Rouse, Frizzelle Lead Opponents

Unofficial, but practically complete returns from the Fifth Judicial district today showed Judge J. Paul Frizzelle of Snow Hill, and Robert D. Rouse Jr. of Farmville victors by slim margins in the judge and solicitor races.

With only two small precincts in Robert D. Rouse, Jr., above, led in the District race for solicitor in the Fifth Judicial District, but there will probably be a second primary.

Carteret County still to be heard from the unofficial tally gave Judge Frizzelle 15,922 votes and William J. Bundy of Greenville 15,511 votes. On the basis of that total, Frizzelle had a margin of 411 votes over Bundy.

The two precincts of the district which had not reported at 12:30 this afternoon were Portsmouth with nine registered voters, and Stella with 41 registered voters.

In the solicitorial race, Rouse showed a total of 9,091 and Luther Hamilton Jr. of Morehead City 8,841 votes. That gave Rouse a lead of 250 votes, with 50 votes yet to be tallied in Hamilton's home county.

H. Horton Rountree of Farmville ran third in the five-way solicitorial race with 5,472 votes, J. W. H. Roberts of Greenville was fourth with 4,728 votes, and Cecil W. Beaman was fifth with 2,209 votes.

Hamilton had not announced today whether he would call Rouse for a second primary for the post of solicitor of the fifth judicial district.

In the judge's race, a breakdown of the votes in the six counties showed: Pitt: Bundy, 6,409; Frizzelle, 5,989; Greene: Bundy, 994; Frizzelle, 2,336; Jones: Bundy, 969; Frizzelle, 1,217; Craven: Bundy, 3,418; Frizzelle, 3,074; Pamlico: Bundy, 719; Frizzelle, 906; Carteret (less two precincts) Bundy, 3,002; Frizzelle, 2,401.

In the solicitorial race, Rountree, Rouse and Roberts received almost an exact three-way split of the Pitt County vote. Rountree led the race in Pitt with 3,962; Rouse was second with 3,946, and Roberts was third with 3,880. Hamilton got only 190 votes from Pitt and Beaman only 142.

A breakdown of the solicitorial vote in the other five counties of the district showed:

Greene: Rouse, 1,293; Rountree, 391; Roberts, 183; Hamilton, 23; Beaman, 1324.

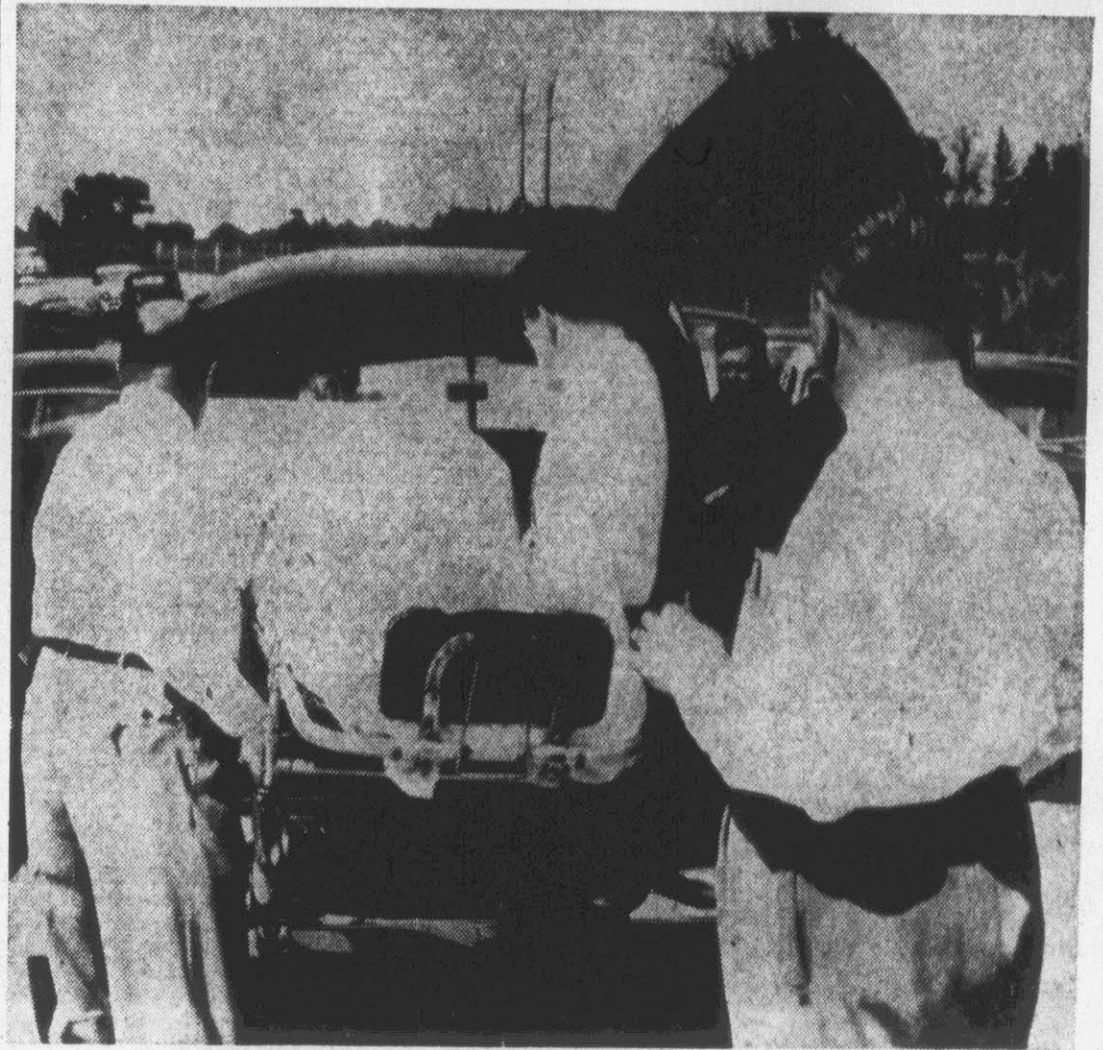

Jones: Rouse, 946; Rountree, 124; Roberts, 117; Hamilton, 656; Beaman, 118.

Craven: Rouse, 2,217; Rountree, 616; Roberts, 333; Hamilton, 2,515; Beaman, 497.

Pamlico: Rouse, 260; Rountree, 95; Roberts, 80; Hamilton, 1,034; Beaman, 64.

Carteret: Rouse, 430; Rountree, 284; Roberts, 135; Hamilton, 4,423; Beaman, 74.

Farmville Boy Drowns In Sunday Mishap

Rescue workers are shown above as they put the body of Eugene Eastwood into an ambulance shortly after it was recovered from a creek yesterday afternoon. Coroner Griffin H. Rouse stated that the boy was wading in the creek near Farmville, when he stepped into a hole. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Major Eastwood of Farmville Route 2. (Photo by Roy Hardee)

A 15-year-old boy was drowned about noon yesterday while wading in a creek near Farmville.

Pitt County Coroner Griffin H. Rouse identified the victim as Eugene Eastwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Major Eastwood of Farmville Route 2.

Rouse stated the Eastwood boy and two other boys, James C. Baker, 16, and Jessie Edmundson, 17, were wading in a creek. Eugene was said to have been walking down the creek when he fell into a hole about ten feet deep. Neither of the other boys were able to get him out, the coroner said.

None of the boys could swim. The boy's body was recovered about an hour later by Willie L. Wooten and members of the Farmville Police Department.

The accident occurred about three miles north of Farmville.

Rouse said that he is ruling accidental death in the case and no inquest will be held.

The drowning was investigated by the coroner, members of the Farmville Police Department and Duke Andrews of the Sheriff's Department.

Eighteen Others Injured In Nebraska Twisters Tornadoes Kill 4 Children

NORFOLK, Neb. (AP)—Tornadoes cut a swath across northeast Nebraska last night killing four children and injuring at least 18 other persons.

The Weather Bureau said there were two confirmed tornado reports and three unconfirmed reports in a 30-mile path. Damage to telephone lines made checks in the area difficult.

All deaths and injuries were in an area about two miles wide and four miles long some 10 miles southeast of Norfolk. At least seven farms were known to have been hit. The area is about 130 miles northwest of Omaha.

Torrential rains ranging up to 3 1/2 inches in Pierce, some 20 miles north of the tornado area, made side roads impassable and the State Safety Patrol survey of the toll was slowed up.

The rains sent streams in the area over their banks; highways were reported blocked in three places.

One tornado, coming in from the southwest, apparently dipped and hit the Ben Kohl farm about 10 miles southwest of here, about 9:18 p.m. (CST), killing four children, and injuring the parents of two other children.

Wayne Wells, news director of station WJAG of Norfolk, said the Klawonn farm was "the worst sight I ever saw. All the buildings were ripped out. Two-foot thick cottonwoods were twisted off like toothpicks."

Torrential rains ranging up to 3.15 inches at Pierce 20 miles north of Norfolk sent streams over banks and two highways were blocked by flood waters—Highway 15 between Norfolk and Laurel, and Highway 35 west of Winside. Norfolk had 1.65 inches.

All Norfolk doctors were called out and a call went out for additional nurses. The dead: Nell Klawonn, 8. Cindy Carberry, 4. George Kohl, about 6. Robert Kohl, about 8.

Morehead Dog Track Is Target In Legal Action

MOREHEAD CITY, N. C. (AP)—North Carolina's first and last remaining dog racing track faced legal action today aimed at closing it as a public nuisance under anti-gambling laws.

Papers were served yesterday on Sam Adler, Morehead City businessman and secretary of the Carolina Racing Assn., ordering him to show cause why the track should not be closed permanently.

Adler was cited to appear in Carteret Superior Court here June 9 to answer the order.

The state's other dog track, at Moyock, was padlocked several weeks ago after the State Supreme Court declared it illegal. The high court held that a special Currituck County law permitting pari-mutuel betting violated the state constitution.

Operators of the Moyock track have asked Federal Judge Don Gilliam for an order allowing them to open pending federal court action they announced they would bring. Judge Gilliam has not ruled on the request.

The Morehead City track show cause order was obtained from Superior Court Judge Clawson Williams in Superior Court at Greenville last Wednesday by Frank B. Aycock, an Elizabeth City lawyer. Aycock represented the plaintiffs in the Moyock padlocking and won a $7,500 fee for his services.

Holds Slim Advantage Over Rivals

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—W. Kerr Scott, strongly supported in rural areas where many roads were paved while he was governor, today held North Carolina's Democratic nomination for U.S. senator.

Scott, 57-year-old dairy farmer, defeated Sen. Alton A. Lennon and five other candidates in a bitter primary battle Saturday. The race issue played a major role in the latter stages of the campaign.

Unofficial returns from 1918 of the state's 207 precincts gave Scott 297,001 votes to Lennon's 271,661. This was a lead of 25,340 for Scott and a 5,341 majority over the field.

Scott, tired from the long campaign, and Mrs. Scott left today for the coast to rest for several days.

He said he thought "the branch head boys would come through." That's one of his favorite expressions in referring to his friends. He added that he was grateful to those "who voted for our cause."

Lennon congratulated Scott "on the very fine vote." However, he had not conceded defeat last night.

Scott will oppose Republican Paul West of Raleigh in the November general election. West was nominated in a convention. The Democratic nomination is tantamount to election in this traditionally Democratic state.

Four Tar Heel congressmen won renomination handily. They are Reps. L.H. Fountain, Carl T. Durham, F.H. Carlyle and C.B. Dean. J.C. Sedberry, Charlotte municipal judge, won the Democratic nomination to oppose Rep. Charles R. Jones, Republican, in the November election.

State Treasurer Edwin Gill was an easy winner over Joshua S. James of Raleigh, former member of the Utilities Commission. Gill, appointed last year by Gov. William B. Umstead, received 98,810 to James' 127,584.

Insurance Commissioner Charles F. Gold of Rutherford, another Umstead appointee, won the nomination over John F. Fletcher of Raleigh, 237,609 to 166,097.

Nearly 600,000 votes were cast. In the 2nd District congressional race, Fountain received 33,378 to 2,773 for Herbert T. Bailey of Tarboro; 6th District Durham defeated H. C. Sprinkle of Durham, 35,182 to 6,329; 7th, Carlyle won over Seavy Carroll of Fayetteville, 33,302 to 24,493; and 8th, Deane defeated R. Coble Funderburk of Monroe, 32,203 to 11,529.

Other Senate candidates and their totals were: Alvin Wingfield Jr., Charlotte, 7,735; Henry L. Sprinkle, Greensboro 2,446; A. E. Turner, Palmira, 1,948; Olla Ray Boyd, Pinetown, 1,362; and W. N. Bostick, Cary, 1,167.

Those five candidates received a combined total of only 14,658. This was surprising to many political observers who had felt they might get enough votes to send the contest into a runoff on June 26.

Tar Heel voters also nominated four judges, several solicitors, a flock of state senators and representatives in addition to local candidates.

In the 12th Judicial District, Walter Crissman, veteran legislator of High Point, upset Superior Court Judge H. Hoyle Sink of

Kurfees Says He Made 'Mistake'

WINSTON-SALEM (AP)—Winston Salem's Mayor Marshall Kurfees says his role in the publishing of a controversial political ad in a local paper last week was "a serious mistake which I regret very much."

Kurfees told an audience at a dedication ceremony at Piedmont Bible College here yesterday. "Your mayor has made mistakes in the past—some serious ones—but I've always tried to profit by them."

"I have made a serious one in the past few days which I regret very much and I sincerely hope that everything will work out for the best."

Although he made no direct mention of the political advertisement Kurfees left no doubt he was referring to the apparently pro-Scott ad published in last Wednesday's Journal and Sentinel. Scott forces labeled the ad a "falsehood."

Kurfees took full responsibility for the ad and admitted that he had written it, persuaded J. H. R. Gleaves, a Negro leader, to sign it and paid for its publication with his (Kurfees') own money.

Inquest Tonight For Gun Death

A coroner's inquest in the death of Herbert Whichard, Negro, has been set for tonight in the Municipal Court Room at 7:30, according to Pitt County Coroner Griffin H. Rouse. Whichard was shot and killed on Saturday morning, May 18.

County Contests See Close Races

By BOB BOYETTE Reflector Staff Writer

In the Democratic Primary last Saturday only three men won Democratic nominations in Pitt County races.

Walter Jones of Farmville, Sam Worthington of Greenville and Alton Gardner of Chiefton won the nomination for their respective offices.

Jones and Worthington won nominations for the House of Repre-

House of Representatives. He led a field of five men with 6,103 votes. Next in the House race, Worthington, who resigned his seat as Representative last year to take a position on the North Carolina Utilities Commission, placed second with a vote total of 4,850. This was a clear majority over Frank M. Kilpatrick of Ayden, who was seeking reelection to the House. Kilpatrick polled 4,011 votes.

Ben G. Tucker of Grifton placed fourth in the House race with 2,391 votes while Bill Riggans of Greenville, a fifth contender, had 1,796 votes.

Sheriff's Race Pitt's present sheriff, Tyson, in his bid for re-election, led in a field of three that included former Sheriff Sam Whitehurst and Richard W. King.

Tyson got 6,196 votes, Whitehurst 4,699 and King 1,814. Tyson lacked 168 votes for a clear majority so Whitehurst could call for a second primary. Whitehurst said this morning he had not decided whether to call for the second primary, but would make the announcement within the next few days.

Fourth District Commissioner In the race for County Commissioner from District Four, Little got 4,924 to lead incumbent Smith by 624 votes. Smith had a total of 4,300 votes.

A third candidate in this race, W. Leslie Elks, got 2,926 votes. Smith could call for a second Sheriff Ruel W. Tyson, above, got more votes than any other Pitt County candidate in his bid for reelection, but he needed 168 more votes for a clear majority.

Top Diplomats At Geneva May Leave

By MAX HARRELSON GENEVA (AP)—The Far Eastern conference entered its sixth week today amid increasing reports that the big-name diplomats may go home soon, leaving their deputies to carry on an "Indochinese Pan-namjon."

None of the big power foreign ministers yet has announced plans to pull out of the negotiations, but this may be the last week of attendance for some of them.

U. S. Secretary of State Dulles returned to Washington four weeks ago. Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov flew to Moscow early yesterday for consultations telling some of the Western delegations chiefs he would be back in a few days.

The feeling persisted here, however, that unless more positive results are obtained this week, the conference will enter a new phase of protracted lower-level discussion, similar to the two years of negotiations which preceded the Korean armistice.

Many Western sources believe the Indochina talks will develop into a series of meetings by sub-committees of military and other experts on the technical aspects of a cease-fire. These could continue for months.

Saturday's decision to begin direct military talks here this week on the question of assembly zones for the rival forces in Indochina was regarded generally as only a procedural agreement.

The representatives of the French and Vietminh commands still will have to resolve the basic question of whether there should be a series of isolated assembly zones or one large consolidated area for each side, as the Communists have demanded.

This military question has grave political overtones, since concentration of large forces in opposing areas could set the pattern for partitioning of Viet Nam.

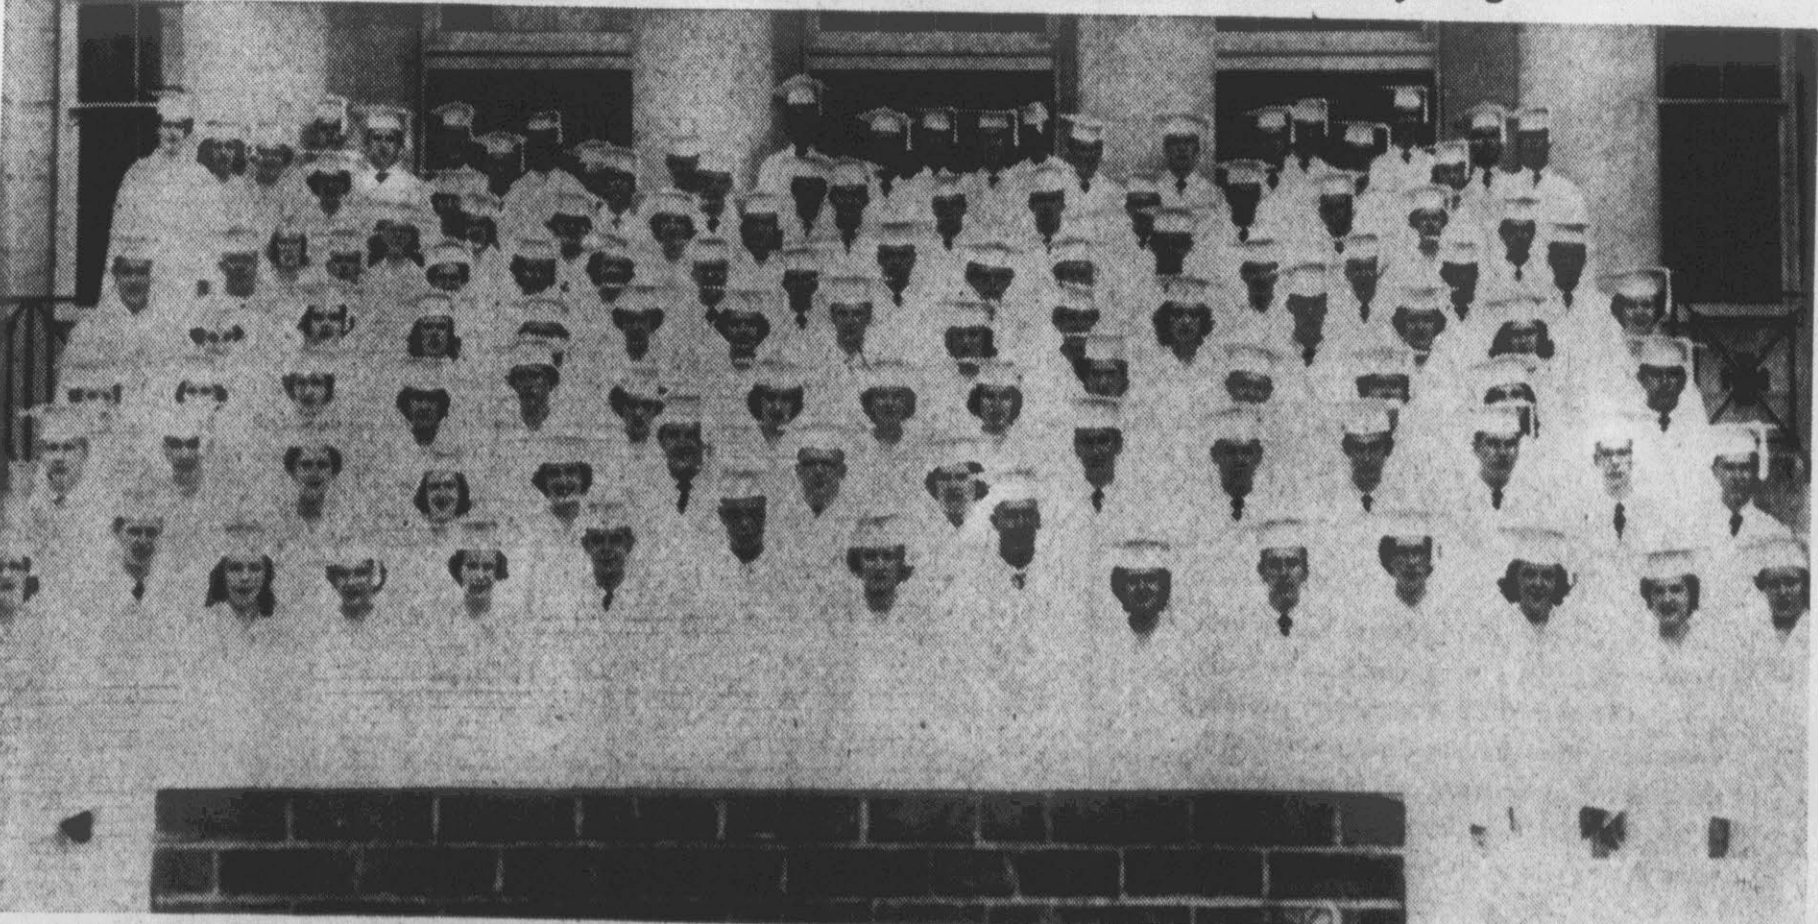

Military representatives of the two sides are expected to hold their initial session tomorrow.

As the nine-delegation conference continued its secret meetings today, it still was faced with half a dozen major questions. These include proposals for international supervision of the proposed cease-fire, military guarantees against violations, exchange of prisoners of war, and bans against reinforcements from outside.

Goodbyes were said to Mrs. John Fritchman, Mrs. Katherine Adams and Miss Sonora Moore.

Tea Is Given For Bride-Elect

In compliment to Miss Betty Jeanne Earnhardt of Chapel Hill, whose marriage to Gordon Brown will take place in June, Mrs. O. H. Brown and Miss Doris Brown entertained at tea on Saturday afternoon at their home on East Third Street.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. H. A. Hudson and presented to the receiving line composed of Mrs. Brown, Miss Earnhardt, Miss Elizabeth Kittrell, also a bride-elect of June, and Miss Brown.

Throughout the rooms of the lower floor a color note of pink and white was effectively carried out.

Centering the dining table, which was covered with a lace cloth, was a silver bowl holding a beautiful arrangement of light pink carnations shading into deeper tones, and pink and white larkspur. Pink carnations, larkspur and feverfew were used in the living room and hall.

Mrs. Linwood Sutton of Chapel Hill presided at the refreshment table. She was assisted in serving fresh fruit juice punch, with melon balls, cheese straws, cheese biscuits, open faced sandwiches, nuts, bridal mints and cakes by Miss Gay Hudson.

Miss Sarah Sutton invited guests to register and goodbyes were said to Mrs. W. A. Hudson of Grimesland.

Joint Hostesses To Exchange Book Club

BETHEL—The last meeting of the year 1953-54 of the Book Exchange Club met on Thursday at 1 o'clock in the home of Mrs. S. D. Dewar with Mrs. L. L. Whitehurst as co-hostesses. The home was decorated with lovely arrangements of spring and summer flowers.

The menu for the buffet luncheon was turkey, dressing, asparagus casserole, green beans, congealed salad, pickles, hot rolls, ice box fruit cake and iced tea.

The program was given by Mrs. W. C. Latham. She had as her topic for the afternoon "The Big Change." She discussed the educational progress which had been made in North Carolina for the past few years, stressing Pitt County.

At the conclusion of the meal, Mrs. High Weeks was showered with baby gifts from the guests.

Those who attended besides the above mentioned were: Mesdames Mitchell Alexander, Linwood Briley, Dennis Hardy, Carey Hammond,

Piano Recitals Given By Pupils Of Mrs. Beverly

BETHEL—The grammar grade piano pupils of Mrs. Robert Beverly gave their annual music recital on Tuesday, May 25, at 8 o'clock in the Bethel High School auditorium.

A program of piano solos and ensemble numbers were given by the following pupils: Ginger Young, Connie Shelton, James H. Tetterton, Carolyn Manning, Jo Ann Whitehurst, Jane Crandall, Margaret Edmondson, Carl Cullifer, Peggy Highsmith, Sylvia Gardner, Ann Mazingo, Malesse Mazingo and Beverly Stator.

A reading "When Mother Picked A Hat" was presented by Jo Ann Whitehurst and dance numbers were given by Carrie Lin Gurganus and Patsy Jo Gurganus.

The high school pupils gave their recital Wednesday, May 26, at eight o'clock.

The following recitalists were heard: Bobbie Garrenton, Jean Simmons, Kay Rogerson, Alice McKeel, Judy Cullifer, Kenneth Gray, Sue Taylor, Patsy Harris, Olivia Whitehurst, Patricia Carson, Wade Ward, Charles Ward, Barbara Watson, Joyce Purvis, Irene Purvis, Shirley Jean Whitehurst, Loretta Bullock and Janie Rollins.

Presbyterian Assembly Is Facing Unification Problem

By GLENN MCCULLOUGH
MONTREAT, N.C. — Unification was the problem facing the General Assembly of the Southern Presbyterian Church here today.

The issue came in the wake of Saturday's dramatic session which saw the church strongly urge its doors be opened to all—regardless of color.

Underlying the passage of the de-segregation issue was the philosophy of the unity of mankind—the oneness of God. Those favoring union with the northern branches of the church looked back and took encouragement that the union issue may be swept into the current of liberalism also.

Others felt that the concessions already made by the conservatives would cause them to fight union with even more vigor than in the past.

Union already has been approved by the Presbyterian Church of the U.S.A. (Northern) Presbyterian Church of North America.

Yesterday afternoon the Rev. Ralph Waldo Lloyd, president of Maryville (Tenn.) College and a fraternal delegate to this assembly from the northern branch, urged commissioners to vote for a merger.

The Rev. Albert J. Kissling, Jacksonville, Fla., who was this assembly's fraternal delegate to the northern branch's assembly at Detroit last week earlier predicted the merger would pass.

The Rev. Kissling, pastor of Riverside church, said however, presbyteries and individual churches would be "violent opposition" before the measure passed.

The present movement toward unification began in the general Assembly of the southern branch here in 1937. The assembly authorized the appointment of a committee of nine, changing it the next year when it met at Meridian, Miss., to 17, each member to be elected by the respective synods composing the church.

Later the committee was enlarged to 22. Negotiations started in 1937 between the northern branch and the southern branch but it was not until 1949 that the United Presbyterians accepted a renewed invitation to enter the talks.

The plan before the assembly today is the work of about 16 years, during which four revisions of the plan were made.

Informal sources said the committee itself was split on its own recommendations and that the majority report would recommend the plan be rejected. It was predicted by others that the possibility of then adopting the minority report would be good.

Yesterday commissioners listened to routine reports after hearing Dr. Stuart Oglesby, pastor of Atlanta's Central church, preach at Anderson Auditorium.

There was still confusion as to how best to handle the assembly's de-segregation motion. While the assembly's motion was believed by some commissioners to have the effect of an order, other commissioners felt that it would be necessary for the various synods, presbyteries and individual churches to decide whether to follow the motion.

The General Assembly generally gives to local churches a free hand. Whether the de-segregation action would be left in that category was still a topic of private debate here.

Three Injured In Two-Car Collision

Three persons were injured when two cars collided, almost head on, near Winterville yesterday afternoon.

The injured were Herman C. Williams, who received lacerations about the head and face; Peggy Mills, lacerations of the face; and Jessie Hooks, Negro, injured knee.

The two cars were being operated by Williams and Hooks. Miss Mills was riding in the Williams' car. Both cars were total losses.

The accident was investigated by Winterville Chief of Police L.P. Hardee assisted by Highway Patrolmen Bill Whitehurst and Shep Newman. Investigation is in complete.

About 6 p.m. Saturday a car operated by David Earl Tyson of Norfolk, Virginia crashed into a bridge railing on a dirt road connecting N.C. 43 and the Blackjack Road. The steering gear of the vehicle was reported to have failed. Damage to the car amounted to approximately $100 and the bridge was slightly damaged.

The accident was investigated by Highway Patrolman D.E. Perry.

Three Proposals Of Eisenhower Head For Test

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three major proposals in President Eisenhower's legislative program headed for crucial tests in Capitol Hill this week—with mixed prospects.

Both the House and Senate took today off because of the Memorial Day holiday.

The House will take up tomorrow an administration-backed bill to add new millions of persons to the social security program, increase the benefit payments and boost the annual contribution by employees and employers. Passage seemed assured.

The Senate has scheduled debate starting Thursday on a House-approved housing bill while passage in some form is virtually certain. New opposition from some southern Democrats cast considerable doubt on the fate of the President's request for authority for a four-year public housing program.

The Senate Finance Committee hopes to complete by Friday its version of the administration tax revision bill already passed by the House. GOP leaders have voiced confidence that the committee will approve it about in the form the administration asked. But Democratic senators plugging for a new income tax cut have said they will carry their fight to the Senate floor if they lost in the committee's closed-door sessions.

The tax revision, a bulky 875-page bill, would make no changes in major levies but would cut taxes about $1,400,000,000 in its first year of operation through various benefits for individuals and businesses.

Sen. George (D-Ga.) and two colleagues are sponsoring a move to cut individual income taxes about 4½ billion dollars this year by boosting from $600 to $800 the personal exemption allowed each taxpayer and dependent. A Democratic drive to a boost to $700 lost narrowly in the House.

The administration is fighting the move on the ground the government can not stand that loss of revenue.

Democrats have coupled their effort with a move to knock out of the house bill an administration-backed provision which would give substantial tax relief to stockholders on their dividend income. The revenue loss would be 240 million the first year, and 814 million annually when fully effective.

The social security bill, Rep. Daniel A. Reed (R-N.Y.) said Saturday night, will win "overwhelming" House approval. The Senate has not acted. Two GOP opponents, Reps. Mason (Ill.) and Ut (Calif.) assailed the bill's main points but indicated they thought it would pass.

Reed, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee which handled the bill, hailed it as representing "substantial progress towards achieving universal old-age and survivors' insurance coverage with benefit levels adequate to provide a realistic minimum . . . protection . . ."

Mason and Ut centered their fire on a provision to increase from $3,600 to $4,200 the maximum annual wage on which both workers and employers contribute, currently at a rate of 2 per cent.

On the housing issue Senate Democratic leaders were reported looking for some compromise which might avert a party split over a civil rights issue. The possibility of such a split was raised last week when the Supreme Court threw out an appeal in behalf of racial segregation in a public housing project.

Sen. Maybank (D-SC), previously a strong advocate of low-rent public housing then announced he would move in the Senate to strike out all authority for such projects.

Eisenhower asked authority to build 140,000 units over a four-year period. The House eliminated all public housing authority, and the administration had been counting on the Senate to restore it.

Sen. Ellender (D-La.) said over the weekend he would continue to support public housing, but he conceded the Supreme Court's action would "undoubtedly affect the thinking of those who are lukewarm . . ."

The issue is not likely to come to a Senate vote before next week.

Pool Bond Issue Should Be Postponed

The election on Greenville's $250,000 bond issue for two swimming pools and other recreation facilities should be postponed.

After much consideration of this important bond issue, The Reflector has come to the conclusion for two principal reasons.

1. We feel that the bond issue for two swimming pools and other recreation facilities faces certain defeat if the election is held on June 15 as slated.

2. Should the bond issue pass now, it would be virtually impossible for city officials to intelligently spend the designated $200,000 for swimming pools until the segregation decision of the Supreme Court is more fully understood. If local taxpayers are to receive maximum benefit for money spent for such facilities, plans must be laid out and executed on a long range basis, which we feel is next to impossible at the moment.

The need for swimming pool facilities in Greenville is keenly felt by most of the citizenry. The Reflector is anxious that the city has these facilities at the earliest possible date. It will mean delay if the bond issue is postponed now. But we feel the delay will not be as great if the issue is postponed now, than it would be if the issue were carried to the people now and rejected. It would be several years, in all probability, before the matter were again submitted to the people.

It is our considered opinion, that the quickest and surest way for Greenville to get the swimming facilities which it sorely needs is not to press the issue at this moment. Perhaps six months from now, the many questions which arise in connection with provision of swimming facilities can be more intelligently and more realistically answered.

The ultimate goal of the citizens of Greenville, we believe, should be to provide public swimming facilities at the earliest possible date. It is with that goal in mind that The Reflector urges the postponement of the vote on the bond issue which is necessary if these facilities are to be provided.

Campaign Wounds Should Heal Now

The people of North Carolina have spoken, and W. Kerr Scott will fill the remainder of the unexpired term of the late Sen. Willis Smith.

As in any election, there are a great many people and a great many disappointed people throughout the state today. There is also the middle-group which is neither elated or saddened by the outcome of the Senatorial race.

Scott's record of public office in North Carolina shows him an individualist. Without question, he is an outspoken leader whose actions are as likely to surprise as they are to please. His past record in public office indicate he leans more to the liberal than to the conservative element in the Democratic party.

In Washington, Senator Scott will not be a total stranger, although it will take time for him to learn the ropes of federal government as he mastered the affairs of state government.

Regardless of his record in state government, he will be regarded as a fledgling by his new colleagues in the Senate. It will be wise for him, as for any other new member

Strength for the Day

By EARL L. DOUGLASS
HOW DO YOU FLEAD?

At a certain winter resort they have a singular way of estimating the number of tourists present in the community at any one time. The city authorities do this by carefully weighing the garbage. They allow two pounds of garbage per person per day, and by noting the increase during the tourist season are able to estimate increase in tourist population at that time.

When I first read this, it struck me that I have known quite a few people during my lifetime who estimate practically every situation by weighing the garbage. They can tell you all the scandal of the community. They know all the dirt. They have no good word for anybody except for a few of their own kind. Mention anyone in terms of praise, and these maligners will begin immediately to speak of them in terms of disparagement. They judge nobody on the basis of what he is, but on the basis of what he is not. Their estimation of everybody and everything is arrived at always by precisely the same formula—they weigh the garbage.

This may be a good way to find out how many tourists are visiting a resort town, but it is not a good means of judging a situation, and especially of judging persons. There are much better ways of arriving at such judgments than by weighing the garbage.

Do Taxpayers Make Up Loss?

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON—Should Uncle Sam use the taxpayers' money to reimburse private, profit-making firms for cash losses suffered from a strike of their employees?

Incongruous as it may seem, this question has been raised in serious form at the Senate Appropriations Committee's hearings on 1955 budget allowances for air mail pay and subsidies to two international airlines—Pan American World Airways and Trans World Airlines.

At the request of the Airline Pilot's Association, Senator Warren D. Magnuson of Washington quizzed CAB Chairman Chan Gurney and Irving Roth, Chief of CAB's Rate Division, on this subject. What he learned amazed him and other Committee members, in view of the fact that the Civil Aeronautics Act gives airline employees the right to strike.

SURPRISING FIGURES—According to these officials, a CAB examiner has recommended that American Overseas Airlines, a Pan Am Subsidiary on the Atlantic run, be reimbursed by $646,000 for the pilots' 1947 strike. Underwriting several other disputes in the same way would increase the strike subsidy figure to $5,500,000.

Both explained that his staff had taken exception to the examiner's proposal on the ground that "not a penny of extra mail pay should be paid out by the government to underwrite the cost of strikes." But CAB has scheduled a hearing on the matter for June 30. The pilots' association and Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield have intervened in opposition to the strike subsidy.

Both did admit, however, that CAB gives the airlines money to insure that they do not suffer "operating" losses from a shutdown or reduced services. Although the government will not fork over enough to roll up actual profits, it does guarantee them against deficits. "Making the company whole" is the

Mounting Verdicts

By ELMER ROESSNER

There will be more and more of those "lumpy" verdicts in casualty cases. Wilson C. Jansen, president of the Hartford Accident and Indemnity Co., told the American Management Association this week. The average cost per case will also continue to rise, he said.

There are several reasons for this trend. One, Mr. Jansen said, is that the "world is growing more litigious." What is now going on in Washington seems to bear out the insurance executive. Another reason is that there is a growing idea that when someone is injured, no matter what the cause, the burden of cost should fall upon society. If more and more jolting verdicts are handed down, he said, "we can look for increasing agitation for a system of stipulated payments for injury or loss of life, regardless of fault."

Trends toward larger verdicts in damage cases seem to substantiate Mr. Jansen's prediction. Verdicts as high as $500,000 have been returned. Since such verdicts are often against persons obviously in no position to pay them, or against municipalities and states, it is apparent that jurors expect that society—through insurance companies or civic bodies—shall assume liability for all victims.

What this idea is gaining acceptance is shown by the fact that a few states have, and many states are considering, compulsory auto liability insurance and proposals have been made that states set up funds that will pay victims when individuals cannot meet judgments.

Another influence on insurance, he said, is the growing problem of products liability exposure. A small bolt or nut, defectively machined, may turn up as the proximate cause of an airplane crash resulting in death or injury to 80 or more persons. A small button on a woman's dress, set in a combustible fabric, may become a lethal force in contact with a hot iron. The substitution of a raw material "can have far-reaching repercussions through the creation of tremendous dollars-and-cents liability."

PAY U.S. TAXES WITH CITY RECEIPTS UNDER NEW PLAN
A very attractive idea for property owners is being propagated by the American Real Property Federation, with headquarters in Washington, D.C.

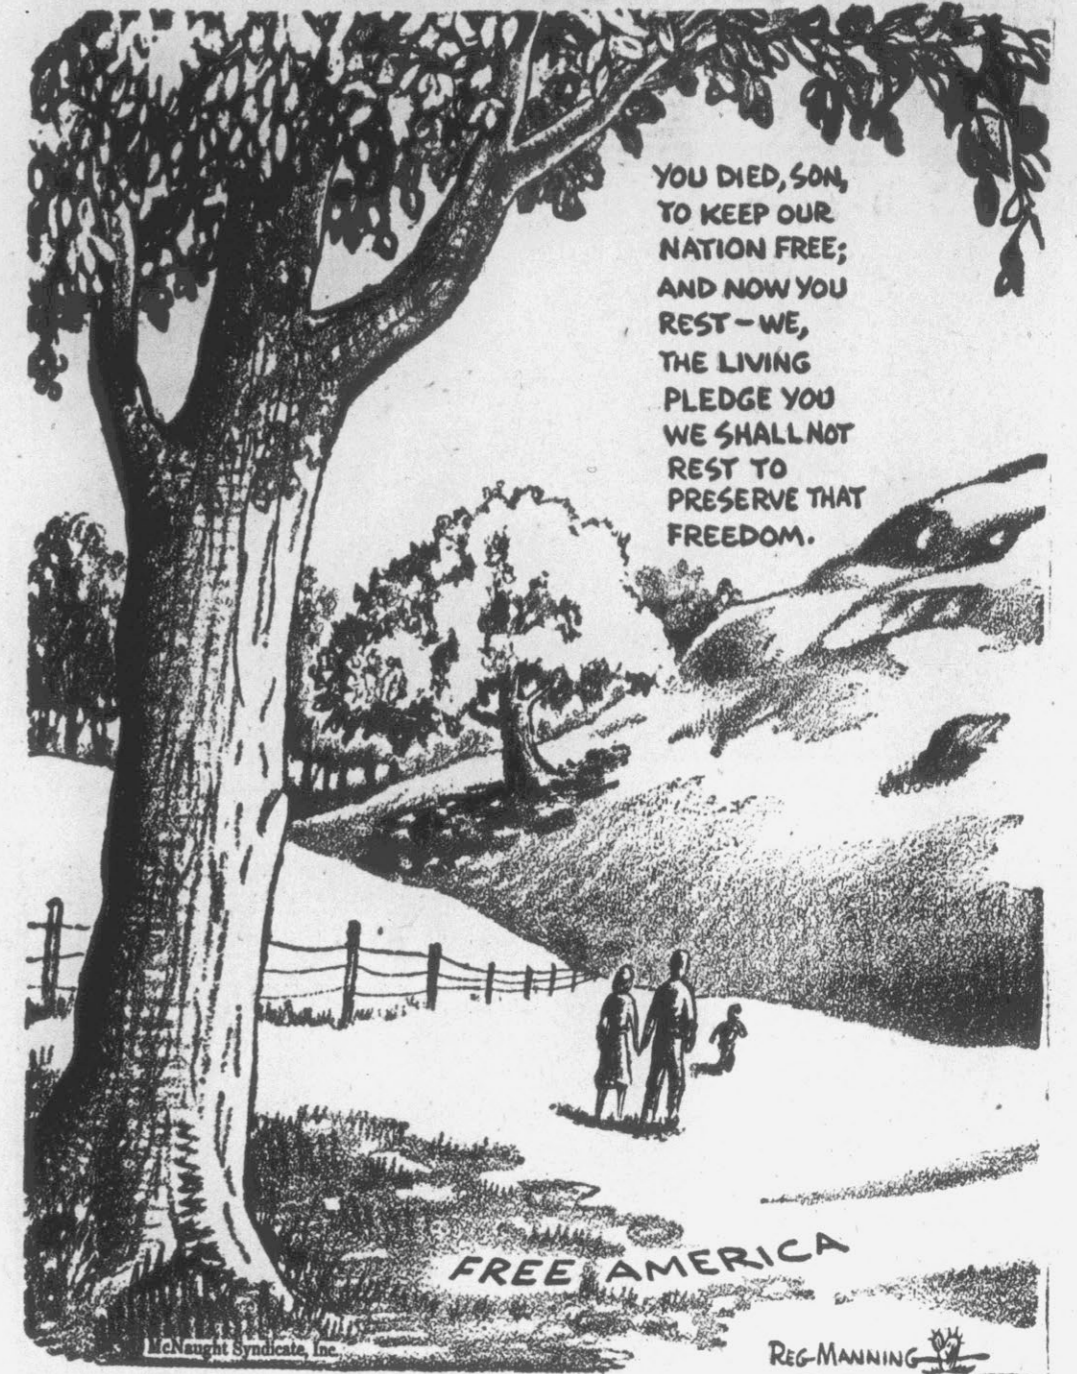

It wants payments for local taxes deducted from Federal tax payments. That's right—not from income subject to tax, but from the tax itself. A man paying a local property tax of $200 would deduct that amount from his income tax payment.

The Federation calculates that this change would cost the Federal government only $5.6 billion a year. The deduction would reduce the "capital levies" and would provide a needed brake on unlimited Federal spending.

The Federation overstates one point. City politicians would figure that if local taxes were fully deductible from Federal taxes, property owners wouldn't care how much city taxes went up as long as they did not top Federal taxes. What a field day that would make in a certain city we know!

OLDER HOUSES CHEAPER
Prices of new housing is generally about the same as it was six months ago and the price level is expected to continue stable, Ronald J. Chinnock, president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards said on a basis of the boards' 57th annual survey of the real estate market. However, the million houses being built each year have been "easing prices downward" on older dwellings, he said. That, he added, makes them a better buy.

Businessmen Sharing Concern Over Education Products

By ROGER W. BABSON

BABSON PARK, Mass.—Schools and colleges cannot be divorced from business. In the long run, business has only the kind of leaders and workers that the schools produce. Today, many business and educational leaders are expressing concern about the educational product. Free public education appears to be watering down our great tradition of discipline and struggle.

Yet, others say that while we have taught people how to make money, we have failed to teach them how to use it properly. The most damning criticism is that our system is one of education for mediocrity; we pull the bright child downward as we try to drag the dull child upward. This results in a mediocrity of conformity.

ARMY-MCCARTHY HEARINGS
President Eisenhower said only last December that he has been "appalled" at the lack of our youth's understanding of "what America is, what are the conditions that could make her fight, and therefore, what are the underlying reasons that could lead that boy finally on the battlefield to risk his life, not just for property, but for rights, but for some fundamental values in life."

As businessmen and as educators, we have been unwilling to be clear and coherent about what we want the United States to be. Consequently, the confusion in the schools and among businessmen is getting worse and worse. The Army McCarthy hearings in Washington are an illustration of this useless confusion.

Since businessmen say our youth are coming to know less and less about less and less, perhaps a research project to determine exactly what our schools do teach might be a starting point. This might be followed by a movement to overhaul courses of study in the light of what research may reveal would best serve the interests of all.

WHAT ABOUT DISCIPLINE?
Discipline is a major national need. General S.L.A. Marshall, of the Detroit News, intimates that our soldiers on the Korean battle-front lacked discipline, which had something to do with the way things went in Korea. "There are further implications that lack of discipline in our schools contributes to juvenile delinquency and is a threat to our national security."

Are these the real problems or are they the symptoms of a fundamental problem? May it not be that inability to comply with regulations, whether the Army, the home, or the community, stems from lack of self-mastery? Should not our society develop people with qualities of self-discipline to develop initiative and intelligence?

SHORTAGE OF TEACHERS
The teacher shortage is another problem. During 1954, it is indicated there will be a shortage of 72,000 teachers in our elementary schools alone. In the next three years, forty-five states will run short of elementary teachers and twenty states will find themselves short of high school teachers. On October 12, 1953, Newsweek reported that "in the past year, 60,000 teachers left the field."

This is in also with a New York Times editorial of last August which discusses the Summit, New Jersey, high school teacher who left his $85 per week teaching job to drive a brewery truck at $137.50 per week. Obviously, there are some problems here. Or, for the businessman there are such problem areas as executive development programs; research on personnel selection techniques; problems of industrial morale, diet, and health; union-management relations; more effective distribution of goods—these and a multitude of others should be research and training areas.

I am really writing this column as a "trial balloon" to locate readers who are willing to give time toward a solution. The curse of both education and business today is indifference. Some new non-profit organization may be needed to help bring these changes about. I greatly feel the need, but do not know how to bring it about. Suggestions from readers will be appreciated. Address me at Babson Park 57, Massachusetts.

School Construction Outstrips Processes Of Education

NEEDED: A NEW LOOK AT OUR SCHOOLS

(The Carolina Israelite)

Recently the two daily papers in Charlotte look a long look at our public school system. The Charlotte Observer discussed the tremendous cost of the physical plants, particularly the secondary schools. Later The Charlotte News, the afternoon paper conducted a survey at the classroom level and found much that needs to be reviewed—at once. Both papers performed an outstanding public service, and you can be certain that the question they raised apply the problem throughout the country.

There has been a tremendous amount of new school construction, but the magnificent buildings and elaborate facilities have far outstripped the actual processes of education. Often it appears as though the public ceremony dedicating the building, is the all-in-all; since nothing else is "constructed," renovated" or "repaired." It's like moving in to a $50,000 home with holes in your shoes and no desire or resources to get them half-soled. In the end the beautiful new school building stands there, in all its glory, as a mockery to the boys and girls who enter—most of whom can just barely read and write. In this elaborate construction we are, of course, trying to keep abreast of our business community—bigger and better facilities all the time. This works very well in private enterprise, but in education, its something else again. For one thing we do not "follow" it to its logical conclusion. When a large corporation sets up a magnificent building, it does not let the edifice build over to executives making $3,200 a year. The janitor gets that. For another thing there is a direct connection between "bigger and better" facilities—and expanded production and distribution of goods and services;—whereas there is no such connection whatsoever in education. In education all you need is a few benches, a desk, a pointer, a blackboard, some chalk, and a TEACHER; everything else is "trimmings."

The big problem which faces us today in education is fairly simple. No one reads books anymore. This may sound like an oversimplification to you, but I don't think so. The high school boys and girls no longer read any books. It is appalling. Today you can stand before a group of high-school seniors and tell them the basic tenets of our language; the stories out of Dickens, Verne, Hardy, Conrad, Hugo, Dumas, and Bulwer-Lytton, and they stare at you as if you had just dropped down from the not cost more than a dime. The students (sic) are required to read one book a semester, but they can usually catch something on TV, and that's that. They are also required to read one thousand lines of poetry—which wraps up their ill oiled credits—and away they go: bubble-gum and all.

This is not the fault of the teachers. The teachers are NOT permitted to do their job. Our entire system of education needs an overhauling. A magnificent building is all right, but it will never produce educated men and women. Only TEACHERS can do that, and they can do it (and they have done it) by candle-light if need be.

And so at long last we have run smack into something, (education), that we just cannot buy—or phony-up in any way;—frustrating, isn't it?

Is it presumptuous of me to challenge the entire idea of "progressive" education? I believe that someday the educational system will wake up to this danger of letting them do what they want. What nonsense. Did they really believe that they can replace the school-teacher with the authority to tell them what to do? Today it is a huge joke. You watch them running from classroom to classroom, loaded down with books, and it's all a fake. They know nothing. Nothing at all. If you doubt my word I dare you, go into a classroom of high-school seniors in your own town and ask them five questions:—1. Who was the Marquis de Lafayette? 2. Who was Jean Valjean? 3. Name four members of the United States Supreme Court? 4. Who was the first man to circumnavigate the globe? 5. What do we call the series of letters written by Alexander Hamilton, John Jay and James Madison which helped bring about these United States of America?

If you get more than THREE PERCENT correct answers, let me know, and I promise to push a peanut with my nose from Charlotte, North Carolina to Atlanta, Georgia.

They know nothing. No one reads books anymore and the teachers are helpless. The teachers are paid TWICE as much as they are worth, as babysitters, which they are; and they are paid HALF as much as they are worth as teachers, which the system does not allow them to be.

What amazes me is that the late philosopher John Dewey gave us this plan of "progressive" education, although it is only fair to state that the idea went off on several tangents from Dr. Dewey's original plan, but basically not even a thousand John Deweys could improve on a system which had been developed during three thousand years of man's search for knowledge. There are no short-cuts! In economics you start with—the land. In education you start with—a book. Nothing else can do it for you;—not even TV, movies, Hopalong Cassidy, ninety million comic books a year, slopping around with paint brushes, or letting them do what they want. Letting them do what they want belongs in the insane asylum. Half of them can't even tell you the name of the governor of their state, let alone, letting them do what they want!

It is a great tragedy. A tragedy for the students, a tragedy for the teachers, and a tragedy for those of us who have read a book. It is most certainly part and parcel of the current drive against intellectualism. When all of these uneducated boys and girls come out of school, they somehow carry with them a vague suspicion of all those who have read a book. That's how simple it is. It is part of our state of affairs today, and you cannot separate one from the other. It is part of the current fear of "learning". Among the uneducated, "book-learning" breeds resentment, fear, suspicion, and hatred; and soon, as it has happened so often, they'll join the first demagogue who comes along and says, "Let's go get them as has read a book." It is difficult for uneducated and un-read people to adjust themselves to a tolerant viewpoint. It cannot be done. It represents a clear and present danger.

This is the grave danger. An uneducated man gets indigestion and has a bad dream. In the dream someone is chasing him around the edge of a mountain with a long spear. He gets up in the morning, puts revolver in his pocket and goes out looking for the guy who has been chasing him around the edge of a mountain with a long spear; and pretty soon he recognizes his "tormentor";—by an amazing coincidence it is usually someone who is not a member of his own clan, race, or church. Sometimes the fellow with the spear even turns out to be a business competitor. Then the uneducated "dream-boy" lets him have it; or more often, he just "sides" his time in anger, fear, suspicion, and hatred. A man's creed, a man's whole life, is in harmony with his intellect.

The crying need at this moment in our history is first, qualify our teachers; second, give them

The Voice Of The People

In my opinion there has been a great deal of muddle-headed thinking at the highest levels of the government and the church on the problem of segregation.

Segregation by force of law is wrong because all are equal under the law just as all are equal before God. We have guilt complex about segregation because it has been accomplished in the schools by the use of public funds.

However, there is nothing unconstitutional or illegal in the natural desire of a parent, white or colored, to provide the best education obtainable under conditions and with fellow pupils most conducive to the highest development of the child. I believe that the forced association with substantial numbers of colored children would be detrimental to the development in my children of those standards of culture and scholarship that I inherited from my ancestors. This heritage, the colored man does not have and may not develop for many generations while with the white man a like heritage has flourished with the centuries.

We have come to depend on the public schools but we have not always done so and we need not do so in the future. The distinction between public and private schools is that the public schools are supported by money collected in the form of taxes.

It is easily practicable to organize private, voluntary associations or corporations for the purpose of collecting voluntary contributions, assessing dues or selling shares of stock in a corporation or all three, all of course, directed toward raising funds from private sources for the purpose of organizing private schools. It need not cost more than our present school taxes which could be reduced in the future because private schools would assume a large part of the burden. Let Negroes continue to be publicly educated or organize their own private schools if they-so choose.

The Supreme Court's action was a brilliant stroke of international politics but here in the South where the proportion of Negro to White is nearly equal, it can only result in the dilution and weakening of those intangible factors that make for a great school system and for which the Supreme Court professes such a tender concern because if the colored child has something to gain by the absence of segregation, the white child has something to lose.

Let us organize private schools for white children in an atmosphere of quiet but prompt and businesslike calm. Perhaps certain facilities such as buildings and buses can be leased from the State at least temporarily.

There will be opposition from those professional educators who have a personal stake in their jobs in the public school system but when the public school system no longer fulfills to the satisfaction of a large part of the population the purposes for which it was created, its monopoly of the field of primary and high school education can no longer be justified. Let us not make a sacred cow of public education for its own sake.

Legal manipulation and gerrymandering of districts does not solve anything because it is inherently dishonest. Let us take a position that can be openly advocated and honestly and publicly defended.

Rescuers Carry Injured Climber Down Mountain

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP)—A rescue team of eight expert mountain climbers cat-stepped its way down the ice-covered sides of Mt. McKinley today, carrying an injured Brooklyn soldier nearer to safety.

Strapped tightly to a sled was Pfc. George Argus, whose hip was broken May 16 in a 1,000-foot fall that killed a companion, George Thayer, 27, of Reedsboro, Vt.

Argus, left in an improvised tent May 23 by two other climbers who survived the fall, was found yesterday morning by Dr. John McCall of the University of Alaska and Frank Milan of the Air Force aero-medical laboratory at Ladd Air Force Base.

The 25-year-old GI owned his life in part to a promise McCall made to Thayer before the ill-fated climbing expedition started April 16, a promise McCall fulfilled even after Thayer's death.

The two who survived the fall uninjured, Morton Wood and Les Viereck, left Argus wrapped warmly in the small tent at the 11,000-foot level on McKinley while they made their way down the mountain to report the tragedy.

McCall and Milan, rapidly out-distancing the other five members of the ground party yesterday and Saturday after Argus' tent was spotted from the air, succeeded in a desperate bid to beat death to Argus' side and reached the crippled climber at 10:10 a.m. (4:10 p. m. EST) yesterday.

"He's alive and well," they radioed.

The tent, a small dot on a vast expanse of snow and ice, stood near the edge of a bowl at the head of Milrow Glacier.

To get Argus down to a point where he can be picked up by helicopter—the whirlybirds can't operate at high altitudes—the rescue party must take him on an airdropped sled down the face of the crevasse-laced glacier.

At the end of the glacier, the rescuers are faced with more crevasses, ice-covered cliffs and rock outcroppings.

Although it took McCall and Milan more than 24 hours to make the last miles to the tent yesterday, the descent will be a much harder job.

Large Crowd Gathered At Reflector Office For Election Results

Jack Whichard (standing on a ladder) and S. L. Bridgers, of The Reflector staff, post county election results on a scoreboard outside the newspaper building. Precincts from over the county telephoned their totals to The Reflector and these in turn were tabulated and forwarded to The Associated Press. (Reflector photos by Alvin Taylor)

Above is a portion of the crowd, numbering in the hundreds, which gathered outside The Reflector building Saturday night to hear first-hand reports of tabulating the day's election results. While statewide tabulations lagged, Pitt County precincts were all reported in by 11:30 p.m.

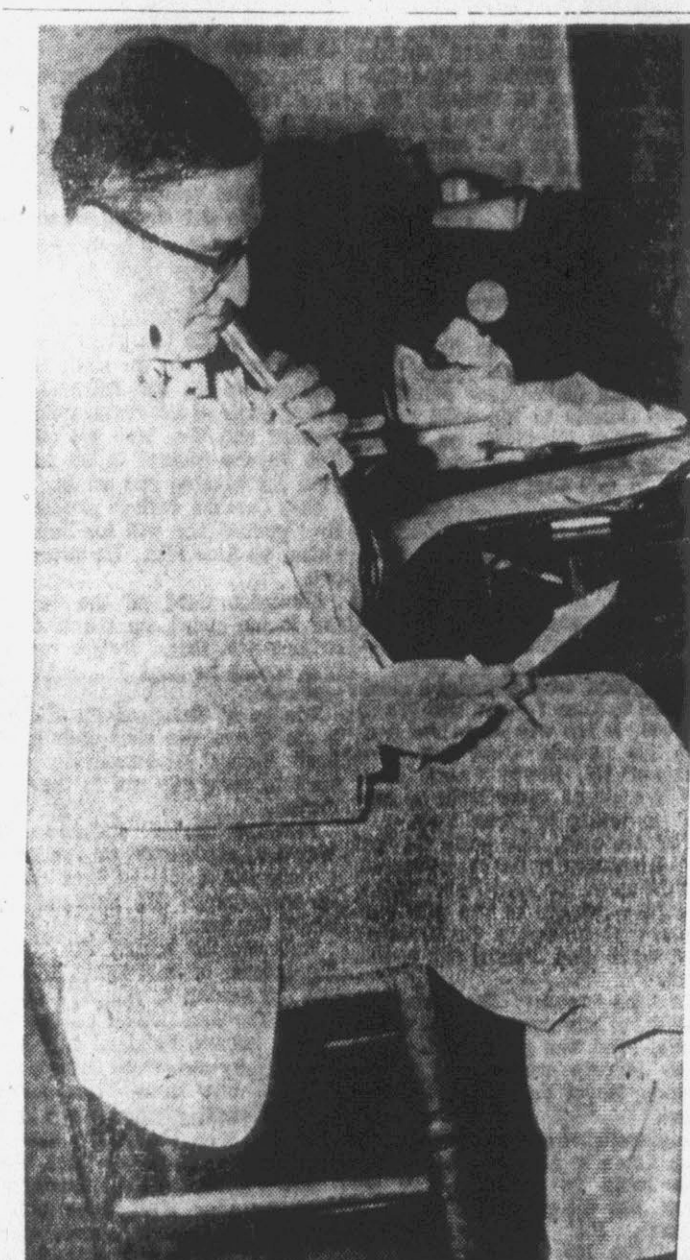

Slopes of the 20,269-foot high McKinley, tallest peak in North America, the rescuers must constantly keep before them the plight of Argus who must lie flat all the way.

Below the glacier, at Gunsite Pass, Argus will be picked up by an Air Force helicopter for a flight to rescue headquarters and Minchumina. Gunsite Pass is at the 6,000-foot level.

Wood estimated the rescue party would not reach Gunsite Pass before Tuesday.

McCall's promise to Thayer was that he would stand by for emergency duty should Thayer and the other three climbers run into trouble.

When nearly a month had gone by, McCall, in talking with Ernest N. Patty, president of the University of Alaska, said he had decided never to climb the mountain again. "I'll go if they (Thayer, Wood, Argus and Viereck) are in trouble," Patty quoted McCall as saying. "But I don't want to be because of the avalanche danger up there now."

In addition to members of the newspaper staff, many persons volunteered to help in tabulating the vote at The Reflector offices. Above, June H. Rose, Superintendent of the City Schools, is shown announcing primary results over the public address system which was set up for the benefit of the crowd gathered outside the building.

WNCT Schedule

As of Friday, May 21, 360 feet of the proposed 800-foot tower for television station WNCT, Channel 9, Greenville, were standing. Construction Foreman Bill Angle of the Ace High Tower Company said, "We will be about four more weeks in erecting the remaining 440 feet and it will probably take another week to change the antenna over from the present to the new tower."

Student Contest
WNCT and nine Eastern Carolina high schools are participating in the "Most Likely to Succeed" boy and girl contest sponsored by the Columbia Broadcasting System's Morning Show. A boy and girl will be selected by high schools in Greenville, Washington, Tarboro, Rocky Mount, Wilson, Goldsboro, Kinston, New Bern and Jacksonville. A board of judges from East Carolina College will choose a girl and boy from the group of winners, and the Eastern Carolina winner will be entered in the national contest.

WNCT Appearance
The Eastern Carolina winners will be presented from the Greenville studio on WNCT during one of the breaks in the Morning Show on June 14th. On June 15th the National winners will be announced and during the week of June 23rd they will make appearance on the Morning Show while enjoying a week in New York with full expenses paid by CBS television. Handling local arrangements is Eck Wall, WNCT program director.

New WNCT Shows
June 4th "I've Got a Secret" with Garry Moore will begin a regular schedule on WNCT, from 10:00 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. Beginning Saturday, June 5th, Rod Brown, Rocket Ranger will be replaced by Abbott and Costello.

Push To Ratify European Army

PARIS (AP)—Supporters of the European Army Treaty cheered today a Socialist party decision that its members in the French National Assembly must vote for the pact or face party discipline. The move may give the government enough backing to ensure ratification of the hotly disputed treaty.

The decision was taken last night at a party conference. The discipline could take the form of expulsion from the party of all members who failed to vote for the treaty.

The main opposition to the pact—which would create a six-nation European Army including German troops—has come from the De Gaullists, Communists and some Socialists. It is generally agreed the government needs about 75 of the 105 socialist votes in the Assembly to insure ratification.

The Party's decision was a challenge to 58 Socialist deputies who previously signed an agreement to oppose the pact. Observers estimated that about 15 to 30 still might defy the order.

The treaty already has been ratified by West Germany, The Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg. Only France and Italy have yet to act. No date has yet been set for final French Assembly debate.

Safety Awards For Local Firm

College View Cleaners and Laundry, Inc. has won the state award for safety and the National certificate of honor for safe driving during 1953.

Drivers at College View Cleaners drove a total of 426,332 safe miles during the past year with announcements of the awards being made recently. Guy Langston, Safety Director for the laundry, received a letter from Neill Darmstadter, chief of the Accident Statistics Sections of the American Trucking Association, which stated: "On behalf of the judges of the 1953 ATA National Truck Safety Contest, we are pleased to advise you that your fleet has been granted a certificate of merit for combination local and over-the-road driving, up to 500,000 miles."

Langston said 1953 was the first year that College View has had a safety program and "we are quite proud of winning both state and national awards." "The State Highway Patrol cooperated with us throughout the year in helping to make our safety record. We wish to express our sincere appreciation to them for their assistance," Langston said.

Phils Thriving With Wins Over Hapless Pittsburgh

Campanella Back In Bums' Line-Up

By JACK HAND
The Pittsburgh "pick-me-up" is a sure fire remedy for woody National League contenders. One trip to Fred Haney's clinic and the ailing patient is young at heart.

Philadelphia took the cure yesterday and shot into a second place tie with New York and Brooklyn, only 1 1/2 games behind the leading Milwaukee Braves. Now it's the Giants' turn to visit the health spa.

The Phils and Dodgers have found the Pirates on so helpful in the first quarter of the season. If the Phils hadn't thumped the Pirates in six of eight and the Dodgers hadn't beaten them in eight of 10, both clubs would be under the 500 mark.

The league closed in on Milwaukee Sunday when St. Louis knocked off the Braves, 3-2, for Harvey Haddix's seventh victory. Brooklyn bested New York, 5-3, the Phils dumped the Pirates twice, 8-0 and 10-7 and Chicago split two with Cincinnati. The Cubs took the opener, 7-5, the first start for outfielder Hal Jeffcoat but Cincinnati rallied to take the second, 6-5, called by darkness after eight innings.

It's only five games from first to tenth (Milwaukee to Chicago) but the Pirates already are 13 games behind.

Cincinnati finally shook off Chicago's challenge to open up a one-game lead in the American, defeating Detroit 3-1 while Chicago's eight-game winning streak was broken by Baltimore, 5-2. The victory snapped the Orioles out of a 10-game losing slump.

Boston added to Casey Stengel's worries, beating the New York Yankees, 3-1 on Willard Nixon's four-hitter. Washington shut out Philadelphia, 6-0, behind Maury McDermott but the A's came back to get an even break, winning the second, 6-5, on Ed McGhee's pinch double in the last of the ninth.

At the quarter pole, the National League looks like a seven-team scramble. The American already has shoved four clubs into the "also ran" class.

Robin Roberts pitched his third shutout, a seven-hitter, in the Phils' first game over the Pirates, spoiling Dick Littlefield's first National League start. The Phils continued to bombard Pirate pitching in the second, making a total of 27 hits in the two games, with Willie Jones and Richie Ashburn each collecting five hits for the day's work. Karl Drew was the second game winner on relief over Bob Friend.

The Cardinals, who broke Milwaukee's 10-game winning streak Saturday night, made it two in a row with a first inning in which Red Schoendienst hit a home run. Four successive singles off Warren Spahn followed the homer.

A crowd of 47,672, tops for the season in the National, jammed the Polo Grounds for the Dodger-Giant game, won by Johnny Podres who had to leave in the ninth inning due to a tightening in his shoulder. Gil Hodges hit his 12th home run inside-the-park blast, with two on in the first inning.

Roy Campanella returned to action for the first time since his hand operation but went hitless in four trips.

Jeffcoat, starting a new career as a pitcher at the age of 29, held the slugger Cincinnati club to four hits until he had to leave in the ninth inning of the opener because of a finger blister.

Mike Garcia held Detroit to four hits to keep Cleveland moving with their 14th straight hometown victory. Bobby Avila helped him along with two doubles, boosting his league-leading average to .387.

Eddie Waitkus and Jim Fridley hit homers that helped Don Larsen to his second victory and ended the White Sox's win spree. Al Sima, making his first start of the season, was tagged with the defeat.

Nixon put down a Yankee threat in the ninth by retiring Andy Garay with two men on to save a decision over Jim McDonald.

Mickey Vernon and Wayne Terwilliger homered behind McDermott in Washington's first game victory over Philadelphia. The lanky lefty never had an anxious moment, striking out seven for his third triumph. A late spurt gave rookie Arnold Portocarrero the edge over Bob Porterfield in the second game.

By JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK (AP)—"I'm back to stay. I'm gonna catch every day from now on."

Roy Campanella, his left hand hanging loosely in the whirlpool, used his right to knock on wood as he said that.

"I felt fine out there today," the slugger Brooklyn Dodger catcher said enthusiastically. "The hand didn't hurt me a bit. Maybe I didn't get any hits but I'm not worried about it. I'm still rusty from not playing. It was the first time I batted in a month."

It was exactly 29 days ago—May 1—that Campanella left the club in Cincinnati to undergo an operation for the removal of a bone chip in his left hand. The operation took place in New York May 3 and the Dodger star had been out of the lineup ever since.

"It was like old times being out there behind the plate again," he said happily. "You've got no idea how miserable I felt sitting on the sidelines all this time."

Campanella wasn't much help at the plate yesterday as the Dodgers took the rubber of the three-game series with the Giants 5-3 before the National League season's largest crowd—47,672 fans—going hitless in four times at bat. He grounded out three times and went out on a long fly in his other time at bat. The veteran receiver, however, did a fine job behind the plate handling the shots of young speedballer Johnny Podres with his usual deftness.

"I swung real hard only once," Roy said. "That was the time I hit that long drive to right field. And the bnd didn't hurt a bit. It still feels sensitive but that is because of the nerves that had to be separated when the operation was performed."

Not even his sub-par .150 batting average failed to dim his spirits.

Except for the use of a sponge in his catching mitt and a plain doekin glove while batting, Campanella gave no concession to his healing hand. League President Warren Giles had given Campy special permission to wear the glove.

Ump's Statement Is Refreshing
By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK (AP)—The most refreshing statement of the current baseball season is that attributed to Umpire Larry Goetz of the National League after a mix-up between his fellow arbiters on a decision in a game between Chicago and St. Louis. The forthright Goetz said it was "lousy umpiring," and expressed his regrets.

The average fan, we suggest, would be much more inclined to respect and even like umpires if the hirings in blue were permitted more often to relieve their feelings publicly and admit that they are fallible. We predict, further, that the first of them who tells the press after a game that "I blew a couple today, boys," will become famous. Goetz is just the one who might do it, too.

Any of the contending clubs which hope to sneak some "plenary insurance" out of the opposite league—a maneuver made somewhat notorious by the Yankees in recent seasons—will have to act soon. The new "Greenberg Rule," named for its sponsor, General Manager Hank Greenberg of the Cleveland Indians, will put a crimp in such activities after it goes into effect June 15.

From that point on it will not be enough to get a player waived out of his own league in order to sell him to a contending club in the other league, as was done, for receipt example, when the St. Louis Cards bought Vic Raschi from the Yankees this spring. Under the new law such a "castoff" from the American League would have to be turned down by all the clubs in the National in ascending order, beginning with the last place Pittsburgh Pirates, before he could be dealt to the Cards.

Air Force Man Still Champion

MEMPHIS (AP)—Air Force Lt. Joe Conrad of San Antonio is still champion of the Southern Amateur—first golfer in 40 years to win the title twice in a row.

Conrad, on leave from Lackland Air Force Base, bested former Tennessee amateur champion Jimmy Wittenberg of Memphis 3 and 2 in Saturday's final over the Memphis Country Club course.

The San Antonio redhead, trailing 2 down after 18 holes, pulled even on the 20th and went ahead to stay on the 26th when Wittenberg lost control of his irons.

Another Lackland airman, Sgt. Jimmy Brass of Orlando, Fla., won the consolation flight title, beating Bill Bobbitt of Memphis 3 and 2.

Greentree After Third Victory

By ORLO ROBERTSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Greentree Straight victory in the $50,000 added Suburban Handicap at Belmont Park today with Straight Face favored to lead nine other turf stars home in the m.l. and a quarter steve.

Greentree owned by John Hay Whitney and his sister, Mrs. Charles Shipman Payson, carried off the honors with the great Tom Fool last year and with One Hitter in 1952. Devil Diver also won for Greentree in 1945.

Straight Face is no Tom Fool or Devil Diver but under 118 pounds and his narrow build favored to take down the big end of the purse in this 68th running of the stake.

The Dancer will sit this one out dur to a sore foot. But his absence assures a better horse race with Mrs. J.R.H. Thouron's British bred Royal Vale and Alfred Vanderbilt's Find joining with Straight Face to make up the big three.

Royal Vale, who dropped a close decision to Tom Fool in last year's renewal, is top weight of the field with 126 pounds. Find has been assigned 122. Royal Vale's package is a pound more than he carried in losing to Tom Fool.

Ted Atkinson, who rode the last two Greentree suburban winners, will be up on Straight Face. Jackie Westrope, winner of the 1939 Suburban with Cravat, is Royal Vale's pilot while Eric Guerin will handle Find.

In the recent Massachusetts Handicap, Find won the same distance, Find was beaten a nose by Wise Margin while packing 121 pounds. Royal Vale, with 126 was light.

Clemson's Smith Ic Coach Of Year

CLEMSON S. C. (AP)—Clemson's Bob Smith is the Atlantic Coast Conference's 1954 Baseball Coach of the Year.

Named by fellow coaches, Smith led his team to the championship of the new ACC this month. Clemson came through the season with an overall record of 14-8. In conference play it had an 8-4 mark.

Smith has been at Clemson three years. The 1953 team won 11 and lost 6 games.

Runners-up in the coach of the year voting were Vic Sorrell of North Carolina State and Taylor Sanford of Wake Forest.

Two One-Hitters Feature Action In Little League

No Activity

There will not be any Recreation Department-sponsored activity tomorrow night.

PONY and Softball league schedules have been changed to prevent conflict with High School commencement exercises tomorrow. Games originally scheduled for tomorrow night will be played Tuesday evening.

Little League activity will not be affected by the change since all Little League games are played in the afternoon.

33 Auto Drivers Worrying About '500' Weather

By DALE BURGESS
INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Thirty-three veteran auto racers worried more about the possibility of rain today during the 38th annual 500-mile race than about their occupational hazard death.

Even a sprinkle could bring out the yellow caution flag that prevents a driver from improving his position and ruin the chances of cars back of the leaders.

It's a race if it goes 252 1/2 miles. Some of the hottest drivers in the field were spotted far back for the start due to mechanical troubles that kept them from qualifying on the first day of the time trials.

They had about four hours to advance in the race and figured they'd need all of it with Jack McGrath starting first.

McGrath had made no secret of his intention to stay in front all the way if possible. One good reason was that the speedway pays $150 extra to a driver for each lap he leads, a tidy $30,000 for leading all the way.

The purse, about $250,000, was calculated to make the drivers forget that they were outnumbered in speedway records by the names of 44 persons killed at the track. Most of the deaths occurred in the early days of two-man cars.

All the cars now are single seats with much improved tires and chassis. No one has been killed in the race proper since William (Shortly) Canton hit the wall in 1947.

Today's field, dominated by the new Kurtis-Kraft cars built especially for the track, was the fastest since the first Memorial Day race in 1911. It averaged over 138 miles an hour in the time trials. The two-year-old race record by Troy Ruttman was 128.922.

Ruttman was among the starters along with 1953 winner Bill Yukovics and 1950 winner Johnnie Parsons.

A kiss from TV star Marie Wilson awaited the winner, along with the Borg-Warner Trophy the Dodge pace car and a bundle of cash which probably will exceed $90,000.

Johnny Palmer Wins Colonial

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Johnny Palmer added $5,000 to his bank account, saw himself climb to fifth place among the nation's money winners and looked toward the Western Open at Cincinnati today as they toasted him at Colonial Country Club for a great finish that gave him first place in the Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament.

The steady veteran from Charlotte, N. C., closed with his second straight 1-under-par 69 yesterday for a 72-hole total of 280 and a 2-stroke victory.

Great chipping and sensational recovery shots gave Palmer his second tournament victory of the year.

Freddie Hass, New Orleans, registering his second consecutive 68, had finished with 282 when Palmer came into the 17th hole leading a stroke. Palmer's second shot landed 150 yards and was within two feet of the cup. He said it for a birdie and that sealed it up.

Palmer's $5,000 brought his total for the year to $8,186.66 and put him within a little more than $3,000 of first place held by Bob Toski, Livingston, N. J., with $11,188.74.

Amateur Harvie Ward Jr., Tarboro, N. C., tied Byron Nelson, the semi-retired Roanoke, Tex., pro, for third place in the colonial at 282.

Santee Confident He Can Run Mile In Four Minutes

MISSION, Kan. (AP)—There's no doubt in Wes Santee's mind about the four-minute mile or less—it's a tough obstacle—but he's confidently eyeing three more chances at the elusive target before joining the Marines.

"The four-minute mile is a rough thing but I know I'll get it," the lanky University of Kansas senior said after running the second fastest mile in history here Saturday night, a 4:01.3 effort.

Santee's next outing is Friday night at the Compton, Calif. Relays. The following night he'll compete in the Pacific AAU meet at Stockton and on June 11 in the Los Angeles Coliseum Relays. Santee joins the Marines about June 13.

Expect Big Group For Tennis Event

DAVIDSON, N. C. (AP)—With strong delegations from Atlanta and Louisville already in the fold, the annual Southern Boys and Junior Tennis championships may present a record field, Director Paul Scott said today.

The tournament, top event for boys under 19 years of age east of the Rockies, will be run off here June 7-12.

Scott said entries already had been received from such stars as Harry Thompson of Atlanta, ranked No. 1 in Southern Lawn Tennis Assn. rankings; Spencer Allen, Ned Neely and Chuck Tuller, all among the top ten in the same rankings. The latter three also are from Atlanta.

In the junior division, Guice Potter of Anniston, Ala., and Maxwell Brown of Louisville, Nos. 4 and 5 in Southern rankings, already are being tagged as favorites along with David Pearsall of Charlotte, North Carolina high school champ.

The entry list doesn't close until Friday with first round play in both divisions opening the following Monday.

CHAPTER THIRTY-ONE
JOAN put the box back in the corner cupboard with fingers trembling from her reaction. "What a woman!" she thought. "Goodness, you certainly meet all kinds of people in this game. I guess you just have to get tough."

It was at that moment that she heard a faint crackling noise out in the kitchen. What was it? Had the water boiled off the soup kettle? Heaven forbid! But that was probably what it was, because it was after twelve now. Oh, hurry, why had she forgotten it? Hurrying down the narrow hall, she sprang up the three steps at the rear and came into the old wing of the house.

To her horror, she saw flames leaping up the curtains that hung at the window next to the range. In a flash she knew what had happened. A dish towel had dropped from a rack above the stove down next to the boiling soup pot. She hurried to see a charred remnant still burning. The fire must have spread from this across to the curtains. Perhaps the draft from the front door when Miss Slavovskii had slammed out had blown the burning rag and then sent the flames upward.

For an instant she stood paralyzed thinking of all the valuable antiques out front for which she was responsible, and then of the small town fire department which was probably a volunteer one and which might take fifteen or twenty minutes to arrive.

"It's up to me," she knew swiftly and she sprang forward, seized the curtains in her bare hands and jerked them hard. Rod and all came tumbling down onto the linoleum at her feet. She beat at sparks that flew against her wool skirt and then rushed to the sink. A kettle that had been left to soak stood there half full of dirty water. She caught it up quickly and flung its contents onto the burning pile. Black smoke curled up and an acrid smell filled her nostrils. But the fire was out.

Joan cleaned up the mess. And afterwards she cleaned up herself. Then, feeling shaky, she sat down and had a bowl of soup and her sandwiches. Glory be, she thought, what a day. She had not dreamed that the antique business could be so exciting. Almost too exciting, she told herself. It had been too narrow an escape.

A quiet afternoon, however, helped to calm her down, so that when Mrs. Cochran came home at five o'clock, Joan could tell the incidents of the day quite composedly.

Mrs. Cochran listened, nodding. "Well I thank my lucky stars it was you here when this happened and not Mrs. Slocum. She loses her head too quickly. Besides, she's a heavy woman and slow on her feet. She would never have been able to get that fire put out before it spread. Like as not she'd have called the fire department and then my house would certainly have been a mess."

"She might have handled Miss Slavovskii better though," Joan said with remorse. "I'm afraid she's a customer who definitely wasn't made to feel she must come back. It's all my fault, I know. I never should have accused her outright like that. But I was so mad I didn't think."

"Oh, she'll be back. She's forever trying things like that. If she gets away with them—fine. If she doesn't—well, no matter. Better luck next time. That's her philosophy. Of course, she thought you didn't know anything. Well, she found out differently. Don't worry now. She'll be back all right. She likes my stuff." She nodded at Joan. "A good day's work, my dear. But I don't believe you got any writing done."

"I didn't," Joan admitted. "However, I certainly gathered more material I can use!"

Joan was late reaching home that night and she noticed with surprise, as she came up the drive, that the whole house was agleam upstairs and down. What was going on? There wasn't any party that she knew about. Why, then, this extravagant display of electricity? Usually the Hunters were so careful about economizing on things like that.

She drove around to the back and it was then that she saw the doctor's car. Todd? Oh no! Todd! Nothing more must happen to Todd!

With her heart in her mouth, she hurried into the house. But it was not Todd, thank heaven. There he was coming to meet her, sound and whole, though his face was tense and anxious.

"Todd, what's the matter?" He took her arm and drew her toward their stairs.

"It's dad. He's had a bad heart attack. Mother called me home from school. Come up to our rooms and I'll tell you."

(To Be Continued)

Had To By-Pass Jury Pleasures

DENVER (AP)—Although she said "it would be a pleasure just to sit down," an unidentified Denver housewife begged off from jury duty yesterday.

In a letter to the jury commissioner she listed her reasons:

"Three children—12, 6 and 1.

"Dirty diapers, dirty dishes, dirty clothing, dirty faces.

"School, ironing, cleaning, cooking, washing, and also consulting the best book on psychology to know more about why they behave like demons."

She was excused for at least another year.

me, the Communists can be expected to step up the pressure of both their political and their shooting wars.

All three countries once based their view of events in Indochina on emotion. They wanted to see it only as a patriotic nationalist movement against the French. Communist Ho Chi Minh was looked upon as a Vietnamese patriot.

But today these three countries face bitter reality. One of Burma's outstanding leaders expressed his deep worry that Indochina meant "a progressive Communist encroachment of Burma."

In Thailand, the government casts a wary eye at the 50,000 people of Vietnamese extraction inside Thai borders who already are politically inclined toward Ho Chi Minh.

Such organizations as the Free Kachins from Burma and the Free Thais from Thailand sit in Red China. Someday the time may be ripe for them to return and set "internal" risings in motion.

Burma leaders, uncomfortably aware of the country's peril, say publicly they do not fear communism short of an invasion from China.

But a Burmese government leader told me there would be no official statement forthcoming on the Indochina situation because the government wanted to avoid antagonizing China.

It is strange to American ears to hear Burmese leaders in public speeches denouncing the United States as a colonial power. The violent attacks are all against America. Privately Burmese will admit that this is because there is nothing immediate to fear from Americans. There is from China.

Part of this anti-Americanism—and it is largely a superficial sentiment—stems from the presence in Burma of Chinese Nationalist troops, for which Burma leaders blame the Americans. The troops escaped across Burma's frontier when the Communists won China's mainland.

"America was at least indirectly responsible," a government leader told me, "because the KMT (Kuomintang) troops were equipped with American arms and munitions. America feared Burma was going Communist and thus wanted to use the KMT."

He added that America's attitude evidently has changed, but since the United States is helping to remove the Nationalist troops, but insisted the presence of the KMT had prevented Burma from taking a strong anti-Communist stand.

The Socialist party ruling Burma was founded as a Marxist party. It still is. The interpretation originally was close to Moscow communism. Now it is veering away from Moscow in a revolution against totalitarianism.

Burma, Thailand and Malaya all have a large Chinese population, and Chinese Communist propaganda pours into Burma and Thailand. In Malaya, the Communist movement is more than 96 per cent Chinese.

RALEIGH (AP)—The Highway Commission's newest black and white state road maps are now running off the presses.

Highway Chairman A. H. Graham said 10,000 of the maps, the first revision since 1951, will be produced. Innovations include a mileage chart showing distances between 63 cities plus detailed sketching of major highway routes through and around eight of the biggest cities.

The commission's revised colored maps will be run off next month.

How Red Recruitment Processes Succeeding

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

AP Foreign News Analyst
GENEVA, May 26 (AP)—Wong Ful-foo's schoolmaster was a persuasive fellow. So, almost before he knew it, Wong became a Communist terrorist.

Wong's history is, in brief, the history of nine years of jungle warfare in Malaya the story of Communist recruitment in Southeast Asia by persuasion, blackmail and kidnaping.

Wong, a young Malayan Chinese, was a bright student, the kind the Communists like to take over. He lived in the Layang Layang area of British-ruled Malaya. One day schoolmaster Ho Choong gave Wong a list of foodstuffs to buy at the village store. Wong carried out the errand. Five times more the same thing happened.

It became routine. The sixth time unsuspecting Wong was asked to place the food under a palm tree near the village road Wong did so. Then schoolmaster Ho had him.

The police, Wong was told, suspected him of supplying food to a civilian Chinese organization supplying Red terrorists in the jungle. This was a serious offense. The British-Malayan "Operation Kitchener," cracking down on the Red supplying had reduced the terrorists in many areas living on oil palm nuts.

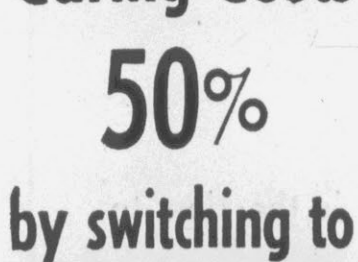

The only thing Wong could do, schoolmaster Ho told him, was hide out. Wong believed it. He joined the Communists afraid. He remained with them until he was punished for shooting a wild boar while on sentry duty. Then he escaped and surrendered to the British-Malayan forces.

In Malaya the Red terrorist movement is in deep trouble in its jungle fastnesses. As matters stand now, the Reds are also faring badly in Burma, a republic of 18 million freed by the British in 1947. In neighboring Thailand, the sturdy pro-Western Siamese are cracking down on Chinese elements suspect of fostering underground Red activities. But revolution marks time across the borders.

The outlawed domestic Reds are hanging on, waiting for a Communist victory in Indochina. If that comes, a high British source told

C-of-C Reports Activities For Recently Closed Year

The local Chamber of Commerce's annual activities report has been released by Manager Willard T. Kyzer.

This report shows the various activities of the different committees during the fiscal year which ran from February 1, 1953, to January 31, 1954.

Agricultural
The Agricultural Committee reports it co-sponsored the third annual Pitt County Fat Stock Show and Sale April 18, 1953. It held a recognition barbecue dinner on October 14 for exhibitors and their dads for the Junior Pure Bred Livestock Show at the Pitt County Fair.

Civic and Public Affairs
This committee reported that the chamber co-sponsored a 13 project Five Prevention Week program, assisted with the blood program, supported the one and one-half million dollar school bond issue for construction of needed schools in the Greenville school district, organized the Pirates Club of East Carolina College to provide additional seats in the College Stadium and supported the construction of two swimming pools by bond issue.

Commerce and Trade
The Commerce and Trade Committee joined in sponsoring Farmers Day Tobacco Festival, advertised in a state paper publicizing Greenville prior to opening of tobacco market, and appropriated $100 to assist the Merchants Association in the Christmas Parade and decoration program.

Program and Public Relations
The Program and Public Relations committee reported Little League "T" shirts were presented by the Chamber to all players and officials in the Fifth District Little League Baseball Tournament held here last August.

Greenville's second annual Newcomers Party held last February 3, 1953 was a second major item of the Program and Public Relations Committee.

This Committee also wrote the preface for the new edition of the city directory, cooperated with Dupont officials at their request in helping plan for Open House and tour of operations of the new Kinston plant.

The Committee advertised the Chamber by participating with merchants and other businesses in an advertising program for East Carolina College, carried an advertisement in the North Carolina Education, placed an ad in the 1954 edition of Thomas Register of American Manufacturers, advertised in the Tar Heel Woman, co-operated in publicizing the first annual Elks Bowl football game in Greenville and placed goodwill advertising in school publications in this area.

Transportation and Communications
The Transportation and Communications Committee reported it actively supported citizens of Grifton, Ayden, Winterville and the rural area between Greenville and Kinston in September 1953 in successful efforts to have Carolina Trailways mid-afternoon bus schedule between Greenville and Kinston restored.

This committee reports it continued opposition to a rate increase by Carolina Telephone & Telegraph Company, it assisted the Department of Conversation and Development in making a survey for recommended use of water transportation on the state's inland waterways, it participated in perfecting the organization of the North Carolina Coastal Marine Council and urged in getting a bridge across the river here.

Legislation and National Affairs
The Legislation and National Affairs Committee has made efforts to keep members informed regarding important legislation before Congress.

It reports that two meetings were held with the National Advisor of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce to discuss defense production act, labor relations, taxes and other matters.

Industrial
The Industrial committee reports it continued working closely with the Department of Conservation and Development and other departments in making contacts with industrial firms which may become more active in the near future.

This committee made efforts to keep informed on plans of the Department of Conservation and Development for further industrial promotion here.

Other Service and Activities
The office of the Chamber during the year has maintained descriptive listings of available homes, apartments and places to live in Greenville.

Distributed maps of Greenville to citizens, newcomers, business representatives and others who desired them.

The office has made available information on the facilities of the U. S. Department of Commerce.

If Signs Liked, More To Follow

RALEIGH (AP)—If the eye-catching, psychological safety signs along U. S. 1 get a warm reception, they will be duplicated on Highways 301 and 17 through the state.

That was the word yesterday from Motor Vehicles Commissioner Edward Scheidt.

There are now 190 of the signs along U. S. 1. They carry such catchy phrases as: "If you are over 55, you're lucky to be alive"; "It's a short hill; don't be impatient"; "The late Ben Smith tried to pass here"; and "Safe speed 55; social security 65."

Drunken Driver Blocked Arrest

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Detectives of the liquor squad were just about to overtake a bootlegger's automobile when a drunk driver got between the pursued and the pursuers.

Detecting Sgt. Jimmy Jackson said yesterday they couldn't get around the weaving inebriated driver so they halted him and hauled him off to jail. The bootlegger got away. Oklahoma is constitutionally dry.

Authorities To Seek New Clues In Girl's Death

LEONARDTOWN, Md. (AP)—Authorities planned a new search today for a pair of bloodied trousers which they say a Navy airman discarded after murdering a Navy Wave.

They said their prisoner—Airman Carl Willis Strickland, 21—would accompany them on their tour of the Scotland Beach area. Strickland is due to appear in Magistrate's Court Friday on a murder charge.

The young sailor insisted that he left the Wave, Irene Marion Conole, 26, of Rochester, N.Y., alive with an unnamed hitchhiker early Saturday on the beach near Point Lookout, Md., after spending the evening with her.

Her body—the head and face wounded in about a dozen places—was discovered half submerged in Chesapeake Bay early Saturday. Authorities attributed the death to drowning.

St. Marys County Sheriff Willard B. Long said he thinks Strickland disposed of his trousers, Miss Conole's purse and two beach blankets somewhere between Scotland Beach and Patuxent Naval Air Station.

Both were stationed at Patuxent. A tour of this area was made yesterday, but none of the items was found.

Strickland was arrested at his home in Rocky Mount N.C., Saturday afternoon and returned to Leonardtown jail yesterday. His wife of one year, Wanda made the trip back with him.

Rocky Mount Detective Lt. P.C. Zimmerman, who arrested Strickland, said the young airman gave him this version of his date with Miss Conole:

Returning home after visiting several night spots, they picked up a hitchhiker at Miss Conole's request. The three then proceeded to Hays Beach, near Point Lookout.

Later, Strickland left the two together. When he found her purse in his car he returned to the beach, only to find bloodied blankets.

GREETING A VISITOR—Konn Olson, 13-month-old son of Rodney Olson, an engineering student, meets Nik, two-year-old Weimaraner, in dog show at Iowa State College, in Ames.

SHUTTERBUG
LONDON (AP)—The Daily Mirror published an excellent photograph today of people, tamen by a chimpanzee at the London Zoo. The camera was wired to the chimp's cage. He tripped the shutter by pulling a string.

WHAT'S NEW IN THE WORLD?—Inquisitive bear cubs, two of three born in Berlin, Germany, soo last February, brace themselves against doorway during sunny day outing.

County Contests . . .

Bundy Leads Pitt
William J. (Dick) Bundy, in his bid for the nomination as Judge for the Fifth Judicial District, led Judge J. Paul Frizzelle in Pitt County by 6,409 to 5,989.

The Fifth Judicial District solicitorial race proved to be the closest of all races in Pitt County. There were three Pitt County men in the race and the three stayed neck-and-neck throughout the counting Saturday night.

Totals show that H. Horton Rountree of Farmville placed first in Pitt County with 3,962 votes while Robert D. Rouse Jr., also of Farmville, ran a close second with 3,946. Third place in the county went to J. W. H. Roberts of Greenville with 3,880 votes.

Luther Hamilton Jr. of Morehead City got only 190 votes here while Cecil W. Beaman of Snow Hill, a fifth candidate in the district solicitorial race, received 142 votes.

Holds Slim . . .

Greensboro, who has been on the bench 27 years Crissman received 13,182 to Sink's 12,710.

In other judgeship races, incumbent J. Paul Frizzelle of Snow Hill led William Bundy of Greenville, 13,524 to 12,452 in the 5th District; Walter E. Johnston Jr. of Winston-Salem was nominated over William S. Mitchell of Winston-Salem, 13,113 to 9,276, in the 11th District to succeed Judge John H. Clement who resigned; Judge Joseph W. Parker of Windsor led Frank B. Bannet of Warrenton, 5,154 to 1,289, in the third district.

Here's the picture in the solicitorial races:
Second District: Incumbent Elbert S. Peele, Williamston defeated Hubert E. May, Farmville, 15,887 to 5,506.

Third: Incumbent Ernest R. Tyler, Roxabel, led W. H. S. Burgwyn Jr., Woodland, 15,234 to 11,657.

Fifth: A runoff race loomed. Robert D. Rouse Jr., Farmville, took an early lead in 5-man race with 4,143 followed by Horton Rountree, Farmville with 4,100.

Seventh: Another runoff was likely in this district. Lester V. Chalmers Jr., Raleigh, topped a 5-man field. He received 8,809 to 6,349 for runner-up Robert A. Cotter, Fuquay Springs.

Ninth: Incumbent Malcolm B. Sewell, Lumberton, got 17,759 to 11,511 for John Regan, St. Pauls.

Eleventh: Harvey Lupton, Winston-Salem, 10,461, and C. F. Burns, Winston-Salem, 9,722.

Fourteenth: Incumbent Basil L. Whitener, Gastonia, led a 3-man race but there was a possibility of a runoff. He received 21,533 and runner-up Thomas G. Lane Jr., Charlotte, 14,790.

Fifteenth: Incumbent Zeb Morris, Concord, won easily over Grant W. Bolmer, Mooresville, 24,180 to 6,643.

Seventeenth: Robert S. Swain, Asheville, received 7,278 to 5,039 for John C. Cheesborough, Asheville.

Twentieth: A runoff race was possible in this 3-man race. Incumbent T. D. Bryson, Bryson City led with 6,062. Grover C. Davis, Waynesville, was next with 3,696.

The county boards of election will meet tomorrow to canvass the returns. The state board will meet Monday to certify the winners.

California produces between 85 and 90 per cent of U.S. wines.

Settlements In Insurance Suits Are Progressing

DUNN, N. C. (AP)—Attorneys for Mrs. Alberta Jernigan have announced settlement of four of more than a score of lawsuits brought by her against insurance companies to collect $280,000 for her husband's death.

Attorney Duncan C. Wilson, who announced the settlements Saturday, did not reveal the amount, however.

Haywood Houston Jernigan, Dunn merchant, reportedly drowned off Wrightsville Beach last Aug. 13 during a hurricane. His body was never recovered.

His widow began court action when the insurance companies refused to pay, contending proof of his death had not been established.

Suits against the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Co. and Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. have been scheduled for trial in Harnett Superior Court June 10.

'Ex-Communist' Credits Graham

READING, England (AP)—Charles Potter, former secretary of the Reading Communist Party, announced yesterday he has resigned from the party after hearing two sermons by American Evangelist Billy Graham.

Potter, who is 43, had been a Communist since 1938. He said he would explain his conversion at a open air meeting next Sunday in the Reading Market Place, where for years he preached communism.

"I will show that Christ is the answer to communism," said Potter.

Patrolman M. E. Buck Resigns

Patrolman Marvin E. Buck of the Greenville Police force has resigned effective today, Chief of Police S. G. Gibbs announced this morning.

Buck rejoined the force last January after having been off the force for approximately three months. He left the police department in September to enter business.

Negro Leaders Plan Push Court Actions

Has Account

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—There's no doubt about it. Rivets is a dog that is above the common cast. He gets treated like a customer at the Union Trust Co. Rivets, a spaniel, has his own bank account, which now totals $130. He pays nothing in, but draws enough each week to keep him in dog biscuits.

The deposits come from a bottled soda pop machine at the Rochester Gas & Electric Corp. Profits from the machine are deposited to Rivet's account. Employees set up the system in gratitude for Rivets work as a watch dog.

Same Old Fire Flared Up Again

If the above photo looks familiar, it's because an almost identical picture ran in the Reflector last week. It was taken about 7 p.m. Saturday when some discarded tires caught fire at Fleming's Junk Yard on Dudley Street. Firemen were also called to the junk yard last week on Wednesday when the old tires caught fire during the Shermers' parade. (Reflector photo by Alvin Taylor)

Adult Delinquency Rapped By Pastor; Son Accused In Death

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—A Baptist minister, pausing often in his sermon as emotion overcame him, preached yesterday on adult delinquency as his teen-age son, 10 days ago accused of murder, sat on the front row.

After the Rev. Luther B. Osborne, an customary at the end of his sermons, called for professions of faith, many in his emotion-charged congregation began crying.

The son Luther, 17, and Jerry Willis 18, are accused of beating Julian Vega, 68, cafe-bar owner, to death with a pool cue the night of May 21.

The pastor of the Linares Avenue Baptist church listed these as his views of the cause of juvenile delinquency: a personal spiritual being called the devil; parents' failure to cooperate with other parents; the making of association of teen-agers too convenient.

"I think more in terms of parental delinquency than of juvenile delinquency," he said.

"Every one of us, including myself, were too busy to preoccupy with material things and selfish motives to give youngsters the attention, care and love they need 12 years ago."

He did, apparently, attempt to explain one difficulty his son had: minister's children, he said, are "picked to pieces" by others if they refuse to go along and engage in what he called the common evils of youth of this hour.

Some parts of his sermon which also struck at alcoholic beverages: Parents have caused "day and night until teen-agers of this day have gotten into the groove."

Churches have "substituted a social program for a spiritual program."

"Do you expect children to go to church when their parents don't go?"

"... Every drunkard at one time was a temperate drinker."

"You cannot legislate righteousness and good living" and people will fall "unless the individual puts his faith in Jesus Christ."

Luther's old brother is a missionary in Mexico. Two sisters are married.

Reveal Reports Military Build-Up In North Korea

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has made public a report from a Swedish and a Swiss general to bolster its charge that the Communists are trying to hide a truce-violating military buildup in North Korea.

The report was among four documents put out by the Defense Department Saturday—the latest of a series of official U.S. "white papers" dealing with Soviet actions.

The documents concerned operations of the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission set up under the Korean armistice terms and seemed aimed at showing how futile a "neutral" inspection team can be when half the members are Soviet satellite officials.

Maj. Gen. Paul Mohn of Sweden and Brig. Gen. Ernst Gross of Switzerland the non-Communist members of the four-man team, reported the U.N. side "has never attempted to conceal anything" from the inspectors. They said Red charges of a U.N military buildup were "a tissue of malicious fabrications, gratuitous distortions, misleading half-proofs, and delusive insinuations without foundation in reality."

The Defense Department said in an accompanying statement that the Communists tactics "apparently are intended to generate propaganda and intelligence opportunities for the Communists while serving as a 'cover' to prevent disclosure and investigation of the military buildup in North Korea."

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Negro leaders from three Southern states closed ranks today behind plans to banish school segregation and promised to wage local court battles wherever necessary.

Louisiana, Alabama and Mississippi officials of the National Assn. for the Advance of Colored People assembled over the weekend in separate meetings to chart action in their respective states.

The strongest statement came from the Louisiana group, which disclosed Sunday that it has 21 suits ready to be filed if the state tries to block the U.S. Supreme Court's ruling outlawing school segregation. Two other suits are pending.

This follows a policy laid down May 23 when NAACP leaders from 17 states met in Atlanta and determined to push local-level attacks on segregation by court suits and petitions to school boards.

Louisiana probably has more legal actions ready than any other Southern state, said Daniel Byrd of New Orleans, field secretary for the NAACP legal staff.

The Louisiana meeting here called for "integration of students, teachers and the personnel" of state public schools. NAACP leaders decided to meet again Tuesday in New Orleans to discuss plans.

In Montgomery, Ala. about 200 Negro leaders strongly endorsed the "Atlanta Declaration" pledging all NAACP resources to ending segregation.

The Alabama group also took a swing at the "separate but equal" doctrine by declaring: "Those who speak of the 'equalization' of the schools speak only for themselves."

An Atlanta Negro attorney, A. T. Walden, commented on criticism that the NAACP is moving too fast with its plans. "When you are 300 years behind, how fast should you go to catch up?" he said.

Mississippi NAACP delegates meeting in Jackson warned they are "prepared to carry to the courts any infractions of this decision . . ."

The Mississippi group denounced "intemperate and irresponsible statements" and expressed concern over "the fact that certain ones in high official positions of our state have made derogatory statements" about the Supreme Court "and have flagrantly disavowed the court."

Officials indicated suits may be filed soon in some areas of Mississippi.

The Jackson meeting came two days before a scheduled session of the Mississippi Legal Educational Advisory Committee, which is charged with finding means to maintain public school segregation.
