Wild Charges That Threatened City Broken Off

Vietminh Slacken Assault

By LARRY ALLEN HANOI, Indochina (AP)—The Communist-led Vietminh halted their third massive infantry assault on Dien Bien Phu last night. The breather for the weary and battered French Union defenders extended into today.

bulk of their much greater numbers into the charge. The Vietminh had launched their third wave-on-wave infantry assault on the fortress Saturday night. Before they broke off their wild charges from all sides of the shrunken French perimeter, the rebels had choked off three more of the strongpoints guarding the bunker command headquarters of French Brig. Gen. Christian de Castries and also overrun "Isabelle," an isolated outpost three miles south of the main fortress defenses.

The French army command said its losses were heavy but claimed the enemy toll was "extremely" high. The fortress, France's last stronghold in northwest Indochina, had withstood 51 days of constant hammering by the Vietminh including two previous attempts to overwhelm it by sheer force of numbers. Bitter French counterattacks drove the Vietminh from positions held briefly on the southeastern rim yesterday, but the other captured bunkers and trenches on the east, northeast and west—gave the attackers new protected firing positions. French tanks, clustered in the heart of the fortress, were of little use in the fighting at close quarters. French bombers and fighters swooped over the battlefield but could not blast the rebels at close range without killing their own troops.

Geneva Conferees Prepare Indochina Peace Conference

GENEVA (AP)—East and West reached virtual agreement today on the setting up of a peace conference to end the bloody fighting in Indochina. The Soviet Union agreed, French sources said, to a Western proposal that representatives of the Communist-led Vietminh be invited to the conference by the Soviet Union instead of by Communist China.

The Western Big Three foreign ministers and Foreign Minister Nguyen Quoc Dinh of Viet Nam formally agreed to admit Vietminh representatives with the understanding that this would not imply recognition of the Vietminh regime as a state. The Russians and the West already had agreed that nine parties would attend the conference—the Big Four, the Chinese Reds, the Vietminh and the three Associated States of Indochina, Viet Nam, Cambodia and Laos.

Involved In Pitt Highway Fatality

DEATH CAR—Above is the car in which Ben Lee Harris, Negro, of Greenville was killed yesterday afternoon. Harris was thrown 30 feet from the auto when it rolled over near Farmville on NC 121. Driver of the vehicle, John Walter Williams alias Gorham, also Negro, was charged with manslaughter as a result of the accident. It was the first fatality for the county this year. Cohn Sees No Conflict In Photo Statement

Prepared To 'Prove' Point

WASHINGTON (AP)—Roy M. Cohn said today he and Sen. McCarthy still are prepared to "prove" that Secretary of the Army Stevens suggested the taking of a disputed picture of Stevens with G. David Schine. Cohn, McCarthy's chief counsel, said he sees "absolutely no conflict" with an Army sergeant's statement that the sergeant ordered the picture on his own initiative.

signed to the Air Force public information staff last fall, and believed at the time that the picture of Stevens and Schine would be a good publicity idea. He said he ordered photographers to take the picture. A reporter asked Cohn today whether this changed his previous prediction that the McCarthy camp would "prove" that Stevens had suggested the picture.

declined to say how much time he might need or how many witnesses he might call. McCarthy said he expects to take at least three more days in questioning Secretary of the Army Stevens, who was called back to the witness stand for the eighth day. Until he has completed his questioning of Stevens, McCarthy said, he cannot tell how many witnesses he will call in behalf of himself and his two top aides, Roy M. Cohn and Francis P. Carr.

Welter Of Advice Is Awaiting Dulles

By LEWIS GULICK WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional comment made it clear today that Secretary of State Dulles, rebuffed abroad in his plea for "united action" against communism in Indochina, will be greeted with a welter of conflicting advice when he returns to the United States. Dulles, due back from the Geneva conference tomorrow, is scheduled for a round of talks with congressional leaders and administration officials over what to do about the Red threat to strategic Southeast Asia. Differences of opinion were evident both among congressmen and within the administration.

Repeating his criticism of British policy, Knowland said on a Du Mont TV show last night the United States has "the right to know which of our allies are prepared to stand up with us and be counted." "By that," he said, "I mean that in the event of Chinese intervention (in Indochina) what are we prepared to do. Congress is entitled to know that." He also said, "I don't believe that the need of meeting the situation in Indochina is land power from the Western nations."

Would Have States Take Over Job From Gov't

Proposes Developing Park

BRYSON CITY, N. C. (AP)—A state forestry official last night proposed that North Carolina and Tennessee take over the Great Smoky Mountains National Park if the federal government is not able to maintain it. Kelley E. Bennett, chairman of the North Carolina National Park Parkway and Forest Development Commission, proposed the move as a controversy increased over proposals to charging an admission fee to the park.

ing director of the National Park Service, said the park service does not believe an admission charge would have any "appreciable" effect on visitation to the area. Bennett declared he would make every effort to see that legislation is introduced and passed in the 1955 session of the General Assembly to prohibit such a charge. He stated that the time had come for the people of North Carolina and Tennessee to "have a showdown" with the government on the operation and development of the park.

Legally and morally, the federal government is responsible to properly maintain and develop the park and keep it open without charge to the people of America who visit it," Bennett stated. He charged that from the day the park was dedicated by the late President Roosevelt in 1940 to the present, Congress has "shamelessly neglected" the park and as a result the park is in a "state of shocking deterioration."

Gov't May Recover Some Housing Profits

WASHINGTON (AP)—Housing Administrator Albert M. Cole says the government may be able to recover some of the 75 million dollars in "windfall" profits which he estimates builders got under the federal housing program. Reversing an earlier opinion that the gains made by builders involved nothing illegal, Cole said yesterday some federal - insured loan contracts may have forbidden such windfall profits. "It is quite possible that suits may be brought to recover," he said on an NBC TV program.

themselves liquidating dividends, he said. In New York, 600 tenants of a big Queens apartment development which was cited in recent disclosures as an example of such a case, voted unanimously yesterday to withhold 25 per cent of their rents. Since maximum rents are based on the amount of the mortgage, the tenants contend the 25 per cent represents approximately the difference between Glen Oaks' 20-million-dollar cost and its mortgage of more than 26 million. A spokesman for the tenants said the 25 per cent would be held in escrow until the issue is settled. Officials of firms which built and manage the development could not be reached for comment.

Will Not Support James Roosevelt WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell of the Democratic National Committee said yesterday he will do nothing to support James Roosevelt's candidacy for Congress even if Roosevelt wins the party nomination. Roosevelt has been accused of adultery in a separate maintenance suit brought by his wife Romelle. He has denied the charge.

Revision Of T-H Is Up For Debate

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's request for changes in the long-disputed Taft-Hartley law was up today for a Senate go-round in which Republican leaders seemed confident they could bring down a Democratic veto. An attempt by Northern Democrats to send the matter back to the Labor Committee — in effect killing it for this session — was looked for early in the debate, which may last two weeks. Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.), Labor Committee Chairman, finished work over the weekend on a two-hour speech he may deliver today. It outlines the revision bill adopted several weeks ago by the committee on straight party lines.

1949, two years after the law was passed over former President Truman's veto. Only two amendments, both minor, have been adopted to the 1947 act which, in turn, was a series of amendments to the 1935 Wagner Act. Last Jan. 12 Eisenhower sent Congress a special message calling the Taft-Hartley law "sound legislation" and listing what he said were only minor changes needed to "reinforce its basic objectives." The Senate Labor Committee, after weeks of hearings last year, adopted a revision program three weeks ago closely following Eisenhower's recommendations. The House Labor Committee also completed hearings but has not yet voted out a bill.

Five Persons Taken In Custody During ABC Weekend Round-Up

Five Negroes were taken into custody by ABC officers in Pitt County over the week-end, four of them charged with liquor law violations. Edna Smith, Negro of South Railroad Street, was arrested by officers and charged with possession of a quantity of bootleg whiskey. She was cited for appearance in city court. Armilla Applewhite, Negro of 1621 South Pitt Street, was arrested by officers who charged her with the possession of a pot of non-tax-paid liquor they said they found in her home. She was released under a $200 bond. Joe Ray Pugh, Negro, 29, of 621-B Allens, Ally was arrested by officers when he allegedly tried to destroy a half-gallon of bootleg whiskey at the home of Johnnie Banks. Officers also found Banks at the house, and lodged him in the city jail. ABC officer J.M. Ward said Banks was tried in Pitt Superior Court last term and sentenced to six months work at the county home for the sale of bootleg whiskey. Ward said Banks first told the officers he had received permission to leave the County Home for one hour, but later admitted that he had slipped away from the home after everyone had gone to bed. Robert Vick, Negro, 57 of Slokes route one, was arrested by officers who found one gallon of bootleg whiskey at his home near Sweet Gum Grove Church. Vick was recognized to appear in county court. Taking part in the ABC raids were ABC officers Ward, H.B. Lilly and Glynn Perkins, Deputy Sheriffs Elmer Haddock and L.E. Manning, and State Wine Inspector O.G. Lamm.

Indochina Peace Is Urged By South Asian Premiers COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP)—Five South Asian prime ministers returned home today from a four-day conference here after calling for a cease fire and direct negotiations to bring peace to Indochina. The five government chiefs—of India, Pakistan, Burma, Indonesia and Ceylon—demanded also that the United States, Russia, Britain and Communist China agree on the "steps necessary to prevent a recurrence" of Indochinese hostilities. They asked France to commit herself "irrevocably" at Geneva to granting Indochina complete independence. The Indochinese resolution, outlined in a communique after the closing session yesterday, had been watered down from one proposed by Indian Prime Minister Nehru. Nehru had demanded that the British, Americans, Russians and Chinese Communists promise not to interfere in the Vietnam conflict. The prime ministers declared Communist China should be admitted to the United Nations to "ease world tensions." All their governments have recognized the Peiping regime.

Army Blamed By Schine's Brother

Cambridge, Mass. (AP)—C. Richard Schine, 19-year-old Harvard sophomore, says the Army made his brother's request for a commission "a political football." Schine told the Boston Post in an interview yesterday that if Secretary of the Army Stevens had acted immediately on the application of his brother, G. David Schine, for an officer's commission, the McCarthy-Army row might have been averted. "Instead of making a natural executive decision when my brother applied for a commission," Stevens hedged for six weeks while the Army made Dave's request for a commission a political football," Schine said.

German Declares French Making Hitler's Error

BONN, Germany (AP)—Germany's World War II governor of northern France and Belgium described the French Union's stubborn defense of Dien Bien Phu today as "the second Battle of Stalingrad, in which the French are making all the mistakes Hitler made." Former Gen. Alexander von Falkenhausen told an interviewer: "To insist on holding Dien Bien Phu, like Hitler did his famous 'fortresses,' gives this battle a propagandistic significance which can have catastrophic consequences. "Dien Bien Phu has no strategic significance." Before World War II Von Falkenhausen was a military adviser to Chinese Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek. He is considered an expert on Asian affairs.

House Heavily Damaged By Fire

Fire heavily damaged a house at 603 Pamlico Avenue early this morning. Firemen were called at 12:27 a. m. this morning to the home of Maggie Strickland when fire of unknown origin gutted the building. Firefighters battled the blaze for almost an hour before it was brought under control. None of the furniture was reported saved from the burning building. The house is owned by B. B. Sugg.

Registering

Pitt County Board of Elections chairman Gilbert Peel estimated this morning that about 12 and one-half percent of the qualified voters in the County registered Saturday. It was the opening day for the "new registration" which is taking place here. He said that a complete report has not been obtained from all Registrars and that this report will be forthcoming tomorrow, he did report one registration as high as 232 and another small rural precinct registering 115 qualified voters.

Fractured Foot In 3-Floor Fall

BALTIMORE, (AP)—Mrs. Glen Seiber fell three floors to a sidewalk here last night but suffered only a fractured foot. She was released after treatment at St. Joseph's Hospital. Her husband told police she was calling from their apartment window to one of his relatives on the sidewalk when she apparently fainted.

Fire Horn Will Sound '99' In Defense Display Tuesday Night

City Manager James S. Hughes reminds people of Greenville that the "99" which will blow on the fire horn tomorrow night will be done only to help the local National Guard unit in its demonstration to show what would be done in the event of an aggressor attack. Hughes said, "We want the people to know it is only a test and they should not become alarmed." Sergeant Mayo Allen, administrative supply and maintenance technician with the 690th Field Artillery Battery local National Guard unit, said this morning that patrols will be set around strategic points of the town from 9 to 10 p. m. These strategic points will include the post office, the court house, the Tar River Bridge, the utilities plant, telephone office, utilities office and the radio and television stations. He said that Major General John H. Manning, adjutant general of the North Carolina National Guard, and other members of his staff will be present for the event. In addition, the mayor of Greenville, the city manager, the city and county commissions and others will view the proceedings. Allen added that the public is invited to the proceedings between 9 and 10 p. m. Prior to the 9 to 10 proceedings Lt. Col. Guy Langston will inspect the local unit. Col Langston is battalion commander. The "99" fire horn signal is a special national guard call, it was pointed out. Captain Franklin Redmond, unit commanding officer, urges all employers, who have employees in the local National Guard unit, to view the proceedings tomorrow night as they may see the benefit of having a Guard unit. Capt. Redmond hopes that this demonstration will show the employers why the employees would like to get off for summer camp.

Rieve Warns U.S. Textile Industry Shrinking Sounds Tariff Barrier Call

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Emil Rieve, president of the CIO Textile Workers Union of America (TWUA), said today the ailing U.S. textile industry will die unless some way is found to compete with countries "like England and Japan." "Sooner or later the Eisenhower administration must face up to this problem honestly—to the real issue, which no one in Washington wants to talk about," Rieve said. That issue "is simply this: Do we want to have a domestic textile industry or not?" In his keynote speech prepared for the opening of the TWUA's biennial convention here today, Rieve reported a sharp slump in the number of workers in the textile industry and in the union. Normal employment in the industry is 1,250,000 workers, the union chief said. But today the total is 900,000. "In other words, some 350,000 people who used to earn their living as textile workers are no longer employed in our industry," he said. "And of those who have jobs, at least 200,000 are on short time." "Naturally, our union has felt the effects. In the last two years we have shrunk from 400,000 workers under contract to 325,000 workers under contract. "Less than a third of this loss can be attributed to the (AFL) raids against us. The balance is due entirely to the shrinkage of the industry itself." One big reason for the "shrinkage" is the fact that "countries like England and Japan can actually produce textiles and sell them here at a price which our industry cannot match." The difference in wage rates between the U.S. textile industry and foreign competitors makes the difference in prices. Rieve told the 1,500 convention delegates that the CIO knows "high tariff barriers are not the way to bring about prosperity." But they may be the only answer for the U.S. textile industry.

Highway Patrol Effort Results In 52 Arrests

Highway patrolmen made 52 arrests during the weekend, according to Corporal Carl Whitfield. The arrests came during a saturation weekend which saw all Pitt County patrolmen on duty and additional patrolmen were brought in from other counties. Whitfield said that an attempt was made to patrol every ten miles of primary highway in the county. In addition, speed clocks were used in catching some 14 motorists who were charged with speeding. Only one wreck was reported on Pitt County highways during the weekend. One fatality was recorded in that accident, however. Ben Lee Harris was killed when he was thrown 30 feet after an auto in which he was riding overturned near Farmville. Whitfield reported that of the 52 arrests four were for driving drunk, three were reckless driving, 14 speeding, seven running stop signs, one following too close, one improper passing on curve, one possession of non-tax paid liquor, 10 no operator's license, one driving while license revoked, six faulty equipment, two bad lights, and three pedestrians drunk on the highway.

The fatality owes the first of the year for Pitt County. Last year at this time three highway deaths had been reported in the county. The wrecked car belonged to Henry Etheridge Allen of King's Cross Road who said that he allowed Williams to use the vehicle. Minshew was assisted in his investigation by Patrolman James W. Boykin.

Driver Charged With Manslaughter In Pitt Death First Road Fatality Of 1954

Pitt County saw its first highway traffic fatality of the year yesterday shortly after noon when Ben Lee Harris, 35-year-old Negro of Greenville Route 4 was killed in an automobile accident near Farmville. Driver of the vehicle, John Walter Williams alias Gorham, also Negro, was arrested at 4 o'clock this morning on a manslaughter charge by investigating Patrolman D.L. Minshew.

to track down the driver. Minshew arrested Williams at 4 o'clock this morning in Scotland Neck. The Highway Patrol said this morning that Williams was not injured. Injured in the accident was Edmond Speight, Negro of Greenville Route 4. He received a broken leg in the accident and was admitted to Pitt Memorial Hospital.

The fatality owes the first of the year for Pitt County. Last year at this time three highway deaths had been reported in the county. The wrecked car belonged to Henry Etheridge Allen of King's Cross Road who said that he allowed Williams to use the vehicle. Minshew was assisted in his investigation by Patrolman James W. Boykin.

Dr. Marshall Is Guest Speaker For Fireside Club

The Fireside Club of the Eighth Street Christian Church met Wednesday night at the lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Laughinghouse. The home was beautifully decorated with spring flowers.

Mrs. Laughinghouse called for a report from the nominating committee and the following slate of officers for the coming year was presented:
Mr. and Mrs. Guy Evans, co-presidents; Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Forrest, co-secretaries.

This slate was voted on and unanimously accepted.
The guest speaker for the evening was Dr. W. E. Marshall. He spoke on the subject "What Is There In It For Me?" Dr. Marshall spoke very interestingly on this subject. "Our possessions and abilities should be used and shared with our friends and neighbors. The primary interest of Christian people should not be what we would gain personally but how we can help our fellowman." Everyone thoroughly enjoyed this timely message by Dr. Marshall. This was followed by a very interesting group discussion.
The hostess served delicious refreshments and a delightful social hour was enjoyed.

Opposition To Change, A Powerful Thing

Inately, it seems, people are often prone to jump to conclusions about new ideas and new practices even before they are given a trail.

Whenever it is proposed that an old rou-

Feeding The Menace That Will Strike Us

Another break has appeared in the wall that was partially constructed to prevent strategic materials from the free world from going into communist countries to build up their economic and military forces.

Singapore's British colonial government has announced it will begin shipping rubber to Soviet Russia and several of its European satellites.

In a sort of back-handed gesture at abiding with the U. N. embargo restrictions adopted in 1951, the colonial government said it will not allow shipment of rubber to Communist China or to North Korea.

The only difference we can see, is that the rubber sent to Russia and the satellite countries will go to North Korea and Communist China in the form of manufactured war material rather than its raw state.

There are many economic factors in world trade which of course we do not pretend to understand. Yet we do understand thoroughly that supplies of strategic materials are vital to the military might of any nation or group of nations. As long as strategic materials are sold by nations of the free world to the communist bloc, the free world in a very real sense is helping the communists build their military forces and their military supplies. Sooner or later they will be used against the free nations in some section of the world either in the form of open war, or as a weapon of intimidation.

Just as surely as the scrap iron sold by the United States to Japan prior to world War II came back to us in the form of bullets and war weapons, strategic materials being shipped to the communists will come back to the free world as military weapons bent upon enslaving the people to communism.

Strength for the Day

By EARL L. DOUGLASS
WATCH THE BALL

None of us likes the guy who plays to the grandstand. Truly great athletes always have the enthusiasm of their fans, but the fellow who is conscious of this enthusiasm and who hangs and thirsts for it is a poor sport, no matter what his batting average or his goals or the number of his knock-outs may be.

Those of us who can look back over a number of years and recall all sorts of athletic contests have been struck by the fact that the greatest athletes were supremely unconscious of the grandstand. I have in mind now a college football player, the fastest thing I ever saw on two feet, and the goals he piled up during the season were due to the fact that he never thought about anything but getting down that field.

Someone asked Babe Ruth once what he did when the crowds boomed him, as they sometimes did. His reply was, "I do what I always do—just keep thinking about that ball."

The grandstand player generally ends up in a mighty slam of humiliation and often of scandal. He has had his mind on the wrong thing. We all have to be like the old Babe—just keep thinking about that ball. As soon as we begin thinking about what the crowd is thinking, we are lost. Keep your eye on the ball—and your mind on it, too.

National Whirligig

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON—It is no accident that numerous members of Congress have recently asked Treasury, State and Commerce officials to furnish figures on the amount of wartime and postwar aid which the United States has given to Allies, neutrals and former enemy nations. It may be the beginning of that "agonizing reappraisal" which Secretary John Foster Dulles threatened to apply to future grants.

This Congressional checkup coincides with the apparent crumbling of the American-inspired European Defense Community and the failure of European and Asiatic nations to respond to the Dulles demand for "united action" in Indo-China. It comes at a time when the Truman-Eisenhower system of "collective security" appears to be falling apart.

As a result of these military and diplomatic developments, Capitol Hill has become more curious about the amount of total overseas investment and the results of this tremendous expenditure of taxpayers' money. It is not idle curiosity which stirs them, however, for they plan to use the evidence in consideration and action on pending requests for more foreign aid funds.

U. S. HAS POURED OUT $100 BILLION—According to the latest and best available figures, the United States has poured out at least $100 billion during the 1941-1953 period, inclusive. This includes every form of differently titled kind of assistance—Lend-Lease, UNRRA, the Marshall Plan, Mutual Security, occupation costs, our share in financing the "Korean police action," our most recent contributions to French forces in Indo-China.

Every cent, except about $10 billion, was turned over without any demand or expectation of repayment. It was either our part of the anti-Hitler "kitty," or outright gifts for postwar reconstruction and underwriting the anti-Russian alliance.

The $10 billion in credits are to be repaid over a 50-year period at an average interest rate of 3 per cent. Interest collections in 1953 totaled $251,000,000.

BACKSTOPPING FOR OUR ALLIES—This enormous sum takes no account of the billions we have spent on rebuilding our own war machine since the June, 1950, invasion of South Korea. Obviously, if our Allies around the globe had not been so weak, our military appropriations would have been far smaller.

We are backstopping for them, especially in the atomic field.

England received the lion's share of this money, or $31 billion. But the full amount cannot be charged against London, which used a large part to finance other members of the British Commonwealth.

The next largest beneficiary, ironically, is Russia. She owes the U.S. $11.2 billion for weapons, food and services which helped to save her from a disastrous defeat by the Germans. She has made no attempt to repay a penny, despite numerous nudgings.

PRINCIPAL RECIPIENTS—France comes next with approximately $8 billion. The sum is relatively small because that nation, save for its colonial forces, was virtually a spectator in World War II. But we have promised about $1 billion annually to pay for the Indo-China defense.

The other principal recipients of American aid are: Germany, $3.5 billion; China, $3.1 billion; Japan, $3 billion; Italy, $2.8 billion; Holland, $1.2 billion; South American Republics, $1 billion. About thirty other nations participated in the $100-billion pool, and some of the less favored—Greece, Turkey, Belgium, Holland—show greater gratitude than our historic Allies.

President Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles seem to regret the latter's impetuous threat of an "agonizing reappraisal," based on Anglo-French failure to support the idea of "collective security." But, as this current review of our 1941-1953 sacrifices shows, Congress may act upon the Secretary of State's suggestion. It insists upon some return for this vast investment.

Kostelantze, born in Russia, started playing the piano at five, and heartily disliked it. Today, at 52, he is a stocky, partly bald, blue-eyed musician, a precisionist.

He works with the intensity of a man leading a revolution which, in the world of music, is what he has helped to do. He has done much to encourage native American composers and feels their work is now being recognized, even in Europe.

"It is very clear we cannot stop," he said. "We must have new people to compose new music to reflect our times."

"Each new piece does not have to be an imperishable masterpiece. Even Beethoven's full stature was not realized when he was alive. Time is the test."

Asked to name a single American piece of music that would still have world recognition a century from now, Kosty immediately picked George Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue."

"It shows all the signs of immortality," he said.

The life of a maestro requires endless concentration and energy.

"With us," said Kostelantze, "the wind is as important as it is to an athlete."

He himself travels 50,000 to 100,000 miles a year conducting 30 to 40 concerts. He estimates he has journeyed a million miles by air. Half the time he flies his baton without a score before him, but may spend a month preparing to conduct a major work.

Kosty never diets but eats sparsely, prefers fruit. He keeps fit with calisthenics, motoring and swimming.

His own philosophy of living is simple:

"A certain amount of industriousness is necessary, and one must keep full-time interest in what one is doing. The exact truth is that success in this world doesn't just fall out of your sleeve."

He has no particular favorite musical composition in the vast repertoire he knows by heart.

"The composition I am working on at any given moment dominates me so that it has to be my favorite music," he said.

Business Today Affecting Business

By ELMER ROESSNER

The Geneva Conference, the war in Indo-China and the H-bomb are having considerable effect on business.

The conference and the war are having both long-term and short-term effects on prices. Most materials have stopped declining in price and a few have firmed up. And with each new rift at Geneva, and each French reverse in Indo-China, many commodities and "war" stocks stiffen in price; with each hopeful sign in Switzerland and each French victory, commodities weaken and "peace" stocks ascend.

American involvement in fighting in Southeast Asia or elsewhere still seems a very remote possibility. Nevertheless, because it is a possibility at all it is affecting both prices and buying policies. A leading newsletter is advising clients to build up "moderately ample stocks prone to shortage in a war emergency," but to be prepared to return to a minimum inventory policy "if the drift toward cold peace resumes."

The H-bomb influences are mostly long term. But it has created these economic factors:

Previous conceptions of civil defense are out of date; new plans will have to be drawn up and organizations reconstituted and retrained. This will involve the spending of several hundred million dollars.

The existing dispersal program is shown woefully inadequate. Key plants, to be even relatively safe, will have to be moved much further apart. What have been considered relatively safe building designs are now known to be inadequate. Underground factories, once thought prohibitively expensive, are now coming up for re-examination.

There is another possible effect. Walter E. Hoadley, Jr., economist for Armstrong Cork, told the U.S. Chamber of Commerce that the H-bomb may create a tendency of many individuals to adopt a shorter-term outlook on life.

This, he said, may lead to spending more for immediate comforts and to saving less for the future, which in turn would stimulate production.

May be. But it takes a lot of courage to be the first merchant to advertise his wares in the theme, "Live it up today because you may be blasted to bits tomorrow."

DEMAND FOR PLANT SITES INDICATES EXPANSION

There is still a heavy demand for industrial sites, and there is a growing scarcity of prime industrial land, according to information gained in a survey among members of the Society of Industrial Realtors.

This would indicate that considerable industrial expansion is being planned.

Only one per cent of those polled said improved industrial property was bringing lower prices, and 4 per cent said unimproved land was selling at less than it sold for six months ago. Only 13 per cent reported total dollar volume of sales lower than last October.

Future Developments Evolving From The Super-Bomb

By ROGER W. BABSON

BABSON PARK, Mass. — As an introduction to this week's column, let me say that I know nothing about A-bombs or H-bombs. My present thinking has been due to two things:

TWO IMPORTANT DEVELOPMENTS

(1) The Atomic Energy Commission has permitted one of its engineers to visit us in Central Florida and exhibit some of the uranium being produced from phosphate clays. The recovery is very small per ton of clay; but there are billions of tons. This makes our part of Florida an important source of uranium. This should add to the attractions of the stock of some of our established phosphate companies.

(2) The President has made reference to bombs in a recent speech and at his news conferences. This also is significant.

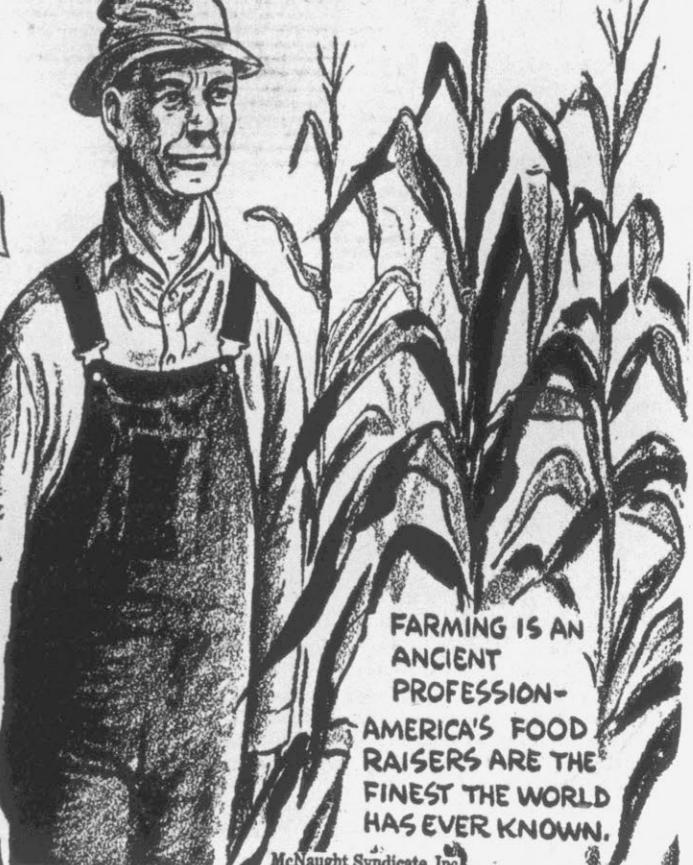

What is the reason for this exhibiting of our uranium resources and the constant references to the H-bomb? Then we also have the pictures of the H-bomb tests in the Pacific and the various newspaper and magazine articles released thereon. These developments make me suspicious that important news is in the offing. Something perhaps is going on behind the scenes which none of us realize, and it may be announced before this column gets printed. It may be that the President is trying to prepare us for such an event.

SOMETHING MORE TO THINK ABOUT

The A-bomb has been expensive to make. It is unofficially reported that such a bomb may cost $50,000. On the other hand, the reverse may be true of the H-bomb. After the new plant near Augusta is complete, it may

Around Capitol Square

By LYNN NISBET

MANTEO — The 50-year-old Dare county courthouse has been the scene of a generous impromptu meeting, but for the first time the State Highway and Public Works Commission convened there for its monthly session.

Some two dozen local citizens came to greet the State officials and support Register of Deeds Melvin Daniels in his formal welcoming address. The visitation was regarded as especially timely, in view of the fact that test pings had just been completed for the new Croatan Sound bridge, a major objective of Dare peculiar problems incident to swamps, rivers and sounds requiring expensive bridges.

There is one bridge in the area three and a half miles long, two others about three miles, and the proposed Croatan bridge will measure just a little under three miles.

Chairman Graham had special reason to think about the need for bridges, because he took the ferry route on the downward trip and lost an hour at Alligator River and another at Croatan Sound waiting for the ferry schedules.

PROGRESS — Daniels and Graham both traced progress made by Dare county during the past two decades and declared that North Carolina is as proud of that record as any local citizens can be. Mutual promises of continued co-operation were exchanged, and the commissioners moved into the routine business of the day.

A total of 58.9 miles were added to the secondary road system, and 11.82 miles abandoned, for a net gain of 47 miles of road, the sections ranging from one-tenth of a mile to nearly three miles. Reports were made that bidding on the $3.5 million worth of con-

Worth Noting

LET'S GET ON TO IMPORTANT THINGS

The Home Loan Bank Board appears to be infected with the traffic-light complex. It has proposed two regulations for savings and loan companies. One would prohibit the use of premiums costing more than $2.50. The other would prohibit the advertising of an association's dividend rate beyond a 50-mile radius of the institution's locations.

These stop-and-go's will certainly show the associations who is running them; it will prevent them from frittering profit away by giving $2.51 kewpie dolls to new depositors, and it will prevent them from doing business with people who might use up all their profits traveling to and from the associations' vaults. But the HLBB is neglecting the question of E&L presidents' ties. Some of them are less than careful about the designs they choose; several presidents we know do not wear the kind of ties you'd expect of a fellow who would stick within 50 miles of home base. Fight them first, HLBB.

PURCHASING AGENTS SEE MORE BUYING AHEAD

Because purchasing agents generally are pretty hardheaded, the monthly report of the National Association of Purchasing Agents seems more encouraging than it might otherwise be. Of the buyers responding to its monthly poll, 43 per cent said they were in a better position to buy and only 17 per cent said they were not.

ted States, Washington, D.C., is now at its peak of importance. It could begin to decline in population and prestige. Washington real estate may now be a "good sell."

The other point is that the various Departments will someday be located in other cities within a radius of 50 miles. The Defense Department will be at one city; the Treasury Department will be at another city; while the Justice Department will be at another. In other words, the nine Major Departments will be in nine smaller cities located like satellites about the central city where the Executive, Legislative, and Judicial roots of the American Tree are to be transplanted. The only defense against enemy A-bombs or H-bombs is decentralization. Hence, factories will also be decentralized. The Central West and South will increase in population and prestige. Real estate in such midwestern cities may now be a "good purchase."

RECENT FBI NOTICES

Added to the events mentioned above, we note the remarkable notice sent out by J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI, to be on the watch for heavy suitcases. These may carry A-bombs and their lead insulations.

As a result of all the above, I forecast further important International Conferences which will be aimed to bring about World Peace at least for the life of all living today. These conferences, which started at Geneva on April 26, will discuss China and other Far East problems, as well as Russia. They may even lead to an international discussion of birth control, which is intimately connected with the elimination of war.

Taking A Break Between Dances

AYDEN—A motion picture showing expert fishing in "some unfinished lakes in the state of Idaho" featured the program at the Rotary Club's last meeting.

Rotarian Clay Stroud ordered the movie. Faust Johnson provided the projecting machine, and Wilbur Ormond had charge of the program. Announcement was made that the Bloodmobile will be in Ayden Monday, May 10, from noon to 6 p.m. Further announcement was made that Ayden citizens had been treated with 100 pints of blood at Pitt Memorial Hospital since the last time the Bloodmobile was in Ayden. Blood donors who have malaria in their blood stream will be accepted in the line because their blood will be processed into gamma globulin, it was stated.

James Butler of East Carolina College, Greenville, and Walter Jones, former mayor of Farmville, were visiting Rotarians.

Bob Denton won the "on time" prize. Harry Mumford, the "fellowship prize."

The Ayden Boy Scout charter and the Cub Scout charter will be presented at the meeting next Friday night. Warren Kinlaw will have charge of the program.

Landslide Win In Turkish Election

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP)—First official returns from Turkey's general election promised Premier Adnan Menderes' Democrat party a smashing victory today—possibly 94 per cent of the 541 seats in the National Assembly.

The early returns from yesterday's nationwide voting showed the Democrats ahead in 55 of the 58 reporting provinces and taking nearly two thirds of the popular vote.

The Democrats were surpassing even their 1950 landslide victory, which ended 25 years of one-party rule by the Republican party founded by the late Kamal Ataturk, Turkey's national hero.

And returns today indicated the Democrats would seat 508 deputies, the Republicans no more than 28 and the Small Nation party probably 5.

In the previous 487-member assembly elected in 1950, the Democrats won 386 seats and the Republicans and allies 69.

Observers viewed the outcome of the election as a vote for continuation of the past four years of prosperity under the Democrats. The United States has poured over a billion dollars in economic and military aid into Turkey since the Truman Doctrine was launched in 1947.

Janet Leigh Clever As Well As Pretty

By BOB THOMAS
APPLE VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—Janet Leigh is just as smart as she is pretty, as you can judge from the way she is handling her career.

The blonde beauty was in this Mojave Desert resort to help Martin and Lewis launch their new film, "Living It Up." I asked her at the Apple Valley Inn for an explanation of why she is leaving MGM, where she earns $2,000 weekly.

"Look," she reasoned, "I'm grateful to the studio for what it has done for me. I want that to be clear. They gave me my start and have every right in the world to cash in on what they have built up."

"But I feel I have served my apprenticeship. I would be happy to stay there and work. If they had pictures for me to do. But they don't. In the past year I have been trying to get my release. Most of the films I have made have been loanouts."

"I finally had talks with Dore Schary and Benny Thau (MGM execs). I asked them if they had anything for me in the coming year, which is how long my contract will last. They admitted they didn't. They said they understood my side and talked to Nick Schenk (MGM top boss). He didn't want to let me go. But when he understood that I would continue doing loanouts, he said okay."

So after she finishes "Rogue Cop" with Robert Taylor and George Raft, she'll be free from her MGM ties for the first time in eight years. That doesn't mean she'll be adrift in the movie seas. She has already lined up some comfortable security.

"I made me very happy that every studio in town offered me a deal when it got around that I would be free," she said. "I decided I would line up some ties that would give me something to hold onto. I didn't feel that I had progressed far enough to go it alone. I'm no Jane Wyman or Joan Crawford."

"So I signed for one picture every five years with Columbia. I also lined up four pictures with Universal-International. Because they make more pictures than any other studio, they wanted to make the deal for a picture every nine months. That was all right with me."

"But with each deal I made sure what my first picture would be. That was important. If they started me out with a big picture, it stood to reason they would take good care of me. For instance, my first at Columbia will be 'My Sister Eileen' with Judy Holliday. Obviously, they aren't going to stuff me off after a picture like that."

Funeral Tuesday For Spencer M. Whitley

Mr. Spencer M. Whitley, 77, died at two o'clock Sunday afternoon at Edgecombe General Hospital in Tarboro after two weeks of critical illness.

Funeral services will be held at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Charlie Waters of Sharp Point, Tuesday afternoon at three o'clock by the Rev. Frank Davenport, Free Will Baptist Minister of Tarboro. Burial will be in the Cobb family cemetery nearby.

Mr. Whitley was born in Wilson County and lived in the Fountain and Old Sparte Communities. He was married to Maggie Keel in 1901, and she survives.

Also surviving are a son, Fred Whitley of Sharp Point; three daughters: Mrs. Charlie Waters of Sharp Point, Mrs. George Wade of Rocky Mount, and Mrs. P. C. Wiggs of Belhaven; 14 grandchildren; 13 grandchildren; and a sister, Mrs. Jim Corbett of Fountain.

Family Quarrel Killed Them All

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—A retired plant worker who disapproved of his wife's church shot and killed her and two of their children yesterday before falling under slugs from a sheriff's submachinegun.

All who took part in the last family quarrel are dead, but neighbors recalled earlier disputes over the wife attending the First Friends Church, an organization opposed to war and violence.

Police and Coroner E. B. Mozes, reconstructing the tragedy, said: William O. Henry, 72, shot and killed his son Elmer, 39, as they stood outside the father's home.

A daughter, Mrs. Ethel Lowry, 33, stumbled and fell trying to run away and died after two bullets struck her.

Henry's wife Daisy Mae, 63, tried to escape by running around their white frame home, but was caught by Henry, who ran under the other way. Bullets from his gun struck her in the abdomen and body.

Neighbors, who said Henry appeared quite calm during the shooting, called police.

Sheriff Harry W. Grossglau ordered tear gas shells fired into the house, where Henry had retreated.

When that failed to bring him out, the sheriff fired 14 slugs through the front door.

Coroner Mozes said the bullets hit Henry in the left chest, under the left arm and in the lower abdomen.

Henry, a big-boned, gray-haired man, was dead, sitting upright in a large easy chair with his rifle

They searched the peddler's body. No gun.

Open House Is Held At Woman's Club

One of the prettiest affairs held at the Woman's Club this year was Open House Thursday afternoon. For the occasion the club was beautifully decorated throughout with arrangements of roses, stock, iris, gladioli and other spring flowers furnished and arranged by club members. Mrs. J. B. White was chairman of the decoration committee.

Greeting the guests at the front door were Mrs. E. J. Keister and Mrs. Charles Richer.

Mrs. R. P. Rogers, president of the Woman's Club, Mrs. Fred Mall, president of the Newcomers Club and general chairman of Open House, Mrs. Sam Mitchell, Garden Club president, and Mrs. Jesse Moye, literature chairman, received the guests in the front hall. Miss Hazel Clark extended the invitation to see the upstairs apartment which has been redecorated under the supervision of the House Committee chairman, Mrs. Susie Ragsdale. Mrs. Margaret Standl served as hostess in the apartment. Much interest was shown in the appearance of the club as a whole since a great deal of improvement has been made.

Inviting the guests into the dining room were Mrs. T. H. Boykin, president of the Altruism Club, Mrs. Kenneth Cuthbert, representing the Music Club, Mrs. Kenneth Mercer, representing the Lions, and Mrs. Ed Parkinson, the Exchange Club.

The serving table was covered with an imported linen and lace cloth and had as its center ornament a Victorian arrangement in a silver bowl.

Mrs. J. B. Spilman, Mrs. Sam White, Mrs. Ragsdale and Mrs. J. Vance Perkins poured punch, and Mrs. A. T. Schmidt and Mrs. William Smith assisted in serving.

The guest register was kept by Mrs. W. H. Woolard and Mrs. M. P. DuVal and good-byes were said to Mrs. Jack Stanfield, Mrs. D. L. Harold, Mrs. Howard Moye and Mrs. Robert May.

A lovely musical program was given by Mrs. James Hughes and Mrs. Keister. Approximately 100 guests called during the afternoon.

Presents Piano Recital Tuesday

Marietta Hooper of Elizabeth City, pianist, will be presented Tuesday in a recital sponsored by the East Carolina College Department of Music. She will play at 8 p.m. in the Austin Auditorium.

A senior at the college, Miss Hooper will appear in a program marking her graduation from the college this year. She is a pupil of Robert Carter, of the East Carolina faculty.

For her recital Miss Hooper has chosen a varied group of selections by composers from the classic to the contemporary periods in music. Among numbers will be Beethoven's Sonata op. 26; selections from Suite, op. 1, by Eugen d'Albert, and "Dance of the White Indian" by Villa-Lobos.

Miss Hooper appeared last year as piano soloist with the East Carolina Orchestra. At the college she has been a member of the College Choir and accompanist for the Women's Chorus and the 1954 production of "Blossom Time" by the Student Government Association of the College.

She is the daughter of Mrs. W. S. Hooper of Elizabeth City.

Party Given To Honor Bridal Couple-Elect

BETHEL—Miss Nancy Edmondson of Oak City and Mr. William Berry, principal of the Bethel Elementary School, were honored by the Methodist Couples Class on Thursday night in the Fellowship Hall. Mr. J. C. Wynne Jr. greeted the guests as they arrived and introduced them to the honorees.

Upon arrival, Miss Edmondson was presented a lovely nosegay of miniature tallman sweetheart roses and Mr. Berry a boutonniere of sweetheart roses. Later they were remembered with a beautiful silver serving tray.

The refreshments for the night were chicken salad in pastry shells, open-faced sandwiches, individual cakes, nuts and Coca-Cola.

Various games were then enjoyed by the group. There were approximately 35 present for the party.

Coloratura To Give Concert In Farmville

FARMVILLE—Mrs. Chas. F. Williams, coloratura singer of Raleigh, will give a concert in the Major Benjamin May Chapter House Saturday evening, May 8, at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Williams, the former Miss Betty Wright and a sister of John B. Wright of Farmville, sang here some months ago at a meeting of the local chapter D.A.R. at which Mrs. Wright was hostess. She so delighted the very large group of Farmville women present at that time that she has been urged to return and is graciously appearing on this, her second visit in a benefit concert. All proceeds will go to the chapter. Mrs. Ellen Lewis Carroll is regent of the chapter.

Mrs. Williams attended Converse College, Spartanburg, S. C. where she received her Bachelor of Music degree, doing graduate work at the University of Louisville. She has studied with Frederick W. Wodell and John Dwight Sample in Chicago and with Frank La Forge and Estelle Liebling in New York. Mrs. Williams has sung over radio and has had extensive experience in concert and choir work in Chicago and Raleigh.

In addition to a rare quality and flute-like tone that have been compared to those of certain well known coloratura singers of the Metropolitan, she has the gift of interpretation and true pitch as supplements to her skill and pleasing personality, which combined assure her audience of an evening of real pleasure and enjoyment.

Her accompanist, Willis Quant, is a musician of note also. A native of Kansas City, he received three degrees from the University of Kansas and did further graduate study at the University of North Carolina. He has studied with Rosina Joseph Levine, Carl Friedberg and James Friskin. Mr. Quant has taught at Stevens College, Baylor University and the University of North Carolina. At present he has a studio for private piano instruction in Raleigh. He has given concerts throughout the country from coast to coast.

The Farmville community and in fact Eastern Carolina is most fortunate in having a Steinway grand, considered one of the very best pianos in the State, placed in a building, the acoustics of which are said by artists to be superb. These necessary requisites enable Farmville to have concerts by musicians heard only in the larger cities.

Jimmy lost control. The car struck a baby's play pen near the garage and ran over and killed 15-month-old Douglas Byrnside.

The family home of President Dwight D. Eisenhower in Abilene, Kan. is being turned into a museum.

That's all—except for one thing. Eugene Eisenhour, who says he has no prominent relatives. No one had an explanation for the incident.

Chaplin Movie Is Shown In Church Despite Police

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—The Charlie Chaplin movie Carmen, banned by the Memphis Board of Censors, was shown to a laughing audience of 100 at the First Unitarian Church last night.

The slapstick comedy was postponed a week after Chief Censor Lloyd T. Binford said the church would "violate the law" if it showed the movie.

Church trustees later viewed the silent picture, said they found nothing "morally wrong" with it and rescheduled it.

Binford, who earlier said he might send police to stop the showing said last night, "I haven't got anything to say."

All Chaplin films were banned here because Binford objected to the actor's private life.

Claim Britain Has Developed A 'New' H-Bomb

LONDON (AP)—The Daily Express said today Britain has developed a new type of hydrogen bomb "far simpler and cheaper to produce" than the one devised by U.S. scientists.

It was described as "a sensational discovery of which the Russians and Americans are believed to know nothing."

Chapman Pincher, Express science writer, said the British weapon "does not involve the use of large quantities of expensive heavy hydrogen as the ordinary H-bomb does."

Pincher, who did not cite the source of his information, said the new bomb was successfully tested at the Woomera weapons range in Australia Oct. 26.

Nine Murderers To Be Executed

TOKYO (AP)—Japan's new justice minister hasn't had a chance yet to shake up his country's scandal-ridden administration.

But there's no doubt he's shaken nine condemned murderers.

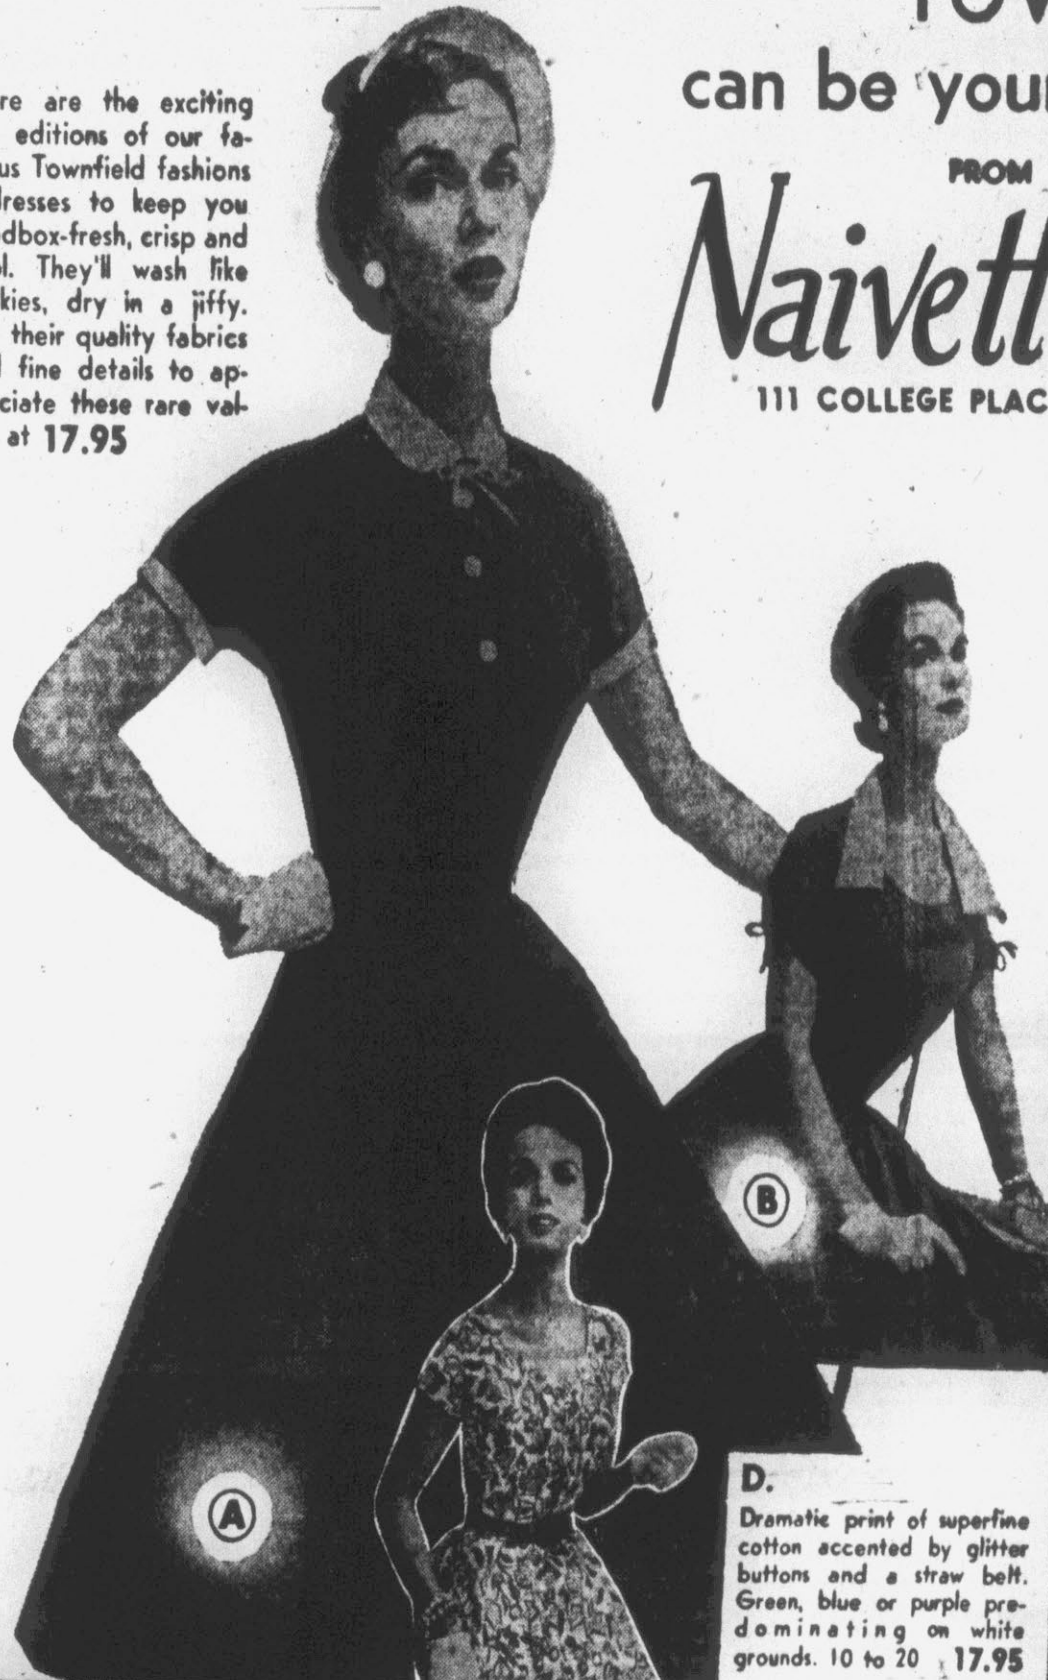

Dr. Ryogoro Kato, a 71-year-old obstetrician, took over the ministry April 21. In his first seven days he signed death warrants for all nine men and told prison warden to get on with the hangings.

In Japan, justice ministers have traditionally shied away from the unpleasant job. The last minister, Takeru Inukai, let some of the warrants lie on his desk nearly a year.

The sea and inland waters produce only about 1 per cent of the world's human food.

East Carolina Loses Fourth Conference Game To ACC

Cuban Pitching Ace Stars In 7-3 Victory

WILSON — Cuban Jose Domini-guez, Atlantic Christian College pitching star, set East Carolina Col-lege's Pirates down with only seven hits here Saturday afternoon to give the Bulldogs a 7-3 victory. The game was played in Wilson's Flem-ing Stadium, home ground of the Bulldogs.

The victory evened Atlantic Christian's record at six wins and six losses in North State Conference (Eastern Division) play. For the Pirates, the game marked the fourth loss in 11 games.

Centerfielder Jerry Williams con-tinued to be the batting star for the Bulldogs in games with the Pi-rates by pounding out four hits in four trips to the plate. In Satur-day's game, Williams got three sin-gles, a double, drove in two runs, and scored a pair himself.

Three-Run Rally
Williams' double came in the sixth inning when the Bulldogs sewed the game up. After the two-bagger, John Kernodle singled to score Williams. Kernodle then came all the way around to score on an-other single by Ralph Gray and Gray himself scored on a long triple by Domineque. Domineque's three-bagger hit the right-centerfield wall some 360 feet from the plate.

The Pirates threw four pitchers into the game in an effort to stop the Bulldogs but none were overly successful. Jimmy Piner, who re-lieved started Ken Hall in the first inning with two outs and who last-ed until sixth, was tagged with the defeat. Gene Taylor relieved Piner but lasted only one inning before he gave way to Jimmy Barnes.

Cecil Heath led the East Carolina attack with two singles in four trips to the plate. David Nance took slugging honors, however, with a bases-empty home run in the se-cond inning.

The Pirates will continue their flag chase this week with four games. They will meet High Point in Greenville Wednesday afternoon in a single game. Friday, they travel to Guilford for another single game and then move over to Elon Saturday for a doubleheader.

The games this week, especially the doubleheader Saturday, will have a great deal to do with the remainder of the Eastern Division race. Elon is on top of the stand-ings with a 10-2 record and four games left to play, two with High Point and the two with the Pirates. Only East Carolina and Guilford have defeated Elon this season while the Bucs have lost to Elon, High Point, and twice to Atlantic Christian.

The loss by the Pirates Saturday also relieved them of possession of the Bohunk Bucket, symbol of ath-letic supremacy between ECG and ACC.

Top-Seeded

East Carolina College's top-seeded doubles team of Bob Wil-iams and Paul Cameron has drawn a first-round bye in the North State Conference tennis tournament which opens today in High Point.

Williams and Cameron were top-seeded among the seven dou-bles combinations entered in the tournament. Teams from East Carolina, High Point, Lenoir-Rhyne, Catawba, Elon, Guilford, and Appalachian are entered in the tournament.

East Carolina's number three singles player, Craig Kester, has been given the number three ranking in the singles division. He is ranked behind High Point's Carlos Horcasitas and Mike Co-rey of Appalachian. Elon's Bill Hovdesen is seeded fourth in the singles play.

Each school in the conference is permitted to enter two singles plays and one doubles team in the two-day tournament. East Caro-lina's other singles entrant is Dallas Foscoe who meets Lenoir-Rhyne's Carroll in one of today's six singles matches.

George McRoy of Greenville Route 2 is shown here with an 18 and one-half pound Rock fish he caught in the Tar River near Grimesland Saturday morning.

McRoy said he caught the big fish in a drift net. "It is the largest one I ever caught," he stated. It is also the largest Rock reported this season.

Greenville High School's once defeated track team goes into its final dual meet of the season this afternoon against the Fayetteville Bulldogs in Fayetteville.

It will be a revenge meet for both teams this afternoon, al-though in different respects. In an earlier meet between the two schools, the Greensies routed Fayetteville by a 65-30 score. (The real score was 65-48 since Green-ville had to spot the 18 points in the hurdles to the Bulldogs). Fay-etville will be out for revenge this afternoon against Coach Bill Kittrell's boys.

For the G-men, they will be out for revenge, too. Last week, Raleigh's Capitals handed the Greensies their first dual meet de-feat in two years and the Phantoms are anxious to start another streak going.

Errors Pave Way For Pinetops Win Over Farmville

FARMVILLE—Six errors, all of them at crucial moments, proved to be the undoing of the Farmville Red Devils here Friday afternoon as South Edgecombe defeated the De-vels 6-5.

South Edgecombe put together a pair of three-run innings to account for the victory. They got all of their runs off Farmville's Johnny Hinson who went the entire game on the mound for the Red Devils.

Freddie Tolson got credit for the victory by going the distance for South Edgecombe. His number one assistant in the victory was John Felton who rapped out three of South Edgecombe's five hits.

Billy Ellis led the Farmville at-tack with two for four including a double. Hinson drove out a triple in one of his times at bat.

Musial's Home Run Spree Tops Major League Shows

By JACK HAND
AP Sports Writer

Now you know why they call Stan Musial Stan the Man. No other hitter in major league history ever hit five home runs in one day.

Only nine days ago Musial was bumping along at .250, gripped by the same slump that tortured him last spring. Now he is hitting .400 with eight homers and seven dou-bles among his 24 hits. The $80,000-salaried St. Louis Cardinal outfielder leads the majors with 21 runs bat-tered in and shares the home run lead with Chicago's Hank Sauer.

The six-time batting champion of the National League "slumped" to .337 last year, a few points below his .345 lifetime batting average. As late as mid-June he was strug-gling at the .250 mark.

"All I need is one of those four-for-four days," he said then.

He got his four for four yester-day in the first game, three home runs and a single off New York Giant-pitching. Then he added two more homers in the second game.

Six men had hit four homers in a double-header but Musial never had hit three in two consecutive games, but not on the same day.

So Sunday, May 2, 1954, will go down in the books as Musial Day in St. Louis, the day Stan hit three atop the right field pavilion and two over the roof, bouncing across Grand Avenue.

Musial's clubhouse comment was typical of a team man: "You can't smile too much when you lose a ball game." For the Cards did lose that second game 9-7 after taking the opener 10-6.

A total of 12 home runs were hit in the two games at Busch Stadium and 21 in all in the Na-tional League, four short of the record set July 16, 1950.

Musial's shiny day had no ap-preciable effect on the league race. The Philadelphia Phillies gained a 4-3 edge over Cincinnati in the first half of a double-header.

The second game was washed out. Bob Miller's effective relief pitch-ing and Del Ennis' home run saved the day for the Phils.

Chicago and Pittsburgh also went on a homer spree with a total of eight three by Hank Sauer, as they split a pair. A Sauer homer and single gave Paul Minner a 5-3 first-game decision over Vern Law. The Pirates ripped into the Cubs for eight runs in the first inning of the second game on the way to an 18-10 decision. Darkness mercifully put an end to the slaughter at the end of eight in-nings after six home runs had been hit, two more by Sauer.

Brooklyn's game at Milwaukee was rained out. The American League also had a postponement, the Baltimore at Boston double-header.

Cleveland gained ground on everybody in the American, win-ning a pair from Washington 6-4 and 6-3 in 10 innings. Chicago won its third straight shutout 4-0 at Philadelphia with Don Johnson throwing a two-hitter but the White Sox lost the second game 2-1 on Elmer Valo's pinch single in the ninth, his first hit of the season.

The New York Yankees broke loose with their biggest inning, six runs in the third, to smother De-troit 12-4. Then they were shut out with one hit by Billy Hoelt 4-0 in the second game cut to five in-nings by darkness.

Getting back to Musial, his third homer in the first game came off Jim Hearn, with two on, breaking a 6-6 tie. The blow sent Hearn down to his second defeat and gave Al Brazle his first victory. Stan's first two came off Johnny Antonelli.

Just for the records, Musial walked once and singled in the first game. In the second he walked, flied deep to Willie Mays in center and then popped out in the ninth. His bag for the day was nine runs batted in, 21 total bases and six runs scored.

Sauer batted in three runs in each game at Chicago for a three-game total of nine RBIs. He also added a single and double to his three home runs as his average soared to .412 second only to teammate Ransom Jackson's .426.

Wally Westlake's double in the 10th gave Cleveland its double score over Washington after the Indians had tied the score in the ninth. Fine relief pitching by Ray Narleski and Hal Newhouser nailed down the first game.

Only four homers were hit in the American League but two of them, by rookie Bill Wilson and Chico Carrasquel, provided John-son's cushion for Chicago's first-game verdict over Philadelphia. Valo got his chance to win the second after Bill Renna singled and was moved to second on Jim Finigan's sacrifice. Valo's blast off the right field wall wasn't even chased.

Hoelt almost had an abbreviated no-hitter until Andy Carey doubled with two out in the fifth. After the young Tiger pitcher retired the next hitter, the game was called. Ray Boone's second-inning homer was all Hoelt needed. The Yanks slammed out 13 hits in the first game as Allie Reynolds coddled the lead with two-hit relief ball over the last innings.

Kentucky Winner After Preakness

By ORLO ROBERTSON
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A little grey colt with a terrific appetite and a decided dislike for work is going after two-thirds of the turf's coveted Triple Crown after break-ing a jinx that plagued horses of his color through the 80 years of the Kentucky Derby.

No grey ever won America's No. 1 glamor race, and many have tried, until Andy Crevelin's De-terminer, a mite of a horse out of Alhambra, Calif., came from sec-ond place in the stretch to hang a length and a half defeat on the swift Hasty Road last Saturday.

Fifteen other 3-year olds, includ-ing the favored Correlation, were up the stretch eating the dust of the leaders as Determiner reached the end of the mile and a quarter in 2:03.

Determiner's next stop is the Preakness at Pimlico on May 22. Then, according to present plans of his owner and trainer Willie Moller, he'll head back west where he racked up six straight stake victories before arriving in Ken-tucky where he bowed to Hasty Road by a head in the mile of the Derby Trial last Tuesday.

The little colt, who got his name because his owner was determined to find a good one, is not eli-gible for the Belmont Stakes, third race of the Triple Crown.

To watch the son of the imported Alibhai in action at the feed bin you would think he would soon eat himself out of house and home. But, although he is munching on something almost constantly, he is as trim a little horse as they come. And his oats, hay, and water were shipped from California so that the colt would not have any cause to argue over a change in his daily menu.

Hasty Road had 2½ lengths on R. W. McVain's Hasseyampa, an outsider. Goyamo, one of the choices ridden by Eddie Arcaro, came from 16th after a half-mile to finish fourth while Correlation could do no better than sixth after being bumped at the start. But for that matter Determiner also suf-fered from a roughing at the start and Johnny Adams said he had to take Hasty Road to the front sooner than planned to avoid trouble.

Royce G. Martin, Toledo, electri-cal manufacturer and co-owner with Mrs. W. Alton Jones of Go-yamo, died in a Lexington, Ky., hospital shortly after the race.

The victory, worth a record $102,000, boosted Determiner's total earn-ings to $286,250. He was in the money in 10 of his 14 two-year-old starts, winning four races. This year, however, he has won seven and finished second twice in nine trips to the post.

Price Outlook Said Good On Average Pitt Leaf Crop

At the Greenville Kiwanis Club's supper meeting last Friday night, J. Con Lanier, by special invitation, spoke on the flue-cured tobacco situation.

W. L. (Bill) Whedbee, secretary of the Greenville Tobacco Board of Trade, had charge of the program.

President John T. Barnhill presided.

Lanier is general counsel and executive secretary of Leaf Tobacco Exporters' Association and Tobacco Association of the United States.

"Each year about this time when Spring comes around and the transplanters begin to cover the fields with tiny tobacco plants, all of us begin to wonder about the coming tobacco markets."

"It may be, as Shakespeare said, 'In Spring a young man's fancy turns to thoughts of tobacco prices.'"

"This is but natural, since all of us are vitally interested. Pitt county has the greatest stake in this matter of any county in the world."

"It is my intention tonight first to analyze the present situation and make some predictions for the 1954 crop. Also, I expect to discuss the long range viewpoint of the tobacco program, and explain the struggle now going on over a permanent farm program."

"First, as to the market prospects for 1954. The 1953 crop was about 90 million pounds less than the 1952 crop of flue cured tobacco. In 1953, for the first time since 1949, stocks of flue cured tobacco in the hands of dealers and manufacturers were smaller than those at the beginning of the year. More flue cured tobacco was actually consumed in 1953 than was produced. For the first time in four years, stocks were smaller.

"In 1953, we exported 442 million pounds of flue cured tobacco as compared with 319 million pounds in 1952. Most of this increase resulted from increases in the purchases of Mexico, Uruguay, Norway, The Netherlands, Spain, Portugal, Yugoslavia and Egypt. These increased exports can be attributed mainly to the improved economic condition of the European countries.

"As these countries continue to improve economically, we can look forward confidently to further increases of our exports."

"Foreign competition in the production of flue cured tobacco continues to increase. However, we have managed to maintain our volume of exports and have actually increased it. We have one priceless advantage over foreign producers. No other country has been able to grow tobacco equal in flavor and aroma to ours. The quality of our tobacco is unequalled. And so long as we maintain this quality advantage, we can out sell our competition in the open markets of the world."

"During the past few years, we have become a little careless in handling and grading and this carelessness has caused us to lose some sales. The mixture of grades in a basket, leaving strings and other foreign substances in the tobacco, and careless tying by the growers, is costing some business. To get the maximum sales in foreign markets, we must pay more attention to the handling of tobacco before it comes to market."

"This year's tobacco acreage is practically the same as 1953. Allowing for a normal production per acre, this crop should turn out around 135 million pounds as compared with 126 million pounds in 1953. In my opinion, a normal crop this year both as to quality and quantity will sell at a price that will compare favorably with the 1953 price average of 52 cents."

"On the Greenville market last year, tobacco sales averaged over 50 cents. I would not predict that the 1954 crop will average that much, but certainly, with an average crop, we in Eastern North Carolina should average not less than 55 cents and perhaps more."

"The support price for this year will be the same as last year, that is, 47.9 cents. Under these facts, I predict that the 1954 crop will sell at a price satisfactory and profitable to the growers."

"As to the future beyond 1954, it must be related to the over-all farm program."

"At present tobacco operates under a special law whereby prices are supported at 90 per cent of parity so long as production is controlled through acreage quotas. I cannot believe that tobacco will continue to be supported at 90 per cent of the sliding scale supports are applied to all other major crops. I can not believe that Congress will continue to grant a special dispensation to tobacco, and support prices at 90 per cent, while other crops are supported at a less figure. I believe that whatever farm program is adopted by Congress, it will in a matter of years apply equally to all crops. Therefore, we should give our close attention to the various plans now being considered in Washington."

"Last month I attended a meeting in Washington at which all of the theories regarding farm policies were expounded."

"Mr. Patton, president of the Farmers Union, advocated 100 per cent supports on major farm commodities. Mr. Kline, president of the Farm Bureau, bitterly opposed rigid farm supports and favored the so-called flexible supports. Mr. Newsome, president of the National Grange, stressed the opening of larger foreign markets as an answer to our farm problem. Another person advocated a two price system with prices on the domestic market would be supported and sales in foreign markets would be the world price, plus subsidies by our government. Also, the Brannon Plan was advocated whereby prices on all farm products would find their own level and direct payments would be made by our government to the producer to bring the total returns up to the parity figure."

"Out of all these proposals comes a mass of confusion. No one can say at the present time which program will eventually be adopted by the Congress."

"The present federal secretary of agriculture is opposed to rigid price supports for farm commodities which means that he is opposed to 90 per cent supports. He favors flexible supports without control of production and under the theory that production can be controlled by a lowering of farm prices. My impression of Mr. Benson is that he believes it a sin to interfere with the work of Providence in production."

"At the present time, the law provides that support prices on major farm commodities, except tobacco, will revert to flexible, sliding scale supports on January 1, 1955. Unless new legislation is passed by Congress this year, the flexible formula will go into effect on next year's crop except for tobacco. All indications point to the fact that Congress favors an extension of the 90 per cent support level and that Congress will pass a bill extending the 90 per cent supports. However, in order to become a law, this bill must be signed by the President."

"In the face of the vigorous opposition to such an extension on the part of his secretary of agriculture, the President, in my book, must either veto such a bill or fire his secretary of agriculture. If he vetoes the bill, Congress will not override the veto, and if he vetoes the bill, it is my opinion, that a Democratic Congress will be elected in 1954."

"As I said before the tobacco program now operates under its own special law, but if other commodities in 1955 are supported at 75 to 90 per cent of parity, I am very much afraid that tobacco will sooner or later fall in the same category."

"The abolition of acreage quotas and the lowering of the 90 per cent supports on tobacco will have more serious consequences to our state. Under the present program, we have about 63 per cent of the tobacco acreage allotted in North Carolina. Without controls, there will be a tremendous increase in production in other areas, even at a support level of 75 per cent. It would mean that price averages would drop and the production areas would move south."

"In this state, where more than 50 per cent of farm income is derived from the sale of tobacco, any substantial loss of acreage will have tremendous economic effect upon everyone of us."

"I favor 90 per cent supports on major farm commodities. In respect to tobacco it has brought a measure of prosperity to the growers. It has brought a measure of stability to the price structure of leaf tobacco. It has provided the manufacturers with adequate supplies at prices that have not been excessive. It has changed tobacco from poverty avenue to a prosperous boulevard through a country inhabited by a happy and contented people. It has made the sweetest music this side of heaven to those who labor and produce the Golden Weed."

"So long as tax money is used to subsidize railroads, airlines, and steamships. So long as tariffs subsidize industry in this country. So long as labor is supported with a minimum wage, it can not be said that farmers are unreasonable in asking a support price of 90 per cent of parity on the products of the farm. Only through such protection will the farms produce the things that we need and by so producing will receive its fair share of the national economy."

Veteran Texas Lawman Says Federal And State Officers Dominating Field

T. W. (Buckshot) Lane, sheriff of Wharton County, Texas for 18 years, spoke before members of the Pitt County Executives Club here Saturday night.

Lane, veteran law enforcement officer, related to his listeners many experiences which occurred while he was sheriff of the sprawling Texas county, and reviewed briefly advancements made in law enforcement techniques in recent years.

The speaker asserted law enforcement more and more is being taken away from local officers and passed on to state and federal enforcement agencies. This is coming about, he declared, because local officers are not provided with sufficient funds for the necessary equipment and well trained personnel vital to law enforcement agencies of modern times.

Public support, he said, is vital to good local law enforcement, and without it officers are seriously handicapped. At the conclusion of his address, Lane demonstrated the use of a He detector now used by many law enforcement agencies.

New officers of the Pitt County Executives Club were announced at the meeting Saturday night which was the last one of the current season.

Officers for the club's new year will be F. D. Duncan of Greenville, president; Dr. John Mewborn of Farmville, first vice-president; Dr. W. E. Rasberry of Grifton, second vice-president; and N. C. Brooks of Greenville, secretary-treasurer.

Joan Foster, Bride

By Alice Ross Colver

SYNOPSIS
After a long and ardent courtship, Joan Foster and Todd Hunter had set a date for their wedding. It will not be easy to give a girl as busy as Todd's messenger school-teacher salary, nor to share the manse in New Jersey, with his frail father, the minister, and his gentle though possessive mother. But this simple beginning will mean living their lives together, and that is what they want most of all.

CHAPTER SEVEN
"AND SO," Joan said, "we're going to live over at the manse."
Betty nodded. "Mike and I started our married life that way, too. We had just one room at mother's, not even our own kitchen. Of course, it was home to me, so I didn't really mind. Still, I was glad when we could get an apartment the next year."

Betty had come out to spend the day with Joan and talk over plans for the wedding. It was nearly May now and the place had never been more beautiful. The wisteria was out in full bloom, its fragrance filling the air everywhere. The apple blossoms were pink on the trees and all the azaleas in the garden alongside the porch were in thick bud. Joan wished she were having her wedding this month, but that would have been a bit better. It was better to wait until Todd finished the term at Columbia, for then they could have a honeymoon of nearly three weeks before he had to start in on his summer work there.

The two girls were sitting on the screened verandah, where Betty's little girl was playing in a small area near them which they had fenced off with chairs and a table. She was a good child demanding no attention but inevitably receiving it because of her engaging ways and looks. She had red hair, like Mike's, in ringlets all over her head, and great eyes that were similar to Betty's in their size and in the curling sweep of their fringing lashes, but Betty's were gray while little Beth's were a deep dark brown. For the rest, she was plump and dimpled and happy, as most babies who are greatly loved and wisely cared for are apt to be. Joan could hardly keep her gaze from her as she cooed and gurgled in a jargon all her own to the bunty and rag doll that Betty had brought along for her.

Joan went on.
"I'll take you over later and show you the rooms we're to have. But if Mrs. Hunter says to you, as she has to everyone else—I'm so glad we're going to have a daughter in our house. All my life I've wished for a daughter and it's wonderful to think we're going to have one—I really think I'll scream."

"She probably will," Betty answered mildly "because she probably is."
"I know. But those words somehow ring a portentous bell in my ears. Oh, well!" Joan shrugged her faint worry from her. "He's a darling, anyway. Todd's father, I mean. A little on the frail side physically—his heart. But you'd never guess it because he never mentions it. Let's talk about the wedding though. After all, that's what you came out for. So much to be settled, Betty! I never realized how much."

"Yes, there's plenty," Betty agreed.

"First—I can't begin to tell you how glad I am that you're going to be my matron of honor. Nobody else would do, you know. But I wish I knew whom to ask for the rest of my bridal party."
"What's the trouble?"
"Well, I thought of Sue and Elaine, naturally, because they were in our crowd at college. But Sue's baby is due to arrive in August so that's out. And Elaine—I don't know whether I can count on her or not. She expects her second infant the last of this month and she's written me that she's sure she'll be her old self again by June twentieth and can make it. She'll fly, she says, and leave both children home. I know she'll be here if she possibly can, but it does seem rather taking a chance."
"She'll get here. You know how she feels about you Joan."

"Yes."
For a brief moment Joan's thoughts flashed back to those four college years when Elaine had been so much a part of her life. The time had been filled with storms and stresses as far as their relationship was concerned. Then, finally, during the Christmas holidays when they were both juniors, they had arrived at a mutual understanding which Joan had thought would last forever. Instead, to her dismay and chagrin and bitter pain, they had quarreled over Donald Barton the following summer. It had been all Joan's fault (she admitted it now freely), but at the time she had blamed Elaine. Not until their senior dance, a full year later, had the atmosphere really been cleared between them. Yet in spite of that Elaine had always insisted that her happiness had really been given her by Joan.
"It was knowing you and the friendship you gave me that made me into the kind of person Donald could love," she had said.
Poppycock, of course. Just the same, Betty was right. Elaine would certainly get here for the wedding.

Joan continued "Well, okay. Elaine for one. I could ask Johnny, I suppose. But she feels awkward in long dresses. Betty, you know she never would go to any dance or a thing that was formal at college. She always ducked out. I really don't believe I've ever seen

Housewives Can Take Pride In Driving Record

Housewives can continue to take pride in their driving records, a new survey shows. They rank 28th in a list of 64 occupational classes in the handling of private passenger cars.

They rank well ahead of auto salesman (32nd), truck drivers (43rd), garage employees (48th), and most professional groups.

The rankings are based on a study of insurance loss ratios on private passenger cars only, made by statisticians of one of the country's largest automobile insurance companies. They cover that company's experience by occupational class of insured for the policy years 1949-1951 inclusive, and supplement an earlier study released in 1950.

The significance of the figures is heightened by the fact that they are based on almost a quarter of a billion dollars of premiums collected by the company in the three year span. This insurance company insures about one out of every 16 private passenger cars in its 41 state operating area.

Farmers, ranked fourth lead all other major occupational groups in driving safely. They are preceded only by proprietors of wholesale establishments, county agents, and retired persons, in that order each a class of much smaller size.

Whether a person is retired or simply unemployed makes the differences between a very good or very bad class of drivers, the study shows. The unemployed ranked 63rd or next to last, compared with third place for retired group.

The clergy's 55th ranking puts them in strange company, just ahead of canvassers and peddlers, amusement workers, entertainers, and liquor distributors, in that order. Food handlers and traveling salesmen lag sadly in 60th and 61st positions.

HERE OUGHTA BE A LAW!

But coming home... MORE LIGHTS THAN TIMES SQUARE—
Thanks to LAURETTE BAGUCHINSKY, 123-10 57th St., BAYLOR, N.Y.

Last on the list are enlisted military personnel, well below commissioned officers who rank 40th. Teachers, ranked seventh, can take credit for setting a good—but apparently unnoticed—example for students, in 62nd place. Bankers (8th) can look at the performance of the medical profession (39th) and lawyers (50th).
But where funeral directors apparently take their safe driving lessons seriously judged by their 18th position, insurance agents and brokers do not, coming in a shamed-faced 53rd.
Some of the lower rankings, the insurance company points out, may reflect use of the insured private passenger car in business. This would indicate that any extra skill developed in daily use of the vehicle is more than offset by the increased exposure to chance the accidents.
In conclusion it might be added that editors, reporters and photographers rank 26th.
This survey was compiled by the State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance Company of Bloomington, Illinois.

He said half of the water power developments were through privately financed projects, and half through public projects. One Injured As Parked Car Hit

One person was slightly injured over the weekend when a car driven by Jessie A. Smith Negro of 1603 Garland Street crashed into a parked car on Fifth Street near the intersection with Nash Street.

Injured was Samuel Brown who received lacerations about the face. He was treated at Pitt Memorial Hospital and released.

No charges were placed in the accident. Patrolman Marvin Buck investigated.

Reports Robbery In Hotel Room

Morgan Hutchinson of High Point reported that some money and other items were stolen from him while he was asleep in New Greenville Hotel last night.

Hutchinson said that he awoke this morning about 8 o'clock and saw someone going out of his room. He stated that he checked his belongings and found $35 in cash, two checks, two packages of cigarettes, and a cigarette lighter missing. Police are investigating.

Reckless Driving Ticket Follows Race To Hospital

A man was arrested for careless and reckless driving Sunday afternoon after (1) crashing three stop lights, (2) running through one stop sign, and (3) forcing a car up on the sidewalk, plus leading Highway Patrolman Jim Davis on a wild chase through town.

Charged in the case was William H. Pippins, Negro, of Pactolus who was carrying a Negro girl to the hospital.

"That's the wildest piece of driving I have ever witnessed," Davis said. "I don't know why he didn't kill somebody."

"He said some people told him as long as he had the headlights on and blew the horn he had the right-of-way," the patrolman continued.

Davis said he first spotted Pippins at the corner of Second and Greene Streets. The patrolman said that Pippins ran through the red light at Second and Greene traveling 40 or 45 miles per hour.

"I pulled in behind him and followed him the best I could," Davis said. "He turned the corner at Second and Pitt Streets and ran another car up on the sidewalk."

He then continued on down Pitt Street, ran past some cars, stopped at the "stop" sign at Third and Pitt, still doing between 40 and 45 miles per hour.

David said the speeding car then turned right at the corner of Fifth and Pitt and ran the stop light at Fifth and Albemarle.

"I stopped him about a block from there and he told me he had a woman who was critically ill and he was taking her to the hospital," Davis said.

The patrolman told the driver to go ahead but to drive more carefully.

"He started off again, got up to about 50 miles per hour and ran another red light at Fifth and Tyson Streets," Davis continued.

The patrolman then followed the car out to the hospital and cited the driver on a charge of careless and reckless driving.
