudanese police chief, Brig. Mariada El Mahdi, among the victims.

The clash came after more than 30,000 demonstrators agitating for an end to the rule of Egyptian Prime Minister Sir Robert Howe, where Naguib was being entertained after his arrival by plane from Cairo.

Sudanese police, commanded by British officers, first tossed tear gas grenades at the pressing crowd and then opened fire with their guns when the tribesmen charged with outburst spears. The seven slain policemen fell before the spear charge.

Naguib came here with Egyptian Guidance Minister Salah Salem for the inaugural session today of the Sudan's first Parliament. After the fighting, the governor general announced the ceremony would be postponed indefinitely. Salem, who once did a dance in his undergarments to win Sudanese support for Egyptian plans, was one of the men who helped engineer Naguib's ouster last week.

Rival factions representing the pro-independence Umma party and the pro-Egyptian National Unionist party led by Sudanese Prime Minister Ismail el Zahary invaded the city's streets early today shouting slogans at each other.

A huge crowd met Naguib at the airport shouting "Go out, go out, both British and Egyptians," and "No unity no federation."

Later the crowd outside Howe's home refused to obey police orders to disperse. Fearing a clash between the two factions, the police first used tear gas, then opened fire.

In Cairo the Egyptian government strove to keep public order today following the return of Naguib as chief of state and a new outbreak of mob violence.

All government universities—past hotbeds of mob action—were ordered closed indefinitely after wild demonstrations yesterday, in which police wounded 12 rioters. One police officer also was hit by a shot from a student.

The police opened fire as disorderly, slogan-shouting crowds of young people surged toward Republic Square from all over the city to cheer Naguib, their popular hero. The display of force nipped the demonstration before it endangered the country's shaky military regime.

Boy's Language Stumped Police

BOSTON (AP)—East Boston police spoke in Italian, French, Greek and Portuguese to a little lost boy. His answer was a rattle of syllables in a language none of them had ever heard.

Just as they were about to call the anthropology department at Harvard, a man rushed into the police station and hugged the little boy.

He said his name was Weldon Pailles and had come with his little son Freeman from Newcastle, N.B., a week ago. "He's a Mic Mac Indian," said the father.

Disdains Similar Arms Offer From U.S.; Claims 'Intervention' Nehru Blasts Pakistan Aid

By SELIG HARRISON NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru blisteringly rejected President Eisenhower's offer of arms aid for India today and demanded that American observers with the U.N. cease-fire team in disputed Kashmir be withdrawn.

By giving military aid to Pakistan, Nehru told his cheering Parliament, the United States had intervened in the Indian-Pakistan fight over the Himalayan state and the American observers therefore "can no longer be regarded by us as neutrals."

At the end of 1953 the United States had 14 officers with the 48-member U.N. military mission supervising the Kashmir truce. The U.S. Air Force also makes a C47 transport and crew available as needed.

Eisenhower's offer of American arms aid "has done less than justice to us or to himself," the Premier declared continuing: "If we object to military aid being given to Pakistan, we would be hypocrites and unprincipled opportunists to accept it ourselves."

Announcing the aid to Pakistan last week Eisenhower had said the United States would give "most sympathetic consideration" to any request from India for such help.

In a letter to Nehru he also assured India that the United States would see to it that Pakistan used the arms from America for defensive only.

Nehru today made public his three-paragraph reply, thanking the U.S. President "for your personal message" and saying his government would continue to follow its present policies "which are based on a desire for peace."

India now buys her arms where she pleases and does not accept direct arms aid from foreign governments.

Other than this however, the letter made no specific mention of the U.S. arms offer.

The Premier's review in Parliament of the arms aid question was another matter, however.

"I have no doubt the President is opposed to aggression," Nehru said, commenting on Eisenhower's assurance that the aid to Pakistan would not be misused.

"But we know from past experience that aggression takes place and nothing is done about it. Aggression took place in Kashmir 6 1/2 years ago and thus far the United States has not only not condemned it, but we have been asked not to press it in the interests of peace."

Aggression may well follow in spite of the best intentions of the President and then a long argument will ensue on what exactly is aggression."

He cited press reports of congressional testimony by U.S. Assistant Secretary of State Walter Robertson on Feb. 26 that "the United States must dominate Asia for an indefinite period until the Communist countries in Asia crack up internally."

Nehru stated there had been "conflicting reports" on exactly what Robertson testified, "but whatever the wording, for a responsible official of the United States to say they must dominate Asia for an indefinite period is strange. Whatever the objective may be, the countries of Asia do not intend to be dominated by any country for any purpose."

Nehru continued: "It is said this aid is intended to protect Pakistan from aggression. I am unable to see any danger of aggression to Pakistan from any quarter. However, Pakistan's United Nations delegate Mr. (Ahmed) Bokhari, has been kind enough to make this clear. In a speech two days ago he said Pakistan wanted to guarantee her frontier against the two biggest powers in Asia—he referred to China and India.

"It is not clear to me how China is going to invade Pakistan over the Karakoram Pass (on the Kashmir-China trade route) and as for India we have repeatedly shown our peaceful intentions."

Motorist Loses Leg In Four-Car Pile-Up Saturday

One motorist lost a leg, three others received minor injuries and four automobiles were damaged to the extent of about $1,500 in collisions on the Sheppard's Mill Road near the Pitt-Martin county line Saturday night.

State Highway Patrolman Delton Perry is continuing his investigation. The officer said John McCarter, 28, Negro of Route 4, Greenville, was backing his car from Jim Perkins' yard onto the highway. When the engine choked the driver of a car stopped and helped McCarter push his car off the road. Another car going west struck both cars.

McCarter, who was standing on the road, was caught between the bumpers of two cars and severely injured. Later, his leg was amputated at Pitt County Hospital.

Patrolman Perry said that about 10 minutes after the crash another car collided with the parked cars. The officers listed the following drivers of cars involved in the collisions:

Abram Earl Little, Negro, 38, Rte. 1, Robertsonville. Damage, estimated at $200.

Julius Ward, Negro, 33, Rte. 1, Stokes. Estimated damage, $100.

Charlie Frank, Negro, 37, Rte. 1, Stokes. Estimated damage, $500.

John McCarter, Negro, 28, Rte. 4, Greenville, estimated damage, about $700.

In a second accident over the weekend a car driven by Douglas Shirley had a flat tire and overturned in a swamp Saturday afternoon about 4 o'clock. Damage to the vehicle amounted to about $150 and the driver was charged with operating a vehicle with no driver's license. The accident was investigated by Patrolman W. E. Whitehurst.

Brotherhood To Call Rail Strike

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers today scheduled a strike for next Saturday against the Southern Railway system.

Guy L. Brown, grand chief engineer of the independent union said the dispute concerned "safety and relief from poisonous gases and overloading of diesel power."

He added the union sought to "preserve safety regulations cutting down monoxide fumes over portions of this road made dangerous in this respect by many tunnels."

The road, he continued wants to "eliminate tonnage and length-of-train restrictions thereby increasing hazards from stalling in tunnels."

McCarthy Again Calls Army Men For Questioning

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) called Army men for questioning today for the first time since a truce was announced in his row with Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens on alleged abuse of a uniformed witness.

And the senator said yesterday he thought Brig. Gen. Ralph Zwicker—the officer Stevens said suffered humiliating treatment at McCarthy's hands—should be recalled later because the general "either mistaken or guilty of perjury, or the AP story and my investigators were wrong."

McCarthy was referring to an Associated Press account of a report given by the Army Friday in the case of a former major accused by McCarthy of subversive ties.

The truce announced five days ago rested on a memorandum which Stevens agreed McCarthy's Senate investigations subcommittee might question Zwicker and other Army witnesses whose testimony it had been seeking. Earlier Stevens had directed Zwicker and another general not to heed a subcommittee subpoena.

The agreement was almost universally regarded as a surrender to McCarthy. Stevens later sought to counter this impression with a statement, publicly backed by President Eisenhower, that he had received assurances against the beating of Army witnesses in the future and would set to protect them if need be.

McCarthy flatly denied that the assurances Stevens mentioned had been given at the truce meeting. There the matter has rested until today's call for the testimony of two privates, identified in advance as Marvin Belsky, a doctor in the Army's Murphy General Hospital at Waltham, Mass., and Sid Rubenstein of Ft. Banks, Winthrop, Mass.

Subcommittee members were advised the witnesses were to be questioned as to whether they had refused to sign loyalty oaths when they entered the Army.

McCarthy's new remarks about Zwicker came in connection with a report given by the Army Friday on its commissioning, calling to active duty, promoting and honorably discharging former Maj. Irving Peress, a New York dentist who declined on constitutional grounds to answer questions about membership in subversive organizations.

McCarthy said the Pentagon report backed up his investigators' findings that the honorable discharge was ordered after McCarthy demanded Peress be court-martialed and dishonorably discharged.

Peel Explains Plan To Board Of Commissioners Registration Funds Asked

By BOB BOYETTE Reflector Staff Writer Chairman Gilbert Peel of the Pitt Board of Elections told the Pitt County Commissioners at the regular monthly Commissioners meeting this morning that a new registration of Pitt voters had been ordered. Peel explained to the Commissioners that the re-arrangement of voting precincts in Pitt County necessitates a new registration, and the Board of Elections has ordered the new registration.

He explained that, in his opinion, there were between 20,000 and 22,000 qualified voters in Pitt County.

Registration Begins May 1. "The registration will begin May 1," Peel continued, "and run through Saturday, May 15. Registrars are required to be at the voting places on Saturday, May 1, Saturday, May 8, and Saturday, May 15 from 9 a.m. to sunset. The books will close at sunset May 15, as required by law."

"It will be virtually impossible to get anywhere near the 20,000 names on the books on these three days," he added, "and so far as the Board of Elections is concerned we have complied with the law by creating these precincts and in the advertising of our action; however, we do not feel that this is enough."

Peel then asked that the Commissioners grant the sum of 15 cents for each name put on the books on either Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday of this two week period.

He explained that in order to get well set up books, registrars plan to get all the information concerning the voter on cards, and then between the time the books close on May 15 and the challenge day, which is May 22, the cards will be alphabetically arranged according to surnames, then according to given names so the books will be in an alphabetical order.

Need More Voting Booths. "It might be necessary to purchase more voting booths," Peel stated, "since there are some that I am sure need replacing and now there are 25 voting precincts instead of the old 33 precincts."

The Commissioners told the Board of Elections chairman that the matter be brought up would be discussed in detail in today's meeting. Most of the Commissioners seemed to agree that an all-out effort should be made to get every qualified voter registered.

Every Voter Must Register. One Commissioner asked Peel if one member of the family could register for other qualified voters of the family. Peel answered, "One man can not register for anyone else any more than one person can vote for anyone else."

The Commissioners' meeting was still in session this morning and they had not reached a decision as to whether to authorize the registrars the 15 cent sum to register the voters other than on Saturday.

The Commissioners' regular monthly meeting convened in the Courthouse this morning and Peel's action on behalf of the Board of Elections was the first matter to come before the Board.

Little Senate Discussion In Voting Approval Justice Warren Confirmed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate today confirmed President Eisenhower's appointment of Earl Warren as chief justice of the United States.

The Senate's approval came on a voice vote with no audible "No's."

There was little discussion. Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) gave the Senate a brief resume of Warren's career and Sen. Kuchel (R-Calif) praised the nominee.

Warren, three times elected governor of California and the GOP vice presidential candidate in 1948, has been serving on the Supreme Court since last October under a recess appointment made while Congress was in adjournment.

Republican Leader Knowland of California, first appointed to the Senate by Warren, predicted overwhelming confirmation of the nomination. He said he did not know whether he would ask for a formal roll-call vote.

NEW FHA CHIEF CONOVER, N. C. (AP)—Horace J. Isenhower of Conover, a Republican, is the new director of the North Carolina U.S. Farmers Home Administration. He succeeds J. B. Slack, a Democrat who said Saturday he had been dismissed effective April 2.

While confirmation seemed assured, two Southern Democrats on the Senate Judiciary Committee—Eastland of Mississippi and Olin D. Johnston of South Carolina—indicated they intended to vote against the appointment.

Eastland said he did not think Warren had "the judicial experience" necessary for a chief justice. Johnston gave the same reason.

But Johnston said his principal objection was to the failure of the Justice Department to submit a full FBI report on Warren.

Warns Syrians Against More Violent Displays

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—Revolt-wracked Syria's army chief of staff sternly warned against further violence and demonstrations today as the capital prepared to greet the nation's new chief of state, Hachem Bey el Attassi.

Though rival factions of army rebels united behind Attassi and ex-dictator Adib Shihshely's Cabinet agreed to step out, new rioting broke out in Damascus last night and 13 persons were reported wounded, some seriously.

Troops broke up the demonstrations by firing on the crowds and using tear gas. The capital for the second night was under a curfew.

Damascus was calm again today. One person was killed and 29 injured Saturday night when pro-Shihshely troops fired on mobs who were demanding the resignation of the ousted dictator's cabinet and Acting President Maahmoud Kurbani.

Kurbani, who took over after the army revolt Thursday sent Shihshely fleeing into exile in Saudi Arabia, agreed to step down in favor of Attassi yesterday.

Attassi, 79-year-old political veteran and two-time president, was proclaimed head of the state in a broadcast yesterday by Col. Shawkat Sheikr, the army chief.

His Restaurant Burns And His Car Wrecked

A local restaurant operator had multiple trouble Saturday night when (1) his restaurant on the Washington Highway caught fire, (2) the local fire department was unable to answer the call because of faulty equipment and (3) his car received $900 damage in a head-on collision as he was leaving the scene of the fire.

The unlucky man was J. D. Parker Jr., owner and operator of the newly-opened "Pirra Restaurant" about five miles east of Greenville.

Parker estimated damage to the building which, he said, burned to the ground at approximately $9,000 and his car damage was estimated at about $800 or $900.

He said that he had no insurance to cover the fire damage. However, his car was covered by insurance. Parker stated that he called the Greenville Fire Department three times to come to the burning building.

"They flatly refused to come to the fire," he said. "They claimed that the truck used for rural calls was broken down and that they could not send another piece of equipment."

"I think that was pretty rough," Parker stated. "The building could have been saved if fire fighting equipment had been there. It was 45

Shot 4 Times, Fountain Man Critically Wounded

A Negro man of Fountain remained in critical condition today at Pitt Memorial Hospital after being wounded by four pistol shots in Fountain early Sunday morning.

Officers identified the man as James Albert Sugg, about 30, who was shot four times with a pistol in a small store operated by his half-brother on the outskirts of Fountain.

Last Laugh On 3-Hold-Up Men

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Frank Hasper, a grocery store owner, had the last laugh on three bandits. One of the men brought some lunch meat and cookies, put them in his pocket and laid a dollar bill on the counter. At the same time, another of the bandit trio said: "This is a stickup."

Hasper shouted to a relative in a nearby room to call police. The men fled, leaving the dollar bill. All of which meant that Hasper made 48 cents on the deal.

Mills. Officers said they are seeking Robert Lee Jones, about 40, Sugg's half-brother, in connection with the shooting.

A hospital spokesman said this morning Sugg's condition "seems to be some better," but said the man still is in critical condition. Officers said the shooting occurred about 3:30 Sunday morning in front of the small store in Fountain, and that Sugg was wounded twice in the arm and twice in the chest. Officers expressed the belief the man was shot with a .38 calibre pistol.

Rev. Hardaway Resigning From Local Pastorate On March 31

The Rev. Richard E. Hardaway, pastor of Memorial Baptist Church of Greenville since September, 1944, yesterday submitted his resignation as pastor of the church effective March 31.

In a letter addressed to members of the church, Rev. Hardaway said: "As I will reach the age of retirement on March 8, 1954, and having completed nine and one-half years as your pastor, I present to you my resignation as pastor to take effect as of March 31, 1954."

During the period in which Rev. Hardaway has been pastor of the church, the church has completed and paid for a $100,000 educational building, purchased the Flanagan property adjacent to the church property, and completed plans for the purchase of the Best property adjacent to the present church property.

During the period also, the church budget has tripled, and the amount paid to all mission work has more than doubled.

The letter of resignation presented to the church said in part: "...with the need for pressing on in an expanding program to meet the needs of our growing church, which we believe is destined to be a truly great Church if it faces realistically the challenge before it, and builds to meet it, we believe that a new pastor, one who is both younger and stronger to bear the burdens of leadership, should be called—one who will both see the need, and who will with your cooperation accept the challenge before you."

In his letter of resignation, Rev. Hardaway paid tribute to the cooperation of the members of the church, and also to his wife for her work in the church and her inspiration.

Rev. Hardaway is a past president of the Greenville Ministerial Association and a past president of the Roanoke Baptist Pastors Association. He is a member of the Board of Trustees of the Biblical Recorder, Baptist publication for North Carolina.

Before coming to Greenville as pastor of Memorial Baptist Church, Rev. Hardaway was pastor of Ligon Memorial Baptist Church in Spartanburg, S.C. He also has held pastorates in Lenoir, N.C., Greenwood, Columbia, and Allendale, S.C. He began his ministry in 1917 as supply pastor for the Rivermont Avenue Baptist Church of Lynchburg, Va.

Rev. Hardaway was born in Oxford, N.C., son of a Baptist Minister Dr. J.S. Hardaway, and grew up in Newnan, Ga. He graduated from Mercer University and the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary at Louisville, Ky. He married the former Louise Cook Atkinson of Newnan, Ga., and they have three sons: R.E., Jr., of Charlotte, Ted of Baton Rouge, La., and Dr. John S. Hardaway of Midland, Mich.

Rev. Hardaway said after his retirement, he and Mrs. Hardaway plan to make their home in Newnan, Ga.

Women In The Church

By MARY FOWLER
Miss Verna A. Phillips, who has spent thirty-two years in Caracas, Venezuela, much of that time as director of Colegio Americano, a mission school of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., has been awarded the Medal of Honor of Public Instruction by the Venezuelan Minister of Education at a ceremony celebrating the annual "Day of the Teacher."

Miss Clara M. French, Ed. D., of Theresa, N.Y., an educational mission, on the faculty of Bullion High School and Banking University, has been elected an executive secretary of the Department of Foreign Work of the Woman's Division of Christian Service, Methodist Board of Missions. In her new position, Dr. French will administer the educational, evangelistic and medical work of the Woman's Division in China (now only in Hongkong and Formosa), and in Malaya and Burma. A native of Felts Mills, N.Y., Dr. French was educated at Oneonta (N.Y.) State Teachers College, at Taylor University, at New York University (M.A.), and at Columbia University (Doctor of Education). Before entering upon missionary service, she taught in New York State, specializing in English at Merrick, L.L., Seneca Falls High School, and Nyack High School.

The Rev. George Harper, Nashville, Tenn., co-editor of the Methodist weekly magazine, CONCERN, has told the members of the Woman's Division of Christian Service (Methodist Church) that "deliberate, continuous sacrifice is necessary for you and me and our children and theirs in a world where two out of three go to bed hungry every night." Mr. Harper, who recently made a round the world tour of Methodist missions, warned the Methodist women not to become "too involved in their fine program, large numbers, and mass appropriation to remember the individuals involved." Another consultant, Director Wesley Rennie of the Committee for Economic Action, told the women recently, "Our Christian values lose their significance unless we seek to apply them. The fact that we cannot reach final and conclusive answers to some of the complex economic problems does not relieve us of responsibility for action as Christians."

Greer Garson Ending Her Many Years With MGM

By BOB THOMAS HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"Make - believe is a wonderful thing, and I've loved it. I think it's good to devote 10 or 12 years of one's life to it, but now I want time for other things."

This was the philosophy of Greer Garson who will end her MGM contract next Monday. She looks back on nearly 15 years with the studio, many of them fairly fabulous.

After first winning attention as Mrs. Chips she went on to a string of hit pictures. At least four were among the top moneymakers of all time. "Mrs. Miniver" earned a domestic gross of five million, "Random Harvest" and "Adventure" 4 1/2 million apiece and "Valley of Decision" 4 1/4 million.

In recent years, her films haven't been up to that standard, and she says that was part of the reason for leaving the studio. She detailed the reasons as she reclined beside the swimming pool of her sumptuous home.

"It's no secret that I haven't been happy with the kind of pictures I have been receiving lately. The fact is that the studio is not making the big, romantic type of picture which was my particular forte."

"They are concentrating on other things—musical spectacles, pictures showing the training of young men for battle and big adventure epics made in foreign lands. I don't sing and dance with any great proficiency, and I don't fit into the second type of picture. As for the films made abroad, they often involve being out the country 10 months or so and I don't feel I should be gone that long from my husband (Texas moneyman Buddy Fogelson).

"So we agreed to call off the contact. Actually it would have been up in June anyway. I was to do a picture which was—shall we say—not quite right. It also involved being out of the country, and I didn't relish that, having just gotten back from England."

The orange-haired star did a fine selling job on "Julius Caesar" throughout the Isles. But she wouldn't let her enthusiasm over the trip sway her decision.

"I don't think long-term contracts are especially healthy for actors," she remarked. "They are all right for young players who are striving for a break. After they have made a success in one or two pictures, I think the studio deserves to cash in on what it has built."

"But I have never been for long engagements. Every time I reached the middle of my contract the studio suggested that I make a new one for another seven years. The last time that happened was when so many of the stars were setting up their own companies. I wanted to be more independent, but my manager advised that the security of a studio contract was better."

March Roars In, To End Premature N. C. Spring

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS That old lion of March roared into the Carolinas today, nipping in the bud a premature Spring.

Even before March made her official entrance, wind-buffed rains drenched the area. Highways in western North Carolina were left hazardous with ice and snow and the highway patrol warned motorists to use chains.

Asheville had two inches of snow and the forecast called for more in that general area. Asheville's low was 28 degrees. Elsewhere the mercury slid to the 30s, from yesterday's balmy 60s and 70s.

Columbia received more than an inch and a half of rain, the greatest amount reported in South Carolina. Charleston had more than half an inch.

In North Carolina Raleigh and Charlotte had more than an inch of rain each, while Greensboro had just under an inch.

Man And Woman Are Arrested On Bootleg Charge

Two Negroes, one man and one woman, were arrested by Pitt County ABC officers Saturday night and charged with illegal possession of non-taxpaid liquor.

ABC officer J. M. Ward identified the pair as Sophie Fleming of 410 W. 12th Street, Greenville, and Ernest Reaves, 43, who was listed as living at the same address.

Ward said one-half gallon of bootleg liquor was found in the house when officers made a search Saturday night.

Sophie Fleming was released under a $200 bond and Reaves was released under a $300 bond for trial in city recorder's court March 8. Both have previous convictions for violation of liquor laws, Ward stated.

ing wind storm, with strong gusts blew off the Erwin High School roof. Officials estimated the damage would exceed $15,000. Television antennas in the Erwin-Dunn area toppled under the blasts.

Meanwhile, students' hopes of a vacation were put asunder by Principal D. T. Sturdivant, who announced that regular classes would resume tomorrow in improvised classrooms in the school gymnasium.

As the low pressure mass moved northward showers and thunderstorms were the order of the day. The outlook is for colder weather tonight and tomorrow.

A cold wave was forecast for the Dakotas, Nebraska, eastern Montana, Minnesota and Iowa, with temperatures ranging from 10 above in southern Iowa to 15-20 below zero in North Dakota.

The much colder weather will move into Kansas, Missouri, Wisconsin and Illinois tonight and Tuesday, the forecast said.

Temperatures around the country early today were mostly seasonal, although ranging down to Grantsburg, Wis.'s 10 degrees. It was near freezing in much of the Midwest, well above that along the Atlantic Seaboard, in the teens and 20s in the northern Plains and Rocky Mountains.

Cleveland with 10 inches of new snow early today, was expected to get 15 inches by noon.

WNCT SCHEDULE

Although the station is not ready to announce dates on delivery and construction, officials of the station announced today that the 874-foot tower for television station WNCT, Channel 9, Greenville, is being fabricated.

Upon delivery and construction, the new tower will replace the present temporary 324-foot tower.

Staff Members Travel Last week General Manager A. Hartwell Campbell and Chief Engineer Hank Tribble travelled from Greenville on WNCT missions. Campbell is in New York negotiating with the National Broadcasting Company for new shows and Tribble is in Camden, N.J. attending a clinic on color television being sponsored by Radio Corporation of America. Campbell expects to come back with confirmations on several NBC shows for WNCT.

Film Department Grows WNCT's film department now includes five members under the direction of Film Editor Mac Nicholson. In the film department every film program is processed, as well as the slides that are used on WNCT.

Feature films that are used often require cutting. Commercials have to be spliced into film programs, like "I Led Three Lives." The film department must also have stand-by material for use in case there are network complications and the show schedule is interrupted.

In order to keep all commercial slides in order each one is indexed and can be located in only a few seconds by use of WNCT's index system.

New Virus Isolated By Two Army Researchers

By FRANK CAREY Associated Press Science Reporter WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Army researchers today reported isolating from a sick soldier a new type of microbe they said might be the cause of some widespread ailments of the throat and respiratory system.

These might include some severe sore throats, bronchitis, "virus pneumonia", and other acute respiratory ills whose origin is still a mystery.

Dr. M. R. Hilleman and researcher Jacqueline H. Werner of the Army Medical Service Graduate School reported their findings in the proceedings of the Society for Experimental Biology, a technical journal, and gave some amplification in an interview.

They said the organism had been recovered from a patient during an epidemic of acute respiratory illness among soldiers at Ft. Leonard Wood, Missouri, during the winter of 1952-53.

Dr. Hilleman also said the majority of sick soldiers in outbreaks at three other camps "showed evident infection with the new virus."

"The new microbe has been tentatively dubbed 'RI-67'—the 'RI' being for 'respiratory illness,' and the '67' meaning that the Ft. Leonard Wood soldier was the 67th person to report at sick bay during the study there.

That particular soldier had been suffering from what doctors call "primary atypical pneumonia, cause unknown." It is also called "virus pneumonia," to distinguish it from bacterial pneumonia. The causative germs of which are known.

The researchers said laboratory tests showed the new microbe capable of developing and multiplying in human tissues in the test-tube—and also of causing destruction of such tissue. But attempts to produce a recognizable disease with it in the usual laboratory experimental animals failed. As yet no attempts have been made purposely to produce sickness in man with it.

Doughton Retires From Last Post

After one of the most spectacular terms of public service in North Carolina history, R. L. (Bob) Doughton will step down from his last political office this week.

The political career of the former congressman has been a brilliant one not in the sense of head-line making as in the present-day barometer in too many cases; but in valuable and consistent service to the people of his native state and his nation over a long period of years.

County Politics Hold Citizens' Attention

All over North Carolina politics is brewing, and people in most of the 100 counties are becoming more interested in the shaping picture each day.

So far, the local races rather than the big state races seem to be holding the limelight in street corner and country store discussions. That is the case in Pitt County, and reports indicate a similar situation in other counties around the state.

The big state-wide race, of course, will be between Senator Lennon and former Governor Scott for the Senate seat. But that, for the time being at least, is a sideline race. The major interest throughout the state now is the local political situation.

The close of the filing period for county offices and legislative offices is still some six weeks away. A lot can happen in those weeks to change the lists of candidates which appear on ballots. Yet a great deal already has happened. Throughout the state apparently the situation generally is the same as it is in Pitt. The political races began sailing into the ring for local races earlier this year than is usual. Campaigns for the most part are still in low gear; but nevertheless in progress.

Doings of those already announced or filed for offices are making conversation; and speculation as to what others are doing or will do adds to the political talk.

Unless we miss our guess, 1954 will mark a year that suffers from no lack of candidates to make plenty of campaigns on the local level; and that situation in turn usually brings the voters to the polls on election day.

WHAT IS EDUCATION?

We live in an age which puts great store by education.

Two fallacies impede us in our thinking about education. The first is that education and information are the same; the second is that education is nothing more than the power to reason.

There is just enough truth in such positions to make them misleading. A well-educated man must, of course, be well informed. A well-educated man must also know how to reason. But a well-informed man is not necessarily an educated man. No one is educated until he has learned the true meaning of the facts he possesses and unless his reasoning leads him on to conclusions that will result in actions helpful to himself and to the world.

This may appear involved, but it is really simple. An educated man must be well informed, capable of clear reasoning, and one who reasons not just for the love of reason but for the purpose of arriving at conclusions which will be beneficial to himself and to the world. A half-education or a distorted education often leads men into prejudices and into courses of action which are of no help to anybody.

See that your children get well-balanced educations. To information and reason should be added moral purpose. Then you have real education.

Manion's Principal Offense

WASHINGTON—Dr. Clarence E. Manion's friends blame his summary firing on the liberal Republican wing of the Party which is headed by Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York, ex-Governor Sherman Adams of New Hampshire, who gave Manion his walking papers, and ex-Governor Alfred E. Driscoll of New Jersey.

As the former head of the Commission on Intergovernmental Relations now believes, his outspoken support of the Bricker check on the President's treaty-making power simply "irritated" his discharge. It was the official excuse for getting rid of him, not the basic reason. Here is the real story and background: Manion's major offense was that he took seriously what he thought was to be the Administration's program for halting the Federal government's invasion of local or private operations in such fields as power, health, housing, education, business, industry and agriculture. He had every reason to feel that he was carrying out the Eisenhower policy.

ABDIICATION OF POWER IMPOSSIBLE—In the 1952 campaign, Ike had voiced this philosophy, asserting that expansion of Federal jurisdiction would lead to "dictatorship." But his year in the White House has convinced him that total abdication of power assumed during the Roosevelt-Truman era is a political, economic and social impossibility. Dewey, Adams and Driscoll had arrived at this conclusion long before Ike did, as Governors during the New Deal years.

Both Ike and Manion are completely sincere in their own rival beliefs. But it is the Chief Executive who is charged with great responsibilities. It is Eisenhower, not Dr. Manion, who must pursue policies that will insure his re-election in 1956. And Ike, like many predecessors, has discovered that noble campaign promises become only wild and windy words under the burden of Presidential and political pressures. Blame rests on neither man for what has happened.

Business Today

Planning Christmas

March and Christmas are almost here. March for everybody. Christmas for business.

Unless manufacturers in most lines get their Christmas plans pretty well wrapped up in March, Christmas isn't very merry for them.

By the end of March, a manufacturer has to have fairly detailed plans of what lines he is going to make for the Christmas season, what new products he is going to bring out, what kind of holiday packaging he will use, how he is going to promote these wares to dealers and what he will do to help dealers promote them to consumers.

Take the toy industry, for instance. Designers were working on next Christmas's toys as early as last summer. While parents were shopping last November and December, toy makers were figuratively looking over their shoulders, noting trends and preferences. By now, models have been made and plants tooled up.

The only questions now are, "How many of this? How much of that?" The answers will start coming in a week from Monday when the annual Toy Fair opens in New York. The buyers will be flocking in from all over the country, making preliminary orders and gathering facts for later ones. On the basis of these first orders—and buyers' promises and enthusiasm—production will be scheduled. And the bulk of it will be out of the way before Labor Day.

Or take the beverage industry. Decisions on whether to use de-caners or not already have been made. Where decisions lean toward fancy glass, designs have been picked and, for the most part, orders have been placed. Several glass companies report they have been booked to capacity.

Or take the more conventional gift industries. The New York Gift Show was held a week ago, with 575 manufacturers and importers showing some 1,400 lines, ranging from bric-a-brac to furniture and from china to appliances. Other gift shows will be held in various cities soon, but manufacturers are already working on orders for delivery in September and sale in November and December.

And in hundreds of other lines, manufacturers are thinking about bringing out new products for holiday sales, or of designing new gift wrapping for regular products. They'd better hurry, too. HEAVY GAS SUPPLIES THREATEN PRICE WARS

Gasoline price wars have popped up in several sections of the country, and there may be more of them. Despite mild winter weather in many sections of the country, gasoline stocks are high or, as Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of Texas oil regulatory commission, put it, "long, very long."

Oil men say that crude oil stocks are "manageable," but that there is danger of gasoline pouring over into price wars, especially if some of the smaller refiners become worried and start unloading at less than prevailing prices.

Meanwhile, the giving of premiums with gasoline purchases which has been increasing of late, bids fair to become even more common.

URBANIZATION SEIZES 1,000,000 ACRES A YEAR
A million acres a year are being converted from farmland and other rural classifications into residential, industrial and commercial purposes, the Department of Agriculture reports.

It's a big chunk and, over a long enough period, can present a grave problem in survival. But not for a while, however.

Since there is a total of 1,804,000,000 acres in the United States, new urbanization accounts for one two-thousandths of our land a year. Maybe about the year 2254 it will be necessary to prohibit the building of homes or business structures on land suitable for agriculture.

Good Riddance Of Bricker Proposal

It was good riddance when the Senate by an overwhelming vote last Friday put the Bricker amendment aside at least until the next session of Congress.

After much wrangling and many substitute proposals and suggestions, the solons apparently have decided to forget the amendment which would tie the hands of the Executive Branch of government in matters of foreign agreements.

Since Congress convened last month, Senator Bricker's bill for a constitutional amendment has occupied much valuable time in the high legislative body. It was a proposal which, if had become part of the constitution, would have seriously crippled the power of the Executive Branch to carry on this nation's business in the field of international affairs.

From the outset it was apparent that the measure was too extreme a change from the provisions which existed and worked well in the government for the past 165 years. It was obvious that no agreement could be reached on what such an amendment should do, and that the matter was doomed.

It took a long time for the vote which finally killed the matter; but now that it has come, we hope the members of Congress can forget the Bricker bill and turn their attention to more pressing matters of legislation.

There are a great many matters of considerable import which need the attention of the legislators much worse than the proposal to change the powers of the President in international affairs. Perhaps now the legislators can get to those matters.

Overhauling Of Schools Appears Definitely Necessary

By ROGER W. BABSON

BABSON PARK, Mass. — Don't miss the series of articles starting in Collier's about our schools. These well documented articles offer proof that our schools need overhauling. I am glad to have the good company of this magazine for the reform which I have been urging for some time. If I understand the educational process at all, it seems only logical that before a teacher can teach anybody anything he must command respect.

DISCIPLINE COMES FIRST
I can take you into classrooms in one of our large eastern cities where last year several teachers had nervous breakdowns; substitute teachers stayed a day or two, then left. The problem—poor discipline. Finally, one determined, old-fashioned substitute took over. The principal urged her to send the misbehavers to his She felt any such action on her part would be an acknowledgment of her own inadequacy. Finally, in despair, she did send a dozen pupils a day to the principal who in turn flogged them one by one. But it was too late. They had gone too far. Even the good disciplinarian could not take it. She bowed out too because she had to spend all her time trying to maintain a semblance of order and never did get around to teaching anything.

Or, I can tell you about a reasonably plush prep school where the headmaster decided to teach some of the boys how to read. After all they had reached the tenth grade and it was time they knew how! Well, believe it or not, the headmaster failed to show up about half the time; the boys did not make it the other half. The program just flailed out. These are symptoms of a problem, and it is more widespread than you realize. I have said before in this column, and I will say it again: if delinquency is on the increase, and our young people are hard and callous, it is because their teachers and parents are getting soft and careless.

THEN, SOME BASIC FUNDAMENTALS

These magazine articles suggest that the brain trusters (Professors in Schools of Education, I assume) have sold the schools down the river. When our kids graduate, not only from public high school, but from many of our preparatory schools, they cannot properly read or write. They cannot do eighth grade arithmetic. I am told of a batch of tests given this fall to college freshmen from widely divergent parts of the country to prove my points. Yet, these kids were admitted to college because the principals recommended them as being well qualified.

damaging about individual comrades that attempt to tell a parent how the child is doing in terms of his own ability, but hush-hush his relative standing in the group. Schools also too often measure their teachers in terms of extra summer courses taken or advanced degrees, and not often enough they use the yardstick of classroom discipline.

I ask you, what spurs an individual on to do his best? Is it not, fundamentally, the struggle for recognition and achievement? The individual wants to prove he is a man among men, that he counts, whether he be a teacher or preacher doing for others, an inventor conquering technical frontiers, or a salesman satisfying our wants and needs. We need to rekindle this spirit of competition in the classroom. Superintendent Philip J. Hickey of St. Louis has made a good start in this direction.

Spending Curbs, Though Revenue Still Ahead Of 1953

By LYNN NIBBET

CAUTION — an the lingo of the traffic officer, Governor Umstead has authorized the budget bureau to readjust the signal lights so that the green will be on for a little less time, the orange for a little more and the red to be kept in good working order in case of emergency need.

That is another way of saying that the Governor has ordered a closer check on the spending of public money by State agencies, departments and institutions, because of a continuing downward trend in revenue collections. There is no occasion—yet—for putting the red light against progress, because general fund receipts are still running ahead of last year, and very close to advance estimates made by the advisory budget group in the fall of 1953.

Necessity for current emphasis on the orange caution light and less time for the green go-ahead signal stems from the fact that budget estimates of revenue and budget proposals for spending were out of balance to start the current fiscal year. For 15 years the budget estimates of revenue have been exceeded by actual collections. So it came about that at beginning of the current year there was a "surplus" of $30-odd million in the treasury to take up the shortage between estimated revenue and legislative appropriations. Indications are that there is no excess of revenue now and that when the alleged "surplus" is used up the only recourse will be to increase receipts or cut down on spending.

That situation is not alarming, but it convinces the Governor and his financial advisers that caution at intersections and slow speed are indicated rather than bucking the traffic in high gear toward temporary progress which might not be maintained.

COMMITTEEMAN — Resignation of Robert L. Doughton as Democratic member of the State committee for North Carolina probably means an end to the public service of man who has devoted more than half a century to the promotion of North Carolina through the Democratic party.

Nothing that could be said here would add to or detract from the enviable reputation built up by "Farmer Bob" through all those years.

It might be well to keep in mind the processes by which the Democratic party achieves its purposes. Mr. Doughton very properly notified Governor Umstead of his resignation. But, the official resignation must be registered with the national committee, through its chairman or secretary, since that committee fills vacancies occurring during the times between national conventions.

So far as oldtimers can recall there has not been an instance of failure on part of the national committee to follow nominations of the State committee when vacancies are to be filled. It is also true that there has not been an instance when the State committee failed to follow recommendations of the Governor in approving nominations.

The technical fact remains that the Governor recommends, the State committee nominates, but the National committee has to do the electing in order to constitute any person a member of the committee.

itself. RULES — In that same connection it might be noted again that there is almost desperate need for overhauling the Plan of Organization of the Democratic Party in North Carolina. The

The Doctor Disagrees

CHAPTER TWENTY-FIVE
MR. CORNFELD made a great business of opening a small black notebook on the table where Dr. Bowser could read it, and the secretary as well. "Here's Sunday night, 11:00 p.m., a call to a Mrs. Sprague. Now, the doctor hasn't done more than jot notes, but you men can fill in, probably. He's written here, '70 yrs. old, congestive heart-failure, 3 days, or, dig.' Mr. Cornfeld spun around to face the doctors. "You know what all that means? Well I don't! So maybe Dr. Talbot..."

Craig looked stubborn, and Shelly drew in her breath. Oh, he must answer!

"It means," said Craig tightly "that the patient was seventy years old; she was suffering great pain from congestive heart failure; her husband had thought it would pass—and called me only when she turned blue, a delay of three days. I took her to the hospital and saw that oxygen and digitalis were administered."

"How long did you stay with her, doctor?" asked Cornfeld, gently.

"It's on the hospital record!"

"Sunday night..." spoke up Dr. Ward thoughtfully. "Didn't you care for an injury that night, too? That Hamilton girl with the broken leg? You happened to be in the hospital when she was brought in, and..."

Craig nodded.

"I remember it," said Ward. "She was hurt in a car accident. Talbot saved my being disturbed. I appreciated it. And remember it."

Mr. Cornfeld smiled.

"Did his heart case live?" asked Lewis.

"No," said Craig. "She died about thirty-six hours after I took her to the hospital."

"Yes," Shelly spoke up. "That call's down on the daybook. He was called away from office hours. I remember that. On Tuesday morning, we'd just got started."

Nobody said anything.

"Well, anyway," said Cornfeld, going back to his book. "It seems that Talbot was up all of Sunday night. Now we come to Monday, 8:00 p.m., call to a family named Lehnhoff. Out in the country. His notes say the man was suffering from something that looks like Yiddish."

"Oh, now, look!" cried Craig.

"That's what is written down."

"Yes. Man's a d.p.—out on a farm. He's a tenant farmer or his son is. The old man spoke only Yiddish. It gave me a hot time

Boy Is Arrested In Check Forgery

A 16-year-old Negro boy was apprehended after he forged a check for $25 at the Guaranty Bank yesterday.

Police stated that the boy forged the check and cashed it at the bank. He was later picked up by police and questioned on the matter. The boy told police at first that he knew nothing of the forged check.

Later, however he admitted the forgery and bank officials said that they would not prosecute if the youth would agree to repay the money.

Lots Of Medics Diagnosed Case

LOS ANGELES (AP)—It took two doctors, three assistants, and two X-ray machines to find what was wrong with a 15-year-old girl.

She is Joyce, a 300-pound elephant in Griffith Park Zoo.

The veterinarians yesterday used the two machines strapped together because rays from only one couldn't penetrate the foot-thick ankle.

Missionaries Expelled From Red China Destitute, Ailing

By FRED HAMPSON

HONG KONG (AP)—Yugoslav, Belgian, Mexican, German, French, American, Canadian, Czech, Italian, Spanish—while a few are hungry. Some have chest-wracking coughs or limbs crippled from chains and stone floors. Some are going to die.

On summer days they have arrived in fur, that being all they had to wear. On winter days they came in thin cotton shirts. Among them were scientists, professors, teachers, doctors. Some speak six or eight languages.

All share a broken dream. These are the missionaries who crossed the freedom bridge into Hong Kong in the last two years.

A Canadian Catholic bishop under 50 arrived in China in time to sit out the Japanese War. A single year's work found him in the path of communism, then three years of arrest. Now in Hong Kong, he says "11 years in China and I hardly did 10 months' missionary work."

Sunken, feverish eyes gleam as men lean across a table ignoring the food while they repeat:

"Our Christians are wonderful. Nothing can change them. They are not afraid. They will go to jail, they will die but they will never follow the Communists."

One old man driven from his parish raised goats on a mountain side to live. His Christians crept to his hut at midnight for confession through a slatted bamboo door. Finally the Communists told him to get out.

A Swiss Priest, thrown on his own, turned carpenter and worked and lived in a cellar until the Reds vexed at his refusal to go, threw him out forcibly. He had been 87 years in China and repeated a life-long pledge when they carried

SEVEN-FOLD SERVICE to Industry THROUGH NORTH CAROLINA'S Department of CONSERVATION and DEVELOPMENT

Industries desiring plant location data or other business planning information can get assistance quickly and easily from any or all of the seven specialized divisions of the Department of Conservation and Development through one source—the Director of the Department—by letter, telegraph, telephone or personal visit. Serving industry and the State are these divisions:

COMMERCE AND INDUSTRY—This division assists present and prospective businesses with continuing research and comprehensive reports, special studies and research, data on available buildings and industrial sites, and consults with communities to encourage healthy industrial growth. It provides special services for development of the tourist industry.

MINERAL RESOURCES—First state in the Union to begin studies of its mineral resources, North Carolina is well equipped to provide useful data through this division about its many rock and mineral deposits (more than 300). Phantoms And Pirates Win Tourney Championships

G-Men Lick Kinston For Tournament Title

By WAYNE BISHOP
Reflector Sports Writer

Greenville's Phantoms blasted the conference champion Kinston Red Devils by the overwhelming margin of 58-39 Saturday night in the finals of the Northeastern Athletic Conference basketball tournament. The game was played in Memorial Gym at East Carolina College.

The Phantoms rallied from an eight-point deficit midway the first quarter to shoot their opponents off the court in the last three quarters.

Slow Start
The teams matched shot for shot in the opening minutes of play until the score reached the 6-6 stage. Then, the Greenies hit a slump and Kinston pulled into a 14-6 advantage. The G-men finally hit their stride at that point, however, and pulled up to a 16-12 deficit at the end of the period.

In the second quarter, the Phantoms finally caught up at the 17-17 mark on a jump shot by center Harold Edwards. Kinston broke back into the lead, however, until Bob Howell sent Coach Bo Farley's five into the lead again with a 22-21 mark.

The Phantoms hung onto that slender margin and built it up two more points to lead 24-21 at the half.

Last Half
After the intermission, the Phantoms came out with a red-hot offensive which put them in the driver's seat for good. Little George Sideris hit a one-hander, Harold Edwards canned a jump shot, Walter Perkins flipped in two set shots, and Tiny Tommie Saleed swished two long, arching set shots from 'way out and the G-men led 36-26. After that exhibition, the Red Devils never got within 10 points of Coach Farley's squad.

In the last half, the Greenville team turned in one of their highest shooting percentages of the tournament. The Greenies dropped 12 of 25 attempts from the floor for a 48 per cent accuracy figure.

For the Greenies, it was truly a team victory with no special individual stars.

Sophomore Harold Edwards won his individual battle with Kinston's Buddy Potter again. Edwards out-scored Potter, 8-6, and out-rebounded the Kinston star by 20 to 13. Edwards snatched 52 rebounds off the boards in the three games to hang up one of the most outstanding records of the year.

Bob Howell dropped 14 points in the game to lead the scoring for the night. Howell picked his spots and only scored at crucial moments of the game as he hit 55 per cent of his field goal attempts.

Playmaker George Sideris turned in one of his finest games of the year with 13 important points plus being the team's leading ball handler. Pat Sawyer, Sideris' running mate at guard, dumped in 10 points and was the key man in Greenville's fast-breaking offense.

If a group of stars were to be listed, Little Tommie Saleed would have to be included. The 5-9 junior came into the game in the second quarter with his team trying to catch up. Saleed stood behind the foul circle on the right hand side and threw in two long set shots to put the Greenies back in the contest. In the third period, when the Phantoms were trying to pull away for good, little Saleed went out and dropped in two more of his specialty.

The winning of the tournament rounded out the season's play for the G-men. They finished the season with a 17-5 record and the added satisfaction of having defeated the conference champions (Kinston) two of three games. Greenville lost by four points in the first meeting but came back in the last two games to win by 14 and 19 points.

Kinston, by virtue of their first place in the conference standings (regular season) will represent the Northeastern Conference in the State Tournament later this month.

Washington Wins Consolation Tilt

Washington High School's Pam-Pack took consolation honors in the Northeastern Conference basketball tournament Saturday night by up-ending Jacksonville 51-41.

The Pack was led by center Pinky Young's 18-point performance. With Young leading the scoring, the Pam-Pack took an early lead in the game and was headed only once, in the second quarter.

Jacksonville's Gary Stephenson led the scoring for his team with 10 points.

Washington had reached the consolation round after losing out to Greenville in Friday's semi-finals. The Pack had defeated New Bern in the tournament's first round.

Jacksonville was eliminated from the championship play by Kinston in the Friday semi-finals. They had defeated Elizabeth City Thursday night in the tournament's first round.

Tournament topics:
As the final horn blew signifying the end of the eighth annual Northeastern Athletic Conference tournament, a group of green-uniformed basketball players picked up Coach Bo Farley and forward Bob Howell to go through the victor's ritual of cutting down nets in East Carolina's Memorial Gym.

In a rather dramatic race, Coach Farley pulled his net loose exactly three quarters of a second before Howell finished his own cutting job. Pieces of the two nets were distributed to members of the Greenville squad.

After order had been restored, Greenville Principal O. E. Dowd, chairman of the tournament committee, called on Coach Jack Boone of the ECC football Pirates to present the trophies.

First, Washington received the consolation trophy for having won third place. Then, Kinston's Red Devils were presented with the runner-up trophy and individual silver basketballs.

Head Cheerleader Ann Ruffin of Greenville was then called on to award gold basketballs to members of the Greenville squad.

Coach Boone presented the championship trophy to Bobby Conway, the senior member of the Phantom squad.

All-Tournament
Coach Boone and Mr. Dowd then gave medals to the five players who were picked for the All-Tournament team.

The award went to Harold Edwards and Bob Howell of Greenville, Darwin Williams and Buddy Potter of Jacksonville (14.0), Harold Edwards of Greenville (12.7), Pink Young of Washington (12.0), Charlie Bishop of Washington (10.7), Stephenson of Jacksonville (10.3), Pat Sawyer of Greenville (9.3), Benjie Waters of Washington (7.7), and George Sideris of Greenville (7.3).

East Carolina College's North State Conference champions will meet Presbyterian College at 9:15 tomorrow night in the first round of the District 26 N.A.I.A. basketball tournament.

Lenoir-Rhyne and Erskine will open the two-day tournament at 7:30.

The first-round pairings for the tournament were announced Saturday night by Francis Hoover of Appalachian State Teachers College, the district chairman for the N. A. I. A.

Tickets for the event have been on sale for the past week under the direction of Greenville Rotarians, sponsors of the tournament. The tickets cost $1.50 for a single night and $2.50 for both nights. They can be obtained from the Rotarians, members of the Sigma Rho Phi fraternity at East Carolina, and at Bissette's Drug Store.

The winner of this regional contest will represent the Carolinas in the national N.A.I.A. finals at Kansas City. Competition on the national level begins next Monday afternoon.

The tournament set-up for Wednesday night will have a consolation game starting at 7:30 and the championship affair at 9:15. Losers of the first round games will meet for the consolation titles with winners meeting for the championship.

The games will mark the last home appearances of four East Carolina players. Center Bobby Hodges, forward Charlie Huffman, guard Bob Moyer, and forward Paul Jones will all be making their last Memorial Gym appearances. All four had important parts in the North State Conference tournament victories scored by the Pirates last week in Lexington. Hodges and Huffman were picked for the All-Tournament squad.

Senators Placing Vernon On Block

The prospect of a major trade involving Mickey Vernon, the American League's leading batter last season, was more than a remote possibility as spring training officially opened in the major league camps today.

The 35-year-old Washington first baseman has yet to sign his 1954 contract. He is said to be asking for double the $19,000 he received last year.

"No, I won't sell him," Clark Griffith, Senators owner, declared. "But I might trade him if they offered me the right players for him."

He added it had never been his practice to trade players who are holdouts, but that he might be ready to make an exception in Vernon's case.

Several American League clubs, Cleveland and Baltimore among them have been reported seeking first base help and in Vernon they'd be getting just that. Besides his pace-setting .337 average in 1953, the veteran drove out 15 homers and piled up 115 runs batted in.

Better news for the Senators was the return yesterday of star pitcher Bob Porterfield, almost completely recovered from a minor concussion. The big right-hander was hospitalized Saturday after being hit by a batted ball in practice.

Enos Slaughter, another veteran, made the big noise in the St. Louis Cardinals' camp at St. Petersburg, Fla. He belted four "homers" over GREENSBORO (4)—East Carolina and Atlantic Christian, the two finalists, each placed a pair of men to top the North State Conference's all tournament selection as chosen by sports writers from the event which ended Saturday night at Lexington.

East Carolina's champions placed Bobby Hodges and Charlie Huffman on the first team and Atlantic Christian's runners-up placed John Marley and Jerry Williams.

The fifth berth went to Floyd Propst from Lenoir Rhyne's semi-finals team.

Atlantic Christian also placed two men on the second team, Billy Widgeon and Billy Tomlinson.

Don Harris represented East Carolina on the No. 2 club and Bob Ortmyer of Lenoir Rhyne and Bobby Callicutt of Guilford rounded out the second five.

East Carolina won the championship in defeating Atlantic Christian 86-75 in Saturday night's finals. Hodges was named the most valuable player.

Bulldogs To Play Last Home Contest
Eppes High School's Bulldogs will meet Dillard High School of Goldsboro tomorrow night at 7:30 in the last home game of the year for the Bulldogs. The game will be played in the Eppes gym.

The Bulldogs are already removed from competition in the state finals for the Negro championship but games between the schools have always been hot contests. There will be no preliminary contest.

the fence. Said Enos after the workout: "Never felt better."

Hodges Leads Scoring For New Loop Record

By JIMMY ELLIS
Reflector Sports Editor

LEXINGTON—East Carolina College's top-ranked Pirates stood off a determined Atlantic Christian College team here Saturday night to claim their first North State Conference basketball championship.

The game was played before 3,500 fans in the new Lexington YMCA. While the victory was primarily a team victory, it was not without its individual standouts. Chief among those was ECC's Bobby Hodges who dropped in 34 points to set a new tournament scoring record of 90 points for three games. The old mark was 81, established in 1952 by Tony Selarri of Lenoir-Rhyne.

The Pirates pulled away from the Bulldogs in the last half to score the victory. They had gone into the last two quarters with a 41-36 lead but they had to wait until the last five minutes of action to get completely out of danger.

Atlantic Christian made its last serious bid for the game with exactly seven minutes of action left. That's when Billy Widgeon sank a push shot to make the score 64-60, the Pirates leading.

After Widgeon's shot, the Bucs went eight points ahead on the work of Hodges. ACC scored again but Hodges, J. C. Thomas, and Don Harris went to work for the Pirates to put the game out of the reach of the Bulldogs.

The game marked the first time since 1942 that the top-seeded team had won the tournament. The last time it had happened was when High Point's Panthers took the title.

Close Half
The game was an exceptionally close one throughout the first half. The score was tied 9 times and the lead changed hands 12 times before the Pirates grabbed a lead shortly before the half and hung onto it for the rest of the game.

The championship was the first claimed by the Pirates since their first tournament showing in 1948. They had reached the finals in the 1951 tournament but lost to High Point in the finals.

Individual honors were plentiful for individual members of the squad. Hodges was unanimously named as the tournament's most valuable player and received a handsome trophy, the first of its kind, from tournament sponsors. Hodges and Charlie Huffman were named to the first-team All-Tournament squad with J. C. Thomas and Don Harris getting second team honors. All of the honorary selections were made by the large delegation of working press members.

The tournament is expected to remain at Lexington after the performances of last week. In recent years, it has been the habit of the selection committee to skip around each year but 11,500 fans paid their way into the four nights of action last week to set another tournament record. It was the most successful tournament since the first was played in 1941.

21-1 Record
The victory scored by the Pirates was their twenty-first of the year. They have lost only once, a regular season defeat at the hands of Western Carolina's Catamounts. The victory also assured the Pirates of top billing in the NAIA District 26 tournament which will open tomorrow night in Memorial Gym.

Stock And Market Reports

NEW YORK (U)—The stock market pulled ahead today with a majority of trading interest centered in a handful of individual issues. Gains and losses were mostly fractional, individually strong stocks pushed up to between 1 and 4 points upon occasion.

Trading was quite brisk with many large blocks on the tape. The pace hit a rate of around two million shares for the entire day. Friday's total was 1,910,000 shares.

Railroads displayed only modest progress and the steels were unchanged to lower. In the steady to higher class were the railroads, utilities, oil, copper, aircrafts, chemicals, radio-television issues, airlines, and the motion pictures.

Eastern Air Lines jumped ahead more than a point right after it was reported from Washington that President Eisenhower had vetoed a proposed merger of Eastern with Colonial Airlines. On the American Stock Exchange, Colonial fell between 2 and 3 points after the announcement.

General Electric was ahead between 3 and 4 points at times after starting up 1%. It shot ahead 3% on Friday after directors proposed a three-for-one stock split.

Among higher stocks were American Telephone Southern Pacific, Union Oil of California, Chrysler, Goodrich Douglas Aircraft Radio Corp., Westinghouse Electric, and American Tobacco.

Hold Funeral For Rev. J. P. Harris

BETHEL—The Rev. J. P. Harris, 71, prominent Baptist minister and businessman of this community, died unexpectedly early Sunday morning.

Funeral services were held from Bethel Baptist Church Monday at 11 a.m. Interment was in the family plot in Wake Forest Cemetery at 2 p.m. Rev. T. N. Cooper officiated, assisted by Rev. H. B. Lewis and Rev. Joe Russell Jr.

Mr. Harris was the son of the late Franklin P. and Fannie Gales Harris of the Gum Springs community of Anson County.

He was a graduate of Wake Forest College and had held pastorates at Harris Chapel, Sulphur Springs, Inez, and Gardner's in Warren county. He was pastor at Bethel from 1920 until 1924. He also held pastorates at Puquay Springs, Beaufort, Maysville, Grants Creek and Kellum in Onslow County before retiring in 1938.

At the time of his death he was pastor of Mildred Baptist Church in Edgemore county.

In 1945 he founded a freezer locker plant here and was a leader in developing the growth and marketing of sweet potatoes in North Carolina. He helped organized the Bethel auction sweet potato market and was one of the organizers of the N. C. Locker Plant Operators Association. He served as a director of that group.

Mr. Harris was first married to the former Lucy Shearon, who died in 1921, and was later married to the former Estelle Jones, who survives. Also surviving are three sons, J. P. Jr. of Beaufort, Shearon of Albemarle, and Dr. Frank G. Harris of Sanford; five grandchildren; one brother, A. E. Harris of Hamlet; five sisters, Mrs. Kitty Sellers of Wadesboro, Mrs. Walter Marks of Lilesville, Mrs. Ella Hardaway of Hamlet, Mrs. Maude Lane of Blackstone, Va., and Mrs. A. J. Cheek of Baltimore, Md.

The family requests that flowers be omitted.

TOMBSTONE HIS ART PROJECT—Clarence Tyler, 12-year-old 5th grader in Tulsa, Okla., works on his unusual classroom project, a clay marker for the grave of his baby brother who died six years ago. Coffee Price Probers To Decide Next Step

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON WASHINGTON (U)—Senators probing high coffee prices may decide today to order New York City coffee exchange members to turn over their lists of traders and speculators.

Chairman Beall (R-Md) of a special coffee investigating subcommittee called a closed-door session to consider "subpoenas for books and records of some coffee brokers."

Gustavo Lobo Jr., president of the New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange, recommended that all members supply trading data to the Senate probers on a voluntary basis.

Beall said less than 30 of the 50 key members had done this "but two brokers told us they want us to subpoena their records."

"If we have to do this for two, then to be fair we should do it for all of them," he said.

Subpoenas—orders backed by congressional authority—presumably would give the brokers some protection against any complaints from customers whose transactions would be disclosed in the records.

The Senate inquiry, by a Banking subcommittee, began a month ago. Since then retail prices, which had climbed to a dollar a pound or more, have gone up another 5 to 10 cents.

The Senate group wants to examine books and accounts of the New York exchange to see if excessive speculation has caused any part of the increase.

Beall said his group also has received "reports that a corner in coffee may be causing some of the increase."

This is a trade term used when a group or individual acquires enough of a commodity or futures contracts to manipulate prices.

Lobo and other officials have testified that the New York coffee exchange makes this impossible through its own regulations.

The Senate has passed a bill that would impose government regulation and supervision of all speculation and futures trading in coffee by the Commodity Exchange Authority.

Meanwhile, four U. S. clubwomen, who inspected Brazil's coffee situation on a 10-day trip there, have predicted that coffee prices will stay high for the next few years, and may climb even higher.

The quartet from the General

Federation of Womens Clubs were guests of the Brazilian Coffee Institute during their survey.

And the Foreign Agricultural Service said yesterday available information tends to bear out coffee dealers' contention that the supply is short in relation to demand.

However, the service said sizable unreported stocks of coffee may be held in the interior of Brazil, the major producer.

It said current season production was estimated at 40,300,000 bags of 132 pounds each, while demand is expected to be at least up to last season's 41,300,000 bags.

Heart Massage Failed Save Boy

CUMBERLAND, Md. (U)—Six-year-old Walter Thomas Brown Jr. died at Sacred Heart Hospital here last night, 11 days after a surgeon had made a dramatic attempt to save his life by massaging his heart.

The boy's heart had stopped during a tonsillectomy. A surgeon, hurriedly summoned from an adjoining operation, made a quick chest incision and massaged the heart to restore circulation.

But the five minutes Tommy's brain was without oxygen caused too much damage, a hospital spokesman said last night.

All-Night Vigil Didn't Stop'em

LYNN, Mass. (U)—Irked because his ice cream store was burglarized twice during the past week, George Roland, 34, stood guard with a rifle all Saturday night. Nary a thief showed up.

Just as he dozed off yesterday morning, the telephone rang.

It was police reporting another break at his place. Thieves stole nine cartons of cigarettes.

Izvestia Reports On U.S. Senator

LONDON (U)—The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia said today developments so far in the row between U.S. Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens and Sen. McCarthy prove the Wisconsin senator "has the full backing of his country's rulers."

"The latter have need of McCarthy and McCarthy knows this," said the article, which was quoted by Moscow radio. "That's why he continues to indulge his wild amusement with their blessing."

Ski Train Falls Into Ravine; Nine Persons Killed

TOULOUSE, France (U)—A cog railway train streaking down a mountain in the French Pyrenees with holiday skiers jumped the tracks and plunged into a 1,500-foot ravine yesterday. Nine persons were killed and 14 injured.

The train was 3,700 feet up the mountain on its way from a ski run to Luchon when it derailed. It was believed the brakes failed.

As the train shot off the track and skidded over rocks to the ravine's brink, some passengers jumped. They were flung under the wheels and crushed between the rocks and the sides of the train.

The train was the three-rail type for steep grades. The rail's center track is notched to mesh with a cog wheel on the engine.

Only The Bride Knew Of Death

BOSTON (U)—Rose Puopolo 26, walked down the church aisle to become a bride yesterday with a radiant smile on her face—and a grim secret in her heart.

Only the bride knew as she knelt at the altar of the Sacred Heart Church and repeated the marriage vows with Frank Vecchia 25, that her brother was dead.

Just before she left for the church, a reporter called the house to notify the family that Joseph Puopolo, 24, missing in action in Korea, had been officially listed as dead by the Army.

She answered the telephone and kept the secret to herself until after the ceremony. Then she broke the sad news to her father, Alessio Puopolo, 55.

The newly-married couple postponed a planned honeymoon to comfort the father, who had never given up hope that his son would be found alive.

NO RECESSION HERE

NORFOLK, Va. (U)—Net income of the Norfolk Southern Railway in January amounted to $16,225, contrasted with $7,483 for the same month last year, according to a financial report issued here.

N.C. Hospitals Given $284,290

RALEIGH (U)—To help foot the bill in caring for indigent patients, 121 North Carolina hospitals received a total of $284,290.50 in state aid during 1953.

This money was distributed by the Medical Care Commission, according to a report by Dr. John A. Ferrell, executive secretary of the commission. Dr. Ferrell said that since 1946, when the state began its program of helping care for indigent patients, the state has paid out a total of $1,612,097.

The report showed the commission now pays $1.50 per day for the care of patients certified by county public welfare superintendents as medically indigent.

The largest amount of state funds last year went to Duke Hospital at Durham, $23,185.50.

The 121 hospitals are located in 80 of the state's 100 counties. They included 21 privately-owned hospitals and 100 non-profit or publicly-owned institutions.

Most hospitals also received $1 per day per indigent patient for the Duke Endowment and 70 to 80 cents from the Reynolds Foundation.
